THE famous Santa Clara Prune, most healthful of fruits, combined with Whole Wheat Bread, producing the sweetest, richest, most palatable and nourishing food for the human body. It is particularly suited for growing children, taking the place of sweetmeats, and supplying the material for a strong constitution. It should form a goodly part of every lunch basket.

Hunt's Prune Bread is made by bright, non-sparring machinery in a clean, light, well ventilated factory, operated under the most rigid sanitary conditions insuring absolute purity and cleanliness.

A distinguishing feature of this Bread is its superior keeping quality, which fact alone commends it to tourists, outing parties and all those who are unable to procure fresh bread daily. Presented in a neat, sanitary, hermetically sealed glassine wrapper, it will keep fresh for 10 days and should appeal to every student of hygiene.

THE SAN JOSE ELECTION.

The election passed off more quietly than usual in San Jose last Monday. The interest was great, but the "old gang" being estopped from its activity, there were not the former unseemly election-day occurrences.

Charles W. Davison was elected mayor by a majority of 888. This paper has all along predicted Judge Davison's election, and we are proud to claim the distinction of being the first newspaper to suggest his name for mayor. San Jose is to be congratulated. The two councilmen and police judge on the Davison ticket were also elected, thus giving the incoming administration full opportunity to give the city the benefit of its best efforts in administering the local government. The people are now in the "saddle" in San Jose.

Recently, in Chicago, a carload of Vacaville cherries brought $4,500. Wouldn't that cheer you?

Again our contemporaries are discussing "Woman's Sphere in This Life." Never mind about woman—she'll find her sphere, all right, and probably, yours, too.

The recent primary elections in Oregon resulted in the defeat of Senator Fulton and the selection of the Hon. Mr. Cake for United States Senator. Is this another case of "sweetness wasted on the desert air?"

From the way the State conventions at Sacramento and Fresno "resolved" we expect to see delegates en route to the National conventions hitting the road a la Weston to Santa Fe points. No S. P. in theirs.

Gen. Harrison G. Otis, who has made himself notorious by his fight on organized labor, was defeated for delegate-at-large to the Republican National convention. Even Herrin could not swallow him! Alas, for the strife maker!

Among other things that make us laugh is the spectacle of a Republican editor begging for a removal of the tariff on wood pulp and paper in one column and declaring in another column that "the foreigner pays the tax."—Commoner.

The Examiner has brought Weston, the great pedestrian, to San Francisco to teach the people how to walk. It is to be hoped that some of the politicians up that way, when they have struck the proper gait, will learn to "walk the chalk line."

"There is a strong Taft movement in Wall Street. You would be surprised to hear the enthusiastic indorsements that are given to the Secretary of War by the men who are supposed to be violently opposed to the policies of the President."—W. E. Curtis, correspondent Chicago Record-Herald, (Rep.)

Just as Cleveland, Ohio, was entering upon its new era of municipal ownership of its street railways and a 3-cent fare, the inevitable strike, which injures everybody—the strikers most of all—must come. There is yet much education needed along certain lines. Quarrels are to be avoided, especially over quibbles.

The wages of 30,000 Massachusetts cotton mill operatives were cut ten per cent last week. The week before 60,000 other operatives were subjected to a similar cut, and 35,000 more will get the same kind of a Republican tariff prosperity dose next week. The full dinner pail is becoming something of a hollow mockery. —Commoner.

A Maine manufacturer offers Congressman Littlefield $5,000 if he will prove to the satisfaction of twelve disinterested men or women that the protective tariff is a good thing for American workingmen. As Congressman Littlefield resigned in order to make more money than a congressman's pay, here is a chance to make a good start.—Commoner.

At the recent Democratic State convention, held at Fresno, Gavin McNab, the erstwhile leader, was deposed and Theodore A. Bell was honored with the leadership of the party in this State. State Senator J. B. Sanford was chairman of the convention. The delegates-at-large to the National convention at Denver are: Theodore A. Bell, Nathan Cole, Jr., Bob Fitzgerald and Judge W. M. Conley. Judge W. H. Rogers, of San Jose, was made an alternate. The delegates from this Congressional District are Nicholas Bowden and H. A. Blanchard, both of San Jose. The convention instructed for William Jennings Bryan for President of the United States.

Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations, recently addressed the House of Representatives in these words: "With a deficit of sixty-five millions at the close of the present fiscal year, and with a prospect of a deficit of 150 millions at the end of the next fiscal year, our entire surplus in the treasury threatens to be wiped out, and it is almost certain that an issue of certificates of indebtedness will be necessary to meet our obligations. With this unpleasant prospect this Congress is appropriating more money than any of its predecessors, and it is time for the members of this body to stop and reflect what we are coming to."

Stick to the Farm.

My lads, you're longing for the town
With all its rush and style,
On country scenes you daily frown,
And idly dream the while
Of big glass fronts and lofty halls
Of fine cafes that charm,
Of palaces with marble walls,—
You're tired of the farm.

But, listen, ere you rush away
To join the city's throng,
Where weary ones forget to pray
And hearts hold not a song;
Where some are good, but more there be
Who wait to do you harm,
And make you slaves, who now are free
And happy on the farm.

The toilers there have no reprieve,
To labor is their fate;
In shops and factories where they grieve
'Till love is turned to hate,
They dread the master's cruel voice
That hails but to alarm,—
Go see them ere you make your choice,
And leave the fruitful farm.

'Tis here the birds sing at the dawn,
And fragrant breezes bend
The lilacs blooming on the lawn;
And every man's a friend
To every boy who does his share
With strong and willing arm.
My lads, the town holds many a snare,
You're safe upon the farm.

—Ruth Raymond in Farm Journal.

AT SEA.

Brown-faced sailor, tell me true—
Our ship I fear is but illy thriving.

The wind is blowing a storm this way,
The bubbles in my face are winking—

More saucily the bubbles wink;
God's mercy keep us from foul weather.

The sailor frowned a bitter frown,
And answered, "ay, there will be foul weather—"

The sailor smiled a smile of cheer,
And looked at me a look of wonder.

General's Dilemma

"The audacity of young men now-a-days," declared Gen. Marrant, as he glared at his wife over the breakfast table.

"Surely he wasn't rude, dear?" interrupted his wife, soothingly.

"He may be a general himself, some day," hissed the young lady, archly.

"Naturally," said the old lady, complacently.

"You women," exclaimed the general, with indignation, as he caught his daughter's glance.

"Post, sir," said a servant, entering.

"I think he would be very suitable for the post of son-in-law," said Lady Marrant, laughingly.

"Son-in-law be hanged!" roared her husband, stamping out of the room.

"What can he mean?" asked the young lady, in alarm.

"Poor Fred," sobbed the young lady.

"Hush, dear," said her mother, stroking her daughter's beautiful hair.

"Oh, how many years?" cried the general, entering the room. "And all the time I thought I was managing you! But you don't manage me in this affair.

"Obedience," he said, as he strutted up and down the room.

The following day the South Surrey regiment was holding its regimental sports.

As soon as the last race was over the general rose.

"Will you remain here, Edith," Lady Marrant asked her daughter.

"Oh, you must come with us," said her father.

While Lady Marrant was busily engaged giving out the well-deserved prizes.

"It is very serious," she was saying, with an air of gravity.

"But he's going to send you away—abroad!" exclaimed the young lady, tragically.

"I really don't know what to do," said he, hoarsely.

"Not yet," she replied. "I shall probably do so to-morrow."

"I suppose you will invite Capt. Mayne?" said he, turning his head to the window.

"Naturally," she said, with a smile.

ABOLISH THE GRAND JURY.

CITIZENS of Wisconsin are reported as being well pleased with the operation of the law abolishing the grand jury system.

The meritorious feature of the system is that it does away with the ex parte methods which are characteristic of grand jury investigation.

It may be contended that the Wisconsin law lodges too much power in one man, the prosecutor, who, if he be a venal man, might defeat justice and permit rogues to escape punishment.

But nearly every community can cite examples where grave injustice has been worked through ex parte hearings before grand juries.

But the experience of Wisconsin should hasten the day when the grand jury will be discarded by every State in the Union—Toledo Blade.

ILLITERACY IN THE UNITED STATES.

Americans are accustomed to regard their country as one of universal education, where illiteracy, at least among natives, is virtually unknown.

In view of that fact, some figures collated by the American Journal of Education are instructive.

United States is one of the most illiterate civilized nations in the world.

According to the census of 1900, 107 persons in every 1,000 in this country were illiterate—that is to say, they were persons ten years old or older who were unable to write in any language.

we excuse ourselves on the ground that we receive great numbers of immigrants from the less intelligent peoples of Europe.

In the State of New York in 1900 there were 18,000 illiterates of foreign birth, but 29,000 who were born in this country.

Iowa and Nebraska lead all the States in education, having only twenty-three illiterates per thousand.

UNIFYING THE LAWS.

EVERY growing institution, from a family up to a nation, finds it necessary now and then to undertake a process of rearrangement, of simplification, or of elimination of unnecessary articles or customs which were useful once, but have become useless or even obstructive.

Congress engages in this task from time to time, taking one general class of laws on each occasion.

Many inconsistencies and not a few conflicting provisions had crept into the statutes.

The national criminal law not only has force in the territories, and in forts, navy yards and other places under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States.

These facts, as the Journal of Education says, are not such as to give Americans reason for pride.

LADY GROSSMORE'S RECEPTION.

could recommend an intelligent officer for the post of military governor to some tiny, barbarous island in the South Seas, or somewhere!"

"But he has," persisted Edith. "He wrote underneath that he could strongly recommend Capt., the Hon. Frederick Mayne, of the South Surrey regiment, for the above position."

"What are we to do?" asked the officer, anxiously.

"I can refuse to go," declared he, determinedly.

"It would be a good post, I'm sure," said he, reflecting, "but I won't take it without you—"

"Your last sentence has suggested to my mind a brilliant idea. Manma can carry it out. Manma can do anything."

"What is it?" he asked.

"Just wait," said she, "till after Lady Grossmore's reception. The colonial secretary is sure to be there. And—oh, you just wait!"

Lady Grossmore's reception was one of the most brilliant functions of the season.

women My-an-oung are in despair. Old women tear their scanty hair, girls rush to the water's edge, and the young men and boys rush into the river up to their necks.

Oo-oh, the old trainer of the Peacock, shaking as if in palsy, shrieks, "Yonk-ya!"

For even an informal luncheon or dinner guest cards at each plate do much to facilitate the seating of the different members of the party.

Seattle, Wash.—Jose Garcia, Mexican, who was shot by Detective William Holland, died of his injuries. Garcia was wanted at Salt Lake City for the murder of Patrolman Charles S. Ford on December 14th last.

Redding.—San Francisco parties have located 5,000 acres of placer claims on Klamath River, in Siskiyou county, between the Humboldt county line and the mouth of the Scott River. The ground is taken up for dredging purposes.

Redding.—That the temperance movement has not gained much headway in Shasta county is shown by the fact that last week the Supervisors granted liquor licenses for fifteen additional saloons. Six applications for licenses were rejected on technical grounds.

Oakland.—The ban by which, according to the constitution of the Ancient Order of Foresters, members are prevented from joining the Foresters of America was removed by an amendment to the constitution which was adopted by the convention which was in progress at Reed Hall, Oakland, last week.

Oakland.—James Smith was found guilty by a jury on a charge of stealing fifty-two piles from their moorings in the estuary and selling them in Mount Eden. He waived time and was immediately sentenced by Superior Judge S. A. Smith to a term of five years in the penitentiary at San Quentin.

Stockton.—The saloon men won the election in Lodi last week after one of the most exciting contests ever seen there. Both the Prohibitionists and the liquor men had rigs and automobiles out all day, and out of 500 voters registered 583 cast their ballots. The vote in favor of licensing or continuing saloons was 342, and against such a move 233.

Reno, Nev.—W. P. Graham returned a few days ago from the Willow Creek district with some very fine specimens of opals, secured about sixteen miles southeast of Rhodes Springs. The opals occur in a very hard Jasper quartz matrix, and are of sufficient size to make them of commercial value. In quality they are not to be surpassed by the finest Austrian opal.

Goldfield, Nev.—The control of the Bullfrog and Goldfield Railroad has passed to F. M. (Borax) Smith, owner of the Tonopah and Tidewater system, practically a branch of the Santa Fe. The Tonopah and Tidewater connects with the main line of the Santa Fe at Ludlow, Cal. A terminal depot will be built near the center of Goldfield and a round-house and machine shops established.

Los Angeles.—Frank Padovani, once the leading tenor with Adelina Patti, but for many years a vendor of ice cream in this city, died a few days ago after an illness of four months. Padovani was one of the characters of Los Angeles. He drove a wagon through the streets crying his wares to the notes of well known operas in which he sang a quarter of a century ago. He is believed to have been about 65 years of age and leaves a widow.

San Jose.—According to the records of the County Clerk's office, Rev. John Glen of Portland, Ore., who recently took for his wife Mrs. Virginia Clarkson of San Jose, aged 60 years, has nearly reached man's allotted span of years. He is 69 years of age, but is a hale and hearty preacher of the faith of the Free Methodist Church, having a thriving congregation in Portland. He was formerly pastor of the Free Methodist congregation in San Jose, of which his bride was one of the most faithful attendants.

San Francisco.—The California State Board of Trade at the meeting held last week listened to a report made by Eugene Anderson of Walnut Creek, Contra Costa county, in which he stated that the thrips, small, spotted flies, have destroyed the pear crops in his vicinity for the past four seasons, and have caused great damage to the prune crops in other sections. The fruit growers, he stated, were unable to combat that insect, and the Board appointed a committee to appeal to the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., at once, asking for relief to the fruit growers of California.

TRYING TO PROTECT STATE'S INTERESTS

Needham Intervenes to Block Bill Aimed at Fruit Industry of California.

Washington.—Representative Needham, having learned that the Legislature of Oklahoma had under consideration a bill which forbids the sale of any food product containing sulphur in the State, has taken prompt steps to prevent action on it, if possible. After wiring to the State Board of Trade, he called on Senator Gore of Oklahoma and had a talk with him. Needham explained the regulations of the Pure Food Board of the Department of Agriculture, and showed that Oklahoma proposed more drastic regulations than those adopted by the Federal Government; that the proposed law would be an unreasonable hardship on California producers, and that it would restrict the privileges of residents of the new State.

Senator Gore listened with great attention, and then asked Needham to give him a full written statement on the subject, which he forwarded to the Governor of Oklahoma.

Washington.—A. R. Briggs of the California State Board of Trade has gone to Guthrie, Okla., where he will institute a campaign against the bill now pending in that State prohibiting the sale of dried fruits in which sulphur has been used.

Gored to Death by Pet Bull.

Santa Cruz.—John Bruna, living on Bear creek road near Boulder creek, was gored to death by a pet bull at his home a few days ago. For a year Bruna has been an interesting spectacle, driving through town with his bull hitched to a cart, the animal apparently being very docile and responding to the reins like a well trained horse. It is thought that while leading the animal to water Bruna was gored to death. Judging from the torn earth and blood bespattered boards and fences along the lane, a terrible struggle must have taken place. Bruna's body was gored in several places.

Three-Story Building, 26 Inches Wide.

Reno, Nev.—High prices for ground space in the commercial district of Reno have resulted in the construction of the narrowest building for its height in the United States. H. C. Gordon has put up a three-story structure with a base of 26 inches. Through the narrow entrance Gordon squeezes his way every morning and climbs two flights of stairs to the top, where he repairs shoes. On the second floor he has placed his stock, and on the ground floor only customers who are slim enough to get in are allowed to transact business.

Strike Rich Ore Vein.

Grass Valley.—Ore going from $25,000 to $30,000 a ton was struck six feet below the surface on Red Ledge property, a mile from the town of Washington, sixteen miles north of Nevada City. The property is being worked by the Williamson Brothers and H. Cole. The ledge is quartz croppings, six feet across, and the vein of rich ore is from four to six inches. The ledge and vein have been traced for miles into Sierra county.

Trying to Check Immigration.

Budapest.—The recent warning to intending emigrants, issued by the Minister of the Interior, that the economic situation in America had not shown sufficient improvement to give prospect of obtaining work, has failed to check the outflow from this country. The Minister now announces that immigrants who have gone to the United States since January 1st last will not be given the privilege of returning to Hungary gratis.

Accused of Selling Forged Paintings.

New York.—William Clausen, one of the most prominent art dealers in the city, was arrested on a charge of having sold to William T. Evans, a well known collector of paintings, a number of pictures as genuine which are alleged to be forgeries. Clausen was arraigned and released on $5,000 bail.

American Steamer Seized.

Vancouver, B. C.—Pound fishing inside the three-mile limit at the north end of Vancouver Island, the American steam halibut schooner Francis Cutting, owned by the Seattle Fish and Cold Storage Company, was seized by the Canadian fisheries cruiser Kestrel and brought to Vancouver.

Light Sentence for Big Theft.

New York.—J. Edward Boeck, who a few days ago pleaded guilty to the theft of more than $100,000 worth of jewelry, was sentenced to Sing Sing for not less than six years or more than seven years. Boeck was arrested in California.

GREATEST OF ALL FIGHTING FLEETS NOW BUT A MEMORY

San Francisco.—With an absence of ceremony, in marked contrast to their entrance twelve days before, the battle-ships of the Atlantic fleet sailed out through the Heads in a thin drizzle Monday morning and pointed their bows to the northward.

Several thousand persons had gathered on the wharves to witness the departure and fragmentary crowds dotted the hills, but there were no formal observances—merely a signal or two, a hoisting of anchors and then a procession through the Golden Gate.

Admiral Charles S. Sperry led the way with the Connecticut and in the wake of the flagship steamed thirteen of the vessels that had come with the armada under Admiral Evans. Two of them, the Maine and the Alabama, had been left behind and in their places went the Nebraska and the Wisconsin.

The departure of the warships brought to a close the celebration which has focused the eyes of the world on San Francisco.

The vessels are scheduled to return to this port on July 3d and their officers and men will take part in the patriotic demonstration planned for the day following.

Early in the morning launches on the bay were busily engaged carrying to the warships men who had over stayed their shore leave. A provost guard had rounded up some of the tardy seamen and they were hurried on board.

At 11 o'clock the flagship called for "speed ahead," and the white column began to move. Merchantmen, decked for the occasion, saluted the squadrons as they passed toward Alcatraz Island. Rounding Fort Point the armada penetrated the light mist and made for the open sea.

On its way to northern waters the fleet will sail close to the shore for the benefit of the residents of the cities that front the ocean. The first stop will be made at Puget Sound, where the festivities which have marked the course of the fleet will be renewed.

The retirement of Admirals Evans and Thomas necessitated a general rearrangement of commands. Captain Wainwright had charge of the second division, Admiral Emory of the third and Captain Schroeder of the fourth. This arrangement, it is understood, will be continued during the remainder of the tour.

The sailing of the Pacific and Atlantic fleets within one day of each other has left a void in the bay. Only the South Dakota and a few auxiliaries remain.

Washington.—Secretary Metcalf has detailed Admiral Robley D. Evans to duty with the general board of the Navy, which has to do with the preparation of plans for Naval campaigns for use in time of war. After the Admiral's retirement in August it is probable that he will be detailed for "special duty" with the board.

COAST METROPOLIS SOON TO HAVE MODERN STOCK YARDS

San Francisco.—San Francisco is to have a union stock yards similar in every respect to the great stock yards of Omaha, Chicago, Kansas City and other cities of the Middle West, and in these new yards there will be a wholesale market for live stock, bringing the producer and butcher together as they never have been joined on this Coast.

Such in brief is the statement made by J. W. Lillenthal, the attorney, who is one of the directors and incorporators of a corporation known as the South San Francisco Union Stock Yards Company. This company was organized a few days ago.

The site of the union stock yards has already been selected, the corporation having secured 100 acres of land at the first station on the Bay Shore Cut-off Railway, which is near South City, just beyond the county line. There is to be no delay in establishing the enterprise, as the work of building the stock yards will commence immediately, and once the yards are finished, the company will begin using the yards.

"We are trying to establish at South San Francisco," said Lillenthal, "the same institutions as are found at Kansas City, Omaha, Chicago, St. Joseph and other cities of the East and West. We believe that San Francisco should have union stock yards, as it is for the benefit of both the wholesale butcher and the producer of stock. This is only doing for San Francisco what has been done with success in those cities. It will be a great market for raisers and buyers, where the cattlemen will secure top prices for the stock and the wholesale butchers will find just the stock they want in the open market. The plan is absolutely new here. A tract of 100 acres has been acquired near South San Francisco, and the work of construction will be started at once. The stock coming from the ranges will be all handled there direct from the railroad cars. The company will be compensated by fees for caring for the stock and for selling, the plan being exactly the same as in the Western stock yards."

HARRIMAN HAS STUPENDOUS PLAN TO RECLAIM DESERT

Los Angeles.—The most stupendous irrigation system in the world, calling for an outlay of $5,000,000 on constructive work alone, and reclaiming 1,500,000 acres of desert land, is the definite project of E. H. Harriman in the Imperial valley. His plan contemplates an immense high-line canal from a point on the Alamo River, twenty miles east of Sharp's Heading, 100 feet above sea level and following a contour above the old beach line on the east and north sides of the desert basin that once held a mighty inland sea, around the easterly side of Imperial valley, along the hills above Salton sea, and thence down the Coachella valley to Indio, passing the fertile territory of Meca, Thermal and Coachella. This canal will be 125 miles long and cover approximately 2,500 square miles. With water, this land will become the most fertile on the American continent, and will leap in value from nothing to as high as $1,500 an acre.

Harriman figures that sales of railroad lands redeemed by this irrigation project will return to the Southern Pacific the entire cost of the canal and appurtenant works, and leave it clear to the company as a perpetual source of enormous income.

STRENUOUS TIMES IN STORE FOR FAT OFFICERS OF ARMY

Washington.—President Roosevelt has approved a new general order which will be issued to the Army in a few weeks describing a new riding test for officers, which will be held in accordance with the President's former orders for thirty miles' ride for three consecutive days. The new order recites that the purpose of the test is to render it necessary for officers, especially those approaching the close of middle life, to adopt such measures and pursue such habits as will enable them to be always fit for active field service.

Coast artillery officers, who were exempted from the former riding test, will be required to make a fifty-mile walk in three consecutive days and in a total of twenty hours.

Test rides in the United States and Alaska will be held in three months, beginning in August, and rides in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines in three months beginning about December 1st. Two of the thirty-mile-a-day rides will be made within seven and a half hours and the other in six hours. Medical examination of all officers shall be made both before and after the test ride.

COREANS GROUND UNDER IRON HEEL.

American Official Charges Japanese With Inhuman Treatment of Helpless Natives.

London.—An American official, who has returned from Corea, has been talking to a correspondent for the Manchester Dispatch about the brutal methods of the Japanese in governing that splendid spoil of the recent war. He expressed himself indignantly as to the gross cruelty and injustice with which, he said, the Japanese treat the Coreans.

"I know of cases," he said, "where Coreans have been tied to crosses and have been riddled with bullets merely for requesting payment for their confiscated land."

He insists that the Japanese are extremely hostile to all form of foreign enterprise in those portions of the Asiatic mainland subject to their domination and are doing all they can to drive foreigners out of the country. He says also that the Japanese are as hostile to Englishmen as to any other variety of European, looking upon the much-vaunted alliance as a confession of England's weakness.

"They are treading," he continued, "on everybody's toes, and some concessionaries get more support from Washington than the British do from their Foreign Office, where Japan is concerned."

Refused to Marry in Public.

Tacoma, Wash.—For two weeks an Aberdeen dry-goods firm advertised a wedding to take place in one of its show windows. On the appointed day five thousand persons gathered in front of the building to witness the ceremony. The marriage was opposed by the Polish Catholic priest and the couple later were married in church. The merchants secured another couple and took them to Montesano and procured a license, but at the hour for the ceremony Miss Richards, the young woman, became hysterical and refused to go through with the ceremony. She consented to appear in the window in her bridal outfit with the man she was to marry and did so. The crowd became uproarious and declared the entire affair a fake. Hundreds of presents contributed by merchants were returned to the donors.

Chain Gang Quenches Fire.

San Luis Obispo.—The County Hospital was saved from destruction by fire by the chain gang of prisoners employed on the county road. The nurse at the pesthouse, where John Lopez, a smallpox patient, is confined, was burning the clothing of the patient when the flames spread to the dry grass and, fanned by a high wind, the fire threatened the building. Warning was sent to the chain gang and they worked heroically and quenched the flames.

Plan National Employment Office.

New York.—Alexander Law, who was delegated to convey to Washington a resolution passed at the recent convention for the unemployed held here, reported to a gathering of unemployed in Manhattan Lyceum. He said that Congressman Fornes of New York had promised to introduce in the House of Representatives the resolutions of the convention calling for large public works to furnish employment for the idle.

Crushed by Falling Tree.

Fresno.—George Seaninovich, a tree limber in the employ of the Fresno Flume and Irrigation Company's mills at Shaver, met instant death by being crushed near a falling tree. When the tree fellers completed their work an alarm was given. Seaninovich became confused and ran directly under the falling tree.

Shriners Aid Noble Cause.

San Francisco.—Islam Temple, Ancient Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, has made a donation of $5,000 to the Children's Hospital, the proceeds from the Shriners' circus, which exhibited in this city for one week, managed and manned by members of the order, and for the benefit of that noble charity.

Thirty Perish in Tornado.

Shreveport, La.—Thirty dead and 200 injured is a conservative estimate of the fatalities caused by the tornado which swept through Northern Louisiana a few days ago, destroying three small towns and leaving wrecked homes and ruined crops in a path a mile wide and fifty miles long.

Mercury Curing Tuberculosis.

Washington.—Recent advices from the new Naval hospital at Fort Lyon, Colo., confirm the promising report made by Surgeon B. L. Wright, on duty at that sanitarium, regarding the results of treating tuberculosis by the use of mercury.

CURRENT NEWS OF THE WORLD

Important Events of the Week in Both Hemispheres Compiled for Busy Readers.

What Has Happened, What Is Happening, and What is Likely to Happen, Related by Correspondents in Every Corner of the Earth.

Havana.—An explosion of dynamite on the great Vinales highway, which is now being constructed in Pinar del Rio province, killed eight men and injured many others.

Tangier.—A Franco-Spanish police force has been installed and it at present operates in Tangier. The Frenchmen occupy posts outside and the Spaniards posts inside the city.

New York.—"The" Allen, once known as the "wickedest man in New York," died at his home, 17 West Eighth street, last week. He was the owner of several saloons and gambling places.

Manila.—Ailen Gard, Governor of Lanao, is dead, the result of bolo wounds inflicted by Moros. He underwent a series of operations, from which he gradually sank and never rallied.

Manila.—Second Lieutenant Arthur R. Ehrnbeck, corps of engineers, United States Army, is missing from his station in Mindanao. He left Pinar alone one month ago and has not been heard of since. It is feared he is dead.

Washington.—There has been withdrawn from all forms of entry, except under the mineral land laws, an area of about 432,535 acres in California as a proposed addition to the Shasta National forest. The withdrawn area lies in Siskiyou and Shasta counties.

Washington.—Thousands of tons of coal are to be delivered to the Atlantic battle-ship fleet at Albany, Australia, at $6.29 per ton. Bowring & Co. of New York and the United States Shipping Company of the same city were awarded contracts for furnishing 15,000 tons each.

Washington.—In the Senate, Foraker abandoned his effort to secure consideration at this session of his bill reinstating the negro troops who were discharged from service on account of the Brownsville riot, and moved to make the bill the special order for December 16th next.

New York.—The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, acting for the Western Pacific, has sold $15,000,000 two-year 6 per cent notes, with the privilege of extending them for three years from 1910. The proceeds of the sales of these notes will be used in completion of the construction of the Western Pacific.

Simla.—The British punitive force against the Mohmand tribesmen, which consists of two brigades under the command of Major-General Sir James Willcocks, has arrived at Dand, twenty miles north of Peshawar. It is evident that the tribesmen intend fighting, for they have sent their women and children away and have taken up positions in the hills.

Canea, Island of Crete.—After nearly eleven years of occupation, the four powers that have had in hand the protection of Crete—Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy—have decided that the people of the island under the able administration of the Grecian High Commissioner, Alexander T. A. Zaimis, have settled down sufficiently to justify the withdrawal of the international troops.

Honolulu.—The trans-Pacific yacht race from San Pedro to Honolulu is off for this year. Except the yacht Hawaii, representing the Hawaii Yacht Club, there were no entries. The race this year was under the auspices of the South Coast Yacht Club of Los Angeles. It is said that the recent panic has so severely affected most of the yacht owners financially that none of them feel able to undertake the expense that an entry and sailing race would involve.

Washington.—About four weeks ago the Navy Department, anticipating favorable action by Congress on the proposition to enlist 6,000 additional men, issued instructions to Naval recruiting officers to resume acceptance of candidates for enlistment. Returns indicate that there will be no difficulty in getting the men if the present ratio of applicants for enlistment continues. In the first week after resuming work 134 recruits were accepted, in the second week 194 and in the third week 224. One-half of the 6,000 men are to be immediately enlisted and the remainder after the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Practical Education.

We make the following extracts from an interesting article by Philip Emerson, principal of the Cobbett School, Lynn, Mass., in Maxwell's Talisman:

There is a science of agriculture and horticulture. Investigators and leaders have called into service the several natural sciences from geology to chemistry, and have applied them to man's service in this fundamental field of industry, until now the various contributions are being organized into a unified system of knowledge and practice. While plant culture was formerly empirical, its practice being passed from father to son by home training; now, as a science, its principles are to be taught in schools and colleges. Moreover, with the migration of the more ambitious and studious from country to city, for several generations, neither country nor city parents are fitted to train boys and girls for full success with farm fields or village gardens in the face of present keen competition. There must be agricultural high schools for country districts as well as commercial and industrial high school for cities, and boys and girls who plan for life in the country should choose among the courses offered by agricultural colleges and university schools of horticulture even as their city cousins choose courses in college and university. Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded. Further than this, every child should be taught the principles of plant culture and trained to apply these truths to the growth of vegetables, fruits, and flowers, for every home should possess a productive garden as surely as a sheltering roof.

No plan for encouraging home gardening by adults or children can attain large success unless it includes provision for instruction in horticulture and supervision in garden methods. As an ideal the public school should provide the instruction and the parents direct the training. At present neither school nor home is fitted for the task in most localities. A most successful and enthusiastic summer school of agriculture for teachers was conducted by the Massachusetts Agricultural College this past summer. This is doubtless but the first of many such schools in the several states. One is being planned for New Hampshire to be held the coming summer. The Massachusetts school is to be continued and broadened in its courses. Every community should encourage its teachers to avail themselves of such opportunities and should then increase their salaries in proportion to resulting increase in the value of their services.

In country and village, in towns and smaller cities, there is no need that the schools undertake to do all that homes once did well in the way of industrial training. The school may serve as an instrument for arousing the home to exercising the opportunity for instructing children in practical crafts. Supt. O. P. Morton of Marlboro, Massachusetts, while at Georgetown originated the plan of arranging an autumn prize exhibition of products of the children's work in gardening, wood-working, sewing, and cooking. In the spring a number of classes of products were suggested in each field of work, and the teachers encouraged the children to prepare themselves to compete. The needed guidance and training, however, were to be secured from parents and other adult friends. If a boy's own father lacked the knowledge or inclination to teach him, some other father came to his aid. If one mother did not know how to make jelly or to make an apron, some aunt or older friend might come to the rescue. The home and school should cooperate in all industrial work. Sometimes the best homes may unite forces to awaken the school to aid the community and again the school may arouse parents to willing recognition of hitherto neglected opportunities and duties.

Why the Martyr?

Under the above caption the San Francisco Examiner publishes an interesting list of those who have become martyrs at different periods of the world's history for the truths they cherished and would have their fellows accept. Following is an abbreviated enrollment of its martyrs:

- Xerxes was assassinated.
- Socrates was made to drink the fatal hemlock.
- Alexander the Great died in his youth.
- Scipio was killed in bed.
- Seneca, the Roman moralist, was banished to Corsica.
- Hannibal took poison to prevent a disgraceful death.
- Caesar was stabbed by his friends.
- Philip of Macedon was assassinated.
- Archimedes was stabbed for refusing to go to Marcellus until he finished his problem.
- Mohammed was despised and persecuted.
- Bruno was burned alive and his ashes thrown to the four winds.
- Dante was banished from Florence.
- Sir Walter Raleigh was beheaded.
- Admiral Coligny was murdered in the St. Bartholomew Massacre.
- Joan of Arc was burned at the stake.
- Savonarola, the gentle friar, was strangled and then burned on a heap of faggots.
- Madame Roland, lovely and good, was beheaded.
- Cardinal Wolsey died tragically a prisoner on the way to London.
- Milton was stricken blind, Beethoven was stricken deaf. Oh, that it could have reversed!
- Martin Luther was excommunicated and persecuted.
- Columbus died in poverty and neglect.
- Palissy, the Potter, who burned his house to feed his furnaces, died in the Bastille.
- Cervantes was thrust into prison for debt.
- Henry of Navarre was assassinated.
- Galileo was made to recant under penalty of death.
- Napoleon was sent to St. Helena.
- Charles, I, was beheaded.
- Marshall Ney, bravest of the brave, was cruelly shot to death.

The Printer Prints.

Whether it snow or whether it blow
The seasons come and the seasons go;
The crops get sick and the farmers blue,
The storekeepers kick and the lawyers sue;
The preachers preach and the sinners sin,
And cares beset the souls of men.
But through it all the printer prints;
He saves and saves and stints and stints;
The winds may wave and floods may roll,
And droughts bake through from pole to pole,
But the printer man he prints and prints,
He saves and saves and stints and stints;
Happy, happy, the printer man
He does the very best he can,
Sticking type or twisting press—
He trusts to luck and does his best.

Editors Will Come in June.

Contractor L. S. Bean, who is at work with a large crew on the Hamilton Improvement Company's building at the corner of Hamilton avenue and Ramona street, states, that the concrete work has been practically completed and that the plasters will commence work on the interior within a few days. The plastering finished, the interior woodwork will be hurried to completion in as short a time as possible, and he thinks it likely that the building will be ready to turn over to the owners not later than a month from this date—or about June 17th.

All Santa Clara County editors have a sort of sentimental interest in this building, since Editor H. W. Simkins, of the Palo Alto, and the Palo Alto Times, has invited the Association to assist in the dedication of the new home of the papers named.

It was voted at the last meeting of the Santa Clara County Editorial Association to accept Mr. Simpkins' invitation. The exact date of the meeting at Palo Alto will depend upon the time Mr. Simkins may announce for the dedication of the new building, but it is likely it will be somewhere near June 22d. Due notice will be given editors. —Palo Alto Citizen.

Local Attorney Finds Valuable Gems.

Chief of Police Armstrong of Santa Cruz came to San Jose to recover some diamond rings which had been found in Santa Cruz. The rings were in the possession of L. D. Bohnet, a local attorney and former clerk of Department Two of the Superior Court. The rings had been found by Mr. Bohnet's little sister while she was playing on the beach at Santa Cruz during the visit of the fleet to that city.

The child did not realize that the rings were valuable and she said nothing to any of the members of the family. After returning to San Jose Mr. Bohnet noticed the child playing with two valuable diamond rings and he asked her where she found them. She told him that the rings were lying on one of the logs on the beach and that she thought they were prize box rings.

Mr. Bohnet upon learning this at once notified Chief Armstrong that the rings were in his possession. Chief Armstrong notified a man named Robinson, who had lost the rings, and urged him to come here and claim his property. Robinson is an Englishman and is not very well known in this country, having come here only a few months ago. Knowing that Chief Armstrong was acquainted in this city, he asked that he come and obtain the property.

Mr. Bohnet yesterday returned the rings to Chief Armstrong. The rings were valued at $450. They were both diamond rings.—Morning Times.

Campbell vs. Coyote.

The Campbell baseball team will go to Coyote Sunday to cross bats with the "Yelpers" of that place. The Campbell team is one of the best in this section and is defeating about every team it goes up against. The team has been defeated but twice this season—once by the Sodality professional club of Santa Clara and once by the Fredericksburg team. On the other hand the boys have defeated the famous Sunnyvale team in a score of 3 to 1; the Rainiers, and several teams on the brickyard grounds. Against the Coyote team the Campbell line-up will be as follows: Peacock, 1b; Eddleman, 2b; McKenzie, ss; Sawyer, c; Stockton, p; Amel, lf; Archibald, rf; Kruger, cf; Washburn, 3b.

J. J. Cornell, who resides on the Los Gatos road, reported to Sheriff Langford to-day that a black horse had wandered to his place and was being kept there pending the claim of the owner.

PRESS NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holmes left on Monday for a vacation at the coast.

Miss Adella Cook is home from Berkeley, having graduated, receiving her degree.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lloyd and daughter, Bernice, went to the city to witness the graduation of Merle Lloyd from the school of pharmacy. Merle's friends here wish him success.

E. M. Tousley, secretary of the Right Relation League of Minneapolis and representatives from local companies and Rochdale Wholesale Co. will address those interested in Co-operation at the Coffee Club on May 25th at 8 p. m.

The Sunday-school picnics of the Congregational and Methodist Churches will be held on this Saturday at Congress Springs. A special car for each school will leave Campbell at 8 o'clock. The fare for the round trip will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Enquire of E. C. Harlbert

A meeting of the stockholders of the Santa Clara Valley Water Company was held on Monday for the purpose of considering a proposition of consolidation with the Orchard Irrigating Co. We understand that the proposition was voted down by the stockholders, although a large number favored the idea.

The government has posted a notice at the post office asking for bids to carry the mails between Campbell and Almaden. The successful bidder must leave Almaden at 7 o'clock and arrive here in time to receive the mail from the 11 o'clock train, returning to Almaden. It will therefore be necessary to live at the latter place. The bids must be in the hands of the post office authorities by May 26th. The contract is for two years service beginning with June 15th we believe. This is a chance for some enterprising Campbell resident.

Roadmaster Thomas has about completed the work of grading Hamilton Avenue from the Infirmary Road to Leigh Avenue. It is proposed that when the road-bed becomes fully packed to gravel it, thus making one of the best stretches of road in the district. The road has been widened, allowing the walnut trees to remain for shade. It is hoped that property owners east of Leigh Avenue will see the wisdom of allowing a few feet from their properties so that the same width of road can be secured for the entire distance to the Meridian Road. On account of the electric cars this road should be widened.

Best Proposition to Our Readers.

By a special arrangement made with The Farm Journal, undoubtedly the best farm and home monthly journal published, containing on an average forty pages each issue, we are enabled to make this splendid offer: We will furnish the INTERURBAN PRESS one year and The Farm Journal for five years for $1.25. But remember every subscription must be paid fully in advance. If you are already a subscriber to our paper you can extend your subscription one year to this paper and receive The Farm Journal five years by paying $1.25. Ask to see a copy of this excellent farm journal. It is packed full of good things.

Every Orchardist Needs It.

The Farm Journal has nearly three million readers each issue. It is the best farm paper in America, and it pleases the women folks all to pieces. We have made a special arrangement by which by paying $1.25 for the INTERURBAN PRESS one year in advance the subscription will include The Farm Journal for the balance of 1908, and all of 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912, five years, at little more than the price of our paper alone.

Pomona Grange.

Last Saturday Pomona Grange met in Campbell, there being representatives present from Cupertino, Sunnyvale, Mountain View and San Jose. In the morning a meeting of Pomona Grange occupied the time with a business session. At the dinner hour one of the grange's famous harvest feasts was greatly enjoyed by all those present.

In the afternoon the following program was rendered: Vocal solo, Mrs. M. E. Luther; reading, Mrs. Wilson; address by District Attorney Arthur M. Free, on the subject of the "Laws of California and their Relation to Women." This was very instructive and interesting. County Entomologist Morris gave an address on "Fruit Pests," which was very valuable. Interspersed throughout the program the orchestra, composed of Mrs. Copeland, piano, Calvin Bohnett, violin, and Mervyn Keesling, cornet, rendered several pleasing selections.

Those present pronounce the meeting a most interesting and profitable one, and Orchard City Grange has maintained its reputation for hospitality.

An Eighth Moon for Jupiter.

The staff of Greenwich Observatory announce that they have discovered an eighth satellite for Jupiter. During an examination of photographic plates of Jupiter, Mr. Melotte, one of the assistant astronomers, discovered a faint marking occupying slightly different positions on different plates. The satellite has a retrograde motion.—Scientific American.

The Railway Age says that 5,730 miles of new track was laid in the United States in 1907, being 8 per cent less than in the previous year. The States in which largest mileage was laid were Louisiana, 422 miles; South Dakota, 385 miles; Florida, 341 miles; Texas, 314 miles; and Washington, 311 miles.—Scientific American.
