REFUSE TO COMPEL LORD'S PRAYER AS OPENING EXERCISE

School Trustees' Association Votes Against Mandatory Regulation

Music as Optional Matriculation Subject is Debated

By Times Special Representative
Duncan, Oct. 17.—British Columbia school trustees, in convention here yesterday afternoon, declined to endorse a motion to favor the use of the Lord's Prayer compulsorily in the public schools. The resolutions committee had reported against the project, and that action the convention sustained by a large majority.

There was a lively discussion, which was expected to be renewed when the auxiliary motion was taken up in favor of Bible reading in the schools. This, however, was deferred until Wednesday morning.

The Lord's Prayer resolution came from the North Vancouver District School Board, and said "That we ask the Department of Education to make it compulsory for the Lord's Prayer to be used as an opening exercise in all schools in our Province."

A Christian Country
Mrs. Charlotte Rae, of North Vancouver, expressed the opinion that British Columbians were supposed to be living in a Christian country. She said the Province had neglected the religious training of the teachers, now were they going to neglect the children?

Inspector Stewart stated he had been closely identified with schools in B. C. for many years, and had never been in a school where the Lord's Prayer had not been used. John Shaw, of Nanaimo, said in twenty-six years' teaching experience he had always heard the Lord's Prayer used.

Trustee Beckwith stated that there was ample evidence that the use of the Lord's Prayer was widely used, and why not make it compulsory?
Might Be Mandated
Trustee Sivert stated the report of the resolutions committee, which was adverse to the motion. If the motion were adopted it would encourage pressure from those bodies which wanted religious instruction in the schools, he remarked. It had been argued that the parliaments and legislatures were opened with prayer, yet some of the most materialistic doctrines were expounded in them, without surprise or wonder by the public.

Trustee MacInnes, of Vancouver, said that in eastern provinces the religious education did not apparently keep the criminal record down. After reading the New Testament carefully he did not remember that Christ ever advised those who resorted to him for consultation to use the Lord's Prayer but rather the keeping of the Commandments and unshrinking.

Inspector Stewart remarked that after the experience of his life he had found that mandatory or compulsory things were seldom observed as well as optional things.
Separate Schools
Mrs. Martindale, Nanaimo, said if a teacher refused to read the Prayer it was a safe assumption of atheism. In this enlightened age Christian practice was of value to the children.

Trustee Perry, North Vancouver, chairman of the resolutions committee, declared that the best place to use the Lord's Prayer was in the home. There was always a danger of separate schools coming into play, which he had in other provinces. He was one of those who did not believe in thrusting too much responsibility on the teachers.

The motion was adopted, sustaining the resolutions committee in not recommending action on the matter, by twenty-six votes to eleven votes. Several did not vote.

Music as Optional Subject
A resolution from North Vancouver District School Board suggested that the Department of Education place music in the high school curriculum as one of the subjects from which a choice is allowed.
Mrs. Rae, as a trustee and mother, said no provision had been made in the School Act for instrumental music in the schools, in cases where pupils were receiving instruction after school hours she desired to allow the pupils to obtain credit thereon, in studying for matriculation.

D. Raymond, Alberta, president of the Alberta School Trustees Association, and Inspector A. C. Stewart, of Victoria. Mr. King advised that the operation between the provinces, systematized text books, and facing of the problem of some form of religious teaching in the schools. He mentioned the large number of schools in Alberta, which had been closed owing to lack of funds.

'P.P.' TAX POLICY TO BE ANNOUNCED TO LEGISLATURE

Retail Merchants Appeal to Government to Abolish it
Premier and Finance Minister Say Whole Thing Now Being Considered

The personal property tax in British Columbia should be abolished, according to what representatives of about 1,000 business men of the Province told Premier Oliver and the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, at the Parliament Buildings to-day.
The Premier at the end of the session said that no announcement of the Government's policy on the subject could be made until after the opening of the Legislature, but he promised that the whole thing was going to receive careful consideration.
J. T. Crowder, Dominion representative of the National Retail Merchants' Association, headed the merchants' delegation, which consisted of D. Kent, of Vancouver, president of the B. C. Retail Merchants' Association; J. H. Ashwell, of Chilliwack, representing Fraser Valley; and H. S. Stevenson, of the Victoria branch, and W. F. Ing, provincial secretary.

Mr. Crowder said that while merchant asking abolition of the tax on stock-in-trade, they were not asking for a reduction in taxes, but were willing to accept a tax on business profits. He substituted, he quoted outside authorities on taxation, including Professor Seligman, of Columbia University; Senator Hill, president of the United States Tax Association; H. L. Brittain, of the Citizens' Research Bureau; Dr. Adam Shortt, of Ottawa, and others, all condemning the personal property tax as unscientific and un-sound.
A questionnaire has been sent out to merchants of the province asking how they would be prepared to come to Victoria during the session to fight the tax and urge its abolition on the members. Three hundred merchants have already accepted the invitation and announced that they will be here for the fight.

The Premier said he admitted that the proposed tax on the profits was in effect an income tax.
Mr. Hart pointed out that under present conditions, when the amount of a merchant's income tax exceeded that of the personal property tax, the personal property tax was not charged.
If the Government had to rely solely on income taxes, the proceeds from such taxes would fluctuate materially between periods of prosperity and depression, while fixed charges the Government has to meet, interest, sinking fund and administration remain the same, the Premier said.
He also queried the delegation as to whether the principle they were advocating as applied to personal property should also apply to real property. He asked whether, if the principle of the ability to pay was the basis of the demand for the abolition of the personal property tax, the same principle should not apply to the tax on land.
Mr. Hart congratulated Mr. Crowder for an able presentation of the case and joined with the Premier in promising consideration on behalf of the Government.

Other cities are bidding for the convention, dispatches from Seattle show. The Seattle Times state: "That city will get the next convention is also an important matter to be settled. The Legion's policy is to gather in various sections from the 15,000 and 20,000 members. This year in favor of Ohio Cincinnati has put in a strong bid for the 1924 conclave. Victoria, B.C., was the next convention had and he bid strongly. Boston, Atlantic City and Louisville are important contestants."

MINING INSTITUTE MEETS AT NELSON

Seventeen in Attendance From Victoria and Vancouver

Nelson, Oct. 17.—Attended by over fifty mining engineers, smelter experts and metallurgical men from all over the province of British Columbia, as well as officials of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's large smelting plant, the general meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, British Columbia Division, opened at Trail this morning. Owing to the lateness of the arrival of the Vancouver and Victoria members, numbering seventeen, the opening session was delayed somewhat. Mayor A. J. Martin and James H. Schofield, M.P.P., of Trail, welcomed the visitors and extended them the freedom of the city.

A resume of the activities of the Institute from its inauguration to the present day was given by Thomas Graham, of Victoria, divisional chairman, who presided over the meeting.
Sullivan Mine
Practically the whole of the morning session was devoted to the mining and treatment of ores of the Sullivan Mine. Excellent papers dealing with the establishment and progress of the Sullivan Mine from the time of its discovery in the Rockies to the present day, treatment of the Sullivan ores at Trail and detailed descriptions of the huge Kimberley concentrator were given. Those delivering papers on this subject were S. G. Blaylock, W. M. Archibald, E. G. Montgomery, James Buchanan, George Murray, R. A. Stimpe, J. J. England, R. A. Diamond and E. M. Styles.

This afternoon's programme includes a luncheon, a visit to the Trail Smelter and a visit to Rosland.

WOULD AID FORWARD EMPIRE EVOLUTION

Haldane Urges Imperial Systems For Army and Civil Service

London, Oct. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—Speaking at Edinburgh University last night, Viscount Haldane said the time was coming when changes would have to be made in the British constitution. Great Britain had overcome the majority of her difficulties with regard to the Dominions. She had made the Imperial Council Imperial and had an Imperial General Staff at the War Office. He said he would like to see the navy and the civil service united by the same way and believed the efficiency of the government of the Empire would thereby be substantially raised.
Evolution, said Lord Haldane, was always taking place throughout the Empire. When stability of relations was secured it did not mean that the right bonds, but from common ends and purposes and common appreciation of each other's aims and interests. As long as Great Britain and the Dominions worked together constantly studying each other and developing their common ends, so long they would likely hold together. The moment they tried to tie up the Empire in some imperial federation, symptoms of peril would appear. Therefore it seemed to him that a written or rigid constitution would be wholly inappropriate for the British Empire.

CALLS FOR SHARE OF CABLE BUSINESS

the official communique of yesterday's conference proceedings does not refer to it, stated the attitude of the Canadian government. "The differences between the British Government and the Marconi Company," he said, "are purely a domestic matter, but so far as we are concerned we have given a license to the Marconi Company. We do not care what station it links up in England. That is for you to decide."
Mr. Graham pointed out that wireless had been widely developed in Canada, which now had about 250 stations.
Postal Rates
Mr. Graham also went into details as to Canada's postal arrangements and discussed criticism made in certain quarters that Canada was charging only three cents on letters to the United States, while charging four cents to Great Britain. He explained that Canada was merely following the United States and had not led the way in the matter of postage. The rate for the United States was only two cents, and as a matter of business Canada had been compelled to give a three-cent rate on letters to the United States.

Wore "Bowler"
Chicago, Oct. 17.—David Lloyd George, master mind of statecraft, yesterday brought the humble black derby hat into its own. In the face of a sea of silk toppers worn by the official welcoming committee, he clung to his black "bowler" and lifted it frequently to acknowledge the cheers of the throngs.
En route to Chicago from Mooseheart, he had been assured by newspapermen who questioned him on a variety of topics that the "bowler" was correct. Later he saw the silk-hatted committee.
"That's one on me, boys," he said to the newspapermen. Then he changed his mind. "No, it's on them, and a good one," he said, and he kept the hat.

UPHOLD BANNERS OF DEMOCRACY

British, American and French Peoples Defend Progress, Says Lloyd George

Luncheon Address in Chicago by British Ex-Premier

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Several hundred persons heard David Lloyd George's first formal address in Chicago, delivered yesterday at a luncheon tendered him by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The former British Premier shortly before that had been given an enthusiastic welcome to Chicago. Crowds packed the sidewalks, while others hung from windows and other places of vantage high up on buildings. Confetti and streamers filled the air, while there was a continuous roar of welcome as the automobile bearing the former Premier with bare head passed through the streets.

Arriving at the Salle Hotel, Mr. Lloyd George immediately went to the luncheon.

Courage Needed to Make Peace

Mentioning in his luncheon address a visit in the late Spring of 1918 to the front behind American lines, the great German onslaught had been definitely checked and the enemy rolled back, Mr. Lloyd George told his hosts that the British and American troops who had broken the Illinois' troops who had broken the spearhead of the German attack.

"I ventured to tell them then," he said, "that Germany might have peace that day, that hour, if she accepted the conditions laid down by the President of the United States of America. They did not. They went on fighting for months and got nothing out of it but complete demoralization, complete disaster. They put themselves in a position where it was impossible for them to negotiate and that I consider to have been for both sides."

"When the time came Germany ought to have realized that the game was up, that defeat was staring her in the face. She certainly ought to have made peace, but why didn't she do it? I will tell you. It requires more courage to make peace than to make war."

"Germany's disaster was not due to the lack of valor or skill of her troops, as valiant men, as intelligent men as ever went into action. The failure was in the lack of vision, courage, leadership of the rulers and this is not without its meaning now when democracy has been thrown over to one country after another in Europe as if it were a thing of no use."

CAMPAIGN MEETINGS IN NORTH WINNIPEG

By-Election For Commons Will Take Place October 24 Opposed by Labor Men and Independent

Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—With prominent speakers from Eastern Canada and even as far as the British Isles enlisted, the campaign of Liberal and Labor candidates in the North Winnipeg by-election is now assuming fighting formation and several meetings are scheduled for this week and early next week. Polling will take place October 24.

Concentrating their platform campaign into one mammoth meeting, the Liberals will hold a rally on Monday, October 22, Hon. E. J. McMurtry, Solicitor-General of Canada, whose elevation to the Cabinet necessitated the by-election, will be supported by Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and Robert Jacob, M.P.P. for Winnipeg, who will occupy the chair.

W. C. Robinson, Labor representative for Blackpool, in the British House of Commons, is aiding Ald. A. A. Heaps, nominated by the Independent Labor Party, in his campaign, while Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P. for North Grey, and J. F. Callin, M.P.P. for Fort Frances, also are supporting him. The big Labor meeting of the campaign will be held Wednesday night, when all three speakers will place Labor's platform before the electors.

Mr. McMurtry also is opposed by J. A. Martin, running as a Labor candidate on an independent ticket, and Paul Gigejezuk, an Independent.

GRAHAM BELL TO RETURN TO LONDON

Deputy Minister Sharing in Discussions With G.T.R. and G.T.P. Shareholders

Ottawa, Oct. 17.—"A much more generous attitude toward Canada's enterprises is now evident in London financial circles," said Major Graham Bell, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, on his arrival yesterday from London, where he attended to some urgent departmental affairs. After attending an important meeting of the Canadian National Railway Board in Montreal this week, Major Bell will return again to London, where he will be associated with the Prime Minister and Hon. G. P. Graham, who are now attending the Imperial and Economic Conferences, in personal representations to the Grand Trunk company and its shareholders and to the Grand Trunk Pacific debenture holders.

"They are more reasonable in their position now than they were some months ago," said Major Bell, discussing the relations between these British investors in Canadian railway stocks and the Dominion Government. "The Grand Trunk Pacific group especially seem to be in a more cordial mood, chiefly because they have a better case against the Dominion, but even the Grand Trunk stockholders are less disposed to protest and denounce than formerly, and more to pursue a peaceful course, hoping for the best issue from their present unfortunate position."

POOR GERMANS ABLE TO LIVE IN WEALTH

Fail of Mark Wipes Out Their Fortunes; How System Works

Bank Loans on Securities Repay Themselves as Currency Drops

Berlin, Oct. 17.—All Germans are suffering from a strange poverty complex, which has turned the country into a vast porchouse of men and women living in royal style on nothing. Every inhabitant of the Reich is a public charge and is living by a process of milking the state in a manner which has developed the strangest sort of financial situation.

The inside workings of the scheme are the answer to the question of how the country exists with seemingly worthless money, and many prices far above the world level.

An American recently dealing with the chief director of a bank who apparently was overworked, asked what he "made" monthly. "One hundred million marks," the official replied, and the sum he mentioned then represented $5. The American was filled with compassion until a few moments later, when he presented a cheque for 250,000,000 marks to one of the underlings in the cashier's case.

Bank "Broke," But Not Clerk

"Sorry, we are all out of bank notes," said the clerk, but on second thought he added: "Perhaps I can cash it out of my own pocket." Then the clerk, who receives perhaps a third the salary of the director, displayed a pocket roll two and a half times as large as his superior's pay.

The musical manager of Berlin's leading revue, where gold mark prices are charged for admission, spent an hour relating the hardships of the theatres and his own struggle to live, and then casually said he had been able to buy 250 English pounds the day before at a remarkable bargain.

Another American office boy applied for an increase in wages this week, on the ground that he had been obliged to sell all the dollars he had been saving in order to live.

These apparently paradoxical things, in view of the seeming poverty, may be explained by the single instance of a moderately well-to-do nobleman in Berlin. Before the war his family always lived on securities. Then a share worth 429 marks equalled $100. Under the poverty complex it is now explained that this is but an infinitesimal part of its real worth, and therefore the fortune has been wiped out.

Poor, They Live in Plenty

But, in the nobleman's case, the same is in hundreds of others—to say nothing of those Germans who have been buying up foreign shares and currency—securities which once were worth millions now represent but a few hundred dollars. In the particular instance cited a great fortune has shrunk to the equivalent of $200.

The nobleman periodically takes the shares constituting his fortune to his bank and borrows at least seventy-five per cent, or $150, in paper marks, which, with the concessions made to natives, provides a comfortable living, including the upkeep of formerly luxurious apartments.

When the loan period expires the mark has dropped sufficiently so that the loan is practically wiped out, and the securities are returned almost intact. Thereupon they are taken again for a new loan, and an endless process is started.

Instead of being unusual, this is the commonest practice. When the nobleman's case is multiplied by Stinnes, Thyssen and Wolff, it amounts to little less than financial suicide, so far as the State is concerned. The nation, which naturally is the source of all paper money, makes up the loss by printing more money.

Meanwhile even those dwelling in the utmost comfort are so thoroughly imbued with the poverty complex that they talk incessantly of hard times, which, so far as they are concerned, constitute the golden age.

VIEWS EXPRESSED BY CANADIAN MILLERS

Suggest British Tariff Preference For Products of Dominions

Toronto, Oct. 17.—At the annual meeting yesterday of the Canadian National Millers' Association, a resolution was passed to the effect that if the British Government should decide to place a duty on the importation of foodstuffs from without the Empire, a duty should be placed on wheat corresponding to that put on flour.

The resolution set forth also that the British Government did not admit free the products of Dominions within the Empire, all the Dominions should at least be granted a preference.

The meeting decided to make representations to the Royal Grain Inquiry Commission in regard to these disabilities under which eastern millers labored, particularly in regard to regulations governing the fixing of grain rates at the head of the Great Lakes.

BULLDOG CAUSED WOMAN'S DEATH

Daughter of Victim in Critical Condition Following Savage Attack

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 17.—Mrs. Angus Campbell, sixty-five, died, and her daughter, Annie, lies at death's door as a result of an attack on the two women by a savage bulldog at their home in Dominion yesterday.

Mrs. Campbell was so badly bitten that she died in a few minutes, while her daughter was also frightfully wounded by the teeth and claws of the infuriated animal.

The dog was shot by the police.

AUTO WENT OVER FIFTEEN-FOOT BANK

But Ex-Mayor of Nelson and Family Escaped Injury

Nelson, Oct. 17.—Ex-Mayor C. F. McHardy, of Nelson, his wife and three daughters, who were motoring, went over the fifteen-foot bank near the international boundary late Monday, the car turning completely over. Stumps pinned down the oldest daughter, Frances, and the youngest, Eva, and the clothes of the latter had to be cut from her body to release her. Except for a shaking up, none was seriously hurt.

WHO PLAYED POLITICS?

Discussing the naval defence problems before the Imperial Conference and Canada's relation to them, The Colonist this morning makes the following extraordinary observation:

"The party which they (Mr. Mackenzie King and his Ministers) represent in our Federal politics has hitherto regarded this subject as one of party politics and it is a question if Mr. Mackenzie King will exhibit the statesmanship required to lift naval defence to the plane it should be on in any scheme of national safety."

This is distortion of fact with a vengeance, of fact, too, which is well known to everybody who was in Canada thirteen or fourteen years ago or who has since examined the record. That record shows that in 1910, following a consultation with the Admiralty and pursuant to a resolution moved by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, then Prime Minister, and seconded by Sir Robert Borden, then leader of the Conservative Opposition, and unanimously passed by Parliament, the Laurier Government brought in a bill providing for the establishment of a Canadian Navy and the promotion of naval shipbuilding on the Pacific and Atlantic Coasts. The record shows, also, that following a political deal with Henri Bourassa and his anti-British Nationalists with the object of undermining Laurier's power in Quebec, Sir Robert Borden and his party publicly repudiated the naval project they helped to launch, campaigned most bitterly against it and stumped up and down Quebec with their Nationalist friends declaring that the Canadian Navy scheme was merely part of an Imperialistic plot instigated by Laurier to conscript young French Canadians "for Britain's wars in distant parts of the globe."

Nevertheless, the bill became law and tenders were invited by the Laurier Administration for the construction of warships in Canada. Eleven of the largest shipbuilding firms in Britain sent tenders which were under consideration when the election of 1911 on reciprocity interrupted the Government's activities on the subject. When as a result of the election the Conservatives took office they promptly returned the tenders, dismantled the two training ships which had been acquired a short time before, declared, in the words of their leader, that "Canada could not develop a navy in fifty years" and proceeded to destroy the entire scheme of a Canadian Navy. Meanwhile Australia, which also began a naval policy in 1910, was developing the splendid unit which acquitted itself so admirably in the Great War; whose cruiser, the Sydney, destroyed the Emden and whose other ships actually assisted in conveying Canadian troops across the ocean. If the Conservative party in the House of Commons had adhered to its first attitude, when it helped to frame the resolution which authorized a Canadian Navy, instead of repudiating its course for the sake of an alliance with the anti-British anti-Laurier Nationalists of Quebec, Canada's naval contribution in the war would have been, like Australia's, something to be proud of, and a Canadian navy would have been an important factor in Imperial naval defence long before this.

THE CHAMBER'S NEW PRESIDENT

In his first announcement as President of the Chamber of Commerce Mr. C. P. W. Schwengers has appealed for the unstinted support and cooperation of the people of Victoria. He very truly and properly points out that the weight of the Chamber's influence will be measured by the size of its membership and the work which that membership is prepared to undertake.

It is fortunate for the city's premier commercial organization that such an able official so familiar with the present day requirements of this part of the Province as Mr. Schwengers should have been immediately available to take up the task which the Grim Reaper forced the late Mr. Cross to relinquish. For many years the new President has been a diligent worker and the directing force behind one of the most important committees of the Chamber and his services in respect of all matters of concern to the business of the neighborhood have been readily given at all times.

There are many matters of importance that will engage the attention of Mr. Schwengers and we feel that it can be confidently predicted that his term of office will be marked by a chapter of accomplishment that will do credit to himself and the Chamber as a whole. In his progress towards the goal he will set for attainment he may be assured of our good wishes.

THE BOY SCOUT MEETING

Victorians who are interested in the Boy Scout Movement and those who have but a hazy conception of the magnificent work that is being carried on among the youth of the country are cordially invited to attend the gathering at the Empress Hotel to-night.

A great deal has been accomplished among the boys of this and other countries by the development of the principle of playing the game. It does not belittle the value of the movement to declare that it stands for this from every point of view. It is to the boy from the playground just what a post-graduate course is to the professional adult.

It is the duty of every citizen who has the welfare of the youth at heart to discourage every suggestion that the Boy Scout Movement has any military significance. It is a builder of character and a developer of the best instincts in the boy of to-day.

THE BULL FIGHT PROGRAMME

Destruction of the surplus buffalo at Wainwright will not take the form of an old-time hunt and slaughter by Indians in their war paint.

It had been explained that the descendants of tribes that were expert bow and arrow marksmen would merely furnish the spectacular effect and the actual killing would be carried out by crack riflemen who would take positions in camouflaged dug-outs in the track of the stampede. This is the spectacle that the silver screen was promised after the first outcry against the affair. Now comes the news that the Indians have been forbidden to take part at all.

It is something to know that the previously advertised inhumane proceeding is not to be pursued as it appeared to be intended. For the effect of the whole gory business upon the youthful mind would have been gruesome in any event. Because it is obvious that the men who would have fired the rifles would have been sufficiently invisible to preserve the realism of the scene.

If the animals have to be destroyed let it be done in a decent fashion and forgotten. Canadians will be content to allow Spain to have a monopoly on bull fights.

WOMEN JURORS

Mr. Justice Gregory informed the Court at the opening of the Assizes in Vancouver yesterday that he was not going to pretend that he was in favor of women jurors. He objects to the principle because he considers that women are on a higher pinnacle than men and by taking their seats on juries they are trying to come down to masculine level. However, since the Legislature had seen fit to pass the law there was nothing for him to do but submit to it.

It is quite probable that the use of mixed juries will be no more successful in this country than it has proved in Great Britain. In many instances it would be extremely difficult to persuade any woman to take her place. At the same time equal suffrage and a gradual progress towards greater measures of equality in the field of commercial effort dictate a wider distribution of responsibility in the general sense.

Meanwhile British Columbia womanhood will recognize the tribute which His Lordship has paid. And we shall hope that the "contamination" of the jury box and court room will not seriously crack the pedestal upon which he has figuratively placed the fair sex.

Note and Comment

A Canadian woman speaker at a Regina gathering confessed that in all her wanderings about this country she had never seen a girl with a cigarette in her mouth. We can only observe that a remark of this kind is truly refreshing.

According to the latest advices from London there is every indication that the drive for Imperial preference has collapsed. We shall once more observe that any political party that attempts to tinker with the food of the people of Britain may just as well arrange for its own obsequies without delay.

Alberta is setting up a stock of trouble for itself by way of its method of asking its people to decide the liquor question. Proportional representation will be the voting system employed and there will be four questions asked. The issue will be divided between the following choices: prohibition; licensed sale of beer; Government sale of beer; Government sale of all liquors. If there is one question that demands plain submission to the electorate and a plain answer it is the liquor question.

Some Thoughts for To-day

Keep thy shop, and thy shop will keep thee,
Light gains make heavy purses. 'Tis good
To be merry-and wise.
George Chapman.

Gossip is a sort of smoke that comes from
The dirty tobacco-pipes of those who diffuse
It; it proves nothing but the bad taste of the smoker.
George Eliot.

Because indeed there was never law, or sect,
Or opinion, did so much magnify goodness,
As the Christian religion doth.
Bacon.

Stronger than thunder's winged force
All-powerful gold can speed its course;
Through watchful guards its passage make,
And loves through solid walls to break.
Horace.

Our Contemporaries

LINKING UP LATITUDES

Halifax Chronicle:—The first voyage of the steamer which inaugurated a direct service between Montreal and Vancouver, via the Panama Canal is pronounced "entirely successful." Most of the cargo was for Vancouver, but a considerable quantity of goods was consigned to points as far inland as Edmonton and Calgary. The experiment should be suggestive for Halifax. There ought to be a good opportunity for this port in that direction.

THE PIONEER SPIRIT

London Advertiser:—Canada is a young country, with not a very large population. The newcomer is not exactly a pioneer, but there is no good reason why he should not exercise some of the determination of the pioneer. When the pioneer started, no doubt he would like to have put in a field of wheat and a patch of potatoes the first year. But he could not—he had to spend a year or more cutting away trees, burning stumps and clearing underbrush. Eventually he achieved his objective. Much the same condition exists to-day. Men have to do things out of their life—hard, vigorous things—in order that they can get in shape to go ahead with the plans they had in view. Canada has not yet reached the stage where she has ready-made jobs for all comers just for the asking.

THE LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE

To the Editor:—The Shipping Federation claims that negotiations were not unduly delayed.

The Longshoremen gave them thirty-six days' notice, according to the agreement, on September 1, and thirty-eight days before strike was called.

When we had received no reply, except acknowledgment of receipt we wrote again on September 14, asking what had been done with our request. We received a reply asking us to state a date upon which we would meet them. We named the next day, September 15. They replied they could not meet then but could meet us the following Tuesday.

Why should they ask us to name a date and then when we have named a date find some reason for not accepting it, but giving another date a week later? Then, again, when eventually we did meet them on the Tuesday they promised to give favorable consideration to several of our demands and arranged for a further meeting on the 21st. Five of smaller committees whose business it would be to arrange the details. On Friday morning, instead of being informed after the time of that meeting, we received a letter stating that they were not in possession of some information respecting other ports, but when they got this information, which would take a week, they would inform us. Even this was agreed to by our committee. Do you think that employers did not know of conditions in competitive ports?

And in the day of telegraph and telephone a week is required to find out something which they already obviously knew. Our first letter of September 1 laid it down that we were giving this due notice in order that last minute decisions could be avoided. The shipping men of B.C. refused to give notice to longshoremen 5c per hour for handling lumber which was taken away during the bad times of '21. That is the point over which this strike in B.C. ports took place, no matter what the employers may say. It is to their interest to tell the public the strike was for some other cause. The employers here say they cannot increase longshoremen's wages here for loading Pacific Coast lumber, because American shipowners are preventing the Canadian shipowners from settling. But American shipowners have just given a 10c per hour increase in the base wage and a further 10c per hour bonus on lumber to longshoremen in New York and other Atlantic ports for the following reasons. The New York longshoremen claimed that Pacific Coast lumber used to come overland by rail. Since it now comes by water they point out that longshoring is now more difficult, dangerous and objectionable and the employers gave them the 10c per hour bonus on that basis. Now they get 10c per hour bonus in this case. Now they get 10c per hour extra-unloading lumber. But we are refused 5c per hour for loading it, work which is more difficult, dangerous and requiring more skill.

These are the actual facts of the situation leading to the present strike of longshoremen here, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

THE SAANICH BY-LAW

To the Editor:—It is proposed to submit a sewer by-law in Saanich during the month of November to pay Victoria $70,000, which it is alleged Saanich owes the city. As this will likely arouse some discussion, might I inquire what year the electors of Saanich agreed to pay this amount to the city of Victoria? What and where was this agreement entered into by Victoria and Saanich? Was it endorsed by the electors of Saanich, and if so, why was the settlement of the payment of this amount deferred? What authority had the Council of Saanich in 1920 to incur this liability and agree to pay the city of Victoria this amount with interest accruing from the year 1917, signed by Reeve Watson and counter-signed by Clerk Cowper? Why should Saanich have to pay extensions of a quarter of a mile of sewer, much of it in rock from the Gorge pumping station through the city of Victoria to Harriet Road, where dwellings of Victoria citizens would be served by this sewer, before the connection can be made with the proposed Saanich sewer system? In two other points, under this agreement, the municipality of Saanich must construct considerable sewers in Victoria territory before any connection can be made between Victoria and Saanich systems, viz., Finlayson and Alpha Streets. It surely should be sufficient for Saanich to build her own sewer system without constructing sewers in the city of Victoria at the cost of Saanich.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The meeting of the Royal North-west Mounted Police Veterans, scheduled for to-night, has been postponed until Wednesday next, October 24.

A meeting of Ward One, Liberal-Conservative Association, will be held to-night at the headquarters, Campbell Building, at 8 o'clock. R. H. Pooley, M.P.P., J. Hincliffe, M.P.P., and Major Gus Lyons will be the speakers.

Snapped off at its base in the high wind at the first of the week, the immense pole fronting the Hindu temple on Blackwood and Montrose Streets now lies crushing the eaves of the building. The pole was used on ceremonial occasions to carry a light. The pole and its light had a religious significance with the worshippers in the temple.

The Craigflower Parent-Teacher Association at the annual meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing term: President, William Washington; vice-president, Miss Sjolander; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Biles; Mrs. Leod, Mrs. Lorimer, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Merry and Mrs. Biles are the new members of the executive. The social committee is Mrs. Holmes, Miss Gordon, Mrs. Woolley, Mrs. Bradbury, Miss Turnbull, Mr. Parker and Mrs. Wilkinson.

Before His Honor Judge Lammman in the county court to-day a charge of theft in connection with an office chair and desk was withdrawn against Stanley Ready, at the request of the Crown. Alexis Martin appeared for the Crown and stated that the Attorney-General had consented to the request of the complainant, who did not wish to proceed. The charge, involving a partnership difference which started in the police court, was thereupon withdrawn.

Three loaves of bread, one apple pie, one pot of jam and two bars of soap, declares F. S. Cross, 1621 Bay Street, comprised the menu that served a wandering goat as a meal in his hunting gear in Deep Cove. The hunter asserts that he returned to the cabin to find that the goat had eaten of the above, as well as an Ingersoll watch and a portion of his sleeping suit. The goat concluded with a friendly nap on his host's bed before leaving.

Victoria's first woman representative on a jury panel, Mrs. Helen M. Richards, took the first opportunity sitting on a trial jury yesterday afternoon when her name was challenged by Oscar C. Bass, for the Crown. Mrs. Richards had successfully won through the right of challenge held by the counsel for the defence, Harold E. Robertson, K.C., when the challenge from the prosecution deprived her of a seat on the trial jury in the Matheson hearing. As at least one more jury will be struck, Victoria's woman jurors may yet sit on a trial panel before the end of the starting.

Trustee A. G. Perry, of North Vancouver, chairman of the resolutions committee, said Inspector A. C. Stewart, who represented the Department of Education, was invited to read to the convention a report of a committee of fifteen appointed on the subject by the British Minister of Education.

London, Oct. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—The policy of labor in regard to national health insurance is outlined in a pamphlet issued by the Council of the Trades Union Congress and the national executive of the Labor Party. The suggestions offered by Labor include freedom of the insured person to change his physician at any time and for the lowering of the maximum limit of the number of the insured persons for whom a doctor may accept liability.

DEATH WAS RESULT OF AN ACCIDENT

MURDER AWARD TO BE SETTLED

Inquest on the remains of the late William Hunt at the Thomson Funeral Home yesterday resulted in a verdict of accidental death. The victim of the fatality was instantly killed when struck by a piece of wood which flew out from a lathe saw on mill premises yesterday morning. Ernest Bukin, boy helper of the victim of the accident, told of the occurrence.

Mr. Hunt had just fed a piece of wood into the machine when it flew back and struck him between the eyes. Bukin said he saw the machinery in question was in a safe condition, having been recently inspected. H. H. Foster, registrar in charge of the mill plant, testified to the state of the equipment which was in first class working order, he said. ## LOCAL G.W.V.A. TO HOLD HEADQUARTERS

REPORTS ON GREAT WORLD CONFERENCE

Harry Charlesworth, secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, addressed the B.C. School Trustees' Association at Duncan last evening on the World Conference at San Francisco under the auspices of the National Educational Association of the United States in June and July.

He examined the effect of the conference on world peace, and how it was possible to look on the whole world from the school room, by educating children to study not only the needs of the locality, the Province and the country but of the world. He alluded to the great stimulus given by the presence of the National Educational Association meeting at the same time, as the conference bringing 18,000 persons together, a wonderful example. He desired to point out that the conference had no association with the various movements for world peace, but was entirely independent of them. Mr. Charlesworth mentioned that English was the universal language of the convention, although all the chief countries were represented, and only once in his experience was an interpreter necessary. In a most interesting way Mr. Charlesworth told the story of the convention, and how the ideals of peace and co-operation could be taught through the school. Among the resolutions adopted was one recommending an educational attaché at each embassy like the military and naval attachés. He alluded to the splendid spirit of compromise shown through the meeting.

EVENTS TO COME

OAK BAY GIRL GUIDES CONCERT TO INCLUDE PLAYLETS

The Victoria British Israel Association will meet at the hall, 1619 Cook Street, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Questions relating to Scripture truth will be dealt with. An interesting discussion is expected. All are welcome.

Victoria Lodge, No. 53, Daughters of St. George, held a very successful meeting on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. A concert will be held at Mary's Hall, Yale Street, Oak Bay, on Friday, Oct. 19, at 8 o'clock.

The programme is to be given by the Girl Guides and includes choruses, plays, and a most entertaining affair. "The New Recruit" shows the workings of an ordinary company meeting and the second play the audience is taken away to the bottom of the sea, where it meets seamaids, fairies, the fairy queen, a sea-prince and many other enterprising people, chief among whom are three fishes, who provide great fun.

The only talent outside the company will be a Brownie and a Wolf Cub, who are doing a charming little dialogue called "The Bending of the Twig." The programme will also include songs and recitations by the Guides, and will end up with a campfire scene, an exact replica of a camp fire in a Guide camp. During this scene the Guides will sing choruses and solos that were sung at this year's camp, and also some new ones.

At the conclusion of the programme there will be dancing. The price of admission has been left very low, and it is hoped that everyone who would like to help the Oak Bay Guides, and at the same time spend an enjoyable evening, will be present on Friday.

BATTERY ORDERS

VALU OF HOT LUNCHES IN THE RURAL SCHOOLS

The battery will parade on Tuesday, October 23, at 8 p.m., at the Armories for the purpose of qualifying for last season's pay. Dress service.

G. G. AITKEN, M.C., Major, O.C. 12th Siege Battery, C.G.A.

Young men desirous of becoming members of the battery please call at the orderly room at the above time and place.

A special invitation is extended to young men who have recently come to this city and who wish to enjoy some pleasant and instructive evenings during the coming winter season.

A plea for attention to hot lunches for pupils in rural districts was voiced by Inspector J. S. Gordon to the B.C. School Trustees' Convention at Duncan last evening, in making a report on the meeting of the Ontario School Trustees and Ratepayers Department of the Educational Association, held in Toronto in April which he attended, as a delegate from B.C.

He stated that 1,900 persons attended the meeting, and explained the status of the association, which made a point of admitting ratepayers who were not trustees. He described the salient points of the convention, and their application to present-day educational requirements. Special attention was given to the consolidated school district system, which had proved very beneficial in Ontario and Manitoba.

At the evening meeting correspondence was read to show what steps had been taken to establish a Canadian-wide school trustees' organization.

HOUSE WEDDING WAS PRETTY CEREMONY

Dr. Clem Davies United Miss Iva Cramer and Seymour A. Matthews

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cramer, 2423 York Street, on Tuesday, their youngest daughter, Iva Eleanor, became the bride of Mr. Seymour A. Matthews, eldest son of Mr. R. J. Matthews, of Victoria, at a very pretty wedding.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and entered the room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss R. Griffith. She was becomingly gowned in grey Canton crepe with picture hat of silver lace and grey velvet, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Veina Matthews, sister of the bride, who wore a draped dress of peach georgette and carried a sheaf of rice and good wishes to spend their honeymoon in the Sound cities, the bride traveling in a navy blue unlined suit with hat to match.

Among the many gifts received was a handsome reading lamp, the gift of the staff of Kirkham & Company, Ltd., Yates Street, of which staff the groom is a member. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Matthews will make their home in Victoria.

MRS. W. D. TODD LEAVES ON SPEAKING TOUR FOR 'BUY IN B.C.' MOVEMENT

Mrs. W. D. Todd left Victoria this week on a speaking tour arranged by the B.C. Products Bureau in the interests of the "Buy in B.C." campaign. She will address meetings under the auspices of Women's Institutes and other bodies of women at Tappan, Malakwa, Revelstoke, Robson, Arrow Park, Burton, Castlegar, Burlington, Nelson, Harrop, Procter, Kaslo, Bowell, Creston, Cranbrook, Fernie, and other points in the Kootenai region.

Mrs. Todd's ability as a speaker, her sincerity and loyalty carries conviction, for in her tours of Vancouver Island and the Okanagan district she has won golden opinions, so that she is now a well-known figure, and has been received enthusiastically at a number of meetings.

Upon her return Mrs. Todd, along with Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, M.P.P., will be the guest of the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce at a dinner in the Vancouver Hotel on November 21.

PREMIER OLIVER'S DAUGHTER BRIDE AT QUIET WEDDING

Married To-day to Rev. Francis Runnalls of Grand Forks

The second daughter of the Premier of British Columbia and Mrs. Oliver was one of the principals in a quiet ceremony which took place at 12 noon united in marriage Miss Sarah Ellen (Nellie) Oliver and Rev. Francis Runnalls, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Runnalls, of Mount Brydges, Ontario. The ceremony was performed at the First Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson in the presence of relatives and intimate friends only.

The Premier gave his daughter in marriage. She made a happy bride in her becoming gown of navy blue chiffon velvet trimmed with palest grey crepe de Chine, smart hat of blue and grey, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and swansons completed the bridal toilette. The bride's only attendant was Miss Ethel Brown, of New Westminster, smartly gowned in cocoa Canton crepe and picture hat of black.

Mr. Joseph Oliver, brother of the bride, was the best man. During the ceremony Mr. J. O. Dunford sang "Promis Me" and Dr. Gurney played the Wedding March.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and a few intimate friends adjourned to the home of the bride's parents on Fern Street, where a buffet luncheon was served. Flowers in a color scheme of pink and white lent a festive air to the reception rooms and to the table with its handsome wedding cake. Mrs. Oliver in a handsome gown of black crepe-back satin, heavily beaded, and smart black hat assisted the young couple in receiving.

The many beautiful wedding gifts were much admired and included a handsome silver tea service of Queen Anne design, the gift of the Cabinet Ministers of the Province and their wives.

Rev. and Mrs. Runnalls left on the afternoon boat for Seattle and Spokane on St. Charles Street, where they will make the future home, and where the bridegroom is to be inducted on Friday evening as pastor of the United Church.

C.P.R. SOCIAL CLUB AGAIN JOLLY HOSTS

Fifteen Tables in Play at the Opening of Weekly Card Games

The C.P.R. Social Club card committee is becoming noted for the exceptionally pleasant card games which they hold in the Empress Hotel. Last night under the chairmanship of J. Helinger, a military 500 game took place which was voted a great success. Fifteen tables took part in a sociable game which resulted in the following: First prize, Mrs. Jeffrey; Mrs. Wright; Mrs. Adams; Mrs. J. M. Bulger; second, Mrs. Wilby; Mrs. Rogers; Messrs. Geo. Medley and J. Helinger; third, Mrs. Simpson; Mrs. Hildreth; Messrs. D. C. Robertson and G. Randall.

The ten bid was made at no less than seven tables, and excitement ran high when the fifth party "cut" in. The last to "cut" was Mrs. R. E. Burnes, who turned up a "Joker," and was accordingly awarded the prize along with her partner, J. McOrmond. The game started promptly at 8.30, which greatly pleased those who were ready to start at that time, being assured a leisurely and comfortable evening. Quite a number of fortable comers were disappointed, but intend to be well on time at the next game. The card committee have decided owing to the repeated requests from the patrons, to hold another game next Tuesday instead of a fortnight hence, and arrangements are being made to hold 500 games every week instead of every fortnight.

The first of the series of the small dances, held under the auspices of the C.P.R. Club, will be held tomorrow, Thursday, evening in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel. The dances will be held fortnightly throughout the season. They are strictly invitation dances. The committee have been busy issuing their invitations to their friends, and it is expected that the first affair on Thursday will be a huge success. Dancing commences at 8.30 and continues until 11.30, while the usual splendid dance music will be provided by Ozard's five-piece orchestra.

YOUR HOME AND YOU

By HELEN KENDALL

Uniform Curtaining

"It is all very well for you to suggest pongee-colored silk curtains for one room, bright chintz for another, sprigged muslin for a third, and checked gingham for the kitchen," protested one of my readers recently, "but you should see the house of one of my neighbors who has done it all in one street. It looks like a kaleidoscope! Her windows are all uniform in size and are nearly all visible from the road. A mistake like that is not to be made for a general mixed-up look!"

Well, of course, after I had chuckled sympathetically over her humorous account, I had to admit that there are some houses that should have all the windows curtained exactly alike, especially as seen from the street. When a suburban cottage is of the low-lying and over type that gives no indication as to the uses of its various rooms, but merely presents a charming picture as a whole, it is peculiarly disconcerting to see straight lines of orange at one set of windows, draped-back curtains at others, and flowered cretonne at a third set.

For such a house, I think there is nothing lovelier than straight glass-curtains of simple net or marquisette, in the case of a semi-detached or cottage, ruffled muslin looped back with uniform bands. Within the

PRETTY WEDDING AT EMMANUEL CHURCH

Marriage of Miss Ethel Louisa Abbott and George Garland

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at Emmanuel Baptist Church on Monday evening, when Ethel Louisa, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Abbott, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. George Garland, also of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Stevenson in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the "bride's march," charmingly gowned in a dress of sand-colored crepe velette with hat in suite carrying a bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended as matron of honor by Florence Abbott as bridesmaid in a pretty gown of pale blue silk. Miss Gladys Abbott made a charming little flower girl prettily attired in white crepe de Chine, and Miss Stevens supported the groom and Messrs. W. T. Abbott and G. W. Abbott acted as ushers.

The bride's gift to the groom was a pair of gold cuff links, the groom's gift to the bride being a string of pearls, to the matron of honor, bridesmaid and flower girl, gold brooches, and to the best man a tie pin. During the signing of the register Lawrence Abbott, regendered beautifully "In the Garden of Your Heart," Ivar Parfitt presiding at the organ. The church was prettily decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland were the recipients of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The happy couple left on the midnight boat for a brief holiday, after which they will make their home in Victoria.

War Work

She was commanding the Y.A.D. hospital at Swainston, and for several years and afterwards she rendered gratuitous assistance to the infant welfare clinics in Norwich, conducting a good deal of health propaganda and lecturing frequently to women.

Dr. Boileau also rendered useful services to the Hellespont Mental Hospital and to the Girl Guide movement, and the Church Missionary Society and the Young Women's Christian Association each claimed a share of her abundant sympathy.

During the agitation she became an enthusiastic suffragist—as distinguished from suffragette—and this led her on to develop sympathy with the aims of the Labor Party.

Equilateral Chapter's Bridge Tea—There is a good demand for tables for the bridge party to be given on Tuesday, October 23 in the Alexandra House, by the Equilateral Chapter, I.O.D.E. All those wishing for reservations should telephone Mrs. R. R. Ross, 948 Old Esquimalt Road, 4211, stating whether for bridge, mah jong or five hundred. Refreshments will be served and a very enjoyable evening is assured.

Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E.—The monthly business meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held on the regular day, the fourth Thursday of the month, October 25.

LIBERAL SPEAKERS CONFRONT TORY DEATH WHISPERS

British Columbia's Credit is Best in Dominion, Says Finance Minister

Clearihue Sounds Note of Optimism at Great Rally

Voluminous statistics to confront the "Pooley and Bowser campaign to spread the whispers of death" were quoted by J. B. Clearihue, M.P., the first speaker at the enthusiastic Liberal meeting at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night.

Mr. Clearihue sounded the ringing note of optimism which prevailed throughout the gathering and throughout all the speeches. "Forty thousand new immigrants came to our shores last year," said Mr. Clearihue, "an increase of forty per cent. over last year. There was an increase of 100 per cent. of the immigrants who came from the British Isles. If the present rate is maintained for the rest of the year we will have added to our population 100,000 people, and I believe we will have added 100,000 good Canadians. We have 122,000,000 acres of fertile arable land in the West alone for which we need settlers.

The Balance of Trade

"This year we have a great bumper crop of 500,000,000 bushels of grain. Our agricultural products amount to one billion and a half. Last year our export trade was almost one billion dollars, giving a balance of trade of 120,000,000 in face of an adverse balance a year ago of seven and a half millions and an adverse balance the year previous of $51,000,000.

"Is not this great advance a sign that prosperity is coming to this country? British Columbia has $19,000,000 worth of fisheries alone, standing first of all the provinces.

"Mineral production on Vancouver Island has increased forty-four per cent. She exported ten million dollars worth of goods abroad, an increase of two million dollars over the previous year. There were fifty saw mills with a payroll of six and a half millions.

"Yet," said the speaker emphatically, "in spite of these figures men are preaching ruin and desolation; they say the country is not progressing, it is going back. We find Mr. Pooley and Mr. Bowser trying to spread the whispers of death."

The Mortuary

"It did not go in the North. Fortunately business men do not go to the mortuary for information. The whispering of death never comes to British Columbia. Here we have rather the voice of life that reverberates through the valley and reaches the heights of the mountains. The echoes of death never come to the Liberal Party in the province. It seeks life while our opponents are groping among the graves. We want life, vigor and optimism in the Province."

The Finance Minister

The Hon. John Hart tendered congratulations to the officers elected and stated that when he knew Lester Patrick was a candidate for the presidency he knew that whichever candidate was elected the association would be in good hands.

Speaking of his trip abroad, he said that he found the credit of British Columbia stood higher than that of any other province in the Dominion of Canada. There was no doubt that capital would be sent to develop Canada's resources and to provide employment to the men who would come to Canada.

He did not know the author of the "Whispers of Death," but he was a menace to the country. Pessimism was a disease, and what was wanted to-day was optimism with broad vision who were prepared to build up the country, pessimism he defined as a man who could only see the hole in a doughnut.

Speaking of Mr. Bowser's policy, he said the Conservative leader was prepared to change his policy in any part of the country. He had, he said, no definite policy. Mr. Bowser in quoting British Columbia debt, he proceeded, was indefinite. It is true there was debt at the first of this month of $67,000,000, but he pointed out its greatest feature, "the treasury across the Bay," said the speaker, "we have bonds of the Dominion Government and treasury stock of British Columbia amounting to $11,000,000, which I could change into cash inside of twenty-five hours." There was approximately another $8,000,000 in bonds, making over $19,000,000 against the debt which should be taken into consideration.

Financed Farmers

We have borrowed for land settlement plans $5,000,000, which has been giving the farmers the benefit of our credit. The farmers could not have gone out and sold their bonds, so the Government did it for them. We have ample security for this money. There has been one and three-quarter millions loaned for better housing, for which we have the securities of the municipalities. Two and a half millions have been spent under the Soldier Land Act to bring a large track of land under cultivation. There had been a million dollar loan to the Department of Industries for the purpose of aiding the men who returned from overseas to re-establish themselves in business. Many of the securities which the Government held, he said, had appreciated in value. The total of those loans amounted to $29,000,000. So in considering the debt of $67,000,000 they must deduct that amount, which leaves $37,000,000.

An Era of Prosperity

Again referring to his recent trip and his observations, the Finance Minister emphatically declared that

Will Your Boy Be Educated?

Of course he will, because you want to see him grow up to be a "real" man. When he gets out into the world and makes his mark, what pleasure and satisfaction it will bring to you!

But there is just one consideration—suppose you do not live until he is fitted for his life's work. This thought has escaped many a man. It is the chief reason ninety per cent. of children never complete their High School course.

ANNUAL MEETING DRAWS RECORD LIBERAL CROWD

President's Report

In presenting his annual report the president, F. R. Carlow, stated that since the annual meeting last October and the annual meetings of the wards which came shortly after and with the formation of a central executive they launched out upon a plan of organization for the purpose of increasing the membership, to stimulate interest in the organization and the party generally in the city. As a result of this they had been able during the year to add some 1,600 men's names to the membership roll. He felt personally the value of this work would not be felt until such time as the party went before the people for an election.

New Voters

A great many of the new members were new voters. Later in the year during the Court of Revision they put something in the neighborhood of 70 names on the voters' list for this constituency, a great many being new members for the party.

That they had stimulated interest in the association and the party could best be judged by a comparison of the previous two annual meetings and the present one. He remembered in 1921 just after their president at that time, W. M. Ivel, had resigned for the purpose of becoming a candidate for the Federal election there were 125 votes cast for the office of president. The following year 235 votes were cast for president and that night they probably had an increase of another 100 per cent. over last year.

The method employed by the association in increasing the membership had generally been of a social nature. Mr. Carlow also referred to the work of the advisory committee. Perhaps one of the outstanding questions taken up by the advisory board was, he said, the wreck of the steamship Alaskan. They felt keenly about the wreck because they lost a good many members of the association at that time. There were seven members lost in that unfortunate affair. The committee had recommended that a finding station should be established at Pachen, and a boat similar to the U.S. boat, the Snohomish, stationed on the coast during the winter.

Secretary's Report

The report of the secretary, S. J. Herd, was as follows: "I have pleasure in submitting the following report on the activities of this association covering the past twelve months. During the above period many social functions of importance were held. The opening event being a ball held in the Alexandra House under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Liberal Social Club which proved to be a most brilliant success, and was attended by many prominent Vancouver Liberals.

"The second ball was held in the Armories, Bay Street, and was attended by nearly 5,000 people. This ball having proved such a success, it was decided to repeat the same with the assistance of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, of the I.O.D.E., the proceeds, $275, being donated to the Tubercular Ward of the Jubilee Hospital. Many social functions have been held by the ward social clubs all of which proved to be of mutual benefit to those attending.

"The sincere thanks of the association is extended to the Liberal orchestra under the leadership of Bert Zala, also to those entertainers who contributed their services so cheerfully and willingly, also to the press for the many courtesies extended the association during the season.

"The outstanding feature of the summer was a picnic held at Goldstream. When the present officers assumed office the membership was 239, now, owing to these social functions together with the untiring efforts of our president, executive, ward officers and members, together with the officers and members of the Young Ladies' Liberal Social Club Ltd.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder discomfort.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cannot be too highly recommended. It is a most valuable lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Skaters Can Prepare For Opening of Rink

It Is Expected That Doors of Arena Will Be Flung Open on First of Next Month; Hockey Teams Are Beginning to Line Up Material For Season; Lester Patrick Received Signed Contracts of Harry Meeking and Jocko Anderson

This is to give ample warning to folks who want to take part in Opening Night at the Arena to have their skates sharpened and their boots cleaned and patched up, if necessary. Although no official announcement has been made by Manager Patrick as to what day the doors of the Arena will be flung open it is whispered by some of the "rink-rats" that around the first of November skaters will be able to have their fling. It would not be surprising if Lester picked on November 1 as the opening date.

COUGAR SIGNS UP

HARRY MEETING

Arena Centre of Interest For the next four months interest in Victoria will centre around the Arena. The big sporting events, the hockey games, will be staged there every week throughout the Winter and there will be skating sessions as well as amateur hockey games in various stages of evolution.

The coast hockey fans are in for another long season of hockey, according to the rumors which are floating about. The schedule will get under way in Vancouver on Monday, November 12, followed by the regular game in Seattle on the Wednesday and the opener here on Friday, November 16.

Meeting Next Week

It is expected that the moguls of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association will hold their annual gathering some time next week in Vancouver. This will be attended by Pete Muldoon, of Seattle; Lester Patrick, of Victoria, and Frank Patrick, of Vancouver. At this meeting the schedule will be formally adopted and there will be the usual discussion over the prospects for the season.

Vancouver Says Nothing

Vancouver is not making any announcements as to how it is faring with its players. Contracts have been mailed but so far Lloyd Cook, manager of the club, has not revealed what players have placed their signatures on the forms. Lester Patrick has five of his players in the fold and two of them are here awaiting the opening of the rink so that they can begin getting into shape. Clem Tribby, the Montreal amateur, signed his contract while Lester was in the East, and Jimmy Gibson and Fred Speck, of Calgary, both placed their John Henry on the dotted line some weeks ago. Gibson is bucking against reporting owing to his job in Calgary, but it is expected that he will come along like a good boy. The Victoria manager cannot only demand another player for Gibson but also put Jimmy on the suspended list just to show the rest of the players that

Baseball's Hold On Public Is Now Keener Than Ever

President Heydler Comments on Recent Series; Says Frisch Was Real Star

New York, Oct. 17.—Baseball has emerged from the 1923 world's series which the New York American League team won on Monday, stronger in its hold on popular interest than ever before and unweakened by unfortunate incidents of the last few years, John A. Heydler, president of the National League, asserted in a statement last night. Frank Frisch, the New York Nationals second baseman, by his consistent hitting, daring base running and sensationally flawless fielding, "came out of the series one of the greatest, if not the greatest, present day all round players of the game," Mr. Heydler said, and John J. McGraw, he added, the manager of the defeated team "came out of the series a bigger man than ever before in his career," and "his sportsmanship was splendid."

Surpassed the Dreams "In the world's series just closed," read the statement, "baseball reached a peak no one had dared to prophesy for the game. Friends of the game had dreamed of a million dollar series, but nobody ever expected to awake and find that the dream had come true. Here was a third series in succession played in New York and yet over 300,000 persons paid over a million to see six games. "The series shows that after nearly half a century baseball's hold upon American life is stronger than ever," it continued. "In all my years of close connection with the game I have never seen so much interest in the Fall classic as this year. And I never saw a finer contest. "There were those who doubted and who threw cold water and who said that the game had slipped back and had been hurt by the things that are bound to happen to all human enterprises as time goes by. But the wave of intense interest that swept the land in full flood this Fall has carried the game to its zenith.

Interest at Fever Heat

The reasons were fundamental. The fans were expecting a closely contested series. When the Yanks, beaten twice in succession, turned on the champion Giants and deadlocked the series Saturday, the crowd leaped to fever heat at a bound. As many people were turned away Sunday as were seated in the biggest baseball park in the world. "Both teams fought to the last and gave their spectators their all in all and the best team won. I believe that John McGraw came out of the series a bigger man than ever before in his career, even though he was beaten. His sportsmanship was splendid. His comment and his attitude day by day showed a game loser at its best."

DINNER FOR HUGGINS

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 17.—A dinner in honor of Miller Huggins, a native Cincinnati, manager of the champion New York Yankees, will be given by the fans of greater Cincinnati. New York, Oct. 17.—"Babe" Ruth yesterday took out a $50,000 life insurance policy, with his greatest American League rival for battling honors, Harry Heilmann, of the Detroit Tigers, who is an insurance agent during the off season. Heilmann and Ruth are the keenest of rivals on the diamond, but also warm friends.

RIDES FIVE WINNERS

Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—Ivan Parks, who is leading all the jockeys at Latonia, rode five winners and two third in the seven races at the Milldale track yesterday. Parks, who is sixteen years old, comes from Decio, Idaho, where Earle Sande, and the Fator brothers got their start.

PANCHO DROPS OPPONENT

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—Kid Pancho, San Antonio flyweight, knocked out Tony Norman, Pittsburgh flyweight, in the eighth round of their scheduled twelve-round bout. Johnny Simpson, known as the Oklahoma catcher, knocked out Sam Rico, holder of two Mexican championships, in the third round of their scheduled eight-round bout. They are lightweights.

EXCITING PLAY WHICH CHEERED YANKEE SUPPORTERS

The Yankees' big moment came in the second inning of the first game. Ward had singled past Groh on the first pitch. Schang singled to centre, Ward stopping at second. Scott out, Ward and Schang advancing. Hoyt fanned. Then Witt singled, scoring Ward and Schang. This remarkable photo shows Witt reaching first, Ward and Schang rounding third on the way to the plate.

WHEN POOR OLD JOE SAW STARS

The end of Joe Beckett, champion heavyweight pugilist of the British Empire. Georges Carpentier, the French idol, put Joe to sleep in fifteen seconds in London less than two weeks ago. The picture shows Beckett on the floor taking the count of ten with Carpentier standing over him. In the background are the starch-fronts of the fans who paid $20 for their seats and who joined in boosing Beckett for his poor showing. After the fight Beckett announced his retirement from the ring.

First Division Made Up of Seven Elevens

Moose and Esquimalt Graduate From Second Division and Will Compete Against Five Senior Clubs; Three Games Are Slated For Saturday With Wards and Wests Meeting in Classic

Seven football teams now comprise the First Division. The Second Division has been wiped out and the Moose and Esquimalt have graduated into senior company.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association held last evening no further entries were received for the Second Division, which meant that only Esquimalt and the Moose would play for the championship. It was felt that this would be detrimental to the success of the league and as a result the representatives of the two clubs were asked if they would consent to promotion. They agreed to take their chances in the First Division.

Three Games Each Week

This will provide soccer fans with three First Division games each Saturday. The draw for the coming Saturday was made and resulted as follows: Sons of England a bye. North Ward vs. Victoria Wests, at the Royal Athletic Park. Referee, Lock. Moose vs. Veterans, at Beacon Hill. Referee, Robbins. Esquimalt vs. Navy, at the Canteen Grounds. Referee, Payne. The first two games will start at 3 o'clock, while the third is slated for 3:15 o'clock. There is no doubt but that the greatest interest on Saturday will centre around the clash between the Wests and Wards. This is the first time in years that these rivals have met. A decade ago the Wards and Wests were usually the finalists in senior company. They had many wild battles and thousands of people used to watch them fight it out. The Wards dropped out of the game, but the Wests continued to carry on, and have always been at the top of the heap. Now the Wards are coming back, and it so happened that in their opening game they have been drawn against their ancient enemy.

One Junior Division Game

One Junior Division game is down for decision on Saturday. The Saanich Thistles will play Oklands at Central Park, with Billie Cull handling the referee. The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock.

College Men Too Fast for City's High School Team

Collegians Win 9-0 After Hard-Fought Rugby Game; High Scrum Good

The Victoria College rugby fifteen, in their first action of the year, defeated the stout Victoria High School defence yesterday afternoon at Craigmore Road by 9-0, after one of the most grueling struggles that either team has engaged in for some time. The players of both teams were in excellent shape and the spirit of the game resulted in many exciting plays. There was little to pick between the players, save that the High School was faster and worked in set pieces in the scrimmages and line-outs, while the College was slightly stronger in its back division. Within fifteen seconds after the kick-off, the College threequarters started one of their flashy runs, starting on one wing with the ball and finishing with Graham on the opposite wing, who was literally hurled over the line, though several pairs of hands tried to detain him. The College men were highly elated, but the High School settled down to more steady tactics and the result was that the ball was generally kept clear of the College backs.

High School Fight Hard

Plunging through a line-out in midfield, Locke and Diespecker, of the High School back division, took the ball to within five yards of the opposing goal line before the College backs and scrum followed in quick succession, and the High School generally got away with the ball. It was not until the College backs kicked free and well up the field that the pressure was relieved. From that time onward the College continued to press, until, at last, the ball was carried over a score by Marsh. The try was not converted. In the second half of the struggle the High School played with the wind at their backs and resulted in their gaining more ground with their kicking. The backs' work on the defence at this point was good. The forwards, too, were working well, keeping their opponents well under. Four out of every five times the High School got the ball out of the scrums. This fact saved the College more than once. In one instance, when the scrum was on the five-yard line three times in succession, the College failed to obtain the ball for their patiently waiting backs. But even when the ball did come out, the College three got away with it. High School men kept pluck, to bring down the runners before the ball was on its way towards the goal line.

Looking Every Inch a Jockey

Looking every inch a jockey—he is only four feet eleven inches tall, 108 pounds—Donoghue favorably impressed those who big him welcome. He did not affect the usual jockey blazing costume, and interviewers found him as conservative in his demeanor and language as in his dress. The clockers, however, were not as much interested in the affectionate recognition that human and beast would display when they saw each other agape as they were in the time that would be shot when Donoghue took the horse through a workout.

May Not Race

Whether the winner of the international race will meet My Own, Admiral Grayson's horse, may be determined definitely to-day. Harry P. Sinclair, owner of Zev, has consented but Basil Jervis, trainer of Papyrus, said he would ship his charge home Thursday unless Ben Irish orders otherwise. An offer of a $50,000 purse for such a contest was received yesterday from the hotel track, of Maryland, which it would hold on October 25. Although dispatches from London say public interest there in the race has been greatly shortening in wagers growing more intense here now that the world series has ended and the spotlight has shifted from baseball.

Zev Travels Fast

New York, Oct. 17.—Zev, America's hope in the $100,000 international race on Saturday with Papyrus flashed a brilliant workout this morning at Belmont Park in the horse's final test before the match with the English Derby winner. Zev turned a mile and a quarter in 2:03, eased up and was going strong at the finish.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 17.—Zev, who is to run against Papyrus in the international race at Belmont Park next Saturday, and My Own, who was considered the favorite for the honor of meeting Papyrus, will probably be seen in the Latonia championship race to be run at Latonia on November 1. Both are eligible for the race.

Giants Come Early For Cheques While Yankees in no Rush

New York, Oct. 17.—Cheques for $4,112.88, the losers' end, were distributed yesterday to members of the New York Giants as their share of the world's series receipts. Total distribution among Giants players and attendants was $110,634.91. Manager McGraw and his assistant, Hugh Jennings, and twenty-four players were the ones to get the bigger cheques. Pitchers who joined the club late, groundkeepers, trainers and assistants received smaller cheques for sums ranging from $250 to $1,500.

Baseball Commissioner Landis, who announced the award, said the world champion Yankees had not yet submitted their list of those to receive cheques.

Four Clubs to Play In McKechnie Series

Victoria, Nanaimo, Vancouver and Varsity Will Have Three Home Games Each In Competition to Determine Rugby Champions of Province; Cowichan Fails to File Entry Owing to Transportation Expenses; Victoria Plays In Opener

Four teams will compete this season in the series for the McKechnie Cup, emblematic of the British Columbia senior rugby championship. The Island will provide two teams while the Mainland will round out the league with two others. It was expected that the Island would have produced a third fifteen but Cowichan cannot meet the financial obligations entailed by the schedule which has been adopted by the British Columbia Rugby Union.

It had first been arranged that the series be divided into two sections, with the Island clubs and Mainland teams playing off in a knockout series and the winners of the two sections meeting for the championship. This would have reduced traveling expenses considerably but the officials decided that it would not be in the best interests of the game. The inter-city games are the spice of the competition and it was decided to have as many as possible. As a result Cowichan found it impossible to play under these conditions and did not put in an entry.

Series Opens on November 10

The schedule adopted by the B. C. Rugby Union is as follows: November 10—Victoria vs. Varsity, at Vancouver. November 17—Nanaimo vs. Vancouver, at Vancouver. November 24—Vancouver vs. Varsity, at Vancouver. December 1—Nanaimo vs. Varsity, at Vancouver. December 8—Vancouver vs. Nanaimo, at Nanaimo. December 15—Victoria vs. Nanaimo, at Victoria. January 5—Varsity vs. Victoria, at Victoria. January 12—Victoria vs. Vancouver, at Vancouver. January 19—Nanaimo vs. Victoria, at Nanaimo. Also Varsity vs. Vancouver, at Vancouver. February 2—Vancouver vs. Victoria, at Victoria; also Varsity vs. Nanaimo, at Nanaimo.

Open Season Saturday

A meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union was held last evening to complete arrangements for the opening of the season here on Saturday afternoon. The Garrison and Oak Bay Wanderers will clash at the oval at the Willows track. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will kick-off the ball at 3 o'clock. It is expected that an immense crowd will watch the game. This will be the first time that the Willows has been used for Rugby. A fine field has been marked out. The opening game should be a thriller all the way. Bill Ellis will referee.

PREMIER SEES TRIUMPHS FOR LIBERALISM

progressive policy. "I was looking for that policy," said the Premier. "One thing he did say was he was travelling through the Province at his own expense. The Premier of the Province my traveling expenses have amounted to $1,000 a year, while Mr. Bowser has drawn while he has been leader of the opposition $12,000 a year."

Premier Oliver referred to the gathering as an indication of the triumphs in store for Liberalism. He was glad to see the spirit of rivalry for the office of president and the spirit of sportsmanship that made it unanimous.

Greatest Finance Minister. Proceeding he described the Hon. John Hart as the greatest Finance Minister British Columbia had ever had. His keen financial intuition had enabled him despite criticism of opposition leader and other financiers to float loans to the extent of millions of dollars in the United States and take advantage of the difference of a rate of exchange of fifteen per cent. to one and one and a half per cent. and by his sagacity had saved not thousands of dollars this way, but hundreds of thousands of dollars.

No government throughout Canada or throughout the world, declared the Premier, in the hands of the record of the present Government had put more legislation on the statute books for the benefit of the people than in British Columbia. Mr. Bowser told the people of the North to put him back as Premier and bring back those prosperous conditions of the time of Sir Richard McBride. Mr. Oliver referred to the sale of the Province at that time to the farmers of Indiana and Ohio, because they could not be sold in New York, at a cost of $6.36 per annum and four per cent. commission in addition was paid to the brokers. "Of the millions of dollars we have sold," said the speaker, "we have yet to pay the first cent of commission."

B. C. Bonds. "British Columbia bonds," he continued with pride, "are identically the same price as are the bonds of the Dominion of Canada. Is there anything you can point to as good and sufficient reason that the Liberals of this Province should have lost the confidence of the people?"

Turning to Federal politics the speaker remarked that notwithstanding the reduction in railway rate the National lines were doing many millions dollars a month better business than they did under the late Meighen Government. What had been the result of the reductions of the rate of 1920? Half a million bushels of wheat came to the coast for export. Of the 1921 crop three or four millions came to the coast. The reduction of six cents per 100 lbs. in August, 1922, approximately twenty millions came to the Pacific coast for export.

"We have established a western movement for wheat in the West which all the powers of the Conservatives can never stop. I secured a 10 per cent reduction on freights the advertising British Columbia got from the campaign has been worth more than it ever cost the people of the Province."

Expounding a policy of co-operation with the Liberal Government at Ottawa, the speaker said that all the things they were doing were secured since the Liberal party was in power. "I believe," he said when I go to the Liberal Government at Ottawa I am going to make an extraordinary road treatment on a basis of equity and justice."

"I prefer co-operation with the Dominion Government than fighting them as I am frequently advised to do. By co-operation between the Federal and Provincial Governments we have settled the vexed, longshore question on Mainland. We are working hard for a grain elevator for Victoria. I am not making any promises, but I will have a good prospect of getting it. We are working at it, and have good hopes of success." He believed Prince Rupert would also become a grain exporting port.

DRIVER OF STREET CAR EXONERATED BY ASSIZE JURY

True bills against Daniel John Matheson, chairman, manager in connection with the death of two-year-old Constance Pearl Barker, and against Arthur Thorpe, charged with manslaughter in regard to the death of Thorwald Birkland, were returned by the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon, when the Assize Court resumed from its morning session.

The Grand Jury found no bill in the charge against Stanley Youson, charged in Esquimalt with theft. Presentation was withheld on the charge against John Steele, in the case of a true bill. Stanley Youson was summoned to appear before it.

The finding of the Grand Jury limits the Assize to a possibility of three months, as Youson was ordered released as soon as the finding of the Grand Jury freed him of the charge and his counsel, J. P. Walls, was not called upon.

Matheson Case. Before returning with a finding in the Matheson case the Grand Jury asked for leave to hear technical and expert evidence as to the operation of the car. This, they said, would assist them in reaching a finding. Mr. Justice Murphy declined the request. It might lead to complications, stated His Lordship, and instructed the Grand Jury to find on the material before it. The panel then returned with the finding of a true bill.

After formal proof of plans prepared of the scene of the occurrence on Catherine Street, where little Constance Barker lost her life on August 28 of this year, the prosecution placed the bereaved mother in the witness stand.

Saw Child Disappear. Mrs. Mabel Barker, the mother, stated that on the day in question she had heard the noise of a car approaching, and had run from the house in time to see the little girl stepping down from the curb across the street. The car passed and the girl disappeared.

Dr. Douglas Graham told of the death of the deposed girl in hospital some nine hours after the accident had taken place. Seven-year-old Harry Bowman, 707 Catherine Street, gave the statement of what appeared to be the only eye witness to the actual moment of impact. The statement was given unsworn due to the age of the deponent. Witnesses of the death of the little girl playing in the street.

Had Kitten in Arms. Then the street car came down the hill, and ran over her. "She had a little pussy in her hands," he told the court, and added that the "kitty" had been running after the accident. David Hayter, Benjamin Bowman and Wong Sang, gave evidence along with the other witnesses at the inquest, and at the preliminary hearing in the police court. Each had heard an unusual noise that drew their attention to the street car. None had seen the actual accident.

Women Exited in Car. James H. Hawthornthwaite and Col. Ralph Andros told of the event as from the viewpoint of passengers on the ill-fated street car. Mr. Hawthornthwaite stated he had known the accused for some time as a careful and prudent driver. The car, he could see, was traveling about fifteen miles an hour. Witness told of excitement in the car among women passengers, one of whom rushed forward and begged to be let out of the car.

Col. Andros told of the explosion made by the automatic circuit breaker, from which he said came flames and smoke. Witness thought the car was proceeding slower than usual. The case for the Crown, and Oscar C. Bass, prosecutor, made way for Harold B. Robertson, K.C., and A. V. Young, counsel for the accused.

Accused Gives Story. Taking the stand on his own behalf, an act that he did voluntarily, Daniel J. Matheson told of the circumstances as he saw them. He saw the little child forty feet ahead on the left hand side of the rails. He looked away to observe a crossing. When he looked back the child was directly in the path of his car. He saw he could not avoid hitting the little girl, and at once threw in his emergency and reverse controls. The circuit breaker started to smoke, and this excited women passengers in the car.

One woman rushed up and caught him by the arm, shouting to be let off as the "car was on fire." The car was then at a standstill with the doors open, due to the operation of the emergency gear. Witness thought the child had been thrown clear by the fender and went on because he wished to avoid a panic by closing the gates. To do this he had to let the car go forward so that he

Vessel Thought to Have Been Abandoned by Spaniards. When on This Coast.

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—The framework and planking of a craft which has withstood the stress of years and which is believed to have been used centuries ago by Chinese or Spanish explorers or pirates, have been uncovered many feet beneath the earth's surface at Los Angeles harbor in excavations for an oil storage tank.

The boat, less than forty feet in length, with high sides, is built of a heavy, thick wood. Some of the timbers are hand rounded, as is the case in many old Oriental vessels. Metal used to fasten pieces of the craft together had rusted away. The construction of the ship indicated that it was not built by Indians.

More than a century ago, channels of the harbor are said to have been altered, and mariners say they believe the vessel entered, became fast in a mud bank and was abandoned by the crew.

What is believed to be the trunk of a mastodon was uncovered near the timbers. That a Chinese master brought the craft across the Pacific ocean; that it crossed the Bering Sea and sailed down the coast to California, and that it might have been brought around the Horn by Spanish explorers or pirates are theories advanced to account for its presence here.

OCEAN AND COASTWISE SHIPPING

ARRIVES FROM ORIENT AFTER BATTLING WITH STORM

The Blue Funnel liner Philoctetes reached port this afternoon from the Orient after having battled with a fierce gale at sea.

Indicating that the silk trade to the United States from the Orient has not diminished the Philoctetes brought 6,000 bales of silk in her holds valued at $6,500,000. There were twenty-nine steamer passengers for Victoria.

C.N.R. Report Shows Increase

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending October 7, 1923, were $5,566,728, being an increase of $80,423 or one per cent as compared with corresponding week of 1922.

The gross earnings of the Canadian National Railways from January 1 to October 7, 1923 have been $187,124,956.49, being an increase of $17,256,318.22 as compared with the corresponding period of 1922.

MANY PROMINENT PASSENGERS WILL LEAVE TO-MORROW

Empress of Canada Will Dock Here Thursday Outbound For the Orient

When the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada leaves for the Orient to-morrow she will take out an unusually large number of distinguished passengers. The Empress is expected to sail on her scheduled time from Vancouver Thursday, and will dock here in Victoria Friday.

Among the first-class passengers leaving for the Orient on Thursday are Sir Francis and Lady Agnes, of Hongkong, where Sir Francis is inspector-general of Chinese maritime customs, and Sir Claude and Lady Severn and their two sons, who are on their way to the Hongkong Government. Rev. R. A. Morrison, D.D., R.C.M.S., will also be on board.

The Port of Victoria is a powerful port, with steel hull, fully equipped. Dr. MacLean said it is anticipated that the tug can handle the company's barges into Vancouver without delay in any kind of weather.

No announcement was made as to the price paid for the tug. From the point of view of the railway, we consider it a very satisfactory purchase," Dr. MacLean said, however.

THE SAANICH BY-LAW

sewer campaign of 1922 alleged there was no payment due until the electors endorsed the agreement. Why, then, was the interest been accruing at the rate of five per cent. per annum on $46,235.59 from the seventh day of March, 1917, until the amount all told to a sum claimed amount of $70,000? What provision was made in that agreement for the use of water to flush the Saanich sewer system when the Saanich sewer system is in operation and connected up with the Victoria system? Under that agreement passed on the 17th day of June by the Saanich Council, 1920, it is provided that the sewage entering Victoria sewers shall be limited to certain stated amounts. It is also provided that at any time any payment demanded in connection with the use of Victoria sewer system in default for thirty days, the sewer system may be disconnected at the boundary, thus stopping the flow of sewerage into Victoria sewers. Another provision sets out that no surface water shall be allowed to enter the Saanich sewers. In that case, what will be the source of water required to flush the Saanich sewer system.

What control of any water system has Saanich at its command? Will a separate sewer water system have to be installed, or as an alternative will Saanich have to continue buying water from the city of Victoria at so much per gallon as at present to flush her sewers when constructed, and in that way have a sanitary system up to the council of Victoria?

The conditions of that agreement made under the Watson regime, will have to be remodeled and put into practical business-like shape before it is submitted to the Saanich electorate in November next if it is to have any possibility of passage. It is a fair deal, I have no doubt she will pay her liabilities, if any.

Water. Drainage and his methods of flushing up Saanich by the throat as suggested in the letter he wrote to the Times some time ago, will only cause resentment and will not get anywhere. There is no reason why Saanich and Victoria should not settle their differences amicably. A SAANICH RATEPAYER

YOKOHAMA MARU IS BRINGING MUCH RAW SILK FROM ORIENT

The Blue Funnel liner Philoctetes reached port this afternoon from the Orient after having battled with a fierce gale at sea.

Indicating that the silk trade to the United States from the Orient has not diminished the Philoctetes brought 6,000 bales of silk in her holds valued at $6,500,000. There were twenty-nine steamer passengers for Victoria.

ADVENTURERS START TRIP NO WHITE MAN HAS YET COMPLETED

Honolulu, Oct. 17 (Associated Press)—A breath of romance—limpid lagoons—boiling through the ocean, with all sail set, at the speed of an average steamer—life among the natives in a far-off South Sea isle—of the beginning of a 600-mile trip up a river on which many white men have set out, but none returned—is the first Japanese steamship Nippon Yusen Kisha liner Yokohama Maru will make Victoria from the Far East on her schedule time, it was announced at the local office this morning by W. R. Dale.

Noon on Saturday is the time set for her arrival, according to latest wireless dispatches. She has for her first crew a party of twenty-seven first class passengers and eleven steerage. While the mail and cargo consignment from the Orient is a large one.

According to cable advices before the vessel left Kobe, which was her last port of call, there are 2,000 bales of raw silk aboard her in addition to large consignments of silk goods valued at approximately $2,000,000.

This is the first steamship of the N.Y.K. to arrive here on schedule and to get its vessels back to schedule order since the earthquake.

Bound for ports in the Orient, the Yokohama Maru will sail from Victoria last night with 136 passengers and a full cargo of freight. The vessel will call at Yokohama this trip.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 17.—The steam schooner Clearmont, which was disabled off the mouth of the Columbia River late yesterday with damaged steering gear, was to-day proceeding to San Francisco with a jury rudder rigged up during the night, according to word received by the Federal Telegraph Company. The Clearmont is bound from Raymond, Wash., to San Pedro, Calif., with lumber.

The radiogram picked up by the Federal Telegraph radio station this morning said: "We made temporary repairs and are in no immediate danger. Need no assistance."

ROXEN IN TROUBLE

Portland, Ore., Oct. 17.—The Swedish steamer Roxen, bound from Puget Sound to the Columbia River, last night reported to the radio station at Northhead that she was in trouble because of the high seas. Her deckload, it was said, had started.

Heavy seas were breaking over her, the radio message said.

Will Electrify Swiss Railroads

Geneva, Oct. 17 (Associated Press)—A new water power plant is being constructed in the Alps at an altitude of 6,233 feet near Martigny, Canton of Valais, for the purpose of supplying electric energy to the Swiss Federal railways.

A dam is being built across the Barberine cascade, whose waters flow into the River Rhone, to form an artificial lake of 40,000,000 cubic metres. The cost of the dam will be 30,000,000 Swiss francs, but with the electric installation the amount will run over 60,000,000 francs. A total energy of 60,000 horsepower will be supplied.

The work will be finished in 1924. It goes forward slowly, for at the high altitude the cold and the snow permit of only 100 working days a year.

AMERICAN TONNAGE CAUSES BIG LEAP IN FISCAL YEAR OF CANAL

During the first nine years of operation of the Panama Canal, up to June 30 last, 19,802 vessels of 74,671,519 tons gross, carrying 80,916,281 tons of cargo and paying tolls aggregating $73,511,639, transited the "big ditch," according to Government reports.

Of the total, 7,855 were American vessels, aggregating 31,286,902 tons gross and carrying 35,085,489 tons of freight. Due to the rapid growth of the intercoastal trade in the last fiscal year, American shipping comprised a little more than half of last year's traffic. German tonnage also showed a big gain, having advanced from nineteen vessels in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, to thirty-seven the next year and ninety in the year just passed, ranking sixth among the various nationalities.

Following the United States, with 1,994 ships, British registry was second last year with 1,965 vessels. Japan came next with 163; Norway fourth with 147, and Holland fifth. The tolls jumped from $11,197,832 in 1922 to $17,508,199 in 1923. The lowest year since 1915 was only $2,094,124. The first year, 1915, gave revenues of $4,888,454.

Still On the Map. "The Narwhal Expedition is still on the map, or rather moving around on the map," it said. "Right now we are passing through the channel between the island of Tikombia and the Vanua Levu of the Fijii group. We also are crossing the 150th meridian, where we jump a day."

"We had a wonderful time in the Samoan Islands. I think I saw as much of them as any white man has ever seen. While at Upou, I went on a trip with the New Zealand government and visited native villages along the shores. We were feted in each village. We lived in their grass huts and I was able to get pictures that have never been photographed before. I stayed in Apia several weeks and went to Pago Pago, where I made two trips—one to the Mannu group, where we lived with the natives for a week. The Samoans on these islands appear to be far ahead of the others, because the white man very rarely gets to Manua.

The 600-Mile Trip. "Our next stop will be Noumea. We will spend a week or two there getting the final touches for the real adventure. For we intend to go from there to New Guinea, where we hope to ascend the Fly river for about 600 miles. We realize that we are taking a long chance, as five expeditions have gone up this river, and not a man has returned from more than 100 miles.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap, but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and add plain water until the mixture makes 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs, loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and rattle completely disappears. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. # AT THE THEATRES

CAPITOL

If you asked Mrs. Van Asterbilt what was the greatest problem confronting the civilized world to-day she probably would reply: "The servant problem!" Therefore, to achieve the distinction, more or less, of being the world's most famous servants is interesting. To ally your curiosity, we are going to let you in on the why and wherefore of Dorothy Allan and Eleanor Daniels, who won the title with their performance as High and Low Jinks, respectively, in the William Fox film version of "If Winter Comes," which is showing at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

Miss Allen is a well known dyed-in-the-wool motion picture actress. She has never been on the stage, but she has achieved notable success in screen characterizations. One of the most recent of these was Argie in "Over the Hills," which was directed by Harry Millarde, who manipulated the megaphone for "If Winter Comes." Miss Allen also has many previous accomplishments to her credit.

In contrast with Miss Allen, as striking as their physical proportions, Miss Daniels never appeared in pictures before she was engaged for "If Winter Comes." She is well known on the legitimate stage, however, having appeared in numerous Broadway productions. Miss Daniels is an intimate friend of Alice Bradley, author of David Belasco's stage triumph "The Governor's Lady," which has been acquired for screen adaptation by William Fox. It is fitting, therefore, that "the world's greatest servants" have been engaged to appear in this production.

DOMINION

The most essential characteristic of an author, playwright or scenarist is that he must have lived in the fullest sense of the word. A rolling stone may make a poor business man, but nine times out of ten, all other things being equal, he will make a great writer.

Forrest Halsey, who made the screen adaptation of "The Green Goddess," that really remarkable photoplay which is showing all this week at the Dominion Theatre, is a rolling stone plus, one of the super variety in fact.

Born in the historic town of Fredericksburg, Va., young Halsey didn't even finish his education before he decided gathering moss was no business for a regular fellow. He urged his folks to send him up North to be educated and spent his early years at the famous Newark Academy.

Every week-end Forrest went to New York and being an observant nature saw that the young artists in and around Greenwich Village were having all the fun, so he immediately decided to study art during the day and drama at night. The latter study he began at the very bottom, attending Miner's Bowersky Theatre every week.

It was only natural that a young man of Forrest Halsey's type would sooner or later find himself in Paris. After he arrived there he made friends with some young doctors and rather than forsake their company decided to be a medico himself. As is well known, the elementary study of medicine is somewhat gruesome and young Halsey, not wanting to be associated with any dead ones even for a few hours a day, decided to return to art for his own sake. He became a very successful dry-painter, etcher and made portraits of such notables as Adelina Patti, Fritz Kreiser, Olga Nethersole, Clyde Fitch and Alfred G. Vanderbilt. By his time Mr. Halsey had acquired such tastes that an artist's income was far from being adequate. So he decided to go into business and determined to make Wall Street his oyster and open it to the issue of a couple of millions. He did get the first million but lost it in sending it after the second.

Then in order to soothe his landlady, Mr. Halsey sat down and wrote all day to convince her he was working. Much to his surprise the magazine editors liked his stuff. They said it was great fiction. As a matter of fact it was all truth.

Halsey's work being all in terms of action soon attracted the attention of motion picture producers to such an extent that he was enabled to give up writing altogether and is now receiving such a fancy salary as a scenarist writer that he hopes to have a couple of million yet.

ROYAL VICTORIA

"The Sporting Earl," which is the attraction at the Royal again to-day, is one of the most popular English pictures that ever came over to Canada. It is somewhat on the style of the former big successes, "Mickey" and "The Whip," having all the comedy of the one, and the hurricane action of the other. Together, and in chases, including the concerns of Sir Horace Pilkington, Baronet, who leaves an eccentric will by virtue of which one of his nephews inherits his entire fortune, the other, afterwards known as The Sporting Earl, is left the Baronet's racing stable.

"The Admirable Crichton" To-night at Playhouse

To-night marks a red letter day in the tenure of the Playhouse by the Compton Comedy Company. Sir James Barrie's masterpiece, "The Admirable Crichton," is to be presented, and the production is causing the most widespread interest and enthusiasm. Mr. Compton is to be heartily congratulated on the splendid assortment of plays he is providing, and his choice of "The Admirable Crichton" for this week has been universally acclaimed.

Mr. Compton himself is to play Crichton, the butler, and this part will provide him with ample scope for his artistic talent. Miss Peggy Dundas will be a delightful Lady Mary and will bring to the part her own natural charm and ability. Mr. Herbert Leslie and Miss Agnes Burton have parts to suit their distinguished fair for character work, while Miss Dorothy Clancy, who made a great impression on her first appearance last week at the Playhouse, will be the Lady Agatha. All the other favorite members of the company are well cast in roles eminently suited to them.

The scenic production is to be worthy of the play, the desert island and the log hut being special features on which Walter Campbell, master mechanic at the Playhouse, Wilfrid Bullock, talented scenic artist, and William Mansen, master of properties, have all combined to make specially effective.

The Playhouse Trio has a delightful musical programme in preparation and every night to the most memorable first night of the Compton Comedy Company's present season. "The Admirable Crichton" is the most popular example of the work of the greatest modern British dramatist.

COLUMBIA

Claire Windsor heads the cast of film players in the Warner Brothers' classic of the screen, "The Little Church Around the Corner," which will be shown at the Columbia Theatre for the last time to-day. This is the screen adaptation of the play of the same name written by Charles Blaney.

Miss Windsor is a ravishing beauty who in two years has climbed to the top ranks of movie celebrities, winning her way both by charm of personality and solid histrionic gifts. The principal members of the cast in support of her include Kenneth Harlan, Hobart Bosworth, Walter Long and Alec Francis.

Hobart Bosworth is known wherever motion pictures are to be found. He is a veteran of the screen who has been leading man in some of the finest pictures made. He is a rugged specimen of manhood who sailed the seven seas as a youth, and whose career reads like a romance.

Kenneth Harlan is the type that makes young girls' hearts flutter; but he is also the type whose acting wins the admiration of everybody. He is a finished actor, and in "The Little Church Around the Corner" has the part of David Graham, the minister divided between love for the lovely daughter of a millionaire mine owner and his duty to his congregation—the lowly oppressed mine workers.

Walter Long, as solid as Gibraltar, has the part of Jude, the bully. He will be remembered for the splendid impersonation of Hull, in "The Beautiful and Damned."

Others in the cast are Pauline Stark, George Cooper, Margaret Seddon, Winton Hall, Cyril Chadwick and Tom Kennedy, William Selter directed.

Capacity House Enjoyed Excellent Vaudeville Last Night

Joe Roberts, world's greatest banjoist, "The Poster Girl," an exhilarating comedy act; Shadowland, spectacular dance act; and Kate and Wiley, the "Incomparables," are leading features shown for the first time at the Pantages Theatre last night. The programme was opened by Ritter and Knappe with a European juggling novelty which won the applause of the house. The act included startling feats.

The "Poster Girl" appears in a setting which is unique, folly girls and Spanish ladies being presented in gorgeous costumes, stepping right down from their advertising bill boards, singing and dancing to popular airs.

Joe Roberts was the hit of the evening. He commenced his turn by playing the "Post and Peasant," an intricate piece, both in its phrasing and quick succession of difficult chords. He then gave an imitation of two banjos playing at the same time.

A musical dialogue between Joe's banjo and the orchestra received much applause.

Another interesting act was

"Shadowland," in which wonderful effects in lighting and picturesque sets greatly enhance the scene. The turn is divided into seven parts.

"Ain't Nature Grand" is a very amusing act put on by Joe Holland and Cathleen O'Den, and kept the packed house in fits of laughter.

"Watch Your Step," the final act of the programme, kept the crowd in breathless suspense. The show will be continued to-day and to-morrow.

The Monthly Cheque - That Never Fails

It is all so simple and effective!

Just a few dollars set aside regularly, and the Canada Life will guarantee to your home a continuous monthly income.

What a relief to know that no matter what may happen, the monthly cheque that never fails, issued regularly by the Canada Life, will come to your home!

"Your present Life Insurance will perhaps "clear the mortgage," pay off the obligations of your estate, and leave something for your family, but

Consider This:

Financial problems should not be thrust upon a woman who is not used to business deals.

Therefore in addition to a "lump sum" of money, you should provide a definite income that cannot fail—

Because a weekly or monthly income is the natural thing for most people—

And a woman can keep a family together on even a small income, provided it is regular.

Moreover, the hands of unscrupulous men are always outstretched for money held by the unwary.

The Monthly Income Plan

Will solve the problem.

Only a few dollars saved and set aside from your regular earnings can be multiplied into a substantial income for your Beneficiary. You will be surprised to learn what a reasonable proposition can be made to you.

Ask for Particulars.

How the Money was Lost

"You see I had only a few thousand dollars left after the estate was settled—and my brother borrowed some to help him along; of course that went and then—

I simply had to help father with his business. he was so worried—and I thought it best to make an investment at once. Well that failed—and, really, if it were not for the monthly income cheque from the Canada Life I don't know how I should be getting along now."

Here he is shown playing croquet at Warwick Castle, England, with Will Hays, czar of the movies. A rumor is circulating around New York that it is not at all unlikely that Hays will resign to take over the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee. This is unconfirmed. It is further understood one of Harvey's reasons for coming back to the United States is to "help direct the coming campaign." The game was played at Carson Field under the glare of myriad gleaming electric bulbs, with Cincinnati winning a hard fought and interesting game. A white football was used and the spectators in the stands were able to follow the play without difficulty. The spectacle of a white football tumbling through the night air was a species of thrill to which the football followers had not been previously introduced.

HOW FARMER KEEPS YOUNG.—Alligators and monkeys, horses and snakes, sea monsters and beauties are all growing along the roadside near Auburn, N.Y. George E. Carr created these totem poles. He's a farmer at Barber's Corner, eighteen miles south of Auburn. Shortly after his golden wedding day Carr, who had fought in both the navy and the army during the Civil War, grew restless. He decided that the old homestead needed sprucing up. So he carved a totem pole in his front yard. On the trunk of a tree, he depicted the history of the Finger-Lakes region. Then he began to experiment with trees, posts and pumps along the roadside. There are now 1,000 carved figures on the Carr farm. And the number is growing rapidly. "Creating 'em keeps 'em young," says Carr, who is eighty.

BUT THE PILOTS ESCAPED UNINJURED.—The plane guided by Pilot Thierry crashed near Le Bourget during the Grand Prix races, which were conducted by the Aero Club of France. Escape of pilot and mechanic was miraculous. With a third man they see their pride burn.

MARSHAL TSOO KUN, Chinese militarist leader, has proclaimed himself "president extraordinary" of his native land.

MR. FOX AND THREE OTHERS
Part I.

Mr. Fox sat thinking it over and he decided he was a very much abused creature. "I never have done a thing to Jimmy Crow," he said, "and he never misses a chance to call out that I am around and warn Mr. Man."

"I cannot see why folks do not mind their own business and let me mind mine. I don't make a fuss and tell Mr. Man when Jimmy is in the corn field or when he files down in the barnyard and eats up all he can steal of the corn. Mr. Man throws there for the poultry. No, sir, I cannot understand why he meddles in my affairs unless it is because he is just naturally a bad fellow."
Mr. Fox whittled a little more on the cane he was making before he spoke of Jimmy again. Then when he had the stick nice and smooth he lighted his pipe and went on musing about his troubles.
"Yes, sir, I do believe Jimmy Crow is just naturally bad. And if he is, I ought to do something to pay him off for all the trouble he has made for me. Then there is Mr. Dog. Never in my life have I done anything to give annoy him, and yet he never misses a chance to keep me from getting a chicken or something for my dinner. He seems to think it is very cruel for me to catch a chicken, but he never says a word when Mr. Man wants one for his dinner. I can't understand such goings on. It isn't right for him to pick on me the way he does when I am always so friendly towards him—or would he if I got a chance."
"I guess I am too nice to everybody," Mr. Fox went on musing. "Now if I showed Jimmy or Mr. Dog that I, too, could be bothersome, perhaps it would do them good. Now let me think what I could do."
Mr. Fox did not think of any way to pay off his enemies just then; but later, when he was at Mr. Man's proving about he happened to see in Mr. Dog's dinner plate a large piece of meat which had been left there for dinner.
At the same time Mr. Fox spied Jimmy Crow sitting on a rail fence close by and a sudden thought came to him. Jimmy would steal anything if he got a chance, and he sometimes ate meat if it was old enough to suit him.

"Oh, Jimmy," whispered Mr. Fox, softly, "now don't go making any noise. I want to tell you something." Jimmy Crow choked the saw he was about to give and cocked his head. "Well, what is it?" he inquired, for he was very inquisitive.
Mr. Fox told him about the nice piece of meat in Mr. Dog's plate. It is a tin plate, too. I thought the meat might do to keep for a while in your nest. I'll suit you for a dinner."
Jimmy Crow stood on one foot and then on the other, looking down at Mr. Fox. He was suspicious of all this interest he was taking to do him a look, but still what could Mr. Fox had to him? He had wings and Mr. Fox hadn't. Jimmy decided to take Mr. Fox's word, and he did not even thank Mr. Fox for telling him. He was glad enough he didn't afterwards.

MAGNETIC FORCES STUDIED IN NORTH
R. G. Madill, Dominion Mag- netician, Returns to the Pas, Manitoba
The Pas, Man., Oct. 17.—Leading a party of men who in the last two Summers covered 4,000 miles, mostly by canoe, of the farthest north wilderness of Canada, R. G. Madill, Assistant Magician of the Dominion Observatory, Ottawa, has returned to civilization.
In the course of their journey, which was made for the purpose of surveying the operation of magnetic forces—the Magnetic Pole is located almost due north of here—the party was at times on the verge of starvation, subsisting on such succulent provender as old moccasins, discarded socks and dried suckers. During part of their travels they crossed country that had never been trodden by a white man since Samuel Hearn passed on his historic journey from Fort Prince of Wales to the mouth of the Coppermine River in 1771. This Summer Mr. Madill was accompanied by C. G. Nagy, of Winnipeg, and Phillip Ross, of The Pas.
Wide Research
The survey is part of a world-wide research into the laws governing the magnetic forces of the earth, which are studied through the magnetic elements—the variation of the compass, the dip and horizontal-intensity of the earth's magnetism. Owing to the constant movement of the North Magnetic Pole it is necessary to maintain a careful check on the magnetic elements, not only for purely scientific purposes, but to inform mariners and others of the variation of the compass.

FRANCO-CANADIAN TRADE TREATY RESULTS SUBJECT OF COMMENTS
London, Oct. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—"Does Canada prefer France?"
Under this heading The Westminster Gazette publishes a letter from Lieut.-Commander F. W. Astbury, Conservative member of the House of Commons for West Salford, complaining of the effect of certain concessions made by Canada in the Franco-Canadian Commercial Treaty, including broadcasting stations, preference should be accorded to British Empire companies.
Mail Services
The proceedings brought forth some criticism of the mail services. In this regard it was felt that except in respect of the mails to Canada, the situation was not what it should be, and speeding up of conditions was vital to Empire trade.
Pacific Wireless Service
Sir Laming Worthington Evans, British Postmaster-General, intimated that experiments were now being made by the Pacific Cable Board to test the possibility of a wireless service as an alternative means of communication between the British Columbia coast and either Fiji or the Fanning Island, thus relieving the pressure on the present cable service to Australia.
To Share All
Outlining to the conference the vast avenues of technical and scientific research carried on under the British Government, Lord Salisbury observed:
"What we are anxious to do is to share everything we possess with the great Dominion and colonies beyond the seas. It is not altogether unselfishness on our part, because we want it to be mutual. We want to get from the Dominions all they can contribute to the common stock."
GIRL'S CORNER CLUB
The girls of the Corner Club will entertain as their guest on Thursday Mrs. T. H. Maynard, who has spent many years in Southern India engaged in missionary work among the women and girls of that land. Mrs. Maynard will wear native costume, and will have an interesting story to tell. It is hoped there will be a full attendance of members and friends. Supper for the convenience of business girls will be served at 8.15 p.m. The meeting will be held in the club rooms, Liberal Hall, Government Street, and will close before 8 p.m.

CULTURE NOT NEEDED, SAYS U.S. SENATOR
Magnus Johnson Addresses Minnesota Agricultural College Students
Common Sense Most Valuable Possession, He Believes
St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 17.—"You don't need to have any culture; all you have got to get is common sense," said Senator Magnus Johnson, who addressed the students of the Minnesota Agricultural College yesterday.
"Maybe I don't speak perfect English," Senator Johnson said, "and maybe my grammar isn't just right. The people don't care about that. Look at all the culture that man down in Massachusetts has got—Lodge only was re-elected by seven thousand votes. I got lots more than that."
The Junior Farmer-Labor Senator told the students that he had attended the Lloyd George luncheon in Minneapolis Monday.
"I talked to him twenty minutes and do you know what Lloyd George told me?" Senator Johnson continued. "He said, 'I am a lawyer and I never went to college,' then we talked about the European situation. I wanted to get first-hand knowledge about things over there and I think he told me the truth."

CO-OPERATION IN RESEARCH SOUGHT
Progress in Technical and Scientific Matters Discussed at Empire Conference
Improved Communication Conditions Are Desired
London, Oct. 17.—Co-operation in technical and scientific research, and co-operation in the betterment of communications of inter-imperial trade were the keynotes of yesterday's sessions of the Imperial Economic Conference here.
During the discussions there was general agreement that the utmost research should be undertaken to this end the conference decided to appoint a committee to inquire into the best methods of pooling information to be considered later.
Communications
On the question of communications the conference discussed mail, wireless and cable services, leaving shipping to be considered later. It expressed its views in the following resolutions:
1.—That representatives of the Dominions and India should be associated with the Imperial Communications Commission when questions of interest to them are under consideration. (The personnel of the Imperial Communications Committee has hitherto been entirely from Great Britain.)
Cable Growth
2.—That in view of the fact that the Dominions interested in the Pacific cable have for a long time pressed for provision of a state-owned connecting link across the Atlantic, all possible support should be given by the governments of the Empire to the state-owned Atlantic cable route which has now been provided. (This is the Imperial cable owned by the British Government and operating between London and Halifax.)
3.—That any concessions given in respect to cable or wireless services, including broadcasting stations, preference should be accorded to British Empire companies.
Mail Services
The proceedings brought forth some criticism of the mail services. In this regard it was felt that except in respect of the mails to Canada, the situation was not what it should be, and speeding up of conditions was vital to Empire trade.

NOBODY'S LOVER
By RUBY M. AYRES
"I haven't seen him for a long time," Ursula answered. Her hands shook a little and she clasped them in her lap.
"She had got thinner since she left her uncle's house and her eyes were unnaturally bright," Mr. March eyed her critically.
"You don't look too blooming yourself," he said. "Don't they feed you properly?"
Ursula laughed. "Of course they do, and I never had a color, if that's what you mean."
She turned the conversation. She did not ask anything about Jake.
"So he had come back now he was no longer afraid of meeting her. She wondered if the Spicers knew. They had not mentioned his name when last she saw them."
After that day she went about in terror of meeting Jake. She avoided going out as much as possible, and spent all her time practising and working.
"There is no need to work so hard," Punell told her one day. "His keen eyes searched her face. Take a little holiday. Go into the country. Forget that there is such a thing as music for a little while."
Ursula's face quivered and she looked away.
"It is the only thing left to me in the world," she answered.
But she knew she was working too hard. She knew that it was beginning to get on her nerves.
"I don't care—it's all I've got," she told herself obstinately. "I've got to get on and succeed. I must!"
She thought again of the prize money she owed everything, and one day she wrote to him through Simpson, Junior.
"It's a long time since I wrote to you, and I thought perhaps you would be interested to hear how I am getting on. I work very hard, and Punell is pleased with me. I want me to go to Italy in the Autumn if it can be arranged. Lately I have realized more than ever how much I am indebted to you, as if it had not been possible for me to take up singing, I do not know how I should have got through my life. Next month we are to have a concert amongst the students, and we shall all be allowed to ask friends. Would you care to come? I should like you to sing with me, and let me judge for yourself whether I was worth your kindness. If you could let me know through Mr. Simpson, I will send you a ticket."
"I don't expect he will care to come," she thought drearily, as she dispatched the letter. "How can he be interested when he has never seen me? I don't suppose he ever gives me a thought."
It seemed hard that there was nobody to be interested in her progress. Most of the other girls who were training under Punell had their parents or some relatives who were proud of them and anxious for their success, but Ursula had nobody.
"She had tried again since her aunt's death to interest Henry March, but he had been so frankly bored with the account of her progress that she had given up the attempt."
There was no music in his soul, he told her bluntly, and had added that he was thankful he had never met her.
"People with the artistic temperament, as you call it, are no good in this world," he told her. "They want one specially built, where money is a necessity."
Ursula wondered if he was right. Sometimes she would sit for hours at the piano, her hands in her lap, lost in thought.
Life seemed such a dead-end—a thing without point or purpose.
She was surprised how keenly she looked forward to an answer to her letter. After two days she went to Mr. Simpson's office.
Simpson, Junior, greeted her kindly.
"I sent the letter on as you asked me to," he said, "but so far there has been no reply."
"I don't expect there will be," she said.
"My client is going abroad shortly," Mr. Simpson said. "I know he is very busy making arrangements—but I am sure that he will answer your letter."
Jake called that afternoon, only a few moments after Ursula had gone.
"I've been seedy," he explained casually. "No" nothing serious, thanks to a bit of a cold, that's all. Well—I'm fixed up and sail on the fifteenth."
Mr. Simpson glanced at the calendar for fortnight," he said. "You

CO-OPERATION IN RESEARCH SOUGHT
Progress in Technical and Scientific Matters Discussed at Empire Conference
Improved Communication Conditions Are Desired
London, Oct. 17.—Co-operation in technical and scientific research, and co-operation in the betterment of communications of inter-imperial trade were the keynotes of yesterday's sessions of the Imperial Economic Conference here.
During the discussions there was general agreement that the utmost research should be undertaken to this end the conference decided to appoint a committee to inquire into the best methods of pooling information to be considered later.
Communications
On the question of communications the conference discussed mail, wireless and cable services, leaving shipping to be considered later. It expressed its views in the following resolutions:
1.—That representatives of the Dominions and India should be associated with the Imperial Communications Commission when questions of interest to them are under consideration. (The personnel of the Imperial Communications Committee has hitherto been entirely from Great Britain.)
Cable Growth
2.—That in view of the fact that the Dominions interested in the Pacific cable have for a long time pressed for provision of a state-owned connecting link across the Atlantic, all possible support should be given by the governments of the Empire to the state-owned Atlantic cable route which has now been provided. (This is the Imperial cable owned by the British Government and operating between London and Halifax.)
3.—That any concessions given in respect to cable or wireless services, including broadcasting stations, preference should be accorded to British Empire companies.
Mail Services
The proceedings brought forth some criticism of the mail services. In this regard it was felt that except in respect of the mails to Canada, the situation was not what it should be, and speeding up of conditions was vital to Empire trade.

FRANCO-CANADIAN TRADE TREATY RESULTS SUBJECT OF COMMENTS
London, Oct. 17 (Canadian Press Cable)—"Does Canada prefer France?"
Under this heading The Westminster Gazette publishes a letter from Lieut.-Commander F. W. Astbury, Conservative member of the House of Commons for West Salford, complaining of the effect of certain concessions made by Canada in the Franco-Canadian Commercial Treaty, including broadcasting stations, preference should be accorded to British Empire companies.
Mail Services
The proceedings brought forth some criticism of the mail services. In this regard it was felt that except in respect of the mails to Canada, the situation was not what it should be, and speeding up of conditions was vital to Empire trade.

MAGNESIA BEST FOR YOUR INDIGESTION

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or two tablets of Bismarated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomachs no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, without the slightest pain or discomfort. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarated Magnesia, especially prepared for stomach use.

The congregation of the South Saanich Union Church held their annual harvest festival on Sunday last. The Rev. J. G. Griffiths delivered a fine address upon "Dependence Upon Providence." The church had been most artistically decorated with a profusion of the products of the Keatings district by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church. Conspicuous among the display was a large "Home for Plenty," emblematic of the bountiful harvest, which was being celebrated on this occasion.

Resident of Cariboo District Sees Great Future For Line to Peace River Country

Writing to his parents in this city, George M. Watt, well-known resident of the Cariboo, makes a strong plea for the continuance and extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. The rails should be taken to Prince George and on to the Peace River country, he advocates. There is valuable land waiting the arrival of settlers, and this is easily to be tapped by the Provincial Government, he urges.

His letter is dated October 14 from a small place on Seton Lake, called Shalalth. This is a very pretty spot and the climate here is very mild, he says.

We have on the table water melons, mush melons and cantaloupes, which are still being picked out of the garden also local grapes.

Anything that can be grown in B.C. can be grown here.

From what I have seen of this railroad (P.G.E.), I think it would be a great pity to close it down or to discontinue operating any part of it. The logical thing to do is to complete the section to Prince George, and then on to the Peace River. Get settlers on to all the available land close to the railroad, and give encouragement to capital to open up the adjacent mining sections, and also the pulp industry, there being large areas of timber suitable for the latter. I would like to see the C.P.R. take over the line.

Mr. Kilpatrick, general manager, and his assistant, Mr. Graham, were along the line the other day on an inspection tour. He said that instead of letting a big contract to a Vancouver firm for railway ties, they had decided to let the cutting out to the settlers along the line. This is the right policy and will be a great boon to many settlers to tide them over the winter.

Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Entertains in Drill Hall

Under the leadership of Col. H. M. Upphar, D.S.O., M.C., the 16th Battalion, Canadian Scottish, were hosts last night to many friends at a smoker at the Bay Street Armories.

The regimental band under Bandmaster Miller, contributed an excellent programme to the entertainment of the evening. Much of the credit for the success of the affair is due to the committee under Sergeant-Major Wilson.

Plans for winter training, military matters, and a decision to play a large part in all athletic features were discussed last night.

Messrs. R. R. Webb, Bob Morrison and Frank Payne contributed to a vocal programme in excellent vein.

Many officers of the permanent force and the active militia were guests, and all voted the proceedings the most enjoyable within the memory of the regiment.

CHURCH PLANS FOR CHILD'S EDUCATION

Development of Younger Generation in Religion Calls for Action

"Religion should not only be taught on a Sunday and in the Sunday schools, but on the week days also, and particularly in the homes of the children of this generation," the Rev. H. T. Archibald stated last night, at a meeting of those interested in the religious education of the children, held in the cathedral schoolroom.

"The Sunday schools have an immense task," the speaker said. "It remains with the parents of the children to see to it that their young ones have better training along the lines of religious education."

A resolution was adopted by the meeting to the effect that the children of this city be given some sort of religious education apart from their Sunday school work, and that in the school they should be given satisfactory, and useful instruction along these lines.

The speaker emphasized that the environment of the children of this generation influences them to a marked degree.

The life of the young people of Canada, in the homes should be cared for in such a manner that they would benefit in a religious sense.

A. R. Merrix gave an address in which he dealt more with the practical side of the child's education in religious matters. Mr. Merrix pointed out that in the United States there were 13,000,000 children out of the 25,000,000 of the child population of that country who were not receiving instruction in religion by any organized agency.

This speaker mentioned the importance of the environment of the child. The parents' influence upon their offspring was felt and in this way to be found the base upon which the education of the children by the church and the parents in religion might be built.

The speaker believed that many drastic changes will be forthcoming in the world of the child's religious education, and that these changes will be for the better. It was obvious, he mentioned, that the Sunday schools cannot undertake the enormous task of educating the young people of any community in religious matters, and thus the aid of the other educational institutions, besides those directly responsible to the church, as well as the parents, will be enlisted.

The meeting closed with all those present taking part in the new line of action. The Right Rev. C. H. Schofield was in the chair.

It is well to make a good beginning—and it is also well to remember that the end is what determines everything.
