 touching all their wickedness, ^wwho have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and 17 ¶ Thou therefore ^xgird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command ^ythee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I ⁴confound thee before them.

18 For, behold, I have made thee this day a de-fenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Jū'dah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee; but they shall not prevail against thee; ^vfor I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Expostulation with Israel. 14 They cause their own calamities. 20 Judah's sins.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, saying,
 Thus saith the LORD; I remember ¹thee, the kindness of thy ^ayouth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Īṣ'ra-el was holiness unto the LORD, and ^bthe firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend; evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4 Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jā'- cōb, and all the families of the house of Īṣ'ra-el:

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, ^cWhat iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, ^dand have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into ²a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof; but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the ^elaw knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Bā'al, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore ^fI will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass ³over the isles of Chīt'tim, and see; and send unto Kē'dār, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 ⁹Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? ^hbut my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the ⁱfountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Īš'ra-el a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he ⁴spoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him, and ⁵yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant.

16 Also the children of Nōph and Tā-hāp'a-nēs ⁶have broken the crown of thy head.

17 Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do ^jin the way of Ē'gypt, to drink the waters of ^kSī'hōr? or what hast thou to do in the way of Ās-syr'ī-ā, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own ^lwickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands; and ^mthou saidst, I will not ⁿtransgress; when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.

21 Yet I had ^oplanted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much sope, yet ^othine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.

23 ^pHow canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Bā'al-īm? see thy way ^qin the valley, know what thou hast done: ⁸*thou art* a swift dromedary traversing her ways;

24 ⁹A wild ass ¹⁰used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at ¹¹her pleasure; in her occasion who can ¹²turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves; in her month they shall find her.

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, ¹³There is no hope: no; for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Īš'ra-el ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast ¹⁴brought me forth: for they have turned ¹⁵*their* back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their ^rtrouble they will say, Arise, and save us.

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.

30 In vain have I smitten your children; they received no correction: your own sword hath ^udevoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Īš'ra-el? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, ¹⁷We are lords; we will come no more unto thee?

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people ^vhave forgotten me days without number.

33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.

34 Also in thy skirts is found ^wthe blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by ¹⁸secret search, but upon all these.

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, ^xbecause thou sayest, I have not sinned.

36 ^yWhy gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? ^zthou also shalt be ashamed of Ē'gypt, ^aas thou wast ashamed of Ās-syr'ī-ā.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Backsliding Judah and Israel. 12 Promises to the penitent. 20 Israel's confession.

¹THEY say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, ^ashall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast ^bplayed the harlot with many lovers; ^cyet return again to me, saith the LORD.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto ^dthe high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. ^eIn the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Ā-rā'bī-an in the wilderness; and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness.

3 Therefore the ^fshowers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain; and thou hadst a ^gwhore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the ^hguide of ⁱmy youth?

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.

6 ¶ The LORD said also unto me in the days of Jō-sī'ah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Īš'ra-el hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

7 ^jAnd I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me. But she returned not. And her treacherous sister Jū'dah saw it.

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Īṣ'ra-el committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; ^k yet her treacherous sister Jū'dah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.

9 And it came to pass through the ²lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.

10 And yet for all this her treacherous sister Jū'dah hath not turned unto me ^l with her whole heart, but ³ feignedly, saith the LORD.

11 And the LORD said unto me, The backsliding Īṣ'ra-el hath justified herself more than treacherous Jū'dah.

12 ¶ Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou ^m backsliding Īṣ'ra-el, saith the LORD; and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 ⁿ Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.

14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD; for I am married unto you: and I will take you ^o one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zi'ōn:

15 And I will give you ^p pastors according to mine heart, which shall ^q feed you with knowledge and understanding.

16 And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they ^r shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it ⁴ come to mind: neither shall they remember it; neither shall they visit it; neither shall ⁵ that be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Jē-ru'sā-lēm the throne of the LORD; and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jē-ru'sā-lēm: neither shall they walk any more after the ⁶ imagination of their evil heart.

18 In those days ^s the house of Jū'dah shall walk ⁷ with the house of Īṣ'ra-el, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to ^t the land that I have ⁸ given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a ⁹ pleasant land, ¹⁰ a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, ^u My father; and shalt not turn away ¹¹ from me.

20 ¶ Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her ¹² husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Īṣ'ra-el, saith the LORD.

21 A voice was heard upon ^v the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Īṣ'ra-el: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 ^w Return, ye backsliding children, and I ^x will heal your backslidings. Behold, we come unto thee; for thou art the LORD our God.

CHAPTER 4.

¹ God's call to Israel. ⁵ Judah exhorted to repentance. ¹⁹ Lamentation for Judah.

IF thou wilt return, O Īṣ'ra-el, saith the LORD, ^a return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.

2 ^b And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, ^c in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness; ^d and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they ^e glory.

3 ¶ For thus saith the LORD to the men of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ^f Break up your fallow ground, and ^g sow not among thorns.

4 ^h Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm: lest my ⁱ fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

5 Declare ye in Jū'dah, and publish in Jē-ru'sā-lēm; and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zi'ōn: ¹ retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the ^j north, and a great ² destruction.

7 ^k The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gēn'tileṣ is on his way; he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate; and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.

8 For this ^l gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes; and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! ^m surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying, Ye shall have peace; whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ⁿ A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse, 12 Even ³ a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I ⁴ give sentence against them.

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his ^o chariots shall be as a whirlwind: ^p his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.

14 O Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ^awash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth ^rfrom Dān, and publisheth affliction from mount Ē'phrā-īm.

16 Make ye mention to the nations; behold, publish against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, that watchers come ^sfrom a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Jū'dah.

17 ^tAs keepers of a field, are they against her round about; because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD.

18 Thy ^uway and thy doings have procured these things unto thee; this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ My ^vbowels, my bowels! I am pained at ⁵my very heart; my heart maketh a noise in me; I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 ^wDestruction upon destruction is cried; for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are ^xmy tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is ^yfoolish, they have not known me; they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: ^zthey are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 ^aI beheld the earth, and, lo, it was ^bwithout form, and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 ^cI beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and ^dall the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the LORD said, The whole land shall be desolate; ^eyet will I not make a full end.

28 For this ^fshall the earth mourn, and ^gthe heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and ^hwill not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 ⁱThe whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen; they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, ^jthough thou rentest thy ⁶face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair; ^kthy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zī'ōn, that bewaileth herself, that ^lspreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Judgments of God on Jewry for their iniquities. 19 Contempt of God. 25 Wickedness in the state and church.

RUN ye to and fro through the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, ^aif ye can find a man, ^bif there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth; and I will pardon it.

2 And ^cthough they say, The LORD liveth; surely they swear falsely.

3 O LORD, are not ^dthine eyes upon the truth? thou hast ^estricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, ^fbut they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock; they have refused to return.

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor; they are foolish: for ^gthey know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them; for ^hthey have known the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether ⁱbroken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

6 Wherefore ^ja lion out of the forest shall slay them, ^kand a wolf of the ¹evenings shall spoil them, ^la leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings ²are increased.

7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and ^msworn by them ⁿthat are no gods: ^owhen I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.

8 ^pThey were as fed horses in the morning: every one ^qneighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: ^rand shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 ¶ ^sGo ye up upon her walls, and destroy; but make not a full end: take away her battlements; for they are not the LORD'S.

11 For ^tthe house of Īs'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.

12 ^uThey have belied the LORD, and said, ^v*It is* not he; neither shall evil come upon us; ^wneither shall we see sword nor famine:

13 And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, ^xbehold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.

15 Lo, I will bring a ^ynation upon you ^zfrom far, O house of Īs'ra-el, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

16 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they shall eat up thine ^aharvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat : they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds : they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees : they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you.

19 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, ^bWherefore doeth the LORD our God all these things unto us ? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so ^cshall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jā'cōb, and publish it in Jū'dah, saying,

21 Hear now this, O ^dfoolish people, and without ³understanding ; which have eyes, and see not ; which have ears, and hear not :

22 ^eFear ye not me ? saith the LORD : will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the ^fbound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it : and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail ; though they roar, yet can they not pass over it ?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart ; they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, ^gthat giveth rain, both the ^hformer and the latter, in his season : ⁱhe reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 ¶ Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.

26 For among my people are found wicked men : ⁴they lay wait, as he that setteth snares ; they set a trap, they catch men.

27 As a ⁵cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit : therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they shine : yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked : they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, ^jyet they prosper ; and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 ^kShall I not visit for these things ? saith the LORD : shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this ?

30 ¶ ⁶A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land ;

31 The prophets prophesy ^lfalsely, and the priests ⁷bear rule by their means ; and my people ^mlove to have it so : and what will ye do in the end thereof ?

2 I have likened the daughter of Zī'ōn to a ¹comely and delicate woman.

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her ; ^cthey shall pitch their tents against her round about ; they shall feed every one in his place.

4 Prepare ye war against her ; arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us ! for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

6 ¶ For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and ²cast a mount against Jē-ru'sā-lēm : this is the city to be visited ; she is wholly ^doppression in the midst of her.

7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness : ^eviolence and spoil is heard in her ; before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou instructed, O Jē-ru'sā-lēm, lest ^fmy soul ³depart from thee ; lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Īs'ra-el as a vine : turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear ? behold, their ^gear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken : behold, ^hthe word of the LORD is unto them a reproach ; they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD ; I am weary with holding in : I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together : for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.

12 And ⁱtheir houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together : for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD.

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to ^jcovetousness ; and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

14 They have ^khealed also the ⁴hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace ; when there is no peace.

15 Were they ^lashamed when they had committed abomination ? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush : therefore they shall fall among them that fall : at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the ^mold paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find ⁿrest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

17 Also I set ^owatchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 ¶ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth : behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even ²the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

20 ¹To what purpose cometh there to me incense ²from Shē'bā, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, ³I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them; the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and spear; they are cruel, and have no mercy; their voice ⁴roareth like the sea; and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zī'ōn.

24 We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: ⁵anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor ⁶walk by the way; for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, ⁷and wallow thyself in ashes: ⁸make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.

27 I have set thee ⁹for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.

28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are ¹⁰brass and iron; they are all corrupters.

the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 ¶ Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 ⁵Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Bā'al, and ⁶walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 ⁷And come and stand before me in this house, ¹which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations?

11 Is ⁸this house, which is called by my name, become a ⁹den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even ¹⁰I have seen it, saith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto ¹¹my place which was in Shī'lōh, ¹²where I set my name at the first, and see ¹³what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Īṣ'ra-el.

13 And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, ¹⁴rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not; and I ¹⁵called you, but ye answered not;

14 Therefore will I do unto this house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to ¹⁶Shī'lōh.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, ¹⁷as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ē'phrā-īm.

16 Therefore ¹⁸pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: ¹⁹for I will not hear thee.

17 ¶ Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Jū'dah and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the ²⁰queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 ²¹Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD: do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; ²²Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 ²³For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Ē'g̃ypt, ²⁴concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, ²⁵Obey my voice, and ²⁶I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but ²⁷walked in the counsels and in the ²⁸imagination of their evil heart, and ²⁹went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of E'gypt unto this day I have even ²sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them :

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but ^ahardened their neck : they did worse than their fathers.

27 Therefore ^bthou shalt speak all these words unto them ; but they will not hearken to thee : thou shalt also call unto them ; but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth ⁶correction : truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 ¶ ^cCut off thine hair, O Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places ; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the ^dgeneration of his wrath.

30 For the children of Jū'dah have done evil in my sight, saith the LORD : ^ethey have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the ^fhigh places of Tō'phet, which is in the valley of the son of Hīn'nom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire ; ^gwhich I commanded them not, neither ⁷came it into my heart.

32 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Tō'phet, nor the valley of the son of Hīn'nom, but the valley of slaughter : ^hfor they shall bury in Tō'phet, till there be no place.

33 And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth ; and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to ⁱcease from the cities of Jū'dah, and from the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride : for ^jthe land shall be desolate.

CHAPTER 8.

1 Calamities of Judah. 13 Judgments on impenitence. 18 A desperate state.

AT that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Jū'dah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, out of their graves :

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and ^awhom they have worshipped : they shall not be gathered, nor be buried ; they shall be for ^bdung upon the face of the earth.

3 And ^cdeath shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 ¶ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD ; Shall they fall, and not arise ? shall he turn away, and not return ?

OH ¹that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

² Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men; that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

⁷ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, ^dI will melt them, and try them; ^efor how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

⁸ Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but ⁴in heart he layeth ⁵his wait.

¹¹ And I will make Jē-ru'sā-lēm heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Jū'dah ⁹desolate, without an inhabitant.

¹² ¶ ^fWho is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

¹⁶ I will ^jscatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: ^kand I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

¹⁷ ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for ^lthe mourning women, that they may come; and send for cunning women, that they may come:

¹⁸ And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that ^mour eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.

²³ ¶ Thus saith the LORD, ^oLet not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches:

²⁴ But ^plet him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: ^qfor in these things I delight, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 10.

¹ Unequal comparison of God and idols. ¹⁷ The prophet warns the people. ¹⁹ Lament for the tabernacle. ²³ Jeremiah's supplication.

HEAR ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Īṣ'ra-el:

² Thus saith the LORD, ^aLearn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them.

³ For the ¹customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the ax.

⁴ They deck it with silver and with gold; they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.

6 Forasmuch as there is none ^alike unto thee, O LORD; thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 ^eWho would not fear thee, O King of nations? for ²to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are ³altogether brutish and foolish: the stock is a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Tār'-shish, and ^fgold from Ū'phāz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the LORD is the ⁴true God, he is ^gthe living God, and an ^{5h}everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.

11 ⁶Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He ⁱhath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is a ⁷multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings ⁸with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.

14 Every man ⁹is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.

16 ^jThe portion of Jā'cōb is not like them: for he is the former of all things; and ^kĪs'ra-el is the rod of his inheritance: The LORD of hosts is his name.

17 ¶ Gather up thy wares out of the land, O ¹⁰inhabitant of the fortress.

18 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them, ^lthat they may find it so.

19 ¶ Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and ^mI must bear it.

20 My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Jū'dah desolate, and a den of dragons.

23 ¶ O LORD, I know that the ⁿway of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O LORD, ^ocorrect me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou ¹¹bring me to nothing.

CHAPTER 11.

1 The prophet proclaims God's covenant. 8 Disobedient Jews rebuked. 11 A prophecy of evil.

THE word that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm;

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Īs'ra-el; ^aCursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Ē'gypt, from the iron furnace, saying, ^bObey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 That I may perform the ^coath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered I, and said, ¹So be it, O LORD.

6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, ^dand do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Ē'gypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the ²imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do; but they did them not.

9 And the LORD said unto me, ^eA conspiracy is found among the men of Jū'dah, and among the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

10 They are turned back to ^fthe iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words; and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Īs'ra-el and the house of Jū'dah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able ³to escape; and ^gthough they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.

12 Then shall the cities of Jū'dah and inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm go, and ^hcry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their ⁴trouble.

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Jū'dah; and according to the number of the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm have ye set up altars to that ⁵shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Bā'al.

14 Therefore ⁱpray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them : for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their ⁶trouble.

15 ⁷What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath ^jwrought lewdness with many, and ^kthe holy flesh is passed from thee? ⁸when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.

16 The LORD called thy name, ^lA green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit : with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the LORD of hosts, ^mthat planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Īṣ'ra-el and of the house of Jū'dah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Bā'al.

18 ¶ And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it : then thou shewedst me their doings.

19 But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter; and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy ⁹the tree with the fruit thereof, ⁿand let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.

20 But, O LORD of hosts, that ^ojudgest righteously, that ^ptriest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them : for unto thee have I revealed my cause.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of ^qĀn'a-thoth, that seek thy life, saying, ^rProphecy not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand :

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will ¹⁰punish them : the young men shall die by the sword ; their sons and their daughters shall die by famine :

23 And there shall be no remnant of them : for I will bring evil upon the men of Ān'a-thoth, even ^sthe year of their visitation.

CHAPTER 12.

¹ Jeremiah's complaint of the prosperity of the wicked. ⁷ God laments the desolation of his heritage. ¹⁴ Promises to the penitent.

RIGHTEOUS ^aart thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee : yet ¹let me talk with thee of thy judgments : ^bWherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root : ²they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit : ^cthou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.

3 But thou, O LORD, knowest me : thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart ³toward thee : pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for ^dthe day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, ^efor the wickedness of them that dwell therein? ^fthe beasts are consumed, and the birds ; because they said, He shall not see our last end.

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage ; I have given ⁶the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest ; it ⁷crieth out against me : therefore ^hhave I hated it.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a ⁸speckled bird, the birds round about are against her ; come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, ⁹come to devour.

10 Many ⁱpastors have destroyed ^jmy vineyard, they have ^ktrodden my portion under foot, they have made my ¹⁰pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me ; the whole land is made desolate, because ^lno man layeth it to heart.

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness : for the sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land : no flesh shall have peace.

13 ^mThey have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns : they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit : and ¹¹they shall be ashamed of your revenues because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours, that ⁿtouch the inheritance which I have caused my people Īṣ'ra-el to inherit ; Behold, I will ^opluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Jū'dah from among them.

15 ^pAnd it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out I will return, and have compassion on them, ^qand will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, ^rto swear by my name, The LORD liveth ; as they taught my people to ^sswear by Bā'al ; then shall they be ^tbuilt in the midst of my people.

17 But if they will not ^uobey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the LORD.

THUS saith the LORD unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to ^aEū-phrā'tēš, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went, and hid it by Eū-phrā'tēš, as the LORD commanded me.

6 And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Eū-phrā'tēš, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Eū-phrā'tēš, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it : and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was ^bprofitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the LORD, After this manner ^cwill I mar the pride of Jū'dah, and the great pride of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

10 This evil people, which ^drefuse to hear my words, which ^ewalk in the ¹imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Īš'ra-el and the whole house of Jū'dah, saith the LORD ; that ^fthey might be unto me for a people, and ^gfor a name, and for a praise, and for a glory : but they would not hear.

12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word ; Thus saith the LORD God of Īš'ra-el, Every bottle shall be filled with wine : and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine ?

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon Dā'vid's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ^hwith drunkenness.

14 And I will dash them ²one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD : I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, ³but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ⁱye, and give ear ; be not proud : for the LORD hath spoken.

16 ^jGive glory to the LORD your God, before he cause ^kdarkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and, while ye ^llook for light, he turn it into ^mthe shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride ; and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the LORD's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto ⁿthe king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down : for your ⁴principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them : Jū'dah shall be carried away ^ocaptive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah concerning ¹the dearth.

2 Jū'dah mourneth, and ^athe gates thereof languish ; they are black unto the ground ; and ^bthe cry of Jē-ru'sā-lēm is gone up.

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters : they came to the ²pits, and found no water ; they returned with their vessels empty ; they were ^cashamed and confounded, ^dand covered their heads.

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.

6 And ^ethe wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons ; their eyes did fail, because there was no grass.

7 ¶ O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it ^ffor thy name's sake : for our backslidings are many ; we have sinned against thee.

8 ^gO the hope of Īš'ra-el, ^hthe saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night ?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man ⁱthat cannot save ? yet thou, O LORD, ^jart in the midst of us, and ³we are called by thy name ; leave us not.

10 ¶ Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them ; ^khe will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.

11 Then said the LORD unto me, 'Pray not for this people for their good.

12 ^mWhen they fast, I will not hear their cry; and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence:

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine; but I will give you ⁴assured peace in this place.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: ⁿI sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land; By sword and famine shall ^othose prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be ^pcast out in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm because of the famine and the sword; ^qand they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them; ^rLet mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: ^sfor the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into ^tthe field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the prophet and the priest ⁵go about into a land that they know not.

19 ^uHast thou utterly rejected Jū'dah? hath thy soul loathed Zi'ōn? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble!

20 ^vWe acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for ^wwe have sinned against thee.

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the ^xthrone of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Ġēn'-tīleṣ that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? ^yart not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

them, Thus saith the LORD; ^eSuch as are for death, to death; and such as are for the sword, to the sword; and such as are for the famine, to the famine; and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.

3 And I will ^dappoint over them four ¹kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and ^ethe fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.

4 And ²I will cause them to be ^fremoved into all kingdoms of the earth, because of ^gMā-nās'seh the son of Hēz-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, for that which he did in Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

5 For ^hwho shall have pity upon thee, O Jē-ru'sā-lēm? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside ³to ask how thou doest?

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee; ⁱI am weary with repenting.

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land; I will bereave them of ⁴children, I will destroy my people, since ^jthey return not from their ways.

8 Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them ⁵against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.

9 ^kShe that hath borne seven languisheth: she hath given up the ghost; ^lher sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD.

10 ¶ ^mWoe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury; yet every one of them doth curse me.

11 The LORD said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant; verily ⁶I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.

12 Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the ⁿspoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for ^oa fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.

15 ¶ O LORD, ^pthou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and ^qrevenge me of my persecutors; take me not away in thy long suffering: know that ^rfor thy sake I have suffered rebuke.

16 Thy words were found, and I did ^seat them; and ^tthy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for ⁷I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.

17 ^uI sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced; I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.

18 Why is my ^vpain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and ^was waters that ^sfail?

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, ^zIf thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou ^ytake forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee; but return not thou unto them.

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

21 And I will ^zdeliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

⁴ They shall die of grievous deaths; they shall not be lamented; neither shall they be buried; but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine; and their carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

CHAPTER 17.

¹ Sin and captivity of Judah. ⁷ Trust in God is blessed. ¹² God's salvation. ¹⁹ Renewal of the covenant.

THE sin of Jū'dah is written with a ^apen of iron, and with the ¹point of a diamond: it is ^bgraven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars;

² Whilst their children remember their altars and their ^cgroves by the green trees upon the high hills.

³ O my mountain in the field, ^aI will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

⁴ And thou, even ²thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in ^ethe land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.

⁵ ¶ Thus saith the LORD; ^fCursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh; but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 ^hBlessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green; and shall not be careful in the year of ³drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.

9 ¶ ⁱThe heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?

10 I the LORD ^jsearch the heart, I try the reins, ^keven to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.

11 As the partridge ⁴sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not; so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be ^la fool.

12 ¶ A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.

13 O LORD, the hope of ^mIs'ra-el, ⁿall that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be ⁿwritten in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 ¶ Behold, they say unto me, ^oWhere is the word of the LORD? let it come now.

16 As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor ⁵to follow thee: neither have I desired the woeful day; thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thee.

17 Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and ⁶destroy them with double destruction.

19 ¶ Thus said the LORD unto me; Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Jū'dah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jē-ru'sā-lēm;

20 And say unto them, ^pHear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Jū'dah, and all Jū'dah, and all the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, that enter in by these gates:

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I ^rcommanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath

CHAPTER 18.

1 God's power typed by the potter. 11 Judgments upon Judah. 18 A prayer.

THE word which came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and behold, he wrought a work on the ³wheels.

4 And the vessel ⁴that he made of clay was ⁴marred in the hand of the potter: so he ⁴made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

6 O house of Is'ra-el, ⁶cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, ⁶as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Is'ra-el.

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to ⁷pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it;

8 ⁸If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, ⁸I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it;

10 If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them.

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: ¹¹return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.

12 And they said, There is no hope: but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the LORD; ¹³Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things:

the virgin of Īṣ'ra-el hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Will a man leave ⁴the snow of Lēb'a-non which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten ⁱme, they have burned incense to ^jvanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ^kancient paths, to walk in ^lpaths, in a way not cast up;

16 To make their land ^mdesolate, and a perpetual ⁿhissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.

17 ^oI will scatter them ^pas with an east wind before the enemy; I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.

18 ¶ Then said they, ^qCome, and let us devise devices against Jēr-ē-mī'ah; ^rfor the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him ^swith the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 ^tShall evil be recompensed for good? for ^uthey have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and ^vpour out their blood by the force of the sword; and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows; and let their men be put to death; let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

23 Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me ^wto slay me: ^xforgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee; deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

2 And go forth unto ^bthe valley of the son of Hīn'nom, which is by the entry of ¹the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Jū'dah, and inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm; Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4 Because they ^ahave forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Jū'dah, and have filled this place with ^ethe blood of innocents;

5 They have built also the high places of Bā'al, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Bā'al, ^fwhich I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind:

6 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Tō'phet, nor ^gThe valley of the son of Hīn'nom, but The valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lēm in this place; ^hand I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their ⁱcarcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

8 And I will make this city ^jdesolate, and an hissing; every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the ^kflesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 ^lThen shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; ^mEven so will I break this people and this city, as ⁿone breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot ²be made whole again: and they shall ⁿbury them in Tō'phet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and ^oeven make this city as Tō'phet:

13 And the houses of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and the houses of the kings of Jū'dah, shall be defiled ^oas the place of Tō'phet, because of all the houses upon whose ^proofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and ^qhave poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jēr-ē-mī'ah from Tō'phet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in ^rthe court of the LORD's house; and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they ^shave hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Pashur smites Jeremiah. 6 Pashur's doom. 7 Jeremiah's complaint.

NOW Pāsh'ūr the son of ^aĪm'mēr the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the LORD, heard that Jēr-ē-mī'ah prophesied these things.

2 Then Pāsh'ūr smote Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Bēn'ja-min, which was by the house of the LORD.

3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pāsh'ūr brought forth Jēr-ē-mī'ah out of the stocks. Then said Jēr-ē-mī'ah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pāsh'ūr, but ¹Mā'gôr-mīs'sā-bīb.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee ^ba terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Jū'dah into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and he shall carry them captive into Bāb'ŷ-lon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I ^cwill deliver all the ²strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Jū'dah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

6 And thou, Pāsh'ūr, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast ^dprophesied lies.

7 ¶ O LORD, thou hast deceived me, and I was ³deceived: ^ethou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: ^fI am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, ^gI cried violence and spoil; because the word of the LORD was made a reproach unto me, and a derision, daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a ^hburning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and ⁱI could not stay.

10 ¶ ^jFor I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. ^kAll my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

11 But ^lthe LORD is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not ^mprevail: they shall be greatly ashamed; for they shall not prosper: their everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.

12 But, O LORD of hosts, that ⁿtriest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, ^olet me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

13 Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for ^phe hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.

14 ¶ ^qCursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee; making him very glad.

16 And let that man be as the cities which the LORD ^roverthrew, and repented not: and let him ^shear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide;

17 ^tBecause he slew me not from the womb; or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.

18 ^uWherefore came I forth out of the womb to ^vsee labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

CHAPTER 21.

1 Zedekiah enquires of Jeremiah. 3 Siege and captivity foretold. 11 The king's house reproved.

THE word which came unto Jēr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, when king Zēd-e-kī'ah sent unto him ^aPāsh'ūr the son of Mēl-chī'ah, and ^bZēph-ā-nī'ah the son of Mā-ā-sē'jah the priest, saying,

2 ^cEnquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us; for Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon maketh war against us; if so be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.

3 ¶ Then said Jēr-e-mī'ah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zēd-e-kī'ah:

4 Thus saith the LORD God of Īš'ra-el; Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and against the Chāl-dē'anš, which besiege you without the walls, and ^dI will assemble them into the midst of this city.

5 And I myself will fight against you with an ^eoutstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterward, saith the LORD, ^fI will deliver Zēd-e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword; ^ghe shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, ^hI set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9 He that ⁱabideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chāl-dē'anš that besiege you, he shall live, and ^jhis life shall be unto him for a prey.

10 For I have ^kset my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: ^lit shall be given into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and he shall ^mburn it with fire.

11 ¶ And touching the house of the king of Jū'dah, say, Hear ye the word of the LORD;

12 O house of Dā'vid, thus saith the LORD; ¹Execute judgment ⁿin the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, ^oI am against thee, O ²inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the LORD; which say, ^pWho shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

14 But I will ³punish you according to the ^qfruit of your doings, saith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and ^rit shall devour all things round about it.

CHAPTER 22.

THUS saith the LORD; Go down to the house of the king of Jū'dah, and speak there this word,
 2 And say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Jū'dah, that sittest upon the throne of Dā'vid, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:

3 Thus saith the LORD; ^aExecute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed, ^bthen shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting ¹upon the throne of Dā'vid, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not hear these words, ^cI swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.

6 For thus saith the LORD unto the king's house of Jū'dah; Thou art Gīl'e-ād unto me, and the head of Lēb'a-non: yet surely I will make thee ^da wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down ^ethy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8 And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, ^gWherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they shall answer, ^hBecause they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.

10 ¶ Weep ye not for ⁱthe dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.

11 For thus saith the LORD touching ^jShāl'lum the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, which reigned instead of Jō-sī'ah his father, which went forth out of this place; He shall not return thither any more:

12 But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.

13 ¶ Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong; ^kthat useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work;

14 That saith, I will build me a wide house and ^llarge chambers, and cutteth him out ³windows; and ^mit is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reign, because thou closest ⁿthyself in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, and then ^oit was well with him?

16 He judged the cause of the poor and needy; then ^pit was well with him: ^qwas not this to know me? saith the LORD.

17 ^rBut thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for ^sviolence, to do it.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah; They 20 ¶ Go up to Lēb'a-non, and cry; and lift up thy voice in Bā'shān, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.

21 I spake unto thee in thy ^qprosperity; but thou saidst, I will not hear. ^rThis hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.

27 But to the land whereunto they ⁷desire to return, thither shall they not return.

28 Is this man Cō-nī'ah a despised broken idol? is he ^xa vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.

30 Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man ^ychildless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of Dā'vid, and ruling any more in Jū'dah.

CHAPTER 23.

¹ Restoration of the scattered flock. ⁵ The righteous Branch and King. ⁹ False prophets and mockers.

WOE ^abe unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD.

2 Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el against the pastors that feed my people; Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: ^bbehold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.

3 And ^cI will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase.

4 And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.

5 ¶ Behold, ^dthe days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto Dā'vid a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.

6 ^jIn his days Jū'dah shall be saved, and Īṣ'ra-el shall dwell safely: and ^othis is his name whereby he shall be called, ¹THE LORD OUR RIGHT-EOUSNESS.

7 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, The LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Īṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gypt;

8 But, The LORD liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Īṣ'ra-el out of the north country, ^hand from all countries whither I had driven them; and they shall dwell in their own land.

9 ¶ Mine heart within me is broken because of the prophets; all ⁱmy bones shake; I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the LORD, and because of the words of his holiness.

10 For the land is full of adulterers; for ^jbecause of ²swearing the land mourneth; the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their ³course is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For ^kboth prophet and priest are profane; yea, ⁱin my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD.

12 ^mWherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

13 And I have seen ⁴folly in the prophets of Sā-mā'rī-ā; ⁿthey prophesied in Bā'al, and ^ocaused my people Īṣ'ra-el to err.

14 I have seen also in the prophets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm ⁵an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they ^pstrengthen also the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as ^qSōd'om, and the inhabitants thereof as Gō-mōr'rah.

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm is ⁶profaneness gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, ^rHearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They say still unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, ^sYe shall have peace; and they say unto every one that walketh after the ⁷imagination of his own heart, ^tNo evil shall come upon you.

18 For ^uwho hath stood in the ⁸counsel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a ^vwhirlwind of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.

20 The ^wanger of the LORD shall not return, until

26 How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to ^ccause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, ^das their fathers have forgotten my name for Bā'al.

28 The prophet ⁹that hath a dream, let him tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him speak my ^eword faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the LORD.

29 Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD; and like ^aa hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore, behold, ^fI am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, ¹⁰that use their tongues, and say, He saith.

32 Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by ⁹their lightness; yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the LORD.

33 ¶ And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is ^hthe burden of the LORD? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the LORD.

34 And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even ¹¹punish that man and his house.

35 Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken?

36 And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every ⁱman's word shall be his burden; for ye ^jhave perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God.

37 Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the LORD spoken?

38 But since ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD; Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD ;

39 Therefore, behold, I, even I, ^k will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence :

40 And I will bring ^l an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAPTER 24.

The good and bad figs type the restoration and captivity.

THE ^a LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar ^b king of Bāb'ŷ-lon had carried away captive ^c Jēc-q-nī'ah the son of Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah, and the princes of Jū'dah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and had brought them to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe : and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, ¹ they were so bad.

3 Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jēr-ē-mī'ah? And I said, Figs; the good figs, very good; and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

4 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īš'ra-el; Like these good figs, so ^d will I acknowledge ^e them that are carried away captive of Jū'dah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chāl-dē'anš for their good.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and ^f I will bring them again to this land: and ^g I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them ^h an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be ⁱ my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me ^j with their whole heart.

8 ¶ And as the evil ^k figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil; surely thus saith the LORD, So will I give Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah, and his princes, and the residue of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, that remain in this land, and ^l them that dwell in the land of Ē'ġypt:

9 And I will deliver them ^m to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, ⁿ to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.

10 And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

2 The which Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet spake unto all the people of Jū'dah, and to all the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying,

3 ^b From the thirteenth year of Jō-sī'ah the son of Ā'mon king of Jū'dah, even unto this day, that is the three and twentieth year, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking; but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the LORD hath sent unto you all his ^c servants the prophets, rising early and sending them; but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear.

5 They said, ^d Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever:

6 And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands; and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might ^e provoke me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Because ye have not heard my words,

9 Behold, I will send and take ^f all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, ^g my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and ^h make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.

10 Moreover ⁱ I will take from them the ^j voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle.

11 And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment; and these nations shall serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon seventy years.

12 ¶ And ^j it shall come to pass, when ² seventy years are accomplished, that I will ³ punish the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chāl-dē'anš, ^k and will make it perpetual desolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jēr-ē-mī'ah hath prophesied against all the nations.

14 For many nations ^l and great kings shall ^m serve themselves of them also: ⁿ and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 ¶ For thus saith the LORD God of Īš'ra-el unto me; Take the ^o wine cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.

16 And ^p they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the LORD'S hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me :

18 To wit, ^aJē-ru'sā-lēm, and the cities of Jū'dah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse ; as it is this day ;

19 ^rPhā'raōh king of Ē'gypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people ;

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of ^sthe land of Ūz, and all the kings of the land of the Phī-līs'tīneš, and Āsh'ke-lōn, and Āz'zah, and Ēk'rōn, and ^tthe remnant of Āsh'dōd,

21 Ē'dom, and Mō'ab, and the children of Ām'mōn,

22 And all the kings of Tī'rus, and all the kings of Zī'dōn, and the kings of the ⁴isles which are beyond the sea,

23 Dē'dan, and Tē'mā, and Būz, and all ⁵that are in the utmost corners,

24 And ^vall the kings of Ā-rā'bī-ā, and all the kings of the ^vmingled people that dwell in the desert,

25 And all the kings of Zīm'rī, and all the kings of Ē'lām, and all the kings of the Mēdeš, 26 And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth : ^wand the king of Shē'shāch shall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īs'ra-el ; ^xDrink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.

28 And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; Ye shall certainly drink.

29 For, lo, ^yI begin to bring evil on the city ⁶which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished ? Ye shall not be unpunished : for ^zI will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30 Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall ^aroar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation ; he shall mightily roar upon ^bhis habitation ; he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth ; for the LORD hath ^ca controversy with the nations, ^ahe will plead with all flesh ; he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

33 ^eAnd the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth : they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried ; they shall be dung upon the ground.

34 ¶ Howl, ye shepherds, and cry ; and wallow yourselves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock : for ⁷the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions are accomplished ; and ye shall fall like ⁸a pleasant vessel.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Jeremiah exhorts to repentance. 8 His arrest. 10 His life threatened. 12 His vindication.

IN the beginning of the reign of Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah came this word from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD ; Stand in ^athe court of the LORD'S house, and speak unto all the cities of Jū'dah, which ^bcome to worship in the LORD'S house, ^call the words that I command thee to speak unto them ; ^ddiminish not a word :

3 ^eIf so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may ^frepent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings.

4 And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD ; ^gIf ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,

5 To hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, ^hwhom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, but ye have not hearkened ;

6 Then will I make this house like ⁱShī'lōh, and will make this city ^ja curse to all the nations of the earth.

7 So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jēr-ē-mī'ah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

8 ¶ Now it came to pass, when Jēr-ē-mī'ah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that ^kthe priests and the prophets and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.

9 Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shī'lōh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant ? And all the people were gathered against Jēr-ē-mī'ah in the house of the LORD.

10 ¶ When the princes of Jū'dah heard these things, then they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD, and sat down ¹in the entry of the ^lnew gate of the LORD'S house.

11 Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, ²This man is worthy to die ; ^mfor he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.

12 ¶ Then spake Jēr-ē-mī'ah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.

13 Therefore now ⁿamend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God ; and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.

14 As for me, behold, °I am in your hand : do with me ³as seemeth good and meet unto you.

15 But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof : for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.

16 ¶ Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets ; This man is not worthy to die : for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.

17 ^pThen rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,

18 ^qMī'cah the Mō'raś-thīte prophesied in the days of Hēz-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and spake to all the people of Jū'dah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; ^rZī'ōn shall be plowed like a field, and Jē-ru'sā-lēm shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of a forest.

19 Did Hēz-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah and all Jū'dah put him at all to death ? ^sdid he not fear the LORD, and besought ^tthe LORD, and the LORD ^urepented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them ? ^vThus might we procure great evil against our souls.

20 And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, U-rī'jah the son of Shēm-ā-ī'ah of Kīr'jath-jē'a-rīm, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jēr-ē-mī'ah :

21 And when Jē-hoi'a-kim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the ^wking sought to put him to death : but when U-rī'jah heard it, he was afraid, and ^xfled, and went into Ē'gýpt ;

22 And Jē-hoi'a-kim the ^yking sent men into Ē'gýpt, namely, Ē'l'na-than the son of Āch'bôr, and certain men with him into Ē'gýpt.

23 And they fetched forth U-rī'jah out of Ē'gýpt, and brought him unto Jē-hoi'a-kim the king ; ^zwho slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the ^{aa}common people.

24 Nevertheless ^{ab}the hand of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan was with Jēr-ē-mī'ah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

3 And send them to the king of Ē'dom, and to the king of Mō'ab, and to the king of the Ām'mōn-ītes, and to the king of Tŷ'rus, and to the king of Zī'dōn, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jē-ru'sā-lēm unto Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah ;

Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īś'ra-el ; Thus shall ye say unto your masters ;

5 ^eI have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and ^dhave given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me.

6 ^eAnd now have I given all these lands into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, ^fmy servant ; and ^gthe beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him.

7 ^hAnd all nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, ⁱuntil the very time of his land come : and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him.

8 And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, that nation will I ³punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.

9 Therefore ^jhearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your ^kdreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon :

10 For they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land ; and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish.

11 But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the LORD ; and they shall till it, and dwell therein.

12 ¶ I spake also to ^kZēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and serve him and his people, and live.

13 ^lWhy will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon ?

14 Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon : for they prophesy ^ma lie unto you.

15 For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, yet they prophesy ⁿa lie in my name ; that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.

16 Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD ; Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the ^ovessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Bāb'ŷ-lon : for they prophesy a lie unto you.

17 Hearken not unto them ; serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and live : ^pwherefore should this city be laid waste ?

18 But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now ^qmake intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Jū'dah, and at Jē-ru'sā-lēm, go not to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

19 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts ^aconcerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city,

20 Which Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon took not, when he carried away ^rcaptive Jēc-ō-nī'ah the son of Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah from Jē-ru'sā-lēm to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and all the ⁶nobles of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lēm ;

21 ^sYea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Jū'dah and of Jē-ru'sā-lēm ;

22 They shall be carried to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and there shall they be until the day that I ^tvisit them, saith the LORD ; then ^uwill I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

CHAPTER 28.

AND ^ait came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zēd'e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that ^bHān-ā-nī'ah the son of Ā'zur the prophet, which was of Gīb'e-on, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el, saying, I have broken ^cthe yoke of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

3 Within ¹two full years will I bring again into this place ^dall the vessels of the LORD'S house, that Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon took away from this place, and carried them to Bāb'ŷ-lon :

4 And I will bring again to this place Jēc-ō-nī'ah the son of ²Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah, with all the ³captives of Jū'dah, that went into Bāb'ŷ-lon, saith the LORD : for I will break the yoke of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

5 ¶ Then the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah said unto the prophet Hān-ā-nī'ah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,

6 Even the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah said, ^eAmen : the LORD do so : the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD'S house, and all that is carried away captive, from Bāb'ŷ-lon into this place.

7 Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people ;

8 The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.

9 ^fThe prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.

10 ¶ Then Hān-ā-nī'ah the prophet took the ^gyoke from off the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah's neck, and brake it.

11 And Hān-ā-nī'ah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD ; Even so will I break the yoke of Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon ^hfrom the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah ⁱwent his way.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, after that Hān-ā-nī'ah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying, 13 Go and tell Hān-ā-nī'ah, saying, Thus saith the LORD ; Thou hast broken the yokes of wood ; but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el ; ^jI have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon ; and they shall serve him : and ^kI have given him the beasts of the field also.

15 ¶ Then said the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah unto Hān-ā-nī'ah the prophet, Hear now, Hān-ā-nī'ah ; The LORD hath not sent thee ; but ^lthou makest this people to trust in a lie.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD ; Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth : this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught ⁴rebellion against the LORD.

17 So Hān-ā-nī'ah the prophet died the ^msame year in the seventh month.

CHAPTER 29.

¹ Jeremiah's letter to the captives. ¹⁰ Their return after seventy years. ²⁰ Fearful end of Ahab and Zedekiah. ³⁰ Doom of Shematah.

NOW these are the words of the letter that Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet sent from Jē-ru'sā-lēm unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar had carried away captive from Jē-ru'sā-lēm to Bāb'ŷ-lon ;

2 (After that ¹Jēc-ō-nī'ah the king, and the queen, and the ²eunuchs, the princes of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and the carpenters, and the smiths, were departed from Jē-ru'sā-lēm ;)

3 By the hand of Ēl'a-sah the son of Shā'phan, and Gēm-ā-rī'ah the son of Hīl-kī'ah, (whom Zēd'e-kī'ah king of Jū'dah sent unto Bāb'ŷ-lon to Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon) saying,

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Iṣ'ra-el, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jē-ru'sā-lēm unto Bāb'ŷ-lon ;

5 Build ye houses, and dwell in them ; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them ;

6 Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters ; and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters ; that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.

7 ^aAnd seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, ^band pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, ^cdeceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed.

9 For they prophesy ³falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

10 ¶ For thus saith the LORD, That after ^dseventy years be accomplished at Bāb'ŷ-lon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an ^eexpected end.

12 Then shall ye ^ecall upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ^fye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me ^gwith all your heart.

14 And ^hI will be found of you, saith the LORD: and I will turn away your captivity, and ⁱI will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Because ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Bāb'ŷ-lon;

16 Know that thus saith the LORD of the king that sitteth upon the throne of Dā'vid, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will send upon them the ^jsword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them ^klike vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.

18 And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and ^lwill deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, ^mto be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them:

19 Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which ⁿI sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them; but ye would not hear, saith the LORD.

20 ¶ Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom ^oI have sent from Jē-ru'šā-lēm to Bāb'ŷ-lon:

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, of Ā'hāb the son of Kōl-a-ī'ah, and of Zēd-e-kī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'jah, which ^pprophesy a lie unto you in my name; Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon; and he shall slay them before your eyes;

22 ^qAnd of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Jū'dah which are in Bāb'ŷ-lon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zēd-e-kī'ah and like Ā'hāb, ^rwhom the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon roasted in the fire;

23 Because ^rthey have committed villany in Īṣ'ra-el, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them; even I know, and am ^sa witness, saith the LORD.

24 ¶ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shēm-a-ī'ah the ⁶Nē-hēl'a-mīte, saying,

25 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jē-ru'šā-lēm, ^tand to Zēph-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'jah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,

26 The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jē-hoi'a-dā the priest, that ye should be ^uofficers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is ^vmad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest ^wput him in prison, and in the stocks.

27 Now therefore why hast thou not ^xreproved Jēr-e-mī'ah of Ān'a-thoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you?

28 For therefore he sent unto us in Bāb'ŷ-lon, saying, This captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them; and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

29 And Zēph-a-nī'ah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jēr-e-mī'ah the prophet.

30 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jēr-e-mī'ah, saying,

31 Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shēm-a-ī'ah the Nē-hēl'a-mīte; Because that Shēm-a-ī'ah hath prophesied unto you, ^yand I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie:

32 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will punish ^zShēm-a-ī'ah the Nē-hēl'a-mīte, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people; neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the LORD; ^abecause he hath taught ⁷rebellion against the LORD.

CHAPTER 30.

1 Word of the Lord concerning Israel and Judah. 10 Jacob comforted. 18 Their return promised.

THE word that came to Jēr-e-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD God of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, ^aWrite thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.

3 For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that ^bI will bring again the captivity of my people Īṣ'ra-el and Jū'dah, saith the LORD: and ^cI will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.

4 ¶ And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Īṣ'ra-el and concerning Jū'dah.

5 For thus saith the LORD; We have heard a voice of trembling, ¹of fear, and not of peace.

6 Ask ye now, and see whether ²a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?

7 Alas! ^dfor that day is great, ^eso that none is like it : it is even the time of Jā'cōb's trouble ; but he shall be saved out of it.

8 For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him :

9 But they shall serve the LORD their God, and ^fDā'vid their king, whom I will ^graise up unto them.

10 ¶ Therefore ^hfear thou not, O my servant Jā'cōb, saith the LORD ; neither be dismayed, O Īṣ'ra-el : for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity ; and Jā'cōb shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.

11 For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee : ⁱthough I make a full end of all nations whether I have scattered thee, ^jyet will I not make a full end of thee : but I will correct thee ^kin measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.

12 For thus saith the LORD, ^lThy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.

13 There is none to plead thy cause, ^mthat thou mayest be bound up : thou hast no healing medicines.

14 ⁿAll thy lovers have forgotten thee ; they seek thee not ; for I have wounded thee with the wound ^oof an enemy, with the chastisement ^pof a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity ; ^qbecause thy sins were increased.

15 Why criest thou for thine affliction ? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity : because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.

16 ^rTherefore all they that devour thee ^sshall be devoured ; and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity ; and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.

17 ^tFor I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD ; because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zī'ōn, whom no man seeketh after.

18 ¶ Thus saith the LORD ; Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jā'cōb's tents, and ^uhave mercy on his dwellingplaces ; and the city shall be builded upon her own ^vheap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.

19 And ^wout of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry : ^xand I will multiply them, and they shall not be few ; I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.

20 Their children also shall ^ybe as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.

21 And ^ztheir nobles shall be of themselves, ^aand their governor shall proceed from the midst of them ; and I will ^bcause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me : for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me ? saith the LORD.

22 And ye shall be ^cmy people, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, the ^dwhirlwind of the LORD goeth forth

CHAPTER 31.

1 Israel's restoration. 12 Rejoicing of the nation. 22 Christ is promised. 31 The new covenant.

AT the same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Īṣ'ra-el, and they shall be my people.

2 Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness ; even Īṣ'ra-el, when ^aI went to cause him to rest.

3 The LORD hath appeared ^bof old unto me, saying, Yea, ^cI have loved thee with ^dan everlasting love : therefore ^ewith lovingkindness have I drawn thee.

4 Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Īṣ'ra-el : thou shalt again be adorned with thy ^ftabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.

5 ^gThou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Sā-mā'rī-ā : the planters shall plant, and shall ^heat them as common things.

6 For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the mount Ē'phrā-īm shall cry, ⁱArise ye, and let us go up to Zī'ōn unto the LORD our God.

7 For thus saith the LORD ; ^jSing with gladness for Jā'cōb, and shout among the chief of the nations : publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Īṣ'ra-el.

8 Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and ^kgather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together : a great company shall return thither.

9 ^lThey shall come with weeping, and with ^msupplications will I lead them : I will cause them to walk ⁿby the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble : for I am a father to Īṣ'ra-el, and Ē'phrā-īm is my ^ofirstborn.

10 ¶ Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Īṣ'ra-el ^pwill gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.

11 For ^qthe LORD hath redeemed Jā'cōb, and ransomed him ^rfrom the hand of him that was stronger than he.

12 Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zī'ōn, and shall flow together to ^sthe goodness of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd : and their soul shall be as a ^twatered garden ; ^uand they shall not sorrow any more at all.

13 Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together : for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.

14 And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; ^aA voice was heard in ^rRā'mah, lamentation, and bitter weeping; Rā'hel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because ^sthey were not.

16 Thus saith the LORD; Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD; and ^tthey shall come again from the land of the enemy.

17 And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.

18 ¶ I have surely heard ^Ē'phrā-īm bemoaning himself thus; Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: ^uturn thou me, and I shall be turned; for thou art the LORD my God.

19 Surely ^vafter that I was turned, I repented; and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.

20 Is ^Ē'phrā-īm my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: ^wtherefore my bowels ^bare troubled for him; ^xI will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

21 Set thee up waymarks, make thee high heaps: ^yset thine heart toward the highway, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of ^Ī'rā-el, turn again to these thy cities.

22 ¶ How long wilt thou ^zgo about, O thou ^aback-sliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of ^Ī'rā-el; As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Jū'dah and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity; ^bThe LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, and ^cmountain of holiness.

24 And there shall dwell in Jū'dah itself, and ^din all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.

25 For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.

26 Upon this I awaked, and beheld; and my sleep was sweet unto me.

27 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that ^eI will sow the house of ^Ī'rā-el and the house of Jū'dah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.

28 And it shall come to pass, that like as I have ^fwatched over them, ^gto pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them, ^hto build, and to plant, saith the LORD.

29 ⁱIn those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.

30 ^jBut every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.

31 ¶ Behold, the ^kdays come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of ^Ī'rā-el, and with the house of Jū'dah:

32 Not ^laccording to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that ^mI took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of ^Ē'gypt; which my covenant they brake, ⁿalthough I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD:

34 And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for ^rthey shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD: for ^sI will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.

36 ^wIf those ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of ^Ī'rā-el also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus saith the LORD; ^xIf heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of ^Ī'rā-el for all that they have done, saith the LORD.

38 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city shall be built to the LORD ^yfrom the tower of Hā-nān'e-el unto the gate of the corner.

39 And ^zthe measuring line shall yet go forth over against it upon the hill Gā'rēb, and shall compass about to Gō'ath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kīd'ron, ^aunto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, ^b*shall be* holy unto the LORD; it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

CHAPTER 32.

1 Jeremiah's imprisonment. 16 A prayer. 26 Confirmation of the captivity and return.

THE word that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD ^ain the tenth year of Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, which was the eighteenth year of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar.

2 For then the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's army besieged Jē-ru'sā-lēm: and Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet was shut up in ^bthe court of the prison, which was in the king of Jū'dah's house.

3 For Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, ^cBehold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and he shall take it;

4 And Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah ^dshall not escape out of the hand of the Chāl-dē'anš, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes;

5 And he shall lead Zēd-ē-kī'ah to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and there shall he be ^euntil I visit him, saith the LORD:

^fthough ye fight with the Chāl-dē'anṣ, ye shall not prosper.

6 ¶ And Jēr-ē-mī'ah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

7 Behold, Hā-nām'e-el the son of Shāl'lum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Ān'a-thoth: for the ^gright of redemption is thine to buy it.

8 So Hā-nām'e-el mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is ^hin Ān'a-thoth, which is in the country of Bēn'ja-min: for the right of inheritance is thine, and ⁱthe redemption is thine; buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

9 And I bought the field of Hā-nām'e-el my uncle's son, that was in Ān'a-thoth, and ^jweighed him the money, even ¹seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I ²subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and ^ktook witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed according to the law and custom, and that which was open:

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto ^lBā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah, the son of Mā-ā-sē'iah, in the sight of Hā-nām'e-el mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the ^mwitnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Bā'ruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open; and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many days.

15 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Houses and fields and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah, ⁿI prayed unto the LORD, saying,

17 Ah Lord GOD! behold, ^othou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and ^pthere is nothing ³too hard for thee:

18 Thou shewest ^qlovingkindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, ^rthe Mighty God, ^sthe LORD of hosts, is his name,

19 ^tGreat in counsel, and mighty in ⁴work: for thine ^ueyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: ^vto give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:

20 Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Ē'g̃ypt, even unto this day, and in Īṣ'ra-el, and among other men; and hast made thee ^wa name, as at this day;

21 And ^xhast brought forth thy people Īṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'g̃ypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror;

22 And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, ^ya land flowing with milk and honey;

23 And they came in, and possessed it; but ^zthey obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law; they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them:

24 Behold the ⁵mounts, they are come unto the city to take it; and the city is given into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, that fight against it, because of ^athe sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken ^bis come to pass; and, behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses; ⁶for the city is given into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

27 Behold, I am the LORD, the ^cGod of all flesh: ^dis there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, and into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and he shall take it:

29 And the Chāl-dē'anṣ, that fight against this city, shall come and ^eset fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, ^fupon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Bā'al, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Īṣ'ra-el and the children of Jū'dah ^ghave only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Īṣ'ra-el have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For ^hthis city hath been to me as ⁷a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day; ⁱthat I should remove it from before my face,

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Īṣ'ra-el and of the children of Jū'dah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, ^jthey, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Jū'dah, and the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

33 And they have turned unto me the ⁸back, and not the face: though I taught them, ^krising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they ^lset their abominations in the house, which is called by my name, to defile it.

35 And they built the high places of Bā'al, which are in the valley of the son of Hīn'nom, to ^mcause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto ⁿMō'lech; which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Jū'dah to sin.

36 ¶ And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

37 Behold, I will ^ogather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them ^pto dwell safely:

38 And they shall be ^qmy people, and I will be their God:

39 And I will ^rgive them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me ^sfor ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them:

40 And ^tI will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away ^ufrom them, to do them good; but ^vI will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.

41 Yea, ^wI will rejoice over them to do them good, and ^xI will plant them in this land ^yassuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.

42 For thus saith the LORD; ^zLike as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.

43 And fields shall be bought in this land, ^awhereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast; it is given into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ.

44 Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in ^bthe land of Bēn'ja-min, and in the places about Jē-ru'-sā-lēm, and in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south: for ^cI will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 33.

1 Jeremiah, in prison, prophesies a gracious return from captivity. 15 Promise of Christ.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah the second time, while he was yet ^dshut up in the court of the prison, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD the ^emaker thereof, the LORD that formed it, to establish it; ^fthe LORD is his name;

3 ^gCall unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and ^hmighty things, which thou knowest not.

4 For thus saith the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Jū'dah, which are thrown down by ⁱthe mounts, and by the sword;

5 They come to fight with the Chāl-dē'anṣ, but it is to fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.

6 Behold, ^jI will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.

7 And ^kI will cause the captivity of Jū'dah and the captivity of Īṣ'ra-el to return, and will build them, ^las at the first.

9 ¶ ^kAnd it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall ^lfear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.

10 Thus saith the LORD; Again there shall be heard in this place, which ye say shall be desolate without man and without beast, even in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-ru'-sā-lēm, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast,

11 The ^mvoice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, ⁿPraise the LORD of hosts: for the LORD is good; for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that shall bring ^othe sacrifice of praise into the house of the LORD. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the LORD.

12 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; ^pAgain in this place, which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.

13 ^qIn the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Bēn'ja-min, and in the places about Jē-ru'-sā-lēm, and in the cities of Jū'dah, shall the flocks ^rpass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.

14 ^sBehold, the days come, saith the LORD, that ^tI will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el and to the house of Jū'dah.

15 ¶ In those days, and at that time, will I cause the ^uBranch of righteousness to grow up unto Dā'-vid; and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.

16 ^vIn those days shall Jū'dah be saved, and Jē-ru'-sā-lēm shall dwell safely: and ^wthis is the name wherewith she shall be called, The LORD our righteousness.

17 ¶ For thus saith the LORD; ^xDā'vid shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Īṣ'ra-el;

18 Neither shall the priests the Lē'vites want a man before me to offer ^yburnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.

19 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

20 Thus saith the LORD; ^zIf ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season;

21 Then may also my covenant be broken with Dā'vid my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne; and with the Lē'vites the priests, my ministers.

22 As ^uthe host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of Dā'vid my servant, and the Lē'vites that minister unto me.

23 Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.

25 Thus saith the LORD; If ^zmy covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not ^aappointed the ordinances of heaven and earth;

26 Then will I cast away the seed of Jā'cōb, and Dā'vid my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Ā'brā'hām, Ī'saac, and Jā'cōb: for ^bI will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

CHAPTER 34.

¹ Capture of Zedekiah and destruction of Jerusalem foretold by Jeremiah. ¹⁷ Judah shall be given into the hands of the enemy.

THE word which came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, ^awhen Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and all his army, and ^ball the kingdoms of the earth ¹of his dominion, and all the people, fought against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and against all the cities thereof, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Ī's'ra-el; Go and speak to Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, ^cI will give this city into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and ^dhe shall burn it with fire:

3 And ^ethou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand; and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and ²he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

4 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah; Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:

5 But thou shalt die in peace: and with ^fthe burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, ^gso shall they burn odours for thee; and ^hthey will lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.

6 Then Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet ⁱspake all these words unto Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah in Jē-ru'sā-lēm,

7 When the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's army fought against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and against all the cities of Jū'dah that were left, against Lā'chish, and against Ā-zē'kah: for ^jthese defenced cities remained of the cities of Jū'dah.

8 ¶ This is the word that came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, after that the king Zēd-ē-kī'ah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jē-ru'sā-lēm, to proclaim ^kliberty unto them;

9 ^lThat every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hē'brew or an Hē'brew-ess, go free; ^mthat none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people, which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.

11 But ⁿafterward they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.

12 ¶ Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Ī's'ra-el; I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Ē'g'gypt, out of the house of bondmen, saying,

14 At the end of ^oseven years let ye go every man his brother an Hē'brew, which ³hath been sold unto thee; and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.

15 And ye were ⁴now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour; and ye had ^pmade a covenant before me ^ain the house ⁵which is called by my name:

16 But ye turned and ^rpolluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom he had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.

17 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Ye have not ^shearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: ^tbehold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the LORD, ^uto the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine; and I will make you ⁶to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have ^vtransgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when ^wthey cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,

19 The princes of Jū'dah, and the princes of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf;

20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their ^xdead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.

21 And Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's army, ^ywhich are gone up from you.

22 ^zBehold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city; and they shall fight against it, ^aand take it, and burn it with fire: and ^bI will make the cities of Jū'dah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAPTER 35.

¹ Obedience of the Rechabites. ¹² Jeremiah holds them up as a model. ¹⁸ Rechabites are blessed.

THE word which came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD in the days of ^aJē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying,

2 Go unto the house of the ^bRē'chab-ītes, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of ^cthe chambers, and give them wine to drink.

3 Then I took Jā-āz-ā-nī'ah the son of Jēr-ē-mī'ah, the son of Hāb-ā-zī-nī'ah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rē'chab-ītes;

4 And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hā'nān, the son of Īg-dā-lī'ah, a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Mā-ā-sē'īah the son of Shāl'lum, ^dthe keeper of the ¹door:

5 And I set before the sons of the house of the Rē'chab-ītes pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.

6 But they said, We will drink no wine: for ^eJōn'ā-dāb the son of Rē'chab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever:

7 Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents; ^fthat ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers.

8 Thus have we ^gobeyed the voice of Jōn'ā-dāb the son of Rē'chab our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters;

9 Nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed:

10 But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jōn'ā-dāb our father commanded us.

11 But it came to pass, ^hwhen Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jē-ru'sā-lēm for fear of the army of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, and for fear of the army of the Sŷr'ī-anṣ: so we dwell at Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

12 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

13 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Go and tell the men of Jū'dah and the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, Will ye not ⁱreceive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD.

14 The words of Jōn'ā-dāb the son of Rē'chab, that he commanded his sons not to drink wine, are performed; for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: ^jnotwithstanding I have spoken unto you, ^krising early and speaking; ^lbut ye hearkened not unto me.

15 ^mI have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, ⁿReturn ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I

CHAPTER 36.

¹ Baruch writes Jeremiah's prophecy. ¹⁹ Baruch and Jeremiah hide themselves. ²⁰ Jehoiakim burns the roll. ³² Baruch re-writes it.

AND it came to pass in the fourth year of Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, that this word came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, saying,

2 Take thee a ^aroll of a book, and write ^btherein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Īṣ'ra-el, and against Jū'dah, and against ^call the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of ^dJō-sī'ah, even unto this day.

3 ^eIt may be that the house of Jū'dah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them; that they may ^freturn every man from his evil way; that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.

4 Then Jēr-ē-mī'ah ^gcalled Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah: and ^hBā'ruch wrote from the mouth of Jēr-ē-mī'ah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.

5 And Jēr-ē-mī'ah commanded Bā'ruch, saying, I am shut up; I cannot go into the house of the LORD:

6 Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD'S house upon ⁱthe fasting day: and also thou shalt ^jread them in the ears of all Jū'dah that come out of their cities.

7 It may be ¹they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for ^kgreat is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.

8 And Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah did according to all that Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD'S house.

9 And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the ninth month, that they 'proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and to all the people that came from the cities of Jū'dah unto Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

10 Then read Bā'ruch in the book the words of Jēr-ē-mī'ah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Ġēm-a-rī'ah the son of Shā'phan the ²scribe, in the higher court, at the ³entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people.

11 ¶ When Mī-chā'iah the son of Ġēm-a-rī'ah, the son of Shā'phan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD,

12 Then he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Ē-līsh'a-mā the scribe, and Del-a-ī'ah the son of Shēm-a-ī'ah, and Ēl'na-than the son of Āch'bôr, and Ġēm-a-rī'ah the son of Shā'phan, and Zēd-ē-kī'ah the son of Hān-a-nī'ah, and all the princes.

13 Then Mī-chā'iah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Bā'ruch read the book in the ears of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jē-hū'dī the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah, the son of Shēl-ē-mī'ah, the son of Cu'shī, unto Bā'ruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah took the roll in his hand, and ^mcame unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Bā'ruch read it in their ears.

16 Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they were ⁿafraid both one and other, and said unto Bā'ruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.

17 And they asked Bā'ruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Bā'ruch answered them, ^oHe pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Bā'ruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jēr-ē-mī'ah; and let no man know where ye be.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Ē-līsh'a-mā the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.

21 So the king sent Jē-hū'dī to fetch the roll: and he took it out of Ē-līsh'a-mā the scribe's chamber. And Jē-hū'dī read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king sat in ^pthe winterhouse in the ninth month: and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

23 And it came to pass, that when Jē-hū'dī had read three or four leaves, ^qhe cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor ^rrent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

25 Nevertheless Ēl'na-than and Del-a-ī'ah and Ġēm-a-rī'ah ^ahad made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.

26 But the king commanded Jē-rāh'mē-el the son ⁴of Hām'mē-lēch, and Sēr-a-ī'ah the son of Āz'rī-el, and Shēl-ē-mī'ah the son of Āb'dē-el, to take 'Bā'ruch the scribe and Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet: but ^uthe LORD hid them.

27 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah, ^vafter that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Bā'ruch wrote at the mouth of Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

28 Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jē-hoi'a-kim the king of Jū'dah hath burned.

29 And thou shalt say to Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah, Thus saith the LORD; Thou hast burned this roll, ^wsaying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Bāb'ŷ-lon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah; ^xHe shall have none to sit upon the throne of Dā'vid: and his dead body shall be ^ycast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

31 And I will ^{5z}punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity; and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and upon the men of Jū'dah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them; but they hearkened not.

32 ¶ Then took Jēr-ē-mī'ah another roll, and gave it to Bā'ruch the scribe, the son of Nē-rī'ah; ^awho wrote therein from the mouth of Jēr-ē-mī'ah all the words of the book which Jē-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many ⁶like words.

CHAPTER 37.

1 Zedekiah sends to Jeremiah for prayer. 6 Jeremiah prophesies a Chaldean victory. 11 He is arrested and imprisoned. 21 He obtains some favour.

AND king ^aZēd-ē-kī'ah the son of Jō-sī'ah reigned instead of Cō-nī'ah the son of Jē-hoi'a-kim, whom Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon made king in the land of Jū'dah.

2 But ^bneither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake ¹by the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah.

3 And Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king sent Jē'hū-cal the son of Shēl-ē-mī'ah and ^cZēph-a-nī'ah the son of Mā-a-sē'iah the priest to the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us.

4 Now Jēr-ē-mī'ah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

5 Then ^dPhā'raōh's army was come forth out of Ē'gŷpt: ^eand when the Chāl-dē'anŷ that besieged Jē-ru'sā-lēm heard tidings of them, they departed from Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

6 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Thus shall ye say to the king of Jū'dah, ^fthat sent you unto me to enquire of me; Behold, Phā'raōh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Ē'gypt into their own land.

8 ^gAnd the Chāl-dē'anṣ shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the LORD; Deceive not ²yourselfes, saying, The Chāl-dē'anṣ shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

10 ^hFor though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chāl-dē'anṣ that fight against you, and there remained but ³wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11 ¶ And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chāl-dē'anṣ was ⁴broken up from Jē-ru'sā-lēm for fear of Phā'raōh's army, 12 Then Jēr-ē-mī'ah went forth out of Jē-ru'sā-lēm to go into the land of Bēn'ja-min, ⁵to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the gate of Bēn'ja-min, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Ī-rī'jah, the son of Shēl-ē-mī'ah, the son of Hān-ā-nī'ah; and he took Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chāl-dē'anṣ.

14 Then said Jēr-ē-mī'ah, It is ⁶false; I fall not away to the Chāl-dē'anṣ. But he hearkened not to him: so Ī-rī'jah took Jēr-ē-mī'ah, and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes ⁱwere wroth with Jēr-ē-mī'ah, and smote him, ^jand put him in prison in the house of Jōn'a-than the scribe: for they had made that the prison.

16 ¶ When Jēr-ē-mī'ah was entered into ^kthe dungeon, and into the ^lcabins, and Jēr-ē-mī'ah had remained there many days;

17 Then Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king sent, and took him out: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, ^mIs there any word from the LORD? And Jēr-ē-mī'ah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

18 Moreover Jēr-ē-mī'ah said unto king Zēd-ē-kī'ah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Bāb'ŷ-lon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: ⁿlet my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jōn'a-than the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king commanded that they should commit Jēr-ē-mī'ah ^ointo the court of the prison, and ^pthat they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers' street, ^quntil all the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jēr-ē-mī'ah ^rremained in the court of the prison.

CHAPTER 38.

1 Jeremiah is cast into Malchiah's dungeon. 14 The king spares his life. 17 Jeremiah counsels submission. 24 A secret conference.

THEN Shēph-ā-tī'ah the son of Māt'tan, and Ēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Pāsh'ūr, and ^aJū'cal the son of Shēl-ē-mī'ah, and ^bPāsh'ūr the son of Māl-chī'ah, ^cheard the words that Jēr-ē-mī'ah had spoken unto all the people, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, ^dHe that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chāl-dē'anṣ shall live; for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.

3 Thus saith the LORD, ^eThis city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee, ^flet this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the ¹welfare of this people, but the hurt.

5 Then Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king said, ^gBehold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.

6 ^hThen took they Jēr-ē-mī'ah, and cast him into ⁱthe dungeon of Māl-chī'ah the son ²of Hām'melēch, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jēr-ē-mī'ah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jēr-ē-mī'ah sunk in the mire.

7 ¶ Now ^jwhen Ē'bēd-mē'lēch the Ē-thī-ō'pī-an, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jēr-ē-mī'ah in the dungeon; the king then sitting ^kin the gate of Bēn'ja-min;

8 Ē'bēd-mē'lēch went forth out of the king's house, and ^lspake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon; and ³he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.

10 Then the king commanded Ē'bēd-mē'lēch the Ē-thī-ō'pī-an, saying, Take from hence thirty men ⁴with thee, and take up Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.

11 So Ē'bēd-mē'lēch took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jēr-ē-mī'ah.

12 ^mAnd Ē'bēd-mē'lēch the Ē-thī-ō'pī-an said unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jēr-ē-mī'ah did so.

13 So they drew up Jēr-ē-mī'ah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jēr-ē-mī'ah remained ⁿin the court of the prison.

14 ¶ Then Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king sent, and took Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet unto him into the ⁵third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, I will ask thee a thing; hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jēr-ē-mī'ah said unto Zēd-ē-kī'ah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king sware secretly unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying, As the LORD liveth, °that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.

17 Then said Jēr-ē-mī'ah unto Zēd-ē-kī'ah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Īṣ'-ra-ēl; If thou wilt assuredly °go forth unto the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire; and thou shalt live, and thine house:

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, and they shall burn it with fire, and °thou shalt not escape out of their hand.

19 And Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king said unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, °I am afraid of the Jewṣ that are fallen to the Chāl-dē'anṣ, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they °mock me.

20 But Jēr-ē-mī'ah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, °I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.

21 But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me:

22 And, behold, all the women that are left in the king of Jū'dah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's princes, and those women shall say, °Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

23 So they shall bring out all thy wives and °thy children to the Chāl-dē'anṣ: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon: and °thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.

24 ¶ Then said Zēd-ē-kī'ah unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; also what the king said unto thee:

26 Then thou shalt say unto them, °I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return °to Jōn'a-than's house, to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So °they left off speaking with him; for the matter was not perceived.

28 So °Jēr-ē-mī'ah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jē-ru'sā-lēm was taken: and he was there when Jē-ru'sā-lēm was taken.

CHAPTER 39.

1 Jerusalem is captured. 4 Zedekiah is captured and blinded. 8 The city ruined.
11 Jeremiah cared for. 15 A promise to Ebed-melech.

IN the °ninth year of Zēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah, in the tenth month, came Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon and all his army against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and they besieged it.

2 And in the eleventh year of Zēd-ē-kī'ah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.

3 °And all the princes of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nēr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Sām'gār-nē'bō, Sār-sē'chim, Rāb'-sa-rīs, Nēr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Rāb'-māg, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

4 ¶ °And it came to pass, that when Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain.

5 But the Chāl-dē'anṣ' army pursued after them, and °overtook Zēd-ē-kī'ah in the plains of Jēr'i-chō: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon to °Rīb'lah in the land of Hā'math, where he °gave judgment upon him.

6 Then the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon slew the sons of Zēd-ē-kī'ah in Rīb'lah before his eyes: also the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon slew all the nobles of Jū'dah.

7 Moreover °he put out Zēd-ē-kī'ah's eyes, and bound him °with chains, to carry him to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

8 ¶ °And the Chāl-dē'anṣ burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jē-ru'sā-lem.

9 °Then Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the °captain of the guard carried away captive into Bāb'ŷ-lon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.

10 But Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard °left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Jū'dah, and gave them vineyards and fields °at the same time.

11 ¶ Now Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon gave charge concerning Jēr-ē-mī'ah °to Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard, saying,

12 Take him, and °look well to him, and do him no harm; but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.

13 So Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard sent, and Nēb-u-shās'ban, Rāb'-sa-rīs, and Nēr'gal-shā-rē'zer, Rāb'-māg, and all the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon's princes;

14 Even they sent, °and took Jēr-ē-mī'ah out of the court of the prison, and committed him °unto Gēd-a-lī'ah the son of °Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'-phan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.

15 ¶ Now the word of the LORD came unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,

16 Go and speak to ^mĒ'bēd-mē'lēch the Ē-thī-ō-pī-an, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Behold, ⁿI will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good; and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but ^othy life shall be for a prey unto thee: ^pbecause thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 40.

THE word that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah from the LORD, ^aafter that Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard had let him go from Rā'mah, when he had taken him being bound in ¹chains among all that were carried away captive of Jē-ru'sā-lēm and Jū'dah, which were carried away captive unto Bāb'ŷ-lon.

2 And the captain of the guard took Jēr-ē-mī'ah, and said unto him, ^bThe LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: ^cbecause ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

4 And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which ²were upon thine hand. ^dIf it seem good unto thee to come with me into Bāb'ŷ-lon, come; and ³I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Bāb'ŷ-lon, forbear: behold, ^eall the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, ^fwhom the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon hath made governor over the cities of Jū'dah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard ^ggave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 ^hThen went Jēr-ē-mī'ah unto Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam to ⁱMiz'pah; and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

7 ¶ ^jNow when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon had made Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of ^kthe poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Bāb'ŷ-lon;

Nē-tōph'ā-thīte, and Jēz-ā-nī'ah the son of a Mā-āch'ā-thīte, they and their men.

9 And Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not ⁴to serve the Chāl-dē'anṣ: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and it shall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Miz'pah, to serve the Chāl-dē'anṣ, which will come unto us: but ye, ^mgather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewise when all ⁿthe Jewṣ that were in Mō'ab, and among the Ām'mōn-ītes, and in Ē'dom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon had left a remnant of Jū'dah, and that he had set over them Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan;

12 Even all the Jewṣ returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Jū'dah, to Ġēd-ā-lī'ah, unto Miz'pah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.

13 ¶ Moreover Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Ġēd-ā-lī'ah to Miz'pah,

14 And said unto him, Dost thou certainly know that ^oBā'ā-līs the king of the Ām'mōn-ītes hath sent Īsh'mā-el the son of Nēth-ā-nī'ah ⁵to slay thee? But Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam believed them not.

15 Then Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah spake to Ġēd-ā-lī'ah in Miz'pah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Īsh'mā-el the son of Nēth-ā-nī'ah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jewṣ which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant in Jū'dah perish?

16 But Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam said unto Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, Thou shalt ^pnot do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Īsh'mā-el.

CHAPTER 41.

NOW it came to pass in the seventh month, ^athat Īsh'mā-el the son of Nēth-ā-nī'ah the son of Ē-līsh'ā-mā, of the seed royal, and the princes of the king, even ten men with him, came unto Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam to Miz'pah; and there they ^bdid eat bread together in Miz'pah.

2 Then arose Īsh'mā-el the son of Nēth-ā-nī'ah, and the ten men that were with him, and ^csmote Ġēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon had made governor over the land.

3 Īsh'mā-el also ^dslew all the Jewṣ that were with him, even with Ġēd-ā-lī'ah, at Miz'pah, and the Chāl-dē'anṣ that were found there, and the men of war.

4 And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Ġēd-ā-lī'ah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain ^efrom Shē'chem, from ^fShī'lōh, and from Sā-mā'rī-ā, even fourscore men, ^ghaving their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to ^hthe house of the LORD.

6 And Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah went forth from Mīz'pah to meet them, ⁱweeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Ĝēd-a-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam.

7 And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them that said unto Īsh'ma-el, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Īsh'ma-el had cast all the dead bodies of the men, whom he had slain ²because of Ĝēd-a-lī'ah, was it ⁱwhich Ā'sā the king had made for fear of Bā'a-shā king of Īṣ'ra-el: and Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah filled it with them that were slain.

10 Then Īsh'ma-el carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mīz'pah, ^jeven the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mīz'pah, ^kwhom Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard had committed to Ĝēd-a-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam: and Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to ^lthe Ām'mōn-ites.

11 ¶ But when Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all ^mthe captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah had done,

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah, and found him by ⁿthe great waters that are in Ĝīb'e-on.

13 Now it came to pass, that when all the people which were with Īsh'ma-el saw Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Īsh'ma-el had carried away captive from Mīz'pah cast about and returned, and went unto Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah.

15 But Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah ^oescaped from Jō-hā'nan with eight men, and went to the Ām'mōn-ites.

16 Then took Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Īsh'ma-el the son of Nēth-a-nī'ah, from Mīz'pah, after that he had slain Ĝēd-a-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam, even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Ĝīb'e-on:

17 And they departed, and dwelt in the habitation of ^pChīm'ham, which is by Bēth'-lē'hēm, to go to enter into Ē'gypt,

CHAPTER 42.

THEN all the captains of the forces, ^aand Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and Jēz-a-nī'ah the son of Hōsh-a-i'ah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,

2 And said unto Jēr-e-mī'ah the prophet, ¹Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and ^bpray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant; (for we are left but ^ca few of many, as thine eyes do behold us:)

3 That the LORD thy God may shew us ^dthe way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.

4 Then Jēr-e-mī'ah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words; and it shall come to pass, that ^ewhatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you; I will ^fkeep nothing back from you.

5 Then they said to Jēr-e-mī'ah, ^gThe LORD be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee; ^hthat it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jēr-e-mī'ah.

8 Then called he Jō-hā'nan the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,

9 And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him;

10 If ye will still abide in this land, then ⁱwill I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I ^jrepent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, of whom ye are afraid; be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: ^kfor I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.

12 And ^lI will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ^mye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God,

14 Saying, No; but we will go into the land of Ē'gypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread; and there will we dwell:

15 And now therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Jū'dah; Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; If ye ⁿwholly set your faces to enter into Ē'gypt, and go to sojourn there;

16 Then it shall come to pass, that the sword,

°which ye feared, shall overtake you there in the land of Ē'gÿpt, and the famine, whereof ye were afraid, ²shall follow close after you there in Ē'gÿpt; and there ye shall die.

17 ³So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Ē'gÿpt to sojourn there; they shall die ⁴by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and ⁵none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

18 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; As mine anger and my fury hath been ⁶poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm; so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Ē'gÿpt: and ⁷ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach; and ye shall see this place no more.

19 ¶ The LORD hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Jū'dah; ⁸Go ye not into Ē'gÿpt: know certainly that I have ⁹admonished you this day.

20 For ¹⁰ye dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God; and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you; but ¹¹ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly that ¹²ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire ¹³to go and to sojourn.

CHAPTER 43.

¹ Jeremiah is carried to Egypt. ⁸ Conquest of Egypt prophesied.

AND it came to pass, that when Jēr-ē-mī'ah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,

2 ¹⁴Then spake Āz-a-rī'ah the son of Hōsh-a-ī'ah, and Jō-hā'nān the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all ¹⁵the proud men, saying unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Ē'gÿpt to sojourn there:

3 But Bā'rūch the son of Nē-rī'ah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Bāb'ÿ-lon.

4 So Jō-hā'nān the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Jū'dah.

5 But Jō-hā'nān the son of Kā-rē'ah, and all the captains of the forces, took ¹⁶all the remnant of Jū'dah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Jū'dah;

6 Even men, and women, and children, and the king's daughters, ¹⁷and every person that Nēb'u-zār-ā'dān the captain of the guard had left with Gēd-ā-lī'ah the son of Ā-hī'kam the son of Shā'phan, and Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, and Bā'rūch the son of Nē-rī'ah.

7 So they came into the land of Ē'gÿpt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: thus came they even to ¹⁸Tāh'pan-hēṣ.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jēr-ē-mī'ah in Tāh'pan-hēṣ, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brickkiln, which is at the entry of Phā'raōh's house in Tāh'pan-hēṣ, in the sight of the men of Jū'dah;

10 And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Behold, I ¹⁹will send and take Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar the king of Bāb'ÿ-lon, ²⁰my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid; and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.

11 ²¹And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Ē'gÿpt, and deliver ²²such as are for death to death; and such as are for captivity to captivity; and such as are for the sword to the sword.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houses of ²³the gods of Ē'gÿpt; and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Ē'gÿpt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment; and he shall go forth from thence in peace.

13 He shall break also the ²⁴images of ²⁵Bēth-shē'-mēsh, that is in the land of Ē'gÿpt; and the houses of the gods of the Ē-gÿp'tianṣ shall he burn with fire.

CHAPTER 44.

¹ The desolation of Judah. ¹¹ The idolatrous shall be destroyed. ²⁰ Jews threatened for obstinacy. ²⁹ Destruction of Egypt foretold.

THE word that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah concerning all the Jewṣ which dwell in the land of Ē'gÿpt, which dwell at ¹Mīg'dol, and at ²Tāh'pan-hēṣ, and at ³Nōph, and in the country of ⁴Pāth'ros, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and upon all the cities of Jū'dah; and, behold, this day they are ⁵a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein,

3 Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went ⁶to burn incense, and to ⁷serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit ⁸I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.

6 Wherefore ⁹my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Jū'dah and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm; and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Wherefore commit ye this great evil ¹⁰against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, ¹¹out of Jū'dah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye ¹²provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourselves off, and that ye might be 'a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have ye forgotten the ²wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Jū'dah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm?

10 They are not ³humbled even unto this day, neither have they ^mfeared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$; Behold, ⁿ"I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Jū'dah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Jū'dah, that have set their faces to go into the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ to sojourn there, and ^othey shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$; they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and ^pthey shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.

13 For I will ⁴punish them that dwell in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, as I have punished Jē-ru'sā-lēm, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Jū'dah, which are gone into the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Jū'dah, to the which they ⁵have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.

15 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, in Pāth'ros, answered Jēr-ē-mī'ah, saying,

16 As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, ^qwe will not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do ^rwhatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the ⁶queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm: for then had we plenty of ⁷victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.

18 But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.

19 ^sAnd when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, without our ⁸men?

20 ¶ Then Jēr-ē-mī'ah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,

21 The incense that ye burned in the cities of Jū'dah, and in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ye, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?

22 So that the LORD could 'no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed; therefore is your land "a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies; ^vtherefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover Jēr-ē-mī'ah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Jū'dah ^wthat are in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$:

25 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of $\bar{I}\ddot{s}'ra-el$, saying; Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.

26 Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Jū'dah that dwell in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$; Behold, ^xI have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that ^ymy name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Jū'dah in all the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$, saying, The Lord GOD liveth.

27 Behold, ^zI will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Jū'dah that are in the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28 Yet ^aa small number that escape the sword shall return out of the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ into the land of Jū'dah, and all the remnant of Jū'dah, that are gone into the land of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, ⁹mine, or theirs.

29 ¶ And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall ^bsurely stand against you for evil:

30 Thus saith the LORD; Behold, ^cI will give Phā'-raōh-hōph'rā king of $\bar{E}'g\ddot{y}pt$ into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life; as I gave ^dZēd-ē-kī'ah king of Jū'dah into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

CHAPTER 45.

Jeremiah instructs and comforts Baruch.

THE ^aword that Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet spake unto Bā'ruch the son of Nē-rī'ah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jēr-ē-mī'ah, in the fourth year of Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, unto thee, O Bā'ruch ;

3 Thou didst say, Woe is me now ! for the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow ; I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest.

4 ¶ Thus shalt thou say unto him, The LORD saith thus ; Behold, ^bthat which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole land.

5 And ^cseekest thou great things for thyself ? seek them not : for, behold, ^dI will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD : but thy life will I give unto thee ^efor a prey in all places whither thou goest.

CHAPTER 46.

¹ Jeremiah prophesies the overthrow of Pharaoh's army at Euphrates. ¹³ Also Nebuchadrezzar's conquest of Egypt.

THE word of the LORD which came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet against ^athe Ĝēn'tīleṣ ;

2 Against Ē'ğypt, ^bagainst the army of Phā'raōh-nē'chō king of Ē'ğypt, which was by the river Eū-phrā'tēṣ in Cār'chē-mīsh, which Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon smote in the fourth year of Jē-hoi'a-kim the son of Jō-sī'ah king of Jū'dah.

3 ^cOrder ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.

4 Harness the horses ; and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets ; furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.

5 Wherefore have I seen them dismayed and turned away back ? and their mighty ones are ¹beaten down, and are ²fled apace, and look not back : for ^dfear was round about, saith the LORD.

6 Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape ; they shall ^estumble, and fall toward the north by the river Eū-phrā'tēṣ.

7 Who is this that cometh up ^fas a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers ?

8 Ē'ğypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers ; and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth ; I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up, ye horses ; and rage, ye chariots ; and let the mighty men come forth ; ³the Ē-thī-ō'-pī-anṣ and ⁴the Lib'ŷ-anṣ, that handle the shield ; and the Lŷd'i-anṣ, that handle and bend the bow.

10 For this is ^gthe day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries : and ^hthe sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood : for the Lord GOD of hosts ⁱhath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Eū-phrā'tēṣ.

11 ^jGo up into Ĝīl'e-ād, and take balm, ^kO virgin, the daughter of Ē'ğypt : in vain shalt thou use many medicines ; for ^lthou shalt not be cured.

12 The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land : for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the LORD spake to Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, how Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon should come and ^msmite the land of Ē'ğypt.

15 Why are thy valiant men swept away ? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them.

16 He ⁶made many to fall, yea, ^mone fell upon another : and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.

17 They did cry there, Phā'raōh king of Ē'ğypt is but a noise ; he hath passed the time appointed.

24 The daughter of Ē'ğypt shall be confounded ; she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, saith ; Behold, I will punish the ⁹multitude of Nō, and Phā'raōh, and Ē'ğypt, ^twith their gods, and their kings ; even Phā'raōh, and all them that trust in him :

26 ^uAnd I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and into the hand of his servants : and ^vafterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.

27 ¶ ^wBut fear not thou, O my servant Jā'cōb, and be not dismayed, O Īṣ'ra-el : for, behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity ; and Jā'cōb shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jā'cōb my servant, saith the LORD : for I am with thee ; for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee : but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure ; yet will I ¹⁰not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAPTER 47.

Jeremiah's prophecy against the Philistines.

THE word of the LORD that came to Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet ^aagainst the Phī-lis'tīneṣ, ^bbefore that Phā'raōh smote ¹Gā'zā.

2 Thus saith the LORD ; Behold, ^cwaters rise up ^dout of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and ²all that is therein; the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

⁴Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Phī-līs'tīneš, and to cut off from ^fTy'rus and Zi'don every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Phī-līs'tīneš, ^gthe remnant of ³the country of ^hCāph'tōr.

⁵ⁱBaldness is come upon Gā'zā; Āsh'ke-lōn is cut off with the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself?

⁶O thou ^jsword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? ⁴put up thyself into thy scabbard, rest, and be still.

⁷⁵How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath ^kgiven it a charge against Āsh'ke-lōn, and against the sea shore? there hath he ^lappointed it.

CHAPTER 48.

¹Judgments on Moab for sins. ²⁶Their contempt of God and his people. ⁴⁷Moabites recalled from captivity.

A GAINST ^aMō'ab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īš'ra-el; Woe unto ^bNē'bō! for it is spoiled: Kīr-ī-a-thā'im is confounded and taken: ¹Mīs'gab is confounded and dismayed.

²There shall be no more praise of Mō'ab: in Hēsh'bōn they have devised evil against it; come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shalt ²be cut down, O Mād'men; the sword shall ³pursue thee.

³A voice of crying shall be from Hōr-q-nā'im, spoiling and great destruction.

⁴Mō'ab is destroyed; her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

⁵For in the going up of Lu'hith ⁴continual weeping shall go up; for in the going down of Hōr-q-nā'im the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

⁶Flee, save your lives, and be like ⁵the heath in the wilderness.

⁷¶ ^cFor because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and ^dChē'mōsh shall go forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.

⁸And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.

⁹Give wings unto Mō'ab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

¹⁰^eCursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD ⁶deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.

¹²Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

¹³And Mō'ab shall be ashamed of ^aChē'mōsh, as the house of Īš'ra-el ^hwas ashamed of ⁱBēth-el their confidence.

¹⁴¶ How say ye, ^jWe are mighty and strong men for the war?

¹⁵Mō'ab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and ⁸his chosen young men are ^kgone down to the slaughter, saith ^lthe King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

¹⁶The calamity of Mō'ab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

¹⁷All ye that are about him, bemoan him; and all ye that know his name, say, ^mHow is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!

¹⁸ⁿThou daughter that dost inhabit ^oDī'bōn, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Mō'ab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

¹⁹O ⁹inhabitant of ^pĀr'ō-ēr, ^qstand by the way, and espy; ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?

²⁰Mō'ab is confounded; for it is broken down: howl and cry; tell ye it in ^rĀr'nōn, that Mō'ab is spoiled,

²¹And judgment is come upon the plain country; upon Hō'lōn, and upon Jā-hā'zah, and upon Mēph-a-āth,

²²And upon Dī'bōn, and upon Nē'bō, and upon Bēth-dīb-la-thā'im,

²³And upon Kīr-ī-a-thā'im, and upon Bēth-gā-mūl, and upon Bēth-mē'on, ²⁴And upon ^sKē'rī-ōth, and upon Bōz'rah, and upon all the cities of the land of Mō'ab, far or near.

²⁵The horn of Mō'ab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

²⁶¶ ^tMake ye him drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Mō'ab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

²⁷For ^uwas not Īš'ra-el a derision unto thee? ^vwas he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, thou ¹⁰skippedst for joy.

²⁸O ye that dwell in Mō'ab, leave the cities, and ^wdwell in the rock, and be like ^xthe dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.

²⁹We have heard the ^ypride of Mō'ab, (he is exceeding proud) his loftiness, and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.

³⁰I know his wrath, saith the LORD; but it shall not be so; ¹¹his lies shall not so effect it.

³¹Therefore ^zwill I howl for Mō'ab, and I will cry out for all Mō'ab; mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kīr-hē'rēs.

³²O vine of Sīb'mah, I will weep for thee with the weeping of Jā'zēr: thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to ^athe sea of Jā'zēr: the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.

³³And ^bjoy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Mō'ab; and I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting; their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 ^cFrom the cry of Hēsh'bōn even unto Ē-le-ā'leh, and even unto Jā'hāz, have they uttered their voice, ^dfrom Zō'ar even unto Hōr-q-nā'im, as an heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Nīm'rim shall be ¹²desolate.

35 Moreover I will cause to cease in Mō'ab, saith the LORD, ^ehim that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.

36 Therefore ^fmine heart shall sound for Mō'ab like pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kīr-hē'rēs: because ^gthe riches that he hath gotten are perished.

37 For ^hevery head shall be bald, and every beard ¹³clipped: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and ⁱupon the loins sackcloth.

38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all the house tops of Mō'ab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Mō'ab like ^ja vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down! how hath Mō'ab turned the ¹⁴back with shame! so shall Mō'ab be a derision and a dismay-ing to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, ^khe shall fly as an eagle, and shall ^lspread his wings over Mō'ab.

41 ¹⁵Kē'rī-ōth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and ^mthe mighty men's hearts in Mō'ab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

42 And Mō'ab shall be destroyed ⁿfrom being a people, because he hath ^omagnified himself against the LORD.

43 ^pFear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Mō'ab, saith the LORD.

44 He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for ^qI will bring upon it, even upon Mō'ab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 They that fled stood under the shadow of Hēsh'bōn because of the force: but ^ra fire shall come forth out of Hēsh'bōn, and a flame from the midst of Sī'hōn, and ^sshall devour the corner of Mō'ab, and the crown of the head of the ¹⁶tumultuous ones.

46 ^tWoe be unto thee, O Mō'ab! the people of Chē'mōsh perisheth: for thy sons are taken ¹⁷cap-tives, and thy daughters captives.

47 ¶ Yet will I bring again the captivity of Mō'ab ^uin the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Mō'ab.

2 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard in ^bRāb'bah of the Ām'mōn-ites; and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Īs'ra-el be heir unto them that were his heirs, saith the LORD.

3 Howl, O Hēsh'bōn, for Ā'ī is spoiled: cry, ye daughters of Rāb'bah, ^cgird you with sackcloth; lament, and run to and fro by the hedges; for ³their king shall go into captivity, and his ^dpriests and his princes together.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, ⁴thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, ^esaying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts, from all those that be about thee; and ye shall be driven out every man right forth; and none shall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And ^fafterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ām'mōn, saith the LORD.

7 ¶ ^gConcerning Ē'dom, thus saith the LORD of hosts; ^hIs wisdom no more in Tē'man? ⁱis counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?

8 Flee ye, ⁵turn back, ^jdwell deep, O inhabitants of ^kDē'dan; for I will ^lbring the calamity of Ē'sau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If ^mgrapegatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy ⁶till they have enough.

10 But I have made Ē'sau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and ⁿhe is not.

11 Leave thy ^ofatherless children, I will preserve them alive; and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the LORD; Behold, ^pthey whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have assuredly drunken; and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For ^qI have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that ^rBōz'rah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse; and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.

14 I have heard a ^srumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.

15 For, lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy ^tnest as high as the eagle, ^uI will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Ē'dom shall be a desolation: ^vevery one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.

18 ^wAs in the overthrow of Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'- rah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.

19 ^aBehold, he shall come up like a lion from ^ythe swelling of Jôr'dan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make him run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for ^zwho is like me? and who will ^rappoint me the time? and ^awho is that shepherd that will stand before me?

20 ^bTherefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Ē'dom; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Tē'man: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall, at the cry the noise thereof was heard in the ⁸Red sea.

22 Behold, ^che shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bōz'rah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Ē'dom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 ¶ ^dConcerning Dā-mās'cus. Hā'math is confounded, and Ār'pad: for they have heard evil tidings: they are ⁹fainthearted; ^ethere is sorrow ¹⁰on the sea; it cannot be quiet.

24 Dā-mās'cus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: ^fanguish and sorrows have taken her, as a woman in travail.

25 How is ^gthe city of praise not left, the city of my joy!

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.

27 And I will kindle a ^hfire in the wall of Dā-mās'cus, and it shall consume the palaces of ⁱBēn-hā'dād.

28 ¶ ^jConcerning Kē'dār, and concerning the kingdoms of Hā'zôr, which Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ÿ-lon shall smite, thus saith the LORD; Arise ye, go up to Kē'dār, and spoil ^kthe men of the east.

29 Their ^ltents and their flocks shall they take away: they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels; and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 ¶ Flee, ¹¹get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hā'zôr, saith the LORD; for Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ÿ-lon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 Arise, get you up unto the wealthy nation, ¹²that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor bars, which ^mdwell alone.

32 And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will ⁿscatter into all winds ^othem that are ¹³in the utmost corners; and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the LORD.

33 And Hā'zôr ^pshall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever: there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.

CHAPTER 50.

THE word that the LORD spake ^aagainst Bāb'ÿ-lon and against the land of the Chāl-dē'anš ¹by Jēr-e-mī'ah the prophet.

2 Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and ²set up a standard; publish, and conceal not: say, Bāb'ÿ-lon is taken, ^bBēl is confounded, Mē-rō'dāch is broken in pieces; ^cher idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.

3 For out of the north there cometh up ^da nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.

4 ¶ In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Iş'ra-el shall come, ^ethey and the children of Jū'dah together, ^fgoing and weeping: they shall go, ^gand seek the LORD their God.

5 They shall ask the way to Zi'ōn with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us join ourselves to the LORD in ^ha perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.

6 My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their ³restingplace.

7 All that found them have devoured them: and ⁱtheir adversaries said, ^jWe offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, ^kthe habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.

8 ^lRemove out of the midst of Bāb'ÿ-lon, and go forth out of the land of the Chāl-dē'anš, and be as the he goats before the flocks.

9 ¶ For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Bāb'ÿ-lon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her; from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty ⁴expert man; none shall return in vain.

10 And Chāl-dē'a shall be a spoil: ^mall that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.

11 ⁿBecause ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O

ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown ⁵fat as the heifer at grass, and ⁶bellow as bulls;

12 Your mother shall be sore confounded; she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.

13 Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Bāb'ŷ-lon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.

14 Put yourselves in array against Bāb'ŷ-lon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.

15 Shout against her round about: she hath ^ogiven her hand: her foundations are fallen, ^pher walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her; ^qas she hath done, do unto her.

16 Cut off the sower from Bāb'ŷ-lon, and him that handleth the ^rsickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword ^rthey shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.

17 ¶ ^sĪṣ'ra-el is ^sa scattered sheep; ^tthe lions have driven him away: first ^uthe king of Ās-sŷr'ī-ā hath devoured him; and last this ^vNēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon hath broken his bones.

18 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Īṣ'ra-el; Behold, I will punish the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon and his land, as I have punished the king of Ās-sŷr'ī-ā.

19 ^wAnd I will bring Īṣ'ra-el again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Cār'mel and Bā'shān, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ē'phrā'im and Gīl'e-ād.

20 In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, ^xthe iniquity of Īṣ'ra-el shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sins of Jū'dah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them ^ywhom I reserve.

21 ¶ Go up against the land ^zof Mēr-ā-thā'im, even against it, and against the inhabitants of ^aPē'kōd: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do ^baccording to all that I have commanded thee.

22 A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.

23 How is ^cthe hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Bāb'ŷ-lon become a desolation among the nations!

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Bāb'ŷ-lon, ^dand thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD.

25 The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth ^ethe weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts in the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ.

26 Come against her ^ffrom the utmost border, open her storehouses: ^gcast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.

27 Slay all her ^abullocks; let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of ^etheir visitation.

28 The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Bāb'ŷ-lon, ^fto declare in Zī'ōn the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Bāb'ŷ-lon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: ^grecompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: ^hfor she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Īṣ'ra-el.

30 ⁱTherefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.

31 Behold, I am against thee, O thou ¹²most proud, saith the Lord GOD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.

32 And ¹³the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and ^kI will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.

33 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The children of Īṣ'ra-el and the children of Jū'dah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast; they refused to let them go.

34 ^lTheir Redeemer is strong; ^mthe LORD of hosts is his name: he shall thoroughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

35 ¶ A sword is upon the Chāl-dē'anṣ, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and ⁿupon her princes, and upon ^oher wise men.

36 A sword is upon the ¹⁴liars; and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men; and they shall be dismayed.

37 A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all ^pthe mingled people that are in the midst of her; and ^qthey shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures; and they shall be robbed.

38 ^rA drought is upon her waters; and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.

39 ^sTherefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: ^tand it shall be no more inhabited for ever; neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.

40 ^uAs God overthrew Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'rah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD; so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.

41 ^vBehold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.

42 ^wThey shall hold the bow and the lance: ^xthey are cruel, and will not shew mercy: ^ytheir voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array, like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

43 The king of Bāb'ÿ-lon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: ^zanguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

44 Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jōr'dan unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will ¹⁵appoint me the time? and ^awho is that shepherd that will stand before me?

45 Therefore hear ye ^bthe counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Bāb'ÿ-lon; and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ: Surely ^cthe least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.

46 ^dAt the noise of the taking of Bāb'ÿ-lon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAPTER 51.

¹ Judgments against Babylon in revenge of Israel. 59 Jeremiah gives this book of prophecy to Seraiah.

THUS saith the LORD; Behold, I will raise up against Bāb'ÿ-lon, and against them that dwell in the ¹midst of them that rise up against me, ^aa destroying wind;

2 And will send unto Bāb'ÿ-lon ^bfanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: ^cfor in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine: and spare ye not her young men; destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ, ^dand they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 ^eFor Īṣ'ra-el hath not been forsaken, nor Jū'dah of his God, of the LORD of hosts; though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Īṣ'ra-el.

6 ^fFlee out of the midst of Bāb'ÿ-lon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the LORD'S vengeance; ^ghe will render unto her a recompence.

7 ^hBāb'ÿ-lon hath been a golden cup in the LORD'S hand, that made all the earth drunken: the ⁱnations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations ^jare mad.

8 Bāb'ÿ-lon is suddenly ^kfallen and destroyed: ^lhowl for her; ^mtake balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

9 We would have healed Bāb'ÿ-lon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and ⁿlet us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

10 The LORD hath ^obrought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zī'ōn the work of the LORD our God.

11 Make ²bright the arrows; gather the shields: ^pthe LORD hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Mēdeṣ: for his device is against Bāb'ÿ-lon, to destroy it; because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

28 Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Mēdeš, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for every purpose of the LORD shall be performed against Bāb'ŷ-lon, ⁱto make the land of Bāb'ŷ-lon a desolation without an inhabitant.

47 Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will ¹⁶do judgment upon the graven images of Bāb'ŷ-lon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.

48 Then ^athe heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Bāb'ŷ-lon: ^bfor the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD.

50 ^cYe that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD afar off, and let Jē-ru'sā-lēm come into your mind.

51 ^dWe are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD'S house.

52 Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images: and through all her land the wounded shall groan.

53 ^eThough Bāb'ŷ-lon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.

54 ^fA sound of a cry cometh from Bāb'ŷ-lon, and great destruction from the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ:

55 Because the LORD hath spoiled Bāb'ŷ-lon, and destroyed out of her the great voice; when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:

56 Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Bāb'ŷ-lon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken: ^gfor the LORD God of recompences shall surely requite.

57 And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith ^hthe King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

58 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; ¹⁹The broad walls of Bāb'ŷ-lon shall be utterly ²⁰broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire; and ⁱthe people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.

59 ¶ The word which Jēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet commanded Sēr-ā-ī'ah the son of Nē-rī'ah, the son of Mā-ā-sē'iah, when he went ²¹with Zēd-ē-kī'ah the king of Jū'dah into Bāb'ŷ-lon in the fourth year of his reign. And this Sēr-ā-ī'ah was a ²²quiet prince.

60 So Jēr-ē-mī'ah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Bāb'ŷ-lon, even all these words that are written against Bāb'ŷ-lon.

61 And Jēr-ē-mī'ah said to Sēr-ā-ī'ah, When thou comest to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words;

62 Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that ^jnone shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be ²³desolate for ever.

63 And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, ^kthat thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Eū-phrā'tēš :

64 And thou shalt say, Thus shall Bāb'ŷ-lon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her : and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jēr-ē-mī'ah.

CHAPTER 52.

¹ Zedekiah rebels. ⁴ Jerusalem taken and spoiled. ²⁴ Judah carried away captive. ³¹ Jehoiachin advanced.

ZĒD-E-KĪ'AH was ^aone and twenty years old when he ¹began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jē-ru'sā-lēm. And his mother's name was Hā-mū'tal the daughter of Jēr-ē-mī'ah of Līb'nah.

2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jē-hoi'a-kim had done.

3 For through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jē-ru'sā-lēm and Jū'dah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zēd-ē-kī'ah ^brebelled against the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

4 ¶ And it came to pass in the ^cninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon came, he and all his army, against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and pitched ^dagainst it, and built forts against it round about.

5 So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zēd-ē-kī'ah.

6 And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, ^ethe famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden ; (now the Chāl-dē'anš were by the city round about :) and they went by the way of the plain.

8 ¶ But the army of the Chāl-dē'anš pursued after the king, and overtook Zēd-ē-kī'ah in the plains of Jēr'ī-chō ; and all his army was scattered from him.

9 ^fThen they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon to Rīb'lah in the land of Hā'math ; where he gave judgment upon him.

10 ^gAnd the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon slew the sons of Zēd-ē-kī'ah before his eyes : he slew also all the princes of Jū'dah in Rīb'lah.

11 Then he ^hput out the eyes of Zēd-ē-kī'ah ; and the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon bound him in ⁱchains, and carried him to Bāb'ŷ-lon, and put him in ^jprison till the day of his death.

12 ¶ ^kNow in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, ^lcame Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan, ^mcaptain of the guard, which ⁿserved the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, into Jē-ru'sā-lēm,

13 And ^oburned the house of the LORD, and the king's house ; and all the houses of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and all the houses of the great men, burned he with fire :

14 And all the army of the Chāl-dē'anš, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jē-ru'sā-lēm round about.

15 Then Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and the rest of the multitude.

16 But Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard left certain of the poor of the land for vinedressers and for husbandmen.

17 ^rAlso the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the LORD, the Chāl-dē'anš brake, and carried all the brass of them to Bāb'ŷ-lon.

18 ^sThe caldrons also, and the ^tshovels, and the snuffers, and the ^ubowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.

19 And the basons, and the ^vfirepans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups ; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Sōl'omon had made in the house of the LORD : ^wthe brass of all these vessels was without weight.

21 And concerning the ^xpillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits ; and a ^yfillet of twelve cubits did compass it ; and the thickness thereof was four fingers : it was hollow.

22 And a chapter of brass was upon it ; and the height of one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapters round about, all of brass. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were like unto these.

23 And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side ; and ^zall the pomegranates upon the network were an hundred round about.

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took ^{aa}Sēr-ā-ī'ah the chief priest, ^{ab}and Zēph-ā-nī'ah the second priest, and the three keepers of the ^{ac}door :

25 He took also out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war ; and seven men of them that ^{ad}were near the king's person, which were found in the city ; and the ^{ae}principal scribe of the host, who mustered the people of the land ; and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.

26 So Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon to Rīb'lah.

27 And the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon smote them, and put them to death in Rīb'lah in the land of Hā'math. Thus ^{af}Jū'dah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 ^{ag}This is the people whom Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar carried away captive : in the ^{ah}seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty :

29 ^{ai}In the eighteenth year of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar he carried away captive from Jē-ru'sā-lēm eight hundred thirty and two ^{aj}persons :

30 In the three and twentieth year of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar Nēb'u-zār-ā'dan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.

31 ¶ ^v And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jē-hoi'a-chin king of Jū'dah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that E'vil-mē-rō'dach king of Bāb'ŷ-lon in the first year of his reign ^w lifted up the head of Jē-hoi'a-chin king of Jū'dah, and brought him forth out of prison,

32 And spake ¹⁶ kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Bāb'ŷ-lon, 33 And changed his prison garments: ^z and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a continual diet given him of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon, ¹⁷ every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

THE

LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

CHAPTER 1.

HOW doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people! ^a how is she become as a widow! she that was great among the nations, and ^b princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary!

2 She ^c weepeth sore in the ^d night, and her tears are on her cheeks: ^e among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.

3 ^f Jū'dah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and ¹ because of great servitude: ^g she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her between the straits.

4 The ways of Zī'ōn do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.

5 Her adversaries are the chief, her enemies prosper; for the LORD hath afflicted her ^h for the multitude of her transgressions: her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zī'ōn all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.

7 Jē-ru'sā-lēm remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her ² pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the ⁱ adversaries saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.

8 Jē-ru'sā-lēm hath grievously sinned; therefore she ³ is removed: all that honoured her despise her, because ^j they have seen her nakedness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.

9 Her filthiness is in her skirts; she ^k remembereth not her last end; therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter. O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.

10 The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her ⁴ pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that ^l they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people sigh, ^m they seek bread; they have given their pleasant things for meat ⁵ to relieve 12 ¶ ⁶ Is it nothing to you, all ye that ⁷ pass by? behold, and ⁿ see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaieth against them: he hath ^o spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 ^p The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: ^q the Lord hath trodden ⁸ the virgin, the daughter of Jū'dah, as in a winepress.

16 For these things I weep; mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should ⁹ relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 Zī'ōn spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning Jā'cōb, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jē-ru'sā-lēm is as a menstruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The LORD is ^r righteous; for I have ^s rebelled against his ¹⁰ commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress: my ^t bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled: ^u abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh: there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring ^v the day that thou hast ¹¹ called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 Let all their wickedness come before thee ; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions : for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAPTER 2.

HOW hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zi'ōn with a cloud in his anger, ^aand cast down from heaven unto the earth ^bthe beauty of Īṣ'ra-el, and remembered not ^chis footstool in the day of his anger !

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jā'qōb, and hath not pitied : he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Jū'dah ; he hath ¹brought them down to the ground : he ^dhath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the ^ehorn of Īṣ'ra-el : ^fhe hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jā'qōb like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 He ^ghath bent his bow like an enemy : he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew ²all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zi'ōn : he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy : he hath swallowed up Īṣ'ra-el, ^hhe hath swallowed up all her palaces : he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Jū'dah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently ⁱtaken away his ³tabernacle, ^jas if it were of a garden : he hath destroyed his places of the assembly : ^kthe LORD hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zi'ōn, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath ^lcast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath ⁴given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces ; ^mthey have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zi'ōn : ⁿhe hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from ⁵destroying : therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament ; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground ; he hath destroyed and broken her bars : ^oher king and her princes are among the Ĝēn'tīlēṣ : ^pthe law is no more ; her ^qprophets also find no vision from the LORD.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zi'ōn ^rsit upon the ground, and keep silence : they have cast up dust upon their heads ; they have girded themselves with sackcloth : the virgins of Jē-ru'sā-lēm hang down their heads to the ground.

11 ^sMine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, ^tmy liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people ; because the children and the sucklings ⁶swoon in the streets of the city.

14 Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee : and they have not ^vdiscovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity ; but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment.

15 ^wAll that pass ⁷by clap their hands at thee ; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying, Is this the city that men call ^xThe perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth ?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee : they hiss and gnash the teeth : they say, ^yWe have swallowed her up : certainly this is the day that we looked for ; we have found, ^zwe have seen it.

17 The LORD hath done that which he had ^adevised ; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old : he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied : and he hath caused thine enemy to ^brejoice over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zi'ōn, ^clet tears run down like a river day and night : give thyself no rest ; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night : in the beginning of the watches ^dpour ^eout thine heart like water before the face of the Lord : lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger ^fin the top of every street.

CHAPTER 3.

¹ Jeremiah bewails his own calamities. ²² He nourishes hope. ⁵⁵ Prayer for deliverance.

I AM the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned ; he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made old ; he hath broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 ^aHe hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out : he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Also ^bwhen I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.

10 ^cHe was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and ^dpulled me in pieces : he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and ^eset me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused the ¹arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a derision ^fto all my people ; and their song all the day.

15 ^gHe hath filled me with ²bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth ^hwith gravel stones, he hath ³covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace : I forgot ⁴prosperity.

18 ⁱAnd I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD :

19 ⁵Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is ⁶humbled in me.

21 This I ⁷recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 ¶ ^j*It is of* the LORD'S mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new ^kevery morning : great is thy ^lfaithfulness.

24 The LORD is my ^mportion, saith my soul ; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The LORD is good unto them that ⁿwait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope ^oand quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.

27 ^p*It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.*

28 ^qHe sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 ^rHe putteth his mouth in the dust ; if so be there may be hope.

30 ^sHe giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him : he is filled full with reproach.

31 ^tFor the Lord will not cast off for ever :

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For ^uhe doth not afflict ⁸willingly nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of ⁹the most High,

56 Thou ^jhast heard my voice : hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

57 Thou ^kdrewest near in the day that I called upon thee : thou saidst, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou hast ^lpleaded the causes of my soul ; ^mthou hast redeemed my life.

59 O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong : judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their ⁿimaginings against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginings against me ;

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.

63 Behold their ^ositting down, and their rising up ;
I am their musick.

64 ¶ ^pRender unto them a recompence, O LORD, according to the work of their hands.

65 Give them ¹⁴sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.

66 Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the ^qheavens of the LORD.

CHAPTER 4.

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zi'ōn, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed ^aas earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the ¹sea monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, ^blike the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 The ^ctongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet ^dembrace dunghills.

6 For the ²punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sōd'om, that was ^eoverthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.

7 Her ³Nāz'a-rītes were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:

8 Their visage is ⁴blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: ^ftheir skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these ⁵pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.

10 ^gThe hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children: they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The LORD hath accomplished his fury; he hath poured out his fierce anger, and ^hhath kindled a fire in Zi'ōn, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all ⁱthe inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

13 ¶ ^jFor the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, ^kthat have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her,

14 They have wandered as blind men in the streets, ^lthey have polluted themselves with blood, ⁶so that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye; ⁷*it is* unclean; depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.

16 The ⁸anger of the LORD hath divided them; he will no more regard them: ^mthey respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, ⁿour eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.

18 ^oThey hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for ⁹our end is come.

Zion's pitiful complaint in prayer to God.

REMEMBER, O LORD, what is come upon us: consider, and behold our reproach.

2 Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; our wood ¹is sold unto us.

5 ²Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

6 ^aWe have given the hand ^bto the Ē-gŷp'tians, and to the Ās-sŷr'i-anŷ, to be satisfied with bread.

7 ^cOur fathers have sinned, and are not; and we have borne their iniquities.

8 Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our skin was black like an oven because of the ³terrible famine.

11 ^dThey ravished the women in Zi'ōn, and the maids in the cities of Jū'dah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men ^eto grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 ^fThe elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their musick.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 ⁴The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!

17 For this our heart is faint; ^gfor these things our eyes are dim.

18 Because of the mountain of Zi'ōn, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O LORD, remainest for ever; thy throne from generation to generation.

20 Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us ⁵so long time?

21 Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

22 ⁶But thou hast utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET EZEKIEL.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Time of Ezekiel's prophecy at Chebar. 4 His vision.

NOW it came to pass in ^athe thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the ¹captives by the river of Chē'bār, that ^bthe heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jē-hoi'a-chin's captivity,

3 ^cThe word of the LORD came expressly unto ²Ē-zē'kī-ēl the priest, the son of Bū'zī, in the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ by the river Chē'bār; and ^dthe hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and, behold, ^ea whirlwind came ^fout of the north, a great cloud, and a fire ³infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 ^gAlso out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this ^h*was* their appearance; they had the likeness of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were ⁴straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled ⁱlike the colour of burnished brass.

8 ^jAnd they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were joined one to another; they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for ^kthe likeness of their faces, they four ^lhad the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side: and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were ⁵stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and ^mtwo covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went; and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, ⁿ*and* like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lighting.

14 And the living creatures ^oran and returned ^pas the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold ^qone wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 ^rThe appearance of the wheels and their work was ^slike unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: and they turned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful; and their ⁶rings were ^tfull of eyes round about them four.

19 And ^uwhen the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go; and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit ⁷of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit ⁸of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 ^vAnd the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 ^wAnd when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like ^xthe noise of great waters, as the ^yvoice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ ^zAnd above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, ^aas the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness ^bas the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 ^cAnd I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it, from the appearance of his loins even upward, and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 ^dAs the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. ^eThis was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, ^fI fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Commission of Ezekiel. 6 Instruction. 9 Roll of his prophecy.

AND he said unto me, Son of man, ^astand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And ^b the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Īṣ'ra-el, to a rebellious ¹ nation that hath rebelled against me: ^c they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 ^d For they are ² impudent children and stiffhearted. I do send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD.

5 ^e And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet ^f shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 ¶ And thou, son of man, ^g be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though ^h briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: ⁱ be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, ^j though they be a rebellious house.

7 ^k And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are ^l most rebellious.

8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and ^m eat that I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, ⁿ an hand was sent unto me; and, lo, ^o a roll of a book was therein;

10 And he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and ^p woe.

CHAPTER 3.

¹ Ezekiel eats the roll. ⁴ He is instructed and encouraged by God.

MOREOVER he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; ^a eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I ^b eat it; and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people ¹ of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Īṣ'ra-el;

6 Not to many people ² of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. ³ Surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the house of Īṣ'ra-el will not hearken unto thee; ^c for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Īṣ'ra-el are ⁴ impudent and hardhearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then ^e the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that ⁵ touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went ⁶ in bitterness, in the ⁷ heat of my spirit; but ^f the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tēl-ā'bib, that dwelt by the river of Chē'bār, and ^g I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, I have made thee ^h a watchman unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, ⁱ to save his life; the same wicked man ^j shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; ^k but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, When a ^l righteous man doth turn from his ⁸ righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely ^m live, because he is warned; also ⁿ thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into ^o the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and, behold, ^p the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I ^q saw by the river of Chē'bār: and I fell on my face.

24 Then ^r the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, ^s they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them:

26 And ^t I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them ⁹a reprover: "for they are a rebellious house.

27 ^oBut when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbear-eth, let him forbear: ^wfor they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER 4.

A typical siege foreshadows the famine in Jerusalem.

THOU also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jē-ru'sā-lēm:

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it; set the camp also against it, and set ¹battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover take thou unto thee ²an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. ^aThis shall be a sign to the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Īṣ'ra-el upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, ³three hundred and ninety days: ^bso shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Jū'dah forty days: I have appointed thee ⁴each day for a year.

7 Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.

8 ^cAnd, behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee ⁵from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and ⁶fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the LORD said, Even thus ^dshall the children of Īṣ'ra-el eat their defiled bread among the Gēn'tiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, ^eAh Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of ^fthat which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there ^oabominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the ^hstaff of bread in Jē-ru'sā-lēm: and they shall ⁱeat bread by weight, and with care; and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and consume ^jaway for their iniquity.

CHAPTER 5.

The prophet's hair types the judgments on Jerusalem.

AND thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, ^aand cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of ^bthe city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 ^cThou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy ¹skirts.

4 Then take of them again, and ^dcast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; This is Jē-ru'sā-lēm: I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.

6 And she hath ^echanged my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, ^fneither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you;

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 ^gAnd I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers ^hshall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ⁱscatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD; Surely, because thou hast ^jdefiled my sanctuary with all thy ^kdetestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.

12 ¶ ^lA third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee : and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee ; and ^mI will scatter a third part into all the winds, and ⁿI will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger ^obe accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, ^pand I will be comforted : and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

14 Moreover ^qI will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.

15 So it shall be a ^rreproach and a taunt, an ^sinstruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury and in ^tfurious rebukes. I the LORD have spoken it.

16 When I shall ^usend upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you : and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread :

17 So will I send upon you famine and ^vevil beasts, and they shall bereave thee ; and ^wpestilence and blood shall pass through thee ; and I will bring the sword upon thee. I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAPTER 6.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face toward the ^amountains of Īṣ'ra-el, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, hear the word of the Lord GOD ; Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys ; Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and ^bI will destroy your high places.

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your ⁱimages shall be broken : and ^cI will cast down your slain men before your ²idols.

5 And I will ³lay the dead carcasses of the children of Īṣ'ra-el before their idols ; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwellingplaces the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate ; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ ^dYet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because ^eI am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and ^fwith their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols : and ^gthey shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence ; and he that is near shall fall by the sword ; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine : thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, ^jupon every high hill, ^kin all the tops of the mountains, and ^lunder every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I ^mstretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, ⁴more desolate than the wilderness toward ⁿDib'lāth, in all their habitations : and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Final desolation of Israel. ²⁰ The sanctuary defiled. ²³ Miseries of their captivity.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Īṣ'ra-el ; ^aAn end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will ¹recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And ^bmine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity : but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee : ^cand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come : it ²watcheth for thee ; behold, it is come.

7 The morning is come unto thee, O thou that dwellest in the land : ^dthe time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the ³sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly ^epour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee : and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity : I will recompense ⁴thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee ; and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come : the morning is gone forth ; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 ^fViolence is risen up into a rod of wickedness : none of them shall remain, nor of their ⁵multitude, nor of any of ⁶theirs : ^gneither shall there be wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

13 For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, ⁷although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return; neither shall any strengthen himself ⁸in ⁹the iniquity of his life.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 ^hThe sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword; and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.

16 ¶ But ⁱthey that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.

17 All ^jhands shall be feeble, and all knees shall ¹⁰be weak as water.

18 They shall also ^kgird themselves with sackcloth, and ^lhorror shall cover them; and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.

19 They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be ¹¹removed: their ^msilver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: ¹²because it is ⁿthe stumblingblock of their iniquity.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: ^obut they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I ¹³set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the ¹⁴robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for ^pthe land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring ^qthe worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease; and ¹⁵their holy places shall be defiled.

25 ¹⁶Destruction cometh; and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.

26 ^rMischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour; ^sthen shall they seek a vision of the prophet; but the law shall perish from ^tthe priest, and counsel from the ancients.

27 The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and ¹⁷according to their deserts will I judge them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

^m Joel 2. 17.

I sat in mine house, and the elders of Jū'dah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me.

2 ^aThen I beheld, and lo a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire; and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.

3 And he ^bput forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and ^cbrought me in the visions of God to Jē-ru'sā-lēm, to the door ^dof the inner gate that looketh toward the north; ^ewhere was the seat of the image of jealousy, which ^fprovoketh to jealousy.

4 And, behold, the glory of the God of Īṣ'ra-el was there, according to the vision that I ^gsaw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great ^habominations that the house of Īṣ'ra-el committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, portrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, and in the midst of them stood Jā-āz-a-nī'ah the son of ⁱShā'phan, with ^jevery man his censor in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Īṣ'ra-el do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, ^kThe LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath ^lforsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD'S house which was toward the north; and, behold, there sat ¹women weeping for Tām'mūz.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD'S house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, ^mbetween the porch and the altar, ⁿwere about five and twenty men, ^owith their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped ^pthe sun toward the east.

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? ²Is it a light thing to the house of Jū'dah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have ^afilled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their nose.

18 ^rTherefore will I also deal in fury: mine ^seye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they ^tcry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAPTER 9.

A vision shewing how some are spared, the rest destroyed.

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, ^aCause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And, behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, ¹which lieth toward the north, and every man ²a slaughter weapon in his hand; ^band one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn ³by his side: and they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Īṣ'ra-el was gone up from the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side;

4 And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and ⁴set a mark upon the foreheads of the men ^cthat sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in ⁵mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity:

6 Slay ⁶utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but ^dcome not near any man upon whom is the mark; and ^ebegin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass, while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I ^ffell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Īṣ'ra-el in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Īṣ'ra-el and Jū'dah is exceeding great, and the land ^gis ⁷full of blood, and the city full of ⁸per- verseness: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and ^hthe LORD seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but ⁱI will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And, behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, ⁹reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAPTER 10.

¹ Vision of the coals of fire. ⁸ Also of the cherubims.

THEN I looked, and, behold, in the ^afirmament that was above the head of the cherubims there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 ^bAnd he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill ¹thine hand with ^ccoals of fire from between the cherubims, and ^dscatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 ^eThen the glory of the LORD ²went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and ^fthe house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD'S glory.

5 And the ^gsound of the cherubims' wings was heard even to the outer court, as ^hthe voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub ³stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ ⁱAnd there appeared in the cherubims the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 ^jAnd when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole ⁴body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and ^kthe wheels, were ^lfull of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, ⁵it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 ^mAnd every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second ⁿface was the face of a man, and the third the face of ^oa lion, and the fourth the face of an ^peagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up. This is ^qthe living creature that I saw by the river of Chē'l-bār.

16 ^rAnd when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 ^sWhen they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit ⁶of the living creature was in them.

18 Then the glory of the LORD ^tdeparted from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19 And ^uthe cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD'S house; and the glory of the God of Īṣ'ra-el was over them above.

20 ^vThis is the living creature that I saw under the God of Īṣ'ra-el by ^wthe river of Chē'bār; and I knew that they were the cherubims.

21 ^xEvery one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; ^yand the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And ^zthe likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chē'bār, their appearances and themselves: ^athey went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER 11.

¹ The wicked princes. ¹⁴ God's purpose in saving a remnant. ²² Departure of God's glory.

MOREOVER ^athe spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the ^beast gate of the LORD'S house, which looketh eastward: and behold ^cat the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jā-āz-ā-nī'ah the son of Ā'zūr, and Pēl-ā-tī'ah the son of Bē-nā'jah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Which say, ¹*It is not near*; let us build houses: ^d*this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.*

4 ¶ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

5 And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak; Thus saith the LORD; Thus have ye said, O house of Īṣ'ra-el: for ^eI know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; ^fYour slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have ^gfeared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and ^hwill execute judgments among you.

10 ⁱYe shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in ^jthe border of Īṣ'ra-el; ^kand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11 This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in ^lthe border of Īṣ'ra-el:

12 And ye shall know that I am the LORD: ²for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but ^mhave done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that ⁿPēl-ā-tī'ah the son of Bē-nā'jah died. Then ^ofell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Īṣ'ra-el?

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Īṣ'ra-el wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm have said, Get you far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, ^pyet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^qI will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Īṣ'ra-el.

18 And they shall come thither, and ^rthey shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And ^sI will give them one heart, and I will put ^ta new spirit within you; and I will take ^uthe stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:

20 That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: ^vand they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose ^wheart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubims ^xlift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Īṣ'ra-el was over them above.

23 And ^ythe glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood ^zupon the mountain ^awhich is on the east side of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards ^bthe spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chāl-dē'ā, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 Then I ^cspake unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

CHAPTER 12.

¹ Zedekiah's captivity foreshadowed. ¹⁷ The desolation of the Jews. ²¹ Jewish proverb.

THE word of the LORD also came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which ^ahave eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee ¹stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, ²as they that go forth into captivity.

5 ³Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: ^bfor I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the even I ⁴digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Īṣ'ra-el, the rebellious house, said unto thee, ^cWhat doest thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; This ^dburden concerneth the prince in Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and all the house of Īṣ'ra-el that are among them.

11 Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: ⁵they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And ^ethe prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My ^fnet also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and ^gI will bring him to Bāb'ŷ-lon to the land of the Chāl-dē'anṣ; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And ^hI will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands; and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 ⁱAnd they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

16 ^jBut I will leave ⁶a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, ^keat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness;

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD of the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and of the land of Īṣ'ra-el; They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may ⁷be desolate from ^lall that is therein, ^mbecause of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 13.

¹ Lying prophets reproved. ¹⁷ Reproof of false prophetesses also.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Īṣ'ra-el that prophesy, and say thou unto ¹them that prophesy out of their own ^ahearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD:

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe unto the foolish prophets, that ²follow their own spirit, ³and have seen nothing!

4 O Īṣ'ra-el, thy prophets are ^blike the foxes in the deserts.

5 Ye ^chave not gone up into the ⁴gaps, neither ⁵made up the hedge for the house of Īṣ'ra-el to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.

6 ^dThey have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to ^ehope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it; albeit I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the ⁶assembly of my people, ^fneither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, ^gneither shall they enter into the land of Īṣ'ra-el; ^kand ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have ⁱseduced my people, saying, ^jPeace; and there was no peace; and one built up ⁷a wall, and, lo, others ^kdaubed it with untempered morter:

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered morter, that it shall fall: 'there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: ^mand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Īṣ'ra-el which prophesy concerning Jê-ru'sā-lēm, and which ⁿsee visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ Likewise, thou son of man, ^oset thy face against ^pthe daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the women that sew pillows to all ^qarmholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye ^rhunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people ^sfor handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls ^tto make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly.

21 Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

22 Because ^uwith lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad; and ^vstrengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, ^wby promising him life:

23 Therefore ^xye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: ^yand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put ^bthe stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: ^cshould I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Every man of the house of Īṣ'ra-el that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may take the house of Īṣ'ra-el in their own ^dheart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Repent, and turn ^eyourself from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Īṣ'ra-el, which ^fseparateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will answer him by myself:

8 And ^gI will set my face against that man, and will make him a ^hsign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

9 And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the LORD ⁱhave deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Īṣ'ra-el.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him;

11 That the house of Īṣ'ra-el may ^jgo no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; ^kbut that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the ^lstaff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 'Though these three men, Nō'ah, Dān'iel, and Jōb, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls ^mby their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ If I cause ⁿnoisome beasts to pass through the land, and they ^ospoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:

16 Though these three men were ^pin it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

17 ¶ Or if ^qI bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I ^rcut off man and beast from it:

18 Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

19 ¶ Or if I send ^aa pestilence into that land, and ^rpour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast :

20 Though Nō'ah, Dān'iel, and Jōb, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter ; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord GOD ; ⁴How much more when ^sI send my four sore judgments upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast ?

22 ¶ ^tYet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters : behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ^uye shall see their way and their doings : and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they shall comfort you, when ye see their ways and their doings : and ye shall know that I have not done ^vwithout cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 15.

Jerusalem's rejection shewn by the unfit vine branch.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 Son of man, What is the ^avine tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest ?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work ? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon ?

4 Behold, ^bit is cast into the fire for fuel ; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. ¹Is it meet for any work ?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was ²meet for no work : how much less shall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned ?

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

7 And ^cI will set my face against them ; ^dthey shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them ; ^eand ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have ³committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; Thy ¹birth and thy nativity is of the land of Cā'nāan ; thy father was an Ām'ôr-ite, and thy mother an Hīt'tite.

4 And as for thy nativity, ^bin the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water ²to supple thee ; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee ; but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee ³polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live ; yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

7 I have ⁴caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to ⁵excellent ornaments : thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love ; ^cand I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness : yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and ^dthou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water ; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy ⁶blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I ^eput bracelets upon thy hands, ^fand a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy ⁷forehead, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver ; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work ; ^gthou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil : and thou wast exceeding ^hbeautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And ⁱthy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty : for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ ^jBut thou didst trust in thine own beauty, ^kand playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by ; his it was.

16 ^lAnd of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon : the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images ⁸of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them : and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 ^m My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for ⁹ a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord GOD.

20 ⁿ Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them ¹⁰ to be devoured. Is this of thy whoredoms a small matter, 21 That thou hast slain ^o my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy ^p youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord GOD;)

24 That thou hast also built unto thee an ¹¹ eminent place, ^q and hast made thee an high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place ^r at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with ^s the Ē-gÿp'tiānſ thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold, therefore I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the ¹² daughters of the Phī-lis'tīneſ, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 ^t Thou hast played the whore also with the Ā-sÿr'ī-anſ, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Cā'nāan ^u unto Chāl-dē'ā; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of ^v an imperious whorish woman;

31 ¹³ In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street; and hast not been as an harlot, in that thou scornest hire;

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband!

33 They give gifts to all whores: but ^w thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and ¹⁴ hirest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredom.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD:

36 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by ² the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them;

37 Behold, therefore ^v I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

38 And I will judge thee, as ¹⁵ women that break wedlock and ² shed blood are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.

39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: ^a they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take ¹⁶ thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 ^b They shall also bring up a company against thee, ^c and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall ^d burn thine houses with fire, and ^e execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to ^f cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.

42 So ^g will I make my fury toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because ^h thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; behold, therefore ⁱ I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hīt'tīte, and your father an Ām'ôr-īte.

46 And thine elder sister is Sā-mā'rī-ā, she and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and ¹⁷ thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Söd'om and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but, ¹⁸ as if that were a very little thing, ^j thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ^k Söd'om thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Söd'om, pride, ^l fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, ^m neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.

50 And they were haughty, and ⁿ committed abomination before me: therefore ^o I took them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath Sā-mā'rī-ā committed half of thy sins; but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and ^phast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Thou also, which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they : they are more righteous than thou : yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 ^aWhen I shall bring again their captivity, ^rthe captivity of Söd'om and her daughters, and the captivity of Sã-mã'rî-ã and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them :

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art ^aa comfort unto them.

55 When thy sisters, Söd'om and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Sã-mã'rî-ã and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

56 For thy sister Söd'om was not ¹⁹mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy ²⁰pride, 57 Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy ^treproach of the daughters of ²¹Sÿr'i-ã, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Phî-lîs'tîneš, which ²²despise thee round about.

58 Thou hast ²³borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD.

59 For thus saith the Lord GOD ; I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast ^udespised the oath in breaking the covenant.

60 ¶ Nevertheless I will ^vremember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee ^wan everlasting covenant.

61 Then ^xthou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy ^ysisters, thine elder and thy younger : and I will give them unto thee for ^zdaughters, ^abut not by thy covenant.

62 ^bAnd I will establish my covenant with thee ; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD :

63 That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, ^cand never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

¹ Parables of the eagles and vine. ¹¹ God's judgments on Jerusalem. ²² A promise of Christ's kingdom.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ²Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Iš'ra-el ;

³And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; A great eagle with great wings, longwinged, full of feathers, which had ¹divers colours, came unto Lëb'a-non, and ^atook the highest branch of the cedar :

⁴He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick ; he set it in a city of merchants.

⁵He took also of the seed of the land, and ²planted it in ^ba fruitful field ; he placed it by great waters, and set it ^cas a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him : so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers : and, behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good ³soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Shall it prosper ? ^dshall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither ? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper ? ^eshall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it ? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to ^fthe rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean ? tell them, Behold, ^gthe king of Bãb'ÿ-lon is come to Jë-ru'sã-lëm, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Bãb'ÿ-lon ;

13 ^hAnd hath taken of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, ⁱand hath ⁴taken an oath of him : he hath also taken the mighty of the land :

14 That the kingdom might be ^jbase, that it might not lift itself up, ⁵but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But ^khe rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into E'gÿpt, ^lthat they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper ? shall he escape that doeth such things ? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered ?

16 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in ^mthe place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Bãb'ÿ-lon he shall die.

17 ⁿNeither shall Phã'raõh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, ^oby casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons :

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had ^pgiven his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will ^qspread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Bãb'ÿ-lon, and ^rwill plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And ^sall his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also take of the highest ^tbranch of the high cedar, and will set it: I will crop off from the top of his young twigs ^ua tender one, and will ^vplant it upon an high mountain and eminent:

23 ^wIn the mountain of the height of ^ʾIs'ra-el will I plant it; and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

CHAPTER 18.

¹ God's reproof of the unjust proverb of sour grapes. ²⁵ He defends the equity of his dealings. ³¹ An exhortation to repentance.

THE word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of ^ʾIs'ra-el, saying, The ^afathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in ^ʾIs'ra-el.

4 Behold, ^ball souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: ^cthe soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do ¹that which is lawful and right,

6 ^dAnd hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of ^ʾIs'ra-el, neither hath ^edefiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to ^fa menstruous woman,

7 And hath not ^goppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his ^hpledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath ⁱgiven his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly; he ^{is} ^ljust, he shall surely ^mlive, saith the Lord GOD.

hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; his ⁴blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now, lo, ^{if} he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 ^{That} hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of ^ʾIs'ra-el, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, ⁵hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given ^rhis bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 ^{That} hath taken off his hand from the poor, ^{that} hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; ^she shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did ^{that} which is not good among his people, lo, even ^the shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? ^udoth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, ^{and} hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 The soul that sinneth, it shall die. ^vThe son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: ^wthe righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, ^xand the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But ^yif the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 ^zAll his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: ^ain his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.

23 ^bHave I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord GOD: ^{and} not that he should return from his ways, and live?

24 ¶ But ^cwhen the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, ^{and} doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked ^{man} doeth, shall he live? ^dAll his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet ye say, ^eThe way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of ^ʾIs'ra-el; Is not ^fmy way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 When a righteous ^{man} turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.

27 Again, ^gwhen the wicked ^{man} turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 Yet saith the house of Īṣ'ra-el, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Īṣ'ra-el, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 ^hTherefore I will judge you, O house of Īṣ'ra-el, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. ⁱRepent, and turn ^byourselfes from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

31 ¶ ^jCast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a ^knew heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Īṣ'ra-el?

32 For ^lI have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn ⁷yourselfes, and live ye.

CHAPTER 19.

¹ Lamentation for Israel's princes. ¹⁰ Also for Jerusalem.

MOREOVER ^atake thou up a lamentation for the princes of Īṣ'ra-el,

2 And say, What is thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps: ^bit became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey; it devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of ^cĒ'gŷpt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took ^danother of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 ^eAnd he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew ¹their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, by the noise of his roaring.

8 ^fThen the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.

9 ^gAnd they put him in ward ²in chains, and brought him to the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon: they brought him into holes, that his voice should no more be heard upon ^hthe mountains of Īṣ'ra-el.

10 ¶ Thy mother is ⁱlike a vine ³in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was ^jfruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her ^kstature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the ^least wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered; the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is ^mplanted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 ⁿAnd fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER 20.

¹ God refuses to be consulted by Israel's elders. ⁵ Rebellions of Israel. ³³ God's promise to gather the nation again.

AND it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that ^acertain of the elders of Īṣ'ra-el came to enquire of the LORD, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Are ye come to enquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ^bI will not be enquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou ¹judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? ^ccause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day when ^dI chose Īṣ'ra-el, and ²lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jā'cōb, and made myself ^eknown unto them in the land of Ē'gŷpt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, ^fI am the LORD your God;

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, ^gto bring them forth of the land of Ē'gŷpt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, ^hwhich is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man ⁱthe abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with ^jthe idols of Ē'gŷpt: I am the LORD your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Ē'gŷpt: then I said, I will pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Ē'gŷpt.

9 ^kBut I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Ē'gŷpt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I caused them to go forth out of the land of Ē'gŷpt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 ^lAnd I gave them my statutes, and ³shewed them my judgments, ^mwhich if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also I gave them my ⁿsabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Īṣ'ra-el rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they ^odespised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly polluted: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them.

14 But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also ^pI lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands ;

16 Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths : for ^a their heart went after their idols.

17 ^r Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols :

19 I am the LORD your God ; ^s walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them ;

20 ^t And hallow my sabbaths ; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithstanding ^u the children rebelled against me : they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them ; they polluted my sabbaths : then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 ^v Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that ^w I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries ;

24 Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and ^x their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore ^y I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live ;

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass ^z through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they ^a might know that I am the LORD.

27 ¶ Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Yet in this your fathers have ^b blasphemed me, in that they have ⁴ committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then ^c they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering : there also they made their ^d sweet savour, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then ⁵ I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go ? And the name thereof is called Bā'mah unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers ? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations ?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day : and ^e shall I be enquired of by you, O house of Īṣ'ra-el ? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that ^f which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

33 ¶ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and ^g with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you :

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there ^h will I plead with you face to face.

36 ⁱ Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of E'gypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.

37 And I will cause you to ^j pass under the rod, and I will bring you into ⁶ the bond of the covenant :

38 And ^k I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me : I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and ^l they shall not enter into the land of Īṣ'ra-el : and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

39 As for you, O house of Īṣ'ra-el, thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^m Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me : ⁿ but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For ^o in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Īṣ'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Īṣ'ra-el, all of them in the land, serve me : there ^p will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the ⁷ firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your ⁸ sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered ; and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 ^a And ye shall know that I am the LORD, ^r when I shall bring you into the land of Īṣ'ra-el, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And ^s there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled ; and ^t ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 ^u And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you ^v for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Īṣ'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD.

45 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

46 Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field ;

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD ; Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Behold, ^wI will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour ^xevery green tree in thee, and every dry tree : the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces ^yfrom the south to the north shall be burned therein.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it : it shall not be quenched.

49 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD ! they say of me, Doth he not speak parables ?

CHAPTER 21.

Ezekiel prophesies against Israel with a sign of sighing.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, 2 ^aSon of man, set thy face toward Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, and ^bdrop thy word toward the ^choly places, and prophesy against the land of Īṣ'ra-el,

3 And say to the land of Īṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the LORD ; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee ^dthe righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh ^efrom the south to the north :

5 That all flesh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath : it ^fshall not return any more.

6 ^gSigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins ; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou ? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings ; because it cometh : and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees ¹shall be weak as water : behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord GOD.

8 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD ; Say, ^hA sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished :

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter ; it is furbished that it may glitter : should we then make mirth ? ²it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that it may be handled : this sword is sharpened, and it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man : for it shall be upon my people, it shall be upon all the princes of Īṣ'ra-el : ³terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon my people : ⁱsmite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 ⁴Because it is ^ja trial, and what if the sword contemn even the rod ? it shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine ⁵hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain : it is the 17 I will also ^msmite mine hands together, and ⁿI will cause my fury to rest : I the LORD have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon may come : both twain shall come forth out of one land : and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to ^oRāb'bath of the Ām'mōn-ites, and to Jū'dah in Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm the defenced.

21 For the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon stood at the ⁹parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination : he made his ¹⁰arrows bright, he consulted with ¹¹images, he looked in the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jĕ-ru'sā-lĕm, to appoint ¹²captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to ^plift up the voice with shouting, ^qto appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, ¹³to them that ^rhave sworn oaths : but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear ; because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou, ^sprofane wicked prince of Īṣ'ra-el, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end,

26 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown : this shall not be the same : ^texalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 ¹⁴I will overturn, overturn, overturn, it : ^uand it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is ; and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the Ām'mōn-ites, and concerning their reproach ; even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn : for the slaughter it is furbished, to consume because of the glittering :

29 Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 ¹⁵Shall I cause it to return into his sheath ? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of ¹⁶brutish men, and skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAPTER 22.

¹ Sins of the Jews. ¹⁵ Their dispersion. ²³ Corruption of prophets, princes, priests, and people.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Now, thou son of man, wilt thou ¹judge, wilt thou judge the ²bloody city? yea, thou shalt ³shew her all her abominations.

3 Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh ^aidols against herself to defile herself.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast ^bshed; and hast defiled thyself in thine idols which thou hast made; and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years: ^ctherefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art ^dinfamous and much vexed.

6 Behold, ^dthe princes of Īṣ'ra-el, every one were in thee to their ^epower to shed blood.

7 In thee have they ^eset light by father and mother: in the midst of thee have they dealt by ^foppression with the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast ^fprofaned my sabbaths.

9 In thee are ^gmen that carry tales to shed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.

10 In thee have they ^gdiscovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was ^hset apart for pollution.

11 And ^hone hath committed abomination ⁱwith his neighbour's wife; and ⁱanother hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter.

12 In thee ^jhave they taken gifts to shed blood; ^kthou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and ^khast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD.

13 ¶ Behold, therefore I have ^msmitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 ⁿCan thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? ⁿO I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And ^oI will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will consume thy filthiness out of thee.

16 And thou ^oshalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and ^othou shalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, ^rthe house of Īṣ'ra-el is to me become dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the ¹¹dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye are all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jê-ru'sā-lēm.

20 ¹²As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 ^sThere is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey; they ^thave devoured souls; ^uthey have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 Her ^vpriests have ¹³violated my law, and have ^wprofaned mine holy things: they have put no ^xdifference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her ^yprinces in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

28 And ^zher prophets have daubed them with untempered morter, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.

29 ^aThe people of the land have used ¹⁴oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger ¹⁵wrongfully.

30 ^bAnd I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and ^cstand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 23.

¹ The whoredoms of Aholah and Aholibah. ³⁶ Reproof of their adulteries. ⁴⁵ Judgments upon them.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were ^atwo women, the daughters of one mother :

3 And ^bthey committed whoredoms in ^E'gypt; they committed whoredoms in their youth : there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were ^A-hō'lah the elder, and ^A-hōl'i-bah her sister : and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were their names ; ^{Sā}-mā'rī-ā is ¹^A-hō'lah, and ^{Jē}-ru'sā-lēm ²^A-hōl'i-bah.

5 And ^A-hō'lah played the harlot when she was mine ; and she doted on her lovers, on ^cthe ^Ās-sūr'i-anš her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she ³committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were ⁴the chosen men of ^Ās-sūr'i-ā, and with all on whom she doted : with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought from ^E'gypt : for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the ^d^Ās-sūr'i-anš, upon whom she doted.

10 These ^ediscovered her nakedness : they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword : and she became ⁵famous among women ; for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And when her sister ^A-hōl'i-bah saw this, ⁶she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms ⁷more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the ^f^Ās-sūr'i-anš her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms : for when she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, ^gthe images of the ^{Chāl}-dē'anš pourtrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the ^{Bāb}-y-lō'nī-anš of ^{Chāl}-dē'ā, the land of their nativity :

16 And ⁸as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into ^{Chāl}-dē'ā.

17 And the ⁹^{Bāb}-y-lō'nī-anš came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was ¹⁰alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness : then ^hmy mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of ^E'gypt.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, ⁱwhose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the ^E-gyp'tians for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O ^A-hōl'i-bah, thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^jBehold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side ;

23 The ^{Bāb}-y-lō'nī-anš, and all the ^{Chāl}-dē'anš, ^{Pē}kōd, and ^{Shō}'ā, and ^{Kō}'ā, and all the ^Ās-sūr'i-anš with them : all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee ^kwith chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about : and I will set judgment before them, and they shall ^ljudge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee : they shall take away thy nose and thine ears ; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword : they shall take thy sons and thy daughters ; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 ^mThey shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy ¹¹fair jewels.

27 Thus ⁿwill I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of ^E'gypt : so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember ^E'gypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord GOD ; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of ^othem whom thou hatest, into the hand of ^othem from whom thy mind is alienated :

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and ^pshall leave thee naked and bare : and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast ^qgone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister ; therefore will I give her ^rcup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large : ^sthou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision ; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister ^{Sā}-mā'rī-ā.

34 Thou shalt ^teven drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts : for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; Because thou ^uhast forgotten me, and ^vcast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me; Son of man, wilt thou ¹²judge Ā-hō'lah and Ā-hōl'i-bah? yea, ^wdeclare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and ^xblood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, ^ywhom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.

38 Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and ^zhave profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and, lo, ^athus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men ¹³to come from far, ^bunto whom a messenger was sent; and, lo, they came: for whom thou didst ^cwash thyself, ^dpaintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a ¹⁴stately bed, and a table prepared before it, ^ewhereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men ¹⁵of the common sort were brought ¹⁶*Sā-bē'anš* from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit ¹⁷whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Ā-hō'lah and unto Ā-hōl'i-bah, the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men, they shall ^fjudge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD; I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them ¹⁸to be removed and spoiled.

47 ^gAnd the company shall stone them with stones, and ¹⁹dispatch them with their swords; ^hthey shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, ⁱthat all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

even of this same day: the king of Bāb'ŷ-lon set himself against Jē-rū'sā-lēm this ^asame day.

3 ^bAnd utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^cSet on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it:

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and ¹burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.

6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to ^dthe bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no ^elot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; ^fshe poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; ^gI have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; ^hWoe to the bloody city! I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that ⁱthe filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied ²*herself* with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because ^jI have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, ^ktill I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 ^lI the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, ^mneither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears ³run down.

17 ⁴Forbear to cry, ⁿmake no mourning for the dead, ^obind the tire of thine head upon thee, and ^pput on thy shoes upon thy feet, and ^qcover not thy ⁵lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning: and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 ¶ And the people said unto me, ^rWilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Speak unto the house of Iṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, ^sI will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, ¹the desire of your eyes, and ⁶that which your soul pitieth; and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: "ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: "ye shall not mourn nor weep; but "ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 Thus ²Ē-zē'kī-ēl is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: "and when this cometh, ²ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and ⁷that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters,

26 That he that escapeth in that day shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 "In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: and thou shalt be a sign unto them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 25.

¹ God's vengeance on Ammon. ⁸ Moab, Seir, Edom and Philistia are to be subject to God's vengeance.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face ^aagainst the Ām'mōn-ites, and prophesy against them;

3 And say unto the Ām'mōn-ites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^bBecause thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Īṣ'ra-el, when it was desolate; and against the house of Jū'dah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the ¹men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: ^cthey shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make ^dRāb'bah a stable for camels, and the Ām'mōn-ites a couching place for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

6 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast clapped thine ²hands, and stamped with the ³feet, and rejoiced in ⁴heart with all thy despite against the land of Īṣ'ra-el;

7 Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a ⁵spoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because that ^eMō'ab and Sē'ir do say, Behold, the house of Jū'dah is like unto all the heathen;

9 Therefore, behold, I will open the ⁶side of Mō'ab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Bēth-jēsh'ī-mōth, Bā'al-mē'on, and Kīr-ī-a-thā'im,

CHAPTER 26.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, ^abecause that Tȳ'rus hath said against Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ^bAha, she is broken that was ^cthe gates of the people: she is ^dturned unto me: I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Tȳ'rus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Tȳ'rus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets ^ein the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD: and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword; ^fand they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will bring upon Tȳ'rus Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'-y-lon, ^ga king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall ^hmake a fort against thee, and ¹cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, ²as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy ³thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the water.

13 ⁱAnd I will cause the noise of ^jthy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon; thou shalt be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD to Tÿ'rus; Shall not the isles ^kshake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the ^lprinces of the sea shall ^mcome down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with ⁿtrembling; ^othey shall sit upon the ground, and ^pshall tremble at every moment, and ^qbe astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a ^rlamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited ^sof seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong ^tin the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down ^uwith them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I shall set ^vglory in the land of the living;

21 ^wI will make thee ^xa terror, and thou shalt be no more: ^ythough thou be sought for, ^zyet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

3 And say unto Tÿ'rus, ^bO thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art ^ca merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD; O Tÿ'rus, thou hast said, I am ¹of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the ²midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have ³made all thy ship boards of fir trees of ^dSē'nîr: they have taken cedars from Lēb'a-non to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bā'shān have they made thine oars; ⁴the company of the Āsh'ūr-ites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of ^ethe isles of Chīt'tim.

7 Fine linen with broidered work from Ē'gÿpt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail; ⁵blue and purple from the isles of ^fĒ-l'shah was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zī'don and Ār'vād were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tÿ'rus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of ^gGē'bal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy ⁶calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Pēr'shā and of Lūd and of ^hPhūt were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee; they set forth thy comeliness.

11 The men of Ār'vād with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gām'mā-dīmṣ were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about; they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 ⁱTār'shish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.

13 ^jJā'vān, Tu'bal, and Mē'shech, they were thy merchants: they traded ^kthe persons of men and vessels of brass in thy ^lmarket.

14 They of the house of ^lTō-gār'mah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.

15 The men of ^mDē'dan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present horns of ivory and ebony.

16 Sÿr'ī-ā was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of ⁸the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and ⁹agate.

17 Jū'dah, and the land of Iṣ'ra-el, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market ⁿwheat of Mīn'nith, and Pān'nāg, and honey, and oil, and ¹⁰balm.

18 Dā-mās'cus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of Hēl'bon, and white wool.

19 Dān also and Jā'vān ¹¹going to and fro occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were in thy market.

20 ^oDē'dan was thy merchant in ¹²precious clothes for chariots.

21 Ā-rā'bī-ā, and all the princes of ^pKē'dār, ¹³they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats : in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of ^aShē'bā and Rā'a-mah, they were thy merchants : they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 ^rHā'ran, and Cān'neh, and ^ēdēn, the merchants of ^sShē'bā, ^āssh'ūr, and Chīl'mād, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in ¹⁴all sorts of things, in blue ¹⁵clothes, and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.

25 ^tThe ships of Tār'shish did sing of thee in thy market : and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters : ^uthe east wind hath broken thee in the ¹⁶midst of the seas.

27 Thy ^vriches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, ¹⁷and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the ¹⁸midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin.

28 The ¹⁹suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And ^wall that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land ;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall ^xcast up dust upon their heads, they ^yshall wallow themselves in the ashes :

31 And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tȳ'rus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea ?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people ; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 ^zAll the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people ^ashall hiss at thee ; thou shalt be ²⁰a terror, and ²¹never shalt be any more.

of God, in the ¹midst of the seas ; ^byet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God :

3 Behold, ^cthou art wiser than Dān'iel ; there is no secret that they can hide from thee :

4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures :

5 ²By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up ^dbecause of thy riches :

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; Because thou hast ^eset thine heart as the heart of God ;

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, ^fthe terrible of the nations : and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God ? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that ³slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of ^gthe uncircumcised by the hand of strangers : for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tȳ'rus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^hThou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in ⁱE'dēn the garden of God ; every precious stone was thy covering, the ⁴sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the ⁵beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the ⁶emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold : the workmanship of ^jthy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed ^kcherub that covereth ; and I have set thee so : thou wast upon ^lthe holy mountain of God ; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned : therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God : and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness : I will cast thee to the ground, ^mI will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy ⁿsanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick ; therefore will I bring forth a ^ofire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.

19 All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be ^aa terror, and never shalt thou be any more.

20 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, set thy face ^oagainst Zi'don, and prophesy against it,

22 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^pBehold, I am against thee, O Zi'don; and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and ^qthey shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be ^rsanctified in her.

23 ^sFor I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more ^ta pricking brier unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them, that despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall have ^ugathered the house of Īṣ'ra-el from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jā'qob.

26 And they shall dwell ^vsafely therein, and shall ^wbuild houses, and ^xplant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that ^ydespise them round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

CHAPTER 29.

¹ Judgment of Pharaoh for treachery to Israel. ⁸ Egypt's desolation.

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt, and prophesy against him, and ^aagainst all Ē'gŷpt:

3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^bBehold, I am against thee, Phā'raōh king of Ē'gŷpt, the great ^cdragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, ^dwhich hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But ^eI will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee ^fthrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the ^gopen fields; ^hthou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: ⁱI have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Ē'gŷpt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a ^jstaff of reed to the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

7 ^kWhen they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.

9 And the land of Ē'gŷpt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: ⁱbecause he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold, therefore I am against thee, and against thy rivers, ^kand I will make the land of Ē'gŷpt ^lutterly waste and desolate, ^mfrom the tower of ⁿSŷ-ē'ne even unto the border of Ē-thī-ō'pī-ā.

11 ^oNo foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 ^pAnd I will make the land of Ē'gŷpt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be desolate forty years: and I will scatter the Ē-gŷp'tians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord GOD; At the ^qend of forty years will I gather the Ē-gŷp'tians from the people whither they were scattered:

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Ē'gŷpt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pāth'ros, into the land of their ^rhabitation; and they shall be there a ^sbase kingdom.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more ^tthe confidence of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, ^uNēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon caused his army to serve a great service against Tŷ'rus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, for Tŷ'rus, for the service that he had served against it:

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; "Howl ye, Woe worth the day!

3 For ^bthe day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon ^Ē'gýpt, and great ¹pain shall be in ^Ē-thī-ō'pī-á, when the slain shall fall in ^Ē'gýpt, and they shall ^ctake away her multitude, and ^dher foundations shall be broken down.

5 ^Ē-thī-ō'pī-á, and ²Lib'ý-á, and Lýd'í-á, and ^eall the mingled people, and Chüb, and the ³men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the LORD; They also that uphold ^Ē'gýpt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: ⁴from the tower of Sý-ē'ne shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

7 ^fAnd they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in ^Ē'gýpt, and when all her helpers shall be ⁵destroyed.

9 In that day ^gshall messengers go forth from me in ships to make the careless ^Ē-thī-ō'pī-anš afraid, and ^hgreat pain shall come upon them, as in the day of ^Ē'gýpt: for, lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; ⁱI will also make the multitude of ^Ē'gýpt to cease by the hand of Nēb-u-chād-rēz'zar king of Bāb'ý-lon.

11 He and his people with him, ^jthe terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against ^Ē'gýpt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers ⁶dry, and ^ksell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and ⁷all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also ^ldestroy the idols, and I will cause ^mtheir ⁸images to cease out of ⁹Nōph; ⁿand there shall be no more a prince of the land of ^Ē'gýpt: ^oand I will put a fear in the land of ^Ē'gýpt.

14 And I will make ^pPāth'ros desolate, and will set fire in ¹⁰Zō'an, and will execute judgments in ¹¹Nō.

15 And I will pour my fury upon ¹²Sin, the strength of ^Ē'gýpt; and I will cut off the multitude of Nō.

16 And I will set fire in ^Ē'gýpt: Sin shall have great pain, and Nō shall be rent asunder, and Nōph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of ¹³Ā'ven and of ¹⁴Pī-bē'seth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 ^rAt Tē-hāph'ne-hēš also the day shall be ¹⁵darkened, when I shall break there the yokes of ^Ē'gýpt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgments in ^Ē'gýpt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

21 Son of man, I have ^abroken the arm of Phā'raōh king of ^Ē'gýpt; and, lo, ^rit shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against Phā'raōh king of ^Ē'gýpt, and will ^sbreak his arms, the strong, and ^tthat which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 ^uAnd I will scatter the ^Ē-gýp'tians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Bāb'ý-lon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Phā'raōh's arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Bāb'ý-lon, and the arms of Phā'raōh shall fall down; and ^vthey shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Bāb'ý-lon, and he shall stretch it out ^wupon the land of ^Ē'gýpt.

26 And I will scatter the ^Ē-gýp'tians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 31.

3 Assyria's glory. 10 Her predicted fall through pride.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak unto Phā'raōh king of ^Ē'gýpt, and to his multitude; Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3 ¶ ^aBehold, the Ās-sýr'í-an was a cedar in Lēb'a-non ¹with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature; and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 The waters ²made him great, the deep ³set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her ⁴little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore ^bhis height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, ⁵when he shot forth.

6 All the ^cfowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the ^dgarden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the chesnut trees were not like his branches; nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 ^eI have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of $\bar{E}'d\bar{e}n$, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast lifted up thyself in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and \prime his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen; $\bar{6}$ he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, $\bar{9}$ the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: \bar{h} upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 \bar{i} Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees $\bar{7}$ stand up in their height, all that drink water: for \bar{j} they are all delivered unto death, \bar{k} to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused $\bar{l}\bar{e}b'a\text{-}non$ $\bar{8}$ to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to \bar{l} shake at the sound of his fall, when \bar{m} I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and \bar{n} all the trees of $\bar{E}'d\bar{e}n$, the choice and best of $\bar{l}\bar{e}b'a\text{-}non$, all that drink water, \bar{o} shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword; and they that were his arm, that \bar{p} dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 ¶ \bar{a} To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of $\bar{E}'d\bar{e}n$? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of $\bar{E}'d\bar{e}n$ unto the nether parts of the earth: \bar{r} thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword. $\bar{9}$ This is $\bar{p}h\bar{a}'ra\bar{o}h$ and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 32.

Lamentation for the fall of Egypt.

2 Son of man, \bar{a} take up a lamentation for $\bar{p}h\bar{a}'ra\bar{o}h$ king of $\bar{E}'g\bar{y}pt$, and say unto him, \bar{b} Thou art like a young lion of the nations, \bar{c} and thou art as a $\bar{1}$ whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and \bar{d} fouledst their rivers.

5 And I will lay thy flesh \bar{h} upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood $\bar{2}$ the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall $\bar{3}$ put thee out, \bar{i} I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the $\bar{4}$ bright lights of heaven will I make $\bar{5}$ dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.

9 I will also $\bar{6}$ vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people \bar{j} amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and \bar{k} they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ \bar{l} For thus saith the Lord GOD; The sword of the king of $\bar{B}\bar{a}b'\bar{y}\text{-}lon$ shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, \bar{m} the terrible of the nations, all of them: and \bar{n} they shall spoil the pomp of $\bar{E}'g\bar{y}pt$, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters; \bar{o} neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD.

15 When I shall make the land of $\bar{E}'g\bar{y}pt$ desolate, and the country shall be $\bar{7}$ desitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, \bar{p} then shall they know that I am the LORD.

16 This is the $\bar{9}$ lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for $\bar{E}'g\bar{y}pt$, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of $\bar{E}'g\bar{y}pt$, and \bar{r} cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 \bar{s} Whom dost thou pass in beauty? \bar{i} go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: $\bar{8}$ she is delivered to the sword: draw her and all her multitudes.

21 \bar{u} The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 Āssh'ur is there and all her company : his graves are about him : all of them slain, fallen by the sword :

23 ^vWhose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave : all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused ⁹terror in the land of the living.

24 There is ^w*Ē'lām* and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living ; yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a ¹⁰bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude : her graves are round about him : all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword : though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit : he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is ^x*Mē'shech*, Tū'bal, and all her multitude : her graves are round about him : all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 ^yAnd they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell ¹¹with their weapons of war : and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is ^z*Ē'dom*, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are ¹²laid by them that were slain by the sword : they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 ^aThere be the princes of the north, all of them, and all ^bthe Zī-dō'nī-anš, which are gone down with the slain ; with their terror they are ashamed of their might ; and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Phā'raōh shall see them, and shall be ^ccomforted over all his multitude, even Phā'raōh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

32 For I have caused my terror in the land of the living : and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Phā'raōh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people ;

4 Then ²whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning ; if the sword come, and take him away, ^chis blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning ; his blood shall be upon him. But he that taketh warning shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and ^dblow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned ; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity ; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 ¶ ^eSo thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Īš'ra-el ; therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, ^fO wicked man, thou shalt surely die ; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity ; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it ; if ^ghe do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity ; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Īš'ra-el ; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we ^hpine away in them, ⁱhow should we then live ?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ^jI have no pleasure in the death of the wicked ; but that the wicked turn from his way and live : turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways ; for ^kwhy will ye die, O house of Īš'ra-el ?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The ^lrighteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression : as for the wickedness of the wicked, ^mhe shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness ; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live ; ⁿif he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesses shall not be remembered ; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die ; if he turn from his sin, and do ^othat which is lawful and right ;

15 If the wicked ^prestore the pledge, ^qgive again that he had robbed, walk in ^rthe statutes of life, without committing iniquity ; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None ^rof his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him : he hath done that which is lawful and right ; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal : but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 ¶ Yet ye say, ^sThe way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Īṣ'ra-el, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year ^tof our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, ^uthat one that had escaped out of Jē-ruṣ'sā-lēm came unto me, saying, ^vThe city is smitten.

22 Now ^wthe hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, ^xthey that inhabit those ^ywastes of the land of Īṣ'ra-el speak, saying, ^zĀ'brā-hām was one, and he inherited the land: ^abut we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^bYe eat with the blood, and ^clift up your eyes toward your idols, and ^dshed blood: and shall ye possess the land?

26 Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land?

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field ^ewill I give to the beasts ^fto be devoured, and they that be in the forts and ^gin the caves shall die of the pestilence.

28 ^hFor I will lay the land ⁱmost desolate, and the ^jpomp of her strength shall cease; and ^kthe mountains of Īṣ'ra-el shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.

29 Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 ¶ Also, thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking ^lagainst thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and ^mspeak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD.

31 And ⁿthey come unto thee ^oas the people cometh, and ^pthey sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth ^qthey shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.

32 And, lo, thou art unto them as ^ra very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: ^sfor they hear thy words, but they do them not.

33 And when this cometh to pass, (lo, it will come,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAPTER 34.

1 Reproof of the shepherds of Israel. 7 God's care of his flock. 20 Christ's kingdom.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ¹2 Son of man, prophesy against the ^ashepherds of Īṣ'ra-el, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto the shepherds; ^bWoe be to the shepherds of Īṣ'ra-el that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

³3 ^cYe eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ^dye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

⁴4 ^eThe diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye ^fsought that which was lost; but with ^gforce and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

⁵5 And they were ^hscattered, ¹because there is no shepherd: ⁱand they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

⁶6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

⁷7 ¶ Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

⁸8 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock;

⁹9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

¹⁰10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against the shepherds; and ^jI will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

¹¹11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

¹²12 ²As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in ^kthe cloudy and dark day.

¹³13 And ^lI will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

¹⁴14 ^mI will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Īṣ'ra-el shall their fold be: ⁿthere shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el.

¹⁵15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD.

¹⁶16 ^oI will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick : but I will destroy the fat and the strong ; I will feed them with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^pBehold, I judge between ³cattle and cattle, between the rams and the ⁴he goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, ^qbut ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures ? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet ?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet ; and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them ; Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and between the lean cattle.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad ;

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey ; and I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will set up one ^rshepherd over them, and he shall feed them, ^s*even* my servant Dā'vid ; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And ^tI the LORD will be their God, and my servant Dā'vid ^ua prince among them ; I the LORD have spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and ^vwill cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land : and they ^wshall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about ^xmy hill ^ya blessing ; and I will ^zcause the shower to come down in his season ; there shall be ^ashowers of blessing.

27 And ^bthe tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have ^cbroken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that ^dserved themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more ^ebe a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the land devour them ; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a plant ^fof renown, and they shall be no more ^gconsumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they ^hknow that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Īṣ'ra-el, are my people, saith the Lord GOD.

31 And ye my ⁱflock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 Because thou hast had a ²perpetual hatred, and hast ³shed the blood of the children of Īṣ'ra-el by the ⁴force of the sword in the time of their calamity, ^bin the time that their iniquity had an end :

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee : ^csith thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Sē'ir ⁵most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men : in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers, shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 ^aI will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return : and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will even do ^faccording to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them ; and I will make myself ^gknown among them, when I have judged thee.

12 ^hAnd thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us ⁷to consume.

13 Thus with your mouth ye have ⁸boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me : I have heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; When ⁱthe whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.

15 ^jAs thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Īṣ'ra-el, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee : thou shalt be desolate, O mount Sē'ir, and all Ī-du-mē'ā, even all of it : and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 36.

¹ Israel is comforted. ²⁵ A new heart and spirit. ²⁷ Promised blessings.

ALSO, thou son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, and say, Ye mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, hear the word of the LORD :

2 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, ^a*even* the ancient high places are ours in possession :

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; ¹Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ²ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people :

4 Therefore, ye mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains, and to the hills, to the ³rivers, and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and ^bderision to the residue of the heathen that are round about;

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; ^cSurely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Ī-du-mē'ā, ^dwhich have appointed my land into their possession with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds, to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophecy therefore concerning the land of Īṣ'ra-ēl, and say unto the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have ^eborne the shame of the heathen:

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I have ^flifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Īṣ'ra-ēl, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Īṣ'ra-ēl; for they are at hand to come.

9 For, behold, I am for you, ^gand I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown:

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Īṣ'ra-ēl, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and ^hthe wastes shall be builded:

11 And ⁱI will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and bring fruit: and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: ^jand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Īṣ'ra-ēl; ^kand they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth ^lbereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because they say unto you, ^mThou land devourest up men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither ⁿbereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ^oNeither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord GOD.

16 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Īṣ'ra-ēl dwelt in their own land, ^pthey defiled it by their own way and by their doings: their way was before me as ^qthe uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them ^rfor the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their ^sidols wherewith they had polluted it:

19 And I ^tscattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: ^uaccording to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they ^tprofaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pity ^ufor mine holy name, which the house of Īṣ'ra-ēl had profaned among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Īṣ'ra-ēl, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Īṣ'ra-ēl, ^vbut for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be ^wsanctified in you before ^xtheir eyes.

24 For ^yI will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

26 A ^bnew heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my ^cspirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 ^dAnd ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; ^eand ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also ^fsave you from all your uncleanness: and ^gI will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.

30 ^hAnd I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then ⁱshall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and ^jshall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations.

32 ^kNot for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Īṣ'ra-ēl.

33 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities I ^lwill also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded.

34 ^mAnd the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of ⁿ*Ē'dēn*; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you shall ^oknow that I the LORD build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: ^pI the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^qI will yet for this be enquired of by the house of Īṣ'ra-ēl, to do it for them; I will increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the ⁷holy flock, as the flock of Jê-ru'sā-lēm in her solemn feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 37.

Resurrection of the dry bones types Israel's revived hope.

THE hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out ^ain the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And caused me to pass by them round about: and, behold, there were very many in the open ¹valley; and, lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, ^bthou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, ^cProphesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones; Behold, I will ^dcause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; ^eand ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the ²wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^fCome from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, ^gand the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Īṣ'ra-el: behold, they say, ^hOur bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, ⁱO my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and ^jbring you into the land of Īṣ'ra-el.

13 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, 14 And ^kshall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou son of man, ^ltake thee one stick, and write upon it, For Jū'dah, and for ^mthe children of Īṣ'ra-el his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Jō'seph, the stick of Ē'phrā-īm, and for all the house of Īṣ'ra-el his companions:

17 And join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, ⁿWilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

CHAPTER 38.

1 Prophecy against Gog. 14 God's judgment upon them.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, set thy face against ^aGōg, the land of Mā'gōg, ¹the chief prince of ^bMē'shech and Tu'bal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Gōg, the chief prince of Mē'shech and Tu'bal:

4 And ^eI will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, ^dall of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords :

5 Pēr'siā, Ē-thī-ō'pī-ā, and ²Līb'ŷ-ā with them ; all of them with shield and helmet :

6 ^eGō'mer, and all his bands ; the house of ^fTō-gär'mah of the north quarters, and all his bands : and many people with thee.

7 ^gBe thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou, and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

8 ¶ ^hAfter many days ⁱthou shalt be visited : in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, ^jand is gathered out of many people, against ^kthe mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, which have been always waste : but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall ^ldwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come ^mlike a storm, thou shalt be ⁿlike a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt ³think an evil thought :

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages ; I will ^ogo to them that are at rest, that dwell ⁴safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

12 ⁵To take a spoil, and to take a prey ; to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the ⁶midst of the land.

13 ^pShē'bā, and Dē'dan, and the merchants of Tār'shish, with all ^qthe young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil ? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey ? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil ?

14 ¶ Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say unto Gōg, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^rIn that day when my people of Īṣ'ra-el dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it ?

15 ^sAnd thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou, and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army :

16 And thou shalt come up against my people of Īṣ'ra-el, as a cloud to cover the land ; ^tit shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gōg, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time ⁷by my servants the prophets of Īṣ'ra-el, which prophesied in those days many years that I would bring thee against them ?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gōg shall come against the land of Īṣ'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up in my face.

21 And I will ^zcall for a sword against him throughout all "my mountains, saith the Lord GOD : ^bevery man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood ; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself ; and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 39.

1 Judgments on Gog. 8 Israel's victory. 23 Gathering of Israel.

THEREFORE, ^athou son of man, prophesy against Gōg, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; Behold, I am against thee, O Gōg, the chief prince of Mē'shech and Tu'bal :

2 And I will turn thee back, and ¹leave but the sixth part of thee, ²and will cause thee to come up from ³the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el :

3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, thou, and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee : ^bI will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every ⁴sort, and to the beasts of the field ⁵to be devoured.

5 Thou shalt fall upon ⁶the open field : for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

6 ^eAnd I will send a fire on Mā'gōg, and among them that dwell ⁷carelessly in ^athe isles : and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Īṣ'ra-el ; and I will not let them ^epollute my holy name any more : ^fand the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Īṣ'ra-el.

8 ¶ ^gBehold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord GOD ; this is the day ^hwhereof I have spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Īṣ'ra-el shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the ⁸handstaves, and the spears, and they shall ⁹burn them with fire seven years :

10 So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests ; for they shall burn the weapons with fire : ⁱand they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gōg a place there of graves in Īṣ'ra-el, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea: and it shall stop the ¹⁰noses of the passengers: and there shall they bury Gōg and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of ¹¹Hā'mon-gōg.

12 And seven months shall the house of Īṣ'ra-el be burying of them, ⁱthat they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them ¹²a renown the day that ^kI shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD.

14 And they shall sever out ¹³men of continual employment, passing through the land to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.

15 And the passengers that pass through the land, when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he ¹⁴set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hā'mon-gōg.

16 And also the name of the city shall be ¹⁵Hā-mō'-nah. Thus shall they cleanse the land.

17 ¶ And, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD; Speak ¹⁶unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, ⁱAssemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my ¹⁷sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Īṣ'ra-el, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 Ye ^mshall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of ¹⁸goats, of bullocks, all of them ⁿfatlings of Bā'shān.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 ^oThus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, ^pwith mighty men, and with all ¹⁹men of war, saith the Lord GOD.

21 ^qAnd I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and ^rmy hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the house of Īṣ'ra-el shall know that I am the LORD their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ And the heathen shall know that the house of Īṣ'ra-el went into captivity for their iniquity: because they trespassed against me, therefore ^shid I my face from them, and ^tgave them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.

24 ^uAccording to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; ^vNow will I bring again the captivity of Jā'cōb, and have mercy upon the ^wwhole house of Īṣ'ra-el, and will be jealous for my holy name;

26 ^xAfter that they have borne their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed

CHAPTER 40.

1 Time, manner, and end of Ezekiel's vision. 6 Gates of the temple. 39 Tables. 48 The porch.

IN the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that ^athe city was smitten, in the selfsame day ^bthe hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 ^cIn the visions of God brought he me into the land of Īṣ'ra-el, ^dand set me upon a very high mountain, ¹by which was as the frame of a city on the south.

3 And he brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was ^elike the appearance of brass, ^fwith a line of flax in his hand, ^gand a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, ^hSon of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither: ⁱdeclare all that thou seest to the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

5 And behold ^ja wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long by the cubit and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed.

6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate ²which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every ^klittle chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the little chambers were five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 ^lAnd the little chambers of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits; and the ³length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

12 The ⁴space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side: and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also ⁵posts of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the ^mcourt round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance unto the face of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.

16 And there were ⁶narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the ⁷arches: and windows were round about ⁸inward: and upon each post were palm trees.

17 Then brought he me into ⁿthe outward court, and, lo, there were ⁹chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: ^othirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court ¹⁰without, an hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court ¹¹that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the ¹²arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east; and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were ^pwindows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures;

29 ¶ And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits ¹³broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the utter court; and ^rpalm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures;

36 The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the posts thereof were toward the utter court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

38 And the chambers and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they ^swashed the burnt offering.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and ^tthe sin offering and ^uthe trespass offering.

40 And at the side without, ¹⁴as one goeth up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were ¹⁵hooks, an hand broad, fastened round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of ^vthe singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, ^w the keepers of the ¹⁶ charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, ^a the keepers of the charge of the altar : these are the sons of ^y Zā'dōk among the sons of Lē'vī, which ^z come near to the LORD to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare ; and the altar that was before the house.

48 † And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side : and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 ^a The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits ; and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it : and there were ^b pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER 41.

Measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

AFTERWARD he brought me to the ^a temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the ¹ door was ten cubits ; and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side : and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits : and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits ; and the door, six cubits ; and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.

4 So ^b he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits ; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple : and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After he measured the wall of the house, six cubits ; and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side.

6 ^c And the side chambers were three, ² one over another, and ³ thirty in order ; and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side chambers round about, that they might ⁴ have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And ⁵ there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upward to the side chambers : for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house : therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about : ^d the foundations of the side chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chamber without, was five cubits : and that which was left was the place of the side chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north,

16 The door posts, and ^e the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door, ⁷ cieled with wood round about, ⁸ and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered ;

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by ⁹ measure.

18 And it was made ^f with cherubims and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a cherub and a cherub ; and every cherub had ^g two faces ;

19 ^h So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side : it was made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The ¹⁰ posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary ; the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 ⁱ The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits ; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood : and he said unto me, This is ^j the table that is ^k before the LORD.

23 ^l And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves ; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls ; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were ^m narrow windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAPTER 42.

1 The temple. 2 Priests' chambers. 13 Their uses.

THEN ^a he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north : and he brought me into ^b the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries ¹ were higher than these, ² than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

9 And ³ from under these chambers was ⁴ the entry on the east side, ⁵ as one goeth into them from the utter court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests ^c that approach unto the LORD ^d shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and ^e the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy.

14 ^f When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy; and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east ⁶ side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

CHAPTER 43.

1 Returning glory into the temple. 10 Exhortation to repentance. 13 Measures and ordinances of the altar.

AFTERWARD he brought me to the gate, even the gate ^a that looketh toward the east:

2 ^b And, behold, the glory of the God of Īṣ'ra-el came from the way of the east: and ^c his voice was like a noise of many waters: ^d and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was ^e according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw ¹ when I came ² to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw ³ by the river Chē'bār; and I fell upon my face.

4 ^h And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.

5 ⁱ So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and, behold, ^j the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house; and ^k the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, ^l the place of my throne, and ^m the place of the soles of my feet, ⁿ where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Īṣ'ra-el for ever, and my holy name, shall the house of Īṣ'ra-el ^o no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by ^p the carcasses of their kings in their high places.

8 ^q In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, ² and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, ^r shew the house to the house of Īṣ'ra-el, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the ³ pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, ^s shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house; Upon ^t the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar after the cubits : "The cubit is a cubit and an hand breadth ; even the ⁴bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the ⁵edge thereof round about shall be a span : and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit ; and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So ⁶the altar shall be four cubits ; and from ⁷the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof ; and the border about it shall be half a cubit ; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about ; and ^vhis stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD ; These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to ^wsprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to ^xthe priests the Lē'vītes that be of the seed of Zā'dōk, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, ^ya young bullock for a sin offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about : thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and he ^zshall burn it in the appointed place of the house, ^awithout the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin offering ; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, ^band the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD.

25 ^cSeven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering : they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they purge the altar and purify it ; and they shall ^dconsecrate themselves.

27 ^eAnd when these days are expired, it shall be, that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your ^fpeace offerings ; and I will ^gaccept you, saith the Lord GOD.

shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it ; because the LORD, the God of Īṣ'ra-el, hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for ^bthe prince ; the prince, he shall sit in it to ^ceat bread before the LORD ; ^dhe shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the house : and I looked, and, ^ebehold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD : ^fand I fell upon my face.

5 And the LORD said unto me, ^gSon of man, ¹mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof ; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the ^hrebellious, even to the house of Īṣ'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD ; O ye house of Īṣ'ra-el, ⁱlet it suffice you of all your abominations,

7 ^jIn that ye have brought into my sanctuary ²strangers, ^kuncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer ^lmy bread, ^mthe fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant because of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not ⁿkept the charge of mine holy things : but ye have set keepers of my ³charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^oNo stranger, uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

10 ^pAnd the Lē'vītes that are gone away far from me, when Īṣ'ra-el went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols ; they shall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, ^qhaving charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house : they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and ^rthey shall stand before them to minister unto them.

12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and ⁴caused the house of Īṣ'ra-el to fall into iniquity ; therefore have I ^slifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 ^tAnd they shall not come near unto me, to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my ⁵holy things, in the most holy place : but they shall ^ubear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them ^vkeepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ ^wBut the priests the Lē'vītes, ^xthe sons of Zā'dōk, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Īṣ'ra-el went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me, and they ^yshall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD :

16 They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to ^zmy table, to minister unto me, and they shall ^akeep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, ^bthey shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins; they shall not gird themselves ^cwith any thing that causeth sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, ^ethey shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments; and they shall not ^dsanctify the people with their garments.

20 Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long; they shall only poll their heads.

21 ^eNeither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is ^fput away: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of İsrā-el, or a widow ^gthat had a priest before.

23 And ^fthey shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And ^gin controversy they shall stand in judgment; and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my ^hlaws and my statutes in all mine assemblies; ⁱand they shall hallow my sabbaths.

25 And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves.

26 And ^jafter he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days.

27 And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, ^khe shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord GOD.

28 And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I ^lam their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in İsrā-el: I am their possession.

29 They ^mshall eat the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and ⁿevery dedicated thing in İsrā-el shall be theirs.

30 And the ^ofirst of all the firstfruits of all things, and every oblation of all, of every sort of your oblations, shall be the priest's: ye ^pshall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, ^qthat he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 The priests shall not eat of any thing that is ^rdead of itself, or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

unto the LORD, ²an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand. This shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary and the most holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land shall be for the ^cpriests the ministers of the sanctuary, which shall come near to minister unto the LORD: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary.

5 ^dAnd the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shall also the Lēvītes, the ministers of the house, have for themselves, for a possession for ^etwenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of İsrā-el.

7 ¶ ^fAnd a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward: and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in İsrā-el: and ^gmy princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of İsrā-el according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; ^hLet it suffice you, O princes of İsrā-el: ⁱremove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice, take away your ⁴exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD.

10 Ye shall have just ^jbalances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the ^kshekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah of an homer of barley:

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths; for ten baths are an homer:

15 And one ⁵lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of İsrā-el; for a 16 All the people of the land ⁷shall give this oblation ⁸for the prince in Īṣ'ra-el.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Īṣ'ra-el: he ^mshall prepare the sin offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the ⁹peace offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and ⁿcleanse the sanctuary:

19 ^oAnd the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month ^pfor every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.

21 ^qIn the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall ^rthe prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land ^sa bullock for a sin offering.

23 And ^tseven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; ^uand a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.

24 ^vAnd he shall prepare a meat offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the ^wfeast of the seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meat offering, and according to the oil.

offer unto the LORD in the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 ^fAnd the meat offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat offering for the lambs ¹as he shall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs according as his hand shall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land ⁹shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in; and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And in the feasts and in the solemnities the meat offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall prepare a voluntary ^hburnt offering or peace offerings voluntarily unto the LORD, ⁱone shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth ^{one} shall shut the gate.

13 ^jThou shalt daily prepare a burnt offering unto the LORD ^{of a lamb}²of the first year without blemish: thou shalt prepare it ³every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat offering continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons'; it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to ^kthe year of liberty; after it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons' for them.

18 Moreover ^lthe prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession; but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and, behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall ^mboil the trespass offering and the sin offering, where they shall ⁿbake the meat offering; that they bear them not out into the utter court, ^oto sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and, behold, ⁴in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts ⁵joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four ⁶corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall ^pboil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAPTER 47.

¹ Vision of holy waters. ⁶ The virtue of them. ²² Division of the land by lot.

AFTERWARD he brought me again unto the door of the house; and, behold, ^awaters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh eastward; and, behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when ^bthe man that had the line in his hand went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the ¹waters were to the ancles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, ²waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the ³bank of the river were very many ^ctrees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the ⁴desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the ^dwaters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the ⁵rivers shall come, ^eshall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come

17 And the border from the sea shall be ^oHā'zar-ē'nan, the border of Dā-mās'cus, and the north northward, and the border of Hā'math. And this is the north side.

18 And the east side ye shall measure ¹²from Hāu'ran, and from Dā-mās'cus, and from Gīl'e-ād, and from the land of Īṣ'ra-el by Jōr'dān, from the border unto the east sea. And this is the east side.

Hēth'lōn, as one goeth to Hā'math, Hā'zar-ē'nan, the border of Dā-mās'cus northward, to the coast of Hā'math; for these are his sides east and west; ¹a portion for Dān.

2 And by the border of Dān, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Āsh'ēr.

3 And by the border of Āsh'ēr, from the east side even unto the west side, a portion for Nāph'ta-lī.

4 And by the border of Nāph'ta-lī, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Mā-nās'seh.

5 And by the border of Mā-nās'seh, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Ē'phrā-īm.

6 And by the border of Ē'phrā-īm, from the east side even unto the west side, a portion for Reu'ben.

7 And by the border of Reu'ben, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Jū'dah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Jū'dah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be ^bthe offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.

11 ²It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zā'dōk; which have kept my ³charge, which went not astray when the children of Īs'ra-el went astray, as the ^cLē'vītes went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them ^da thing most holy by the border of the Lē'vītes.

13 And over against the border of the priests the Lē'vītes shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 ^dAnd they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the firstfruits of the land: for it is holy unto the LORD.

15 ¶ ^eAnd the five thousand, that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be ^fa profane place for the city, for dwelling, and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Time of Daniel. 3 He and other princes are selected by Ashpenaz. 17 Their wisdom.

IN the third year of the reign of Jê-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah ^acame Nêb-u-chăd-nêz'zar king of Băb'ÿ-lon unto Jê-rų'să-lēm, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jê-hoi'a-kim king of Jū'dah into his hand, with part ^bof the vessels of the house of God: which he carried ^cinto the land of Shī'năr to the house of his god; and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.

3 ¶ And the king spake unto Āsh'pē-naz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring ¹certain of the children of Īṣ'ra-el, and of the king's seed, and of the princes;

4 Children ^din whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and ^ewhom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chăl-dē'anş.

5 And the king appointed them a daily provision of the king's meat, and of ²the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.

6 Now among these were of the children of Jū'dah, Dăn'ÿel, Hăn-a-nī'ah, Mīsh'a-el, and Āz-a-rī'ah:

7 ^fUnto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: ^gfor he gave unto Dăn'ÿel the name of Bêl-te-shăz'zar; and to Hăn-a-nī'ah, of Shă'drach; and to Mīsh'a-el, of Mē'shach; and to Āz-a-rī'ah, of Ā-bêd'nê-gō.

8 ¶ But Dăn'ÿel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself ^hwith the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now ⁱGod had brought Dăn'ÿel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Dăn'ÿel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces ³worse liking than the children which are of your ⁴sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then said Dăn'ÿel to ⁵Mêl'zar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Dăn'ÿel, Hăn-a-nī'ah, Mīsh'a-el, and Āz-a-rī'ah, 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us ⁶pulse ⁷to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

16 Thus Mêl'zar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink; and gave them pulse.

17 ¶ As for these four children, ⁱGod gave them ^kknowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and ⁸Dăn'ÿel had understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nêb-u-chăd-nêz'zar.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Nebuchadnezzar forgets his dream. 14 It is revealed to Daniel. 36 His interpretation. 46 Daniel is advanced.

AND in the second year of the reign of Nêb-u-chăd-nêz'zar Nêb-u-chăd-nêz'zar dreamed dreams, ^awherewith his spirit was troubled, and ^bhis sleep brake from him.

2 ^cThen the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chăl-dē'anş, for to shew the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chăl-dē'anş to the king in Sÿr'-ÿ-ack, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chăl-dē'anş, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be ¹cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and ²rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would ³gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, ^dthere is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Chāl-dē'anṣ answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any magician, or astrologer, or Chāl-dē'an.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, ^eexcept the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the ^fking was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain; and they sought Dān'iel and his fellows to be slain.

14 ¶ Then Dān'iel ⁴answered with counsel and wisdom to Ā'rī-ōch the ⁵captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon:

15 He answered and said to Ā'rī-ōch the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then Ā'rī-ōch made the thing known to Dān'iel.

16 Then Dān'iel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Dān'iel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hān-ā-nī'ah, Mīsh'ā-el, and Āz-ā-rī'ah, his companions:

18 That they would desire mercies ⁶of the God of heaven concerning this secret; ⁷that Dān'iel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

19 ¶ Then was the secret revealed unto Dān'iel ⁹in a night vision. Then Dān'iel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Dān'iel answered and said, ^hBlessed be the name of God for ever and ever: ⁱfor wisdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth ^jthe times and the seasons: ^khe removeth kings, and setteth up kings: ^lhe giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding:

22 ^mHe revealeth the deep and secret things: ⁿhe knoweth what is in the darkness, and ^othe light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast ^pmade known unto me now what we desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Dān'iel went in unto Ā'rī-ōch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Ā'rī-ōch brought in Dān'iel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, ⁸I have found a man of the ⁹captives of Jū'dah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Dān'iel, whose name was Bēl-ṭe-shāz'zar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Dān'iel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the soothsayers, shew unto the king;

28 ^aBut there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, ¹⁰and maketh known to the king Nēb-uchād-nēz'zar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these;

29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts ¹¹came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.

30 ^rBut as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, ¹²but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 ¶ Thou, O king, ¹³sawest, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his ¹⁴thighs of brass, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out ¹⁵without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image ^sbecame a great mountain, ^tand filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 ^uThou, O king, art a king of kings: for ^vthe God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.

38 ^wAnd wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. Thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise ^xanother kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And ^ythe fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly ¹⁶broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave ¹⁷one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in ¹⁸the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, ²which shall never be destroyed: and the ¹⁹kingdom shall not be left to other people, ^abut it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

45 ^bForasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain ²⁰without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass ²¹hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ ^cThen the king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar fell upon his face, and worshipped Dān'jēl, and commanded that they should offer an oblation ^dand sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered unto Dān'jēl, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Dān'jēl a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Bāb'ŷ-lon, and ^echief of the governors over all the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

49 Then Dān'jēl requested of the king, ^fand he set Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, over the affairs of the province of Bāb'ŷ-lon: but Dān'jēl ^gsat in the gate of the king.

NĒB-U-CHĀD-NĒZ'ZAR the king made ^aan image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Du'ra, in the province of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

2 Then Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king had set up.

3 Then the ^bprinces, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar had set up.

4 Then an herald cried ¹aloud, To you ²it is commanded, ^cO people, nations, and languages, golden image that Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king hath set up:

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshipping shall the same hour ^dbe cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Chāl-dē'anṣ ^ecame near, ^fand accused the Jewṣ.

9 They spake and said to the king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar, ^gO king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshipping, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 ^hThere are certain Jewṣ whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Bāb'ŷ-lon, Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō; these men, O king, ⁴have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō. ⁱThen they brought these men before the king.

14 Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar spake and said unto them, Is it ⁵true, O Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, do not ye serve my ^jgods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made; ^kwell: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; ^land who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, answered and said to the king, O Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar, ^mwe are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and ⁿhe will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, ^obe it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar ⁶full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he commanded the ⁷most mighty men that were in his army to bind Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their ⁸coats, their hosen, and their ⁹hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king's ¹⁰commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the ¹¹flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō.

23 And these three men, Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, fell down ^pbound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto ¹²his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, ^qwalking in the midst of the fire, and ¹³they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like ^rthe Son of God.

26 ¶ Then Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar came near to the ¹⁴mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake, and said, Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, ^supon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that ^ttrusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 ^uTherefore ¹⁵I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak ¹⁶any thing amiss against the God of Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, shall be ¹⁷cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: ^vbecause there is no other God that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the king ¹⁸promoted Shā'drach, Mē'shach, and Ā-bēd'-nē-gō, in the province of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

4 ¶ I Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace:

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, ^eand the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head ^ftroubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 ^gThen came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chāl-dē'anŷ, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 ¶ But at the last Dān'iel came in before me, ^hwhose name was Bēl-tē-shāz'zar, according to the name of my god, ⁱand in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and before him I told the dream, saying,

9 O Bēl-tē-shāz'zar, ^jmaster of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed; ²I saw, and behold ^ka tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth:

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: ^lthe beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, ^ma watcher and ⁿan holy one came down from heaven;

14 He cried ³aloud, and said thus, ^oHew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: ^plet the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches:

15 Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth:

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven ^qtimes pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent ^rthat the living may know ^sthat the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar have seen. Now thou, O Bēl-tē-shāz'zar, declare the interpretation thereof, ^tforasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able; for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Dān'iel, whose name was Bēl-tē-shāz'- zar, was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spake, and said, Běl-tē-shāz'zar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Běl-tē-shāz'zar answered and said, My lord, "the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth ;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all ; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation :

22 "It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong : for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, "and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it ; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field ; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, "and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him ;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord "the king :

25 That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee ^z to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, "till thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and ^b giveth it to whomsoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots ; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the ^e heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and ^d break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor ; "if it may be ⁴ a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked ⁵ in the palace of the kingdom of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

30 The king ^f spake, and said, Is not this great Bāb'ŷ-lon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty ?

31 "While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar, to thee it is spoken ; The kingdom is departed from thee.

32 And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field : they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

CHAPTER 5.

1 Impious feast of Belshazzar. 5 A handwriting on the wall. 25 Daniel's interpretation. 30 Belshazzar is slain and the Medes take possession of the monarchy.

BĒL-SHĀZ'ZAR the king ^a made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Běl-shāz'zar, whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which his ¹ father Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar had ² taken out of the temple which was in Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might ^b drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; and the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them.

4 They drank wine, ^c and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 ¶ ^d In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace : and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's ³ countenance ⁴ was changed, and his ^e thoughts troubled him, so that the ⁵ joints of his loins were loosed, and his ^f knees smote one against another.

7 The king cried ⁶ aloud to bring in ^g the astrologers, the Chāl-dē'anṣ, and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Bāb'ŷ-lon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with ⁷ scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, ^h and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the king's wise men : ⁱ but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Bēl-shāz'zar greatly troubled, and his ⁸countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.

10 ¶ Now the queen by reason of the words of the king and his lords came into the banquet house: and the queen spake and said, ⁹O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed:

11 There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy ⁹father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar thy ¹⁰father, the king, I say, thy father, made ¹⁰master of the magicians, astrologers, Chāl-dē'anṣ, and soothsayers;

12 ¹¹Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, ¹¹interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and ¹²dissolving of ¹³doubts, were found in the same Dān'iel, whom the king named Bēl-ṭe-shāz'zar: now let Dān'iel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.

13 Then was Dān'iel brought in before the king. And the king spake and said unto Dān'iel, Art thou that Dān'iel, which art of the children of the captivity of Jū'dah, whom the king my ¹⁴father brought out of Jew'rý?

14 I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing:

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst ¹⁵make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Dān'iel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy ¹⁶rewards to another; yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, ¹⁷the most high God gave Nēb-u-chād-nēz'zar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour:

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, ¹⁸all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew; and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up; and whom he would he put down.

20 ¹⁹But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened ¹⁷in pride, he was ¹⁸deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:

21 And he was ²⁰driven from the sons of men; and ¹⁹his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; ¹⁹till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his son, O Bēl-shāz'zar, ²¹hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this;

23 ²²But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, ²³which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, ²⁴and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, MĒ'NĒ, MĒ'NĒ, TĒ'KEL, U-PHĀR'SIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MĒ'NĒ; God hath ²⁵numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

27 TĒ'KEL; ²⁶Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PĒ'REṢ; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the ²⁷Mēdeṣ and ²⁸Pēr'ṣianṣ.

29 Then commanded Bēl-shāz'zar, and they clothed Dān'iel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ ²⁹In that night was Bēl-shāz'zar the king of the Chāl-dē'anṣ slain.

31 ³⁰And Dā-rī'us the Mē'dī-an took the kingdom, ³¹being ²¹about threescore and two years old.

CHAPTER 6.

1 Daniel is made chief of the presidents. 4 A conspiracy. 16 He is cast into the lions' den. 18 His deliverance.

IT pleased Dā-rī'us to set ^aover the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these three presidents; of whom ^bDān'iel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Then this Dān'iel was preferred above the presidents and princes, ^cbecause an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ ^dThen the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Dān'iel concerning the kingdom; but ^ethey could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Dān'iel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes ¹assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, ^fKing Dā-rī'us, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm ²decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Mēdeṣ and Pēr'ṣianṣ, which ³altereth not.

9 ^hWherefore king Dā-rī'us signed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Dăn'iel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and ⁱhis windows being open in his chamber ^jtoward Jē-ru'sā-lēm, he kneeled upon his knees ^kthree times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Dăn'iel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 ^lThen they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Mēdeṣ and Pēr'ṣianṣ, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Dăn'iel, ^mwhich is of the children of the captivity of Jū'dah, ⁿregardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, ^owas sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Dăn'iel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Mēdeṣ and Pēr'ṣianṣ is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Dăn'iel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Dăn'iel, ^pThy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.

17 ^qAnd a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; ^rand the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Dăn'iel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were ^sinstruments of musick brought before him: ^tand his sleep went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Dăn'iel: and the king spake and said to Dăn'iel, O Dăn'iel, servant of the living God, ^uis thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Dăn'iel unto the king, ^vO king, live for ever.

22 ^wMy God hath sent ^xhis angel, and hath ^yshut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Daniel's vision of four beasts and of God's kingdom. ¹⁵ The interpretation.

IN the first year of Běl-shāz'zar king of Bāb'ŷ-lon Dăn'iel ¹had a dream and ^avisions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the ²matters.

2 Dăn'iel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts ^bcame up from the sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was ^clike a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, ³and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 ^dAnd behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and ⁴it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also ^efour heads; and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; ^fand it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and, behold, ^gthere came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 ¶ ^hI beheld till the thrones were cast down, and ⁱthe Ancient of days did sit, ^jwhose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, ^kand his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: ^lthousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

11 I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: ^mI beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet ⁿtheir lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and, behold, ^oone like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 ^pAnd there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is ^qan everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Dăn'iel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of ^rmy ^sbody, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But ^tthe saints of the ^umost High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse ^vfrom all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet;

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 ^wUntil the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 ^xAnd the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 ^yAnd he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall ^zwear out the saints of the

CHAPTER 8.

1 Daniel's vision of the ram and he goat. 13 Days of sacrifice. 15 The vision interpreted.

I N the third year of the reign of king Běl-shāz'zar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Dăn'iel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision; and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was at ^aShū'shan in the palace, which is in the province ^bof Ē'lām; and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ū'lā-ī.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than ^cthe other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; ^dbut he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an he goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and ^etouched not the ground: and the goat had ^fthree notable horns between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he goat waxed very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and for it came up ^gfour notable ones toward the four winds of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, ^htoward the south, and toward the east, and toward the ⁱpleasant land.

10 ^jAnd it waxed great, even ^kto the host of heaven; and ^lit cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, ^mhe magnified himself even ⁿto the prince of the host, and ^oby him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And ^pan host was given him, against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground ; and it practised, and prospered.

13 ¶ Then I heard ^jone saint speaking, and another saint said unto ⁸that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression ⁹of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot ?

14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred ¹⁰days ; then shall the sanctuary be ¹¹cleansed.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, when I, even I Dän'iel, had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ū'la-ī, which called, and said, ^kGā'brī-el, make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood : and when he came, I was afraid, and ^l'fell upon my face : but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man : for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground : but he touched me, and ¹²set me upright.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation : for at the time appointed the end shall be.

20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns are the kings of Mē'dī-ā and Pēr'šā.

21 And the rough goat is the king of Grē'çia : and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king.

22 Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors ¹³are come to the full, a king ^mof fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but ⁿnot by his own power : and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the ¹⁴holy people.

25 And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand ; and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by ¹⁵peace shall destroy many : he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes ; but he shall be ^obroken without hand.

26 And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true : ^pwherefore shut thou up the vision ; for it shall be for many days.

27 And I Dän'iel fainted, and was sick certain days ; afterward I rose up, ^qand did the king's business ; and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

2 In the first year of his reign I Dän'iel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to ^bJēr-ē-mī'ah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

3 ¶ And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes :

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments ;

5 ^cWe have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments :

6 ^dNeither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, ^erighteousness ²belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day ; to the men of Jū'dah, and to the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and unto all Īš'ra-el, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 To ^fthe Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him ;

10 Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, ^gall Īš'ra-el have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice ; therefore the curse is ^hpoured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Mō'seš the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he ⁱhath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil : for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

13 As it is written in the law of Mō'seš, all this evil is come upon us : yet ³made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the LORD watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us : for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth : for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Ē'gÿpt with a mighty hand, and hast ⁴gotten thee renown, as at this day ; we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jē-ru'sā-lēm, thy holy mountain : because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jē-ru'sā-lēm and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.

18 O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city ⁵which is called by thy name : for we do not ⁶present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, for thine own sake, O my God : for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Īṣ'ra-el, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God ;

21 Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gā'brī-el, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly ⁷swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Dān'iel, I am now come forth ⁸to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the ⁹commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee; for thou art ¹⁰greatly beloved : therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 ¹¹Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, ¹²to finish the transgression, and ¹³to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and ¹⁴prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.

25 Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment ¹⁵to restore and to build Jē-ru'sā-lēm unto the Mēs-sī'ah the Prince shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks : the street ¹⁶shall be built again, and the ¹⁷wall, even ¹⁸in troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks ¹⁹shall Mēs-sī'ah be cut off, ²⁰but not for himself : and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary ; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war ²¹desolations are determined.

27 And he shall confirm ²²the covenant with many for one week : and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, ²³and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured ²⁴upon the desolate.

11 Or, this servant of my lord.

2 In those days I Dān'iel was mourning three ²full weeks.

3 I ate no ³pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is ⁴Hid'de-kel ;

5 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold ⁵a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Ū'phāz :

6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face ^aas the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Dān'iel alone saw the vision : for the men that were with me saw not the vision ; but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and ^bsaw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me : for my ⁶comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words : and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ^cground.

10 ¶ ^dAnd, behold, an hand touched me, which ⁷set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O Dān'iel, ⁸a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and ⁹stand upright : for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, ^eFear not, Dān'iel : for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the prince of the kingdom of Pēr'šjā withstood me one and twenty days : but, lo, ^fMī'chaël, ¹⁰one of the chief princes, came to help me ; and I remained there with the kings of Pēr'šjā.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days : for yet the vision is for many days.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, ^gI set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men ^htouched my lips : then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can ¹¹the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord ? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man greatly beloved, ⁱfear not : peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak ; for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee ? and now will I return to ^jfight with the prince of Pēr'siā : and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grē'ċiā shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth : and there is none that ¹²holdeth with me in these things, but Mī'chaël your prince.

ALSO I ^ain the first year of ^bDā-rī'us the Mēde, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Pēr'siā ; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all : and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grē'ċiā.

3 And ^ca mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and ^ddo according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, ^ehis kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven ; and not to his posterity, ^fnor according to his dominion which he ruled : for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside those.

5 ¶ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes ; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion ; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they ¹shall join themselves together ; for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make ²an agreement : but she shall not retain the power of the arm ; neither shall he stand, nor his arm : but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and ³he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up ⁴in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail :

8 And shall also carry captives into Ē'ġypt their gods, with their princes, and with ⁵their precious vessels of silver and of gold ; and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sons ⁶shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces : and one shall certainly come, ⁹and overflow, and pass through : ⁷then shall he return, and be stirred up, even to his fortress.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north : and he shall set forth a great multitude ; but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come ⁸after certain years with a great army and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south : also ⁹the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision ; but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, ⁱand cast up a mount, and take ¹⁰the most fenced cities : and the ^jarms of the south shall not withstand, neither ¹¹his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and ^knone shall stand before him : and he shall stand in the ¹²glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also ^lset his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and ¹³upright ones with him ; thus shall he do : and he shall give him the daughter of women, ¹⁴corrupting her : but she shall not stand on his side, ^mneither be for him.

21 And ²⁰in his estate ^oshall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom : but he shall come in peaceably, and ^pobtain the kingdom by flatteries.

22 And with the arms of a flood shall ^qthey be overflowed from before him, and shall be broken ; ^ryea, also the prince of the covenant.

23 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully : for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter ²¹peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province ; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers ; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches : yea, and he shall ²²forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And ²³he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army ; and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army ; but he shall not stand : for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that ^sfeed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow : and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' ²⁴ hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall ^t speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great riches; and his heart shall be against the holy covenant; and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the ²⁵ time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south; but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 ¶ ²⁶ For the ships of Chit^tim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, ^v and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that ²⁷ maketh desolate.

32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he ²⁸ corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do ^w know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.

33 ^z And they that understand among the people shall instruct many: ^y yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall, to try ²⁹ them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.

36 And the king shall do according to his will; and he shall ^z exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done.

37 Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women, ^a nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 ³⁰ But ³¹ in his estate shall he honour the God of ³² forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and ³³ pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the ³⁴ most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for ³⁵ gain.

40 And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him: and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships; and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.

41 He shall enter also into the ³⁶ glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, even E[']dom, and Mō[']ab, and the chief of the children of Ām[']mōn.

CHAPTER 12.

¹ Michael, the great prince, to deliver the Israelites. ⁵ Daniel's information of the times.

AND at that time shall Mī[']chael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: ^a and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people ^b shall be delivered, every one that shall be found ^c written in the book.

2 And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, ^d some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3 And they that be ¹ wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness ^e as the stars for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Dān[']iel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.

5 ¶ Then I Dān[']iel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the ² bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

6 And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was ³ upon the waters of the river, ^f How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever ^g that it shall be for a time, times, and ⁴ an half; ^h and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Dān[']iel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 ⁱ Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but ^j the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and ⁵ the abomination that ⁶ maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

13 But go thou thy way till the end be: ⁷ for thou shalt rest, ^k and stand ^l in thy lot at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

CHAPTER 1.

THE ^aword of the LORD that came unto Hō-ṣē'ā, the son of Bē-ē'rī, in the days of Ūz-zī'ah, Jō'tham, Ā'hāz, and Hēz-ē-kī'ah, kings of Jū'dah, and in the days of Jēr-q-bō'am the son of Jō'āsh, king of Īṣ'ra-el.

² The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hō-ṣē'ā. And the LORD said to Hō-ṣē'ā, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for ^b the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the LORD.

³ So he went and took Gō'mer the daughter of Dīb'la-īm; which conceived, and bare him a son.

⁴ And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jēz're-el; for yet a little while, and I will ¹avenge the blood of Jēz're-el upon the house of Jē'hū, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

⁵ And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Īṣ'ra-el in the valley of Jēz're-el.

⁶ ¶ And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name ²Lō-ru'ha-mah: for ³I will no more have mercy upon the house of Īṣ'ra-el; ⁴but I will utterly take them away.

⁷ But I will have mercy upon the house of Jū'dah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

⁸ ¶ Now when she had weaned Lō-ru'ha-mah, she conceived, and bare a son.

⁹ Then said God, Call his name ⁵Lō-ām'mī: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

¹⁰ ¶ Yet ^cthe number of the children of Īṣ'ra-el shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; and it shall come to pass, that ⁶in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are ^dthe sons of the living God.

¹¹ Then shall the children of Jū'dah and the children of Īṣ'ra-el be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jēz're-el.

⁴ And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the children of whoredoms.

⁵ For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she

⁸ For she did not know that I gave her corn, and ⁵wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, ⁶*which* they prepared for Bā'al.

⁹ Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will ⁷recover my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

¹⁰ And now will I discover her ⁸lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

¹¹ I ^jwill also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

¹² And I will ⁹destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and ^kI will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

¹⁴ ¶ Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and ⁿbring her into the wilderness, and speak ¹⁰comfortably unto her.

¹⁵ And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and ^othe valley of Ā'chôr for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Ē'gÿpt.

¹⁶ And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me ¹¹Īsh'ī; and shalt call me no more ¹²Bā'al-ī.

¹⁷ For ^pI will take away the names of Bā'al-īm out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

¹⁸ And in that day will I make a ^qcovenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and ^rI will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to ^slie down safely.

¹⁹ And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies.

²⁰ I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and ^tthou shalt know the LORD.

²¹ And it shall come to pass in that day, ^uI will hear, saith the LORD, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth ;

22 And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil ; and they shall hear Jēz'ra-el.

23 And ^vI will sow her unto me in the earth ; and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy ; and I ^wwill say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people ; and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAPTER 3.

The prophet symbolizes Israel's desolation before restoration.

THEN said the LORD unto me, Go yet, love a woman beloved of her friend, yet an adulteress, according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Īs'ra-el, who look to other gods, and love flagons ¹of wine.

2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an ²half homer of barley :

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt ^aabide for me many days ; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man : so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Īs'ra-el shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without ³an image, and without an ^bephod, and without teraphim :

5 Afterward shall the children of Īs'ra-el return, and ^cseek the LORD their God, and ^dDā'vid their king ; and shall fear the LORD and his goodness in the ^elatter days.

CHAPTER 4.

¹ God's judgments upon the people for sins. ¹⁵ Warning to Judah.

HEAR the word of the LORD, ye children of Īs'ra-el : for the LORD hath a ^acontroversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor ^bknowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and ¹blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore ^cshall the land mourn, and ^devery one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven ; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another : for thy people are as they ^ethat strive with the priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall ^fin the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will ²destroy thy mother.

6 ¶ ^gMy people are ³destroyed for lack of knowledge : because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me : seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 As they were increased, so they sinned against me : therefore will I change their glory into shame.

8 They eat up the sin of my people, and they ⁴set their heart on their iniquity.

9 And there shall be, like people, like priest : and I will ⁵punish them for their ways, and ⁶reward them their doings.

10 For ^hthey shall eat, and not have enough : they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase : because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.

11 Whoredom and wine and new wine ⁱtake away the heart.

12 ¶ My people ask counsel at their ^jstocks, and their staff declareth unto them : for ^kthe spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and elms, because the shadow thereof is good : ^ltherefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 ⁷I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery : for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots : therefore the people that doth not understand shall ⁸fall.

15 ¶ Though thou, Īs'ra-el, play the harlot, yet let not Jū'dah offend ; ^mand come not ye unto Gīl'gāl, neither go ye up to ⁹Bēth-ā'ven, ⁿnor swear, The LORD liveth.

16 For Īs'ra-el slideth back as a backsliding heifer : now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 Ē'phrā-īm is joined to idols : ^olet him alone.

18 Their drink ¹⁰is sour : they have committed whoredom continually : her ¹¹rulers with shame do love, Give ye.

19 The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER 5.

God's judgments against Israel for their manifold sins.

HEAR ye this, O priests ; and hearken, ye house of Īs'ra-el ; and give ye ear, O house of the king ; for judgment is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mīz'pah, and a net spread upon Tā'bôr.

2 And the revolters are profound to make slaughter, ¹though I have been a rebuker of them all.

3 ^aI know Ē'phrā-īm, and Īs'ra-el is not hid from me : for now, O Ē'phrā-īm, thou committest whoredom, and Īs'ra-el is defiled.

4 ²They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God : for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And the pride of Īs'ra-el doth testify to his face : therefore shall Īs'ra-el and Ē'phrā-īm fall in their iniquity ; Jū'dah also shall fall with them.

6 They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD ; but they shall not find him ; he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have dealt treacherously against the LORD : for they have begotten strange children : now shall ^ba month devour them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gīb'e-ah, and the trumpet in Rā'mah : cry aloud at ^cBēth-ā'ven, after thee, O Bēn'ja-min.

9 Ē'phrā-īm shall be desolate in the day of rebuke : among the tribes of Īs'ra-el have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Jū'dah were like them that ^dremove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ē'phrā-īm is oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after ^ethe commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ē'phrā-īm as a moth, and to the house of Jū'dah as ³rottenness.

13 When Ē'phrā-īm saw his sickness, and Jū'dah saw his wound, then went Ē'phrā-īm to the Ās-sūr'-ī-an, and sent ⁴to king Jā'reb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ē'phrā-īm as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Jū'dah: I, even I, will tear and go away; I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, ⁵till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early.

CHAPTER 6.

COME, and let us return unto the LORD: for ^ahe hath torn, and ^bhe will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 ^cThen shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he shall come unto us ^das the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 ¶ O Ē'phrā-īm, what shall I do unto thee? O Jū'dah, what shall I do unto thee? for your ¹goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them ^eby the prophets; I have slain them by ^fthe words of my mouth: ²and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired ^gmercy, and ^hnot sacrifice; and the ⁱknowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 But they ³like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 Gīl'e-ād is a city of them that work iniquity, and is ⁴polluted with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way ⁵by consent: for they commit ⁶lewdness.

10 I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Īṣ'ra-el: there is the whoredom of Ē'phrā-īm, Īṣ'ra-el is defiled.

11 Also, O Jū'dah, he hath set an harvest for thee, ⁷when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Reproof of sins. ¹¹ God's wrath against hypocrisy.

WHEN I would have healed Īṣ'ra-el, then the iniquity of Ē'phrā-īm was discovered, and the ¹wickedness of Sā-mā'rī-ā: for they commit falsehood; and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers ²spoileth without.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are ⁸here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

10 And the pride of Īṣ'ra-el testifieth to his face: and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ Ē'phrā-īm also is like a silly dove without heart: they call to Ē'ggypt, they go to Ās-sūr'-ī-ā.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chastise them, as ⁹their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them! for they have fled from me: ⁹destruction unto them! because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 ^hAnd they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I ¹⁰have bound and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most High: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the ⁱrage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Ē'ggypt.

CHAPTER 8.

Israel's destruction threatened for impiety and idolatry.

SET the trumpet to ¹thy mouth. He shall come ^aas an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law.

2 ^bĪṣ'ra-el shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Īṣ'ra-el hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 ^cThey have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Sā-mā'rī-ā, hath cast thee off ; mine anger is kindled against them : ^ahow long will it be ere they attain to innocency ?

6 For from Īṣ'ra-el was it also : the workman made it ; therefore it is not God : but the calf of Sā-mā'rī-ā shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind : it hath no ²stalk : the bud shall yield no meal : if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Īṣ'ra-el is swallowed up : now shall they be among the Ġēn'tileṣ as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For ^ethey are gone up to Ās-sŷr'ī-ā, a wild ass alone by himself : Ē'phrā-īm hath hired ³lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall ⁴sorrow ⁵a little for the burden of ^fthe king of princes.

11 Because Ē'phrā-īm hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him ^gthe great things of my law, but they were counted as ^ha strange thing.

13 ⁶They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it ; but the LORD accepteth them not ; now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins : they shall return to Ē'ġŷpt.

14 For Īṣ'ra-el hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples ; and Jū'dah hath multiplied fenced cities : but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAPTER 9.

The distress and captivity of Israel for their sins and idolatry.

REJOICE not, O Īṣ'ra-el, for joy, as other people : for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward ¹upon every cornfloor.

2 The floor and the ²winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in ^athe LORD'S land ; ^bbut Ē'phrā-īm shall return to Ē'ġŷpt, and ^cthey shall eat unclean things in Ās-sŷr'ī-ā.

4 They shall not offer wine offerings to the LORD, neither shall they be pleasing unto him : their sacrifices shall be unto them as ^dthe bread of mourners ; all that eat thereof shall be polluted : for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will ye do in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD ?

6 For, lo, they are gone because of ³destruction : Ē'ġŷpt shall gather them up, Mēm'phis shall bury them : ⁴the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them : thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come ; Īṣ'ra-el shall know it : the prophet is a fool, the ⁵spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ē'phrā-īm was with my God : but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred ⁶in the house of his God.

11 As for Ē'phrā-īm, their glory shall fly away like a bird, from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there shall not be a man left : yea, woe also to them when I ^hdepart from them !

13 Ē'phrā-īm, as I saw Tŷ'rus, is planted in a pleasant place : but Ē'phrā-īm shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 ⁱGive them, O LORD : what wilt thou give ? give them a ⁷miscarrying womb and dry breasts.

15 All their wickedness is in Ġil'gāl : for there I hated them : for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more : all their princes are revoltors.

16 Ē'phrā-īm is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit : yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even ⁸the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will ^jcast them away, because they did not hearken unto him : and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER 10.

Reproof of Israel and a threat.

ĪṢ'RA-EL is ¹an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself : according to the multitude of his fruit he hath increased the altars ; according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly ²images.

2 ³Their heart is divided ; now shall they be found faulty : he shall ⁴break down their altars, he shall spoil their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the LORD ; what then should a king do to us ?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant : thus judgment springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Sā-mā'rī-ā shall fear because of ^athe calves of Bēth-ā'ven : for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and ⁵the priests thereof that rejoiced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Ās-sŷr'ī-ā for a present to ^bking Jā'reb : Ē'phrā-īm shall receive shame, and Īṣ'ra-el shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Sā-mā'rī-ā, her king is cut off as the foam upon ⁶the water.

8 The high places also of Ā'ven, ^cthe sin of Īṣ'ra-el, shall be destroyed : the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars ; and they ^dshall say to the mountains, Cover us ; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Īṣ'ra-el, thou hast sinned from the days of Ġīb'e-ah : there they stood : the battle in Ġīb'e-ah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 ^e It is in my desire that I should chastise them; and the people shall be gathered against them, ⁷ when they shall bind themselves in their two furrows.

11 And E'phrā-īm is as an heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn; but I passed over upon ⁸ her fair neck: I will make E'phrā-īm to ride; Jū'dah shall plow, and Jā'cōb shall break his clods.

12 ^f Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 ^g Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shāl'man spoiled ^h Bēth-ār'bel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Bēth'-el do unto you because of ⁹ your great wickedness: in a morning shall the king of Īš'ra-el utterly be cut off.

CHAPTER 11.

The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefits.

WHEN Īš'ra-el was a child, then I loved him, and ^a called my ^b son out of E'g'gypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: ^c they sacrificed unto Bā'al-īm, and burned incense to graven images.

3 ^d I taught E'phrā-īm also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that ^e I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that ¹ take off the yoke on their jaws, and ^f I laid meat unto them.

5 ¶ He shall not return into the land of E'g'gypt, but the Ās-s'yr'i-an shall be his king, because ^g they refused to return.²

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they called them to the most High, ³ none at all would exalt him.

8 ^h How shall I give thee up, E'phrā-īm? how shall I deliver thee, Īš'ra-el? how shall I make thee as ⁱ Ād'mah? how shall I set thee as Ze-bō'im? ^j mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy E'phrā-īm: ^k for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of E'g'gypt, and as a dove out of the land of Ās-s'yr'i-ā: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

10 I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, ⁷ by the ministry of the prophets.

11 Is there iniquity in Ĝil'e-ād? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in ^a Ĝil'gāl; yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 And Jā'cōb fled into the country of S'yr'i-ā, and Īš'ra-el served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

13 And by a prophet the LORD brought Īš'ra-el out of E'g'gypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.

12 ¶ Therefore also now, saith the LORD, ⁱturn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:

13 And ^krend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is ^lgracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.

14 ^mWho knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave ⁿa blessing behind him; even a meat offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?

15 ¶ Blow the trumpet in Zi'ōn, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly:

16 Gather the people, ^osanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, ^pgather the children, and those that suck the breasts: ^qlet the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

17 Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep ^rbetween the porch and the altar, and let them say, ^sSpare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should ⁵rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 ¶ Then will the LORD ^tbe jealous for his land, ^uand pity his people.

19 Yea, the LORD will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you ^vcorn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

20 But ^wI will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, with his face ^xtoward the east sea, and his hinder part toward the utmost sea, and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because ⁶he hath done great things.

21 ¶ ^yFear not, O land; be glad and rejoice: for the LORD will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for ^zthe pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their strength.

23 Be glad then, ye children of Zi'ōn, and ^arejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you ⁷the former rain ⁸moderately, and he ^bwill cause to come down for you ^cthe rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.

24 And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil.

25 And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you.

26 And ye shall ^deat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.

27 And ye shall know that I am in ^ethe midst of Iſ'ra-^lel, and that ^fI am the LORD your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.

28 ¶ ^gAnd it shall come to pass afterward, that I ^hwill pour out my spirit upon all flesh; ⁱand your sons and ^jyour daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions :

29 And also upon ^kthe servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.

30 And ^lI will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.

31 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.

32 And it shall come to pass, that ^mwhosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for ⁿin mount Zī'ōn and in Jē-ru'sā-lēm shall be deliverance, as the LORD hath said, and in ^othe remnant whom the LORD shall call.

CHAPTER 3.

HEAR this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Īš'ra-el, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Ē'gypt, saying,

2 You only have I known of all the families of the earth : ^atherefore I will ¹punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together, except they be agreed ?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey ? will a young lion ²cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing ?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is for him ? shall one take up a snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all ?

6 Shall a ^btrumpet be blown in the city, and the people ³not be afraid ? shall there be evil in a city, ⁴and the LORD hath not done it ?

7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but ^che revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8 The lion hath roared, who will not fear ? the Lord GOD hath spoken, ^dwho can but prophesy ?

9 ¶ Publish in the palaces at Āsh'dōd, and in the palaces in the land of Ē'gypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Sā-mā'rī-ā, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the ⁵oppressed in the midst thereof.

10 For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, who store up violence and ⁶robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD ; ^eAn adversary there shall be even round about the land ; and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the LORD ; As the shepherd ⁷ taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear ; so shall the children of Īṣ'ra-el be taken out that dwell in Sā-mā'rī-ā in the corner of a bed, and ⁸ in Dā-mās'cus in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jā'qob, saith the Lord GOD, the God of hosts, 14 That in the day that I shall ⁹ visit the transgressions of Īṣ'ra-el upon him I will also visit the altars of Bēth'-ēl : and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite the winter house with the summer house ; and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD.

3 And ye shall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her ; and ¹ ye shall cast them into the palace, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ ^a Come to Bēth'-el, and transgress ; at ^b Gīl'gāl multiply transgression ; and ^c bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes after ² three years :

5 And ³ offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish ^d the free offerings : for ⁴ this liketh you, O ye children of Īṣ'ra-el, saith the Lord God.

6 ¶ And I also have ^e given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places : ^f yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

7 And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest : and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city : one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water ; but they were not satisfied : yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

9 ⁹ I have smitten you with blasting and mildew : ⁵ when your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees increased, the palmerworm devoured them : yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence ⁶ after the manner of Ē'gŷpt : your young men have I slain with the sword, ⁷ and have taken away your horses ; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils : yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

HEAR ye this word which ^a I take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Īṣ'ra-el.

2 The virgin of Īṣ'ra-el is fallen ; she shall no more rise : she is forsaken upon her land ; there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord GOD ; The city that went out by a thousand shall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

4 ¶ For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Īṣ'ra-el, ^b Seek ye me, ^c and ye shall live :

5 But seek not ^d Bēth'-el, nor enter into Gīl'gāl, and pass not to ^e Bē'er-shē'bā : for Gīl'gāl shall surely go into captivity, and Bēth'-el shall come to nought.

6 Seek the LORD, and ye shall live ; lest he break out like fire in the house of Jō'seph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bēth'-el.

7 Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,

8 Seek him that maketh the ^f seven stars and Ō-rī'on, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night : that ^g calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth : ^h The LORD is his name :

9 That strengtheneth the ¹ spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.

10 ⁱ They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they ^j abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat : ^k ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them ; ye have planted ² pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins : they afflict the just, they take ³ a bribe, and they ^l turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time ; for it is an evil time.

14 ^m Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live : and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, ⁿ as ye have spoken.

15 ^o Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate : ^p it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Jō'seph.

16 Therefore the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus; Wailing shall be in all streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and ^qsuch as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for ^rI will pass through thee, saith the LORD.

18 ^sWoe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 ¶ ^tI hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not ⁴smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the ⁵peace offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgment ⁶run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 ^uHave ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Īš'ra-el?

26 But ye have borne ⁷the tabernacle of your Mō'lōch and Chi'ün your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Dā-mās'cus, saith the LORD, whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAPTER 6.

Desolation shall plague the wantonness of Israel.

WOE to them that ¹are at ease in Zī'ōn, and trust in the mountain of Sā-mā'rī-ā, which are named ²chief of the nations, to whom the house of Īš'ra-el came!

2 Pass ye unto ^aCāl'neh, and see; and from thence go ye to ^bHā'math the great: then go down to Gāth of the Phī-līs'tīneš: be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?

3 Ye that ^cput far away the evil day, and cause the ³seat of violence to come near;

4 That lie upon beds of ivory, and ⁴stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

5 That ⁵chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick like Dā'vid;

6 That drink ⁶wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the ⁷affliction of Jō'šeph.

7 ¶ Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed.

8 The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jā'qōb, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all ⁸that is therein.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Judgments diverted by Amos' prayer. ⁷ A sign of Israel's rejection. ¹⁰ Amaziah complains of Amos.

THUS hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me; and, behold, he formed ¹grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: ²by whom shall Jā'qōb arise? for he is small.

3 ^aThe LORD repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: by whom shall Jā'qōb arise? for he is small.

6 The LORD ^brepented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 ¶ Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand.

8 And the LORD said unto me, Ā'mos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, ^cI will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Īš'ra-el: ^dI will not again pass by them any more:

9 ^eAnd the high places of Ī'saac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Īš'ra-el shall be laid waste; and ^fI will rise against the house of Jēr-q-bō'am with the sword.

10 ¶ Then Ā-m-a-zī'ah ^gthe priest of Bēth'-el sent to ^hJēr-q-bō'am king of Īš'ra-el, saying, Ā'mos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Īš'ra-el: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus Ā'mos saith, Jēr-q-bō'am shall die by the sword, and Īṣ'ra-el shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Ām-a-zī'ah said unto Ā'mos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Jū'dah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there :

13 But ⁱprophesy not again any more at Bēth'-el : ^jfor it is the king's ^kchapel, and it is the ^lking's court.

14 ¶ Then answered Ā'mos, and said to Ām-a-zī'ah, I was no prophet, neither was I ^ka prophet's son ; ^lbut I was an herdman, and a gatherer of ^msycomore fruit :

15 And the LORD took me ⁿas I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Īṣ'ra-el.

16 ¶ Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD : Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Īṣ'ra-el, and ^odrop not thy word against the house of Īṣaac.

17 ^pTherefore thus saith the LORD ; ^qThy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line ; and thou shalt die in a polluted land : and Īṣ'ra-el shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

¹ A basket of summer fruit types the nearness of Israel's end. ¹¹ A famine of God's word threatened.

THUS hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me : and behold a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, Ā'mos, what seest thou ? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, ^aThe end is come upon my people of Īṣ'ra-el ; I will not again pass by them any more.

3 And the songs of the temple ^bshall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD : there shall be many dead bodies in every place ; they shall cast them forth ^cwith silence.

4 ¶ Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the ^dnew moon be gone, that we may sell corn ? and ^ethe sabbath, that we may ^fset forth wheat, ^gmaking the ephah small, and the shekel great, and ^hfalsifying the balances by deceit ?

6 That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes ; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat ?

7 The LORD hath sworn by ⁱthe excellency of Jā'cōb, Surely ^jI will never forget any of their works.

8 ^kShall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein ? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood ; and it shall be cast out and drowned, ^las by the flood of Ē'gŷpt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, ^mthat I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day :

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation ; and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head ; ⁿand I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

I SAW the Lord standing upon the altar : and he said, Smite the ¹lintel of the door, that the posts may shake : and ²cut them in the head, all of them ; and I will slay the last of them with the sword : he that fleeth of them shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.

4 And though they go into captivity before their enemies, ^dthence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them : and ^eI will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

OBADIAH.

THE vision of Ō-bā-dī'ah. Thus saith the Lord GOD ^aconcerning Ē'dom; We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts ^bof the rock, whose habitation is high; ^cthat saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 ^dThough thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

6 How are the things of Ē'sau searched out! how are his hidden things sought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: ²the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; ³*they that eat thy bread* have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding ⁴in him.

9 And thy ^emighty men, O Tē'man, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Ē'sau may be cut off by slaughter.

JONAH.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Jonah is sent to Nineveh. 3 His flight to Tarshish. 4 The tempest.

NOW the word of the LORD came unto ^aJō'nah the son of Ā-mīt'tā-ī, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nīn'ē-veh, that ^bgreat city, and cry against it; for ^ctheir wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jō'nah rose up to flee unto ^dTār'shish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to ^eJōp'pā; and he found a ship going to Tār'shish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tār'shish ^ffrom the presence of the LORD.

4 ¶ But the LORD ¹sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was ²like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jō'nah was gone down into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, ^gcall upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us ^hcast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jō'nah.

8 Then said they unto him, ⁱTell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us; What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am an Hē'brew; and I fear ³the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men ⁴exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.

11 ¶ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea ⁵may be calm unto us? for the sea ⁶wrought, and was tempestuous.

12 And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that ⁷for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men ⁷rowed hard to bring it to the land; ⁸but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and ⁹lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jō'nah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ⁸ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and ⁹offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

1 Jonah's prayer. 10 He is delivered from the fish.

THEN Jō'nah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly,

2 And said, I cried ¹by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me; out of the belly of ²hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 ^aFor thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the ³midst of the seas; and the floods compassed me about: all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 ^bThen I said, I am cast out of thy sight; yet I will look again ^ctoward thy holy temple.

5 The waters compassed me about, even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapped about my head.

6 I went down to the ⁴bottoms of the mountains; the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life from ⁵corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my soul fainted within me I remembered the LORD: ^dand my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Jonah sent again to Nineveh. 5 Repentance of the Ninevites.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jō'nah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nīn'ē-veh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jō'nah arose, and went unto Nīn'ē-veh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nīn'ē-veh was an ¹exceeding great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jō'nah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and ^ahe cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nīn'ē-veh shall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nīn'ē-veh ^bbelieved God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nīn'ē-veh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, ^cand sat in ashes.

7 ^dAnd he caused it to be proclaimed and ²published through Nīn'ē-veh by the decree of the king and his ³nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, ^elet them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 ¶ And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way; and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them; and he did it not.

CHAPTER 4.

Jonah, repining at God's mercy, is reprovèd.

BUT ^ait displeased Jō'nah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tār'shish: for I knew that thou art a ^bgracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 ^cTherefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then said the LORD, ¹Doest thou well to be angry?

7 But God preparèd a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that God prepared a ⁴vehement east wind; and ^dthe sun beat upon the head of Jō'nah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said to Jō'nah, ⁵Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, ⁶I do well to be angry, even unto death.

CHAPTER 1.

¹ Micah shews God's wrath against Jacob. ¹⁰ He exhorts to mourning.

THE ^aword of the LORD that came to ^bMī'cah the Mō'rās-thīte in the days of Jō'tham, Ā'hāz, and Hēz-ē-ki'ah, kings of Jū'dah, which he saw concerning Sā-mā'rī-à and Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

2 ¹Hear, all ye people; hearken, O earth, and ²all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.

3 For, behold, ^cthe LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.

4 And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down ³a steep place.

5 For the ^dtransgression of Jā'cōb is all this, and for the sins of the house of Īṣ'ra-el. What is the transgression of Jā'cōb? is it not Sā-mā'rī-à? and what are the high places of Jū'dah? are they not Jē-ru'sā-lēm?

2 And they covet fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they ¹oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, against ^dthis family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye go haughtily: for this time is evil.

4 ¶ In that day shall one take up a parable against you, and lament ²with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! ³turning away he hath divided our fields.

8 ¶ But truly I am full of power by the ^hspirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, ⁱto declare unto Jā'qob his transgression, and to Īs'ra-el his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jā'qob, and princes of the house of Īs'ra-el, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.

11 ^jThe heads thereof judge for reward, and ^kthe priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: ^lyet will they lean upon the LORD, ⁵and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zī'ōn for your sake be ^mplowed as a field, ⁿand Jē-ru'sā-lēm shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.

CHAPTER 4.

The triumph and glory of Zion.

BUT ^ain the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jā'qob; and he ^bwill teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zī'ōn, and the word of the LORD from Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

3 ¶ And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into ^cplowshares, and their spears into ¹pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, ^dneither shall they learn war any more.

4 ^eBut they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For ^fall people will walk every one in the name of his god, and ^gwe will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, ^hwill I assemble her that halteth, ⁱand I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD ^jshall reign over them in mount Zī'ōn from henceforth, even for ever.

8 ¶ And thou, O tower of ²the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zī'ōn, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zī'ōn, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Bāb'ŷ-lon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 ¶ Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look upon Zī'ōn.

12 But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor.

13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zī'ōn: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: ^kand I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

2 But thou, ^bBēth'-lē-hēm Ēph'rā-tah, though thou be little among the thousands of Jū'dah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ^cruler in Īṣ'ra-el; ^dwhose goings forth have been from of old, from ¹everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Īṣ'ra-el.

4 ¶ And he shall stand and ²feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God; and they shall abide: for now ^eshall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

7 And the remnant of Jā'qōb shall be in the midst of many people ⁱas a dew from the LORD, as the showers upon the grass, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.

8 ¶ And the remnant of Jā'qōb shall be among the Gēn'tileṣ in the midst of many people as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of ⁶sheep: who, if he go through,

God's controversy with his people for their sins.

HEAR ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou ¹before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 Hear ye, O mountains, ^athe LORD'S controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Īṣ'ra-el.

3 O my people, ^bwhat have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 For I brought thee up out of the land of Ē'gŷpt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Mō'ṣeṣ, Aâr'ōn, and Mīr'ī-am.

5 O my people, remember now what Bālāk ^cking of Mō'ab consulted, and what Bā'laam the son of Bē'or answered him from ^dShīt'tim unto Gīl'gāl; that ye may know the ^erighteousness of the LORD.

6 ¶ Wherewith ^fshall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves ²of a year old?

7 ^gWill the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? ^hshall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my ³body for the sin of my soul?

WOE is me! for I am as ¹when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grapegleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: ^amy soul desired the firstripe fruit.

2 The ²good man is perished out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; ^bthey hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 ¶ That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, ^cthe prince asketh, ^dand the judge asketh for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth ³his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.

4 The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh; now shall be their perplexity.

5 ¶ Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For ^ethe son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

2 For the LORD hath turned away ²the excellency of Jā'qob, as the excellency of Is'ra-el : for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

3 The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are ³in scarlet : the chariots shall be with ⁴flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir trees shall be terribly shaken.

4 The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall justle one against another in the broad ways : ⁵they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.

5 He shall recount his ⁶worthies : they shall stumble in their walk ; they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the ⁷defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be ⁸dissolved.

7 And ⁹Hūz'zāb shall be ¹⁰led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, tabering upon their breasts.

HABAKKUK.

CHAPTER 1.

THE burden which Hā-bāk'kūk the prophet did see.

2 O LORD, how long ^ashall I cry, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!

3 Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 ^bTherefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore ^cwrong judgment proceedeth.

5 ¶ Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.

The judgments upon the Chaldeans for their numerous sins.

I WILL ^astand upon my watch, and set me upon the ¹tower, and will watch to see what he will say ²unto me, and what I shall answer ³when I am reproved.

2 And the LORD answered me, and said, ^bWrite the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For ^cthe vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will surely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the ^djust shall live by his faith.

5 ¶ ^eYea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire ^eas hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:

7 Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?

8 Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee; because of men's ^gblood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

9 ¶ Woe to him that ^hcoveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the ⁸power of evil!

14 For the earth shall be filled ¹³with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.

15 ¶ Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that putteth thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness!

16 Thou art filled ¹⁴with shame for glory: drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of the LORD'S right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.

17 ⁹For the violence of Lēb'a-non shall cover thee, and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

18 ¶ What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it; the molten image, and a teacher of lies, that ¹⁵the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols?

19 Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake; to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the noise of a cry from ^e the fish gate, and an howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 ^f Howl, ye inhabitants of ⁸ Mäk'tesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jë-ru'sä-lëm with candles, and punish the men that are ⁹ settled on their lees: ^g that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but ^h not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but ⁱ not drink the wine thereof.

14 ^j The great day of the LORD is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 A day of ^k the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.

18 ^l Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD'S wrath; but the whole land shall be ^m devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

8 ¶ ^m I have heard the reproach of Mō'ab, and the revilings of the children of Ām'mōn, whereby they have reproached my people, and ⁿ magnified themselves against their border.

2 She ^a obeyed not the voice; she ^b received not ² correction; she trusted not in the LORD; she drew not near to her God.

3 Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.

5 The just LORD is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction; so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one consent.

10 From beyond the rivers of E-thi-ō-pi-ā my supplicants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

11 In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoice in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty because of my holy mountain.

HAGGAI.

CHAPTER 1.

1 Time of Haggai. 2 He reproves the people's indifference. 7 He urges them to build the house. 12 God's assistance promised.

IN the second year of Dā-rī'us the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Hāg'ga-ī the prophet unto Zē-rūb'ba-bēl the son of Shē-āl'tī-el, governor of Jū'dah, and to Jōsh'u-ā the son of Jōs'ē-dēch, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD'S house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Hāg'ga-ī the prophet, saying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways.

6 Ye have sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.

7 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways.

9 Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ Then Zē-rūb'ba-bēl the son of Shē-āl'tī-el, and Jōsh'u-ā the son of Jōs'ē-dēch, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Hāg'ga-ī the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him, and the people did fear before the LORD.

7 ¶ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sē'bāt, in the second year of Dā-rī'us, came the word of the LORD unto Zēch-a-rī'ah, the son of Bēr-ē-chī'ah, the son of Īd'dō the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold ^aa man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him were there ^bred horses, ^cspeckled, and white.

9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, ⁱThese are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 ^jAnd they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, ^kO LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jē-ru'sā-lēm and on the cities of Jū'dah, against which thou hast had indignation ^lthese threescore and ten years?

13 And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with ^mgood words and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; I am ⁿjealous for Jē-ru'sā-lēm and for Zī'ōn with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for ^oI was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; ^pI am returned to Jē-ru'sā-lēm with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and ^qa line shall be stretched forth upon Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; My cities through ^rprosperity shall yet be spread abroad; ^sand the LORD shall yet comfort Zī'ōn, and ^tshall yet choose Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

18 ¶ Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, ^uThese are the horns which have scattered Jū'dah, Īṣ'ra-el, and Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

20 And the LORD shewed me four carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Jū'dah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Ĝēn'tīleṣ, which ^vlifted up their horn over the land of Jū'dah to scatter it.

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her ^da wall of fire round about, ^eand will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have ^fspread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD.

7 Deliver thyself, O Zī'ōn, that dwellest with the daughter of Bāb'ŷ-lon.

8 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that ^gtoucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For, behold, I will shake mine hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10 ¶ Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zī'ōn: for, lo, I come, and I ^hwill dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD.

11 ⁱAnd many nations shall be joined to the LORD in that day, and shall be ^jmy people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and ^kthou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

CHAPTER 3.

AND he shewed me ^aJōsh'u-ā the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and ¹Sā'tan standing at his right hand ²to resist him.

2 ^bAnd the LORD said unto Sā'tan, ^cThe LORD rebuke thee, O Sā'tan; even the LORD that ^dhath chosen Jē-ru'sā-lēm rebuke thee: ^eis not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Jōsh'u-ā was clothed with ^ffilthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, ^gand I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair ^hmitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto Jōsh'u-ā, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my ³charge, then thou shalt also ⁱjudge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee ⁴places to walk among these that stand by.

8 Hear now, O Jōsh'u-ā the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee : for they are men ⁵wondered at : for, behold, I will bring forth ^jmy servant the ^kBRANCH.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Jōsh'u-à ; ^lupon one stone shall be ^mseven eyes : behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and ⁿI will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour ^ounder the vine and under the fig tree.

AND the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, ^aas a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou ? And I said, I have looked, and behold ^ba candlestick all of gold, ¹with a bowl upon the top of it, ^cand his seven lamps thereon, and ²seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof :

3 ^dAnd two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord ?

5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be ? And I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zē-rūb'ba-bēl, saying, Not by ³might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Who art thou, ^eO great mountain ? before Zē-rūb'ba-bēl thou shalt become a plain : and he shall bring forth ^fthe headstone thereof ^gwith shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 The hands of Zē-rūb'ba-bēl have laid the foundation of this house ; his hands ^hshall also finish it ; and ⁱthou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10 For who hath despised the day of ^jsmall things ? ⁴for they shall rejoice, and shall see the ⁵plummet in the hand of Zē-rūb'ba-bēl with those seven ; ^kthey are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶ Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof ?

12 And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches which ⁶through the two golden pipes ⁷empty ⁸the golden oil out of themselves ?

13 And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be ? And I said, No, my lord.

14 Then said he, These are the two ⁹anointed ones, that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the ^acurse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth : for ¹every one that stealeth shall be cut off as on this side according to it ; and every one that sweareth shall be cut off as on that side according to it.

5 ¶ Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it ? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And, behold, there was lifted up a ²talent of lead : and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah ; and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings ; for they had wings like the wings of a stork : and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah ?

11 And he said unto me, To ^dbuild it an house in the land of Shī'nār : and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

CHAPTER 6.

¹ Vision of the four chariots. ⁹ Joshua's crowns. ¹² The Branch and the temple.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains ; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were ^ared horses ; and in the second chariot black horses ;

3 And in the third chariot ^bwhite horses ; and in the fourth chariot grised and ¹bay horses.

4 Then I answered ^cand said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord ?

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, ^dThese are the four ²spirits of the heavens, which go forth from ^estanding before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth into ^fthe north country ; and the white go forth after them ; and the grised go forth toward the south country.

7 And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might ^gwalk to and fro through the earth : and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted my ^hspirit in the north country.

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Hēl'dā-ī, of Tō-bī'jah, and of Jē-dā'jah, which are ⁱcome from Bāb'ŷ-lon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Jō-sī'ah the son of Zēph-ā-nī'ah ;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make ^jcrowns, and set them upon the head of Jōsh'u-ā the son of Jōs'e-dēch, the high priest ;

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold ^kthe man whose name is The 'BRANCH ; and he shall ^lgrow up out of his place, ^mand he shall build the temple of the LORD :

13 Even he shall build the temple of the LORD ; and he ⁿshall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne ; and ^ohe shall be a priest upon his throne : and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.

14 And the crowns shall be to Hē'lem, and to Tō-bī'jah, and to Jē-dā'jah, and to Hēn the son of Zēph-ā-nī'ah, ^pfor a memorial in the temple of the LORD.

15 And ^qthey that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 7.

AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Dā-rī'us, that the word of the LORD came unto Zēch-ā-rī'ah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chīs'leū ;

2 When they had sent unto the house of God Shē-rē'zer and Rē'gem-mē'lech, and their men, ¹to pray before the LORD,

3 And to ^aspeak unto the priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years ?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, ^beven those seventy years, did ye at all fast ^cunto me, even to me ?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, ²did not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves ?

7 ³Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried ⁴by the former prophets, when Jē-ru'sā-lēm was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited ^dthe south and the plain ?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Zēch-ā-rī'ah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, ⁵Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother :

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his spirit ⁸by the former prophets : therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear ; so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts :

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned : for they laid the ⁹pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER 8.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; ^aI was jealous for Zī'ōn with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD ; I am returned unto Zī'ōn, and will dwell in the midst of Jē-ru'sā-lēm : and Jē-ru'sā-lēm ^bshall be called a city of truth ; and ^cthe mountain of the LORD of hosts ^dthe holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; ^eThere shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and every man with his staff in his hand ¹for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; If it be ²marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, ³should it also be marvellous in mine eyes ? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from ³the west country ;

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jē-ru'sā-lēm : ^aand they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts ; ^bLet your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of ⁱthe prophets, which were in ^jthe day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before these days ⁴there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast ; neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction : for I set all men every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 For the seed shall be ⁵prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to ⁶possess all these things.

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were ¹a curse among the heathen, O house of Jū'dah, and house of Īs'ra-el; so will I save you, and ²ye shall be a blessing: ³fear not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; ¹As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, ²and I repented not:

15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jē-ru'sā-lēm and to the house of Jū'dah: fear ye not.

16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do; ¹Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; ²execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates:

17 ¹And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and love no false oath: for all these are things that I ²hate, saith the LORD.

18 ¶ And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,

19 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; ¹The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, ²and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Jū'dah ³joy and gladness, and cheerful ⁴feasts; therefore love the truth and peace.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities:

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go ¹speedily ²to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

2 For the ²idols have spoken vanity, and the di-

⁴ Out of him came forth the corner, out of him ^ethe nail, out of him the battle bow, out of him every oppressor together.

⁷ And they of Ē'phrā-īm shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine : yea, their children shall see it, and be glad ; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

⁸ I will ^fhiss for them, and gather them ; for I have redeemed them : and they shall increase as they have increased.

⁹ And I will sow them among the people : and they shall remember me in far countries ; and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

¹⁰ ^gI will bring them again also out of the land of Ē'gypt, and gather them out of Ās-sūr'ī-ā ; and I will bring them into the land of Gīl'e-ād and Lēb'a-non ; and ^hplace shall not be found for them.

¹² And I will strengthen them in the LORD ; and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

² Howl, fir tree ; for the cedar is fallen ; because the ¹mighty are spoiled : howl, O ye oaks of Bā'shān ; for ²the forest of the vintage is come down.

⁴ Thus saith the LORD my God ; Feed the flock of the slaughter ;

⁷ And I will feed the flock of slaughter, ⁴even you, ^eO poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves ; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called ⁵Bands ; and I fed the flock.

⁸ Three shepherds also I cut off ^ain one month ; and my soul ⁶loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

⁹ Then said I, I will not feed you : ^ethat that dieth, let it die ; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off ; and let the rest eat every one the flesh ⁷of another.

¹⁰ ¶ And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

¹¹ And it was broken in that day : and ⁸so the poor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the LORD.

¹² And I said unto them, ⁹If ye think good, give me my price ; and if not, forbear. So they ^fweighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.

¹³ And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the ^gpotter : a goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.

¹⁴ Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even ¹⁰Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Jū'dah and Īṣ'ra-el.

¹⁵ ¶ And the LORD said unto me, ^hTake unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

¹⁶ For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be ¹¹cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor ¹²feed that that standeth still : but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

¹⁷ ⁱWoe to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock ! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye : his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly ^jdarkened.

CHAPTER 12.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for Īṣ'ra-el, saith the LORD, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and ^aformeth the spirit of man within him.

² Behold, I will make Jē-ru'sā-lēm a cup of ¹trembling unto all the people round about, ²when they shall be in the siege both against Jū'dah and against Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

³ ¶ And in that day will I make Jē-ru'sā-lēm ^ba burdensome stone for all people : all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

⁴ In that day, saith the LORD, ^cI will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness : and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Jū'dah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governors of Jū'dah shall say in their heart, ³The inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the governors of Jū'dah like an hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf ; and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left : and Jē-ru'sā-lēm shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

7 The LORD also shall ^dsave the tents of Jū'dah first, that the glory of the house of Dā'vid and the glory of the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm do not magnify themselves against Jū'dah.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; and ^ehe that is ⁴feeble among them at that day shall be as Dā'vid ; and the house of Dā'vid shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jē-ru'sā-lēm.

10 ^fAnd I will pour upon the house of Dā'vid, and upon the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, the spirit of grace and of supplications : and they shall ^glook upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

11 In that day shall there be a great ^hmourning in Jē-ru'sā-lēm, ⁱas the mourning of Hā-dād-rīm'mon in the valley of Mē-gīd'don.

12 And the land shall mourn, ⁵every family apart ; the family of the house of Dā'vid apart, and their wives apart ; the family of the house of Nā'than apart, and their wives apart ;

13 The family of the house of Lē'vī apart, and their wives apart ; the family ⁶of Shīm'e-ī apart, and their wives apart ;

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

IN that day there shall be ^aa fountain opened to the house of Dā'vid and to the inhabitants of Jē-ru'sā-lēm for sin and for ¹uncleanness.

2 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will ^bcut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered : and also I will cause ^cthe prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his ^dfather and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live ; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD : and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision,

CHAPTER 14.

¹ Destruction of Jerusalem. ¹¹ Her reestablishment. ¹⁶ All nations to worship her King, the Lord of hosts.

BEHOLD, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For ^aI will gather all nations against Jē-ru'sā-lēm to battle ; and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished ; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day ^bupon the mount of Ōl'iveṣ, which is before Jē-ru'sā-lēm on the east, and the mount of Ōl'iveṣ shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, ^cand there shall be a very great valley ; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of ¹the mountains ; ²for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Ā'zāl : yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the ^dearthquake in the days of Ūz-zī'ah king of Jū'dah : ^eand the LORD my God shall come, and ^fall the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, ³that the light shall not be ⁴clear, nor ⁵dark :

7 But ⁶it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night : but it shall come to pass, that at ^gevening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living ^hwaters shall go out from Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; half of them toward the ⁱformer sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea : in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be ⁱking over all the earth : in that day shall there be ^jone LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be ⁸turned as a plain from Gē'bá to Rīm'mōn south of Jē-ru'sā-lēm : and it shall be lifted up, and ⁹inhabited in her place, from Bēn'ja-min's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, ^kand from the tower of Hā-nān'e-el unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be ^lno more utter destruction ; but Jē-ru'sā-lēm ¹⁰shall be safely inhabited.

12 ¶ And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that ^ma great tumult from the LORD shall be among them ; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And ¹¹Jū'dah also shall fight ¹²at Jē-ru'sā-lēm ; and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

CHAPTER 2.

¹ Malachi reproves the priests for their sins. ¹¹ The people are also reproved for idolatry, strange marriages, treachery, and impiety.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

² If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

³ Behold, I will ¹ corrupt your seed, and ² spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and ³ one shall take you away with it.

⁴ And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Lē'vī, saith the LORD of hosts.

⁵ My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him ^c for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

⁶ The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did ^d turn many away from iniquity.

⁷ For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: ^f for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

⁸ But ye are departed out of the way; ye have ^g caused many to ⁴ stumble at the law; ye have corrupted the covenant of Lē'vī, saith the LORD of hosts.

⁹ Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but ⁵ have been partial in the law.

¹⁰ ^h Have we not all one father? ⁱ hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

¹² The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, ⁷ the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jā'cqb, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

¹⁴ ¶ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

¹⁵ And ^k did not he make one? Yet had he the ⁸ residue of the spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek ⁹ a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal ¹⁰ treacherously against the wife of his youth.

CHAPTER 3.

¹ A messenger to prepare the way. ² The coming of the Lord. ¹³ Infidelity of the people. ¹⁶ Promise of blessing.

BEHOLD, ^a I will send my messenger, and he shall ^b prepare the way before me: ^c and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, ^d even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, ^e he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

² But who may abide the day of his coming? and ^f who shall stand when he appeareth? for ^g he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' sope:

³ And ^h he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Lē'vī, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may ⁱ offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

⁴ Then shall the offering of Jū'dah and Jē-ru'sā-lēm be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in ¹ former years.

⁵ ^j And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, ^k and against false swearers, and against those that ² oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

⁶ For I am the LORD, ^l I change not; ^m therefore ye sons of Jā'cqb are not consumed.

⁷ ¶ Even from the days of ⁿ your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. ^o Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye said, Wherein shall we return?

⁸ ¶ Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? ^p In tithes and offerings.

⁹ Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

¹⁰ ^q Bring ye all the tithes into ^r the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the ^s windows of heaven, and ³ pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

¹¹ And I will rebuke ^t the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not ⁴ destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

¹² And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye

13 ¶ Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 ^vYe have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept ⁵his ordinance, and that we have walked ⁶mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now ^wwe call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness ⁷are set up; yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶ Then they ^ythat feared the LORD ^zspake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.

17 And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my ⁸jewels; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.

18 Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

THE END OF THE OLD TESTAMENT.

THE PERIOD FROM THE CLOSE OF THE SACRED CANON

OF THE

OLD TESTAMENT UNTIL THE TIMES OF THE NEW TESTAMENT.

THE JEWS SUBJECT TO THE KINGS OF BABYLON.

Artaxerxes Longimanus, king of Persia, who in his twentieth year had commissioned Nehemiah to rebuild the walls of Jerusalem, being dead, was succeeded, after the short reigns of Xerxes II. and Sogdianus, by his son Darius Nothus (B. C. 423). In the eleventh year of this prince's reign died Eliashib the high priest, after having filled the sacred office for thirty-four or forty years, and was succeeded by his son Jehoiada, or Joiada, the father of that Manasseh whom Nehemiah forced to retire to Samaria on account of his attachment to his idolatrous wife. It is uncertain how long Nehemiah lived at Jerusalem after his important reformations, but after his death Judea seems to have been added to the prefecture of Syria and wholly subject to the governor of that province, under whom the high priest dictated and enforced such general laws of policy as he thought proper. Darius Nothus was succeeded on the Persian throne by Artaxerxes Mnemon (B. C. 405), in the thirty-fourth year of whose reign, Jeshua being appointed by Bagoses, the Persian governor of Syria, to supersede his brother Johanan, or Jonathan, who had succeeded his father Joiada in the high priesthood, was slain by him in the inner court of the temple. For this atrocious act the governor imposed a fine of fifty draclms on every lamb that should be offered in sacrifice, the total amount of which has been calculated at somewhat more than one thousand seven hundred pounds per annum.

The payment of this fine, however, continued only till the death of Artaxerxes Mnemon, which happened seven years after (B. C. 359); which having made a change in the governorship of Syria, he who succeeded Bagoses in that province no longer exacted it. But the Jews were not long allowed to enjoy a state of peace and prosperity in the reign of Ochus, who succeeded Artaxerxes; for in the eighth year of his reign, having subdued the greater part of Phœnicia, which with Lesser Asia and Syria had revolted on his accession to the throne, he marched into Judea, besieged and took Jericho and carried away a great number of captives, part of whom he sent into Egypt and settled the rest in Hyrcania, along the shores of the Caspian Sea. After an interval of ten years (B. C. 341) died Johanan the high priest, in the eighteenth year of Ochus, and the thirty-second of his pontificate, and was succeeded by his son Jaddua, who held it twenty years. About three years after this event the Persian monarch was poisoned by the eunuch Bagoas, who placed the late king's youngest son, Arsaces, or Arses, on the Persian throne; but being also poisoned by the same Bagoas about three years afterward, he was succeeded by the unfortunate Darius Codomannus. He had not long ascended the throne before the infamous Bagoas, finding he was not one who would answer his purpose, resolved to remove him by the same means he had used to destroy his two predecessors. But Darius, being apprised of his design, made him drink the poisonous draught he had prepared for him, and thereby became firmly settled in the kingdom without further difficulty.

JEWS UNDER ALEXANDER THE GREAT.

At this eventful period, Philip, king of Macedon, having been killed by Pausanias, his son, Alexander the Great, at the age of twenty, succeeded to his throne, and caused himself to be appointed general of the Grecian forces against the Persians. With an army consisting of only thirty thousand foot and five thousand horse, he crossed the Hellespont and passed into Asia (B. C. 334); and having within a few days after put to flight the immense army of Darius, about five times the number of his own, at the river Granicus, he speedily made himself master of all Asia Minor. The next year Darius advanced to meet him with an army of six hundred thousand men; but instead of waiting for his opponent on level ground, where he might have brought his numerous forces into action, he led his army into the narrow passes of Cilicia, near Issus, where he was utterly defeated by Alexander. The battle of Issus was followed by the reduction of all Syria and Phœnicia; and Alexander marched into Judea to punish the Jews for granting the Tyrians supplies of provisions and refusing them to him during the siege of Tyre. While he was rapidly advancing to the metropolis, the high priest Jaddua, as well as the great body of the people, by sacrifices, oblations and prayers, humbly besought God to avert the threatened danger. It being communicated to Jaddua in a dream that he should go and meet the conqueror in his pontifical robes at the head of all the priests in their proper habits, attended by a numerous body of the people dressed in white, he ordered the gates of the city to be thrown open, and marched in solemn procession to an eminence called Sapha, which commanded a prospect of the temple and of the whole city.

As soon as the king approached the venerable pontiff he was struck with profound awe at the spectacle, and hastening forward saluted him with a religious veneration. While all stood amazed at this behavior, Parmenio asked the reason of such unexpected homage; to which Alexander replied that it was not offered to the priest, but to his God in grateful acknowledgment for a vision with which he had been favored at Dio in Macedonia, in which this very person, and in this very habit, appeared to him, promising him the empire of Persia. Having kindly embraced Jaddua, he entered Jerusalem and offered up sacrifices to God in the temple, where the high priest having shown him the prophecies of Daniel which predicted the overthrow of the Persian empire by a Grecian king, he went thence with greater assurance of success, not doubting but he was the person meant in the prophecies. At his departure he granted the Jews, at the request of Jaddua, the free exercise of their religion and laws, and exemption from the payment of tribute every seventh year, in which, according to their law, they neither sowed nor reaped. Egypt having quickly submitted to the conqueror, he built Alexandria and settled there multitudes of Jews, whom he allowed the same privileges as his Macedonian subjects. Rejecting all the overtures of Darius, the following year he marched against him; and coming to a decisive battle at Arbela, he routed his immense army of about one million one hundred thousand men, and Darius, being forced to fly for his life, was soon after assassinated by the treachery of Bessus. Having thus, according to the prophecies of Daniel, completely subverted the Persian empire, he rapidly extended his conquests from the Euphrates to the Indus, and from the Caspian Sea to the Southern Ocean; and about six years afterward, in the thirty-second year of his age and the twelfth of his reign, he died at Babylon, either in consequence of excessive drinking or from having been poisoned (B. C. 323).

JEWS SUBJECT TO THE KINGS OF EGYPT.

After the death of Alexander and the murder of all his family, his empire was at length divided into four kingdoms, among his four remaining generals. Cassander had Macedonia and Greece; Lysimachus had Thrace, Bithynia, etc.; Seleucus Nicator had Syria, Armenia and other Eastern countries; and Ptolemy Lagus had Egypt, Libya, etc. In the first partition of the empire, Palestine, with Cœle-Syria and Phœnicia, had been given to Laomedon of Mitylene, one of Alexander's generals, and had also subsequently been confirmed to him; but having been deprived of the latter two by Ptolemy, the Jews, over whom Onias son of Jaddua was then high priest, refused to submit to this new master, from their religious sense of the oath of allegiance which they had taken. In consequence of this, Ptolemy marched into Judea, took Jerusalem and carried one hundred thousand of them captive to Egypt (B. C. 320); but there, considering their loyalty to their former conquerors, he used them so kindly, even promoting them to places of trust and power, that many followed them of their own accord. About six years afterward (B. C. 314) he was deprived of Judea, Cœle-Syria and Phœnicia by Antigonus; and having again made himself master of these provinces, he immediately afterward lost them by the defeat of Cilles, one of his generals (B. C. 312). They continued in the possession of Antigonus till his defeat and death at the battle of Ipsus by the confederated forces of Ptolemy, Cassander, Lysimachus and Seleucus (B. C. 301), after which they were assigned to Ptolemy along with Egypt, Libya and Arabia. Some time after the recovery of Judea by Ptolemy died Simon the Just, son of Onias, and high priest of the Jews, in the ninth year of his pontificate (B. C. 292), and was succeeded by his brother Eleazar. He was distinguished for his wisdom and virtues, and is said to have completed the sacred canon of the Old Testament.

Ptolemy Philadelphus having succeeded his father on the throne of Egypt (B. C. 284), the Jews found in him as generous a protector as they had experienced in Ptolemy Soter. During his reign was made the important translation of the Old Testament into Greek afterward called the Septuagint Version, which event has tended more to disseminate the knowledge and confirm the authenticity of the sacred Scriptures than any other which happened from the time of their completion to the commencement of the Christian era. Antiochus Theos, having succeeded his father Antiochus Soter, son of Seleucus, on the throne of Syria (B. C. 261), maintained a long and sanguinary war with Ptolemy Philadelphus, which they at last agreed to terminate by a treaty of marriage, in which it was stipulated that Antiochus was to divorce his wife Laodice, and marry Berenice, Ptolemy's daughter (B. C. 249). But on the death of Philadelphus, about two years afterward, Antiochus put away Berenice and recalled Laodice, who, fearing another change, caused him to be poisoned, cut off Berenice, her son and all her Egyptian attendants, and placed her own son Callinicus on the throne. Ptolemy Euergetes, who had succeeded his father on the throne of Egypt, and had hastened to the assistance of his sister Berenice with a large force, in revenge for her death slew Laodice and subdued all Syria and Cilicia; and returning to Egypt laden with spoil, he passed through Judea, and offered many sacrifices in the temple at Jerusalem as a grateful acknowledgment to the God of Israel for his late successes. Callinicus, two years afterward, in attempting to recover his dominions from Ptolemy, was overthrown in battle; but the latter, hearing that his brother, Antiochus, was preparing to join Seleucus against him, came to an agreement with him, and peace was concluded between them for ten years (B. C. 243).

The Jews at this time were subject to Ptolemy, and Judea was taxed at the annual tribute of twenty talents, the withholding of which by the avaricious pontiff Onias II., who had succeeded his uncle Manasseh, would have proved the ruin of his country had it not been for the wisdom and prudence of his nephew Joseph (B. C. 226). Seleucus, having been killed in Parthia, where he was a prisoner, by a fall from his horse, was succeeded by Seleucus Ceraunus (B. C. 225), who, two years afterward, being poisoned, was succeeded by his brother Antiochus the Great. Not long after died Euergetes king of Egypt, and his son Ptolemy Philopator ascended the throne (B. C. 221); and Antiochus, taking advantage of the accession of this profligate prince, seized upon Cœle-Syria, and after a truce returned and defeated the Egyptian forces (B. C. 218). In the spring of the following year Ptolemy marched against him with a powerful army, defeated his numerous forces at Raphia, and forced him to retreat to Antioch. On the retreat of Antiochus all the cities which had been taken by force opened their gates to the conqueror, to whom they sent presents and promised allegiance. Ptolemy, having thus regained these provinces, made a progress through them; and coming to Jerusalem, he offered a great number of victims and made some valuable presents to the temple. But having been hindered from entering the holy of holies by Simon the high priest, who had succeeded his father Onias II. in the high priesthood the year before, he departed to Egypt full of rage against the Jews; and having there deprived them of the privileges they enjoyed, he assembled multitudes of them together at Alexandria to be devoured by wild beasts, but the furious animals, instead of hurting the Jews, turned upon the heathen spectators and destroyed a great number of them. Ptolemy, that he might be left to the uninterrupted enjoyment of his pleasures, having made peace with Antiochus upon very easy terms, his subjects were discontented and broke out into rebellion; and some time afterward he died, worn out by intemperance and debauchery, and was succeeded by his infant son, Ptolemy Epiphanes (B. C. 204). Antiochus, thinking this a favorable opportunity, entered into a league with Philip, king of Macedon, to divide the dominions of the king of Egypt between them; and Antiochus having marched with an immense army into Cœle-Syria and Palestine, he speedily subdued those provinces. Soon afterward, however, the Egyptians took advantage of Antiochus being engaged in war with Attalus, king of Pergamus, and sent Scopas with an army into Palestine and Cœle-Syria, where he was so successful that he took several cities, reduced all Judea and put a garrison in Jerusalem (B. C. 199). But the following year Antiochus, having desisted from his war with Attalus by the interposition of the Romans, marched against Scopas, overthrew him near Paneas, shut him up in Sidon, where he forced him and his men to surrender, and soon rendered himself master of all Cœle-Syria and Palestine.

Among others, the Jews willingly submitted to him, and rendered him such essential services that he gave orders that their city should be repaired, and that those who had been dispersed should return and inhabit it, and among other important favors confirmed them in all the privileges which had been granted by Alexander the Great. After this, being intent on his war with the Romans, he married his daughter Cleopatra to Ptolemy Epiphanes, and gave in dowry with her the provinces of Cœle-Syria and Palestine, upon condition of the revenues being equally divided between the two kings. Having in vain endeavored to corrupt her to betray her husband's interests, he fitted out a fleet of one hundred large ships of war and two hundred other smaller vessels, and subdued most of the maritime places on the coast of Asia, Thrace and Greece. But not long afterward, Acilius, the Roman consul, routed the army of Antiochus at the straits of Thermopylæ and expelled him from Greece; Livius and Æmilius beat his fleets at sea, and Scipio finally obtained a decisive victory over him in Asia, near the city of Magnesia, at the foot of Mount Sipylus, stripped him of all his dominions on this side of Taurus, and condemned him to pay twelve thousand talents for defraying the expenses of the war (B. C. 188). Covered with shame and disgrace, he retired to Antioch; and afterward, being under great difficulties how to raise the money which he had stipulated to pay the Romans, he marched into his eastern provinces to collect tribute and amass what treasure he could; and attempting to rob the rich temple at Elymais, he was assaulted and slain by the inhabitants of the country (B. C. 187).

Antiochus was succeeded on the Syrian throne by his son Seleucus Philopater, who was remarkable for little else than raising of taxes to defray the tribute which the Romans had exacted from his father. Being informed by Simon, the governor of the temple at Jerusalem (in consequence of his having quarreled with Onias the high priest), that great treasures were deposited there, he sent his treasurer Heliodorus to seize them; but when on the point of entering the sacred temple, the Syrians were struck with such a panic that they fell to the ground half dead. Soon afterward, after an inglorious reign of eleven years, Seleucus was destroyed by the same wicked hand that was the instrument of his sacrilege (B. C. 176). Antiochus, the brother of Seleucus, while at Athens in his return from Rome, where he had been detained as a hostage, having heard of the death of his brother and the attempt of Heliodorus to usurp the throne, and finding that the usurper had a great party with him to support him in his pretensions, and that there was another party forming for Ptolemy Philometor, king of Egypt, and that both of them were agreed "not to give unto him the honor of the kingdom," as the prophet Daniel had foretold, applied to Eumenes, king of Pergamus, and Attalus, his brother, and "by flattering speeches" and great promises of friendship prevailed with them to help him against Heliodorus.

Having by their means suppressed the usurper, he was quietly placed on the throne, and without further opposition he peaceably obtained the kingdom, as had been predicted in the same prophecy. Upon his accession to the throne he took the name of Epiphanes or the Illustrious; but being in every respect "a vile person," as Daniel foretold of him, and as is fully borne out by the character given him by ancient historians, he was given the name of Epimanes, or the Madman. He was scarcely seated on the throne when, being pressed by the Romans to raise their heavy tribute, among other means he deposed the good and pious high priest Onias, and sold the pontificate to his brother Jason, stipulating that the sum of three hundred and sixty talents should be paid him yearly, and afterward he deposed Jason and sold it to his brother Menelaus for six hundred and sixty talents (B. C. 172).

Incensed that Lennæus and Eulæus, the curators of young Ptolemy, should have demanded for their master the provinces of Phœnicia, Cœle-Syria and Palestine, which had been assigned for the dowry of his mother, Cleopatra, but which it seems had never been delivered up, Antiochus, having repaired the fortifications of these countries, marched his army toward the frontiers of Egypt; and meeting the forces of Ptolemy between Mount Casius and Pelusium, they came to a battle, in which Antiochus obtained the victory (B. C. 171). In the next campaign he had still greater success, routed the Egyptians, took Pelusium, ascended as far as Memphis, and made himself master of all Egypt except Alexandria. Macron, the governor of Cyprus, revolted from Ptolemy, and delivered up that important island to Antiochus, and the effeminate monarch of Egypt, having done almost nothing for the defence of himself and subjects, fell into the hands of the conqueror. Both kings at this time frequently ate and conversed together at "one table;" but notwithstanding this appearance of peace and friendship, "their hearts" were really bent "to do mischief;" and they "spake lies" to one another, Antiochus pretending to take upon him the care of the kingdom for the interest of his nephew at the very time he was plotting his ruin, and Philometor pretending to confide in his uncle in all that he was doing, at the same time resolving to break with him at the first opportunity.

JUDEA UNDER THE KINGS OF SYRIA.

While Antiochus was in Egypt, a false report having been spread of his death, Jason marched with a thousand men to recover the high priesthood, surprised the city of Jerusalem, drove Menelaus into the castle, and cruelly put to the sword and all other kinds of death all those whom he considered his adversaries. Antiochus, being informed of these events, and supposing that the whole Jewish nation had revolted, hastened out of Egypt to quell the rebellion; and being told that the inhabitants of Jerusalem had made great rejoicings at the news of his death, he was so provoked that, having taken it by storm (B. C. 170), he slew forty thousand persons, sold as many more for slaves, plundered the temple of gold and furniture to the amount of eight hundred talents of gold, entered the holy of holies and sacrificed a sow upon the altar of burnt offerings, and caused the broth of it to be sprinkled all over the temple. He then returned to Antioch laden with the spoils both of Egypt and Judea, appointing one Philip, a Phrygian, a barbarous and cruel man, governor of Judea, Andronicus, as bad a man, governor of Samaria, and continuing Menelaus, the worst of all, in the high priesthood. The Alexandrians, finding that Philometor was entirely managed by his treacherous uncle, made Physcon, his brother, king in his stead (B. C. 169).

Antiochus, hearing of this, under pretext of restoring the deposed king, but in reality to subject the whole kingdom to himself, made a third expedition to Egypt; and having vanquished the Alexandrians in a sea-fight near Pelusium, he entered the country with a great army and marched directly toward Alexandria to lay siege to the place. But finding he should be obliged to raise the siege, and in hopes that the civil war between the brothers would quickly render the country an easy prey to him, he seemingly again restored the kingdom to Philometor, excepting only Pelusium, and returned to Antioch. Suspecting his designs, however, Philometor and Physcon agreed to reign jointly in peace, which so enraged Antiochus that he again invaded Egypt, ravaged and subdued it as far as Memphis, and advanced to besiege Alexandria. But Caius Popilius Lænas and other Roman ambassadors, arriving in Macedonian ships, charged him in the most peremptory manner to withdraw his forces from Egypt if he regarded the friendship of their state (B. C. 168). Mad with rage at this disappointment, while marching back through Palestine he detached from his army twenty thousand men, under the command of Apollonius, with orders to destroy Jerusalem, to put all the men to the sword, and to make slaves of the women and children. These orders were most rigorously put in execution on a Sabbath-day, when all the people were assembled at public worship, so that none escaped but such as could hide themselves in caves or reach the mountains by flight.

After having spoiled the city of all its riches, they set it on fire in several places, demolished the houses and pulled down the walls round about it, and then with the ruins they built a strong fortress on Aera, an eminence which overlooked and commanded the temple, whence the garrison might sally forth and murder such as dared to worship there. After the infuriated monarch had returned to Antioch, he issued a decree to oblige all people in his dominions to conform to the religion of the Greeks, and sent one Athenæus, a Grecian idolater, to initiate the Jews in the idolatrous rites and to punish with the utmost cruel deaths those who refused. On his arrival at Jerusalem, assisted by the apostate Jews, he caused all sacrifices to the God of Israel to cease, suppressed all the observances of the Jewish religion, polluted the temple itself and made it unfit for the worship of God, profaned their Sabbaths and festivals, forbade their children to be circumcised, burned every copy of the law which could be found, dedicated the temple to Jupiter Olympius, erected his statue on the altar of burnt-offerings, and put every one to death who was found to have acted contrary to what the king had decreed.

Mattathias, great-grandson of Asmonæus, from whom the family were called Asmonæans, retired with his five sons, John, Simon, Judas, Eleazar and Jonathan, from the persecution at Jerusalem to a town called Modin, his native place, in the tribe of Dan. Apelles, however, one of the king's officers, came to the place of their retreat in order to enforce the execution of the king's commands; and having called the people together, he addressed himself to Mattathias to persuade him to embrace idolatry, promising him great favor and riches. This the good priest not only scornfully rejected, but slew the first Jew who dared to approach the idolatrous altar, and then, turning upon the king's commissioner, he despatched him and all his attendants, with the assistance of his sons and those that were with him; and putting himself at the head of his family and as many Jews as he could collect, he broke down the idols and altars of the heathens and retired into the mountains. Here being joined by numbers who were strict adherents to the law of their God, and especially by those termed Asideans, and having thus gotten together such a company as made the appearance of a small army, he came out of his fastnesses and took the field, and marching round the cities of Judah pulled down the heathen altars, restored circumcision, cut off all apostates, destroyed all persecutors wherever he came, and again re-established the true worship of God in all places where he prevailed (B. C. 167). But Mattathias, worn out with old age and fatigue, died the next year; and his son Judas, surnamed Maccabæus, according to the appointment of his father, succeeded to the command of the army.

Judas, however, sufficiently compensated for the loss they had sustained by the death of the venerable priest; for having successively vanquished Apollonius, governor of Samaria, Seron, deputy governor of Cœle-Syria, Ptolemy Maeron, Nicanor and Gorgias, three eminent commanders, Timotheus and Bacchides, governors of the country beyond Jordan, and at last Lysias himself, governor of all the country west of the Euphrates, he recovered the temple, repaired and purified it, restored the pure worship of God, appointed the feast of the dedication to be kept annually, and repaired Jerusalem, which had almost been reduced to a heap of ruins (B. C. 165). Antiochus at this time was engaged in an expedition against the Persians, who, with the Armenians, had revolted from him; and when returning, having heard of the success of the Jews under Judas and the defeat of his generals, he threatened utterly to destroy the whole nation and make Jerusalem their common burial-place. But while these proud words were in his mouth the judgments of God overtook him, for he was smitten with an incurable disease, being seized with grievous torments in his bowels, and a most intolerable ulcer, which terminated in his death (B. C. 164). He was succeeded in the kingdom by his son Antiochus Eupator, a minor nine years old, under the tuition of Lysias, who combined with the Idumeans and other neighboring nations to destroy the whole race of Israel.

Judas, informed of this, carried the war into the enemies' country, and for some years proved a terrible scourge to the Idumeans, Syrians and Arabs, and other heathen nations, till he was slain by Bacchides, the general of Demetrius Soter (the son of Seleucus Philopater, who had seized upon the kingdom of Syria), in revenge for the defeat and death of Nicanor (B. c. 161). He was succeeded in the command by his brother Jonathan, who, with his brother Simon, continued to rectify with astonishing bravery and prudence the disorders both in Church and State; and Onias, the high priest, having settled in Egypt, where he afterward built a temple for the use of his countrymen, according to the form of that in Jerusalem, they officiated in Judea both as high priests and civil governors during the reigns of Alexander Balas and Demetrius Nicator.

JUDEA UNDER HER OWN PRINCES.

Jonathan having been treacherously slain by the usurper Typhon (B. c. 144), and Simon and his sons Judas and Mattathias murdered by Ptolemy, his son-in-law, his son John Hyrcanus succeeded to the pontificate and government of Judea (B. c. 135). He was at first constrained to make a disadvantageous peace with the Syrians; but on the accession of Demetrius Nicator (B. c. 130), Hyrcanus shook off the Syrian yoke, and maintained his independence during the revolutions which followed in Syria by the succession of the impostor Alexander Zebina, Antiochus Gryphus and Antiochus Cyzicenus. He enlarged his borders by seizing upon various places in Syria, Phœnicia and Arabia, and took Shechem and destroyed the temple on Mount Gerizim (B. c. 130), extended his conquests over the Idumeans, whom he compelled to embrace the Jewish religion (B. c. 129), renewed the league with the Romans which had been made by his father, Simon, by which he obtained greater privileges and advantages than the nation ever enjoyed before (B. c. 128), and under the conduct of his sons Aristobulus and Antigonus he utterly destroyed Samaria (B. c. 109). After this he governed Judea, Samaria and Galilee for two years, when, dying in the thirtieth year of his administration, he left the high priesthood and sovereignty to Aristobulus, his eldest son (B. c. 107).

This prince, who was the first since the captivity who put on the diadem and assumed the title of king, after a short reign of one year, was succeeded by his brother, Alexander Jannæus, who subdued the Philistines and obliged them to embrace the Jewish religion, burnt Gaza, their capital (B. c. 97), and also reduced the Moabites, Ammonites and part of the Arabians, and after a reign of twenty-seven years died of a quartan ague, brought on by intemperance, while besieging Ragaba, in the country of the Gerasens (B. c. 79). After his death his widow, Alexandra, governed the nation with much prudence for nine years, till B. c. 70; and she was scarcely dead before Aristobulus, joined by multitudes who hated the Pharisees, who had tyrannized during the preceding reign, contended for the crown and high priesthood against Hyrcanus, his elder but indolent brother, and succeeded in dispossessing him after a reign of only three months. Aretas, king of Arabia, having assisted Hyrcanus, besieged Aristobulus in the temple; but Aristobulus calling in the assistance of the Romans, he was obliged to withdraw his troops (B. c. 65). Having, however, applied to Pompey, the Roman general, he decided for Hyrcanus, took Jerusalem and seated him in the government, though he would not permit him to wear the diadem, and made Judea tributary to the Romans (B. c. 63). He with several of his officers also entered the holy of holies, after which he never prospered; and soon after, Crassus, bent on his fatal Parthian expedition, pillaged the temple of about ten thousand talents of silver (B. c. 54). At length Antipater, a noble but crafty Idumean, by favor of Julius Cæsar (who had prevailed against Pompey), was made procurator of Judea, and Hyrcanus continued in the high priesthood (B. c. 47).

After Antipater's death, his son, Herod the Great, by the assistance of Antony, the Roman triumvir, and through much barbarity and bloodshed, obtained the regal dignity (B. c. 40), which authority was at length confirmed by Augustus Cæsar (B. c. 30). He maintained his dignity with great ability, but with the most atrocious cruelty in his own family as well as among others, till the birth of Christ. In the interval he built many cities, and to ingratiate himself with the Jews almost rebuilt the temple. His atrociously cruel attempt to murder the infant Saviour is recorded by the evangelist, and soon afterward he died most miserably. After some years, during which the dominions of Herod were governed by his sons, Judea became a Roman province, and the sceptre departed from Judah, for Shiloh was come; and after being under the government of Roman procurators for some years, the whole Jewish state was at length subverted by Titus, the son of Vespasian (A. D. 70).

COMPARATIVE SYSTEMS OF SCRIPTURE CHRONOLOGY.

SCRIPTURE CHRONOLOGY.

INDEPENDENTLY of scientific evidence, the following are our data for determining the chronological relations of primeval history to the Christian era.

From the creation to the deluge, the generations of the patriarchs form our only guide. These, however, are given differently in different copies of the Scriptures, the sum being, in the LXX., six hundred and six years longer, and in the Samaritan Pentateuch three hundred and forty-nine years shorter, than in the received Hebrew text. The ancient chronologers give further variations.

From the deluge to the death of Joseph, and thence to the exodus, the patriarchal years are again our chief guide; but other data are obtained from various statements respecting the interval from the call of Abraham to the giving of the law and the sojourning of the Israelites in Egypt. Gen. 15:13; Ex. 12:41; Acts 7:6; Gal. 3:17. The main point in dispute here is whether four hundred and thirty years was the whole period from the call of Abraham to the exodus, or only the time of the sojourning of the Israelites in Egypt.

From the exodus to the building of Solomon's temple the interval is positively stated in the received Hebrew text as four hundred and eighty years. 1 Kings 6:1. But the reading is disputed; it is alleged to be inconsistent with the four hundred and fifty years assigned by St. Paul to the judges (Acts 13:20), and the longer period is made out by adding together the numbers given in the book of Judges. Some chronologers, on the other hand, compute from the many genealogies which we have for this period.

From the building of the temple to its destruction and the captivity of Zedekiah we have the annals of the kings of Israel and Judah. Here the difficulties are so slight that the principal chronologers only differ by fifteen years in nearly five hundred.

The epoch of the destruction of the temple is fixed by a concurrence of proofs from sacred and profane history, with only a variation of one, or at the most two, years, between B. c. 588 and 586. Clinton's date is June, B. c. 587. From this epoch we obtain for the building of Solomon's temple the date of about B. c. 1012. The highest computation, that of Hales, makes the date B. c. 1027.

From this point the reckoning backward is of course affected by the differences already noticed. Out of these have arisen three leading systems of chronology.

The rabbinical, a system handed down traditionally by the Jewish doctors, places the creation two hundred and forty-four years later than our received chronology, in B. c. 3750, and the exodus in B. c. 1314. This leaves from the exodus to the building of the temple an interval of only three hundred years, a term calculated chiefly from the genealogies, and only reconciled with the numbers given in the book of Judges by the most arbitrary alterations. Genealogies, however, are no safe basis for chronology, especially when, as can be proved in many cases, links are omitted in their statement. When we come to examine them closely, we find that many are broken without being in consequence technically defective as Hebrew genealogies. A modern pedigree thus broken would be defective, but the principle of these genealogies must have been different. A notable instance is that of the genealogy of our Saviour given by St. Matthew. In this genealogy Joram is immediately followed by Ozias, as if his son, Ahaziah, Joash and Amaziah being omitted. In Ezra's genealogy (Ezra 7:1-5) there is a similar omission, which in so famous a line can scarcely be attributed to the carelessness of a copyist. There are also examples of a man being called the son of a remote ancestor in a statement of a genealogical form. We cannot, therefore, venture to use the Hebrew genealogical lists to compute intervals of time, except where we can prove each descent to be immediate. But even if we can do this, we have still to be sure that we can determine the average length of each generation.

The short or received chronology is that which has been generally followed in the West since the time of Jerome, and has been adopted in the margin of the authorized English version, according to the system of its ablest advocate, Archbishop Ussher. Its leading data are, first, the adoption of the numbers of the Hebrew text for the patriarchal genealogies; secondly, the reckoning of the four hundred and thirty years from the call of Abraham to the exodus; and lastly, the adhering to the four hundred and eighty years for the period from the exodus to the building of the temple. As we are only giving a general account of these different systems, and not attempting their full discussion, we cannot now explain how the last datum is reconciled with the four hundred and fifty years assigned by St. Paul to the judges, or with the numbers obtained from their annals. The great chronologer Petavius is in substantial agreement with Ussher; but for reasons which cannot now be stated, he places the exodus and the call of Abraham each forty years earlier, the deluge and the creation each twenty years later, than Ussher.

We have given Ussher's dates in the text of this work as those most commonly received; but for the reasons already mentioned, we believe that the Jewish genealogies are no safe basis for chronology, and that it is therefore impossible to assign any real dates to the creation and the patriarchal history.

The long chronology has been in recent times the most formidable competitor of the short system. Its leading advocates are Hales, Jackson and Des Vignolles. With some minor differences, they agree in adopting the Septuagint numbers for the ages of the patriarchs and the long interval from the exodus to the building of the temple. Their arguments for the former view are very ably answered by Clinton, who adopts the short period from the creation to the call of Abraham, and the four hundred and thirty years on to the exodus, but reckons six hundred and twelve years from thence to the foundation of the temple.

The following table exhibits the principal dates as given by the leading modern chronologers:

	SHORT SYSTEM.			LONG SYSTEM.
	Ussher. B. c.	Petavius. B. c.	Clinton. B. c.	Hales. B. c.	Jackson. B. c.
Creation	4004	3983	4138	5411	5426

The system of Ussher has prevailed principally in the British empire, and among the divines of the Reformed Church on the continents of Europe and America; that of Petavius among the divines of the Church of Rome. The dates of Ussher chiefly have been annexed to the last translations of the Bible, and established by public opinion and authority.

I. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

² Josias' charge to the priests and Levites. ⁷ A great passover is kept. ³² His death is much lamented. ³⁴ His successors. ⁵³ The temple, city, and many people are destroyed. ⁵⁶ The rest are carried unto Babylon.

AND Josias held the feast of the passover in Jerusalem unto his Lord, and offered the passover the fourteenth day of the first month;

² Having set the priests according to their daily courses, being arrayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

³ And he spake unto the Levites, the holy ministers of Israel, that they should hallow themselves unto the Lord, to set the holy ark of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the son of David had built:

⁴ And said, Ye shall no more bear the ark upon your shoulders: now therefore serve the Lord your God, and minister unto his people Israel, and prepare you after your families and kindreds,

⁵ According as David the king of Israel prescribed, and according to the magnificence of Solomon his son: and standing in the temple according to the several dignities of the families of you the Levites, who minister in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel,

⁶ Offer the passover in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keep the passover according to the commandment of the Lord, which was given unto Moses.

⁷ And unto the people that was found there Josias gave thirty thousand lambs and kids, and three thousand calves: these things were given of the king's allowance, according as he promised to the people, to the priests, and to the Levites.

⁸ And Helkias, Zacharias, and Syelus, the governors of the temple, gave to the priests for the passover two thousand and six hundred sheep, and three hundred calves.

¹⁰ And when these things were done, the priests and Levites having the unleavened bread, stood in very comely order according to the kindreds, ¹¹ And according to the several dignities of the fathers before the people, to offer to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

¹² And they roasted the passover with fire, as appertaineth: as for the sacrifices, they sod them in brass pots, and pans, with a good savour,

¹³ And set them before all the people: and afterward they prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

¹⁴ For the priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron.

¹⁵ The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, and Jeduthun, who was of the king's retinue.

¹⁶ Moreover, the porters were at every gate; it was not lawful for any to go from his ordinary service; for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

¹⁷ Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, that they might hold the passover, ¹⁸ And offer sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josias.

¹⁹ So the children of Israel which were present held the passover at that time, and the feast of sweet bread seven days.

²⁰ And such a passover was not kept in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel.

²¹ Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were found dwelling at Jerusalem.

²² In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover kept.

²³ And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord, with a heart full of godliness.

²⁴ As for the things that came to pass in his time, they were written in former times, concerning those that sinned, and ||did wickedly against the Lord above all people and kingdoms, and now they grieved him ||exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord rose up against Israel.

²⁶ But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Judea?

²⁷ I am not sent out from the Lord God against thee; for my war is upon Euphrates: and now the Lord is with me, yea, the Lord is with me hasting me forward: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.

²⁹ But joined battle with him in the plain of Megiddo, and the princes came against king Josias.

³⁰ Then said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants took him away out of the battle.

³¹ Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem died, and was buried in his father's sepulchre.

³⁴ And the people took Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old.

³⁵ And he reigned in Judea and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem.

³⁶ And he set a tax upon the land of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold.

³⁷ The king of Egypt also made king Joacim his brother king of Judea and Jerusalem.

³⁸ And he bound Joacim and the nobles: but Zaraces his brother he apprehended, and brought him out of Egypt.

³⁹ Five and twenty years old was Joacim when he was made king in the land of Judea and Jerusalem; and he did evil before the Lord.

⁴⁰ Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him into Babylon.

⁴¹ (Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them in his own temple at Babylon.)

⁴² But those things that are recorded of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings

43 And Joacim his son reigned in his stead: he was made king being eighteen years old;

44 And reigned but three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did evil before the Lord.

45 So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought into Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord.

46 And made Zedechias king of Judea and Jerusalem, when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years:

47 And he did evil also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the words that were spoken unto him by the prophet Jeremy from the mouth of the Lord.

48 And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he foreswore himself and rebelled, and hardening his neck and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The governors also of the people and of the priests did many things against the laws, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem.

50 Nevertheless, the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he spared them and his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derision; and look, when the Lord spake unto them, they made a sport of his prophets:

52 So far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded the kings of the Chaldees to come up against them;

53 Who slew their young men with the sword, yea, even within the compass of their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child, among them; for he delivered all into their hands.

54 And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with the vessels of the ark of God, and the king's treasures, and carried them away into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they burnt it, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and set fire upon her towers:

56 And as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had consumed and brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword, he carried unto Babylon:

57 Who became servants to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremy:

58 Until the land had enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she rest, until the full term of seventy years.

CHAP. II.

^x Cyrus is moved by God to build the temple, and giveth leave to the Jews to return and contribute to it. ^{ix} He delivereth again the vessels which had been taken thence. ²⁵ Artaxerxes forbiddeh the Jews to build any more.

IN the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord might be accomplished, that he had promised by the mouth of Jeremy;

2 The Lord raised up the spirit of Cyrus the king of the Persians, and he made proclamation through all his kingdom, and also by writing,

3 Saying, Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians; The Lord of Israel, the most high Lord, hath made me king of the whole world,

4 And commanded me to build him a house at Jerusalem in Jewry.

5 If therefore there be any of you that are of his people, let the Lord, even his Lord, be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel: for he is the Lord that dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 Whosoever then dwell in the places about, let them help him (those I say that are his neighbours) with gold, and with silver,

7 With gifts, with horses, and with cattle, and other things, which have been set forth by vow, for the temple of the Lord at Jerusalem.

8 ¶ Then the chief of the families of Judea and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up: the priests also and the Levites, and all they whose mind the Lord had moved to go up, and to build a house for the Lord at Jerusalem.

9 And they that dwelt round about them, and helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many free gifts of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels which Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

11 Now when Cyrus king of the Persians had brought them forth, he delivered them to Mithridates his treasurer:

12 And by him they were delivered to † Sanabassar the governor of Judea.

13 And this was the number of them; A thousand golden cups, and a thousand of silver, † censers of silver twenty-nine, vials of gold thirty, and of silver two thousand four hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and of silver, which were carried away, were five thousand four hundred three score and nine.

15 These were brought back by Sanabassar, together with them of the captivity, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus, and Mithridates, and Tabellius, and † Rathumus, Beeltethmus, and † Semellius the secretary, with others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem these letters following;

17 To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants Rathumus the story-writer, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in Celosyria and Phenice.

18 Be it now known to the lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come into Jerusalem, (that rebellious and wicked city,) do build the market-places, and repair the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of the temple.

19 Now if this city and the walls thereof be made up again, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but also rebel against kings.

20 And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter,

21 But to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, it may be sought out in the books of thy fathers:

22 And thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities:

23 And that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein; for the which cause even this city was made desolate.

24 Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, (O lord the king,) that if this city be built again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into Celosyria and Phenice.

25 Then the king wrote back again to Rathumus the story-writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner;

26 I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me; therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and it hath been found, that that city was from the beginning practising against kings;

27 And the men therein were given to rebellion and war: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tributes in Celosyria and Phenice.

28 Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it;

29 And that those wicked workers proceed no further to the annoyance of kings.

30 Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste toward Jerusalem with a troop of horsemen, and a multitude of people in battle-array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

CHAP. III.

⁴ Three strive to excel each other in wise speeches. ⁹ They refer themselves to the judgment of the king. ¹⁸ The first declareth the strength of wine.

NOW when Darius reigned, he made a great feast unto all his subjects, and unto all his household, and unto all the princes of Media and Persia,

2 And to all the governors, and captains, and lieutenants that were under him, from India unto Ethiopia, of a hundred twenty and seven provinces.

3 And when they had eaten and drunken, and being satisfied were gone home, then Darius the king went into his bed-chamber, and slept, and soon after awaked.

4 Then three young men that were of the guard, that kept the king's body, spake one to another;

5 Let every one of us speak a sentence: he that shall overcome, and whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall the king Darius give great gifts, and great things in token of victory :

6 As, to be clothed in purple, to drink in gold, and to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-tire of fine linen, and a chain about his neck :

7 And he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius his cousin.

8 And then every one wrote his sentence, sealed it, and laid it under king Darius his pillow,

9 And said that, when the king is risen, some will give him the writings ; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as was appointed ;

10 The first wrote, Wine is the strongest.

11 The second wrote, The king is the strongest.

12 The third wrote, Women are strongest : But above all things truth beareth away the victory.

13 Now when the king was risen up, they took their writings and delivered them unto him, and so he read them :

14 And sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and Media, and the governors, and the captains, and the lieutenants, and the chief officers ;

15 And sat him down in the || royal seat of judgment ; and the writings were read before them.

16 And he said, Call the young men, and they shall declare their own sentences. So they were called, and came in.

17 And he said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the writings. Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine ;

18 And he said thus, O ye men, how exceeding strong is wine ! it causeth all men to err that drink it :

19 It maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child, to be all one : of the bondman and of the free man, of the poor man, and of the rich :

20 It turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt :

21 And it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor governor ; and it maketh to speak all things by talents :

22 And when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw out swords :

23 But when they are from the wine, they remember not what they have done.

24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that enforceth to do thus ? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

CHAP. IV.

¹ The second declareth the power of a king; the third the force of women, and of truth. ⁴¹ The third is judged to be wisest, and obtaineth letters of the king to build Jerusalem. ⁵⁸ He praiseth God, and sheweth his brethren what he had done.

THEN the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,

2 O ye men, do not men excel in strength, that || bear rule over sea and land, and all things in them ?

3 But yet the king is more mighty : for he is lord of all these things, and hath dominion over them ; and whatsoever he commandeth them they do.

4 If he bid them make war the one against the other, they do it ; if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and break down mountains, walls, and towers.

5 They slay and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment : if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else.

6 Likewise for those that are no soldiers and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king.

7 And yet he is but one man : if he command to kill, they ill ; if he command to spare, they spare ;

8 If he command to smite, they smite ; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate ; if he command to build, they build ;

9 If he command to cut down, they cut down ; if he command to plant, they plant.

10 So all his people and his armies obey him : furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest :

11 And these keep watch round about him, neither || may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything.

12 O ye men, how should not the king be mightiest, when in such sort he is obeyed ? And he held his tongue.

13 ¶ Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of the truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak.

14 O ye men, it is not the great king, nor the multitude of men, neither is it wine that † excelleth : who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them ? are they not women ?

15 Women have born the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land.

16 Even of them came they : and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards from whence the wine cometh.

17 These also make garments for men ; these bring glory unto men ; and without women cannot men be.

18 Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver, or any other goodly thing, do they not love a woman which is comely in favour and beauty ?

19 And letting all those things go, do they not gape, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her ; and have not all men more desire unto her than unto silver or gold, or any goodly thing whatsoever ?

20 A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife.

21 He sticketh not to spend his life with his wife, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country.

22 By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you : do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to the women ?

23 Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to rob and to steal, to sail upon the sea and upon rivers ;

24 And looketh upon a lion, and goeth in the darkness ; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love.

25 Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother.

26 Yea, many there be that have || run out of their wits for women, and become servants for their sakes.

27 Many also have perished, have erred, and sinned, for women.

28 And now do ye not believe me ? is not the king great in his power ? do not all regions fear to touch him ?

29 Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the admirable || Bartacus, sitting at the right hand of the king,

30 And taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head ; she also struck the king with her left hand.

31 And yet || for all this the king gaped and gazed upon her with open mouth ; if she laughed upon him, he laughed also ; but if she took any displeasure at him, the king was fain to flatter, that she might || be reconciled to him again.

32 O ye men, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus ?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one upon another : so he began to speak of the truth.

34 O ye men, are not women strong ? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day.

35 Is he not great that maketh these things ? therefore great is the truth, and stronger than all things.

36 All the earth || calleth upon the truth, and the heaven blesseth it : all works shake and tremble at it, and with it is no unrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, and such are all their wicked works ; and there is no truth in them ; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish.

38 As for the truth, it endureth, and is always strong ; it liveth and conquereth forevermore.

39 With her there is no accepting of persons or rewards ; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unjust and wicked things ; and all men do well like of her works.

40 Neither in her judgment is any unrighteousness ; and she is the strength, kingdom, power, and majesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of truth.

41 And with that he held his peace. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and mighty above all things.

42 Then said the king unto him, Ask what thou wilt more than is appointed in the writing, and we will give it thee, because thou art found wisest ; and thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my cousin.

43 Then said he unto the king, Remember thy vow, which thou hast vowed to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom,

44 And to send away all the vessels that were taken away out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them again thither.

45 Thou also hast vowed to build up the temple, which the Edomites burned, when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldees.

46 And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality proceeding from thyself: I desire therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof with thine own mouth thou hast vowed to the King of heaven.

47 Then Darius the king stood up and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers, and lieutenants, and captains, and governors, that they should safely convey on their way both him, and all those that go up with him to build Jerusalem.

48 He wrote letters also unto the lieutenants that were in Celosyria, and Phenice, and unto them in Libanus, that they should bring cedar wood from Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him.

49 Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that went out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor || treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors;

50 And that all the country which they hold should be free without tribute; and that the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held:

51 Yea, that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built;

52 And other ten talents yearly, to maintain the burnt-offerings upon the altar every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen:

53 And that all they that went from Babylon to build the city should have free liberty, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister;

55 And likewise for the charges of the Levites, to be given them, until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up.

56 And he commanded to give to all that kept the city || pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

58 Now when this young man was gone forth he lifted up his face to heaven, toward Jerusalem, and praised the King of heaven, 59 And said, From thee cometh victory, from thee cometh wisdom, and thine is the glory, and I am thy servant.

60 Blessed art thou, who hast given me wisdom; for to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers.

61 And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty

63 To go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple which is called by his name: and they feasted with instruments of music and gladness seven days.

6 Who spake wise sentences before Darius the king of Persia in the second year of his reign, in the month Nisan, which is the first month.

7 And these are they of Jewry that came up from the captivity, where they dwelt as strangers, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had carried away unto Babylon.

8 And they returned unto Jerusalem, and to the other parts of Jewry, every man to his own city, who came with Zorobabel, with Jesus, Nehemias, and Zacharias, and Reesaias, Enenius, Mardocheus, Beelsarus, Aspharasus, Reelius, Roimus, and Baana, their guides.

9 The number of them of the nation, and their governors, sons of Phoros, two thousand a hundred seventy and two; the sons of Saphat, four hundred seventy and two:

10 The sons of Ares, seven hundred fifty and six:

11 The sons of Phaath Moab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve:

12 The sons of Elam, a thousand two hundred fifty and four; the sons of Zathui, nine hundred forty and five: the sons of Corbe, seven hundred and five: the sons of Bani, six hundred forty and eight:

13 The sons of Bebai, six hundred twenty and three; the sons of Sadas, three thousand two hundred twenty and two:

14 The sons of Adonikam, six hundred sixty and seven: the sons of Bagoi, two thousand sixty and six: the sons of Adin, four hundred fifty and four:

15 The sons of Aterezias, ninety and two: the sons of Ceilan and Azetas, threescore and seven: the sons of Azuran, four hundred thirty and two:

16 The sons of Ananias, a hundred and one: the sons of Arom, thirty-two: and the sons of Bassa, three hundred twenty and three: the sons of Azephurith, a hundred and two:

17 The sons of Meterus, three thousand and five: the sons of Bethlomon, a hundred twenty and three:

18 They of Netophah, fifty and five: they of Anathoth, a hundred fifty and eight: they of Bethsamos, forty and two:

19 They of Kiriatharius, twenty and five: they of Caphira and Beroth, seven hundred forty and three: they of Pira, seven hundred.

20 They of Chadias, and Ammidioi, four hundred twenty and two: they of Cirama and Gabdes, six hundred twenty and one:

21 They of Macalon, a hundred twenty and two: they of Betolius, fifty and two: the sons of Nephis, a hundred fifty and six:

22 The sons of Calamolalus and Onus, seven hundred twenty and five: the sons of Jerechus, two hundred forty and five:

23 The sons of Annaas, three thousand three hundred and thirty.

24 The priests: the sons of Jeddu, the son of Jesus, among the sons of Sanasib, nine hundred seventy and two: the sons of Meruth, a thousand fifty and two:

25 The sons of Phassaron, a thousand forty and seven: the sons of Carme, a thousand and seventeen.

26 The Levites: the sons of Jessue, and Cadmiel, and Bannas, and Sudias, seventy and four.

27 The holy singers: the sons of Asaph, a hundred twenty and eight.

28 The porters: the sons of Salum, the sons of Jatal, the sons of Talmon, the sons of Dacobi, the sons of Teta, the sons of Sami, in all a hundred thirty and nine.

29 The servants of the temple: the sons of Esau, the sons of Asipha, the sons of Tabaoth, the sons of Ceras, the sons of Sud, the sons of Phaleas, the sons of Labana, the sons of Graba.

30 The sons of Acua, the sons of Uta, the sons of Cetab, the sons of Agaba, the sons of Subai, the sons of Anan, the sons of Cathua, the sons of Geddur,

31 The sons of Airus, the sons of Daisan, the sons of Nocba, the sons of Chaseba, the sons of Gazera, the sons of Azia, the sons of Phinees, the sons of Azara, the sons of Bastai, the sons of Asana, the sons of Meani, the sons of Naphisi, the sons of Acub, the sons of Acipha, the sons of Assur, the sons of Pharacim, the sons of Basaloth, 32 The sons of Meeda, the sons of Coutha, the sons of Charea, the sons of Charcus, the sons of Aserer, the sons of Thomoi, the sons of Nasith, the sons of Atipha.

33 The sons of the servants of Solomon: the sons of Azaphion, the sons of Pharira, the sons of Jeeli, the sons of Lozon, the sons of Isadel, the sons of Sapheth,

34 The sons of Hagia, the sons of Phacareth, the sons of Sabi, the sons of Sarothie, the sons of Masias, the sons of Gar, the sons of Addus, the sons of Suba, the sons of Apherra, the sons of Barodis, the sons of Sabat, the sons of Allom.

35 All the ministers of the temple, and the sons of the servants of Solomon, were three hundred seventy and two.

36 These came up from Thermeleth, and Thelersas, Charaathalar leading them, and Aalar ;

37 Neither could they shew their families, nor their stock, how they were of Israel: the sons of ^eLadan, the sons of ^fBan, he sons of ^gNecodan, six hundred fifty and two.

38 And of the priests that usurped the office of the priesthood, and were not found: the sons of ^hObdia, the sons of ⁱAccoz, the sons of ^kAddus, who married Augia one of the daughters of Berzelus, and was named after his name.

39 And when the description of the kindred of these men was sought in the register, and was not found, they were removed from executing the office of the priesthood ;

40 For unto them said || Nehemias and Atharias, that they should not be partakers of the holy things, till there arose up a high priest clothed with † doctrine and truth.

41 So of Israel from them of twelve years old and upward, they were all in number forty thousand, besides men-servants and women-servants, two thousand three hundred and sixty.

42 Their || men-servants and handmaids were seven thousand three hundred forty and seven: the singing-men and singing-women, two hundred forty and five :

43 Four hundred thirty and five camels, seven thousand thirty and six horses, two hundred forty and five mules, ^lfive thousand five hundred twenty and five || beasts used to the yoke :

44 And certain of the chief of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in his own place according to their ability,

45 And to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, a hundred priestly vestments.

46 And so dwelt the priests, and the Levites, and the people in Jerusalem, and in the country, the singers also and the porters ; and all Israel in their villages.

47 But when the seventh month was at hand, and when the children of Israel were every man in his own place, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the first || gate which is toward the east.

48 Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer burnt-sacrifices upon it, according as it is expressly commanded in the book of Moses the man of God.

50 And there were gathered unto them out of the other nations of the land, and they erected the altar upon his own place, because all the nations of the land were at enmity with them, and oppressed them ; and they offered sacrifices according to the time, and burnt-offerings to the Lord both morning and evening.

51 Also they held the feast of tabernacles, as it is commanded in the law, and offered sacrifices daily, as was meet :

52 And after that, the || continual oblations, and the sacrifice of the sabbaths, and of the new moons, and of all holy feasts.

53 And all they that had † made any vow to God began to offer sacrifices to God from the first day of the seventh month, although the temple of the Lord was not yet built.

54 And they gave unto the masons and carpenters, money, meat, and drink with cheerfulness.

55 Unto them of Sidon also and Tyre they gave cars, that they should bring cedar trees from Libanus, which should be brought by floats to the haven of Joppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

56 And in the second year and second month after his coming to the temple of God at Jerusalem began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and their brethren, and the priests, and the Levites, and all they that were come unto Jerusalem out of the captivity :

57 And they laid the foundation of the house of God in the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem.

58 || And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Cadmiel his brother, and the sons of Madiabun, with the sons of Joda the son of Eliadun, with their sons and brethren, all Levites, with one accord || setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the workmen built the temple of the Lord.

59 And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments with musical instruments and trumpets ; and the Levites the sons of Asaph had cymbals.

60 Singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, || according as David the king of Israel had ordained.

61 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercy and glory is for ever in all Israel.

62 And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord.

63 ^mAlso of the priests and Levites, and of the chief of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house, came to the building of this with weeping and great crying.

64 But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, 65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not be || heard for the weeping of the people: yet the multitude sounded marvelously, so that it was heard afar off.

66 Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean.

67 And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jesus, and to the chief of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you.

69 For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of || Azbazareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither.

70 Then Zorobabel and Jesus, and the chief of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not for us and you to build together a house unto the Lord our God :

71 We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us.

72 But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judea, and holding them strait, hindered their building ;

73 And by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived ; so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, || until the reign of Darius.

CHAP. VI.

¹ The prophets stir up the people to build the temple. ⁹ Darius is solicited to hinder it, but he doth further it by all means, and threateneth those that shall hinder it.

NOW in the second year of the reign of Darius, Aggeus, and Zacharias the son of || Addo, the prophets, prophesied unto the Jews, in Jewry and Jerusalem, in the name of the Lord God of Israel || which was upon them.

2 Then stood up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and began to build the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, the prophets of the Lord being with them, and helping them.

3 ^aAt the same time came unto them || Sisinnes, the governor of Syria and Phenice, with || Sathrabuzanes, and his companions, and said unto them,

4 By whose appointment do ye build this house and this roof, and perform all the other things? and who are the workmen that perform these things?

5 Nevertheless the elders of the Jews obtained favour, because the Lord had visited the captivity.

6 And they were not hindered from building until such time as signification was given unto Darius concerning them, and an answer received.

7 The copy of the letters which Sisinnes, governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, rulers in Syria and Phenice, wrote and sent unto Darius ; To king Darius, greeting ;

8 Let all things be known unto our lord the king, that being come into the country of Judea, and entered into the city of Jerusalem, we found in the city of Jerusalem the ancients of the Jews that were of the captivity,

9 Building a house unto the Lord, great and new, of hewn and costly stones, and the timber already laid upon the walls.

10 And those works are done with great speed, and the work goeth on prosperously in their hands, and with all glory and diligence is it made.

11 Then asked we these elders, saying, By whose commandment build ye this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Therefore to the intent that we might give knowledge unto thee by writing, we demanded of them who were the chief doers, and we required of them the names in writing of their principal men.

13 So they gave us this answer, We are the servants of the Lord which made heaven and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was builded many years ago by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers provoked God unto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel which is in heaven, he gave them over into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, of the Chaldees ;

16 Who pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon.

17 But in the first year that king Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote to build up this house.

18 And the holy vessels of gold and of silver that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set them in his own temple, those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple at Babylon, and they were delivered to || Zorobabel and to Sanabassar the ruler,

19 With commandment that he should carry away the same vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem ; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his place.

20 Then the same Sanabassar, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem : and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, if it seem good unto the king, let search be made among the || records of king Cyrus :

22 And if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and if our lord the king be so minded, let him signify unto us thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seek among the records at Babylon : and so at Ecbatana the palace, which is in the country of Media, there was found a || roll wherein these things were recorded.

24 In the first year of the reign of Cyrus, king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Jerusalem should be built again, where they do sacrifice with continual fire :

25 Whose height shall be sixty cubits, and the breadth sixty cubits, with three rows of hewn stones, and one row of new wood of that country ; and the expenses thereof to be given out of the house of king Cyrus :

26 And that the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of gold and silver, that Nabuchodonosor took out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where they were before.

27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the governor of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, and their companions, and those which were appointed rulers in Syria and Phenice, should be careful not to meddle with the place, but suffer Zorobabel, the servant of the Lord, and governor of Judea, and the elders of the Jews, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I have commanded also to have it built up whole again ; and that they look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of the Jews, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Celosyria, and Phenice, a portion carefully to be given these men, for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs ;

30 And also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent :

31 That || offerings may be made to the most high God, for the king, and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives.

32 And he commanded that whosoever should transgress, yea, or make light of any thing afore spoken or written, out of his own house should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king.

33 The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

1 Sisinnes and others help forward the building. 5 The temple is finished and dedicated. 10 The passover is kept.

THEN ^aSisinnes the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, following the commandments of king Darius,

2 Did very carefully oversee the holy works, assisting the ancients of the Jews and governors of the temple.

3 And so the holy works prospered when Aggeus and Zacharias the prophets prophesied.

4 And they finished these things by the commandment of the Lord God of Israel, and with || the consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in † the three and twentieth day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and others that were of the captivity, that were added unto them, did according to the things written in the book of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord they offered a hundred bullocks, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs ;

8 And twelve goats for the sin of all Israel, according to the number of the || chief of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priests also and the Levites stood arrayed in their vestments, according to their † kindreds, in the service of the Lord God of Israel according to the book of Moses : and the porters at every gate.

10 And the children of || Israel that were of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, after that the priests and the Levites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captivity were not all sanctified together : but the Levites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the people of the land, and sought the Lord.

14 And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord,

15 For that he had turned the || counsel of the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord God of Israel.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Esdras bringeth the king's commission to build. 8 The copy of it. 29 He declareth the names and number of those that came with him, and his journey. 71 He lamenteth the sins of his people, and sweareth the priests to put away their strange wives.

AND after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persians reigned, came Esdras the son of Saraias, the son of || Ezerias, the son of Helchiah, the son of Salum,

2 The son of Sadduc, the son of Achitob, the son of Amarias, the son of || Ezias, the son of || Meremoth, the son of Zarias, the son of || Savias, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisum, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron, † the chief priest.

3 This Esdras went up from Babylon, as a scribe, being very ready in the law of Moses, that was given by the God of Israel.

4 And the king did him honour : for he found grace in his sight in all his requests.

5 There went up with him also certain of the children of Israel, of the priests, of the Levites, of the holy singers, porters, and || ministers of the temple, unto Jerusalem,

6 In || the seventh year of the reign of Artaxerxes, in the fifth month, this was the king's seventh year ; for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem, according to the || prosperous journey which the Lord gave them.

7 For Esdras had very great skill, so that he omitted nothing of the law and commandments of the Lord, but taught all Israel the ordinances and judgments.

8 Now the copy of the || commission, which was written from Artaxerxes the king, and came to Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord, is this that followeth ;

9 King Artaxerxes unto Esdras the priest and reader of the law of the Lord sendeth greeting :

10 Having determined to deal graciously, I have given order, that such of the nation of the Jews, and of the priests and Levites being within our realm, as are willing and desirous, should go with thee unto Jerusalem.

11 As many therefore as have a mind thereunto, let them depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and my seven friends the counsellors;

12 That they may look unto the affairs of Judea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord:

13 And carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed, and all the gold and silver that in the country of Babylon can be found, to the Lord in Jerusalem,

14 With that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God at Jerusalem; and that silver and gold may be collected for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining;

15 To the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem.

16 And whatsoever thou and thy brethren will do with the silver and gold, that do, according to the will of thy God.

17 And the holy vessels of the Lord which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem, thou shalt set before thy God in Jerusalem.

18 And whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury.

19 And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and the reader of the law of the most high God shall send for, they should give it him with speed, 20 To the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred cors, and a hundred pieces of wine, and other things in abundance.

21 Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the most high God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons.

22 I command you also, that ye require no tax, nor any other imposition of any of the priests or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or ministers of the temple, or of any that have doings in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose any thing upon them.

23 And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God, ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all Syria and Phenice all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach.

24 And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by imprisonment.

25 Then said Esdras the scribe, Blessed be the only Lord God of my fathers, who hath put these things into the heart of the king, to glorify his house that is in Jerusalem:

26 And hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends, and nobles.

27 Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together men of Israel to go up with me.

28 And these are the chief according to their families and several dignities, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes:

29 Of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, Lettus the son of Sechenias:

30 Of the sons of Pharez, Zecharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men:

31 Of the sons of Pahath Moab, Eliaonias, the son of Zairaias, and with him two hundred men:

32 Of the sons of Zathoe, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him three hundred men; of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men:

33 Of the sons of Elam, Josias son of Gotholias, and with him seventy men:

34 Of the sons of Saphatias, Zairaias son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men:

35 Of the sons of Joab, Abadias son of Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men:

36 Of the sons of Banid, Assalimoth son of Josaphias, and with him a hundred and threescore men:

37 Of the sons of Babi, Zecharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men:

38 Of the sons of Astath, Johannes son of Acatan, and with him a hundred and ten men:

39 Of the sons of Adonicam the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and Samaias, and with them seventy men:

40 Of the sons of † Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

41 And these I gathered together to the river called Theras, where we pitched our tents three days: and then surveyed them.

42 But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites,

43 Then sent I unto Eleazar, and Iduel, and Masman,

44 And Alnathan, and Mamaias, and Joribas, and Nathan, Eunatan, Zecharias, and Mosollamon, principal men and learned.

45 And I bade them that they should go unto Saddeus the captain, who was in the place of the treasury:

46 And commanded them that they should speak unto Daddesus and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priest's office in the house of the Lord.

47 And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us skilful men of the sons of Moli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, Asebëbia, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen.

48 And Asebia, and Annuus, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Channuneus, and their sons, were twenty men.

49 And of the servants of the temple whom David had ordained, and the principal men for the service of the Levites (to wit) the servants of the temple, two hundred and twenty, the catalogue of whose names were shewed.

50 And there I vowed a fast unto the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a prosperous journey both for us and them that were with us, for our children, and for the † cattle:

51 For I was ashamed to ask the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversarities.

52 For we had said unto the king, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways.

53 And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us.

54 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the priests, Esëbrias, and Assanias, and ten men of their brethren with them:

55 And I weighed them the gold, and the silver, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his council, and the princes, and all Israel had given.

56 And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and sixty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, 57 And twenty golden vessels, and † twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold.

58 And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver is a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers.

59 Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chief of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, into the chambers of the house of our God.

60 So the priests and the Levites, who had received the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, brought them unto Jerusalem into the temple of the Lord.

61 And from the river Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, and came to Jerusalem by the mighty hand of our Lord which was with us; and from the beginning of our journey the Lord delivered us from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem.

62 And when we had been there three days, the gold and silver that was weighed, was delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto Marmoth the priest the son of Iri.

63 And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabad the son of Jesu, and Moeth the son of Sabban, Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight.

64 And all the weight of them was written up the same hour.
65 Moreover, they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifice unto the Lord God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, fourscore and sixteen rams,

66 † Threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace-offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord.

67 And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of Celosyria and Phenice; and they honoured the people and the temple of God.

68 Now when these things were done, the rulers came unto me, and said,

69 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priests, and Le vites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the pollutions of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Pheresites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites.

70 For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the great men have been partakers of this iniquity.

71 And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and the holy garment, and pulled off the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and very heavy.

72 So all they that were then moved at the word of the Lord God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice.

73 Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and the holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord,

74 I said, O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face;

75 For our sins || are multiplied above our heads, and our ignorances have reached up unto heaven.

76 For ever since the time of our fathers, we have been and are in great sin, even unto this day.

77 And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and for a prey with shame, unto this day.

78 And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary;

79 And to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us † food in the time of our servitude.

80 Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us food;

81 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Zion, that they have given us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem.

82 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying,

83 That the land which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness.

84 Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto your sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons.

85 Moreover, ye shall never seek to have peace with them, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave the inheritance of the land unto your children for evermore.

86 And all that is befallen, is done unto us for our wicked works, and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, 87 And didst give unto us such a root; but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, and to mingle ourselves with the uncleanness of the nations of the land.

88 || Mightest not thou be angry with us to destroy us, till thou hadst left us neither root, seed, nor name?

89 O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left a root this day.

90 Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer by reason of these things before thee.

91 And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great multitude of men, and women, and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude.

92 Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the nations of the land, and now is all Israel || aloft.

93 Let us make an oath to the Lord, that we will put away all our wives, which we have taken of the heathen, with their children, 94 Like as thou hast decreed, and as many as do obey the law of the Lord.

95 Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain and we will be with thee: do valiantly.

96 So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites † of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

CHAP. IX.

1 Esdras assembleth all the people. 10 They promise to put away their strange wives. 20 The names and number of them that did so. 40 The law of Moses is read and declared before all the people. 49 They weep, and are put in mind of the feast-day.

THEN Esdras, rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joanan the son of Eliasib,

2 And remained there, and did eat no meat, nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude.

3 And there was a proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem:

4 And that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself || cast out from them that were of the captivity.

5 And in three days were all they of the tribe of Juda and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem the twentieth day of the ninth month.

6 And all the multitude sat trembling in the broad court of the temple because of the present foul weather.

7 So Esdras rose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law in marrying strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel.

8 And now by confession give glory unto the Lord God of our fathers,

9 And do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women.

10 Then cried the whole multitude and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But forasmuch as the people are many, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of a day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far:

12 Therefore let the rulers of the multitude || stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed,

13 And with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter.

14 Then Jonathan the son of Azael, and Ezechias the son of Theocanus, accordingly took this matter upon them: and Mosollam, and Levis, and Sabbatheus helped them.

15 And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the priest chose unto him the principal men of their families, all by name; and in the first day of the tenth month they sat together to examine the matter.

17 So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end in the first day of the first month.

18 And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found;

19 Of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren: || Matthelas, and Eleazar, and || Joribus, and || Joadanus.

20 And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer † rams to make reconcilement for their || errors.

21 And of the sons of Emmer; Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Eanes, Sameius, and Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sons of Phaisur; Elionas, Massias, Ismael, and Nathanael, and Ocidelus, and Talsas.

23 And of the Levites; Josabad, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Judas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy singers; Eleazurus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters; Sallumus, and Tolbanes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sons of Phoros; Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleazar, and Asibias, and Baanias.

27 Of the sons of Ela; Matthanias, Zecharias, and Hierielus, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sons of Zamoth; Eliadas, Elisimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the sons of Bebai; Johannes, and Ananias, and Josabad, and Amatheis.

30 Of the sons of Mani; Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedeus, Jasubus, Jasael, and Hieremoth.

31 † And of the sons of Addi; Naathus, and Moosias, Lacunus, and Naidus, and Matanias, and Sesthel, Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sons of Annas; Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, and Simon Chosameus.

33 And of the sons of Asom; Altaneus, and Matthias, and Bannaia, Eliphalat, and Manasses, and Semei.

35 And of the sons of Ethma; Mazitias, Zabadaias, Edes, Juel, Banaias.

36 All these had taken strange wives, and they put them away with their children.

37 And the priests and Levites, and they that were of Israel, dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the country, in the first day of the seventh month: so the children of Israel were in their || habitations.

38 And the whole multitude came together with one accord into the broad place of the holy porch towards the east:

39 And they spake unto Esdras the priest and reader, that he would bring the law of Moses, that was given of the Lord God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the chief priest brought the law unto the whole multitude from man to woman, and to all the priests, to hear the law in the first day of the seventh month.

41 And he read in the broad court before the holy porch from morning unto mid-day, before both men and women; and all the multitude gave heed unto the law.

42 And Esdras the priest, and reader of the law, stood up upon a pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose.

43 And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, || Ezecias, || Balasamus, upon the right hand:

47 And all the people answered, Amen; and lifting up their hands they fell to the ground, and worshipped the Lord.

48 Also Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinus, Jacobus, Sabatteas, || Auteas, Maianeas, and Calitas, Azarias, and Joazabdu, and Ananias, Biatas, the Levites, taught the law of the Lord, making them withal to understand it.

52 For this day is holy unto the Lord: and be not sorrowful; for the Lord will bring you to honour.

53 So the Levites published all things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord; be not sorrowful.

II. ESDRAS.

CHAP. I.

5 Esdras is commanded to reprove the people. 24 God threateneth to cast them off, and to give their houses to people of more grace than they.

THE second book of the prophet Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Helchias, the son || of Sada-mias, the son of Sadoc, the son of Achitob,

2 The son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Aziei, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abisei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar,

3 The son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

4 And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

5 Go thy way, and shew my people their sinful deeds, and their children their wickedness which they have done against me; that they may tell their children's children;

6 Because the sins of their fathers are increased in them: for they have forgotten me, and have offered unto strange gods.

7 Am not I even he that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? but they have provoked me unto wrath, and despised my counsels.

8 Pull thou off then the hair of thy head, and cast all evil upon them, for they have not been obedient unto my law, but it is a rebellious people.

9 How long shall I forbear them unto whom I have done so much good?

10 Many kings have I destroyed for their sakes; Pharaoh with his servants, and all his power have I smitten down.

11 All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of Tyrus and Sidon, and have slain all their enemies.

12 Speak thou therefore unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord,

13 I led you through the sea, and in the beginning gave you a large and safe || passage: I gave you Moses for a leader, and Aaron for a priest.

14 I gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, the quails were as a token to you; I gave you tents for your safeguard; nevertheless ye murmured there,

16 And triumphed not in my name for the destruction of your enemies, but ever to this day do ye yet murmur.

17 Where are the benefits that I have done for you? When ye were hungry and thirsty in the wilderness, did ye not cry unto me, 18 Saying, Why hast thou brought us into this wilderness to kill us? it had been better for us to have served the Egyptians, than to die in this wilderness.

19 Then had I pity upon your mournings, and gave you manna to eat; so ye did eat angel's bread.

20 When ye were thirsty, did I not cleave the rock, and waters flowed out || to your fill? for the heat I covered you with the leaves of the trees.

21 I divided among you a fruitful land, I cast out the Canaanites, the Pherezites, and the Philistines, before you: what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

22 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, When ye were in the wilderness, || in the river of the Amorites, being athirst, and blaspheming my name,

23 I gave you not fire for your blasphemies, but cast a tree in the water, and made the river sweet.

24 What shall I do unto thee, O Jacob? thou Juda wouldst not obey me: I will turn me to other nations, and unto those will I give my name, that they may keep my statutes.

25 Seeing ye have forsaken me, I will forsake you also; when ye desire me to be gracious unto you, I shall have no mercy upon you.

26 Whensoever ye shall call upon me, I will not hear you: for ye have defiled your hands with blood, and your feet are swift to commit manslaughter.

27 Ye have not as it were forsaken me, but your own selves, saith the Lord.

28 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and a nurse her young babes,

29 That ye would be my people, || and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father?

30 I gathered you together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my face.

31 When ye offer unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast-days, your new moons, and your circum-cisions have I forsaken.

32 I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

33 Thus saith the Almighty Lord, Your house is desolate, I will cast you out as the wind doth stubble.

34 And your children shall not be fruitful; for they have despised my commandment, and done the thing that is evil before me.

35 Your houses will I give to a people that shall come; which not having heard of me yet shall believe me; to whom I have shewed no signs, yet they shall do that I have commanded them.

36 They have seen no prophets, yet they shall call their sins to remembrance, and acknowledge them.

37 I take to witness the grace of the people to come, whose little ones rejoice in gladness: and though they have not seen me with bodily eyes, yet in spirit they believe the thing that I say.

38 And now, brother, behold what glory; and see the people that come from the east:

39 Unto whom I will give for leaders, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, Oseas, Amos, and Micheas, Joel, Abdias, and Jonas, 40 Nahum, and Abacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zachary, and Malachy, which is called also an angel of the Lord.

CHAP. II.

¹ God complaineth of his people. ¹⁰ Yet Esdras is willed to comfort them. ³⁴ Because they refused, the Gentiles are called. ⁴³ Esdras seeth the Son of God, and those that are crowned by him.

THUS saith the Lord, I brought this people out of bondage, and I gave them my commandments by my servants the prophets: whom they would not hear, but despised my counsels.

2 The mother that bare them, saith unto them, Go your way, ye children; for I am a widow and forsaken.

3 I brought you up with gladness; but with sorrow and heaviness have I lost you: for ye have sinned before the Lord your God, and done that thing that is evil before him.

4 But what shall I now do unto you? I am a widow and forsaken: go your way, O my children, and ask mercy of the Lord.

5 As for me, O father, I call upon thee for a witness over the mother of these children, which would not keep my covenant,

6 That thou bring them to confusion, and their mother to a spoil, that there may be no offspring of them.

7 Let them be scattered abroad among the heathen, let their names be put out of the earth: for they have despised my covenant.

8 Woe be unto thee, Assur, thou that hidest the unrighteous in thee! O thou wicked people, remember what I did unto Sodom and Gomorrah;

9 Whose land lieth in clods of pitch and heaps of ashes: even so also will I do unto them that hear me not, saith the Almighty Lord.

10 Thus saith the Lord unto Esdras, Tell my people, that I will give them the kingdom of Jerusalem, which I would have given unto Israel.

11 Their glory also will I take unto me, and give these the everlasting tabernacles, which I had prepared for them.

12 They shall have the tree of life for an ointment of sweet savour; they shall neither labour, nor be weary.

13 Go, and ye shall receive: pray for few days unto you, that they may be shortened: the kingdom is already prepared for you: watch.

14 Take heaven and earth to witness; for I have broken the evil in pieces, and created the good: for I live, saith the Lord.

15 Mother, embrace thy children, and bring them up with gladness, make their feet as fast as a pillar; for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

16 And those that be dead will I raise up again from their places, and bring them out of the graves: for I have known my name in Israel.

17 Fear not, thou mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord.

18 For thy help will I send my servants, Esay and Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee twelve trees laden with divers fruits,

19 And as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy.

20 Do right to the widow, judge for the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, clothe the naked, 21 Heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come into the sight of my clearness.

^bTobit 1. 3, 17. [†]signifying, bury them.

22 Keep the old and young within thy walls.

23 Wheresoever thou findest the dead, take them and bury them, and I will give thee the first place in my resurrection.

24 Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come.

25 Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse; stablish their feet.

26 As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number.

27 Be not weary: for when the day of trouble and heaviness cometh, others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry, and have abundance.

28 The heathen shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord.

29 My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children shall not see hell.

30 Be joyful, O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord.

31 Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the sides of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty.

32 Embrace thy children until I come, and shew mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

33 I Esdras received a charge of the Lord upon the mount Oreb, that I should go unto Israel; but when I came unto them, they set me at nought, and despised the commandment of the Lord.

34 And therefore I say unto you, O ye heathen, that hear and understand, Look for your Shepherd, he shall give you everlasting rest; for he is nigh at hand, that shall come in the end of the world.

35 Be ready to the reward of the kingdom, for the everlasting light shall shine upon you for evermore.

36 Flee the shadow of this world, receive the joyfulness of your glory: I testify my Saviour openly.

37 O receive the gift that is given you, and be glad, giving thanks unto him that hath called you to the heavenly kingdom.

38 Arise up and stand, behold the number of those that be sealed in the feast of the Lord;

39 Which are departed from the shadow of the world, and have received glorious garments of the Lord.

40 Take thy number, O Sion, and shut up those of thine that are clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord.

41 The number of thy children whom thou longedst for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

42 I Esdras saw upon the mount Sion a great people, whom I could not number, and they all praised the Lord with songs.

43 And in the midst of them there was a young man of a high stature, taller than all the rest, and upon every one of their heads he set crowns, and was more exalted; which I marvelled at greatly.

44 So I asked the angel, and said, Sir, what are these?

45 He answered and said unto me, These be they that have put off the mortal clothing, and put on the immortal, and have confessed the name of God: now are they crowned, and receive palms.

46 Then said I unto the angel, What young person is it that crowneth them, and giveth them palms in their hands?

47 So he answered and said unto me, It is the Son of God, whom they have confessed in the world. Then began I greatly to commend them that stood so stiffly for the name of the Lord.

48 Then the angel said unto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and how great wonders of the Lord thy God thou hast seen.

CHAP. III.

¹ Esdras is troubled, and acknowledgeth the sins of the people. ²⁸ Yet complaineth that the heathen were lords over them, being more wicked than they.

IN the thirtieth year after the ruin of the city, I was in Babylon, and lay troubled upon my bed, and my thoughts came up over my heart:

2 For I saw the desolation of Sion, and the wealth of them that dwelt at Babylon.

3 And my spirit was sore moved, so that I began to speak words full of fear to the Most High, and said,

4 O Lord who barest rule, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou didst plant the earth (and that thyself alone) and commandedst the people,

^{||}Or, bring them up with gladness, as a dove; make their feet fast: for, &c. ^{||}Or, thy name, O Israel.

5 And gavest a body unto Adam without soul which was the workmanship of thy hands, and didst breathe into him the breath of life, and he was made living before thee.

6 And thou leddest him into paradise, which thy right hand had planted, before ever the earth came forward.

7 And unto him thou gavest commandment to love thy way : which he transgressed, and immediately thou appointedst death in him and in his generations, of whom came nations, tribes, people, and kindreds, out of number.

8 And every people walked after their own will, and did wonderful things before thee, and despised thy commandments.

9 And again in process of time thou broughtest the flood upon those that dwelt in the world, and destroyedst them.

10 And it came to pass in every of them, that as death was to Adam, so was the flood to these.

11 Nevertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noah with his household, of whom came all righteous men.

12 And it happened that when they that dwelt upon the earth began to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they began again to be more ungodly than the first.

13 Now when they lived so wickedly before thee, thou didst choose thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Him thou lovedst, and unto him only thou shewedst thy will.

15 And madest an everlasting covenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest never forsake his seed.

16 And unto him thou gavest Isaac, and unto Isaac also thou gavest Jacob and Esau. As for Jacob, thou didst choose him to thee, and put by Esau: and so Jacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to pass, that when thou leddest his seed out of Egypt, thou broughtest them up to the mount Sinai.

18 And bowing the heavens, thou didst set fast the earth, movedst the whole world, and madest the depths to tremble, and troubledst the men of that age.

19 And thy glory went through four gates of fire, and of earthquake, and of wind, and of cold; that thou mightest give the law unto the seed of Jacob, and diligence unto the generation of Israel.

20 And yet tookest thou not away from them a wicked heart, that thy law might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked heart, transgressed, and was overcome; and so be all they that are born of him.

22 Thus infirmity was made permanent; and the law (also) in the heart of the people with the malignity of the root; so that the good departed away, and the evil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the years were brought to an end: then didst thou raise thee up a servant, called David.

24 Whom thou commandedst to build a city unto thy name, and to offer incense and oblations unto thee therein.

25 When this was done many years, then they that inhabited the city forsook thee,

26 And in all things did even as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gavest thy city over into the hands of thine enemies.

28 Are their deeds then any better that inhabit Babylon, that they should therefore have the dominion over Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and had seen impieties without number, then my soul saw many evil-doers in this thirtieth year, so that my heart failed me.

30 For I have seen how thou sufferest them sinning, and hast spared wicked doers; and hast destroyed thy people, and hast preserved thine enemies, and hast not signified it.

31 I do not remember how this way may be left: Are they then of Babylon better than they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee besides Israel? or what generation hath so believed thy covenants as Jacob?

33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I have gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they flow in wealth, and think not upon thy commandments.

34 Weigh thou therefore our wickedness now in the balance, and theirs also that dwell in the world: and so shall thy name nowhere be found but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell upon the earth have not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandments?

36 Thou shalt find that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts; but not the heathen.

CHAP. IV.

¹ The angel declareth the ignorance of Esdras in God's judgments, and adviseth him not to meddle with things above his reach. ²³ Nevertheless Esdras asketh divers questions, and receiveth answers to them.

AND the angel that was sent unto me, whose name was Uriel, gave me an answer,

2 And said, Thy heart hath gone too far in this world, and thinkest thou to comprehend the way of the Most High?

3 Then said I, Yea, my lord. And he answered me, and said, I am sent to shew thee three ways, and to set forth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see, and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart cometh.

5 And I said, Tell on, my lord. Then said he unto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or call me again the day that is past.

6 Then answered I and said, What man is able to do that, that thou shouldest ask such things of me?

7 And he said unto me, If I should ask thee how great dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how many springs are in the beginning of the deep, or how many springs are above the firmament, or which are the outgoings of paradise:

8 Peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up into heaven.

9 Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day wherethrough thou hast passed, and of things from which thou canst not be separated, and yet canst thou give me no answer of them.

10 He said moreover unto me, Thine own things, and such as are grown up with thee, canst thou not know;

11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the Highest, and the world being now outwardly corrupted, to understand the corruption that is evident in my sight?

12 Then said I unto him, It were better that we were not at all, than that we should live still in wickedness, and to suffer, and not to know wherefore.

13 He answered me, and said, I went into a forest into a plain, and the trees took counsel,

14 And said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods.

15 The floods of the sea also in like manner took counsel, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the woods of the plain, that there also we may make us another country.

16 The thought of the wood was in vain, for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought, for the sand stood up and stopped them.

18 If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou begin to justify? or whom wouldest thou condemn?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both have devised, for the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to bear his floods.

20 Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgment, but why judgest thou not thyself also?

21 For like as the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his floods: even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he that dwelleth above the heavens may only understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

22 Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O lord, let me have understanding:

23 For it was not my mind to be curious of the high things, but of such as pass by us daily, namely, wherefore Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loved is given over unto ungodly nations, and why the law of our forefathers is brought to nought, and the written covenants come to none effect,

24 And we pass away out of the world as grasshoppers, and our life is astonishment and fear, and we are not worthy to obtain mercy.

25 What will he then do unto his name whereby we are called? of these things have I asked.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marvel; for the world hasteth fast to pass away,

27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this world is full of unrighteousness and infirmities.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I will tell thee; for the evil is sown, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If therefore that which is sown be not turned upside down, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, then cannot it come that is sown with good.

30 For the grain of evil seed hath been sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much ungodliness hath it brought up unto this time? and how much shall it yet bring forth until the || time of threshing come?

31 Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness the grain of evil seed hath brought forth.

32 And when the ears shall be cut down, which are without number, how great a floor shall they fill?

33 Then I answered and said, How, and when shall these things come to pass? wherefore are our years few and evil?

34 And he answered me, saying, Do not thou hasten above the Most Highest: for thy haste is in vain to be above him, for thou hast much exceeded.

35 Did not the souls also of the righteous ask question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when cometh the fruit of the floor of our reward?

36 And unto these things || Uriel the archangel gave them answer, and said, Even when the number of seeds is filled in you: for he hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 By measure hath he measured the times, and by number hath he numbered the times; and he doth not move nor stir them, until the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I and said, O lord that barest rule, even we all are full of impiety.

39 And for our sakes peradventure it is that the floors of the righteous are not filled, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

41 Then said I, No, lord, that can she not. And he said unto me, In the grave the chambers of souls are like the womb of a woman;

42 For like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the necessity of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them.

43 From the beginning, look, what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee.

44 Then answered I and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefor, 45 Shew me then whether there be more to come than is past, or more past than is to come.

46 What is past I know, but what is for to come I know not.

47 And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

48 So I stood, and saw, and behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and behold, the smoke remained still.

49 After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm: and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained still.

50 Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke; but the drops and the smoke remain behind: so the || quantity which is past did more exceed.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or || what shall happen in those days?

52 He answered me, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee; for I do not know it.

CHAP. V.

The signs of the times to come. 23 He asketh why God, choosing but one people, did cast them off. 30 He is taught that God's judgments are unsearchable, and that God doeth not all at once.

NEVERTHELESS as concerning the tokens, behold, the days shall come, that they which dwell upon earth || shall be taken in a great number, and the way of truth shall be hidden, and the land shall be barren of faith.

12.

|| Or, that thou treadest upon and seest.

|| Or, floor.

|| Or, fluked.

|| Or, Jeremiel.

|| Or, be directed.

2 But iniquity shall be increased above that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long ago.

3 And the land, || that thou seest now to have root, shalt thou see wasted suddenly.

4 But if the Most High grant thee to live, thou shalt see after the third trumpet that the sun shall suddenly shine again in the night, and the moon thrice in the day:

5 And blood shall drop out of the wood, and the stone shall give his voice, and the people shall be troubled:

6 And even he shall rule, whom they look not for that dwell upon the earth, and the fowls shall take their flight away together.

7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but they shall all hear the voice thereof.

8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and fire shall be oft || sent out again, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and menstruous women shall bring forth monsters:

9 And salt water shall be found in the sweet, and all friends shall destroy one another; then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into his secret chamber,

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall unrighteousness and incontinenybe multiplied upon earth.

11 One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness that maketh a man righteous gone through thee? and it shall say, No.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not || prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I have leave; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and an extreme fearfulness went through all my body, and my mind was troubled, so that it fainted.

15 So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, comforted me, and set me up upon my feet.

16 And in the second night it came to pass, that Salathiel the captain of the people came to me, saying, Where hast thou been? and why is thy countenance so heavy?

17 Kowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity?

18 Up then, and eat bread, and forsake us not, as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves.

19 Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

20 And so I fasted seven days, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commanded me.

21 And after seven days so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grievous unto me again,

22 And my soul recovered the spirit of understanding, and I began to talk with the Most High again,

23 And said, O Lord that bearest rule, of every wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one only vine:

24 And of all lands of the whole world thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all the flowers thereof one lily:

25 And of all the depths of the sea thou hast filled thee one river: and of all builded cities thou hast hallowed Sion unto thyself:

26 And of all the fowls that are created thou hast named thee one dove: and of all the cattle that are made thou hast provided thee one sheep:

27 And among all the multitude of peoples thou hast gotten thee one people: and unto this people, whom thou lovedst, thou gavest a law that is approved of all.

28 And now, O Lord, why hast thou given this one people over unto many? and || upon the one root hast thou prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thine only one people among many?

29 And they which did gainsay thy promises, and believed not thy covenants, have trodden them down.

30 If thou didst so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thine own hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me,

32 And said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken to the thing that I say, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I said, Speak on, my lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

34 And I said, No, lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins pain me every hour, while I labour to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgment.

|| Or, measure.

|| Or, who shall be? Manuscript.

|| Or, over.

35 And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord? whereunto was I born then? or why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

36 And he said unto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered,

37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, shew me the image of a voice; and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to know.

38 And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgment, or in the end the love that I have promised unto my people.

41 And I said, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh unto them that be reserved till the end: and what shall they do that have been before me or we that be now, or they that shall come after us?

42 And he said unto me, I will liken my judgment unto a ring: like as there is no slackness of the last, even so there is no swiftness of the first.

43 So I answered and said, Coudest thou not make those that have been made, and be now, and that are for to come, at once; that thou mightest shew thy judgment the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste above the maker; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

45 And I said, As thou hast said unto thy servant, that thou which givest life to all, hast given life at once to the creature that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: even so it might now also bear them that now be present at once.

46 And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then said he unto me, Even so have I given the womb of the earth to those that be sown in it in their times.

49 For like as a young child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

50 And I asked and said, Seeing thou hast now given me the way, I will proceed to speak before thee: for our mother, of whom thou hast told me that she is young, draweth now nigh unto age.

51 He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before, but less of stature?

53 And she shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise.

54 Consider thou therefore also, how that ye are less of stature than those that were before you.

55 And so are they that come after you less than ye, as the creatures which now begin to be old, and have passed over the strength of youth.

56 Then said I, Lord, I beseech thee, if I have found favour in thy sight, shew thy servant by whom thou visitest thy creature.

CHAP. VI.

x God's purpose is eternal. 8 The next world shall follow this immediately. 13 What shall fall out at the last. 31 He is promised more knowledge. 38 He reckoneth up the works of the creation, and complaineth that they have no part in the world for whom it was made.

AND he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the borders of the world stood, or ever the winds blew,

2 Before it thundered and lightened, or ever the foundations of paradise were laid,

3 Before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the movable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude of angels were gathered together,

4 Or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the chimneys in Sion were hot,

5 And ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the inventions of them that now sin were turned, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure:

6 Then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I and said, What shall be the parting asunder of the times: or when shall be the end of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

8 And he said unto me, From Abraham unto Isaac, when Jacob and Esau were born of him, "Jacob's hand held || first the heel of Esau.

9 For Esau is the end of the world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man is betwixt the heel and the hand: other question, Esdras, ask thou not.

11 ¶ I answered then and said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee, shew thy servant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

13 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and hear a mighty sounding voice.

14 And it shall be as it were a great || motion; but the place where thou standest shall not be moved.

15 And therefore when it speaketh be not afraid; for the word is of the end, and the foundation of the earth is understood.

16 And why? because the speech of these things trembleth and is moved: for it knoweth that the end of these things must be changed.

17 And it happened that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters.

18 And it said, Behold, the days come, that I will begin to draw nigh, and to visit them that dwell upon the earth,

19 And will begin to make inquisition of them, what they be that have hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled;

20 And when the world, that shall begin to vanish away, shall be || finished, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and they shall see all together:

21 And the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children of three or four months old, and they shall live, and be raised up.

22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty:

23 And the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid.

24 At that time shall friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, and in three hours they shall not run.

25 Whosoever remaineth from all these that I have told thee shall escape, and see my salvation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are received shall see it, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For evil shall be put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

28 As for faith, it shall flourish, corruption shall be overcome, and the truth which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, I looked by little and little upon him before whom I stood.

30 And these words said he unto me; I am come to shew thee the time of the night to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seven days again, I shall tell thee greater things || by day than I have heard.

32 For thy voice is heard before the Most High: for the Mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen also thy chastity, which thou hast had ever since thy youth.

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not.

34 And hasten not with the times that are past, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to pass after this, that I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me.

36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High.

a Gen. 25. 26. ¶ Or, from the beginning.

¶ Or, earthquake.

¶ Or, sealed.

¶ See chap. 13. ver. 52.

¶ Or, circle of the earth.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress.

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest from the beginning of the creation, even the first day, and saidst thus; ^bLet heaven and earth be made; and thy word was a perfect work.

39 And then was the spirit, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet formed.

40 Then commandedst thou a fair light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy work might appear.

41 Upon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath.

42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered in the seventh part of the earth: six parts hast thou dried up, and kept them, to the intent that of these some being planted of God and tilled might serve thee.

43 For as soon as thy word went forth the work was made.

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruit, and many and divers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of unchangeable colour, and odours of wonderful smell: and this was done the third day.

45 ^cUpon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in order:

46 And gavest them a charge to do ^dservice unto man, that was to be made.

47 Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto the seventh part, ^ewhere the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass.

48 For the dumb water and without life brought forth living things at the commandment of God, that all people might praise thy wondrous works.

49 Then didst thou ordain two living creatures, the one thou calledst || Enoch, and the other Leviathan;

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both.

51 Unto Enoch thou gavest one part, which was dried up the third day, that he should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hills:

52 But unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely, the moist; and hast kept him to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattle, and creeping things:

54 And after these, Adam also, whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures: of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen.

55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou madest the world for our sakes.

56 As for the other people, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, but be like unto spittle: and hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, these heathen, which have never been reputed as nothing, have begun to be lords over us, and to devour us.

58 But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy first born, thy only-begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands.

59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess an inheritance with the world? how long shall this endure?

CHAP. VII.

The way is narrow. 12 When it was made narrow. 28 All shall die and rise again. 33 Christ shall sit in judgment. 46 God hath not made paradise in vain. 62 He is merciful.

AND when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent into me the nights afore:

2 And he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I said, Speak on, my God. Then said he unto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deep and great.

4 But put the case the entrance were narrow, and like a river;

5 Who then could go into the sea to look upon it, and to rule it? if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad?

^{||}Or, first beginning.

6 There is also another thing; A city is builded, and set upon a broad field, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrow, and set in a || dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water:

8 And one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once.

9 If this city now were given unto a man for an inheritance, if he never shall pass the danger set before it, how shall he receive this inheritance?

10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion.

11 Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, full of sorrow and travail: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and very painful.

13 For the entrances of the || elder world were wide and sure, and brought immortal fruit.

14 If then they that live, labour not to enter these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them.

15 Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal?

16 Why hast thou not considered in thy mind this thing that is to come, rather than that which is present?

17 Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, thou hast ordained in thy ^alaw, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish.

18 Nevertheless, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that have done wickedly have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide.

19 And he said unto me, There is no judge above God, and none that hath understanding above the Highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, because they despise the law of God that is set before them.

21 For God hath given strait commandment to such as came, what they should do to live, even as they came, and what they should observe to avoid punishment.

22 Nevertheless, they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined vain things;

23 And deceived themselves by their wicked deeds; and said of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways:

24 But his law have they despised, and denied his covenant; in his statutes have they not been faithful, and have not performed his works.

25 And therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I have told thee shall come to pass, and the bride shall appear, and she coming forth shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth.

27 And whosoever is delivered from the aforesaid evils shall see my wonders.

28 For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and they that remain shall rejoice within four hundred years.

29 After these years shall my son Christ die, and all men that have life.

30 And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the || former judgments: so that no man shall remain.

31 And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them.

33 And the Most High shall appear upon the seat of judgment, and misery shall pass away, and the long-suffering shall have an end:

34 But judgment only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong:

35 And the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and the good deeds shall be of force, and wicked deeds shall bear no rule.

36 Then said I, Abraham prayed first for the Sodomites, and Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wilderness :

37 And Jesus after him for Israel in the time of Achan :

38 And Samuel and David for the destruction : and Solomon for them that should come to the sanctuary :

39 And Helias for those that received rain ; and for the dead, that he might live :

40 And Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib : and many for many.

41 Even so now, seeing corruption is grown up, and wickedness increased, and the righteous have prayed for the ungodly ; wherefore shall it not be so now also ?

42 He answered me, and said, This present life is not the end where much glory doth abide ; therefore have they prayed for the weak.

43 But the day of doom shall be the end of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein corruption is past,

44 Intemperance is at an end, infidelity is cut off, righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up.

45 Then shall no man be able to save him that is destroyed, nor to oppress him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, that it had been better not to have given the earth unto Adam : or else, when it was given him, to have restrained him from sinning.

47 For what profit is it for men now in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment ?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done ! for though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas we have done the works that bring death ?

50 And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves being most wicked are made vain ?

51 And that there are laid up for us dwellings of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly ?

52 And that the glory of the Most High is kept to defend them which have led a wary life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all ?

53 And that there should be showed a paradise, whose fruit endureth forever, wherein is security and medicine, since we shall not enter into it ?

54 (For we have walked in unpleasant places.)

55 And that the faces of them which have used abstinence shall shine above the stars, whereas our faces shall be blacker than darkness ?

56 For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not that we should begin to suffer for it after death.

57 Then answered he me, and said, This is the condition of the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight ;

58 That, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said : but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, Choose thee life, that thou mayest live.

60 Nevertheless, they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken unto them,

61 That there should not be such heaviness in their destruction, as shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62 I answered then, and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world,

63 And upon those also that turn to his law ;

64 And that he is patient, and long suffereth those that have sinned, as his creatures ;

65 And that he is bountiful, for he is ready to give where it needeth ;

66 And that he is of great mercy, for he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come.

67 For if he shall not multiply his mercies, the world would not continue with them that inherit therein.

68 And he pardoneth ; for if he did not so of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men should not remain living.

69 And being judge, if he should not forgive them that are cured with his word, and put out the multitude of contentions,

70 There should be very few left peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

¹ Many created, but few saved. ⁶ He asketh why C...l destroyeth his own work, and prayeth God to look upon the people which only serve him. ⁴¹ God answereth, that all seed cometh not to good, and that glory is prepared for him, and such like.

AND he answered me, saying, The Most High hath made this world for many, but the world to come for few.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras ; As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, but little dust that gold cometh of : even so is the course of this present world.

3 There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 So answered I and said, Swallow then down, O my soul, understanding, and devour wisdom.

5 For thou hast agreed to give ear, and art willing to prophesy : for thou hast no longer space than only to live.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and thou give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it ; how shall each man live that is corrupt, who beareth the place of a man ?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one workmanship of thy hands, like as thou hast said.

8 For when the body is fashioned now in the mother's womb, and thou givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her.

9 But that which keepeth and is kept shall both be preserved : and when the time cometh, the womb preserved delivereth up the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commanded out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, milk to be given, which is the fruit of the breasts.

11 That the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, till thou disposest it to thy mercy.

12 Thou broughtest it up with thy righteousness, and nurturedst it in thy law, and reformedst it with thy judgment.

13 And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and quicken it as thy work.

14 If therefore thou shalt destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned, it is an easy thing to be ordained by thy commandment, that the thing which was made might be preserved.

15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speak ; touching man in general, thou knowest best ; but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sorry ;

16 And for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn ; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy ; and for Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled ;

17 Therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them : for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land.

18 But I have heard the swiftness of the judge which is to come.

19 Therefore hear my voice, and understand my words, and I shall speak before thee. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up : and I said,

20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in everlastingness, which beholdest from above things in the heaven and in the air ;

21 Whose throne is inestimable ; whose glory may not be comprehended : before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling,

22 Whose service is conversant in wind and fire ; whose word is true, and sayings constant ; whose commandment is strong, and ordinance fearful ;

23 Whose look drieth up the depths, and indignation maketh the mountains to melt away ; which the truth witnesseth :

24 O hear the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy creature.

25 For while I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer.

26 O look not upon the sins of thy people ; but on them which serve thee in truth.

27 Regard not the wicked inventions of the heathen, but the desire of those that keep thy testimonies in afflictions.

28 Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee : but remember them, which according to thy will have known thy fear.

29 Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like beasts ; but to look upon them that have clearly taught thy law.

30 Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that always put their trust in thy righteousness and glory.

31 For we and our fathers || do languish of such diseases: but because of us sinners thou shalt be called merciful.

32 For if thou || hast a desire to have mercy upon us, thou shalt be called merciful, to us namely, that have no works of righteousness.

33 For the just, which have many good works laid up with thee, shall out of their own deeds receive reward.

34 For what is man, that thou shouldest take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible generation, that thou shouldest be so bitter toward it?

35 For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among the faithful there is none which hath not done amiss.

36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have not the || confidence of good works.

37 Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words it shall be.

38 For indeed I will not think on the disposition of them which have sinned before death, before judgment, before destruction;

39 But I will rejoice over the disposition of the righteous, and I will remember also their pilgrimage, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have.

40 Like as I have spoken now, so shall it come to pass.

41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet the thing that is sown good in his season cometh not up, neither doth all that is planted take root: even so is it of them that are sown in the world; they shall not all be saved.

42 I answered then and said, If I have found grace, let me speak.

43 Like as the husbandman's seed perisheth, if it come not up, and receive not thy rain in due season: or if there come too much rain, and corrupt it:

44 Even so perisheth man also, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because thou art like unto him, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him unto the husbandman's seed.

45 Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine own inheritance: for thou art merciful unto thy creature.

46 Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for the present, and things to come for such as be to come.

47 For thou comest far short that thou shouldest be able to love my creature more than I: but I have oft-times drawn nigh unto thee, and unto it, but never to the unrighteous.

48 In this also thou art marvellous before the Most High:

49 In that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be much glorified among the righteous.

50 For many great miseries shall be done to them that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride.

51 But understand thou for thyself, and seek out the glory for such as be like thee.

52 For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, yea, perfect goodness and wisdom.

53 The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness and the moth is hid from you, and corruption is fled into || hell to be forgotten;

54 Sorrows are passed, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality.

55 And therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had taken liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways.

57 Moreover they have trodden down his righteous,

58 And said in their heart, that there is no God; yea, and that knowing they must die.

59 For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, so thirst and pain are prepared for them: for it was not his will that men should come to nought:

60 But they which he created have defiled the name of him that made them, and were unthankful unto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my judgment now at hand.

62 These things have I not shewed unto all men, but unto thee, and a few like thee. Then answered I and said,

CHAP. IX.

7 Who shall be saved, and who not. 19 All the world is now corrupted. 22 Yet God doth save a few. 33 Esdras complaineth that those perish which keep God's law. 38 He seeth a woman lamenting in a field.

HE answered me then, and said, Measure thou the time diligently in itself; and when thou seest part of the signs past, which I have told thee before,

2 Then shalt thou understand, that it is the very same time, wherein the Highest will begin to visit the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seen earthquakes and uproars of the people in the world:

4 Then shalt thou well understand, that the Most High spake of those things from the days that were before thee, even from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the world hath a beginning and an end, and the end is manifest:

6 Even so the times also of the Highest have plain beginnings in wonders and powerful works, and endings in effects and signs.

7 And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, and by faith, whereby ye have believed,

8 Shall be preserved from the said perils, and shall see my salvation in my land, and within my borders: for I have sanctified them for me from the beginning.

9 Then shall they be in pitiful case, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away despitefully shall dwell in torments.

10 For such as in their life have received benefits, and have not known me;

11 And they that have loathed my law, while they had yet liberty, and when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised it;

12 The same must know it after death by pain.

13 And therefore be thou not curious how the ungodly shall be punished, and when: but inquire how the righteous shall be saved whose the world is, and for whom the world is created.

14 Then answered I, and said, 15 I have said before, and now do speak, and will speak it also hereafter, that there be many more of them which perish, than of them which shall be saved:

16 Like as a wave is greater than a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; as the flowers be, such are the colours also; such as the workman is, such also is the work; and as the husbandman is himself, so is his husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.

18 And now when I prepared the world which was not yet made, even for them to dwell in that now live, no man spake against me.

19 For then every one obeyed: but now the manners of them which are created in this world that is made are corrupted by a perpetual seed, and by a law which is unsearchable rid themselves.

20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was peril because of the devices that were come into it.

21 And I saw, and spared it greatly, and have kept me a grape of the cluster, and a plant of a great people.

22 Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain: and let my grape be kept, and my plant; for with great labour have I made it perfect.

23 Nevertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seven days more (but thou shalt not fast in them, 24 But go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eat only the flowers of the field; taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only;)

25 And pray unto the Highest continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

26 So I went my way into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me.

27 After seven days I sat upon the grass, and my heart was vexed within me, like as before :

28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talk before the Most High, and said, 29 O Lord, thou that shewest thyself unto us, thou wast shewed unto our fathers in the wilderness, in a place where no man treadeth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt.

30 And thou spakest, saying, Hear me, O Israel; and mark my words, thou seed of Jacob.

31 For behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring fruit in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for ever.

32 But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not thine ordinances: and though the fruit of thy law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine ;

33 Yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them.

34 And lo, it is a custom, when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, that, that being perished wherein it was sown or cast into,

35 That thing also which was sown, or cast therein, or received, doth perish, and remaineth not with us; but with us it hath not happened so.

36 For we that have received the law, perish by sin, and our heart also which receiveth it.

37 Notwithstanding, the law perisheth not, but remaineth in his force.

38 And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked back with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in heart, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head.

39 Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me unto her,

40 And said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? why art thou so grieved in thy mind?

41 And she said unto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

42 And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me.

43 She said unto me, I thy servant have been barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years.

44 And those thirty years I did nothing else day and night, and every hour, but make my prayer to the Highest.

45 After thirty years God heard me, thy handmaid, looked upon my misery, considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I was very glad of him, so was my husband also, and all my neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Almighty.

46 And I nourished him with great travail.

47 So when he grew up, and came to the time that he should have a wife, I made a feast.

CHAP. X.

6 He comforteth the woman in the field. 27 She vanisheth away, and a city appeareth in her place. 40 The angel declareth these visions in the field.

AND it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died.

2 Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my neighbours rose up to comfort me: so I took my rest unto the second day at night.

3 And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet; then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest.

4 And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

5 Then left I the meditations wherein I was, and spake to thee in anger, saying,

6 Thou foolish woman above all other, seest thou not our mourning, and what happeneth unto us?

7 How that Sion our mother is full of all heaviness, and much humbled, mourning very sore?

8 And now, seeing we all mourn and are sad, for we are all in heaviness, art thou grieved for one son?

9 For ask the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought to mourn for the fall of so many that grow upon her.

10 For out of her came all at the first, and out of her shall all others come, and behold, they walk almost all into destruction, and a multitude of them is utterly rooted out.

11 Who then should make more mourning than she that hath lost so great a multitude; and not thou, which art sorry but for one?

12 But if thou sayest unto me, My lamentation is not like the earth's, because I have lost the fruit of my womb, which I brought forth with pains, and bare with sorrows;

13 But the earth not so: for the multitude present in it, according to the course of the earth, is gone, as it came:

14 Then say I unto thee, Like as thou hast brought forth with labour; even so the earth also hath given her fruit, namely, man, ever since the beginning unto him that made her.

15 Now therefore keep thy sorrow to thyself, and bear with a good courage that which hath befallen thee.

16 For if thou shalt acknowledge the determination of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be commended among women.

17 Go thy way then into the city to thy husband.

18 And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die.

19 So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said,

20 Do not so, but be counselled by me: for how many are the adversities of Sion? be comforted in regard of the sorrow of Jerusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed;

22 Our psaltery is laid on the ground, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end, the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is almost profaned: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong men are become weak;

23 And, which is the greatest of all, the seal of Sion hath now lost her honour; for she is delivered into the hands of them that hate us.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Highest shall give thee rest and ease from thy labour.

25 And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistened, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And behold, suddenly she made a great cry, very fearful: so that the earth shook at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a large place shewed itself from the foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said,

28 Where is Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into many trances, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these words, behold, he came unto me, and looked upon me.

30 And lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me,

31 What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thy heart?

32 And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me, and yet I did according to thy words, and I went into the field, and lo, I have seen, and yet see, that I am not able to express.

33 And he said unto me, Stand up manfully, and I will advise thee.

34 Then said I, Speak on, my lord, in me; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope.

35 For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know.

36 Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream?

37 Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy servant of this vision.

38 He answered me then, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the Highest will reveal many secret things unto thee.

39 He hath seen that thy way is right: for that thou sor-rowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 This therefore is the meaning of the vision which thou lately sawest :

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort her :

42 But now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city builded.

43 And whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the solution :

44 This woman, whom thou sawest, is Sion : and whereas she said unto thee, even she whom thou seest as a city builded.

45 Whereas, I say, she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren : those are the thirty years wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirty years Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings : and then bare the barren a son.

47 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with labour : that was the dwelling in Jerusalem.

48 But whereas she said unto thee, That my son coming into his marriage-chamber happened to have a fall, and died : this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem.

49 And behold, thou sawest her likeness, and because she mourned for her son, thou begannest to comfort her : and of these things which have chanced, these are to be opened unto thee.

50 For now the Most High seeth that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, so hath he shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty :

51 And therefore I bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded :

52 For I knew that the Highest would shew this unto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to go into the field, where no foundation of any building was.

54 For in the place wherein the Highest beginneth to shew his city, there can no man's building be able to stand.

55 And therefore fear not, let not thy heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see :

56 And then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed above many other, and art called with the Highest ; and so are but few.

58 But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain here ;

59 And so shall the Highest shew thee visions of the high things, which the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

CHAP. XI.

He seeth in his dream an eagle coming out of the sea, and a lion out of a wood talking to the eagle.

THEN saw I a dream, and behold, there came up from the sea an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of the air blew on her, and were gathered together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers ; and they became little feathers and small.

4 But her heads were at rest : the head in the midst was greater than the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreover I beheld, and lo, the eagle flew with her feathers, and reigned upon earth, and over them that dwelt therein.

6 And I saw that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth.

7 And I beheld, and lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and spake to her feathers, saying,

8 Watch not all at once : sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course :

9 But let the heads be preserved for the last.

10 And I beheld, and lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body.

11 And I numbered her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.

12 And I looked, and behold, on the right side there arose one feather, and reigned over all the earth ;

Ps. 101. Gen. 1. 1. Prov. 16. 4.

13 And so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more : so the next following stood up, and reigned, and had a great time ;

14 And it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, like as the first, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voice unto it, and said,

16 Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth so long this I say unto thee, before thou beginnest to appear no more,

17 There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other before, and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, as that every one reigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I beheld, and lo, in process of time the feathers that followed stood up upon the right side, that they might rule also ; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more :

21 For some of them were set up, but ruled not.

22 After this I looked, and behold, the twelve feathers appeared no more, nor the two little feathers.

23 And there was no more upon the eagle's body, but three heads that rested, and six little wings.

24 Then saw I also that two little feathers divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side : for the four continued in their place.

25 And I beheld, and lo, the feathers that were under the wing thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule.

26 And I beheld, and lo, there was one set up, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the second was sooner away than the first.

28 And I beheld, and lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign :

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely, it that was in the midst ; for that was greater than the two other heads.

30 And then I saw that the two other heads were joined with it.

31 And behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two feathers under the wing that would have reigned.

32 But this head put the whole earth in fear, and bare rule in it over all those that dwelt upon the earth with much oppression : and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been.

33 And after this I beheld, and lo, the head that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.

34 But there remained the two heads, which also in like sort ruled upon the earth, and over those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 And I beheld, and lo as it were a roaring lion chased out of the wood : and I saw that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and said,

38 Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Highest shall say unto thee,

39 Art not thou it that remainest of the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of their times might come through them ?

40 And the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and had power over the world with great fearfulness, and over the whole compass of the earth with much wicked oppression ; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit.

41 For the earth hast thou not judged with truth.

42 For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm.

43 Therefore is thy wrongful dealing come up unto the Highest, and thy pride unto the Mighty.

44 The Highest also hath looked upon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and his abominations are fulfilled.

45 And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor thy horrible wings, nor thy wicked feathers, nor thy malicious heads, nor thy hurtful claws, nor all thy vain body :

46 That all the earth may be refreshed, and may return, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgment and mercy of him that made her.

CHAP. XII.

¹ The eagle which he saw is destroyed. ¹⁰ The vision is interpreted. ³⁷ He is bid to write his visions, and to fast, that he may see more. ⁴⁶ He doth comfort those that were grieved for his absence.

AND it came to pass, while the ^alion spake these words unto the eagle, I saw,
² And behold, the head that remained, and the four wings appeared no more, and the two went unto it, and set themselves up to reign, and their kingdom was small and full of uproar.

³ And I saw, and behold, ^bthey appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit,

⁴ Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou ^csearchest out the ways of the Highest.

⁵ Lo yet am I weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; and little strength is there in me, for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night.

⁶ Therefore will I now beseech the Highest, that he will comfort me unto the end.

⁷ And I said, Lord ^dthat bearest rule, if I have found grace before thy sight, and if I am justified with thee before many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face;

⁸ Comfort me then, and ^eshew me thy servant the interpretation and plain difference of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul.

⁹ For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the last times.

¹⁰ And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of the vision:

¹¹ The eagle whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is the kingdom which was seen in the ^fvision of thy brother Daniel.

¹² But it was not expounded unto him, therefore now I declare it unto thee.

¹³ Behold, the days will come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be ^gfeared above all the kingdoms that were before it.

¹⁴ In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another:

¹⁵ Whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have more time than any of the twelve.

¹⁶ And this do the twelve wings signify, ^hwhich thou sawest.

¹⁷ As for the voice which thou heardest speak, and that thou sawest ⁱnot go out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation:

¹⁸ That after the time of that kingdom there shall arise great strivings, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless, it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to his beginning.

¹⁹ And whereas thou sawest the ^jeight small underfeathers sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation:

²⁰ That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift.

²¹ And two of them shall perish, the middle time approaching: four shall be kept until their end begin to approach: but two shall be kept unto the end.

²² And whereas thou sawest ^kthree heads resting, this is the interpretation:

²³ In his last days shall the Most High raise up three kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall have the dominion of the earth,

²⁴ And of those that dwell therein, with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the ^lheads of the eagle.

²⁵ For these are they that shall accomplish his wickedness, and that shall finish his last end.

²⁶ And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain.

²⁷ For the two that remain shall be slain with the sword.

²⁸ For the sword of the one shall devour the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himself.

²⁹ And whereas thou sawest ^mtwo feathers under the wings passing over the head that is on the right side;

³⁰ It signifieth that these are they whom the Highest hath kept unto their end: this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest.

³¹ And the lion, ⁿwhom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness with all the words which thou hast heard;

³² This is the ^oanointed, which the Highest hath kept for them and for their wickedness unto the end: he shall ^areprove them, and shall upbraid them with their cruelty.

³³ For he shall set them before him alive in judgment, and shall rebuke them and correct them.

³⁴ For the rest of my people shall he ^bdeliver with mercy, those that have been preserved upon my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the day of judgment, whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning.

³⁵ This is ^cthe dream that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.

³⁶ Thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Highest.

³⁷ Therefore ^dwrite all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and hide them:

³⁸ And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keep these secrets.

³⁹ But wait thou here thyself yet ^eseven days more, that it may be shewed thee, whatsoever it pleaseth the Highest to declare unto thee. And with that he went his way.

⁴⁰ And it came to pass, when all the people saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and said, ⁴¹ What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou forsakest us, and sittest here in this place?

⁴² For of all the ^{||} prophets thou ^fonly art left us, as a cluster of the vintage, and as a candle in a dark place, and as a haven or ship preserved from the tempest.

⁴³ Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient?

⁴⁴ If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had ^gbeen burned in the midst of Sion?

⁴⁵ For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. Then answered I them, and said,

⁴⁶ Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heavy, thou house of Jacob:

⁴⁷ For the Highest hath you ^hin remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.

⁴⁸ As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for the ⁱlow estate of your sanctuary.

⁴⁹ And now go your way home every man, and after these days will I come unto you.

⁵⁰ So the people went their way into the city, like as I commanded them:

⁵¹ But I remained still in the field seven days, as ^jthe angel commanded me; and did eat only in those days of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

CHAP. XIII.

¹ He seeth in his dream a man coming out of the sea. ²⁵ The declaration of his dream. ⁵⁴ He is praised, and promised to see more.

AND it came to pass after seven days, I ^adreamed a dream by night:

² And lo, there arose ^{||} a wind from the sea, that it moved all the waves thereof.

⁴ And whensoever the voice went out of his mouth, all they burned that heard his voice, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

⁵ And after this I beheld, and lo, there was gathered together a multitude of men, out of number, from ^dthe four winds of the heaven, to subdue the man that came out of the sea.

⁶ But I beheld, and lo, he had graved himself a great mountain, and flew up upon it.

⁷ But I would have seen the region or place whereout the hill was graven, and I could not.

⁸ And after this I beheld, and lo, all they which were gathered together to ^esubdue him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight.

⁹ And lo, as he saw the violence of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held sword, nor any instrument of war:

¹⁰ But only I saw that he sent ^fout of his mouth as it had been a blast of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast out sparks and tempests.

¹¹ And they were all mixed together; the blast of fire, the flaming breath, and the great tempest; and fell with violence upon the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only dust and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was afraid.

12 Afterward I saw the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him another peaceable multitude.

13 And there came much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sick through great fear, and I awaked, and said,

14 Thou hast showed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldst receive my prayer:

15 Show me now yet the interpretation of this dream.

16 For as I conceived in mine understanding, woe unto them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe unto them that are not left behind!

17 For they that were not left were in heaviness.

18 Now understand I the things that are laid up in the latter days which shall happen unto them, and to those that are left behind.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare.

20 Yet is it easier for him that is in danger to come into these things, than to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that happen in the last days. And he answered unto me, and said,

21 The interpretation of the vision shall I shew thee, and I will open unto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation:

23 He that shall endure the peril in that time hath kept himself: they that be fallen into danger are such as have works, and faith toward the Almighty.

24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead.

25 This is the meaning of the vision: Whereas thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea:

26 The same is he whom God the Highest hath kept a great season, which by his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of wind, and fire, and storm;

28 And that he held neither sword, nor any instrument of war, but that the rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to subdue him; this is the interpretation:

29 Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.

30 And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.

31 And one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.

32 And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall my Son be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

33 And when all the people hear his voice, every man shall in their own land leave the battle they have one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest them, willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Zion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill graven without hands.

37 And this my Son shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest:

38 And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like unto fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable multitude unto him;

40 Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmanasar the king of Assyria led away captive, and he carried them over the waters, and so came they into another land.

41 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt,
42 That they might there keep their statutes, which they never kept in their own land.
43 And they entered into Euphrates by the narrow passages of the river.
44 For the Most High then shewed signs for them, and held still the flood, till they were passed over.
45 For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called Arsareth.
46 Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they shall begin to come,
47 The Highest shall stay the springs of the stream again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.
48 But those that be left behind of thy people, are they that are found within my borders.
49 Now when he destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together he shall defend his people that remain.
50 And then shall he show them great wonders.
51 Then said I, O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: Wherefore have I seen the man coming up from the midst of the sea?
52 And he said unto me, Like as thou canst neither seek out nor know the things that are in the deep of the sea: even so can no man upon earth see my Son, or those that be with him, but in the day-time.
53 This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here lightened.
54 For thou hast forsaken thine own way, and applied thy diligence unto my law, and sought it.
55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and hast called understanding thy mother.
56 And therefore have I shewed thee the treasures of the Highest: after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things.
57 Then went I forth into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, which he did in time;
58 And because he governeth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sat three days.

CHAP. XIV.

2 A voice out of a bush calleth Esdras, and telleth him that the world waxeth old. 22 He desireth, because the law was burnt, to write all again, and is bid to get swift writers. 39 He and they are filled with understanding. 45 But he is charged not to publish all that is written.

AND it came to pass upon the third day, I sat under an oak, and behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord. And I stood up upon my feet.

3 Then said he unto me, In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself unto Moses, and talked with him, when my people served in Egypt:

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him up to the mount of Sinai, where I held him by me a long season,

5 And told him many wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end; and commanded him, saying,

6 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say unto thee,

8 That thou lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard:

9 For thou shalt be taken away from all, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with my Son, and with such as be like thee, until the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to wax old.

11 For the world is divided into twelve parts, and the ten parts of it are gone already, and half of a tenth part:

12 And there remaineth that which is after the half of the tenth part:

13 Now therefore set thy house in order, and reprove thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption.

14 Let go from thee mortal thoughts, cast away the burdens of man, put off now the weak nature,

15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heavy unto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times.

16 For yet greater evils than those which thou hast seen happen shall be done hereafter.

17 For look how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein.

18 For the truth is fled far away, and leasing is hard at hand: for now hasteth the vision to come which thou hast seen.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said,

20 Behold, Lord, I will go, as thou hast commanded me, and reprove the people which are present: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? thus the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall begin.

22 But if I have found grace before thee, send the Holy Ghost into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, which were written in thy law, that men may find thy path, and that they which will live in the latter days may live.

23 And he answered me, saying, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, that they seek thee not for forty days.

24 But look thou prepare thee many || box-trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, || Ecanus, and Asiel, these five which are ready to write swiftly;

25 And come hither, and I shall light a candle of understanding in thy heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish, and some things shalt thou shew secretly to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then went I forth as he commanded, and gathered all the people together, and said, 28 Hear these words, O Israel.

29 Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were delivered:

30 And received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them.

31 Then was the land, even the land of Sion, parted among you by lot: but your fathers, and ye yourselves, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Highest commanded you.

32 And forasmuch as he is a righteous judge, he took from you in time the thing that he had given you.

33 And now are ye here and your brethren among you.

34 Therefore if so be that ye will subdue your own understanding, and reform your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy.

35 For after death shall the judgment come, when we shall live again: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the works of the ungodly shall be declared.

36 Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me these forty days.

37 So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went into the field, and remained there.

38 And the next day, behold, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink.

39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.

40 And I took it, and drank; and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit strengthened my memory:

41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.

42 The Highest gave understanding unto the five men, and they wrote the wonderful visions of the night that were told, which they knew not: and they sat forty days, and they wrote in the day, and at night they ate bread.

43 As for me, I spake in the day, and I held not my tongue by night.

44 In forty days they wrote || two hundred and four books.

45 And it came to pass, when the forty days were fulfilled,

CHAP. XV.

i This prophecy is certain. 5 God will take vengeance upon the wicked, and upon Egypt. 28 A horrible vision. 43 Babylon and Asia are threatened.

BEHOLD, speak thou in the ears of my people the words of prophecy, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord:

2 And cause them to be written in paper: for they are faithful and true.

3 Fear not the imaginations against thee; let not the incredulity of them trouble thee, that speak against thee.

4 For all the unfaithful shall die in their unfaithfulness.

5 Behold, saith the Lord, I will bring plagues upon the world; the sword, famine, death, and destruction.

6 For wickedness hath exceedingly polluted the whole earth, and their hurtful works are fulfilled.

7 Therefore saith the Lord,

8 I will hold my tongue no more as touching their wickedness which they profanely commit, neither will I suffer them in those things in which they wickedly exercise themselves: behold, the innocent and righteous blood crieth unto me, and the souls of the just complain continually.

9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely avenge them, and receive unto me all the innocent blood from among them.

10 Behold, my people is led as a flock to the slaughter: I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:

11 I will bring them with a mighty hand and a stretched-out arm, and smite Egypt with plagues, as before, and will destroy all the land thereof.

12 Egypt shall mourn, and the foundation of it shall be smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring upon it.

13 They that till the ground shall mourn: for their seeds shall fail through the blasting and hail, and with a fearful constellation.

14 Woe to the world, and them that dwell therein!

15 For the sword and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stand up to fight against another, and swords in their hands.

16 For there shall be sedition among men, and invading one another; they shall not regard their kings nor princes, and the course of their actions shall stand in their power.

17 A man shall desire to go into a city, and shall not be able.

18 For because of their pride the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall be destroyed, and men shall be afraid.

19 A man shall have no pity upon his neighbour, but shall destroy their houses with the sword, and spoil their goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

20 Behold, saith God, I will call together all the kings of the earth to reverence me, which are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them.

21 Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God, 22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth.

23 The fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled.

24 Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord:

25 I will not spare them: go your way, ye children, from the power, defile not my sanctuary,

26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sin against him, and therefore delivereth he them unto death and destruction.

27 For now are the plagues come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you because ye have sinned against him.

28 Behold a horrible vision, and the appearance thereof from the east:

29 Where the nations of the dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and the multitude of them shall be carried as the wind upon earth, that all they which hear them may fear and tremble.

30 Also the Carmanians raging in wrath shall go forth as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.

31 And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them,

32 Then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall flee.

33 And from the land of the Assyrians shall the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their host shall be fear and dread, and strife among their kings.

34 Behold clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm.

35 They shall smite one upon another, and they shall smite down a great multitude of stars upon the earth, even their own star; and blood shall be from the sword unto the belly,

36 And dung of men unto the camel's hough.

37 And there shall be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.

38 And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.

39 And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open it, and the cloud which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear towards the east and west wind, shall be destroyed.

40 The great and mighty clouds shall be lifted up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent place a horrible star,

41 Fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of great waters.

42 And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.

43 And they shall go steadfastly unto Babylon, and make her afraid.

44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail her.

45 And they that remain under her shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.

46 And thou, Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:

47 Woe be unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; and hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired to commit whoredom with thee!

48 Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God, 49 I will send plagues upon thee; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.

50 And the glory of thy power shall be dried up as a flower, when the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.

51 Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive thee.

52 Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord,

53 If thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, and saying over their dead, when thou wast drunken,

54 Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?

55 The reward of thy whoredom shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompense.

56 Like as thou hast done unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief.

57 Thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.

CHAP. XVI.

¹Babylon and other places are threatened with plagues that cannot be avoided, and with desolation. ⁴⁰The servants of the Lord must look for troubles; and not hide their sins, but leave them, and they shall be delivered.

WOE be unto thee, Babylon, and Asia! woe be unto thee, Egypt, and Syria!

2 Gird up yourselves with cloths of sack and hair, bewail your children, and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?

5 Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?

6 May any man drive away a hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn?

7 May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

8 The mighty Lord sendeth the plagues, and who is he that can drive them away?

9 A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?

10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

11 The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundation of the earth.

16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward: even so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth shall not return again.

17 Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?

18 The beginning of sorrows and great mournings; the beginning of famine and great dearth; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils! what shall I do when these evils shall come?

19 Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish, are sent as scourges for amendment.

20 But for all these things they shall not turn from their wickedness, nor be always mindful of thy scourges.

21 Behold, victuals shall be so good, cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.

22 For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the others that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy.

23 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast down.

24 There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.

25 The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them?

26 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men;

27 So that one man shall desire to see another, and to hear his voice.

28 For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.
 29 As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there are left three or four olives ;
 30 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some clusters of them that diligently seek through the vineyard :
 31 Even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword.
 32 And the earth shall be laid waste, and the fields thereof shall wax old, and her ways and all her paths shall grow full of thorns, because no man shall travel there-through.
 33 The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms ; the women shall mourn, having no husbands ; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers.
 34 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.
 35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord.
 36 Behold the word of the Lord, receive it: believe not the gods of whom the Lord spake.
 37 Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slack.
 38 As when a woman with child in the ninth month bringeth forth her son, within two or three hours of her birth great pains compass her womb, which pains, when the child cometh forth, they slack not a moment :
 39 Even so shall not the plagues be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall mourn, and sorrows shall come upon it on every side.
 40 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth.
 41 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away : and he that buyeth, as one that will lose :
 42 He that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it : and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein :
 43 He that soweth, as if he should not reap : so also he that planteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes :
 44 They that marry, as they that shall get no children : and they that marry not, as the widowers.
 45 And therefore they that labour, labour in vain.
 46 For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captives, for in captivity and famine shall they get children.
 47 And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons :
 48 The more will I be angry with them for their sin, saith the Lord.
 49 Like as a whore envieth a right honest and virtuous woman :
 50 So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.
 51 And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof.
 52 For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.
 53 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned : for God shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith before the Lord God and his glory, I have not sinned.

 54 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts :
 55 Which spake but the word, Let the earth be made : and it was made : Let the heaven be made ; and it was created.
 56 In his word were the stars made, and he knoweth the number of them.
 57 He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof ; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.
 58 He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he changed the earth upon the waters.
 59 He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault ; upon the waters hath he founded it.
 60 In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth.
 61 He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding.
 62 Yea, and the Spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth,
 63 Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what ye think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin.
 64 Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame.
 65 And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.
 66 What will ye do ? or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels ?
 67 Behold, God himself is the judge, fear him : leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever : so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.
 68 For behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you, being idle, with things offered unto idols.
 69 And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and trodden under foot.
 70 For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord.
 71 They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but still spoiling and destroying those that fear the Lord.
 72 For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses.
 73 Then shall they be known who are my chosen ; and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.
 74 Hear, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord ; behold the days of trouble are at hand, but I will deliver you from the same.
 75 Be ye not afraid, neither doubt ; for God is your guide,
 76 And the guide of them who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God : let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.
 77 Woe be unto them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities, like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through !
 78 It is left undressed, and is cast into the fire to be consumed therewith.

TOBIT.

CHAP. I.

1 Tobit's stock and devotion in his youth. 9 His marriage and captivity. 13 His preferment, alms and charity in burying the dead; for which he is accused and fleeth, and after returneth to Nineve.

THE book of the words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe of Nephthali ;
 2 Who in the time of Enemessar king of the Assyrians was led captive out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called properly Nephthali in Galilee above Aser.
 3 I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the way of truth and justice, and I did many alms-deeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.
 4 And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, being but young, all the tribe of Nephthali my father fell from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the Most High was consecrated and built for all ages.

 5 Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali, sacrificed unto the heifer Baal.
 6 But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree, having the first fruits and tenths of increase, with that which was first shorn ; and them gave I at the altar to the priests the children of Aaron.
 7 The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of Aaron, who ministered at Jerusalem : another tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it every year at Jerusalem :

8 And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, ^{as} Debora my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father.

9 Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine ^{own} kindred, and of her I begat Tobias.

10 And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles.

11 But I kept [†] myself from eating;

12 Because I remembered God with all my heart.

13 And the Most High gave me grace and favor before Enemessar, so that I was his [†] purveyor.

14 And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, ^{||} at Rages, a city of Media, ten talents of silver.

15 Now when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; [†] whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Media.

16 And in the time of Enemessar I gave many alms to my brethren, ^{and} gave my bread to the hungry,

17 And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast ^{||} about the walls of Nineve, I buried him.

18 And if the king Sennacherib had slain any, when he was come, and [†] fled from Judea, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he killed many; but the bodies were not found, when they were sought for of the king.

19 And when one of the Ninevites went and complained of me to the king, that I buried them, and hid myself; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, ^m I withdrew myself for fear.

20 Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there anything left me, besides my wife Anna and my son Tobias.

21 And there passed not five and fifty days before two of his sons ^{and} killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath; and ^{||} Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his father's accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus, my brother Anael's son.

22 And Achiacharus entreating for me, I returned to ^o Nineve. Now Achiacharus was ^o cup-bearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward and overseer of the accounts: and ^{||} Sarchedonus appointed him next unto him: and he was my brother's son.

CHAP. II.

¹ Tobit leaveth his meat to bury the dead, and becometh blind. ¹¹ His wife taketh in work to get her living. ¹⁴ Her husband and she fall out about a kid.

NOW when I was come home again, and ^o my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is ^b the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in the which I sat down to eat.

2 And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go and bring what ^o poor man soever thou shalt find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and lo, I tarry for thee.

3 But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the market-place.

4 Then before I had tasted of any meat, I started up, and took him up into a room until the going down of the sun.

5 Then I returned, and washed myself, and ate my meat in heaviness.

6 Remembering that prophecy of ^o Amos, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.

7 Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun I went ^{and} made a grave, and buried him.

8 But my neighbors mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this matter: ^o who fled away; and yet lo, he burieth the dead again.

9 The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my court-yard, ^o being polluted, and my face was uncovered:

10 And I knew not that there were ^{||} sparrows in the wall, and mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and ^{||} a whiteness came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, but they helped me not: moreover, Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elymais.

11 And my wife Anna ^{||} did take women's works to do.

12 And when she had sent ^{||} them home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid.

13 And when it was in my house, and began to cry, I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stolen? render it to the owners; ^o for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen.

CHAP. III.

¹ Tobit, grieved with his wife's taunts, prayeth. ⁷ Sara, reproached by her father's maids, prayeth also. ¹⁷ An angel is sent to help them both.

THEN I being grieved ^{and} did weep, and in my sorrow prayed saying,

2 O Lord, thou art just, ^{and} all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest truly and justly for ever.

3 Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sins and ignorances, ^{and} the sins of my fathers, who have sinned before thee:

4 For they obeyed not thy commandments: wherefore thou hast delivered us for a spoil, and unto captivity, and unto death, ^{and} for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.

5 And now thy ^o judgments are many and true: deal with me according to my sins and my fathers': because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.

6 Now therefore deal with me ^{as} seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be ^{||} dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow: command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the ^o everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

7 It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane a city of Media, Sara the daughter of Raguel was also reproached by her father's maids;

8 Because that she had been married to ^o seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evil spirit had killed before they had lien with her. Dost thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.

9 Wherefore dost thou beat us for them? if they be dead, go thy ways after them, let us never see of thee either son or daughter.

10 When she heard these things, she was very sorrowful, so that she thought to have ^o strangled herself; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring his old age with sorrow unto the grave.

11 Then ^o she prayed towards the window, and said, Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and thy holy and glorious name is blessed and honorable forever: ^o let all thy works praise thee for ever.

12 And now, O Lord, I set mine eyes and my face towards thee, ^{and} say, ^m Take me out of the earth, that I may hear no more the reproach.

14 Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man,

15 And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of ^o my father, in the land of my captivity; I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to be his heir, neither any ^{||} near kinsman, nor any son of his alive to whom I may keep myself for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead; ^{and} why should I live? but if it please not thee that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.

16 So the prayers of them both ^o were heard before the majesty of the great God.

17 And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the ^o whiteness of Tobit's eyes, and to give ^o Sara the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind ^o Asmodeus the evil spirit; because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The self-same time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

CHAP. IV.

³ Tobit giveth instructions to his son Tobias, and telleth him of money left with Gabael in Media.

IN that day Tobit remembered the ^o money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media,

2 And said within himself, ^bI have wished for death; wherefore do I not call for my son Tobias, that I may signify to him of the money before I die?

3 And when he had called him, he said, My son, when I am dead, bury me; and despise not thy mother, ^cbut honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.

4 Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb; and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.

5 My son, ^abe mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin, or to transgress his commandments: do ^euprightly all thy life long, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness.

6 For if thou deal truly, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that live justly.

7 ^fGive alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious, neither turn thy face from any poor, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.

8 If thou hast abundance, ^ggive alms accordingly: if thou have but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little:

9 For thou layest up a good ^htreasure for thyself against the day of necessity.

10 ⁱBecause that alms do deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness.

11 For alms is a good gift unto all that give it in the sight of the Most High.

12 Beware of all ^kwhoredom, my son, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a ^lstrange woman to wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the children of the prophets, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: remember, my son, that our fathers from the beginning, even that they all married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.

13 Now therefore, my son, love ^mthy brethren, and despise not in thy heart thy brethren, the sons and daughters of thy people, in ⁿnot taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction and much trouble, and in lewdness is decay and great want: for lewdness is the mother of famine.

14 Let not the ^owages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tarry with thee, but give him it out of hand: for if thou serve God, he will also repay thee: be ^pcircumspect, my son, in all things thou doest, and be wise in all thy conversation.

15 ^qDo that to no man which thou hatest: drink not wine to make thee drunken: neither let drunkenness go with thee in thy journey.

16 ^rGive of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked; and according to thine abundance ^sgive alms; and let not thine eye be envious, when thou givest alms.

17 Pour out thy bread on the burial of the just, but give nothing to the wicked.

18 Ask counsel of all that are wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable.

19 ^tBless the Lord thy God always, and desire of him that thy ways may be directed, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will; now therefore, my son, remember my commandments, neither let them be put out of thy mind.

20 And now I signify this to thee, that ^uI committed ten talents to Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages in Media.

21 And fear not, my son, that we are made poor: for thou hast much wealth, if thou ^vfear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

CHAP. V.

⁴ Young Tobias seeketh a guide into Media. ⁶ The angel will go with him, and saith he is his kinsman. ¹⁶ Tobias and the angel depart together. ¹⁷ But his mother is grieved for her son's departing.

TOBIAS then answered and said, ^aFather, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me,

2 But how can I receive the ^bmoney, seeing I know him not?

3 Then he gave him the hand-writing, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which may go with thee, while I yet live, and I will give him wages: and go and receive the money.

4 Therefore when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.

|| Or, let not money be added, but be the off-scouring of our son. || Or, So long as God hath granted us to live this is sufficient. ⁿ Ps. 121. 7, 8.

5 But he knew not; and he said unto him, Canst thou go with me to ^eRages? and knowest thou those places well?

6 To whom the angel said, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: for I have lodged with our brother ^aGabael.

7 Then Tobias said unto him, Tarry for me, till I tell my father.

8 Then he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 So he called him, and he came in, and they ^esaluted one another.

10 Then Tobit said unto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.

11 To whom he said, Dost thou seek for a tribe or family, or a hired man to go with thy son? Then Tobit said unto him, ^fI would know, brother, thy kindred and name.

12 Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.

13 Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother; be not now angry with me, because I have inquired to know thy tribe and thy family; for thou art my brother, of an honest and good stock: for I know Ananias and Jonathas, sons of that great Samaias, as we ^gwent together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the first-born, and the tenths of the fruits: and they were not seduced ^hwith the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a good stock.

14 But tell me, ⁱwhat wages shall I give thee? wilt thou a drachm a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son?

15 Yea, moreover, if ye return safe, I will add something to thy wages.

16 So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, ^kand God send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God, which dwelleth in heaven, prosper your journey, and the ^langel of God keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young man's dog with them.

17 But ^mAnna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our son? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?

18 || Be not greedy to add money to money, but let it be as refuse in respect of our child.

19 || For that which the Lord hath given us to live with, doth suffice us.

20 Then said Tobit to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return in safety, and thine eyes shall see him.

21 For the good angel will keep him company, and his journey shall be prosperous, ⁿand he shall return safe.

22 Then she made an end of weeping.

CHAP. VI.

⁴ The angel biddeth Tobias to take the liver, heart, and gall out of a fish, and to marry Sara the daughter of Raguel. ¹⁶ He teacheth how to drive the wicked spirit away.

AND as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, ^aand they lodged there.

2 And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.

3 Then the ^bangel said unto him, Take the fish. And the young man laid hold of the fish, || and drew it to land.

4 To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely.

5 So the young man did as the angel commanded him; and when they had roasted the fish, they did eat it: then they both went on their way, till they drew near to ^cEcbatane.

6 Then the young man said to the angel, Brother ^dAzarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish?

7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed.

8 As for the gall, ^eit is good to anoint a man that hath ^ewhiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 And when they were come near to Rages,

10 The angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with ^fRaguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter, named Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given thee for a wife.

11 For to thee doth the right of her appertain, seeing thou only art of her kindred.

12 And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another according to the law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance doth rather appertain to thee than to any other.

13 Then the young man answered the angel, I have heard, brother Azarias, that this maid hath been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber.

14 And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest, if I go in unto her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit loveth her, which hurteth no body, but those which come unto her: wherefore I also fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life, because of me, to the grave with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.

15 Then the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldst marry a wife of thine own kindred? wherefore hear me, O my brother; for she shall be given thee to wife; and make thou no reckoning of the evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.

16 And when thou shalt come into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of perfume, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke with it:

17 And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, and pray to God which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning; and thou shalt preserve her, and she shall go with thee. Moreover, I suppose that she shall bear thee children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was effectually joined to her.

CHAP. VII.

Raguel telleth Tobias what had happened to his daughter. 12 He giveth her in marriage unto him. 17 She is conveyed to her chamber, and weepeth. 18 Her mother comforteth her.

AND when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, and Sara met them; and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.

2 Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin!

3 And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? To whom they said, we are of the sons of Nephthali, which are captives in Nineve.

4 Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?

5 And they said, He is both alive and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.

6 Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept,

7 And blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man: but when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful, and wept.

8 And likewise Edna his wife and Sara his daughter wept. Moreover, they entertained them cheerfully; and after that they had killed a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let this business be despatched.

9 So he communicated the matter with Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry:

10 For it is meet that thou shouldst marry my daughter: nevertheless, I will declare unto thee the truth.

11 I have given my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless, for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, till we agree and swear one to another.

12 Raguel said, Then take her from henceforth according to the manner, for thou art her cousin, and she is thine, and the merciful God give you good success in all things.

13 Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after the law of Moses and lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them;

14 And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of covenants, and sealed it.

15 Then they began to eat.

16 After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.

17 Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her,

18 Be of good comfort, my daughter; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

CHAP. VIII.

Tobias driveth the wicked spirit away, as he was taught. 4 He and his wife rise up to pray. 10 Raguel thought he was dead, but finding him alive, praiseth God, and maketh a wedding feast.

AND when they had supped, they brought Tobias in unto her.

2 And as he went he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith.

3 The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him.

4 And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that God would have pity on us.

5 Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures.

6 Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for a helper and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone; let us make unto him an aid like unto himself.

7 And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain that we may become aged together.

8 And she said with him, Amen.

9 So they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and made a grave,

10 Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.

11 But when Raguel was come into his house,

12 He said unto his wife Edna, Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive: if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.

13 So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep,

14 And came forth, and told them that he was alive.

15 Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise; therefore let thy saints praise thee with all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect praise thee for ever.

16 Thou art to be praised, for thou hast made me joyful; And that is not come to me which I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.

17 Thou art to be praised, because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only-begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.

18 Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.

19 And he kept the wedding-feast fourteen days.

20 For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raguel had said unto him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired;

21 And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

CHAP. IX.

Tobias sendeth the angel unto Gabael for the money. 6 The angel bringeth it and Gabael to the wedding.

THEN Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him,

2 Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media, to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.

3 For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.

4 But my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be very sorry.

5 So Raphael went out, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the hand-writing: who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.

6 And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding: and || Tobias blessed his wife.

CHAP. X.

¹ Tobias and his wife long for their son. ⁷ She will not be comforted by her husband. ¹⁰ Raguel sendeth Tobias and his wife away with half of his goods, and blesseth them.

NOW Tobit his father counted every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not, ² Then Tobit said, Are they detained? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money?

³ Therefore he was very sorry.

⁴ Then his wife said unto him, My son is dead, seeing he stayeth long; and she began to bewail him, and said,

⁵ Now, ^b I care for nothing, my son, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes.

⁶ To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, take no care, for he is safe.

⁷ But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not; my son is dead. And she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.

⁸ But his father-in-law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee.

⁹ But Tobias said, No; but let me go to my father.

¹⁰ Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money:

¹¹ And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.

¹² And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother-in-law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee. And he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, my dear brother, and grant that I may see thy children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoice before the Lord: behold, I commit my daughter unto thee || of special trust: wherefore do not entreat her evil.

CHAP. XI.

⁶ Tobias's mother spieth her son coming. ¹⁰ His father meeteth him at the door, and recovereth his sight. ¹⁴ He praiseth God, and welcometh his daughter-in-law.

AFTER these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near unto Nineve.

² Then Raphael said to Tobias, thou knowest, brother, how thou didst leave thy father:

³ Let us haste before thy wife, and prepare the house.

⁴ And take in thy hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog went after them.

⁵ Now Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son.

⁶ And when she espied him coming, she said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him.

⁷ Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes.

⁸ Therefore anoint thou his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see thee.

⁹ Then Anna ran forth, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, Seeing I have seen thee, my son, from henceforth I am content to die. And they wept both.

¹⁰ Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled; but his son ran unto him,

¹¹ And took hold of his father; and he strake of the gall on his father's eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.

¹² And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them;

¹³ And the whiteness pilled away from the corners of his eyes: and when he saw his son, he fell upon his neck.

¹⁴ And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever; and blessed are all thy holy angels:

¹⁵ For thou hast scourged, and hast taken pity on me: for behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

¹⁶ Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter-in-law at the gate of Nineve, rejoicing, and praising God: and they which saw him go marvelled because he had received his sight.

¹⁷ But Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter-in-law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed be thy father and thy mother. And there was joy among all his brethren which were at Nineve.

¹⁸ And Achiacharus, || and Nasbas his brother's son, came:

¹⁹ And Tobias's wedding was kept seven days with great joy.

CHAP. XII.

⁵ Tobit offereth half to the angel for his pains. ⁶ But he calleth them both aside, and exhorteth them. ¹⁵ He telleth them that he was an angel, and was seen no more.

THEN Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, My son, see that the man have his wages, which went with thee, and thou must give him more.

² And Tobias said unto him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought:

³ For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise healed thee.

⁴ Then the old man said, It is due unto him.

⁵ So he called the angel, and he said unto him, Take half of all that ye have brought, and go away in safety.

⁶ Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him, and magnify him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all that live. It is good to praise God, and exalt his name, and || honourably to shew forth the works of God; therefore be not slack to praise him.

⁷ It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you.

⁸ Prayer is good with fasting, and alms, and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold:

⁹ For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life:

¹⁰ But they that sin are enemies to their own life.

¹¹ Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.

¹² Now therefore, when thou didst pray, and Sara thy daughter-in-law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.

¹³ And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner to go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee.

¹⁴ And now God hath sent me to heal thee and Sara thy daughter-in-law.

¹⁵ I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One.

¹⁶ Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces: for they feared.

¹⁷ But he said unto them, Fear not, for it shall go well with you; praise God therefore.

¹⁸ For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God I came: wherefore praise him for ever.

¹⁹ All these days I did appear unto you; but I did neither eat nor drink, but ye did see a vision.

²⁰ Now therefore give God thanks; for I go up to him that sent me; but write all things which are done in a book.

²¹ And when they arose, they saw him no more.

²² Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

CHAP. XIII.

The thanksgiving unto God, which Tobit wrote.

THEN Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing, and said, Blessed be God that liveth forever, and blessed be his kingdom.

² For he doth scourge, and hath mercy: he leadeth down to hell, and bringeth up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand.

3 ^aConfess him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel : for he hath scattered us among them.

4 There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Lord, and he is the God our Father for ever.

5 And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.

6 ^aIf ye turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a sinful nation. O ye sinners, turn and do justice before him: ^awho can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?

7 I will extol my God, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoice in his greatness.

8 Let all men speak, ^aand let all praise him for his righteousness.

9 O Jerusalem, the holy city, ^ahe will scourge thee for thy children's works, and will have mercy again on the sons of the righteous.

10 Give praise to the Lord, ^afor he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy, and ^alet him make joyful there in thee those that are captives, and love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

11 ^aMany nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God ^awith gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; all generations shall praise thee with great joy.

12 Cursed are all they which hate thee, and blessed shall all be which love thee for ever.

13 Rejoice and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Lord of the just.

14 O blessed are they which love thee, ^afor they shall rejoice in thy ^apeace: blessed are they which have been sorrowful for all thy scourges; for they shall rejoice for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.

15 Let ^amy soul bless God the great King.

16 For Jerusalem shall be built up with ^asapphires, and emeralds, and precious stone: thy walls, and towers, and battlements, with pure gold.

17 And the ^astreets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl, and carbuncle, and stones of Ophir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Alleluia; and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God, which hath extolled it for ever.

sight, which was restored to him after eight years: ^aand he gave alms, and he ^aincreased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him.

3 And when he was very aged, ^ahe called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take thy children; for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.

4 Go into Media, my son, for I surely believe those things which ^aJonas the prophet spake of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown; and that for a time peace shall rather be in ^aMedia; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land: and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time;

5 ^aAnd that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, ^abut not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it ^afor ever with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof.

6 And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truly, ^aand shall bury their idols.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confess God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren.

8 And now, my son, ^adepart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to pass.

9 But keep thou the law and the commandments, ^aand shew thyself merciful and just, that it may go well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; but tarry no longer at Nineve. Remember, my son, how Aman handled ^aAchiacharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achiacharus was ^asaved, but the other had his reward: for he went down into darkness. ^aManasses gave alms, and escaped the snares of death ^awhich they had set for him; but Aman fell into the snare, and perished.

11 Wherefore now, my son, ^aconsider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and ^ahe buried him honourably.

12 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to ^aEcbatane to ^aRaguel his father-in-law, 13 Where he became old with honour, and he buried his father and mother-in-law honourably, and he ^ainherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.

14 And he died at Ecbatane in Media, ^abeing a hundred and seven and twenty years old.

15 But before he died, he heard of ^athe destruction of Nineve, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus: and before his death he rejoiced over Nineve.

^a Arphaxad doth fortify Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor maketh war against him, and craveth aid. 12 He threateneth those that would not aid him, and killeth Arphaxad, and returneth to Nineve.

IN the twelfth year of the reign of ^aNabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve, ^athe great city; in the days of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecbatane,

2 And built in Ecbatane ^awalls round about of stones hewn three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:

3 And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it, a hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation three-score cubits:

4 And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen:

5 Even in those days king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.

6 And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill-country, and all they that dwelt by ^aEuphrates, and Tigris, and Hydaspes, and the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymeans, and very many nations of the sons of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battle.

7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in ^aPersia, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea-coast,

8 And to those among the nations that were of Carmel, and Galaad, and the higher ^aGalilee, and the great plain of Esdrelom,

9 And to all that were in ^aSamaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betana, and Chellus, and Kades; ^aand the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem,

10 Until ye come beyond Tanis and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, until ye come to the borders of ^aEthiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battle; for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and sware by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of ^kCilicia, and ^lDamascus, and ^mSyria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till ye come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battle-array with his power against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots,

14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the ⁿtowers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

15 He took also ^oArphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to ^pNineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations, being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army, a hundred and twenty days.

CHAP. II.

^q Holofernes is appointed general, and charged to spare none that will not yield. ^r His army and provision. ^s The places which he won and wasted as he went.

AND ^ain the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should, ^bas he said, avenge himself on all the earth.

2 So he called unto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and ^cconcluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy ^dall flesh that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.

4 And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, which was ^enext unto him, and said unto him,

5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen a hundred and twenty thousand; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand.

6 And thou shalt go against all the west country, because they disobeyed my commandment.

7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare for me ^fearth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them:

8 So that their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow:

9 And ^gI will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coasts: and if they will yield themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.

11 But concerning them that rebel, let not thine eye spare them; but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.

12 For ^has I live, and ⁱby the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by my hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgress none of the commandments of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and defer not to do them.

14 Then Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called ^jall the governors and captains, and the officers of the army of Assur;

15 And he mustered the chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, ^kunto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback;

16 And he ranged them, as a great army is ordered for the war.

17 ^lAnd he took camels and asses for their carriages, a very great number; and sheep, and oxen, and goats without number, for their provision:

18 And plenty of victual for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the king's house.

Then he went forth and all his power to go before king

Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and ^{to} cover all the face of the earth westward with the chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for the multitude was ^{without} number.

21 And they went forth of Nineve three days' journey towards the plain of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen, and chariots, and went from thence into the hill-country;

23 And destroyed ^{Phud} and ^{Lud}, and spoiled all the children of Rasses, and the children of ^{Ismael}, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians.

24 Then he went over Euphrates and went through ^{Mesopotamia}, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, till ye come to the sea.

25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were towards the south, over against Arabia.

26 He compassed also all the children of ^{Madian}, and burned up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-cotes.

27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascus in the time of ^{wheat} harvest, and burned up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, which were in ^{Sidon} and ^{Tyrus}, and them that dwelt in ^{Sur} and ^{Ocina}, and all that dwelt in ^{Jemnaan}; and they that dwelt in ^{Azotus} and ^{Ascalon} feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

¹ They of the sea-coast entreat for peace. ² Holofernes is received there, yet he destroyeth their gods, that they might worship only Nabuchodonosor. ³ He cometh near to Judea.

SO they sent ambassadors unto him to treat of peace, saying, 2 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor ^{the} great king lie before thee; use us as shall be good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses and all our places, ^{and} all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents, lie before thy face; use them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, even our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy servants; come and deal with them as seemeth good unto thee.

5 So the men came to ^{Holofernes}, and declared unto him after this manner.

6 Then came he down toward the sea-coast, both he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.

7 So they and all the country round about received them with ^{garlands}, with ^{dances}, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

9 Also he came over against ^{Esdraelon} near unto ^{Judea}, over against the ^{great} strait of Judea.

10 And he pitched between Geba and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole month, that he might gather together all the carriages of his army.

CHAP. IV.

¹ The Jews are afraid of Holofernes, and fortify the hills. ² They of Bethulia take charge of the passages. ³ All Israel fall to fasting and prayer.

NOW the children of Israel that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, ^{and} after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 ^{Therefore} they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were ^{troubled} for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God;

3 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people ^{of} Judea were lately gathered together: and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified ^{after} the profanation.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria and the villages, and to Bethoron, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba and Esora, and to the valley of Salem:

5 And possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war: for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Also Joacim the high priest, which was in those days in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwell in Bethulia, and Beto-mestham, which is over against || Esdraelon toward the || open country, near to Dothaim,

7 Charging them to keep the passages of the hill-country: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them that would come up, because the passage was strait, || for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joacim the high priest had commanded them, with the ||ancients of the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9 Then every man of Israel cried to God with great fer- vency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:

10 Both they, and their wives, and their children, and their cattle, and every stranger and hireling, and their servants bought with money, put sackcloth upon their loins.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar,

12 And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they which ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt-offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people,

15 And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

CHAP. V.

1 Achior telleth Holofernes what the Jews are, and what their God had done for them. 21 He adviseth not to meddle with them. 22 All that heard him were offended at him.

THEN was it declared to Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had pre- pared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill- country, and had fortified †all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the champaign countries:

2 Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea-coast,

3 And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Chanaan, who this people is that dwelleth in the hill-country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army;

4 And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more than all the inhabitants of the west.

5 Then said Achior, the captain of all the sons of Ammon, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will declare unto thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth near thee, and inhabiteth the hill-countries: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.

6 This people are descended of the Chaldeans:

7 And they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.

8 For they ||left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days.

9 Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan: where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low with labouring in brick, and made them slaves.

12 Then they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.

13 And God dried the Red sea before them,

14 And brought them †to mount Sina, and Cades-Barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Esebon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill-country.

16 And they cast forth before them the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, and the Schemite, and all the Gerge- sites, and they dwelt in that country many days.

17 And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hateth iniquity was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which he ap- pointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But now they are returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were scattered, and have pos- sessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill-country; for it was desolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error in this people, and they sin against their God, let us con- sider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.

21 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea-side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.

23 For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that have no strength nor power †for a strong battle.

24 Now therefore, lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army.

CHAP. VI.

1 Holofernes despiseth God; he threateneth Achior, and sendeth him away. 14 The Bethulians receive and hear him. 18 They fall to prayer, and comfort Achior.

AND when the tumult of men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Assur said unto Achior and all the Moabites before all the company of other nations,

2 And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the people of Israel, because their God will defend them? and who is God but Nabuchodonosor?

3 He will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our horses.

4 For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, saith king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth: for he said, None of my words shall be in vain.

5 And thou, Achior, a hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.

6 And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I return.

7 Now therefore my servants shall bring thee back into the hill-country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the pas- sages.

8 And thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou persuade thyself in thy mind that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.

10 Then Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain into the hill-country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up by casting of stones against them.

13 Nevertheless, having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.

14 But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the city:

15 Which were in those days Ozias the son of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothonial, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.

16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women, to the assembly, and they sat Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried unto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.

21 And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.

CHAP. VII.

Holofernes besiegeth Bethulia, and stoppeth the water from them. 22 They faint and murmur against the governors, who promise to yield within five days.

THE next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill-country, and to make war against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, besides the baggage, and other men that were afoot among them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against Esdraelom.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, are able to bear their weight.

5 Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia;

7 And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed toward his people.

8 Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the governors of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea-coast, and said,

9 Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine army.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle-array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain:

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.

14 So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwelt.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

17 So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill-country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east, over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land; and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty days, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day; for they gave them drink by measure.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, 24 God be judge between us and you: for ye have done us great injury, in that ye have not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.

27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, than to die for thirst: for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives nor our children to die.

28 We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy towards us; for he will not forsake us utterly.

31 And if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people, every one to their own charge, and they went unto the walls and towers of their city, and sent the women and children into their houses: and they were very low brought in the city.

CHAP. VIII.

The state and behaviour of Judith, a widow. 12 She blameth the governors for their promise to yield, and adviseth them to trust in God. 28 They excuse their promise. 32 She promiseth to do something for them.

NOW at that time Judith heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Acitho, the son of Eliu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathaneel, the son of Samael, the son of Salasadaï, the son of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband, of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley-harvest.

3 For as he stood overseeing them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia; and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months.

5 And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins, and ware her widow's apparel.

6 And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and solemn days of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and men-servants, and maid-servants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them.

8 And there was none that gave her an ill word; for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, that they fainted for lack of water; for Judith had heard the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days;

10 Then she sent her waiting woman, that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the ancients of the city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, O ye governors of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that ye have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you.

12 And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men?

13 And now try the Lord Almighty, but ye shall never know any thing.

14 For ye cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh: then how can ye search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemies.

16 Do not bind the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he may be threatened; neither is he as the son of man, that he should be wavering.

17 Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him.

18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these days, neither tribe nor family, nor people, nor city, among us, which worship gods made with hands, as hath been aforetime.

19 For the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other God, therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.

22 And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.

23 For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar, rest upon us.

25 Moreover, let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers.

26 Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother.

27 For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

28 Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.

31 Therefore now pray you for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Judith unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing which shall go throughout all generations to the children of our nation.

33 Ye shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waiting-woman: and within the days that ye have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by my hand.

34 But inquire not ye of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Ozias and the princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAP. IX.

1 Judith humbleth herself, and prayeth God to prosper her purpose against the enemies of his sanctuary.

THEN Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, Judith cried with a loud voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a maid to defile her, and discovered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and yet they did so:

3 Wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, so that they dyed their bed in blood, being deceived, and smoted the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones;

4 And hast given their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with thy zeal, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before and which ensued after; thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.

6 Yea, what things thou didst determine were ready at hand, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgments are in thy foreknowledge.

7 For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and man; they glory in the strength of their footmen; they trust in shield and spear, and bow and sling; and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battles: the Lord is thy name.

8 Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to defile thy sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword the horn of thine altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.

CHAP. X.

¹ Judith doth set forth herself. ¹⁰ She and her maid go forth into the camp. ¹⁷ The watch take and conduct her to Holofernes.

NOW after that she had ceased ^ato cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen down, and called ^bher maid, and went down into the house, in the which she abode in the sabbath-days, and in her feast-days,

3 And pulled off ^cthe sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a ^d†tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of ^eManasses her husband.

4 And she took sandals upon her feet, and ^eput about her her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her ear-rings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

5 Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread; so she ^{||}folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there ¹Ozias, and the ancients of the city, Chabris and Charmis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, ¹and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,

8 The God, ¹the God of our fathers, give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises, to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. Then they worshipped God.

9 And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye have spoken with me. So they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Judith went out, she, and her maid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, ¹and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the ¹Assyrians met her,

12 And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? ¹And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:

13 And I am coming before Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth; and I will shew him a way whereby he shall go, and win all the hill-country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, ¹they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thy heart, but shew unto him ¹according to thy word; and he will entreat thee well.

18 Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, till they told him of her.

19 ¹And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, ²Who would despise this people that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay near Holofernes went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into ¹the tent.

21 Now Holofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy, which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her; and he came out before his tent with silver lamps going before him.

23 And when Judith was come before him and his servants, ¹they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; ¹and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

CHAP. XI.

³ Holofernes asketh Judith the cause of her coming. ⁶ She telleth him how and when he may prevail. ²⁰ He is much pleased with her wisdom and beauty.

THEN said Holofernes unto her, Woman, ^abe of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, ^bthe king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore, if thy people ^cthat dwelleth in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for safeguard; ^abe of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter:

4 For none shall hurt thee, but entreat thee well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judith said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thy handmaid to speak in thy presence, ^aand I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thy handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to pass by thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.

7 As Nabuchodonosor ¹king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, ¹who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air, shall live by thy power ¹under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we have heard of thy wisdom and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou only art ^{||}excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war.

9 Now as concerning the matter, ¹which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia ^{||}saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee.

10 Therefore, O lord and governor, reject not his word; but ¹lay it up in thy heart, for it is true; for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God.

11 And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done:

12 For their victuals fail them, ¹and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things, that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws:

13 And are resolved to spend the first-fruits of the corn, and the tenths of wine and oil, which they had sanctified, ¹and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem before the face of our God; the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.

14 For they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell here have done the like, to bring them a license from the senate.

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Wherefore I thy handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence; and God hath sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it.

17 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins:

18 And I will come and shew it unto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee through the midst of Judea, until thou come before Jerusalem; and I will set thy throne in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee.

20 Then her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said,

21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other; both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Holofernes said unto her, God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

Judith will not eat of Holofernes' meat. 7 She tarrieth three days in the camp, and every night goeth forth to pray. 13 Bagoas moveth her to be merry with Holofernes, who for joy of her company drinketh much.

THEN he commanded to bring her in where his plate was set; and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.

2 And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence; but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.

3 Then Holofernes said unto her, If thy provision should fail, how should we give thee the like? for there be none with us of thy nation.

4 Then said Judith unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy handmaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was toward the morning watch,

6 And sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that thy handmaid may go forth unto prayer.

7 Then Holofernes commanded his guard that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three days, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself in a fountain of water by the camp.

8 And when she came out, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.

9 So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she did eat her meat at evening.

10 And in the fourth day Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.

11 Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.

12 For lo, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she will laugh us to scorn.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Holofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us, and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Judith unto him, Who am I now, that I should gainsay my lord? surely whatsoever pleaseth him I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy unto the day of my death.

15 So she arose, and decked herself with her apparel, and all her woman's attire, and her maid went and laid soft skins on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.

16 Now when Judith came in and sat down, Holofernes heart was ravished with her, and his mind was moved, and he desired greatly her company; for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.

17 Then said Holofernes unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us.

18 So Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born.

19 Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.

20 And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank much more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day, since he was born.

CHAP. XIII.

Judith is left alone with Holofernes in his tent. 4 She prayeth God to give her strength. 7 She cutteth off his head while he slept, and returneth with it to Bethulia. 17 They seeing it, commend her.

NOW when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord; and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.

2 And Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was filled with wine.

3 Now Judith had commanded her maid to stand without her bed-chamber, and to wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bed-chamber, neither little nor great. Then Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look at this present upon the works of my hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.

5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.

6 Then she came to the pillar of the bed which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his falchion from thence,

7 And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him,

9 And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid;

10 And she put it in her bag of meat: so they twain went together according to their custom unto prayer: and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then said Judith afar off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God, is with us, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.

12 Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.

13 And then they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.

14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise God, praise God, I say, for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hands this night.

15 So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, and behold the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Ozias unto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women upon the earth: and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.

20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our ruin, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

CHAP. XIV.

8 Achior heareth Judith shew what she had done, and is circumcised. 11 The head of Holofernes is hanged up. 15 He is found dead, and much lamented.

THEN said Judith unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.

2 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take ye every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set ye a captain over them, as though ye would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians; but go not down.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and they shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.

4 So ye and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.

5 But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us, as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; and when he was come, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and revered her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. Then Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all that she had done, from the day that she went forth until that hour she spake unto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.

10 And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel unto this day.

11 And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the straits of the mountain.

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent: for he thought that he had slept with Judith.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.

16 ||Therefore he cried with a loud voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After, he went into the tent where Judith lodged: and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried,

18 These slaves have dealt treacherously; one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground without a head.

19 When the captains of the Assyrians' army heard these words, they rent their coats, and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry and a very great noise throughout the camp.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Assyrians are chased and slain. 8 The high priest cometh to see Judith. 11 The stuff of Holofernes is given to Judith. 13 The women crown her with a garland.

AND when they that were in the tents heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.

2 And fear and trembling fell upon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out all together, they fled into every way of the plain, and of the hill-country.

3 They also that had camped in the mountains round about Bethulia fled away. Then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them.

4 Then sent Ozias to Betomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Cola, and to all the coasts of Israel, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.

5 Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell upon them with one consent, and slew them unto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem, and from all the hill-country, (for men had told them what things were done in the camp of their enemies,) and they that were in Galaad, and in Galilee, chased them with a great slaughter, until they were passed Damascus and the borders thereof.

6 And the residue, that dwelt in Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Assur, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.

7 And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter, had that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the mountains and in the plain, gat many spoils: for the multitude was very great.

8 Then Joacim the high priest, and the ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things that God had showed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her.

9 And when they came unto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our nation:

10 Thou hast done all these things by thy hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it.

11 And the people spoiled the camp the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes' tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuff: and she took it, and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.

12 Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.

13 And they put a garland of olive upon her and her maid that was with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The song of Judith. 19 She dedicateth the stuff of Holofernes. 23 She dieth at Bethulia, a widow of great honour. 24 All Israel lament her death.

THEN Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.

2 And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with cymbals: tune unto him a new psalm: exalt him, and call upon his name.

3 For God breaketh the battles: for among the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.

4 Assur came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.

5 He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.

6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans smite him, nor high giants set upon him: but Judith, the daughter of Merari, weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For she put off the garment of her widowhood for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a tirtre, and took a linen garment to deceive him.

9 Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the falchion passed through his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her boldness, and the Medes were daunted at her hardiness.

11 Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud; but they were astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.

12 The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives' children: they perished by the battle of the Lord.

13 I will sing unto the Lord a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderful in strength, and invincible.

14 Let all creatures serve thee; for thou spakest, and they were made, thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.

16 For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for thy burnt-offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.

17 Woe to the nations that rise up against my kindred! the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh; and they shall feel them, and weep for ever.

18 Now as soon as they entered into Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord: and as soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt-offerings, and their free-offerings, and their gifts.

19 Judith also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken out of his bed-chamber, for a gift unto the Lord.

20 So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them.

21 After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the country.

22 And many desired her, but none knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husband's house, being a hundred and five years old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses.

24 And the house of Israel lamented her seven days: and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

Mardocheus remembereth and expoundeth his dream of the river and the two dragons.

THEN Mardocheus said, God hath done these things. 5 For I remember a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.

6 A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water: this river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen.

7 And the two dragons are I and Aman.

8 And the nations were those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews:

9 And my nation is this Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all those evils, and God hath wrought signs and great wonders which have not been done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgment, before God among all nations.

12 So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, according to the generations forever among his people.

CHAP. XI.

3 The stock and quality of Mardocheus. 6 He dreameth of two dragons coming forth to fight, and of a little fountain which became a great water.

IN the fourth year of the reign of Ptolemeus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemeus his son, brought this epistle of Phurim, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemeus, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2 In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jairus, the son of Semel, the son of Cisai of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream:

3 Who was a Jew, and dwelt in the city of Susa, a great man, being a servitor in the king's court.

4 He was also one of the captives, which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem with Jechonias king of Judea; and this was his dream.

5 Behold, a noise of tumult, with thunder, and earthquakes, and uproar in the land:

6 And behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their cry was great.

7 And at their cry all nations were prepared to battle, that they might fight against the righteous people.

8 And lo, a day of darkness and obscurity, tribulation and anguish, affliction and great uproar, upon the earth.

9 And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.

10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.

11 The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake, he bare this dream in mind, and until night by all means was desirous to know it.

CHAP. XII.

2 The conspiracy of the two eunuchs is discovered by Mardocheus, for which he is entertained by the king, and rewarded.

AND Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.

2 And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; and so he certified the king of them.

3 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

4 And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.

5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus the Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copy of the king's letters to destroy the Jews. 8 The prayer of Mardocheus for them.

THE copy of the letters was this: The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes and governors that are under him from India unto Ethiopia, in a hundred and seven and twenty provinces.

2 After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness, I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace which is desired of all men.

3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and steadfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom,

4 Declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malicious people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot go forward.

5 Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition unto all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evil-affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established:

6 Therefore have we commanded, that all they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, and is next unto us, shall all with their wives and children be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year:

7 That they who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

8 Then Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee:

10 For thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that I did not bow down to proud Aman.

13 For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet.

14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I worship any but thee, O God, neither will I do it in pride.

15 And now, O Lord God and King, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought; yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance, that hath been thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portion which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self.

17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: turn our sorrow into joy, that we may live, O Lord, and praise thy name: and destroy not the mouths of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 All Israel in like manner cried most earnestly unto the Lord, because their death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIV.

The prayer of queen Esther for herself and her people.

QUEEN Esther also being in fear of death, resorted unto the Lord:

2 And laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning; and instead of precious ointments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.

3 And she prayed unto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me, desolate woman, which have no helper but thee:

4 For my danger is in my hand.

5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from all their predecessors, for a perpetual inheritance, and thou hast performed whatsoever thou didst promise them.

6 And now we have sinned before thee: therefore hast thou given us into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lord, thou art righteous.

8 Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols,

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and of thine altar,

10 And open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the praises of the idols, and to magnify a fleshly king for ever.

11 O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us.

12 Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O King of the nations, and Lord of all power.

13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the lion; turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that they may be an end of him, and of all that are like minded to him:

14 But deliver us with thy hand, and help me that am desolate, and which have no other helper but thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord; thou knowest that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessity: for I abhor the sign of my high estate, which is upon my head in the days wherein I shew myself, and that I abhor it as a menstruous rag, and that I wear it not when I am private by myself.

17 And that thy handmaid hath not eaten at Aman's table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the king's feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink-offerings.

18 Neither had thy handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord God of Abraham.

19 O thou mighty God above all, hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

CHAP. XV.

6 Esther cometh into the king's presence. 7 He looketh angrily, and she fainteth. 8 The king taketh her up and comforteth her.

AND upon the third day, when she had ended her prayer she laid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparel.

2 And being gloriously adorned, after she had called upon God, who is the beholder and saviour of all things, she took two maids with her:

3 And upon the one she leaned, as carrying herself daintily; and the other followed, bearing up her train.

4 And she was ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and very amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear.

5 Then having passed through all the doors, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royal throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones; and he was very dreadful.

7 Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her: and the queen fell down, and was pale, and fainted, and bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went || before her.

8 Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who † in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with loving words, and said unto her,

9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer:

10 Thou shalt not die, though our commandment be || general: come near.

11 And so he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck,

12 And embraced her, and said, Speak unto me.

13 Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.

14 For wonderful art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.

15 And as she was speaking, || she fell down for faintness.

CHAP. XVI.

The letter of Artaxerxes, wherein he taxeth Aman, and revoketh the decree procured by Aman to destroy the Jews, and commandeth the day of their deliverance to be kept holy.

THE great king Artaxerxes unto the princes and governors of a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and unto all || our faithful subjects, greeting.

2 Many, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of † their gracious princes, the more proud they are waxen,

3 And endeavour to hurt not our subjects only, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practise also against those that do them good:

4 And take not only thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the glorious words of || lewd persons, || that were never good, they think to escape the justice of God, that seeth all things, and hateth evil.

5 Oftentimes also fair speech || of those that are put in trust to manage their friends' affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath enwrapped them in remediless calamities:

6 Beguiling with the falsehood and deceit of their lewd disposition the innocency and goodness of princes.

7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.

8 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be quiet and peaceable for all men,

9 Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident with more equal proceeding.

10 For Aman, a Macedonian, the son of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodness, and as a stranger received of us,

11 Had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the king.

12 But he, not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and life:

13 Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blameless Esther, partaker of our kingdom, with their whole nation.

14 For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians.

15 But we find that the Jews, whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws:

16 And that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath || ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner.

17 Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadatha.

18 For he, that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.

20 And ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.

21 For Almighty God hath turned to joy unto them the day wherein the chosen people should have perished.

22 Ye shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it a high day with all feasting:

23 That both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well-affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us, a memorial of destruction.

24 Therefore every city and country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy, with fire and sword, and shall be made not only unpassable for men, but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

The WISDOM of SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

To whom God sheweth himself, and wisdom herself. 6 An evil speaker cannot lie hid. 12 We procure our own destruction: for God created not death.

LOVE righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth: think of the Lord with a good (heart), and in simplicity of heart seek him.

2 For he will be found of them that tempt him not; and sheweth himself unto such as do not distrust him.

3 For froward thoughts separate from God: and his power, when it is tried, || reproveth the unwise.

4 For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter; nor dwell in the body that is subject unto sin.

5 For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and || will not abide when unrighteousness cometh in.

6 For wisdom is a loving spirit; and will not acquit a blasphemer of his || words; for God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

7 For the Spirit of the Lord filleth the world: and that which || containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.

8 Therefore he that speaketh unrighteous things cannot be hid: neither shall vengeance, when it punisheth, pass by him.

9 For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly: and the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord for the || manifestation of his wicked deeds.

10 For the ear of jealousy heareth all things: and the noise of murmurings is not hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable; and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word so secret, that shall go for nought: and the mouth that || belieth, slayeth the soul.

12 Seek not death in the error of your life: and pull not upon yourselves destruction with the works of your hands.

13 For God made not death: neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.

14 For he created all things, that they might have their being: and the generations of the world were healthful; and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdom of death upon the earth:

15 (For righteousness is immortal:)

16 But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them: for when they thought to have it their friend, they consumed to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.

CHAP. II.

x The wicked think this life short, and of no other after this. 6 Therefore they will take their pleasure in this, and conspire against the just. 21 What that is which doth blind them.

FOR the ungodly said, reasoning with themselves, but not aright, "Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy: neither was there any man known to have returned from the grave.

2 For we are born at all adventure: and we shall be hereafter as though we had never been: for the breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our heart;

3 Which being extinguished, our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the soft air,

4 And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as the mist that is driven away with the beams of the sun, and overcome with the heat thereof.

5 "For our time is a very shadow that passeth away; and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man cometh again.

6 Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good things that are present: and let us speedily use the creatures like as in youth.

7 Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and ointments: and let no flower of the spring pass by us.

8 Let us crown ourselves with rose-buds, before they be withered.

9 Let none of us go without his part of our voluptuousness: let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place: for this is our portion, and our lot is this.

10 "Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.

11 Let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.

12 Therefore let us lie in wait for the righteous; because he is not for our turn, and he is clean contrary to our doings: he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressions of our education.

13 He professeth to have the knowledge of God, and he calleth himself the child of the Lord.

14 He was made to reprove our thoughts.

15 "He is grievous unto us even to behold: for his life is not like other men's, his ways are of another fashion.

16 We are esteemed of him as counterfeits: he abstaineth from our ways as from filthiness: he pronounceth the end of the just to be blessed, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let us see if his words be true: and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him.

18 For if the just man be the son of God, he will help him, and deliver him from the hand of his enemies.

19 Let us examine him with despitefulness and torture, that we may know his meekness, and prove his patience.

20 Let us condemn him with a shameful death; for by his own saying he shall be respected.

21 Such things they did imagine, and were deceived: for their own wickedness hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they knew them not: neither hoped they for the wages of righteousness, nor discerned a reward for blameless souls.

23 For God created man to be immortal, and made him to be an image of his own eternity.

24 "Nevertheless, through envy of the devil came death into the world: and they that do hold of his side do find it.

CHAP. III.

b The godly are happy in their death, and in their troubles: the wicked are not, nor their children. 13 But they that are pure, are happy, though they have no children: for the adulterer and his seed shall perish.

BUT the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

2 "In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery,

3 And their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace.

4 For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality, rewarded: for God proved them, and found them worthy for himself.

6 "As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt-offering.

7 And in the time of their visitation, they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.

8 They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.

9 They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth: and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.

10 But the ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.

11 For whoso despiseth wisdom and nurture, he is miserable, and their hope is vain, their labours unfruitful, and their works unprofitable:

12 Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked:

13 Their offspring is cursed. Wherefore blessed is the barren that is undefiled, which hath not known the sinful bed: she shall have fruit in the visitation of souls.

14 And blessed is the eunuch, which with his hands hath wrought no iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against God: for unto him shall be given the special gift of faith, and an inheritance in the temple of the Lord more acceptable to his mind.

15 For glorious is the fruit of good labours: and the root of wisdom shall never fall away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.

17 For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded: and their last age shall be without honour:

18 Or, if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.

19 For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

CHAP. IV.

x The chaste man shall be crowned. 3 Bastard slips shall not thrive. 6 They shall witness against their parents. 7 The just are young, and are happy. 19 The miserable end of the wicked.

BETTER it is to have no children, and to have virtue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: because it is known with God, and with men.

2 When it is present, men take example at it; and when it is gone, they desire it: it weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.

3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they flourish in branches for a time; yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

5 "The imperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea, meet for nothing.

6 For children begotten of unlawful beds, are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.

7 But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be at rest.

8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.

9 But wisdom is the grey hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age.

10 "He pleased God, and was beloved of him: so that living among sinners he was translated.

11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

12 For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest; and the wandering of concupiscence doth undermine the simple mind.

13 He, being made perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time:

14 For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.

15 This the people saw, and understood it not, neither laid they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen,

16 Thus the righteous that is dead shall condemn the un-godly which are living; and youth that is soon perfected, the many years and old age of the unrighteous.

17 For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsel hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety.

18 They shall see him, and despise him; but God shall laugh them to scorn: and they shall hereafter be a vile carcass, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.

19 For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechless; and he shall shake them from the foundation; and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow; and their memorial shall perish.

20 And when they cast up the accounts of their sins, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

CHAP. V.

¹ The wicked shall wonder at the godly, and confess their error, and the vanity of their lives. ¹⁵ God will reward the just, and war against the wicked.

THEN shall the righteous man stand in great boldness before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

2 When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the strangeness of his salvation, so far beyond all that they looked for.

3 And they repenting and groaning for anguish of spirit shall say within themselves, This was he, whom we had sometimes in derision, and a proverb of reproach:

4 We fools accounted his life madness, and his end to be without honour:

5 How is he numbered among the children of God, and his lot is among the saints!

6 Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined unto us, and the sun of righteousness rose not upon us.

7 We wearied ourselves in the way of wickedness and destruction: yea, we have gone through deserts, where they lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.

8 What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?

9 All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a post that hasteth by;

10 And as a ship that passeth over the waves of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the pathway of the keel in the waves;

11 Or as when a bird hath flown through the air, there is no token of her way to be found, but the light air being beaten with the stroke of her wings, and parted with the violent noise and motion of them, is passed through, and therein afterward no sign where she went is to be found:

12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the air, which immediately cometh together again, so that a man cannot know where it went through:

13 Even so we in like manner, as soon as we were born, began to draw to our end, and had no sign of virtue to shew; but were consumed in our own wickedness.

14 For the hope of the ungodly is like dust that is blown away with the wind; like a thin froth that is driven away with the storm; like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with a tempest, and passeth away as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.

15 But the righteous live for evermore; their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the Most High.

16 Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand: for with his right hand shall he sever them, and with his arm shall he protect them.

17 He shall take to him his jealousy for complete armour, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies.

18 He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, and true judgment instead of a helmet.

19 He shall take holiness for an invincible shield.

20 His severe wrath shall he sharpen for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise.

21 Then shall the right-aiming thunderbolts go abroad; and from the clouds, as from a well-drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark.

CHAP. VI.

¹ Kings must give ear: they have their power from God, who will not spare them. ¹² Wisdom is soon found. ²¹ Princes must seek for it: for a wise prince is the stay of his people.

HEAR therefore, O ye kings, and understand; learn, ye that be judges of the ends of the earth.

2 Give ear, ye that rule the people, and glory in the multitude of nations.

3 For power is given you of the Lord, and sovereignty from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.

4 Because, being ministers of his kingdom, ye have not judged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the counsel of God;

5 Horribly and speedily shall he come upon you: for a sharp judgment shall be to them that be in high places.

6 For mercy will soon pardon the meanest: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.

7 For he which is Lord over all shall fear no man's person, neither shall he stand in awe of any man's greatness: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.

8 But a sore trial shall come upon the mighty.

9 Unto you therefore, O kings, do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away:

10 For they that keep holiness holily, shall be judged holy: and they that have learned such things shall find what to answer.

11 Wherefore set your affection upon my words; desire them, and ye shall be instructed.

12 Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away: yea, she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.

13 She preventeth them that desire her, in making herself first known unto them.

14 Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail: for he shall find her sitting at his doors.

15 To think therefore upon her is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her shall quickly be without care.

16 For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth herself favourably unto them in the ways, and meeteth them in every thought.

17 For the very true beginning of her is the desire of discipline; and the care of discipline is love:

18 And love is the keeping of her laws; and the giving heed unto her laws is the assurance of incorruption;

19 And incorruption maketh us near unto God:

20 Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.

21 If your delight be then in thrones and sceptres, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.

22 As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not pass over the truth.

23 Neither will I go with consuming envy; for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.

24 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.

25 Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAP. VII.

¹ All men have their beginning and end alike: he preferred wisdom before all things else. ¹⁵ God gave him all the knowledge which he had. ²² The praise of wisdom.

I MYSELF also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of him that was first made of the earth;

2 And in my mother's womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleep.

3 And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth, which is of like nature, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.

4 I was nursed in ^sswaddling-clothes, and that with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

6 ^aFor all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.

7 ^aWherefore I prayed, and understanding was given me: ^uI called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.

8 I preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither compared I unto her any [†]precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.

10 I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light: for the light that cometh from her never goeth out.

11 ^fAll good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.

12 And I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.

13 I learned [†]diligently, and do communicate her [†]liberally: I do not hide her riches.

14 For she is a treasure unto men, that never faileth: which they that ^{||}use become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.

15 ^{||}God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as is meet for the things that ^{||}are given me: because it is he that leadeth unto wisdom, and directeth the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and our words; ^aall wisdom also, and knowledge of workmanship.

17 For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how ^bthe world was made, and the operation of the elements:

18 The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: the alterations of the turnings of the sun, and ^tthe change of seasons:

19 The ^bcircuits of years, and the positions of stars:

20 The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wild beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants, and the virtues of roots:

21 And all such things as are ^beither secret or manifest, them I know.

22 For wisdom, which is the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit, holy, [†]one only, manifold, subtil, lively, clear, undefiled, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good, quick, which cannot be letted, ready to do good,

23 ^mKind to man, steadfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understanding, pure and most subtil spirits.

24 For wisdom is more moving than any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.

25 For she is the ^{||}breath of the power of God, and a pure ^{||}influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing fall into her.

26 For she is the ^mbrightness of the everlasting light, the unspotted mirror of the power of God, and ^othe image of his goodness.

27 And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in herself, she ^{||}maketh all things new: and in all ages entering into holy souls, she maketh them friends of God, and prophets.

28 ^pFor God loveth none but him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.

30 For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdom.

CHAP. VIII.

² He is in love with wisdom: for he that hath it, hath every good thing. ²¹ It cannot be had but from God.

WISDOM reacheth from one end to another mightily: and ^{||}sweetly doth she order all things.

3 In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobility: yea, ^bthe Lord of all things himself loved her.

4 For she is ^{||}privy to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a ^{||}lover of his works.

5 If riches be a possession to be desired in this life; ^awhat is richer than wisdom, that worketh all things?

6 And if ^aprudence work; who of all that are, is a more cunning workman than she?

7 And if a man love righteousness, her labours are ^avirtues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude: which are such things as men can have nothing more, profitable in their life.

8 If a man desire much ^sexperience, she knoweth things of old, and conjectureth ^aaright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foreseeth signs and wonders, and the events of ^aseasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her to me to live with me, knowing that she [†]would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.

10 For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the ^belders, though I be young.

11 I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgment, and shall be admired in the sight of great men.

12 ^aWhen I hold my tongue, they shall abide my leisure, and when I speak, they shall give good ear unto me: if I talk much, they shall ^klay their hands upon their mouth.

13 Moreover by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behind me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me.

14 I shall ^{||}set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shall be afraid when they do but hear of me: I shall ^{||}be found good among the multitude, and valiant in war.

16 ^{||}After I have come into my house, I will repose myself with her: for her conversation hath no bitterness; and to live with her hath no sorrow, but mirth and joy.

17 Now, when I considered these things in myself, and ^bpondered them in my heart, how that to be allied unto wisdom is immortality;

18 And great pleasure it is to have her friendship; and in the works of her hands are ^minfinite riches; and in the exercise of conference with her, prudence; and in talking with her, ^{||}a good report; I went about seeking how to ^{||}take her to me.

19 For I was a witty child, and had a good spirit.

20 Yea rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.

21 Nevertheless, when I perceived that I could not otherwise obtain her, ⁿexcept God gave her me; and that was a point of wisdom also to know whose gift she was; I ^{||}prayed unto the Lord, and besought him, and with ^omy whole heart I said,

CHAP. IX.

A prayer unto God for his wisdom, without which the best man is nothing worth, neither can he tell how to please God.

GOD of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, ^awho hast made all things with thy word.

2 And ordained man through thy wisdom, that he should ^bhave dominion over the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And order the world according to equity and righteousness, and execute judgment with an upright heart:

4 Give ^ame wisdom, that sitteth by thy throne; and reject me not from among thy children:

5 For I ^athy servant, and son of thy handmaid, am a feeble person, and of a short time, and too young for the understanding of judgment and laws.

6 For though a man be never so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, he shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a ^aking of thy people, and a judge of thy sons and daughters:

8 Thou hast commanded me to ^sbuild a temple upon thy holy mount, and an altar in the city wherein thou dwellest, a resemblance of the holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And ^swisdom was with thee: which knoweth thy works, ^band was present when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments

10 O send her out of thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy glory, that being present she may labour with me, that I may know what is pleasing unto thee.

11 For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and she shall lead me soberly in my doings, and preserve me || in her power.

12 So shall my works be acceptable, and then shall I judge thy people righteously, and be worthy to sit in my father's seat.

13 For 'what man is he that can know the counsel of God? or who can think what the will of the Lord is?

14 For the thoughts of mortal men are || miserable, and our devices are but uncertain.

15 For the corruptible body presseth down the soul, and 'the earthly tabernacle weigheth down the mind that museth upon many things.

16 And hardly do we guess aright at things that are upon earth, and with labour do we find the things that are † before us: 'but the things that are in heaven who hath searched out?

17 And thy counsel who hath known, except thou give wisdom, and send thy ^mHoly Spirit from above?

18 For so the ways of them which lived on the earth were reformed, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee, and were saved through wisdom.

CHAP. X.

What wisdom did for Adam, Noe, Abraham, Lot, and against the five cities, for Jacob, Joseph, Moses, and the Israelites.

SHE preserved 'the first-formed father of the world, that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall,

2 And ^bgave him power to rule all things.

3 'But when the unrighteous went away from her in his anger, he perished also in the fury wherewith he murdered his brother.

4 For whose cause the earth ^abeing drowned with the flood, wisdom again preserved it, ^aand directed the course of the righteous in a piece of wood of small value.

5 Moreover, ^jthe nations in their wicked conspiracy being confounded, she found out the righteous, and preserved him blameless unto God, and ^qkept him strong || against his tender compassion toward his son.

6 When the ungodly perished, ^bshe delivered the righteous man, who fled from the fire which fell down upon † the 'five cities,

7 Of whose wickedness even to this day the waste land that smoketh is a testimony, and plants bearing fruit that never come to ripeness: and a ^kstanding pillar of salt is a monument of an unbelieving soul.

8 For regarding not wisdom, they gat not only this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good; but also left behind them to the world a memorial of their foolishness: so that in the things wherein they offended they could not so much as be hid.

9 But wisdom delivered from pain those that attended upon her.

10 'When the righteous fled from his brother's wrath, she guided him in right paths, shewed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours.

11 ^mIn the covetousness of such as oppressed him she stood by him, and made him rich.

12 She defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, ^aand in a sore conflict she gave him the victory; that he might know that godliness is stronger than all.

13 'When the righteous was sold, she forsook him not, but delivered him from sin: she went down with him into the pit,

14 And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the sceptre of the kingdom, and || power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she shewed them to be liars, and gave him perpetual glory.

15 She delivered the || righteous people and blameless seed ^rfrom the nation that oppressed them.

16 She entered into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and ^awithstood dreadful kings in wonders and signs;

17 Rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a covert by day, and a || light of stars in the night season;

CHAP. XI.

5 The Egyptians were punished, and the Israelites reserved in the same thing. 15 They were plagued by the same things wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, but he is merciful to all.

SHE prospered their works in the hand of ^athe holy prophet. 2 ^bThey went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.

3 'They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.

4 When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, ^aand water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.

6 For instead of a fountain of a perpetual running river 'troubled with foul blood,

7 For a manifest reproof of that commandment, 'whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for:

8 Declaring by that thirst then ^qhow thou hadst punished their adversaries.

9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner than the just.

10 For these thou didst admonish and try, ^aas a father: but the other, as a severe king, thou didst condemn and punish.

11 Whether they were absent or present, they were vexed alike.

12 For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they || had some feeling of the Lord.

14 For whom they rejected with scorn, when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to pass, they admired.

15 But for 'the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance;

16 That they might know, that ^kwherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

17 For thine Almighty hand, that made the world of matter 'without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,

18 Or unknown ^mwild beasts, full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoke, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes:

19 Whereof not only the harm might despatch them at once, but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.

20 Yea, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power: but thou hast ordered all things in measure and number and weight.

21 For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt; and who may withstand ⁿthe power of thine arm?

22 For the whole world before thee is as a || little grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercy upon all; for thou canst do all things, and ^owinkest at the sins of men, because they should amend.

24 For thou lovest all the things that are, ^aand abhorrest nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldest thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?

26 But ^qthou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, thou lover of souls.

CHAP. XII.

God did not destroy those of Chanan all at once. 12 If he had done so, who could control him? 19 But by sparing them, he taught us. 27 They were punished with their gods.

FOR thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things. 2 Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance wherein they have offended, that leaving their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.

3 For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers both those old inhabitants of thy holy land,

4 Whom thou hatedst for doing most odious works of witchcrafts, and wicked sacrifices;

5 And also those merciless murderers of children, and devourers of man's flesh, and the feasts of blood,

6 With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crew, and the parents that killed with their own hands souls destitute of help:

7 That the land, which thou esteemedst above all other, might receive a worthy colony of God's children.

8 Nevertheless, even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send wasps, forerunners of thy host, to destroy them by little and little.

9 Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle, or to destroy them at once with cruel beasts, or with one rough word:

10 But executing thy judgments upon them by little, and little, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was bred in them, and that their cogitation would never be changed.

11 For it was a cursed seed from the beginning; neither didst thou for fear of any man give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.

12 For who shall say, What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment? or who shall accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who shall come to stand against thee, to be revenged for the unrighteous men?

13 For neither is there any God but thou that careth for all, to whom thou mightest shew that thy judgment is not unright.

14 Neither shall king or tyrant be able to set his face against thee for any of whom thou hast punished.

15 Forsomuch then as thou art righteous thyself, thou orderest all things righteously: thinking it not agreeable with thy power to condemn him that hath not deserved to be punished.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousness, and because thou art the Lord of all, it maketh thee to be gracious unto all.

17 For when men will not believe that thou art of a full power, thou shewest thy strength, and among them that know it thou makest their boldness manifest.

18 But thou, mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and orderest us with great favour: for thou mayest use power when thou wilt.

19 But by such works hast thou taught thy people that the just man should be merciful, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, that thou givest repentance for sins.

20 For if thou didst punish the enemies of thy children, and the condemned to death, with such deliberation, giving them time and place, whereby they might be delivered from their malice:

21 With how great circumspection didst thou judge thine own sons, unto whose fathers thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?

22 Therefore, whereas thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that, when we judge we should carefully think of thy goodness, and when we ourselves are judged, we should look for mercy.

23 Wherefore, whereas men have lived dissolutely and unrighteously, thou hast tormented them with their own abominations.

24 For they went astray very far in the ways of error, and held them for gods, which even among the beasts of their enemies were despised, being deceived, as children of no understanding.

25 Therefore unto them, as to children without the use of reason, thou didst send a judgment to mock them.

26 But they that would not be reformed by that correction, wherein he dallied with them, shall feel a judgment worthy of God.

27 For, look, for what things they grudged, when they were punished, that is, for them whom they thought to be gods; [now] being punished in them, when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied to know; and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 They were not excused that worshipped any of God's works. 10 But most wretched are they that worshipped the works of men's hands.

SURELY vain are all men by nature, who are ignorant of God, and could not out of the good things that are seen know him that is: neither, by considering the works, did they acknowledge the work-master;

2 But deemed either fire, or wind, or the swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the violent water, or the lights of heaven, to be the gods which govern the world.

3 With whose beauty if they being delighted took them to be gods; let them know how much better the Lord of them is: for the first author of beauty hath created them.

4 But if they were astonished at their power and virtue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.

5 For by the greatness and beauty of the creatures, proportionably the maker of them is seen.

6 But yet for this they are the less to be blamed: for they peradventure err, seeking God, and desirous to find him.

7 For being conversant in his works, they search him diligently, and believe their sight: because the things are beautiful that are seen.

8 Howbeit, neither are they to be pardoned.

9 For if they were able to know so much, that they could aim at the world; how did they not sooner find out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and in dead things is their hope, who called them gods which are the works of men's hands, gold and silver, to shew art in, and resemblances of beasts, or a stone good for nothing, the work of an ancient hand.

11 Now a carpenter that felleth timber, after he hath sawn down a tree meet for the purpose, and taken off all the bark skilfully round about, and hath wrought it handsomely, and made a vessel thereof fit for the service of man's life;

12 And after spending the refuse of his work to dress his meat, hath filled himself;

13 And taking the very refuse among those which served to no use, being a crooked piece of wood, and full of knots, hath carved it diligently, when he had nothing else to do, and formed it by the skill of his understanding, and fashioned it to the image of a man;

14 Or made it like some vile beast, laying it over with vermilion, and with paint colouring it red, and covering every spot therein;

15 And when he had made a convenient room for it, set it in a wall, and made it fast with iron:

16 For he provided for it that it might not fall, knowing that it was unable to help itself; for it is an image, and hath need of help:

17 Then maketh he prayer for his goods, for his wife and children, and is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life.

18 For health, he calleth upon that which is weak: for life, prayeth to that which is dead: for aid, humbly beseecheth that which hath least means to help: and for a good journey, he asketh of that which cannot set a foot forward:

19 And for gaining and getting, and for good success of his hands, asketh ability to do, of him that is most unable to do any thing.

CHAP. XIV.

2 Though men do not pray to their ships, yet they are saved rather by them, than by their idols. 8 Idols are accursed, and so are the makers of them. 14 The beginning of idolatry, and the effects thereof. 30 God will punish them that swear falsely by their idols.

A GAIN, one preparing himself to sail, and about to pass through the raging waves, calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him.

2 For verily desire of gain devised || that, and the workman built it by his skill.

3 But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: for thou hast made a way in the sea, and a safe path in the waves;

4 Shewing that thou canst save from all danger: yea, though a man went to sea without art.

5 Nevertheless thou wouldest not that the works of thy wisdom should be idle, and therefore do men commit their lives to a small piece of wood, and passing the rough sea in a weak vessel are saved.

6 For in the old time also, when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world, governed by thy hand, escaped in a weak vessel, and left to all ages a seed of generation.

7 For blessed is the wood whereby righteousness cometh.
8 But that which is made with hands is cursed, as well it, as he that made it: he, because he made it; and it, because being corruptible, it was called God.

9 For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God.

10 For that which is made shall be punished together with him that made it.

11 Therefore even upon the idols of the Gentiles shall there be a visitation: because in the creature of God they are become an abomination, and stumbling-blocks to the souls of men, and a snare to the feet of the unwise.

12 For the devising of idols was the beginning of spiritual fornication, and the invention of them the corruption of life.

13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.

14 For by the vain glory of men they entered into the world, and therefore shall they come shortly to an end.

15 For a father afflicted with untimely mourning, when he hath made an image of his child soon taken away, now honoured him as a god, which was then a dead man, and delivered to those that were under him ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Thus in process of time an ungodly custom grown strong was kept as a law, and graven images were worshipped by the commandments of kings.

17 Whom men could not honour in presence, because they dwelt far off, they took the counterfeit of his visage from far, and made an express image of a king whom they honoured, to the end that by this their forwardness they might flatter him that was absent, as if he were present.

18 Also the singular diligence of the artificer did help to set forward the ignorant to more superstition.

19 For he, peradventure, willing to please one in authority, forced all his skill to make the resemblance of the best fashion.

20 And so the multitude, allured by the grace of the work, took him now for a god, which a little before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was an occasion to deceive the world: for men, serving either calamity or tyranny, did ascribe unto stones and stocks the incommunicable name.

22 Moreover, this was not enough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they lived in the great war of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.

23 For whilst they slew their children in sacrifices, or used secret ceremonies, or made revellings of strange rites:

24 They kept neither lives nor marriages any longer undefiled: but either one slew another traitorously, or grieved him by adultery.

25 So that there reigned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, and dissimulation, corruption, unfaithfulness, tumults, perjury,

26 Disquieting of good men, forgetfulness of good turns, defiling of souls, changing of kind, disorder in marriages, adultery, and shameless uncleanness.

27 For the worshipping of idols not to be named is the beginning, the cause, and the end, of all evil.

28 For either they are mad when they be merry, or prophesy lies, or live unjustly, or else lightly forswear themselves.

29 For insomuch as their trust is in idols which have no life; though they swear falsely, yet they look not to be hurt.

30 Howbeit, for both causes shall they be justly punished: both because they thought not well of God, giving heed unto idols, and also unjustly swore in deceit, despising holiness.

CHAP. XV.

1 We do acknowledge the true God. 7 The folly of idol-makers, and of the enemies of God's people; because, besides the idols of the Gentiles, they worshipped wild beasts.

BUT thou, O God, art gracious and true, long-suffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy power: but we will not sin, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee is perfect righteousness: yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality.

4 For neither did the mischievous invention of men deceive us, nor an image spotted with divers colours, the painter's fruitless labour;

5 The sight whereof enticeth fools to lust after it, and so they desired the form of a dead image, that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, are lovers of evil things, and are worthy to have such things to trust upon.

7 For the potter, tempering soft earth, fashioneth every vessel with much labour for our service: yea, of the same clay he maketh both the vessels that serve for clean uses, and likewise also all such as serve to the contrary: but what is the use of either sort, the potter himself is the judge.

8 And employing his labours lewdly, he maketh a vain god of the same clay, even he which a little before was made of earth himself, and within a little while after returneth to the same, out of the which he was taken, when his life which was lent him shall be demanded.

9 Notwithstanding his care is, not that he shall have much labour, nor that his life is short: but striveth to excel goldsmiths, and silversmiths, and endeavoureth to do like the workers in brass, and counteth it his glory to make counterfeit things.

10 His heart is ashes, his hope is more vile than earth, and his life of less value than clay:

11 Forasmuch as he knew not his Maker, and him that inspired into him an active soul, and breathed in a living spirit.

12 But they counted our life a pastime, and our time here a market for gain: for, say they, we must be getting every way, though it be by evil means.

13 For this man, that of earthly matter maketh brittle vessels and graven images, knoweth himself to offend above all others.

14 And all the enemies of thy people, that hold them in subjection, are most foolish, and are more miserable than very babes.

15 For they counted all the idols of the heathen to be gods: which neither have the use of eyes to see, nor noses to draw breath, nor ears to hear, nor fingers of hands to handle; and as for their feet they are slow to go.

16 For man made them, and he that borrowed his own spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like unto himself.

17 For being mortal, he worketh a dead thing with wicked hands: for he himself is better than the things which he worshippeth: whereas he lived once, but they never.

18 Yea, they worshipped those beasts also that are most hateful: for being compared together, some are worse than others.

19 Neither are they beautiful, so much as to be desired in respect of beasts: but they went without the praise of God and his blessing.

CHAP. XVI.

2 God gave strange meat to his people, to stir up their appetite, and vile beasts to enemies, to take it from them. 5 He stung them with his serpents, but soon healed them by his word only. 17 The creatures altered their nature to pleasure God's people, and to offend their enemies.

THEREFORE by the like were they punished worthily, and by the multitude of beasts tormented.

2 Instead of which punishment, dealing graciously with thine own people, thou preparedst for them meat of a strange taste, even quails to stir up their appetite:
3 To the end that they, desiring food, might, for the ugly sight of the beasts sent among them, loathe even that which they must needs desire ; but these, suffering penury for a short space, might be made partakers of a strange taste.

4 For it was requisite, that upon them exercising tyranny should come penury, which they could not avoid : but to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

5 For when the horrible fierceness of beasts came upon || these, and they perished with the 'stings of crooked serpents, thy wrath endured not for ever :

6 But they were troubled for a small season, that they might be admonished, having a 'sign of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law.

7 For he that turned himself toward it was not saved by the thing that he saw, but by thee, 'that art the Saviour of all.

8 And in this thou madest thine enemies confess, that it is thou who deliverest from all evil ;

9 For 'them the bitings of grasshoppers and flies killed, neither was there found any remedy for their life : for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame: for thy mercy was ever by them, 'and healed them.

11 For they were †pricked, that they should remember thy words: and were quickly saved, that not falling into deep forgetfulness, they might be || continually mindful of thy goodness.

12 For it was neither herb, nor mollifying plaster that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou hast power of life and death: thou 'leadest to the gates of hell, and bringest up again.

14 A man indeed killeth through his malice: and the spirit, when it is gone forth, returneth not; 'neither the soul received up cometh again.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

16 'For the ungodly, that denied to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thine arm: with strange rains, hails, and showers, were they persecuted, that they could not avoid; and through fire were they consumed.

17 For, which is most to be wondered at, the fire had more force in the water, that quencheth all things: for the world 'fighteth for the righteous.

18 For some time the flame was mitigated, that it might not burn up 'the beasts that were sent against the ungodly; but themselves might see and perceive that they were persecuted with the judgment of God.

19 And at another time it burneth even in the midst of water above the power of fire, that it might destroy the fruits of an unjust land.

20 'Instead whereof thou feddest thine own people with angels' food, and didst send them from heaven bread prepared without their labour, able to content every man's delight, and agreeing to every taste.

21 For thy '|| sustenance declared thy sweetness unto thy children, and serving to the appetite of the eater || tempered itself to every man's liking.

22 'But snow and ice endured the fire, and melted not, that they might know that fire burning in the hail, and sparkling in the rain, did destroy the fruits of the enemies.

23 But this again did even forget his own strength, that 'the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serveth thee, who art the Maker, increaseth his strength against the unrighteous for their punishment, and abateth his strength for the benefit of such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore even then was it altered into all || fashions, and was obedient to thy grace, that nourisheth all things, according to the desire || of them that had need :

26 That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovest, might know, that 'it is not the growing of fruits that nourisheth man: but that it is thy word, which preserveth them that put their trust in thee.

27 For that which was not destroyed of the fire, 'being warmed with a little sun-beam, soon melted away :

28 That it might be known, 'that we must prevent the sun to give thee thanks, and at the day-spring pray unto thee.

29 For the hope of the unthankful shall melt away as the winter's hoar frost, and shall run away as unprofitable water.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Why the Egyptians were punished with darkness. 4 The terrors of that darkness. 11 The terrors of an ill conscience.

FOR 'great are thy judgments, and cannot be expressed: therefore || unnurtured souls have erred.

2 For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation; they being shut up || in their houses, 'the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bonds of a long night, lay [there] || exiled from the eternal providence.

3 For while they supposed to lie hid in their secret sins, they were scattered || under a dark veil of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with [strange] || apparitions.

4 For neither might the corner that held them keep them from fear: but noises [as of waters] falling down sounded about them, and 'sad visions appeared unto them with heavy countenances.

5 No power of the fire might give them light: 'neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.

6 Only there appeared unto them a fire kindled of itself, very dreadful: for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw to be worse than the sight they saw not.

7 'As for the illusions of art magic, they were put down, and their vaunting in wisdom was reproved with disgrace.

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did fear them; yet being scared 'with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents,

10 They died for fear, || denying that they saw the air, which could of no side be avoided.

11 For wickedness, condemned by her own witness, 'is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forecasteth grievous things.

12 For fear is nothing else but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

13 And the expectation from within, being less, counteth the ignorance more than the cause which bringeth the torment.

14 But they sleeping the same sleep that night, || which was indeed intolerable, and which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell,

15 Were partly vexed with 'monstrous apparitions, and partly fainted, 'their heart failing them: for a sudden fear, and not looked for, came upon them.

16 So then whosoever there fell down was straitly kept, shut up in a prison without iron bars.

17 For whether he were husbandman, or shepherd, or a labourer in the || field, he was overtaken, and endured that necessity, which could not be avoided: for they were all bound with 'one chain of darkness.

18 Whether it were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of water running violently,

19 Or a || terrible sound of stones cast down, or a running that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roaring voice of 'most savage wild beasts, or a rebounding echo from the hollow mountains; 'these things made them swoon for fear.

20 For the whole world shined with clear light, and none were hindered in their labour:

21 Over them only was spread 'a heavy night, an image of that darkness which should afterward receive them: but yet were they unto themselves more grievous than the darkness.

CHAP. XVIII.

4 Why Egypt was punished with darkness, and with the death of their children. 18 They themselves saw the cause thereof. 20 God also plagued his own people. 21 By what means that plague was stayed.

NEVERTHELESS thy saints had a very great 'light, whose voice they hearing, and not seeing their shape, because they also had not suffered the same things, they counted them 'happy.

2 But for that they did not hurt them now, of whom they had been wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon for that they had been enemies.

3 Instead whereof thou gavest them a burning pillar of fire, both to be a guide of the unknown journey, and a harmless sun to entertain them honourably.

4 For they were worthy to be deprived of light, and imprisoned in darkness, who had kept thy ^asons shut up, by whom the || uncorrupt light of the law was to be given unto the world.

5 And when they had determined to slay the babes of the saints, ^oone child being cast forth, and saved, to reprove them, thou tookest away the multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that assuredly knowing unto what oaths they had given credence, they might afterward be of good cheer.

7 So of thy people was accepted both ^bthe salvation of the righteous, and ^cdestruction of the enemies.

8 For wherewith didst thou punish our adversaries, by the same thou didst glorify us, whom thou hadst called.

9 For the righteous children of good men did sacrifice secretly, and with one consent made || a holy law, that the saints should be alike partakers of the same good and evil, the fathers now singing out the songs of praise.

10 But on the other side there sounded an ill-according cry of the enemies, and a lamentable noise was carried abroad for children that were bewailed.

11 The master and the servant were punished after one manner; and like as the king, so suffered the common person.

12 So they all together ^dhad innumerable dead with one kind of death; neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whercas they would not believe anything by reason of ^ethe enchantments; upon the destruction of the first-born, they acknowledged this people to be the sons of God.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course,

15 Thine Almighty word leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne, as a fierce ^fman of war into the midst of a land of destruction,

16 And brought thine unfeigned commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up filled all things with death; and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.

17 Then suddenly || visions of horrible dreams troubled them sore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.

18 And one thrown here, and another there, half dead, shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the dreams that troubled them did ^gforeshew this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.

20 Yea, the tasting of death touched the righteous also, and there was a destruction of the ^hmultitude in the wilderness: but ⁱthe wrath endured not long.

21 For then the blameless man made haste, and stood forth to defend them; and bringing the shield of his proper ministry, even prayer, and the propitiation of incense, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamity to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.

22 So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of body, nor force of arms, but with a word subdued he him that punished, ^jalleging the oaths and covenants made with the fathers.

23 For when the dead were now fallen down by heaps one upon another, ^kstanding between, he stayed the wrath, and || parted the way to the living.

24 For in the long garment was the whole world, and in the four rows of the stones was the glory of the fathers graven, and thy Majesty upon the diadem of his head.

25 Unto these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for it was enough that they only tasted of ^lthe wrath.

CHAP. XIX.

ⁱ Why God shewed no mercy to the Egyptians, and how wonderfully he dealt with his people. ¹⁴ The Egyptians were worse than the Sodomites. ¹⁸ The wonderful agreement of the creatures to serve God's people.

AS for the ungodly, ^awrath came upon them without mercy unto the end: for he knew before what they would do;
2 How that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, ^bthey would repent, and pursue them.

3 For whilst they were ^cyet mourning and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had || entreated to be gone.

4 For the destiny, whereof they were worthy, drew them unto this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfil the punishment which was wanting to their torments:

5 And that thy people might pass ^da wonderful way: but they might find a strange death.

6 For ^ethe whole creature in his proper kind was fashioned again anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 As namely, ^fa cloud shadowing the camp; and where water stood before, dry land appeared; and out of the Red Sea, ^ga way without impediment; and out of the violent stream a green field:

8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.

9 For they went at large like horses, and leaped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.

10 For they were yet mindful of the things that were done while they sojourned in the strange land, how the ground brought forth || flies instead of cattle, and how ^hthe river cast up a multitude of frogs instead of fishes.

11 But afterward they saw a new generation of fowls, when, being led with their appetite, they asked delicate meats.

12 For quails came up unto them from the sea, for their || contentment.

13 And punishments came upon the sinners, not without former signs by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly according to their own wickedness, insomuch as they used a more hard and hateful behaviour toward strangers.

14 For ⁱthe Sodomites did not receive those, whom they knew not when they came: but these brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.

15 And not only so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly:

16 But these very grievously afflicted them, whom they had received with feastings, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.

17 Therefore even with blindness were these stricken, ^kas those were at the doors of the righteous man: when, being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doors.

18 For the elements were changed ^l† in themselves by a kind of harmony, like as, in a psaltery, notes change the name of the tune, and yet are always sounds; which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done.

19 For earthly things were turned into watery, and the things that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.

20 ^mThe fire had power in the water, forgetting his own virtue: and the water forgot his own quenching nature.

21 On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of the corruptible living things, though they walked therein; ⁿneither melted they the icy kind of heavenly meat, that was of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst ^omagnify thy people, and glorify them, neither didst thou lightly regard them; but didst assist them in every time and place.

9 Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good, and for everlasting joy and mercy.

10 Look at the generations of old, and see; ^edid ever any trust in the Lord, and was confounded? or did any abide in his fear, and was forsaken? or whom did he ever despise, that called upon him?

11 For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy, long suffering, and very pitiful, and forgiveth sins, ^fand saveth in time of affliction.

12 Woe be to fearful hearts, and faint hands, and the sinner that goeth two ways!

13 Woe unto him that is faint-hearted! ^gfor he believeth not; therefore shall he not be defended.

14 Woe unto you that have lost patience! and what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?

15 They that fear the Lord will not disobey his word; and ^hthey that love him will keep his ways.

16 They that fear the Lord will seek that which is well-pleasing unto him; and they that love him, ⁱshall be filled with the law.

17 They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and humble their souls in his sight, 18 Saying, ^kWe will fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men: for as his majesty is, so is his mercy.

CHAP. III.

^e Children must honour and help both their parents. ²¹ We may not desire to know all things. ²⁶ The incorrigible must needs perish. ³⁰ Alms are rewarded.

^lHEAR me your father, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.

2 For the Lord hath given the ^mfather honour over the children, and hath confirmed the || authority of the mother over the sons.

3 Whoso honoureth his father maketh an atonement for his sins:

4 And he that honoureth his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.

5 Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his own children; and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.

6 He that honoureth his father ⁿshall have a long life; and he that is obedient unto the Lord shall be a comfort to his mother.

7 He that feareth the Lord ^owill honour his father, and will do service unto his parents, as to his masters.

8 ^pHonour thy father and mother both in word and deed, that a blessing may come upon thee from them.

9 For ^qthe blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children; but the curse of the mother rooteth out foundations.

10 Glory not in the dishonour of thy father; for thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.

11 ^rFor the glory of a man is from the honour of his father; and a mother in dishonour is a reproach to the children.

12 My son, help thy father in his age, and grieve him not as long as he liveth.

13 And if his understanding fail, have patience with him; and despise him not when thou art || in thy full strength.

14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten: and instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.

15 In the day of thine affliction it shall be ^sremembered; thy sins also shall melt away, as the ice in the fair warm weather.

16 He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer; and he that angereth his mother is cursed of God.

17 My son, go on with thy business in meekness; so shalt thou be beloved of him that is approved.

18 ^tThe greater thou art, the more humble thyself, and thou shalt find favour before the Lord.

19 Many are in high place, and of renown: ^ubut mysteries are revealed unto the meek.

20 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

21 ^vSeek not out the things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things that are above thy strength.

22 But what is commanded thee, think thereupon with reverence; for it is not needful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are in secret.

CHAP. IV.

ⁱ We may not despise the poor or fatherless, but seek for wisdom, and not be ashamed of some things, nor gainsay the truth, nor be as lions in our houses.

MY son, ^sdefraud not the poor of his living, and make not the needy eyes to wait long.

2 Make not a hungry soul sorrowful; neither provoke a man in his distress.

3 Add not more trouble to a heart that is vexed; ^tand defer not to give to him that is in need.

4 Reject not the supplication of the afflicted; neither turn away thy face from a poor man.

5 Turn away not thine eye from || the needy, and give him none occasion to curse thee:

6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, ^uhis prayer shall be heard of him that made him.

7 Get thyself the love of the congregation, and bow thy head to a great man.

8 Let it not grieve thee to bow down thine ear to the poor, and give him a friendly answer with meekness.

9 ^vDeliver him that suffereth wrong from the hand of the oppressor; and be not faint-hearted when thou sittest in judgment.

10 Be as a father unto the fatherless, and instead of a husband unto their mother: so shalt thou be ^was a son of the Most High, and he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.

11 Wisdom exalteth her children, and layeth hold of them that seek her.

12 He that loveth her loveth life; and they that ^xseek to her early shall be filled with joy.

13 He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory; and where-soever she entereth, the Lord will bless.

14 They that serve her shall minister || to the Holy One: and them that love her the Lord doth love.

15 Whoso giveth ear unto her, ^yshall judge the nations: and he that attendeth unto her shall dwell securely.

16 If a man commit himself unto her he shall inherit her; and his generation shall hold her in possession.

17 For at the first she will walk with him by crooked ways, and bring fear and dread upon him, and torment him with her discipline, until she may trust his soul, ^zand try him by her laws.

18 Then will she return the strait way unto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets.

19 But if he go wrong, she will forsake him, and ^{aa}give him over to his own ruin.

20 Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil; and be not ashamed when it concerneth thy soul.

21 For there is a shame that bringeth sin; ^{ab}and there is a shame which is glory and grace.

22 Accept no person against thy soul, and let not the reverence of any man cause thee to fall.

23 And refrain not to speak, ^{ac}† when there is occasion to do good, and hide not thy wisdom in her beauty.

24 For by speech wisdom shall be known: and learning by the word of the tongue.

25 In no wise speak against the truth; but be abashed of the error of thine ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to confess thy sins; || and force not the course of the river.

27 Make not thyself an underling to a foolish man; neither accept the person of the mighty.

28 Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord shall fight for thee.

29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, and in thy deeds slack and remiss.

30 Be not as a lion in thy house, nor frantic among thy servants.

31 Let not thy hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldst || repay.

CHAP. V.

1 We must not presume of our wealth and strength, nor of the mercy of God, to sin. 9 We must not be double tongued, nor answer without knowledge.

SET not thy heart upon thy goods; and say not, "I have enough for my life.

2 Follow not thine own mind and thy strength, to walk in the ways of thy heart:

3 And say not, "Who shall control me for my works? for the Lord will surely revenge thy pride.

4 Say not, I have sinned, "and what harm hath happened unto me? for the lord is long-suffering, he will in no wise let thee go.

5 Concerning propitiation, "be not without fear to add sin unto sin:

6 And say not, His mercy is great; he will be pacified for the multitude of my sins: "for mercy and wrath come from him, and his indignation resteth upon sinners.

7 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord, and put not off from day to day: "for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and perish in the day of vengeance.

8 "Set not thy heart upon goods unjustly gotten: for they shall not profit thee in the day of calamity.

9 Winnow not with every wind, and go not into every way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 "Be steadfast in thine understanding; and let thy word be the same.

11 "Be swift to hear; and let thy life be sincere; and with patience give answer.

12 If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour; if not, "lay thy hand upon thy mouth.

13 Honour and shame is in talk: and the tongue of man is his fall.

14 Be not called a whisperer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for a foul shame is upon the thief, and an evil condemnation upon the double tongue.

15 Be not ignorant of any thing in a great matter or a small.

CHAP. VI.

1 Do not extol thine own conceit, but make choice of a friend. 18 Seek wisdom betimes: 20 It is grievous to some, yet the fruits thereof are pleasant. 35 Be ready to hear wise men.

INSTEAD of a friend become not an enemy; [for thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame, and reproach: even so shall a sinner "that hath a double tongue.

2 Extol not thyself in the counsel of thine own heart; that thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull [straying alone.]

3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and lose thy fruit, and leave thyself as "a dry tree.

4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and shall make him to be laughed to scorn of his enemies.

5 † Sweet language will multiply friends: and a fair-speaking tongue will increase kind greetings.

6 Be in peace with many: nevertheless have but one counsellor of a thousand.

7 If thou wouldest get a friend, || prove him first, and be not hasty to credit him.

8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is a friend, who, being turned to enmity and strife, will discover thy reproach.

10 "Again, some friend is a companion at the table, and will not continue in the day of thine affliction.

11 But in thy prosperity he will be as thyself, and will be bold over thy servants.

CHAP. VII.

1 We are dehorted from sin, from ambition, presumption, and fainting in prayer, from lying and backbiting. 18 How to esteem a friend; 19 a good wife; 20 a servant; 22 our cattle; 23 our children and parents; 31 the Lord and his priests; 32 the poor and those that mourn.

DO no evil, "so shall no harm come unto thee.

2 Depart from the unjust, and iniquity shall turn away from thee.

3 My son, "sow not upon the furrows of unrighteousness, and thou shalt not reap them seven-fold.

4 Seek not of the Lord pre-eminence, neither of the king the seat of honour.

5 "Justify not thyself before the Lord; and boast not of thy wisdom before the king.

6 Seek not to be judge, being not able to take away iniquity; lest at any time thou fear the person of the mighty, and lay a stumbling-block in the way of thine uprightness.

7 "Offend not against the multitude of a city, and then thou shalt not cast thyself down among the people.

8 Bind not one sin upon another; for in one thou shalt not be unpunished.

9 Say not, God will look upon the "multitude of mine oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.

10 Be not faint-hearted when thou makest thy prayer, and neglect not to give alms.

11 Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul: for there is one which humbleth and exalteth.

12 † Devise not a lie against thy brother: neither do the like to thy friend.

13 Use not to make any manner of lie: for the custom thereof is not good.

14 Use not many words in a multitude of elders, and make not || much babbling when thou prayest.

15 Hate not laborious work, neither husbandry, which the Most High hath † ordained.

16 Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners, but remember that wrath will not tarry long.

17 Humble thy soul greatly: for the vengeance of the ungodly is fire and worms.

18 Change not a friend for any good, by no means; neither a faithful brother for the gold of Ophir.

19 Forego not a wise and good woman: for her grace is above gold.

20 Whereas thy servant worketh truly, entreat him not evil, nor the hireling that bestoweth himself wholly for thee.

21 Let thy soul love a good servant, and defraud him not of liberty.

22 Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them: and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.

23 Hast thou children? instruct them, and bow down their neck from their youth.

24 Hast thou daughters? have a care of their body, and shew not thyself cheerful toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou have performed a weighty matter: but give her to a man of understanding.

26 Hast thou a wife after thy mind? forsake her not: but give not thyself over to a || light woman.

27 Honour thy father with thy whole heart, and forget not the sorrows of thy mother.

28 Remember that thou wast begotten of them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they have done for thee?

29 Fear the Lord with all thy soul, and reverence his priests.

30 Love him that hath made thee with all thy strength, and forsake not his ministers.

31 Fear the Lord, and honour the priest; and give him his portion, as it is commanded thee; the first-fruits, and the trespass-offering, and the gift of the shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the first-fruits of the holy things.

32 And stretch thy hand unto the poor, that || thy blessing may be perfected.

33 A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living, and for the dead detain it not.

34 Fail not to be with them that weep, and mourn with them that mourn.

35 Be not slow to visit the sick: for that shall make thee to be beloved.

36 Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.

CHAP. IX.

¹ We are advised how to use our wives; what women to avoid; and not to change an old friend; not to be familiar with men in authority; but to know our neighbours; and to converse with wise men.

BE not jealous over the wife of thy bosom, and teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.

2 Give not thy soul unto a woman to set her foot upon thy substance.

3 Meet not with a harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Use not much the company of a woman that || is a singer, lest thou be taken with her attempts.

5 Gaze not on a maid, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.

6 Give not thy soul unto harlots, that thou lose not thine inheritance.

7 Look not around about thee in the streets of the city, neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.

8 Turn away thine eye from a beautiful woman, and look not upon another's beauty; for many have been deceived by the beauty of a woman; for herewith love is kindled as a fire.

9 Sit not at all with another man's wife, nor sit down with her in thine arms, and spend not thy money with her at the wine; lest thine heart incline unto her, and so through thy desire thou fall into destruction.

10 Forsake not an old friend; for the new is not comparable to him: a new friend is as new wine; when it is old, thou shalt drink it with pleasure.

11 Envy not the glory of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shall be his end.

12 Delight not in the thing that the ungodly have pleasure in: but remember they shall not go unpunished unto their grave.

13 Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill; so shalt thou not doubt the fear of death: and if thou come unto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life presently: remember that thou goest in the midst of snares, and that thou walkest upon the battlements of the city.

14 As near as thou canst, guess at thy neighbour, and consult with the wise.

15 Let thy talk be with the wise, and all thy communication in the law of the Most High.

16 And let just men eat and drink with thee: and let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.

17 For the hand of the artificer the work shall be commended: and the wise ruler of the people for his speech.

18 A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his city; and he that is rash in his talk shall be hated.

CHAP. X.

¹ The advantages of a wise ruler. ⁴ God setteth him up. ⁷ The inconveniences of pride, injustice and covetousness. ¹⁴ What God hath done to the proud.

A WISE judge will instruct his people; and the government of a prudent man is well ordered.

2 As the judge of the people is himself, so are his officers; and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.

3 An unwise king destroyeth his people; but through the prudence of them which are in authority, the city shall be inhabited.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time he will set over it one that is profitable.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperity of man: and upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

6 Bear not hatred to thy neighbour for every wrong; and do nothing at all by injurious practices.

7 Pride is hateful before God and man: and by both doth one commit iniquity.

8 Because of unrighteous dealings, injuries, and riches got by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.

9 Why is earth and ashes proud? There is not a more wicked thing than a covetous man: for such a one setteth his own soul to sale; because while he liveth, he casteth away his bowels.

10 The physician cutteth off a long disease; and he that is to-day a king, to-morrow shall die.

11 For when a man is dead, he shall inherit creeping things, beasts, and worms.

12 The beginning of pride is when one departeth from God, and his heart is turned away from his Maker.

13 For pride is the beginning of sin, and he that hath it shall pour out abomination: and therefore the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrew them utterly.

14 The Lord hath cast down the thrones of proud princes, and set up the meek in their stead.

15 The Lord hath plucked up the roots of the proud nations, and planted the lowly in their place.

16 The Lord overthrew countries of the heathen, and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.

17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their memorial to cease from the earth.

18 Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them that are born of a woman.

19 They that fear the Lord are a sure seed, and they that love him an honourable plant: they that regard not the law are a dishonourable seed; they that transgress the commandments are a deceivable seed.

20 Among brethren he that is chief is honourable; so are they that fear the Lord, in his eyes.

21 The fear of the Lord goeth before the obtaining of authority; but roughness and pride is the losing thereof.

22 Whether he be rich, noble, or poor, their glory is the fear of the Lord.

23 It is not meet to despise the poor man that hath understanding; neither is it convenient to magnify a sinful man.

24 Great men, and judges, and potentates, shall be honoured; yet is there none of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.

25 Unto the servant that is wise shall they that are free do service: and he that hath knowledge will not grudge when he is reformed.

26 Be not overwise in doing thy business; and boast not thyself in the time of thy distress.

27 Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things, than he that boasteth himself, and wanteth bread.

28 My son, glorify thy soul in meekness, and give it honour according to the dignity thereof.

29 Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul? and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own life?

30 The poor man is honoured for his skill, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.

31 He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches? and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty?

CHAP. XI.

4 We may not vaunt nor set forth ourselves, nor answer rashly, nor meddle with many matters. 14 Wealth and all things else are from God. 24 Brag not of thy wealth, nor bring every man into thy house.

WISDOM lifted up the head of him that is of low degree, and maketh him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not a man for his beauty, neither abhor a man for his outward appearance.

3 The bee is little among such as fly; but her fruit is the chief of sweet things.

4 Boast not of thy clothing and raiment, and exalt not thyself in the day of honour: for the works of the Lord are wonderful, and his works among men are hidden.

5 Many kings have sat down upon the ground; and one that was never thought of hath worn the crown.

6 Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced; and the honourable delivered into other men's hands.

7 Blame not before thou hast examined the truth: understand first, and then rebuke.

8 Answer not before thou hast heard the cause: neither interrupt men in the midst of their talk.

9 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not; and sit not in judgment with sinners.

10 My son, meddle not with many matters: for if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be innocent: and if thou follow after, thou shalt not obtain, neither shalt thou escape by fleeing.

11 There is one that laboureth, and taketh pains, and maketh haste, and is so much the more behind.

12 Again, there is another that is slow, and hath need of help, wanting ability, and full of poverty; yet the eye of the Lord looked upon him for good, and set him up from his low estate,

13 And lifted up his head from misery; so that many that saw it marvelled at him.

14 Prosperity and adversity, life and death, poverty and riches, come of the Lord.

15 Wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of the law, are of the Lord: love, and the way of good works, are from him.

16 Error and darkness had their beginning together with sinners: and evil shall wax old with them that glory therein.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly, and his favour bringeth prosperity for ever.

18 There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching, and this is the portion of his reward:

19 Whereas he saith, I have found rest, and now will eat continually of my goods; and yet he knoweth not what time shall come upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die.

20 Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, and wax old in thy work.

21 Marvel not at the works of sinners; but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour: for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord, on the sudden to make a poor man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly, and suddenly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

23 Say not, What profit is there of my service? and what good things shall I have hereafter?

24 Again, say not, I have enough, and possess many things, and what evil can come to me hereafter?

25 In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of affliction: and in the day of affliction there is no more remembrance of prosperity.

26 For it is an easy thing unto the Lord in the day of death to reward a man according to his ways.

27 The affliction of an hour maketh a man forget pleasure: and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.

28 Judge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known in his children.

29 Bring not every man into thy house: for the deceitful man hath many trains.

30 Like as a partridge taken [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the proud; and like as a spy, watcheth he for thy fall:

31 For he lieth in wait, and turneth good into evil, and in things worthy praise will lay blame upon thee.

32 Of a spark of fire, a heap of coals is kindled: and a sinful man layeth wait for blood.

33 Take heed of a mischievous man, for he worketh wickedness; lest he bring upon thee a perpetual blot.

34 Receive a stranger into thy house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.

CHAP. XII.

2 Be not liberal to the ungodly. 10 Trust not thine enemy nor the wicked.

WHEN thou wilt do good, know to whom thou doest it; so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefits.

2 Do good to the godly man, and thou shalt find a recompense; and if not from him, yet from the Most High.

3 There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil, nor to him that giveth no alms.

4 Give to the godly man, and help not a sinner.

5 Do well unto him that is lowly, but give not to the ungodly: hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he overmaster thee thereby: for [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

6 For the Most High hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.

7 Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.

8 A friend cannot be known in prosperity: and an enemy cannot be hid in adversity.

9 In the prosperity of a man, enemies will be grieved: but in his adversity, even a friend will depart.

10 Never trust thine enemy: for like as iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed and beware of him, and thou shalt be unto him as if thou hadst wiped a looking-glass, and thou shalt know that his rust hath not been altogether wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, lest, when he hath overthrown thee, he stand up in thy place; neither let him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked therewith.

13 Who will pity the charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any such as come nigh wild beasts?

14 So one that goeth to a sinner, and is defiled with him in his sins, who will pity?

15 For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.

16 An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit: he will weep with his eyes, but if he find opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

17 If adversity come upon thee, thou shalt find him there first; and though he pretend to help thee, yet shall he undermine thee.

18 He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.

CHAP. XIII.

Keep not company with the proud, or a mightier than thyself. 15 Like will to like. 21 The difference between the rich and the poor. 25 A man's heart will change his countenance.

HE that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith; and he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall be like unto him.

2 Burden not thyself above thy power while thou livest; and have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself: for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threateneth withal: the poor is wronged, and he must entreat also.

4 If thou be for his profit, he will use thee: but if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou have any thing, he will live with thee: yea, he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry for it.

6 If he have need of thee, he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope; he will speak thee fair, and say, What wantest thou?

7 And he will shame thee by his meats, until he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn: afterward, when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought down in thy jollity.

9 If thou be invited of a mighty man, withdraw thyself, and so much the more will he invite thee.

10 Press thou not upon him, lest thou be put back; stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.

11 Affect not to be made equal unto him in talk, and believe not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets:

13 Observe, and take good heed, for thou walkest in peril of thy overthrowing: when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleep.

14 Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.

15 Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour.

16 All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.

17 What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb? so the sinner with the godly.

18 What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog? and what peace between the rich and the poor?

19 As the wild ass is the lion's prey in the wilderness: so the rich eat up the poor.

20 As the proud hate humility: so doth the rich abhor the poor.

21 A rich man beginning to fall is held up of his friends: but a poor man being down is thrust also away by his friends.

22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justify him: the poor man slipped, and yet they rebuked him too; he spake wisely, and could have no place.

23 When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and look, what he saith, they extol it to the clouds: but if the poor man speak, they say, What fellow is this? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good unto him that hath no sin, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil: and a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.

26 A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity; and the finding out of parables is a wearisome labour of the mind.

CHAP. XIV.

1 A good conscience maketh men happy. 6 The niggard doeth good to none. 13 But do thou good. 20 Men are happy that draw near to wisdom.

BLESSED is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth, and is not pricked with the multitude of sins.

2 Blessed is he whose conscience hath not condemned him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard: and what should an envious man do with money?

4 He that gathereth by defrauding his own soul, gathereth for others, that shall spend his goods riotously.

5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good? he shall not take pleasure in his goods.

6 There is none worse than he that envieth himself; and this is a recompense of his wickedness.

7 And if he doeth good, he doeth it unwillingly; and at the last he will declare his wickedness.

8 The envious man hath a wicked eye; he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion; and the iniquity of the wicked drieth up his soul.

10 A wicked eye envieth [his] bread, and he is a niggard at his table.

11 My son, according to thy ability do good to thyself, and give the Lord his due offering.

12 Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.

13 Do good unto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.

14 Defraud not thyself of the good day, and let not the part of a good desire overpass thee.

15 Shalt thou not leave thy travails unto another? and thy labours to be divided by lot?

16 Give, and take, and sanctify thy soul; for there is no seeking of dainties in the grave.

17 All flesh waxeth old as a garment: for the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.

18 As of the green leaves on a thick tree, some fall, and some grow; so is the generation of flesh and blood, one cometh to an end, and another is born.

19 Every work rotteth and consumeth away, and the worker thereof shall go withal.

20 Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his understanding.

21 He that considereth her ways in his heart shall also have understanding in her secrets.

22 Go after her as one that traceth, and lie in wait in her ways.

23 He that pryeth in at her windows shall also hearken at her doors.

24 He that doth lodge near her house shall also fasten a pin in her walls.

25 He shall pitch his tent nigh unto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

26 He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches.

27 By her he shall be covered from heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAP. XV.

2 Wisdom embraceth those that fear God. 7 The wicked shall not get her. 11 We may not charge God with our faults; for he made, and left us to ourselves.

HE that feareth the Lord will do good; and he that hath the knowledge of the law shall obtain her.

2 And as a mother shall she meet him, and receive him as a wife married of a virgin.

3 With the bread of understanding shall she feed him, and give him the water of wisdom to drink.

4 He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved; and shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.

5 She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.

6 He shall find joy and a crown of gladness, and she shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.

7 But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is far from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.

9 Praise is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner, for it was not sent him of the Lord.

10 For praise shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to err: for he hath no need of the sinful man.

13 The Lord hateth all abomination; and they that fear God love it not.

14 He himself made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsel;

15 If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.

16 He hath set fire and water before thee: stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.

17 Before man is life and death; and whether him liketh shall be given him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things:

19 And his eyes are upon them that fear him, and he knoweth every work of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, neither hath he given any man license to sin.

CHAP. XVI.

2 It is better to have none, than many lewd children. 6 The wicked are not spared for their number. 12 Both the wrath and the mercy of the Lord are great. 17 The wicked cannot be hid. 20 God's works are unsearchable.

DESIRE not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly sons.

2 Though they multiply, rejoice not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.

3 Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is just is better than a thousand; and better it is to die without children, than to have them that are ungodly.

Gen. 1. 27. & 5. 2.

7 Withal he filled them with the knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil.
 8 He set his eye upon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatness of his works.
 9 He gave them to glory in his marvellous acts for ever, that they might declare his works with understanding.
 10 And the elect shall praise his holy name.
 11 Besides this he gave them knowledge, and the law of life for a heritage.
 12 He made an everlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his judgments.
 13 Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice.
 14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness; and he gave every man commandment concerning his neighbour.
 15 Their ways are ever before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.
 16 Every man from his youth is given to evil; neither could they make to themselves fleshly hearts for stony.
 17 For in the division of the nations of the whole earth, he set a ruler over every people; but Israel is the Lord's portion:
 18 Whom, being his first-born, he nourisheth with discipline, and, giving him the light of his love, doth not forsake him.
 19 Therefore all their works are as the sun before him, and his eyes are continually upon their ways.
 20 None of their unrighteous deeds are hid from him, but all their sins are before the Lord.
 21 But the Lord being gracious, and knowing his workmanship, neither left nor forsook them, but spared them.
 22 The alms of a man is as a signet with him, and he will keep the good deeds of man as the apple of the eye, and give repentance to his sons and daughters.
 23 Afterward he will rise up and reward them, and render their recompense upon their heads.
 24 But unto them that repent, he granted them return, and comforted those that failed in patience.
 25 Return unto the Lord, and forsake thy sins, make thy prayer before his face, and offend less.
 26 Turn again to the Most High, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the light of health; and hate thou abomination vehemently.
 27 Who shall praise the Most High in the grave, instead of them which live and give thanks?
 28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: the living and sound in heart shall praise the Lord.
 29 How great is the loving-kindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness!
 30 For all things cannot be in men, because the son of man is not immortal.
 31 What is brighter than the sun? yet the light thereof faileth: and flesh and blood will imagine evil.
 32 He vieweth the power of the height of heaven, and all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAP. XVIII.

4 God's works are to be wondered at. 9 Man's life is short. 11 God is merciful. 15 Do not blemish thy good deeds with ill words. 22 Defer not to be justified. 30 Follow not thy lusts.

HE that liveth forever created all things in general.
 2 The Lord only is righteous, and there is none other but he.
 3 Who governeth the world with the palm of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he is the King of all, by his power dividing holy things among them from profane.
 4 To whom hath he given power to declare his works? and who shall find out his noble acts?
 5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?
 6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither may anything be put unto them, neither can the ground of them be found out.
 7 When a man hath done, then he beginneth; and when he leaveth off, then he shall be doubtful.
 8 What is man, and whereto serveth he? what is his good, and what is his evil?
 9 The number of a man's days at the most are a hundred years.

 11 Therefore is God patient with them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.
 12 He saw and perceived their end to be evil; therefore he multiplied his compassion.
 13 The mercy of man is toward his neighbour; but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he reproveth, and nurtureth, and teacheth, and bringeth again, as a shepherd his flock.
 14 He hath mercy on them that receive discipline, and that diligently seek after his judgments.
 15 My son, blemish not thy good deeds, neither use uncomfortable words when thou givest any thing.
 16 Shall not the dew assuage the heat? so is a word better than a gift.
 17 Lo, is not a word better than a gift? but both are with a gracious man.
 18 A fool will upbraid churlishly, and a gift of the envious consumeth the eyes.
 19 Learn before thou speak, and use physic or ever thou be sick.
 20 Before judgment examine thyself, and in the day of visitation thou shalt find mercy.
 21 Humble thyself before thou be sick, and in the time of sins shew repentance.
 22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time, and defer not until death to be justified.
 23 Before thou prayest, prepare thyself; and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.
 24 Think upon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the time of vengeance, when he shall turn away his face.
 25 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, think upon poverty and need.
 26 From the morning until the evening the time is changed, and all things are soon done before the Lord.
 27 A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a fool will not observe time.
 28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise unto him that found her.
 29 They that were of understanding in sayings, became also wise themselves, and poured forth exquisite parables.
 30 Go not after thy lusts, but refrain thyself from thine appetites.
 31 If thou givest thy soul the desires that please her, she will make thee a laughing-stock to thine enemies that malign thee.
 32 Take not pleasure in much good cheer, neither be tied to the expense thereof.
 33 Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt lie in wait for thine own life, and be talked on.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Wine and women seduce wise men. 7 Say not all thou hearest. 17 Reprove thy friend without anger. 22 There is no wisdom in wickedness.

A LABOURING man that is given to drunkenness shall not be rich: and he that contemneth small things shall fall by little and little.
 2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away: and he that cleaveth to harlots will become impudent.
 3 Moths and worms shall have him to heritage, and a bold man shall be taken away.
 4 He that is hasty to give credit is light-minded; and he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.
 5 Whoso taketh pleasure in wickedness shall be condemned: but he that resisteth pleasures crowneth his life.
 6 He that can rule his tongue shall live without strife; and he that hateth babbling shall have less evil.
 7 Rehearse not unto another that which is told unto thee, and thou shalt fare never the worse.
 8 Whether it be to a friend or foe, talk not of other men's lives; and if thou canst without offence, reveal them not.
 9 For he heard and observed thee, and when time cometh he will hate thee.

10 If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee; and be bold, it will not burst thee.

11 A fool travaileth with a word, as a woman in labour of a child.

12 As an arrow that sticketh in a man's thigh, so is a word within a fool's || belly.

13 ^bAdmonish a friend, it may be he hath not done it: and if he have done it, that he do it no more.

14 || Admonish thy friend, it may be he hath not said it: and if he have, that he speak it not again.

15 Admonish a friend: for many times it is a slander, and believe not every tale.

16 There is one that slippeth in his speech, but not || from his heart; and who is he that hath not offended with his ^ctongue?

17 || Admonish thy neighbour before thou threaten him; and not being angry, give place to the law of the Most High.

18 The fear of the Lord is the first step || to be accepted [of him,] and wisdom obtaineth his love.

19 The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord is the doctrine of life: and they that do things that please him shall receive the fruit of the tree of immortality.

20 The fear of the Lord is all wisdom; and in all wisdom is the performance of the law, and the knowledge of his omnipotency.

21 If a servant say to his master, I will not do as it pleaseth thee; though afterward he do it, he angereth him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom, neither at any time the counsel of sinners prudence.

23 There is a wickedness, and the same an abomination; and there is a fool wanting in wisdom.

24 He that hath small understanding, and feareth God, is better than one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the law of the Most High.

25 There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust; and there is one that turneth aside to make judgment appear; and there is a wise man that || justifieth in judgment.

26 There is a wicked man that hangeth down his head || sadly; but inwardly he is full of deceit,

27 Casting down his countenance, and making as if he heard not: where he is not known, he will do thee a mischief before thou be aware.

28 And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning, yet when he findeth opportunity he will do evil.

29 A man may be known by his look, and one that hath understanding by his countenance, when thou meetest him.

30 A man's attire, and excessive laughter, and gait, shew what he is.

CHAP. XX.

¹ Of silence and speaking. ¹⁰ Of gifts and gain. ¹⁸ Of slipping by the tongue. ²⁴ Of lying. ²⁷ Of divers cautions.

THERE is a reproof that is not || comely: again, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.

2 It is much better to reprove, than to be angry secretly: and he that confesseth his fault shall be preserved from hurt.

3 How good is it, when thou art reprov'd, to shew repentance: for so shalt thou escape wilful sin.

4 As is the lust of ^aan eunuch to deflower a virgin: so is he that executeth judgment with violence.

5 There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise: and another by much babbling becometh hateful.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, ^bknowing his time.

7 A wise man will hold his ^ctongue, till he see opportunity: but a babbler and a fool will regard no time.

8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred; and he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.

9 There is a sinner that hath good success in evil things; and there is a gain that turneth to loss.

10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee; and there is a gift whose recompense is double.

11 There is an abasement because of glory; and there is that lifteth up his head from a low estate.

12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and repayeth it seven-fold.

13 ^dA wise man by his words maketh himself beloved: but the || graces of fools shall be || poured out.

15 He giveth little, and upbraideth much; he openeth his mouth like a crier; to-day he lendeth, and to-morrow will he ask it again: such a one is to be hated of God and man.

16 The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thanks for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread speak evil of me.

17 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn! for he knoweth not aright what it is to have; and it is all one unto him as if he had it not.

18 To slip upon a pavement is better than to slip with the tongue: so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

19 || An unseasonable tale will always be in the mouth of the unwise.

20 A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fool's mouth; for he will not speak it in due season.

21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want: and when he taketh rest, he † shall not be troubled.

22 There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons overthroweth himself.

23 There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.

24 ^eA lie is a foul blot in a man, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untaught.

25 A thief is better than a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall have destruction to heritage.

26 The disposition of a liar is || dishonourable, and his shame is ever with him.

27 A wise man shall promote himself to honour with his words: and he that hath understanding will please great men.

28 ^fHe that tilleth his land shall increase his heap: and he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.

29 ^gPresents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and || stop up his mouth that he cannot reprove.

30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both?

31 Better is he that hideth his folly than a man that hideth his wisdom.

32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord is better than he that leadeth his life without a guide.

CHAP. XXI.

² Flee from sin as from a serpent. ⁴ His oppression will undo the rich. ⁹ The end of the unjust shall be naught. ¹² The differences between the fool and the wise.

MY son, hast thou sinned? do so no more, but ^aask pardon for thy former sins.

2 Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent: for if thou comest too near it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, slaying the souls of men.

3 All iniquity is as a two-edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

4 To terrify and do wrong will waste riches: thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.

5 ^bPrayer out of a poor man's mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgment cometh speedily.

6 He that hateth to be reprov'd is in the way of sinners; but he that feareth the Lord will † repent from his heart.

7 An eloquent man is known far and near; but a man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.

8 He that buildeth his house with other men's money is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his burial.

9 ^cThe congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together: and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.

10 The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.

11 He that keepeth the law of the Lord getteth the understanding thereof: and the perfection of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

12 He that is not || wise will not be taught: ^dbut there is a || wisdom which multiplieth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood: and his counsel is like a pure fountain of life.

14 ^eThe inner parts of a fool are like a broken vessel, and he will hold no knowledge as long as he liveth.

15 If a skilful man hear a wise word, he will commend it and 'add unto it: but as soon as one of no understanding hear-eth it, it displeaseth him, and he casteth it behind his back.

16 The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.

17 They inquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool:
and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk || without sense.

19 Doctrine unto fools is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

20 A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter; but a wise man doth scarce smile a little.

21 Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 A foolish man's foot is soon in his [neighbour's] house:
but a man of experience is ashamed of him.

23 A fool will peep in at the door into the house: but he that is well nurtured will stand without.

24 It is the rudeness of a man to hearken at the door: but a wise man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertain not unto them: but the words of such as have understanding are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth Satan, he curseth his own soul.

28 A whisperer defileth his own soul, and is hated whereso-ever he dwelleth.

CHAP. XXII.

^v Of the slothful man, and a foolish daughter. ¹¹ Weep rather for fools, than for the dead. ¹³ Meddle not with them. ¹⁶ The wise man's heart will not shrink.

A SLOTHFUL man is compared to a filthy stone, and every one will hiss him out to his disgrace.

2 A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill:
every man that takes it up will shake his hand.

3 An evil-nurtured son is the dishonour of his father that begat him: and a [foolish] daughter is born to his loss.

4 A wise daughter || shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but she that liveth dishonestly is her father's heaviness.

5 She that is bold dishonoureth both her father and her husband, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of season [is as] music in mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are never out of time.

7 Whoso teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together, and as he that waketh one from a sound sleep.

8 He that telleth a tale to a fool speaketh to one in a slumber: when he hath told his tale he will say, What is the matter?

9 If children live honestly, and have || wherewithal, they shall cover the baseness of their parents.

10 But children, being haughty, through disdain and want of nurture do stain the nobility of their kindred.

11 Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light: and weep for the fool, for he wanteth understanding: make little weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the fool is worse than death.

12 Seven days do men mourn for him that is dead; but for a fool and an ungodly man all the days of his life.

13 Talk not much with a fool, and go not to him that hath no understanding: beware of him, lest thou have trouble, and thou shalt never be defiled || with his fooleries: depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and never be || disquieted with madness.

14 What is heavier than lead? and what is the name thereof, but a fool?

15 Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear than a man without understanding.

16 As timber girt and bound together in a building cannot be loosed with shaking: so the heart that is established by advised counsel shall fear at no time.

17 A heart settled upon a thought of understanding is as a fair plastering || on the wall of a gallery.

18 Palces set on a high place will never stand against the wind: so a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool cannot stand against any fear.

19 He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall: and he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew her knowledge.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at the birds frayeth them away:
and he that upbraideth his friend breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drewest a sword at thy friend, yet despair not: for there may be a returning [to favour].

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against thy friend, fear not; for there may be a reconciliation: except for upbraiding, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for,
for these things every friend will depart.

23 Be faithful to thy neighbour in his poverty, that thou mayest rejoice in his prosperity: abide steadfast unto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heir with him in his heritage: for a mean estate is not always to be contemned:
nor the rich that is foolish to be had in admiration.

24 As the vapour and smoke of a furnace goeth before the fire; so reviling before blood.

25 I will not be ashamed to defend a friend; neither will I hide myself from him.

26 And if any evil happen unto me by him, every one that heareth it will beware of him.

27 Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a seal of wisdom upon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAP. XXIII.

¹ A prayer for grace to flee sin. ⁹ We may not use swearing; but remember our parents. ¹⁶ Of three sorts of sin. ²³ The adulterous wife sinneth many ways.

O LORD, Father and Governor of all my whole life, leave me not to their counsels, and let me not fall by them.

2 Who will set scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom over my heart? that they spare me not for mine ignorances, and it pass not by my sins:

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, and my sins abound to my destruction, and I fall before mine adversaries, and mine enemy rejoice over me, whose hope is far from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, Father and God of my life, give me not a proud look, but turn away from thy servants always || a haughty mind.

5 Turn away from me vain hopes and concupiscence, and thou shalt hold him up that is desirous always to serve thee.

6 Let not the greediness of the belly nor lust of the flesh take hold of me; and give not over me thy servant into an impudent mind.

7 Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: he that keepeth it shall never be taken in his lips.

8 The sinner shall be left in his foolishness; both the evil speaker and the proud shall fall thereby.

9 Accustom not thy mouth to swearing; neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One.

10 For as a servant that is continually beaten shall not be without a blue mark; so he that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be faultless.

11 A man that useth much swearing shall be filled with iniquity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him: and if he acknowledge not his sin, he maketh a double offence; and if he swear in vain, he shall not be † innocent, but his house shall be full of calamities.

12 There is a word that is clothed about with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob; for all such things shall be far from the godly, and they shall not wallow in their sins.

13 Use not thy mouth to intemperate swearing, for therein is the word of sin.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou sittest among great men. Be not forgetful before them, and so thou by thy custom become a fool, and wish that thou hadst not been born, and curse the day of thy nativity.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words will never be reformed all the days of his life.

16 Two sorts of men multiply sin, and the third will bring wrath: a hot mind is as a burning fire, it will never be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweet to a whoremonger, he will not leave off till he die.

18 A man that breaketh wedlock, saying thus in his heart, 'Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkness, the walls cover me, and no body seeth me; what need I to fear? the Most High will not remember my sins:

19 Such a man only feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, beholding all the ways of men, and considering the most secret parts.

20 He knew all things ere ever they were created; so also after they were perfected he looked upon them all.

21 'This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and where he suspecteth not he shall be taken.

22 Thus shall it go also with the wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by ||another.

23 For first, she hath disobeyed the law of the Most High; and secondly, she hath trespassed against her own husband: and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adultery, and brought children by another man.

24 She shall be brought out into the congregation, and ||inquisition shall be made of her children.

25 Her children shall not take root, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.

26 She shall leave her memory to be cursed, and her reproach shall not be blotted out.

27 And they that remain shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.

28 It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be received of him is long life.

CHAP. XXIV.

1 Wisdom doth praise herself, shewing her beginning, her dwelling, her glory, her fruit, her increase and perfection.

WISDOM shall praise herself, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

2 In the congregation of the Most High shall she open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 I came out of the mouth of the Most High, and covered the earth as ||a cloud.

4 I dwelt in high places, and my throne is in a cloudy pillar.

5 I alone compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the bottom of the deep.

6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people and nation, I got a possession.

7 With all these I sought rest: and in whose inheritance shall I abide?

8 So the Creator of all things gave me a commandment, and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

9 He created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail.

10 In the holy tabernacle I served before him; and so was I established in Sion.

11 Likewise in the ||beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.

12 And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lord's inheritance.

13 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress-tree upon the mountains of Hermon.

14 I was exalted like a palm-tree in ||Engaddi, and as a rose-plant in Jericho, as a fair olive-tree in a pleasant field, and grew up as a plane-tree ||by the water.

15 I gave a sweet smell like cinnamon and aspalathus, and I yielded a pleasant odour like the best myrrh, as galbanum, and onyx, and sweet storax, and as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.

16 As the turpentine-tree I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

17 As the vine brought I forth a pleasant savour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

18 I am the mother of fair love, and fear, and knowledge, and holy hope: I therefore, being eternal, am given to all my children which are ||named of him.

19 Come unto me, all ye that be desirous of me, and fill yourselves with my fruits.

20 For my memorial is sweeter than honey, and mine inheritance than the honey-comb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry, and they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

24 Faint not to be strong in the Lord: that he may confirm you, cleave unto him: for the Lord Almighty is God alone, and besides him there is no other Saviour.

25 He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Phison and as Tigris in the time of the new fruits.

26 He maketh the understanding to abound like Euphrates, and as Jordan in the time of the harvest.

27 He maketh the doctrine of knowledge appear as the light, and as Geon in the time of vintage.

28 The first man knew her not perfectly: no more shall the last find her out.

29 For her thoughts are more than the sea, and her counsels profounder than the great deep.

30 I also came out as a ||brook from a river, and as a conduit into a garden.

31 I said, I will water my best garden, and will water abundantly my garden-bed: and lo, my brook became a river, and my river became a sea.

32 I will yet make doctrine to shine as the morning, and will send forth her light afar off.

33 I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, and leave it to all ages for ever.

34 Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, but for all them that seek wisdom.

CHAP. XXV.

1 What things are beautiful, and what hateful. 6 What is the crown of age. 7 What things make man happy. 13 Nothing worse than a wicked woman.

I N three things I ||was beautified, and stood up beautiful both before God and men: the unity of brethren, the love of neighbours, a man and a wife that agree together.

2 Three sorts of men my soul hateth, and I am greatly offended at their life: a poor man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doteth.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, how canst thou find any thing in thine age?

4 O how comely a thing is judgment for gray hairs, and for ancient men to know counsel!

5 O how comely is the wisdom of old men, and understanding and counsel to men of honour!

6 Much experience is the crown of old men, and the fear of God is their glory.

7 There be nine things which I have judged in my heart to be happy, and the tenth I will utter with my tongue: A man that hath joy of his children; and he that liveth to see the fall of his enemy:

8 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of understanding, and that hath not slipped with his tongue, and that hath not served a man more unworthy than himself:

9 Well is him that hath found ||prudence, and he that speaketh in the ears of them that hear.

10 O how great is he that findeth wisdom! yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

11 But the love of the Lord passeth all things for illumination: he that holdeth it, ||whereto shall he be likened?

12 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of his love: and faith is the beginning of cleaving unto him.

13 [Give me] any plague, but the plague of the heart: and any wickedness, but the wickedness of a woman:

14 And any affliction, but the affliction from them that hate me: and any revenge, but the revenge of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent; and there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 I had rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, than to keep house with a wicked woman.

17 The wickedness of a woman changeth her face, and darkeneth her countenance ||like sackcloth.

18 Her husband shall sit among his neighbours; and when he heareth it shall sigh bitterly.

19 All wickedness is but little to the wickedness of a woman: let the portion of a sinner fall upon her.

20 As the climbing of a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife ||full of words to a quiet man.

21 ^aStumble not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for pleasure.

22 A woman, if she maintain her husband, is full of anger, impudence, and much reproach.

23 A wicked woman abateth the courage, maketh a heavy countenance and a wounded heart: a woman that will not comfort her husband in distress maketh weak hands and feeble knees.

24 Of the woman came the beginning of sin, and through her we all die.

25 Give the water no passage; neither a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.

26 If she go not as thou wouldest have her, cut her off from thy flesh, and give her a bill of divorce, and let her go.

CHAP. XXVI.

¹ A good wife and a good conscience, do gladden men. 6 A wicked wife is a fearful thing. 13 Of good and bad wives. 28 Of three things that are grievous. 29 Merchants and hucksters are not without sin.

BLESSED is the man that hath a virtuous wife, for the number of his days shall be double.

2 A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and he shall fulfil the years of his life in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion, which shall be given in the portion of them that fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor, if he have a good heart toward the Lord, he shall at all times rejoice with a cheerful countenance.

5 There be three things that my heart feareth; and for the fourth I was sore afraid: †the slander of a city, and gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation: all these are worse than death.

6 But a grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous over another woman, and a scourge of the tongue which communicateth with all.

7 An evil wife is ||a yoke shaken to and fro: he that hath hold of her is as though he held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and a gadder abroad causeth great anger, and she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman may be known in her haughty looks and eyelids.

10 If thy daughter be shameless, keep her in straitly, lest she abuse herself through overmuch liberty.

11 Watch over an impudent eye: and marvel not if she trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller when he hath found a fountain, and drink of every water near her: by every ||hedge she will sit down, and open her quiver against every arrow.

13 The grace of a wife delighteth her husband, and her discretion will fatten his bones.

14 A silent and loving woman is a gift of the Lord; and there is nothing so much worth as a mind well instructed.

15 A shamefaced and a faithful woman is a double grace, and her continent mind cannot be valued.

16 As the sun when it ariseth †in the high heaven; so is the beauty of a good wife in the ||ordering of her house.

17 As the clear light is upon the holy candlestick; so is the beauty of the face ||in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are upon the sockets of silver; so are the ||fair feet with a constant ||heart.

19 My son, keep the flower of thine age sound; and give not thy strength to strangers.

20 When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the field, sow it with thine own seed, trusting in the goodness of thy stock.

21 So thy race which thou leavest shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.

22 A harlot shall be accounted as ||spittle, but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.

23 A wicked woman is given as a portion to a wicked man: but a godly woman is given to him that feareth the Lord.

24 A dishonest woman contemneth shame: but an honest woman will reverence her husband.

25 A shameless woman shall be accounted as a dog; but she that is shamefaced will fear the Lord.

26 A woman that honoureth her husband shall be judged wise of all; but she that dishonoureth him in her pride shall be counted ungodly of all.

29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong: and a huckster shall not be freed from sin.

CHAP. XXVII.

¹ Of sins in selling and buying. 7 Our speech will tell what is in us. 16 A friend is lost by discovering his secrets. 25 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it.

MANY have sinned for ||a small matter; and he that ^bseeketh for abundance will turn his eyes away.

2 As a nail sticketh fast between the joinings of the stones; so doth sin stick close between buying and selling.

3 Unless a man hold himself diligently in the fear of the Lord, his house shall soon be overthrown.

4 As when one sifteth with a sieve, the refuse remaineth; so the filth of man in his ||talk.

5 The furnace proveth the potter's vessels; so the trial of man is in his reasoning.

6 The fruit declareth if the tree have been dressed; so is the utterance of a conceit in the heart of man.

7 Praise no man before thou hearest him speak; for this is the trial of men.

8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her, and put her on, as a glorious long robe.

9 The birds will resort unto their like; so will truth return unto them that practise in her.

10 As the lion lieth in wait for the prey; so sin for them that work iniquity.

11 The discourse of a godly man is always with wisdom; but a fool changeth as the moon.

12 If thou be among the indiscreet, observe the time; but be continually among men of understanding.

13 The discourse of fools is irksome, and their sport is in the wantonness of sin.

14 The talk of him that sweareth much maketh the hair stand upright; and their brawls make one stop his ears.

15 The strife of the proud is blood-shedding, and their revilings are grievous to the ear.

16 Whoso discovereth secrets loseth his credit: and shall never find a friend to his mind.

17 Love thy friend, and be faithful unto him: but if thou bewrayest his secrets, follow no more after him.

18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy; so hast thou lost the love of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and shalt not get him again.

20 Follow after him no more, for he is too far off; he is as a roe escaped out of the snare.

21 As for a wound, it may be bound up; and after reviling there may be reconciliation: but he that bewrayeth secrets is without hope.

22 He that winketh with the eyes worketh evil: and he that knoweth him will depart from him.

23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly, and will admire thy words: but at the last he will ||writhe his mouth, and slander thy sayings.

24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him; for the Lord will hate him.

25 Whoso casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head; and a deceitful stroke shall make wounds.

26 Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that setteth a trap shall be taken therein.

27 He that worketh mischief, it shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.

28 Mockery and reproach are from the proud; but vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for them.

29 They that rejoice at the fall of the righteous shall be taken in the snare; and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations; and the sinful man shall have them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against revenge, quarrelling, anger, and backbiting.

HE that revengeth shall find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sins [in remembrance.]
2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done unto thee, so shall thy sins also be forgiven when thou prayest.
3 One man beareth hatred against another, and doth he seek pardon from the Lord?
4 He sheweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself: and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sins?
5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who will entreat for pardon of his sins?
6 Remember thy end, and let enmity cease; [remember] corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.
7 Remember the commandments, and bear no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.
8 Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: for a furious man will kindle strife.
9 A sinful man disquieteth friends, and maketh debate among them that be at peace.
10 As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth: and as a man's strength is, so is his wrath; and according to his riches his anger riseth; and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.
11 A hasty contention kindleth a fire: and a hasty fighting sheddeth blood.
12 If thou blow the spark, it shall burn: if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched: and both these come out of thy mouth.
13 Curse the whisperer and double-tongued: for such have destroyed many that were at peace.
14 A backbiting tongue hath disquieted many, and driven them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it pulled down, and overthrown the houses of great men.
15 A backbiting tongue hath cast out virtuous women, and deprived them of their labours.
16 Whoso hearkeneth unto it shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.
17 The stroke of the whip maketh marks in the flesh: but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.
18 Many have fallen by the edge of the sword: but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.
19 Well is he that is defended from it, and hath not passed through the venom thereof; who hath not drawn the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.
20 For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of brass.
21 The death thereof is an evil death, the grave were better than it.
22 It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burned with the flame thereof.
23 Such as forsake the Lord shall fall into it; and it shall burn in them, and not be quenched; it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and devour them as a leopard.
24 Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns, and bind up thy silver and gold:
25 And weigh thy words in a balance, and make a door and bar for thy mouth.
26 Beware thou slide not by it, lest thou fall before him that lieth in wait.

CHAP. XXIX.

We must shew mercy and lend; 4 but the borrower must not defraud the lender. 9 Give alms. 14 A good man will not undo his surety. 18 To be surety, and undertake for others, is dangerous. 22 It is better to live at home, than to sojourn.

HE that is merciful will lend unto his neighbour; and he that strengtheneth his hand keepeth the commandments.
2 Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.
3 Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him, and thou shalt always find the thing that is necessary for thee.
4 Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.
5 Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hand; and for his neighbour's money he will speak submissively: but when he should repay, he will prolong the time, and return words of grief, and complain of the time.
6 If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half, and he will count as if he had found it: if not, he hath deprived him of his money, and he hath gotten him an enemy without cause: he payeth him with cursings and railings; and for honour he will pay him disgrace.

7 Many therefore have refused to lend for other men's ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.
8 Yet have thou patience with a man in poor estate, and delay not to shew him mercy.
9 Help the poor for the commandment's sake, and turn him not away because of his poverty.
10 Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend, and let it not rust under a stone to be lost.
11 Lay up thy treasure according to the commandments of the Most High, and it shall bring thee more profit than gold.
12 Shut up alms in thy storehouses; and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.
13 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies better than a mighty shield and a strong spear.
14 An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent will forsake him.
15 Forget not the friendship of thy surety, for he hath given his life for thee.
16 A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety:
17 And he that is of an unthankful mind will leave him [in danger] that delivered him.
18 Suretyship hath undone many of good estate, and shaken them as a wave of the sea: mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandered among strange nations.
19 A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord shall fall into suretyship: and he that undertaketh and followeth other men's business for gain shall fall into suits.
20 Help thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thyself fall not into the same.
21 The chief thing for life is water, and bread, and clothing, and a house to cover shame.
22 Better is the life of a poor man in a mean cottage, than delicate fare in another man's house.
23 Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that thou hear not the reproach of thy house.
24 For it is a miserable life to go from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou dardest not open thy mouth.
25 Thou shalt entertain, and feast, and have no thanks: moreover, thou shalt hear bitter words.
26 Come, thou stranger, and furnish a table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.
27 Give place, thou stranger, to an honourable man; my brother cometh to be lodged, and I have need of my house.
28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding; the upbraiding of house-room, and reproaching of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

It is good to correct our children, and not to cocker them. 14 Health is better than wealth. 22 Health and life are shortened by grief.

HE that loveth his son causeth him oft to feel the rod, that he may have joy of him in the end.
2 He that chastiseth his son shall have joy in him, and shall rejoice in him among his acquaintance.
3 He that teacheth his son grieveth the enemy: and before his friends he shall rejoice of him.
4 Though his father die, yet he is as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behind him that is like himself.
5 While he lived, he saw and rejoiced in him: and when he died, he was not sorrowful.
6 He left behind him an avenger against his enemies, and one that shall requite kindness to his friends.
7 He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds; and his bowels will be troubled at every cry.
8 A horse not broken becometh headstrong: and a child left to himself will be wilful.
9 Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid: play with him, and he will bring thee to heaviness.
10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.
11 Give him no liberty in his youth, and wink not at his follies.
12 Bow down his neck while he is young, and beat him on the sides while he is a child, lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee, and so bring sorrow to thy heart.

13 ^oChastise thy son, and hold him to labour, lest his lewd behaviour be an offence unto thee.

14 Better is the poor, being sound and strong of constitution, than a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and good estate of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.

16 There is no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart.

17 ^aDeath is better than a bitter life or continual sickness.

18 Delicacies poured upon a mouth shut up, are as messes of meat set upon a grave.

19 What good doeth the offering unto an idol? for neither can it eat nor smell: so is he that is ||persecuted of the Lord.

20 He seeth with his eyes and groaneth, 'as a eunuch that embraceth a virgin and sigheth.

21 ^aGive not over thy mind to heaviness, and afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.

22 The gladness of the heart is the life of man, and the ||joyfulness of a man prolongeth his days.

23 Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart, remove sorrow far from thee: 'for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.

24 Envy and wrath shorten the life, and carefulness bringeth age before the time.

25 ||A cheerful and good heart will have a care of his meat and diet.

CHAP. XXXI.

^x Of the desire of riches. ¹² Of moderation and excess in eating, or drinking wine.

WATCHING for 'riches consumeth the flesh, and the care thereof driveth away sleep.

2 ^bWatching care will not let a man slumber, as a sore disease breaketh sleep.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together; and when he resteth he is filled with his delicates.

4 The poor laboureth in his poor estate; and when he leaveth off, he is still needy.

5 ^eHe that loveth gold shall not be justified, and he that followeth corruption shall have enough thereof.

6 ^aGold hath been the ruin of many, and their destruction was present.

7 It is a stumbling-block unto them that sacrifice unto it, and every fool shall be taken therewith.

8 ^eBlessed is the rich that is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold.

9 Who is he? and we will call him blessed: for wonderful things hath he done among his people.

10 Who hath been 'tried thereby, and found perfect? then let him glory. Who might offend, and hath not offended? or done evil, and hath not done it?

11 His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his alms.

12 If thou sit at a bountiful table, ^g† be not greedy upon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.

13 Remember that a wicked eye is an evil thing: and what is created more wicked than an eye? therefore it weepeth ||upon every occasion.

14 Stretch not thy hand whithersoever it looketh, and thrust it not with him into the dish.

15 ^aJudge of thy neighbour by thyself: and be discreet in every point.

16 Eat, as it becometh a man, those things which are set before thee; and devour not, lest thou be hated.

17 Leave off first for manners' sake; 'and be not unsatiable, lest thou offend.

18 ^aWhen thou sittest among many, reach not thy hand out first of all.

19 A very little is sufficient for a man well nurtured, || and he fetcheth not his wind short upon his bed.

20 Sound sleep cometh of moderate eating: he riseth early, and his wits are with him: 'but the pain of watching, and choler, and pangs of the belly, are with an unsatiable man.

21 And if thou hast been forced to eat, arise, go forth, vomit, and thou shalt have rest.

22 My son, hear me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt find as I told thee: ^min all thy works be quick, so shall there no sickness come unto thee.

25 Shew not thy ^vvaliantness in wine: ^wfor wine hath destroyed many.

26 The furnace proveth the edge by dipping: so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkenness.

27 ^xWine is as good as life to a man, if it be drunk moderately: what is life then to a man that is without wine? for it was made to make men glad.

28 Wine measurably drunk and in season, bringeth gladness of the heart, and cheerfulness of the mind:

29 But ^ywine drunken with excess maketh bitterness of the mind, with brawling and quarrelling.

30 Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend: it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: give him no despiteful words, ^zand press not upon him with urging him [to drink.]

CHAP. XXXII.

¹ Of his duty that is chief or master in a feast. ¹⁴ Of the fear of God. ¹⁸ Of counsel. ²⁰ Of a rugged and smooth way. ²³ Trust not to any but to thyself, and to God.

IF thou be made ^athe master [of a feast,] lift not thyself up, but be among them as one of the rest, take diligent care for them, and so sit down.

2 And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place, that thou mayest be merry with them, and receive a crown for thy well-ordering of the feast.

3 ^bSpeak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment; and hinder not music.

4 ^cPour not out words where there is a musician, and shew not forth wisdom out of time.

5 A concert of music in a banquet of wine is as a signet of, carbuncle set in gold.

6 As a signet of an emerald set in a work of gold, so is the melody of music with pleasant wine.

7 Speak, young man, if there be need of thee: ^dand yet scarcely when thou art twice asked.

8 Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words; be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.

9 ^eIf thou be among great men, make not thyself equal with them; and when ancient men are in place use not many words.

10 Before the thunder goeth lightning; and before a shamefaced man shall go favour.

11 Rise up betimes, and be not the last; but get thee home without delay.

12 There take thy pastime, and do what thou wilt: ^fbut sin not by proud speech.

13 And for these things bless him ^gthat made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.

14 Whoso feareth the Lord will receive his discipline; and they that ^hseek him early shall find favour.

15 He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.

16 They that fear the Lord shall find judgment, and shall kindle justice as a light.

17 A sinful man will not be reprov'd, but findeth an excuse according to his will.

18 A man of counsel will be ⁱconsiderate; but a strange and proud man is not daunted with fear, even when of himself he hath done without counsel.

19 Do nothing without advice; and when thou hast once done, repent not.

20 Go not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, ^kand stumble not among the stones.

21 Be not confident in a plain way.

22 And beware of thy own children.

23 In every good work trust thy own soul; for this is the keeping of the commandments.

24 He that believeth in the Lord taketh heed to the commandment; and he that trusteth in him ||shall fare never the worse.

CHAP. XXXIII.

¹ The safety of him that feareth the Lord. ² The wise and the foolish. ⁷ Times and seasons are of God. ¹⁰ Men are in his hands as clay in the hands of the potter.

THERE shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord; ^bbut in temptation even again he will deliver them.

² A wise man hateth not the law; but he that is a hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

³ A man of understanding trusteth in the law; and the law is faithful unto him, || as an oracle.

⁴ Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard: and bind up instruction, and then make answer.

⁵ The † heart of the ^cfoolish is like a cart-wheel; and his thoughts are like a rolling axle-tree.

⁶ A stallion horse is as a mocking friend, he neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.

⁷ Why doth one day excel another, when as ^dall the light of every day in the year is of the sun?

⁸ By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished: and he altered ^eseasons and feasts.

⁹ Some of them hath he made high days, and hallowed them, and some of them hath he || made ordinary days.

¹⁰ And all men are from the ground, and ^fAdam was created of earth.

¹¹ In much knowledge the Lord hath divided them, and made their ways diverse.

¹² ^gSome of them hath he blessed and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and set near himself: but some of them hath he cursed and brought low, and turned out of their || places.

¹³ ^hAs the clay is in the potter's hand, to fashion it at his pleasure; so man is in the hand of him that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.

¹⁴ ⁱGood is set against evil, and life against death: so is the godly against the sinner, and the sinner against the godly.

¹⁵ So look upon all the works of the Most High; and there are ^ktwo and two, one against another.

¹⁶ I awaked up last of all, as one that || gathereth after the grape gatherers: by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and filled my wine-press like a gatherer of grapes.

¹⁷ ^lConsider that I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning.

¹⁸ Hear me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your ears, ^mye rulers of the congregation.

¹⁹ Give not thy son and wife, thy brother and friend, power over thee while thou livest, and give not thy goods to another: lest it repent thee, and thou entreat for the same again.

²⁰ As long as thou livest and hast breath in thee, || give not thyself over to any.

²¹ For better it is that thy children should seek to thee, than that thou shouldest || stand to their courtesy.

²² In all thy works keep to thyself the pre-eminence; leave not a stain in thine honour.

²³ At the time when thou shalt end thy days, and finish thy life, ⁿdistribute thine inheritance.

²⁴ Fodder, a wand, and burdens, ^oare for the ass; and bread, correction, and work, for a servant.

²⁵ If ^pthou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt find rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seek liberty.

²⁶ A yoke and a collar do bow the neck; so are tortures and torments for an evil servant.

²⁷ Send him to labour, that he be not idle; for idleness teacheth much evil.

²⁸ Set him to work, as is fit for him: if he be not obedient, put on ^qmore heavy fetters.

²⁹ But be not excessive toward any; and without discretion do nothing.

³⁰ ^rIf thou have a servant, let him be unto thee as thyself, because thou hast bought him † with a price.

³¹ If thou have a servant, ^sentreat him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine own soul: if thou entreat him evil, and he run from thee, which way wilt thou go to seek him?

 3 The vision of dreams is the resemblance of one thing to another, even as the ^blikeness of a face to a face.
 4 ^cOf an unclean thing what can be cleansed? and from that thing which is false what truth can come?
 5 ^dDivinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain: and the heart fancieth, as a woman's heart in travail.
 6 If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, || set not thy heart upon them.
 7 For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.
 8 ^eThe law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.
 9 A man that hath travelled knoweth many things; and he that hath much experience will declare wisdom.
 10 He that hath no experience knoweth little: but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.
 11 When I travelled, I saw many things; and I understood more than I can express.
 12 I was oft-times ^fin danger of death: yet I was delivered because of these things.
 13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live; ^gfor their hope is in him that saveth them.
 14 Whoso feareth the Lord shall not fear nor be afraid; for he is his hope.
 15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?
 16 For ^hthe eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him, ⁱhe is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, ^kand a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling.
 17 He raiseth up the soul, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth health, life, and blessing.
 18 ^lHe that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous; and || the gifts of unjust men are not accepted.
 19 ^mThe Most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked; neither is he pacified for sin by the multitude of sacrifices.
 20 Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor, doeth as one that killeth the son before his father's eyes.
 21 The bread of the needy is their life: ⁿhe that defraudeth him thereof is a man of blood.
 22 He that taketh away his neighbour's living slayeth him; and he that ^odefraudeth the labourer of his hire is a blood-shedder.
 23 When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?
 24 When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord hear?
 25 ^pHe that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availeth his washing?
 26 So it is with a man that fasteth for his sins, and goeth again, and doeth the same: ^qwho will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAP. XXXV.

¹ Sacrifices pleasing to God. ¹⁴ The prayer of the fatherless, of the widow, and of the humble in spirit. ²⁰ Acceptable mercy.

HE ^rthat keepeth the law bringeth offerings enough: he that taketh heed to the commandment offereth a peace-offering.
 2 He that requiteth a good turn offereth fine flour; and he that giveth alms ^ssacrificeth praise.
 3 To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord; and to forsake unrighteousness is a propitiation.
 4 ^tThou shalt not appear empty before the Lord.
 5 For all these things [are to be done] because of the commandment.
 6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the sweet savour thereof ^uis before the Most High.
 7 ^vThe sacrifice of a just man is acceptable, and the memorial thereof shall never be forgotten.
 8 Give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the first-fruits of thy hands.
 9 ^wIn all thy gifts shew a cheerful countenance, and || dedicate thy tithes with gladness.
 10 ^xGive unto the Most High according as he hath enriched thee; and as thou hast gotten, give with a cheerful eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth, and will give thee seven times as much.

12 || Do not think to corrupt with gifts; for such he will not receive: and trust not to unrighteous sacrifices; for the Lord is judge, and with him is no respect of persons.

13 He will not accept any person against a poor man, but will hear the prayer of the oppressed.

14 He will not despise the supplication of the fatherless; nor the widow, when she poureth out her complaint.

15 Do not the tears run down the widow's cheeks? and is not her cry against him that causeth them to fall?

16 He that serveth the Lord shall be accepted with favour, and his prayer shall reach unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds: and till it come nigh, he will not be comforted; and will not depart, till the Most High shall behold to judge righteously, and execute judgment.

18 For the Lord will not be slack, neither will the Mighty be patient toward them, till he have smitten in sunder the loins of the unmerciful, and repaid vengeance to the heathen; till he have taken away the multitude of the proud, and broken the sceptre of the unrighteous;

19 Till he have rendered to every man according to his deeds, and to the works of men according to their devices; till he have judged the cause of his people, and made them to rejoice in his mercy.

20 Mercy is seasonable in the time of affliction, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 A prayer for the church against the enemies thereof. 18 A good heart and a froward. 21 Of a good wife.

HAVE mercy upon us, O Lord God of all, and behold us: 2 And send thy fear upon all the nations that seek not after thee.

3 Lift up thy hand against the strange nations, and let them see thy power.

4 As thou wast sanctified in us before them: so be thou magnified among them before us.

5 And let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God, but only thou, O God.

6 Shew new signs, and make other strange wonders: glorify thy hand and thy right arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works.

7 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath: take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

8 Make the time short, remember the covenant, and let them declare thy wonderful works.

9 Let him that escapeth be consumed by the rage of the fire; and let them perish that oppress the people.

10 Smite in sunder the heads of the rulers of the heathen, that say, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and inherit thou them, as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name, and upon Israel, whom thou hast named thy first-born.

13 O be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion with thine unspeakable oracles, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy name.

16 Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.

17 O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

18 The belly devoureth all meats, yet is one meat better than another.

19 As the palate tasteth divers kinds of venison: so doth a heart of understanding false speeches.

20 A froward heart causeth heaviness: but a man of experience will recompense him.

21 A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.

1 How to know friends and counsellors. 12 The discretion and wisdom of a godly man blesseth him. 27 Learn to refrain thine appetite.

EVERY friend saith, I am his friend also, but there is a friend which is only a friend in name.

2 Is it not a grief unto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked imagination, whence camest thou in to cover the earth with deceit?

4 There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the prosperity of a friend, but in the time of trouble will be against him.

5 There is a companion, which helpeth his friend for the belly, and taketh up the buckler against the enemy.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy mind, and be not unmindful of him in thy riches.

7 Every counsellor extolleth counsel; but there is some that counselleth for himself.

8 Beware of a counsellor, and know before what need he hath; for he will counsel for himself; lest he cast the lot upon thee,

9 And say unto thee, Thy way is good: and afterward he stand on the other side, to see what shall befall thee.

10 Consult not with one that suspecteth thee: and hide thy counsel from such as envy thee.

11 Neither consult with a woman touching her of whom she is jealous; neither with a coward in matters of war; nor with a merchant concerning exchange; nor with a buyer of selling; nor with an envious man of thankfulness; nor with an unmerciful man touching kindness; nor with the slothful for any work; nor with a hireling for a year of finishing work; nor with an idle servant of much business: hearken not unto these in any matter of counsel.

12 But be continually with a godly man, whom thou knowest to keep the commandments of the Lord, whose mind is according to thy mind, and will sorrow with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.

13 And let the counsel of thine own heart stand: for there is no man more faithful unto thee than it.

14 For a man's mind is sometime wont to tell him more than seven watchmen, that sit above in a high tower.

15 And above all this pray to the Most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason go before every enterprise, and counsel before every action.

17 The countenance is a sign of changing of the heart.

18 Four manner of things appear: good and evil, life and death: but the tongue ruleth over them continually.

19 There is one that is wise and teacheth many, and yet is unprofitable to himself.

20 There is one that sheweth wisdom in words, and is hated: he shall be destitute of all food.

21 For grace is not given him from the Lord; because he is deprived of all wisdom.

22 Another is wise to himself; and the fruits of understanding are commendable in his mouth.

23 A wise man instructeth his people; and the fruits of his understanding fail not.

24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing; and all they that see him shall count him happy.

25 The days of the life of man may be numbered: but the days of Israel are innumerable.

26 A wise man shall inherit glory among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

27 My son, prove thy soul in thy life, and see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.

28 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.

29 Be not unsatiable in any dainty thing, nor too greedy upon meats:

30 For || excess of meats bringeth sickness, and surfeiting will turn into cholera.

31 By surfeiting have many perished; but he that taketh heed prolongeth his life.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Honour due to the physician, and why. 16 How to weep and mourn for the dead. 24 The wisdom of the learned man, and of the labourer and artificer: with the use of them both.

HONOUR a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the Most High cometh healing, and he shall receive || honour of the king.

3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head: and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

4 The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth; and he that is wise will not abhor them.

5 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the virtue thereof might be known?

6 And he hath given men skill, that he might be honoured in his marvellous works.

7 With such doth he heal [men,] and taketh away their pains.

8 Of such doth the apothecary make a confection; and of his works there is no end; and from him is peace over all the earth.

9 My son, in thy sickness be not negligent: but pray unto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.

10 Leave off from sin, and order thy hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickedness.

11 Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour; and make a fat offering, || as not being.

12 Then give place to the physician, for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 There is a time when in their hands there is good success.

14 For they shall also pray unto the Lord, that he would prosper that which they give for ease and || remedy to prolong life.

15 He that sinneth before his Maker, let him fall into the hand of the physician.

16 My son, let tears fall down over the dead, and begin to lament, as if thou hadst suffered great harm thyself; and then cover his body according to the custom, and neglect not his burial.

17 Weep bitterly, and make great moan, and use lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of: and then comfort thyself for thy heaviness.

18 For of heaviness cometh death, and the heaviness of the heart breaketh strength.

19 In affliction also sorrow remaineth: and the life of the poor is the curse of the heart.

20 Take no heaviness to heart: drive it away, and remember the last end.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning again: thou shalt not do him good, but hurt thyself.

22 Remember || my judgment: for thine also shall be so; yesterday for me, and to-day for thee.

23 When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest; and be comforted for him, when his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisdom of a learned man cometh by opportunity of leisure: and he that hath little business shall become wise.

25 How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and that glorieth in the goad, that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and whose talk is of bullocks?

26 He giveth his mind to make furrows; and is diligent to give the kine fodder.

27 So every carpenter and workmaster, that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work:

28 The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh; he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly:

29 So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is always carefully set at his work, and maketh all his work by number;

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arm, and boweth down

34 But they will maintain the state of the world, and [all] their desire is in the work of their craft.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 A description of him that is truly wise. 12 An exhortation to praise God for his works: which are good to the good, and evil to them that are evil.

BUT he that giveth his mind to the law of the Most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, will seek out the wisdom of all the ancient, and be occupied in prophecies.

2 He will keep the sayings of the renowned men: and where subtil parables are, he will be there also.

3 He will seek out the secrets of grave sentences, and be conversant in dark parables.

4 He shall serve among great men, and appear before princes; he will travel through strange countries: for he hath tried the good and the evil among men.

5 He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray before the Most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make supplication for his sins.

6 When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of understanding: he shall pour out wise sentences, and give thanks unto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He shall direct his counsel and knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.

8 He shall shew forth that which he hath learned, and shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 Many shall commend his understanding; and so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out; his memorial shall not depart away, and his name shall live from generation to generation.

10 Nations shall shew forth his wisdom, and the congregation shall declare his praise.

11 If he die, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand: and if he live, he shall increase it.

12 Yet have I more to say, which I have thought upon; for I am filled as the moon at the full.

13 Hearken unto me, ye holy children, and bud forth as a rose growing by the brook of the field:

14 And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense, and flourish as a lily, send forth a smell, and sing a song of praise, bless the Lord in all his works.

15 Magnify his name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps, and in praising him ye shall say after this manner:

16 All the works of the Lord are exceeding good, and whatsoever he commandeth shall be accomplished in due season.

17 And none may say, What is this! wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all be sought out: at his commandment the waters stood as a heap, and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters.

18 At his commandment is done whatsoever pleaseth him; and none can hinder, when he will save.

19 The works of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from everlasting to everlasting; and there is nothing wonderful before him.

21 A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their uses.

22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and watered it as a flood.

23 As he hath turned the waters into saltness: so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.

24 As his ways are plain unto the holy; so are they stumbling blocks unto the wicked.

25 For the good are good things created from the beginning: so evil things for sinners.

26 The principal things for the whole use of man's life are water, fire, iron, and salt, flour of wheat, honey, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.

27 All these things are for good to the godly: so to the sinners they are turned into evil.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on sore strokes; in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.

29 Fire, and hail, and famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance;

30 Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions, || serpents, and the sword, punishing the wicked to destruction.

31 They shall rejoice in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth, when need is; and when their time is come, they shall not transgress his word.

32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.

33 All the works of the Lord are good: and he will give every needful thing in due season.

34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse than that: for in time they shall all be well approved.

35 And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in a man's life. 12 The reward of unrighteousness, and the fruit of true dealing. 17 A virtuous wife, and an honest friend, rejoice the heart, but the fear of the Lord is above all. 28 A beggar's life is hateful.

GREAT travail is created for every man, and a heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mother's womb, till the day that they return to the mother of all things.

2 Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death, [trouble] their thoughts, and [cause] fear of heart;

3 From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;

4 From him that weareth purple and a crown, ||unto him that is clothed with a linen frock.

5 Wrath, and envy, trouble, and unquietness, fear of death, and anger, and strife, and in the time of rest upon his bed, his night-sleep, do change his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward he is in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battle.

7 When all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the fear was nothing.

8 [Such things happen] unto all flesh, both man and beast, and that is seven-fold more upon sinners.

9 Death, and bloodshed, strife, and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge;

10 These things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood.

11 All things that are of the earth shall turn to the earth again: and that which is of the waters doth return into the sea.

12 All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out: but true dealing shall endure for ever.

13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall vanish with noise, like a great thunder in rain.

14 While he openeth his hand he shall rejoice: so shall transgressors come to nought.

15 The children of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches: but are as unclean roots upon a hard rock.

16 The weed growing upon every water and bank of a river, shall be pulled up before all grass.

17 Bountifulness is as ||a most fruitful garden, and mercifulness endureth for ever.

18 To labour, and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweet life: but he that findeth a treasure is above them both.

19 Children and the building of a city continue a man's name: but a blameless wife is counted above them both.

20 Wine and music rejoice the heart: but the love of wisdom is above them both.

21 The pipe and the psaltery make sweet melody: but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

22 Thine eye desireth favour and beauty: but more than both, corn while it is green.

23 A friend and companion never meet amiss: but above both is a wife with her husband.

28 My son, lead not a beggar's life; for better it is to die than to beg.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another man's table is not to be counted for a life; for he polluteth himself with other men's meat: but a wise man well nurtured will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shameless: but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

ⁱ The remembrance of death. ³ Death is not to be feared. ⁵ The ungodly shall be accursed. ¹¹ Of an evil and a good name. ¹⁴ Wisdom is to be uttered.

O DEATH, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liveth at rest in his possessions, unto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things: yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat!

2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the needy, and unto him whose strength faileth, that is now in the last age, and || is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!

3 Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that come after; for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.

4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the Most High? there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or a hundred, or a thousand years.

5 The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish, and their posterity shall have a perpetual reproach.

7 The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.

8 Woe be unto you, ungodly men, which have forsaken the law of the most high God! for if ye increase, it shall be to your destruction.

9 And if ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse: and if ye die, a curse shall be your portion.

^{ch.} 40. 11. 10 All that are of the earth shall turn to earth again: so the ungodly shall go from a curse to destruction.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies: but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out.

12 Have regard to thy name; for that shall continue with thee above a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath but few days: but a good name endureth for ever.

14 My children, keep discipline in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishness is better than a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore be shamefaced according to my word: for it is not good to retain all shamefacedness; neither is it altogether approved in every thing.

17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother: and of a lie before a prince and a mighty man;

18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler; of iniquity before a congregation and people; of unjust dealing before thy partner and friend;

19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest, and in regard of the truth of God and his covenant; and to lean with thine elbow upon the meat; and of scorning to give and take;

20 And of silence before them that salute thee; and to look upon a harlot;

21 And to turn away thy face from thy kinsman; or to take away a portion or a gift; or to gaze upon another man's wife;

22 Or to be over-busy with his maid, and come not near her bed: or of upbraiding speeches before friends; and after thou hast given, upbraid not;

23 Or of iterating and speaking again that which thou hast heard; and of revealing of secrets.

24 So shalt thou be truly shamefaced, and find favour before all men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Whereof we should not be ashamed. 9 Be careful of thy daughter. 12 Beware of a woman. 15 The works and greatness of God.

OF these things be not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sin thereby:

2 Of the law of the Most High, and his covenant; and of judgment to justify the ungodly;

3 || Of reckoning with thy partners and ||travellers; or || of the gift of the heritage of friends;

4 Of exactness of balance and weights; or of getting much or little;

5 And of merchants' || indifferent selling; of much correction of children; and to make the side of an evil servant to bleed.

6 Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is; and shut up, where many hands are.

7 Deliver all things in number and weight; and put all in writing that thou || givest out, or receivest in.

8 Be not ashamed to || inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged || that contendeth with those that are young: thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living.

9 The father waketh for the daughter, when no man knoweth: and the care for her taketh away sleep: when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age; and being married, lest she should be hated:

10 In her virginity, lest she should be defiled and gotten with child in her father's house; and having a husband, lest she should mis-behave herself; and when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 Keep a sure watch over a shameless daughter, lest she make thee a laughing-stock to thine enemies, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude.

12 Behold not everybody's beauty, and sit not in the midst of women.

13 For from garments cometh a moth, and bfrom women wickedness.

14 Better is the || churlishness of a man than a courteous woman, a woman, I say, which bringeth shame and reproach.

15 I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen: In the words of the Lord are his works.

16 The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works, which the Almighty Lord firmly settled, that whatsoever is, might be established for his glory.

18 He seeketh out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their crafty devices: for || the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signs of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.

20 No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting: unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.

22 O how desirable are all his works! and that a man may see even to a spark.

23 All these things live and remain for ever for all uses, and they are all obedient.

24 All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.

25 One thing establisheth the good of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

CHAP. XLIII.

5 Great is the Lord that made it; and at his commandment || it runneth hastily.

6 He made the moon also to serve in her season for a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.

7 From the moon is the sign of feasts, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.

8 The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her changing, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven;

9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.

10 At the commandment of the Holy One they will stand in their order, and never faint in their watches.

11 Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it; very beautiful it is in the brightness thereof.

12 It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the Most High have bended it.

13 By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace and sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.

14 Through this the treasures are opened: and clouds fly forth as fowls.

15 By this great power he maketh the clouds firm, and the hailstones are broken small.

16 At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the south wind bloweth.

17 The noise of the thunder maketh the earth || to tremble: so doth the northern storm and the whirlwind: as birds flying he scattereth the snow, and the falling down thereof is as the lighting of grasshoppers;

18 The eye marvelleth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.

19 The hoar-frost also as salt he poureth on the earth, and being congealed, || it lieth on the top of sharp stakes.

20 When the cold north wind bloweth, and the water is congealed into ice, it abideth upon every gathering together of water, and clotheth the water as with a breastplate.

21 It devoureth the mountains, and burneth the wilderness, and consumeth the grass as fire.

22 A present remedy of all is a mist coming speedily: a dew coming || after heat, refresheth.

23 By his counsel he appeaseth the deep, and planteth islands therein.

24 They that sail on the sea, tell of the danger thereof; and when we hear it with our ears, we marvel thereat.

25 For therein be strange and wondrous works, variety of all kinds of beasts and whales created.

26 By him the end of them hath prosperous success, and by his word all things consist.

27 We may speak much, and yet come short: wherefore in sum he is all.

28 How shall we be able to magnify him? for he is great above all his works.

29 The Lord is terrible and very great, and marvellous is his power.

30 When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can; for even yet will he far exceed: and when ye exalt him, put forth all your strength, and be not weary; for ye can never go far enough.

31 Who hath seen him that he might tell us? and who can magnify him as he is?

32 There are yet hid greater things than these be, for we have seen but a few of his works.

33 For the Lord hath made all things; and to the godly hath he given wisdom.

CHAP. XLIV.

1 The praise of certain holy men; 16 of Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

LET us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us. 2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies:

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions:

5 Such as found out musical tunes, and recited ||verses in writing:

6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:

7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.

8 There be of them, that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported.

9 And some there be, which have no memorial; who are perished, as though they had never been; and are become as though they had never been born; and their children after them.

10 But these were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant.

12 Their seed standeth fast, and their children ||for their sakes.

13 Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.

15 The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.

16 Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 Noah was found perfect and righteous; in the time of wrath he was taken in exchange [for the world;] therefore was he left as a remnant unto the earth, when the flood came.

18 An everlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.

19 Abraham was a great father of many people: in glory was there none like unto him;

20 Who kept the law of the Most High, and was in covenant with him: he established the covenant in his flesh; and when he was proved, he was found faithful.

21 Therefore he assured him by an oath, that he would bless the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river unto the utmost part of the land.

22 With Isaac did he establish likewise [for Abraham his father's sake] the blessing of all men, and the covenant,

23 And made it rest upon the head of Jacob. He acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him a heritage, and divided his portions; among the twelve tribes did he part them.

CHAP. XLV.

The praise of Moses, of Aaron, and of Phinees.

AND he brought out of him a merciful man, which found favour in the sight of all flesh, even Moses, beloved of God and men, whose memorial is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious saints, and magnified him so that his enemies stood in fear of him.

3 By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him part of his glory.

4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men.

5 He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob his covenants, and Israel his judgments.

6 He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him, even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

7 An everlasting covenant he made with him, and gave him the priesthood among the people; he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.

8 He put upon him perfect glory; and strengthened him with rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe, and the ephod.

9 And he compassed him with pomegranates, and with many golden bells round about, that as he went there might be a sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple, for a memorial to the children of his people;

10 With a holy garment, with gold, and blue silk, and purple, the work of the embroiderer, with a breastplate of judgment, and with Urim and Thummim;

12 He set a crown of gold upon the mitre, wherein was engraved Holiness, an ornament of honour, a costly work, the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

13 Before him there were none such, neither did ever an stranger put them on, but only his children and his children children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices shall be wholly consumed every da twice continually.

15 Moses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oil, this was appointed unto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed, so long as the heavens should remain, that they should minister unto him, and execute the office of the priesthood, and bless the people in his name.

16 He chose him out of all men living to offer sacrifice to the Lord, incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial, to make reconciliation for his people.

17 He gave unto him his commandments, and authority in the statutes of judgments, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and inform Israel in his laws.

18 Strangers conspired together against him, and maligned him in the wilderness, even the men that were of Dathan's and Abiron's side, and the congregation of Core, with fury and wrath.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: he did wonders upon them, to consume them with the fiery flame.

20 But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him a heritage, and divided unto him the first-fruits of the increase; especially he prepared bread in abundance:

21 For they ate of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave unto him and his seed.

22 Howbeit, in the land of the people he had no inheritance, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord himself is his portion and inheritance.

23 The third in glory is Phinees the son of Eleazar, because he had zeal in the fear of the Lord, and stood up with good courage of heart when the people were turned back, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him that he should be the chief of the sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever:

25 According to the covenant made with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Juda, that the inheritance of the king should be to his posterity alone: so the inheritance of Aaron should also be unto his seed.

26 God give you wisdom in your heart to judge his people in righteousness, that their good things be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for ever.

CHAP. XLVI.

The praise of Joshua, Caleb, and Samuel.

JESUS the son of Nave was valiant in the wars, and was the successor of Moses in prophecies, who according to his name was made great for the saving of the elect of God. and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them, that he might set Israel in their inheritance.

2 How great glory gat he, when he did lift up his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities!

3 Who before him so stood to it? for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

4 Did not the sun go back by his means? and was not one day as long as two?

5 He called upon the most high Lord, when the enemies pressed upon him on every side; and the great Lord heard him.

6 And with hailstones of mighty power he made the battle to fall violently upon the nations, and in the descent [of Beth-horon] he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the Mighty One.

7 In the time of Moses also he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb the son of Jephunne, in that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sin, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

8 And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two

Num. 26. 65. Deut. 1. 35, 36.

were preserved to bring them into the heritage, even unto the land that floweth with milk and honey.

9 The Lord gave strength also unto Caleb, which remained with him unto his old age: so that he entered upon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for a heritage:

10 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 And concerning the judges, every one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed:

12 Let their bones flourish out of their place, and let the name of them that were honoured be continued upon their children.

13 Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord had respect unto Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was found a true prophet, and by his word he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 He called upon the mighty Lord, when his enemies pressed upon him on every side, when he offered the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundered from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.

18 And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians, and all the princes of the Philistines.

19 And before his long sleep he made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe: and no man did accuse him.

20 And after his death he prophesied, and shewed the king his end, and lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The praise of Nathan, David, and Solomon; his glory and infirmities. 23 Of his end and punishment.

AND after him rose up Nathan to prophesy in the time of David.

2 As is the fat taken away from the peace-offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with lions as with kids, and with bears as with lambs.

4 Slew he not a giant, when he was yet but young? and did he not take away reproach from the people, when he lifted up his hand with the stone in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the most high Lord; and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set up the horn of his people.

6 So the people honoured him with ten thousands, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gave him a crown of glory.

7 For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their horn in sunder unto this day.

8 In all his works he praised the Holy One most high with words of glory; with his whole heart he sung songs, and loved him that made him.

9 He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

10 He beautified their feasts, and set in order the solemn times until the end, that they might praise his holy name, and that the temple might sound from morning.

11 The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his horn for ever: he gave him a covenant of kings, and the throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose up a wise son, and for his sake he dwelt at large.

13 Solomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was honoured; for God made all quiet round about him, that he might build a house in his name, and prepare his sanctuary for ever.

14 How wise wast thou in thy youth, and, as a flood, filled with understanding!

15 Thy soul covered the whole earth, and thou filledst it with dark parables.

16 Thy name went far into the islands; and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 The countries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations.

20 Thou didst stain thy honour, and pollute thy seed: so that thou broughtest wrath upon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.

21 So the kingdom was divided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdom.

22 But the Lord will never leave off his mercy, neither shall any of his works perish, neither will he abolish the posterity of his elect, and the seed of him that loveth him he will not take away: wherefore he gave a remnant unto Jacob, and out of him a root unto David.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him Roboam, even the foolishness of the people, and one that had no understanding, who turned away the people through his counsel. There was also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, and shewed Ephraim the way of sin:

24 And their sins were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driven out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickedness, till the vengeance came upon them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, and Ezekias.

THEN stood up Elias the prophet as fire, and his word burned like a lamp.

2 He brought a sore famine upon them, and by his zeal he diminished their number.

3 By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven, and also three times brought down fire.

4 O Elias, how wast thou honoured in thy wondrous deeds! and who may glory like unto thee!

5 Who didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the place of the dead, by the word of the Most High:

6 Who broughtest kings to destruction, and honourable men from their bed:

7 Who heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and in Horeb the judgment of vengeance:

8 Who anointedst kings to take revenge, and prophets to succeed after him:

9 Who wast taken up in a whirlwind of fire, and in a chariot of fiery horses:

10 Who wast ordained for reproofs in their times, to pacify the wrath of the Lord's judgment, before it brake forth into fury, and to turn the heart of the father unto the son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.

11 Blessed are they that saw thee, and slept in love; for we shall surely live.

12 Elias it was, who was covered with a whirlwind: and Eliseus was filled with his spirit: whilst he lived, he was not moved with the presence of any prince, neither could any bring him into subjection.

13 No word could overcome him; and after his death his body prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, and at his death were his works marvellous.

15 For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sins, till they were spoiled and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth: yet there remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of David:

16 Of whom some did that which was pleasing to God, and some multiplied sins.

17 Ezekias fortified his city, and brought in water into the midst thereof: he digged the hard rock with iron, and made wells for waters.

18 In his time Sennacherib came up, and sent Rabsaces, and lifted up his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.

19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, and they were in pain, as women in travail.

20 But they called upon the Lord which is merciful, and stretched out their hands toward him: and immediately the Holy One heard them out of heaven, and delivered them by the ministry of Esay.

21 He smote the host of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

22 For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and was strong in the ways of David his father, as Esay the prophet, who was great and faithful in his vision, had commanded him.

23 In his time the sun went backward, and he lengthened the king's life.

24 He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last, and he comforted them that mourned in Sion.

25 He shewed what should come to pass for ever, and secret things or ever they came.

CHAP. XLIX.

The praise of Josias, of David and Ezekias, of Jeremy, of Ezekiel, Zorobabel, Jesus the son of Josedec: of Neemias, Enoch, Seth, Sem, and Adam.

THE remembrance of Josias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the art of the apothecary: it is sweet as honey in all mouths, and as music at a banquet of wine.

2 He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people, and took away the abominations of iniquity.

3 He directed his heart unto the Lord, and in the time of the ungodly he established the worship of God.

4 All, except David, and Ezekias, and Josias, were defective: for they forsook the law of the Most High, even the kings of Juda failed.

5 Therefore he gave their power unto others, and their glory to a strange nation.

6 They burnt the chosen city of the sanctuary, and made the streets desolate, according to the prophecy of Jeremias.

7 For they entreated him evil, who nevertheless was a prophet, sanctified in his mother's womb, that he might root out, and afflict, and destroy; and that he might build up also, and plant.

8 It was Ezekiel who saw the glorious vision, which was shewed him upon the chariot of the cherubims.

9 For he made mention of the enemies under the figure of the rain, and directed them that went right.

10 And of the twelve prophets let the memorial be blessed, and let their bones flourish again out of their place: for they comforted Jacob, and delivered them by assured hope.

11 How shall we magnify Zorobabel? even he was as a signet on the right hand:

12 So was Jesus the son of Josedec: who in their time builded the house, and set up a holy temple to the Lord, which was prepared for everlasting glory.

13 And among the elect was Neemias, whose renown is great, who raised up for us the walls that were fallen, and set up the gates and the bars, and raised up our ruins again.

14 But upon the earth was no man created like Enoch; for he was taken from the earth.

15 Neither was there a man born like unto Joseph, a governor of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.

16 Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam above every living thing in the creation.

CHAP. L.

1 Of Simon the son of Onias. 22 How the people were taught to praise God, and pray. 27 The conclusion.

SIMON the high priest, the son of Onias, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his days fortified the temple.

2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple;

3 In his days the cistern to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass;

4 He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging:

5 How was he honoured in the midst of the people in his coming out of the sanctuary!

6 He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full:

7 As the sun shining upon the temple of the Most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds:

8 And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense-tree in the time of summer:

9 As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:

10 And as a fair olive-tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypress tree which groweth up to the clouds.

11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.

12 When he took the portions out of the priest's hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus; and as palm-trees compassed they him round about.

13 So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altar, that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty, 15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape; he poured out at the foot of the altar a sweet-smelling savour unto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the silver trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the Most High.

17 Then all the people together hasted, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, the Most High.

18 The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord, the Most High, by prayer before him that is merciful, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his service.

20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to rejoice in his name.

21 And they bowed themselves down to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the Most High.

22 Now therefore bless ye the God of all, which only doeth wondrous things everywhere, which exalteth our days from the womb, and dealeth with us according to his mercy.

23 He grant us joyfulness of heart, and that peace may be in our days in Israel for ever:

24 That he would confirm his mercy with us, and deliver us at his time!

25 There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation:

26 They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and they that dwell among the Philistines, and that foolish people that dwell in Sichem.

27 Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem hath written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things; and he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.

29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giveth wisdom to the godly. Blessed be the Lord for ever. Amen, Amen.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

I WILL thank thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I do give praise unto thy name:

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast been my helper against mine adversaries:

3 And hast delivered me, according to the multitude of thy mercies and greatness of thy name, from the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had;

4 From the choking of fire on every side, and from the midst of the fire which I kindled not;

5 From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unclean tongue, and from lying words.

6 By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue, my soul drew near even unto death, my life was near to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thine acts of old, how thou deliverest such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9 Then lifted I up my supplication from the earth and prayed for deliverance from death.

BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

¹ Baruch wrote a book in Babylon. ⁵ The Jews there wept at the reading of it. ⁷ They send money and the book to the brethren at Jerusalem.

AND these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the son of Sedecias, the son of Asadias, the son of Chelcias, wrote in Babylon.

2 In the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of || Joachim king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book,

4 And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the king's sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud.

5 Whereupon they ^cwept, fasted, ||and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made also a collection of money according to every man's power:

7 And they sent it to Jerusalem unto || Joachim the high priest, the son of Chelcias, son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem,

8 At the same time when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord, ^dthat were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Juda, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Juda had made,

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jechonias, and the princes, and the || captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon.

10 And they said, Behold, we have sent you money to buy you burnt-offerings, and sin-offerings, and incense, and prepare ye ^e† manna, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God;

11 ^eAnd pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Balthasar his son, that their days may be upon earth as the days of heaven:

12 And the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live ^funder the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Balthasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight.

13 Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from us.

14 And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the feasts and solemn days.

^g ch. 2. 6.

eousness, but unto us the confusion of faces, as it is come to pass this day, unto them of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

16 And to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers:

17 For we have ^hsinned before the Lord,

18 And disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments that he gave us openly:

19 ⁱSince the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.

20 ^kWherefore the evils cleaved unto us, and the curse, which the Lord appointed by Moses his servant at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, like as it is to see this day.

21 Nevertheless we have ^lnot hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us:

22 But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

The prayer and confession which the Jews at Babylon made, and sent in that book unto the brethren in Jerusalem.

THEREFORE the Lord hath ^mmade good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Juda,

2 To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses;

3 That a man should ⁿbeat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter.

4 Moreover he hath delivered them to be ^oin subjection to all the kingdoms that are around about us, to be as ^aa reproach and desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus we ^p† were cast down, and not exalted, because we have sinned against the Lord our God, and have not been obedient unto his voice.

6 ^qTo the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 ^rFor all these plagues are come upon us, ^swhich the Lord hath pronounced against us.

8 ^tYet have we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord, that he hath set before us.

11 ^aAnd now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arm, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thyself a name, as appeareth this day:

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances.

13 ^lLet thy wrath turn from us: ^bfor we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us.

14 Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away:

15 ^lThat all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because [†]Israel and his posterity is called by thy name.

16 O Lord, ⁿlook down from thy holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.

17 Open thine eyes and behold; for the ^odead that are in the graves, whose [†]souls are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:

18 But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

19 ^zTherefore we do not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.

20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

21 ^zThus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers.

22 But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon,

23 ^lI will cause to cease out of the cities of Juda, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: ^atherefore hast thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places.

25 And lo, they are cast out ^tto the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as it is to be seen this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Juda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine,

28 As thou spakest by thy ^zservant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying,

29 ^zIf ye will not hear my voice, surely [†]this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them.

30 For I knew that they would not hear me, because it is a stiff-necked people; that in the land of their captivities they shall ^{||}remember themselves,

31 And shall know that I am the Lord their God, and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear:

32 And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and ^zthink upon my name,

33 And return from their stiff [†]neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them again into the land which I promised with an oath unto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 ^zAnd I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drive my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

³ The rest of their prayer and confession contained in that book which Baruch wrote and sent to Jerusalem. ³⁰ Wisdom was shewed first to Jacob, and was seen upon the earth.

O LORD Almighty, God of ^aIsrael, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee.

² Hear, O Lord, and have mercy; for thou art merciful: and have pity upon us, because we have sinned before thee.

³ For thou endurest for ever, and we perish utterly.

⁵ Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but think upon thy power and thy name now at this time.

⁶ For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

⁷ And for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity: for ^awe have called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers, that sinned before thee.

⁸ Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for ^aa reproach and a curse, and to be subject to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

⁹ Hear, Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom.

¹⁰ How happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead,

¹¹ ^zThat thou art counted with them that go down into the grave?

¹² Thou hast forsaken the fountain of thy wisdom.

¹³ For ^zif thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst have dwelt in peace for ever.

¹⁴ Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of day and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

¹⁵ ^aWho hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

¹⁶ Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth;

¹⁷ They that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, ^awherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?

¹⁸ For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable, ¹⁹ They are vanished and gone down to the grave, ^aand others are come up in their steads.

²⁰ Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known.

²¹ Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were far off from that way.

²² It hath not been heard of in Chanaan, neither hath it been seen in ^zTheman.

²³ The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the merchants of Meran and of Theman, the ^{||}authors of fables, and searchers out of understanding; none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.

²⁴ O Israel, ^mhow great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession!

²⁵ Great, and hath none end; high, and unmeasurable.

²⁶ There were the ⁿgiants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war.

²⁷ Those did not the Lord choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them:

²⁸ But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.

²⁹ ^oWho hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

³⁰ Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?

³¹ No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

³² But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with four-footed beasts:

³³ He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth, calleth it again, ^zand it obeyeth him with fear.

34 The stars shined in their watches, and rejoiced: when he calleth them, they say, Here we be; and so with cheerfulness they shewed light unto him that made them.

35 ^aThis is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him.

36 He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.

37 ^rAfterward did he shew himself upon earth, and conversed with men.

CHAP. IV.

¹ The book of commandments is that wisdom which was commended in the former chapter. 25 The Jews are moved to patience, and to hope for their deliverance.

THIS is the book of ^athe commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that keep it shall come to life; but such as leave it shall die.

2 Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk [†]in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.

3 Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, happy are we: ^bfor things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.

5 Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel.

6 ^eYe were sold to the nations, not for [your] destruction: but because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies.

7 For ye provoked him that made you by ^dsacrificing unto devils, and not to God.

8 Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up; and ye have grieved Jerusalem, that nursed you.

9 For when she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sion: God hath brought upon me great mourning;

10 For I saw the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the ^eEverlasting brought upon them.

11 With joy did I nourish them; but sent them away with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man rejoice over me, ^fa widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sins of my children am left desolate; because they departed from the law of God.

13 They knew not his statutes, nor walked in the ways of his commandments, nor trode in the paths ^{||}of discipline in his righteousness.

14 Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.

15 For ^ghe hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child.

16 These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate without daughters.

17 But what can I help you?

18 For ^hhe that brought these plagues upon you, will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.

19 Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate.

20 I have put off the clothing of ^{||}peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer: I will cry unto the Everlasting ^{||}in my days.

21 Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.

22 For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from ^kthe Everlasting our Saviour.

23 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: ^lbut God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.

25 My children, ^msuffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon his neck.

26 ^{||}My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.

27 ⁿBe of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.

32 Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons.

33 For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall; ^pso shall she be grieved for her own desolation.

34 For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.

35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.

Jerusalem is moved to rejoice, and to behold their return out of captivity with glory.

PUT off, O Jerusalem, ^athe garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.

2 Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God; and set a diadem on thy head of the glory of the Everlasting.

4 For thy name shall be called of God for ever, The peace of righteousness, and, The glory of God's worship.

5 ^bArise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and ^clook about toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east, by the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory, ^das children of the kingdom.

7 For God hath appointed ^ethat every high hill, and banks of long continuance, should be cast down, and valleys filled up, to make even the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God.

8 Moreover even the woods and every sweet-smelling tree shall overshadow Israel by the commandment of God.

9 For God shall ^flead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

The EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

CHAP. VI.

¹ The cause of their captivity is their sin. 3 The place whereto they were carried is Babylon, the vanity of whose idols and idolatry is set forth at large in this chapter.

[¶] A copy of an epistle which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them as it was commanded him of God.

BECAUSE of the sins which ye have committed before God, ^aye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ^bye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, namely, seven generations: and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

4 ^cNow shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear.

5 Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like to strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them.

6 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, ^dwe must worship thee.

7 For ^emine angel is with you, and I myself caring for your souls.

8 As for their tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are gilded and laid over with gold; yet are they but false, ^fand cannot speak.

9 And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.

10 Sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves.

11 Yea, they will give thereof to the || common harlots, and deck them as men with garments, [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood.

12 Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment.

13 They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them.

14 And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him, holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a judge of the country.

15 He hath also in his right hand a dagger and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and thieves.

16 Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not.

17 For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken: even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that come in.

18 And as the || doors are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death: even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

19 They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one.

20 They are as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth; and when they eat them and their clothes, they feel it not.

21 Their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple.

22 Upon their bodies and heads sit bats, swallows, and birds, and the cats also.

23 By this ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.

24 Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten did they feel it.

25 The things wherein there is no breath are bought for a most high price.

26 They are borne upon shoulders, having no feet, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth.

27 They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them, as unto dead men.

28 As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and abuse: in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt; but unto the poor and impotent they give nothing of it.

29 Menstruous women, and women in child-bed, eat their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: fear them not.

30 For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.

31 And the priests sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.

32 They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

33 The priests also take off their garments, and clothe their wives and children.

34 Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down.

35 In like manner they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will not require it.

36 They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.

37 They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any man in his distress.

38 They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.

39 Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them shall be confounded.

40 How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them?

41 Who, if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they || bring him, and entreat Bel that he may speak, as though he were able to understand.

42 Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no || knowledge.

43 The women also with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn bran for perfume: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be.

46 And they themselves that made them can never continue long; how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 For they left lies and reproaches to them that come after.

48 For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.

49 How then cannot men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war nor from plague?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false:

51 And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them.

52 Who then may not know that they are no gods?

53 For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.

54 Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.

55 Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape; but they themselves shall be burned asunder like beams.

56 Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

57 Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.

58 Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take, and go away withal: neither are they able to help themselves.

59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in a house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods; or to be a door in a house, to keep such things safe as be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.

60 For sun, moon, and stars, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient.

61 In like manner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easy to be seen; and || after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country.

62 And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden.

63 And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods doth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.

64 Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men.

65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.

66 For they can neither curse nor bless kings:

67 Neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the heathen, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.

68 The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.

69 It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.

70 For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.

71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body that is cast into the dark.

72 And ye shall know them to be no gods by the || bright purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country.

73 Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

The SONG of the Three Holy Children,

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked.... unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar.... verse 24.

¹⁰ Azarias his prayer and confession in the flame, wherewith the Chaldeans about the oven were consumed, but the three children within it were not hurt. 28 The song of the three children in the oven.

AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.

2 Then Azarias stood up, and prayed in this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said,

3 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore:

4 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy ways are right, and all thy judgments truth.

5 In all the things which thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment didst thou bring all these things upon us because of our sins.

6 For we have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from thee.

7 In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.

8 Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment.

9 And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.

10 And now we cannot open our mouths, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.

11 Yet deliver us not up wholly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant:

12 And cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abraham's sake, for thy servant Isaac's sake, and for thy holy Israel's sake;

13 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed ^{as} the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the sea-shore.

14 For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins.

15 Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt-offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy.

16 Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted.

17 Like as in the burnt-offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee: for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.

18 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.

19 Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy loving-kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

20 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be ashamed;

21 And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken;

22 And let them know that thou art Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.

23 And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with rosin, pitch, tow, and small wood;

24 So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits.

25 And it passed through, and burned those Chaldeans it found about the furnace.

26 But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven;

27 And made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

28 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,
 29 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
 30 And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
 31 Blessed art thou in the temple of thy holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.
 32 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the cherubims: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.
 33 Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.
 34 Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and above all to be praised and glorified for ever.
 35 O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.
 36 O ye heavens, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.

Set apart from the Beginning of Daniel, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of † Bel and the Dragon.

Two judges hide themselves in the garden of Susanna to have their pleasure of her: which when they could not obtain, they accuse, and cause her to be condemned for adultery; but Daniel examineth the matter again, and findeth the two judges false.

^lGen. 39. 9.

THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim:
 2 And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a ^avery fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.
 3 Her ^bparents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.
 4 Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others.
 5 The same year were appointed two of ^cthe ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to govern the people.
 6 These kept much at Joacim's house, and all that had any suits in law came unto them.
 7 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk.
 8 And the two elders saw her going in every day, and walking; ^dso that their lust was inflamed toward her.
 9 And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments.
 10 And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief.
 11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her.
 12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.
 13 And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner-time.
 14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after they had asked one another the cause, ^ethey acknowledged their ^flust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.
 15 And it fell out, as they watched a fit time, she went in [†]as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot.
 16 And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her.
 17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing-balls, and shut the garden-doors, ^gthat I may wash me.
 18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden-doors and went out themselves at ^{||}privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: but they saw not the elders, ^hbecause they were hid.
 19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying,
 20 Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, ⁱand lie with us.
 21 If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.
 22 Then Susanna ^ksighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.
 23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not to do it, than ^lto sin in the sight of the Lord.
 24 With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her.
 25 Then ran the one, and opened the garden-door.

26 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at ^ma privy door, to see what was done unto her.
 27 But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there never was such a report made of Susanna.
 28 And it came to pass the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of ⁿmischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death;
 29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Joacim's wife. And so they sent.
 30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.
 31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and ^obeauteous to behold.
 32 And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face, (for she was covered,) that they might be filled with her beauty.
 33 Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept.
 34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head.
 35 And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.
 36 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden-doors, and sent the maids away.
 37 Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her.
 38 Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing ^pthis wickedness ran unto them.
 39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the door, and leaped out.
 40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: ^qthese things do we testify.
 41 Then the assembly believed them, as those that were the elders and judges of the people: so they condemned her to death.
 42 Then Susanna ^rcried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:
 43 Thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me; and behold, I must die; whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me.
 44 And the ^sLord heard her voice.
 45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel:
 46 Who cried with a loud voice, "I am clear from the blood of this woman.
 47 Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken?
 48 So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such ^tfools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?
 49 Return again to the place of judgment: for they have ^uborne false witness against her.
 50 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder.
 51 Then said Daniel unto them, Put these two aside one far from another, ^vand I will examine them.
 52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now thy sins which thou hast committed aforetime are come ^wto light.
 53 For thou hast pronounced false judgment, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, "The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

54 Now then, if thou hast seen her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a †mastic-tree.

55 And Daniel said, Very well; bthou hast lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two.

56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other and said unto him, O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beauty hath deceived thee, and †lust hath perverted thy heart.

57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.

58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, aUnder || a holm-tree.

59 Then said Daniel unto him, Well; thou hast also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy ycu.

60 With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth:

62 And according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.

63 Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joacim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

The History of the Destruction of † Bel and the Dragon, cut off from the end of Daniel.

19 The fraud of Bel's priests is discovered by Daniel, and the dragon slain which was worshipped. 33 Daniel is preserved in the lion's den. 42 The king doth acknowledge the God of Daniel, and casteth his enemies into the same den.

AND king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and aCyrus of Persia received his kingdom.

2 And Daniel || conversed with the king, and was honoured above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six vessels of wine.

4 And the king worshipped it, and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel?

5 Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh.

6 Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expenses, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certify me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.

10 Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, besides their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bel's priests said, Lo, we go out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own signet:

12 And to-morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death; or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us.

13 And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed.

15 Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all.

16 In the morning betimes the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, bGreat art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.

21 And took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

24 And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, he eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god; therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel unto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

26 But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave.

27 Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, || Lo, these are the gods ye worship.

28 When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, the king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thy house.

30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel unto them:

31 Who cast him into the lion's den: where he was six days.

32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day || two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

33 Now there was in Jewry a prophet called Habbacuc, who had || made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habbacuc, Go, carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lion's den.

35 And Habbacuc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is.

36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den.

37 And Habbacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee.

38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee and love thee.

39 So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habbacuc in his own place again immediately.

40 Upon the seventh day the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting.

41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

The Prayer of MANASSES, king of Judah, when he was holden captive in Babylon.

O LORD, Almighty God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof; who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all men fear and tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and thine angry threatening toward sinners is importable; but thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable; for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very merciful, and repentest of the evils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned above the number of the sands of the sea. My trans-

Before CHRIST about 676.

|| Or, neither take my breath.

gressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up my head, || neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee: I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of my heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

CHAP. I.

Antiochus gave leave to set up the fashions of the Gentiles in Jerusalem, and spoiled it, and the temple in it, and set up therein the abomination of desolation, and slew those that did circumcise their children.

AND it happened, after that Alexander son of Philip, the Macedonian, who came out of the land of || Chettiim, had smitten ^aDarius king of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece,

2 And made many wars, and won many strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth,

3 ^bAnd went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him; whereupon || he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.

4 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled over countries, and nations, and || kings, who became tributaries unto him.

5 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived † that he should die.

6 Wherefore he called his servants, such as were honourable, and had been brought up with him from his youth, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

7 So Alexander reigned twelve years, and then died.

8 And his servants bare rule every one in his place.

9 And after his death they all put ^ccrowns upon themselves; so did their sons after them many years: and evils were multiplied in the earth.

10 And there came out of them ^da wicked root, Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, son of Antiochus the king, who had been a hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirty and seventh year of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those days went there out of Israel wicked men, ^ewho persuaded many, saying, Let us go and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about us; for since we departed from them, † we have had much sorrow.

12 So this device pleased them well.

13 Then certain of the people were so forward herein, that they went to the king, ^fwho gave them license to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

14 Whereupon they || built a place of exercise at Jerusalem according to the customs of the heathen.

15 And ^gmade themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joined themselves to the heathen, and ^hwere sold to do mischief.

16 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have the dominion of two realms.

17 Wherefore ⁱhe entered into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great navy, 18 And made war against Ptolemee king of Egypt: but Ptolemee was afraid of him, and fled; and many were wounded to death.

19 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.

20 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in the hundred forty and third year, ^kand went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude,

21 And ^lentered proudly into the sanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof.

22 And the table of the shew-bread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the veil, and the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple, || all which he pulled off.

23 He took also the silver and the gold, and the † precious vessels: also he took the hidden treasures which he found.

24 And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, having made a great massacre, and spoke very proudly.

25 Therefore there was ^mgreat mourning in Israel, in every place where they were;

26 So ⁿthat the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed.

27 Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage chamber was in heaviness.

28 The land also was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with ^oconfusion.

29 And after two years fully expired, the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude;

30 And spake peaceable words unto them, but ^pall was ^qdeceit: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

31 And when he had taken the spoils of the city, ^rhe set it on fire and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side.

32 But the women and children took they captive, and possessed the cattle.

33 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, ^sand with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a ^tsinful nation, wicked men, and fortified themselves therein.

35 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and so they became a sore snare:

36 For it was a place to lie in wait against the ^usanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.

37 Thus they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary and defiled it:

38 Insomuch that the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them: whereupon ^vthe city was made a habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her; and her own children left her.

39 Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.

40 As had been her glory, so was her dishonour increased, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

41 Moreover king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, "that all should be one people, 42 And every one should leave his laws: so all the heathen agreed according to the commandment of the king.

43 Yea, many also of the Israelites consented to his religion and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the sabbath.

44 For the king had sent letters by messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Juda, that they should follow || the strange laws of the land,

45 And forbid burnt-offerings, and sacrifices, and drink-offerings, in the temple; and that they should profane the sabbaths and festival days:

46 And pollute the sanctuary and holy people:

47 Set up altars, and groves, and chapels of idols, and sacrifice swine's flesh, and unclean beasts:

48 That they should also leave their children uncircumcised, and make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation:

49 To the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances.

50 And whosoever would not do according to the commandment of the king, he said, he should die.

51 In the self-same manner wrote he to his whole kingdom, and appointed overseers over all the people, commanding the cities of Juda to sacrifice, "city by city.

52 Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law; and so they committed evils in the land;

53 || And drove the Israelites into secret places, even whosoever they could flee for succour.

54 Now the fifteenth day of the month Casleu, in the hundred forty and fifth year, they set up the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and builded idol-altars throughout the cities of Juda on every side;

55 And burnt incense at the doors of their houses, and in the streets.

56 And when they had rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

57 And wheresoever was found with any the book of the testament, or if any consented to the law, † the king's commandment was, that they should put him to death.

58 Thus did they by their authority unto the Israelites every month, to as many as were found in the cities.

59 Now the five and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice upon the idol-altar, which was upon the altar of God.

60 At which time according to the commandment they put death certain women, † that had caused their children to be circumcised.

61 And they hanged the infants about their necks, and rifled their houses, and slew them that had circumcised them.

62 Howbeit many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves not to eat any unclean thing.

63 Wherefore they chose rather to die, that they might not be defiled with meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: so then they died.

64 And there was very great wrath upon Israel.

CHAP. II.

6 Mattathias lamenteth the case of Jerusalem. 24 He slayeth a Jew that did sacrifice to idols in his presence, and the king's messenger also. 34 He and his are assailed on the sabbath, and make no resistance. 50 He instructeth his sons, maketh their brother Judas Maccabeus general, and dieth.

IN those days || arose Mattathias, the son of John, the son of Simeon, a priest of the sons of Joarib, from Jerusalem, and dwelt in Modin.

2 And he had five sons, Joannan, || called || Caddis:

3 Simon, called Thassi:

4 Judas, who was called Maccabeus:

5 Eleazar, called || Avaran: and Jonatnan, whose surname was Apphus.

misery of my people, and of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the sanctuary into the hand of strangers?

8 Her temple is become as a man "without glory.

9 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in the streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy.

10 What nation hath not had a part in her kingdom, and gotten of her spoils?

11 All her ornaments are taken away; of a free woman she is become a bond slave.

12 And behold, our || sanctuary, even our beauty and our glory is laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned it.

13 To what end therefore shall we live any longer?

14 Then Mattathias and his sons rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned very sore.

15 In the meanwhile the king's officers, such as compelled the people to revolt, came into the city Modin, to make them sacrifice.

16 And when many of Israel came unto them, Mattathias also and his sons came together.

17 Then answered the king's officers, and said to Mattathias on this wise, Thou art a ruler, and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren:

18 Now therefore come thou first, and fulfil the king's commandment, like as all the heathen have done, yea, and the men of Juda also, and such as remain at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy house be in the number of the king's friends, and thou and thy children shall be honoured with silver and gold, and many rewards.

19 Then Mattathias answered and spake with a loud voice, Though all the nations that are under the king's dominion obey him, and fall away every one from the religion of their fathers, and give consent to his commandments,

20 Yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken to the king's words, to go from our religion, either on the right hand, or the left.

23 Now when he had left speaking these words, there came one of the Jews in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at Modin, according to the king's commandment.

24 Which thing when Mattathias saw, he was inflamed with zeal, and his reins trembled; neither could he forbear to shew his anger according to judgment: wherefore he ran, and slew him upon the altar.

25 Also the king's commissioner, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and the altar he pulled down.

26 Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as Phinees did unto Zambri the son of Salom.

27 And Mattathias cried throughout the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow me.

28 So he and his sons fled into the mountains, and left all that ever they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgment went down into the wilderness, to dwell there:

30 Both they, and their children, and their wives, and their cattle; because † afflictions increased sore upon them.

31 Now when it was told the king's servants, and the host that was at Jerusalem, in the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness, 32 They pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made war against them on the sabbath-day.

33 And they said unto them, Let that which ye have done hitherto suffice; come forth, and do according to the commandment of the king, and ye shall live.

34 But they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the king's commandment, to profane the sabbath-day.

35 So then they gave || them the battle with all speed.

36 Howbeit they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped the places where they lay hid:

37 But said, Let us die all in our † innocency: heaven and earth shall testify for us, that ye put us to death wrongfully.

38 So they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they slew them, with their wives and children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand † people.

39 Now when Mattathias and his friends understood hereof, they mourned for them right sore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly ^rroot us out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battle with us on the sabbath-day, we will fight against him; neither will we die all, as our brethren that were murdered in ^ethe secret places.

42 Then came there unto him a company of Assideans, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law.

43 Also all they that ^rfled for persecution joined themselves unto them, and were a stay unto them.

44 So they joined their forces, and smote sinful men in their anger, and wicked men in their wrath: but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down ^ethe altars:

46 And what children soever they found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised || valiantly.

47 They pursued also after the proud men, and the work prospered in their hand.

48 So they recovered ^ethe law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, neither † suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 Now when the time drew near that Mattathias should die, he said unto his sons, Now hath pride and rebuke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

50 Now therefore, my sons, be ye zealous for the law, ^uand give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers did in their † time; so shall ye receive great honour and an everlasting name.

52 Was not ^uAbraham found faithful in temptation, ^uand it was imputed unto him for righteousness?

53 Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, ^uand was made lord of Egypt.

54 ^uPhinees our father in being zealous and fervent obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood.

55 ^uJesus for fulfilling the word was made a judge in Israel.

56 ^uCaleb for bearing witness before the congregation received the heritage of the land.

57 ^uDavid for being merciful possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

58 ^uElias for being zealous and fervent for the law was taken up into heaven.

59 ^uAnanias, Azarias, and Misael, by believing were saved out of the flame.

60 ^uDaniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions.

61 And thus consider ye throughout all ages, that none that put their trust in him shall be overcome.

62 ^uFear not then the words of a sinful man: for his glory shall be dung and worms.

63 To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall not be found, because he is ^ureturned into his dust, and his thought is come to nothing.

64 Wherefore, ye my sons, be valiant, ^uand shew yourselves men in the behalf of the law; for by it shall ye obtain glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsel, give ear unto him always: he shall be a father unto you.

66 As for Judas Maccabeus, he hath been mighty and strong, even from his youth up: let him be your captain, and || fight the battle of the people.

67 Take also unto you all those that observe the law, and avenge ye the wrong of your people.

68 Recompense fully the heathen, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

69 So he blessed them, and ^uwas gathered to his fathers.

70 And he died in the hundred forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, ^uand all Israel made great lamentation for him.

¹ The valour and fame of Judas Maccabeus. ¹⁰ He overthroweth the forces of Samaria and Syria. ²⁷ Antiochus sendeth a great power against him. ⁴⁴ He, and his, fall to fasting and prayer, and are encouraged.

THEN ^ahis son Judas, called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead. ² And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that held with his father, and ^bthey fought with cheerfulness the battle of Israel.

³ So he gat his people great honour, and put on a breast-plate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and he made battles, protecting the host with his sword.

⁴ In his acts he was ^clike a lion, and like a lion's whelp roaring for his prey.

⁵ For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people.

⁶ Wherefore the wicked shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled, because salvation ^dprospered in his hand.

⁷ He grieved also many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever.

⁸ Moreover he went through the cities of Juda, destroying the ungodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel:

⁹ So that he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he † received unto him such ^eas were ready to perish.

¹⁰ Then Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

¹¹ Which thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him, and slew him: many also fell down slain, but the rest fled.

¹² Wherefore Judas took their spoils, and Apollonius's sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

¹³ Now when Seron, a prince of the army of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a ^fmultitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to the war;

¹⁴ He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdom; for I will go fight with Judas and them that are with him, who despise the king's commandment.

¹⁵ So he made him ready to go up, and there went with him a mighty host of the ungodly to help him, and to be avenged of the children of Israel.

¹⁶ And when he came near to the going up of ^gBeth-horon, Judas went forth to meet him with a small company:

¹⁷ Who, when they saw the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude ^{and} so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

¹⁹ For the victory of battle standeth not ⁱin the multitude of a host; but strength cometh from heaven.

²⁰ They come || against us † in much pride and iniquity to destroy us, and our wives and children, and to spoil us:

²¹ But we fight for our lives and our laws.

²² Wherefore the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face: and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

²³ Now as soon as he had left off speaking, he leaped suddenly upon them, and so ^kSeron and his host was overthrown before him.

²⁴ And they pursued them † from the going down of Beth-horon unto the plain, where were slain about eight hundred men of them; and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

²⁵ Then began the fear of Judas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread, to fall upon the nations round about them:

²⁶ Insomuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the battles of Judas.

²⁷ Now when king Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation: ^mwherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, ^{even} a very strong army.

²⁸ He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldiers pay for a year, commanding them to be ready † whensoever he should need them.

²⁹ Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasures failed, and † that the tributes in the country were small, because of the dissension and plague which he had brought upon the land, || in taking away the laws which had been of old time;

³⁰ He feared † that he should not be able to bear the charges any longci, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally as he did before: for he had abounded above the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore, being greatly perplexed in his mind, he determined to go into Persia, there to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias, a nobleman, and one of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again.

34 Moreover he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Juda and Jerusalem:

35 To wit, that he should send an army against them to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from that place;

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king took the half of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch, his royal city, the hundred forty and seventh year; and having passed the river Euphrates, he went through the high countries.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen, to go into the land of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plain country.

41 And the merchants of the country, hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with servants, and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves; a power also of Syria and of the land of the Philistines joined themselves unto them.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that miseries were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders; for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them;

43 They said one to another, Let us restore the decayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people and the sanctuary.

44 Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45 Now Jerusalem lay void as a wilderness, there was none of her children that went in or out: the sanctuary also was trodden down, and aliens kept the strong hold; the heathen had their habitation in that place; and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with the harp ceased.

46 Wherefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to Maspha, over against Jerusalem; for in Maspha was the place where they prayed aforesaid in Israel.

47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes,

48 And laid open the book of the law, wherein the heathen had sought to paint the likeness of their images.

49 They brought also the priest's garments, and the first-fruits, and the tithes: and the Nazarites they stirred up, who had accomplished their days.

50 Then they cried with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away?

51 For thy sanctuary is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low.

52 And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us: what things they imagine against us, thou knowest.

53 How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou, O God, be our help?

54 Then sounded they with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this Judas ordained captains over the people, even captains over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

56 But as for such as were building houses, or had betrothed wives, or were planting vineyards, or were fearful, those he commanded that they should return, every man to his own house, according to the law.

57 So the camp removed, and pitched upon the south side of Emmaus.

6 Judas defeateth the plot, and forces of Gorgias, and spoileth their tents, and overthroweth Lysias. 45 He pulleth down the altar which the heathen had profaned, and setteth up a new one; and maketh a wall about Zion.

THEN took Gorgias five thousand footmen, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of the camp by night; 2 To the end he might rush in upon the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the fortress were his guides.

4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp.

5 In the mean season came Gorgias by night into the camp of Judas; and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains: for, said he, These fellows flee from us.

6 But as soon as it was day, Judas shewed himself in the plain with three thousand men, who nevertheless had neither armour nor swords to their minds.

7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong and well harnessed, and compassed round about with horsemen: and these were expert of war.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our fathers were delivered in the Red Sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an army.

10 Now therefore let us cry unto heaven, if peradventure the Lord will have mercy upon us, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this host before our face this day:

11 That so all the heathen may know that there is one who delivereth and saveth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them.

13 Wherefore they went out of the camp to battle; but they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets.

14 So they joined battle, and the heathen being discomfited fled into the plain.

15 Howbeit all the hindmost of them were slain with the sword: for they pursued them unto Gazera, and unto the plains of Idumea, and Azotus, and Jamnia, so that there were slain of them about three thousand men.

16 This done, Judas returned again with his host from pursuing them,

17 And said to the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us,

18 And Gorgias and his host are here by us in the mountain: but stand ye now against our enemies, and overcome them, and after this ye may boldly take the spoils.

19 As Judas was yet speaking these words, there appeared a part of them looking out of the mountain:

20 Who when they perceived that the Jews had put their host to flight, and were burning the tents; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done:

21 When therefore they perceived these things, they were sore afraid, and seeing also the host of Judas in the plain ready to fight,

22 They fled every one into the land of strangers.

23 Then Judas returned to spoil the tents, where they got much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 After this they went home, and sung a song of thanksgiving, and praised the Lord in heaven: because it is good, because his mercy endureth for ever.

25 Thus Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 Now all the strangers that had escaped came and told Lysias what had happened:

27 Who, when he heard thereof, was confounded and discouraged, because neither such things as he would were done unto Israel, nor such things as the king commanded him were come to pass.

28 The next year therefore following, Lysias gathered together threescore thousand choice men of foot, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.

29 So they came into Idumea, and pitched their tents at Bethsura, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mighty army, he prayed, and said, Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, who didst quell the violence of the mighty man by the hand of thy servant David, and gavest the host of strangers into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and his armour-bearer;

31 Shut up this army in the hand of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their power and horsemen:

32 Make them to be of no courage, and cause the boldness of their strength to fall away, and let them quake at their destruction:

33 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all those that know thy name praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 So they joined battle; and there were slain of the host of Lysias about five thousand men, even before them were they slain.

35 Now when Lysias saw his army put to flight, and the manliness of Judas's soldiers, and how they were ready either to live or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered together a company of strangers, and having made his army greater than it was, he purposed to come again unto Judea.

36 Then said Judas and his brethren, Behold our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse and dedicate the sanctuary.

37 Upon this all the host assembled themselves together, and went up into mount Sion.

38 And when they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest, or in one of the mountains, yea, and the priests' chambers pulled down;

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes upon their heads,

40 And fell down flat to the ground upon their faces, and blew an alarm with the trumpets, and cried toward heaven.

41 Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the fortress, until he had cleansed the sanctuary.

42 So he chose priests of blameless conversation, such as had pleasure in the law:

43 Who cleansed the sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones unto an unclean place.

44 And when as they consulted what to do with the altar of burnt-offerings, which was profaned;

45 They thought it best to pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the heathen had defiled it: wherefore they pulled it down,

46 And laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to shew what should be done with them.

47 Then they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former;

48 And made up the sanctuary, and the things that were within the temple, and hallowed the courts.

49 They made also new holy vessels, and into the temple they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt-offerings, and of incense, and the table.

50 And upon the altar they burned incense, and the lamps that were upon the candlestick they lighted, that they might give light in the temple.

51 Furthermore they set the loaves upon the table, and spread out the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 Now on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is called the month Casleu, in the hundred forty and eighth year, they rose up betimes in the morning,

53 And offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt-offerings, which they had made.

54 Look, at what time and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.

55 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praising the God of heaven, who had given them good success.

56 And so they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt-offerings with gladness, and sacrificed the sacrifice of deliverance and praise.

57 They decked also the fore-front of the temple with crowns

58 Thus was there very great gladness among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.

59 Moreover Judas and his brethren with the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month Casleu, with mirth and gladness.

60 At that time also they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it down, as they had done before.

61 And they set there a garrison to keep it, and fortified Bethsura to preserve it; that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

CHAP. V.

Judas smiteth the children of Esau, Bean, and Ammon. 17 Simon is sent into Galilee. 25 The exploits of Judas in Galaad: he destroyeth Ephron for denying him to pass through it. 56 Divers, that in Judas' absence would fight with their enemies, are slain.

NOW when the nations round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary renewed as before, it displeased them very much.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and thereupon they began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoils.

4 Also he remembered the injury of the children of Bean, who had been a snare and an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the ways.

5 He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

6 Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, with Timotheus their captain.

7 So he fought many battles with them, till at length they were discomfited before him; and he smote them.

8 And when he had taken Jazar, with the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judea.

9 Then the heathen that were at Galaad assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them, but they fled to the fortress of Dathema,

10 And sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, The heathen that are round about us are assembled together against us to destroy us:

11 And they are preparing to come and take the fortress whereunto we are fled, Timotheus being captain of their host.

12 Come now therefore, and deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain:

13 Yea, all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie are put to death: their wives and their children also they have carried away captives, and borne away their stuff; and they have destroyed there about a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise,

15 And said, They of Ptolemais, and of Tyrus, and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles, are assembled together against us to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled a great congregation together, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in trouble, and assaulted of them.

17 Then said Judas unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, for I and Jonathan my brother will go into the country of Galaad.

18 So he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the people, with the remnant of the host in Judea to keep it.

19 Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and see that ye make not war against the heathen until the time that we come again.

20 Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for the country of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, where he fought many battles with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais; and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

23 And ||those that were in Galilee, and in Arbattis, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, took he away with him, and brought them into Judea with great joy.

24 Judas Maccabeus also and his brother Jonathan went over Jordan, and travelled three days' journey in the wilderness,

25 Where they met with the Nabathites, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad:

26 And how that many of them were shut up in ||Bosora, and Bosor, and Alema, ||Casphor, Maked, and Carnaim; all these cities are strong and great:

27 And that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the country of Galaad, and that against to-morrow ||they had appointed to bring their hosts against the forts, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 Hereupon Judas and his host turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto ||Bosora; and when he had won the city, he slew all the males with the edge of the sword and took all their spoils, and burned the city with fire.

29 From whence he removed by night, and went till he came to the fortress.

30 And betimes in the morning they † looked up, and behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other engines of war, to take the fortress: for ||they assaulted them.

31 When Judas therefore saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets, and a great sound, 32 He said unto his host, Fight this day for your brethren.

33 So he went forth behind them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cried with prayer.

34 Then the host of Timotheus, knowing that it was Maccabeus, fled from him: wherefore he smote them with a great slaughter; so that there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

35 This done, Judas turned aside to Maspha; and after he had assaulted it, he took it, and slew all the males therein, and received the spoils thereof, and burnt it with fire.

36 From thence went he, and took Casphon, Maged, Bosor, and the other cities of the country of Galaad.

37 After these things gathered Timotheus another host, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brook.

38 So Judas sent men to espy the host, who brought him word, saying, All the heathen that be around about us are assembled unto them, even a very great host.

39 He hath also hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the brook, ready to come and fight against thee. Upon this Judas went to meet them.

40 Then Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, When Judas and his host come near the brook, if he pass over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him; for he will mightily prevail against us:

41 But if he be afraid, and camp beyond the river, we shall go over unto him, and prevail against him.

42 Now when Judas came near the brook, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook: unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Suffer no man to remain in the camp, but let all come to the battle.

43 So he went first over unto them, and all the people after him: then all the heathen, being discomfited before him, cast away their weapons, and fled unto the temple that was at Carnaim.

44 But ||they took the city, and burned the temple with all that were therein. Thus was Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

45 Then Judas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the country of Galaad, from the least unto the greatest, even their wives, and their children, and their stuff, a very great host, to the end they might come into the land of Judea.

46 Now when they came unto Ephron, (this was a great city in the way as they should go, very well fortified,) they could not turn from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it.

47 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.

48 Whereupon Judas sent unto them in peaceable manner, saying, Let us pass through your land to go into our own country, and none shall do you any hurt; we will only pass through on foot: howbeit they would not open unto him.

49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

50 So the soldiers pitched, and assaulted the city all that day and all that night, till at length the city was delivered into his hands:

51 Who then slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain.

52 After this went they over Jordan into the great plain before Bethsan.

53 And Judas gathered together those that ||came behind, and ||exhorted the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Judea.

54 So they went up to mount Sion with joy and gladness, where they offered ||burnt-offerings, because not one of them were slain until they had returned in peace.

55 Now what time as Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the garrisons, heard of the valiant acts and warlike deeds which they had done.

57 Wherefore they said, Let us also get us a name, and go fight against the heathen that are round about us.

58 So when they had given charge unto the garrison that was with them, they went toward Jamnia.

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city † to fight against them.

60 And so it was, that Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued unto the borders of Judea: and there were slain that day of the people of Israel about two thousand men.

61 Thus was there a great overthrow among the children of Israel because they were not obedient unto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant act.

62 Moreover these men came not of the seed of those, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

63 Howbeit the man Judas and his brethren were greatly renowned in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen, wheresoever their name was heard of;

64 Insomuch as the people assembled unto them with joyful acclamations.

65 Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south, where he smote Hebron, and the † towns thereof, and pulled down the fortress of it, and burned the towers thereof round about.

66 From thence he removed to go into the land of † the Philistines, and passed through Samaria.

67 At that time certain priests, desirous to show their valour, were slain in battle, for that they went out to fight unadvisedly.

68 So Judas turned to Azotus in the land of the Philistines, and when he had pulled down their altars, and burned their carved images with fire, and spoiled their cities, he returned into the land of Judea.

CHAP. VI.

8 Antiochus dieth, and confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Jerusalem. 20 Judas besiegeth those in the tower at Jerusalem. 28 They procure Antiochus the younger to come into Judea: he besiegeth Sion, and maketh peace with Israel: yet overthroweth the wall of Sion.

ABOUT that time king Antiochus travelling through the high countries heard say, that Elymais in the country of Persia was a city greatly renowned for riches, silver, and gold; 2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, wherein were ||coverings of gold, and breastplates and ||shields, which Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Grecians, had left there.

3 Wherefore he came and sought to take the city, and to spoil it; but he was not able, because they of the city, having had warning thereof,

4 Rose up against him in battle: so he fled, and departed thence with great heaviness, and returned to Babylon.

5 Moreover there came one who brought him tidings into Persia, that the armies, which went against the land of Judea, were put to flight:

6 And that Lysias, who went forth first with a great power, was driven away of the Jews; and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and store of spoils, which they had gotten of the armies, whom they had destroyed:

7 Also that they had pulled down the abomination, which he had set up upon the altar in Jerusalem, and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls, as before, and his city Bethsura.

8 Now when the king heard these words, he was astonished and sore moved: whereupon he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for.

9 And there he continued many days: for his grief was ever more and more, and he made account that he should die.

10 Wherefore he called for all his friends, and said unto them, The sleep is gone from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for very care.

11 And I thought with myself, Into what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood of misery is it, wherein now I am! for I was bountiful and beloved in my power.

12 But now I remember the evils that I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of gold and silver that were therein, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judea without a cause.

13 I perceive therefore that for this cause these troubles are come upon me, and behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land.

14 Then called he for Philip, one of his friends, whom he made ruler over all his realm,

15 And gave him the crown, and his robe, and his signet, to the end || he should bring up his son Antiochus, and nourish him up for the kingdom.

16 So king Antiochus died there in the hundred forty and ninth year.

17 Now when Lysias knew that the king was dead, he set up Antiochus his son, whom he had brought up, being young, to reign in his stead, and his name he called Eupator.

18 About this time they that were in the tower shut up the Israelites round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Judas, purposing to destroy them, called all the people together to besiege them.

20 So they came together, and besieged them in the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made mounts for shot against them, and other engines.

21 Howbeit, certain of them that were besieged got forth, unto whom some ungodly men of Israel joined themselves:

22 And they went unto the king, and said, How long will it be ere thou execute judgment, and avenge our brethren?

23 We have been willing to serve thy father, and to do as he would have us, and to obey his commandments;

24 For which cause they of our nation besiege the tower, and are alienated from us: moreover, as many of us as they could light on they slew, and spoiled our inheritance.

25 Neither have they stretched out their hand against us only, but also against all their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the tower at Jerusalem, to take it: the sanctuary also and Bethsura have they fortified.

27 Wherefore, if thou dost not prevent them quickly, they will do greater things than these, neither shalt thou be able to rule them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the horse.

29 There came also unto him from other kingdoms, and from isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers.

30 So that the number of his army was a hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants exercised in battle.

31 These went through Idumea, and pitched against Bethsura, which they assaulted many days, making engines of war; but they of Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Upon this Judas removed from the tower, and pitched in Bathzacharias, over against the king's camp.

33 Then the king rising very early marched fiercely with his host toward Bathzacharias, where his armies made them ready to battle, and sounded the trumpets.

34 And to the end they might provoke the elephants to fight, they shewed them the blood of grapes and mulberries.

35 Moreover they divided the beasts among the armies, and for every elephant they appointed a thousand men, armed with coats of mail, and with helmets of brass on their heads; and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at every occasion: wheresoever the beast was, and whithersoever the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him.

37 And upon the beasts were there strong towers of wood which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men, that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side and that side at the two parts of the host, || giving them signs what to do, and being harnessed all over amidst the ranks.

39 Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains glistened therewith, and shined like lamps of fire.

40 So part of the king's army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Judas and his host drew near, and entered into battle, and there were slain of the king's army six hundred men.

43 Eleazar also, surnamed Savaran, perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royal harness, was higher than all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him,

44 Put himself in jeopardy, to the end he might deliver his people, and get him a perpetual name:

45 Wherefore he ran upon him courageously through the midst of the battle, slaying on the right hand and on the left, || so that they were divided from him on both sides.

46 Which done, he crept under the elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him: whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died.

47 Howbeit, the rest of the Jews seeing the strength of the king, and the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

48 ¶ Then the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents || against Judea, and against mount Sion.

49 But with them that were in Bethsura he made peace: || for they came out of the city, because they had no victuals there to endure the siege, it being a year of rest to the land.

50 So the king took Bethsura, and set a garrison there to keep it.

51 As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many days: and || set there artillery with engines and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts and slings.

52 Whereupon || they also made engines against their engines, and held them battle a long season.

53 Yet at the last, their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was the seventh year, and they in Judea that were delivered from the Gentiles, had eaten up the residue of the store;)

54 There were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were fain to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

55 At that time Lysias heard say, that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he lived, had appointed to bring up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 56 Was returned out of Persia and Media, and the king's host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto him the ruling of the affairs.

57 Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king and the captains of the host and the company, We decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege unto is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us:

58 Now therefore let us † be friends with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nation;

59 And covenant with them, that they shall live after their laws, as they did before: for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things, because we abolished their laws.

60 So the king and the princes were content: wherefore he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof.

61 Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them: whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

62 Then the king entered into mount Sion; but when he saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about.

63 Afterward departed he in all haste, and returned unto Antiochia, where he found Philip to be master of the city: so he fought against him, and took the city by force.

CHAP. VII.

Antiochus is slain, and Demetrius reigneth in his stead. 5 Alcimus would be high priest, and complaineth of Judas to the king. 16 He slayeth threescore Assideans. 43 Nicanor is slain, and the king's forces are defeated by Judas. 49 The day of this victory is kept holy every year.

IN the hundred and one and fiftieth year Demetrius the son of Seleucus departed from Rome, and came up with a few men unto a city of the sea-coast, and reigned there.

2 And as he entered into the palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him.

3 Wherefore when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So his host slew them. Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom,

5 There came unto him all the wicked and ungodly men of Israel, having Alcimus, who was desirous to be high priest, for their captain:

6 And they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what havoc he hath made among us, and in the king's land, and let him punish them with all them that aid them.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides, a friend of the king, who ruled beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king.

9 And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judea, where they sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11 But they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great power.

12 Then did there assemble unto Alcimus and Bacchides a company of scribes, to require justice.

13 Now the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them:

14 For said they, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong.

15 So he spake unto them peaceably, and sware unto them, saying, We will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends.

16 Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took of them three-score men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which he wrote,

17 The flesh of thy saints have they cast out, and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

18 Wherefore the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth nor righteousness in them; for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made.

19 After this removed Bacchides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bezeth, where he sent and took many of the men that had forsaken him, and certain of the people also, and when he had slain them, he cast them into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with him a power to aid him: so Bacchides went to the king.

21 But Alcimus contended for the high priesthood.

22 And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, who, after they had gotten the land of Judea into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heathen, 24 He went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance of them that had revolted from him, so that they durst no more go forth into the country.

25 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company had gotten the upper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide their force, he went again to the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his honourable princes, a man that bare deadly hate unto Israel, with commandment to destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great force; and sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no battle between me and you; I will come with a few men, that I may see you in peace.

29 He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by violence.

30 Which thing after it was known to Judas, to wit, that he came unto him with deceit, he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more.

31 Nicanor also, when he saw that his counsel was discovered, went out to fight against Judas beside Capharsalama:

32 Where there were slain of Nicanor's side about five thousand men, and the rest fled into the city of David.

33 After this went Nicanor up to the mount Sion, and there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests and certain of the elders of the people, to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt-sacrifice that was offered for the king.

34 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and abused them shamefully and spake proudly, 35 And sware in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again in safety, I will burn up this house: and with that he went out in a great rage.

36 Then the priests entered in, and stood before the altar and the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Thou, O Lord, didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

39 So Nicanor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Beth-horon, where a host out of Syria met him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, and there he prayed, saying,

41 O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine angel went out, and smote a hundred fourscore and five thousand of them.

42 Even so destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that he hath spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness.

43 So the thirteenth day of the month Adar the hosts joined battle: but Nicanor's host was discomfited, and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44 Now when Nicanor's host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 Then they pursued after them a day's journey, from Adasa unto Gazera, sounding an alarm after them with their trumpets.

46 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Judea around about, and closed them in; so that they, turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left.

47 Afterward they took the spoils and the prey, and smote off Nicanor's head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so proudly, and brought them away, and hanged them up toward Jerusalem.

48 For this cause the people rejoiced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladness.

49 Moreover, they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of Adar.

50 Thus the land of Judah was in rest a little while.

CHAP. VIII.

Judas is informed of the power and policy of the Romans, and maketh a league with them. 24 The articles of that league.

NOW Judas had heard of the fame of the Romans, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joined themselves unto them, and make a league of amity with all that came unto them;

2 And that they were men of great valour. It was told him also of their wars and noble acts which they had done among the Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute;

3 And what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there;

4 And that by their policy and patience they had conquered ||all the place, though it were very far from them; and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthrow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year:

5 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battle Philip, and Perseus king of the ||Citims, with others that lifted up themselves against them, and had overcome them:

6 How also Antiochus, the great king of Asia, that came against them in battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen, and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them:

7 And how they took him alive, and covenanted that he and such as reigned after him should pay a great tribute, and give hostages, and that which was agreed upon,

8 And the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to king Eumenes:

9 Moreover how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them;

10 And that they, having knowledge thereof, sent against them a certain captain, and fighting with them, slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and took possession of their lands, and pulled down their strong holds, and brought them to be their servants unto this day:

11 It was told him besides, how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdoms and isles that at any time resisted them;

12 But with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity: and that they had conquered kingdoms both far and nigh, insomuch as all that heard of their name were afraid of them:

13 Also that, whom they would help to a kingdom, those reign; and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted:

14 Yet for all this none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple, to be magnified thereby:

15 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a senate-house, wherein three hundred and twenty men sat in council daily, consulting always for the people, to the end they may be well ordered:

16 And that they committed their government to one man every year, who ruled over all their country, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envy nor emulation among them.

17 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them,

18 And to entreat them that they would take the yoke from them; for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.

19 They went therefore to Rome, which was a very great journey, and came into the senate, where they spake and said,

20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

21 So that matter pleased the Romans well.

22 And this is the copy of the epistle which the senate wrote back again on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that there they might have by them a memorial of peace and confederacy:

23 Good success be to the Romans, and to the people of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enemy be far from them.

24 If there come first any war upon the Romans or any of their confederates throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Jews shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart:

26 Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make war upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romans; but they shall keep their covenants without taking any thing therefor.

27 In the same manner also, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them:

30 Howbeit, if hereafter the one party or the other shall think meet to add or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be ratified.

31 And as touching the evils that Demetrius doeth to the Jews, we have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews?

32 If therefore they complain any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

CHAP. IX.

1 Alcimus and Bacchides come again with new forces into Judea. 7 The army of Judas flee from him, and he is slain. 30 Jonathan is in his place, and revengeth his brother John's quarrel. 55 Alcimus is plagued, and dieth. 70 Bacchides maketh peace with Jonathan.

FURTHERMORE, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his host were slain in battle, †he sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea the second time, and with them ||the chief strength of his host:

2 Who went forth by the way that leadeth to ||Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth, which is in Arbela, and after they had won it, they slew much people.

3 Also the first month of the hundred fifty and second year they encamped before Jerusalem:

4 From whence they moved and went to ||Berea, with twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him:

6 Who seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid; whereupon many conveyed themselves out of the host, insomuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

7 When Judas therefore saw that his host slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in mind, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

8 Nevertheless, unto them that remained, he said, Let us arise and go up against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they dehorted him, saying, We shall never be able: ||let us now rather save our lives, and hereafter we will return with our brethren, and fight against them: for we are but few.

10 Then Judas said, ^aGod forbid that I should do this thing, and flee away from them; if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and †let us not stain our honour.

11 With that the host of Bacchides removed out of their tents, and stood over against ||them, their horsemen being divided into two troops, and their slingers and archers going before the host, and they that marched in the foreward were all mighty men.

12 As for Bacchides, he was in the right wing: so the host drew near on the two parts, and sounded their trumpets.

13 They also of Judas' side, ^eeven they sounded their trumpets also, so ^fthat the earth shook at the noise of the armies, and the battle continued from morning till night.

14 Now when Judas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, he took with him all the hardy men, 15 Who discomfited the right wing, and pursued them unto the mount Azotus.

16 But when they of the left wing saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed upon Judas and those that were with him hard at the heels from behind:

17 Whereupon there was a sore battle, insomuch as many were slain on both parts.

18 ^gJudas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in ^hModin.

20 Moreover ⁱthey bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, saying,

21 ^kHow is the valiant man fallen, that delivered Israel!

22 As for the other things concerning Judas and his wars, and the noble acts which he did, and his greatness, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Judas, the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose up all such as wrought iniquity.

24 In those days also was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the country revolted and went with ¶ them.

25 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country.

26 And they made inquiry and search for Judas' friends, and brought them unto Bacchides, who took vengeance of them, and † used them despitefully.

27 So was there a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that a prophet was not seen among them.

28 For this cause all Judas' friends came together, and said unto ¶ Jonathan,

29 Since thy brother Judas died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are adversaries to us.

30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and captain in hisstead, that thou mayest fight our battles.

31 Upon this Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up instead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides gat knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and ¶ Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Thecoe, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Asphar.

34 ¶ Which when Bacchides understood, he came near to Jordan with all his host upon the sabbath-day.

35 Now Jonathan had sent his brother ¶ John, a captain of the people, to pray his friends the Nabathites, † that they might leave with them their carriage, which was much.

36 But the children of † Jambri came out of Medeba, and took John, and all that he had, and went their way with it.

37 After this came word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from ¶ Nadabatha with a great train, as being the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan.

38 Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain:

39 Where they lifted up their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much ado and ¶ great carriage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and brethren, to meet them with ¶ drums, and ¶ instruments of music, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathan and they that were with him rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell down dead, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils.

41 Thus was ¶ the marriage turned into mourning, and the noise of their ¶ melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned again to the marsh of Jordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard thereof, he came on the sabbath-day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.

44 Then Jonathan said to his company, Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to-day, as in time past:

45 For, behold, ¶ the battle is before us and behind us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, the marsh likewise and wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside.

46 Wherefore ¶ cry ye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

47 With that they joined battle, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him leaped into Jordan, and swam over unto the farther bank: howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them.

49 So there were slain of Bacchides' side that day about ¶ a thousand men.

50 Afterward returned Bacchides to Jerusalem, and ¶ repaired the strong cities in Judea; the fort in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Thamnatha, Phara-thoni, and ¶ Taphon, these did he strengthen with high walls, with gates and with bars.

51 And in them he set a garrison, that they might work malice upon Israel.

52 He fortified also † the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the tower, and put forces in them, and provision of victuals.

53 Besides, he took the chief men's sons in the country for hostages, and put them into the tower at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Moreover in the hundred fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary should be pulled down; he pulled down also the works of the prophets.

55 And as he began to pull down, even at that time was Alcimus ¶ plagued, and his enterprise hindered: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speak any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

56 So Alcimus died at that time with great torment.

57 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king: whereupon the land of Judea ¶ was in rest two years.

58 Then all the ungodly men held a council, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore we will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went and ¶ consulted with him.

60 Then removed he, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to his adherents in Judea, that they should take Jonathan and those that were with him: howbeit they could not, ¶ because their counsel was known unto them.

61 Wherefore they took of the men of the country, that were authors of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and they repaired the decays thereof, and made it strong.

63 Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all ¶ his host, and sent word ¶ to them that were of Judea.

64 Then went he and laid siege against Bethbasi; and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of war.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth himself into the country, and with a certain number went he forth.

66 And he smote ¶ Odonarkes and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent.

67 And when he began to smite them, and came up with his forces, Simon and his company went out of the city, and burned up ¶ the engines of war,

68 And fought against Bacchides, who was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore: for his counsel and travail was in vain.

69 Wherefore he was very wroth at the ¶ wicked men that gave him counsel to come into the country, insomuch that he slew many of them, and purposed to return into his own country.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadors unto him, ¶ to the end he should make peace with him, and deliver them the prisoners.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his demands, and sware unto him that he would never do him harm all the days of his life.

72 When therefore he had restored unto him the prisoners that he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judea, he returned and went his way into his own land, ¶ neither † came he any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel: but Jonathan dwelt at Machmas, and began to † govern the people; and he destroyed the ¶ ungodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

1 Demetrius maketh large offers to have peace with Jonathan: his letters to the Jews.
 47 Jonathan maketh peace with Alexander, who killed Demetrius, and married the daughter of Ptolemeus. 62 Jonathan is sent for by him, and much honoured.
 75 He prevaileth against the forces of Demetrius the younger, and burneth the temple of Dagon.

IN the hundred and sixtieth year, Alexander, ¶ the son of Antiochus surnamed Epiphanes, went up and took ¶ Ptolemais: for the people had received him, by means whereof he reigned there.

2 Now when king Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Moreover, Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with loving words, so as he magnified him.

4 For, said he, ¶ Let us first make peace with him, before he join with Alexander against us:

5 Else he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brethren and his people.

6 Wherefore he gave him authority to ¶ gather together a host, and to provide weapons, that he might aid him in battle:

he commanded also that the hostages that were in the tower should be delivered him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the tower:

8 Who were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host.

9 Whereupon they of the tower delivered their hostages unto Jonathan, and he delivered them unto their parents.

10 This done, Jonathan settled himself in Jerusalem, and began to build and repair the city.

11 And he commanded the workmen to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with square stones for fortification; and they did so.

12 Then the strangers, that were in the fortresses which Bacchides had built, fled away;

13 Insomuch as every man left his place, and went into his own country.

14 Only at Bethsura certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments remained still: for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: when also it was told him of the battles and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the pains that they had endured,

16 He said, Shall we find such another man? now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it unto him, according to these words, saying,

18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan sendeth greeting:

19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend.

20 Wherefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest of thy nation, and to be called the king's friend; (and therewithal he sent him a purple robe and a crown of gold:) and require thee to take our part, and keep friendship with us.

21 So in the seventh month of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.

22 Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very sorry, and said,

23 What have we done, that Alexander hath prevented us in making amity with the Jews to strengthen himself?

24 I also will write unto them words of encouragement, and promise them dignities and gifts, that I may have their aid.

25 He sent unto them therefore to this effect: King Demetrius unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting:

26 Whereas ye have kept covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, not joining yourselves with our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad.

27 Wherefore now continue ye still to be faithful unto us, and we will recompense you for the things ye do in our behalf,

28 And will grant you many immunities, and give you rewards.

29 And now do I free you, and for your sake I release all the Jews from tributes, and from the customs of salt, and from crown taxes,

30 And from that which appertaineth unto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the half of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of the three governments which are added thereunto out of the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.

31 Let Jerusalem also be holy and free, with the border thereof both from tenths and tributes.

32 And as for the tower which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keep it.

33 Moreover I freely set at liberty every one of the Jews that were carried captives out of the land of Judea into any part of my kingdom, and I will that all my officers remit the tribute even of their cattle.

34 Furthermore I will that all the feasts, and sabbaths, and new moons, and solemn days, and the three days before the feast, and the three days after the feast, shall be all days of immunity and freedom for all the Jews in my realm.

Before CHRIST about 153.

Before CHRIST about 153.

35 Also, no man shall have authority to meddle with them, or to molest any of them in any matter.

36 I will further, that there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, unto whom pay shall be given, as belongeth to all the king's forces.

37 And of them some shall be placed in the king's strong holds, of whom also some shall be set over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and I will that their overseers and governors be of themselves, and that they live after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judea.

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Judea from the country of Samaria, let them be joined with Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority than the high priest's.

39 As for Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I give it as a free gift to the sanctuary at Jerusalem for the necessary expenses of the sanctuary.

40 Moreover I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the king's accounts from the places appertaining.

41 And all the overplus, which the officers paid not in as in former time, from henceforth shall be given toward the works of the temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they took from the uses of the temple out of the accounts year by year, even those things shall be released, because they appertain to the priests that minister.

43 And whosoever they be that flee unto the temple at Jerusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the king, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty, and all that they have in my realm.

44 For the building also and repairing of the works of the sanctuary, expenses shall be given out of the king's accounts.

45 Yea, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, expenses shall be given out of the king's accounts, as also for the building of the walls in Judea.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil that he had done in Israel; for he had afflicted them very sore.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entreated of true peace with them, and they were confederate with him always.

48 Then gathered king Alexander great forces, and camped over against Demetrius.

49 And after the two kings had joined battle, Demetrius' host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and prevailed against them.

50 And he continued the battle very sore until the sun went down: and that day was Demetrius slain.

51 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemee king of Egypt with a message to this effect:

52 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and have gotten the dominion, and overthrown Demetrius, and recovered our country;

53 For after I had joined battle with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in the throne of his kingdom:

54 Now therefore let us make a league of amity together, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will be thy son-in-law, and will give both thee and her gifts according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptolemee the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and satest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolemee went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemais in the hundred three-score and second year.

58 Where king Alexander meeting him, gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander had written unto Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 Who thereupon went honourably to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found favour in their sight.

61 At that time certain pestilent fellows of Israel, ⁴men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the king would not hear them.

62 Yea more than that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in ⁴purple: and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himself, and said unto his princes, Go with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 Now when his ^maccusers saw that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the king honoured him, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a duke, and ^{||}partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterward Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 Furthermore in the hundred threescore and fifth year came Demetrius son of Demetrius out of ^mCrete into the land of his fathers:

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard tell, he was right sorry, and returned into Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the governor of Celyria his general, who gathered together a great host, and camped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, and ^oI am laughed to scorn for thy sake, and reproached: and why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

71 Now therefore, if thou trustest in thine own strength, come down to us into the plain field, and there let us try the matter together: for with me is the power of the cities.

72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shall tell thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide ^pthe horsemen and so great a power in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 So when Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, ^qhe was moved in his mind, and choosing ten thousand men, he went out of Jerusalem, where Simon his brother met him for to help him.

75 And he pitched his tents against Joppe: but they of Joppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garrison there.

76 Then Jonathan laid siege unto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for fear: and so Jonathan won Joppe.

77 Whereof when Apollonius heard, he took three thousand horsemen, with a great host of ^ofootmen, and went to ^rAzotus ^{||}as one that journeyed, and therewithal ^{||}drew him forth into the plain, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies joined battle.

79 Now ^rApollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him; for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them: and so the ^{||}enemies' horses were tired.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footmen (for the horsemen were spent,) who were discomfited by him, and fled.

83 The horsemen also, being scattered in the field, fled to ^rAzotus, and went into Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, for safety.

84 But Jonathan set fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils: and the ^utemple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burned with fire.

85 Thus there were burned and slain with the sword well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Jonathan removed his host, and camped against ^rAscalon, where the men of the city came forth, and met him with great pomp.

87 After this returned Jonathan and his host unto Jerusalem, having many spoils.

88 Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan ^yyet more,

CHAP. XI.

¹² Ptolemee taketh away his daughter from Alexander, and entereth upon his kingdom. ¹⁷ Alexander is slain, and Ptolemee dieth within three days. ²⁰ Jonathan besiegeth the tower of Jerusalem. ²⁶ The Jews and he are much honoured by Demetrius, who is rescued by the Jews from his own subjects in Antioch. ⁵⁷ Antiochus the younger honoureth Jonathan. ⁶¹ His exploits in divers places.

AND the king of Egypt gathered together a great host like ^athe sand that lieth upon the sea-shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexander's kingdom, and join it to his own.

2 Whereupon he took his journey into Syria in peaceable manner, so as they of the cities opened unto him, and met him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to do, ^bbecause he was his father-in-law.

3 Now as Ptolemee entered into the cities, he set in every one of them a garrison of soldiers to keep it.

4 And when he came near to Azotus, they shewed him the ^ctemple of Dagon that was burnt, and Azotus and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battle; for they had made heaps of them by the way where he should pass.

5 Also they told the king whatsoever Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the king held his peace.

6 Then Jonathan met the king ^dwith great pomp at Joppe, where they saluted one another, and [†]lodged.

7 Afterward Jonathan, when he had gone with the king to the river called Eleutherus, returned again to Jerusalem.

8 King Ptolemee therefore, having gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea unto Seleucia upon the sea-coast, imagined ^ewicked counsels against Alexander.

9 Whereupon he sent ambassadors unto King Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a league betwixt us, and I will give thee ^fmy daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in thy father's kingdom:

10 For I repent that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me.

11 Thus did he ^gslander him, because he was desirous of his kingdom.

12 Wherefore he took his daughter from him, and gave her to Demetrius, and forsook Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known.

13 Then Ptolemee entered into Antioch, where he set two ^hcrowns upon his head, the crown of Asia, and of Egypt.

14 In the mean season was king Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwelt in those parts had revolted from him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to war against him: whereupon ⁱking Ptolemee brought forth ^{his} host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 So Alexander fled into ^jArabia, there to be defended, but king Ptolemee was exalted:

17 For Zabdiel the Arabian, took off Alexander's head, and sent it unto Ptolemee.

18 King Ptolemee also died the third day after, [†]and they that were in the strong holds were slain one of another.

19 By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seventh year.

20 At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judea, to take the ^ktower that was in Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it.

21 Then certain ungodly persons, who hated their own people, went unto the king, and told him that Jonathan besieged the tower.

22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately removing, he came to ^lPtolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais, in great haste.

23 Nevertheless, Jonathan, when he heard this, commanded to besiege it ^{still}: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himself in peril:

24 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais unto the king, ^mwhere he found favour in his sight.

25 And though certain ⁿungodly men of the people had made complaints against him,

26 Yet the king entreated him as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends,

27 And confirmed him in the high priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him pre-eminence among his chief friends.

28 Then Jonathan desired the king that he would make Judea free from tribute, as also the three governments, with the country of Samaria; and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 So the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan of all these things after this manner:

30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting:

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write unto our cousin Lasthenes concerning you, that ye might see it.

32 King Demetrius unto his father Lasthenes sendeth greeting:

33 We are determined to do good to the people of the Jews, who are our friends, and keep covenants with us, because of their good will toward us.

34 Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Judea, with the three governments of Apherema, and Lydda, and Ramathem, that are added unto Judea from the country of Samaria, and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the payments which the king received of them yearly aforetime out of the fruits of the earth and of trees.

35 And as for other things that belong unto us, of the tithes and customs pertaining unto us, as also the salt pits, and the crown-taxes, which are due unto us, we discharge them of them all for their relief.

36 And nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and set upon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 After this, when king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom he had gathered from the isles of the heathen: wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

39 Moreover, there was one Tryphon, that had been of Alexander's part afore, who, seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander,

40 And lay sore upon him to deliver him this young Antiochus, that he might reign in his father's stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of war were at enmity with him; and there he remained a long season.

41 In the mean time Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he would cast those of the tower out of Jerusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if opportunity serve.

43 Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men to help me; for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Upon this Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men unto Antioch: and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming.

45 Howbeit, they that were of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slain the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and, dispersing themselves through the city, slew that day in the city to the number of a hundred thousand.

48 Also they set fire on the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated: wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying,

50 Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease from assaulting us and the city.

51 With that they cast away their weapons, and made peace; and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realm; and they returned to Jerusalem, having great spoils.

52 So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Nevertheless, he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the young child Antiochus, who reigned, and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 Moreover Tryphon took the elephants, and won Antioch.

57 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the king's friends.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle.

59 His brother Simon also he made captain from the place called The ladder of Tyrus, unto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan went forth, and passed through the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him: and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably.

61 From whence he went to Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out; wherefore he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Afterward, when they of Gaza made supplication unto Jonathan, he made peace with them, and took the sons of their chief men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and passed through the country unto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing to remove him out of the country,

64 He went to meet them, and left Simon his brother in the country.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethsura, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up:

66 But they desired to have peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and took the city, and set a garrison in it.

67 As for Jonathan and his host, they pitched at the water of Gennesar, from whence betimes in the morning they gat them to the plain of Nasor.

68 And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joined battle, all that were of Jonathan's side fled;

70 Insomuch as there was not one of them left, except Mattathias the son of Absalom, and Judas the son of Calhpi, the captains of the host.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterward turning again to battle, he put them to flight, and so they ran away.

73 Now when his own men that were fled saw this, they turned again unto him, and with him pursued them to Cades, even unto their own tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slain of the heathen that day about three thousand men: but Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

CHAP. XII.

Jonathan reneweth his league with the Romans and Lacedemonians. The forces of Demetrius, thinking to surprise Jonathan, flee away for fear. Jonathan fortifieth the castles in Judea, and is shut up by the fraud of Tryphon in Ptolemais.

NOW when Jonathan saw that the time served him, he chose certain men, and sent them to Rome, for to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them.

2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places, for the same purpose:

3 So they went unto Rome, and entered into the senate, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the people of the Jews, sent us unto you, to the end ye should renew the friendship which he had with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Upon this the Romans gave them letters unto the governors of every place, that they should bring them into the land of Judea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote unto the Lacedemonians:

6 Jonathan the high priest, and the elders of the nation, and the priests, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacedemonians their brethren send greeting:

7 There were letters sent in times past unto Onias the high priest from || Darius, who reigned then among you, to signify that ye are our brethren, as the copy here underwritten doth specify.

8 At which time Onias entreated the ambassador that was sent honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the || league and friendship.

9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that we have the holy books of scripture in our hands to comfort us,

10 Have nevertheless attempted to send unto you for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since ye sent unto us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and other convenient days, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh us to think upon our brethren:

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for ourselves, we have had great troubles and wars on every side, forso much as the kings that are round about us have fought against us.

14 Howbeit, we would not be troublesome unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends, in these wars:

15 For we have help from heaven that succoureth us, so as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are brought under foot.

16 For this cause we chose Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater the son of Jason, and sent them unto the Romans, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them also to go unto you, and to salute you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye shall do well to give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters || which Oniases sent.

20 Areus king of the Lacedemonians to Onias the high priest, greeting:

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and Jews are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham:

22 Now therefore, since this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity.

23 We do write back again to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore our ambassadors to make report unto you on this wise.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were come to fight against him with a greater host than afore,

25 He removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Amathis: for he gave them no respite || to enter his country.

26 He sent spies also unto their tents, who came again, and told him that they were appointed to come upon them in the night-season.

27 Wherefore so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight: also he sent forth sentinels round about the host.

28 But when the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and || they kindled fires in their camp.

29 Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Jonathan turned to the Arabians, who were called † Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils.

32 And removing thence, he came to Damascus, and so passed through all the country.

33 Simon also went forth, and passed through the country unto Ascalon, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to Joppe, and won it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto them that took Demetrius' part; wherefore he set a garrison there to keep it.

35 After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Judea,

36 And making the walls of Jerusalem higher, and raising a great mount between the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Upon this they came together to build up the city, || forasmuch as part of the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down; and they repaired that which was called Caphenatha.

38 Simon also set up Adida in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and bars.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own head.

40 Howbeit, he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to Bethsan.

41 Then Jonathan went out to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for the battle, and came to Bethsan.

42 Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force he durst not stretch his hand against him;

43 But received him honourably, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as to himself.

44 Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us?

45 Therefore send them now home again, and choose a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, for I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 So Jonathan, believing him, did as he bade him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Judca.

47 And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

48 Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him they slew with the sword.

49 Then sent Tryphon a host of footmen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's company.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together, prepared to fight.

51 They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Judea peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; wherefore all Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them sought to destroy them: for, said they, They have no captain, nor any to help them: now therefore let us make war upon them, and take away their memorial from among men.

CHAP. XIII.

8 Simon is made captain in his brother Jonathan's room. 19 Tryphon getteth two of Jonathan's sons into his hands, and slayeth their father. 27 The tomb of Jonathan. 36 Simon is favoured by Demetrius, and winneth Gaza, and the tower of Jerusalem.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great host to invade the land of Judea, and destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye yourselves know what great things I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battles also and troubles which we have seen.

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slain for Israel's sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: for I am no better than my brethren.

6 Doubtless I will avenge my nation, and the sanctuary, and our wives, and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very malice.

7 Now soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived.

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader instead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother.

9 Fight thou our battles, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about.

11 Also he sent Jonathan the son of Absalom, and with him a great power, to Joppe: who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and Jonathan was with him in ward.

13 But Simon pitched his tents at Adida, over against the plain.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up instead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to join battle with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying,

15 Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the king's treasure, || concerning the business that was committed unto him.

16 Wherefore now send a hundred talents of silver, and two of his sons for hostages, that when he is at liberty he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go.

17 Hereupon Simon, albeit he perceived that he spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himself great hatred of the people:

18 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathan dead.

19 So he sent them the children and the hundred talents: howbeit Tryphon dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go.

20 And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora: but Simon and his host marched against him in every place, wheresoever he went.

21 Now they that were in the tower sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefore Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come that night: but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed, and came into the country of Galaad.

23 And when he came near to Bascama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned and went into his own land.

25 Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin, the city of his fathers.

26 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many days.

27 Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and raised it aloft to the sight, with hewn stone, behind and before.

28 Moreover, he set up seven pyramids, one against another, for his father, and his mother, and his four brethren.

29 And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made all their armour for a perpetual memory, and by the armour ships carved, that they might be seen of all that sail on the sea.

30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Modin, and it standeth yet unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him.

32 And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himself king of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land.

33 Then Simon built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates and bars, and laid up victuals † therein.

34 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunity, because † all that Tryphon did was to spoil.

35 Unto whom king Demetrius answered and wrote after this manner:

36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting:

37 The golden crown, and the scarlet robe, which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to confirm the immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you shall stand; and the strong holds, which ye have builded, shall be your own.

39 As for any oversight or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown tax also, which ye owe us: and if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken away from Israel in the hundred and seventieth year.

42 Then the people of Israel began to write in their instruments and contracts, In the first year of Simon the high priest, the governor and leader of the Jews.

43 In those days Simon camped against Gaza, and besieged it round about; he made also an engine of war, and set it by the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

44 And they that were in the engine leaped into the city; whereupon there was a great uproar in the city.

45 Insomuch as the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon † to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to thy mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased toward them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were, and so entered into it with songs and with thanksgiving.

48 Yea, he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed such men there as would keep the law; and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein a dwelling-place for himself.

49 They also of the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come forth, nor go into the country, nor buy, nor sell: wherefore they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him || to be at one with them: which thing he granted them; and when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the tower from pollutions:

51 And entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second month, in the hundred and seventy and first year, with thanksgiving, and branches of palm-trees, and with harps, and cymbals, and with viols, and hymns, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover, the hill of the temple that was by the tower he made stronger than it was, and there he dwelt himself with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts; and he dwelt in Gazara.

CHAP. XIV.

3 Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia. 4 The good deeds of Simon to his country. 18 The Lacedemonians and Romans renew their league with him. 26 A memorial of his acts is set up in Sion.

NOW in the hundred threescore and twelfth year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media, to get him help to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Arsaces, the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive:

3 Who went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Arsaces, by whom he was put in ward.

4 As for the land of Judea, that was quiet all the days of Simon; for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

5 And as he was honourable in all his acts, so in this, that he took Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea,

6 And enlarged the bounds of his nation, and recovered the country,

7 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the tower, out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat all in the streets, communing together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel.

10 He provided victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy:

12 For every man sat under his vine and his fig-tree, and there was none to fray them:

13 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them: yea, the kings themselves were overthrowen in those days.

14 Moreover, he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out; and every contemner of the law and wicked person he took away.

15 He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

16 Now when it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, they were very sorry.

17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein:

18 They wrote unto him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren:

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem.

20 And this is the copy of the letters that the Lacedemonians sent; The rulers of the Lacedemonians, with the city, unto Simon the high priest, and the elders, and priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, send greeting:

21 The ambassadors that were sent unto our people certified us of your glory and honour: wherefore we were glad of their coming,

22 And did register the things that they spake in the council of the people in this manner, Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassador, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us.

23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their ambassage in public records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might have a memorial thereof: furthermore, we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold, of a thousand pound weight, to confirm the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons?

26 For he and his brethren and the house of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty.

27 So then they wrote it in tables of brass, which they set upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing; The eighteenth day of the month Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being the third year of Simon the high priest,

28 At Saramel in the great congregation of the priests, and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us.

29 Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, Simon the son of Mattathias, of the posterity of Jarib, together with his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and, resisting the enemies of their nation, did their nation great honour:

30 (For after that Jonathan, having gathered his nation together, and been their high priest, was added to his people,

31 Their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the sanctuary:

32 At which time Simon rose up, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages,

33 And fortified the cities of Judea, together with Bethsura, that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the armour of the enemies had been before; but he set a garrison of Jews there:

34 Moreover, he fortified Joppe, which lieth upon the sea, and Gazara, that bordereth upon Azotus, where the enemies had dwelt before: but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.)

35 The people therefore, seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governor and chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people.

36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a tower, out of which they issued, and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did much hurt in the holy place:

37 But he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high priesthood according to those things, 39 And made him one of his friends, and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that the Romans had called the Jews their friends and confederates and brethren; and that they had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably;

41 Also that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governor and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet;

42 Moreover, that he should be their captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that, I say, he should take charge of the sanctuary;

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold:

44 Also that it should be lawful for none of the people or priests to break any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold:

45 And whosoever should do otherwise, or break any of these things, he should be punished.

46 Thus it liked all the people to deal with Simon, and do as hath been said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof, and was well pleased to be high priest, and captain and governor of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place;

49 Also that the copies thereof should be laid up in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

CHAP. XV.

4 Antiochus desireth leave to pass through Judea, and granteth great honours to Simon and the Jews. 16 The Romans write to divers kings and nations to favour the Jews. 27 Antiochus quarrelleth with Simon, and sendeth some to annoy Judea.

MOREOVER Antiochus, son of Demetrius the king, sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and prince of the Jews, and to all the people;

2 The contents whereof were these: King Antiochus to Simon the high priest and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews, greeting:

3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign soldiers together, and prepared ships of war;

4 My meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdom desolate:

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

6 I give thee leave also to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp.

7 And as concerning Jerusalem and the sanctuary, let them be free; and all the armour that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepest in thy hands, let them remain unto thee.

8 And if any thing be, or shall be, owing to the king, let it be forgiven thee from this time forth for evermore.

9 Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple, with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth year went Antiochus into the land of his fathers: at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Wherefore, being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled unto Dora, which lieth by the sea-side:

12 For he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Dora, having with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 And when he had compassed the city round about, and joined ships close to the town on the sea-side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to go out or in.

15 In the mean season came Numenius and his company from Rome, having letters to the kings and countries; wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto king Ptolemy, greeting:

17 The Jews' ambassadors, our friends and confederates, came unto us to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews:

18 And they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound.

19 We thought it good therefore to write unto the kings and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries, nor yet aid their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their own law.

22 The same things wrote he likewise unto Demetrius the king, and Attalus, to Ariarathes, and Arsaces,

23 And to all the countries, and to Sampsames, and the Lacedemonians, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Halicarnassus, and Rhodus, and Phaselis, and Cos, and Side, and Arados, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dora the second day, assaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither go out nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him; silver also, and gold, and much armour.

27 Nevertheless he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

28 Furthermore he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, Ye withhold Joppe and Gazara, with the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm.

29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdom.

30 Now therefore deliver the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judea:

31 Or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the 32 So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem; and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the king's message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other men's land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certain time.

34 Wherefore we, having opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou demandest Joppe and Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our country, yet will we give a hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word;

36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen: whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the mean time fled Tryphon by ship unto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captain of the sea-coast, and gave him a host of footmen and horsemen,

39 And commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build up Cedron, and to fortify the gates, and to war against the people; but as for the king himself, he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when he had built up Cedron, he set horsemen there, and a host of footmen, to the end that issuing out they might make outroads upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

CHAP. XVI.

3 Judas and John prevail against the forces sent by Antiochus. 11 The captain of Jericho inviteth Simon and two of his sons into his castle, and there treacherously murdereth them. 19 John is sought for, and escapeth, and killeth those that sought for him.

THEN came up John from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel; and things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 But now I am old, and ye, by God's mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and my brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help from heaven be with you.

4 So he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Modin.

5 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plain, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen came against them: howbeit there was a water-brook betwixt them.

6 So he and his people pitched over against them: and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water-brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 That done, he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies' horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy trumpets: whereupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that many of them were slain, and the remnant gat them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Judas, John's brother, wounded; but John still followed after them, until he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had built.

10 So they fled even unto the towers in the fields of Azotus; wherefore he burned it with fire: so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judea in peace.

11 Moreover, in the plain of Jericho was Ptolemy the son of Abubus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold:

12 For he was the high priest's son-in-law.

13 Wherefore his heart being lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself, and thereupon consulted deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; at which time he came down himself to Jericho with his sons, Mattathias and Judas, in the hundred threescore and seventeenth year, in the eleventh month, called Sabat:

15 Where the son of Abubus receiving them deceitfully into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons had drunk largely, Ptolemee and his men rose up, and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banqueting-place, and slew him, and his two sons, and certain of his servants.

17 In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.

18 Then Ptolemee wrote these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him a host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.

19 He sent others also to Gazara to kill John: and unto the † tribunes he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one had run afore to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and, quoth he, Ptolemee hath sent to slay thee also.

22 Hereof when he heard, he was sore astonished: so he laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them; for he knew that they sought to make him away.

23 As concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his wars, and worthy deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings,

24 Behold, these are written in the chronicles of his priesthood, from the time he was made high priest after his father.

CHAP. I.

1 A letter of the Jews from Jerusalem to them of Egypt, to thank God for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hidden in the pit. 24 The prayer of Neemias.

THE brethren, the Jews that be at Jerusalem and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and peace:

2 God be gracious unto you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants;

3 And give you all a heart to serve him, and to do his will, with a good courage and a willing mind;

4 And open your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace,

5 And hear your prayers, and be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble that came upon us in those years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and kingdom,

8 And burned the porch, and shed innocent blood: then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard; we offered also sacrifices and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and set forth the loaves.

9 And now see that ye keep the feast of ^atabernacles in the month Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourscore and eighth year, the people that were at Jerusalem and in Judea, and the council, and Judas, sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemus' master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt:

11 Inasmuch as God hath delivered us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battle against a king.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Persia, and the army with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Nanea by the deceit of Nanea's priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry.

15 Which when the priests of Nanea had set forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as Antiochus was come in:

16 And opening a privy door of the roof, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and struck down the captain, hewed them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.

18 Therefore whereas we are now purposed to keep the purification of the temple upon the five and twentieth day of the month ^bCasleu, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that ye also might keep it, as the feast of the tabernacles, and of the fire, which was given us when Neemias offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the temple and the altar.

Before CHRIST about 144.

Before CHRIST about 144.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that were then devout took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Neemias, being sent from the king of Persia, did send of the posterity of those priests, that had hid it, to the fire: but when they told us they found no fire, but thick water;

21 Then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it; and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood and the things laid thereupon with the water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the sun shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, I say, both the priests, and all the rest, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto, as Neemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this manner; O Lord, Lord God, Creator of all things, who art fearful and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the only and gracious King,

25 The only giver of all things, the only just, almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers, and sanctify them:

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve thine own portion, and sanctify it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered from us, deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppress us, and with pride do us wrong.

29 Plant thy people again in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.

30 And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left to be poured on the great stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame: but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was known, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place, where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that || Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

34 Then the king, enclosing the place, made it holy, after he had tried the matter.

35 And the king took many gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratify.

36 And Neemias called this thing Naphthar, which is as much as to say, A cleansing: but many men call it Nephi.

CHAP. II.

charged them not to forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, when they see images of silver and gold, with their ornaments.

3 And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their hearts.

4 It was also contained in the same writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded the tabernacle and the ark to go with him, as he went forth into the mountain, where Moses climbed up, and saw the heritage of God.

5 And when Jeremy came thither, he found a hollow cave, wherein he laid the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

6 And some of those that followed him came to mark the way, but they could not find it.

7 Which when Jeremy perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknown until the time that God gather his people again together, and receive them unto mercy.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud also, as it was shewed unto Moses, and as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 It was also declared, that he being wise offered the sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple.

10 And as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the sacrifices; even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt-offerings.

11 And Moses said, Because the sin-offering was not to be eaten, it was consumed.

12 So Solomon kept those eight days.

13 The same things also were reported in the writings and commentaries of Neemias; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the acts of the kings, and the prophets, and of David, and the epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 In like manner also Judas gathered together all those things that were lost by reason of the war we had, and they remain with us.

15 Wherefore if ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we have written unto you, and ye shall do well, if ye keep the same days.

17 † We hope also, that the God, that delivered all his people, and gave them all a heritage, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

18 As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of every land under heaven into the holy place: for he hath delivered us out of great troubles, and hath purified the place.

19 Now as concerning Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the wars against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his son,

21 And the manifest signs that came from heaven unto those that behaved themselves manfully to their honour for Judaism: so that, being but a few, they overcame the whole country, and chased barbarous multitudes,

22 And recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and upheld the laws which were going down, the Lord being gracious unto them with all favour:

23 All these things, I say, being declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will essay to abridge in one volume.

24 For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they find that desire to look into the narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter,

25 We have been careful, that they that will read might have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory might have ease, and that all into whose hands it cometh might have profit.

26 Therefore to us, that have taken upon us this painful labour of abridging, it was not easy, but a matter of sweat and watching;

27 Even as it is no ease unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others: yet || for the pleasure of many we will undertake gladly this great pains;

28 Leaving to the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgment.

29 For as the master-builder of a new house must care for the whole building; but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof: even so I think it is with us.

30 To stand upon every point, and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first author of the story:

31 But to use brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that will make an abridgment.

32 Here then will we begin the story; only adding thus much to that which hath been said, that it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the honour done to the temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 4 Simon uttereth what treasures are in the temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 24 He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

NOW when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness,

2 It came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and magnify the temple with their best gifts;

3 Insomuch that Seleucus, king of Asia, of his own revenues, bare all the costs belonging to the service of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon, of the tribe of Benjamin, who was made governor of the temple, fell out with the high priest about disorder in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of Thraseus, who then was governor of Celosyria and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their riches, which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the king's hand.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money whereof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandment to bring him the aforesaid money.

8 So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Celosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfil the king's purpose.

9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received of the high priest of the city, he told him what intelligence was given of the money, and declared wherefore he came, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that there was such money laid up for relief of the widows and fatherless children:

11 And that some of it belonging to Hircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as that wicked Simon had misinformed: the sum whereof in all was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold:

12 And that it was altogether impossible that such wrongs should be done unto them, that had committed it to the holiness of the place, and to the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But Heliodorus, because of the king's commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the king's treasury.

14 So at the day which he appointed, he entered in to order this matter: wherefore there was no small agony throughout the whole city.

15 But the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar in the priests' vestments, called unto heaven upon him that made a law concerning things given to be kept, that they should safely be preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then whoso had looked the high priest in the face, it would have wounded his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour declared the inward agony of his mind.

17 For the man was so compassed with fear and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked upon him, what sorrow he had now in his heart.

18 Others ran flocking out of their houses || to the general supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.

19 And the women girt with sackcloth under their breasts, abounded in the streets; and the virgins that were kept in ran, some to the gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.

20 And all holding their hands toward heaven, made supplication.

about 187.

† Gr. Now God it is that saved all his people and rendered the heritage, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary, as he promised in the law: for we hope in God that he will shortly, &c.

|| Or, to make general supplication.

|| Or, to deserve well of many.

21 Then it would have pitied a man to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the † fear of the high priest, being in such an agony.

22 They then called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things committed of trust safe and sure for those that had committed them.

23 Nevertheless, Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.

24 Now as he was there present himself with his guard about the treasury, the || Lord of spirits, and the prince of all power, caused a great apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid.

25 For there appeared unto them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fair covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his fore-feet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had complete harness of gold.

26 Moreover, two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparel, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gave him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him took him up, and put him into a litter.

28 Thus him, that lately came with a great train and with all his guard into the said treasury, they carried out, being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power of God:

29 For he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechless without all hope of life.

30 But they praised the Lord, that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple, which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the Almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

31 Then straightway certain of Heliodorus' friends prayed Onias, that he would call upon the Most High, to grant him his life, who lay ready to give up the ghost.

32 So the high priest suspecting lest the king should misconceive that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

33 Now as the high priest was making an atonement, the same young men in the same clothing appeared and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, insomuch as for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life:

34 And seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God. And when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus, after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king.

36 Then testified he to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemy or traitor, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is an especial power of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heaven hath his eye on that place, and defendeth it; and he beateth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out on this sort.

CHAP. IV.

1 Simon slandereth Onias. 7 Jason, by corrupting the king, obtaineth the office of the high priest. 24 Menelaus getteth the same from Jason by the like corruption. 34 Andronicus traitorously murdereth Onias. 36 The king being informed thereof, causeth Andronicus to be put to death. 39 The wickedness of Lysimachus, by the instigation of Menelaus.

THIS Simon now, of whom we spake afore, having been a betrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitor, that had deserved well of the city, and tendered his own nation, and was so zealous of the laws.

3 But when their hatred went so far, that by one of Simon's faction murders were committed,

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as being the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simon's malice,

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but seeking the good of all, both public and private:

6 For he saw that it was impossible that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly, unless the king did look thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, called Epiphanes, took the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias laboured underhand to be high priest,

8 Promising unto the king by intercession three hundred and three-score talents of silver, and of another revenue eighty talents:

9 Besides this, he promised to assign a hundred and fifty more, if he might have license to set him up a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to write them of Jerusalem by the name of Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith brought his own nation to the Greekish fashion.

11 And the royal privileges granted of special favour to the Jews by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome for amity and aid, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law:

12 For he built gladly a place of exercise under the tower itself, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greek fashions, and increase of heathenish manners, through the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly wretch, and not high priest;

14 That the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but despising the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, hastened to be partakers of the unlawful allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of || Discus called them forth;

15 Not setting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 By reason whereof sore calamity came upon them: for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose custom they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year was kept at Tyrus, the king being present,

19 This ungracious Jason sent † special messengers from Jerusalem, who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred drachms of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not convenient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then, in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules' sacrifice; but because of the bearers thereof, it was employed in the making of galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Menestheus was sent into Egypt for the || coronation of king Ptolemeus Philometor, Antiochus, understanding him not to be well-affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to Joppe, and from thence to Jerusalem:

22 Where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the city, and was brought in with torch-light, and with great shoutings: and so afterward went with his host unto Phenice.

23 Three years afterward Jason sent Menelaus, the aforesaid Simon's brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to put him in mind of certain necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So he came with the king's mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it:

28 For unto him appertained the gathering of the customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Menelaus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood; and Sostratus left Crates, who was governor of the Cyprians.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tarsus and Mallos made insurrection, because they were given to the king's concubine, called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appease matters, leaving Andronicus, a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyrus and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reprov'd him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being persuaded thereunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths; and though he were suspected by him, yet persuaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice.

35 For the which cause not only the Jews, but many also of other nations, took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man.

36 And when the king was come again from the places about Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slain without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there slew he the cursed murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed in the city by Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and the bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

40 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence; one Auranus being the leader, a man far gone in years, and no less in folly.

41 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust, that was next at hand, cast them altogether upon Lysimachus, and those that set upon them.

42 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee; but as for the church-robber himself, him they killed beside the treasury.

43 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Menelaus.

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate pleaded the cause before him:

45 But Menelaus, being now convicted, promised Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, to give him much money, if he would pacify the king toward him.

46 Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind:

47 Insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and those poor men, who, if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, should have been judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even they of Tyrus, moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably buried.

50 And so, through the covetousness of them that were of power, Menelaus remained still in authority, increasing in malice, and being a great traitor to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

Of the signs and tokens seen in Jerusalem. 6 Of the end and wickedness of Jason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Jews. 15 The spoiling of the temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wilderness.

ABOUT the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the city, for the space almost of forty days, there were seen horsemen running in the air, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers,

3 And troops of horsemen in array, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts.

4 Wherefore every man prayed that that apparition might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the walls being put back, and the city at length taken, Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 But Jason slew his own citizens without mercy, not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation would be a most unhappy day for him; but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrymen, whom he conquered.

7 Howbeit, for all this he obtained not the principality, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore he had an unhappy return, being accused before Aretas the king of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination as an open enemy of his country and countrymen, he was cast out into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Lacedemonians, and thinking there to find succour by reason of his kindred:

10 And he that had cast out many unburied had none to mourn for him, nor any solemn funerals at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

11 Now when this that was done came to the king's ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon removing out of Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms,

12 And commanded his men of war not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon the houses.

13 Thus there was killing of young and old, making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within three whole days fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no fewer sold than slain.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world; Menelaus, that traitor to the laws, and to his own country, being his guide:

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place, he gave them away.

17 And so haughty was Antiochus in mind, that he considered not that the Lord was angry for a while for the sins of them that dwelt in the city, and therefore his eye was not upon the place.

18 For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sins, this man, as soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasury.

19 Nevertheless, God did not choose the people for the place's sake, but the place for the people's sake.

20 And therefore the place itself, that was partaker with them of the adversity that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so again, the great Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antiochia, weening in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

22 And he left governors to vex the nation: at Jerusalem, Philip, for his country a Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous than he that set him there;

23 And at Garizim, Andronicus; and besides, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest bare a heavy hand over the citizens, having a malicious mind against his countrymen the Jews.

24 He sent also that detestable ringleader Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women and the younger sort:

25 Who coming to Jerusalem, and pretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy day, he commanded his men to arm themselves.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone to the celebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons slew great multitudes.

27 But Judas Maccabeus †with nine others, or thereabout, withdrew himself into the wilderness, and lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

CHAP. VI.

¹ The Jews are compelled to leave the law of God. ⁴ The temple is defiled. ⁸ Cruelty upon the people and the women. ¹² An exhortation to bear affliction by the example of the valiant courage of Eleazar, who is cruelly tortured.

NOT long after this the king sent an old man of || Athens to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God:

2 And to pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius; and that in Garizim, of Jupiter the Defender of strangers, ||as they did desire that dwelt in the place.

3 The coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people:

4 For the temple was filled with riot and revelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that brought in things that were not lawful.

5 The altar also was filled with profane things, which the law forbiddeth.

6 Neither was it lawful for a man to keep sabbath-days or ancient feasts, or to profess himself at all to be a Jew.

7 And in the day of the king's birth, every month they were brought by bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to Bacchus, carrying ivy.

8 Moreover, there went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the †heathen, by the suggestion of Ptolemee, against the Jews, that they should observe the same fashions, and be partakers of their sacrifices:

9 And whoso would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles should be put to death. Then might a man have seen the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought, who had circumcised their children; whom when they had openly led round about the city, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them down headlong from the wall.

11 And others, that had run together into caves near by, to keep the sabbath-day secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made a conscience to help themselves for the honour of the most sacred day.

12 Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations, whom the Lord patiently forbearth to punish, till they be come to the fulness of their sins, so dealeth he with us.

15 Lest that, being come to the height of sin, afterward he should take vengeance of us,

16 And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: and though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

17 But let this that we have spoken be for a warning unto us. And now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

18 Eleazar, one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a well-favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swine's flesh.

19 But he, choosing rather to die gloriously, than to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment,

20 As it behooved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king;

22 That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them find favour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest education from a child, or rather the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightways to send him to the grave.

24 For it becometh not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, being fourscore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion;

25 And so they through my hypocrisy, and desire to live a little time and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore now, manfully changing this life, I will shew myself such a one as mine age requireth,

28 And leave a notable example to such as be young, to die willingly and courageously for the honourable and holy laws. And when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment,

29 They that led him changing the good-will they bare him a little before into hatred, because the aforesaid speeches proceeded, as they thought, from a || desperate mind.

30 But when he was ready to die with stripes, he groaned, and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I now endure sore pains in body by being beaten: but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

CHAP. VII.

The constancy and cruel death of seven brethren and their mother in one day, because they would not eat swine's flesh at the king's commandment.

IT came to pass also, that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king against the law to taste swine's flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whips.

2 But one of them that spake first said thus, What wouldest thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather than to transgress the laws of our fathers.

3 Then the king, being in a rage, commanded pans and caldrons to be made hot:

4 Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on.

5 Now when he was thus maimed in all his members, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the pan; and as the vapour of the pan was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother to die manfully, saying thus,

6 The Lord God looketh upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as ^aMoses in his song, which witnessed to their faces, declared, saying, And he shall be comforted in his servants.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking-stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body?

8 But he answered in his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received the next torment in order, as the former did.

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou like a fury takest us out of this present life, but the King of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his laws, unto everlasting life.

10 After him was the third made a mocking-stock: and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soon, holding forth his hands manfully.

11 And said courageously, These I had from heaven; and for his laws I despise them; and from him I hope to receive them again.

12 Insomuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young man's courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

13 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.

14 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God to be raised up again by him: as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him.

^a Deut. 32. 36.

16 Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou doest what thou wilt; yet think not that our nation is forsaken of God;

17 But abide awhile, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee and thy seed.

18 After him also they brought the sixth, who, being ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause: for we suffer these things for ourselves, having sinned against our God: therefore marvellous things are done unto us.

19 But think not thou, that takest in hand to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous above all, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sons slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted every one of them in her own language, filled with courageous spirits; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomach, she said unto them,

22 I cannot tell how ye came into my womb; for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you;

23 But doubtless the Creator of the world, who formed the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercy give you breath and life again, as ye now regard not your own selves for his laws' sake.

24 Now Antiochus, thinking himself despised, and suspecting it to be a reproachful speech, whilst the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with oaths, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers; and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affairs.

25 But when the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the young man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would counsel her son.

27 But she bowing herself toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, spake in her country language on this manner; O my son, have pity upon me that bare thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

28 I beseech thee, my son, look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not; and so was mankind made likewise.

29 Fear not this tormentor, but, being worthy of thy brethren, take thy death, that I may receive thee again in mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I will not obey the king's commandment: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

31 And thou, that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hands of God.

32 For we suffer because of our sins.

33 And though the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chastening and correction, yet shall he be at one again with his servants.

34 But thou, O godless man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of Almighty God, who seeth all things.

36 For our brethren, who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under God's covenant of everlasting life: but thou, through the judgment of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

37 But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the laws of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be merciful unto our nation; and that thou by torments and plagues mayest confess, that he alone is God;

38 And that in me and my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king, being in a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, and took it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all, after the sons, the mother died.

42 Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning the idolatrous feasts, and the extreme tortures.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Judas gathereth an host. 9 Nicanor is sent against him: who presumeth to make much money of his prisoners. 16 Judas encourageth his men, and putteth Nicanor to flight, and divideth the spoils. 30 Other enemies are also defeated, and Nicanor fleeth with grief to Antioch.

about 166.

THEN Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went privily into the towns, and called their kinsfolk together, and took unto them all such as continued in the Jews' religion, and assembled about six thousand men.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon the people that was trodden down of all; and also pity the temple profaned of ungodly men;

3 And that he would have compassion upon the city, sore defaced, and ready to be made even with the ground; and hear the blood that cried unto him.

4 And remember the wicked slaughter of harmless infants, and the blasphemies committed against his name; and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had his company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at unawares, and burned up towns and cities, and got into his hands the most commodious places, and overcame and put to flight no small number of his enemies.

7 But specially took he advantage of the night for such privy attempts, insomuch that the bruit of his manliness was spread every where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still more and more, he wrote unto Ptolemeus, the governor of Celosyria and Phenice, to yield more aid to the king's affairs.

9 Then forthwith choosing Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, he sent him with no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations under him to root out the whole generation of the Jews; and with him he joined also Gorgias a captain, who in matters of war had great experience.

10 So Nicanor undertook to make so much money of the captive Jews, as should defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to the Romans.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea-coast, proclaiming a sale of the captive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten bodies for one talent; not expecting the vengeance that was to follow upon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought unto Judas of Nicanor's coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him that the army was at hand, 13 They that were fearful, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them, being sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together:

15 And if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious name's sake, by which they were called.

16 So Maccabeus called his men together, unto the number of six thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, not to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them; but to fight manfully,

17 And to set before their eyes the injury that they had unjustly done to the holy place, and the cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their forefathers:

18 For they, said he, trust in their weapons and boldness; but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the world.

19 Moreover, he recounted unto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were delivered, when under Sennacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.

20 And he told them of the battle that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the business, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help that they had from heaven, and so received a great booty.

21 Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws and the country, he divided his army into four parts;

22 And joined with himself his own brethren, leaders of each band, to wit, Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving each one fifteen hundred men.

23 Also he appointed Eleazar to read the holy book: and when he had given them this watchword, The help of God; himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor.

24 And by the help of the Almighty they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Nicanor's host, and so put all to flight;

25 And took their money that came to buy them, and pursued them far: but lacking time they returned:

26 For it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So when they had gathered || their armour together, and spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, yielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy distilling upon them.

28 And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the || maimed, and the widows, and orphans, the residue they divided among themselves and their servants.

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

30 Moreover, of those that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided among themselves many spoils more, and made the || maimed, orphans, widows, yea, and the aged also, equal in spoils with themselves.

31 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in convenient places, and the remnant of the spoils they brought to Jerusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, who was with Timotheus, and had annoyed the Jews many ways.

33 Furthermore, at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their country, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire upon the holy gates, who had fled into a little house; and so he received a reward meet for his wickedness.

34 As for that most ungracious Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Jews,

35 He was, through the help of the Lord, brought down by them of whom he made least account; and putting off his glorious apparel, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant through the midland unto Antioch, having very great dishonour, for that his host was destroyed.

36 Thus he, that took upon him to make good to the Romans their tribute by means of the captives in Jerusalem, told abroad that the Jews had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws that he gave them.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus is chased from Persepolis. 5 He is stricken with a sore disease, and promiseth to become a Jew. 28 He dieth miserably.

ABOUT that time came Antiochus || with dishonour out of the country of Persia.

2 For he had entered the city called Persepolis, and went about to rob the temple, and to hold the city; whereupon the multitude, running to defend themselves with their weapons, put them to flight; and so it happened, that Antiochus, being put to flight of the inhabitants, returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Ecbatane, news was brought him what had happened unto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Then swelling with anger, he thought to avenge upon the Jews the disgrace done unto him by those that made him flee. Therefore commanded he his chariot-man to drive without ceasing, and to despatch the journey, the judgment of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, That he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying-place of the Jews.

5 But the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel, smote him with an incurable and invisible plague: for as soon as he had spoken these words, a pain of the bowels that was remediless came upon him, and sore torments of the inner parts;

6 And that most justly: for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange torments.

7 Howbeit, he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey: but it came to pass that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently; so that having a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained.

8 And thus he that little afore thought he might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man,) and weigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in a horse-litter, shewing forth unto all the manifest power of God.

9 So that the worms rose up out of the body of this wicked man, and while he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell away, and the filthiness of his smell was noisome to all his army.

10 And the man, that thought a little afore he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intolerable stink.

11 Here therefore being plagued, he began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge of himself by the scourge of God, his pain increasing every moment.

12 And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words, It is meet to be subject unto God, and that a man that is mortal should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person vowed also unto the Lord, (who now no more would have mercy upon him,) saying thus,

14 That the holy city (to the which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place,) he would set at liberty:

15 And as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy to be so much as buried, but to be cast out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals with the citizens of || Athens:

16 And the holy temple, which before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and restore all the holy vessels with many more, and out of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices:

17 Yea, and that also he would become a Jew himself, and go through all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this his pains would not cease: for the just judgment of God was come upon him: therefore despairing of his health he wrote unto the Jews the letters underwritten, containing the form of a supplication, after this manner:

19 Antiochus, king and governor, to the good Jews his citizens, wisheth much joy, health, and prosperity:

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affairs be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven.

21 As for me, I was weak, or else I would have remembered kindly your honour and good-will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all:

22 Not distrusting my health, but having great hope to escape this sickness.

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into the high countries, appointed a successor,

24 To the end, that if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land, knowing to whom || the state was left, might not be troubled:

25 Again, considering how that the princes, that are borders and neighbours unto my kingdom wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often committed and commended unto many of you, when I went up into the high provinces; to whom I have written as followeth:

26 Therefore I pray and request you to remember the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in special, and that every man will be still faithful to me and my son.

27 For I am persuaded that he, || understanding my mind, will favourably and graciously yield to your desires.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, so died he a miserable death in a strange country in the mountains.

29 And Philip, that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also, fearing the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemeus Philometor.

CHAP. X.

1 Judas recovereth the city, and purifieth the temple. 14 Gorgias vexeth the Jews. 16 Judas winneth their holds. 29 Timotheus and his men are discomfited. 35 Gazarra is taken, and Timotheus slain.

NOW Maccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, recovered the temple and the city:

2 But the altars which the heathen had built in the open street, and also the chapels, they pulled down.

3 And having cleansed the temple, they made another altar, and striking stones they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two years, and set forth incense, and lights and shew-bread.

4 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles; but if they sinned any more against him, that he himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blasphemous and barbarous nations.

5 Now upon the same day that the strangers profaned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight days with gladness, as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountains and dens like beasts.

7 Therefore they bare branches, and fair boughs, and palms also, and sang psalms unto him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8 They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every year those days should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus, called Epiphanes.

10 Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Eupator, who was the son of this wicked man, gathering briefly the calamities of the wars.

11 So when he was come to the crown, he set one Lysias over the affairs of his realm, and appointed him chief governor of Celosyria and Phenice.

12 For Ptolemeus, that was called Macron, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews for the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of the king's friends before Eupator, and called traitor at every word, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had committed unto him, and departed unto Antiochus Epiphanes, and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that he poisoned himself and died.

14 But when Gorgias was governor of the holds, he hired soldiers, and nourished war continually with the Jews:

15 And therewithal the Idumeans, having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to nourish war.

16 Then they that were with Maccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of the Idumeans,

17 And assaulting them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand.

18 And because certain, who were no less than nine thousand, were fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege,

19 Maccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zaccheus also, and them that were with him, who were enough to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for money through certain of those that were in the castle, and took seventy thousand drachms, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Maccabeus what was done, he called the governors of the people together, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, and set their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he slew those that were found traitors, and immediately took the two castles.

23 And having good success with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he slew in the two holds more than twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Jews had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of foreign forces, and horses out of Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms.

25 But when he drew near, they that were with Maccabeus turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their loins with sackcloth,

26 And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

27 So after the prayer, they took their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they drew near to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

28 Now the sun being newly risen, they joined both together; the one part having together with their virtue, their refuge also unto the Lord for a pledge of their success and victory: the other side making their rage leader of their battle.

29 But when the battle waxed strong, there appeared unto the enemies, from heaven, five comely men upon horses, with bridles of gold, and two of them led the Jews,

30 And took Maccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies: so that being confounded with blindness and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slain of footmen twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gazara, where Chereas was governor.

33 But they that were with Maccabeus laid siege against the fortress courageously four days.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered wicked words.

35 Nevertheless upon the fifth day, early, twenty young men of Maccabeus' company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withal.

36 Others likewise ascending after them, while they were busied with them that were within, burned the towers, and kindling fires, burned the blasphemers alive: and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, took the city,

37 And killed Timotheus, that was hid in a certain pit, and Chereas his brother, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgiving, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

2 Lysias, thinking to get Jerusalem, is put to flight. 16 The letters of Lysias to the Jews. 22 Of the king unto Lysias, and to the Jews. 34 Of the Romans to the Jews.

NOT long after this, Lysias the king's protector and cousin, who also managed the affairs, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

2 And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking to make the city a habitation of the Gentiles,

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other chapels of the heathen, and to set the high priesthood to sale every year;

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5 So he came to Judea, and drew near to Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs; and he laid sore siege unto it.

6 Now when they that were with Maccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send a good angel to deliver Israel.

7 Then Maccabeus himself first of all took weapons, exhorting the other that they would jeopard themselves together with him to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing mind.

8 And as they were at Jerusalem, there appeared before them on horseback one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the merciful God all together, and took heart, insomuch that they were ready not only to fight with men, but with most cruel beasts, and to pierce through walls of iron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, having a helper from heaven; for the Lord was merciful unto them.

11 And giving a charge upon their enemies like lions, they slew eleven thousand footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked; and Lysias himself fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Who, as he was a man of understanding, casting with himself what loss he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto them,

14 And persuaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and promised that he would persuade the king that he must needs be a friend unto them.

15 Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being careful of the common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lysias concerning the Jews, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lysias to this effect: Lysias unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting:

17 John and Absalom, who were sent from you, delivered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soever were meet to be reported to the king, I have declared them, and he hath granted as much as might be.

19 If then ye will keep yourselves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.

20 But of the particulars I have given order both to these, and the others that came from me, to commune with you.

21 Fare ye well. The hundred and eight and fortieth year, the four and twentieth day of the month || Dioscorinthius.

22 Now the king's letter contained these words: King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias, sendeth greeting:

23 Since our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm live quietly, that every one may attend upon his own affairs.

24 We understand also that the Jews would not consent to our father, for to be brought unto the custom of the Gentiles, but had rather kept their own manner of living: for the which cause they require of us, that we should suffer them to live after their own laws.

25 Wherefore our mind is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined to restore them their temple, that they may live according to the customs of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt do well therefore to send unto them, and ||grant them peace, that when they are certified of our mind, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully about their own affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting unto the council, and the rest of the Jews:

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire; we are also in good health.

29 Menelaus declared unto us, that your desire was to return home, and to follow your own business:

30 Wherefore they that will depart shall have safe conduct till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus with security.

31 And the Jews shall use their own kind of meats and laws, as before; and none of them any manner of ways shall be molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I have sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred forty and eighth year, and in the fifteenth day of the month || Xanthicus.

34 The Romans also sent unto them a letter containing these words: Quintus Memmius and Titus Manlius ||ambassadors of the Romans, send greeting unto the people of the Jews.

35 Whatsoever Lysias the king's cousin hath granted, therewith we also are well pleased.

36 But touching such things as he judged to be referred to the king, after ye have advised thereof, send one forthwith, that we may declare as it is convenient for you: for we are now going to Antioch.

37 Therefore send some with speed, that we may know what is your mind.

38 Farewell. This hundred and eight and fortieth year, the fifteenth day of the month Xanthicus.

WHEN these covenants were made; Lysias went unto the king, and the Jews were about their husbandry.

2 But the governors of several places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the son of Genneus, also Hieronymus, and Demophon, and besides them Nicanor the governor of Cyprus, would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

3 The men of Joppe also did such an ungodly deed: they prayed the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Who accepted of it according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no less than two hundred of them.

|| Dositheus and Sosipater.

|| Or, Venus.

5 When Judas heard of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him to make them ready.

6 And calling upon God the righteous Judge, he came against those murderers of his brethren, and burned the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew.

7 And when the town was shut up, he went backward, ||as if he would return to root out all of them of the city of Joppe.

8 But when he heard that the Jamnites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwelt among them,

9 He came upon the Jamnites also by night, and set fire on the haven and the navy, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their journey toward Timotheus, no fewer than five thousand men on foot and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battle: but Judas's side, by the help of God, gat the victory; so that the Nomades of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising both to give him cattle, and to pleasure him otherwise.

12 Then Judas, thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands, and so they ||departed to their tents.

13 He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countries; and the name of it was Caspis.

14 But they that were within it put such trust in the strength of the walls and provision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely toward them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 Wherefore Judas with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua, gave a fierce assault against the walls,

16 And took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, insomuch that a lake two furlongs broad near adjoining thereunto, being filled full, was seen running with blood.

17 Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa unto the Jews that are called Tubieni.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in the places: for before he had despatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold.

19 Howbeit, Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus's captains, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortress, above ten thousand men.

20 And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set ||them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him a hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas's coming, he sent the women and children and the other baggage unto a fortress called Carnion: for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasy to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places.

22 But when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies, being smitten with fear and terror through the appearing of him that seeth all things, fled amain, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men.

24 Moreover Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews' parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they had put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when he had assured them with many words that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of ||Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host toward Ephron, a strong city, wherein Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provision of engines and darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God, who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies, they won the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which lieth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity:

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them: and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching.

32 And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the governor of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and four hundred horsemen.

34 And it happened, in their fighting together, a few of the Jews were slain.

35 At which time, Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat drew him by force; and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him ||smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Marisa.

36 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battle.

37 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias's men, he put them to flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city Odollam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39 And upon the day following, ||as the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' graves.

40 Now under the coats of every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jamnites, which is forbidden the Jews by the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord, the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the sins of those that were slain.

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand drachms of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin-offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection:

44 For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead.

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that died godly. (It was a holy and good thought.) Whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Eupator invadeth Judea. 15 Judas by night slayeth many. 18 Eupator's purpose is defeated. 23 He maketh peace with Judas.

IN the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea,

2 And with him Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having either of them a Grecian power of footmen, a hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor.

4 But the King of kings moved Antiochus' mind against this wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes; and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacrilege, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth; and that most justly:

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple:

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that ||had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three days long, Judas, having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness.

13 And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed all to the ||Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he camped by Modin:

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God; with the most valiant and choice young men he went into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the holds by policy.

19 And marched toward Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews: but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men:

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took theirs, departed, fought with Judas, was overcome;

23 Heard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in Antioch, ||was desperately bent, confounded, entreated the Jews, submitted himself, and sware to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place,

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from Ptolemais unto the Gerrhenians;

25 Came to Ptolemais: the people there were grieved for the covenants; for they stormed, because they would make their covenants void:

26 Lysias went up to the judgment-seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well-affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the king's coming and departing.

CHAP. XIV.

6 Alcimus accuseth Judas. 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Judas. 39 He seeketh to take Razis; who, to escape his hands, killeth himself.

AFTER three years was Judas informed, that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having entered by the haven of Tripolis with a great power and navy,

2 Had taken the country, and killed Antiochus, and Lysias his protector.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been high priest, and had de fled himself wilfully in the times of their mingling with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar,

4 Came to king Demetrius in the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and also of the boughs which were || used solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace.

5 Howbeit, having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into council by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto:

6 Those of the Jews that be called Assideans, whose captain is Judas Maccabeus, nourish war, and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace.

7 Therefore I, being deprived of mine ancestors' honour, I mean the high priesthood, am now come hither:

8 First, verily for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king; and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen: for all our nation is in no small misery through the unadvised dealing of them aforesaid.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest unto all.

10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11 This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius.

12 And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor over Judea, he sent him forth, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the heathen || were up against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who always helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

16 So at the commandment of the captain they removed straightway from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Dessau.

17 Now Simon, Judas' brother, had joined battle with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence of his enemies.

18 Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and the courageousness that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.

19 Wherefore he sent Posidonias, and Theodotus, and Mattathias, to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the covenants;

21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves: and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them,

22 Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.

23 Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

24 And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man from his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, was quiet, and || took part of this life.

26 But Alcimus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well affected toward the state; for that he had ordained Judas, a traitor to his realm, to be the king's successor.

27 Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeased with the covenants, and commanding him that he should send Maccabeus prisoner in all haste unto Antioch.

28 When this came to Nicanor's hearing, he was much confounded in himself, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault.

29 But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

30 Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus saw that Nicanor began to be churlish unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such sour behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other, knowing that he was notably prevented by Judas' policy, came into the great and holy temple, and commanded the priests, that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they swore that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought,

33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner: If ye will not deliver me Judas as † a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable temple unto Bacchus.

34 After these words he departed. Then the priests lifted up their hands toward heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner;

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thy habitation should be among us:

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop every unrighteous mouth.

37 Now was there accused unto Nicanor one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father of the Jews.

38 For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and did boldly jeopard his body and life with all vehemency for the religion of the Jews.

39 So Nicanor, willing to declare the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him:

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Jews much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the outer door, and bade that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side, fell upon his sword;

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise than beseemed his noble birth:

43 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doors, he ran boldly up to the wall, and cast himself down manfully among the thickest of them.

44 But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down into the midst of the void place.

45 Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up; and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ran through the midst of the throng; and standing upon a steep rock,

46 When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those again, he thus died.

CHAP. XV.

5 Nicanor's blasphemy. 8 Judas encourageth his men by his dream. 28 Nicanor is slain.

BUT Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the strong places about Samaria, resolved without any danger to set upon them on the sabbath-day.

2 Nevertheless the Jews that were compelled to go with him said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he, that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness above other days.

3 Then the most ungracious wretch demanded, if there were a Mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4 And when they said, There is in heaven a living Lord, and mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept:

5 Then said the other, And I also am mighty upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business. Yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done.

6 So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtiness determined to set up a public monument of his victory over Judas and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had ever sure confidence that the Lord would help him:

8 Wherefore he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid, which should come unto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful.

10 And when he had stirred up their minds, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithal the falsehood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with comfortable and good words: and besides that, he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoice them.

12 And this was his vision: That Onias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands prayed for the whole body of the Jews.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, to wit, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Jeremias holding forth his right hand, gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it, spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they took for their wives, and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolk, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple.

19 Also they that were in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad.

20 And now, when as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies was already come near, and the army was set in array, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings,

21 Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands toward heaven, and called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy:

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner; O Lord, thou didst send thine Angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst slay in the host of Senacherib a hundred fourscore and five thousand:

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them;

24 And through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love toward his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

32 And shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardocheus' day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste, even so speech finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

FAMILY TEMPERANCE PLEDGE

GOD BLESS OUR HOME

WHY SIGN THE PLEDGE BECAUSE

1. Moderate drinking tends to drunkenness, while total abstinence directly from it.
2. While no one means to become a drunkard, there is said to be over six hundred thousand confirmed drunkards in our country to-day.
3. Intoxicating drinks can do no good as a beverage, and there are always safer and surer remedies to use in case of sickness.
4. The idea of moderation is full of deceit, and our estimate of the power of our own will is usually a mistaken one.
5. The drinking habit is the cause of the larger portion of the misery, poverty and crime in our land.
6. Both science and experience prove that even moderate drinking is injurious to health.

WHY SIGN THE PLEDGE BECAUSE

7. Eternal interests are often forfeited through drink, for the Bible declares that no drunkard shall enter heaven.
8. The Bible pronounces no blessing upon drinking, but many upon total abstinence.
9. It is easier to keep a pledge publicly, solemnly given than a simple resolution.
10. The pledge protects us from the solicitations of friends and removes us from the temptations of the saloon.
11. Persons miscalculate their ability to drink in moderation, and become slaves to the drinking habit before they are aware of it.
12. Intemperance obstructs civilization, education, religion and every useful reform.

THE book of the ^a generation of Jē'sus Chrīst, ^b the son of Dā'vid, ^c the son of Ā'brā-hām.

2 Ā'brā-hām begat Ī'saac; and Ī'saac begat Jā'cob; and Jā'cob begat Jū'das and his brethren;

3 And Jū'das begat Phā'rēs and Zā'rā of Thā'mar; and ^dPhā'rēs begat Ēs'rom; and Ēs'rom begat Ā'ram;

4 And Ā'ram begat Ā-mīn'a-dab; and Ā-mīn'a-dab begat ^eNā-ās'son; and Nā-ās'son begat Sāl'mōn;

5 And Sāl'mōn begat Bō'oz ^fof Rā'chāb; and Bō'oz begat Ō'bed of Rūth; and Ō'bed begat Jēs'se;

6 And ^gJēs'se begat Dā'vid the king; and ^hDā'vid the king begat Sōl'o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-rī'as;

7 And ⁱSōl'o-mon begat Rō-bō'am; and Rō-bō'am begat Ā-bī'ā; and Ā-bī'ā begat Ā'sā;

8 And Ā'sā begat Jōs'a-phāt; and Jōs'a-phāt begat Jō'ram; and Jō'ram begat Ō-zī'as;

9 And Ō-zī'as begat Jō'a-thām; and Jō'a-thām begat Ā'chāz; and Ā'chāz begat Ēz-ē-kī'as;

10 And ^jĒz-ē-kī'as begat Mā-nās'sēs; and Mā-nās'sēs begat Ā'mon; and Ā'mon begat Jō-sī'as;

11 And ^kJō-sī'as begat Jēch-o-nī'as and his brethren, about the time they were ^lcarried away to Bāb'ŷ-lon;

12 And after they were brought to Bāb'ŷ-lon, Jēch-o-nī'as begat Sā-lā'thī-el; and Sā-lā'thī-el begat ^mZō-rōb'a-bēl;

13 And Zō-rōb'a-bēl begat Ā-bī'ud; and Ā-bī'ud begat Ē-lī'a-kīm; and Ē-lī'a-kīm begat Ā'zōr;

14 And Ā'zōr begat Sā'dōc; and Sā'dōc begat Ā'chīm; and Ā'chīm begat Ē-lī'ūd;

16 And Jā'cob begat Jō'seph the husband of Mā'rŷ, of whom was born ⁿJē'sus, who is called Chrīst.

17 So all the generations from Ā'brā-hām to Dā'vid are fourteen generations; and from Dā'vid until the carrying away into Bāb'ŷ-lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Bāb'ŷ-lon unto Chrīst are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the ^obirth of Jē'sus Chrīst was on this wise: When as his mother Mā'rŷ was espoused to Jō'seph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Hō'lŷ Ghōst.

19 Then Jō'seph her husband, being a just man, and not willing ^pto make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'seph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rŷ thy wife: ^qfor that which is ^rconceived in her is of the Hō'lŷ Ghōst.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name ^sJĒ'SUS: for ^the shall save his people from their sins.

24 Then Jō'seph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JĒ'SUS.

CHAPTER 2.

¹ Visit of the wise men. ¹⁴ Flight of Joseph and his family. ¹⁹ Death of Herod. ²³ Christ brought to Nazareth.

NOW when ^aJē'sus was born in Bēth'lē-hēm of Jū-dæ'ā in the days of Hēr'od the king, behold, there came wise men ^bfrom the east to Jē-ru'sā-lēm,

2 Saying, ^cWhere is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his ^dstar in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Hēr'od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jē-ru'sā-lēm with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the ^echief priests and ^fscribes of the people together, ^ghe demanded of them where Chrīst should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bēth'lē-hēm of Jū-dæ'ā: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And ^hthou Bēth'lē-hēm, in the land of Jū'dā, art not the least among the princes of Jū'dā: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that ⁱshall ^lrule my people Īs'ra-el.

7 Then Hēr'od, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bēth'lē-hēm, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mā'rŷ his mother, and fell down, and ^jworshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they ^kpresented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God ^lin a dream that they should not return to Hēr'od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Jō'seph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Ē'gypt; and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Hēr'od will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into E'g'gypt :

15 And was there until the death of Hēr'od : that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, 'Out of E'g'gypt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Hēr'od, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bēth'lē-hēm, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by ^mJēr'e-m'ý the prophet, saying,

18 In Rā'mā was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rā'chel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶ But when Hēr'od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jō'sēph in E'g'gypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Īš'ra-el : for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Īš'ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Ār-chē-lā'us did reign in Jū-dæ'á in the room of his father Hēr'od, he was afraid to go thither : notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside ⁿinto the parts of Gāl'i-lee :

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called ^oNāz'a-rēth : that it might be fulfilled ^pwhich was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a ³Nāz'a-rēne.

CHAPTER 3.

¹ John's preachings and baptisms. ¹³ He baptizes Christ in Jordan.

IN those days came ^aJōhn the Bāp'tist, preaching ^bin the wilderness of Jū-dæ'á,

2 And saying, Repent ye : ^cfor the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet E-šā'ias, saying, The ^dvoice of one crying in the wilderness, ^ePrepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And ^fthe same Jōhn ^ghad his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins ; and his meat was ^hlocusts and wild ⁱhoney.

5 Then went out to him Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and all Jū-dæ'á, and all the region round about Jōr'dan,

6 And ^jwere baptized of him in Jōr'dan, confessing their sins.

7 ¶ But when he saw many of the Phār'i-seeš and Sād'du-čeeš come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from ^kthe wrath to come ?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits ^lmeet for repentance :

9 And think not to say within yourselves, 'We have Ā'brā-hām to our father : for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Ā'brā-hām.

11 ⁿI indeed baptize you with water unto repentance : but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear : ^ohe shall baptize you with the Hō'l'ý Ghōst, and with fire :

12 ^pWhose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner ; but he will ^qburn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¶ Then cometh Jē'sus ^rfrom Gāl'i-lee to Jōr'dan unto Jōhn, to be baptized of him.

14 But Jōhn forbad him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me ?

15 And Jē'sus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now : for thus it becometh us to ^sfulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 And ^tJē'sus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water : and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw ^uthe Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him :

17 And ^vlo a voice from heaven, saying, ^wThis is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER 4.

¹ The temptation of Christ. ¹¹ Angels minister to him. ¹⁸ Call of Peter and Andrew. ²³ All diseases healed.

THEN was ^aJē'sus led up of ^bthe spirit into the wilderness to be ^ctempted of the devil.

2 And when he had ^dfasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, ^eIt is written, ^fMan shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into ^gthe holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down : for it is written, ^hHe shall give his angels charge concerning thee : and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jē'sus said unto him, It is written again, ⁱThou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them ;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jē'sus unto him, Get thee hence, Sā'tan : for it is written, ^jThou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil ^kleaveth him, and, behold, ^langels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ Now ^mwhen Jē'sus had heard that Jōhn was ⁿcast into prison, he departed into Gāl'i-lee ;

13 And leaving Nāz'a-rēth, he came and dwelt in Cā-pēr'na-ūm, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zāb'u-lon and Nēph'tha-līm :

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Ē-šā'ias the prophet, saying,

15 The ⁿland of Zāb'u-lon, and the land of Nēph'-tha-līm, by the way of the sea, beyond Jōr'dan, Gāl'-ī-lee of the Ğēn'tileš ;

16 The ^opeople which sat in darkness saw great light ; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 ¶ From ^pthat time Jē'šus began to preach, and to say, ^qRepent : for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ And ^rJē'šus, walking by the sea of Gāl'ī-lee, saw two brethren, Si'mon ^scalled Pē'tēr, and Ān'-drew his brother, casting a net into the sea : for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I ^twill make you fishers of men.

20 And ^uthey straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And ^vgoing on from thence, he saw other two brethren, Jāmeš the son of Zēb'e-dee, and Jōhn his brother, in a ship with Zēb'e-dee their father, mending their nets ; and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ And Jē'šus went about all Gāl'ī-lee, teaching ^win their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his ^xfame went throughout all Sŷr'ī-ā : and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy ; and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people from Gāl'ī-lee, and from Dē-cāp'ō-lis, and from Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and from Jū-dā'ā, and from beyond Jōr'dan.

righteousness' sake : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you ¹falsely, for my sake.

12 Rejoice, and be exceeding glad : for great is your reward in heaven : for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth : but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted ? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 Ye ¹are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a ²bushel, but on a candlestick ; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that ^mthey may see your good works, and glorify ⁿyour Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ Think ^onot that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, ^pTill heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 Whosoever ^qtherefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven : but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed ^rthe righteousness of the scribes and Phār'ī-seeš, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said ³by them of old time, ^sThou shalt not kill ; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment :

22 But I say unto you, That whosoever ^tis angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment : and whosoever shall say to his brother, ⁴Raca, shall be in danger of the council : but whosoever shall say, Thou ⁵fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee ;

24 Leave ^uthere thy gift before the altar, and go thy way ; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 Agree ^vwith thine adversary quickly, whiles ^wthou art in the way with him ; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, ^xThou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery :

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh ^yon a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 And ^zif thy right eye ⁶offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, ^aWhosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:

32 But I say unto you, That ^bwhosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.

33 ¶ Again, ye have heard that it hath been said ⁷by them of old time, ^cThou shalt not forswear thyself, but ^dshalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

34 But I say unto you, ^eSwear not at all; neither by heaven; for it is ^fGod's throne:

35 Nor by the earth; for it is his footstool: neither by Jē-ru'sā-lēm; for it is the city of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 But ^glet your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.

38 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, ^hAn eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

39 But I say unto you, ⁱThat ye resist not evil: ^jbut whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also.

41 And whosoever ^kshall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 Give to him that asketh thee, and from ^lhim that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.

43 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, ^mThou shalt love thy neighbour, ⁿand hate thine enemy.

44 But I say unto you, ^oLove your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray ^pfor them which despitefully use you, and persecute you;

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 For ^qif ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

48 Be ^rye therefore perfect, even as ^syour Father which is in heaven is perfect.

2 Therefore ^awhen thou doest thine alms, ³do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter ^binto thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father ^cwhich seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, ^duse not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: ^efor they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your ^fFather knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: ^gOur Father which art in heaven, ^hHallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, ⁱas it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our ^jdaily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And ^klead us not into temptation, but ^ldeliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 For ^mif ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But ⁿif ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover ^owhen ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ Lay ^pnot up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But ^qlay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The ^rlight of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, ^show great is that darkness!

24 ¶ No man can serve two masters : for either he will hate the one, and love the other ; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. "Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, ⁴Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink ; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment ?

26 Behold ^vthe fowls of the air : for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns ; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they ?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature ?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment ? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow ; they toil not, neither do they spin :

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Söl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith ?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat ? or, What shall we drink ? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed ?

32 (For after all these things do the Gën'tiles seek :) for ^wyour heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But ^xseek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness ; and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no ⁵thought for the morrow : for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER 7.

1 Sermon in the mount continued. 6 Holy things not for dogs. 13 Exhortation to enter in at the strait gate. 21 Doors of the word. 24 Houses built on a rock.

JUDGE ^anot, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged : ^band with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 And ^cwhy beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye ?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye ; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye ?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye ; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶ Give ^dnot that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

7 ¶ Ask, ^eand it shall be given you ; seek, and ye shall find ; knock, and it shall be opened unto you :

8 For ^fevery one that asketh receiveth ; and he that seeketh findeth ; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone ?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent ?

11 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much ⁹more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him ?

12 Therefore all things ^hwhatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them : for this ⁱis the law and the prophets.

13 ¶ Enter ^jye in at the strait gate : ^kfor wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat :

14 ^lBecause strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ Beware ^lof false prophets, which ^mcome to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they ⁿare ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits. ^oDo men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles ?

17 Even so ^pevery good tree bringeth forth good fruit ; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not every one that saith unto me, ^qLord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven ; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we ^rnot prophesied in thy name ? and in thy name have cast out devils ? and in thy name done many wonderful works ?

23 And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you : ^sdepart from me, ye that work iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore ^twhosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock :

25 And ^uthe rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house ; and ^vit fell not : for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand :

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house ; and it fell : ^wand great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass, when Jē'sus had ended these sayings, ^xthe people were astonished at his doctrine :

29 For ^yhe taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER 8.

1 The leper. 5 The centurion. 23 Calming of the winds. 28 Devils possess two men. 31 Leaving the men, they are suffered to go into the swine.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 And, ^abehold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jē'sus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jē'sus saith unto him, ^bSee thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that ^cMō'se's commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 ¶ And ^dwhen Jē'sus was entered into Cā-pēr'-nā-ūm, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jē'sus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, I ^eam not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: but ^fspeak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me; and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jē'sus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Ī's'ra-el.

11 And I say unto you, ^gThat many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Ā'brā-hām, and Ī'saac, and Jā'cob, in the kingdom of heaven.

12 But ^hthe children of the kingdom ⁱshall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jē'sus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.

14 ¶ And ^jwhen Jē'sus was come into Pē'tēr's house, he saw ^khis wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

16 ¶ When ^lthe even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Ē-šā'jas the prophet, saying, Himself ^mtook our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Jē'sus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 And ⁿa certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jē'sus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but ^othe Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 And ^panother of his disciples said unto him, Lord, ^qsuffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jē'sus said unto him, Follow me; and let ^rthe dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 And, ^sbehold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why ^tare ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then ^uhe arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

28 ¶ And ^vwhen he was come to the other side into the country of the Ġēr'gē-sēneš, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And, behold, they cried out, saying, What ^whave we to do with thee, Jē'sus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them an herd of many ^xswine feeding.

31 So the devils ^ybesought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jē'sus: and when they saw him, they ^zbesought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER 9.

1 Palsy cured. 9 Matthew called. 14 Christ defends his disciples. 20 Working of many miracles. 23 Jairus' daughter.

AND he entered into a ship, and passed over, ^aand came into his own city.

2 And, ^bbehold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: ^cand Jē'sus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; ^dthy sins be forgiven thee.

3 And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jē'sus ^eknowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the ^fSon of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

9 ¶ And ^gas Jē'sus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Māt'thew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ And ^hit came to pass, as Jē'sus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

11 And when the Phār'i-seeş saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master ⁱwith publicans and ^jsinners?

12 But when Jē'sus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I ^kwill have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, ^lbut sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of Jōhn, saying, ^mWhy do we and the Phār'i-seeş fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Jē'sus said unto them, Can ⁿthe children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and ^othen shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of ¹new cloth unto an old garment, for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ While ^phe spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jē'sus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 ¶ And, ^qbehold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jē'sus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; ^rthy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 And ^swhen Jē'sus came into the ruler's house, and saw ^tthe minstrels and the people making a noise,

24 He said unto them, ^uGive place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And ^vthe fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

27 ¶ And when Jē'sus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, ^wThou son of Dā'vid, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jē'sus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

31 But ^ythey, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 ¶ As ^zthey went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Īş'ra-el.

34 But the Phār'i-seeş said, He casteth out devils through the prince of the devils.

35 And ^aJē'sus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 ¶ But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they ³fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then saith he unto his disciples, ^bThe harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few;

38 Pray ^cye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAPTER 10.

1 The twelve apostles sent out. 16 Christ comforts them. 40 A blessing promised.

AND ^awhen he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power ¹against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Sī'mon, who ^bis called Pē'tēr, and Ān'drew his brother; Jāmeş the son of Zēb'e-dee, and Jōhn his brother;

3 Phīl'ip, and Bār-thōl'ō-mew; Thōm'as, and Māt'thew the publican; Jāmeş the son of Āl-phæ'us, and Lēb-bæ'us, whose surname was ²Thād-dæ'us;

4 Sī'mon ^cthe Cā'nāan-īte, and Jū'das ^aĪs-cār'ī-ot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jē'sus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Ġēn'tīleş, and into any city of ^ethe Sā-mār'ī-tanş enter ye not:

6 But ^fgo rather to the ^olost sheep of the house of Īş'ra-el.

7 And ^has ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 ³Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses,

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet ⁴staves: ⁱfor the workman is worthy of his meat.

11 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, ^jshake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Söd'om and Gō-mör'rhā in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 ¶ Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: ^kbe ye therefore wise as serpents, and ^lharmless as doves.

17 But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and ^mthey will scourge you in their synagogues;

18 And ⁿye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gēn'tileş.

19 But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for ^oit shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 For ^pit is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 And ^qthe brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: ^rbut he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

23 But ^swhen they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not ^thave gone over the cities of İş'ra-el, till ^uthe Son of man be come.

24 The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house ^vBē-ěl'ze-büb, how much more shall they call them of his household?

26 Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the house tops.

28 And ^wfear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a ^xfarthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

30 But ^ythe very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 Whosoever ^ztherefore shall confess me before men, ^{aa}him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

33 But ^{ab}whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I am come to set a man at variance ^{ac}against

CHAPTER 11.

2 John's disciples sent to Christ. 7 Christ's testimony concerning John. 25 God's wisdom is praised by Christ. 28 Call to those burdened with sin.

AND it came to pass, when Jē'sus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 Now ^{aa}when Jōhn had heard in ^{ab}the prison the works of Chrīst, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And said unto him, Art thou he ^{ac}that should come, or do we look for another?

4 Jē'sus answered and said unto them, Go and shew Jōhn again those things which ye do hear and see:

5 The ^{ad}blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the ^{ae}poor have the gospel preached to them.

6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be ^{af}offended in me.

7 ¶ And ^{ag}as they departed, Jē'sus began to say unto the multitudes concerning Jōhn, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, ^{ah}and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he, of whom it is written, ^{ai}Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than Jōhn the Bāp'tist: notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12 And ^{aj}from the days of Jōhn the Bāp'tist until now the kingdom of heaven ^{ak}suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 For ^kall the prophets and the law prophesied until Jōhn.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is ^lĒ-lī'ās, which was for to come.

15 He ^mthat hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 ¶ But ⁿwhereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For Jōhn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, ^oa friend of publicans and sinners. ^pBut wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ Then ^qbegan he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:

21 Woe unto thee, Chō-rā'zin! woe unto thee, Bēth-sā'i-dā! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tÿre and Sī'dōn, they would have repented long ago ^rin sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tÿre and Sī'dōn at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou, Cā-pēr'na-ūm, ^swhich art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sōd'om, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sōd'om in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 ¶ At that time Jē'sus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou ^thast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

26 Even so, Father: for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27 All ^uthings are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; neither ^vknoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.

28 ¶ Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, ^wand learn of me; for I am meek and lowly ^xin heart: and ^yye shall find rest unto your souls.

30 For ^zmy yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER 12.

1 Pharisees reprov'd. 22 Blind and dumb man healed. 31 Blasphemy rebuked. 36 Account shall be made of idle words.

AT that time ^aJē'sus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2 But when the Phār'i-seeş saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read ^bwhat Dā'vid did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him;

4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat ^cthe shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, ^dbut only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the ^elaw, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, That in this place is ^fone greater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, I ^gwill have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the ^hSon of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

9 And ⁱwhen he was departed thence, he went into their synagogues:

10 ¶ And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, ^jIs it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and ^kif it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 ¶ Then ^lthe Phār'i-seeş went out, and ¹held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jē'sus ^mknew it, ⁿhe withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Ē-şā'ias the prophet, saying,

18 Behold ^omy servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my ^pspirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Ĝěn'tileş.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A ^qbruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Ĝěn'tileş trust.

22 ¶ Then ^rwas brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this ^sthe son of Dā'vid?

24 But ^twhen the Phār'i-seeş heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by ²Bē-ěl'-ze-būb the prince of the devils.

25 And Jē'sus ^uknew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every ^vkingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Sā'tan cast out Sā'tan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Bē-ēl'zē-būb cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then ^wthe kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Or ^xelse how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

31 ¶ Wherefore I say unto you, ^yAll manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: ^zbut the blasphemy against the Hō'lŷ Ghōst shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever ^aspeaketh a word against the Son of man, ^bit shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Hō'lŷ Ghōst, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his ^cfruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 O ^dgeneration of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? ^efor out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, That every ^fidle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ Then ^gcertain of the scribes and of the Phār'ī-seeş answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and ^hadulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jō'nas:

40 For ⁱas Jō'nas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly; so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The ^jmeñ of Nīn'ē-veh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and ^kshall condemn it: ^lbecause they repented at the preaching of Jō'nas; and, behold, ^ma greater than Jō'nas is here.

42 The ⁿqueen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sōl'o-mon; and, behold, a ^ogreater than Sōl'o-mon is here.

43 When ^pthe unclean spirit is gone out of a man, ^qhe walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and ^rthe last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

46 ¶ While he yet talked to the people, behold, ^shis mother and his ^tbrethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

50 For ^uwhosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Parable of the sower. 24 The tares. 31 The mustard seed. 44 Hidden treasure. 53 Christ contemned.

THE same day went Jē'sus out of the house, ^aand sat by the sea side.

2 And ^bgreat multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that ^che went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

5 Some fell upon ^dstony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no ^eroot, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some ^fan hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

9 Who ^ghath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because ^hit is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 For ⁱwhosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Ē-şā'ias, which saith, By ^jhearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears ^kare dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But ^lblessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, That many ^mprophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ Hear ⁿye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh ^othe wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with ^pjoy receiveth it;

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by ^qhe is offended.

22 He ^ralso that received seed among ^sthe thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, ^this enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but ^ugather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, ^vThe kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another ^wparable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three ¹measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 All these things spake Jē'sus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, ²I will open my mouth in parables; ³I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Jē'sus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that ⁴soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 The ^afield is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are ^bthe children of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; ^cthe harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, ^dand they shall gather out of his kingdom all ²things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42 And ^eshall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 Then ^fshall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and ^gselleth all that he hath, and ^hbuyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who, when he had found ⁱone pearl of great price; went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered ^jof every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,

50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jē'sus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure ^kthings new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Jē'sus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 And ^lwhen he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 Is ^mnot this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mā'ry? and ⁿhis brethren, ^oJāmes, and Jō'sēs, and Sī'mon, and Jū'das?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they ^pwere offended in him. But Jē'sus said unto them, A ^qprophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And ^rhe did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER 14.

1 Herod's opinion of Christ. 3 John the Baptist beheaded. 15 Five thousand fed. 22 Jesus walks on the sea to his disciples. 34 He heals the sick by the touch of the hem of his garment.

AT that time ^aHēr'od the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jē'sus,

2 And said unto his servants, This is Jōhn the Bāp'tist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works ¹do shew forth themselves in him.

3 ¶ For ^bHēr'od had laid hold on Jōhn, and bound him, and put him in prison for Hē-rō'dī-as' sake, his brother Phīl'ip's wife.

4 For Jōhn said unto him, ^cIt is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, ^dbecause they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Hēr'od's ^ebirthday was kept, the daughter of Hē-rō'dī-as danced ²before them, and pleased Hēr'od.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here Jōhn Bāp'tist's head in a charger.

9 And the king was sorry: ^fnevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent, and beheaded Jōhn in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jē'sus.

13 ¶ When ^gJē'sus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jē'sus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and ^hwas moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jē'sus said unto them, They need not depart; ⁱgive ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he ^jblessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.

22 ¶ And straightway Jē'sus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 And ^kwhen he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: ^land when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night Jē'sus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples ^msaw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jē'sus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

28 And Pē'tēr answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Pē'tēr was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jē'sus.

30 But when he saw the wind ³boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.

31 And immediately Jē'sus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore ⁿdidst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the ^owind ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou ^part the Son of God.

34 ¶ And ^qwhen they were gone over, they came into the land of Ġēn-nēs'a-rēt.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased;

36 And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

CHAPTER 15.

3 Reproof of the scribes and Pharisees for transgressions. 11 What defiles a man. 21 Christ heals a daughter of a woman of Canaan. 32 Four thousand fed.

THEN ^acame to Jē'sus scribes and Phār'ī-sees, which were of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, saying,

2 Why ^bdo thy disciples transgress ^cthe tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, Honour ^dthy father and mother : and, ^eHe that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, ^f*It is a gift*, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me ;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye ^ghypocrites, well did Ē-ṣā'ias prophesy of you, saying,

8 This ^hpeople draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips ; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching ⁱfor doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And ^jhe called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand :

11 Not ^kthat which goeth into the mouth defileth a man ; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phār'i-seeṣ were offended, after they heard this saying ?

13 But he answered and said, Every ^l'plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let ^mthem alone : ⁿthey be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then ^oanswered Pē'tēr and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jē'ṣus said, ^pAre ye also yet without understanding ?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever ^qentereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught ?

18 But ^rthose things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart ; and they defile the man.

19 For ^sout of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies :

20 These are the things which defile a man : but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jē'ṣus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Si'dōn.

22 And, behold, a woman of Cā'nāan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid ; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away ; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, ^tI am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Īṣ'ra-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to ^udogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord : yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jē'ṣus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith : be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 And ^v*Jē'ṣus* departed from thence, and came nigh ^wunto the sea of Gāl'i-lee ; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 And ^xgreat multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jē'ṣus' feet ; and he healed them :

31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see : and they glorified the God of Īṣ'ra-el.

32 ¶ Then ^y*Jē'ṣus* called his disciples unto him, and said, I ^zhave compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat : and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And ^ahis disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude ?

34 And Jē'ṣus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye ? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And ^bhe took the seven loaves and the fishes, and ^cgave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, ^dand were filled : and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

39 And ^ehe sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Māg'da-lā.

CHAPTER 16.

1 Pharisees require a sign. 6 The disciples warned. 21 Jesus foreshews his death.
23 Peter reproved. 24 Christ's followers admonished to bear the cross.

THE ^a*Phār'i-seeṣ* also with the Sād'du-ḡeeṣ came, and tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather : for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day : for the sky is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky ; but can ye not discern the ^bsigns of the times ?

4 A ^cwicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign ; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jō'nas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And ^dwhen his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶ Then Jē'ṣus said unto them, Take ^eheed and beware of the leaven of the Phār'i-seeṣ and of the Sād'du-ḡeeṣ.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Jē'ṣus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Phār'i-seeṣ and of the Sād'du-ḡeeṣ?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Phār'i-seeṣ and of the Sād'du-ḡeeṣ.

13 ¶ When Jē'ṣus came into the coasts of Ḷæs-ār-rē'ā Phī-līp'pī, he asked his disciples, saying, ^hWhom do men say that I the Son of man am?

14 And they said, ⁱSome say that thou art Jōhn the Bāp'tist: ^jsome, Ē-lī'as; and others, Jēr-ḡ-mī'as, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Sī'mon Pē'tēr answered and said, ^kThou art the Chrīst, the Son of the living God.

17 And Jē'ṣus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Sī'mon Bār-jō'nā: ^lfor flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but ^mmy Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That ⁿthou art Pē'tēr, and ^oupon this rock I will build my church; and ^pthe gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 And ^qI will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jē'ṣus the Chrīst.

21 ¶ From that time forth began Jē'ṣus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jē-ru'-sā-lēm, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Pē'tēr took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, ^rBe it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Pē'tēr, Get thee behind me, Sā'tan: thou ^sart an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ Then ^tsaid Jē'ṣus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or ^uwhat shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father ^vwith his angels; ^wand then he shall reward every man according to his works.

CHAPTER 17.

1 The transfiguration. 22 The passion foretold. 24 Jesus pays tribute.

AND ^aafter six days Jē'ṣus taketh Pē'tēr, Jāmeṣ, and Jōhn his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart,

2 And was transfigured before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them ^bMō'ṣeṣ and Ē-lī'as talking with him.

4 Then answered Pē'tēr, and said unto Jē'ṣus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mō'ṣeṣ, and one for Ē-lī'as.

5 While ^che yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, ^dThis is my beloved Son, ^ein whom I am well pleased; ^fhear ye him.

6 And ^gwhen the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jē'ṣus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jē'ṣus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jē'ṣus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, ^hWhy then say the scribes that Ē-lī'as must first come?

11 And Jē'ṣus answered and said unto them, Ē-lī'as truly shall first come, and restore ⁱall things.

12 But ^jI say unto you, That Ē-lī'as is come already, and they knew him not, but have ^kdone unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of Jōhn the Bāp'tist.

14 ¶ And ^lwhen they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jē'ṣus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jē'ṣus rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jē'ṣus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jē'ṣus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, ^mIf ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ And ⁿwhile they abode in Gäl'i-lee, Jē'ḡsus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 ¶ And ^owhen they were come to Că-pěr'na-ŭm, they that received ¹tribute money came to Pē'tēr, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jē'ḡsus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Sī'mon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Pē'tēr saith unto him, Of strangers. Jē'ḡsus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should ^poffend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find ²a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER 18.

¹ Christ instructs his disciples in humility. ⁷ Offences are to be avoided and the little ones not despised. ²¹ Forgiving our brethren. ²³ Parable of the unmerciful debtor.

AT ^athe same time came the disciples unto Jē'ḡsus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jē'ḡsus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ^bye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever ^ctherefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And ^dwhoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

6 But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ Woe unto the world because of offences! for ^eit must needs be that offences come; but ^fwoe to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8 Wherefore ^gif thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven their ^hangels do always ⁱbehold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

ch. 20. 2.

11 For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 How ^jthink ye? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¶ Moreover ^kif thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou ^lhast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that ^min the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto ⁿthe church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an ^oheathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, ^pWhatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 Again ^qI say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, ^rit shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there ^sam I in the midst of them.

21 ¶ Then came Pē'tēr to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? ^ttill seven times?

22 Jē'ḡsus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, ^uUntil seventy times seven.

23 ¶ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand ¹talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to ^vbe sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and ²worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which owed him an hundred ³pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me :

33 Shouldest ^w not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee ?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 So ^a likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAPTER 19.

² Healing of the sick. ³ On marriage and divorce. ¹³ Children are brought to Jesus. ¹⁶ Keeping the commandments. ²⁷ Promise of reward.

AND it came to pass, ^a that when Jē'sus had finished these sayings, he departed from Gāl'ilee, and came into the coasts of Jū-dæ'ā beyond Jōr'dān ;

2 And ^b great multitudes followed him ; and he healed them there.

3 ¶ The Phār'ī-sees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause ?

4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, ^c that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female,

5 And said, ^d For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife : ^e and they twain shall be one flesh ?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, ^f Why did Mō'ses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away ?

8 He saith unto them, Mō'ses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives : but ^g from the beginning it was not so.

9 And ^h I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery : and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 ¶ His disciples say unto him, If ⁱ the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, ^j All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb : and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men : and ^k there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ Then ^l were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray : and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jē'sus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me : for of ^m such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ And, behold, one came and said unto him, ⁿ Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life ?

17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good ? ^o there is none good but one, that is, God : but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which ? Jē'sus said, Thou ^p shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honour ^q thy father and thy mother : and, ^r Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up : what lack I yet ?

21 Jē'sus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, ^s go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven : and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful : for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Jē'sus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a ^t rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved ?

26 But Jē'sus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible ; but with ^u God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then ^v answered Pē'tēr and said unto him, Behold, ^w we have forsaken all, and followed thee ; what shall we have therefore ?

28 And Jē'sus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in ^x the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye ^y also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Īs'ra-el.

29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 But ^z many that are first shall be last ; and the last shall be first.

CHAPTER 20.

1 Labourers in the vineyard. 17 The passion foretold. 20 Request of Zebedee's wife. 30 Two blind men receive their sight.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man ^a that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a ^b penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them ; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when ^aeven was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house,

12 Saying, These last ²have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 Is ^bit not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? ^cIs thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 So ^dthe last shall be first, and the first last: ^efor many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ And ^fJē'sus going up to Jē-ru'sā-lēm took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 Behold, ^gwe go up to Jē-ru'sā-lēm; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 And ^hshall deliver him to the Gēn'tileš to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ Then ⁱcame to him ^jthe mother of Zēb'e-dee's ^kchildren with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons ^lmay sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Jē'sus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the ^mcup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the ⁿbaptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, ^oYe shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to ^pgive, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 And ^qwhen the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25 But Jē'sus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gēn'tileš exercise

30 ¶ And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jē'sus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid.

32 And Jē'sus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jē'sus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAPTER 21.

¹ Christ enters Jerusalem. ¹² Cleansing of the temple. ¹⁷ Fig tree cursed. ²⁸ Christ rebukes the priests and elders by the parable of the wicked husbandmen.

AND ^awhen they drew nigh unto Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and were come to Bēth'pha-gē, unto ^bthe mount of Ōl'iveš, then sent Jē'sus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The ^cLord hath need ^dof them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, ^esaying,

5 Tell ye the daughter of Sī'ōn, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 And ^fthe disciples went, and did as Jē'sus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and put ^gon them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; others ^hcut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, ⁱHō-šān'nā to the son of Dā'vid: ^jBlessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hō-šān'nā in the highest.

10 And ^kwhen he was come into Jē-ru'sā-lēm, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jē'sus the ^lprophet of Nāz'a-rēth of Gāl'ī-lee.

12 ¶ And ^mJē'sus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves,

13 And said unto them, It is written, °My house shall be called the house of prayer; but °ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And °the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hō-šān'nā to °the son of Dā'vid; they were sore displeased,

16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jē'sus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, °Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into °Bēth'ā-nỹ; and he lodged there.

18 Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 And when he saw °a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!

21 Jē'sus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, °If ye have faith, and °doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, °but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

22 And °all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ And °when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, °By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And °Jē'sus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of Jōhn, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; °for all hold Jōhn as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jē'sus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ¶ But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jē'sus saith unto them, °Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For °Jōhn came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but °the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶ Hear another parable: °There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, °and went into a far country:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, °that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And °the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all °he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, °This is the heir; °come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 And °they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They °say unto him, °He will miserably destroy those wicked men, °and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jē'sus saith unto them, °Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected; the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is °marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, °The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever °shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, °it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Phār'i-sees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they °took him for a prophet.

CHAPTER 22.

1 The king's marriage feast. 15 Tribute to Cæsar. 23 Concerning the resurrection. 34 The first and great commandment.

AND Jē'sus answered °and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: °my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they ^emade light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And ^dthe remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth ^ehis armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were ^fnot worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and ^ggathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man ^hwhich had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he ⁱwas speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him ^jinto outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 For ^kmany are called, but few are chosen.

15 ¶ Then ^lwent the Phār'ī-seeṣ, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Hē-rō'dī-anṣ, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Çæ'sar, or not?

18 But Jē'sus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a ¹penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and ²superscription?

21 They say unto him, Çæ'sar's. Then saith he unto them, ^mRender therefore unto Çæ'sar the things which are Çæ'sar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

22 When they had heard these words, they ⁿmarvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ The ^osame day came to him the Sād'du-çeeṣ, ^pwhich say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, ^qMō'seṣ said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the ³seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

35 Then one of them, which was ^va lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jē'sus said unto him, ^wThou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, ^xThou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 On ^ythese two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41 ¶ While ^zthe Phār'ī-seeṣ were gathered together, Jē'sus asked them,

42 Saying, What think ye of Chrīst? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of Dā'vid.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth Dā'vid ^ain spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The ^bLORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If Dā'vid then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And ^cno man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER 23.

1 Admonition to follow good doctrine, not evil examples of the scribes and Pharisees. 13 Denunciation of eight woes. 34 Christ foretells the destruction of Jerusalem.

THEN spake Jē'sus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, ^aThe scribes and the Phār'ī-seeṣ sit in Mō'seṣ' seat:

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for ^bthey say, and do not.

4 For ^cthey bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But ^dall their works they do for to be seen of men: ^ethey make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 And ^flove the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Răb'bî, Răb'bî.

8 But ^gbe not ye called Răb'bî: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: ^hfor one is your Father, which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But ⁱhe that is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12 And ^jwhosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 ¶ But ^kwoe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! ^lfor ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, ^mye blind guides, which say, ⁿWhosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!

17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, ^oor the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is ^pguilty.

19 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or ^qthe altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and ^rby him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by ^sthe throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! ^tfor ye pay tithe of mint and ^uanise and cummin, and ^vhave omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

24 Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! ^wfor ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess.

26 Thou blind Phăr'i-see, cleanse first that which ^xis within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! ^yfor ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 Woe unto you, scribes and Phăr'i-sees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ^zye are the children of them which killed the prophets.

32 Fill ^yye up then the measure of your fathers.

33 Ye serpents, ^zye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

34 ¶ Wherefore, ^abehold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and ^bsome of them ye shall kill and crucify; and ^csome of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35 That ^dupon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, ^efrom the blood of righteous Ā'bel unto the blood of Zăch-a-rî'as son of Băr-a-chî'as, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 O Jĕ-ry'să-lĕm, Jĕ-ry'să-lĕm, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I ^fhave gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, ^gBlessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 24.

1 Temple's destruction foretold. 3 Antecedent calamities. 29 Signs of Christ's coming to judgment. 42 The wisdom of watching.

AND ^aJĕ'sus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jĕ'sus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, ^bThere shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Ōl'iveş, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, ^cTell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jĕ'sus answered and said unto them, ^dTake heed that no man deceive you.

5 For ^emany shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For ^fnation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 Then ^gshall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you : and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many ^hbe offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And ⁱmany false prophets shall rise, and ^jshall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 But ^khe that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom ^lshall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations ; and then shall the end come.

15 When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by ^mDān'iel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (ⁿwhoso readeth, let him understand :)

16 Then let them which be in Jū-dæ'a flee into the mountains :

17 Let him which is on the house top not come down to take any thing out of his house :

18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

19 And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days !

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day :

21 For ^othen shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved : ^pbut for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Chrīst, or there ; believe it not.

24 For ^qthere shall arise false Chrīsts, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders ; insomuch that, ^rif it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert ; go not forth : behold, he is in the secret chambers ; believe it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west ; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 For ^swheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ Immediately ^tafter the tribulation of those days ^ushall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken :

30 And ^vthen shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven : and ^wthen shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, ^xand they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 And ^yhe shall send his angels ¹with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that ²it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, ^aThis generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 Heaven ^band earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ But ^cof that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, ^dbut my Father only.

37 But as the days of Nō'e were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 For ^eas in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Nō'e entered into the ark,

39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away ; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 Then shall two be in the field ; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill ; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ Watch therefore : for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 But ^fknow this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 Therefore be ye also ready : for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

45 ^gWho then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season ?

46 ^hBlessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming ;

49 And shall begin to smite his fellowservants, and to eat and drink with the drunken ;

50 The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 And shall ³cut him asunder, and appoint him ⁱhis portion with the hypocrites : there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER 25.

THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the ^abridegroom.

2 And ^bfive of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took ^cno oil with them :

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, they ^dall slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight ^ethere was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and ^ftrimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are ¹gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the ^gdoor was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, ^hLord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, ⁱI know you not.

13 ^jWatch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 ¶ For ^kthe kingdom of heaven is as ^la man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 And unto one he gave five ^mtalents, to another two, and to another one; ⁿto every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents went and ^otraded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid ^phis lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, ^qI will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into ^rthe joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beside them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For ^runto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When ^sthe Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And ^tbefore him shall be gathered all nations; and ^uhe shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, ^vinherit the kingdom ^wprepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For ^xI was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: ^yI was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 ^zNaked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: ^aI was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, ^bInasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, ^cDepart from me, ye cursed, into ^deverlasting fire, prepared for ^ethe devil and his angels:

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick; or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, ^fInasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And ^gthese shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into ^hlife eternal.

CHAPTER 26.

1 Conspiracy against Christ. 47 Betrayal by Judas. 57 Carried before Caiaphas. 69 Denied by Peter.

AND it came to pass, when Jē'sus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

THE NATIVITY.—ST. MATTHEW II. 11.

THE STAR IN THE EAST.—MATTHEW II. 2.

THE DUMB MAN POSSESSED.—MATTHEW IX. 32, 33.

CHRIST IN THE SYNAGOGUE.—MATHEW XIII. 54.

2 ^a Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 Then ^b assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Cā'ja-phās,

4 And consulted that they might take Jē'ḡsus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 ¶ Now ^c when Jē'ḡsus was ^d in Bēth'ă-nŷ, in the house of Sī'mon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat.

8 But ^e when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Jē'ḡsus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 For ^f ye have the poor always with you; but ^g me ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, ^h Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ ⁱ Then one of the twelve, called ^j Jū'das Īs-cār'-ī-ot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, ^k What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ Now ^l the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jē'ḡsus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jē'ḡsus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, He ^m that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth ⁿ as it is written of him: but ^o woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 Then Jū'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ And as they were eating, ^v Jē'ḡsus took bread, and ^w blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; ^x this is my body.

27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it;

28 For ^y this is my blood ^z of the new testament, which is shed ^a for many for the remission of sins.

29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, ^b until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 And ^c when they had sung an ^d hymn, they went out into the mount of Ōl'īves.

31 Then saith Jē'ḡsus unto them, ^e All ye shall ^f be offended because of me this night: for it is written, ^g I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen again, ^h I will go before you into Gāl'ī-lee.

33 Pē'tēr answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 Jē'ḡsus said unto him, ⁱ Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Pē'tēr said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ Then ^j cometh Jē'ḡsus with them unto a place called Ĝēth-sēm'a-nē, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Pē'tēr and ^k the two sons of Zēb'e-dee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 Then saith he unto them, ^l My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and ^m watch with me.

39 And he went a little farther, and fell on his face, and ⁿ prayed, saying, ^o O my Father, if it be possible, ^p let this cup pass from me: nevertheless ^q not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Pē'tēr, What, could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 ^r Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ¶ And ^s while he yet spake, lo, Jū'das, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he : hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Jē'sus, and said, Hail, master ; 'and kissed him.

50 And Jē'sus said unto him, ³Friend, wherefore art thou come ? Then came they, and laid hands on Jē'sus, and took him.

51 And, behold, ^mone of them which were with Jē'sus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest's, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Jē'sus unto him, ⁿPut up again thy sword into his place : °for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me ^pmore than twelve legions of angels ?

54 But how then shall ^qthe scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be ?

55 In that same hour said Jē'sus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me ? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 But all this was done, that the ^rscriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then ^sall the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 ¶ And ^tthey that had laid hold on Jē'sus led him away to Cā'ia-phās the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Pē'tēr followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jē'sus, to put him to death ;

60 But found none : yea, though ^umany false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came ^vtwo false witnesses,

61 And said, This fellow said, ^wI am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing ? what is it which these witness against thee ?

63 But ^xJē'sus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, ^yI adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

64 Jē'sus saith unto him, Thou hast said : nevertheless I say unto you, ^zHereafter shall ye see the Son of man ^asitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65 Then the high priest ^brent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy ; what further need have we of witnesses ? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye ? They answered and said, ^cHe is guilty of death.

67 Then ^ddid they spit in his face, and buffeted

CHAPTER 27.

1 Christ before Pilate. 19 The sentence. 34 The crucifixion. 50 The burial. 66 Sealing and guarding his sepulchre.

WHEN the morning was come, all ^athe chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jē'sus to put him to death :

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and ^bdelivered him to Pōn'tī-us Pī'lāte the governor.

3 ¶ Then ^cJū'das, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us ? see thou to that.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, ^dand departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jēr'e-mŷ the prophet, saying, ^eAnd they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, ¹whom they of the children of Īs'ra-el did value ;

10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 And Jē'sus stood before the governor : and ^fthe governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews ? And Jē'sus said unto him, ^gThou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, ^hhe answered nothing.

13 Then said Pī'lāte unto him, ⁱHearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word; inso-much that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 Now ⁱat that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Bā-rāb'bas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pī'lāte said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Bā-rāb'bas, or Jē'sus which is called Chrīst?

18 For he knew that for ^kenvy they had delivered him.

19 ¶ When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in ^la dream because of him.

20 But ^mthe chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Bā-rāb'bas, and destroy Jē'sus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Bā-rāb'bas.

22 Pī'lāte saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jē'sus which is called Chrīst? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pī'lāte saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, ⁿhe took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, ^oHis blood be on us, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then released he Bā-rāb'bas unto them: and when ^phe had scourged Jē'sus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor took Jē'sus into the ^qcommon hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and ^rput on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ And ^swhen they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jewš!

30 And ^tthey spit upon him, and took the reed, and ^usmote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, ^vand led him away to crucify him.

32 And ^was they came out, ^xthey found a man of Çy-rē'nē, Sī'mon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 And when they were come unto a place called Gōl'gō-thā, that is to say, a place of a skull, 34 ¶ They ^ygave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, ^vThey parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting down they watched him there;

37 And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JĒ'SUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 Then ^zwere there two thieves crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And ^athey that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, ^bThou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Īš'ra-el, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 He ^ctrusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 The ^dthieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 Now ^efrom the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour Jē'sus ^fcried with a loud voice, saying, Ē'lī, Ē'lī, lā'mā sā-bach-thā'nī? that is to say, ^gMy God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Ē-lī'as.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Ē-lī'as will come to save him.

50 ¶ Jē'sus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 And, behold, ⁱthe veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and ^jthe earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

52 And the graves were opened; and ^kmany bodies of the saints which slept arose,

53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 Now ^lwhen the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jē'sus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there beholding afar off, ^mwhich followed Jē'sus from Gāl'i-lee, ministering unto him:

56 Among ⁿwhich was Mā'rŷ Mäg-da-lē'nē, and Mā'rŷ the mother of Jāmeš and Jō'sēs, and the mother of Zēb'e-dee's children.

57 When ^othe even was come, there came a rich man of Ār-ī-mā-thæ'á, named Jō'seph, who also himself was Jē'sus' disciple:

58 He went to Pī'lāte, and begged the body of Jē'sus. Then Pī'lāte commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Jō'seph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And ^plaid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock : and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mā'rŷ Mäg-da-lē'nē, and the other Mā'rŷ, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Phār'i-sees came together unto Pī'lāte, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that ^adeceiver said, while he was yet alive, "After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead : so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pī'lāte said unto them, Ye have a watch : go your way, make it as sure as ye can.

66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, ^ssealing the stone, and setting a watch.

¹ The resurrection. ⁹ Jesus appears to the women. ¹⁶ His disciples see him. ¹⁹ Christ sends his disciples to baptize and teach all nations.

IN the ^aend of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mā'rŷ Mäg-da-lē'nē ^band the other Mā'rŷ to see the sepulchre.

2 And, behold, there ¹was a great earthquake : for ^cthe angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His ^dcountenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow :

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, ^eFear not ye : for I know that ye seek Jē'-sus, which was crucified.

10 Then said Jē'sus unto them, Be not afraid : go tell ⁱmy brethren that they go into Gāl'i-lee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

Jū-dæ'ā, and they of Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jōr'dān, confessing their sins.

6 And Jōhn was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins ; and he did eat ^dlocusts and wild honey ;

7 And preached, saying, ^eThere cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 I ^findeed have baptized you with water : but he shall baptize you ^owith the Hō'lŷ Ghōst.

9 And ^hit came to pass in those days, that Jē'sus came from Nāz'a-rēth of Gāl'i-lee, and was baptized of Jōhn in Jōr'dān.

10 And ⁱstraightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens ²opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him :

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, ^jThou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 And ^kimmediately the spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Sā'tan ; and was with the wild beasts ; ^land the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that Jōhn was put in prison, Jē'sus came into Gāl'i-lee, ^mpreaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, ⁿThe time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand : repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16 Now ^oas he walked by the sea of Gāl'i-lee, he saw Sī'mon and Ān'drew his brother casting a net into the sea : for they were fishers.

17 And Jē'sus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway ^pthey forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And ^qwhen he had gone a little farther thence, he saw Jāmeṣ the son of Zēb'e-dee, and Jōhn his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them : and they left their father Zēb'e-dee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 And ^rthey went into Cā-pēr'na-ūm ; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.

22 And ^sthey were astonished at his doctrine : for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23 And ^tthere was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit ; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Let us alone ; ^uwhat have we to do with thee, thou Jē'sus of Nāz'a-rēth ? art thou come to destroy us ? I know thee who thou art, the ^vHoly One of God.

25 And Jē'sus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit ^whad torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this ? what new doctrine is this ? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Gāl'i-lee.

29 And ^xforthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Sī'mon and Ān'drew, with Jāmeṣ and Jōhn.

30 But Sī'mon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up ; ^yand immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils ; and ^asuffered not the devils ^bto speak, because they knew him.

35 And ^bin the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and ^cthere prayed.

36 And Sī'mon and they that were with him followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, ^dLet us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also : for ^etherefore came I forth.

39 And ^fhe preached in their synagogues throughout all Gāl'i-lee, and ^gcast out devils.

40 And ^hthere came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst ⁱmake me clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away ;

44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man : but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things ^kwhich Mō'seṣ commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45 But ^lhe went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jē'sus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places : ^mand they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER 2.

¹ The palsied healed. ¹⁴ Matthew colled. ¹⁵ Pharisees rebuked. ²³ Plucking ears of corn on the sabbath day.

AND again ^ahe entered into Cā-pēr'na-ūm after some days ; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door : and he ^bpreached the word unto them.

3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was : and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5 When Jē'sus ^csaw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, ^dSon, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies ? ^ewho can forgive sins but God only ?

8 And immediately ^fwhen Jē'sus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether ^ois it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that ^hthe Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.

12 And ⁱimmediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And ^jhe went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 And ^kas he passed by, he saw Lē'vī the son of Āl-phæ'us sitting ^lat the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 And ^lit came to pass, that, as Jē'sus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jē'sus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when ^mthe scribes and Phār'i-seeş saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 When Jē'sus heard it, he saith unto them, ⁿ*They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.*

18 And ^othe disciples of Jōhn and of the Phār'i-seeş used to fast: and they come and say unto him, *Why do the disciples of Jōhn and of the Phār'i-seeş fast, but thy disciples fast not?*

19 And Jē'sus said unto them, Can the children of ^pthe bridechamber fast, while the ^qbridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

21 No man also seweth a piece of ^rnew cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

23 And ^sit came to pass, that he went through the corn fields on the sabbath day; and his disciples began, as they went, ^tto pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Phār'i-seeş said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?

25 And he said unto them, *Have ye never read ^uwhat Dā'vid did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him?*

CHAPTER 3.

AND ^ahe entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, ¹Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with ^banger, being grieved for the ²hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 And ^cthe Phār'i-seeş went forth, and straightway took counsel with ^dthe Hē-rō'dī-anş against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jē'sus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Gāl'i-lee followed him, ^eand from Jū-dæ'a,

8 And from Jē-ru'sā-lēm, and from Ī-dū-mæ'a, and from beyond Jōr'dān; and they about Tyre and Sī'dōn, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many; insomuch that they ³pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And ^funclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, ^o*Thou art the Son of God.*

12 And ^hhe straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

13 And ⁱhe goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

16 And Sī'mon ^jhe surnamed Pē'tēr;

17 And Jāmeş the son of Zēb'e-dee, and Jōhn the brother of Jāmeş; and he surnamed them Bō-ān-ēr'geş, which is, ^k*The sons of thunder*:

18 And Ān'drew, and Phīl'ip, and Bār-thōl'ō-mew, and Māt'thew, and Thōm'as, and Jāmeş the son of Āl-phæ'us, and ^l*Thād-dæ'us*, and Sī'mon the Cā-nāan-īte, 19 And Jū'das Īs-cār'ī-ot, which also betrayed him : and they went ⁴into an house.

20 And the multitude cometh together again, ^mso that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his ⁵friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him : for they said, He is beside himself.

22 ¶ And the scribes which came down from Jē-ru'sā-lēm said, "He hath Bē-ēl'zē-būb, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And ^ohe called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Sā'tan cast out Sā'tan ?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Sā'tan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No ^pman can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man ; and then he will spoil his house.

28 Verily ^qI say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme :

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Hō'l'y Ghōst hath ^rnever forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation :

30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 ¶ There ^scame then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, ^tthy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren ?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, "Behold my mother and my brethren !

35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

AND ^ahe began again to teach by the sea side : and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea ; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, ^band said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Harken ; Behold, there went out a sower to sow :

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth ; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth :

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched ; and because it had no root, it withered away.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve ^dasked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the ^emystery of the kingdom of God : but unto ^fthem that are without, all these things are done in parables :

12 That ^gseeing they may see, and not perceive ; and hearing they may hear, and not understand ; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable ? and how then will ye know all parables ?

14 ¶ The ^hsower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown ; but when they have heard, ⁱSā'tan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground ; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness ;

17 And have ^jno root in themselves, and so endure but for a time : afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns ; such as hear the word,

19 And the cares of this world, and ^kthe deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ^lground ; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

21 ¶ And ^mhe said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under ¹a bushel, or under a bed ? and not to be set on a candlestick ?

22 For ⁿthere is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested ; neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If ^oany man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, ^pTake heed what ye hear : ^qwith what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you : and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 For ^rhe that hath, to him shall be given : and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

26 ¶ And he said, ^sSo is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground ;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself ; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is ²brought forth, immediately ⁴he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ And he said, "Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?"

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it ^vgroweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And ^wwith many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 And ^xthe same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?"

39 And he arose, and ^yrebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?"

41 And they ^zfeared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?"

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jē'sus afar off, he ran and ^bworshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jē'sus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of ^cswine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jē'sus ^dgave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand;) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jē'sus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and ^ein his right mind: and they were afraid.

16 And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And ^fthey began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he ^gthat had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Jē'sus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and ^hbegan to publish in Dē-cāp'ō-lis how great things Jē'sus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And ⁱwhen Jē'sus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 And, ^jbehold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jā-ī-rus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24 And Jē'sus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman, which ^khad an issue of blood twelve years,

26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and ^lwas nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Jē'sus, came in the press behind, ^mand touched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And ⁿstraightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Jē'sus, immediately knowing in himself that ^ovirtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?"

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 As soon as Jē'sus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Pē'tēr, and Jāmeš, and Jōhn the brother of Jāmeš.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Tāl'i-thā cū'mī; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straitly that no man should know it; and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

AND he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mā'rŷ, the brother of Jāmeš, and Jō'sēs, and of Jū'dā, and Sī'mon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4 But Jē'sus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5 And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.

7 ¶ And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9 But be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10 And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sōd'om and Gō-mōr'rhā in the day of judgment, than for that city.

12 And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14 And king Hēr'od heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That Jōhn the Bāp'tist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Others said, That it is E-lī'as. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 But when Hēr'od heard thereof, he said, It is Jōhn, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Hēr'od himself had sent forth and laid hold upon Jōhn, and bound him in prison for Hērō'dī-as' sake, his brother Phīl'ip's wife: for he had married her.

18 For Jōhn had said unto Hēr'od, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore Hērō'dī-as had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not:

20 For Hēr'od feared Jōhn, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Hēr'od on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Gāl'i-lee;

22 And when the daughter of the said Hērō'dī-as came in, and danced, and pleased Hēr'od and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of Jōhn the Bāp'tist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of Jōhn the Bāp'tist.

26 And the king was exceeding sorry ; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent ⁵an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought : and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel : and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and ^atook up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 And ^bthe apostles gathered themselves together unto Jē'sus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And ^che said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while : for there ^dwere many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32 And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 And Jē'sus, when he came out, saw much people, and ^ewas moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd : and ^fhe began to teach them many things.

35 And ^gwhen the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed :

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread : for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, ^hShall we go and buy two hundred ⁶pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat ?

38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye ? go and see. And when they knew, they say, ⁱFive, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down ^jby companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and ^kblessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them ; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45 ^lAnd straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before ⁷unto Bēth-sā'i-dā, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 ^mAnd when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing ; for the wind was contrary unto them : and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and ⁿwould have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out :

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer : it is I ; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship ; and the wind ceased : and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For ^othey considered not the miracle of the loaves : for ^ptheir heart was hardened.

53 ^qAnd when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gēn-nēs'a-rēt, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that ^rthey might touch if it were but the border of his garment : and as many as touched ⁸him were made whole.

CHAPTER 7.

¹ Denunciation of Pharisees. ¹⁴ What defiles the man. ²⁴ The Syrophenician woman. ³¹ Christ heals others.

THEN ^acame together unto him the Phār'i-sees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jē-ry'sā-lēm.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with ¹defiled, that is to say, with unwashen, hands, they found fault.

3 For the Phār'i-sees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands ²oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and ³pots, brasen vessels, and of ⁴tables.

5 ^bThen the Phār'i-sees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands ?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath E-ṣā'ias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, ^cThis people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups : and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye ^{5d}reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Mō'ses said, ^eHonour thy father and thy mother; and, ^fWhoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is ^oCorban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother;

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

14 ¶ And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Harken unto me every one of you, and understand:

15 ^hThere is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 ⁱIf any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 ^jAnd when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him;

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 ^kFor from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 22 Thefts, ^ocovetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.
