ENGLISH APPRHENSION OF AN Urisase INVASION.

The London Tiers announces that the British Givernment has determined upon the establishment of an inland arsenal to be pissed under the charge of civilians.

The establishment of this arsenal is not in any way to supersede the great arsenal at Woolwich, but is intended as an additional security to the nation is case of an invasion.

The Tiers complains that the animosity now stablished in France against England is engendered by the Franch Government, and that the army of France is taught to look upon war with England as by no means a remote contingency.
