PROUDFOOT PURSUES THE HANNA CHARGES

Ontario Legislature Receives
Two Reports as Result of Recent Inquiry

LETTER BLOCKED IN COMMITTEE IS READ

Sir James Whitney Uses Words
"Falsifier" and "Trauducer" and Will Not Withdraw

APPLICATION FOR ROYAL COMMISSION

Toronto, May 7.—William Proudfoot, Centre Huron, in the legislature, renewed his charges against Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, after the House had received the two reports from the committee on privileges and elections, the majority exonerating Mr. Hanna and the minority report declaring that the matter had not been properly investigated, and asking for a royal commission.

Mr. Proudfoot read a letter from L. E. C. Thorne to Harry Maisonneville, dated January 22, 1912. Mr. Thorne acted as referee for the government in regard to the Taylor claim and was a witness during the recent investigation. The letter caused a good deal of discussion then because H. H. Dewar, acting for Mr. Proudfoot, wanted Mr. Thorne to read it in order to refresh his memory, and the chairman of the committee would not permit it. The letter purports to recount on all the circumstances in connection with the Taylor claim to arbitration. Throughout the letter the principals, Whitney, Hanna and Taylor, are referred to by their initials.

After reading the Thorne letter Mr. Proudfoot reviewed the proceedings by the committee. "We find that early in March the Taylor-Scott company were applying for a fiat, as they contended that they had considerable claims against the government which they decided to prosecute in the courts," said Mr. Proudfoot. "They had failed to secure it in the ordinary manner so they decided to adopt forcible methods."

"No man can give such testimony as that and be believed," suddenly interjected Sir James Whitney. "The man who says that is a falsifier, and the man who maintains it is a traducer, like the honorable gentleman."

This led to some hot passages across the floor, but Sir James refused to withdraw his remarks.

C. M. Bowen (Liberal) moved that the matter be referred to a royal commission.

The debate was continued by C. R. McKeown (Conservative), Dr. McQueen (Liberal), W. J. Johnson (Conservative) and Hugh Munro (Liberal), and was adjourned until this evening.

Windsor, Ont., May 7.—Harry C. Maisonneville was interviewed to-day regarding the Thorne-Maisonneville letter. In this letter there were two requests that it be not used for publication. Mr. Maisonneville said: "I did not break faith in this matter. Immediately upon receipt of the letter of Mr. Thorne I wrote to him that I could not consent to the observance of his request. Since, from the information I already had I could conjecture the situation any way, I told him to get his $500 from the government as I intended to get busy through the public accounts committee."

ESCAPED PRISONER IS CAPTURED AT DOUGLAS

New Westminster, May 7.—Louis Sever, a young Austrian who escaped from the provincial jail farm in Burnaby on April 25, was recaptured yesterday by Sholto McColl, Dominion immigration officer at Douglas, and was brought to this city. He has admitted that he was the man who assaulted Bridge Watchman Eagles at the Fraser river bridge on Sunday night and not Brewer, who escaped from the Vancouver jail, as was at first believed.

He made his escape from the prison farm when he had only fifteen more days of a six-months' sentence to serve.

MAN ALLEGED TO HAVE BEATEN WIFE TO DEATH

Richmond, Cal., May 7.—Charles Erickson was arrested this morning by the police on a charge of beating his wife to death. The body of the woman was found in the Erickson home with her chest crushed in, and showing other evidences of having been horribly beaten. The feeling against Erickson is running high, and the police are taking extra precautions to guard the city jail. Erickson, who is about forty years old, is an employee of a local oil company.

GREAT BRITAIN COULD BE STARVED INTO SUBMISSION IF SHE LOST SEA CONTROL

Hon. Lewis Harcourt Speaks
Against Plans for Land
Defence

Compulsory Service Under Many Aliases Hit by
Two Speakers

London, May 7.—If Britain loses command of the sea she can easily be starved into submission by her enemies, said the colonial secretary, Hon. Lewis Harcourt, in a speech last night at Crawshaw Booth, while dealing with the problems of defence facing the United Kingdom.

Mr. Harcourt's utterances were chiefly directed against the various schemes to improve Britain's land defence, and all received a share of his antagonistic criticism. After thoroughly trouncing the compulsory training system Mr. Harcourt referred to the National Service policy which he said masqueraded under many aliases, all of which meant the same thing, namely, compulsory service.

At the same time and in another portion of England another Liberal, P. H. Illingworth, dealt several blows at Lord Roberts' plan scheme. Mr. Illingworth informed his constituents in Shipley that Lord Roberts wanted a nation of soldiers and the navy league a nation of sailors, also another school wanted to obscure the sun and the moon with aerial fleets. He stated that the government relied on the navy, and would spare no efforts to maintain its efficiency.

CALIFORNIAN SCOLDS THE LAIRD OF SKIBO

Prompt Reply by Secretary is That Steel King Cannot Vote in Scotland

London, May 7.—Miss Mae Scott-Troy, a San Francisco suffragette, cabled to-day to Andrew Carnegie as follows: "What right have you to pose as an American citizen when you are registered as a voter in the parish of Dornoch, in the county of Sutherland, Scotland? You are voter No. 11 on the official list given me to-day by the sheriff of the county. Why did King Edward offer you a dukedom?"

Mr. Carnegie is described on the voting list as "occupation, gentleman. Place of abode, Skibo Castle."

New York, May 7.—"Mr. Carnegie is an American citizen," James Bertram, his private secretary, said to-day. "He became so without naturalization because he came here as a minor when he was 11 years old and his father was naturalized before Mr. Carnegie became of age. If he is registered as a voter in Scotland, he had nothing to do with it personally. He is a property owner there and his name probably appears on the registry list in connection with that fact. He could not vote in that country because he is an alien there."

GERMANY HEARD ON TOLLS EXEMPTION

Managing Director of North
German Lloyd Steamship
Company Protests

IMMIGRANT TRAFFIC
TO PACIFIC COAST

Berlin, May 7.—The exemption of American vessels from the payment of tolls for passing through the Panama Canal is unjust and places German shipping at a disadvantage, according to Phillip Heineken, managing director of the North German Lloyd, who writes in the Tagblatt to-day. He expresses confidence, however, that German shipping interests are sufficiently powerful and enterprising to maintain competition even under these circumstances.

Herr Heineken hopes under President Wilson's regime the measure of discrimination will be revoked. He foresees a big immigrant traffic to the Pacific coast of both the United States and Canada, and in a more limited way also to the states of South America, thus bringing to an end the inundation of the northeastern states.

GERMANS TAUGHT TO LOOK FOR WAR WITH PEOPLE OF BRITAIN

Glasgow, Scotland, May 7.—That the young men of Germany are taught to look forward to a conflict with Great Britain was the statement of the Lord provost at the Glasgow University luncheon given in honor of Lord Roberts yesterday.

The Lord provost further said that in view of this fact Britain should be prepared for all eventualities by placing the defence systems of the country on a thoroughly sound footing. The speaker disclaimed any hostility toward Germany on the part of Britain, and placed the blame for the tension which has existed between the two countries for some time, on Germany.

FRANCE LEGISLATES FOR REGULATION OF AERIAL NAVIGATION

Paris, May 7.—France is preparing legislation for the strict regulation of aerial navigation. Adrian Thierry, the minister of public works, presented to-day to the cabinet a bill providing for the inspection of flying machines, the licensing of airmen and the prohibition of flights over certain districts in the interest of national defence.

The minister said that in France at the present there are 1,800 aeroplanes. The maximum speed attained, he asserted, is 100 miles an hour. Single flights, he declared, have reached a distance of 900 miles.

NEW YORK POLICE ARE FOUND GUILTY

Four Convicted Last Night on Charge of Conspiracy
Against Justice

JURY DECIDED CASE
IN THIRTY MINUTES

Trials Were Continuation of Becker Investigation Commenced Last October

DISTRICT ATTORNEY TO CONTINUE THE PROBE

New York, May 7.—Until sentence is passed on Friday no one knows just what move will be made by counsel for the defence in the case of the four former police inspectors, Sweeney, Thompson, Hussey and Murtha, all found guilty last night of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Each faces a year in prison and each is also under indictment for bribery. It was intimated at the district-attorney's office to-day that it may rest with the defendants themselves whether or not they are to be tried on the bribery charge. If their lawyers make a fight against the verdict just returned it is understood that District-Attorney Whitman will press the bribery charge, which involves felony, and carries on conviction a much heavier sentence than the prisoners now face. On the other hand, if there is no appeal against the present conviction the bribery cases may not be proceeded with.

The conviction of the police inspectors by a jury which required only thirty minutes to reach its verdict last night, was declared by District-Attorney Whitman to-day to be likely to lead to still more improvement work in clearing the police situation.

The results thus far of the ten months' fight to end the police systems of "graft" have included the conviction of, or pleas of guilty by ten policemen, and the conviction of several associates in crime. The list begins with Lieut. Charles Becker, who was convicted last October of the investigation of the murder of Herman Rosenthal in July because the latter threatened to expose police graft. In November four gunmen were convicted of the same crime, and sent to Sing Sing, where with Becker they are awaiting the execution of death sentences.

The Becker-Rosenthal case led to a general investigation of police protection for vice and crime. Revelations were made which forced Policeman Eugene Fox and Captain Thomas W. Walsh to pleas of guilty of bribery, a confession to grafting by Policeman James F. Wrenn, the conviction of John J. Hartigan, a patrolman, on charges of perjury, the conviction of Policeman Thomas F. Robinson on charges of extortion, and the conviction yesterday of the four police inspectors on charges of conspiracy in plotting to buy the silence of a witness against them.

The four former inspectors still stand accused of bribery under another indictment, there being fourteen counts against Sweeney.

BRITAIN VALUES IMPERIAL UNITY

Unionist Paper Promises to Speak Fully on Canadian Naval Proposals

London, May 7.—Referring to naval defence the Pall-Mall Gazette (Unionist) says that the people of Great Britain would rather spend 150,000,000 than see Imperial unity injured by being made the subject of a party struggle. The Gazette promises to speak fully on what it describes as "the unhappy struggle over the navy bill now proceeding in Canada."

It is the only editorial comment in to-night's papers, although Sir Wilfrid Laurier's speech at Toronto has been called heretofore extensively. A prominent Liberal member of parliament was asked if there was any movement at Westminster in the direction of assisting the Ottawa house to solve the difficulty amicably, replied: "Certainly not, nobody but Premier Borden would make such an attempt." This disposes decisively of suggestions that members of the British government, who intend visiting the Dominion this year have any hidden end in view.

VIOLENCE WRECKED CHANCES FOR BILL

Militants Attempt to Destroy Historic Edifice

SYMPATHY OF SUPPORTERS ALIENATED
BY THEIR WILD LAW-BREAKING TACTICS

Change in Political Barometer That Cannot Be Mistaken, is "Times" View of House of Commons Majority at Early Defeat

London, May 7.—The defeat of the woman suffrage bill in the House of Commons last night is generally attributed by the "morning" papers to the women themselves—the militant ones, whose wild, law-breaking tactics alienated the sympathies of suffrage supporters. The Times says that the embarrassment that the militants have inflicted on the cause lay like a dead-weight over the course of the debate on the bill in the Commons.

"There is not the slightest doubt that the militants have defeated their own objects," the paper continues. "The change in the political barometer cannot be mistaken. For some years past bills for giving votes to women have passed their second reading with respectable majorities. They may not have been intended to get any further, and we think there has been a good deal of hypocrisy on the part of some of the members who voted for their second reading, but that success has now been reversed. The majority is not very large, but under the circumstances it is decisive. It tells the militants as plainly as anything can that they are on the wrong road if they wish to get votes for women."

Extraordinary differences of parliamentary opinion over woman's suffrage is shown in an analysis of the voting on the bill defeated last night. For the bill: Unionists, 22; Liberals, 151; Nationalists, 7; O'Brienites, 5; Labor, 34; total, 219. Against the bill: Unionists, 135; Liberals, 73; Nationalists, 55. Total, 266.

APPOINTS BOARD TO CONTROL HIS WEALTH

"Borax" Smith, Aged 67, Hands
His Affairs to Trustees for Future Direction

FOUND HIS MILLIONS
IN THE DEATH VALLEY

San Francisco, May 7.—Frank M. Smith, nationally known as one of the financial powers of the state, and a leading spirit in a score of financial operations of the first magnitude, has vested in two boards of trustees the management and direction of all his personal and financial interests.

The transfer is conveyed to one board of trustees, five in number, by a deed of agreement of trust executed to the Mercantile Trust Company of this city. This board is empowered to compile Smith's personal holdings and a duty of the board will be to adjust those holdings so that each shall proceed without danger of interruption. Properties within his jurisdiction are: the Realty Syndicate, Pacific Coast Borax Company, preferred stock of the Oakland Traction Company, preferred stock in the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Construction railway, the Key route system, and stocks and bonds in various public service corporations.

Additional executive interests held by Smith in alliance with R. G. Hanford and W. B. Tevis, include the United Properties Corporation, organized in 1910 with a capitalization of $200,000,000. The first-named board of trustees will not govern the conduct of any of the concerns of the United Properties Corporation. Ultimately if Smith's personal interests become involved in the affairs of the larger corporation, the trustees may act in an advisory capacity.

The second board of trustees is named to rearrange and direct the concerns of the United Properties Corporation. This rearrangement was deemed advisable by reason of the great complexity that Smith's operations had attained, and by the multiplicity of loans necessary to carry them on.

Francis Marcon Smith is best known in the western world of finance as "Borax" Smith. He is now 67 years old. He found the nucleus of his millions in the wastes of Death Valley, where he staked out vast claims of borax.

POLOISTS EN ROUTE.
Southampton, Eng., May 7.—Five of the polo team which is to represent the British Isles in the contest for the international cup at Meadowbrook, Long Island, in June, sailed to-day on the Oceanic for New York. They were Captain R. C. Ritson, Captain Leslie St. George Cheape, Captain Vivian Lockett and Captain A. Noel Edwards, and Captain F. M. Froske, who is one of the reserves.

FIVE KILLED IN MINE.
Hartford, Ky., May 7.—Five men were killed by black damp yesterday in a deserted shaft of a coal mine near here. The men were working near the shaft when one of them went to explore the abandoned diggings. He fell into water and with the four others who went to his rescue, succumbed to the gas.

BOMB FOUND IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL

Suffragette Newspaper Was Wrapped With Ticking Canister, Detonators and Battery

TWO OTHERS PLACED
DURING THE NIGHT

Plain Clothes Police on Duty
Were Eluded by the Designing Person

ARSON SQUADS BUSY
DURING THE MORNING

London, May 7.—An attempt to wreck the ancient St. Paul's cathedral by a bomb early to-day is attributed to the militant suffragettes. The verger who conducts sightseers through the massive edifice, was making his rounds at about 8 o'clock this morning, when he heard a ticking sound near the high altar. Upon investigation he found hidden a heavy parcel done up in brown paper. He immediately placed it in water, and handed it over to the police, who found a suffragette newspaper wrapped up with the bomb. This attempt and the placing of two other bombs in other parts of the city this morning made it appear that the militant suffragettes had entered anew on their havooc-working campaign following the defeat of the woman's suffrage bill in the Commons last night. Shortly after the discovery at the cathedral the police found a similar bomb-like package on the steps of a newspaper office on Fleet street, and a tin canister believed to contain explosives was picked up on the steps of a wholesale drug establishment near St. Paul's. No arrests were made from the discoveries, and it is doubtful if the police have clues to the identity of the bomb-throwers.

The bomb from the cathedral was examined at the Bridewell police station, and later at the home office by government experts. It was painted black, and contained two detonators attached to an electric battery. It was filled with slugs of hard black substance resembling coal. There is no doubt, the police say, that it was placed in position by militant suffragettes or persons in their employ. "Small but fiendishly powerful," is the police officers' description of the bomb. When the machine was taken to pieces it was discovered that it was timed to explode at midnight but a rearrangement of the clockwork retarded the explosion. Apparently only this accident prevented untold damage to the cathedral. A number of brass screws, nails and coarse metal slugs were found among the contents.

The general public is admitted to the choir of St. Paul's between 11 o'clock in the morning and 3.30 in the afternoon. The cathedral was closed entirely at 5 o'clock last evening, and it appears certain that the bomb was deposited before that hour. It was found beneath a chair beside the bishop's throne at the head of the choir. The dean conducted evensong near the bishop's throne last evening, but neither he nor the verger then noticed the package or heard the ticking.

Plain clothes policemen have been on duty in St. Paul's for several weeks, for the express purpose of preventing militant suffragette outbreaks, but they observed nothing wrong last night. Several parts of the cathedral usually opened to the public were closed to-day.

Suffrage arson squads were also busy early this morning. They burned down a pavilion on the cricket field at Bishop's park, Fulham, in the West End of London, and also set fire to an unoccupied house at Finchley in the north of London. Suffragette placards and quantities of chemicals were found in the vicinity of both fires.

Another mysterious fire broke out at a timber yard in Lambeth to-day, the fourth of this kind in London in a few days. The fire was extinguished before much damage had been done.

CHINA TO PROTEST.
Washington, D. C., May 7.—China is preparing to follow Japan in protesting against the California alien land bill. Ownership of lands in California by Chinese has diminished considerably within the last few years, but many Chinese land-owners are there, and it is with the purpose of protecting these against loss that the Chinese government is contemplating a protest.

KETTLE VALLEY LINE CONSTRUCTION STOPS

Four Hundred Men Ceased
Work on Saturday Over
Forty-Seven Miles

ASKING FOR THREE DOLLARS DAY WAGE

Penticton, B. C., May 7.—Four hundred men or thereabouts are on strike along the line of construction of the Kettle Valley railway. They stopped work on Saturday night. About half of them, have gone to Kelowna. The others reached Naramata, seven miles from here on Monday. At that point they were paid off by cheques on the bank at Penticton. Last night's boat brought a hundred of them to this place and as many more will arrive to-day. All is quiet here as yet, but there is an expectation of more or less trouble when the men get their money from the bank. Half a dozen special provincial police have been sent here from Vernon.

Construction work is completely tied up from Kelowna to Naramata, a distance of 47 miles. One contractor is still working with a gang of Russians on this side of Naramata, but the strikers have announced their intentions of sending a delegation to talk to these Russians to-day.

The trouble has not yet spread to the Summerland side of the lake, where general conditions in the camps are reported by the men to be much better and where construction is much further advanced.

Specifically the men are demanding an increase of 25 cents per day of ten hours so as to make the day's pay $3 instead of $2.75. The cooks and funkeys in the camp are asking an increase of $5 a month which would give them $60 instead of $45.

FARMER AT AGASSIZ IS GORED TO DEATH

Agassiz, B. C., May 7.—James R. Bean was fatally gored by a Holstein bull on Monday and died last night. Mr. Bean, who was a prominent farmer, had gone into a field where he kept his bull tethered. The animal got loose and charged. Mr. Bean when the latter approached. The farmer jumped aside, but the bull was after him again in a moment and overtook him before he could reach the fence. Catching the unfortunate man on his horns the bull tossed him aloft and again rushed at and gored him. A moment later Mr. Bean escaped through a gate, but he was injured internally and several ribs were broken.

MILITIA CALLED OUT TO FIGHT STRIKERS

Seven Police Injured With Bricks Using Revolvers in Defence

MOB DRIVEN AWAY BY THE FIRE HOSE

Sprague, N. Y., May 7.—The local militia was called out for strike duty yesterday following a riot in which fifteen persons were injured, seven of them policemen. Four or five hundred striking building laborers, all Italians, interfered to-day with men who were pulling down the old house of Bishop John Grimes to make a place for a new episcopal residence.

Fifty policemen fought the strikers, using revolvers against bricks. Two of the seven injured police were shot through the body and the others were less seriously hurt. After the first outbreak, which took place directly opposite the county courthouse, a fire hose was used and the mob was driven down Onanada street to the corner of Warren, in the heart of the business district. Here the Italians would have made another stand, but Sheriff Matthews ordered out the local militia and quiet had been restored by noon.

TORPEDO BOAT FATALITY.

BRITISH SUFFRAGE BILL DEFEATED BY VOTES OF FIFTY NATIONALISTS

Premier Asquith, McKenna, Harcourt, Seely, Churchill and Hobhouse of Government Vote Against Measure That Would Enfranchise 6,000,000 Women

London, May 7.—The fate of the women's suffrage bill was sealed last night by the votes of more than fifty Irish Nationalists, who voted against it. The bill whereby it was sought to enfranchise 6,000,000 women was rejected by a majority of forty-seven. The vote stood 386 to 219.

The debate proved that the militant cause of the suffragettes has done the greatest harm as far as parliament is concerned. The conciliation bill of last session was rejected by a small majority compared with the Dickinson bill, which was under discussion today, and previous bills giving some measure of enfranchisement to women have passed the second reading although they never survived subsequent stages.

Recent police disclosures of acts of incendiarism planned by the militants, far surpassing in magnitude anything heretofore attempted, and the burning of St. Catharine's church at Hatcham undoubtedly influenced many members to vote against the bill.

The debate, which on Monday proceeded with extraordinary apathy, was yesterday characterized by intensity and brilliant speeches. The House was crowded, and was pervaded with an atmosphere of electrical excitement. The stranger's galleries were packed, and many anxious faces peered from behind the grill-guarded gallery devoted to women.

Neither Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, nor A. J. Balfour voted in this division. Among the ministers who voted against the bill were Premier Asquith, Reginald McKenna, Lewis Harcourt, J. E. B. Seely, Winston Spencer Churchill and C. E. Hobhouse.

The supporters of the bill included Sir Edward Grey, David Lloyd George, Sir Rufus Isaacs, Augustine Birrell, Sidney Buxton, C. F. G. Masterman, Sir J. A. Simon and F. D. Ackland.

Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, supported the bill. He said there was ample evidence that a very large section of the women of the country had shown by constitutional means that they favored the enfranchisement of their sex.

Militancy he characterized as the "inconsiderate and criminal conduct of a small body of individuals, with whose outrages the law had dealt and ought to deal severely."

Nobody, he said, had greater reason to deplore the methods of the militant suffragettes than those who desired the enfranchisement of women, but he argued that their outrages should not influence the decision of the House.

"Women argued that women were fit to deal with social and industrial matters of legislation, which vitally affected their interests, but that they were not fitted to deal with the questions of foreign policy. He contended that the demonstrated attitude of women in dealing with abstruse economic questions involved in social and industrial legislation proved that they were possessed of sufficient intelligence to pass judgment on questions of foreign policy which were far less complicated and seldom an issue at a general election.

Lord Robert Cecil advocated the bill, contending that to vote against it because of militant outrages would be utterly illegal and unworthy of the members of the House.

Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long, in opposing the measure, first congratulated the prime minister on the ability and calm dignity displayed in his speech, despite the treatment he had received at the hands of the suffragettes, which he took occasion to say, "is a disgrace to the country." He argued that the passage of the bill would not stop militant tactics but would only lead to fiercer agitation for a larger measure of enfranchisement.

Rt. Hon. Frederick E. Smith said the supporters of the bill repudiated the militants when it suited them, but would use them as long as it paid to do so. It was not until 1906, when Mr. Lansley began, that a single member of the House took the movement seriously. The great majority of the women, he maintained, were indifferent to the franchise. The country had never been consulted on the question. Under such circumstances, therefore, for the Unionists to vote for the bill would be grossly inconsistent with their opposition to Home Rule on the ground that the electorate had given no mandate for it.

CUCARACHA SLIDE SHOWING ACTIVITY

Canal Engineers Prepare for Trouble With Commencement of Draining System

Panama, May 7.—Increased activity has been shown in the Cucaracha slide of the Panama canal south of Gold Hill during the last few days. The cut at that point is nearly closed, only one available track being left at the seventy-foot west level across the canal. As this is the beginning of the rainy season, still greater trouble is expected and drainage pipes have been laid around the slide to the south to prevent the backing of the water in case a movement occurs during heavy rain.

The Cucaracha slide, which is known as a normal or gravity slide, is one of the largest of its type in the isthmus. It gave great trouble to the French company in 1887, when it reached a maximum area of development of about fifty-two acres. More than two million yards of clay and surface debris have slid into the cut from this slide since it first became active.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PRODUCED NEARLY HALF THE GOLD OBTAINED IN CANADA LAST YEAR

Ottawa, May 7.—In committee on the act to amend the Ottawa Mint Act, Hon. W. T. White, the minister of finance, gave some further information as to its operation yesterday. The total amount of silver money coined between January 2, 1908, and March 31, 1912, he said, was $5,710,944.55.

The gold production of Canada in 1912 amounted to $12,500,000, of which a half million came from the Yukon, five millions from British Columbia and one and three-quarter millions from Ontario. Gold received at the mint for refining in 1912 amounted to 101,636 gross ounces, of which 2,000 came from Nova Scotia, 11,600 from Ontario, $5,000 from the Yukon and less than 1,000 from Quebec. Fine gold bars sold by the mint in 1912 totalled $286,000. This was bought at $18.95 an ounce.

The estimated production of silver last year was 31,000,000 ounces, valued at $19,000,000. Twenty-nine million ounces were produced in Ontario. The mint last year bought 755,000 ounces of silver of which 70,000 ounces came from the Coniagas mine, while 685,000 came from the United States. Hon. W. T. White explained that when buying silver it was the custom to call for tenders.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was gratified to learn that the mint would soon take care of all the Canadian gold production.

Dr. A. Thompson also expressed gratification of this and pointed out that in the earlier days of the Yukon the Pacific coast had lost a great deal of trade by being unable to handle the miner's gold, for where the miner sold gold he was likely to buy his supplies.

The bill was put through the committee stage and read a third time.

ANNUAL MEETING OF VANCOUVER LIBERALS

Three Hundred Delegates to Gather in Dominion Hall To-morrow Night

Vancouver, May 7.—Three hundred delegates at least will assemble in the Dominion hall to-morrow evening, the date of the annual meeting of the Vancouver City and District Liberal Association. Last night the list of delegates from subordinate associations was completed.

Vastly-increased Liberal activity in the east, and the news of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's inspiring enthusiasm, with the effect of steady accumulation of force amongst Liberal associations during the past few months, make this occasion one of the most eventful in political circles in Vancouver since last election. Discussions of vital importance of business, and an inspiring rally is assured.

President J. W. DeB. Farris will preside.

PRIZES AWARDED.

Thorpe's Trophies Returned to Winners of Second Honors.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 7.—The prizes won at the Olympic games at Stockholm by James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian athlete, will be awarded to the man who finished second in the events. The international committee of the Olympic games so decided yesterday on action of the American delegates.

The Thorpe case came up in a private session. Thorpe, who, after the games at Stockholm, confessed to professionalism, was the winner of the much-coveted trophies. These trophies will now go to H. Welslander, of Sweden, and F. R. Ble, of Norway, respectively. The committee unanimously adopted the British proposal to send congratulations to the Amateur Athletic Union for the sportsmanlike manner in which the American organization had handled the case.

EMPLOYMENT AGENTS UNDER REGULATIONS

Fee Charged Immigrant Must Never Be More Than One Dollar

ARE NOW UNDER THE IMMIGRATION OFFICE

Ottawa, May 7.—When the immigration act at present in force in Canada was passed by parliament no specific provision was made to prevent newly-arrived immigrants from being unjustly dealt with by employment agencies or labor bureaus. A section in the act, however, gave to the governor-in-council power to make regulations for the protection of the immigrants.

Until Saturday last no such regulations were made and the immigrants consequently had no recourse for unjust treatment except through the civil courts or through whatever municipal by-laws or regulations chanced to be in force where the unjust treatment occurred. Lack of funds, added to lack of knowledge of the English language or of the laws of the country left the immigrant too often a prey to the unscrupulous agent more anxious to secure a placing fee than to find a position suitable to the party seeking employment.

From time to time more or less spasmodic efforts have been made by the immigration department to put an end to this undesirable state of affairs, but it was found that while the department was able to close up agencies proved to have been dishonest in their dealings with immigrants, they soon reopened under different names and continued their swindling game.

For the purpose of affording protection to those who might be injured in this way a regulation has just been passed placing employment agencies under the supervision of the immigration branch. The regulation provides that the holder of a license must keep a register of positions filled with all particulars of the engagement.

"That every employment agent must secure and keep posted in a conspicuous place on his premises a license from the superintendent of immigration, authorizing him to place immigrants in positions. This license is revocable if the holder is convicted of any indictable offence or violation of the immigration laws or regulations.

"No holder of a license shall send any immigrant to a position without having a written order from the prospective employer, stating nature of work, wages to be paid, etc. No such order shall be filled if over two months old and all such orders shall at all times be open to the inspection of any immigration official.

"No holder of a license shall charge an immigrant more than $1 for securing him a position nor for transportation to where work is available any sum in excess of actual cost of same.

"For violation of any of the regulations above mentioned, the holder of a license is subject on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding $100 and in default of payment, to a term of imprisonment not exceeding three months."

DAMAGE TO SHIPS CHARGED TO ITALY

Court of Arbitration Decides in Favor of French Steamers Seized

The Hague, Netherlands, May 7.—The Franco-Italian court of arbitration, dealing with the seizure by Italian warships during the Turco-Italian war of the French steamers Carthage and Manouba, decided to-day that Italy was in the wrong and condemned the Italian government to pay $32,000 and $390 in the respective cases. The Carthage was seized on January 18, 1912, on suspicion that she had contraband goods on board. She was released two days later on request of the French government.

The Manouba was seized on January 19, 1912, while she was carrying out a Turkish medical mission. She was allowed to proceed on her voyage after landing her Turkish passengers.

GERMAN OFFERS AMENDMENT TO BILL

Would Have Parliament Control Navy Grant $35,000,000 and Vote Sums Annually

DEBATE CONTINUES TILL AFTER MIDNIGHT

Ottawa, May 7.—What is probably the last stage of the Naval Bill discussion in the Commons was entered upon at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the House went into committee of the whole to consider Clause 2 of the bill. The clause authorizes the expenditure of thirty-five million dollars for the purpose of Imperial defence.

An amendment moved by Hugh Guthrie, calling for the expenditure of the money in Canada, which was not disposed of when consideration of the bill was put over, was still standing. A sub-amendment was added by William German, of Welland, to the effect that, in order to keep the expenditure under control of parliament, the sum of $35,000,000 should be voted in annual instalments, as required for naval construction.

Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, resumed the debate, confining his remarks to an explanation and justification in regard to his quotation from a speech made by Winston Churchill, in the British House of Commons, which reference had been challenged by the member for Red Deer (Dr. Clark) as a "garbled" report.

Hon. Mr. White referred to his speech made on the eighth of April last, in which he had quoted Mr. Winston Churchill as saying that the Canadian ships were absolutely necessary for the whole world defence of the British Empire from the beginning of 1916 onward. Then he read from Hansard the assertion made by Dr. Clark as to the newspaper report used by the minister being a garbled one.

At this juncture, the member for Red Deer entered the chamber, and, after listening for a few minutes, he asked the finance minister if he wished to contend that the quotation which he (Mr. White) had given from a cablegram produced in the House on April 8 was the exact wording of Mr. Churchill's utterance.

In answer to this question, Hon. Mr. White produced the Hansard report of the British House of Commons for March 31, in which was reported the speech of the First Lord of the Admiralty. He quoted the following passage: "It is necessary, however, to make it clear that the three ships now under discussion in Canada are absolutely required from 1918 onwards for the whole world defence of the British Empire. Apart altogether from the needs of Great Britain in home waters, they would play a real part in the defence of the Empire, and if they failed, a gap would be open to fill for which further sacrifice would have to be made without undue delay by others."

Mr. German said that whether or not Mr. Churchill used the words attributed to him, the situation which exists in Canada is not affected. The opposition agreed that Canada should take her place as one of the dominant Dominions of the Empire. The opposition stands ready to vote $35,000,000 or any other sum in aid of naval defence, but claims it should be for the purpose of establishing a navy in Canada for the defence of the Empire. An important question which has not been much discussed is as to how the money is to be expended. The Naval Bill provides for a vote of $35,000,000, but contains nothing relating to the control of the expenditure. After the money has once been placed in the hands of the ministers, parliament will have nothing to say about it.

No one would approve of the placing in the hands of the minister of canal $35,000,000 with which to construct the Welland Canal. The sum would be voted in annual instalments and under the strict supervision of parliament in accordance with parliamentary practice. In 1837 a rebellion had been caused because the family compact spent money without the control of parliament. They were apparently reverting to those days.

Mr. German said that there were three questions which it was desirable the prime minister should answer. They were in brief: Is it possible to vote, construct and place under the control of the admiralty the proposed naval force under the provisions of the existing Naval Service Act? There was no doubt that all these things could be done under the present act, and people were wondering why the government considered it necessary to bring down the new bill.

It had been said that a positive agreement to have the Naval Act repealed had been arrived at between Mr. Borden and the Nationalists. If the prime minister did not explain why the Naval Aid Bill was introduced, the people of Canada will believe that such an agreement exists.

Mr. German said that if the government would drop the present bill and bring an appropriation of $35,000,000 to be spent under the control of parliament and subject to the provisions of the Naval Act the opposition would support it.

The discussion was continued by Mr. E. M. Macdonald, Mr. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island and Mr. Chisholm, of Antigonish, until after midnight.

GIVES REASONS FOR THE SCOTS LEAVING

Lord Provost of Glasgow Says Advertising of Dominions is Part Cause

London, May 7.—Interviewed on the phenomenal rush of Scotsmen to Canada, D. M. Stevenson, the lord provost of Glasgow, said to-day: "I think it is chiefly attributable to two causes: Firstly, the general impression is constantly borne in upon us by articles in the press and speeches of public men regarding the splendid opportunities the Dominion offers. Secondly, the activities of the Dominion government agents and steamship companies, are represented by agents in many villages who are shopkeepers of all sorts and even professional men and postmasters, and these get commission on tickets. The Dominion gives a bonus and in addition certain Canadian provinces give a further bonus. The securing of emigrants is therefore a very profitable business for agents and some make a very good income in this way."

Continuing Mr. Stevenson said: "I had occasion at a public meeting many years ago, shortly after Hon. Joseph Chamberlain launched his ideas of tariff reform, to state that in my opinion this country could only maintain its present population by remaining a manufacturing country. I added and still think that there is no particular reason, so long as we hold that the Empire is one and indivisible why forty-five million of its inhabitants should remain in these islands if many of them could be happier and more prosperous in other parts of the British dominions. Astronomers tell us that some thousands of years hence the centre of civilization will not be Europe, nor for that matter, the northern hemisphere, which will be slowly frozen out. Is there any reason why, in the meantime, the Empire being one, its centres should not make west and south of these islands?"

SABBATH OBSERVANCE SITUATION.

The point raised by Frank Higgins and sustained by Magistrate Jay in the Lord's Day prosecutions exposed a skeleton that had been reposing peacefully in our provincial statutes the last twenty-five years. In 1863 the laws of England relating to Sabbath observance were proclaimed in force in the crown colony on the mainland and after the union of the island and mainland their scope was extended to cover both territories. Until 1888 we had Lord's Day legislation in force throughout the whole province, but in that year an Ethiopian stealthily concealed himself in the wood-pile. An amendment was adopted by the legislature exempting Vancouver Island from the operation of the law. What reasons were advanced for that exemption we cannot recall. It may have been that the inhabitants of the island at that time were so inherently devoted to Sabbath observance that the distrust implied by the legislation unnecessarily wounded their feelings. Following this line of thought it is quite obvious that the mainlanders must have occupied a different ethical position and legislation was required in their case.

In 1888, therefore, we had Sabbath observance in this province which, however, expressly exempted the island from its scope. Now, the Lord's Day Act, under which the recent prosecutions were instituted, distinctly states that its provisions cannot repeal or affect any laws on the subject that may be in existence in the various provinces. Manifestly the unique ordinance of a quarter of a century ago still holds good and the federal statute cannot be applied to the island—at all events unless the police magistrate's decision is revised. Such is the present legal situation.

A few years ago it was decided that the city council had no power to pass laws regarding Sabbath observance, so Vancouver Island is in the extraordinary position of being free from the application of any existing regulations, federal, provincial or municipal, on this subject.

STRONGER MEASURES NEEDED.

The reported attempt of the militant suffragettes of England to blow up St. Paul's Cathedral by means of a bomb placed in the choir, leads all sane and thinking people to wonder where these dastardly attacks on property and life are going to end. One cannot help but contemplate what would have happened had the infernal machine not been discovered in time, and what guarantee the people of London have that other instruments of destruction of a like nature will be found before explosion.

Surely the position of affairs with regard to these wild spirits of the Women's Suffrage Movement is unparalleled, even in the chequered and bloody history of political upheavals of the world. We are of the opinion that the British government has sowed a good deal of the disaster which is now being reaped by its super-chivalrous policy, which after all betrays undoubted weakness. We venture to think that by their actions many of these women have placed themselves wholly beyond the bounds of such decent treatment, and deserve the fate that is meted out to dangerous anarchists the world over. That hundreds of human lives should be placed in jeopardy by such irresponsible actions is a condition of affairs that need never have existed had the government adopted a less relenting policy.

Dangerous criminals have been allowed to go scot free after hunger striking, which has merely resulted in their recommencing those very practices which brought about their incarceration. What is the difficulty? To the unsophisticated mind it would appear as if a woman who deliberately starves herself when good food and plenty of it is placed within her reach, deserves nothing more sympathetic than a verdict of "felo de se." Sooner or later a decided period must be put to these now more frequently recurring outrages, and the only way left for any government to follow, if it has any self-respect, would appear to be to apply the pains and penalties provided by the law for the punishment of dangerous criminals.

THE HIGHWAY BILL.

The morning paper asks: "Is our evening contemporary correct in saying that the Highway Bill does not provide for a division of the Federal grant among the provinces? Our impression is that it is to be divided between the provinces according to population, but to be expended under the direction of the department of public works."

The bill does not provide for the distribution of the money among the provinces on any basis. It simply gives the Ottawa government power "to grant to any province" a subsidy to be expended under the supervision of the federal minister of railways. We contend that there should be a provision in the bill for an apportionment of the fund to be voted among the provinces on some equitable basis the expenditure to be under the direction of the provincial governments.

A SHAMELESS TRAFFIC.

The Krupp disclosures and the consequent probing of the whole war scare business have confronted all Christendom with a condition of affairs that is degrading and decadent to the last degree. The idea that a European war, involving the loss of thousands of valuable lives, with all the hardship, depletion and misery which are eternally consonant with such strife, might have been engineered by great corporations for their own aggrandisement, and for the appreciation of their dividends, is nauseating in the extreme. Could there be anything more loathsome, could infamously offer anything more degrading than the sight of these war parasites fattening on the fears and sorrows of the common people?

The one thing that has made war justifiable in the past has been the cause that called it forth. Men have died for their country with gallantry, they have braved terrible dangers and sacrificed much; some have gone through shame unrepeatable for a great cause. The pages of history are bright with the names of such heroes who have the reverence and gratitude of us all. In itself we acknowledge war, with all its unspeakable horrors, its attendant misery and suffering to be an abhorrent thing, contrary to all the ideals of Christianity, and the best interpretations of human relations. It is only the Cause that has ever made it noble.

But if the cause should only be the shameless desire of nefarious armament makers to become prosperous at the expense of the credulous, and the further impoverishment of the poor; if the heroism that was shed were but to feed the ambitions of unscrupulous capitalists, could there even be any attempt at justification? Yet in Germany to-day men of highest official standing are being straightly charged with being implicated in the anti-German insults and plots in France, and profiting thereby. Journals have been openly proved in league with the war syndicates and even the press agencies with Britain and America are not immune from grave suspicion. Is it any wonder the Kaiser is indignant and sorrowful over a condition of affairs which is unique in the annals of the world?

For the sake of British prestige, and for the sake of the great name for truth, justice and right dealing that she has borne unsullied before the world, it is to be hoped that the machinations of the war-monger have not yet reached the British Isles. Dispatches, however, go to show that the interests behind the British scare-raisers are again being scrutinized, and if any suspicion of wrongful dealing exists, it will not long go unhealed.

It might be as well to point out, however, that large numbers of influential and powerful people in the British Isles are directly or indirectly interested in the making of armaments, many of them being shareholders in one of the three great companies which do the greater part of England's armament business. The social position of these shareholders may be gauged by the fact that in the three firms of Armstrongs, Vickers and Brown's there are on the list three dukes, two marquises, one hundred and twenty earls or barons, thirty-two baronets, thirty knights, thirteen M. P.'s, nineteen J. P.'s, five K. C.'s, forty-three military and naval officers and seventeen newspaper proprietors and writers. It will be readily seen that practically every agency of social influence is directly represented. While we do not suggest that any of the gentlemen whose titles we have designated would in any way seek to advance their interests in the criminal manner which has undoubtedly been fashionable recently in other parts of the continent of Europe, it is surely regrettable that so many illustrious and noble names should be linked commercially with an industry which pays its dividends with a people's blood and a people's tears.

MYSTERY OF THE LEAK.

Some highly effective farce comedy situations with a dash or two of real melodrama were unfolded at the council inquiry into the mysterious news leak yesterday evening. Each worthy alderman who was present declared he did not disclose to the innocent public what transpired at the private meeting some time ago when the position of the city clerk was considered. Alderman Cuthbert swore to an alibi not only for himself but for some of his brother councillors regarding their movements after the meeting. Not only did they not divulge the portentous news to the ubiquitous reporter, but they proceeded to a restaurant where they regaled themselves with the festive oyster. The question that will at once suggest itself to the reader's mind is, did they discuss the proceedings in the presence of the oysters? We do not desire to be regarded as libellously reflecting upon the discretion and good faith of the bivalves for all know that nobody could be more close-mouthed than the average oyster and we merely commend the clue to the inquisitors for what it is worth. From Alderman Dilworth we learn that he paid for the oysters, a detached circumstantial detail it is true, but showing that the whole transaction was in order and above board. Alderman Cuthbert also stated that after the incident of the oysters he had "driven" one of the aldermen to the Vancouver boat, "taken" the two other city fathers home and repaired to his own residence. At first reading we were rightfully shocked to learn that he had "taken" his colleagues home, but sober second thought reassured us. He meant he had driven them to their homes in his automobile.

Now, frankly, all this Sherlock Holmesing might have been unnecessary had we been consulted on the Mystery of the Leak. We will elucidate the whole baffling situation so that a child may understand it. No member of the council gave out the information. A janitor with grim determination and eagle eyes patrolled the corridors. What is the answer? Read Sir Oliver Lodge, Gurney, Podmore and Myers on Psychical Research. The reporter merely projected his invisible subconscious personality into the exclusive atmosphere of the council chamber on the night in question and absorbed every word that fell from the mayoral and aldermanic lips. This is one of the most cherished secrets of the journalistic profession and we have violated the code by divulging it merely because we believe that by doing so we are rendering a service to the city. Now that the council knows all about it the utility of private meetings for the discussion of public affairs will be at once apparent. Besides, it is cruelly trying on the reporter to force his secondary personality to attend a council meeting under the condition of invisibility. Even secondary personalities have their preferences.

UNIQUE SUGGESTION.

A rather startling suggestion appears in the current Canadian Courier to the effect that Canada should make a working arrangement with the United States for a joint defence of the Pacific coast of this continent in case of Asiatic invasion. The editorial in the Courier argues thus: "How to avoid injuring Japanese dignity and yet to prevent Japan from getting a foothold on this continent is one of the great American problems. Canada is vitally interested. It has been said that when Great Britain is at war, Canada is at war. It may also be said with equal truth that when the United States is invaded by an Asiatic power Canada is invaded."

"Personally, I believe that Canada's next fight will be against Japanese soldiers. The late Homer Lea, in his 'Valor of Ignorance,' showed fairly conclusively that there is grave danger of a war between Japan and the United States. In such a war, Canada could not remain neutral. Indeed, there are Canadians who are willing now to make a treaty with the United States as to naval and military defence in case such a war should occur.

"It will be urged at once that we are bound by the British-Japanese alliance. That treaty expires in 1915, and we have no guarantee that it will be renewed. Moreover, our treaty of joint-defence, with the United States, could be made subject to our duties and obligations under existing treaties between Japan and Britain.

"May the Canadian Courier respectfully suggest to Right Hon. Mr. Borden that this question should be taken up with the British government at an early date, and that permission be requested to confer direct with Washington as to what joint arrangements are advisable should an Asiatic power make a descent on the west coast of America? Great Britain has no adequate naval force of her own on the Pacific and no military force. It is therefore a matter of necessity that Canada should arrange with the United States for a Pacific coast defence policy.

The Courier's suggested defence alliance between Canada and the United States is impossible for several reasons. Canada has no power to enter into such an alliance, and traditional United States policy is opposed to any such arrangement on the part of the republic. Even were the Washington government disposed to depart from the wise attitude it has always adopted with regard to entangling alliances, and entered into a pact with Great Britain after 1915, it would be regarded as a direct challenge to a power with which both are friendly, and would create an international atmosphere as sultry as that of Europe. The suggestion of an alliance of this character is scarcely consistent with Canada's dignity as a nation, although we are free to admit that her dignity has suffered considerably from within during the last six months. It is true Mr. Borden's attitude on the naval question exposes this coast to attack, but there is a strong possibility that by 1915 Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be given an opportunity of remedying the situation in this regard. Canadians should be big enough to learn to protect themselves without resorting to an alliance.

Lord Curzon recently said in an address that "the Lord Chancellor is the greatest master of copious irrelevance who has ever spoken in any House." He has evidently not heard our own well-beloved Sir Richard.

Sir Edward Grey must be given credit for no small part of the improvement in the European situation, and more especially for his firm opposition to the Pan Slavist designs upon Scutari. He was easily the strongest and most inspiring figure of the whole ambassadorial conference.

"All the world's a stage and all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances, and man in his time plays many parts, his acts being seven ages." This rhapsody of the melancholy Jacques was suggested to us by the discovery that Alderman Cuthbert had once been a plumber.

Apreros of the Balkan States fighting among themselves the latest copy of Punch to hand has the following: "Europa (complacently)—'Well, so the war is practically over?' Turkey (still more complacently, having heard reports of dissensions among the allies)—'My congratulations, madam. Everything seems to point to the outbreak of a sanguinary peace.'

MARRIAGE AND THE MILITANTS.

Some years ago there was a justice of the peace in rural New England who devised a marriage ceremony which he believed would satisfy the most critical. It had the merit of brevity and consisted of the simple question, "Will you support the Constitution of the United States?" Receiving an affirmative answer he would say, "I pronounce you man and wife; so please," and the knot would be tied. Even this simple formula is now out of date, for most American suffragists, being allied with the Progressive party, would hesitate to swear allegiance to the Constitution. The problem is a vexed one, and has been neglected. When Mrs. Pankhurst gets out of jail she should turn her wits to devising a model ceremony for militants.

Vital Statistics.—There were 1,492 births registered in British Columbia in the first three months of 1913, apart from Vancouver city, which has not made returns. Of this number Victoria City recorded 299, and Victoria district 118. Also eliminating Vancouver city the deaths in the same period were 681, and marriages 441. Of these totals there were 164 marriages in the city, and 13 in the district, and 134 deaths in the city and 37 in the district.

Interviewed Ministers.—The premier was waited upon yesterday afternoon by a deputation from New Westminster, among whom were Thomas Gifford, M. P., and Mayor Gray, in relation to the project of harbor improvements at that place and other matters. A further conference will be held when Sir Richard visits the Royal City next week. Aid Woodside, Vancouver, secured from the attorney-general a promise that the wishes of that city would be met in the matter of the approach to the proposed bridge across the Second Narrows. As the lots were mapped out for sale by the province the approach was not at all a convenient one.

Orphanage Committee Meets.—The report of the visiting committee of the ladies' committee of the British Columbia Protestant Orphan's Home for the past month showed that there were at present 67 children in the home, all of whom were in good health. Mrs. Scofield and Miss Metcalfe were appointed visitors for this month, and the meeting passed bills to the amount of $1,111.22. Donations from the following were acknowledged: Mrs. Hillis, Mrs. Townsend, Ladies of Royal Arcanum, Mrs. Wilkerson, Mrs. Vigilius, "Moose Lodge," A Friend, the S. P. C. A., and Mrs. Joseph Sears. An interesting address was given by Rev. Dr. Scott, the pastor. The meeting next Monday evening is to be devoted to literary work. Three papers on South America will be given by members.

Friendly Help Association.—In the report of the secretary read yesterday at the meeting of the Friendly Help Association, it was shown that fifty families had been assisted during the past month. The need of a free maternity ward in the city was also pointed out. Mrs. Watson presided.

Death Due to Accident.—Joseph McGee, a logger employed at one of the camps in the Comox district, met with an accident on Monday which resulted in his death. The deceased man was for some time an employee of A. E. Mainwaring, of this city, being engaged by him in clearing land in the Cedar Hill district, and was well known here.

Verdict of Suicide.—No reason for the suicide of John B. Roscamp was disclosed at the inquest held yesterday afternoon and a verdict of suicide by hanging was brought in. A son said that his father had retired early Saturday night in good health, apparently good spirits, and had not been seen until he was accidentally found hanging from a rafter in the woodshed the following morning.

Did Not See Second Car.—While being given a tow along Cook street last night by T. P. Courtney's automobile, the car belonging to Mr. Messerschmidt of 1221 Whittaker street was struck by a street car, the motor man having not noticed that the second car was being towed by the first. Mr. Messerschmidt was thrown out but not badly hurt. His car, however, was badly smashed, as was also the front of the street car.

Archbishop of Sydney Coming.—Early next month the Most Reverend John Charles Wright, Archbishop of Sydney and primate of Australia, will pass through Victoria on his way from England, where he is at present visiting, to Sydney, Australia. The archbishop went to Australia in 1910, and under his able control the church there has made rapid advancement in the intervening years.

Constable Stopped Runaway.—For the second time in two weeks it fell to Constable Littlefield, who does traffic duty at the corner of Douglas street and Yates street, to stop a careering runaway yesterday afternoon. This time a team belonging to the Royal Transfer Company broke away from the curb near Humboldt street and continued to Yates street where the officer seized it and after being dragged all the way down to Johnson street brought the horses to a standstill.

Protection of Forests.—For the Vancouver Island and coast district of the province appointments to the forest protection service have been made as follows: William Black, ranger in charge of district; C. E. Fowler, fire warden for Howe Sound island; T. W. Lilly, district of Sechart and Jervis Inlet, headquarters at Pender Harbor; Irwin P. O.; J. A. McGowan, Jervis Inlet to Lund, including coast islands, Powell Lake and Gordon Pasha lake; W. C. ### ARCHITECTS MEET

Victoria Chapter Elects Officers for Year and Hears Reports of Progress.

The following officers were elected at the annual meeting of the Victoria Chapter of Architects last evening in the chapter rooms, Broughton street: J. C. M. Keith, president; Major Ridgeway, vice-president (both re-elected); hon. secretary-treasurer, N. Emms Reid; executive, Messrs. P. L. James, E. N. Butler, H. J. R. Cullin, R. Rose and K. B. Spurgin. It was pointed out during the evening that the organization had increased markedly during the past year, having 62 full members, 25 associate members and five student members. Two of its members had recently been appointed as a committee to act with the building inspector in examining applicants for the position of assistant city building inspector, while another of the organization's members was engaged in drawing up a set of rules in connection with the competition for the Provincial Jubilee hospital plans. Speeches were made by J. C. M. Keith and Major Ridgeway Wilson, Holt Horton, president of the provincial council, also giving a short address during the evening, while great enthusiasm was shown by the members in the business of the meeting.

The business proceedings, including a smoking concert was held, during which a musical programme was contributed by a number of soloists.

TO CONSIDER BRIDGE

City Council Committee on Laurel Point Project Will Meet To-morrow.

The question of the Laurel point bridge has not been lost sight of in the movement for improved harbor works, and the civic committee which is co-operating with other bodies in pushing the movement is to meet to-morrow morning on the subject.

Since the last meeting the steamship companies, who have been the principal opponents of the construction of the bridge, have indicated certain provisions which, if met, would more readily remove their objections to the restriction of the channel, and it is expected that the committee will be able to devise a roller lift bridge of such a type that it will meet the capitalist objections.

It is inevitable that the bridge must be built, and a direct route between Victoria West and James Bay established, if the reserve is to be connected with the ocean shipping. Haulage by road, even with motor trucks, is expensive, and represents a double handling, half of which would be cut off if rails ran directly from the docks to the railway centre.

WARMTH WAS GENERAL

Temperatures Were High Yesterday in Nearly All Northern Pacific Coast Cities.

Yesterday's somewhat unusually high temperature of 69½ degrees in Victoria found its counterpart in nearly all the Northern Pacific coast cities, thunderstorms being reported from Eastern Oregon, and 84 degrees being reported from Portland. At Vancouver the temperature was much above the average for this time of year, although the heat experienced there was several degrees lower than that in Victoria.

High temperatures are recorded from all over the interior of the states of Oregon and California, while in the state of Montana, on the other side of the Rockies, and in Alberta, it is reported that there is now falling this morning, and sharp frosts are being experienced in all the prairie provinces.

The meteorological bureau reports that indications point to local showers, and a slight modification in temperature.

SIX SALOONS CHARGED

Cases of Supplying Liquor to Minor Will Come Up Saturday.

The proprietors of six saloons were charged this morning with supplying liquor to a minor, William Manson, whose birth certificate filed in police court bore a date in 1894. J. A. Alkman appeared for the Maxitoba, Senate, Excelsior and Regent. All Frank Higgins for the Regent. All five were remanded until Saturday on the understanding that the age of the boy was admitted. William Gatt, of the Lighthouse Saloon had no lawyer, but was remanded along with the others and will have a lawyer Saturday.

Overland Delivery Cars in Modern Business

The increasing number of Motor Trucks on our streets and the serious attention now being given to their building by hundreds of automobile makers all point to the fact that the Motor Truck has come to stay. Hard-headed business men everywhere are adopting Overland delivery and transportation only after proof that it pays. Any merchant can save enough on his upkeep bill in one year to pay the larger half of the original cost, while the increased service afforded by an Overland means more business and more satisfaction all round. The owner of an Overland can deliver more goods in less time, with less expense, than the man depending on horse power. Then, again, the advertising value of an Overland is a point worth consideration. Let us prove that an Overland would mean more business for you.

STRONG LIGHTS BLIND EYES OF NAVIGATORS

Night Was Pitch Dark and Officers on Tees Could Not Pick Way Out Into Canal

Undamaged in the slightest through her grounding in Franklin creek, Al-berni canal, the C. P. R. steamer Tees, Capt. Gilliam, returned to port early this morning from her regular semi-monthly trip to Clayoquot. The accident which overtook the Tees and resulted in her remaining ashore until the steamer Salvor reached the creek from Victoria and pulled her into deep water, was one of those which are termed as unavoidable.

Franklin creek is the worst stretch of water in the dangerous canal. There is only a narrow channel, and at the entrance are sand spits on each side. It is tricky enough to navigate in broad daylight, but when it comes to a pitch black night it is an extremely hazardous task. To add to the trials of the officers of the Tees in getting out of the creek two powerful acetylene lights, which are used in order to provide light for the gangs of railroad men who are working at night on the Canadian Northern, shine right in their faces and blind them. The greatest care was utilized in piloting the Tees out, but against such conditions the accident could not have been avoided.

Although the Tees hit when going at a fair rate of speed, she was undamaged by the force of the impact, and her staunch old frames and plates suffered no damage, which shows that the steamer is about as strong as ships are made. There is a waterfront saying, "You can't hurt the old Tees," and it seems to be correct.

One Day Late Sailing. The C. P. R. officials have decided to hold the Tees in port until to-morrow night, which will mean that she will be one day behind her schedule. The steamer will not be hauled out on the ways because an examination conducted by a dive-boat showed that she was as sound as ever. The Tees will in all probability pick up the day before returning from Holberg.

Capt. Gilliam reports fine weather prevailing all the way along the coast. About 20 passengers came in on the Tees from Clayoquot.

ATLANTIC LINERS' MOVEMENTS.

The Allan liner Victorian is expected in Montreal to-day. Passengers are due in Victoria, May 12. The Allan liner Paganian is due in Quebec Friday, May 9, and in Montreal Saturday, May 10. Passengers are due in Victoria May 15. The Gramplan also of the Allan line, is due in Montreal to-day. Passengers are due in Victoria May 13. All steamers have been delayed on account of bad fog off Cape Race.

ROYAL MAIL ISSUES SCHEDULE FOR YEAR

Following Flintshire, Due Here May 24, Ships Will Come Every Month

FINE CLASS OF LINERS WILL COME IN SERVICE

Expected That Ships Will Later Adopt Semi-Weekly Schedule

According to a schedule of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company which has just been issued, the steamship Flintshire is to inaugurate the service from London via the Suez canal. She is due to arrive here on May 24, but it is probable that she will make port one day ahead of time. The Flintshire is now in the Orient discharging European cargo and taking on Oriental freight. She cleared from London on February 12, according to the schedule. The schedule which has been forwarded to the Times shows that the Royal Mail has assigned steamships to the run up to July of next year. The steamships which are to follow the Flintshire and the dates of their arrival here are:

- Falls of Orchy, June 20.
- Harpagus, July 20.
- Vestalla, August 22.
- Den of Ruthven, October 3.
- Glenoglan, October 31.
- Den of Crombie, November 23.
- Den of Glamis, December 24.
- Flintshire, January 23, 1914.
- Glenstrae, February 20.
- Vestalla, March 20.
- Monmouthshire, April 15.
- Falls of Orchy, May 15.
- Den of Ruthven, June 12.
- Glenoglan, July 10.

Will Not Call Outward. The Royal Mail has not included Victoria in its ports of call on the outward trips. Whenever sufficient freight offers, however, the boats will be sent here to load.

After the trade is worked up it is likely that the Royal Mail will make the service semi-weekly.

On the way to Victoria after leaving London the Royal Mail liners will call at Antwerp, Rotterdam, Middlesbrough, Hull, Port Said, Colombo, Penang, Fort Swatow, Singapore, Hongkong, Shanghai, Manila, Kobe and Yokohama.

BARQUE TOWING TO SEATTLE TO PAINT

Local Shipyards Are Too Busy to Take Care of Jordan Hill; Rowena Coming To-night

Owing to the fact that the Victoria shipyards are so busy and are unable to handle any additional work at the present time, the British four-masted barque Jordan Hill, Capt. Stephens, which has been in the royal roads for several days discharging ballast, is to be towed to Seattle, where she will be hauled out and cleaned and painted. It is expected that the sailer will be taken across the Sound upon the return of the tug Lorne from Cape Flattery.

The owners of the Jordan Hill intended to have her placed in drydock here, but unfortunately the Lord Derby occupied the big basin at Esquimalt, the Princess Sophia is on the B. C. Marine ways, and consequently all intentions to have the barque overhauled here had to be abandoned. After completing her repair work at Seattle the Jordan Hill will tow to Bellingham, where she will load 2,000,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom.

Rowena Over at Angeles. Some time to-night it is expected that the British barque Rowena, Capt. Williams, will be towed into the royal roads to an anchorage. She was picked up at Cape Flattery yesterday and towed to Fort Angeles, where she is now awaiting the arrival of the tug Lorne, which will bring her across the straits. The Rowena is to proceed to Vancouver after discharging here, and load a cargo of lumber at Hastings Mills.

MANY LEAVE ON PUEBLA

The Pacific coast steamship City of Puebla, Capt. Hannab, left port this morning at 8:30 o'clock for San Francisco, with a large list of passengers and much freight. Among the passengers who disembarked here were the following: Capt. Meyers, H. Townsend, Mrs. E. Townsend, Mrs. E. G. Camden, Mr. and Mrs. M. Howard, J. H. Bland, Mrs. E. L. O'Neil, Miss E. O'Neil and Mrs. E. Patterson.

The steamship Queen, of the same line, will berth here some time to-morrow night from the Golden Gate. She has 428 tons of general merchandise for Victoria, including 123 tons of cement and 50 tons of plaster.

SEA LIONS "PLAYED" WITH JESSIE'S CREW

Fishermen Were Much Annoyed With Antics of Fish Grabbers; Several Were Shot

Outside of rough weather, sea lions are the worst enemies of the fishermen. They play havoc with the bait and when they connect with a hook they tangle up lines and trawls and give the fishermen no end of trouble. When the fishing schooner Jessie, Capt. Geo. Heater, returned to port at an early hour this morning the crew several sea lions were strung up drying and the heads decorated the exterior of the cabin.

It appears that when the Jessie reached her favorite fishing grounds a great number of sea lions were sporting there, chasing herring and halibut. The fishermen of the Jessie put off in their jackets and soon had their lines and trawls out. It was not long before one of the boats hoisted an ear, which was a signal for trouble. Capt. Heater put off in another dory with a rifle, for he understood that a sea lion was on the lines owing to the way the fishermen were acting.

One Shot Fixed It. When Capt. Heater reached the boat which was in trouble he saw that the lines were tangled up and that the sea lions would not let them sink. One good shot was enough for the sea animal, especially when the master of Jessie was doing the shooting, and the lion sank into the depths of the ocean and helped to carry the lines with it. When the gear was hauled in the sea lion was skinned and it is to be preserved.

The sea lion is a foxy animal. It prowls around the fishing gear and snaps off the herring bait right to the hooks, generally managing to miss being caught. It is a heavy eater and will stow away about ten or twelve good-sized halibut before feeling that it has had enough. It bites the halibut off to the head, and when the fishermen haul in their lines, they find much to their chagrin, that they have nothing but heads.

Record Haul of Halibut. The Jessie brought back to port almost a full load of fish. Stowed in her fish locker were 45,000 pounds of halibut, the biggest haul the fishermen of the Jessie have made since entering the business. The schooner was only absent from port for seven days and Capt. Heater says that the weather was of the finest of the coast.

Owing to the fact that Victoria will be unable to handle all the fish which the Jessie brought in, the schooner is being dispatched to Vancouver this afternoon. She will put off 40,000 pounds there. At the Terminal City at the present time there is a big demand for halibut.

AROUND THE SHIP CHANDLER'S STOVE

CAUGHT THE SHARK WHICH SWALLOWED DAD'S BINOCULARS.

"One time when I was sailing between Nova Scotia and South America with my father, I remember that my dad dropped his prize pair of binoculars over the ship's side. About three years later I was on another trip, as mate of a barque, and I caught a big lump of a shark. We hauled it on deck, and did the butcher act, and believe me, my lads, I recovered my father's glasses. The old sea tiger had just swallowed those binocs, and on my next trip home I handed them over to the old man in a dandy case. It is not always a case that a person recovers anything that he had lost overboard, but this old mariner, who was down at the ship chandler's this morning, was willing to stake his life that the story he was telling was as true as it is possible to tell them in this age.

"You see, my father had won these binoculars in a training school, where he took the highest honors in the nautical examinations. They were certainly a dandy pair, and were engraved with the boy's autograph. I guess that's what they call it. The skipper had never let them out of his hands, so highly did he prize them. One hot day when we were near the equator my dad was leaning over the after rail, scanning the horizon. I was always up to some prank or another. Well, I thought I'd just scare the old man, so I stole up behind him and hollered my head off, and walloped him on the back. I scared my dad all right, and about a minute later he about scared me stiff.

"In my father's excitement he released his hold on the prize binoculars, and he watched them drop into the sea. "You young blue-blooded scoundrel, what do you mean by this behavior? There's those fine glasses of mine gone to the bottom of the ocean. If it wasn't for your mother, I'd have you into the sea for them." He came out to see what the trouble was.

"Back and forth across the poop paced my father, and every once in a while he gave me a look—one of those awful black ones—which just about chilled the marrow in my bones. I could plainly see that my father was very angry with me, and I hardly knew how to square away from him. "Look here now dad, just as sure as I'm standing here I will recover those glasses for you, if I have to walk across the ocean bed in a diver's suit." This is what I finally put in. My father looked up at me as much as to say "You're a tough one!" But I let on, and he at last said, "Well, I'll forgive you, if you'll make a promise of that kind.

Morning Paper Refuses to Give Information About Recent Items

REPRESENTATIVE CLEARS ALDERMEN OF CHARGE

Inquiry Fails to Disclose Cause of Leakages From Private Meetings

For over two hours last evening the city council sought in vain to discover the source responsible for the leakage of information of a confidential character recently.

Except to establish the points that no alderman gave out the information to the morning paper about the proceedings in camera of the council when City Clerk Dowler's case was discussed, and that no alderman supplied the copy of the estimates which were published in the Colonist while the matter was private, the aldermen did not get any farther.

The representative of the paper concerned (J. W. B. Macdougall) was unwilling at first to be sworn, but relented to the extent that the oath was administered to him to prove that he did not receive the information from any alderman. Beyond that he refused to budge, and absolutely declined to make any statement as to how the information came into his possession.

Questions Committee's Power. C. H. Lugin, editor of the paper, refused at first to be sworn, questioning the power of the committee to enforce it under the resolution of appointment.

Much of the time of the evening was wasted on points of order and the extent to which the discussion should be allowed to go, the mayor coming into constant conflict with Alderman Cuthbert, chairman of the committee, on the subject under consideration.

Each of the aldermen went on the stand with the exception of Alderman McNeill, who sent an affidavit, and Alderman Humber. They all swore that neither by direct nor indirect suggestion did they allow any information to leak out to the Colonist newspaper.

Four of them had taken part in an oyster supper at the New England restaurant after the famous secret session, and to the surprise of all, Alderman Diworth told the committee that for three-quarters of an hour the conversation had been carried on in whispers—somehow unusual for four men—and afterwards Alderman Cuthbert had driven Alderman McNeill to the Vancouver boat, and the others home.

The chairman questioned the right of the mayor to take part in the discussions as the committee was one restricted to the aldermen only, but the city solicitor advised that the mayor by statute was a member of all committees.

It developed that the mayor had instructed the city hall janitor, Mr. Davies, to patrol the city hall corridors to see that no press representatives were present.

Alderman Houston rose impatiently at the close and said the aldermen looked like a lot of asses, and moved the proceedings be ended. For his part he would never take in a private sitting again.

As the other two aldermen were not in attendance, the inquiry was adjourned to meet at the call of the chair.

SPASSING SHOW

John Drew.

Charles Frohman will present John Drew and his company in Alfred Sutor's latest comedy, "The Perplexed Husband," at the Victoria theatre, Friday, May 9. This delightful satire, which was voted by press and public as the most amusing play in which Mr. Drew has appeared for years during his stay at the Empire theatre, New York, will be seen with the original cast.

Nat C. Goodwin, in his famous characterization of Fagin in "Oliver Twist," will be the attraction at the Victoria theatre Saturday, May 10. The dramatic version of Dickens' immortal story used is that made by Conyn Carr, the same as used by Mr. Goodwin at the New Avenue theatre, New York, where the play was first produced there.

An excellent programme is on the bill at the Majestic to-day and Thursday, "The Woe of Battle" scenes including a view from inside a fort, which is bombarding a passing river steambot supposed to be loaded with ammunition, and also the final destruction of the fort by fire and an explosion.

Al Herman, who is a veritable riot in black face, is one of the leaders of a strong brigade of performers at the Empress. He never misses anything that will make a joke, not the sidewalk scene, Frank Stafford and Marie Stone, who are in the Hunter's Game, are assisted in a versatile act by Don and Rox, a couple of dogs, showing the results of careful and clever training.

IRON MAN M'GINNITY BEATS THE LOCALS SINGLE-HANDED

Creates New Record for Speed; Fans Seven, Does Not Give a Pass and Shuts Out Bees 7 to 0

Again did victory fall before the Jilted Ones. With the one and only Iron Man McGinnity on the slab, the Bees were shut out yesterday afternoon at the ball park, the final roll call being Tacoma, 7; Victoria, 0. It was an inglorious rout at the hands of the invaders, and those who are prone to indulge in a little hammering had a grand feast at the expense of the Bees. The locals failed to hit with their accustomed vigor and aided by many unlooked for boos and bone plays, found little opposition in rolling up seven runs, while they treated "our boys" to a coat of lard. A long row of ciphers was all that the Bees could get, and if the score board attendant hadn't been on the job, Victoria wouldn't have been noticed.

It wasn't necessary for the Tigers to get the "breaks" yesterday. Victoria made openings enough for the Bengal crew to drive a truck through. Johnny Rawlings, had an off day, which means a really bad display by the local short fielder. Then Slim Smith had little more than his glove and the Tacoma aggregation combed his offerings to all corners of the lot, his delivery, which netted more than enough to win. The Iron Man, on the other hand, used a tantalizing change of pace, and an out curve that had the locals breaking their backs to connect. McGinnity worked very fast and finished the game in seventy-five minutes, a record for the league this year. He did not allow the Bees to recover from the shock of that first inning when a couple of bobbies allowed Tacoma to score, and mowed 'em down in one, two, three order. But thirty-one batsmen faced the former McGrawite and he breezed seven, did not pass a man, and in short gave the greatest exhibition of pitching that local fans have gazed on this year.

A Great Leader. McGinnity has accomplished what no other leader in the Northwestern could do—made a ball team out of players who had been released by other clubs, and is now in third place with bright prospects of rising higher. He had his team fighting all the way and was better the luckless individual who is not on his toes when the play is made in his direction. McGinnity was known as a hard taskmaster in the International League, but he got results. His acquisition as manager and club owner by the Northwestern circuit is the greatest move towards improving the league that has been made in several seasons. He has a nice working infield, an outfield that can slug the ball, and a sifty pitching corps, headed by one of the greatest mound masters the game ever knew, Joseph McGinnity.

Feltz Grand Catch. Overshadowed as the game was by the magnificent twirling of the veteran, Tacoma's speed in the field and a circus catch by Feltz, featured the game. The Indians, especially Ruell, gave McGinnity perfect support. Lamb, Shea and Brooks pulled off a nice double play that shut off a couple of scores in the third. Lou Nordyke singled safely on his first three appearances at the plate, laid down a nice sacrifice and scored a run, in addition to having seven put outs. Stadville, Keller and Kennedy, also had a brace of clouts off Smith. Bert Delmas was the heavy striker for the locals, getting a couple of safeties.

New Face in Rogues Gallery. Another second-story artist appeared in our midst in the person of Umpire Edinger. This gentleman has the reach of Jess Willard, and a voice that even the faintest Garso would envy. He made a big hit with his announcing, and had the players keyed up all the way. Fielder Jones called Jimmy Toman to Portland, and Umpa Edinger will be on the job for the rest of the week. He got away nicely yesterday, but the fans have not yet thrown away their reserve supply of pop bottles, and may still be called upon to way lay the Indicator specialist should he stray from the straight and narrow path.

Kiddo Wilson was expected to work for the Bees to-day, while either Cannon or Kurtes was to do slab duty for the Tigers.

at an infielder. He may be setting a bad example, but he is the boss. Well anyway, the fans cannot kick on the weather, even if the team is not winning. It's a good thing that Rawlings got those errors out of his system. We can now proceed to play real ball.

Why about about the Bees? New York Americans have just finished a series without winning a game on their home grounds. Clyde Keller is surely playing nice ball for McGinnity, but the question is, will he continue at his present clip? Denny Shea is getting to be the real leader in the popularity race. Shea is working all the time, and the fans recognize his efforts. Now if we could only have scored even one little tiny run, it would not have been so bad. The first shutout and by Tacoma, too! Lamb is certainly belting the ball right on the nose. His double to deep left in the sixth gave us a chance, but Melchoice went out on an infield tap. There were men on first and third in the second, but McGinnity tightened up and fanned both Feltz and Shea. Tacoma ran wild on the sacks, but Shea's throwing was not to blame. They got big leads in each instance, and once the throw went to centre field because no one covered the bag. Victoria made eighteen assists, including two from the outfield, but the locals did not get everything they should have at that. Lynch changed his batting order in an effort to start something, but the Bees were opposed to the greatest kind of twirling and could do little.

Riordan, the kid catcher, who was behind the plate for the Tacoma veteran, took all his signals from McGinnity. Eddie Gleason announces that he is going to increase his percentage on peanuts in order to bring about a change of luck. Hap Morse, of the Victoria baseball team, was turned over to Medicine Hat last night. The club is still looking for another outfielder and a pitcher. Stanley, who was turned over to Portland Coast Club Sunday last, pitched his first game, and acquitted himself with glory. He was opposed by McIvor, the high school boy, who pitched a good game for Seattle, the serious difference between him and the Portland twirler being that Stanley was air-tight in the pinches and McIvor was not.

AS SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

There was too much iron on the ball. If McGinnity used the spitter the ball might get rusty. Feltz is a grand fielder, but is no Wagner with the willow. Pinky Grindle and Dick Kaufman had a swell time on the coaching lines. McGinnity refused to run out his infield taps, and walked back to the Tacoma bench every time he drove one

FIVE PRO. LACROSSE FIXTURES FOR OAK BAY THIS SEASON

Lacrosse Commission Now a Certainty; Local Referees to Handle All League Games; Jones is Confident

Con. Jones announces that he has every player with the exception of Micky Ions signed for the season. The Vancouver magnate was present at last night's meeting of the B. C. L. A., which was held at the Empress hotel, and is very enthusiastic over the prospects of the Minto cup returning to the Terminal City club.

"I will have the weak points of last year's team strengthened," said Jones, "and in addition, I will not have the friction which so marred the work of the Vancouver club last year."

Local Referees.

Even though Victoria will not be represented by a club in the league this year, four Victorians will handle all the games that will be played between the Vancouver and New Westminster clubs this year. The quartette are Fred White, Fred Cullin, Herbert Jesse and Bob Dewar. All four are prominent in local athletic circles and know the game thoroughly. They will be paid at the rate of $50 per game each, and will work alternately. Should any of the men not be able to act at any time during the summer, their substitutes will be appointed by the president. The association went on record as opposed to managerial complaints, and the president has authority to throw out all such matters should he consider that action justifiable.

Commission Assured.

H. Cowan was appointed to represent the Coast club at a meeting to be held in Winnipeg, in a few weeks' time, when the lacrosse commission will come into being. The delegates from the east and west will work in conjunction with a legal adviser who will frame up a constitution that will serve the leagues for all time. This will prohibit the jumping of players, but will not interfere with the constitution of either league.

Five Games Here.

John Virtue, the Victoria club owner, completed arrangements last night for two additional games in the capital. Three league games between Westminister and Vancouver are to be played at Oak Bay, while the same teams will play an exhibition game during summer carnival week, and will also stage a contest at Oak Bay during exhibition week. This was done in order to give the Victoria lacrosse enthusiasts an opportunity to witness the greatest lacrosse clubs in the world in action, and also to build up support for pro. lacrosse in the Capital next season.

There were present at last night's meeting: President A. E. Killington, Secretary F. J. Lynch, J. A. Virtue, Lionel York, W. E. Ditchburn, W. C. Moresby and E. McDonald, representing Victoria; Con. Jones representing Vancouver and Tom Gilford representing New Westminster.

RUDOLPH TO BOSTON.

Toronto Twirler Sold for $4,000 to the Braves.

New York, May 6.—Manager Stallings, of the Boston National League club, closed a deal whereby the team secures Pitcher Dick Rudolph from the Toronto club, of the International League. Stallings also telegraphed the formal release of Kling, the catcher, to the Cincinnati club. With a cash consideration for Kling goes infielder McDonald from Cincinnati to the Boston.

Rudolph's signature was secured in Boston to a contract. Stallings had telegraphed President Kelly at Toronto that $4,000 and Pitcher Brown would be given for Rudolph's release.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

At an organization meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Athletic Club, R. P. Christie was elected president and H. White-oak secretary. Two practices a week are to be held, that on Tuesdays being the harrier run at 9 p. m., starting from the building, and the other on Fridays at 6.30 on the Oak Bay ground for track athletics.

HOCKEY STAR ACTS

Messrs. W. Small and T. H. Dines have been appointed to take charge of the city playgrounds during the season. The girls will be in charge of Miss Jarvis, who supervised their games last year.

A meeting of the members of the Victoria Curling Club and others interested in the sport will be held in McLaren & Main's office, Sayward block, Thursday night at 8 o'clock. The business will be the consideration of estimates submitted for the erection of rinks here.

DECOTEAU COMING.

Hal Beasley got back from a visit to Edmonton yesterday. Decoteau promised to compete in the track meet here during Carnival week.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Bees Surely Deserved Yesterday's Beating.

Unable to fathom McGinnity's delivery, booting half a dozen easy chances and with Slim Smith serving up groove balls, the Bees were due for a good walloping yesterday and they collected. It would have taken a Mathewson to beat McGinnity yesterday and Lynch knew this full well when he refused to take Smith out of the box. The Tigers simply had on their batting clothes and belted the cork centre to every section of the Dominion. Just what happened to the Bees is hard to say. Lynch switched his batting order in an effort to produce results, but this did not help any. The team needs a good hard-hitting outfielder and a strong right-hander, just as soon as these can be procured. Then Lynch will have a well-balanced ball club. In the meantime it is up to the fans to help things along by showing their good sportsmanship, even though the team is dropping a few games.

Shield Trustees Decide on Neutral Grounds.

That was a fine feat that the officers of the mainland soccer organization attempted to put over on the Victoria Wests when they decided that the shield should be awarded to the B. C. Electric eleven as champions of the province for 1913. The mainland officials knew perfectly well at the time that they were not abiding by the rules of the shield in so doing and it was simply an effort to put one over on the Island champions. As matters now stand the shield will be retained by the trustees until the soccer champions have decided what shall be the playing ground. Victoria favors Nanaimo, which is just as close to Vancouver as it is to Victoria, while the Terminal City champions want to play at Coquitlam. A toss of the coin to decide which of these two towns shall get the match, appears to be a fair method of deciding this ticklish question.

Sam Lorimer Wants the Mann Cup.

There is a feeling amongst the members of the Victoria Lacrosse Club that they did not get the real worth of their lacrosse ability from their showing in the B. C. A. L. A. last summer and this year. The locals are going right after the Coast amateur championship and the Mann Cup with a vengeance. Three times a week Sam Lorimer has his squad working out at the Royal Athletic Park and it will not be for lack of condition that the locals will not carry off the honors on May 17, when they meet the present cup-holders, the V. A. C. at the Terminal City. Every one of last year's team is again available and with the extra year's experience, the Victoria twelve should about clean up. The amateurs are now selling their season tickets for the four home games, and no better way of supporting Canada's national game can be shown by the local enthusiasts than by "kicking in" with the price of a season's pasteboard.

HOW WE STAND

There are forty-five counts in the nine indictments against Jack Johnson, the maximum penalty collectively being forty-five years in the penitentiary or a fine of $90,000, or both.

Very hot under the collar over a story published in Vancouver to the effect that the real reason the Scaler-Hyland bout was called off was because Scaler's end was garnished. Unless full retraction is made it is stated, action will be taken.

BOXING RULES FOR OLD COUNTRY

New York, May 7.—The New York Athletic Association, through its secretary, Charles J. Harvey, is trying to enlist the support and endorsement of Lord Londale in an effort to bring about an international standardization of boxing weights, and Harvey has requested Freddie Welsh, the lightweight champion, to communicate with his lordship.

The commission's scale of weights is: Paper, 108; bantam, 115; feather, 125; light, 135; welter, 145; middle, 155; commission, 175; heavy, all over 175.

The English scale is: Fly, 112; bantam, 118; feather, 125; light, 135; welter, 147; middle, 160; heavy, all over 160.

MORGAN'S ART SCOUT WAS CLOSE FRIEND

The World Was His Hunting Ground and He Won Many Prizes

I. H. FITZHENRY GUARDED FINANCIER FROM FRAUD

Hidden by the news of J. Pierpont Morgan's death is the story of how Joseph Henry Fitzhenry died. The two were joined in friendship by their love of art. They idolized the same paintings and the same porcelains.

They bought them jointly, in fact. The millionaire's wealth and the expert's knowledge—Fitzhenry was an expert—were the two things that brought together the most wonderful private collection in the world. And it was Morgan's realization of the approach of the end that brought about an act that was destined to shorten his friend's life.

Fitzhenry's Life a Mystery.

Morgan made millions because he could not help it. The use of his gifts made his fortune grow whether he would or not. He scoured Europe for works of art. The world was his hunting ground. Then, one day, he found Fitzhenry. Where he had come from no one knew. But he spoke French perfectly, and so romances grew around him that made him the hero of all sorts of stories. "He is really a French marquis," some said, and there were other tales that were just as true.

But at Christie's gallery in London he had been known for forty years. Wherever works of art were for sale, there he was every day, seeing the beautiful things he worshipped pass into wealthier hands.

Guarded Morgan From Fraud.

George Salting, the art-loving millionaire, who left many wonderful things to the British nation, was a friend of his. But Morgan became an intimate.

"People are robbing me," he said. "Be my expert. Tell me what to buy. I am a busy man."

The Morgan collection grew rapidly then—it was easier to buy now, with an expert always watching, always careful—and as it grew the multimillionaire wondered, "What shall I do with it?" he asked.

Lived Among Art Treasures.

His home in New York was closed to his treasures, so prohibitive was the duty placed on antiquities by the American customs. The London house overflowed soon. Then the Victoria and Albert exhibition, round the corner, was allowed to benefit. Silver, the work upon which was worth many times the metal's value, was lent to the authorities and placed in cases. More than one and one-half million dollars' worth of jewels, three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of carved ivory and bronzes and porcelain valued at one and one-half millions were lent to the museum, where, in forty cases, they were among the most wondrous treasures of the nation's storehouse of art.

The Fitzhenry moved to 12 Thurloe place, right across the street, and only about thirty yards from the museum's door, and, as Morgan's highly paid expert, he became the unpaid custodian of his employer's treasures. Day after day he went there—he almost lived here, in fact. He would look at the

Had Nothing Except Art to Live For.

But the American authorities grew wise and took off the duties which were keeping outside their museums and their private galleries the treasures of the Eastern world. At the same time Morgan felt that he was growing old.

"If I leave them in England," he said, "they will make me pay death duties on them when I die."

So orders were given, and to the grief of every art lover in England, almost the whole collection was packed and sent to the United States. And when that packing case left, Fitzhenry sighed. He had nothing left to live for, he said. When a man really thinks that, it may be true.

January 26, a month after the last nail had been hammered in and the last van had been sent off to the station, the old man took to his bed, and two weeks before death claimed J. Pierpont Morgan, Fitzhenry died.

WILL DEVELOP TRADE WITH SOUTH AMERICA

Possibilities of Great Development of Business Also With West Indies

The Canadian says:

The completion of the Panama Canal will probably do more to open up South America than anything which has ever taken place. Canada unfortunately, has little or no trade with the various South American Republics, although there are great possibilities for large development.

Canada through her reciprocity treaty with the West Indies, expects to develop a much larger business with those islands. It has been suggested that the Canadian government should extend the reciprocity agreement with the West Indies, and include all or as many of the South American Republics as possible.

Last year our trade with South America was in the neighborhood of $11,600,000. This year it is expected to be in the neighborhood of $14,000,000. On the other hand, the United States exports some $400,000,000 worth of goods to the various South American countries, much of which could be captured by Canadian business men had we better steamship connections, consuls located in the larger cities in South America, and efforts made to secure the business.

The only competitor Canada has in South America is the Argentine Republic. This country has a population of about 7,000,000, and competes with Canada in wheat and cattle in the British market.

Republics in the Limelight.

We have now a trade commissioner located in Buenos Ayres, and it is expected that our business with Argentina will be materially increased.

The opening of the Panama Canal has attracted fresh attention to these South American Republics. There has been expansion in the southern half of the hemisphere and everything points towards still further expansion. The total trade of Argentina in 1908 was $670,000,000 and in 1910 to $752,000,000. The railway development in 1909 was very extensive, some 2,000 miles being completed and open for traffic during the year.

In the matter of commerce with Argentina, Great Britain has a commanding lead over all its rivals, shipping to that country more goods than the United States and Germany combined. At the close of 1909 there were in operation 15,849 miles of railway, representing a capitalization of $900,000,000.

In 1909 Argentina exported 3,300,000 metrical tons of wheat and a total of 11,200,000 tons of grains (the metrical ton weighs 2204.6 pounds and contains about forty bushels of wheat). Another valuable export is wool, of which she exports some $60,000,000 worth a year.

Growth Found Everywhere.

Among other South American Republics is Bolivia, which is the third largest of the South American Republics, and which is growing rapidly in wealth and in importance as a commercial country. This country's trade is largely with the United States, followed by Germany and Great Britain; Canada's trade with Bolivia is a negligible quantity.

Brazil, the largest of the South American Republics, shows a remarkable expansion. Canadians are somewhat familiar with this country through their investments in Rio and Sao Paulo stock and through our imports of coffee, rubber, etc. Our business, however, is but a very small proportion of that transacted by Great Britain, Germany and the United States.

Chile is another country which is forging to the front, and is increasing her foreign trade at a very rapid rate. In a measure, the same story is told by Peru, Colombia and the various other republics in the Southern Hemisphere.

Except for spasmodic outbreak, the governments of the various republics is rather more stable than was the case a few years ago, and investments are comparatively safe. The great point to be remembered is that there will be a wonderful expansion in these countries following the opening of the Panama Canal.

Daring Feats of War Correspondents

The splendid tribute which Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood paid to the late Melton Prior, when he unveiled a memorial to the famous artist-correspondent of the Illustrated London News in the crypt of St. Paul's cathedral, was in no sense exaggerated. Prior was one of the war artists of modern times, and in these days of cables, telegrams and cameras it is not easy to realize the conditions under which he and his contemporaries worked. As Sir Evelyn remarked, Prior would probably be the last of the artist-correspondents, for to-day the camera has taken the place of sketch-book and pencil.

Altogether Prior went through thirteen campaigns, dating from the Ashanti war in 1874 to the Russo-Japanese fight in 1903. He was present during the Serbian and Turko-Russian campaign of 1876. He witnessed the destruction of Baker Pasha's troops at El Teb in 1884, and was with Wolsey's relief expedition which went up the Nile in the same year. An incident related in his recently-published biography provides a striking illustration of his intrepid character and the conditions under which he worked. In one campaign he got close up to the firing line, and while the shells hurtled around him he lay behind a hillock and coolly sketched the scene. "I was very funny, but I got what I wanted," he says, simply.

Earlier Correspondents.

The first of the artist-correspondents of the Victorian era was Wm. Simpson, who in 1858, placed at the disposal of the Illustrated London News, and went through numerous campaigns for that paper. He did yeoman press service in the Franco-Prussian war, sketched the French sortie at Metz, and entered Metz at the surrender along with the German troops. Again, when the Afghans broke out, he was to be found in the thick of the fight, and was undoubtedly one of the most venturesome war artists of modern times.

Neither must one forget the work in later years of another of the brilliant band of Illustrated London News war artists—Frederic Villiers—who, at the present time, is with the Bulgarian forces as representative of that paper. Mr. Villiers gained his first experience as a war artist in Serbia as far back as 1876, and since that time he has travelled nearly all over the world. In 1882 he was on board the Condor with Lord Charles Berosford at the bombardment of Alexandria; he accompanied the Nile expedition for the relief of Khartoum; he went through the South Africa campaign, and had some thrilling adventures during the Russo-Japanese war. Mr. Villiers was the first to introduce the cinematograph camera on to the battlefield, and he was also the first correspondent to use a bicycle during a campaign.

It is an interesting fact that the first correspondent sent out by a newspaper in Great Britain to describe the war was Henry Crabb Robinson, the famous English writer, who died 45 years ago, and who, during 1807-9, witnessed and described for the London Times the battle in Spain against Napoleon. Ultimately Robinson returned and was called to the bar, afterwards rising to be leader of the Norfolk circuit, retiring in 1828 with a pension of £2,500.

Greatest of Them All.

Perhaps the greatest war correspondent who ever lived was Sir Wm. Howard Russell, who went through the Crimea, and whose letters describing the bad management of the war officials led to the downfall of a ministry. Later he was present at the siege and capture of Lucknow in 1858, while in 1861 he went to the United States, his account of the federal retreat at the first battle of Bull Run exciting much adverse feeling.

Not only, however, was Russell a wonderful war correspondent, his accounts, for instance, of the battle of Sedan, the Zulu war, and the Egyptian war of 1882 being marvels of descriptive writing, but he was also a splendid peace correspondent, and during his career was responsible for much of the international news and revelations which appeared in the columns of the Times.

Russell was an intimate friend of the late King Edward, who called him "Billy." When he was invested with his knighthood in 1902, the King said to him, "You must not trouble to kneel, Billy—stoop!" and he gave him his right hand to shake. At that time Russell was over 80 years of age.

Forbes' Famous Ride.

The most famous Daily News correspondent was undoubtedly Archibald Forbes, who, after an education at Aberdeen university, had an adventurous career as a private in the Royal Dragoons. Ultimately he settled in London and formed a journalistic connection. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out he accomplished some marvelous feats in the way of transmission of news; he was also employed as a special correspondent during the Russo-Turkish war, and at great personal risk sent to the Daily News the famous accounts of the crossing of the Danube, of the battle round Plevna, and in the Shkoda Pass. Mr. Forbes also went through the Zulu war of 1879, and was present at the victory of Ulundi. It was then he made his famous ride of 110 miles in 15 hours, by which he sent the earliest account of the battle to England.

It is a fact not generally known that Mr. Le Sage, the managing editor of the Daily Telegraph, proved himself during the Franco-Prussian war, a very enterprising war correspondent. He went through all the stirring incidents of the siege of Paris, and tells the story of how one day news of the signing of an armistice by the belligerent forces was handed him by an eminent authority, whose name is known to almost every person in Europe. Realizing its value, the correspondent hurried with all speed to the Gare du Nord, and set himself to work to charter a special train from Paris to Calais. Here he found that he had been forestalled by the special covering correspondent of the Times, who had utilized the only train available. Determined, however, that his paper should be the first to impart the startling news to the world, he commandeered a train which was about to start for Lille. Arrived here he was successful in getting his news through to England, and a special edition of his paper containing it was being sold in the streets some two or three hours before the dispatches had been received at the offices of any other paper.

A South African "Scoop."

But the Daily Telegraph has never had a more wonderful correspondent than Bennett Burleigh, the veteran campaigner who is now at the front. One of Mr. Burleigh's best "scoops" was his interview with Joubert on the eve of the last South African war. The slow train by which he was traveling was overtaken by a special one which Joubert and his staff were going to the front. Burleigh waited until it was moving out of the station, and then bluffed the station master into stopping it by signal, telling him that he had been left behind. The special stopped, and Burleigh got on board—to be congratulated heartily by Joubert on his enterprise, and to get from the Boer generalissimo a capital interview.

Lord Tennyson's Stirring Tribute to the Heroism of Montenegro.

The situation in which little Montenegro finds itself in consequence of the action of the powers with regard to Scutari brings to mind the stirring tribute of Lord Tennyson to this heroic nation:

"They rose to where their sovran eagle sails
They kept their faith, their freedom, on the height,
Chaste, frugal, savage, armed by day and night
Against the Turk; whose inroad nowhere
Their headlong passes, but his footstep falls,
And red with blood the Crescent reels
Before their dauntless hundreds, in prone flight
By thousands down the crags and thro'
the vales.
O smallest among peoples! rough rock-throne
Of Freedom! warriors beating back the swarm
Of Turkish Islam for five hundred years,
Black Tergoos! never since, thine own
Black ridges drew the cloud and brake
the storm
Has breathed a race of mightier mountaineers."

THE EVENING CHIT-CHAT
 By RUTH CAMERON
 "It is when we are young that we say, 'I shall never' and 'I shall always'—not knowing that we are only time's atoms in a crucible of incredible change. An old man scarce dares say 'I have never,' for he knows that if he searches he will find probably that he has. 'All—all is change.'"
 Booth Parkington.
 "There's one thing I'll never do," I heard a young girl say the other day, apropos of a friend's marriage to a young man with more prospects than salary, "I'll never marry a man who is getting a cent less than $40 a week."
 "If it were possible for me to lift the veil that lies across my future, I would not do it. I believe most of us are happier knowing just the present, but I must say I would like to be able to look ten years ahead into that girl's future, and see if anything happens to that cock-sure assertion of hers.
 I suppose you thought when you read that opening sentence that I was going to use it to launch myself into a tirade upon the extravagant matrimonial standard of the girl of to-day. Not at all. Of course the remark did suggest that line of thought. But as England's great story-teller so often says, "That's another story." What it set me to thinking most seriously was this: that it's a mighty risky business to prophesy what we will or will not do under this or that condition.
 Is there anyone among my readers, I wonder, who is not doing at least one thing which he has said he never would?
 I doubt it.
 Of course there's a chance that this cock-sure young person may stick to that vow, but I think there's every bit as good a chance that she won't—perhaps better.
 I will remember an energetic young woman who used to be horrified for cause her newly married friends were paying $25 and $38 a month for rent. When she was married, she used to say, she would never pay more than $25. She is now paying $40 a month.
 Another young business woman who knew too well the danger that wives run when they go serenely away for the whole summer and leave their husbands to shift for themselves, was very fond of saying, "When I'm married I'll go away with my husband on his vacation, and perhaps I'll stay a week or two more, but I'll never go off for the whole three months. I don't think it's right."
 For the first two years of her married life she was true to that "never"; then the babies came, and then she wanted the country air for them, and now she goes away in May and comes back in October.
 Of course she didn't reckon with the power of maternal solicitude when she made that vow; but that's just it, we never can reckon, we never can realize just how we would feel under conditions we haven't experienced, and therefore we have no business to say what we would or would not do.
 It is as if a man should pretend to solve an equation with two unknown quantities,—himself and the conditions.
 We know in part and therefore we ought to prophesy in part. Or, better still, not at all.
 Ruth Cameron

RELEASES DUE SOME OF BEES

Wolverton Appealed To; Outfielder and Pitcher Needed

President Wattleit wired Sacramento again last night for another right-handed twirler and an outfielder. He expects to get an answer from Manager Wolverton to-day, and the locals have stated to Wolverton in their telegram that it is not a matter of money. At present the club has four good pitchers in Kuntze, Kiddo Wilson, Hunt and Hardin. Schultz, Smith and Narverson are known to have the stuff, but the officers of the club are not satisfied and releases are due unless the twirlers deliver. In the meantime another right-handed twirler and an outfielder are being sought.

Victoria grabbed a good outfielder when Spokane turned Melchior over to them. Melchior is a very fast man and a good sticker, and will be heard from as the season rolls along.—Seattle Times.

Ben Hunt, the lanky pitcher who was a member of the Tacoma team last year, has been secured by the Victoria team to keep the team up in the race. Hunt pitched some good games in this league last year and was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals. His wildness was too much in evidence in the big show and he was sent back to this league. He should give the Victoria team some backing up, as when he is going right he is a hard pitcher to beat.

SELECT LOCAL MEN FOR THE BISLEY TEAM

Sergt. Carr Will Be One of the Three Victorians; In Team of 1907

The city is to have the honor of having three representatives at the Bisley meeting this year, an exceptional tribute to the marksmanship of the rifle shots of Victoria. An invitation has been extended to Sergt. Carr, and the necessary permission has been granted by the provincial government enabling him to get away. The three from this city for the Canadian team will be Lieut. Richardson, Quarter-Master-Sergeant Hatcher, and Sergt. Carr. They expect to leave for the East about the middle of next month. Lieut.-Col. J. Duff, Stuart, of Vancouver, will be commandant of the Canadian Bisley team this year. With the party from British Columbia will probably be a former King's prizeman. Sergt. Carr was a member of the team in 1907.

MAY NOT PAY VISIT

Mrs. Jenkins Writes School Board That Her Return Will Be Later.

There is some doubt whether the proposed visit of members of the school board to Seattle to look into the educational improvements introduced into the newer Queen City schools will take place.

Mrs. Jenkins, who has been visiting for some time in California, wrote to a recent meeting of the board inviting some of the members to meet her in Seattle on her return from California, and look over the schools. The invitation was cordially accepted, but at that time it was expected that it would take place early this month.

Now the board is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Jenkins to the effect that she will not be able to make the trip till the end of the month, and that it may not be possible for the visit to take place, because the schools close earlier than they do on this side of the line. The board expects further information about the date of the visit from Mrs. Jenkins shortly.

STARS TO BOWL FOR SIDE BET.

Messrs. Meek and Chisholm split their wits at the Brunswick alleys last night with Hodge and Doyle, the scores being very high. The doubles are rolling for a substantial side bet, and will clash again to-night on the same alleys.

SPEAKERS ARE HECKLED.

Lucky Ticket Holders at Political Equality League Meeting Annoyed Less Fortunate Members.

At the weekly meeting of the Political Equality League, held last evening at the Unitarian hall, the president, Mrs. Gordon Grant, in the chair, an interesting programme, which provided the speakers with more excitement, perhaps, than their audience, was given. Each member of the audience was requested to draw a slip from a lottery box, and was then called upon to give an impromptu four-minute speech on the subject specified on the slip. A certain number of slips were marked "heckler," and the lucky winners of these were absolved from the ordeal of speaking, and were only required to try to disconcert the speakers with well-aimed interruptions. Among the speakers were Miss McDonald, Mr. Woodward, Mr. Rand, Miss Edith Bromley-Jubb, Mrs. Ferree and Miss Dorothy Davis. It was announced that the annual meeting would take place next week, and on Thursday and Friday the annual provincial convention will be held. The meetings are open to the public.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

(From Woman's Home Journal.)
If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Top o'pin this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercurized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercurized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.
If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effectual.

HARD WORKER, ANYWAY.

"Why is that man trying to pound that post into the ground? I should think he would dig a hole first."
"He may be trying to be a post impressionist."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The French people are perhaps the happiest in the world, because none are so industrious as they, and they are reaping their reward in a veritable deluge of prosperity. We can always judge a unit by a great mass, so if a great nation finds sources of wealth, so can an individual.—Frederick Townsend Martin.

WILL DELIBERATE ON SEWERAGE QUESTION

Intermunicipal Committee Will Have Important Subject When Next It Meets

There is some doubt whether the monthly meeting of the intermunicipal committee will be held on Friday, the next scheduled date, as the mayor and aldermen will attend the funeral of the late Bishop Crige on that afternoon. If, however, the session takes place, principal interest will be concentrated upon the sewerage question in view of the necessity of devising a main drainage scheme. To the engineers of the city and municipalities has been referred this problem which will be of increasing importance in the next few days, and in view of the Esquimalt proposal announced in the Times this week, the early commencement on the northwest sewer is greatly to be desired. The only thing which has been keeping the work back has been the financial situation. Probably the city will undertake the whole of the system, and will receive contributions towards the cost from Esquimalt and Saanich for the use of the outfall. In the Oak Bay case last year the city contributed $26,000 towards the main sewer which has its outfall at Bold Point. The plans and all preliminaries have been prepared, and a schedule of the streets to be affected appears in the money by-law for sewers which was passed in January. The water question is also likely to be discussed, in view of the charges of system proposed in connection with the collections and the distribution of water.

TO DEDICATE MONUMENT.

Indians on Reservation Commemorate Their Ancestors—Is a Cross.

The Indians of the Esquimalt reservation will dedicate, during the usual spring gathering of the tribes for the George regatta and fete, a granite monument which commemorates their ancestors of the old reserve. The monument, which is placed in the cemetery above the village, consists of a cross on a red granite column, the base being of grey granite. The inscription says: "This monument was erected by the Songhees tribe to the memory of their departed grandfathers and grandmothers removed here. Erected A. D. 1911."

While it is difficult to tell precisely what ill effects alcohol exerts on the blood cells, it is plainly evident that nicotine is much more injurious.—Professor von Struempell.

The Y. M. C. A. Athletic Club was organized last evening for the season at a well-attended meeting held in the gymnasium, and officers were elected. R. P. Christie was chosen as president and H. Whitcomb as secretary.

The club starts with the brightest prospects this year and expects to win several events at the various meets in which it will enter teams or contestants. Everyone was enthusiastic and the officers will have no difficulty in getting the boys out to train.

Meetings are to be held twice a week.

Every Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock there will be a street run of the harriers and on Friday evenings at half-past six at Oak Bay track field and track practice will take place. A harrier run was held last night.

The baseball club is playing on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoons at Beacon Hill and the cricket club meets at the same place on Saturday afternoons.

HON. GEO. E. FOSTER AND THE TRADE COMMISSION

The members of the Dominion royal commission, who are journeying through Central Queensland, arrived here to-day, says the Sidney Morning Herald. A striking and eloquent speech was delivered by Mr. Foster at a civic reception, which was held in Rockhampton, with regard to the work of the commission and Imperial matters generally, which deserved a wider audience than the gathering, necessarily limited, which was present. Mr. Lorimer described Mr. Foster as the orator of the commission, and the Canadian minister for trade and commerce sustained this reputation. Messrs. Lorimer, Garrett and Farrow also made their first speeches in Australia.

Mr. Foster responded to the toast of "The Commission," and said that the extent of this mighty country, the possibilities of it, and what was just as good as either of these, the spirit and enterprise and the men who inhabit this southern hemisphere, were very interesting indeed.

"We, as a commission," said Mr. Foster, "have a very large work on hand. We had an idea of that when we started it. We had a still stronger idea of it when we had been at work in Great Britain for two or three months. And I think it impressed itself upon us with still greater emphasis when we came out to these wide, vast lands. The work you can expect the commission to do is to make a beginning in the solution of what is a common task, and it will be a great point gained if that is done, as I believe it will be done, as a result of the labors of the present commission. The fact that a commission has been appointed at all marks a great step forward and forward. This is the first time that the Empire as a whole has bothered itself about the affairs of the Empire as a whole in commerce sufficiently to appoint an Empire commission, travelling over the whole Empire.

Not a Lone Hand. That is a great point gained. It is the recognition of the principle that Great Britain commercially does not exist simply for herself, that Canada commercially is not playing a lone hand of its own, that Australia commercially has some other interest, look at besides Australia's interest, that South Africa and New Zealand must look outside their own boundaries if they are going to be successful in the best and truest manner.

It is the beginning of that feeling of ownership and kinship and co-partnership in commerce, as well as in the Empire itself, which is a mighty point gained, and once started by a fairly practical step this time will go on further step by step until we get where the Empire ought to be. (Applause.)

As the Sands of Egypt. "Commerce," continued Mr. Foster, "is a good thing, but the walls of commerce would be as silent as the sands of Egypt, if it were not for something else, which precedes commerce. You cannot have commerce which is an interchange of commodities, and you cannot have interchange of commodities, without producing them. So that it is production, which is the thing to be looked at, and it is the production which makes commerce possible. And it is commerce which aids in other ways in bringing forth production. Now that is what we are after in this Empire of ours.

A Wonderful Miracle. "If this land could be filled with a sturdy and enterprising population by the wave of a magic wand, there would be no miracle recorded in all the world's history as great as that miracle would involve. Our duty is to get hold of the unproductive and unoccupied and unimproved parts of the Empire's estate, and by British capital,

British pluck and British enterprise put it under cultivation, and thus reap the results which from such action follow in every form of prosperity, comfort and happiness. (Applause.)

A Complete Photograph. "So we are diligently looking into these matters, gathering statistics and putting everything possible under levy, in order to give us what will be the most complete photograph possible of the resources and possibilities of the British Empire. And if we can produce a photograph which does outline the picture, and if we can make it sufficiently definite, and keep it hanging up before our eyes and the eyes of the whole British Empire, we shall have done the best work that has been done in these matters. Our first requisite is knowledge, and the second is to distribute the knowledge, and the third is to know how to make that knowledge the working incentive to carry out what the knowledge warrants, and the basis that it gives for improvement and protection.

A Warning to Australia. Turning to another subject, Mr. Foster continued: "When you legislate in Australia remember that you are helping or hurting every other part of the British dominions, and the same is true of Canada. When I was in Great Britain I was bold enough to say, 'When you go into the House of Commons and legislate for the Empire, recollect that whilst you are legislating and voting you are voting for millions of people who have no voice or control over your actions, but will be intimately affected by the legislation you pass. (Hear, hear.) That is the lesson we are all talking to heart, by which we may all well profit.'

Command of the Sea. Mr. Foster went on to plead for the supremacy of the Empire. "If we lose the command of the seas," he said, "we are in perilous circumstances. (Applause.) If at any moment Great Britain's feet were to be wiped from the ocean, where would we be as independent people? So we know that we, as every other portion of the community, must go to the common help, and in doing so we shall not only help all the other parts of the Empire, but ourselves.

A Tribute to Australia. "Will you allow me to congratulate you people in Australia for the splendid way in which you have risen to your duties, privileges, and responsibilities for the last few years. It has helped us in Canada; it has helped the Old Country; it has helped the wide world over to see what you have done on the naval question. And in the matter of fitting yourselves to protect your wide dominions you have done a tremendously good service, not only to yourselves, but to every part of the Empire."

Family Power. Referring to the need for increased immigration into Australia, Mr. Foster said, "What we want in Canada is man power, home power and family power, to make the country strong and productive. And the lesson has been borne in upon me since I have come to New Zealand and Australia, and have looked upon your vast country and your potentialities and power of production, that what you need most for these countries is population. You need men and women to build up homes, to take up your areas, to put their strength and enterprise and skill in the work of production. You need that for the development of your soil and for commerce, but you need it even more if you are going to hold your own on this great South Pacific island continent. (Applause.)

And many a homely woman presides over a happy home, and many a man can afford to laugh and grow fat.

OUR LETTER BOX

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than the day before the day of publication. When received later they will be held over until the following day. While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

MISREPRESENTATION.

To the Editor.—I most heartily congratulate "Groucher's No. 1 and 2" for their timely and courageous letters to the Times, especially No. 2's remarks, so true and so gritty. It does one good to realize that some do see things as they actually exist. Yes, indeed, there are thousands of hopeless failures of all sorts and conditions of life scattered around this vast country of ours, and especially in this so in the west, many of whom have given their only little and life's stake into the hands of some shark, using a slang phrase, nevertheless in some cases only too true. False and alluring misrepresentations thrown broadcast among the people are sure to have results, and these results often affect those who can least afford to lose their money, but seem the most easily caught. While this condition of things exists the game will go on and the price sooner or later will have to be paid. And right here, are we not beginning to feel it in Victoria to-day?

GROUCHER NO. 2, Victoria, May 6.

THE BATTLE

By GEORGE MATHEW ADAMS

The greatest Battles ever fought are those you fight daily inside your own Soul—against Anger, Lies, Habits, Misjudgments, Ill Health—Circumstances. Continually it is The Battle.

The Battle—to find out how far Brain and Body fibre can be put to the test in order to learn that The Man is in Command.

Daily Heroes pass us—and we know it not. Character and Strength come from Strife. Like the Diamond, they become valuable only after the most painstaking toil and effort. Both come up out of the rough—both demand cutting and polishing and shaping before they stand out beautiful and inspiring.

But Battling should hold nothing of gloom and sourness. For in Defeat, there is always something Won. The main requisites are to keep Smile-bound, carry Light Equipment, and in the words of Cromwell "Trust in God and keep your Powder dry."

Welcome The Battle, as it looms up in your Life. Plan each little Skirmish with Care and with Courage. Be unmindful of the outside Crowd. Centre on the forces that face you and fight them to a finish. Then get ready for another Battle. Charge the dischargers in your own ranks. But keep your face toward the Enemy, under whatever name it fights.

And Battle to Win! Be firmly and patiently loading and reloading the guns at your command you become expert. Little by little the intricate rules and principles of warfare become more simple and understandable. You begin to feel yourself a Power and an Influence.

Thus does The Battle—fought out by us with hourly fortitude—make Leaders and Victors of us all in our day and generation.

AERONAUT WAS LOST IN INDIAN JUNGLE

He Wandered About for Three Days and Nearly Died of Privation

The death was announced in London recently of Percival Spencer, the well-known aeronaut. The story of his adventures makes exciting reading. In the pursuit of his profession he had been all over the world and had many thrilling experiences. One of his most serious occurred in India. He made an ascent outside Calcutta and came down in the jungle. Quite outside his bearings, and with no knowledge of his whereabouts, Mr. Spencer wandered about the jungle for three days.

When eventually he found his way into Calcutta he was so emaciated and weak that he was thought by the natives to be a ghost, and was so described by them. Mr. Spencer was a familiar figure not only at the Crystal Palace, but at demonstrations and galas all over the country. He crossed the channel seven times by balloon, he "ballooned" across the Irish sea, from the Isle of Man to Scotland, and gave parachute displays in almost every quarter of the globe. Once he came down in a parachute three miles out at sea, and on another occasion he was shot at by hostile natives in the Dutch Indies.

LUBRICATOR FOR SAWS

Cup Sets on Top of Blade and Lets Oil Drop Down Latter.

It seems like an insignificant little thing, but there are a number of devices on the market for the lubricating of saw blades. One of the latest is that patented by a Louisiana man and shown herewith. A small, tubular receptacle has a pair of clamping members at the bottom by means of which it is clipped to the top of the saw blade, near the handle. Along the bottom of the tube are perforations. Inside this tube a second tube revolves, and it is the latter that contains the oil. The second tube is also equipped with a series of perforations, and when these register with the perforations in the outer section, the oil escapes through them and drips down the blade, lubricating it quite effectively. When enough oil has run out the workman can turn the inner tube to close the portheoles.

After fortune has smiled on a man he can afford to laugh and grow fat.

NEWS OF PROVINCIAL TOWNS

NEW WESTMINSTER

Rather sensational developments have taken place with regard to a man believed to be Mr. J. C. Moore, who was accidentally killed on Friday afternoon by a C. P. R. train while crossing Mission bridge. Deceased, who was a resident at Bradner, was walking over the bridge when struck by the train, which cut the body almost in two. An inquest was held at Matsqui the same evening by Dr. Stewart, the coroner, and a verdict of accidental death was returned. The inquest took place yesterday. Now a brother of Mr. Moore, resident of Sardin, heard for the first time of the accident. It is understood that the body will be exhumed, as the succession to some property in the old country depends on the identity of the buried man being established with that of J. C. Moore, of Bradner.

C. Hill Tout made a number of most valuable and practical suggestions and recommendations to the agricultural commissioners at their sitting in Abbotsford on Saturday. Better marketing facilities would reduce the importation of foreign agricultural products greatly, financial assistance for the developing of the farming industry would increase local production.

The marketing facilities were deplorable at present. Farmers witnessed their finest crops rotting in the fields. The country imported $15,000,000 worth of farm produce annually, while our Fraser valley agriculturists could find no sale for their products.

The remedy was a comprehensive co-operative scheme carried out by government organizers of approved qualifications.

Government organizers would obviate the petty jealousies and defective administration which had already wrecked three attempts to run co-operative societies in the Chilliwack district. The witness suggested the establishment of a collecting depot and depots in each large city with officials in thorough touch with the markets to guard against over-production of any particular crop.

GRAND FORKS

Capt. F. W. L. Moore, of the headquarters staff, military district No. 11, was in the city last week to inquire into the prospects for raising a military company in this city. He had an interview with S. G. Kirk, range officer for the local rifle association, who gave him all available particulars, in which was a list of some forty signatures of men willing to join a company. Mayor Fring was also conferred with and gave his official assurance that the city would grant a free site for a drill hall which will be required.

The captain expressed satisfaction with the efforts being made to raise a company in Grand Forks, and outlined the scheme that the military authorities have in mind. It is, briefly, to raise a battalion of infantry in the Boundary-Kootenay district. He was of the opinion that Grand Forks would be the battalion headquarters. Each company would have its own headquarters and would train separately, and instead of being obliged to go into camp for 12 days, as heretofore, the companies would be allowed to put in 12 days' training at their own headquarters, as convenient to themselves, and five days in battalion camp or in manoeuvres. In the event of a company being formed in Grand Forks a drill hall and armory would be built by the government.

The authorities also hope to raise a battalion in East Kootenay, to include Nelson, Crawford Bay, Rossland, Trail, etc.

CUMBERLAND

Comparing the output from month to month in a coal mining centre generally gives the outer world an idea of the advance made in that particular district. The Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., in addition to the enormous development work which is being carried on at Ewan and No. 8, during the month of April 41,553 tons of coal, being an increase of 4,312 tons over the month of March, and an increase of 12,012 tons over the month of January of this year.

On April 30 No. 4 mine hoisted 730 tons of coal in eight hours, making it the largest output in a single shift in the history of the mine. No. 5 mine on the same day produced in eight hours 400 tons. The output for No. 6 on that day was 303 tons, while No. 7 hoisted 339 tons, making a total of 1,762 tons for a single shift of eight hours.

The output for the week ending Friday, May 2, total 3,954 tons. These figures, which are absolutely correct, and we defy any member of the U. M. W. of A. to contradict them, say a great deal for this district. It almost places Cumberland in a normal condition such as existed previous to the so-called holiday.

PHOENIX

Following are the returns of the output of the Granby mines and smelter for the week ending May 3, and E. C. Copper Company for the week ending April 27, and year to date:

Granby	25,968	42,063
Mother Lode	7,130	18,822
Rawhide	4,825	89,894

NELSON

Cement brick making is a new industry which will be established in a few weeks in Nelson by Wallace Craven and Herbert Craven, who have given an order for the necessary machinery.

Composed of cement and sand, the bricks are said to be suitable for all classes of building work, and it is claimed that they will be placed on the market at from $5 to $10 per 1,000 less than the ordinary clay brick or tile.

Speaking of the plan to establish the industry in Nelson, Herbert Craven stated that the bricks were to be made by the Amosler-Williams tapestry-faced brick process, for which he and his father have purchased the patent rights in the southern portion of West Kootenay and the Boundary district. Eighteen different varieties of brick and tiling in various colors can be made by the process.

Among the advantages claimed for the concrete brick is that it is entirely waterproof, and that less time is required in building operations when it is used.

Within the next 60 days Dominion Stores, Limited, a million dollar company formed for the purpose of establishing a chain of 200 grocery stores in Western Canada, will open a business in Nelson, according to M. Phillip Hanson, of Vancouver, a representative of the company.

MERRITT

A somewhat curious accident was the burning recently of the small store which was kept at Lower Nicola, by Col. Flick. It appears that he had left a small bundle outside the store to disintegrate like those common here during the summer months came along and lifted the fire up bodily and carried some of it into the building and some underneath it. The place was burning merrily when the blaze was discovered, and all efforts to extinguish it with buckets of water were useless. The building and stock were

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The Indians were not pleased when, by the Treaty of Paris, France gave up all claim upon Canada and the western country. In fact, they held that the latter was not hers to cede, and when the English prepared to take possession, the Ottawa chief, Pontiac, organized the Algonquin tribes to resist. His plan was a bold one, aiming at the destruction of all the western posts, but Pontiac was a thorough Indian in his methods. He evolved a cunning scheme for the capture of the fort at Detroit, which had been carried out would have made this day—May 7th—in the year 1763, a black one in the annals of the town. With professions of friendship in their mouths, and short guns and tomahawks hidden beneath their blankets, Pontiac and three hundred of his warriors entered the fort to attend—so they pretended—a peaceful council. But the commandant, Gladwin, suspecting mischief, was so visibly ready for defence that the surprise was on the other side, and the discomfited warriors made haste to depart. His rise falling, Pontiac attempted later to take the stronghold by force; but, though nine trading posts were destroyed that fatal summer, Detroit held out to the end.

Effort to Get O'Connor Off Also Failed; Was Associated With Others

Franklin C. Cook, J. O. Hearn and R. N. O'Connor were this morning unexpectedly committed for trial on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the public in the sale of shares of stock in the Bankers' Trust Corporation. It was understood that Frank Higgins was going to call a number of the directors not called by the prosecution but he merely asked for another remand until C. A. Forsythe, C. A. should be able to give him a statement of the solvency of the company at the time mentioned in the charge. H. B. Robertson strenuously protested against this and said that the permission to audit the Bankers' Trust books would be withdrawn if it meant any delay in the preliminary hearing, as he was determined that the case should go on at the present assizes. "With all due respect to Mr. Higgins," he said, "I submit that this is just a subterfuge to postpone the trial until the fall. I may say, however, that if he is not ready for this assizes there will be a special sitting for this case." Magistrate Jay said that adjournment was for the purpose of calling witnesses and if they were not here he had sufficient evidence to commit. Mr. Higgins said he could not call these directors unless he had his auditor's report to examine them on.

Before the magistrate committed, Mr. Higgins made a special plea that O'Connor be discharged as his name had been mentioned only three times and not once in connection with the sale of stock. The magistrate, however, was satisfied that he was associated with the other two men and committed the three, who spent several hours in the cells before bail was obtained from a Supreme Court judge this afternoon.

POLICE JUDGE TAKES LIFE BY SHOOTING

Shohomiah, Wash., May 7.—H. N. Stockton, police judge of this city, committed suicide at 10.15 o'clock last night by shooting. The bullet pierced his right temple. His death occurred half an hour later.

Judge Stockton was in his chamber last night when the city council was in session. Although his office adjoins the council chamber the report of the revolver attracted no attention. When a committee from the council called at the judge's office to ask his advice on a matter before the council his body was found. The right hand still held the revolver. A doctor was called, but death came within a few minutes. A note which spoke vaguely of worry over reports on the street indicated to the judge's friends that he was temporarily insane.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred at an early hour this morning at the Jubilee hospital of Alec C. West. The remains have been removed to the Hanna-Thomson Funeral Parlors pending funeral arrangements.

The funeral of the little Virgil Willis, the five-months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Willis, 821 Fisguard street, who died yesterday afternoon, took place this afternoon at 3.30 from the residence, and fifteen minutes later from the Roman Catholic church, Rev. Father Laterme officiating.

The funeral of the late Hubert Xavier Stanley, who died yesterday morning at St. Joseph's hospital, will take place to-morrow morning at 8.45 from the Sands-Fulton parlors, and fifteen minutes later from St. Andrew's cathedral, Rev. Father Laterme officiating.

The death occurred on Tuesday, at his late residence, of William Miller, a resident of this city for the last nine years. The deceased is survived by six children — two sons, Edward, of this city, and H. Miller, of Toronto; and four daughters, Lizzie, Emily and Jessie, of Victoria; and Mrs. F. Francis, of California. The funeral will take place at 2.30 p. m. on Friday from the late residence, 33 Dupplin road, Rev. Mr. Flinton officiating.

The funeral of Laura Arlene Keeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin R. Keeler, Alder street, took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral parlors, Rev. Dr. Scott officiating. The following acted as passabearers: Messrs. H. Humphreys, J. F. Thomson, H. G. Hillier and H. M. Hamilton.

The funeral of the late J. Stephens, of Ryan street, took place yesterday afternoon from the Hanna-Thomson parlors, Rev. E. G. Miller officiating. There were numerous beautiful floral tributes and a large attendance of the deceased's friends.

TO GROW HAIR ON A BALD HEAD

BY A SPECIALIST. Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic, and hair-growth without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavone de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

If the extreme reform of a consistently phonetic spelling were ever adopted, it would produce great changes in the language, and much of our present literary vocabulary would become obsolete.—Dr. Henry Bradley.

The Real Clowns of Life Are Those Without a Bank Account

To obtain a bank account it is necessary to save and keep saving, and, when you have saved, to invest your savings to the best advantage in some legitimate investment where money makes money.

The clowns of life are those who always thought it funny to spend every cent they made, and still think it funny that they can never get ahead, AND they will always be funny till they cease to be clowns and save their money to invest and make more money.

Don't be a clown all your life; the clown is always laughed at, but never admired.

Picture a few of the prominent cities in Canada to-day: Calgary, ten years ago was nothing but a side track on the C. P. R. To-day it has a population of well over 50,000 people. Edmonton at that time was away out in the woods of the far north; to-day it is one of the thriving commercial centres of Alberta. Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert were still in their infancy. Calgary and Edmonton were rich in agricultural areas; Victoria and Vancouver had excellent harbor facilities.

ALBERNI

Has untold wealth in agricultural lands, large areas of unequalled timber and one of the finest natural harbors on the Pacific Coast.

It is not possible to comprehend with any degree of accuracy the future of a city rich beyond the wildest dreams of avarice in everything that is necessary for the making of a commercial centre.

Two transcontinental railways, the C. P. R. and the Canadian Northern Railway, run into Alberni.

Andrew Carnegie once said: "The big money is made in buying acreage near a growing city." Alberni has a future such as no other city on the Coast, and any person who is wise enough to see the future of this thriving city cannot help but be impressed by the way, it has progressed and is progressing.

THE CRAIG-TURNER ACREAGE ADDITION

Is situated on the Stamp River, inside of 3 1-2 miles from the centre of Alberni. This addition is NOT divided into small lots, but consists of Blocks of 2 1-2 to 5 ACRES.

The property slopes gently towards the river, and is suitable for fruit raising, all kinds of mixed farming, dairying, etc.

For a Summer homesite it is ideal. The finest of fishing is obtained off this property. There is a first-class public school less than a mile from the property, with a good road to it. We are selling—we repeat, WE ARE SELLING—this property from

SUBSCRIBERS' CO-OPERATION

It is an oft-repeated truism that the best telephone service can be given only when there is hearty co-operation between subscriber and company.

There are numerous ways in which this co-operation on the part of the patrons may be shown, a few of which follow:

- 1. By paying close attention to operator's repetition of number called, and correcting her if an incorrect number is repeated.
2. By answering the telephone promptly.
3. In the case of private branch exchanges, by seeing that lines are disconnected at the private exchange immediately upon the completion of the call.

The foregoing point is vital, and the best service cannot be given unless this is done. When lines are not disconnected at the private exchange the trunk from there to the central office is in the same condition as an individual subscriber's line would be if upon the close of a conversation the receiver were not replaced upon the hook—namely, out of order.

4. Operators are required to treat the public with courtesy and consideration under all circumstances. This attitude between individuals wherein the human element enters is as oil to machinery, and a reciprocal attitude upon the part of the subscriber is appreciated in its personal aspect as well as for the assistance it gives towards the rendering of satisfactory telephone service.

RAINBOW RECRUITS DECIDE TO REMAIN

Only Two Canadians in Naval Service Here Wish Their Discharge

CAPTAIN COMMUNICATED OFFER TO MEN ON SHIP

Have Privilege of Leaving Without Paying Usual Discharge Amount

The young Canadians who are serving their king and country as sailors on H. M. C. S. Rainbow do not desire to obtain their discharge from the service in the easy manner the Borden government has provided for them preliminary to abolishing the Canadian navy.

There are twenty-two Canadian recruits on board the Rainbow, but only one or two are taking advantage of the opportunity to secure their discharge without paying for it. Commander Rose received the official intimation from the department of naval affairs at Ottawa that embodies the decision of the government to cease training Canadians for the sea, and he communicated the effect of it to the enlisted men. Scarcely any of them expressed a desire to leave the ship.

It is possible to obtain discharge from the service only by purchase, the sum being $50 to $150, according to the grade of the men, and this amount as a rule they cannot readily raise. The communication notified the Canadians in the service that if they desired to leave the service they could do so without having to make this payment, and on signing a waiver of all claim for any gratuities, pensions or other moneys that might be payable.

Since the Rainbow has been on the Pacific coast there have been from time to time desertions from the service and a few men purchased their discharge, but the proportion has been very much less than it is in the imperial navy. The desertions are held to have been due to a certain amount of unrest that is to be found among young fellows in a new country, where, seeing others doing well at some other occupation and making a little more or a good deal more, they think they could do as well if they were to turn their hand to anything but what they are engaged at. The tendency is not confined to the navy or to any other calling, but is an economic symptom of the times. The Canadian recruits on the Rainbow are all proving apt pupils, and are developing into sturdy sailors with a real love for the life and a pride in their ship.

DRINK CURE A MIRACLE?

No, Just Sound Science.

Many drunkards are sent to jail when what they need is medicine. Drink has undermined their constitutions, inflamed their stomach and nerves until the craving must be satisfied if it is not removed by a scientific prescription like Samaria. Prescription stops the craving, restores the shaking nerves, builds up the health and appetite and renders drink distasteful, even nauseous. It is odorless and tasteless and dissolves instantly in tea, coffee or food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge.

Read what it did for Mrs. G., of Vancouver: "I was so anxious to get my husband cured that I went up to Harrison's Drug Store and got your remedy there. I had no trouble giving it without his knowledge. I greatly thank you for all the peace and happiness that it brought already into my home. The cost was nothing according to what he would spend in drinking. The cure of drink was putting me into my grave, but now I feel so happy and everything seems so different and bright. May the Lord be with you and help you in curing the evil. I don't want my name published."

Now if you know of any unfortunate needing Samaria treatment, tell him or his family or friends about it. If you have any friend or relative who is forming the drink habit, help him to "cleanse himself from its clutches. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription with booklet giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it and mentioning this paper. Correspondence secretly confidential. Write to-day, The Samaria Remedy Co., Dept. 75, 48 Colborne St., Toronto, Canada; also for sale at Hall & Co.'s Drug Store, corner Yates and Douglas Streets, Victoria, B. C."

PENDLETON ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED MURDER

Mrs. Campbell Hoped to Be Around by Friday; Trial Will Be at This Assize

John C. Pendleton, wearing a large bandage around his head, appeared in police court to-day and heard the charge of shooting a revolver at Ella Campbell with intent to murder read against him. He asked for a remand to get a lawyer, and City Prosecutor Harrison stated that the woman was quite conscious and rational but confined to bed at the hospital from her wounds.

A remand was ordered until Friday, and if at that time Mrs. Campbell cannot appear her evidence will be taken at the hospital in order to give Pendleton the advantage of being tried at the present assizes which begin on May 19. The bandage which Pendleton wore was to cover the wound inflicted by Hugh Campbell, husband of the attacked woman and proprietor of the Blue Post saloon, where the shooting occurred. Campbell grabbed the pistol after two shots had been fired and struggled with Pendleton, who fired three times in the air before the weapon was wrested from him. Campbell then struck him over the head with the butt and he dropped. It required several stitches to sew up the wound inflicted by the injured woman's husband.

INVITED TO VICTORIA.

Longshoremen's Convention Asked to Meet Here Next Year.

Victoria, the convention city par excellence of the continent, is not unlikely to have here next year the annual gathering of the longshoremen of the country. This is a strong body, representing the freight-handlers of all the ports, ocean and inland, on the continent, and its convention each year is attended by a large number. At the present moment the 1913 convention is being held in San Pedro, and at it delegates from the active union existing in Victoria are attending.

This morning Ernest McGaffey, secretary of the Vancouver Island Development League, sent a telegram to Albert Nelson at the convention hall, Longshoremen's hall, inviting the international body to come to this city for the 1914 convention. He pointed out that this is the chief seaport of the Dominion, with the largest tonnage of shipping entering and leaving its harbor, that it is on the eve of greater development, and that it would be very fitting for the next convention to be held here. The local delegates have been asked to back the invitation.

TO SEND CIRCULAR LETTER.

Victorian Order of Nurses Will Explain to Doctors of City Objects of Organization.

At a meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses yesterday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A., the president, Mrs. Phipps, in the chair, Miss Kathleen Oldfield, the secretary, and Miss Folger, one of the two Victorian Order nurses, were appointed to prepare a circular letter to send to the physicians throughout the city, pointing out the purposes of the society in establishing the nurses in the city, and the advantages of the system. It was explained that neither the doctors nor the public seemed aware of the advantages of having the Victorian Order nurses here, although, owing to the absence of any district nurses, this should be particularly recognized. The nurses are available at any time, and take any sort of nursing except infectious cases, the charges being graded according to the means of the patient. They work entirely under the direction of the patient's doctor, and are under instructions not to remain longer than one day with any one patient, in order that they may be available for others when required. The two new nurses recently appointed are Miss Folger and Miss Barker, with headquarters at 1248 Fort Street.

DENMAN ISLAND QUARRIES.

Yards and Wharves to Be Secured Here From Which Material Will Be Shipped

That there is a great future use before the stone of the Denman Island quarries is the belief of T. F. Paterson, one of the directors of the Denman Island Stone Company, who is in the city to arrange for wharf and yard accommodation. The stone available in the quarries, Mr. Paterson says, will supply all requirements for four thousand years at the rate of quarrying at present, but of course there will be a great increase in the rate. In the new schools which are being put up in Vancouver Denman Island stone is being used very largely, and it is also in requisition for several of the blocks that are being erected in the Terminal City.

Mr. Paterson expects that this will be the distributing point for both mainland and island use of the stone, and in the yards here it will be dressed to meet the demands of builders. Machinery for this has been ordered from the East and will be installed in the yards when it has been decided where these shall be located.
