FLYERS AT PORTLAND, MAINE!

CITY FIFTH IN SOUTHWEST BUILDING

FOG FORCES AVIATORS TO MAKE LANDING

Long Flight to Boston Is Halted as Result of Weather Conditions

AIRPORT, Boston, Sept. 5.—The American flyers were forced to land at Orris Island, off Portland, Maine, at 5 o'clock this afternoon because of heavy fog, according to a telephone message from Lieutenant Allard, air service officer at Portland, to Lieutenant Robert J. Brown, chairman of the world flight.

Lieutenant Brown informed Lieutenant Allard that the weather from Portsmouth was thick, but to advise Lieutenant Smith that if he could get through as far as Portsmouth he could make Boston tonight.

World Aviators Are Due Home After Long Absence

EAST BOSTON, Sept. 5.—America's earth girdling aviators were to come home today after an absence of nearly six months during which time they have flown 22,000 miles over twenty-six countries and blazed the first aerial pathway around the globe.

When Lieut. Lowell R. Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson, the two daring Yankee birdmen who have completely circumnavigated the globe, pass over the boundary line between Canada and the United States early this afternoon, closely followed by Lieut. Leigh Wade, who rejoined the flyers at Pictou in a new plane, they were to be over American soil again for the first time.

The flyers struck New England territory at 1:20 p. m. when they soared over Eastport, Maine, northernmost point of the Pine Tree state, according to a wireless message.

85 Miles Per Hour. The navy wireless station reported the flyers passing over Meacham, Maine, at 2:40 p. m. Once over American territory the flyers seemed to be making phenomenal speed, and at 3:05 were reported to have passed over Bar Harbor, Maine.

At 3:20 the flyers were reported to be 230 miles from Boston and were traveling at the rate of

Key To War Situation

The key-points in the ominous Chinese situation are shown by the map. Troops of Kiangsu and Chekiang provinces are drawn up in battle formation about Shanghai (1); refugees are pouring into Shanghai from Nanking and Hangchow (2); and the volunteer defense corps of the foreign colony in Shanghai, equipped (as shown above) with armored cars, is preparing to defend the foreign quarter from attack; American and British warships from Wei-Hai-Wei and Chefoo (3) are prepared to protect foreign interests; Gen. Chang-Tso-Ling, war lord of Manchuria (4), is ready to attack the Peking government; Gen. Wa Pei Fu of Peking (5), seeking to master all China, is moving to rush the rebel province of Chekiang, where Gen. Lu Yung Hsing (shown above) is supreme, to clear the way for war on the South China government of Canton.

RUSH AMERICANS OUT OF CHINESE BACK COUNTRY

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5.—The spectre of famine, ever present in China, reared its head here today. The million Chinese residents of Shanghai, always but one step ahead of the direst poverty, are now verging on starvation as a result of the influx of the past week of more than 300,000 refugees and the complete cutting off of the sources of supply of rice and meats. The price of rice, the Chinese staff of life, already has doubled. The widest anxiety clouds the Chinese population as the conscription of coolies proceeds. Some looting has occurred in the native city. Many shops have closed. Popular anger against the soldiery is growing.

Woman Missionary Rides Fifteen Miles In Wheelbarrow, Making Thrilling Escape In Cross Fire Of Rival Armies

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5.—The American consulate is evacuating all Americans from the country districts in the vicinity of Shanghai.

Miss A. G. Waters, a Methodist missionary at Nanziang, rode fifteen miles in a wheelbarrow to Shanghai after a thrilling escape under cross-fire of the opposing forces.

In an effort to break down the morale of the Kiangsu army, the Chekiang forces today began an aerial bombardment of the enemy's lines.

Six airplanes, piloted by Russian aviators, crossed the Kiangsu lines between Huang Tu Liuhou, dropping bombs. No reports have yet been received as to the results of the bombing.

The Chekiang forces have a fleet of thirty-two planes and the Kiangsu forces eight. Their employment in the civil hostilities

DEFENSE DAY PARADE IS PLANNED

Committee Holds Meeting To Arrange Details of Patriotic Gathering

Every able-bodied man in Glendale, between the ages of 18 and 45 years, is urged to march in the Defense Test Day parade that will be held in Glendale on Friday, September 12, as part of the demonstration that is to be staged on that day throughout the nation, according to an announcement made today by the American Legion, that has been appointed to have charge of the day's program.

Walter Gorman, Back From Europe, Describes Big Storm on Atlantic

A vivid picture of the tropical hurricane that swept the North Atlantic on August 26 is painted by Walter Gorman of 215 West Chestnut street, who, with his family, arrived back in Glendale yesterday, after a summer in Europe.

In the party were Mr. Gorman's wife, his daughter, Mrs. Elsie June, and her little daughter, June. Mr. Gorman is an instructor in the woodshop at the Harvard High school.

"About 2 o'clock the afternoon of August 26 there suddenly fell a hushed calm, and the Atlantic became as smooth as the lake in Echo park," he says, in narrating the experience.

"From the stern of our ship, the giant white Star liner Homeric, we could hear distinctly the voices of people gathered at the prow, nearly a quarter of a mile away.

"The barometer began plunging down and there came a premonition of disaster. Then, far off on the horizon, a tiny haze began gathering. Five minutes later the water under us was a seething cauldron. In a half hour the waves had risen to gigantic proportions. I have crossed the Atlantic several times and never before saw such monstrous columns of water. They rose forty-five feet higher than the bridge and the bridge was sixty feet above the normal water line.

"With one gigantic scythe-like sweep, a gigantic combler carried away 100 feet of the first cabin paneling, leaving the berths and their occupants and belongings exposed to the weather. One passenger went mad and had to be strapped down. The storm continued for twelve hours."

England Thriving. Mr. Gorman and his party visited relatives in London, Southampton and Plymouth. They left Glendale June 5 and crossed on the Red Star liner Beigeland, leaving New York July 5.

England appears to be thriving under the radical government of Premier Ramsay MacDonald, he states.

The only bad thing about the situation is the "dole," or pension to unemployed men, which, Mr. Gorman believes, must be discontinued or work to the ultimate ruin of the country.

PLAN DRINKING CLUB. LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Elaborate plans for the establishment of a magnificent $10,000,000 drinking club on Coronado island, in Mexican waters, were revealed today when promoters of the project applied to the United States immigration officers here for information relative to regulations to be complied with in handling transportation of the club members and guests to and from the island.

SUCCESSFUL ATTACK. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Following the successful theoretical attack on San Francisco yesterday, the Pacific fleet was riding at anchor today in man-of-war row, while army, navy and municipal dignitaries paid calls on Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur and Admiral S. S. Robinson.

OPPOSES MACDONALD. GENEVA, Sept. 5.—Premier Edouard Herriot, Socialist head of the French government, today came out in direct opposition to the suggestion of Premier Ramsay MacDonald of England for a world disarmament conference.

ESCAPES WITH $20,000. SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 5.—Robbers early today broke into the safe at the Interstate fair grounds and took approximately $20,000 in cash, the total receipts of the derby day celebration.

FINE RECORD IN AUGUST SHOWN BY FIGURES

Glendale Continues to Hold Place Among Big Cities In Construction Work

Glendale stood fifth among the cities of the Pacific Southwest in August building, according to official figures furnished through H. C. Vandewater, building superintendent.

The total was $687,611, exceeded only by Los Angeles, with $13,893,095; San Diego, with $1,632,051; Pasadena, $1,306,628, and Long Beach, $1,045,041.

Cities such as Beverly Hills, Fullerton, San Bernardino, Riverside, Monrovia and Phoenix, Ariz., fell far behind Glendale in August building. Alhambra, for instance, issued a total of but $308,950 in permits during the month.

Last year in August, Los Angeles did nearly twice as much building, the permits issued totaling $22,249,262. The total for San Diego last year was $651,598, for Pasadena $765,629, for Long

RECOVERY CERTAIN

PASADENA, Sept. 5.—Doctors here today announced as certain the recovery of H. E. Mendichall, instructor of the California Institute of Electricity, who suffered the shock of having 15,000 volts of electricity pass through his body.

Efforts to secure Secretary of the Navy Wilbur to deliver an address here on Monday, September 15, at the launching of the Y. M. C. A.'s $275,000 campaign to secure funds for their new building are being made today.

Secretary Wilbur May Be Speaker For 'Y' Campaign

A committee of influential men who are closely and intimately connected with the secretary, who is now making a brief visit to southern California, is seeking to secure him as a speaker, according to an announcement by Rex C. Kelley, executive secretary of the Glendale Y. M. C. A. Secretary Wilbur's decision may be known today, Mr. Kelley said.

The distinguished Californian is to be the guest of honor at a banquet on Defense Test Day, September 12, in Los Angeles, when he is expected to make an important statement regarding the county's naval plans and problems.

Owens River Valley Asks L. A. Help In Settling Water Fight

LAST OF SUMMER DANCES PLANNED

Junior Auxiliary Will Hold Event Tomorrow Night At Clubhouse

EAGLE ROCK, Sept. 5.—The junior auxiliary of the Women's Twentieth Century club is holding the last of their misummer dances at the clubhouse tomorrow night, announces Mrs. E. W. Thompson, who is in charge of arrangements. A popular orchestra is promised.

The American Legion Auxiliary met at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Alice Fuller Hensley on Hermosa avenue.

Dr. Edward Ellison and family, who have been spending several weeks at their cabin at Camp Baldy, have returned to the home on Ridge View avenue. Dr. Ellison reports a most delightful rest, and though the mountains have had little rain this year, the streams have about the usual amount of water in them, he says. Deer and mountain sheep have been much in evidence, because of scarcity of feed in the higher altitudes, and they saw seven mountain sheep in one flock near their cabin.

Surprised Burglar

Mrs. Maude Baldwin Lewis, who lives on Fairpark avenue at Ellenwood drive, is feeling certain these days that at least one prowler in the district has had reason to be startled while at his work. Last Thursday night, after Mrs. Lewis had retired, she was awakened by some one using a "jimmy" on her back door. She arose and, securing her revolver, fired two shots out of her bedroom window, not far distant from where the burglar was at work. Mrs. Lewis is an expert shot, and had she seen the person at work on the door, it is probable that he would have been shot.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hatch and daughters, of Glen Iris avenue, have returned from a pleasant two weeks' vacation in Northern California. They visited the Sequoia National park, San Francisco, Oakland and Fresno.

Mrs. T. G. Newton and son and Mrs. E. Brown and family, of Maywood avenue, returned last week from a pleasant week's stay at Aliso Beach, Laguna.

Mrs. J. H. Schwad, of Highland View avenue, has gone East on a vacation and business trip. She expects to stop at Missoula, Mont., Peoria, Ill., and McComb, Ohio.

Engineer Saves Life Of Girl; Wrecks Train

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Sept. 5.—A Union Pacific train was wrecked here representing a loss of $10,000—four cars were piled on the right of way and four fast passenger trains were held up for three hours, all because a little girl was on the track and the engineer realized that it was a case of wreck the train or snuff out the life of the little one.

John Lawhorn, the engineer of the train, shoved on all brakes when Margaret Dugham, 13, walked onto the tracks, then commenced running in the same direction as the train was going. Four cars in the center of the train piled up on each other.

Engineering for Service

WITH the twang of a clock-spring, carried over a short stretch of wire one June day in 1875, came a discovery that was to be of incalculable value to mankind. On that day the telephone was born, and a new vocation came into being, the profession of telephone engineering.

unknown and adapt the known in Science. They bring the thoroughness of specialists to the tasks of construction, operation, management. Their common objective is an improved service whereby man may substitute his voice for his physical presence in distant places. Engineered and not haphazard effort has brought the triumphs that mark advances in the convenience of the telephone. Because of this effort there is a communion of communities without which America, as we know it, could not exist.

LETTER CARRIERS ASK GAIN IN PAY

State Convention Delegates Plan Campaign; Local Mailmen Report

Plans for a renewed campaign to secure an increase in salary for postal employees were outlined at the annual state convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers that was held at Berkeley this week, and at which Ambrose Wood, Oscar Wright and William Gamble, members of the local postoffice staff, represented the Jewel City Branch No. 1983 of Glendale.

The support of the California congressional delegation has been assured the postal workers in their fight, Mr. Wood stated on his return, and a resolution answering all of the objections offered by President Coolidge when he vetoed the bill calling for an increase in pay being prepared.

The organization favored the erection of federal buildings in all cities where the volume of postal business justified it, especially in those cities where the postoffice department is now paying high rent for the buildings it occupies.

Objections to the continued use of window envelopes, as tending to cause delay and loss in the delivery of mail were also expressed by the delegates.

WATER QUESTION TO BE DISCUSSED

La Crescenta Improvement Association Head Calls Mass Meeting

The question of whether any other township shall be allowed to take water from the La Crescenta valley by piping through the valley, is to be discussed at a mass meeting that has been called for 8 o'clock Saturday night, September 6, at the La Crescenta schoolhouse by Mark S. Collins, president of the La Crescenta Improvement association.

Notices that have been sent out by Mr. Collins give the purpose of the meeting as seeking to determine what steps the people of La Crescenta valley, including the entire valley from the Tujunga boundaries to the east line of La Canada, wish to take to prevent La Canada or any other township from taking the water.

The notice also points out that the La Canada water district has bought property at the corner of Michigan and Briggs avenues in La Crescenta and has sunk a twelve-inch well to a depth of 127 feet, intending to pump from this well to La Canada.

Close to Montrose
 This well is located directly back of Montrose, it is stated, and the matter to be decided, Mr. Collins claims, is whether other communities are to be permitted to build themselves up at the expense of the La Crescenta valley water system.

The La Canada water district is also said to have bought other lands in the La Crescenta district, one parcel of which joins the No. 1 water property on Oakdale street, south of Honolulu avenue, where the present source of the main water supply for Montrose and La Crescenta is located.

The mass meeting is sponsored by the La Crescenta Improvement association and the Montrose Chamber of Commerce.

Woolwine Returns to Home at La Crescenta

Mr. Woolwine, whose health has been causing his friends grave concern for several months past because of internal hemorrhages that sapped his strength, is still very weak, and will be kept in the closest seclusion until his physician feels that he is able to see visitors.

During his illness in Paris it was necessary to administer several blood transfusions, and it was only by his means, it is claimed, that Mr. Woolwine was kept alive.

W. B. Kirk, insurance man and Glendale resident for a number of years, whose letters to The Glendale Evening News on the occasion of his tour of Europe were an interesting feature, has, with his daughter, taken an apartment at the Brownleigh, at 626 St. Paul avenue, between Sixth street and Wilshire avenue, where they will be pleased to receive friends.

Student Committee Submits Recommendation Uniform Dress Be Worn By Girls; New Rooms To Care For More Classes

The Glendale Union academy of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination will open Monday, September 15, with a faculty of nine academic teachers and seven grade teachers, a total teaching staff of sixteen, as compared with twelve a year ago, announces Professor D. A. Ochs, principal. This will be the second year in the new two-story stucco building located on the north side of Sycamore Canyon drive.

Last year the enrollment in all grades reached 425, he states. While he is not able to predict what the enrollment will be this year, Professor Ochs is satisfied it will be at least equal to that of a year ago. A new grade building has been completed during the summer, located back in the canyon, and a sewing room has been added, a large band saw installed in the woodwork department, and many other improvements made.

For Uniform Dress
 The girls of the Glendale Union academy have adopted the following recommendation brought in by a student committee, regarding uniform dress:

"That a uniform dress be worn by the girls of the academy. That from November 1 to April 1 it consist of a blue pleated skirt with a choice of middies—either blue, white, or white with blue collar and cuffs. That before November 1 and after April 1, white or blue skirts may be worn with a white middie with blue or white collar and cuffs. That the length of the skirt be from nine to twelve inches from the floor."

"The Glendale Union academy exists for the purpose of giving the young men and women of Glendale and surrounding points a training which will fit them for an active part in carrying the Gospel message to the world in this generation," says Professor Ochs. "The aim of the academy is not merely to fit the youth for carrying this message to the world, however, but to prepare them for a place in the kingdom of God," he states.

Houses with temperature independent of outside weather conditions may be constructed by the use of his plan for double walls with an air well between, says a western inventor.

COST OF WORLD FLIGHT 'DIRT CHEAP'

The prestige it has acquired by sending a group of aviators on a trail blazing flight around the world—to say nothing of the valuable lessons learned concerning all-weather flying—has cost the United States government the relative pittance of approximately $50,000. That was the sum congress appropriated for the flight, and while the final footing up of costs can not be completed until the fliers are home again with their expense accounts, the indications are that a small amount of the original appropriation will remain untouched when the world girdling planes are trundled into their hangars at the end of the trip.

That does not mean, however, that a private organization could duplicate the flight for any such small sum. Actual expenditures of the army air service in connection with the flight are one thing. What it would have cost a private organization to duplicate the necessary conditions under which the flight was made, and what foreign governments expended on entertaining the fliers constitute quite a sum. The bill for private concerns undoubtedly would have run well up into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In the first place, the government spent nothing purchasing planes or extra motors for the flight. The four planes, including the Seattle, in which Major Frederick L. Martin started on the journey, and the 12 motors used, had been bought during the war days to be used for fighting purposes. They had been in storage suffering certain deterioration. When the flight was projected they were turned over to the aviation department to be used for the world flight instead of on some other venture.

Moreover, these planes and motors—save for the one lost when Major Martin crashed on an Alaska mountain, and the one lost when Lieutenant Wade fell into the sea—are still the valuable property of the government. The other ten motors need only a little overhauling to put them in perfect condition. The navy cruisers, coastguard vessels and other ships which assisted and accompanied the fliers on dangerous parts of the journey, were in actual service anyhow, and would have had to be maintained at the same expense had they been on duty elsewhere.

Assisting in making the flight a success were several British, Danish and Japanese ships, whose running expenses would have to be figured into the cost had private enterprise attempted the flight. But neither this expense, nor the money expended by foreign governments for entertainment, will figure in the United States government's bill for the trip.

On the other hand, there were many uses for the $50,000 in hard cash which congress appropriated. Gasoline was no small item. It has been figured that traveling the circle of the globe required some ten thousand gallons for each motor. At an average cost of 30 cents a gallon, the gas must have cost some $9,000 for the three planes which practically completed the circle. Adding in the cost of oil and the cost of the gas consumed by Major Martin in getting to Alaska, the fuel and oil bill was about $15,000.

Other items which came out of the appropriation included sums spent for transportation of supplies; for preparation of landing places; for transportation and expenses of the advance officers, Lieutenants Clayton Bissell, Clarence Crimrine, Clifford Nutt and R. Schultz; for transportation of government officials, who studied the possibilities of the flight and worked out data to make it a success, and the hotel bills of the fliers.

Whether or not the full $50,000 was expended, army officials feel the flight was "dirt cheap" in view of the value of the contributions to the science of flying and the demonstration of the fact that airplanes can fly around the world.

SHORTAGE OF SILK NOT FEARED

The civil strife which is now going on in China does not seem likely to have any extended effect on the silk situation in America, even should the great port of Shanghai be tied up by armed conflict. The better grades of Canton silks are fairly strong in price, but American manufacturers will be called upon to face no serious shortage. The Japanese varieties have also shown marked firmness, due in part to unfavorable weather affecting the mulberry trees in the island empire. But the real factor in the silk situation is the improvement in demand for manufactured goods.

This has been more pronounced in the silk trade than in either the cotton or woolen industries. It has been felt especially by broad silk makers whose orders in some instances have necessitated capacity operation of their mills. The strike of silk workers at Patterson over the number of looms each worker is expected to look after has been instrumental in keeping down output there. Although about 2,000 workers are said to have gone back to work, some still are closed.

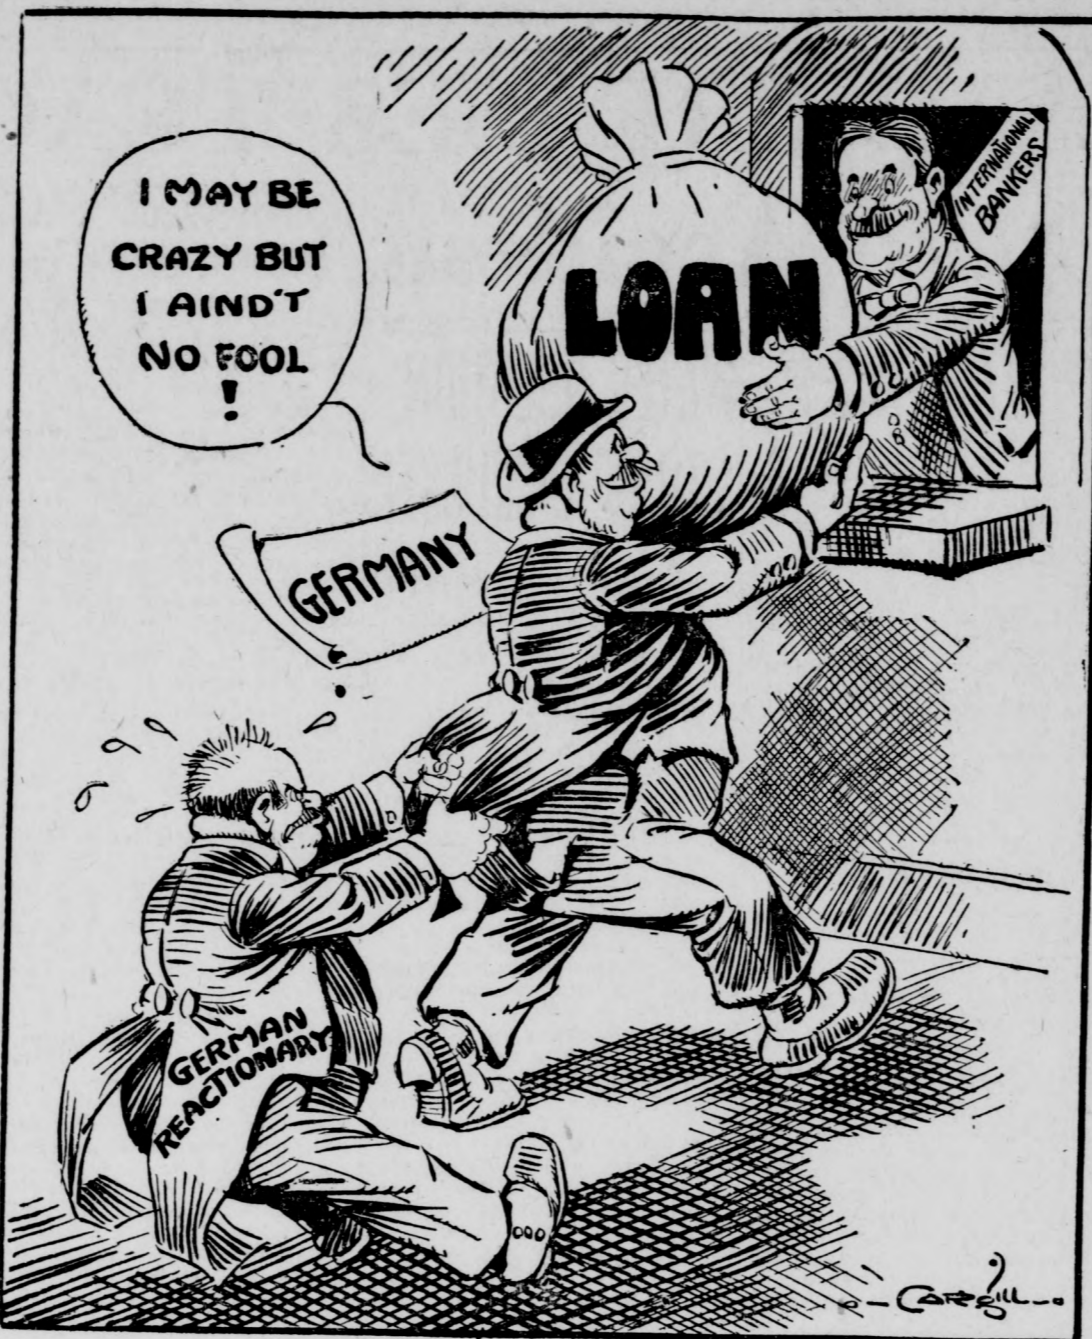

Mills that have specialized in fine satins, failles and bengalines in all-silk or silk and wool mixtures are in such demand that some mills have been unable to fill orders, while the call for crepes has been steady. The causes which have produced this situation have included better weather, selling conditions and other factors, but some experts place special stress on color.

Industry, they say, especially that part of it catering to women dependent to a great extent upon the changes of the merchantability of the goods. The movement of the fabric is dependent upon three factors—texture, life and color. Color, therefore, has become as great a question as any other factor in textile production. This fact has resulted in development of color experts whose jobs it is to analyze the world of fashion and to deduce for industry what the popular colors will be, sometimes placing such information in the hands of manufacturers a year in advance.

In the last few weeks all branches of the textile manufacturing industry have found relief from long continued depression. There have been strong inrushes of out-of-town buyers at wholesale centers from New York to San Francisco. These buyers are showing a disposition to anticipate their forward requirements more generously. So marked has this tendency become that difficulty has been found in filling some lines, especially in woolsens, and occasionally premiums are being paid ranging as high as 25 and 30 cents a yard. More mills are resuming production and a scramble for goods is not deemed impossible in the near future.

Last week retailers from the intermountain and Pacific coast regions bought over $7,500,000 worth of dry goods in San Francisco, or about $1,500,000 more than during the corresponding period of 1923.

The Dog

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Some time ago I published an article which was almost entirely another's opinion and in direct quotation, but which has aroused antagonism against myself.

The article was published because the opinions were so unusual and bizarre, but I must have reckoned without the limitations of the public, for they seem to have leaped to the conclusion that the opinions were my own and not those of another.

As a matter of fact, it was on the subject of "Dogs" and those who deal with that subject are up against a solid wall of sentiment which they will be unable to move.

I am not so far removed from my fellowmen that I am indifferent to what concerns them and I know that that which lies nearest their hearts is not made of logic but of sentiment. All the reason in the world fails when it comes to a mother and her child, a lad and his lass and a man and his dog.

Dogs interest us mostly because they are a natural and simple expression of love and loyalty. Maeterlinck says that the dog is the only animal in the world that loves a man. All the arguments which we bring forward fall to the ground before one honest look of his eyes.

And then a dog is the only animal that wags his tail as an expression of pleasure. Others may wag it for other reasons, but the dog does so only because he is happy.

Furthermore, a dog likes you for yourself alone. It makes no difference whether you are the president of the United States or a hobo, his affection is just as genuine and unstained.

A love of this kind is not to be despised. To think that the most amazing fidelity and affection in the world is ours for a little kindness, for a little of the common currency of attention, is amazing. And no money nor fame nor position would draw to itself that attachment which is shown by a dog to the meanness of men.

Speaking of the meanness of men, it has been said that no man is so low but that he can find a woman to love him, and it is certainly true that no man is so low that he cannot find a dog to follow him.

I do not blame my correspondents for bridling up, although they might have exercised a little more discrimination. Any attack upon the dog, who is the best friend of man, notwithstanding that his companionship is associated with certain dangers, will be resented. What are dangers compared with the privilege of such unmatched affection?

Letters From Election Day Aliens

Some reasons why men and women do not vote

Editor The Evening News:— You ask if I voted at the primaries. No, I did not. My husband does not believe that a woman should vote and I agree with him perfectly. We think women have a higher mission in life. What does a woman know about politics, anyway? Nothing at all. I know that politics is dirty business, and my husband doesn't want me to soil my hands with the ballot.

Women didn't vote in my mother's day and the country was better off. What is the world coming to? Look how women act today, exposing their limbs and bobbing their hair. It's the vote that's to blame for it all. They think that since they vote like men they should dress and act like them.

My husband says women are not intelligent enough to vote. Only men know enough to run the affairs of a big country like this. He says he feels sorry for a lot of the men. So many of them have wives who seem to think they are as intelligent as their husbands. They consider themselves competent to discuss politics and talk about the qualifications of candidates and some of them even have the temerity to disagree with their husbands and vote contrary to them. Think of that. No wonder there is so much divorce with women trying to think for themselves.

My husband would not allow me to demean myself by going to the polls. He seems to be perfectly capable of doing the voting for the family, and he doesn't wish me to mingle with those strong-minded females who are in the habit of frequenting the polling places.

A woman's place is in the home. That is what my husband thinks, and I agree with him. It seems as if the world has turned upside down, with so many women going to college and working in stores and offices. If a woman has to work, why can she not do something genteel, like sewing or teaching school? It's the vote that's to blame for it all.

It is silly and unnecessary for women to have suffrage, and it has caused lots of trouble. I know my husband would not feel angry if I should insist upon voting, and I suppose other men are as intelligent as he is.

Woman's place is in the home. This would be so much better and happier a world if she would stay there and let the men take care of politics. Yours for womanly wisdom.

MRS. IMA NOLD FOGY.

Horoscope

Again astrologers foretell an uncertain day in their reading of the stars. While Venus and Saturn are in benefic aspect Mars and Neptune are adverse.

The Moon in Sagittarius should impart some spirit and enthusiasm on a day that is rather sinister in its influences.

Women have a rather better direction of the planets than men, but they may arouse antagonisms where they should awaken the spirit of co-operation.

Some soren of labor trouble in which women are concerned is forecast. They will obtain their demands.

But the army and navy are to attract much attention and occupy much space in the newspapers.

In certain parts of the world wars will spread and the United States must be wise, indeed, if the nation would escape embarrassing entanglements.

Under this planetary government both men and women may be quarrelsome, for their egotism may be greatly accentuated at this time.

Religious differences may cause clashes and even riots in more than one state.

Occultists stress the need of recognizing the signs of the new era in which old orders of things are disappearing.

Today's Poem

WILD ROSES
On long serene midsummer days
Of ripening fruit and yellow grain
How sweetly, by dim woodland ways,
In tangled hedge or leafy lane,
Fair wild rose thickets, you unfold
Those pale pink stars with hearts of gold!

Your sleek patrician sisters dwell
On lawns where gleams the shrub's trim bosk,
In terraced gardens, tended well,
Near pebbled walk and quaint kiosk.

In costliest urns their colors rest;
They beam on beauty's fragrant breast!

But you in lowly calm abide,
Scarce heeded save by breeze or bee;
You know what splendor, pomp and pride
Full oft your brilliant sisters see;

What sorrow, too, and bitter fears;
What mad farewells and hopeless tears.

How some are kept in old, dear books,
That once in bridal wreaths were worn;

How some are kissed with tender looks,
And later tossed aside with scorn;

How some their taintless petals lay
On icy foreheads, pale as they!

So while these truths you vaguely guess,
A bloom in many a lonesome spot,
Shy roadhouse roses, may you bless
The fate that rules your modest lot,
Like rustic maids that meekly stand
Below the ladies of their land!
—Edgar Fawcett.

REAL DEMOCRACY FOUND BY PRINCE

Greatest Trouble of Royal Visitor Is Being Let Alone by Crowds

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—It's getting a "bit thick" for the Prince of Wales hereabouts, but, like his countryman, Mr. Britling, he is still determined to see it through. England is hailed as one of the most democratic countries in all the world, but "Davy Windsor," as some of his intimates call him, has never met so much democracy in the mass as he has seen during the half week he has been on American soil. He has discovered that the average American dearly loves a prince, but has not the slightest respect for his wish to be left to his own devices.

The prince wants to be considered just a plain young man, but thus far he has failed signally to get away with it. It is because the prince is red-blooded and wants to go where the rest of the crowd goes that he is having so much trouble. His equerries-in-waiting have attempted to camouflage his highness' daily program, but the American admirers of the heir to the British throne have come to know that wherever the "big show" is on the program, he will be in the office. So there are more numerous days and nights ahead for the prince during his Long Island holiday. There is the Willis-Firpo fight, for instance, next week. Of course the prince is not going! Of course not. But Davy Windsor will be right there at the ringside to watch the black man and the bull swing; the old miffs at each other.

Watch Polo Games

And if the prince thinks a race track throng is something to get away from, wait until he encounters the tough eggs that make up so much of a big prize fight crowd.

At the polo game it will be different. That will be highbrow stuff all the way through and highbrows have traveled and know the restraint of the British in the presence of their own royalties and will be governed accordingly.

Being a true sportsman and sport lover himself and reaching America at the peak of her sporting season, it is difficult for the prince to keep out of any important event of any importance. He has not been to the baseball games as yet. That is one line in which he has not indulged. Many persons thought he might get to the Polo grounds by mistake, but the Glens have been away from home and the grounds that never knew a polo game have been closed.

Won't Dress Up

It may just as well be recorded here that thus far the prince has been a failure in the matter of sartorial sensation. He has not been dressing a bit. Perhaps it is on account of the heat. The weather has been most unkind in that respect and to one accustomed to the moist cloudy climate of old England the dry and dusty heat of these last few days has been trying, to say the least. Those who expected to see the prince in a topper and cutaway coat at the Labor day races were doomed to disappointment. He seems instead fond of that old gray double-breasted suit in which he landed from the Borengaria. And the blue shirt boys who bought cerulean chemises early in the present season without knowing the prince was affecting them have been overjoyed to learn that his highness is extremely fond of his poudre blue repertory and wears the apparel on every possible occasion. Haberdashers hereabouts all report a raid on their shelves and what they regarded as a dying vogue has received a sudden resuscitation, for which they are returning many thanks to the royal visitor.

The prince's clothes are not nearly so "collegiate" as we had been led to believe. Apparently many monstrosities have been committed in his name, but entirely without his knowledge and consent. The young man's clothes are a bit gay and jaunty, but they are not grotesque. The trousers do not flap about the heels like some of his American imitators. They are full, it is true, but the men's fashion experts who have been trailing his highness and "snapping" him from ambush are all agreed that his trousers do not measure more than seventeen inches at the cuff, which is rather wide and not narrow, like the American cake-eater styles of recent months.

Wears Old Hat

It is a good thing the prince got his reputation for good looks and good dressing before he pulled that floppy Panama hat on his unsuspecting American admirers. When he first appeared in it he was on his way to play polo and everyone thought it was just a knockabout affair, left over from a year or two ago. The sweater and the well worn Bedford cord breeches which completed the first polo outfit seemed entirely in keeping with the shapeless headgear. But the prince has clung to the Panama, with its billowy brim turned down all around and four or five of his equerries-in-waiting have insisted that it really is the prince's favorite skimmer.

Wales is standing the heat very well. He has been to India. He regards the public curiosity as more of a "sock" in the jaw than the torrid weather. The prince already has learned that American expression "sock" and likes it. He "socks" the ball at polo and would like to "sock" a few of the photographers who "chase" him from pillar to post. Sometimes he has been tempted to "chuck it" and go on to that Canadian ranch, but the boy is game and as already stated is determined to see it through.

By a new secret process, it is claimed, a finer and stronger artificial silk than has been made before will be manufactured at a plant to be opened at Strasbourg.

YOUTHFUL HIKER LOOKS FOR WORK

Comes to Glendale on Foot From New York City to Become Citizen

It was just two feet from New York's east side to Southern California for Sammy Wiener, 16-year-old youth, for he hiked most of the way from his eastern home to cast his lot in California.

And now he is a Glendalian, having been befriended by Albert Leighton and his mother-in-law, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, of 123 West Elk street.

Yesterday Sammy came to the Glendale Evening News office, looking for a job. This newspaper promised to print a story today that he was looking for work. But Sammy is a hustler. Before today's paper went to press he announced that he had landed a job!

Ambitious Chap

Sammy is an ambitious chap, willing to do anything, proudly declaring that his "salesmanship has been highly praised."

Leaving his mother and a brother, 13, and a sister, 11, Sammy started west. He is a Boy Scout and in the garb of a hiker attracted much attention as he ambled westward. All went fine until his money was all gone. He relates that in Blackwater, Mo., he milked four cows for a day and night's lodging and when he departed the farmer pressed a $5 bill in his hand.

Proves Salesmanship

He next tells of reaching Winslow, Ariz., just as a transcontinental train was pulling in. Sensing his opportunity, Sammy demonstrated his salesmanship by using his $5 to buy pencils and post cards to sell. While doing this he attracted the attention of Ben F. Barnett, president of Barnett-Sturm company, Detroit, Mich., who bought Sammy a ticket and brought him to California.

That wasn't the end of Mr. Barnett's kindness, for after arriving in Los Angeles he entertained Sammy at one of the biggest hotels until he found work.

Postoffice Asks for Gasoline Supply Bids

Bids for furnishing gasoline for the two government parcels post delivery trucks operated by the local postoffice will be received to September 15. Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson announced today. The bids are to cover the gasoline supply for October, November and December. Proper forms on which to submit bids may be secured from Postmaster Jackson.

Russia's sugar campaign was a success, the total beet sugar crop raised on the 600,000 acres nationalized being nearly 6,000,000 pounds, or nearly 15 per cent more than was expected.

COMMUNITY CLUB PLAY PRESENTED

Many People See Musical Comedy Given at Belmar Hills Garden

BURBANK, Sept. 5.—People from Glendale, Hollywood and many points in the San Fernando valley gathered at the Belmar Hills garden hall last night to witness the presentation of "A Night in Drama," the charming musical comedy put on under the auspices of the City Beautiful Community club, direction of John Wellington. The play will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night, the curtain rising at 8 o'clock.

The director was delighted with the way each person performed his or her part. The work interested the out-of-town people to the extent that some of them had sought out Director Wellington and requested parts in the mammoth production. The director, however, selfishly guarding the interests of Burbank community, refused admission in every case, because the production is calculated to express the community spirit of Burbank and the dramatic, historic, musical talent of Burbank's own people. That the judgment of the director is justified was evidenced last night, when the participants fairly threw themselves into their parts and demonstrated beyond question their ability to produce dramatic work of a high character.

Character Is Hit

The old man who buys and pays for his bride is a character that brings down the house. Mr. Wellington has produced it with Charles W. Donaldson in the role. Mr. Donaldson's portrayal of the aged, wealthy bridegroom who certainly cannot live many days after the ceremony, is exceedingly funny and splendidly played. The blushing young bride, who is being led to the altar by the December groom, is played by Mrs. Larry Wood, and she is exceptionally clever in her expressions, doing just what "mammy" tells her to.

DISCUSS SCHOOLS AT LAST SESSION

The object of the council, according to Elder Ruble, has been to strengthen the educational work of the Pacific Union conference and the Glendale Union academy, along the lines of standards and scholarship.

School routine was discussed at today's sessions, the spiritual side of academic life also coming up for consideration. The principals of the various schools in the conference will take back with them fresh inspiration from this council.

TUJUNGA, Sept. 5.—Don Wieman, youngest of the Wieman brothers, who are famed for their athletic prowess on the gridiron and other branches of sport, won the "bald-headed" man's race Labor day at the Moon Festival of the Tujungans. The prize was, appropriately, a comb. Don is the "baby" of the family, but not a baby to be comfortably cuddled on the bosom. He weighs over 200 pounds, composed mostly of muscle. Tad Wieman, one of the brothers, is now a coach at Ann Arbor, Mich. Another brother, who set the football world afire several years ago, when he was attending Occidental, is now a doctor.

Three other prizes were given. Miss Frances Morgan, Tujunga, the choice of the Kiwanis club, was second. Betty Harvey, Tujunga, was third, and Miss Charlotte Foy, La Crescenta, fourth.

Tujunga Moon Festival Big Success, Reported

TUJUNGA, Sept. 5.—Reports on the result of the Moon Festival of the Tujungans held last week come from voices that have to be amplified considerably. The official committee voice has been talked and yelled to a whisper, but the sound it make, indicates that the festival was a big league affair in every way.

Art Sherman, commander of Post 250, American Legion, and Pete Desjardin, sergeant-at-arms, represented the Legion in putting over the festival this year.

No figures are yet available as to cash returns on the affair, but it is certain that the local American Legion made more than three times as much this year on the annual show than has ever been made before. Desjardin states that the proceeds amount to more than the previous festival returns together and estimates the net sum at $1500 for the four days it was held.

Mr. Krantz of Greeley street, Tujunga, won the $150 radio set given away by the Legion to the holder of the lucky number of the vote coupons cast in the queen contest.

Verdugo Hills Post Backs Defense Plans

LA CRESCENTA, Sept. 5.—Verdugo Hills Post No. 288, of the American Legion, will participate actively in the plans for Defense Day, September 12, it was decided at a meeting of the home of Adjutant A. E. Baron on Pennsylvania avenue, following a statement of the purposes of Defense Day by E. W. Gilliland, second vice-commander of Glendale Legion post No. 127. Mr. Gilliland, representing the Glendale Auxiliary of the Legion, was also present at the meeting. The Verdugo Hills post members will meet at noon, September 12, at the corner of Montrose and Honolulu avenues to hold their exercises, and urge that all patriotic citizens join in the program.

Plans for the establishment of a permanent home for the post were furthered at the meeting, at which the members enjoyed a wiener roast as the guests of Adjutant Baron. The final draft of the post's constitution and by-laws was approved for submission to the state and national headquarters of the Legion.

SCHOOL HEADS TO HOLD GATHERING

Complete Final Details for Opening of Union High On Monday Morning

There will be a meeting of the heads of departments at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Broadway High school, when plans for the opening of the Glendale Union High schools on Monday morning, September 8, will be outlined, announces George U. Moyses, principal.

At 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon there will be a general meeting of all the 115 teachers now on the high school faculty. Later in the afternoon there will be department meetings.

At 8:30 o'clock Monday morning the 2050 pupils enrolled at the two schools will assemble in their respective auditoriums, when the fall term will officially open. Mr. Moyses will personally welcome the pupils at the Broadway High school. At the Harvard High school, O. E. McDonald, who will be in charge of the exercises, will read a letter from Mr. Moyses to the first year pupils.

No School On Tuesday

At 9 o'clock the assemblies will be dismissed and the pupils will go to the program stations, where they will be given their lists of subjects, fully made out. The first recitation will begin at 9:40 o'clock at each school, Mr. Moyses states. Recitations will then continue until 11:30 o'clock, twenty-five minute periods with ten minute intervals, when a cafeteria lunch will be served.

There will be no school sessions on Tuesday, September 9, inasmuch as this is Admission day, but Mr. Moyses states the Broadway High school office will be open for enrollment from 9 o'clock until noon. At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning there will be a final meeting of department heads with Mr. Moyses. From 10:30 until 12 o'clock the heads of departments will be in their rooms, for consultations with pupils. Regular sessions will start promptly at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, September 10, at both schools.

Accuse 3 Clerks of Obtaining $15,000 By Forging Checks

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Orville Anderson, L. E. Dewes and C. M. Kaufman will be arraigned in justice court this afternoon on charges of forgery, it being alleged that the three young clerks have mulcted the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company and others of not less than $15,000 by cashing 500 or more forged insurance checks in the last three years, each calling for $25 to $55.50.

Their operations have extended to practically all communities of Los Angeles county and their trail was covered by a unique process of operation, according to Deputy Sheriff Purrier, Wilson and Rankin, who made the arrests.

KIWANIS CLUB IS BEHIND 'Y' FUND

Members Pledge Support to Drive After E. L. Mogge Gives Address

Members of the Glendale Kiwanis club expressed their approval of the coming Y. M. C. A. campaign to raise $275,000 for a new building here and pledged their support to the movement in a resolution unanimously adopted at the meeting held today at noon at the Tuesday Afternoon club. The resolution was offered by Emil Kiefer followed a stirring address delivered by Ernest L. Mogge, campaign leader.

Mr. Mogge stressed the need of men and better manhood in the world today. He said there are 139 cities of over 40,000 population in the United States, and only thirteen of this number have no Y. M. C. A. buildings. During the past year $9,000,000 worth of buildings have been erected by the Y. M. C. A., he said, and $12,000,000 worth of buildings would be constructed during the coming year.

'Manhood Dividends'

The Y. M. C. A. pays dividends in manhood, he said. Since the war the Y. M. C. A. has gained one-third in membership and money, the speaker declared. Mr. Mogge was introduced by George D. McGill, general chairman of the drive.

More than 100 members of the club and their wives and friends will attend the open forum meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at the Oakmont Country club next Thursday night, it was announced, after Frank Fox and A. L. Ferguson had told of plans for the meeting. Mr. Fox said eight of the fourteen directors of the Chamber of Commerce are members of the Kiwanis club.

The attendance prize, donated by Don Packer, was awarded to H. E. Wilson, President A. L. Baird presided at the meeting.

Flyers Reach Portland On Homeward Trip

eighty-five miles an hour. The American flyers hopped off from Pictou Bay, N. S., at 11:16 this morning.

At 3:18 p. m. the flyers passed over Southwest Harbor, Maine. General Patrick, escorted by planes and accompanied by Assistant Secretary of War Dwight W. Davis, took the air at 4:15 o'clock and, after circling the city, headed north for Old Orchard, Maine, where they expected to greet the circumnavigators and literally shake hands with them in the air.

Overhead the sky was blue with a few high, feecy clouds. A slight breeze was blowing, making it almost ideal flying weather. Just before 5 o'clock the breeze freshened up considerably and there were indications that a rain storm might greet the flyers here. At 5:05 p. m. the flyers passed over Portland.

So bright are the prospects for a good cocoon crop in Europe and the Far East that silk manufacturers are buying only enough raw material for immediate needs.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

ENLARGED ADENOIDS AND TONSILS
 All of these birthmark stories are myths. Babies do have birthmarks, but they are not due to inheritance and development has account for them, but not scars. Of course, if the scars were of such a nature that the mother's nutrition might be interfered with and damage done in that way.
 Compared to the millions of babies that are perfect, there are very few that have birthmarks; and probably no woman goes through the nine months of gestation without seeing or hearing something gruesome. If these "marking" stories were true, all babies would be marked.
 There is no nerve connection between the babe in utero and the mother, nor is there any direct blood connection; that is, there are no blood vessels that penetrate from the mother's body to the babe.
 I quote nearly all of your letter, so that if there are any thoughtful readers who err in the manner your letter describes, they will see what unhappiness they cause.
 The expectant mother does have to realize that it is especially important for her to have a diet which is going to supply all of the elements the child needs, without having to subtract them from her own body, that she has a normal amount of exercise and fresh air and that her mental life be as calm and as happy as possible. Then she must forget such things as birthmarks, and other unpleasant things.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

BIRTHMARKS FROM SCARS
 "Dear Doctor Peters—Will you kindly give me your opinion on the subject of birthmarks? I am a young married woman and have heard so much on the subject that it actually frightens me when I think of rearing a family. Why is it that some women seem to enjoy telling young married women such gruesome things? I would greatly appreciate it if you would put my mind at ease by telling me if there is any truth to these stories on ears, or if these women just enjoy talking?—Mrs. R."

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we refer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

LANDMARK GIVES WAY TO PROGRESS

O. M. Newby's Residence, 803 N. Pacific, Moved For Extending Street

The removal of the residence that has stood at 803 North Pacific avenue for the past sixteen years marks the passing of another landmark to make way for the progress of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Newby feel a deep sentiment in the fate of the house, for it was there that they first resided after their marriage, and it was while they were living there that their six children were born.

At the time when the Newbys first occupied the house there were very few residences north of Broadway or west of Brand, says Mr. Newby, and of those that formed the original group in the immediate vicinity, only Harry L. Howe, former vice-principal of the Glendale Union High school, remains in the neighborhood.

The house is to be set up on a lot at Fourth and Sonora streets, on the Burbank car line, and, with the exception of one small strip of land yet to be acquired, the way is now clear for the extension of Burchett street to join San Fernando road at Grand View.

NEW INVENTIONS STIR CURIOSITY

Musical Typewriter Is Aid To Composers as Notes Are Written Down

By GIL A. COWAN For Southland News Service, LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—There is an old adage that nothing is new, but there are innovations and improvements of both simple and complex natures that are attracting the attention of window shoppers here.

A musical typewriter is the latest in mechanical efficiency and may be attached to any grand piano for the use of composers and transposers. As the composition is played the machine sets down the notes as played, if you can believe it.

Compared to the typewriter, linotype, teleprinters and other inventions, the piano typewriter outdoes them all for mechanical ingenuity. It is being displayed in a showroom on South Hill street, near Seventh.

Saving the Sox The question of what becomes of the material where the hole in a stocking appears is a darned hard one to solve, but shoemakers now are offering light leather inside heels to eliminate the grind on sox.

There is something new in soft hats for men this year. It is a little button clasp in the crown to hold the shape instead of the tin thimajamjigs which were always being lost, the hatters report.

Wards totalling $1900 today had been posted by residents of this exclusive millionaire's town in an effort to arrest and convict the poisoner of dogs who has been working throughout the summer.

The team captains have each segregated a group of business and professional men from which the respective twenty teams are to be recruited.

Bonus subscriptions will be awarded to the credit of the teams first completed and filed at the campaign headquarters. These range from $700 as the first prize to $100 for the tenth team fully enrolled.

All teams are to be enrolled 100 per cent by next Wednesday night, when a recruiting report dinner will be held at the Alley Inn.

In speaking of the organization General Chairman George D. McDill said:

"There has been a remarkable response thus far for service in the Y. M. C. A. campaign, and as we undertake to organize twenty teams of ten men each for the general work of solicitation, we trust that the same willingness to make sacrificial effort will be exhibited. We cannot excuse men on the plea that they are busy, for those are the very men we want and the only ones who can put this great civic project over on schedule. There is nothing before the citizens of Glendale of more importance just now than making certain that Glendale will secure a modern home and headquarters for an aggressive program and service of the Young Men's Christian association."

A cash prize and medal have been offered by an organization of British architects for the best design for an airship mooring mast.

Enthusiastic Campaign To Be Conducted For Purpose Of Raising Funds For Construction Of Building Here

Selective conscription will be in force in Glendale beginning today and continuing until 200 men of known civic patriotism and public spirit have been enlisted for the big peace offensive to make a complete success of the effort to raise $275,000 in the seven days—September 16-23—for the new Y. M. C. A. building to serve Glendale and vicinity.

This is the statement of E. L. Mogge, director of the campaign, who says: "This movement in Glendale will succeed in proportion to the co-operative service rendered by the right-thinking men of the city. It was so at Santa Ana, Long Beach, Pomona, Riverside, and hundreds of other cities where modern Y. M. C. A. buildings have been provided.

This is a local enterprise of far-reaching significance, and if we can complete the organization, maintaining the high standard obtained in securing the leadership, there can be no question but that the full amount will be obtained by the close of the campaign," said Mr. Mogge.

Twenty Team Captains Impetus to the project was given yesterday by the announcement of the division managers that they had been successful in enrolling the full quota of twenty team captains on schedule time.

An enthusiastic dinner conference of these leaders was held last evening at the Alley Inn. The official line-up for the campaign was announced as follows:

'Bear Cat' Division C. W. Ingledue, manager. W. F. Tower, associate manager.

Team 1—C. R. Blankenship, captain. Team 2—Gould H. Warren, captain. Team 3—W. H. Barnes, captain. Team 4—T. A. Wright, captain. Team 5—Emil O. Kiefer, captain.

'Go-Getters' Division H. Park Arnold, manager. Preston L. Hatch, associate manager.

Team 6—J. R. Detweiler, captain. Team 7—G. N. Hobson, captain. Team 8—Pierson Hanning, captain. Team 9—William H. Hooper, captain. Team 10—O. M. Newby, captain.

'Live Yers' Division James A. Newton, manager. Ernest Tucker, associate manager.

Team 11—Rev. C. A. Cole, captain. Team 12—George H. Bentley, captain. Team 13—Ripley Jackson, captain. Team 14—Roy L. Kent, captain. Team 15—Paul E. Stillman, captain.

'TNT' Gang Lyman P. Clark, manager. Frank L. Fox, associate manager.

Team 16—Ed N. Radke, captain. Team 17—Sid W. Brown, captain. Team 18—V. M. Hollister, captain. Team 19—Col. James Everington, captain. Team 20—Burton McGinnis, captain.

The team captains have each segregated a group of business and professional men from which the respective twenty teams are to be recruited.

Bonus subscriptions will be awarded to the credit of the teams first completed and filed at the campaign headquarters. These range from $700 as the first prize to $100 for the tenth team fully enrolled.

All teams are to be enrolled 100 per cent by next Wednesday night, when a recruiting report dinner will be held at the Alley Inn.

In speaking of the organization General Chairman George D. McDill said:

"There has been a remarkable response thus far for service in the Y. M. C. A. campaign, and as we undertake to organize twenty teams of ten men each for the general work of solicitation, we trust that the same willingness to make sacrificial effort will be exhibited. We cannot excuse men on the plea that they are busy, for those are the very men we want and the only ones who can put this great civic project over on schedule. There is nothing before the citizens of Glendale of more importance just now than making certain that Glendale will secure a modern home and headquarters for an aggressive program and service of the Young Men's Christian association."

A cash prize and medal have been offered by an organization of British architects for the best design for an airship mooring mast.

FINALLY AGREE ON MULE CORRAL

Hearing on Injunction Plea Against City Delayed For One Week

An oral agreement has been reached between Peter L. Ferry and the city of Glendale, whereby his mule corral and grading camp at 614 East Acacia avenue will be removed without further recourse to law, according to Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, and the hearing that was to have been held at 10 o'clock this morning before Judge Hartley Shaw of the Superior court, Los Angeles, has been postponed one week.

The agreement was reached by permitting Mr. Ferry to maintain his camp at that address for a short time, in return for an abandonment by him of all defense in the action now pending, Mr. Morrow states. The exact length of time Mr. Ferry will be permitted to remain is one of the points not yet settled.

Hearing Continued The hearing that was to have been held this morning before Judge Shaw was postponed one week, according to Morrow.

The restraining order was issued without a hearing, by Mr. Morrow putting up a cash bond of $1000, he states. Should a complete agreement not be reached within the next week, the case will be heard before Judge Shaw at 10 o'clock Friday morning, September 12, in Department 25 of the Los Angeles Superior court.

The ten projects to be voted on at the special election on September 30, as outlined in the ordinance, follow:

1—Additional fire equipment and stations	$ 60,000
2—Modern fire alarm system	63,500
3—Modern police alarm system	36,500
4—Civic center	650,000
5—Bridges over Verdugo wash	12,000
6—Water system improvements	550,000
7—Water-bearing land	126,000
8—City park site, north	122,500
9—City park site, south	35,000
10—Garbage disposal plant	50,000
Total	$1,705,500

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 5.—Steel orders in this territory continue to show an upward trend, but this is still a buyers' market with the possible exception of sheets and tinplates. Structural shapes are fairly firm. Steel bars are still quoted at $2.06 to $2.15, but plates are weak with some reports indicating a price as low as $1.90. Some good sheet buying has come into the market and mills are refusing to sell at present prices for delivery beyond September 30. The Pittsburgh coal trade now faces a better prospect than for some time.

Harvest Hands Needed On Northwest Farms

ST. PAUL, Sept. 5.—Northwest farmers are appealing urgently for aid in obtaining harvest hands. Farmers say their excellent crops are being menaced by labor shortage. North Dakota alone needs 10,000 men and offers wages averaging around $4 a day and board, with railroad fare included from some points. Heavy yields of grain are expected and shipments will be large as a result of recent growing weather. Railroad crop experts estimate the improvement over last year at from 25 to 75 per cent.

ERROR IS MADE IN BOND ISSUE TOTAL

Correct Sum Is Placed at $1,705,500; Ordinance Is Not Invalid, Claim

The proposed bond issue for improving the water system of Glendale, installing additional mains and erection of reservoirs will be for $550,000 and not for $650,000, as was announced yesterday in the special election ordinance read before the City Council.

The difference of $100,000 today was charged off to a typographical error, according to City Attorney Ray L. Morrow, leaving the amount of the proposed bond issue relative to water system the same as recommended by members of the Citizens' Bond committee.

"The error was on my part," City Attorney Morrow said. "I dictated it wrong in one place, and it went into the ordinance as $650,000, when it should have been $550,000. Fortunately it appeared as $650,000 only once in the ordinance, and the error has been corrected."

Ordinance Not Invalid "Such a typographical error will not make the ordinance invalid, nor make the special bond election illegal. The correction has been made and everything is all right now."

The ordinance reduced the proposed bond issue for bridges over Verdugo wash from $12,750, as recommended by the Citizens' Bond committee, to $12,000. The committee's recommendation included two new bridges, at cost $6000 each, and the resurfacing of three present bridges at a cost of $750 each. Regarding the reduction, City Attorney Morrow said:

"That issue had to be cut down to $12,000, since it is not possible to vote a bond issue for repairs of any kind. It is legal to vote bonds for new bridges, such as the committee recommends, but when it comes to repair work, that money must come from other sources."

Change in Figures The total amount of the bond issue, as listed in the ordinance passed yesterday by the City Council, is $473 less than the amount named by the bond committee. Charged against the reduction of $750 on the bridges are two items increased in order to make the bonds issuable in denominations of $500. These items are modern "re alarm system, increased $71, and modern police alarm system, increased $206.

The ten projects to be voted on at the special election on September 30, as outlined in the ordinance, follow:

1—Additional fire equipment and stations	$ 60,000
2—Modern fire alarm system	63,500
3—Modern police alarm system	36,500

GLENDALE HEALTH RECORD PRAISED

Death Rate Beaten by Only One Town In State as Disease Checked

Comparison of Glendale's health statistics with those of other cities shows that this city is maintaining a higher standard than almost any other city, the death rate last year, according to United States records, showing that Glendale's death rate was lowest in the state of California.

While this year its record is only beaten by one town in the northern part of the state, according to Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer.

Recent reports that typhoid fever existed in Glendale have been traced by Dr. Kaemmerling and his department and only one case of this disease was found in Glendale, and that case, they claim, originated at a point several hundred miles away from the city, where the person who contracted it did so from drinking impure water. This case, says Dr. Kaemmerling, is now almost ready for release from quarantine.

Five Contagious Cases The exceedingly small number of contagious diseases in Glendale at this time is shown by the statement that there are only five cases of communicable diseases known to the city health officer at present, and of these four are almost ready for discharge.

"Owing to Glendale's proximity to many other cities," says Dr. Kaemmerling, "it is necessary for us to exercise the greatest care in preventing outbreaks here through contacts of our people with those in other cities, but so strict are our regulations here and so well enforced that any fears that Glendale is harboring cases of contagious diseases are entirely unfounded."

Glendale hikers of the Glendale Outing club have an interesting trip outlined for them for Sunday, when they are to go to San Pedro and Point Fermin. The trip to San Pedro will be made on the Pacific Electric, leaving the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway at 7:26 o'clock Sunday morning. This car will get into Los Angeles in time to make connections with the 8:35 San Pedro train. Tickets can be purchased on Saturday at reduced rates at the P. E. station at 106 North Brand boulevard.

Chester T. Nye, chairman of the club, invites all Glendale people interested, to join in the outing. The trip will not require much walking he states. Those attending are to bring lunches and canteens of water and wearing outing clothes.

The club has already enjoyed trips to Switzer's camp, Echo mountain, Rubio canyon and Milliard's canyon.

Theatres From Studios

Views and Previews Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

George M. Cohan, noted author of many popular American hits, never wrote a better play than "The Girl in the Case," now showing at 8 o'clock nightly at the tent theatre of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo.

Since their vindication in court recently, their popularity has grown until now the tent is crowded every night, and J. A. Menard, house manager of Mahurin's Players, urges patrons to purchase tickets in advance at Schulte's drug store, corner of North Brand boulevard and California avenue.

"The Girl in the Case" has almost as many thrills as laughs. Horace Murphy, manager of these players, has discovered that this laugh-thrill combination is hard to beat as an audience getter. Mr. Menard declares that the tent is packed every night now, and that the only sure way of seeing the show is to come early.

Arrest Man on Charge Of Causing Brush Fire

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Charged with having started the disastrous brush fire in San Gabriel canyon, which developed into one of the worst fires in the history of Angeles forest, Andy Gonzales, Los Angeles baker, was arrested here. Gonzales confessed he accidentally started the fire by carelessly throwing a cigarette into a pile of brush, the authorities said.

Raw Silk Shipments Arriving at Seattle

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AT SCHOOL gily, hopping from behind the bushes. "But we'll fool them. I'll go down in the meadow and borrow the cow bell from around the neck of Mrs. Moo. We'll ring the cow bell to call the animal boys and girls to school."

Jacko and Jumbo, hidden behind the hollow stump school, soon heard the sound of "Ding-dong! Ding-dong!" They looked at each other in surprise.

"There goes the bell!" chattered Jacko. "The rags must have fallen off the clapper. We'll have to go to school, anyhow."

And they did. And other animal children came trooping through the woods when they heard the cow bell, which they thought was the school bell. And when school opened, the Lady Mouse asked Uncle Wiggily to say a few words. And the bunny never said a word about the trick Jacko and Jumbo had played. He just said something was wrong with the school bell, but that it would be fixed by next morning.

Then, taking Jacko and Jumbo to one side of the playground, the bunny told them to take the rags off the bell, and they did, so after all no harm was done. And if the snowball do. sn't try to jump over the hot stove and turn into a water pancake, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Bunty's lesson.

PSYCHOLOGY USED IN RING WORKOUT

Daugherty Gives His Colored Fighter Course; Offset All Superstitions

By FAIR PLAY
Special correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Jimmy Daugherty, of Philadelphia, has added a new stunt to the work of his big eulid fighter, George Godfrey, in preparation for his bout with Jack Renault. He has instituted a course in psychology.

Jimmy believes that the only reason the big Canadian stowed away his boy last year was because Leo Flynn came into George's dressing room just before the bout and said things calculated to rouse the negro's superstitions. This time, thinks Daugherty, even if Leo succeeds in getting into contact with Godfrey, the black man will be fortified with a stock of mental medicine qualified to remove the curse from any jinx that Renault's cunning manager expects to impose.

If the Philadelphia manager succeeds in his plan, a lot of shrewd ring followers believe he will produce a new champion. George has got everything but nerve.

Shade on Coast

Speaking of Leo Flynn, why has he not posted a bond of $10,000 for Dave Shade to meet Leonard or Walker after their battle? The welter and lightweight kings were compelled to do this. Why not Shade?

Was it perhaps because Dave has not been doing so well since he went back to California to show his stuff to the native sons, of whom he is one? Who knows? But the fact remains that he lost a four round newspaper decision to Bert Colima on the Pacific coast and in a later bout got nothing better than an even break. Certainly he should be doing better than this if he hopes to interest fight folks in bouts with either Benny or Mickey.

On the other hand, there is always the chance that the wily Leo Flynn is playing possum with his meal ticket. If so, his schemes are meeting with success, for Mickey Walker says if he beats Leonard he will take Dave Shade on at any time and any place thereafter.

All catfish are devoid of scales.

CARPENTIER GOES BACK TO FRANCE

Gets $100,000 for Two Bouts Here This Year; He May Retire From Ring

By SID B. MERCER
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Georges Carpentier is shaking the dust of America from his French heels—but not the American gold dust from his pockets—as he sails for England on the Berengaria, accompanied by his manager, Francois Descamps, and his trainer, Gus Wilson.

The departure of the orchid man creates hardly a ripple in the current of passing events. He landed in New York last May with a grandstand flourish but no pomp or ceremony attends his departure. The gorgeous one is bidding America a long farewell this time. He may never return and in any event he will not come back as a fighter, for his box office value has sunk far below the price he puts on his services.

Carpentier came, saw, and was conquered twice and is sailing back to that dear France with close to $100,000 to exchange into francs as a result of his defeats this summer by Tommy Gibbons and Gene Tunney.

Breaks with Curley

Probably the principal reason for Carpentier's decision to surrender to homesickness was his break with Jack Curley, who has long been his American representative and who made it possible for him to collect a fortune for a little more than an hour's work in two American rings.

Curley may have real cause for his grievances. It is said he received only $5,000 for his efforts in promoting the Gibbons fight and not much more than that for the Tunney engagement. Whatever he got did little more than pay the expenses of promotion.

Including his bouts with Battling Levinsky in 1920, with Dempsey the following year and his two fights here this year, the orchid man has been paid close to half a million dollars for his American appearances. He now is independently wealthy and probably will retire from the ring.

FOR DISPLAYING PLANTS

For forming decorative displays, an adjustable stand has been invented that holds potted plants at any angle and any desired elevation.

READY FOR POLO MATCH SATURDAY

Yanks and Britons to Start International Series for Cup Honors

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—With only one day intervening before British and American international polo cup teams take the field on Saturday in the first of the challenge matches, the American team has been made a prime favorite to retain the cup.

Followers of the game lean strongly to the Americans largely because the defending four is composed of veterans who have been through the mill of much experience. In the various practice games which have been played recently on Long Island as preparation for the matches, the game of Devereaux Milburn, captain and back of the American four, and the hard-riding and hitting of Tommy Hitchcock, Jr., have stood out sharply. The defense of Milburn, experts declared, has been all that could possibly be expected from a polo player.

Webb Is Southpaw

J. Watson Webb at No. 1, and Malcolm Stevenson at No. 3, complete the American team. Webb is the only left-hander among the internationalists, and this, it is contended, lends something of an advantage to the cup defenders.

The British team is composed of inexperienced players, so far as international matches are concerned. None of them has been seen in this country, with the exception of the practice contests of the last week or so. And even in these the acknowledged star of the invading four, Luis Lacey, was not in action because of an injury to his shoulder. He will be back on Saturday, however.

The Yanks are known to be a much harder riding and hitting four than their opponents, but it also is conceded that the Britons are better mounted.

BANTAM TOURNAMENT TO OPEN TONIGHT

Silva and Nationalists to Meet at Hollywood in Initial Battle

Teddy Silva and Young Nationalist will officially open the bantamweight tournament for the Pacific coast title tonight when they meet in the main event of the card arranged by Tom Kennedy for the American Legion stadium. No draw decisions will be made during the tournament.

Frankie Tierney and Eddie White will mix in the semi-final. Don Davis and Jack Sparr are billed for the special spot. Other bouts will be: Pico Ramies and Mike Solano, 122 pounds; Billy Young and Mike de Pluto, 130 pounds; Billy Hart and Young Danny, 118 pounds; Sid Boniface and the Hawaii Jap, 118 pounds.

Bud Houser, U. S. C. star who won two firsts in the Olympic games in Paris, will be an honored guest tonight and will be presented with a gold wrist watch by the post. Sammy Mandell, Chicago lightweight flash, who is trying to break into the four-round racket here, will be on hand to watch tonight's card.

QUESTION—Batter swings bat so far back on third strike that he hits the catcher. He goes through with the swing and lifts a pop up that falls safe. Umpire saw him touch the catcher with the bat. What is the decision?

ANSWER—As the batter interfered more with himself than any one else there seems to be no decision except to rule it a fair hit. He did not interfere with the catcher because he hit the ball.

QUESTION—Bases full. Two are out and the batter walks, forcing home a run. Before the runner from third reaches home the ball is put in play and the player off third is caught off the base for the third out. Does this run count?

ANSWER—The run counts because it is imperative that the runner on third should so home. The rule says he must and you cannot possibly take away a run that is permitted, in fact ordered by the rules.

QUESTION—If the pitcher is removed from the box during the game and placed in another position is he allowed to return to the box after playing several innings in his new position? I say he is not.

ANSWER—You are wrong. He may return to the box if he has not left.

QUESTION—Where are Clarke Pittenger and Dick Reiche, who were with the Boston Americans in 1923?

ANSWER—Pittenger is with Salt Lake City and Reiche with San Antonio.

YANKS TRYING TO PURCHASE GREGG

Seattle Pitcher Willing to Go But Club Owner Says He's Needed In Race

By JOHN B. FOSTER
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.
NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Vean Gregg wanders up and down the Pacific coast with the Seattle baseball club these days in anything but a pleasant frame of mind. Rumor for some days has had it that the New York Americans were anxious to bring him back into fast company. Now it develops that the rumor was based on cold fact. The Yankees wanted him and were ready to pay a good price for immediate delivery—but Seattle would not let him go.

Bob Connery, who is Miller Huggins' chief scout, went out west recently, looked Gregg over and wired Huggins that the veteran, once with Boston and earlier with Cleveland, was as fit as ever and just in trim to give Pen-nock, the southpaw, assistance, the Yankees seem to need.

The Yankees immediately made a proposition to Seattle which looked good to Wade Kilfliter, manager of the club. But Charles W. Lockhard, the owner, declared that with the pennant race on the coast in its present acute stage, the only way it would be safe for him to part with Gregg would be to leave town on the same train that bore the hurler.

Unpleasant Place

Gregg became conversant with the facts and he is bitter because he was not permitted to return to fast company, where he might have helped the Yankees win the pennant and got himself into the world series. Meanwhile, the Seattle team is on the heels of San Francisco, with only a few points separating them, and Gregg fears that if it happens to have had luck and pitch a poor game the fans will be on him as a quitter. Just now Seattle's chances to win look fairly good. Had he not learned of the Yankees' offer, Gregg would be pretty happy over his possible lesser triumph.

Gregg's best year in the American league was in 1913, when he was with Cleveland. He won 20 and lost 13 games. He was transferred to Boston when his arm began to give out, but he did not last very long there. Had Gregg returned to New York he would have been the first pitcher to return to the American league after an absence of a decade.

Make Old Timer

The Yankees are fearful that their pitching staff will go blooze on the western trip. Bush is a game man and pitches his head off when victory is in sight, but he is barely able to break even in his games and his arm has not been just right all season. It seems to be Sam Jones' luck to have a good season and then a bad one, despite the fact that he is one of the most willing and hardest working pitchers on Huggins' staff.

Had Gregg been obtained by the Yanks he would have been put into service at once and a result would have been looked for similar to that which befell Cleveland when they took Mails, a southpaw, and polished off the champagne in their own league in 1920 and then won the world series with him. And after that, perhaps, Gregg would have blown, as Mails did—though it must be recorded that Mails is something like himself again now and is helping to hold Oakland in the Pacific Coast race.

Expect Marks to Fall At Coast Water Meet

The indoor Pacific Coast swimming and diving championships to be held at Brookside Park, Pasadena, October 1, will undoubtedly bring out some of the best times, exhibitions and marks ever made, according to word received from various swimming clubs who are sending teams.

Many of the Olympic team members will be present and are being counted upon to crack the records. Carol Fletcher, national champion ship diver, will give the Pasadena Athletic club a good boost in points. Clarence Pinkston, Al White and David Fall are San Francisco's big hopes in the dives.

Venice looms as the all-around point winner. Coach Elmer Orr's boys and girls grabbed the outdoor championships at San Diego recently and the battle for the Coast championship between Venice and the Olympic club will be worth seeing.

The girls' events are expected to be in the sensational class also. With the fast L. A. A. C. Hollywood, Tolborow, Venice and San Diego mermaids ready to start at the crack of the gun, the waters are going to be churned to a white foam, it is said. The only event that looks like a cinch is the 50-yard breast stroke. Alice May Howard of San Diego, with a new world's record to her credit, looks like the cinch.

GIANTS, DODGERS IN CLOSE BATTLE

Brooklyn Annex Thirteen Straight; Senators Now Lead by Two Games

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Climaxing a spurt which has been almost as sensational as the late season drive to a pennant staged in 1914 by the Boston Braves, the Brooklyn Dodgers today rested on practically even terms with the New York Giants.

They won their thirteenth straight game yesterday when they twice defeated the Braves in Boston, and this morning were less than half a game behind the league leading Giants.

The Pirates were beaten by St. Louis and dropped to third place and the Giants lost almost all their lead when they were beaten in the tenth inning by the Phillies.

The New York Yankees slipped a full game backward when they lost to the Athletics, while Washington was trouncing Boston. The Senators now lead in the American league by two games.

The ruthless Robins jumped over the backs of the prostrate Braves into second place, winning both ends of a doubleheader, 5 to 1 and 1 to 1.

Cy Williams knocked a new ball out of the lot with the bases full in the tenth inning against the Giants, settling the ball game and offsetting the game to the Pirates.

Allan Sothoron spitballed the Pirates into submission, 5 to 1, shoving them into third place.

Then Senators increased their lead to two games by burying the Red Sox 12 to 5.

The Athletics advanced to the dizzy heights of a tie for sixth place by running away with the Yankees, 8 to 3.

Cincinnati started a drive for fourth place by blanking the Cubs 3 to 0.

The first game of the series will long be remembered by the 4000 fans who jammed into the White Sox park on San Fernando road last Sunday.

Both managers will use the same pitchers who staged the mound duel last Sunday.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE GOES TO DENVER

H. R. Cheesman Leaves for National Conference of Leaders in Work

H. R. Cheesman, scout executive of the Verdugo Hills District Council, which includes the cities of Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock, Tujunga, Montrose and La Crescenta, left Monday night for Denver, to attend the national conference of Boy Scout executives. The conference will be in the nature of an institute or school where the nation wide experience of Scout workers will be pooled under the leadership of competent experts.

"There are 150,000 volunteer leaders of the movement. To recruit, train and encourage these leaders, to direct the activities of scouting in the community, organize new troops and promote and maintain scouting standards, a group of paid workers is necessary. There are some 800 of these Scout executives, representing 20, 312 Scout troops," said Mr. Cheesman before leaving.

Benjamin Bills, head of the sales department of the Chicago Association of Commerce, will act in capacity of "sales counselor." Dr. W. W. Charters of the University of Pittsburgh is making a special study of scout executives and scout masters to reveal what qualities make successful scout leader. Prof. Arthur J. Todd, prominent sociologist, will give individual and group conferences to executives.

Judge Lindsey to Talk

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Juvenile court, and author of many books, will deliver an address and several other men of national importance will have a place on the program.

The executives will devote two hours daily to out of door scouting. The outdoor leaders include Prof. E. Lawrence Palmer of Cornell university; Ralph Hubbard, specialist on Indian lore; "Grizzly Smith," veteran of the woods; Commodore W. E. Longfellow, of the American Red Cross and instructor in swimming, and Dan Beard, veteran scout and author and national Scout commissioner.

Out in the woods the executives will construct a log cabin. They will build a nature den, a living exhibit of the plants and flowers around them. Campfires will be lighted and camp songs and "stunts" will provide entertainment.

Theme of Conference

But the conference program, in which every minute is carefully scheduled, is devoted to the serious business of promoting scouting. The theme is "The Boys of America," and a bigger program for extending Scouting to the eight million boys who are waiting without leadership for its benefits, will be developed.

Mr. Cheesman expects to obtain many helpful ideas at the conference for the benefit of the local work here. Up until September 20, during Mr. Cheesman's absence, the Boy Scout headquarters office, 102 1/2 South Brand will be open on Tuesday and Thursday nights with Deputy Scout Commissioner Wilson in charge.

COMMENT That's All

New Flow of Black Gold Church Choir Too Noisy Patriotism—What Is It? Need For Defense Day

—By Gil A. Cowan—

Surpassing imagination, market reports tell of the Pan-American Petroleum Transport company bringing in a well in the Tierra Blanca district of Mexico which is good for 100,000 barrels daily. Imagine such a flow of black gold? It simply can't be comprehended, for 100,000 barrels a day would make several train-loads of oil and fill a mighty reservoir—all in twenty-four short hours.

Perhaps there are bigger wells, but only one would make any individual fabulously wealthy should its flow continue at the same rate for one year.

Seal Beach for years has been noted for its free and easy life. Many are the liquor raids staged there, but it remained for a church choir from Glendale to disturb the peace last Saturday night.

Tuesday the four chaperons of the fifty noisy young people were fined $2.50 each in the township justice court and last night the council heard a protest on the part of the good people of Glendale that their choir was accused of everything except singing.

This writer heard something yesterday in the course of a luncheon speech which didn't "set" very well. With the best of intent the speaker pointed an accusing finger toward his home city in an effort to get his appeal across.

Now, without mentioning any names or arguing the point, would it not be better for everyone to look at the bright side of life, rather than paint gloomy pictures? Also, there is something in the Bible about "casting the first stone" which might be taken to heart. Nuff sed.

Also, in another appeal another speaker, with excellent intentions, raised a question of people's patriotism. That is a mighty delicate subject, particularly among former service men.

And, it is sometimes difficult to stifle one's emotions when the subject of loyalty is bandied about. This writer well remembers the days when serving in the army secret service in civilian clothes how Liberty bond campaigners cajoled the crowds in the street and button-holed the operatives of the war department with the declaration that they ought to be ashamed of themselves for not wearing a uniform or a Liberty bond button.

Why, girls have refused to sit at the same table with comrades in the service with this writer because they were not in uniform. Yet not a word could the victims of this heartlessness say in retaliation for the spoken slurs.

Patriotism! What is it? Sometimes we wondered after that.

Seldom do you hear the story of those who participated in the hottest fighting "over there," but as the years mend the minds and heal the wounds of those who went through the living hell, there is an occasional graphic description of war in its reality that makes one glad this government recognizes the need for Defense day.

Also, one appreciates the necessity of a nation in keeping its youth physically fit and clean for such a crisis.

But those who have paid the price in grievous wounds are the ones who are going to caution against useless warfare.

Then when they get into a scrap it is going to be victory won.

Miss Morgan Reopens Studio Upon Return From Work In New York City

Miss Helene Constance Morgan, talented Glendale pianist and teacher of piano, is resuming her classes for piano instruction at her residence studio, 1280 South Boynton avenue.

Miss Morgan has just recently completed a course of summer study in the master class conducted by Sigismund Stojowski, noted pianist and pedagogue of New York. This class was composed of concert pianists and teachers. In speaking of Mr. Stojowski, Miss Morgan says:

"Beside being a truly great teacher of piano, Mr. Stojowski is a man of most charming manner, and it has been a great privilege to spend a summer in study with him."

OPPOSE PHYSICAL TEST IN SCHOOL

Protective League Declares Children Exempt on Parents' Request

Declaring that school children of the state may be exempted from physical examination in the schools on the written request of their parents or guardians, the Public School Protective League, with headquarters at 714 Union Bank building, Los Angeles, is preparing 50,000 exemption cards for distribution to parents who want them.

Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, president of the league, states that, under section 1618-A of the political code, a public school pupil may be exempt from examination if the parents or guardian so desire and if they will make a written statement of their attitude. Parents who believe that the schools are for education and not for medication, she declares, should be vigilant, and she calls attention to the provisions laid down in the new health manual issued by the state, which calls for a series of tests of each child during the school year at stated intervals.

"With sanitation, cleanliness and recreation," says Mrs. Stearns, "the general demands of health can be easily taken care of and the long and complicated list of examinations called for in the manual of health can be avoided."

Snowstorms have injured the expected bumper wheat crop of Manchuria and the mills there may be compelled to use American wheat.

Income Tax Rebates Coming Through Mail

Glendale residents who pay income tax are rejoicing these days, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson. Rebate checks on taxes paid earlier in the year, and where the income tax was reduced by the action of Congress at the last session, are being sent through the mails. Postmaster Jackson said. The work of refunding overpayments was started September 1 and it is the intention of the internal revenue department to have all rebates made before the time to pay the next quarterly installment on September 15, according to word received at the local postoffice.

PROMOTION OPEN TO P. O. EMPLOYEES

Chances of Advancement at Local Office Are Best, Says Postmaster

The opportunities of advancement in the postal service were never better than at the present time. Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson said today, in discussing the need of additional clerks at the Glendale postoffice. An examination for clerks will be held in the near future, Postmaster Jackson said, and successful applicants will be given work immediately.

"Since we have moved into our new building, and the postoffice has grown, there is a need for clerks," Postmaster Jackson said. "Before very long it will be necessary to hold an examination, and those who pass will be given the opportunity to start right in working."

Entrance Pay

"The entrance pay for clerks during their probation period of six months is 60 cents an hour, and if they want to work ten hours a day and save as much as they can do so, provided there is sufficient work at the office for them. Right now it looks as though clerks who start in shortly will have plenty of work until after the first of next year."

"After serving their six months' probation period, the clerks are paid $1400 a year and the pay is increased each year by $100 until they reach the $1800 class. By close application to their work, they have an opportunity to work up to positions such as supervisor, foreman, superintendent of mails, and even assistant postmaster, which pays $2700 a year here."

Promotion Certain

"There is no office in the United States, as far as I know, where the chances of advancement for clerks are as good as they are in Glendale. This is due to the unusual growth of the office. Many of the men now serving in high positions at the Glendale office were clerks when I took charge of the office."

"The examinations are not hard. Any person who has completed a course of education at grammar schools can pass them. The next examination will be held in the near future."

COMPLETE PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Valley Residents to Observe 'Anniversary Day' at Noted Mission

"Admission Day" will be fittingly observed at an immense rally at the old Mission at San Fernando on September 9. It is also "Anniversary Day" at the Mission, commemorating the one hundred and twenty-seventh year of its founding. All Southern California is being organized for a revelry of gay festivities in observance of California's great day when it was admitted to the United States seventy-four years ago.

R. H. Ross of Los Angeles, a native son, has been selected as chairman of the day's program which will begin at 11 o'clock. The Kiwanis and Boy Scout bands from Van Nuys are scheduled to open the festivities at that hour.

Install Executives

At noon, several prominent men and women of California, whose names will be revealed later, will assemble in the old historic sala of the Mission and will be installed as the executive board of the Grand Chapter of the Society of the Golden Scroll, an organization to preserve and restore the old Missions.

John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play and known as a speaker of considerable repute, will give the only address of the day beginning at 2 o'clock.

Athletic Program

The sports program will open at 4 o'clock, under the direction of George V. Blake, athletic officer of the Los Angeles Athletic club. John P. Sweeney of San Francisco will stage numerous exhibitions of boxing, fencing, wrestling, tumbling and other exercises as practiced at the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Intermittent entertainment will be furnished by members of the Mission Players who will characterize Spanish troubadours, circulating through the crowds. During the night dancing will be enjoyed.

Art Association Head Returns From Laguna

Glendale Art association members meeting next Sunday afternoon at the public library will be greeted by their president, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, who, with Mr. Ballagh and her son, John Mortimer, has just returned to their home, 202 West Doran street, after two months spent at Laguna Beach. While at the beach Mrs. Ballagh continued her art work, bringing home eight new canvases and twenty-five studies.

Mrs. Ballagh is anxious that the meeting Sunday be well attended. Mrs. Nell Brooker Mayhew, artist and etcher, is to give an illustrated talk on California missions.

Property owners must improve the appearance of all buildings, under threat of fine for non-compliance, according to a recent municipal ordinance of Matamoros, Mexico.
