

Man Says $25,000 Taken From Him by Fraud in Montreal

Montreal, July 31.—How an experienced business man was fooled out of $25,000 in a few minutes was told in the court here yesterday when Edward Long, alias Charlie Lewis, and George Wallace, appeared, charged with stealing that sum from H. L. Christian of Chicago by a confidence trick.

Christian told the court he had been robbed of his money in this city a year ago. He described the office run by the men as busy as a beehive, with telephones ringing, clerks chalking up bets and results and a cashier with an impressive pile of banknotes. He had bet $100 on a horse which had returned two to one and the cashier had at once paid him. Then came the real bet, continued the witness, when it was suggested that "we each put up an I.O.U. for $20,000 on a horse named 'Lucky Play'."

Christian told the court he had been actually paying out the bills when a man came rushing in and protested: "How do I know you gentlemen could have paid if the horse had lost?" Christian replied: "He could easily settle that by wiring his bank."

On July 31 the money came, $25,000, which was passed over to bet on another "sure thing." The money was put on to win and was lost.

R. L. Calder, J.C., acting for the Crown, intimated that the charge might later be changed to conspiracy. After Christian's story had been heard accused were remanded for voluntary statement on August 6, without bail.

FOUR KILLED IN AUTO-TRAIN SMASH

Three in Hospital as Result of Accident in Ontario; Auto Stalled on Track

Newcastle, Ont., July 31.—Four Toronto residents were killed and three were injured, two seriously, when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a west-bound Canadian National freight train yesterday at the Adams' level crossing, about two miles east of here.

Those killed were: Mrs. E. B. Stewart, Miss Marjorie Burrows, Morris Cambridge, twelve, and Mrs. Mary E. Burrows.

The injured are: Wellington G. Cambridge, his wife and son, James, of Toronto, who is in hospital in Port Hope in which they are it is reported Mr. Cambridge is not badly hurt, but the condition of his wife and son is uncertain.

The automobile apparently became stalled on the tracks and the unfortunate occupants had no chance to save themselves.

A witness stated last night that the train smashed into the car with such terrific force that the automobile was smashed to pieces and dragged along the track of 100 yards, the occupants being thrown out alongside the tracks.

MORE POWER FOR BIG PAPER PLANT

Great Dam to be Built Soon at Lake of the Woods

Winnipeg, July 31.—Work of rebuilding the Normal Dam at the Lake of the Woods, involving an expenditure of several million dollars and employing several hundred men, will commence early next fall. E. W. Backus, president of the Backus-Brooke Lumber Company, Minneapolis, made this announcement yesterday while visiting the company's plant at Kenora in company with a large party of United States and Canadian business men.

Reconstruction of the dam is necessary in order to provide sufficient power for the company's new plant, which is the largest of its kind in the world. This plant at present is turning out ninety-eight tons of paper daily and when running to capacity will produce 135 tons per day from one unit alone. Mr. Backus stated the only limit to the output would be that imposed by power facilities. Enough pulpwood was available, he said, until the present growth could produce itself.

Arrangements have been practically completed between the Backus-Brooke interests and the Canadian Government for the construction of the dam which will control international waters. The new dam will take the place of an old one built twenty-eight years ago and which is now not only in leaking condition, but has been outgrown by the industry. It is expected from 500 to 600 men will be engaged on the new construction work, which will proceed all winter and will take about eighteen months to complete.

Mr. Backus entertained his guests at the Devil's Gap bungalow camp and later left over the Canadian Pacific Railway for Port Williams. The party was accompanied as far as Kenora by Charles Murphy, general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as well as E. D. Cotterell, superintendent of transportation and Geo. Stephen, assistant freight traffic manager.

CHANGES SHOWN BY CRIME STATISTICS

Tabulation For Canada Made in Ottawa; Fifteen Murder Convictions in 1923

Ottawa, July 31.—Crime in the more serious categories is somewhat on the decline in Canada, while offences that are less grave are on the increase, according to tabulations of criminal statistics covering the year 1923, just completed by Bureau of Statistics.

Convictions for murder declined from nineteen in 1922 to fifteen in 1923, while for manslaughter the convictions last year were thirty-eight, as compared with forty-five in 1922. Shooting, stabbing and wounding convictions totalling 157 in 1923 showed an increase of thirty-eight over the previous year.

Convictions for offences against liquor and prohibition acts increased from 8,519 in 1922 to 10,088 in 1923. In Ontario they increased from 3,246 to 3,568, and in Quebec from 524 to 1,724. There were smaller increases in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, but a decline in British Columbia and Alberta.

In drunkenness, Ontario among all the provinces leads the list of convictions, with 11,376 in 1923 against 9,063 in 1922. In Quebec they declined from 7,163 to 6,260. There were slight declines in the Maritime Provinces, Alberta and British Columbia. For the whole of Canada the figures for the two years were remarkably similar, totalling 25,565 in 1923, as compared with 25,948 in 1922.

Bankers negotiate with Mexicans

London, July 31.—Questioned in the House of Commons yesterday whether the Foreign Office would request the Mexican Government to fulfill its obligations toward British subjects in accordance with the country's debt agreement of June, 1922, Arthur Ponsonby, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said:

"This is a matter which concerns the United States and other Governments as well as our Government."

"At present, I understand, the international bankers' committee on Mexico is still in communication with the Mexican Government."

Mr. Ponsonby added that the British Government was watching the matter.

"You may find it, or 'he' or 'she' or 'them' through a want ad.—If it is 'findable'."

GIVING BUSINESS A CHANCE

WHEN Sir Henry Thornton took charge of the Canadian National Railways he asked that the management of the system be kept completely free of politics.

This early declaration from the new President of the line met with an enthusiastic reception from the great majority of the Canadian people.

It may not be said that circumstances have fulfilled Sir Henry Thornton's desire in its entirety.

As Grover Cleveland wrote when he accepted the nomination for President in 1884: "Honor lies in honest toil."

BUYING HONORS

SOME time last year a well known contractor of Blackpool, England, entered into an arrangement with an organization known as the College of Ambulance for the latter to obtain him a knighthood for £20,000.

There followed numerous interviews with a lady associated with the College who met the honor seeker to "put the rule" over him and find out if he were of a social standing that would enable him to rub shoulders successfully with the "man of high degree" who would finally work the oracle.

Trouble arose when the organization felt that another little donation from the expectant beneficiary would be in order, for the gentleman from Blackpool felt that his path to the honor list was looking less smooth as the days passed and he was, in fact, getting uneasy.

Then the law was invoked and the whole of the transactions, the interviews, the luncheon parties at which the Blackpool contractor oiled the way with fine food and aged wine, were described in the press.

As Grover Cleveland wrote when he accepted the nomination for President in 1884: "Honor lies in honest toil."

THE ASTOR TOUCH

LORD ASTOR had a picture of Lady Astor painted depicting "Nancy" being introduced to the Speaker of the British House of Commons by Mr. Lloyd George and the Earl of Balfour.

Many members of Parliament think Lady Astor has got her nerve to immortalize herself in such a fashion. Some ask where the business is going to end if every wealthy member of the House follows her example.

The sentiment which prompted Lord Astor to make the gift of his charming and talented spouse no doubt springs from a natural masculine pride of possession.

A man has bitten a dog in Ottawa. The "hair of a dog" will be Greek to him no more.

We presume that if Sir Henry Thornton bags a cougar he will present the skin to the Canadian Senate as a token of his esteem.

Great Britain, the United States, and Japan are now indulging in dialectics in respect of gun elevations on existing battleships.

Many of the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade who have just completed a tour of inspection of the P.G.E. have returned fully convinced that the "cut-off" from Ashcroft to Clinton should be built.

THE COMING TREK

Once farming in the Peace River area can be made profitable by the establishment of adequate transportation facilities, the problem will not be how to get the settlers in but how to keep the crowd in line.

WHY NOT?

Great Britain boasts of a woman golf player who, a grandmother of seventy-seven years, nevertheless plays daily, and only the other day took part for the 31st time in the annual British Ladies' Open Championship.

BOYS AND WORK

Folks sneer to-day at the old Victorian system under which the boys went out to work and the girls stayed at home. No doubt it had its drawbacks and even its hardships and injustices.

THEY DO NOT LIVE

They do not live who choose the middle way. When ecstasy and anguish have not known, who scale no trembling heights, nor plumb the zone depths of an aching darkness in bright day.

Dr. Frank Crane On "After Five Years"

IN a recent number of the Atlantic Monthly an article appeared called "After Five Years."

It was a record of the League of Nations since its formation. Those who have championed and those who have opposed this League have been so hot that it is difficult for either side to see the exact facts.

So far as we can see, the facts in the case at present are as follows: 1. The League never has been, and never will be, a partisan question, for it is a matter of engaging the co-operation of the whole world.

The League neither does what its protagonists claimed for it, nor threatens what its antagonists declared for it. It is more valuable than its opponents believe, but it is less valuable than its defenders had imagined.

The League has demonstrated itself to be in no sense a super state. Every nation, and particularly those who are members of the League, is as jealous of its national sovereignty as we ourselves could be.

The League may not be, as it was hoped, an admirable and perfect way to end war, but it is a promising way. It has prevented wars by merely furnishing an opportunity for all people to express themselves.

That is, it assists the nations to become world minded by virtue of bringing everything into a place where the good of all is discussed. It is impossible to live in the world without doing one of two things: either co-operating with it or being independent of it.

Frontenac Again on the Job

NEW FRANCE lay supine and gasping. The fiendish Iroquois roamed and scalped and burned at will. The two governors, De la Barre, and the Marquis de Denonville, whom the King had sent to govern and protect the colony after he had recalled to France in 1682 the less vigorous and dominating Frontenac, had, the first by his mercenary behavior and his weakness of character, the second because he was too much of a fine gentleman to deal effectively with savages, brought the land entrusted to their care to this pass.

As for the Indians of the Upper Lakes, the Hurons, Ottawas and the various Algonquin tribes, they reacted quickly to the news that Frontenac was back. Just on the point of abandoning their alliance with the French and making what terms they could with the relentless Iroquois, Frontenac's messenger found them at Michillimackinac in the Spring of 1690 and skilfully swung their feeling. Forthwith they started, five hundred strong, Hurons, Ottawas, Pottawatamies, Nipissings, Crees, Ojibways, in more than a hundred canoes laden with part of the great reserve of furs which had accumulated during the recent years when it had been unsafe for them to venture down to trade with the French.

Meanwhile, Frontenac, who had been busy through the winter enforcing abject submission on the part of the Indians and the Sovereign Council at Quebec, set out for Montreal on July 31, 1690 he landed there, come to consider at close quarters the problem of the refractory Iroquois and the wavering western allies. He had hardly arrived when these same western Indians shot down the Lachine Rapids and raised their wigwams close by the town. The citizens went wild with joy. They were furs here worth a hundred thousand crowns. A day or so later came a flotilla of fifty-five canoes of French couraurs-de-bois with another cargo of valuable pelts.

THEN ensued the inevitable council. The Indians donned their feathers and their ceremonial paint. The Ottawa pleaded for prices in trade as advantageous as the English prices. The Hurons complained bitterly of the Marquis de Denonville's shameful abandonment of them in negotiations with the Iroquois for peace for the French alone. They pleaded that Frontenac should continue to strike the Iroquois until they howled for respite.

Frontenac replied, "I will fight the Iroquois till they cry for mercy, and I will make no treaty with them which does not include all my children."

As he spoke, the old Governor, still lithe, energetic and impetuous, scratched a hatchet from an orderly and brandishing it over his head in correct savage fashion, broke into a war song in French and paced furiously back and forth in the circle of his guests. It was but a moment before the Indians were on their feet, and Frontenac, having handed the hatchet to one of the chiefs, and then to the principal of his French officers, led the wild war dance, followed by the whole stamping, whooping, screeching mob, carried away by their admiration for this compelling personality and flattered beyond measure by his adoption of their own familiar rites.

When this storm of passion had worked itself off, the calculating old Governor had the feast brought in—two whole oxen, six good-sized dogs, all chopped up and boiled with prunes, and the guests ceased their weird heroics and fell to business. Two barrels of wine supplied the drink, and an after-dinner pipe of tobacco was provided for everybody.

So was cemented the pact. But how fascinating a picture this wild, these wretched noblemen of France, friend and courier of the Great Louis. Suffice it to say that it belonged to the genius of this man that he could act thus, when no other Governor could, and not only keep but increase the respect the savages had for him.

CHEERS GREETED DECISION OF COURT

Constable Widlock to Appear Before Grand Jury in Illinois

That Was Magistrate's Ruling on Charge Laid by Rosetta Duncan

Chicago, July 31.—Police Magistrate Henry G. Williams of Evanston yesterday ended temporarily the argument in his court as to whether the police of Cicero beat Rosetta Duncan, comedienne, known as "Poppy" on the stage, or whether Miss Duncan assaulted the policemen by ordering Charles Widlock, one of the officers, held to the grand jury under $1,000 bond on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

A big audience (which had been forced to adjourn from an Evanston theatre, rented by the justice for the occasion, to another building when the theatre management wanted the building for a matinee, greeted the decision with cheers.

Rosetta testified during the day that she had been beaten by Widlock and several other policemen when she attempted to "joke" with them about arresting her brother, Harold, for a traffic law violation while the Duncans and friends were driving through Cicero on July 4.

SCRATCHED AND BIT The burly officers had another story to tell. They claimed Miss Duncan had become abusive and that when they attempted to restrain her she not only scratched them but bit and kicked as well. They exhibited scratches and bruises as substantiation of the injuries. Attorneys for the police maintained that Widlock might accidentally have struck Rosetta's nose, but declared the officer could not thus have broken it.

An assistant state's attorney designated Policeman Widlock's fist as "a word, a man after their kind."

As for the Indians of the Upper Lakes, the Hurons, Ottawas and the various Algonquin tribes, they reacted quickly to the news that Frontenac was back. Just on the point of abandoning their alliance with the French and making what terms they could with the relentless Iroquois, Frontenac's messenger found them at Michillimackinac in the Spring of 1690 and skilfully swung their feeling.

It Takes Both Skill and Science

To fit glasses naturally requires much skill. Natural ability is always good; but the skill that comes from training and a sure grasp of all that relates to this science is essential to give each person the service and the fitting each person should have. A true fitting depends really upon one who is both skilful and scientifically trained.

EDUCATION NOT LEGISLATION TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

Urges President of U.S. Federation of Business Women at West Baden

West Baden, Ind., July 31—More education and less legislation to solve economic problems, adequate training for every girl entering business, and more love in business relations were ideals upheld by Miss Adella Pritchard, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women, who spoke in her address at the opening of the sixth annual convention of the federation here.

Addressing representatives of 40,000 women from all parts of the United States, she urged extension of the organization to include all business and professional women of other lands, saying:

"We believe some day business and professional women everywhere will be a part of a great international organization. It is out of such an organization that our idea of better business women for a better business world, will be realized."

"Every member has her opportunity for service not only to the hostess club of the convention, called attention to the broad scope of the national organization in her address of welcome. She said:

"Woman is organized religiously and politically, and the power she wields is only just beginning to be felt. She is organized intellectually and the result is the great federation of cultural clubs. She is organized by professions, but it remains for just one great organization to gather together the many bright threads and weave them into a beautiful fabric. These business and professional women have eliminated all lines of class and they have built on the very fundamentals of American ideals. Many thousands of women are finding it good and many thousands more will find this golden fleece within our own generation."

Mrs. Bailey also addressed the meeting of the Indiana federation which held its seventh annual convention before the opening of the national federation.

A wide variety of occupations are represented among the managers, bank tellers, bond saleswomen, department managers and secretaries are recorded at least one of each of the following: business manager, bank publicity director, building contractor, road contractor, geologist, tailor, wholesale grocer, finger-print expert and a railroad officer.

PROVING AID TO PEACE
Miss Lila Ashby, of Little Rock, Ark., recording secretary, speaking at the Sunday evening "get acquainted" meeting, said that such a gathering of business and professional women, many of them prominent in their own lines, would have been impossible in any other age and in any other country than America, a nation of people who work for their living. It is such organizations of women that are helping to bring about world peace, she said.

Portland, Me., is generally accepted as the 1925 convention city and invitations are being tendered for 1926. A new venture in college newspaper work is in effect here. Young women from Indian University are publishing a convention paper, a staff of students gathers the news and wires it to Bloomington, Ind., where it is printed. Trucks bring the papers for morning distribution.

In very kindly terms of Mr. Kenworthy and his association with them, and said how they all regretted his departure from them, wishing him and Mrs. Kenworthy success and happiness in their future career.

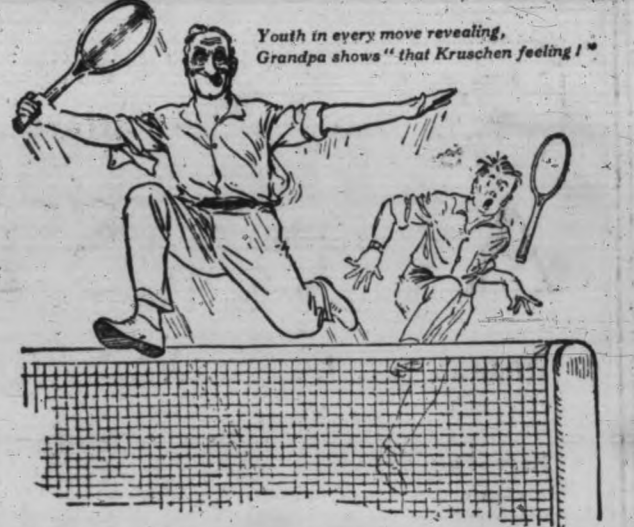

Miss Bessie Logan presided at the piano for the dancing and singing. Mr. Norman Lee delighted those present with several recitations. A fine radio set, owned and operated by Mr. George Fry, with loud speaker kindly loaned by The Western Canadian Radio Supply Co., Ltd., added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. At the supper hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess. The party broke up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Kenworthy Sr., assisted in receiving the guests, among whom were: Misses Beaulogus, Mary Starling, Alice Davis, Gertie Schofield, Daisy King, Gertie Millar, Lucy Spherott, Viney Wood.

Among the merry party of guests who invaded the Summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Kent at Prospect Place last evening were: Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. Henshall, Mr. and Mrs. T. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hanbury, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fenell, Mrs. M. Kuhn of Pekin, Mrs. H. Sharpe of San Francisco, Miss B. Goodman of Seattle, Mrs. E. Evans, Miss M. Davis, Miss E. Simpson, G. Plimley, D. Plimley, F. McNeill and Messrs. R. Kingham, R. Cleeri, F. Findlay, D. Green, J. Gilbert of Los Angeles, T. Collinson, J. Watson and G. Pauline.

Among the many spectators who were in attendance at the races yesterday at the Willows were the Hon. Dr. Sutherland and Mrs. Sutherland, the Hon. Mr. Pattullo and Mrs. Pattullo, Senator and Mrs. Green, Hon. and Mrs. John Hart, Dr. and Mrs. W. T. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bowker, Miss Bowker, Mrs. Walter Burton, Mrs. Chadwick of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Copas, Mrs. J. A. Rithet, Mrs. Umach, Mrs. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dickson, Mrs. H. M. Fullerton of Westminster and many others.

In honor of Miss Edna Oldershaw, Miss Mary MacKinnon entertained at a linen shower Saturday afternoon. Master Bobby Webb presented the gifts, which were concealed in a basket of flowers, the guest of honor, Mrs. Robert Ross and Mrs. Gordon Leckie presided at the table. Among those present were: Miss Edna Oldershaw, Mrs. A. B. Oldershaw, Mrs. Robert Ross, Mrs. Gordon Leckie, Mrs. Earl Duke, Mrs. C. Paxton, Mrs. R. Webb and the Misses Audrey Topp, "Jinty" Clayton, Florence MacMillan, Lillian Pritchett, Gladys McLennan, Kitty Jeffrey and Madge Nott.

A delightful time was spent on Tuesday evening by the staff of the White Lunch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kenworthy, Pinewood Avenue, this being the occasion of Mr. Kenworthy severing his connection with the White Lunch, Ltd., after ten years' service. The gathering took the form of a farewell party, the guests being entertained at a very handsome traveling trunk from his coworkers. An artistic scroll on which were the names of the donors accompanied the gift. The presentation was made by Mr. C. V. Moir, who spoke at length

Health Bubbling Over

The old boy's as pleased with himself as a puppy-dog with two tails.
At sixty he's just as young in feeling, just as full of life and "go," as he was in his teens. From the crown of his head to the soles of his feet his whole frame tingles with the sheer joy of being alive. It does one good to look at him.
That's what Kruschen has done for him—given him "that Kruschen feeling" of perfect health and happiness.
It's so simple to gain too! A daily tasteless pinch of Kruschen, taken in the breakfast cup of coffee or tea, gently and naturally cleanses the system of all impurities. There are six different salts in every pinch, and under their energizing influence the headaches and fits of depression, the listlessness and lack of appetite, the twinges of gout and rheumatism—in fact, all the little ills that make life burdensome vanish away, to give place to the vigorous cheeriness that comes from physical well-being.
For Kruschen gets down to the cause of these ills—the impure blood stream and the sluggish internal organs. The regular daily dose stimulates the liver and kidneys to the proper performance of their duty, removes all impurities and sends new refreshed blood to carry health and vigour to every part of the body.
Take the first step towards renewing health and happiness and the whole-hearted enjoyment of life, by buying a 76c bottle straight away and beginning the Kruschen Habit of Health, with your breakfast cup of coffee or tea to-morrow morning.

Kruschen Salts
Tasteless in Coffee or Tea
Put as much in your breakfast cup as will fill on a 19 cent piece. It's the little salt that does it.
Good Health for Half a Cent a Day
A 76c bottle of Kruschen Salts contains daily use "as much as will fill on a 19 cent piece—enough for three months—each pinch," taken in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea. Every drugist sells a cent a day. The dose prescribed for Kruschen. Get a 76c bottle today.

Advertisement for Aristo Motor Oil featuring a portrait of a man and text: 'Have used Aristo for over four years, during this time have operated a Dodge touring car and a Ford truck and have had no trouble with carbon.'

A Fluffy "Carbon" That Blows Out With the Exhaust Almost As Fast As It Forms

WE are telling you facts about Aristo Motor Oil that scores of users report to us—10,000, 20,000, 50,000 miles without any "carbon" trouble, motor lay-ups, or expense.

Two Kinds

All motor oils, with no exception, deposit some carbonaceous residue. One kind is hard and gritty—an abrasive. It clings to valve heads, cylinder walls and pistons and causes power losses and extra wear.

Soft and Flaky

Aristo deposits a soft, fluffy residue. Most of it blows out with the exhaust as the motor runs. It doesn't cling, or act as an abrasive—the little that may stay.

It forms so slowly that many users find removal is required from 1-10 to 1-5 as often as in the case of the hard, gritty kind. Your car runs 10,000 miles without carbon instead of 2,000, and in scores of instances, from 20,000 up to 50,000 miles.

You may want to try in your motor, an oil that lubricates, saves wear and tear, and time, and gives this greatly increased mileage without "carbon." If you do, say "Aristo"—don't say merely "motor oil."

AT THE THEATRES

"Only a Shop Girl" Has Premiere at Columbia

Few motion pictures of the present day have the record of popularity behind them that is boasted by "Only a Shop Girl," the second of the great series of Blaney successes which had its first showing at the Columbia to-day.

Redskins and Red Fire Clash in Making Picture

Fireworks in the hands of a tribe of a tribe of Coahuila Indians can precipitate just as much confusion as a firewater.

"We arrived at Mecca," related Willat, "after ten o'clock at night. Besides Jack Holt, Noah Beery, Kathryn Williams and Billie Dove, featured players, we had two Indians in our party. They were White Eagle and Yawitchee, studio hit players.

"And somehow an entire tribe of Coahuila Indians living near Mecca, heard of our coming. They met us at the station several hundred strong. That was all fine, except that a bright mind among the tribe found several dozen railroad flares and lit them in our honor.

"Soon all of sleeping Mecca was awake. The crimson glory of the flares brought out the fire department. Of course, all that department members found was our company. And it was three o'clock in the morning, before Mecca would permit itself to tear away from the 'actors,' and return to bed."

"Women Men Marry" is Lesson of Department

Edward Dillon has taken Adelaide Helbro's story of a girl who learns humanity through a realization that all are "sisters under the skin" and given it a production which is certain to be appreciated as a good box-office bet by the states right buyers.

HANDLEY WELLS

"The Shepherd King" Surpasses Earlier Films in Grandeur

William Fox has achieved the heights of spectacular grandeur in "The Shepherd King" and even surpassed the high standard set in "Nero." The atmosphere and historic fidelity added to the dramatic power of the story of the world's most famous romance, have created a new epoch in motion pictures.

Director J. Gordon Edwards went to Egypt and the Holy Land with a company of American players, camera men and technical assistants to make the screen version of the stage play by Wright Lorimer and Arnold Reeves on the exact ground where the scenes occurred two thousand years ago.

Thomas H. Ince, himself a lover of the sea, has again brought its compelling influence to the screen in "The Marriage Cheat," a vivid drama of emotions to which the ocean contributes many thrilling moments, for its setting is on the romantic island of Hiti Hiti in the South Seas.

Sea Thrills in "The Marriage Cheat" Coming to Capitol

One of the most exciting incidents in the story occurs when the yacht "Sultana" is wrecked on a jagged reef as it leaves the shelter of Hiti Hiti. "Octavia Canfield," played by Leatrice Joy, and her baby are put in a lifeboat and lowered away from the side of the yacht, which is being pounded by the waves and blowing badly.

Another thrilling bit of action falls to Percy Marmont, in the role of "Paul Payne," lone missionary on the island of Hiti Hiti, who remains in romance with "Octavia Canfield," is terminated by the appearance of her husband. Seeing the distress signals from the yacht, he has only one thought—the safety of Octavia and the baby. Shoving a filmy outrigger canoe into the roaring surf, he jumps in and, single handed and with almost superhuman strength, forces it through the huge breakers and out to the wreck.

There are many other striking glimpses of the sea in "The Marriage Cheat" and its influence is felt throughout the picture.

But it comes where it should—at the finish. The father dies suddenly and when the will is read the girl discovers that she is the daughter of the humble servants. This is a severe shock. Another shock comes when the equally wealthy wife, a social climber, too, ejects her from the house. And a second surprise arrives when a "second will" is read making the girl sole beneficiary. Having learned humility, she accepts the love of the hard-working youth.

ence Dixon enacts the part of the haughty girl as if to the manner born—a true Ritzy touch throughout. Charles Hammond makes the father a recognizable type—a fine performance. It is now showing at the Playhouse.

Star Wears Latest Creations in Capitol Film

Miss and Mrs. Moviefan will have a gorgeous display of feminine finery upon which to feast their eyes in "The Perfect Flapper," Colleen Moore's First National picture now showing at the Capitol Theatre.

Colleen Moore wears many stunning gowns in this picture but her costume representing Juliet, the Shakespeare heroine, is especially appealing. Flappers will also be interested in the latest vogue in bobbed hair as exemplified by the perfect flapper at the screen. Phyllis Hayer, the famous bathing beauty is to be seen in some dashing creations in the bal masque scenes.

"The Perfect Flapper," aside from its pretentious presentation, boasts an unusually brilliant cast in the persons of Sydney Chaplin, Frank Mayo, Phyllis Hayer, Lydia Knott and Charles Wellesley. John Francis Dillon directed.

SEEM SUPERFLUOUS

"Which do you think counts for the most in life, money or brains?" "Well," answered Miss Cayenne, "I see so many people who manage to get on with so little of either that I am beginning to lose my respect for both."

ROUND-THE-WORLD FLIERS ACCLAIMED IN PARIS.—Above you see the three American round-the-world planes just after they had landed at Le Bourget flying field in Paris on Bastille Day. The holiday crowds started to swarm on the field as soon as the planes touched ground. In the group below the American fliers are surrounded by high army officers and officials of the French Government.

ONTARIO AFTER SETTLERS.—Col. W. R. Smythe, former M.P.P. for Algoma East, who has been appointed Supervisor of Colonization and Settlement in Northern Ontario.

THEY HEARD "BABE" PLEAD GUILTY!—Nathan F. Leopold Sr., Chicago millionaire, heard his son "Babe" plead guilty to the murder of Robert Franks. Here the father is seen in Chief Justice Caverly's court with his elder son, Foreman. The strain he has been under since the arrest of his younger son is shown in the deep lines in his face.

WHY WILD BULL PRIZEFIGHTER WAS HELD.—Above you see Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" and Miss Blanca Lourdes. Because of the presence of the young lady in Firpo's entourage, the wild bull was almost knocked out before he landed on our fair shores. Her passport was to Havana, but she told immigration officials that she was Senor Firpo's secretary. When she displayed an expansive ignorance of stenographer's pot-hooks and dashes she was sent to Ellis Island. So was Firpo. Later they both were released when the young lady promised to take the first boat to Havana. She is almost six feet tall and weighs more than 150, according to the nimble photographer.

PEACEMAKER.—Ambassador Kellogg, chief American plenipotentiary at the Inter-Allied Conference in London, who is bending all his efforts towards healing the breach between the French delegates and Anglo-American financiers.

CANADA'S REPRESENTATIVE.—Senator Dandurand, who has been appointed as Canada's chief representative, at the League of Nations.

ANTI-AMERICA DAY.—The streets of Tokio were thronged with demonstrators on Anti-America Day. Here is a group of Japanese citizens in a "solemn, unswerving protest" against the immigration law which excludes Japanese from the United States. The demonstrators boasted that Americans in Japan fear to venture outside their homes at night.

FUNNYFACE.—Here is the most caricatured man in all Europe. He is Robert Guttman, artist, critic, journalist, film actor and globe-trotter. His home is in Prague. He is now in Paris where artists are having a lot of fun with his features. He will soon leave for the United States.

WATCHING CHAIN OF EVIDENCE TIGHTEN ABOUT THEM.—On the left, Nathan Leopold Jr., and on the right Richard Loeb, nineteen-year-old Chicago University graduates and sons of millionaire families, sitting calmly in court as witness after witness takes the stand to describe one or another of the details in the killing of fourteen-year-old Robert Franks.

A STRATEGIC FAILURE.

GREATEST OF THEM ALL.—Here is Ty Cobb, perhaps the greatest living baseball player, as he appears on and off the diamond. He says if he had a boy that lacked initiative, he would teach him to play baseball. He was given a rousing ovation when his team visited Toronto last Friday.

HER BEAUTY CAUGHT THE JUDGES' EYE.—Miss Christina March was judged to be the prettiest girl at the Danforth businessmen's picnic in Withrow Park, Toronto. The prize was gold.
