NEW EIGHT-HOUR ORDERS TO KEEP INDUSTRY MOVING

Time Extensions Allowed to Interior Lumber and Coast Metal Businesses

Extra Work Hours Strictly Specified so as to Maintain Eight-hour System

Important exemptions from the eight-hour day law to prevent serious operating difficulties in the interior lumber industry, the metal working and ship repairing industry of the coast, the baking industry all over the Province and other branches of business were announced by the Eight-hour Board of Adjustment to-day.

The new exemptions are of a specific character, setting out exactly how much overtime work certain classes of workers may do, and it was made clear by the board that its regulations do not in any way affect the general principle of the eight-hour day. The changes made to-day are absolutely necessary to the welfare of industry, it was declared.

All workers employed in sawmills, planing mills and shingle mills in the district East of the Cascade Mountains will be allowed to work one hour per day in excess of eight hours, the total period worked not to exceed fifty-four hours a week.

All engineers, firemen and oilers in the mills East of the Cascades, who are in charge of steam plants operating on a one-shift basis, will be allowed to work further overtime to the extent of one-and-a-half hours per day in excess of eight hours and complementary work in addition to the prescribed fifty-four hours a week.

All workers employed in the lumber and shingle manufacturing industries as operators of launches, in booming operations in operating transportation systems in connection with shipping and in planning operations connected with shipping are allowed exemption necessary to fill "urgent orders."

REPAIR PLANT RULES

The board has exempted all workers in ship repair plants, in machine shops, machine shops, foundries, welding plants, sheet metal works, belt works, saw works and all similar plants doing repair work, when they are engaged in repair work, which of necessity must be done in order that other industries shall not be seriously handicapped in their operations.

I. OKLADSKI GIVEN TEN-YEAR SENTENCE

Condemned to Death in City of Moscow But the Sentence Was Commuted

Moscow, Jan. 15.—Ivan Okladski, who has been on trial on a charge of assisting the Czarist police in the extermination of the notorious organization known as Narodnaya Volya (People's Freedom), which forty-five years ago sought the liberation of the Russian people from the Czarist oligarchy, yesterday was found guilty and sentenced to death. However, in view of his age—he is sixty-five—and the fact that the crime was committed so many years ago, the sentence will be commuted to ten years' imprisonment.

MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Montreal, Jan. 15.—Because a rabbi who performed the ceremony was not a British subject, Mr. Justice Bruneau handed down judgment in Superior Court here to-day annulling a marriage performed ten years ago between Sarah Klamer and Philip Lefachets.

Dawes Plan Blamed For Loss of Life

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The Dawes plan was blamed for the railway wreck Tuesday at Herne, Westphalia. A Communist deputy in the Prussian Diet charged that the collision, in which twenty-two persons were killed and eighty-six injured, might have been avoided if the trains had carried sufficient flagsmen to lay signaling torpedoes on the tracks during the heavy fog, which obliterated the regular signals.

The speaker claimed the wholesale reduction in the personnel of the German railways since the adoption of the Dawes plan constituted a permanent menace to the security of passenger traffic.

U. S. POLICE ARE ON LOOKOUT FOR STOLEN AEROPLANE

Dayton, Ohio, Jan. 15.—Dayton police to-day received word from J. S. Yancy, chief of police of Long Beach, California, reporting the theft of an aeroplane which bears the number 45 painted on the rudder. The police were asked to be "on the lookout" for the aircraft should it descend at any of the numerous fields in and adjacent to Dayton. This is the first report of the kind ever received by local authorities.

GREATER CHICAGO WATER DIVERSION OPPOSED BY CITIES ON GREAT LAKES

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 15.—Representatives of scores of cities on the United States and Canadian shores of the Great Lakes met here to-day to protest against proposed legislation intended to legalize diversion of lake water at Chicago. Those attending the meeting include mayors, city councilmen and representatives of commercial bodies, shipping and industrial interests. The conference will end Friday, when a vigorous protest against Chicago's diversion of water will be offered by the resolutions committee, adopted by the conference and sent to the Secretary of War and to Congress.

MILLION DOLLAR SUIT BEFORE APPEAL COURT

Privy Council Variation of Supreme Court Order Leads to Unexpected Litigation

A preliminary motion by E. P. Davis, K.C., counsel for defendant-appellant in the hearing Clausen et al vs. Canada Timber and Lands Limited to ask a referee to explain the basis on which he assessed damages at $233,342.45 in favor of the plaintiffs-respondent, was dismissed by the B.C. Court of appeal this morning.

Hearing of appeal continues, with Mr. Davis for appellant and E. C. Meyers for respondents. The hearing involves a $1,000,000 contract which was to extend over thirteen years. Suit was brought by plaintiffs for alleged breach of contract and judgment given in their favor, with a reference to a district registrar to determine the difference between the market price of logs and the cost of production.

On appeal to the Court of Appeal the Supreme Court ruling was upheld and defendants took the matter to the Privy Council, where a variation in the Supreme Court order was made setting aside consideration on the strict basis of price difference and substituting a general damage clause, with reference to the registrar to assess the damage, if any sustained.

The district registrar at that time was ill, and the matter came before the Deputy District Registrar, who some months ago assessed the amount of the damages at over a quarter of a million dollars. From the judgment giving effect to this assessment appellants now appeal.

Mr. Davis's motion was one to have the deputy registrar's findings set aside and the court could see upon what basis he had proceeded. Mr. Meyers contended that the court had no power to ask a referee, who took the same place as a judge and jury, to explain his reasons for the finding. Such power was contained in English law to-day operating but not copied in Canadian legislation, he said. Mr. Meyers said further that the assessment of the damages should have been undertaken by the trial judge in the first place, and not relegated to a court official.

Under this head the referee would have to consider all matters, including the risk of fire in intervening years wiping out the contract, and it was for this reason that he wished the court to be in a position to know what had not copied in Canadian legislation, he said.

Chief Justice Macdonald, outlining the majority view of the court, upheld the fact that the referee had acted in making his finding.

It is stated representatives of several Canadian motor car manufacturers cabled to the Government at Ottawa last night with reference to the proposed bill, and that the Canadian Government in reply cabled to Canada's commissioner at Wembley, A. W. Toimie, instructing him to make an official protest against interference with would-be exhibitors by a trade organization. The Canadian Government, it is understood, stated that if a satisfactory solution of the difficulty was not found, Canada, as a last resort, would withdraw from participation in the exhibition.

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Dr. Luther was this afternoon appointed German Chancellor.

COOLIDGE TO HAVE A NEW SECRETARY

Washington, Jan. 15.—C. Bascom Stern will resign as secretary to President Coolidge and will be succeeded by Representative Everett Sanders of Indiana.

HIS CABINET PLANS NEW ELECTION LAW IN SOUTH AFRICA

Cape Town, South Africa, Jan. 15.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Some novel conditions are contained in a proposed new electoral law for the Union of South Africa which was published to-day.

The new measure provides for the recording of votes by mail and great publicity regarding party expenditures during election campaigns. Newspapers would be required to make returns on all matters bearing on elections for which payment was made, and in case of default in making such returns a heavy fine would be inflicted. It provides that all letters, articles or other matter referring to elections inserted in newspapers must bear the full names and addresses of the writers and every company, organization, society, trades union or similar body must make returns of its interest in any political party in any or all of the South African provinces.

NO CHARITY WORK The measure would debar political organizations from carrying on charity, and would prohibit philanthropic organizations from devoting any of their funds to political purposes. It would repeal the provision in the present electoral law that allows any man who was on active service in the Great War to vote in elections.

LIQUOR JAIL TERMS Washington, Jan. 15.—A bill to make prison sentences mandatory upon conviction for violation of the prohibition law was reported to-day by the House Judiciary Committee.

FLOUR MILL BURNED Wakaw, Sask., Jan. 15.—The Golden West Milling Company's plant here was destroyed by fire to-day with an estimated loss of $8,000, with no insurance. The flour stock was salvaged by townspeople.

MORE SUGAR NEEDED Perth, Australia, Jan. 15.—A sugar famine exists here as a result of the water-front strike at the ports of Australia. Other foodstuffs are scarce.

BANK CLEARINGS HERE INDICATE BETTER TIMES Business in Victoria is keeping up the improvement pace which it set at the end of last year and is fulfilling the predictions of optimists. Bank clearings in Victoria for the week ending to-day, amounted to $1,945,270, according to the totals issued by the Victoria Clearing House at noon to-day.

For the corresponding week last year, the total clearings amounted to $1,751,725. This represents an increase in the week's clearings this year over last of $193,545, or more than 11 per cent. Last week bank clearings here started out with a boom, showing an increase of 48 per cent. over the clearings for the first week of 1924.

ANARCHIST WAS KILLED IN FIGHT IN SOFIA STREET

WOULD REVIVE HOME PRODUCTS FAIR IN CITY

Mayor Pendray Wishes Successful Exhibitions of Local Industries to be Resumed

Mayor Pendray is anxious to see a revival of the very successful Home Products Exhibitions which formerly were such a notable feature here.

He is now looking round for a suitable downtown building, and has asked George I. Warren, secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, who took an active share in managing former efforts, to make necessary inquiries. He believes these exhibitions help to stimulate the use of home productions and give local manufacturers an opportunity to show what they can do. Four of these gatherings were held in the old Drill Hall and three in the Hudson's Bay departmental store before it was opened to business.

The Mayor has one commercial building in view, with two upper floors available, which would be central, and would serve the needs of the project admirably. It is felt that the buildings at the Willows Park would be too far removed to attract the large crowd which should patronize an event of this character. Thousands thronged the Hudson's Bay departmental store shows held in former years.

One of the advantages of an exhibition of this character is that it enables small industries, which are not much known to the public under normal conditions, to present their products to a large number of people, stimulating trade and arousing a much greater feeling towards articles made in this neighborhood.

WILL SEND 10,000 FROM SHANGHAI TO TSINGTAU DISTRICT

Shanghai, Jan. 15.—Ten thousand Chinese soldiers interned in the foreign settlement here when the Peking Central Government forces of General Chai Yung-Min were forced to surrender control of Shanghai to General Chi Shieh-Yuan, a supporter of the deposed Peking Government, will be sent to Tsingtau, according to plans being perfected to-day by commercial and consular authorities here.

The authorities are attempting to-day to charter three steamships to move the interned soldiers. Danger of disease developing in the foreign settlement as a result of the congestion has resulted in a demand for quick removal of action.

FIGHT IS EXPECTED Movement of the troops of Chi Shieh-Yuan westward to-day was taken as an indication of impending strife in the vicinity of Chiankiang, near here.

Churchill Lays Debt Report Before Cabinet of Britain

Greater Progress in Inter-Aligned Discussion Than Chancellor Was Expecting

Balfour Note Suggested as Basis in Note to French Finance Minister

London, Jan. 15.—Winston Spencer Churchill's accomplishments at Paris in connection with the Inter-allied debt question are understood to be of much greater importance than the public is aware of, and even beyond what the Chancellor of the Exchequer hoped for when he left London.

Mr. Churchill attended to Cabinet meeting this morning and presented a detailed report of his work in Paris, dealing particularly with the headway made in the Inter-allied debt matter.

BALFOUR TERMS Paris, Jan. 15.—An official renewal of the proposal for settling the inter-allied debts contained in the Balfour note of 1922 is made by the British Cabinet in the reply Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has given to the recent letter of Finance Minister Clementel on that subject.

The British Cabinet thus proposes only lodgment from the Allies the amount by which Great Britain's payments to the United States for her debt exceed the amount she receives from Germany.

Mr. Churchill's letter says negotiations regarding method of payment will be necessary between the two governments in the same spirit of "comradeship" that united them during the war.

RUMOR HE WOULD RESIGN UNFOUNDED; W. T. COSGRAVE

Dublin, Jan. 15.—Members of the Free State Ministry and friends of William Cosgrave, president of the Executive Council, to-day discounted the rumor of his resignation published abroad. When asked about it they said they had not heard of any such report.

President Cosgrave, it was stated, will return soon to Ireland, where he went to recuperate from an illness, and is to meet the Free State Parliament February 23.

Ernest Blythe, Free State Finance Minister, said there was no truth in the resignation rumor.

STATES OPTIMISM Paris, Jan. 15.—William T. Cosgrave, president of the executive council of the Irish Free State, left Paris to-day for Dublin after a month's stay in France.

"I am going back with more optimism than ever to carry out the work of the government of Ireland," he said.

He added that his health had been much benefited by his vacation in Southern France and that he considered himself fully recovered from the indisposition which induced his trip.

COSGRAVE RETURNS TO IRISH CAPITAL

Resumes Government Task After Vacation in Southern France For His Health

Paris, Jan. 15.—Ambassador Kellogg left for London to-day. Ambassador Herrick and officials representing Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel saw him off at the railway station.

Kellog Returns From Capital of France to London

Information on what has now become known as "The Mysterious Telephone Message" is stated to be in the hands of Mr. Jackson, and has strengthened the hands of the investigators in an unmistakable manner, it is asserted.

"With all our care, many simple facts of evidence have been found by Mr. Jackson which we absolutely missed," an official of one of the Scottish Societies stated.

What the Attorney-General meant when he said the field of investigation had been narrowed down to a circumscribed circle.

There is no intention of relaxing a vigilance in the inquiry for one minute by the Scottish Societies, it is stated. They indicate satisfaction in the manner in which the Attorney-General is handling the case, but are chafing at the absence of definite action in what they now term "one of the best cases of circumstantial evidence ever evolved."

CHURCHILL LAYS DEBT REPORT BEFORE CABINET OF BRITAIN

Greater Progress in Inter-Aligned Discussion Than Chancellor Was Expecting

Balfour Note Suggested as Basis in Note to French Finance Minister

London, Jan. 15.—Winston Spencer Churchill's accomplishments at Paris in connection with the Inter-allied debt question are understood to be of much greater importance than the public is aware of, and even beyond what the Chancellor of the Exchequer hoped for when he left London.

JUDGE IN SEATTLE ORDERS EX-DETECTIVE BEFORE JURY IN B.C. ON ROBBERY CHARGE

Declines to Hear Witnesses Brought to Attempt to Establish Alibi for Ross C. Watson; Says His Court's Only Duty is to Determine if Evidence is Sufficient to Justify Trial in Canadian Court.

Seattle, Jan. 15.—In a ruling handed down here shortly before noon to-day Superior Court Judge Mitchell Gilliam, sitting as special extradition commissioner, ordered that Ross C. Watson, former Seattle police detective, be held for extradition to Canada on a charge that he was one of the bandits which held up the branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Nanaimo December 12, last and took $42,000.

Watson lost the right to introduce evidence to establish an alibi in the extradition hearing brought by British Columbia. At the same time Attorney George Crandell, representing Watson, was enabled to disclose his client's alibi, to preserve the court record, although witnesses by which he offered to prove his statements were not allowed to answer questions asked them.

By thus preserving his record in the case, Attorney Crandell indicated that should Judge Gilliam, sitting as a special commissioner, commit Watson for extradition, he would go into Federal District Court at once with a renewal of his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Following Judge Gilliam's decision having Watson's right to introduce alibi witnesses, announced when the hearing was resumed this morning, a brief adjournment was taken and then Attorney Crandell began his arguments a motion to deny the extradition.

The outline of Watson's alibi proved a surprise in some instances. Of seven witnesses named, one was a captain of detectives and another a city detective known throughout the Pacific coast for his power to recognize faces years after he has seen them but once. This man was Dan J. McLennan, known for his peculiarity as "Camera-Eye Dan."

Judge Gilliam denied Attorney Crandell's request to introduce alibi witnesses on these grounds: "The cases cited by counsel referred to inter-state extradition; the habeas corpus matters; no authorities were cited to support alibi evidence in international extradition cases; on the merits of the case, but a hearing to determine if a foreign government has sufficient evidence to place the defendant on trial; the question of guilt or innocence was not before the court." (Concluded on page 2.)

NEW ACTION IN THE JANET SMITH CASE IS URGED

M. B. Jackson is Said to Have Recommended Arrests or Third Inquest

Vancouver, Jan. 15.—Although the Provincial Police have nothing new to report in connection with the Janet Smith case, it is stated M. B. Jackson, K.C., special investigator appointed by the Attorney-General, has suggested a definite line of action to the latter, involving arrests or a third inquiry into the circumstances of the death of the nursemaid.

Officials of the Scottish Societies of Vancouver refused to give any information on the subject, but would accept the formation of a startling nature, not hitherto disclosed had been unearthed by Mr. Jackson in the course of his investigation.

"If Old Country procedure was in effect in British Columbia, the amount of circumstantial evidence now in possession of the authorities would result in arrests being made within twenty-four hours," one prominent Scot declared.

Mr. Jackson was expected to confer with officials of the Scottish Societies yesterday, but no conference took place, it is stated.

Several of the churches are yet to report, there being twenty-one Presbyterian congregations in Vancouver district.

London, Jan. 15 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Canadian Government threatens to withdraw altogether from the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley this year if the proposed ban of the Society of Motor Manufacturers on the exhibition of Canadian-made cars is permitted by the exhibition authorities.

It is stated representatives of several Canadian motor car manufacturers cabled to the Government at Ottawa last night with reference to the proposed ban, and that the Canadian Government in reply cabled to Canada's commissioner at Wembley, A. W. Toimie, instructing him to make an official protest against interference with would-be exhibitors by a trade organization. RECITAL TO-NIGHT

Mrs. Huntley Green and Miss Mary Izard to Present Programme
If the interest taken by any critic of success, the Mrs. Gertrude Huntley Green and Miss Mary Izard are assured of a large and enthusiastic audience for their joint recital this evening at the Royal Victoria Theatre. The programme is representative of the greatest modern composers, and promises one of the most delightful musical feasts of the year.

Miss Izard, the violinist, recently appeared in a joint recital in Montreal, of which the critic of The Montreal Gazette speaks as follows: "The joint piano and violin recital given by Germaine Malespart and Mary Izard in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel last evening drew a capacity audience, who applauded so warmly that it was 11 o'clock before the last encore was played. In three of the numbers on the programme, Mozart's Sonata in A major, Vitall-Charlier's Chaconne, and Beethoven's Sonata Op. 24, the two artists played to great acclaim. In Vitall's fine, dramatic piece did Miss Izard demonstrate her ability to produce variety of tone coloring, this being one of the outstanding features of a most pleasing performance. Miss Malespart, in the secondary role, contributed her full share to its success. Later, Miss Izard played a concerto for solo numbers, of which one of the most satisfying was Debussy's 'En bateau.' In this she achieved some beautiful effects with muted strings."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH UNION VOTE
anti-unionists, who polled 456 votes, were decided upon last night when a meeting of the union committee determined to organize and carry on regular Sunday services in the Alhambra Theatre.

Minorities Rally
Toronto, Jan. 15.—A statement issued by Church Union headquarters says:
The rallying of minorities both for and against union is the order of the day in Presbyterian churches in Ontario. In Toronto there are two churches, St. Paul's and Chalmers, which were voted out of the union by small minorities. Anti-unionist minorities in unionist churches are also being organized with a view to establishing new congregations.
The returns from the voting in various parts of Canada have fallen off within the past day or so, but many congregations are in process of being formed. Many people are asking why no returns are coming in from Manitoba and New Brunswick. It is pointed out that the churches in these provinces will not vote until June 15 next.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR
Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, d, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Quick Startling SHELL GASOLINE

ROSS C. WATSON ORDERED FROM SEATTLE TO NANAIMO FOR TRIAL

Yesterday's session
An identification episode yesterday afternoon caused a sensation in the courtroom.
When the doors were opened and the spectators looked into the courtroom there entered with them the friends and relatives of Watson—and the double.

The double gained a position near the front of the spectators' benches, quite close to the chair reserved for Watson at the defendant's table.

ROSS C. WATSON

His plan failed
Judge Gilliam ordered Watson to find another seat among the spectators and he did so that it might be more difficult for the witnesses to pick him out. Then a most unusual thing happened.

Watson used chewing gum
Meanwhile Watson had used a great piece of chewing gum under one cheek, drawn down one corner of his mouth and distorted his face until he looked so un-Watsonlike that court attaches talked of little else after adjournment.

No demonstration
Yesterday as Watson sat with face peddled and drawn and twisted, and his double stood fidgeting, she looked at the double and walking to him, said: "This is the gentleman."

Identification given
Quennell stood for some minutes—many minutes, it seemed—looking about among the crowd. Then his vision narrowed down to the section of the room where sat Watson, the gum again in his cheek, and this time with his lower lip protruding far outward and one eye puckered.

Identification given
Quennell got down and walked directly to Watson and did as he had been bidden. Instantly the room was in an uproar.

At the witness stand then at Mr. Watson all the time.
Another shout:
"And that woman," indicating Mrs. Jardine, who had remained in the room "that woman kept nodding at Watson."

Harris's story
The double afterwards told a reporter his name was Charles Harris and that he lived at 1920 Spruce Street, Seattle. He said he had just come in to see what was going on and that he had known Attorney Crandell about a day and a half.

Construction work exemption
The board exempts until February 1 of this year that part of the undertaking of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company Limited, situated at Lejac, B.C., which is exempted work is purely construction.

Industry hampered
In the various branches of the lumber milling industry in the interior of the Province, inquiry has shown that scarcely any of the mills are able to work more than eight months in the year, and many of these conditions arise partly from the greater severity of the winters, and partly from the fact that interior mills have been unable to take advantage of the great developments in the overseas lumber trade which has been so beneficial to the coast lumber industry in recent years.

Urgent work
The necessity of doing urgent repair work in order that other industries may not be seriously handicapped in their operations has all along been recognized, and provisions to that effect were inserted in the Act, which was unanimously agreed to by the Legislature.

"Exhausted Nerves and Palpitating Heart"

Mrs. L. Whiting, 202 King St. West, Brockville, Ont., writes:

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I tried several doctors, but it seemed nothing they gave me helped. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I tried it, and can say it certainly has done wonders for me. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes."

GIRL ADMITS SHE KILLED HER MOTHER

Sixteen-Year-Old San Franciscan Says Quarrel Was Very Bitter One

States She Attended a Party After She Had Shot Her Parent

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Miss Dorothy Ellingson, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. Anna Ellingson, who fled from the Ellingson home here after her mother had been shot to death, was arrested today by detectives, who found her in a district about two miles from the scene of the shooting.

"Yes, I killed mother," Miss Ellingson said, according to detectives, "I killed her because she upbraided me for going out with men. I told her I was going out on Tuesday night and she said I should not. We had an awful quarrel. Then I got my brother's gun and shot her."

The arrest took place in a rooming house where the girl said she was taken on Tuesday night by a male companion.

The police say the girl will be charged with murder.

FATHER LEFT
The killing of the mother was the climax of a family quarrel which caused the girl's father to sever the family ties after an argument over the characters of his daughter's associates. The mother defended her daughter against the accusations made by the father, but after being left head of the family she became converted to his view, police say.

After the tragedy the girl went to a party on Hartford Street, on Tuesday night where we had drinks and something to eat."

TO HOLD DANCE IN AID OF FUNDS

Army and Navy Veterans' Organization Seeks Means to Carry on Work

Ladysmith, Jan. 14.—The regular meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans of Canada, Ladysmith unit, was held in their new quarters in the old Portland Hotel last evening, and among other matters of interest it was decided to hold a monster dance on Friday in the Agricultural Hall. It is to be hoped that a large public will patronize this dance, as this new organization naturally is rather short of funds, and a worthy organization of this nature should be boosted along. A committee of forty have charge of the arrangements, and they have guaranteed to introduce something new in the dancing line in this town.

The meeting of the Ladysmith Board of Trade advertised last night was postponed to some future date, owing to the fact that the majority of the members were unable to attend the meeting. At the next meeting it is to be hoped that a large number of members will be in attendance to look after the interests of the town and surrounding country.

Messrs. P. McKay, W. A. Cullum, M. Matheson, C. A. Thorpe and Frank Holmes motored to Duncan to attend the installation ceremonies of Tempis Lodge A.F. and A.M. last night.

Thomas Graham, general superintendent Canadian Colliers (Dunsmuir), was in town on business in connection with his company to-day.

At a regular meeting of the directors of the Ladysmith Agricultural Society held this week it was decided to hold a whist drive in the K. of P. Hall on Monday, February 2, commencing at 7.30 o'clock. In addition to the whist drive the grand drawing for numerous prizes will take place.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE

The annual meeting of the Shawnigan Lake Women's Institute was held in the S.L.A.A. hall on Thursday, with a good attendance of members.

Mrs. F. T. Elford, the retiring president, gave a report of the work of the institute during the year, congratulating the members on what had been accomplished, the good financial standing of the institute, and the thirty and good feeling among the members.

Reports were received from the various committees, each reviewing the work accomplished since the last annual meeting. The outstanding feature of the year was the conception and starting of a most successful public library.

The retiring president expressed the regret of Mrs. F. T. Elford, who has been president for eight consecutive years, the presentation of a memento leather handbag having been made at the last meeting.

The ballot for the new directors resulted as follows: President, Mrs. P. C. Mason Hurley; vice-president, Mrs. F. Elford; directors, Mrs. Barry, Mrs. Elford, Mrs. Mason Hurley, Mrs. Winters and Mrs. Yates; secretary, Mrs. Christison; assistant secretary, Miss Maymie Christison.

The conveners of committees were—Community betterment, Mrs. Winters; child welfare, Mrs. Dick; library, Mrs. Wheelton; legislation, Mrs. Kirk; publicity, Mrs. Elford; education, Mrs. Christison and Mrs. Wheelton.

Owing to the serious illness of Miss Clark the Institute has no representative at present to attend the meetings of the Duncan Health Centre.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Wyldo and Miss White.

COWICHAN WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS

Duncan, Jan. 15.—The annual general meeting of the Cowichan Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon in the institute room, the president, Mrs. Innes-Noad, in the chair. Minutes were read and financial statement showed a balance in bank of $85 and $50 towards the building fund.

After discussion it was decided that the five directors for the coming year should be appointed, and the president be elected from these five, by the members, not, as heretofore, by the directors themselves. It was also decided that the secretary should also be a director. The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. P. G. Christmas, Mrs. A. W. Johnston, Mrs. G. Stuart and Mrs. R. H. H. Whidden gave a report of the good work done by the friendly help committee during the year, and she was asked again to undertake this work.

Mrs. H. H. Whidden gave a report of the good work done by the friendly help committee during the year, and she was asked again to undertake this work.

Mrs. H. A. Garrard was appointed convener of the entertainment committee.

VICTIM OF FIRE RECOVERED TEETH

Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 15.—Encased safely in a tumber-shaped cake of ice, a set of false teeth was discovered yesterday in the debris of the Syndicate Block here by a tenant who was driven out by a night fire which completely demolished his suite on the top floor a few days ago.

The boys are Walter and Tony, aged nine and seven years, respectively. The judge held the boys were not sufficiently intelligent to testify in a murder trial.

DO NOT REDUCE IT

THERE ARE OTHER factors than population to be taken into account in determining the number of policemen a community should have.

Other factors are the character of the community, its situation with special regard to its proximity to centres of criminal activity, the nature of the laws under which it operates and the nature of the property that needs protection.

Victoria's situation no longer guarantees it the comparative immunity against the activities of desperate criminals which it used to enjoy.

There is another thing to remember, and that is that the war of extermination which the authorities of the big eastern American cities are conducting against their criminal elements is driving a number of desperadoes to the Pacific Coast, and it is from among these that the big bootlegging, hijacking organizations are recruiting their gunmen.

WRONG

STEPHEN LEACOCK says Canada is holding the British capitalist at arms length because the Dominion is insisting too much on the shibboleths of independence.

The average investor in Great Britain, whether he be the man who puts his money to work in the realm of municipal security or the man who drives a substantial stake in forest or mine, is not a student of the political evolution of the British Empire and is seldom influenced by so-called imperial controversy.

British capital is all over the world. The Briton is a hard-headed businessman. The traditional fiscal policy of Great Britain, the howl that goes up every time there is a suggestion of a change, reflects the utter lack of sentiment when it comes to buying and selling and investing.

What Mr. Leacock and other publicists can do to encourage British capital to Canada is to use every occasion to advertise the opportunities that await it.

LOST CONTINENTS

THERE IS NOTHING new under the sun. Recently there were discovered in India some tablets the translation of which show that there once was a tropical continent in the Pacific Ocean known as Mu which possessed a civilization greater than any which has existed since.

According to these discoveries, the world of to-day is a comparative newcomer on the scene. Certainly it is established that many of the inventions on which we pride ourselves were in common use ages ago. For example, Buddhist records claim that armies of ten thousand years ago used flying machines propelled by engines which employed natural forces scientists to-day are endeavoring to capture.

This possibility should be a warning to the modern professors who are working on the atomic theory. If they should discover how to release that prodigious energy they should leave it where it is until they have discovered how to control it, or we may follow Atlantis and Mu into Davy Jones' capacious locker.

THE WILLOWS GROUNDS

AFTER EXPERIENCING the wettest year since 1858 it is small wonder that December days in Great Britain should find a number of important football grounds resembling a quagmire.

So water-logged and muddy was the green enclosure before the game commenced that the referee debated a suggestion to postpone the match; but he decided to proceed. The result was that in a very few minutes the white jerseys of the Yorkshiremen looked exactly the same as the blue jerseys of the men of Cumberland.

The incident calls to mind the recent encounter between a team of Rugby players from the University of British Columbia and a local aggregation at the Willows. The ground was in a filthy state and gave the players little opportunity to show their prowess.

CHARLES EVAN HUGHES

WHEN HE GOES FROM the important post which he has filled with such distinction and success during the last four years Charles Evan Hughes will leave a gap in the Coolidge Administration at Washington which will not be too easily filled by his successor.

His admirable service as Secretary of State rounds out a record which included successful terms as Governor of New York and associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

No greater test of ability could have been imposed upon him than that which the troublesome issues of the last four years have called for. In these matters, often presenting novel and dangerous diplomatic problems, Mr. Hughes has been able to draw upon a fund of tact and judgment which has invariably assisted his Department to successful conclusions.

Most Allied Governments will regret the retirement of Mr. Hughes. His ability and fairness have been recognized in generous terms by more than one prominent leader of public and political thought, and he will be assured of warm wishes for peace and contentment on his return to private life.

DR. FRANK CRANE "The Pleasure of Going to Fires"

THERE is a distinct pleasure in attending fires. In fact, a fire has almost all the elements of a public amusement.

Nothing can be of much value as an amusement that is of any benefit to anybody. A little boy once was asked what he wanted for Christmas. His reply was, "Oh, anything, just so it isn't useful to anybody else."

When the bells ring and the horses gallop, and somebody is losing a fortune, and everybody turns out to see the show, what can be more fun than to stand on the sidewalk and see the engine, go by, or occupy a safe place of vantage and see the building burn?

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Trade tries character. Error is a hardy plant. It flourishes in every soil. There is a limit to enjoyment, though the sources of wealth be boundless.

WHO'S WHO IN HISTORY TO-DAY

ELIZABETH Who, excepting only Victoria, was the most illustrious of English queens, and whose reign was one of naval, commercial and intellectual triumph, was crowned in Westminster Abbey, London, on January 15, 1558.

ESQUIMALT MUNICIPAL ELECTION

To the Editor—The Ratepayers' Association of Esquimalt are to be congratulated on their success in inducing Capt. Matheson to stand as a candidate for the reeveship in the coming election.

A gentleman of his character and the interest he has for some time taken in industrial and development work should prove to the community that his knowledge and zeal will be of the utmost value if elected, and convert the deteriorated state that now exists into a healthy condition.

The present Reeves Lockley has had quite a few years in the position to know that the school system is doing anything whatever to warrant further support from the electorate, it is that he has transformed reverted lands into parks, the cost of which if wisdom had been exercised, could have been utilized on the very much neglected roads and sidewalks, which are in a deplorable condition.

It is high time, Mr. Editor, there was a change and a consent put in here this time that would result in a deterrent.

SCHOOL COSTS

To the Editor—The matter of municipal expenditure on schools has become acute. His year's costs of schools per pupil has increased forty-three per cent, whereas in the ordinary way it should have been lowered.

This is largely due to families coming into the municipality to take advantage of our school system without paying for the privilege. The attendance at the High School has increased over 150 per cent in six years, and in the graded schools only twenty per cent.

School trustees have done all that they can, but the system to keep down expense and still every year a greater amount per capita is required to carry on the schools. Some change of system is wanted. This change can be accomplished by allowing, say, the first twenty-five per cent of those who pass the High School entrance examination to get their tuition free, the others who do not pass would be required to pay a fee covering part of their education.

To continue with the present system will soon impair the efficiency of the schools, as the board of trustees will be forced by financial pressure to cut teachers' salaries or cut down the standard of education, which is a policy much to be deplored.

Let us keep the schools at their present high standard and this can only be done by a revision of our system.

ESQUIMALT MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

To the Editor—I would like to say a few words regarding the two public meetings that are both scheduled for to-night, one at the Rex Theatre and one at the Sailors' Club. I think it is most unfortunate that the other meetings are to take place on the same evening and I feel that it is most unfair to the voters of the district who are anxious to get both sides.

On the 6th of January I was approached by Capt. Matheson, who then said that he intended holding a public meeting on the 14th. He went on to say that if I desired to do so that I could have a short time to speak on his platform. I at once pointed out to him that my arrangements were already made for my own meeting, and that the members of the present council for the same evening and could not be altered for reasons which I stated to him.

The ball was then set and other arrangements made, there was nothing in the world to stop Capt. Matheson from bringing his meeting forward to the 14th or holding it on the 16th or jointly with the Voters' Association under whose endorsement he is running. Capt. Matheson of course did not want this, and feels because he is new at the game that he will be able at least to attract a number of people from the other meeting.

Capt. Matheson has anything logical to offer, or is not afraid of the electors hearing an account of the work and record of the present administration then he would have been only too pleased to hold his meeting at another time when he knew the full circumstances before he had attempted to make any other arrangements for his meeting. I feel that his actions will be very much resented, and his written invitation to me to attend his meeting when he knew that I was engaged elsewhere is mere camouflage for the purpose of clouding the real issue. Nothing would have given me greater pleasure than to attend his meeting, and have him explain if he was Reeves how he intends, with the ratepayers money, to develop Vancouver Island and stop the emigration of Canadians to the United States.

I would conclude by saying that I resent very much Capt. Matheson saying in his circular letter that he had invited me to speak at his meeting when the letter was written many days after I had told him that I was impossible for him to be there. This is neither gentlemanly nor fair and is only done for vain boasting and as he admits for advertising purposes to attract people to his meeting.

ANNUAL DINNER OF CANADIAN LEGION

Over Three Hundred Veterans in Attendance at Successful Function

Short and interesting speeches and excellent musical numbers helped to make the first annual dinner of the Canadian Legion, Victoria, Post No. 1, held at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night an unqualified success.

The toast, "The King," was followed by the chorus of "O Canada." Col. Robertson then proposed a toast to the Canadian Legion, Victoria, Post No. 1, and the Women's Auxiliary. This is carrying out a policy which had already proved beneficial in connection with the Hiker Manufacturing Company, and other local concerns.

Mayor Pendray will to-day visit Ottawa ministers in connection with the reconstruction to the Japanese training squadron next month. He discussed the matter yesterday with Hon. William Sloan, Acting Premier, and it was resolved that the Department of Defence should be consulted before an outlay was made to entertain the ships.

CONSIDER QUESTION OF WIRE GROUNDING

City Officials Anxious to Protect Citizens Against Possible Danger

A committee of city officials met this morning to consider the application of the B.C. Electric Railway to ground its wires to city water mains. Some time ago the company expressed its wish to ground the 110 and 220 volt alternating current secondary service wires to the mains. The city engineer last month had advised the City Council against permitting any "grounds" to be allowed to water connections upon the house side of the meters. The engineer had further recommended that the Board of Public Works also have to be inspected, and proper records kept.

BEER DISTRICTS OFFICIALLY SET OUT IN NEW RULE

Commissioner May Refuse Licenses in Dry Portions of Wet Areas

Will of People to be Strictly Observed; Regulations Almost Ready

The Government took its first official step in the opening of beer-selling establishments to-day by setting forth in the British Columbia Gazette the districts which are to be under the law and those that are dry. The allocation of the various electoral districts to the wet and dry columns follows strictly the results of the June plebiscite. For instance, Burnaby, which gave a majority of one for beer, is classified as wet.

Neither the regulations governing the sale of beer nor the names of persons to whose licenses are to be issued are mentioned in the Gazette to-day. The regulations will come before the Cabinet this week and will be approved by the Attorney-General Manson tomorrow.

The fact that a district is included in the wet column does not mean that beer may be sold in any part of it, Mr. Manson emphasized. The power of issuing licenses, he said, is entirely in the hands of the Liquor Commissioner, and he may refuse to allow the privilege of sale wherever he sees fit, regardless of the plebiscite.

Thus, if there is a portion of a legally wet district which voted strongly against beer, the Commissioner will be able to refuse to allow sale in that particular area. By using his wide discretionary powers in this way it will be possible for him to carry out the wishes of the voters more accurately than if he were bound to regard only the broad results of the plebiscite.

CHONG SAM BOW WAS HANGED TO-DAY

Chinese Who Murderer C. C. Jones in Vancouver Executed at Oakalla Prison

Case Remarkable in Court History in B.C. Because Man Had Five Trials

Vancouver, Jan. 15.—Chong Sam Bow, convicted of the murder last week of Charles C. Jones here in July, 1923, was hanged at 7.30 o'clock this morning at Oakalla Jail.

By an Order-in-Council from Ottawa, his body will be released to his former friends for the customary Chinese burial.

At the last Chong Sam Bow uttered a Chinese prayer.

He maintained the stoic state of mind generally attributed to his race during his last night on earth. He was taken from the jail building to a cell in the old structure near the scaffold at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Prison authorities state he was calm and collected throughout the night, receiving spiritual aid before going to a still higher court to answer to his violation of the Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill."

WITHOUT WARNING

Charles C. Jones, an employee of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, was shot to death without warning by Chong Sam Bow who was returning to work from lunch shortly after noon. The crime was committed in Main Street, not far from the City Hall and in view of many pedestrians. Chong's only explanation of the shooting was the allegation that Jones on one occasion had slapped his face.

A strenuous battle to save Chong's life followed the shooting. The Chinese had no fewer than five trials, it being claimed he was insane. One of the juries, besides the last one, found him guilty of murder, but a new trial was ordered.

FEARS NO MARXIAN REVOLT IN BRITAIN

Prof. H. F. Angus Heard in Interesting Address Before Victoria College

A ruthless class war in the Marxian sense was unlikely in Great Britain, stated Professor H. F. Angus of the University of British Columbia during the course of the second extension lecture given at Victoria College last evening.

"The industrial future of Great Britain," was taken by the speaker as the subject of an interesting lecture in the old Land and predicted conditions in the old Land and predicted conditions in the future.

The mass of British opinion, he intimated, would not view socialist doctrines as a cure-all for economic ills. The speaker compared antagonisms between capital and labor as similar to two men fighting in a canoe which any violent movement would upset. Such a position, he said, would keep the danger of violence and disagreement in the minds of both groups, with the result that the Marxian dynasty was not likely to become a fact in Great Britain.

The European war, he continued, was an example of the futility of waging warfare even for the best of causes, as only inconclusive results had been reached, and this at inconceivable cost. The "Red" theory of a class war presupposed complete victory for one side or the other. The whole history of revolt or warfare showed how impossible this was. The settlement in Great Britain would ever be bounded by the good common sense of its inhabitants, who despite fleeting opinions were steady-going and cautious in their actions. Professor Angus was cordially thanked for his address.

BOYS' WORK WAS PROGRAMME FEATURE AT ROTARY LUNCH

Navy League Success in Cadet Movement Reported to Club

The Rotary Club was entertained at to-day's luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce with a programme organized by the boys' work committee. Orchestral selections by "the boys' orchestra" were given during the luncheon. The artists being Oscar McComb, first violin, of Victoria College; Ivan Halsey, first cornet; Monte Christopher, traps, of George J. School; Sam McKenzie, second violin, of the High School; Herbert McKenzie, second cornet, and Tom Larman, piano. Scoutmaster Framp-ton and two scores made music with harmonica and bones.

James Hunter introduced President W. H. Langley and honorary secretary P. A. Haylor of the Navy League. Mr. Haylor stated that four years ago, he had outlined a programme of training cadets. He presented to the club second officer Davesport, one of the first of the 268 lads sent to sea by the Navy League, of whom only two have failed to stay by their sea careers.

Mr. Raynor appealed to the club to provide work for boys such as would trouble as has resulted in the overcrowding of the Provincial Industrial School.

35c "Danderine" does Wonders for Any Girl's Hair. Girls! Try this! When combing and dressing your hair, just moisten your hair-brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair. The effect is startling! You can do your hair up immediately and it will appear twice as thick and heavy—a mass of gleamy hair, sparkling with life and possessing that incomparable softness, freshness and luxuriance. While beautifying the hair "Danderine" is also toning and stimulating each single hair to grow thick, long and strong. Hair stops falling out and dandruff disappears. "NORTH OF 36" IS SHOWING NOW AT THE DOMINION

"North of 36" is a film with as many hair-raising thrills as there are feet of film.

Produced by Irvin Willat from the novel by Emerson Hough and featuring Jack Holt, Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson and Noah Berry in the leading roles, "North of 36," runs all this week at the Dominion Theatre.

Here's a story of the pioneers—a story of Texas. The time is directly after the Civil War when the Lone Star state was almost broke and at a loss for a market for its herds.

Word comes through that such a market is to be found far up "North of 36," and a girl is the first to undertake the perilous venture—and Texas is saved.

If ever there was a real honest-to-goodness rival of "The Covered Wagon" this is it. The pictures are the same as far as bigness of production is concerned, but the stories are entirely different.

CONVICT SCENES IN BOSTON BLACKIE FILM AT PLAYHOUSE

It is easy to get realism if you know how, according to Forrest Stanley, who is playing Boston Blackie in the Cosmopolitan production, "Through the Dark," at the Playhouse this week.

In the early episodes of the picture Stanley is seen as an escaped convict—a hunted man. On the set, Stanley went about the big glass stage with a constant hunted-look in his eyes.

It's a sad story. The convict scenes were taken at Ballona Creek and Stanley had to crawl on his hands and knees through the underbrush. Neither Stanley nor Director Hill are naturalists and the fact that the heavy underbrush was mostly poison oak failed to register until after the scenes were shot.

MECHANICAL ENGINEER WINS SUCCESS AS THE PHOTOPLAY AUTHOR

"I don't say that an author who has not wandered a great deal and has not seen a great deal of life in many phases, cannot write. But I do claim that lack of experience, travel and diversity of viewpoint limits the stay at home author in his selection of material, no matter how talented and observing he may be."

That, in effect, is Will Lambert's commentary upon one phase of the writing game. Mr. Lambert, author of the Palmer Corporation's latest photoplay offering, "His Forgotten Wife," which shows at the Coliseum Theatre this week, was formerly a mechanical engineer, but he has adventured, worked and wandered in many lands, studying many phases of human existence. All of these, apparently, he has brought to the making of the powerful characterizations and refreshing plot of this picture.

Another bit of Mr. Lambert's philosophy and observation is intensely interesting to anyone contemplating writing. Taking for granted the need for special talent in writing, and special technical training in the branch of writing one intends to pursue, he says:

"Studies of foreign races are valuable in learning customs and local color, of course. But to me they are infinitely more valuable in enabling me to get the right viewpoint upon any type of person through knowledge of the basic psychology of the entire human family. Different customs, living conditions and stages of civilization bring out traits common to all men, but often hidden under other conditions. A study of the South Sea Islander may teach the observer something about the polished and cultured Parisian and vice versa."

"HUSBANDS AND LOVERS" HAS STELLAR CAST

Girls who are still hesitating about bobbing their hair—if there are any left—will find strong encouragement for their decision in the treatment made to a newspaper interviewer recently by Florence Vidor, beautiful screen star, who is now appearing in the new picture, "Husbands and Lovers," a First National picture.

Miss Vidor is one of the few "unbobbed" stars in filmdom. But, apparently, she has not sought this distinction, but, rather, found it thrust upon her in the fulfillment of her art.

"If I could follow my own impulses, there are two things I would do immediately," said Miss Vidor. "One is to cancel my diet restrictions, and the other is to have my hair bobbed. And if there were any doubt about my being allowed both these privileges, I think that I would choose the latter."

"I am not a particularly keen follower of women's reforms, but I am most certainly in favor of the use of liberty sounded by the bobbed-hair practice. My one regret is that I cannot share in its comforts."

"For some time past, the reason I always seem to be chosen for young married woman roles. I like to play such parts because they lend them to my own character, or, at least, never speak to me again. They say that they must have some girls with long hair for pictures and I seem to be one of the chosen."

"Mr. Stahl told me frankly that he would never have cast me in 'Husbands and Lovers' had I short hair, and I know that bobbed hair would have kept me out of my next picture, so, in spite of my desires, it seems that I must not bob my hair."

DRAMATIC ACTION THRILLS AUDIENCE OF "THE SEA HAWK"

"The Sea Hawk" will be the feature at the Royal Theatre twice daily for one week, commencing Monday, January 19.

Ever since its premier the Frank Lloyd-First National picture version of Sabatini's colorful story of sixteenth century piracy and romance has been greeted by enthusiastic capacity audiences, and it seems likely that before its showing is concluded "The Sea Hawk" will have established new motion picture history.

Milton Sills is seen as the principal male character of "The Sea Hawk," and in the large supporting cast are Enid Bennett, Marc MacDermott, Wallace Beery, Lloyd Hughes, Frank Currier, Wallace MacDonald, William Collier, Jr., Mima Monna Radzins, Hector V. Sarno, Claire du Brey, Lionel Belmore, Bobbie Bolder, Kathleen Key and many others well known to followers of the cinema.

Several night battles between two large ancient ships and a number of daylight encounters between Spanish and Moorish buccanering craft are among the big scenes of "The Sea Hawk." An entire Algerian village, with slave markets, four gigantic ships, two men rowed by galley slaves at the oars, an English castle and numerous large interior settings have been necessary to give "The Sea Hawk" a proper background, yet all of the massive settings and gorgeous wardrobe are merely incidental to the real bigness of the production.

The company carried on a successful service between Halleybury and the Rouyn goldfields, and the thirteen aeroplanes, sold by the company to the Ontario Government, have also been most successful in forest patrol work, though not without a fatality. Above is shown a portion of the line-up of the thirteen planes used by the Ontario provincial government in furnishing fire protection in the north woods.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

STOCKS FALL BACK AS BULLS LOSE GRIP ON MARKET

New York, N. Y., Jan. 15.—(By R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—An outside demand was again attracted by the depreciation in values in yesterday's late trading, and during the early trading efforts were made to stimulate more enthusiasm on the buying side and several specialties were floated on the upside.

The market in the closing dealings to-day presented a rather weak tone and the action of prices is promoting a more reactionary sentiment in local circles. Liquidation became quite general in the last hour and some substantial declines were recorded.

The market in the closing dealings to-day presented a rather weak tone and the action of prices is promoting a more reactionary sentiment in local circles. Liquidation became quite general in the last hour and some substantial declines were recorded.

Under the impetus of buying for the Morgan and First National Bank, this stock forged into new high ground. Continued accumulation by important banking interests was the outstanding feature of to-day's session.

Traders are in a cautious mood, which was reflected in a hesitant tone in the general line in the early dealings. No news to account for the selling movement in the previous session came out overnight, demonstrable to technical conditions.

Shell Union had an interesting market. Buying during the last few months has come from London, Amsterdam and other European financial centres. Brooklyn Union Gas advanced sharply to 80, a net gain of two points, reflecting accumulation by Brady investors.

Uncle Wiggily's Football

(By Howard R. Garis)

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Uncle Wiggily looked from the window of his hollow stump bungalow across the meadow and saw Curly and Floppy Twisttail, the piggie boys, Curly was kicking Floppy's cap along the dried grass, from which the sun had melted the snow.

"Hi, there, Curly, don't kick your brother's cap like that," called the rabbit gentleman, opening the window.

"I got to kick it," grunted Curly. "He kicked mine a while ago, and now it's my turn to kick it."

"What a funny way to do—kick each other's caps!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Why do you do such things?"

"Because we are playing football," answered Floppy. "I don't mind him kicking my cap, Uncle Wiggily. We're having lots of fun. We haven't a regular football, so we use our caps."

The piggie boys ran out.

"You shouldn't do that!" spoke the rabbit gentleman. "Caps are not the things to use as footballs."

"But what can we do to have some fun?" squealed Floppy.

"Maybe Uncle Wiggily has a football he could let us take," suggested Curly.

The rabbit gentleman thought for a moment and then said: "Yes, I have. Come in."

"Oh, fine!" grunted Floppy.

"Now we'll have jolly fun!" squealed his brother.

When the piggie boys scrambled into the hollow stump bungalow, Uncle Wiggily went out to the pantry. He remembered that he had seen one of the shelves that morning when he thought was a football. And when he went to look the second time there it was.

"Thought what a football is doing in Nurse Jane's pantry is more than I can guess," said the bunny as he picked up the dark thing, as large as the egg of two-and-a-half ostriches.

SITUATED in a quiet secluded locality, adjacent to Beacon Hill Park, near the sea and with a pleasant southern outlook, this is one of the most charming homes of its class in Victoria. The house was built for the present owner less than a year ago, of stucco construction and on California bungalow plans. There are nine bright rooms, including bedrooms, containing every modern convenience and many special features, including: tiled tub; built-in effects; paneled and beamed; exceptionally large pressed brick fireplace; hardwood floors in front rooms; living room 12x18 feet; high tension wiring throughout house for electric heating and cooking; very high cement basement; pipeless furnace; stucco garage to match design of house; solid concrete walks and driveway; stucco fence, etc.

For quick action the owner has knocked the price away below the cost to build the house along with any extras, and for anyone looking for an exceptionally attractive home at a bargain, this can't be beat at only $5,500 on terms.

"But I suppose some of the animal boys left their football out near the house and Nurse Jane brought it in to keep it for them. Here, Curly and Floppy, take this football and kick that instead of your caps."

With joyful shouts and squeals of laughter the piggie boys ran out with what Uncle Wiggily gave them. Then the rabbit gentleman sat down to read his paper and twinkle his pink nose until his muskrat lady housekeeper should return home from the movies.

And when Nurse Jane came home she went to the pantry and, after rattling about among the dishes for a while, she called to the piggie boys: "Did you take the plum pudding I left here ready to warm up for your supper?"

"Plum pudding!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "What did the plum pudding look like, Janie, my dear?" and he spoke with a sinking heart.

"Why, it was dark colored and it was about as large as two-and-a-half ostrich eggs," answered Miss Fuzzy-Wuzzy. "I made the pudding yesterday and sewed it up in a cloth bag so it wouldn't boil away. Where is it?"

"Oh, my! Good night!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "I thought that was a football and I gave it to Floppy and Curly to kick. And just then, two piggie boys, a-squealing piggie boys, ran up to the bungalow crying: 'Say, Uncle Wiggily, that wasn't a football you gave us! It was a pudding. We found it out' after we kicked it a little while, for a lot of plums and sugar came out of the bag. And we ate it all up—it was awful good!"

"Oh, dear!" sighed the bunny, and he looked at Nurse Jane anxious like. But she only laughed and said not to mind as she could make another pudding, which she did.

But it was a long time before the little pigs got over talking about the funny football. And if the glass of milk doesn't put on airs and try to look like a pound of butter, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's boiled eggs.

SERIAL STORY

THE MARRIAGE SCALES

By MILDRED BARBOUR

Copyright 1924, Metropolitan Newspaper Service, New York.

Mariana looked doubtful. "Do you really think that's best? People have to know sooner or later, so why not?"

"Now, please, Mariana," he interposed. "Grant me this one last favor. I'll keep away as much as possible. I won't annoy you, I promise you. We'll go ahead with our plans for a couple of weeks just as though nothing had happened. This house party at Three Oaks for Craig—"

Mariana checked him with an exclamation of astonishment. "Surely you don't mean to go through with that?" she gasped. "Not after—"

"I do mean it!" he insisted stubbornly. "My relationship with Craig is unchanged. He is my friend and I'm fond of him. It's my misfortune if my wife has come to love him. He's not to blame, and since I have already spoken to him about the party, it would be pretty rough to take back the invitation."

Mariana sat staring at him, dazed, unbelieving.

AN INVITATION FOR DORIS

Still bewildered by Charles's unaccountable refusal to consider an immediate change of status in their domestic relationship—and by his determination to entertain Craig Cullum at Three Oaks, Mariana nevertheless, obediently went about the task of carrying out his wishes.

After all, she reflected, she did owe him something for the chivalrous way he had accepted her announcement that she loved Craig Cullum and wanted to put an end to her marriage. She had expected reproach, anger, perhaps even violence. But she had been treated with kindness, courtesy, and utmost consideration. She was even a little piqued that such had been the case.

Subconsciously she knew that she had dealt Charles an overpowering blow. But the woman of her desired a little more violent demonstration of the fact. It is not flattering to one's vanity to be released pleasantly, even by a husband in whom one has lost all interest.

She spent a trying morning making up the guest list for this ridiculous house party, this event which should mark the end of the social career of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fage, as such. With the final ironic entry, the ledger of their brief matrimonial regime would be closed forever. It behooved her, Mariana reflected, to select with care those who should be present at the obsequies.

In view of the possible aftermath of the party (she drew a deep breath expressive of the hope that Craig Cullum would some day come to love her and make her his wife)—in view of this rather unconventional denouement, she decided that it would be wisest to invite those people who were her staunchest friends and were likewise broad-minded.

It wouldn't do at all to entertain people who might say to each other later when the crash came: "My dear, did you ever hear of such taste? Fancy giving a party for the man for whom she divorced her husband—and introducing him to us— an actor, too! I call it disgraceful!"

With this consideration vividly in mind, Mariana wrote down the Harrington's name first of all. She even rapped Linda up and proffered her invitation.

Linda gave a little shriek of delight when she heard the name of the principal guest.

"Oh, Mariana, not really? You don't mean to say you've actually got Craig Cullum to consent to come?"

"Charles did it," murmured Mariana modestly. "They're great pals. Golf, you know."

Linda sighed enviously. "And I nearly broke my neck trying to lure Cullum to a little tiny informal tea. I had Nevins, the violinist, for bait, too, remember? Cullum was so polite about his refusal that I felt I'd been slapped in the face—if you get what I mean."

"Then I can count on you and Alan?"

"Count on us!" gurgled Linda. "I'll come if I break everything less than my neck. I've always been dying to see what an actor's like off stage—you know—if they cut loose and are wild and immoral."

"The next two names on Mariana's list represented a young woman of whom she was very fond and her fiancée, a staunch friend of Charles. They were both good fun, fashionably tolerant of other people's personal affairs, and extraordinarily discreet.

"That left only one more guest to complete the list and balance Cullum as the odd man.

With her little gold pencil tapping her white teeth, Mariana thought long and hard, going over her list of unattached feminine acquaintances with scrupulous care. One by one she eliminated and rejected. With as feminine instinct, she had no desire to introduce Craig Cullum to a girl more attractive than herself. Neither did she wish to spoil her house party with a stupid friend.

The thought of Doris, who had always good-naturedly filled in for her when beauty and brains without active rivalry were needed, came to her as an inspiration.

Doris was just the person! Doris was loyalty itself. Doris would neither flirt with Craig Cullum, nor be shocked and critical, when she learned the true state of affairs.

Mariana acknowledged that Doris would be secretly terribly disapproving, for she was very fond of her brother-in-law. But she wouldn't be unpleasant about it. She would accept it with a shrug of her slim shoulders and keep away thereafter.

With that thought in mind, and remembering, too, Doris's aversion to theatrical people, Mariana determined to keep from Doris the personnel of the house party until after she arrived. She resolved not to mention Craig Cullum to her and not to confess her own infatuation for him and her contemplated divorce—at least not until Doris had had an opportunity to be favorably impressed by the young actor.

So, to avoid natural questions from Doris, she decided not to phone her invitation, but instead wrote: "Dear little sister of mine— You've neglected me rather shamefully of late, but I'm ready to acknowledge that it is all my fault. By way of holding out the olive branch I'm begging you to come to us next week-end at Three Oaks. We're having only a few other guests. Prove that you forgive me by coming." (To be continued)

Cross-word Puzzle 004

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

tionally prune the correspondence file every Monday from unimportant subjects, was adopted by the City Council yesterday afternoon, at a session at which final reading was given to a number of by-laws.

The motion, which had the endorsement of several aldermen, was moved by Alderman Brown. It will give the Mayor and Clerk power to remove from the council file all immaterial correspondence, and transmit it immediately to the various departments for report or action.

Alderman Marchant said this practice prevailed when he was Mayor, and as a consequence much of the wasted time could be saved. A practice had grown up, prejudicial, he believed, of people writing letters to him just before council sessions, which were hastily put on the files, and many of which should not occupy the attention of the council for a moment.

The motion was then agreed to unanimously.

In passing the renewal agreement for the Victoria-Saanich beaches and Parks Committee, it was resolved to ask the Saanich council to pass its enabling by-law as soon as possible, so that the committee could get to work for the year.

TRUSTEE CANDIDATES

Mrs. M. A. Macdonald amplified the brief address given at previous meetings of the campaign, seeking election to the School Board. She frankly suggested that the Trustees' Committee, in the past two years should be rewarded. "I have been asked to be generous, and desiring to comply, I am willing to see Mr. Cheetham have a good long rest, while I carry on in his stead, the work he tells you is no arduous," she said.

Mrs. Campion reiterated her policy of paying lower salaries to beginners and in-laws as the reward for experience and long service in Saanich.

A. E. Horner, also trustee candidate, said he had no innovations in the Saanich school system if elected. Neither a municipal school inspector nor a technical school, Saanich would be supported by him.

Pending the issuance of the report of the Educational Survey Commission, he favored no changes, though he foresaw that many of the conclusions of that commission will prove astounding to the people of British Columbia, he said.

H. P. Thorpe advanced his candidacy as trustee in a brief address, declaring the most important matter before the electors to be the character of the training given children in the schools. Economy was a serious question, but the ratepayers should think twice when considering education costs such as salaries, and the attraction to Saanich of high-grade teachers.

Mr. Thorpe announced himself as opposed to entry of all children to high school. Pupils destined for the professions need higher education, he argued, but farm children, destined to continue rural life, should be sent to a farm school near the Dominion Experimental Farm.

"Such boys sent to the high school are occasion for municipal expense which is absolutely wasted upon them," he said.

Once More From Nova Scotia

COMES A TRIBUTE TO DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Joshua Smith, well-known ex-Postmaster, tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved him.

Port Hood Islands, N.S., Jan. 14 (Special).—"I used Dodd's Kidney Pills two years ago. I had poor circulation in my legs and feet. I used to have hot water tanks at night to keep my feet warm. I was able to do without them after using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I also had urinary trouble, but now I am quite well. My age is eighty years."

This statement is made by Mr. J. Smith of this place.

Dodd's Kidney Pills simply heal sick kidneys. They relieved Mr. Smith because his ailments were symptoms of kidney disease. When the kidneys get out of order they fail to strain the impurities out of the blood and general lassitude and weakness ensue. This condition is not only disagreeable but dangerous as well. The impurities in the blood are the seeds of disease. If they are not removed Rheumatism, Lumbago, Gravel, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease may result. (Adv.)

REVEE MACNICOL

After thanking the voters for his second term as Reeve, Mr. Macnicol reminded the meeting of the extended hours of polling on Saturday, the booths being open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock at night, instead of from 9 to 7 o'clock, as in former years.

The accounts of Saanich were explained, on similar lines to the methods adopted by the Reeve at previous meetings of the week.

In the sinking fund Saanich had at present a group of bonds, additional to Saanich issues bought in, which cost the municipality $91,000, and Reeve Macnicol announced that a recent expert valuation had placed these issues at a value of $104,000, an improvement he viewed with pleasure.

Replying to F. G. White, candidate for the police commission, who stated in a letter to the press that the 1924 police commission had supported Chief Brogan, Reeve Macnicol pointed out that the commission had placed Chief Brogan and Secret Rankin upon two months' probation, "and I do not call that supporting those officers." The Reeve thought the absence of Mr. White from the ward meetings was not fair to the ratepayers of Saanich, and promised plain speaking at the Ward Seven meeting tonight, where he hoped Mr. White would appear.

The Reeve recalled that he had challenged Ex-Reeve Watson and Commissioner Dempster to appear before the Saanich ratepayers to de-

SEEKS AGREEMENT ON THE NORTHWEST SEWER OBLIGATION

Alderman Brown Has Another Solution For Payment by Instalment

That the city might be able to secure a settlement with the municipality of Saanich in connection with the Northwest sewer debt by means of spreading the payment over a term of years was the suggestion offered by Alderman Brown, eventually the City Council yesterday afternoon.

He pointed out that owing to the fact that the ratepayers would not vote the necessary amount by law, and the agreement of 1920, committing the municipal council to the repayment, he would suggest that the city should ask the district council to place a sum in its estimates annually for the purpose of repaying the debt. He thought the sum of $5,000 to $10,000 annually would be a suitable figure, mentioning that the debt was $46,000 plus interest since 1920.

Alderman Marchant supported the idea, but indicated that they could hardly proceed until the Saanich council was organized.

Alderman Blair associated himself with the idea, but eventually the matter proceeded until the subject had received full consideration.

There might be some difficulty legally, said Alderman Blair, but he thought they should ask the city council to give them an opinion whether the plan suggested was legal to the district council, otherwise the suggested adjustment might be a failure.

Alderman Brown asked for a committee to investigate the agreement, which was tabled until the Saanich council had organized, which will not be until next Monday.

APPEAL COURT REAFFIRMS STANDBY ON DIVORCE

Dismiss Appeal Seeking Review of Supreme Court Judge's Ruling

An unusual argument was advanced by Robert Cassidy, K.C., counsel for plaintiff-appellant in the hearing of Claman vs. Claman before the B.C. Court of Appeal yesterday, urging that an appeal could be taken from a divorce—a matrimonial cause in Supreme Court to the Court of Appeal.

E. P. Davis, K.C., counsel for defendant-appellant, was not called upon for argument, the court declining to entertain appellant's argument and dismissing the appeal by an unanimous decision.

Isadore Claman, described as a merchant of 153 Hastings Street, Vancouver, appealed from a judgment of the Supreme Court, dated January 14, refusing to review two decrees given in Supreme Court in favor of defendant, Mrs. Maude Henriette Claman.

The first decree was one of judicial separation, granted by Chief Justice Hunter. The second was one for the payment of alimony by plaintiff to defendant in the sum of $250 per month, this being reduced later to $200 a month.

Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald was asked to set aside the decrees and refused to do so on the ground that the matter had been raised before the proper authorities who had had jurisdiction to act.

From this decision appellant appealed to the Court of Appeal, holding that the two decrees had been given by consent and without evidence being heard, amounting to a waiver of jurisdiction, argued Mr. Cassidy. The Court of Appeal could review on such a matter, he argued, contending in brief that the divorce division was an integral part of the Supreme Court and subject to its rules as part of the jurisdiction.

While making it plain that if the point had been raised at first instance the court might view the matter differently, Chief Justice Macdonald pointed to the decisions of the earlier courts where it had been held repeatedly that divorce and matrimonial causes were a separate division, amounting to a separate court, with no right of appeal except to the Privy Council.

Mr. Justice Martin concurred, intimating that he would, if considering the matter at first instance, have been inclined to hold with Mr. Cassidy that divorce and matrimonial causes were a separate division of the Supreme Court, were subject to review by the Court of Appeal. However, as two decisions by the old full court and by the present court had refused to interfere with the established practice of assuming the divorce court a separate tribunal, he could not take a contrary view at this stage. On the other hand, he intimated the court had left the way open for amending legislation, but none had been passed. The present case, if taken to the Supreme Court of Canada from the appeal-ruling, would provide a test case which would have the beneficial effect of clearing up the matter.

The Court of Appeal, concurred the Chief Justice, could not take it upon itself to interfere now with the established view of this matter. Mr. Justice Gallinger and Mr. Justice Mac-

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Harrowsmith, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would take weak, fainting spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, day or night. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to publish this good medicine. I lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will serve to help others."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, R. R. No. 2, Harrowsmith, Ontario.

In a recent canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over 100,000 replies were received and 98 out of every 100 said they had been helped by its use. This medicine is for sale by all druggists.

REEVESHIP CONTEST OPENS IN ESQUIMALT

Unless an eleven-hour arrangement upsets previous plans the attention of Esquimalt residents will be divided to-night between Reeve Lockley's address at the Sailors' Club and Capt. R. P. Matheson's rally at the Rex Theatre.

Both meetings were announced last week and are timed for 8 p.m. Other candidates will speak at the meetings, it is understood.

Twenty-four candidates are seeking election in Esquimalt, with contests in every department. The Esquimalt Municipal Voters' Association plan a meeting at the Rex Theatre to-morrow evening, when all candidates will be invited to set out their views.
