The Leading and Oldest Rose Growers of America

The Charles Dingee Rose is the result of cross-breeding between Hermosa, that grand old hardy pink variety, and White Maman Cochet, perhaps the greatest of all white garden Roses—a superb parentage, which insures its offspring every point of excellence. With the hardy, vigorous constitution of a Hybrid Perpetual, growing to perfection in almost any soil or situation, it has the most magnificent foliage, absolutely free from disease, that we have ever seen on any Rose.

The birthplace of America's rose-growing industry

A glory of bloom and blossom that makes it the home of the world's finest roses

There are few, very few homes in America—from the great imposing estates to the wee bits of a place with just a wee patch of a yard—but where, on a fine summer's day you will see the glory of roses—the Queen of Flowers, brightening the drabest city yard.

Roses . . . everywhere.

This was the vision which Charles Dingee saw 76 years ago when he established the Harmony Grove Nursery here at West Grove, Penna., soon after which Mr. Dingee organized the present company, The Dingee & Conard Company. He knew the love that every one of us has for flowers—especially roses.

This vision has grown to the present business of selling own-root roses by mail—virtually the beginning of the rose-growing industry of America. Here, on this identical location, the first own-root roses were grown for mail-order business. Here, continuously throughout 76 years, this business has remained under the control of the same family. Not only in ownership, but under the guidance of men, many of whom are now completing almost 50 years of service in the interest of better roses. We are glad to introduce some of them who are still active in the service of The Dingee & Conard Company.

These men and the present management have held fast to the ideals of the founder—not only to make it possible for people everywhere to have roses—but better roses. In the extensive list gathered from all parts of the world you will find all that is best, grown by these experts of The Dingee & Conard Company.

The wealth of knowledge gained by these men is invaluable. It is directly responsible for the reputation that Dingee Roses have, not only in America, but throughout the world where they go and grow. There are Dingee customers in every county of every state in the American Union and in every other civilized nation of the earth. The development of roses under Dingee experts makes it possible for even the greenest amateur to grow them successfully.

Some time we hope you will come to West Grove. We believe you will be interested in the historic spot where rose-growing for commerce had its beginning—in the modern facilities for the most expert growing of roses—and especially in the roses themselves, a wonderful riot of gorgeous blooms that will make the day happy for any "subject of the Queen." Most anyone within a radius of one hundred miles can tell you how to reach us on Route 12, midway between Philadelphia and Baltimore.

DINGEE ROSES
On Own Roots ROSES
THE DINGEE & CONARD CO., West Grove, Pa.

Why Own Root Roses

We have been going and growing for more than seventy years. Growing roses so that they will grow almost anywhere and for almost anybody, and grown on their Own Roots as they should be grown for permanent use. So grown they do not go wild or in other words revert back to the wild root upon which they are budded, and in a short time they are nothing but wild shrubs of no use whatever. Very few firms offer own root roses because they are more expensive to produce and they do not have the equipment to grow them. It has taken us years to acquire such an equipment, and with only one thought i. e.: to grow own root Roses because we more firmly than ever believe that they are the best for our climate, so until now it is true that Dingee & Conard Roses go and grow in almost every land.

The budding is usually done on wild Mannettia Rose stalks by taking a bud from the original plant and inserting it under the bark of the Manettia and binding it thereon, as in Illustration No. 5. The first year the budded Rose makes a rapid, soft growth, probably producing some blooms, but the second year the wild root begins to assert itself and grows with tremendous vigor, throwing out wild shoots from the roots, thus sapping the life from the top which usually dies, as in illustration No. 4. Note the shoot from the side with the foliage thereon, which is the wild Rose that will not bloom, nor is it ornamental; this is an actual photograph of a two-year budded Rose.

Anyone who wants Roses and not wild shrubbery should buy only the best, or Roses grown on Their Own Roots. Such are the Dingee Roses, known the world over. We sometimes wonder why these budded Roses are offered by some firms; selling them to an unknown and unsuspecting public, but, as Barnum said "American people like to be humbugged." We are content to adhere to the principles laid down by the founder of this business, who, notwithstanding the many ridiculous claims put forth by men who were yet unborn when Mr. Dingee was active in the business of producing Own Root Roses, now claim to have invented this method of production.

An own-root plant is started by taking a portion of a branch from the mother plant and putting in sand until the roots are formed at the bottom, as illustrated in No. 1. This is what is known as a rooted cutting. Note how the fibrous roots are formed. In illustration No. 2 we have a first size own root plant grown in pots. No. 3 illustrates a two-year-old plant grown in a four or five-inch pot. Note the fibrous roots, which soon establish themselves in the soil after planting; also how each shoot or branch is crowned with a bud; how these branches are formed and how the increase in size is made up by making new shoots. Compare this photograph with the one of the budded plant (No. 4) and note how different. A budded plant cannot increase in size unless the increase is made on the weak budded branch and then very seldom, but Own Root Roses increase in size each year, unless destroyed, and are permanent, producing finer and better blooms each season. They are the only Roses suitable for the varying climatic conditions of our country, and we cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of knowing the kind of plants you are getting before placing an order for them. What a success these own root roses have been are told by a few of the many testimonials we receive each year unsolicited from many thousands of satisfied customers, and published elsewhere in this book.

Rose-growing made easy

Don't Bother With Budding or Grafting—Briar is Always Nuisance

The common belief that all modern roses must be budded or grafted to secure permanent trees is not accurate, says "Answers." Roses growing on their own roots will give results equal to any produced on briars.

Growing budded roses is a source of endless trouble to many novices. The briar grows up and the grower, not knowing it from the real rose growth, allows it full scope. In a year or two the briar has asserted itself, takes full control, and nothing but dog-roses are produced.

With roses on their own roots, there is never any of this trouble. Should the bush be cut down by frost at any time and the roots not harmed, real rosewood is again produced in the spring. On the other hand, many amateurs have set out to plant a rosebud and secured the best of budded stocks, but in a year or two have had only briars for their trouble.

With a budded rose you may get more vigorous growth, and probably a more robust bloom, but give a rose, growing on its own roots, liberal treatment and it will come in first every time.

The gardener who sets out to grow roses on their own roots simplifies his work. All dwarf roses, rambles, and climbers may be treated in this way. But should a standard or a Tree Rose be desired it will be necessary to have a briar to suit the purpose.

The best growths are those which are on the outside of the bushes. Shoots which are not showing any bloom should be selected. These should then be severed from the parent plant, with a good portion of the old bark attached. The "heel" should be trimmed a little with a sharp knife, and lower leaves removed.

How to Grow "Dingee Roses"

All Dingee Roses are propagated under such favorable conditions that our shibboleth, "Dingee Roses Go and Grow Everywhere," is literally true; but common sense tells us that certain kinds of Roses thrive better in some localities than in others. We have tried to indicate as nearly as possible, in connection with the different classes of Roses, the section of the country in which each will thrive to its full perfection with the least amount of protection.

Preparation of Beds

The way to get the best results from Roses when planted in beds is to make a trench to a depth of 15 to 18 inches, that is, the soil should be removed to that depth, well pulverized and mixed with from one-third to one-fourth its bulk with well-rotted animal manure, cow stable manure preferable where it can be obtained. Before filling in the bed it is well to put in some material for drainage, such as soft coal cinders, broken crockery or stones, not too large. Then return the soil to the trench, and when returned it should stand from 3 to 4 inches higher than the surrounding ground, as it will quickly settle below the surface. It is necessary to do this in order that rainwater will drain quickly away from the bed. If, however, the soil you remove from the trench is not the best Rose soil, as the best kind of soil for Roses is a clayey loam; if your soil does not contain this, it can be improved by mixing in sods from the roadside or fields; but if your soil is too heavy, it should be lightened with a portion of sand. The selection of your bed is a very important matter. Roses thrive best where they can secure all the sun possible; that is, do not plant them close to trees or shrubbery, as the roots of these extend farther than the branches. Select, if possible, an open situation, where the plants will receive plenty of air and sunshine. A southeastern exposure is an ideal one. They will, however, do well in other locations, if given the necessary care. Roses do better if they are watered in the morning.

Fertilizer

This is a question we are frequently requested to answer. Cow manure is generally preferred, and can be used in fresh condition. Horse manure when new is very heating and should not be used while in this condition, except as a winter mulch. Hog, sheep and chicken manure are also very helpful. The last two, however, should be used sparingly. Ground bone is beneficial, but should be secured as fine as possible, and it should be used sparingly. The best method is sprinkling a portion over the bed until the ground is entirely covered, then with the use of a fork it can be dug into the soil and thoroughly mixed. Air slaked lime is also beneficial, about a cupful to a plant scattered on the surface in early spring and midsummer. A mulching of cow stable manure is very beneficial during the growing season. It helps to retain the moisture during the dry season, as well as a food for the roots.

Planting

As soon as the plants are received it is best to immediately plant, yet if it is impossible to do this the plant should be placed in a cellar or moderately warm place and protected from the sun. Set them upright to admit the free circulation of air. When you receive them they will be wrapped in Sphagnum Moss, which should be removed before planting, as it is used only for protection. Water freely from time to time. The roots should be covered with soil or burlap and never allowed to become dry. Soaking the roots in lukewarm water or thin mud for an hour or two before planting to restore their vitality is beneficial. Do not set the plants too shallow. They should be planted deeper than they were growing in the pots before shipping. This can easily be determined by an examination of the plant. If you receive them with the soil on the roots in which they have been growing, do not remove this soil. Give them as near a natural position as possible. Use plenty of water after planting and shade for a few days, if the sun is hot, with newspaper or similar material, and if the season is a dry one an occasional watering will be beneficial. The best time to plant Roses such as we send out, being pot-grown, own-root stock, is in early spring. This refers entirely to pot-grown plants and not dormant plants. By dormant plants we mean field-grown; that is, lifted from the field and have not made any growth whatever. Such plants as these should be set out earlier than pot-grown plants.

Pruning

As a rule, the Roses that we send out do not need any pruning, being pot-grown plants. However, if the bushes are more spreading than is desired, it does not injure the plant any to prune it back. This applies only to the pot-grown plants. Pruning can be done at any season of the year with a certain class of Roses, but it is a matter to be governed by the judgment of the possessor of the plants. The best time for pruning is early spring, just before they begin to break at the eyes. Then it is well to trim Roses back to about one-third to one-half the season's growth. The larger and heavier the growth the more it should be trimmed.

Winter Protection

The protection necessary to keep Roses safely through the winter months depends entirely upon the character of the plant and the location. For such Roses as the Hybrid Perpetuals, Rugosas, Harrison's Yellow, etc., very little protection, if any, is necessary in any climate, yet it is beneficial in the cold latitudes of the North to give them protection of straw horse stable manure after the first hard freeze. The soil itself is a good protection. When protecting the Teas and Hybrid Teas it is a good plan to mound the earth about each plant, or use clean sand about six inches deep, then fill in between the mounds with straw stable manure, the coarser the better. The uncovered tops may be tied up with straw or burlap. This protection should be gradually removed in March in the latitude of Philadelphia, or as soon as all danger of hard freezing is over. The tender Roses may also be wintered in boxes or pots of soil in a cool cellar or heeled in (the earth itself). Where you have a dirt floor two or three waterings will be required during the winter, just sufficient to prevent drying out.

Diseases and Insects

MILDEW—This disease very frequently attacks the foliage of Roses, especially the Crimson Rambler. It is shown by a grayish crinkling appearance of the leaves and usually occurs after a change in the temperature.

DINGEE ROSES ON OWN ROOTS.

It can be checked to a certain extent by sprinkling the leaves with powdered sulphur immediately after its appearance. If, however, this does not check it, dissolve one ounce of potassium sulphuret in two gallons of cold water and apply as a fine spray.

GREEN FLY OR APHIS—A green sucking insect which usually gathers in great numbers upon the tips of the new growth. A solution of tobacco made from tobacco insecticide soap, which you will find offered elsewhere in this book, will exterminate them.

The Rose Bug is a familiar insect, appears in the earliest summer, sometimes in great quantities, and is very troublesome. It is a very destructive insect and usually feeds upon the white petals, but is easily destroyed by the use of BETOL SPRAY—A new discovery for rose bugs said to be very good. Offered elsewhere.

BLACK SPOT—A fungous disease, appearing as its name indicates as a black spot upon the leaf, eventually turning yellow and falling. It rarely occurs in the early part of the season and the Teas are almost but not quite exempt from its ravages. The best preventive if your bushes have been troubled with it in the past is spraying in April with Bordeaux Mixture before the foliage has developed and not while the flowers are in bloom, because of the discoloration of the foliage.

HARDINESS—Hardiness in a Rose is a matter of which no one can speak with positive certainty, because the condition of the weather, as a rule, prescribes the hardiness of a plant, as quite frequently plants that have been out year after year will be winter-killed by unusual conditions.

FOR GROWING ROSES FOR CUT FLOWERS—In greenhouses, such as Columbia, Premier, Killarneys, American Beauty, Bride, Bridesmaid Milady, Ophelia, My Maryland, Lady Hillingdon, Sunburst, Kaiserin Augusta Victoria. For outdoor growing for cut-flower purposes none is better adapted for this than the Cochets and Charles Dingee.

FOR CEMETERIES—The Souperets, Baby Ramblers and Memorial or Wichuraiana.

The Dingee & Conard Co.,
West Grove, Penna.

Gentlemen:

In the spring of 1921 I ordered four Rose bushes of you and four from each of two other firms. You were slow in shipping so additional orders that year were sent to another firm who represented Roses they supplied were on their own roots. Candidly, your bushes seemed much smaller and they did not seem to take hold as quickly as the others; neither did they make as good growth that first year, so that the following spring order was sent to your competitor.

By the end of the second summer I decided that the bushes received of you were really superior to the others which by this time had begun to look rather unhappy although all were living. Bushes bought of you had become thrifty and vigorous as if they had finally decided to settle down content to live in my garden and grow on and on.

That fall with a bulb order sent the other firm I included a Climbing American Beauty which was a budded or grafted plant.

Last year I bought no additional Roses thinking to watch those I had and decide which were really the best. Several bushes sent up a thrifty growth which I later learned was from the root upon which they were budded. I dug these up, cut off all the wild growth and re-set the plants to a greater depth. Some of them promptly died while others appeared to recover and blossomed in the fall. Probably all of these bushes are not budded but—all were bought for own root plants. I have decided that while budded or grafted bushes may be O. K. in the hands of an experienced gardener, for an amateur—one who has but a limited amount of time to devote to a garden and wishes to derive some pleasure and satisfaction therefrom—the own root Roses are the only ones of any value.

Yours Sincerely,

MRS. H. H. WHITEHEAD, Rhode Island.

The Newer Varieties of American Roses

Silver Columbia

Hybrid Tea—Illustrated in natural color on back cover. A Sport of Columbia. From the illustration you will note the magnificent buds and blooms it produces on great stout stems. One of the greatest bloomers we have ever seen, being one mass of gorgeous blooms the entire growing season. It is a strong healthy grower, free from insects and disease, thus making it a rose that will become the most popular in America because anyone can succeed with it. Needs no petting or coaxing. It just grows anywhere. Foliage dark green. Does well indoors as well as in the open ground. Hardy everywhere. Excellent for cutting. In its color also lies one of the chief charms, being a beautiful clear shade of deep silver pink deepening towards the center. Fragrant as an American Beauty. Awarded Silver Medal by the American Rose Society. Price 50c each for first size plant, postpaid, $1.50 for 2-year-old plants, by express collect. All on own roots.

DINGEE ROSES ON OWN ROOTS.

Covington, Ohio
July 21, 1923.

Dingee & Conard Co.,
West Grove, Penna.

Gentlemen:

This spring I bought a Francis Scott Key Rose of you. Owing to the fact that we had cold weather here till June 1st and no warm rains these Roses were slow to grow and bloom. This Rose bloomed the other day for the first time and it is scorching hot here now, hardly any Rose will bloom to amount to anything here now, but this one created a sensation. It was as large as the incomparable Frau Karl Druschki and of even finer form because it has so many more petals and has a higher center and the color is simply beyond description, a rich scarlet with darker shadings. It is the one color that I have been trying to find for the last two years and I have over 200 Roses now. I will want at least a dozen of this variety next spring. Must also state that I bought own root Roses and budded stock this spring about 50-50. Contrary to all claims, I had much better luck with your own root stock than with the budded. The budded stock was much larger than yours but some of them are standing now just as they were planted in April, some died, some are doing fine but none have the fine blooms like the stock that I bought from you. I have four Columbias from you. They are immense bushes. I have one budded bush I bought from a firm here in Ohio this spring, it has grown about four inches and the blooms will not come perfect on it, think I will junk it. It may be that I don't know how to handle budded stock but I will take your own root stock every time. You are at liberty to give my experience to anyone who is undecided between budded and own rootstock.

Clyde O'Roark,
312 Harrison Street.

New Rose "Columbia"

Not since the introduction of the glorious Rose, American Beauty, have we been so impressed with any Rose as we have been with "Columbia." A hybrid tea of wonderful blooming qualities; as free a bloomer as any tea Rose; blooms all the time. Almost thornless. Wonderful strong shoots four feet or more in length, each producing a magnificent bloom, often measuring six inches across the open flower. Color a deep peach pink, deepening into a glowing pink, a perfect color. The fragrance is beyond description, sweeter than an American Beauty. After a thorough trial we heartily recommend it as a great outdoor Rose.

Hardy as an oak, thrives in any location, strong grower and soon makes a great display. One of the most exquisite Roses for cutting we have ever seen; produces handsome buds, on long, stiff stems well above the foliage. Foliage is a dark green and does not seem to be affected with disease or troubled with insects; on account of its strong growth, it seems to be able to ward both off, thus making it one of the most popular outdoor Roses. Don't fail to include one at least in your order; you will never regret it.

American Legion

Hybrid Tea—An American production, having been produced by Edward Towill, Roslyn, Pa. The blooms of this Rose the past season brought almost as much as the famous Rose, American Beauty, and as it becomes better known, we predict it will be as popular, as the color is such a pleasing shade of cerise, which it retains until all petals fall. Buds produced on long, stiff stems, well above the foliage and of immense size, long and pointed, opening full and double, a great producer. Foliage dark green, free from diseases such as Black Spot, Mildew, etc. Awarded First Prize for a new Rose in 1920. Silver Medal by the Penna. Horticultural Society and the International Rose Show of New York. Wonderful keeper, thus making it an ideal rose for cutting. Equally good as a forcing rose or for outside, being absolutely hardy in all localities.

Dingee Famous Hybrid Tea Roses The Most Desirable of All

For many years we have had by far the most complete and extensive list of Hybrid Tea Roses in the business, having been the first house to call particular attention to their wonderful value. Ours is the greatest collection in this country. As the new varieties are introduced they are given a trial, and if found wanting in any respect are discarded and not offered to the Rose-growing public until they prove worthy. This excellent class combines the continuous-blooming quality of the Ever-blooming Teas and the sturdy strength of the Hybrid Perpetuals. The plants bloom the first year, like the Teas, bearing large, finely formed flowers of a wondrous range of color, with the fragrance of the June Roses. They are especially valuable to Northern planters because they stand the severest winters with ordinary protection and, of course, luxuriantly in the South. In summer great masses of most beautiful Roses imaginable. Unless a Hybrid Tea Rose bush is grown from the choicest two-eyed cutting—the Dingee method—it will not give satisfaction. All our stock is on its own roots—don't buy the other kind, budded and grafted. We offer strong, lusty plants in all sizes and stake our reputation upon their quality.

PREMIER—The blooms are immense, often measuring 5 and 6 inches across the open flower, buds long, full and pointed. Growth remarkable, being strong and sturdy, each bloom borne on heavy canes, almost thornless and 4 and 5 feet long. Foliage dark, glossy green, free from disease or insects. Rose

Mrs. George Shawyer

This is one of the newer varieties introduced by the growers of Lady Hillingdon. We have not seen a Rose that has met with such universal appreciation by both the amateur and professional grower. The color is very hard to describe, being a shade of brilliant clear rose or bright peach-pink. It is a wonderful grower and bloomer, producing great numbers of strong shoots, each tipped with a bud. These shoots form the stem, from 3 to 4 feet in length. The flowers are very large, well formed and full, petals of good substance. A very fine garden Rose as well as a forcing Rose.

MRS. HUGH DICKSON—A Rose suitable for any purpose, delightfully perfumed, producing its large flowers in great profusion. The petals are large and of excellent substance, and the flowers of superb build, with high-pointed centers, with a beautiful outline. Color, a deep cream, with heavy profusion of orange and apricot. Splendid grower.

DUCHESS OF WELLINGTON—A peerless Tea-like Rose, and one of the best in our trial grounds, with beautifully smooth and massive petals. The blooms are very large, full and perfectly formed, with high-pointed center. Very sweetly perfumed. The color, which is very novel, is a dainty, clear rose-madder. The growth is vigorous, erect and of very free-flowering habit. Price, first size plants, 35c each, 3 for $1.00 postpaid; two-year-old plants, $1.00; $10.00 per doz. by express collect.

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury

One of the many new varieties of Roses recently produced in this country that will soon become a popular favorite is our prediction for this Glorious Hybrid Tea. A cross between My Maryland, Jos. Hill and Milady. It has the desirable features of all and apparently none of the faults, retaining the magnificent bud of my Maryland and the double flower when fully opened of Milady, making it the most perfect Rose we have ever seen. In its color lies one of its principal charms, being a soft silvery flesh pink, deepening towards the center to very deep pink, outer edges of the petals tinted silvery rose, making a combination found in so few. Strong grower, producing the blooms on long, stiff stems, well above the foliage.

ANTOINE VERDIER—A beautifully shaded, bright, glowing pink; flowers bold and massive, like American Beauty, and of splendid substance. Bush is strong and vigorous, in constant bloom.

HYBRID TEA ROSES—

National Emblem

*Hoosier Beauty

This beautiful Rose is fragrant as Richmond; has more petals, a stiffer stem, a texture like velvet. In color, glowing crimson scarlet, with darker shadings. The bud is of good length, keeps well in the close-cut state, and opens into magnificent bloom, quite dazzling in its velvety brilliance. As soon as thoroughly established in the soil it sends out long, stiff growth with a bud on every shoot. Produces, naturally, stems 2 to 3 feet in length; each plant keeps up a very close succession of bloom, and again, unlike Richmond, it is a good summer Rose. It is an easy grower, and has become instantly popular and in heavy demand in the cities where blooms have been sold, flower buyers through the section calling for it by name.

GENERAL McARTHUR—Of strong, vigorous, healthy growth, branching freely, it produces its wonderful blooms profusely from May until October, of full scarlet crimson. Every shoot carries a large, double, well-formed flower of exquisite fragrance and lasting quality.

ROBIN HOOD—A grand grower, producing heavy canes and foliage. Blooms of immense size like the June Rose or Hybrid Perpetual. Color glorious rosy-scarlet that is soft, bright and lasting. Free bloomer, that is, blooming the entire growing season.

National Emblem

Owing to its magnificent color and formation this Rose was named National Emblem, and no Rose in our estimation has a better right to the honor of being the Standard Bearer. Its color is a deep crimson overlaid velvety crimson, shading to vermilion toward the edges. Buds long and pointed on stout stems, opening full and double, each one coming to perfection, and produced in marvelous profusion throughout the entire season.

Plants make a gorgeous sight owing to the brightness of the blooms and the luster of the foliage, being entirely free from mildew.

BRITISH QUEEN—By some said to be the finest white Rose in existence, surpassing in beauty and form any other white Rose. The flower resembles Frau Karl Druschki and White Maman Cochet, with the Tea Rose form and refinement. Flowers freely all summer long from early spring until frost. Buds sometimes show a slight flush, which disappears as the flower expands. Strong grower. Hardy. Awarded a gold medal by the National Rose Society of England.

CLARA WATSON—Rich salmon-pink, with very graceful flowers, resembling Bridesmaid in form and produced in remarkable profusion. The buds, which are supported on long stems, are very beautiful.

F. R. PATZER—A Rose of striking and pleasing appearance, owing to the delicate blending of color, which is a creamy-buff, with the reverse of petals a delicate warm pink, and as they expand the color becomes a light orange pink, which produces a most charming combination. Strong, vigorous grower. Produces numerous branches, each one crowned with magnificent bud and bloom, on long, stiff stems, well above the foliage. Hardy and an excellent garden variety.

BETTY—It is of the type of the Killarney Rose, and has a truly unique color—ruddy gold. Blooms, extremely large, fairly full, of glorious form and deliciously perfumed.

MRS. HENRY WINNETT—Color a bright shade of crimson, not quite as dark as Hadley, but not as light as Richmond, a color that has proven to be very popular, and we consider it one of the best crimson varieties. Buds long and well formed.

MRS. S. K. RINDGE—Of strong free-branching habit of growth, with dark green mildew-proof foliage, long pointed buds, carried erect on stiff stems. Color clear rich chrome-yellow, which, as the flowers mature, become suffused with salmon-pink. The flowers are of good size, moderately double, and are produced freely and continuously. Price, strong two-year-old plants, $1.25 each, by express.

Price, first size, one-year plants, except where noted, 30c each for all Roses on this page; 4 for $1.00, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 85c each, by express, $8.50 per dozen of one or more varieties; 95c each by Parcel Post with soil on roots. Dingee Hardy Everblooming Tea Roses

Tea Roses form the foundation of nearly all the great Roses of today. Without them the lovely Hybrid Tea class would be impossible. They are among the oldest and most highly cherished of all Roses. They have made the Rose-gardens of America what they are. Their place and value is everlasting. Rugged, healthy and hardy in growth, free blooming (they bloom all the time), their flowers are chaste and beautiful. You cannot well do without them. They thrive gloriously in all sections.

Their ease of propagation has, unfortunately, caused them to be produced by some growers in enormous quantities to meet a certain demand for "cheap Roses," and these so-called cheap Roses have brought untold disappointment to all who have planted them, and have discredited the business of every first-class Rose dealer. Plant good Roses, grown by a firm with a reputation to sustain. Pay a fair price for high-class goods, with a guarantee back of them—the Dingee kind—and you will soon become a Rose enthusiast.

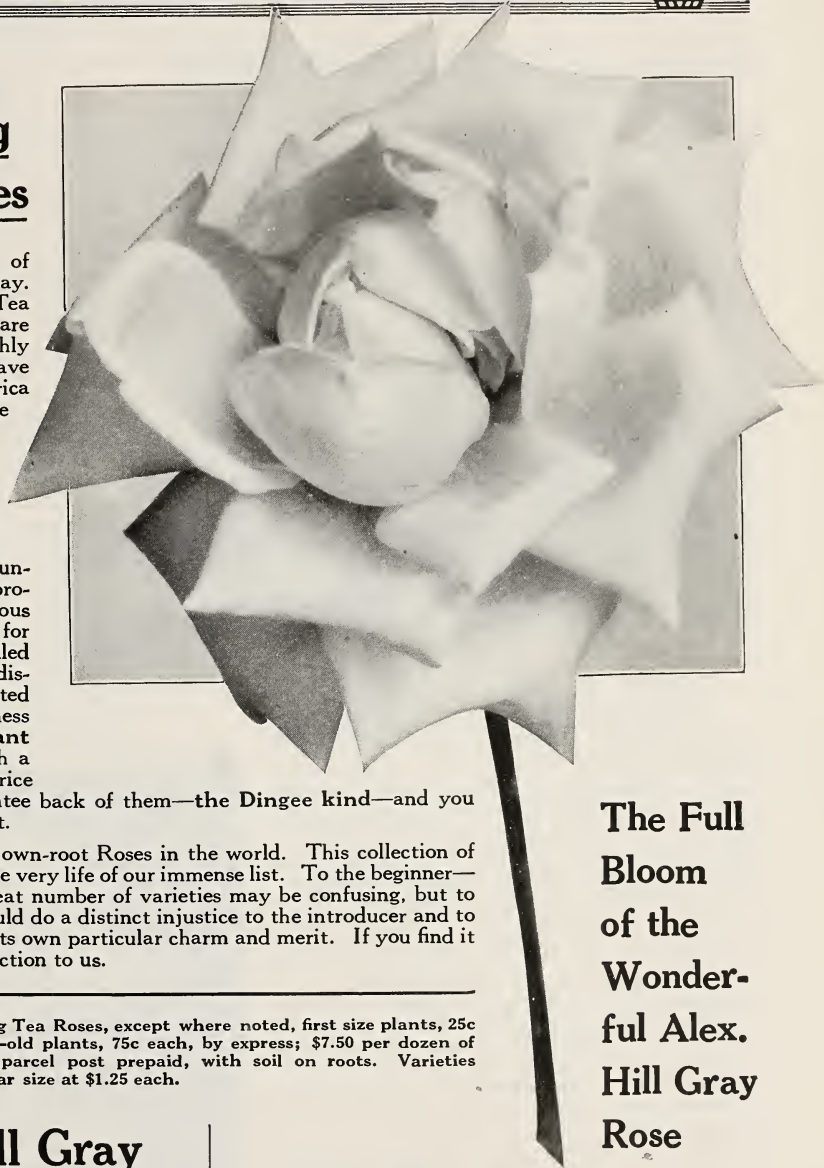

Ours is the greatest collection of own-root Roses in the world. This collection of hardy, everblooming Tea Roses is the very life of our immense list. To the beginner—the novice in Rose culture—the great number of varieties may be confusing, but to eliminate a single one, however, would do a distinct injustice to the introducer and to our collection, for each variety has its own particular charm and merit. If you find it difficult to make a choice, leave selection to us.

Prices of all Hardy, Everblooming Tea Roses, except where noted, first size plants, 25c each; 5 for $1.00, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 75c each, by express; $7.50 per dozen of one or more varieties, 85c each, by parcel post prepaid, with soil on roots. Varieties marked * furnished in still larger or star size at $1.25 each.

* Alexander Hill Gray

After a thorough trial both indoors under glass and in the open ground, we are pleased to offer this lovely yellow Rose to our customers as one of the very best of its class and color. The color, which is a deep lemon-yellow, deepening as the flower expands, does not fade in the open ground, as is usual with such. Buds and blooms of perfect formation and of great substance, and produced in the greatest abundance throughout the entire season. Strong grower and hardy everywhere. This Rose was awarded Gold Medal by the National Rose Society.

*IVORY—A sport of Golden Gate. Color pure white without a particle of any other color. Good grower.

BON SILENE. A Grand Old Rose—The color is deep rose, changing to pale light rose. This variety cannot be surpassed for bouquets and decorative purposes. In the open ground it grows to perfection, producing large crops of beautiful flowers from early spring until late autumn. One of the favorites of the old-time gardens.

HARDY EVERBLOOMING TEA ROSES—Con.

Apricot yellow shaded to orange on the outer edge of the petals, becoming deeper and more intense toward the center of the bloom. The color does not fade after the bloom is cut, but invariably becomes darker. Buds are produced on long, strong, wiry stems, well above the foliage, producing a slender and graceful effect. A strong, hearty, healthful grower.

CATHERINE MERMET—One of the best varieties of Tea Roses. A very free bloomer, producing clear, shining pink flowers, the center being shaded fawn and amber. It is a good Rose for open ground culture and forcing under glass.

FREIHERR VON MARSCHALL—It has wonderfully beautiful foliage and produces large, full, beautifully shaped flowers, which are borne in profusion all through the season. The color is bright red, one of the best red Tea Roses that is known.

ISABELLA SPRUNT—This golden yellow Rose has been known as a favorite for over twenty years. It is a free bloomer, producing flowers of bright canary-yellow, very sweetly scented. The buds are very desirable for cut flowers.

Lady Hillingdon

*Souv. de Pierre Notting

Strong, bushy habit, and has won numerous gold medals and awards of merit. The flowers are very large, well filled and open easily; color apricot-yellow, tinged with golden and mixed with orange-yellow, edge of petal shaded carmine-rose. In form and beauty it is the equal of Maman Cochet, and by many is regarded as the best all-around Rose for general cultivation.

THE BRIDE—There is no other white Rose more satisfactory than the Bride. The buds and flowers are unusually large, well formed and deliciously perfumed. It is of a strong and healthy growth, and a profuse bloomer.

COUETTE DE LYON—The flowers are extra large, deep and double; color pure canary-yellow. Unlike other yellow Roses, it is a strong, vigorous grower.

DUCHESS DE BRABANT—The color is a fine shade of soft, rosy pink, which deepens to bright rose.

ETOILE DE LYON—It is of vigorous, sturdy growth, and seems able to resist heat and cold equally well. It blooms freely, producing beautifully formed flowers of a rich golden-yellow.

BOUGERE—This is a fine variety for open ground culture. Large, full and double flowers supported on long, stiff stems and produced in great abundance all through the growing season; color bronze rose or violet-crimson shaded with lilac.

Wm. R. Smith

Especially suited for outdoor planting and cutting purposes. The soft blending of the salmon-pinks, rose-pinks, and the magnificent flesh tints resemble the blush of a maiden's cheek. The flowers are large, full and double, and most exquisitely formed. The petals are so firm they look like wax. Perfect buds.

PERLE DES JARDINS (Pearl of the Garden)—

The color is a clear golden-yellow, of a beautiful shade; the flowers are large, full, of globular form, with great depth, and substance, richly perfumed.

CORNELIA COOK—The flowers are borne in great profusion and are very desirable. The color is pure creamy white, tinged with lemon and blush.

MADAME WELCHE—Color, amber-yellow, deepening toward the center to orange or coppery yellow, delicately clouded with pale crimson.

GOLDEN GATE—Color, rich creamy white, shaded with a golden yellow and clear rose.

MAIDEN'S BLUSH—Produces a fine, healthy bush, with fine, large, bright green foliage, edged with red—almost disease and insect proof. Color a soft blending of salmon-pink, rose-pink, and flesh tints.

SAFRANO—The color is a bright apricot-yellow, passing to orange and fawn, sometimes tinted rose.

THE QUEEN—Of vigorous and healthy growth; sweetly scented. A constant bloomer, producing profuse crops of buds and flowers; the buds are well-shaped, with large petals of best substance. Color is pure snowy white.

MAD. FRANCISCA KRUGER—The flowers large, deeply shaded coppery yellow in color.

WHITE BOUGERE—The pure ivory-white flowers are unusually large, deep, full and double, borne on long, stiff stems.

MARIE GUILLOT—The color is pure white, sometimes faintly tinged pale yellow. The flowers are beautifully made, very large, full double; the buds are very pretty, of sweet fragrance.

MADAME LAMBARD—Color a magnificent shade of rosy-bronze, changing to salmon and fawn, tinted with carmine.

DEVONIENSIS (The Charming Magnolia Rose)—Produces an abundance of large, very full and double flowers all through the season. The color is creamy white, with rosy centers and very fragrant.

GENERAL DE TARTAS—It is of good habit, and an excellent Rose in every way. The color is a brilliant carmine, deeply shaded with violet-purple, oftentimes tinged with buff.

HELEN GOOD—Valuable for garden culture. The color is pale yellow, mixed with pink, each petal edged deeper. Very pure and beautiful.

MRS. CAMPBELL HALL (Tea)—Delicate creamy-buff, edged or suffused rosy-carmine. The center of the bloom is warm cerise coral fawn. Deliciously fragrant. Awarded gold medal, National Rose Society.

Wm. R. Smith

Marie Van Houtte

The color of the flowers, which are large, full and double, is pale canary-yellow, passing to rich, creamy-white, shaded with pale rose.

LADY PLYMOUTH—A Rose similar to Souv. de Pierre Notting, which means a handsome bud and full, double bloom of large size. Color is delicate pearly but deep ivory cream, faintly flushed.

MARIE LAMBERT, or SNOWFLAKE—Large, double, creamy-white flowers are produced in marvelous profusion.

MRS. B. R. CANT—Strong growing variety, producing heavy stems, with large, healthy foliage and flowers almost the equal and style of Helen Gould, but more double; deep rose, with silvery rose center.

PAPA GONTIER—A strong, vigorous grower and constant bloomer; one of the best and most valuable, both for open ground and greenhouse; color rich cherry-red, passing to clear, glowing crimson.

PRINCESS BONNIE—The brightest, sweetest and freest-blooming Rose in existence. Color solid crimson, deeper and more vivid than "Gen. Jack." Fragrance is sweeter than La France.

BLUMENSCHMIDT—A splendid bedding Rose of the Cochet type, glowing all summer with its wealth of citron-yellow flowers, each petal of which is edged with dainty rose. The individual flowers are large and well formed, resembling in many ways some of the handsomest Tea Roses.

BRIDESMAID—This variety is valuable for cutting and does finely in the open ground; a sport from the old and popular pink Tea Catherine Mermet, but of a fine, clear, dark pink, much deeper and more constant in color than Mermet.

Price, 25c each for all Roses on this page, first size plants, except where noted; 5 for $1.00, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 75c each; $7.50 per dozen, by express, of one or more varieties, or 85c each by parcel post prepaid with soil on roots. Varieties marked * in still larger or star size at $1.25 each.

A BED OF BABY RAMBLERS

Dwarf or Baby Rambler Roses

The Baby Ramblers fill a long-felt want for a rose suitable for planting along walks, driveways, and around beds where a low growing bush is desired for planting in beds or single specimen plants. They are of a dwarf habit, rarely growing more than twelve inches in height. Blooming always. Absolutely hardy.

JESSIE—The color is clear and brilliant ruby-red; foliage dark and glossy.

ANNY MULLER—Color a shiny and brilliant pink, produced in the greatest profusion in large clusters.

DOUBLE WHITE BABY RAMBLER—Great masses of double, pure white flowers, covering the plant as with a mantle.

BABY TAUSENDSCHON—Flowers firm, white, delicately flushed pink, changing to deep rosy-carmine.

GEO. ELGER—It produces great quantities of lovely little buds of golden-yellow, opening into miniature symmetrical Roses. Bush is so loaded with blooms they resemble a huge bouquet.

MRS. WM. CUTBUSH—Flowers of pale pink, borne in huge trusses throughout the entire summer.

ORLEANS—Brilliant geranium red flowers, suffused rose, with a rosy-white center.

EDITH CAVELL—Bright crimson, white eye.

GRUSS AN AUCHEN—Yellowish rose colored with salmon pink and red shadings. Blooms larger than the average polyantha.

ELLEN POULSON—Dark brilliant pink.

CLOTILDE SOUPERT—Known the world over as one of the very best of all bedding Roses. A strong, dwarf grower and a truly wonderful bloomer, producing clusters after clusters of the finest formed flowers. Full and double, and deliciously sweet. Color effect is beautiful, ivory-white, shading toward the center to silvery-rose.

Price of all Baby Rambler Roses offered on this page, except where noted, 25c each for strong pot plants; 5 for $1.00, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 75c each; $7.50 per dozen, by express, or 85c each by parcel post prepaid with soil on roots.

IDEAL—The darkest of all the Baby Ramblers, an intense lustrous garnet. Flowers are not large but are produced in very large trusses and are very effective. Compact habit of growth. Blooms abundantly all season. Price, first size plants, 35c each, 3 for $1, postpaid; two-year-old plants, $1.00 each by express collect. All on own roots.

Miscellaneous Roses

HARRISON'S YELLOW ROSE—One of the finest pure deep yellow hardy Roses ever grown. Three-year-old plants only, $1.25 each.

THE CHEROKEE ROSE—A strong, erect-growing sort, with glossy green leaves. The bushes bear large pure white Roses in great profusion. Moderately hardy. Price, first size, 25c each, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 85c each; $8.50 doz.

SOLEIL D'OR—A blending of reddish gold, orange-yellow, nasturtium-red and pink. Low-budded, field-grown plants, $1.25 each.

F. J. GROOTENDORST—This is a new type of Rose which might properly be called a Rugosa Baby Rambler, it being a cross between Rugosa and the crimson Baby Rambler. Imagine a shrub-like Rugosa Rose covered with trusses of crimson Baby Rambler Roses and you will have a fair conception of this new hybrid variety. It is not a Rose that you want to plant in with your bed of Hybrid-Tea or Hybrid Perpetual Roses, but is valuable to plant as an isolated specimen or in a mass in a bed in an exposed position or among shrubs in a shrubbery border or use it for an everblooming hedge for which purpose it is admirably adapted. It is absolutely hardy and continues in bloom until late in the fall. Strong two-year-old plants, $1.00 each, by express.

Polyantha or Fairie Roses

The members of this distinct and charming class of everblooming Roses, of which the Baby Rambler forms a conspicuous group, are distinguished by their dwarf, bushy habit of growth, medium size, very double flowers and delightful fragrance.

Price of all Polyantha Roses on this page, first size plants, 25c each; 5 for $1.00; two-year-old plants, 75c each; $7.50 per dozen; 85c each by parcel post with soil on roots.

Mlle. CECILE BRUNER—Rosy pink on rich creamy white ground; a great bloomer; very satisfactory for bedding.

MARIE PAVIE—Medium size, very full and double; borne in large clusters; white flushed with carmine.

PERLE D'OR—Coppery gold, changing to fawn and salmon; flatterd form, very double; elegantly perfumed.

MIGRON—Very similar to Mlle. Cecile Bruner, but of lighter shade of pink, buds equally as handsome as the Cecile Bruner.

BABY DOLL—The flowers are miniature in size but magnificent in form and produced by the hundreds. Exquisite for cutting or bouquets and bedding purposes. Makes a magnificent show in the open ground, always blooming from early spring until late fall. The tips of the petals are vivid scarlet, then mellowing down through shades of pink into saffron, lavender and gold, finally into deep old gold, a combination so extraordinary and so pleasing that everyone seeing it exclaims, "What a Wonderful Rose!" Foliage slender and produced in abundance, dark lustre green.

How to Grow Chrysanthemums

BY AN AMATEUR

I am glad to give you all the information I can in regard to the methods employed in growing my Chrysanthemums. I am an amateur and have gotten splendid results, as the photograph I send will show, and this without the aid of a greenhouse. I hope that the information I can give will prove valuable to others in cultivating Chrysanthemums, the loveliest flower that I know of, and one that gives greater reward for pains taken in its culture than any other.

Procure good, strong plants from reliable florists in the spring from May 1st to June 20th in this section. Put them in 3- or 4-inch pots at first, in good, rich soil and plunge the pots in the ground, or better still, dig a trench and set the pots in it, filling in around with coal ashes. This keeps the worms out of the pots and keeps the roots nice and cool. Chrysanthemums require lots of water and should never be allowed to become dry. Early morning is the best time to water. Water and shower thoroughly, as one good watering is worth half a dozen if only half done. Repot the plants about twice, first in a 6-inch pot and last in an 8-inch pot. Make the soil a little richer each time the plants are repotted. The plants can also be mulched with manure, which answers the double purpose of keeping the roots cool and moist and also furnishes food for the plant. As soon as the buds form in the fall it is better to add a little manure water when sprinkling, weak at first, but gradually adding more, increasing the watering until it can be used every day. For insects, such as black Aphis, use tobacco dust. If large flowers are desired, pinch off all buds and allow only a few to bloom. If a big single flower is desired, pinch off all the side branches, allowing only the crown bud to bloom. After the frosty nights come in the fall the pots are taken in the house and kept in a cool room, where the flowers will develop and remain nice for a long time.

Dingee Famous Hardy Hybrid Perpetual Roses

There is little question that Hybrid Perpetual Roses, or "June Roses," as they are sometimes called, are the most valuable of all hardy plants. They are of vigorous, upright growth, have large, bold flowers, frequently measuring 5 or 6 inches in diameter, and are deliciously fragrant. These Roses will succeed in any locality and are so hardy that they will live through the severest winters with but a light protection of leaves or coarse manure. Some of the kinds do not bloom until the second year, but, when fully established, they all bloom freely at the usual time, early in the season. The Hybrid Perpetuals will withstand hardship and neglect, but give much better results with good cultivation and rich soil. Always plant in open ground, as these Roses are not suitable for house culture. Our collection of Hybrid Perpetuals is by far the best in the country. Plants strong, hardy, on own roots.

THE GREAT AMERICAN BEAUTY ROSES

If any Rose has earned the title of the "National Rose," it is American Beauty. Wherever the Rose is known, it is the queen, and deservedly so. In size, color, form and fragrance it has no equal. Of quick, healthy, bushy growth, either in pots or outdoors, with magnificent foliage, it produces in abundance glorious buds and large, deep, double flowers of immense size. The three kinds below make a gorgeous combination. Known as Hybrid Perpetual or June Roses, yet they bloom almost as freely as the Hybrid Teas. Hardy, and will grow and bloom anywhere.

CRIMSON AMERICAN BEAUTY—Color, rich crimson, charmingly shaded and veined. As the flowers expand, their beauty seems to be enhanced rather than diminished. The fragrance is not excelled by any Rose known.

PINK AMERICAN BEAUTY (George Arends)—A rose that we predict will soon become as popular as Druschki. Either grown inside or out in the open ground so far we find absolutely no fault in it. Strong, robust grower, making a sturdy bush, as the now famous "White American Beauty" or Frau Karl grower, free bloomer and absolutely hardy everywhere. The color delicate pink, deliciously fragrant.

Frau Karl Druschki or White American Beauty

WHITE AMERICAN BEAUTY (Frau Karl Druschki)—This brilliant white type Rose has become renowned as the very highest type of its class and the best snow-white Rose ever introduced. It is an extraordinarily strong grower, branching freely, and has the vigor and hardiness of an oak. Large, heavy foliage and magnificent flowers that are nothing less than glorious—immense in size and produced with great freedom on long, stiff stems. The color is marvelously white, without a tinge of yellow or any other shade. Hardy everywhere. Grown on its own roots.

Dingee Hardy

Climbing Roses

Hardy Climbing Roses have the popular call. They have become an absolute necessity for beautifying the home, for training over porches, verandas, trellises and pergolas, and they make most beautiful flowering hedges when trained on low supports. Also when grown as individual specimen plants, as they soon form a beautiful bush more ornamental than many hardy shrubs. They can be kept trimmed into any shape or height desired, and thus make a large, handsome bush Rose. No other concern offers such a complete list of Climbing Roses as we. All the Climbing Roses in our unequaled list are on their own roots—a most vital point in a Climbing Rose. Unlike budded stock, once planted they last a lifetime. Some are absolutely hardy in the coldest parts of the country, while others growing luxuriantly in the Middle and Southern Sections require some slight protection in the North. The same high quality of stock distinguishing Dingee Roses, the same care in propagation and growing makes this class a most important one in our business.

*Climbing

American Beauty

American Beauty is perhaps the best known, most popular and impressive Rose in cultivation. Big, gloriously rich in fragrance, the flowers are simply superb. Every Rose expert has longed to produce this Queen of Beauty in climbing form through the delicate science of hybridizing and cross breeding. This is no ordinary Climbing Rose, but is a vigorous, rampant, climbing type of the real American Beauty, with its gorgeous flowers and its surpassing fragrance. Immense blooms measuring 3 to 4 inches in diameter; and each one is invariably produced on a separate stem. The color is glowing crimson red, the real American Beauty color. The foliage is magnificent and is an important feature in climbing Roses, for without healthy, leathery foliage any climbing Rose is a failure, because it is unsightly. Climbing American Beauty has tough, beautiful, glossy green foliage, which in itself is ornamental and retains its brightness during the entire season. Absolutely hardy in all localities and withstands the rigid winters of a temperature 10 to 25 degrees below zero without protection. Equally satisfactory in the warmer southern climates. For single specimens, for pergolas, for climbing over verandas, or any place that an ordinary vine will grow, Climbing American Beauty will thrive. It does not require any petting or coaxing.

Remember, every plant is pot grown, and unlike stock sold by nursery agents, is on its own roots. Once planted, it practically lasts forever.

Prune each spring as much as desired, keeping it shaped as required. Train the growing shoots in any shape and it will make a great sight.

Climbing American Beauty

PAUL'S CARMINE PILLAR—Very early. The flowers are large and very showy, of a rich rosy-carmine with white eye. Price—First size plants, 35c each; two-year-old plants, $1.00 each.

BESS LOVETT—Resembles Climbing American Beauty in shape of bloom, but is very much brighter in color and much more fragrant. The flowers are clear bright red, of good size, and of double, full, cupped form, lasting a long time in good condition. Beautiful in bud and bloom and the most fragrant of the Climbing Roses. A vigorous grower and free bloomer. The large glossy foliage, like that of Silver Moon, greatly enhances the beauty of the flowers.

MARY WALLACE—Hardy Climber or pillar rose making a fine, strong self-supporting plant 6 to 8 feet high, with large glossy foliage, blooming with great freedom in spring and bearing a considerable number of fine buds in summer and fall. Flowers very large, usually exceeding 4 inches across; well formed semi-double, of a bright clear rose-pink with salmon base to the petals. Hardy in any location, having been tested in New York and New England. Price, first size plants, 30c each, 4 for $1.00 postpaid; two-year-old plants, $1.00 each by express collect. All grown on own roots.

Prices—Strong, one-year-old plants, on this page except where otherwise noted 30c each, 4 for $1.00 postpaid; strong, vigorous, two-year-old plants, 85c each, by express; $8.50 per dozen, by express; 95c each, by parcel post prepaid, with soil on roots; still larger specimen plants, $1.25 each, by express.

Paul's Scarlet Climber—Vivid scarlet shaded slightly crimson, but almost a flaming scarlet, a most pleasing and striking color. Makes a brilliant display for a long time in the garden. The petals do not fade like many climbing Roses, but retain their bright color, and remain in bloom for from two to four weeks. The Rose received the gold medal and cup for the best Climbing Rose at the National Rose Society's exhibit.

At the Rose Society's Test Garden at Arlington, D. C., conducted by and in conjunction with the Agriculture Department at Washington where the American Rose Society held their annual meeting last spring the most prominent and attracted more attention than any other was Paul's Scarlet Climber. Two specimens trained to trellises made a wonderful show, while two that had been kept pruned as a bush Rose were magnificent specimens; covered with their bright handsome full double blooms. At that time they had been in bloom some two weeks and were still the bright color while many more buds had not opened.

President S. S. Pennock, Society of American Florists, reports from the Bagatelle Gardens, Paris, where he was one of the judges at the Rose gardens which is as follows:

"In the climbers Paul's Scarlet Climber stood out in the garden by far the best among the climbers and they said that it had been in bloom for over two weeks, was still in fine shape and attracted the public probably more than any other one rose in the garden. There were several plants of Paul's Scarlet Climber, and one group of four plants, trained up in pyramid shape, made a wonderful show. This is rather an attractive way to train Climbers, especially where they are as free bloomers as Paul's Scarlet Climber, which presented almost a solid, vivid red mass."

A good strong grower and soon makes a good display. Foliage good and free from mildew and diseases, as well as insects.

These sterling qualities will soon win for it a reputation far beyond that enjoyed at one time by the old Crimson Rambler. After done blooming its bright foliage will make it a most desirable rose.

Price of strong first size plants from 2½-inch pots, 30c each; 4 for $1.00 postpaid; two-year-old plants, 90c each; $9.00 per dozen by express at purchaser's expense or $1.00 each; $10.00 dozen by parcel post prepaid with soil on the roots same as by express. Large specimen plants by express, $1.50 each. All plants grown on their own roots.

VEILCHEN BLAU, or Violet Blue—The Blue Rose is one of the most rampant growers we have ever seen, covering a large porch in a single season. The flowers are borne in loose clusters and are a delightful shade of blue—something entirely different from any Rose now in cultivation.

Paul's Scarlet Climber

Alberic Barbier

A Great New Yellow Climbing Rose. Free from insect attacks, beautiful, heavy, waxy foliage. The beautiful yellow flowers are unusually full and double, and produced sometimes singly and sometimes in clusters with utmost freedom. All plants grown on own roots.

DR. ROBERT HUEY, H. W.—Buds and flowers medium size, semi-double to single in clusters of 3 or 4 on good stems. Can be used as a tall bush or pillar rose. Flowers similar to Paul's Scarlet Climber but color is a dark crimson of great brilliancy. Stamens and anthers light yellow.

MARY LOVETT—In this Dr. Van Fleet has brought out another Wichuraiana Hybrid, a cross between a seedling Wichuraiana and Kaiserin Augusta Victoria and termed a "White Dr. Van Fleet." This rose has done well during 1916 and is strongly recommended. Loses foliage early.

Price of all Hardy Climbing Roses offered on this page, 25c each, 5 for $1.00, postpaid; two-year-old plants, 75c each, by express. $7.50 per doz., of one or more varieties, or 85c each by parcel post prepaid with soil on roots. Varieties marked * furnished in large specimen or star size, $1.25 each.

KEYSTONE—Perfectly hardy everywhere, blooms in wonderful profusion. The open flower of Keystone is perfectly double, with buds beautifully formed. It is a deep lemon-yellow Rose, similar to Coquette de Lyon. The fragrance is much like that of magnolia blossoms.

TENNESSEE BELLE—Bright rosy blush; large, full and fragrant.

A Thousand Beauties

German Tausendschoen. The most sensational Climbing Rose yet introduced, not even barring Crimson Rambler. A single cluster of flowers is a bouquet in itself; hence the very fitting name, "Thousand Beauties." Blooming profusely from the beginning of June until the last of July, the flowers appear in large clusters (10 to 15 in a cluster) of splendid size and quite double. The colors run from delicate balsam to tender rose through the intermediate shades of bright rose and carmine, with white, yellow and various other indescribable tints showing. A strong grower, has few thorns; impervious to mildew; hardy in the open ground everywhere.

Bed of Famous West Grove Cannas

Dingee Magnificent Everblooming Cannas

The introduction of these wonderful decorative plants in this country is so woven into the history of West Grove that it is known far and near as the home of magnificent plants. Starting back many years ago when we first introduced the Canna Flamingo, at that time considered the finest flower of the kind, and when Dr. Van Fleet, now connected with the Horticultural Department at Washington, was in our employ. Since that time wonderful improvement has been obtained in the development of new varieties, such as increasing the size of heads and individual flowers, the color of the blooms, the size of the plants and the length of the blooming period, all of which has increased the popularity of the gorgeous flowers. Cannas are easily grown, and will thrive in almost any situation.

Cannas are not hardy and should not be planted until danger of frost is past. Take the roots up in the fall and store them in a warm, dry place.

No flowers will make such an attractive bed. Rapid in growth, freedom of bloom and ornamental foliage makes them so desirable for planting in beds, on lawn or yard, and especially after early blooming bulbs are done.

Dingee Decorative Ferns

Use a soil composed of five parts; two parts of good garden soil, two parts of finely screened peat or leaf mold from the woods, and one part sharp, clean sand. This should then be thoroughly sterilized by putting in an oven and baking in order to destroy earth worms, etc. Place some broken pieces of pots or crocks and some charcoal in the bottom of each pot for drainage. A temperature of not less than 55 degrees F. should be maintained at all times, with a rise in the daytime of 10 degrees to 15 degrees. Judgment should be exercised in watering. On warm days they should be syringed at least twice. Never allow them to become too dry. Insects which are most troublesome are thrips, red spider, scale and mealy bug. Thrips, red spider and mealy bug are easily prevented by a properly moistened atmosphere, also by spraying of foliage once a week with tobacco water, made in the consistency of weak tea, and increased or diminished in strength as occasion demands.

TEDDY, JR.—New dwarf Fern. Fronds are broad and beautifully tapered from the base to the tip, drooping just enough to make a graceful plant. Produces nearly four times as many fronds as any other Fern introduced. Compact, and thrives under any condition.

ROOSEVELT—Resembles the Boston Fern, but produces many more fronds, thus making a handsomer and bushier plant; in fact, it today is more popular with the florists than the Boston; it will make a larger plant in a shorter time. The fronds are beautifully undulated, giving it a very pretty rising effect.

JACKSONII—Extremely strong grower. Resembling Sword Fern, quickly forming large, upright plant.

WHITMANI COMPACTA—This is a condensed form of the "Ostrich Plume Fern," with valuable characteristics added which are not evident in the parent, the pinnae subdividing, making miniature fronds, looking as if two or more were condensed in one. Very graceful.

THE BOSTON FERN—This Fern differs from the ordinary Sword Fern in having much longer fronds, which frequently attain a length of six feet, drooping gracefully over the side of the pot or jardiniere, and on this account it is frequently called the Fountain Fern. This drooping habit adapts this variety for growing as a single specimen for a table or pedestal. Equally good for outdoors during the summer as well as a decorative plant for indoors during winter.

WHITMANII (Ostrich Plume Fern)—More of a dwarf habit than the Boston Fern. The fronds are of entirely different nature. Each frond is subdivided on the order of the Compacta Fern, thus producing a very beautiful effect. Very decorative.

MAIDENHAIR FERN (Adiantum cuneatum)—The best known table Fern, with dainty, lacy fronds, unlike any other.

Price of all Ferns in extra strong pot plants, 20c each; 6 for $1.00; large plants from 4- and 5-inch pots, 75c each, postpaid.

Maiden Hair Fern

Whitmanii Fern

Dingee Special Lawn Grass Seed

It produces a smooth, velvety green sward of attractive appearance. Sow the seed carefully and evenly at the rate of one quart to a space equal to 15 x 20 feet; two bushels will sow one acre. After sowing, cover the seed by raking or harrowing it.

Seeding may be done at any time during spring, summer or fall, but the best results are obtained by sowing during April, May, September or October. Where fall sowing is practical a top-dressing of manure is recommended to protect the roots of the young grass during the winter. In the spring the gross matter should be removed, leaving the surface clean. To renovate lawn, loosen the soil on the bare spots with a steel rake, and, after sowing a liberal quantity of seed, roll or rake again to cover the seed.

Price: by mail, 50c per pound; in bulk, by express, 45c per pound, 20 pounds or more.

STIM-O-PLANT

An All-the-Year Fertilizer for Garden and House Plants

Growers of fine flowers, shrubs and vegetables for the best markets and for exhibition fertilize and stimulate them frequently, a little at a time. The proportions are accurate, there is no wasted filler, and in this form you apply plant-food exactly when and where and as needed.

Especially Fine for Roses

These tablets increase production, heighten color and improve quality immediately. Many professional and amateur growers use them extensively all the year round—from early spring until late fall outdoors, during the winter for pot plants, hot-house benches, etc. They are as fine for trees as for all garden and potted plants.

EASY TO USE

Simply insert tablets in soil near plants, or dissolve in water at the rate of four tablets to the gallon and apply as liquid manure. Complete directions with every package.

The fairy-like flowers are carried on long stems, produced for several successive months. The flowers, which are of odd form, embrace every delightful shade of color and are a distinctive feature of this handsome house plant. We offer splendid strong plants from 3-inch pots, in white, rose, crimson and mixed colors, at 35c each.

Lily-of-the-Valley

One of the most universally known and admired plants. The graceful spikes, with the dainty pure white bells, are a delight to the eye, and their delicate fragrance is exquisite. Plants succeed almost anywhere, but prefer a partly shaded situation and rich soil. For house culture, plant rather thickly in pots or boxes, scatter some moss or other light material over the soil, which must not cover the crown; water well and set away in a dark, cold place where they will not freeze or bury pot in ground for several days. When brought to heat and light after a few weeks, the leaves and flowers will soon appear. Ready for delivery in November. Strong-flowering crowns. Three for 25c, 75c per dozen, $6.00 per 100, postpaid.

Dingee Dahlias

The splendid qualities and gorgeous beauty of the present-day Dahlia have won for it a place at the head of the most important garden plants. None are easier to grow, respond more readily to care and attention, or flower more freely. Few cultivated plants have a wider range of color. The brilliant shades and the fine, fluffy, Chrysanthemum-like form of its flowers make an enchanting spectacle which never fails to attract attention. Plant soon as ground is warm in a moderately rich soil, covering the tubers six inches deep. Thin to one or two shoots. Cultivate well until it begins to bloom; after that stir only the surface soil just enough to prevent a crust forming.

Dingee Hardy Peonies

Of all the flowers in the Hardy Garden the Peony is easily recognized as the Queen—in fact, it vies with the Rose for the title in many ways, for while in bloom it is without question the most glorious object in the garden. Once Peonies are planted they last for a life time. They stand the severest winters without the slightest protection. Especially fine for single specimens and cemetery planting. After blooming their charm lies in the beauty of the foliage, for even when not in bloom the Peony plant is decorative in the extreme and well worthy of a prominent place in the garden.

We offer only the cream of the many hundred varieties. Don't buy the cheap kinds. They require just as much care, but don't produce the blooms.

Hardy Shrubs for Permanent Planting

They are absolutely hardy, and, once planted, last indefinitely, increasing in size and beauty year after year. For cold climate where hardy plants are needed they stand without an equal. Planted in clumps, masses or used for hedges, screens, or for filling unsightly corners, they make a glorious show. They supply that certain something which is lacking in every yard where shrubbery is not planted. We recommend a liberal planting of this class of plants. They last a lifetime and are sure to give splendid satisfaction. Their culture is exceedingly simple. When received cut the plants back about one-third their growth if not done before shipping. Set about three feet apart for a screen, but as individual specimens plant wherever desired. Water freely when planted, and for a few days afterward. No protection required. They may be planted as soon as ground is ready to dig up until late spring. This class of plants should be set out earlier than Roses and other pot plants, so if your order contains some of them we will send the different varieties at the proper season.

Some varieties, such as Hydrangea, Snowball, Weigelas, Deutzias, require pruning in early spring before new growth starts. Here with us it is done in late February or early March each season.

Hydrangea paniculata (grandiflora)

We grow and sell annually many thousands of these most popular of all shrubs. They are extensively used for yard, lawn and hedge planting and for screens. Attains a height of 5 to 7 feet; hardy in all localities; blooms the first and every season in July and August, and continues in bloom for two or three months; the flowers are massive, cone-shaped, often measuring 10 inches in length, and have a pleasing variation of color, changing from original pure white to pink, and finally to beautiful, rich, coppery-red. Well-rooted, field grown plants that will bloom this year.

“CHARLES DINGEE”

The Most Wonderful Bush Rose in the World

(See the Colored Photographic Illustration on Inside Front Cover)

To honor the name of Charles Dingee, we have produced a Rose better than any other variety in cultivation. We say, without fear of contradiction, that the Charles Dingee Rose is far-and-away the best garden Rose for general planting in the world.

It is always blooming, whether it is growing for us or growing for you. The flowers are beautiful beyond description, immense in size, deep, double and grandly formed. It is hardy everywhere.

The Charles Dingee Rose is the result of cross-breeding between Hermosa, that grand old hardy pink variety, and White Maman Cochet, perhaps the greatest of all white garden Roses—a superb parentage, which insures its offspring every point of excellence. With the hardy, vigorous constitution of a Hybrid Perpetual, growing to perfection in almost any soil or situation, it has the most magnificent foliage, absolutely free from disease, that we have ever seen on any Rose.

We have had it growing and blooming in all its glory in a temperature very little above freezing. Growing to a height of 2 to 3 feet, Charles Dingee blooms continuously, producing immense, deep, double, grandly formed flowers on long, stiff, erect stems; both in bud and bloom their beauty is nothing short of superb, practically impossible to describe because of the delicate blending of colors—rose tints in the centers of the flower, gradually shading off into pale blush creamy white, a color effect both entirely new and distinct, exquisitely beautiful.

Caution We are the originators and sole owners of the Charles Dingee Rose. Imitations and so-called duplicates of it are intended to deceive. If a grower states that he can furnish another rose which is the same, but under another name, don't accept such, but secure the true Charles Dingee.

Strong one-year-old plants, 30c each; 4 for $1.00; $3.00 per dozen, postpaid. Large two-year-old plants, on own roots, 75c each; $7.50 per dozen; 85c each by Parcel Post with soil on roots; extra heavy three-year-old plants, magnificent specimens ON OWN ROOTS, $1.25 each, by express.
