EXPECT LARGE CROPS

THE CALIFORNIA DEVELOPMENT BOARD IN MONTHLY BULLETIN OPTIMISTIC

January, 1915, was a month of nearly normal temperature in all sections. There were no periods of either marked warm or cold weather and no damaging frosts. There was more than the usual amount of rain in all portions of the state, and at the close of the month the seasonal amounts were but slightly below the normal. The rain was well distributed both as to duration and amount and in consequence the soil is well soaked. Plowing has been delayed in most sections on account of the wet ground. There is a large amount of well-packed snow in the mountains, which would indicate an ample supply of water for irrigation and power purposes next summer. From present indications there is every reason to expect large crops this season. The distribution of rain thus far has permitted the seeding of a large area in grain. From present indications there is prospect of a large hay crop.

The acreage planted to beans in Sutter county is being greatly increased this season. A number of San Francisco capitalists have leased a ranch of over 1100 acres which will be planted entirely to beans. Other large tracts near Live Oak and Meridian will also be set out to beans.

In the Wasco district, Kern county, 2000 acres will be planted to rice. This tract, it is said, will be the largest plantation of its kind in California.

Advices come from Calexico that there are 67,000 acres of cotton planted this year, and the indications are that 100,000 acres on both sides of the Mexican line will be planted to cotton during 1915.

A large acreage has been cleared in the northern section of San Luis Obispo county preparatory to planting almonds, Bartlett pears and other fruits.

The production of crude oil in California for 1914 is placed at 103,623,695 barrels, as against 97,867,148 barrels in 1913.

Two "generations" of cotton produced on the same soil, one bale having been grown from the seed of the first one ginned in the year, is the record of the Ivey ranch near Calexico. This ranch produced the first bale to be ginned in the United States on June 17, 1914. Taking the seed from the record bale, they planted it on the same acre and on October 15, 1914, had the second bale ginned. The two record bales are on exhibit in Calexico. Previously the earliest bale ginned in the United States was that grown near Brownville, Texas, on June 20, 1912.

The San Fernando valley reports the location of a packinghouse and cannery which will insure both fruit and vegetable growers against loss of their surplus produce.

A corporation has been formed in Lordsburg to manufacture culls and low-grade shipments of lemons into lemon oil and citrate of lime. At present the United States imports annually about $1,500,000 worth of these two products from Italy.

Redwood City reports a new plant for the manufacture of magnesia. It is stated that $100,000 has been expended in machinery and buildings.

Sacramento reports the erection of the Phillips rice mill. This is said to be the largest plant of its character west of the Mississippi river. The daily capacity is to aggregate 3000 bags of finished rice, in addition to forty tons of by-products.

The tuna fish pack for last year reached 300,000 cases, which is more than double the pack of 1913.

In 1914 the yield per acre in California rice fields was 53.3 bushels, according to the United States department of agriculture. The yield per acre of California's nearest competitor was 39.8 bushels. California is given fourth rank in the production of rice in the United States.

The total assessed value of all property in California for 1914 was $3,232,646,152, as against $3,114,136,640 in 1913.

During the year 1914 the California highway commission let 153 contracts for approximately 1200 miles of road at a cost of between ten and eleven million dollars. In addition to this, the counties have done a great amount of road building and road improving.

Fifty Russian families have located at Ravendale, in Lassen county, twelve having come within the last few weeks.

The fifth national orange show will be held in San Bernardino on February 17-24. The show will occupy about five acres of ground and has for its object the upbuilding and promotion of the citrus fruit industry. Practically every citrus section of the state will exhibit.

CAR OR JITNEY, WHICH

PASSENGER WON'T PAY TEN CENTS FOR A RIDE HE CAN GET FOR ONLY FIVE

Editor News: The urban transportation question may have a serious side—it surely has its humorous side in the discussion up to date, which is "seen without glasses," in reading reports of meetings and advertising quotations from leading business men, the tenor of which is that the innocent jitney bus has made a raid on the streets of the city, dragging innocent passengers into their conveyances and whirling them long distances at five cents per, while the inalienable right to haul that passenger belongs to the street car company, even though it poke along in congestion three blocks per hour, meantime, the bus made three trips each of three miles in length.

"The divine right of kings to rule" must obtain. "The king can do no wrong" must be maintained. The street car was here first; it obtained vested rights, the right to carry and charge (especially to charge) belongs to us—that jitney bus is a pirate, likewise a robber—every five cent fare it gets belongs to us; something must be done to stop the robbery or we will be bankrupt; our reduced receipts have compelled a reduction of our operating forces all along the line.

The case is desperate and fast becoming more so. Brethren, dry your tears and proceed to take up a collection.

Now, this has been the trend and tenor of this discussion, up to date, and anyone inclined to read "between the lines" will not be slow in discovering that lines are fast forming. With a class of officials, bondholders, speculators, high-flyers on one hand, and the people on the other.

Now, you may shed tears enough over the decline of patronage to the poverty-stricken street car lines to float a navy, but you cannot create sympathy in any passenger that will induce him to pay ten cents for a ride that he can get otherwise for five cents.

The cheap article governs trade the world over. The jitney bus is here to stay. Regulate it? Yes. But your regulations must be uniform and reasonable. Meantime, ye who are in tearful mood, shed the briny for those unfortunate suburbanites who circle the "future great" city, but are compelled yet to pay double the price for fare for similar distances of any other first-class city in the country. RIP RAP.

WEATHER REPORT

It seemed clear enough this morning, but as the day progresses the clouds are gathering and we will doubtless have our usual evening showers tonight. The rainfall since yesterday morning has been only .54 of an inch, but it brings the total for this storm, beginning early Tuesday morning, up to 2.96 inches, and a total of 14.90 for the season to date.

Following is a tabulated report of the rainfall for this season in Glendale:

Table with 2 columns: Date and Rainfall (inches). Rows include dates from October 3 to February 2, and a total to date of 14.90.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

The executive committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce announces that the next monthly meeting of the chamber will be held Friday evening, Feb. 19, instead of on Friday evening of this week. Important reports will be completed in time to be presented at the postponed meeting. The regular meeting of the chamber will hereafter be held in the auditorium of the city fire house, 915 West Broadway.

Members are asked to bear in mind the change. and formal opening of direct telephone service across the continent. The first conversation was held between Mayor Rolph of San Francisco and Mayor Mitchell of New York.

YOUNG ARE INTERESTED

SERIES OF SUNDAY MORNING PRAYER MEETINGS ARRANGED BY THE YOUNG PEOPLE

(By Publicity Committee) One of the happy omens of spiritual interest springing up as the Brown and Curry meetings draw near is the strong interest among the young people, which has taken the form of an early Sunday morning prayer meeting, 8 o'clock the exact time, to be led by leaders among the young people of the nine churches co-operating with outside help as the need may suggest. Miss Mabel Gale, prominent in young people's work in this state, will be first to take charge and the service is announced for Sunday morning promptly at 8 o'clock at the local Baptist church; subject, "Others." The scripture lesson will be found in Matt. 22:36-40; John 21:15, 17. It is suggested that all presidents of young people's societies be on the platform at each service.

Those who have been privileged to attend early morning prayer meetings at such a place as Northfield, where D. L. Moody and others led, appreciate the possibilities of these early sessions of communion with God.

The chorus is coming along nicely and next Sunday afternoon Mr. Curry will, we believe, have his heart gladdened at the number of singers ready to begin under his able leadership. Report at once to your member of the music committee.

The prayer meetings continue on Thursday and Friday. Watch the columns of the Evening News for any changes in the time for these important gatherings. The place nearest to your residence is where you are expected to join the prayer circle. Rev. Willisford has charge of this work and he is ready to consult with all interested.

The call has gone forth to pray without ceasing. Man may do his best and every contingency be provided for, but the fire must fall from heaven if the sacrifice is ever to be divinely ignited. While it is everlastingly true that faith without works is dead, it is conversely true that work without faith is a corpse.

SURPRISE SHOWER

Mrs. Murray Murchison of 1433 Seventh street was the victim of a happy surprise perpetrated by Mrs. Bob Antibus Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Antibus with six accomplices invaded Mrs. Murchison's home, much to that lady's astonishment and delight, and took full possession. A very happy social time was enjoyed and a pleasant feature of the afternoon was the shower of dainty articles that descended upon the honored one.

The following ladies helped to make this occasion a pleasant one: Mesdames George C. Cooper, M. W. Morris, A. T. McDonnell, H. M. Leek, Leslie and Moellendorf.

TENNIS CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. V. E. Skiles and Mrs. E. A. Bayley entertained the Rainbow Tennis club at a luncheon Wednesday. A miniature tennis court was laid out in the center of the table, with miniature raquets and tennis balls for place cards.

The following ladies enjoyed the lunch and the games of tennis afterward: Mesdames H. W. Yarrick, V. E. Skiles, Blake Franklin, F. Frazier, Edgar Kinser, Eugene Murman, E. A. Bayley, A. W. Alvord, H. H. Farries and Miss Cecelia Wilson.

RUSSELL PURCHASES BRANCH AT BRAND AND SECOND

Russell's Purity Bakery has purchased their branch from Mrs. Best at the corner of Second and Brand boulevard and this retail store will again be under the personal supervision of Mr. Russell. The Russell bakery is one of the fastest growing local business concerns. In addition to the main bakery and salesroom at 442 West Broadway, they also have branch stores at 914 West Broadway, corner Brand boulevard and Second street, and are having a building erected at the corner of Fifth and Brand, where their fourth store will be located.

BAD LIVER THE CAUSE

Correspondents to the Los Angeles papers have taken upon themselves to slur the Glendale auto races. Allow us to say to those croakers that the auto races in this city Wednesday, Feb. 3, were a marked success from the standpoint of being free from accidents, and giving the people a good entertainment.

The Glendale races were conducted in an orderly manner and apparently everybody was pleased excepting two or three men whose livers are out of order, and these bad-livered people never see good in anything.

A NOBLE WORK

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE PLANNING TO BROADEN FIELD

The executive committee of the above society is planning for an extension of the work. Offices will be established in Los Angeles and it is expected that the movement will become world-wide. As the cruel war continues, the opportunities to help relieve the appalling suffering increase.

The noble ladies of the Sons and Daughters of the British Empire have been steadily working under the able leadership of Mrs. S. J. Lane, chairman of the relief committee. Fifty-three garments have been made out of one hundred yards of flannel goods donated by Mr. Arthur Letts of Los Angeles. Soon these well-made clothes will help keep warm some of the shivering women and children of afflicted Europe. Among those who have helped in the sewing at the Baptist parsonage, the following have been remarkably faithful: Mesdames Siple, Goodwin, Cole, Potter, Ward, Wright, Smith, Oliver and Miss Hawks.

Mr. John Cole, treasurer of the society, calls attention to the fact that a few of the pledges made to this worthy cause have not been redeemed. It is the desire of the executive committee to send another handsome check immediately to the Prince of Wales fund, which will be possible as soon as the delinquents pay up their pledges.

Watch the columns of the Evening News for the next important meeting of the Sons and Daughters of the British Empire.

A REEL LIVE CITY

UNIQUE MOTION PICTURE COMMUNITY NOW LOCATED IN THIS VALLEY

Did you know that out in the San Fernando valley, only about half a mile this side of Lankershim, there is a model motion picture city, where everything is as it should be, and where miles and miles of picture films are made? Well, there is just such a place, and it is known as Universal City. Here are a few of the facts concerning this wonderful little town, occupied at night only by cowboys in their barracks and by the wild animals, of which there is a large collection, but during the day the streets are filled with people, all busy and serious in their chosen work.

Four different companies of the great Universal consolidation form the units of the city, each company having its own director and working separately.

There is a stage half a mile long, constructed of concrete and able to accommodate many different scenes at once.

There is a thoroughly modern, perfectly equipped hospital to care for the sick or injured, for moving picture life is full of dangers and many people are hurt in making some of the "thrillers," which we so calmly witness on the screen.

There are two restaurants, equipped to feed the hungry as they come in from their work with appetites that must be satisfied.

There are also several bathing pools with numerous dressing rooms for the refreshment of the workers.

The menagerie is a huge affair, containing almost every known sort of animal, both wild and tame.

In the arsenal is also to be found many curious instruments and guns of almost every known make during the last fifty years.

This is the first company on the coast to be able to take pictures at night, and this they are able to do by the aid of fifteen 3600 candlepower blue lights.

There are a few cottages surrounding the city, which are occupied by some of the actors, but the majority of them live in surrounding cities and towns. Mr. Charles Giblyn, formerly of Glendale, is now director of one of the companies at Universal City.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A very pleasant birthday surprise party was that given Monday evening for Mr. Stanley Gorman of 709 North Central avenue by his parents. Games, music and dancing were the order of the evening and the delightful refreshments, including a birthday cake, candies and fruits, were fully enjoyed by the young people. Pink and white were the prevailing colors and were carried out in the flowers and refreshments. Among those present were the Misses Pauline Hamilton, Dorothy Hobbs, Mary Jane Evans Hough, Kathleen Gorman, and Messrs. Louis Coole, Chester Nichols, John Sturdevant and Stanley Gorman.

MUNICIPAL FRANKFURTERS

The municipal frankfurter is a native of Cleveland, Ohio, and of that city alone, as yet. It is the newest caper in municipal ownership, and bids fair to become popular. Always there has been a shade of dubiety cast over the privately purveyed frankfurter, and oftentimes a strong suspicion of the bar sinister in its ancestry, but reform has come at last. So the Richmond Times-Dispatch advises us, and comments as follows:

Cleveland, that city of Tom Johnson and three-cent carfares, where recently all good folk walked and gave their carfares to charity for one day, and where someone invented the advertisement for municipal managers—in short, that town where live things happen, even to passing Baltimore into sixth place in the census—has started a new one. Cleveland last season established municipal ice cream and peanut stands in the public parks, furnishing good ice cream and peanuts, full measure, at moderate cost.

This merry little competition with individual business enterprise thrived and now the city has added frankfurters, served hot, as is the pleasant custom, and with plenty of mustard. Wienerwurst in the municipal philanthropy! Let other cities meet and resolute and commission-govern themselves into efficiency and excellence, but give us Cleveland, with its whistling boiler and its skin capsules of pulverized hog—that is, we hope it is hog! Verily, Tom Johnson's town is some town!—Literary Digest.

Cole, who has been residing there with relatives during the absence of her daughter in New York.

Mrs. Edward M. Lynch and Mrs. W. C. Mabry represented the Tropic Thursday Afternoon club Monday at reciprocity day given by the Sierra Madre Woman's club in that beautiful foothill city.

IS GLENDALE READY

It is related that three thousand tourists came into Los Angeles from the East a few days ago. Trains with a combined length of two miles carried these people to beautiful California. Heavily loaded passenger trains are arriving in Los Angeles every day.

What is Glendale doing to inform these strangers that there is situated so close to Los Angeles the beautiful little city of Glendale, one of the most desirable residence places to be found anywhere?

An able representative of our city should be employed to meet the incoming trains before they arrive in Los Angeles and distribute literature setting forth the advantages of our own Glendale.

This city has an ideal location and it is due to ourselves and to strangers that we impart such information as may be of mutual benefit.

SURPRISE PARTY

Another pleasant surprise party of the week was that given by a number of friends for Mrs. A. E. Stoffel of 246 Verdugo road and her house guest, Miss Elizabeth Dixon of Monrovia. Music and cards were enjoyed throughout the evening and dainty refreshments were served, one of the features being an ice cream eating contest, but it has not been possible to learn who was the victor (or perhaps the victim) in this part of the program. Among those present were Warren Cowles, Beatrice Cowles, Mae Lawson, Clyde Garner, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawson, Elizabeth Dixon, Lawrence Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Stoffel, Edna Lawson and Roger Wright.

SIGN OF CONVALESCENCE

When one has been ill and is beginning to convalesce, the nurse and members of the family are on the qui vive to note signs of returning health and strength. This one notes the steadier, firmer breathing. That one finds the pulse about normal. Another takes cognizance of returning roses in the cheeks. While the Martha of the family is well aware that appetite is resuming its old-time vigor and voracity. They all know when one is convalescing, because there are tangible proofs of it, well says the Pasadena Star editorially.

It's the same with business and industry. Ever since the startling rupture in international relations in Europe last mid-summer the normal activities of this country have been suffering from nervous shock and partial paralysis. As in all ailments of this nature, recovery has been slow. But business and industry are recovering. Signs of convalescence are not lacking. The man of affairs goes about with firmer step and less drawn countenance—his confidence has returned. There is a springiness of step and a luster in the eye of business and industry, indicating restored nerve tone. There is color in the cheeks of industry, brought back by the re-lighted fires of hundreds of mills and factories. Commerce is swelling, the financial life blood is flowing more freely—the nation's monetary circulation is good; credit is healthful, people are buying and paying their bills—in a word, the distressing symptoms are disappearing from the general situation and the evidences of convalescence are to be found on every hand.

MAX FIGMAN IN "WHAT'S HIS NAME" AT PALACE GRAND THIS EVENING

Harvey, the beau of Blakeville, a soda clerk, is very popular with the girls. Harvey marries Nellie, the baker's daughter, against the wishes of Harvey's uncle, a crusty old bachelor who is the village photographer.

After three years of blissful married life, Nellie meets one of the chorus girls of a visiting show and through her joins the chorus.

When the show leaves for New York, Harvey and Phoebe, their little daughter, go with it. During the performance in New York Nellie makes a big hit and arouses the interest of Fairfax, a millionaire man-about-town. Nellie becomes the star of the play at a big salary.

At the manager's suggestion to keep her husband in the background she establishes Harvey and Phoebe in a house at Tarrytown and spends Sundays with them there.

Harvey becomes known as "What's His Name," the husband of Nellie Duluth. In a few years Nellie becomes the rage of New York and because of Fairfax she rarely comes to see Harvey and Phoebe.

Harvey meets Fairfax and becomes jealous of his attentions to Nellie and while leaving the theater after a short visit, he sees waiters bringing food and wine to her dressing room and returns later only to find Nellie, Fairfax and a great party of friends hilariously supping. Harvey flourishes a revolver and breaks up the party.

After Harvey returns home Fairfax calls on him and offers him a large sum of money to allow Nellie to secure a divorce. Harvey, enraged, strikes Fairfax, whereupon the latter brutally beats him.

The next day Nellie calls and tells Harvey that they are going to marry. They attempt to take Phoebe from him but fail. Nellie has the furniture removed and turns them out of their home and leaves for Reno, while Harvey and Phoebe start back to Blakeville afoot. After several weary months, they arrive there in tatters and are taken in by their uncle, who helps Harvey to a new start. At Blakeville he is welcomed by all his friends and takes his old job back.

Phoebe becomes dangerously ill and Harvey wires Nellie. She has been disillusioned by Fairfax and comes back at once, a repentant and wiser woman.

ADVERTISING DEFINED

The word "advertise" becomes common in the eyes of merchants and when it is used it does not suggest the significance embodied in the real meaning of the word. Instead of using the word "advertise," the Evening News would suggest to merchants that they should be alive, be wide awake, be up and coming—let people know that you are on the map—be a hustler.

The merchant who has the above qualifications will advertise, for he cannot possess the qualifications so named above if he does not advertise.

THE CRIMINAL IN LETTERS

Whether or not the newspapers tend to promote crime by retelling the acts of criminals is a question ever open. That some of them do offend in this field, however, is no question at all, for the offense is gross and palpable. Not content with a mere recital of facts these journals throw a glamour about the guilty prisoner until he or she is exalted to a plane of heroism. The result of creating a false conception of the crime under consideration is to impede the course of justice, if not entirely to defeat it. Doubtless it is owing to such pernicious practice that the conviction of a young and pretty woman, no matter what the evidence, is almost an impossibility. Much trouble and expense would be saved by letting the fair culprit go in advance of trial, and the dignity of the law would be less impaired by this plan.

Whatever the blame of the daily press, it is certain that a number of books and plays have been written about crime and criminals, and such a view taken of the characters and their acts as to incite imitation. Society may not with safety accept a Raffles as an inspiration, or choose a Wallingford as its model. Yet this is exactly what society is educated to do by certain gentlemen of letters. Magazines publish this stuff, and respectable playhouses present it. The authors never have been arrested as accessory to burglary or silent partners in the bunko business. Yet morally this is the treatment they have earned.

It would be fairer for critics of the press to turn their attention away from the ephemeral material to be found in the columns of the daily, and tell us what they think of the more persistent output of the magazine and the cheap novel.—Pasadena News.

A QUESTION

There are two sides to every story, even to the church bazaar story printed in Tuesday's issue of the Glendale Evening News.

Is it not just as bad for the pastor's family to eat ice cream left from a turkey banquet as for the sisters who have worked hard to prepare the banquet to have a few of the left-over turkey scraps for their lunch while at work washing dishes and cleaning up?

SISTER.

PLANT BREEDING

Differences in production may be due to environmental factors, or to hereditary differences in the plants. Plant improvement depends upon hereditary differences.

Performance records are indispensable to certain improvement. Comparative tests are necessary to secure reliable performance records. In comparative tests all sources of error must be eliminated or accounted for.

All principles of crop production must be reckoned with in testing plants. Selecting individual plants and testing their progeny separately is the shortest method by which improved varieties may be produced in crops propagated by seeds.

If vegetative propagation is practicable, selecting a superior individual may originate an improved variety.

Hybridization or cross-breeding is the most effective method of producing hereditary changes.

Hybridization is promiscuous, uncertain, unscientific, if uncontrolled; superior individuals are occasionally secured, however, by growing large numbers of hybrid seedlings.

The scientific hybridizer usually works with one or two characters at a time when crossing varieties of the same species.

Testing hybrids in plants propagated by seeds should be continued at least to the second generation.

First-generation hybrids between varieties or strains are usually more vigorous than either parent.

If superior first-generation hybrids can be propagated vegetatively, an improved variety has at once been established.

Mr. Alfred E. Landman of 1560 Myrtle street is in San Francisco attending the Cadillac convention. He expects to be gone several days.

Mrs. H. McGregor and little daughter from Huntington Beach were the guests last Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. M. Lee of 106 Cedar street.

The Queen Esthers of the First Baptist church will enjoy a Valentine party Saturday at the home of Miss Mary Hunt, 1201 Viola street.

Mrs. W. E. Wattles, Mrs. Edw. M. Lynch and Miss Dorothy Ward enjoyed seeing the play, "Daddy Longlegs," in Los Angeles on Wednesday of this week.

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church are holding an all-day meeting today in the church parlors. Luncheon was served at noon and a very busy day spent by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lusby of 111 Cedar street entertained as their dinner guests on Tuesday evening Mrs. H. B. Smith of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and Mr. Owen Emery.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd of 1444 Salem street are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cratmell and daughter Bernice of Joy, Ills., who arrived in Glendale last Friday and expect to spend some time here. Mrs. Boyd is a sister of Mrs. Cratmell.

Mrs. W. D. MacRae of Salem street will go to Claremont on Saturday to attend the Congregational club meeting. After a picnic luncheon a number of good speakers will be heard. Mrs. MacRae will remain for the week-end with friends in Claremont.

Mrs. T. J. Keleher of 228 North Louise street entertained a number of Los Angeles friends with a tea on Wednesday afternoon. Among them were Mrs. Blackwell and children, Mrs. Blackwell's mother, Mrs. Harmon of New York, also Mrs. Hale and Mrs. Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Giblyn, former residents of Glendale, with Mrs. Kendeberger and Miss Marie Bondy of 1023 Chestnut street, enjoyed a trip out through the valley the other day, visiting Universal City and learning much regarding that model motion picture town.

In spite of the hard rain, the Glendale Choral club had a pretty good rehearsal last evening. Just as they were singing "Moonlight," however, it began to rain so hard that the club thought they had better change their song to something more appropriate, so they sang a "dewdrop" song until after the shower.

Mrs. Alfred Priest of 1422 North Central avenue was a guest of Mrs. W. P. McArthur in Los Angeles one day this week.

Mr. T. J. Keleher of 228 North Louise street is in San Francisco on a business trip, which will be of a couple of weeks' duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson of 129 North Kenwood street entertained Wednesday evening with a 7 o'clock birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. O. S. Richardson's birthday. This was a surprise on the honoree, who knew nothing about the dinner beforehand, and was a very happy affair. Decorations were in pink and white, pink carnations being the flower used, while a great white birthday cake, garlanded with white roses and pink candles, occupied the place of honor on the table. The favors and place cards were also of the prevailing colors. After dinner music on the Victrola was enjoyed and a pleasant evening passed by all. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. C. B. Richardson, Mr. B. W. Richardson, Miss Emily Zeese, Miss Grace Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Richardson and the host and hostess.

EASTERNERS ARE COMING

Reports from railroad centers in the East and from middle western points indicate that the first of the real rush of tourists attracted here primarily by the two expositions have started towards California. The Rock Island company was compelled the other day to run its regular through train, via El Paso, in three sections to care for the traffic, trains of various roads out of Chicago are arranging new and additional service and schedules of railroad companies on this coast are being rearranged, that trains may make connections with those from the East.

The extreme winter weather of the past month, in particular, has augmented the desire on the part of many easterners to separate themselves from that part of the country and to look over what Southern California has to offer in the way of improved climatic conditions, hence it may be expected that many more visitors will come here this spring and summer than would be here were the present winter in the East as mild as sometimes such season happens to be. Those are what they term "freak winters," and many of the older and more observing residents back there refuse to be deceived by them, looking upon the unusually soft conditions of such a season much like they do upon a warm day in December, terming it a "weather-breeder."

Unless all signs and indications absolutely fail, there will be hosts of people from all of the other states of the Union coming to Southern California this year, and many of them coming prepared to make their homes here, if they are pleased. That they will be shown all of the advantages of the Southland, at least in many of the points at which they stop, is well assured, and every effort should be made in every city that has anything exceptional to offer to induce them to remain here. This country needs people—of the right kind—hundreds of thousands of people—since the great possibilities of this country have not yet been taken advantage of in the slightest comparative manner.—Santa Monica Outlook.

SOME JOB

Miss May Allison has been appointed by the Los Angeles supervisors as official "manager of lazy husbands." Miss Allison's duties will be to manage the husbands sentenced to the chain-gang for non-support, to supervise husbands on probation, to advise women whose husbands are not financing their homes and to handle the wages of the chain-gang husbands for the benefit of their wives. Miss Allison, then, having no husband of her own, will be assigned to the duty of managing the husbands of a large number of other women who have failed to manage them themselves. After a few years of this experience, Miss Allison should be so far qualified for matrimony that any prospective husband feeling that he needs a manager should have no hesitancy in determining which of the unmarried citizenesses of Los Angeles he should choose as the recipient of his proposal.

WITH THE "BIG BUGS"

Pasadena, Feb. 11.—The "Billionaire Special" to the opening of the Panama exposition, which Southern Pacific officials declare will be the finest train ever to have passed through California, will leave Pasadena with 125 guests from the Hotels Maryland and Huntington on Friday afternoon, February 19, at 5 o'clock, reaching San Francisco at 9:30 on Saturday morning.

They will be met at the station by President Moore of the Fair association, who will appoint a committee to see that the Pasadenaans who will practically open the fair, are provided with entertainment every moment of their stay.

The special will be a solid train of twelve cars, which will be fitted up like a fashionable hotel on wheels. One car will be arranged as a ball-room, in which the guests will dance to music furnished by a double orchestra from the two hotels. If a guest wishes a dress from the baggage-room, she will merely have to press a button and it will be brought to her in a jiffy.

The whole thing is the result of a suggestion of H. E. Thompson, with whom reservations are being made. Not one whom he has seen has refused to go, and every guest at the Huntington or the Maryland is most enthusiastic.

It will be personally conducted by D. M. Linnard, who will take along his own entertainers, bell boys, hair dressers, waiters, barbers, valets and maids.

While visiting in the northern city the guests will be domiciled at the Palace hotel, where 100 rooms with private baths have been engaged. They will be entertained at "Tate's" the night of their arrival, where specially reserved places will await them. They will witness the Vanderbilt cup races from special boxes arranged in front of the pit.

Many delightful surprises are in store for them during their stay as well as during the trip to and from the exposition city. They will return here Tuesday morning, February 23.

Among the 125 making the trip and whose combined wealth is said to be something near the billion dollar mark, are: Senator Nathan B. Scott and Mrs. Scott, G. C. Fiske, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Robins, Mrs. Eli T. Lilly, W. C. Neil, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gilcrest, Mrs. J. King Stewart, Miss Helen King Stewart, J. B. Alexander, Dr. A. M. Clark, Mrs. Florence Sanborn, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Farlow, George K. Birge, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ollwell, John de Zoldo, A. P. Worthington, Crawford May, Irving S. Metzler and T. B. Hammond, the last two of Los Angeles, and numerous others.

A DOG HERO

Lucky is the soldier, be he private or officer, who is mentioned in dispatches for conspicuous valor. Needless to say, it rarely happens that any other than a human being earns such honor; and yet not long ago a dog, Marquis, the regimental dispatch dog of the twenty-third French infantry, received honorable mention, having fallen while on duty at the battle of Sarrebourg on the Belgian frontier. Says the dispatch from Dunkirk, appearing in the New York Times:

At this action it became necessary for an officer to send a report immediately to his superior, but at the time the German fire was too intense to allow a man to cross the fire zone, and Marquis was charged with the mission.

Off he ran, across the fire-swept zone, and arrived nearly at the objective point when a German ball struck him in the right side and brought him down. He struggled to his feet, though losing a great deal of blood, and dragged himself up to the position where the officer was directing a section of machine guns. He let fall the order, reddened by his blood, and breathed his last.

His soldier comrades are raising a fund for a monument, on which is to be inscribed "Marquis—Killed on the Field of Honor."—Literary Digest.

KILLING BIRDS

One may understand the impulse to kill a bird that wears marketable feathers, and yet by no means approve. The no-less clearly defined impulse to kill anything that wears feathers of any sort is more baffling. Still, there are mortals who have it, and there is regret felt that such should be trusted with a gun. To certain temperaments the act of being alive seems on the part of a bird most presumptuous. There hardly is a bird that has escaped coming under the ban on some pretext.

They are slaughtered on the theory that they destroy grain and fruit, and the fact that they destroy vermin that would do far more damage is not permitted to weigh in their favor. Perhaps some time civilized mortals may reach a less sanguinary plane and be content to get their amusements without making fly the feathers of the innocent.

A gentleman who is a lover of birds and thus proves himself a lover of humanity, is arranging to import English thrushes and skylarks. He remembers the beauty of their songs as they fell upon his ears in youth and wants to hear them again. He is willing to divide his pleasure with the community. His belief is that these birds will find California a congenial habitat and will increase and multiply. Perhaps it would not be too much to ask of the gunmen of the forests and meads that they let these thrushes and larks alone.
