British Consul Is in Carranza's Camp While Battle Rages

Arrangements Made for Mexican Naval Lieutenant to Go to Battlefield to Rescue W. A. Body, Britisher Who Was Stationed at Vera Cruz

New York, May 14.—An international incident as an outgrowth of the revolution in Mexico may be foreshadowed by the news that W. A. Body, British Consul for Vera Cruz, is in the camp of President Carranza. It seems probable he accompanied the President in his flight from Mexico City. British and American authorities in Vera Cruz have arranged for a Mexican naval lieutenant to go by special train to the battlefield and attempt to rescue the Britisher.

Turkish Nationalist Leader Says He Will Not Recognize Peace Delegation

Paris, May 14.—It is reported currently that Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist leader, has formed a Government in Ankara and addressed a telegram to the Peace Conference declaring that any acceptance of peace terms by the present Turkish peace delegation will be null and void, according to a Constantinople dispatch.

CANADIAN CHURCH IN LENS PROPOSED

War Memorial Deputation Sees Currie; Non-Denominational Building

Montreal, May 14.—The building of a Canadian Protestant memorial church at a cost of about half a million dollars to be located in the city of Lens, near Vimy Ridge, forms the subject of a deputation which waited to-day on General Sir Arthur Currie, Inspector-General of the Canadian Forces.

REBEL TROOPS WERE BEATEN IN SALVADOR

San Salvador, May 13.—Rebel forces under the leadership of Arturo Araujo, who aspires to the Presidency of the Republic, have been defeated by Government troops commanded by General Juan Amaya near Arcahuato, department of Chalatenango, in the northern part of the country.

Prince of Wales Nearly Had an Accident Motoring

London, May 14.—The Prince of Wales had a narrow escape to-day at Greymouth, New Zealand, while motoring on a narrow, dangerous road skirting a ravine in Buller Gorge, according to a dispatch to the Central News.

EARTHQUAKE FELT IN NORTHEASTERN REGION OF ITALY

London, May 14.—An earthquake to-day shook the plateau in the region of Udine, according to a Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The people of several towns are camping out, the dispatch adds, and the military have evacuated Ozopio. No victims have been reported up to the present time.

To Recommend Thirty Per Cent Increase in City Water Rates Here

City water rates will be increased by about thirty per cent., if recommendations to be submitted to the City Council in the near future by City Water Commissioner F. M. Preston are adopted. It is contended by the aldermen who are supporting the Engineer's recommendation that the waterworks system must be placed upon a paying basis. The margin in the system between the expenditures and receipts must be eliminated or at least bridged by increased charges instead of through general taxation as in the past, they claim.

NEW STEAMSHIP LINE TO COME HERE

French Company to Operate From Calais to British Columbia

Another round-the-world steamship line with British Columbia ports as its Pacific terminal, has been inaugurated according to an announcement from Premier Oliver to-day. The line is to be operated by French interests.

CHIEF OF GENERAL STAFF WILL ACT That Post Probably Will Be Re-established When Currie Retires

Ottawa, May 14.—(Canadian Press)—Acceptance by General Sir Arthur Currie of the Principalityship of McGill University will, without doubt, entail his resignation from the post of Inspector-General at militia headquarters. It is not known yet whether General Currie has submitted his resignation. Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Militia, is out of town and will probably not return until Monday and General Currie has not yet returned to the capital from Montreal, so it is practically impossible to ascertain definitely how the situation stands.

Hemington, Neb., May 14.—Eight persons have been drowned in their homes at Ardmore, S. D., as a result of a cloudburst, according to a report that has reached here.

Another Attempt on Life of Turkish Grand Vizier

London, May 14.—Another attempt was made to assassinate Damad Ferid, the Turkish Grand Vizier, on Thursday, according to a Constantinople dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The attack was made at the Grand Vizier's residence by a policeman, who fired upon Damad Ferid, but only wounded the latter's armed attendant. The Grand Vizier's assailant was arrested. Discovery of a vast Unionist association has been made in Constantinople, the dispatch declares.

U. S. AIRMEN CARRY LIQUOR IN PLANE; WILL BE TRIED

Washington, May 14.—Lieut. W. H. Cushing and Ensign Frank Lamb, Naval Reserve officers, have been recommended for court-martial in a report submitted to the Navy Department by a board of inquiry, charging them with having transported twelve cases of liquor in a naval seaplane from Bermuda, one of the Bahama Islands to Key West, Fla., on a recent cruise down the Atlantic coast.

Army Posts May Be Set Up at Isolated Points in Ireland

That Is Gen. Macreedy's Plan, Says Dublin Report; All Police Officers to Be Accompanied on their rounds in Future by Armed Soldiers

Dublin, May 14.—The plan of General Macreedy, commander of the Government forces in Ireland, looking to closer co-operation between the police and the military in an effort to suppress the disorders in Ireland involves the establishment of military posts in isolated districts, it is stated here on apparently good authority. Previously the police have been largely occupied with work which is essentially of a military nature.

DECLARES SOVIET GHASTLY FAILURE

American Red Cross Commissioner Says Welter of Blood Expected

Revolution Probable Within Six Months; May Start With Pogrom

Washington, May 14.—The Russian Bolsheviki Government is a "social adventure become a ghastly failure," according to Col. Edward W. Ryan, American Red Cross Commissioner for North Russia and the Baltic States.

Col. Ryan is just back from a surprising visit into Russia with the Estonian peace delegation, and in a report received by the State Department he declares Russia cannot hold out six months longer without aid from abroad.

Ryan left Reval on March 23, traveling as a private citizen with the Estonian Mission. He spent the following day in Petrograd, arriving in Moscow March 26, and returning to Reval April 2. His report was communicated to Robert E. Olds, American Red Cross Commissioner for Europe, and forwarded here.

Col. Ryan visited hospitals, schools, churches and theatres, and observed intimately a community life which he described, as so hopeless as to have reduced himself in the ten days spent amidst it to despair.

The Government was "clearly hopeless," Col. Ryan said, and all Government officials admitted that the transportation problem would eventually result in the overthrow of the present regime unless help came from the outside.

Lacking outside help, a revolution is expected within six months, when "trouble of the worst kind must be faced," the report said, continuing: "The general belief is that it will start with a gigantic pogrom, and the best that is hoped for is that from the wester a middle class intelligencia may emerge."

No Notes. At no time, he said, was he permitted to make any independent investigation. Except when he was asleep he was not alone for a moment. He saw, according to an explanation of Colonel Olds, what his guides saw fit to show him, and was unable to take notes.

Both Moscow and Petrograd were "indescribably filthy in appearance," Colonel Ryan said. The streets had not been cleared for four years and were at least ankle deep, and in most places knee deep, in dirt.

Only part of Moscow was supplied with water, few electric lights were visible, and there was no coal and little wood with the result that "everybody was cold," he said.

Meat on sale was mostly horse meat. The whole population seemed absorbed mainly in obtaining food enough upon which to exist.

A daily ration of one pound was prescribed, but in reality had been reduced to one quarter of a pound.

In a conversation with Symokow, Minister of Public Health, Colonel Ryan inquired whether there had been any attempt to classify and register the poor.

"There are no poor," Symokow replied. "In Russia all are equal and the same class."

The inhabitants of Moscow are so poorly clad that one gets the impression that it is regarded as a disgrace to be clean or neatly attired, the report said.

Of the hospitals visited, seventy-five per cent. of the personnel of one was said to have died in the preceding three months. Medical supplies were totally lacking.

AUSTRALIA AS WHITE RACES' LAND

London, May 14.—The question whether there is to be a continuance of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is being brought before the British public by the presence here of W. A. Watt, Treasurer of the Australian Commonwealth.

Mr. Watt arrived in London this week, and has given out a number of interviews in which he urged closer co-operation between Great Britain and her Dominions with regard to foreign policies, and emphasized Australia's determination to remain "a white man's country."

At a dinner given in his honor, which was attended by Viscount Milner, Secretary for the Colonies, and numerous other men in public life, Mr. Watt, in an address, said: "The dominant thought in our minds has been that, in Southeastern Asia, live 800,000,000 colored people, and the Australian people say that whatever can be done to keep our country for the British and their children should be done. We know that we could not repel an army assault by the great yellow and brown nations, but we believe that in the fullness of time the statement of the Empire will understand our attitude, and assist us to enforce it."

If there are conversations in the near future between the representatives of Japan and the British Government, the Australian people want their views registered before the representative thinkers of our Empire.

Director of Meigs Company Says Production Has Been Increased

Quebec May 14.—(Canadian Press)—Major F. C. Shorey, director of the Meigs Pulpwood Company of Canada, in an interview here today on the pulpwood situation said: "The price of pulpwood is doomed to fall within a few months. Most of the pulpwood companies in Canada are increasing their production considerably. Last year was one of the leanest for pulpwood production, and this year is one of the greatest. Our company has practically doubled its former production."

FACTS ARE GIVEN BY MRS. FULLER

Declares Tanlac Restored Her Health in Surprisingly Short Time

Science has discovered that most of the ills that afflict humanity are traceable to a disordered condition of the stomach and the intestines. Keep these organs healthy and active, and you will remain strong, sturdy, and well as nature intended you should be.

Therefore, if you are a victim of stomach trouble or any of the numerous disagreeable symptoms resulting therefrom, the experience of others, in your own city or community who have testified to the benefits they have derived from the use of Tanlac should appeal very forcibly to you.

Among the many well-known Alberta people who have more recently testified to the powers of Tanlac is Mrs. Edward Fuller, residing at 1249 122nd St., Edmonton.

"It certainly is wonderful how quickly the right medicine will get a person to feeling well again," she said.

"I hate to think of the awful condition I was in only a few weeks ago, for my health had gotten so bad and I was so weak and run-down I could hardly hold out through the day. My appetite was gone almost entirely, and, to tell the truth, I had such a dislike for food it was little or no use for me to ever go to the table. Nothing tasted good to me, and I simply had to force myself to eat to keep alive. I had a headache nearly every day that came. Sometimes it was a dull ache, and at other times it was a splitting pain that almost drove me frantic. I was so restless and nervous I would wake up every few hours during the night, and when morning came I felt so weak and listless it seemed I had no energy at all left. My house-work was burdensome, and I felt ready to give up just any time. I kept growing worse until finally I broke down completely, and had to go to bed, and it was three weeks before I was able to get up again. I seemed to be getting weaker and weaker all the time, and I knew if something wasn't done I could not hold out much longer."

"A little more than a month ago I started taking Tanlac, and just think of it, to-day I am a perfectly well woman, and was never in better health before. My appetite is wonderful. I enjoy everything I eat, and it agrees with me, and is giving me strength and energy. I am not nervous or restless in the least, and my sleep is sound and refreshing. Those awful headaches that used to come on me every day have entirely disappeared. My house-work is now a real pleasure, and I am full of life and energy all the time."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas, and Lang's Drug Store, Esquimalt Road.

THUGS IN SPOKANE AND SAN FRANCISCO

$9,000 Taken in Spokane; San Francisco Women Hotel Guests Robbed

Spokane, May 14.—Nine thousand dollars in a single package of currency was obtained last night just before midnight by two holdup men who struck and kicked the American Railway Express Company agent at the Great Northern station here into insensibility, according to the agent, H. A. Peterson. According to Peterson's story, told at a hospital, the men were able to enter the money cage because of a defective lock on its door.

Approximately $5,000 in sacked silver was left scattered about the floor of the room.

In San Francisco. San Francisco, May 14.—A masked robber invaded a fashionable hotel in the heart of the downtown section here and held up and robbed two women guests in their rooms of jewels valued at $10,000 late yesterday afternoon, according to a report to the police. The women were threatened with death if they made an outcry, they said. Mrs. Henry Harrington, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. J. F. M. Roberts, wife of a British mining engineer, on her way to London, were the women.

FARMER IN DAKOTA GETS LIFE SENTENCE

Washburn, N. D., May 14.—Henry Layer, a farmer, confessed to the killing of the Jacob Wolf family and their chore boy, Jake Hofer, on the Wolf farm three miles west of Turtle Lake, N. D., on April 22, it was announced here yesterday by J. E. Williams, state's attorney for McClean County.

Ill-feeling of long standing, culminating in a quarrel over injuries administered to Layer's cats by Wolf's dog, was responsible for the crime, according to Layer's confession.

He was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Bismarck.

ONTARIO APPEALS ARE NOT ABOLISHED

Attorney-General Withdraws Bill Directed Against Imperial Privy Council

Toronto, May 14.—Hon. H. E. Raney, Attorney-General of Ontario, withdrew in the Legislature last night his bill to abolish appeals to the Privy Council from Ontario.

He was asked by R. R. Hall, Parry Sound, if he considered this a self-governed country when the highest court of appeal was in the United Kingdom.

"I think you will soon see the Governor-General appointed on the nomination or recommendation of the Privy Council of Canada," he said.

H. H. Dewart condemned Mr. Raney's bill as the first thing to disrupt the British Empire. The right of appeal was the most sacred possession of Canadian citizens and he challenged Mr. Raney to show what right there existed to take it away.

Mr. Raney said the right to appeal from the Canadian Criminal Code had been taken away. Why not, then, the right to appeal in litigation?

Mr. Dewart said a former criminal lawyer had proved that criminal cases should be appealed to the Privy Council.

EXCHANGE VALUE OF FRANC HIGHER

Crop Outlook, French Treasury Condition and Other Causes Operate

Paris, May 14.—The prospects of a bumper crop this year, the improved condition of the French Treasury due to the growing excess of tax receipts over the estimates, and the purchase of French mining and other industrial shares by British and American investors are given in the report as the reasons for the sharp decline in the value of the franc from 17 to 15 francs.

The best judges say they do not expect a further radical change in the relative value of the franc and dollar.

CHURCH REPORTS INDICATE PROGRESS

Advance of Methodist Church Outlined at Conference in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 14.—Reports of the statistical committee read at the Methodist Conference here yesterday showed that an increase of $130,000 over last year was collected in the Province for all purposes, and that nearly 1,000 new members were received on the profession of faith. The total amount received during the year was $418,401, and an increase in all departments, including college and ministerial support, was recorded.

In the late afternoon the pastoral address by the Rev. W. Lashley Hall was given, dealing with the present and future policy of the Methodist Church, and delegations from the women's organizations were received.

Many Calls. Miss Garbutt, of Victoria, reported that 5,144 calls had been made during the year and she also dealt with the care of the sick, giving an account of the stewardship of the Women's Association.

Mrs. A. E. Roberts reported on the Provincial Women's Mission Society, while Mrs. R. H. McDuffey reported on the progress of the educational class.

The evening session was taken up with the reception of educational reports, Dr. Scott moving the adoption of the report on the Ryerson College. He said that preparations were being made to be ready for the time when the removal to Point Grey would be consummated. A small committee was appointed to handle this matter. Dr. J. G. Brown seconded the resolution, which was unanimously carried.

In moving the adoption of the report with reference to the Columbian College, Dr. Sanford, the principal, said that $5,000 was being granted from the Forward Movement funds, which would go a long way to paying off the mortgage and expenses outstanding, amounting to about $28,000. He thanked all concerned for the generous support he had received as principal. The report was unanimously adopted.

Education.

The education of children was the fundamental task of the community, said Dr. J. W. Graham, general secretary of education, during an address at the evening session. It was the duty of the state to see that the children were so trained as to produce a maximum number of skilled workmen and a minimum number of unskilled. He said: "You cannot have democracy unless you first teach the people how to govern themselves." Dr. Graham spoke of the great importance of the education of the teachers and said that during the past fifteen years the secondary school phase of school life in Canada and the United States had expanded more than any other phase. The main object of education was not to make Methodists, but to produce Christians, he declared.

CANADIAN DINNER PLANNED IN SEATTLE

Canadian Club Preparing to Hold Event on Night of May 24

Seattle, May 14.—Announcement of the elaborate programme which will be given on the night of May 24, when in honor of Empire Day the recently organized Seattle Canadian Club will give its first annual dinner, was made last night when the members of the Club met in the Masonic Clubroom to discuss arrangements.

Mayor R. H. Gale, of Vancouver, B. C., will speak on the subject of "Better international relations." It was definitely stated, and Mrs. Ralph Smith, the first and is yet the only woman member of the British Columbia Legislature, has agreed to speak on the "Loss of citizenship through marriage."

Mayor Hugh M. Caldwell, of Seattle, will speak on "Canadians as American citizens."

The banquet will be given in the Masonic Temple. It will be open to every Canadian and former Canadian citizen in Seattle.

VANCOUVER G. W. V. A. AND MAJ. RETALLACK

Vancouver, May 14.—After hearing Major J. L. Retallack explain the circumstances of his removal from the position of Public Utilities Commissioner, and accepting the suggestion that they attend in a body the Liberal members' meeting tonight, the local Great War Veterans' Association last night passed a vote of censure on Premier Oliver for what they declared "his uncalculated insult" in stating that Comrade Retallack was a whiner.

The Association also instructed the executive to invite Major Retallack to attend its meeting with such documents as he had, in order that the whole matter might be investigated and a suitable resolution be presented at the next general meeting.

MONEY NEEDED FOR RAILWAY PURPOSES

New York, May 14.—The Canadian Government is seeking funds here with which to purchase equipment for its railroads. It was announced last night, William R. Reed & Co., bankers, who have been associated in the past with Canadian railroad financing, admitted that negotiations had begun but stated no definite plan had been formulated. It was learned the Canadian Government is considering an issue of $15,000,000.

Approximately $27,000,000 of Canadian equipment securities already have been distributed to investors through this market, it was said.

PLAN TO IMPROVE FREIGHT SERVICE

Vancouver, May 14.—The shipper who points to the better treatment which shippers on other railroads receive will have his cause of complaint removed if the plans discussed at a meeting of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Railways Association here yesterday mature. Uniformity of service was considered by representatives of the freight and passenger departments of seven railroads operating in this Province, and several committees were chosen to investigate traffic rules of all the roads with a view to selecting all the good ideas and moulding them into a uniform set of rules for the Province, and perhaps for the Dominion. Rates did not come up for discussion.

BRITONS IN MEXICO.
London, May 14.—Cecil Harmsworth, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, informed the House of Commons yesterday that arrangements are being made for a British warship to proceed to Mexico, should its presence be required. He stated reports regarding the safety of British subjects in Mexico continued satisfactory.

THE CAUSE HAS ARISEN.

One of the weakest points in the case which the late Public Utilities Commissioner has considered advisable to construct in his own behalf is the suggestion that a private arrangement was entered into between himself and the Premier of the Province guaranteeing him the position for a period of ten years at a salary of $7,500 per annum. Surely Major Retalack is fully aware of the provisions of the Act under whose authority the Commission was created. Section forty, for instance, provides that the Commissioner shall hold office during good behavior for a period of ten years from the date of his appointment, and that he "may be removed at any time for cause." There is no point to the argument of an alleged arrangement between a member of the Cabinet and the late Commissioner; nor could a pledge given by any one Minister, or the Executive Council as a whole, bind the Legislature either for ten years or one. The Commission was abolished by the elected representatives of the people because federal action had relieved it of its labors and that ends the matter. And if the Major is not convinced that sufficient cause has arisen we fear there will be very little doubt about the attitude of the people by whom his salary and the cost of maintaining an unnecessary branch of the public service would have to be provided.

SETTLEMENT IS THE STATUTE.

It is to be supposed that there will be no particular rush on the part of the Dolly Varden group to give to the general public its precise reason for abandoning its litigation against the Taylor Engineering Company and for withdrawing its petition for disallowance of the Act passed at the recent session of the local Legislature. Nor is there any special obligation on the part of the company to worry itself about the impression either course it has taken has made upon the people of the country. It will be interesting to observe, however, the tone of that section of the Eastern press which virtually fell over its feet in an effort to bring a full meed of condemnation upon the Legislature of this Province for its "reprehensible behavior" and its gratuitous insult to and lack of concern for the investments of the capitalist outside the territorial limits of the Province.

In fact The Financial Times of Montreal was so satisfied that the lawmakers of British Columbia had enacted "such a piece of indefensible legislation which rides roughshod over every principle of British justice and fair play," that the resultant "conditions of chaos confronting the investor" would be reflected in the future operations—or inferred lack of operations—of the American, Canadian and British capitalist in British Columbia. Like other commentators, however, the Montreal journal relied upon expert statements for its observations and overlooked the fact that the action of the Legislature in the first place was based upon the report of a committee of inquiry which dispensed British justice and fair play to both parties interested before passing legislation, the petition for which was initiated by the Dolly Varden company itself. The fact that an agreement proposed by the Chicago group has been reached is a striking commentary upon the legislation the essence of which virtually is the 1919 statute.

AN IMPORTANT MOVE.

British banking institutions have now begun to take a hand towards the lowering of prices by the restriction of loans to customers which are required for purely speculative purposes. In future transactions of this kind will be much more rigidly scrutinized and if an advance is made it will be on the distinct understanding that its reduction must be effected in the shortest possible time. It is calculated in financial circles in the Old Country that this particular action on the part of the banks will do much towards a general deflation of currency and bring it something nearer to its old value. Nor should any very serious dislocation of the fairly general post-war flurry of commercial enterprise follow as a result of the action of the banks.

The necessity of this course requires little or no emphasis. During the last twelve months there has been an extraordinary rush of new issues and a veritable flood-tide of speculation in shares, and particularly in those of cotton companies. The danger is obvious. Speculation of this character naturally absorbs a large portion of the resources of the country which actually are required for funding the large floating debt which is causing the Chancellor of the exchequer not a few uneasy hours. And it may be supposed that this policy of tightening up will have the effect of increasing production and stimulating a rigid policy of economy on the part of the people as a whole and the Government in particular, without which there is the danger of the pound sterling falling to a much more uncomfortable level.

BETTER ADVERTISING WANTED.

Sir John Randles, a prominent iron and steel master now on a visit to British Columbia from England, readily confesses to a complete ignorance, except, presumably, in a very superficial way, of the iron ore resources of this Province. Nor was he able to inform his interviewer whether British Columbia's potentialities in this particular connection had been drawn to the attention of the British investor in such a manner as to excite at least his curiosity. This is a somewhat startling admission for such an eminent figure in the British iron and steel world to make, although Sir John's statement is useful and its significance should be turned to advantage if only to suggest to the various progressive organizations of the Province and to the Government a more effective means of conveying a definite idea of British Columbia's commercial possibilities to a field in which the necessary capital for development might be readily obtained.

For more than two decades British Columbians—convinced of the magnitude of this natural asset—have looked for the establishment of rolling mills in this Province and it was left to the Government to enunciate a policy of state ownership and control in the absence of no further practical proposals from private sources. Nevertheless, now that Sir John Randles is in possession of the fact about our iron ore resources, it may be that he will constitute himself a voluntary advertising medium for British Columbia and assist in removing the apparent obligation from the Government as already accepted by the Minister of Mines during the recent session of the Legislature. He may rest assured that practical proposals from the British investor will receive more than casual consideration.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It cannot be said of Vancouver's Mayor that he is lacking in originality or that he is at a loss to provide distinguished visitors to the city over whose destiny he presides with a novel form of amusement. Enterprising to a degree His Worship consulted with his police force yesterday and agreed upon Chinatown as the arena in which to stage an example of a raid on a modern gambling den for the special delectation of Major-General Sir David Watson, K. C. B., Lady Watson, Miss Watson and other local dignitaries. But the raid was not intended merely as a diversion; its purport was to demonstrate the extent of the difficulties which encompass officers of the law in the discharge of their duty. The dispatch chronicling the event, however, does not indicate whether or not the Chinese element of the Terminal City will protest against such a species of capitalization of its sporting proclivities.

Members of the United Soldiers' Council of Vancouver are pinning their faith to the new principal of McGill University in the hope that he will discover a way to release a German professor from duties in the medical faculty to which he was assigned by the Board of Governors recently. If General Currie does not at once conform to the wishes of the Vancouver organization we can predict that the relations between himself and the representative of the country with whom Canada was so recently at war will at least be considerably strained.

If the deliberations of the United States Senate naval investigating committee continue much longer we shall expect to see a drawn battle between the rank and file of the army and the navy and their officers and Government to decide one and for all who did actually win the war.

The American lady who complained of the silence of London as nerve-racking should endeavor to pay a visit to Kashgar, the capital of Chinese Turkestan. The noises of this city should provide a soothing tonic. They include the lusty yells of men and boys at dawn, the braying of donkeys, the jingling of bells on the Chinese cars, the booming of a caravan of camels getting under way, the crack of the city gun at sunrise, which latter lets loose a pandemonium of sound made up of the shrieking of women, the crying and quarrelling of children, the barking of dogs, the neighing of horses, the crowing of cocks, the twittering of small birds, the hum of insects and the croaking of frogs. And at intervals come the blowing of an ibex-horn, by which means the miller informs customers that he is ready to grind their corn.

Board of Trade Finds Ottawa Postal Officials Hard to Impress to Action

With the inauguration by the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway of a daily train service between Victoria and Alberni and Courtenay, which will replace the present tri-weekly service next Monday, the Board of Trade has been exerting every effort to have the Postal authorities institute a daily mail service in place of the present system, but up to the present without success.

Recently the Board approached Superintendent J. O. McLeod at Vancouver in regard to the improvement, and he stated that in the absence of authority from Ottawa, he was unable to effect any change from the present service of three mails weekly. The Board then telegraphed Deputy Postmaster General R. M. Coulter, at Ottawa, asking that the improved service be authorized, but up to the present no reply has been received.

Superintendent McLeod was informed of the action taken by the Board, and writing yesterday, he states, is still without instructions. He mentions that he had recommended the improvement himself several weeks since, but the Ottawa authorities had ignored the suggestion.

Now that the railway facilities are being so greatly improved, the Board of Trade will continue to press upon Ottawa the value of a daily mail service to Alberni and Courtenay, until action is taken on the matter.

WILSON'S CONSENT

Laid Documents Before the Washington Committee With President's Approval

Washington, May 14.—White House officials said to-day that President Wilson's war-time address to the Atlantic fleet and message to Rear-Admiral Sims were laid before the Senate naval investigating committee by Secretary Daniels with the full consent and approval of the President.

The British Admiralty was criticized in both of the documents and reports here had said that because of this the President might reprimand the Secretary of the Navy for making them public.

Called Baseless.
Washington, May 14.—Rear-Admiral Sims' fallacious and baseless charge that the Navy Department's delays prolonged the war four months unnecessarily was "practically the only charge of unfavorable results from the many alleged sins of omission and commission," the officer had ascribed to the Department, Secretary Daniels to-day told the Senate naval investigating committee. It was fully refuted by the Admiral's own testimony.

Admiral Sims based his estimate of an unnecessary loss of 500,000 lives on an average loss of the Allies of 3,000 men a day. Mr. Daniels said, "The loss of 3,000 men a day for four months falls short of half a million," the Secretary declared.

Tonnage.
The Admiralty based the charge on an assumption that had there been 1,000,000 American soldiers in France by March, 1918, the war would have ended four months sooner. Mr. Daniels said that the reasoning by assuming the tonnage loss of 1917 prevented carrying that number of troops overseas by that date and that failure of the American navy to co-operate heartily in the first months of the war resulted in the heavy tonnage losses.

There was never a time, the witness said, when the navy was not available to carry troops and supplies to France as fast as they could be landed and transported to the front.

Shortened War.
"As a matter of fact the American army materially shortened the war," said Secretary Daniels. "It got to the front as fast as it was humanly possible, not by a chance, but as a result of careful plans involving complete co-operation between the army and navy, carefully carried out."

Army Posts May Be Set Up at Isolated Points in Ireland

"We have to-day taken special and wholly exceptional steps," Lord Birkenhead said, "so that not one of these men in their heron work will be left unattended by members of the armed forces of the Crown."

He did not indicate directly, however, that the troops in Ireland were insufficient for this purpose.

Followed Releases.
Although this morning's newspapers give prominence to dispatches telling of yesterday's disorders in Ireland, only one, The Chronicle, comments on the situation. That journal ascribes the new outbreak to the release of hunger strikers from jails in Ireland and England.

The newspaper doubts that the creation of a special judicial body to examine cases of Irishmen under arrest, as announced by Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law in the House of Commons yesterday, will materially relieve the situation, in which it says co-operation by the police and military is necessary so that capture of criminals red-handed may be assured.

Strong Measures.
Toronto, May 14.—A special dispatch to the Mail and Empire from London says:

war with the British Empire, the Government will abandon its present plan for handling crime on the island. To this end all arms of the British army in Ireland are being tremendously strengthened. This applies to cavalry and motor machine gun outfits.

"As soon as the force there is adequate it will, under the command of Sir Neville Macready, take over all police functions. In fact, it is said that Southern Ireland may then be placed under martial law. This would be nothing more or less than notice to the Irish Volunteers that their challenge had been accepted."

List of Outrages.
Dublin, May 14.—A partial list of the police barracks, pensions offices and other places in Ireland attacked by mobs Wednesday night follows:
Upton Barracks, near Dandon, blown up.
Crumhair Barracks, Dublin, partly burned.
Unused barracks at Garrigart, County Donegal, burned.
Barracks at Killeter, County Tyrone, burned.
Old Age Pensions offices at Newton raided and documents destroyed.
Revenue offices at Enniskillen burned.
District Council board room at McHill, County Leitrim, raided; books containing levy for recent damage done to the police barracks were taken, while other books remained untouched.
Excise officers at Dantry, County Cork, destroyed by fire and records consumed.
Mail Cars Held Up.
Two mail cars held up near Thurles, County Tipperary, and mail bags searched and some documents taken from the cars. One car, which was attacked by 100 men. The place was saturated with oil and set on fire and explosives were used against it.
Police barracks at Stevanford, County Tyrone, burned.
Police barracks at Omeath, County Louth, burned.
Barracks, County Down, burned.
Thirteen Arrested.
In the Baligar district the barracks were blown up. Thirteen persons were arrested charged with unlawful assembly.
When the mail train from Cork arrived at Middleton, seven miles north-east of Queenstown, armed men held up the offices and the mail belonging to the Constabulary was ransacked.
Burned Down.
Leitrim, Ireland, May 14.—Police barracks near this city and at Kesh Carrigan, Ballyfarnon, Grievesk and Hillstreet, were burned to the ground Wednesday night by bands of disguised men. The barracks here were the finest in the country and were occupied by a sergeant and his wife, the former being ill. The couple was ordered out before the building was fired.
The Customs office at Carrick was broken into during the night and income tax papers were destroyed.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY PLANNING INTERESTING JAUNTS

Elk Lake and Sooke Harbor in Itinerary; Last Field Meeting at "Tiswilde"

The Natural History Society of British Columbia plans to hold regular field meetings during the Summer and among the points of interest now scheduled are Elk Lake and Sooke Harbor, where there are a number of ancient Indian mounds.

The last field meeting of the Society was held, May 8, at "Tiswilde," the home of Mrs. McVickers, Prospect Lake road, which abounds with rare plants of British Columbia and is a sanctuary for birds and animals.

The members of the Society were greatly interested in the flora seen in the woods nearby and also at Tiswilde. The Erythronium Grandiflorum (dog tooth violet), was observed to be practically over. Others were Trillium, Calypso, Camassias, the beautiful blue Collinsia, red flowering currant (Ribes Lobbi) and Dodecatheon.

The buck bean (Menyanthes Trifoliolata), sweet scented leaves Achlys Triphylla, and dog wood (Cornus Nuttallii), were flowering, as were the various members of the Saxifrage family. Two forms of yellow violets (Viola Glabella) and (Sargentosa), the pale blue violet (Viola Howellii), and the dark blue (Viola Adunca), were also seen. At the McVickers home rare flowers and shrubs of 124 varieties were discovered, 15 varieties of which are known and described by the hostess to the visitors. Mrs. McVickers appealed to the Society to supply her with names for the other nine.

Mrs. McVickers is the owner of a pet squirrel and surprised a good many of the visitors with the information that there is only one kind of squirrel on Vancouver Island, designated as the Vancouver Chickaree (Sciurus Hudsonicus Vancouverensis).

Before leaving Tiswilde, Mr. Anderson moved, and William N. Kelly, president of the society, seconded, a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. McVickers for the hospitality shown to the party.

The following is the report on the Tiswilde meeting by C. C. Pemberton, arboriculturist:

Plant associations interesting. A sort of intermediate between rock-land and swamps. Primal forest apparently partly changed though no evidence of fire. Rocks heavily clothed with moss of a good many years growth. Evidently sparsely timbered at one time with large Douglas fir well grown. Remains of one extra large arbutus with healthy stool shoots from the big decayed stump. This tree must have been exceedingly large in girth judging from the diameter of the ring of shoots. Some fine young arbutus in the more open parts. Very scraggy in the shaded part. A particularly interesting prostrate stem, over-topped by some gale, but vertical shoots developing from the procumbent stem and most remarkable adventitious shoots from the upturned part of the root system. This would be an interesting specimen to see in a few years, to note whether the adventitious growths developed fully without layering of the big prostrate stem. The Garry Oak seemed to have invaded the district recently seedling sapling and scrub oak were noted. A fine example of the over-coming of adverse conditions by Douglas fir was seen. It had struck of shallow soil, on a very steeply treasured roots of a tree recently decayed prostrate stem now disappeared. The younger and more recent growth are pretty mixed and apt to be Douglas and Grand fir in preponderance. One of the ways to the place was an interesting root system of a big Douglas fir, exposed by blowing down of the tree probably by exposure to wind by clearing of the environment. The tree had struck on a shelving rock in shallow soil, and the roots naturally all grew down toward the lower side but there was a remarkable absence of anything in the shape of tap roots. A fine example of triplicate leader in Douglas fir, due apparently to grafting of three seedlings grown close together and becoming welded into a wall of wood at the base or bases. A remarkable example of wild honeysuckle Lonicera, climbing to an extraordinary height, (on casual inspection), apparently without the aid of nutation. This was on a very big Douglas fir. The willows were in bloom in the swamps; these trees are one of the most interesting, throwing out catkins in early autumn in dry localities as soon as the first rain comes and then the various types continue in the different localities till the next Summer is well advanced affording a unique period of blossoming.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

John N. Evans, of Duncan, is Grand Chancellor of Knights of Pythias.

John N. Evans, of Duncan, was installed as Grand Chancellor of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias in the gathering in Vancouver. Social Personal

At the Criterion last evening the accented, Queen Alexandra Review, held a most successful dance, a large crowd attending and dancing till an early hour this morning. A pleasing feature was the singing of Miss Mary Middleton, whose clear, sweet soprano was heard to advantage in several numbers. Financially as well as socially the affair was a success, and the proceeds will be used towards the expenses of the delegates who will attend the forthcoming convention at Nanaimo.

Dr. William L. Russell, of Bloomington Hospital, New York, who has been spending the past few weeks with his sisters, the Misses Russell, Boyd Street, has left for Vancouver, where he is the guest of his brother, Professor E. H. Russell, who is a specialist in mental hygiene, and while in Vancouver is visiting the public schools to examine the work that is being done in the special classes.

No effort has been spared by the members of the Willows Camp Chapter, I. O. D. E., to make their dance to be held at the Criterion on Tuesday next, May 18, one of the most enjoyable functions of the season, and it is anticipated that there will be a large crowd of the younger dancing set in attendance. An alluring programme of music has been prepared, and dancing will be from nine till one o'clock. The Chapter will hand half the proceeds to the Boy Scout Association.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Joseph McCoy, M. A., on Wednesday, Miss Georgina Tennet, of Todd Inlet, was married to Mr. Hugh Keith Reid, of Union Bay. The young couple will make their home in Union Bay.

Mrs. G. W. Day, and little son, Douglas, of Armit Road, Esquimalt, left yesterday for Scotland, where she will spend six months' visit with her mother, Mrs. Helen Webster, Aberdeenshire.

William Agnew and his daughter, Miss Agnew, of "Shubum," Rockland Avenue, have returned home after spending the winter in California. Mr. Agnew is much benefitted in health by the change.

Miss "Tottie" Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Day, Rockland Avenue, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Ronald Dundas, at North Vancouver, for the past few days.

Miss Hazel McConnell has returned to her home in this city, having completed her course of study at the University of B. C., Vancouver.

B. C. Nicholas, editor of The Times, left Wednesday for Toronto to attend the annual meeting of The Canadian Press Association.

Mrs. Joseph Di Giorgio, and Mrs. B. A. McRae, of New York, are guests at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hughes have left for the East. They will be away several weeks.

A. Tranfield, of Ladysmith, is visiting Victoria, and stopping at the Dominion.

Chas. Jolley is down from Nanaimo, and is staying at the Dominion Hotel.

Mrs. N. Thomas, of Cowichan, registered at the Dominion Hotel yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Netzer, of Crofton, are registered at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. J. S. Brown, of James Island, is a guest of the Dominion Hotel.

Richard P. Blake, of Edmonton, has arrived at the Empress Hotel.

W. Hyland, of San Francisco, is staying at the Empress Hotel.

MRS. FAHEY TO SING WITH METROPOLITAN BASSO

A rare artistic treat is promised to music lovers on June 1 in Vancouver, when a chorus of 500 voices will render the beautiful oratorio "Elijah" at the Arena, the same building in which "Zilli-Curi" is appearing. The chorus will be supported by an orchestra of eighty pieces under the direction of Mr. Fricker, conductor of the Meindelsohn Choir of Toronto.

Arthur Middleton, the famous Metropolitan Opera basso will sing "Elijah" and Mrs. Macdonald Fahey has been engaged to take the soprano solos.

In order to accommodate the public desirous of hearing Mrs. Fahey in recital, a plan has been opened at Fletcher's Music Store, where reserved seats may be secured for concert at the Royal Victoria Theatre on May 29.

Reginald Hartnell, of Cranbrook, has received notification from Ottawa that a part of his kit lost in April, 1915, at the battle of St. Julien, has been recovered. The kit, which contained a housewife from the women of Cranbrook, has reached Cranbrook. It is the worse for wear and tear. Mr. Hartnell prizes the kit very highly.

DEFER ACTION ON REFERENDUM MOTION

Local Council of Women May Ask Civic Authorities For Plebiscite

At a special meeting of the Local Council of Women executive, held last night in the Girls' Central School, a resolution offered by Mrs. Johnston, and seconded by Mrs. Graves, dealing with the proposed contract with the B. C. E. R. Co., was read to the meeting, but action was deferred until a later date.

The resolution read: "Resolved that the City Council be asked that the proposed agreement with the B. C. E. R. Company be submitted to the electors in a referendum." Mrs. Graves, in the chair, in putting the resolution before the meeting stated that from press advices to hand the City Council were not going to deal with the matter until the return of Mr. Kidd, of the B. C. Electric Railway.

The feeling of the meeting appeared to be that not enough data had been gathered on the subject to pass the resolution at the moment. Mayor Porter, who was in the building at the time, declined Mrs. Graves' offer to explain the working of the proposed agreement, stating that he had not received sufficient notice to get in touch with the situation.

It was finally decided to let the resolution stand over until one of the regular monthly meetings, and a committee of three was advised to deal with the matter. Some ten members were present.

CLUB TO ENTERTAIN LADY KINDERSLEY

Women's Canadian Club Plan Reception; Mme. Sanderson Mongin to Lecture

The Women's Canadian Club have a busy week ahead of them, two affairs being planned for their delectation next week. Some time ago the executive decided to inaugurate a course of study on the Allied countries with a series of lectures by competent authorities. The first of the series will be devoted to France, and on Tuesday Madame Sanderson-Mongin will speak on "The French Women and the Soul of France." Feeling that these lectures would be of tremendous educational value to children as well as grown-ups, the club executive has decided to open the meetings to children of members upon payment of the customary nominal admission fee. At Tuesday's meeting, Miss Davies will contribute vocal solos.

On Friday afternoon, May 21, the club will hold a reception at the Empress Hotel ball room in honor of Lady Kindersley, wife of Sir Robert Kindersley, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, who will arrive in Victoria next week. A musical programme will be arranged and afternoon tea will be served.

DANCE IN AID OF BOY SCOUTS BY WILLOWS CHAPTER

On Tuesday next, the Willows Chapter of the I. O. D. E. has made arrangements for a dance at the Criterion, Belmont Block, dividing the proceeds between their own Chapter and the Victoria Boy Scouts Association. There are 180 tickets for sale by the members of the Willows Chapter. It is hoped that people interested in the objects both of the I. O. D. E. and the Boy Scouts will help by applying for tickets.

In regard to the Boy Scouts, Lord Kitchener has said: "You are building the foundation which is essential for making good men. Whether they afterwards become soldiers or civilians matters little, but character to either means everything."

In Manitoba in 1915 there were twelve Wolf Cubs, in 1919 there were over 1,500.

New Secretary.—At the monthly meeting of the Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, I. O. D. E., held at the home of the acting regent, Mrs. R. A. Renwick, the resignation of Mrs. W. L. Thomas, who has so ably held the office of regent since October, 1917, was received with deep regret. Mrs. Chrow, who has for some time held the office of Echoes secretary in the "J" Unit Chapter, has kindly consented to accept the office.

DEFECTIVE CHILDREN PRODUCT OF NEGLECT

David B. Brankin Speaks on Child Welfare to Ladies at Central School

David B. Brankin, Superintendent of the Provincial Department of Neglected Children, last night addressed an audience of some fifty ladies at the Girls' Central School, taking as his subject "The Defective Child." The speaker explained in considerable detail the operation of the new legislation in connection with children's welfare work. Three acts having a very decided influence for good, he stated, were passed or amended in the recent sessions. The amendments to the Infants' Act, the Mother Pension Act, and the Adoption Act, all brought much needed reforms.

"Neglect of the children of to-day will lead to trouble for all in the future," affirmed the speaker. "The conservation of life is always vitally necessary, but never more so than to-day, after the ravages caused by the holocaust in Europe. The child is the most valuable asset in the whole Province."

No Longer a Fad.
"Child welfare used to be a fad for the scattered philanthropist and those in their second childhood; today, however, it is universally agreed that sentiment is not enough. The welfare worker must be able to think, must treat the child on the basis of equality of opportunity. Every child is entitled to the same opportunity as its right, not as a favor, as we too often are apt to regard the matter."

"Every child has the right to be well-born, nourished and protected and afforded every opportunity possible at the hands of humanity. Every problem is subservient to the laws of cause and effect, the problem of defective children is due to several main causes. Not least amongst these is the unjust legacy handed down by unwise parents. No two people should be allowed to enter into the state of matrimony unless they have a clean bill of health."

Neglects of Past.
"The difficulties of the present are the neglects of the past," continued Mr. Brankin, "and the problems of the future will be the omissions of to-day. I wonder how many mothers and fathers here to-night take their children aside and tell them the knowledge necessary to them for the correct treatment of their physical bodies."

Privation Contributory Cause.
"Privation in youth is another cause contributory to the defective state of children. Too many cases of these are the unjust legacy handed down by unwise parents, leaving them without the proper nourishment for their bodies, and opportunities to progress while they are still at an age that prohibits them shifting for themselves."

"More has been accomplished by the recent legislation than ever before, and the Province to-day can feel proud of the wise enactments to the benefit of the child."

Mr. Brankin spoke for an hour and a half, and was well received. Some four men were present in isolated parts of the hall.

TO SELL FLOWERS ON ALEXANDRA ROSE DAY

Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., Accepts Offer to Sell Souvenirs in Stores

Local philanthropic institutions are not to be deprived absolutely of the benefits of Alexandra Rose Day this year, despite the attitude of the City Council in refusing to grant the I. O. D. E. permission to hold this annual rose fete in the streets, for at yesterday's meeting of the Municipal Chapter the members decided to accept the offer of several of the leading stores to sell the roses on their premises on Saturday, June 12. No effort will be made to sell the flowers in the streets and they will be sold for a nominal sum or as much more as friends of the movement feel inclined to give. Mrs. A. F. Griffiths will head the committee in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Hasel reviewed the arrangements made for the Municipal Chapter's share in the Hudson's Bay Company's pageant on May 24. The Chapter will enter a decorated float called "The Empire," symbolic of the ideals of the Order. Members are urged to attend the meetings to be held within the next few weeks, when final details will be arranged. Mrs. David Miller gave a splendid report of the Provincial Chapter proceedings, and Mrs. Doig, Echoes secretary, and Miss A. B. Cooke, educational secretary, also reported on their work.

It was decided to hold a special meeting next Monday evening, May 17, at the headquarters, when the proposed amendments to the consti-

For the first time since the signing of the armistice the export of manufactured Belgian goods surpassed imports in February. The returns give 285,000,000 francs in exports, an increase of 51,000,000 francs over the previous year. The exports in February reached 500,000,000 francs, as compared with a total for the year 1918 of only 230,000,000 francs. The exports of January and February reached 59 per cent. of the imports, against only 5 per cent. for the same months of 1918. The proportion for February was 65 per cent. These figures being 11 per cent. higher than in January. The production of coal and of iron goods is now higher than before the war.

PREMIER TELLS WHY RETALLACK WAS VOTED OUT

Major Took Trip East Against Instructions; Wanted
Bills Paid

Because Major Retallack, whose office as Public Utilities Commissioner was abolished by a non-party vote of the Legislature, is visiting various organizations making certain statements, Premier Oliver today gave out a statement describing as "all poppycock" the idea that he had any private arrangement with me.

The Premier says that Major Retallack was appointed on the recommendation of returned soldier organizations.

"No sooner had he been appointed than he started to dictate what his staff should do, and what his own duties should be," says the Premier. "We even employed a barrister as his secretary, so that he would have the advantage of legal advice."

"But one of the first things he did was to advise the Government that he wanted to go to Ottawa to get pointers on the Dominion Railway Board. I replied to him in writing that if he did we would only be acknowledging that we had appointed to the position a man who knew so little about the office that he had to go East for instructions."

"But in spite of orders Major Retallack went East. Of course the Government properly refused to pay his travelling expenses, which were the travelling expenses incurred by a man defying the instructions of the Government. Instructions of the Government to inquire into things in Vancouver, he defied, and instead went East. Naturally we refused to pay his expenses. These are the bills he says the Government will not pay."

"There was no bargain made with him about salary. His salary is fixed by the Public Utilities Act to be not less than $7,000, and not more than $8,000 a year. His salary was fixed by Order-in-Council at $7,600. I remember him putting up an awful fight for the maximum salary of $8,000. The terms of his employment were fixed by statute from which we never thought of departing. He was discharged by a non-party vote of the Legislature."

ALL APPROVED Any One of Seven Named Satisfactory to Government For Head of College Here.

Any one of the seven men proposed for the office of principal of the two-year arts affiliated college to be established here in the Fall will be satisfactory to Provincial officials. It was learned today.

Members of the Victoria School Board puzzled as to whom they should appoint to the office submitted the list of names to the Provincial Government. The Government approves of them all. It was learned. All the trustees have to do now is to pick out the one they fancy.

SLOT MACHINE TAKEN IN FUN BRINGS TROUBLE

A charge against Findlay McInnes and Mrs. McInnes in the city court this morning of retaining property they knew to have been stolen occupied from ten o'clock until well after one o'clock, with a short break at noon. The evidence told of the drastic results of what had been originally a boyish prank on the part of three lads. Mr. McInnes, it is alleged, induced boys to retain money they had taken in fun, when they carried away a slot machine en bloc from the store of Louie Sing, a Chinaman. The details showed a chain of events that made the transaction from comedy to tragedy all too easy for the boys involved, and the McInnes parents. The case will be resumed tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Mr. Lowe is appearing for the accused.

BRIEF LOCALS

Unable to Come.—Owing to the illness of Mrs. Catherine Vancouver, Professor Odium will be unable to fulfill the engagements he had expected to undertake here next week.

No Streets Committee.—The meeting with the City Council intended to hold a Streets Committee this afternoon has been postponed until next week.

English Mail In.—Twenty-eight bags of English letter mail arrived today, dated April 28. Papers dated April 23 also arrived in the consignment. The mail came on the S.S. Celtic.

Divorce Court.—In the divorce action of Riddle vs. Riddle heard before Mr. Justice Macdonald this morning a decree absolute was handed to the petitioner. The case will be called again on May 26 to decide the custody of the child. The suit was undefended. E. E. Wootton appearing for the petitioner.

Holds Inquest.—An inquest into the conditions surrounding the death of William Hamilton, who died yesterday as a result of a fall down the freight elevator of the Duncan Storage Company's warehouse on Yates Street on Wednesday night, is being held by the coroner, at 10 o'clock this afternoon at the police station.

A "Curious Blunder."—In committee last night Reeve Watson, of Saanich, described as "not a serious but a curious blunder" the action of the Council in turning down a proposal for a new road, called Cadboro Bay Road when the proposal was made two weeks ago. Engineer Milne was then instructed to submit a plan of the cost of putting the section north of Uplands into shape.

Seven in One.—Councillor Henderson, as chairman of the Saanich Works Committee, last night stated that the principle of seven separate wards, with seven separate road credits, each immutably limited to one district, as a fundamental error, "seven municipalities to one, none strong enough to undertake a major improvement, that is not good business to my mind," was his comment.

Cadboro Bay Water.—Stuart Armstrong last night informed the Saanich Council that Mr. Pemberton had proposed to connect up the water main to Telegraph Bay with the Cadboro Bay Hotel and local services. He asked that the work be undertaken immediately, as this season gives indications of a greater demand for water by campers than has ever previously been experienced. The work will be commenced at once.

Forty-eighth Battalion Annual Dance.—All ex-soldiers of the 48th Battalion, B.E.F., are cordially invited to attend a meeting of the Battalion Social Club to be held at the United Service Club, Fort Street, at 8 p. m. Monday, May 17. The purpose of this meeting is to arrange for the annual ball to be held on the 20th anniversary of the Battalion's departure for overseas. A full attendance is desired, as the hearty co-operation of every member is necessary to make the event a success.

County Court.—In the action of Belcher vs. B. C. Electric Railway Company in the County Court this morning the court proceeded to the scene of the accident, where the repair car of the Electric Company is alleged to have struck the automobile owned by Mr. Belcher. The case will be continued this afternoon. J. S. Yates appeared for the plaintiff, and H. B. Robertson for the defendant. Damages were asked in the sum of $75, while the company has laid a counter claim for $55.

Alleged Bicycle Thief.—Two cases of stolen bicycles being sold to second hand dealers have occurred recently—both suspected to have been taken by the same thief. The man is described as being twenty-five years of age, five feet seven in height, dark complexioned, and wearing corduroys with a returned soldier's button in the label of the coat. One bicycle was sold to J. Levy, and the other to J. Aaronson—the latter paying $7.50. The man gave the name of Masters.

Clearing Roadway.—The Saanich Council last night accepted the tender of J. H. Woods to lift the timber on the right-of-way of Martindale Road, which is now being put through as a highway. His tender is to cut the wood in two-foot lengths at $3.20 per cord, there being about fifty cords in the road allowance. The only suggested objection was that of Reeve Watson, who felt that already Saanich is being overburdened with wood, well used, and that it was easy for those so minded to help themselves to quantities which would never be missed.

Gathering Data.—In connection with the project of aerial mail service between Seattle and Victoria, which is stated in advice to be inaugurated this month, Postmaster Bishop has been requested by the superintendent of mail service at Vancouver to collect data on the dates and times of the sailings of all vessels for the Orient during the past twelve months. It is understood that the information has been requested by the U. S. authorities in planning their aviation schedule to connect with the Victoria and Vancouver sailings.

Lectured on Pictures.—A large attendance of members of the Island Arts and Crafts Club listened with interest last night to a commentary talk by Dr. E. S. Hasell on the pictures executed by Miss Ravenhill, of England, a number of whose water colors, charcoal and sepia sketches and etchings were loaned for the occasion by the artist's brother, H. T. Ravenhill. Dr. Hasell emphasized the necessity of good draughtsmanship in the work of the artist, pointing out how Miss Ravenhill's work excelled in this respect and also in beauty of coloring.

Musical Club The Dansant.—An unusually attractive programme has been prepared for the concert of this club to be given at the Alexandra Club ball room to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club. Five well known artists are taking part, including Miss Mary Izard, violinist; Miss Mona Misener, vocalist; Miss Monica Davie, pianist; and Messrs. R. Morrison and D. C. Hughes, vocalists. The programme will commence at 8 o'clock and continue at 4, and will continue till 6 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to patronize the event, the proceeds of which will go to the Ladies' Musical Club funds.

Makes Grant to Gardeners.—The Ward 4 Cottage Gardeners' Association last night applied to the Saanich Council for the customary $100 grant. The allotment was passed.

Saanich Sewer Scheme.—A special meeting of the Saanich Council will be held on Tuesday evening next to discuss the proposed sewerage scheme, waterworks extension and the new health centre plan.

Chinese Irrigators.—In a discussion on water supply Municipal Engineer Milne last night remarked to the Saanich Council that Chinese market gardeners appear to keep water flowing on their crops almost continuously.

Ruby Road Water Supply.—The Saanich Council last night decided that a 600-foot extension of the water main on Ruby Road should be laid with two-inch pipe, to serve five or six residences. The cost is set at $250, of which the users will contribute on a basis of $10 per connection.

Soldier's Homes in Saanich.—The final steps in connection with the fourteen houses built in Saanich under the soldier's Housing scheme last night were passed by the Council. The Council passed the individual agreements covering the structures.

Ignores Council's Orders.—The Saanich Council last night decided to make inquiries as to their legal right to cause Duncan Graves, of the East Saanich Road, to remove a newly erected fence. Engineer Milne reported that the structure is enclosing eight feet of the roadway, and that Mr. Graves refuses to remove the obstruction.

Saanich Highways.—The Saanich Council last night decided to draw the attention of the Warren Construction Company to the need of repairs to several sections of the highways laid by that company some years ago. The guarantee periods continue for some time to come, and the Council will urge immediate attention.

Saanich Speeders Fined.—A session of the Saanich police court today secured for the municipality three convictions against automobile speeders. E. L. Tait used the prosecution against one of his sons, Wm. Williams and W. B. Mitchell, all pleaded guilty to the charge and were each fined $20.

Saanich Float Plans.—The whole Council of Saanich will act as a committee to pass judgment on the drawings, submitted by the pupils of Saanich schools, for a float to represent Saanich in the Hudson's Bay Company's celebration parade. The judging will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Municipal Hall.

Jack of All Trades.—John T. Little, fireman, carpenter, plumber, care taker and several other things to the Municipality of Saanich, as he described himself, last night, asked that consideration and relief be afforded him from the present long hours. He suggested that two men be employed, a day man on a ten-hour shift and a night man for a fourteen-hour turn. The matter was referred to Engineer Milne, after Councillor Henderson had explained that Mr. Little sleeps in quarters provided in the fire station. An effort will be made to arrange a change with other employees.

OBITUARY RECORD

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Peetie's Potatoes.

By HOWARD R. GARIS.

Copyright, 1920, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Away off in their deep, dark dun-geon of the woods the Pipsisewah and the Skeezicks sat in gloomy grandeur. "Well, we haven't caught Uncle Wiggily yet, have we?" growled the Pip.

"No," said the Skee. "we have not. I thought sure I had his souss when I sneaked up behind him at the Judy show Jimmie the duck gave yesterday. But Judy hit me with a club! Wow! I can feel it yet!" and he rubbed his nose, moving picture like.

"I'm going to get that rabbit to-day!" declared the Pip.

"How?" asked the Skee.

"He is over visiting Grandpa Goosey Gander," went on the Pip. "Uncle Wiggily always stays there until after dark. On his way home through the woods I'll grab him!"

"Good!" snickered the Skee; though I, myself, call it rather bad; don't you?"

"I'll go off and hide in the woods, now," proceeded the Pip. "I know the way Uncle Wiggily comes home along the path under the trees. I'll hide behind a squodunk bush and, as he passes, I'll grab him, and get souss off his ears."

"Save a little for me!" grumbled the Skee.

"I will," promised the Pip, and then he went out of the deep, dark, dismal dungeon.

Now, all this while Uncle Wiggily was really at Grandpa Goosey's house. And, as very often happened, the bunny gentleman stayed until after dark, playing Scotch checkers.

The Bunny Gentleman Stayed Until After Dark, Playing Scotch Checkers.

Finally when it came time for him to go, and Grandpa Goosey opened the door saw how dark it was outside, he said:

"Aren't you afraid, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Afraid of the dark? I should say not!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "The dark can harm on one."

So away he started over the fields and through the woods, whistling a jolly little tune and making his pink nose twinkle like a clam shell.

"Then, all at once, as Uncle Wiggily came near the squodunk bush, he heard a rustling in the leaves, and, being a very careful rabbit Uncle Wiggily said to himself:

"Perhaps somebody is hiding there to get my souss. I'll just go around a side path and I'd better run; not that I'm in a hurry, but Nurse Jane may be anxious about me."

So, turning aside, Uncle Wiggily began to run, still whistling and still twinkling his pink nose.

"Oh, ho! So you think you'll get away from me; do you?" said the unpleasant old Pipsisewah, as he skipped out from behind the squodunk bush. "Well, if you can run so can I!" and he raced after Uncle Wiggily.

Now the bunny gentleman had sharp ears and he heard the bad chop coming after him. So Uncle Wiggily ran very fast, he did.

"The Pip shall not have my souss!" said Uncle Wiggily to himself.

On and on he ran, and, all at once he saw just ahead of him, a little fire burning in the woods.

"Hello!" said Uncle Wiggily to himself, slowing up in his running.

"Somebody must be camping there. I wonder if it is a friend of mine, or if it's the Skeezicks who has made a fire and is waiting for his friend the Pip? I must be very careful!"

Uncle Wiggily listened behind him, and, he heard the Pip coming on. Then he looked ahead at the fire and he saw someone moving in the light of the blaze.

"I'll see who's at the fire," thought the bunny gentleman. "The Pip is afraid of a blaze." So he hopped on as fast as he could, and, all at once a voice cried:

"Who's there?"

"Uncle Wiggily!" answered the rabbit gentleman. "Who are you, if you please?"

As he asked this, something all black, with streaks of diet on its face and ragged clothes all covered with leaves, stood in front of the bunny.

"Oh, are you the Skee?" asked Mr. Longears, getting ready to run again.

"No, I'm Sammie Littletail," was the answer.

"You don't look at bit like my nephew, Sammie," spoke Uncle Wiggily, doubtful like and uncertain.

"That's because I'm playing at camping out in the woods, and I've been roasting potatoes," said Sammie. "I have on my old clothes and I've been lying down in the leaves, and the black from the roast potatoes got on my paws and face. But, Uncle Wiggily—"

And just then, through the woods came bustling the Pip. "I want souss!" he howled. "I want souss!"

"Here, try a baked potato instead," said Sammie, and with that he stuck a red hot baked potato on the end of the Pip's nose, and the bad creature gave a howl, and turned a flip-flop somersault over backward and ran away.

"Fooled again!" he howled.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Sammie. "I guess I scared him!" Then the rabbit boy gave the bunny gentleman a baked potato that was not so hot, and Mr. Longears liked it very much. And if the postage stamp doesn't make a funny face at the letter man so that he laughs in his sleeve and tickles his watch chain, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie's jiggle.

SIR DAVID WATSON

HERE YESTERDAY

Former Commander of Fourth Division Has Strong Opinions on Overseas Trade

Major-General Sir David Watson, K. C. B., proprietor of The Quebec Chronicle, together with Lady Watson and Miss Watson, yesterday paid a short visit to Victoria, between arrival of the Seattle steamer and the departure of the boat for Vancouver.

Sir David Watson made a sterling name for himself as a military man during the course of the late war, and the history of the work of the Fourth Canadian Division is in great part due to the skill with which he handled the corps, which he took over in 1916 and controlled until the conclusion of hostilities.

Sir David Watson is now the chairman of the Quebec Harbor Board, and as such is intensely interested in the development of Canada's overseas trade, having frequently expressed his opinions as to the urgent need that a far greater proportion of Canada's grain exportations should meet tidewater at Canadian terminal points.

In the course of an interview Sir David stated that his investigations showed that practically sixty per cent of the Canadian grain crop which is exported by sea is now being shipped over American railways, and embraced the American shipping points. It is his opinion that, with such terminal facilities as at present are available, both on the Pacific and the Atlantic coasts, a far greater percentage of the Canadian crop should be handled entirely in Canada, and he is urging that steps be taken to assure a progressive yearly increase in the proportion of the crop handled in Canada until it is all shipped through Canadian terminals.

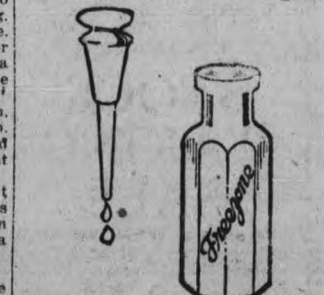

Sir David Watson has on several occasions expressed his admiration of the actual and potential facilities which the Pacific Coast ports offer for the shipment of grain.

IRISH MEETING IN WINNIPEG WAS WARM

Winnipeg, May 14.—Lindsay Crawford, of Toronto, and the Rev. Dr. A. H. Irwin, a Presbyterian minister of County Antrim, Ireland, addressed a meeting of between 2,000 and 3,000 here last night on the Irish question, arguing in favor of self-determination.

conclusion they were peppered with questions until practically all the audience began to leave. There was nothing in the way of disorder, although if the police, six or seven of whom were present, had heeded the cries of the more vehement supporters of the visitors to throw out the interrupters, the operation might have been attended with more serious consequences.

Quite a few of them wore the button of the G. W. V. A. It was those who interjected the question at Mr. Crawford: "Where were you in the war?" They also asked: "Why did the South of Ireland supply gasoline to the German submarines in the war?"

Dr. Irwin denied the statement that he had been refused passports by the British Government, and said he had come across the ocean for the benefit of his health. While he was here, he went on to say, he considered it his duty to explain the Irish situation.

HOSPITAL RATINGS.

The nurse had just taken Rastus' temperature when the doctor arrived. "How are you feeling, my man?" he asked.

"Hungry, doctah, hungry."
"Haven't they given you anything to eat?"
"All I got, doctah, was a little piece of glass to suck."

"You're right! In the busy season when a trip to town is necessary, you need a car that is ready to go. And the best car is no good without proper lubrication and good gasoline. Imperial Polarine and Imperial Premier Gasoline have kept my car running 'slick as a whistle' every minute all season."

Steady Dependable Service

IMPERIAL Polarine assures a motorist steady, dependable service from his car. It gives correct lubrication to every type of motor and every moving part. It keeps your motor running smoothly and quietly.

Imperial Polarine maintains, under all operating conditions, exactly the right body to seal in compression and reduce wear—it burns clean. Imperial Polarine establishes and maintains a power tight seal between piston and cylinder walls. Its body is proof against high heats and the gruelling friction of engaging parts.

Look for the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations when you buy oil. It shows which of the three grades described below is best suited to your car.

Six sizes—gallon and four-gallon sealed cans, steel kegs, half-barrels and barrels. Buy by the barrel or half-barrel and save money. Sold by good dealers everywhere in Canada.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS GIVEN OF YEAR'S WORK

Excellent reports from the various branches of the work occupied most of the time at yesterday afternoon's session of the Diocesan Board of the Columbia Women's Auxiliary.

After prayers read by Mrs. Quinlan, the address of the president, Mrs. W. H. Belson, followed. Mrs. Belson reviewed the work of the year and gave many practical suggestions for a forward step to be taken in the coming year, especially emphasizing the need for more information regarding the work among Orientals in B. C., which needs active and sympathetic support. As a token of appreciation of her inspiring address the meeting appointed a special committee to review it and report later to the meeting.

The officers' reports were taken as on the programme. The Dorcas secretary thanked all those who had so generously contributed to Bales and helped in packing. Twelve outfits for children, six large bales at Christmas and smaller ones to Lac la Poudre and Fort Macpherson, the total value of which was $903.93, were reported. The Organizing secretary reported three senior, seven girls' and four junior branches formed during the year, and urged further efforts toward complete organization in every parish. The Literature secretary reported having a good supply of new books and pamphlets on hand, of which all branches should avail themselves. A Librarian has been appointed to have charge of the W. A. literary and extension work.

The object of the Construction Camp secretary reported having sent parcels of reading matter regularly to Port Alice. Good magazines and books are urgently needed for this purpose, to be sent to Mrs. H. R. Andrew. Owing to Miss Turner's absence from the city there was no report of the work done by the Girls' and Candidates' secretary. The president asked Mrs. Norrish to read a letter from the Dominion Board secretary on this work, which contained a message greeting for the Girls' Annual, and will come into the report of that meeting.

The Junior secretary had much good work to report. There are now six junior branches with a membership of 35, an increase of five branches and 102 members in the year. The total raised for pledges and other funds was $390.49, even the most recently formed branch being in no way behind its elder sisters. Mrs. Harvey drew attention to the three beautifully-worked quilts which were the work of the juniors of St. Jude's, St. John's and St. James' branches, and which are to be sent to Alert Bay and Carcross Schools.

The Babies' Branch secretary was able to announce that the amalgamation of the Font Roll, Babies' Branches and the Little Helpers, is now complete, and the whole is combined under the one title of "Little Helpers of the Font Roll and Babies Branch of the W. A." The work is now in the hands of the Diocesan Board of the W. A., and is to be carried on by them. Columbia's membership is now 240, and the total raised was $102.69 during the year.

At the request of the president, Mrs. Berkeley, of Christ Church Cathedral Branch, outlined the method she has used for the past four and a half years in forming the Font Roll membership, for the benefit of the meeting, as the work is new to many W. A. members. The Font Roll now contains 172 names, and Mrs. Berkeley has attended every baptism, and visited and kept in touch with all these members, over fifty of whom are now of an age to become Sunday School members, which is the actual aim of the Font Roll, and will continue so under the direction of the W. A. Reports were suspended at 4 p. m., and the president introduced the Rev. H. T. Archbold, who gave a most interesting address on "The Meaning of Social Service Work and Linking Up of the W. A."

ABSENTEE JURYMEN RISK HEAVY FINE
 Coroner Hart Passes Strictures on Laxity of Citizens Regarding Inquests

Coroner Dr. E. C. Hart this morning had some pungent comments to make on the laxity of citizens who failed to put in an appearance for jury duty, the inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of the Santa Funeral Parlors, being delayed for ten minutes while the constable gathered substitutes for the absentees.

"Give me the names and addresses of those absentees, and I'll have them fined," said Coroner Hart, and on being presented with the names J. Bayes and W. Jones, he remarked, "those are not names, anyone may be a J. or a W.; this carelessness by jurors must be checked, and I'll check it."

Dr. F. T. Stainer stated that the death of Toe Fook Shew was due to breakage of one of the main blood vessels close to the heart, a natural cause, and Alfred Lee Yook Quan, a youthful Chinaman speaking fluent English, told of the sudden demise in the rear seat of an automobile, while travelling on the Saanich Road at 9 o'clock on Wednesday evening last.

A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the jury, which was composed of J. Anderson, foreman; A. Lalonde, J. Fortin, P. Sheret, F. C. Carter and F. Page.

MOTOR MEN TO ADD TO HOLIDAY-WITH BIG CAR PARADE
 Dealers Form $10,000 Company to Make Life More Attractive

Carleton H. Willis has been elected president of the newly organized Victoria Auto Sports, Ltd., with a capital of $10,000.

The object of the company is not to make fortunes for the officers, but to promote automobile racing in Victoria, motor shows and other classes of sports that will make life in this community still more attractive. The profits will be used for charitable organizations and for furthering the work of the Victoria and Island Development Association.

"The idea is to boost Victoria and make it as interesting as possible for residents and tourists," the officers of the association say.

Other officers are: Vice-President, Walter B. Revercomb; Treasurer, George Lille; Secretary, H. N. Flynn; Board of Directors, C. H. Willis, W. Revercomb, George Lille, R. A. Playfair and Thomas Plimley.

The incorporation of the company was announced in this newspaper yesterday, in the list of new Provincial companies registered.

The first function the new company has undertaken to put over here, is the automobile race meet on May 22.

In connection with the race there is to be an automobile parade in the morning for which prizes are to be given. For the best broom decorated car driven by a woman there will be a prize of $50. For the best general decorated cars there will be prizes of $25, $15 and $10.

R. A. Playfair, of the Begg Motor Co., is manager of the parade and is receiving all entries.

SICK HEADACHES For Last 10 Years
 Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N. S., writes: "I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B. B. B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took three bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches any more."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ARE LEADERS IN BROTHERHOOD WORK
 Rev. I. W. Williamson and Rev. A. P. Latter Will Address Victoria People

REV. ASHER P. LATTER.

On Sunday, under the auspices of the Canadian Brotherhood Federation, there will be special addresses on "International Brotherhood," by the Rev. I. W. Williamson, of Toronto, general evangelist of the Federation, and Rev. Asher P. Latter, provincial secretary for Manitoba.

On Sunday at 3 p. m., there will be a mass meeting in Centennial Methodist Church, David Street. It is expected that the Brotherhoods of the city will be well represented, but a special invitation is extended to all citizens who are interested in the progress of the Brotherhood movement.

Rev. I. W. Williamson will speak on the general work of the world movement, at Emmanuel Baptist Church, on Sunday at 11 a. m., and at the Metropolitan Church at 7.30 p. m., while the Rev. Asher P. Latter will speak at Wesley Methodist Church at 11 a. m., and at First Presbyterian Church at 7.30 p. m.

The visitors have spoken at Nanaimo during the present week. A meeting at Ladysmith is due to-night.

SUMMER COURSE AT CITY LIBRARY
 Will Be Specially For University Students; Objects Sought

A Summer course for University students in the craft of library management and operation will be held at the Public Library here from July 4 to August 23.

This course is not intended for the training of librarians, and will concern no standing in direct library work on those who take it up. The object is threefold:

(a) To direct the attention of University students to librarianship as a profession.
 (b) To give a clear idea to those whose minds are already turned to the subject of the scope of possibilities and training required for success in the profession.
 (c) To make possible for a limited number of University students certain laboratory work in the use of library tools as an aid to further study.

The course is open only to University graduates and two-year students in universities, and applications should be made not later than June 21 at the Public Library.

Bill Leard Smacks Out
Double That Wins Game

Playing Manager Hero of Batting Rally in Ninth Inning
Lefty Lawson Wins His Third Straight Game
Jimmie Church Got His Daily Hit as Usual

Victoria 6-Yakima 3.

There are a lot of highly peevish fans in the fruit-picking centre of Yakima to-day. And they are all crazy to lay hands upon one William Leard, playing manager of the Capitals. On Wednesday Leard got away with the angora of the umpire and about 3,000 fans and was finally banished from the park. Yesterday he was once again admitted to the grounds and with the score tied in the ninth inning he lifted a pitched ball over the fence and drove in two runs that put Victoria in the lead. The Yanks failed to retaliate in their half of the ninth and the fans' chagrin over Leard's work rose almost to a breaking point.

The Capitals played brilliantly behind the pitching of Lefty Lawson, who, although touched up quite frequently for singles when the bases were empty, kept the brakes on tight in the pinches. This makes the third straight win for Lawson, whose southpaw actions have proved baffling to opposing nitters.

An Early Start.
Victoria got away to a good start. Leard, the first man up, smacked out a double, took third on a bad throw and scored on Carman's out at first. Yakima tied the score in the second, when Harrigan doubled and came home on a single by Cadman. Then Lefty Lawson pitched a gem. He pitched in the sixth innings when Dempsey made his slip and two runs went over the plate.

Things looked bad for the Caps until Zienke started the rally in the ninth innings. The outfielder soaked one so hard at Gorman that he failed strengthen his club, tossed a good game of ball, and different than on the two previous days, the Giants played real baseball behind their pitcher.

Seattle did all of its run-getting in one inning, and they wasted no time getting their lead, grabbing eight scores right in the first frame, Lambert who started for Blankenship, had nothing. Ten men faced him in the first inning, and all but two hit safely, one of the others getting a pass. Manager Cliff pulled him and Crespi, who replaced Lambert, held the locals safe for the rest of the way.

Hilliard secured two new pitchers yesterday, one of the new men being a veteran from Milwaukee, Dickson, an Indian. The other acquisition is Dale, a semi-pro heater of these parts.

Amateur Baseball Season Starts With Doubleheader

Collieries-G.W.V.A. Open With Knights of Columbus and Elks Will Play Yarrows—All Managers are Confident Over the Ability of Their Teams to Win Pennant

Without any startling ceremonies the Victoria Amateur Baseball League will get underway to-morrow afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park. The first game will be played at 2.30 o'clock, and will find the Collieries-G.W.V.A. and Knights of Columbus battling for the honor of winning the first game of the season. As soon as this group of diamond-hustlers have settled their argument the Elks and Yarrows will make their bow to the fans.

Both games are expected to be close. Most of the teams have a lot of last year's players but there are several new comers whose speed and ability to handle and hit a ball is unknown. One thing is certain, there will be no runaway like the Foundation team had last year. Every crew will have a chance to keep in the running throughout the season.

Keeping Things Dark.
The managers of the various teams have been rather backward in announcing their line-ups, but at last they are out.

The Colliers-G. W. V. A. team will be as follows: Catchers, F. Liddell and Bobby Ross; pitchers, Alex. Straith, Dick Rossan, Yummy McGregor and Jock Cathcart; first base, Haley Jackson; second base, Smiler Petticrew (also relief fielder); shortstop, Hal McVidie; third base, Poke Gravelin; left field, Harry Copas; centre field, Jim Cummins; right field, Roy Copas.

The Elks are relying upon the following: Theo. Townsley, Walter Gravelin, Balcom, Ross, Green, Art Minnis, Frank Moore, Corlette, Elms, Mellmoyle, Chester and Matt Hunter. Yarrows will pick a team from the following: Eddie Brown, E. Cook, Howard Brown, Allen Cummine, Tucker James, Happy Gangy, J. H. Stephens, George Millard, Gordon Jerow, Leo Dowd, Nicholas, Percy Fitzsimmons, Williams and Toots Plump.

How the Managers Feel.
All the managers feel pretty sure of their teams' success in the series. Listen to the executive of the Collieries-G.W.V.A., Dave MacFarlane, Colliers-G.W.V.A.: "I haven't a doubt but that my boys will be there at the close of the season with the honors. They won't throw me down. I've just bought a big blood-hound as a mascot, and once he gets his nose on the scent of that pennant, well, that'll be all."

Walter Lorimer, of the Elks: "Confidentially I know whose going to win. You just can't keep an Elk down. Course I don't want to say anything publicly, but just see if I'm not right at the end of the year."

"There are a lot of fellows talking about what their teams can do. We don't intend to win this league by talking. We'll do it by playing."

George Beck, Yarrows: "You know everybody likes to kick an unknown dog around. 'Cause Yarrows are an unknown team this year, there's a lot of them that won't even give us a chance. Just wait and see if we don't turn right around on some of these boys who think they're playing safe and show them a thing or two. You bet Yarrows will be right after that pennant."

It was pointed out that the B.C. F.A. has many more affiliated clubs than the opposition boasts, and in the event of a merger their representatives eligible to vote would be greatly in the majority.

Two delegates were appointed last night to meet the executive of the B.C.F.A. within the next few days if possible and endeavor to effect a voting agreement that will prevail at the July meeting. In this respect, it was stated, there is at present a tentative plan that will probably prove satisfactory to both sides, and indications are that the efforts to patch up the differences will be materialized.

One Governing Body.
The plans are to continue as the B.C.F.A. until the meeting of the B.C.P.F.A. in July, when both sides to the controversy will have representation and at which time the annual election will be held and provisions made for one governing body.

STADIUM IS WORK OF FOUNDATION SPORTS

Famous Athletic Organization Has Provided New Centre of Sport For This City

Numerous Victorians have been wondering and asking to whom credit should be given for the construction of the Stadium, which is to become the new centre of sport in this city. That credit belongs to none other than the Foundation Organizations Athletic Association, which during the past two years has been one of the most active bodies in the promotion of all branches of sport, and which in the future plans to increase the scope of its work.

When the Foundation Company finished its large contract for the French Government it was expected in many quarters that the Foundations Organizations, which was formed shortly after the yards opened and vested with the authority to control the sporting activities of the employees, would automatically pass away. But such has not been the case. Instead the organization has taken on a new lease of life, and is prepared to enter into the sporting life of the community with greater zest than ever.

IMPORTED CIGARS

Imported Cigars, so much enjoyed by the fastidious smoker, have increased so much in price as the result of the high cost of production, the comparative scarcity of the leaf due to the cultivation of tobacco in Cuba where formerly tobacco had been grown, and the imposition of a heavy war-tax, that in the interests of our customers, we have introduced a new Domestic brand of rare quality and exceptional value.

SANCHEZ Y HAYA is a genuine Havana Cigar, made in Canada from specially selected Havana tobacco by expert Cuban cigar-makers. What is saved in the difference of duty between the finished article and the imported leaf represents the extra value offered. The superior quality should enhance our reputation. We confidently recommend this brand to our customers as the best claimed for it. WHY NOT TRY IT?

ONLY TWO CRICKET MATCHES TO-MORROW

Victoria Plays Five C's and Albions Meet Congos; Comrades Withdraw

Owing to the failure of the Comrades to get together a cricket team they have been forced to withdraw from the Victoria and District Cricket League. The veterans tried hard to secure eleven cricketers to wear their colors, but were unsuccessful. As a result of the withdrawal of the Comrades, only two games will be played in the City Senior League to-morrow. The Albions are playing the Congos at Beacon Hill and the Five C's and Victoria will meet on the Jubilee pitch. The Incogs, who were drawn to play the Comrades, will have a bye.

The Teams.

The teams will be as follows: Albion C. C.—Walton, Freeman, Parsons, Jordan, Hoggarth, Lowdon, Johnston, Attwell, Booth, Bossom and Lowe.

Garrison Going to Duncan.

The Garrison team which will be idle in the city series to-morrow, has booked up a game with the fast Cowichan eleven. They will make the trip by motor. The Cowichan cricketers have formed a strong club, the first since the outbreak of war.

Juniors Start.

The junior cricketers will open their season one week from to-morrow. The Five C's will meet the University team at the University School grounds. The League is anxious to secure another junior team for the second division.

DOMINION

Although recognized as the greatest emotional actress in the world, Nazimova, who is now appearing in "Stronger Than Death" at the Dominion this week, is one of the most normal and likable personalities off the stage that could be desired. She has none of those irritating eccentricities which, as a rule, accompany genius of her order. A New York dramatic critic, after conversing with her at her studios in Hollywood, wrote: "That which made Nazimova distinguished in the recognition given her in New York as one of the foremost living actresses. But the most remarkable thing about her is that with all the excuses for exaggerating the eccentricities that are conceded to be concomitants of genius, she is a normal, natural woman, with a clear sense of proportion." Louis Fazenda's extraordinary gifts as a delineator of grotesquely funny females have seldom enjoyed a wider exhibition than will be found in "The Star Boarder," also shown at the Dominion Theatre.

TO-DAY'S AMUSEMENTS

Royal Victoria—Orpheum Vaudeville.
 Pantages—Vaudeville.
 Dominion — "Stronger Than Death."
 Variety—"Piccadilly Jim."
 Columbia—"Experimental Marriage."
 Romano—"Mickey."

The current comedy release from Mack Sennett's creative genius. There must be found in such impersonations the suggestion of reality, something as Marie Cahill used to bring to her musical comedy characters. Back of the hilarity must be felt the genuine, and it is in this quality that Louise Fazenda is without an equal on the screen or stage to-day.

VARIETY

"Piccadilly Jim." Owen Moore's first Selznick Picture, which is showing at the Variety Theatre, is a sparkling comedy—a picturization of Edham Grenville Woodhouse's story which, in its original form, appeared in The Saturday Evening Post, and won nationwide popularity. As a photoplay the satire is said to be even funnier than when it was splintered the sides of that million readers a week. Owen Moore lends to the title role a remarkable sense of comedy values which serves to draw from each scene every single bit of humor that the author wrote into it, and sometimes just a wee bit more. The star's portrayal of the light-hearted, care-free, irrepressible youngster who rolls into trouble and rolls out again is one of the finest bits of acting that the screen has ever known. Zena Keefe plays opposite Mr. Moore and her work is remarkable. It is by just such sparkling work as this that she won the honor that is to be hers in 1920, when she is to be starred in a series of Selznick Pictures. The rest of the cast is proportionately adequate, the artistic interiors and beautiful exteriors, charm the eye, and the direction leaves nothing to be desired.

COLUMBIA

Constance Talmadge has a bright comedy role in her latest Select Picture, "Experimental Marriage," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick, and which is showing all this week at the Columbia Theatre. The picture is adapted from William J. Hurlbut's satire comedy, "Saturday to Monday," which was so successful as a stage play. The story satirizes a familiar type of girl who takes up any theory or cause that happens to strike her as original, and who, while in these throes of her work, sacrifices the convenience of everyone else to her ideas. The heroine of this story is loved by a comely young man who wants to marry her. She doesn't believe in marriage, however, because it entails the sacrifices of her personal liberty. She finally strikes a compromise whereby she will live with him over the week-ends and by herself the rest

ROMANO

One of the many charming features in "Mickey," showing at the Romano Theatre to-day and to-morrow, is a pet squirrel who will go straight to the hearts of all children. And "children" serves a good alibi for Ma and Pa, for most of these things that are "for children" are like the toy railroad that little Johnny gets for Christmas and never gets a chance to play with because his father has it all day. The squirrel does a comedy scene with a pet bulldog that is delightfully natural. Mickey's bull terrier makes one dive for the squirrel and Brer Squirrel stands not on the order of his going. He beats it for dear life. Mickey wears boys' clothes during the first part of the play and the squirrel tries to save the lady from the squirming squirrel, and his gallant efforts look very peculiar to Mickey's foster father, who hastens up bent on murder and sudden death. And then he sees the squirrel and joins the rescue party. And, by the way, Mickey ought to get the Iron Cross for her courage. Pshaw! Any girl might lead an army like Jeanne D'Arc, or just save children in burning houses, or jump off cliffs, or any little thing like that. But to it a rat or a squirrel run up your clothes! Ooooo! If there was a call for vol-

Twentieth Century Review Will Be the Headliner

A somewhat different vaudeville diversion is that of Bothwell Brown with his bathing beauties and the Browne sisters who will appear at the Orpheum to-night, Saturday matinee and night, as a headline attraction. Bothwell Brown has assembled a noted twentieth century revue of bathing girls, the like of which has not been seen on any local vaudeville stage. The Browne bathing queens have made a terrific hit wherever they have appeared. The act consists of a songalogue interspersed with many dances and a pantomimic version of a Biblical story. One of the big features of the act is the story of the dance of Isidore. A score or more of pretty girls will be found in this act.

Everyone is talking about the show at the Pantages this week, and few who have seen it will agree that it is the best bill of the year. Everything is new, and the action of the show is rapid from the appearance of the first act to the final curtain of "His Taking Way," the headliner. This is a musical satire on the most finished and tripartite offerings in vaudeville is presented by Walters and Walters, "The Baby's Cry." Miss Willa Holt Wakefield, of course, needs no introduction to those who follow the doings of the theatrical world, but for those who do not it may be said that she is one of the most gifted women on the variety stage, combining a splendid voice with rare personation and a gift for winning the approval of her audiences. There are three other acts and a new instalment of "The Adventures of Ruth."

Mrs. G. H. Green and Miss Izard Lay Fresh Claims to Popularity

Before an appreciative audience at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green, pianist, and Miss Mary Izard, violinist, presented a wonderfully attractive programme, representative of the greatest composers of the old and the modern school. Both artists responded splendidly to the demands of the exacting programme and shared alike in the generous applause.

THE WINDMILL ON THE FARM

Its Use For Irrigation in "The Dry Belt" in British Columbia
By Colonel C. B. Simonds

The increase in size and improvement in the mechanism of windmills has widened the scope of their employment on the farm. They are now used not only for the supply of water for domestic purposes and of drinking supply of stock. Only in a small way were they applied to the use of irrigation in the semi-arid areas of the United States, being limited to the irrigation of just sufficient land in a season of extra drought to safeguard the tenants against the necessity of having to abandon their orchard, until such time, at least, as the necessary rain would permit of their return.

In course of time this method of irrigation was improved upon, and is being more extensively employed each year, more especially in the States of Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and parts of California. It is here suggested that the same system might well be tried and with success in the "Dry Belt" of British Columbia, where conditions offer far greater possibilities and facilities than are to be met with in any of the States mentioned. In those States surplus water is not available and so recourse to sinking wells has to be adopted; whereas in many parts of the British Columbia "Dry Belt" surface water is to hand and plentiful throughout the year, and only awaits the pump to put it on the land.

The advantage of pumping, either by means of engines or windmills, lies in the adaptability of the method to any sort of existing conditions, and a small plant comes within the reach of almost any farmer, whereas a gravity system usually necessitates a big outlay, requires considerable time to develop, even after the hearty co-operation of contiguous land-owners has been brought about. A pumping system can be very successfully employed in conjunction with an existing gravity system, and so be the means of bringing a greater area under cultivation; since the water from a flume system can be pumped up so as to irrigate land out of reach of the flume system. It so happens that the most valuable slopes, the areas which get the most sun, and which therefore produce the earlier crops, have to be neglected and left uncultivated on account of the fact that they are out of reach of the gravity system.

An important point with regard to the open land in the "Dry Belt," is that the owner is not faced with the problem of clearing it; and on this account he should realize that he is probably $100 an acre to the good, at starting, against the man who has cleared to do. Now, since his land is as good for crop producing (provided that he can get the necessary water) as any other land in the Province, it must be worth his while to sink $100 an acre in establishing an irrigation system, for at least a small portion of his land, for a start.

The latest figures of costs for land clearing available from the Land Settlement Board are from $140 to $210 an acre, varying from the light-timbered lands in the Kootenays to the heavier timber near Courtenay. Since land clearing becomes a progressive effort of the farmer during such time as his work is not being required on the farm, it is difficult to arrive at any sort of true value for such clearing, but the $100 taken empirically as an equivalent may be considered as a fair conservative estimate. It is proposed here to show the great possibilities that the introduction of windmill irrigation in the "Dry Belt" present.

A glance at the latest publication of the Bureau of Statistics, from Ottawa, shows that the average value of farm lands throughout the Dominion has been increasing, and gives the following figures:

In 1910, $37 an acre; in 1914, $38; in 1915, $40; in 1916, $41; in 1917, $44; in 1918, $46; and in 1919, $52; an enhancement in the value of farm lands in five years of $14 an acre or 36.8 per cent. For the year 1919, the same bulletin gives the respective values of acreage in the different Provinces as follows: British Columbia, $74; Quebec, $72; Ontario, $66; Manitoba, $35; Saskatchewan, $32; Alberta, 29. Now, if these figures really have any meaning it is only reasonable to suppose that the actual cost of machinery that it would be worth while to outlay in each Province must be in the same proportion. In other words, these figures go to show that the introduction of windmill irrigation would be justified in British Columbia, long before it would be in any of the other Provinces of the Dominion, always provided, of course, that windmill conditions were favorable.

Again, the cost of materials, of iron and steel fluctuate, and though perhaps, per ton, there may be a progressive increase in actual prices, largely compensated for, as time goes on, by the increased efficiency of the materials themselves and in the processes of their manufacture. So that, on the whole, the cost of machinery may be said to keep very steady. These two main considerations taken in combination go to show that a time must come when the introduction of irrigation by means of pumping in any form or other must be justified. Other important factors, working towards the same end are: The employment of water-saving fertilizer, such as Lignite, water-saving methods of irrigation, such as the Overhead system, steadily increasing cost and scarcity of farm labor, increasing cost of wood for the construction of fences and of their upkeep.

Our rapidly expanding knowledge in the Science of Agriculture and Horticulture tend towards the application of exactitude in the application of water used, but necessarily demands a regularity of supply, and of control of that supply, that can only be effected by the introduction of properly controlled mechanical means.

Against these persistent arguments in favor of Windmill and Pump Engine irrigation may be urged: The justification of the original outlay in the case of the windmill, the unknown quantity of the wind, the care of machinery, simple though it may be. The latter is not a serious obstacle, and with regard to the former, the Dominion Government would no doubt, if properly approached, assist by obtaining the important information for suitable areas in the province by erecting anemometers. The value of the pre-emptive wind throughout the year, and more particularly during the irrigation months, are valuable data required in determining the dimensions of the mill best suited for each particular locality. There is little doubt that there is ample wind in the "Dry Belt" of British Columbia, and windmills but the best results can only be got after the study of accurate information.

In addition to the points already mentioned in favor of the introduction of mechanical pumping irrigation, must be included that general factor which influences the constantly-increasing demand for machinery—a substitute for man and animal labor, and that is the steadily increasing cost of labor, as well as its scarcity, owing to the great tendency of the population to be attracted to the cities, and to follow trades and industries which town life offers. The Great War has, for one reason or another, had a big influence on this.

Prof. G. H. R. Simonds, recently completed Dean Clement, faculty of Agriculture, B.C. University, the average investment per acre of Apple-growing sections in B.C. is $1162.32, and gives the yield per acre, figuring on the basis of 75 trees per acre as 480 boxes; he puts the cost of production as $1.54, while the wholesale price is $2.50. According to these figures the net profit being reasonably to be expected, per year, would be from $700 to $1,000 per acre. These figures apply of course to full grown orchards, and it must be recognized that the installation of an efficient irrigation system of this nature does not come within reach of a farmer making a start without some capital. The process can, however, be started with moderate capital, and be made progressive and capable of expansion on very much the same lines as any other system of farm improvement and development.

The system of windmill irrigation is so adaptable that it can be applied, not only to new undertakings, but can be introduced as an adjunct to existing irrigation systems. The process of installation can be made to expand with the gradual increase of the water requirements of the farm; much of the improvements can be done by the farm hands at such times as their labor is not required on the farm. The site of the reservoir must depend to some extent on that, the necessary puddling to render the lining of the reservoir watertight, and the necessary excavation for the reservoir on the farm, in the case of a year or two the bottom of the reservoir is ready for lining with cement, and if by now the owner is satisfied, the necessary expenditure is justified, he is in a position to carry out such improvement entirely with his own farm hands.

It must be remembered that his orchard by now has grown considerably, and will be requiring more water, and he will have to choose between improving his method of conveyance (i.e. improving his reservoir, possibly enlarging it, and increasing his actual plant; possibly he may decide to do both. Since the best work that his windmill will do will be during the winter months, he would be wise to construct a reservoir of sufficient capacity to hold all the water that his windmill could raise during those months, and with favorable conditions and frost precautions his reservoir will be able to supply him with ice, another source of profit. The great element of uncertainty, the wind, must not be given undue prominence, it must be remembered that every irrigation project that is developed the promoters are always confronted with enormous uncertainties which cannot be foretold, such as the rise of the water table and consequent water logging of some of the areas of the actual land included within the scope of the original project; with judicious selection this very undesirable contingency can be avoided in the development of windmill systems.

Up to 1910 it was found that 50 feet was the economical lift, to raise in the States, for the purpose of irrigating the usual farm crops; but since then, and though it might not be justified in British Columbia for the production of cereals and the usual farm crops exclusively, windmill irrigation in those parts of the "Dry Belt" suited for farming, might well be found a profitable outlay even if water has to be pumped 100 feet, or even more. In parts of the Bonaparte Valley plenty of very fertile land is lying idle, and accessible, requiring only a small lift from a practically unlimited water supply to make it equal to some of the most abundantly producing land in the Province; in the Thompson River Valley above Kamloops and below Wabachin conditions are even more favorable than in the Bonaparte; the same may be said of the Okanagan. It is this form of cultivation which will bring the high lying bench lands within reach of the farmer, which are at present only lying idle for want of water.

A properly installed and well cared for windmill plant will last fifteen years, and if proper arrangements are made and frost precautions taken, there is every reason to believe that the areas given in the tables for acreage might easily be doubled, after a few years. The efficient system has been brought into play. In this way an initial cost of water at $10 an acre for a height of fifty feet could be careful management be reduced to $5, and so be well below the charges of $15 for 1 1/2 acres feet, a not uncommon, in fact a moderate charge for water supplied by existing gravity systems. The present high cost of timber makes the construction of a wooden flume a very serious problem, their maintenance too becomes an important item, while the life of a flume system cannot be taken as more than ten years.

It may be suggested that the low elevations at which windmills must be necessarily be installed would place them out of the reach of the frequently follows the neglect of an injury. Germs and dust get into the wound, it begins to fester, blood-poisoning sets in, and sometimes the loss of a limb is the result. Safeguard yourself against such a possibility by applying Zam-Buk at once. This antiseptic balm destroys all germs and prevents festering and blood-poisoning. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new tissue and it is not long before the wound is completely healed. wind, this is a point that can only be settled after careful considerations of the local conditions, and on this account it is very necessary that the Dominion Meteorological Bureau do all in its power to assist the farmer by procuring such important information for him, by the installation of anemometers at suitable localities. There may be areas where an initial lift from the river bed would have to be done by means of an engine plant and further lifts from reservoirs effected by means of windmills. This form of terracing is by no means impracticable. A stubborn economical fight, however, is going on between the centrifugal and turbine type, on the one hand, and the increased cost of the crude oils and other fuels, on the other.

Exhaustive trials are now being carried out in the States with windmills in order to test the relative merits of the centrifugal and turbine type, and when not required for pumping to turn their work for other useful purposes on the farm. The best results, however, will only be obtained after accurate knowledge of the wind has been ascertained.

Referring to the areas for which windmill irrigation has here been advocated the B. C. Bulletin No. 8, agriculture page 18, reads: "No. 2 includes the valleys of the Fraser, Thompson, North Thompson, Nicola and Bonaparte Rivers. Here the question of irrigation is one requiring serious consideration, as an abundant supply of water in the dry belt is necessary to secure a full crop annually. The prospective fruit-grower does not, however, have to contend with the drainage and heavy clearing in this district that have to be encountered in many quarters of the coast region, whilst fruits grown are of the highest quality."

HOLD MONTHLY MEETING OF UNIT

Pending Removal of A. and N. to New Premises Is Indicated

Important business was transacted at the regular monthly meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans' Association last night.

Outlining the work which the Association had concluded during the past month, and the tasks which lay ahead of it, Secretary H. J. Young announced that the paid-up membership had increased to 1,743 in Victoria. The secretary announced also that the anniversary parade held on April 25 had netted the Victoria Relief Fund $109.35.

The Secretary commented on the fact that the speaker to-morrow will also partake of the nature of a farewell entertainment as a move to new quarters on Government Street will take place at the beginning of June.

Comrade Young appealed to all local members to assist to their utmost in "putting over" the forthcoming convention of Army and Navy Veterans in Canada to be held here early in August.

After a brief reference to the probable success of the movement on foot

And by its delicious bouquet and rich sparkling color. The name of this new tea is Lanka—it comes in the handsome striking package shown in this illustration.

The price is only 75 cents a pound, because Lanka is imported by the direct water route with a consequent saving of freight charges and duty. Buy Lanka tea today—try Lanka tea today—it will be a revelation in tea quality. It combines the two essentials of tea perfection. The finest possible grades of tea, exquisitely blended. Remember the name, remember the package, remember to ask for Lanka, today. Don't wait to enjoy the finest tea that British possessions can produce.

Imported and packed by WM. BRAID & COMPANY, Vancouver, Canada to augment the pensions of Old Service Pensioners, the Secretary brought his remarks to a close with an earnest request that all members give their hearty support by their presence at all matches to the Sports Committee.

The meeting passed a unanimous vote of thanks to the Provincial Returned Soldiers' Commission, for the services which it had rendered to Army and Navy Veterans.

At the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Campbell and Comrade Hadley, first vice-president, the following telegram was ordered sent to Sir Arthur Currie, to congratulate him on his appointment to the principality of McGill University: "General Sir Arthur Currie, Inspector-General Canada's Forces, The members of the Victoria unit, Army and Navy Veterans, extend to you congratulations on your appointment as Principal of the University of McGill. We wish you success equal to your brilliant career as Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian Forces in France and Flanders."

Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, the president; Secretary Young, W. H. Hadley and J. Hinchliffe will go to Vancouver 'to-night to attend the monthly meeting of the Provincial Command of the Association.

The meeting enjoyed an address from Comrade A. Murdoch, of Winnipeg, Dominion Organizer for the Army and Navy Veterans. In a vivid speech, in which he recalled early recollections of the first units formed in Canada, Comrade Murdoch urged on the members the need for unity and for careful deliberation in choosing the planks of their various platforms. On the conclusion of his speech a hearty vote of thanks was passed.

The meeting next endorsed the prospecting scheme put forward by the Minister of Mines, and also the proposal to establish an iron smelter on Vancouver Island.

WHAT THE CLUBS ARE DOING

Following an eloquent appeal at the Vancouver Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday from J. T. Fahay on the advisability of supporting the Victorian Order of Nurses' drive next week, the club unanimously decided that every member give half a day some time during next week to assist in the canvass.

Mr. Fahay explained why the V.O.N.

was one of the great community services that could not be allowed to become non-existent for lack of funds. He described some of the excellent work of the organization among the children of the city, many of whom came from poor families and would otherwise be deprived of proper medical attention.

At the close of the meeting scores of members handed in their names to Mr. Fahay, giving him the dates on which they would turn out to help the drive.

Vancouver Rotary. The reports of the various committees for the past year were given at the last meeting of the Vancouver Rotary Club. J. Todhunter, chairman of the finance committee, stated that the total assets of the club were $1,678, with a surplus of $309. W.

Shortly for the membership committee stated that the total attendance to April 30 was 228 as compared with 190 at January 1, 1919.

J. D. Kearns stated that before the end of the year clubs would be established at Fernie, Nelson and Prince Rupert.

Leon Ladner was congratulated by the members on his appointment as Belgian consul in Vancouver, and Dr. Elwood Cox was introduced to the club as a new member.

ROYALTIES ON OIL DEPOSITS IN BRITAIN

London, May 14.—Mr. Bonar Law announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the Government had reached a decision on the royalties on all deposits in Great Britain and a bill had been drafted. It was not proposed to permit fresh vested interests of landowners where oil was discovered. On the passing of the Government of Ireland Bill into law, the Irish representatives in the House would receive salaries out of the Imperial funds. The Home Secretary said there were no votes in the British Isles. He could not give the membership of societies actively preaching the soviet idea in Great Britain, but they included many aliens, and money supported for their propaganda was coming from foreign sources.

The House took up the report stage of a new and more drastic anti-flooding bill.

OPERATORS DO NOT RECOGNIZE STRIKE

Strikers Appear to Have Lost Out in Latest Dispute

Prospects of early resumption of the G. T. P. steamship Prince Rupert in the northern service is the latest development in the strike of coastwise seamen. The striking stewards sought a conference with the shore steward and it is quite possible that some agreement will be reached to enable the ship stewards to return to work. Captain C. H. Nicholson states that his company has received quite a number of applications for employment in response to the announcement that the G. T. P. proposed to take on new men.

The steamship Prince George sailed from Vancouver at 8 o'clock last night for Ocean Falls, Swanson Bay, Prince Rupert, Anxox and Stewart. She is manned by her own officers who are not affected by the strike. The stewards elected to stand by the vessel and the places of the striking firemen and deckhands were filled by other employees of the company.

The coastwise vessels of the C.P.R. fleet are all running on schedule, with the exception of three coal burners, and for the first time in strike history in recent years the travelling public has suffered no inconvenience.

As the object of the strike was completely to tie up the coastwise feet, the strikers would appear to have lost out. The Union Steamship Company's services, however, have been disrupted by the strike, all the vessels of this fleet being tied up at Vancouver.

Attempts have been made to establish a conciliation board, but the companies, contending that there is nothing to conciliate, are standing by their guns, and carrying on.

SHARK SKINS USED FOR LEATHER GOODS

Active mud-shark fishing operations will be inaugurated early next month by the Veteran Products Company organized two months ago by a number of returned veterans for the production of fish oil and fertilizer from the mud shark. The plant located at Parker Island, near Active Pass, Gulf of Georgia, is now practically completed, and the organization has been perfected to permit the immediate start. One of the chief features of this new industry will be the manufacture of fancy footwear, handbags and other novelties from the skin of the mud shark which, as it has been conclusively demonstrated, makes excellent leather after being put through the tanning process.

Splendid specimens of shark leather were recently entrusted to the care of Major D. B. Martyn, Provincial industrial commissioner, by representatives of Eastern leather manufacturers who are prepared to purchase the Canadian Victor, each approximately 3,300 deadweight tons, Canadian Vickers, Ltd., Montreal, Que.; Canadian Highlander and Canadian Skiridian, each approximately 3,300 deadweight tons, Wallace Shipyards, Ltd., North Vancouver, B. C.; Canadian Constructor and Canadian Leader and Conqueror, each approximately 10,500 deadweight tons, Halifax Shipyards, Halifax, N. S.

The Dominion Government placed contracts with shipbuilding firms in Canada for the construction of sixty-two ships of a total tonnage of approximately 376,725 tons, at an average cost of $192,041 a ton, and up to March, 1920, twenty-three ships had been completed and delivered to the Government.

EMPRESS WILL MAKE PORT ON HOLIDAY

Shipping Men Will Have Work to Do on Empire Day

Holiday arrangements by a certain section of the shipping fraternity will have to be revised unless unlooked for developments intervene to interrupt the clockwork schedule of the inbound liner Empress of Russia, May 24 this year falls on Monday and on that particular day the big C. P. G. S. steamship Empress of Russia is scheduled to make port from the Orient. The speedy ship is due to sail from Yokohama to-day and she has a passenger list of 1,200 and a train time in negotiating the Pacific. All the accommodation of the liner was booked prior to her departure from the Orient.

Another offshore arrival that is likely to upset the holiday routine is the Canadian-Australian liner Niagara, now forging here from the west coast of Sydney and Auckland. If she keeps up her present gait it is probable that the Niagara will make port on Sunday, May 23.

The next Empress of Russia to show up here will be the Manila Maru, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha fleet, which is scheduled to arrive from Yokohama next Friday. As it is known at present the Manila Maru is running on time.

Agents of the Harrison Direct Line have been notified that the British steamship Magician, from Liverpool via the Panama Canal and San Francisco, will make this port on Sunday next. As it is known at present the Magician has been discharging freight at the Golden Gate port.

PLAN TO EXTEND WHALING INDUSTRY

Barclay Sound Men Propose to Commercialize Fish Waste

Whaling industry on the west coast of Vancouver Island is to be extended by the taking in of English capital to commercialize all the by-products of the whaling fisheries and the waste from non-edible fish caught along this Coast.

S. C. Ruck and W. N. Kelly, of the Vancouver Island Whaling Co., accompanied by Henry Hatfield, P. J. Intervenor Premier Oliver to-day in connection with the proposed extensions. They explained how bones and other by-products will be fertilized and used as fertilizer and how oil and other products will be extracted and made from non-edible fish, which are now wasted.

The plan will operate out of Barclay Sound.

In connection with the extension of this company its officers propose to buy the British Columbia House, which this Province maintains in London to stimulate interest in the fisheries of the Coast and the investment of capital here.

LINER VIRGINIAN IS SOLD BY C. P. R. TO SWEDISH INTERESTS

The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., has sold the liner Virginian to Swedish interests. The Virginian was built at Glasgow in 1905 for the Allan Line, and has a gross tonnage of 10,757 tons. The annual report of the C. P. R. for the calendar year of 1919 states that the following ships were sold: Virginian, Monmouth, Princess Margaret, Prince George and Princess May. New vessels purchased by the company during the year were the War Beryl and War Peridot.

PALE ANAEMIC CHILDREN NEED VINOL

It Makes Puny, Thin, Ailing Children Strong, Robust and Rosy

Physicians Recommend It and Druggists Guarantee It

Rapidly growing children need a great deal of vitality. They not only grow fast but play hard and work hard at school, and often are tired, thin, pale, worn and listless when they should be strong, robust and rosy.

If mothers could only realize how VINOL will build up strength for already pale, delicate, ailing children, create a hearty appetite, sound flesh and muscle tissue, rich, red blood, and make them strong, robust and rosy, they would not rest until they had started their little ones taking it.

It is the medicinal, body building extractives of fresh cod's livers, aided by beef peptone and tonic from one of the oldest and most successful tonics known to medicine, that act so quickly in VINOL, and you know what you are giving your little ones.

VINOL calls to benefit them, your druggist will return your money.

Glaciers' Abound
 Plying on regular schedule the G.T.P. steamship Prince George makes a daylight run down the glacier lined and at some points, precipitously walled, Portland Canal, which, McNicholl says, in many respects greatly resembles the famous Lynn Canal, on the northern Alaska route.

Located practically on the British Columbia boundary, Stewart is only a mile and a half removed from the settlement of Hyder, Alaska. Some excellent roads are in existence, or under construction, and numerous jaunts can be made by automobile during the stay of the vessel in port.

The cruise up the Portland Canal has what might be termed an "international attraction," inasmuch that from one part of the steamer rise the magnificent Canadian headlands, while from the opposite rail United States territory is seen.

MAYOR FAVORS PLAN FOR ONE SOLICITOR

McDiarmid Scheme Meets With Approval From Civic Authorities

Instead of raising the ire of the civic authorities, many observers expected it to do, F. A. McDiarmid's letter to Mayor Porter, relating to this position as Solicitor for the Union of B.C. Municipalities, as published in The Times yesterday, has met with considerable approval from the Mayor and his colleagues.

Mayor Porter declared himself this morning as much in favor of Mr. McDiarmid's suggestion that the Municipal Union should retain a lawyer who would act for each municipality. Even in the larger cities, to this project, it seems to me, would be most beneficial. In many cases a small city would become tangled in involved litigation and has to hire counsel whose services may extend over an indefinite period and whose charges cannot be foreseen. Now if such municipalities could lay the matter in the hands of the solicitor for the Municipal Union—whose fees would be paid by regular yearly contributions—a great deal of expense could be saved.

"As for the larger cities," His Worship pointed out, "it is often necessary to secure the services of a lawyer to assist the City Solicitor in heavy cases which really require the combined work of two men, or in cases which it is impossible for the City Solicitor to undertake it with his regular work as well. In such cases it would save much money for the city to be able to put the matter in the hands of the Union Solicitor to whom it would have to pay nothing, as his salary would be paid out of the general funds of the Union.

"However," the Mayor observed, "we are out of the Union now altogether and so cannot be affected by any arrangement it may decide to make. We are out of it, however, over one issue, the position of Mr. McDiarmid who is the Union Solicitor but who has taken a number of cases against Victoria, a member of the Union. When our objections on that score are removed things may be changed. I for one shall favor joining the Union again, as I consider that we have derived a great deal of benefit from it. Besides, one never knows what succeeding Councils will do."

ELLIOTT ISSUES HIS DEFENCE IN $50,000 LABEL SUIT

Reaffirms Statement He Made in Telegram to Premier Oliver

R. T. Elliott, K.C., late yesterday filed his reply in the $50,000 label suit that Premier Oliver is bringing against him for statements in the telegram about the Dolly Varden trouble sent the Premier just at the close of the last session of the Legislature.

In his defence Mr. Elliott reaffirms all the statements made in his telegram, but says that they do not give any cause for legal action.

"No Cause of Action."
The statement is as follows:

1. In answer to the whole of the statement of claim herein, the defendant says that it discloses no cause of action.
2. The defendant admits the statements contained in paragraph one of the statement of claim herein, and in further answer to the whole of the said statement of claim says that every communication made by the defendant in respect of the matter alleged in the said statement of claim was made to the plaintiff direct in his official capacity, and was true, and related solely and exclusively to matters pending before the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia, and necessarily requiring and calling for investigation and inquiry by and on behalf of the said Legislative Assembly as one of the factors affecting proposed legislation then pending before the Legislative Assembly aforesaid, and that every such communication was in substance and in fact, and necessary for truly informing the said Legislative Assembly in respect of matters then pending before it and was and is absolutely privileged and necessary, and that the plaintiff in his individual capacity has no right of action against the defendant in respect of communications made by the defendant direct to the plaintiff in his official capacity and directly concerning, relating to and affecting legislation pending before the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia and introduced and advocated by the plaintiff, and that the statement of claim which the plaintiff is entitled to maintain.

3. The defendant denies each and every allegation contained in paragraph three of the statement of claim herein and in further answer to the said paragraph three says:

Meeting at Sun Office.
4. On or about 12th April, 1920, writs were issued out of the Supreme Court of British Columbia claiming a declaration that the Dolly Varden Mines Railway Act Amendment Act, 1919, was ultra vires the Legislature of British Columbia and a nullity, and also claiming substantive relief in respect of matters occurring in purported exercise of powers alleged to have been created and conferred by the said Act, such writs being issued by and on behalf of the Dolly Varden Mines Company, whose properties were affected and for whom the defendant acted.

5. Immediately thereafter the defendant caused inquiries to be made as to whether any further legislative action was contemplated in the premises and the plaintiff stated that no further legislation in the premises would be introduced.

6. On the evening of 16th April, 1920, the defendant attended at the editorial offices of The Sun newspaper in the City of Vancouver, British Columbia, and learned that the plaintiff was then submitting to his party caucus legislation ousting the jurisdiction of the said Supreme Court over and in respect of all properties claimed and owned by the Dolly Varden Mines Company, and that the Legislative Assembly would prorogue within twenty-four hours, and there being no time to present any formal protest or petition in the premises otherwise than by telegraphic communication, the defendant wrote and sent to the plaintiff in his official capacity a telegraphic message in the words following:

The Message.
"Hon. John Oliver, Premier: The influence brought to bear upon the Oliver Government in attempts to secure further legislation affecting property rights in Dolly Varden mines constitutes direct lobbying for fraudulent purposes, substitute wilful attempts to substitute forces of secret, illicit lobbying for open public administration. No system of government can be honestly conducted which places the disposal of secret lobbyists. No amount of assertion and no force of declamation will convince the general public that the reason of acceding to the demands of secret lobbyists can be other than corrupt and fraudulent."

"The public administration of justice by permanent tribunals responsible to, and governed by, maturely considered principles and rules of jurisprudence is one of the vital factors of every British domain, and the suggestion that legislative action based on secret lobbying is necessary for the protection of any group of men, constitutes an admission that these men have fallen into evil ways and that the Government proposing such legislation has been unable to withstand wicked and corrupt influences."

"Legislative action cannot deny access to courts of justice to any claimant, except with the purpose of preventing such claimant from obtaining justice, and legislative action for that purpose will necessarily be fraudulent and corrupt."

"These matters are thoroughly understood by the general public, who are fully aware of the dangers involved in legislation based on secret lobbying, and who knew that no such legislation could be obtained by any individual without money and influence."

"Such an individual would be told to bring his claim before courts of justice and not to endeavor to turn the Legislature into a tribunal for an adjustment of individual claims."
"Therefore, legislation interfering with the course of pending litigation passed as a result of secret lobbying by men possessed of money and influence, carries with it to every reader the certain knowledge that fraudulent and wicked influences have been successful in imposing their will upon the Government and its legislative majority. One of the strongest protests made by the Liberal party against preceding Government was that government was carried on in secret caucus, giving effect to financial wishes of political friends."
"You preached against this practice very strongly yourself and now in the dying hours of the session, as a result of secret caucus and secret lobby, introduce measures closing access to courts of justice in direct betrayal of Liberal principles and in direct abandonment of your pledges to the people who elected you.

"R. T. ELLIOTT."
Mr. Oliver's Bill.

7. On or about midnight of 16th April, 1920, the plaintiff introduced in the Legislative Assembly and advocated the passage of a bill or act ousting the jurisdiction of the courts as above explained, and instead of advising the Assembly as his true reasons for introducing and advocating such legislation, misled and deceived the Assembly and made a violent and vitriolic personal attack on the defendant, imputing to the defendant malpractices and wicked and vicious courses, and injuring the defendant in professional and personal standing.

8. On the morning of 17th April, 1920, the defendant learned of these circumstances, and the Assembly being then within a few hours of the announced prorogation, there was no time to present any formal protest or petition in the premises otherwise than by telegraphic communication, and the defendant thereupon wrote and sent to the plaintiff in his official capacity a telegraphic message in the words following:

"Your explanation to Legislature at introduction of further Dolly Varden legislation omits two important facts which are, first, that two weeks ago I asked you for particulars of moneys received from sale of Dolly Varden ores, and you obtained these particulars and furnished them as you suppressed them."

"Second, about a week ago you stated in the presence of one of the members of the Legislature that there would be no further Dolly Varden legislation and your statement was definite, emphatic and unconditional."

"What right had you to withhold these facts from the Legislature?"
"Referring to myself, I know when you addressed Legislature, and have known for some months, that I was acting for the Dolly Varden Mines Company, and for no one else, and your statement to the contrary was a deliberate, wilful lie, made with intent to deceive the Legislature and thereby to procure the passage of legislation introduced by you under pseudo secret, illicit and fraudulent lobbying."

"This is not the first time you have deliberately deceived the Legislature, and with your permission further instances will here be given."
"When Brewster Cabinet was being formed, all papers in connection with John T. Scott case were entrusted to you for perusal and report, and your report made to Mr. Brewster in presence was that evidence existed that proved beyond all question Mr. Macdonald's responsibility for actions of John T. Scott."

"Shortly thereafter you were found sitting at the table of the cabinet, and deliberately assisting in deceiving Legislature and public into belief that charges against Mr. Macdonald were inventions."
"Then came the charge about the Mackenzie campaign contribution, and you knew before the charge was made that Mr. Macdonald had received the money you had acquiesced in this handling of it."

"When Mr. Macdonald arose in the Legislature you were sitting there and heard him and concurred in his view as to what full knowledge of the facts, and his denial was your oath, for you were under the same oath of office and same duty to the Legislature as he was."

"You were willing Legislature should be deceived, and you also kept silence when judicial commissioner was appointed, and then when crash came and Macdonald was dismissed from cabinet, you allowed him to bear the blame and acquire a taste for it."
"I have heard some farmers say their cows would not eat such excellent foods as alfalfa, malt, cotton seed, etc. In fact, I have seen cows that would not eat green corn at first. This year I am planting a much larger acreage of sunflowers and intend mixing them at the time of ensiling."

"They are the heaviest cropper I have yet found, and growing so quickly, require less labor to keep clear of weeds; they will also stand much more frost than corn."
"Before closing I must remark that cows at the Experimental Station appear to be pampered to quite a large extent."

"R. T. ELLIOTT."

9. All the statements contained in each of the said telegraphic messages were of plain and certain intent and meaning, not capable of any innuendo or insinuation; were made to the plaintiff direct in his official capacity, and the plaintiff was the official introducer and advocator of the passing of the legislation, and was necessarily the person to whom the defendant should, and did, send such telegraphic message by way of protest against the passing of the pending legislation, and by way of protest against the misleading and deceiving of the Legislature, in the premises.

"Dying Hours of Session."
10. The plaintiff chose his own time for introducing the said legislation, and having chosen the dying hours of the session of the Assembly, when the only possible method of protest and communication was by telephone message, cannot found any cause of action upon any alleged publication to officers, agents, or servants of a secret company, or the messages set forth in the said telegraphic messages were of actual and necessary importance, and information to the Assembly in and about the consideration of the pending legislation.

11. Without restricting the generality of the foregoing allegations, the defendant says that there was an active lobby for the passage of the legislation affecting the properties of the Dolly Varden Mines Company, of the nature described in the said telegraphic messages, and that substantial sums of money were disbursed in connection with such lobby.

12. In further answer to said paragraph three of the Statement of Claim herein, the defendant says that the portions of the telegraphic messages therein set forth that have been attached by the plaintiff from a telegraphic message, necessarily and properly sent to him in his official capacity, are absolutely privileged and do not confer upon the plaintiff any cause of action, and are true and are of plain meaning, and not capable of any innuendo or extension by way of inference, and deal with a matter which would be a factor in enabling the Legislative Assembly to decide whether or not it was being properly advised when asked to enact the pending legislation aforesaid; and the words complained of do not contain anything false or malicious, and were not published, but were sent to the plaintiff direct in his official capacity, being matters which it was his duty to lay before the Assembly aforesaid.

13. The defendant denies each and every allegation of fact contained in paragraph four of the Statement of Claim herein, and in further answer to said paragraph four repeats the statements contained in paragraphs nine and ten of the Statement of Defence.

14. The defendant denies each and every allegation of fact contained in paragraph five of the Statement of Claim herein.

15. In further answer to said paragraph five of the Statement of Claim herein, the defendant says that J. S. Cowper, therein mentioned, being a member of the Legislative Assembly, should be and was necessary to be formed of all the matters contained in the said telegraphic messages as being factors necessarily to be considered by him in connection with the pending legislation aforesaid, and that the plaintiff cannot have or maintain any cause of action in the premises.

"Untrue Statements."
16. The defendant denies each and every allegation of fact contained in paragraph six of the Statement of Claim, and in further answer thereto and in further answer to the whole of the Statement of Claim, says that the plaintiff was at all material times by means of untrue and misleading statements and by the suppression of material facts, and by knowingly assisting in endeavoring to persuade the Legislative Assembly to enact pending legislation against which it was the duty of the defendant to protest, and that every such protest having been necessarily sent by telegraphic communication to the plaintiff direct in his official capacity, the plaintiff has not been injured, has not suffered any damage, and has no cause of action in the premises whatsoever.

Filed and delivered this 12th day of May, A. D. 1920, by H. H. Shandley, of the firm of Elliott, Maclean & Shandley, 304 Central Building, View Street, Victoria, B. C., Solicitor for the Defendant herein. To: The Plaintiff, and to Joseph Oliver, Esq., his solicitor.

SUNFLOWER ENSILAGE.

To the Editor,—I have had innumerable inquiries in regard to the question of feeding sunflowers for ensilage, and with your kind permission would like to avail myself of the use of your columns for replying thereto.

I only commenced feeding them last Sunday, and at first they were mixed with corn ensilage. To-day, Wednesday, they were fed alone, and at the end of half an hour every scrap was cleaned up.

In commencing to use a new feed farmers must give the cows a chance to acquire a taste for it.

I have heard some farmers say their cows would not eat such excellent foods as alfalfa, malt, cotton seed, etc. In fact, I have seen cows that would not eat green corn at first. This year I am planting a much larger acreage of sunflowers and intend mixing them at the time of ensiling.

They are the heaviest cropper I have yet found, and growing so quickly, require less labor to keep clear of weeds; they will also stand much more frost than corn.

Before closing I must remark that cows at the Experimental Station appear to be pampered to quite a large extent.

MRS. SANFORD'S MESSAGE TO WORKING WOMEN

Laurel, Miss. — "Eight years ago I was suffering with pains and weakness caused by a female trouble. I had head aches, chills and fevers, and was unable to do my work part of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took twelve bottles of it, and my health has been good ever since. I am able to run the machine and do dressmaking besides my housework. You are at liberty to publish my letter if it will help some poor suffering woman."
—Mrs. J. C. SANFORD, 1227 Second Ave., Laurel, Miss.

Thousands of women drag along from day to day in just such a miserable condition as Mrs. Sanford, or suffering from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headache, nervousness, or "the blues."

Such women should profit by Mrs. Sanford's experience and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and find relief from their sufferings as she did. For special suggestions in regard to your ailment write Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of your long experience is at your service.

What is the Secret of Enduring Youthfulness?

Nothing but what you, too, can possess. Soft, silky, abundant Hair, retaining the lustre of youth.

VIE DE PEAU

thoroughly revives and stimulates each strand, invigorating the scalp, and stops the hair from falling out. It will NOT grow hair on a bald pate. But, it will kill the germs that cause baldness, restoring the scalp to its natural, healthy condition. It gradually renews the lustre, stimulates the growth and restores the color by a perfectly natural process.

Nature constantly reminds you of approaching baldness by dandruff, by falling hair, itching scalp, oily hair, split hair and brittle hair. Their first appearance points to the time for action. Save your hair now.

MANY DEPUTATIONS INTERVIEW COUNCIL

Grievances Aired at Royal Oak; Gorge Bathers Annoy Residents

The Municipal Hall at Royal Oak last night was the mecca of a large number of Saanich residents, there being three strong delegations present when the Council opened proceedings.

R. S. Thompson headed an emphatic delegation from the Gorge district, who presented a petition asking that the bathing float of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club should be located elsewhere than its present site on the narrow waterfrontage of the Gorge Road.

Building Damages View. A petition claimed that the natural beauty of the finest scenic drive close to Victoria was being completely ruined by the construction of gillings, sheds, and enclosures.

It was asserted that on Sundays the noise, hilarity and rickety were serious disturbances to the serenity of residents nearby.

Mr. Thompson said it was scarcely fair that Saanich should be expected to give residents of Victoria bathing privileges which were detrimental to Saanich ratepayers and which would depreciate their property.

Pavilion Doing Good. Councillor Dooley considered that the construction of the bathing pavilion was a benefit to the district, as it provided a means of keeping young people off the lands bordering the highway and so abolished last year's scandal, when young folk almost in nature's garb, basked on the rocks and roadway between immersions in the water.

Mr. Thompson hinted that, if action was not forthcoming, the residents would take other steps to prohibit the use and maintenance of the club, at its present site, but exonerated the present Council from blame, as the lease to the club was granted by last year's body.

Mrs. Humphries and other nearby residents also urged cancellation of the lease, and Reeve Watson promised careful attention to the petition, which bears twenty-eight signatures.

The Council decided to put the question of the lease of the strip between high water and the roadway up to the municipal solicitors, being of opinion that charges of unseemly conduct and defacing of the view are unfounded.

Cadboro Bay Road. Stuart Armour headed a delegation of Cadboro Bay residents, who asked that the roadway north from the Upper lands gateway should be put into shape. He claimed that the present condition of the surface made it almost a certainty that there would be serious accidents this summer if something is not done.

Government Road Grants. Mr. Armour stated that in an interview with Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, he had been assured that Saanich had been allocated an appropriation of $6,000, of which $5,000 was for improvement of the West Road, and the balance for Mount Toimie, and that the Minister would have no objection if Saanich used a portion of this grant in making the Cadboro Bay Road safe to traffic.

Reeve Watson stated that no official word had as yet been received regarding the grant of $5,000 for the West Road, but the matter of improving the Cadboro Bay Road would receive consideration.

Councillor Clark remarked that he had interviewed the Hon. Dr. King regarding a grant, but other Councillors had been before him and the whole available money at the disposal of the Public Works Department for expenditure in Saanich had already been earmarked.

Claimed Petitions Ignored. Mr. C. L. Styan and a delegation of Craigmiller Road residents asked for co-operation between Wards One and Two to improve that road and connect it with Blenkinsop Road, claiming that past petitions have been ignored and their street was impassable for six months in the year. The Municipal Engineer was instructed to investigate and report on conditions.

INVESTIGATION IS HINGED ON REPORT
 Instructed by the Attorney-General, David B. Brankin, Superintendent of the Provincial Department of Neglected Children, is in the city in connection with the Children's Aid Home. Whether or not the Home will be made the subject of an investigating commission will depend largely upon what Mr. Brankin determines.

Mr. Brankin has, so far, declined to state his views on the matter or give any preliminary information in the connection. After visiting the Home yesterday Mr. Brankin held a conference with Mayor Porter, chairman of the Children's Aid Society, and a delegation of people interested in the charges laid against the conduct of that institution. Trustee Mrs. Andrews, who raised the issue in the first place, being present.

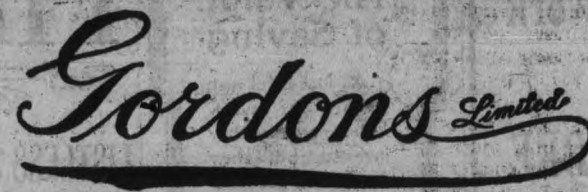

"Of what use is this article?" asked the mystified customer. "I have no idea," replied the truthful salesman. "In fact, I doubt if it is of any real use at all. We sell a great many of them for wedding presents."
