ROTARIANS HEAR NEED OF SAFETY WEEK

GOOD SUGGESTIONS COME FROM EXPERTS TO ASSIST IN REDUCING ACCIDENTS

Glendale Agencies Display Great Interest In The Evening News' Safety Week and Present Feasible Ideas to Public

In keeping with the spirit of Automobile Safety Week, to be observed in Glendale August 10 to 16, under the direction of The Glendale Evening News, the automobile dealers of Glendale today give their views and suggestions on how to eliminate, or at least lessen the number of automobile accidents.

The suggestions offered by these men, who have devoted a number of years to the automobile industry, who have spent many hours in driving and demonstrating cars, and who have taught many persons how to drive cars properly and safely, contain much food for thought. Motorists will do well to read their suggestions carefully, remember them, and observe them in an endeavor to stop the gigantic toll of lives automobile accidents are taking each year.

Louis D'Armand, formerly a member of the traffic commission of New York City, and a nationally known authority on traffic problems, once said:

"Every time a motorist makes a left-hand turn at a crowded intersection, he is delaying traffic. It has been determined, by careful check, that an average of eight cars are stopped every time a motorist turns to the left during normal traffic on crowded street, and three times this number during peak hours."

Delay to Traffic
"The double left-hand turn, commonly called the 'horseshoe turn' on a busy street, halts fifteen cars during normal traffic, and three times as many during peak hours. Left-hand turns and 'horseshoe' turns should be eliminated in all cities at busy corners, regardless of how wide the street is. While these turns do not directly cause automobile accidents, they do cause delays, and motorists in a hurry who have been halted by some driver turn."

SAFETY SUBJECT AT CLUB'S MEET

A. T. Cowan Gives Talk to Advancement Association On Auto Week

Members of the Glendale Advancement association expressed their approval of The Glendale Evening News' Safety Week today afternoon, following an address delivered before that organization by A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, in which he outlined the plans and purpose of The Glendale Evening News' Safety Week.

The meeting was held at the Harriett Mae Tea Room, and was attended by a number of members of the association.
The automobile has crowded itself upon the people of the nation hurriedly, Mr. Cowan said, until the people do not know what to do with it and with the motorist. Where automobiles were a curiosity only a few years ago, he said, there are more automobiles in California now than there are telephones.

Thinking of Safety
The purpose of The Glendale Evening News' Safety Week is to get people to thinking along the lines of safety, Mr. Cowan said.

Grade Crossing Hazards

Every few days we read in the newspapers an account of a motorist who has endeavored to beat a railroad train to the crossing. He has lost the race, and one or more fatalities are checked up on the records as a result of this foolish chance-taking.

In a gamble of this kind, the odds are always overwhelmingly against the driver. Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California are at a loss to understand why so many motorists fail to realize that there is as much, and more, room behind the train than there is in front of it.

There is only one safe way to avoid accidents at grade crossings, and that is, when approaching a crossing where there is not a clear and unobstructed view of the track in both directions, to stop, look, and listen! If the way is clear, and no train is approaching, shift into first or second, and hurry across. Don't shift gears again until clear of the tracks. This precaution is to minimize the chance of flooding your carburetor and stalling your car in the middle of the railroad track, in case you should see a train approaching and nervously push the accelerator down too rapidly.

An additional precaution to be followed where there are two or more tracks, is, after you have waited for a train to pass, to allow it to travel far enough so that you may see that the other track is clear, and that there is no train approaching in the shadow of the one just passed. Many people have been killed because of a failure to take this precaution.

Keep in mind that it is practically impossible for a train to stop in time to prevent an accident when you have loomed up suddenly in front of the engine. Therefore, the only safe practice is to STOP, LOOK AND LISTEN!

Executive to Take Up His Duties In Organization Here on August 18

In order to be in a position to assume his duties at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce on August 18, the date agreed upon with the directors at his meeting with them here, Howard I. Wood, the newly-appointed secretary, left for his home in Oakland last night to wind up his affairs in that city. He will return to Glendale on August 15.

During his brief stay in Glendale, Mr. Wood was in conference with the members of the board of directors, all of whom have been favorably impressed with the organization's new appointee. Mr. Wood's wide experience in varied lines of business, and especially in chamber of commerce work, will, it is felt, render him a valuable member of the Chamber of Commerce staff.

The fact that Mr. Wood was the unanimous choice of the committee appointed by W. E. Hewitt to select the new secretary from among the many applicants who sought the position, and that the board of directors unanimously adopted the recommendations of the committee, is taken as an indication that he will have the undivided support of the board, and other citizens with whom he became acquainted during his stay in Glendale also pledged their co-operation in the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Wood will bring his family back with him to Glendale, and will secure a residence for them here.

SPEAKER IN PLEA FOR CAREFUL DRIVING

Auto Club Representative Secured by The News To Present Facts

Automobile safety week, August 10 to 16, under the direction of The Glendale Evening News, was the subject for consideration of the Rotary Club at its luncheon this afternoon in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Ernest McGaffey, representing the Automobile Club of Southern California, was introduced by Gil A. Cowan of The Evening News staff, and the speaker's basic idea of the subject was "Safety first, last and all the time."

"With California leading the United States in number of automobile registrations," Mr. McGaffey said, "the question of safety from motor accidents is an ever present and crucial problem which must be shared by drivers and pedestrians alike."

Many Automobiles
Quoting statistics, he added: "There are 625,939 automobiles in Southern California, according to the club records, 546,024 in Los Angeles county and 350,000 in the city of Los Angeles, it is estimated."

The speaker continued: "Seventeen thousand people lost their lives in America last year through motor fatalities, 455 persons being killed in Los Angeles county alone. The necessity of education, both on the part of the motorists, and the pedestrian, is a paramount need. The Automobile Club of Southern California reached 500,000 school children in its educational work last year, and many thousands of adults. A motorcar is like a loaded gun—its propelling force is gasoline, and the weight of the machine is the projectile. Motorists and pedestrians alike should remember its power."

Tests for Drivers
"Rigid examinations for all drivers is a prime necessity, both as to mental and physical requirements."

PLAY PRESENTED GIVES STAND ON BY LITTLE FOLKS POLITICAL ISSUE

Display Neighborly Spirit W. F. Lineberger, Up for By Original Sketch on Re-election, Writes His Riverdale Lawn Views From London

Indicative of the neighborly spirit for which Glendale people are known, was the children's play presented last night by a group of children in the 400 block on Riverdale drive, on the lawn of the F. L. Hollingsworth home at 462 Riverdale drive.

Jean Williams, Elizabeth Danforth and Helen Rosenberg are the three little girls who lead the neighborhood children each year in a vacation play. A large company of neighbors attended the presentation last night.

"The Toy Maker" was the title of the sketch, written by Jean Williams and Elizabeth Danforth, who, with Helen Rosenberg, arranged the dances and other features.

Children Dance Dorothy Brown was the Toy-maker, while Henrietta Roche was the good fairy who carried the toys to the children. During the play the following dances were given: "Milkmaid's Dance," by Jean Williams and Elizabeth Danforth; "The Flirt," by Elizabeth Danforth; "Milkmaid's Dance," by Jean Williams; Spanish dance, by Helen Rosenberg; "Little Prince and Princess Dance," by Charlotte Brown and Duncan Pulliam; jazz dance, by Jean Williams; Elizabeth Danforth and Helen Rosenberg; "Teddy Bear Dance," by Raymond Rosenberg. There were also readings and other features.

Need Shipping Line "I visited practically all of the major ports in England, Scotland and Wales, also a number of the leading industrial centers. I shall not attempt to go into detail as to conclusions reached by my observations in this letter, but will discuss the matter with you when I return home; suffice to say that, if the United States is to continue to hold its own in world affairs, it must be thoroughly alive to foreign competitive conditions, and must maintain an American merchant marine in order to control rate making and quick and expeditious sea transport for our surplus products of farm and factory."

Unusual Beauty Revealed in New Patterns Received By George Lyons

George J. Lyons announces his new fall line of draperies is now in and can be shown. In many of this season's shipments are special orders which embody the very latest in style and color effects, which are unusually attractive. Mr. Lyons says, and adds that they are the most beautiful that he has had the pleasure of showing.

The question of selecting just right fabrics for suitable draperies is usually hard for a customer to decide but Mr. Lyons is always willing to assist in every way, both in the selection of the fabrics and the correct installation. The Lyons Drapery establishment is located at 1300 South Brand boulevard.

News Advertisements Find Lost Articles

Quick results in the recovery of lost articles through the classified columns of The Glendale Evening News are shown in the cases of two advertisers who are rejoicing over the return of their property within a few hours of the time they first announced their loss to the world.

W. C. Perry, of The Glendale Evening News staff, lost a $10 bill Monday, and his advertisement brought it back to him on Wednesday by I. C. Craft, a member of the city engineer's office force.

The other case was that of Mrs. L. R. Manson, 300 North Isabel street, who lost a silver watch that had been in her possession for many years and to which she attached a value greater than its mere intrinsic worth. The watch was brought back to The Evening News office and was turned over to Mrs. Manson today.

Postoffice Has New Sign Over Front Door

The new sign carrying the name of Glendale that goes over the door of the new postoffice was put in place this morning, just in time for the public inspection of the building that is to be held this afternoon. The sign is a handsome affair, gold letters on a black background, and all the force are pointing to it with pride. The flagpole, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson reports, will be in position within a day or two. It will be high enough to carry the flag clear of all obstructions and permit it to float freely on the breeze. Considerable criticism has been directed at the postoffice officials, it is stated, because the flagpole was not in place before this.

Church Members To Greet Rev. C. A. Cole On Return From Summer In Europe

Rev. Clifford A. Cole of 132 South Kenwood street, pastor of the Central Christian church, arrived in Pasadena at 1:40 o'clock today from more than two months' trip abroad. He was met in Pasadena by members of his family.

Mr. Cole left Glendale May 27, his destination being Glasgow, Scotland, where from June 14 to 26 he attended the world's Sunday school convention. En route across the continent he stopped in St. Louis, Mo., where he formerly served as pastor; spent three days in Washington, D. C.; and a few days in New York City, previous to sailing June 7 on the steamship Cameronia.

He preceded the other members of the committee and was delegated to visit various English and Scottish ports and centers of shipping and shipbuilding industries to get a general view of the situation, and also to observe general economic and political conditions in the British Isles.

"I visited practically all of the major ports in England, Scotland and Wales, also a number of the leading industrial centers. I shall not attempt to go into detail as to conclusions reached by my observations in this letter, but will discuss the matter with you when I return home; suffice to say that, if the United States is to continue to hold its own in world affairs, it must be thoroughly alive to foreign competitive conditions, and must maintain an American merchant marine in order to control rate making and quick and expeditious sea transport for our surplus products of farm and factory."

Historic Church From Glendale Mr. Cole crossed to Holland, where he visited The Hague and other points of interest. On Sunday, while there, he was permitted to sit at communion in the little Dutch Reformed church, in which our Pilgrim Fathers held their last service before embarking for America.

His journey took him on to Antwerp and Brussels. At Brussels he left the Cook tour with which he was traveling and went to Italy, visiting Milan, Rome and Florence. He joined the tour again in Switzerland, visited the Alps and Geneva, then on to Paris until July 24. On that day he started home, landing at Montreal, Can., Friday, August 1. He returned to California by way of Chicago, Denver and New Mexico.

A royal welcome is accorded Mr. Cole on Sunday by his church people. They are inviting all Glendale friends to join them at the morning service at 10:30 o'clock and at the evening service at 7:45 o'clock.

old building, formerly located on West Broadway. The public will be shown the large work room, with two and one-half times as much space as utilized in the former quarters. The total floor space occupied by the postoffice numbers 12,600 square feet.

One of the points of interest which will be explained to visitors today will be the cancellation machine, capable of cancelling stamps on letters at the rate of 1000 letters a minute. Adjoining the cancellation machine is the hand stamp tables, where over-size letters are taken care of by employees and the stamps cancelled by hand.

Fine Rest Room Another item the members of the special committee will point out is the large receiving and loading platform, on the alley side of the building, 55 feet long, with five doors opening into the work room. It is possible to load or unload five trucks at a time, Postmaster Jackson said.

The members of the committee will point out the rest room on the second floor, reclaimed the best rest room for postal employes in any postoffice in Southern California. In most postoffices, Postmaster Jackson said, the rest rooms are located in the basement, where the light and ventilation are not the best, but at the Glendale postoffice there are plenty of light and fresh air in the rest room at all times.

En Route to U. S. "I challenge anyone to show where I have not stood four-square with the administration on every issue defined in the party platform, or recognized by experience and tradition as a fundamental policy of the Republican party. In other matters, I have studied the question constructively and exhaustively, and have proceeded according to my conscience and best judgment, and this I shall continue to do in the future as in the past. If it were expected of me to do otherwise, as I know it is not by thinking people in my district, I should have come and would not be a member of Congress at the price of such justification."

After our committee visits Antwerp, Rotterdam, Amsterdam, Bremen, Hamburg, and possibly some Baltic ports, we return to France and sail from Cherbourg, August 5. I hope to arrive home before the end of August."

Crossing Accidents Wipe Out Five Lives NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 7.—Five persons are dead and two are dying today as the result of a railroad crossing accident at the same spot here. SAFETY SUBJECT AT CLUB'S MEET

A. T. Cowan Gives Talk to Advancement Association On Auto Week

Motorists who think along safety lines, he said, give the proper hand signals, see that the lenses on their cars are adjusted so they will not blind others, do not dart out from side streets and alleys without giving the proper signals, and generally tend to see that traffic regulations, made for the safety of all, are carried out.

Mr. Cowan declared he was in favor of boulevard steps in Glendale as a prime move in eliminating automobile accidents. He urged the members of the association to bear in mind The Glendale Evening News' Safety Week, to think safety and talk safety all the time.

To Secure Speaker C. W. Ingledue, president of the association, asked Mr. Cowan to extend an invitation to a speaker of the Automobile Club of Southern California on behalf of the association, to address the members at the meeting next week along the lines of safety in driving automobiles.

W. H. Mills, auditor for the Glendale & Montrose company, reported that his company was willing to put in bus lines for Sycamore canyon when the time was right. A larger population in the canyon and paved roads there will be necessary first, he said, but the company has assured him that when these conditions are met, buses will be operated in Sycamore canyon.

The question of parks for Glendale caused considerable discussion. President Ingledue suggested that the east side should have a park. Henry Jackson advocated a park on East Maple street where the city now owns a reservoir. Mr. Mills suggested the use of the space back of the present city hall as a small park. Upon the motion of J. F. McClish, the matter was referred to the park committee, the members to confer with the members of the City Park commission, and report at the next meeting.

Use Steam Plants Mr. Lewis quoted figures to show how the Edison company had reduced the shortage, by using all available steam plants and buying power from those companies which have a surplus, to only 7 1/2 per cent under last year's supply, but, due to a 20 to 22 per cent increased use of power, it has been necessary to ask the public to conserve 25 per cent.

In closing he made known the reasons for the company's request to increase its rates, the subject of a rehearing shortly before the state railroad commission setting forth that dependent on $1,000,000 additional income is $30,000,000 bonded improvements scheduled for next year.

Tells Picnic Plans Charles Elder and Clark Dilley, two new members, were presented codes of ethics by Roy L. Kent and George B. Karr at the request of President J. Herbert Smith. J. I. Wernette, chairman of the picnic committee, reported Brookside park would be the scene of ball game, swimming and races next Thursday afternoon to which members of the club were invited to bring their families, also their lunches. Coffee and dessert will be served free. Willis Luby spoke of the work of Rotary and how it stimulated a desire on the part of members to do something for somebody else.

Visitors at today's meeting included the following out-of-town Rotarians: S. H. Robertson, Phoenix, Ariz.; Bill Roberts, Santa Ana; H. E. Cunningham, Prescott, Ariz.; George Parker, Minneapolis; Earl Dufur, Joe B. Park, J. J. King and Leonard Collins, Burbank; Arthur Lynch, S. L. Chersky, Wil Krueger, R. B. Hanna, Sherman Michel, Lou Guessey and Herb Vanta, of Los Angeles; Carl Hanson, Gil E. Gilbert and Ted Plummer, of Santa Monica, the latter being president of the Crescent Bay club.

Council Urges Appropriation To Protect District From Fire Menace The Glendale City Council this morning adopted a resolution requesting the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county to appropriate $4000 for forest fire protection. The resolution was adopted after P. J. Hayselden, chief of the Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association, had told the council that he has been assured by the supervisors his money will be forthcoming without delay. The resolution follows: "Whereas, a great area of hill land lying within Los Angeles county and adjacent to the city of Glendale is a brush fire menace this year, on account of the dry season;

"Be it resolved, That the council of the city of Glendale hereby requests the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county to appropriate the sum of $4000 to be used to maintain lookouts in the hills and help the city of Glendale in its fire prevention program; and that this be considered as an emergency resolution and acted upon forthwith."

Crowd at Meeting This action by the City Council follows a meeting of the Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association, held last night at the City Hall, Chief P. J. Hayselden presiding, at which the need for such action was stressed. There were present at this meeting Leo Lang, first assistant chief of the unit; Harry E. White, assisting chief; Joe Bennett, in charge of supplies; Ray Fairall, in charge of transportation and a large number of members and other interested parties.

William E. Pelley, representing the Glen Oaks Improvement association, was present and addressed the council this morning, urging quick action to protect residents of this section from the fire hazard. Mr. Pelley also presented and addressed the council, stressing the need for immediate action.

Thanks Council Mr. Hayselden assured them that everything possible is being done and expressed his public thanks to the council for their donation of funds with which to purchase fire extinguishers and shovels. Mayor Spencer Robinson publicly thanked Mr. Hayselden for his good work in organizing and perfecting the Glendale unit of the Angeles Forest Protective association and in obtaining the assurance of the board of supervisors that the $4000 donation will be made without delay.

FIRE PREVENTION TOPIC OF CHIEFS

Convention In Pasadena Is Nearing End; Langford Is Delegate

Chief A. H. Langford of the Glendale fire department was again present this morning as a delegate to the thirty-first annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs, now in session at the Maryland hotel, Pasadena, President Charles E. Foster of Astoria, Ore., presiding. The convention opened Tuesday, August 5, and will close tomorrow night with a dinner and dance, when the 300 delegates and their wives and friends will be the guests of Chief R. J. Scott of the Los Angeles fire department. Chief Langford has attended every session, and plans to take the trip to Mt. Wilson this afternoon, when the chiefs from cities of all the states west of the Rocky mountains will survey Southern California from the famous observatory.

Discuss Problems "This has been a very instructive convention," declared Chief Langford this morning before leaving for Pasadena. "Like a convention of business men gathered for a frank consideration of their problems, we have greatly benefited from an exchange of fire-fighting ideas.

"The outstanding thought of the convention has been fire prevention. Year by year, with better apparatus and more highly trained men, the fire loss throughout the country is being reduced, while greater demands are being placed on the fire departments, by increased construction.

"The best talk I heard was delivered yesterday morning by Franklin H. Wentworth, secretary of the National Fire Prevention association, of Boston, Mass. His outline of what this association is doing proved a revelation. Another outstanding talk was made by Chief E. F. Coop of Pasadena, on the remodeling of old fire apparatus, wherein he showed how the fire department can save the taxpayers thousands of dollars by reconstructing outworn vehicles.

Develop Ideas Here "As we have done some work along this line in Glendale, I was particularly interested in Chief Coop's talk. The convention has produced some ideas which I hope to develop in the Glendale fire department, and is proving even more instructive than the convention I attended in Los Angeles, three years ago this summer."

Pasadena won the ball game from Fresno yesterday afternoon, 11 to 7. This afternoon Pasadena will play San Diego at Brookside park, for the championship of the association.

Lady Astor Likes to Pay Her Income Tax

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Lady Astor has a new sport. It is paying taxes.

Opposing a proposal to reduce the income tax, Lady Astor intervened in a lively House of Commons debate to declare:

"I like paying taxes. I am very glad to have the money to pay taxes."

Influential as Lady Astor is, however, it is very doubtful if she will be able to popularize the pastime which gives her such pleasure.

CONSIDER SITES FOR LODGE CAMP

Attorney Moltz to Inspect Favored Location Near Santa Barbara

Attorney and Mrs. Henry Moltz and children, Henry, Robert and Evelyn, of 363 West Lexington drive, are planning to leave Saturday, by motor, for a visit to Santa Barbara. Attorney Moltz is deeply interested in the plans of the Modern Woodmen which may result in establishing a permanent camp in the mountains or at the beach for the benefit of the Woodmen of all San Fernando valleys. Numerous sites are under consideration, one of the most favored being located at Hughes lake in Santa Barbara National forest. Others are being considered before final decision is made, and a site not so far from this locality may be chosen.

The membership of the Glendale Camp of Modern Woodmen, No. 12286, and the sister organization, Royal Neighbors, No. 8938, is increasing rapidly and new newcomers from the East are urged to transfer memberships to the local camps where they will be warmly welcomed.

The Glendale Camp is at the head of the movement to establish this pleasure camp and has taken an active interest in locating sites to come under consideration.

ADVENTISTS WILL HELP ABYSSINIA

Medical Mission, Backed by College and Hospital, To Start Shortly

An enterprise of unusual interest in the line of medical missionary work has been set on foot recently by the Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists, and the White Memorial Hospital of Los Angeles. These institutions are sending a unit composed of four physicians, a graduate nurse, and a teacher, to establish medical work in Abyssinia, Africa. Dr. Marvel Beem and Mrs. Beem, Dr. George Bergman and Mrs. Bergman, and Drs. Glenn and Esther Curtis compose this unit. All are members of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, and have many acquaintances in Los Angeles and Glendale.

Abyssinia, the country which not so long ago defied the armies of Italy, has a territory about equal to France and Germany combined, with a population of 10,000,000 people. It is a tableland in equatorial Africa, with an elevation above sea level of from 5000 to 10,000 feet. Save for the presence of four doctors, medical and surgical work is wholly unknown among these millions of people, though they are nominally Christian.

King Favors Work

The ruler is a young man less than 30 years of age, who though an absolute monarch, is mentally progressive and favorable to western civilization, and is very desirous that medical knowledge and practice shall be introduced into his country. The bulk of the population are negroes, but the ruling class is of an Egyptian and Hebrew type, tradition having it that they are direct descendants of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. A belief is also current among them that in the latter days a white man from the west will come to prepare them for the second advent of Christ. Two years ago, when Rev. L. H. Christian, a leading Adventist official, visited Abyssinia, the regent offered to provide a hospital if he would send a doctor to conduct it, but no physician was available at that time.

Alumni Will Help

Another feature of this enterprise, which makes it an experiment in medical missionary work, is that it will be conducted independently of denominational support, save that a salary will be paid by the Adventist Mission Board to Dr. and Mrs. Beem. The support of the other members of the unit, together with the entire equipment necessary for their work, will be provided by the Alumni Association of the College of Medical Evangelists. If the experiment proves successful, other similar enterprises will be initiated. The members of this unit have already left California for Washington, D. C., where they will have opportunity for the study of tropical diseases. They will sail in September for England, and from there, a few weeks later, for Africa. Dr. Harold Lewis, president of the Alumni Association, and Dr. P. T. Magan, dean of Loma Linda Medical College, have the interests of the enterprise in charge at the home base.

FAILS TO APPEAR IN COURT, JAILED

Alleged Speeder Is Guest Of City Over Night, But Released Later

Earl Sherwood of 5826 Camersford avenue, Los Angeles, spent last night in the city jail for failure to appear in court on the date cited. Judge Lowe states that during the six months ending June 30, warrants had to be issued for the appearance of 152 traffic violators, and of that number forty-six were never found.

Sherwood was released at 7 o'clock this morning on order of Judge Lowe, who suspended the balance of a five-day sentence imposed yesterday afternoon, when the prisoner was brought in by the bailiff.

Commenting on his action in locking a man up over night for failure to appear in court on the date cited, Judge Lowe states that during the six months ending June 30, warrants had to be issued for the appearance of 152 traffic violators, and of that number forty-six were never found.

"This necessity of sending a bailiff all over Southern California to bring in persons who have been arrested for traffic violations, is costing the city a great deal of money," says Judge Lowe, "and prisoners who are brought in here for trial for failure to appear are being dealt with severely."

"There is no reason why the taxpayers of Glendale should have to spend money for gasoline, oil, an automobile and a bailiff's time, in order to hunt down such persons and bring them to justice."

GENEROUS CHECK HELPS CAT CLUB

Interview In Evening News Prompts Animal Lover To Forward Gift

As a result of an interview with Mrs. B. O. Holbrook of 426 West Harvard, published recently in The Glendale Evening News, a generous check was mailed to Mrs. Holbrook for the Glendale Cat club by a Glendale cat lover.

As a prominent member of the Cat club, Mrs. Holbrook has had many calls from Glendale people as to what to do with pet or stray cats during vacations. Mrs. Holbrook recommends placing pet cats with friends or in animal hospitals, while owners are away, and, in the case of stray cats, dependent on chance kindness here, and there, she says having them properly killed is the most humane measure to take.

Members of the Cat club are to picnic next Monday in Brookside park, Pasadena. In the afternoon a meeting of the club will be held.

MUNICH, Aug. 7.—The youngest soldier of the World War, Otto Gyffka, died at Rosenheim, near Munich, a few days after his twenty-fourth birthday. As a youth of fourteen and a half years, Gyffka volunteered in the German army in August, 1914, saw heaviest fighting on practically all German fronts and returned to Germany in November, 1918, unscathed, but with his nerves badly shaken. Financial worries, resulting in undernourishment, caused a serious nervous collapse, which ended his life abruptly.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. M. PHILLIPS

Simplicity Marks Services As Friends Gather to Pay Final Tribute

The sweet simplicity that had marked the life of Mrs. Mary K. Phillips, well known and devoted member of the Glendale Presbyterian church and of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, who died Sunday afternoon at the home of her son, George D. McDill, at 1451 East Wilson avenue, was expressed yesterday afternoon, when relatives and friends gathered in the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park for the final tribute.

A profusion of beautiful summer flowers bespoke the love of family and friends.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, which claimed Mrs. Phillips as one of the oldest members, officiated at the service. He read a sketch of Mrs. Phillips' life and later scriptural passages.

In reciting the virtues of the deceased as a mother, a devoted Christian and a friend, Mr. Edmonds quoted with emphasis Proverbs 31:30: "Favor is deceitful and beauty is vain; but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised."

Mrs. Bollman Sings Most beautiful were the songs by Maude Penlon Bollman, well known California singer, who had been a friend of Mrs. Phillips in Iowa. Unaccompanied, Mrs. Bollman sang "In the Garden" and "Crossing the Bar."

Mrs. Phillips, who was past 87 years of age at the time of her death, was a beloved member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club. Present at the service yesterday were three of the club members: Mrs. Zilpha A. Parker, Mrs. Caroline Frances Wilcox and Jeffrey Wisner Gillette. Pallbearers were W. A. Horn, H. E. Fry, A. B. Gillies of Glendale; Gale Seaman, George W. Shoemaker and C. B. Wilson of Los Angeles.

SELECTING THE SCHOOL

Parents who are sending their children away from home for the first time, to college this fall, cannot be too particular in the selection of the school which their boys and girls are to enter. It is not enough to give attention to the curriculum. Some knowledge of the men and women who are to give instruction to your children is necessary. This may be rather difficult, especially where a college or a university is large, but it were better for your child not to learn anything than to have his mind filled with some of the things the colleges, or rather some college professors, teach.

It seems so easy for those who are radicals in politics and religion to get into the colleges as instructors, and, of course, they find institutions of learning very fertile fields for the dissemination of their doctrines. We must grant these men and women the right to think as they will, but we should object to their teaching our children who have not yet had the foundation of learning that will enable them to throw off false teaching.

The boy or girl in high school, or just out of it, has an open mind, and naturally he believes what his instructors tell him. That is what he went to college for. He has not had sufficient experience with the world, and with life to take the evidence presented, weigh it and discard what is not good, as an older person can. And, the things he learns at this period of life will remain a part of him, in most cases, as long as he lives, for his mind is impressionable now. Hence, a teacher who has distorted ideas and ideals as to morals or government, can very subtly instill these beliefs in the minds of his pupils, and he has made converts who will carry on the doctrine through life.

There has been considerable discussion in regard to certain colleges prohibiting lectures on Communism, and there are those who consider such a course narrow-minded and tending to restrict free speech and free discussion. Needless to say, those who argue this way are revolutionists themselves. One newspaper says that free speech and free discussion do not require that students be allowed to hear lectures on the best method of holding up a bank or the easiest way to blow a safe, nor is it necessary that there be classes in train robbery and pocket-picking. And Communism is no more nor less than robbery.

The man or woman who teaches your boy or girl should have the highest and noblest ideals. He may be teaching trigonometry, but if he has any pet theories on any subject whatever, it is only human nature to let them loose in the classroom.

THOSE FOREIGNERS

It is a common thing these days to hear foreigners spoken of slightly. It is true that a large per cent of our criminals and dependents are foreign-born people and a great majority of the agitators, anarchists and communists in the United States are those who have come from other countries. The step that was taken by the last Congress to limit immigration was necessary to protect us from this element.

But we must not forget the loyal, splendid foreign element among us that has helped to make the United States a great country, people who are using their influence for progress and for right in every city, village and countryside in the land. There are thousands of foreign-born people among us, perhaps our next door neighbors whom we think the best people in the world were born elsewhere. Then there are thousands more whose parents were foreign-born. They are real true Americans and have given up their allegiance to their native countries even though they still cherish a love for the homeland in their heart.

We hear the most loyal of Californians boasting about the old home state, and it is just as natural, and more so, for foreign-born people to love the land of their birth even though they are proud of their American citizenship.

There are good and bad in all countries, and while we must suppress the criminal class whether native or foreign born, we should not use the word "foreigner" scornfully. We should not thus affront our neighbors and friends, we should not so discredit the splendid foreign blood which we have assimilated nor insult the progressive and fine people who are helping to make America great even though born in other countries.

SAVE THE TREES

It is to the shame of California that so many of the virgin stands of giant redwoods have fallen prey to fire and the axe. But, at least an effort is being made to preserve these ancient monarchs and to reforest the areas that have been burned and cut over. In many parts of Mendocino and Humboldt counties there are fine stands of second growth redwoods where the original timber was cut off thirty to forty years ago.

Nurseries have been established at Fort Bragg and at Scotia by big lumber companies. This is a commercial undertaking, of course, and only established after extensive experiments as to the type of lumber produced from second growth trees. It is said that eight companies representing sixty-five per cent of the redwood lumber output of the country have adopted reforestation plans.

It is too bad that so many of these trees, thousands of years in the growing, should have been so thoughtlessly destroyed, but it is of no use to cry over spilt milk. Rather should we give our encouragement to the "Save the Redwoods League" and other organizations and individuals who are working to save the balance of these virgin stands of redwoods for posterity.

DO IT NOW

"If I had phoned you when I thought about it last evening it would have saved both of us much inconvenience and trouble," one woman was overheard saying to another. There is a queer quirk in most of us that leads us to postpone the little things we know we ought to do until the vague period known as "some time." We laugh at the fellow who has the motto, "Do it now" hanging on his office wall, but it is a pretty good slogan to employ. It is much better to dispose of these little matters as they come up than it is to ticket and tabulate them and file them away in the brain for future reference. The person who is too methodical sometimes becomes a bore, but the one who has the trait of disposing of the little details as they come to mind has a "good fault," if such a characteristic is possible.

SUCH A SURPRISE!

Doumergue

By DR. FRANK CRANE

On the 13th of June, M. Gaston Doumergue was elected president of the French republic by the national assembly at Versailles. This national assembly consisted of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies combined.

M. Doumergue received 515 votes, as against 309 by his nearest competitor. M. Doumergue is considered a radical Socialist, but a mild one. So mild, indeed, that the bulk of the Socialists and Radicals were opposed to him and he was elected by the more moderate votes of the assembly, by those who considered it necessary for the traditional policies of France to be maintained. It should not be forgotten that M. Doumergue voted for and defended M. Poincaré's foreign policy in the Senate and approved of France's entry into the Ruhr.

Voting was closed at 4:50 o'clock, at which time the result was read in Congress by M. Bienvenu Martin, vice president of the Senate. Fully two-thirds of the deputies and senators present arose from their seats, cheering wildly. The benches occupied by the Socialist and Radical-Socialist deputies could at once be distinguished, as their occupants remained seated. The small knot of Communists attempted to sing the "Internationale," but their voices were promptly drowned by those of over 500 senators and deputies singing the "Marseillaise."

There were only three candidates: M. Doumergue, M. Painlevé and third, M. Camélinat. The result of the voting was that M. Doumergue received 515 votes, M. Painlevé 309 and M.

Doumergue was therefore declared elected.

M. François-Marsal announced to M. Doumergue, in a private reception room called the Salle Marengo, that he had been elected president, and M. Martin, who during the interregnum had been constitutionally charged with all executive powers, handed them over to the new president.

After thanking M. Martin and M. Marsal for their congratulations, M. Doumergue said that he would endeavor to put into practice at the Elysee the same principles of fidelity to ideals and love of country which had been his during a political life extending over thirty years.

After shaking hands with the senators and deputies and the members of the French and foreign press, and thanking them all for their congratulations, M. Doumergue drove off through the troop-lined streets in an open car bearing the presidential flag to the Elysee, or official residence of the president.

Long before it was possible for the presidential cortege to reach Paris, the public, eager for the first sight of the new president, crowded along the Champs Elysees. It was important for this crowd to be near shelter, for heavy storms broke from time to time, and the chestnuts with the finest foliage were those selected.

What M. Doumergue will do with his new position is as yet uncertain, but he is the distinct choice of the majority of the deputies selected by the people and the reign of a constitutional head of the state is always followed with interest. Copyright, 1924, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as an auspicious day for most human activities. Mercury, Mars and Venus are in benefic aspect, while Saturn is adverse.

The rule is an auspicious one for all lines of accounting, book-keeping and financial estimates.

Advertising comes under a head making for big returns, the rule is said to be especially auspicious for all sort of personal publicity.

And now the people of the theatre should benefit, for the stars promise much for those who sign contracts today.

Enter this rule plans for coming projects should be fortunate since Mars is friendly to all constructive efforts.

Women should prosper while this configuration prevails and there is a sign making for the success of a national movement for some much-needed reform.

This should be a lucky wedding day, for the stars seem to promise harmony that enables joint effort toward prosperity.

Engagements entered into under this direction of the stars have the best forecast of success, since constancy is indicated.

Up to the twenty-third of this month business may be quiet in all parts of the country, but after that date there should be a decided revival.

All severe physical strain should be avoided at this time by persons past first youth, for hearts are supposed to be easily affected under this month's planetary government.

The outlook for unions or organizations of any sort does not promise harmony, since the influences are too complex for any kind of peace.

Political clubs will be susceptible to vibrations making for schisms and dissensions, the seers prophesy.

Persons whose birth date it is have the forecast of an active and prosperous year. The young will court and marry.

Today's Poem

SHADOWS
Whence comes this shadow in the noonday light
Where sunshine holds full sway
Does it reveal a skeleton of blight
Upon a background gray?

Oh speak, my soul, that I may know
The truth, and help me overthrow
The blur my heart would cast away.

A solitude I crave beneath the sky
In some secluded spot,
Where pangs into my conscience
cannot pry

To brand their signet hot;
Is there a shadow on my mind
That voluntarily will find
A way to ease my weary lot?

Are shadows stenciled on my soul so deep
That I admit defeat,
In my bewildered, tortured state
to weep

And sharp rebuke to meet?
I wish some things I could forget
That fill life's pages with regret,
Then happiness would be complete.

FOR A GOOD CAUSE

Two young folks attended a tea. They had bought tickets at 15c each. The profits were to go toward the Belgian fund. One of them, after consuming four cups of tea, six sandwiches a plate of bread and butter, two teacakes, five jam tarts, and four buns, was passing his cup for the fifth time when he turned to his friend and said:

"I think everyone should encourage a thing of this sort. It's for a good cause, you know."

Who's Who

Again is Vance McCormick going to play an important role in a presidential campaign. The man who managed the successful Wilson campaign in 1916 will figure this year as a member of the "board of strategy" which will aid Clem Shaver, chairman of the national committee, in the direction of the Democratic campaign.

His full name is Vance Criswell McCormick, and he was born in Harrisburg, Pa., in 1872. He is a newspaper publisher, being the directing force behind the morning Patriot and Evening News in Harrisburg. He was educated at Yale and went into newspaper and politics after his graduation.

His formal entry into politics was made in 1900 as a member of the city council of Harrisburg. In 1902 he was elected mayor of the city. In 1914 he was the Democratic nominee for governor of Pennsylvania, and, while he lost, he became a national political figure of such proportions that he was given charge of the national campaign in 1916, when Woodrow Wilson was elected to his second term.

From 1917 to 1919 McCormick was chairman of the war trade board of the government, and as such was a member of the war mission to Great Britain in 1917. In 1919 he served as one of President Wilson's advisers at the peace conference in Versailles.

He is a director of the federal reserve bank and a member of the Yale Corporation, as well as a trustee of Pennsylvania State College, and president of the board of Harrisburg Academy.

The Ravings Of a Grouch

The prodigality with which many young children spend money is perfectly appalling to me. The tiniest tots are given money and allowed to select their own candies and they are very well versed as to the purchasing power of a penny, a nickel, a dime or a quarter. But pennies are not so popular with children today as they were in my childhood. The youngsters today rather despise the lowly copper even though one will purchase the desired all-day sucker.

When will these children learn the value of money? I know of mothers, and they are not wealthy either, who think nothing of giving their very young children four or five nickels or even more every day to spend. I know of children who make regular pilgrimages to the store every morning BEFORE BREAKFAST with the first installment of the day's allowance to invest in ice cream cones and candy which they eat on the way home.

People who so indulge their children are criminal. Ice cream, candy and coca cola as a steady diet will not promote the health and teach him how to spend it wisely. The one who yields to her child's coaxing or screaming for an ice cream cone when he has just finished a chocolate bar is not fit to have the care of a child.

I would not deprive a child of candy and ice cream entirely. I would give him a little allowance and teach him how to spend it wisely. I would give him pleasures, for a happy childhood is the birthright of every boy and girl born into the world. But absolute lack of discipline does not make a child happy, it only makes him discontented. I tremble for the future of the boy who has learned that he has only to cry and coax to get anything he happens to desire whether it is to go to the movies or to buy something his abnormal appetite craves.

The infrequent pleasures are the ones most appreciated by young and old alike. It is the things that are hard to get we value most and enjoy most.

The mother who gives her child opportunity for plenty of play time out-of-doors with a rare ice cream cone and an occasional picture show is being infinitely more kind to her child than the one who grants every whim of her offspring.

FORD PRICE PLANS AID INDUSTRY

Disturbing Element Removed By Firm's Adherence to Present Figures

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924
NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The statement of Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, to his branch managers that no further price changes were contemplated at present for Ford models, has removed one of the most disturbing elements in the industry. In consequence, production at other plants is showing improvement.

While there was danger of Ford price changes, plans were held up all along the line, but now executives of the leading factories are going ahead confidently. Industrial improvement in Detroit, regarded as an accurate barometer of the trade, increased 1.198 in the last week. This was the first weekly increase reported in four months and brought the total to 196,460.

Peak Season In Fall
A further turn for the better is expected the coming week, although some summer inventories, still in progress, may hold back activities somewhat. Close students of the automobile business are turning to the belief that the peak season of the industry hereafter will be in the fall instead of in the spring. This is based on the growing preference of buyers for closed cars.

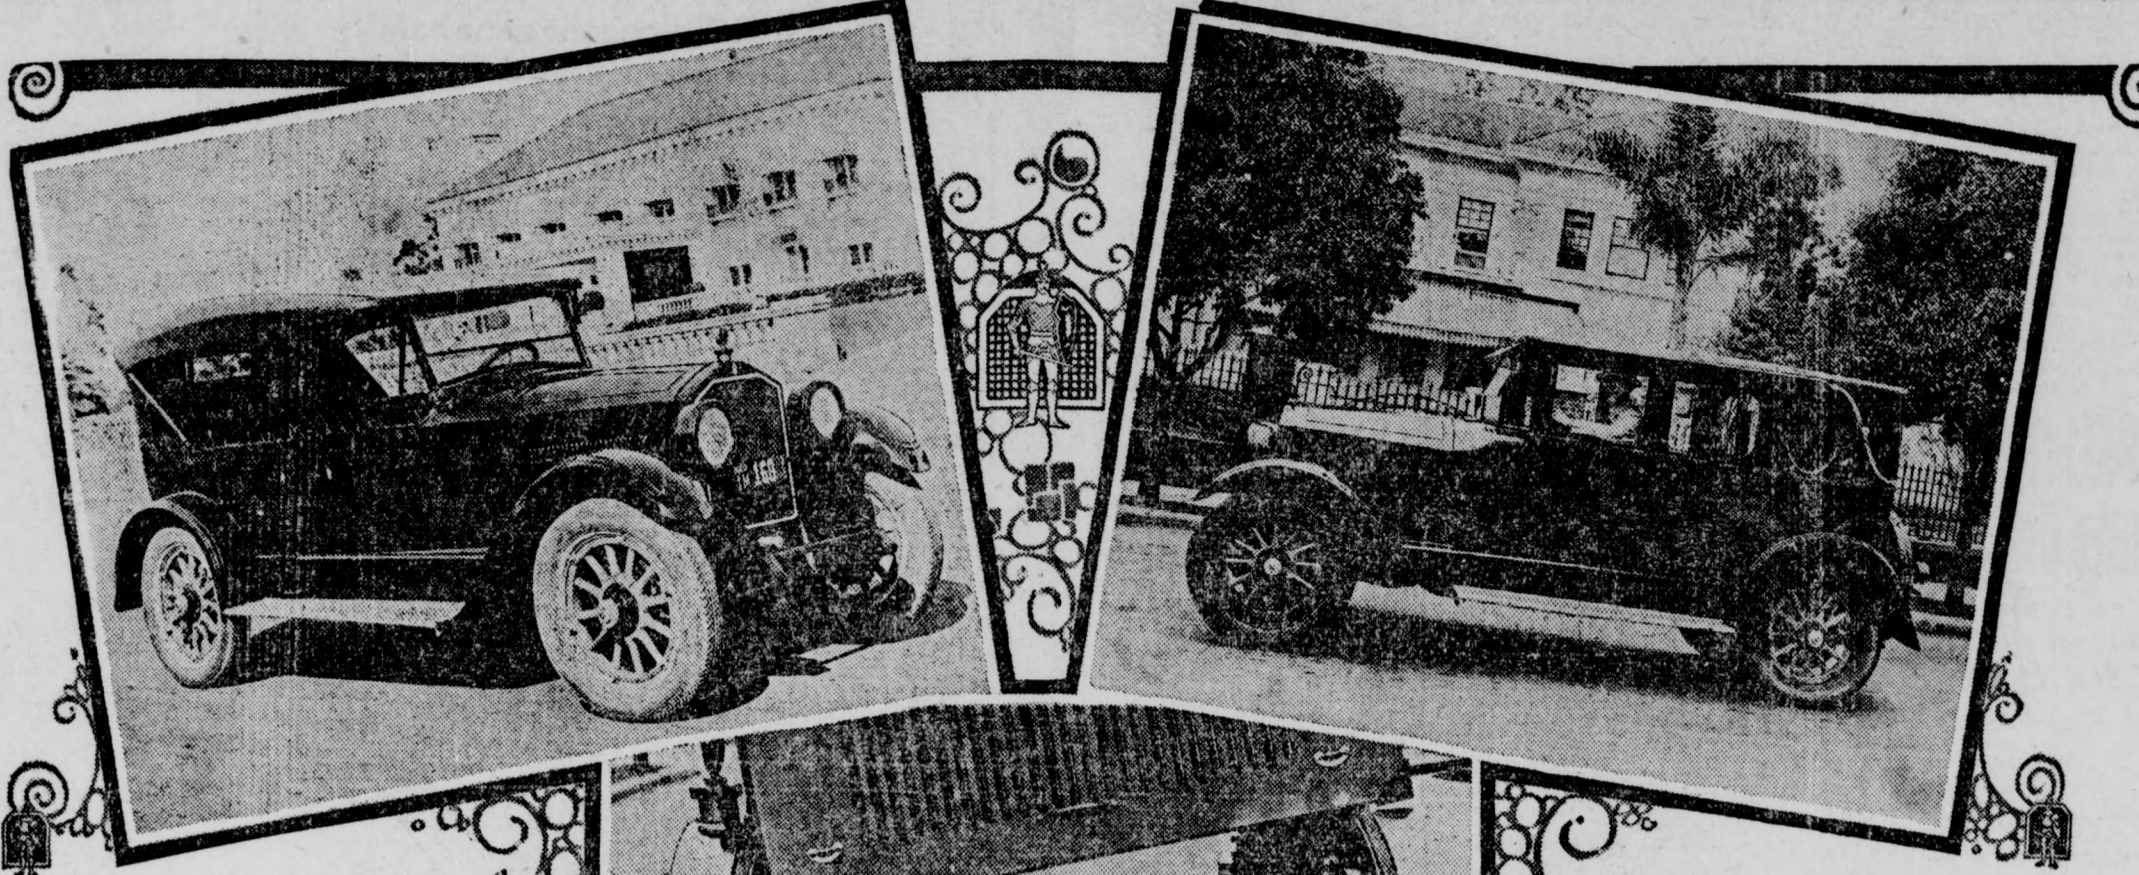

Nearly 40 per cent of all the Fords now manufactured are closed models, while more than 50 per cent of the Hudson cars are of the closed type. One large company will offer both its closed and open models at the same price on September 1. As indicating the improvement in manufacturing activities, the Saginaw Malleable Iron company, a branch of General Motors, has resumed operations and the Gray Iron foundry and the Jacox plant at Saginaw are working at better than 50 per cent of capacity.

Bankers Watch Ford
Ford dealers and bankers closely associated with the automobile industry are watching closely for a new move along financial lines by the Ford company. There is no secret about the fact that an enormous surplus has piled up in the Ford treasury. This money up to the present time has been distributed among the banks of the country and there has been an impression that those institutions have been favored which have been most liberal in financ-

STEARNS-KNIGHT AGENCY OPENED IN GLENDALE

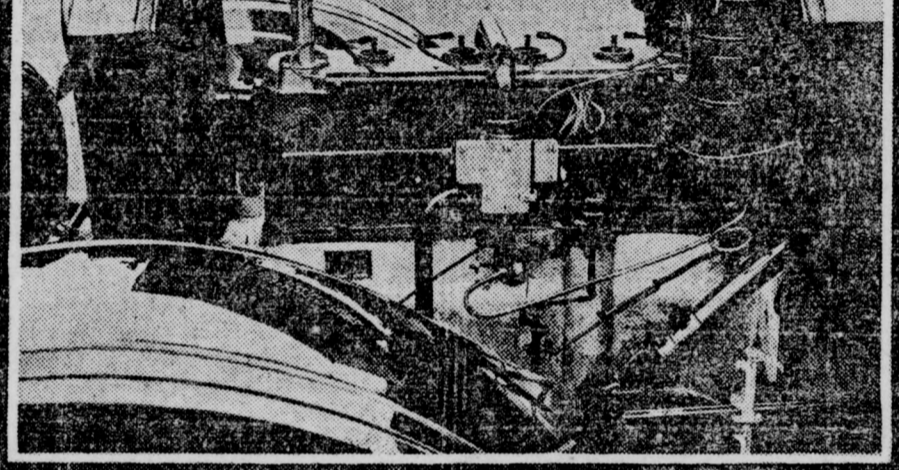

W. D. WEEKS, president of the GLENDALE STEARNS MOTOR CO., places his faith in the future of this territory as a market for the car with the famous sleeve-valve motor. Three models of the car are shown below, but autoists will have an opportunity to see the cars when the formal opening is held on a date to be set next week.

The opening of the Glendale Stearns Motor Company, at 246 South Brand boulevard, adds another name to the roster of the local dealers and brings to this city the agency for one of the country's leading cars.

W. D. Weeks, the president of the company, was induced to secure the agency for the Stearns-Knight through his knowledge of the car gained in his association with the manufacturers of the Knight sleeve-valve motor, and his selection of Glendale as a location was based on his belief that this city offers a good market for a car of this class.

Mr. Weeks has two carloads of the new model Stearns-Knights on the way and will place them on display next week, on a date yet to be determined. The models to be shown will be the 1924 Light Six, both open and closed.

"The new Light Six is the first light car the Stearns organization ever built," explains Mr. Weeks, "and it was developed to meet the requirements of those who want a car in the Stearns-Knight class and that will yet be light, full of power and pep, and that includes the famous Knight motor, which is rigorously confined to a limited number of manufacturers in this country."

Mr. Weeks will add to his establishment a service department, in which every service facility for Stearns owners will be available at all times.

GIVE RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

Ten Commandments Point Way to Avoid Accidents On State's Highways

Although greater efforts than ever before are being made to protect motorists and pedestrians alike on the highways, there are still a large number of unnecessary traffic accidents. Many rules have been suggested, and the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California believes that observance of the old-fashioned "golden rule" will go a long way toward making the highways safe.

From the many suggestions for safe driving the following are regarded as so important that they have been called the ten commandments of driving. They are:

- 1 Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
- 2 Slow down when approaching a cross-road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
- 3 Look out for children. You never can tell what they will do, and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.
- 4 Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he is there for your good and he's got a tough job.
- 5 Be sure that your "dimmers" really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.
- 6 Read and obey the warning signs; they are not put up as ornaments.
- 7 If you feel you've got to speed—do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
- 8 Keep in the Open
When making minor repairs, stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
- 9 Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped street car. Some day the jury may call it manslaughter.
- 10 Use discretion. The fact that you had the right of way won't bring anybody back to life, least of all yourself.

Peru Holiday Sales Taking First Place

In Peru, the carnival holidays were the occasion, up to this year, for celebrating in the most primeval manner. Since the advent of the automobile, this season has been the beginning of the motor car selling months. Just previous to the holidays and since that time the sale of automobiles has been phenomenal, in some cases the stock being entirely exhausted.

AUTO DEALERS SUGGEST WAYS AND MEANS TO CUT DOWN LIST OF ACCIDENTS

Heads of Agencies in Glendale Take Great Interest in Safety Week and Present Number of Interesting Ideas

ing to the left, or completing a "horseshoe" turn, are inclined to speed up a little to make up lost time. It is then that accidents result.

The opinions of the various automobile men, listed by the cars they represent, follow:

Maxwell, Chrysler
The motorist who does the things the law asks him to do when driving an automobile, in the spirit of justice and fairness to himself and others, is the person who seldom has an accident, declared Lyman F. Clark, general manager of the Glendale Motor company, of 124 West Colorado street, local distributors for Maxwell and Chrysler cars.

Buick
Ray L. Galvin, sales manager for Tanner & Hall, Ltd., of 622 South Brand boulevard, local distributors of Buick cars, advocates proper hand signals when making turns as a means of cutting down automobile accidents.

Chevrolet
Don't try to do the impossible with any automobile, is the advice of H. W. Smith, manager of the Chevrolet agency operated at 241 South Orange street, local distributors for Chevrolet cars, as a safety measure to eliminate automobile accidents. Trying to make excessive speed, trying to stop within a few feet and seeing how close the car can come to a certain article is dangerous, he declared.

Dodge
R. E. Corrigan, general manager of the agency located at 115 West Colorado street, where Dodge cars are sold in Glendale, suggests as a means of cutting down automobile accidents that all motorists drive carefully and cautiously on all streets and roads. Motorists should keep on the right side of the road and respect the rights of others, he said.

fic laws and constantly remembering them will cut down accidents, he said.

Roamer, Barley, Columbia
Eliminate the motorist who drives with utter disregard for traffic laws and the safety of others, and the number of automobile accidents will be materially lessened, declared C. H. Watson, president of the agency, located at 1000 South Brand boulevard, where, Roamer, Columbia and Barley cars are sold in Glendale.

Overland, Willys-Knight
B. W. Sloan, president and general manager of B. W. Sloan, Inc., of 905 South Brand boulevard, distributors in Glendale for Overland and Willys-Knight cars, points to the motorist who tries to do stunts with his car as the person who can cause many automobile accidents. The desire to "show off" leads to serious results, he said.

Cadillac
Talking and driving are two different things, in the opinion of W. H. Court, owner of the Court Motor company, 901 South Brand boulevard, local distributors of Cadillac cars. Motorists should not attempt to do both at the same time, he suggested as a means of cutting down the number of automobile accidents.

Hudson, Essex
P. A. Kelley, proprietor of the Kelley Motor company, at 816 South Brand boulevard, local distributors for Hudson and Essex cars, suggests that all persons who drive cars with four-wheel brakes get accustomed to using them before venturing on the crowded highways. Many motorists who have been accustomed to two-wheel brakes stop too quick with the improved type, he said, and cause serious injuries to themselves or others.

Studebaker
Study the traffic laws thoroughly, and then observe them strictly, is the advice of Stephen C. Packer, president of the Packer Auto company, 245 South Brand boulevard, local distributors of the Studebaker cars, in the Automobile Safety week campaign.

Paige, Jewett
Ralph B. Bliss, proprietor and general manager of the agency located at 219 West Colorado street, where Paige and Jewett cars are sold in Glendale, is of the opinion that many automobile accidents are caused by persons who are incompetent to handle a car, who become frightened easily, and who are nervous. Children should not be allowed to drive in heavy traffic, he said.

Gardner
W. E. Healy, president and general manager of the Jellison Motor company, of 1004 South Brand boulevard, local distributors of the Gardner automobile, suggests that all motorists spend several hours studying the traffic laws, and then observe them when on the road. Close study of the traf-

Moon
See that all brakes are in good working order and that the motor is in good condition, and automobile accidents will be few, is the opinion of Oscar Penn, proprietor and general manager of the Penn Motor company, 510 East Broadway, Glendale distributors for Moon cars.

Packard
W. H. Daniel, president and general manager of the Dixie Motor company, of 1129 South Brand boulevard, distributors in Glendale for the Packard automobile, urges all drivers to keep within the speed limits at all times, as a means of keeping the number of automobile accidents down to the minimum.

Nash, Lafayette
Granting the courtesy of the road at all times and realizing other motorists are entitled to the same treatment as each driver expects, will assist in eliminating a number of automobile accidents, according to Adolph Nydegger, president of the Nash Sales Company, Inc., of 1234 South Brand boulevard, local distributors of Nash and Lafayette cars.

Gray
W. D. Gresham, president and general manager of the Valley Auto company, 1129 South Brand boulevard, local distributors for Gray cars, believes that drivers who do not attempt to pass other cars at street intersections and at tops of hills will lessen the number of automobile accidents.

Chandler, Cleveland
A thorough knowledge of the automobile, its power and ability, will go a long way toward cutting down automobile accidents, declared Bine J. Smith, a member of the firm of Smith Bros., located at 1119 South Brand boulevard, local distributors for Chandler and Cleveland cars.

Ford, Lincoln
Drive by knowledge and not by intuition, is the advice of Jesse E. Smith of 115 West Colorado street, authorized dealer of Ford and Lincoln cars, in suggesting ways and means of cutting down automobile accidents. Many motorists drive without looking at the road ahead of them, he said, and serious accidents often result.

Franklin
E. S. Peggs, manager of the Motor Sales company, of 406 East Colorado street, distributors in Glendale for Franklin cars, advocates a regulation which would require every driver to know the traffic laws as a means of eliminating automobile accidents.

Jordan, Hupmobile
H. V. White, local manager for H. V. Swanson company, 111 West Harvard street, local distributors for Jordan and Hupmobile cars, in speaking of ways to cut down automobile accidents, suggested drivers refrain from cutting in too fast ahead of other cars, and give proper signals.

Oldsmobile
Boulevard stops will tend to cut down the number of automobile accidents in Glendale, in the opinion of C. H. Hunter, proprietor and general manager of the Oldsmobile agency at 208 West Broadway. Cars coming out from side streets present a grave problem, he said, which could be eliminated by the use of boulevard stops.

'ENCLOSED-OPEN' BUICKS NOVELTY

Permanent Tops and Sliding Windows Offer Comfort In All Weather

"Buick adds a new term to the automobile dictionary and, at the same time, introduces a unique series of models in its 'enclosed-open' cars which it is showing to the public. The expression appears paradoxical until one has seen the cars, but it then is realized these models are correctly named," says Ray L. Galvin, sales manager for the local dealers, Tanner & Hall, 622 South Brand boulevard.

"The cars in this series are equipped with permanent tops with sliding glass windows and with heaters which will make their occupants comfortable in all weather. The chassis and bodies

AIR MAIL BRINGS PACKARD PRAISES

Glendale Motorist Touring Eastern States Sure Of Car's Ability

W. H. Daniel, manager of the Dixie Motor Co., 1129 South Brand boulevard, is in receipt of a letter sent from Chicago by air mail. The letter is from Mrs. Frances E. Miller of Rossmore, Glendale, who is touring the Atlantic states in her Packard Six. Mrs. Miller is a very enthusiastic Packard owner and cannot say too much in praise for her car. The letter follows:

"The Dixie Motor Co.,
"Mr. W. H. Daniel,
"Dear Sir—Just want you to know that being a Packard Six owner is all joy. Today I am starting on a motor trip through the Atlantic coast states with a feeling that my Packard will meet all demands satisfactorily.

IMPROVEMENTS IN NEW CARS SHOWN

Hudson, Essex Embodying Latest Equipment Are On Display Here

Reflecting the spirit of 1924, the new Hudson and Essex models now on display at the Kelley Motor Company's salesroom, 816 South Brand boulevard, have been designed along conservative lines, but nevertheless show marked improvements, which place them in the front rank of up-to-date cars.

Balloon tires are now standard equipment on all models of Hudson and Essex. Steering is made even easier than with "high pressure" cords, by means of ball bearings in the steering gear. Full balloons are used with standard sizes on both cars, which makes replacement of worn out tires as simple a matter as it formerly was.

The Essex motor has been enlarged slightly, giving it even more of the "pep" and "getaway" for which these cars are famous. It has been the intention of the factory to strike an average between power and economy, giving the maximum efficiency possible in a car of this weight.

When salesmen from Germany returned to Portugal after the war they counted on a warm welcome from old customers, and took goods with them to sell at best prices during the first flush of welcome.

Japan has a population exceeding forty-seven million.

are identical with the open models in the line, thereby providing the roominess and freedom which for years have caused Buick open models to be so popular. The tops have been designed on the cars themselves and have the distinguishing Buick lines.

"With the increasing importance of the automobile as a business necessity and likewise the added comfort of pleasure driving when there can be instant protection from dust or wind or cold weather, the demand for closed cars is growing each year. With these 'enclosed-open' models Buick is providing such protection and comfort at a minimum of price."

BIG DEMAND FOR PAIGES, JEWETTS

Present Prices Lure Buyers Toward Late Models On Both Lines

"The new model Paiges at the prices that prevail today are bringing buyers in at a rate we have never before experienced since we have been in business here," says F. S. Paden, sales manager for Ralph B. Bliss, Paige and Jewett dealer, 219 West Colorado street. "The Paige brougham that we are showing is, we claim, one of the outstanding motor car values in the country today, and the manner in which buyers are taking delivery backs our opinion up strongly."

"Jewett sales are also keeping up wonderfully, our main trouble being to get deliveries to fill our requirements. A new addition to the Jewett line that we will show in a few days is the five-passenger de luxe brougham, that comes completely equipped with everything but the license plates. The latest Jewett models will have the Duco finish in addition to their other improvements.

Ralph B. Bliss is exerting every effort to keep pace with the demands that are being made on him for new cars in both lines, but especially in the Jewetts, which, he claims, are living up to every claim made for them by the makers.

PROSPECT BRIGHT FOR HUPP SALES

Standard of Years Still Guide Makers, Claim Glendale Agent

Prospects for an important volume of sales on Hupmobiles and Jordans are bright in the Glendale territory, according to H. V. White, manager for H. W. Swanson, local dealer, 111 West Harvard street. The new Hupp models, with their standard equipment of balloon tires on all models, are making an especial appeal to those who have known the Hupp through past experience, says Mr. White, and who realize the inbuilt merit of the car. The Duco finish that is another feature of the Hupp keeps the machine looking good through all the hard work and exposure to the weather that so often mar the appearance of an automobile, while the snubbers that are also standard on all new models make for riding ease and help to prolong the life of the car.

"While the new models are improved by the addition of a number of new features," says Mr. White, "the Hupp standards are still the guiding influence, as they have proved their worth through all the years the car has been on the market."

BAKE ENAMEL ON GLENDALE AUTOS

Carl & Henry Specialize on Expert Repair Work on All Makes of Cars

Baking the enamel on a car so that it equals any new job turned out from the factory is the specialty of Carl & Henry, 122 West Colorado street, who, in addition to this line, are building up a substantial business in their body and fender repairing departments, as well as in the repair of gas-line tanks, mufflers and bumpers.

"Every bit of work we turn out here," says John A. Carl, "is done with an iron-clad guarantee of satisfaction to the customer, and the results of this policy are seen in the fact that, since we started here on June 21, last, we have been swamped with work. Not only are we doing a great amount of work for outside customers, but the automobile dealers in Glendale send us a lot of business and they keep on sending it to us, which is a proof that we are turning out work that satisfies the most critical."

The firm's facilities for handling all kinds of repair work are first class and are based on years of experience that aid them to determine just what they need in fitting up their shop, while the workmen employed must rank as experts before they can hold their places in the Carl & Henry organization.

Pay Georgia Farmers For 1923 Cotton Crop

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 7.—Checks aggregating $1,232,634 are in the mails today directed to members of the Georgia Cotton Growers' Co-operative association, in final payment for the 1923 crop and winding up transactions for the fiscal year. The association handled 70,812 bales with gross sales of $10,306,942, or an average of 30.05 cents a pound. This assured a net return to planters of 28.05 cents a pound. The highest price brought by any pool was 35.90 cents and the lowest 15.50 cents.

It has been decided that "Old Glory" is too long for its width, and will be trimmed one inch for every eight inches in length.

Acquire the Safety Habit

A habit is in most instances very easy to acquire, but difficult to break; at least, that is generally considered true of a bad habit, and it should be true of a "safety" habit.

The principle of self-preservation, upon which the safety habit is based, was first used by the cave men of the Stone Age. It is common to all animals. You probably know how watchfully an elephant approaches a bridge, and tries it out before he will trust his weight upon it. Why? Because he believes in and has thoroughly acquired the habit of safety.

The safety instinct, or instinct of self-preservation, is apparently more dwarfed among humans than other animals, and of all humans it seems to be particularly lacking in Americans. It is not entirely foreign to our nature, but, through fear of criticism, or through the modern idea that "bravadoism" is synonymous with "heroism," we stifle it. We appear to be proud of the fact that we will "take a chance." Consequently, we have a great number of unnecessary accidents.

To those of us who drive automobiles it seems very easy to form careless habits. We have had so many close shaves, and have been so often lucky that we get into the attitude of mind which leads to taking unnecessary chances, and we think that because we have got through in the past our "Angel of Good Luck" will stay with us.

It is an old saying that "every road has a turning." In this connection it seems that if you continue, in the spirit of bravado, to take a chance, sooner or later you will come to the turn of the road, and add one more to the already distressing total of unnecessary accidents.

Start in now to recognize this instinct of self-preservation! Begin to follow safe practices! Form habits of care! Be particular about the little things, and you will go through year after year with a clear no-accident record, and will be doing your bit toward reducing the great number of automobile accidents.

Durability the Chief Reason for Hupmobile Success

No car—whatever its price—stands higher than Hupmobile today in the esteem of the American people. The chief reason, undoubtedly, is the way the Hupmobile stands up through years of hard service.

Corporations which supply their salesmen with cars report that no car has ever given them such low cost per mile as has Hupmobile—investment, maintenance and operation all being counted in to the penny.

The Parts Display shows you why the Hupmobile stands up—and contrasts the kind of construction that would cheapen its quality. Come in and see it.

Brake and clutch pedals are good examples of the safety built into the Hupmobile. They are drop-forged, double heat-treated steel, as are also the hand-brake and gear-shift levers, brake-rod clevises and toggles—much stronger and safer than the less costly low carbon steel or malleable castings which are often used at these points in many cars.

CHANCES TO BUY GOOD USED CARS

New Models Lure Purchasers To Sacrifice Machines At Low Prices

Since the introduction of the new Chrysler Six the demand for the car in every model has assumed proportions that have marked it as one of the biggest sellers in the automobile world today, according to Lyman P. Clark, of the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, Chrysler and Maxwell dealers.

"This has brought about a situation that is placing a vast number of used cars on the market," says Mr. Clark, "for prospective buyers are eager to trade in their present cars on the Chrysler and the same statement applies to the present Maxwell models.

"The opportunity this offers for a person to pick up a good used car at a price away below present values is astounding, especially when these used cars have been overhauled and reconditioned and are placed on sale at the price we paid for them, plus the cost of overhaul. Every one of these cars has the ability to render excellent service to the owner, and the fact that it has every worn part replaced before it is offered for re-sale is a guarantee of its quality and its excellence.

Many people shun the idea of buying a used car, but they ought to reflect that every car they see on the streets today is a used car.

BATTERY VALUES ARE EMPHASIZED

Cizek Auto Electric Co. Meets Every Price Rivalry, Says Executive

Asserting that any outside competition in the matter of prices on batteries can be successfully met in Glendale, the Cizek Auto Electric company, 300 South Brand boulevard, is stressing the values that battery buyers receive when they adopt the Willard brand either for their automobiles or for their radio.

"We are in a position to meet prices on batteries, no matter whether they are quoted by mail order houses or by out-of-town firms advertising in newspapers that circulate here," declares Henry M. Kuhn, the manager, "and when buyers consider the quality that they receive in Willard batteries it should be the part of wisdom to purchase their batteries from a local firm, one that stands back of every sale made and that guarantees satisfaction to its customers.

"The demand for Willard batteries for radio sets is growing steadily," adds Mr. Kuhn, who has devoted special attention to fostering this branch of the company's business, "for the efficiency of the Willard products in this line has been amply demonstrated by some of the largest radio operating concerns in the country, and their example is one that others might well follow."

Script May Be Banned By Britain's Schools

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The question whether children shall, or shall not, be taught to write "script" is again agitating the scholastic world of Britain.

The Folkestone Education Committee has just registered an emphatic protest against "script." It was stated that children were unable to sign their names under this system, and that the savings banks refused to accept a signature in "script" when children wished to withdraw their money.

It was also pointed out that a signature on a legal document in "script" was not accepted unless witnessed. Several members argued that "script" took away the character of a person's handwriting.

PLAN SERIES OF DANCE PROGRAMS

Community Players to Hold Fortnightly Events at Women's Clubhouse

EAGLE ROCK, August 7.—Good news for the young folks of this community is contained in the announcement by the Community Players of their plan to institute a series of dances in conjunction with their regular fortnightly play-reading program at the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse on Colorado boulevard. These affairs carried on throughout the summer will, it is felt, stir up interest among the younger people and bring them in closer touch with the Players' activities. There are many of the older crowd who take as much enjoyment in the dancing as the younger members.

Invite Residents
Residents of Eagle Rock who are not members of the Community Players will be invited to attend the play-reading programs and fortnightly dances, at which a silver offering will be taken, as there is no charge of admission for these programs at the present time. The question of allowing the meetings to remain open to the public in the future, or closing them to the membership of the players alone, is being considered by the executive body of the organization. It is probable that those who join within the next few weeks will be allowed to attend future meetings without paying an admission fee which may be charged all non-members after the summer season is over. This has not yet been officially decided.

Form Association
A large and influential group of citizens living north of Colorado boulevard have organized the North Slope association of Eagle Rock. The first meeting was enthusiastically attended and plans were laid for the organization of a permanent association. The following officers were unanimously elected: Arthur E. Bennett, president; J. C. Clausen, vice president; Mrs. John M. Gardner, secretary, and J. T. Bailey, treasurer. The personnel of the organization insures its strength and the progressiveness under which it will function. Some very interesting announcements are promised by Mr. Bennett at a later date, concerning the functioning and plan of this organization.

BUILD 150 MILES OF VALLEY ROADS

Contractors to Leave Strip At Sides to Install Sewers and Pipes

VAN NUYS, August 7.—Approximately 150 miles of highways are under construction in the San Fernando valley, according to a report issued by J. W. Cooke, district engineer of the city of Los Angeles. It is proposed to build these roads of concrete and asphalt on a basis of a 20-foot strip in the center, leaving space on the sides for sewers and pipes as the need for these improvements is indicated. This obviates the necessity of tearing up the pavement for the installation of water, gas and electric conduits in the future.

Approve Assessment
It has developed by interviewing land owners throughout the valley that the district assessment plan is generally approved and the need for the new roads is admitted on all sides.

In this manner all land owners will be treated alike as the benefits accrue to the entire valley. Under this plan 10-year bonds will be issued to cover the cost of the work.

An important feature of the big undertaking is that where the north and south roads encounter the Southern Pacific lines under grade crossings are to be provided for at regular intervals, thus doing away with a big element of danger.

Traffic Arteries
The main arteries from the north will give passage from the Pasadena-San Fernando state highway to the Mulholland drive, thence to the beaches.

The important towns of the valley empire are Glendale, Burbank, Van Nuys, San Fernando, Lancaster, Owensmouth, Chatsworth, Pacoima, Zelzah, Reseda, Girard, Universal City and Roscoe, and all will be greatly benefited from the new system of highways by the manner in which they will be linked together.

VOTES TO DECIDE VERDUGO QUEEN

Winner of Moon Festival's Contest to Be Crowned At Opening Ball

TUJUNGA, Aug. 7.—What girl will be "Queen of the Verdugos" at the Moon Festival of the Tujuungas? That question will interest feminine minds during the next three weeks. The popularity contest to decide who will win a beautiful diamond ring and bear the title of queen for the next year opens today, August 7, at noon, and closes Labor day at 6 p. m. At 7 o'clock the winner will be announced and immediately following will be the coronation ball, at which the winning lady will be crowned by some prominent man and lead the grand march in the open-air pavilion in the Garden of the Moon park.

Polling Stations
Polling places have been established at the Montrose drug store, La Crescenta drug store, Tujunga drug store, Rice's bungalow cafe, Sunland. The first candidates to register will receive 1000 votes. This offer is good for one week, until Wednesday night, August 13. In connection with the contest there will be a $150 radio set given the holder of the lucky vote coupon. The radio set will be on display at the different voting places during the contest. A diamond ring has already been selected by the American Legion committee in charge of the festival, which will run four days, August 29 to September 1, Labor day. Every vote cast for a candidate entitles the voter to one chance on the radio set.

At present the dealers depend on the commercial banks, but many financiers believe that if some of the Ford surplus were invested in a finance or acceptance corporation, organized along

VALLEY GIRL TO REIGN AS QUEEN

Contest Planned to Decide Exposition's Ruler at Burbank, Sept. 9-13

BURBANK, August 7.—To some young woman over sixteen years of age, and living in the San Fernando valley, will come the honor of reigning as "Queen" of the Industrial exposition to be held there September 9 to 13. The contest will be by vote and is being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with a local newspaper, announces J. W. Charleville, manager of the chamber.

The Burbank Municipal band will furnish the music for the week, appearing each night in a concert with additional musical numbers thrown in for good measure.

Secretaries To Meet
One of the features of the closing day of the exposition will be the monthly meeting of the southern California C. of C. Secretaries association, and the day will be known as secretaries' day. The exposition will be operated by home people, Mr. Charleville states, and all the concessions will be sold to residents and organizations of the valley. The American Legion has already been given the ice cream and lunch concessions.

R. O. Walton and family have returned from a month's sojourn at Bakerfield. F. E. Assenheimer of Woodville, Ohio, a teacher in the Lutheran college there, who has been spending some time at the New-comer home on Alameda avenue, has left for a week's visit to the Yosemite park.

somewhat similar lines as those of the General Acceptance Corporation of General Motors Corporation, it would earn a high rate of interest and at the same time would afford the company valuable sales aid. Such a proposition, if planned, has not as yet passed the embryonic stage, however.

The demand for new models has shown a decided improvement recently, but manufacturers and dealers are wondering whether the frequent changes in models is not productive of disastrous after effects. Frequent body changes, dealers declare, mean losses to those who are carrying stocks of old models and serve to create bad feeling among buyers. They assert that a prospect who purchases a 1924 model in May and has a new model made by the same company come out in July is likely to be disgruntled since the introduction of the new model reduces the second-hand, or trade-in value of his car.

Dealers who received heavy stocks of new cars this spring have made desperate efforts to clear them and have been extremely liberal in taking used cars at high valuation in part payment. In consequence, it is estimated that there are now over 600,000 used cars unsold in dealers' hands. This constitutes a heavy burden on the industry as a whole.

LEE BALLOONS ABSORB ALL THE BUMPS

The Whole Truth About Balloon Tires

We believe that the American motorist, perplexed by a multitude of conflicting claims, is entitled to a knowledge of the following facts about balloon tires

There are two, and only two, kinds of balloon tires—one designed for the new, small diameter wheels, the other for your present rims.

Structurally, these two tires are identical. Both have greater air space and fewer cord-fabric plies than ordinary casings. Both are specifically designed for low air pressure.

In all cases, the small-wheel balloons are unquestionably the best. On large cars, taking regular 5" tires they alone can give perfect satisfaction.

On medium and small sized cars, where a wheel change is not desired, balloons fitted to standard size wheels meet every need, with a small sacrifice in speed.

The LEE Company makes both kinds of balloons. We have them in stock now to fit every make of car. We also have a full line of the LEE Service Wheels, if you want balloons to fit the small diameter wheels. In short, we can make the complete change-over for you at a minimum cost.

Write for free LEE booklet giving the whole story of balloons. Or stop in and see how easy it will be to equip your car with them.

A Word From Walter P. Chrysler

The same engineering genius which with the Chrysler has literally revolutionized practice and performance in the six-cylinder field, has now made the good Maxwell equally outstanding among four-cylinder cars.

My meaning is precisely this: That no other four-cylinder car—at anything like the Maxwell price—is giving the combination of performance, ease of riding and driving, economy, long life, and practical elimination of vibration, that the good Maxwell gives to its owners.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

S. P.—We had an article recently called "Down by Jumps." In it I spoke of the stopping places where the diet which formerly one reduced on, goes on a strike and reduces no longer. It is best in these cases to do as you did when you began your reducing diet—to go on a liquid diet, not totaling over 500 to 600 C's a day, for one day in the week. In that way you lose one-half to one pound on that day.

Mrs. C.—A glass of unskimmed sour milk would contain the same number of calories as whole milk. That would be 160 C. to eight ounces of milk. You need not count soda or baking powder. They have no caloric value because their chemical reaction generates mostly gas and water. Bran has food value. Don't you know we fatten pigs on bran? One-half cup of ordinary fine bran, is about 100 C., and one-half cup of the ordinary cereal bran would be probably less than 50 C.

For flabby, fat arms, hold your hands at your sides loosely and then twist them in and out as far as you can. Do this 25 times, four times a day. I had a report from one of our followers who said that her arm measurements went down nearly two inches in six weeks from this four-times-a-day-25-movement practice. For those of you who need it I think it would have the same effect on fat ankles and legs. Sit as far back in the chair as possible and turn the feet in and out as much as possible.

You have to work out your maintenance diet by watching your weight. Thanks very much, Mrs. C., for the beautiful pressed flowers.

Mrs. P.—Shingles (herpes zoster) is an acute eruption of the skin, along certain nerves, usually on one side only. It is characterized by little vesicles seated on the top of red bases. These little vesicles (blebs or blisters) are first filled with a clear serum which may afterward become cloudy. There may be only a few vesicles or a large number of them and their size varies. The eruption is usually at its height in a week. The vesicles dry up, forming a crust and these fall off leaving red marks. The disease lasts from ten days to three or four weeks. In most cases, the patient experi-

CHAPTER XXI

Cool and comfortable, they had later shared their supper in the garden; now a hot moon was sailing across the metallic dark blue of the relentlessly clear heavens, and great blotches of lacy shadow fell upon the grass and the uneven bricks of the walk. The face of the little house looked charming in the uneven light; its primitive lines and steep roof suggested the picturesque past to Hilary's dreamy eyes. She fancied hoop-skirts moving in and out of that plain, fan-lighted door, or earlier still, the empire frocks of the Revolutionary days, when Hessians cut with their spurs the old benches of the Quaker Meeting-House, and stabled their horses impudently in the Carolan gardens. What agitated, ringletted little-face had peered from that doorway: what handboxes, and strapped portmanteaux what shawl bonnets and caped cloaks had made hurried departures through their little arched gate? "Hilary!" said Dora, suddenly. Hilary roused from a dream. Dora was at her knee, on a low stool; she had been fiddling idly, but now she laid the Amati upon the table where their rice and cherries had been lately finished, and turned in her seat, her clasped hands on Hilary's knees. Hilary, in the moonshine, could see the glitter of her earnest eyes. "Hilary!" said Dora, "I can't stand it. I have to talk to you!" "My darling..." Hilary murmured, at a loss.

"I—Hilary, I must know," Dora said. "Are you—are you—is Craig in love with you, Hilary?" The question on Hilary's face totally unprepared; it came with the violence of a shock. Was he in love with her? She did not know. She had been content to wait, all through this marvellous springtime. She knew he liked her, depended upon her, she felt sure that some day he was going to ask her to be his wife. But placed as she was, guardian of herself and Dora, she could know no more. He had never touched her, never claimed from her the kiss which she sometimes wistfully thought. No man had ever kissed her.

"I think he is!" said Dora, calmly, and waited.

"And if he is?" Hilary countered, stroking Dora's soft little hand that lay in her own.

"If he is," Dora answered in a hard voice, "I am going away."

"Going away?" Hilary echoed, painfully awakened from her dream.

Uncle Wiggily

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FLYPAPER

Jackie Bow Wow, the little puppy dog boy, asked his mother, one day, if he might go over to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. "Why do you want to go?" asked Mrs. Bow Wow.

"Uncle Wiggily might take me adventuring with him as he sometimes takes Baby Buntly," barked Jackie.

"Very well, you may go," answered his mother. "But you must mind Uncle Wiggily, and do just as he says, Jackie."

"I will," promised the little puppy chap. Over the fields and through the woods he scampered until he reached Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow. "Please take me adventuring," he begged. "In a little while I will, Jackie," said Mr. Longears. "But first I want you to do something for me."

"I'll do whatever you ask me," barked Jackie eagerly.

Then go to the big pine tree that grows beside my back door," said Uncle Wiggily, "and bring me in some of the sticky gum from it. I want to put some sticky pine tree gum on paper and catch the bad flies and mosquitoes that bite my pink nose."

Jackie, wagging his tail, ran to gather some of the pine tree gum. He was taking some off on a leaf, so he wouldn't get his paws sticky, when Billie Wagtail, the goat boy, came along and bled:

"Come on and play ball!"

Now if there was one thing that Jackie liked more than another it was to play ball with Billie, the goat.

So, forgetting all about his promise to his mother, and forgetting about Uncle Wiggily and the pine gum, Jackie ran off with Billie to play ball. The animal boys were soon having fine fun, Billie tossed the ball up in the air and Jackie caught it in his mouth. Then Jackie threw it and Billie caught it on the end of one of his sharp horns. Then, all of a sudden, Jackie remembered about Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, I must run back!" barked the doggie boy to Billie. "I can't play ball any more!"

"Why not?" bleated Billie.

Jackie didn't stop to answer. Back to the pine tree he ran as fast as his little legs would take him. Just as he came in sight of the hollow stump bungalow, Jackie saw Uncle Wiggily come to the back steps looking for him and calling:

"Jackie! Jackie! Where are you? Where is the gum to make the fly paper?"

Before Jackie could answer, all of a sudden, out of the bushes near the bungalow back door, leaped the Fox.

"Ah, ha! Now I am going to get you!" howled the Fox to the bunny.

"No, you aren't!" barked Jackie.

"Who will stop me?" sneered the Fox.

"I will!" barked Jackie. With that the brave doggie boy took up the big burdock leaf, covered with sticky pine tree gum, and he clapped the leaf, gum and all over the eyes, nose and mouth of the Fox, and there it stuck.

"Gurr! Gurr! Gurr!" growled the Fox as he pawed at the sticky leaf. But he couldn't paw it off his eyes in time to get the rabbit, who jumped back into his bungalow, taking Jackie with him, and he locked the door.

Drs. Biddle and Noyes Take North Brand Suite for Professional Work

Dr. Isabel Biddle, one of Glendale's leading osteopathic physicians, has removed to 103-A North Brand boulevard, suite 7 and 8, where she will have more spacious quarters, also better lighting facilities, which will enable her to give the best there is in her profession.

Recently Dr. Mary E. Noyes, a former associate of W. Banks Meacham of Ottari Sanitarium, Asheville, North Carolina, has become associated with Dr. Biddle, and through former experiences, Drs. Biddle and Noyes have established an enviable reputation in their respective professions, and it is through their ability to recognize diseased conditions in their incipency and correctly diagnose each case that they have attained to such great degree of success.

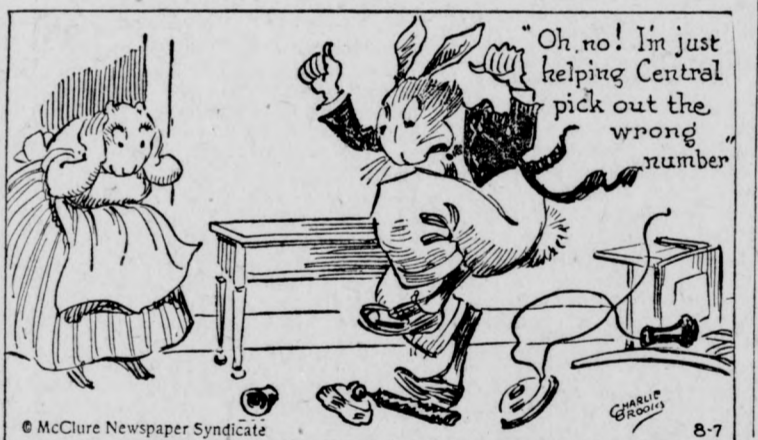

Will Specialize

Osteopathy, like many other remedial agents, is receiving its portion of patronage, and Drs. Biddle and Noyes are successfully using this method of treatment in the correction and adjustment of the human anatomy.

Dr. Biddle will continue her specialty of women's and children's diseases and dietetics, also the use of the quartz and light therapy which she has found to be a very efficient means of restoring health, while Dr. Noyes will do a general practice.

A valuable violin, which was smashed into eighty-six pieces in an accident, was successfully put together again.

VERNON LOSES BY YOUNG FRENCH ERRORS IN NINTH BOY GOOD FIGHTER

Oaks Get Four Runs In Last Frame, Trim Tigers 7-4; Angels Beat Seals

By BEN M'GUIRE For Southland News Service. LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—After a real game by the Oakland and Vernon teams here yesterday afternoon with the score standing 4 to 3 in favor of the Tigers at the end of the eighth inning, the Acorns came to bat in the ninth and scored four runs, which stopped the exodus of fans and gave victory to the great Walter Mails.

Baker in the ninth got a walk off Lefty Thomas. Cather, batting for Mails, singled, and had Boehler run for him. The pitcher got excited and fumbled Adams' sacrifice which filled the bases. Then Brubaker touched Thomas for another single which scored a pair. And again the portside pitcher erred in throwing wide of third trying to stop Brubaker, while Adams scored. A sacrifice by Guisto and the four runs were accounted for.

Prior to that the Oaks scored two in the second and one in the sixth while the Tigers did their stuff in the opener and the eighth, the game riding along two innings looking like a 3-3 tie. Petie Schneider patted the pellet over the left field fence for the only homer of the day.

Seattle Indians scalped Sacramento, 15 to 6, scoring a half dozen in the last of the eighth.

Another game was played at Portland where four errors cost the Ducks a win over Salt Lake when the Mormons rushed in four runs, leaving the tab 7 to 4.

Los Angeles trimmed the league leaders 7 to 4 yesterday which puts Seattle within a half game of the topmost.

EARL SANDE HURT, SPILLED IN RACE World's Most Famous Jockey May Never Ride Again; Thigh Fractured

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 7.—Earl Sande, world's most famous jockey, will never ride again, it was said today by physicians at the Saratoga Springs hospital, where Sande was taken after the spill in the first race yesterday afternoon when three horses ran over him.

"Sande's life is not in danger," said Dr. C. Moriarty. "He suffered a multiple fracture of the thigh and a possible fracture of a left hip."

Even if the jockey does not lose a leg, racing men today said the breaking of training during his period of recovery will make him too heavy to ride.

BASEBALL QUESTION BOX

If you have some question to ask about baseball... If you want a reply enclosed, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Otherwise, the question will be answered in this column.

Address: John R. Foster, Special Baseball Correspondent of the Evening News, 811 World Building, New York.

Copyright, 1924, by Evening News. QUESTION—If the umpire makes a decision that does not satisfy one of the teams can it walk off the field without forfeiting the game and have the full right to bring the case before the proper officials?

ANSWER—Any team that walks off the field has no right left.

QUESTION—Can the umpire change a snap decision on the bases, foul ball, balls and strikes. A says yes, B says only when the matter can be cited in the rule book. Which is right?

ANSWER—The rules do not permit the umpire to change his decision. However, if the umpire is satisfied that he is wrong on the play he can rectify his error.

QUESTION—Runner is on first base. Batter hits the ball to the pitcher. The latter throws to first base and the batter was out. The first baseman threw the ball to second to set the runner who was going from first to second. Second baseman simply touched the bag as the runner slid in. What we want to know is whether that was a double play or did the runner have to be tagged to be put out?

ANSWER—It was not a double play. The runner was out because there was no longer a force play, so it became necessary that the runner from first to second be touched by the ball. Touching the base was not enough.

PIRATES NEARING LEAGUE LEADERS

Pittsburgh Starts Drive to Overtake New Yorkers As Season Wanes

By JOHN R. FOSTER Special Correspondence of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The Pittsburgh Pirates are beginning to make the drive that has been expected of them ever since last April. They have found the east much to their liking on this trip, taking a Boston series and three games of a New York series and starting in hungrily against Brooklyn.

The Pirates must go further, however, before they become positively dangerous. Until they are actually within a series of the Yankees, the latter will not consider them a menace. That is where the New York team, by running out ahead of the league in the early season months, has fortified itself against possible dreary days to come.

If, by some chance, Pittsburgh should consider to make a bold demonstration and move so close to New York that they could see a pennant in their prediction or hunch of Rabbit Maranville would come true.

Fate Takes Hand. One night Maranville was talking about the Pittsburgh team of the present and the Boston of 1914.

"Before I get through with baseball," said the Rabbit, "I'm going to have another just such experience as I had with Boston when we started from nowhere and ended at the top of the league. It's in the cards. I don't know why I think so, but I do, and I'm on my way."

If Maranville's hunch is coming true, it will have to come pretty soon, because he is getting on in baseball experience. Maybe it will come this year.

Maranville, though new to second base, has been playing it for the Pirates as if he had been there all his life and declares it's a cinch compared with shortstop.

Plays Good Game. The Rabbit has accepted eight chances in a game eleven times, nine in a game ten times and twelve chances twice—and he still has two months to go. That's spreading the second base eagle for anybody.

Pittsburgh's presumably star curve pitcher, Morrison, is somewhere down near the bottom of the league. If he can find his sea legs, the Pirates may yet get in line and give the Giants a struggle.

There is no question that the Pirates have a nifty hurler in Yde. Kramer is not quite what he was and improvement of Morrison would help a lot right now. That Pittsburgh will beat Chicago out in the fight is becoming apparent. The Cubs are early feeders when they get their first appetizer filled they don't come back for any more.

NEWSPAPER WORK LURES MACDONALD

Son of Britain's Premier to Develop Own Ideas in Reporter's Job

LONDON, Aug. 7.—Malcolm MacDonald, second son of the British prime minister, wants to become a newspaper reporter as a means of getting rid of some of the ideas he has acquired during his course at Oxford university.

He regards newspaper work as an excellent means of developing ideas of his own.

"You see," he said in an interview, "people like me come down from Oxford full of ideas, but they are other people's ideas. They are second-hand. I want some experiences to confirm them or else get a new set of my own."

Follows Father. In expressing a desire for newspaper work, young MacDonald is following in the footsteps of his illustrious father, who began his career in London as a "newsboud" later graduating into more remunerative, if less exciting, journalistic fields.

Before embarking on a newspaper career, however, young MacDonald is going to make a tour of the world as a member of a debating team sent out by Oxford. The team will debate against representatives of leading universities in Canada, the United States and other countries.

'Chick' Hafey Goes To St. Louis Squad

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—The purchase of "Chick" Hafey, outfielder of the Houston club of the Texas league, for "the largest price ever paid for any player by the local National league club," was announced here today by Sam Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Breadon also announced that Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, now is en route to the Pacific coast to engage in scouting duty and arrange the team's 1925 training quarters.

Some good games have been witnessed at the Good-Fiston Park since it was taken over by Jasper, but none of them will have any edge on Sunday's battle.

Grid Star Rides Bike To Cure Injured Knee

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 7.—George Morton, gridiron star, of the University of Georgia, has attracted wide interest among football coaches by his unique method of "healing" an injured knee.

Morton does it with a bicycle. Just as his squad was looking forward to him as the outstanding star of next year, George was thrown from a horse here and suffered an injured knee. Physicians expressed doubt if he would recover sufficiently to allow him to play football this fall.

So George bought himself a bicycle and has been "exercising" with it for several weeks. The results, he said, are remarkable. The injured knee is healing fast, and there is little doubt now as to his ability to play on the present systems of irrigation.

English Town Famous For Aid of Lovelorn

STONEHOUSE, England, Aug. 7.—Municipal authorities of this village, a small place near Plymouth, are becoming world-famous as the finders of life partners for lonely bachelors and sad spinsters.

Colin E. Reep, the board's chief matchmaker, has a list of more than 700 women from all parts of the two continents who have applied to him for husbands, and forty men, of all stations in life, who have applied to him for wives.

Nearly every man who writes for a wife wants a "clean and respectable woman of between 20 and 30 years of age," while many of the women who apply confess to a weakness for widowers.

Large automobile trucks are bared from Japan by a police regulation prohibiting the length of any vehicle, other than government owned, from exceeding 18 1/2 feet.

NEW YORK CLOSING
By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Railroad stocks showed their ability to stage a moderate comeback in the stock market today after the industrial group had been churned around aimlessly for the greater part of the session and buying power appeared to have vanished. The movement in the rails was confined to a small number of high priced stocks, generally in the coal carrier groups. Pere Marquette was the only rail showing activity, being due to reports that the Van Sweringen, before their departure for Cleveland today had made further progress in the proposed consolidation of that road with the Nickel Plate. On a comparatively small volume of sales, Pere Marquette rose more than 3 points to a new high for the year at 65 1/2; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western made a gain of 4 1/2 points and sold at a new high at 137; New Jersey Central gained 7 points at 237, also a new high; Norfolk & Western at 126 was up more than 2 points.

TELLS OF REASONS FOR RATE RAISE

Edison Company's District Manager in Statement On Recent Decision

Dividing excess operating expenses of this year fifty-fifty as between all consumers of the company, excepting agricultural consumers, and the Southern California Edison company is the high point in the decision of the State Railroad commission as shown in the full text of the order which was received by District Manager D. H. Rowan of the company this morning.

The commission's decision grants to the company a ten per cent increase on all rate schedules excepting agricultural schedules P4 and P11 for a limited period of eight months beginning September 1.

"The evidence in this and in other proceedings coming before the commission during the spring and summer of this year," states the commission, "indicates that the drought conditions of 1924 are so serious that their repetition is to be expected only at rare intervals. The flow of the streams in the Sierra Nevadas from which this company derives the bulk of its water power appears to be far below such flow during and after the dry years that have occurred since reliable records have been kept. These conditions have, of necessity, resulted in greatly increased operating expenses, and have required a curtailment in the use of power by applicant's consumers."

"Different Position" "It must be borne in mind that the growth of the territory is dependent upon the continuing ability of this agent of the public to meet the demands for power. This condition places applicant (the company) in a somewhat different position than other lines of industry. Applicant must not, even under the conditions such as this year presents, be forced into a financial position such as may cause serious curtailment in its essential development, which in turn would cause loss to the public because of inadequate power supply in the future."

"A large community depends upon this company for the supply of electricity essential to its prosperity, and it is highly important that the company continue its development work and keep the supply of power at least abreast of the demand."

The commission's decision recites that using the estimate of earnings for this year as supplied by the group of cities, the company's net earnings this year will fall $3,703,156 below 7 1/2 per cent return upon the rate base, and that subtracting the amount accumulated from contingency reserves in previous years, the earnings still will be $2,121,965 short.

Public Shares Burden "It would seem fair that the company and the rate payers share the burden imposed by this unusual condition," says the commission. "And, on this basis the commission's order provides for increased rates sufficient to give the company additional revenue of $1,100,000."

Regarding the agricultural consumers the commission says, "For several seasons farmers in California and elsewhere have encountered many difficulties. Price levels have been low. The farmer has sold his produce at low prices compared with the prices he has paid for the articles he has been compelled to buy. Few farmers operated at a profit last year, and this year their difficulties seem to have increased. During the early part of the year the market for California products outside the state was seriously interfered with. The extremely dry weather now prevailing has further imposed unusually heavy and additional burdens."

Increase in Bills "As pointed out by Mr. Deuell in his argument, the farmers' power bill, already increased by the necessity of unusual pumping to supplement deficient rainfall, also has been further increased by receding underground water levels necessitating the use of more power to lift the same amount of water."

"But one-sixth of the company's gross revenue is derived from the sale of power for irrigation pumping and the elimination of the agricultural schedules from those to which the emergency increase is to be applied, will, therefore, not result in the addition of any material burden to other classes of consumers. In view of the conditions in the agricultural industry already discussed, it appears entirely reasonable that, during the present emergency, the agricultural consumers should be exempted from any increase in rates."

Concretely put, he favors the next Legislature passing a law which will place motor vehicle law enforcement in the hands of county chiefs except in those cities which maintain traffic departments separate and distinct from the police departments. That would solve many of the difficulties now prevalent, and centralize the work and place it in the hands of competent officers removed as far as possible from petty local politics and policies. More will be said on this subject.

COMMENT CLUB IS FORMED FOR MANCHESTER

That's All Editorial Conclusions Too Much Free Thinking Correcting Conditions Petty Local Politics By Gil A. Cowan

From out of the yellow reports of the blackest crime's trial at Chicago where two boys are facing the hangman's noose there is made possible some editorial conclusions which are worth while.

The Los Angeles Times says today: "They may be victims, yes, of their own philosophy. But that admitted, where does the responsibility lie? Is it not with those spreaders of this same mad philosophy of life, which appeals to the studious youth so woefully? Or are these disciples of immorality themselves irresponsible because they, too, suffer from some super-complexes over which they have no control?"

The Santa Barbara News editor opines: "Of course, it is the theory of crime which is playing a part in the Franks trial is accepted, all our prison systems as well as our entire system of jurisprudence is hopelessly wrong. There can be no degrees in crime. . . . It must be confessed that our methods in the cure of crime have not been successful. Throughout the length and breadth of the land the prisons are growing year by year."

The Times suggests the boys should have been playing baseball when they were experimenting in laboratories. "Theirs was the moral rot that menaces the youth of the nation."

In the latter conclusion no one can help but agree. The moral rot has been disseminated by the newspapers, the educators and the films, particularly the latter. And only public opinion will stop it from the cancerous course it now pursues.

There is no need of prudery, but it is a fact our higher instincts of learning have turned out free-thinkers, psycho-analysts and what not who have in turn used the newspapers and the films and the schools to spread the "moral rot" which fathers and grandfathers fail to fathom to this day.

Mere police reporting of crime is not to be censured. But when the high powered, college trained (for no ordinary minded people would or could do the work) begin to gush forth on technical subjects through the newspapers, magazines, schools and clubs it is high time to call a halt for the public good.

This writer has noticed a tendency on the part of all those concerned to get away from constructive things in life and delve into the destructive. It used to be the price of wheat and corn and hogs was page one material for the Chicago Daily News, as we recollect one of the good old journals; the pictures used to depict battles, love stories and slapstick comedy, whereas now their titles read something like this: "Sinning Women," "Changing Husband" and so on through a nauseating list; and the colleges and universities are almost equally as careless about the subjects discussed while clubwomen sit enthralled by some one who dares thrill them with "frank" discussions, whereas twenty years ago they enjoyed papers on foreign countries, courses in literary appreciation and other innocuous topics free of the "moral rot."

Yet the person who dares get up in meeting now and declare himself or herself against Freudian palaver is called ignorant and becomes an intellectual outcast. So much for that.

"Safety Week" should be the signal for the inauguration of a campaign for the correction of motoring conditions which lead to accidents. This writer held a long talk yesterday with one of the southland's foremost authorities on the subject of regulations and from day to day we will impart his views.

First of all, it is the desire of this man to see the enforcement of the state vehicle laws placed under central control, rather than made a matter of local revenue production. It is admitted to be an incontrovertible fact—namely the communities where this is practiced, statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

Concretely put, he favors the next Legislature passing a law which will place motor vehicle law enforcement in the hands of county chiefs except in those cities which maintain traffic departments separate and distinct from the police departments. That would solve many of the difficulties now prevalent, and centralize the work and place it in the hands of competent officers removed as far as possible from petty local politics and policies. More will be said on this subject.

A number of citizens of Glendale met on Friday night, August 1, at the home of C. F. Parker, 221 North Central avenue, Glendale, for the purpose of furthering the interests of Otis B. Manchester as a candidate for county supervisor from the fifth district, which includes Glendale. After some discussion Charles A. Rudel offered the following resolution:

"Whereas, Otis B. Manchester has been an honest, faithful and efficient county employe for more than twenty years, and whereas, by reason of his long connection with the county treasurer's office he has a complete knowledge of the finances of Los Angeles county, and

"Whereas, he has proved himself to be a man imbued with the highest ideals of service to the public, and

"Whereas, he is by character, ability and training admirably adapted to fill the position of county supervisor to the best interests of the residents of the fifth district,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that we form a permanent organization to be known as 'Manchester for Supervisor Club of Glendale and Casa Verdugo.'"

This resolution was unanimously adopted and a permanent organization effected by the election of B. R. Creer, president of the club; W. J. Ruth as secretary, and Charles H. Toll as treasurer.

The following residents of Glendale were elected chairmen of committees to work in their respective districts: C. F. Parker, 221 No. Central avenue; J. H. Lockwood, 523 No. Orange street; J. W. Lawson, 225 No. Brand boulevard; A. J. Maxwell, 400 W. Stocker street.

A. Houston Jones, 376 W. Lexington avenue; Chas. A. Rudel, 315 W. Vine street; Geo. H. Thomas, 442 W. Millford street; W. F. Smith, Buena Vista street, Montrose.

GET PERMITS TO KEEP MULE TEAMS

Peter L. Ferry, E. L. Fleming Secure 90-Day Extension For Their Stock

The Glendale City Council this morning granted Peter L. Ferry a ninety-day permit to keep 120 mules in his grading camp at 614 East Acacia avenue and granted Edward L. Fleming a ninety-day permit to keep thirty mules at his temporary grading camp at the corner of Sinclair avenue and Sycamore Canyon road.

This action was necessary under the terms of the new ordinance, No. 967, which regulates the keeping of horses and mules within the Glendale city limits. Ray L. Morrow, city attorney, stated that only one more permit could be granted to Mr. Ferry or other road contractors who have already received one extension of time under the ordinance, and that they will then have to remove their grading camps to the industrial zone.

The continued hearing on the opening and widening of Chestnut street was laid over until August 21, on motion made by Councilman Asa Hall and seconded by Councilman C. E. Kimlin, the reason assigned being that then Councilman S. S. Gihlyu, by then Davis, now away on their vacations, will have returned to their duties.

The proceedings for the improvement of Canada boulevard from Glorietta avenue north were held over for two weeks, following a protest filed by property owners of the district. All protests were denied and resolution adopted ordering in the work on Forest avenue, Concord street and other streets concerned in these improvements.

Bids were read for the improvement of Elm avenue, Spazier avenue, Bonnie Brae street, Ard street, California avenue and Kenilworth avenue. Petition was granted to lay water pipe along Verdugo road. Several maps were approved and certain commercial districts defined.

HOPE TO EXPAND SALE OF SILVER

Mining Men See Prosperity Ahead as Salt Lake Convention Opens

By J. C. ROYLE Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924. NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—No advocacy of a return of bi-metalism is contemplated by the silver producers of North and South America, who met in Salt Lake City Wednesday to discuss means of stabilizing their industry. What they hope to accomplish is an expansion of the sale and use of silver. It is probable that a permanent organization of producers will be formed at the meeting which grew out of a conference at Reno last September.

The committee of fifteen appointed at Reno to investigate the foreign and domestic trade will report through J. C. Kelly, president of the Anaconda Silver Mining company. The United States bureau of mines will make public the results of its experiments in developing a non-tarnishable silver alloy which it is hoped will encourage the wider use of the white metal in the arts, sciences and manufacture. Also a representative of the department of commerce will furnish information as to currency conditions in Europe and the Orient.

An increased demand for silver for coinage is anticipated in the near future. Poland recently placed such an order which the leading producers pro-rated among themselves. Silver manufacturers and international bankers will add their council to the deliberations at Salt Lake City, while experts in constitutional law will present opinions as to whether a silver export association would be possible under the provisions of the Webb-Pomerene law.

The position of the silver producers has improved directly with those of the copper producers since the two are identical in many instances. Production of copper in the Utah mines has been heavily increased recently and may surpass recent records before the year is over. Similar reports come from other sections of the West and if the negotiations at the London allied conference result in putting the Dawes plan into operation, domestic producers expect a prolonged period of prosperity for the copper industry, which is largely dependent on foreign demand. There is no question of the foreign need of copper and if the Central European nations can be put on a basis where they can pay for what they need and want to buy, American mine owners are assured of large and continuing sales.

The betterment of the statistical position of copper and silver to lead and zinc. The slump in automobile production has shown signs of passing and the radio manufacturers have been consistent consumers of the non-ferrous metals. Also the telegraph and telephone companies have shown no indications of abandoning ambitious programs for extensions and expansions.

Decision Nears In Dispute Over Taxes WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Attorney-General Stone will reach a decision before September 15 on the California community property case, involving millions of dollars paid in taxes, it was announced at the department of justice today. In the meantime he will confer with a number of California property owners who want to be heard. Stone's decision is expected to pave the way for taking the case to the United States supreme court.

In most countries business quickens with the coming of the cooling rains, but in the Orient the rainy season always causes seasonal dullness.

phone companies are far behind in installing new lines. In fact, the chief worry of the telegraph companies, according to one executive, is found in the lowly messenger boy and the difficulty of inducing him to put one foot in front of another—fast. This executive declares that operators, wire chiefs and plant superintendents are stretching every energy to transmit a message in half a minute, only to have it delayed an hour or more through messenger delivery.

Long Way Round In event of storms between New York and Philadelphia, for example, a message, in order to avoid delay in Los Angeles, El Paso and New Orleans and arrive in Philadelphia promptly, only to be turned over to the mercy of a slow-footed boy. Receipt of outgoing messages by telephone, to which one whole floor of the New York plant of the Western Union is devoted, has cut down delay in starting messages, but delivery by telephone has not kept pace with this development.

In many cities, the telegraph messenger force is woefully short-handed and efforts to obtain boys at pay which the companies say they can afford have been attended with only partial success. Engineers and efficiency experts are now attempting to work out some better method of speedy final delivery.

PHOENIX and Washington Are Warmest Spots In U. S. Records Show WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Phoenix, Ariz., and Washington, D. C., were running a neck and neck race today to attain the highest temperature during the great heat wave sweeping the country from the Atlantic to the Rocky mountains. In the past twenty-four hours, Phoenix was the hottest place in the United States, the official temperature being 106 degrees. Washington was a close second, with an official temperature of 102 degrees and an unofficial temperature of 106 degrees. Twenty-five heat prostrations have been reported in Washington since Wednesday morning, and as the sun came up over the Maryland hills this morning the hospitals again began to get hurry-up calls to care for heat sufferers. With Phoenix and Washington leading in the heat sweepstakes, Baltimore is in third place, with a temperature around 100 degrees. The Pacific coast is escaping most of the heat wave, a temperature of only 82 degrees being reported from San Francisco. Chicago has also found relief by rains during the past twenty-four hours, but the rest of the country will continue to sweeter.

J., and Boston for Pictou Harbor, Nova Scotia, where it will be turned over to Lieutenant Wade, round-the-world United States army flyer, on his arrival there aboard the cruiser Richmond. The plane will reach its destination tomorrow night. It will be christened "Boston 2nd," when Lieutenant Wade resumes his flight westward at Pictou Harbor. The distance between Norfolk and Pictou Harbor is approximately 950 miles.
