At its 69th Meeting on 23 September 1948 the State-Army-Navy-Air Force Coordinating Committee approved SANACC 304/16. On 1 October 1948 the Acting Director of Central Intelligence forwarded the views of the Central Intelligence Agency on SANACC 304/16 which are enclosed herewith and contain a request that paragraph 6 be clarified deleting the Central Intelligence Agency from among the organizations which are expected to provide consultants for the working groups enumerated.

In light of the comments of the Acting Director of Central Intelligence, SANACC 304/16 has been amended to delete reference to CIA.

MEMORANDUM FOR: STATE-ARMY-NAVY-AIR FORCE COORDINATING COMMITTEE

SUBJECT : SANACC 304/16

REFERENCE: (a) Memo for the Director, CIA, from SANACC dated 27 Sept. 1948

1. Reference (a) requested that the comments of the Central Intelligence Agency on SANACC 304/16 be furnished to the Secretariat, SANACC.

2. Though SWNCC 304/1, which established the membership of the Subcommittee on Psychological Warfare, made no differentiation between the types of membership of the several Agencies represented on the Subcommittee, subsequent understandings have been held with the National Security Council, and with SANACC, that the membership of the Central Intelligence Agency on the Subcommittee is in the capacity of an observer. This arrangement is further substantiated by the fact that the Central Intelligence Agency does not have membership on SANACC itself.

3. Because of this arrangement, this Agency has determined that it should not be included among the organizations which are expected to provide consultants for the working groups enumerated in paragraph 6 of SANACC 304/16. Any information desired from this Agency is to be provided by the observer member serving with the Subcommittee for Special Studies and Evaluations.

4. Accordingly, the Central Intelligence Agency cannot agree with the contents of paragraph 6 of SANACC 304/16, and requests that the subject paper be clarified before issuance in the light of the view expressed herein.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE STATE MEMBER
ARMY MEMBER
NAVY MEMBER
AIR FORCE MEMBER

Subject: Summary of SANACC Activities.

During the period 1 August - 30 September 1948 the State-Army-Navy-Air Force Coordinating Committee cleared the following papers:

Policies, Procedures, and Costs of Assistance by the United States to Foreign Countries (SWNCC 360/3)

The Committee agreed to note and forward this study to the National Security Council and the Departments of State, Army, Navy and Air Force for information. This document which consists of a series of studies prepared by an ad hoc Committee relating to potential military and economic assistance to various countries of the world was completed in October 1947 and referred to the J.C.S. As much of the data contained in those studies is no longer current and studies of this type have been undertaken elsewhere, it was determined that they should be noted and referred to the appropriate agencies for information.

Division of German Naval Vessels (SANACC 208/27)

The Committee approved on behalf of the United States Government the Fourth Supplement to the Report of the Tripartite Naval Commission. In approving this report the Committee agreed that (1) notification of formal approval be withheld until such time as the Department of State deems appropriate; and (2) the Department of State shall notify the Department of the Navy when it is determined that formal notification may be conveyed, and that the Department of the Navy will inform the U. S. Naval Advisor in Berlin of the approval of the U. S. Government at that time.

Policy for Civil Aviation in Japan (SANACC 379/2)

The Committee approved a United States policy on non-Japanese civil aviation in Japan. Briefly, this policy states that civil air carriers of United Nations Member States should be permitted by SCAP on a non-discriminatory basis and consistent with security under standards of operation set by SCAP, and within the limits of the availability of facilities to:

- (a) Transit Japan;
- (b) Make technical stops there enroute to other countries when necessary for efficient and direct route operation;
- (c) Carry passengers, cargo, and mail into, through and away from Japan, but not from one place to another in Japan, over routes which they have been specifically authorized to fly by their respective governments.

The policy further provides that Japanese nationals should not be permitted to engage in flight operations except in the interests of furthering the objectives of the occupation as determined by SCAP, and that civil operations to and through Japan should be conducted within regulations established, administered, and enforced by SCAP.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff informed the Committee that they had no objection to the policy from the military point of view. The paper was transmitted to the Secretary of State for appropriate action in connection with negotiations in the Far Eastern Commission.

Commercial Fishing in the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands (SANACC 392/1 - 392/2)

After amending, the Committee and the Department of the Interior approved the Conclusions of SANACC 392/1 which provide that the territorial waters surrounding the Trust Territory, except those parts closed for security reasons, should be open to commercial fishing enterprises of all nations on a non-discriminatory basis. The Conclusions also set forth certain instructions for the administering agency of the Trust Territory in regard to carrying out this policy with due regard to the obligation to promote the interests and advancement of the local inhabitants.

The views of the Joint Chiefs of Staff were considered in the preparation of this paper. The Conclusions were transmitted to the Department of the Navy for appropriate implementation and to the Departments of State, Army, Air Force and Interior for information. The Department of State was requested to issue a press release based on the Conclusions.

Technical Assistance for Planning a Psychological Warfare Agency (SANACC 304/16)

The Committee agreed that the Departments of State, Army, Navy and Air Force should furnish the Subcommittee on Special Studies and Evaluations additional technical assistants on a part-time and temporary basis in order to facilitate further planning on matters of overt psychological warfare.

SANACC 304/16, as amended, to be referred to the National Security Council for information, and to the State, Army, Navy, and Air Force Departments for information and appropriate action.

Immunity of the United States Military Personnel from Foreign Criminal Jurisdiction (SWNCC 326/1 - SANACC 326/2)

With respect to the problem of immunity of U. S. military personnel from criminal jurisdiction of foreign nations, the Committee agreed that it should be the policy of the Government of the United States to obtain from the foreign government concerned agreement that the United States may exercise the right to exclusive jurisdiction over all such offenses committed by members of the armed forces of the United States or, failing that, to obtain as large a measure of jurisdiction as is possible.

This policy, supplemented by additional details for clarification, was transmitted to the Secretary of State for information and guidance and to the Secretaries of the Army, Navy, and Air Force for information. The views of the J.C.S. were considered in the preparation of this paper.

AGREED SECURITY PROCEDURE TO GOVERN BRUSSELS TREATY,POLITICAL AND MILITARY TALKS AND INFORMATIONEMERGING THEREFROM

1. METRIC. All papers comprising joint plans or containing information supplied by the other member nations and tabled at meetings of the Permanent Commission and Military Committee set up under the Brussels Treaty will bear the code word METRIC in order to indicate their origin and to ensure that they shall only be handled by the special METRIC Registries and distribution machinery established for this purpose. METRIC marking and METRIC procedure need not be applied to papers prepared in Ministries as briefs for delegates or to papers prepared as a result of decisions taken or information exchanged in the Permanent Commission or Military Committee unless such papers unavoidably compromise the security of SECRET joint decisions or of Secret information belonging to another member country.

2. GRADING. The code word METRIC is a security warning. Within METRIC, documents will be graded TOP SECRET, SECRET, CONFIDENTIAL or RESTRICTED according to their content. Responsibility for grading will rest with the originating authority, whether this be a Brussels Treaty body or an individual country. Standards for classification of documents in any of the security categories are set out at Appendix "A". These are necessarily open to interpretation and the final decision shall rest with the originating authority.

3. DOWNGRADING. No document will be downgraded without the agreement of the originating authority.

4. DISTRIBUTION LISTS. There will not be an automatic distribution for all METRIC documents according to security grading. Documents marked TOP SECRET may require to be seen by entirely different sets of departments in each country according to their contents. Distribution should, therefore, be laid down separately for each individual document according to its subject matter. This distribution will be agreed by the Committee dealing with the subject concerned. Where a particular document is tabled by an individual country the representatives of the other countries must be in a position to state what distribution of the document will be essential as far as their country is concerned and this will be jointly agreed.

5. DISTRIBUTING MACHINERY. All documents, having been graded and distribution agreed as laid down above, will be produced in the requisite quantity of numbered copies by the Secretariat which will also assign a reference number for registration purposes which does not give any indication of the contents. The Secretariat will then issue the requisite number of copies to each Delegation against receipt. The receipt should quote only the serial and reference number of the document and not its title. No METRIC documents should be copied or paraphrased in full. Departments receiving METRIC documents may, however, include extracts thereof so far as is necessary in papers prepared calling for action by subordinate branches. Additional copies, if necessary, may be obtained from the Secretariat.

6. Each country will set up a Central METRIC Registry and distributive machinery to handle METRIC documents. One end of this organisation will be set up by each country concerned in their own capitals. No METRIC material will be passed except through these channels.

The United Kingdom have set up similar special METRIC registry machinery.

7. The METRIC Registries set up by each country, either at the LONDON or Home end, will be responsible for ensuring the distribution laid down on each METRIC document. These Registries will further be responsible for the security of all METRIC documents in transit and for obtaining receipts at all hand-over points so that the progress of the package can be traced throughout.

8. It will be laid down by the national authority concerned which personnel by name, within each METRIC Registry may handle METRIC documents in each of the four security gradings. METRIC documents will be enclosed in an inner envelope marked with the grading allotted and the word METRIC. They will be enclosed in an outer envelope addressed to the officer in charge of the Metric Registry concerned and franked with a package number for receipting purposes. The word METRIC will NOT appear on the outer envelope. When the mail reaches the Registry the outer envelopes will be opened in the Central Metric Registry, but the inner envelopes will only be opened by Registry personnel on the list entitled to handle documents in the security grading shown on the inner envelope. Where there is a distribution to be made, this will be effected by the Registry personnel responsible for the grading concerned. When it is necessary to ensure that a document will be delivered to one named person only, the inner envelope will be marked accordingly and will not be opened in the Registry. Individual receipts will be attached to each copy of a document individually addressed and will be returned to the Secretariat, signed by the addressee.

9. Telephonic and telegraphic communications will NOT be used for the transmission or the discussion of METRIC information.

10. Transit of documents will in all cases be by accompanied bag.

11. HANDLING OF METRIC DOCUMENTS IN GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS. In the same way as with the Central METRIC Registries, when it becomes necessary for a Government Department or Service to handle METRIC documents selected personnel will be nominated in that department who will be authorized to handle METRIC documents in each of the four security categories. This might involve four lists in each case, the size of which will increase in inverse ratio to the secrecy of the document. All lists, however, will be kept to the workable minimum and must include not only the Ministers or officers who will act on the document, but the Secretaries, typists, registrars, etc. who will have to handle it. It follows therefore that a special registry parallel to the Central METRIC Registry will have to be set up in each of the Ministries concerned as it becomes involved.

12. SCREENING OF PERSONNEL. The security authority appointed for this purpose in each country will be responsible for establishing the reliability of all persons whose names appear on the lists of those who require to have access to METRIC documents, both in the registries and in the Government Departments and Services. In the case of those persons requiring to have access to TOP SECRET documents, even if there is no adverse trace in existing records, it may be necessary to conduct positive enquiries.

13. Where there is reason to doubt the reliability of any individual on these lists, the Minister responsible will be advised by the Security authority and it will be suggested that he should nominate an alternative. Personnel with unsatisfactory security records will, wherever possible be transferred outside the METRIC sphere.

14. Personnel engaged in handling METRIC material will be required to sign a document drawing their attention to their special responsibility for safeguarding such material, and their liability to prosecution if either by intent or negligence, they allow it to pass into unauthorised hands. The responsibilities of personnel so engaged should be explained verbally to them in the clearest possible terms.

15. ADMINISTRATIVE SECURITY. Defensive security measures in departments authorised to handle METRIC material will be centrally coordinated in each country and will be sufficient to satisfy the responsible Security authority in the country concerned. At Appendix "B" are notes on the defensive security measures considered desirable.

In particular, each department handling METRIC material will take steps to ensure that access to the special METRIC registry and offices dealing exclusively with METRIC affairs is denied not only to outside visitors but also to other personnel of the department not figuring on the lists.

16. PRESS RELEASES. Where no joint Press communique on any METRIC topic has been agreed by the Committee concerned, individual countries wishing to make a release to their own Press, will obtain clearance from the Permanent Commission Secretariat before doing so.

17. JOINT SECURITY CONTROL. The Government of each of the countries will appoint one fully qualified and permanent representative either to sit on a permanent Security Committee or to meet the other Security representatives as necessary, in order to discuss and formulate joint security policy to meet developments emerging from the progress of the talks e.g. extension of the field to which METRIC information is to be distributed.

18. Should the Permanent Commission decide to extend the BRUSSELS TREATY talks to cover economic or financial matters directly relevant to the political or military discussions, the security procedure relevant to any new Committees dealing with such points would have to be reviewed.

METRIC markings and procedure will not be extended to the proceedings of any committee except on the direct ruling of the Permanent Commission.

Lancaster House, S.W.1.

11th June, 1948.

SECRET

APPENDIX "A"STANDARDS FOR CLASSIFICATION OF DOCUMENTS1. TOP SECRET

Documents or information, the security aspect of which is paramount and whose unauthorized disclosure would cause exceptionally grave damage to our nations.

The following are some examples of matter which will normally fall within it:

(a) Very important political documents dealing with such matters as negotiations for alliances.

(b) Documents containing plans or details of schemes for the defence of vital strategic areas, including plans or particulars of major operations.

(c) Critical information of important new munitions of war, including major scientific and technical developments.

(d) Information of the methods used or successes obtained by Intelligence and Counter-Intelligence Services, or which would imperil the security of agents.

(e) Strengths of fighting services, types of formations, units and armaments, etc., planned for the future.

(f) Important economic matters concerning our war potential.

2. SECRET

Documents or information, the unauthorized disclosure of which would endanger national security, cause serious injury to the interests or prestige of our nations, or any governmental activity thereof, or would be of great advantage to a foreign nation, shall be classified as SECRET.

Examples of matter falling within this category are:

(a) Directives to representatives conducting important allied negotiations (directives on the conduct of major negotiations would come within the TOP SECRET category).

(b) Documents containing war plans or details of schemes for the defence of areas other than vital strategic areas, including plans or particulars of operations connected with them.

(c) Present strengths of fighting services, types of formations, units and armaments, etc.

(d) Knowledge concerning foreign countries, the value of which depends upon the country concerned not knowing that we possess it.

(e) Vital military information, including photographs, relating to important defences, establishments and installations.

(f) Discussions on the supply of important strategic materials.

3. CONFIDENTIAL

Documents or information, the unauthorised disclosure of which, while not endangering allied security, would be prejudicial to the interests or prestige of any nation, or to any governmental activity, or would cause administrative embarrassment, or difficulty, or be of advantage to a foreign power.

4. RESTRICTED

Documents or information (other than TOP SECRET, SECRET or CONFIDENTIAL) which should not be published or communicated to anyone except for official purposes.

Examples of matter falling within this category are:

(a) Departmental books of instruction and training and technical documents intended for official use only or not intended for release to the public.

(b) Routine documents relating to the supply and procurement of military stores.

APPENDIX "B"

This Appendix only attempts to indicate the matters which ought to be borne in mind when regulations for the handling of documents are drawn up and may conveniently be considered under the following headings:-

- (a) Preparation of documents.
- (b) Circulation.
- (c) Custody.
- (d) Transmission.

1. Preparation of Documents.

The points to be watched are that shorthand writers and typists should be specially selected for their discretion and sense of responsibility and that careful attention should be given to the destruction of spare or spoiled copies and of carbon papers and shorthand notes. Destruction by burning or by pulping under the supervision of a responsible officer is desirable. Special arrangements should be made for the collecting and destruction of the contents of waste paper baskets.

2. Custody.

Any person receiving a classified document should be responsible for its safe custody and should ensure that at all times, when not in use, it is kept under lock and key and preferably in a safe. When the holder of a document no longer has use for it, he should either return it to the originator or destroy it and inform the originator that he has done so. Whenever such a document is lost the person responsible for its safe custody should immediately inform whoever in his department is responsible for security so that an investigation may be put in hand at once. "TOP SECRET" documents will normally be kept in steel safes and "SECRET" documents in safes or steel cupboards. Special precautions should be taken to prevent safes being left closed but unlocked. These safes and cupboards should, if transportable by four or less men, be set in concrete or made immovable by other means. When steel cupboards are used, it is recommended that protecting steel bands around the cupboards, which can be secured by padlocks, be provided. "CONFIDENTIAL" documents may be kept in steel filing cabinets. "RESTRICTED" documents may be kept in any secure place to which the public do not have access.

3. Transmission.

Regulations are necessary governing the transmission of classified documents within departments, between departments in the same town, and between towns in the same country and overseas.

These regulations naturally depend upon the facilities available and no system of universal application is possible. All that can be said is that transmission by hand of a responsible officer or by Despatch Rider is considered to be the only safe means of transmission.

Classified information has, of course, frequently to be conveyed by word of mouth. No formal system of security will prevent indiscreet conversations and all that can be done is to instil a sense of responsibility and discretion into those who have to be let into the secrets. They must be educated not to discuss secrets outside their offices, never to talk about them even in their offices in the presence of strangers and in no circumstances to mention them over the telephone.

4. Buildings.

The types of precaution to be taken are:-

(a) Control of entrances to the buildings as a whole. This includes the closing of unessential entrances, the barring of windows and other means of entry and the provision of alert doorkeepers to watch unauthorised entrances.

(b) Pass System.

The points to watch are that the issue of passes is controlled in the sense that they are only given to those who really need them, that the holders are instructed to return them when they no longer require them and that a record of the holders is kept. Passes should be made valid for a specified period only (say 12 months) when they should all be called in and new passes of a different design and colour issued. Passes should bear the signature of the holder and should preferably include his photograph.

(c) Control of Visitors.

Visitors whether official or unofficial who do not hold passes should be allowed access only on giving their names to the doorkeeper and should be provided with a temporary pass valid only for that particular visit, which should include the visitor's name and the name of the official who is being visited. Before being allowed beyond the Entrance Hall the doorkeeper should check with the official whom the visitor wishes to see that he is willing to receive him. Thereafter the visitor should be conducted to the official's room by a messenger and the official should be made responsible for conducting the visitor out of the building when the interview is concluded, signing and handing in the temporary pass issued on entering.

(d) Office Security.

Rooms should be locked when left empty or all classified documents securely locked away. When a visitor is received, classified documents should not be left where they can be read by the visitor.

When it is necessary for classified documents to be passed from one official to another they should either be taken by hand by the official or, if given to messengers, should be enclosed in envelopes.

Night Watchmen who should be screened should be provided and should regularly patrol the building throughout the night. They should check that all safes and cupboards are locked and that no classified documents or waste paper are left lying about in offices. Keys of room doors, safes and cupboards should never be removed from the building and, at night, should be deposited at some central point where they are under the control of a specially selected Duty Officer.

My dear Mr. Attorney General:

Reference is made to your letter of June 15, 1948, in which you enclosed a copy of a personal and confidential memorandum from the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation entitled "Flow of Commercial, Economic and Industrial Intelligence to Foreign Governments, Internal Security - R", and my letter of acknowledgment thereto dated June 18, 1948, informing you that the matter had been referred to the Interdepartmental Committee for Industrial Security, which is under the general direction of SANACC.

With respect to consideration of this problem by the Interdepartmental Committee for Industrial Security, the Chairman thereof advises to the effect that the question of the B.W. potentialities of the equipment is being further studied, but that in the meanwhile it has been placed by the Department of Commerce upon the list of items export of which to the Soviet Union and satellites is prohibited.

The Interdepartmental Committee on Industrial Security will work out with the Interdepartmental Committee on Requirements the best way of ascertaining the scientific facts involved, and will furnish a further report to SANACC. I shall keep you informed of any further developments in this connection.

Office of the Secretary

August 11, 1948

My dear Mr. Saltzman:

As requested in your communication of August 4, 1948 (SANA-6183), the Department of the Interior is glad to concur in the paper SANACC 392/1 which establishes a policy for commercial fishing in the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

As the issuance and approval of this policy have been under consideration for a very long time during which the potential development of fishery enterprises in the Trust Territory has been delayed, it is requested that the policy be implemented at the earliest practicable date and that full public announcement of the policy be made in the form of a press release.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ Mastin G. White

Acting Assistant Secretary of the Interior.
