TORNADO CAUSES DEVASTATION FROM WINNIPEG TO LOUISIANA

Sixty Are Killed and Hundreds Injured in Early Friday Storm

ONE TOWN IS SWEEPED OUT OF EXISTENCE

Wind Blew Eighty-Eight Miles an Hour at Detroit and Buffalo

ALL TRAFFIC TIED UP AND WIRES DESTROYED

Chicago, March 22.—More than sixty persons are reported killed and hundreds are injured, some of them seriously, by a storm of tornado intensity which raged over the central, western and southern parts of the eastern states yesterday. The property damage will run well into the millions.

Definite information has been received accounting for the dead, with reports from points temporarily cut off from wire communication by the storm adding hourly to the list. Reports from Alabama show that the loss of life was heaviest in that state, the number of dead there being already definitely placed at twenty-seven. The town of Lower Peachtree, La., has been swept out of existence. Two are dead in Indiana, two in Tennessee, three in Ohio, two in New York, one in Mississippi, two in Louisville, and six in Michigan. Accompanying the death list are estimates of injured totalling more than two hundred, with additions coming in at brief intervals.

The town of Lower Peachtree, La., has been swept out of existence. Two are dead in Indiana, two in Tennessee, three in Ohio, two in New York, one in Mississippi, two in Louisville, and six in Michigan. Accompanying the death list are estimates of injured totalling more than two hundred, with additions coming in at brief intervals.

Coming up out of the southwest early Friday morning, the storm swept with stunning suddenness diagonally across the country from Northern Texas to Western Pennsylvania and Eastern New York, bisecting the Mississippi and rising northward across the Ohio into the Great Lakes region. Shifting winds of great velocity, accompanied in various sections by snow, sleet and hail, characterized the storm as the most destructive of the year. Buildings toppled in nearly a dozen states. The property loss was great, and the wind, rain, hail and sleet did serious damage to crops. Estimates of damage to property from Indiana and Michigan alone aggregate 2,000,000. Early reports of loss ranging from $250,000 to $500,000 from sections of the storm region indicated that the total would reach large figures.

Wires fell in all directions. Not in many years has there been such a prostration of telegraph and telephone services. Chicago was cut off for hours from communication with points east. It will be several days before normal service is restored. Railroad traffic was seriously delayed in many districts where wire communication was crippled and wreckage occurred.

The wind attained a record velocity at some points. At Detroit it reached 88 miles an hour; 84 miles at Toledo, 88 miles at Buffalo, 64 miles at Memphis, and at Louisville 52 miles. Cold weather is following the storm.

In the prairie districts railroad traffic is completely tied up or badly hampered. Street car traffic in many large cities of the middle west and south is demoralized. Reports of fatalities and injuries received up to midnight were tabulated as follows: Poplar Bluff, Mo., seven killed and one hundred injured. Hoxie, Ark., four killed and forty injured. Walnut Bridge, Ark., one killed and ten injured. Saline, Mo., five killed and thirty injured. Lower Peachtree, Ala., twenty-seven killed. Frankfort, Ind., one killed. Lafayette, Ind., one killed. Columbus, Ohio, one killed and one injured. Detroit, Mich., one killed. Tiffin, Ohio, one killed and six injured. Coldwater, Mich., two killed. Senatobia, Miss., one killed. Alama, Tenn., one killed. Uniontown, Tenn., one killed. Spring City, Tenn., one killed. New Haven, Mich., three killed. Tyler, Texas, one killed, one injured. Huntsville, Ala., March 21.—A tornado swept a belt of devastation a quarter of a mile wide through the northwestern section of Madison county this morning, killing two children and blowing away the house in which they were.

TORONTO SUFFERS FROM STORM WINDS

Toronto, Ont., March 22.—Not for many years has Toronto as well as all parts of Ontario been visited by such a wind storm as struck the country early yesterday morning and continued all day and well on into the night. Damage amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars was caused in Toronto and Ontario. All telegraph and telephone wires were blown down in many sections of the province. The newspapers were cut off from the usual service. The western section of the province was completely isolated. In the northern section of the province the damage was very heavy. In Toronto extensive damage was done.

CURIOUS ROUTINGS IN FORCE AFTER STORM

Chicago, March 22.—Some curious routings of messages were made necessary by the prostration of the wires. It is only eighty-five miles from Chicago to Milwaukee, but press telegrams from Chicago went from Chicago to Pittsburgh and around on a leased wire through Columbus, Ohio, Cincinnati, Kansas City and Minneapolis to Milwaukee.

It will be several weeks before the damage done by the storm is repaired. The telegraph service to-day is feeble.

WINNIPEG CUT OFF FROM OTHER TOWNS

Twin Cities Cut Off From Chicago Canadian Train Service Demoralized

Winnipeg, March 22.—After a winter unusually free from wire interruptions from storm and other causes, Winnipeg is practically cut off from the east and south beyond Sudbury on the one hand and Minneapolis on the other. A tremendous sleet storm sweeping across the middle west has practically isolated the Twin Cities from Chicago, so far as wire communication is concerned, and all trains south of the international boundary are reported running many hours behind schedule.

Conditions along the Canadian Pacific Railway east of Sudbury are even worse. The storm in that quarter reached the proportions of a tornado, and at Sudbury to men say they hardly ventured out doors, so great was the force of the wind. The storm has put all wires out of business, including not only those on the main line connecting with Montreal, but wires on the new Toronto cutoff, and not a message has passed east of Sudbury for hours. Gangs worked yesterday in the blinding storm doing their best to recover wires. The disturbance along the north shore, usually the most badly affected in a general storm of this nature, appears fairly normal, and there is nothing to indicate the loss of life and devastation which characterizes the storms of the Great Lakes. From Winnipeg west conditions are not far from normal, though high winds and snow have delayed traffic in some districts.

LORD DENMAN'S HOME WRONGFULLY TAKEN

Full Court Decides That Labor Government of New South Wales Was Wrong

Melbourne, March 22.—That Lord Denman, the governor-general without a home, was wrongfully ejected from his headquarters at Sydney by the state government, is the decision of the full court.

It may be remembered that a great stir was caused recently in social and political circles throughout the Commonwealth when the Labor government of New South Wales threw the governor-general of the Commonwealth, his wife and family, together with all baggage, from the government house in Macquarie Place.

Lord Denman had perforce to move to a more hospitable climate in this city, and the government of the mother state of the Commonwealth was heartily condemned for its action.

The premises in question had been used for many years as the home of the governor-generals until a few months ago, when the Labor government declared that the property should be used as a public park.

VERDICT OF MURDER AGAINST HENRY LOVE

Owen Sound, Ont., March 22.—Three hours deliberation sufficed the jury entrusted with the hearing of the charge against Henry Love of murdering his wife Hannah at their home at Caylon on the evening of December 9 of last year to bring in a verdict of guilty at the court house here last evening. Love displayed no emotion. The defence called but three witnesses, and contrary to general expectation, Love was not one of these. His daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hindle, was one of these. Love was sentenced this morning to be hanged on May 27th.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER ISSUES STATEMENT ON THE LIBERAL POSITION ON THE NAVAL BILL

Ottawa, Ont., March 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the Opposition, has authorized the following statement of the Liberal position on the Naval bill, in reply to the statement issued by the Government Thursday:

"The present issue between the government and the opposition is clearly and easily defined. The government is asking for a contribution of thirty-five million dollars out of the Canadian treasury to the Imperial navy—under the pretence of an emergency. The discussion has shown that such an emergency does not exist, and it would seem that this is the first of periodical permanent contributions.

"The policy of the Liberal party is the same as it has been: A Canadian navy built, as far as immediately practicable, equipped, maintained and manned in Canada. This policy is now in concrete form before the House, Mr. Guthrie having moved an amendment still undisposed of, that the thirty-five million dollars asked by the government be expended in Canada in the construction and equipment of naval forces.

The whole object of the opposition during the present debate has been to bring this issue as prominently as possible to the attention of the people, and this they still propose to do by all constitutional means at their disposal.

It is stated on behalf of the government that the rules of the house are antiquated. These rules have grown to their present form through long centuries of struggle on behalf of freedom of speech. The late government persistently refused to alter them, but they were carefully revised only three years ago and unanimously adopted as they now stand.

"It is also hinted on behalf of the government that the discussion was unduly lengthened before the vote on the second reading of the naval bill. A comparison of the discussion on this bill with the discussion on the naval bill of 1910 shows this allegation to be absolutely unfounded in fact. The number of speeches delivered on the second reading of the present bill and the resolution on which it was founded was 77 (40 on the resolution, 37 on the bill) whereas the number of speeches on the bill of 1910 was 86.

"The bill was referred to the committee of the whole February 28, and a discussion at once arose upon the cost of naval vessels of different classes. Certain figures were produced by the government, and as their accuracy was challenged by the opposition the government promised to produce some further information at the next sitting. The House, consequently, adjourned after voting the first clause of the bill. On March 3 the House went again into committee on the bill at 10.30 p.m., and the same discussion was resumed and carried on until 1.30 a.m., practically between Mr. Hazen for the government, and Messrs. Pugsley, Macdonald and Carvell for the opposition. At 1.30 a.m. Mr. Rogers, who had been out of the House had taken no part in the discussion, came in, and, raising the point that such a discussion was out of order, practically took the lead out of the hands of the leader. His point of order was maintained by the chairman, and it was insisted that Section 2, which was under consideration, should be passed. It was nearly 2 a.m. The opposition asked that at this late hour the House should adjourn. This was peremptorily refused unless Clause 2 was passed. "The opposition would not submit to such intolerable and unreasonable dictation, and as a consequence the government kept the house sitting for a whole week, until the following Saturday, and again for another week, commencing the following Monday.

"Consistently with the policy of the opposition, Sir Wilfrid Laurier had moved in committee of the whole an amendment to Clause 2, affirming that the thirty-five million dollars asked by the government instead of being sent over to Great Britain should be voted to the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service, in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial navy, to which a sub-amendment was moved by D. D. McKenzie, of East Breton, emphasizing but not dissenting from the amendment.

"After two weeks of discussion on these amendments, the prime minister for the first time took the ground Saturday, March 15, that these amendments were out of order. The opposition resented this action of the prime minister as an unwarranted and unjustifiable attempt to gag free discussion, and these attempts at closing freedom of speech by partisan chairmen were repeated all through the long day of Saturday.

"If there has been a deadlock, the fault is not on the part of the opposition but on the part of the government. The opposition claims no more than a right of freedom of speech and of discussing a measure in which a principle of the highest importance is at stake.

"The government has no mandate from the people to proceed with this measure, as the ministers were elected as direct opponents of naval assistance to Great Britain in any form. Notwithstanding this, they have delayed all public business to force the measure unduly. The Bank Act makes no progress, no budget speech announcing a tariff policy has been made, while on only two occasions since the House opened have they asked for supply, and supply was at once granted. Refusing thus to attend to these matters of great importance to Canada, they are trying to force upon the people this measure by extreme and arbitrary methods.

"In the working of parliamentary institutions it has not infrequently happened that deadlocks have occurred between the government and the opposition. Experience has shown that there are only two methods of providing for a solution. One is by the use of brute force, and the other is by an appeal to the people."

ARMED OPERATIONS BY AUSTRIA AGAINST MONTENEGRO EXPECTED

AMBASSADORS RECALLED GREEKS SEIZE STEAMER

London, March 22.—The new crisis in the Balkans to-day led to the instant recall from the Easter vacation of the ambassadors in London of the European powers. They met in conference this afternoon to discuss the situation.

Bremen, Germany, March 22.—Greek warships seized to-day the German steamer Irmingard off the island of Lemnos, in the Aegean sea. She sailed from Barry, Wales, on February 28, for Genoa. No details of the reason for her capture are given in the telegram received by the owners.

ADRIANOPLE STRONG DEFENCE CONTINUES

Discord in Allied Armies Outside Walls of the Turkish Fortress

Adrianople, March 22.—(By Wireless to Constantinople.)—Shukri Pasha, the commander of this fortress, and his troops are determined to continue the defence they have now carried on for five months. All reports as to offers made by them to surrender may be dismissed as pure inventions.

Only starvation can force the capitulation of the beleaguered garrison. Food is still regularly distributed to the great population by the military authorities and there are considerable supplies.

Perfect order prevails within the city. The Bulgarian besiegers are making no progress and their occasional assaults have been futile. The intermittent bombardment has done no harm to the defending forts.

Discord is said to prevail among the allied armies. The Serbians brought up to assist the Bulgarians in the siege remain idle in their lines and are not participating in any of the active operations.

The report from Sofia that Shukri Pasha has ordered the Greek and Armenian bishops to be hanged because they had drawn attention to the alleged misery of the population is groundless. It has aroused much indignation here, the two prelates themselves being most energetic in protesting against the story. They extol the courtesy of the commander, praising his solicitude for the civil and military population of the city.

SYDNEY IS TROUBLED WITH FERRY STRIKE

Holiday Traffic Thrown Into Confusion Owing to Men's Demands

Sydney, N. S. W., March 22.—With the metropolis crowded with people from all sections of the country, come to attend the racing show carnival of Easter, the deckhands and engineers of the Sydney ferries, which tap practically every crowded suburb of the city, struck to-day, throwing the public into indescribable confusion and tying up traffic. The men have demanded a working week of forty-eight hours and all efforts to effect a settlement have proved futile. Small motor craft, sailing and rowing boats, launches of all kinds have been pressed into service to transport the suburbanites to and from their homes across to Port Jackson, but are unable to cope with the situation.

Dangerous overcrowding of these little boats has resulted and fears are expressed that serious drowning accidents may occur. The Sydney water police department is working overtime patrolling the sections of the harbor where the boats are passing most frequently and all precaution is being taken to prevent the loss of life by an overturning of these craft.

BALL CARTRIDGE FIRED BY ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP

Friedenrich, Germany, March 22.—For the first time 500 rounds of ball cartridges have been fired successfully from a machine gun on the upper deck of a Zeppelin airship. The airship used in the experiment was the No. 14.

The gun was handled with ease and precision, although the wind was blowing at the rate of 22 yards a second, or 45 miles an hour.

King Nicholas' Reply is Refusal to Comply With Demands Made

REFUSES TO PERMIT CIVILIANS TO LEAVE

Army Squadron is Manoeuvring Off Albanian and Montenegrin Coasts

AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA REACH AN AGREEMENT

Vienna, March 22.—The Austro-Hungarian government addressed a strongly-worded note to Montenegro, which was in the nature of an ultimatum.

Vienna, March 22.—Beyond promising that the future bombardment of Scutari will be directed against the fortifications and not against the town, Montenegro's reply to Austria's remonstrances is a refusal to comply with the Austrian demands.

The note declares that for military reasons Montenegro must refuse to permit civilians to leave Scutari and that she cannot allow the Austro-Hungarian consul in Scutari to take part in the inquiry into the death of the priest Palze or the alleged coercive conversion of Catholics, declaring that such an investigation by a foreign official would be incompatible with the sovereign rights of the King of Montenegro.

Finally the reply contains some evasive remarks concerning the alleged molestation of the Austrian steamer Skodra at San Giovanni di Medun. Austria demanded the punishment of military and civil officials responsible for ordering Captain Blasich to assist in landing Serbian troops and war munitions, and to help rescue drowning men from transports which the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh had sunk.

Berlin, March 22.—The German foreign office learned to-day that armed operations against Montenegro by the Austrian army may be expected soon. An Austrian squadron is now manoeuvring off the Montenegrin and Albanian coasts.

The officials of the German foreign office state that Austria will send no further note to Montenegro so as to exhaust the possibilities of diplomacy before the character of the activity of the warships changes from a demonstration into offensive action.

It is understood here that Russia has counselled the Montenegrins to yield.

London, March 22.—Russia, with which country Austria is reported to have reached a complete agreement, will, according to report, urge Montenegro to show a more conciliatory spirit, but the previous Russian efforts in this direction were fruitless and it is feared King Nicholas, who believes his crown depends upon the capture of Scutari, will remain stubborn.

Austria has notified the powers that her fleet has gone to the Albanian coast because of the position of the Catholics to whom Austria is the protector, and has sent to Cetinje Baron de Geisel, to impress on Montenegro the determination of Austria that Scutari shall remain Albanian, and that Austria's other demands must be complied with. Serbia, which realizes the fruitlessness of the continued siege at Scutari, is understood to acquiesce in this.

All the allies except Montenegro, which is preparing a general storming attack on Scutari, are anxiously awaiting an excuse to end the war. King Nicholas, however, is said to have declared: "Either I shall return to Cetinje the conqueror of Scutari or not at all."

A dispatch from Vienna says: "The telegrams received here from Cattero and Cetinje show that unrestrained savagery and barbarism continue in Albania and that the Montenegrins still perpetrate inhuman atrocities in the village of Schaschare, near Uskup. Serbian soldiers have committed indescribable cruelties on the women, and the boys and men have been sent away. Similar crimes have been committed by Serbian soldiers at Letinica, which, like Schaschare, is inhabited solely by Albanian Catholics.

In Karasagh, 290 farmhouses were burned by Mohammedan Albanians and all the males who did not flee were shot by soldiers. In all 233 men were slain without mercy.

STATE TROOPS MOVE.

Naco, Ariz., March 22.—Combined state troop forces began at noon to-day moving in against Naco, Sonora. Following his precedent of last week, General Ojeda at once left the Mexican border town and set out to meet the enemy. His ranks are depleted by desertions, and the Mexican commander has no more than 350 men, while four troops of the state troops aggregate

PRESENT ADDRESS TO LADY HARDINGE

Movement Started by Lady Sydenham in India Meets With Phenomenal Success

Bombay, India, March 22.—A movement has been inaugurated by Lady Sydenham for the presentation of an address to Lady Hardinge from the women of India, and it is meeting with phenomenal success.

In every part of India meetings have been attended by women of every creed and class. Such assemblages are without parallel in the history of India.

The address, which is to be presented in a silver casket, after expressing regret at the attempt made upon the life of the viceroy, says the women of India were profoundly impressed by the fortitude and resourcefulness of Lord Hardinge.

HUNGER STRIKE WINS FREEDOM FOR WOMAN

London, March 22.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, won her liberty to-day from Holloway prison by a "hunger strike." Further confinement would have endangered her life.

Miss Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was sentenced on February 18 to two months imprisonment for engaging in a window-smashing campaign.

She went on a "hunger strike," and the authorities pried open her mouth with a steel gag and fed her through a tube.

MAY TAKE ONE MONTH TO INVESTIGATE FRIEDMANN CURE

PATIENTS AT BERLIN MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Vaccine in Physicians Lands at New York Exhausted; Prepares New Supply

New York, March 22.—Sufferers from tuberculosis whom Dr. F. F. Friedmann treated with his vaccine before his departure from Berlin to this country, are responding remarkably to the treatment, according to a cablegram received to-day by Dr. George O'Hanlon, superintendent of Bellevue hospital. The cablegram came from a Berlin physician, Dr. O'Hanlon said.

Dr. Friedmann treated sixteen patients here to-day, but was obliged to postpone the treatment of four others until to-morrow, owing to the fact that his vaccine was exhausted. He devoted most of the day to the preparation of a new supply.

Charles F. Finley, the New York banker, through whose efforts Dr. Friedmann was persuaded to come to this country with his tuberculosis vaccine, will give a banquet in Dr. Friedmann's honor on Sunday night at Mr. Finley's country home, Great Neck, L. I. A number of well-known physicians will attend.

FOREST RESERVE TO BE SHEEP GROUNDS

Unofficial Information Received at Lethbridge Regarding Plans for Summer

PERMITS PLAN BUT NO LEASES GIVEN

Lethbridge, Alta., March 22.—Local sheepmen have received unofficial information that the Rocky Mountain forest reserve will be available for sheep grazing purposes this coming summer, thus consummating the long campaign which has been carried on by the Southern Alberta wool growers' association, the Lethbridge board of trade and other organizations with this object in view.

Mr. Brown, the superintendent of the reserve, will be in Lethbridge on April 1, to meet executive of the wool growers' association for the purpose of discussing the manner in which sheep grazing will be carried on.

It is understood as being very similar to the policy that governs sheep grazing on the United States forest reserves. Grazing permits will be issued, the number of sheep allowed and other details being under strict supervision of officials of the forest department.

No leases will be given.

If this information is correct, great impetus will have been given to the sheep industry of Southern Alberta. It will, it is expected, mean in a few years a million or more sheep will graze in the mountains during the summer, and be fed during the winter on the farms of Southern Alberta.

While the winter feeding of sheep in the country east and south of Lethbridge has grown rapidly in the past few years the great obstacle of the sheep industry has been the lack of a summer range. To the west was the forest reserve, providing this summer range, but upon which all grazing by sheep was forbidden.

NATIONALISM GROWS THROUGHOUT DENMARK

Collecting Public Fund for Defence of Country; Headed by King and Queen

Copenhagen, March 22.—The sentiment of nationalism is growing in Denmark by leaps and bounds, and a notable result is the collection of a huge public fund for the defence of the country. Repeated demands on the government for additional fortifications have met with little response, and private interests have now determined to take up the work.

The subscription is headed by the King and Queen, and other members of the royal family have contributed generously. The money is now pouring in from all sources, schools, business houses and offices contributing freely. Several artists have donated their paintings to be sold for the fund.

The present unrest in Europe is largely responsible for the interest in this remarkable measure of national defense. The Danish people feel that in the case of a war between any of the great powers, their country would be crushed unless they are in position to enforce armed neutrality.

First Statement Issued by Public Health Service From Washington

Advise People Not to Make Long Journeys in Hope of Treatment

Washington, D. C., March 22.—The public health service, through Surgeon-General Blue, issued its first statement relative to the government investigation of Dr. F. F. Friedmann's tuberculosis cure. The statement emphasizes the government's policy to cautiously, and is as follows:

"On March 8, the secretary of the treasury, on the recommendation of the surgeon-general of the public health service, caused a board of medical officers to be detailed to make a thorough investigation of Dr. Friedmann's alleged cure for tuberculosis.

"These officers immediately proceeded to New York and arranged with Dr. Friedmann for demonstration of his remedy upon persons suffering from tuberculosis. These demonstrations will be continued until sufficient information has been obtained for the forming of an opinion as to the merits of the treatment.

"Dr. Friedmann has submitted to the board a culture of the bacteria which he states are used in his method of treatment.

"In addition to the observation of the patients under treatment by Dr. Friedmann, the board of officers will make experiments to ascertain whether this culture is as good as Dr. Friedmann claims. Considerable time will necessarily be required to carry out these investigations, but the work will be carried out as rapidly as possible.

"In the meantime the public is informed of the 'inadvisability' in the great majority of cases, of travelling long distances in the hope of receiving treatment, as those selected for demonstration purposes constitute only a small percentage of applicants.

"Certain statements, purporting to be expressions of opinion of the board of officers of the public health service carrying on the investigation have appeared in the newspapers. These officers have expressed no opinion, and will not be in a position to do so until the work has advanced sufficiently to warrant some conclusion in regard to Dr. Friedmann's treatment."

It was further stated by the government officials that the government would take at least a month and probably longer, to reach any conclusions relating to the efficacy of the treatment upon the patients who are being watched by the board of officers authorized to make the investigation.

Dr. John E. Anderson and Dr. A. M. Stimson, who comprise the board, are keeping a daily clinical record of the cases treated by Dr. Friedmann in the New York hospitals. These records will furnish the basis for final reports.

Thus far Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis culture has been demonstrated to be a "live bug," according to tests made in the government hygienic laboratory here, sub-cultures having been grown from the original culture submitted to the public health service by the Berlin physician several weeks ago.

ENGLISH SONG BIRDS ARE HOURLY EXPECTED

Natural History Society Introduces Birds to Vancouver Island Woods.

The English songbirds which are due to arrive to-day or to-morrow for the Natural History Society have had the greatest care given to them on the Montreal, the steamer in which they crossed the Atlantic. They left Liverpool on the Canadian Pacific steamer Montreal on March 5, in charge of capable men, one of the attendants being an expert whistler, travelling with the birds to keep them in song. They have now crossed the continent.

S. Shackleton & Co., of Leadenhall Market, who were entrusted with the order, collected the birds from all parts of England and Wales, and the greater portion of them were housed since October in the kennels, converted into aviaries, in the rear of Mr. Shackleton's premises in Bernoldsey. The collection will be composed approximately as follows: 17 to 18 dozen larks, 10 to 12 dozen linnets, six dozen each of goldfinches, 100 robins and 2 dozen blue tits.

During the long journey to this city the birds were housed in wooden cases fringed with wire netting of a fine mesh, and in the case of the blue tits with wire gauze.

The food consisted of 2 cwt. of "soft-bill" food a mixture of egg, bread-crumbs, etc.—for the larks and robins. 28 lbs. of monkey-nuts for the blue-tits.

Half a cwt. of seed mixture (including thistle seed) for the goldfinches. A special small sack of seed mixture for the linnets.

Seven pounds of meal-worms for blue-tits and robins.

There was also shipped 1 cwt. of sand for the cages and 1 cwt. of grit to aid digestion.

Chatting about the food, Mr. Shackleton told a London Star man prior to departure that half the battle was depending on the diet of the 600 venturers. "For instance," he said, "every few people know that birds eating seed bolts it whole without cracking the shell. At first I kept these 509 in large aviaries, and when I got them to 'take the food' they were shifted to smaller cages."

"It would be impossible for them to be in better health than they are now. Here is a certificate from Mr. H. H. Whitlaw-Smith, veterinary surgeon, who certifies them to be free from any signs of infectious or contagious diseases."

SNAPSHOTS OF THE CITY

T. S. Falkner, stipendiary magistrate at Stevenson, was a visitor to the city yesterday. He has a nice wit in dealing with refractory counsel.

One day a barrister had held the court in session with redundant cross-examination of a minor witness in a small case. Lunch time passed and finally there was an adjournment in order to let everyone partake of a light repast. On the resumption the offending barrister harangued the court at length, and finally, noting that Magistrate Falkner looked bored, said: "I trust your worship enjoyed your lunch."

"Much better than I do your remarks, Mr. X—" was the quiet and crushing rejoinder.

SUGGESTS OLD CUSTOMS

Maundy Thursday was originally so named from the one-time almost universal Christian observance of washing the feet of the poor in commemoration of the washing of the feet of the twelve disciples. This custom was supposed to be a fulfilment of the commandment contained in John 13: 34. Although in general practice the custom has become obsolete since the time of James the Second, it is still observed by the Pope in Rome, by the Greek church, at the court of Vienna, and by some minor sects such as the Dunkers and Winebrenerians. In this province the custom is found in connection with a service of humility in the church of the Seventh Day Adventists. In England, however, the foot-washing has not been observed since the reign of the second James, although the "royal Maundy" is still distributed annually on behalf of the sovereign, this being a survival of the old "Maundy alms" custom, when silver coins of the nominal value of 1d., 2d., 3d. and 4d. struck annually for the purpose, were given to the poor.

ARION CLUB CONCERT.

Second Concert of Twenty-First Season Will Take Place on Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening next the Arion Club will give the second concert of its twenty-first season at the Victoria theatre. An excellent programme has been prepared, and some of the numbers will be entirely new in the annals of Victoria concerts. Miss Eunice Prosser, violinist, and Charles Derbyshire, a baritone who sang for the club on a previous occasion here, will assist. Mr. Herbert Kent is the leader of the choir for this season, and in two of its numbers the choir will be assisted by Mr. Robertson, cornetist; Mr. Jesse Longfield, first violin; Mr. Hughes, second violin; Mr. Rumsby, viola and Mr. Bennett, cello. One of the numbers which should prove particularly attractive is an arrangement of the old Welsh air, "All Through the Night," with humming, accompaniment, and Werrenath's "Cavalier's Song." Tickets are now on sale.

FROST FIRST CHIEF OF ALBERNI POLICE

Alberni, B. C., March 19.—The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church held a very successful and enjoyable concert in Whyte's hall, when Mrs. Captain Murray from Banfield, delighted the large and appreciative audience that was present, with her rendering of a lot of the old favorite Scottish and English and Irish songs, as well as her recitations. In fact Mrs. Murray contributed the largest part of the programme herself, and was eulogized and time again. Mrs. Murray was ably assisted by Master Stanley Croll, who danced the Highland Fling, the Sailors Hornpipe and an Irish jig. Miss Wright was the accompanist of the evening, and assisted in no small degree to make the evening's entertainment a success.

Leonard Frank gave a magic lantern entertainment in Whyte's hall in aid of the west coast general hospital. Mr. Frank showed a large number of his latest views, which a great number of the people had never seen before. Particularly was this so in the case of the beautiful scenery of Strathcona park, handsome sum was realized for the hospital.

At a meeting of the police commissioners held in the city hall a few days ago E. Frost, an old time resident of the city, was selected as the first chief of the police force.

G. Y. Simpson, of the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Co., of Victoria, was a visitor in town this week. Mr. Simpson is an old resident of the city, and sees many changes in the place since he was here last.

THE POUND OF FLESH.

The most pathetic circumstance in the Balkan war is the desperate effort of the Montenegrin army to capture Scutari, the principal town in northern Albania.

AN INSPIRING CEREMONY.

A few days ago we published an account of the ceremony of laying the keels for the cruiser Brisbane and two destroyers for the Australian navy.

The fact is, Germany knows that the victor in the battle of armaments is the power which has the longest purse, and Great Britain's purse is many times longer than that of the Triple Alliance.

The wholesale depreciation of Canadians, both here and abroad, is painful. It is symptomatic of a dangerous condition.

IMMENSE SUPERIORITY.

In accepting a battleship standard of sixteen to ten in favor of Great Britain, Admiral von Tirpitz, head of the German navy, has cleared the naval situation to a very satisfactory extent.

In 1913, according to the statement of the First Lord of the Admiralty, Great Britain will have 35 dreadnoughts against the 33 for Germany, Austria and Italy.

Since the discovery of tuberculin it becomes a well-known and recognized fact that in the bacillus itself were to be found the antigens—that means the substance which contains or produces the curative bodies.

The event which is attracting the marked interest of picture lovers is the exhibition of paintings by Mrs. Mary Ritter Hamilton at the Empress hotel. Mrs. Hamilton brought over one hundred pictures to Canada last fall and during the winter she held exhibitions in Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. In each of these cities she won pronounced success, the critics without exception bestowing the warmest praise upon her achievements and among the many distinguished patrons of art who purchased her paintings was Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught. The exceptional opportunity for seeing these beautiful pictures should be taken advantage of before the exhibition closes.

Choir of First Congregational Church Sang "From Olivet to Calvary."

At the First Congregational church last evening the oratorio "From Olivet to Calvary" was rendered by the choir. The performance demonstrated that the singers had been well trained as they showed remarkable ability in the attack. In the parts that called for capacity to interpret the emotions and suffering of the Passion Week, the choir proved its desire to give effective rendering to the aims of the composer. FRENCH BARQUE IS POUNDED TO PIECES

Runs on Rocks at End of Voyage From San Francisco to Hull

CAPTAIN AND CREW SAVED BY TRAWLER

Officers Refuse to Leave Ship Until Every Man is Saved

Grimsby, Eng., March 22.—The French barque Marie, from San Francisco to Hull at the end of her long voyage to-day, met with disaster and destruction here. Her captain and crew of twenty-four men were saved by the trawler Amer. The Marie went ashore before daybreak at Halsborough, in the North Sea, during a blizzard, and was quickly pounded to pieces by terrific seas. The crew was in a desperate plight, and had lost hope when the Amer came up, launched a lifeboat and took them off, making several perilous trips. The captain and mate of the Marie refused to leave their ship until every man had been saved. The Marie's lifeboat was too much battered by the waves to return for them, and the steward of the French barque dived from the Amer with a lifeline and swam to the wreck. He and the captain and mate were ultimately dragged through the sea to the rescuing vessel.

VANGUARD OF SEATTLE WHALING FLEET SAILS

Seattle, March 22.—Manned by hardy crews of whalers who will spend the summer in Alaska waters bagging the right whale, the humpback, the sulphur bottom—and the sperm—whales, the steamers Star I, Star II, and Star III, will sail from this port late to-day as the vanguard of Seattle's whaling fleet. The vessels are owned by the United States Whaling Company. They will go direct to Port Armstrong, which will be their base during their summer's cruise in the north. The whaling steamers will be operated on the share plan, and upon the number of the mammals bagged, will largely depend the compensation received by members of the crews. The crews will be signed on with contracts calling for both share and straight wages, with the exception of the captain or navigating officer, the chief engineer and assistant chief engineer, who will be paid a stipulated sum for their services. The harpoon gunner, upon whose skill depends the result of the hunt, will receive $5.00 for each humpback, $10.00 for each finback, $13 for each sulphur bottom, $30 for each sperm and $50 for each right whale bagged. He also has a guarantee of $25 a month. Members of the whaling crew, with the exception of the navigating officer, and the engineers, will receive $1 for each humpback and each finback, $1.50 for each sulphur bottom, $5 for each sperm and $10 for each right whale.

PORT'S SHIPPING IS EXCEEDINGLY QUIET

Steamship Men Do Not Recall So Dull a Time in Past Five Years

ONLY FOUR OCEAN-GOING BOATS DOCK NEXT WEEK

Since Middle of February Shipping Has Been Very Light; Revive Soon

Victoria shipping men fail to recall a time in the past four or five years when the deep-sea business in connection with this port was as quiet and dull as it has been for the past month or six weeks. There has been practically nothing doing. Since the middle of February the average number of foreign-going vessels to dock here each week has been four. A slump in shipping is generally experienced at this season of the year, but many months have passed since a slump of this nature has been written about. However, it is said, a slump always precedes a profitable period and shipping men are hoping that this will prove correct in their case. The stevedores have had very little to do since early in February and the outer docks have been deserted the greater part of the time. A perusal of the schedules of companies sending vessels to this port reveals the fact that but four liners will berth here next week. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Shidzuoka Maru, Capt. Iriawara, with 1,300 tons of freight and 123 passengers for this port, will arrive on Thursday from the Far East. The Inaba Maru, Capt. Tomimaga, of the same line, will get away on Tuesday for Oriental ports, laden to her capacity with cargo and carrying a full list of first-class passengers. The R. M. S. Montecagle, Capt. Davison, with a valuable shipment of silk locked away in her strongroom, comes in on Saturday from Hongkong and Yokohama, and the Blue Funnel liner Ixon returns from Sound ports to put off 3,000 tons of general merchandise about Tuesday.

PRINCESS SOPHIA ON SKAGWAY RUN

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Sophia, with Captain Campbell in command, will leave on the Skagway run on Friday, March 28, in place of the Princess May. The latter vessel arrives here on the day previous and will be over for one trip in order to have a thorough overhauling. The accommodation on the Sophia and the speed she can attain are to all intents and purposes the same as those of her sister ship, so that the schedule will in no wise be departed from.

C. P. R. Steamer "Princess May" Will Lie Over One Trip for Overhauling

Shipping men look for things to gradually pick up and before the end of next month to be restored to their normal state. It is many a day since five and six liners have been berthed at the outer docks inside of 24 hours. While the things are quiet, shipping men are not sitting back in their chairs with their arms folded and waiting for the business to revive, but they are keeping themselves busy getting everything shipshape for the spring and summer rush of business.

KARLUK DUE TO-DAY SAILS NORTH IN MAY

The barque Karluk, in which Stefansson the explorer who discovered the tribe of white Eskimos some years ago, will make a trip to western Arctic regions of Canada, arrives here to-day from San Francisco. The Karluk has been chartered for four years and will be the supply ship for the party which Stefansson will head. She sails from Esquimalt in May. The whole of the northern regions are to be explored and a thorough examination geologically, geographically and anthropologically made. Each winter the Karluk, which is a staunch whaler, will return here for fresh supplies, the explorers establishing bases during the summer months.

CITY OF PUEBLA DOCKED YESTERDAY

STEEL BINDINGS BROUGHT FOR B. C. ELECTRIC

One Hundred and Thirty Passengers Made the Trip; List of Victoria Travellers

The S. S. City of Puebla, from San Francisco and Seattle, docked at the outer wharf yesterday after a fair voyage up the coast. Intense cold was experienced on the trip though the weather remained fine and sunny. The vessel brought about two hundred and seventy tons of merchandise for Victoria including a wide and varied selection of goods from oranges to radiators. Among other things she disgorged from her hold a huge crate of steel binding for the British Columbia Electric Railway Company in addition to a large number of steel plates and bars of iron for the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Ltd. But for the most part her cargo consisted of fruit and vegetables.

The City of Puebla had on board one hundred and thirty passengers, seventy-nine being first class and fifty-one second class. The Victoria passengers were as follows: George Beruth, H. W. Brown, S. Burrow, Mrs. Anna Duke, Fred Green, and wife, John G. P. Hall, George Jordan, Jr., Jacques Junte and wife, William Wright, Fred Mann and wife, H. Mosher, Miss Fannie McRae, Joseph Rogers, F. NEW SERVICE FOR NORTH OF PROVINCE

Two Steamers to Operate Between Tete Jaune Cache and South Fort George. The Grand Trunk Pacific Company has been advised by the Fort George Trading & Lumber company that it expects to have its steamers Chilcote and Fort Fraser in operation between Tete Jaune Cache and South Fort George about May 20. The Chilcote is licensed to carry one hundred passengers while there is first class accommodation for passengers both night and day. The Fort Fraser is licensed to carry only fifty passengers, but it is the intention of the company to enlarge her at the earliest possible opportunity. This boat, however, at the present will be used merely for "bohnunk" passenger traffic. The rate on freight from South Fort George to Tete Jaune Cache will be $70 per ton. The passenger rate will be approximately fifteen cents a mile for first class passengers, for local distances, while it is expected that the through rate between the two points above named will be from $25.50 to $35. This rate will be appreciated when it is known that the distance by river between Tete Jaune Cache and South Fort George is 315 miles. It is expected that on account of the past winter's heavy snow and rainfall, there will be plenty of water in the spring and that the boats will therefore be able to operate approximately until August 30. The trip will be made in about four and a half days while the return trip will be in about three days in addition to one day being required for the loading of the boat.

TRAFFIC ON HOLIDAY WAS UNUSUALLY HEAVY

Holiday traffic was very heavy on the C. P. R. boats for the mainland yesterday. The holiday season combined with the bright crisp weather brought out large numbers of holiday makers off to visit their friends in Vancouver and Seattle. Many people were disappointed in the evening by not being able to secure places on the night boat to the Terminal City. In fact the officials of the company remarked to-day that there were enough passengers desired to cross last night to have filled two of their largest boats. Traffic on the other two boats to Vancouver was also very heavy. It is expected that a similar demand will be made on the company's accommodation to-day in view of the holiday on Monday, and the consequent desire on the part of many people to take advantage of the long week-end.

ARRIVE VERY THIN RETURN PRETTY FAT

Observation Made in Regard to Chinese; Batten Things Down and They Like It

It is a peculiar but nevertheless an interesting fact that the Chinaman upon his arrival in Victoria from his native land appears thin and emaciated, but that when he leaves on a return visit to the Flowery Kingdom he is what might be termed a "husky." Steamboat men who have watched the arrival and departure of the emigrant ships, with their large contingents of Chinese, state that it is surprising the manner in which these unique men improve their physiques after taking up work in this country. The Times' representative was conversing with one of the officers of the Blue Funnel liner Ixon when she was in port last Thursday afternoon, when the Chinese passengers, booked to Victoria, commenced to stream down the gang plank. They were clad in only flimsy clothes, and all carried great bundles over their shoulders. The Celestials were all on the slim side, and this led the officer to remark: "You see those fellows. When we bring them here they're as thin as rakes, but when we take them out on their return to China they're pretty husky boys. Perhaps it is the abundance of fresh air you have over here that converts them, or perhaps it is the easy jobs they find. I don't know though." The officer went on to explain that in heavy weather, when a ship is driving into heavy seas and flooding her decks and it becomes necessary to batten down everything as tightly as possible, the Chinese are in their happiest mood. The stuffer the place is the better they seem to like it. Once things are battened down they dislike very much to have the companionships opened up again to let a little fresh air and some light in. Although hundreds of Chinese are carried by the trans-Pacific steamships each year, the officers and crews of the ships never have trouble. The Orientals are reserved, and live peacefully and quietly in what seem to white people miserable and cramped quarters. Pigs are the chief item on the menu of these strange-travelers. Each vessel carries a flock of "porks" when it steams out of port, in order to satisfy the demands of the Chinaman.

Tailoring

ALL over Canada, from Coast to Coast, the Semi-ready Customers may have the personal service of Semi-ready tailoring at absolutely the same price as though bought at the door of the factory in Montreal.

Special Order Samples in 300 different patterns, the finest weaves from the English worsted mills, are sent to the one Merchant in each town or city who will subscribe to the doctrine of "one price to everybody everywhere."

Some Merchants say that the wholesale tailoring system of Semi-ready is too cheap for the profit made necessary by the higher cost of everything; but these merchants do not allow for the time saved, the money saved and the better satisfaction given; which all means money; it's the practical proof that "small profits and quick returns" build the larger volume of business which accrues.

The Five Day Schedule. We show over 300 cloth patterns, with a style portfolio showing 30 different fashion plates, and the orders are sent in on a form which gives the actual photo-body measurements, with height, weight and department, so that the Cutter has before him the exact figure of each customer. Each order is finished complete within five days at the shops, and prompt delivery on time is assured.

HOURS WITH NATION BUILDERS

SIR JOHN WILLISON
(By Augustus Brindle.)

Up till New Years Day, 1912, there was but one Sir John left in Canada. Now we have Sir John Willison, journalist. It is necessary that the nominee for a title should be approved both by the governor-general and the prime minister of Canada before being submitted to the King. Without a doubt the Duke of Connaught approved of Sir John Willison. But such are the accidents of human acquaintance in an age that moves so fast as ours; at a luncheon of the Canadian Club when the Duke was guest of honor about two months before New Year's, Mr. J. S. Willison made one of his best speeches. In replying to the welcome, the Duke inadvertently expressed his thanks to "Mr. Morrison."

Which is somewhat on a par with a slip made by Mr. R. J. Fleming, who in 1897 was mayor of Toronto. William Jennings Bryan came to Toronto that year and delivered a great speech on free silver. Mr. Fleming was chairman. In rising to introduce the speaker who had just electrified the United States by one of the most sensational campaigns in history he said, "I have the pleasure in introducing to you, Sir William Bryan Jennings."

Obliterating a beard sometimes unmasks the real man; sometimes merely transforms him. Some men were born for beards. For instance who could imagine Sir Edmund Walker without his much-talked-of whiskers? Or who ever dreamed that John Willison, Esq., would be caught without his customary trim beard when the King decided to make him a knight? That beard was always expensive. It went well with the sort of journalistic dignity that befitted the editor of the Globe and afterwards of the News. It had the look of austerity that for many years served to conceal a good many contrary likes and dislikes and whims and passions from the ordinary observer. It was always repellent to the casual caller. It graced many a banquet and public platform. It expressed a kind of hauteur very much akin to disdain.

All some now—alas! Sir John Willison has become a genial master of savoir faire. He beams graciously. He talks with mild abandon. No longer is his mere silence expressive; it is used to be. And nobody knows whether removing the beard was the cause or the effect. Was it a desire to look young again in a man who when he was under middle age became editor-in-chief of the Globe? Was it a Liberal beard, or an Independent beard—that must be shorn away when the editor came out as an unmasked Conservative?

The mystery will never be cleared up. The pen is mightier than the sword. Once it was a case for argument. No doubt Sir John Willison has debated on that subject. But that knightly title—how long do you think he would have been earning that by a sword? He was born with a desire for pen. They call this disease in young folk "cacoethes scribendi"; which is really not a malignant disease, and very often goes away of itself. In other people it must be cured by experience. In some it is absolutely incurable—this "itch of writing." Sir John Willison is one of the incurables. I.e still has a huge fondness for the pen—or pencil as the case may be. I think that if there is any doubt as to Sir John's fitness for a title, it could easily have been settled if the King had required of him as an ordeal to discard the pen and learn to do his editorials and his letters to the London Times on a typewriter.

This love of writing is becoming a rare thing. It was quite natural that Sir John should discuss it with an interviewer. Other men have got titles for far other things. He mentioned Sir Max Aitken.

"Evidently a born genius for finance," he said. "He went to England and began to show Englishmen how to make money out of things that looked to be worn out. No man with that ability can be measured by customary standards."

He paid a similar compliment to Sir William Mackenzie. "But after all," he concluded, "if financial or mercantile genius any more mysterious than the power to write? I think the best writers in any language have been those who sometimes wondered where they got sentences or ideas that came as they worked."

The desire to write descended upon John S. Willison almost as soon as he knew why a barley fork has four tines when a hayfork has three. From which it may be inferred that he was born and brought up on a farm; which he was in Huron county, Ontario. He worked on a farm till he was old enough to know better. He bound wheat by hand, picked apples, dug potatoes and went to threshing-bees. In text-book education the public school was his limit.

To the farm boy desiring to become an editor, the Daily Leader smelled better than the new-mown hay. It was more fascinating than the fence-corners crammed with bumble-bee nests and raspberry jungles. It had mighty few ads—but he read them all. He consumed the births, marriages and deaths. He devoured the editorials. The telegraph news—he ate 'em alive.

In 1872, a youth of seventeen, he read up on the Pacific Scandal; which with his hereditary training did much to make him feel like something else than a Tory without knowing anything about the real facts of the scandal.

Somewhere about that time he put in a few months teaching school, without a certificate, when the dominion was ill. And it wasn't long till he got a chance to drive the pen instead of the pitchfork by going on the staff of the London Advertiser; afterwards on the Globe, where his main job was the Press Gallery at Ottawa. After about ten years of this along with some general assignment work about town between sessions, he became editor-in-chief of the Globe.

It may be an illusion that in 1890 I saw the then editor of the Globe in his sanctum. The cause was one poem in blank verse which, because news at that time of the year was scarce, no election pending, and the ads not eating up the space, seemed to the editor fit to go in the Globe.

"But of course it's very long," he said tritely.

He handed me a queer-looking long sheet with the poem all in type. "At the same time," he admitted, "we don't mind the length so long as it's learned."

Being an editor doesn't permit a man to be always hobnobbing with professors. Statesmen must be considered; politicians also. Sir John has glorified the one and lavished lambs on the other. Financiers must be studied. Sir John has a large intimacy with financiers who sometimes seem to operate governments and even universities. The common people once in a while demand their due share of attention. Though it used to be supposed that if enough was said about the big folk in politics and religion and scholarship and finance, the average reader would take the paper anyway.

This also has been somewhat changed since Sir John became an editor of experience. It may be suspected that Sir John himself has changed a good deal—especially during the past few years. He used to be a man of extra-profound admirations. He has been almost equally influenced by Sir John Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Goldwin Smith, and Sir William Van Horne. Most of these obsessions had more or less reference to the Victorian era. Sir John must have been profoundly moved by the march of science that began to drive literature into the background during the last few years of that period. He has been startled by some unexpected turns in statecraft. He kept his admirations till they became uncomfortable. Once in a while he chuckled one overboard with a splash. Others he cuffed into second place.

On the Globe he was continually beset with seedy, hard-up individuals that made a practice of waiting him on the stairs when he was to and fro between the sanctum and the composing-room. They always wanted money. He always had a quarter for that sort of man. At least one of these derelicts followed him over to the News. I remember with what persistency this mendicant tracked him to the door marked "private," but never got in, often came again, till the editor being weary of dodging the man called a reporter.

"Find out the story of that man," he said. "Trace him up. Follow his movements. Without mentioning any name write the story for the News. There must be scores of men in this city joggled by that tramp."

As to descriptive details, Sir John consented to furnish one. He let the scribe find out for himself which person it might be, when he came to the office, whether or not to dog that man and how far—and it took several half days before the reporter was able to submit to the city editor a detailed life story of the mysterious beggar who for years had been holding up business and professional men in Toronto for donations and meat tickets and coupons for beds at workmen's homes.

No doubt whoever writes the history of journalism in Canada will regard Sir John's exodus from the Globe to the News with even more interest than did the city tramp. Thousands of good Brits and equally good Tories were startled by the sudden translation of Mr. Willison from the Globe—where he had been for twelve years the able editor—to the News, just purchased by J. W. Flavelle and handed over to Mr. Willison to reorganize as an independent journal. Politics had something to do with it. In a vague way politics may have been the only reason. But Mr. Willison had begun life as the sort of a Conservative and although he was down to 1902 the editor of the leading Liberal organ, the transition was not quite so sudden as it might have seemed.

When it is remembered that Mr. Willison was one of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's confidential advisers when he formed his cabinet in 1896, and was also called to Ottawa when Mr. Borden came into office in 1911, most politicians and others will agree that the situation is unique in Canadian history. And yet it all has happened quite naturally.

BEES SHOW GOOD FORM IN FIRST GAME DEFEATED TACOMA SEMI-PROS BY 9 TO 5

Kantlehner Struck Out Seven Men in Three Innings and Displayed Best Form of Crowd; Sixteen Men Given Workout by Mike Lynch, Who Stayed on Bench; Victorias Ran Bases With Judgment

The makings of a baseball machine were seen in operation at Royal Athletic park Good Friday afternoon when the Bees lined up for their first exhibition match of the season against a semi-professional club from Tacoma. Victorias won by 9 to 5, and, barring a bad spell in the sixth inning, were always the better team.

The Tacoma team gave the local pros a good workout, however, as they were fast and in excellent condition. A few bonehead plays and a few occasions when the wily professionals pulled off time tricks on their opponents indicated the weak spot of the visitors, who actually got as many hits as the victors and made but one mere error.

Used Three Batteries. Three separate batteries were used by Victorias and the mound work improved as the game went along. Smith, who twirled the first three innings, was hit safely six times, bunts and wallops proving equally effective for getting men on. B. Grant, the first baseman, lined a beautiful double to right but was out for falling to touch the first bag. Smart fielding by Brooks and Delmas on two fast grounders finished this inning. The first two men up in the second beat out bunts, but when Martin hit to right Reid was caught at the plate on a beautiful throw. Weed to Delmas to Grindle. Martin was beguiled into attempting to steal second and Grindle caught him off by ten feet.

Two indiscreet floaters were deposited in left field by Tacoma club swingers in the next round after two were out, a score resulting.

Rawlings whipped a hot one over to first and Weed performed the unusual feat of fielding a grounder to first from the outfield in time to beat Nelson. Brown permitted the lone baserunner to die unavailing when he grounded out to second. The fielding was all of an exceedingly snappy character in this round, Rawlings especially showing form.

Without a Hit. Burrell let one man on and nearly let another by two bad pegs from third on grounders hit off McQuerry, but the next two men were forced to hit weak infield outs.

A pass, a stolen base off Hauser, and a single scored another for Tacoma in the fifth and in the sixth there was a comedy of errors. Lack of condition and the cold weather caused Rawlings and Delmas to fizzle throws, while a base on balls, a sacrifice fly and a stolen base contributed to the general slaughter. Daniels' single a good play on the fly, catching the ball right against the fence and barely falling to beat the runner home. Three runs were scored without a single hit.

Kantlehner was the sensation of the afternoon. He fanned seven of the eleven men who faced him, caused three to hit puny rollers and passed one. An error permitted two men to be on base but three dazzlers bewildered the Tacoma catcher, the next batter, and he did not even offer at the ball.

Kantlehner has worked out a new motion and showed the most ease in his style of any player on the field. He is in condition to go a whole game right now and only for a flash did he exhibit his old erratic wildness.

Victorias Ran Bases. Daring baserunning played a large part in the scoring. In the third, for instance, Weed got on first the

ALL-STARS TOOK GAME BY ONE GOAL

Vancouver, March 22.—Scoring a goal in each half to their opponents' one, the All-Star Victorias eleven defeated the picked team of the senior amateur league at the Cambie street grounds yesterday by a score of two goals to one. Owing to the state of the field, which was practically a sea of mud, good football was out of the question and in the rough-and-tumble encounter that ensued the Capital City boys had much the better of the encounter. They dressed for the greater part of the first half and it was only the superior work of the mainlanders' backs that prevented a larger score. In the second half the local boys showed to better advantage, and while they led the play for a time toward the end of the game they were unable to score.

Kerry, Douglas and Taylor, starred for Victorias, while of the mainland eleven the best were Fergie, Petrie and Marshall on the back line figured prominently. Mr. Leach refereed.

DEFEAT EASTERNERS

Winnipeg, March 22.—Winnipeg hockey fans were given their first glimpse of six-man hockey last night when Frank Patrick's western all-star aggregation again triumphed over Art Ross' eastern stars by the score of 8 to 6, in a game which was only fast in spots. That the seven-man hockey as played by these two teams was the better exhibition of the two styles was the universal verdict of the fans after watching last night's exhibition. Fred Taylor and Art Ross were the shining lights in the fracas.

NO CONTEST FOR M'KECHNIE RUGBY CUP

There will be no final contest for the M'Kechnie Cup, symbolical of the provincial Rugby championship, on account of the differences between Victoria and Vancouver as to the ground where the game shall be played. The local club has contended for the game to be played in Nanaimo, while the Vancouver club insists on New Westminster, on the plea that the Royal City has the only neutral ground in the province since the Nanaimo club has ceased to exist.

There has been a good deal of hard feeling over the guarantee for the "Waratahs" visit last fall, in which the Vancouver officials declare they did not get fair treatment, and this difference is the culmination of the trouble. The local club relies on the fact that Nanaimo is equally distant from both cities, and that therefore it is fairest to meet there, rather than at New Westminster, owing to the latter city's proximity to Vancouver.

INTERNATIONAL ATHLETIC CARD

Many Contests Will Be Witnessed This Year Between U. S. and England

New York, March 22.—The international aspect in sports, spreading with each successive year, is unusually prominent in the tentative arrangements of the big sporting events for the summer. The programme now nearly completed calls for international contests in which Americans will participate in about a dozen branches of sport.

The list ranges from chess to yachting. Dates for most of the sporting fixtures, both at home and abroad, have now been set, and from a summary of those available here it is evident that the sporting public is to have an unusual variety of events to follow.

London, March 22.—Herbert Synnot, the Irish-Australian heavyweight, who fought a fifteen-round draw with Joe Jeannette and was later defeated by Sam McVey, sailed for America to-day to seek a bout with "Gunboat" Smith, the Californian, who knocked out the English champion, Wells, in New York last week.

EASTERN HOCKEY CHAMPIONS WHO WILL PLAY VICTORIA FOR THE WORLD'S TITLE NEXT WEEK

Joe Malone. Joe Malone, the young captain of the Quebec team, is going better than ever this year. Although one of the highest scorers in the N. H. A., he is one of the most unselfish of players and has been most active in bettering the team play of the Quebecers. Joe was born in Quebec and is 22 years old. He is one of the trickiest centre ice men in the game. He played with Quebec Crescents in 1907, in the Junior league, and also in 1908, when that club won the championship; 1909 he played lacrosse with Quebec team which won the intermediate championship. The same year he played senior hockey with Quebec and the following summer played lacrosse with National, which won the intermediate championship. In 1910 he played hockey with Rocket Power, Eddie Outman and Jack McDonald for Waterloo, Ont., professionals. In 1911 he played for Quebec, and last year he was one of the chief factors in the winning of the Stanley Cup. He is a good baseball player as well.

Joe Hall. Joe Hall whose sterling game at defence contributed quite a lot to the winning of the cup last year is still a serious factor to be considered by any opposing team, and the moral effect of having him behind them always gives confidence to the forward line. Joe, like Joe Malone and Paddy Moran, resisted the tempting offers of the Patrick brothers, who succeeded in getting half the championship team out to the Pacific coast. There could be no better nucleus for a team than is provided by these three men who remained faithful to Quebec against all outside inducements. Joe is well known in senior hockey having played with the team of his home town, Brandon, and with Winnipeg and other western teams. He has been playing with the Quebec team for several seasons, and has demonstrated his ability not only as a good defence man, but also as the originator of many dangerous rushes. Joe is about 32 years old and looks good for several seasons yet.

Tommy Smith. Tommy Smith, who is one of the most useful assets as a goal getter on serious hockey for 6 years or more, but he belongs to a family of born hockey players. Starting the season of 1906 with the Ottawa Victorias in the Federal League he finished up with the Ottawas in the N. H. A. He then played with Pittsburg for a couple of years in the International League. After this he played with Halleybury and Branford and with Galt in the Ontario professional league. Last year he was the star of the Moncton Victorias who were champions of the Maritime Province Association. Tommy is one of the most scientific and hardworking players in the game to-day and the way he bores in head down is a treat to watch. He is an accurate shot and although used to playing in centre ice has filled the left wing position to a nicety this year, playing splendid combination with Malone.

Paddy Moran. Paddy Moran, the Quebec goal tend, has lost nothing of his skill and, to judge by the games he has put up this year, he was never more reliable. Paddy is a native-born Quebecer and is recognized as the best goaler in the N. H. A. to-day. He is about 34 years old, and is a graduate of the old Quebec-Crescents, intermediate champions in the early nineties. Paddy played on the Quebec team in 1904 when they won the senior championship. He also played with Halleybury and All-Montreal, some three seasons ago. But for a few seasons away from home he has played with Quebec since breaking into senior hockey.

Interesting facts concerning the building of the Russell-Knight "28"

Back of the fact that the Russell organization is the largest of its kind in Canada—and that the Russell-Knight "28" has been designed and manufactured complete in our own factory, one must take into consideration that it is an entirely new car.

While tradition and experience have had voice in its construction, old practice was not allowed to prejudice new ideas. Every device and feature was considered solely upon its merits, and then designed to give it a peculiar fitness for incorporation in this model.

As sole Canadian licensees for the Knight Engine, we were able to draw upon the combined engineering knowledge of all other licensees of this engine.

Mr. C. Y. Knight, the inventor, personally superintended the final development of his engine in this car, and since it is the latest and most perfect model, it may truthfully be said that the 1913 Russell-Knight is the latest production of a committee of the world's foremost automobile engineers. For Mr. Knight and his consulting engineers have access to the plants of all the European and United States licensees of his engine.

The significance of this to the man who buys a "28" lies in the fact that he will own a car that is so far advanced in construction, design and equipment, that it will be standard for years to come.

Men who demand the best in everything should not fail to investigate the Russell-Knight "28" before buying their 1913 car.

RASH ON FACE

HANDS AND ARMS

Skin Would Flake Over and Peel. Spots Large. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Has Not Had a Mark on Her Since. They Also Cured Mother of Pimples on Face.

878 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, Ont.—"My baby's trouble began as a rash and the skin used to sometimes peel off and look as if it were going to get better, but would just flake over again and peel. The spots were large and it used to make her face very red and inflamed all the time. It came on her face, hands and arms, and it used to make her restless at night. She got the rash in March and how I hated to see it on her little face and hands! I tried a lot of different things after that but nothing did any good. I saw the advertisement and sent for samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it started to get better right away. I used them only about once a day, and in little more than two weeks she had a spot on her anywhere. She had it three months before I used the treatment. She has not had a mark on her face and she is two and a half years old now. Cuticura Soap and Ointment also cured pimples on my face." (Signed) Mrs. McKnight, Jan. 8, 1912.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. GROUCHERS

A seven-year-old actor, Debus, who has been earning over $250 a year from a cinematograph company, refused to appear on the same stage as another child actor. The company asked in the courts for an injunction prohibiting him from using the name of Debus, which they regarded as their property, and from appearing in any cinematograph show before next June, under a penalty of $40 for each contravention. The 7-year-old star was legally represented and won his case.

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT

By RUTH CAMERON

"The world is too much with us; late and soon, getting and spending, we lay waste our powers."

—Wordsworth.

The other night long after I should have been sound asleep I was driven from my bed to the need of trying to express a mood which took possession of me.

If you don't like moods and never have them, please turn the page and read the stocks or the fashions or anything but this.

If you do have them, perhaps you will recognize your own experience.

It was at the close of a day in which I came into possession of a beautiful piece of furniture which I had long wanted. I was in a fever of delight and excitement all day long. I had it fitted into its place in the living-room; I viewed it from every angle; and then I called in the neighbors to rejoice with me, as country folks who have real neighbors, always do.

I went to bed still excited and on the heights and then the reaction came. This is what I wrote:

God keep us all from getting too much wrapped up in things.

God keep us from forgetting that there are other things in the world besides things.

"Let me remember that after all, these objects that I strive and work for are only the husks of reality.

I love pretty gowns. I love the rich soft silks and the fascinating embroideries and priceless laces. I revel in the glorious coloring of a beautiful fabric or the fine lines of well modelled garments. I want to own these lovely things.

I love beautiful homes; the dull richness of mahogany, the subdued silvery sheen of old rugs, the fascination of fine linen, the exquisite fragility of beautiful china start my heart strings tingling whenever I see them. I want to make my home beautiful with things like these.

But I do not want to forget in my love of these things that after all, kindness and wisdom, fidelity to beliefs, sympathy and truth and love, motherhood and intercourse with friends are far more beautiful than these material things—and more real.

There are times when the fever of possession gets into my blood; there are times when things shut out the real as the fog shuts out the ocean. And then, just when I am forgetting that there is a wonderful, eternal ocean, a corner of the fog lifts and I realize again that the things we give so much of our lives for are just forms.

And then again the fog comes back. Half of us is soul and half body. We never seem in danger of stifling the body, but the soul sinks all too easily into coma.

I think most of us need to pray every day—"God keep me from stifle that part of me that knows there is something besides things in the world."

And then again the fog comes back. Half of us is soul and half body. We never seem in danger of stifling the body, but the soul sinks all too easily into coma.

Two claims are made in behalf of the 1913 Kissel Kar, for which the Plymley Motor Company is the local agent, these being surpassing comfort and unlimited structural strength and endurance. The new Kissel Kar electric self-starter system is free from any hint of experimentalism, judging by the success which is experienced by the users. It is operated by a slight pressure of a foot lever, reliable in any extreme of weather such as was experienced during the past week, and with it there is guaranteed to be no possibility of back fire. The motor itself is exceptionally powerful, the cylinders being cast in pairs, while in the body-work of the car every attention has been devoted to the attainment of the greatest possible luxury at the least cost. Eleven inches of upholstery are built over the strongest form of piano springs manufactured, while the generous wheelbase of the car, the unusually wide tires, and a new shock-absorbing device practically insure absolute comfort. This year's models are a four-cylinder touring, semi-touring, and semi-racing model of thirty, forty and fifty horse-power, and six-cylinder and semi-racing model of fifty horse-power. The prices range from $1,700 to $3,150, coupe and limousine bodies costing slightly more. The Kissel firm has recently acquired a new factory at Milwaukee to supplement the parent plant at Hartford, Wisconsin, which is one evidence of the healthy condition of business in the main factory. In addition to this the Hartford plant has been enlarged by 40,000 square feet, and new agencies have recently been opened at Boston and St. Paul.

In the newest production of the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company, the Paige "36," for which E. J. Cameron, of the Sa' yard Building, is the local agent, is exemplified the care and foresight given by the manufacturers to those little things which add so much to the good reputation of a car. One the front seat, where the gasoline tank is placed in the majority of touring cars, can be used for storing wearing apparel, extra equipment and supplies when on long tours, or for carrying packages. Another advantage is that none of the occupants of the car are subjected to the annoyance and discomfort of leaving the car when it is necessary to re-fill the tank. When gasoline is taken aboard none of the passengers in the machine need leave his seat. It is not even necessary to remove the cushions as the whole operation can be performed by simply unscrewing the tank tap and filling there.

Western Motor Company. The Western Motor and Supply Company reports that a record shipment of automobiles and carriages of the McLaughlin brand has recently been shipped from the factory at Oshawa, Ontario. This consists of a complete trainload of 35 full freight cars containing no fewer than 650 vehicles, the total value of which is $130,000. The freight on this amounted to the sum of $7,548.47, which in itself provided quite an advertisement for the McLaughlin cars.

The above is claimed to be the first motor car. It was built by Siegfried Markus in 1875. The question, "Who Invented the Automobile?" seems to be answered seems to be answerable by the name of Siegfried Markus. He was born at Malchin, Mecklenburg in 1831.

machine enjoys a certain popularity, despite the fact that it is there competing in the market against the products of the leading French, German, Italian and English factories. The 1913 McLaughlin model in a combination of grey and black, is noticeably attractive, and is the best seller that the local agents have ever understood. A record of which the Ford Motor Company, for which the Wood Motor building 100,000 cars this season, is proud, is that in connection with a recent run made by a Ford car from St. Cloud, Minnesota, to San Francisco, Cal., a distance of 3,600 miles, which journey was accomplished on one set of tires, despite the fact that the roads were of the sandiest and roughest kind. The car used was purchased especially for the occasion, and was sold after reaching California, the driver having announced that the company intended building 100,000 cars this season, orders for cars have far exceeded the expectations of the manufacturers. When the announcement first appeared it was believed to be an unparagonable exaggeration, and was rarely quoted aright. But when, after the close of December, it was announced that more cars had been built and shipped during one month than during October, November and December combined, the hitherto incredulous had to desert their incredulity and take faith. December, however, was only a leading record, and on January 13 all previous records were discounted when, on this single day, 1,366 cars were completed and shipped out.

Vancouver Island Motor Company. Mr. and Mrs. John Drew, the former well-known actor now playing in "A Perplexed Husband," while visiting the centre of the automobile industry, recently purchased a handsome seven-passenger six-cylinder Hudson—a car for which the Vancouver Island Motor Co., View Street, is the local agent. Mr. Drew, Mr. Burman was informed in the letter which apprised him of the facts, told how he had the advantage of some of his rich friends who bought imported cars ranging in price up to $15,000. These, Mr. Drew stated, did not equal in performance the American cars. Mr. Drew had himself operated foreign-made automobiles for years, and last season became the owner of a 1912 Hudson—his first American car. This car, he said, had been in active service constantly throughout the spring, summer and autumn, and had run more than 7,000 miles with a single trouble—this being a blowout when the tires became worn.

In addition to this the Hartford plant has been enlarged by 40,000 square feet, and new agencies have recently been opened at Boston and St. Paul.

The above was the first automobile motor car building. The contrast between the racer and the antiquated specimens of twenty years ago affords a striking lesson of the manner in which the motor industry, led by the brightest mechanical geniuses of the world has developed. The feat of driving one hundred miles in sixty minutes has long been the "Holy Grail" of all auto speeders. It has at last been accomplished by a little British car—the Talbot—of only twenty-five horse power, which covered 103 miles 1,470 yards in exactly the hour. The performance is acknowledged by motorists the world over to be an epoch making one. The above pictures show the start, the "Talbot" at full speed, and the little car at the end of her wonderful spin.

1913 PAIGE 36

At Victoria $1700 At Victoria

Into the Lime-Light With a Bound

Inside of an hour after the arrival of the Paige 36 it was stamped a genuine sensation—an assured success.

In the face of the keenest competition the motor trade has ever known—bidding against cars long established—this car left its imprint RIGHT AWAY. It stands to reason that any car that makes people "sit up" nowadays is a real sensation.

The Paige 36 is doing just that. Hundreds of people come to our showroom following the announcement in the local newspapers that the Paige 36 had arrived.

City people, country people, single car buyers and agents—all classes were impatient to see this astonishing car. Territory was allotted fast to country dealers; orders were taken; the car's praises were sung on all sides.

And why? Simply because of the unheard-of value of this $1700 car. Men who know, say point blank that this Paige 36 will be one of the biggest sellers in 1913. In all our experience we have never seen such enthusiasm created by any single model. Our one regret is that our supply won't last. Live agents recognize this and are getting their orders in early.

The Paige 36 is a sensation. It gives people what they want for less than they expected to pay. Naturally, big sales result. It is as simple as two and two make four. We predict the biggest demand for this Paige 36 that any new model ever enjoyed.

Big power, long stroke motor, long wheelbase, 116 inches; Bosch ignition; Gray & Davis electric starting and lighting system; silent chain-driven motor gears (running in oil); speedometer, top, windshield, demountable rims, nickel mountings—really, is there any wonder this car, for $1700 creates a thrill of enthusiasm—of appreciation?

It is complete to the last detail. It has the strongest possible appeal. It isn't a small car—it's a big automobile. The high grade features (Bosch ignition, Gray & Davis starting and lighting system, three-point suspension, cork insert clutch, etc.) are in the car absolutely. The car is 100% per cent high grade throughout.

Never mind puzzling over "how can they do it for the price?" They have done it—the car is here. See it—study it—ride in it—analyze it. Try and grasp the idea that here is something new—the most astonishing car of the 1913 season.

NO PERIL NOW IN BUYING FIRST CAR

PREDECESSORS HAVE PAVED-WAY FOR NOVICES

Great Difference Between
Buying Car To-day and Same
Step Years Ago

"There are none of us so old that we do not remember our first important purchase," says a well-known motorist. "Whether it was a pocket knife or a suit of clothes, if our own money paid for it, we can all recall the pleasurable anticipation—the almost fierce joy—with which we awaited the approach of the momentous occasion. And even the disappointments and annoyances after experience if that first purchase was not up to our expectations fall to dim the delight in the sense of power and realized ambition which came when we laid down our money and walked away with our first independent, exclusive possession. Since men are 'but boys grown tall,' most of us have that same feeling of elation in the purchase of our first automobile. "There is one marked difference in the buying of a first automobile to-day and the same step a few years ago, however. It is that at the present time there is more of an unalloyed pleasure in the occasion than there was before.

Benefit of Experience. The natural development of the industry has robbed the first purchase of much of that sweetly painful after effect the pioneers were likely to know. To-day we have the benefit of the experiences of hundreds of thousands of our fellows in their first "buys," and, too, the honesty and conscientiousness of the manufacturer take much of the danger out of the operation.

"The first buyer of to-day can more readily take the word of the maker and his representatives as to the merits of the car. Dishonesty is no more tolerated in the marketing of motor cars to-day than in any other line. The embryo motor enthusiast nowadays must be practical, of course, as he is a grown-up boy; he must be alert, cunning, alert, awake to all the tricks of the trade; careful with his ways and means, and keenly alive to all the blandishments of the unduly optimistic salesman. It is being all these things that adds to the zest of the undertaking, but he need not be nearly so alert and on his guard as at some times in the past. His predecessors in the game have paved the way for him, and manufacturers and salesmen do not now regard him as legitimate prey, to be sold a car at all hazards and regardless of what he desires."

AUTO JOTTINGS.

The entire cost of maintaining the whole American navy is less every year than the sum spent for automobiles in the United States.

Seven automobiles are to be added this year to the extension equipment of the agricultural department of the University of Minnesota.

Motor enthusiasts in Canada are looking forward to the appearance of Thomas W. Wilby's book describing his first trip across Canada in an automobile. His last book of the kind—"Across the Trail to Sunset," written after a pathfinding journey across the United States—still finds a ready sale in western bookshelves.

TO HELP SEAMEN

Attractive Programme Will Be Given at Victoria Theatre to Raise Funds.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the Seamen's Institute, who are, by this means raising funds toward the new building which is to be erected in the near future, a first-class entertainment will be given at the Victoria theatre. For several weeks past the artists who are to take part in the vaudeville performance with which the first half of the programme is occupied, have been rehearsing almost daily, and this week the first rehearsals have been held in the theatre. These show the nature of the talent which has been gathered together for the occasion, and give ample testimony of the excellent training which is being given. The newest thing in dances and songs will be given by well known amateurs, while during the second half of the performance Mr. Hincks' amusing skit entitled "The River Styx, Limited," will occupy the boards. Eight of the well known figures of past ages re-appear under modern masks which will be as amusing as startling.

FAILS TO SECURE

LICENSE TRANSFER

Commissioners Decline to Change Saloon License to Bottle Permit

After a lengthy argument on Thursday afternoon the license commissioners declined the application of F. A. McDiarmid, in behalf of Mr. Jackson, for a change of the saloon license held by the Steele saloon, Bastion square, to a bottle license at the Union Bank building, View street, on the ground that they had not the power to do so. They also laid over a further application to have the license transferred to the proposed premises in the same form as it exists to-day, pending a plan of the premises to be furnished by the commission.

City Solicitor Robertson and Public Prosecutor Harrison opposed the application for the city. The former mentioned that the commissioners could not grant any additional licenses if they so desired, having more licenses than the act permits.

Mr. McDiarmid relied on the fact that a saloon license included in its scope the power of selling liquor by bottle, and they proposed merely to surrender the right of selling by glass in the new premises. He alluded to cases where past boards had made similar transfers conditionally, and mentioned Kirkeham's store, and the change license of the old Colonist hotel to the James Bay hotel as cases in point.

Mr. Robertson took the lines that to establish another bottle license would be to create a new license, which was impossible on account of a surplus of licenses now. He held that the commissioners were not bound by the acts of their predecessors.

The commissioners agreed they had no power to make the transfer in the way suggested, and as regards the application to grant a transfer on similar lines to the Union Bank premises, the rules of the court, which require a plan to be lodged first, were raised successfully.

The case will come up again at an adjourned meeting in about ten days' time.

Mr. Harrison indicated that there would be a number of petitions from temperance people about the concentration of licenses in this section of the city.

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day. While unobscureable anonymous communications will be published the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

SERVICE THE THING.

To the Editor: I read with interest Mr. Redfern's letter in which he speaks so highly of Mr. Dowler's ability, and I agree with both Mr. Redfern and the Times that Mr. Dowler should have a square deal. As to the rights and wrongs of the case, I know nothing, and therefore would not venture to express an opinion. What I am about to say does not apply to anyone in particular, and if the shoe does not fit it need not be worn.

It frequently happens that men who have been long in one position grow careless in the discharge of their duties, and if any looseness is allowed matters only go from bad to worse. Sometimes such employees come to a pass where they regard their services as indispensable, and when that occurs their usefulness is at an end. Every man and woman serving the city should give full value for the money received just the same as if working for a private firm, and if the city service is to be efficient absolute discipline must be maintained. Every employee should be at his post sharp on time, and be fully employed up till the hours for closing. In no case should three people be employed to do work which could be handled by two. Every employee, no matter what his position, who is unwilling to conform to rules as to hours should be dismissed, because a few such cases if allowed to exist are quite enough to break down the discipline of the city service.

In the provincial service there are many employees who do nothing to earn the salary they receive, and the people are growing very tired of the McRide-Bowser so-called administration. If Mr. Morley can keep the city service clean, and if he carries out the duties of his office without fear or favor he will continue to hold the support of all right-thinking citizens.

TO PROTEST APPOINTMENT

Deputations Will Wait on Saanich Council as to Engineer's Appointment.

The situation with regard to the appointment of C. H. Topp as municipal engineer of Saanich by a majority vote at a special meeting of the council last week will be challenged this afternoon, deputations from Wards I and III, having decided to send deputations to urge reconsideration.

The appointment was made by a majority of one, and it was known that opposition would develop outside. The majority declare that their decision was based on the fact that Mr. Topp is already familiar with the work, as consulting engineer during the past two years, and also that the net offer made by him was less than any competing engineer.

The subject will lead to a lively discussion on the matter.

Linnaeus named it
Theobroma
Meaning "Food of the Gods"

In 1720, Linnaeus named the cocoa tree, "Theobroma Cacao," thus perpetuating the Mexican characterization of cocoa as "Food of the Gods".

The title is well deserved, for properly made cocoa is a delicious beverage. And, outside of milk, cocoa is the only every-day beverage that has a pronounced nutritive value.

While tea and coffee are often refreshing, they are far too often injurious.

Good cocoa, on the other hand, is never injurious, always refreshing and always nourishing.

Lowney's Cocoa is made from the finest flavored and most costly beans that the tropics afford—in a cocoa factory (in Montreal) that is not surpassed the world over for neatness and up-to-dateness of equipment.

Sold by grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

MR. TIMOTHY M'GRATH. 180 Atlantic Ave., Montreal, March 1, 1912.

"For years, I suffered from Rheumatism, being unable to work for weeks at a time and spent hundreds of dollars on doctor's medicines, besides receiving treatment at Notre Dame Hospital, where I was informed that I was incurable. I was discouraged when a friend advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

A. Johnstone, grand master, on Friday evening next, will meet on Wednesday evening next at 8 o'clock to arrange details. Victoria lodge, No. 1, being the first lodge instituted in British Columbia, will do honor to the grand master by holding a special meeting on Friday evening, March 28.

A large number of members have signified their intention of accompanying the grand master to Duncan on Saturday, March 23, where he will officiate at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new I. O. O. F. Hall.

This event is being looked forward to with much interest by a large number of members, and there is no doubt it will prove a success in every way. The ball will be held in the Alexandra Club hall on Friday evening, April 4.

On account of the visit of the grand master next Friday evening, the regular meeting of the canton has been postponed. About twenty members of this popular branch of the order will accompany the grand master to Duncan, and will assist in the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the new hall at that place.

A meeting of the board was held last night, and the members of the various lodges will hear very important reports read at the meetings during the coming week.

Cohrt Camosun, No. 233, A. O. F., held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, March 18. It being quarter night there was a very large attendance. After the usual business, the members had a most enjoyable time, as Bro. Mann had a splendid programme of music and song.

Queen City Chapter, No. 5, order of the Eastern Star, will hold a social dance next Wednesday evening, in the new Knights of Pythias hall, North Park street. The arrangement will be excellent. There will be a short session of the chapter, but dancing will commence at 8 p. m.

Young Scaper (amateur violinist)—Did you notice that kid crying while I was playing my sonata? Friend Yes, and I spoke to him. He said your playing reminded him of the old days when he was happy. Was he a violinist? No, he used to rise pigs.

I. O. O. F. Monday—Victoria lodge, No. 1. Tuesday—Colfax Rebekah lodge, No. 1. Wednesday—Columbia lodge, No. 2. Thursday—Dominion lodge, No. 4. Friday—Special meeting Victoria lodge, No. 1.

General Relief Committee. The reports from the members of this committee on Monday evening last proved most satisfactory, as the various members of the order on the sick list were all reported progressing favorably.

Victoria Lodge, No. 1. It was with much pleasure that the members of this lodge greeted Bro. Gowler, P.G., and T. Brayshaw, P.G., at the meeting on Monday evening last. Both brothers have been on the sick list for some weeks.

The second degree was conferred upon four candidates at the last meeting, and the team work was very satisfactory. Bro. G. Thompson, in the absence of Thos. Hubbard, P. G., assumed the duties of team captain, and proved a most competent substitute.

There was a somewhat larger attendance than usual at the camp meeting last Tuesday evening, which was very gratifying to the officers. The second degree was conferred upon several candidates in a very satisfactory manner.

Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1. This lodge will hold a short business session next Tuesday evening, and immediately after the close of the lodge, a Dutch auction will take place. This is a new form of entertainment for the members of Colfax lodge, and the committee is of the opinion that it will prove a success.

The candidates who received their second degree in this lodge last Wednesday evening, will not soon forget it, as it was exemplified in a manner quite out of the ordinary. Only a close observer could distinguish the one small break which occurred, and though in a very critical period of the work, it did not detract to a very great extent from the ultimate successful presentation.

The team captain of the lodge is already preparing for the coming competition, and the members assigned them. The third degree will be exemplified next Wednesday evening.

The initiatory degree was conferred upon several candidates last Thursday evening by the degree team. The first degree will be exemplified next Thursday.

There has been some little talk among the members of this lodge lately about the intention of Bro. F. C. Dillabough resigning his post as team captain. Such a step on the part of the team captain would be the cause of deep regret to the members, and the hope has been freely expressed that he will retain the office.

The committee in charge of arrangements for suitably receiving Bro. W.

Conservative observers declared, after the first sale of Prince Rupert lots, that the prices obtained were ridiculous and that the buyers would be a long time in re-selling.

Green Room

Navy Pictures.
The navy is the paramount question of the day wherever the brave old Union Jack is flown, and in the exclusive moving picture series "Our Empire Navy," exhibited at the Victoria theatre this evening and Monday, with matinees, stirring scenes of life in the British navy are depicted. A boy's career is followed from the time he leaves home until he is seen engaging in actual warfare. There can be no better way of inculcating the great lessons to be learned from Britain's wonderful heritage of sea power. Popular prices have been agreed upon so that every citizen may have an opportunity of witnessing the vivid and realistic pageant of Britain's glorious first line of defence.

Empress Theatre.
The Empress programme scheduled for the coming week promises to eclipse former efforts of the management. First is Aknes Kayne, who puts on her comedy acts and some of her performance are declared to be perfect. The Wyles, Australians, with bull and stock whip, offer a novelty on the vaudeville stage John wood, her erring brother will be played by Mr. Holasco, and Mr. Howland will appear as the detective lover. Byron Allend will interpret the role of Dr. Leslie and Mr. Ripley will be Noah Alott, and Miss Rice the woman criminal, Kate Burke.

William H. Crane.
"The Senator Keeps House" is from the pen of Marthos Morton, and has been declared by the critics and public to be one of the best straight comedy offerings in which Mr. Crane has appeared. Mr. Crane's role, that of Sir Christopher Larkin, of the Northwest, is a typical Crane part, wholesome and whimsical. Though the action is centred in Washington, and there is a political flavor to the story, it has nothing to do with politics in a broader sense and is, if anything, more a domestic incident framed by the larger affairs of state. Mr. Crane is seen as a United States Senator, a character that he previously made entirely his own and he offers another striking portrait in his realization of this mimetic representative from the Northwest. The original production and company will come with Mr. Crane when he appears in this city.

AGNES KAYNE Who will be seen at the Empress Theatre next week.

WRITER IS A LIAR SAYS MME. BERNHARDT

Actress Denies She Enjoyed Automobile Accident; Placards Los Angeles

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, who was so badly injured in an automobile accident at Los Angeles that she was forced to cancel her appearances at the Orpheum theatre for a day, does not like a newspaper to say that she "enjoys" such affairs. As a result, an unusual poster appeared on the billboards in Los Angeles. The poster read as follows:
"An open letter to the public: An article appeared Thursday morning in a Los Angeles newspaper. The article is entitled, 'And She Enjoyed It' and is unsigned, but I hereby declare that it has been written by a liar and a coward."
SARAH BERNHARDT.
M. Marcotona, Mme. Bernhardt's personal manager, explained that the distinguished actress took exception to the article.
"She did not approve of it," he said, "and took this method of expressing her disapproval. If any of the posters have been defaced or altered up, I have not heard of it."

WHISKY HOLDS ITS VICTIMS.

Until Released by Wonderful Samaria Prescription.

Liquor sets up inflammation and irritation of the stomach and weakens the nerves. The steady or periodical (spree) drinker is often forced to drink even against his will by his unnatural physical condition.
Samaria Prescription stops the craving, steadies the nerves, builds up the general health and makes drink actually distasteful and nauseous. It is tasteless and odorless and can be given with or without the knowledge of the patient.
Thousands of Canadian homes have been saved from misery and disgrace by some devoted wife, mother or daughter through this wonderful Canadian remedy. The money formerly wasted in drink has restored happiness, home comforts, education and respect to the families formerly in want and despair.
Read the following, one of the numerous unsolicited testimonials received:
"I can never repay you for your remedy. It is worth more than life to me. My husband has been offered liquor several times, but would not touch it. He said it had no charm for him now. May God's choice blessings ever rest on you and yours as my prayers ever. No one knows it but those who have tried it. As soon as I can I will see others - that I know would give anything to stop their husbands from drink. I will give them your address."
Mrs. K. Dewinton, Alta.
(Name withheld on request.)
Now, if you know of any family needing this remedy, tell them about it. If you have any friend or relative who has formed or is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its awful clutches. Samaria Prescription is used by physicians and hospitals.
A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet, giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence sagaciously confidential. Write to-day.

POPULAR ENGLISH SINGERS COMING

Mme. Clara Butt and Kennerly Rumbold are probably two of the most widely-known singers in England to-day. On every Good Friday afternoon for some years past not less than 25,000 persons have crowded into the Crystal Palace, the home of the Handel Festivals, to hear the great contralto singer, the stilled hush and rapt attention with which her sacred solos are received being followed at their conclusion by wonderful outbursts of cheering and applause. Her annual concerts in the Royal Albert Hall and Queen's Hall are occasions when the public once more have the opportunity of which they always avail themselves, it need scarcely be added - of hearing Mme. Butt and her husband, and the wonderful voice of the former, which is the admiration of musicians and music-lovers the world over, is one of the most familiar to the British concert-goer.

"Little Miss Brown"
One of those kaleidoscopic farces in which the wrong woman is pitted against the right one, and the irascible husband is kept rushing to banging doors, and everything goes astray for the lack of one explanatory word, with an abundance of charm, drollery and clean-cut humor, are the component parts that make "Little Miss Brown," which will be seen shortly at the Victoria theatre, a welcome guest wherever this demure little personage happens to visit. Madge Kennedy, the youngest leading lady that ever embellished Broadway, plays the leading role. The cast includes William Morris, a comedian favorably known here.

Majestic Theatre.
"A Will and a Way" is the eighth of the series of "What Happened to Mary." Mary undertakes to get an old man's signature despite the son's opposition. She is ejected from the house once but gets back again by a ruse. Meanwhile the son has set fire to the house and Mary, after obtaining the signature, is barely rescued from the frenzied youth by a fireman. "The Fire Coward." There is a revenue officer who loves the sister of the three "wild-cat" whiskey-makers. "The Female Detective" is a drama. "Importing Cattle," a short educational picture. "Identical Identities," a full reel of Esau's comedy. "Warwick Chronicle" shows us pictures of the heavy floods in the Thames Valley, miles of land under water. Votes for Women, Suffragist demonstration outside the House of Commons. 2,000 police guarding the approaches. Other items to-day.

"The Concert"
David Belasco presents "The Concert," the clever and successful comedy, at the Victoria theatre at an early date. "The Concert" began this season at the Belasco theatre just as it did last season. The same great cast headed by Less Eltingstein, who adapted the play for the American stage - that presented the play in New York will be seen here.

CHINESE GENERAL IS KILLED BY MISTAKE

Shanghai, March 22.—General Sung, a former Chinese minister of education, died to-day from the effects of wounds he received on March 20, when an attempt was made to assassinate him at the railroad station.

Before his death General Sung received a letter telling him that he had been shot by mistake instead of General Huang Sing, commander-in-chief of Southern Fu Kien, who also was in the station at the time. The writer hoped that General Sung would have perpetual rest.

WILL PROVIDE THE NECESSARY SPACES

Pressure on School Accommodation to Be Relieved

FOUR TENT SCHOOLS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

Worst Cases Are to Receive Board's Immediate Attention

Boarded tents are to be installed at four of the city schools, Quadra street, Hillside, North Ward and Central, to relieve the pressure on accommodation. This arrangement was reached at a special meeting of the school board on Thursday, at which a report was read from the building and grounds committee.

Before the report was read, Superintendent Paul stated that it was necessary to take immediate steps. The trustees reviewed how the situation stood, and the opinion of the inspector was also common knowledge. At Hillside there were 210 pupils under three teachers, and four rooms available. They needed two more teachers there after Easter. At the North Ward school every room was full, and one room was badly needed. The same applied to the Boys' Central school. One room was wanted at this school. All these were immediate needs. Other schools had too many pupils to the divisions. He said it was feasible to place temporary buildings at the grounds of the North Ward school, and at the Hillside school.

Temporary Building. The trustees favored a temporary building at the Quadra street site for plumbing, which would cost $400, but which would be permanent when the brick building was constructed in future.

Superintendent Paul felt that a primary class would afford relief at this point.

Trustee Riddell stated that the trustees had pledged themselves to do something to relieve the situation at the north end, and they must do something on the North Quadra street site. Capt. McIntosh favored a light frame building on this site, which was recently acquired by the board.

The board works' superintendent, E. Fairley, said the school of this character could be erected in 45 days. It would be of use for the next two years. The plans of the proposed tents were then presented. They showed a somewhat substantial character for this class of light building.

Cost of Work. The report was as follows: The building and grounds committee having investigated the providing of temporary accommodation, recommend as follows:

"That four temporary buildings with canvas covered walls and non-combustible roof, be constructed at the North Ward, Hillside and Quadra street grounds, and one at Central school grounds forthwith, accommodating some 200 pupils at an approximate cost of $2,500.

"The buildings and grounds committee undertakes to cut down, if necessary, its estimate of repairs contemplated for the year to the extent of the expenditure above mentioned, in order that this more necessary accommodation may be secured at once. The floors of these structures are to be made in sections so that the buildings can be removed to another location from time to time as may be required.

"The finance committee having considered the matter of funds for the proposed temporary structures, and taking into account the responsibility resting upon the board under section 45 of the Public School Act, recommend as follows:

"(1) That the city council be advised forthwith of the intention of the board to proceed with the construction of four structures with canvas covered walls and malthoid covered roof, at an approximate total cost of $2,500, to accommodate some 200 children who would otherwise be without school facilities after the Easter vacation.

No Blame. (2) That the present congestion is entirely due to the delay of starting Burnside school and Oakland school, for which no blame can be attached to the school board.

(3) That the proposed structures will be constructed so that they can be removed to another location as soon as they have served their present purpose, and they can easily be converted into frame buildings should future occasion require. The board undertakes to cut down expenses on ordinary account for the present year by the $2,500 above mentioned, and further, will arrange so that with the exception of some $300 for labor there will be no demand on the city treasury on account of the above expenditure for some two or three months.

A visit to the Fisguard street school, so that the improvements necessary there could be seen, was decided upon.

The Best in Town.—That will be your verdict regarding our new Spring Hats for men, at the Red Arrow store, J. N. Harvey, Ltd., 614 Yates Street.

Parting advice to his daughters in regard to money was given at the end of the will by Charles William Miles, of Rosery, Blossomfield, Solihull, Warwickshire, who left estate of $13,966 gross. He stated: "I solemnly make this parting injunction that none of my daughters shall ever be lured by any man, male or female, of lending any money to anybody, male or female."

BOTH MASTERS HELD LIABLE FOR ACCIDENT

Half of Loss of Noname Must Be Borne by Iroquois Court Decides

The damage resulting from the collision in the Fraser river between the S. S. Iroquois (Captain Carter) and the Noname (Captain Barberie), on October 22, 1911, has been directed by Mr. Justice Martin to be borne equally by the two vessels, which means in this case that the Iroquois must pay one-half of the damage of the Noname because no evidence was given of any damage to the Iroquois. Liability is ascribed to both masters by Mr. Justice Martin, who says in part:

"It is proved by the evidence of the master and mate of the Noname that though they heard a vessel approaching them almost, if not quite, right ahead through the fog for five or six minutes before they sighted her, they took no other precautions than to continue to sound the fog signal.

"No valid reason was given for the failure of the Noname to stop her engine and then navigate with caution; the suggestion of her master that he did not do so because the barge astern would sheer and become more difficult to handle is inadmissible in the circumstances, because there was nothing in wind, tide or weather conditions to prevent him from at least reducing his speed to what would be the lowest possible speed consistent with safety of tug and tow in the circumstances, even if it were not practicable to let the way run entirely off the tow and come to a standstill. To escape liability, it must be shown that the movement was not more than was necessary, but no attempt was made to establish this. The truth is, according to his own testimony, that he mistook the fog whistle of the Iroquois for that of a small boat, and took dangerous chances which contributed to the collision.

"Indeed, the man at the wheel, Williams, testified that they had heard the Iroquois for twenty minutes on their port bow, and she had whistled at least four times from that point. On the other hand, I am unable to accept the excuse offered on behalf of the Iroquois for running at such a speed, which cannot be called moderate in the circumstances."

ENJOYS FISHING AND SHOOTING AFTER BEING INVALID IN BED

GIN PILLS Brought Strength Back Again To New Brunswick Sportsman

Kidney and Bladder trouble may quickly bring you to the sad state Alex. W. Stevenson was in. He was an invalid using a crutch and cane for sixteen months. In this state he sought and found relief in GIN PILLS. Now he goes shooting and fishing as of yore.

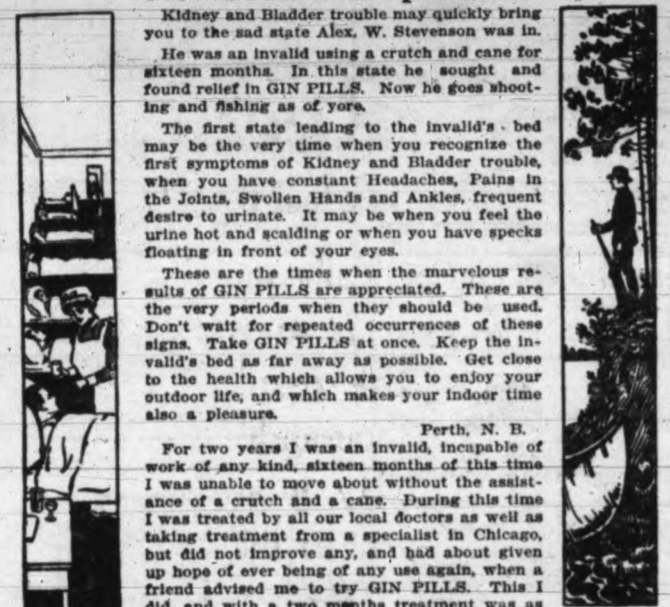

The first state leading to the invalid's bed may be the very time when you recognize the first symptoms of Kidney and Bladder trouble, when you have constant Headaches, Pains in the Joints, Swollen Hands and Ankles, frequent desire to urinate. It may be when you feel the urine hot and scalding or when you have specks floating in front of your eyes.

These are the times when the marvelous results of GIN PILLS are appreciated. These are the very periods when they should be used. Don't wait for repeated occurrences of these signs. Take GIN PILLS at once. Keep the invalid's bed as far away as possible. Get close to the health which allows you to enjoy your outdoor life, and which makes your indoor time also a pleasure.

Perth, N. B. For two years I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind, sixteen months of this time I was unable to move about without the assistance of a crutch and a cane. During this time I was treated by all our local doctors as well as taking treatment from a specialist in Chicago, but did not improve any, and had about given up hope of ever being of any use again, when a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS. This I did, and with a two months treatment was as well as ever I was. This was four years ago, and I have had no return of my trouble since.

I still use a box or two a year as a preventative and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the Spring and Fall, and lay out on the ground at night without any inconvenience. It is a wonderful medicine and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from Rheumatism.

PICTURES IN PARLIAMENT AND ELSEWHERE

By H. F. GADSBY Copyrighted

Ottawa, March 12.—The next time Winston Spencer Churchill writes a letter to Premier Borden he will call for a map of Canada and a Canadian Year Book and Frank Yeigh's Five Thousand Facts About Canada, with a view to posting himself on our geography and resources before he ventures to take his pen in hand. This will be a good thing for Winston Churchill, whom it will greatly enlighten, and a good thing for constitutional government in the overseas dominions, which is apt to suffer when a British statesman goes off at half-cock.

You can picture Winston Churchill at his desk in the Admiralty, putting his back into the task of learning Canada, so that he will know what he is talking about when he goes beyond his duty of answering questions and offers advice that Canada did not ask for. Through his office window he can see the Mall, with Buckingham Palace at the end of the vista, his fashionable friends automobiling in the park, but the gay scene beckons him in vain. He runs his fingers through the thin portion of hair which graces an otherwise bald head, humps his swarthy-Atlas shoulders and settles down to his books. The great Churchill mind, once interested in our statistics, soaks them up as fast as a recruiting sergeant soaks beer. The First Lord—so called because only Providence is more important—wonders why he never looked us up before.

"My word!" he mutters. "This Canada is a great country. It must be five thousand miles wide and heaven knows how long. Um, um! Looks as if we could lose the United Kingdom in western Ontario, and they have some thing left over then. Mountains, too, mountains twelve thousand feet high, and we haven't a hill in England that I can't spit over! Rivers, well, well! They won't have to dredge them in order to launch battleships. The Tyne looks skimpy beside the St. Lawrence—eh, what? The Fraser—it's some river, too! There would be no real difficulty about harbors and dockyards. We must quit patronizing the Canadian scenery. I'll bring it up in the House. The British tourist who thinks he can condescend to the Rocky Mountains is an ass, a hally ass."

The First Lord goes back to his map, one of those elaborate volumes turned out by the Interior Department, which classifies everything we have and tells just where to find it and how to get at it, with illustrations like a daily fever chart. "What's that?" The First Lord muses. "Nova Scotia, Ah, yes, exactly, er—Nova Scotia, iron, coal, close together. Steel works at Sydney, C. B. I'm not surprised. British Columbia, too—mountains of iron, mountains of coal. Um, er, coal developed; iron, not. A battleship plant would change that. Raw materials convenient—um—er what's to prevent? Ah, ah! Sudbury—Sudbury—Copper Cliff—90 per cent of the world's supply of nickel. Gad—I'd overlooked that. We couldn't build a single dreadnought without Canadian nickel. By Jove! These colonial brighters could abolish war if they liked. All they'd have to do would be to put an export duty on nickel. That'd get rid of the German menace jolly quick. The Canadian must never get wise to that. What would the armor-plate ring say? Besides, think of our investment in battleship plants and the wages to British workmen and the naval tradition and, er, all that, don't you know? Perhaps it would be better to let some of the shipbuilding go out of the country after all. No, we mustn't hog the business. Let Canadians get some of the profits. Nickel. My word! It's lucky I chanced on that."

Wiping his brow, the First Lord goes on with his musings. "Over seven million people; four hundred thousand pouring in every year, half of 'em British. Must be riveters and ship-builders and sailors among 'em. Besides, there's Newfoundland and the Maritime Provinces and British Columbia. Where there's so much water there must be swimming. Good phrase that—I must remember it. Make a note of it, 'swimming.' I'll try it on Lord Charles Bercosford—stilly old ass. What's this? Revenue one hundred and sixty-four millions, and expanding. And I said they couldn't afford a navy of their own! What do you think of that?"

Whereupon the First Lord of the Admiralty pushes button No. 1 and the permanent secretary appears. "Who," asks the First Lord with the Churchill glare in his blue eye, "larded me up the wrong way on that last memorandum to Premier Borden?"

The permanent secretary replies to the effect that it was Reginald Lionel Jones, or some name like that, adding, perhaps, that Jones is a bright young chap just out of Oxford, with a keen interest in colonial affairs, and a distant relation to Lord Fitzclarence, through whose influence he holds his job as first class clerk in the Admiralty Department. "But it doesn't save Jones's bacon. I have no wish," says the First Lord, to offend Lord Fitzclarence or any other of the ruling families, but I simply cannot be put in Dutch with misleading information. Reginald Lionel is fired and will stay fired until the Unionists come back or I change my mind."

Then Winston Spencer Churchill sits down and dictates this cablegram: "Borden—House of Commons, Ottawa a friendly note of the memorandum business. Plenty of trouble here with the suffragettes, the syndicalists, the red hand of Ulster, Honor Law, Max Aitken and others. Run your own show. Churchill."

All of which is fiction, of course, but none the less a desirable course of action in a British statesman who is keen on keeping the Empire together. The British Empire, as Sir George Reid points out, is very much like the solar system, where all the planets circle in a friendly way around the sun. Any attempt to bring these self-governing planets closer together would make a frightful mess of interstellar space. The highlanders of Empire should stop a minute and think this over. Luckily, Winston Churchill's letters are not so bad as all that. They are to Canada what David Harum says fleas are to a dog—they keep us from brooding and stir up lively thoughts which are all the better for brisk, fearless utterance. If the First Lord of the Admiralty will be more careful hereafter about his correspondence with the overseas states, giving only the data asked for and cutting out the advice, everybody will be happier and Premier Borden won't have to come to his defence so often. Besides, there is a great deal to be said for the Hon. Charles Murphy's views. Ill-considered letters tend to diminish our respect for British public men and take away the enchantment that distance lends. When a British cabinet minister thinks of writing a letter to any of the overseas dominions it is a good rule to pause and count a hundred before he does it. The chances are then that he won't do it at all. This forbearance is much better than crowding the North Sea with so many dreadnoughts that they will trip over each other.

Meanwhile the debate rages on and much two-o'clock-in-the-morning courage is shown in making speeches which tell how far we have strayed from the spirit of the Fathers of Confederation. By the way, I looked up the navy debate of 1885, and found there this debate all over again—emergency, secret documents, confidential letters, the same old bag of tricks. Which goes to prove what the Hon. Charles Murphy contends, that this naval contribution not only halts the march of home rule, but actually retraces our steps. At this moment we are as far on the back road as 1865.

No election, says the government. The Borden budget of 1911 is not to be fouted by trying to again in 1913. A change of luck is the last thing the outfit of stand-patters wants. So far the debate has not jarred the government loose, but it has served a good purpose in letting England know just how spontaneous the gift is, not to mention making it impossible for any Canadian government in its senses to contemplate a permanent policy of three dreadnoughts a year.

HEADACHY, BILIOUS, UPSET? "CASCARETS"

It's Your Inactive Liver and Bowels—You Need Cascares Sure.

You're bilious, you have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and intestines can be quickly cured by morning with gentle, thorough cascares—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascares, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

Themistocles, it is said, declared that his son was the strongest man in Greece. "For," said he, "the Athenians rule the Hellespont. I rule the Athenians, your mother rules me, and you rule your mother."

REASONS FOR INVESTING IN DOUGLAS INDUSTRIAL SUBDIVISION

- 1st.—It faces the widest and best street in the city, affording easy access of delivery wagons to all parts of the city when delivering the products of the factories, coal bunkers, wood yards, etc., which will operate there. BECAUSE this district is set apart by the city for these purposes.
 - 2nd.—The price is not one-third of what the buyer of any factory site would gladly pay.
 - 3rd.—The profit to the present purchaser will be greater than upon that of any in the city.
- Call now for plans, prices, etc. More than one-quarter of the 52 lots are already sold.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Your prospects will be improved by a little more attention to the changing standards of modern times, and a careful study of details which are now left to others. A journey or change is in store for you which promises good fortune.

Those born to-day will be too fond of frivolity to give serious attention to anything worth while. This tendency should be allowed to run itself out early in life, for too much restraint will only strengthen it. Shallowness is easily understood if seen from the inside and explained without harshness by those who are not shallow.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

Upon this day in 1811 a company of Canadian clerks and voyageurs, chiefly of Scotch blood, safely ended a remarkable journey from Montreal to Astoria, on the Pacific coast. They had been engaged by John Jacob Astor (founder of the family of multi-millionaires) to trade for his new "Pacific Fur Company." The party went, by Lake Champlain and the Hudson, in a great canoe to New York. There they went aboard the Tonquin, commanded by a somewhat stern captain—Thorn. The rollicking ways of the traders disgusted him, and at length they deliberately mystified him by their long conversations in Gaelic into the belief that they were ready to mutiny. On Christmas Day they doubled Cape Horn, and, after calling at the Sandwich Islands, reached the mouth of the Columbia on March 22. A fort, which they named Astoria, was built. Then the Tonquin, heritable captain quarrelled with the natives, and in a fierce fight most of the white men were slain. Finally the ship's clerk, severely wounded, invited a crowd of Indians on board and blew up the vessel. The only survivors of the crew were afterwards captured and killed; and it was an Indian interpreter who carried the gruesome news to Astoria.

SHORTHAND—The rapid and perfect system.

SHORTHAND—The rapid and perfect system based on the world-renowned Pitman's; the great demand for stenographers from this school enables the principal to guarantee positions to every pupil at the end of three months; easy monthly payments (the Rapid Simplified Pitman's system taught individually by expert English teachers at the Royal Stenographic School, 48-49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

SIR JOHN JACKSON ARRIVES IN CITY

Contractor for New Breakwater Here in Conference With His Engineers

Sir John Jackson, the engineer-contractor, who is to build the breakwater at the outer harbor, arrived here with a party of friends last evening. He was met by Mr. Brookes, the engineer who has charge of this project, and who was also in charge of the work carried out at Simonstown. Sir John is here to investigate conditions and make arrangements for the active construction of the breakwater, which is to be rushed to completion. This morning he was out to inspect the site, and was in conference with his engineers.

He is a member of parliament in England, having represented Devonport since 1910, as a Unionist. He was a member of the royal commission which investigated conditions in the South African war. He is an ardent yachtsman and motorist, and is a member of several yacht clubs in the Old Country. Personally Sir John is a rather spare man, of medium height, and brimful of energy. He gives the impression of succeeding by concentration and constant application to the problems in hand.

The work in the outer harbor will be slightly delayed by the fact that the machinery used at Singapore, which was to be used here, was carried on to Tacoma on the Blue Funnel liner Ixion, and will not be unloaded here for another week. Meanwhile some preliminary work has been done for the commencement of active construction within a few weeks.

South Wales tinplate manufacturers approved a proposal to limit the output of tinplate in view of the unsatisfactory conditions of the trade due to the war. In the near east, a committee was appointed to decide upon a percentage of mills that should be stopped. Clouds are simply masses of vapor of more or less density, and their different colors are produced by the light of the sun shining on and through them. The back usually seen on the under side of the white or pink-edged clouds is the shadow of the body of vapor or the absence of light on the under side of the cloud.

CONDUCTOR HELD UP BY THREE FOOTPADS

Masked Men Robbed Ernest C. Foulds in Douglas Street Early Friday Morning

NO POLICEMAN APPEARED IN ANSWER TO SHOUTS

Detectives Have Arrested Many Vagrants in Hope of Finding Right Men

Further evidence of the desperate nature of the gang of criminals which is operating in Victoria was given when shortly after Thursday midnight Ernest C. Foulds, conductor on the Burnside line of the British Columbia Electric Railway, was held up by three masked men, gagged, bound and robbed of $25 and his watch.

The hold-up occurred in Douglas street between Hillside avenue and Burnside avenue, opposite the factory of the Woodworkers, Limited. Foulds was walking home from work along the west side of the street and just as he was opposite a field full of bushes two hands seized him from behind, one covering his mouth and nose and the other pressing on his throat. A second man tripped up his feet, and while these two carried him in among the bushes a third tied his hands behind his back.

The largest man, who first seized Foulds by the throat, continued to hold one hand over his mouth and nose and with the other hand held a knife at his neck and hold him he would slit his throat if he struggled or cried out.

Took Everything.
The man who had used the rope then went through the conductor's pockets and removed everything. His change belt he could not unfasten, so another knife was brought into requisition and the belt was cut off. Every conductor carries $25 which he must have in his possession in either cash or tickets. Foulds had five dollars worth of tickets, which are perfectly negotiable, and $20. His watch was also taken.

While the footpads were going through his pockets steps were heard passing in the street and the three robbers dropped suddenly, one of them digging his knee violently in Foulds' stomach. As soon as the steps ceased to sound the big man said, "Beat it." One man went down the street and the other two crossed the field, all running swiftly.

Foulds was by this time almost unconscious from loss of air through the footpad holding his nose and digging his knee in his stomach. He lay for some minutes before he was able to get up. Then he went over to the Woodworkers' factory but failed to awaken the watchman with his kicking. He walked towards the city and met a man, but the rope was tied so tightly about Foulds' hands that the stranger could not unfasten the bonds. Within two or three minutes, however, three street car men came along and they cut the rope off.

No Officer.
All five men went back to the scene of the robbery and picked up the conductor's cap and punch. Nothing else was found. It was by this time half past one, and the robbery had taken place at 12.25. In all this time not a policeman had appeared on the scene although Foulds had shouted and made as much noise as possible, pounding on the doors of the Woodworkers' factory. Foulds next went to the police station, where he met two detectives, and they went back to the scene of the robbery. The only additional discovery made was the other end of the rope, which had been tied about Foulds' hands. This was picked up between Hillside avenue and the Gorge road in Douglas street, where the thief had evidently dropped it in his flight. The place where the robbery occurred is peculiarly suited to the purpose for a variety of reasons. One street car man who has gone over this piece of road every night for 18 months on his way home said this morning that he had never seen a policeman in all that time. This fact was evidently known to the footpads. The bushes in the field come so closely up to the walk that although Foulds looked around just a moment before the robbery he saw nobody. The men were concealed in the bushes. Two trees cast a shadow on the spot selected for the hold-up so that a man half a block away could hardly have seen what happened.

Wore Handkerchiefs.
The police have been working diligently on the case since Friday night. This morning Sergeants O'Leary and Harper took Foulds into the cells in the police station, and lined up 14 men whom they asked him to identify. He pointed out two of them whose figures resembled the figures of the men who held him up, but their features he was unable to recognize as the men had worn handkerchiefs over the entire lower portions of their faces.

The police are engaged in rounding up all the loafers within the city limits in order by process of elimination to find out which of them, if any, was engaged in any of the many robberies that have occurred in Victoria within the past month. Three of these were sentenced this morning to short terms for vagrancy.

ANOTHER CHANGE IN CITY HALL PERSONNEL

Deputy Commissioner Resigns; Reorganization Will Be Effected

As another development of the administration of the waterworks department, the resignation is announced of the deputy commissioner, F. Graham Tolitt.

On March 1 the mayor wrote to Comptroller Raymur, returning to him the control of the clerical work in connection with the waterworks office, which is located in the Fairfield block. There has been trouble in the waterworks department on account of a difference of opinion about management. On Thursday the mayor informed the council that the department was over-stuffed, and suggested that one man should be released. The alderman thereupon reduced the vote by $1,800.

Mr. Tolitt, who was formerly in the city service at Winnipeg, has proved a most efficient officer during his brief connection with the department. Owing to his resignation there will be greater freedom in reorganizing the department.

NEW BLOCK ON GOVERNMENT STREET

Plans Are Lodged for Elliott Building; Three Large Per- mits Projected

While the building returns have somewhat slackened off in the last six weeks there are now lodged in the building inspector's office the plans of three large blocks, all of which bid fair to add materially to the total of the permits for 1913. The latest addition is the plans of the Elliott block on Government street, between Cormorant street and Herald street, where R. T. Elliott, K. C., proposes to erect a handsome building of reinforced construction costing probably $200,000. This application, together with those of the Victoria Opera House at a quarter of a million dollars and the new wing to the Dominion hotel at $60,000 will materially improve the building situation in Victoria this summer, and the plans of all of them are lodged at the present time in Inspector Northcott's office. Permits issued this morning were for a seven roomed dwelling house on Chestnut street costing $5000 for W. H. Dempster and for a garage for J. J. Bradford on Chester avenue.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred yesterday morning at St. Joseph's hospital of George Bibby, who had been a patient there for the last two weeks, suffering with inflammatory rheumatism. The deceased, who had lived in this city for the last ten months, was 25 years of age, and a native of England, having come here more recently, however, from Chatham, Ont., where his family lives. These are being communicated with, and arrangements for the funeral are pending instructions from his relatives, the remains meantime resting at the B. C. Funeral parlors.

ANSWERED FIRST CALL

The Oak Bay fire hall company attended a fire last night at the small store occupied by Fox & Corbett at the corner of Cadboro Bay road and Cranmore road. These premises have been occupied for sharpening skates in connection with the Arena rink across the street and the outbreak seems to have occurred through an overheated stove. The damage was not large, the central department being represented by Captain Ziegler. This is the first alarm within the limits of the municipality which has occurred since the Oak Bay hall was erected, to which the company there has responded.

FELL FROM BOILER CRUSHED HIS SKULL

Unknown Man Entered B. C. E. Company's Substation Unobserved

An unknown man met his death in the substation of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company early Friday morning. The man, who had the appearance of a tramp, entered the substation unobserved and climbed up on the boilers and went to sleep. In his sleep he apparently rolled off the top of the boiler and fell head first on the cement floor, 15 feet below. His head was crushed badly.

Efforts to identify the man have been unavailing. An inquest will be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Alderman Fullerton has given notice that he will move at the city council meeting on Tuesday the following resolution: "That the city engineer be requested to present a return to the council showing a list of all employees in his jurisdiction, their occupation, length of service, married or single, nationality and length of residence in the city." This return is doubtless instigated by the alderman's complaint at the recent council meeting that aliens and newcomers were given the preference over British subjects long resident in the city.

Do You Consider That Your Name is "Lost" Among the Thousands of Names in the Victoria Directory?

Are You Afraid, Also, That Your "Ad" Might Be "Buried" in the Classified Columns of the "Times"?

In both instances, "classification" solves the question. Your friend can find your address in the city or telephone directory in one minute.

The probable buyer of your property—the prospective tenant of your house—the man who wants to employ you—the man or woman who ought to be working for you—the "roomer" who'd appreciate that furnished room—any of these people can find your classified ad in one minute.

Of course, if your ad is not there when it is sought, nor your name to be found in any directory, then the problem of how to do business with you becomes really puzzling.

And, in these days, business-like people have little time to devote to puzzles, or to mysteries.

BANKERS' TRUST CORPORATION DISTRAINING ORDER MAY HAVE PRIORITY

Petition for Winding Up Signed by Five Directors Says Assets Are of Little Value and Cash on Hand is Under $1,000; J. E. Allen, Acting Manager Appointed as Liquidator Under Bond of $5,000

DIRECTORS SAY AGENTS OF NEGOTIATORS, LIMITED, MADE MISREPRESENTATIONS TO STOCK PURCHASERS

At the petition of the Bankers' Trust Corporation Chief Justice Hunter has issued an order winding up that company. John Edward Allen, acting manager since the resignation on March 10 of Godfrey Booth, is appointed liquidator under bond of $5,000 to perform faithfully his duties.

Simultaneously with the issue of the winding up order Mr. Justice Gregory in Vancouver authorized the issue of a writ of delivery directed to the sheriff of Victoria authorizing him to distrain on all the lands and chattels of the Bankers' Trust Corporation for the delivery up of three promissory notes mentioned in a judgment obtained from the Chief Justice on March 6 by Otto Frind for the return of $2,499.48, and these promissory notes, all of which were given as the purchase price of shares.

It is a matter of doubt as to whether the winding up order or the writ of delivery will have precedence, and the matter may have to be referred to a third judge for a direction on this point. Followed Consultation. The petition filed by the company was in consequence of this resolution passed by the directors last week: "After consulting the honorable, the attorney-general as to the condition of the affairs of the company and after being advised by the honorable the attorney-general that his department could do nothing to assist the company, and it appearing from the books of the company that the company was in such financial difficulties that the doors would have to be closed, it was moved by Mr. F. J. Popham and seconded by Mr. C. Moses that the solicitors of the company be forthwith advised to take such proceedings as they may deem expedient to wind up the company at the earliest possible moment.

The assets of the company are set out in the petition as totalling $374,446.60, and the liabilities as $312,068. The document states, however, that that portion of the assets consisting of stocks in certain companies is of very small value and at present non-negotiable.

Assets Given. The list of assets is given in detail: Lands in Okanagan district, $73,000; Victoria office premises, $62,500; Bank of Vancouver stock, $1,405; shares

In the Great West Home Company, $25,000; shares in the Title Holding Company, $125,000; bonds of the Title Holding Company, $23,200; stock of the People's Trust, $625; Western Union Fire shares, $17,000; stock in British Underwriter Company, $4,500; Anglo-American Timber bonds, $30,216.60. Referring to the sale of shares the petition describes how Franklin C. Cook before the election of the directors, entered into an agreement with the Negotiators, Limited, to sell the corporation's stock. The par value was $25, and a premium of $10 was also charged. A payment of $10 was the cash sum required in the sale and the Negotiators, Limited, was entitled to a commission of $7.50, so that the Bankers' Trust derived only $2.50 from the sale for stock.

The petition goes on to allege that the salesman or agent employed by the Negotiators, Limited, made such misleading and false representations to persons purchasing that several actions have been brought for which the company believes it has no defence. In addition to the demands through writs several other requests are mentioned for the return of money given in payment for stock. Under $1,000. Referring to the arrest of Franklin C. Cook the petition obtained from Mr. Popham's mortgage was given to the company's acting manager with instructions that it was to be applied to the shares. Mr. Popham's demand for the return of the $8,000 the company was unable to grant as the total amount of cash in the combined offices at Prince Rupert, Nelson, Vancouver and Victoria was under $1,000.

Inasmuch as judgments might be expected under the writs already issued, and inasmuch as the company was unable to sell any more shares on account of the misrepresentations alleged to have been made by the agents of the Negotiators, Limited, the company asks for the winding up and an order directing that no further dealings with its shares be made.

Another clause in the petition says that many persons bought shares because Godfrey Booth was manager of the company, and he was known to be a responsible man. He, the petition says, resigned without warning or giving any reasons. Speaking to the credit of the Dominion Rifle Association meeting, the Hon. W. T. White lauded rifle shooting as a manly sport. A man must have a good physique to be thoroughly developed. "I say that because the other side, the intellectual side, has been too much emphasized in certain educational institutions."

CHICAGO MARKET IS BARE OF OFFERINGS

Prices Rally Sharply With Action in Congested May and July Contracts

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, March 22.—There was a feeling in the wheat trade all day that there must be a clean up of the big short interests which accumulated on the decline of the past ten days. Some of the bull leaders became aggressive, and the market became bare of offerings. The result was the excited market and prices rallied sharply. The action was chiefly in the congested and overold May and July contracts. Live-stock market is closed till Tuesday, so nothing was received from that quarter.

News from the northwest was mixed, some of the big mills closing down because annual repairs, etc., were not possible in the activity following the turn of the year. On the other hand, a Minneapolis correspondent says feeling in the cash trade is decidedly less bearish, very little wheat pressing for sale. Corresponding strength in corn and oats developed, the later crop months for corn selling at very near their high point for the season. Offerings were light.

GERMAN BULLFINCHES CAN PIPE GRAND OPERA

"Prima Donna" Birds Are Much in Vogue in London Society. Amongst the odd whims of London society is the possession of a German-trained bullfinch that will "pipe" grand opera. These remarkably gifted birds are secured from Berlin. They are bought up very quickly when the limited consignment arrives in December, and the only caged grand opera artist which Mr. Dawson, a well-known British naturalist, has at his menagerie at present is a performer of "Fra Diavolo," who will only take part in matinee concerts. He is as wayward as a prima opera about obliging, except on his own terms.

MAY DISPOSE OF ROCK FOR THE BREAKWATER

Material on City Lots Behind Empress Hotel May Be Sold

In order to kill two birds with one stone a suggestion has been given to Alderman Dilworth, chairman of the municipal parks committee, which he will take up in connection with the cleaning up of the city yard at the rear of the Empress hotel. The proposal is that some of the stone collected there be sold to the contractors for the breakwater.

This phase of the question is to be taken up by the engineer, who will negotiate a sale of some of the city surplus rock to Sir John Jackson, Ltd., and in the same way aid the parks department in clearing up this eyesore to the city. Some time ago a deputation from the carnival committee waited on the city council and asked for the space to be cleared of the rubbish and material which encumbered it. While the council promised attention to the matter the financial problem has forced the neglect of the question.

In the past when the paving operations were in full swing and the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company required a large quantity of material for filling purposes, there was a standing arrangement by which it took rock at a fixed price, which, as the city was glad to sell, and the company required to buy, suited both parties to the contract excellently. Now the city must find another customer.

The carnival committee, which inspired the previous appeal to the council for clearing up this space, has asked to have it planted with trees and shrubs before the coming of visitors in August.

"Give close attention to telephone numbers. Do not try to remember too many of them. Do not call 89 when you want 98. In answering the telephone say who you are—give your own name or the name of your firm. The word "Hello" is absolutely unnecessary.
