P. E. O. MEETING

CHAPTER L. ENJOYS PLEASANT MEETING WITH MRS. ED M. LEE

One of the most delightful meetings of the year was that which was held June 13 at the home of Mrs. Ed M. Lee by Chapter L., beginning at 10:30 a.m. and lasting until late afternoon.

The forenoon session was given over to business and initiations, and after adjournment a most delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Emma Burket, Mrs. Anna Goss and Mrs. Mabel McFadden, Mrs. Goss presiding at the head of the table and pouring coffee for the company.

The afternoon was given over to chapter business and exceedingly interesting reports from the State convention, held recently at Hollywood. The president, Mrs. May Chase, spoke principally upon business matters but interspersed with many pleasantries, while Mrs. Nettie Brown gave her "Impressions of a New P. E. O.," which all enjoyed. Lastly was a talk from Mrs. Marion Garvin, whom all love and who has served faithfully as State organizer, but who is now State president, having been honored by that office at the convention, and who will also be an honor to the position. Mrs. Garvin talked at some length upon P. E. O. duties and privileges, and inspired everyone present to new efforts in the future.

A number of other guests were present—Miss Waugh of Colorado Springs and Mrs. George Carter, Miss McCoy and Mrs. Kille of Chapter B. A.

Miss Dorothy Lee was also almost a guest, this being the first time in months she has been able to attend a meeting, and who will return to her studies at Berkeley this fall.

All in all, 'twas a most happy day and was also in the nature of a housewarming, being the first P. E. O. gathering in Mrs. Lee's beautiful new home.

LUBRICATION DEMONSTRATION

Packer & Roman, Studebaker Auto Dealers, are making it possible for auto owners to get very valuable information on the subject of lubrication of automobiles. From Monday, June 18, to Saturday, June 23, there will be on exhibition chassis enclosed in a glass case. The machinery in connection with this chassis will be in operation and all parts will be visible, and instructions in correct oiling will be given free of charge by an expert mechanic on lubrication to all persons who wish to receive such instruction.

P.-T. A. FEDERATION PICNIC

A very interesting program has been arranged for the afternoon of June 18, when the friends of child welfare work assemble for the last meeting of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ewins, 747 Verdugo Road, have opened their beautiful grounds and the members and friends are looking forward with pleasure to a happy day under the shade trees.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 under the supervision of Mrs. A. S. Chase and a competent corps of assistants. At the table there will be given from those who give freely and wisely an array of toasts to the things worthy of the compliment.

After lunch the following program will be rendered: Medley of National Aids by Miss Gertrude Champlain. Address by Dr. Lulu H. Peters. Address by Dr. Jessie A. Russell, newly elected state president of California Congress of Mothers. Dancing number by Gertrude and Jack Ewins.

The following newly elected officers will be installed: president, Mrs. Arthur Brown; vice-president, Mrs. Opal Greenwalt; recording secretary, Mrs. Minnette Sherman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H. V. Henry; treasurer, Mrs. William Carmichael; parliamentarian, Mrs. John Robert White; historian, Mrs. Frank Ayars; auditor, Mrs. Harry Duey.

If you are interested, bring your sandwiches and join the merry crowd for the members of the P.-T. A. know how to enjoy themselves as well as how to work.

Those wishing to attend the picnic should take the P. E. car to the end of the Broadway line. It is only a short distance to walk from there and there will likely be machines to care for those who cannot walk that distance.

The fellows who are cornering the food markets should remember that the common people must keep alive or they cannot buy goods.

OUTLINE PEACE PROGRAM

GERMAN SOCIALISTS ANNOUNCE WHAT IS BELIEVED TO BE PEACE TERMS OF GERMAN GOVERNMENT

STOCKHOLM, June 16.—What are considered the approximate German government peace terms were outlined to-day when German Socialists announced their peace program. Striking points of the proposal are: No indemnities for Belgium; the return of German colonies; retention by Germany of Alsace-Lorraine; complete military independence of all nations; Belgium to agree with Austria as to the future of Serbia and the Balkan states; Poland and Finland's future to be up to them. Responsibility for the war was not discussed.

FARMERS NOT EXEMPT

ALL WHO CAN BETTER SERVE COUNTRY AS SOLDIERS THAN ANY OTHER WAY TO BE CALLED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—Farmers are not exempt from military service, Provost Marshal Crowder announced to-day. Only indispensable men in any industry will be exempt. Any man who can better serve his nation as a soldier than in his industry or occupation will be called to the colors unless this will act as a hardship to his dependents. The big problem for the authorities to solve now is to determine who are indispensable.

FLOWER SHOWER

MRS. RICHARDSON SHOWERED WITH BLOSSOMS AT P.-T. A. MEETING.

Thursday afternoon in spite of the heat, there was a large attendance at the closing meeting of the Pacific avenue P.-T. A. The big event of the afternoon was a unique flower shower for the retiring president, Mrs. Ella Richardson.

This was in the form of a little play on the letters of her name with the officers and chairmen of committees taking part. As each presented her with a choice bouquet of flowers, a choice one of praise was also given. These appeared on the blackboard as follows:

- M—is for Mothers of whom she is one.
- R—is for Regular and Right in her place.
- S—is for Sociability for one and for all.
- E—is for Energy—sure she has that.
- L—is for Loyalty to country and club.
- L—also for Labor both Lasting and Long.
- A—is for Activity in all civic Affairs.
- R—is Really Refreshing to have her around.
- I—is for Interest in all P.-T. A.'s.
- C—is for Charity and Children, all in her line.
- H—is for Harmony with Happiness, too.
- A—is for Appreciation we show by these flowers.
- R—is for Roses, Rare and Red.
- D—is for Dignity, Distinctly Decorous.
- S—is for Sunshine, Serenity and Sense.
- O—is for Officers, all in a ring.
- N—is Necessarily the end of a much Noted Name.

After each had presented the bouquets of beautiful flowers and the still more beautiful tributes of praise and appreciation, all who were present arose and further showered her with blossoms of many kinds. Mrs. Richardson was deeply affected by this manifestation of the esteem in which she is held and responded with a wonderfully touching appeal to motherhood. She spoke of her own son serving his country in France, another, a soldier of the soil, who recently sent her a beautiful ring with the first money he had earned, and added that all children were dear to her. She said that although she was leaving this organization for a similar work in Tropic, she wanted to remain a member of this association where her relationship had been so cordial and harmonious.

Before leaving the chair Mrs. Richardson installed the new officers. Mrs. Minnette Sherman becomes president, Mrs. J. P. Hilbert first vice-president, Mrs. A. S. Chase second vice-president, Mrs. Robert Yost, third vice-president, Mrs. F. C. Heron secretary, Mrs. Frank Ayers treasurer, Mrs. W. C. Alvord historian and Mrs. Harry Greenwalt parliamentarian.

Mrs. Danford then spoke on the public library, wherein it could serve the child and the mother. The much needed juvenile room will be made possible when the people see the need of it and show that they want it more than other things. The City Council stand ready to give the people that which they want most. When we realize that the public library can be made to take the place in a way of a Y.M.C.A. or a Y.W.C.A., in fact a civic center, that it solves many problems that the mother has to deal with in connection with the child, the funds will be provided to make of this basement room an ideal place for the children. A public rest room for women, another thing that Glendale needs woefully, can also be provided in the basement at the same time.

After this splendid talk Mrs. G. D. Roach sang two selections most beautifully. Mrs. Roach is one of our valued members and succeeds in doing everything well.

Mr. R. D. White then gave a most helpful address on the "Development of the Child from Six to Twelve with Suggestions for Help in Solving Vacation Problems." These were practically two different subjects but Mr. White succeeded in making them dovetail beautifully. His remarks will be given at greater length in tomorrow's paper and coming from an educator of such wide experience should be read by every parent desiring the proper development of his child.

After closing these remarks which dealt so forcibly with the practical solution of directing the energies of the boy and girl during vacation, a general discussion took place resulting in the appointing of a committee (Continued on Page 3.)

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

EXHIBITS OF WORK IN VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF SCHOOL ARE COMMENDABLE

Last night closed the last day of the biggest exhibit ever given by the High School, it also being attended better than any before, in spite of the hot weather. The exhibit showed displays of the work that has been accomplished by the Commercial, Mechanical Arts, Domestic Science, Graphic Arts, and the Agricultural departments of the school, each department trying to outdo the other. All of the exhibits succeeded excellently in demonstrating what has been done by the students throughout the year, and as a result it is very likely that the affair will become an annual one.

Special mention should be given in regard to Miss Muller's and Miss Wall's classes' exhibits, and especially of the former. It is hardly possible that any other high school graphic arts classes in the state can compare with Miss Muller's proteges, and it is an established fact that none are better. The exhibit consisted of everything from beautifully painted fish bowls to magnificently decorated linen chests, everything being exhibited in such a way as to appeal to the most critical onlooker.

Another excellent exhibit was that of the machine shop classes, which are under the supervision of Mr. Richardson. Not only were the articles made by the boys shown, but also at intervals of thirty minutes demonstrations were actually given of the working order of the machinery. Everything was executed in a most systematic manner, and as a result the whole shop resembled one of the big machinery organizations of America.

In making a list of the several displays, special stress should be laid on that of the Commercial Department, as it was one of the best of its kind ever held in the school. The department is under the instruction of Miss Goldwaite, Mr. Joy and Mr. Sawyer, and it certainly upheld its reputation of being the most complete department of commerce in the state. Exhibits were shown of penmanship, typewriting, bookkeeping and shorthand.

EMIL KIEFER IN NAVY

Friends of Emil O. Kiefer, who had been employed by C. O. Pulliam for the past year and a half but who left Glendale six weeks ago to enlist in the U. S. navy, will be glad to hear that he has taken up his new duties with all his heart and soul. By this time he is probably aboard a U. S. battleship somewhere in the Pacific. He writes to friends here that he has met a number of the Glendale boys, among them young Mr. Brewster, William Dreyer, Norman Otis, Leslie Tarr and others, and says they are being well cared for and are enjoying excellent health.

Mr. Kiefer was exceptionally popular among the young people of Glendale. He is an active member of the Glendale Lodge of Elks and belonged to the famous White Star patrol. Emil's friends here miss him but are proud that such fine fellows as he and the others mentioned have offered their services and their lives if need be to help protect the good old U. S. A.

TO WELCOME GUESTS

From 200 to 300 men and boys from the Temple Baptist church, Los Angeles, will visit Glendale on their tour of the San Fernando Valley this afternoon. Atty. C. L. Chandler, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, will have charge of welcoming these guests on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Glendale. Arrangements have been made to serve ice cold orangeade to the visitors at the city hall and other measures have been taken to give them a proper reception. Mayor J. S. Thompson will make a brief address of welcome.

The visitors are making a tour of the San Fernando Valley under the chaperonage of Atty. Mattison B. Jones of this city. They will visit Universal City, Lankershim, Van Nuys and Burbank, and enter Glendale from Burbank by way of Kenneth road, coming south on Central avenue to First street, east on First to Brand boulevard, south on Brand to Broadway, east on Broadway to Glendale avenue, south on Glendale avenue to Colorado street, west on Colorado to Central. They will arrive in Glendale about 5 o'clock and after their dinner here will proceed to Griffith Park for a picnic supper.

TO REAL AMERICANS

If you are a real American you must contribute to the War Fund of the Red Cross during the Red Cross week (June 18th to 25th), whether you feel able or not. If you are a real American it is not a question of giving from your surplus—you must give and keep on giving until you can give no more.

We are at war, but we do not begin to realize what war is, and, if the Red Cross is able to do its full duty, we will never know what war can be.

Do you know what the Red Cross does? Some day, "somewhere in France," when our soldiers are in the trenches, a line of American boys will leap over the top of their trenches, slip through the barbed wire and, in face of high explosive shells, gas, liquid fire, shrapnel, grenades, machine gun and rifle fire, face the barbed wire in front of enemy trenches for the bare chance of meeting bayonet with bayonet, other boys no more to blame for this war than they are.

You know what the loss will be. Did you know that after Ypres the Princess Pats had only 127 men alive out of the 689 that started? What of the fallen? If the Red Cross is ready, the Ambulance Corps of the fighting regiments will carry the wounded back through the communicating trenches to the dressing station. Here Red Cross surgeons will give first aid. The wounded will be turned over to Red Cross ambulances and carried back to the Red Cross field hospital for immediate attention. From the Red Cross field hospital, Red Cross ambulances, Red Cross trains and, in France, even Red Cross canal boats will carry the men back to the Red Cross base hospitals. If the wound is not fatal a Red Cross convalescing station will take care of the soldier till he is ready to go back to the front. If the man is disabled a Red Cross steamer will bring him back to America, and the Red Cross receiving station here will care for him, send him home and on top of that look after his family after he is wounded just as it will have looked after his family all the time he has been away.

Do you know what this means? In the old days before the Red Cross came, 600 soldiers died out of every 1000 wounded. Today under proper conditions the percentage is not over 5 per cent.

If your boy was wounded, every dollar you have in the world would go willingly to put him in Red Cross hands. Over sixty thousand Los Angeles county boys—776 in Glendale—registered June 5th for the draft. How many of them will require Red Cross aid within the next two years?

Join the Red Cross. Donate something. Help somehow—Now!

Membership Chairman—Mrs. R. E. Chase, Glendale 1 or Home 864

Donation Chairman—Mrs. A. M. Beamon.

Secretary—Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker, Glendale 918-J.

HOW TO REDUCE DISEASE AND DEATH

There are more than six hundred thousand preventable deaths in the United States every year. There are a million and a half people lying on sick-beds in the United States any day in the year who should not have been there.

Such are the declarations made in the last issue of the University of California Journal of Agriculture (published by the students of the College of Agriculture) by the distinguished economist, Irving Fisher, Professor of Political Economy in Yale University, who is to visit the University of California next fall to give the annual Hitchcock Lectures.

"Human life is needlessly shortened at least fifteen years in the United States," declares Professor Fisher. Moreover, "preventable diseases even when not fatal cripple the power to work and mar the joy of living."

"I venture the opinion," says Professor Fisher, "that the average man or woman in the United States is not doing half of the work nor having half of the joy of work of which the human being is capable."

While there is now a decreased loss of life from infection by the germ diseases, there is an increased loss of life after middle age from the degenerative diseases, such as hardening of the arteries or Bright's disease. Neglect of individual hygiene is declared by Professor Fisher the chief cause of this degeneration.

Here are fifteen rules for more scientific habits of daily living which Professor Fisher propose as a means of keeping people well and happy, and lengthening their lives:

1. Ventilate every room you occupy, and keep the air in the house always as pure as the air outdoors.
2. Wear light, loose clothes of porous cloth, so loosely woven that air can be blown through it, for the skin needs air.
3. Spend some time in the open air every day.
4. Have lots of fresh air where you sleep, or sleep out if you can.
5. Breathe deeply.
6. Avoid eating too much.
7. Do not eat too much meat and eggs.
8. Eat various kinds of food—most people eat too much soft food. Hard foods like crusts, toast, hard fruits, and nuts, which require chewing, are beneficial. The danger with most people is that they eat too much of concentrated foods and not enough of the bulky or filling foods, such as lettuce, celery, cucumbers, spinach, asparagus, cabbage, cauliflower, beets, onions, carrots, parsnips, squash, pumpkins, tomatoes, and other garden vegetables. Some raw foods, such as fruits and salads, should be eaten each day, as these raw foods contain certain beneficial elements which are often lost in cooking.
9. Eat slowly.
10. Have your bowels move at least once each day—preferably twice—regularly.
11. Stand, sit, and walk erect.
12. Avoid poisonous drugs.
13. Keep clean and avoid contagious diseases. The daily bath is desirable. The hands should always be washed before eating.

Water should be boiled before drinking if its purity has not been established. Mosquitoes and flies should be kept out of the house and away from food. Fruits—especially apples—after a meal are good mouth and tooth cleaners.

14. Work hard, but play, sleep, and rest, too. Laughter is healthful.

15. Be cheerful, and learn not to worry. "The secret of life and of happiness," says Professor Fisher, "seems to be in taking one's life and work cheerfully. Almost anyone can assume this attitude if the proper desire is present."

An agreement which is expected to lead to the construction of a weir in the Imperial Valley near Yuma, and which will protect the crops of that region from future flood danger, is expected to result from a conference of committees representing California and Arizona councils of defense. Acting upon the request of Governor Stephens, Governor Campbell of Arizona has named four men to confer with a committee of Californians on the immediate construction of this weir. Frank P. Flint, G. Davidson, Galen Nichols and Phil Swing comprise the California committee.

Steps taken to put California on an efficient preparedness and defensive basis will be the subject of A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the State Council of Defense, in an address before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco on June 18. At that time Governor Stephens also is to address the club.

MR. WHITE'S ADDRESS

"The Development of the Child from Six to Twelve Years of Age." "A Few Practical Suggestions Especially with Reference to the Summer Vacation."

The following is taken from an address by Mr. R. D. White at the Pacific avenue P. T. A. Thursday afternoon:

"The child's development is usually divided by psychologists into three periods, from babyhood to six years of age, from seven to twelve, while the adolescent period is a most popular theme, but writers avoid this middle period.

"This period is the plateau of childhood, a high level plain where growth is not so rapid as in the first and the third. The mental and moral, as well as the physical, growth of the adolescent, undergoes a great upheaval while the physical and mental growth of the first period is nothing short of marvelous, but the growth of the child from six to twelve is slow. That is the age of the children in this school. In this transitional, formative stage our child is a little savage. Growth and development is slow but energy is thus set free for other purposes. There is ceaseless activity now.

"This is the habit-forming period. The capacity for retaining concrete sense impressions is strongest at this age. Wax to receive, marble to retain. This is the age for developing specific moral habits, habits of cleanliness, industry, honesty and obedience but very little attempt at moral suasion, rather a chief dependence upon arbitrary rule. 'Because I say so' is often a sufficient answer at this age. A child at this age reasons very little for himself. It is not always necessary that a child be reasoned with. He must recognize authority. Now is the age to drill in authority. If you fail in teaching him to recognize authority now, you will find it almost impossible to teach him this at the adolescent period.

"It is all important that he be taught obedience and, at times, unquestioning obedience. I know that many authorities on child training disagree with me on this point, but my experience as an educator and parent has taught me that the child at this age is not capable of reasoning out most things for himself.

"A general rule at this age is: Be sure to secure right action even if a low motive must be appealed to, but always appeal to the highest that will be effective. The child at this age is unmoral, not having acquired a moral sense. Up to twelve years of age the moral condition is almost wholly the result of environment and training. Never threaten unless you mean to carry out your threat.

"The child is markedly individualistic at this period. He is the center of the universe; everybody and everything exists for his pleasure. To be thoughtful of the interests of others, or to be interested in anything not concerned with the advancement of this kingdom of his would be to be something other than a healthy, normal child. The extreme egoism of the child from six to ten is not to be deprecated. It is necessary that the first law of life should be one impelling to self-enlargement and development. Intelligent training either for good or ill will be based on the individualistic instinct.

"The energy of the child does not disappear when school closes. Unless something is done for the child he will do something to you.

"I regret that it seemed necessary to provide no funds for supervising the playgrounds throughout the summer vacation. This work for children should not be given up. The countries at war advise strongly against such action. France, Great Britain and Germany report increased delinquency among children because of abandoned recreational activities.

"The Children's Bureau in Washington urges greater attention to the health and morals of children than formerly.

"The attendance at this playground has always been in the lead. I suggest that you solicit volunteer supervisors among the members of your association to cover the afternoons of the week.

"Combine the playground activities with active work in gardening to increase the food supply and at the same time afford wholesome recreation. An hour's work in raising potatoes on one end of your playground won't hurt any boy. The girls can aid in the Red Cross work as they are doing at the Columbus avenue school. Conserve the child's energy in the right direction. You save the child and your country and thereby do your bit."

The many friends of Miss Marcella Orth, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Orth, of 435 South Central avenue, will be glad to know of her recent recovery from her illness, which has been with her for several months. Miss Marcella was a member of the junior class of Glendale High School until about February last, when she was obliged to quit on account of her poor health.

Several High School boys yesterday cleverly outwitted old Sol by journeying over to Brookside Park in Pasadena and enjoying a dip in the fresh mountain water plunge. Those who composed the party were Olin Wilson, Erwood Ingledue, Carleton West, Milleh Fisher, William Balthis, and Lehman Crandall.

Most of the young men of Glendale who belong to the 21st Company, Coast Artillery, are planning on going, with several other artillery companies, to San Pedro to-morrow, where they will spend the day training with the big guns at Fort MacArthur. They will leave at nine o'clock and remain at the fort until six o'clock in the evening.

The members of the First Methodist church, corner Third and Kenwood streets, are expecting their new auditorium (which has a seating capacity of over thirteen hundred) to be filled to overflowing to-morrow evening for the first time, the service being the Baccalaureate sermon of the graduating class of the Glendale High School.

Mrs. O. E. Wright, 1649 Ruth street, met with a painful accident yesterday. Mrs. Wright was watering the lawn when in some manner she fell, breaking the tibia bone in her right leg. Dr. J. E. Eckles was summoned and had her removed to the Thornycroft hospital, where the fracture was attended to.

The many friends of Mr. Roy McDonald, who for the past year has been living at 455 West Colorado boulevard, were sorry to hear of his recent decision to move with his family to Bakersfield, where he will be employed by the Firestone Automobile Tire Company. Up until last week Mr. MacDonald was employed at the Glendale Union High School, where he was one of the head janitors of that institution. He is now with the above-mentioned tire company at its headquarters in Los Angeles, and it will only be a few weeks before he will be sent north as the representative of their firm for all Kern county. Mr. MacDonald is very well known in Glendale and much success is wished him by his large circle of friends.

Last evening a number of Glendale young people were among the twenty-odd guests of Lorraine Stockwell, of 539 East Avenue 39, Los Angeles, at a surprise birthday party in honor of his sister, Miss Vanessa Stockwell. The Stockwells are former residents of Glendale, Lorraine and Vanessa both having attended the Glendale Union High School last year, where they were quite popular among the younger social set.

By about nine o'clock all of the guests had arrived, and when Miss Vanessa returned from dinner, where she had been cleverly enticed by her parents, they were all in readiness to give her "the biggest surprise of her young life." The evening was then spent in dancing and games, after which several of the guests took part in an excellent musical program. At a late hour a delicious three-course luncheon was served by the host's mother, Mrs. R. W. Stockwell, following which the guests very reluctantly left by automobiles for their homes. Those among the party from Glendale were the Misses Mildred Carmichael, Marion Carmichael, Lillian Schick, Jennie Lacy, Ida Potter, and Aileen Preeman; Messrs. Floyd Stokes, George Grist, Robert Dewar, Thomas Phillips, Jesse Flower, Earl Brown, Mark Franey, Emerson Padelford, and Howard McGillis.

BAND DANCE

The band will give another dance in Butler's Hall after the concert to-night. Admission, 10 cents.

This is for the benefit of the band, to pay running expenses. On the money we are now getting it is impossible to pay the running expenses of the band. C. D. FURST.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire most sincerely to thank the many friends who have shown their love and sympathy in our hour of bereavement, both by kind acts and beautiful floral offerings.

to formulate plans for supervision of these activities on the school playground.

It was brought out in this discussion that the parents should keep the child busy and at home during the morning hours, that each neighborhood should inform the mothers comprising it of this intention so the child at work will not be bothered by the unemployed one, and furthermore, that the afternoon playtime be indulged in as a reward for morning work well done.

Quite a number of mothers volunteered their services two or more afternoons a month to supervise the playground. The committee that was appointed will plan this work and be ready to open the playgrounds in the afternoons, beginning the first of July. Anyone willing to serve on this committee in an advisory capacity or as a playground supervisor kindly report to Mrs. Fannie Stone, Mrs. Minnette Shtman or Mr. R. D. White.

The successful year just closing has been due to the spirit of harmony that has animated the large number of capable workers and also to the willing and gracious co-operation of Mrs. Stone and the teachers. The following words taken from the year book of the California Congress of Mothers was given by the new president as a motto for the coming year: "Lord, give the mothers of the world more love to do their part: The love that reaches not alone The children made by birth their own But every childish heart. Wake in their souls true motherhood That aims at universal good."

AN INEXPENSIVE MEAT SUBSTITUTE.

Cottage cheese is one of the important meat substitutes, say specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It contains a larger percentage of protein (the chief material for body building) than most meats and furnishes this material at a lower cost. In every pound of cottage cheese there is about one-fifth of a pound of protein, nearly all of which is digestible. Meats, on the other hand, usually contain less protein and besides have a certain waste, such as bone and other inedible material. A pound of cottage cheese daily would supply all the protein required by the ordinary adult engaged in a sedentary occupation.

Cottage cheese, obtainable at from 12 to 17 cents per pound, is much cheaper than most meats in furnishing protein for the diet. In addition to protein, energy for performing body work must be furnished by food. As a source of energy cottage cheese is cheaper than most meats at present prices.

SAN JOSE, June 15.—Billy Emerson, California's richest newsboy, has dug deeply into the store of nickels he keeps buried under the lamp post at First and Santa Clara streets, to help lick the Kaiser. Billy has purchased a $500 Liberty Bond and paid cash for it. And when he bought it he told the salesman that while he couldn't go to the trenches himself, he was ready to do his bit every minute. Billy Emerson is a widely traveled youth, having visited many countries, but San Jose is his "hum town."

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 15.—Just as candidates for degrees from universities and colleges are required to give actual proof of their learning by writing a thesis before receiving a degree, the girl graduates of the San Luis Obispo High School this year were called upon to show their course had been of real benefit to them. Each girl was required to make her own graduation gown and furthermore, she has to keep the cost within a limit of $5.

Nearly three million pairs of shoes are needed by the army and navy and contracts have been made with 27 firms for the shoes with an average price of $4.85 per pair. The cost is close to $17,000,000.

Villa will not be criticized for wanting to be let alone. Hounding a fellow out of his grave must be annoying even to a bandit.

RED STAR ALLIANCE.

Recognizing the great need of a humanitarian work for the animals who play so important a part in our warfare, there has been organized in Los Angeles, within the past month, a branch of the American Red Star Animal Relief. This society was first organized in the United States in June of last year, at the direct invitation of Secretary of War Baker, and is under the auspices of the American Humane Association. It is moulded on the same plans as the Red Cross, and does precisely the same work that the Red Cross does, except that it works for the animal instead of the soldier boy.

In 1914, there was organized in Switzerland, the International Red Star Alliance. England has her Blue Cross, and France has her Purple Cross, but whether it be a cross or a star, the work is for the same purpose, and the motives are humanitarian, as well as economic.

From November of 1914 to March of 1916, there was collected in England $300,000 voluntary subscriptions and donations. With this money horse hospitals were erected on French soil, and equipped with all the latest and most modern surgical instruments, anesthetics and all appliances known to modern surgery. During the first twenty-one months of the war, 150,000 horses and mules were treated, and of that number, 105,000 were returned to the battlefield ready for their work. It is estimated that it costs on an average of $200 per animal to put it on the battlefield, thus making a saving of $21,000,000 in twenty-one months.

Soldiers who have come from London on furlough tell of the wonderful tales of heroism of men who have been willing to give up their anesthetics in favor of their horses that they could benefit thereby, as the men seem to be able to endure the suffering of their comrades, but cannot bear the agonizing cries of dumb animals in pain.

It is also related how the government is taking the horses to the front through the streets of London at night, in order that the emotions or the humanitarian instincts of the people be not stirred by witnessing the departure of hundreds and hundreds of horses when it is known that the life of the horse on the battlefield would average only ninety hours, were it not for the medical aid which prolongs that life.

The Los Angeles branch of the Red Star is sponsored and was organized by Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin who is chairman of the organization. T. J. Stover, veterinary surgeon, a graduate and gold medalist of the Toronto Veterinary College, a man well known in his work, is vice-chairman, and Claire Hosler Coombs is secretary-treasurer.

The offices are located at 1311-12 Washington Building, Los Angeles, and donations or contributions of any kind will be most welcome. Any interested persons may get full information by writing the secretary, and it is hoped that Los Angeles county, which has always been to the fore in all humanitarian projects, may be the first organization to give to their Red Star unit the first horse ambulance. It might be well to note that there are no horse ambulances in the United States Army. Not alone lovers of animals, but those realizing the emphatic importance of preserving and promoting economic conditions, should be, and surely will be, willing to assist in this great movement.

EUREKA, June 15.—The United States marine corps is no respecter of persons. U. S. Lighthouse Inspector Day is one man who realizes that thoroughly. Day took a run to the Northern California coast on the Lighthouse Tender Sequoia. Table Bluff Lighthouse was to be inspected. Day was accompanied by authority to inspect and a camera. The camera worked his undoing. The navy radio and lighthouse stations adjoin and all are guarded by marines. Sergeant Blood commanding. The marines have orders to pass no strangers, particularly if the strangers have cameras. Along came Inspector Day, camera in hand. "Halt," shouts a marine. Day halted. "Who are you?" asks the marine. "I'm a lighthouse inspector." The marine spied the camera and that settled it. Inspector Day was placed under arrest and his camera confiscated. The films developed immediately and reported upon. After two hours, during which he tasted the rigors of war, Inspector Day was identified thoroughly and released—but the camera; well, the marines kept that, for their orders were to confiscate all cameras.

PAY MORE THAN WINERIES DID.

Wine grapes are being sold in the San Joaquin Valley for the manufacture of sugar. That buyers have contracted with at least half a dozen wine grape growers within the last few weeks to deliver their coming grape crop to an eastern concern for the making of sugar is the announcement that comes from Fresno.

The contract price for the dried grapes is 3 1/4 cents a pound, which is equivalent to $14 to $15 per ton for the green product. This is somewhat in excess of the prices that the wineries are willing to pay.

The bid of the syrup and sugar makers for dried grapes will be a big factor in relieving the wine industry and the wine grape growers of the present problem of selling wine. According to the winemakers there is practically no market for wine anywhere.

One ton of dried grapes will produce about 400 pounds of sugar. With cane and beet sugar at 8 and 9 cents a pound, it is easy to understand the attraction the new industry offers.—C. W. Kelly in the Pacific Grove Review.

A PIG IN EVERY HOME.

Because California is spending millions of dollars annually for hog products when it might not only be supplying itself, but raising a surplus for other States, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is advocating the purchase of a young pig or two by every family in Southern California.

It is said that the average family could raise one or two pigs at practically no expense since the food for the pig could be secured for a great part by the table scraps and garden products. The climatic conditions of Southern California are better than any other place in the world for hog raising, and very little space would be necessary for this purpose. Statistics show that the per capita wealth is highest in those States raising the greatest quantity of hogs.

THE MORNING AFTER.

"Where's three-fingered Sam?" asked the visitor at Crimson Gulch. "Travin' fur his health." "Is he sick?" "He isn't. He's got his health now, but the boys he was playin' cards with last night say that unless he travels he's goin' to be in the hospital. An' every time there's a prescription like that dealt out in a card game it's best fur a man as values his health to take it."
