

WikiAfrica Hour is a live monthly discussion with Wikipedia experts about subjects and issues that concern Africa's Wikimedia Movement. Each episode focuses on a specific subject that Africa's Wikimedians are either involved in or need to be!

Launched in 2021, WikiAfrica Hour initiates frank, sometimes controversial conversations on the last Friday of each month. It also broadcasts special episodes to showcase Wikimedia events. Each episode features a Q&A with the live audience and news alerts, ensuring that Africa's Wikimedians do not miss out on opportunities from the wider global Open community. WikiAfrica Hour is hosted by Ceslause Ogbonnaya with News from Nonny Ntaha. Below are just some of the episodes covered by WikiAfrica Hour.
