DETERMINED ON ALASKA POLICIES

Harding Is Leaving With Mind Made Up to Be Conservationist

By GEORGE R. HOLMES For International News Service Aboard U. S. S. HENDERSON, WITH PRESIDENT HARDING, EN ROUTE TO VANCOUVER, B. C., July 23.—President Harding came to Alaska with an open mind concerning his Alaskan policy and he is going out today after a fifteen days' tour a fairly strong conservationist. When he entered the territory there was a well defined division of opinion among the members of his cabinet accompanying him whether the great territory should be vested in a single department.

The fortnight's visit to all of the principal cities and conversations with innumerable territorial prominent, has convinced President Harding of the wisdom and unfeasibility of giving Alaska to any single agency of the government. To do so would not only have met with determined opposition in congress, but also would have invited a repetition of the unwise conservationist fight that helped to wreck the Taft administration.

The conservationists now headed by Secretary Wallace and Colonel W. B. Greeley who succeeded Gifford Pinchot as chief forester are fully as strong as ever and they won general approval of their program from President Harding while the journey has made President Harding a conservationist.

WOOD GIVES INTERVIEW ON CRISIS

Head of Philippines in First Statement Says People Are Not Involved

By NORBERT LYONS Copyright, 1923, International News Service MANILA, P. I., July 23.—Major General Wood, governor general of the Philippine Islands, in an exclusive interview with International News Service today, minimized the political crisis of the past few days and declared the incident of resignations by members of the Philippine government "is now closed."

"The government disturbance of the past few days is not a sudden development, but was long premeditated and planned," said the governor general. He continued: "As I have cabled Washington, I believe that the incident was due solely to local political causes."

"There need be no fear of any serious or widespread disturbances. The people are happy and prosperous. My recent inspection tours of the provinces I was most courteously received and was besieged with petitions for public works and other improvements. Politics seem to have been farthest from the thoughts of the people."

"I have a very warm spot in my heart for the Filipino people among whom I number many good friends. Personal relations between myself and the gentlemen of the cabinet have always been cordial and of the most pleasant nature, and they still are, so far as I am concerned. "I regret exceedingly that this difference has taken place, but under the circumstances there was no other way open to me under the organic law, but to act as I did. On the day the resignations were tendered I agreed to permit the withdrawal of two resignations which had been tendered on certain very reasonable conditions. I could do no more. "The government will continue to function as before and, so far as I am concerned, the incident now is closed."

The main building is said to have been left in such a weakened condition that 500 patients are being removed to other quarters.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., July 23.—Four sharp earthquake shocks, one lasting ten seconds, during which a part of the hall of records collapsed throwing tons of rocks onto an adjoining rooming house, injuring George R. Frazier, managing the county hospital and breaking plate glass windows in several department stores, were felt here late last night and early today.

The first tremor was felt at 11:34 p. m. It was declared to be the most severe and longest. Three other distinct shakes were felt between that time and 12:55 a. m. The first shock stopped the town clock.

Local officials were making a thorough check today to determine whether any other buildings had been dislodged or additional persons injured.

At the county hospital the second floor was damaged to the extent of approximately $3,000. Total damage was set at from $60,000 to $100,000. By strenuous efforts attaches at the hospital narrowly averted a panic.

City in Darkness Heavy plate glass show windows in several downtown stores were cracked and broken and in some instances the sidewalk was cracked. Streets temporarily became dark when the electric system failed and telephone service was impaired. Reports reached the police that chimneys in various parts of the city were shaken down.

Reports coming in from Redlands stated the tremors were felt there and damage to the extent of partly wrecking of three buildings and several plate glass windows broken was done.

At Patton, where the state hospital for the insane is located, a near riot among the patients is said to have taken place when the ceilings were shaken loose and sides of the big building cracked with the quivering of the earth. No injuries were reported.

Reports from Mojave also stated the quake was felt there with great intensity, as well as other points throughout central California.

How Many Shakes? LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Discussion was rife here today whether two or three other earthquake shocks were felt here last night when a tremor at 11:34 o'clock dislodged plastering at two or three places, jarred dishes, shook windows and awakened even the heavy sleepers.

In the Hollywood district it was declared three distinct shakes were felt, the first lasting at least ten seconds and probably longer. Persons in other and widely separated sections of the city declare that only two shakes—one sharp quake followed almost immediately by a slighter and shorter one—were felt.

For Merchant Marine The senator's glowing pride in the Leviathan was given voice when he pledged himself to a fight to maintain the "American flag upon the seven seas." He endorsed the American merchant marine with undivided praise.

"The proudest part of my trip was that I made it on the Leviathan, the best, biggest and most luxuriously served vessel on the ocean," he said. "And it's under our American flag. There were some on this boat who had not previously thought of the subject, but one trip has made them join us in the determination that the American flag will fly over the seven seas."

Reticent upon all national and political questions, Johnson, however, openly and freely vowed he would "carry direct to the people" his views about America's foreign relations. RAIN OF OIL FALLS UPON TWO LOCAL MEN HIGH IN CLOUDS

City Official and Friend, Fred L. Flack, Make Landing in Safety

FACED with instant death while flying over the rugged San Juan Capistrano mountains in southern Orange county Sunday morning, Fire Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department succeeded in landing his exploding airplane in a small strip of asture land in Capistrano canyon. Two cylinders blew out, throwing fragments of parts and oil over Chief Lankford and Fred L. Flack of this city, who accompanied him. A piston rod pierced the radiator of the engine and while hot water spouted over the flyers, the pilot brought his machine to safety.

The power plant completely out of commission by the unexpected accident, it was necessary for Chief Lankford to glide to earth, with steep rocks on each side of the canyon. Luckily he found a little patch of green just as the radiator cauldron deluged the flyers with an unannounced Sunday morning bath.

Miss Chicken Dinner However, a perfect landing was accomplished and Fred L. Flack, who was piloting another plane, noticed the Chief's trouble and came down to assist him. Charles Davis accompanied Hinchliff as mechanic. Incidentally, the entire party missed a chicken dinner awaiting them at the Randall ranch in Happy Valley. The Glendale Fire Department plane was left in the canyon until the chief can obtain a new engine for the machine. He was practically all afternoon getting away from the scene of the mishap and Mrs. Lankford in the evening went to the hangar to await her husband's return.

Aviator and Woman Killed in Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Crashing to the earth within a few feet of a tent where over 200 prospective oil stock purchasers were eating lunch at Santa Fe Springs Sunday, William L. Cross, an aerial photographer, and an unidentified woman passenger in his plane were instantly killed.

The woman in the plane was crushed beyond recognition, but it was stated at the White-Emergency undertaking establishment at Whittier, to which the bodies were removed, that she was apparently about 30 years of age. Dr. H. C. Doughty of Long Beach, who was at a gun club near by, was summoned but declared that he could not identify the bodies.

Officials of the Daily Oil Syndicate hurried their guests away from the scene of the accident and abandoned all efforts to interest buyers in their stock sales for the rest of the day.

EMERGENCY LEADS TO DIVINE GRACE

Lesson in Story of Valley of Ditches Is Theme of Rev. Edmonds

Rev. W. E. Edmonds Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church preached from the passage centering in II Kings 3:16. "This story is full of divine parable and practical lesson for us about the work of the Holy Spirit in our lives," he said, "it is a parable and a miracle. On the face of it was an emergency. The kings of Israel and Judah and Edom combined together to go and fight the king of Moab, over to the eastward. Going thither through the desert they fell into great straits and danger of catastrophe through lack of water. Emergencies come into the life of the believer, but they should be God's opportunity. They sought the counsel of Elisha, and God gave him for them this word: "Make this valley full of ditches. For thus saith the Lord, ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain, yet that valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drink, and this is but a light thing in the sight of the Lord: He will deliver the Moabites also into your hand."

This situation represents any hard place in our lives. Such emergency is the only way many of us can be brought to the fullness of divine grace. Good people, as it was in this case, often bring that trouble upon themselves. The only safety is to live in prayer. Here an alliance had been made with unholiness. You look out—don't do that! God doesn't want such combines. But in the time of trouble the prophet was there, as is our Counsellor.

Preparation Needed
Note now the command that came through Him from God: "Make this valley full of ditches." A ditch is nothing fine, but it presupposes something is to be put into it. It represents preparation. God never intends it shall remain only a ditch. God shall supply all your ditches. "Thus saith the Lord, ye shall see no wind,—" we should expect some rain to come up. But God does not propose there shall be; there is going to be power but no demonstration,—people love it. That may be well, but if it is all you have, then, the sunrise makes no noise; your light will shine without you making a noise. When Christ was on the cross, no noise.

But those men in the morning went out to look at the valley of ditches, and the country was filled with water. The critics will say water came out of the dug into. No; God did that; and, as if that were but a little thing, then he led the enemy hosts to their destruction. God's work meets all that is needed.

There should be a spiritual dynamic to go out and do. Israel then had to go on and pursue and annihilate the enemy; there was to be no sitting down. For us there are victories ahead. This is not a terminal. They had to finish that work thoroughly; the only way of safety for the believer is to do thorough work. Thanks be unto God who ever giveth us the victory!

American Women Are Guaranty of Civilization, Says Friend of Queen

NEW YORK, July 23.—"American husbands are happy—and they have good reason to be. "Your American women are wonderful. They are the world's greatest guaranty of the future of civilization."

Lady Marilena Sever Bocu, Rumanian noblewoman, friend of Queen Marie and noted charity worker, was the speaker.

So impressed was she with America and Americans during her three months' stay here that she plans to return in the fall. And Queen Marie, she said, probably will come with her—to thank Americans personally for the manner in which they want to aid of Rumania's widows and orphans.

Lady Bocu came here to launch a campaign in aid of these war sufferers. She brought with her hundreds of art objects and embroidered articles and sold all of them, netting the relief fund several thousand dollars. Everywhere, she said, she was cordially received and aided. She asked International News Service to express her gratitude and her appreciation to the American people—and to the women of America in particular.

While in this country, Lady Bocu was the guest of Miss Frances Tarbox, of Washington and New York. In three months she learned to read and write English, of which she had no previous knowledge.

Sever Bocu, husband of the young noblewoman is publisher of one of Transylvania's most powerful newspapers.

FORMER MERMAID TRIES COMEBACK

Retired Record Holder Will Race Again This Year in Aquatic Events

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—The latest former champion to attempt a "comeback" wears a one-piece bathing suit. She is Frances Cowells, former world's champion swimmer and holder, even at the present time, of several world's records.

Retired practically since the Olympic games at Antwerp in 1920, Miss Cowells has now definitely announced she will enter her first race, since that year, at Idora Park this July 29.

Here are some of the records formerly held by the fair mermaid that she will endeavor to regain:

World's open water straightaway record for 50 yards and every American record from 25 yards to one mile during the year 1918. Miss Cowells was also superior in her sex in the breast and backstroke.

Since her retirement a host of promising youngsters have come to the fore on the Pacific Coast, including Hilda Curtis and Eleanor O'Brien. The latter two are expected to be ready to compete against their former superior in the July 29 meet.

At the present time Miss Cowells has commenced a rigid training grind which she is confident will put her into her old-time form in time for the starter's gun at Idora.

ANACONDA, Mont., July 23.—Joseph Toussaint, a rancher, living on Sullivan creek, a tributary of Deep creek, in the Big Hole Basin, near here, claims he has good reason for a grudge against ammunition manufacturers.

While in his pasture recently he came across a big cinnamon bear enjoying a morning repast on the carcass of a pure-bred when he returned to do battle hurried back to his house, snatched his rifle and returned to the pasture. He tried three shells, and none would explode.

As though fate intended to tantalize him, Toussaint landed on the back of a big black bear as he sealed a fence on his way to the house and then, as he entered his barnyard, found another black bear nosing around. He finally reached the house, but when he returned to do battle with the bruin family bears were as scarce as the proverbial "hen's teeth."

Transfer of light and water service has been requested by the following residents and orders are now on file in the public service department at the city hall:

A. B. Cleveland, 448 Salem street; Los Angeles; J. H. Williams, 1430 West Glendale avenue, 1012 South Glendale avenue; Fred Barnard, 510 East Broadway, 631 East Acacia avenue; William H. Hupke, 108 East California avenue, 724 Sherman street, 211 East Broadway; E. D. Meadows, 620 East Colorado street, 447 West Elk street.

Installation of meters has been requested by the following: Mildred A. Hines, 1137 Irving street; West Park street; Naches, Wash.; M. W. W. Crumple, 118 South Everett street, 126 1/2 Franklin court; E. D. Meadows, 620 East Colorado street, 447 West Elk street.

Fire Fighters Battle to Save Timber Land

KANE, Pa., July 23.—Hundreds of men today were continuing their battle against forest fires between Mount Alton and Kushequa in Kinzua bridge district. It appeared certain thousands of acres of woodland will be burned over despite efforts of the fighters. The timber in this district is used mainly for paper and chemical-making. The woods will be ruined for wild game. Fires which raged near Kane are now under control. Other blazes in almost every direction from here may spread to large dimensions unless rain falls during the day as there are not men enough to fight the fires.

NEW ALTIMETER

For aviators an altimeter worn like a wrist watch is a novelty from Europe.

License Statistics Indicate Prosperity

SCRANTON, Pa., July 23.—County officials, who judge conditions by the number of the various sorts of licenses which are issued at the courthouse, say that Lackawanna County at present is more prosperous than at any time in its history. The number of marriage licenses issued is taken as one of the prosperity weather vanes. More than 1,400 licenses have already been issued this year as compared with 1,100 in the same period in 1922. Fishing licenses have been issued to only 8,000, compared with 12,500 last year, which is said to be an indication of plenty of jobs available and little time to fish.

Tranquility of heart and calmness of mind. All good traits in life together will bind.

Search Is Under Way For Escaped Convicts

(Continued from page 1) wire netting which surrounds the bull pen and soon ripped a hole in it. Between them and freedom there was only a low picket fence. Guards who rushed to the fray as sounds of the melee were heard were attacked, but poured rifle fire into the fleeing men. Those who had not already reached the picket fence were cowed and returned. Ralph Dilbay and another guard named Denny were the men stabbed. Dr. Frank A. Stubblefield, who is head of the institution, was knocked unconscious in the fighting. Aged men of the Siberian Eskimos have their choice of death when too old for usefulness, and the usual requests are for hanging or having a knife thrust through his head.

DISPLAY COLORS COMMITTEE ASKS

Organizations Will Secure Decoration of Homes, Business Houses

Local organizations that are to have charge of the decoration of the route to be followed by President Harding and his party on their visit here on Friday, August 3, have been selected by Chalmers D. Day, commander of the American Legion and one of the committee in charge of this work. Each of these organizations will devote its attention to one particular section of the route and will endeavor to secure the co-operation of the residents and business men along the line, so that the decorations may be as uniform as possible and also in order that every building may show the national colors in honor of the president. From the Southern Pacific tracks on Lehigh to Brand boulevard and north on Brand to Park avenue, the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps will look after the decorations; from Park avenue to Harvard, the United Spanish-American War Veterans and the Auxiliary will have charge; from Harvard to Broadway and east on Broadway to Isabel street, the American Legion and its Auxiliary will superintend the work; from Isabel to Adams street the Sons of Veterans will be responsible for the work; and from Adams to the eastern city limits, the Daughters of the American Revolution will see that the houses hang out their flags. This work will be in addition to the official decorations that are to be arranged by the city of Glendale and the Chamber of Commerce, which will preserve a uniform aspect all along the route.

GUARDSMEN HOME AFTER TRAINING

Camp at Salinas Afforded Soldiers Opportunity For Recreation

California National Guardsmen today are relating to their friends their experiences at their annual encampment. Glendale was represented at the encampment by Company M. and Headquarters Company, which are commanded by Capt. James H. Wittmeyer of 437 West Broadway. These belong to the Third Battalion, commanded by Major H. Belt of Los Angeles, and the 160th Regiment, commanded by Col. H. P. Story of Los Angeles. Local guardsmen left Glendale Saturday, July 7. Camp Friend W. Richardson, which was named in honor of Governor Richardson, is located about eight miles from Salinas. Camp was broken Saturday morning and the hike to Salinas was started about 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. After mess had been served from the traveling kit, about 6 o'clock, in Salinas, liberty was allowed until midnight. Entrainment was made about 12:30 Sunday morning. The train arrived in Los Angeles about noon yesterday. According to guardsmen, the camp was quite a success. The mess is reported to have been excellent, and fatigue parties were infrequent. Mornings were spent in drilling and the afternoons in sports. A week-end liberty permitted many to go to San Francisco.

The slogan of the Piano Exchange, Inc., "We liquidate your piano troubles," expresses very aptly the business policy of the firm.

PHONOGRAPH TO TEACH LANGUAGE

Improvement Aids Students of Foreign Tongues to Check Progress

COLUMBUS, O., July 23.—An improved phonograph for instruction in foreign tongues has been devised by professor Robert E. Rockwood, acting head of the Department of Romance Languages, at Ohio State University. The machine may be used simultaneously by eighteen students. Eliminating use of the single horn, Professor Rockwood has provided a headpiece for each student, thereby permitting individual instruction. A control device permits effective registration of the various shades of word tones. A record-cutting device provides for the recording of the pronunciation of each student when he, or she, takes up the course. By means of this method each student can make personal observation, at the end of the course, of the progress made. "The phonographic method of teaching a language has been greatly abused," said Professor Rockwood. "It is for that reason that we have eliminated the horn pieces. This makes it possible for each student to hear the proper tones and inflections and eliminates the confusion attendant when a number of students attempt to crowd around a horn. By means of this method, also, the student can practice his pronunciation as he goes along without fear of disturbing the others in the class."

Japanese Agitated Over Coolie Labor

TOKIO, July 23.—Agitation by coolie laborers in Tokio against the employment by factory owners and contractors of Chinese and Korean laborers reached a high tension last month, when demonstrations were held in Tokio and suburbs of the capital. When the first meetings of protest by the Japanese coolies were made known many of the factory owners, and particularly contractors for the handling of coal, acceded to the requests and dismissed the alien laborers. Others stated that Chinese and Koreans not only worked for less, but accomplished more, and they refused to make any change in the coolie staffs.

SAYS MEN OUGHT TO LIVE LONGER

London Scientist Declares Seventy Year Old Idea Should Be Changed

LONDON, July 23.—The old idea that "three score years and ten" is the normal span of life was scotched by Dr. Leonard Williams, famous London specialist, in a lecture on "Physiological Efficiency to the Aldrich Club here. Dr. Williams maintained that man, if he put the necessary attention to dietary and health laws, ought to live to 140 or 150 years. "There is nothing inevitable about illness," he said. "If we get a disease we ought not to be pitted as victims, but condemned as fools. "If the average age of the lower animals was estimated in relation to the time that it took to arrive at maturity," Williams continued, "man is seen at a disadvantage. Animals' instincts in regard to food are increasing, while the human mind is becoming blurred and fogged. "Mankind is content with three score years and ten because it is, in matters physiological, content with a very low level of mediocrity. It has no ideas for which it is prepared to make sacrifices and will not deny itself needless luxuries and soft comforts. "When a man arrives at maturity it is up to him to keep that maturity as long as he can. Instead of doing so, however, he sits down and impairs his efficiency as quickly as possible by sending out appeals to every microbe to come and take up residence in his body. "Physiological efficiency goes back to the question of diet. The world should partake of meagre fare, fresh air and all kinds of raw foods," he concluded. At a marriage feast in Brittany as many as 1800 persons are served from a field kitchen, the cook having borrowed for the occasion all the pots from the neighboring village.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 23.—The stock market closed steady today, although there was a shading off of prices at the end. The declines, however, were limited to fractions except in a few stocks. Norfolk & Western reacted 3 points, to 104, as a result of the poor earnings statement. Other rails were carried down by the selling of Norfolk. Great Northern preferred, and Northern Pacific falling about 2 points each. American Locomotive rose 1 point, to 70, and General Electric 2 points, to 176 1/2. Atlantic Gulf improved 1 point, to 14 1/2. P. American yielded over 1 point, to 64 1/2. Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady. Sales today: Stocks, 482,900 shares; bonds, $6,500,000.

CHICAGO, July 23.—Grain prices were off for the most part today, with some strength in a few months. The close was irregular. Longs began dumping their holdings early, raising the market on heavy buying, but again sold off. Some loss to wheat in the northwest from black rust was reported. Wheat closed 1/4 to 1/2c lower. Corn was 1/2 off to 1 1/2c up. Oats closed 3/4 to 1 1/2c lower. Trade in provisions continued dull and featureless.

MAY GRAB CROWN FROM CHAMPION

Tendler Confident He Will Defeat Leonard in Tonight's Bout

NEW YORK, July 23.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, and Lew Tendler, Philadelphia challenger, who meet in a 15-round fight at the Yankee stadium tonight, both are under the required weight, — 135 pounds—when they weighed in this afternoon.

Leonard tipped the scale at 134 pounds, and Tendler at 133 1/2.

By MAX KASE For International News Service NEW YORK, July 23.—Lew Tendler, Philadelphia battler, will have his second opportunity to try for the lightweight crown tonight when he meets Benny Leonard, the champion, in a scheduled 15-round bout at the Yankee stadium.

Tendler is confident of victory. So is Leonard. The champion predicts he will win by a knockout and thus settle once and for all the question of supremacy. Benny knows he must win decisively tonight. The bout will be to a decision and the champion realizes that although he won the popular decision from the newsboy fighter in Jersey City a year ago, the margin of victory was so small that had that bout been a decision affair, the judges might have decided against him.

Tendler, confident of his bout with Leonard off his feet with his spongewalk tactics, and had the champion on the defensive for a greater part of the bout. In the bout tonight, Tendler believes he will prove that Leonard's victory a year ago was a questionable one. He is confident that Benny has not mastered his style of fighting and that he will carry the lightweight toga to Philadelphia.

The challenger in last year's bout swept Leonard off his feet with his spongewalk tactics, and had the champion on the defensive for a greater part of the bout. In the bout tonight, Tendler believes he will prove that Leonard's victory a year ago was a questionable one. He is confident that Benny has not mastered his style of fighting and that he will carry the lightweight toga to Philadelphia.

The weather this morning was cloudy and cool, with every indication that the skies would clear before the preliminaries begin tonight.

Principals In Tonight's Title Bout

By NORMAN E. BROWN One of the few spongewalk fighters in the game today is set to take a crack at a title. Lew Tendler, Philadelphia challenger, and assistant challenger Benny Leonard, lightweight king, is the gent. He and Leonard are winding up training for their battle in New York tonight.

Tendler goes into the fray with the odds—as title bouts have gone lately—three to one in his favor. Since November 1 last year there have been four big championship fights and kings have been dethroned in three of them. Mickey Walker grabbed Jack Britton's welterweight crown. Pancho Villa took away Jimmy Wilde's headgear and Eugene Criqui ousted Champion Kibano. Of all the kings who have fought late Jack Dempsey is the only one to keep his crown safe.

Tendler deserves the crack at Leonard. He has the best chance of any man in the lightweight class—with due apologies to energetic press agents and managers. The two met a year ago and Tendler gave Leonard the hardest battle of his career. Leonard was then known to "carry along" his opponents. He had to let himself out against Tendler. The Quaker City had had him in danger once or twice.

Tendler is an unusual fighter in that he leads with his right. This makes him an unusually hard man to box. This style handicapped Leonard when they met last July in their twelve-round affair. Philadelphia Lew realizes his best chance is at hand. He should be ready now if he ever hopes to be. He has engaged in something like 115 fights and has knocked out twenty-three of his opponents.

He has been fighting since 1913. Which means that he never will be any better than he is today. He'll slip in the future, as will Leonard. Leonard seems confident that he will win. His absence from the ring, barring a couple of small bouts, hasn't hurt him, he avers.

Many Tennis Players Start Tournament

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—With William Tilden, world's champion tennis player, as the outstanding feature, over 300 racket wielders started today in the annual Southern California tennis tournament. Tilden was expected to have little trouble in defeating his opponent, F. Hodgson, while Manuel Alonso was doped to win over R. Nelson. Both of these matches are set for this afternoon. The tournament will last all week. Neither Tilden nor Alonso are expected to have difficulty in getting through their half of the schedule this week and meet in the finals Saturday.

Maurice McLaughlin and Tom Bundy, who a few years ago startled the world with their performances, are also entered. "Sandy" Weiner, Tilden's understudy, will be entered with "Big Bill" in the doubles. Alonzo and Ray Casey will be their opponents. With but one San Francisco star entered in the women's singles, the locals are expected to triumph in this event. Mary Browne, Marion Williams, May Sutton Bundy and Carolyn Bryant should fight it for the laurels.

Figures Woman's Time Spent Before Mirror

PARIS, July 23.—One year out of every woman's life is spent before the mirror. This is the calculation of a serious Frenchman who figures that on the average every 6 and 10-year-old stands before her looking glass seven minutes a day. From 10 to 15 years she lengthens it to a quarter of an hour. From 15 to 20 the time becomes twenty-two minutes, and from 25 to 30 the maximum is reached, thirty minutes a day. After 30 the time is shortened gradually to twenty-four minutes; from 35 to 40 it becomes eighteen minutes. Finally from 40 to 60 it goes back to ten minutes, the same as for the small child.

SPORTS CHATTER By BILL UNMACK, PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The University of California will engage in no intersectional football during the coming season. This does not mean that California is opposed to the idea. Far from it. The Californians have engaged in many such contests in the past and they are ready to take on others in the future, but they want certain teams to play against and not merely what is available. Undoubtedly the Californians would jump at the opportunity to play either one or all three of the eastern "Big Three," comprising Princeton, Yale and Cornell. No secret is made of the fact that this is her heart's desire and the Blue and Gold would go to great lengths in order to consummate such a match. The trouble has been at the other end. These colleges make up their schedules along old lines and consider their regular opponents of the East and it has been difficult for them to break away, particularly in view of the long jump to the coast.

Princeton played against the University of Chicago last year and the season before, each team scoring a victory, and those who arranged these games know how hard it was to convince the Princeton faculty that it was a good thing to do. To convince them that a jaunt across from the Atlantic to the Pacific would also be good is a horse of a considerably different color.

The youngsters in the East are as keen as the Californians for a clash, but their say is submerged in that of their elders. So, as far as the University of California is concerned, her most promising international game for the future seems to be one against the University of Pennsylvania, which has been more amenable to talk of this character than any of the "Big Three," which have been decidedly frigid in the matter owing to faculty disapproval.

England is content, but not exultant, over the outcome of its golfing battles with the American invaders this spring. While the results of both the amateur and open championships were satisfactory to the pride of England, in both cases they were too close for comfort.

Britain's satisfaction need not cause disappointment among American golfers. The United States has held the open championship for two years running, and the reign of the home bred were certain to come to an end. An invading golfer faces many handicaps—difference in climatic and atmospheric conditions, modes of living, etc.—that militate to a degree against him. A Briton coming to America faces the same odds, and the chances always are small of the outsiders winning.

In the amateur at Deal, the English had no ease until the semi-final round was over and Oimlet had gone down before Wethered. At Troon, Hagen kept his gallery uneasy up to the last two holes, and Macdonald Smith's startling 69 caused chills of apprehension. There was glory enough for the Americans, even in defeat, for with three men among the first four the caliber of Yankee golf was firmly upheld.

Hagen fought magnificently, as he always can be expected to, but his shots were not going true. Kirkwood, always a sound, steady player, knocked at the door of the championship, and it only is a matter of time until this new American is going to claim a major title. And another star appeared on the horizon when Macdonald Smith blasted his way to a new course record at Troon.

America still has the edge on Great Britain in that it holds the Walker cup, emblematic of the amateur team championship, but in individual championships the two countries are on even terms. It is very doubtful if any English pros will challenge in the national open at Inwood, this month, but it is quite certain that a few of the leading amateurs from abroad will enter the amateur play at Flossmoor in September.

Wethered, the new English amateur champion, is particularly eager to make another bid in our amateur, as he failed to qualify in both of his previous attempts at the Engineers and Brookline. Then, the large Tolley, who is playing great golf, also may come across for another whirl at the American cup. A group of British women also are expected to be in the field when the women's national is played.

Western Amateur Golf Tournament Opened

MAYFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—Promptly at 8:30 this morning the first pair teed and the western amateur golf tournament of 1923 was under way. Included in the entrants are Chick Evans, defending champion, and Jesse Sweetzer, who yesterday played the course in 68, establishing a new record for Mayfield.

Nothing definite has been arranged with Pennsylvania, but it is hoped that something can be done to get that team to the Pacific coast in 1924, California to reciprocate with a return engagement at Philadelphia on the following season.

It is almost certain that these two teams would draw well, no matter what their season records might be. Of course, if both were badly defeated teams during their season, the interest would not attach which would follow if they were undefeated eleven, but there is always interest in a combination of several thousand miles for the purpose of engaging in a single contest for supremacy.

They have been talking of a match between Dempsey and Willis for over three years. Wonder when they will meet, judging at the present rate of progress made?

With the prospect of considerable activity in the way of matches between the various heavyweight boxers, steps should be taken immediately to suppress the prospective "I told you so" galoot.

Arne Borg, the Swedish swimmer, who has been breaking a number of world's records lately, is likely to be heard from at the next Olympic games, and the aquatic fraternity will have their eyes on him. His recent performance stamp him as a performer who can take rank with the best that America can produce—and that's saying a whole lot, in view of the exceptional talent with which we are supplied. Oddly enough, however, the United States has always ranged better in the shorter distances than in the longer ones. The same has held good in track running.

Announcement has been made that Helen Willis this year will not defend her title of national singles and doubles tennis champion for girls. This California girl will be watched by the experts of the world with the greatest interest as she is one of the best prospects, if not the best, for championship honors that ever has been developed. When it is considered that she was runner-up last year to Molla Mallory for the United States national championship, little more need be said for this girl in her teens.

Helen Willis is slated to make her eastern debut for the 1923 season at the West Side Tennis club in practice, and her first tournament effort will be made at the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket club's invitational tournament which starts on July 30. On her way east the little Californian stopped off at Chicago and by way of diversion romped off with the Illinois women's singles title in straight sets without the loss of a game. This was quite sufficient to make critics sit up and take notice, and their verdict is that she shows remarkable control of her speed and strokes and superb court strategy in her game. What more could be said?

Negotiations are under way for an international tennis match between the Universities of California and Illinois. The time proposed for playing is during September. Coach Edwin Bearg of Illinois has sent a communication to the Californians in which he approves of the event and the time and the indications are that there will be nothing to interfere with the plan. These international events between the various

Lonely Ladies Plan to Make Lot Easier

PARIS, July 23.—A home for lonely ladies is soon to spring up in Paris, where men are few and far between. A co-operative project has been launched, with shares sold at 100 francs each. With the capital raised a block of flats will be acquired. It will include about 400 dwellings, each comprising a bed, sitting room, kitchen and cabinet de toilette, all for the price of about $35 a year. In the same building there will be a restaurant, a social room, baths and washhouses—in fact, everything that a single soul would want.

Some people love their homes to such an extent that they would rather stay home than work.

The Gateways

THE GATEWAY "Safety Last." Harold Lloyd's newest feature comedy, is showing at the Gateway theatre, through the courtesy of Hal Roach and the management of the California and Miller's theatres, Los Angeles. This picture was not to have been shown outside of Los Angeles this summer, but, owing to the fact that Manager B. E. Loper wanted to get something very fine with which to open his new playhouse, arrangements to show it here were made.

Mildred Davis, Harold Lloyd's pretty feminine lead, and incidentally his wife, takes laurels for excellent work in "Safety Last," as well as her husband. As the country girl whose young man goes to the great city to make his fortune, she is excellent. The high spot in the story is the sustained suspense which when Harold Lloyd climbs the outside wall of a twelve-story building, while the crowds in the streets below stand watching him in breathless wonder.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE RECORD PERFECT

Duties of Married Life Fail To Deter Leader in University Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 23.—Besides having been married 18 years, housekeeping for her husband and herself, getting up at 4:45 o'clock each school-day morning and traveling 15 miles to Ohio State University, Mrs. Mamie S. Taylor, a resident of West Jefferson, Ohio, achieved the distinction of leading in scholarship the 8,000 students at the university.

"Domestic affairs are no hindrance to study," said Mrs. Taylor, who, with a perfect scholarship record, recently was elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholarship fraternity. "Much of my studying was done while traveling on the cars between my home at West Jefferson and the university," Mrs. Taylor explained.

She attributes her record to the fact that she has always taken courses in which she was interested. Her interest in outdoor life, she said, induced her to enroll first as a special student. She specialized in science, chiefly botany, and expects to return next year as a graduate student. By enrolling as a special student Mrs. Taylor was enabled to take advanced courses. She was permitted to omit preparatory courses because she obtained the highest possible grades.

JUSTICE SCORES GROWTH OF LAWS

Advocates Uniform Code for Reducing Hundreds of Statutes Passed

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 23.—Adoption of uniform code systems for regulating and interpreting laws, in order to reduce to a minimum the hundreds of volumes of statutes created annually by legislative bodies, was advocated by Chief Justice Marshall, of the Ohio Supreme Court, in an address here on "Too Much Law Making." Declaring that more laws were enacted by the United States during its 125 years of law making than the rest of the world in 6000 years, Chief Justice Marshall asserted that the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the United States Constitution are the most striking examples expounding the principal requirements of conciseness, simplicity and perfection.

He declared that the blame for placed upon the government's judiciary department, and said that more than 175,000 pages of law were enacted by courts of last resort last year, "a number which it would be impossible for any lawyer to read intelligently in three years."

Zeal for Children Prompted by Tragedy

LONDON, July 23.—Back of the almost fanatical zeal which James Maxton, labor member of the British Parliament, shows for child welfare lies a heart-rending story of personal tragedy.

Maxton recently was suspended from the House of Commons for calling Sir Frederick Banbury a "murderer" for oppressing certain child welfare legislation. It was then that a hidden chapter in Maxton's private life was revealed. It is the story of a fight for an infant's life in the slums of Glasgow. Maxton and his wife lived in the slum. He was a teacher, and their meager income was hardly enough to support the family. An infant child fell sick and for five months the Maxtons fought a bitter battle to save its life. They had the utmost difficulty in getting proper food and medical care for the child. Eventually the child lived, but the strain of watching and the privations to which she subjected herself that the child might be better cared for took Mrs. Maxton to an early grave. Maxton never forgot his own sorrow, and since then the question of child welfare has been almost an obsession with him.

Shows College Girl Keeps Marriage Vows

BALTIMORE, July 23.—At last the college flapper has found an advocate. She is Dr. Iva L. Peters, professor of ceremonies and sociology at Goucher college, and vocational adviser to hundreds of girl students. Weary of charges that the college girl makes the poorest kind of wife, Dr. Peters has compiled a mass of statistics at the critics. Included among them are figures showing that only 2 per cent of the marriages of women college graduates end in divorce.

"This is the lowest percentage of divorce, according to the statistics, of any class in which women are grouped," is Dr. Peters' defi to the critics. "College girls, once married, stay wedded." Goucher college is one of the most fashionable women's schools in the east.

Henry Ford For President

Henry says he is not a candidate, but there is no telling what he would do if he should be nominated. However, it is a long time before national election and the voters of the United States will decide whether Henry is the right man or not.

There are other things of more importance at the present time, and the wise ones are getting busy.

This is the last week of Page Furniture Co.'s Big Sale, and positively your last chance to save 25 to 50 per cent on high grade home furnishings. It makes no difference if you need a complete outfit or merely an odd piece or two—you will find it at 306-308 E. Broadway for less than lowest Los Angeles prices.

Fortune Telling in New York Prohibited

ALBANY, N. J., July 23.—Gypsies, seventh sons and soothsayers are forbidden to ply their trade in this state after September 1, by a new law, which the last legislature passed. All forms of fortune telling—weather forecasting excepted—are punishable by a fine of $250, or six months' imprisonment, or both.

GLENDALE LOSES TO LANKERSHIM

Locals Fail to Score and Visitors Pile Up 6 Runs in Contest

The Lankershim nine eliminated Glendale from the pennant race in the San Fernando Valley league series, taking yesterday's game in clean-cut fashion, by the overwhelming score of 6 to 0.

The game, which was played on the home grounds at Park avenue and San Fernando Road, was witnessed by a large number of local fans, together with a delegation of loyal rooters from Lankershim. Minkler, the twirler for the Peaches, was in superb form, allowing the locals only three scattered hits. Loose fielding on the part of the Glendale team also contributed to the let-down.

Ku Klux to 'Take Hand' in Probe of Mysterious Death

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—As authorities today resumed investigation of the mysterious death over a week ago of J. A. Farnsworth, former Whittier city employe, whose body was found in a cyanide house, near Whittier, a report reached the sheriff's office that the Ku Klux Klan plans to "take a hand in the case." This report to the sheriff's office came in a mysterious telephone call.

In the face of this report, Rev. W. H. Holmes, "traveling parson," who is said to have admitted to the officers complicity in bringing about discord between Farnsworth and his wife by attentions to Mrs. Farnsworth, is reported closely confined to his home pending a call to the sheriff's office to face Mrs. Farnsworth.

ing or not, Professor Buwalda added. "Sometimes a first shock is preliminary to another and the later one is the more severe. The San Andreas drift is the dangerous one. There are a number of other 'breaks' in the same locality which run parallel to the coast and at this time, until more information is available, it would be hard to definitely catalog the shock."

The San Andreas drift goes on the south side of the Mojave desert and through the Cajon pass, north of San Bernardino, and just north of Redlands. This center of earthquakes is fully forty miles north of Los Angeles, Professor Buwalda declared if it were an upheaval in this drift, Los Angeles would NOT be badly affected.

HI JOHNSON GETS GREAT WELCOME

Plans to Outline Views on World Affairs at Big Meet Wednesday

(Continued from page 1) gave notice he would carry his views direct to the people. "I will talk with absolute frankness Wednesday night," said Johnson. "In the ensuing months—and wholly apart from politics—I am going to talk to our people pretty generally on our international relations and the attitude we should maintain."

"Will you speak from coast to coast?" Senator Johnson was asked. "Yes, but I will have no set itinerary," he added. "I will speak where I can and as I can. But I will talk to our people on international affairs."

Quiet On Politics
On politics, the senator was unusually reticent. When reporters pressed questions he finally turned away wearily, and said, "there are no politics in me now. I am not going to yield to the desire of you men to make an item out of a question. I am not thinking politics, and I certainly won't talk politics."

A moment earlier, the senator's straw hat had been swept away by an unexpected gust of wind. "Your hat's in the ring now, senator," a friend shouted. "Perhaps, but it's entirely involuntary," he replied.

The vessel used to take the senator off the Leviathan was named "Menominee." Johnson was asked if the name "Menominee" had any significance. "There's nothing in it," he replied. When a bolder spirit asked him directly: "Do you intend to run for the presidency?" there was a hushed silence, and then: "I will not discuss domestic politics," came the reply in angry tones. "So don't ask me any more political questions."

To Talk Wednesday
When told that his namesake, Senator-Elect Magnus Johnson of Minnesota, said "He didn't care enough," the senator regained his good humor. "That's news to me," he smiled. "It's a fair criticism. I found across the water that Americans were inclined to talk too much, and I'd rather be accused of not talking enough than too much. I will talk freely, however, at Wednesday's gathering. I will express myself then about Europe and my views on our foreign relations. Within a brief interval, I will talk even more freely and I hope—not too much."

As he was carried away from the Leviathan, the senator gazed steadily at the great liner. "There's a wonderful boat," he said, as he turned away. "Has Glorious Time."
"And the best part of it is at the end—the Stars and Stripes. I had a glorious time abroad, and everywhere I went I was pretty close to the ground. But I can't tell you how glad I am to be home."

"Pretty close to the ground?" he was asked. "How?"
"Yes—pretty close to the ground. I made my tour in an automobile."
As he landed at the Battery, the thousands cheered him while harbor boats shrilled their whistles in concert. And as he stepped down the gang plank, a police band played:
"My Buddy, My Buddy, Your Buddy Misses."

TEMBLOR SHAKES MOUNTAIN CAMP

Glendale Women Remain Over Night Near San Bernardino

A vivid account of the temblor that shook San Bernardino and adjacent sections is given by Mrs. H. B. Ellis, of the clerical force of the Glendale postoffice, who with Dr. Clara E. Hewen, 231 1/2 North Brand boulevard, spent the week-end at Camp Seely as the guests of Mrs. Fred Newman, manager of the camp.

The quake started at 11:28 p. m. and kept up at intervals, with more or less severity, for close to three hours, and the road leading to the camp this morning was strewn with giant boulders that had been shaken loose from their places on the hillsides and had rolled down to the road. Most of the large boulders had been pushed to the side when the party started home early this morning, but enough had been left in the road to make driving difficult.

LOWVILLE, N. Y., July 23.—A check for $10, signed by the late Frederick McCulloch, eccentric president of the Lewis County Trust Company, found in a box in the cornerstone of the old vault of the bank building now being dismantled, presents a problem. The check stipulates that it be paid in 1950 to the finder. The estate of about $100,000 has been settled, McCulloch having died in 1917. He left no will. His nearest relatives were distant cousins in Jersey City, N. J., and they shared in the estate.

At the time of the accident the plane is said to have been about 150 feet above the earth and was on his second turn around the field. A. W. Hennrikus, an ex-army aviator, who was within a few feet of the spot where the airplane fell, declared that he was sure that the woman had seized the control, forcing the plane into a nose dive.

Flames Are Checked
Cross, who lived at 1650 West Avenue 50, Los Angeles, is said to be survived by a widow and a small child.

Prompt action by several bystanders, in extinguishing the flames that followed the crash of the plane, is believed to have saved two near-by oil derricks from fire that might have resulted in serious losses.

But lest it be wondered why such an important matter as christening was put off until that late date, the explanation is hastily made that every day so far in the life of little John has been a birthday. In other words, he was just 48 days old yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Dr. Helon B. Dr. Allen now faces bail set at $25,000, and is being held in the county jail.

CONDOLENCE
Words cannot express our feelings of gratitude for the kindness shown us in our late bereavement in the sickness and loss of our beloved wife and mother. Our gratitude goes out especially to the ladies of the G. A. R. at the funeral parlors of L. P. Utter in Los Angeles, where they showered marks of kindness. Then to the Eastern Star at the grave at Grand View, where the expressions of the order, Sisterly Love, were mercifully demonstrated by the one order she so much cherished. Also to the many old soldiers who assisted.

BURBANK LEGION TO HOLD DINNER TUESDAY

Project to Raise Funds for New Club Rooms in Armory Launched

Tomorrow night, Tuesday, July 24, the local post of the American Legion will hold a banquet at the Methodist church, it is announced, with the combined intent of having a good time and raising money for fitting out their new club rooms in the Armory.

The banquet is open to everybody and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout. Local Legionnaires' pledge good eats and a jolly time.

Burbank's Legion post is going strong and has outdistanced all other posts in the state in growth of membership during the past year, it is announced, the increase as over the previous year being 525 per cent.

Prominent Folk Parade

The mystic sun smiled full and fair on the Mystic Smilers, last Friday morning, as they staged one of the finest parades Burbank has ever had, with music by the newly-organized municipal band; yet in spite of Old Sol's accurately-aimed rays, this band of crusaders frowned not, neither did they cease to smile.

It was wonderful, that parade, both from the standpoint of appearance and endurance! The line of march was from the corner of Verdugo avenue and San Fernando boulevard to Olive avenue, up Olive to Fourth street, where it turned and came back to San Fernando; following this boulevard to Palm avenue, then turning north to Third street, where it disbanded amid fanfare and in triumph, having achieved a renaissance of glory.

A program was given at the Edison school, under the auspices of the Smilers, following the end of the parade.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Isbell and family have given up their Olive avenue home and are on a trip to the Yosemite valley. On their return, in about two weeks, they hope to move into their new home on Tujunga avenue near Sunset Canyon drive.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kaiser are remodeling into a modern home the residence they recently purchased at 625 Verdugo avenue. With them are living her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert, formerly of Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Lake and son have returned to their home at Las Vegas, Nev., after visiting for two weeks their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eglington of 738 Tujunga avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dorman and baby have returned to their home at Casimira, after visiting for several days with their aunt, Mrs. G. D. Kincaid of Santa Anita avenue. Mr. Dorman is employed by the Southern Pacific Railroad company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thompson, of Santa Ana, spent a recent week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Petty, 626 Verdugo avenue. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Petty are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hunt have sold to Mr. and Mrs. Morris Porter their home at 623 Verdugo avenue. They plan to take a vacation and on their return will build on their lot on Tujunga avenue. The Porters have already moved into their new home.

TUJUNGA SCHOOL FACULTY NAMED BY BOARD

Committee Formed to Consider Transportation of High School Students

At the last meeting of the Tujunga school trustees the teachers for the coming year were selected. Mr. Ace will remain as principal, the other teachers being: Miss Irma O. Molitz, Miss Isabella Dodds, Miss Eunice Buckner, Miss Louise Gonzales, Miss Elizabeth Jones, Mrs. Maude B. Johnston, Mrs. Letha A. Reilly and Mrs. Edna N. Franke.

The problem of transportation for high school pupils to and from Glendale has been given to a committee to solve. Some desire a bus operated by the Glendale Union High school to replace the present system in connection with the Verdugo Hills Transportation company.

Preliminary excavation work for the foundation of the new school is well under way.

Ask Fire District

The committee on forming a fire protection district attended the last meeting of the Sunland Chamber of Commerce and presented plans for forming a district to include both Tujunga and Sunland communities in its boundaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Brunner recently attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Brunner in Los Angeles. Friends and relatives from Santa Barbara, Long Beach, Santa Monica and Hollywood were present.

COMMENT That's All

Hooray! Peace in Erin! Figures for the Farmers. Harding, Johnson Disagree. Tendler-Leonard Scrap.

By Gil A. Cowan

DE VALERA proclaims "peace in Ireland." Can it be possible? We are so accustomed to seeing reports of warfare from Dublin and Cork and Belfast that it is almost unbelievable.

"The war is over," adds Mr. De Valera. What will editors do without their daily Irish battles? Even if we do say, the Philippines may have to provide us with some fireworks if the news columns are not to be filled with divorce, murders and scandals.

At the present writing the Germans seem inclined to spill some blood for the red lines of the newspapers. In Breslau the other evening the mob invaded cafes and those present at the fill, also provided themselves with a few drinks which made the celebration more complete.

But a general optimism prevails over in Europe over a situation which Premier Stanley Baldwin has taken in hand, and France may be out of Germany in short order. England still seems to be quite capable of bossing the allies, diplomatically speaking, and the first thing we know they are going to revive The Hague tribunal in place of the League of Nations, to drag the United States into a foreign alliance.

The politicians, especially those who are interested in international finance, are doing everything in their power to get Uncle Sam into the party, yet the old boy isn't such a sucker as he looks. They will have to play a game he knows—and John Bull won't be the dealer, either.

Instead of President Harding preaching the gospel of World Court he might try to alleviate the situation of the farmers here at home. The Glendale Evening News takes pleasure in passing on an editorial in the New York Times, captioned "Figures For the Farmers," which, coming from a strong urban center, is particularly significant.

"Beautiful are the crop-reporting tables of the Department of Agriculture. Its estimate of the agricultural output of this country for 1923, and of the prices which farmers will receive, has all the eloquence of figures in round billions. But both consumers and farmers are less apt to be staggered in a simple-minded way by such an array of statistics than they were in former years. The practice of cost-accounting has spread to the farm, and even the wayfarer housewife knows that if the total production of the farms is 3 per cent less than in 1922, while its value is greater by $1,000,000,000, somebody will have to pinch and scrape to pay the food bills.

"It cannot be said that the showing made by the Department of Agriculture is well fitted to allay the discontent of farmers. That is most prevalent in the wheat-growing sections of the West. Yet farmers there will find their own complaints confirmed by the official figures, and will point out that while the price of wheat was terribly low last year it is still lower today, while the total receipts from wheat will be $100,000,000 less than in 1922. Corn is up slightly in volume and a good deal in value, but corn is no longer a Republican crop. Democrats in the South and Southwest have taken to growing it. And what defense can the Department of Agriculture make for demonstrating that about one-half of the total gain in the value of farm products this year is due to cotton? Its total increase is figured in money at $494,000,000. The forecast for tobacco also is for a gain of about 100,000,000 pounds. Is this administration, which is, of course, responsible for the size of the crops in every part of the country, willing to have it appear that it is running agriculture chiefly for the benefit of the Solid South?"

However, our city will be none-the-less hearty in its greeting of the president because he takes occasion to differ with views of eminent Senator Hiram Johnson. The fact they disagree in world affairs is a compliment to both. Nor will we accuse Harding of being derelict.

For, when he holds up a world court as better than a league of nations, it may only be a stepping stone for our allies to climb down to something more practical in the mechanics of international justice.

Low Tendler and Benny Leonard are getting a good deal of publicity for the day. They are fighting men who get more money in one night for their performance than we do in a year. But we won't trade places today.

Bride-to-Be Matches Fiance's Funny Jest

AKRON, July 23.—"Are you the man who signs the death warrants?" a man asked County Clerk Thomas Clark at the court-house. His sweetheart was standing beside him and heard what he said.

Clark understood what was wanted when the "death warrant" was asked for, and directed the man and the girl to the marriage license bureau.

As they were leaving the office the girl asked, loudly enough for her "intended" to hear: "Do you issue permits to carry revolvers?" And a new Clark is wondering what the harvest will be.

Japan's electric power has been so weakened through an exceptionally dry winter, that steam plants are being installed to help out.

EAGLE ROCK PLAN RECEPTION FOR PRESIDENT

Welcome for Harding Party In Hands of Committee For August 3rd

Plans for "President Day" consume much time in Eagle Rock these days, representatives of all prominent civic organizations co-operating with Donnell Montgomery, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in working out the details for a rousing welcome to our chief executive, President Warren G. Harding, when on Friday, August 3, he drives through this community with his official retinue, on his way from Glendale to Pasadena.

Mrs. J. C. Reiter, president of the Central School Parent-Teacher association, has been chosen chairman of the committee called by Mr. Montgomery, and will work out with her committee members full details for the momentous occasion.

Miss Fanny Daily, secretary of the committee, represents the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Order of the Eastern Star; C. W. Young is in charge of a committee who will place a large streamer across Colorado boulevard; traffic arrangements are in charge of H. M. Bruce, president of the Improvement association; Mrs. A. C. Reilly, president of the Women's Twentieth Century club, will have charge of the presentation of two handsome bouquets of flowers to President and Mrs. Harding; while Mr. Hind, president of the Clean Government league, is responsible for decorations; and many other prominent local folk have important duties to perform in fittingly observing the passage of the head of this nation through Eagle Rock.

The big problem seems to be to find some way of stopping the official procession long enough to properly greet the president. Many suggestions along this line have been made, but none so far that seem entirely practicable.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Lane, from Chicago, who were recently entertained by their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Prindle, of 838 Rock Glen avenue, have bought property in the Sagamore Oaks tract, and will eventually come to Eagle Rock to live. The Lanes and Prindles were former residents of Beloit, Wis., where they lived for twenty-five years.

Miss Lois Garrett, of 310 South Satsuma avenue, is spending the summer at Catalina Island.

Mrs. A. G. Bailey and family, of 250 North Kenilworth avenue, are on a two weeks' vacation to Mt. Baldy.

Donnell Montgomery, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, leaves Saturday, July 28, for Stanford university, where he will attend the Third Annual Summer School of Community Leadership, in session July 29 to August 4.

Mrs. Hoes, a granddaughter of President Monroe, was a special guest at the Monroe Centennial Exposition, at Exposition park, on D. A. R. Day, which was Tuesday, July 17.

C. A. Kirksey is visiting with his family at 210 East Hill avenue, after spending eighteen months in Texas, looking after his large farm and other business interests. He notes the growth and development of Eagle Rock.

SUNLAND PLAN TO BETTER PHONE SERVICE

New Company Will Take Over Business and Install New Exchange

That the valley is fast outgrowing the telephone system as well as the transportation is evidenced by the action of the Sunland Rural Telephone company in making plans for organizing a new company to take over the business and make extensive improvements that are required.

The company will have a capitalization of $25,000, according to A. Adams, Jr., president of the Sunland Rural Telephone company. The transfer will be made on a valuation to be set by the State Railroad commission. An additional $7000 worth of stock will be issued and the money will be spent on a new exchange, to be built at Palm and Los Angeles streets. Two long distance lines will be added to the service and several local service lines are also planned. This improvement will embrace single party lines, which have long been in demand and for which applications have been filed by prospective subscribers. The Railroad commission has approved an increase in rates to take effect when the service is substantially improved. The present number of subscribers is about 150.

The company now operating the system was formed seventeen years ago. The exchange has been operated for twelve years by Mrs. M. A. Lippencott.

Dr. Hammond has been spending a short vacation in the Ojai valley.

Louis Waite, proprietor of Twin Pines, is expecting his mother from the east soon, to make her home with him.

War On Male Vamps Launched By Police

LIMA, Ohio, July 23.—War against mashers, sheiks and boy-romeos who make advances to young girls at street corners. Many complaints along this line have been made, but none so far that seem entirely practicable.

Police Captain George Strick and Police Judge E. J. Jackson here. The warfare was prompted by numerous reports of insults to young girls at street corners.

Many complaints have been registered by girls, who said they are unable to pass along certain streets in Lima without being subjected to advances from male

"vamps." Police have been instructed to watch for offenders and to arrest them for disorderly conduct. Judge Jackson has promised to give offenders the limit in fines and jail sentences.

When you lose your position and money your friends will follow by the same route.

LA CRESCENTA

TAKE SCOUTS TO ARROWHEAD CAMP

Plunge and Supper Features Of Visit for Guests at Los Angeles Home

Mr. and Mrs. Craig drove a number of the Boy Scouts to Arrowhead lake in their car Saturday, the rest going with Assistant Scoutmaster Albert Cox. The Craigs stayed over at the camp for a short visit.

A small party of friends visited Mrs. Alma Austin and her aunt, Mrs. Harcourt, at their Los Angeles home Saturday evening. The party drove to Bimini Baths for a swim, after which they returned to the Austen residence, where a most delectable supper was served. Those who enjoyed Mrs. Austin's and Mrs. Harcourt's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. J. Hansen of La Crescenta, Mr. and Mrs. Swain of Sparr Heights and a number of guests of Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Miss Ethelene Smith's class of small girls will meet as usual at her home on Tuesday, after the regular lesson, the children will stage pantomimes, which are original and in costume, the latter not only designed by the pupils but made by them. The parents are cordially invited to be present and see the ingenuity of children's imagination when it is allowed free play.

Word received from Dr. Hammond states she is thoroughly enjoying her motor trip through the Yosemite and other northern points. Dr. Hammond further states the only mistakes they have made have been laughable ones.

A reality board is being formed here in La Crescenta with Frank Romo as chairman. From his thirty years' experience in the real estate business, it is certain Mr. Romo will be an asset to the organization.

Friends of Elmer Bennett will be glad to know he is somewhat improved and recovering nicely from his recent attack of sickness.

A slight tremor was felt here last night at 11:30. It was apparently the edge of the quake felt in the coast cities. No damage was done.

MONTROSE

SCHOOL WILL BE HEATED WITH GAS

Plant Installed as Trustees Receive Promise of Steady Service

The gas company has assured the trustees of the district that gas for heating the new Montrose school house will be available and upon this assurance the school will be fitted with a gas heating plant. It is expected that the mains will be extended up the valley as far as La Crescenta.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mead and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. Howard and family of Montrose recently returned from a vacation trip of two weeks in Humboldt county.

The city council of Los Angeles has granted a franchise for the electrification of the Union Pacific railroad by the Glendale & Montrose Railway Company. The line is expected to be completed by January, making a direct line to Los Angeles from Montrose and La Crescenta.

Ohio Cowboy Sheik Emulates Lochinvar

LIMA, Ohio, July 23.—Lima has a cowboy sheik.

The police are looking for him. If he is captured he will have to explain his exploits and attempt to force his attentions upon Lima girls.

C. S. Peltier told the police that his daughters, Misses Phyllis and Olive, and Miss Byrleen Cram were accosted by the new-style sheik while they were walking home about 10:30 p. m. The girls were opposite an Elm Market street factory a man on horseback galloped up, riding on to the sidewalk. The girls were pursued by the unknown "cowboy" until a factory employe, attracted by their screams, frightened the horseman away.

Toy manufacture is still one of the leading export industries of Germany and that country is the leader in the world in the production, but the United States is becoming a very serious competitor.

CITY HOLDING MONEY IN RESERVE

Additional Cash Over That in Budget Will Be Made Emergency Fund

THE city administration is being congratulated for its economy during the past fiscal year ending June 30, during which it succeeded in saving $64,568.16.

Taxes, it was estimated in last year's budget, were expected to bring in a revenue of $190,000. Instead, the revenue from this source was $214,978.33—a difference of $24,978.33.

The cost of operating the city during the past fiscal year, instead of being increased to make use of the additional revenue, was only $4,598.27 more than the estimate of $285,214.01 in the budget adopted last June.

Forms Reserve Fund According to City Controller Sausberry, the amount of money saved during the last fiscal year has been placed in the general reserve fund and will serve as capital in case of emergency.

The city charter states: "The Council shall maintain the permanent revolving fund now established and known as the general reserve fund, for the purpose of keeping the payment of the running expenses of the city on a cash basis."

According to City Controller Sausberry, the amount of money saved during the last fiscal year has been placed in the general reserve fund and will serve as capital in case of emergency. He added, that unless such a fund were available, it would be necessary for the city administration to borrow money for operating expenses until the revenue from this year's taxes is available.

Exact Time Of Quake Is Told; Clock Stopped!

MUTE evidence of the rocking Glendale got last night when an earthquake shook Southern California is to be seen today in the Ed Radke jewelry store window, 109 South Brand boulevard.

The big clock in the house stopped at 11:32:55 p. m., the pendulum having done too much dancing.

At the Stacking Box, 100 West Broadway, passers by said they noticed several "shocking socks" doing the shimmy while a number of people bestirred themselves to learn where the earthquake was most noticeable.

Mrs. Celine Myers and Miss Mabel Foot, night operators at the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph exchange here answered hundreds of calls, it is reported during the half hour following the temblor.

SONGS WILL TELL GLENDALE'S FAME

Elks Practice Lively Lyrics To Be Sung at Annual Lodge Convention

Plans for proclaiming the fame of Glendale in song at the coming convention at Eureka are to be made tonight at the regular meeting of the Elks lodge at the clubhouse on East Colorado street.

Serving on a song committee with Edwin J. Albright and Herbert Henning, William Bode has written words to be sung to lively popular tunes, and these songs will be given an initial try-out at the meeting tonight.

In addition to the singing there will be the regular lodge work and balloting on candidates. Initiates will be received into the lodge next Monday night, when the Glendale officers will conduct the initiatory ceremony.

Seeds Keep Vitality Shut In Vacuum Drum

PARIS, July 23.—Plant seeds will retain their powers of germination indefinitely if they are kept in vacuum containers, Professor Lecomte announced to the French Academy of Sciences.

Experiments conducted by the professor showed that radish and lettuce seeds and grains of wheat, conserved in vacuum containers for sixteen years, still germinated quickly when brought into the air.

Practically the discovery will be utilized to transport certain kinds of seeds which ordinarily quickly lose their germinating powers, long distances from the places where they now thrive.

6-Foot Rattlesnake Shot by Postmaster

Postmaster and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Porter Custer, who spent the week-end at Soboda Hot Springs, near San Jacinto, ran on to a six-foot rattlesnake during their stay in the mountains.

The animal was coiled and ready to strike when Captain Jackson shattered its head with a shot from his pistol.

SPEEDY TRIP IS PLAN FOR HARDING

Chief Executive to Cover Whole Lot of Ground On August 3

The committees having charge of President Harding's itinerary while in Southern California are making every effort to afford all residents of the Southland an opportunity to see the chief executive and his party at close range, says Ralph Arnold, chairman.

In furtherance of this suburban trip is being arranged for Friday, August 3, which will cover miles of boulevard, along which every man, woman and child in Southern California can gather without fear of congestion.

The suburban trip committee will assume charge of the president and his party. The out-of-town autos will assemble on the official schedule of the route: Following the visit to the motion picture studios Friday morning, August 3, the suburban trip committee, headed by Ralph Arnold, will assume charge of the president and his party.

EXPERIENCES IN ARMY SECRET SERVICE WORK

SECRET INK is one of the most baffling difficulties of detective work and it has formed the basis of many a mystery story.

In the World War it was used extensively by spies, prisoners and others who had to hide their identity. The intelligence operatives of all countries were constantly on the lookout for secret ink, and as a matter of course the service of one of the members of the army secret service detachment in Washington was devoted to the work of revealing invisible writing.

This man was a professor in Pomona College, having done much experimental work along this line before joining the Corps of Intelligence Police in 1918. He developed an almost uncanny system of processing papers in order to pass it through seven different tests before any one method of secret ink writing would be spoiled.

In other words, the laboratory effort to reveal an ammonia ink must not have been so severe as to obliterate an acid ink. All of which was some little task. The professor seemed equal to the emergency, however, and the results were obtained in the Washington headquarters, caused General Pershing's chief of staff to call for secret ink officers, all of whom would be commissioned lieutenants in the A. E. F.

Hit By Illness It was easier said than done. In all of the United States there were five secret ink experts. After a survey and hurried call for chemists to go into training, it was decided to part with four and have one remain as instructor-chief. He was incapable of over-sees duty and we had to part with our professor, who was young and eager for foreign service.

However, as luck would have it, the day his orders for a commission came through he was suffering from the influenza. As top sergeant of the detachment, the writer had to see that doctor's services, food and money were gotten to him, which was nothing at all compared with conforming to war department orders.

Three days had elapsed before the sailing of the transport on which he was to go to France as a casual. He had to reach New York in another two or three days to report at the port of embarkation and there he was sick in his room in Washington with a high fever and a temperature of 104 degrees. The doctor ordered him to remain in bed.

Gets Commission When he was told that it was necessary to be sworn in at the adjutant general's office at once if he was to be granted a commission, the writer had to see that doctor's services, food and money were gotten to him, which was nothing at all compared with conforming to war department orders.

From that time on he seemed to recuperate rapidly, yet there is no doubt but what he was the sickest sergeant ever commissioned a first lieutenant.

American Girl Tames Crete Bandit Terror

ATHENS, July 23.—Through the intervention of an American girl the island of Crete has just rid itself of the bandit Barbounis, who had terrorized the interior of the island for five years. Every possible crime has been attributed to the bandit and his thirty followers, and frequent attempts to capture him had always resulted disastrously for the gendarmes.

Two months ago Miss Margaret Robinson of Grand Rapids, a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, arrived in the island as the representative of the Near East Relief.

When she found that Barbounis' banditry was hindering her work of distributing refugees in the interior villages she sent an envoy to ask Barbounis if he would give up his outlawry if she arranged amnesty for his past deeds from the Greek government.

Barbounis agreed and Miss Robinson started negotiations with Athens. Eventually it was arranged that Barbounis' past actions would be forgotten if he joined the Greek army on the Turkish front.

Barbounis again agreed and shortly afterward he and his thirty followers came out of their hiding places and joined the "King's Own Regiment" at Dedeagatch.

Slayer Pleads for Sentence of Death RODEZ, France, July 23.—Ivan Celestin, murderer of the father of two little children whose mother also died of grief over the loss of her husband, has just paid for his crime with his own life.

Celestin himself requested the judge to sentence him to death. "I am a scoundrel, and I deserve no pity," he said, after his trial had been completed and a grave sentence was passed. "I beg you to send me to the scaffold so I can expiate my crime."

Before going to his death the murderer begged the unfortunate orphans to forgive him.

L. A. DISTRICT LEADER IN REVENUE

Figures for Fiscal Year Show Section Makes Great Record

The first announcement of the receipts of the United States as a whole for the fiscal year 1923, from income tax collections received by Collector Rex B. Goodcell, by wire from Washington yesterday, indicate that the Los Angeles district again leads the nation in receipts from this source of Federal revenue.

For the fiscal year 1923 the nation as a whole collected $1,678,607,428, in income tax as compared with $2,086,918,464, for the corresponding period of 1922, a loss of $408,311,036.03.

In marked contrast to this showing is that made by the Los Angeles district, which collected $37,155,038, for 1923 as against $35,821,215, for 1922, a gain of $1,333,823. The record of Los Angeles is shown to be an almost remarkable one, when, as Collector Goodcell pointed out a reduction in the income taxpayers' bill in this district amounting to $7,000,000, annually, was provided for by the recent revenue act.

Total Collections The total revenue collections of the nation as a whole for the fiscal year 1923 were $2,624,472,780, compared with $3,197,451,083, for 1922, a decrease of $572,978,323.

In the Los Angeles district the total receipts for 1923 were $47,938,443, as against $49,012,958, for 1922. Collector Goodcell explained that during the first six months of 1922, the transportation, soft drink, luxury, insurance, certain sales taxes, and tax on amusement admissions of ten cents and less were in effect.

From which $5,000,000 was collected. These taxes were not in effect in 1923 having been repealed by the Revenue Act of 1921. In comparing the Los Angeles district's collections for 1923 with 1922, the addition of the collections from the repealed taxes would give the district an increase for 1923 of approximately $4,000,000, bringing the total receipts up to $53,000,000, in round numbers as against the $49,000,000 of 1922.

In L. A. District Under the new Revenue Act the approximate reduction in revenue taxes in the Los Angeles district was $15,000,000, annually. Of this amount $6,000,000, was in transportation taxes, $600,000 in tax on theatre admissions of 10 cents or less, enabling amusement lovers to attend ten cent admission houses 40,000,000 times each year; $850,000 in sales taxes, $700,000 in taxes on soda water and ice cream, and $7,000,000 in income taxes distributed among 180,000 taxpayers with small incomes.

The 1923 collections of the Los Angeles district, which consists of only ten of the fifty-eight counties in California were greater than the combined revenue collections of the entire states of Oregon, Washington, New Mexico, Wyoming, Nevada, Montana, Idaho, with Alaska included.

Warings Spend Week Near Big Bear Lake

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Waring of 719 1/2 South Maryland avenue are now spending a week at Big Bear Lake. Mr. Waring, who is associated with Stephen W. Huntington in the operation of the Army and Navy Store at 201 South Brand boulevard, returned Friday from a yacht cruise to Santa Barbara. He had expected to go on a regatta to Hawaii, but was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

This orchestra, of which Mr. Obenheimer is conductor, consists of ninety of the finest musicians of California. Mr. Obenheimer has a world-wide reputation as a director and musician. His programs for the young people are creating unusual interest and are being wonderfully received.

Preacher Urges Study Of 'Art of Dying'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 23.—"The art of dying, like all other arts, can be mastered through long years of habit," said Rev. Harold Cooper, addressing members of his congregation—the Mayflower Congregational church—here.

"Death is easy for the man who has prepared for it," continued Rev. Dr. Cooper. "Death-bed repentance has its possibilities, but chances are one hundred to one against it, for, usually, as a man lives, so he dies."

"If a man lives for gold, then golden fingers will grip his throat when he comes to die. If a man lives for selfish pleasures, then lives for the siren of pleasure will drown the voice of prayer in the hour of death," Rev. Dr. Cooper asserted.

Infinitely better than the claim that all mankind will die as the beast of the field is the faith displayed by Paul, who, as death approached, offered himself to God, said Rev. Dr. Cooper.

Dollar Day To Be Held Here Next Thursday

GLENDALE merchants have determined to make Thursday, July 26, one of the great shopping days in the history of the city, having selected that as their Dollar Day clearance this summer.

For three months they have been awaiting this opportunity to offer the buying public the very best bargains possible for a dollar and from all indications both the merchants and the public will be vastly benefited.

Dollar Day advertising will appear in The Glendale Evening News tomorrow and Wednesday and readers are urged to take advantage of the merchants' specials. It is a great big get acquainted idea, combined with a clearance of seasonable merchandise at a selling price.

MAN KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

Two Gallons of Liquor Are Found in Car After Crash With Truck

Monshine liquor indirectly caused the death of Manuel Bracamonte of Los Angeles about 1:15 o'clock Sunday morning in a collision on San Fernando road, Los Angeles.

I. L. Fansett of 755 West Doran street was driving a two horse milk cart to Los Angeles for the Glendale Creamery. The automobile containing Bracamonte, his brother, Antonio Bracamonte, and Jesus Salaya was coming away from Los Angeles and, according to report, zig-zagging across the road. Before the team could be turned out of the way, the automobile had been driven directly into the wagon. The tongue passed through the windshield and Bracamonte died on his way to the Los Angeles Receiving Hospital of a broken neck.

After two gallons of whisky, which were in the automobile, had been confiscated, the remaining occupants of the machine were taken to the Los Angeles City Jail.

Mr. Fansett was uninjured. One of the horses, however, was badly bruised. The tongue of the wagon was broken.

Kansas City Singer Captures Italians

PARIS, July 23.—From Rome comes the news of the brilliant singing of Mary Don Levine, an American artist. "Othello" was the scheduled opera, which had to be changed to "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" because of the failure of the scenery to arrive from Milan. However, the production was a decided success and brought the first sold-out houses of the season.

Mary Don Levine hails from Kansas City, where she first studied in the Conservatory. When still very young she pushed on to New York, paying for her lessons by doing bookkeeping on the side and occasionally singing at concerts. Her real opportunity came after her marriage, when she went to Italy to study with one of the best singing masters.

A minor operation was performed upon Arnold Oswald, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Oswald of 325 West Maple street, this morning at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital.

SIX WEEKS ON MOTOR TRIP IN NORTH

Miss Louise Purnell Tells of Visiting Many of Beauty Spots

THAT southern California motorists are found in abundance on the highways of the United States and Canada, is the report of Miss Louise Purnell of 353 Ivy street, who arrived at her Glendale home Saturday after a six weeks' motor trip with Miss Mabel Hutchings of Los Angeles.

With Don Barton of Glendale driving their car Miss Purnell and Miss Hutchings left Glendale six weeks ago and since that time enjoyed traveling hundreds of miles and seeing such beauty spots as Yellowstone and Glacier parks, Lake Louise, Canada; Mt. Rainier and Crater Lake.

Flind Bad Roads "We found bad roads in Montana and Canada," says Miss Purnell in telling of her trip. "We spent ten days in the rain and on several occasions had to carry rocks to hold up the wheels of the car over holes in the road."

An interesting feature of the trip was visiting the new Mormon temple in Cardston, Alberta province, Canada. Over $1,000,000 is being spent in the erection of the great edifice, which is to be dedicated August 1. After the dedication no Gentiles will be admitted within its doors.

From Cardston the party motored over the new Banff-Windermere road over the Canadian Rockies and into the beautiful Kootenay National forest. Then passing through the British Columbia province they returned to the United States and on through Washington and Oregon.

Help Yourself! In these two states Miss Purnell says they found orchards laden with fruit and bearing signs "Help yourself to all the fruit you want."

Snow was so deep on Mt. Rainier that tunnels were dug in some places to allow passage. "It was a wonderful trip," says Miss Purnell, "and we enjoyed fine health during the entire trip, regardless of the variety of weather we encountered."

"We found southern Californians in the majority along the highways and in the camps. Among the cars bearing California licenses those from Long Beach and Pasadena headed the list."

Consider Preparation Of C. of C. Programs

The principal subject taken up for consideration at the monthly meeting of the Association of Commercial Secretaries that met at Hermosa Beach Saturday was the necessity of formulating a program of work, the preparation of its various phases, and the sources from which the information regarding such program is to be secured. The general opinion appeared to be, says Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, who was present, that each city must work out its own program to meet its own particular needs.

ILLINOISANS TO PICNIC JULY 28

Annual Rally at Bixby Park To Bring Together Big Crowd, Is Belief

Loyal Southern Illinoisans will revel and feast all day Saturday, July 28, at Bixby park, Long Beach, under the supervision of Henry J. Brubaker, who will preside, lead the songs and see that no one gets hurt by having too good a time. The indoor social for July will be omitted, in order that this may be the best summer event for "Suckers," according to C. H. Parsons, 901 South Main street, Los Angeles—phone 10261—who has full information for the asking. It is hoped that there will be representatives from 200 "home" towns, and should all the 200,000 Illinoisans of Southern California decide to come to Bixby park next Saturday, "it looks like there might be a right smart jam," says Mr. Brubaker.

Sermon Excerpts And News Notes From Local Churches

CHURCHES of Glendale held solemn, impressive services yesterday, attended by large crowds. Pastors preached on varied topics and special music was provided by soloists and choirs. Herewith are presented brief excerpts from sermons and, too, other church news:

Old Time Religion Keeps Strong Appeal

"The early days of the church, as described in Acts 11 and 13, were days of great activity on the part of laymen," declared Keith L. Brooks at the Presbyterian Brotherhood of the Class in the city council rooms Sunday morning. "If traveling Christians today would witness as they have opportunity, the purpose of God in this age would soon be accomplished," he continued. "You will notice that wherever these laymen went, they preached Jesus Christ. They did not start in attacking the customs of the people when they went into a new community, nor did they try to clean up politics or reform the local government. They believed that more far-reaching results would be brought about by sticking to the divine commission. "Multitudes crowded into the synagogues to hear the Word of God preached by Paul. It is still the biggest drawing card. Dr. David James Burrell of New York recently said: "There are multitudes of churches where the old time religion is preached and rarely, if ever, will you hear the pastor asking with lamentable voice, "Why do not the people come to church?" I have yet to learn of any lack of worshippers in churches where the people can listen to the old time religion."

Religion, Morality, Highway to Heaven

"The Christian Life is one of constant conversion to the standard which Jesus set down for us," asserted Rev. Philip K. Kemp yesterday morning at St. Mark's Episcopal church. "Every time we make a resolve and keep it, we are registering a step in this conversion, for this brings us nearer to Christ. We draw nearer to God in turning to Jesus. The testimony of Peter that Jesus was one whom God had anointed with the Holy Ghost and with power, who went about doing good and did not live in seclusion writing theological treatises is one of the blessings for which we should be thankful. That Peter felt this was the essence of Jesus' work is greatly to his credit. It shows how much clearer he discerned what Jesus was after than some modern people who can think only in terms of abstract theology. "There are highways and byways of life. If we go on a journey, we must stick to the highway. The highway to the city of God is the great common ground of religion and morality. He that trusts in God and does right is on the right road. There is no better reasonable proof to substantiate this conviction than the life of Jesus Christ."

Gospel Contained in One Sentence, Claim

"The Christian, who has seen God in the face of Jesus Christ, is ready to take the consequence of that vision." Rev. H. C. Mulder included this belief in his sermon yesterday morning at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. "In John 3:16 the Gospel is epitomized," he remarked. "It is compressed into one sentence. It tells of the love of God for men, a love so vast, so deep, so high as to be immeasurable, past finding out. Certainly the adverb 'so' never expressed so great a meaning as when Jesus employed it to tell of the immensity of the Father's love for His human children—a love, which reckoned not the cost but, gave in the utmost abandonment. "If it be true that 'no love is pure that is not first passionate,' then the love of God is forever the supreme expression of highest affection for that love is unmatched in sacrificial spirit. Only when we stand within the shadow of the cross of Christ may we understand the marvel of 'God's love.'"

Expect Great Things Of God, Urges Pastor

"Behold I have set before thee an open door" was the text chosen by Rev. B. C. Cory for his sermon at the Sunday morning service at the Casa Verdugo Methodist Episcopal church. "Life is an open door" said the speaker and not a barren peak between two eternities, as it was called by Robert J. Ingersoll. "Expect great things of God and attempt great things for God." He referred to the Panama Canal as the open door from New York to the Orient, and the iron-clad man of character, Col. Goethals, in illustration. Rev. Cory followed the sermon with some very interesting reminiscences of his life while in college, when one of his classmates

ACCUSE WOOD OF VIOLATING LAWS

Filipino Leaders Cable Their Side of Dispute to President Harding

MANILA, P. I., July 23.—Manuel Quezon, senate leader, and Speaker Roxas, both recently resigned from the council of state, cabled President Harding today accusing Governor-General Wood of violating "the fundamental laws of the land and other existing laws," and stating their joint resignation "by no means implies an attack against the sovereignty of the United States or your administration." Quezon visited Governor Wood, giving rise to rumors that some plan of settlement was under consideration. It later developed Quezon inquired about rumors of martial law and was told by Governor Wood that such a step was not contemplated. Governor Wood said the council of state would act as his advisory board as before. It was announced today that Secretary of the Interior Laurel and Secretary of Justice Santos would accompany Quezon on his trip to the United States to lay matters before President Harding. Quezon today cabled the Philippine bureau in Washington that the "uncertain political status of the Philippines must be settled once and for all."

Hearts of Some Men Compared to Wayside

"The Sower and His Seed" was the topic of the sermon yesterday morning at the Concordia Lutheran church. "A sower went out to sow his seed," said Rev. Henry O. Kringle, "As he sowed, some fell by the wayside and it was trodden down and the fowls of the air devoured it. The seed is the Word of God. Those by the wayside are they who hear; then cometh the devil and taketh the Word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved. "So there is a class of men whose hearts resemble the wayside. When the sower walks along the edge of the field, casting out his seed by the handfuls, some of the seed perhaps will get beyond the tilled soil and fall on the road where it is crushed under the feet of those who walk there. What a striking illustration of some of the hearers of the divine Word. There are some people, who get an occasional seed of God's Word, a stray seed, which falls on the wayside. They are not regular attendants at church. They drop in occasionally or when something unusual occurs."

Declares Christian Religion Can't Fail

"Sowing in Tears: Reaping in Joy" was the sermon topic yesterday morning at the Broadway Methodist Church South. The text was taken from the 126th Psalm: "He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." "The Christian religion, declared Rev. L. J. Millikan, "should appeal to every rational human being in all the world. It represents Jesus Christ and is a decidedly forward movement. It has not failed; it will not fail; it cannot fail. Very often the efforts and ideas of men, who know and some who think they know, have failed but Jesus Christ never established anything to be a failure. Those who make the statement that Christianity has failed, are guilty of rank blasphemy. "We need not apologize for being Christians. Christianity has developed all we know or can know of science. It is a practical and conquering religion and in time will triumph in a victory over all men. The grace of Jesus Christ is sufficient for the needs of every soul."

Better Social Order Implies Piety, Faith

"The man, who does not anticipate a better social order, has neither vision, piety nor faith," said Rev. C. M. Calderwood yesterday morning at the First Congregational Church. "We cannot look backward to the Kingdom of God for the Kingdom of God has never been established," he continued. "The Kingdom of God is not in history, it is that better thing that God has prepared for them that love Him. "Men value the Kingdom of God but they do not value it sufficiently to pay the price. They would like it, if they did not have to sacrifice anything or change anything to get it. "To bring in the Kingdom of God is a task that Jesus laid upon every individual who professes himself to be a follower. If we stop at less we are not following the example of Jesus. "The great need of the world today is that Christian men and women have a social objective set before them. It was for this that Jesus gave His life on calvary."

Seek Release of Film Actress' Pay Check

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Proceedings to furnish a bond for the release of the salary of Gloria Swanson, film star, were undertaken today in the superior court when it became known that the star had been sued to recover $7500 alleged to be due for legal services performed in connection with the settlement of her affairs with her husband, Herbert K. Sornborn, shortly before her suit for divorce was instituted several months ago. With the return of the attachment, it was revealed that the action was filed in the name of Fannie Prince, acting as assignee for Bauer, Wright & McDonald, formerly her attorneys. The divorce suit still is pending and has not been set for trial, although Sornborn's default has been entered.

Need for Leaders Is Stressed by Pastor

"Wanted: Leaders!" was the title of the sermon yesterday morning at the Central Christian church. Leaders are always needed," asserted Rev. C. A. Cole. "Never more than right now. Great leaders and more leaders!" "Writers and speakers play too much on the old and worn-out and gloomy; we can't all be leaders. The thought has withered many a young idealist's hopes. The lack of initiative and motives for leadership is hindering the advance of Christianity and Christian civilization. And I believe one reason for this is that we have magnified out of proportion the commonplace and the second rate. "We ought to foster and train and spiritualize the innate desires for power. We've stifled them too long. It's amazing how few seem to be capable of leadership and initiative. "If there were ever a call of God, it comes today from heathen lands. Nor is this romance, but a studied, sane, Christy mission that means a place of leadership in moulding civilization."

Christ's Message Is Warning to Wicked

"Do we have any reliable message from beyond the grave?" This was one of the questions discussed last night at the Gospel Missionary Alliance. "The Book of Revelation is a message of the risen Christ from the other side of the grave," said Rev. C. H. Chrisman. "It contains, in addition to many promised blessings, the most solemn warnings to which the people of this generation could well take heed. Christ's return to earth bodily and personally was set forth as follows: "He had a bodily resurrection; He went away with a body; He will return with a body. And the world has yet to taste the joy of having a universal king in whom is invested omnipotent power, absolute justice and definite love." "The return of the Jews to their own land, according to Rev. Chrisman, is a conspicuous sign indicating the approach of the Second Coming. He inquired: "Who is so blind as to be unable to see this sign written large upon the outstanding events of today?"

The committee is urgent that all communities through which the president and his party passes be profusely decorated with large American flags, including the derrieks in the oil fields viewed.

'Supposing' Is Theme Of Lutheran Pastor

"Supposing" was the theme of the sermon yesterday morning at the First Lutheran church. "Suppositions are easily formed," remarked Dr. H. C. Funk, "the fact is that suppositions are often nothing more or less than white lies. For a convenient way out of things, all you need to do is to suppose something to suit the occasion. Indeed, when we come to think about it, supposing is a very serious matter. I heard of some one suppose that a noise in the night was caused by a burglar, resulting in the death of a member of the family. And how many persons have lost their lives by supposing that the revolver was not loaded. Most business failures are the result of over-sanguine expectations. "No, it doesn't pay to lie. If you cannot make your business go without lying about it, you had better get out of the business. You will find that in the end it does not pay. There are no truly successful liars."

Aspects of Present Day Life Discussed

"What in the present day social life would Christ approve or disapprove?" was the subject of the discussion early last night at the Congregational Christian Endeavor. The morning service was enriched by the church quartet. This is composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cavanah of 130 North Orange street, Myron Carman of 93 Salem street and Mrs. W. Q.
