

MONTAVILLE FLOWERS

PATRIOTIC APPEAL FOR WINNING WAR AND A COMPLETE VICTORY PEACE

Montaville Flowers made good in his address on the subject, "The Case Against Germany," which he gave to a large audience on the street on Broadway just west of Brand boulevard Thursday evening.

After the Glendale Sanitarium band had played a half dozen numbers in a very acceptable manner, Mr. Flowers was introduced by J. C. Sherer, and for more than an hour the talented platform orator held the close attention of several hundred people, notwithstanding the passing electric cars put their bid in for a share of the speaker's time.

The Germans were described as a people who love war because they have been trained that it is honorable to engage in it; the German people love the Kaiser because they have been taught that to obey him frees them from all blame in the sight of God. The Kaiser has placed himself as superior to God.

The speaker paid a great tribute to the Belgian people in so gallantly withstanding the attack of the German soldiers until France could get a few weeks' time in which to get ready to protect themselves from complete annihilation by the enemy.

Mr. Flowers made clear to the audience the whole military scheme the Germans had planned to carry out, which was to destroy Belgium, conquer France and then later get possession of the seas, starve Great Britain, get control of Russia and then with the aid of all their subjects fall upon the United States. Germany in attempting to carry out her program has had many surprises. The Belgians gave them surprise number one and the French gave them surprise number two, and England broke into the war program sooner than the enemy had expected, and the determined stand by the United States has been a fourth surprise.

Mr. Flowers made a strong plea for a peace treaty with complete victory. No promises can be accepted from a nation that has repeatedly lied and deceived other nations.

Mr. Flowers closed his address with a patriotic appeal for all spare money to be paid over to the Government to aid in carrying on the war, and the only righteous end of the war could come when the soldiers of the allied nations take possession of Berlin and the Kaiser and his cohorts are placed on an isolated island to spend the remainder of their lifetime recalling the memories of the atrocities inflicted on defenseless men, helpless women and innocent children.

The whole address was made up of real facts, fundamental truths, told in a plain, forceful manner.

NO BAD INTENTIONS

The committee at the John Robert White, Jr., for Assembly headquarters has been subject to considerable criticism on account of the omission of names from the list of White's endorsers as published in the Evening News Monday of this week. The committee regrets greatly that these names were not reported in time for publication and it is only fair to the Evening News to state that all names turned in to this office were published.

WISH CORRESPONDENTS

SOLDIERS PINE FOR LETTERS FROM FAIR GLENDALE MAIDENS

The Glendale postoffice is in receipt of a letter from two soldier boys at Camp Fremont which they have turned over to the Glendale Evening News. These boys say they are lonesome and would like to correspond with some of the nice young ladies of Glendale, and ask to have a request to that effect inserted in a local paper. The boys say:

"This may sound strange to you, but nevertheless we are sincere. We are two lonesome soldiers who would like very much to correspond with some nice young ladies of your town so would like to have it made known in the columns of your paper. We would appreciate it very much if you would be kind enough to do this. We beg to remain,

Yours truly,
TWO LONESOME SOLDIERS."

This request may be the result of Glendale's splendid treatment of the soldiers who were stationed here on the rifle range. The names and addresses of the two boys making this request are on file at this office where they may be secured by any who wish to comply with their request.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

The Board of Trustees met in regular session at the City Hall at 8:00 p. m. July 25, 1918. In the absence of the Clerk, Trustee Shaw was appointed to serve as Clerk pro tem.

Present at Roll Call: Jackson, Muhleman, Shaw, Woodberry.

Absent: Henry.

Owing to the absence of the Clerk, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting was, on motion, dispensed with.

Under head of communications, a report was received from the Library Board submitting their budget for the current fiscal year; the same was read, and on motion Trustee Muhleman, referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Communication was read from Sam P. Stoddard tendering the use of a room on Broadway for the purposes of the Exemption Board for consideration of $5.00 per month. No action taken.

A petition signed by about eighty of the residents of Oak drive and Ninth street, the name of which throughout it was proposed to change to Windsor road, protesting against the change and requesting that the name be Windsor avenue, Windsor street or Windsor drive, the latter preferred, was received, and on motion of Trustee Shaw, referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Demands were referred to the Finance Committee.

The City Attorney called attention to the fact that where the city ordinance provides for meeting of the Board of Equalization on the fourth Monday in July, and the same had been duly advertised, the state law provides for the meeting of the Board on the second Monday in August. In view of this fact, the meeting of the Board of Equalization will be held in accordance with the provisions of the State Law, and not on the 29th of July as advertised.

A communication was read from M. A. Rosenfeld, whose junk license had previously been cancelled by the Board of Trustees, requesting that a new license be issued to him. On motion of Trustee Jackson, the request was denied.

A communication was read from Montaville Flowers, inviting the attendance of the members of the Board at his lecture to be given on this date.

The City Manager presented a summary of expenditures on account of the General Budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918. The statement showed that the total expenditure for the year just ending has been $1945.95 less than the total budget appropriation.

On motion of Trustee Shaw, a resolution was read and adopted, as Resolution No. 1039, "A Resolution of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale providing for the establishment of General Budget Fund, General Reserve Fund and General Service Fund, and for discontinuing the General Fund and Lot Cleaning (Continued on Page 3)

ALLIED ADVANCE STEADY

(By Fred S. Ferguson, United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, July 26.—Under Franco-American pressure driving upon Fere-en-Tardenois the Germans are facing retirement across the Ourcq under the same circumstances as their retreat across the Marne.

The allied advance is generally steady along the two highways to Fere-en-Tardenois from the south and the southwest. There was particularly hard fighting in Fere wood. Practically all of the interior of the salient is under fire from allied artillery and air men.

The shelling of Fere-en-Tardenois has destroyed the elaborate railway and highway systems by which the Germans expected to escape. The tightening of the pocket continues.

While British, French and Italians are progressing on the front between Rheims and Soissons, Americans and French are jamming the sides of the Fere-en-Tardenois pocket and making the exit narrower.

On the heels of the advancing Americans are refugees returning to their homes in the recaptured French villages. They find their homes demolished, crops ruined and wreckage and corpses strewn in the fields.

Trench warfare is almost forgotten in this drive. Armored cars, mounted troops and skirmishing parties are being employed.

GERMANY'S SACRIFICE

LOSSES IN LAST FORTNIGHT ESTIMATED AT 150,000—PREPARED TO LOSE HALF A MILLION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, July 26.—High officials estimate that Germany's losses the past fortnight have reached 150,000. It is doubtful if American losses exceed 25,000 or if all the allies have lost more than 100,000.

Secretary Baker announces that America's losses are not out of proportion with the numbers engaged and the extent of the operations.

Rome reports that Ludendorff told the Kaiser he was prepared to sacrifice a half million men and the Kaiser approved.

ALLIES NEAR FERRE-EN-TARDENOIS

CAPTURE FERRE FOREST, FRANQUET WOOD AND VILLEMONTIER IN ADVANCE ON IMPORTANT BASE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, July 26.—French and American forces have taken Fere forest and are within three and a quarter miles of Fere-en-Tardenois. The Americans repelled counter attacks on both sides of the road north toward Fere-en-Tardenois.

The capture of Oulchy-le-Chateau is announced. The principal resistance centers on the west side of the salient.

Villemontier, midway between Oulchy-le-Chateau and Soissons, was captured by the French after a fierce struggle. Hundreds of prisoners and scores of machine guns were taken.

BRITAIN STRIKE GROWS

IT IS FEARED HALF A MILLION WORKERS WILL QUIT WORK IF AGREEMENT IS NOT REACHED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
LONDON, July 26.—It is feared the 200,000 munitions workers out on strike will be increased to half a million by Tuesday unless the trouble is settled in the meantime. The strikers demand a withdrawal of the embargo on labor and the government refuses to comply with this demand.

MAIN-DE-MASSIGES RECAPTURED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
PARIS, July 26.—The allies today are conducting offensive operations along the whole original "German Drive" front from Soissons to Main de Massiges in addition to closing in on Fere-en-Tardenois and gaining ground in the Champagne. Most of the outpost positions lost in the German offensive have been recovered. Main-de-Massiges has been reported recaptured.

WESTERN UNION INDICTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
NEW YORK, July 26.—Charging a violation of the federal law prohibiting a private firm competing with the United States postal service, the federal grand jury indicted the Western Union telegraph company, charging the company had transmitted 350,000 messages by special messenger from New York to nearby cities.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

R. C. UDELL STRUCK BY AUTO IN A CRITICAL CONDITION

R. C. Udell, of 544 Orange Grove avenue, is at Thornycroft hospital following a serious accident on Wednesday evening in Los Angeles, when he was struck by a machine while returning home from his work at the ship yards. Mr. Udell is suffering from concussion of the brain, having recovered consciousness on Thursday for the first time since his injury.

The accident occurred at Sixth and Los Angeles streets when Mr. Udell was changing from the San Pedro to the Glendale car. It was charged that the driver of the machine was going at a high rate of speed and the blame was placed entirely upon him at the Los Angeles police station. The victim was cut slightly on one arm and about both knees, though these minor injuries were of small consequence. The extent of the brain concussion is still impossible to determine, according to his physicians.

The victim was rushed to the receiving hospital in Los Angeles immediately after being struck down, and late on Wednesday evening was brought out to Glendale. He has a wife and three small children.

FLOWERS FOR CONGRESS

In another column of this issue is published an account of the address delivered last evening in Glendale by Montaville Flowers of Monrovia, who is a candidate for Congress from the Ninth Congressional District. Mr. Flowers' subject was "The Case Against Germany," and it is impossible to convey to our readers the patriotic spirit in which this address was delivered. It was truly a masterpiece in every particular. Mr. Flowers has a national reputation as a man of financial integrity and practical business ability. The Flowers' campaign platform was published in the Evening News of Thursday, July 25.

FLOWERS' CAMPAIGN

Montaville Flowers' campaign for Congress is meeting with success far beyond expectations, according to information supplied by his campaign manager. Immense audiences have gathered at many of the larger cities in the District to hear him speak, and it is said that before the date of the primaries Mr. Flowers will have addressed more than one hundred thousand voters. At Claremont, Monrovia, Pasadena and other points, the audiences surrounded Mr. Flowers when he had finished, pledging their support and giving evidence of the greatest enthusiasm.

At Pomona 4000 people filled the Greek Theatre and continuously applauded his patriotic address, "The Case Against Germany," which Mr. Flowers had originally prepared and given in many parts of the East, co-operating with the Committee on Public Information and the War Council of the Red Cross at Washington.

SUMMER SERMONS

The pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian Church has arranged an attractive series of summer sermons, to be delivered both Sabbath mornings and evenings during the coming seven weeks. Morning at 11 o'clock "Seven Bethany Sermons" based on the eleventh chapter of the Gospel of St. John. Key thought, "He whom thou lovest is sick." These will be messages for the times, and the public is invited to hear them.

Sabbath evenings, 7:45, a series of seven popular messages with the Gospel appeal. General theme, "Men who have turned the world upside down." Among others the following: Jerome Savonarola, Peter Cartwright, Christmas Evans, General William Booth, George Muller, George Fox and Billy Bray.

Watch these columns for further announcement and plan to be present every Sabbath evening. All are welcome.

SERGT. EMERY ON THE OTHER SIDE

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, of 117 South Kenwood street, have received a card from their son, First Sergt. Owen C. Emery of Co. C, 316th Ammunition Train, telling of his safe arrival in France. Sergt. Emery was stationed at Camp Lewis, from where he went directly to Camp Mills for embarkation, being in camp sufficient long to get into New York City twice, according to letters received by his family.

WEATHER FORECAST

Fair tonight and Saturday. Cloudy along the coast tonight and tomorrow morning. Light westerly winds.

AN OPPORTUNITY

OFFERED BY SALVAGE DEPARTMENT TO RENDER SERVICE TO RED CROSS

The people of Glendale are meeting the demands of war conditions nobly, both in great matters and in small, and we know it will be their wish that the officers and committee heads of the Red Cross should make any suggestions whereby they can be of still more assistance, so please take note of these few suggestions offered by Mr. Spencer, acting manager for the Red Cross:

Please save all newspapers, magazines, circulars and catalogues and when possible bring them to the salvage department just back of the P. E. depot. If there is no one there, leave them at the door and they will be taken care of. Leave them as flat and straight as possible so they will be the easier to handle and make into packages. It has been quite a task to get autos to gather the salvage to cover the town every week and even once in two weeks, so the more that can be brought in the greater convenience to the work. The committee has decided that the baling of scrap paper and pasteboard and all trash paper does not pay so have discontinued that part for a while so the people who have such can burn it at home and save the department that much work.

Bring or send in your tinfoil laid out flat as much as possible as it takes up less space and is easier to handle that way.

We need automobiles Saturdays to gather the salvage and we need men, women and children to help take care of it.

This department of the Red Cross is a very good money maker and the help of every citizen is needed to develop it to its full capacity.

We can use anything that the junk man will buy, old iron, brass, copper, rubber, rags, old clothes, shoes, bottles, etc.

Give the salvage department a hand and let us see how much we can produce from it in the coming month. This is a big work. In Los Angeles 126 business firms donate one truck a day each with driver to this work. The gasoline stations furnish the gasoline. They have a donation of four trucks for use all the time. Last month they gathered and sold 8000 pounds of tinfoil which netted them $1700.

Is every citizen of Glendale doing all he or she can to help the Red Cross? Any questions regarding the work will be promptly answered if you will call Glendale 870-W or Red Cross headquarters, Glendale 1147.

DEATH OF MISS CUSHING

Miss Elizabeth H. Cushing passed away on Wednesday night after a brief illness, at the age of 45 years, at her home, 420 North Glendale avenue, Tropic. She is survived by a mother, Mrs. L. L. Cushing, of 501 Mariposa avenue, a sister, Mrs. Hamilton Eckstein, and a brother, C. H. Cushing, librarian at the Glendale branch library in Tropic. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home at 420 North Glendale avenue, and were private Rev. R. J. Ryder, pastor of the Tropic Presbyterian church, officiated and Mrs. John Hobbs and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson sang. Interment will be at Forest Lawn cemetery.

A business meeting of the Y. P. B. was held on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Bernie Morehouse, 133 Lomita avenue, election of officers and delegates being the important object of the meeting. Among the other matters taken up was the plan for giving a party for the sailor boys at the submarine base at San Pedro. This was voted on and the party will probably be given some time in August. Five dollars was voted toward an electric fan for a soldiers' hospital, this being the second year that this same gift has been made by this chapter. Following the business session, a social hour was enjoyed, the hostess serving refreshments very attractively. The officers elected were: Fred Bowman, president; Miss Emma Esterly, vice-president; Miss Helen Esterly, secretary; Miss Faith Tarling, corresponding secretary; Miss Elizabeth Mottern, treasurer. The two delegates elected were Miss Hazel Walters and Miss Ruth Palmer.

The state convention of Y. P. B. is to be held on August 22 and 23, at the University Methodist church in Los Angeles. The Los Angeles chapter is to act as hostess.

ONE GERMAN DEFILES THE KAISER

Maximilian Harden's position in Germany can hardly be compared to the one occupied by Tolstoy in the Russia of other days, for Harden is not a man of international fame in any such sense as Tolstoy was, and foreigners are not particularly interested in his fate. They are not indebted to him for great works of literary art, as they were to the mad Russian who was also a genius, and they would have no ground for protesting if against him the German government exercised the right of self-defense which then the worst of governments has as natural and inalienable. Yet Harden, though so different in so many ways from Tolstoy—chiefly, perhaps, in possessing the hardest and soundest of common sense—enjoys a like immunity from either persecution or prosecution.

He is always writing and printing things which, coming from anybody else in Germany, would be held seditious, if not treasonable, and punished after the stern German fashion of punishing those crimes. To Harden, however, nothing happens, or at worst nothing except an occasional brief suspension of his paper, and after every interval of silence he begins again, committing anew the dreadful crime of telling the truth about Germany, her statesmen, her generals, her policies, and even her sacred lord and ruler, the Kaiser.

His latest transgression of all the rules laid down for German journalists seems to have been his boldest, and therefore his worst. He scatters condemnation and contempt in all directions, taking care only that none shall fall beyond the frontier of the Fatherland. For the allies, curiously enough, he has appreciation, if not affection, and he vindicates their cause about as well as they could do it themselves. He even dares to tell why they can celebrate the national anniversaries of each other, in spite of their past enmities.

"People who in freedom choose the way of their destiny," he writes, "can always reach friendship," and he lucidly explains why "Windsor" has forgotten the wound inflicted in 1776, though Austria will never join Germany in commemorating 1742. This is a line of argument that could not be followed too far or too closely, and that is the reason, presumably, why Harden says nothing about several other "days" which, for some few centuries, at least, Great Britain, France and the United States will not unite in celebrating.

"CARRY ON"

The fighting slogan in France, gathering inspiration and significance as the conflict grows more violent and more desperate, is "Carry on." On land, on sea, in the air, it rings sharp and clear.

Into the front line trenches comes the signal to charge. The company commander swings "over the top." At his heels pushing, stumbling through the hell of no man's land, come the boys. They gain a yard—five, ten, and the machine guns speak. The commander falls, but over his shoulder, above the din of battle, he shouts: "Carry on, lieutenant!"

"Carry on" must be our slogan here at home. We must carry on to the utmost limit—to the last dollar of our resources, till Victory is won. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder.

Carry on!

SAVING TIME AND MATERIAL

Conditions are changing so rapidly in this old world of ours that a man must be a good sprinter to keep up with the most recent advances from governmental headquarters. The existence of unnecessary salesmen, peddlers and vendors is being discouraged and people are advised to purchase articles formerly bought from peddlers from regular dealers. The former notion peddler is now expected to fill a useful position that will release some one for war duty.

Now the order comes to you in plain language, buy judiciously from established dealers. Dealers are ordered to cut out all publicity waste. The throwing about of printed matter in a promiscuous way is discouraged. Publicity is advised to be given through newspapers of authorized existence. Even newspapers must not be given out as sample copies as heretofore.

The American waste practice is being called to the attention of the people and it is well that it should be.

Conserve food by purchasing an Alaska refrigerator from the Glendale Hardware Company, 621-623 West Broadway.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy and beautiful flowers in my bereavement.

Miss Ruth Rhodes, of Pasadena, was the house guest for several days last week of Miss Katherine Renshaw at her home, 1462 Lomita avenue.

The Red Cross will gather salvage west of Brand boulevard and north of Tenth street tomorrow. You can help the cause by having your papers and magazines and other salvage out on the curb in front so the Red Cross machines can see them.

Mrs. R. H. Wells of 1504 West Broadway left Wednesday for a two months' visit in Colorado. She will spend considerable time in Denver, Pueblo and other Colorado cities and will visit in Arizona and New Mexico on her return.

Capt. J. L. Flint of the Medical Reserve Corps left Wednesday evening for Camp Fremont, where he will be stationed for the present. Mrs. Flint and little son, Rinard Wells, will follow the doctor as soon as he can find suitable quarters for them in Palo Alto.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Ogg, of 149 South Kenwood, Mrs. G. F. Lattar, of 316 Boynton street, and Miss Bernice Morehouse, of 133 Lomita avenue, returned yesterday evening from Catalina Island, where they have been spending the past ten days. Mr. Ogg having joined the party on Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Mottern and family returned yesterday evening to their home, 1109 West Fifth street, from a camping trip in Bouquet canyon. The party motored up, starting early Monday morning and taking with them a tent and all the accessories of an out-of-door camp. They report a glorious holiday and feel that camping is the one ideal way of taking a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. MacBain, of 608 Lomita avenue, returned on Thursday evening from a three-day trip to Catalina Island, where they enjoyed the fishing in their 22-foot power yacht. With them were Mr. and Mrs. McKay, friends from Omaha, now stopping in Los Angeles. Mr. MacBain reports the fishing fine and a good time in every way.

Mrs. Glenn Widmark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Morehouse, of 133 Lomita avenue, is on her way south from Seattle, where she has been living for the past few weeks to be near her husband, who has been sent forward for over-seas service. Mrs. Widmark is a January bride, her husband being called to service in April, when he was sent to Camp Lewis. He was in camp but two months before leaving for the front. Mrs. Widmark is now in Berkeley, where she is visiting friends, and she expects to be in Glendale with her parents in the near future.

The group of Glendale girls who went last week as recruits for the Woman's Land Army of America, and were sent to Hemet, have been transferred to the Eddie Maier ranch at Santa Susanna. Twenty-five of the Hemet workers were transferred to this new location following a slackening up of the apricot supply at the Hemet cannery. The Glendale girls who are now at the new location are Miss Lorraine Mitchell, Miss Elsie Church, Miss Maybelle Douglas and her sister, Miss Harriet Douglas, Miss May Lahey, Miss Bertha Berry and Miss Mary Doyle.

Seventeen members of the Woman's Bible Class of the Baptist Church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. Marsh, on Central avenue. At a short business session a new teacher was elected, Miss Powell being the one chosen to succeed Mrs. Houdyshel, whose resignation has been accepted. The afternoon was then devoted to the piecing of quilts for the Belgian relief work. The hostess served light refreshments, being assisted by Mrs. C. E. Reed.

John Quackenbush, of 119 East Colorado, suffered a painful injury on Thursday afternoon when he broke his right wrist while cranking his car. Mr. Quackenbush was at his work in Los Angeles and was brought home by a member of his firm. Though his arm was set as soon as possible, Mr. Quackenbush suffered considerable pain through the night, but is resting easier now. Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, who has been quite ill for some time, is expecting to have a slight operation on the jaw bone next week, after which it is hoped her health will be speedily restored.

Philip W. Parker, of 331 South Central avenue, was delightfully surprised on Thursday evening when seventeen of the thirty-two members of his family came to remind him that it was his birthday. This was the first time in many years that all had not been present. Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cornwell and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Coberly and son Jim, and the Misses Katherine and Rose Duncan, besides the host and hostess, all of Glendale, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Frackelton, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Parker and Miss Dorothy, all of Los Angeles.

Mrs. May Cox, of Long Beach, and her mother, Mrs. Wix of Butler, Missouri, were guests the first of the week of Mrs. John Orth at her home, 435 South Central avenue.

The Foothill Club was entertained last Friday by Mrs. Everett Barnes at her home, 1303 Brand boulevard. Mrs. G. K. Barnes, the president, presided, and the meeting was given over to the Red Cross needlework to which the club has been devoted for some months past. There was a good attendance of members despite vacation time attractions otherwise. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and the hostess served light refreshments.

Miss Barbara Mitchell, of 2001 Kenneth road, returned home this morning after a visit at the home of Miss Ruth Brown, of 1520 Stocker street. Miss Brown is librarian at the University of Southern California. Miss Mitchell has just passed the teachers' examination at Riverside and is now eligible for a teaching position. The examinations are very difficult and Miss Mitchell won high honors, a decidedly creditable achievement.

Mrs. O. S. Palmer, of 116 West Colorado street, who has been suffering from a severely sprained left wrist, is feeling less pain in the arm, which is mending very satisfactorily. Mrs. Palmer's daughter, Miss Ruth Palmer, is planning to go to college this fall, but whether she will leave home for some school further away, or will attend the University of Southern California, is still a debated question. Miss Palmer is planning to specialize in art work.

Miss Francis Gauntlet, of 735 South Verdugo road, will be hostess next Tuesday to a group of her High School classmates on the occasion of her birthday. The party is to be a "stunt party" with many surprises to be revealed. Most of the girls are to be juniors at the Glendale Union High School next year. Those present will be Misses Margaret and Olive Taylor, Alice Ewins, Cecilia Lyons, Elizabeth Mottern, Ruth Palmer and Emma and Helen Esterly.

Registration for the Primaries closes Saturday. There are one thousand voters in Glendale alone who have registered and failed or neglected to state their party affiliation. The Anti-Saloon League has handed a list of these names to D. J. Hibben with the request that these citizens be interviewed and urged to state their party affiliation before it is too late so that they may vote for candidates who are pledged to support the National Dry Amendment. Registrations may be made at the Glendale City Hall or at the office of Spencer Robinson on Broadway near Glendale avenue.

KEEP SMILING

Life's too short to wear long faces. While there's so much work to do; The darkest cloud will oft show traces Of some brightness shining through.

Sighing over things unpleasant Is a shocking waste of time; Work there is for prince and peasant. And to shirk it is a crime.

The world owes every man a living— When he's earned it—but mark: You'll not find it to be given Much to them that shirk their work.

When misfortune overtakes you, Which it will once in a while, It will have no power to vex you If you work and wear a smile.

When a man can laugh at trouble, He'll never sink with the weight of care; Grieving makes a sorrow double And you've twice as much to bear.

Pluck up courage and defy it, And it soon will slink away, And to prove it, just once try it, And you'll surely bless the day.

Then you'll find friends glad to meet you, Life will pass in grander style, Helping hands extend to greet you, When they see you wear a smile.

Give up grunting and repining, Walk on the sunny side of the street; Never let folks catch you whining And you'll find the world at your feet.

If your schemes should prove unlucky, Bear your losses with a grin; Folks admire a chap that's plucky, Try again, and never give in. Let folks think there's nothing you're lacking.

Let them think you've made a pile, And you'll get no end of backing While you work and wear a smile. FRANK BOOTH, 906 W. Broadway, Glendale, Cal.

U., the guests being the state officers of the W. C. T. U. The luncheon was a genuine conservation meal despite its plentiful and delicious attractiveness, since it consisted almost entirely of food products from the hostess' own garden. The afternoon was spent in games and merry guessing contests in which Mrs. Mulford and Mrs. Wheeler were conspicuous winners. Nature poetry recited by each person present was one of the requirements. The decorations were Japanese throughout, hand-painted fans being the favors. Those present were Mrs. Stella B. Irvine and Mr. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Mulford, Mrs. Jennie Thompson, Mrs. Hattie Doughty, Mrs. Hattie Young, Miss Alice Crum, Mrs. Eva Wheeler, Mrs. Julia D. AMERICA'S SELF-SACRIFICE—A MORAL DEMONSTRATION

By Harold Begbie

(An English writer, in the Outlook) One of the finest moral actions in this war has been done by America. It is action on a gigantic scale, and yet of a directly personal character. Insufficient publicity, I think, has been given to this action.

Is it realized by the people of this country that America has already saved us from capitulating to the enemy? Either we should have been forced into this surrender (with our armies unbroken and our munitions of war unexhausted) or we should at this moment be struggling to live and work and fight on one-third of our present rations.

America is sending to these islands almost two-thirds of our food supplies. Sixty-five per cent of the essential foodstuffs eaten by the British citizen comes to him from the American continent. This in itself is something which calls for our lively gratitude. But there is a quality in the action of America which should intensify our gratitude. For these American supplies, essential to our health and safety, represent in very large measure the personal and voluntary self-sacrifice of the individual American citizen. They are not crumbs from the table of Dives. They are not the commandeered supplies of an autocratic government. They represent, rather, the kindly, difficult, and entirely willing self-sacrifice of a whole Nation, the vast majority of whom are working people.

There is only one altar for this act of sacrifice—it is the table of the American working classes. And the rite is performed by men, women, and children, at every meal of the day, day after day, week after week.

This act of self-sacrifice, let us remember, is made in the midst of plenty. Well might the American housewife ask why she should deprive her children of food, why she should institute wheatless and meatless days, when all about her there is a visible superabundance of these things. Questions such as these are natural enough on the other side of the Atlantic, and on the other side of the American continent, though five thousand miles away from the battlefields of France.

But the citizens of America do not ask such questions. With a cheerfulness and a courage which are as vigorous as their industry, and as a moral earnestness which is by far the greatest demonstration America has yet given to the world of American character, these people so far away from us on the other side of the Atlantic have willingly and with no coercion by the state denied themselves for the sake of the Entente. They are going short, they are going hungry, for our sakes. They are practicing an intimate self-sacrifice in order that we may hold our own till their sons come to fight at our side. All over America the individual American citizen is making this self-sacrifice, and making it without a murmur. He is feeding, by his personal self-sacrifice, not only these islands, but France, Italy, and many of the neutrals.

This great demonstration of character has had no other impetus than the simple declaration of the facts by Herbert Hoover, the man who fed Belgium. Hoover has told his countrymen how things stand. That is all. The winter of 1918, he declared to them, will prove to mankind whether or not the American Nation "is capable of individual self-sacrifice to save the world." His propaganda has never descended to unworthy levels. He has appealed always to the conscience of his countrymen. He has spoken of "a personal obligation upon every one of us towards some individual abroad who will suffer privation to the extent of our own individual negligence."

America has answered this appeal in a manner which marks her out as one of the greatest moral forces in the world. It should be known out there, in the farmhouses and cottages of the American continent, that the people of this country, tightening their belts and confronting the future with an indestructible confidence, are mindful of America's self-sacrifice, and are grateful to her men and women and children for their self-sacrifice—self-sacrifice which will save the world.

YANKS' ARRIVAL IS YEAR'S BIG EVENT

By J. W. T. Mason

NEW YORK, July 26.—The arrival of America's first million troops in France, ensuring the final defeat of German militarism, has been the most important event of the fourth year of the war.

The turning point in modern civilization will probably be dated by future historians from the year of strife now closing, because of America's resolve to consent to no peace until the Hohenzollern menace to the world is crushed. Despite the fact that American troops have played only a minor part in the year's fighting, the United States has predominantly influenced the strategy of the fourth year of the war. The outstanding battlefield facts of the year have been von Hindenburg's maddened efforts to break the British and French fronts, and General Foch's counter-policy of patient defense.

It was fear of America's fast accumulating military strength that compelled von Hindenburg to engage in his campaign of ruthlessly sacrificing his own troops; and it was the knowledge of the overwhelming reinforcements America was sending to the Allies that permitted General Foch to see his lines driven back, without loss of morale to the allied forces. Every major plan worked out in Berlin as well as in the capitals of the allies this year, has similarly been based fundamentally upon America's forthcoming major activities in the war.

The American successes during the year in Picardy and in the Chateau-Thierry sector have been minor affairs, regarded as isolated engagements. But all the victories of von Hindenburg in Flanders, Picardy and Champagne do not compare in their ultimate consequences with the promise to world democracy contained in the American operations at Cantigny, Belleau Wood and Vaux.

Starting the fourth year of the war with arrogant threats to the allies of new changes in the map of Europe unless the successes of the German armies were accepted as decisive, the German government has ended the year by confessing that battlefield victories can not bring peace. Foreign Minister von Kuhlmann's pronouncement to this effect in the Reichstag ranks second only to America's immense war preparations as the year's most significant event. The reluctance of the Kaiser's militarists to compel the resignation of von Kuhlmann immediately after his repudiation of the invincibility of the German army is indicative of the sobering effect the presence of a million American troops in France is having even on von Hindenburg.

It is apparent that as the fifth year of warfare begins, the German leaders are taking an increasingly grave view of the situation facing them. They dare not promise a decisive victory to the Kaiser's deluded subjects any longer. The people of Germany are being prepared, in fact, for the assumption of a permanently defensive role by von Hindenburg. This, although the fourth year of conflict has seen von Hindenburg display an unprecedented degree of power in offensive warfare, nevertheless, the year ends with an admission by the German government that by these means peace can not be won. In that fact is the certainty of ultimate victory for democracy.

Affairs in Austro-Hungary during the past year have been highly unsatisfactory to the Germans. The people of the dual monarchy have shown no gratitude for the German assistance which permitted the Austro-Hungarians to recover their lost territory in the Isonzo area and to drive the Italians back to the Piave. Since the victory of the Central Powers in Italy, Austro-Hungary has become increasingly reluctant to continue the war. Rioting has occurred sporadically in Vienna and many other cities, but as yet nothing suggesting a direct revolutionary success has occurred.

The Austro-Hungarians unquestionably have become the most war weary of all the peoples in the conflict during the past year. Hunger has pinched them with special severity, largely because of their lack of capacity for organization. Fearful of a collapse in the Hapsburg Empire, the German government has appealed the hunger rioters by sending them food from Germany's own scanty store. This measure, however, can only be temporary. When Germany no longer is able to send grain to Vienna, there will come an intensification of the strain that may compel Austro-Hungary to drop out of the war.

Russia's plight during the fourth year of the war has struck a middle course between the two usual channels of revolution. There has been no such series of excesses that marked the reign of terror during the French Revolution, nor have events followed the orderly precedent of the English revolution. Violence has prevailed among the Russians, but their principal handicap has not been a tendency toward a crime. It has been a naive faith in formulas coupled with a childlike lack of education. Nevertheless, the revolution, however faulty, gives fairer hope for the future of Russia than a continuation of the reign of the mentally incompetent Romanoffs.

Since the separate peace with the Central Powers was signed by the Bolsheviks, suggestions have been made for a policy of revenge toward Russia on the part of the allies. Wiser advice, however, has prevailed. No scheme of intervention in Russia has been proposed that has seemed feasible and without danger to the cause of democracy.

If democracy's ideals are sound, the Germans can not crush them in Russia. The Russians are accepting terrible sacrifices rather than permit a Germanized organization to restore normal conditions of living. The older democracies of the west should remember the crudities of their own revolutionary epochs, and should be patient with Russia. Not otherwise can freedom dominate the world.

TEACHING THE POILUS BASEBALL

Teaching French soldiers how to play baseball is one of the tasks of American Y. M. C. A. war work secretaries in France and it sometimes leads to surprising incidents. A Y. M. C. A. secretary was umpiring and coaching two teams of poilus playing playground ball. The batter took a healthy swing with his small bat and smote the soft ball in a screaming liner straight for the pitcher. The latter protected his face with his hands and the sphere struck him squarely in the chest. The pitcher's expressive features registered surprise and reproach over this so unexpected assault. As for the batter, did he reach first? He did not. He ran straight for the pitcher, embraced him and apologized for hitting him!

Go easy with your spoon—more than five million soldier boys are dipping from that sugar bowl.
