OBJECTS AND METHODS.

The Church Home provides for children who are temporarily or permanently deprived of a home. No children are received under four years of age, no boys over six, no girls over eight, except by special vote. The children are brought up in the care and according to the doctrine of the Episcopal Church. Each case is investigated and registered, and board for the children is required when parents or friends can pay. The Home in South Boston can accommodate seventy-five children—fifty girls and twenty-five boys.

The Placing-out Department places boys and girls. Boys are placed when nine years old, in carefully selected families of Church people in the country, board is paid for them until they are old enough to be placed free, or earn wages. Girls are placed in families at whatever age seems best for each individual. They are constantly supervised by a paid visitor.

The parents or friends are visited, and all children are supervised when they leave, whether returned to their families, boarded, placed free or earning wages. When at too great a distance for visiting, supervision is by correspondence, and the rector of the parish is asked to take charge.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

No meeting of the Corporation has been needful since the Annual meeting last November.

The Home has received during the year a legacy of $800 from Mr. Hollis Moore. Mr. Moore died many years ago, but his estate was subject to life interests which have now expired. These legacies are a welcome addition to the endowment, but the Home needs a larger income, and in view of the increased cost of everything, more subscriptions and donations are greatly desired.

The Revised Constitution was adopted at the Annual meeting and we are to-day meeting under the new arrangement. The purpose of the Revision was greater simplicity of organization and therefore it is hoped greater effectiveness. The principal change was an increase in the number of Vice-Presidents and a reduction in the number of the Board of Trustees in order that the Board might more readily and frequently meet and act,—when desired, as an advisory Body to the Board of Managers. The President said at the last annual meeting of the Corporation after the adoption of the revised Constitution that it would be well for the Board of Trustees as newly constituted to meet, but as yet they have not done so. Meetings, according to the Constitution, may be called by either the President of the Corporation or the Board of Managers. Business matters and matters of general policy should properly by Article III go before and be considered by the Trustees before presentation to the Corporation, corresponding as they do to the Directors of a business Corporation. Herein alone is a reason for occasional meeting or else for a longer stated meeting in November.

REGINALD H. Howe, Secretary.

November, 1911.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

The work of the Church Home changes somewhat from year to year to meet new conditions, and more modern ideas in the care of destitute and orphan children. Since giving up our Topsfield Home we have boarded our boys over nine years old in families. More and more do we emphasize this idea of family life and consequently we often send children directly to the Placing-out Department, whom formerly we should have kept in the Home. This naturally reduces the number in the Home and thereby increases the cost per child of their support.

The life in the Home has followed the usual routine of school in the morning and early afternoon and recreation afterwards.

The children have celebrated many holidays. Occasionally some one has sent tickets for simple amusements and the Sewing Circle League delighted the children with a performance of Beauty and the Beast.

The class of candidates for the Girls' Friendly has met on Saturdays and the girls have really worked hard for others this year. As a result several are now in the Probationers' Class at Church of the Redeemer. During the summer there were classes in sewing and laundering, and all of the children had gardens which were such a success that the Horticultural Society awarded them a third prize.

Then there were trips to Mother's Rest at Revere Beach given by the City Mission three times a week during July and a part of August and daily excursions to the South Boston bathing beach.

One little girl visited her brother who is boarded in the country. This was a good thing for both children. It not only made them very happy but it strengthened the family tie and already H. is planning how he will take care of his sister when he is old enough.

Two of our little girls went to Fairhaven for a week, and their hostess afterwards wrote to our matron congratulating her upon their behavior and expressing a wish that she might have some children visit her again next year.

We are sorry to have to report cases of measles and whooping cough during the spring. There were, however, no serious results and for the rest of the year there has been a high average of good health.

Eighty-one children have been cared for in the Home during the year. The length of their stay varies widely. For example, two children were with us for only six weeks, while their mother was in a hospital, and on the other hand we have just lately placed out one rather delicate girl, an orphan, who has been with us for ten years.

Our applications have come sometimes from individuals and sometimes from other child caring societies who coöperate with us and often send us many church cases.

The causes necessitating relief have been deserted wives, intemperance, illness of guardians and one or both parents dead.

We have held our regular monthly meetings in South Boston, at which we have considered questions relating to the work, and we have kept in close touch with the matrons, visitors and children through our weekly visits to the Home and through our various committees.

In closing this report we wish to thank all those who have helped make this work of rescue possible by their liberal gifts and generous sympathy, and we ask that they will again stretch out their hands to help us during the coming year.

ELEANOR SELDER TUCKER LEE,

Secretary.

REPORT OF PLACING-OUT AND DISMISSION COMMITTEE.

The Committee has held its regular monthly meetings during the past year except for a short period during the summer when the work was carried on by the chairman and the visitors. Notwithstanding the fact that we are constantly placing out new boys and dismissing others, the number in our care at one time varies very little. We have now 24 boarded boys, 5 placed out free, and 4 under partial supervision. last May I have visited all but one of the boarded boys, and most of the free boys, 29 in all, scattered in 16 different towns, some of them quite remote from Boston. On two trips I was accompanied by others of the Committee. It is very interesting, not only to see and know the boys, but to see the homes in which they are placed, and it helps greatly towards discussing the cases intelligently afterwards, and in making decisions. I am told that the boys look forward with pleasure to these yearly visits, but they are curiously unemotional as a rule, and I can think of only a very few who show genuine pleasure on these occasions, though an automobile ride will often loosen their tongues and create enthusiasm.

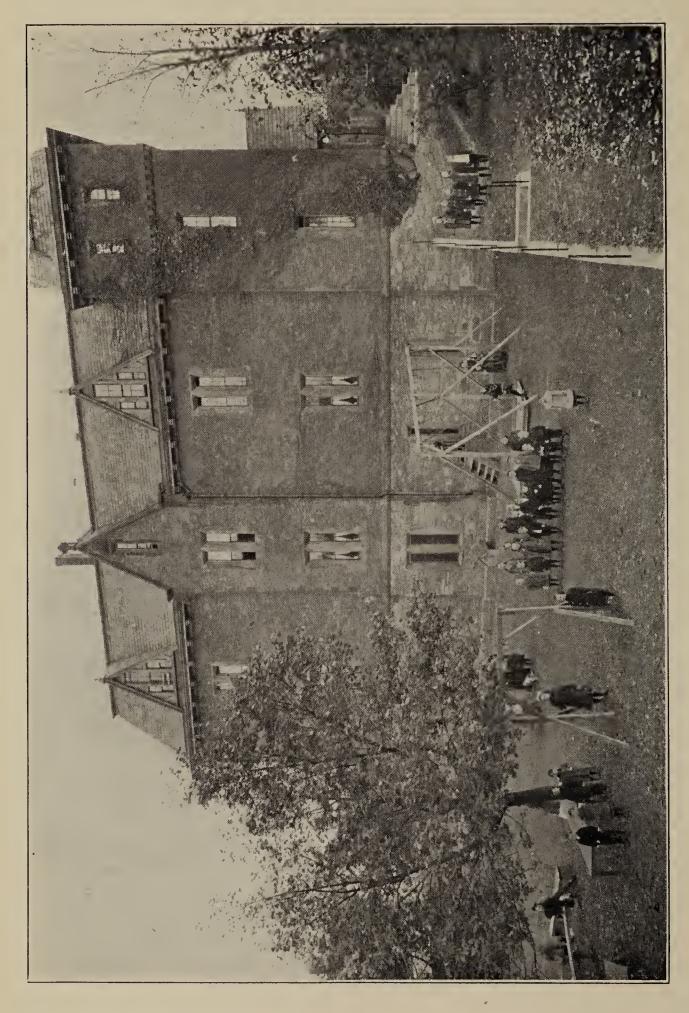

In October I visited the Berkshire Industrial Farm where we sent a difficult boy three years ago for a stay of four years. It is a reform school a few miles from Pittsfield, where the boys are taught farming chiefly, and I was amazed to see the improvement that had taken place in our boy in those three years; he is well thought of there, had just passed the best examinations of any boy in his class, and is the head of the dairy. Our work has been much helped by such institutions as this one and the George Junior Republic, to each of which we have sent boys with the most happy results. We have had the usual amount of ailments to be attended to, but no contagious diseases nor serious illness. It is wonderful to see the improvement that comes over a delicate, sickly child from the city when he goes to a good home in the country; we placed out this year one such little boy of 4 years of age, who was not only underfed and sickly but as fierce and untamed as a little savage, delighting in stepping on cats' tails, and spoiling for a fight. Even at that tender age he was a handful to manage; but a month of good food and air, and kind treatment completely transformed him, and he became strong in body, and docile and affectionate in disposition. The sad sequel to the story is that his mother after nearly a year's separation from him has now taken him back for a visit which we fear may result in her keeping him permanently, though there is every reason except a legal one why the boy should not stay there. Two other boys have just returned to very poor homes and a third will probably go shortly; though it probably spells ruin for this last one, we are powerless to prevent it.

We have almost more perplexity over our older free boys than with the younger ones; they are at a difficult age, much is expected of them in return for almost no pay beyond their board and clothing, and they quickly get dissatisfied, lose interest in their work, and then get discharged. In this way they change places often and do not get ahead as they should. These boys seem to need personal interest and friendly watching more than at any time of their lives. This work is always of the greatest interest, and if we can know that we have helped them to become useful and self-respecting men we shall indeed feel that it is not in vain. The work of supervising the girls has also been carried on through the year in the usual way. Several girls have been given back to the care of their parents who have become better able to provide for One little girl, left all alone in the world has been adopted by a kindly woman well known to us, and is now happy in "belonging somewhere," as she says. An older girl has finished a course of training as a child's nurse, and feels that she has chosen her right work. three girls in delicate health have been boarded in the country where pure air, generous diet and quiet life are bringing back the strength they need. We watch over our girls long after they leave the Home, and by visits and correspondence try to continue the friendly associations which we feel have been of value to many a young girl.

For the Committee,
FANNY L. CURTIS.
