HARROLD'S FLORIST STRAIN ANTIRRHINUM SEEDS

Our entire thought in assembling this selection of these justly popular varieties of Antirrhinum (Snapdragon) seeds, has been to supply our patrons with only the best in variety, and seeds of quality.

In the past we have offered only seeds of our own growing, but we find that owing to cultural difficulties experienced with some varieties, we can give our patrons better quality and service, on a few varieties, by obtaining these from other reliable specialists.

We are still growing over 75% of our own seeds though, and we assure you that our stock will equal in quality any that we have supplied in the past, and be superior to much stock offered.
