THE ROCK OF AGES

EVANGELIST HABBICK WINS HIS CASE BEFORE A JURY OF HIS PEERS

Any fair-minded person who believes the Bible to be the inspired word of God must have stood with Mr. Habbick last evening when he brought a sane, reasonable argument for the true religion of Jesus Christ as standing against and opposed to the cults and isms of this day and time. If a man cuts loose from the Bible as the inspired word of God he has no chart nor compass, recognizes no authority but brute force and runs riot just as far as the law of the land allows him. Such an one must have acknowledged the reasonableness of Mr. Habbick's argument.

His argument was founded on Deut. 32:31, "For their rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges."

This text has a legal flavor. I wish to set before you people here assembled the case and then bring the witnesses to prove that setting forth. I am not here to merely say things against any other religion, but I do say if they are right we are wrong, and that the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ is the most reasonable of all the world.

Moses brought this message to God's people as he was looking into their faces for the last time before he went up into the mountains to meet God and forever be with Him. He loved God and his people with a passionate love, he knew what was before them as the divers religions of the Gentiles with which they were to come in contact, he was in earnest, dead in earnest, as he said, "Their rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges." Don't you know all things that are good are not necessarily of God, all religions are not of Christ, the devil will assume anything to get you lost.

Egypt in the Bible stands for the world, Pharaoh for the devil, the magicians for devil workers. The magicians at Pharaoh's command could work all the wonders that Moses did until God told Moses to take a handful of fine ashes and scatter them in the wind over the land. Every one in the land was covered with boils, the magicians were so covered with the boils they couldn't work any more wonders. The object of their wonder working power was to keep the children of Israel in bondage. The devil works his wonders now to keep you in bondage because he is the enemy of Jesus Christ. He don't care one way or the other about you Christians, but he hates Jesus Christ and wants to strike him through you. Death reigned in every house in Egypt, except those under the blood sprinkled on the door posts, according to the word of the Lord. All the cults in the world can't spare your family when death comes.

This faith delivered to the saints is a serious subject. Let us consider it seriously. It is old, old as the ages. Let us not be ashamed of the gospel of Christ. Put God first of all, his book, the Bible, the first of all books. Then we learn God is a personality, not dependent on humanity for His existence. A personality, but not a body for He is a spirit and has no body. Our Savior is the Lord Jesus Christ, a person incorporated in a body, a material body. This body was really pierced by the nails in his hands and feet, by the thrust of the spear in His side, and material blood came out of a material side. Our Savior knew sin, not in Him but on Him, all our iniquity was poured out upon Him. Our Savior knew death, knew pain both physical and mental, was laid away in a real tomb, and was raised from that real tomb on the third day. He arose a real man, those who walked with him to Emmaus saw Him, talked with Him, ate with Him as a real man and saw a real man disappear from their sight. Thomas saw a real man when he reached forth his hand and thrust it in those real wounds. This real God man ascended on high, and as a material man sits at the right hand of God to make intercession for us. He is making intercession right now for John Habbick that he may deliver this message tonight, preach the truth and spite the devil. When Jesus Christ went up to His father and our God He sent the Holy Spirit, a personality but not a corporality, to convict the world of sin, of righteousness and of judgment to come. He alone is God's representative in this day and age. Our book and our faith teach that man by the fall lost touch with God and is dead in trespass and sin in

HOME WEDDING

CARROLL HARE AND MISS NORA SMITH MARRIED AT NOON TUESDAY

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Smith at 722 North Louise street was the scene of a very pretty wedding Tuesday, when their daughter, Miss Nora Eva Smith, became the wife of Mr. Carroll Llewellyn Hare, the ceremony being performed at high noon. The house decorations were exceedingly pretty, the living room and dining room being decorated with asparagus fern interwoven with pink and white carnations. The bridal bower was banked with palms and ferns, interwoven with carnations and orange blossoms. The ceremony began with a solo, "Oh Promise Me," sung by Mrs. Clifford Cunningham, followed by the wedding march. The bridal procession entered, led by the Rev. Julius Soper, followed by Master Lawrence Ray Smith and Master James Perry Dobbins, nephew and cousin of the bride respectively. They were dressed in white Oliver Twist suits with black slippers and they strewed the path of the bride with rose petals. The bride and groom followed close behind the flower boys and entered the bower prepared for them. The bride was beautifully dressed in white satin with an overlace of silk net trimmed in swansdown. She wore a bridal veil fastened at the forehead with pearls and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. H. V. Dobbins acted as matron of honor.

There were about fifty guests present who partook of a buffet luncheon following the ceremony, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, olives, fruit punch, ice cream and cake. The luncheon was served by the Campfire Girls, of which organization the bride was a member. A large number of beautiful presents were on display in a specially prepared place where they were viewed by the many friends and guests of the family. The out-of-town guests included the following: Roy K. Smith, a brother of the bride, and his wife, who is herself a bride of only a month; Mrs. William Vanderhoof, a cousin of the bride's parents, and Leo Livernash, a cousin of the bride. The local guests included Mrs. A. L. Hare, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence O. Smith and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Dobbins and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Moore and their daughter, Mrs. Frank Alberts, Mr. and Mrs. Colums, Mr. and Mrs. Boynton, Mrs. J. R. Lockwood, Mrs. Louis Budway and her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Ward and children, Mrs. Clifford Cunningham, Mrs. Latter and Glen Porter, cousin of the groom. Also the Campfire Girls, including the following: Mrs. McPherson, guardian, and the Misses Lefa Siple, Mary Hunt, Vera and Margaret McPherson, Doris Latter, Elsie Tyler, Ruth Sanford, Myrtle Tummel and Dorothy Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hare departed amid a shower of confetti and rice for a honeymoon trip to San Diego.

DR. DUNGAN IMPROVING

A letter received by Dr. I. H. Durfee from Honolulu, dated January 8, states that Dr. D. R. Dungan, who has been lying close to death there for four or five weeks, is considerably improved and it is thought that he will recover. Mrs. Dungan writes that if he continues to improve she expects to sail for home with him on February 8 and asks Dr. Durfee to meet them in San Francisco so he can take care of Dr. Dungan on his arrival. A bench gave way with the doctor on shipboard while en route to Honolulu, breaking his right thigh. Full particulars of the accident have not been received by friends here and they have been very anxious to hear good news concerning his condition and will be glad to know that he is expected to be able soon to make the trip home. Mrs. Dungan writes that he is very homesick for Glendale.

Mr. Flint expects to add to the list as the campaign progresses. The local representatives are J. F. Lilly, Frederick Baker, A. T. Cowan.

No further report has been received in regard to the 400 persons lost on a British ship. This may refer to the total number lost.

NO UNIVERSAL KINGDOM

A GREAT POWER WILL NEVER RULE WORLD BEFORE CHRIST COMES

Neither Germany, England nor any other great power can ever hope to rule the world before the coming of Christ, according to Evangelist Philip L. Knox, who spoke on this subject from the standpoint of the Bible at Evangel hall, 115 South San Fernando road, last night. He said the Bible plainly declares that no world empire will ever again be successful, that the iron monarchy of Rome was the last universal kingdom the earth will ever see until Christ himself sets up his dominion.

A large crowd was gathered last night to hear Mr. Knox, the subject being one of great interest. A violin selection by Miss Susine Wessels and a solo, illustrated with stereoscopic views, were well received. Special music will be given at the meeting tonight, in addition to the song service, which begins at 7:15. Evangelist Celian Andross will speak tonight at 7:45 on "Will the Old Book Stand?" The meetings are being held every night and are open to the public.

Last night Mr. Knox read to his congregation the statement in Daniel 2:44: "In the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed, and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever."

"In the days of these kings' tells us when this will happen," continued the evangelist. "If we can determine who 'these kings' are we will know the time when the God of heaven is to set up his kingdom."

"Going back in the chapter we find that the God of heaven gave to the ancient king of Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar, a vision, revealing to him what things must come to pass in the last days. The king sees towering before him a great image, its head of fine gold, its breast and arms of silver, its thighs of brass, its legs of iron, and its feet part of iron and part of clay.

"His attention is then called to a stone being cut out of a mountain without hands, and he sees it hurled through space, until it strikes the image upon the feet, dashing it to pieces. Then he sees a whirlwind carry away the fragments until there is no place found for them and the little stone that smote the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth.

"The Lord then gave the same vision to the Prophet Daniel. Through circumstances shaped by God, Daniel is brought in before the king and declares to him God's interpretation of this wonderful vision. The head of fine gold, says the prophet, represents the kingdom of Babylon in all its glory. It must give place, he adds, to a second kingdom, represented by the breast and arms of silver. Then would arise a third kingdom of brass which would bear rule over all the world, and after this, a fourth kingdom, strong as iron, was to wield the scepter of universal power. Each of these four kingdoms, the prophet declared, would be universal kingdoms, and the school children will tell us that four great universal kingdoms since the days of Nebuchadnezzar are Babylon, Medo-Persia, Grecia and Rome.

"Speaking of the kingdom of Rome, Daniel declared in the 41st verse of this chapter, 'Whereas thou sawest the feet part of potter's clay and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided.' All who are acquainted with the history of Rome can read the fulfillment of this prediction in that portion of history which tells us of the strong barbarian tribes which swept down into Rome, breaking it up into exactly ten kingdoms, known to history as the ten kingdoms of Europe. They were the Anglo-Saxons, the Franks, Alemanni, Burgundians, Ostragoths, Visigoths, Heruli, Suevi, Lombards and Vandals. Centuries before Rome came upon the stage of action the prophet had declared that it would arise and that it would fall and be broken into ten parts.

"Of these ten kingdoms the prophet adds, 'They shall mingle themselves with the seed of men, but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.' The world's greatest warriors have attempted to unite these kingdoms into a fifth great universal empire. Charlemagne, Charles the Fifth, Louis the 16th, all tried it. But foremost among those who have attempted the task stands Napoleon the Great. This statement of Bible prophecy was strong-

AT STATE CAPITOL

MANY BILLS ASKING APPROPRIATIONS ARE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE

Already the bills asking for appropriations are beginning to come in. Those announced by the first week of the session amount to about $4,000,000, with prospects bright for a good many more. The state budget is $41,735,247. Alongside this a few extra odd appropriations of four to eight millions is a mere bagatelle and a few hundred thousand here and there is small change to the legislator accustomed to dealing in scores of millions. The appropriations so far proposed shape up something like this: New buildings, grounds and institutions, $2,850,000; new state roads, $940,000; miscellaneous, $130,000.

Under the first head are included: Three state sanitariums for tuberculosis sufferers, $900,000; permanent state exposition building, Oakland, $300,000; purchase of lands in Lassen county by state university, $25,000; two buildings, Santa Barbara vocational normal, $40,000; new state farm at Riverside, $500,000; hospital for inebriates, $250,000; purchase of Manzanita rifle range, $85,000; deciduous fruit experiment station, $250,000; state prison for first offenders, $250,000; state hospital for drug users, $250,000.

Miscellaneous items so far include $25,000 for a silver service for the battleship California; $40,000 to introduce moving pictures in the schools; $40,000 for vocational training; $25,000 for compulsory military training. Other appropriations are asked for state aid to county fairs and for advanced schools of military training.

The subject of saloon reforms will be one of the uppermost issues at this session according to present indications. The wine and grape men have thrown down the gauntlet to the liquor men. One proposal in this connection comes from Assemblyman Marks of San Francisco who wants an honorary state commission to probe the liquor question.

Some sentiment is brewing for the abolition of civil service and a jury reform system aimed at "professional jurors" is proposed.

There is a bill to regulate jitneys, another to have plambers examined as to their competency, a bill to change Labor day from the first Monday to the first Saturday in September, one to prohibit treating, and another requiring the flag to float over every schoolhouse.

One bill is offered to make women eligible for jury service, and a bill from another part of the house would provide that a woman doesn't have to serve on a jury if she doesn't want to. The justice of the peace will act as an employment agent if another bill passes. Another gives a man the right to hunt on his own property without a license. Yet another bill provides indeterminate sentences for all prisoners, making them eligible to parole after one year.

A bill taking steps toward division of California into two states, North and South California will be introduced during the session.

855 AUTOS IN GLENDALE

Numerous inquiries have been made as to the number of automobiles in Glendale and the comparison in number of this with other cities. The Automobile Publishing Co. gives a list of automobile registrations in Southern California, in which Glendale is credited with 855 cars. Southern California had a total of 102,600 cars and Los Angeles county had 64,553 cars at the close of the 1916 motor registrations. The list for the various cities of Southern California is given as follows: Alhambra, 567; Arcadia, 36; Azusa, 158; Burbank, 222; Claremont, 170; Covina, 445; Culver City, 23; Duarte, 49; El Monte, 218; Gardena, 269; Glendale, 855; Glendora, 225; Lamanda Park, 105; Long Beach, 2942; Los Angeles, 44,511; Monrovia, 483; Ocean Park, 215; Owensmouth, 42; Pasadena, 4844; Pomona, 1159; Puente, 151; Redondo Beach, 231; San Dimas, 211; San Gabriel, 342; San Pedro, 383; Santa Monica, 488; Sierra Madre, 164; South Pasadena, 700; Santa Anita, 7; Whittier, 827.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1917

TWO VICTORIES AIDING BOND ELECTION

Two significant victories for the $4,450,000 flood control bond issue have been won during the past week, victories that will secure the voting of these bonds, in the estimation of Motley H. Flint, chairman of the campaign committee.

"The withdrawal of opposition to the bonds by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is one of the biggest signs of coming success," said Mr. Flint, who is vice-president of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank, and a most ardent booster for the bonds. "In a trip into the country, yesterday, I discovered, however, that there is still a wrong impression existing concerning the attitude of the Los Angeles chamber. The facts are that this body of business men was divided merely on methods by which to arrive at adequate flood control—one contingent was inclined to favor the plan of special assessments, and the other the bond issue as proposed. They have always been a unit on the question of the absolute necessity for the control of storm-waters. After a meeting with strong representations from the chambers of commerce of the cities and towns outside of Los Angeles city, the Los Angeles Chamber withdrew its opposition to the bond issue. This is very significant, when it is remembered that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce represents over $600,000,000 of assessable property in the city."

The second victory, in many ways as important, is the endorsement of the bonds by the Los Angeles County Flood Control Association. This organization has been struggling with the flood control question for four years, at all times divided into two camps—one for the special assessment plan, and the other for a county-wide bond issue. At a meeting last Saturday in the court-house, the association was presented with a set of resolutions favoring the bond issue, and endorsing the plans of Engineer J. W. Reagan as laid down in his flood control report to the board of supervisors. These resolutions were offered by Attorney Frederick Baker, author of the Baker act, under which the flood control bond issue was called. The motion to adopt these resolutions was made by A. W. Frye, who has been an able coadjutor of Mr. Baker in placing the Baker bill on the state statutes. The association adopting these resolutions is made of representatives from every community in the county.

Now that the property-holders of city and county are rapidly uniting on the bond issue, it is distinctly up to every organized body in every community to secure the vote of the wage-earner.

"If the bonds carry, I shall make it my business to see that all the projects in all parts of the county are begun simultaneously," said supervisor John J. Hamilton, at a meeting in Pomona last week. "Seventy-five per cent. of the $4,450,000 to be spent for flood control will go into ordinary labor at the county wages of $2.50 per day," he said. In other words, the laborer in every city and town in the county will be very busy during the coming year. The project will call for a huge force of carpenters in erecting the false work of the big conservation dams, who will be followed by concrete workers. It will mean the use of a great number of teamsters and truck-drivers, besides many higher-salaried men in surveying and engineering. The cement will undoubtedly come from the county's great plant at Monolith, in the Tehachapi mountains. It means the expenditure of $4,450,000 of eastern capital, brought into the county on bonds that run to five per cent. for forty years.

Attorney Frederick Baker, author of the Baker flood control act, has said lately on numerous occasions: "If these bonds do not carry, the country districts are faced with an even greater menace than that of flood waters. The special assessment plan, which we have fought so strenuously and successfully so far, will be put into operation, and the cost of confining storm-waters to channels and the conservation of water, will be placed directly against the abutting property damaged by storms. There can be no question as to the injustice of such a plan, and the huge cost placed against a limited number of property-holders, already impoverished by flood damages, would practically amount to confiscation of property."

FINANCIALLY STRONG

Seventh-day Adventists of the Pacific Union Conference, which includes the states of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah and Western Colorado, raised 374,000 during 1916 for the extension of the denominational work, according to statistics in the possession of the treasurer, Mr. B. M. Emerson, of Glendale, which have just become available. This is an average of $34.64 per member. If the amount given for local church work and new church buildings and improvements were added the sum would be considerably larger.

The total includes the tithe, or tenth of the income, which the members contribute systematically for the support of the ministry and which amounted to $232,424.70 last year in the Pacific Coast states named. The total also includes offerings for the extension of foreign mission work, which amounted to $101,400.89. This is an average of 13 4-100 cents a week per member for the year. In 1915 the average was 16 82-100 cents a week per member.

Besides these sums, $29,607.92 was contributed for Adventist educational work in the five states. The institutions to benefit by this money are the Pacific Union college at St. Helena, Cal.; Lodi academy at Lodi, Cal., and San Fernando academy at San Fernando, Cal. About eight thousand dollars additional was given to apply on the Ellen G. White Memorial hospital, now being built in Los Angeles and for rural schools in the southern states. The St. Helena sanitarium, Glendale sanitarium and Paradise Valley sanitarium contributed $2251.05 to the sustentation fund for aged and indigent workers. The various tract societies, located at Los Angeles, Riverside, Fresno, Oakland, Lodi, Phoenix, Ariz., and Grand Junction, Colo., contributed $638.46 to this fund.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

A notice in a Los Angeles paper states that the Eagle Rock-Glendale High School recently held an exhibit in the Woman's club. Why not the Tejuanga-Glendale High School or the La Canada-Glendale High School? Probably that little piece of news came from an Eagle Rock source.

Mr. Howe sprang an unusual surprise yesterday. No one has as yet been reported physically injured by the shock, but it might easily have occurred. Mr. Howe assigned no lesson in American history. It is sincerely hoped that softening of the heart is not injurious from the standpoint of health.

Of course, Mr. Howe had some provocation for this unusual procedure. The Seniors will be expected soon to have a report ready which will take fifteen minutes to read. Now it takes some writing to accomplish this little stunt. Mr. Howe expects that his Senior history students will devote their time to completing their reports. There was an unusually large attendance at the movies last night.

FACTS AND FANCIES ON THE ALUMNI SHOW

By Owen Rhodes
We are doing it again! It was "Polly of the Circus" in 1915, last year brought the "Voice of Conscience," while the newest and latest year presents a variety of things all in a bunch. Vaudeville, you know, is one of those foreign words which is pronounced "variety." And there is plenty of it. We do not claim that the show we are giving on Thursday evening is the very best ever—we intend to give that one next year—but it is the very best that ever came to Glendale.

Moving pictures, all reasonable honor to them, are just one dumb thing after another. The feature of our show is noise—harmonious, tuneful noises; lip-curling, mirth-making noises in the way of brilliant repartee; noises that will bring a lump into the throat and a tear to the eye, perhaps. But there are not many of these—just enough to prove how hard it is to ladle up the froth of existence without gathering in somewhat of multi-colored life which lies close beneath the surface. Wherefore, as a result of the lading we may use the term variety.

A word to the skeptics who failed to attend the former productions of the association because they considered them to be merely ebullitions of immature children: Over half of the artists appearing on our program would be, and have been, drawing cards at the best vaudeville houses in the country, and all this for the price of your fare to Los Angeles and back.

First on the bill we are presenting one reel of pictures, just to keep in mind that the Palace Grand is normally a movie house. Julius Kranz will follow with several of his own selections on the violin. From the manner in which he handles his instrument one would scarcely think that there was a time when Mr. Kranz did not even contemplate becoming a master violinist.

Mr. Joe V. Griffin presents a pro-act act of rare dramatic value. Mr. Griffin claims to be an amateur, but assuredly he is not a novice. Miss Margaret McKee, queen of whistlers, is an entertainer royal, and no pun intended. Her reputation, nation-wide in scope, cannot be added to or detracted from by anything I might say here.

The Harmony Four, composed of the following five: John Stauffer, J. C. Padelford, Jack Wagner, Norman Otis and Herbert Henning at the piano, will render the latest in popular songs. I know very little of these young men personally. They may be the worst scapegraces in town, but I have heard them sing and for that would forgive them all misdeeds.

Mrs. Pearl S. Keller, once a feature on "big time," and now a teacher of dancing and dramatic art, will introduce a series of the latest ball room dances, in which she will be assisted by Mr. V. Salmacia and her pupil, Mr. John Dewar.

Then there will be a one-act play called "Paying the Piper." Prominent in the cast are Miss Gladys Justema, Miss Gladys Anderson and Dwight W. Stephenson. As the play has never before been presented I can say little as to its merit. Furthermore, an inherent modesty and a firm belief in the rule of safety first forbid me mentioning the name of the author.

AMBULANCE SOCIETY WORK

The regular meeting of the Glendale Branch of the British Ambulance Society was held Monday in St. Mark's Guild hall. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Bell being hostess for the afternoon. Several interesting letters to the society were read from soldiers at the front acknowledging receipt of the hampers sent at Christmas and expressing deep gratitude and appreciation.

Important announcements were made regarding the Carnival of Nations to be held at the Shrine auditorium February 16 and 17. Great plans are on foot to make the affair immense and brilliant. One of Los Angeles' prominent women will be queen of the carnival and other well known people will lend their aid. The French section will make their plans known next week. Mrs. Willoughby Rodman will have charge of the Belgian section which will represent the characters in Maeterlinck's Bluebird in costume. The Long Beach branch will present a gorgeous production of Cinderella.

The McKinley Boys' school will take part and will occupy a large shoe. Colonial dames will serve tea; Red Riding Hood will be there and Little Bo-Peep also. The Overseas club will represent Robin Hood and his merry men. The Glendale branch has been asked to take charge of the representation of St. George and the Dragon. They will be assisted by the Sons of St. George who will march in uniform. There will be an effort made to secure the Chinese dragon for this part of the entertainment. The Glendale branch will have a booth for children, a fish-pond, etc. The help of every one interested in this cause is urgently desired.

The next meeting of the Glendale branch will be held next Monday, January 22, at Guild hall at 2 o'clock. Mrs. George Bannock will be the hostess. Those wishing to assist in this good work may receive further information by phoning Miss Whitaker, Glendale 586-J or Mrs. Hugh Blue, Home phone 2672.

GEN. JOHN C. FREMONT

(By Samuel Parker)
Recent events, recorded in the Southland, of much historic interest brings afresh to the front the name of General John C. Fremont, a name destined to be associated in American history as long as history shall have any value for the American people.

Here, within the zone of his most important operations in securing vast territory over which Old Glory proudly floats we are apt to forget that broader area in which he figured as the first candidate of the Republican national party—a party formed for the sole and only purpose of preventing the extension of human slavery. "Over every foot of American soil," as was the declared intent which was met by the declaration "We have no disposition to interfere with slavery where it is, but by the Eternal it shall go no further" of the Fremont formative period that so soon led up to Lincoln 1856 to 1860.

Just how Fremont became the nominee of the Republican party in 1856 will never be known. It took longer to get to the front in those days, but when a man "caught on" he held his grip more easily than today when big men are so plenty. He evidently had a streak of the Roosevelt-Phil Sheridan make-up in his composition, and dash and daring led him into romantic marriage with the brilliant Jessie Benton, whose father was member and leader for 30 years in the United States senate. The husband of Senator Benton's daughter did not lack social standing at Washington, though little sought by him and little cared for by "Jessie," who cared much more for the open free frontier life of her husband than for society. In this respect they were boon companions as well as lovers married. A dashing young army officer thus surrounded was on the tidal wave to anything he wanted. In the opening of the campaign in 1856 there was no wild rush for the nomination at the hands of the new party. If any names were put out as "feelers" they were pulled back without raising a yell of approval. When precisely this happened.

In the city of LaSalle, Illinois, two brothers by the name of Linton started a paper called the "Daily Union City," advocating the merging of Peru and La Salle, separate cities, into one city and situated at the head of navigation on the Illinois river and railroads, spider webbing the state, put Chicago in the second hand column and build the big city of the west right there. All this on the side to get to say that in this little daily paper appeared one morning in flaming headlines "For president as nominee of the Republican party, John C. Fremont."

This was backed up by an able editorial urging the wisdom of such action. I think I may safely declare positively that in this way the very first word was uttered to this end.

It took on all the seeming characteristics of a prairie fire and an astonishing feature of the case, no body filed an objection. The young men of the country took it up and that settled it for the nomination.

Clubs were formed everywhere and I hold yet in my possession a somewhat elaborate silk badge, much faded now, but on which the features of Fremont are plainly visible. This and "Young Men's Republican clubs" I hold as a creditable record. Fremont, though beaten by Buchanan in 1856, made a wonderful run, perhaps no other at that date could have equaled it, but it took the weaknesses of the Buchanan administration to furnish the last straw to culminate in events of 1860.

Few men in this country so full of good men have excelled Gen. Fremont in useful service. As a civilian he was acute, active and broad-visioned, proof of this the coast abundantly furnishes. In the fierce contest of the Civil war no one had clearer insight than he as to the sore spot and how to cut it out. When he freed the slaves in his own military district (and was called down by Lincoln) he knew as did Lincoln that slavery would end that way, but the "people were not ready yet," Lincoln said. But Fremont "blazed the way." All honor to his name.

NO FUSSY HOUSEKEEPER

"Ah see yo' is housecleanin'," said Mrs. Snow White.
"Yes," replied Mrs. Marsh Green, "dey is nothin' lak movin' things 'round once in awhile. Why, I ces comes ercross a pair ob slippers under de bed dat Ah hadn't seen foh five yehs."—Dallas News.

An Arkansas man who intended to take up a homestead claim in a neighboring state sought information in the matter from a friend.

"I don't remember the exact wording of the law," said the latter, "but I can give ye the meamin' of it all right. It's like this: The government of the United States is willin' to bet one hundred and sixty acres of land against fourteen dollars that ye can't live on it five years without starvin' to death."—Argonaut.

If we cannot strew life's path with flowers, we can at least strew it with smiles.—Selected.

er than the vast armies of earth, and tonight we see these kingdoms still at swords' points with no tendency to cleave one to the other.

"Now comes the announcement from Jehovah that it will be in the day of these kings that the God of heaven will set up his kingdom.
God has decreed that the next great universal kingdom of earth shall be Christ's kingdom. Then will be fulfilled Christ's statement in the sermon on the mount, 'Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth.' How useless it would be for Germany to attempt to establish a universal kingdom. How foolish it would appear in the sight of heaven for England to attempt to weld these great nations into a fifth universal empire when God has declared that they shall not cleave one to another, but that they shall remain in this divided condition until He shall dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.
The solemn question of the hour for each one of us to consider is whether or not we are preparing to be subjects of that great kingdom which shall never be destroyed. God is choosing his subjects out of every nation, kindred, tongue and people.
Let us acquaint ourselves with the coming kingdom."

nied.

On motion it was ordered that the Co. asking that the company build a boulevard crossing.

the sight of God, the Holy Spirit is sent to pull him out of this death trap.

I want to put on some witnesses to prove if we are right they are wrong. I am arguing for Jesus Christ for he is our Rock and He is different from their rock as they themselves shall prove. The first witness is an atheist. He stands on nature as his God. He looks about him, seeing the design but not the designer. He can see the designer in the works of man but not in the works of God. He can surely say my rock is not your Rock.

The next witness is an infidel.
There are plenty of infidels in the church and out of it, for he is the man who denies the inspiration of the Bible. He makes the Pentateuch a collection of myths and legends, makes so many Isaiahs that no one can tell which one wrote the book of Isaiah, makes Joseph the physical father of Jesus Christ and makes God a liar in general. His rock is not our Rock.

The next witness is the pantheist.
He finds God everywhere, in the wall, the table, the rug, everywhere. He says "I am God, you might not know it but I am." His rock is not our Rock.

The next witness is the spiritualist. He says all is spirit; no resurrection of the body, no place of abode for resurrected bodies, full communication with the departed dead if you have the price. His rock is not our Rock.

These meetings will be continued throughout this week. All are invited to come out to hear the old gospel message.

Tonight at 7:30 a special message to the unsaved. Tomorrow night to those held captive by any habit.
Come and hear the proclamation of freedom by the power of Jesus Christ.

CALLS

The call is an inquisitive move made by poker players and society women when they want to see what the other fellow's got. In either case it is fatal if the other fellow has nothing. The call is of infinite variety and many kinds. There is, for instance, the call: Of the Wild, of the unutterable bore, of the loan you can't pay, of the neighborhood tomcats at midnight, of the bill collector, of the boss when you're late. "Call" is the preacher's way of describing an offer of a better job at more pay. But that's no call. That's a raise.

TO STRENGTHEN RUSSO-JAP ALLIANCE

(By United Press) TOKIO, Jan. 17.—(By mail).—Chosen with the idea that he will further the cause of friendship between Japan and Russia and strengthen the alliance recently concluded between the two erstwhile enemies, Viscount Yasuya Uchida, ambassador to the United States in 1909-11, has been appointed as the new Japanese envoy to Russia.

Viscount Uchida fills the post made vacant when Viscount Motono was recalled to accept the position of foreign minister in the new Teruchi ministry. Besides his term in Washington he has acted as Ambassador to Vienna, Minister to China and was Foreign Minister in 1911. He is considered one of the most able diplomats in Japan.

Politicians take the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese pact last spring as the beginning of a long term of friendly political and commercial relations between the two countries. But it is generally believed that only a beginning has been made. There is a generally accepted belief that Russia requested Japan to wait until the close of the war for signature of additional clauses of the new convention.

Viscount Montono is given the credit for laying the foundation of the alliance with Russia. His service as foreign minister is expected to be marked with pro-Russian tendencies. Upon Viscount Uchida, however, is placed the responsibility of promoting relations in Petrograd, so that after the war, as well as the present, the two nations will be best aligned for the interests of the far east.

"ARIZONA CHARLEY" QUILTS JOB

(By United Press) EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 17.—They have taken "Arizona Charley" away. No more will the light-hearted trans-continental tourist catch a glimpse of the bent, grizzled old man trudging along the lonely tracks on the desert as they flash by. He was one of the best known characters of the Southwest.

Twenty years ago "Arizona Charley" was an engineer on the Southern Pacific. One day at the end of his run he got word that his bride of a few months had been killed in a train wreck. A broken rail had caused the wreck. He resigned and began walking the tracks over the five hundred mile stretch of desert between Yuma and El Paso, looking for broken rails. With a blanket and a frying pan slung over his shoulder he has tramped his beat winter and summer for twenty years, reporting defects in the track to the nearest section house. He has never ridden on a train since his wife was killed.

Nearly every tourist over the southwestern route has seen "Arizona Charley." Conductors and Pullman porters always pointed him out as the train sped past leaving him a speck in the desert.

Of late years the old man has become feeble and now the Cochise county court has adjudged him insane and committed him to the state asylum.

HISTORY

The real history of the human race is the history of tendencies which are perceived by the mind and not of events which are discovered by the senses.—Buckle.

Historical facts should not be a burden to the memory, but an illumination of the soul.—Lord Acton.

History ought surely in some degree, if it is worth anything, to anticipate the lessons of time. We shall all no doubt be wiser after the event, we study history that we may be wise before the event.—Seeley.

HOW MORTGAGES ARE GRADUALLY RETIRED UNDER THE FARM LOAN ACT

(Written for the United Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—One of the features of the Federal Farm Loan Act which makes a strong appeal to farmers is that it compels them gradually to retire their indebtedness through a long or short period of years.

This process is called amortization. Under it the interest and principal are paid off in equal annual or semi-annual installments throughout the period of the loan so that at the end of the term of the mortgage the borrower is out of debt.

All loans under the Farm Loan Act are made under the amortization or installment plan. Since the borrower begins paying all his debt the first year after he gets it, and because a long time loan is best suited to farmers, borrowers under this act are permitted to execute mortgages to run from five to forty years at their option.

Permission is given to pay all of the loan or any part of it on any interest paying date after the mortgage has run five years. Borrowers are not permitted to pay off within the first five years, because the money which they have borrowed has been procured by the bank through the sale of its bonds and bonds cannot be sold for a shorter period than five years.

The use of borrowed money is limited to the following purposes: To purchase land or additional land, to pay off existing indebtedness; to purchase live stock or to make any productive improvements such as clearing fences, drainage, buildings and machinery.

The object of amortization is to enable a farmer to turn a mortgage into an investment. When he can borrow at a less rate than it yields him he is able to pay off his indebtedness out of the profits of his investment. A long time loan enables him to use his money judiciously so that it will contribute to increased value of his land and its increased producing power.

Heretofore farmers have not been able to borrow for long periods. This discouraged investment in live stock and for many other purposes because the returns are slow. Short term loans made a speculator out of a farmer.

So the Farm Loan Act in addition to providing a way for the farmer to borrow to the limit of safety induces him to put his borrowed money to productive uses and provides a way for him to get out of debt from the profits of the investment.

Thus the Farm Loan Act places within the reach of the farmer the means to help himself and stimulates his business initiative. The long time loan with its small annual payments puts a quietus on the terror of mortgage foreclosure.

BERKSHIRE HOG BREEDERS

An important gathering of breeders of swine will be held at the University of California farm at Davis on February 13, 14 and 15, 1917, as the Western Berkshire Congress. Tuesday, February 13, there will be a judging of fine hogs, subsequently to be slaughtered in a carcass-judging competition, an inspection of the activities of the University Farm and a business meeting in the evening. Wednesday, February 14, there will be a students' judging contest of sale stock and a show of breeding stock, a swine-judging contest in which only women may compete, a carcass demonstration, a banquet and a "Berkshire Love Feast." On Thursday, February 15, there will be an exhibition of sale hogs, followed that afternoon by a public sale.

Believing that one way to help reduce the cost of living is to reduce the cost of production on the farm, the University of California has invited the farmers of California and all others interested to attend a "Farmers' Week" to be held at the University Farm at Davis on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 29 and 30, and Thursday, June 1, 1917. These three days and a half will be devoted to intensive agricultural study and farm demonstrations.

"Farmers' Week" will be so arranged that those attending may devote their whole time to a single subject or special field of farming work, or may turn their attention to several different problems. There will be four or five parallel courses in such subjects as livestock, field crops, deciduous fruits, dairying and poultry. Practical demonstrations of methods will be emphasized. Visitors will be given a chance actually to try for themselves the new methods recommended and discussed in the conferences. There will be no charge for enrollment in these courses.

DON'T SKIN PALM TREES

A nurseryman gives the following advice to the owners of palm trees: Do not cut away the outer surface of your palm trees so that the inner surface and white part are exposed. This only leaves a bark about an inch and a half thick, which, as the tree grows and under the summer heat, cracks open, allowing the winter rains to enter and cause rot. In a few years a great deal of bark rots away, leaving the body of the palm very unsightly.

TROPICO WATER SYSTEM

The Title Guarantee and Trust company of Los Angeles has filed with the Railroad Commission a petition for a rehearing on the commission's order of January 6 last in which the commission authorized the sale by the Title company to the Tropico City Water company for $64,000 of stocks and bonds of a water system in Tropico. The Title company originally asked the commission for authority to sell this system, which it obtained by foreclosure, to the Tropico company for $99,700 of stock and bonds.

In this rehearing petition today the Title company says that the $64,000 authorized would be inadequate, and the Title company notifies the commission that it refuses to accept the provisions of the commission's order. It says that the commission's engineers appraised the tangible properties covered by the original application of last February for this sale at more than $48,000, and that this included the price of iron and steel pipe, which since then has advanced 40 per cent in value, so that at the present time the physical property itself is worth $67,800. The Title company says that this proper valuation with water rights and realty will bring the actual value of the Tropico City Water company's system up to $112,000.

The commission in its recent order quoted a statement by the city attorney of Tropico to the effect that Tropico had been offered the property for $50,000.

The Title company points out that there would be receipts from this system of more than $7500 to pay interest upon bonds and stock, if the issue were made $99,700 as desired and that if the rates fixed by the commission are not adequate for this purpose they should be raised so as to pay six per cent on at least this amount.

The Title company says that if the commission will grant it a rehearing it will show an operating income of this size, and also that the water plant which it seeks to sell is worth more than $112,000.

THE NEAREST FRIEND

A man I know, and yet know not at all, Is one who ever stands at beck and call, Responsive always to my slightest whim,

No matter what the task I set for him, My friend he would be, yet most truly he

Of all my foes is my worst enemy—A riddle past all solving—loving, warm, Yet daily in some way he doeth harm.

Control him? I have tried with some success,

Yet often he eludes me, and distress Incalculable follows in his train, And leaves me face to face with bitter pain.

His thoughts I know, and yet within his soul He carries as it were a mystic scroll That, try how hard I may to penetrate

Its meaning clear I never can translate.

Why this good deed he does, or that of ill,

The deeds that dull all hope or happily thrill My heart and soul I cannot comprehend—

My enemy today; tomorrow friend! With joy and shame, alternately, through life

He's filled my days with happiness and strife;

My love and hatred form his worldly pelf,

This man I know yet know him not! Myself!

—John Kendrick's Banks in Omaha Bee.

PREPAREDNESS

While walking along the street an epileptic dropped in a fit and was quickly rushed to the hospital. Upon removing his coat one of the nurses found a piece of paper pinned to the lining on which was written: "This is to inform the house surgeon that this is just a case of plain fit—not appendicitis. My appendix has already been removed twice."

A CLOSE OBSERVER

Sarah, the little daughter of a clergyman, was asked if her papa ever preached the same sermon twice. After considering a moment she answered: "Yes, I think he does, but I think he hollers in different places."—Ex.

AN OPPOSITE EFFECT

"I see a well-known doctor declares that music has decided curative properties."

"Some music may have, but there's a whole lot of it that makes me sick."—Philadelphia Ledger.

An act will be presented to the legislature providing for the appropriation of money for the construction of a highway beginning at or near Oxnard in Ventura county and extending to a point near San Juan in Orange county. The measure has the backing of the boards of supervisors in the three counties interested and the Automobile club of California.

A FRIEND OR TWO There is much of pleasure and all of peace in a friend or two. And most of our troubles will find release in a friend or two; There's a tender trust in the clasping hand, Upon native soil or on alien land, For the world is made, can't you understand—of a friend or two. A little laughter, perhaps some tears with a friend or two In the days, the weeks, the months, the years, with this friend or two. There's a vale to cross—and a hill to climb, A scoff at age and a mock at time. Why—the prose of life takes the lilt of rhyme—with a friend or two. Let's fill the goblet and quaff this toast to a friend or two, Proud is the man who can honestly boast of a friend or two; The merriest race is a gentle pace—and heaven—well, 'Twill be a better place—with a friend or two.

NO TIME "My tailor has promised to have my suit done tomorrow." "Do you think he will give it to you on time?" "Oh, no; I'll have to pay cash."—Boston Transcript.
