McGraw's Entry Outclasses Huggins' Hired Hands From the Moment That Groh Ties Score

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—After more than two hours of baseball that ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous, the Giants won the opening game of the world series from the Yankees this afternoon before a crowd of 62,000, the greatest number of cash customers that ever passed through a single set of turnstiles in the history of the post-season games. The score was 5 to 4, but it hardly told the story.

As opportunists, the McGraw entry fairly outclassed the Yankees from the moment that Heine Groh tied the score with a triple to right, scoring three, until Casey Stengel drove a home run to deep left center for the winning run in the ninth.

Stengel's drive mopped up all the loose ends of a pitcher's battle between Joe Bush and Bill Ryan. This was carried through from the third inning, when Waite Hoyt and John Watson, the original pitching selections, had turned a bit sour and left the zone of action, by request.

Two Innings Enough
Watson had nothing but his needle as the dope might have put it, and departed from our midst at an early moment and without lamentations. Two innings were an ample sufficiency for John, the Yankees scoring one in the first on a pass to Dugan, a force out by Ruth and R. Meusel's double to left center. Two more followed in the second and John followed McGraw's index finger, pointing toward the dugout. The sad details were these:

Ward singled, so did Schang. Scott laid down his sacrificial life and after Hoyt had swung thrice without damage, Witt singled, scoring both.

Homer Cuts Knot
Enter then but all and all Yankees scored ending until the seventh, when Bush singled and scored in front of Dugan's triple which Young lost in the gloom of the stands. This diverse circumstance tied the score and kept it down until Stengel's homer cut the knot with two down in the ninth.

The Giants were outlit, 12 to 8, but never out-thought nor out-played. They entered the third inning three runs to the immediate rear and wasted no time in rectifying the matter at Hoyt's expense.

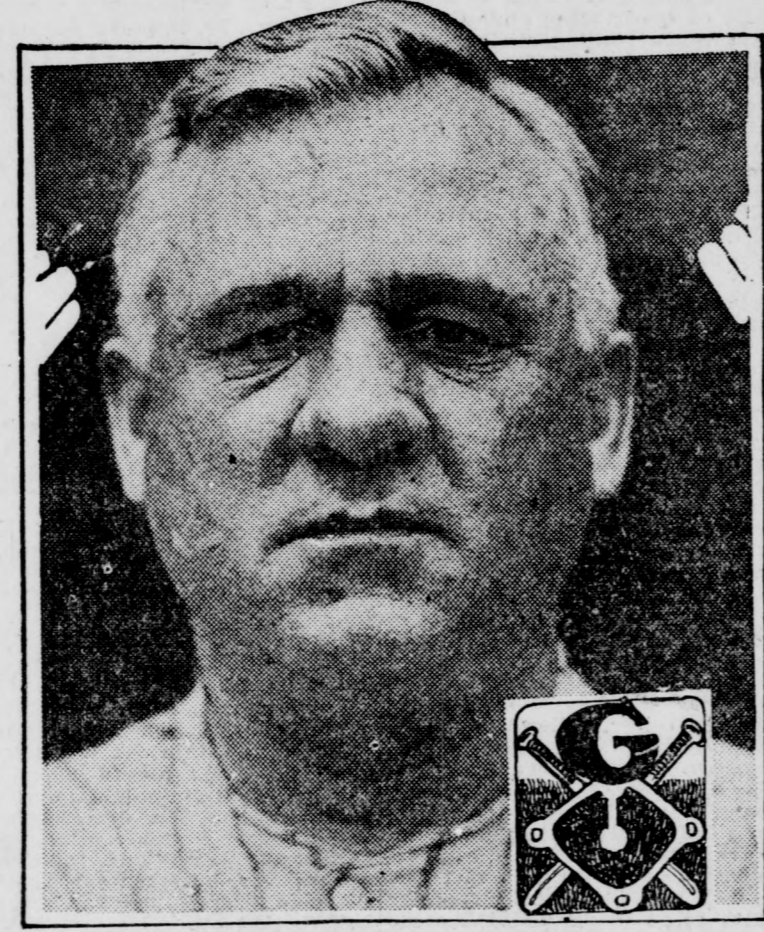

Following is the story by innings:

FIRST INNING
First Half—Giants: Bancroft up. Strike one, ball one, low, inside. Bancroft out. It was an easy fly to Ruth in right field. Groh up. Groh singled to center. Frisch up. Ball one, wide, strike one, swung. Ball two, inside. Groh out on a fielder's choice. Scott to Ward, Frisch taking first. Young up. Foul tip, strike one. Ball one. Frisch out trying to steal, Schang to Ward. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Half—Yankees: Witt up. Strike one, called. Witt out on a line drive to Bancroft. Dugan up. Strike one, he missed it. Ball one, it was a low one. Strike two, swung. Ball two, low and wide. Ball three, wide. Ball four, wide. Dugan takes a walk. Ruth was greeted with a rousing cheer, the first demonstration of the game. Ruth up, strike one, called. Strike two, missed. Ball one, wide. Dugan out, forced at second. Groh to Frisch, Ruth taking first. Groh fumbled Ruth's hard grounder for a second but recovered in time to get Dugan. R. Meusel up. Strike one, called. Meusel smashed a fly between E. Meusel and Stengel and Ruth raced across the plate with the first run. R. Meusel pulling up at second. Pipp up. Ball one, low, strike one. Ball two, outside. Pipp out on a fly to E. Meusel. One run, one hit, no errors, one left on base.

SECOND INNING
First half—Young up. Strike one, called. Young out. Dugan to Pipp. E. Meusel up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Meusel out on a high foul to Pipp. Stengel up. Strike one, swung. Strike two, swung. Strike two, called, foul. Ball one, low, Stengel out on a long fly that chased Ruth up against the right field wall. No runs; no hits; no errors.

Cold Seats, Fresh Peanuts, Anxious Fans, All Provide Musings for Medbury!

By JOHN P. MEDBURY
Written for International News Service

Long before the sun began doing its stuff today, several hundred baseball fans were lined up at the general admission gates of the Yankee stadium. One wife sent a wire of thanks to John McGraw. She said it was the first time she's been able to get her husband out of bed in the morning since last October.

A Brooklyn man claimed he had been waiting in line so long that he forgot what he was waiting for. He went home to find out and when he came back his place was gone.

Another guy went up to the box office and said he planned on seeing all the games but he didn't have any money. He wanted to know if he could open a charge account.

He said he walked all the way from St. Louis to bet on the Yankees. The chances are he'll have to walk back there, too.

Of course, the Yankees have a good chance of coping; the only thing that could possibly keep them from winning is the Giants.

But the games will be on the square. Judge Landis has given us cleaner baseball and fresher peanuts.

By H. THOMPSON RICH

En Route to Sacramento

FRESNO, Oct. 10.—"We promised to deliver 300 delegates from southern California to the convention and we have made good our promise," declared Glenn D. Willaman, secretary of the California Real Estate Association, as the long caravan of more than a hundred cars pulled out of here at 7:30 o'clock this morning for Stockton and Sacramento.

With Pasadena, 1924 convention city, leading, and Glendale still well to the front, the long procession headed toward the capital city. The following boards were represented:

List of Cities in Line
Pasadena, Glendale, Alhambra, Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Fullerton, Bakersfield, Compton, Fresno, Hermosa Beach, Inglewood, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Monrovia, Ontario, Montebello, Upland, Pomona, Redlands, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, Selma, San Diego, San Pedro, Southwest Los Angeles, Tulare, Torrance, Visalia, Watts, West Hollywood, Ventura, Whittier and Honolulu.

A distance of one hundred and twenty thousand miles would be covered were one car to make the combined mileage from Los Angeles straight through to our destination. Speed cops have met the caravan at each county line and escorted it to the next. We have been given the right of way over everything but fire engines.

Pasadena Sings, Too
Last night the Pasadena delegation uncorked a fine strain of harmony at the banquet in Hotel Fresno, even singing Glendale's song to the tune of "Barney Google" with great gusto.

"Kern county will supply the cotton, let Los Angeles county supply the factories for fabricating it," was the challenge flung to the Southern delegates by Tom Burke, Kern county assessor, at a luncheon in the Stockdale Country club yesterday. "Los Angeles is bound to be a great industrial center and Kern county a great agricultural one," he declared.

Women and Girls Plead for Opportunity to Hear Divorce Drama

By JACK CARBERRY
For International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The story of the ages was being re-enacted here today—man against woman, husband against wife; December against May—William Earl Dodge Stokes, 73, millionaire clubman, judge of fine horses and beautiful women, against his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, mother of his children, 40 years his junior.

Outside the tribunal of Supreme Court Justice Mahoney, crowds—mostly women and girls—pleaded for admission to the divorce drama, with its lurid particulars. Inside, the five-year legal battle—Stokes' effort to paint his wife in colors of scarlet, Mrs. Stokes' defense for honor—went into its third day, with new promises of surprise and sensations.

Stokes delivered a surprise blow today in his battle involving his millions and a divorce from his beautiful wife.

Elmer E. Henshaw, chauffeur for Mrs. Stokes during her life with Stokes, testified that on at least six occasions he had driven the pretty defendant to the "love nest" alleged to have been maintained by E. T. Wallace, the correspondent named by Stokes.

"I waited for her about an hour each time," he said in reply to questions by Max Steiner, counsel for Stokes.

No sooner was this amazing statement made than pandemonium broke loose in the court.

Mrs. Stokes leaped to her feet, screaming:

"You lie! You lie! You dirty chauffeur."

Mrs. A. Smiler, Denver, mother of Mrs. Stokes, also leaped to her feet and attempted to attack the witness physically.

"I am going to get a gun," she screamed hysterically. "I'm going to get a gun and put an end to this."

U. S. JURY PROBES CRIMINAL RING

Los Angeles Confessions by Herb Wilson May Bring Indictment of Score

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—The federal grand jury was today to begin an active investigation of an asserted professional criminal ring whose depredations were declared to total at least $16,000,000 secured in the robbery of the United States mails and of several of the largest mercantile establishments of the country.

Indictment of at least twenty persons, including important figures in the financial world and others throughout the nation, were expected to result from the probe which may last a week or ten days.

With the opening of the grand jury session today post-office inspectors expected to place before the inquisitorial board two confessions supported by a host of corroborative witnesses. Special United States Attorney David C. Hall is scheduled to present the collected evidence to the grand jury and should indictments result he will probably prosecute them.

The principal confession to be presented to the grand jury was that of Herbert Wilson, arch-criminal, mail robber and convicted murderer of Herbert Cox, his one-time pal and confederate. Wilson is now in San Quentin prison serving a life term for Cox's slaying.

The Wilson confession is not new, but the investigators claim that every detail of it has been checked and that it has been sufficiently substantiated to warrant presentation to the grand jury.

COMMENT That's All
What Others Are Saying Sun and Its Heat Sorrows of the Rich Four Frivolous Thoughts
By Gil A. Cowan

Today we take the privilege and pleasure of presenting to you the unadulterated ideas of other editors, which we have selected with more or less careless haste in the rush of preparing for the world series news of the day. "The Sun and Its Heat" is the subject of the Santa Ana Register. It says: "Whenever a spell of cold weather that seems unreasonable to the casual observer hits any section of the country, speculation immediately arises as to whether the sun is cooling off. A scientist of the Smithsonian Institution made observations covering the years from 1905 to 1920. His measurements indicated that the 'solar constant' had decreased 2.6 per cent. "However, although it was carried on from the tops of lofty peaks, his experiment was considerably influenced by the atmosphere of great elevation. In spite of dust, water vapor, and other atmospheric conditions affect any such observation. "One bold scientist once estimated that the center of the sun might have a temperature as high as 1,000,000 degrees. Artificial heat at that rate would be of the same nature as an ordinary body, it would be too cold in 3000 or 4000 years to warm the earth's atmosphere. But the sun is hundreds of millions of years old, the scientists believe, and it is supposed to have been radiating energy for fifty or a hundred million of those years. Whatever cooling off it is doing must be of quite a different nature. "A meteorologist, writing on the subject suggests that the turbidity in the earth's atmosphere and weather changes of quite local nature have been responsible for the supposed changes in the solar constant. "Apparently until the inhabitants of this earth learn to rise above their atmosphere, they will be handicapped in their study of the sun. "Sorrows of the Rich," an interesting topic always, is discussed by the San Bernardino Sun as follows: "Another illustration that truth is at least as strange as fiction is found in the news that because she patronizes 'hot dog' restaurants when she is in town, she is to have a wealthy woman declared insane. "The novelist, Joseph Hergesheimer, has the hero of one of his recent books—if his books can be said to have heroes—dragged to an insane asylum because he is tired of the food and the general manner of life to which those who have acquired great riches seem to have condemned themselves, and seeks a change by going to the country and doing manual labor. "Those who complain that the need of earning their daily bread keeps their hands to the grindstone all the time and that they cannot do as they please, should consider the fate of the rich who dare not pick apples or eat a 'hot dog' lest they be clapped into an asylum. A poor woman can at least eat a 'hot dog' in peace if she wishes to do so, but the rich are the poor woman does not care for it. "Missionaries from foreign lands tell of the tyrannies of the caste system there, but there seems to be something which works about the same way here. "And here are the paragraphs' pets from the papers of the state. Papyrus, that beer-drinking horse, had better be warned to say neigh to our bootleg stuff. Mail of Woodland. "It seems that the average man is for better government, better babies and a better town. In fact, a better everything but a better self.—Willows Journal. Hollywood indignantly denies that movies breed crime, so possibly it would be better to say merely that crime breeds some movies.—Marysville Democrat. "If you never tried it, a quick way to commit suicide is to tell a middle-aged woman she looks well-preserved.—Redding Searchlight.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE
"The Eternal Struggle" shows at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today, with its lavish sets, direction by Reginald Barker, production by Louis B. Mayer, distribution by Metro, from the famous G. B. Lancaster novel, "The Law-Bringers."
A word should be said about the photographic results obtained by Percy Hiburn in this film. They are superb, warranting all the hardship and risk of life necessary to obtain them.
When Reginald Barker sets out to make a picture, he first obtains a large bank-roll. Then he takes a company of capable players and sets out for the frozen northland. No faked snow stuff for him! The result is a picture that will go down in film history as one of the best outdoor dramas not only of this season, but of many a season.

First, the new body. It is a splendid example of the most artistic coach-work to be found here or abroad.

Next the appointments. There's a new instrument board with dull black satin finish.

All the instruments are grouped deftly and conveniently in three assemblies, covered with heavy plate-glass panels.

There's a rear-vision mirror; an automatic windshield wiper; kick-plates below the doors to guard the finish from heel or toe.

And there are finely-fashioned new vanity and smoking sets, of flush-type.

These and a score more of tasteful fittings testify to the luxury Nash has built into this enclosed model.

Then the performance. It has the briskness and vigor of a speedster. It's a real delight to drive because it handles so easily and lightly.

Right now we're putting on a special Autumn showing of this particular model. Come in and view it.

GLENDALE TEAMS TAKE TWO GAMES

Hollywood and Franklin Fall Before Dashing Attacks of Local Players

By NEAL F. SOOY
Written for The Evening News
Both teams of the Glendale Union High school conquered in yesterday's frays when they met two of the strongest city league teams. The varsity trampled on the Hollywood eleven, 12-0 and the 130 pounders squelched the Franklinites, 7-0.

The heavyweights were unable to penetrate the Hollywood line the first half, but in the third quarter they plunged their way up the gridiron on line bucks and Bud Elliott scored on a short pass. In the last minute of play, Howard Elliott carried the ball over on an end run. He failed to convert both times. Brucker and Morrison played better games at guard than they have this season, successfully stopping the center rushes of the Footballers.

The first quarter was extremely short, each team having the ball for four downs only three times apiece. Hollywood kicked off and Glendale lost on yards. Hollywood lost on yards. Glendale punted. Hollywood's ball when the whistle blew.

More Time Allowed
The second quarter was lengthened five minutes. Hollywood West made yards. Bud Elliott made a long run, but the ball was knocked out of his hands and Hollywood recovered, but punted a few downs later. Glendale took the ball 40 yards up the field before they were stopped. Hollywood's ball.

Hollywood kicked off. Glendale punted after making yards. Hollywood tried to punt but the punter went to sleep and the ball bounced off his face over the line. The next play he kept his eyes open and punted safely. Denny caught the ball and was tackled by Hibbs. Glendale tackle, who mistook the red jersey for a Hollywood player, Elliott ran 30 yards with the pill. Bud Elliott scored on a pass. Elliott fumbled a place kick. Score: 6-0.

Holly kicked. Elliott again took the ball 20 yards. He failed in an attempt to drop-kick. Holly punted. Glendale steadily made yards until Elliott took the ball over. He fumbled another place kick. Score: 12-0.

Punch Is Lacking
The lightweights lacked the fighting spirit necessary to pile up a big score in their fracas. Several times they were up near the goal and failed to put it over. In fact, once they were on the three yard line, last down, and the quarter called for a place kick which whizzed over the heads of the players that were on the ground.

In about the last three minutes of play, McAllister scored the only touchdown. He was over the line touching for a pass, but a Franklin

STANFORD HOLDS HIGHEST HOPES

Followers of Football See Strong Lineup for Cardinal Eleven

By J. EVERT SMITS
Written for The Evening News
PALO ALTO, Oct. 10.—"What's Stanford's chance in the way of football championship?" I asked Harry Bennett, former Glendale high student here, and he told me an earful.

The fact that every experienced man from last year's varsity is having to make an awful fight to hold his position shows the great amount of material available this season. Thirty-five men were ordered by Kerr to report at training table last Wednesday and, because of the unusually large number of high-class men, he picked eleven more who can attend talks, but are not to be present at the training table. The selection of this forty-six leaves about thirty-five others out in the cold as far as this season is concerned.

Johnston Back in Fold
Charles Johnston, tackle, who was barred from the game last Christmas by the scholarship committee and returned to the university only a few weeks ago, was given a place at the table on the basis of his work last year. Kerr is much pleased to have Johnston back, for he is a high-class man and is needed to fill out the Stanford line. He and Shipke in the tackle berths, along with Cravens and Faville as guards, give the Cards a formidable line. Cravens, veteran from Pasadena, is fighting for his position against Bill Neill, another Southern California boy who hails from Santa Monica.

Stanford has a much more favorable schedule this year than she did last and does not make the mistake of taking on a powerful team, such as the Olympic club, early in the season as she did then. The Cards are playing weaker organizations in the first games this year and will be well set when the conference games roll around.

Optimism Around Campus
The optimistic atmosphere of the Stanford campus continues to develop, and everyone interested in the Cards declares that there will be no more "moral victories" such as Stanford's ability to score on the Bears and other strong teams, but there will be real clean-cut wins. Stanford has had a long, hard climb back to a place among the leaders in Pacific coast football, but she apparently has arrived.

Prospects for the future also appear bright, for the Card babes are fast developing into the best freshman team in California. Their decisive defeat of the strong San Diego high school squad when they piled up a total of fifty-six points without allowing the southerners to score, proves that they are indeed fast. An abundance of material is being worked up for the next year's varsity. Stanford is coming back, and coming back strong.

Others in Line
Much has been said of the Tiger wingmen, Spangler and Argue. No team in the conference will be able to put anything over on this all-conference pair of ends. They go down under punts like lightning and circle the enemy with Beverly Hill speed. They know the knack of snagging passes from all sorts of miraculous positions out of the air.

Priault at center reinforces the line. The sentries of the front line trench are McDonald and Creighton, both husky guards who know their onions. They helped to put more than one San Diego man on the casualty list.

Art Garey has been shifted to the line where he fits like a tailor made man. Jock Stevens, monstrous frosh tackle last year, is right at home opposite Garey. Their motto is "no one shall pass." Outside of Ridderhoff, they are the two heaviest men on the team, and not only heavy but fast and powerful hitters.

Venice Bowlers Take Two From Radio Gas

The Venice American legion bowlers lowered the pride of Glendale's major league team in their game last night on the Recreation Center's bowling alleys, defeating the Radio Gas team by two games to one.

Glendale won the first game, by a wide margin, but Venice came back in the second round and nosed out the locals by four pins, winning the third by a difference of 975 to 811. Score:

OXY READY FOR FOOTBALL FIGHT

All Well and Rarin' to Go Report From Eleven at Eagle Rock

By LARRY RAYMOND
Written for The Evening News
Southern California's conference football season opens Saturday. Coach "Timberwolf" Pipal will send a masterful array of grid demons against the Redlands University eleven. The Tiger pack will make their debut on Paterson field with not a single player on the sick or injured list.

They are all in the best of condition and not the least fatigued from their encounter with the San Diego State Teachers' college last week-end.

With the opening of a strenuous grid season near at hand, there are always many alibis, prophecies, wagers and fistic word battles regarding the chances, luck and ability of the various teams to cop the title. Although it is considered impossible to pick the winners, the Oxidation eleven looks most promising to snag the championship.

Smooth Working Machine
Coach Pipal with the aid of Assistant Coach Rundquist has whipped into place the smoothest machine that Oxy can boast of since 1916 when they cleaned up the state. With ten veterans as a powerful nucleus for the Tiger Tribe to start the season and close to forty others fighting desperately for a position on the coming championship squad, things are turning out more than successfully at Oxy.

The orange and black are learning a superior brand of football and absorbing some of the high-toned all-American stuff dished out by the coaching staff. Former all-state tackle at Oxy in 1916, Ralph Deems, is giving a helping hand, as is Fred Johnson, coach at Hollywood during the past few years.

When Redlands artists buck up against the high speed Tiger Duesenberg machine, piloted by the famous ace of aces Captain Tony Spangler next Saturday afternoon, they will see that the Oxy team is not all talk, but action. They possess a well-oiled and plentiful supply of beef, and a "Stonewall Jackson defense."

Ah! Listen to This
Ridderhoff and Ebers are backing up the line to perfection. Young Ebers is getting to have a national reputation as shiek of the punting kingdom. His accurate and marvelous punts are worthy of much praise. Ebers also has a wicked pedistal extremity for placekicking.

Gordon Shoaf takes all the candles when it comes to calling signals for the weekly birthday parties. He is ranked as one of the tightest quarterbacks in the conference. His lack of weight is more than set off by his scientific understanding of the game which enables him to get the jump on the enemy. Chevis Westgate completes the first string backfield and is a priceless half. When this set goes lunging through the line and steps round the ends like a flash, the fans will see one of the best varsity prospects of the season for all-conference football do his stuff.

P. E. Asks Permission to Construct Subway
The Pacific Electric Railway company has applied to the State Railroad commission for permission to construct and maintain a subway from Hill street between Fourth and Fifth streets, Los Angeles, to Glendale boulevard.

The railway company states that it has secured the right-of-way for the construction of two lots, and condemnation proceedings have already been set for hearing in the superior court of Los Angeles county on November 16, to secure the right of way over these two lots. The right of way it is declared, has already cost the company $834,647.50, and a franchise for the construction of the tunnel and the line of railway has been granted by the city of Los Angeles.

EMERSON SCHOOL COMEDY PLEAS

'Her Honor, the Mayor,' Staged Before Capacity Crowd at Club House

'Her Honor, the Mayor,' presented last night before a capacity audience at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse by the students of the Emerson School of Expression, 730-732 South Glendale avenue, revealed itself as a clever bit of local comedy. That many appreciative friends and admirers were in the auditorium was attested by the applause given at the close of each act.

The Postoffice Employees' band rendered several selections before the play opened, and C. K. Aston's orchestra also played several selections, besides playing the accompaniment for the Sufragette song.

Between the first and second acts, Miss Bess Long, piano and harmony teacher at the Emerson school, played "Rigoletto," by Verdi-Liszt, and an encore which was greatly appreciated by the audience. At the close of the second act, Miss Marcia Joy, teacher of dancing and physical culture at the school, danced the "Valse Caprice" by Rubinstein and an encore. Miss Joy's grace and artistic interpretation of the dance proved a most delightful number.

The complete program presented last night is as follows: Place: Your Home Town. Time: The Day After Tomorrow.

ACT I—Running for Office and Eve dreams.

ACT II—Eve's dream; When Women Rule.

ACT III—Eve's Awakening and Her Lord and Master.

The cast of characters: Lester Parameter—Candidate for Mayor—who becomes the Mayor's Husband, Henry Bieder-mann.

Hon. Mike McGoon—Political Boss, who becomes the Hired Girl, John Milton Hague.

The Rosalie Myers—Her Chum, who becomes a Millionaire, Helen Page.

Eliza Goober—The "Cullud" Cook, who becomes Chief of Police, Mrs. Max Bayha.

NEW MORTUARY FOR L. G. SCOVERN

More Than 300 Mourners Will Be Accommodated in New Chapel

The L. G. Scovern company has approved plans for a new mortuary which will be a credit to Glendale.

A building permit for the new establishment was taken out yesterday and specified an investment of $20,000 although the cost of the building is expected to exceed this amount. Architecture, both exterior and interior, will be typically Spanish.

The site is the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Garfield avenue where the building will be numbered 828 South Brand boulevard. The property has a frontage of about 105 feet on Brand boulevard and about 90 feet on Garfield avenue. The building, which will have a width of 76 feet, will be placed in the middle of the lot and 30 feet back from the sidewalk. It will be surrounded by a lawn and attractive landscaping.

The chapel, which will be 38x36 feet in size, will have a seating capacity of more than 250 persons. A mezzanine balcony will be able to accommodate 50 persons more. The family room and the choir room will be in the rear. Space is being provided for an organ.

Five work rooms, which will be furnished like bedrooms in residences, will occupy the north side of the first floor. The northwest corner of the first floor will contain the offices. The garage for the hearses and ambulance will be located in the rear.

Apartment Above

The second floor will contain salesrooms and a seven-room apartment.

Construction work is to be commenced at once. The building will be ready about the first of the year.

Louis G. Scovern, who has been located at 1000 South Brand boulevard for the past ten years, is one of the best known and best liked morticians in southern California.

Work Your Dollars on a "Night Shift," Too

All my business life I have felt this: That when I have persuaded any man to open an account with our bank, I have conferred a favor on him and his family.

He gets the habit of watching his deposits grow. He keeps his balance safe and healthy. It fosters his pride. It makes him a careful business man and earns him a place of credit. It gives him standing among the business men of his community.

There are many men who never keep a bank account. Their bank is their pocket book, and it is broke most of the time. They expect to find a hen that will some time lay them eggs of gold, and they forget that one egg in the hand is worth two in the hen.

The dollars you put in the bank are hard-working double-duty dollars. They work a "day shift" and a "night shift." Twenty-four hours a day they are busy piling up interest for you. How large a "force" of dollars is working in this bank for you?

LA CRESCENTA SERVICE LEAGUE QUILTING PARTY

Women Working to Increase Church Building Fund; Will Buy Chairs

The Women's Service League met at the home of Mrs. Willis Wise yesterday to work on the quilts they are making for a lady in La Canada. The women are quilting the quilts by hand. The money from the work will be turned into the fund for the church building fund. The service league has on hand a little over $1000 and is working hard to bring the fund up, as the church is badly in need of money for chairs.

The board of directors of the La Crescenta Mutual Water Co. met Monday night, after the stockholders' meeting and elected their officers as follows: A. M. Brown, president; A. L. Mead, vice-president; W. M. Mills, secretary; and A. V. Adkins, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooley held a family reunion this week at their Honolulu avenue home. Those present were Mrs. Wooley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Renius of Long Beach; Mrs. J. O. Stromquist and daughter, Phyllis, of Lindsburg, Kans.; Paula and Adeline Renius of Long Beach; A. C. Renius and daughter Virginia, K. P. Renius, wife and baby of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Grant Booher, Miss Jacqueline and Veda Renius of Long Beach, Mrs. H. H. and Alma Alson, the host and hostess and two sons, Keith and Earl.

A remarkable coincidence was that there are five cars of the same make in the Wooley family, a roadster, a sport model, sedan, touring car and a coupe. Mrs. Waltz, sister of Mrs. S. B. Young, whom she has been visiting this summer, left for her home in Florida this week. Master John Hanson spent the week end with his grandmother, at Huntington Park. Mr. and Mrs. Montague Cleves of Briggs Terrace are rejoicing in the arrival of a little daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Bissell are also welcoming a little daughter, who arrived yesterday. M. R. Card, who has been with the Sparr Heights sales force for some time, has opened a real estate office in Los Angeles, where he will be an independent broker. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson have had as their house guest, Livo Sillori of New York City. Mr. Sillori is an artist and decorator of note and has been fortunate in procuring a suitable studio for his work in Los Angeles. He has done the interior decorating in the beautiful new home Mr. Sparr Heights just completed at Sparr Heights, after which he will do some homes in Hollywood.

WHITEHILL HAS FINE REPERTOIRE

American Baritone Appears Here Friday Night for Music Club

Glendale Music club members are to hear a program rich in artistic value Friday night, when Clarence Whitehill, American baritone, will appear as the first attraction of the club's concert series. The program will begin at 8:15 o'clock, announces Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, club president. Mr. Whitehill will be assisted by Charles Hart, pianist.

Mr. Whitehill's program is arranged in five groups, and will include:

- "La Procession" (Franck).
- "Chant de Touraine" (Masse-net).
- "Viviane Ivernale" (Zandonai).
- "The Isle" (Rachmaninoff).
- "My Native Land" (Gretchanin-off).
- "Es Blinkt Der Thay" (Rubin-stein).
- "Die Beiden Grenadiers" (Schu-mann).

- "Die Possente" (Faust) (Gou-nod).
- "Am Meer" (Schubert).
- "Staedchen" (Brahms).
- "Traum Durch die Damm-erung" (Strauss).
- "Caecilie" (Strauss).

- "The Next Market Day" (old Irish).
- "A Ballynure Ballad" (old Irish).
- "Would, God, I Were the Tender Apple Blossom" (old Irish).
- "On the Road to Mandalay" (Spears).

Officers of the music club are greatly gratified over the engagement with Mr. Whitehill and over the splendid response to the sale of tickets for this and following concerts.

Those who are anticipating hearing Mr. Whitehill will be interested to know that in addition to being widely recognized as a famous American operatic baritone he has had experience as a "cow puncher" on the western plains. One description of him says: "Mr. Whitehill is a big man, six feet, and at first glance one knows that he is an athlete and used to the open air. His cowboy days ended when he was eighteen and at that stage of his career he seriously thought of joining the ranks of professional baseball. Altogether, Whitehill is a typical American sport enthusiast; he is a good boxer, a fine swimmer and plays a capital game of golf."

Mr. Whitehill's musical experience has included extensive study and concert work at home and abroad.

Community Property Tax Ruling Received

Every married couple in California is affected by a ruling from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair which holds that the income from community property in California is not divisible under the statutes of California either before or after the recent amendments to the California state laws relative to community property. The ruling, which was made upon request of Collector Rex Goodcell, was received yesterday and means that in the face of the amendments to the Civil Code of California, enacted last spring, the internal revenue bureau holds that for income-tax purposes, income from community property belongs to the husband and that the husband must file a return covering the entire income from property owned jointly by husband and wife.

Webb Store Reveals Latest In Fashions for Milady This Afternoon and Evening

Milady Fashion in the most ultra fall and winter modes greeted Glendale women this afternoon at the H. S. Webb Company store on North Brand boulevard at Wilson avenue, for a brilliant fashion revue presented on the second floor of the store. Additional display and entertainment will be given again tonight from 7 till 10 o'clock.

The second floor of the new store proved an ideal place for the affair and C. J. Hatz, head of the ready-to-wear department, assisted by Mrs. Mary Baxter of the sports wear department, and Miss Hazel Pick of the millinery department, and other members of the store staff, selected the choicest creations for the fashion showing. They were highly complimented on their success.

Living Models Appear
Beautiful professional models appeared in the revue, gracefully showing street costumes, evening gowns, afternoon creations, sport outfits and other wardrobe accessories.

The decrees of Dame Fashion were emphatically emphasized, the street dresses being eight inches from the floor, the afternoon dresses eight and six inches from the floor, and the evening gowns extremely long.

Predominating colors in street outfits were cigaret, mouse, black, navy, midnight blue, chocolate, brown, sand and beige in poret will, serges and heavy silks. For evening wear the pastel shades are still popular in georgette crepe, Canton crepe, flat crepe, satins and velvets. The colors popular for street wear are also seen for afternoon in satins, satin-faced Cantons, Canton crepe, flat crepe, charmeuse, crepe and chenille and velvets.

Coats Intrigue Interest
Coats are another interesting subject, made long, trimmed with red fox, gray fox, brown fox, wolf, carame, colinsky, beaver and made of Ormandale, Fashone, Normandie and Bolivia. The predominating colors are brown, black, navy and midnight blue. Very few are belted. Most are straight, wrap models, some with side tie, or shirred and pleated backs.

More might be said of the styles of the charming gowns and dresses shown.

Evening gowns are long waisted, often draped, sleeveless, and mostly heavily beaded with crystal, gold, rhinestone and silver beads, and embroidered in silks and chenille.

The coat style is the popular type of street dress. It often has the side tie, panel effect and some times pleated flounce.

Afternoon Frocks
For afternoon frocks the panel effect is good. Also the long waist effect with flouncing or pleated panels. The sleeves vary in length and style, including tight cuff, bell cuff and flowing sleeve.

Shoes match the costume, with many straps and high and medium heels. There are some fancy tie models.

Costume jewelry remains popular. There are bracelets with rhinestones and brilliants to match costumes, fancy necklaces and cordelairs. Rhinestone and (Continued on page 4)

The engagement of Crown Prince Umberto of Italy and Princess Marie Jose of the Belgian royal family was informally announced recently in Brussels. The formal announcement will be made on November 4, the anniversary of Italy's war victory, dispatches from Rome report.

SEPARATE GRADE CROSSING URGED

Viaduct Under S. P. Tracks at City's Southern Limits Favored by C. C.

Directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night adopted a resolution, to be addressed to the engineer of the Automobile Club of Southern California, the Los Angeles Traffic commission, and the city engineer of the city of Los Angeles, urging the separation of grades at the intersection of Glendale boulevard and the Southern Pacific tracks, at the southern city limits of Glendale.

Director C. D. Lusby opposed the resolution on the ground that the construction of a tunnel at that point would materially reduce the values of adjacent property, as it would mean, he claimed, that from 300 to 400 feet on each side of the tracks would be required to furnish adequate approaches to the tunnel beneath the tracks. Mr. Lusby contended that the need for a viaduct on Los Feliz road is much more pressing than at Glendale boulevard.

Vice-president W. E. Hewitt argued that the separation of grades is being carried out in every city of importance in the country, not only as a means to facilitate the flow of traffic but also as a means of preventing grade crossing accidents and saving life.

Committees Ready
The committees authorized by the Chamber of Commerce to aid in the sewer bond campaign, have been selected and are ready to begin their work as soon as the engineers shall have completed their surveys and shall have determined the cost of the project.

R. F. Kitterman, reporting for the special industrial committee appointed last week, in connection with the requests of the Rogers Una-Drive Motor Truck corporation for a definite announcement of the attitude to be taken by the Chamber of Commerce in fostering the establishment of the industry here, declared that the committee reiterated the previously expressed determination not to endorse, as an organization, any stock-selling proposition of any kind.

G. Clay Goodloe, membership secretary, reported the collection of $237.50 in dues and membership fees during the past week. Seven new members were accepted at last night's meeting.

New Kind of Democracy To Be Evolved by China Upton Close Tells Club

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
"There are fewer people killed in all China each year by the revolutions than there are by automobiles in the United States. China is not in a serious condition. I look for them to evolve into a new kind of democracy with representation based on occupations instead of territories. I have great hopes that the Pacific can be kept pacific by the dominating culture of the Chinese people."

This was the final declaration of Upton Close (Josef W. Hall), resident of China and student of institutions, political evolution and psychology of the Chinese, in addressing Tuesday Afternoon club members and guests yesterday afternoon on what he called "The Chinese Puzzle."

Foresees China Dominating
Mr. Close, who has lived among the Chinese for several years, as a student, writer and friend has made a thorough study of the Chinese from real life and documents, and his address yesterday brought to his hearers a comprehensive sketch of political affairs in China and predictions that the great oriental nation would be a dominant factor of the future Asiatic politics and culture.

During his residence in China Mr. Close mastered the Chinese language and became intimately acquainted with prominent political leaders and scholars, and his talk was full of personal reminiscences brought out as he traced the evolution of the government from the death of the old Emperor Dowager in 1908.

He dwelt at length on the attempt of the Japanese to gain power over the Chinese government and started his hearers with the statement that "Had Japan dominated China a war on the Pacific would have been inevitable."

Tells of His Experience
Later, after the Chinese students and the Chamber of Commerce routed out all the Chinese officials who were traitors, Mr. Close became a close associate of Colonel Wood and, in the course of affairs, served for five days as minister of foreign affairs, he related to his audience.

The clubhouse was the scene of continued activity yesterday, for the board of directors met in the morning and had luncheon before the afternoon meeting.

Plans are already being formulated for the Los Angeles district convention in Glendale next April and in complying with a request from Mrs. Charles H. Teal, president of the district, that a committee of the club confer with her on convention plans, such a committee was appointed and the date of meeting set for Saturday, October 20, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The club committee includes Mesdames Daniel Campbell, H. E. Bartlett, A. H. Montgomery, J. E. Sargent and E. W. W. Hayward.

Renew Membership
During the board meeting it was voted to renew the club's membership in the Chamber of Commerce and also to send $100 to the headquarters of the general federation in Washington, D. C., for annual dues.

It is of interest to the club members that the club budget for the current year totals approximately $26,000. The detailed out- (Continued on page 3)

DEMAND FOR NEW BRIDGE IS MADE

Glendale Boulevard Favored as Site for Erection of New Structure

The necessity for the immediate construction of a bridge across the Los Angeles river at Ivanhoe crossing, south of Glendale, was emphasized by P. J. Hayselden, of the highways and bridges committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, at the meeting of the directors last night.

Plans are now under consideration, it was stated, for the erection of a bridge across the river at that point, with entrances from both sides of Brand boulevard, so that traffic between Glendale and Los Angeles could reach the bridge without being compelled to cross the Pacific Electric tracks, as at present.

Bridge Is Dangerous
It was asserted that the present bridge is dangerous and that it is detrimental to the growth of Glendale, and it was urged that immediate application be made to the Board of Supervisors and to the Los Angeles Traffic commission to construct a bridge that will be adequate to meet the traffic needs of this city.

The fact that a contract has been let within the past week for the paving of a stretch of Hyperion avenue, to cost $460,000, indicates, it was declared, that the construction of a viaduct to connect Hyperion avenue with Glendale boulevard is contemplated in the near future.

Several differences of opinion arose regarding the comparative need for a bridge at Glendale boulevard and at Los Feliz road, the supporters of the latter claiming that the traffic on Los Feliz road is by far the greater in volume and that the present bridge at that point is not in as good condition as the present bridge on Glendale boulevard, while the danger of the Los Feliz bridge being swept away by floods forms a constant menace.

Two Bridge Outlets
The proposed new bridge on Glendale boulevard will, it was declared, have two outlets on the south side of the river, opening the way direct into the heart of Los Angeles by one branch and directly into Hollywood by the other, and the erection of this bridge, which is to be of concrete, would not only relieve traffic at that point but would stimulate the demand for the construction of new bridges at Los Feliz and at other points on the west side of the city.

A resolution, addressed to the Los Angeles Traffic commission, was passed, declaring that the present Ivanhoe bridge is inadequate for the growing volume of traffic, and urging the immediate construction of a new and larger concrete bridge across the river at that point.

The fact that the Ivanhoe bridge will fit in more closely with the plans of Los Angeles was stressed, as indicating that the prospects of securing a new bridge there are brighter than the chance of getting a new bridge at Los Feliz at this time.

FRANK BRADSHAW EDITS LA ENCINA

Jerome Lindquist Resigns to Become Athletic Manager at Oxy

As a result of the resignation of Jerome Lindquist as editor for the 1924 La Encina of Occidental college, it was necessary for the junior class to elect a new editor. It is a tradition of the institution for the junior class to publish the year book and the present class chose Frank Bradshaw to edit the publication. Last year Bradshaw was president of the class.

With the co-operation of the student body Bradshaw hopes to put out the best La Encina ever issued at Occidental. Lindquist becomes athletic manager.

At the seventh annual meeting of the Pacific division of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held at the University of Southern California a few days ago, Dr. Calvin O. Esterly of Occidental college was honored by being re-elected to the office of secretary-treasurer of the American Society of Naturalists of the Pacific division.

Glendale Poultry Man Captures Six Prizes

Two silver cups and four blue ribbons formed the awards that G. L. Head, 341 Patterson avenue, Glendale, brought back with him from the Ventura county fair, where he exhibited a number of his Polio breed of chickens on October 3, 4, 5 and 6, and he is now planning to take the same collection of birds to the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona next week in an effort to capture more prizes.

One of the silver cups was won for the best display of poultry in the show, in competition with every other breed that was shown, and the second cup awarded in the sweepstakes for the best pen of birds in the show was also won against the competition of all other pens.

The blue ribbons were won by Mr. Head's entries in four classes, Bearded Whites, Non-bearded Golden, Non-bearded Silver, and White Crested Black Polish fowls, and Judge Krum, who awarded the prizes, declared that the Head birds formed the finest exhibit of Polish that he had seen in ten years of judging poultry shows in the United States and Canada.

TODAY—L. A. Would Dignify Coppers; Scientific Vollmer on Job.

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE For International News Service

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—Motion picture comedies, in which policemen are depicted in contemptuous and would-be humorous roles and situations, are really incubators of crime.

Vollmer, who gained fame for himself and his city as the "scientific cop" when he was chief of police of Berkeley, Calif., is a student of psychology as a means of crime detection.

The chief not only hopes to see the end of such misrepresentations in pictures which bring the law and those who enforce it into contempt and disrepute, but he hopes for the day when the policeman will appear before the public as a shining angel of right and justice, regarded as a friend of the public, always ready to protect it and look after its every interest.

Chief Vollmer bitterly assailed the motion picture comedy in which members of the police force are held up to ridicule and contempt by casting them as clowns and the "goat" of everything.

Besides the injustice of heaping ridicule upon a particular element of the community, the effect was serious and evil in its result, the chief said.

"Such comedies are harmless in their intent," he said. "They are in reality an incubator of crime. Through a psychological process they sow the seed of contempt of authority. What is first viewed through the light of comedy by repetition becomes the means of causing contempt of the men who are to enforce the laws. From this state of mind a contempt of law and authority follows as a natural corollary."

"When there exists a state of mind that holds contempt for the law and its representatives it is but a short step to the violation of the law.

"The young mind is very susceptible to such influences, and after seeing policemen plastered with custard pies and otherwise poked fun at the boys will in time come to regard the policeman as a legitimate object for prey and regard themselves as heroes if they are able to impose upon the officers."

AMERICA LEADS WORLD IN MURDERS, SAYS BAR ASSOCIATION REPORT

GOV. WHITMAN

That the criminal situation in this country, so far as crimes of violence are concerned, is worse than in any other civilized country and will remain so until a standard code of criminal procedure is adopted in all states, is one of the findings of the law enforcement committee of the American Bar Association, of which ex-Gov. Charles S. Whitman of New York is chairman.

Major points of the report are: "Behind every defect in the enforcement of our laws, more dangerous than any other factor in accounting for the number of crimes committed in this country, is the apathy and indifference of the American people."

Criminal Population Growing
"While the general population of the United States for the years 1910 until 1922 increased 14.9 per cent, the crimes committed increased 16.6 per cent."

"The largest proportion of the criminal increase was found in crimes accompanied with violence. There exists in nearly every state of the Union a lack of vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws."

"The means provided in the United States for coping with crime and criminals are today neither adequate nor efficient."

"The criminal situation in the United States so far as crimes of violence are concerned is worse than in any other civilized country."

"The committee has contended itself with reporting, first, the situation of law enforcement in this country; second, the situation in two other countries for the purpose of measurement or comparison; third, the chief respects in which the machinery of law enforcement in England and France differs from our own, together with the immediate results of this difference."

"Lastly, by reason of this difference the system in the United States lacks in the three great essentials for law enforcement—celerity, certainty and finality."

"This lack, together with general public indifference to the situation, accounts in large measure for the want of respect for law in this country and the failure of its enforcement."

Every London Murder Solved
In the section of the report devoted to crime conditions in England the committee reported that there were seventeen murders in London last year and not one of these crimes was unsolved. The report said that it was estimated that 7850 murders were committed in the United States last year and that in 1921 there were 260 murders in New York and 137 in Chicago. In the same year—1921, according to the report, there were only 63 murders throughout England and Wales.

"We learned that the prison population in England has been steadily decreasing since 1876, the later period marking about the time when the simplification of the English criminal procedural laws began to be effective," says the report.

"One of the striking reasons for this is the fact that it has been made possible for any one sentenced to a fine to obtain extension of time for its payment at the discretion of the magistrate, and a defendant may even pay his fine in installments."

"In this year, representing the year itself which will be released in full when presented, says: Exile a French Penalty

"In 1919, the year statistics were last published in France, figures show that there occurred in all that country 588 murders. In forty-eight cities of the United States last year, representing every section of the country, but omitting many cities and towns from which figures could not be obtained, there occurred 1,562 murders. These cities contain about 21,000,000, or a little over one-fifth of our population, and fairly typify the rest of the country."

"In accounting for the smaller number of crimes in France, it must be remembered that 35,000,000 out of 40,000,000 of French inhabitants live in small villages, where their ancestors have lived for generations and where every act is carefully scrutinized. It is not without plain significance that the laws of France carefully plan and in extreme cases scientifically apply disgrace and exile as a penalty. This recognizes a dominant trait in the French character, his love for his native town and his love for France. Exile from France is one of the most drastic penalties imposed."

"In the last published reports in France for the year 1919 there were only 121 robberies. In that same year San Francisco had 258 robberies, Washington 323, Chicago 1,862, Louisville 241, St. Louis 1,087 and New York 1,427.

POLITICS
As to the political parties, There seems only this much to say: Hank Ford would be happy with either. Were 't'other dear charmer away.

La Follette is sailing to Europe. Diplomacy's old spinning wheel. He'll see how it works, and re-turning.

When Woodrow comes out of retirement, A wise old political fox, Though many admirers applaud him, He'll not get a cheer out of Cox.

Hi Johnson, we learn, will be running, He'll do his hard running this fall. It's better to be running early Than not to be running at all.

But when it comes to the conventions We won't hear so much of these men Who do all this year-before running. It all may be different then.

Only the belief that nothing can be accomplished without a full realization of the situation by the American people impels the committee to present the figures and statistics of this association and the striking contrast between the situation relative to crime in America and in these two countries of Europe."

Modern Youth and the Church

The habit of church attendance is an old, old habit, one that dates back a couple of thousand years. And, just now old habits and customs are not so popular among the youth of the land.

It is the assumption in some quarters that the younger generation is headed toward perdition, but human nature is essentially the same today as it was two thousand years ago and if the young people are careless and thoughtless in their conduct, it may be due to a lack of parental authority and example. If the young people think church going out of date, it may be because the matter has not been brought to their attention in the right way.

Young man or woman, do you know of any other young man or woman whose reputation socially has been imperiled or who is not so congenial a companion because he is a regular attendant at some church? In your heart do you not respect that one the more and long for his friendship and good will? Don't you know that a constant striving toward the ideals of the church will add to your popularity and win you more friends? If you think that church attendance has "gone out" and that your standing among your friends compels you to ignore the church you have not given the matter very serious thought or else your circle is totally depraved.

Select one of the popular boys or girls in your set. Suppose he or she should determine to become identified with some church. Wouldn't your heart commend this step even though your lips thoughtlessly ridiculed? Then, know that your friends will look up to and respect you the more when you take this step. Not that you will do this for the sake of social prestige. We only meant to show you that it won't result in the thing Youth dreads—unpopularity.

Young people, this question is worthy of serious thought and, when you have accorded it the consideration it deserves, you will come to the conclusion that church attendance is essential to the well-rounded life and then you will act accordingly for Youth today though careless and thoughtless, perhaps, is honest and fearless.

Webb Store Reveals Latest in Fashions

brilliant head bands and metal leaves in wreaths are worn for evening.

Hats Are Delightful
Many delightful hats were shown, of velvet, ribbons, felt and silk. Trimmings are of ribbon flowers in pastel shades, embroidery of metal threads, silver lace and hand painting. The Webb store is showing many copies of imported Paris and New York models. For wear with evening gowns there are many silver and gold lace hats.

Of course, the gloves are an important feature. They match the costume, either long or short, the sport gauntlet being very good.

Sports Clothes Shown
Finally, one might mention the sports clothes. The coats are plain, imported tweeds, plaid and checked models in beige, sand, brown and gray.

Most popular are the camel hair sweaters, jacquettes and coats, trimmed in orange, blue and gray around bottom and sleeves. All sleeves are long in bell shape and necks are high in a V.

Sport skirts are shown in plain camel hair, checked and plaid, fastened at the side, some pleated and some plain.

U. C. S. B. Students Near Relief Fund Goal

The Students' association of the University of California, Southern Branch, announced yesterday that the whole of the $2,300 raised for the relief of victims of the Berkeley fire which was stolen from the co-operative store will probably be entirely replaced within the next few days. The fund is now $300 short of the amount necessary to complete it.

The large attendance at the benefit performance last Friday netted the fund $1,320.24. The alumni have donated $289.75 and more donations are coming in daily. The president and deans of the university have expressed their appreciation of the work done by the students in going to the relief of their northern associates.

Despite its many other uses it has been estimated that more than half of the world's output of sulphur is consumed in the manufacture of sulphuric acid.

Women's club will hold its first meeting of the year at the City Hall tomorrow night. Miss Dorothy Levoy, dramatic reader, will interpret scenes from Sheridan's "School for Scandal." Music and a lecture will follow. A social hour will close the program.

Oxy Frosh Tangle With Pasadena Eleven

Occidental college freshman football team held a scrimmage with the strong Pasadena High eleven on Horrel field yesterday afternoon. When the dust settled and everyone had been bruised or cut up, the score read 6 to 6 in favor of the darkness. Both coaches remained on the field. Coach Tuffy Conn started almost his whole second string, and Coach Baker worked without Tex

Crow, Joe O'Conner, Kirk, and other stars. Saturday afternoon the Tiger yearlings will furnish the curtain-raiser for the big varsity game with Redlands. The frosh will tangle with Dinuba's strong eleven, and a dangerous battle is looked forward to by each team. The freshmen game starts at 1:30 p. m. and the varsity struggle begins promptly at 3:30 p. m.

QUESTION TRUTH OF HUNTER'S TALE
Claims to Discover Buck in Pants Pocket of Man in Saugus Region

As usual following the annual feverish pursuit of the nimble deer by ambitious hunters who got them early and late, and the scatter-gun artists who bag whole truckloads of ducks, many strange tales are being inflicted upon the innocent citizenry.

Harry Zitto recently strolled out and potted himself a buck over in the Verdugos. As he has the evidence there is nothing so strange about that.

Walter Grosvenor sallied into strange haunts and bagged a flock of ducks. (Some call him "gross" for short, though if Harry Zitto should be listed "net"). He wears feathers in his hatband to prove it, so there is nothing so very strange about that.

Then came two youths who claimed to have caught the biggest trout ever hooked in the Big Tujunga. And they flaunted the scales to prove it. But we're hardened old fish stories and this one never touched us.

All Out of Shape
But the limits of friendship and credulity are strained out of shape by the latest one. This young man was christened James. He came clean from Texas. That in itself is, or is not strange, depending on the interpretation. In one sense of the word it is a remarkable feat for any youth. In another sense, most people do land in California in that condition.

However, the boys call him Jim, so judge for yourself how well this otherwise O. K. young man is supplied with friends. Usually Jim is peddling insurance and can be relied upon for veracity and other things. Friends are just as scarce with him as flies to a molasses barrel. But after he told this tale some of them are wondering if they are not the victims of a misplaced confidence.

It seems Jim got tired of the same scenery all the time and wound up his asthmatic puddle-jumper and steered a course for the desert.

Discovers Buck
"It was a beautiful day. I had nothing to do but get a barber for an invalid friend, so started out. Stopping in the wilds of Saugus to reconnoiter, I detected a buck far down in the shadowy recesses of a man's trouser pocket.

"I am adept in the art of trailing bucks and although hooks and lines may seem out of place on a desert, I went fishing for that buck and landed it with the bait of an insurance policy in the hand." (deleted by the advertising manager.) Far be it from me to boast, but bucks have as much chance of escaping me as a woodpecker has of getting a square meal in a petrified forest. My motto is "one buck in the hand is worth two in the future."

"But that wasn't all. Before the day was over I bagged my trousers and potted two large potatoes while preparing myself a little sustenance."

Friends are straining to believe him. In the language of pianos, ain't hunting stories grand?

Miss Boley's Class Wins Promised Party and Home-Made Cake

Final reports on the Parent-Teacher Association membership drive, now in, show that the school children brought in a total of 309 names. Miss Boley's class, with an average of 117 per cent, won the prize, a big class party.

Mrs. Maddox's class, the B1, did better with 82 per cent. Because of the splendid effort put forth by the children of this class, the P.-T. A. voted to give them a party also.

Mrs. G. E. Arbogast was hostess at these parties, a feature of which was home-made cake supplied by the mothers.

Mrs. Hegge's class, the B6, also won a party, by reason of having the largest percentage of attendance at the last P.-T. A. meeting.

The Episcopal Ladies' Guild held an all-day meeting today at the home of Mrs. Hilda S. Genn, 5244 North Royal Drive. A charming luncheon was served and plans formulated for work in the near future.
