Office of Minority Health

The Office of Minority Health (OMH) was established in 1985 by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). It advises the Secretary and the Office of Public Health and Science on public health program activities affecting American Indians and Alaska Natives, Asian Americans, Blacks/African Americans, Hispanics/Latinos, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders.

The goal of OMH is to improve and protect the health of racial and ethnic minority populations through the development of health policies and programs that will address health disparities.

OMH advises HHS on health policy issues affecting health status and access to care among minority populations. It coordinates programs to help HHS implement minority initiatives, including the White House Initiative on Historically Black Colleges and Universities, the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for Hispanic Americans, the HHS Hispanic Agenda for Action, the White House Initiative on Tribal Colleges and Universities, the Executive Order on Increasing Participation of Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders in Federal Programs and the HHS Minority HIV/AIDS Initiative.

OMH works with HHS operating divisions and other federal departments to improve collection and analysis of data on the health of racial and ethnic minority populations. It monitors efforts to achieve Healthy People 2010 goals for minority health.

OMH conducts the Closing the Health Gap campaign to stimulate awareness of critical health issues and deliver the best HHS health information to racial and ethnic minority communities.

During 2004, OMH, along with ABC Radio Networks produced broadcast messages and local events. The campaign's signature event, "Take a Loved One to the Doctor Day," which helps and encourages people to visit a doctor or other health care professional, drew support from 550 community, faith-based, fraternal and health organizations across the United States in 2004.

OMH also sponsored Celebra La Vida Con Salud, an educational campaign bringing broadcast health messages to Hispanic listeners and health fairs to 10 Hispanic markets.

OMH organizes demonstration projects through joint agreements with the operating divisions of HHS, funds grants for health projects at minority community organizations and coalitions, and funds cooperative agreements with major national minority organizations.

OMH maintains minority health consultants in each of the 10 HHS Regional Offices, and helps build a network of consumers and professionals working on minority health issues. OMH works with established state offices of minority health, and provides technical assistance, as requested, to minority community groups who are working to establish similar entities within their states.

OMH operates the Office of Minority Health Resource Center, which was established to improve analysis of issues and exchange of minority health information among professionals and consumers.

Office of Minority Health Resource Center

The Office of Minority Health Resource Center (OMHRC) was established in 1987 by the Office of Minority Health, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. OMHRC serves as a national resource and referral service on minority health.

The center collects and distributes information on a variety of topics that include cancer, cardiovascular disease and stroke, diabetes, homicide, suicide, unintentional injuries, HIV/AIDS, infant mortality, substance abuse and a host of others.

With the expansion of OMHRC's services, specifically in the area of technical assistance, the center has a dedicated team that works with community- and faith-based organizations (CBOs/FBOs) to improve the organization's capacity to deliver services to communities of color.

Specifically, OMHRC staff can perform customized funding searches, disseminate targeted materials and current data on a variety of health conditions affecting racial and ethnic minorities, provide technical assistance in the areas of board development, fiscal management, needs assessment, grant-writing, evaluation and overall capacity building so that CBOs/FBOs can better serve their constituency

OMHRC also manages the Resource Persons Network—a group of professionals who volunteer their services in support of the OMHRC mission. This group of volunteers is a critical component of the OMHRC outreach effort to provide technical and capacity-building assistance to organizations and institutions serving minority populations.

The center encourages the public to join its mailing list to receive free copies of the “Closing the Gap” and “HIV Impact” newsletters published by the Office of Minority Health. OMHRC also makes available information on minority health directories, journals, magazines, reports, articles, brochures and videotapes.

All OMHRC services are free, and can be obtained by calling toll-free 1-800-444-6472.

Information specialists are available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Eastern Time, Monday through Friday, to assist callers in English and Spanish.
