THE 1967-68 OUTLOOK

Bowling Green State University moves into the 1967-68 basketball season with a total of six lettermen back from the 1966-67 club that compiled an 11-13 mark and finished in fourth place in the Mid-American Conference.

Out of the six veterans, four were starters with last year's squad while the other two were part-time starters and top-flight reserves so Coach Bill Fitch will step into his first year at Bowling Green with an experienced crew.

Discussing the 1967-68 team, Fitch stated, "the early non-conference schedule is rugged but if we mature and 'jell' during these games, we could have a good club in January and February."

"The spirit has been excellent on this team since we are a senior dominated club and they want one winning season before joining the alumni ranks."

This season's returning letter winners are forwards Walt Piatkowski, Joe Henderson and Carl Assenheimer along with center Al Dixon. Two experienced back court players, Al Hairston and Dick Rudgers, are also back with the Falcons.

Bowling Green's veteran crew for the 1967-68 season was cut from seven to six when letter winning guard Rich Hendrix was forced out of action with a knee injury that failed to respond to treatment.

Hendrix was Bowling Green's third leading scorer last season as he averaged 12.0 points a game and also served as the Falcons captain. As a sophomore, Hendrix averaged 10.5. He was a starter for two years.

Piatkowski figures to supply much of the 1967-68 fire power for the Falcons. For the past two campaigns, he has led the Bowling Green five in the scoring column and as he moves into his senior season, he is now the ninth leading all-time scorer at BGSU.

As a sophomore, Piatkowski drilled through 442 points for an 18.4 average before coming up with 534 points and a 22.3 mark as a junior. So, he has now accounted for 976 points in two seasons. If he has another fine year, he could move as high as fourth place in the all-time list and therefore rank behind only Howard Komives, Jim Darrow and Charles Share.

Piatkowski won the Mid-American Conference's scoring title in 1965-66 and was also named to the first string All-MAC unit. This past campaign, he was second in loop scoring and earned a second team All-Conference berth.

While Piatkowski has always been a consistent scorer at Bowling Green, he figures to get plenty of help this season from the other five letter winners plus a good sprinkling of sophomores and non-letter winning juniors.

Hairston finished in double figures last year with a mark of 15.4 while Dixon was just out of double figures with a 9.9 average. Henderson, Rudgers and Assenheimer averaged 7.0, 5.3 and 5.6 points a game respectively.

In 1966-67, Bowling Green averaged 78.8 points a game and as the Falcons move into the 1967-68 campaign, nearly 70 of those points are still incorporated into BGSU's attack.

So, the Falcons figure to have adequate fire power in the lineup. With Dixon, who stands 6-9, Piatkowski, who comes in at 6-8, Henderson, 6-5, Assenheimer, 6-4, and John Heft, who measures out at 6-7, Bowling Green also figures to be able to compete with most squads in the rebounding department.

Heft, Mark Hoffman, who stands 6-4, and John Compton all saw limited action with Bowling Green's 1966-67 team and could figure into the Falcons 1967-68 plans along with five sophomores, Mark Hennessey, Dennis Cavanaugh, Zip Zuber, Wayne Kroll and Sid Rodeheffer.

Zuber paced last year's freshman team in the scoring column as he compiled a 14.3 average while Kroll was just a notch behind at 14.2. Hennessey and Cavanaugh also showed they know how to put the ball through the hoop as they finished at 11.9 and 9.5 respectively.

BOWLING GREEN'S STRENGTHS AND WEAKNESSES THIS YEAR:

Size: As a starting unit, Bowling Green should match up pretty well with most teams on the Falcons' 1967-68 schedule. However, the reserves drop off sharply in the height department.

Speed: The 1967-68 Falcons find themselves just a little below average in this department for the type of schedule they play. The offensive speed is fine but the defensive speed is below par.

Shooting: Bowling Green finds itself adequate in the shooting department with players like Walt Piatkowski and Al Hairston figuring to take the majority of BGSU's attempts from the field.

Depth: In this department, the Falcons are questionable as the season gets underway. The front court figures to be more of a problem than the back court for Bowling Green.

MEET THE FALCONS

FORWARDS

CARL ASSENHEIMER

6-4, 210

Senior

Age: 21

Tiffin

Assenheimer is a better than average shooter who could develop into a good scorer if he improves his offensive moves . . . his experience and capabilities of playing more than one position add to his value as far as the 1967-68 squad is concerned . . . needs to improve his defensive work . . . Assenheimer has earned two letters with the Falcons while seeing plenty of action in the last two campaigns . . . as a sophomore, Assenheimer drilled home 91 points in 20 games for a 4.6 average . . . as a sophomore, he came up with the best production of his career by scoring 19 points at Notre Dame . . . last year, Assenheimer finished as the Falcons' seventh leading scorer as he found the range on 112 points in 20 games for a 5.6 mark . . . averaged .420 from the field and .545 from the charity line . . . he had his best 1966-67 game against Northern Illinois as he scored 18 . . . in two seasons, Assenheimer has now scored 203 points with the Falcons . . . At Tiffin Columbian High School, Assenheimer earned All-League and honorable mention All-State honors . . . he lettered for three years while playing all three positions . . . Assenheimer set Columbian's scoring record with 39 points.

JOE HENDERSON

6-5, 200

Senior

Age: 24

Detroit, Mich.

Henderson must be labeled as old reliable . . . he is the oldest player on the 1967-68 squad . . . however, he is a good, sound basketball player with a fine mental attitude . . . good defensive player . . . his offensive work will improve this season if he looks for the scoring opportunities more often and works on his offensive moves . . . deceptive rebounder for his size . . . lettered with the Falcons in 1966-67 as he stepped right into a starting berth after coming to Bowling Green from Allan Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria, California . . . finished as Bowling Green's fifth leading scorer last year as he connected for 153 points in 22 games for a 7.0 average . . . from the field, he hit on .436 of his shots while making .773 from the foul line . . . also owned BGSU's third highest rebounding mark as he averaged 7.8 . . . his finest game in 1966-67 came against Marshall as he scored 15 points and collected 11 rebounds . . . in the scoring department, he was in double figures eight times while he also collected 10 or more rebounds in eight games . . . Henderson played his high school basketball at Detroit Northeastern under Bowling Green's varsity assistant coach Bob Conibear . . . with the Northeastern Falcons, Henderson lettered for two years as a forward.

MARK HOFFMAN

6-4, 190
Age: 20

Junior Bellevue

A real hustler . . . probably excels at the defensive end of the court more than any other of the underclassmen . . . needs game experience but he could benefit the Falcons a great deal in the later stages of the 1967-68 schedule . . . Hoffman was a member of Bowling Green's 1966-67 squad but he didn't see enough action to letter . . . he appeared in six games and shot

1.000 from the field as he put in a field goal against Loyola . . . he was the second leading scorer on Bowling Green's 1965-66 freshman squad as he poured through 241 points for a 14.2 average . . . his best effort of the season came against Findlay College as he totaled 27 . . . Hoffman earned a total of nine letters at Bellevue High School . . . in basketball, he lettered for three years as a forward and center and made the All-League squads for two seasons . . . also lettered in football and golf.

WALT PIATKOWSKI

6-8, 220
Age: 22

Senior
Toledo

Piatkowski worked hard during the off-season in an effort to make his senior year a great one . . . an excellent shooter who with a little more work could easily become an excellent passer . . . needs work on rebounding and defensive play . . . these are two areas he could become very good at with the proper self discipline . . . if his rebounding and defensive work continue to improve, he could be a fine pro prospect . . . Piatkowski has paced the Falcons in the scoring department for the past two seasons . . . last year, he connected for 534 points in 24 outings for a 22.3 average . . . hit on .465 of his shots from the field and .741 from the line . . . he was also the Falcons second leading rebounder with a 9.1 average . . . his best scoring efforts came against Michigan and Toledo in 1966-67 as he fired in 33 points in both contests . . . took off 15 rebounds against Western Michigan . . . averaged 18.4 points a game as a sophomore . . . in his first season, he finished with a high production of 32 points against Syracuse . . . All Mid-American Conference first team selection as a sophomore and a second team pick as a junior . . . led the conference in scoring in 1965-66 with an 18.9 mark then came in second last year with an average of 23.0 . . . he has now scored 976 points in his first two years to rank as Bowling Green's ninth highest all-time career scorer . . . great scorer with all the shots . . . with the Toledo Woodward High School Polar Bears, Piatkowski was an All-City, All-State and honorable mention All-American . . . lettered for three years at Woodward.

ADRIAN ZUBER

6-4, 180
Age: 19

Sophomore
Lima

Zuber's adjustment from freshman basketball to the varsity level has been slower than Bowling Green's coaching staff would like . . . man without a position in that he is an almost guard and an almost forward . . . how he develops in weak areas of speed and aggressiveness will determine where and how much he will play for the Falcons . . . Zuber had a fine year with the 1966-67 freshman squad as he averaged 14.3 points a game . . . he connected for 215 points in 15 games . . . took 199 shots and hit on 94 for a .472 percentage . . . also hit on 27 of 42 charity shots and averaged 6.3 in the rebounding department while playing forward for the Falcons . . . scored 20 or more points in three games with his high coming against Ohio Northern as he drilled in 24 points on 10 field goals and four foul shots . . . came to Bowling Green after a fine career with the Lima Shawnee High School Indians . . . lettered for three years as a forward and gained All-League, All-City, All-District and honorable mention All-State honors.

CENTERS

AL DIXON

6-9, 220

Age: 21

Senior

Toledo

Dixon's ability to rebound is his strength and he could be even better in this department with more work and effort on his part . . . has shown great dedication to improve during the preseason drills . . . Dixon doesn't know how good he can be offensively . . . if he will push himself, he will be a great assist to this 1967-68 squad . . . Dixon has lettered with the Falcons for the past two seasons while holding down the first string center post . . . as a sophomore, he totaled 170 points for a 7.1 average while also averaging 11.0 in the rebounding department . . . that campaign, he ended up as the third leading rebounder in the Mid-American Conference as he also tied Nate Thurmond's single-game rebounding record at BGSU by taking off 31 against Northern Illinois . . . last season, Dixon finished as Bowling Green's fourth leading scorer as he came up with 207 markers and a 9.9 average in 21 games . . . also increased his rebounding average as he finished at 11.3 . . . in two seasons, Dixon has now collected 377 points and 501 rebounds with the Falcons . . . he turned in his best game last year against Marshall as he scored 25 points and had 10 rebounds . . . his high in the rebounding department was 20 against Miami . . . with the Scott High School Bulldogs, Dixon lettered for two years at center and landed a second team All-City berth as a senior . . . he was an honorable mention All-City selection as a junior.

JOHN HEFT

6-7, 200

Age: 21

Junior

Columbus

During the preseason drills, Heft continued to show steady improvement . . . he won't dazzle you with any great strengths but his desire and the fact that he keeps plugging away, wears you down . . . he lost plenty of weight during the off-season and this has helped his agility and speed . . . during the early preseason drills, Heft made an honest man out of

Al Dixon . . . Heft saw some action with the 1966-67 Falcons but not enough to earn a letter . . . He appeared in three contests and took three shots, connecting on one . . . with the 1964-65 freshman team, Heft appeared in 14 games and averaged 8.2 . . . he missed the entire 1965-66 campaign with injuries . . . Heft is a left hander and this should help his cause . . . he is also a pitcher with Bowling Green's baseball squad . . . at Columbus Whetstone, Heft landed an All-League berth while lettering for three years as a forward . . . he also lettered for three years as a pitcher with the Braves and pitched a perfect game his freshman season.

WAYNE KROLL

6-4, 180

Sophomore

Age: 19

Canton

Kroll is a poor man's Walt Piatkowski in that he stands just 6-4 but has all the offensive shots . . . speed and moves on both offense and defense are against him and he will need to improve in both of these areas if he is to see much action with the varsity this season . . . Kroll moves up to the varsity after finishing as the second leading scorer on the 1966-67 freshman squad . . . in 15 games, Kroll drilled in 213 points for a 14.2 average . . . he hit on .395 of his shots from the field and .804 from the foul line . . . he was the second leading rebounder on the squad with a 9.5 average . . . Kroll scored 20 or more points in four games with his high coming against Kent State as he accounted for 24 markers . . . at Massillon Perry High School, Kroll lettered for three seasons as a forward while landing a host of honors including All-League and All-County . . . he also lettered for two years as a high jumper with the track squad . . . holds Perry's career rebounding record and was also an excellent foul shooter with the Panthers.

GUARDS

DENNIS CAVANAUGH

5-10, 155

Sophomore

Age: 19

Detroit, Mich.

Cavanaugh is a typical small man in that he has a big heart, a lot of hustle and good court knowledge . . . good man on the fast break who must improve his offensive range of shooting . . . Cavanaugh was a starter on last year's freshman team as he finished as the Falcons fifth leading scorer with a 9.5 average . . . in 15 games, Cavanaugh came through with 143 points . . . he connected on .385 of his shots from the field but only .434 from the charity mark . . . he had his best two games in the final two outings of the season . . . Cavanaugh scored 17 points against Ohio State as he clicked on four of 10 from the field and added nine of 13 from the line . . . he then came up with 16 points against Ohio University . . . in 15 games, Cavanaugh was in double figures nine times . . . at Detroit's Austin Prep High School, Cavanaugh was an All-League selection for two seasons . . . he also landed berths on the All-City and All-State teams . . . lettered for three years as a guard with the Friars . . . also an excellent tennis player . . . Michigan doubles champion . . . will play plenty of tennis for Bowling Green.

JOHN COMPTON

6-2, 195

Junior

Age: 21

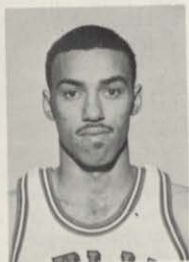

Cincinnati

Compton is an off and then on type of player who could really help the Falcons this season with his excellent speed . . . he is an intelligent boy with good leadership potential . . . Compton's shooting needs plenty of work but with his excellent size and speed, he could fit in real well in Bowling Green's back court . . . Compton is an either or case . . . you could hear a lot about him later in the season or this could be his last mention all season, it's up to him . . . as a member of Bowling Green's 1966-67 squad, Compton appeared in 12 games and scored six points . . . he took eight shots from the field and connected on two . . . he got four of those points against Princeton in the Quaker City Tournament . . . Compton is a 1964 graduate of Cincinnati's Walnut Hills High School . . . he lettered for three years with the Eagles as a forward and guard and landed positions on both the All-City football and basketball units . . . he also served as the Eagles captain . . . Compton failed to get in enough action to letter with the 1966-67 Falcons.

AL HAIRSTON

6-1, 170

Age: 21

Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Senior

Hairston with a little more improvement on his play-making could be a sleeper as far as greatness is concerned . . . last season, he proved he has all the tools to be a fine guard at Bowling Green as he scored 369 points for a 15.4 average . . . Hairston has good speed and makes himself respected at both ends of the court . . . has the ability to be "Mr. Assist" with a little more concentration on his passing . . . appeared in 24 games as a starting guard with the 1966-67 Falcons and finished second in the scoring department behind Walt Piatkowski . . . he came up with 20 or more points in seven of Bowling Green's 1966-67 encounters . . . Hairston had his best game against Findlay as he drilled home 36 points . . . took 374 shots last year and connected on 156 for a .417 percentage . . . hit on 57 of 86 attempts from the line while also grabbing off 86 rebounds . . . came to Bowling Green last year after graduating from Port Huron Junior College in Michigan . . . in 24 games at Port Huron in 1965-66, Hairston averaged 29.3 points a game as he scored 702 markers . . . this work left him tied for fifth place among the top junior college scorers in the nation . . . Hairston is a 1964 graduate of Mt. Clemens High School in Michigan . . . at Mt. Clemens, he was an All-State honorable mention guard while he also earned All-League honors.

Age: 19

Troy

Hennessey could be one of the guards of the future at Bowling Green State University . . . he is the tallest guard on the squad and could well be the best defensive guard because of his size, speed and agility . . . he was a pleasant surprise on last year's freshman squad and he may surprise Bowling Green's coaching staff again this season if he continues to improve . . . needs to work on the offensive phases of his game . . . Hennessey finished as the third leading scorer on last season's freshman squad as he totaled 178 points in 15 games for an 11.9 average . . . came up with big games against Toledo and Eastern Michigan as he totaled 22 and 21 points respectively in those two encounters . . . proved to be an excellent shot with the freshman as he connected on 70 of 150 attempts from the field for a .467 mark . . . also put through 38 of 50 attempts from the foul line . . . despite playing guard, Hennessey ranked third in rebounding as he averaged 6.4 . . . interesting background at Troy High School . . . he lettered for just one year, his senior campaign, with the Trojans as he was cut as a freshman and sophomore then played reserve ball as a junior . . . honorable mention All-League choice as a senior while playing forward . . . also lettered for two years on the tennis court.

Age: 20

Sophomore
Bowling Green

So far, Rodeheffer can only be labeled as a Blue Cross and Blue Shield nightmare . . . he missed the entire 1966-67 campaign because of sickness then suffered a severely sprained ankle during the 1967-68 preseason drills that slowed his progress under new coach Bill Fitch . . . if he can stay healthy, he could be a real help in Bowling Green's backcourt . . . good attitude and a hard worker with fine court speed . . . excellent team player . . . at the current time, he needs to work on his shooting and floor generalship . . . could also use some game experience . . . in 1965-66, Rodeheffer had a fine season with Bowling Green's freshman squad as he averaged 13.5 points a game to finish as the third leading scorer on the squad . . . he scored 229 points on 82 field goals and 65 charity shots . . . his high game of the year was 27 markers against Vern's . . . at Bowling Green High School, Rodeheffer was an honorable mention All-Stater while also landing positions on the All-County and All-League units . . . he lettered for three years with the Bobcats and was the leading scorer in Wood County during his senior year . . . left hander.

DICK RUDGERS

6-2, 175
Age: 20

Junior
Akron

In Bowling Green's early season drills, Rudgers was a pleasant surprise . . . he has shown marked improvement in all phases of the game . . . hardnosed, unselfish player . . . he is the type of player you don't realize is on the court until you pick up the final stats . . . if he maintains his early season poise, he could give Bowling Green the reliable anchor needed in the Falcons backcourt . . . finished as Bowling Green's sixth leading scorer in 1966-67 as he appeared in 23 games and scored 121 points for a 5.3 average . . . as a sophomore, he took 96 shots from the field and connected on 37 for a .385 mark . . . fine foul shooter as he put through 47 of 65 last season . . . got into double figures five times, hitting a high of 19 against Michigan State in the Quaker City Tournament . . . against Michigan State, Rudgers drilled in four of eight from the field and 11 of 13 from the line . . . he also got 16 against Toledo, 12 against Findlay and 10 against both Marshall and Princeton . . . in high school, Rudgers lettered for three years with the Akron Central Wildcats as a guard . . . he landed first string positions on both the All-City and All-District squads while also taking a flock of other honors including All-Ohio . . . very highly regarded guard who averaged 19.5 points a game as a freshman.

THE COACHES

HEAD COACH WILLIAM FITCH

William Fitch, a highly successful head coach at the University of North Dakota for the past five years, was named as Bowling Green State University's new head basketball coach before the 1967-68 campaign got underway.

Discussing Fitch's appointment, Bowling Green's Athletic Director, Doyt L. Perry, said, "In Fitch, we feel we have one of the outstanding young coaches in America. We feel fortunate that he has accepted this position."

Fitch, who is one of the youngest coaches in the major college ranks at 34 years old, is Bowling Green State University's ninth head coach in the Falcons 52-year basketball history.

During the past five seasons at North Dakota University, Fitch led the Sioux to a 94-45 record and won three straight North Central Conference championships. During the past three seasons, the Sioux have recorded a 68-15 mark.

Fitch came to North Dakota in 1962-63 and promptly gave the University its first winning team in 10 years as the Sioux finished with a 14-13 record.

North Dakota came up with a 10-16 record in 1963-64 before finishing with 26-5, 24-5, and 18-5 marks in the next three seasons. In 1964-65, the Sioux won the North Central Conference crown and became only the second squad in the league's history to compile an undefeated year.

During the 1965-66 year, North Dakota again captured the conference title and finished fourth in the NCAA's College Division national tournament. That season, the Sioux were ranked second in the final United Press International poll and third in the final Associated Press poll.

This past year, North Dakota clinched its third consecutive conference crown as the Sioux brought their three-year record in the league up a fine 37-3 total. This season, the Sioux marked up one of their victories by scoring a 93-92 win over Loyola of Chicago.

Before coming to North Dakota, Fitch was the head basketball and baseball coach at Coe College. In four years at the Cedar Rapids, Iowa school, Fitch led the Kohawks to a 48-39 record.

Fitch received his BA degree in physical education from Coe in 1954. While at Coe, Fitch lettered for three years in both basketball and baseball and captained the conference championship squads in both sports during the 1953-54 year.

In 1959, Fitch then received his Masters Degree in education from Creighton University.

Fitch is married and has three daughters, Tammy, Lisa, and Marcy Ann.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

ROBERT CONIBEAR

After leading Bowling Green State University's freshman teams to a 22-13 record in two seasons, Conibear stepped up to the varsity squad last year as an assistant coach.

This season, under new coach Bill Fitch, he will continue in the same capacity.

For seven years, Conibear served as head basketball coach at Detroit's Northeastern High School where he won three league and two metropolitan championships. In seven years of coaching, his record was 99-19 before coming to BG.

Conibear, who received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne State University, earned four varsity letters in basketball and two in track during his collegiate career.

After graduation, he played for an AAU basketball team, composed of outstanding players from Wayne State, University of Detroit and the University of Michigan. This team twice won the state championship and progressed to the finals for the regional title.

Conibear, after graduating from Southeastern High School, was drafted into the Armed Services and spent one and one-half years in the United States Army Mountain and Ski Infantry. While working in Detroit's elementary schools, Conibear received his Master's degree in Health and Physical Education.

At Northeastern High, Conibear also was track, cross country and swimming coach. During the summer months, he served as assistant camp director at Al-gon-quian, Michigan's finest and largest boys' camp.

Conibear is married and has a daughter, Connie, and a son, Michael.

JIM LESSIG

Jim Lessig, the newest addition to Bowling Green State University's basketball staff, will serve as the Falcons' freshman coach during the 1967-68 season.

In his first year as Bowling Green's freshman coach, Lessig posted a 9-7 record in 1966-67.

Lessig, who also is the university's Director of Athletic Promotions, moved into the college coaching field with six years of experience in the high school and military service ranks.

He served as an assistant high school coach at Glenwood High School for three years and was head coach at Marlinton High School for one season. During this stretch, Lessig's squads posted a 74-27 mark.

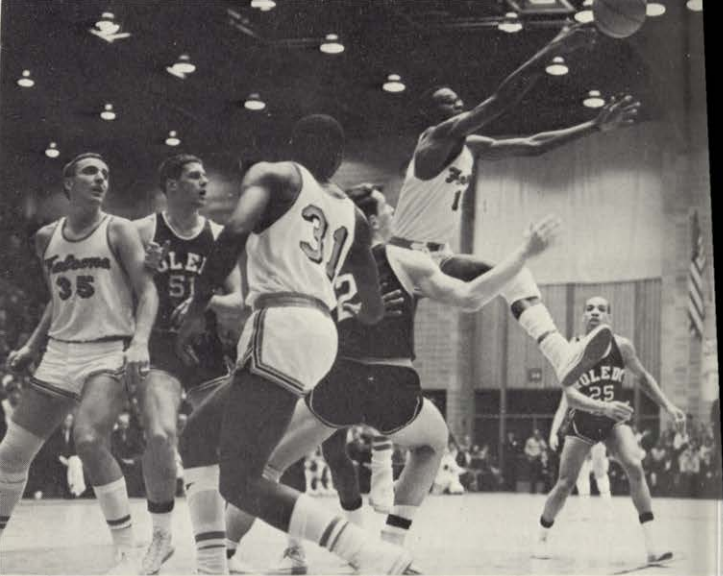

Lessig, a native of Canton and a graduate of Canton Lincoln, lettered in both football and basketball in high school, then played freshman basketball at Bowling Green. When he graduated from Bowling Green, he was awarded the Distinguished Service Award and the ROTC Distinguished Military Student Award.

After graduation, Lessig served for two years in the United States Air Force at Kirtland Air Base, in New Mexico, where he coached basketball.

A 1957 Bowling Green State University graduate, Lessig held the position of Assistant Director of Development at BG for one year. Previously, he was the University's Coordinator of Space Assignments.

Lessig is married and has a daughter, Andrea, and a son, Thomas.
