TREATY RATIFIED BY GERMAN ASSEMBLY

DIRIGIBLE TO LEAVE COAST OF U.S. BEFORE DAYLIGHT TO-MORROW

Major Scott and His Crew Will Start R-34 on Homeward Voyage to United Kingdom at Early Hour; Airship is Ready for Long Trip

Mineola, N. Y., July 9.—The British dirigible R-34 will start on her return flight to the United Kingdom before daybreak to-morrow, it was announced positively this afternoon by Major G. H. Scott, her commander.

The great airship is ready to sail into the air for the east when the word is given by the commander.

The start will be made before daybreak, because at such an early hour the maximum amount of gas can be taken into the gas bags.

Washington, July 9.—Favorable weather for the return of the British dirigible R-34 over the southern route to Europe during the next twenty-four hours was forecast in the weather report sent to the commander of the airship to-day by the Navy Department.

CONDITIONS IN ITALY IMPROVING

Disorders in Cities Caused by Cost of Living Dying Down

Paris, July 9.—(Havas).—Dispatches from Rome report continued improvement in most of the Italian cities where disorders incident to the high cost of living have been occurring.

An exception is noted in the case of Bari, on the Adriatic, where a general strike has been proclaimed.

Flume Incident. Paris, July 9.—The appointment by the Peace Conference of a Committee to investigate the disorders between Italian and French troops at Flume meets with the general approval of the French press.

The committee is expected to be composed of a number of Italian newspapers, which attempted to give them a political character.

The Petit Parisien says there is no truth in the report that the departure from Paris of Signor Tittoni, the Italian Foreign Minister, was in connection with the Italian-French incidents in the Adriatic.

STATE OF SIEGE TO CONTINUE IN FRANCE

Military Law and Censorship to Continue Until Treaty Ratified

Paris, July 9.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday rejected a bill providing for the immediate raising of the state of siege and the suppression of the censorship, the vote being 292 to 292.

The Socialists and Republican Socialists demanded the immediate suppression of both the state of siege and the censorship, but M. Pichon declared that this was impossible before the ratification of the peace treaty.

Chamber Agitated. The debate closed with a categorical statement by the Government raising the question of confidence in the rejection of the bill.

It was remarked in the lobby after the vote that this was the second time the Government majority had been reduced to hardly more than fifty, the smallest margin on which any Government had continued in power since the beginning of the war.

Small Majority. Paris, July 9.—To-day's Paris newspapers comment on the vote in the Chamber of Deputies maintaining martial law and the censorship until the ratification of the peace treaty.

HIS RESIGNATION FROM CABINET NOT ACCEPTED YET; SIR T. WHITE

Ottawa, July 9.—The resignation of Sir Thomas White as Minister of Finance, it is understood, has not yet been accepted. Some months ago, following his illness, Sir Thomas expressed a desire to retire from public life, and more recently tendered his resignation.

Ottawa, July 9.—An Ottawa newspaper says this afternoon: "The resignation of Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, before the end of the month, is foreshadowed, but it is understood he may accept a Government appointment."

H. H. STEVENS LOOKS FOR CHEAPER WHEAT

Vancouver M. P. Says Price Will Fall in the Autumn

Vancouver, July 9.—Resulting from the recent investigation by the Government into the high cost of living and the steps taken to deal with profiteering, there will be a cheaper wheat in the fall, which will be reflected upon various kindred markets, such as flour, according to H. H. Stevens, M.P.

Mr. Stevens based his prediction that the price of wheat would drop as a result of the action of the Government in refraining from fixing a price for this commodity.

There are many factors connected with the cost of living which no Government can deal with. The appointment of an open market which will automatically create a downward tendency. All the experts agree, he stated, that this will be the result.

Many Factors. "There are many factors connected with the cost of living which no Government can deal with. The appointment of an open market which will automatically create a downward tendency. All the experts agree, he stated, that this will be the result."

LOUISIANA SUGAR PRODUCTION LESS

New Orleans, La., July 9.—The Louisiana cane crop deteriorated 9.1 points in June and the yield of sugar for the coming season is estimated as nearly 100,000 short tons less than last year, according to a report of John S. Denne, field agent for the Government Bureau of crop estimates, made public here.

PORK PRODUCTS AT WINNIPEG HIGHER THAN EVER BEFORE

Winnipeg, July 9.—Dealers declare that all pork products, fresh and cured, are at the highest point in price ever reached in this city. Lard is higher in price than oleomargarine. Pork chops command fifty-five cents a pound for the prime fresh killed stuff.

Chicago, July 9.—Hog prices to-day reached another new top record here, $22.70 a hundredweight, an increase of ten cents over yesterday's record.

July 19 Holiday in Canada for the Big Peace Celebration

Ottawa, July 9.—Saturday, July 19, has been officially fixed as a public holiday in Canada for the celebration of peace. The date coincides with Peace Day throughout the Empire.

Ottawa Paper Says Carvell About to Leave the Cabinet

Ottawa, July 9.—An Ottawa newspaper says this afternoon: "The resignation of Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, before the end of the month, is foreshadowed, but it is understood he may accept a Government appointment."

Maj.-Gen. Emsley Will Be Chief of Staff at Ottawa

Ottawa, July 9.—Major-General Gwatkin, Chief of Staff of the Canadian militia, will return to the United Kingdom shortly. He will be succeeded by Major-General Emsley, who commanded the Canadian-Siberian Force.

Six Big Dirigibles Being Built For The British Navy

London, July 9.—Six rigid airships of an improved type, representing successive stages of development, are under construction for the British navy, it was disclosed in the House of Commons by Right Hon. Walter Hume Long, First Lord of the Admiralty.

OPPOSITION TO STRIKE IN FRANCE

Paris, July 9.—The executive committee of the General Labor Federation of France met here to-day to consider plans for the demonstration strike July 21, when labor men of France, Italy and Great Britain are expected to protest against Allied intervention in Russia.

Considerable opposition is being shown toward the movement, according to the newspapers, and there is a possibility that the strike may not be general.

Functionaries. Paris, July 9.—The Functionaries' Congress, representing over 300,000 minor officials and public employees in France, has passed a resolution instructing its federation to arrange a method by which it can associate itself with the General Labor Federation's manifestation on July 21.

WISSEL, OPPOSED TO FREE TRADE, LEAVES GERMAN CABINET

Copenhagen, July 9.—Wissel, Minister of Economics in the German Cabinet, has resigned because of the opposition of other members of the Cabinet to his plans, which were opposed to free trade.

STREET RAILWAY CO. IN OTTAWA OPERATES CARS DESPITE STRIKE

Ottawa, July 9.—The street railway company here started a service this morning on the ninth day of the strike. Thirty cars were operated with extra men on board and a policeman in uniform on each car.

It developed to-day that the Germans would not reach Versailles in time to begin the negotiations tomorrow, as they expected.

ASSEMBLY AT WEIMAR DECIDES IT IS BEST TO RATIFY THE PACT

Adoption of Resolution of Ratification is Reported in Advices Reaching Paris; Effective From Date of Promulgation

Paris, July 9.—The German National Assembly at Weimar has adopted the resolution ratifying the peace treaty, according to advices received here to-day.

The resolution reads: "The peace treaty signed on June 28, 1919, as well as the protocol, annexes and special agreements on military occupation of the Rhineland, is hereby ratified. This law becomes effective from the date of its promulgation."

GERMANS NOW MUST TOIL AND PAY UP

Erzberger Tells Assembly Taxation Burden Will Reach "Terrible Height"

Berlin, July 8.—Via London July 9.—(Associated Press).—Addressing the German National Assembly at Weimar to-day, Matthias Erzberger, Vice-Chancellor and Minister of Finance, said:

"One of the first requirements relative to the restoration of the life of labor is the establishment of orderly finances. I will have nothing to do with suggestions for the annulment of the war loans or a declaration of general bankruptcy. My highest aim is to establish justice in the entire taxation system."

The income from capital must be taxed much more heavily than the income from work. An inheritance tax and a heavy levy on property will be the initial step that will be taken. The Empire's income must be increased 900 per cent. and that of individual estates and communes perhaps 100 per cent. Such enormous changes require fresh measures."

Hard Path. Berlin, July 8.—Via London, July 9.—(Associated Press).—Germany quickly is to return to a peace-time financial system, said Matthias Erzberger, Vice-Chancellor and Minister of Finance, speaking at Weimar before the German National Assembly to-day.

The Empire's needs must be divided henceforth between home and abroad, he said. The year's expenditures confronting us will amount to about 17,500,000,000 marks. I am firmly resolved to tread the hard path of economy and therefore have given out the watchword that from October 1, 1919, there shall be no more items not detailed and there shall be no more war funds.

After citing the returns to the Empire from taxation measures prior to and during the war and estimating the revenue to be derived from new tax bills, Erzberger said: "There still remains a sum of over 10,000,000,000 marks to be covered."

PACIFIC FLEET OF THE UNITED STATES

Washington, July 9.—The newly-organized Pacific fleet of the United States will sail from Hampton Roads for the west coast Saturday, July 19, it was announced at the Navy Department to-day that final arrangements had been completed at a conference in New York yesterday between Secretary Daniels and Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander of the fleet.

MR. ASQUITH VISITS OCCUPIED GERMANY

Coblenz, July 9.—Mr. Asquith, former British Prime Minister, who has been visiting the British occupied area, arrived here yesterday and was a dinner guest of Major-General Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany. Mr. Asquith plans to spend several days in the Coblenz bridgehead district.

Move at Washington to Keep President From Leaving U.S.

Washington, July 9.—The President of the United States would not be permitted during his term of office to leave the country or to perform the duties of his office except at Washington, under a bill introduced to-day by Representative Campbell, of Kansas, chairman of the House Rules Committee.

MONTENEGRINS SAY SERBS ATTACKED

Paris, July 9.—The Montenegrin Government has addressed a new note to the Peace Conference protesting against alleged excesses by Serbian troops in Montenegro. The note says that certain villages were attacked by a force of 5,000 Serbs, which was equipped with cannon and houses were demolished and women and children killed.

Protest to Peace Conference Against Serbians' Acts in Montenegro. The Council, it is said, feels that it is to the best interests of the Allies and Hungary that the securities be kept within Hungary.

SEES BIG PROFIT ON LINEN SUPPLY

London, July 9.—(Associated Press).—Leonard J. Martin, a young English business man who deals in agricultural machinery, has bought for $20,000,000 from the British Government about 40,000,000 yards of linen which was intended for making aeroplanes. He knew nothing about linen but bought for speculation.

To-day his name and picture are featured in every British paper and editorial writers are pointing out that the enterprising young man does not have to go to new countries to find golden business opportunities. Martin is thirty-seven years old and began his career with a capital of about $500.

The stock of material Martin now controls represents three years' normal supply. He is reckoning on a profit of about $5,000,000. Of that amount $2,000,000 would go to the British Treasury in excess profits and another $1,250,000 in super-tax.

BRITISH BUYS 40,000,000 YARDS OF AEROPLANE CLOTH FROM GOVERNMENT

London, July 9.—(Associated Press).—Leonard J. Martin, a young English business man who deals in agricultural machinery, has bought for $20,000,000 from the British Government about 40,000,000 yards of linen which was intended for making aeroplanes. He knew nothing about linen but bought for speculation.

DENVER WITHOUT STREET CAR SERVICE

Denver, Col., July 9.—The street car strike here is still in progress. Nine attempts were made by the company before 10 o'clock to start service. In each instance crowds of strikers gathered and forced the crews to turn back. There was no violence.

HUDSON'S BAY CO. MUST PAY SURTAX IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, July 9.—A cable was received here from London to-day announcing that the Privy Council had dismissed the appeal of the Hudson's Bay Company against the municipal surtax on its lands in this province imposed by provincial legislation. P. M. Anderson, K. C., of Regina, went to London to represent the province before the Privy Council and J. A. Allan, K. C., of Regina, was an associate counsel for the company.

LEFT THE RAILS

Accident Overtook Train in Nova Scotia Carrying Men From Olympic.

Moncton, N. B., July 9.—The fourth military special train carrying troops landed at Halifax yesterday by the Olympic was derailed at about 1.30 this morning at Atkinson Siding, about forty miles east of Thompson Station, forty-eight miles west of Truro. It was the special containing the New Brunswick men and comprised eight cars and a caboose.

The engine, one baggage car and two passenger cars remained on the track, breaking away from the others. Three cars left the rails and toppled over the embankment. Two cars and the caboose also left the rails but did not topple over. The trucks were torn off the caboose, but the caboose was held up by a telegraph pole. The roadbed was badly torn up for about 300 yards. The train was running about thirty-five miles an hour.

When the cars rolled over, the kits fell on the soldiers and the men and kits were all mixed up. The men escaped through open windows. Shortly afterward they built fires alongside the track and kept themselves warm until help came.

MAN KILLED HIS WIFE NEAR SPOKANE

Spokane, July 9.—Mrs. Lora Parrish, cook at a road construction camp west of this city, was stabbed to death early this morning and her husband, Frank Parrish, is being held by the police in connection with her death.

Parrish surrendered to police officers who started for the camp in response to information of the killing, and stated, according to the officers, that he had stabbed Mrs. Parrish four times. He said he was on his way to the sheriff's office here to surrender when arrested.

Parrish had been working in a construction camp at Washitana, Wash., it was stated, and recently came here. According to the police, he said he had quarrelled with Mrs. Parrish over her alleged relations with other men.

STATES HE WOULD FIGHT FOR BREAD

Spells of Indigestion Cease After He Takes Tanlac; Gains Ten Pounds

"I have just finished my fourth bottle of Tanlac and am not only feeling like an entirely different man, but I have picked up ten pounds in weight, besides," said J. W. McDuggal, a well-known employee of the Foundation Shipbuilding Company, living at 1124 Quadra Street, Victoria, while discussing the medicine at the Campbell Drug Store, recently.

"A year ago, or more," he continued, "my stomach and liver got out of order and one trouble and another kept coming on me until I was all-out of fix. My stomach would get as sour as vinegar, and I would have such awful spells of heartburn and pains in the pit of my stomach that I could hardly stand it. I would swell up with gas until I would just have to fight for breath at times. I often had severe bilious attacks and felt light-headed and so dizzy that it was an effort for me to stand up, and there was hardly a day but what my head felt like it would burst open, it ached so bad. My kidneys failed to work right, and there was an awful pain across my back, so bad that I couldn't stoop over and straighten up without just suffering agony. In fact, I don't think there was a single part of my body that didn't ache. I was so nervous the least unusual noise would almost run me distracted, could never get any sound sleep, and felt all tired out in the mornings. My appetite was very poor, and I lost weight so rapidly that I was afraid there would soon be nothing left of me but skin and bones. I simply had to force myself to work."

"But since taking Tanlac these troubles are all in the past. I can now sit down to the table and eat three square meals a day and never feel a sign of indigestion. My main trouble now, in guarding myself to keep from eating too much, for I'm as hungry as a bear all the time. I have no more headaches and haven't had one since I began taking Tanlac. I am sleeping like a log at night and getting up mornings feeling fine. The pain has disappeared entirely from my back and my kidneys and liver are in good shape. In fact, I am feeling as well as before my troubles started and I cannot recommend Tanlac too highly."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Avenues.

PRINCE RUPERT MAN RELEASED FROM JAIL

Vancouver, July 9.—George Smith, a hotelkeeper of Prince Rupert, who had spent the last week or two at Oakalla, was released by order of Mr. Justice Murphy yesterday. Smith was sentenced to six months imprisonment for the alleged selling of liquor illegally. A certiorari application was entered against the sentence on the grounds that the proceedings were improper because Smith had been convicted in his absence, and by two justices of the peace, instead of by a police magistrate. The first ground was refused and the latter point adjourned to see whether there was a police magistrate in Prince Rupert at the time. It has now been ascertained that the magistrate died before that time. Mr. Justice Murphy nevertheless holds the conviction improper, because justices of the Peace sitting in places of a magistrate must show their cause and authority for so doing, and this was not done.

TO SELL WAR SUPPLIES.

Washington, July 9.—The French Government having offered only $900,000 for American army equipment in France which cost $1,500,000,000, the War Department has ordered that a sales organization for disposal of the surplus be formed in France. Director of Sales Hare told a special House committee investigating War Department expenditures abroad.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their weight to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print. While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus is weak, nervous, sickly and thin. A noted author and professor in his book, "Chemistry and Food Nutrition," published in 1917, states that the amount of phosphorus required for the normal nutrition of man is seriously underestimated in many of our standard text books.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be remedied by the use of organic phosphate known throughout English speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. Through the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue the phosphoric content when absorbed in the amount normally required by nature soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength returns, weakness and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing. It is sold by Cyrus H. Bowyer in Victoria, and all good druggists. CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

CRIME IN TIPPERARY

CAUSE OF MEASURES

Sinn Feiners in County Out-lawed Because of Their Acts

New York, July 9.—A copy of the memorandum setting forth conditions in Tipperary County, Ireland, issued on Monday at Dublin by the Chief Secretary for Ireland, outlawing all Sinn Fein organizations and Irish Volunteers in Tipperary County, has been received here from British sources in London. The issuance of the memorandum was announced in cable dispatches.

The memorandum recites a series of lawless acts reported to British peace officers and quotes from two documents seized by British authorities in Ireland. Quotations given from these two documents deal with a "boycott" of the police and measures to be taken against them.

Copies of a Sinn Fein proclamation seized in Tipperary County were said to have declared the South Riding of Tipperary to be a military area and proclaimed five regulations. These regulations, summarized, were: That a policeman found in that area "will be deemed to have forfeited his life, the more notorious police being dealt with as far as possible first." Convicted stands every person in the pay of England (magistrates, jurors, etc.), who helps England to rule this country, and civilians giving information to the police or soldiers, "if convicted" will be executed, i. e., shot or hanged.

Police, doctors and prison officials connected with the "drugging of any Irish citizen" to obtain information "may be hanged or drowned or shot on sight."

And finally, "every citizen must assist when required in enabling us to perform our duty."

Taken From J. A. Burke. The other document described was said to be a manuscript found on J. A. Burke, a Sinn Fein member of Parliament, when he was arrested near Thurles last February during a public meeting he was addressing. "In carrying out this peeler (police) boycott," a quotation from this manuscript reads, "I would advise you to use some discretion. Peelers may be divided in two classes. Class one are those who joined up before the majority of the Irish people declared for a republic: class two are those who had the villainy to join after it." After stating there was some extenuation for the first class, the manuscript continued: "As for class two their lives are forfeited on two grounds, first of all, because they committed high treason in taking up arms against the republic, and secondly because they are in the position of spies caught in the act. These men pass sentence and judgment on themselves in putting on their uniforms . . . and if any man shoots or otherwise destroys one of them he may rest easy in his conscience, for he is only carrying out the sentence already passed on him by the Republican Government.

AMERICAN CASUALTIES.

Washington, July 9.—The total casualties in the American Expeditionary Forces, including all corrections and alterations published to July 2, are given in an official report as 297,147. This is a net increase of 1,563 over the last reports on June 25. Battle deaths increased 331, to 50,150, and total deaths 400, to 78,917.

The wounded aggregated 216,309 and the missing 1,521, a decrease of 251 from the last total reported.

NUXATED IRON

A DRIVING FORCE

BEHIND KEEN SUCCESSFUL MEN AND WOMEN

When you think of the successful men and women you know—people who are doing things, force, vim and energy—the kind that simply bring over when the blood is filled with iron. Nuxated Iron by enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instill renewed force and energy into the whole system. Three million people use it annually as a tonic, strength and blood-builder.

MAKE THIS TEST

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.

Sold by Cyrus H. Bowes' Drug Store and all other druggists.

OLYMPIC LANDED TROOPS AT HALIFAX

Halifax, July 9.—The White Star liner Olympic arrived here yesterday afternoon with returning soldiers. She brought more than 5,000 soldiers, and there were on board as well a number of civilians. The men got away in good time, the Canadian National Railway having the trains all ready.

Hon. C. J. Doherty was among the passengers, as was also Col. Obed Smith. Col. Smith said it was only fair to state that there are a large number of military dependents to come to Canada, and that it would take several months to bring them back. They would come more slowly because of the disestablishment of troops in England. They could not be brought on troopships, and all the members of the permanent establishment must be cared for without the aid of the military as it was working to-day.

There are 20,000 women and children to be brought home to Canada. To see about this is part of Colonel Smith's mission to this country at this time. Another matter Colonel Smith is here to take up is the settlement of ex-soldiers on the land. He hopes to be able to co-ordinate the work on both sides of the Atlantic, not only in connection with Canada but Imperial men. The British Government is now arranging for free transportation to a port of landing in Canada for Imperial ex-service men and their families—widows, war-widows, widows and children of ex-service men, but in no case is assistance to be given till each family and individual is approved by the Emigration branch in the United Kingdom.

The third thing Colonel Smith is here for is to discuss with members of the Department a general immigration policy for Canada in the British Isles.

WINNIPEG RIOTER GIVEN SENTENCE

Winnipeg, July 9.—Charged with participating in the riots here on June 21 which resulted in the death of two men and injury to many others, George E. Jones, a returned soldier, yesterday was sentenced to a fine of $100 and costs or three months' imprisonment. Harry Kilpatrick and Peter McCook were committed for trial and a stay of proceedings was entered by the crown in the case of Robert Forteous in the Provincial Police Court.

URGENT WORK BE GIVEN MEN IN WINNIPEG

International Labor Officials and R. A. Rigg Make Representations For Strikers

Winnipeg, July 9.—With a view to minimizing, if not dissipating, the ill-feeling, dissatisfaction and unsettlement that may come as a reaction of the general strike here, six international officers, resident or visiting in Winnipeg, have formed themselves into a committee with R. A. Rigg, former M. P., and ex-secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, for the purpose of negotiating with the City Council and the Provincial Government and employers generally in relation to the reinstatement of those who went out on the sympathetic strike and who are still out of work. The committee is composed of J. Somerville, International Machinists' Union; R. Hewitt, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen; Will Varley, American Federation of Locomotive Engineers; W. J. Bruce, International Association of Plumbers; R. C. McCutcheon, vice-president of the International Association of Boilermakers, and H. C. Carr, international representative of the Freight Handlers' Association.

The committee had interviews yesterday with Mayor Charles F. Gray and Premier Norris. Nothing of importance was given out in regard to the conferences, but the committee seemed to be satisfied with the progress made.

Postal Strikers. Winnipeg, July 9.—At a meeting of the Postal Workers' Union here last night it was announced that nothing had been accomplished in regard to the reinstatement of 403 members who had been left out as a result of the strike. Every possible step had been taken in the matter of securing influence, it was said, but up to the present only "progress" could be reported.

Trials. An announcement was made yesterday by A. J. Andrews, K. C., special crown prosecutor, that amended informations will be filed against both the English-speaking strike leaders and foreign-born men now under arrest on charges of seditious conspiracy. A request will be made for another adjournment in the case of the six English-speaking men when the case comes up for preliminary hearing Friday. The men of foreign birth, Mr. Andrews said, will be tried under deportation proceedings before a special board of inquiry as soon as a judge is appointed a member of the board by the Minister of Justice.

Released. Mike Verencuk, one of the men held under the Immigration Act on a charge of seditious conspiracy, was released at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon unconditionally, his counsel announced. He was one of the five who went on a hunger strike in the penitentiary before being removed to the Immigration Hall in Winnipeg.

Harry Pitt, convicted of rioting on June 21, was sentenced by Magistrate Noble in the Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon to pay a fine of $50 and costs and serve two months' imprisonment. Pitt, it was shown, had been on top of a building from which many missiles had been hurled at the Mounted Police in the streets below.

Co-Operative Union. Brantford, Ont., July 9.—At a meeting here of the Dominion executive of the Co-Operative Union of Canada, correspondence which has passed between General Secretary Keece and Alderman Fisher, in charge of the grain purchasing branch of the Scottish Co-Operative Wholesale Society of Winnipeg, in which the former protested against the latter's alleged activities against organized labor during the recent strike in that city, was submitted. Mr. Fisher thought to justify his attitude by his interpretation of the merits of the dispute, Mr. Keece taking the view that co-operators were not concerned therein.

A Resolution. A resolution was unanimously passed protesting against the interference in Canada of the British and foreign co-operative institutions in favor of the capitalist interests against organized labor under any circumstances whatever and suggesting that in future agents in charge of interests in Canada for the two British co-operative wholesale organizations be either instructed to refrain from becoming involved in questions between labor and capital or to consult the organized co-operative movement in this country before taking any steps with reference thereto, and that in case of difference of opinion, the subject matter be referred to employees before any action is taken.

At Toronto. Toronto, July 9.—Under the heading "Cold Blanket on Labor Men." The Globe says to-day in its news columns: "Underneath all the glad welcome extended officially by Toronto labor officials, there is a feeling among the workers themselves that it would have been just as well if Aldermen Queen and Hepp and Messrs. Dunn and Bray had remained in Winnipeg, the scene of their late strike propagating activities. Nobody will say anything openly for publication, but their visit is so openly discussed in labor halls that the real opinion of Toronto workers is not hard to ascertain.

"They say they want funds with which to defend the men under arrest in Winnipeg, according to one union official last night.

"How much did it cost to send four men down here and to Hamilton and Kitchener and Ottawa and Montreal? The Globe figures up it will cost $700 or $800 for travelling expenses.

Free Discussion. "In justice to the westerners it must be said they freely discussed the purpose of their visit with the newspapermen," continues the article. "They have no other object, they said Monday, than that of arousing a public demand for trial by jury of those aliens whom the Dominion Government declares are to be deported. The metal trader listened to speeches from the visitors and passed resolutions of hearty welcome. The teamsters heard them also. But some of the men thought it would be just as well if the press did not mention the Aldermen Queen and Hepp and Messrs. Dunn and Bray, who were among those present.

Here is another bona fide statement of a labor man: "I know what they came to Toronto for. The election of officers for the Trades and Labor Congress will come off in a few days

LUSITANIA EVIDENCE WILL BE PUBLISHED

London, July 9.—The Board of Trade announces that the evidence given secretly at the inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania will be published.

An inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania opened in London on July 15, 1915, the hearing being public. The first day's session was interrupted in order to assist the court to take evidence in secret regarding certain instructions sent by wireless to Capt. Turner, master of the Lusitania, by the Admiralty. This was the only secret testimony taken at the public inquiry, which ended July 17, but a private session was held July 18, at which Solicitor-General Smith represented the Board of Trade and Butler Asinall acted for the company.

Captain Turner attended the meeting. What transpired at this meeting has never been made public.

Low Cost and Big Capacity Make the Maxwell Everyman's Truck

More miles per gallon
More miles on tires

MAXWELL Trucks are in use today all over Canada—serving scores of different kinds of business.

They have solved transportation problems for manufacturers—at low cost. They are giving jobbers and wholesalers speedy deliveries—at low cost. They have given dependable cartage service to many retailers—at low cost.

Maxwell Trucks have earned money for farmers in every province—made them independent of the nearby markets—saved hours of valuable time.

In short, the Maxwell is Everyman's truck. Why?

Because the Maxwell calls for the smallest investment for a completely equipped truck.

Because the Maxwell will handle four out of every five freight-carrying jobs more speedily at less expense.

Because Maxwell service is available anywhere in Canada—fast service, complete service.

Remember this. Bigger trucks spend more gas hauling themselves than the Maxwell truck uses at peak load. Lighter trucks take more time, more gas to do the same work as a Maxwell—and they lack the complete equipment and high-grade construction of the Maxwell.

Not an assembled mechanism—but a scientific engineering job. Quantity production makes the price several hundred dollars less than that of any other truck of similar capacity.

Put the Maxwell to work in your business.

THE LATE CHARLES HAYWARD.

A volume would be required to do justice to the numerous and varied activities of the late Charles Hayward, whose long life came to a close last night. Mr. Hayward had resided in this city for nearly sixty years and during that time his interests were so many and diversified, he played so important a part in the development and progress of the community, he associated himself with so many movements designed to further the welfare of its people, that like other far-sighted, energetic pioneers who had made history on this coast, he had come to be regarded as an institution in himself.

WHY NOT?

Much of the opposition to the trial of William Hohenzollern before an international tribunal springs from ultra-conservative elements who object to it because it will establish the principle that sovereigns, princes and potentates who perpetrate crimes against humanity shall be made to answer personally to humanity for their acts, thus finally disposing of the grotesque doctrine of divine right to do as they please.

A great many people outside of Germany are still staunch believers in the theory enunciated by Hohenzollern, and they are pained at the decision of the Paris Conference with its implication that a ruler or ex-ruler can be brought to justice under a code devised by man, just as a common malefactor who never was a ruler can be dealt with under ordinary criminal law.

It is, undoubtedly, a striking departure from the traditional course that is being contemplated. Under the old order a monarch and his satellites, fired by a mad ambition to force their neighbors or the rest of the world under their sway, could make war upon them deliberately and ferociously and could not be made to answer on earth for their crimes. Above the laws of their own country and not subject to the laws of any other country, they were immune even to interrogation or investigation, though they caused the death of millions; while the common malefactor who had slain but one victim or plundered a single house was promptly dispatched or sent to prison for a term of years.

No serious attention need be given to the arguments that the punishment of Hohenzollern or any of his associates would make them martyrs in German eyes. That contention might be just as appropriately urged on behalf of any noted criminal brought to trial. What is important is, first, that justice should be done, and, second, that the fact be established beyond any doubt that the day of the privileged royal marauder or assassin is done, that no matter how supreme he may be in his own domain there is an earthly tribunal before which he can be brought for trial and punishment when he perpetrates crimes against humanity and international law.

When William Hohenzollern rewarded with the Iron Cross and the Order of Merit the man who sent the 1,500 passengers of the Lusitania to death, when he similarly rewarded the commanders of his Zeppelins for bombing defenceless towns and killing hundreds of women and children, he personally as well as officially, expressed his approval of these atrocities and, what is much worse, by his action encouraged and promoted others.

In the face of the authentic Hohenzollern record and the records of his instruments it is difficult to designate fittingly the pleas that now are being urged in their behalf, and the sophistry that is being employed to show why they should not be brought to trial. The German people might not like it; it might make Hohenzollern a martyr in their eyes; it looks like revenge; it might be hard to prove anything against him; he was not an absolute sovereign, after all, and may have been the innocent victim of conspirators around him; if he is punished it might restore the Hohenzollern dynasty in Germany—these are some of the contentions urged against the decision of the Peace Conference, and all of them are obviously futile against the sombre background of the awful tragedy of the last five years.

OUT IN THE COLD AS USUAL.

As a result of the enterprise of the Canadian Trade Commission to Great Britain and Europe, credits have been established with several European countries in respect of Canadian manufactured products and raw materials amounting to nearly $16,000,000. While the sum involved is not particularly large it is to be expected that out of the connection established a lucrative commercial interchange will follow.

At the moment, however, industrial British Columbia is doubtless more concerned about the partition of the business. According to a recent announcement the $16,000,000 credit is to purchase raw materials and manufactured products from the various Provinces in the following proportion: Quebec, $6,011,180; Ontario, $8,329,375; Nova Scotia, $306,744; New Brunswick, $30,809; Manitoba, $93,212; Alberta, $35,566; British Columbia, $7,536. From these figures it will be gathered that this Province almost escaped notice and, but for the fact that one of the Commissioners is a former prominent member of the Victoria Board of Trade, it is quite likely that orders would not have come farther west than the Rockies.

But the strange part about the order for this Province is the absence of any mention of British Columbia salmon. The announcement intimates that the $7,536 will be spent in overalls. Apparently British Columbia's contribution to the Empire of men and money makes but little impression when commercial considerations are under review. The unequal distribution of orders doubtless will strike the mind of the general public as another case of discrimination against the west.

In our opinion this would appear to be a case for agitation on the part of British Columbia's manufacturing interests, while nothing would be lost by an inquiry after Europe's salmon orders. Have United States canners got in first and repeated the process which netted for them the whole of the salmon sales for Italy? In the meantime the Victoria Board of Trade might ask Trade Commissioner H. B. Thomson—a former vice-president of the Board—why it is that this Province gets just a little order for overalls out of business amounting to $16,000,000.

HALL CAINE THEIR CHAMPION.

The majority of the people in England will welcome Sir Hall Caine's defence of the behavior of the Canadian troops in the British Isles. Through the columns of The London Daily Telegraph he arraigns a "small but powerful section of the British press now doing its best, or worst, wittingly or unwittingly, to separate Canada from the Mother Country." The eminent writer uncovers a number of falsehoods employed to color certain incidents which have taken place during the last few months. He pleads extenuating circumstances, and does not lose sight of the fact that bitter disappointment has been occasioned by the delay in repatriation. On the other hand Sir Hall Caine very naturally echoes the sentiment of the British public as a whole when he assures Canada that Great Britain is profoundly conscious of the Empire's debt to this Dominion for her achievements in the war.

Very little alarm need be caused by the attitude of the British press to which Sir Hall Caine alludes. The memory of the Second Battle of Ypres, Vimy Ridge, Passchendaele, Lens, Amiens, the Drocourt Queant switch, Cambrai and Mons will not be effaced from the British mind by such incidents as have been reported lately from across the sea.

NOT LETTING IT DROP.

Brigadier-General Smart does not feel inclined to permit his charges against the overseas administration of Canada's war effort to drop. In a speech at Montreal last night he reiterated the charges made by him before the Quebec Legislature—of which he is a member—last winter. He urges that a Royal Commission be appointed or an inquiry be instituted without delay. The distinguished officer made strong attacks upon Premier Borden, Sir Edward Kemp, Sir George Perley and others, again asserting that Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie had been intrigued against. His charges are serious enough to demand an inquiry, but how much would be brought out by a Royal Commission is problematical. An official probe, a real one, into the conduct of Argyle House might show approximately how much less of a staff could have handled its business and what the saving to the country could have been.

LORD FRENCH'S ATTACK.

But the public importance of the controversy—if controversy so one-sided an affair can be called—between Mr. Asquith and Lord French has nothing whatever to do with the condition in which Lord French's reputation emerges from it. And as for the reputations of other people no cool-headed man, we suppose, has ever doubted what would be the verdict of history, even quite proximate history, upon the part played in the great war and its preliminaries by such men as Mr. Asquith, Lord Grey, Lord Kitchener and Lord Haldane. The reaction against the campaign of crude calumny which overwhelmed them was always bound to come as soon as public feeling was freed from that mood of tense anxiety and ready suspicion which seems to be so inseparably associated with the "war spirit." But it is important, of course, that the reaction—as a symptom of returning health—should come soon, and Mr. Asquith's frank and determined defence of his own record after three years of silence has probably done more to promote it than any other event since the armistice. It seems reasonable now to hope for an early conciliatory. The Asquith-French controversy, however, stands for much more than this. Its real significance lies in the fact that it is symbolic of a far greater struggle, the struggle between the type of man whose predominance in politics poisons public life and the type whose mere presence there enables ordinary men to believe that politics may be an honorable occupation. In that struggle the future of democracy is at stake. For unless democracy can be kept clean it will never fulfill the hopes of democrats.

A WIDE GULF.

There is a wide gulf between the members of the international trade unions and the One Big Union. The trade unionists are mostly all connected with highly organized and highly trained trades, which have important agreements with their employers and enjoy many advantages through their organizations. The One Big Union recognizes no difference between the expert workman and the untrained one. It wants to bring all labor down to the same level. It regards as binding no trade agreement between employer and employee. They are only made to be broken—hence the sympathetic strike.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT ACT AGAINST VICTORIA MEDICO

Smedley's Death Not Caused by an Overdose of "Prescription" Rum

CORONER'S REPORT SATISFIED MR. OLIVER

There will be no Government prosecution of the medical man who issued a prescription for one quart of rum to Charles Smedley, a returned soldier, who was recently found dead in bed.

It will be recalled that this matter was taken up recently with Premier Oliver by a delegation representative of the Victoria Branch of the People's Prohibition Association. It was alleged that the consumption of liquor—obtained on the prescription of a Victoria doctor—had been the chief contributing cause of Smedley's untimely death, and while no specific charge was laid by the coroner's report of its recommendation to the Premier was the desire for action on the part of the Attorney-General's Department to punish what appeared to be a violation of the provisions of the British Columbia Prohibition Act as applying particularly to the medical profession.

Alcohol Had No Part. Premier Oliver promised that he would consult with Deputy Attorney-General Johnson after an examination of the proceedings which took place at the coroner's inquest. The examination, in the opinion of the Deputy Attorney-General, concurred in by Premier Oliver, goes to show that alcohol played no part in accelerating the death of Smedley who is shown to have been ill on the previous day. Coroner Stanton's report that he had been due to asphyxia from inhaling vomited matter. It was also deduced that of the quart of rum there is proof of four men having been taken to drink each, which has been taken account for the disappearance from the quart measure of some twelve or thirteen ounces. In other words the amount of rum consumed is adjudged to have been sufficient to have caused inebriation either to Smedley or his three friends.

Explicit Instructions. The proceedings before the coroner go to show that Smedley had been given the prescription for rum with the explicit instructions that he take one ounce before going to bed. In view of all the circumstances, therefore, the Premier has decided, on the advice of the Deputy Attorney-General, that there is not sufficient cause to institute any further inquiry, much less to warrant the prosecution of the medical man apparently involved.

VICTORIA MAY LOSE HOUSING ALLOTMENT

Minister of Lands Gets Many Applications For Unused Allocations

Unless the city of Victoria avails itself of the financial grant in connection with the housing scheme, the Minister of Lands, will apparently find himself in the position of having to consider applications which are sent to him from other quarters, for any unused portions of British Columbia's allocation.

Up till the present time Victoria has failed to get past the negotiation stage and until the municipal authorities enter into an agreement with the Province, the returned soldier applicants desirous of taking advantage of the plan are required to cool their heels in uncertainty. It is understood that many would-be soldier householders have signified their intention to the Superintendent of B. C. Soldier Settlement to make their home in Victoria, if the City Council will follow the lead set by other municipalities. In the present uncertainty, however, the Minister of Lands declares that many estimable returned citizens are anxious to own their own houses will probably move to other points offering the housing advantages.

OAK BAY RECONSIDERS THE HOUSING SCHEME

Though it turned down the Dominion Housing scheme at first, the Municipal Council of Oak Bay is reconsidering the acceptance of its housing allocation. A committee of the whole Council will go into the matter in view of the favorable decisions made by other municipalities recently, and the Provincial Government's evident desire that the various allocations be utilized.

At a meeting of the Council last night the municipal Solicitor and Engineer were instructed to draw up a by-law regulating the building of houses and governing the number of dwellings to be constructed under one roof. This decision arose out of a case in which an applicant desired to construct a building on Laurel Street containing several dwellings.

Prices on several lots of property taken over by the municipality at the last tax sale, on which there have been most every case the price set was higher than the price offered. Following the receipt of a letter from E. A. Colbert, the Works Committee, considering the advisability of planting shade trees along the bank above the beach near the Willows Park.

As a result of war industries, 22,000 persons in the United States succeeded in raising their fortunes to £200,000 or more.

WANT LARGER AID FOR INSTITUTIONS

Nationalization of Hospitals Will Be Emphasized To-night

The most important feature of the three day convention in Victoria of the British Columbia Hospitals Association will be the discussion at to-night's session of the question of nationalization of hospitals. As this matter has created a great deal of interest in the province for some time past, it is expected that the attendance at to-night's meeting in the Empress Hotel Ball Room will be particularly large and enthusiastic.

Resolutions from various Hospital Boards throughout the Province, and deputations from various medical bodies will deal with the subject. J. J. Banfield, R. S. Day, Dr. A. G. Price and several other prominent speakers will address the meeting on this topic of public interest.

Case Records. Dr. T. R. Ponton, Director of Medical Records, Vancouver General Hospital, gave an interesting address this morning on the subject of "Case Records in British Columbia Hospitals." Dr. Ponton's position is looked upon as the first of the kind created in Canada, and possibly on the American continent in connection with any of the numerous medical institutions. It was stated, realized that it was necessary to have proper medical records for the good of the patient, and for the assistance of medical science in promoting a high standard of medical practice. Consequently it was decided to inaugurate the record system, of which Dr. Ponton was placed in charge last fall.

Dr. Ponton is a man of long experience overseas and otherwise conversant with all the latest details in medical matters. He explained that a most complete system has been worked out in the Vancouver General Hospital, the details of which are to be made available in printed form, and have been generally accepted by the Hospital Standardization Committee of North America, which recently made a review of all the hospitals.

This system was laid before the Convention to-day with the idea of having it adopted throughout all the hospital institutions in British Columbia, either in whole or in part.

Value of Record. It was pointed out that the day has come when hospitals must keep a proper record of patients, of all that is done for them and of all that is wrong with them. Thus there can be a future reference in case of recurrence of an illness when the former doctor is absent, or deceased, as happened during the epidemic of Spanish influenza, when many doctors lost their lives.

A recent case occurred in a western city where a patient was held in the operating room for fifteen or twenty minutes while a rush wire was sent to the Vancouver General Hospital for particulars of a previous operation, and the answer had a particularly important bearing on the course of treatment at that time. This instance was quoted as only one of thousands of cases which could be helped by the obtaining of such records.

Discussion on the question was opened by Dr. Rogers, Medical Superintendent, Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, and Dr. W. E. Willis, Nanaimo, who, with other speakers, were strongly in favor of the system.

After luncheon the delegates became the guests of the Rotary Club, and were taken for a motoring tour around the district, followed by a visit to the Nurses Home at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, where refreshments were served, and an entertainment given.

At to-night's session Dr. A. G. Price will speak on "Maternity Hospitals in Relation to Public Health."

MR. PATTULLO BACK

Says Conditions Throughout Northern Central Section Are Excellent

From a ten-day trip, accompanied by his Private Secretary, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, returned to his office in the Parliament Buildings this morning.

The Minister visited Prince Rupert, Bella Coola, Surf Inlet and Ocean Falls. At each point Mr. Pattullo reports having found excellent conditions and a good business outlook throughout the northern central section generally.

Departmental matters took Mr. Pattullo north and during the course of his trip he was able to get an insight into industrial conditions. Activity at the Surf Inlet mines, he says, points to good business and there appears to be an unending supply of ore in sight.

The wheat acreage in the Dominion has expanded from 1,646,721 acres in 1870 to 2,866,554 acres in 1890, 2,701,246 acres in 1890, 4,224,542 acres in 1900, and 8,864,514 acres in 1910, to 14,756,000 acres in 1917, as shown by Dominion census statistics.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Squeakie Eekie

Copyright, 1918, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard R. Garis.)

"Could you ride to the store for me in your automobile this morning and bring back some sugar for a strawberry short cake, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fussay Wussy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, one morning.

"I shall feel most jolly to do that!" said the bunny rabbit gentleman, with a low and polite bow of his tall, silk hat. Soon he had his auto out of the woodshed, where he had kept it all night, and, a little later, Uncle Wiggily was on his way to the sugary-frosty seven and eight cent store.

He had bought the sweet stuff so Nurse Jane could make a raspberry dumpling, and he was about to ride home in his automobile, when, all at once, he heard a squeaking noise. "Oh, ho! That will never do!" said the rabbit gentleman to himself. "When an auto squeaks it needs oiling and a squeak shows that something is wrong. I guess I had better go to the store and get some oil for my machine."

He was just going to turn around and go to the oil store, when, all at once, he heard a jolly little laugh. "Dear me! I don't see anything funny!" explained Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, you're so funny!" spoke the jolly voice. "To think you took me for a squeak in your auto and were going to put oil on me! Ha! Ha! Ha!"

"Doesn't my auto squeak?" asked Uncle Wiggily, leaning over the side of the seat to look first at one wheel and then the other.

"No, it doesn't squeak. I made that funny noise myself," the jolly voice went on, and then Mr. Longears saw Squeakie-Eekie, the cousin mouse.

She was a cousin to Jollie and Jillie Longtail, the mouse boy and girl, and the reason Squeakie-Eekie had such a funny name was because she had such a funny, squeaky voice, just as though an auto spring needed oiling.

"Oh, ho! So it was you sh!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I'm glad nothing is the matter with my auto. Hop in, Squeakie-Eekie, and I'll give you a ride."

The little cousin mouse was glad to do this, for she had been to the store to buy Mrs. Longtail, with whom she lived, a yeast cake, and as the store was a long way from the mouse house Squeakie-Eekie was tired.

But she was soon rested as she rode

NURSING SISTER W. HOWARD.
Who has returned from a year's nursing service overseas, and is receiving a warm welcome from her many friends in the city. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard, of 1850 Paul Bay Road, Miss Howard graduated from St. Joseph's Hospital in April, 1915. After taking up special nursing for some time, she was appointed to the nursing staff at Work Point Military Hospital serving twelve months at that institution. Then followed some months on the staffs at Both Resthaven and Esquimalt Hospitals until July of last year when, in company with Nursing Sister Beatrice Bradshaw, of Victoria, she was sent with a draft of nurses overseas. Sister Howard was attached to the No. 4 Canadian General Hospital at Basinstoke, Hants, remaining there until she fell a victim to the influenza epidemic a few months ago. A severe attack of the disease necessitated Miss Howard's being invalided home to Canada for rest and recuperation.

"I" UNIT CHAPTER

To Undertake Care of Six More Graves of Soldiers; Mrs. G. F. Dawson New Vice-Regent.

At its regular meeting last night, the "I" Unit Chapter undertook the care of six more graves of soldiers buried at Ross Bay Cemetery, in addition to its already large programme of activities. The regent, Mrs. North, presided, and there was a good attendance. Twelve new members being received into the chapter. Mrs. G. F. Dawson was appointed vice-regent to succeed Mrs. Harvey, whose resignation was accepted with regret.

Mrs. David Miller, secretary of the Municipal Chapter, read her report of the annual meeting of the National Chapter at which she represented the local members of the Order. At the conclusion she was accorded a standing vote of thanks. The chapter has now adjourned until September.

WILL PRESERVE GRAVE OF CAPT. VANCOUVER

Lady Douglas Chapter, I. O. D. E., Honors Mrs. J. D. Gordon at Meeting Yesterday

That the grave of Captain Vancouver in Petersham Churchyard, England, was in a neglected and unkempt condition sadly out of keeping with the honored traditions surrounding the name of this pioneer navigator was the allegation made by a returned soldier through the medium of a Vancouver newspaper a short time ago. The allegation was brought to the attention of the Lady Douglas Chapter, I. O. D. E., by Mrs. Hassell at the regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon and, in furtherance of its work in keeping one hand on the traditions of the past, the members decided to ascertain the facts with a view to remedying the deplorable condition. To this end the secretary was instructed to communicate with F. C. Wade, K. C., the Agent-General for British Columbia. Nearly thirty members were present at the meeting, and Mrs. E. B. McMillan, the regent was in the chair.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon Honored.

A happy little incident of the meeting, and one which gave much pleasure to all acquainted with her splendid work in connection with the military hospitals, was the presentation of a life membership badge to Mrs. J. D. Gordon, as a slight token of appreciation of her untiring energy and devoted service in this connection. Two new members were received into the Chapter, and a warm welcome was extended to Mrs. Lezno Ross after her long absence overseas.

Pioneer Held Many Important Official Positions; Late Charles Hayward

CHARLES HAYWARD DIED LAST NIGHT

Pioneer Citizen Succumbs at Advanced Age; Had Held Many Offices

Ex-Mayor Charles Hayward, pioneer of 1862, and for years active in the civic life of the community, passed away yesterday shortly before midnight, in his 81st year. The end had been expected for some days, though he rallied somewhat yesterday morning.

Pioneer of 1862.
Charles Hayward was born at Stratford, Essex, England, May 12, 1839, and was educated at Salem College. He came to British Columbia in 1862, his first impressions of the district being of Esquimalt on a sunny day more than 57 years ago. He had travelled by steamer from Panama via San Francisco, and Portland, Oregon. His first call was upon Rev. Edward Cridge, who had been clergyman of the parish in West Ham, Essex, where Mr. Hayward's parents attended church. Mr. Cridge's letters about the pioneer colony of Vancouver Island stirred Mr. Hayward to travel and see the colony for himself.

He met on the following day Sir James Douglas, the Governor, who was then near the close of his administration of affairs on the Island.

The story of his reminiscences of the early pioneer days in Victoria was published some time ago in these columns.

A Stirring Incident.
Speaking of the days shortly after the entry of the united colonies into the Dominion, Mr. Hayward said on that occasion, "Few but those living here in the early days can realize the intense unrest and disappointment which was felt at the continual failure of the Dominion Government to comply with the terms of Union or the modifications suggested by Lord Carnarvon. At last the temper of the people was so aroused that fears were entertained of some overt act of disloyalty, while open threats of annexation to the United States were made. Then came the storming of the legislative chamber by angry people, following a public meeting and a stormy adjournment.

The incident brought to the attention of the authorities the urgency for action. The Hon. James D. Edgar, armed with large powers, was deputed to conciliate matters.

"During that time I met him on the occasion of a visit to the Elk-Lake waterworks, then under construction (Mr. Hayward had been elected to the City Council in 1873). Some unforeseen delay at the lake suggested the idea that we play 'pitch and toss' to fill in the interval. Mr. James Drummond, a member of the Council, had planned the event, and had provided twenty dollar gold pieces, which he distributed privately among the members. Edgar himself declined to play, but was more than astonished at the magnitude of the game, and at the small fortunes lost and won, and in subsequent letters to the eastern press expressed himself freely on the occurrence and its evidence of the reckless extravagance of the west."

His Public Life.
Mr. Hayward became prominently identified with the mining building and manufacturing interests. After two terms in the City Council, 1873-74, he was out of municipal life for a considerable period, although holding a number of offices in benevolent and fraternal societies. However, in 1885 he was elected to the School Board. There he continued to sit until 1898, acting for some years as chairman of the Board. At the end of 1898 he decided to offer himself for the Council again, and was returned at the head of the poll for alderman in the South Ward.

He was elected over C. E. Redfern to the Mayoralty in 1900 by a substantial majority, and had the distinction of being unopposed in the two following elections. During his term as Mayor the Causeway improvement was inaugurated, and the air cleared for the subsequent erection of the Empress Hotel on the reclaimed property.

Mr. Hayward was again twice in the mayoralty, but was not re-elected. In Charitable Work.

His chief benevolent work was done as a member, and later chairman of the directorate of the B. C. Protestant Orphanage. For some time he was president also of the Children's Aid Home, which position he resigned owing to differences with the committee at the time in 1917, when there was a sharp cleavage of opinion on the management of the organization.

On the only occasion he ran for the Legislature he was not successful, at the contest of 1903, however he headed the poll in the Conservative interest.

Mr. Hayward was identified with the various commercial interests of the city during his long residence, as he was for a term a councillor of the British Columbia Board of Trade. With the present body he continued in membership. He was one of the original members of the Pacific Club.

His wife, who died in 1901, was Sarah, second daughter of John Chesney, of Middlesex, England, whom he married just before coming to Vancouver Island. She followed him six months later via Cape Horn. Three children survive—Mrs. W. S. Fraser, Ernest Chesney Hayward and Reginald Hayward, all residing in this city. Six sons and a daughter predeceased their father. There are eleven grandchildren living.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT MILITARY FUNERALS

Veterans Declare Military Authorities Do Not Accord Dead Proper Ceremony

Complaints that the military authorities are not managing military funerals with proper ceremony were lodged at a meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association last night. One veteran protested that no firing party nor pallbearers had been supplied at a funeral he had witnessed, while the gun carriage was drawn by two brown horses. As Canada is supposed to be maintaining a standing army, the least the military authorities could do, he thought, would be to supply a firing party and see that the funeral was conducted with the ceremony that would be seen in any English garrison town. It was finally decided to ask all undertakers to notify the Association of the death of any returned man.

It was announced that a record number of applications for membership in the Association had been received, some ninety veterans desiring admission to the organization.

A report on the Provincial Convention held in Vancouver last month was delivered by Comrade O'Halloran, who stated that the next provincial convention would be held in Fernie.

The work of the Dominion Convention held in Vancouver last week was described by Comrade Axon and Comrade Hart, the delegates of the local branch. The delegates' report was received with approval, and they were accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

The question of finding new quarters for the local branch was discussed and referred back to the committee which has the matter in charge.

The poor showing made by Victoria in regard to hands was considered, and Comrade Duggan was made chairman of a committee struck to organize a Veterans' Band.

The meeting heard with pleasure an address of Mrs. Ball, President of the Women's Auxiliary.

WEATHER IDEAL FOR MOVIE FILMS
Victoria's Climatic Conditions Praised by Film Company Officials

Many tributes to the advantages of Victoria from the standpoint of moving picture enterprises have been given by various experts during the last few years. Now R. J. Errington, of the British American Film Company, Vancouver, comes forward with a very emphatic verdict for the superiority of the climate, the air and the lighting here, quite apart from the natural beauty of the scenery.

Mr. Errington stated to The Times last evening that the pictures he has been engaged in taking on behalf of the Victoria and Island Development Association of scenes in and around Victoria have proved to him conclusively that there is no place on the Pacific seaboard where better motion pictures could be obtained.

Mr. Errington says that Victoria light is infinitely superior to that appertaining at Universal City, Cal., and other motion picture headquarters. He pointed out that in a well-known film, "Tilly's Punctured Romance," only 7,000 feet of film could be used out of 240,000 taken, owing to the climatic vagaries when it was prepared in California. He ventures the opinion that there would be no such waste if a film company were to operate here.

The films which the British American Film Company is taking for the association have been secured under the direct supervision of Bernard C. Davey, one of the directors. The pictures include views of the Victoria Yacht Club, farming scenes on the peninsula, the Butchart gardens, Brentwood, Beacon Hill Park, Parliament Buildings, the causeway and the best residential sections; special attention has been given to the Victoria golf links.

Today pictures were taken at Cordova Bay showing camping parties on the beach. Mr. Davey says that about 1,500 feet of film have been taken in Victoria, and there is plenty of material easily to justify five reels. The film company will distribute these pictures through the various agencies in which they are associated. They hold exclusive rights for British Columbia for the Father's, Gaumont of Flushing, N.Y., and the International News. No views taken on this occasion, however, will be sent out until they have received the approval at a private view to be held at the Royal Victoria Theatre in the near future. They will then be distributed through the ordinary film channels, and also to the Dominion Government, the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association and one or two other similar bodies.

COLONEL BRUCE'S FAMOUS REPORT MADE PUBLIC AT LAST

—But by the Colonel Himself, Not by the Government—

Scathing Criticism of Sir George Perley

(From the Ottawa Citizen.)

A strange tale, full of sensational allegations against Sir George Perley when Overseas Minister of Militia, is unfolded in the book of Colonel Herbert Bruce, M.D., of Toronto, out to-day, entitled "Politics and the Canadian Army Medical Corps."

The book contains the report which the government here has always suppressed and which was made by Colonel Bruce in reply to criticisms of the Baplle commission on his original report against the administration of the S.A.S.C. in England. Sir George Perley's inefficiency in medical administration (the system, not the individuals, being criticized) of money wasted on needless hospitals; of future medical developments because of insufficient safeguards applied to pensions; of social intrigue to prevent Canadians being concentrated in "imperialism" be discouraged and, particularly, charges of downright persecution and politics run all through the volume of 250 pages, whose outstanding features are summarized herewith.

Perhaps the most sensational thing disclosed by Col. Bruce is the action which he says was taken to prevent him leaving the old country. He had made his report exposing the rottenness of the British medical system—a hand-picked commission had upset his findings and he was dismissed from the service. But he charges, they would not let him come home. He resigned, the resignation was not accepted. He was offered a job in the British army but prepared to come home, got his passport and booked his passage, only to be blocked by the Argyl House that, if he attempted to sail, the embarkation officer had instructions to arrest him, so he stayed and went to France as a consulting surgeon of the British army. Now he is free and he speaks out.

Ordered to Investigate by Sir Sam Hughes.

It should be explained that Colonel Bruce is one of Toronto's most eminent surgeons. He went overseas in 1916 with instructions by Sir Sam Hughes to investigate the medical services. He did so and reported many amazing inefficiencies. He particularly recommended concentration of Canadian wounded in Canadian hospitals and was authorized to apply the remedy. He got well under way when Sir Sam went out of the cabinet, and, about that time, Sir George Perley was created with Sir George Perley at his head.

The Baplle Commission

Sir George promptly proceeded to appoint a commission headed by Sir William Baplle to "investigate the Bruce report." Protests that the report had been approved in London and Ottawa availed nothing. The Baplle commission went on. They demanded that Col. Bruce say the King's regulations accorded him—the right of sitting through the inquiry. When his evidence was heard he had to get out. Long before the report came out, it was heralded that the old system, controlled by Col. Bruce, would be vindicated. Col. Baplle, by the way, is shown by Col. Bruce to have been responsible for the army medical scandal in Mesopotamia. Official reports to that effect are quoted.

When the Baplle report came out, Col. Bruce, in the spring of 1917, prepared a rejoinder and sent it to the government at Ottawa. Time and again it was asked for in the house and finally refused flatfooted by the premier on grounds, which, Col. Bruce declares, have no foundation in fact.

What the Book Contains

However, a year is over, Col. Bruce is back the civilian life and, in his notable book, he gives this report. It is a reply to the different criticisms of the Baplle commission, but even more interesting to the book itself and the allegations which are made. Col. Bruce shows himself to be a facile writer, both in his work and in his somewhat profane letters. He charges Sir George Perley with blocking his efforts to have an extended inquiry into hospital conditions and, among others, quotes an illuminative case of maladministration where a Canadian hospital with 222 patients had a staff of 573. The total capacity was only something over three hundred. Facts are recited to show that officers who mission or were suspected of being in sympathy with him, were subjected to humiliation and persecution by the Argyl House staff under Sir George Perley.

The whole work is a stinging arraignment of the medical administration as Col. Bruce found it.

"When after volunteering my services, the government accepted them and delegated to me the unpleasant task of investigating and reporting upon what is perhaps the most important service in the army, I realized that a judicial and unbiased revelation of the defects discovered might bring down upon me the enmity of those whose regime I threatened to disturb. But the members of my committee were one with me in the conviction that our obligation to the Canadian soldiers far outweighed personal considerations. Our work fortunately resulted in more efficient and more generous treatment for the sick and wounded and we are amply repaid."

Not Personal.

"An apparently deliberately distorted statement of my attitude towards the medical service, as the result of my investigation of it, which was circulated for political purposes and evidently with the object of arousing antagonism against me, renders it necessary that I should here reiterate that neither in my original report, nor in this volume, have I criticized the medical men carrying on their professional duties in the Canadian army."

The Original Report.

Col. Bruce at this point repeats his original report which was published at the time of his resignation. The report on the medical services was made in 1916 on invitation of General Sir Sam Hughes, then Minister of Militia, who sought recommendations for improvement of the service. With Col. Bruce were Colonel's Wallace Scott, Walter McKeown, F. W. E. Wilson, Charles Hunter and Frank B. L. Among other things, Col. Bruce strongly favored the Canadian wounded, in place of being all over Britain, being concentrated together. He said in part:

"My experience with sick people leads me to the conclusion that they prefer to be amongst their relatives and friends, and I imagine that the feelings of a sick soldier in no way differ in this respect from those of a sick civilian. During the inspection undertaken for the purposes of my report we found our Canadian soldiers in the hospitals which they had been sent to Canadian hospitals, where they would have been under the care of doctors and nurses from home, with whom they would naturally have had more in common, and Canadian medical officers complained that, in consequence of the existing conditions, they rarely had an opportunity of treating a Canadian patient."

His Findings.

In due course he made his investigation and in the confidential report to the medical administration was criticized under many heads. He found for instance, that many soldiers were arriving in England from Canada medically unfit, who should never have been enlisted; that the system of distribution of casualties from the front to imperial hospitals in England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland was extremely unsatisfactory; that there was unnecessary detention in hospitals. There had been no medical inspection by the Canadian medical service of Canadian soldiers in Imperial hospitals and the section of Canadian hospitals, in consequence of which Canadian soldiers were retained in hospitals in Great Britain, many of whom should have been returned to Canada, where they could have been more economically and efficiently treated. The lack of system permits the aimless moving of patients from hospital to hospital; the use by the British medical service of voluntary aid hospitals was most undesirable, as they were inefficient, expensive and unsatisfactory. There were many other points of criticism, including the improper detailing of C.A.M.C. officers to the Imperial hospitals and still keeping them on the Canadian pay roll; the establishment of special rheumatic hospitals at Buxton, and faulty system of handling infectious diseases. The lack of co-ordination in the medical service between Canada, England and the front was condemned, and also the refusal to use experienced consulting specialists. Then followed a lengthy scheme of reorganization, establishing a definite chain of responsibility.

Endorsed by Sub-Militia Council.

Col. Bruce's report was submitted to the sub-militia council overseas in October, 1916. Afterwards Col. Rennie and Col. Jones made certain representations on the report and the council appointed by Sir Sam Hughes to investigate the report. The work of reorganization by Col. Bruce then began but did not get very far. Col. Bruce continues the narrative:

"The work was proceeding most satisfactorily along the lines indicated, and a considerable amount had already been done, when Lieutenant-General Sir Sam Hughes, the Minister of Militia and Defence for Canada, resigned his portfolio. Closely associated with this event was the appointment of Sir George Perley as overseas minister for the military forces of Canada, and one of his first official acts was the cancelling of the arrangements made in regard to the return to Canada of Surgeon-General Jones.

Sir George Perley Intervenes.

"At this time I had a great many interviews with Sir George Perley in connection with medical matters, but more especially in regard to my report, which he seemed determined to discredit. In one of these interviews he said that he understood that I had told someone that he had condemned this report without having read it. I replied that this was not quite correct, and that what I had said was that either he had not read the report at all, or that if he had done so he had not read it intelligently, as he was evidently not familiar with its contents.

On November 2 Sir George Perley instructed Col. Bruce "to cancel all arrangements made in connection with the scheme of reorganization."

Exchange of Letters with Sir George.

Here follows a somewhat voluminous correspondence between Col. Bruce and Sir George. In the first two letters Dr. Bruce outlined with much detail the form of reorganization carried out or proposed. In one item alone—taking over the administration of 57 V.A.D. hospitals—a saving of $10,000 a year would be effected. Sir George in his reply on November 5, while expressing his willingness to take up questions that were imperative, told Col. Bruce that "the proper channel of communication" was through the acting adjutant-general to the sub-militia council. He admitted that "the venereal situation is certainly urgent" and added, "I cannot quite understand why your action regarding it has been so long delayed."

Col. Bruce remarks in his book that "while Sir George Perley admitted the urgency of the case, he proclaimed his devotion to red tape, ensuring needless delay." Replying to Sir George by letter, he said in part:

No Delay.

"I note that you agree that the venereal situation is urgent, and say that you cannot quite understand why my action in regard to it has been so long delayed. May I at once state that action on my part in this matter was not delayed, but on the contrary I placed it before the sub-militia council in reports submitted on four separate occasions, i.e., September 3, October 19, November 2 and November 15. In these reports I pointed out the serious situation which had arisen in consequence of the unsatisfactory—and in my opinion improper—method which had obtained in dealing with venereal patients.

"There is no arrangement for venereal cases in any Canadian area in England at the present time. To-day, for instance, there are ninety-seven men being treated in the battalion lines, a most serious and improper state of affairs."

The Baplle Board of Col. Bruce's Protests.

It was right after this that Sir George Perley created a commission to "investigate" Col. Bruce's report. Sir Wm. Baplle headed it, and others were Col. E. C. Ashton, Col. J. T. Fotheringham, Col. A. E. Ross and Lt.-Col. J. M. Elder.

As soon as he learned of this proposal, Col. Bruce cabled a protest to the premier, pointing out that his report had been approved by the sub-militia council and by the minister at Ottawa. He added in the cable:

"Consider his (Perley's) selection unfair to Canada in view of the recommendations, namely that Canadian patients should, as far as possible, be treated in Canadian hospitals. Three of the four other members are on duty in France, where they have been from the beginning, and are unfamiliar with conditions in England, with which my report only deals. It would appear that minister intends to whitewash effect of my report instead of facing issue. If this board as constituted stands, I ask to be relieved of my position here so that I may once more return to Canada."

"I received no acknowledgment or other reply to this cablegram," adds Col. Bruce. He next protested to Sir George Perley against Fotheringham being on the board, he having expressed himself "openly and bitterly and therefore is already prejudiced." Sir George replied resenting the suggestion of whitewash, and added that Fotheringham would have an open mind because of his "standing and professional reputation."

Following up with a letter, Col. Bruce reiterated that the reorganization had been approved at Ottawa and was well under way, and that to interfere at that stage would cause confusion.

Next, Col. Bruce endeavored to enlarge the scope of the Baplle inquiry. He comments:

"Sir George Perley's attitude, as will be seen from the correspondence, was ever one of obstruction, as first shown by his refusal to have an open mind driven to a decision he loses against any admission of new revelations which might still further discredit the service."

In his letter Col. Bruce suggested:

"In my opinion the inquiry ought not to be limited to the consideration of the facts in my report, but its scope should be extended to cover the conditions which a continuance of my investigation subsequent to the publication of the report has brought to light. I would, therefore, suggest that preliminary instructions be given to the board to enquire into and report upon the chaotic conditions found at No. 6 Canadian General Hospital, Paris, and the unsatisfactory state of affairs at No. 5 Canadian General Hospital, Paris; and also to report upon the serious situation discovered at the Duchess of Cornwall's Hospital, London, and to place responsibility for the maladministration upon the guilty parties."

Sir George sent to the Baplle board copies of the correspondence and then invited Col. Bruce to come and make a statement. Finally, December 7, 1916, Sir George ruled against an enlarged scope. He said Paris and Taplow had already been looked into and added:

"I could not, however, very well enlarge the scope of the present inquiry without asking the board to visit other hospitals than those you mention, and to go into the various details of the medical services. It does not seem desirable that these particular officers holding such important positions, should do that at this time, and therefore I feel that it is not practicable to enlarge the scope of the inquiry as you suggest."

Whitewashing Forecasted.

In further correspondence Col. Bruce said he was not aware of not being invited to have a board investigate a confidential report and urged a widened inquiry. He charged the board "was constituted primarily to criticize my recommendations and criticisms." Further, he held that influence was being exerted to have a report adverse to him and quoted an inspired article in the British Medical Journal, as follows:

"We fully believe that the tenor of the report will be such as to lead to the re-instatement of Surgeon-General Jones and to justify Sir William Osier in withdrawing his resignation."

After getting these letters and some others on the same line, Sir George sought to close the correspondence peremptorily by writing on December 13, 1916, in part: "I really think that nothing can be accomplished by any further communication between us on the subject."

This, however, did not prevent Col. Bruce from pointing out again the impropriety of Col. Fotheringham serving on the board after writing a memorandum whose findings were wholly at variance with his own recommendations of a board of inquiry on a question which he had already prejudged.

Alliges British Fair Play Denied at Inquiry.

"The inquiry, as it ultimately took place before a hand-picked board, bore no resemblance to the proceedings of any properly constituted civil or military court. The well recognized rules of evidence and of practice with regard to the examination of witnesses were habitually disregarded. The principle of British fair play which prevails in courts of justice and which demands the presence of both the complainant and the accused was absent. The star chamber policy of secrecy and injustice was continued even to the length of denying me a copy of the evidence on which my report was condemned."

When on December 28, 1916, Col. Bruce sought a copy of the Baplle report it was refused and Sir George Perley in the same letter, read him his duties as "special inspector-general of the medical services," on the ground that there was no need of such an office. Any authority given him over the services was countermanded. The book continues:

"As I have previously said, from the beginning Sir George Perley was most definitely and decidedly hostile to my report, and in casting about for some avenue of discrediting it he hit upon the by no means original expedient of appointing a board of inquiry for the purpose. The very personnel of this board was purpose apparent because no one was appointed to it, with the exception of Colonel Ashton, who had not openly opposed my recommendations and who was not on record as being sympathetic to the reforms I had so earnestly advocated. Indeed, one of the members of this board, before leaving France to take part in the inquiry remarked that no more than a week would be required to dispose of the report, and even from the high commissioner's office there emanated the opinion that when this board had completed its task Surgeon-General Jones would be reinstated and I should be on my way back to Canada. Neither of these forecasts was entirely correct, however, as the board of inquiry, under the chairmanship of Sir William Baplle, spent more than a month in considering my report, and examining witnesses in camera. The whole tenor of the questions put to me reflected the prejudices of the examiners."

Col. Bruce points out that he was permitted to be present only when giving his evidence. When the report was issued Sir George Perley denied him a copy of the evidence upon which it was based.

Confirmed on Some Points.

The Baplle report in some instances approved and in others disapproved the Bruce report. It approved the finding that a reorganization of the C.A.M.C. from "top to bottom" was needed; it was "abundantly satisfied" that Canadian sick and wounded were well treated; it commended, generally, the work of General Jones; reported against concentration of Canadian wounded and against discontinuing V.A.D. hospitals, and made certain other recommendations of a technical character.

Sir George Perley gave out the report with a statement which, Col. Bruce says, "designed to prejudice Canadian opinion against my report and generally mislead the public."

Col. Bruce's Suppressed Reply.

But the colonel was up and doing. He proceeded to submit a memorandum of reply. It was forwarded on May 18, 1917, to Ottawa, but ever since has been suppressed. It all appears in "Politics and the C.A.M.C." Col. Bruce expressed regret that after five months nothing for the betterment of the Canadian sick and wounded had been undertaken. He outlined the eminent qualifications of the committee who served with him and compared their services with those of Col. Baplle, an Imperial officer; Col. Ashton, a combatant; Col. Fotheringham, an R.S.S. administration officer; and Col. Elder, a surgeon. He spoke well of their military and medical service, but says the problems they were asked to express an opinion on were new to them. Col. Bruce alluded to the fact that he was barred from the inquiry, "though the King's Regulations state that when an inquiry affects the character and military reputation of an officer full opportunity to be present must be afforded." He adds:

Alleges Persistent Hostility.

"My exclusion from the hearing was accompanied by the persistent refusal of Sir George Perley of my request to have the scope of the inquiry enlarged to permit of the submission of additional evidence of grave irregularities discovered subsequent to the publication of my report of the serious nature of which the minister was fully cognizant. The temper of the communications of the minister in reply to my protests and the hostile attitude of the board towards me was sufficient evidence that the early information of the minister and myself and our report, was not without foundation."

The chief criticism levelled at myself at the time was my lack of military experience, although the situation upon which I had been asked to report involved matters of hospital rather than military administration, and was, in fact, a business with which

Of the Toronto Orthopaedic Staff, Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment

Crystal Theatre, Broad Street, Victoria

Friday, July 11 at 8 p.m.

Some idea of the importance of Orthopaedic Work, as done through the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, can be gauged from the following facts.

This branch was first started in 1916, at Toronto, and employed a very small staff of six men and one boy. Since then it has grown to such proportions that it was found necessary to open up twelve additional branches, in order to give satisfactory service.

The factories manufacturing Orthopaedic appliances in Toronto cover about forty-five thousand square feet of floor space, employing nearly three hundred men, seventy-five per cent. of the whole staff being discharged soldiers.

Since the work of supplying returned disabled men with artificial appliances started, there has been made, to date, two thousand three hundred and twenty-six legs, one thousand and ninety-three arms, ten thousand seven hundred and fifty minor appliances, two thousand five hundred and eighty-seven pairs of Orthopaedic Boots, and three thousand four hundred major repairs.

During May of this year the following appliances have been turned out by this Department: Two hundred and eight legs, one hundred and twenty-one arms, five hundred and ninety-two minor appliances, four hundred and thirty-eight Orthopaedic Boots and five hundred and seventy-four major repairs, which have been delivered.

The Canadian Government was the first to take up this work and standardize small parts, handling this work in accordance with modern factory practice, and has met with splendid results.

Returned disabled men should not miss this opportunity of gaining valuable information in regard to Artificial Limbs, Splints, Orthopaedic Boots, Glasses, and Treatments.

Mr. Jones will be pleased to interview all returned man (Orthopaedic Cases) having complaints to make, at the Fitting Room, "J" Unit, Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment, 6th Floor, Central Building, Victoria, B.C., on day of lecture.

All Members of the C.A.M.C. Are Cordially Invited to Attend

WAS WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE ESTABLISHES OFFICES TO HANDLE MEETING

J. Williamson, Organizer of K. of C. Literature Service, in City To-day

Of the many ramifications of the K. of C. work at the front, one of the biggest undertakings was the distribution of literature to Huts, camps, hospitals and the various bases. J. Williamson, of Vancouver, one of the only two Canadians appointed to this branch of K. of C. work with the American forces overseas, is in Victoria on his way home after a year's service, and to a Times representative this morning gave some details of his duties as organizer of a circulation depot.

A newspaper career of over thirty years' standing in England and Canada during which he filled the editorial chair on such well-known British Columbia papers as the B. C. Western Catholic, Penticton Herald, Similkameen Star, and the Kamloops Telegram, equipped Mr. Williamson with a comprehensive knowledge of the tastes of the reading public which proved an invaluable factor in his work among the troops. He went to France with the American forces in September, 1918, at the time of the drive in the Argonne and organized a circulation depot in that area. From this centre Mr. Williamson arranged the distribution of books, reading matter and newspapers to the K. of C. huts, camps, hospitals and technical books to the men engaged in studying with a view to bettering their position on their return to civil life. This literature service was extended to England and Italy as well as France, while the troops with the army of occupation in Germany also received their due quota.

Mr. Williamson states that from January to May of this year alone, 1,500,000 francs from the K. of C. funds had been expended in the purchase and distribution of literature. The men were most appreciative of the service, especially after the signing of the armistice when the constant supply of reading matter furnished a necessary diversion and averted the discontent occasioned by the delay in sending the troops home.

That his duties were no sinecure may be gauged by the fact that Mr. Williamson undertook all the details of the organizing alone and in addition was his own secretary-stenographer. His duties many times took him to the front lines and in recognition of this he wears the American War Service ribbon with the tiny star which denotes that the wearer has been under fire.

While in the city, Mr. Williamson visited the local K. of C. Army Hut with J. D. O'Connell as cicero, and was deeply impressed with the successful conduct of the hut. The fame of the Victoria hut as the most successful of its kind in Canada has spread East, Mr. Williamson having heard words of praise for the local hut and its managing committee spoken by Colonel Smith, of Montreal, during a recent visit to that city.

Paul A. Cowgill Here to Help Realty Convention Plans

In anticipation of the Inter-State Realty Convention here next week, Paul A. Cowgill, the secretary, has moved his temporary headquarters from Seattle to Victoria. He is temporarily established at the offices of the Victoria and Island Development Association. When business increases with the arrival of the delegates next week, Mr. Cowgill will move to the adjoining premises in the Belmont Block.

He states that the arrangements for the convention are progressing splendidly, and the final invitations to the meeting went out to-day from the Development Association offices.

Mr. Cowgill is in business at Portland, but moved to Seattle to the office of E. S. Goodwin, president of the association in order to organize that section for the forthcoming gathering. Now he has located here until after the convention.

PROGRESS ON DISPUTE

City and Westholme Lumber Co. Debating Agreement Regarding Arbitration.

Further progress toward the settlement of the Westholme Lumber Company's dispute has been made by the civic authorities, in connection with the adjustment of construction costs for Lake water works.

At present the case centres about the functions and powers of the neutral engineer, W. W. Bell, who will arbitrate the dispute. The city's counsel, T. R. Robertson, K.C., former city solicitor, has submitted to City Solicitor Hannington a draft of a proposed agreement regarding Mr. Bell's functions. This, W. H. Hannington forwarded to W. J. Taylor, K.C., counsel for the Company. Mr. Taylor has replied that certain points in the proposed agreement must be absolutely plain before the case can proceed. Mr. Taylor declares that the certificates of progress issued by Wynn Meredith, the engineer in charge of the Company's work on the Lake water works system must not be considered binding.

Mr. Hannington will wire Mr. Robertson telling him of this development.

Any Woman's Struggle For Good Health Quickly Rewarded

A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT NOW ADVOCATED THAT GIVES FINE RESULTS.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong.

Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment:

At the close of every meal, with a sip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferronone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferronone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.

By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferronone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Frank Higgins, K. C., Is Chairman of the Local Committee

A meeting of the local committee of the forthcoming Chautauqua was held last evening in the Dominion Hotel. The following officers and committees were appointed:

Chairman, Frank Higgins, K. C.; vice-chairman, Dean Cecil S. Quinlan; treasurer, John F. Scott; secretary, George J. Dyke; grounds, George G. Bushby, Alderman John Harvey; advertising, H. S. Stevenson, Ernest J. Down; tickets, J. E. Wilson, F. James, J. H. Fletcher; reception, W. S. Terry, Thomas Finlay, Ed. J. Dyer, E. J. Martin; decoration, Stephen Jones; Junior Chautauque, Mrs. Frank Andrews.

The Chautauqua headquarters will be at Fletcher Bros. Music Store, and the Chautauque tent will be pitched on the city reserve behind the Empress Hotel.

Ellis Purdee, organizer from Portland, was present and gave a short history of the Chautauque system.

BLAZING TRAIL FOR PORTLAND REALTY MEN

A. S. Johnson, of Oregon Journal Editorial Staff, Here on Pathfinding Tour

There will be from thirty-five to fifty cars from Portland at the Inter-State Realty Convention here next week. This statement is made by A. S. Johnson, real estate editor of The Oregon Journal, who is in the city to-day in company with S. J. Pickens, manager of the advertising department.

Mr. Johnson has just concluded a pathfinding tour of that portion of the highway, being part of the Georgian circuit, which runs from Olympia to Port Angeles. He came up from Portland to test existing logs of the routes, and to attach signs at the cross roads, with the arrow pointing to Victoria. In addition to the cars mentioned above, there will be a number of cars from Portland via Seattle. Time, however, prevents Mr. Johnson logging that portion of the route, which however is better known to motorists.

He stated that the party will leave Portland on July 15 and make the run direct to Shelton, on the Hood Canal. There accommodation can be secured overnight, and the party will resume its run in the following morning, reaching Port Angeles in time to catch a special steamer for Victoria that evening.

The Portland delegation, says Mr. Johnson, is looking forward very enthusiastically towards the forthcoming tour. It is the intention after the conclusion of the convention to make a journey over the fine roads of Vancouver Island. To stimulate that interest, The Oregon Journal has carried considerable publicity material in recent issues with regard to Victoria, and the Island.

BOYS SAVE MAN FROM DROWNING AT DUNCAN

J. Campbell Squeezed Man's Nose at Bottom of Cowichan River and Brought Him Up

Through the remarkable presence of mind of James Campbell, son of J. M. Campbell, of Duncan, the life of a Victorian, whose name has not yet been learned, was saved in the Cowichan River yesterday afternoon.

According to the information available the man was swimming in the river near the railway bridge and took a cramp. Campbell, with two other boys, was swimming nearby and noticed the mysterious actions of the man. At first they thought he must be fooling, but when he went down and did not come up for a brief period Campbell immediately raced to the spot and jumped in. He found the man grasping a long with his hands at the bottom of the river. He tried to break his hold, but failed. After getting a breath of air he dived again and this time caught hold of the man's nose and squeezed so hard that the drowning man relinquished his hold, and Campbell brought him to the surface.

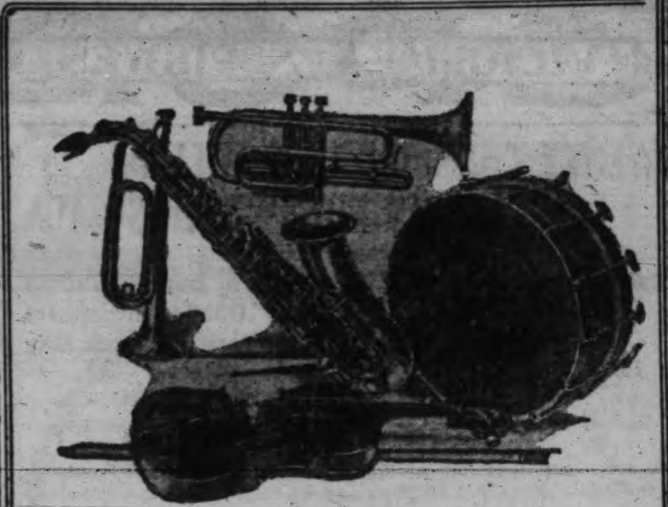

The boys at once started work on resuscitating the man, and after a long time brought him around. They took him to Duncan, where he is resting.

DOMINION OBSERVATORY HAS NOW BEEN FILMED

The first opportunity to see pictures of a large telescope in action will shortly be provided the public, when the pictures taken by the British American Film Company for the Victoria and Island Development Association are issued. The whole of the mechanical operations at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, have been filmed, and should be an excellent method of directing popular attention to an important scientific institution, and incidentally secure publicity for the district.

VICTORIA THE NORTHWEST WORLD

TWENTY CHAMPIONSHIPS WILL BE AT STAKE AT BIG SWIMMING GALA

Revised Programme of P.N.A. Meet Is Issued—Entries Will Close on Saturday—Many Outside Swimmers Coming and All Are in Splendid Shape—Records May Be Broken

Entries for the Pacific Northwest swimming championships, to be held at the Gorge on July 19, will close on Saturday, according to a statement made this morning by W. H. Davies, superintendent of the gala.

The revised programme of events has just been printed and shows that there are twenty championships at stake. Events from Vancouver, Seattle and Portland state that the swimmers there are in fine fettle and it is confidently expected that several new Northwest records will be hung up.

- Complete Programme. The programme will be as follows: 1. 50 yards dash (men). 2. 50 yards dash (women). 3. Plunge for distance (men). 4. Plunge for distance (women). 5. 220 yards free style (men). 6. Farney diving, 10-foot board (men). 7. Farney diving, 10-foot board (women). 8. 100 yards dash (men). 9. 100 yards dash (women). 10. 100 yards breast stroke (men). 11. 100 yards breast stroke (women). 12. 100 yards back stroke (men). 13. 100 yards back stroke (women). 14. 500 yards free style (men). 15. 500 yards free style (women). 16. High diving from firm take off (men). 17. High diving from firm take off (women). 18. Water polo. 19. 200 yards breast stroke (women). 20. 250 yards relay race (men), five to team. 21. Greasy pole. 22. Mop fight in canoes. 23. Boxing on raft by dustweight champions. 24. Centipede race. 25. Canoe relay. 26. Tub race. 27. Log rolling. 28. Pillow fight in canoes. 29. Comic features by V. I. A. A. comedy company.

Among the entries received yesterday was one from James Powell, of the Neptune Swimming Club, of Stockton, Cal. He is the record-holder for the 100 yards back-stroke, which he does in seventy seconds, as fast as a great many people can swim it with the crawl.

TEAMS WILL SCRAP FOR SECOND PLACE

Straith-Two Jacks and Collieries Will Provide Grand Old Battle Saturday

While the Foundation nine has the city amateur baseball championship tucked well up its sleeve there is going to be a hot and interesting struggle between the Straith-Two Jacks outfit and the Collieries. Both teams are playing bang-up ball and while neither is strong enough to take the measure of the leaders they will provide a hot and interesting scramble when they are on the field together.

After the clash on Saturday afternoon between the Collieries and Straith-Two Jacks a game will be played between Yarrow and Foundations. Yarrow has been trying to bolster their team and have got a fairly smart bunch of boys but they are not looked upon as strong enough to put a crimp in the aspirations of the league-leaders.

TROTTER HANGS UP NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR HALF-MILE DASH

Cleveland, O., July 9.—Another record was on hand for the second day of the grand Circuit harness racing at North Randall yesterday and record time was hung up in several events. A world's record was established in the half-mile dash for 2-year-old trotters, when Mr. Dudley won it in 1:02 3/4. He was driven by Lyman Bruce and raced the first quarter in 31 1/2 seconds.

PHILLIES HAVE GOT TO BUILD UP TEAM

Gavvy Cravath, New Manager, Is Casting about For New Players

Philadelphia, July 9.—"Gavvy" Cravath, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, entered upon his managerial career to-day in the hope of building up a winning team. He said, however, he would have to get some players. Cravath was appointed Philadelphia manager yesterday, succeeding Jack Coombs, who resigned.

Local swimming will receive a great boost through the holding of the Pacific Northwest championships in this city on July 19. Some of the finest swimmers in Washington, Oregon and California will be here to compete with British Columbia swimmers for the big events.

WARDS AND RELIABLES WIN THEIR BALL GAMES

Two games in the Intermediate Baseball League were played last evening and resulted in the Wards and Reliables coming out winners.

LEAGUE BASEBALL

By winning a double-header on Monday and cleaning up St. Louis yesterday, New York went back into the leadership of the National League. Cincinnati was only able to break even in a double-header with Boston.

HONORS TO TWO MEN IN ADVERTISING FIELD

Crawford-Harris Advertising Service Recognized by C. P. A.

Honors in the advertising field have been won by the Crawford-Harris Advertising Service of Vancouver through notification from the Toronto office of the Canadian Press Association that the form had been granted official recognition by the Association. To win this recognition means that an advertising agency has shown especial merit in the conduct of its business and that its operation is carried on in a thoroughly reliable and responsible manner.

While the granting of this recognition does great credit to the efforts of two young British Columbia men, Dave Crawford and Frank Harris, the heads of the concern, Victoria residents will be particularly interested in the fact that the senior member, Mr. Crawford, is a Victoria boy—whom—early in life was spent in the Capital City where he received his first business training. From Victoria he went to Vancouver and later to Los Angeles, being connected with advertising work in both places. Later he returned to Vancouver and started the Crawford Advertising Service, joining forces with Mr. Harris in 1917 in the organization of the Crawford-Harris Service. Mr. Harris is also getting to be an old timer in B. C., coming here from New York 15 years ago. After a long term on the editorial staff of the Vancouver World and Province he was appointed the first publicity agent of the B. C. Electric Railway Co. and filled that post for 5 years. He then engaged in private publicity work until joining forces with Mr. Crawford.

Either separately or together the members of this firm have been connected with many of the large advertising campaigns emanating from B. C. and conducted not only in the Province but also throughout the entire Dominion and in many parts of the States. They have won a high reputation as expert advertising men whose advice is valuable and also established a reputation for business integrity of the highest standard. The Service now numbers many large B. C. concerns as its clients among which are several Victoria firms.

"I'm all in the dark about how these bills are to be paid," said Mr. Hardup to his wife.

"Well, Henry," said she, as she pulled out a colored one and laid it on the pile, "you'll be—if you don't pay that one for it's the gas bill."

NURSING SESSION IS HELD IN AFTERNOON

A public health service as the principal factor in the preservation of that most valuable of all economic assets—human life—was the tenor of several interesting and instructive addresses delivered at last night's session of the British Columbia Hospital session. Dr. M. T. MacEachern, of Vancouver, presided, and the audience included a number of the local medical men and members of the nursing profession.

In New York.

In response to an invitation from the president, Miss Isabel Stewart, of Columbia University, a sister of Miss Helen Stewart, of Victoria, gave an interesting resume of the work along public health lines carried out in connection with Columbia University—a work with which she has been associated for the past ten years, and therefore, fully qualified to speak of all its phases and ramifications. In New York alone, according to the statistics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company the death rate had been lowered by twelve and one-half per cent as a result of the public nursing system—these figures having been deduced after a study of the results from five years before and five years after the adoption of the public health service.

As a result of the work carried out in infant welfare, the infant mortality had been reduced in fifteen years from 158 per thousand to ninety per thousand—a wonderful result in view of the vast cosmopolitan population of the metropolis and the sordid condition under which many of the inhabitants have their existence. Pre-natal care, care of tubercular cases, the importance of mental hygiene as a preventative of insanity, and the magnificent work accomplished by nurses engaged in industrial concerns in caring for and safeguarding the health of employees were all phases touched upon by Miss Stewart as having come within the field of her own experiences and observations.

Health Scholarships.

this training as was being done under the Red Cross Education in the United States was the concluding note of Miss Stewart's address.

Public Health Service.

Dr. R. H. Mullin, director of laboratories at the Vancouver General Hospital, dealt with the organization of a public health service in a full and comprehensive paper. The trend of the day was towards a realization of the economic value of the individual to the community and the idea that sickness and disease were "visitations of Providence," was giving way to the newer attitude that prevention was better than cure.

Taking the stand that the organization of a public health service would be of immense value in conserving the human life resources of the province. Dr. Mullin cited figures to prove that the government would benefit materially by the expenditure of the money necessary to the establishment of a public health service.

Monetary Value.

Valuing the life of an adult at $5,000 and an infant under one year at $20,000, the speaker estimated that in 1917, British Columbia lost through death $100,000 in children and $50,000 for adults, the latter including three deaths from smallpox, and nineteen deaths from diphtheria, which would have raised the total loss to the community of $150,000. One of the causes of insanity, syphilis, was responsible for an average of 130 patients throughout the year at the Provincial Mental Hospital. The annual cost of maintenance for each patient being about $250 per year, the Provincial Government had to pay some $32,500 to support patients suffering from diseases which could have been prevented by adequate means of treatment at the time of infection.

Outlining a suggested public health organization for the Province, Dr. Mullin advised that the service could be financed by appropriations made on the percentage basis. It would thus become a matter of determining the relative importance of each public service and assigning to it its relative appropriation. If such a basis were adopted in B. C. it would mean that the sum of between $135,000 and $180,000 would be available for the establishment of a public health service. Dr. Mullin dealt with the four fundamental essentials to success in any public health service—efficient staff, budget, personnel and co-operation—going into exhaustive detail of each phase.

Infectious Disease.

The somewhat startling statement that no city in British Columbia was equipped with a proper modern hospital for the treatment of infectious diseases was made by Dr. F. T. Underhill, Medical Health Officer for Vancouver, in the course of an interesting paper on "Infectious Disease Hospitals." Infectious disease needed to be treated as a community rather than as an individual matter, and in its treatment it was necessary to effect the greatest good to the greatest number. To this end the Province should be divided into areas on a transportation basis with a properly equipped, up-to-date hospital for the treatment of infectious diseases at each centre, ready for any emergency.

Suggested Bureau.

The problem of the immigrant afflicted with such diseases as tuberculosis and the transient infected with venereal disease and syphilis were a menace to the country, filling the hospitals to the exclusion of other cases. The prevalence of such conditions brought home the need for a more comprehensive hospital scheme and emphasized the need for the establishment of a Bureau of Infectious Diseases in connection with the Provincial Board of Health. Dr. Mullin also urged that nurses be trained in diagnosis of infectious diseases.

Deadly Measles.

Dr. H. E. Young in opening the discussion on Dr. Mullin's paper reminded his hearers that health laws were a dead-letter without the co-operation of the medical men and the general public. As the knowledge of public health increased it would be recognized that one must subordinate the individual to the community interest. He deplored the foolishness of the mothers who took the stand that measles was a necessary evil, and assumed the attitude of "let the children have the measles and be done with it." Measles he declared to be one of the most deadly of the more fatal diseases, causing the deaths of more children than any other disease.

The speaker expressed the hope that the women's organizations which had done such a magnificent work in helping to fight the Hun should bend the same efforts to the fighting of the enemy within the gates. The establishment of the Federal Bureau of Health had been due to the action of the women, and he hoped that they would wholeheartedly support the measures for the suppression and treatment of venereal disease.

State Health Insurance.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. McIntosh, M. P. P., continued the discussion, advocating State Health Insurance and state medicine. Dr. Bruce, speaking to Dr. Underhill's paper recapitulated the difficulties experienced in Victoria during the recent epidemic owing to lack of adequate accommodation and equipment to deal with infectious diseases. He advocated the establishment of a properly equipped isolation hospital, large enough to provide accommodation for the treatment of many cases and to provide for the separation of cases, of the sexes and of the races.

Afternoon Session.

The insufficiency of the present system of nursing, particularly in the rural districts, and the need for a systematized policy was again emphasized at the H. C. Hospital Convention during yesterday's afternoon session when Miss J. Forsshaw, R. N., Victorian Order of Nurses, read a paper on "Rural Health Nursing."

The war had disclosed the great need of preventive measures when so many surprises had been uncovered in the medical examinations of men going overseas, she said. Infant mortality was another point ably dealt with by Miss Forsshaw, and she strongly urged that influence be brought to bear to secure proper health legislation to better conditions generally.

That 312 districts in British Columbia were without nurses and that country children in this province were not as healthy as city children because they were not subject to the same supervision and care, were among the statements made by Miss Forsshaw. She was of the opinion that a good public health nursing service was one of the chief mediums through which improved health conditions were to be realized.

Mrs. H. C. Hanington, of the Victorian Order of Nurses, spoke in support of Miss Forsshaw's argument for the improvement of the rural nursing system.

Dr. H. E. Young, Secretary of Provincial Board of Health, explained that when the Nursing Bill came up in 1915 he suggested the incorporation of clauses providing for the licensing of properly credentialed women for midwifery in rural districts. He also pointed out the difficulties of dealing with such a widely scattered population as is the case in British Columbia.

Post-graduate nursing was the subject of a paper read during the afternoon by Miss K. Stott, R.N., assistant superintendent Royal Columbia Hospital, New Westminster. She spoke of the great advantages to be derived from this work.

What is Castoria

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula now used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

SAYS M. P. NEEDS SEVENTEEN FACES BEFORE COMMITTEES

Maj. Andrews, Winnipeg M. P., Speaks of Difficulties of Members

Winnipeg, July 9.—"A man needs seventeen faces and a rubber neck to represent all classes of his constituents," was a statement made last night by Major C. W. Andrews, Unionist M.P., for Centre Winnipeg, whose experiences at Ottawa have made him come to the conclusion that the proportional representation system of elections should be adopted. "It is quite impossible for one man adequately to represent all classes of his constituents," said Major Andrews. "If you express the views of the moderate drinker, you offend the extreme teetotaler. If you express the views of your labor constituents, you offend the extreme capitalistic class. Really, proportional representation ought to be tried out in this country."

At Vancouver. Major Andrews left Ottawa in order to attend the Dominion Convention of the Great War Veterans Association in Vancouver, and returned to Winnipeg yesterday afternoon. He attended the convention in his capacity as Manitoba representative of the Dominion executive, to which position he was re-elected. Speaking of the convention, Major Andrews said the chief characteristic was the spirit of conciliation to induce the Government to be as helpful as possible to the widows and orphans and crippled comrades. Commenting on the attitude of the convention toward the peace treaty, Major Andrews said that while no sympathy had been expressed for the "red" element, it seemed to be felt by the convention that two factors were largely responsible for the unrest—the profiteer and the high cost of living—and that both must be dealt with.

NEW MAN MAY BREAK BROAD JUMP RECORD

Many Athletic Men Think Michigan Star Can Beat Mark Made by Peter O'Connor

New York, July 9.—Athletic enthusiasts in the Middle West are firm in the belief that Carl Johnson, of the University of Michigan, is capable of breaking the world's record for the running broad jump, which is down on the books to the credit of Peter O'Connor, of Ireland. O'Connor's record, about which there is a bit of doubt in the minds of conservative athletic thinkers because of the tale circulated that the ground over which Peter jumped was a bit down hill, is 24 feet 11 1/2 inches. The nearest approach to the performance of O'Connor was that of L. Gutterson, the lanky Vermont boy, who cleared 24 feet 11 1/2 inches at the Stockholm Olympic games in 1912. Had Gutterson had a strong wind blowing from the rear, he might have broken the world's record of more than twenty-five feet would undoubtedly have been made.

Has Been Jumping Well. Twice in competition Johnson has beaten the coveted twenty-four-foot mark. He did 23 feet 10 1/2 inches at the intercollegiate trials at the University of Michigan on the first day of the games. After taking part in the final heat of the 100-yard dash and the high jump on Saturday, Johnson was taken ill, and still another twenty-four-foot performance would have resulted. The Michigan athlete is said to have beaten "twenty-four" soundly in practice more than once which, together with his wonderful jumping in competition would indicate that Johnson is the first broad jumper since Gutterson who has a chance to get a new record. Steve Farrell, the Michigan coach, is not willing to state that Johnson is a world's record jumper. Farrell is not given to boasting his athletes' prowess. When questioned recently on the subject of Johnson's breaking the broad jump record, Farrell is reported to have answered: "Johnson is a great athlete. Thrives on inactivity. Next year will undoubtedly be Johnson's best. This remarkable athlete, by the way, except for the honor that his work brings to his university. He will probably travel all summer and come out for training in the fall much better for it. Johnson is of the type of athlete that thrives on long periods of inactivity. With from five to ten pounds more of hard muscle on his frame the Michigan wonder should rise to even greater athletic greatness in another season."

ARREST OF PRESIDENT URGED BY BOLSHEVİK LEADERS IN STATES

New York, July 9.—The arrest of President Wilson and John D. MINE OPERATORS AT BUTTE MEET EMPLOYEES

Butte, Mont., July 9.—Representatives of the Unions included in the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, the metal mining branch of the American Federation of Labor and the Hotelling Engineers, met the mine operators this morning to discuss the wage proposals recently made by these organizations. All the mining companies in the Butte district were represented. C. F. Kelley, president of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, presided at the meeting. Former wage contracts between these unions and the companies expired on July 1, and notice was given that they would not be renewed on the old basis.

H. H. STEVENS LOOKS FOR CHEAPER WHEAT

(Continued from page 1) work immediately. While no appointment had been made, he believed that W. F. O'Connor, K.C., now an assistant in the Department of Justice, would be on the Board. He denied the rumor that he himself would be a member of the Board. With regard to the legislation passed during the session, Mr. Stevens laid special emphasis on the Highway Act, which provides for an expenditure of $20,000,000. British Columbia, he said, would get its share per capita. He also mentioned the benefits that would be derived from the assistance which is being given technical education, the restrictive features of the immigration laws and the Pensions Act.

Shipbuilding. Questioned regarding the future of the shipbuilding industry, Mr. Stevens stated that this fall and winter would continue to build ships, but not on such a large scale as during the past two or three years. He mentioned the fact that $10,000,000 had been voted for this industry. British Columbia firms, he said, would get their share of the appropriation. The vessels turned out so far by the Wallace yards, he was highly satisfactory to the Government.

Mr. Stevens was questioned regarding the prospect of this port handling a portion of the prairie grain crop this fall and winter. He was reminded that the test last year showed that wheat could be transported from this port to the Old Country without damage. He replied that he expected that all the wheat that the Government elevator here could handle would come through this port. Much depended, he explained, on the Alberta wheat crop. In this connection, he mentioned that the forecasts were for a bumper crop on the prairies.

Soldiers Not Satisfied. "The returned soldier members of the House of Commons are not satisfied with the legislation that has been effected during the past season," said Lieut.-Colonel R. C. Cooper, member for Vancouver South. "There are twenty members in the House, ex-service men," said Colonel Cooper, "and none of them is satisfied with the pensions legislation as it effects the allowances for soldiers' widows to be remembered, however, that there is a bottom to the public purse."

The same consideration, in Colonel Cooper's opinion, has to be remembered in dealing with the demands for further gratuities for the returned men. He expressed satisfaction that the G.W.V.A. convention which was held here, did not adopt the resolution presented by the Calgary men asking for a flat payment of $2,000 to all men who had seen service in France and pro rata payments for others.

Much Attention. "Although it was held during the closing days of the session, when the members were overwhelmed with work, the convention at Vancouver received a great deal of attention from the House," said Colonel Cooper. "The payment of gratuities on the scale suggested by the Calgary resolution is an absolute impossibility. It would bankrupt the country. I do not see how the Government can go further than it has already gone in making the payments of war service gratuities retroactive so as to include men whose services terminated before last November."

GERMANS NOW MUST TOIL AND PAY UP

(Continued from page 1) Two Bills. "The Ministry of Finance has almost completed the drafting of two important bills levying new taxes, which I intend to submit to the House before the parliamentary recess," he continued. "These call for a large single levy on property and a large tax on business turnover, but even if these bills are passed, the money for the payment of interest must be obtained in some other way. In the autumn new bills will be introduced in the National Assembly with the final object of covering this deficit."

Terrible Burden. "The burdens of taxation will reach an intolerable height. A floating debt of 72,000,000 marks is a constant danger and the removal of this debt is one of our most urgent tasks. There are two ways in which to do it—either its conversion into a funded loan, or its extinction by a levied and a heavy property tax. I do not indulge the hope that these two ways will immediately yield the entire liquid amount of 72,000,000 marks. It is the duty of propertyed people not only to bow to a state of compulsion, but to achieve an inward conviction as to the necessity of giving up all riches and all that is superfluous."

It is proposed to hold the conference in a public hall and present it in the form of a debate in which other labor men and capitalists are to participate.

MONEY MAKESHIFTS.

When the Germans were being vigorously moved on in East Africa they were hard pressed for money that they paid their native carriers in coins made from cartridge cases. Many similar makeshifts were adopted in Germany itself. "Erased" (stipulated) coins in zinc, tin, iron, etc., were and still are, common, and the whole country was flooded with paper money of small denomination. There are notes for one pfennig in circulation, and if you accumulate an impressive looking "wad" of one hundred their total value—and face value at that—is a mark (16c).

TOO CANDID.

Such notes were issued and guaranteed by municipalities, which in designing them sometimes gave free play to their fancy. One from Weiderrhain bears representations of a ham and of several turkeys, and, as originally issued, roused the ire of the Imperial Government. For above the ham were the words, "Tender longings, sweet regrets," while a circle enclosing the turkeys contained the frank admission, "This is how we live in 1917." Considering these inscriptions an excess of candour, the Government suppressed the notes, and later issued lack the offending words.

VARIETY

Harry T. Morey, the Vitagraph star, has re-created the role of Joe Garson in this screen success, "Within the Law," which is at the Variety to-day and for the remainder of the week. His work is of such a character that it far outshines anything done by any of the actors of the legitimate stage when they essayed the role of "the best little forger in the United States." Garson is a regular crook, always outside the law, until he meets Mary Turner, upon her release from prison after serving a sentence for a theft committed by another. She persuades Garson that being dishonest "within the Law" where he is immune from arrest, by surrounding himself with clever lawyers, is not only perfectly safe, but much more lucrative. He falls in love with Mary but notwithstanding his environments and his companions, he is the love of a man. He protects her from not only his evil companions, but from himself.

ROMANO

Gladys Leslie, youthful and versatile Vitagraph star, with the "million dollar smile," sunny disposition and irrepressible humor, is a New York girl who, following her graduation from the Washington Irving High School and Columbia University, turned to photography. Her personal charm and natural talent for acting made her progress easy, and after brief engagements with the Edison and Thanhouser companies, she was given important roles on the Pathe programme. She attracted attention by her work in the role of Sophia in "The Vicar of Wakefield" and was at once engaged by Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, to star in features. She won highest praise for her characterization of the role of the Irish lassie in "His Own People" and "The Little Runaway," and also registered most effectively in "Wild Primrose," "A Nymph of the Foot-hills," "The Matinee," "The Beloved Imposter," "Fortune's Child," "Miss Dulcie from Dix" and "A Stitch in Time."

Miss Leslie is starred on the Romano screen to-day in "For Sale," a special Vitagraph feature in five parts.

COLUMBIA

Corinne Griffith, who has played the leading role in many Vitagraph feature productions, recently signed a contract with Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, to star for two years in Blue Ribbon Features. Miss Griffith, who is one of photoplay's youngest and most beautiful stars, has always been under the Vitagraph banner. Her first engagement was at the Hollywood studio, where her advance to leads was rapid. She then went East as leading woman to Earle Williams, shortly becoming a star in her own right. She is seen to splendid advantage in "The Clutch of Circumstances," the Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be the attraction at the Columbia for the last time to-day with other attractive features.

PANTAGES

The big punch which brings to a close, "There She Goes Again," the comedy vehicle of the beautiful Miss Lela Shaw, at the Pantages this week, is worthy of comment. It is one of the most amusing "climaxes" ever seen in Victoria. The philandering wife, having been caught by her husband in an intrigue, is driven from the room while the husband and the lover are supposedly going to fight a duel. The husband then tells the lover that he has no quarrel with him, but that he wants to cure his wife of her flirtatious habits. He then tells the lover his scheme. The lover is to fall upon the floor while he, the husband, falls upon a lounge and fire two shots. Immediately the wife will rush in. The man whom she really loves will be her first care. The husband describes her running to him and embracing him and vowing her love for him. And then, the husband tells the lover, both are to get up and the vanquished one is to make his exit gracefully. Everything is arranged. The shots are fired. The wife rushes in. What really happens best is seen to be fully appreciated.

GREAT MINSTREL SHOW HERE TO-DAY

Colored Comedians With Harvey's Aggregation For Two Days in City

Scores of citizens of this city and vicinity know one or both Clarence Powell and Ed Tolliver. They are two of the most noted colored comedians in the world. Powell looks like the typical colored preacher of high rank and Tolliver claims to be a preacher's son, and we do not know of any reason why that should prevent him from being one of the most successful colored comedians just as he is or why that fact should embarrass his friends.

A minstrel, especially one of the high class order of Harvey's Greater Minstrels is certainly a harmless but invigorating inspiring amusement and it has its tens of thousands of minstrel fans just as there are tens of thousands of baseball fans.

Clarence Powell is a comedian of high rank, known as a "high comedian" one who depends on eloquent wit to create fun more than the rough style. When he produces his book of parodies and gets off jokes and comments of local affairs in the town or city where the minstrel is exhibiting he invariably receives a storm of applause.

Like Clarence Powell in creating fun successfully and causing outbursts of applause and laughter lasting minutes at a time, Ed Tolliver is a comedian of another type and class. His comedy results from his remarkable facial expression, he being an artist, over facial control. He is a comedian who can make you laugh without saying a word and he should be watched all through the performance.

This company will be at the Royal Victoria this evening and to-morrow evening.

The Repatriation of Canadian Troops

The London Morning Post of May 30 contains an interesting letter from F. C. Wade, Agent-General for B. C., on "The Repatriation of Canadian Troops":

To the Editor of The Morning Post: Sir,—Canada, in a recent issue, registers a vigorous protest against the repeated delays and disappointments in the repatriation of Canadian troops, and demands that the Canadian military authorities bring all possible pressure to bear on the Ministry of Shipping to provide more and yet more ships to enable the repatriation of the Dominion's soldiers to be carried out at a greatly increased rate of speed.

Australia, I understand, is even more disappointed at the progress, or lack of progress, for which the Ministry of Shipping is said to be responsible. There can be no doubt that delay in repatriation is responsible for the great unrest among Canadian troops. The Rhyll rioters are being Court-martialed for offenses provoked largely, if not entirely, by a long series of promises of early repatriation which were broken as often as they were made. Without questioning the duties which the troops owe to the authorities, the authorities should be held strictly to account for the delay in repatriation. Who is in a position to throw the first stone?

Rhyll has unfortunately been followed by outbursts at Seaford and Witley, and there has been trouble at Guildford, in the Woodcote Park Convalescent Hospital, at Epsom, and at Ripon, and there has long been discontent among Canadians serving in the R.A.F. With the exception of the Guildford cases, all these troubles can be traced to delay in repatriation, owing to the lack of shipping. Since Rhyll there has been splendid speeding up by the military authorities, but there is still a great deal of bitterness among the troops that remain, which may at any moment precipitate further trouble, among our high spirited men from overseas, and which will not help to develop that Empire sentiment which all are bent on developing at the moment, and this, notwithstanding assurances from high-placed authorities in Parliament that all is satisfactory.

So was pulling teeth as a means of collecting taxes from the Jews. But an order which strikes not only the brave soldier but his anxious wife and children is brutally itself and a wrong to the country, which is calling out for his repatriation to assist in the work of reproduction, now more necessary than ever before.

Again, then, I ask, why not call out the Great Fleet to help in the glorious work of repatriation. When I first suggested this a month or two ago, the Admiralty was said to be opposed because the great ships did not afford suitable accommodation. This contention was quickly disproved by the announcement of Secretary Daniels, of the United States Navy, that the United States was proud to carry home her fighting men in her fighting ships. This has already been done to the extent of many thousands, and if there have been any complaints they have not been made public—here, at least. Twice the Fleet, in reply to questions in the House of Commons, the Admiralty has announced its intention to follow the example of the United States and supplement the efforts of the passenger ships by placing a number of the great ships of the Fleet at the disposal of the Dominion's troops to carry them overseas.

But many weeks have passed and nothing has been done to supplement the promises twice made; in the second instance, by the Right Hon. Winston Churchill himself. What is the matter? Are not the Admiralty and the Ministry of Shipping able to accomplish to some slight degree what the United States Fleet undertook at a moment's notice, and is so successfully carrying out?

This seems to be the moment of Empire welding and construction. Could anything be more majestic and Imperial than to return the men of the Dominions still fretting here in idleness and expense, and daily falling a prey to surroundings from which they should be provided an immediate escape, to the countries which they have represented with so much honor to themselves and their native land? The Prince of Wales has led the way in constructive Imperialism by announcing his early visit to Canada. Will the Admiralty forget its promises and allow the Great Fleet to drag at anchor when so much can be done?

F. C. WADE,
Agent-General for British Columbia,
May 29.

BEAUTY TO THE RESCUE.

Although it is said to be untrue that Mr. de Valera, the Sinn Fein M.P., was aided in his recent escape from Lincoln Prison by pretty girls inveigling sentries from their posts, it is certainly a fact that similar means have frequently been employed in like circumstances in the past.

One well-authenticated and exceedingly romantic case of the kind concerned the escape of a French prisoner of war, named Vanhille, from Dartmoor Prison early in the last century. There was a considerable amount of sympathy for these captives amongst the Devon country folk, and trading upon this, Vanhille persuaded one, Mary Ellis, a pretty girl who brought farm produce regularly to the prison, to aid him in a plot to escape.

This she did by taking him, concealed under a load of cabbages, a smock frock and leathern breeches, such as were ordinarily worn then by the laborers in that part of the country. Then, when the sentry's back was turned, she lifted up her wide-sleeved skirt, Vanhille crept beneath, hastily changed and emerged a minute or so later a typical rustic of the moors.

He made good his escape, but was afterwards recaptured. He was promised his liberty if he would disclose the means whereby he effected his escape. But Vanhille spurned the offer, declaring that he would rather be shot there and then than betray her who had befriended him.

Another case of the kind, mentioned by Mr. Tighe Hopkins in his "Romance of Escapes," had an even more romantic ending. Two young Welsh girls fell in love with two French prisoners of war interned in Yoldon Hill Prison, near Pembroke, and determined to try and effect their escape.

This they accomplished by smuggling into the prison inclosure a sharpened shin-bone of a horse, with which strange tool the captives managed to dig their way out by means of a subterranean passage. The four then annexed a small sailing craft, and after many adventures landed safely in France, where the two ex-prisoners showed their gratitude by marrying their plucky deliverers.

MALES' LARGE MAJORITY.

The excess of males over females in the Dominion is 437,347, which is an excess percentage of 130 males per 1,000 females, the male population being 3,521,995 and the female 3,384,638. The number of females per 1,000 males is 886, the deficiency of females as compared with males being greater in Canada than probably in any other country. The disparity is especially strongly marked in the Western Provinces. The last census showed that the number of females per 1,000 males in each province was: British Columbia, 860; Manitoba, 822; Alberta, 678; Saskatchewan, 688; Ontario, 842; New Brunswick, 956; Nova Scotia, 961; Quebec, 886, and Prince Edward Island, 991.—Canada Year Book.

Patience—"Hasn't Miss Olden got searching eyes?"
Betty—"Well, I don't wonder at it. She's been looking for a husband for twenty years."

A Complete Book on NURSING in the HOME

BY Dr. Lee H. Smith

Every woman should study nursing; the care of baby or children, the wounded or sick, by obtaining a copy of a five hundred page book, called "Nursing," by Lee H. Smith, M. D., containing chapters on first aid, bandaging, accident, hygiene, mother and babe, advice to expectant mothers and midwives. A new up-to-date book just off the press.

There is always nursing to be done in the home. The health of the Canadian people must be protected, and the Canadian women should know how to nurse and to defeat disease or accident at any and all times.

WORK AND PLAY AT THE SUMMER SCHOOL

First Aid Course Opens To-Morrow; Musical Students Form Choir

The teacher-students of the Provincial Summer School now being conducted at the High School, were addressed by Miss Helen Stewart, the public librarian, this afternoon, she taking as her subject, "How the Summer School Can Best Use the Public Library." The address will be followed by demonstrations in library organization and classification to be conducted at the Public Library.

To-morrow the First Aid of St. John's Ambulance courses will be opened, the lectures to cover a period of three weeks. Dr. M. Raynor will conduct the ambulance classes and Miss Grimmer, the school nurse, will be in charge of the Home Nursing course. On Saturday the students will make an excursion to the Dominion Experimental Farm at Bagan Bay, the outing having been arranged by the Rural Science classes.

A number of the students with musical leanings gathered in Miss E. M. Conroy's room yesterday afternoon and formed a choir, with a view to presenting several informal concert programmes during the session. The meeting was marked by an enthusiasm which bodes well for the success of the undertaking.

OBITUARY RECORDS

The funeral of the late ex-Mayor Charles Hayward will be held from the family residence, 1007 Vancouver Street, on Friday at 2.30, the cortege proceeding to the Reformed Episcopal Church, where service will be held at 2.30. Interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Marsh, wife of Enoch Marsh, of 3516 Prior Street, died last night at the family residence, aged fifty-five years. A native of Besbrook, Ireland, Mrs. Marsh had been a resident of this city for the past seven years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three daughters, Mrs. E. Kirkham, of Nanaimo, and the Misses Elsie and Edith, of Victoria, and one son, Jack Marsh, of Regina. The funeral will be held from the B. C. Funeral Chapel on Saturday afternoon at 2.30, the Rev. J. W. Plinton officiating.

At the Jubilee Hospital yesterday the death occurred of Augustus William Brain, aged seventy-four years. The remains will be forwarded by the B. C. Funeral Co. to Vancouver to-morrow for interment.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

SOUTHERN OKANAGAN LANDS.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS, superscribed "Tender for Excavation of 1st Unit of Main Irrigation Canal, Southern Okanagan," will be received by the Honorable the Minister of Lands up to 12 o'clock noon of Thursday, the 17th day of July, 1919, for the construction and completion of approximately 8 miles of main irrigation canal from the point of diversion on Okanagan River, together with such excavations for structures incidental thereto as may be required.

Plans, Specifications, Contract and Forms of Tender may be seen on and after the 1st day of June, 1919, at Government Agent's Offices at Fairview and Vancouver, and at the Water Rights Branch, Victoria.

Copies of the Plans and Specifications may be obtained at any of the above offices on deposit of the sum of Ten Dollars, which deposit will be returned upon the return of the Plans and Specifications accompanied by a proper tender.

Each proposal must be accompanied by:

(a) Consent in writing of a Surety Company acceptable to the Honorable the Attorney-General that should the proposal be accepted it will become surety in the sum of Twenty-five Thousand ($25,000.00) Dollars for the faithful performance of the contract, or

(b) An accepted bank cheque on a chartered bank of Canada, made payable to the honor of the Minister of Lands for the sum of Three Thousand Five Hundred ($3,500.00) Dollars, which shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into contract when called upon to do so, or if he fails to complete the work contracted for. The cheque of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned to them upon the execution of the contract.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on the forms supplied, and with the actual signature of the tenderer, and enclosed in the envelopes furnished.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

E. A. CLEVELAND,
Consulting Engineer to the Department of Lands,
Department of Lands,
Victoria, B. C., June 18, 1919.
No. 5178.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "order or repairs to wharf at Comox, B. C." will be received at this office until 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday, July 15, 1919, for repairs to the wharf at Comox, British Columbia.

Plans and forms of contract can be seen and specification and forms of tender obtained at this Department, at the office of the District Engineer at Victoria, B.C., and at the Post Offices, Vancouver, B.C., and Comox, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made out on printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with conditions contained therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender. War Loan Bonds of the Dominion will also be accepted as security, or War Bonds and cheques if required to make up an odd amount.

NOTE—Blue prints can be obtained at this Department by depositing an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $10 payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, which will be returned if the intending bidder submit a regular bid.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
District Engineer,
Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, June 11, 1919.
No. 4163.

APPRECIATIVE TOKEN TO HON. T. D. PATTULLO

Silver Plate Sent to Him By British Timber Controller

Apparently Sir James Ball, Great Britain's Timber Controller, and Montague L. Meyer, Timber Purchaser for the British Government, were well pleased with their recent visit to British Columbia and particularly with the attention paid to them on behalf of the Province by the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands.

By this morning's mail Mr. Pattullo was the recipient of a handsome silver plate on which was inscribed the following: "A token of appreciation. The Hon. T. D. Pattullo, from Sir James Ball and Montague L. Meyer, May, 1919."

The two distinguished visitors came to British Columbia in order to complete arrangements for the filling of the British Government's order for 20,000,000 feet of railway sleepers and miscellaneous timber placed with the mills of this Province.

ON HIS WAY HOME

LIEUT. J. IRVING GREIG, R.A.F. who reached Canada yesterday after over four years' service on "all the European fronts, is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Greig, of Burdette Avenue. He will spend a few days in Winnipeg on his way across the continent. His younger brother, Flight-Lieut. Robert S. Greig, returned from overseas a few weeks ago.

MEET TO ADOPT STAND TOWARD ONE BIG UNION

The opponents of the One Big Union scheme, it is anticipated, will attend in large numbers a special meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, and all union men to-night. A draft constitution of the One Big Union will be the theme of deliberation, and any stand toward the question adopted will be referred to the One Big Union Convention in the fall of this year.

MANY HEROES AMONG STAFF OF ADMIRAL VISCOUNT JELICOE ON H. M. S. NEW ZEALAND.

A distinguished staff accompanies Admiral Jellicoe in his world tour in H.M.S. New Zealand. The Viscount, who is now receiving a cordial welcome in Victoria, is accompanied by Lady Jellicoe. The presence of Her Ladyship on board appears to have caught the Australian authorities napping, no message being sent out to them she was aboard, and hurriedly functions had to be planned for her. The party are due here in October, and already arrangements for the famous admiral's reception are in hand. The following list of the Admiral's personal and general staff has been issued:

Personal Staff.—Paymaster-Capt. H. H. Share, C.B., R.N., Secretary; Lieut. L. V. Morgan, M.V.O., D.S.C., R.N., Flag Lieutenant and Signal Officer.

General Staff.—Commander F. C. Dreyer, C.B., C.B.E., R.N., Chief of Staff; Capt. Oliver Leggett, R.N., Flag Captain and Captain of H.M.S. New Zealand; Commander R. H. Ramsay, M.V.O., R.N., Flag Commander; Commander H. R. Sawbridge, R.N., for anti-submarine duties on staff; Commander Thomas P. Calvert, R.N., for submarine duties on staff and Executive Officer; Lieut-Colonel E. D. M. Robertson, D.F.C., R.A.F., Air Representative on Staff; Lieut-Commander R. H. F. de Salis, D.S.C., R.N., Torpedo Officer on Staff; Paymaster Lieut-Commander C. K. Lloyd, R.N., Secretary to C.O.S.; Paymaster Lieut-Commander H. P. Hunter, D.S.C., R.N., Secretary's Clerk to Admiral Jellicoe; Paymaster sub-Lieut. R. F. Egerton, R.N., and C. F. Laborde, R.N., Paymaster, Lieut. E. D. Guinness, R.N.R.

Geographical Particulars.—Commander F. C. Dreyer, C.B., C.B.E., R.N., served in pre-war days with Admiral Jellicoe as assistant at the end of his service as Director of Naval Ordnance at the Admiralty, and as the Admiral's flag commander afloat in 1911-12. In 1913 he was given command of the light cruiser Amphion, and left that year as flag captain of the dreadnought Orion. In 1915 he became flag captain of the fleet flagship, Iron Duke, which he commanded in the Battle of Jutland. He accompanied Admiral Jellicoe to the Admiralty, and first served in the anti-submarine division of the naval staff. He was then for sixteen months the director of naval ordnance. On the formation of a gunnery and torpedo division of the navy, in June, 1918, Commander Dreyer was appointed to the directorship of naval artillery and torpedoes, which position he still retains. He is a Companion of the Bath (military and civil), a Companion of the British Empire (military), and possesses two Russian orders and the Legion of Honour.

Capt. Oliver Leggett, R.N., flag captain in command of H.M.S. New Zealand, was navigating officer of the fleet flagship Iron Duke when the war broke out. In June, 1913, he was promoted to captain (retaining his post), and took part in the battle of Jutland. In 1917 he assumed command of the modern light cruiser Caroline, and remained in her until he was appointed to the New Zealand in January, 1919. He holds the Russian Order of St. Anne and the Legion of Honour.

Paymaster-Capt. H. H. Share, C.B., R.N., secretary to Admiral Jellicoe, served as his secretary in pre-war days in the Atlantic and Home Fleets. He was in Australia as secretary to Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont and private secretary to Admiral Sir Harry Rawson, and later as secretary to Lord Northcote when Governor-General of the Commonwealth. On the outbreak of war he accompanied Admiral Jellicoe to the Iron Duke as secretary, and was in the battle of Jutland. He went with Admiral Jellicoe to the Admiralty, and was naval assistant to the end of 1917. He is a Companion of the Bath (military) and has Russian and Japanese orders and the Legion of Honour. He also holds the Egypt Medal of 1882, and the Khedive's Brosses Star.

At Oostend.

Commander B. H. Ramsay, M.V.O., R.N., Flag Commander, qualified as war staff officer on the staff of Vice-Admiral Sir D. Gamble in H.M.S. Dreadnought. He had a monitor on the Belgian coast from 1915 to 1917, and was promoted to commander in June, 1916. He had charge of the flotilla, Leader Broke, from the spring of 1917. He controlled a division of torpedo boat destroyers in the night attack on the occasion of blockading Ostend harbor. He was awarded the M.V.O. He is a Chevalier of the Legion of Honour, and has the rank of officer of the Crown of Italy and the Belgian Croix de Guerre.

Commander H. R. Sawbridge, R.N., served in the Emperor of India as torpedo lieutenant commander until his promotion in December, 1917. He was attached to the experiment and trials section of the anti-submarine section of the naval staff.

Lieut-Col. E. D. M. Robertson, D.F.C., R.A.F., commanded H.M.S. Riveria, a seaplane carrier, until 1915. On the outbreak of the war he was appointed to the staff of the Director of Naval Ordnance, and also on the staff of the Director of the Aerial Armament Development and Experimental Squadron.

Lieut-Commander R. H. F. de Salis, D.S.C., R.N., was torpedo lieutenant on H.M.S. Victorious from the outbreak of the war until February, 1915, when he was transferred to the Vernon mine-laying staff. In June, 1915, he was appointed to the staff of the captain-in-charge of minelayers, where he remained until 1917. He commanded a division of minelayer trawlers on the Belgian coast in 1917. He has been awarded the D.S.C. and bar.

Lieut. L. V. Morgan, M.V.O., D.S.C., R.N., took part in the operations of blocking both Zeebrugge and Ostend.

ADMIRAL VISCOUNT JELICOE

He was awarded the D. S. O. for his part in the former action. He was awarded the M. V. O. in 1914, and he also holds the Belgian Croix de Guerre. In Jutland Battle.

Paymaster Lieut-Commander C. K. Lloyd, R.N., secretary to the Chief of Staff, served in the Iron Duke, and assisted with the fire control of that vessel during the battle of Jutland. Early in 1917 he was appointed to the Queen Elizabeth, and later to the Caliope.

Commander Thomas P. Calvert, R.N., the executive officer, and appointed to submarine duties on the New Zealand, is an experienced submarine authority. He served on the Iron Duke in the battle of Jutland. In 1914 he took command of a squadron of large K class submarines, attached to the Grand Fleet.

Paymaster Lieut-Commander Hunter, D. S. C., R.N., was the secretary to the captain of H. M. S. Patrol, which on December 16, 1914, engaged German raiders off Hartlepool. He was mentioned in despatches in 1917, and awarded the D. S. C. in 1918.

Paymaster Sub-Lieut. R. F. Egerton, R.N., served on H. M. S. Hampshire at the beginning of the war, rounding up German raiders in the Far East.

Paymaster Sub-Lieut. C. F. Laborde, R.N., was on H. M. S. Infexible during the Falkland Islands action in December, 1914. He was also in the Dardanelles campaign and in the battle of Jutland.

Paymaster Lieut. E. D. Guinness, R.N., served on the Lord Nelson, and was later on the Duke of Edinburgh. He was appointed to the Iron Duke in July, 1916, and served on the staffs of Admiral Jellicoe and Sir David Beatty.

STEFANSSON GIVEN GOLD MEDAL BY PARIS GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY

Ottawa, July 9.—The Department of the Naval Service has just received word from G. Granddler, secretary-general of the Geographic Society of Paris, that Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, has been awarded the La Roquette Gold Medal of the Society. The medal has been awarded in recognition of the geographic and other discoveries made by the Canadian Arctic Expedition, commanded by Mr. Stefansson under the direction of the Naval Department, during the years 1913-18.

This is the sixth gold medal awarded to the commander of the expedition, but the first one awarded in Europe.

PRICE OF COAL IN BRITAIN INCREASED BY THE GOVERNMENT

London, July 9.—Announcement by Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of Reconstruction, in the House of Commons to-day that the Government had decided to raise the price of coal to the consumer by six shillings a ton on July 16, caused a sensation among members. Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, the Government Leader, in the Commons, intervening in the proceedings, said the Government recognized the seriousness of the coal situation and that the debate on it would take place Monday next.

In making this announcement, Sir Auckland said it was hoped that the increase of six shillings would meet the increased cost of payment of standard wages, the reduction of hours and the reduced shifts. This increased cost of fuel, he pointed out, obviously would seriously hamper manufacturing and export business. Its effect un-

FISH DEALERS ARE SENTENCED AT BOSTON

Boston, July 9.—Sentences to the House of Correction and fines were imposed to-day upon seventeen men connected with the financing and management of the fish industry of New England. They had been found guilty of conspiring to raise the price of fish in war time and of creating a monopoly. F. M. Dyer, of New York, president; Ernest James, treasurer; John Burns, Jr., manager, and Joshua Paine and J. A. Rich, directors of the Bay State Fishing Company of Maine, were sentenced to serve one year each and to pay fines of $1,000. Twelve other men connected with subsidiary or associated firms of fish dealers, were given sentences of six months each, with $500 fines.

PRICE OF COAL IN BRITAIN INCREASED BY THE GOVERNMENT

London, July 9.—The Canadian Associated Press is informed that there is no likelihood that the indisposition of the Prince of Wales will interfere with his visit to Canada.

The Prince has been especially busy lately, and the chills from which he has suffered were partly due to exhaustion. The Duke of Connaught also has been ordered by his physicians to relax his activities.

Cost of Coal and Wood far Outweighs Cost of Imperial Royalite Coal Oil for Cooking

And when it's burned in the New Perfection Oil Cook Stove it is doubly economical. Every drop is turned into odorless, smokeless heat—the result of the scientific Long Blue Chimney Burner.

The New Perfection saves you in other ways, too. It spares you the drudgery of ashes and kindling. It eliminates wasted minutes in waiting for the fire to draw. It concentrates all the heat where you want it, under the utensil—none spread about to overheat the room and sap your strength.

The New Perfection Oil Cook Stove lights and heats instantly—is always ready—gives every convenience the gas stove gives at much less cost. Already 3,000,000 of these stoves are in use bringing comfort and economy to just so many housewives.

New Perfection Stoves come with or without the oven and cabinet—in sizes from two to four burners—always with the Long Blue Chimney. See your dealer and select your size and style to-day.

SHIP NOW READY TO SHOW HER WHEELS

Hull 207 Will Make Official Speed Trials To-Morrow

To undergo her official speed trials Hull 207 will leave the Foundation Company's Open Point plan to-morrow morning and will be put through her paces over the measured mile at Parry Bay.

In view of the excellent performance of the vessel under adverse weather conditions on her endurance trial last Saturday the company officials are confident that she will easily exceed the contract speed and wagers have been laid that the ship will average twelve knots.

The speed trials will occupy but a few hours and the vessel will immediately be turned over to her owners. Launch on Friday.

The final touches are being put to Hull 229 which on Friday night will be launched from the Police wharf. Mrs. R. T. Freeman, wife of the marine editor of The Times, will break the traditional bottle-of-champagne across the bows, naming the ship Frontenac.

The following are the invited platform guests: Mr. and Mrs. Griffith R. Hughes, B. C. Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Kuck, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Burdick, Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Troup, Dr. and Mrs. W. J. C. FINE VESSEL FOR DOLLAR SERVICE

New Steel Steamship War Melody, Built at Belfast, to Enter Pacific Trade

Vancouver, July 9.—The new steel steamship War Melody, 10,800 dead-weight tons, built at the Harland and Wolff yards at Belfast, Ireland, and built, has been purchased by the Canadian Robert Dollar Company and will be placed on the Pacific run out of Vancouver about the first of next year. She will be delivered in England on discharging her present cargo. She sailed from Portland, Maine, on Saturday last.

The ship is a cargo vessel of the standard British type, with cruiser stern. At present she is a coal burner but will be altered to oil when she comes to the River Plate and Melville Dollar, who arrived from the east yesterday stated that in the agreement of purchase his company makes one trip to the River Plate and to Canada and to England for the British government before the War Melody is released for the company's Pacific trade.

STRIKE TIES UP SWEDISH SHIPPING

Stockholm, July 9.—The strike of the Swedish Seamen's Union, which began last Saturday, is affecting the entire Swedish commercial fleet. The dispute originated in the refusal of ship owners to accede to a demand for an eight-hour day and a standard wage on ships under 700 tons in the Baltic and 600 tons in the North Sea. An arbitration committee has been appointed to settle the trouble.

MEGANTIC'S SAILING

STOWAWAYS HEADED BACK TO SIBERIA

Eight Russians Who Posed as Canadian Soldiers Deported on Liner Monteagle

Eight Russian stowaways who succeeded in escaping from Vladivostok on the liner Monteagle disguised as Canadian soldiers were to-day deported home to Siberia on the outbound Monteagle. Since the arrival of the ship on her inward voyage on June 19 the stowaways have been kept under close surveillance. The attempt to enter this country was cleverly planned, and it was feared that another determined effort might be made to escape clutches of the immigration authorities.

The Monteagle arrived in port early this morning from Vancouver via Coombs, where she loaded coal before setting out on her trans-Pacific voyage. She cleared about noon for Yokohama and Hongkong carrying about 300 passengers, including 100 in the cabin. Her stowaway holds were filled with general cargo and car parts for delivery in the Far East.

Capt. Hosken, R.N.R., formerly chief officer of the liner Empress of Russia, R.N.R., who is taking a holiday ashore. The Empress of Asia, with a large list of passengers, is due to sail to-morrow for the Orient.

BIG LIST CROSSED GULF ON RUPERT

Regular Semi-Weekly Service of G. T. P. Resumed to Northern B. C. Ports

First of the G. T. P. steamships to arrive from the North since the seamen's strike was called off, the Prince Rupert, Capt. Duncan McKenzie, made port this morning and sailed again at 10 o'clock for Seattle.

Owing to the absence of a regular night boat from the Mainland last night the Prince Rupert carried a large contingent from Vancouver. C. E. Jenney, general agent of the Company at Vancouver, who came over on the steamer, declares that the Prince Rupert was a popular boat with the traveling public last night. In addition to the trans-Gulf business the Prince Rupert carried seventy through passengers for Seattle. The North business is especially heavy, all the Rupert's space having been booked for the return trip to Prince Rupert and Anxoy. The steamship will leave Seattle to-night for Vancouver and after loading freight will get away from the latter port at 8 o'clock to-morrow night for northern ports.

The regular semi-weekly G. T. P. service is again in operation, the only difference being that the steamships have reversed their sailing dates. The Prince George now sails on Sundays and the Prince Rupert on Wednesdays. The Prince George, Capt. D. Donald, which is now in the North, will arrive here Sunday morning on route to Seattle.

Insect Carriers of Disease

The lessons of war have confirmed the serious part that insects play as carriers of disease. It is common knowledge that each species acts as a carrier of a particular disease. For instance, it is proven that the common house fly carries typhoid and enteric, the mosquito is a source of malaria, and the bed bug of "black water fever," while it is pretty certain that the ticks are the carriers of the common black beetle, or cockroach, which taints our food, are also disease carriers.

An unremitting warfare on all such insects—the duty of everyone and the simplest and safest way to kill these insects is by the one preparation which has stood every test of scientific investigation and that is

To-day the Princess Alice will take the steamer service to the Mainland while that vessel gets her weekly overhaul.

NIAGARA TO MAKE PORT ON SATURDAY

Capt. J. T. Rolls Is Again in Command of Big Canadian-Australasian Liner

With 437 passengers and 1,500 cargoes of mutton and other freight, the Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara is expected to arrive here on Saturday.

Capt. J. T. Rolls, who went ashore at Sydney last February to enjoy a well-earned vacation, has resumed command of the Niagara. On her last southbound voyage the Niagara went only as far as Auckland, it being considered inadvisable to send her on to Sydney owing to the strike there.

It is announced at the Canadian-Australasian offices that in the event of no settlement being reached in connection with the seamen's strike at Sydney, the liner Maru, when she reaches Auckland, will be held at the New Zealand port and return direct to Victoria and Vancouver. In that case the Maru will arrive here August 22 and will sail outwards August 27. If the strike is settled, however, the liner will proceed to Sydney and will not reach this port until September 1, sailing outwards September 6.

It is also announced that the freight steamships Walhara and Walmarino are both waiting in Australia for the settlement of the seamen's strike. Both ships have freight for British Columbia and will load outwards with British Columbia products.

SNELLING APPOINTED CAPTAIN OF AQUILO

Former Mate of S. S. City of Seattle Takes Over Alexander's Yacht

Seattle, July 9.—It is now Capt. Gus Snelling, master of the palatial steam yacht Aquilo, owned jointly by H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and D. C. Jackling, Utah and California mining operator.

Until yesterday Gus Snelling boasted of his first mate's papers, and occupied the position of first officer in the steamship City of Seattle, of the Alexander Alaska fleet. The Captain was ambitious. During the several years he had been in the Alaska service of the Admiral line and its predecessor, he paid attention to business and acquired an accurate knowledge of navigation. Then he became ambitious. He wanted his own ship. Hard study resulted in his successfully passing the examination before the inspector of steamboats in this district, and yesterday his certificate as a master of deep sea vessels of any tonnage was received by him aboard the handsome new yacht.

Anticipating that this conscientious mariner would pass the examinations, Mr. Alexander named his master of the yacht, and respondent to a new uniform, the newly-made master mariner was on the bridge of that craft when the chief executive of the Pacific Steamship Company took a party of friends down Sound for a trip in the trim little craft.

Mr. Jackling, who is joint owner of the craft, will arrive in Seattle to-day or to-morrow, and very shortly afterwards he, together with Mr. Alexander and a party of friends, will start on a trip in the Aquilo to Alaska. Mr. Alexander will leave the party at Victoria, returning to Seattle, and from here he expects to go East to attend an important conference called by the Shipping Board.

Capt. Snelling will pilot the Aquilo with Mr. Jackling and party to Juneau, where the passengers will disembark and continue their journey to other Alaskan ports aboard the steamship Admiral Watson, the yacht in the meantime returning here. Yesterday the Aquilo, which was purchased by Alexander, was christened Stars and Stripes for the first time, the papers designating her change of registration having been granted.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF HUGE ORDER

Canadian Volunteer Leaving Here Friday With Initial Cargo of 70,000,000 Ft. Order

The 4,300-ton steel steamship Canadian Volunteer, Capt. A. D. Cooper, with a full cargo of lumber aboard, sailed from Genoa Bay about noon to-day for Union Bay to take on bunker coal preparatory to clearing from Victoria on her maiden voyage.

The Canadian Volunteer was originally scheduled to load 1,000,000 feet of her cargo at Victoria, but the longshoremen's strike caused her to be dispatched to Genoa Bay after she had been lying idle for a couple of weeks at the wharf of the Canadian Puget Sound mills. The local cargo was towed to Genoa Bay on scows and put aboard the ship there.

The local longshoremen are out quite a little sum in wages because of the forced diversion of the steamer to Genoa Bay. After completing coaling operations at Union Bay the Canadian Volunteer will come on to Victoria, arriving on Friday, and clearing the same day for the United Kingdom.

First of Big Order

The Canadian Volunteer is the first steamship to be completed in the steel shipyard at the house of the Canadian Merchant Marine, and she is taking out the first cargo of the huge lumber order placed by the British Government through Sir James Ball, amounting to 70,000,000 feet. The steamer was built by the Wallace Shipyards, Ltd., being the first of the steel freighters ordered from the Vancouver firm by the Canadian Government.

VESSEL FIRED ON BY FISH PIRATES

Fight Staged in Alaskan Waters; One Pirate Reported Wounded

Juneau, July 9.—Fish pirates yesterday opened fire upon one of the tenders of the Thlinket Packing Company, according to a wireless message received by Governor Thomas Briggs, Jr. The tender gave chase, but the pirates escaped. Another report of a clash in the open warfare begun between canner and the fish pirates said that one pirate had been wounded. Under the direction of the Governor, submarine chasers are busy among the fishing ports endeavoring to maintain order and protect property.

Society's Influence?

Col. Bruce hints at the influence of a society lady as operating against the policy of concentration. He tells of a meeting at Sir George Perley's office when Lady Drummond and Sir George held that, in the cause of "imperialism," there should be no attempt to separate Canadian and British patients. General Jones, who had favored concentration, promptly changed his tune. The book proceeds:

"Later, the Battle Board found that the concentration of Canadians in Canadian hospitals was 'not only unwise, but impracticable,' and the report speaks of the 'water-tight compartment policy' and the separation of their return to England of men who have fought side by side as comrades to 'undo the bond of brotherhood sealed in the face of the enemy.' These are high-sounding phrases, but they are not entirely fact. Our four divisions are fighting on the Western Front, as part of the Imperial Army. On both sides they are in contact with the British forces, and there is some intermingling, but the fact is that we are not a 'unit' in any certain portion of the line. Our soldiers are not intermingled among the British soldiers in the manner indicated in the report. The existing arrangements are being altered on the completion of their hospital treatment to Canadian training centres and Canadian reserve battalions."

Canadian Patients Scattered. Figures are given by Colonel Bruce to show how Canadian patients were scattered from Aberdeenshire in the north of Scotland to the extreme south of England, and were also found in France, in Ireland at distances of from fifty miles from the base hospitals in Dublin, Cork and Belfast, and even the Isle of Guernsey claimed one Canadian patient. It was, therefore, obvious that, under the existing arrangements, satisfactory systematic inspection of Canadians in Imperial hospitals was quite impossible.

The majority of these men stated that they would have preferred being sent to a Canadian hospital, not because they had any complaints to make in regard to the treatment in the British hospitals, but because they would have preferred to be amongst their own people."

Colonel Bruce goes on to say that nearly a quarter of the patients seen in hospitals in Ireland were held out for further treatment to Canada immediately or within a month or so.

"High Imperial Policy." Regarding the "high imperial policy" of Sir George Perley and Lady Drummond, the author observes: "I am personally of the opinion that our soldiers, who have left their homes to join the colors, and who, as part of the Imperial army, are fighting our battles in the cause of freedom and right, have surely proved their loyalty to the British Empire, but because they would have preferred to be amongst their own people."

Colonel Bruce goes on to say that nearly a quarter of the patients seen in hospitals in Ireland were held out for further treatment to Canada immediately or within a month or so. Regarding a statement by the premier to that effect, Dr. Bruce denies that he claimed he had no opportunity to go "before" the committee. What he complained of was that he was not allowed to be present "throughout the inquiry."

Detention in England. A sensational chapter is that where it is shown that Col. Bruce was held in England. He says: "What he remembered in a letter, dated Dec. 30, 1916, Sir George Perley dismissed me from the office of inspector-general of the Canadian medical service, and requested me to hand all letters and papers connected with that office to Colonel Murray McLaren, the acting director of medical services. In compliance with this request, I sent in my resignation, asking that it be immediately accepted. The overseas minister, however, refused to accept my resignation, although urged by me on several occasions to do so, in spite of the fact that no offer of any position in the Canadian Medical Service was made to me."

Refused to Sign Strange Document. "At this time I had several interviews with Sir George Perley, and it may be of interest to mention that on one occasion he produced a statement, which he had drawn up, and which he asked me to sign, possibly with a view to future publication, to the effect that I did not mean certain things which I had said in my report, one of these being the recommendation for the concentration of Canadians in Canadian hospitals. It is scarcely necessary to say that I declined to sign this document, on the ground that what was said in the report exactly expressed my views in these various matters. "Subsequently Sir George Perley, at the instance, I understand, of the British war office, asked me if I would be willing to accept a position as consulting surgeon with the British armies in France. He repeated this request on several occasions, but at the time I refused to accept this position, believing that by returning to Canada I could do more to further the interests of our Canadian wounded soldiers. As I was unable, in spite of repeated efforts, to get my resignation accepted, I obtained a passport from the war office, and booked my passage to Canada. I was subsequently informed by the office in France, on behalf of the Canadian sick and wounded would be futile, Col. Bruce decided to accept the appointment of consulting surgeon to the British armies."

"Prussian Persecution." Col. Bruce reveals a tale of what he terms "Prussian persecution" of Lieutenant Wm. Wilson by Sir George Perley because he (Wilson) was a party to a Bruce report. He says Wilson was given minor appointments and finally packed off to do a captain's work in a Forestry Corps. Col. Bruce says, "the persecution of Lieutenant Wilson was unparalleled in its vindictiveness."

He gives an instance of Dr. McMillan and Moorehead of Toronto who, responding to the appeal of the British Army for medical officers, were "deliberately thwarted in their efforts," while two others who went over at the same time, under identical conditions, were immediately taken on. The first two had been referred to in the papers as going over to join Col. Bruce. This evidently "queered" them.

In conclusion, Dr. Bruce disclaims any bias in his report or the slightest desire to criticize the individual members of the A. M. C. He concludes: "The individual work of the medical officers was worthy of the highest praise, and as a fellow-Canadian has filled me with pride in my countrymen and my profession. It is against the administration of that service, its policy of drift and lack of intelligent foresight that my criticisms were aimed."

SHE COULD NOT STAND OR WORK

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health and Stopped Her Pains.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it that at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did me no good. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the credit."

at the beginning of the war by Surgeon-General Sir William Baple. "Suppression of Report by Premier. Col. Bruce next comes to the suppression of his reply by Sir Robert Borden and quotes the premier in giving his excuses for suppression as saying that he (Col. Bruce) was not requested to make the memorandum, and that as he had been seconded to the Imperial army and as the memo dealt with its administration, the war office should be consulted.

In a letter to Sir Robert, dated March 10 of this year, Dr. Bruce says he was invited to write the memo by Sir George Perley himself, who promised it like publicity to the report. As to the statement that the memo dealt with Imperial administration, Col. Bruce says: "My cursory examination of the reply in your hands would have discredited this. Regarding a statement by the premier to that effect, Dr. Bruce denies that he claimed he had no opportunity to go "before" the committee. ### Make a Strawberry Short Cake From This Famous Recipe

Three eggs, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 pint cream, 1 cup flour, 1/2 baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat the three eggs whites to a stiff froth, add the sugar and continue whipping for five minutes. Drop in the egg-yolks one by one and whip again until light. Mix the baking powder with the flour and sift several times, then combine with the egg mixture, adding vanilla last. Put in a shallow greased cake pan and bake in a moderate oven. While the cake is baking, mix the strawberries with a STRAWBERRY HULLER.

When the cake is done, turn out on a sugared paper and cut in circles with a biscuit cutter, spread with whipped cream, place berries in a circle around the top outside edge of the individual cakes, and another circle around the lower edge on the serving plate, dot the berries with drops of the cream, as a garnish, and serve.

BUTTE CONVENTION AND "ONE BIG UNION"

Butte, Mont., July 9.—With the selection of Great Falls as the city for the next convention, which will be held about August 15, and with the organization of the "One Big Union of Workers" completed, Butte's labor convention ended yesterday. Before adjournment a resolution was adopted demanding that the Government withdraw the American troops from Russia and asking recognition by the United States of the Soviet Government of Russia.

William Houston, organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, addressed the delegates after the chairman had read a letter from E. V. Debs endorsing him. Houston was hooted down when he declared general strikes and general unions a failure. He declared that no funds raised by the United Mine Workers could be diverted to the use of the "One Big Union" and asked that any member of the United Mine Workers who should be given membership in the "One Big Union" be advised that he would be automatically dropped from the membership rolls of the United Mine Workers.

SIR HALL CAINE DEFENDS CANADIAN TROOPS IN BRITAIN

London, July 9.—Sir Hall Caine, the novelist, occupied more than a column of The Daily Telegraph yesterday with a defence of the Canadian troops against a "small but powerful section of the British press now doing its best, or worst, wittingly or unwittingly, to separate Canada from the Mother Country."

He deplored certain excesses and recalled numerous acts of outrages which were manifest falsehoods. For exceptions to good behavior he pleaded extenuating circumstances, chiefly the bitter disappointment of delayed repatriation, losses to business and the mischief of idleness. Everything considered, he said, the British must be thankful that the conduct of the overseas troops had been so good.

He paid a glowing tribute to Canada's devotion to the Empire and to the splendid achievements of the war, and declared that the British press and public as a whole were profoundly conscious of the Empire's debt to Canada and had given to the recent unfortunate incidents only their proper value.

STRIKE IN ILLINOIS CAUSES TWO DEATHS

Chicago, July 9.—Quiet reigned today at the plant of the Corn Products Refining Company at Argo, Ill., where yesterday two persons were killed and a score wounded in a fight between armed guards of the company and strikers. Sheriff Charles W. Peters and ninety deputies were at the plant to preserve order. The plant has been closed down temporarily.

About 2,000 workmen are on a strike to enforce their demand for a "closed shop." There is no dispute over wages or hours of labor as the men have an eight-hour day and were given a voluntary increase in wages July 1.

Two hundred employees, it is said, refused to join the strikers. The plant is picketed.

CAPE BRETON MINERS PROVE TO BE RADICAL

Sydney, N. S., July 9.—That Cape Breton miners disapprove of the recent amendments of the Immigration Act and are not entirely in accord with Government's pronouncements on the subject of the right of the workers of the country to organize to suit themselves is indicated by the action taken at a meeting of the executive of the United Mine Workers of District No. 26 at Glace Bay headquarters yesterday.

The principal action consisted of a formal demand on Sir Robert Borden for a repeal of the obnoxious clauses of the Immigration Act, the forwarding of $500 to Winnipeg to assist in the defence of the strike leaders arrested under the provisions of that Act, and the serving of notice on the Prime Minister that the U. M. W. holds itself as entitled to organize to suit itself and to band all the workers in Canada into one organization of labor men, if they see that they are more effectively served by organizing in that way.

KINGSTON CITIZENS HONOR GEN. PERREU

Kingston, Ont., July 9.—Brigadier-General Perreu, who is retiring from the position of commandant of the Royal Military College here, was presented yesterday afternoon with a handsome gold watch and chain by a number of prominent citizens. The presentation was made by Mayor Newman. General Perreu, who was connected with the Royal Military College for eight years, will leave on Saturday with his wife for the United Kingdom to rejoin his old regiment, the Dublin Fusiliers.

MANY JEWS LOST LIVES IN SOUTHERN RUSSIA

London, July 9.—Many Jews have lost their lives in the course of the operations between the Russian Soviet forces and those of General Gregorieff, commander of the Ukrainian anti-Bolshevik army, which has been fighting its way northward from the Black Sea, Cecil Harmsworth, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, said in the House of Commons yesterday, in re-

WILLARD MADE MONEY BUT PEANUT MEN LOST

Toledo, Ohio, July 9.—It developed yesterday that concessionaires who expected to reap a rich harvest from the crowd at the Fourth of July contest lost heavily. Ad Q. Thatcher, watchmaker for the Toledo boxing committee, who converted an abandoned five-story building into a sleeping dormitory, said he lost $4,100 on the venture. The night of July 3 there were only nineteen persons registered. Twelve of this number succeeded in avoiding the clerks who were supposed to collect $5 from each sleeper.

One concessionaire who invested $500 in peanuts sold $70 worth. The lemonade concessionaire lost heavily because the soldier ushers would not permit vendors to circulate among the crowd, and without lemonade the crowd refused to eat peanuts.
