British Unionists Endorse the Irish Settlement Efforts

Approval, With Certain Reservations, Was Carried By Overwhelming Majority To-day at Convention In City of Liverpool.

Liverpool, Nov. 17.—By an overwhelming majority the Unionist party, in session here to-day, endorsed, with certain reservations, the negotiations now in progress between the British Government and the Irish representatives.

Liverpool, Nov. 17.—The Unionist party's attitude toward the Irish settlement negotiations, with the question of Ulster foremost, was under debate to-day at a great national conference of the Unionist party.

Lord Derby, who was elected president, said he did not disguise from himself the fact that it would require any tact and any intelligence that he possessed to keep the Conservative party together.

The main business before the conference was a resolution moved by Colonel John Gretton, member of Parliament for Rutlandshire, calling on the conference to record its condemnation of the long continued ascendancy of crime and rebellion in Ireland, and resolve that no settlement of the Irish question should be acceptable which did not respect absolutely the position acquired by Ulster and provide every safeguard essential for imperial security and the protection of the loyalists in the west and south of Ireland.

Against Negotiations.
Lord Farnham and General Prescott Devlin presented the case against negotiations with the Sinn Fein on behalf of that section of the Southern Irish Unionists opposed to the policy of Lord Middleton and his party, who are in disagreement with the Ulster demand for separate dominions for North and South Ireland. The speakers contended that "peace purchased from the Sinn Fein by the weakness of the Government" would contain no element of permanence.

Tired of It.
Colonel Martin Archer-Shee, Unionist member of Parliament for Finabury, in seconding the Gretton motion, said that as soon as the negotiations broke down as they surely would, the Conservative should leave the coalition and set up a Government which would really govern the country.

Confidence.
London, Nov. 17.—Confidence among the Conservative supporters that Premier Lloyd George's attitude toward Ulster in the Irish peace negotiations will be sustained in the national conference of the Unionist party increased as the meeting convened to-day in Liverpool. Some 1,800 delegates are attending the conference.

There was a growing feeling overnight that the sensational development predicted in some quarters, including a Conservative accession led by Andrew Bonar Law, would not occur, and that the Government's policy would receive the calm endorsement of the convention by a great majority.

It is reported that Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, has arrived in Liverpool to attend the conference. Premier Lloyd George will not go to Liverpool, having journeyed to (Continued on page 15.)

KING ADDRESSED REGINA NOTERS

Urged Prairies Farmers to Support Liberals
Government's interest Must Be Country-wide

Regina, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press)—Hon. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal Party, gave warning here of the danger of the Progressive movement bringing about isolation of the middle west of Canada. Addressing a large meeting here last night, he urged his hearers before it was too late to get together in the interest of Liberal principles.

The Liberal Leader said he had considered the Progressive movement a Liberal movement and had done his best to bring about unity between it and his own party. The organized farmers, however, had repelled such advances and gone into the fight with the declaration that they had "no use for either the Old Parties."

There was talk of a coalition after December 6, but Mr. King predicted a majority in the House for his party. The country was sick of coalition and in any case the Progressives could not expect any coalition with a party which they had deliberately sought to antagonize.

Canada, said Mr. King, needed government based on the needs of the whole Dominion, and any attempt to rule the country on the basis of the needs of any class, group or section, could only lead to divisions in the state.

Not Restricted.
Mr. King charged Premier Melchior with autocracy in seeking to restrict the issue to that of protection versus free trade. Dealing with this and the charge that he had trimmed his tariff policies according to the dis-

EXPECTED TO-DAY TO ASSUME MINISTRY

REV. W. P. FREEMAN
The new pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. W. P. Freeman, late minister of the First Baptist Church at Moose Jaw, who recently accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist Church here, is expected in the city to-day, with a view to taking up his ministry on Sunday next.

Mr. Freeman, who is a graduate in Arts of Manitoba University, was born in Wolfville, Nova Scotia, son of Rev. Augustus Freeman. Not only was his father a minister, but three uncles were also in the cloth. Though coming of a family of ministers, it was not for some time that Mr. Freeman turned his attention to preparation for a theological career. In 1895 he first came to British Columbia, and spent five years in the mines in West Kootenay.

He took his Arts course in Brandon College and his Arts degree from Manitoba University. Three years ago Mr. Freeman studied two years in theology at McMaster University, Toronto. While in Toronto Mr. Freeman was pastor of a small church in West Toronto, now St. John's Road Church. After graduation he came west to Revelstoke, B.C., leaving there for Hillhurst Church, Calgary, in 1911. He went to his recent pastorate at Moose Jaw in 1918.

His pastorate in that city has been very successful. For years he has taken a great interest in boys work and 400 boys attended the farewell banquet to him in that city last week. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman have three young daughters.

BIG LIBERAL RALLY
The first public meeting to be held by the Liberal organization in connection with the candidature of William M. Ivel will take place at 8 o'clock to-night in the Pantages Theatre. An excellent programme has been arranged, including musical numbers and speeches. An orchestra will be in attendance, and the audience will be asked to join in the community singing.

The serious issues of the day will be dealt with by Mr. Ivel, assisted by Hon. Alexander Macdonald, Speaker of the House, Capt. Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P., William Marchant, the veteran Liberal war hero, and Henry C. Hall, ex-M.P. for Victoria. A great attendance of Liberals and others interested in the forthcoming Federal election is expected, and the Liberal campaign management gives the assurance that a profitable evening will be spent by all those who attend.

Mr. Manson will speak on the railway problem. Mr. Marchant on the tariff and Capt. Mackenzie on the returned soldier question.

NAVY AUTHORITY ENDORSES PLANS
Bridge Says Reduction Scheme Is Practicable
Declares American Proposals Are Statesmanlike

London, Nov. 17.—Admiral Sir Cyprian H. Bridge, noted naval authority, in a letter to the London Times, says the President Harding's programme has been arranged, including musical numbers and speeches. An orchestra will be in attendance, and the audience will be asked to join in the community singing.

He declares the American plan for limitation of armaments is statesmanlike because it is equitable and practicable and points out that if it is intended that the American navy shall equal that of Great Britain, it is almost a concession, since had the American 1916 programme been maintained "we should either have been surpassed in naval strength or been compelled to expand our latest extensive building programme."

CANDIDATES.
Guelpin, Ont., Nov. 16.—J. W. Oakes, who entered the contest in South Wellington, claiming to be the only socialist Liberal in the field, announces his retirement. This leaves Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Melchior King, Sam Carter, Liberal, and James Sinclair, Labor, U.F.O., in the field.

REALIZE VALUE OF PUBLICITY
Delegates at Washington Know Support Needed
British Empire Spokesman Sees Reporters Daily
American Leaders Readily Answer Writers' Questions
(By Lukin Johnston, Special Correspondent of The Times)
Washington, Nov. 17.—On Saturday afternoon last, when the conference had made his sweeping proposals for a limitation of naval armaments. The world had got its breath again and everyone said what a simple, splendid thing it was. They hadn't some one thought of it before?

The optimism is still there, the good-will has abated not one jot, but the obstacles, the difficult details in the accomplishment of the plan as it stands have begun to appear and the alleged "experts" are busy befogging the atmosphere with overcast explanations about "secret diplomacy."

Information.
Every possible effort is made by the British and American delegations at any rate to give out all the information possible. Lord Riddell is acting as go-between for the British delegation and the press of all nations. He holds an open conference twice each day and explains as far as possible the British views. Commencing last night with Balfour, one of the greatest of the journalists has arrived in Washington. Everyone in an official position is anxious to do all that can be done for him. Publicity in the United States is probably this more important than anywhere else for unless the somewhat fickle Senate will back up the conference decisions, all may come to nothing.

FUGITIVES PLANNED DRAMATIC ESCAPE FROM MENTAL HOSPITAL

That the escape of the murderer, John Sylvester Lynn, accompanied by Saylor A. Malone, from the Wilkinson Road Mental Hospital yesterday morning was the result of careful plans and arrangements transpired to-day from further facts. Anyone looking for the criminals as unclean and unkempt men dressed in old garb will probably be mistaken. The desperados took with them soap, towels and razors, in addition to everything that was required to make a careful toilet.

PRINCE OF WALES VISITING BOMBAY

Disorders in Native Quarter During Procession
No Interference With Ceremonial Event
Bombay, India, Nov. 17.—Coincident with a procession escorting the Prince of Wales through the city of Bombay to-day, serious disturbances occurred in the native quarter, attributed by the authorities to the agitation by followers of Mahatma Gandhi, the Hindu "non-co-operation" leader. The procession itself, however, was not marred by any untoward incident.

Safety Measures.
London, Nov. 17.—Details of to-day's disturbances in the native quarter of Bombay while the Prince of Wales was going through the European section of the city were not available here at a late hour to-day. It is known, however, that the secret service in India has taken the most elaborate precautions to guard the Prince of Wales from danger, in view of the recent anti-Government agitation there.

The police machine in India is said to be so perfect that it would be almost impossible for the non-cooperationists to have planned a demonstration for to-day.

The Rendevous.
Crawling through holes little more than a foot square the two met, and walked out of the open door of the ward, to a place underneath the staircase leading down from the main floor of the building. Under this stair they waited the arrival of the guard at 7 o'clock. They knew that Walker, the watchman, had to come down the stairs to a clothes closet right in front to punch his time clock at the hour.

Secured Supplies.
Helpless in the chair, and bound so that no outcry could escape to the upstairs portion of the ward, Walker was guarded by Malone, while Lynn went on to fetch the keys from Walker's belt. Lynn returned with bread, all other food was locked away in cold storage. The bread was wrapped up in a towel, while Malone was unable to give any more than a public to aid their escape.

Make Getaway.
Taking a last look to see that the guard was effectively bound, the two picked up their bundles and opened the door of a corridor leading to the west wing. Running forty paces, or so they turned to the right and gained an outlet on the north side of the building from the west wing. Luckily they did not lock the door of the steel clothes closet on the guard, who otherwise would have been unable to get out until released until after 6 o'clock that morning.

Arms Limitation Must Come, States London Telegraph

London, Nov. 17.—Nothing must stand in the way of ratification of the American proposals for limitation of the navies of the United States, Great Britain and Japan. The Daily Telegraph declares in an editorial on the Washington conference. The newspaper welcomes the reported decision that no understanding will be finally approved until the naval status of France and Italy is settled, "providing this does not menace the agreement between the major powers for limiting arms." The Daily Telegraph also stated that the British Government is "strongly in favour of the proposal that the powers conclude a treaty affecting the United States, France and Italy is settled, 'providing this does not menace the agreement between the major powers for limiting arms.'"

U. S. Opinion Regarding Retention of Shipyards
Proposals Did Not Call for Destruction
Washington, Nov. 17.—The suggestion that the United States retain at least one naval building yard capable of turning out one ship a year does not appear to be understood by American naval officers, particularly in connection with construction problems. There was no suggestion in the American limitation proposals that any yards be scrapped, and as far as navy yard facilities in this country are concerned, they will be needed, it is said, in the maintenance and repair of the retained fleet.

Attitude of France Toward Problems Stated
French Would Aid China to Develop
Washington, Nov. 17.—The French attitude in a general way toward the Far Eastern proposals of China was set forth after a two-hour conference of Premier Briand and other members of the delegation to-day as follows:
"First: France desires earnestly to aid China in realizing her aspirations, territorial, political and commercial."
"Second: France would give up Kouang-Tschow which she leased from China in 1898, provided Great Britain gave up Wei-Hai-Wei, and Japan gave up Shantung, leased by the Germans, at the same time, and the Port Arthur peninsula."
"Third: France would not be unwilling to surrender her extra-territorial privileges where other powers willing to do the same. France gave up these privileges to Turkey in 1914 and was in negotiation with Turkey to give them up there in 1914 when the war came. However, the French feel that extra-territoriality should be maintained until it is clear that the Chinese republic can give adequate security and justice to foreigners."
"Fourth: The French colony of Indo-China did not belong to China, but to Annam. Consequently Indo-China, the great French colony with 25,000,000 inhabitants, does not come into the question, according to the French point of view. If, however, some question should be raised on the rectification of the 300-mile Chinese frontier, the French Government would be willing to discuss the boundary."
"Fifth: France approaches the discussions of Far Eastern questions in sympathy with Japan's need for expansion and for raw materials. The French delegation desires under all circumstances to take a conciliatory and pacific role."
"Sixth: France is for open dealings of the powers with China and against any secret negotiations. The subject of spheres of influence was replaced more than ten years ago by the policy of the condominium of powers."

SALES CONFERENCE MUST SUCCEED

A certain section of the United States press has started an outcry about what is termed "secret diplomacy" and is attempting to fasten on the British delegation blame for the fact that private committee sessions of the conference are being held. As a matter of fact the British delegates so far have been far more accessible to the press than those of any other country, and while it is possible to give out as given by the British delegates more promptly and with better grace than by any of the others, it has been explained by representatives of the other delegations that the private sessions are absolutely necessary in order that there may be a free interchange of opinions and ideas without embarrassment which publicity might cause in the primary stages of the discussion.
The general view is that the attack upon the "secret sessions" comes very largely from a source which is entirely out of sympathy with the ideals for which the conference is striving.

"WITHOUT FEAR."
 "Without Fear" is the title of the Pearl White picture of the current year. It is to be released at an early date, and is described as a fascinating story of a singularly unconventional girl whose methods are frowned upon by family and society but who, through this very unconventionality, rescues a loved brother from degradation and also saves the fortune of her family.

Under the direction of an expert designer, three dressmakers are constantly at work creating the lovely, old-fashioned gowns that winsome Jean Paige is wearing in her new Vitaphone special production, "The Frolic Judge." The play, taken from Vaughan's Kester's famous novel of the same name, deals with the America of 1835. Those who remember Miss Paige's charming appearance in the quaint costumes she wore in "Black Beauty" will rejoice at this opportunity of again seeing her in a play of bygone days.

NEW FEATURE IS "BUCKING THE TIGER," NOW AT COLUMBIA

Outcasts from the four corners of the globe are the characters in "Bucking the Tiger," the Selznick picture which comes to the Columbia Theatre to-day for a run of three days. The scene is the wild snow-bound wastes of the far north, where man takes the law into his own hands unhampered by the red tape of legal procedures.

Conway Tearle as MacDonald, the wayward and disgraced son of wealthy parents, driven from home in dishonor, has a role which contains wonderful possibilities for the demonstration of his subtle emotionalism. The supporting cast with Winifred Westover as leading woman to the star, contains many well-known names.

The story concerns the efforts of Ritchie MacDonald to save Emily Dwyer, a young girl who has come to the mining camp expecting to marry a scamp who had won her love under false pretences. A novel scheme for her financial assistance is suggested by MacDonald to the gold miners, namely, that they subscribe for $100,000 insurance for one of their number, who should be obliged to sacrifice himself so the remaining four may receive the insurance. MacDonald himself receives the fatal number and he promises to commit suicide at the end of a year. He would have kept his word, but only one thing in the world would have excused him, and that one thing happened.

ECKHARDT COMPANY
HOLDS GOOD PROMISE
Strong Direction and Capable Cast Indicate Fine Winter Programme

With the presentation of "The Misleading Lady" as their first offering to Victorians, the Eckhardt Players will comprise the largest stock company which has played in Victoria, there being no regular members, besides a number who will appear upon occasions when unusually large casts are required.

Miss Nina Gilbert, the leading woman, is already well known to theatre patrons of the city, and James Coots, the leading man, will also be welcomed back by admirers of his stage work and fine voice.

In this connection it is intimated that the programme being prepared by Director Eckhardt will strongly emphasize the musical side of entertainment, Miss Eunice Richards, the new ingenue interpreter, being possessed of a fine voice which will show well in concerted numbers with Mr. Coots.

The orchestra has been greatly strengthened by Director Benedict Bentley, in order that this feature of the plays at the Princess Theatre may be well balanced, several of the numbers of the orchestra from the Pantages having been added to the musical programme.

Fine Direction Promised.
 Coming here from Chicago, Oliver Eckhardt has made for himself a strong name as a director of stock companies, his actors proving an agreeable surprise to friends of the company who this week dropped in upon rehearsals. The services with which he guided the players, and the versatility with which he picked up and interpreted comedy lines from the junior lead, and instantly switched to give aid in tricky lines provided for the leading woman passionately to declaim, all combined to prove conclusively that he is an acquisition to Victoria's stage.

It is interesting in this regard to note that in addition to carrying this burden of directing a newly organized company, Eckhardt's first offering, Mr. Eckhardt will appear upon the boards in a character part which should delight theatregoers.

MAGNIFICENT ACTING IN HICHENS' DRAMA
"Voice From the Minaret" Earns Ovation for Miss Marie Lohr

The problem of "the eternal triangle," intensified by having for one of its figures a man destined for the church furnishes the theme for "The Voice From the Minaret," produced last night at the Royal Victoria Theatre by Miss Marie Lohr. From the pen of Robert Hichens, the play has for its unfolding his inevitable atmosphere of the sensuous East, where moral indolence goes hand in hand with fanatical adherence to religious tenets, the mis-encounter changing later to the cold chill of an English winter with its chilly regard for the conventions.

Full of intensely dramatic situations, the play gave Miss Lohr an opportunity to reveal her emotional powers, a task to which she rose superbly. In the prologue, laid in the barbaric splendor of a Damascus hotel, where as the wronged wife of an aristocratic but unfaithful husband she yields her charms to keep her lover from the more powerful influence of the church, Miss Lohr's acting rose to really great heights. Throughout the whole of the play with its exacting demands her acting was impeccable, superb in its finesse and magnificent in its conviction.

Contributing not a little to her personal success, was the splendid support given by the casts, Herbert Marshall as the lover Andrew Fabian, torn between earthly passion and the spiritual call of the church, was masterly and convincing. His final scene with the dying and malignant husband was one of the most powerful episodes in the drama.

Bryan Pawley, created a masterpiece from the role of Sir Leslie Caryl, the cynical husband whose ethics embrace one code, of morals for himself and another for his wife. Father Elsworth, as the guide and mentor of Andrew Fabian, furnished Herbert Ross with a role to which he brought the finish of experienced acting.

To a regrettably small audience, whose appreciation found vent in an ovation at the final close of the curtain, Miss Lohr made a charming little speech of thanks on behalf of her company, mentioning that "The Voice From the Minaret" had played for over a year in London. The play is to be repeated tonight and it is hoped that theatre-goers will turn out in force to see a wonderful play magnificently acted.

SKETCH OF CAREER OF JOSEPH BONNET, FAMOUS ORGANIST

In the ancient city of Bordeaux (France), little Joseph Bonnet was born.

His father, organist of the charming old church St. Eustache, and all the members of his family were artists and musicians. Bonnet says he shall never forget the first time he tried the organ in his father's church—he was twelve years old, he studied the piano for several years. He seated himself on the high bench and played a little piece without the feet. When he heard the rich tones going and coming through the church, he says he had a feeling that he was in Paradise.

He began the study of the organ with his father. When he was but fourteen years old, he was appointed organist in the church of St. Nicholas. Shortly after, he came to Paris, and enjoyed the tuition of Alexandre Guilmant at the Conservatoire National de Musique, where he gained with the greatest distinction a brilliant Premier Prix or organ and improvisation.

The celebrated post of organist at the church of St. Eustache in Paris was won by Bonnet over innumerable competitors with the unanimous approval of the jury. Many delightful hours were spent in the historic church. Evenings, Bonnet and his friends, among these, Annunzio and Rodin, the sculptor, went there and listened to the organist's beautiful playing; the place being darkened save for the street lights that shone through the paneled windows. Many of the artists and writers sought inspiration through these hours and dedicated books, sculptures and paintings to their friend Bonnet as a tribute to their having received what they sought.

Bonnet has a remarkable and unique memory, his repertoire comprising the whole of organ literature from the early composers to Liszt, Cesar Franck and his contemporaries. He has given numberless recitals throughout France, England, Belgium, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary and Germany. He has written a large number of concert pieces. "Poemes d'automne," three volumes of twelve organs each; historical organ recital series in five volumes, a monument of the highest importance in organ literature, and his "Variations de Concert," which was chosen as a test piece by the Royal College of Organists, London, and also by the American Guild of Organists.

Bonnet has done more than anyone else to popularize the organ as a concert instrument in America. The breadth, the distinction, the flawless taste, the rhythmic vitality, the incomparable virtuosity, joined to his profound musicianship and spiritual insight, have won from the American

EXPLOSION KILLED TWELVE GERMANS
 Berlin, Nov. 16.—Twelve people were killed and many injured in an explosion in a factory at Dotzheim, a short distance from Wiesbaden, Prussia. The damage to the factory is estimated at 25,000,000 marks. General de Goutte, commanding the French troops in the district, visited the injured and his men assisted in the rescue work. Steps are being taken by the French to relieve the distress of the survivors.

Dotzheim is forty-five miles north of Oppau, where an explosion in a plant on September 21 killed 1,000 persons, injured 4,000 and laid waste the entire factory and village of Oppau.

WOULD EDUCATE FOR LONG LIFE
Aged American Physician Suggests World Movement

New York, Nov. 17.—A movement to educate the people of the world to live 100 years is suggested by Dr. Stephen Smith, ninety-nine years old, who declared in an address to members of the American Public Health Association last night that the Mosaic law limiting the span of life to three score years and ten was all wrong.

"Moses himself proved the falsity of the law by living forty years beyond his appointed time," he said.

The normal and potential life of man, he added, was 100 years, and every child born was adapted in physical construction and function to live a century.

Common sense, he asserted, would carry people to their hundredth birthday.

"For instance," he said, "I would advise the lady who can not digest eggs to cut them out; the man who yawns too much to walk a mile, thus pumping dead air out of the lungs, and fresh air into the lungs; and the young woman with weak ankles to change her peg-heeled and pointed toe shoes for the sensible kind, like her grandmother wore."

Toronto, Nov. 17.—Although conditions at the present time are an improvement over conditions which prevailed for the past year, Captain Meath, superintendent of the local office of the Employment service of Canada, describes them as superficial and predicts the appearance of unemployment and distress as serious as last winter with the first spell of cold weather.

"There are 10,000 men out of work in Toronto at the present time, and this number is being augmented by at least 100 fresh applications for work daily," he said.

CANADIAN EXPORT CATTLE TRADE IS SHOWING REVIVAL

Montreal, Nov. 17.—A splendid revival of the Canadian export cattle trade to Great Britain is now to be recorded as far as the port of Montreal is concerned. About 25,000 head of Canadian cattle have been shipped to Britain in local ships during the past six months, and with several ships still to be loaded, the 25,000 mark may be reached before the season closes.

Those in charge of the local movement in cattle stated to-day that British embargo or no embargo next season will see a great increase in what was one of the basic exports of Canada.

LOOK AHEAD—NOT BEHIND

How can future generations get the idea that the "glories and traditions" of the British Navy "are but legendary"?

ships were afraid to go out because of the new developments which the war itself actually created. What was the deciding factor in the war?

Ulster has rejected the British Government's latest proposal in connection with an Irish settlement.

QUITE EXPECTED.

Those critics of the British Cabinet's negotiations with the Sinn Fein delegation who expected that the Liverpool Convention of the Unionist Party would add fuel to the fire of opposition which the "back benches" of the Carlton Club have assiduously fanned will be considerably depressed when they learn that the Party has endorsed "with certain reservations" the course followed by the Prime Minister and his colleagues.

WHY WARSAW?

Readers of Canadian newspapers are informed in a dispatch from London that Dr. J. W. Black-Dominion Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization has arrived at Warsaw to discuss immigration with the Polish authorities.

SOME PRIVACY NEEDED.

It would make interesting reading if all the discussions in connection with the disarmament conference could be published in the newspapers; but it stands to reason that if progress is to be made, and each nation's interests safeguarded against those perverse manipulators of public information who are always ready to bestow more attention upon the senseless than upon the facts, treatment of details to a large extent will have to be conducted in private. It is not necessary to go any further than the case of Mr. Lloyd George and the Sinn Fein leader to obtain a commentary upon the drawbacks to a too open form of negotiation.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Ulster has rejected the British Government's latest proposal in connection with an Irish settlement. It can still throw a few more suggestions out before it will have rejected as many as the Sinn Feiners.

It is reported from Australia that the Commonwealth's battle-cruiser will be put out of commission shortly. Several more of the same ilk will follow soon after unless we mistake not.

Henry Ford wants to buy all the navies of the world at junk prices and says he could finance the undertaking and make useful implements with the material. If the nations did not take the Osear II seriously here is a chance to take Henry at his word and make money on the transaction.

Admiral Sir Cyprian Bridge hits the armaments nail on the head when he says that if it is intended that the American Navy shall equal that of Britain it is almost a concession because if their 1916 programme had been maintained "we should either have been surpassed in naval strength or been compelled to expand our latest extensive building programme."

alkaline there can be neither rheumatism nor gout. English statistics show that in one year (1876) 3,640 persons died of rheumatism, and every case, it is claimed, might have been cured or prevented by the adoption of the remedy mentioned.

RESTORING THE DROWNED. Dr. Lambeth of New York, asserts that it can be done by hot water. "The philosophy of the matter," says the doctor, is this: "Apply heat to the drowned body, get it warm. That is all. Only get it warm. I deserve no credit for the recipe. I discovered it one morning when a boy. There was no wit nor wisdom in the discovery. It was made accidentally.

POLITICS

That "Union" Government. Ontario Their Only Hope. Cheering Up the Maritime Folks. Wiping Out the Liberal Name. Britain Protectionist?

The present Government is about as much like the Union Government of 1917 as a stick of cord wood is like a giant pine tree. The Toronto Star concludes on looking over the Meighen Cabinet. There were twenty-one members in the Union Government when it was formed.

Of the twenty-one Cabinet Ministers who formed the Union Government only one is going to the polls along with Mr. Meighen. Three of the five that remain are in, or are going into the Senate, safe from the perils of the general election.

Where did the people of Canada get this Government, and where did this Government get the people of Canada? The Star asks.

The fact is that when the Union Government ended a majority of the members of parliament did not deem it safe to go to the polls, so they induced Mr. Meighen to carry on, and he did carry on until, owing to by-elections that had gone wrong, and owing to others that loomed ahead, it was considered unsafe to face the dubious prospects of another session.

Ontario is the Government's only hope. And it is becoming painfully slim.

Seven seats are claimed in British Columbia. To be better than a third, the Government must win over sixty seats in Ontario and thus it is that the western itinerary is cut away down while Mr. Meighen is to come back and go over again much of the same territory he has already visited.

The Farmers boast of carrying forty seats. They claimed thirty in 1919 and took forty-five so they are not given to exaggeration. If they do anything near as well as they did two years ago the Government will be a poor third. Under any condition it is impossible to figure them out on the top of the pile. Ontario will elect a minimum of fifteen Liberals.

Mr. Meighen's recent tour through the Maritime Provinces apparently didn't cheer the people of that part of the country particularly. Mr. Meighen talked too much about "the sole issue"—the tariff—and called the problems of the folks down by the Atlantic seaboard "imaginary issues." The St. John Globe complained.

"What kind of an imaginary issue," asks The Globe, "is the announcement in the Portland (Maine) Herald that grain continues to arrive daily in large quantities from Canadian points over the Grand Trunk Railway, and that three steamers are now on the way to load grain; that the Canadian grain which is reaching Portland in such quantities for ships already on the way there is routed by the Canadian National Railway system, owned and operated by the Canadian Government? Not a very imaginary issue, that, to the dock workers of St. John and Halifax. Not a very imaginary issue to ports which depend for their very life on the Canadian Government carrying out the Laurier and Borden compact in connection with the National Transcontinental system."

The Halifax Chronicle found only "duds" in the Premier's bag of oratorical bombshells. "Mr. Meighen makes the terrible charge that the whole effort of the Liberals is to get votes." The Chronicle notes, "Well, isn't that what he is striving for first and foremost? In fact, everybody's doing it."

Painting Britain as a protectionist country, a nation which has been forced to abandon its old free trade principles, seems to be a favorite pastime of Conservative orators. Those who try to convey this impression are practising deception, if they are not deceived themselves, The Toronto Globe asserts. The duties which afford any protection to British manufacturers are imposed on articles which represent a fraction of British imports. The greater number of these articles are of a scientific character, in which the Germans specialized or of which they formerly had a monopoly.

Whereas by reason of the protectionist country in the sense that Canada and the United States are protectionist, says The Globe. With respect to the great bulk of her industries Great Britain is still on a free trade basis. If any group or party in this country were to advocate a fiscal policy which would copy literally the British tariff schedules Canadian protectionists would denounce it with more vehemence, if possible, and certainly with more sincerity, than they show in their attacks on the Liberals and Progressives.

EDUCATION ESTIMATES.

To the Editor:—Upon returning to the city yesterday, I find that the Provincial estimates, as submitted to the present session of the Legislature, provide for an increase in the salary of the Superintendent of Education from $4,000 to $4,500. I also find that the morning paper, in an editorial, in addition to singling out this increase, comments on the fact that this is the only increase given in the Education Department. It may be that a closer perusal of the estimates will show that others have obtained increases also, but let that pass.

I am not in any way concerned with the question, except from one particular viewpoint, and that is simply the viewpoint of the teaching profession. Inasmuch as the B. C. Teachers' Federation brought the matter of the salaries paid to the Superintendent and staff of the Education Department, including Provincial Inspectors and Normal School staffs, to the attention of every member of the Legislature at the last session of the House, and respectfully asked for adjustments to be made, I am only carrying out my duty in making public the following facts: At the last session the following adjustments were made in the salaries of Provincial Inspectors and Normal School staffs, but the salary of the Superintendent of Education is being made more commensurate with the importance of the position.

Memorandum for Resolution. The position of Superintendent of Education of British Columbia is the highest in the teaching profession in this Province. The fact that this position at the head of the Legislature can only command a salary of $4,000 per annum is not calculated to induce the most brilliant of our youth to enter or stay in the teaching profession, when the final limit in other professions such as law, medicine, engineering, etc., is greatly in excess of that figure.

In this connection also, there is the anomaly that many teachers are receiving higher salaries than are the Inspectors who have to report on their work, while in one instance at least one of the Municipal Inspectors is receiving more than even the Inspector of the Superintendent of Education. It is felt that the position of Superintendent of Education is being made more commensurate with the importance of the position.

A BEFITTING WAR MEMORIAL FOR SAANICH. To the Editor:—While travelling in Scotland and England some time ago, I noticed some of the ancient cairns of pre-historic times and have often wondered when and why they were erected. The history and meaning of most of these no doubt will remain obscure as the pyramids of Egypt and the ages. One had feature about most of these cairns is the fact that

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY Victoria Daily Times, November 17, 1896. Extensive repairs are to be made at the Jubilee Hospital immediately. they are merely loose cobbles, and as a result, plant life both trees and vines, have covered many of them. Victoria has time and again talked of a Peace Memorial but, sir, what we need is a War Memorial to commemorate the sacrifices of those who died that we might live—and live that we might influence in preventing the recurrence of such a catastrophe, "lest we forget" in the flight of time. With this thought in mind, there cannot be too many cenotaphs. I would, therefore, suggest a cenotaph made of granite cobbles, set in cement and built tier upon tier in three sections each smaller than the other, emblematic of the Holy Trinity. Granite cobbles stones are plentiful and should be contributed by every land owner in Saanich District if possible, so as to give the erection a community spirit, and in the case of bereaved relatives, the warrior's name and place of falling could be inscribed on the cobbles stone contributed, and given a special setting on a "Think it over readers, then call a meeting, elect a committee and get busy." "CEDANT ARMA TOGAE" Saanich District, B. C. NOT A "POP MANUFACTURER." To the Editor:—I notice from your issue of the 15th instant that Alderman Andrews is annoyed at the spiritless remark made by Alderman Harvey. I feel very grateful to Alderman Andrews for making it so clear to the public as to the stand that some of the Council take in regard to trade competition. As I have been challenged as to the truth of the assertion in my previous letter of yesterday, you will see I had good reasons for making the statement. Referring to Alderman Andrews' remark as to the great bargain I was getting by leasing a certain property from the city, it is perfectly true that $7,000 has been spent on the property, I should say double that amount would be nearer the figure, but City Councils throughout Canada do not always practise strict economy. I doubt if they will get the rent that I was to pay, I can procure better accommodation elsewhere at a less cost. Referring to myself, the so-called "Pop Manufacturer," if Alderman Andrews would take more time to investigate what my business is versus flying to the press with his vague ideas it would save a lot of trouble. I feel it is only fair to myself to let him know through the press, that I am not a manufacturer of ordinary "Pop" but of a well-known beverage that has stood the test in the British Isles for two hundred years, and as the formulae have been handed down to me by my parents, the originators being the family of Lord Hill of the 17th Century, and as I claim to be the only one in Canada that has it, I am not confined to Victoria for my output. As my books show a considerable profit, and as the test in the British Isles for the production in this city, I trust the citizens of Victoria will not turn me out as a perfect stranger upon the family of Lord Hill of the JUSTLY HOLMES HILL FENNER, Victoria, B. MAKING THOUSANDS HAPPY AND STRONG
You Will Get Up To-morrow Fit for a Big Day's Work if You Take Redmac

To get up in the morning feeling bright and happy, fit to tackle anything, comes to only those of good health. To go out and tackle life in competition with others, one must feel right. Redmac fills you with "pep". It is better than a bank account. If you are run down, tired or no ambition, suffering with dyspepsia, pain in the back, or a sluggish liver, in other words, you don't take any other. After taking one bottle, you will get up and get another one. It will put you on your feet. It is the elixir of life. You will feel and look younger, you will be bright and strong, all pain and aches will go. A large generous bottle can be procured from your druggist. A pleasant surprise party was given to Miss Vera Bevan on the occasion of her birthday last Saturday at her home, 439 Walton Street, by the following members of the "Joy Club," of which she is a member: The Misses Pearl and Violet Heather, Marjory and Dorothy Siddall, Dorthy Kimbal, Nellie and Pearl Smith, and Gertrude Jackson. An enjoyable evening was spent in games and music, after which dainty refreshments were served, the cutting of a beautiful surprise birthday cake being a feature of the evening.

Winnipeg residents in the city will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Doris Godson-Godson, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Godson-Godson, and Mr. Harrison Gilmour, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Gilmour, of Winnipeg, formerly of Vancouver. Miss Godson-Godson has been a charming addition to the younger set of Winnipeg since her arrival from England. She has a charming personality, her delightful voice and is always the centre of attraction in many theatricals in which she has taken part. Mr. Gilmour did splendid service in the great war, having enlisted in 1914 and was among the first of the Canadians to receive the Military Cross. The marriage will take place some time before Christmas.

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

MR. FOX SPOILS A GOOD TIME

When Toby Dog and Ikey Drake were tired of living in the barnyard they did not know that Mr. Fox was going to spoil all their fun, or they would not have set up house-keeping in a hut by the river close to the woods.

Ikey Drake said he was tired of having all of his relatives quacking him every time he went anywhere, and Mr. Dog said he was tired of sleeping with both eyes open at night to watch for the farmer. When in the daytime he was always chained up. So one night off they tramped and went to live in a hut by the river, and all went well until Mr. Dog growled over having so many worms for a snack of "a nice ham bone or something."

Ikey Drake began to quack loudly that bones were too hard to digest and that Mr. Dog would find his health much better if he made a diet of things which he would find in the woods. Just then that Mr. Fox, strolling by in the woods, heard the noise and came that way to see what was going on. When he saw that Ikey Drake forgot all about Toby, only that he was a young dog and might be fooled if necessary. He wanted Ikey very much for a dinner some night, so he set his wits at work to find a way.

The next day Ikey went swimming on the pond and Mr. Fox, who was watching in the woods strolled along to the hut. Ikey saw that he was "Ah, I see I have a neighbor, Mr. Dog! I do not live far from here, and you and I ought to have some fun hunting. Do you like chasing rabbits?"

"Rabbits!" repeated Toby, his ears sticking straight up. "I love nothing better. Show me one and see." Mr. Fox knew just where to take Toby Dog, and it was not long before he was running through the woods after poor Mr. Rabbit, and Mr. Fox knew that Toby would be busy for some time, ran back to the hut to wait for Ikey Drake.

Now it happened that Ikey had met all his family on the pond, and because he was so sure that he would leave them again, allowed him back to the hut, in spite of all poor Ikey could do to get rid of them.

When Toby Dog was hiding inside, could hardly keep still, he was so anxious to pounce upon them. His eyes sparkled as Ikey and his family came near, he was so surprised, he heard Ikey telling them, "You better go home; old Mr. Fox might be around."

He will get you, too, Ikey," said one plump duck. "Why don't you run?" "I am not afraid of Mr. Fox," pretended Ikey, strutting toward the hut. "But you will all start for home as soon as I tell you. There, you better go home; old Mr. Fox might be around."

"Did you chase Mr. Fox?" they all asked, for Toby Dog looked very warm from running. "He won't bother you any more," said Toby. But he never told Ikey how Mr. Fox had got him to go hunting, and then had run back to catch Ikey Drake. However, he kept his word, for Mr. Fox did not bother them any more.

Toby Dog slept none that night, and when Mr. Fox came skulking around he was after him with a bound, and by the way he acted Mr. Fox knew that if he wanted to live he had better keep away from that farm.

A BUSY MORNING WITH A NURSE OF VICTORIAN ORDER

Typical Incidents in the Day's Work Related by an Onlooker

It began, this particular day, at 3 a. m. An agitated masculine voice over the phone, a few questions and answers, and within fifteen minutes a nurse was speeding southwards in the corner of a chilly taxi, inwardly blessing the fate that had dragged her from her warm bed at such an hour. But she was all serenity when she reached the house and found awaiting her a suffering woman, a frightened man, a still more frightened young sister, and two bewildered little ones crying loudly for "mummy."

A Wonderful Bag It was a modest little house with nothing very costly or beautiful in it. It kept the children, but thrift and foresight had made the most of narrow means in preparation for the expected baby, and where there was lack, ingeniously the nurse's wonderful bag smoothed over the difficulty. It was a little over two hours later that the nurse and her wonderful bag—a rather tired nurse and a somewhat tumbled bag—drove away again, leaving the little house very quiet and happy, with only one subdued light showing from the room where the new baby, very red and crumpled and a little bit aggrieved, lay beside his mother.

The next call came at eight, in the middle of breakfast. "Is that the Victoria Nurse?" "This is the Victoria Nurse of Nurses; what is the trouble?" "My little boy's been feverish all night and won't eat any breakfast. Will a nurse come out and see him?" "Yes, certainly. What is the name and address?"

The indispensable "Lizzie" It was given and duly noted, and about an hour later, we "we" being the nurse, her faithful chronicler, and the indispensable "Lizzie" the small patient, it was opened to our knock by a pleasant looking young matron, who led us into a bed-room, where a very flushed little boy peeped at us with apprehensive eyes from the middle of a tangle of bed clothes.

In just a minute and a half by the chronicler's watch, the nurse, perched casually on the side of the bed, had learned that the small patient's name was Tommy, that he was eight next birthday, that his cat "could jump awful high" over daddy's stick if he wasn't scared, that he was in the first reader, that he'd been awful sick last night, an' got that cut on his hand lickin' a boy yesterday—a big guy—well, pretty big, an' his little sister was five years today, an' they had a party, and what was that thing for? "That thing" was a nice glass tube, and an' a big big like Tommy would be sure to get it in his mouth—very carefully and not bite it or nurse would have to buy another.

Tommy's Trouble The temperature proving nothing alarming, and a general prodding only giggles, a reassuring nod went to the worried little mother, and a few subdued words of which, none reached the chronicler except, "yes, four, in orange juice; and then in surprising quick time the professional but and coat were laid aside on a apron produced from the ever-ready bag, and while the mother hurried off for a basin of hot water and towels, Tommy's spread, sheet, and shirt were swiftly and smoothly withdrawn from the room, and he lay in just ten minutes again by the chronicler's watch, his small person was thoroughly sponged, enveloped in a clean nightgown, rolled deftly to one side, a fresh sheet inserted under him, and the bed made up once more trim and orderly.

"How did you know there was nothing serious?" demanded with enormous interest, as Lizzie started on her way once more. "No serious symptoms and practically no temperature, and a party yesterday, any normal child of that age was entitled to a little bilious attack after that. When there is a certain amount of temperature, and any unfavorable symptoms we always get, your doctor, but in this case, well, they are spared unnecessary expense, the mother's anxiety is promptly relieved, and everyone is happy except Tommy—he has to take that castor-oil."

A New Arrival Our next engagement was with an imperious young person aged one day and a half, the Princess Royal of her particular household. Her very happy mother having received first attention, the chronicler was allowed to pick out a coign of vantage by the kitchen stove and there watch the process of stripping, bathing and dressing the infant; two small brothers also watched, round-eyed, and a fifteen-year-old girl, daughter of a neighbor, kindly lent for the occasion, left off peeling potatoes to take her first lesson in the care of a baby.

The young parents had neither of them any relatives in the West, the husband was away at his work for many hours each day. There was no surplus money with which to engage a resident nurse, and the alternative to go to hospital for two weeks, leaving her little sons, mere babies, in the care of strangers was unbearable. The Victoria Nurse was the solution of the problem. Not was the nursing care limited to the mother and infant; once again the chronicler noted the nurse's observant eyes upon the elder boy, and she presently, under protection of seeing where the other end of his tongue went to get a good look at his throat, "thought so; tonsils nearly meeting, has adenoids, too. I think; oh, well, I'll have to let it wait till she's up and then get her to have it attended to."

A Sick Man We were about to board "Lizzie" once more, when a woman came hurrying up. "There's a sick man that little house over in the field and somebody ought to see to him. He's real sick and they can't seem to afford a doctor, the old lady saw you and asked me to ask you to come."

Leaving the couple we promptly climbed a fence, crossed a field, including ditches, and rapped at the door of the forlorn looking little house that had been indicated. A tiny little old woman opened it and looked at us timidly. "I—didn't like to trouble you Miss, but he's that sick as I thought maybe—" the guarding voice broke and died off in a whisper. "It's no trouble at all, if it were for you, you know, helping sick people. Perhaps we can make him feel better soon," said the nurse, and we saw him. She drew aside and we saw him, a gray-faced old man in an arm chair, his feet resting on the only other chair; eyes closed, and head drooping; even to the chronicler's untrained eye he looked a desperately

SOOKE HARBOR PUBLIC WORKS

District Wants Cemetery; Daily Mail Service

Sooke, Nov. 17.—On Monday evening, November 14, the regular monthly meeting of the Sooke Harbor Development Association was held in the Sooke Hall, the president, John A. Murray, J.P., being in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and passed, correspondence was next dealt with from the Minister of Public Works in relation to patrolmen upon the main Sooke Road, and gratification was expressed that John Power had been put upon that section from the 17-Mile House to the Sooke River bridge; for this system of repair work upon the roads during the winter was more than a justified expenditure in the hands of efficient men, as it saved many hundreds of dollars being spent in the Spring and kept the roads in very fair shape.

MAIN STREET THE STORY OF CAROL KENNICOTT By SINCLAIR LEWIS

The Jolly Seventeen (the membership of which ranged from fourteen to twenty-six) was the social cornice of Gopher Prairie. It was the country club, the diplomatic set, the Cecilia, the Ritz oval room, the Club de Vinet. To belong to it was to be "in." Though its membership partly coincided with that of the Thana-topis study club, the Jolly Seventeen as a separate entity guffawed at the Thana-topis, and considered it middle-class and even "highbrow."

keep from oversensitiveness, from becoming unpopular by the sure method of believing that she was unpopular; but she hadn't much reserve of patience, and at the end of the second round she demanded, "Don't you find that new chess of yours is too broad to be practical?" She nodded, then shook her head, and touchedly left Mrs. Howland to get out of it any meaning she desired. Immediately she wanted to make peace. She was close to slumbering in the sweetness with which she addressed Mrs. Howland: "I think that is the prettiest display of beef-tea your husband has in his store."

her laughiness irritated them to franker rebuffs; they were working up to a state of painfully righteous war when they were saved by the coming of food.
Though Juanita Haydock was highly advanced in the matter of finger-bowl, dillies, and bath-mats, her "refreshments" were typical of all the afternoon-coffees. Juanita's friends, Mrs. Dyer and Mrs. Dasherway, passed large dinner plates, each with a spoon, a fork, and a coffee cup without saucer. They apologized and discussed the afternoon's game as they passed through the thicket of women's feet. Then they distributed hot butter rolls, coffee poured from an enamel-ware pot, stuffed olives, potato salad, and angel-food cake. There was, even in the most strictly conforming Gopher Prairie circles, a certain notion as to collations. The olives need not be stuffed. Doughnuts were in some houses well thought of as a substitute for hot butter rolls. But there was in all the town no heretic save Carol who omitted angel-food.

Strength

Strength of muscle does not indicate strength of nerves. On this account many people who look healthy enough suffer from nervous troubles and cannot understand what is ailing them. Sleeplessness and irritability are among the early symptoms. Indigestion and tired feelings soon follow.

Carol stepped into the sirocco of furnace heat. They were already playing. Despite her flabby resolves she had not yet learned bridge. She was winningly apologetic about it to Juanita, and ashamed that she should have to go on being apologetic.

ALTERATIONS TO CHARTERS' HALL

By the kind permission of W. B. Charters the Sooke Athletic Association is entirely removing the old ceiling and raising it six feet. This work is all being done by voluntary labor and the association is much indebted to Harry Vogel and Messrs. J. G. and J. H. Otter Point, who have come forward and assisted in this work.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Ward I. Liberal.—A meeting of Ward I. Liberal Association will be held in the club rooms to-morrow night. Important business.

Gordon Head Women's Institute.—The monthly meeting of the Gordon Head Women's Institute will be held at 2.30 to-morrow in the Gordon Head Hall. The official delegate to the recent conference will present her report and a demonstration of soap-making will be given by Mrs. Ira Erb.

St. Barnabas Fair.—A huge Christmas tree for the children and the serving of tea in a Japanese tea-garden will be among the many interesting attractions at the Christmas fair and sale of work to be held in connection with St. Barnabas Church on Thursday, November 24.

Sunday School Teachers.—The Sunday school teachers of the city met at supper last night at Telfer's Cafe, the gathering adjourning later to meet in the First Presbyterian Church where discussion upon "The Value of Reviews and Examinations" was led by Aubone Hoyle.

Car Reported Stolen.—A car belonging to C. Reid, of Sidney, was stolen from in front of the Arcaea Theatre, it was reported to the Oak Bay police by the owner to-day. The car is a five-passenger 1915 Chevrolet car, and was taken between 9 p.m. and 9.30 last evening.

Held Church Re-Union.—At a re-union of the James Bay Methodist Church, held last night with 300 present, an excellent banquet was given by Joseph Patrick presiding. The Rev. W. Cook, and the Rev. R. Wilkinson gave brief addresses. Messrs. Jameson, Rumsby, Sutherland and Miss Peat, added several numbers to a delightful musical programme.

Naval G.W.V.A.—A special meeting of the Naval branch of the G. W. V. A. was held last night with President E. S. Mitchell in the chair. H. D. Twigg addressed the meeting on "Amalgamation" after which the organization decided to join the Amalgamation Veterans Association. A vote of thanks was tendered to Comrades Hatcher and Pearson for aiding to bring about union. It was decided to stage a smoking concert in the near future.

Gaelic Society.—The Gaelic Society held a most successful military five hundred in the Orange Hall last night. There were twenty-two tables. The prize-winners were: First, Mrs. Cochrane, Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Oliver, Mr. G. Logan; Second, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Bonnie, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Coonan; third, Mrs. Fulton, Miss Murtall, Mr. Buckley, Mr. Grice. The ten-bid was won by Mrs. Knowlton and Mr. Frank. A most enjoyable dance followed the card game, Mrs. Ridgway supplying the music.

Criticizes Dress and Morals.—In the course of an address on "Catholics and Social Work" given before the Catholic Women's League last evening, Rev. Father Wood deplored the present-day tendency to moral laxity and heedlessness of the marriage vows. Morality, economic conditions and politics, and their effect on social conditions were touched upon by the speaker. In conclusion, Father Wood urged the members of his audience to take a genuine interest in social questions and do everything to alleviate distress among the poor.

Dr. Sipprell Will Speak.—Much interest is being taken in the lecture to be delivered on Tuesday evening next by Rev. Dr. Sipprell, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, on the subject, "Where Canadian Heroes Fought and Fell." The lecture will be delivered in the Metropolitan Church and will start at 8.15 o'clock. The topic is one which is bound to appeal to all and will undoubtedly draw a large audience. The doctor will not confine his remarks to his recent tour of the battlefields but will also deal with various parts of British and continental Europe through which he also traveled.

E. G. KINGWELL CLAIMS DAMAGES AGAINST CITY

Elk Lake Overflow Case Heard in Supreme Court

Councillor E. G. Kingwell's claim against the city for alleged damages to his crop through flooding, caused by overflow from the Elk Lake water system, was heard in the Supreme Court this morning before Mr. Justice Gregory.

A little over a year ago, Mr. Kingwell, a Saanich councillor, purchased land from the Land Settlement Board on Colquitz River. The city used to drain its domestic water supply from a combination source of Beaver and Elk Lakes. Since the new Sooke water supply system was inaugurated the Elk Lake system has not been used, but the caretaker is kept by the city to regulate the depth of the water back of the dam by such operation of the flood gates as may be necessary to prevent the overflow.

It is alleged that careless handling of the flood gates and a leak in the dam are the factors responsible for the sudden overflow of the Colquitz banks through which the lakes empty into Portage Inlet.

An injunction is sought compelling the city to prevent a repetition, and damages for loss of this year's crop.

F. A. McDiarmid is appearing for the plaintiff.

H. S. Pringle, City Solicitor, denies responsibility for any unauthorized person operating the flood gates and denies a leakage in the dam.

The loss alleged would not amount to more than about twenty-five hundred dollars, Councillor Kingwell told the court. Up to the middle of July there was as much as eighteen inches of water on the land.

A witness said there was a constantly flowing stream of water on the McNaughton property adjoining his own which would indicate a leakage somewhere from the lake water system. Other adjoining properties were affected, he said. An eight-inch tile drain ran through his property, but it was impossible to drain into Colquitz River.

Other witnesses were called to testify to flooding of the land.

The case is proceeding.

For Friendly Help.—A musical evening is to be held at the Lampson Street School for the purpose of raising under the auspices of the Esquimalt chapter I. O. D. E. the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Colquitz Friendly Help. Much excellent talent has been secured for the entertainment, while the assembly hall of the school will seat 400 people.

Rendered Maunders' Cantata.—An excellent rendering of Maunders' Cantata, "Song of Thanksgiving," was given by the Wesley Church choir at St. Columba's Presbyterian Church last evening. Prior to the rendition Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Stokes, and F. J. Mitchell assisted in an additional musical programme.

Held "Mock Parliament."—The Y. P. A. of the First Presbyterian Church held a "Mock Parliament" in the schoolroom of the church last evening. Oswyn Boulton continued the debate on the "speech from the throne," which was adjourned by Aubone Hoyle. A bill to establish religious education in the school was read a second time and committed, but defeated on the final reading. A short devotional period preceded the session.

Settled Out of Court.—The action of Bailey versus Munro was withdrawn by permission of the court. Justice Gregory in the Supreme Court yesterday. The action was one in dispute over a conveyance of certain parcels of land in the Malahat district.—R. Green acted for the plaintiff, with H. A. Beckwith with John L. Clay appeared for the defendants. The action was settled out of court.

"The Iron Food for Vitality."

Let Children Vote

Offer them plain bread or raisin bread. See which they select, and why

Some day, soon, do this: Offer raisin bread and plain bread, side by side, to your boy or girl.

Note how the little hand at once selects the bread with raisins. The flavor first attracts them—they know the deliciousness of raisins. Unconsciously they know too that these raisins are good for them.

Every normal child craves sweets naturally, and should have them. Here are Nature's own sweets, the kind they should have—practically pre-digested and rich in vital iron.

The iron builds up healthy blood—lasting vitality for play or study.

Children need but a small lot of iron daily, yet that need is vital.

Healthful foods sometimes must be forced on children.

Not so raisin bread. They choose it for themselves. Just try and see.

Delicious raisin bread and raisin pie are sold by bake shops and groceries everywhere. Buy of them to save baking at home. Real Raisin Bread is made with lots of raisins. Insist on it. First-class bakers do not stint.

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins, made from California's finest table grapes—American raisins, processed and packed immaculately in a great modern California plant.

Seeded (seeds removed); Seedless (grown without seeds); Clusters (on the stem). Also a fine, ever-ready dessert.

Raisins are cheaper by 30 per cent than formerly—see that you get plenty in your foods.

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT TARIFF MEETING

Little Interest Shown in the Gathering for Dr. Tolmie

Many empty seats greeted the speakers at the opening meeting last night in the Pantages Theatre of the National Liberal and Conservative party campaign in support of Hon. S. F. Tolmie.

About one hundred people occupied the theatre when the curtain was raised at 8.15 o'clock.

Hon. S. F. Tolmie never was a party politician. He is standing flat-footed upon the platform of his leader, said C. T. Cross, who presided.

Deplores Contest.

Mr. Cross said that Dr. Tolmie had always served his country faithfully and well and it was a pity he was not going back to Ottawa without a contest in Victoria.

A. C. Noakes, described by Mr. Cross as first lieutenant to the late Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, spoke of Canada as the Land of Hope and Glory.

Following the most terrible eruption the world has known, Canada is to-day the only country on the ladder, he asserted. "We have to find ways and means of making Canada one of the richest gems in the Crown of Empire," he remarked.

"In justice to the Federal Government consideration should be given to the war with greater prosperity were being considered. It is only by that any other Dominion is sufficient evidence of the soundness of the present Government policy," he declared.

The Remedy?

"It is a shame that in a great and wealthy country like Canada there should be a single man out of work," said the speaker, who proceeded to explain that unemployment could easily be overcome by the establishing of factories and industries.

A free trade policy would mean that what little work there was in Canada to-day would be transferred to the United States, and in purchasing from that country Canadians get in return for their perfectly good dollar something like thirty cents, he observed.

An adjustable tariff to suit necessity as it arises is the only sane policy and such is the Meighen policy, said Mr. Noakes.

In the interests of labor the speaker referred to a Government pamphlet to show the workers that their interests were being considered. "It is only by co-operation between employer and worker and ability to show the inventor that he can invest profitably that Canada can build industries," Mr. Noakes declared.

Six hundred American industries had located in Canada and gave employment to Canadians, as a result of the Government's policy, the speaker said.

The reason why Mr. Chamberlain desired to revise the tariff was because he found that industries were on the down-grade.

Mr. Noakes constantly referred to Government campaign pamphlets for his arguments. "The wayward cry" of Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King should not be listened to and success for Canada would soon follow the election of the Meighen party," said the speaker.

Alex. Thompson confined his remarks to an appeal for support of Dr. Tolmie. The speaker said he was a strong advocate of coalition government.

"Unity in Canada and Fair Play for All" was the battle cry suggested by Mr. Thompson for the Tolmie forces.

"People are tired of wrangling and wish to see the best men in all parties elected to govern the country," he concluded.

D. O. Dunford and A. W. Palmer contributed to the many of the speakers on the platform.

Appeal to Women.

In the afternoon Mr. Noakes made a special appeal to the many of the tariff. His subject was announced as "Tariff—Commercial Suicide."

Miss Lottie Bowden, at the invitation of the organizers of the meeting, occupied the chair of honor on the platform, additional to Mr. Noakes, were Alexander Thomson and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie.

Mr. Noakes defined protection as the payment of a premium of insurance to preserve for Canadian citizens the wealth and prosperity which belonged to the country. Mr. Noakes explained the reason for the emigration to Canada was that the people of England. Before the war half the articles exhibited in the shops of London had been made in Germany. This means that English people were forced to seek employment elsewhere.

"Made in Canada."

"Your slogan should be 'Made in Canada' You should insist that every article you buy is made in Canada by Canadian labor," urged Mr. Noakes.

The Canadian woman who bought American-made goods is helping to rob Canadian labor of its just due in the factories and industries of this country. The big manufacturer of the States, with his great home market, could afford to produce at a lesser price. This was responsible for cheaper American boots, and after dumping their surplus in the Canadian market at a still lower price.

"Any woman knows that the only way to develop the resources of Canada is to support the industries—Canada. Paralysis must eventually settle on your country if you do not support your own industries," maintained the speaker. "The whole circle of prosperity is enlarged when you expend money for manufactures produced within your own boundaries."

"This is an agricultural country, undoubtedly, but no country can subsist on agriculture alone; it must have industries," maintained Mr. Noakes. When wages were high, goods were scarce because the purchasing power of money was low. Canadians aimed to make their standard of living the highest in the world. And the policy of a moderate tariff, which was being advocated, was one of the important things to this end.

"Wages whether high or low, can only be assured to the worker if the industry is protected against foreign competition."

RE-MODEL PRESENT CITY SYSTEM TODD URGES TO LABOR

Trades Council Hears Plans for Improving Municipal Government

Re-modeling of the present system of city government instead of inaugurating an entirely new system was urged by Alderman A. E. Todd in an address to the Trades and Labor Council last night.

The alderman centred his remarks around the recommendations of a special committee of aldermen and citizens which during many sessions last Summer proposed changes in the city government system.

The necessity of strong public organizations was first emphasized by Alderman Todd. "During my whole eight years in the City Council I have been affiliated with no organization, but I have often felt that I would like to have strong citizens' organization to which I could go and lay a problem before it and either get endorsement or the reverse," said Alderman Todd. "If we are to keep the principles of democracy here the existence of groups of citizens must continue."

The alderman outlined the proposal to amalgamate the City Council, School Board and Police Commission.

"This does not mean the abolition of the School Board, but the amalgamation of the two bodies," he said. "When this system came into force present school trustees could run the new council and the best men would be elected. The schools would be run by a committee of the council. A suggestion worthy of consideration is that the first five aldermen in the polls should join the school committee."

Delegate C. F. Moriarty proposed that there should be a triple ballot in the afternoon poll so that the voters could choose the council committees which would manage the schools and the Police Department.

"The present system of appointing men to the council for 12 months or a month, as the case may be," the alderman declared, "is a very inefficient proposal that aldermen should be paid $100 a month. As for the Mayor, I could not break even on $2,000 a year. While I have no ambition to be mayor again, I would like to see the office carry with it $5,000 for no man who is mayor should have to dip down into his own pocket."

Better Than Thought.

"As I told the directors of the Chamber of Commerce the other day the City Council, as at present constituted, is a much more efficient body than many people realize. I have nothing but admiration for all the men with whom I have served on the City Council."

I have served on the Board of Trade, the Chamber of Commerce and many other semi-public organizations, but the City Council is the best of all. If we have such an excellent foundation to build on why not smooth away the wrinkles in the present system instead of starting something new which may end in failure?"

A Contrary Opinion.

"The average citizen would not trust the average City Council to run our schools," said Delegate J. Noakes. "If the Council had had control over the schools during the last few years our children would have been starved for educational opportunities. We parents must sacrifice to keep our children at school why shouldn't the community do so also? The work of the schools is quite enough to keep the School Board busy."

"An aldermanic position with a salary of $100 a month would attract men of small but independent incomes and labor would never be shown," Delegate C. F. Moriarty protested.

"If labor puts up good candidates it will have no trouble electing them," Alderman Todd replied.

The Council will go into Alderman Todd's suggestions fully at another meeting.

LABOR MAY TAKE LARGE PART IN CIVIC ELECTION

Consider Candidates; Would Concentrate to Defeat Anti-Labor Aldermen

Amalgamation of Development Association and Chamber of Commerce Urged

Labor may take a big part in the December civic election. This became clear last night when the Trades and Labor Council decided to devote most of its next meeting to consideration of proposals that it should nominate a number of candidates for positions on the City Council.

It is probable that the Council will decide to endorse Aldermen E. S. Woodward and Robert Dewar for reelection in the field as well. In addition, it may decide to ask all other candidates to announce where they stand on labor questions. Another proposal advanced by Delegate C. F. Moriarty, is that the Council find out what aldermen have consistently opposed labor's interests this year and then concentrate the labor and the "unemployed" vote against them.

Delegate Moriarty urged the Council to get busy in civic politics, and commenced his remarks by an attack on the Victoria and Island Development Association, which he said should be merged with the Chamber of Commerce.

How Scheme Works.

"The main function of the Development Association seems to be to give information to a few Prairie farmers who want three rooms for the winter," Mr. Moriarty said. "When it comes to industries, the city has to give its own Industrial Committee $5,000. The $15,000 given to the Development Association would have covered the pension of the city's unemployed, which would benefit from it. It is simply a grant to the Chamber of Commerce, Any amount of money should be approved by the electors and I would bet two to one that it would not be so approved."

"If we urge that the $15,000 grant be used for unemployment relief work we will have the unemployed vote behind labor candidates. We cannot elect a majority but by concentrating our votes we can defeat them," he said. "If we have consistently opposed us. Let us analyze what they have done and if they are antagonistic to labor, let us elect them."

"The Development Association and the Chamber of Commerce should be merged as their functions overlap," said Mr. Moriarty, who declared that three times as much money had been spent on the Development Association as to relieve unemployment through the wood cutting scheme.

Delegate Schuler opposed plans for running labor candidates in the civic election. He thought the Council, having decided to stay out of Federal politics, should keep out of politics altogether.

Discuss Chamber of Commerce.

Discussion of the work of the Chamber of Commerce arose again when the Council was considering the re-appointment of Christian Sivertz to represent it in the Chamber of Commerce. Christian Sivertz, Delegate Moriarty warned, was the water and the Chamber of Commerce men are the oil—they're too smooth for us. Our interests are diametrically opposed, as they are employers."

Other delegates agreed with this view, but Mr. Woodward said that the Council would no mistake in sitting around any conference table. Mr. Sivertz, he said, would demand shortly and by what authority the Chamber of Commerce directors had gone on record as opposing the Burdick eight-hour-day bill.

Finally the Council decided to re-appoint Mr. Sivertz.

LABOR TO PROBE DRYDOCK CHARGES

Reeve Lockley Gives Fighting Denial to "Politics" Allegation

Says He Never O.K.'d Men Applying For Dock Jobs

After hearing a vigorous denial by Reeve Lockley, of Esquimalt, of charges that men desiring work on the Esquimalt drydock must receive his O.K., the Trades and Labor Council last night decided to start a thorough investigation of these allegations. If possible affidavits will be secured from a number of working men who have complained to the Trades Council that Mr. Lockley's approval was necessary before a drydock job could be secured, and the executive will make a report on the subject to the Council as a whole. This report will be confidential so that complaining workers may be protected.

Mr. Lockley appeared before the Council as a result of the Council's action in complaining to Hon. S. F. Tolmie that "Applicants for dock jobs" must be O.K.'d by Reeve Lockley, of Esquimalt, and that "doubtless political expediency is the actuating motive of this particularly mean and despicable condition."

Mr. Lockley's Reply.

"If I am charged with helping the working men of Esquimalt, I am guilty," said the Reeve, in an impassioned speech. "If I am charged with using political influence in connection with the dock, I am certainly not guilty."

The Reeve recalled that the Esquimalt Council had asked the drydock contractors to give some preference to Esquimalt labor on account of the serious unemployment prevailing. "We know we have no more right to that work than the people of Victoria or Saanich, but we have no less a right."

"Politics never entered the heads of the Council to give some preference with unemployment. The men got their jobs through no influence at all. Every man, so far as I know, who is working on that dock has got his job through the Labor Bureau in Victoria; and has a card from that organization. Not one man has ever who is working on that dock has got his job through the influence of Reeve Lockley. I never heard of such a thing until I read your charges in the press. I never realized till then how important it was. If I had such power I may say there would not be so much unemployment in Esquimalt to-day. Not one man on the drydock has Reeve Lockley's O.K., because Lyall's would laugh at it and the Labor Bureau would scorn it! When men have come to me to ask for work they have been sent to the Labor Bureau.

"Your charges amount to an allegation that I have been in collusion either with Dr. Tolmie or J. C. McIntosh. I have not spoken to Dr. Tolmie, except once for three minutes, for months. As for Mr. McIntosh I have never mentioned political patronage to him. If I can't be elected without politics I don't want to be elected, but I am going to do everything legitimate I can to help those men who can't help themselves."

Mr. Woodward's Reply.

Mr. Woodward said most of Mr. Lockley's remarks were "piffle." The Reeve, he declared, had merely put up straw men only to push them down. No charge of collusion between the Reeve and Federal members had been made, he added.

"We can either accept the Reeve's assurance or the assurance of numberless workmen who have been before us and made these complaints," Mr. Woodward advised.

"I am not impressed by the statement that all men were engaged through the Labor Bureau because you can call for a particular man through the Bureau and get him."

"The Reeve has admitted enough to show that the substance of our charges is true. He has admitted a very active interest in the work, and 50 per cent of the workers on the dock are Esquimalt men. The charge is that he O.K.'d these men—the alleged political motive is subsidiary."

Reeve's Response.

"Mr. Woodward has not even been fair to me," the Reeve replied. "There has been no man who has received my O.K. I have not admitted the charge against me. I have tried until I am out of breath to deny the statement."

"He admits that 50 per cent of the drydock workers are Esquimalt men—does he suppose for a moment that 50 per cent of the applications for jobs at the Labor Bureau are Esquimalt men?"

Delegate Pelee urged the Council to get accurate information on the drydock question in the form of affidavits.

A Definite Statement.

Delegate Ben Simmonds said that workmen hesitated to sign affidavits for fear of losing their jobs and making it difficult to secure future employment. He said that he knew the lists of names of men to be given dock jobs had been sent to the Labor Bureau. "And some of them," he added, "had only been registered a short time, though I had been registered for six months."

HEAD OF TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL RETIRES

Christian Sivertz, president of the Trades and Labor Council, last night resigned his office. His resignation was adopted by the Council with deep regret. Mr. Sivertz's resignation applies both to his office as president and his position as a delegate to the Council.

Mr. Sivertz explained in a letter to the Council that he had resigned in the constitution of postal workers' organization which he has represented for years, made his retirement necessary.

Vice-President Nunn automatically succeeds Mr. Sivertz as presiding officer. Election of a new president will be held in January.

SORES SPREAD ALL OVER FACES AND BODIES.

Mrs. Howard Houlette, Was-Katena, Sask., writes: "I wish to tell you of the benefit we have received by using your valuable medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters."

My children started to break out on their faces. In small white pimples which kept getting larger each day. Pus would form under the scabs and they would come off, and each time the sores would be larger; some were as large as a twenty-five cent piece, and would spread all over their bodies. I was nearly in despair and sent to the village for a bottle of good blood medicine. The druggist sent me a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters which I commenced giving them at once.

In about ten days I saw an improvement and they grew steadily better each day, and in one month the sores had all disappeared.

All blood and skin diseases are caused by bad blood, and to get it pure and keep it pure you must remove every trace of the impure and morbid matter from the system by a blood cleansing medicine such as BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS.

A remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-five years; and one without an equal for all diseases and disorders of the blood.
