Mr. Lloyd George and Churchill Differ in Views on Bolshevism

Churchill Would Have Allies Invade Soviet Russia to Destroy Bolshevism, but Prime Minister Sees Danger in That Course

Paris, Jan. 19 (Associated Press)—The communication concerning the Bolshevik menace recently issued by the War Office in London was put out in consequence of a departmental policy divergent from that of Premier Lloyd George, the Associated Press is informed upon first-hand authority. Rt. Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, the British Secretary of War, has himself told Mr. Lloyd George that he did not know about the issuance of the communication, but that he believed the Prime Minister underestimated the danger from a spread of armed Bolshevism.

It has been explained to the Prime Minister that the War Office associates of Mr. Churchill, knowing how strongly he felt on the subject of Bolshevism, undertook to influence public opinion in the direction of their chief's convictions.

If Mr. Churchill's views were accepted, the Allies would invade Russia for the purpose of destroying Bolshevism in its home, while Mr. Lloyd George's view is that that would amount to war against Soviet Russia and would only solidify the Russian people.

Mr. Lloyd George compares the situation respecting Russia to-day with that of France after 1793 to the end of the century. Military pressure from without, the Prime Minister affirms, united the French people behind the revolutionary Government so that they were able not only to make headway against foreign enemies, but win victories. That is precisely what Europe might see, Mr. Lloyd George holds, if Mr. Churchill's point of view were allowed to influence the British and French Cabinets.

J. ORR LEWIS IS NOW A BARONET

Canadian Gets Title Despite Public Opinion; London a Mecca

London, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The Saturday Review says much cynical and angry comment has been aroused in Canada by the conferring of a baronetcy upon J. Orr Lewis, of Montreal, and adds:

"Our press and politicians ought to know this bestowal of a hereditary honor upon a Canadian is flying in the face of Canadian public opinion, the Dominion House of Commons, after a long debate, having passed a resolution condemning the bestowal of titles by the Imperial Parliament upon Canadians and refusing to recognize hereditary honors. They say now in Canada that all the war profiteers are leaving the Dominion and coming to London to get titles. 'The Canadians are your real demagogues.'"

RUSSELL APPEAL

Judges Say Winnipeg Strike Leader Should Serve Sentence

Winnipeg, Jan. 19 (Canadian Press)—The Manitoba Court of Appeal, in a judgment handed down this morning, dismissed the appeal entered by the defence in the R. B. Russell case against the conviction by a jury and the sentence passed by Mr. Justice Metcalfe.

The decision was unanimous, and the defence will be unable to carry the fight to the Supreme Court of Canada on that account. The defence counsel, however, can make application for a hearing before the Privy Council in London, England. No intimation was given as to whether or not this step would be taken.

PREPARED TO MAKE

PEACE WITH SOVIETS

Ukrainian Government Demands Bolsheviks Recognize Its Independence

Warsaw, Jan. 18.—Via London Jan. 19.—Terms for concluding peace with the Bolsheviks have been fixed by the Ukrainian Government, according to Lemberg newspapers. These include recognition of the independence of the Ukrainian People's Republic, exchange of products between the Ukraine and Russia, complete neutrality of the Ukraine and the withdrawal of all Soviet forces from the territory of that republic and recognition of the Ukrainian Government with M. Magoga as Premier.

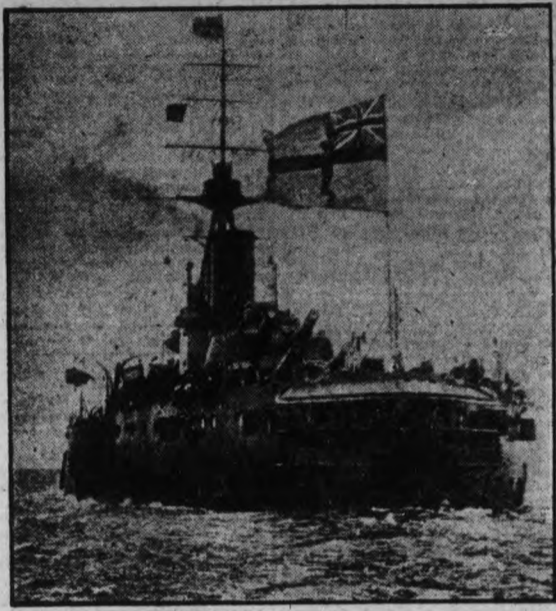

In the exchange the Communist party will enjoy full exercise of its rights in the Ukraine, on condition that it will not attempt to monopolize power.

Berne, Jan. 18.—Via London, Jan. 19.—Considerable Bolshevik forces are menacing the Ukrainian and Polish fronts, according to a message received to-day by the Ukrainian Mission here. General Petlura, the Ukrainian leader, has started for the front and important military events seen imminent, the message says.

FIRE IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 19.—The building of the Buffalo Evening Times was burned yesterday.

H. M. S. IRON DUKE PROBABLY IS NOW IN THE BLACK SEA

Malta, Jan. 18.—Delayed—Orders were received Thursday night for a number of naval vessels to leave Malta, apparently for the Black Sea. Vice-Admiral de Robeck sailed on Friday on board the dreadnought Iron Duke, accompanied by the destroyers Serapis and Steadfast and the steamship Iphigenia. Every other ship available is preparing to leave on Sunday filled to capacity with stores.

Liquor Compensation Not Grounds for an Inquiry

Vancouver, Jan. 19.—Application on behalf of persons formerly in the liquor and hotel business in British Columbia for compensation for alleged losses arising out of prohibition was refused to-day by Mr. Justice Morrison, in his capacity as Commissioner to inquire into the question of compensation. The Commissioner said he resisted the "alluring invitation, extended so seductively by Sir Charles Tupper and A. Dunbar Taylor to accompany them into the realm of moral law," and since it was conceded by counsel for the claimants that there was "no legal right to compensation," he declined to proceed further with the inquiry.

LABOR LEADERS

GO TO IRELAND

Six From England Will Study Conditions In Island

London, Jan. 19.—Six members of the Parliamentary Labor Party left London to-day for Dublin, where they will study conditions in Ireland. The deputation consists of Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, William Adamson, John R. Clynes, W. T. Wilson, J. A. Parkinson and W. R. Smith. From Dublin they will go to Belfast, Cork and other centres and seek to obtain the viewpoint of all sections of Irish opinion. The arrival of the Labor leaders will be welcomed in some quarters. The Herald, the London Labor organ, learns that Sinn Fein elements and Irish Labor leaders are less friendly, and to some extent cold and critical. They say, according to reports, that English Labor leaders already are aware that the overwhelming majority of the Irish are determined to establish a republic and that an inquiry, whether by the British Government or other agency which determines it is good or bad, is of minor interest.

The supreme objection to the plan is that it will not insure an Irish Government, it is said.

Sims Brings About Naval Investigation in States

Washington, Jan. 19.—Complete investigation of Rear-Admiral Sims' charges made against the Navy Department's conduct of the war will be made by the Senate sub-committee now inquiring into the award of naval decorations as soon as it completes its present task. This decision was made to-day by the full Senate Naval Committee.

A motion by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, to have a separate sub-committee named to make an immediate investigation was defeated. The motion to have the present sub-committee conduct the inquiry was made by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Unless the Senate investigation of Rear-Admiral Sims' charges of failure of the Navy Department to co-operate fully with the Allies during the war is made to the entire satisfaction of the American people, inquiry will be made by a naval board, Secretary

TWO KILLED BY FIRE IN CALGARY

Men, Playing Cards, Caught in Trap; Damage Nearly $300,000

Seven Firemen Injured Yesterday, But None of Them Seriously

Calgary, Jan. 19.—In one of the worst fires in the history of Calgary, two men, Chris McBride, of Youngstown, and Thomas Luckvale, of Gleichen, were smothered to death, seven firemen were injured or overcome by smoke, and property damage was done to the extent of nearly $300,000 when the Empire Hotel, the Grand Central Hotel and several small stores adjoining were destroyed early Sunday morning.

The two men who were suffocated were playing cards in a small room in the basement of the Empire Hotel. They were warned of the fire, but did not take it seriously, and continued their game to the end. They were caught in a trap and unable to make their escape, perished.

The other guests of the hotels, to the number of about 100, made their escape with the assistance of the night clerks and the firemen. The firemen fought the blaze, handicapped by their cold, and only succeeded in smothering it a few minutes before a sixty-mile blizzard came up.

The guests, many of them women and children, were taken from the rooms only in the night, clothes, some of them having narrow escapes. The seven injured firemen include Chief Smart, but none of them were on duty again late in the evening.

The individual losses were: Empire and Grand Central Hotels, owned by W. J. Stokes, $250,000; Carmichael Druggists, $5,000; Rappaport Jewelry Company, $4,000; M. Ghetter, second-hand store, $10,000; Murchison Brothers, real estate, $1,000, and J. Reid, confectionery, $1,500.

VETERANS TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Convention of G. W. V. A. to Be Held in Montreal March 22

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press).—The annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association will be held in Montreal on March 22, according to an announcement from the Dominion executive of that Association. The Dominion executive has been diligently carrying out reorganization in an effort to secure further consideration of the Association's claims from the Government.

The date set for the annual convention is much earlier in the year than has been customary and this is attributed to the fact that Parliament will be in session at that time. A series of provincial sessions will precede the Montreal gathering in order to secure a democratic expression of opinion from returned men on the question of more adequate re-establishment and the much mooted topic of political action. Special significance is attached to this event by the veterans, it is said, because of the present political situation and the dissatisfaction existing in regard to the recent action of Parliament. The delegates at the Montreal convention will decide whether the Great War Veterans' Association will enter the political field. As the branches of the organization throughout Canada now number 261, the assembly, which has been termed the "Returned Man's Parliament," will be of considerable proportions.

It is added that it will be difficult for Allied ships to enter Russian ports unless some sort of an armistice is arranged.

BIG NEW CHAIN OF MOVIE THEATRES

It will then be introduced to President Poincare, who will sign the decree of nominations which will be promulgated in to-morrow's official Journal. The Cabinet has virtually been completed as follows, Alexandre Millerand being Premier and Foreign Minister; Justice, M.

M. Millerand remarked to the newspapers at midday that he had had a talk with former Premier Rene Viviani. "He said he was not willing at the present moment to enter the Government," said M. Millerand, "but he assured me of his fullest support." Until he was asked by President Poincare, following the resignation of the Clemenceau Cabinet yesterday, to form a new Ministry, M. Millerand was Governor of Alsace.

Dutch Government Asked to Surrender Elder Hohenzollern

Formal Note From Supreme Council Asks That Ex-Kaiser Be Given Up Under Article 227 of Treaty of Versailles

Paris, Jan. 19 (Associated Press).—The Supreme Council's note to the Dutch Government asking that Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, be given up to the Allies under Article 227 of the Treaty of Versailles for trial; points out that if the former Kaiser had remained in Germany he would have been delivered up on the same conditions by the German Government.

Among many crimes the note recalls "the cynical violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg, the barbarous system of hostages, massed deportations, systematic devastations without military reasons and the submarine war," and declares that "for all of these acts responsibility, at least moral, rests on the supreme chief who ordered them or abused his unlimited powers to break or permit others to break the most sacred rules of human conscience."

500 PERSONS TO BE TRANSFERRED AT SEA

U.S. Army Ship Powhattan in Distress 700 Miles East of New York

New York, Jan. 19.—The army transport Powhattan, in distress about 700 miles east of New York, reported by wireless to the army transport office here at 4 a. m. to-day that although she was leaking and her boiler room was flooded, she was in "no-immediate danger." The 500 passengers were "calm and comfortable," the message said.

"When the sea becomes smoother, the passengers will be transferred to the White Star liner Cedric, which is standing by. The transport will keep aloft for several days," Captain Randall wireless.

The United States Shipping Board steamship Western Comet, which is among the vessels nearby, will attempt to tow the Powhattan to Halifax after the passengers have been transferred to the Cedric. The Powhattan left New York last Friday for Antwerp.

MAN DROPPED DEAD

Calgary, Jan. 19.—Charles Bell, of Strathmore, dropped dead in the Imperial Hotel here last evening while engaged in conversation with the clerk.

A WINNIPEG DEATH.

Winnipeg, Jan. 19.—W. M. Fisher head of a local firm of brokers and formerly manager of the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, is dead.

"The powers can not conceive," it adds, "that The Netherlands Government would regard with less reproach the universal conscience the immense responsibility weighing upon the ex-Kaiser. Holland would not be fulfilling her international duty if she should refuse to associate herself with other nations so far as she is able, to prosecute, or at least not impede the punishment for crimes committed."

No Argument. The note points out that it is the duty of the powers to insure examination of Article 227 without entering into argument because "it is not a question of public accusation having throughout a legal character, but an act of a high international policy imposed by the universal conscience in which legal firms are employed solely to insure the accused bodyguards such as have hitherto been unknown in public law. It concludes by expressing the view "that Holland, one of the first to claim a place in the League of Nations, will not desire to be known at the same time as the violator of the essential principles of the solidarity of nations and that all are interested to prevent the return of a similar catastrophe."

Duty. Paris, Jan. 19.—Holland is told in the Allied note demanding the extradition of Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, that she will "not fulfill her international duty" if she refuses to associate herself with the Entente Powers in chastising crimes committed by Germans during the war. The text of the note sent to The Hague was made public to-day. It follows:

"In notifying by these presents The Netherlands Government and Queen of the text of the Article 227 of the Treaty of Versailles, a certified copy of which is annexed, which came into force January 19, the powers have the honor to make known at the same time that they have decided to put into execution without delay this article (Article 227) publicly arraigned Wilhelm II, of Germany for a supreme offence against the international morality and the sanctity of treaties, and declared the Allied and Associated powers would address a request to The Netherlands Government for his surrender in order that he might be placed on trial."

Official Demand. "Consequently the powers address to the Government of The Netherlands an official demand to deliver into their hands Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, in order that he may be judged." (Continued on page 4.)

WORST INFLUENZA WAVE IN POLAND

Disease Now Raging Takes Victims Off With Great Suddenness

Paris, Jan. 19.—Influenza in a form so virulent as to baffie the medical authorities is sweeping through Poland, according to American Red Cross reports. The disease is marked by great suddenness of attack and high percentage of fatalities. Hundreds of persons are dying daily in Warsaw, the reports say, while three-fourths of the hospital attendants have been stricken.

Red Cross doctors who had experienced with the influenza epidemics in the United States and France say they are amazed at the almost instant infection upon exposure and the quick development of the disease. Deaths in many instances occur within twenty-four hours. Women and young people appear to be particularly susceptible. There is almost a constant succession of funerals in Warsaw, many of them being held at night, the pall-bearers carrying torches in accordance with the Polish custom. This is the third influenza epidemic Poland has suffered.

"RED FLAG" WAS SUNG IN BELFAST

Five Sinn Feiners and Thirteen Laborites Were Elected There

Belfast, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—Up to January 18 the Belfast Corporation Council consisted of fifty-two unionists and eight Nationalists, but as a result of the elections which ended Saturday, in which the Laborites, Devlinites and Sinn Feiners skillfully bunched votes, it has thirty-seven Unionists, five Nationalists, five Sinn Feiners and thirteen Laborites.

The politics of the last-named party range from extreme Socialism to Labor Unionism and Orangism. The results of the elections generally were of a freak order. Thus in the Shankhill district, a stronghold of Orangism, a Socialist topped the poll, and of the remaining seven members one is a Socialist and another a Sinn Feiner. In Victoria, which is a safe Unionist parliamentary seat, a Nationalist headed the poll and a Sinn Feiner and Laborite also were elected.

The change was not restricted to the Unionists, as in Joseph Devlin's constituency, in the Falls division of Belfast; the Constitutionalists polled two seats and a Nationalist was returned together with two Sinn Feiners and a Sinn Fein-Laborite.

"Red Flag."
 For the first time in history the Belfast City Hall was the scene of a speech in Irish, in which the Sinn Feiner, Mr. Carolan, of Shankhill, returned thanks for his election. For the first time, also, the City Hall heard the strains of the "Red Flag," which was sung in chorus by exultant Socialists outside.

The alteration in the voting power of the city was brought about largely by the Southern Irish invasion of the shipyards to replace men who joined the colors early in the war, before the Government placed an embargo on recruiting from such establishments.

Contest at Derry.
 Interest now centres on Derry, where the final result in the election will be known Tuesday. The Unionists previously have had a majority of five there, but the utmost they have hoped for in this election is equality in membership, and to insure this they limited the number of candidates in order to consolidate the votes. totals in two wards are still to be announced. Both sides voted every available man and woman but the Nationalists are professing the great confidence. The object of the struggle is by one side to insure Derry's inclusion in Premier Lloyd George's Ulster scheme, and by the other to be left out of it.

LIBERALS ORGANIZE IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Steps Taken Simultaneously
 With Visit of Hon. Mac-

St. John's, N. B., Jan. 19.—A gathering of Liberals from different parts of the Province, who had come to hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King speak, was held Sunday with A. B. Copp, M. P., as chairman. Addresses were given by the Liberal chieftain, Ernest Lapointe, Hon. W. E. Foster and Andrew Hyden, of Ottawa, Dominion Liberal secretary.

A committee composed of Fred McGee, M. P., of Port Elgin; Dr. W. P. Broderick, of St. John, and Hon. G. C. Lablanc, of Gloucester, was appointed to proceed with preliminary arrangements for a big Liberal meeting in Fredericton during the next sitting of the Provincial Legislature, and to submit names for the appointment of a general secretary and publicity agent and for organizers' work.

OFFER FARMER BONUS IN TURKISH ARMENIA

New York, Jan. 19.—With a desire to improve their own condition by increasing the productivity of their farms, the farmers of the Marash district, including some of the richest land in the historic Euphrates Valley in Turkish Armenia, have made up a pool of 1,000 acres which they have offered to turn over to an American farmer provided he will work it according to advanced American methods, and will import an American farm tractor for this purpose. Announcement of this offer has been made at the headquarters of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Ave., by Miss Frances Smith, who recently returned from Armenia, where she worked with Arthur J. Culler formerly of Kansas, who is now director of Near East relief work in Marash.

While in charge of the work of giving material aid to the destitute people of Armenia, where Near East relief workers are trying to save 800,000 victims of Turkish oppression from death by starvation and exposure, Mr. Culler was directed to make an agricultural survey of the district in his charge. He found that the land had a remarkable degree of natural fertility, but that the people themselves were wholly ignorant of modern methods of cultivation.

"Although many of these people are illiterate Kurds, Tartars and Armenians," said Miss Smith, "Mr. Culler found that practically all of them had heard of the wonderful progress of agriculture in America. To them the United States is a big Elysium. They look upon agriculture as practiced here scientifically as a magic process, the secret of which it is their ambition to learn." It was with this desire that they decided to hold out the prize of 1,000 acres to an American farmer who would show them how to improve

ENTERTAINMENT BY COWICHAN SCOUTS

The Successful Event Netted
 About $50 For Boys' Uniform Fund

Duncan, Jan. 19.—The Cowichan Company of Boy Scouts, under the leadership of their captain, E. H. Hopkins, gave a thoroughly interesting and enjoyable display of their work, a concert and a dance in the Opera House here, and as a result netted about $50 for their uniform fund. Camp fire yarns and the many arts of boxing and exercises of skill and prowess by the boys were the great features of the evening, an enlightening practical way many a parent as to the work the Scouts are doing in building up a strong, desirable citizenship and establishing that feeling of comradeship which is so pleasant and desirable for young boys.

From the bugle call "Fall In" to "God Save the King" the boys did their best to entertain. The Scout yell was well enough for woodland savages. The camping, a "Scotch version of Tipperary" and "Three Jars of Rum," by the Scoutmaster and Scouts, a song by Mr. Colborne, and awkward stunts, drill by the boys were followed by a graceful dance by little Miss Comfort Tedcastle.

Life Saving.
 Demonstrations of artificial respiration and life saving by Scouts J. Campbell, C. Bradshaw, W. Barrett, R. King, C. Smith, J. Young, R. Young and the Scoutmaster were of outstanding interest, particularly as the Scouts, J. Campbell, had put this into practical effect over a year ago when he plunged into the Cowichan River after a drowning man, released his clutch, brought him to shore and brought him back to consciousness by his knowledge of first aid. Exercises such as these train the boys in the self-reliance necessary for emergency.

Boxing bouts by A. Mayea, Roy Harris, E. Brookbank and F. Lansell were enjoyed by the boys as much as by the audience, and blindfold boxing by F. Dwyer, C. Bradshaw, R. McDonald, and P. Lansell was most amusing. Flag signals by Scouts C. Smith and R. Young were correctly read.

Bandsaged.
 A broken jaw, a broken arm, and a compound fracture in a leg were correctly bandaged by R. Young and the patient was carried off on an improvised stretcher.

Physical exercises by the Scouts showed one how to keep young both of one's figure and one's character.

Songs by the Scoutmaster and the boys around a camp fire and songs by Miss Edith Bevan and by Mr. Colborne at intervals between the stunts were greatly enjoyed.

Scoutmaster S. H. Hopkins will leave shortly to take up new duties for a time in the new soldier settlement at Merrivale. He will be greatly missed by the Scouts and their parents, who appreciate most thoroughly the work he has done for the young people of Cowichan. Mr. Hopkins' assistance will be missed by the farmers, who relied upon his advice, particularly in the Springtime.

New Leader.
 The Scout committee is fortunate in being able to find some one willing to take on the work so well organized by Mr. Hopkins, and the Rev. A. Bischofberger will count upon the support and assistance of the community to carry on this most useful work.

Boys taking part in the performance were patrol leaders S. Smith and J. Young, and seconds R. Young and George Smith, C. Bradshaw, W. Barrett, L. Brookbank, R. Harris, P. Lansell, R. McDonald, R. McDonald, A. Mayea, R. Gibson, F. Lansell, E. Brookbank, W. Mayea, F. Dwyer, J. Campbell, R. King, J. Musgrave.

I. O. D. E.
 Mrs. Boynton, provincial organizing secretary, is expected in South Cowichan next week to organize a chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Reade.

Suffered With Boils Last 5 Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of pus, and anyone who has suffered from them, knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one, another is ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized, by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, your misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robt. Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, which I did, and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

 by Woolwich Workmen;
 Coins for Honduras

London, Jan. 19.—Even the great Woolwich Arsenal has turned from the manufacture of war materials to the peaceful pursuits of trade. Ten thousand butter churns have been manufactured in the great building which during the war sent out vast quantities of munitions for use against the Germans.

The nickel purchased to manufacture bullets is being used in the Arsenal to make five-cent pieces for British Honduras currency.

There is a world shortage of locomotives and railway cars. To meet this it has been decided to manufacture these articles in the Arsenal and work already is under way there on orders for 2,500 cars and 100 locomotives and for repair work on 700 cars.

This serves a double purpose. Thirty thousand persons now are employed in the Arsenal, where 110,000 were at work in war-time. Thousands of these men are skilled munition workers. By keeping these busy making locomotives and other peaceful products, the Government not only gives them work, but retains their services. In event of another war they could return immediately to the munition work in which they are skilled.

One of the side-line products of the Arsenal since the armistice has been the striking of 6,000,000 war medals.

"RED FLAG" WAS SUNG IN BELFAST

Five Sinn Feiners and Thirteen Laborites Were Elected There

Belfast, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press).—Up to January 15 the Belfast Corporation Council consisted of fifty-two unionists and eight Nationalists, but as a result of the elections which ended Saturday, in which the Laborites, Devinites and Sinn Feiners skillfully bunched votes, it has thirty-seven Unionists, five Nationalists, five Sinn Feiners and thirteen Laborites.

The politics of the last-named party range from extreme Socialism to Labor Unionism and Orangism. The results of the elections generally were of a freak order. Thus in the Shankhill district, a stronghold of Orangism, a Socialist topped the poll, and of the remaining seven members one is a Socialist and another a Sinn Feiner. In Victoria, which is a safe Unionist parliamentary seat, a Nationalist headed the poll and a Sinn Feiner and Laborite also were elected.

The change was not restricted to the Unionists, as in Joseph Devinit's constituency, in the Falls division of Belfast, the Constitutionists polled two seats and a Nationalist was returned together with two Sinn Feiners and a Sinn Fein-Laborite.

"Red Flag." For the first time in history the Belfast City Hall was the scene of a speech in Irish, in which the Sinn Feiner, Mr. Carolan, of Shankill, returned thanks for his election. For the first time, also, the City Hall heard the strains of the "Red Flag," which was sung in chorus by exultant Socialists outside.

The alteration in the voting power of the city was brought about largely by the Southern Irish invasion of the colors early in the war, before the Government placed an embargo on recruiting from such establishments.

Contest at Derry. Interest now centres on Derry, where the final result in the election will be known Tuesday. The Unionists previously have had a majority of five there, but the utmost they have hoped for in this election is equality in membership, and to insure this they limited the number of candidates in order to consolidate the votes. totals in two wards are still to be announced. Both sides voted every available man and woman but the Nationalists are professing the greatest confidence. The object of the struggle is by one side to insure Derry's inclusion in Premier Lloyd George's "Big Six" scheme, and by the other to be left out of it.

St. John's, N. B., Jan. 19.—A gathering of Liberals from different parts of the Province, who had come to hear Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King speak, was held Sunday with A. B. Copp, M. P., as chairman. Addresses were given by the Liberal chieftain, Ernest Lapointe, Hon. W. E. Foster and Andrew Hyden, of Ottawa, Dominion Liberal secretary. A committee composed of Fred McGee, M.P., of Port Elgin; Dr. W. P. Broderick, of St. John, and Hon. G. C. Lablanc, of Gloucester, was appointed to proceed with preliminary arrangements for a big Liberal meeting in Fredericton during the next sitting of the Provincial Legislature, and to submit names for the appointment of a general secretary and publicity agent and for organizers' work.

OFFER FARMER BONUS IN TURKISH ARMENIA

New York, Jan. 19.—With a desire to improve their own condition by increasing the productivity of their farms, the farmers of the Marash district, including some of the richest land in the historic Euphrates Valley in Turkish Armenia, have made up a pool of 1,000 acres which they have offered to turn over to an American farmer, provided he will work it according to advanced American methods, and will import an American farm tractor for this purpose. Announcement to this effect has been made at the headquarters of the Near East Relief, 1 Madison Ave., by Miss Frances Smith, who recently returned from Armenia, where she worked with Arthur J. Culler, former secretary of Kansas, who is now director of Near East relief work in Marash.

While in charge of the work of giving material aid to the destitute people of Armenia, where Near East relief workers are trying to save 800,000 victims of Turkish oppression from death by starvation and exposure, Mr. Culler was directed to make an agricultural survey of the district in his charge. He found that the land had a remarkable degree of fertility, but that the people themselves were wholly ignorant of modern methods of cultivation.

"Although many of these people are illiterate Kurds, Tartars and Armenians," said Miss Smith, "Mr. Culler found that practically all of them had heard of the wonderful progress of agriculture in America. To them the United States is a farming Eldorado. They look upon agriculture as practiced here scientifically as a magic process, the secret of which it is their ambition to learn." Mr. Culler decided to hold out the prize of 1,000 acres to an American farmer who would show them how to improve

The Successful Event Netted About $50 For Boys' Uniform Fund

Duncan, Jan. 18.—The Cowichan Company of Boy Scouts, under the leadership of their captain, S. H. Hopkins, gave a thoroughly interesting and enjoyable display of their work, a concert and a dance in the Opera House here, and as a result added about $50 to their uniform fund. Camp fire yarns and the many arts of boxing and exercises of skill and prowess by the boys were the great features of the evening, and established in a practical way, many a parent as to the work the Scouts are doing in building up a strong, desirable citizenship and establishing that feeling of comradeship which is so pleasant and desirable for young boys.

From the bugle call "Fall In" to "God Save the King" the boys did their best to entertain. The Scout yell was wild enough for woodland savages. The camping, a "Scotch version of Tipperary" and "Three Jars of Rum," by the Scoutmaster and Scouts, a song by Miss Colborne, and Scouts, a song by Miss Colborne, were followed by a graceful dance by little Miss Comfort Tedcastle.

Life Saving. Demonstrations of artificial respiration and life saving by Scouts J. Campbell, C. Bradshaw, W. Barrett, R. King, C. Smith, J. Young, R. Young and the Scoutmaster were of outstanding interest, particularly at the end of the Scouts, J. Campbell, had put this into practical effect over a year ago when he plunged into the Cowichan River after a drowning man, released his hold, brought him to shore and brought him back to consciousness by his knowledge of first aid. Exercises such as these train the boys in the self-reliance necessary for emergency.

Boxing bouts by A. Mayea, Roy Harris, E. Brookbank and F. Landseil were enjoyed by the boys as much as by the audience, and blindfold boxing by P. Dwyer, C. Bradshaw, R. McDonald and P. Landseil was most amusing. Flag signals by Scouts C. Smith and R. Young were correctly read.

Bandaged. A broken jaw, a broken arm, and a compound fracture in a leg were correctly bandaged by R. Young and the patient was carried off on an improvised stretcher.

Physical exercises by the Scouts showed one how to bring him to shore and brought him back to consciousness by his knowledge of first aid. Exercises such as these train the boys in the self-reliance necessary for emergency.

New Leader. The Scout committee is fortunate in being able to find some one willing to take on the work so well organized by Mr. Hopkins, and the Rev. A. Bischofflager will count upon the support and assistance of the community to carry on this most useful work.

REDS FROM STATES SENT INTO RUSSIA

Radicals Deported From Republic Cross From Finnish Territory

Hango, Finland, Jan. 18.—(Via London, Jan. 19.—(Associated Press))—The train having aboard the Bolshevik and anarchists deported from the United States was held here last evening until positive assurance was received from the Soviets that they would permit them to cross the Russian border and that the Reds would not be molested. Grave rumors had come from the border that Berkman and Emma Goldman and their comrades would be killed by the Russians, and while there apparently was no authority to confirm this threat, it was deemed advisable to take all precautions.

The undesirable disembarked yesterday afternoon from the steamship Buford and were placed in boxes fitted up with plank benches, tables and beds. Each car contained seven boxes of army rations, the supplies including beef, sugar and hard bread.

Negotiations.

The train was required to wait dreary hours while the Finnish authorities negotiated with the Russians for an unofficial suspension of hostilities—not the official armistice originally planned—long enough for the Reds to pass over the bridge which marks the boundary between Finland and Soviet Russia, and to assure their safety.

Emma Goldman conversed with the Associated Press correspondent here for a few minutes before she trudged down the long path to the train, carrying part of her own baggage. Asked if she had a final greeting to the United States, she said: "I don't know whether I have."

"Would you be willing to tell your feelings on departing?"

"Naturally my emotions are conflicting. I am anxious about what is ahead in Russia, but naturally I am leaving very much behind in the United States."

She suddenly amazed the correspondent by throwing her arms around him and giving him a resounding kiss before he could struggle away. Then she picked up her belongings and moved wearily in the direction of the train.

WELCOME THE NEW TRADE WITH RUSSIA

British Business Men Ready to Follow Up Allies' Action

London, Jan. 19.—The unexpected decision of the Allies to resume trade relations with Russia appears to be popular with all British business men. Plans for renewing the exchange of goods have not yet been formed, but there are lively expectations among the big banking and commercial houses engaged in business with Russia before the war of a coming boom.

Transportation both with Russia and to Russia, and finance are the chief obstacles to be dealt with. Business men consider that barter on a large scale presents greatest difficulties and would involve much delay and complicated bargaining. The Bolshevik Government is supposed to have a great sum of gold which formerly belonged to the Czarist regime and has announced its willingness to use gold for foreign trade. This would require co-operation between the Bolshevik Government and the co-operative societies.

The British Department of Overseas Trade has drawn up a plan for insuring trade with Russia which involves the sum of £25,000,000 for the insurance of cargoes going and coming.

According to George H. Roberts, the British Food Controller, there are 1,000,000 tons of wheat in Russia ready to export which are needed by European countries suffering from food shortages. Coffee is one of the foreign products which Soviet Russia has been without and for which there is a great demand.

French Papers.

Paris, Jan. 19.—There has been little comment as yet by the newspapers here on the decision of the Supreme Council partially to raise the blockade of Soviet Russia. This has been due partly to the slender and partly to lack of information as to how the interchange of goods can be carried on without recognizing the Russian Soviet Government in some form. The papers emphasize the fact that interchange is to be through the Russian co-operative societies and express the belief that it will be by individual effort on the part of the Allies.

The Echo de Paris treats the subject as a scheme of international financiers who are anxious to make money by trading with Russia, calling them "adopters of the Manchester merchant school, whose text is 'Peace on Earth to Whoever Buys Our Goods.'"

SHAW REFUSES MILLION; TAXES WOULD EXCEED IT

London, Jan. 19.—George Bernard Shaw has refused an offer from New York of $1,000,000 for the motion picture rights of all his plays.

He found that if he accepted the offer he would have to pay, an income tax in New York, the income tax and the supertax in England, $1,017,000.

Commenting on this, the Manchester Guardian says: "It is a curious anomaly that, whereas as author's receipts from the sale of his work are counted as income, an inventor's receipts from the sale of a patent are regarded as capital. Authors are evidently people to be discouraged like supertax payers."

DR. S. J. TURNER DIES IN ENGLAND

London, Jan. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The deaths of the following have been announced:

Dr. Sydney James Turner, for many years chairman of the Kennel Club; Mafmaduke Sellers, a noted Yorkshire sheep breeder; Sir George Dalhousie Ramsay, formerly in the War Office; William Robb Robinson, "father of the York City Council"; H. D. Curlick, prominent in Manchester insurance circles; Ben Cooper, a London labor leader and member of the London County Council; and Sir G. JAMES MACAULEY GAINED 20 POUNDS

Can Do As Big a Day's Work As Anybody, Now, States Lunder Ranch Owner

"Yes, sir, I have gained twenty pounds in weight since I commenced taking Tanlac, and I am in better general health than I have been at any time during the past ten years," was the statement made the other day by James B. Macauley, a well-known rancher residing at Lunder, Manitoba.

"Up until five years ago I had lived all my life in New Bedford, Mass.," continued Mr. Macauley, "but my health had gotten so bad that I was almost a physical wreck, and I came up to this country hoping the change would build me up. But in spite of all I could do I have been getting weaker every day. I never never hungry, and little I did manage to force down caused me to suffer agony afterwards. Gas would form on my stomach something awful and the pains in my side were nearly more than I could stand. I was troubled with headaches constantly, and the pains in my back were so terrible that if I started to stoop over my back felt like it would break in two. Besides all these troubles I had as severe a case of rheumatism as a man ever had. I had pains nearly all over my body, but they were worse in my feet and hands. My feet and hands would swell up something terrible, and my fingers would get so stiff I could not pick up a pencil. I would be laid up for days at a time. I hardly knew what a good night's rest was, why, sometimes I would lie wide awake three fourths of the night."

"I spent hundreds of dollars on different medicines, but nothing ever did me a particle of good until I began taking Tanlac. And now my appetite has returned, and everything I eat agrees with me, and I never have a touch of indigestion. The rheumatism and pains in my back have just about completely disappeared, and my feet and hands have stopped swelling up. I hardly know what a headache is, and I am sleeping fine every night. I feel better and stronger than I have in years, and can do as big a day's work as any man. I I Tanlac give all the credit for my fine health, and it does me good to tell others about it publicly."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas—Advt.

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says a Little Salts in Water May Save You From Dread Attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat lean meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the body to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent, fizzy water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

MOTOR CARS REPLACE CAVALRY MULES

Nogales, Ariz., Jan. 18.—Mule skinner of the First Cavalry hereafter will have to swear at refractory car-buretors and punctured tires, for the army mule is being banished.

Farewell to the mule, as far as the First Cavalry is concerned, was said recently by a board of general officers appointed by the War Department to investigate the subject of motorizing cavalry.

After a test march in which both mules and motors were used, the board, headed by Brigadier-General Marshall, of Brownsville, reported in favor of the motor, and one brigade was ordered to do away with the mules.

Dominion Police Scandal in Quebec Province Takes New Turn

Quebec, Jan. 19.—The Dominion Police scandal in this city, which led to the arrest of Colonel Whitehead, the chief, on a number of charges and a preliminary inquiry into the police court, has taken another development with the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of Inspector J. H. Herman, in charge at Riviere du Loup, who is charged with misappropriation of funds said to amount to about $6,000.

It is alleged that Herman collected fines paid by draft-evaders and failed to turn them into the court.

STILL GOING UP.

Judging by the figures of the cost of living in the December issue of The Labor Gazette there is still no sign of the toboggan slide of high prices for which certain eminent economists and financial leaders have been tactfully preparing us. The cost of the average family weekly budget in staple foods in December was $14.70, which was an increase of forty-three cents over the corresponding figure for November. In December, 1914, the weekly budget was $7.59, but that seems so long ago that it is a strain to try to recall it. The weekly cost of fuel, rent, light and laundry is $8.79 according to The Gazette, so the budget of staple foods plus rent, light and fuel, etc., is $23.49. That is to say, according to The Labor Gazette, the average family in Canada could get along on $23.49 per week, provided it required no clothing or medicine or school books or recreation or car-fare or doctoring or dental work, for none of these items is included in the weekly total—and clothing is one of the most vital features in the domestic budget.

Detailed examination of the table in The Labor Gazette, however, discloses the interesting and hopeful fact that meats are continuing their downward course on the average, and if the rest of the staple commodities would only keep abreast of the meat brigade in this respect the average family weekly budget would begin to show a radical change for the better as far as the consumer is concerned. Dairy products were the chief offenders in the December returns and they climbed sufficiently high in the month to spoil completely what otherwise might have been a reassuring picture.

SOLDIER SETTLEMENT.

Unless the Federal authorities are prepared to settle returned men on the land in British Columbia along organized lines the Provincial branch of the Great War Veterans' Association intends to ask the Government of the Province to tackle the question on its own account. This is the chief recommendation contained in a report of the association's land settlement committee and recently submitted to its Vancouver branch. The document also declares that officials of the Soldier Settlement Board have admitted an impasse in that all the available British Columbia farms under its present policy of exchange of ownership have been taken up.

The committee appears to convey the impression that the Dominion Soldier Settlement Board has endorsed a form of organized settlement in the fullest sense of the term. We fear, however, that it labors under a delusion. It is quite true that Provincial enterprise at Merville and Creston has resulted in an understanding between the Land Settlement Board of this Province and the Federal body; but the project in each case is carried on under the provisions of the local Land Settlement and Development Act and consequently both settlements have had to depend entirely upon Provincial finances so far.

It is understood, however, that as soon as the settler is in a position to qualify for a loan under the Dominion Statute he may do so and obtain title to his land. Having progressed to this point he may join in any subsequent community, or organized, plan of settlement as he may think fit, but he may not do so under the Federal Act because its provisions limit its dealings to the individual settler.

The Report criticizes the Provincial Government because it has not seen fit to declare other areas open for community or general settlement among soldiers. We would point out again that the Dominion Board months ago expressly desired that British Columbia's part in the soldier settlement phase of repatriation should be confined to the passage of such legislation as would aid the plans of the Federal body. Such legislation already was on the statute books of this Province before the Dominion Government passed its own settlement law. What initiative, therefore, has been taken by the Province is the result of a desire to lend a hand to the returned man in the absence of the sort of Federal plans most desired by the men themselves.

OBVIOUS DISAGREEMENT.

It scarcely needed an inspired press announcement to inform the public that there was a disagreement in the British Government over Russian policy. The statement from the War Office a few days ago regarding the menace of Russian Bolshevism and the necessity of strong measures by the Allies to combat the danger, and the agreement of the Supreme Council of the Allies of which Mr. Lloyd George is a dominating figure to make trade overtures to Russia, clearly were in pretty straight conflict, and at once suggested that Mr. Churchill, the Minister of War, and the Prime Minister were in direct disagreement on this subject. Contrasting the records of the two it would be infinitely safer to accept the guidance of Mr. Lloyd George. Indeed, certain events during the last five years have made Churchill policy synonymous with disaster, and enough blunders were made on his inspiration without taking any chances on another one.

Mr. Lloyd George is reported to have the view that the Russian situation to-day is an exact parallel with the French situation of 1793 and should be carefully considered in that relation.

The twenty years' wars of Napoleon were the immediate result of the efforts of the rest of Europe to oust the revolutionary Government in France, and similar interference in Russia has helped the Bolsheviks to organize a large and efficient army, officered by many capable generals of the Czar's regime, whose progress and development and operations are so much like those of the forces with which the Jacobin Government of France met external interference in 1793, as to be positively startling.

OUR NEIGHBORING COUNCILS.

Mr. Alex. Lockley's victory in the contest for the Reeveship of Esquimalt was a very popular one, not only in the municipality itself but in Victoria where considerable interest was manifested in the fight. There never was any sound ground for doubt that he would win the election, notwithstanding the aggressive, if questionable, tactics employed against him, and the only debatable point was the size of his majority. It may be easily assumed that the new Reeve will capably bear the growing responsibilities associated with his post, and that in co-operation with the new Council he will have a successful record to review when the term of 1920 has run its course.

Esquimalt was the only one of the district municipalities in which there was a contest for Reeve. Both Messrs. George Watson and S. J. Drake, Reeves for Saanich and Oak Bay respectively, were elected by acclamation, developments which may be considered as well deserved tributes to their satisfactory records as Councilors. Incidentally, it is a noteworthy fact that municipal Government in Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay has reached a generally high degree of efficiency and not infrequently presents an excellent object lesson for the edification of the larger body in whose hands lie the civic destinies of Victoria.

BETTER LUCK NEXT TIME.

Apparently the majority of the electorate in Esquimalt is of the opinion that the time is not ripe for the Township to incur the expense of a new Municipal Hall. Saturday's vote appeared to be decisive on the point and the adverse pronouncement disposes of the question for the time being. It is not likely, of course, that the conduct of the affairs of the community will suffer by reason of another year's tenancy in the present building which does duty as a municipal hall, and it is altogether likely that better luck will attend the next appeal twelve months hence.

PROGRESSIVE SAANICH.

Saanich does not intend to lose her progressive spirit, particularly where community enterprise is directed towards a more effective conservation of the public health. There never was very much doubt, therefore, about the fate of the by-law seeking to obtain authority for the erection of a health centre. Thus equipped with a modern institution capable of accommodating the needs of the district under the most favorable conditions, Saanich may rest assured that the larger and older communities will deny her none of the credit to which her enterprise entitles her.

We congratulate Lucio and Simplicio Godini upon their escape from the "amusement" table of Washington's leading surgeons. In other words the "Siamese twins" will not be separated.

When the Air Board of Canada has reached a final decision as to the precise location of its four air bases for British Columbia, a spot adjacent to the city of Victoria should be named as the western point where both seaplanes and aeroplanes could be employed with equal advantage.

All those fortunate individuals who are able to qualify for income and personal property tax must now take stock of any arrears that may have accrued. The Minister of Finance apparently has made up his mind to get out with his collecting box and bring delinquents into line by the first of next month.

In an address to the Federated Labor Party on Saturday night Dean Quainton prophesied a labor Government in Canada within ten years. He also predicted that if such were the case all the evils would not then have disappeared. Even so.

Lord Jellicoe has received an urgent call to London and there is a prospect that the rest of his empire mission will be abandoned. Developments apparently have taken place of which the man in the street knoweth little.

The President of France receives $240,000 a year for ten years and a beautiful home in the Champs Elysees. He is chosen by the majority vote of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. Unlike the President of the United States, therefore, he does not have to square his sails for another appeal to the country as soon as he is inaugurated.

Admiral Sims has been destroying some fond illusions about the efficiency of United States naval administration in the early months of the war, and we imagine that before the Senate Committee, which is going to investigate his charges, has completed its labors, our neighbors south of the line will discover between the lines more striking evidence of why they, in common with the world generally, should be profoundly grateful to the British Navy.

HUMOR OF THE COUNTRY.

(Farm and Home.)
Lucy was visiting her aunt in the country. It was the joy of the four-year-old to hunt for eggs in the barn. One day she brought in a very small one, presumably laid by a bantam.
"Auntie," said the little maid, showing it, "the hen that laid this egg didn't have the right recipe."

DUTCH GOVERNMENT ASKED TO SURRENDER ELDER HOHENZOLLERN

"Individuals residing in Germany against whom the Allied and Associated Powers have brought charges are to be delivered to them under Article 228 under the Treaty of Peace, and the former Emperor, if he had remained in Germany, would have been delivered under the same conditions by the German Government.

Reasons.
"The Netherlands Government is conversant with the incontrovertible reasons which imperiously exact that premeditated violations of international treaties as well as systematic disregard of the most sacred rules and rights of nations should receive, as regards every one, including the highest placed personages, special punishment provided by the Peace Conference.

Crimes.
"The powers briefly recall, among so many crimes, the violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg, the barbarous and pitiless system of hostages, deportation en masse, the carrying off of young girls from the city of Lille, who were torn from their families and delivered defenceless to the worst promiscuity; the systematic devastation of entire regions without military utility; the submarine war without restraint, including the inhuman abandonment of victims on the high seas, and innumerable acts against non-combatants committed by German authorities in violation of laws of war.

"Responsibility at least moral for all these acts reaches up to the supreme head who ordered them, or made abusive use of his full powers to infringe, or to allow infringement upon the most sacred regulations of human conscience.

Great Responsibility.
"The powers can not conceive that the Government of The Netherlands can regard with less reprobation than themselves the immense responsibility of the former Emperor.

"Holland would not fulfill her international duty if she refused to associate herself with other nations as far as her means allow in undertaking, or at least not hindering, chastisement for the crimes committed.

Imposed by Conscience.
"In addressing this demand to the Dutch Government the powers believe it their duty to emphasize its special character. It is their duty to insure the execution of Article 227 without allowing themselves to be stopped by arguments because it is not a question of a public accusation with juridical character as regards its basis, but an act of high international policy imposed by the universal conscience, in which legal forms have been provided solely to assure to the accused such guarantees as were never before recognized in public law. The powers are convinced Holland, which has always shown respect for the right and love of justice, having been one of the first to claim a place in the Society of Nations, will be willing to cover by her moral authority the violation of principles essential to the solidarity of nations, all of which are equally interested in preventing the return of a similar catastrophe.

"It is to the highest interest of the Dutch people not to appear to protect the principal author of this catastrophe by allowing him shelter in their territory, and also to facilitate his trial, which is claimed by the voices of millions of victims.
(Signed) "CLEMENCEAU."

Deep Emotion.
Brussels, Jan. 19.—Deep emotion has been caused in Holland by the Allied demand for the extradition of W. Hohenzollern, former Kaiser of Germany, according to a dispatch from The Hague. Belief is expressed at the Dutch capital, it is stated, that pressing measures will be taken with the view to inducing him to place himself voluntarily at the disposal of the Allies.

Opposed by Bishops.
Berlin, Jan. 19.—A convention of the bishops is to be held shortly at Friburg, during which a petition will be addressed to the Pope, requesting the Allies to desist from demanding extradition of persons charged with war crimes.
The bishops have issued a proclamation calling on the Germans to unite in opposing the surrender of those persons, claiming "the threat is driving men to suicide." It calls on the country to prevent any train leaving the frontier bearing Germans to face a hostile court.

LIQUOR COMPENSATION NOT GROUNDS FOR AN INQUIRY

Moral Law.
"The moral law, on the other hand, as text writers tell us, deals with moral rights and has its origin in a general sense of what is right and wrong, depending upon the general sentiments of the community. Consequently it fluctuates as public opinion changes. It is within the sphere of ethics and outside that of practical jurisprudence. Therefore in no system of law is there any force given to the rules of morality as such. There is no tribunal in which they said that sums ratio est que pro religiosis facit, and that the Legislature, in making laws and the courts interpreting them, can give weight to moral considerations, yet where the law is clear, it must be administered as it is found regardless of the opinions as to its morality.

Able Argument.
"The very able and critical submission of Sir Charles Tupper, if it had been addressed to the Ministers of the Crown in time, might conceivably have diverted them from their resolution to have the Prohibition Act become law. I fear it is now too late to ask me to advise them even if I had the temerity to do so, that in 'fairness and reason,' that in equity and good conscience, they should grant compensation to his claimants. The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council does not, however, seek my advice as to the ethics of the question or as to the expediency of the Legislature extending its favor, grace or bounty to the claimants. It would, indeed, be difficult to draw the line in such a case between the multifarious sort of losses that might be alleged—the already stated, I resist on this occasion the alluring invitation extended me so seductively by Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Dunbar Taylor, K.C., to accompany them into the realm of moral law for, paradoxical as it may seem, it is solely upon the doctrine of morality they appear to base their claim for compensation for losses caused to their clients by the extirpation of the traffic in intoxicating liquor in this Province.

"Compensation"
"Compensation" means the recompense for the taking or injury of private property for the public use. It is a legal term of known significance, a form of legal reparation made to the owners of property which is taken or authorized to be taken by the Government for public purposes. I cannot speculate as to what actuated licensees to take out licenses under the Acts of 1910 and 1911. Nor can it be ascertained within the bounds of legal reparation what it was that finally moved those of the electorate who favored a change of policy in regard to the liquor traffic to approve the measure of prohibition which is now the law of the land.

DEAN PREDICTS
LABOR GOVERNMENT
WITHIN TEN YEARS

But This Will Not End All Evils, He Says; Labor Neglects Morals

Dean Quanton, of Christ Church Cathedral, Saturday night predicted a Labor Government in Canada within ten years. He was speaking to members of the Federated Labor Party gathered in the Crystal Theatre under W. E. Pelrice as chairman.

"But," he added, "all evils will not then have disappeared. Is there nothing wrong with labor?" The audience applauded him when he suggested these defects: lack of enthusiasm, lack of common purpose, failure to see the moral side.

"I cannot see why the Labor Party should see a weakening in its economic stand in recognizing the moral side, nor would the church weaken its moral claim by recognizing the economic claim," he said. "The church's contribution to social betterment is not so much a programme as the preaching of principles. Let the pulpit preach the great social principles that underlie social well-being and leave the economic programme to be carried out by practical minds."

Churchmen Most Severe.
"Labor has said severe things about the church. But you labor men have never said anything more severe about the church than have representatives of the church during the last year or two said about the church itself."

"There must be a drawing together of all those socially-minded that there may be frank criticism and effort for socialization of life in its broadest sense and not merely the socialization of the economic side. The cleavage unhappily existing in the ranks of those socially inclined results in a valuable dynamic force leaking out and being lost to civilization."

Make Corruption Difficult.
"The church has not in its corporate sense taken on an economic policy but that does not mean that she has not an economic message to deliver by witness, by worship and by work. The message of the church is the transvaluation of all values. Inextricably connected with the social question is the moral one. Some problems cannot be solved apart from the moral aspect. The use of misuses of wages, of added hours of leisure through the shortening of work day, of the unholiness of profiteering, all vital problems of the economic phase of life cannot be dissociated from the moral phase."

"I hope to see a condition in the world where it will be much more difficult to be corrupt and where there will be fewer incentives to be corrupt and dishonest. I want to see the church preach a real making over again of our relations with our fellows and with the whole things of life."

"The church must contribute a larger share of fellowship to social betterment as opposed to individualism. If the state of individualism is to continue, if class is to be perpetually set against class, there is nothing ahead of us but anarchy. The present state of discord must be displaced by one of fellowship and I believe there is within the church, despite our animosities, a deep sense of that fellowship."

BULKLEY VALLEY HAS GOOD PASTURE

F. G. Heal, on Visit Here, Speaks Highly of Farming and Mining Future

The Bulkley Valley holds out a great future for the farmer and miner, according to F. G. Heal, a member of the well-known pioneer Saanich family, who is now at the Dominion Hotel with Mrs. Heal and daughter.

Mr. Heal gained a knowledge of his occupation in this district, but has been farming in the northern interior for a long period. Stock in the valley is increasing, and being of a high grade it is readily salable, he states. Owing to the richness of the natural pasture, a large number of breeders are shipping stock in from Northern Alberta during the summer months, in order to take advantage of the ranges. Cereal crops of all kinds are doing well, and a sample car load of wheat sent to Vancouver for milling proved satisfactory. Other gains are also yielding well.

There is a large field for agricultural products along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, Mr. Heal states, to feed the men employed in the sawmills and mining camps of the district.

In addition to the metalliferous deposits which are being worked at various points, he alluded to the Telkwa collieries as yielding a high grade coal, and states that projected rail communication will enable a larger production for the needs of the central interior.

Altogether he looks for a bright future in the Bulkley Valley, as more land is taken up. Mr. Heal claims that as a typical mixed farming country it has few equals in British Columbia, and as such greatly impressed the Boards of Trade delegation which toured the Interior last summer.

DID SHE MEAN JUST THAT?

He: "But I asked you, dearest, to keep our engagement a secret for the present."

She: "I couldn't help it. That hateful Miss Oldun said the reason I wasn't married was because no fool had proposed to me, so I up and told her you had."

GIVE RECEPTION FOR ALL PRAIRIE PEOPLE

Many Expected to Attend Rally; Prominent Men Will Speak

Victoria is to give its first reception to Prairie people wintering or holidaying on the Island, Thursday night at Patricia Hall, 755 View Street.

Every Prairie man and woman is expected to attend. It is to be a free entertainment, with a musical programme, amusements and plenty of lively dancing, for the young people and for the older Prairie people who have not lost all the spirit that invigorated them in their earlier days.

Ex-Mayor Smith, of Regina, Mayor Porter, of Victoria, and Commissioner McAdam, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, will give the speeches of the evening and will probably be assisted by aldermen and others in public life here who at one time lived on the Prairies.

This entertainment is not being given by the city as was the Vancouver one last week. There, the city and the Board of Trade took the matter up and provided the money for holding the rally and entertainment in the Hotel Vancouver. More than 1,200 Prairie people attended to renew old acquaintances, to dance, and to be made to feel at home.

Thursday's function here is planned as the first of a series. The arrangements are being made by officers of the Prairie Club, and part of the expenses are being met by the Victoria and Island Development Association.

THEN, WHAT DID SHE SAY? Wife—"To-morrow is the anniversary of our wedding day. What shall we do about it?" The Professor (absently)—"I suppose we shall have to make the best of it."—Blighly, London.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE CHECKERS.

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garbo)

"Nurse Jane! Nurse Jane!" called Uncle Wiggily to his muskrat lady housekeeper in the hollow stump bungalow one morning. "You are wanted at the telephone."

"Oh, will you please answer and say I am busy?" requested Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "If it is Mrs. Wibblewobble, the duck lady, say I'll be over in a little while to show her how to make button holes in Jimmie's necktie."

"It is Mrs. Wibblewobble, and I'll tell her what you say," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "Though why the duck lady should want to make button holes in Jimmie's necktie is more than I can understand."

The bunny rabbit gentleman talked over the telephone to Mrs. Wibblewobble. Then Uncle Wiggily went to the kitchen, where Nurse Jane was very busy.

"What is going on in such a hurry that you could not come to the telephone?" Mr. Longears wanted to know.

"Oh, I'm making a carrot fruit cake," answered Nurse Jane, "and I just couldn't leave. I'm so busy I don't know what to do!"

"Well, perhaps I can help," spoke the bunny rabbit gentleman. "May I not empty the egg shells or sprinkle some sugar through the coffee strainer, or something like that for you?"

Nurse Jane laughed.

"You certainly are a funny rabbit," she said. "And if you want to help me make the carrot pie I shall be glad to help you."

"Turnip pie?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I thought you said you were making a carrot fruit cake!"

"I'm making both—that's why I'm so busy," spoke the muskrat lady.

"Better and better!" laughed the bunny. "If there is one thing I like more than another it is carrot fruit cake. Next to that it is turnip pie. Surely I may help you, Nurse Jane. But first tell me, why does Mrs. Wibblewobble want you to show her how to make button holes in Jimmie's necktie? You weren't thinking of his shirt, were you?"

"No, it's his necktie," the muskrat lady answered. "You see he loses no many of them that his mother said she was going to sew button holes in them and fasten them to his collar. Then he won't lose any more. I'm going to help Mrs. Wibblewobble do it."

"Very kind of you, I'm sure," said the bunny. "And now, please let me help you make the carrot fruit cake and the turnip pie."

Nurse Jane looked at the kitchen table, which was covered with dishes, pans, flour, sugar, eggs, nutmeg graters, egg beaters and molasses, and she was just going to say something, when the telephone bell rang again.

"I'll answer myself, this time," said Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I'm sure it is for me. If you want to help make the cake, Uncle Wiggily, you might beat up the eggs. Break some eggs in a bowl and stir them around with the egg beater."

"I'll do it," said the rabbit gentleman, taking off his tall, silk hat, and rolling up his sleeves so he would not spatter anything on his pink, twinkling nose, Uncle Wiggily began to beat the eggs up in the bowl. Nurse Jane, wiping her paws on her apron, went to the telephone. She had hardly left the kitchen before the outside door suddenly opened, and in came the queer old duck.

"Oh, there you are!" cried the Bazoop to Uncle Wiggily. "There you are!"

"Yes, I am here," said Mr. Longears, keeping a tight hold of the egg beater. "What do you want?"

"As if you didn't know!" gargled the Bazoop. "I came after some, of course! Your source!"

Uncle Wiggily did some quick thinking. He wanted to play a trick on the funny Bazoop. "Instead of taking my source, wouldn't you just as soon have a bit of carrot fruit cake—when it is baked?" asked the bunny.

"I don't like fruit cake," answered the Bazoop. "I want source!"

"How about a slice of turnip pie—when it is baked?" asked the bunny, taking a lighter hold of the egg beater.

"Nope!" answered the Bazoop, most impolitely. "I came after source and source I will have, whether you like it or not!"

He came closer to Uncle Wiggily. The bunny could hear Nurse Jane talking over the telephone, and he wished the muskrat lady would stop, and come in to help drive away the bad chap.

"But I'll have to do it all alone by myself, I guess, thought Uncle Wiggily. The Bazoop came nearer and nearer, and leaned over the bowl full of frothy beaten eggs.

"What have you there?" he asked.

"Ha! I'll show you what I have here!" cried the brave rabbit gentleman. Then he turned the egg beater so fast that a lot of the whites and yellows flew up out of the bowl and splashed and splattered right in the face of the Bazoop.

"Oh, wow!" Look out there! What are you doing?" cried the bad chap, with his face full of egg.

"O, pardon me! My error! The mistake was entirely mine!" said Uncle Wiggily, politely. But he kept on turning the egg beater as fast and splattering so much on the Bazoop, that the bad chap gave another howl and away he ran out of the door, crying:

"This is too much egg for me!"

"Well, it saved my source," spoke the bunny. Then Nurse Jane came away from the telephone and gave Mr. Longears more eggs to beat and the pie and cake were just fine. But the Bazoop had none, which served him right. And if the fire shovel doesn't catch cold when the puppy dog takes it out to slide down the snow on the cellar door, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's bad luck.

GRANT FOR BARN

Government Asked to Put Up $25,000 Towards a Building for Vancouver Exhibition Ground.

Careful consideration was promised by Premier Oliver to a request proffered by the Directors of the Vancouver Exhibition Association this morning for a grant of $25,000 towards defraying the cost of a $60,000 livestock barn which it is proposed to erect upon the exhibition grounds.

The Government was asked to make the grant this year when the Association would go ahead with a part of the plan, intending to complete a $40,000 building before the summer and add to it when the occasion demanded.

Among the members of the delegation were President J. J. Miller, Secretary W. H. Rolston, Messrs. Liddle, Steves, Knowlton, Barton, McIntyre, McLennan, and a number of others.

Mrs. Myers—"And is her husband kind to her?"
Mr. Styles—"Oh, very. Why, he's more like a friend than a husband."

NARROW ESCAPE OF CHILD IN SMASH-UP

Two Motor Cars in Violent Collision at Corner of Courtney and Quadra Streets

Lifted from the road, knocked across the sidewalk and into the fence was the misfortune which overtook a motor car driven by Frank Waring yesterday afternoon when it collided at the corner of Courtney and Quadra Streets with an automobile, owned by Leo Sweeney and driven by Thomas Atkinson. As a result of the smash, Mrs. Waring, who was riding with her husband, suffered considerably from shock and bruises, and the little child would have been hurled out to the pavement had not the mother seized the belt of the child's coat.

The car, driven by Mr. Waring, was about to turn on to Quadra Street from Courtney Street when the other car, proceeding along Courtney Street toward Fort Street, struck it a very heavy blow. The automobile was pushed across the sidewalk and collided with the fence, breaking several of the boards.

The violent jar which the car received caused the baby to be thrown violently forward and it was a miracle that it was not killed.

Both motor cars suffered considerable damage.

MAN WHO HELD A PARTY IN CABIN GETS SIX MONTHS

George Bunney Caught by Police Officers Running "Blind Pig"

George Bunney, who has been following the habit of a mixer on Vancouver Island for the past twenty-five years, was sentenced to six months with hard labor by Magistrate Jay in the police court this morning on a charge of keeping liquor for sale in his cabin at 10 Johnson Street. Bunney's arrest followed a little party which he had given in honor of three women, one of whom was fined $50 in the police court on Saturday for having liquor in her possession.

Constable Walton informed the court that he visited Bunney's cabin on Thursday last in company with Constable Bishop. The police, he said, were suspicious that the accused was running a blind pig. Witness crept up to the window and saw three women inside. He saw the accused pour out a drink of liquor for the women and then Mrs. Waring passed something to Bunney which he had in his hand. The women entered the cabin and asked the accused for the liquor, which he handed over to Constable Bishop.

In reply to questions from City Prosecutor Harrison the witness said that he had seen women coming out of Bunney's cabin on previous occasions under the influence of liquor.

Came Out Drunk

The three other occupants of the cabin, Thomas Dean, Neil McLean and E. E. Rogers, said they had seen people going in and out of Bunney's quarters, but admitted the person might have been friends. McLean said that he had seen people going in sober and coming out drunk.

Testifying on his own behalf Bunney stated that he had secured a prescription from Dr. Kenning on January 5 for his asthma. On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Green, who was an old friend, called to see a tear in the lining of his overcoat. Later two other women called, but he denied having given any of them a glass of liquor. He had only used the prescription as a medicine.

Got a Drink

Mrs. J. Pollock, who was one of the trio of women present when Bunney was arrested, testified in court that the accused had given her one drink of whiskey on Thursday afternoon. She had gone there to keep an appointment with Mrs. Green to interview a third woman in respect to obtaining work.

J. B. Clearburn, who represented the accused, argued that there was no evidence that Bunney had kept the liquor for sale. He might have given the women a drink, but he had accepted no money for it. The cabin was the private dwelling of the accused, and he was perfectly at liberty to give his friends a drink if he desired. If the Magistrate held that Bunney had no right to sell, then the police had a right to enter any private home in which liquor might be given out to friends and arrest them.

Perjury of Accused

Mr. Harrison, however, pointed out that the accused had perjured himself in his denial, having given the women liquor, and Mrs. Pollock swore that she had received a drink.

Magistrate Jay stated that the accused had perjured himself, and referred to the charge laid against him by Bunney on Christmas Eve of assaulting with intent to rob these men in the defense. He stated that they had gone to Bunney's cabin to get a drink, and the Magistrate was convinced that as accused had laid the charge to save himself from possible arrest.

RANGE CONTROL NOW SHOWS GOOD RESULT

Annual Report Just Issued by Hon. T. D. Pattullo Deals With Subject

Practical fruits of the system of range control as instituted by the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, last year are figuratively gathered in the annual report just rendered to the Minister by the Grazing Commissioner. It is disclosed that approximately 26,000 head of cattle and horses, as well as 5,000 head of sheep, were grazed under permit during the season.

Range Conditions

In spite of the dry season experienced conditions on the range were excellent, and in general the stock came in from the summer to the winter range in very good condition. A great many of the stockmen gave increased attention to the application of better methods of handling of their stock on the open range, consequently a greater portion of the timber feed was consumed than heretofore.

In the past this timber feed, which includes the pine-grasses, browse, and succulent weeds usually found growing under the more open stands of jack-pine, yellow-pine, and spruce, was neglected. With no definite system of grazing management to induce the stock to use this upper range, it grew during the entire growing season on the more open ranges. The ranges produce the bunch and blue grasses which constitute the most palatable forage on the range. Continual grazing, has so depleted this type of range that its capacity is about one-tenth what it should be. By inducing the stock to use the timber feed, which has a high nutritive value, and great fattening properties, the open or grass areas will be given a chance to recover, and the capacity will be increased. The proper distribution of salt is the biggest factor in securing the full and best use of the range.

Organizing Stockmen

A great deal of work has been done during the past season in organizing the stockmen for co-operation with the Department in the solution of the many problems coming up for consideration.

Many problems, such as conflicts between applicants for range have required immediate attention. Others requiring also immediate attention demand discussion and co-operative action with other Departments, both Provincial and Dominion.

Indian Grazing Lands.

Among the latter is the use of the range by stock belonging to the Indians. There are in various parts of the Province many reservations of the Indians which are usually contain a great deal of unused range, but as a general rule the stock belonging to the Indians graze rarely on the mid-summer range, which is mostly Crown land.

The white settlers in many cases contend that the stock belonging to the Indians should be confined to the reservations. But since most of these areas are unfenced, and contain low range only, it will be difficult to do this without heavy expense in fencing or branding.

In most cases a reciprocal arrangement would be advisable, whereby the Indians' stock to the capacity of the reservation could be allowed to graze out on the Crown range under free permit in return for which no objection would be made to the encroachment of white settlers' stock on the reservations.

Grasshopper Pests

Considerable damage has been done to portions of the open or grass range throughout the grazing country by grasshoppers. These pests usually attack the young growing grass soon after the removal of the cattle to the higher or timber feed. This prevents the growth of grass for fall grazing, and greatly interferes with plans for range restoration. The entomological Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture made an examination of the badly infested areas last summer with a view to outlining control measures.

Arrangements Made

Arrangements have been entered into in a preliminary way to co-operate with the Dominion Government regarding the issuance of joint permits covering Provincial and Railway Belt ranges as soon as the Dominion Government assumes control of its range lands. The joint boundaries cut through distinct units of range which render the creation of joint allotments necessary.

The establishment of new regulations to enable the stockmen to secure the full use of scattered portions of private range which they own or lease throughout the grazing areas, as well as regulations to provide for the granting of permits to purchasers of permitted stock are being considered.

Splendid Treatment for Wrinkled, Flabby Skin

She who oddises herself all day in an overhailed house and finds her skin flushed and flabby as a consequence, can quickly freshen up for the evening by just bathing her face in a lotion made by dissolving six ounces of pure powdered soap in a half pint of witch hazel. She will find this most refreshing. It smooths out the wrinkles and draws in the saggy tissue almost immediately, and the face appears considerably rejuvenated.

The ingredients, of course, are perfectly harmless and no trace of the treatment remains on the skin. Be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered soap.

The death took place in Calgary, Alberta, last Thursday, of Garfield Vye, age thirty-seven years. He was born in New Brunswick and was a well-known resident of this city. He is survived by his widow, three children, a father, mother, four brothers and one sister of this city. The remains are resting at the Sands Funeral Chapel. Funeral announcements will be made later.

Trials Indefinitely Adjourned.—Before Mr. Justice Gregory in the Supreme Court this morning the trial of Esquimaux & Nanaimo Railway vs. Dunlop was commenced, and shortly afterwards was indefinitely adjourned. The case hinges on practically the same evidence as will be heard in the trial of E. & N. vs. Wilson and others. It concerns certain crown grants. The case in which Wilson and others are defendants was remanded until next month in order to allow counsel for the plaintiff to execute two orders for commissions to take the evidence of a stenographer who was mentioned in the case, and of the agent at Ottawa of S. S. Taylor, K. C. Counsel for the defendants.

Avenue of Opportunities Thrown Open to Disabled Service Men

Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment on the Island Has Variety of Courses.

Registration for courses under the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment will close by the end of January. This is the announcement made from the Victoria offices, and the fact is emphasized that all returned men who intend to avail themselves of the opportunities offered must have their applications in by that date. This, however, does not apply to men still in the army or men who are under the S. C. R. for treatment, and therefore not ready to begin a course of instruction which will help them to master some occupation where their disability will be the least handicap.

Applications Increase.
Increasing applications from men who find after they have been discharged from the army that their disability is a greater handicap than they had anticipated, the great influx of wounded men after the signing of the armistice who have since seized the opportunities for vocational training, and the extension of the privilege to soldiers whose education was interrupted when they enlisted has made necessary great developments in vocational work since the S. C. R. was organized.

Organization and Study.
The labor undertaken, and the system of vocational training which has been built up on Vancouver Island represents a great deal of organization and study by those in whom the important duty of helping Canada's disabled soldiers fit themselves for the great battle of life has been vested.

All Canadian.
When vocational training for returned men first came into effect the officers of the S. C. R. had practically no precedent to follow. Emergencies were met and obstacles overcome as they were encountered until the S. C. R. is now practically able to meet the case of any man who applies for re-education, and no matter what the demand, if the applicant's request is reasonable in nearly every instance they have been able to meet it. With the thousands of avenues of commerce that are open some of the requests have been astounding, but if there is any possible chance and the S. C. R. examiners decide the man is fitted for the work he wishes to take up and is likely to make a success thereof, he is given the course he asks for. The only restriction is that the course must be taken in Canada. Among the applications which have been received have been for courses in moving picture work where the applicant selects sunny Los Angeles, the home of the movies, for his training ground. These, however, have been refused.

By Correspondence.
Courses by correspondence were introduced but have practically been eliminated. The view was taken that where an applicant decided to take a course by correspondence without relinquishing his occupation he was apparently re-established. The main objection however, was and although the eight months allowed them may not be sufficient for them to take their place by the motor mechanic who has been years at the trade, they are able to make a first class showing as improvers and can look for speedy graduation to the regular journeyman class soon after their entry into a shop. Cars are knocked down and put up by the students as the best way to make them thoroughly familiar with all parts of the machine. All the machinery found in any shop is in use, so that the veterans become familiar with the machinery they are liable to be called upon to use when they leave the course for ordinary work.

Crippled Shoemakers.
Shoemaking, carpentering and electrical courses are all taken under the same roof at the Western Pickling Works on Flagard Street, known now as the Flagard Street S. C. R. school, being used for the purpose.

Shoe Repairing.
The shoemakers' store is on the top floor and shoemaking appears to have a special attraction for the crippled men, the fact that a shoe repairer can sit down to a greater part of his work being the reason for the selection. Each man has his own bench and set of tools with machinery which can be used by all the men. The shoe repairer, it is often claimed, are the most conscientious of all the students. The work has no particular charms and is not likely to prove the selection of any student who does not sincerely desire to finish his course with a trade at his fingers. The eight months in most instances proves sufficient for a man to become proficient to work at the trade.

Several students have already opened shoe repairing shops and to make sure of their success the S. C. R. does not sever its connection with the men start in business for themselves. A careful eye is kept on them any assistance possible is given. During the course many of the married men help keep down the family budget by doing the shoe repairing for the home.

The Carpenters.
Eighteen men are learning to become carpenters in the same building. "We do not expect to turn out a finished carpenter in the space of eight months," the instructor states, "but we are able to instruct a man in the use of tools and the elements of carpentering so that he can take a helper to journeyman in one that he can make himself after he leaves the course." A set of tools is allotted to each man and both bench and building work is taught, although the facilities at present are not so great for the outdoor work.

The electrical course mainly appeals to minors whose course of study was interrupted by the war, and who, after three or four years overseas, find that they are ready for work and have no trade in their hands.

Dentistry.
Thirteen veterans are learning to become mechanical dentists at Dr. Clarke's premises on Douglas Street, each man working at his own particular bench, and although the ordinary layman cannot view the work of the men with an eye of an expert, it would appear that the men who take up the course are ambitious and painstaking. Their instructor firmly believes that the majority of the men who are enrolled will become proficient enough to make their way in the world as mechanical dentists. One student, minus one leg and unfit for heavy work has shown sufficient aptitude to be enrolled on the instructors' staff.

Those taking the High School course include both young soldiers whose course of study was interrupted, and soldiers who unfit for manual work aim to become teachers. How satisfactory this course of instruction has proved is evidenced by the instance of one man, formerly a carpenter, who returning with one hand almost useless, has already secured a teacher's certificate on top of passing the qualifying examination for the civil service, the latter being secured as the result of his occupational studies while a hospital patient. This is one of many similar instances.

Those taking the farming course on the island are mostly spread over farms in the district, although many of these will probably be sent together with the new students, to the Hill farm at Cobble Hill, which the department recently leased.

At Esquimalt.
In the grounds of Esquimalt Hospital both occupational work and vocational training is taught. Occupational work has proved a great help in the recovery of patients and both at Esquimalt and Craigdarroch patients are encouraged to pass the time away in this manner. Bread work, basket work, and fancy work are taught the men at Esquimalt Hospital in a comfortable little shop while there is also special bedside work for the patients who are confined to their wards. The tasteful work done by such soldiers has frequently been the source of comment and admiration. Occupational work on a larger scale is taught at Craigdarroch, the S. C. R. home for convalescents. In a building built in the beautiful grounds of the castle, patients have a wide choice of occupation. Cabinet work proves a great attraction and men previously unfamiliar with tools have a variety of trays, cabinets and other work of which they have reason to be proud. One veteran, a typical soldier with a formidable array of ribbons has, as the result of months of work, almost finished a handsome buffet which he is making. Sickly patients prevent him from making rapid progress but there is seldom a day when he is fit for work that he is not at his bench. Art metal work also keeps some of the men busy, and the display cabinet where the result of the work is on exhibition shows that when it is not as difficult as it would appear to make the art metal work that the men are unusually painstaking. Cabinet-making, carpentering and blue print work as a vocational for a man is taught at Esquimalt. Lance-Corporal Thomas, the hospital poet hit the nail on the head when the complaint attacked, and he broke out into the following verses:

"Now if you come here to work, Please do try your work on shirk; For we will do our level best; We just ask you to do the rest."
The warning seemed hardly necessary to a man the students seem anxious to assimilate all the knowledge to be gained in the time granted.

Boat-building Company.
A boat-building company of retrained men has already sprung into existence as a result of the classes in boat-building. It is hoped to get about a dozen men enrolled in the new concern which is at present in its infancy. At present the men are engaged in the construction of a C. P. R. eighteen-foot lifeboat. If the boat passes the test which they confidently anticipate more orders are assured, and the new company hopes to be able to proceed with the business with the assistance of the $500 grant.

FUTURE IS BRIGHT FOR NATIONAL RAILWAYS

"Completion of the first year in the life of the Canadian National Railways," says Mr. D. B. Hanna, in Toronto Globe, "is an important milestone on the road of transportation progress. If it were a plough we had put our hands to we might not look back—but the careful engine driver, still keeping a hand on the throttle, should look back now and then to see if his train is all right and if the tail end is coming along, and also to get a high ball or stop signal as he approaches a station. We in the railway world, therefore, can justify a certain amount of retrospection."

"The year's operations have, of course, been affected by the fact that 1919 was the first year of the readjustment period following the cessation of hostilities. Apart from the movement of returning troops, the almost immediate effect of the armistice was a falling off in the demand for war commodities, including foodstuffs. It was only to be expected that it would take time for after-war activities to make up the traffic created by the tremendous munition industries established throughout Canada. Also foodstuffs bottled up in other countries which had no outlet during the war a submarine-sweep course to European ports were thrown on the world's markets somewhat affecting our exports of such commodities. For these reasons railway freight traffic has been less than in the two preceding years. The increase in passenger traffic has shown that the higher fares have not kept the public from traveling. The resumption of some train services that were curtailed as war measures has been justified."

"The return of our soldiers from war activities in Canada has resulted in more labor being available for maintenance work. This situation, coupled with the lifting of restrictions on capital expenditures which the war enforced, has enabled the railways to put in a busy year on betterment work, and the completion of certain lines in the West commenced before the war, has been proceeded with."

An Efficient Force.
"The activities of this year have therefore, been sufficient to test out the management under Government ownership. I am glad to state for the information of those who doubt that this can be achieved, that I have not observed the slightest tendency of officers to become slack, or in any way to lose their interest. Our men, as much on the job as any railway officers I have come in contact with, and man for man, I do not think the staff of the Canadian National Railways can surpass anywhere on this continent. We have been watching very carefully the train operation particularly where the service initially was not satisfactory, and I am glad to say that we see a marked improvement. We shall continue our efforts and hope that 'national services' will become synonymous with 'good service.'"

Wisdom of G. T. R. Purchase.
"During the year a step of great importance has been taken by the Government of Canada, in passing legislation to acquire the lines of the Grand Trunk System for addition to the Canadian National Railways. While some time will necessarily elapse before the lines will be operated as one system, yet the action taken ensures what I regard (and what I believe the people of Canada will quickly learn to recognize) as a wise solution of the railway problem of this country, namely, the creation of a strong competitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway. The President of the C. P. R. recently speaking in Toronto, said that one of the reasons why he hoped (against his fears) that the National system would be a success, was that the railways generally dreaded the competition of an irresponsible competitor—which is a railroad truth."

"It may be accepted as another railroad truth that the day of the small independent railway system has passed. In United States where the railroad problem is very much in the public eye, the experience obtained in the two years during which the United States railways have been under Government control has shown that certain measures which railway managements had resorted to as good business moves but which regulatory bodies had more or less recently made illegal were really in the interests of the country as a whole, therefore, it is proposed, in turn back the railways to their owners that certain of these practices previously frowned upon should now be encouraged. Consolidations and mergers and the pooling of traffic, earnings, equipment and facilities are permitted. There is to be a great operation between rail and water carriers, more especially on inland waters.

"Several plans put forward by various groups for legislation to cover this situation provided for compulsory consolidation of the lines into great but competing systems. So the accepted condition of proper transportation for a large country would appear to be large systems, and preserving competition. It should be to adopt with respect to the railway problem seem to be largely along the lines of securing what the Government of Canada has taken steps to obtain. In Canada two state systems serving every community in the country will compete for the nation's business. We look forward with confidence to our single best competitor, but to a healthy and active rivalry with full co-operation, should the transportation requirements of the country ever demand it. That one of the two systems is owned by the people through the Government of Canada should, in my opinion, improve rather than adversely affect the situation."
No Political Interference.
"After a year's trial of the present plan of control of the National Railways system, there has been, I am able to say, no Governmental or political interference. Those of the Government or other members of Parliament who wanted information have received it. I have not been approached to make a single political appointment. I see no reason why this condition should not continue. The National Railways System in my opinion has a future as bright, as the nation itself. We must be identified with the progress of every community in Canada. We shall assist wherever we can, consistent with good business principles."
"As a New Year's thought I would like to ask the public to help by cooperating with us to rectify such conditions as should be improved by advising our officers when they see things that are not just as they should be. Our officers will appreciate such assistance from the public, with whom it is our endeavor to operate in closest harmony. We will not be able to do everything at once, but will endeavor to make such progress as traffic and other conditions will warrant. Our officers regard their duties as a public trust, and the public should not hesitate to approach them on subjects which mean improvement to the service, consistent of course with efficiency and economy."

Deserves Public Support.
"When it is realized that over 50 per cent of the country's railway mileage will, with the inclusion of the Grand Trunk lines, be operated by the Canadian National System, it should be appreciated to what a great extent the future welfare of Canada may be affected by the success or failure of the National System, and the public generally should support the line which is national in ownership and extent and which the management desires should be truly national in helpful identification with Canada's development as a nation."

The result of the poll for police commissioner resulted in a victory for Commissioner James Owens, who was given a majority in every ward over Robert Macnicol.

The poll was as follows by wards:

Ward	Owens	Macnicol
Ward 1—Owens 27, Macnicol 20; rejected 9.
Ward 2—Owens 149, Macnicol 111; rejected 6.

Ward 7—Owens 113, Macnicol 41; rejected 0.
Total—Owens, 473, Macnicol 271

Mr. Macnicol has written to Commissioner Owens as follows:

"As your opponent, please allow me to congratulate you upon your successful fight for the seat on the Police Commission.

"Having come out at the beginning of the campaign to fight for a principle I was determined to be consistent, and as a result went down to defeat.

"If it had been a straight fight between you and me the result would have been problematical, but as the principle I adopted fell foul of Executive Jones' actions on the Commission he was compelled to bring all his forces to bear against me and I was beaten.

"I am defeated but not dismayed, and will enter the fray again at a future time, when I hope that the forces I have mentioned above will keep their hands off and give us a straight fight.

"I bear no grudges and will at all times back you up in giving us an efficient police system in Saanich."

DOES NOT CONSIDER THIRTY PER CENT. REDUCTION EXCESSIVE

Local opinion is inclined to agree with the view expressed in a Seattle message published in "The Times" on Saturday. It was then stated that Canadian travel to California has fallen off by 30 per cent. The explanation is attributed to the adverse rate of exchange, and the accompanying problems.

Discussing the subject yesterday, "The Times" was informed that the falling off is composed of two classes, firstly those prairie people who did not leave home owing to the complications incidental to international travel, and secondly a large number who arrived in the Coast cities, but did not proceed. They are filling up the time before they have to return in Victoria and Vancouver.

The very large gathering of prairie people held in Vancouver last week, and the numbers known to be in Victoria at the present time both point to the large parties who are staying, instead of proceeding to California, points. The estimate of 30 per cent. decline would certainly be well within the mark, but some state

METROPOLITANS PLAY VANCOUVER TO-NIGHT

Aristocrats Met Seattle Men Wednesday and Vancouver Friday

Vancouver to-night has a chance to step to the head of the Pacific Coast hockey till. Pete Muldoon's men provide the opposition for the Monday night game on the Mainland, and if the home team can hold Jack Walker's men in check they step to the head of the chart with a game in hand. Should they lose the game, Victoria is back in the top position. Eddie Oatman's Aristocrats will however, have a good chance to get the league leadership in any event with two games before them. Wednesday they face Seattle in an attempt to secure their first victory on the Sound City battleground.

The Mets can make matters interesting this week for the Canadians, and Pete Muldoon's men, although they have not had great success up to the present, never look an easy proposition. Walker, Foyston, Bobby Rowe, Hap Holmes and Company have seldom looked like a weak team, but a succession of odd goal losses has put them in the cellar. This week they have an opportunity to draw even with the other two clubs for the space of two days only. By winning to-night and again Wednesday, the Seattle puckchasers will create a three cornered tie. Friday night will then be a battle between the Victoria men and the Vancouver squad for the leading place again.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS IN BRITISH RUGBY

Leicester Piles Up Fifty-four Points; Northampton Registered Thirty-nine

London, Jan. 19 (Canadian Press)—The international football game at Swansea was the principal engagement on the rugby programme Saturday and indeed dominated the whole football scene, although the leagues were in full swing and two postponed English Cup ties were being played.

The meeting of the English and Welsh teams had been eagerly awaited and discussed, this being the first international meet since 1914, and the quality of the players was largely unknown as naturally few pre-war stars were available. Hammett is English-born, but has played with Newport. He was chosen for both teams but played with England. The Welshmen were very confident, with a specially large measure of faith in their forwards, and the Welsh dominated the first half of the game, although England led at the interval, five to three. The Welsh victory was, however, assured from the start and the great acrobacy of Wales in the second half is indicated by their addition of two dropped goals, a penalty goal and a try, while England did nothing. The result makes the sides equal in regard to the number of matches won since the beginning of the contest—fifteen. Nothing exceptional marked the Rugby Union club matches, but Huddersfield gave York a severe beating in the Northern Union by fifty-one to seven.

London, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press Cable).—British rugby football results of games played Saturday were as follows:

Northern Union.

The Silverware Luring the Amateur Hockey Men

The competition for the handsome piece of silverware, the Dudley Cup, donated by Percy Richardson, in this season creating the keenest encounters among the amateur puckchasers that ever Victoria hockey fans were treated to, and the two games each Monday, now increased by a juniors' game, have on each of the four occasions attracted a record number of spectators.

The G. W. V. A. and Two Jacks, the Senators v. Elks, take the ice in the order given to-night in games which will mean important shiftings on the league table. The Elks and Two Jacks have the league lead at stake and either the G. W. V. A. or the Senators will draw even with the losers of the first battle for second place. The G. W. V. A. and Senators' game takes the spotlight. Captain Wicksen led his men to victory in the strenuous overtime game last Monday, and by doing so again can complete the rise of Strath's septette from the cellar position.

Flying Frenchman Got Three to Two Victory Over Senators Saturday

During the intermission between the second and third periods Matte was given some timely advice by Manager Hefferman and he responded by scoring two goals in the first three minutes of the third period.
Goldie Rodgers, although not in condition, showed flashes of his old line form and delighted the fans with some brilliant rushes.

The accident occurred at the moment when Gould was trying to score the points necessary to defeat Kinsella in three straight sets. He had won the first two 6-3, 6-2 and was leading in the third 6-5.

FEW SURPRISES IN OLD COUNTRY SOCCER

Arsenal Sustained Heaviest Defeat of Day; Sunderland's Streak

The First Division League Football on Saturday was not productive of many surprises. Aston Villa did well to draw with Burnley at Turf Moor, as the Lancashire team is always pretty reliable when playing at Home and the Villa have not been making much headway this season, although they appear to be stronger now than they were some weeks ago. Chelsea maintained their good Home record by defeating Manchester United at Stamford Bridge. Liverpool have taken four points from Sheffield United this season and are now better placed than they were earlier in the season. Everton on the other hand appear to be getting nearer the danger zone. Oldham Athletic did well to beat Newcastle United, even though the game was played at Oldham.

Heaviest Defeat.
The heaviest defeat of the day was that sustained by Woolwich Arsenal, who went down before Manchester City by the score of four goals to one. Blackburn Rovers lost by a three goal margin also, being defeated by West Bromwich by the score of five to two. This is not a usual happening with the Rovers, who generally keep their opponents score at a minimum. The West Bromwich team, however, are going strong this year, and are likely to finish at the head of the League according to present indications. Sunderland, who are still going strong, continued their winning streak at the expense of Derby County, whilst Middlesbrough were defeated by Preston North End. There is great interest being taken in the League battles this year greater than ever in fact, judging by the numbers of spectators reported to be turning out.

MAY ACCEPT.
New Haven, Conn., Jan. 19.—Yale University probably will accept the invitation for a track meet in England this Spring. Professor Clarence W. Mendell, chairman of athletics board of control stated to-day. It is understood at Yale that Harvard will be unable to accompany the Blue on this trip as has been the case heretofore.

STANISLAUS ZBYSZKO RETURNS NEXT MONTH

Has Instructed His Manager to Arrange Matches Immediately

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, who asserts that Messrs. Craddock, Stecher, Lewis, Piestina, et al. are the Prof. Fortias of the wrestling world—all of them claimants, but none of them entitled to the championship will arrive in the United States about the middle of February. When Zbyszko returned to his native Poland four years ago, he left a string of bewildered wrestlers behind him in this country, all of them glad that he had departed. He had defeated the whole string of them, including virtually all of the present day stars of the mat. He waded through the entire lot, the late Frank Gotch being the only man in the country to upset him. Gotch then the undisputed world's champion, met Zbyszko in their memorable match at the Coliseum in Chicago. Zbyszko advanced to the centre of the ring with a friendly hand—extended to Gotch, who, instead of grasping it as was the custom, dove for the Polish giant's legs and pinned him before he had realized what had happened. Gotch considered himself lucky to get away with the trick. Efforts to get him to meet Zbyszko in a return match were unavailing. He refused absolutely to go to the mat with him again, although he was offered $50,000 for his share. Zbyszko is acknowledged to be the master wrestler of the world. He is scientific to the highest degree, powerful, tricky and a marvel in physical development. Zbyszko promises to settle the championship dispute—rather begin the task of settling it—within two weeks after his arrival in New York.

He notified his manager, Jack Herman, to arrange matches at once with Craddock, Stecher, Lewis, Piestina, Pesek and the rest of them. He is anxious to meet them all, with no exception as regards weight, color or affiliation. Since the termination of the war, Zbyszko has engaged in charitable contests to raise funds for the destitute families of Poland and disabled soldiers, and is happy with his success. He writes that he is in superb condition and after two weeks of training following his arrival will be ready to rip into the crop of champions claimants with a vengeance, establishing his undisputed right to the world's title.

VICTORIA IS ONE OF THREE IN LINE FOR NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

Seattle, Jan. 19.—Definite plans are to be made at a meeting here next Sunday for the organization of a six-club class B baseball league to cover the territory of the old Northwest League, John Barnes, Seattle baseball man, and Robert Brown, Vancouver, clubowner, announced here to-day. Five cities, Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver, Spokane and Yakima, are certain of places in the league, Barnes and Brown said. The sixth club will be from Wenatchee, Bellingham or Victoria, B. C. The new league, it is hoped, will become a "farm" for the Pacific Coast League. Seattle probably will have continuous baseball during the summer as the new organization plans games here when the Pacific Coast League team is on the road.

INTEREST GROWS IN BASKETBALL SERIES

Interest is increasing daily in the Sunday school basketball games, Saturday night's fixtures being exceedingly interesting. Christ Church intermediates put up a whirlwind game against First Presbyterian Midgets, losing out by only one point, in what was easily the best intermediate game yet played. The final result was in doubt right up to the last minute, the 'Midgets' winning by 35 points to 24. Earl Dickson refereed. The teams: Christ Church—J. Christie, Jeff Bothwell, H. Symons, Bert Fox, G. Anthony. Presbyterian Midgets—Joe Goss, Art Bird, W. Nachtrieb, E. Bracknridge, F. McGregor.

The second intermediate game was also a "hammer," and after a ding-dong battle St. Andrews managed to nose out by one point over the First Presbyterian On-we-Go's. St. Andrews, 25 points; On-we-Go's, 24 points. Scotty Dowds refereed. The teams: St. Andrews—A. McIntyre, D. Smith, E. Squire, Alex. Main, H. Jackson. On-we-Go's—O. Taylor, A. Vetch, Alex. Bell, S. Pollock, H. Brown.

LADIES' TOURNAMENT AT ESQUIMALT LINKS

Owing to unfavorable weather during the month of January, the date of the Ladies' Tournament (Match Play) of the United Service Golf Club will be extended from January 20 to February 8. The links will be closed to ladies on January 25, as the third of series of matches with Oak Bay will be played on that day.

Patangas Theatre Filled Last Night for G. W. V. A. Band Concert
Inclement weather proved no handicap to Victorians desirous of attending the weekly band concert given by the G. W. V. A. band at the Patangas Theatre last night, and over four hundred had to be turned away owing to lack of accommodation. The reservation of seats proved a popular innovation practically every reserved seat being taken long before the hour of commencement of the concert. These Sunday night concerts are coming to be recognized as important factors in the musical life of the community, and the bandmen and their able conductor deserve every congratulation for the high standard of music maintained. Last night the assisting artists were Miss Mary Izard, the violinist, who was recalled and generously gave encores no fewer than three times, Mrs. Harry

STORY OF NORTHERN WOODS AT ROMANO

"Nine-tenths of the Law" Is Sure of Hearty Greeting

"Nine-tenths of the Law" this week's feature at the Romano, presents one of the most human and altogether touching stories that have come out of that paradise of the story teller—the North Woods. It is so big and ample in its conception and so direct in its development that it will have almost universal appeal. Child interest, intense mother love and stirring personal encounters between rugged men of the woods are features of the tale, which is pictured in a wild region in perfect keeping with the story.

Reaves Eason wrote and produced this remarkably entertaining subject and also plays the part of "Red" Adair, the villain of the piece. Mitchell Lewis plays the honest-hearted trapper, Leneau, with Jimsey Maye appearing as the wife. But good as the work of the adult actors of the cast is, the honors of the production go to Little Roughneck, played by a child called "Breezy" Reeves. This little fellow is scarcely more than a baby, but he rises to the occasion in every scene, and this is a story which centres largely about him.

The plot, as was said, is simple but effective. Leneau and his wife, who live in a cabin, lose their own baby early in the story. Red Adair and his partner have kidnapped Little Roughneck, who starts out alone while they are in a drunken orgy. The child wanders over to Leneau's place and falls into a bear trap, where he is found next morning. Leneau and his wife, still mourning for their own child, at first refuse to give him up or look for his family. Later, after Leneau has had mortal combat with the kidnappers, he learns that the Little Roughneck belongs to a judge living at Vancouver. He leaves his despondent wife to take the child to the city. There is a surprising finish.

SHE DIDN'T FIND ALL.

"Is that all you found in my pocket?"

"That's all there was in it."

"O, no, it's not."

"What else, I'd like to know?"

TOO MUCH ROMANCE CURES THE HEROINE

Variety Shows Constance Talmadge in "Romance and Arabella"

Mrs. Arabella Cadenhouse is a very young widow who has begun to sit up and take notice, and to think of the dear departed as her "first." She decides that the man she now will marry must give her romance—mystery—thrills—must sweep her off her feet.

Arabella sees absolutely no sense in Aunt Effie's advice that she marry Bill, a clean-cut, attractive young man. Why, she has known Bill all her life. There wouldn't be any romance in that.

Bill is determined to marry Arabella some day, and decides to cure her of her desire for romance, when she loses her head over Harry Atteridge, a big, crude Westerner. He supplies a counter-irritant in the person of Claude Estabrook, a cubist, faddist and believer in the ideas of the ultra modernist school. Arabella readily loses her heart to him. He is so romantic. When Bill notices that Claude and Arabella are getting too interested in each other he supplies another counter-irritant in the person of Peter, a very young boy, who is romance itself. It does not take long before she becomes strongly attached to him. And then it's another—and then another, until she has become thoroughly disillusioned about romantic men. Then Bill steps in and she decides that he is the right man after all.

This is the story of "Romance and Arabella," in which Lewis J. Selznick presents Constance Talmadge, and which will be seen at the Variety Theatre all this week.

SEVEN SCOTTISH MAIDS AT "PAN"

Diversified Programme of Good Vaudeville is New Offering

The character of vaudeville entertainment that always makes a great hit with Pantages audiences is represented in the new programme which opened with the matinee performance this afternoon with flowing fullness. There seems to be no question but that Scottish numbers on any programme have a marked appeal. This week the bill is especially attractive with this nature of entertainment on account of the variety and cleverness of the offerings.

The headline feature of the new show is being presented by a remarkably capable troupe known as the Seven Glasgow Maids, and they introduce freshness and art along with their contribution of turns of typically Scottish nature. They make the act rollicking with action and grace peculiar to feminine creations, and their programme resounds with lilted songs, the pipes, the drums and cheery good humor. The skirl of their pipes makes tingly music and the technique of the lady drummer sets a new note for accomplishments of that character.

The Great Howard, the special added attraction on the bill of vaudeville numbers, is also a son of Scotland. He is a ventriloquist with an annual act. He uses two dummy soldiers that tell all about the war in song and story according to Howard's inimitable way. Two of his own songs are introduced—"Somewhere in France is Paddy" and "My Daddy is Home and Got His Job Back." Howard will be remembered from his appearance in this city during the war when he devoted a great deal of time assisting in raising funds for war work. One great source of revenue to the funds of the Great War Veterans of Winnipeg was the popularity received song of his own composition, "I'll Be a Long, Long Way From Home," which he donated outright for the work the returned veterans were carrying on.

Another attraction on the bill is a quartette of unusual Chinese singers.

The Chung Hwa Four. They first appear on the stage in Chinese costumes, rendering Oriental tunes of weird, persuasive melody—songs heard once in a lifetime and remembered for their odd charm. Changing to dress attire they go on with Occidental numbers with marked success. One of the appealing novelties of their performance is the singing of a Harry Lauder song in costume. This is a spectacular hit.

Henry and Adelaide are a song and dance team, boy and girl, with a lot of pep, personality and novelty in their act. They have a setting which is altogether different from any ever used before, and present song and dance numbers which are a delight to the eye and ear.

Flake and Fallon are a pair of entertainers who mingle operatic music with comedy and imitations. They use a grand piano, a violin and their voices.

The Four Mellos present a casting or trampoline act with a novelty. A woman is one of the performers. She is probably the only woman on the stage to-day performing in this ever popular style of act.

The third episode of the already popular "Bound and Gagged" motion picture serial adds another entertaining feature to the bill.

FOUR PERFORMANCES YET OF PANTOMIME

"Alice in Wonderland" Will Be Repeated During Latter Part of Week

Popular opinion indicates that "Alice in Wonderland" is by far the best production that has ever been staged at the Princess Theatre, and nightly since the run started that popular house on Yates Street has been packed to the doors with a vociferously enthusiastic audience, whose unstinted applause and demands for encores is an indication of the appreciation with which this latest offering of the Princess Dramatic Society has been received.

And there is good cause for this enthusiasm as every department of the production is in the hands of experts whose lifelong experience ensures the knowledge that always lie back of a perfectly staged and produced play. Perhaps the present would not be an undesirable opportunity shortly to describe the deutz ex machine—the inside management of the Princess Dramatic Society, by whose efforts the wheels of their productions turn so smoothly, albeit so merrily.

Its Founder.
The original formulator of the scheme was, of course, Mr. Reginald N. Hincks, whose local theatrical work, not only as stage director and actor but as author, is so well known as to make further comment unnecessary, but this much can be said that, coupled with an inherent talent which covers most of the work incidental to theatrical productions, he brought with him to Victoria a life's experience spent in the society and atmosphere of some of London's greatest actors and theatres, and he has the practical stuff from which successful productions materialize.

But however gifted he be, one man cannot hope to cope with the heavy burden of running a theatre which is continuously and regularly staging plays covering such a vast field as that comprised in farce, comedy, costume play, musical comedy and pantomime, and at the inception of the society, therefore, Mr. Hincks was joined by Mr. Stuart G. Clark, Mr. A. M. D. Fairbairn and Mrs. Tilton, whilst the Red Cross Society (during the period that all proceeds from plays were devoted to that cause) and subsequently Mr. E. J. Down and Major W. Taylor had charge of the business management end of the concern.

An Experienced Aid.
Of the versatility of Mr. Clark and Mr. Fairbairn one cannot speak too highly. Mr. Clark was, for many years prior to his coming to British Columbia, one of the prime movers in a large and successful amateur company of players in Japan, and was connected with it not only as an actor but a scenic artist, and his work on local boards will always be remembered for its sincere and thoroughly workmanlike qualities. As a maker of properties he is unique and whether called upon to evolve so weird a beast as a Mock-Turtle in all its quaint and wonderful details, or bodily to transport a portion of Baghdad to Victoria, replete with all the color and atmosphere of the Orient, his work is equally accomplished in a masterful and thorough way. As an actor in character parts, especially those of old men, he has never been surpassed locally, and it is always with pleasure that his name is noted amongst the dramatis personae of any new production.

A Versatile Player.
In speaking of A. M. D. Fairbairn, his activities cover such a wide area that it is difficult to know where to commence. As an actor, artist, dancer, singer, designer of scenery and posters, programme covers and costumes he is equally well known, and whilst as an actor he is thoroughly at home in almost any part, whether it be character, heavy or low comedy, as an artist he brings a versatile talent and an experience gained over fifteen years in scenic painting and line and color work. In the present pantomime the third act, "The Palace of the King of Hearts," is from his brush and its design and color scheme in some subtle way convey to the spectator that, did a pack of cards come to life it is amidst just such surroundings as Mr. Fairbairn has depicted that they would move and take up their abode. The programme cover design is also the work of his pen.

Another pillar of strength to the society is Major W. Taylor, for as an actor, scenic artist and maker of properties he excels and his talents were developed and had full scope during many years of theatrical work in India.

Notable in Calliph Scene.
Mrs. Tilton, who, in anticipation of a journey to the Old Country, has recently relinquished her position as mistress of the wardrobes and costumiere to the society, possessed and brought to the fund of talent already collected a genius which could evolve and produce costumes of such magnificence of design and color as to make her art a byword amongst local connoisseurs. No one will forget the magnificent harmony of color which distinguished the "Mandarin," the Oriental glamor and scintillating gorgeousness of the "Calliph of Baghdad," nor the numerous other plays which she "dressed." Her place in the society has been filled by Mrs. W. Taylor, whose work can be amply appreciated by an inspection of the costumes in "Alice," all of which are from her hands, the cleverness of design and execution of which are one of the features of the pantomime.

Lack of space forbids mention of numbers of others who have brought their talents to work for the welfare of the Princess Dramatic Society, but enough has been said to indicate the precise reason why the Princess Theatre productions have gained such universal praise, and the full realization that this local company is of purely Victoria origin and that its money is spent locally and should surely be sufficient incentive to Victorians to continue to patronize their plays—plays that come up to the best standards of professional production and which do not send one cent out of the city.

The Best Yet.
Opinions seem unanimous that "Alice in Wonderland" is the "best yet," and there can be no doubt that never has Miss Eva Hart been supplied with a part which gives greater scope for the exercise of this dainty lady's clever acting and exquisite voice. She is not merely some other person taking the part of Alice, she is Alice. Every little mannerism, every childish movement is not "reproduced"—it seems to be inborn, and whatever eulogies Miss Hart has received in the past—whatever treats she may have in store for Victoria audiences in the future (and it is to be hoped that they will be many and frequent), her Alice will always be remembered as the most artistic, the cleverest and the sweetest portrayal of that dear little person that was ever conceived.

And Corpl. Maria Hale, in his part of the King of Hearts, whilst reliving many happy memories of his work in "The Mandarin" (in which he took the name part) and other local productions, has also endeared many newcomers with his fine light basso and magnificent stage presence. It is to be hoped that he will be heard more frequently in the future than during the last few years, during which time his military duties forbade it. Mr. Bobby MacKenzie, with his finished performance as the Knave of Hearts, brings a tenor voice of unusual purity and sweetness to add his interpretation of the part of "Principal Boy," and his duets with Miss Eva Hart are things of sheer exquisite harmony.

Owing to the entire selling-out of all seats for every performance during the past week (which must constitute something of a record locally) and the great demand for additional performances, the management is extending the "run" and it will be welcome news to many who were disappointed in their desire to book seats to know that "Alice in Wonderland" will be repeated on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings next, with an extra matinee at 2.30 on Saturday afternoon.

THAT WENT DOUBLE.

His gay young wife showed him the pictured advertisement of a very short and very swifty math-suit. "You might let me have the money, John," she said.
"I can't consistently, my dear," said he.
"Why not?"
"I'm a man of modest means."

WATCH YOUR GUMS BLEEDING A SIGN OF TROUBLE

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhoea, the dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhoea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhoea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhoea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently.

Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

LUMBER OVERSEAS EXPORT TOTALED 25,000,000 FEET

Island Shipped Approximately That Amount to Overseas Markets in 1919

A big increase in lumber export to foreign markets from Island mills occurred in 1919, largely on account of the island's share in filling the order for 70,000,000 feet for the Imperial Government.

At present it is not easy to estimate exactly the overseas shipments of Island mills, but the calculations of J. O. Cameron, head of the Cameron and Genoa Bay lumber interests, undoubtedly represent the totals pretty accurately.

BITRO-PHOSPHATE IS GOOD FOR THIN NERVOUS PEOPLE

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

Frederick S. Kelle, M. D., Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says that weak, nervous people who want increased weight, strength and nerve-force, should take a 5-grain tablet of Bitro-Phosphate just before or during each meal.

This particular phosphate is the discovery of a famous French scientist, and reports of remarkable results from its use have recently appeared in many medical journals.

Do not feel well; if you tire easily; do not sleep well, or are too thin; go to any good druggist and get enough Bitro-Phosphate for two weeks' supply—it costs only fifty cents a week.

Be less; chew your food thoroughly, and if at the end of a few weeks you do not feel stronger and better than you were for months, if your nerves are not steeper; if you do not sleep better and have more vim, endurance and vitality, your money will be returned, and the Bitro-Phosphate will cost you nothing.

COAST-BUILT SHIP LAIN UP AT QUEBEC

S.S. Canadian Volunteer Met With Trouble in the St. Lawrence

The difficulties of winter navigation on the St. Lawrence are shown by the decision of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine to lay up the steamship Canadian Volunteer at Quebec until the spring.

The Canadian Volunteer, a 4,530 deadweight ton, proceeded from this coast to the United Kingdom on her maiden voyage, and is the latest of a fleet of steel freighters built in Japan to fly the flag of the United States Merchant Marine.

Early in December the Canadian Volunteer sailed from Montreal with a general cargo for London, Eng., and struck bottom near Cap la Roche, causing leaks in the bilges. Owing to the lateness of the season, the decision was reached to haul the vessel at Quebec until the spring.

Captain A. O. Cooper, who left here as commander of the Canadian Volunteer, has been transferred to the Canadian Importer, an 8,100-ton Conghlan-built ship, which will shortly set away with a British Columbia cargo for Australia.

London, Jan. 19.—(By Canadian Press Cable)—Recently a White Star liner built for the North American route was, by order of the Shipping Controller, transferred to the Australian service. The Times now fore-shadows other transfers from the North Atlantic lines to both Australia and Argentina for wheat cargoes.

THE WRONG "BILL." The gentle Eliza was sitting drearily in the darkened room, waiting miserably for a visitor who she feared would never come.

But what is that? A ring, a step, a masculine voice, she waited not, but threw herself in the visitor's arms.

"Oh, my darling!" she sobbed, with her head upon his bosom. "I am so glad you have called! I did so long to see you and to do my best to pay you for bringing light into my life. Let us settle peacefully once more with each other."

"Well, miss," said a strange voice, "I'm willing, I'm sure. But my instructions is that if you don't let me out of the gas!"

When Eliza found out that she had mistaken the gas-man for her William she swooned.—Tit-Bits.

METHODISTS WILL CONFER THIS WEEK ON FORWARD POLICY

The Victoria Methodist Executive Board secured two notable speakers for the convention in connection with the National Campaign this week, in the persons of Dr. J. E. Crowther, of the First Methodist Church, Seattle, and Dr. James Endicott, general secretary of the Methodist Foreign Department for Canada. The conference begins to-morrow morning.

Dr. J. E. Crowther was born in England, and went to the United States about fifteen years ago. Prior to that time, he and his wife were missionaries in Africa, where they so imbued the missionary spirit that when the Centenary of Forward Movement was inaugurated, he wrote and produced the great missionary pageant known as "The Way Farer" in other words, "A Missionary World's Fair." This exhibition attracted 134 acres, 17,000 people taking part in daily performances. Over one million people attended, thousands disappointed by not having room, although one auditorium seated 6,000 people. Columbus, Ohio, was the place chosen for this great production, and dated June 27 to July 5, 1919.

In order to give this great missionary lesson to the world, it has been visualized by David Wark Griffith, as a memorial to his mother, who is a Methodist.

Dr. Crowther is a forceful and logical speaker, original, witty, captivating and holds his audiences from beginning to end. He has been pastor of First Methodist Church, Seattle, for the past four years, and is known from coast to coast, as one of the really big men of the day on the public platform.

NEW COUNCIL WAS SWORN IN TO-DAY

Mayor and Aldermanic Colleagues Officially Qualified to Commence Duties

Mayor Porter and the 1920 City Council were sworn in this morning before Judge Lammiman in the County Court. The ceremony was brief and informal, the new aldermen taking the oath of office in the order of their election.

Before proceeding to Court His Worship closed his remarks with a few minutes. It is understood that the chief business of the meeting consisted in the voicing of congratulations over the recent election, and the preparation of the aldermen for the ceremony which was later enacted in the Court.

The official re-count in the aldermanic election, concluded late on Saturday afternoon changed the order of the candidates little. The only alteration in the list, as published Friday, was the change of Alderman A. E. Todd from tenth to ninth place, and the fall of Alderman Fullerton into the tenth chair.

The recount figures put the aldermanic candidates in the following order, the first ten being elected:

- W. G. Cameron . . . . . 2,430
- George Sangster . . . . . 2,036
- Joseph Patrick . . . . . 1,907
- Robert Dinsdale . . . . . 1,902
- Robert Dewar . . . . . 1,899
- W. J. Sargent . . . . . 1,843
- Albin Johns . . . . . 1,829
- Edwyn B. Andrews . . . . . 1,821
- Albert E. Todd . . . . . 1,793
- W. F. Fullerton . . . . . 1,786

John Harvey . . . . . 1,763
Watson A. Clark . . . . . 1,737
Mary Graves . . . . . 1,685
Buegens S. Woodward . . . . . 1,454
Christian Sivertz . . . . . 1,416
J. A. Shank . . . . . 1,099
J. Ivan Seabrook . . . . . 892

About forty-one per cent. of the registered voters of Victoria voted in the election, the recount shows. The 4,085 votes cast for aldermen made the poll large compared with previous years. In 1915 only 3,872 ballots were cast, and in 1916 only thirty-two per cent. of the voters exercised the franchise. There were thirty-two spoilt ballots in the election, in the majority of these cases the voter having voted for more than ten candidates.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Northern Development.
Mr. Whiteside, in his address to the Vancouver Chamber of Mines, in returning from office, spoke of the work of the past year, and paid a high tribute to the co-operative assistance given him by the officers and secretary, and mentioned the convention of last Spring as having borne direct fruits far in excess of the expenses of the affair. He said he personally knew of a meeting of men that took place through the convention that resulted in great development in the North. And he declared that much of the development on the Portland Canal could be traced directly to the Vancouver convention. He spoke with great optimism also of the outlook and activity in the Economy, Cariboo, Simons and Slocan districts, and predicted greater things this year. He also said that the Provincial Department of Mines, under the leadership of Mr. Whiteside, was developing rapidly and he expected in a short time to see commercial blast and electric furnaces turning British Columbia iron into steel.

East Kootenay Prospector. The prospectors of East Kootenay have become an organized body. A meeting was taken at a meeting held in Cranbrook, recently, when about twenty-five prospectors and citizens met to discuss the advisability of such an organization. Chas. Evans, of Kootenay, was elected president, and the chair and outlined the objects of the meeting. J. F. Hutchcroft was asked to act as secretary. Among those present were President G. J. Spreull, of the Cranbrook Board of Trade; C. Evans, E. E. Beattie, Spenhard Leask, C. H. Pollen, J. T. Laidlaw, City Engineer Basil F. A. Russell, O. Bristow, J. Hamilton, Harry Gamble, B. Rondeau, D. Mc Gillivray, H. H. Hawkins, and W. Evans.

New metallurgical discoveries are continually making valuable, prospectors state, not only discoveries, but other minerals than those formerly considered as un-resourceful.

New industries quickly arise as a direct result of the afore-mentioned new discoveries and of just discovery. The whole prospecting field completely altered.

Never before have the various governments displayed so great interest in their undeveloped mineral resources as is evidenced by much keener competition among the provinces to take the lead in encouraging and co-operating with the bonafide "Prospectors."

Recent legislation holds out greater inducements but therein lies a risk or danger of vital peril to the prospector.

The average prospector has often realized that in regard to such one or another of the forms of mineral wealth he has been very much handicapped in his work by lack of sufficient scientific training to enable him to identify the classification of many of the minerals he has discovered. This has been remedied by a well-directed system of lectures by practical metallurgists in a series covering the various forms of minerals during the Fall and Winter seasons.

Another serious drawback which affects the interior probably more than elsewhere is the date of the law which sets the date for the recording of assessment work upon the anniversary of the date of location instead of on the year date or near the close of the year. This does not apply generally but often affects certain prospectors several years in succession and increases their work and expense to such an extent that very often good claims are abandoned and re-located which delays the crown-granting.

It is expected that some new financing will be undertaken in the near future by Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Company, which has been in the form has been definitely decided, but it will probably consist of about $2,500,000 debentures, says a Boston report.

Granby has spent approximately $5,000,000 on plant and equipment, all of which could be properly charged to capital account. The entire amount has thus far been financed from treasury and temporary loans.

It was the management's original intention to meet the entire programme from surplus. The dullness of the metal market this year and inability to effect sales of necessary quantities has caused the company to have a meeting of men that took place through the convention that resulted in great development in the North. And he declared that much of the development on the Portland Canal could be traced directly to the Vancouver convention. He spoke with great optimism also of the outlook and activity in the Economy, Cariboo, Simons and Slocan districts, and predicted greater things this year. He also said that the Provincial Department of Mines, under the leadership of Mr. Whiteside, was developing rapidly and he expected in a short time to see commercial blast and electric furnaces turning British Columbia iron into steel.

TO TAKE THE WEST TO THE EAST'S ASSOCIATION PLAN

Pacific Northwest to Stage Gigantic Exhibit of "Wares" in New York

PROPOSAL OUTLINED BY HERBERT CUTHBERT

To translate a tabloid example of the products, resources, attractions and manifold potentialities of the Province of British Columbia and the States of Washington and Oregon to New York during the latter part of next May is the proposal of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association as outlined by Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary, at a meeting held in the Parliament Buildings this morning. The Victoria directors of the organization and representatives of the Board of Trade and Island Development Association were present.

As a result of the informal discussion which took place the Secretary of the Development Association undertook to call a representative gathering of the various commercial organizations in this city for the purpose of formulating a programme for Vancouver Island's participation in the general scheme.

The event is to take place in the Grand Central Palace in New York City, and it will be known and advertised as the "First Exposition of the International Pacific Northwest."

In outlining the object which the Tourist Association has in mind Mr. Cuthbert went into the details of the scheme, and explained that the Government of the Province would be asked to take some space in the exhibition building in order that such activities as lumbering, mining, and agriculture might be portrayed in the official sense. He pointed out, however, that it was desirable for every manufacturer and every enterprise which represented a field of actual and potential development to take the full value of the opportunity offered by the exposition. It was a virtual showing of the Pacific Northwest to the East, he said, and the more variety that could be collected the more inducement to Eastern capital and Eastern tourists would the exhibit command.

Lumber.
Dealing with the proposal from the point of view of the lumber industry, J. O. Cameron pointed out that his particular line of British Columbia's industry required advertising least of all. As a matter of fact, he said, he would like to see an exhibit of order for a shipload of timber, he would be unable to fill it. Explaining further, however, he declared that any exhibit, apart from a complete order from the Province, would be better to come from the Associated Timber Exporters, Limited, an organization by whose administrative machinery all orders from the Province for export were dealt with. He advocated that particular course with the suggestion that individual firms, such as his own, might take space and exhibit photographs, advertising literature, and, maybe, specialties peculiar to the individual mills of the Province.

Proper Inducement.
Mr. Cuthbert came back with an answer in regard to advertising the lumber exhibit, and reminded the present that the people of the United States had no conception of the manner in which British Columbia responded to the demand for export of aeroplane spruce. Were it to be shown in New York by diagram or fact just how this Province had done for the world in regard to giving information totally new to the average American.

Not was it a question of individual capacity, but rather one for variety, so that in those cases where supply might be limited to present capacity the outside man with capital could be expected to create the wherewithal to meet the subsequent greater demand.

Game and the opportunities for the hunter and sportsman in this Province were matters that should receive liberal attention, said Mr. Cuthbert. In this case he advocated a request to the Government to spread itself in the matter of a game exhibit, wide as the Development Association—as far as this Island was concerned—would be expected to receive its own narrative about the holiday attractions and climatic features in general.

A very clear example of agricultural opportunity, Mr. Cuthbert pointed out, should find emphasis in the presentation of concise information dealing with the large areas of unoccupied land in the central and northern sections of the Province.

While mining enterprise could be aided by contributions from the Department of Mines, Mr. Cuthbert was of the opinion that the most successful commercial enterprise and its product would be much the best advertisement of the Province's mineral wealth.

Good Scheme.
It was generally agreed by all present that the general plan was an excellent one, and one that should get the heartiest support from commercial British Columbia. It should be proposed materialize to its logical extent it will be the first occasion on which the interior and individual sections of the Province have had an opportunity of showing themselves to the American public as a whole.

Mr. Cuthbert will spend to-morrow in Vancouver and get the movement under way on the mainland.

RIGHT, TOMMY.
The teacher had been reading to the class about the great forests in America.

"And now, boys," she continued, "which one of you can tell me the pine that has the longest and sharpest needles?"

Up went a hand in the front row. "Well, Tommy?"

"The porcupine,"

TO TAG OR NOT TO TAG? IS BIG CIVIC QUESTION JUST NOW

Will City Council Live Up to Resolution to Ban Tag Days?

Some time in the middle of last Summer the City Council promised itself that, if re-elected, it would put an end to tag days in Victoria. At least there was no voice raised in defence of "tags" and no protest when some of the aldermen declared that they would not allow the practice to continue in 1920.

People about the City Hall to-day were asking each other whether the Council would fail to live up to its promise. The Council last Summer was against tag days. It's pretty difficult to know just what to do, as there are so many worthy organizations. And, besides, the tag day is quite voluntary. A man doesn't have to contribute if he does not wish to do so.

Another alderman when asked his opinion intimated that he would champion tag days when the issue came before the Council, as it will, perhaps to-night. "It would be entirely unfair," he remarked, "to allow organizations to some organizations and not to others. Either we must allow or we must cut them out. It would be unfair, too, to allow the first ten organizations which apply to tag the public—or the first twelve or fifteen as it might be decided—because some of the most worthy organizations might be denied the privilege which would be granted to less worthy ones. And who is going to decide whether an organization is worthy or not? If we decide to try to rank them in order of merit we shall start something we shall never be able to finish."

The Council has lost the leader of the anti-tag section—Alderman Watson Clark. As some of the aldermen are in favor of "tags" it is probable that there will be a spirited fight on the question, as applications for permission to hold tag days already are beginning to come in to the civic authorities.

RAN McDONALD IN POLICE COURT
Hockey Player Charged With Robbing Arena in Vancouver

Vancouver, Jan. 18.—Ran McDonald, professional hockey player, faced the serious charge of robbery with violence in the police court here this morning and was remanded until next Monday for preliminary hearing.

McDonald, the police say, is the man who last week held up the cashier at the Arena here and secured $121 of the receipts of the evening. The robber wore a mask and presented a gun before the startled eyes of the girl cashier when he demanded the money.

McDonald denies the charge. At the police station he is stated to have been identified by the cashier and a small boy who was a witness of the robbery.

McDonald played hockey for Seattle last year. He was dropped by the Coast League magnates this year, it is understood, because he had a reputation for not always observing training rules.

RESULTS OF IRISH POLLING INCOMPLETE
Will Not Be Fully Known Until To-morrow Night

London, Jan. 18.—(Canadian Press).—The results of the election for Sinn Fein are still incomplete and will not be fully known till Tuesday night, but some newspaper comment is available, though opinion is not unanimous. The view generally expressed is that the proportional representation experiment has been justified, as it has secured some representation of minorities which otherwise would have been overwhelmed. The Sinn Fein has secured large majorities in the southern provinces, but its success in Ulster is greatly qualified and The Times says its ultimate significance is tempered by the remarkable demonstration of power and growth of Irish Labor which the election has disclosed. The Times does not think the intense nationalism of the Sinn Fein will ever permanently coalesce with Irish Labor, which must necessarily enjoy wider sympathies and another ideal, but an immediate result of the elections may be to place another obstacle in the path of the present methods of Irish administration and create an impasse that has not been foreseen.

It is believed, however, says the paper, that the Government is no longer blind to the necessity for change and that preparatory steps are in contemplation.

Dublin.
Dublin, Jan. 18.—The election results in Dublin show the return of forty-two Sinn Feiners, nine Municipal Reformers, fourteen Nationalists, fourteen Nationalists and one Unionist.

Of the fifty-six seats in Cork, the Sinn Fein and Transport Workers combined ticket captured forty, the Nationalists getting sixteen.

"Makes a good car better"

Like the Main-Spring
Correct lubrication for gasoline engines is like the main-spring in your watch. Your motor car or truck cannot give you the kind of service it should give without proper lubrication by the correct lubricant.

Imperial Polarine spreads a thin unbreakable film of oil between moving parts of the motor which will neither lose its lubricating qualities during cold weather nor break down under the intense heat of steady operation.

Correct lubrication with Imperial Polarine means smooth cylinders, tight compression, minimum wear, and power at all strengths. Imperial Polarine also does away with trouble from fouled spark plugs and carbonized piston heads and valves. Imperial Polarine is a carefully refined oil of highest quality from selected crudes. Three grades—Imperial Polarine; Imperial Polarine Heavy; Imperial Polarine A.

Imperial Polarine Transmission and Differential Lubricants are specially made to give 100% service.

Imperial Polarine is sold in half-barrels and barrels; 12 1/2 gallon steel kegs, four gallon, gallon and half-gallon sealed cans.

STAKING CLAIMS IN STRATHCONA PARK

An Exceptional Excitement Draws Attention to National Reserve on Island

Considerable interest has been aroused in the northern section of the Island by the staking of mineral claims in the national reserve at Strathcona Park, which is reached from Campbell River.

A writer in The Vancouver Province, dealing with the subject, says: "Strathcona Park and Buttes Lake, in the centre of Vancouver Island, will shortly make a big bid for fame in the mining world, possibly a bigger bid than the Island park reserve ever would as a public resort. For a year past plans have been carried on to develop one of the greatest mineral showings yet located in British Columbia. When the reports of prospectors and examining engineers are finally submitted, it is likely that this new property will win place as the biggest surface outcropping of copper ore in the Province.

Fifty Claims Staked. "Fifty claims staked on a surface showing almost 3,000 feet wide have been bonded to a group of capitalists, who have been doing some work with a view to ascertaining the extent of the deposits. So far only open cross-cuts have been made. These show that the ore body extends right across the 3,000-foot zone. As the whole of the fifty claims are staked on the lead, its length can be guessed. One of the Vancouver men interested in the original staking, stated in The Province that the surface showing extends for 3,500 feet down one hill, up the side of a hill opposite 4,000 feet over the summit, and down the side of this second hill. That was as far as preliminary work had traced it.

Good Assays. "Assays secured from many samples brought out have given very satisfactory returns. Values in gold and copper, silver and lead are all carried. Of course, it is a low-grade proposition, one which will require an immense plant to handle, as both smelting and concentrating may be necessary. It is the expectation that the syndicate which has the bond will very shortly begin diamond drill work to prove up the property as to depth and values. From surface showings, which are more extensive than ordinarily possible because of huge rock slides breaking away the side of the mountain, in one place a sheer precipice over one hundred feet high has exposed the ore body to that depth.

"Transportation is somewhat difficult to reach the site of this big find. From Campbell River by the unfinished government highway it is forty miles to Buttes Lake. On the lake a twenty-one mile boat trip is necessary, and the properties are located three miles or more from the head of the lake. A wagon road from the end of the highway to the lake is a first requirement in getting in machinery and supplies. Up to the present only a small party of men has been kept on the property. Engineers who have just returned have stated that it is the biggest low-grade property ever uncovered."

TO EXHIBIT HOME CRAFTS. Mrs. Watt, M.B.E., and Mrs. Godman to Address South and West Saanich Institutes.

Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.A., M.B.E., and Mrs. Evelyn Godman will address a joint meeting of the South and West Saanich Institutes at the Temperance Hall, Keating, at 8 o'clock on Thursday next. These ladies have recently returned from England, where they were engaged in organizing Women's Institutes for some years. They will exhibit their interesting collection of specimens of Home Crafts, as made in the Institutes in England. The South and West Saanich Institutes have extended a cordial welcome to the members of the North Saanich Women's Institutes, the Farmers' Institute and the general public to attend the meeting, which will be of considerable interest to all.
