NO. 124

RUSSIA GAINS BRILLIANT VICTORIES

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT WITHOUT USUAL COLOR MANY MEMBERS AT WAR

Speech From Throne Has Reference to War With Turkey and States That House Will Be Asked to Make Further Financial Provisions

London, Nov. 11, 5.45 p.m.—Premier Asquith stated in the House of Commons to-day that he doubted that the war would last as long as people had originally predicted.

London, Nov. 11.—King George opened to-day what probably will prove to be a purely war session of parliament. No controversial political question will be deliberated, but this does not mean that entire harmony will prevail, for the cabinet ministers will be asked some pertinent and uncomfortable questions about their conduct of various phases of the war.

The labor party leaders are especially primed with questions in regard to pay for the soldiers, allowances for their dependents, and pensions, but criticism of the government by the opposition probably will be restrained.

The most important business before the House of Commons will be to provide stews of war in men and money. The recruiting situation may lead to some steps toward compulsory service, and the £500,000,000 granted in August, having been practically used up, a further credit of a like amount probably will be proposed under the special war loan act passed at the last session.

One hundred and five Unionists were missing from their seats, being absent in various capacities in connection with the war, thirty-three ministers are absent on government business.

The usual ceremony accompanied the opening of parliament, the king making a military progress through the streets to Westminster Palace, but like the lord mayor's show, the customary color was lacking. Instead of the brilliantly uniformed household guards lining the streets and forming the escort, sober khaki marked the military features of the display.

Within the House of Lords, all the usual ceremonial trappings were used. In this body the king's speech from the throne was moved by Lord Methuen and seconded by Viscount Bryce. In the House of Commons the speech was moved by Sir Robert Price and seconded by William Middlebrooke.

Londoners who recently have been deprived of all spectacular incidents, to-day thronged the route of the royal procession to Westminster Palace where King George opened parliament and a wave of patriotic cheering followed the king and queen from the start to the finish of their drive. Their majesties rode in a less conspicuous state levee carriage, drawn by six black horses, instead of the gold and glass coach usually used. The scene within the House of Lords was hardly so picturesque as usual. The court is in mourning for Prince Maurice of Battenberg, and large numbers of aristocrats who customarily fill the upper chamber on these occasions are now mourning for husbands and sons fallen in the war, while khaki to a large extent displaced the brilliant military uniforms usually present.

In the speech from the throne King George said: "My Lords and Gentlemen:

"The energies and sympathies of my subjects in every part of the empire are concentrated on the prosecution to a victorious issue of the war in which we are engaged. I have summoned you now, in order that, sharing, as I am aware you do, my conviction that this is a duty of paramount and supreme importance, you should take whatever steps are needed for its adequate discharge. Since I last addressed you the area of the war has been enlarged by the participation in the struggle of the Ottoman empire. In conjunction with my allies and in spite of repeated and continuous provocations, I strove to preserve in regard to Turkey a friendly neutrality. Bad counsel and alien influence have driven her into a policy of wanton and defiant aggression, and a state of war now exists between us. My Mussulman subjects know well that our rupture with Turkey has been forced upon me against my will, and I recognize with appreciation and gratitude the proofs which they have hastened to give of their loyal devotion and support.

"My navy and army continue throughout the area of conflict to maintain in full measure their glorious traditions. We watch and follow their steadfast valor with thankfulness and pride, and there is throughout my empire a fixed determination to secure at whatever sacrifice the triumph of our arms and vindication of our cause.

"You will be asked to make due financial provision for the effective conduct of the war, and the only measures which will be submitted to you at this stage of the session are such as seem necessary to my advisors for the attainment of the great purpose upon which the efforts of the empire are set. I confidently commend them to your patriotism and loyalty, and I pray that the Almighty will give his blessing to your counsels."

LUXEMBURGIANS ARE BECOMING RESTLESS

Friction Occurs Constantly With Germans in Villages; Only French Now Spoken.

Luxemburg, Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, Nov. 11.—This small country, which has almost been forgotten since the commencement of the war, is beginning to show signs of unrest under German rule. Entirely cut off from the rest of the world and obliged to read newspapers which, under a strict German censorship, are giving exclusively pro-German information, the people show the same tendency to fly into panics and to believe hysterical news as are so familiar in Brussels, Liege, Namur and other Belgian cities, where the people are kept in the dark. The Luxemburgians have suffered greatly since the Germans three weeks ago stopped the iron industry, the main support of the country, by forbidding the use of dynamite. Operation of the mines has been allowed again, but the miners are obliged to use other and less violent explosives.

Continual friction is apparent between the Luxemburgians and the Germans in the frontier villages. The people, who ordinarily are bilingual, under pressure of the uninvited Germans, now are using French exclusively as the only means at their disposal of showing resentment, the natives say, at their country's invasion and continued domination.

MANY TURKS REBEL AGAINST GERMANS AND WAR SECTION

London, Nov. 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Athens says: "It is learned that a conspiracy has broken out at Constantinople against the Germans and Young-Turks. The chief conspirators were arrested and shot.

The population of the Ottoman capital, becoming excited as a result of the Turkish defeats on Sunday, visited in resentment on a number of German non-commissioned officers, whom they attacked."

Russian cruisers have bombarded the forts in the Bosphorus and the coast magazines at Heraclea, Asia Minor. The Turkish fleet sailed out against the Russians, but soon withdrew. At Heraclea the Russians sunk a large number of merchant vessels.

BRITISH VOLUNTEERS SAIL FROM NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 11.—Philip A. Curry, son of P. E. Curry, director and manager of the White Star and American lines at Southampton, Eng., sails to-day on the Red Star liner Lapland, with a number of British volunteers, to enlist for active service. He is taking with him several bales of blankets, woollen coats, socks, bandages, belts and 50,000 cigarettes donated by Mr. Curry's American friends as Christmas presents for soldiers at the front.

GERMAN CRUISER EMDEN, DRIVEN ASHORE

French Forces Generally Successful but Leave Dixmude Under Germans' Fire

Paris, Nov. 11.—The French official statement this afternoon says that the fighting was resumed yesterday morning with very great severity between Neuport and the Lys.

"On our left wing the fighting was resumed yesterday morning between Neuport and the Lys, with a very great degree of severity. Generally speaking, our front was maintained in spite of the violence and the strength of the German attacks directed against certain of our positions of support."

"To the north of Neuport we were even able to reoccupy Lombartzyde and advance beyond this town, but toward the end of the day the Germans succeeded in taking possession of Dixmude. We still hold our positions on the approaches to this town, along the canal from Neuport to Ypres, which has been firmly occupied. The fighting was very hot at these places."

"The British troops, attacked also at several points, succeeded everywhere in stopping the enemy."

"On the rest of the front the general situation shows no change with the exception of slight progress by our forces to the north of Selsions and in the region to the west of Vailley, on the right bank of the Abene. Outside of these points the state of the weather permitted only minor engagements, which resulted successfully for us. Particularly at Coincourt, three kilometers north of the forest of Parroy, we routed a detachment of the enemy."

"It is becoming more and more evident to French observers that Germany is now making a maximum effort in Belgium to carry out her determination to penetrate the battle-line of the allies with a frontal attack and reach either Dunkirk or Calais on the English channel."

This attack seems to be taking place south of Dixmude. What is described in an official bulletin as very violent fighting in the north, continued this morning. The foggy weather of the last few days apparently has cleared and the Germans are pushing the attack. Nevertheless, Paris seems well satisfied with the situation of the allies and the optimism of the last two weeks continues unabated.

EMDEN CAUGHT FIRE, HAS BROKEN UP CAPTAIN AND PRINCE ARE PRISONERS

London, Nov. 11.—Following the announcement of the destruction of the German raider Emden and the trapping of the German cruiser Koenigsberg the British marine insurance rate was almost instantly cut in half.

Cheers broke forth at Lloyds on the announcement and for the moment the struggles of the armies in France, Belgium, Russia and elsewhere were forgotten.

London, Nov. 11.—The Central News has received a dispatch from its correspondent at Melbourne saying that the gunnery of the German cruiser Emden was good in the beginning of her fight off Cocos Island with the Australian cruiser Sydney, but deteriorated later. The German boat had two funnels shot away and caught fire astern within an hour after the beginning of the engagement. A landing party from the Emden previous to the beginning of the fight had commandeered two months supplies from the Cocos Islanders, but the people were well treated.

Reuters has received a dispatch from its Peking correspondent, who says it is reported there that the Emden was severely damaged and has broken up.

Prince of Hohenzollern is Taken Prisoner. Captain von Muller, of the German cruiser Emden, and Prince Franz Joseph of Hohenzollern, one of his officers, are prisoners of war and neither is wounded, according to the admiralty this afternoon. The losses on the Emden are unofficially reported as 200 killed and thirty wounded. The admiralty has given directions that all honors of war be accorded to the survivors of the Emden and that the captain and his officers are not to be deprived of their swords.

CAPT. VON MUELLER

Commander of German Cruiser Emden, Who is Now Prisoner of War.

TSING TAU VICTORY IS CELEBRATED BY 500,000 JAPANESE

Tokio, Nov. 11.—Tokio to-day is celebrating with a mammoth civic demonstration attended by fully 500,000 persons the turning over yesterday to the Japanese and British of the German fortified position of Tsing Tau. Addresses were delivered by the diplomatic representatives of the allied powers. The streets are decorated and the people, marching in processions, showed much enthusiasm.

Official announcement is made that torpedo-boat No. 33 of the Japanese navy was sunk by a mine early to-day at the mouth of Kiau Chau bay while dragging for mines. A majority of the crew was rescued.

POPE OF ROME TO WORK FOR PEACE OF EUROPEAN NATIONS

London, Nov. 11.—Telegraphing from Copenhagen, a correspondent of the Central News says: "A dispatch received here from Cologne affirms that the pope shortly will endeavor to initiate negotiations for peace through the medium of a pastoral letter."

"The German view of this is that any such action by his holiness would raise the question of the pope's temporal power and force Italy into taking an attitude against the proposal."

GERMAN WARSHIPS ARE AGAIN STEAMING NORTH

Lima, Peru, Nov. 11.—A telegram from Talait, Chile, says that a steamer arriving there reports that when off Coquimbo, Chile, she sighted four German warships steaming north.

Coquimbo is about 300 miles south of Talait, and allowing for the time of the steamer's passage between the two ports the warships may have been seen on Saturday or Sunday. Coquimbo is about 450 miles north of Coronel, off which the naval engagement of November 1 was fought.

"THE BRITISH EMPIRE IS NOW FIGHTING FOR ITS EXISTENCE."

This was the emphatic statement of Earl Kitchener at the Guildhall on Monday.

OU' WAR LORD Again appealed not only for "men," but for "material" help. That was his appeal to all of us.

THE HELP IS NEEDED There are not many "slackers" among the "fighters." Let there be none among the "givers."

INVASION OF ENEMY'S TERRITORY IS BEGUN BY CZAR'S COSSACKS

Cracow Threatened and Przemysl Reported Fully Invested—Triumphs Won at Each End of Long Battle-Line by Infantry

Stratagists Say That German Army Should Have Been Allowed to Cross the Vistula and Then Prevented From Returning

London, Nov. 11.—Coincident with the news that every German soldier has been swept from Russian soil comes a whisper of peace negotiations in the report from Petrograd that Berlin has approached Russia with overtures looking toward a cessation of hostilities.

Contrary to the German reports that the Russians had been checked on the frontier of East Prussia, Petrograd declares that a brilliant success in that region has been succeeded by an invasion of German territory. An equal triumph is reported from the other end of the long Russian battle-line. With Cossacks raiding within twenty miles of Cracow, the commandant of that fortress has ordered the civilian population of the city to leave. Przemysl is said to be fully invested again, and its reduction is likely to precede any further advance by the Russian left wing.

Two German Generals Are Captured. Contrary to practice, infantry and not artillery has been the dominant force used by the Russians along their western battle-front in pushing the invaders back across the border. Showing disregard of the German batteries, superior forces of Russian infantry time after time have advanced and won positions by the use of cold steel.

From Moscow comes a report that during the fighting near Aerod, on the river Warthe, the Russians captured General von Makenge, commander of the seventeenth German army corps, together with members of his staff. It is reported also that General von Liebert, in command of Lodz when the Germans occupied that city, has been captured by the Russians.

Rome reports that the Austrian army is abandoning entirely its position in Western Galicia and will winter at the foot of the Carpathians, renewing the war from that base in the spring. But the stubborn defence of Przemysl and the evident determination to defend Cracow hardly confirm the report.

Russians Disagree on Military Plan. Telegraphing from Petrograd, the Morning Post's correspondent says: "The Russians are by no means satisfied by their recent victories. In certain quarters the opinion is expressed that the German armies ought never to have been allowed to leave Russia."

"At the war council, where the plans were laid down, distinguished councilors argued in favor of allowing the Germans to cross the Vistula even if Warsaw had to be abandoned, stating that not one German would then succeed in returning."

"From a military point of view their contention was justified, but they were overruled by political arguments, and it was decided Warsaw was not to be sacrificed."

"The surprising arrival of heavy Siberian reinforcements at Warsaw in the nick of time was part of the strategic scheme, the object being to catch the Germans unawares. Germany's finest forces were there, among them royal princes who brought gala uniforms to celebrate the capture of Warsaw at a ball to which invitations had already been issued. The Siberians had heavy artillery, outranking that of the Germans by nearly a mile which completely routed the Germans."

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE APPOINTED COMMANDER

Paris, Nov. 11.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Matin telegraphs the following: "It is reported that after a council of war presided over by the kaiser, the crown prince was appointed commander-in-chief of all the German and Austrian armies operating against Russia with General von Hindenberg commanding the left wing and General Dankl the right."

RETREAT CONTINUES BUT ATTACK GOES ON

London, Nov. 11.—Dispatches reaching London from Belgium and Holland say that the Germans are withdrawing many of their troops from their western battle front, but the official communications from the headquarters of the allies do not indicate and diminish in the force of the German attack, which is proceeding with its usual fury.

BROUGHTON STRAIT IS CLOSED TO NAVIGATION

Officially Announced at Ottawa That Waterway is to Be Used for Defence Purposes.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—It was officially announced to-day that the western portion of Broughton Strait, near Vancouver Island, has been closed to navigation for purposes of defence. Shipping has been notified that vessels between Johnston's Strait and Queen Charlotte Sound must take the Weyton Passage and Blackfish Sound. Vessels going by way of Ella Point Channel are in danger of being fired on. It is announced, while no reason has been assigned officially for this action, it is popularly believed to be due to apprehension as to possible attack from the German fleet that defeated British warships recently off the coast of Chile.

The Reason Why

Your furnace doesn't act right—probably because you are not giving it the right kind of fuel, which is coal. Feeding the furnace with coal means steady and adequate heat all the time. It means a saving, too, but you will have to test by trial before you'll be convinced of that fact.

LATE NIGHT WAR NEWS

GRASS GROWS WHILE

THE GERMANS ATTACK

Men of Allied Armies Sit Daily Behind Earthworks Firing at Enemy

Paris, Nov. 11.—Contentment and confidence prevail among the hundreds of thousands of French, British and Belgian troops engaged along the extended battle line from the North sea to Switzerland, in an endeavor to dislodge the invading army from its stronghold on France and Belgian soil, according to French officers arriving at the capital from the front. Apart from the fierce and sanguinary encounters from Lille and Arras to the southeast, both armies during the past week have maintained their positions. The combatants sit steadfastly in their wet trenches, occasionally executing their only possible manoeuvre, a night attack.

At any other time the slightest sign of life brings a hail of rifle bullets for the infantry is always on the alert and a helmet showing above the earthworks is sure to be greeted with a salvo. The two armies have been so long dug in at the same spots that the upturned earth of the trenches is nearly everywhere covered with a short growth of grass or weeds. The reliefs are made at night with as little noise as possible.

A supposedly unincensed washwoman was caught, and was found to be a German officer. He suffered the usual fate of spies. The city of Rheims itself still suffers considerably from bombs by the Germans. Last Friday 250 shells fell into the city, though no French troops were stationed there. The ancient and beautiful cathedral into which entry is strictly forbidden, seems, observers of the bombardment say, to be a point of the German gunners aim. All the buildings round the edifice have suffered terribly while the cathedral presents a shocking spectacle.

JAPAN WILL GIVE KIAU CHAU FORTS TO CHINA

Unlikely That Mikado's Soldiers Will Be Sent to Help Britain in War

Washington, Nov. 11.—The surrender to the Japanese by the Germans of the fortifications at Tsing Tau and the surrounding territory of Kiau Chau, has not altered Japan's announced intention of eventually restoring Kiau Chau to China. It is announced at the Japanese embassy here, that though technically and legally as Japan had demanded in its declaration of war, that Germany surrender the fortress of its own accord, and as Germany did not accede to the demand but resisted, it is pointed out that Japan was not absolutely bound to restore Kiau Chau. It was said, however, that no definite or positive announcement would be made at this time in regard to Japan's ultimate decision, but it is known that strong influences in Japan are at work toward the maintenance of friendly relations with China, and it is believed that Kiau Chau will be returned at the end of the war.

That Japan would assume the offensive or send troops to Europe unless requested by Great Britain to do so is not thought probable unless German successes against the allies should endanger the vital or threaten the life and existence of Japan.

KING GEORGE SENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS

London, Nov. 11.—King George has sent the following communication to Sir John French, commander of the British expeditionary forces on the continent:

"The splendid pluck, spirit and endurance shown by my troops in the desperate fighting which has continued so many days against vastly superior forces fills me with admiration. I am confident of the final result of their noble effort under your able command."

General French thanked his majesty for the message, which he said had been received with gratitude and pride by the army. He assured the king of his "unshakable determination to uphold the highest tradition of your majesty's army and carry the campaign through to a victorious conclusion."

FLEET OF SHIPS AFTER KARLSRUHE ON ATLANTIC

New York, Nov. 10.—A British fleet of many ships is searching the southern part of the North Atlantic ocean and the Caribbean sea for the German cruiser Karlsruhe, according to officials of the United Fruit steamer Tivives, which reported to-day from the West Indies.

"In the Caribbean and most of the way up from Kingston, I heard British warships talking by wireless," Capt. McKay, of the Tivives, said. "I judged that there was a large number of them and undoubtedly they are after the Karlsruhe."

TWO THOUSAND JOINED AFTER MARTIAL PARADE

London, Nov. 10.—The effect of the martial display at the lord mayor's show has been the immediate stimulation of recruiting in England, where enlisting in the last few weeks has lagged.

"Two thousand men enlisted yesterday in London alone, compared with the four or five hundred to which the daily average had dropped.

INUNDATION BROUGHT

FISH FOR BELGIANS

Fresh First Line Troops of Germany Sent to Attack British Trenches

London, Nov. 10.—Charles Seddon, a Central News correspondent in North-eastern France, sends the following: "Now that the inundations by which many invading German corps were trapped have been reduced, the Belgians are busy spearing fish. Spry, barelegged lancers are spearing about in the mud, glad that they can get something fresh to eat, and at the same time make excellent practice with their lances for a more serious occupation."

"The infantry, not wishing to be left out of the food-getting or the sport, also poke around in the marshy places with their bayonets affixed to long poles.

"It is estimated that the Germans have concentrated between Ypres and Arras ten army corps, to be used in a final effort to reach the channel ports. They have enough artillery to blast away a mountain, and when the troops of both sides come into action it will be the devil's own music. Even at a distance of ten kilometers the detonations are almost deafening.

"Ypres, I am informed, is a heap of ruins, like every other town in this district. No army has had such a severe test as that of the British. In this district some regiments were retrained. There never has been a really quiet day for the men.

"Despite the imminence of a further desperate German attack upon the Ypres and La Bassée line, there is a feeling of the greatest confidence among the British soldiers.

"The fresh first line troops have now been brought forward to act as a spearhead. It remains to be seen whether they will be imbued with the same determination as the Kaiser's recent Calais at all costs.

"One can almost feel sorry for the poor devils. Their guns cannot shell our fellows out, and their ridiculous attacks en masse melt like spindrift before the sustained rifle fire of the steady, deadly-aiming British.

"The Germans around Brussels are working feverishly at their fortifications. They have steam, trenching machines on the field of Waterloo, and enough cement has been brought into the country to solidify into crust all of Belgium east of Brussels. Behind their ferro-concrete lines of defence the Germans will attempt to recuperate their spent strength."

Thiel, Belgium, Nov. 10.—The inundations in Flanders which prevented the Germans from making their way along the coast in their efforts to reach Calais, are now proving equally unfavorable to the allies, who to-day are finding it impossible to proceed through the marshy region.

The Germans have been obliged to evacuate Middlekerke, on the coast, half way between Newport and Ostend, and this point has not yet been occupied by the allies.

DOMESTIC COPPER ONLY CAN BE SENT TO ITALY

Washington, Nov. 10.—The British ambassador informed the state department to-day that he had been advised by his government that while Italy prohibited the exportation of copper it did not prevent its transit over Italian territory. Consequently the ambassador said the British government would feel compelled to detain copper shipments to Italy unless assured that they were for domestic consumption, or were in transit to Switzerland.

HEARING IS RESTORED TO DEAF

Without Mechanical or Artificial Hearing Devices, Deaf Hear With Their Own Ears. A Wonderful English Discovery.

Thousands of people suffer from catarrhal deafness or poor hearing, who having tried specialists, advertised treatments, artificial ear-drums, ear phones, electric vibrators and various mechanical appliances without success have at last resigned themselves to a "world of silence" thinking that nothing can ever restore to them their normal hearing. Yet their case is not hopeless. A remarkable scientific treatment discovered a little more than a year ago in England is making people hear after years of deafness and is also unequalled for quickly stopping the "intriguing" noise that seems to often attend the companions of defective hearing. This discovery is called Parmit and has attracted attention throughout Europe, where reports of the remarkable results it has given to deaf people have come in by the hundred.

The effect of Parmit it seems is by tonic action to produce a stimulus necessary to reduce all inflammation, swelling, enlargement or thickening of the organs throughout the hearing and to stimulate the entire auditory tract.

Parmit is now being sold by many leading druggists in Victoria and many a speedy trial is urged upon all who suffer from catarrhal deafness or head noises in any degree. Ask for Parmit, 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength) and take it home and mix with a pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar and dissolve. Take one tablespoonful four times a day and you should soon find a remarkable improvement in your hearing.

IMPORTANT.—In ordering Parmit always specify that you want Double Strength; your druggist has it or he can get it for you; if not, send 5c. to the International Laboratories, 75 St. Antoine St. Montreal, P. Q., who make a specialty of it.

RIGHT WING BEATEN

IN EASTERN PRUSSIA

Russians Force German Army Back Towards Mazouri and Gain Other Victories

Paris, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Petrograd says that the following Russian official statement was issued to-day: "In Eastern Prussia the right wing of the enemy, which has been stubbornly resisting in the region of Lyck, has been driven back toward Mazouri."

"East of Neidenburg (24 miles south of Konigsberg) near the Muschaken railroad station a Russian cavalry force defeated a German detachment which was protecting the railroad. The Russians captured a train and blew up the railroad bridges.

"On Nov. 8, Russian cavalry, meeting a cavalry division of the enemy, forced it to retire towards Kalisz. "On the route leading to Cracow we have attained Mirchow (a town 44 miles southwest of Kielce). "In Galicia our troops have traversed the river Wisloka. They now occupy Rzeszow, Dynow and Lisko."

"Dispatches received from Czernowitza, capital of the crown land of Bukovina, declare that, with the exception of a garrison of reservists of the oldest levy, no Austrian troops are left there.

The engagements recently have, for the most part, been trivial encounters between individual columns. Only at Kolomena are the Austrians seriously disputing the Russian advance.

BELGIAN VIOLINIST ESCAPED TO LONDON

Ysaie Lost His Manuscripts; Has Three Sons in the Army.

Geneva, Nov. 11.—Eugene Ysaie, the Belgian violinist, writes describing his escape to London with his wife, his elder daughter and his son Gabriel from Zoute, a Belgian summer resort near the Dutch frontier.

They fled to Ysend as the Germans approached after the capture of Antwerp. Unable to find places on a steamer for England they persuaded the skipper of a fishing boat to take them to Dunkirk. The boat had a passenger without food, the little party begged the night in fear of floating mines. They succeeded in reaching London three days later. All their baggage was lost, notably a box containing all the manuscripts of the violinist's compositions.

Gabri, the son, has since rejoined the Belgian cavalry. Two other sons are fighting in the French army. M. Ysaie has "no news" of his daughter, the Baroness Coppens, whose health prevented her from accompanying her father and mother.

BRITISH CRUISERS ARE AFTER GERMAN FLEET

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 10.—The British cruisers Carnarvon and Defence arrived here to-day, accompanied by the transport Orana.

The armored cruiser Defence is a 1909 ship of 14,000 tons, armed with four 8.2-inch guns, ten 7.5-inch, and sixteen 12-pounders. She has a speed of 23.5 knots and a crew of 755. The Carnarvon is a 10,850-ton armored cruiser carrying four 7.5-inch guns, six 4-inch and twenty 3-pounders. She has a speed of 23.3 knots and a crew of 655. She is somewhat older than the Defence, being completed in 1906.

The Defence and the Carnarvon will provide the Scharnhorst and Guesenau with an excellent argument, the Defence being superior to both vessels in the matter of armament, faster than the Scharnhorst, and only three-tenths of a knot slower than the Guesenau. The Carnarvon is faster than the Scharnhorst and half a knot slower than the bigger German. The Germans are armed with 8.2-inch guns, the heavier guns of the Carnarvon being 7.5-inch. The 8.2-inch guns of the Defence, however, well outrange the German weapons.

EIGHT HUNDRED HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 10.—The 800 horses on board the British steamship Rembrandt were burned to death when the ship took fire off the Virginia capes yesterday, according to information received. The Rembrandt was bound from Baltimore to St. Nazaire, France, and the animals are reported to have been bought for the allied armies.

When the fire was discovered the ship was two hundred miles off the capes. The smoke was so dense that the crew could not reach the flames, and the stampeded animals were left to their fate. The ship's hold was flooded and the hatches closed, smothering out the fire.

AMERICANS IN TURKEY NOT INTERFERED WITH

Washington, Nov. 10.—Americans in Turkey have not been molested in any way since the outbreak of the war, and are in no danger, Ambassador Morgenthau reported to-day.

The Turkish minister of war informed Mr. Morgenthau that Turkey was anxious to conduct the war with every possible consideration and courtesy to non-combatants, but that if Britain and Greece attacked any unfortified towns, reprisals would follow in the detention of their subjects.

DUTCH ACCUSE GERMANS ATROCITIES CHARGED

Bordeaux, Nov. 11.—A report has been received here to the effect that Dutch soldiers near the frontier bear out charges of atrocities against the Germans in Belgium.

Three battalions of a Dutch regiment stationed in the province of Limbourg are said to have forwarded an address to the German legation at The Hague begging the German minister to the Netherlands to inform the Kaiser that they are able personally to testify through their position on the frontier, to atrocities by German troops. They add that indignation is profound as a result of these acts and that the Dutch army is ready when opportunity offers to avenge their Belgian brethren and to defend to the last extremity Dutch soil if it is invaded.

CHARLES LODY GUILTY OF ESPIONAGE IS SHOT

London, Nov. 10.—It is announced officially that Charles Lody, alias Chas. Inglis, who was found guilty by a court-martial of espionage, on November 2, has been shot as a spy. When arrested Lody claimed to be an American, but later confessed that he was a German. He had lived in New York and Omaha.

Lody met his death in the Tower of London after having been found guilty by a court-martial on charges of having communicated with the enemy. The statement announcing the execution was brief, merely saying: "Sentence was duly carried out."

TURKEY DEPRESSED HAS HAD ENOUGH OF WAR

London, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from Athens to the Post says "According to dispatches received here, Turkey is much depressed by the damage already inflicted by the Russians, and by the unpromising situation. She is already repenting her rash adventure and may refrain from further military action."

"The general Balkan situation is still obscure, with Bulgaria as the key to the situation. No decision as yet known as to the proposed Balkan understanding, which it is admitted, in well-informed circles, is on the verge of conclusion."

HUNGARY SEEKS TO WIN SUPPORT OF ROUMANIA

Venice, via Paris, Nov. 10.—It is stated here that Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier, has addressed letters to the Greek, Oriental and Rumanian archbishops promising political concessions to the Rumanians in Austria in return for Rumania's aid. Among the concessions said to have been promised are complete amnesty for all political offenders, permission to use and display the Rumanian colors, a revision of the franchise which will assure to Rumanians adequate representation in elective bodies and in parliament and a reform of the school laws.

DEATH ANNOUNCED OF AUTHOR OF "THE WHIP"

London, Nov. 10.—Cecil Raleigh, the dramatic author, died to-day.

Cecil Raleigh, the name assumed on joining the theatrical profession in 1880, was the son of Dr. J. E. Rowlands, and was born in 1856, and for a time he was dramatic critic for Vanity Fair and Sporting Times. He was a prolific playwright and collaborated with the late Sir A. Harris and Henry Hamilton in Drury Lane melodramas, beginning with the Derby Winner. One of his best known plays is "The Whip," which he wrote in 1908.

BELGIANS AT ANTWERP IN DEPLORABLE STATE

London, Nov. 11.—An Amsterdam dispatch to Reuters says: "Dutchmen returning from Antwerp report that the distress there is great and that the depots of the American committee for the relief of the Belgians are besieged from 8 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock the next morning by a multitude of starving Belgians."

"A fire occurred Monday in the railway station at Antwerp, destroying 40 wagons with provisions and fodder."

WILSON LIKES ACTION BETTER THAN TALKING

Washington, Nov. 10.—Commenting on last week's elections, President Wilson said to-day that he was more interested in action than in talk, and hoped his best comment would be the actions of the administration during the next two years. Mr. Wilson added that the Democrats were still in control of the government, and that was the main facts to be seen in the results.

TURKS INTO BATTLE

White Paper Issued in London Says Grand Vizier Appeared Peaceful

London, Nov. 10.—The diplomatic correspondence from the British embassy at Constantinople relating to the events leading to the war with Turkey was issued tonight in the form of a white paper. The correspondence which begins August 5 and closes November 4, portrays the grand vizier as ostensibly striving to maintain the neutrality of Turkey but proving no match for his war minister, Enver Bey, who backed by Germany was determined to force Turkey into a war against the allies.

The detection by the British government of the two battleships building for Turkey in England provided Turkey at the outset, according to the white paper, with a grievance, but this soon assumed minor importance compared with the cruisers Goben and Breslau, with their German crews. The grand vizier, according to a dispatch from the British embassy at Constantinople, dated August 16, admitted that Germany was doing her utmost to compromise the Turkish government, but gave solemn assurances that Turkey's neutrality would be maintained. This assurance was frequently repeated and so impressed the British ambassador, Sir Louis Mallet, that he wrote to Sir Edward Grey that he was convinced of the grand vizier's absolute sincerity.

The grand vizier pleaded for more time in which to get rid of the German crews of the Goben and Breslau, and explained that the mobilization of Turkey was due to the necessity of avoiding being surprised by Bulgaria, but as stated in another dispatch from the ambassador, Enver Bey had got entirely out of hand and, continued the ambassador, "I gather that he alone is responsible for the present situation."

The situation as told in the correspondence rapidly became more critical with Enver Bey virtually in control. Turkey's preparations for hostilities became more open and her breaches of neutrality more glaring.

All the while the grand vizier protested his deep regret at the course of affairs and still declared he would do his utmost to maintain peace.

INDIANS ARE VICTIMS OF GERMAN TRICKERY

Enemy Given Instructions to Make the Fighting as Hot as Possible

London, Nov. 10.—The Indian forces in France have made good, but have achieved none of the extraordinary exploits attributed to them according to a statement issued by the official press bureau tonight under date of November 10, and written by an observer with the Indian corps.

Above all, the account emphasizes the difficulties under which the Indians are fighting because of their ignorance of French, German and English. Repeatedly the Germans have played tricks on them.

"The Germans are full of resources," says the account, "and it is one of their favorite plans to lure the allied troops into attacking them by various devices, of which an indicated intention of surrendering is the most common. If this deception is successful, a skilfully concealed machine gun turns a murderous fire upon those who have advanced either to attack or to accept surrender."

"The audacity of the enemy cannot better be illustrated than by statement of what took place last night in a trench held by a Gurkha regiment.

"A figure illuminated by the moonlight and wearing the complete Gurkha uniform, approached the edge of the trench and delivered this message: 'The Gurkhas are to move further up the trench; another Gurkha regiment is advancing in support.'"

"Puzzled by this announcement, the officer in command replied: 'Who are you? Why do you come from?' To which the only answer was: 'You are to move up and make room for other Gurkhas.'"

"The English was good, but something excited the officers' suspicions. 'Answer and answer quickly,' he said. 'If you are a Gurkha, by what ship did you cross?'"

"This question, under the circumstances was no easy one to answer, and the German—for such he was—turned and fled. But he had not gone five yards before he fell, riddled with bullets.

"If the officer had been deceived, the trench would have swarmed with Germans almost before the Gurkhas had made room for them. It can readily be imagined that under such conditions the Indian troops engage the enemy in circumstances of special difficulty. They are in a strange country, their training and instincts have accustomed them to quite different conditions. It is easy to distinguish between French and German soldiers in the day time, but it is not easy in the dark."

"The Gurkhas understand no language but their own, and few others understand that. Their stragglers are exposed to difficulties, in the way of rejoining their regiments, which it is almost impossible to exaggerate; nor must it be forgotten that the intentions expressed with reference to the forces under command of Field Marshal Sir John French, embraced to an equal degree the army corps composed of our Indian fellow subjects.

"Letters found upon wounded men and prisoners make it clear that the German military authorities have specially charged the troops with the task of inflicting the severest possible punishment upon the forces whose civilization they deny and whose soldierly qualities they disparage.

"Under these circumstances, it is a matter of great satisfaction that the Indian troops have so finely fulfilled the high expectations which were formed of them. A word of caution, however, should be uttered with regard to the amazing adventures and exploits attributed to them, recommendations desired by neither officers nor men.

"It need hardly be said, that the example of the British officers, who have undergone precisely the same hardships as the men, has been worthy of the highest and men Great Britain has paid, and is paying, and will continue to pay, a cruel and constant price for the liberties of Europe and her own existence as a world-wide power."

UNITED STATES BUILDS SIX LARGE DESTROYERS

Washington, Nov. 10.—Bids for the construction of six giant destroyers for the largest fleet ever designed for the American navy, were submitted for opening to-day at the navy department. Military characteristics not embodied in destroyers of the previous class have been planned for the new vessels, and by increasing their displacement twenty tons they will be enabled to carry four additional torpedo tubes and two anti-balloon guns.

German Commander at Tsing Tau Says He Was Permitted to Capitulate.

New York, Nov. 11.—The East & West News Bureau to-day made public the following cablegram from Tokio: "Permitted to capitulate, instead of surrendering unconditionally, the former governor of Tsing Tau and his officers were, in compliance with the gracious wish of the Japanese emperor, allowed to wear their swords and maintain soldiers honor. Captain Meyer Waldeck said: 'Four or five days prior to the surrender of the fortress the wireless station was destroyed, making it impossible any longer to communicate with Peking. The successful storming of Bismarck fortress by the attacking soldiers, who recklessly hurled themselves at us by making human bullets of their bodies, sealed the fate of Tsing Tau. It then became evident that the garrison could no longer hold itself against the shelling of heavy artillery. To have done so would have swelled the list of casualties and nothing would have

THE WAR.

The official Petrograd bulletin issued last night reports very decided Russian gains in East Prussia and Galicia. The Germans have been driven from Lyck, in the southeast corner of the province, into the Mazure Lake region.

In Galicia the German-Austrian armies which had established themselves on the lower San are retreating towards Cracow. To cut them off the Russians have reached a point in Poland forty miles southwest of Kielce and less than twenty miles from Cracow.

All reports agree that Germany is sending reinforcements from the west to the east, but their progress probably have been taken by newly-trained recruits from the German military centres.

RUSSIA AND CONSTANTINOPLE. Turkey is reported to be tired of the war. Her treasury is empty, for the million German sent to her was but a drop in the bucket.

NOT A NEW EXPERIENCE. The celerity with which France grasped the stern realities has surprised those who regarded Paris as an epitome of the republic.

PASSAGES FROM THE POETS. Oft in the passing of my daily round, Considering the strange perversity of things, I hear the dissonance of jarring strings.

Balkan war, and if Russia consented to Bulgaria's possession of Adrianople, towards which every Bulgarian eye is yearningly turned.

ALIENS AND EMPLOYMENT.

The city council is endeavoring to obtain relief from the provincial government in the problem of dealing with alien enemies within the municipality.

This is a subject that should be dealt with by the Canadian government connected with the war, it falls within the scope of the national authorities.

In Germany British subjects have been rounded up like so many cattle and concentrated under conditions little better, if any, than those present in a corral.

LATEST THREAT AGAINST BELGIUM. The cultured myrmidons of the Kaiser backed their way into Belgium, slaughtering the inhabitants regardless of age or sex.

Again comes the report that Germany has made preliminary peace overtures to Russia. But Russia is thoroughly roused now and has attained such momentum that she will not stop until she rolls upon Berlin.

nize, if she had been permitted to kick the Turks back to Asia and occupied the place sixty years ago. Besides, it no longer holds the strategic value that was once attached to it.

Russia was determined to gain a port on the open sea in any event. As she could not obtain clear access to the Mediterranean, she schemed and intrigued to reach the Persian Gulf.

Moreover, Russia is entitled to a supreme reward for her services in this struggle. She entered the war, as Great Britain did, in defence of the liberty of a small state.

Great Britain never has plumbed the grim terrors of war as France has. Since the time of the Great Revolution she has not been convulsed with the tremors of destructive conflict upon her own soil.

The following Ottawa dispatch appeared in a Hamilton contemporary: "The naval victory of the Germans on the South Pacific coast is not without causing some elements of apprehension at Ottawa, and steps are being taken to immediately strengthen the British Columbia coast defences."

The writer of the dispatch has been misinformed. The waters adjacent to our ports have not been moved, and they shall not be moved by us, at any rate, no matter what may come.

On Sunday a "Victoria paper" printed two letters which appeared in the Times on the subject of the Premier's trip to England. It said the letters were excellent (probably after their kind) and represented the sentiments of the "whole" community.

France, cradled in the field, is naturally more of a military nation than Germany. The German soldier is a soldier by training, a product manufactured on the mistaken theory that militarism is the cornerstone of national greatness and achievement.

I have a vision of a painless land, Uplifted high above the assailing seas, A land of truth and love and gracious ease.

To Increase Use.—The British Columbia Manufacturers' association is organizing a campaign to increase the use of British Columbia-made goods, and Victoria will be asked shortly to join the movement. The Made-in-Victoria exhibition has stimulated a desire for locally manufactured articles.

Information About Dairying.—The progress made in dairying in the Dominion during the year is summed up in a bulletin lately issued by the department of agriculture at Ottawa, dealing with the fiscal year ending on March 31 last. It contains much useful information on methods, the export trade, extension of markets, storage of products, shipping of fruit and cognate matters.

American Society.—The American society held its weekly meeting at the Dominion hotel last night. Arrangements were perfected for holding a dance at the Alexandra club on Nov. 25, the eve of the American Thanksgiving day, and a committee is working for a permanent hall for meeting purposes. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 17, at the Dominion hotel parlors.

Allotment of Stalls.—At the meeting of the civic market committee yesterday afternoon the allotment of the stalls in the market was made by ballot. Fifty cents is being charged for a stall, and 25 cents for a table in the market building. There will be 52 stalls, and the proceeds therefrom will be devoted to paying HERBULET and other necessary bills. The market building will be occupied next Friday.

Lost a Memento.—James W. Bland, usher of the supreme court, is lamenting the loss of a fountain pen which was a memento of one of the former judges of that court. He missed it on Monday afternoon about 1 o'clock on the walk in front of the parliament building, between the main entrance and the printing bureau wing. If it has been found he would be glad if the finder would leave it with the elevator attendant at the court house.

Centennial Revival Services.—Rev. Dr. Scott preached last evening at the Centennial Methodist church in connection with the fortnight's services being held at that place, the text on which he based his address being Romans 11:17-18. The sermon dwelt particularly on the assurance of faith in the Christian, and the address was well received. Those who were really the Children of God, Miss Heatrice Palmer was the soloist. Rev. John Robson, of Belmont Avenue Methodist church, will be the speaker this evening, and Mr. Sedgeman will be the soloist.

A Narrow Escape.—An instance of the risks that some motorists will run to save a second or two of time was given on Fort street yesterday afternoon, at the intersection of Quadra street, when a light car was turned over on the wrong side of the street and the attempt made to get on the proper side of Fort street before a Fowl Bay car going eastward had cut off the opening. If it had not been for the motorist's shutting off the power and applying his brakes as soon as he saw the car there would have been a bad accident. As it was, the motorist only skinned through "by the skin of his teeth."

Presented Portrait.—A deputation from the Victoria Lodge of the I. O. G. T. waited on Monday upon the chairman of the committee of the Comnaught Seaman's Institute, F. A. McDiarmid, and presented a portrait of the late J. S. Bailey, to be hung in the institute. The deputation which made the presentation on behalf of the lodge consisted of W. Spry, chief temple, Mr. Paringer, secretary, and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey. The inscription on the frame was as follows: "Presented by the Victoria Lodge of the I. O. G. T. in loving remembrance of its first chaplain, Bro. J. S. Bailey, missionary of the British and Foreign Sailors' society, London, Eng."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, November 11, 1889.

The point in Hare channel at which the Amphion grounded with the vice-regal party aboard is well known to people who were connected with the telegraph system when the cable connecting Vancouver Island with the continent was laid under the water near that point. There was constant trouble with the cable on account of the rapid current and the uneven character of the bottom.

Mr. George Young, inspector of customs for Manitoba, has rented the residence occupied by Rev. J. W. Wadman, Rock Bay, and will reside in Victoria till next summer. He distinguished himself in the 1861 rebellion by capturing the rebel leader and handing him over to the authorities.

On Friday the five trustees appointed at the previous meeting to incorporate the B. C. Agricultural Society secured legal assistance and proceeded with the work, with the result that on Saturday the society was incorporated.

MEETINGS

Dance This Evening.—A dance will be held to-night at Semple's hall, Victoria West.

St. John's W. A.—The regular meeting of St. John's Women's Auxiliary will take place next Tuesday afternoon.

Special Services.—On Sunday night Rev. J. G. Inkster, continuing his series of practical sermons, will preach on "The Soul's Cry for God, or Man's Need of Religion."

Will Commence Retreat.—This evening at 7.30 a retreat, conducted by a Franciscan father, will commence in St. Andrew's cathedral, View street. Tertiary members and all others are cordially invited to attend.

St. John's "At Home."—Tomorrow evening St. John's parish "At Home" will be held in the schoolroom of the church, when the hostesses will be the Women's Auxiliary and Ladies' Guild of St. John's. The choir will be present, and will furnish several musical selections, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Superintendents' Union.—The monthly meeting of the Sunday School Superintendents' union will be held in the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 8. The general secretary, Rev. J. W. Wilson, will be present, and desires to meet members of the union to discuss with them the question of taking up a S. S. teacher training class.

Annual Sale.—The ladies of the Psychic Research Society will hold their annual sale of work at the A. O. F. hall, 1415 Broad street, tomorrow from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday for public sale. The sale will be for public sale, and will include several musical selections, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Essex People's Social.—On Wednesday evening, November 18, commencing at 8, there will be a social rally of all Essex people in the city and surrounding district. It is hoped by the committee in charge of the event that there will be a very successful gathering, further particulars in connection with which may be obtained from Mr. Crawshaw, telephone 2623, box 322, Y. M. C. A.

Bazaar and Supper.—The Mary and Martha Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold their annual bazaar and supper on the afternoon and evening of next Thursday. A large and varied array of needlework will be offered for sale by the ladies. A fairy tale will delight the little folks, and prize contests will be held. Afternoon teas will be served from 2 to 5 and supper from 5 to 8. There will be music in the evening.

Week of Special Services.—The session of the First Presbyterian church has completed arrangements for a week of special services to be held prior to the next communion. The special services will be held on Sunday, December 6, and will continue throughout the week. Rev. John McKay, of Vancouver, has kindly consented to come over and preach on the opening day, December 6, and will take entire charge of the services during the remainder of the week. Mr. Charlesworth, the organist, has undertaken to look after the musical arrangements, and a number of special soloists will assist.

Patriotic Concert.—Some of the best talent in Victoria district has been secured for the big patriotic concert at Saanichton next Friday night, and on the programme will be the names of a number of old favorites who have been in the past. They will include Mrs. W. E. Steneland, Mrs. Lewis Hall, Robert Morrison, Jack Melville, M. L. Harby and J. G. Brown. Professor Plover's mandolin orchestra will also give selections, and a most varied and pleasing bill of musical fare has been arranged. Hon. D. M. Fergus will act as chairman for the occasion.

"Fair of the Allies."—The Ladies' Guild of St. John's church is busy with the preparations for the "Fair of the Allies," which is to be held under its auspices on the afternoon and evening of December 8, and in the afternoon of December 9, at the A. O. U. W. hall, Yates street. There will be stalls containing all manner of attractive articles for sale, and Britain and her allies, France, Russia and Japan, will be represented by girls in the costumes of those countries. Canada and the other overseas Dominions will also be represented, and little Belgium will be an important figure.

Ladies' Musical Club.—The Ladies' Musical Club, which at the opening of its season decided on holding its non-professional concerts on the second Thursday of each month, will have the first in the regular series on Thursday evening, November 12, in the Alexandra hall, commencing at 8.30. The artists who have kindly volunteered their services for the evening will provide an excellent entertainment, among those who are to take part being W. G. Quirk, now well-known in the city as a vocalist of distinction; Miss Phyllis Clayton, a pianist who has not previously been heard here; Mrs. R. B. Bennett, a vocalist; Miss A. comparative stranger; and Mrs. Warrim, whose gifts as a violinist need no advertisement.

"Don't flinch, don't foul, buck the line hard, don't be a mollycoddle." This old-time appeal of a famous American is good advice to business men in these times. Business is no game for weaklings. This is the time to go after business and go after it hard. This is the time to produce, to sell—TO ADVERTISE. Across the line is a goal—the goal of good times, of prosperity, of the best business America has known in a generation. Let us paraphrase that quotation and make it real. Go after business, don't falter, advertise—don't be a mollycoddle.

On Both Monday and Tuesday evening of this week members of the congregation of St. Columba church and their friends have met in large numbers at the handsome new edifice which was thrown open to the public for public worship for the first time. On Monday evening Rev. E. A. Henry, B. A., of Vancouver, delivered his very fascinating lecture on "A Trip to Australia and Back, or a Life on the Ocean Wave," illustrated with views which he took on the trip, the story was most graphic, and delighted the audience. Mr. Henry introduced many delightful little reminiscences which were evidence of his powers of observation both where man and nature were concerned, and several of his character sketches of people on the ship were particularly sympathetic and humorous. Rev. R. A. Macconnell presided in the chair.

Last evening there was a "church warming," when many of the ministers from other churches in the city were present on the platform with Rev. R. A. Macconnell, the pastor of St. Columba. Among those who spoke were Rev. Dr. Clay, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church which "mothered" the church through its mission period; Rev. Dr. W. H. MacLellan; Rev. Joseph McCoy, one-time minister of St. Columba; Rev. Dr. Campbell, chaplain of the 59th Highland regiment; Rev. J. G. Inkster, pastor of First Presbyterian church; Rev. Mr. Pamment, Rev. William Stevenson, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist church, and William Henderson, architect for the new church of St. Columba, who spoke briefly to the meeting in response to a special invitation given from the chair. Mr. Headache opened the proceedings with an organ voluntary.

All the speakers referred in congratulatory manner to the accomplishment and enterprise of the congregation of St. Columba church in undertaking the building of the new edifice, while, in practically every instance, special reference was made to the beauty of the structure, and the excellence of the appointments. At the conclusion of the more formal part of the programme during which the various visiting ministers addressed the gathering, the congregation repaired to the social parlors of the church, where the ladies served delicious refreshments, and a short musical programme added to the pleasure of the occasion. Among those who assisted in the latter were Robert Burns and Mrs. Hinton, each of whom sang much appreciated solos, and Mrs. Locke and Miss Gravlin, who played an instrumental duet.

The dedicational services are to be continued throughout the next fortnight, part of the special series of meetings being that of the Women's Missionary society, which was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Mrs. H. E. Young spoke on the subject of Home Missions. Next Sunday Rev. R. G. MacBeth, M. A., will take charge of both services.

NURSERY IMPORTATIONS. Federal Department of Agriculture Issues a Pamphlet Containing the Regulations in Force.

Everyone importing trees, shrubs and other plants, collectively known as "nursery stock," into Canada is required to observe the regulations of the Dominion department of agriculture which govern such importations. These regulations, passed under the destructive insect and pest act, prescribe the conditions under which plants may be imported. Special conditions are attached to certain classes of plants, some being subject to inspection and others to fumigation. The prohibited importations include coniferous trees and decorative plants from the New England states, plants and non-canned fruit or other vegetation from the Hawaiian islands,

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this to-night, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustreous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

GERMAN TREATMENT OF HELPLESS LAND

Details of the Sacking and Burning of Belgian Towns; Cruelty to Inhabitants

OFFICERS LED IN WORK OF RUTHLESS PILLAGE

Consul W. S. Terry Receives Copies of Reports Made by Commission of Inquiry

Copies of a series of reports by the commission of inquiry into the violation of the laws of nations and of the rules and customs of war, appointed by the government of Belgium, have been received by W. S. Terry, consul for the kingdom of Belgium in this city. In considerable part the findings of the commission have been given in the Times from time to time, as to the specific cases of cruelty and breach of the laws of war. In addition to this the commission, which made a very careful investigation of the conditions in several of the cities and towns, as well as in the country districts, reports its conclusions in general on what it has seen and learned. After the first and second reports the commissioners sum up thus:

"In this war occupation of territory is systematically followed, and sometimes preceded and accompanied, by acts of violence against the civil population, which are equally contrary to the principles of humanity. The German method of procedure is everywhere the same. They advance along the roads, shooting inoffensive passers-by, especially cyclists, and even the peasants working in the neighboring fields.

"In the settlements where they halt they commence by requisitioning food and liquors, which they then drink until intoxicated. Sometimes they shoot at random from the interior of empty houses, and declare to the inhabitants that they will commence scenes of incendiarism, of murder and, above all, of pillage, accompanied by acts of cold cruelty, which spare neither sex nor age. Even where they pretend to know those to blame for the acts which they allege to have been committed, they do not confine themselves to executing them summarily, but profit by the excuse to decimate the population, pillage all the houses and then set fire to them.

"After a first massacre, carried out somewhat at random, they shut up the men in the church in the locality, then ordered the women to remain in their homes and to leave the doors of their dwellings open during the night. In several districts the male population has been carried off to Germany, to be forced, it would seem, to harvest the crops as in the ancient days of slavery. There are numerous cases where the inhabitants have been forced to act as guides and to make clearings and encroachments for the Germans.

"Many depositions affirm that in their marches and even in their attacks the Germans place civilians, both men and women, in the first rank to keep our soldiers from firing. Other accounts from Belgian officers and soldiers declare that German detachments are not ashamed to shelter under the white flag or the Red Cross, in order to get near our troops without suspicion. On the other hand, they fire on field hospitals and ill-treat our men attached to them. They ill-treat, and even kill, our wounded. The members of the clergy seem to be the special object of their attacks. Finally, we have in our possession expanding bullets, abandoned by the enemy at Werhier, and we possess medical certificates affirming that certain wounds must have been inflicted by bullets of this kind. The documents and evidence on which these statements are founded will be published."

A minute examination was made of the evidence as to the destruction of the towns of Aerschot, Vise, Louvain and those in the triangle formed by Vilvorde, Malines and Louvain, and the claims of the Germans as to the alleged provocation which was given by the civil population. On this branch of the subject the commissioners say:

"The Germans, to excuse their crimes, pretend that wherever they have shot down, burned or pillaged they have done so because the inhabitants have offered armed resistance. That this may have happened at isolated points is nothing more than has happened in all wars, and if they had confined themselves to punishing the authors of such attacks to death, we could only bow before the rigor of military law. But in no case can these individual aggressions, which have remained quite exceptional, justify the general measures of repression laid upon the people of our towns and villages in their persons and in their goods, the shooting, burning and pillaging which have been carried on in almost all parts of our territory, not even under the form of reprisals but with refinements of cruelty.

"Moreover, no provocation has been proved to have been given at Vise, at Marsage, at Louvain, at Wavre and in still other localities which have been the objects of total destruction, carried out in cold blood many days after occupation, to say nothing of the systematic burning of isolated houses along the line of march and the shooting down of the unfortunate inhabitants while in flight.

"The Germans have pretended in their journals that the Belgian government had distributed to the people arms to be used against the invaders of their territory. They add that the Catholic clergy had preached a sort of holy war and had incited their flocks everywhere to massacre the Germans. Finally, they have claimed, to justify the massacre of women, that they had shown themselves no less bitter than the men, going so far as to pour boiling oil from the windows on the troops marching by.

"As many lies as there are allegations. Far from having caused a distribution of arms, the authorities, at the approach of the enemy, desisted from their charge against acts of violence that would lead to reprisals. The clergy have not resorted to exhort their flocks to be calm. As to the women, with the exception of a story, from a doubtful source, appearing in a foreign journal, they had no other thought than to escape the horrors of a merciless war.

"The true motives of the atrocities of which we have collected the moving testimony can be nothing else than, on the one hand, the desire to terrorize and demoralize the people, conformably to the inhumane theories of German military writers, and, on the other hand, the desire to pillage. A shot fired, one knows not whence, nor by whom, nor against whom, by a drunken soldier or an unweary sentry, suffices as a pretext for the sack of a whole city. To individual pillage succeeds war contraband on a scale impossible to satisfy, and the carrying off of hostages who will be shot or kept prisoners until the complete payment of the ransom, according to the known custom of classic brigandage. It must be remembered that any resistance given by detachments of the regular army is soon blamed for the needs of the cause, on the inhabitants, and that the insider intends invariably to avenge himself on the civil population for the checks, or even the disappointments, met in the campaign.

"In the course of this inquiry we used only facts supported by trustworthy evidence. It should be noted that, up to the present, we have been able to call attention to only part of these crimes against law, against humanity and against civilization which will form one of the darkest and most revolting pages of the history of our time. If an international inquiry, such as that which was conducted in the Balkans by the Carnegie Commission, could only take place in our country we are convinced that it would establish the truth of our assertions."

"Chancellor Orts, one of the secretaries of the commission, was deputed to make an investigation of the conditions in the town of Aerschot as soon as the German troops left it, and he describes what he saw in a detailed report to the minister of justice. In closing this he spoke as follows of the sacking of the town:

"A description of the burnt quarters can give only a faint impression of the devastation wrought in this unhappy town, for if Aerschot has suffered from fire I am able to verify that it has been completely sacked. I entered several houses at haphazard, and went through the various landings. Everywhere the furniture is overturned, torn and soiled in the vilest possible manner, the wallpaper hangs in rags from the walls, the doors of cellars are broken open, all cupboards and drawers emptied, and linen and the most incongruous objects scattered on the floors, together with an incredible number of empty bottles. In the houses of the well-to-do the pictures have been slashed and the works of art broken. On the door of one of them, a fine large house, belonging to Dr. ... one could still read, though partly effaced, the following inscription traced in chalk: 'Bitte dieses Haus zu schonen.' (Please spare this house as the occupants are poor, old and good people.) (Signed) Barnash Wachmeister. I entered the house, which was said to have been occupied by officers, and which the solicitude of one of them seemed to have saved from the general ruin. On reaching the threshold a smell of spilt wine drew our attention to hundreds of empty and broken bottles which filled the hall, the staircases and even the yard opening on the garden.

"The rooms were in indescribable disorder. I walked on a bed of torn clothes, of pieces of wool torn from open mattresses, everywhere, open chests and in every room; by the bed, still more empty bottles. The drawing-room was full of them, dozens of wine glasses covered the table and sideboards, by which stood armchairs and sofas, whilst in a corner a piano, with stained keyboard, seemed to have been smothered by boots. All showed that the place had been, during many days and nights, the scene of the vilest debauches and drinking bouts.

"In the market place the house of No. 17 offered a similar spectacle, and, according to what a sergeant of gendarmes—who attempted with his men to restore some order from this chaos—told me, the same description applies to most of the houses belonging to good families, in which German officers made their abode. A full inquiry will establish, when the time comes, the importance of the damage done to the town and the people of Aerschot. I believe that I may affirm, even now, that the total ruin that has overtaken this laborious and peaceful population is much more due to an organized pillage than to fire, which spared certain quarters of the town.

"During three weeks the soldiers gradually plundered almost all the houses, destroying everywhere the objects which failed to satisfy their greed, while the officers kept for themselves the houses of the wealthy. All the valuables which the owners had not time to put in safety, plate, family jewels and money, have disappeared, and the people declare that the fire had no other object than to hide the traces of some particular theft. Full wagon loads of booty left Aerschot in the direction of the Meuse.

"As for the calamity which befel this defenceless town, it originated, according to the German military authorities, in the murder of an officer who was immediately shot. This fact remains, however, to be proved, as it has not been possible to find anyone in Aerschot who admits the culpability of Tiedeman's son. It is enough to bear in mind at present that by the invader's own admission Aerschot's destruction has been the result of deliberate decision. In the eyes of the German commander, the massacre of an indefinite number of innocent people, the transportation of several hundreds of others, the savage treatment inflicted on old men, women and children, the ruin of so many families, the burning and the sacking of a town of eight thousand souls, constitute justifiable reprisals for the act of a single individual."

Wrinkles Disappear As If by Magic

"In the removal of wrinkles, I have discarded cosmetic dainties," writes beauty expert. "The results they produce are deceptive and never permanent. Massage is only a partially successful and it is too slow a method. I've never seen anything work such wonders as a simple, harmless solution any woman can prepare and use at home without the least trouble. A half pint of which hazel and an ounce of good powdered soap are the only ingredients. Mix the two and apply this refreshing solution to your face daily. The effect is marvellous and instantaneous. The skin becomes firmer, freckles, wrinkles and sag are defeated. You feel so refreshed after using the wash, you look refreshed, younger, and look ten years younger."—Society World.

A youth of the "nut" species was exhibiting some photographs to a charming society girl, with whom he was very much in love. "This one," he said, handing her a picture, "is my photo, with my two French boyfriends. Can you recognize me?" "Why, yes! I think so," replied the young woman, looking intently at the picture. "You are the one with the hat on, are you not?"

CALCHAS' CREW GLAD TO OPERATE FASTEST U. S. BOAT ON SOUND

Blue Funnel Liner Held at Colombo Five Days Owing to Raid of German Cruiser

Every man-jack on board the Blue Funnel steamship Calchas, Capt. R. T. Jones, heaved a sigh of relief and delight this morning when the news was announced to them that the mischievous career of the German cruiser Emden had been ended. The big vessel docked at 9 o'clock after an eventful voyage from Liverpool and Far Eastern ports, and officers and seamen alike, clamored for the latest news from the various seats of military and naval activity. They had been at sea and out of touch with the world for 16 days, during which time a great deal had transpired. The news of the naval engagement off Ceylon was the cause of general regret, but everyone was glad to hear that Emden, as a menace to the seaman, is no more.

For five days the Calchas was tied up at Colombo, Ceylon. The owners took this precaution owing to the numerous raids made on British shipping by the Emden. When the Blue Funnel ship reached Colombo, one of the Emden's exploits had just been published and as she had been operating in waters through which the Calchas had to steam, it was considered advisable to hold the ship in port. Finally the Blue Funnel steamship was permitted to sail, but a few days afterwards, it was later learned, the owners tried to call the ship back to Colombo, as another of the Emden's raids had been reported. However, the Calchas completed the run to Singapore without mishap. Her captain took every precaution to elude capture. The ship steamed at night with all lights out, and she deviated from the regular track of shipping.

Fair Weather Coming Out. Capt. Jones said this morning that the Calchas had fairly good weather on the voyage from Liverpool. She did not sight any warships on the run, but the officers were continually on the alert for the cunning German cruisers. The Calchas was pressed into the service following the requisitioning of the steamship Bellerophon for transport duties. She was several days late in clearing the Mersey, and as she is slower than the regular Blue Funnel ships which come here, she lost a lot of time. She was nearly three weeks late in reaching Victoria.

Crossing the Pacific the Calchas encountered disagreeable weather. Strong southeast gales with very heavy rain assailed the ship, and at times the weather was very misty. It is reported that fire was discovered in the starboard bunkers of the ship on the way across the pond, but the officers refused to say anything about such a matter.

The Calchas brought in a very heavy cargo of general merchandise, and is to discharge a shipment here. She has some silk for New York, which will be discharged on the Sound.

A good list of Chinese passengers arrived on the steamship. Two hundred and sixty-four Asiatics disembarked at this port, and 50 are going through to Seattle.

ICEBERGS IN LYNN CANAL. Seattle, Nov. 11.—Numerous icebergs, dangerous to navigation, were sighted by the City of Seattle Nov. 11 between Leber Point and Outer Point, Lynn Canal.

Puget Sound Navigation Co. Planning to Build 24-Knot Ferry Steamer in Spring

Seattle, Nov. 11.—Negotiations preliminary to the construction of the fastest steamer under the American flag for the Seattle-Tacoma route of the Puget Sound Navigation company were opened by the Joshua Green corporation with the Seattle Construction & Dry Dock company and other ship-building plants yesterday. The navigation company expects to let the contract for the new greyhound early in the spring. The company's plans call for the construction of a geared-turbine, twenty-four-knot passenger carrier of the most modern equipment and accommodations.

ANOTHER SAILER WHICH WILL CARRY GRAIN TO THE MOTHERLAND

BARQUE POTALLOCH

The big four-master has been chartered to load a cargo of grain at Portland for the United Kingdom. She is now enroute from Newcastle, N. S. W., in ballast. The Poltalloch is well known in Victoria, having loaded a cargo of lumber at the Canadian-Puget Sound mills two years ago and having rode at anchor in the Royal Roads on different occasions. Capt. Armstrong is master of the barque.

Other ship when the Calchas returned to Liverpool just previous to being ordered to load for Victoria and Puget Sound.

Captured By Russians. On her last outward voyage from Victoria she had an interesting time. The vessel carried contraband of war and the owners were a little dubious about dispatching the ship for the Orient, but finally Capt. Hannah, who was the ship's master then, was ordered to make the trip.

Both the Puget Sound Navigation company and the Port Angeles Transportation company are preparing to put into effect the new rates established by the state-public-service commission. As a result of requests filed by both companies, the commission held a hearing at which the question of fair rates was thoroughly investigated.

The passenger rate between Seattle and Port Angeles is fixed at $1.50 for one way and $2.50 for the round trip by an order issued by the commission yesterday, with corresponding reductions to the intermediate points on the route.

Port Townsend, Port Williams and Dungeness—and also to points beyond Port Angeles.—The reduction averages about 25 per cent.

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE

Nov. 10. Portland, Ore.—Arrived: Str. Den of Aerie, London via Seattle; stevedocked. Range, Esquimalt; between Seattle and Port Angeles is fixed at $1.50 for one way and $2.50 for the round trip by an order issued by the commission yesterday, with corresponding reductions to the intermediate points on the route.

ROBERTSON ON MAQUINNA. Captain Douglas Robertson, formerly master of the C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia, has taken command of the C. P. R. steamer Princess Maquinna, which is now on the Granby Bay run.

MADE BOTH RUNS TO COAST IN WAR TIME

Calchas Was Seized by Russians on Outward Trip Eleven Years Ago

By a strange coincidence the two trips which the Blue Funnel liner Calchas has made to Victoria from the United Kingdom have been during the progress of a war in some part of the globe. Shipping men recall the first visit of the Calchas to this port about eleven years ago, when the Russian and Japanese empires were in the throes of a great struggle. And now on her second visit nearly the whole of Europe, together with Japan, is engaged in the world's greatest contest.

FIRST OF RUSSIAN FLEET IS ON COAST

Novgorod Called at William Head To-day; Inaugurates Service From Vladivostok

First of the Russian volunteer liners to come to this coast, the Novgorod, Capt. Kostromitinov, called at William Head at daylight this morning and after obtaining her pratique took on a pilot and proceeded to Vancouver. Owing to the fact that the cargo consigned to Victoria was very small the ship was ordered to omit the call here and the freight will be forwarded in a C. P. R. steamer. The Novgorod is inaugurating a service for the Russian Volunteer Steamship company between Vladivostok, Japan and North Pacific ports.

It is expected that Victoria will be included in the ports of call of the Russian volunteer fleet before long. As soon as the line becomes well advertised the steamships will receive heavy cargoes on their inward trips. The Novgorod had but a light cargo for coast ports, but this is looked upon as quite satisfactory when it is considered that this is the maiden voyage.

Is Fine Looking Ship. Victoria pilots who were at William Head this morning waiting for the Blue Funnel steamship, Calchas, and the steam schooner, Wilmington, had a look at the Novgorod and say that she is a very fine vessel. The Russian volunteer fleet is made up of some of the finest ships afloat on the Pacific. The officials of this company intend to play for the passenger business as well as the freight trade. Business men on this continent have long wished for direct communication with Vladivostok and following the enterprise of the Russian volunteer company it is anticipated that an excellent trade will be worked up.

The famous Russian steamship company has confined its operations up till now to the Orient. It will prove a strong competitor in the trans-Pacific trade. The entry of this fleet into the trade shows that despite the conditions wrought about by the war there is plenty of room in the trade between here and the Orient for another steamship line. The Russian volunteer company is the second ship of the fleet will be the Kiev, which will arrive from the East about the middle of next month. Halford, Guthrie & Co. are acting as agents on the Pacific coast for the line.

HONOLULAN FLOATS

Astoria, Ore., Nov. 11.—After pumping the oil out of her forward tanks and with the help of a tide eight inches higher than that of Monday, the American-Hawaiian liner Honolulu was pulled off a sand bank in the Columbia river by three towsboats late yesterday. She will sail for Seattle during the day.

WILMINGTON ARRIVES

Early this morning the American steam-schooner Wilmington arrived at this port from San Francisco. She is discharging cargo at the Victoria chemical works and Brackman-Kers.

CANADA IN TO-MORROW

The Osaka liner Canada Maru, Capt. Yamamoto, will arrive in port to-morrow morning from Yokohama, and Hongkong. She has 175 tons of freight to discharge here.

ship to the Ajax, which has been here on several voyages. She would not have been sent here this trip had it not been for the scarcity of Blue Funnel ships. The owners were relieved of a number of ships by the British admiralty, and in trying to maintain all services had to bring in some of the smaller ships for the Pacific trade.

NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE OWNERS

ASK PERMISSION TO CLOSE PARKS

War May Interfere With Baseball in Northwest; Connie Mack Denies Collins Trade Stories

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 10.—Only an afternoon session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs was on the programme for today. With the question of the policy regarding organized baseball settled, the delegates were prepared to begin the routine business of the convention without being handicapped with the contentions over the possible incursion of outlaw leagues.

Representatives of Canadian leagues were on hand to present their requests for concessions. The Canadian league and the Northwestern Canada leagues are confronted with European war conditions, and have presented requests that they be permitted to close their parks next year without losing their standing. That these requests will be granted was apparently assured, numerous delegates having already expressed themselves as favoring such action.

The question of releasing the Canadian clubs from their obligations for the year was expected to come up at the afternoon session.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11.—Connie Mack yesterday put a quietus to various rumors that have been circulating concerning his Athletics. When Connie finished talking the only story of the mass of weird tales that have been spread broadcast concerning his club that stood confirmed was the report that he has asked waivers on Plank, Bender and Combs.

"The tale that I am contemplating buying the Yankees is the most ridiculous yarn I've ever heard," he said. "So far as I am concerned, there is absolutely no foundation for the fable that Collins will go to New York to manage the Yankees. I needed a second baseman for the barnstorming trip and tried to get Donnie Bush, of Detroit, to play the bag.

"At the last minute Bush turned me down. So I asked Lute Boone if he wanted to join the tourists and he accepted my offer. That's all there is to it. Boone's making that trip has absolutely no possible connection with any plans that I may have in connection with contemplated changes in my club. To say that it confirms the rumor of Collins' transfer to New York is a joke."

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 10.—The annual report of Secretary John H. Farrell, of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, says 299 cities and towns in the United States and Canada, and 1,860 players had their contracts recorded, but only 1,249 had their terms promulgated. Out of 1,933 players suspended, 319 were reinstated. The association disbursed $261,870, divided as follows:

Drafted players by National and American leagues and American association, $82,500; optional agreements, $37,500; paid for release by purchase of American association players, $167,500; returned under waiver rule, $4,400.

The list of drafted players for the coming year covers nearly every club in the association. The highest price paid is $2,500. The National league clubs secured eight players at that price and the American league one. The list includes: National league—by Chicago from San Francisco; by Boston from New York; by St. Louis from New York; by Cleveland from Seattle, Gipe; by Brooklyn from Seattle, Doh.

National association—By Portland, Ore., from Lexington, Blackwell (withdrawn); by Portland, Ore., from Paris, Phillips (withdrawn); by Portland from Muskogee, Leifvick (withdrawn); by Portland, Ore., from Texarkana, Stillman (withdrawn); by Veneta, from Des Moines, Tracy (withdrawn); by Oakland from Medicine Hat, Daniels.

BILLIARD STARS

WILL CLASH HERE

Local League Will Be Re-organized Soon; Cassignol to Visit Canada

Word has been received in the capital that Melbourne Inman and Willie Hoppe will give four exhibitions of English billiards and the balk line game when they appear here on November 24 and 25. Complete arrangements for the reception of the famous pair of cue artists have been made and their sessions at the Metropolitan building will be followed with interest. Inman is showing up much better in the American game as his tour progresses, while Hoppe is already quite an adept at the English style. Victorians are pulling for Inman in this series. He is well-known here, and on the occasion of his last visit enjoyed a fishing trip that earned a good catch.

Five clubs are ready to enter the billiard and snooker league, which will be reorganized in the capital shortly. Westholme, Broad street, Richardsons, C. & C., and St. James are all willing to enter teams for the local championship. With regard to the Burroughes and Watts trophy, Mr. Percy Richardson has written to Vancouver to find out if teams playing on the Brunswick Billie tables can compete in this series. If so, five clubs will enter, but if not, the Westholme, Broad street, and Richardson teams will play off for the trophy, a five team league being organized later, in which all the local billiard parlors will be represented.

Willie Hoppe is getting all the play he needs in his tour with Melbourne Inman, and as George Simpson is to make a tour in company with Firmin Cassignol, the veteran Frenchman, it will not be a difficult matter to pick a field of eight or ten players for the next big tournament.

Cassignol is the leading player of France, and as he expects to stay in this country for an indefinite period, it is quite on the cards he will challenge Hoppe for one of his three-balk-line titles.

The lacrosse and hockey teams have been following out this method of keeping the fans awake for years.

GARDNER SLATED

TO MANAGE GOTHAM

Nationals Still Claim New League Will Be a Success; Coast Teams Start Practice

That Jimmie Gardner has been offered the management of the New York club in the new professional league is the statement that appears in one of the Montreal papers. The former coast league manager, who last year handled the Canadian team, is said to have been offered a good berth by Owner Fellowes, of the Gotham septette, and he will take to New York with him Harry Hyland, the Cleghorn boys and possibly one of the Canadian stars. The Coast League club owners will hardly take part in the war for players as the P. C. H. A. officials have stated that they will depend upon their present squad and a number of youngsters to complete their teams for this season.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—In spite of the fact that several prominent hockey magnates claim that the talk of a new professional hockey league is nothing but a joke, President A. L. Caron, of the National A. A. A. appears to be more confident than ever that the proposed new league will be launched with success this winter.

"We are not worrying about the two teams that we propose to have in Montreal. The Nationals will have a strong line-up while the English team will be composed of many stars of the N. H. A. Many people believe that we have not the backing for the two local teams, but I want to say right here that both the local teams will be well backed. In fact, the English team will be backed by half a dozen of very prominent Montreal financial men. We are also confident that New York will enter a team in the league while I have received a very favorable letter from the magnates in Boston," stated Mr. Caron.

Next Monday will mark the initial practice of the Vancouver Hockey club of the Pacific Coast league. The Victoria team started work last week. Manager Frank Patrick figures he has plenty of time to get his men in shape for the opening game at Portland on December 8 and does not intend to hurry them along.

Y. M. C. A. practice to-night at the arena. The following are expected out, Wakely, McKenzie, Davidson, Walton, Stewart, Fair, Murray, Smith, McAdam, Hempley, Smith, Cassell, Wilson, McDonald and McDermott.

It is expected that Bob Genie will be here on Thursday, while Lindsay, Ulrich and Morris are due the end of the week.

CRICKET REVIVAL

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—A systematic fight to maintain cricket as a major sport in Philadelphia has been in progress this year. As a result, it is probable that the British game will continue to afford outdoor exercise and entertainment for a great many persons in this sport-loving city.

Cricket is slow, when compared with baseball. It has few of the sensational features which attract Americans to games like baseball and tennis. But cricket had a hold on a certain class of Philadelphians which no other game could displace. Their cause the inveterate active players found the grey hairs arriving; their joints creaked; and they were no longer fitted for important international or cup competition. "Something must be done," they said.

"The young man—he will solve the problem," said one. Whereupon a committee was formed and extraordinary efforts made to interest the juniors in the English sport. This was not easy. Some preferred baseball; others thought tennis the game, and golf, had its devotees among the youngsters. However, expert coaches were employed, and in the larger organizations, such as the Merion, Germantown and Philadelphia Cricket clubs, excellent eleven were formed of lads ranging in age from 12 to 18.

LACROSSE DANCE TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY

There has been a splendid demand for tickets for the Victoria Lacrosse club dance at Connaught hall on Friday night. The committee in charge of arrangements held a meeting last night when the final details for the dance were arranged. Miss Thains five-piece orchestra will be in attendance, and refreshments will be served to the dancers. In view of the fact that the lacrosse club is holding these dances to clear the club of the debt which was incurred because of the shortened schedule last summer, it is expected that Victoria's amateur sporting enthusiasts will help boot this plan along. Tickets may be had from any one of the management committee, which is composed of Dr. G. A. R. Hall, E. H. O'Neil, F. L. Sweeney, W. A. Blake, A. McGregor, Byron Johnson and C. E. Burnett.

VANCOUVER CURLING CLUB ALSO QUITS

It is now stated that the Vancouver Curling club will not re-organize this winter and the members of the Victoria club will be forced to forego the pleasure of their annual trip to the mainland. Phil Ray, who is secretary of the Vancouver club, is now stationed at the Esquimalt barracks and a member of the "Naval reserve" and he does not think that there will be

PRACTISE WILL BE HELD FOR LOCALS

Victoria Rugby Union Will Meet This Afternoon; Centrals Won From University

Practice hours for the Victoria representative rugby fifteen will be chosen at this afternoon's meeting of the Victoria Rugby union, which will be held in the Ritz hotel. It is also probable that the union will look into the matter of Saturday's postponed game as several of the Fusiliers appeared on the Willows lineup and helped that club defeat the Welsh fifteen. It is rumored that the Fusiliers will drop out of the union, the league finishing up with three teams. Arthur Hill has been chosen to referee Saturday's inter-city match at Oak Bay.

Because of the fact that the Vancouver Rugby union has not resigned from the British Columbia Rugby union, it is hardly likely that the B. C. A. C. will admit the Vancouver Rugby league to membership at Saturday's meeting. This means that the McKechnie cup will not be at stake in these matches. A wire from Stanford University, California, received last night said: "After weeks of discussion between the rival athletic committees of Stanford and the University of California, Ted Byrne, of Vancouver, B. C., was chosen as referee of the annual Rugby game between the two universities."

Central won their second game of the Junior Rugby league series yesterday afternoon, when they swamped University, 15-0. All the "Victors" points were scored on tries, the ball being too heavy to convert. Despite the mud, which was ankle deep, there was very little fumbling, the youngsters playing excellent rugby. Len McCusky, Fleming and Dixon were the stars of the day. They were scored by McCusky (2), Fleming, Dixon and Sprinkling. Harry Clark refereed.

Central now lead the junior league with two victories and no defeats. Last week they triumphed over High school.

High school rugger had a good turnout at the North Ward park yesterday to practice. The boys are preparing for the Vancouver invasion.

FIGHT GAME WILL REVIVE ONCE MORE

Crack Boxers Are Headed for Brighthouse; Clabby Middle-weight Champion

Now that the authorities have dealt the boxing game a fatal blow in California it is likely that several of the southern boys will invade the north-west. Fifteen-round bouts were very popular at Stevenson and Brighthouse. A serious jolt to the British Columbia fight fans was the falling through of the Welsh-Ritchie fight last year. And it will likely revive now. Joe May has invaded California at the wrong time, and he will probably be accompanied north by several of the boys who were participating in Coffroth's elimination tourney. It is said the authorities have agreed upon one more contest in California. This will be the 20-round battle between Harry Willis and Sam Langford on Thanksgiving Day.

Jimmy Clabby is the middleweight king. Hammond James proved himself the master of George Chip at every stage of the game last Friday night and could have finished the Pittsburgh challenger had he cared to. In the fifteenth round Jimmy drove his right to Chip's jaw, and the Pittsburgher, blood-eyed, reeled about the ring. Clabby stepped back, giving him a chance to revive. A finish punch might have killed the game in the south for all time, but foxy Clabby has hopes of the game returning to California and would not finish his opponent. Clabby now has an undisputed right to the middleweight throne. His seven-round victory over Eddie Morgan, a decision over Mike Gibbons and now his victory over Chip, give the easterner a perfect right to the middleweight crown.

Eddie Morgan, the English featherweight, is in the States seeking scalps, but up to date has been unsuccessful. His effort the other night in New York to take the measure of Eddie Wallace was feeble. The young Brooklynite, though outpointed by the English aspirant, the first few rounds, came back and had the visitor in a bad way at the finish.

New York accounts of the Wolganst-Welsh battle claim Wolganst had a good chance of taking the measure of the titleholder had he not broken his hand. Ad-battered Welsh severely the first three rounds, and it was in the sixth round that his right arm went limp. He managed to stay eight rounds, but before he had time to get on his feet, he was knocked out by a single blow.

White hopes, as at it again. Bombarrier Wells battles Frank Moran, despite the war, in December. The bombardier should beat the burly Moran on points, or he might succeed in what Johnson failed to do in knocking out Moran.

Louisiana and Colorado are the only states in the union where 20-round bouts can be staged, and fighters seeking engagement must lower their demands. It will not be like California, where a pugilist could demand a huge sum and get it, as there were several promoters seeking the services of top-fighters.

SOCCER SIFTINGS

George Holley, the Sunderland inside left, who has several times been capped for England, is slowly recovering from the injury received to his knee.

R. Bond was not long out of the Bradford City team, as he was reinstated in his usual place at outside right and played against Sheffield United.

From official returns received from 2 of the 42 clubs in membership of the Cardiff and District Union, no fewer than 200 of their players have joined the colors. This number does not include officials and members of the committee.

The management committee of the Northwestern league have passed a resolution expressing their admiration of the heroic conduct of Private John Warwick, a player of the Spennymoor United F.C., who has been recommended for the Victoria Cross.

At a meeting of the Birmingham Football association it was announced

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

How Long Will Ban Johnson Last?

There have been quite a few sensations in 1914 baseball, but perhaps one of the biggest in years is being reserved for next season. The growing feeling against the methods of Byron B. Johnson has increased amongst the American League owners, and it would not be surprising if the noisy American league president was toppled over when the Federals are admitted to organized baseball. Johnson has given out bombastic interviews as to the fate of the Federals, and the success of the Outlaws is attributed to a secret deal to the knucks that Johnson has been handing out. There is another element that is agitating the knacker-like driving of the American League. Johnson has been plotting for the overthrow of the Players' Fraternity and the latter is also after the scalp of the American league president. Johnson is supposed to have a twenty-five-year contract with the American league, but this may also have a ten-day clause attached to it, one that Johnson himself has overlooked.

Modern Links Help Golf.

Golf players who have not the advantage of practice over links laid out in accordance with the latest theory of bunker, designed to compel certain well-defined procedure to produce par golf for each hole, labor under a handicap as compared with those who do. The plan of arranging a series of pot bunkers running diagonally across the line at different distances to compel cleanly-hit drives and second shots and the numerous traps in the vicinity of the greens to punish anything like wildness on the approach unquestionably reward superior skill. Those who play on many links in a season cannot help thinking how flat and uninteresting are many of the older courses which have not kept abreast of the times. The old cup bunkers extending clear across and the shallow traps seem like relics of a passed age.

MILITARY REVUE HAS ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Entertainment - Opening Tomorrow Evening at Royal Victoria Theatre

To-morrow night at 8.30 at the Royal Victoria Theatre, the curtain will roll back for one of the most engaging entertainments that has ever been seen on the stage of Victoria's leading playhouse. This is to be the grand military musical revue which is to be held under the combined auspices of the Victoria Amateur Dramatic club and the Victoria Amateur Operatic society, which are joining their splendid array of talent in behalf of the patriotic aid fund and the Belgian relief fund. The revue will be held on three successive evenings, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, so that there will be plenty of opportunity for the citizens to attend one or other of the entertainments and assist the worthy undertaking by their presence.

AMERICAN TROOPS SOON TO LEAVE VERA CRUZ
Washington, Nov. 11.—The American troops probably will be ordered out of Vera Cruz very soon, leaving the Mexican factions to settle their own differences, as a result of the recent developments, which have brought the guarantees, the Washington government demanded.

Events at Naco have moved with unexpected rapidity, according to a report to the war department to-day from General Bliss, Secretary Garrison summarized the situation in this statement: "There was heavy rifle fire all yesterday afternoon which Colonel Hatfield interprets as an effort on the part of General Hill's forces to prevent General Maytorena from getting into position for an attack. At 5.35 o'clock three guns firing shrapnel opened from the east and two from the southwest, and continued firing until dark on Hill's position. Maytorena has informed Colonel Hatfield that what he was doing was a defensive move and not an attack."

THE UNEMPLOYED.

To the Editor: I certainly say amen to Bro. E. Speight's letter appearing in the Times of the 10th inst. Not only having the courage to voice his convictions, he voices the convictions of many more in Victoria also. To say the least, the conditions in this town are something rotten in more ways than one...

THE APPLE FESTIVAL BEGINS WITH PARADE

Auto-Trucks Bear British Columbia Fruit Through City; Celebration Arrangements

This afternoon with a parade of auto-vans, headed by the Pipers' band, the Apple Festival in Victoria, which will continue to-morrow, Friday and Saturday, was inaugurated. The boxes of apples on show formed an object lesson in the attractiveness of British Columbia fruit which could not fail to influence the citizens as the wagons passed through the principal streets. The parade and all other features of the Festival have been designed to impress upon the public the desirability of asking always for home-grown produce and insisting upon having it in preference to the imported article.

The usual fine was imposed. His striped stockings and running shorts aroused no small amusement in the court.

Named Deputy Registrar—R. C. S. Ranfall, of Fort George, has been appointed as district deputy registrar of the supreme court and district registrar of the county court for the judicial county of Cariboo.

Lecture on Poetry—An interesting lecture entitled "Appreciation of Poetry" was delivered in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Monday by John Hsieh, the provincial librarian. Illustrations were given from the works of Tennyson, Browning and other great masters. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was accorded the lecturer.

Fell Out of Window—Falling out of an upper window of the St. George's Inn on the Esquimalt road, yesterday, Private Patrick Boyle, of the 50th Regiment, sustained severe injuries, being badly cut about the face and head. Constable Munro responded to a call in the police patrol and brought the injured man to the police station where Dr. Grant had been summoned. After receiving attention Private Boyle was able to return home.

CONSTABLE FRY PROMOTED
Is Now a Sergeant of Victoria City Force; Has Had Good Record as Police Officer.

General satisfaction is expressed in police circles at the elevation of Constable John Fry to the responsible position of a sergeant of the Victoria city force.

Sergeant Fry has been with the local police since May, 1903, and during the intervening years has served in many capacities, bringing to all the same qualities of faithfulness, conscientious devotion to duty, and unwavering zeal which have been instrumental in bringing about his well-deserved promotion. Always a popular officer, the new sergeant has several times acted temporarily in the position to which he has been called, and also was for about eighteen months a member of the detective department where he proved a most efficient helper.

He has been better known, however, during the last two years as the special constable engaged in watching and directing the traffic at the C. P. R. With the heterogeneous collection of vehicles which there assemble, and the rush caused by people, goods and coming from the boats, the position demanded a man of considerable tact, allied to firmness. In this capacity the new sergeant proved admirably able to cope with his duties.

Sergeant Fry is one of the best athletes in the force, and though the passing of years has lowered his pace on the track, he can still "hit the dirt" with the best of the young ones. About a year ago he won the 100 yards, the 220 yards, the high jump and several other prizes at the police sports, and even now is one of the best sprinters in the force.

Before donning official uniform in Victoria, Mr. Fry was engaged in other work in the city, but when the outbreak of hostilities occurred in South Africa, he joined the Canadian contingent with the brave boys from Victoria, and fought through the war. This was not, however, his first experience, as previous to his arrival in Victoria, he was five and one-half years in the British Royal Marine Artillery, where he was known as one of the best marksmen in the service, and carried an enviable record for gunnery.

POINTED GUN
Lumber at Shawnigan Lake Brought Man to Court; Bound over to Keep Peace.

Charles Brown, of Brown's Island, Shawnigan Lake, was this morning bound over in two sureties of $250 apiece to keep the peace for six months as a result of a charge brought by W. R. Elford, mill foreman of the Shawnigan Lake Lumber Co.

The case was tried before Magistrate Jay in the provincial police court, and according to the evidence of the prosecution Brown pointed a shotgun at Elford's head, and threatened that if he came a step nearer he would bore a hole through him with a bullet.

Brown pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully pointing a firearm, but stated that there was no cartridge in the gun at the time, and he had no animosity toward Elford. The reason for the threat, was that Elford had come to take away some of his (Brown's) cedar logs. The prosecution maintained, on the other hand, that all the logs on the lake belonged to the lumber company, and that Brown had no right at all to run them into his boom.

DEMONSTRATIONS URGED

Plan Put Forward for Strengthening Made-in-Victoria Movement.

In conjunction with Newspaper Day another feature is proposed by the Victoria and Island Development Association. This is that the stores should make a specialty of Made-in-Victoria products on the three days, November 18, 20 and 21.

The proposal, hurried on a week earlier than expected because the stores are already beginning to prepare for the Christmas trade next month, has come about in the following way: At a meeting of the manufacturers and retailers last evening it was decided that the industrial committee of the Development Association should make itself responsible for the campaign on behalf of home-manufactured goods. The commissioner thought of serious schemes, and the one which commended itself most was that there should be a demonstration of Victoria-made goods in the stores. So it was suggested that during each of the three days the manufacturers should have one or more demonstrators present in each of the chief stores, to which articles would be supplied by local manufacturers through the wholesale houses. It was felt that in this way considerable publicity for the Made-in-Victoria campaign would result.

Several leading retailers have already endorsed the proposal. It will doubtless be considered at the meeting of the chief employees and members of the Manufacturers' Association and the Development Association this evening.

TAXI-FLEET LAUNCHED

Victoria's Vehicular Traffic Augmented by Five Handsome and Serviceable Machines.

This morning Victoria's vehicular traffic was augmented by the launch of a fleet of taxi-cabs. Mr. Hart, representing the Keeton company, of Toronto, Ont., has been in the city for the past few days making arrangements for the installation of the service, which this morning took up its stand at the corner of Yates and Douglas streets, manned by handsomely uniformed chauffeurs.

The new service consists of five machines, which will be on duty the whole twenty-four hours, and ready for work day or night. They are the very latest type of Keeton manufacture, with carriage work by the Conroy Carriage Co., Toronto, electric light and self-starters, of 35 h. p. with neat laundrette-like bodies capable of accommodating six passengers besides the driver, the taxis are not only really handsome machines but delightfully comfortable and luxurious as well. The motor, which is on the driver's right, is quite easily visible from the inside of the car. Commencing with a minimum charge of fifty cents for the first three-fifths of a mile or fraction thereof, the tariff ranges through a very reasonably arranged scale which is certain to appeal to taxi-users as being based on equitable lines. For each additional fifth of a mile there will be a charge of ten cents; a charge of twenty cents for each occupant over the three when more are traveling; ten cents for a four minutes' wait; and a small additional charge for luggage.

The machines, which have the neat wire wheels now so much in use, are fitted with rubber floor mat in the tonneau, and white slip covers are provided for wedding parties, etc. Similar services have met with great favor in Winnipeg, Edmonton and Saskatoon. The office and garage are at 824 Johnson street.

CANADIAN PLAY AT VARIETY

"The Call of the North" featuring Robert Edson in the leading role, is a true Canadian story of the early days of the Hudson's Bay company, depicting in a most realistic manner conditions in the far north as they then existed under the iron rule of the company's factors.

The play is taken from Stewart Edward White's famous book, "Companions House," the setting of which has given unlimited scope for the production of a number of the most beautiful northern scenes ever pictures.

Robert Edson, in legitimate drama, has never had the opportunity for the display of his wonderful talent as amidst the natural northern Canadian scenes.

The companies field engineer, from the province which are to be sent to the old country are to leave Vancouver on Monday for Ottawa. These companies consist of an officer and twenty-five men each, or fifty-two in all, and have been recruited from No. 6 Field company, Canadian Engineers, stationed at Vancouver. From this city several men who desired to enlist in them went over to the mainland and were accepted.

The detachment of the Canadian Army Service Corps which is being sent to the east is now being organized in Vancouver, and it will be made up in the main of men from the city and lower mainland. There will, however, be a number of men in the detachment from this city, Duncan, Nanaimo and other points on the island. Only men of experience and initiative are being taken, some of whom have had service in the imperial corps and know just what is required. It is expected that this detachment will not depart at an early date, but it is known here what the plans are either for the engineers or the army service corps after they reach Ottawa.

Last evening the men of D company of the Victoria Volunteer Guard, the Orangemen's company, paraded at the headquarters in the Strathcona hotel block for company drill, through which they were put by the instructor of the guard, Sgt. Major Wheeler. There will be a parade of the entire battalion to-morrow evening.

The Victoria Volunteer Reserve parades to-morrow evening at the drill hall for drill and instruction by Captain McCann.

MEETINGS

Lecture—A lecture on "Constructive Co-Operation" will be delivered to-morrow evening at 8 p. m. in the Board room, No. 418, Belmont house by Mr. Wald, of Seattle, under the auspices of the Theosophical society.

To Hold Sale—The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Episcopal church will hold a sale of work of useful and fancy articles, many of them suitable for Christmas presents, on Friday afternoon, December 4, from 3 to 6, at the school rooms adjoining the church.

Will Speak of War—At the meeting of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, next Monday evening, Mr. Clearhue will give a talk on "The War and How the French Mobilize." The address will be in the nature of a description of Mr. Clearhue's experiences, as he has lately returned from a visit of some length in France and Germany.

Daisy Chain Chapter—The entertainment being arranged by the Daisy Chain chapter of the Children of the Empire will take place on Friday evening in the newly-completed Connaught Seaman's Institute, Superior street. The proceeds will be devoted in aid of the fund which is being collected for the maintenance of the little-Hindi girl at the Zenana mission in India. The following is the programme: Piano solo, Miss Margaret Campbell; dance, Miss Adesley Hallam; French dialogue, the Misses Sylvia and Wilma Laxton; dance, Miss Myra MacEachern; recitation, Miss Dorothy Robertson; dance, Miss Dorothy McDermid; Irish jig, the Misses Doris and Laura Macklin, Margaret Campbell, and Mona Miller; dance, Miss Helen Macdonald; recitation, Miss Laura Macklin. "Mother Goose," a playlet, will conclude the programme. This entertaining act introducing many characters made familiar in nursery rhyme and story.

Fifth Regiment Band—The Fifth Regiment band will give its first concert of the winter series next Sunday evening in the Royal Victoria theatre, thus commencing its sixth season of indoor concerts, and its first season under the direction of Bandmaster W. Smith. It is determined that the band will sustain the standard of excellence it has already made, and by hard and persistent practice he hopes to bring it up to a state of even higher efficiency than it already possesses. Several new numbers have been added to the already large repertoire of classical, standard and patriotic selections possessed by the organization, and Victorians are assured of several evenings of delightful entertainments. By the kind co-operation of the management of the Royal Victoria theatre the band will be enabled to devote ten per cent. of its gross receipts from each concert to the Patriotic and Peigan relief funds, which will benefit alternately. The first concert will be in behalf of the Patriotic fund, concerts will be held every Sunday evening commencing at 8.15.

READY FOR MARKET

Stalls Have Been Arranged in Four Groups; Building Has Been Overhauled.

The city market will be held in the new premises next Friday. The word "new" is used in a relative sense, for it is really the re-opening of one of the city buildings for the purpose for which it was erected twenty years ago. The temporary quarters on Pandora avenue, placed by a realty firm at the disposal of the civic market committee, were satisfactory for the making of a start, but they are inadequate at the present time. The wet weather caused the canvas to flag, and the articles offered were not kept dry until sold.

Two criticisms will probably suggest themselves to the visitor next Friday:—that the sanitation did not extend the concrete flooring in place of making a cinder floor, and that too many stalls have been crowded into the area available. Doubtless in the former case the desire to get through quickly prevented the concreting of the floor. With regard to the stalls, it was known that at least 50 would be required, and the amount of space was limited.

The stalls are in four groups—A group, round the back of the detective and health offices; B group, against the fire department repair shop; C group, against the north wall, and D group, in the centre, with back-to-back stalls. One group, that against the north wall, will be reserved for the butchers.

An innovation will be made next Friday. Small charges will be levied for stalls and tables and the proceeds will go to meet some of the out-of-pocket expenses. The whole appointments of the market have been overhauled during the alterations and the building, from now on salesmen and customers will be under cover, and on rainy days business will go on unchecked.

LANGFORD WINS.

Los Angeles, Nov. 11.—Sam Langford, of Boston, was given the decision over Tom McMahon, of Newcastle, Pa., after a light at Vernon arena last night, after a county constable had stopped the fight in the sixth round. It was announced as a twenty-round match.

Local List of Prices Still Marked by Varying Tactics but Rule Firmly

The list was marked by varying tactics, but all things considered, had well guarded firmness and closed with settled feeling. With the trading capacity of the market at such a minimum, capabilities on the up side of prices have dwindled considerably, yet notwithstanding issues of the Portland Canal and Coronation Gold type, aggressive strength commensurately.

WINNIPEG PRICES ARE ERRATIC FOR WHEAT

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—Trading on the wheat market was quiet and prices erratic, and following the trend of American markets. A good export trade is being transacted in the south, although well on in the day little or nothing in that line had been pulled off here. Some sales, however, were made last night. Winnipeg wheat opened unchanged to lower, and shortly after had advanced $c to $c on the three months, passing off again previous to noon to opening fig. 104.50, and closing at 104.50. Flax was weak, May opening 2c lower, recovering a cent later. Peace rumors had the effect of breaking prices considerably in the last hour of business.

GOOD PROGRESS ON SOOKE WATERWORKS

Twelve Miles of Flow Line and Over Five Miles of Pressure Line Laid

As soon as arrangements have been completed for the handing over to the bank of the amount collected in taxes up to October 31, the city officials will take up the matter of providing further funds for the waterworks undertaking. Till the annual loan is repaid, however, it would be premature to act in this regard.
The Sooke waterworks engineering department reports that five and six-tenths miles of the pressure pipe, out of the total of ten and a quarter miles, was laid up to November 1. Only the southeast portion of the trench remains to be opened, through the gravel stratum at Colwood, which can be left till the last, owing to its comparative expense compared with the other sections of the work. Nearly two miles more of pipe has been manufactured at the yards at Thetis Cove. All the rock excavation in the trench has been finished, and the pipe is now being laid by two gangs. It is expected that the whole connection from Hummock to the city will be completed in January next, and that water will be flowing from the reservoir at that date.
Twelve miles of the flow line has been laid, and by the end of the year it is expected that the contractors will have reduced the remaining 15 miles to eight miles by completing the section to Cooper's Cove. The balance, between the Cove and Sooke lake, will then remain to be laid. About three and a half miles a month is the length being laid now.
Oak Bay council having asked the city what it intends to do with regard to the improvement of Fowl Bay road, the city members of the inter-municipal committee will meet the committee from the Oak Bay council on Friday morning. The problem is complicated because the roadway is wholly within the limits of Oak Bay. The city council holds that the city owners should not be assessed for the paving of the roadway.
The tunnel under Gore and Smith streets, between shafts four and five of the northwest sewer, was pierced by the gangs yesterday, and the excavation can be continued now under more convenient conditions. This is the third tunnel which the gangs have broken through during the present year. The Sunnyside tunnel, from Selkirk Water south, is also under construction.

The population of the German empire at the end of the first half of 1914 is 69,412,000. This compares with 68,287,000 in the previous year, and shows an increase practically the same size as was recorded from 1912 to 1913. Comparisons with the growth of the population in France give striking figures. In 1871, following the Franco-German war, France had a population of about 35,000,000, only 5,000,000 less than Germany. In 1911 she had less than 40,000,000, and the number has declined since then. Thus her increase in forty-two years has been less than 5,000,000 against an increase for Germany of 25,000,000.
German East Africa provides the most successful example of German colonial enterprise. Large sums have been spent on the building of a railway to tap the interior; the internal resources of the country are considerable, and its addition to the British empire will not only add a province of great potential wealth to the king's territory, but will make the long-desired junction of the Cape-Cairo railway feasible. For that reason alone its capture is essential.

WHAT TO GIVE FOR CHRISTMAS

You'll find a satisfactory answer to this question waiting for you at "Weiler's." Even Santa Claus himself will find some wonderful surprises here. Our large and varied stock is most attractively displayed and contains appropriate gifts for every member of the family. Furniture makes an ideal gift, and will bring pleasure and comfort for years to come. The value of an article consists, not in the mere possession of it, but in the service it renders. Come in and see our display of furniture, and realize what a saving you can make by purchasing Weiler quality furniture at our reasonable cash prices.

Elkington Silver Plate Is Different

As you can readily see if you will examine it. An elegant oval breakfast dish has a removable inner lining and drainer so that it can be used for entrees, fish or soup. This would make a delightful addition to your own table, or an ideal Christmas gift. You will also be pleased with a right and left handed coffee and hot milk pot, making it possible to pour from both at once. This is a charming contrivance. Ask to see this silverware before making your Christmas purchases.
