Britain Is to Pay U.S. Debt Interest And Is to Be Paid

London Notifies Allied Nations That As Britain Is Required to Make Payments to American Republic, She Looks to Them For Sums.

London, April 5.—The British Government has addressed a note to the Allies declaring that, owing to the fact that Great Britain has to pay the interest on her debt to the United States, she reserves to herself the right to call upon the Allies in turn to pay the interest on their war debts to Great Britain. In this connection it is pointed out that Great Britain is now fully prepared to pay the interest due the United States.

The three-year agreement between Great Britain and the United States lapses April 15, from which time interest on the debt due by Great Britain to the United States will begin to accrue so that Great Britain will pay six months' interest the coming fall.

Similarly, the agreement between Great Britain and her debtors will terminate almost immediately.

Paris, April 5.—The understanding in French official circles has been that the whole question of the Inter-Allied debts will come up soon on the initiative of Great Britain as the result of the American Funding Bill, which requires the payment of interest on the debts of the Allies to the United States. As all these obligations are linked together, it is held in French circles that a settlement between any two countries requires a general adjustment.

The British Foreign Office was understood to have informed the French ambassador in London that the British Government would bring the question up, but the French Foreign Office declared to-day no formal note on the subject had been presented.

TO PROVIDE FUNDS FOR HAPSBURG

Countries' Shares Considered by Allied Ambassadors

Paris, April 5.—The Council of Ambassadors to-day took up the question of providing for the family of the late Charles Hapsburg, former Emperor of Austria-Hungary, who died in exile on Madeira Island last Saturday. The Allies are ready to contribute to the support of the family, but some of the countries that benefited by parts of the fortune of the Hapsburgs, including Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, are declared to have refused to release for this purpose any part of the property of the imperial family that has handed over to them.

DANISH LOCKOUT ABOUT TO END

Decision to Be Made at Meeting Friday

Copenhagen, April 5.—A compromise agreement by which the general lockout will end, subject to the approval of a general meeting Friday of trades unions and employers' organizations, has been reached after lengthy negotiations. The compromise entails acceptance by the men of conditions offered by employers at the beginning of the lockout February 15.

The Danish lockout affected 150,000 men and nearly all the country's industries and was the final phase in the biggest labor struggle in the history of Denmark. The trouble began in January, when employers attempted to cut wages twenty per cent and lengthened the working day. Compromise proposals made by arbitrators were rejected by twenty-two of the twenty-five trade unions, after which the lockout was put into effect. Disorders during the latter part of March compelled calling out of troops, but no serious trouble was reported.

WILL RESTRICT IMPORTATION

Attorney-General Wins Point at Ottawa

Liquor Measure to Cover B.C. Situation

Vancouver, April 5.—Legislation which will prohibit liquor importation into British Columbia, except by the Provincial Government or for export, will be laid before Parliament by a member of the Federal Government within a few days and undoubtedly will be passed. Attorney-General Manson made this announcement to The Times on his arrival here from the East to-day.

The liquor amendment, which will give the Provincial Government the sole right to import liquor, will carry beyond doubt. As it will be introduced by the Minister of Government Policy and the Progressives are solidly behind it, said Mr. Manson, who left on the morning steamer for Victoria, Hon. J. H. King probably will introduce the measure.

It should be understood that the new provision does not apply to liquor brought into the Province for export. It would be asking probably too much to expect the Federal Government to abandon its revenue from export, Mr. Manson considers.

Satisfied. — Expressing himself as satisfied that the new legislation provides for him, Premier King will make the British Columbia Government liquor control administration fully effective.

Attorney-General Manson passed through the city this morning on his way to Victoria from Ottawa.

"The Ottawa bill, which I have seen in draft form, will have the effect of stopping all importations of liquor into the province for all domestic purposes," he said, "it provides that wherever a province has Government liquor control and the Executive, by Order-in-Council, requests it, the Federal Government will prohibit all importation for domestic purposes except through the Government Liquor Control Board."

Full Machinery. — "This," said Mr. Manson, "will put the full machinery of liquor importation in the hands of the Government and greatly strengthen the liquor control administration."

"It will not affect the business of the export houses or distilleries which are exporting their products. It will make it nearly impossible for the bootlegger, be he rich or poor, to obtain supplies. In fully controlling the importation of liquor for all domestic purposes, we will be able to enforce effective administration."

Important. — "I fully realize," said Mr. Manson, "the paramount importance of effective liquor administration. Without effective administration the law falls into disrepute and public confidence is shaken. In aiming and expecting to be able to give the most fully effective administration of the liquor laws, I think I shall be serving my Government as well as the public at large."

Consistent Attitude. — "In agreeing to bring in this legislation," said Mr. Manson, "the unanimous support of the Federal Government behind the Provinces who engage to control their liquor sales and co-operation of the Federal authorities to make their liquor administration a success."

Mr. McGeer Returns. — G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for the British Columbia Government in the Western freight rates equalization case, returned to this city on the same train as Mr. Manson.

SCOTSMEN COME TO ONTARIO FARMS

First Ten Are Advance Guard of 150

St. John, N. B., April 5.—St. John has been invaded by "Mac's." There were Macates, Macafees, MacDouglals, Macdonalds, MacInoshes and others. They were ten in number and composed the advance guard of a party of 150 Scotsmen, all farmers, from the western Highlands of Scotland, who are on their way to settle on Canadian farm lands.

The party arrived here aboard the Canadian Pacific Railway liner Tunisian, which docked from Glasgow. They are all single men, hardy, picked, strong and hearty looking and not one over twenty-eight years of age and each is fit to grapple with the soil and add to Canada's productive-ness.

They were not the only "Mac's" in evidence at the Immigration sheds. The party of "Mac's" was cordially received by Captain Andrew MacDuff, of the Canadian Pacific Colonization Department, and were under the personal supervision of Rev. Father Angus Macdonald, who will conduct the party to Ontario, where they are expected to do their part in developing Canada. They left here on a special train over the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Paris, April 5.—The French delegation to the Genoa Conference lacked to-day only its final instructions from Premier Poincare, and these were expected to be received at a conference with the Premier this afternoon. The instructions will be as complete as possible in view of the uncertainty as to the course the discussion at Genoa will take.

The delegation will have authority to take action within the instructions given, but on questions not previously discussed with M. Poincare it will be necessary to refer any decisions to him before the delegation can obligate the French Government.

Victoria Aldermen on Inspection Tour

Examining Cemeteries to Gather Ideas

Vancouver, April 5.—(By Times Staff Correspondent) — After thorough inspection of the Coughlan plant yesterday, Aldermen R. W. Perry and Reginald Hayward, of Victoria, will report to the City Council on their return to Victoria on the ability of John Coughlan & Sons, of Vancouver, to complete the new Johnson Street Bridge in Victoria.

The Vancouver firm has adequate facilities for doing the remaining bridge work, in the opinion of the aldermen. The Victoria Council members went over the huge Coughlan works here yesterday, escorted by John Coughlan, head of the firm. They were delighted with the shops and complete equipment which they were shown. They feel, it is understood, that the plant possesses all facilities necessary for fabricating the rail-way superstructure of the new Victor Harbor viaduct.

After viewing the Coughlan plant, the aldermen, who are members of the new Council, also looked over Vancouver cemeteries with a view to securing ideas which might be incorporated in Victoria's new inter-municipal cemetery scheme. Their present visit to the Mainland, in fact, is mainly for the purpose of inspecting cemeteries. They left last night for Seattle to look over Seattle burial grounds and from there they will go to Tacoma and other neighboring cities for the same purpose, returning to Victoria Friday.

London, April 5.—Canadian Press Cable.—There is a milk famine in London, and it is believed to be the result of the recent reduction in price from nine pence to five pence a quart. It is thought the farmers are holding up the supplies, as they complain of the large margin between the price they receive for milk and the retail price.

Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, Minister of Agriculture, questioned in the Commons on the matter, admitted that the situation was serious, but he said he was unable to fix or control milk prices.

DUNNING SUCCEEDS PREMIER MARTIN

To Be Asked to Form Saskatchewan Cabinet

Says He Will Follow Martin's Policies

Regina, April 5.—Hon. C. A. Dunning, Provincial Treasurer, is to be Premier of Saskatchewan. He was unanimously chosen at a meeting of the members of the Government and Liberal representatives of Saskatchewan constituencies last night to succeed Hon. W. M. Martin as their leader.

The Lieutenant-Governor is expected to call upon him without delay to form a cabinet.

The meeting at which Mr. Dunning was selected last night was held in the Parliament Buildings and attended by more than 1,000 Liberals from all parts of the Province. It was reported to the meeting that Mr. Dunning had been the choice of the members of the Government side of the House at the caucus during the afternoon and their selection was endorsed by the larger meeting at night.

His Record. — Mr. Martin, who was one of the first speakers, said: "When I undertook the leadership of the Government in 1918 I made up my mind to give the people of Saskatchewan good clean honest government. I stand here on my record. There has never been one charge against the administration since 1918. Speaking more particularly with reference to his resignation from the Government, Mr. Martin stated that he had come to the decision some time ago with considerable regret that he was resigning from the Government. He was satisfied in his own mind that the proper time to resign was shortly after an election and not just before one.

Mr. Martin, in recommending Mr. Dunning as his successor, declared he knew of no one with greater executive and administrative ability than the Provincial Treasurer.

Policies. — Mr. Dunning also spoke following the passage of the resolution recommending him as leader of the "Provincial Liberal Party." He pledged himself to carry out the policies laid down by Mr. Martin in the 1921 election campaign, stating he was not out to fight the Graif Growers' Association, because a few of its leaders were trying to steal its machinery for their own political purposes. The bulk of the Liberal Growers, he declared, were Liberals themselves.

The only other name mentioned in nominations were called was that of Hon. J. S. Latta, Minister of Education, who was nominated by J. A. Wilson, of Earl Grey, and seconded by E. Redner, of Bullock. At Mr. Latta's request, however, the nomination was withdrawn and the choice of Mr. Dunning was made unanimous.

During the evening a number of expressions of appreciation of the retiring Premier passed at the afternoon caucus was endorsed.

TRAIN WRECKED; TEN WERE KILLED

Bombay, April 5.—The wrecking of a mail train from Calcutta to the Punjab Monday when the engine and six coaches fell over a fifty-foot embankment near Madhupur, was caused by an obstacle placed on the tracks by strikers, it is declared in a report made after an investigation.

Ten passengers were reported killed and 200 injured, some of them seriously.

FARMERS NEED MEN FOR SPRING WORK

Prairie Provinces Call to Coast for Experienced Men

The annual demand of the prairie farmers for labor is again manifesting itself, J. H. McVety, Provincial Superintendent of the Employment Service of Canada, this morning received notification that positions are now available in the prairies for 350 men experienced in seeding operations and Spring cultivating operations.

Pointing out that last Spring the prairie provinces demanded 1,800 men from British Columbia, Mr. McVety stated that estimates furnished him show that this figure will be fully required again this year.

There is no limit placed upon the number of men acceptable from Victoria, provided they are able to make good on the farms. Unless the city and municipalities nearby should agree to finance railway fares, each man going to the farmlands will have to pay his own transportation. Should the municipalities undertake the task of advancing fares as loans to their own citizens, the arrangement is in vogue last year, whereby the Provincial and Federal Governments each advanced one-third of the amount, will again be in vogue, stated Mr. McVety. Employment conditions throughout British Columbia are unusually dull, this Spring, stated the Superintendent. Lumbering is slack through the heavy cut made last year, there being at present more logs in the water than are required to keep the mills busy for some time ahead.

Mining is mostly optimism, according to the employment statistics, although there are strong rumors around Nelson and other mining centers as to coming developments, nothing definite is available on which to base prophecies of much relief to the labor outlook.

On the way here, Platt passed with a sixty-ounce bag of gold from his claim, the Discovery, on Cedar Creek. The gold is coarse and appears to have traveled only a very short distance. He showed one nugget of nearly an ounce; there was no dust.

There are bound to be many important discoveries made this year in the surrounding country. In the early (Continued on page 4)

Most of the discussion centred around what is to become of the inexperienced girl who is not able to earn the minimum wage and who will not be kept by her employer because he would be forced to pay her more than she is worth.

M'ADAM TO START ON SMALL SALARY

He Has Special Qualifications for Holding Government Post

Stories sent out during the last few days that W. A. McAdam, secretary to the Hon. John Hart, who has now been appointed Assistant Deputy Minister of Finance for British Columbia, will receive $3,200 a year were denied at the Parliament Building to-day.

Attacks made on his appointment by members of the Associated Veterans' Association were also refuted to-day, particularly that made last night on the grounds that he should not have been appointed because although he has been a secretary and conducted important investigational work for the Government, he has not been a registered civil servant.

Regarding Mr. McAdam's military service, it was pointed out that he was in uniform for seven years, starting his military career in England.

SETTLERS MAY ABANDON HOMES

Sayward Delegation Declare They Must Have Highway

Sixty-eight families engaged in beef farming in the Sayward district threaten to abandon the result of their pioneering work in that rich agricultural district on the East Coast of Vancouver Island north of Campbell River unless the present Island Highway is extended from Campbell River into the Sayward District, a deputation which met the Victoria Chamber of Commerce here this morning asserted.

Some forty miles of road construction is required. For a number of years the J. E. Armishaw, who is secretary of the delegation, has waged, but yet no success has met the claims of the settlers for road construction in the settled portions of Vancouver Island. The only outlet at present is by bi-weekly steamer service to Vancouver.

Two Hundred Settlers. Five hundred families each settled on forty acres of the best agricultural land in the Province would be made possible by the construction of the necessary link in the highway, the figures show. In addition to the settlers engaged in farming there are other following various vocations. In all, there are about two hundred permanent settlers in the area affected.

"The Minister of Lands says that what the Province needs is more settlers. More production means more money for the country, as purchasing millions of dollars' worth of foodstuffs that should be produced and purchased at home. In the Sayward district we have an ideally settled area. The Government has already granted our request for two bridges, one over the Salmon and one over the White River, but this section of wonderful possibilities will always be very seriously hampered until the outlet is built by way of a road connection with Campbell River, to link up with the Island Highway," said Mr. Armishaw, whose views were seconded by all other members of the delegation, which includes a number of ladies.

Important Factors. Three important factors are urged as a reasonable basis for the Government's careful and favorable consideration of the claims of the Sayward settlers.

The selection forms part of the Canadian National Highway from Cape Breton to Cape Scott and already has been surveyed. It would assist in construction to the extent of forty per cent.

At Peak Prices. The estimate made in 1913 that the extension would cost over $200,000 is made during peak prices. Unskilled labor is the largest item of expense and wages in this class have dropped very considerably, and many men are now being taken whom this construction would relieve.

The cost could be reduced and considerable benefit gained by the operation of portable sawmills at each end of the section which would cut up the felled trees into material for the culverts and small bridges and for sawing into lumber. It was pointed out that some of the settlers living along the route where the road would go are now compelled to pack goods to their homes by horse and cart. Settlers will not go into the district on account of lack of roads, and those who have already established homes there will get out if they have an outlet, Mr. Armishaw stated.

To Meet Mr. Barrow. The delegation will meet a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce to-morrow morning and evening they will meet Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, in Vancouver.

It is claimed that if the Government reclamation and other settlement schemes to get people to come and settle on the land the Campsie should be built to safeguard the interests of those who are already pioneer settlers.

HATZIC DYKE MEN HERE TO SEEK AID FROM GOVERNMENT

F. W. Roundsville, chairman of the Board of Dyking Commissioners, of the Clinton Abernethy and M. Macdonald, Hatzic appeared before Premier Oliver and members of the Government to-day and asked that the Government should protect the Hatzic dyking commission from the operators on the part of some landowners outside the dyked area who claim that their lands have been damaged from flooding by the operators of the dyking commission.

They also pointed out to the Government that recent litigation and other charges have been so heavy that the dyking men are not able to carry them and consequently have to ask for financial assistance from the Government.

To look into their problems Premier Oliver and the Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, will go over the dyked area at the end of this week.

Ottawa, April 5.—(Canadian Press)—A deputation comprising part of the business management committee of the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases waited on Premier King, Hon. H. S. Bland, Minister of Health and Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, to-day. The deputation made two requests:

1. That in addition to the $100,000 yearly grant now being made by the Canadian National Council for Combating Venereal Diseases, there be made an additional grant over and over the next year of $15,000, making $25,000 yearly in all granted to the Council, this grant to be continued for a period of three years.

The deputation submitted a lengthy statement setting forth the gravity of the situation in Canada and the necessity of increased efforts to stamp out these diseases.

Members of Commons Engaged With Financial Matters

Ottawa, April 5.—(Canadian Press)—Pending the production of more information, the civil government estimates of the Department of Public Works were allowed to stand after some discussion, and the production of an amendment in the House of Commons last evening. The amendment was introduced by W. A. Hoyt, Conservative, South Simcoe, who discovered that the vote for contingencies, and clerical and other assistance amounted to $31,000, as compared with $15,000 last year. He could not understand why this increase had been made, so moved that the amount be reduced by $16,000 to bring it to last year's vote.

(Times Correspondence).
Metochin, April 4.—The directors of the Metochin Farmers' Institute met last night at "Woodside," the home of H. G. Pierce, to discuss further details in connection with the proposed Fall fair to be held in Metochin early in September. The directors feel that to make the fair a success it is imperative that the growers be given plenty of time to prepare the ground for exhibition crops and produce. The Women's Institute will be asked for a suggested prize list for fancy work, and the complete prize list will be in the hands of the public at the earliest possible moment. It is the intention of the directors, in the event of exhibitions, to enter local exhibits in the Victoria Fall fair.
A letter was read from the Victoria Automobile Association offering their assistance in the good road campaign undertaken by the Farmers' Institute. Tentative date for the debate with the Gyro Club of Victoria is April 25, that date awaiting confirmation by the club. The Gyros, as reported by C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, are determined to swamp the local hall on that occasion. The event is anticipated with great pleasure and interest by Metochin enthusiasts.

NEW FARMERS' PARTY ISSUES MANIFESTO

Another Voice Heard in Provincial Politics

Vancouver, April 5.—The Farmer-Progressive Party, formed at Kamloops last Friday, has issued a manifesto in which it says:
"After several years of organized effort to better their own conditions and secure reforms important to all classes in the Province, the United Farmers of B. C. have taken steps to facilitate the formation of a distinct political party. Neither its name nor its policy has been decided on; that will be a matter to be decided by a convention to be summoned later; but it is intended that the new party shall be, in no sense, a class movement, but shall be wide enough in its membership and varied enough in its appeal to include within its ranks the great body of independent throughout the Province to-day.
Common Interest.
"The factors which are causing widespread uneasiness and concern are of common interest to all classes and callings. The apparent inability of the Government to bring its expenditure within its revenues must cause great uneasiness in the mind of all people who think, as farmers do, that the first axiom of successful business is to pay your own way.
"This is the task to which the new party will devote its energies. No firm can exist long by borrowing money to pay interest on former loans. That way bankrupts the farmer, the individual business, for states or nations. The question of taxation is closely associated with the foregoing. The same inability to curb the Province within the power of the Province to pay is shown in the grotesque incidence and injustice of our taxation allotment. A sane and scientific basis of taxation is vital to future progress.
P. G. E. Railway.
"The extravagance associated with the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is continued in still further commitments, which will exhaust the financial strength of the Province. Some solution for that problem must be found once, but preliminary to any cure for the situation there should be a rigid examination into the history of the road, and the responsibility of the Legislature seem intent on frustrating.
"The Farmer-Progressive party has no friends to hide and no enemies to cover or condone. Its policy will be, first to let in the light, and, second, to ruthlessly apply the remedy. No effective house-cleaning of the policies of B. C. can be undertaken until the patronage evil is slain. It has developed in this Province to a greater degree than in most of the other Provinces of the Dominion. The reptile fund for both the old parties is largely raised by levies on the same firms and corporations. It is inevitable under such a system that the parties who contribute should never be called upon to explain. Chester-ton says: 'The people who have the power to make laws need never fear to break them.'
Oriental Problem.
"The Oriental menace has been temporized with and paraded at election times for selfish purposes, but has never been effectively dealt with by our legislation. To-day that menace parties mark the farms, and some of the largest ranches are falling into the hands of aliens. Some of the most interesting branches of agriculture are practically abandoned in this Province because of the Oriental menace. It is imperative that the matter of discriminatory freight rates, affecting both the producer and the shipper, is now being presented in Ottawa. These have long been a cause for grave complaint by the tillers of the soil, and until more equitable system is secured it will continue to be one of the first objectives of those associated with the new party.
Party is New.
"There are a great number of other features which have long been matters of concern to the farmers, to business men and to men of independent thought in the political parties. These men have hitherto lacked the medium of effective expression. The Farmer-Progressive party, unhampered by any entangling alliance in the past, with no patronage dues to pay, with no political legacy to carry, and with an investment in the lands of this Province which makes the problems of expenditure and expenditure vital and intimate with every one of them, are the natural people to whom affairs of Government should in this grave crisis be entrusted.
"They feel, further, that there has been a serious departure from sound principles of responsible government that there has been grave abuse of the machinery of the civil service, and that the best interests of the land, the moral and moral objectives in the statecraft of the Province which the people have a right to expect, and for which they are entitled to demand in vain. It is because they feel that the occasion calls for some independent action and that the forces of independence and reform should be mobilized for the common good, that they have undertaken to provide the machinery whereby all classes throughout the Province may purge political life of the evils into which it has fallen. They therefore invite the cordial support of all classes.
Problem URGENT to be Faced.
"They propose to facilitate the organization of urban dwellers, as well as those who dwell in the country, into units of the new organization, but, at the same time, to make preparations that the aims and objectives of farmers themselves shall continue to be kept in the foreground of the new party. Facilities for the kind of conventions, it is hoped, will in due course be provided. In the meantime all classes of opinion are asked to bring unprejudiced criticisms of the problems of the Province, and a sympathetic attitude to the efforts of those who believe the time has come for a change."

"The extravagance associated with the construction of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is continued in still further commitments, which will exhaust the financial strength of the Province. Some solution for that problem must be found once, but preliminary to any cure for the situation there should be a rigid examination into the history of the road, and the responsibility of the Legislature seem intent on frustrating.
"The Farmer-Progressive party has no friends to hide and no enemies to cover or condone. Its policy will be, first to let in the light, and, second, to ruthlessly apply the remedy. No effective house-cleaning of the policies of B. C. can be undertaken until the patronage evil is slain. It has developed in this Province to a greater degree than in most of the other Provinces of the Dominion. The reptile fund for both the old parties is largely raised by levies on the same firms and corporations. It is inevitable under such a system that the parties who contribute should never be called upon to explain. Chester-ton says: 'The people who have the power to make laws need never fear to break them.'
Oriental Problem.
"The Oriental menace has been temporized with and paraded at election times for selfish purposes, but has never been effectively dealt with by our legislation. To-day that menace parties mark the farms, and some of the largest ranches are falling into the hands of aliens. Some of the most interesting branches of agriculture are practically abandoned in this Province because of the Oriental menace. It is imperative that the matter of discriminatory freight rates, affecting both the producer and the shipper, is now being presented in Ottawa. These have long been a cause for grave complaint by the tillers of the soil, and until more equitable system is secured it will continue to be one of the first objectives of those associated with the new party.
Party is New.
"There are a great number of other features which have long been matters of concern to the farmers, to business men and to men of independent thought in the political parties. These men have hitherto lacked the medium of effective expression. The Farmer-Progressive party, unhampered by any entangling alliance in the past, with no patronage dues to pay, with no political legacy to carry, and with an investment in the lands of this Province which makes the problems of expenditure and expenditure vital and intimate with every one of them, are the natural people to whom affairs of Government should in this grave crisis be entrusted.
"They feel, further, that there has been a serious departure from sound principles of responsible government that there has been grave abuse of the machinery of the civil service, and that the best interests of the land, the moral and moral objectives in the statecraft of the Province which the people have a right to expect, and for which they are entitled to demand in vain. It is because they feel that the occasion calls for some independent action and that the forces of independence and reform should be mobilized for the common good, that they have undertaken to provide the machinery whereby all classes throughout the Province may purge political life of the evils into which it has fallen. They therefore invite the cordial support of all classes.
Problem URGENT to be Faced.
"They propose to facilitate the organization of urban dwellers, as well as those who dwell in the country, into units of the new organization, but, at the same time, to make preparations that the aims and objectives of farmers themselves shall continue to be kept in the foreground of the new party. Facilities for the kind of conventions, it is hoped, will in due course be provided. In the meantime all classes of opinion are asked to bring unprejudiced criticisms of the problems of the Province, and a sympathetic attitude to the efforts of those who believe the time has come for a change."

Common Interest.

"The factors which are causing widespread uneasiness and concern are of common interest to all classes and callings. The apparent inability of the Government to bring its expenditure within its revenues must cause great uneasiness in the mind of all people who think, as farmers do, that the first axiom of successful business is to pay your own way.
"This is the task to which the new party will devote its energies. No firm can exist long by borrowing money to pay interest on former loans. That way bankrupts the farmer, the individual business, for states or nations. The question of taxation is closely associated with the foregoing. The same inability to curb the Province within the power of the Province to pay is shown in the grotesque incidence and injustice of our taxation allotment. A sane and scientific basis of taxation is vital to future progress.

PAPERS SEIZED IN BUDAPEST

Action Follows "Proclamation" of Otto Hapsburg

Budapest, April 5.—The state prosecutor has ordered seizure of all newspapers which published the Legation's proclamation Monday proclaiming Francis Joseph Otto Hapsburg, eldest son of the late Charles Hapsburg, former Emperor of Austria, as King of Hungary.
"With the death of Charles, Otto II. is King of Hungary, although temporarily prevented from a coronation," the proclamation reads.
It was signed by nineteen aristocrats, headed by Count Albert Apponyi.
JOYNSON-HICKS MOTION IN BRITISH COMMONS TO-NIGHT
London, April 5.—The motion attacking the Coalition to be presented to the House of Commons to-night by Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Unionist, has attracted considerable attention, but it is not considered likely to cause serious trouble for the Government.
The motion is, however, a clear indication of the continuing hostile attitude of a considerable section of the Conservatives toward the Coalition, despite the big parliamentary majority by which the Government's policy toward the Genoa Conference was endorsed Monday. The Government has decided to treat the motion seriously, and the whips are seeking to insure a full attendance of Government supporters.
It is not certain whether a division will be taken, it being thought most probable that the motion will be talked out. Even if there is a vote, it is believed the "die-hards" can not muster any greater strength than on former occasions.

SOUTH AFRICAN MINE REPORT

London, April 5.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Some of the effects arising out of the disturbing conditions through the recent labor strike in the Witwaters Rand goldfields are indicated by a statement by the Minister of Mines adopted in the Parliament yesterday, says a Reuter's dispatch from Cape Town. He showed that at the end of March, 12,823 European workers employed in the mines, but 6,300 formerly employed were now out of work. Natives were now employed to the number of 12,400.

ALL PLANS WANTED.

Provincial Ministers know what it has been possible to do by irrigating some of the sandy wildernesses of the dry belt of British Columbia.

of the embargo which prohibits the admission of Canadian cattle, Colonel Mullins—who is one of the oldest and most prominent cattlemen of the Canadian West—has returned to this country with the belief that if a little pressure were to be exerted on this side of the water official attitude on the other side would change.

BRIGHTENING UP.

At this time of the year it should not be out of place to remind the people of this community that the cleaner and tidier Victoria looks the better the impression it will make upon the visitor.

ALD. TODD'S RESOLUTION.

If Alderman Todd will refer to the budget speech which Hon. John Hart delivered in the Legislature in 1920 he will discover that the subject of dual income tax was dealt with along lines which are almost identical with those advocated in a resolution which he presented to the City Council on Monday.

BETTER MILK.

Forming a cow-testing organization may not strike the individual as a matter of supreme importance to anybody except dairymen. Butter fat content in milk has a significance of its own to those who are versed in nutritive values.

THAT EMBARGO.

After spending a fairly lengthy period in Great Britain, with the principal object of creating popular understanding form neither of the old parties could possibly take exception. The farmers are desirous of equalized freight rates throughout this Dominion and they are desirous that public expenditures shall be curbed to the utmost.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Now that Dr. Adam Shortt has been invited to examine municipal finances in Victoria it is assumed that the City Council has made up its mind to profit by his advice.

When war broke out one hundred German Marks were worth $23.80. To-day their value is about thirty cents. Thus has the bitter been bitten.

Judged by yesterday's dispatches France is now beginning to wonder whether, after all, somebody will throw the Treaty of Versailles into the Genoa Conference and then look to see if Mr. Lloyd George has a smile on his face.

Just by way of a change the British Prime Minister is having a little holiday from the atmosphere of political crises. He is trying to settle the strike of engineers and shipbuilders and keep in training for Genoa generally.

Premier Martin says that when he undertook the leadership of the Saskatchewan Government in 1917 he undertook to give the people clean and honest government. He may stand on his record—there are no complaints. But with more time on his hands his golf handicap ought to be reduced.

LETTERS

SINGLE TAX AND IMPROVEMENT TAX.

To the Editor.—The issue, I believe, may be defined as follows: (a) To meet the cost of docks, work for unemployed, bank overdraft, deficits in sinking funds, interest, shrinkage in revenue due to forfeiture of land, increase in school expenditure, etc., the bulk sum required for current year is much larger than ever before.

(b) Necessitating increase in rate or inclusion of one-third the value of buildings, at possibly a lower rate for both.

As a matter of principle, or equity, or both, buildings should be taxed because they and their occupants necessitate all the services for which the taxes are paid, viz.,

- 1. Streets, sidewalks, and their maintenance.
2. Sewers and their maintenance.
3. Waterworks and their maintenance.
4. Fire Department and its maintenance.
5. Police Department and its maintenance.
6. Health Department and its maintenance.
7. Light Department and its maintenance.
8. Schools and their maintenance.
9. Executive, officials, etc., etc.

THE PROGRESSIVE PLANKS.

If the Progressive Party of British Columbia does not object to allow the number of planks in its platform to remain at what is popularly supposed to be an "unlucky thirteen" it can be safely said that very few people will find cause for quarrel with many of them.

the amount charged is relatively equitable. But all the lots have not buildings and not all have those which have occupants, and are for rent and pass the tax on to the tenant. Neither are all buildings of equal value; neither are all occupied; hence the rental value is the true basis of assessment.

Table with 2 columns: Land, Buildings. Values range from $115 to $23,500.

$41,670 $279,000

In the first case the value of the buildings is over two and a half times the value of the land.

In the second case, the value of the buildings is over seven times the value of the land. So that in the last analysis it does make much difference to unoccupied property whether the tax is all on land or part on land and part on building.

But it makes all the difference to unoccupied property, which is ceasing to contribute taxes, and by a veritable "slab" is falling into the custody of the city.

So that the issue, instead of being one of principle, as it should be, becomes one of policy and expediency. It is better to lower the tax on land to a point that will make it worth an owner's while to pay taxes or to bear his burden, the occupied owner to confiscate it and let the occupied property carry the whole increasing burden.

With only one-third of the value of the building taxed, as proposed, the owners of all buildings of whatever character have a great advantage or inducement over a vacant land owner.

FATTY ARBUCKLE GIVES EVIDENCE AT THIRD TRIAL

San Francisco, April 5.—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, moving picture comedian, took the stand in his own defence at 10.45 a.m. to-day in the third trial of a manslaughter charge against him resulting from the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a motion picture actress.

Arbuckle followed Dr. George Franklin Shields, defence medical expert and one of the defence witnesses in the first trial of Harry K. Thaw for the alleged murder of Stanford White.

"I went into my bedroom and locked the door," he said. "I went to the bathroom and the door struck something. I looked in and saw Miss Rappe on the floor. She was holding her stomach and moaning. I gave her some water and asked if there was anything I could do for her. She said, 'I want to lay down.' I carried her to a bed and returned to the bath. When I came out into the room Virginia was on the floor. I again placed her in the bed and went out for Mrs. Bambina-Maude Delmont, her friend and one of the guests.

"A number of the guests came into the room, including Miss Alice Balek, Mrs. Delmont, Miss Zey Provost and others. Miss Rappe sat up on the bed, tearing her clothing. Her face was sufficing by a thread and I pulled it off. "I went out of the room and returned later. Miss Rappe was lying prone on the floor. I went to cover her up, and Mrs. Delmont tried to stop me. I said to Mrs. Delmont, 'Shut up or I will throw you out of the window.'"

ANTICIPATE MORE GOLD DISCOVERIES (Continued from page 1.) days nearly all the prospecting was done in the creeks and the high ground was not touched.

Returns to Vancouver. Vancouver, April 5.—Bringing news of the present conditions in the Cedar Creek district and placer gold camp, and also a bottle of coarse gold nuggets from Cedar Creek, W. S. Harvey, a veteran prospector of this city, is back at his home here, after having spent the winter up North, and like all miners and prospectors who have actually seen the discovery claims with their golden yield and panned other ground nearby.

Message From Dr. King. Mrs. J. H. King, Secretary of the Esquimalt Property Owners' Association, in response to a telegram sent to the Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, Ottawa on Tuesday, on behalf of the Association, received the following encouraging reply by wire this morning:

ORGANIZATIONS TO SEND THREE MEN TO SEE MINISTER (Continued from page 1.) Amalgamated Veterans. "The Amalgamated Veterans' Association of this city strongly protests closing work on drydock, throwing 350 men on labor market, in view of the widespread unemployment, making situation most acute and difficult to deal with. Urge reversal of decision and immediate re-engagement of workmen, many of whom are ex-service men with dependents." says a resolution of the executive council.

PLAN DEPARTMENT OF DEFENCE Bill Is Before the Commons in Ottawa Ottawa, April 5.—The resolution of Hon. George P. Graham, Minister of Militia and Defence, providing for the creation of a Department of National Defence, carried in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, and a bill based on it was given first and second readings and referred to committee of the whole.

Meighen's Views. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen's chief objection was to the bringing of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police into the Militia Department. The Mounted Police were a civilian force, and to bring them under the militia would destroy much of their value in the country. A further reason for maintaining them as a civilian body was that the Dominion Police and Mounted Police had been amalgamated within recent years. The Dominion Police was distinctly a civilian body, and could not be looked upon as a part of the defence system.

work which had been done by the Royal Northwest Mounted Police in the early days, when the prairies were very sparsely settled. The work which it had performed in the last few years had been instrumental in causing friction rather than removing it.

Surprised. Brig.-General J. A. Clark, Conservative, Burrard, said he was astonished at the applause which had greeted the suggestion that Parliament should do away with the Mounted Police and that the militia should be called out in aid of the civil police. He had been a witness of the usefulness of the Mounted Police in a mining town in British Columbia. No greater error could be committed than to call out the militia in defence of the civil power.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

WHY THE STAR CHILDREN FIDGETED.

One night long, long ago, Mr. Moon Man spent a very unhappy night because his children the Stars were so uneasy. Some of them even leaned out so far they fell out of the sky and though old Mr. Moon Man sent a moonbeam down on the earth to hunt for them they were never found.

"What is the matter with you children?" he asked. "Do keep quiet and stop this fidgeting or there will not be a star left in the sky by morning."

"We want to travel like the earth stars," cried all the little stars. "You never let us go about as they do."

"What foolish chatter," said Old Moon Man, "there are no earth stars and stars can't run about and travel. You must stay in your places and shine. I don't go running off. I cannot understand what you mean by such silly talk."

But the little stars kept on fidgeting and fussing and saying they wanted to go about as the earth stars did until Mr. Moon Man was almost beside himself, and when it was time for Mr. Sun Man to take his place, instead of going to sleep he cried all the children to him and told them he wanted to know what they meant by talking as they said about the earth stars.

"We saw them, Father Moon, so you need not tell us they are not down there," said one star bolder than the others. "They are down there everywhere; they never have to stay in one place as you make us."

"We have watched them for ever so long and we want to do as they do. I am sure we will all tumble out of the sky and go down on earth if you do not grant our wish."

Old Mr. Moon Man was not smiling now. He looked very serious, for he knew nothing about earth stars but he was wise enough to know that something must be done or he would lose all his children, so he promised them to find out about the earth stars if they would all behave.

Of course he could not go down on the earth. The next night Mr. Moon Man sent a moonbeam to bring a fairy to him. He was sure he should learn all about the earth stars from her if there were such things.

The little stars promised to be good and the next night up came a little fairy to Mr. Moon Man and heard what he had to say. "Now tell me," he said, "what do you foolish children mean? For I am certain there are no stars down on the earth."

All the stars were getting for they knew the fairy would tell the truth and help them if she could.

"I can't think what they see," said the fairy, looking very much perplexed.

All the stars became excited. "They go everywhere," they said, "tinkling just as we do but never staying in one place."

"Oh," exclaimed the fairy, "fatherly Moon, they mean the fireflies, of course. Why, your dear little star children, those are fireflies. You see they are not stars. They are not pretty as you are, and they cannot fly very high, so don't envy them, for

The star children were too astonished and disappointed to thank her but Mr. Moon Man was very grateful and sent a very bright moonbeam to take her back home, for he knew he would hear no more fretting and fussing among his children about being like the earth stars and running from one place to another.

Why Physicians Recommend Magnesia for Dyspeptics

"Take a little magnesia after meals" is now a favorite dyspepsia prescription among thousands. The reason for this lies in the fact that practically ninety per cent of all stomach troubles is due to acid which irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membrane lining the stomach and makes natural digestion impossible. Medicines, drugs and diets all fail simply because they do not remove the acid, the cause of all the trouble. The value of magnesia, which is neither a medicine nor a drug in the ordinary meaning of these words, lies in the fact that it neutralizes the acid. Of the many forms of magnesia, such as the oxides, carbonates, and silicates, the best is undoubtedly Bisurated Magnesia, a teaspoonful or four tablets of which a little hot water, after meals, instantly neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation of the food and thus insures a normal digestion. The Pure Bisurated Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist, and stomach sufferers should give it a trial. Adv.

DRUG QUESTION

Letter is Received From Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P.

The control of narcotics has engaged the attention of British Columbia members, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M. P., informs the Gyro Club. He writes:

"With reference to the Narcotic Drug Act, mentioned in your recent communication, I beg to say that we have had a meeting of the British Columbia members and supporters of the Opposition party at my office, at which the Deputy Minister of Health, Dr. Amyot, was present. The Act and everything relating to the use of narcotics was very fully discussed at a meeting which lasted something over an hour.

"The general feeling was that there would be a great deal of difficulty in passing an amendment to the Act, which would change the present penalties, so that there would be no option of a fine. The opinion expressed by the representative of the Department of Health, and in this most of the members concurred, was that the present Act was quite suitable to meet the situation if it were better applied, and if magistrates, realizing the nature of this traffic, would deal more severely with those who were engaging in it.

"Speaking directly in regard to the proposal that a house of detention be provided in British Columbia for drug addicts, the Department of Health takes the stand that the provision of hospitals or quarters in hospital for the treatment of addicts requiring hospitalization for their cure is the function of the municipality and the Province, and that it cannot in any way be regarded as a measure to be taken up under the Federal authority. Addicts, they claim, are sick people, just like chronic drunkards or any of the classes who suffer physical disability on account of vice. The policy of the department has always been shaped along these lines."

Canada's forests belong to the whole people. They have an important bearing on climate and water supply. They enter into the daily life of the Canadian, both in a business and domestic sense to a degree of which few are conscious. The public unfortunately is a strong contributing factor in the origin of most forest fires, and education in this matter will do much to reduce the present enormous fire waste.

THE LOVE PETAL

Another Big, Gripping Story by the Authoress of "A Gamble in Beauty," Which Recently Created Such a Sensation
By NANCIBELLE HALE

The subway, opined Neata ruefully, engenders vicious thoughts. She remembered her promise to Nancy to see Oscar. With a little shake of her shoulders, as though ridding herself of something unclean, she stepped out of the train at the station nearest the address at which Nancy had said Oscar could be found.

At the corner she paused and, seeing a sign denoting that telephone booths could be found within, she entered a cigar stand, in the rear of which, after running the gauntlet of staring, impudent loungers, above the heads of whom rose a cloud of hazy smoke, she reached a coffin-like enclosure, to the wall of which was attached a telephone instrument.

After calling her mother and notifying her that she would be detained downtown, Neata continued on her way to the garage where the truck driven by Oscar was stored nightly.

She did not have long to wait. The manager of the garage invited her to remain in his office until Oscar appeared. Neata had pictured Nancy's lover as a tall, athletic, handsome chap, with a dominating will. She found him a wizened youth, thin to emaciation, with small, frightened eyes and a wart on his nose.

Neata almost regretted her self-assumed task as Cupid's handmaiden. It seemed best to leave matters as they were. Surely Nancy could not care for this specimen of humanity. This man had dared to find fault with Nancy's looks. The impertinence and arrogance of the male.

Then she thought of the wall of despair in the voice of the girl who had bobbed her hair when she said "It's most drove me crazy." Neata had not understood the slang; but Nancy's longing for the man she loved touched her own aching heart and made them at one.

Her determination to bring these two together was strengthened. She told Oscar that she had important news for him and they walked out on the sidewalk, where, among the passing throng, they were assured privacy.

"Nancy Lane is ill," said Neata, with a reassuring remark. She wanted to see if he really cared. His pale face became yellow. He clutched his fist and bit his lip. "I ought to be shot," he gulped. "Can I go to her? Will she see me? I'm crazy about her, but I ain't had sense to show it. I been a nut for sure. Won't youse help me to get her? Youse might persuade her—please."

Neata was reassured. In spite of his unattractiveness, his apparent incapacity for any emotion, he gave evidence of loving the little elevator operator.

She explained to Oscar that Nancy was not seriously ill—that she would see well if he was careful in his attention to her; if he never criticized her looks or her manner of dressing. One could not dress in the height of fashion on $15 a week.

Neata was not a fan of the man who did not want to spend every cent she could lay her hands on for clothes.

"To her she is lovely and she will bloom like a rose—say ugly things to her and she will shrivel up and her beauty and sweetness will die," said Neata. Every one is alike in that one respect. We love to be complimented. Even though we doubt its sincerity we prefer hearing a beautiful untruth rather than an unlovely truth.

"Go to Nancy," she advised, "and tell her she is wonderful and beg her forgiveness. . . . And you might send me an invitation to your wedding," she laughed.

"You're an angel, ma'am," said Oscar reverently. "I've had my lesson."

SUCH PAINS AS THIS WOMAN HAD

Two Months could not turn in Bed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Finally Restored Health

Seattle, Washington.—"I had dragging pains first and could not stand on my feet, then I had chills and fever and such pains in my right side and a hard lump there. I could not turn myself in bed and could not sleep. I was this way for over two months, trying everything any one told me, until my sister brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until all the hard pains had left me and I was able to be up and to do my work again. The hard lump left my side and I feel splendid in all ways. I know of many women it has helped."—Mrs. G. RICHARDSON, 4640 Orcas St., Seattle, Wash.

This is another case where Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought results after "trying everything any one told me" had failed.

If you are suffering from pain, nervousness and are always tired; if you are low spirited and good for nothing, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ANNUAL CONCERT WAS BIG SUCCESS

First Presbyterian Church Holds Annual Affair

The annual congregational supper and concert held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian Church last evening proved a great success, and was attended by nearly three hundred people. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the delightful repast and the various musical offerings, which were of a high order.

An orchestra was in attendance and under the leadership of Jack Smith assisted very materially in enlivening the proceedings.

The members of the Ladies' Aid turned out in full force and made splendid hosts. The tables were charmingly decorated with flowers, while the upper hall, where the concert was held, was beautifully and artistically decorated in flower effect by W. E. Lossee.

James Forman acted as chairman at the concert, the programme including selections by the orchestra, a duet by Messrs. Saunders and Hardy and solos by Miss Christie, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Lewtas, Miss C. Hamilton and Mr. Petrie. The orchestra of St. John's Anglican Church played selections during the supper.

Rev. W. G. Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in a brief address at the conclusion of the programme, complimented the ladies for the splendid entertainment and thanked them on behalf of those who attended.

The spirit of harmony and co-operation which existed throughout all branches of the church work was commended, and the minister said he looked for a very successful year of church work in the community. Mr. Forman also added his thanks to all those who had assisted in making the affair such a success. As a result of the affair quite a considerable sum was added to the fund of the Ladies' Aid for the carrying on of their work.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings relief from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream. (Adv't.)

FUTURITY BANQUET CONCLUDED SEASON

Addresses Are Given on Various Phases of the Future

Four very illuminating addresses were given before a gathering of the Young Men's division of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, when they held a Futurity banquet which concluded the season's activities.

T. W. Cornett was the speaker of the evening, and took as his subject, "The Future of the World." He considered what the future expected of them and the old adage of "What Has the Future in Store for Us." An excellent address was also given by Newton Fuller on "The Government of the Future."

Other interesting talks were given. "Science of the Future" was the talk given by "Bill" Hudson, while a more humorous address was the share of Oswyn Boulton, contributing to the subject, "The Man of the Future." Harold Beckwith proved himself a capable entertainer, being heard in vocal selections and his ever popular humorous intercourses.

F. W. Francis also rendered a vocal solo, while Harold Hasset was much appreciated for the excellent violin solo which he contributed. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra played some very interesting selections, while community singing was also indulged in. A delightful supper was served at 6.30 o'clock and an enjoyable time was spent. Harold B. McDonald, presided.

GUTHBERT URGES LABELLING FRUIT

Northwest Products Should Carry Label of Origin

"There is one more way in which we may emulate California: There is never the slightest doubt as to where a 'Sunkist Orange' is grown, nor any thing else that is produced in California. We in the Pacific Northwest have to pay the taxes that a few are paying now and begin to consume the products of the soil.

"Sixty-five per cent of the population of the United States is east of the Mississippi. Our farmers cannot ship their products east of the Mississippi. Very few of them produce enough to do this, even if they could; and so the only solution is to bring the population from east of the Mississippi and even from the Middle West to our coast and California has found that the most effective way is to bring them on a pleasure trip first—get them acquainted with our advantages, attractions and opportunities, and through these means build up a population of the very best kind of people. We will increase the deposits in our banks, the capital available for development, and thus insure an era of prosperity that so far the Pacific Northwest has not enjoyed."

Arms and the Man.

"What I did to cure a cough which was Racking my system to pieces."

"One very hot evening last summer, while in the mountains, a cool breeze suddenly came up which left me thoroughly chilled. Next day I felt a slight cold in my head but thought nothing of it. The following day the cold had developed into a cough. This kept up for some weeks but instead of getting better the cough kept getting worse. A tickling sensation developed in my throat. I tried everything I could think of to get rid of it. It was worse when I went to bed. As soon as I laid down the tickling sensation started and the only relief I could get was to sit up in bed. Towards morning, I sometimes, from sheer exhaustion, managed to get a little sleep. During all this time my cough was getting worse. Sometimes in these severe fits of coughing spasms I was left weak and exhausted. Anything I tried only gave me temporary relief. I couldn't take anything but liquid foods. I couldn't sleep. I was losing weight every day. At times I suffered the most intense agony with headaches. A friend of mine told me about Carnol. After trying it for three weeks I noticed that my cough was beginning to soften, that my appetite was returning, that the headaches had left me, that I slept longer. After taking seven bottles of Carnol, I am perfectly well and enjoying better health than I have ever had before in my life."

Writes Mrs. J. of Montreal Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 10-122

FISHERMEN PLAN TO DESTROY HAIR SEAL WITH FINANCIAL AID

Ask Cannery to Advance Money to Be Reimbursed Later

A proposal that the cannery should finance the fishermen to destroy hair seal at the latter's expense was before the B. C. Fishermen's Protective Association on Saturday in New Westminster and was discussed, but no action taken.

This proposal emanates from the Japanese Fishermen's Association. It is suggested that a fund of at least $100,000 per annum be provided, to be expended in bounties on seal. A bounty of $2 per seal is suggested. The proposal is that the cannery should provide this money in the first place, and reimburse themselves by deducting one per cent. from the money the fishermen receive for the season's catch. Thus a fisherman who drew down $3,000 for his season's work, would be taxed $30 for his share of the cost of destroying seals.

The argument is that the fishermen would benefit vastly from this expenditure by the increase in the salmon run.

Cause Great Loss.

Some startling figures are given in the document prepared by the Japanese fishermen's solicitor. It is asserted that one seal eats at least four or five sockeyes per day, and placing the value of a sockeye salmon at 60 cents, it is argued that it costs from $72 to $100 to feed one seal for a month. In the Fraser River alone, the loss is from $1,800,000 to $2,160,000. Over the whole year it is estimated that one seal destroys $500 worth of fish. If a seal lives for ten years, his bill is $5,000; if for 20 years, $10,000. Estimating the number of common seals in British Columbia waters at from 100,000 to 300,000, the cost runs into the millions.

San Francisco, April 5.—One hundred and fifty passengers arrived here from Seattle on the Admiral Line steamship Ruth Alexander, paid a tribute to the vessel, the company and Capt. N. E. Cousins, in a statement of congratulation for the pleasant trip.

It was the ship's maiden coastwise trip. President H. F. Alexander of the company, who came on the liner, received the statement on behalf of the company and expressed his appreciation of the tribute. The Ruth Alexander averaged better than fourteen knots for the entire trip from Seattle.

WEST HARTLAND SOLD AT AUCTION

Vessel Bought by U. S. Shipping Board For $135,000

Seattle, April 5.—The United States Shipping Board, competing against Capt. Robert Dollar and other big shipping interests, submitted a bid of $135,000 for the $1,500,000 steamship West Hartland at a public auction conducted on the post office steps Monday afternoon by Ben L. Moore, trustee of the vessel.

The West Hartland rammed and sank the Admiral liner Governor near Port Townsend with a loss of several lives a year ago. Since then the vessel, one of the freighters of the Shipping Board fleet, has been the target of claims aggregating nearly $2,000,000.

More than twenty-five persons, all representing shipping interests, gathered to witness the sale. Stanley Dollar, son of Capt. Dollar, started the bidding with a tender of $20,000. This was soon jumped to $100,000, after which the bids were boosted in $50, $100 and $500 jumps. When the price hovered around the $100,000 mark, Capt. Dollar and his son parted from the crowd, claiming that this amount was too high to interest him.

After an hour of bidding, Mr. H. B. Jones, of the law firm of Bronson, Robinson & Jones, representing the Shipping Board, was awarded the vessel, subject to confirmation by the court. The largest claim against the vessel is $2,250,000, that of the Pacific Steamship Company, owner of the ill-fated Governor. The West Hartland was built at a cost of $1,500,000.

SHIPPING NEWS FROM DAY TO DAY

No Foundation for Report Declares D. C. Coleman

Dalton C. Coleman, vice-president Canadian Pacific Western Lines, gives absolute denial to the reports circulated recently on the Mainland to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway contemplated the removal of its administrative offices from Victoria to Vancouver.

That there is no foundation for the reports is indicated by the following special dispatch to 'The Times under-to-day's date from Winnipeg: "Statements have appeared in newspapers recently to the effect that the Canadian Pacific Railway proposes to move the headquarters of its British Columbia coast steamship service from Victoria to Vancouver, and also to make certain changes in the personnel of the management, D. C. Coleman, vice-president Canadian Pacific Railway western lines, stated to-day that there was no foundation for these reports, and that changes referred to had not been the subject of any consideration whatever."

SEATTLE PLANNING TO ORGANIZE BIG SHIPPING CONCERN

Outcome of Split in Shipping Pool Conference at San Francisco

Seattle, April 5.—Organization of a company with a capital of $25,000,000 to handle shipping from the Puget Sound district is under way. William Pigott, Seattle manufacturer, told members of the 100 Per Cent Club here yesterday in a luncheon address before the club. He declared it was believed most of the capital could be raised in the East if a few millions could be obtained here.

Pigott said he and other Seattle men attended a meeting in San Francisco a few weeks ago and discussed the formation of a company to take over a number of shipping Board ships and operate them on the Pacific. The plan as discussed, he declared, did not meet the approval of Seattle men, who felt that the interests of Puget Sound would not be best served. He said that the result of the dissatisfaction over the San Francisco meeting was the decision to organize a company here.

SHIP WITH SUGAR FOR B.C. DAMAGED IN PANAMA ZONE

SS. West Himrod, Bound from Matanzas for Vancouver, in Collision

Bound from Cuba to Vancouver with a consignment of raw Cuban sugar, the United States Shipping Board freighter, West Himrod, was damaged yesterday morning in a collision with the Dutch steamship Wolsum at sea off Cristobal, Panama Canal zone. The extent of the damage suffered by either ship is not stated in the advices received from Balboa, but the message indicated that the Dutch ship would have to be drydocked. The Wolsum was bound from Grays Harbor to Port Natal, South Africa, with lumber.

The West Himrod is laden with the cargo of sugar from Matanzas, Cuba, for the B. C. Refinery. On her present voyage the West Himrod is being operated by the Barber Steamship Company, of New York, but on completing her sugar discharge the vessel will be turned back to the U. S. Shipping Board.

BIG MOTORSHIP LOCH KATRINE IS NOW ON COLUMBIA

Royal Mail Ship Is Expected Here With Freight from United Kingdom

The Royal Mail motorship Loch Katrine, which is coming on her maiden voyage to this port, reached the Columbia River yesterday for Portland. After completing there the vessel will come on to Victoria and Vancouver.

The fact that she is the largest and best appointed ship propelled by internal-combustion engines yet to come to the North Pacific coast, is attracting widespread attention at the ports touched at by the Loch Katrine. She is a twin-screw motorship of 11,300 tons deadweight and is the forerunner of a number of such vessels which are being built in Europe for the Pacific trade.

She is 485 feet long and has three decks and six cargo hatches. Capt. S. E. Matthews, a skipper well-known in the Royal Mail service, is in command of the Loch Katrine. The Royal Mail motorship has various freight to be delivered here from the United Kingdom. The Loch Katrine has a limited amount of cabin passenger space, and there has been a rush for accommodation.

The All-Water route to England is becoming more popular, and ships with larger passenger space may be expected to follow in the wake of the Loch Katrine.

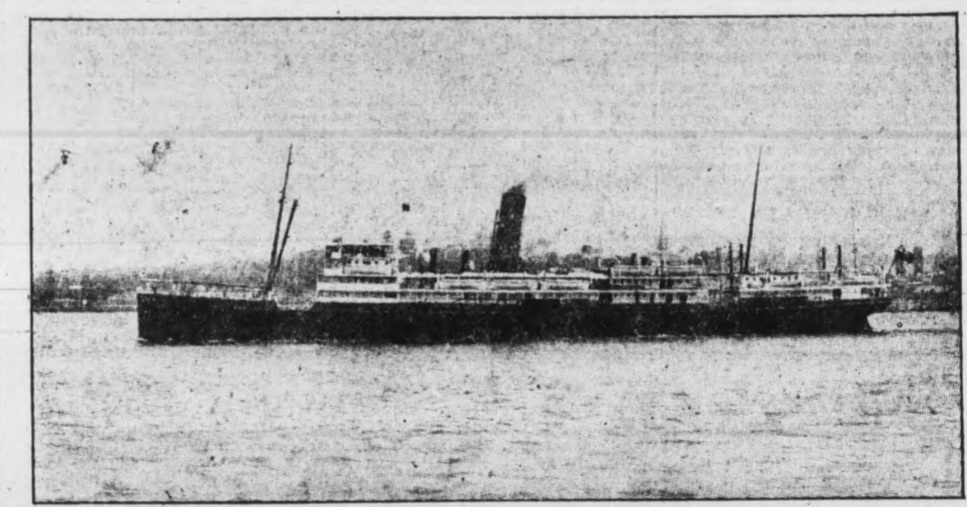

SAILOR DROWNED FROM TUNISIAN

St. John, N. B., April 5.—While the Canadian Pacific steamship Tunisian was on her way to this port from Glasgow, Scotland, a young Scotch sailor named Innis, fell overboard and was drowned. He was a native of Glasgow and married.

VETERANS SOLD.

San Francisco, April 5.—Two veteran coastwise vessels went on the auction block last week. The barkentine S. C. Wilder, a former Matson line ship, was sold for $1,500 at Savannah, Ga. The United States marshal sold the schooner Oceania Vance to the Half Hill Luna Packing Company of Los Angeles for service in the tuna trade.

WILL BERTH HERE ON SUNDAY MORNING

The Canadian-Australasian liner Makura, Capt. Robert Crawford, is now scheduled to reach quarantine Sunday morning. She has three hundred passengers and a full cargo.

MARINE ITEMS AT PORT OF SEATTLE

Seattle, April 5.—Advices received here by the Admiral Line state that the steamship Admiral Watson, Captain Peter Oberg, arrived at Anchorage, Alaska, Sunday night. She is the first ship of the season to get into Cook Inlet. Captain Oberg reported some slush ice in the inlet, but not enough to interfere with navigation.

The steamer Alameda after undergoing extensive overhauling during which she was fitted with new engines and completely refurbished, was put back in commission here yesterday for the first time since last December. She will sail to-day for Alaska, but will not call at Anchorage. Governor Scott C. Bone of Alaska, and Colonel Frederick Meigs of the Alaska Engineering Commission will be among the passengers.

The Norwegian steamship Helen, Captain E. T. Berg, will sail from here to-day for Kobe and Yokohama with a full cargo of lumber.

Roy Lillie, agent here for the Red Stack Line of San Francisco has received a message that the tug Sea Lion had towed the ship Chillicothe from her Seattle anchorage to the Astoria dock yesterday. This is said to be the fastest time for a tow between these two ports, yet established.

The ship Jeanette Dollar will shift from here to Tacoma to-day to start loading a lumber cargo for China. The James Dollar sailed from Bellingham for the Far East yesterday with a full cargo of lumber.

SHIP IS HELD RACE IS OFF

Frank Pooley, Admiral Line purser, said the trip south on the Admiral Farragut, was unable to go on account of a broken leg sustained in an accident last week. The Admiral Farragut made her first trip following overhauling here.

INSURANCE RATES ON CARGO LOWERED FOR AMERICAN SHIPS

Seattle, April 5.—Insurance rates on cargo carried in the Admiral Line's big Shipping Board carriers in the Seattle-Oriental routes hereafter are to be the same as the rates charged on cargo carried by the vessels of foreign lines. Heretofore the rates on the cargo carried by the Shipping Board greyhounds have been higher than the rates charged for the cargo carried by the foreign lines.

News that the big Shipping Board liners at last have been placed on a parity with the foreign line steamships in regard to cargo insurance rates was received in a dispatch from New York. The dispatch said that first-class ratings had been granted to the Shipping Board liners by the New York marine underwriters at a meeting in that city.

In order to compete with the foreign lines, the Shipping Board heretofore had to absorb the difference in cargo insurance rates.

INTERESTING PICTURE.

An interesting photograph showing the wedding procession of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles passing the London offices of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and the dense crowds lining the route is on view at the Government Street office of the Chicago-Milwaukee line.

ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT ONEIDA, N.Y.

December 20, 1921.

Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, 902 Excelsior Life Building, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs: Referring to your recent letter, I would say that I believe newspapers are a highly effective form of advertising. They not only reach channels impossible to reach by magazines, but they have an intensive effect not only on the consumer but on the dealer as well.

A woman, for instance, who sees an advertisement of COMMUNITY PLATE in her own newspaper realizes at once that it must be on sale in her own town. COMMUNITY PLATE for her is localized and her buying impulse is greatly accentuated.

Of course, with the dealer, he knows from experience that newspaper advertising in his own town is especially valuable to him and can be made to directly bring him business.

We feel that newspaper advertising has played an important part in helping us to place COMMUNITY PLATE in the dominant position in the Canadian tableware market.

Sincerely yours, Burton Dunn Director of Advertising.

BLD'RM This confident attitude of the consumer and the dealer is the key-stone of the daily newspaper's superiority. Local advertising which sends a buyer directly to the place where your product is on sale, is the dominating factor in linking the retailers' interest permanently with your own.

Prospect of an "Aggressive Steamship Rate War" U.S. Consul Tells Washington

Washington, April 5.—Prospects of an "aggressive steamship rate war" at Vancouver, B.C., affecting all commodities carried between Canada and the Orient, was reported to the Department of Commerce to-day by American Consul-General Ryder at Vancouver.

The rate on lumber, he said, recently was reduced from $15 to $12 per thousand feet and this caused a general reduction in other lines. Lumber exporters, he said, are rushing to take full advantage of the reduced rates. The rate of $6 a ton for wheat flour was reduced to $5 and that on general merchandise reduced to an average of $2 a ton.

The Blue Funnel and Japanese lines are the principal companies involved. Mr. Ryder said, the managers admitting "that a rate war is on in earnest." The Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd., while not apparently directly concerned, he added, has declared its intention of meeting all competition.

S. T. Carlyle, commissioner in charge of a livestock demonstration train that was operated in Alberta recently, states that 1,000 silos will be built in that province this season.

TO OPEN LAW OFFICE AT WILLIAMS LAKE

Monteith and Campbell to Have Branch in New Goldfield

The first move of a professional nature towards the Williams Lake gold fields has been taken by one of the junior law firms of Victoria. Monteith & Campbell, barristers of this city, have decided to open a branch law office in that district.

A great deal more interest in the Cedar Creek gold rush is being taken in cities outside Victoria than most people realize, as is shown by the great crowds which are traveling north by the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. Every train leaving Squamish is crowded almost to capacity, and as neither sleeper nor diner is being carried by this train, the discomforts of gold seeking are emphasized from the start. It requires about two days to make the journey by rail, before the long pack overland commences.

This district has in a few weeks sprung up from a population of a few hundred to several thousand, and it is figured up by those who are watching events that by the end of Spring there will be fully 10,000 new people, provided the present rush keeps up.

Already the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and the Bank of Montreal have opened offices and a company of tents will soon be springing up.

The outfitters in Vancouver are taking down from their shelves mining outfits which were stored after the Klondike gold rush, and will soon be sold out. The greatest article sold is of course the gold pan, next comes the picks and shovels, to say nothing of the scales for weighing the gold. Hickman Tye Hardware Company, of this city, have also taken out their old mining outfits, and their window filled up with pans and other articles necessary to recover the valuable metal.

W. B. Monteith is leaving by the Thursday night boat on his way north, armed with mining law books, mining forms and much legal knowledge which has been tendered to him by his older fellow barristers who have themselves been in gold rush territory, and advise the gold-seeker on all points of mining law. He will be in charge of the Williams Lake branch of the firm, while G. Campbell will be in charge of the Victoria office.

As soon as the mining in Atlin District opens it is the intention of this firm to open another branch office at Stewart.

Weekly Shooting.

A silver spoon will be up for competition at the regular weekly shoot, which will be held in the basement of Plimley and Ritchie's store, View Street, on Thursday. All members of the Victoria Golf and Country Club are welcome to enter. Each boy will be required to shoot at two targets, the highest score winning. Members wishing to join may do so by inquiring at Plimley & Ritchie.

Charge Withdrawn.—In the city police court this morning City Prosecutor Harrison asked the court's permission to withdraw the charge laid against John Handley yesterday, of being drunk on Government Street. The Court agreed after attention had been called to the fact that Handley's condition at the time of the alleged offence was the aftermath of a painful injury to his hand, received while at work at the docks.

Basketball To-night.—The opening basketball tournament will take place to-night at the Victoria Athletic Club when the Crusaders and the J. B. A. will meet in the "Knock-out" series. The Saanich team and junior team of the Y. M. C. A. will stage the second game of the evening. Fast games are expected to-night, and a large attendance will turn out to witness the opening stage of the league.

Alpine Club to Hold Outing.—George E. Winkler is conducting the outing of the Alpine Club on Friday, April 8. Members of the Natural History Society are invited to attend. The outing will be held at the Goldstream and all those intending to take part are asked to assemble at the E. & N. Depot at 8.30 o'clock on Saturday morning. The return to the city will be timed at about 5.30 o'clock. All members of the Alpine Club who intend to attend the outing are asked to communicate with Gordon A. Cameron.

No Speed Monster.—In the city police court this morning Constable Dwyer told Magistrate Jay that he had witnessed a speed test of the Coca Cola truck which was yesterday alleged to have raced 25 miles an hour on Government Street, and the best the machine could do was 18 miles. Magistrate Jay imposed a $5 fine, on grounds that while the constable's estimate was an error, yet the truck was admittedly going 15 miles an hour, this being faster than was proper for the locality, the corner of Fort and Government Streets.

ADVISES OUTSIDE REPORT ON TENDERS

Engineer Preston Advises the Council to Secure Opinion of Bridge Designers

At the last session of the City Council, Engineer Preston advised the City Fathers to take advantage of a clause in the agreement with the Strauss Bridge Co. of Chicago, designers of the bascule span of the Johnson Street Bridge, whereby the engineering firm agrees to advise as to the letting of contracts for the fabrication and erection of the structure.

He also suggested that the Strauss firm should be asked to carry out its agreement to send a representative here to investigate the equipment, experience and ability of the various tenderers in so far as it affects the advisability of their being entrusted with the work.

BROTHERHOOD HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

Victoria West Objects to Improvement Tax Decision

A resolution protesting against the attitude of the City Council in not permitting the voice of the electors being heard on the question of taxation of improvements through the taking of a referendum was adopted by the Victoria West Brotherhood at its annual meeting held in Semple's Hall last evening. A long argument took place regarding the question of taxation.

It was also decided that the Brotherhood should join forces with all other public bodies in the protest against stopping work on the Esquimalt drydock.

The meeting was one of the most largely attended in the history of the Brotherhood and the reports read by President H. Campbell and Secretary Mrs. M. Monteith showed that the finances of the organization were in a very good condition and that excellent community service work was being carried on. The thanks of the Brotherhood were extended to all last year's officers.

Charles F. Banfield was elected president for 1922. H. Kroeger is first vice-president and T. C. Teasdale second vice-president. Mrs. Monteith was unanimously elected secretary, which position she has filled very capably for the past three years.

A long list of communications were read in regard to the bridge project across Victoria Arm, using the old Johnson Street Bridge span for the purpose. Although nothing can be done at present it was decided to appoint a standing committee to deal with the matter.

SUGGESTS INQUIRY INTO DRUG EVIL

Ministerial Association Adopts Resolution on Issue

Accompanying is the text of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Ministerial Association on Monday with regard to the drug evil: "Whereas, it having come to our knowledge that in British Columbia an illicit traffic in habit forming drugs has grown to such dimensions and that the victims of the drug habit have increased in such numbers as to become a menace to the physical and moral well being of the people of the Province generally; and whereas there is a widespread feeling that more drastic measures than those already provided for by law are needed to enable the responsible authorities to cope with this illegal traffic and its accompanying vices; therefore be it resolved that this meeting of the Ministerial Association of Victoria, B.C., respectfully urge upon the Federal Government and the Government of B. C. to cause investigation to be made into the prevalence of drug vice and the illegal traffic in such drugs in B. C., with a view to providing: "First, for increased penalties for the illegal sale of habit forming drugs; "And second for the punishment by deportation of all aliens, whether naturalized or not, when convicted of illegal drug selling; "And third, the establishment of institutions for the compulsory confinement and the better treatment of drug addicts.

"Resolved further that copies of this resolution be forwarded to the Hon. the Prime Minister and the Hon. the Minister of Justice at Ottawa; the Hon. the Premier and the Hon. the Attorney-General of B. C., the Social Service Secretary of B. C., the secretary of the Social Service Council of the Dominion at Toronto, and to the local press."

DOMINION

Constance Binney, the diminutive Realist star, is little but energetic but the making of "The Case of Becky," in which she appears in a dual role called for all her physical resources.

The role, that of Dorothy Stone, the girl of two personalities, was a particularly arduous one, the character continually veering off into her other self—Becky, the girl of tantrums and wild escapades. The scenes in which Miss Binney portrayed the part of Becky were the most difficult, being the exact opposite to those in which she appeared as the lovable, dignified Dorothy. Besides the physical demands of her part, it was necessary to work at night to oblige some members of the cast who were rehearsing for legitimate productions in New York so Miss Binney's rule of "early to bed" was knocked into a cocked hat during the making of "The Case of Becky."

It will be seen all week at the Dominion Theatre.

CAPITOL

A Paramount picture of exceptional merit is "Love's Boomerang" which was presented with no inconsiderable success at the Capitol Theatre last night. This is a picture of Dion Clayton Calverly's novel, "Perpetua," and it has been finely screened under the direction of John S. Robertson. The story deals with a young artist who adopts a motherless girl and learns to love her. She weds another man for whose murder she is later arrested. Of course, she is innocent and how this was demonstrated, rests the development of the story with drama, real thrills and genuine appeal. Ann Forrest as Perpetua and David Powell as Brian, the artist, were quite artistic in their portrayals. The supporting cast is a brilliant one.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Old Silas Mencham always had the habit of getting the wrong cue. Sometimes it didn't make much difference, but when he started in on the amateur "movies" that his niece, Polly, with long ambitions and short experiences, was staging he crabbled the show. That furnishes an example of how he becomes an unwelcome interloper in "Polly of the Follies," the first National attraction starring Constance Talmadge, that will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

VARIETY

William Farnum, the popular William Fox star, who is now appearing at the Variety Theatre in "His Greatest Sacrifice," and his director, J. Gordon Edwards, are old friends, having first known each other when both began their careers on the stage in New York. Mr. Edwards urged Mr. Farnum to star for Mr. Fox some four or five years ago. Mr. Edwards is the oldest man, in time of service, that Mr. Fox has on his directorial staff, while Mr. Farnum has a similar distinction among the Fox stars. Mr. Edwards, who has directed William Farnum in a number of the latter's most successful Fox pictures, travelled over Europe years ago to learn all there was to learn about the art of making motion pictures. He took this journey when the Fox company was formed, and came back with a wealth of information that gave to Fox production a splendid start, which has carried it to heights where it yields first place to no other company. Mr. Edwards has made forty-five pictures for Mr. Fox, including "Cleopatra" and "Salome."

Old Silas Mencham always had the habit of getting the wrong cue. Sometimes it didn't make much difference, but when he started in on the amateur "movies" that his niece, Polly, with long ambitions and short experiences, was staging he crabbled the show. That furnishes an example of how he becomes an unwelcome interloper in "Polly of the Follies," the first National attraction starring Constance Talmadge, that will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

Quite dramatic in some of its action, the plot provides abundant opportunity to display the talent for which she is best known. Kenneth Harlan makes a promising leading man and George Fawcett, noted character actor, contributes an excellent part. The story was prepared as an original for Miss Talmadge by John Emerson and Amy Looos who have done the scenarios for some of the star's biggest hits, in addition to having recently produced a comedy of their own entitled "Red Hot Romance."

To-night will mark the opening performance of the play "Little Lord Fauntleroy" by the stock company which is appearing at the theatre for the first time in Victoria on the speaking stage, and should excite much interest. An event in the performance is the fact that a local young lady who has gained nearly all of her stage experience here, will be seen in the star part of the little lord, which will be the case. The play will surely be finely done. The Earl will be played by Harry Leland, while Violet Neitz has the part of Mrs. Fawcett. This class opened the Havensham of the story. The other parts have all been well cast, and every member of the company has a part to play. The children will be given on Saturday.

Two new films, one of them as funny as anything that has come here from the United States, were shown at the theatre yesterday. "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" has been made from Mark Twain's novel, a considerable liberties have been taken with the great American humorist, but the result justifies them. The thing is riotously amusing, more entertaining even than "Charlie Chaplin."

The basic idea is one of those topsy-turvy inspirations which bubble with humor. A young American goes to sleep and dreams that he is in ancient Britain at the Court of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table. He proceeds to make the Court "what America will be like when Columbus discovers it."

Machinery, "clocking" in to and out from work, cigarettes, pistols, a new sort of Wild West tournament at which the Jasso beats the lance, a motor car, motorcycles, and the telephone are introduced to Arthur. It is a very long time since one saw anything more fine and fantastic than Sir Lancelot and his knights setting out to rescue on a "ford" car and scores of motorcycles.—London Daily Mail.

Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre all next week, commencing Monday.

RECITAL TO-NIGHT OF CHERNIAVSKYS

Will Appear at Empress Hotel at 8.15 o'Clock

A well known New York music critic, writing of the Cherniavskys, says: "They are three young priests from the Temple of the Muses, who have been projected into the earth-world to bring comfort to the hearts of tens of thousands. Their music brings with it a message of hope and joy, that will tend to develop expanding ideas in those privileged to hear it. One leaves the presence of these artists and the concert hall they play in, but one never entirely leaves the presence of their haunting music for its essence seems to cling permanently to one and makes for increased happiness and optimism. If I wanted to do a good turn to anyone, I would recommend that he listen to the Cherniavskys' music, and that as often as possible."

There has been such exceptional interest evoked in these much-travelled artists that it goes without saying that they will receive an enthusiastic reception on their visit here when they appear at the Empress Hotel at 8.15 p.m. and all ticket holders are requested to be present. There will be no admittance during the rendering of the numbers.

Department Store Clubs Have Enjoyable Time; Sports Programme

The David Spencer's Employees' Association spent the guests last night at the Hudson's Bay Employees' Association at the V. U. A. C. Hall Broad Street. A splendid sports programme was arranged, concluding with a community sing.

Captain Smith directed the physical training class, of which there are now eighty members, with recruits still coming in. This class opened the evening's entertainment by giving a display of various movements, and Capt. Smith certainly deserves credit for the manner in which he has instructed the class. A splendid spirit was aroused among the two clubs, and this was especially shown in the way they conducted themselves in the basketball games which were held.

The Hudson's Bay club have bestowed the name of Get-Together nights to this class of entertainment, and are proving themselves exceptionally good hosts. Three hundred members were in attendance, and following the sports programme, the strains of Beattie's orchestra.

CENTRAL SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS HOLD MEETING

A fine display of children's work was on exhibition at the meeting on Monday evening, of the Central School P. T. Association. President F. E. Winslow conducted the meeting, and there were about one hundred persons in attendance. The address given by Miss Mills, the supervisor of school drawing, was most instructive and much appreciated, the lantern slides of pictorial art being beautiful in coloring and design. W. P. Jeune, president of Cloverdale P. T. Association, gave a short and enthusiastic talk on methods which might be adopted by P. T. Associations to create interest explaining how the pupils of Cloverdale School had benefited by the formation of a P. T. Association in that district. Nine additional members were added to the membership list, and the meeting closed with a community sing.

For the next few days the work of the children will remain on display in the auditorium of the Girls' School, and all interested are cordially invited to visit the school and view the work.

TEA PRICES RISING.

Rumor has it that the labor unrest and general dissatisfaction in India, the largest tea producing country in the world, has made production so expensive and hazardous that a general rise in prices may be expected in the near future. The estimated consumption this year will be much larger than the crop available.

SEATTLE'S OPINION ON "BLUE" SUNDAY IN VICTORIA

(By The Seattle Times)

"Victoria's first 'Blue Sunday' was 'honored more in the breach than in the observance,' according to reports from the British Columbia city.

There perhaps is no city in Canada or the United States where there is so strict observance of Sunday closing laws seemingly would be easier. Yet, it is stated that yesterday was anything but a day of rest for the police, who had to arrest forty business men.

What will be done with the offenders is something of a puzzle to the police, who have passed the question on to the Provincial Attorney-General, with a request for instructions as to what action should be taken.

SWEET PEA STORY TOLD BY GROWER

Gardeners' Society Listens to Interesting Address by George Robinson

The regular monthly meeting of The Victoria and District Gardener's Association was held in the City Hall last evening. President W. J. Edwards, in the chair. The increased interest in the work of this association was manifest by the large number in the Council chamber to hear George Robinson, of Elk Lake, deliver a lecture on the cultivation of Sweet Peas. In his opening remarks he said that perhaps it was not generally understood that the sweet pea development is of very recent origin, and that its popularity was gaining ground considerably and becoming more important than ever both on this continent and in England. The first Sweet Pea was found in Sicily, 1655, was described as a mink, the first varieties being pink and white. In 1850 there were nine known varieties, to-day there are thousands.

The National Sweet Pea Society showed, he stated, a classification of thirty-eight varieties. Five years ago there were only fourteen, showing the advance made during the last few years. This year shows an additional fifty varieties over that of last year. Personally, he thought there were already too many.

Popularity of "Mrs. Wakefield." Mr. Robinson observed that Mrs. Wakefield was the favorite and successful variety in the East, the old variety, this year that variety is superseded by "Conquest." Having had considerable experience of seed growing, both in the East, the old land and Vancouver Island, he had come to the conclusion he declared that the best seed in the world was produced on this island. For comparison, he remarked on quality of seed grown here and shipped and the quality received, in fact the same applied to other varieties. "We possess here the finest possible climate for the growers of sweet peas for seed, and the sooner people realize this, the better it will be for them and for the country." Mr. Robinson grows considerably for English firms, and the success to which he has attained he attributes to climatic conditions. 75 per cent of sweet pea seed grown, is grown in California, and he could see no reason why this seed, per cent of which is shipped to England. There is under cultivation 3,000 to 4,000 acres in California, and he could see no reason why this seed, per cent of which is shipped to England. There is under cultivation 3,000 to 4,000 acres in California, and he could see no reason why this seed, per cent of which is shipped to England.

HEARTBURN A SEVERE CASE

Many people who are troubled with heartburn who really do not realize just what it is. In cases of this trouble there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach attended by distention, appetite, it is generally caused by great acidity of the stomach, and whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and becomes extremely sour, causing heartburn. In such cases vomiting often occurs, and what is thrown up is sour and sometimes bitter.

The one way to get rid of heartburn is to keep your liver active by using

and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles such as constipation, jaundice, water brash, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, foul breath, etc.
Miss Agnes Cutting, Shallow Lake, Ont., writes:—"I have had heartburn for a long time. There were gnawing and burning pains in my stomach, and when I vomited there was a sour and bitter taste. I used two vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of my heartburn. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine."
Price, 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ATTEMPT TO ROB A BANK FAILED

Winnipeg, April 5.—An unsuccessful attempt was made yesterday by two young men to rob the branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at St. James, a suburb of this city. One of the bandits fired at R. W. Doig, the teller, who groped for his revolver on being commanded to throw up his hands. His head was grazed above the ear. The two men escaped and no trace has been found of them.

HOW TO TREAT A COUGH IN THE HEAD

Prompt Treatment Should Not Be Neglected

Never neglect a cold in head. It is a trouble so common that we are apt to treat it as of little consequence. But it is only a step from a cold to Grippe and the possibility of acute trouble in the throat—pleurisy—pneumonia—is always there if it is neglected.

In its early stages a cold yields quickly to proper treatment. Grip Fix, a combination of the drugs which relieve the system in such cases, gives remarkable results. It relieves a cold in a night and even Grippe yields to it in four hours.

Local Soccer Stars

Will Play Mainland

Game Originally Scheduled Between Picked Players for Easter Monday Will Be Played on Previous Saturday—Local Team Will Be Selected Shortly

Soccer officials here are now busy preparing a programme for the Easter holidays. On Good Friday the old rivals of the Wests and Mets will battle in an Island League fixture at the Royal Athletic Park while on Saturday the all-stars from Vancouver are to meet the pick of Victoria's football talent.

There appears to be a little criss-crossing in the arrangements for the latter game. The Victoria and District Football Association is proceeding with the selection of a team to oppose the Mainland all-stars, while at the same time the local council of the British Columbia Football Association has also the matter in hand.

Would Make a Difference. There will be a considerable difference between the teams picked by the two bodies. The Victoria team is restricting the line-up to the Combination League, which does not include the two main teams in the city, the Wests and Mets. With the selection of a team by the local council of the B. C. F. A. a number of the stars of the Wests and Mets would undoubtedly find themselves on the line-up.

Last New Year's Victoria sent a picked team over to play the Vancouver all-stars. Owing to the fact that the Wests and Mets were playing in the Island League they were passed up and the picked team came from the Combination League. The locals acquitted themselves admirably and held Vancouver to a draw.

When talk of a return game came up the V. D. F. A. naturally decided to arrange the fixture. However it appears that the Vancouver association asked the B. C. F. A. to arrange the holiday game. The senior body went ahead and booked the Upper Island all-stars to play in Vancouver on Good Friday, while on Saturday the Mainlanders were to appear in Nanaimo and on Easter Monday play in Victoria.

Date is Changed. This schedule was not to the liking of Victoria due to the fact that Easter Monday is not a general holiday. The Vancouverians immediately arranged to accommodate Victoria and switch the schedule so that they would play here on Saturday instead of at Nanaimo. This change will no doubt be welcomed by the local enthusiasts who are keen to see outside competition.

Just what will be done about the selection of the Victoria all-stars is not known. The local council of the B. C. F. A. is holding a meeting to-night. It is expected that the matter will be amicably settled and that a splendid team will be picked to represent the Capital in the inter-city game.

The Victoria and District Football Association held its regular meeting last night and arranged for the trial game for the "rep" team to be played at the Stadium on Saturday afternoon. All Combination League games on Saturday have been set aside as the stars of all the teams are on the test eleven.

The clubs will be as follows: Blues—Shrimpton, Burton and Dickinson; Green, Edwards and J. Allan; Cummings, Bloom, Smith, Speak and Waddington; reserve, Sweeten. Reds—Miller, Tuckwell and H. Ord; Rods, Tupman and Potter; F. Kerley, T. Watt, Small, Spiers and Rough; reserve, Wright. Billie Cull will referee.

The final game in the elimination series to determine the junior soccer champions will be played on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Royal Athletic Park. The Saanich Thistles and Wests are struggling for the honors. The Wests won the first game by 1-0 but the farm boys came back in the second game and won by 2-2. The boys are putting up splendid exhibitions and the game on Saturday should be a real thriller. The winning team will go to Vancouver to play for the junior championship of the Province.

MISS PETERS CLASS A WINNER AT OAK BAY

The winners of the monthly medal competitions of the ladies of the Victoria Golf Club were Miss Peters in Class A and Miss B. Wilson in Class B.

The draw for the monthly championship was made yesterday as follows: Class—Miss Sayward vs. Mrs. B. Wilson; Miss Pitts vs. Mrs. Paterson; Miss Peters vs. Mrs. Rithet; Mrs. Burton vs. Mrs. Hutchinson.

"B" Class—Miss Tate vs. Mrs. Haining; Mrs. L. Hesterman vs. Mrs. Rickaby; Mrs. Pierce vs. Miss G. Irving; Miss D. Wilson vs. Mrs. J. Wilson.

ELKS SWIMMING CLUB.

The final dance of the season will be held this evening in the Elks Club quarters. The dance committee has been working hard to make this one a larger success than previous ones. Dancing will commence at 9 o'clock and the buffet supper will be served at eleven. Dress strictly informal. Admission to this dance will be invitation only.

HERE'S THE WAY TO BET

New York, April 5.—(Canadian Press)—Emil Herz, Kentucky sporting man who recently bet $20,000 to $500 against Robert H. Shannon's entry, Deadlock, for the Kentucky Derby, has made another big bet, according to reports received here to-day. The new wager involves the largest sum yet reported in the Kentucky Derby winter books. Herz says he has accepted a bet of $1,000 from a prominent New York turfman on Northcliffe, at odds of 50 to 1. The name of the player was not made public.

The wager was made on the usual winter books basis of "pay or play." Herz must part with $50,000 if Northcliffe wins the Derby, but if the colt falls to go to the post for any reason whatever, the player loses his $1,000.

Northcliffe is a son of Sea King and Doria, of the Oak Ridge Stable of Thomas Ryan. The colt made a favorable impression in his first start at Aqueduct last June, running second to Monday Morning, but it was not until his last start at the New York racing season at Empire City in October that he broke from the maiden class and even then he did not run a very fast race.

RECKLESS TY COBB TWISTS HIS ANKLE

Leader of Detroit Tigers Hurt Sliding Into Third Base in Yesterday's Game

Brooklyn Trimmed Yankees; White Sox Humbled Giants; Braves Also Win

Americus, Ga., April 5.—Ty Cobb twisted his right ankle sliding into third base to-day in a game between Rochester and Detroit. He had to be carried from the field and it was said to-night he probably would be out of the game for several days.

Memphis, Tenn., April 5.—Exhibition. R. H. E. Brooklyn Nationals 5 11 0 New York Americans 4 12 2 Batteries—Vance, Smith and DeBerry; Miller, Jones and Hoffman.

Mobile, Ala., April 5.—Exhibition. R. H. E. Chicago Americans 6 9 0 New York Yankees 2 8 1 Batteries—Faber and Schalk; Douglas, Benton and Snyder.

Scott's Arm is Sore. New York, April 5.—Everett Scott, the Yank's shortstop, holder of the record for consecutive games played, at last seems to be in danger of breaking his run. Scott's throwing arm had been ailing lately, and he retired from Saturday's game at Fort Worth and benched himself again at Dallas on Sunday. This does not figure in his record, but if his arm was in such shape this night to start the league season he may be forced to lay off for a few regular games until the weather warms up.

A Nice Pickup. Little Rock, Ark., April 5.—Jimmy Johnston, playing for the Dodgers, on third base, pulled a rare fielding digger away with bent back in his Jersey village of Grovville. The game of golf, which has captivated the whole world, could never have been the game if this had happened.

As a youth cricket and running were Vardon's hobbies, and he only played golf occasionally. One day he read that his brother Tom who had gone to England to be a professional golfer, had won a prize of £16 in a tournament at Musselburgh. It seemed a large sum in those days, and he argued that, as he could beat Tom at home, he, too, might win £16 if he went to England. So, greatly daring, and against the wishes of his father, he set out for the States. He had £16, but became the greatest golfer the game has known.

DUNDEE HAD NARROW SHAVE LAST NIGHT

Junior Lightweight Champion Had Hard Battle With J. Goodrich at Toronto

Toronto, April 5.—Johnny Dundee, New York, junior lightweight champion, won a close decision in a 10-round bout here to-night with Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, the judge disagreeing and the referee declaring in favor of Dundee. The match was intended to be a championship affair but Goodrich was one pound over-weight, and consequently the title was not at stake.

The awarding of the decision to Dundee was received by a demonstration of disapproval by a considerable portion of the record-breaking number of fans who were present.

Firpo Wins By K. O. Newark, N. J., April 5.—Louis Firpo, champion heavyweight boxer of South America, defeated Joe McCann, local heavyweight, last night, scoring a technical knockout in the sixth round.

YATES AGAIN WINS THE PINEHURST GOLD MEDAL

Pinehurst, N. C., April 5.—Arthur Yates, of the Oakhill Club, of Rochester, won the gold medal in his third consecutive Pinehurst tournament, when he defeated Francis Oulme, an outstanding qualifying round of the North and South Amateur Golf Championship with rounds yesterday of 74, 76, 150. E. L. Scott, of Pinehurst, was a shot behind with 74, 77, 151.

All the favorites qualified for the match play which will start to-day over the number three course. Among the number are: W. C. Fownes, Jr., of Oakmont, former national amateur championship; Edward Lowery, of Boston, who captured the Francis Oulme when the latter won the open championship at Brookline in 1913, and Mike Thomas, of Nashville, rated as one of the best if not the leading left handed player in America.

WORKED AS GARDENER.

Soon after Harry left school he became an assistant in the garden of Major Spofforth, a brother of E. R. Spofforth, the famous Australian cricketer, who was known as "the demon bowler." As luck would have it, Major Spofforth was an enterprising golfer, and when he could not find anyone else to play with, and when Vardon was not too busy scaring away the hedges from the shafts of his land, he would take him to the links.

He also gave him clubs, which appeared wonderful after the Francis Oulme when the latter won the open championship at Brookline in 1913, and Mike Thomas, of Nashville, rated as one of the best if not the leading left handed player in America.

Browns Will Need Watching in Race

St. Louis Is Going to Start Where They Left Off Last Season and Fans Are Warned to Give Them a Look in With Yankees and Indians in American League

MONCTON ATHLETES ANXIOUS TO BREAK FROM AMATEUR UNION

Moncton, N.E., April 5.—A proposal was made to break away from the Maritime Province branch of the A. A. U. of C. at a meeting held last night by a number of baseball players and others rather than comply with the notice of A. W. Covey, that every amateur athlete in the Maritime Province must send in an affidavit before receiving an amateur card. Another meeting is to be held to-morrow night and baseball interests in St. John and Nova Scotia points are to be communicated with before definite action is taken.

FIRPO LOOKS LIKE DIAMOND IN ROUGH

Argentine Pugilist Drops Scrapper in New York and Is Hailed as a Comer

New York, April 5.—Louis Angel Firpo, an Argentine pugilist, was today considered by experts as a fistic diamond in the rough because of his defeat of Joe McCann at Newark last night.

Firpo probably will place himself in the hands of a competent trainer and coach and he will be matched in subsequent bouts by those who are hoping for an opponent to meet Jack Dempsey.

WINNIPEG BOWLER SETS UP A RECORD

Winnipeg, April 5.—What is believed to be a bowling record was made here yesterday on a local alley, when, for the third time this season Jim Shackleton rolled a perfect score of 300.

Gerbes was benched for six weeks in friendly games but they were rolled on different alleys.

HARRY VARDON MIGHT STILL HAVE BEEN AN ENGLISH GARDENER!

Just think of it—Harry Vardon might have been a gardener still, digging away with bent back in his Jersey village of Grovville. The game of golf, which has captivated the whole world, could never have been the game if this had happened.

As a youth cricket and running were Vardon's hobbies, and he only played golf occasionally. One day he read that his brother Tom who had gone to England to be a professional golfer, had won a prize of £16 in a tournament at Musselburgh. It seemed a large sum in those days, and he argued that, as he could beat Tom at home, he, too, might win £16 if he went to England. So, greatly daring, and against the wishes of his father, he set out for the States. He had £16, but became the greatest golfer the game has known.

TEAMS PICKED TO RUN FOR CAMBRIDGE AND OXFORD AGAINST PENN

London, April 5.—The Oxford and Cambridge relay teams which will meet the runners of the University of Pennsylvania at the Queen's Club on Saturday were announced to-day. The Oxford team will be composed of W. R. Milligan, G. M. Brunner, C. M. Weekly and E. J. Hewetson. The members of the Cambridge team will be W. G. Tatham, H. B. Stallard, W. R. Seagrove and E. D. Mountain.

A ROMANCE.

Harry Vardon's career is a romance. One of six brothers, he lived in the village of Grovville, near the hamlet of St. Heliers. One Sunday, as he has told, some strangers arrived from England and began to mark out a golf course on the common land. The whole village resented their coming and it was suggested that they should be rudely expelled. But they remained, and the course, which is now the home of the Royal Jersey Club, was born.

OLD COUNTRY LACROSSE TEAM WINS SECOND GAME

State College, Pa., April 5.—The Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team yesterday won its second victory in its American invasion by defeating Pennsylvania State College 6 to 0.

CHAMPION WALKER TO LIVE IN WEST

Surprise packets are evidently in vogue this season and Belmonts preferring to keep in style decided to defeat the James Bay Methodists and succeeded in doing so in a very capable manner last night at the First Presbyterian gym. by 10-8. The game was expected to be the reverse to what it is, as the James Bay Methodists were leading the parade for top berth and had won their games by a large margin. Ritchie opened the scoring for the evening and scored the first basket for the Belmonts. Directly after Robinson scored a neat shot through the hoop closing the gulf which left his team only two points behind.

BELMONT'S SECURE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP

Play opened in the second game in the favor of the Bays but carelessness in shooting spoiled their chances which might have resulted in their winning. They scored one basket. They remained at this score and left the Belmonts to tally up till they secured the lead on them. The Belmonts plugged along consistently until Ritchie and Whittington broke away from the ranks and once again hung up more honors for themselves also evening up the score and bringing the play closer. Joe Ross produced the unexpected just two minutes before the end, holding a guard position on the Belmonts, decided that his services were required on the forward line and took a hand on the ball placing a well directed long shot from the guard position through the net for the winning tally giving the championship to the Belmonts.

HUTCHISON FINISHES ROUND THREE STROKES BEHIND JOHN FARRELL

Washington, April 5.—Equalizing the course record in the first round with a card of six holes, John Farrell, of Hollywood, led a field of forty-two professional golfers in the Spring open tournament of the Columbia Country Club here yesterday, his total for the first thirty-six holes being 174.

Three shots behind Farrell came Jack Hutchinson, British open champion, who had a thirty-ck hole total of 147. Hutchinson led Mike Brady by three shots, while Cyril Walker, of New York, also turned in a total of 150.

Walter Hagen, of New York, twice winner of the American open championship, was in fifth place with a total of 151, and L. Ayton, Chicago, was sixth with 152. Trading Ayton came James Barnes, New York; Harry Hampton, Detroit; and E. Sarazan, Pittsburg, with total of 153. Joseph Kirkwood, of Australia, had a total of 156. The tournament will conclude to-day.

SCOTLAND AND ENGLAND MEET IN BIG SOCCER BATTLE SATURDAY

London, April 5.—Canadian Press Cable—Clay, of Tottenham Hotspurs, will replace Lucas on the English soccer team which meets Scotland at Birmingham next Saturday, it was announced yesterday.

Scottish League results to-day: Partick 1, Airdrieonians 1.

Third base will be looked after by Frank Ellerbe, who was benched from Washington last season. Sisler, of course, will perform in his customary place at first, and Gerber at short. Veteran Jimmy Austin is going to stick for utility purposes, and will be assisted by Gene Robertson, who was farmed out to Joplin last year.

Fohl has only four outfielders, but they make up in ability for what they lack in numbers. Tobin, Jacobson and Williams will be the regular guardians, and will comprise a hard-hitting trio. Incidentally they can field. The fourth man is Chick Shorten, who is a pretty fair man to have around for an emergency. Only one other outfielder was brought to the training camp. He is Cedric Durst from Beaumont. He probably will be returned to some such place.

ENGLISH ARE NOT EASILY SHOCKED, AMERICANS FIND

London, April 5.—When a field hockey team composed of American girl players appeared some time ago on English fields in skirts, there was a small comment among the spectators since a tunic costume is usual this side of the Atlantic. The matter was then dismissed as just another of the "different ways they have of doing things in America."

Now the truth has been revealed, that the girls from the States adopted skirts solely to avoid offending the supposed susceptibilities of the English.

SHAW DESMOND SLAMS AMERICAN "WAR PAINT"

He Is Horrified at the Widespread Make-Up Indulged In by American Girls.

WONDERS IF HUSBANDS EVER SEE REAL WIVES

Powder, Perfume, and Clothes All Come In for Severe Comment From Irish Novelist.

By SHAW DESMOND.

Shaw Desmond, the distinguished Irish author, lecturer and publicist, whose recent articles on the Irish Free State were published, has written in the New York World the following frank views about the American girls' use of make-up.

WHAT the American woman sometimes forgets is that beauty is not only a question of body but of soul. It is the soul of a woman, showing in the expression of her face, and especially in her eyes, which gives her individuality and beauty.

When cheeks are heavily encrimed, when eyebrows and lashes are heavily pencilled, all those fine lines of expression which, scintillating, make "expression" what it is, are painted over and obscured. It is just "painting beauty out."

When I paid my first visit to America three years ago I was both horrified and fascinated. I was horrified by the number of obviously beautiful and refined women who walked unblushingly (incidentally, the painted cheek can never blush) in the light of day with painted cheeks and pencilled eyebrows. I was fascinated by a revelation in variegated womanhood—for the American feminine is bewildering in its beauty-complex of body and soul.

Within a distance of 500 yards in a fashionable New York street, I passed the following apparitions: (1) Lady with three ropes of pearls around two chins, cheeks painted like a Dutch doll; (2) lady of leisure, perhaps too much leisure, with cupid's bow painted above and below small, straight mouth, ditto cheeks, but with diamond pendant instead of pearls; (3) small shopgirl balancing upon needle-point heels with face painted into excellent imitation of ghastly tint of wicked old ladies around the "witches' pot in 'Macbeth'; (4) large, leisured woman who apparently had dipped her face into the flour barrel at home before coming out; and (5) the "goes one better" lady who had "projected" her eyebrows almost to the ears, penciled two lines from eye-corner almost to ear, and, by the adventitious aid of the latest thing in lip salves had made her mouth into a very fair imitation of a street fight.

One makes the statement without fear of effective contradiction that in the streets of many Eastern cities the natural face is the exception—the painted face the rule. That cannot be said of London, Manchester, Edinburgh or indeed of any British city.

Now the beautiful American lady sometimes fails to fascinate me because she will not let me see her real self. I don't want to fall in love with an image. Like any other decent man, I want to see the original. If this naturally lovely creature will insist upon covering her face with powder and paint, then I must only cultivate a "crush" on cosmetics.

Worse Than Europe

AS I write I can hear the fair reader, now thoroughly incensed, exclaim: "But have you never seen any painted ladies in Europe?"

I have never seen such a general use of paint in any European capital as, for instance, in New York, and I certainly have never seen in the Old World the sight which met my astonished eyes in that city, the sight of a girl's school in one of the big avenues, some of the pupils of which had rouged their faces and reddened their lips in a manner to shame the light of day.

Something much more significant. Painting and powdering has blunted in some American girls that instinctive delicacy, that refinement which is a woman's charm and which distinguishes her from the coarser male. Not only have I seen the American woman of the "shiny nose" reduce the shininess, but even where the features are just "touched up" by powder delicately administered by the hand of the artist, I still claim that dusting it with powder causes the skin to lose at once its "living" quality and its charm, for powder chokes the pores, causing a great "Wimpole" dermatologist said to me last summer the horror of "the open pore" or, as he called it, "the open door," making the cuticle dull and ugly.

How many American women can face the light of day without showing, "the parchment skin." Those who can pass the test will almost invariably be found to be those who steepest powder.

If it be urged that in a climate like that of North America powder is necessary against the blasts of icy winds, the reply is that some of the most beautiful women I know in America never touch the skin with cosmetic of any kind. They use instead, good soap, water hot too hot, and live in a climate where the subject no cuticle that ever grew could withstand that awful drying process of steam-heated rooms any more than any digestion could withstand the deadly attack of ice water or any limbs the atrophy resulting from a country in which the motor car is used to travel one hundred yards.

Perfume is a much more debatable subject. A slight suspicion of "White Rose" or other delicate odor certainly enhances the attractiveness of a woman. But what of the heavy Oriental scents affected by so many American women?

We have all of us been in American drawing rooms scented like a harem—not many, fortunately. To enter such rooms is to court anaesthesia.

What is a Hospital? Is it a School, a Charity, or A Business? And Why Should Illness Cost So Much?

To Self-Respecting Families With Small Incomes a Hospital Experience Is a Crushing Affair—Imagine Our School Service Conducted on the Same System as the Hospitals!

By CHRISTINA CAMERON.

WHEN a family is too self-respecting not to pay its own way, a serious illness, if treated in a hospital, costs about $115 per week besides doctor's bills, anaesthetists' fee and various extras. Ought this to be so?

What is a hospital? And what ought it to be? Is it a medical school? Is it a charity? Is it a business enterprise? Is it a training school for nurses? Is it a public service paid for by those who use it like the railways? Or is it a public service, like the schools, paid for by the public funds for the benefit of all and free of charge?

As a matter of fact most hospitals could be defined in any or all of these ways. There are a few which are private enterprises merely, but only a few. Nearly all trade on their claim to be philanthropic undertakings and get municipal grants and exemption from taxation. Moreover, the individual manager or joint stock company can sometimes give better terms and service than the public hospital gives to its private ward patients. Are not the private and semi-private wards paying for the "public" wards? Is the man who pays his way being treated on the principle of "your extremity is our opportunity?"

Nobody looks the matter honestly in the face. Boards of management, who are usually founders and benefactors, blame superintendents for "deficits" (as if a hospital were an enterprise which ought to produce dividends) and they blame municipal councils for withholding large and larger grants (as if a hospital were a free municipal service like the public schools). Then they appeal pathetically to the public in the name of humanity for assistance (as if it were a soup-kitchen), expect endowments from medical research funds (on the ground that it is a department of a neighboring university), and claim the right of absolute control (as if it were a private enterprise).

In the meantime public ward patients are writing letters to the newspapers about chipped crockery, cold food and poor attendance, claiming that these are an infringement of a citizen's rights; private ward patients are feeling that they are being forced to pay through the nose for "goods" which are very perfunctory and grudgingly "delivered," and sturdy beggars with well-filled purses are obtaining for nothing the services of the best surgeons, physicians and nurses in the country—services which the self-respecting patrifamilias, living on a modest salary, either goes without or mortgages his future to pay for.

The arguments for free national hospitals are just as good as the arguments for free national schools. People who preferred their own family doctors could still have them, just as people who prefer their own private tutors and governesses may have them now, and it would be certainly a great advantage to know what one is paying for and what one is getting for nothing.

It is interesting to notice what the educational service would be like if it were managed in the same way as the hospitals. Perhaps the following plan for reducing the school tax rate will commend itself to some enterprising board of education which is wrestling with the financial difficulties created by the adolescent act.

Build two wings to some of your largest schools. In one of them establish a training school for teachers, and in the other a private school, charging high fees. Then manage this combination on what hospitals call a business basis—that is, try to make the profits from the one school pay the cost of the other. Do not pay teachers' salaries in any of the three departments, except to heads, get the rest of the teaching done by the teachers-in-training and a staff of assistants who pay themselves by giving expensive music lessons in the private school. If the "deficit" still looks too big to allow discussion of the tax rate at election time, ask the city council for permission to have a tag day! This is actually the usual hospital plan.

When the millennium comes the surplus wealth of the world will, we may hope, be available for public uses instead of being in the hands of the Carnegies, the Rothschilds and the Rockefellers to keep to themselves or dole out as they see fit. In that happy day probably one of the first charges on these (presumably gigantic) public funds will be the financing of a public health service by means of salaried physicians, surgeons, scientists, clinical teachers and nurses established in district hospitals, wisely and widely distributed, and which will be centres for preventive work as well as treatment.

When Sheba becomes a mother the legends assume a new significance. Her son, Menyelek, travels back to see Solomon, his father, and after a long and happy visit the boy disappears in the night, taking the Ark of the Covenant with him to Ethiopia. Here we see the attempt of the scribes to prove that the God of Israel forsook the Jews and went over to the Ethiopians, who, through Menyelek, the son of Solomon and Sheba, founded a Solomonic line of kings, claiming, through Solomon, kinship with Christ. Ethiopian tradition asserts that the Ark was preserved in Abyssinia till quite recent times.

Solomon discovered this in a curious way. When he knew that the queen was on her way to visit him he ordered a stream of running water to be made before his throne so that his visitor would have to step through it. This was rather a crude way of discovering her affliction—or was it the scheme of a very competent judge to admire the queen's ankles?

However, when Balkis reached the stream she hesitated a moment, drew up her skirts, and stepped in, and as soon as her goat's foot touched the water "it became straightway like the other foot."

TWO FAIRYLANDS FOR THE ROYAL HONEYMOON

Weston Park Is an Estate of Wonderful Beauty in the Loveliest Part of Quaint Old Shropshire.

THE VILLA MEDICI STANDS ON A PERFUMED HILL

From This English-Owned Home in Italy the Princess and Her Husband Will Have an Enchanting View.

By ANNIE E. RANKIN.

LONDON, Eng.

IN a quaint old corner of England the March hares are going mad. Snowdrops, the harbingers of spring, are uncovering their white heads, while in sheltered woody nooks the first primroses and shy violets are waking from their winter sleep.

The tall pines and waving birches whisper to the nodding oaks, whilst in their branches the small heralds of spring are chirping and twittering excitedly. For just below them, in the golden radiance that floods all the green beauty of the woodlands, go riding past the Royal Princess and her soldier bridegroom!

Weston Park, the historic seat of the Earl of Bradford, lord-in-waiting to the King and a cousin of Lord Lascelles, provides a romantic retreat for the honeymoon of an English princess. Situated in lovely country, about sixteen miles from Shrewsbury, it borders one of the quaintest bits of old Shropshire. Here are ivy-clad churches, rich in monuments of the knightly race that has lived here through the centuries; ancient towns and old-world villages, with narrow streets and half-timbered houses, and delightful views of wild woodland country stretching afar.

The famous Watling street, the old Roman road that runs through the heart of England, passes quite near this beauty spot where stands one of "the stately homes of England" surrounded by a lovely park, with hill and vale of wood, delightful gardens, noble lawns and water.

From the windows of the wonderful "tapestry room," for which successive earls have been offered fabulous sums, the Princess and her husband can see vistas of oak and sapling, grazing sheep and deer. Above a thick belt of pines and birch and oak, where there is no mortal sound save the wild music of the wind, a stately tower can be descried capping a pine-clad knoll a mile or so from the hall, from which a Union Jack gayly flutters. It will remain hoisted as long as the honeymoon lasts, which will be about three weeks at Weston Park.

Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles are spending a quiet, open air time here, rambling through the unfrequented paths in the woods at Weston, riding, hunting and visiting some of the ancient landmarks of Shropshire.

The Earl of Bradford has handed over the animals in his magnificent stables for their use and ideal horse gallops have been constructed in the park. The Princess, who is a first-rate horsewoman, rides a spirited mare named Dorothy, the pet of Lady Diana Bridgeman, daughter of the Earl and the youngest bridesmaid at the wedding. The Albrighton Hounds meet at the Bell Hotel in the village of Tong during the honeymoon.

Two places of note are worthy of a visit: Tong Church, known as the "Westminster Abbey of the Midlands," and Boscombe House, part of which is now a farm house, where Charles II. hid in the oak. A tree is shown which is said to be an offshoot of the original oak.

The Famous Villa Medici

TOWARDS the end of March the Princess Mary and Lord Lascelles will leave for the Villa Medici, at Fiesole, just outside Florence, Italy, where part of the honeymoon is to be spent, and will stay a week in Paris on the return trip, where they will be the guests of the Earl and Countess Granard in their wonderful old mansion in the Rue de Valenciennes.

The Villa Medici, at Fiesole, is called the "Queen" of the stately historic villas that crown the beautiful hillside between that place and Florence. It was built in 1458 for Cosimo de Medici, who established the greatness of the famous Florentine family, but not much of the original building remains. It was a favorite residence of Cosimo's illustrious grandson, Lorenzo the Magnificent, who there gathered round him the principal artists and learned men of the renaissance.

In the seventeenth century the Medici family sold the villa, and a century later it passed into the possession of Lady Orford, who decorated the interior in Chinese style. It was bought in 1862 by Mr. William Spence, a wealthy Englishman. When the Duke and Duchess of Fock and Princess May (now Queen Mary) were in Florence in the early eighties, they more than once visited the Villa Medici when Mr. Spence was host there.

The villa now belongs to Lady Sybil Scott, a first cousin of Lord Lascelles, and her husband, Mr. Geoffrey Scott, first secretary at the British Embassy in Rome, who have restored the gardens in the Italian style. The sitting rooms, well proportioned, spacious and lofty, are all on the ground floor, and open through a loggia on to the terrace, the favorite walk of Lorenzo the Magnificent.

The pleasant gardens and walks are bordered by cypresses and backed with a grove of ilex and cypress trees, and there is a superb view of the whole of the fair old city of Florence lying in the Arno valley and encircled by an amphitheatre of snow-capped mountains.

At sunset, from this height, the varied outline of the picturesque Tuscan city below is silhouetted against a vivid sky. Crowned with the vast dome of its cathedral, the Duomo, round which are numbered at unequal heights the towers of the Baptistery, with its gates worthy of paradise, with the tall richly decorated bellry of Giotto near by, the church of the Carmine, Santa Maria Novella, beautiful as a bride, Santa Croce, second only in magnificence to the Duomo and Saint Mark, presents an impressive scene of beauty never to be forgotten.

The Princess and her husband will journey to this fairyland along the shores of the sparkling blue depths of the Mediterranean Sea—where the Princess will see for the first time what a real "Mary blue" can be—past green hillsides dotted with pink-roofed villas nestling among the shimmering grey-green of the olive orchards, with their fleeting, silvery flashes of leaves in a breeze and flanked by orange groves laden with succulent fruit.

As they drive along the winding, hill-road that leads from Florence to the Villa Medici they will pass by old, grey walls almost covered with "creeping" pink geraniums, hedges of flowering cacti and mimosa trees that dazzle the eye with their sheen of living gold. The subtle perfume of the eucalyptus trees will mingle with all the enchanting woody influences of nature in the "Sweet o' the Year," while from afar the southern winds will waft the suggestion of fields of Easter lilies offering up sweet incense on the eve of their yearly sacrifice.

Lovely at all times and at all seasons, on a spring evening when the landscape is flooded with moonlight, when the nightingales are singing and the city below is outlined with rows of twinkling lamps, the haunt of Lorenzo de Medici is a veritable fairy scene, an ideal setting for the honeymoon of an English Princess.

IT'S ALL DUE TO THE SHORT SKIRT

By C. C.

A BOSCHE professor has been doing some research work on the short skirt.

He finds that one of the most important effects of the short skirt has been a great increase in marriages.

Professor Josephus P. Skidgley, the eminent Canadian neuroathetic and prestidigitator, has also been devoting himself to a thoroughly scientific study of the short skirt problem; and, while incensed that a mere Hun should beat him to the newspapers with his results, is delighted that the German missed the really serious and significant features of the case.

"The short skirt," stated Professor Skidgley, in an exclusive interview, "is responsible for three of the gravest ills of the moment, to wit: The industrial depression of the past three years; a devastating outbreak of eye-strain; and jazz."

"Practically the whole intelligent world believes that the war is responsible for the great depression of the past three years. Nothing could be more absurd. The short skirt is to blame. The short skirt came in in 1919, just as the war ended. Promptly business fell off. Orders ceased to come in. Factories began to run at half time. Business slumped. Stagnation set in."

"Why? Because the short skirt was distracting everybody's attention from business. No one, from the mechanic at the bench, to the president in his office, could concentrate on his job. The pathetic part of it was that even the professors of economics were affected by the sights, and were unable to think clearly. And when someone, noticing that business was going on the rocks, blamed it on the war, professors, presidents, foremen and all, their attention elsewhere, absently echoed the words—it is the war."

"I have made psychic examinations of bank presidents, business managers, directors, as well as of the lesser people of industry, and found them all obsessed, hypnotized, as it were, by the short skirt. They were not amenable to reason. When I pointed out that their business was suffering because their entire staff, salesmen, office men, mechanics and all, were under the baleful spell of the short skirt, they would merely murmur, in a stupid way, it is the effects of the war," and then ring eagerly for their prettiest typist."

Eye-strain, the professor says, is so general, nowadays, that business men can't see business, in front of their noses, and workers can't see the sense of going to work, but would rather hang about the streets—

His last but not the least indictment of the short skirt is that it predicated jazz.

"Dancing of the old, graceful kind," the professor says, "would have been absurd with girls dressed in knee-length skirts. A girl is naturally an ungraceful creature when dancing unless completely swathed. The short skirt, therefore, demanded a raucous and racketty music and an absurd and eccentric step in order to camouflage the ungainly extremities exposed and to confuse the minds of any who might see the wabbly, spindly or stumpy efforts to be graceful in the sense that men are graceful."

These are serious accusations to make against the short skirt, and indicate how much more acute and ingenious is the mind of an Anglo-Saxon investigator than that of a German.

Hieroglyphics

THE curator of the museum was classifying Egyptian curios. He observed a perplexed expression on the face of his young assistant.

"What seems to be the matter, Jones?" he asked. "Is there anything you don't understand?"

"Yes, sir," answered the helper. "Here is a papyrus on which the characters are so badly traced that they are indecipherable. How shall I classify it?"

"Let me see," said the curator, examining the piece. "Just call it a doctor's prescription in the time of Pharaoh."—Judge.

Ivory Mice "Good Luck" Emblem

THE latest fad is the "Good Luck" emblem in the shape of a mouse, and it is made of ivory. The Parisian women stick them on their dresses or stockings. Photo shows the "Good Luck" mice worn by Parisian women.

CREAM PUFFS and PICKLES

THE delicatessen era has dawned in Canada.

Countless young husbands are at this moment dining on dill pickles and canned spaghetti.

Dear, old-fashioned Canada, that has so proudly withstood the delicatessenization of America, has succumbed. We used to buy our meat raw and cook it. We had our pies baked at home. They put the can in American, and now they've put the can in Canada. The butchers will tell you that nowadays they rarely sell a chicken to a woman under thirty. Whenever a pretty young thing comes into the store, the butcher goes over and stands beside the cold ham.

It is one more effect of the war. For five years the girls were too busy knitting socks or making shells or recruiting to learn cookery. There were no young men to cook for, anyway. So cookery went to pot. Tender-hearted mothers relaxed their stern training of daughters in the domestic arts, to share with them the thrill of making socks and insectivorous shirts for heroes overseas.

Then came back half a million young Canadians and began grabbing off wives right and left. What cared they if their girls could cook or not? Sure, the soldiers had been living on canned meat for years. From corned horse to canned soup was no great feat. A pie was a pie, and a great treat, whether it was bought at the corner or baked at home.

So the poor young things embarked on life's voyage bravely, with their course laid for the corner store.

Of course, it has its good effects. For one thing, there is a far better feeling towards mothers-in-law than ever before. You never see a mother-in-law joke nowadays. Why? Because one of the biggest events in the lives of young couples is the weekly visit up to his or her mothers for a square meal—a home-cooked meal, roast beef, chicken, and all. These poor young delicatessen couples have the profoundest respect for their parents. It has given parents a real hold on their children in an otherwise graceless age.

But the evils of the situation are greater than its benefits. To what, do you suppose, is due the lack of spine in the modern young man? Look at the way he is bossed around by the women, made a sort of messenger and movie escort, trotted off to dances, made to live in one-cylinder apartments, forced to buy fur coats and support cars. When you consider what a rip-roaring, snorting old boy the head of the house was a generation ago, you will see that the change has something to do with feeding.

The modern young man is undernourished. How could a man be strong-willed and masculine on a diet of jellied tongue and canned pineapple? The modern man is tamed as lions are tamed, by feeding on no red meat. His father was a fine, dominant old boy, because he was fed on plenty of home-cooked food with red gravy on the platter.

The blame is not all the modern girl's, though.

"Look here!" bellowed a father at his son, when they met on King street one noon. "You're looking all peaked—"

"I hate that word, father," the boy objected.

"Peaked!" bellowed the sturdy old gent. "Peaked, measly, squeamish! You look like a wet cat. And I know what's the matter with you. You're starved. What did she have for dinner last night?"

"Now, father, I can't have Mary spoken of like that—"

"What did she have?" roared the old man.

"Well—salad?" said the boy. "No—let's see: Ah! Muffins—"

"Muffins!" exploded the old man. "Muffins for dinner?"

"English muffins," said the boy, concentrating on last night's table. "Honey, pickled walnuts, butter, salt, pepper, tea, sugar—"

"My boy!" said the old man, suddenly softened at this pitiful tale, "my boy, come on over to the hotel for lunch with me and we'll eat a couple of sirlion steaks."

What should he have done, that father? He should have ordered his son, on pain of being disinherited, to buy a couple of sirlion steaks on the way home that night to present to his bride.

Instead, what did he buy? Two cream puffs, probably.

"Valley of Roses" in Peril

BULGARIA'S famous "Valley of Roses," which supplied 90 per cent. of the world's supply of attar, or oil of roses, is threatened with ruin. Over half the rose bushes in the valley, situated at the foot of the Balkans, comprising thousands of acres, have been seized with a disease resembling very much the phyloxera. Experts thus far have discovered neither the nature of the disease nor a remedy. The minister of agriculture has already proposed, in vain, several prizes for the invention of an effective remedy.

Last year's crop of attar was only 3,000 kilograms, and the great decrease is due chiefly to the mysterious disease, which attacks the roots of the rose bush. Numerous Bulgarian cultivators of roses have already turned to the cultivation of tobacco, because it is easier and more remunerative.

The present wholesale price of attar of roses is 40,000 francs for a kilogram.

SHIP SUBSIDY
BILL IS BEFORE
U. S. CONGRESS
Washington, April 5.—(Canadian Press)—The great drive for ship-subsidy legislation has begun with the joint hearings by the Senate Commerce Committee and the House Merchant Marine Committee, Chairman Lasker, of the Shipping Board, urged the passing of the subsidy bill. Despite the pressure from administration quarters for a subsidy, even its warmest supporters doubt whether it can pass. Chairman Lasker held out to Middle Western members the hope that the St. Lawrence waterway would be developed by linking it with the subsidy. He hoped to gain agricultural members' votes.

RUMORS MISSING
MAN WAS FOUND
But No Confirmation A. J. Small, Toronto, Seen
Toronto, April 5.—Rumors were checked in Hamilton and Toronto today to the effect that Ambrose J. Small, theatrical millionaire, mysteriously missing for more than two years, had been found. There seemed to be no basis for the report, however.

Toronto, April 5.—A local paper says it is reported that police activity in the Ambrose J. Small case may take the line of an inquiry into a theory that a box large enough to contain a body was sunk in Lake Ontario just outside of Toronto Harbor. That there was another visitor to the private office of Ambrose Small after his disappearance, that employees of the theatre did not know of what was brought to light today James Cowan, manager of Small's theatre, stated that a letter addressed to Mr. Small, left in the downstairs box office by Mrs. Small, was taken upstairs by himself and placed with other letters on the desk in Small's private office. When the bundle of mail was gone over later this letter was missing.

The theory that Small met with foul play in the theatre has been largely discounted by his friends of late. It is pointed out that even before the police searched the building employees did so and not the slightest trace of Small was found. It is pointed out that even before the police searched the building employees did so and not the slightest trace of Small was found. ORDER QUARANTINE TO FIGHT RUST

Currants and Gooseberries Carry White Pine Blister

Fear of the spread of "white pine blister-rust," discovery of which was announced last month by F. W. Laing, has resulted in the Department of Agriculture establishing a quarantine area for the control of this fungus disease.

The disease has been discovered at a number of places on Vancouver Island and on the Lower Mainland. It has proven disastrous to the white pine of Eastern Canada and the Eastern United States, and may be similarly destructive to the forests of this Province should it gain entrance into the white pine areas in the Okanagan and Kootenay districts.

This disease has one stage on currants and gooseberries and another on five-leaved pines, and it may be carried on either of these host-plants.

In order to protect the white pine areas the movement of its host plants, currants and gooseberries, into white pine areas is now prohibited from parts of the Province in which the disease is known to exist. This means a quarantine is placed on the whole of the Province West of the Cascade Range, including Vancouver and the Gulf Islands. No five-leaved pines, native or introduced, currants or gooseberries, fruit-bearing or ornamental, may be moved out of this area, with the exception of Hazelton, Lillooet, Spences Bridge and Princeton.

CAR DRAGS LADY

Another Incident Arises From Hasty Closing of Car Doors.

Hasty closing of the automatic doors now a feature of the one-man street cars again occasioned trouble on Saturday afternoon last, Mrs. E. Morice, of Fell Street, being dragged some distance when her attire was caught by the equipment of an Oak Bay car.

According to Mrs. Morice, who is confined to bed with nerve shock and bruises, with a nurse and doctor in attendance, the accident occurred when she was alighting from the Oak Bay car at Chamberlain Street, the sliding doors being slammed closed while the passenger, was yet upon the step. Her skirt was caught in the door and her efforts to attract the attention of the motorman failed.

After being dragged a considerable distance by the street car Mrs. Morice was released by the tearing of the fabric of her skirt, which was torn completely off her at the waist, the severed part being carried along by the car. Mrs. Morice was picked up by eyewitnesses and carried to a nearby store where restoratives were applied, being later taken home in an automobile.

ROTARIANS END GREAT CONFERENCE

Message of Geddes Is Key-note of Meeting

District Governorship Goes to Hoquiam

(By Times Special Staff Representative)

Vancouver, April 5.—Promotion of friendship between the people of Canada and the United States was the main underlying purpose of the great international conference of Pacific Northwest Rotary Clubs which came to an end here with a grand ball in the Vancouver Hotel last night, and that purpose has been accomplished in a degree never equalled at a previous Northwest convention.

That is the unanimous opinion of Rotary delegates and officers who attended the conference. The huge convention, attended by about two thousand delegates from Canadian and American clubs, did not reach the standard set by the Victoria Club at its convention two years ago as far as entertainment features are concerned, but it probably surpassed all previous conventions in the more serious business of Rotary.

International Goodwill.
This was stressed by Retiring District Governor E. L. Skell, of Seattle who, in his final address said: "The keynote of this conference has been the promotion of international goodwill. Our purpose has not been to discuss economical, social and political questions as such, but to assist in the development among the nationals of the countries represented a true friendship. We believe that there is no question that cannot be settled amicably if it is approached with an open mind and a friendly heart."

"This is the most successful convention the Northwest clubs have held from the standpoint of serious Rotary endeavor," Lester Patrick, President of the Victoria Club, who hurried out from Toronto to attend the conference, declared.

The Geddes Speech.
The stirring, yet reasoned address of Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to Washington, at once put the conference on a new plane and assured its effort to promote international harmony unexpected success. This was evidenced by the unrestrained and unaffected enthusiasm with which the noted British statesman was greeted by the American delegates, crowds of whom pressed about to shake his hand and thank him for his message of international cooperation.

Fighting Poisonous Publicity.
Possibly the biggest feature of the whole convention was Sir Auckland's address. His proposal that Rotary Clubs all over the world should undertake the work of fighting "poisonous publicity" written to stir up trouble between nations, was one of the most practical plans that has ever been laid before Rotary. This proposal, which received favorable mention in many quarters. The plan is in line with Rotary principles, for one of Rotary's main objects is to foster feelings of friendship and harmony between all nations. Undoubtedly it will receive consideration by Rotarians in all parts of the continent.

"Unity in Human Society."
Another address which kept the conference on a high standard was the delivery by Rev. Dr. Leslie Pidgeon, Past International Rotary President, who declared that the spirit of Rotary is unity in human society. If the spirit of love cannot keep pace with the advancement of the human mind, which is continually inventing instruments of destruction, both will be destroyed, he warned. Rotary contains no new principles, he added. Rotary was simply an organization, a force working to bring out into the open and express, for man and man, the thing which has been struggling for years to enter into the scheme of things in the world, he affirmed.

New District Governor.
Another splendid address was that of Frank H. Lamb, of Hoquiam, who was elected District Governor and who spoke on "Workers and Co-Workers," giving the Conference the viewpoint of the large employer or labor problem. While the District Governor's chair went to the Hoquiam Club, the Victoria Club could have had the position if it had desired this honor. The convention was seen to recognize the Victoria Club's splendid record in this way but no Victoria Rotarian felt able to spare the time demanded by the position. Victoria delegates took a most important, though unobtrusive part in the convention. The Victorians were regarded almost in the same light as the Vancouver Rotarians—as hosts—and in this they fully lived up to what was expected of them. They helped, in a great degree, to "put the conference over." The speeches of Dr. Poyntz and P. C. Abell, both of the Victoria Club, were by no means inconspicuous features of the conference while Rotarians E. J. Down's songs, as ever, made a huge hit. The great conference adjourned, in fact, singing his song, "The End of a Rotary Day."

Referred to Units.
A striking evidence of the spirit of unity which exists in the Northwest Rotary district was the strenuous opposition of Southern clubs to the plan to cut the district in half. This plan, which would separate Portland and other Southern clubs from the Canadian clubs, was referred to each individual club for final decision.

STILLMAN HEARING IN MONTREAL

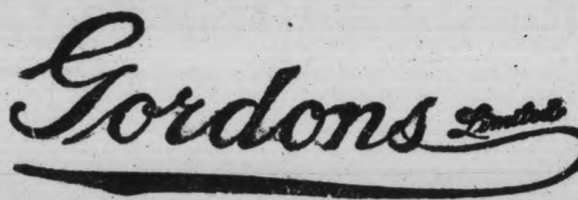

Montreal, April 5.—Fifty witnesses from the Rivers, La Laque, Grand Anse, Caughnawaga and other points will assemble here next Monday to testify on behalf of Mrs. James A. Stillman in the paternity proceedings over her infant son, Guy. The child's paternity is challenged by her husband, James A. Stillman, New York banker, in a divorce suit in which the banker charges his wife with misconducting herself with Fred Beauvais, a French-Canadian guide.

FUNERAL SERVICE.

Winnipeg, April 5.—The funeral service of the late Mr. Justice E. L. Metcalfe of the Manitoba Court of Appeal, who died on Sunday last, was held in Augustine Church yesterday afternoon. The body was then transferred to Portage la Prairie for burial.
