

YOUTH TELLS WHY HE TURNED THIEF

Love of Girl, His Father's Failure, and Confusion Blamed for Crime

OAKLAND, May 28.—Three things caused 22-year-old Robert J. Tasker, son of a wealthy Portland, Ore., family, to become Oakland's spectacular "coffee bandit," he said today in the city jail.

First was the beautiful young Miss Katherine Orr, his boyhood playmate and fiancée. Second was failure of his father in business with a loss of $2,500,000 and a desire to aid his father. Third was the strange confusion of economic philosophies absorbed in the undirected study when he sought to educate himself.

Tasker was overpowered when he attempted robbery of a dance hall cashier. He was armed with a broken and unloaded revolver. In three weeks here he robbed half a dozen cafes and gained the name of "coffee bandit" because he always drank coffee and ate pastry in the place he intended to rob.

Various plants in the South Sea Islands and islands of the Caribbean Sea, are used for soap substitutes.

Snowflakes are used by silk manufacturers extensively as patterns.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN COURT OF HONOR

Award Badges of Rank at City Hall Thursday Night Meeting

Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills council are to hold a court of honor Thursday night at the City Hall, where badges of rank will be awarded. The boys who are to be honored are to meet at the hall at 7 o'clock for a final test.

At 8 o'clock the court will open under the direction of Captain Wattles. Later a district committee meeting will be held, with Lyman Clark, chairman, presiding.

The Boy Scouts are to participate Friday in the Memorial Day parade. They are asked to meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in front of the Elks' clubhouse on East Colorado street.

matter so far as the absolute right of a nation to regulate who shall enter and who shall not enter territory, the United States itself has applied in international discussions that principle that a domestic question may have international aspects, and that no nation which respects the good will of another nation deliberately insists on the exercise of domestic rights when there is an alternative available which does not offend another nation.

Perhaps the most striking instance of this principle was in the recent negotiations between the United States and Mexico. The new Mexican constitution contained a provision which practically confiscated the property of foreigners. The sovereign right of Mexico to make her own constitution without interference from the outside was conceded, but the United States argued that, in the interests of amity, the literal rights of Mexico should not be insisted upon. Finally a treaty had to be negotiated, and it has since been ratified by both countries, whereby a commission adjusts the differences arising out of the application of Mexico's constitution.

Warn Drivers Not To Drape Flag on Autos In Parade

The N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps of Glendale, has sent out a request that those driving cars in the Memorial Day parade Friday, do not drape flags over the back, hood or top of the car, as in doing so they are breaking a California state law. If flags are used, they should fly from a perpendicular staff, it is pointed out.

the standards of advertising. He stressed the appropriateness of meeting here, when the state association is in session at Fresno.

Charles B. Alexander, advertising manager of the South Pasadena Record, outlined some of the advantages of round-table discussion, showing the light it sheds on local problems. Joe Marshall, chairman of the round-table department and educational committee of the Pasadena club, gave a clear idea of how advertising that appears in the local papers is dissected and its problems analyzed. Clark Bogardus, automobile advertising man of the Pasadena Star-News, talked briefly, and there followed short talks by A. C. Moore, former newspaper publisher of Wisconsin and Iowa, now a resident of Glendale; A. T. Cowan, publisher and proprietor of The Glendale Evening News; Robert H. Cowan, of The Glendale Evening News advertising department; T. W. Watson, of the Glendale Daily Press; and H. N. Fowler, founder and resident of Verdugo City.

COMMENT That's All

Holding The Stage Need Running Mate Klan Issue Strong Talking It Over

By Gil A. Cowan

President Calvin C. Coolidge and William Gibbs McAdoo are holding the stage for the present as the probable nominees of the Republican and Democratic parties at their national conventions.

Both claim sufficient delegates to insure their success, but there always is apt to be a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip.

For instance, there is every indication that the Republican platform will not be one of the president's making. His position already is nearly untenable, as far as his relations with Congress is concerned.

Also, it will be advisable, if not absolutely necessary, for the president to have a running mate selected from the more or less progressive radical group. That will not set well with the "down east" man, methinks.

Mr. McAdoo also has problems to meet at the convention. One is the Ku Klux Klan issue. The Kluxers are very strong in the Democratic ranks for some reason. Perhaps because they are both synonymous to the south.

Tammany Hall with its Irish leaders and Jewish voters are not going to permit anything unsavory in "that" convention in New York. And that's just about what the Democratic national convention amounts to.

If Mr. McAdoo knows how to get them to a banquet table on a Friday night to eat Virginia baked ham he will win hands down. That is his problem.

The Klan appears to be chameleoned coated in the matter of political alignment. Read what the Milwaukee Journal has to say editorially:

"Months ago it was reported that the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana was to be used in the interest of the Republican party. The other day that prediction came true when Klan members entered the Republican primary and nominated Edward Jackson, the Klan candidate for governor. Now we read that Walter Bossert, the Klan boss of Indianapolis, journeyed to Washington and was closeted with Senator Watson. Mr. Watson happens to be on the committee which is investigating the election of Senator Mayfield of Texas, who, it is charged, owes his place to Klan support. That, of course, may be merely a coincidence." The significant thing is that Bossert announces there will be no opposition from him to Watson's program in Indiana.

"The Indiana Republican plague now reaches all the way from Indianapolis to Atlanta, Ga., where ex-Governor McCray is to be quartered for the next ten years. Dishonor came to the state at the end of a long period of boss-ridden politics. The Klan was to be the knight in shining armor to clean out all the rottenness, so the good farmers who parted with their initiation fees were told. Now the Klan delivers to the bosses. Buncoed again."

Mr. Cole explains that the trip is of an educational nature with visits at what are called the "Shrines of Freedom." Floyd Mercer, associate pastor, will be in charge of the services at the Central Christian church during Rev. Cole's absence, and various Southern California ministers will fill the pulpit.

OFFICIALS OPEN HIGHWAY BRIDGE

State, County and City Men Dedicate New Structure Over Pacoima Wash

State, county and Los Angeles officials assembled with San Fernando and other city representatives of the valley at the new $45,000 bridge over the Pacoima wash on the Mulholland state highway, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, when elaborate dedicatory exercises were held.

California was represented by J. Edwards, a member of the state highway committee. Los Angeles county was represented by Henry W. Wright, county supervisor. Borke Workman, president of the City Council, and acting mayor of Los Angeles in the absence of Mayor George E. Cryer, represented the city.

Local Men Attend Glendale was represented at the gathering by Secretary Eugene F. Sanders of the Chamber of Commerce and L. H. Wilson and George B. Carr, directors of the organization.

Following the dedication, a banquet was served to the visitors in Memory Gardens, opposite the famous San Fernando mission. These gardens were dedicated to Los Angeles some time ago by C. Brand of Glendale, as a park, in memory of historic scenes enacted in the vicinity.

Better Highways There, under the shade of the beautiful old pepper trees, gay illumination transforming the scene to fairyland, a number of addresses were made, following the banquet. Among those to speak was Ralph Criswell, last year president of the Los Angeles City Council.

The keynote of all the talks was more bridges and better highways for California, the point being stressed that a civilization becomes great in proportion as it builds lines of communication.

CLAIM BURNS GOT FILES ON MEXICO

Revolutionary Data Taken From Bureau Office, Is Wheeler's Charge

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Charges that valuable confidential reports on alleged Mexican revolutionary activities were taken from the files of the department of justice by William J. Burns when he resigned as chief of the bureau of investigation, were made before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee today. Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, declared that committee attaches, after a thorough search of the files could not find the reports, made to the department in February, 1924, by special agents.

PICK FILM STAR AS BEAUTY TYPE

Helene Chadwick Selected as Ideal American Blonde By Art Students

By MARIAN MARSHALL For Southland News Service. HOLLYWOOD, May 28.—Helene Chadwick, popular movie star, has been selected from among the foremost beauties of the country as the ideal type of American blonde.

Students of the Gotham Art Institute in New York after considering the leading blonde beauties of the country including actresses, artist models, society women and winners of different beauty contests, voted Miss Chadwick the ideal type.

Artist's Model The verdict of the students is further substantiated by the fact that Miss Chadwick, prior to her movie career, posed for the leading artists in the United States, her face having been reproduced on the covers of several hundred magazines.

Recently a bronze bust of Miss Chadwick by John Roy Hiltstead attracted considerable interest at the exhibition of Painters and Sculptors of Southern California at the Museum of History, Science and Art in this city.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY PASSES THE CAKE

"Uncle Wiggily, I suppose you will be going adventuring again today, won't you?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning after the rabbit gentleman had eaten breakfast in his hollow stump bungalow.

Nurse Jane do for cakes for her company? "There are plenty more," said the bunny. "See—a whole box full!" And he showed them to the dog.

"Can you eat cake?"

"Why, no, I wasn't planning to go out today," answered Mr. Longears. "I thought I'd stay at home and work in the garden."

So Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy got ready to serve cakes and tea to her animal lady friends and Uncle Wiggily gave his pink nose an extra twinkle and started to hop over the fields and through the woods to look for an adventure.

"Can you eat cake?" I should say I could! barked the dog. "But where can I find cake, or even pie, or even bread and butter?"

"Well, he took it, anyhow!" laughed the bunny. And then he passed the good cakes to the animal ladies and they all said the tramp dog was very brave.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 27.—Four years at Yale have left firmly impressed upon the minds of a majority of men of the class of 1924 that athletics are above scholarship.

Members of the Protestant Episcopal Church led all other denominations, according to 1924 statistics. Yale, founded as a Congregational college, finds that denomination dropping from the list as the church members are counted up.

Only the graduating class will be able to use its own dormitory rooms when the reunion classes come back, perhaps 10,000 strong, in June and celebrate, in Yale's greatest annual event of pure graduate interest.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. C.—If you will take the neck exercises, bending the head backwards, sideways and forwards, rubbing the chin with a firm downward motion as you do the exercise, the muscles of the neck will round out and the double chin will disappear without leaving wrinkles—unless, of course, you are at an age where the skin is inelastic and will not contract.

This age at which the skin becomes inelastic varies with different people. Sometimes the elasticity is lost by the time one reaches 40 and sometimes not until long after. If your skin has reached the stage of inelasticity it is possible the exercises may bring back its tone, but I cannot promise you. You may have to choose between wrinkles and the double chin. Personally, I would rather have the wrinkles. Certainly you will be better physically in every other way by reducing.

Mrs. F.—If you go to a good dentist, he will advise the right kind of plates for your false teeth. Even one decayed tooth can cause a lot of trouble, and when they are all so decayed as yours were, especially with pyorrhea combined, you did the best thing to have them all out. You will probably find that a lot of your pains and aches will disappear.

"Dear Doctor"—Some time ago I wrote you asking for treatment on syriosis (skin trouble). I have tough the paper daily without finding a reply. I know several people who are troubled with this disease, and are waiting for your reply.—E. B.

You must not wait for a reply in the column when you have anything the matter with you, E. B., because it may be so long before the answer appears, even if the question is of general interest. I have written on psoriasis and that is the disease you meant, undoubtedly, for there is no disease "syriosis." So perhaps you missed the article by not knowing the correct spelling. However, as it is a rather common disease, I'll repeat.

Psoriasis is one of the most difficult of the skin diseases to cure permanently. Its cause is not fully known. Inheritance, infection, disturbances of the nervous system, disturbances of the internal secretory glands, etc.—all have been suspected. Dificulties disorders seem to aggravate or provoke the disease, and some of those who have psoriasis are rheumatic or gouty.

The patches of psoriasis appear mostly upon the covered parts, and daily exposure of the sun's rays is one of the measures advised for treatment.

If a subject of psoriasis is underweight, then the diet should be one which will cause a gain; and if the subject is overweight, one which would cause a reduction. In other words, normal weight should be striven for. Liberal amounts of fruits and vegetables—especially the green leaf vegetables—should be eaten daily, and careful attention paid to the bowels. The text books on skin diseases advise the elimination of all meat and fish, and sometimes eggs.

Many remedies have been used for local treatments of the patches. Jackson speaks of salicylic acid ointment, 5 to 20 per cent strength. Another authority, Crocker, advocates a solution made of one drachm of oil of turpentine in seven ounces of olive oil. The proportion of the turpentine is increased as the skin becomes accustomed to it. Skin specialists use the quartz vapor lamp rays.

If you will telephone the county medical society of your city, it will recommend some reliable skin specialist to you.

"Dear Doctor"—Just five weeks ago today I started on my diet and have lost 16 pounds and have taken off over two inches in the hips. I am feeling so much better than I did that I will continue. When I started to diet my weight was 210 pounds.—Mrs. E.

Three hundred and ten pounds! My word! You were certainly fat, weren't you? Keep us posted. We will watch with great interest. Won't you write me once a month and report your loss and other points of interest?

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. I appreciate your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and do not write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith.—We are not able in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to answer them in detail. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as it is possible. If they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Hints For Bride's Clothes

Handsome frocks and coats are essential to the proper fitting out of the June bride, and the season's newest style lend themselves to ravishing effects that add a greater attraction to the wardrobe of the girl embarking on matrimonial seas.

By MME. LISBETH

Having been a bride myself I know the attitude of "watchful waiting" one adopts when preparing the trousseau. One scans the fashion sheets with the eye of a gold seeker for at any moment one may run on to a nugget of value. One may not be a howling beauty and know it, but when one is a bride it is the time to put one's best foot (and other features) forward by giving them a becoming setting not only to these points for fear you may miss them in contemplation of the gorgeous roses of red kid skin that are applied on. These roses have a background of embroidered scrolls and leaves, the latter done in a lazy daisy stitch.

A charming frock is pictured in the center. It is fashioned of blue and black printed crepe. Panels of red and green embroidery are used for trimming, and the most bridey touch of all is the huge sash of double faced ribbon placed at the left side. The frock has a matching scarf edged with the ribbon. The girl who has a talent for embroidery is certainly lucky as this form of trimming was never so popular as today.

The brown satin coat (at the right) is another dressy garment which a bride could use. It has deep cuffs of tucking and a band of same near the bottom with further trimmings of Roman embroidery. A collar of soft fur finishes the neck. With it is worn a large picture hat of brown horsehair and lace with a single rose for trimming.

SHOES AND GLOVES

NEW YORK, May 28.—It is possible today to get shoes and gloves which exactly match. In a mode shade the gloves have frilly gauntlets with an open work pattern faced with white kid. The shoe, in mode suede, have a rosette of this open work combined with the white kid beneath a small buckle.

TULLE IS POPULAR

PARIS, May 28.—While the brightly colored scarf is no less in vogue today, many women are wearing a swath of plain or colored tulle around the throat, allowing the ends to trail. Black gowns with bright jade or American beauty tulle are effective, the tulle often forming the train.

BRIDE'S HOSE

NEW YORK, May 28.—Bridal stockings now are ornamented on the front from toe to knee, with a vine and flower pattern, embroidered heavily so that it stands out. Other bridal stockings are plain white silk, not very thin, but of beautiful quality.

ATHLETIC CORSET

NEW YORK, May 28.—A corset designed for the athletic woman, who is athletic chiefly because she wants to reduce is of pure rubber. It has bones only in front and in back and is notable for its lack of silk elastic and of anything except severe tailor-made ornamentation.

DUST CAP OR HAT

PARIS, May 28.—If you take a fold of cloth, bind it around your eyebrows, tie it back across your head and let the ends flap— you have an improvised dust cap. But if you take a wide piece of moire ribbon and do the same thing you have one of the new hats.

say that she enjoyed it or if she did not, she might thank him for asking her.

To Can Cherries: The difference between canning sweet and sour cherries lies in the density of the sirup used; for sour cherries use a medium-thin sirup, and for sweet cherries a thin sirup.

To Make a Medium-Thin Sirup: Combine one quart of water and three pounds of granulated sugar, heat to boiling point, then let continue to boil for four minutes. It should be slightly thick and when cooled, sticky to the touch.

To Make a Thin Sirup: Combine one quart of water and three pounds of granulated sugar, heat to boiling point and do not let boil more than a minute. It is necessary only to have the sugar thoroughly dissolved. This sirup should not be sticky.

Cold Pack Method: Wash the cherries in cold water and pit. Save whatever juice there is from the pitting process. Pack the fruit into hot, sterilized quart-size jars, add the saved juice, then fill the jars to within one-half inch of rim with boiling-hot sirup. Adjust rubbers and covers. Put top wire up, but do not press down side wires, and stand the jars on a rack or a folded cloth in the bottom of your wash-bowl in boiling-hot water which rises almost to jar-tops. After the water continues to boil, take account of time, letting it boil around the jars for 16 minutes. Remove jars, invert to test for leaks, label and store. (Note: Cherries may be canned in exactly the same way without pitting, but I believe that the extra trouble of pitting is well worth taking.)

Cherry Preserves: Stone and mash enough ripe cherries to give one cupful of cherry juice. Strain this from the crushed fruit and place it in a preserving kettle with three pounds of granulated sugar; let this sirup boil for four minutes, then add to it four pounds of pitted, whole cherries and let cook till the fruit is clear. Cool slightly, pack into hot, sterilized pint-size jars, adjust rubbers and covers, partially seal and sink the jars into boiling water which reaches almost to caps; let this water boil around them for 15 minutes. Remove jars, completely seal, cool, label and store.

Tomorrow—Canning a Man's Silk Necktie

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

ODELL TALKS AT C. C. FORUM MEET

Urges Support for School Bonds at Election to Be Held June 3

EAGLE ROCK, May 28.—The regular monthly open forum Chamber of Commerce meeting, held last night at the Eagle Rock school, was featured by an address from President Robert Odell of the Los Angeles board of education on the necessity of voting the school bonds at the election of June 3.

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Ritchey have returned to their home on Maywood avenue after a six months' trip around the world. Since their return from Europe the Ritcheys have been visiting in various parts of Texas. One of their most enjoyable visits was that made to Mr. Ritchey's old home in Gainesville. They also stopped in Denton and in Marietta, Oklahoma, where Mr. Ritchey's brother makes his home. Mr. Ritchey is a member of the firm of the Eagle Rock Hardware and Furniture company, and many friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Ritchey are glad to welcome them home again.

Visit to Scotland William and Mrs. Middlemass have left for their trip to Scotland. The congregation of the Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Middlemass is pastor, and many others with whom they have come in contact in their work for the community, will miss them during their absence of about one month.

O. J. Root, former president of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce and prominent member of the Kiwanis club, is in Moline, Ill., attending to business interests.

Herbert H. Mason, chairman of the transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, is reported to be convalescent, following a serious operation performed at Angelus hospital.

Miss Edna Orcutt entertained eight girl friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Orcutt, of 5201 Maywood avenue. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out in all decorations. The guests included Mrs. George Simmons, Mrs. La Verne Watson and the Misses Dorothy Miller, Marion Peake, Katherine MacKay, Viola Nelson, Louise Modelling and Hazel Gillette.

Old German races ridiculed Roman cavalry for riding with saddles, calling them effeminate contrivances.

CELEBRATION TO LAST THREE DAYS

Goodfellows' Club Sponsors Entertainment Program for July Fourth

BURBANK, May 28.—A three-day July 4 celebration is being planned here under the auspices of the Goodfellows' club. Harry L. Leavitt of Los Angeles will have the program in charge.

Mr. Leavitt, an old-time friend of Charles B. Wood, president of the Goodfellows' club, has spent forty years in the show business and understands the matter of providing what the public likes in the way of entertainment, from Alpha to Omega, according to his friends. He has a long list of highly successful celebrations of various kinds to his credit, including the affair held at Glendale last year, which was housed in what is claimed to have been the longest tent in the world—1000 feet long.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving and daughter and Mrs. Snyder and daughter Lulu of Tunjunga avenue were dinner guests Sunday at Downey, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Strelm, neighbors forty years ago.
