TRUSTS FLOURISHED UNDER ROOSEVELT

LA FOLLETTE ATTACKS FORMER PRESIDENT

Failed to Fully Enforce Anti-Trust Law While in the White House

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—In a picturesque, spontaneous outburst in the senate debate of the president's wool tariff veto, Senator La Follette attacked yesterday the new Progressive party, and swore new allegiance to Progressive Republicanism.

After reviewing the trust record of Col. Roosevelt, Senator La Follette declared that the former president was "not the man to find the way out now."

He said that when the Republican party, through its progressive associates, had reached a point where it would "respond to the purposes to which it was born, an attempt is made at Chicago to divert it."

Senator Stone asked Senator La Follette whether he meant the nomination of the president or the nomination of former President Roosevelt.

"I am surprised," began Senator La Follette, "that I left the senator from Missouri in doubt. I hope I did not leave doubt in the mind of anyone else."

Then, moving down the centre aisle, he continued:

"On the day that Theodore Roosevelt was made president of the United States there were 149 trusts and combinations in these United States. When he turned this government over to William Howard Taft, there were 16,929 plants in combination.

"When he became president the trusts had an aggregate capitalization of three billion dollars, and when he left the presidency they had an aggregate capitalization of thirty-one billion and more than 70 per cent of it was water."

"The present administration has sought to apply the anti-trust law more vigorously than its predecessors, but the time to have applied the Sherman anti-trust law effectively was in the infancy of these trusts, when there were only 149."

"I don't believe that the man who was president at the time of all times in the history of the Sherman anti-trust law when it could have been made potential in deterring trust organization—I do not think that the man who was then president is the man to find the way out now."

Then turning to Senator Stone, Senator La Follette inquired: "Does that answer the senator from Missouri?"

"That does fairly well," responded Senator Stone dryly.

Senator La Follette's outburst came without warning. He arose to make an analysis of the president's veto message on the wool bill, but had scarcely spoken a dozen words when the break came. He said that many Republican senators had left their seats as he began to speak, and with a bitter smile he turned to the president of the senate.

"I note the fact," he said, "that on the Republican side there are just four senators present. I am constrained to speculate a bit about this. I am compelled to question whether that condition may not be a sort of prophecy of what is to come."

Senator La Follette attacked the third party as an "obstruction across the path of the progressive movement." He said the progressive movement in the Republican party was bound to continue.

"The upbuilding of a third-party movement around some individuals whose personal ambitions may have received disappointment, is not going to be allowed to live," he declared.

AUTO FATALITY.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 17.—Amos B. Hyde, of Boston, was killed yesterday afternoon when the motor car he was driving turned turtle about six miles west of this city.

SUNDAY SHOOTING AROUSSES PROTEST

British Army Council Says Workmen Have No Other Day for Practice

London, Aug. 17.—The army authorities are receiving protests against Sunday rifle shooting practice at the ranges by territorial, chiefly by dissenting bodies. The official reply is that some territorials are obliged to go to distant ranges, and as there is no time in winter for workmen to make such journeys except on Sunday, the army council feel they cannot but approve this action of any man willing to sacrifice time travelling to the ranges on Sunday. The council, however, has issued orders discouraging any but day shooting, except as forming part of compulsory training and necessary for efficiency.

RECIPROcity ACT LIKELY TO STAND

REPEAL AMENDMENT IS PART OF COTTON BILL

Measure is Now in Conference and May Not be Reported

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 17.—A special dispatch from the Washington bureau of the Minneapolis Tribune says:

"There appears to be no probability whatever that the Canadian reciprocity act will be repealed at this session, though President Taft is reputed as being indisposed to insist upon its retention upon the statute books if congress agrees to its removal."

"The Democratic house, of course, is the main stumbling block to reciprocity at present, but it is further jeopardized, and possibly hopelessly blocked because of the fact that the repeal amendment, which was originally attached to the steel bill, is now a part of the cotton revision bill, a decidedly unpopular and admittedly insincere measure, which is now in conference, but which, it appears, is likely never to emerge from the conference room, and therefore, will never reach the President. The house cotton bill and that passed by the senate are decidedly different measures, and offer small ground for a compromise in conference, and unless through some unforeseen chance the senate override the President's veto of the wool bill, the cotton measure probably will not be heard of again this season. If it should emerge, however, it is practically certain that the entire measure, including reciprocity repeal, will be vetoed by the President as the proposed cotton revision is possibly farther separated from the tariff board recommendations than any of the Democratic tariff revision measures."

"I am surprised," began Senator La Follette, "that I left the senator from Missouri in doubt. I hope I did not leave doubt in the mind of anyone else."

Then, moving down the centre aisle, he continued:

"On the day that Theodore Roosevelt was made president of the United States there were 149 trusts and combinations in these United States. When he turned this government over to William Howard Taft, there were 16,929 plants in combination.

ACCUSED OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Man Who is Alleged to Have Shot Taxicab Committed for Trial.

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Herbert C. Hughes, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Charles Faus, was committed for trial in a higher court by Magistrate South yesterday. Hughes was driving a taxicab, which he had taken from its stand on Thursday night, August 8, and during the joyride which followed he alleged to have run over Faus, an elderly man, who subsequently died of injuries received.

W. H. A. Pickard, the driver of the car, said that he left it for five minutes while he went for his supper, when, looking from the restaurant window, he saw it disappearing up the street. George Marshall, another witness, testified that he had seen the accident, putting the blame on the man driving, said to be Hughes.

Dr. Curtis, who conducted the post-mortem, said that death was due to a fractured skull, sustained in the accident.

Upon his return journey to the capital he will hold a series of meetings for the discussion of public questions. The attendance of Canada's most distinguished statesman at the forestry convention will make this important occasion a memorable one for the city.

THREE THOUSAND PERSONS KILLED

VICTIMS OF RECENT EARTHQUAKES IN TURKEY

Appalling Story of Suffering is Told by Members of Relief Expedition

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—An appalling story of suffering and damage caused by the recent earthquake in the region about the Sea of Marmara, was told by the members of the expedition dispatched on August 14 to the vicinity on board the United States gunboat Scorpion, guardship at Constantinople, which returned here today.

The number of killed in the various towns and villages is placed at 2,900 and injured at 6,900. It was found impossible to approach several villages on account of the odors arising from the bodies buried among the ruins. Other villages were simply heaps of charred debris.

Earthquakes occur almost daily at many places along the coast. Six damaged houses collapsed in the village of Hamitca and towns.

In several villages visited by the expedition some of the houses were apparently undamaged.

At Myrophile the appearance of the town was deceptive because a number of the houses standing on the sea-front, surrounded by gardens were intact, but immediately in the rear scarcely a stick or stone was left up-right. Numerous fissures were observed in the ground but none of great size, although the villagers reported that a cleft nearly 200 feet deep had opened in a hillside eight miles inland.

The people throughout the district appeared stunned by the catastrophe and made no attempt to help themselves, sitting and brooding over their misfortunes and awaiting the arrival of relief.

The Red Cross Society and the Greek Philanthropic Society are doing good work in the district, the Red Cross Society having dispatched missions to the interior to assist the sufferers.

POWERS AND THE BALKAN SITUATION

Austria-Hungary Desires Re- construction of European Concert

Paris, Aug. 17.—The project of Count Leopold von Bechtold, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, to obtain gradual autonomy for all the European provinces of Turkey is welcomed in official circles here, but the French government's attitude will not be divulged until the return of Premier Poincare from Russia and after the Poincare office has discussed the project fully with the friends and allies of France.

The new fact of real importance from the French point of view which the suggestion discloses, is the apparent desire of Austria-Hungary for a re-construction of the European concert which, so far as Balkan affairs are concerned, has been practically in abeyance since 1902.

Russia and France.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 17.—A semi-official statement issued yesterday with reference to the results of the conversations which, for several days, have been going on at the Russian capital between the French premier, M. Poincare, and M. Kokovsov and Sazanoff, respectively Russian prime minister and minister of foreign affairs, asserts that the exchange of opinion gave evidence that the ties uniting the two countries were never stronger and that the alliance constitutes "a precious guarantee" for the maintenance of peace and the equilibrium of Europe.

RUSHING GRAIN CARS TO WEST

RAILWAYS PREPARING TO HANDLE CROP

Vice-President of C.P.R. Says There Will Be No Shortage This Year

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The C. P. R. and the G. T. P. are already arranging for the sending West of all available empty cars to be in readiness for the moving of the immense grain crop which is expected this year. In fact, the movement of cars to the West has never been so in readiness as soon as threshing starts.

Officials of both roads to-day expressed the conviction that the problem of shifting the crop would this year be handled with the minimum of inconvenience, while the C. N. R. announces that it is in a position to handle the same proportion of the crop which it handled last year, namely, one-third.

Vice-President Bury, of the C. P. R., whose headquarters are in Winnipeg, declares his belief that there will be no car shortage this year.

Harvesters for West.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Aug. 17.—The first harvester excursion train arrived here yesterday morning, carrying two hundred harvesters. One hundred got off at Moose Jaw, and the others were booked through to Calgary. There were thirteen coaches and five were dropped at this point.

Under Twine Situation.

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 17.—The binder twine situation in this district is becoming serious, the statement being made yesterday by the manager of the International Harvester Company that already more has been sold in the province than was estimated would be used. Five carloads are coming through to the city by express from Chicago.

POSTPONE DEPARTURE.

London, Aug. 17.—Donald MacMaster left Euston station to-day on the boat train for Liverpool en route for Canada. Hon. L. P. Pelletier has postponed his departure.

LIBERALS AND NAVAL PROBLEM

STATEMENT MADE BY ONE OF LEADERS

Will Adhere to Policy Unless Conservatives Submit a Better One

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—In what apparently is an inspired statement, the Free Press (Liberal), last night published the following:

"On the authority and in the words of one of its most prominent leaders, the Free Press is able to state that the attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the Liberal party to the naval question is as follows:

"We have a policy on this question. We adopted it after mature consideration. The opposition of that day could not resist the temptation of making capital out of it, and roused all the passions they cannot now reconcile. Hence their call for assistance."

"We will assist them if they frankly adopt our policy, or have a better one to offer. But until they have shown their hand we stand on our platform and adhere to our policy."

ROCKEFELLER ASKS FOR AID.

Estate Guarded by Officers as Result of Trouble With Discharged Employees.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 17.—John D. Rockefeller's estate at Pocantico Hills was guarded last night by a number of deputy sheriffs because of the fear of violence on the part of discharged employees. Several men recently were let go by the foreman of a large force of foreign laborers, and trouble ensued, culminating in an attempt to burn the cottage of Foreman Antonio Di Marco. Mr. Rockefeller informed Sheriff Doyle of the situation and asked for aid.

JURY EXONERATES DRIVER OF AUTO

Verdict at Inquest Into Death of Boy Killed by Car in Vancouver

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—That Donald Hector McDonald met his death by being accidentally run over by an automobile driven by Carman Gatewood, near the corner of Westminster avenue and Victoria Drive last Sunday evening, was the verdict of the coroner's jury yesterday afternoon. The jury absolved the driver, who is 18 years old, of all blame.

The inquest yesterday was a continuation of the one on Wednesday afternoon. The first witness to be called was Mr. Gatewood. He was somewhat nervous. Coroner Jeffs, however, soon put him at ease. Young Gatewood stated that he was unable to see the car at the time of the accident, and that he did not realize that the car had run over him until the rear wheels of the car passed over his body. He stated that he was driving his car at the rate of five miles an hour, and stopped it within a distance of thirty feet after he realized that he had struck the unfortunate boy.

The next witness was E. A. Henderson, who was sitting in the rear seat of the car that ran the boy down.

"I can truthfully state that Mr. Gatewood was driving the car at a very moderate rate," said Mr. Henderson. "I have ridden with Mr. Gatewood several times before, and have always found that he was a most careful driver. I think the accident could not possibly have been avoided."

Charles Farina, foreman of the city waterworks, said he saw the accident while he was walking along the street from his home. In his opinion Mr. Gatewood was driving the car at a very low rate of speed, and did his best to stop the car after the accident. He also stated that he considered it impossible for Mr. Gatewood to see the lad after he rushed from in front of the car that was standing before his own home.

The last witness called was Mrs. Mabel Granville, who was in the car at the time the child was run over.

"I saw the little lad rush out in front of the car. I knew there was nothing to be done. I put my hands over my eyes and screamed. The next instant I saw the victim of the accident lying on the road."

MOORS ROUTED.

Defeated With Heavy Loss by French Troops.

Fes, Morocco, Aug. 17.—A severe fight occurred Thursday at Mouley Bouchta, between French troops under General Goud and Moorish followers of the pretender of Sicitah, in which the French lost eight killed and forty wounded.

Three thousand Moors were engaged and their ranks were decimated by repeated bayonet charges. The Moors were routed with great loss.

CLARENCE DARROW IS ACQUITTED

JURY OUT ONLY THIRTY-FIVE MINUTES

Demonstration in Courtroom Follows Announcement of Verdict

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 17.—Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, on trial for alleged jury-bribing, was acquitted today. Judge George H. Hutton began his charge to the jury at 8:20 o'clock this morning.

The court eliminated the first count in the indictment, that Darrow had bribed George N. Lockwood, a regularly-drawn juror, in the case of J. H. McNamara. The evidence, Judge Hutton instructed, did not justify a verdict of guilty on the first count.

The second count charged Darrow with attempting corruptly to influence a man about to be drawn as a juror. The court also instructed that a verdict of guilty could not be found on the uncorroborated evidence of accomplices.

"If you find no evidence independent of the testimony of accomplices," said the judge, "you must find the defendant not guilty. Admission alleged to have been made to accomplices by the defendant should not be regarded as corroborative. The testimony of a forged accomplice, however, does not require corroboration."

This instruction applied to Lockwood.

The instructions were regarded as very favorable to the defendant. One of the first instructions disposed of the charge of bribing a juror, the court holding that there was no evidence to justify a verdict of guilty on that count.

The jury was warned against uncorroborated testimony by accomplices and that of witnesses testifying under a promise of immunity. The court also instructed that the defendant was not on trial for any of the several crimes charged against him except that directly contained in the indictment. Evidence of other alleged crimes could only be considered if the jury believed that such crimes formed part of a general plan or system.

Darrow was placed in the custody of his chief counsel, Attorney Earl Rogers, upon the submission of the case to the jury. The crowd filling the courtroom remained, the prevailing sentiment being that there would be an early verdict.

The judge completed his instructions at 9:20 o'clock and the jury retired. The jury required just 34 minutes to reach a conclusion, returning at 9:54 with a verdict of not guilty.

Only one ballot was taken by the jury and each juror voted not guilty. Although warned against any demonstration by the bailiff, there was a spontaneous outburst of applause when Foreman M. R. Williams, in response to the court's query, stated that they, the jury, had found a verdict of not guilty.

There was a rush to the side of the defendant which was stopped by the bailiffs, but it was resumed a few minutes later after Judge Hutton thanked and discharged the jury.

Then ensued a remarkable scene. Darrow approached the jurors still in the box to thank them, and two of them, Jurors Golding and Dunbar, threw their arms about him and passed him on the back. Other jurors reached forward and clasped hands with the defendant, the scene gradually resolving itself into a reception for Darrow and the jurors. Friends of the erstwhile defendant crowded up to congratulate him and shake hands with the jurors, while the flashlights of newspaper photographers boomed from every angle of the courtroom.

History of the Case.

A direct outcome of the abrupt ending last November of the trial of J. R. McNamara for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, the trial of Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the McNamaras, was the result.

DEATH FOLLOWS
PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Lumberman Whose Eye Was Injured by Fish Hook Suc- cumbs to Meningitis

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Otis Staples, millionaire lumberman and former resident of Seattle, died yesterday at Wyecliffe, B. C., following a peculiar accident which deprived him of the sight of one eye.

He was fishing for trout one day two weeks ago when the fishhook, being flipped back, caught in his eyeball. He was unable alone to remove it and was forced to drive his automobile forty miles to secure medical aid. It was too late then to save the eye. The young man stayed in the hospital a few days and the infection from the eye spread into his face, causing meningitis, from which he died yesterday.

JEAN VALJEAN IN REAL LIFE

MEMBER OF PHILADELPHIA CITY COUNCIL RESIGNS

Blackmailed by Fellow Convict, He Tells Story of Former Crimes

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 17.—Jean Valjean in real life was disclosed yesterday when William Burke, a city councillor on the reform ticket headed by Mayor Blenkenship last fall, resigned his seat, and told that under the name of Benjamin H. Tripp, he had served a long term in the Massachusetts prison, after a career of crime in New York.

Coming to this city in 1907, after completing his sentence in the Massachusetts prison, Burke earned an honest living as a wood carver, a trade he had learned while in jail. Taking an active interest in reform politics he was prevailed upon to accept the nomination to the city council. Shortly after his election he was recognized by a fellow convict and blackmailed, until, driven to desperation, he determined to resign and tell his story.

According to Burke's story, appearing in the Philadelphia Inquirer yesterday over his signature, fourteen years before he became a convict at Boston, he had led the life of a thief, a pickpocket and porch-climber. When he was arrested in Boston he was called the "Prince of Flat Workers."

He says he started in life as a street walt on the East Side of New York selling newspapers. He was hanging around the corners of the East Side when he began the life of a crook to which he now, after reaching his forty-third year, has confessed to. "Gopher men," the species of crooks who confine themselves to cracking and robbing safes, were the first of the underworld, he fell in with. They used him, so his story runs, to visit establishments where they thought a safe might be worth rifling. Then he drifted in with a gang of "Moll Buzzers" that class of thieves who, he explains, are pickpockets who make a specialty of snatching women's handbags.

After this, Burke says he went West with several "eyegemen," and in Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco, in the '80's, he was the assistant of desperate thieves.

Upon returning to New York he became a gambler, and then a sneak thief. Later he went to Boston where, after robbing many houses, he was caught and convicted. Judge Bond sentenced him on December 16, 1894, to not less than seven years. Upon his release he settled in this city, where he worked at his newly-learned trade, and saved enough money to buy a little cigar store. He is married, and has a little girl.

Burke insists he has done nothing wrong since the gates of Charlestown prison swung open for him, and he stepped into the world.

MERGER MAY BE OPPOSED.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—It was said this morning that opposition to the merger of the Royal and Traders' Banks may possibly come from litigants in Toronto, who are suing the Traders' Bank for $42,000.

"I would not be surprised if he should go to the treasury board with his complaint," declared Stuart Strathly, general manager of the Traders', yesterday, "but we are not in the least bit frightened by this."

TWO KILLED BY TRAIN.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 17.—Leaping from an automobile, which escaped by a hair's breadth a flying passenger train, William Groebbeck, of Salt Lake City, and F. M. Bradshaw, of Los Angeles, were hit by the locomotive and killed at 14th South and Second West streets, yesterday.

AMENDED BILL OPPOSED IN HOUSE

Representatives Object to the Changes Made in Panama Canal Measure

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—Much unexpected opposition to the amended Panama canal bill developed in the House last night that an adjournment was taken as the best way out of an embarrassing position. Representatives Moore and Olmstead, of Pennsylvania, led the attack with the charges that the conference had added matter not passed upon by either the House or the Senate and insisted that they by so doing had exceeded their authority.

The Senate earlier in the day had adopted the conference report by a vote of 48 to 18 after a hard fight led by Senator Brandegee, chairman of the Senate conference, who had refused to sign the agreement. Senator Brandegee urged defeat of the conference report and the passage of a temporary resolution giving the president power to operate the canal.

In the House special stress was laid on the fact that a provision for the free entry of shipbuilding material into the canal zone had been injected into the measure. This Representative Olmstead argued, was a revenue item and could not properly come either from the Senate or be included in the general bill without the sanction of the House.

The extension of free tolls to American ships trading with the Philippines, Tutuila, Samoa and Guam also was attacked.

Speaker Clark sought light on the situation. Finally seeing that there was no chance of progress being made to-night the majority forced an adjournment.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

Gathering at Kelowna Brought to Close—Addresses by Experts.

Kelowna, Aug. 17.—The convention of the Western Canada Irrigation Association concluded here yesterday afternoon, and the delegates left by steamer for Penticton, where a banquet is being held in the new Incolta Hotel. There were over 200 delegates in attendance, and they spent busy sessions on Wednesday and Thursday listening to papers and addresses from well-known men from both sides of the line who are prominent in irrigation work.

Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, who is president of the association, presided over the deliberations, and was warmly praised by all the speakers for the work that is being done by the government through the department of which he is the head for the conservation of the water resources of this province.

Hon. Price Ellison, minister of finance and agriculture, was also present, and spoke of the value of the work being done by the association.

Among speakers at the convention were: Dr. Samuel Fortier, chief of irrigation investigations in the United States; J. S. Dennis, assistant to the president of the C. P. R., and in charge of the company's irrigation work; R. Campbell, Dominion chief forester; F. H. Peters, Dominion commissioner of irrigation at Calgary; R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturist; E. McQueen Gray, foreign secretary of the national irrigation congress, of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Several motor car excursions were taken to various irrigation works in operation in this district. Yesterday morning, after the conclusion of the business of the convention, a motor trip was taken as far as Okanagan Mission, and at that point the steamer was boarded for Penticton. Other motor excursions were arranged by the citizens of that city to fill in the time until the hour for the banquet.

MASSING TROOPS ON THE FRONTIER

Montenegro Declares Move is Intended to Ward-Off Albanian Attack

Constantinople, Aug. 17.—Complaint is made in official circles that although Turkey has done everything possible to bring about an amicable settlement with Montenegro regarding the frontier question, even to disavowing the action of her own minister at Cetinje, the Montenegrin government is probably anticipating an unfavorable finding by the mixed commission, and has now started a fresh move by appealing for the support of the powers in favor of certain undefined frontier rectification and is mobilizing her army facing the Gushin district of Albania.

The Montenegrin charge d'affaires has assured the Porte that his government has no hostile intentions, but that the mobilization is intended to ward off a possible Albanian attack. Turkey has adopted corresponding precautionary measures, but nevertheless the Porte continues well disposed to the view that the dispute will be satisfactorily settled.

The Ottoman government realizes the necessity of the frontier being delimited, but is unable to deal with the question until the Albanian difficulties are adjusted. The Porte considers that Montenegro's attempt to profit by Turkey's international trouble is unfair, but is resolved not to depart from its policy of moderation.

Damat Sheriff, master of public works, yesterday accepted the post of minister of the interior.

Attack by Turks. Cetinje, Aug. 17.—A band of Mohammedan Arnauts, supported by a number of Turkish troops, yesterday attacked a section of the Christian population in the Barana district of Albania, close to the Montenegro frontier. A fierce fight ensued and much blood was shed. Many Christians and their families have fled from the district and taken refuge in Montenegro.

COMMISSIONER DRAWS DISTINCTION

Appointment to Federal Office Does Not Disqualify Yukon Councillor

Dawson, Aug. 17.—Alaire J. Sequin has assumed the position of chief clerk in the gold commissioner's office in Dawson. The position formerly was occupied by O. S. Finnie, and the duties have been performed for the last two years or so by L. T. Burwash, mining engineer. Mr. Burwash has retired from the government service.

He is one of the old-timers in the territory and has been under the gold commissioner in this district and in southern Yukon. Mr. Sequin has been with the N. C. Company as head of the grocery department of the Dawson station for years. He retired from the service of the company the middle of July, and has been succeeded by Max Landreville. He is a member of the Yukon council.

A resolution was passed at the last session of the Yukon council providing that any person holding a position in the pay of the territorial government shall be ineligible to act as a member of the council. Commissioner Black states that the resolution does not apply to persons in the service of the federal government. The gold commissioner's office is a branch of the federal department of interior.

CONSPIRATORS EXECUTED.

Chinese Plotters Shot After Drumhead Courtmartial.

London, Aug. 17.—The dramatic arrest and execution of several house generals, including Chang Chen Wu, alleged to be the head of a plot recently unearthed at Hankow have caused intense excitement in the Chinese capital, according to the Peking correspondent of The Daily Telegraph.

The army officers arrived at Peking openly from Hankow a few days ago. President Yuan Shai Kai received secret messages from General Li Yuen Heng, the vice-president of China, proving the complicity of the generals in the recent abortive revolution and the president acted with such swiftness that escape was impossible.

The generals were seized at night and the two leaders of the Wu Chang outbreak were shot after being tried by a drumhead courtmartial. The other officers were returned in chains to Hankow and their execution. The men belonged to the Tung Men Hui, Dr. Sun Yat Sen's party, which controls the advisory council.

DRINKS POISON.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 17.—Despondent over his confessed misdeeds, despite the fact that his wife had condoned his conduct towards her, Thomas Thompson, a miner, swallowed the contents of a two-ounce phial of carbolic acid at the imperial hotel, 1211 Pacific avenue, and ended his life.

Weeping bitterly at the fate which leaves her with three children to support, all under six years of age, the widow declared that she was unable to account for Thompson's act, and although he had twice before deserted her, his earnest pleadings for forgiveness led her to believe her marital troubles were over.

WILL PRESENT CASE FOR THE HINDUS

Are Raising Funds to Engage Lecturer Who Will Tour Canada

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—With the purpose of presenting the immigration question to the Canadian public from the standpoint of the man from India and with the idea in mind that much work can be done in the Dominion in the way of correcting erroneous ideas regarding the subject which are supposed to exist, local Hindus have started a fund among themselves to raise money to defray the travelling expenses of G. K. Gokhale, a prominent Hindu, on a lecture tour through Canada. Gokhale is a non-official member of the governor-general's legislative council of India. He is a member of the Moderates party and is a loyal subject of King George V.

Large sums of money are to be given to the cause and local Hindus state that if the promise of Gokhale to come to Canada can be secured there will be no lack of financial assistance. In view of the fact that most of the Hindus of Canada are in this province, the funds will be gathered from among the Hindus of British Columbia.

A meeting held at the Sikh temple last Sunday was the first of several which are to be held to interest the attention of the Hindus. At this meeting several hundred dollars were subscribed and many more promised. A cablegram was sent to Gokhale in London, where he is now, asking him to make the trip. A reply was received to the effect that the matter had been placed before the gentleman and that at his earliest opportunity he would give a definite answer. It was recited in the message that he is very busy and that the press of affairs in connection with his important position in India is such that a long trip of the kind suggested could not be undertaken without due consideration.

The Hindus of Vancouver believe that by bringing Gokhale to Canada and placing him on the lecture platforms of the various important cities of Canada, many of the opinions now held towards the Hindus would be changed to the advantage of the men from India. They declare that with this educational campaign the immigration authorities may be brought to view the situation in a different light and let down the immigration bars to such an extent that the Hindus may bring their wives and children to Canada in general and British Columbia in particular.

It is with the intention of directly affecting the immigration laws that the move is being made. In view of the fact that Gokhale is of the party which is loyal to the British and is in favor of British rule, it is thought by the Hindus that his trip through the Dominion will be welcomed on all sides. Being of high political standing in India, and further having an intimate knowledge of affairs and conditions of that part of the British Empire, Gokhale is thought to be the best speaker to bring to Canada.

Gokhale will be expected in his speeches to so color the situation and so present the knowledge he has at his command that he will start a wave of sentiment directly opposing the attitude taken by British Columbia in asking for the exclusion of Hindus and their families.

FOUR CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Perish in Fire Which Destroys House — Boy Succumbs After Being Rescued

Eglin, Ont., Aug. 17.—Four children of Thomas Harrison, a hired man on the farm of Thomas Dwyer, three miles from this village, were burned to death yesterday. Harrison and his wife had gone to the barn to milk the cows, leaving the four children asleep in the house. They had been out only a short time when Mr. Dwyer, who was in a field, noticed the house in flames. He gave the alarm and rushed into the burning building at the risk of his life, and got out the eldest boy, who was badly burned and lived only a few hours.

The children were aged one, three, five and six years old. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were housekeepers for Mr. Dwyer, who is a bachelor.

ALLEGED BANK ROBBER. Man Released on Parole From U. S. Prison Will Be Brought to Canada for Trial.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 17.—On his release on parole yesterday from the state prison, where he had served more than 11 years for burglary, having been arrested in 1900, Frederick Allen, alias Joseph Huddle, alias John D. Brown, was re-arrested for the Canadian authorities. Allen is charged with being one of a band of men who robbed the Eastern Townships Bank of Danville, Que., of $15,000 about 12 years ago. The robbers were captured in a swamp after a fight. Later they escaped from the jail at Sherbrooke, Que. after an exchange of shots with the guards. Peter McCaskill, a government detective, traced Allen to the state's prison here. Allen agreed to waive extradition rights and go to Montreal with Detective McCaskill.

CAR FAMINE IS IMMINENT IN U. S.

Chairman of Association of Western Railways Issues a Warning

Chicago, Aug. 17.—An appeal for aid in averting what may be one of the most disastrous car famines in the history of the country has been sent to industrial traffic managers and commercial organizations throughout the United States by W. A. Garrett, chairman of the association of Western railways.

If preventive measures are not promptly taken, Mr. Garrett says shippers will be confronted next October with the worst situation that has existed since October, 1907, just before the panic. If the reduction in the available supply of cars should be as great this year as it was in 1909, it is pointed out, there will be a shortage October 25 next of 179,833 cars.

"The situation would be appalling," adds Mr. Garrett, "and the resulting losses suffered by all commercial, industrial and transportation interests enormous."

Mr. Garrett makes note of the fact that in the four years, 1908-1911 inclusive, the reduction in the net car supply between the third week in July and the third week in October varied from 128,540 to 248,755 cars. July 18, 1912, the surplus was 75,389, and the shortage 6,467, making a net surplus of 68,922. If the reduction in the available car supply between July and October, it is said, is equal only to the smallest reduction that has taken place in the same period in any preceding four years, the country will be confronted October 25 next with a net shortage of 59,618 cars.

Warnings relative to the probability of a car shortage have been issued by the Chicago board of trade.

president and the medical attendant, Dr. Rose, power to engage an acting matron and the necessary assistants and ordered the eleven pupil nurses, expelled on Tuesday night on a charge of insubordination, to be reinstated.

The meeting was called to reconsider the action in expelling the girls, but a new complexion was placed upon the matter by the resignation of the matron, on whose recommendation the expulsion of the girls was decided upon, and that of Head Nurse Baxter, who was in charge of the institution at the time of the alleged revolt of the pupil nurses.

A motion to reinstate the girls was passed unanimously, only two members of the board being absent. It is provided that the acting matron may refuse to employ any of the girls if she so desires, but their standing, as far as securing diplomas as graduate nurses is secured, and it is generally understood the acting matron to be named, will accept any who care to return to work.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 17.—White Postmaster A. Uddenberg and members of his family slumbered peacefully in the sleeping porch of their home directly across the street, robbers early yesterday broke into the Gig Harbor postoffice and walked off with the safe. They carried it through Gig Harbor to a bluff overlooking the Sound, and rolled it down to the beach, where they blew the door off with nitro-glycerine. The detonation failed to awaken any of the Gig Harbor residents or of the summer camp in the vicinity. The thieves obtained only $100.

A good many people's idea of duty is that it means just the things you can't dodge.

A CANADIAN ASSET.

In the political life of nations the ebb and flow of the tide of party ascendancy seems as evident and inevitable as the ebb and flow of the tides of the sea. The striking difference illustrating the ineptness of the simile is that the ebb and flow of political tides is not according to inexorable law of regular course. It is fitful and depends somewhat upon the ability of campaign managers and the ability of party organizers to seize upon adventitious issues and turn them to party account. It was by such a "trick" that the Borden party came into power last year, the appeal to patriotism and the waving of the flag succeeding beyond the wildest hopes of the most sanguine party optimists. A tidal wave of Imperialism carried the Borden government into power, but it is as true of political tidal waves as of those exemplified in the regular action of the sea that the higher they rise the more sudden and sweeping is their retreat. There are signs that the electorate of Canada have recovered their balance after being temporarily swept off their feet by the storm of fanatical and frenzied eloquence of the "patriotic" press and platform in the late campaign. In the Maritime Provinces this seems to be as evident as in Quebec and in some parts of Ontario, the Middle West having in the meantime reiterated its allegiance to the principles of freer trade through which the Laurier government went on the rocks. It is evident also that neither the rank the conflicting interests which temporarily amalgamated to make up the new government are satisfied with the lack-advisal policy of Hon. R. L. Borden. Disguise their sentiments as they may, there is a growing apprehension among Conservatives that Mr. Borden has not the strength and courage to lead his party, however many the other excellent personal qualities he may possess. Though Mr. Borden has been lionized in England, the glamor of his multitudinous receptions had not increased his prestige in his own Dominion and there are many Conservatives as well as the vast company of loyal Liberals who look with misgiving upon the future of the destiny of Canada is to continue committed to Mr. Borden's keeping. The Halifax Chronicle speaks for the Maritime Provinces in an admirable summing up of the political situation. It says:

"There is no denying the fact that that unflinching hope and belief shared by hosts of Conservatives as well as the entire Liberal party, that the Canadian people will at an early date call Sir Wilfrid Laurier 'to finish his work'—is recognized at this hour as Canada's greatest asset. By reason of his unequalled political sagacity, his unquenchable Canadianism, his flawless life, his warm sympathies, his unrivalled public gifts—Sir Wilfrid is implicitly followed as party chief by a half at least of the Canadian people, while by the larger portion of the other half he is scarcely less venerated as the Dominion's first citizen."

"Sir Wilfrid's marvelous and increasing influence on the country has its direct basis in the character of the man. His political career is inseparable from his inner life and conceptions. The principles which he has inculcated deep in Canadian life are the consequence of his personal as well as his political philosophy. It is largely because of the remarkable union in him of the qualities of both the man of vision, as well as of the practical politician, that Sir Wilfrid is so endeared to the Canadian people. His far-reaching as a political force is understood by reason of the fact that the people have such a correct apprehension of Sir Wilfrid himself. A statesman incorruptible and fearless, he is without associated in the minds of the common people as the plain and simple democrat. Sir Wilfrid has always impressed the country with his superlative good sense. Never a radical in the sense of stirring up new passions in the multitude, the Liberal chief has yet in a greater degree than any other in our public life moved the hearts of men who hold social equality and individual freedom to be a birthright."

"There is no role to which Canada has called Sir Wilfrid that he has not filled with consummate tact and unquestioned capacity. While he brooked no rival as Prime Minister, it will be acknowledged on all sides that as such, Sir Wilfrid never failed, even in the most critical juncture, as the constitutional ruler—the voice of the people his final arbiter in all things. In parliamentary leadership this greatest Canadian has proved himself by the force of his eloquence and by his faculty of command the equal of those most eminent and dauntless in English-speaking annals."

The government press will, of course, deny that such a sentiment is growing in evidence, but there are many willing testimonials that thoughtful men in business, professional and other walks of life who, living above the plane of party strife, would be very much more optimistic could they feel that a master hand like that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier were again at the helm of national affairs in Canada. Perhaps it may come much sooner than some of these expect if one may judge from the apprehensive tone of the government press when discussing national issues which demand in the Prime Minister those very qualities so characteristic of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and, by comparison, so conspicuously absent in Hon. R. L. Borden.

POULTRY FARMING.

Some of the industrial and other journals of Canada have been recently turning their attention to the study of poultry farming and the egg industry as it exists, or rather, does not exist, in Canada at the present time in comparison with the egg production of a few years ago. A decade ago Canada was exporting eggs to the value of about one and three-quarter million dollars. Last year there was practically no export, while the imports reached a value of about half a million dollars. The imported eggs came from the United States, Europe and Australia. How important an industry Western Canada is overlooking may be judged from the fact that the annual value of poultry products in the United States is greater than either that of wheat, growing or dairying, and more than equal to the combined value of sheep and swine production. The movement of population toward the prairie provinces has created in the Middle West a market which absorbs all the product of the older provinces of Canada and still cries out for more. Under these circumstances it seems remarkable that a climate so admirably temperate and otherwise suitable for poultry as is that of British Columbia should fail to encourage the development of the industry to large proportions. The price of eggs in Canada, both in the East and West, is so high that one fails to understand why more time, money and energy is not invested in the prosecution of the poultry industry. It is useless to say that with eggs selling at 35 cents per dozen in summer and from 75 to 90 cents per dozen in winter the poultry industry does not afford ample scope for profit-making. No overstocking of the market could ever bring the price down to a point where the production of eggs and poultry would be carried on without a reasonable return. The excuse of the farmer in most instances has been that the middle-man takes all the profit and that the prices realized by the producer do not compensate for the time and energy in production when compared with investment of time and energy in other directions. There is, however, an organization being fostered which, so far as it has been already in operation, seems to overcome this difficulty. The Poultry Producers' Association of Canada has among its methods of marketing eggs and poultry what it terms "Egg Circles," which is but another method of co-operation in marketing the combined products of dairy and poultry farm. In the language of the constitution, the object of the as-association is "to encourage a co-operative spirit among the poultry producers; to bring producers and consumers closer together; to encourage the adoption of the best breeds and types of utility poultry; to encourage the small producers to form local branches or circles for mutual co-operation in production and selling; to aid in establishing a uniform and recognized standard of dressed poultry and eggs; to keep producers in touch with those buyers who put a premium on quality and to advance and dignify the industry."

For practical work the association divides its membership into three classes: One of these consists of producers near to cities, the second of those near express offices or railway stations, and the third of those who live "away back," even the latter being organized to deliver, through the local stores, the products of their poultry stock in a systematic and profitable manner.

The government of the province is doing something to encourage the adoption of the best breeds and types of poultry, and to give some more or less reliable technical information about poultry generally. Perhaps this is as far as a government can safely go, and it remains for the people of the province who have small tracts of land suitable for conversion into poultry farms to take up the other work of organization. It is a reflection upon the rural citizenship of British Columbia that, with its equable climate in every way adapted to the production of poultry and the high prices prevailing, so large a proportion of the eggs and fowls consumed within the province must be brought across the seas or "across the line."

The Statist, which is the world's strongest and most authoritative financial paper, publishes an American railroad supplement in a recent issue. The supplement consists of 140 pages, and what it does not tell about the smouldering and affairs of American railroads is scarcely worth considering. The number throughout is of great value to students of modern financial movements and prospects.

The Montreal Star is determined that Canada shall present a little bevy of Dreadnoughts to Great Britain as an evidence of loyalty and a contribution to imperial defence. Outside of the Montreal paper the larger number of government papers are lukewarm on the proposal. They are only waiting for Mr. Borden to say the word and then they will howl for Dreadnoughts until the welkin rings. But, if Borden shouldn't give the word? "You have my authority for saying the statement is absolutely incorrect," is the Premier's last word on the subject up to this date.

Potatoes for some weeks have been selling in England at less than a half-penny per pound. The price is a little unusual and people are tempted to buy for stock and take the risk of depreciation. The papers are warning them against doing so and the markets are glutted. If it were not for the duty which Canada levies upon this wholesome and nutritious article of food we might send over there and import a few tons of the luscious tubers. As it is we can get them cheaper by buying in Washington and California and paying the duty, which makes them sell still cheaper than the home-grown varieties. But we can remain loyal to the Empire only by paying the import duty, though they do not have to do it in England.

Our Minister of Militia, in his address at Vancouver on the possibility of invasion and war, referred to the overcrowded state of the jails as one of the factors in the situation. It is a very old argument that war is necessary now and then for the purification and uplifting of the morals of the people, but the Montreal Witness declares it is a deadly error. There are cases in history, undoubtedly, where unjustly attacked nations have risen to moral grandeur in resistance, and in consequence have started on new lines of development in intelligence and moral worth. But it was adversity and not killing and plunder that purified them. Throughout the long course of human history, war has no such lesson of usefulness to tell. Great principles are seldom its causes, and moral benefits are seldom to be found in its results.

WHAT SHE WAS AFTER.

David Belasco condemns a certain ultra-modern type of society woman. "This type, which luckily isn't numerous," he says, "lives on notoriety. To a woman of this type a lawyer said one day: 'Yes, madam, I can get you the divorce you desire. For five hundred dollars I can get you a divorce—and get it without publicity, too.'"

"She wrinkled her smooth, white, well powdered forehead in a frown; she bit her tongue and over-rear lip in annoyance. 'But what would it cost,' she asked, 'with publicity?'"

MUTUAL.

A well known judge standing at the door of a ballroom, when a very beautiful woman passed him. "What a lovely woman," whispered the judge, but so loudly that the lady overheard his remark. "Turning her head, she recognized the speaker. 'And what a good judge,' she said, with a smile."

A MODEST BURGLAR.

From London Sketch. Magistrate (about to commit for trial): "You certainly effected the robbery in a remarkably ingenious way; in fact, with quite exceptional cunning." Prisoner:—"Now, yer honor, no flattery, please; no flattery, I beg yer."

PURIFICATION BY POISON.

To the Editor:—An item which appeared this morning in your contemporary gave me a shock, from which I am but slowly recovering. Dr. G. O. Hughes must have noticed that Victoria is at the present moment singularly healthy, and that the medical fraternity are much in need of patients, for surely he has suggested something in the way of water purification which will materially alter these conditions! To coolly advise that "a piece of copper sulphate in the water" will render our particular water a drink of exceptional purity is decidedly ill-advised. Surely the good doctor is aware that copper poisoning is well-known, that it is deadly, and a form of poisoning which entails not only great suffering, but oftentimes death. He must further be aware that the adulteration of beer with copper, as is sometimes practised in France and other places for the purpose of giving them the proper colour, is illegal. It is only charitable to assume that the doctor is aware of this, and that the extent of his intention in making

LEAGUE WORK.

Capital Coming to the Island As Result of Efforts of Secretary.

Among the numerous callers received this morning at the office of the Vancouver Island Development League were a father and two sons who have just got out from England. They wish to take up, if possible, pre-empted land at Holberg, in the north of Vancouver Island.

More capital coming to the Island is the story which the various letters received this morning combine to tell. One is from an Alberta farmer who is selling out his land there, and is coming to the Island to start a ranch here. Another letter is from a gentleman in South Norwood, London, England, who has just set off from the Old Country to invest capital in land in the vicinity of Victoria. A Toronto trader is coming out to look after a fruit and poultry farm, while a writer from Sunderland, Eng., has also a small capital to invest in a prosperous undertaking.

The present indications point to fair weather for the next twenty-four hours. The barometer is slowly rising along the Coast. East of the prairies the weather has been showery with little change in temperature, while an area of high pressure covers the region round the great lakes where the conditions are almost perfect at the present time.

"LOUISIANA LOU"

Musical Comedy Company Scored Success Yesterday Evening.

If "Louisiana Lou," as presented at the Victoria theatre last evening is to be regarded as a standard for this season's bookings, local theatre-goers may feel well pleased at the outlook. "Louisiana Lou" comprised an all-star cast. No part was overdone. Sophie Tucker, as Jennie Wimp, introduced herself to the applauding audience, garnered in a real barem skirt. Her rendition of "Now Am De Time" captured the audience and encore after encore was given. Eleanor Henry as Delia Fair, Helena Salinger as Mrs. Konkarney, and Bessie DeVole as Louisa Lou, carried out their part to perfection.

The chorus, taken as a whole, was excellent.

But the bright particular star was unquestionably Barney Bernard, as Jacob Lidoffski. He kept the crowded house in continuous laughter. In doing so he was ably assisted by Harry Hanlon as Roderick Konkarney. Hanlon possesses a rich Irish brogue that presented a pleasing contrast to Barney's Yiddish accent in their dialogues.

The scene in the second act, depicting the Mississippi river in the background, excelled anything presented here for some time.

THE PROGRESSIVE CLUB.

Public Meeting is to Be Held in Victoria Theatre.

There was a representative gathering of members and other citizens interested in the future of the Victoria Progressive Club at the Stock Exchange-rooms last night and much advancement was made in the undertakings of the club. The constitution as drafted by the provisional executive was adopted with an amendment providing for associate membership at a less fee than the regular membership fee. Plans for the publicity work of the club were fully and carefully discussed and an agreement as to the main features of the plans was reached.

The club appointed a committee of five members to solicit subscriptions and enroll members and a treasurer to take charge of the funds collected. The committee consists of the secretary, J. L. Fitzmaurice, with whom is associated Messrs. C. F. deSalla, Fitzpatrick, Wade and Stansted. Ex-Alderman Alex Peden was appointed treasurer. The committee will commence their campaign next week and will prosecute it till ample funds for the realization of the aims of the club are in hand. After this a public meeting will be held in the Victoria Theatre and a programme of addresses fully outlining the work to be undertaken for the city will be delivered.

It is the intention of the executive to open a contest for the origination of a "Slogan" for the club and for Victoria. The meeting last night authorized the executive to formulate the rules under which the competition for the slogan will be held and announcement of their decision will be made early next week. The enthusiasm of those present last night was most promising and, constituted as the meeting was, of a large number of the prominent business men of the city the prospects for the Progressive Club are most excellent.

NEWS OF SPORT

$12,000 GATE AT BAYLEY-SCOTT BOUT

THAT IS CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE OF RECEIPTS

Thousand Fans Coming From Seattle—Scott and His Retinue Arrives To-morrow

Interest in a sporting event in this city never ran higher than it is in the fifteen round boxing match between Joe Bayley, lightweight champion of Canada, and Pat Scott, the Seattle lightweight, at the Arena Skating rink on Tuesday night next. Tickets for the bout, which range in price from $2 on Wednesday and is taking it easy. He is in perfect condition and is now doing just enough work to prevent retrogression.

The referee has not been definitely selected, but the choice lies between Tommy Burns, former world's champion, and Jimmy Hewitt, sporting editor of the Vancouver Province. Burns may attend the bout and if he does will be the third man in the ring.

As every local fight fan knows Bayley's rise in the pugilistic world has been exceptionally rapid. He turned professional but a year and a half ago and since that time he has waded with no set-backs at all through all the best lightweights in Canada. Scott has had more experience than Bayley, but his record is not as clean.

Scott and his manager, Dan Salt, will arrive in town to-morrow afternoon, and will take up quarters either at the J. B. A. A. or the V. W. A. A.

Tickets for the bout may be obtained at the "Two Jacks" cigar store and at the Fit-Rite clothing store.

Bayley's record for the past year and a half is:

Knocked out Ronan, Ladysmith, five rounds.

Knocked out Marino, Tapir, Alberta,

MAY BE UP TO LOCALS TO DEFEND MANN CUP

Vancouver Not in Position to Set Dates for Games With Winnipeg Challengers

Joe Lally, one of the trustees of the Mann Cup, emblematic of the Canadian amateur lacrosse championship, has notified the Vancouver club of the acceptance of the Winnipeg challenge and has asked for dates. But there is a chance that the V. A. C. club may lose possession of the cup to a club right here on little old Vancouver Island, meaning Victoria, of course, and in that case it will be up to the locals to defend it against the C. N. R. challengers.

The B. C. amateur schedule will not be finished until September 2 and so level in games lost, each having dropped two. V. A. C. and Victoria play in Vancouver on August 31 and, if New Westminster or Fairview doesn't develop a mean streak and unexpectedly tumble one of the leaders, the championship will depend upon that match.

The Winnipeg boys are anxious to play a series on the coast early in September.

ALMOST THREE HUNDRED HORSES FOR 3 WEEKS' RACES

Starting from September 14 the ponies will be here for three weeks. That is the most welcome announcement from the sportsman's point of view that has been made in a long time. Between two and three hundred of the finest thoroughbreds on this side of the continent will be over from Vancouver, and there will be no lack of entries for every event. For one week preceding the fall fair and one week after it the Country Club handles the races, but during the fair week they are run under the jurisdiction of the B. C. Agricultural association. Next Tuesday a meeting of the Country Club executive will be held when the list of stake events drawn up will be submitted for approval and other preliminary details arranged.

LAWRENCE DOYLE ESCHEWS LOBSTER

Pains in Doyle's Abdomen Resulting from a Big Feed Caused Marquard's Loss

In the item of playing the position known technically as 2b, the bright particular star of the present era, is a young person by the name of Lawrence Doyle, familiarly called "Larry" by the devoted fans who follow the fortunes of the New York Giants.

Young Mr. Doyle was born 26 years ago in Caseyville Ill., in which metropolitan Doyle's birthday is now a legal holiday.

Besides being the greatest second baseman in major league circles, Mister Doyle is a charter member of the Society for the Suppression of Lobsters. When Richard de Marquis, alias Rube Marquard, stepped on his foot and fell down hard in his effort to pitch his twentieth straight victory, he attributed his failure mainly to a lobster. Said crustacean had been devoured by Mister Doyle, who shortly thereafter placed both hands—the left one with which he batted 310 last year and the right member with which he throws with force and accuracy—over his tum-tum, simultaneously calling for an ambulance, a doctor and a stomach pump.

As a result of going to the mat with the lobster, Larry was incapacitated for several days, and his absence from the Giant line-up—according to M. de Marquis—led to the latter's lamentable trip-up in Chicago.

Larry and Rube are great friends, and Larry, overcome by grief, has promised faithfully never again to look upon the lobster when it is red. That his absence from a game should lead to such disaster is a great tribute to the ability of the lad from Caseyville.

LARRY DOYLE

Doyle began life as a coal miner. He commenced his professional baseball career with the Mattoon, Ill. club of the "Kitty" league back in 1905. The next year found him in faster company, wearing the spanglies of the Springfield, Ill. team in the Three-I aggregation.

His fast work created a sensation in the Illinois capital city, and the management refused to give him up until New York had boosted the price to $4,500. Doyle did nothing wonderful in his first year in New York, but in 1908 he struck his gait, fielding sensationally and batting to the tune of .308. Since then he has constantly improved, and has developed into one of the great finds of baseball.

ENGLISH FIGHTERS STILL COME

New York, Aug. 17.—Jack Harrison, middleweight champion of England, and holder of the Lord Lonsdale belt, is the latest pugilistic arrival from London. He expects to box the winner of the McGorty-Moha bout to be held in Michigan on Labor Day.

Eddie Morgan, bantam champion of Wales, who won the British title from Digger Stanley recently by default, came over with Harrison and is anxious to meet Johnny Coulton.

OLDEST BASEBALL WAS USED IN GAME IN 1857

The oldest baseball in the world and the one that was used in the first championship game on record is now in the possession of a sporting goods house in Kansas City. After drifting around the country for 55 years, it has been covered with gold leaf, mounted on a handsome case containing a placard with the history of the ball written on it, and now is an object of interest to the fans.

The ball is 10 inches in circumference, an inch larger than the regulation one of the present time, and is covered with one piece of leather. It was used in the game between the Intermountain team of Boston and the Portland, Me., team, September 3, 1857, the first championship game ever played, which was won by the Portland club 47 to 42.

It was the first game in which the nine-innings rule prevailed, and the first one in which the ball was pitched

Do Minutes Count With You? The GILLETTE Will Save Them!

Are you one of those keen, discerning men who recognize in TIME their most valuable asset, and plan to make every minute count?

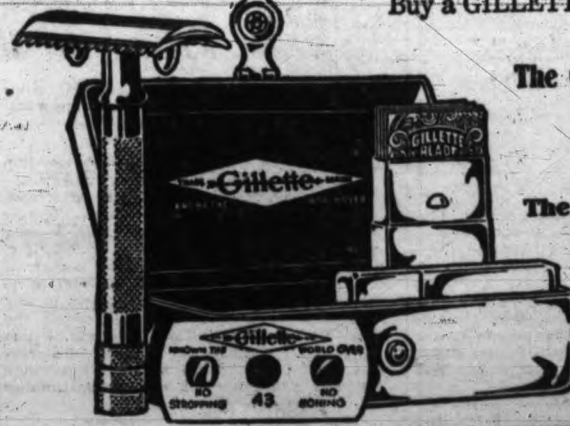

Then what about the time you lose every day over shaving?

Men who use the GILLETTE Safety Razor shave easily in five minutes—in three if they wish. How many minutes more than that do you consume in stopping and shaving so carefully with your open-blade razor? Or how many times five minutes do you lose in the barber shop?

Two, five or ten minutes lost to-day—to-morrow—365 times a year—counts up into a serious draft on a man's productive time. This in itself is reason enough, to the man whose time is valuable, for using the GILLETTE.

But when you consider that the time-saving GILLETTE shave is also the cleanest, most comfortable shave you have ever enjoyed, what reason can there be for sticking to old-fashioned, time-wasting methods?

Buy a GILLETTE—you'll enjoy it!

SUSAN II. FIRST IN LIPTON CUP RACES

Only Has to Land Fourth Today to Win Trophy—Power Boat Contest

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Susan II, again finished first in the Columbia Yacht Club's races for the Sir Thomas Lipton trophy to-day and thereby put herself in a position to take the cup if she lands fourth place or better in the final contest to-morrow.

Her time for the two laps around a six-mile course was 2:35.37, or two minutes and fifty-five seconds better than that of her nearest competitor, Spray.

Susan II, took the lead at the start and never was headed. A heavy sea was rolling, making fast time impossible. All entrants were from Chicago. Only two entrants appeared for the first heat of the William Wrigley, Jr., $22,000 trophy power-boat race. James A. Pugh's Disturber III, took first place, negotiating the twenty-five-mile course of five laps in the slow time of 1:16.54. Chicago, formerly Disturber II, was second.

CRICKET TOURNAMENT BEGINS ON MONDAY

Promises to be the Most Successful Ever Held—Games for Monday

On Monday the tourney begins, and the knights, armed with cricket bat and pads in place of lance and cuirass will do battle for the honor of the city to which they belong.

"May the best team win," is the wish of all the sport-loving public for the result of the tourney, but of all games there are few that have so many vagaries, and into which luck enters so largely as in the grand old summer pastime, which will draw both young and old to the fields during each day of next week.

The work of the last-mentioned team has been one of the sensations of the cricket season, and with such men as Vaughan, Curgiven and Brooks-Smith in their ranks, they form a most formidable aggregation.

boy who took the title from him, when they meet in Bassano next month. The members of the Northwest Football Club are asked to meet at the Clarence hotel this evening at 7.30. Hamilton sports are making a strenuous effort to have the Henley regatta held in their city next year. Jake Fullerton, the best amateur heavyweight in Canada, blew in from Calgary yesterday. He is thinking of locating either in Vancouver or Victoria and settling down. Fullerton said he wanted to see the Bayley-Scott bout badly, but didn't think he could stay until Tuesday. Charles Comiskey has purchased Catcher Schalk from Milwaukee for $10,000. Schalk is just twenty years old. Frankie Burns will probably meet Willie Ritchie shortly as a result of his victory over Danny O'Brien. In connection with the public school children's regatta at the Gorge next Saturday titling and tug of war contests will be provided by members of the J. B. A. A. Harry Skuce, who has been asked to arrange these, if possible, says that he already has several entries promised. A tug-of-war on water is something that isn't often seen, and it ought to make a lot of amusement. At the Shawnigan lake regatta, to be held next month, it is planned to hold a mixed four-oared race. That is, each crew will be composed of two ladies and two men. It is likely that a pursuit bicycle race will be held at the track meet, which will be arranged by the J. B. A. A. shortly after Hal Beasley's return from the Olympic games. A race of this kind is very hard on the competitors. They must be in perfect condition to make any kind of a showing. There can be no laying back at all, for if a rider is overtaken by any of the other competitors he is out of the race. The race does not finish until all but one have been knocked out. Riders start at different points around the track. Word has been received that Billy Allen is training as if his life depended upon his defeating Joe Bayley, the

SPORT NOTES

Wild Bill Donovan, who has taken charge of the Providence Club, pitched his first game Thursday against Baltham and lost, 1-0. Quinn, a former New York American League pitcher, opposed Donovan. Battling Nelson and Steve Ketchell are matched for a fifteen-round bout to take place Labor Day at St. Joe, Mo. When Bob Fitzsimmons heard that Tom Sharkey was thinking of returning to the ring, "Fitz" said "me, too." Fight critics are waiting to hear from Jeffries and Corbett. Lefty Gervais is improving in every game he pitches. Thursday he beat Seattle, 2-1, in thirteen innings. It looks like the big leagues for him soon. George Stallings, manager of the Buffalo International League team, will manage the Boston Nationals next year. Johnny Kling, now at the head of the Boston team, will take charge of the Kansas City Club, in the American Association. Narveson has arrived in Bassano, and the first game he pitched he shut Edmonton out, 2-0. He played again the same afternoon in right field. Joe Convery, amateur lightweight champion of Calgary, is in town on a visit. Convery is an old friend of Joe Bayley, having sparred with him on numerous occasions, when Joe was training for his fight with Allen at Bassano. Convery says that although there hasn't been much newspaper talk about the champion's return fight with Billy Allen next month, the fans in both Calgary and Bassano are very much worked up about it. There are a number of Ottawa men in Calgary, and as they naturally take the Allen side of the argument, a hot chin-chin controversy arises whenever the rival factions meet.

YESTERDAY'S GAMES OFF BEES BACK ON MONDAY

All ball games in the Northwestern League were called off yesterday on account of the rain. Next Monday the Bees return with the Portland Colts for three days. Monday's game will start at 4 o'clock. Tacoma plays at Vancouver next week and Seattle at Spokane.

NOT ARRIVING HERE UNTIL NEXT MONTH

Politician is Delayed at Honolulu—In on Sept. 1—Senator Docks Before Her

Through sore trouble which has occurred at Honolulu the big Harrison liner Politician will not arrive at this port until September 1. Word has been received here by R. P. Rithet & Co., stating that the steamship has met with unexpected delays at the Hawaiian port and as a result cannot get here before the beginning of next month. The nature of the delay is not mentioned, but more than likely the discharging of her cargo has caused the trouble.

According to her schedule the Politician should have been here at the beginning of the present month but she was late in getting into Honolulu, and it was stated that she would come to Victoria on Thursday last. Now a further postponement has been announced. Aboard the steamship is a shipment of pipe for the city waterworks department and the commissioner has been eagerly awaiting the shipment, as the pipes are urgently needed.

The next Harrison ship to dock here after the Politician, according to the schedule of the fleet, was to have been the Senator, but the advices received here state that she will arrive here two days ahead of the bigger vessel. The Politician, which is 7,228 tons, and the largest vessel flying the flag of the Harrison line to dock here, left Liverpool on May 11, and the Senator, 4,823 tons, cleared from the Mersey port on June 21.

Following the Senator from Liverpool is the Crown of Galicia, which cleared on July 6, the Workman on July 20, and the Magician, which leaves Liverpool on August 29.

NEWS OF THE SEVEN SEAS

SEVERAL SCHOONERS BEING LOOKED OVER

Deals for Sale of Sealers Will Be Completed Within a Very Few Days

Within a few days it is expected that negotiations for the sale of about half a dozen of the sealing schooners lying at the Point Ellice bridge will be completed. After being overhauled by their new owners the vessels will be towed away from this port probably never again to return. It is with mingled joy and regret that shipping men watch the sale of the schooners. It means the passing of the last relic of the once famous industry of this port, yet with the schooners taken away from the upper harbor it will make more room for the smaller steamers operating in and out of this port.

It is understood that the schooner Markland will be disposed of very shortly. At the auction sale held recently the Markland was bought in by Mr. Roscovitz for $1,900. She is one of the finest schooners in the fleet, a large sum of money having been expended on her a short time before the sealing treaty came in force in fixing her up.

Two other schooners being looked over are the Carrie C. W. and Genevive, which, it is understood, will be converted into barges to be used in carrying fish. It is rumored they will be towed north to Ketchikan. The schooner Otto, Libbie and Dora Sea, are also about to be sold. There are several others of the fleet which are also being looked over by different shipping men from coast ports.

DRAGON FLAG ON SHIPS.

Chinese Are Awake and Will Operate a Steamship Line—Capitalized at $10,000,000.

Seattle, Aug. 17.—If plans of wealthy Chinese residents of the Pacific coast of North America, the republics of South America and of Mexico, carry their flags of the Chinese empire will soon be flying from merchantmen on the Pacific coast.

Shipping men were advised in consular reports from London that as a result of maritime awakening in China, an Oriental line with a capitalization of $10,000,000 is being quietly formed by Chinese of the Pacific coast of North America and South America and of Mexico.

The consular reports stated that half of the sum of $10,000,000 had been subscribed for a fleet which will have regular sailings between Seattle, San Francisco and Hongkong.

The new Chinese transportation company will operate in direct competition with the vessels of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen Kaisha, which are subsidized by the Japanese government, and in a larger degree with the vessels of the Blue Funnel Line, operated by Dodwell & Co., and of Frank Waterhouse & Company.

Japan has had for many years a direct line of steamships from the Orient to follow its example in this line also. Important developments affecting the future of the Chinese mercantile marine are now in progress, under the direction of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the president of the new republic. He has also begun a commercial reform in China in addition to the maritime awakening. Large numbers of motorboats are to be employed in opening up trade on the different waterways and a much heavier tonnage is expected to result at all Chinese ports.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen is quoted in the consular reports as saying that there is ample Chinese capital available to start the needed enterprises but foreign assistance would be wanted as the movement expands.

London, Aug. 17.—Mrs. Robert L. Borden, wife of the Canadian premier, performed today at the christening ceremony the launching of the Canadian-Australian steamship Niagara at Clydebank. The Niagara will be the largest vessel plying between Australia and the American continent.

New York, Aug. 17.—A long-standing dispute among the sailors and officers of the big ocean liners Mauretania, Invernia and Orotava, as to which ship carries the best rowing squad, was settled last evening on the Hudson river. Three picked eight-oared crews from the liners fought over a two and one-half-mile course for the supremacy and the Mauretania sailors were victorious handsly.

The boats used for the race were extra heavy, being large enough to accommodate sixty people. The winners' time was 21 minutes.

WORD COMES FROM MAKURA OFF COAST

HERE FROM AUSTRALIA EARLY NEXT TUESDAY

Was 1,100 Miles from Victoria Last Night—Next Week's Shipping

Wireless messages were received last night from the Canadian-Australian liner Makura, Capt. Gibb, in which it was reported that she would reach the William Head quarantine station at 6 o'clock on Tuesday morning of next week. At midnight Capt. Gibb gave the position of his ship as 1,100 miles from Victoria, which is about three days' steaming for the Makura. She is bringing north a passenger list of about 250 and also has 100 tons of general freight. Many of the passengers aboard the Makura are going to England, while others are bound for San Francisco and eastern points.

Besides the arrival of the Makura three steamships will arrive here next week from different parts of the globe, one will sail and one is returning to load cargo for her outward trip. The Panama Maru, Capt. Kanoo, of the Osaka fleet, is due on Thursday from Yokohama; the Monteagle, Capt. Davidson, is expected from the Orient on Saturday, and the Ikala, of the Canadian-Mexican S. S. Co., is due in dock this week. On Wednesday the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Tacoma Maru, Capt. Hamada, will sail for the Far East, and on Monday it is expected the Teucer, Capt. Yarwood, of the Holt fleet, will be back here from Vancouver to load.

The steamship Ikala was expected to arrive here this week, but she has been delayed at San Francisco. The discharge of the cargo of coal brought from Newcastle, Australia, by the Ikala took longer to carry out than was at first expected. No date has yet been set for her clearing for Salina Cruz on her first trip in the Mexican service.

Although the steamship Monteagle is not scheduled to arrive until Sunday it is expected she will put in an appearance here on Saturday, as the weather on the Pacific at present is good, which will enable her to make good speed. The Monteagle is full up with passengers, including a number of missionaries.

The Panama Maru is coming across the Pacific with 350 tons of cargo and 135 Chinese for Victoria. The Tacoma Maru, which sails on Wednesday, is being loaded at Tacoma in record time. In but five days she is to have 3,000 tons of cargo discharged and 6,000 tons stowed in her holds. The Teucer will load here 3,000 barrels of whale oil, a shipment of lumber and several hundred thousand feet of lumber.

HEAD LIGHTS

The steamer Charmer, Capt. Brown, of the C. P. R. fleet, will return to Victoria to-morrow morning from Comox and Nanaimo.

From Stewart and Prince Rupert the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, Capt. McKenzie, will arrive in port to-morrow morning.

Shipowners are just now in an optimistic frame of mind. They expect the current year to show far greater profits than during the 1910 boom, because the demand for tonnage is universal, which it was not then, and the good times are expected to run well into 1913 or perhaps longer.

MODEL 69 COMPLETELY EQUIPPED

This car, at this price, smashes all previous records. It even totally eclipses our 1912 values, which a year ago baffled the world. 40,000 Overlands will be made in 1913. This enormous jump in production makes possible this new car at this new price. As our production goes up, prices come down, as has been shown in each preceding year.

In this age of rapid progress it is sometimes difficult to grasp the full significance of an important progressive manufacturing step, such as this car exemplifies. But when you sum up the extraordinary, cold dollar for dollar value which this car offers, as compared to any and all competing motor car values, the giant economical manufacturing strength of the huge Overland plants is realized and recognized. It only proves the ability of this most powerful and efficient automobile factory.

Here we can but call your attention to the bare facts. This is the car—a big, powerful, beautiful, spacious, comfortable, self-starting thirty-horsepower, five-passenger touring car—fully equipped—all ready for night or day, rain or shine, service. Made of the best materials on the market, by the most skilled men known to the trade, and in the most efficient automobile shops in America. And the price is but $1475.

We can make the positive statement, without any kind of a condition, that this is the automobile industry's record value.

This car can now be seen in any city in America. Over 2000 Overland dealers are waiting to give you your demonstration. Look up the one in your vicinity. Write us at once for full information and a 1913 catalogue.

SIX HUNDRED OFF THE SEWER STAFF

REDUCTION CAUSED BY MONEY SHORTAGE

Council Takes Up Financial Aid for Construction and Local Improvements Monday

Reductions have been made in the sewer staff of the city to the extent of about 600 men owing to the lack of funds in the financial end of the department. When Engineer Rust came to Victoria and during the regime of Angus Smith there were between 800 and 900 men employed on city street and sewer work. To-day the civic payroll for the sewer department contains the names of very few more than 200 men. These may be augmented soon by additional crews when the engineer and the council have straightened out the sewer finances.

Some arrangements have to be made to continue the sewer work, and especially the northwest and northeast sewers, said Mr. Rust this morning. If the council will find it possible to transfer money from some other appropriation to the sewer account the work will be continued. Doubtless some arrangement will be made, as the aldermen are of one mind on the matter, believing that the sewer work is of the utmost importance to the city and must be gone on with.

The sewer finances will be the most important matter to come before the council on Monday night, but at the same meeting there are a number of improvement-by-laws to be considered and passed. Notices of motion are posted to-day for the First street local street, and for the south side of Fairfield road from Cook to Moss road, and for North Fairfield road from Linden avenue to Moss streets. The work includes laterals and sidewalks, part of the cost being charged to the property owners.

Improvements are wanted by owners on Fifth street, between Bay street and Finlayson avenue, and they will be called on to pay four-fifths of the cost. A. E. Anderson has a notice of motion to this effect calling for asphalt paving, cement sidewalks and boulevards.

The engineer has been given a specimen of a new paving called "Rocmac." It will not be used here, however, until it has been well tested in other cities. Lime street and Phoenix Place paving, which was passed by the council some time ago, is to be done, the contract being given to the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company.

Monday night the council will pass on the alteration of the names of streets because of duplication through the city. The streets are as follows: Cross street is in James Bay and also runs between Rockland and Richmond avenues. There is a Seaview street and a Seaview avenue, and there are two Fifth streets. The changes will be decided by council.

V. M. C. A. BOYS.

New Rooms Opened Yesterday—Facilities for All Kinds of Games.

The new boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. opened out yesterday after being closed for many weeks, owing to alterations. Their new quarters are on the first floor of the building, and are reached by a new stone staircase from the entrance hall. The department contains billiard tables, and facilities for all kinds of games which are to form a feature of the amusement during the coming winter.

The billiard table in use in the boys' room was the gift of H. S. Crotty, who presented it originally to the Boy Scouts, but owing to the fact that the latter had no place in which to put it, the donor kindly consented to its being placed in the association building.

A. O. Hughes, the boys' work director of the local Y. M. C. A., is an ardent believer in a self-government for boys, and so he allows them to do most of the business connected with the work of the association with their own committees. A committee of the lads is called to-day for instance to map out a programme of new games and amusements for use in the building when the long nights arrive.

AUNT SALLY'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY-SEEKERS

W. C. D. says: "My elbows are so thick-skinned, goseopimply and muddy I can't wear short sleeves. How can this condition be overcome?" Don't use elbows as props. The treatment recommended to Minnie L. will make your elbows quite presentable.

Ellen B. asks: "What should I do for deep lines under my eyes and across my forehead? Such lines, and all wrinkles, are best obliterated by bathing affected portions in a good astringent and tonic lotion, which strengthens and draws in the relaxed tissue. Here's a reliable formula: 1 ounce powdered saxolite, 1/2 pint witch hazel; mix and use daily until entirely relieved.

Minnie L.: The undue redness, as well as the pimples, may easily be removed by using ordinary mercolized wax. Apply nightly cold cream and erase mornings with warm water. Soon you'll have a beautifully white, clear, soft and velvety complexion. Mercolized wax, sold by all druggists, is better than cosmetics for any complexion trouble. One ounce suffices for most conditions.—Woman's Realm.

NEW DOMINION NOTES HAVE A LARGE DEMAND

Fine New, Crispy Five-Dollar Bills Have a Wide Circulation

Have you noticed the number of new Dominion government $5 bills that are coming your way? Naturally, they don't stay with you for any appreciable period; the rent or the payment on the house, combined with the high cost of living attends to that. But in the brief interim given to the ordinary citizen to add to the litigious work of the Dominion of Canada, perhaps he has given a spare moment to speculation on the activity of the government engravers.

These fine new crispy notes have been circulating here since July 1. Previous to that date the Dominion of Canada issued only $1, $2 and $4 notes. The $5 bill was an innovation but it was appreciated by the banks.

At first sight this may appear peculiar, since it is to the interests of the banks to put out their own notes as frequently and in as large quantities as possible. But the answer to this is found in the Northwest. There, with the enormous demand for payments incurred by the harvest, the banks have big demand for all the small bills they can supply. On September 1 they may increase their output ten per cent, and there is no doubt they will avail themselves of this concession. In the meantime, if they attempt to issue in excess of their government allowance, they must pay interest. Consequently, they are using the government issue, and saving this expense, and incidentally saving their own bills for the western rush.

ENGLISH CRICKET.

Kent Defeated Somerset To-day by Eight Wickets.

The only county championship result to hand this afternoon is of the match played between Kent and Somersetshire on the latter's ground at Taunton.

Kent won easily by eight wickets, the only man on the opposing side to make a showing being P. R. Johnson, the great amateur who knocked up 83 runs in spectacular style. D. W. Carr, the Kent bowler, was in his most deadly mood and took five Somerset wickets at a cost of 11 runs apiece.

This victory gives Kent a better showing in the championship table where, along with Northants and Lancashire, they are making a bold bid to wrest the coveted honor from Yorkshire, who seem now to have the championship in their grasp.

PRIORITY FOR DISTRESS SIGNALS

President Taft Signs the Radio-Communication Bill—Amateurs Must Have License

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—President Taft has signed the radio-communication bill, carrying out America's part of the international agreements adopted at the Berlin wireless congress in 1906.

The measure compels all wireless stations to give priority to distress signals, regulates wireless on ships, the instruments of which must have a radius of 100 miles, and requires amateurs to have licenses in addition to controlling their wave lengths.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH.

Coquitlam, B. C., Aug. 17.—The new roundhouse that is being built for the C. P. R. at Coquitlam has claimed its first victim, when A. Schrader, employed by the Sanford Gordon Company, the contractors for the building, as peevish man, fell from the roof of the structure to the ground, 20 feet below, sustaining fatal injuries. The accident occurred yesterday and Schrader, who was considered an expert peevish man, was seen to topple head foremost from the steel girder on which he was standing.

In his fall it is thought he struck the top of the well over which the locomotives run. His neck was practically broken, besides suffering other injuries. He was taken to the General Hospital, Vancouver, on a special train, where he died last evening.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Lindsay, Ont., Aug. 17.—A tramp named Burns, from Halifax, met with a shocking death while riding the buffers on a freight train between Orillia and Victoria Harbor. Burns and a partner had ridden safely from the latter place and on entering Midland the train stopped up sufficiently to allow of their alighting. The two tramps jumped, and in doing so, Burns was struck by a train which was passing by on the other track. Burns had both legs and one arm taken off and a deep gash in his head. He died in a few minutes.

INSURANCE ON CZAR'S LIFE.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—The Berliner Tageblatt says the life of the Czar is insured in an English company for nearly $5,000,000. The insurance was taken out when he was quite a boy and the premium of $80,000 a year has been paid annually ever since.

King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, according to this story, is insured for $2,500,000.

King Edward of England, for the last two years of his life, was insured for $150,000.

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed; many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice forms. I have a friend who used it two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist.

The prescription is as follows: Bay Rum, 4 oz.; Menthol Crystal, 1/2 drachm; Lavona de Composee, 2 oz. If your hair is perturbed add a few drops of To-Kalon Perfume, which mixes perfectly with the other ingredients. This, however, is not necessary.

Apply night and morning; rub thoroughly into the scalp.

Go to your druggist and ask for an eight ounce bottle containing six ounces of Bay Rum; also one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals, and a two-ounce bottle of Lavona de Composee. Mix the ingredients yourself at your own home. Add the Menthol Crystals to the Bay Rum and then pour in the Lavona de Composee and add the To-Kalon Perfume. Let it stand one-half hour and it is ready for use.

SUICIDE AS A PROFESSION.

The man who made a living by attempting suicide has perished in the exercise of his calling. Achille Grappe, aged 25, formerly a chemist's assistant, decided that life was not worth living, and resolved to hang himself. Just as he had fixed the noose around his neck, and was kicking away the stool, some charitable person came along, cut him down and gave him money to keep him out of misery. A fortnight later the money was spent, and Achille made another attempt to hang himself, having first made sure that he was observed by a stranger. Once more he was cut down and befriended by his rescuer. Eleven times Achille tried to hang himself in public places; eleven times he was cut down at once and generously treated. The twelfth time—it should have been the thirteenth—luck was against him; nobody noticed him hanging until he had ceased to breathe.

Miss Eva Sterling was the hostess of a small dance last evening at her home on Burnaby street, given in honor of her cousins, Miss Mary and Mr. Jack Sterling, of Victoria, who are her guests during exhibition week. The rooms of the house were effectively decorated with quantities of asters and dahlias and lighted by Chinese lanterns, and enjoyed to the full the programme of 12 dances, for which excellent music was provided. Supper was served at midnight, the party gathering round one large table in the dining-room and dancing was afterwards carried on for another hour before the guests bade their hostess good night. Mr. and Miss Sterling expect to leave Vancouver next Monday, and will go to Kamloops for a visit with relatives there before going to their home at Victoria.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

There is in human nature a general inclination to make people stare, and every wise man has himself to cure of it, and does cure himself. If you wish to make people stare by being better than others, why make them stare until they stare their eyes out. But I consider how easy it is to make people stare by being absurd. I may do it by going into a dining room without my shoes. — Samuel Johnson.

That it should be considered a desirable thing to draw all eyes to one's self because one's appearance or conduct is such as to excite admiration, seems perfectly natural.

But that it should be considered desirable to draw all eyes to one's self because one's appearance or conduct is so ridiculous, so improper, or so conspicuous as to force attention, without the least admiration, seems absurd.

And yet a great many men and women—especially the latter—seem to confuse these two kinds of attention.

At a summer resort where I once visited, one young woman was always in evidence because of her noisy conversation and her eccentric actions. Wherever she went, people stared at her, and instead of realizing that she was making a ridiculous show of herself, she was evidently delighted by the attention she received. One day when she happened to be of our party on a shopping tour in the village two or three of the tradespeople recognized her and called her by name. "You see," she said laughingly and yet with evident pride, "how famous I am."

She should have said "notorious." That is the trouble with all the foolish people who try to attract attention by their eccentric clothes and manners—they forget that fame and notoriety are totally different things.

The woman who attracts attention by appearing in a skirt so tight that it is almost impossible for her to stoop over or to step up on a street car, or the woman who wears some startling conglomeration of colors, or a street dress cut as low as a ball gown, enjoys the stir she creates, but would she if she really knew what opinion the people who stare have of her?

Perhaps some of my feminine readers resented my saying that women are more prone to try to attract attention at any cost than men. But I really think they are. Men are rather afraid of being stared at. They are more conservative than women.

And let the woman who likes attention remember this, if she wants to keep her masculine friends—that while a man is willing to have the woman he is with attract attention because of her beauty or her beautiful clothes, he doesn't like her to be stared at because of any eccentricity or loudness in clothes or manners. The women who draw attention to themselves in such ways, the average man will sedulously avoid.

Now surely that ought to reach some hearts that are deaf to all other arguments.

Chickering, Broadwood Haynes The New Art Bell

Even as the Piano is the chief instrument in the interpretation of music, so do the CHICKERING, BROADWOOD, HAYNES and THE NEW ART BELL dominate all other Pianos.

No names have had so great an influence, or have meant so much in the production of the Piano. If it were possible to sell better Pianos, we would be selling them.

A HINT OF AUTUMN.

The plaids for autumn promise to be more distinctive than for many years. This little suit is made of two materials, the plain being a pale fawn color and exactly matching the lighter part of the plaid.

Both skirt and coat are reversible and the buttons used are flat models, covered with the material. The colors in the plaid are chocolate brown and anethyal.

A BLACK AND WHITE EFFECT.

An odd effect of full dress and negligee combined is noticed in this gown, which is made of white satin. The waist resembles a tailored blouse with its shoulder tucks and box-pleat. The skirt shows the new draping manner effect, the drapery crossing in the back and one end extends upward to the girdle.

The black taffeta collar and covered buckle are distinctive touches that mark the gown as one of the newest. Small satin covered buttons are used.

GAMBLERS ARE PANIC STRICKEN

GENERAL EXODUS FROM NEW YORK

Investigation Into Police Graft To be Undertaken by the Supreme Court

New York, Aug. 17.—A general investigation into police graft in all its phases is to be undertaken by the extraordinary session of the supreme court presided over by Justice Goff, who has been designated by Governor Dix to sit in the trials of Lieut. Becker and others charged with the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal. News that the supreme court would conduct a grand jury inquiry with Justice Goff having full powers of compelling testimony, caused a panic in the underworld to-day and many gamblers and others hurriedly left the city.

Under John Doe proceedings, Justice Goff can call gamblers and keepers of disorderly houses and force them to tell how much money was paid for police protection and to whom the money was paid.

Evidence is in the hands of District Attorney Whitman that disorderly houses in the city paid more than $1,000,000 for police protection last year.

The infliction of punishment upon Inspector Hayes by reducing him to the rank of Captain and then suspending him on the charge that he had failed to keep his district clean, is believed to be a forerunner of a general shakeup by Police Commissioner Waldo.

BOURASSA'S BUNGOMBE

Writes on Probable Abandonment of Winston Churchill's Visit to Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—In a leading article in Le Devoir to-day Henry Bourassa deals with the probable abandonment of Winston Churchill's proposed visit to Canada. He remarks that it had been practically decided that the First Lord of the Admiralty was coming with a British squadron under Prince Louis of Battenberg, and that efforts were being made to bring also a French warship and a member of the French government to influence the people in Quebec.

Continuing, Mr. Bourassa says: "The reason hinted at for the change is that Churchill's proposed visit was not favorably received in Canada. The main reason for the change was to be found in the Panama canal muddle. From a reliable source I have good grounds to believe that Mr. Churchill's visit to Canada with a British squadron and a prince, of the blood is postponed indefinitely in order not to displease the American government. The British authorities have decided to swallow willy nilly any humiliation at the hands of the dear cousins from America in conformity with a policy invariably followed for a century. The American government have let it be known to the Imperial authorities that some amendments may yet be secured to the Panama canal legislation provided that Great Britain kept at home her Dreadnoughts, her prince of the blood and her petulant lord of the admiralty, otherwise American jingoes would make the naval demonstration appear in the eyes of the people of the United States as a disguised attempt to intimidate the president and congress of the republic. One may imagine in advance what howling and noise would follow. That has had more to do with the decision of Churchill than all the protests of the Canadian press."

FAVORS AMENDMENT TO CANAL BILL

Taft Would Permit Nations to Test Free Tolls Provisions By Suits in U. S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 17.—President Taft has not decided whether he will approve the Panama Canal Bill as agreed to by the Senate and House conferees. The president told friends to-day that the free tolls provision of the bill might prove a serious embarrassment to the United States and that he was not sure he could sign the bill in that shape.

Mr. Taft favors an amendment which in effect would permit other nations to test the free tolls provision in United States courts. He was told by Senator Simmons to-day that it probably was too late to attach such an amendment to the bill. The House rules committee made a special rule to-day which prohibits the raising of any point of order against the measure. The bill will be considered and probably passed by the House before adjournment to-day.

MRS. J. OPPENHEIMER.

Mrs. Oppenheimer resided in Hamburg for a number of years with a daughter, Isaac Oppenheimer was an alderman in the city council in the early days of Vancouver and was a brother of David Oppenheimer, who was mayor of the city for several terms.

SUNDAY CONCERTS.

Another of the series of sacred concerts, which are organized by the Rev. Sidney Lindridge under the auspices of the Unitarian Church, will be held at the Gorge Park to-morrow evening at 8.15. Mme. Burnett will sing two solos, "For All Eternity" (Mascheroni), and "Flight of Ages" (Bevan). The orchestra, which is especially engaged for these concerts, under the direction of Benedict Bantly, will render the following musical selections:

- Overture—"Merry Wives of Windsor" (Nicola).
- (a) "Soldiers' Chorus" from Faust (Gounod).
- (b) "Toreador Song" from Carmen (Bizet).

Serenade—R. Driego. Selections—(a) "Cossack Revels" (Ivan Tochakoff).

(b) "Czardas from Coppelia" (Debussy). There will be programmes distributed as usual at the park, with the words of the hymns to be sung by the audience printed in full. Mr. Lindridge has also arranged to give the customary ten-minute address, which item has proved to be one of the attractions of the Gorge Park sacred concerts.

The car service will as heretofore be supplemented to meet the increased traffic.

SCOTLAND SHOULD HAVE HOME RULE

TEXT OF SPEECH BY DR. W. CHAPPLE, M.P.

Prominent Scottish Member Now in City Gave an Instructive Utterance

The speech delivered by Dr. W. A. Chapple, Liberal member for Strathgordon, Scotland, in the British House of Commons in favor of conferring self-government was an admirable exposition of his case. The resolution was "That in the opinion of this house, any measure providing for the delegation of parliamentary powers to Ireland should be followed in this particular by the granting of similar powers of self-government to Scotland as part of a general scheme of devolution."

No confederate system of government has ever yet succeeded from the days of the Achaean League, to the thirteenth American colonies. It was a failure in America. It was a failure in the German confederacy of 1815. It was a failure for two reasons: First, there was no superior sovereign power that was able to speak finally for the common interests of all the constituent states, and, in the second place, there were tariff walls that made for repulsion, dissension, friction, and bitterness. (An Hon. Member: "That is what the Irish want.") That is what the Irish are not going to get. I want to emphasize this point, because customs always has been and still is a federal function. The confederacy in America failed largely because of the absence of a sovereign power representing the common interest of all the constituent states, and partly because each of these individual states had its own customs tariff and its tariff wall. The system failed for the same reasons. Each of those constituent states also had its own tariff system and its own tariff wall. Some of the single states had numerous tariff divisions. All confederate forms of government have failed. It was not until the federal idea evolved itself in the minds of American statesmen and found practical application in the American federal constitution that the great problem was solved. These statesmen discovered that you could classify political functions that were common to all the states and those functions that were special to each; and having made that classification they set up a sovereign power to represent the common interest of all states, while retaining for each of the thirteen individual states a sovereign power in its particular sphere. Thus they solved this problem, and we have what we know to-day as the triumphant federal union of the American states.

Whenever this classification of political action was brought about and statesmen saw that there was need for a common defence, that there was need for unitary action with regard to foreign affairs, that there was a necessity for unitary action with regard to customs and tariffs, and that there was a necessity for inter-state free trade, for a common patent right and copyright, and all those functions which are common to all the states, they surrendered to this new sovereign power all those functions, but jealously maintained for each of the states that amount of sovereign power which was necessary in its own sphere of action. This, then, was a true union, a true evolutionary political union, a union in all those interests that were common, a separation in all those interests that were special. So successful was the federal union of the United States of America, that it was followed by a federal union in Canada in 1867, by a federal union in Germany in 1871, by one in Switzerland in 1874, in Brazil in 1889, in Australia in 1901, and in South Africa in 1908. This, then, has been the march of federal union: it has been the accepted system of government wherever you have diverse peoples with different traditions and different political ideals and aspirations. Let us for a moment glance at the union with Scotland in the light of these fundamental facts. The union of 1707 was not a union in the true political sense. It was a political absorption. There was a country party in Scotland, who with the Scottish commissioners themselves were in favor of a federal union, a union in all things common to Scotland and England, and a complete separation in all things special to each of the two countries; but they were overruled. England was determined to have an incorporating union and the country party, the protagonists of the federal union, Andrew Fletcher and others, and the Scottish commissioners, were defeated partly by the insistence of England and largely by the aid of her purse.

If we had been given true political union, Scotland would have retained her authority over all those matters which were special to Scotland. To use the admirable phrase of the hon. and learned member for Waterford, Scotland would have had a Parliament in Edinburgh, with an executive management of purely Scottish affairs, and subject to the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament. That is what we want now, and it is the mistake of 1707 we wish to correct. You cannot withdraw political independence from a country without injuring it, and Scotland has suffered ever since 1707. She has seen her church smothered by patronage, and she has seen her country depopulated by an outward stream of emigration owing to her iniquitous land laws. I am one of those who believe that people ought to be free to migrate as they will and where they will, but I believe, also, that no people should be forced to leave their country because of the injustice of the laws under which they live. There has been an unwilling and a reluctant emigration from the country districts of Scotland, but she has been powerless to stop it. She has seen deer take the place of men. She has seen her education system, which is her pride, hampered by a bureaucratic control in London instead of being controlled by a local parliament in Edinburgh. She has seen her liquor traffic flourish and extend its pernicious influences to hamlets and cities and homes, and she has been powerless to stop it. She has been forced, not only to run the gamut of the liquor trade in her own country, but to come to London and submit any temperance reform dear to her heart to English brewers and Irish distillers. She has seen many of her people taxed to support a church in which they have no interest or concern, and she has been powerless to redress that injustice, an injustice that has often led to civil war in the history of nations. She sees time and again bills introduced into this House originally designed to cover both countries, but ultimately found impossible to adapt, because of her legal terminology; or complicated application clauses found difficult of interpretation, and requiring that they should be abandoned altogether and separate legislation introduced. Within eleven years 523 bills have been passed by this parliament, and only forty-four of that number applied exclusively to Scotland. That would at first sight not appear to be a great injustice but there are so many separate departments of public activity in Scotland to distinct from similar departments in England. Scotland has her own local government board, she has a separate church, she has a separate judiciary, she has a separate licensing system, she has a separate banking system, she has a separate paper currency, a separate rating and housing system, and separate education. All these require separate legislation. You have a large amount of devolution in that way without the control and the legislation that should attend it.

Having all these separate public activities and public institutions in Scotland, it is obvious that if you have to legislate separately for them the passing of only forty-four bills out of 523 in eleven years, is a very inadequate share of legislation. What is the complaint of Scotland? The complaint of Scotland is that her legislation is delayed or denied, that she is ripe for reform half or a quarter of a century before England, and that she cannot take a step forward until she has converted England to her way of thinking. She holds a peculiar position in regard to education. She established compulsory education in 1866, and her educational system has been growing and spreading ever since, so that her people have the cumulative advantage of that education. Within my own experience of the workshops of England, when a newspaper was sent round among the workmen, the cry was "Where's Scotland?" None of the other workmen could read, and the Scotman was the only one able to make them acquainted with the contents of the newspaper. Scotland is ripe for democratic reform a quarter of a century or more before England, and she asks why she should wait till England sees eye-to-eye with her before she is allowed to take a step forward.

Westminster's reply is, "We cannot attend to your local business; we have business infinitely more important." The machine is breaking down; the parliamentary machine is overloaded; foreign affairs are becoming more and more complex, requiring more and more care and attention; the people demand more information, and ask leave to play a larger part in our foreign relationship. New colonies have arisen. The colonies send representatives periodically to Britain with new schemes, new demands, and new suggestions, and although we fill them up from our bounteous table, in all other respects we send them empty away. We have no time to consider, far less to thresh out, their suggestions and their schemes. Not only that, but there is more commonwealth activity here than ever. We have old age pensions and national insurance; we have party antagonisms, which obstruct legislation in this house. There is no objection to discussion, but it is necessary to use such devices as the closure, the guillotine, and the kangaroo in order to stifle, not discussion but obstruction in the interests of party. Not only has the work of parliament enormously increased, but the work of local government, the demands of localities, have increased. In two years, from 1908-9, there were numerous local acts applying to a number of different towns in Scotland—Water Act, Tramway Act, Gas Act, Electricity Act, Burgh Extension Act, Harbor Act, Railway Act, and acts relating to building and regulations in various places. All these had to pass through the complicated machinery of these two houses of parliament.

tem, the more I am convinced of this that in a large measure of devolution, subject always to Imperial control, lies the secret of the future working of our Empire."

Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman used these words in an address to his constituents:

"The excessive burden of work now imposed upon parliament can only be relieved by a large measure of devolution. It is for this reason, as well as from a sense of right and justice to the nationalities concerned, that I regard as urgently necessary the creation for the three kingdoms of subordinate legislative assemblies dealing with the distinctive affairs of each."

The prime minister, speaking at Earlston on the 3rd October, 1908, said: "I have always held the view, and hold it still more strongly with each year of increasing experience at Westminster, that there is no other solution of the congestion of the parliamentary machine, in which it may be Scotland suffers more than any other part of the United Kingdom, than by some form of delegation of parliamentary business in regard to local matters to local authorities with local knowledge and local responsibilities."

Again, at Manchester the prime minister said:

"The Liberal policy seems to me to be clear. First of all we have got to settle the relations between our two chambers. We have then to see to the delegation of local affairs to the localities which they really concern."

The Home Rule which we demand for Scotland is not the Home Rule that Canada enjoys or Newfoundland enjoys; nor the Home Rule that New Zealand, or Australia, or South Africa enjoys. The Home Rule we demand for Scotland and the Home Rule which is demanded for Ireland, is that which is enjoyed by every one of the constituent states of the Canadian Union, and no more. Canada to-day has the right to separate. It is not proposed to give that power to Ireland or to Scotland. "Canada has the power to put a duty on our products, and she does. It is not proposed to give to Scotland or Ireland that power. Customs is a federal function, always has been, and must remain a federal function. Canada to-day can sign international agreements, within certain limits. It is not proposed to give Scotland or Ireland that power. The words of the hon. and learned member for Waterford will equally apply if spoken of British Columbia. British Columbia has a parliament at Victoria, with an executive responsible to it, charged with the management of purely British Columbian affairs, and subject to the supremacy of the Canadian parliament. There is no danger, therefore, of separation. It would be as impossible for Ireland or Scotland under this scheme of devolution to separate as it was for the Southern States to separate from the American Union."

Marquess of Tullibardine: What about Sweden and Norway?

Dr. Chapple: They had not a federal union. They had a regal union, which is quite a different thing. There is no danger of separation; there is no danger of disloyalty. Britain learned in the infancy of her Empire building that to give freedom was to gain loyalty; to release a people was to bind them tightly; to bestow power was to have it more abundantly. She found Canada and set her free; she peopled Australia and gave her liberty; she subdued New Zealand and sent her on her way rejoicing; she conquered South Africa and then returned her to her foes. With every extension of freedom to these great young nations by the mother of them all the tie that binds became stronger and more enduring, and in this triumphant strength and unity to-day they rise up and call her blessed. A lesser liberty, for that is all that is sought, granted to Scotland and to Ireland, and, when demanded, to England and to Wales, will produce no less happy results.

MARVELOUS CURES OF SKIN ERUPTION

Four Children Constantly Scratching. Nearly Tore Limbs Off. Cured in a Month by Cuticura Soap and Ointment

"Two of my daughters and two of my sons were suffering from very bad heads, the doctor ordering my daughters to have all their hair cut off so as to prevent it from spreading all over their heads, and to get to the seat of the trouble in order to be able to rub some ointment into the scalp, which he gave them, well into the setting sun. These sores started in the scalp, and got larger and larger and then burst and spread all over their heads, and in some cases down their backs and bodies. The doctor said it was eczema, but they seemed to be daily getting worse. The sores formed like little holes, then filled with matter, and looked like abscesses. They became all inflamed and irritated, causing them to be constantly scratching themselves. This made the sores burst, and the matter flowed all over their heads. We had to cut their finger nails and at times to put gloves on their hands, the irritation was so bad, to keep them from digging into the flesh, and at night they would nearly tear their limbs off. The bottles would be literally covered with blood."

"The teachers would not let them attend school for fear of infection spreading among the other children, so I resolved to try the Cuticura Remedies, which I found to benefit my children greatly. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for one month, and the result is a marvelous cure. (Signed) George Arthur Robinson, 17, Freetown, Newland Common, St. Barnaby, Yorks, Eng. Jan. 8, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with full directions, will be sent free on application to Parke, D. & C., Cuticura.

UNIONISTS PLAN DEMONSTRATIONS

CAMPAIGN TO BE WAGED IN ULSTER

It is Rumored Establishment of Provisional Government is Contemplated

London, Aug. 17.—Bonar Law, the opposition leader in the House of Commons, has not yet publicly replied to the latest broadside of Winston Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty, who denounced the action of the Conservative leaders in "inciting" Ulsterites to revolt, but there is ample evidence that the Unionist leaders are taking up the government's challenge. Plans have been completed, it is alleged, for the establishment of an Ulster provisional government, for the diversion of Ulster taxation from Dublin and for the raising of militia, etc. These plans, it is asserted, will be divulged on "Ulster Day," September 28, when religious services will be held in the chief towns in Ulster, after which the participants will pledge themselves by a solemn covenant to resist Home Rule and to support the provisional government.

Between September 8 and 27, demonstrations have been arranged to take place in the principal Ulster cities, the speakers including the Duke of Abercorn, the Duke of Devonshire, the Marquis of Londonderry, the Marquis of Salisbury, Admiral Lord Charles Bessborough, Lord Hugh Cecil, Sir Edward Carson and Frederick Edwin Smith. In Belfast there is more feeling of excitement and some anxiety prevails over the outcome of the struggle. Rumors are current of continued drilling and arming. It is also remarked that the government contemplates the concentration of troops in Ulster during the latter half of September. No confirmation of the latter rumor can be obtained.

CHICAGO PRESSMEN'S STRIKE.

Strikers Condemned for Having Refused to Accept Proffered Arbitration.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 17.—The convention of the International Typographical Union unanimously endorsed its officers and the executive council and officers and executive council of the Stereotypers' and Electrotypers' Union for their attitude in the Chicago pressmen's strike. The striking pressmen were condemned by the committee for having refused to accept proffered arbitration and for having sought to embroil the International Typographical Union and allied trades unions. The strike order was denounced as a "blunder worse than a crime."

HARVESTERS RAID GARDENS.

Farmers Lie in Ambush and Great Raiders With Charge of Birdshot.

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 17.—A crowd of New Brunswick harvest hands bound for the western wheat fields on the C. P. R. annual excursion met with an unpleasant reception at Caldwell, west of North Bay. When the special train stopped at Caldwell a gang of young men proceeded to raid the farmers' gardens nearby, but were met by a broadside of birdshot from the guns of farmers in ambush. About a dozen of the harvesters were wounded painfully, but no serious injuries were reported.

PRESIDENT SUSPENDER
NONE SO EASY

TRAFFIC ON NIGHT BOATS VERY HEAVY

Royal Had to Assist in Handling Passengers to Vancouver Last Night

Despite the fact that there are now three boats running between Victoria and Vancouver the passenger travel seems to be just as congested as it was when two vessels attended to the duties of the run. Last night the berthing list of the steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Hunter, which sailed at midnight for the Terminal City, was sold out, and it was necessary to have the Princess Royal, Capt. Gilchrist take over 50 passengers in order to meet the demand.

The night boats are proving extremely popular with the business men of the two cities. The Princess Royal was taking across to Vancouver last night a full cargo of Oriental freight, which was discharged from the Awa Maru at the outer docks, and in order that none of the passengers need spend the night sleeping in the saloons the officials ordered that the berthing sheet of the Royal be opened up.

As soon as the Royal returned with the Moose excursion at 11 o'clock the Vancouver passengers boarded her. Owing to the disagreeable weather the moonlight trip last night was not as successful as the one held several weeks ago. About three hundred people went out for a three hours' cruise around the Straits.

On Thursday night the C. P. R. steamer Princess Ena sailed for Prince Rupert and Skagway with 1,500 tons of gasoline, powder, lumber, coal and general merchandise.

WILL YET COME.

Minister of Public Works to Be Here Before Winter.

J. J. Shalleross, president of the Board of Trade, has just received a letter from Hon. F. D. Monk, in which he states that he hopes to come out to Victoria before the winter.

Mr. Monk's original intention was to visit the coast during the summer, but he and the other ministers received word from Mr. Borden to be on hand when he returns from England, as it will be necessary to have the naval question considered by the whole cabinet. Mr. Monk is an anti-navy man, and it would have been interesting to learn why he opposes a navy on the Pacific Coast.

C. P. R. STREET ENDS.

Corporation to Be Charged Rent by City As Soon As Solicitor Proves Title.

There is no intention on the part of the C. P. R. to give up the title to street-ends to the city without the city first proves the claims. This much is made known from a conference yesterday between city officials and Capt. J. W. Troup, representing the C. P. R., with whom was J. E. McMullen, the company's solicitor.

The C. P. R. was included in a list of property owners who were found by the city solicitor to be blocking street ends. Others have given in and not contested the matter, but the railway corporation requires the city to furnish proof of its claims, and the city solicitor intends to show that the title belongs to the city. The C. P. R. will be charged a nominal rental for the occupation as soon as the matter is concluded.

RUST WOULD BORROW TO FINISH SEWERS

Transfer Paving Plant Fund to Complete Northwest Drain Before the Fall

City Engineer Rust said yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the sewers committee that work on the northeast sewer had stopped for lack of funds, and that the council would have to provide about $20,000 to complete that portion of the Victoria sewerage system. He recommended that the city borrow money at a high rate of interest rather than allow the sewer to wait until after the next election, when a by-law may be put through. It was agreed that no by-law could be put forward this year. If the sewer is left in its uncompleted state through the winter much of the completed work will have to be done over again. Engineer Rust will prepare an exact estimate of the cost of completing the northeast sewer by Monday night and hand it to the council.

To provide for the northeast sewer the aldermen recommend that the sum of $15,000 available for a paving plant be used, and on the notice board today a resolution is posted to the effect that this sum of $15,000 be transferred and used for sewer purposes. Monday night the council will know just how far the sum will go towards meeting Mr. Rust's estimate.

The northwest sewer is practically in the same position as the northeast one, and Aid. Humber wants provision made for the completion of that work. He said yesterday afternoon in the streets committee that 3,500 people in Victoria were without drainage facilities, and although $35,000 had been put aside for the work, the money had been spent elsewhere.

Pembroke street widening between Ridge street and Fernwood road is to be carried out. It has been planned for some time but no action was taken until yesterday, when the members of the streets committee decided it was time to have it attended to. The purchasing agent, A. G. Sargison, has not notified all the property owners, according to letters before the committee yesterday. He will do so and the estimate of cost will be made up. The assessor's estimate is $3,000.

The engineer recommended to the committee yesterday that the men who are injured while employed by the city in his department be paid half time for the first two weeks, provided the medical officer reports unfavorably on the injuries. At the end of two weeks the physician will be called upon by the department to make another inspection, for the purpose of preventing an imposition.

CONTINUING THEIR TOUR TO OLD MEXICO

Victoria Motorists Expect to be Away Until September 5—Features of Highway

Most of the Victoria motorists who attended the recent Pacific highway convention in San Francisco are extending their trip to Tia Juana, Old Mexico, and will not return to Victoria until about September 5. Those who are making the trip south are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Moody and Miss Jennings, Percy Bannerman and Mr. and Mrs. George Mellor.

At San Diego, where the motorists stopped on August 15, the party were entertained by the Chamber of Commerce. The following is an extract from an interview published in the San Francisco Chronicle with A. E. Todd: "The worst stretch of road we found during the entire trip was between Dunsmuir and Dunning, in California," said Mr. Todd. "The road between those two points is extremely dangerous. At no other point, however, did we find anything but good roads, and the trip was a perfect one in every particular. However, the trip has shown us that, as a tourist road, the proposed Pacific highway, as now mapped out, will be feasible only for six months in the year. Samuel Hill is of the opinion that the proposed highway might, by constructing it through Eastern Oregon, and so avoiding some of the high altitudes, be made an all-year tourists' road, but this was yet to be proved. On an average, during the daylight hours, and including stops for rest and meals, we did not do much over twelve miles an hour. In Washington we found the roads very good for the most part, but in Oregon they were not so good."

"At least a portion of our party will return to the north over the ocean road. This will be a new route for all of us, and we will map it very carefully on the chance that it may prove to be a better route than the one over which we travelled down. I heard many people say that they were afraid of the heat in motoring through California; this state should get out some publicity matter showing autoists that heat is the last thing to bother about, particularly in Northern California. We found only one day that was uncomfortable in the heat, and that was in the Sacramento valley."

LACK OF EXERCISE Brings on Troubles which are Best Corrected by Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Man was intended to live an active, outdoor life, and his digestive system was modeled accordingly. Indoor work with hands on head, long hours sitting or standing still, especially in air that's none too good, slow down the healthy activities of stomach, liver, kidneys and the millions of tiny skin glands.

Constipation, headaches, indigestion, biliousness, rheumatism and similar troubles follow.

Then the worth of that good old reliable family medicine, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, is appreciated. Though it has been in use for over half a century, modern science has not been able to devise a safer or better cleanser for the whole system.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are largely vegetable in composition, free from any harmful drug, and mild yet most effective in their action. They are "Mother's standby" in hundreds of homes because they nip in the bud so many of the common ailments.

SHOULD CONSTRUCT ANOTHER CANAL

TO MEET ATTITUDE OF WASHINGTON

Prominent London Barrister Suggests Construction of Second Big Ditch

A novel and rather startling suggestion with regard to the attitude of England towards the Panama question if the United States senate persists in maintaining its present position, was mooted last evening by Wyndham A. Bewis, a well-known London barrister, who is at present in the city, staying at the Empress hotel.

Mr. Bewis stated that just previous to his departure from the Old Country he had published a letter on the subject in the London Times. In that letter he showed that in addition to violating the Hay-Pauncefote treaty by their contemplated action, the States were also breaking the terms under which the land was granted to the original concessionaire, one Lucien Wise, and in his opinion the original terms still held good.

But the suggestion fraught with the greatest import was that if the States persisted in their course with regard to preferential tolls, then Great Britain and the other powers should construct another canal south of the present one, to be under the jurisdiction of the republic of Columbia. In his letter Mr. Bewis says that the best place to cut the canal would be along the course of the Atrato river, and he calculated that the cost would not be more than one-tenth of the outlay on the building of the present Panama canal, owing to the fact that the district is flat and no expensive locks would be needed.

The river Atrato rises on the western flank of the western Cordillera and flows northward to the Gulf of Darien, which it enters by Karna. It is 400 miles long and drains a basin of 11,400 square miles, and with its tributaries affords waterways of 600 miles in aggregate length. Small steamers can now ascend to Lore, which is 345 miles from its mouth. The watershed on the south is only 360 feet high, and would offer no difficulties to engineers.

Naturally the course of the Atrato has been suggested before. In fact, many years ago, the idea being to connect it with the San Juan river by means of a canal, but it remained to Mr. Bewis to bring it forward as an alternative to consenting to Washington's terms on the subject of the Panama canal.

Mr. Bewis, who is here with his wife, is in the west partly on business and partly on pleasure bent, this being the long vacation in the law courts. Mrs. Bewis, like many other English ladies, has investments placed in Vancouver, and the trip was originally undertaken to view the property. They will spend some days in Victoria and will return to England eastward.

Mr. Bewis is a graduate of London University and a barrister at the Temple. For some time he has interested himself greatly in the Panama canal, and has studied the whole situation most carefully; he adds that the English people are amazed at the extreme remarks which have been made in the United States senate in the discussion on the subject.

MOST UP-TO-DATE RAILROAD IN WORLD

Prominent Hungarian Railway Man Praises the Big Canadian Enterprise

"In Europe the Canadian Pacific is now regarded as the most up-to-date railway in the world."

This is the statement of Mr. Johann Pappé, the director in charge of rolling stock, motive power and shops for the Hungarian State Railways, who is expected on the coast shortly. "For that reason," said Mr. Pappé, "I consider it my duty as a railway man, as well as a great pleasure, to go over the system and make myself acquainted with it. That explains my presence in Canada."

Primarily Mr. Pappé's visit to this continent is to attend the annual congress of the International Association for Testing Railway Materials, to be held in New York on September 3, but he has come a month earlier than necessary in order to tour the C. P. R. Mr. Pappé said the ponderous locomotives and huge coaches on the railway systems of this continent were very impressive for the European railway man. The difference in size could be imagined when he said that while the load per axle here was 25 tons, that in Hungary it was 16½ tons and in Germany 18. He states that the accommodation for the travelling public here is more luxurious than in Hungary, the corridor system of coaches, with the plentiful supply of fresh air, and all the other conveniences, making railway travelling far less tiring.

"Hope," he said, "we see the benefits of competition. All the companies are vying with each other to give the public the benefit of new inventions and betterment in service. In Hungary where all the railways belong to the state, we have no such spur to betterment in service. Consequently we are much less ready to adopt luxurious innovations."

The Hungarian State railways, he said, comprise from 13,000 to 14,000 miles of lines, and the net earnings are $26,000,000 a year, giving a return of four and a half per cent. on the invested capital. Railway travel has been

RAILWAY WRECK.

Watchman Killed and Engineer Injured When Construction Train is Wrecked.

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 17.—One man killed and another probably fatally injured is the result of the derailment of a construction train on the Goose Lake line of the C. N. R. on Thursday night at a late hour.

A watchman named Garrick lost his life, while Engineer Hartley lies at St. Paul's hospital here in an unconscious condition, very seriously injured.

The accident occurred west of Almasak. All the particulars that can be obtained are that the train was derailed, and the engine lurched over, pinning the two men in the cab.

The distinctive flavor of Maple Buds is entirely due to the use of only the best chocolate. The fine velvety texture comes from grinding and grinding through innumerable steel rollers.

FOX RANCHING ON PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

REUBEN McDONALD in Toronto Globe.

When the Duke of Connaught makes his first official visit to Prince Edward Island he will land at Summerside, the capital of Prince county. One of the features of the programme prepared for his reception will be a visit to a fox ranch just outside that town. Prince county is the home of fox ranching in the province. At the extreme western end about sixteen years ago a few men took up the business. After many trials they finally succeeded in making it a success. At first they guarded the secret jealously, but eventually they saw the necessity of selling the stock for breeding purposes, until now the whole province is in a fever over this new industry. It must be remembered that the black and silver fox are the same. Some are dark, however, and some are light; that is, some of them are silver, while others are not. There is no such thing on the London market as the black fox skin. The jet black fox is always listed as silver. Both vary in price from one hundred to one thousand dollars.

A High Priced Fox. The Prince Edward Island black or silver fox is the best in the world and always commands the highest price, the sum of $2,500 having been paid to an Island breeder for one medium-sized, flawless skin of exceptional beauty and lustre. The industry on the Island, however, is now confined to the selling of foxes for breeding purposes. One of the leading ranchers, Frank Tuplin, of New Annapolis, states that it will be at least five years before any fox is killed for the sake of its skin. Some breeders give the industry a longer life than that. The increase in the price of foxes sold for breeding has been so startlingly rapid that the number of farmers who started in a few years ago with very little capital are now worth thousands. One man is reputed to have made a million dollars within five years. It is estimated that there are about forty ranches where the genuine, high-grade, high-priced royal silver fox is bred, and that there are now about four hundred of these animals, whilst there are about fifteen hundred foxes of the reds, patches (that is, crosses), or imported stock. The value of the industry is placed at three million dollars. The people are simply wild over the business, and every day forces of various colors are imported from the mainland.

Ruined by Importations. The breeders who keep only the distinctive Island stock declare that if this importation is allowed to continue the industry will be ruined. Breeders are now calling out for a system of registration whereby the pedigree of every fox will be recorded, the same as domestic animals. At the last session of the provincial legislature about a score of bills were passed incorporating black fox companies. Within the two years that the pioneers of the business began to sell their stock the purchasers have been mainly Island men, many farmers having mortgaged their farms to secure the necessary price of a pair of breeders. This year the best stock costs $10,000 a pair, the average price being about $2,500. Next year it is expected that this price will be increased at least fifty per cent. In one year there has been an increase of over one hundred per cent. Outside capital is now beginning to become interested and several moneyed men of the United States have come on to inspect the ranches. To give an idea of the profits in the industry we may quote from a prospectus issued by a company with headquarters at Alberton, where the industry originated, and where there are now twenty ranches. One statement shows that, where a man started the first year with one pair of breeders costing $8,000, at the end of the year he cleared $2,650. It is estimated at the end of three years, with an original investment of only $8,000, that the increase in the rancher's wealth would be $59,250. Another estimate shows that, with an investment of $9,000 for one male and two females, at the end of three years the increase in the rancher's wealth would be $85,540. It is contended that even when this wild excitement over the breeding of foxes has subsided down and the skins began to be sold the investors will get at least fifty per cent on their money.

Among the largest and most successful dealers on the Island are Hon. Charles Dalton, R. F. Culson, Hudson Gordon, of Tignish, Frank Tuplin, of New Annapolis, Benjamin Bayner of Alberton, Harry Lewis of Alberton. There are, of course, quite a number of companies whose capital ranges from $10,000 up to $125,000. The ranch to be visited by the Governor-General is owned by McNeil & Saunders, of Summerside.

High Priced Breeders. Although the average price of breeders is about $7,000 a pair, in rare cases as high as $20,000 per pair has been paid. Foxes are sold usually under the following conditions: First, without any guarantee, the purchaser taking all the risk; second, the seller to guarantee that if one of the animals dies he will loan another, on the condition that the purchaser will take the risk until a litter is produced; third, if this pair fail to produce in two years, they are exchanged for another pair, so that with this guarantee a man cannot fail to be started in business. The young usually arrive about the middle of March to the middle of April. The average number of foxes to a litter is three, but in rare cases as many as eight have been produced.

The Prince Edward Island native fox is the best in the world, because the climate is marked by the happy medium between the extreme cold of the north and the intense heat of the south. The cold and sleet in the late autumn and early winter conduce to the forming of fur. Foxes from warm climates are too lightly furred to be of much value. The fur of the northern fox is too coarse in quality. Nowhere in the world is there such lustre and beauty of fur as is met with in Prince Edward Island.

Caring For the Foxes. Another factor of success in the industry is the comparatively easy manner in which the fox can be raised in captivity. The cost of erecting a ranch to contain one dozen foxes will not exceed $500. The pens are made of wire slightly heavier than fence wire, with an overhang of two feet. It is sunk into the ground about two feet to prevent the animals from burrowing. The pens are surrounded with an outer fence about ten feet high. Some breeders use small separate houses for each pen, others use one house and four pens. The feed consists usually of meat, fowl and rabbits, and to the mother fox when in young, eggs and milk are often freely given. As the Island is just one large collection of farms, almost any farmer can conduct a ranch to advantage, having the necessary piece of woodland to form an ideal site. The soil of the Island, being free from alkali, is specially adapted for the production of the finest fur in the world.

When it is considered that the average weight of the silver fox is ten pounds and that the average price is nearly $4,000, it is in order to use the expression, "worth its weight in black fox." Disease, so far, has been practically rare among these animals. The cold has no effect on them; in fact, they seem rather to enjoy it. They flourish in captivity, especially if there are several together in the ranch. The success, however, depends a good deal upon the management, and whatever losses have occurred have generally been in carelessness in handling or ignorance in feeding. The most critical time, of course, is about thirty days before and thirty days after the young arrive. During that period no one should see the mother fox, who, if she is disturbed, is liable to carry away her young and bury them in the snow, where they naturally perish. Last year all the young expected to be born were sold ahead, and even at the present time practically all the expected young stock of next year is contracted for. That is, of course, the real "blue-blood, genuine-Island silver fox."

Many stories can be related of phenomenal fortunes made in a short time. Cases can be mentioned where men with a few hundred dollars have secured tens of thousands. The ultimate effect on the Island's welfare is hard to determine, but if foreign capital is brought in and if the foxes are allowed to remain on the Island, then prospects of the industry will considerably improve. Although the boom has originated in Prince county, it is rapidly spreading to the other counties, and already several large ranches have been erected within the vicinity of Charlottetown.

SLANDERING CANADA. (Montreal Witness.) Intelligent readers have learned to discount the undulating insinuations against the Liberal government of Britain that discredit the impartiality of most of our sources of news, and have their surmises as to the power that such money interests as can buy up a whole press may have in creating that bias. Here is a specimen of this campaign of ingenuos aimed at the Canada or somebody in Canada. A special correspondence which plays a lively instrument in this orchestra of detraction has this sentence, in speaking of the coming visit of a British minister and squadron: "It is strongly felt that Canada must show practical loyalty, remain a part of the Empire, and keep the confidence of Great Britain financially." To the first and last clauses of this no one can object. Canada could show her loyalty in much more practical ways than she has done, and her financial credit has been sadly taxed on the British and French markets. But what is the meaning of the declaration that it is strongly felt that Canada must remain a part of the Empire? Whom does it refer to? Who has so much as thought of removing Canada from the Empire? Does it not say as plain as a plowshare that the words that there is a movement in Canada to this end that might become dominant. Could anything more false or more mischievous be averred? If the sort of patriot who talks thus was lying awake at nights to think how he could do most to create in Canada bitterness against the imperial idea, could he have devised anything that would have evoked more resentment? It is our desire to welcome a visit from British ministers, so long as it shall not appear to be meant to exercise any pressure on our imperial policy. To do that would be to defeat its own object. But the very worst way to evoke such a welcome is to hint that they come to induce us to remain British. We owe this insult perhaps to slanderers within our own gates.

Miraculous Escape From Years of Pain

Well Known Montrealer Cured of Chronic Rheumatism By "Fruit-a-tives" After Doctors Said His Case Was Incurable.

Another Miracle Added to the List of Hundreds Already Performed By These Tablets Made From the Juice of Fresh Fruits.

Mr. T. McGrath, of Montreal, has a remarkable story to tell about "Fruit-a-tives." It is a story of vital interest to all sufferers from Rheumatism.

MR. TIMOTHY McGRATH 130 Atlantic Ave., Montreal, March 1st, 11.

"For years I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time, and spent hundreds of dollars on doctors' medicine, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital where I was informed that I was incurable."

Rheumatism is caused by Uric Acid forming in the blood. This poisonous material attacks the gristle covering the joints and muscles and produces the intense pain. Uric acid is formed when the kidneys, bowels and skin fail to rid the system of waste matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" does this because it is the greatest stomach tonic and blood purifying medicine. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates to renewed activity the liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

Without exaggeration, it may be stated that "Fruit-a-tives" is the most scientific remedy in the world for Rheumatism. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OLDEST BIBLE IN THE WORLD

THE BRITISH MUSEUM SECURES COPTIC VERSION

Probably Written About Middle of 4th Century by Monkish Workmen

No longer are we dependent on defective evidence as to the existence of Coptic translations of the Bible; for the British Museum has now secured some Coptic manuscripts which prove the existence of both a native version of the Old and New Testament Scriptures in the middle of the third century at least.

In the early part of last year there were discovered in Upper Egypt a number of Coptic manuscripts manifestly of very early date. The British Museum secured a portion of these, the others going to Paris or into the libraries of millionaire Americans. The Museum secured a papyrus codex containing a reduction of books. The Books of Deuteronomy and the Prophet Jonah and a very valuable version of the Acts of the Apostles. They also contained another fine manuscript written on paper of the Coptic translation of the "Book of the Revelation of St. John the Divine," a most important acquisition.

Literary Copts. It was due to the monks and anchorites of the Nile valley that these versions of the Holy Scriptures are preserved to us. The monks, the greater part of whom were native workmen unacquainted with Greek, being, as we know from ancient accounts of monastic life, compiled by Pallaadius in 338 A. D., under the title of "The Paradise of the Fathers," who worked at their trades; and during their labors they recited the Psalms and portions of other books of the Old and New Testament which they had committed to memory.

Many must have known the book of Psalms by heart, as according to the rule of Pachomius, a great monastic leader, the whole of the book had to be recited by each monk in the twenty-four hours. One monk is credited with knowing the whole of the Old and New Testament by heart. Attached to each community was at least one scribe who prepared copies of the Holy Books, wrote the Service Books, and kept the Abbots' accounts and wrote his correspondence. These scribes probably had a knowledge of Greek. The copies that the Museum has secured are such as were made by these scribes. The papyrus codex is certainly not a service book copy as it is too small, but was probably a selection made for or by a pious Coptic Christian for his own use. It was found in the original leather binding, and the wearing away of the corners seem to indicate that it had been extensively used, and when not in use either wrapped in a cloth or carried in a leather wallet.

Text of Deuteronomy. The text of this book is nearly complete, but several verses have been omitted in places, in some cases accidentally, in others apparently for moral reasons. When compared with the later versions of the seventh and eleventh centuries and the Greek codices the differences are so slight as to show that the text of Deuteronomy was clearly established when this translation was made. This need cause no surprise, for the septuagint version had been known to Christian teachers as early as the third century A. D.

There are a few curious examples of paraphrasing rather than direct translation, but one feature is interesting. In many passages when the translator deemed the expression coarse or contrary to good morals they are omitted or softened down. The copy of Jonah is by the same hand, and is complete, but the style is bald and abrupt, and all tendency to poetry suppressed by writing continuously as prose.

Worm-Eaten MSS. The text is incomplete and the manuscript much worn-eaten. The writing is in the same hand as the Old Testament books, and there are numerous blunders, due, no doubt, to the faulty nature of the archetype from which the scribe was copying, not to the scribe himself, for in the Old Testament copies he has been most careful and accurate. A careful examination of the text of these important works seems to show clearly that we have here, not the original manuscript of the writer who translated directly from the Greek, but rather the copy of a manuscript which may be nearer the original Coptic translation from the Greek.

The question of ascertaining the date of these works presented considerable difficulty from the absence of any Coptic manuscripts of known date to compare it with. There is, however, a clue of importance; on the lower portion of a blank half-page there is a composition written in Coptic, but in cursive Greek characters. The subject-matter has no relation to the contents of the codex, and is clearly a late endorsement.

Dr. Kenyon has examined this very carefully, and with his world-wide palaeographical knowledge has come to the conclusion in comparison with Greek cursive writings that it was written about the middle of the fourth century. It is composed of some fragments used as packing in the binding, and the trend of the evidence is to show that the codex must have been written prior to B. C. 350. If so, the archetype from which it was copied must be many decades earlier, and probably not very late in the third century.

We have, then, a revision of the Scriptures earlier than any previously known—being in the third century, whereas the previous oldest, the Codex Vaticanus, belongs to the fourth, and the Sinaitic a little later. This is, indeed, a priceless acquisition, and the careful editing by Dr. Budge, one of the world's greatest Coptic scholars, reflects the highest credit on his scholarship and on the Museum authorities for so soon rendering it accessible to students.

It may interest readers to know that two leaves of the Codex have been placed on exhibition in the King's Library, among the Oriental manuscripts.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Moose Jaw, Aug. 17.—A pathetic tragedy was revealed near Mortlach when a little boy of six years was found on the road crying that his grandfather was dead. The man who first met the boy, approached the spot and found the child's words were true. The dead man was Richard Armstrong, a farmer, aged 66, who was returning to his farm near Gravel House, after seeing his son and daughter-in-law off at Mortlach on their trip to the coast. He was to look after the little one during the absence of his parents, and was taking him to the farm on a load of implements. It is presumed the load toppled over and Armstrong fell beneath the wheels of the wagon, which passed over his head, killing him instantly.

His son, C. E. Armstrong, who is a barrister of this city, was reached at Medicine Hat by wire, whence he and his wife returned yesterday.

of an indictment by the county grand jury for the alleged bribery of Geo. N. Lockwood, a prospective juror in the McNamara trial.

On November 28, 1911, Bert H. Franklin, chief detective of the McNamara defence, was arrested for the bribery of Lockwood. On December 1 the McNamara brothers pleaded guilty, J. B. McNamara to murder and J. J. McNamara to dynamiting the Jewell Iron Works. On January 15 Franklin made a confession to Assistant District Attorney Ford that he had bribed Robert F. Bain, the first juror sworn to try the McNamaras, and that he had sought to bribe five other prospective jurors, including Lockwood. The latter had reported early in November to the district attorney that Franklin had approached him, and from that time he acted under the instructions of the prosecution. On January 23 two indictments were reported by the county grand jury against Darrow for the alleged bribery of Bain and Lockwood, and upon arraignment the lawyer entered pleas of not guilty.

The trial on the Lockwood indictment was begun on May 15, making it the longest criminal trial ever held in Los Angeles county. During that time approximately two million words were transcribed by the court reporters, for which the cost to the county was something like $6,000. The entire cost of the trial was close to $30,000.

In the main case of the prosecution which began on May 15, thirty-eight witnesses testified, and exactly the same number of witnesses were introduced by the defence. In rebuttal the number of state witnesses was swelled to fifty. The prosecution rested on July 8 and the defence ended on August 8, after a lengthy cross-examination of Darrow, who occupied the stand a week. Four days were required for the state's rebuttal, and both sides finally rested on August 9.

In presenting the case against Darrow the prosecution produced evidence purporting to show that in addition to the alleged corruption of jurors, Darrow had been guilty of tampering with state witnesses in the McNamara trial. The chief reliance of the defence was that the agreement between prosecution and defence, under which the McNamaras entered their pleas of guilty, was made prior to the alleged bribery of Lockwood, and that there was no occasion for corruption of the jurors. It was also maintained throughout that Darrow was the victim of a "frame-up" on the part of Franklin and the authorities.

VICTORY FOR ITALIANS.

Turks and Arabs Defeated.—Leave Many Dead on Field.

Rome, Aug. 17.—It was officially announced yesterday that Lieut. General Garioni, commander of the Italian troops in Tripoli, had succeeded in establishing a base at Seura, a town about 65 miles west of the city of Tripoli, where the Turks and Arabs had concentrated their forces and had stubbornly resisted the advance of the invaders. The Italians carried out the operation of cutting off the large Turco-Arab force from their caravan routes to the Tunisian frontier.

The battle lasted all day. It had a front four miles in extent, and ended in the retreat of the Turks, who left numerous dead in the field. The Italians lost six men killed and ninety-eight wounded.

CLAIMANT TO PEERAGE.

Man Declares He Is Son of Fifth Marquis of Waterford.

London, Aug. 17.—There was a sensation on Fleet street over the appearance of a man in a frock coat and silk hat who carried a sandwich board on which was inscribed: "I am the sixth Marquis of Waterford. I do this to further the cause of justice."

The latest addition to the list of claimants to the peerage is George Louth, who has been a brewery workman and wood-chopper and is now a jobbing gardener. He claims to be a son of the fifth Marquis of Waterford. He alleges that his mother was the first wife of the Marquis, Florence Vivian, who died in 1872. Reference books state that there was no issue of the marriage. The claimant alleges his birth was concealed for family reasons and that he was put out to nurse with a woman in Fulham. If this story is true, he is the eldest son of the fifth Marquis and therefore has prior claims to those of the son by the Marquis' second wife.

SENT TO PENITENTIARY.

Two Russians Given Three Years for Stealing Clothes.

New Westminster, Aug. 17.—Two Russians, Alex. Kiboff and Mike Kiboff, will spend the next three years in prison as a result of the sentence imposed on them by Judge Howay. They were convicted of stealing a quantity of clothing from a shack belonging to Norman Jessemann at Highland Park some time ago.

At the time of the robbery the two men were employed in a camp near Highland Park and it was their disappearance directly after the crime which first directed suspicion their way. One of the men was picked up by Detective Perry in Vancouver and his guilt was immediately apparent on account of the fact that he was wearing some of the stolen clothes. The other man was arrested a few days later by Constable Lym, of Burnaby, and Detective Burroughs, of New Westminster.

FOUR POISONED.

Rockyford, Col., Aug. 17.—Bereft of its parents through a mysterious poisoning which wiped out every other member of the family of Rev. Gustave Latske, sr., pastor of the German Lutheran church here, a prattling babe, 14 months old, was carried from the parsonage last night after the death of the Rev. Latske, the last of four to succumb. Whether the death of the Latske family was due to ptomaine poisoning or was administered by an outside agency for revenge will be the subject of a rigid investigation. A chemical examination of the contents of the stomachs will be made.

PROPOSAL TO SUPPLY ELECTRIC POWER

Prince Rupert Company Submits Rates to the City Council

Prince Rupert, Aug. 17.—An important letter and draft by-law regarding the supplying of electric power to the city of Prince Rupert and to all consumers using over ten horse-power electric machinery in their business has been addressed to-day to the mayor and city council by the Prince Rupert Hydro-Electric Company, Ltd. The company stands ready to bind itself by written contract to the terms set forth in the by-law, which is similar to those passed by municipalities adjacent to Vancouver.

In the letter special attention is called to the rates quoted by the company for power. These work out with the present city load of 1.56 cents per kilowatt per hour and $3.50 per horse-power per year. As more power is required the rates shrink to 1.21 cents per kilowatt per hour and $2.10 per horse-power per year.

The by-law provides detailed regulations regarding pole lines and the supply of power, including rates equivalent to the above-mentioned, and while reserving for the city the right to supply practically all light and all power to consumers, of less than ten horse-power, expressly provides that it shall not confer upon the Hydro-Electric Company any exclusive right or powers, and shall not be construed to confer such monopoly.

The draft by-law provides for a 40-year agreement with the city and the whole agreement would become null and void in the event of the company's not turning on a full service of power within two years. As a matter of fact, the company is able to promise full service in eight months.

The letter and by-law will come up for consideration by the council in course.

TROUBLE OVER HAY.

Indians Object to Ranchers Cutting Hay on Government Land.

A dispute over the rights to cut hay on the flat lands, between the Indians and the white men which might have resulted in bloodshed, was settled by W. F. Teetzel, government agent of Nelson, who told both Indians and whites that if violence is done no one would be allowed to cut the hay on the government land, says the Creston Review.

Although there are hundreds of acres of hay land that have not been touched by the Indians who insist that they believe to be the intrusion of the white people claiming all the land as their own by right of priority in the valley, make trouble for the white hay cutters at every opportunity.

The principal trouble this year occurred when some Indians threatened Frank Lewis and drove him from the hay he had already cut. The Indians claim they have cut their hay at this particular place for years, while the old-time ranchers say hay has never before been cut there. Mr. Lewis complained to Constable Gunn, who, as the definite boundary of the Indian reservation is not known, was at a loss what to do because he would not be committed whereby he would act. He at once wired R. L. T. Galbraith, Indian agent, to come and assist in settling matters.

Mr. Teetzel arrived from Nelson, and in conference with Chief Alexander got him to promise to see Mr. Lewis get his hay and also warned him to keep the Indians from violence under penalty of losing the right of cutting hay on the flats. This warning he also gave to the white men.

This is only one of the cases occurring this year. One farmer whose place is located near the reservation has been continually bothered by the Indians cutting his fences and turning their cattle in to graze on his property.

WANTS LINE COMPLETED.

Penticton, Aug. 17.—At the last regular meeting of the Penticton Board of Trade a discussion took place with regard to urging the C. P. R. to complete their line between Kootenay Landing and Proctor. It was pointed out that when the Kettle Valley line from Midway to Merritt, and later to Hope, was completed, the traffic on the southern Crow's Nest line was bound to increase tremendously, and that it was bound to be a great hindrance to the development of through traffic if a transfer had to be made at Kootenay Landing to a steamer. The secretary was instructed to write to the Nelson Board of Trade, enquiring what action they proposed to take in urging the C. P. R. to construct this last uncompleted link in a new through line through the heart of the southern part of the province.

CONSTRUCTION OF KETTLE VALLEY LINE

Another Contract for 57 Miles Awarded to Spokane Firm

Sumnerland, Aug. 17.—Another contract has been awarded by the Kettle Valley Railway Company. This is for the construction of 75 miles of line from the lower end of the lake northward through Naramata and to Hydraulic Summit, not far from Kelowna. At Hydraulic Summit the line will join that already being projected northward through the Kettle Valley, and now some miles north of Carmel. Messrs. Grant, Smith & Company, of Spokane, have been awarded the contract for this 57 miles, and work will be started at once. Grading will commence on the benches south of Naramata.

More men have arrived from Vancouver to work on the Merritt section of the Kettle Valley railway. They will be engaged in ballasting, lifting and surfacing the 30 miles of track on which steel is laid, and when the work is done there is every probability that the scene of operations will be moved to the other end of the line. It is probable that an accommodation train will cover over 30 miles during the fall.

Six weeks should certainly see the end of the work on that section, or at the very most two months more will be needed. The telegraph lines and posts have yet to be installed, and also the section houses and the stations.

A party is now within one mile and a half of the loop near Merritt, having completed the work from the Coquihalla end. When the connection is made with the completed section of the road, this party will work down the Coquihalla into Hope.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CLUB.

Nelson, Aug. 17.—A campaign to collect subscriptions for a young woman's residential club in Nelson, which it is hoped to open next month, has been started by Mrs. E. S. Logie, who last winter was responsible for inaugurating the Young Woman's Association which proved so successful.

The club will be absolutely non-sectarian and non-denominational and is being formed for the purpose of providing the young women of the city with facilities for social intercourse and to some extent education in the arts and in domestic science. Rooms will be provided for a few who desire to live at the club and non-resident members will pay a small annual fee which will entitle them to the benefits of the club. As was done last winter with the Young Woman's Association it is intended that lectures in nursing, first aid, plain cooking, plain sewing and similar subjects shall be given at intervals and arrangements will be made for musical evenings and other events of a social nature.

Several professional men in Nelson gave subscriptions toward the $400 which it is estimated will be needed to carry on the club for the first year. It is hoped that the ladies of the city will supply the furniture.

WILL HOLD PICNIC.

Gordon Head, Aug. 17.—The annual basket picnic of the Victoria Farmers' Institute will be held on Labor Day, September 2, at Todd's Beach, Cordova Bay. The committee in charge consists of G. D. Goepel, chairman; T. Quick, J. R. Carmichael, J. P. Morrison, Wm. Boughton and E. E. King, secretary of the institute. A full program of sports will be held, including the following numbers: Race for girls under 12, race for girls under 16, young ladies' race, married ladies' race, race for boys under 12, race for boys under 16, 440 yard race, 220 yard race, egg and spoon race, needle and thread race, sack race, broad jump, high jump, and others.

WILL BUILD CHALET.

Revelstoke, Aug. 17.—Allyn G. Seymour, general travelling passenger agent of the C. P. R., representing Mr. Usher, of the headquarters traffic department, at Montreal, was the guest of the Revelstoke Progress Club recently, and in company with the president of the club, Dr. Hamilton, and other prominent citizens, made the ascent of Mount Revelstoke and tour of the new National Park, with the view to making arrangements to place a C. P. R. chalet at the summit in time for the commencement of tourist traffic on the scenic auto road, which is now under construction. Mr. Seymour expressed himself as surprised at the grandeur and variety of the scenery en route, and from the summit.

The home-seekers pouring into the city will purchase this property in preference to commonplace lots without view.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY
Good fortune and wealth will be yours, but heavy expenses will occur. Avoid quarrelling or law suits. If you employ your efforts will be well rewarded. Those born to-day will have a lively existence, being fond of company and pleasure, and usually having ample means to gratify their desires. They should be taught to govern their temper as some rash act may bring disaster.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

Heroism is the salt that keeps humanity from rotting. When we take an inventory of the qualities and passions of the crowd we are likely to find a discouraging state of things. They who despise the human race are not without their reasons.

What a writer of selfishness in the business world, with a treacherous and cruel heart, often what utter heartlessness and brute selfishness!

In the relations between men and women what a world of sickening facts! In family life what jars and pettiness, what frequent depreciation of what should be the most ideal of human relationships!

In the history of religion what a shameful list of perversions; headstrongness, vanity, intolerance, persecution, superstition and even wolfish passions!

But all these are salted and cured, altered and antidoted, by one thing—heroism.

Not the spectacular kind that makes the common gaze; but the unknown, unspoken kind, done for itself alone, for the eye of God and the satisfaction of a noble self-respect.

Think of the unnoted and unnumbered acts of heroism on the part of mothers! These alone would save the world, as few good men would have saved Sodom.

Look (and if you seek you shall find), at the numberless deeds of self-sacrifice among the poor, the self-renunciations of the rich, the helpfulness of fellow-workmen, the splendid courage of men and women that they often conceal with a sense of shame!

True, friend pessimist, humanity may be just mud, dirt, earth; but all through it sparkles the pure and priceless gold of heroism.

GOLF BALL EXPLODED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 17.—Horace G. Gamble, a golf player, may lose his eyesight as the result of the explosion of a golf ball, which he was experimenting with. Mr. Gamble started on a round of the course with D. C. Clegg, of Philadelphia. They were using a golf ball of English make, which had been sent to Mr. Gamble to get his opinion on. The ball was lively, and Mr. Gamble insisted upon ascertaining why. He and Mr. Clegg returned to the clubhouse, where they screwed the ball fast to a vice and Mr. Gamble struck it with a hammer. There was a sharp explosion, the ball was shattered, and the liquid which it was filled flew into Mr. Gamble's eyes. The injured golf player was placed in an automobile and hurried to a specialist, where it was discovered the acid in the ball had burned Mr. Gamble's eyes.

MOVING PICTURE TRUST.

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—The federal government attacked the so-called moving-picture trust in a civil suit filed here yesterday for the dissolution of the Moving Picture Patents company and the General Art company. Ten leading firms are accused of combining to monopolize the business, even to the extent of increasing or decreasing the number of motion picture theatres in which they have no proprietary interest.

"The Squaw Man."
The "Squaw Man" is the play the Allen Players will produce for next week at the Victoria theatre when they commence their tenth week in Victoria in summer stock. William Faversham's great play is known throughout two continents and especially is it known in America and Canada, where its run was among the most successful of modern plays. "The Squaw Man" was played successfully in England under the title of "The White Man" and met with instant success.

Miss Verna Felton, the leading woman of the Allen Players, is to appear in the systematic part of Nat-U-Ritch, the Indian girl, and as such will be seen in a part very different from her customary roles. For one thing the part of Nat-U-Ritch requires its impersonator to impress the audience by her acting rather than by her speaking part, for the Indian woman in "The Squaw Man" has very little speaking to do. It is the smallest speaking part Miss Felton takes, but it is one she likes because it gives her so much opportunity for a further exhibition of her talent, by putting all her art into her gestures and stage presence.

There is a long cast for "The Squaw Man," and in it will be seen both Mr.

ROB ROGERS AND LOUISE MACKINTOSH, AT THE EMPRESS THEATRE NEXT WEEK.

and Mrs. Allen. This is E. R. Allen's first appearance on the Victoria theatre stage, and the friends of the jovial manager are looking forward to his impersonation of the cattleman "Grouchy" with considerable pleasure. Another new player will make his first appearance with the company in the person of Mr. Mitchell, an English actor who has recently joined the company, and will play the important part of Henry Kerhill. G. D. Zucco, who is giving such a remarkable part in "The Transgressor" this week, is to play the male lead, being cast for James Wynnegate, the Englishman who marries Nat-U-Ritch.

The cast is very strong, including the full list of cowpunchers with the "bad man" of the plains. Byron Eagan will be Sir John Applegate, a part that should suit him extremely well. Big Bill, the cowpuncher, will be played by Mr. Connors, Miss Hudars will be seen as Diana Korhill, Mr. Konck will play Cash Hawkins, the bad man. Mr. Stokes is to be Shorty, Mr. Clapp will play Toby Warner, and the subsidiary characters are well taken.

"The Squaw Man" will be staged at the Victoria theatre the full week, and there will be a matinee on Saturday afternoon with some splendid stage scenery at each performance. The Royal Hungarian orchestra will play the orchestral music as usual.

The Empress Theatre.

Another good bill is provided for the Empress theatre next week. Madam La Deodima, a Parisian beauty, who is billed as "A Vision of Loveliness," will offer a series of poses. She is one of the latest additions to the Sullivan & Considine circuit, an agent of which saw her act at the music halls of the French capital and promptly booked her for a tour over the circuit of which the Empress forms a part. She is said to be one of the most beautiful women on the French stage, and her series of poses offer some unusual lighting effects and some surprises. The act is staged with a wealth of detail and nothing has been spared in its setting.

The playlet offered is "The Green

Moriarty by name. He and the great detective are constantly engaged in a game of wits and the honors are not by any means one-sided.

Richard Lonsdale is cast for the important role of Sherlock Holmes. It is a difficult character to gain a conception of in short time, and Mr. Lonsdale is devoting much time and study to it. Alice Faulkner will be played by Miss Mildred Page, and the role of the great criminal, Moriarty, will be taken by Dave Williams.

REPRODUCTION OF ROSES.

To the Editor:—Roses may be reproduced from new shoots, preferably still growing, provided the following directions are followed:

1. Cut four or five leaves along the stem and remove the thorns.
2. Cut around the stem in two places, one inch apart, just under a knot, and remove the bark entirely.
3. With leaden foil, prepared in the shape of a funnel, surround the part deprived of its bark. Bind tight with a string below, and leave it open above.
4. This funnel-like receptacle should be filled with good soil and sand covered with moss, which will serve to keep the contents moist.
5. This receptacle and covering must be well tied, so that everything may keep its place. Water often.
6. If the stem is long, there will be room for three or four contrivances of this kind, provided they are made one foot apart.
7. During October or November the whole preparation may be cut off and consigned to a flower pot so as to rest during the winter.
8. In the spring, plant it in the garden. The advantage of this system lies in the fact that the flowers not growing from a graft, will not cause any wild and useless growth.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Completely Removed Without One Moment's Pain

No longer need women suffer the terrible humiliation and embarrassment of a repulsive, hairy growth on the face, neck or hands, which gives the feminine face such a coarse, ugly, masculine and oftentimes positively repugnant appearance. For years I searched for a painless, simple and satisfactory way to remove superfluous hair from the skin, so that it need never return.

I tried everything and was completely discouraged when at last a happy thought came to me, and after many long, wakeful hours I emerged triumphant with a wonderful new mode of treatment, different from all others I had ever seen, yet so simple and practical it seems strange it had never been discovered before. A few friends tested my discovery with instant success. A noted French chemist, to whom I showed it, said it contained ingredients for dissolving the hair-root and all. One lady who tried it said: "A single application sufficed to destroy the hair instantly." "Removed every trace of the undesirable growth. I did not suffer one second," said another lady. "Hair completely disappeared, leaving my skin soft and white," said still another woman.

I have put my discovery to the hardest possible tests. I have seen this remarkable preparation put on an arm bristling with disgusting black hair and watched it fairly wither and die before my very eyes—shriveling up and vanishing as though touched by the hand of magic.

It seems certain now that I have at last discovered a plan which will succeed in producing marvelous results where all other plans have failed, and I believe that no matter how much or little superfluous hair is on your face, neck, arms or body you can, with my simple and wonderful discovery, remove completely every hateful hair, positively, painlessly and with perfect safety.

While I cannot agree to long continue this plan, I will for introductory purposes during the next 30 days send to every interested woman who writes to me information concerning the secret of my discovery absolutely free. If you like, you may enclose a 2c stamp for reply.

Simply address me, KATHRYN B. FIRMIN, Suite 1334C, Clarke Music Building, Syracuse, N. Y., and I will send you by return mail full particulars in a plain sealed envelope.

Every lady reader of this paper who has the slightest interest in Miss Firmin's wonderful discovery is urged to write to her without delay, for, as she has said, the information is free, and you have everything to gain and nothing to lose.

REMOVAL NOTICE

The Head Office of the Natural Resources Security Company, Ltd., will on September 1st, 1912, be moved from Vancouver to Fort George. The Vancouver office of the Company will on and after the same date be located in 620-621-622-623-624 Vancouver (Burns) Block, Granville Street.

The removal of the Head Office of the Company to Fort George is rendered advisable and necessary because of the rapid development taking place in Central British Columbia through the approaching completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the immediate beginning of construction of the Pacific and Great Eastern.

Work on the transcontinental is in actual progress right at Fort George, and we are advised that construction of the Pacific and Great Eastern will proceed south from Fort George terminal early next spring.

Our information is that work on the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway north from Fort George and into the Peace River country is to commence at the same time, and construction on the B. C. and Alaska and some of the eight other roads chartered into Fort George will probably commence during the summer of 1913.

Fort George will then have begun to realize the prophecy which the Natural Resources Security Company has for three years made concerning it—that it will be the RAILWAY HUB OF CENTRAL BRITISH COLUMBIA.

As this Company deals almost exclusively with Central British Columbia investment opportunities, and will continue to specialize therein, its management believes that the company's continued financial success, and the interests of its clients, will be best served by transferring its Head Office to Fort George, the TRANSPORTATION CENTRE AND COMMERCIAL DISTRIBUTING POINT of one of the largest and one of the most naturally rich districts in the Dominion.

In addition to the very large commercial territory in British Columbia, Fort George is the GATEWAY TO THE RICH PEACE RIVER COUNTRY—a district as large as the combined states of New York and Pennsylvania, and of which two-thirds is excellent agricultural land. At the present time such business needs as present development in the Peace demands are supplied from Edmonton. This, however, will cease to be the case when the railways connect Fort George with this rich new territory. Then its imports and its products will go in and out by way of Fort George, Prince Rupert and Vancouver, and such of it as is needed in Europe will go thither via the Panama Canal.

When this transportation is given Fort George's commercial territory will be as large as the four states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan, and will embrace an area of 185,000 square miles.

In this great territory there will be, for some years yet, some of the finest investment opportunities that men of either large or small capital can desire. Knowledge of these investment opportunities is one side of the Natural Resources Security Company Ltd's business equipment, and its specialized organization is another. Both are equally at the command of old and new clients, and the removal of the Head Office of the Company to Fort George will, by putting us in closest touch with developments before or as they occur, enable us to serve them with even greater satisfaction than in the past. If you are interested in business or investment opportunities in Fort George or Central British Columbia, see or write the

DIVER KILLED.

Port Burwell, Aug. 17.—Pinned beneath a sunken scow about a mile out of Port Burwell, Edward West, of Port Huron, Mich., lies dead on the bottom of Lake Erie, and another, whose name has not yet been ascertained, lies here in a serious condition.

The men were divers who had been engaged to salvage a scow, the property of the Hogan Company of Port Carbone, which was wrecked here some time ago and sank in forty feet of water. The men had donned their suits and descended to the floor of the lake directly after the dinner hour. Air was being pumped into the sunken scow. Suddenly heaving, the cumbersome vessel flopped over on its side, pinning the two men like rats in a trap.

The curvature of the earth is, in round figures, 8 inches in a mile.

CANADIAN PACIFIC UNDER PRESSURE

Reports that Proposal to Increase Capital Stock May Be Opposed

New York, Aug. 17.—The stock market was disturbed by liquidation of American Tobacco, which was said to be in the nature of tail-end realizations and without significance as far as the affairs of the company are concerned. Canadian Pacific was under pressure for not only domestic and London account, but also for Berlin on the reports to the effect that some opposition would be met in connection with the granting of privileges to increase the common stock issues as proposed. In addition to the foregoing there was the usual amount of week-end realizations and evening up of accounts, and it was quite evident that the market has begun to feel the weight of distribution in the higher-priced stocks, which attention has been called for some days.
The buying of the lower priced stocks, such as Steel, the Equipment issues, Erie and Southern Ry., on the down turns was quite good and many are inclined to believe that these classes of issues will lead the rising tendency to a greater extent than heretofore on account of facts that substantial interests do not seem disposed to encourage a broad, general and sustained upward movement.

PROFIT TAKING IN GRAIN MARKET

Reaction Near Close of Session—Spring Movement Lighter Than Expected

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The wheat market was a disappointing one for holders. The opening bulge was not as strong as expected on the excessive rains over the Northwest last night, chiefly because too many local trade had placed profit taking orders on the selling side to take advantage of an expected bull market. The best price of the morning for December was 1/2 over Friday's close at 94 1/2, with the May at 88 1/2, and from this the market had exactly one cent reaction on closing trades. Minneapolis was 1/2 up soon after opening, but this gain was quickly lost. Dispatches from that quarter said heavy rains were likely to cause delay but really no serious damage to wheat. Bull leaders continue to comment on the fact that Chicago is having no accumulation of stock. They argue also that the spring movement to the market has been lighter than expected. The trade and the public are looking a little ahead for what is likely to happen when the country has a return of bright favorable weather for finishing the spring harvest and rushing the crop to market and the lowering of foreign bids because of competition from Canada and Russia.
The secret of the sharp reaction in corn future to-day was not doubt the fact that the local short interest was largely forced to cover on the advance of Friday. Wet weather reports has temporary effect on the buying side, causing sales for December at 54 1/2 and May at 54 1/2. From this point it was a case of profit taking and sliding prices. Country offerings of corn were reported more liberal.

WEAK MEN, LOOK HERE!

Electro-Vigor Can Cure You

To the man whose vitality is exhausted and who finds himself, while still young in years, a broken down wreck of what he ought to be, our Electro-Vigor is full of encouragement. It is the success of the age. Lost vitality can be regained. In elevating the condition of suffering men, Electro-Vigor has long since proven itself thoroughly effective.
It is worn while you sleep. For four to eight hours every night it pours a steady stream of electric energy into the large nerve centres of the body, saturating them with life. Circulation is increased through the weakened tissues and strength renewed. From it comes the vim, the energy, the fire of perfect physical and mental action. Health and happiness is thus renewed.

Are you nervous, fretful and gloomy? Is your sleep broken? Do you worry? Have you lost your old-time confidence and energy? Any pains and aches in different parts of your body? Is your back weak or painful? Have you lost the vigor of youth? Are you rheumatic and do you feel yourself becoming an old man before your time? Do you have varicose?
These are the results of the waste of vital force. The gentle stream of electricity from Electro-Vigor going into the weak nerves for hours every night soon replaces the lost energy. Every organ is controlled by nerves. The power that operates them is electricity. The weakened nerves absorb electric energy like a sponge absorbs water and every cure is permanent.

CURED
1200 Barclay Street, Vancouver, B. C.
Dear Sirs:—After using Electro-Vigor three months, I am pleased to announce my complete cure. My trouble was a thorough breakdown of the nervous system from overwork. In six weeks I began to mend rapidly, and now I am as well as ever, and working again.
M. GALL.

We can make the blood circulate in your veins, the nerves tingle, with vigorous life and the spirit of energy shoot itself in every move of your body—if you will wear Electro-Vigor. We told you that "Electricity is Life," and now all scientists and doctors are approving our claim. Let us prove it to you; let us show you how our method of generating and supplying this great power has revolutionized results with electricity.
The human body is a very delicate piece of machinery. It must be treated gently and intelligently when it is beginning to break down. Dosing the sensitive stomach with drugs will not restore strength even if the drugs had strength to give, they never reach the parts that need the strength. The world's greatest thinkers and investigators now acknowledge that Electricity is the basis of vitality. Therefore use it right.
The BEST PROOF of what Electro-Vigor will do, however, is not what we say or even what the professors and doctors say. The persons who have used it and what they say is the best proof that

ELECTRO-VIGOR CURES

It cures others and it will cure you. It is the best way to use electricity. It pours a large volume of electricity gently into the system while you are resting or sleeping. It refreshes the nerves, expands the vital powers, energizes the circulation, and makes you feel bright, active and vigorous after a few nights' use. You get stronger each day, and in a few weeks you are a new man. Since the energy that the nerves lacked has been restored to them, the cure is permanent. This grand invigorator has cured hundreds in and around Vancouver. It will cure you.

FREE BOOK

We have a book which every one should read. It tells facts that are of interest to every person who wants to regain vitality or to remain young in energy. We give this 100-page book to any person who will fill out this coupon. The special and separate book for women is as complete as the large book for men. Each book explains what Electro-Vigor is, what it is designed to do. An abundance of proof of what it has done will be sent free-along with it. Fill out the coupon now. Send it, if you can not call.

Clinton, B. C.
Gentlemen—I take pleasure in writing you, stating the benefit I have received by using Electro-Vigor. About three years ago I was terribly afflicted with lame back, kidney trouble and rheumatism so bad I could hardly stoop over. In November last I began the use of Electro-Vigor, and to-day I am as well as ever, being completely cured. I highly recommend Electro-Vigor to any sufferer from these troubles.
Wishing you success. Yours respectfully,
GEO. F. MUNDORF.

You Can Save More Than Car-Fare by Reading The Ads in This Issue

If it were certain that, at frequent intervals, a coupon would be printed in this newspaper which would be accepted as street car fare—a good many people would watch every issue of the paper for the appearance of that coupon!

Yet the reward for finding such a coupon would amount to but five cents! Of course, this paper does not—ever—print any such coupons. But, equally of course, this newspaper DOES PRINT, in every issue, advertising which contains actual, money-saving information—of far more "cash value" than a street car ticket, or even a handful of them!

This fact makes ad-watching really worth while—not a mere quest for a five-cent reward!

FREIGHT CAR DERAILED.
Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Rocks in the G. N. R. cut at Grandview, loosened by the operations in connection with the erecting of a double-track, last night about 11 o'clock rolled down on a northbound freight train as it was proceeding into Vancouver, derailed a car and blocked traffic over the line until 8 o'clock this morning. The train was proceeding slowly. Probably it jarred the already loosened rocks and boulders itself, so that they came down the embankment readily.
Work crews were on the scene in a few moments after the trouble occurred.

There can be no mistake about the rapid yet steady growth of the Imperialist idea throughout Great Britain.

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 17.—The Winnipeg-Toronto C. P. R. express No. 4, eastbound, left the rails near Cartier, 100 miles west of North Bay, this morning. Details are not available, but it is known that Conductor Robert Lidka, of North Bay, is injured.
From the meagre details available it is known that the Toronto express was speeding eastward in the early morning when a broken rail was struck, and the entire train left the rails and plunged down the embankment. The first-class coaches suffered most and many passengers were injured, but none seriously as far as can be learned.

Basket Picnic Committee.
A meeting of the committee will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. Everything is being arranged satisfactorily, and the indications are that there will be a good attendance. All those who can possibly get away from the city on that day are going to attend the picnic, and the committee looks forward to the most successful affair of its kind yet held by this society. Notices will be sent out during the coming week by the committee to every member of the various local lodges. If some do not receive their notice it will be because the secretary has not their right addresses. The only way the picnic can be a success is for all members of the order, with their wives and families, to be present. Those who are not so fortunate as to have a wife should try and prevail upon some good-natured, young lady to accompany them. The main thing is to be present—and when you are there, enjoy yourself in a fitting manner.

COUNCIL CONDEMNS UNSANITARY STABLES

Owners Heard Last Night—Some Will Make Garages of Old Buildings

Almost without exception the stables on the list of condemned buildings before the council last night were ordered pulled down. A few, however, were condemned as stables, and will be allowed to remain standing on condition that the owners turn them into garages, or use them for other purposes. One, that of B. H. T. Drake, was left over for consideration, as the owner offered the opinion that whatever the city physician might say regarding its insanitation he would bring contradictory medical evidence on the point. This stable in some distance from surrounding property, has not had a horse in it for four years, and is used to store two carriages.

A. J. S. Morley wrote the council that he had received a notice to tear his stable down, and that while he owned a modest structure he did not think his dwelling could be classed as a stable. That is all he owns and should he receive further publicity about it he will "take steps." He is not the ex-mayor, but does business in one of the local tonorial parlors.

Frederick Norris' stable was condemned on the assertion by Ald. Cuthbert that the rich should not be favored. The sanitary officer made a plea for this stable saying it had been put in better condition. The council agreed on its condemnation. Ald. Cuthbert was heard again complaining that Ald. Board, chairman of the committee, had seen fit to absent himself from the meeting.

The evidence was taken from the health officer and the sanitary officer under oath. During the meeting all reported having heard from the harbor master on the necessity of guarding against the bubonic plague by strict quarantine regulations against incoming deep-sea vessels, owing to the existence of bubonic plague in foreign ports. It was necessary, therefore, that dilapidated structures in the city with facilities for breeding of rats should be destroyed.

Mrs. Oliphant wrote in regard to buildings the officer had condemned that she sold the property four years ago and did not want any further unpleasantness. There were several of the owners on the list who did not appear, and a number of buildings listed were reported as having been removed.

FAMOUS CHURCHMAN WILL TOUR CANADA

Canon of Westminster Abbey Leaves for the West Next Saturday

Canon Hensley Henson, of Westminster Abbey, London, and one of the most famous churchmen in the Old Country, intends making a tour of Canada and the States very shortly. He will leave Liverpool to-day week on one of the C. P. R. boats and will tour Canada first, passing from Montreal westward, stopping over at all the towns of any importance.

After going through Canada he has arranged dates for preaching in many American cities, and at the universities of Yale, Cornell, Philadelphia, Harvard, and Columbia. While at Harvard he will also give a course of five lectures at the Andover Seminary. The title of this series is "Current Problems of Organized Religion."

The object of the visit, as the canon publicly stated in London recently is to meet prominent men of all religious work in the west. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Henson.

Besides being a preacher of repute a great lecturer, and a man of wide culture and learning, Canon Hensley Henson has made himself particularly famous as a prolific writer on all subjects relating to religion and ethics. He is a Fellow of All Souls' College, Oxford, and a D.D. of Glasgow University.

GIRLS TELL OF FLOGGING.

St. Albany, Ida., Aug. 17.—More than fourteen girls told of flogging with straps at the state university school investigation.

Iva Horrigan testified that the superintendent beat her with a strap as she lay over a counter with her body bared from the waist down. Thirteen other female inmates said the superintendent had whipped them. Gladys Chapman swore that her hips had been beaten black and blue by the man, who hung her over a bath tub. Cayenne pepper was used by Miss Leonard, a nurse in the hospital, to punish the girls, according to other witnesses.

Sway on a Holiday

The benign countenance of our outside guardian, Bro. W. H. Huxtable, P. O. P., has been missed during the meetings this week. The reason is that "Daddy" has taken a holiday trip to Alberta, where he will no doubt enjoy himself. Our venerable brother has almost entirely recovered from his recent accident, for which all the members feel deeply grateful.

B. P. O. B.

There will be a meeting of the Benevolent Protective Order of Beavers at Eagle Hall, Government street, on Monday next at 8 p. m. sharp. Important business is to be carried through and there will be an installation of officers who were elected at the last meeting. The following brothers are to be installed: P. Leroy, past chief Beaver; G. D. Hawkins, chief Beaver; G. J. Cook, vice-chief Beaver; S. Irving, worthy pilot; J. A. Waugh, worthy scout; R. H. Beare, inner lookout; W. Inward, trustee. This fraternal order is one that is growing rapidly, and from now on that will be proclaimed second to none in all Canada. New members are being enrolled every week. Outlying districts are waiting to join. All men of the white race cordially invited to join the order and it is earnestly hoped that every brother will attend this important meeting.
