

REWARD OFFERED FOR THIEF'S ARREST

Women Robbed of Jewels Worth $43,000 in Front of Own Residence

(By International News Service) CHICAGO, May 19.—A reward of $5000 has been offered today for the arrest of a lone bandit who robbed Mrs. W. C. Camp, her son, Gordon C. Thorne, and Mrs. Martha Turner of Los Angeles, of jewels and money to the value of $43,000. The robbery occurred in front of the residence of Mrs. Camp as the three were returning from a theater. Because of the fact that the robber called Mrs. Camp "Mrs. Peacock," it is believed he was lying in wait for Mrs. C. D. Peacock, wife of a well-known Chicago jeweler, who lives in the same apartment building. Mrs. Peacock was wearing $20,000 worth of jewels when she left her home last night. Among the jewels taken were a $15,000 brooch and three rings valued at $18,000, worn by Mrs. Camp, and a ring worth $5000, worn by Thorne.

WELLESLEY TURNS OUT CRACK GIRLS' CREW

(By International News Service) WELLESLEY, Mass., May 19.—Wellesley College boat crew is ready to begin its season. The eight has been whipped into shape by frequent practice on Lake Waban and is said to be one of the strongest ever turned out by Wellesley. The attractive and athletic young women who compose the crew have been trained and coached for their contests exactly as would be a male crew. They take their work very seriously and Wellesley is very proud of them. Miss Dorothy Brainerd is stroke oar and captain of the crew. Miss Helen Sherman is head of the rowing department this year, while Miss Dorothy Breingan will be in charge next year.

CONSUMER OF GASOLINE

"Didn't your boy graduate from college last year?" "Yes, and he tells me he is still looking about him." "What kind of business do you think he will enter?" "I don't know, but if all the young women he hauls around in his motor car paid him taxicab rates he would soon be a millionaire."

GLENDALE BOOSTER GIVES ARGUMENT

L. A. Hart Becomes Eloquent Over Many Advantages of Our Fair City

"In the summing up of a case submitted to a jury, the arguments pro and con are compared," says L. A. Hart of the Hart Realty company. "A truthful statement based on a comparison of facts is bound to stand beyond argument is the statement will endure the comparisons made. No one will question that fact that sugar, meat or bread are commodities that should not be dispensed with when food values are under consideration, yet we hear arguments against other things that would be just as illogical. Regarding Glendale realty values now and in the future, we think if subjected to truthful comparisons a more stable market condition might prevail. "We know that homes for our families are more important than anything else likely to come before us. Glendale offers opportunities for the home builder more enticing than any other small town within a radius twice the distance from Los Angeles. The accepted fact that Los Angeles will grow is proof conclusive that Glendale will grow. It is people who make values and the more people we have within our boundaries, the more prosperity we are bound to have. Not only are the Glendale building permits for 1921 to date, far in excess of the same period last year (which was our banner year), but the investments are more satisfactory and secure. More homes are being built and sold to permanent residents than heretofore and a more substantial class of citizens is selecting Glendale as the town in which they wish to rear their children. "There are plenty of arguments to sustain the judgment of these boosters for Glendale. First, that Glendale is a clean town, morally and physically; second, that our electric car service and boulevards for auto traffic are of the best; third, that many Los Angeles business men who have been living in that city are coming to Glendale to reside and are anxious to get in on the ground floor; fourth, the opportunity to secure homes which will afford growing children plenty of room and fine playgrounds and schools. "When I first came to Glendale six years ago, I selected it for residence for the sake of my family, expecting to find it quite a hardship to go back and forth to Los Angeles to business, but in reality I found the trip of benefit after a tiresome day spent indoors. Now that I and the members of my family can speak from experience, we are not shy in saying that no other place on the globe has the attractions for us that Glendale offers and we expect to spend the rest of our days right here in this valley town. "I am willing to call Glendale a town for the present, but the time approaches and will soon be here, when we will have to change the word 'town' to 'city.' "Let everybody realize that a home is the first step towards future independence and that there is no place better than Glendale in which to select a home site."

Organization Makes Plans for Event—Old Members to Be Entertained

At the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle held at the city library Wednesday, plans for the annual picnic to be held at La Ramada, June 15, were discussed. It was decided that all former members of the circle should be welcomed as guests and invited to communicate by telephone (Glendale 1910-W), with Mrs. Pendleton, chairman of arrangements, for reservations. It was also decided that each member in good standing may have the privilege of bringing a guest. Mrs. Vierick was made chairman of the committee on tables and luncheon, and Mrs. Henry was given charge of the program. The educational review of the day was given by Mrs. Dodds and covered "Ten Rooms in the House of Life," an article in a current magazine. Superintendent Richardson D. White addressed the circle and explained the postponement of the school bond election. The current chapter in the book the circle is now studying—"When Children Err," by Elizabeth Harrison, was read by Mrs. E. H. Moore. About forty-five ladies were in attendance.

Big Majority Predicted When Premier Briand's Foreign Policy Is Voted Upon

By NEWTON C. PARKE, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

PARIS, May 19.—The long distance telephone has been utilized as an agency of modern diplomacy to ease the tension between France and Great Britain over Upper Silesia, it was revealed today by the Echo de Paris. "Premier Briand and Premier Lloyd George have already exchanged satisfactory telephone conversations upon the Upper Silesian issue," said the Echo de Paris. Predictions were made in parliamentary circles that a big majority will be given to Premier Briand when a vote is taken in the chamber of deputies upon the government's foreign policy. This vote may be taken tomorrow. The parliamentary program has not yet been worked out in detail and it is possible that Premier Briand will allow the debate to continue until Friday before making a statement on behalf of the government. This would give further time for conversations between Paris and London and further time for the situation in Upper Silesia to crystallize. The press generally reports a slackening in the tension over Upper Silesia and the opinion is prevalent that there will be a satisfactory solution and that France and Great Britain will again face the world in complete unity.

Harvard Free-for-All Fight Banned

(By International News Service) CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 19.—Harvard heads have put the ban on the annual free-for-all fight between the seniors and freshmen on the steps of Widener library, and on the equally celebrated senior picnic down the harbor. This action was taken because a year ago blood-curdling motion pictures of the fray were obtained and came to the notice of some of the university dons. The reason why Europe can't understand America is because our idea of a momentous question is Sunday baseball.

ARMAMENT MAKERS INTERESTED CHARGE

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 19.—The Borah amendment to the pending navy appropriations bill which would authorize and request President Harding to take steps toward a disarmament conference between the United States, Great Britain and Japan may be adopted by a substantial majority of the senate today as a result of the reported withdrawal of the President's opposition to it. Senator La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin, "irreconcilable" opponent of "bigger navy" expenditures, resumed his verbal onslaught on the bill today, charging that American armament makers were "interested" in its passage, but the hope was entertained that he would conclude his speech, which he began Monday, in time for a vote on the Borah disarmament before the end of the day. The change of front on the Borah amendment by the administration forces was received with elation by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, who has been waging a determined fight for world disarmament since he first proposed it in the last congress.

U. S. WILL NOT BE PARTY TO QUARREL

By GEORGE R. HOLMES, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The first direct attempt to draw the United States government into the controversy over Upper Silesia, which is now menacing the peace of the world, has resulted in a total failure, it was learned authoritatively here today. An "informal" request for American support of the Franco-Polish position in the controversy was lodged with Secretary of State Hughes by Prince Lubomirski, Polish minister here. Just as "informally" the Polish representative has been informed, it is understood, that the United States regards the Silesian question as a matter of wholly European concern and that this government will not take any part in its settlement.

SPECIAL NOTICE

It is very gratifying to us to know that has been the cause of so many Glendale people ridding their property of gophers. No animal is more annoying or destructive than the gopher, and that is why has such a host of friends and admirers—simply because it actually does destroy the gopher. If you have not already tried a box of GOPHER SCENT, try one and you will find that the scent of is what lures them on to their death.

GOPHER SCENT

GOPHER SCENT

We will ask you, however, to use it systematically and intelligently, according to directions on box.
