THE MORALS OF TIGHTS FROM THE WEARER'S STANDPOINT

Serve To Cheapen Production and Audiences

Babette Burg and M'lle Florine Discuss the Merits of the Bill Introduced into the Wisconsin Legislature by Assemblyman John F. Hughes—Point Out Weak and Strong Portions of the Bill.

By JACK H. YEO.

"I THINK he's right," said Babette Burg. Miss Burg is a woman of the stage and she was talking about the bill introduced in the Wisconsin Legislature a few days ago by Assemblyman John F. Hughes, of Reeseville, to prohibit the wearing of tights on the stage unless covered by skirts reaching at least four inches below the knee.

"I think he's right in one way but in another way he isn't right."

"That's the woman of it, of course. Miss Burg is a charming young woman—she says she's 20 years of age and she doesn't look as though she would be about a thing like that. She is the soubrette in the Me Him and I Company.

"Yes, I wear tights," she admitted, "but I don't like to. I don't know of a single woman on the stage who likes to wear tights. They do it because they have to, because their managers tell them to. But there isn't a woman in the profession who wouldn't give a great deal rather wear skirts on the stage than appear in tights.

"Why? Oh, I don't know why, they don't like to, that's all. Any woman who has any sense of decency at all doesn't like to. From a sense of modesty? Oh, I don't know. I know that there are some of the most modest and well behaved girls on the stage who wear tights—real, good girls. I do not believe that the wearing of tights has any evil effect, especially on the morals of the actresses. It isn't that. If a woman is going to be bad, she will be bad whether she is in the chorus of a burlesque show or the leading lady of an opera or playing heavy parts in a melodrama. And if she is going to be good, she is going to be good. Some of the stage women are bad, no doubt, but that is due to the Bohemian life, the lack of restraint of home associations more than to when they are off the stage more than what they do on before the footlights."

"Why is it, then, that you don't like to wear tights?" the little woman was asked.

"It's because it's cheap. It appeals to what I call the 'yellow' in the people out in front. Of course, I admit that in a pretty opera or comedy, the stage pictures demand pretty costumes and graceful dances but I believe that the same effect or even prettier effects can be produced by having the women wear skirts or 'panta's' as we call them or some other fancy costumes. But when it comes to wearing tights simply to appeal to the audience through display of mere physical charms of women, why that is simply catering to the cheap, the 'yellow,' the callowness of men. There are some persons who like it, of course, many in fact. Young boys of sixteen or eighteen years of age and some bald headed men, too, want to see that kind of a show and the managers have to give it to them and the persons whom the managers engage have to do as they are told. But they don't like to do it and always feel when they are doing it that they are cheapening their audiences instead of helping them. When I am appearing in a certain part in a show, I can not help feeling sorry for the audience. I like to have the people in front admire my acting and think that I am clever and pretty but I don't like to have them—well I don't like to appear in tights."

"Why did you say that the Hughes bill was in another way not right?"

"Well, because if an actress wants to appeal to that portion of her audiences she can do it much more effectively clothed in skirts which can be judiciously manipulated than she can by appearing in tights. There is nothing more suggestive than the display of bosomy and lingerie by a woman who comes onto the stage completely dressed in skirts. And so if Mr. Hughes desires to raise the standard of the stage, he can not do it by prohibiting the wearing of tights. The standard is being raised by the audiences themselves, slowly. In the east, there are not nearly so many shows in which the women wear tights as there was a few years ago. Many of the operas and comedies and extravaganzas have the chorus clothed entirely in skirts all through the piece. It's because the people are beginning to want better things of the stage people and have become disgusted with vulgar displays. And also, at the same time, those who prefer the vulgar find more enjoyment out of the seductive manipulation of skirts than in the march of the amazons."

And in the next act of the show, Babette Burg appeared in a fetching suit of red with a short skirt which scarcely reached to her knees, and after a gay song and a merry dance kicked her chubby left leg straight out towards the audience, revealing as pretty a display as could be imagined. But one of squeamish proclivities could scarce restrain a shudder.

Mlle. Florine, who is appearing this week at the Star Theatre was not so philosophical as Miss Burg. She agreed, however, that there were a great many women on the stage appearing in tights who disliked very much to do so.

"It has often been said the women who do not like to wear tights on the stage are those who have not been blessed with the charms which would make them delight to display them," was suggested.

"That is not true," was the prompt reply, and a glance at her shapely form as she prepared a pose in the living pictures as the sea nymph immediately bespoke her as an authority for one side of the argument.

"In fact the opposite is true. A good looking woman is less desirous of appearing in tights than a thin or scrawny woman. The thin woman is conscious of the fact that she lacks charms which her plumper sister has, and so is the more anxious to get even by a more liberal display of those which she does possess. It is the good looking woman, the well formed woman, who most resents the demand of the public through her manager that she appear in tights on the stage.

"I think that Mr. Hughes' bill is exactly right. And I don't believe that it would hurt the show business in the state a particle. It would aid the women of the stage to maintain their self respect and at the same time they could entertain and please their audiences just as much as they do now—in fact more so. "It isn't the actresses who keep up the practice of wearing tights on the stage. It is the people themselves."

SALTER'S NEW ENTERPRISE.

Edward R. Salter has a new idea for financial investment which he has just launched. Mr. Salter has opened a suite of offices in the Kulekierbocker Theatre Building and his new enterprise is to furnish plays, printing and scenery to managers, actors or authors on the small payment of a weekly royalty.

Mr. Salter's argument is that many good attractions become failures before they are fairly launched on account of lack of funds, while the new scheme will permit of the author, actor or manager of limited capital to produce their play, secure a line of first-class printing and mount it with all essential scenery at a very nominal cost.

WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF HIPPO.

Elaborate preparations are now being made at the New York Hippodrome by Messrs. Shubert & Anderson to celebrate the second anniversary of the opening of the big playhouse on Friday evening, April 12. The high jinks will commence immediately after the evening performance and will continue presumably throughout the night. A sweeping invitation that will include practically every member of the profession playing in New York will be issued, and it is expected that the immense auditorium will be entirely filled with professional people and the friends of the members of the Hippodrome company. A number of prominent artists appearing at the different Shubert theatres have volunteered to take part in the entertainment, which will be designed primarily for the benefit of the hard-working chorus of the Hippodrome, who give daily matinees and who, therefore, never have a chance to see any other production. The entertainment will be given first on the big Hippodrome stage, and will last for perhaps forty minutes. Louis Mann and Eddie Foy are two of the headliners for this feature of the program. The Hippodrome tank will then be filled and a series of swimming races will take place. Prizes will be offered, and girls from other companies who wish to compete with the mermaids of Neptune's Daughter will be permitted to enter the tank, so the press department announces, bathing suits being

BIG FLOOD

Brings Much Damage to One-Nighters

A Resume of the Week by One Who Goes in Advance—Notes and Comment.

By E. E. MEREDITH.

A GREAT many attractions played their last dates in the Ohio River cities on account of the recent floods. Among them were The Prince of Denmark, The Missouri Girl, The Arrival of Kitty, The Carroll Comedy Company, A Thorn in Her Heart, McMillan, the violinist, and The American Stock Company.

The failure of mail and telegrams to reach the parties addressed caused much inconvenience and the loss of freight and express bundles put the advance agents to bits of bother. This week being Holy Week, many of the managers were not sorry to find an excuse to lay off, but he wailed the loss of six sets of dates already printed and shipped in most instances. The Marietta (Ohio) Theatre can not play attractions until Apr. 1, as the water was the highest ever known in that city. A Thorn in Her Heart planned to lay off March 30, but Rube Robinson persuaded them to play his house, The Grand, at Clarkburg, W. Va., and although the date was not arranged until Saturday noon the show got $105. The Murray and Mackey Co. jumped from East Liverpool, O., to Clarkburg and opened March 25, but it took scheduling on Frank Mackey's part to get there. The Carroll Comedy Company laid over at Clarkburg, W. Va., and witnessed the performance of The Murray-Mackey Co. It was the first time Mr. Carroll had seen a show in more than two years. The Prince of Denmark laid over at Huntington, W. Va. The Little Joker lost several dates and closed its season. Arthur Dunn will go into vaudeville.

The Keyes Sisters closed with the Colonial Stock Company, March 23.

John W. Vogel is thinking of putting out a colored show next season—The Emperor of Dixie. Manager J. E. Powell, of Fairmont, W. Va., is out of the hospital, where he underwent a surgical operation. He has about regained his former health.

Fred Small will manage the theatre at West Chester, Pa., next season.

Business during the present season at Lansford, Pa., has averaged more than $300 gross for each attraction. Business has averaged more than $300 at Elkins, W. Va. The latter town should be played between Charleston, W. Va., and Cumberland, Md., and can be used to break the jump either way. The Mayor of Laughland got $500 there recently at dollar top prices.

John Abbott, now with Big Hearted Jim, and J. W. Boyd, advance agent of Thorns and Orange Blossoms (A), will put out a comedy drama next season with the title, The Man and His Price. John Abbott and Miss Harriet Lee will be featured.

O. Otto Hittner has closed as manager of the Aubrey Stock Co. (Eastern) and is now treasurer of the Opera House at New Brunswick, N. J. Next season he will go out with the Aubrey Stock (Western).

Fred Smith, who has been assistant manager and treasurer of West's Minstrels for several seasons, will be connected with the same attraction next season. His former partner, Charles A. Leedy, is the dramatic editor of the Youngstown (Ohio) Telegram.

John Adair, Jr., "boasting boy" ahead of the Harper-Hall Co., is sending out a series of "postals with a purpose."

The John Sparks Virginia Shows will carry three passenger cars, one stock car, one baggage car, one flat car and about fifty people the coming season. It will play West Virginia during April. The Hagenbeck-Wallace Show will play the larger cities of West Virginia in May.

Miss Letty Holmes and Charles A. Cummins joined A. Q. Stammen's Sidelacked, recently.

Edward L. Moore will be the manager of the Court Theatre at Wheeling next season. He announces that he will offer Klaw & Erlanger vaudeville two nights of each week.

Charles H. Brown, special representative of Nixon & Zimmerman, is doing special work ahead of The Mayor of Laughland. Mr. Brown is co-author of Simple Simon Simple, and is one of the most popular men that travel in advance.

Fred Tolver is ahead of The Missouri Girl and is said to be doing splendid work.

MUSICAL COMEDY.

Jeannett Bageard, who has played the French maid in The Prince of Denmark since the first performance in Boston five seasons ago, will spend her vacation in Paris this summer.

Dave Darden, has cancelled his vaudeville dates and is playing the leading comedy role in The King of Tramps.

PLAYHOUSES.

Col. Wood, of Chicago, who has planned a number of big theatres, was in London, Eng., last week, taking measurements for the new burlesque theatre which F. W. Blair will build in that city.

The T. M. A., of Toronto, Can., held a big benefit Friday afternoon of last week at the Grand, and realized a nice sum.

Manager O. D. Woodward, of the Wood Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., is spending a few weeks in New York City.

SHUBERTS LEASE BIRMINGHAM THEATRE.

The Majestic Theatre at Birmingham, Ala., which has been playing vaudeville, has been leased to the Shuberts and will play the independent attractions for the balance of the season.

Work on the new vaudeville theatre at Des Moines, Ia., begins next week. The theatre will cost about $150,000 and is planned similar to the Majestic in Chicago. It will be managed this winter by Fred Buchanan and Joe Meddick.

WESTERN CANADA AGAIN.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 20, '07. Dear The Billboard. Dear Sir:—A letter from Wm. B. Sherman, of Calgary, Alberta, appeared in a western draught paper under date of Feb. 22, 1907, headed "Warning to Managers." I wish to reply to this letter through the columns of The Billboard. I don't suppose there is anyone who is better qualified to answer this letter than your humble servant who has covered every part of Canada during the past seventeen years, working all towns of any importance west of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and from coast to coast. Firstly, he claims there are not two managers of opera houses in western Canada that know what is expected of them by traveling companies. I say there are about one-third who do, and even these are not given a fair show. Can a man pay house business, do billposting, advertising in local papers, furnish other things that are required on a $5.00 rent basis, or 10 or 15 percent of the gross? I have done this many times myself, but the managers of the different companies are greatly to blame for this, because they will beat the opera house manager down to the lowest possible per cent. or rent and do the paper work and other requirements themselves and get all the money. It seems to be an easy matter to fill the house any old way you may run it, but give the managers of the houses a fair percentage or a fair rental and they will see at a glance they can do all these things. The Western Canada Booking Bureau, at Calgary, Alberta, was organized for this purpose and also to do away with the "graft" and building that has been going on, both with managers of opera houses and managers of companies as well. Secondly, he claims there are not more than four real opera houses on the circuit, and the balance are "halls" and "implement stores." I have failed to find these "implement stores" he speaks of. I know of twenty-five or thirty large towns and cities where opera houses are fairly well equipped; but why Sherman should make such a statement I can not understand. No decent company, no matter how large or how small, has ever failed in western Canada, and I could name several (and will do so by letter to anyone who wishes to know) who have gone into Canada and made a big bunch of money who wrote on their uppers when they went, and Mr. Sherman has knowledge of some of these I refer to. Mr. Manager, what do you care or I, what kind of opera houses we play in, so long as we get the money? I played in a "hay loft" at Birtle, Manitoba, to over $200 with a small concert company. Would any manager complain of this? Sherman complains of the fifty cities and gives the population which is much wrong and not one-fourth of the real population of some of the towns. He is giving the 1901 census, as none has been taken since then. There are towns of 2,500 that were not on the map two years ago (and lots of them), and they are as good as many in the United States at twice or even three times their population. You get $1 admission for a fair company almost any place west of Brandon, Manitoba. Sherman gives receipts of from $1,500 to $4,000 on week stands at Calgary, and one-night stands from $500 to $700. Does this look like poor business? I also would add a "warning to managers." Book through the Western Canada Booking Bureau, E. Willis, Sec'y, at Calgary, Alberta, and get all the towns of any importance. This bureau is controlled by managers of opera houses themselves, and there is absolutely no chance for "graft." The managers refuse to allow anyone to book their houses outside of the "bureau."

Western Canada is the greatest show country in America according to the population of the towns. Pay a visit to Canada with good talent and you will get the money; but remember, you must deliver the goods. The very best plays are highly appreciated. J. COSGROVE, Manager Cosgrove's Amusement Co., P. O. Box 453, Minneapolis, Minn.

PEORIA, ILL.

Mable Harrison has left The District Leader in Peoria, her old role with The Lady of No. 1, Ethel Doney, who, with Wm. Norris last season, assumes Miss Harrison's place.

Leonard Worley has been promoted to the position of treasurer of the Grand Opera House, vice Bert Heylman, deceased. Mr. Worley is an exceptional young man and will make good in his new position.

Heber MacDonald, business manager for Thomas Dixon, Jr., has been spending the past few days in the city.

Stone Hill Garden opened March 11, for the summer season, with Stone Hill Stock Co. Manager Whistler, of the Majestic Theatre, entered the members of the Toledo Base Ball Club at his theatre March 19. The teams are in the city for a two weeks practice.

The Payson Stock Co. will open at the Main Street Theatre for the summer season about June 8. They will run only high royalty plays. The management has secured an option on a plot of ground near the center of the city, where they will erect an immense Air Dome to exhibit large circuses and hippodrome acts. R. L. LOHMAR.

MAY TAKE EASTERN OFFICES.

Charles Muehlman, the popular manager of the Spokane Theatre, Spokane, Wash., for John Cort, left for New York March 11, to spend a month at the Cort eastern headquarters. It is possible that Mr. Muehlman will take a permanent position in Mr. Cort's New York office. During his absence, the Spokane Theatre is being managed by Dan L. Weaver.

CLUB HONORS ACTORS.

Rose Stahl, the star, and James Forbes, the author of The Chorus Lady, which has been one of the season's sensational successes in New York, are to be honored by the Twelfth Night Club, whose membership comprises the most noted women of the stage. Miss Stahl and Mr. Forbes will be tendered a reception in the latter part of the month, a distinction much coveted.

Vaudeville

Nellie Revell returned to New York last week from a tour over the "C. & C. Circuit" as she calls it, and was, Wednesday evening, March 13, entertaining a number of her friends at her apartments in the Hotel Gerard. The occasion was Nellie's twenty-ninth birthday. Many congratulatory telegrams, boxes of flowers and other more substantial gifts were received. The Swift and LAMe White Sisters please take notice.

PERFORMERS AIR GRIEVANCES THROUGH LETTERS OF PROTEST

Against Conditions that Obtain in West

One Complains that a Negro Holds the Position of Stage Manager in Indian Territory and Another that Certain Managers Make a Practice of Offering the Performers the Alternative of Reduced Salaries or Closing.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 15, 1907. Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—On behalf of a lot of vaudeville people who will stand by what I am going to give your worthy paper to publish, we wish to let the profession know at large that at a theatre in a certain town of Indian Territory they have a nigger stage manager; in fact he runs the place. This is a disgrace to the profession. Can you imagine a white man or woman going in there and being met at the depot by a coon, who informs you when rehearsal is, stands in the first entrance, sizes your act up, telling you what to cut out and how long your act must run. You can at any rate imagine how much heart you have in your work, when you are out trying to please the people and you are watched by a nigger. I tell you it is a shame and should be stopped somehow. So if you will publish this, it may cause others to take a hand in it, shame the people who run the place and make the agent who books the acts put a stop to it. This could be done very easily, for there are plenty of good white performers that would like the job—and who could do almost as good as a nigger.

AN OLD-TIME PERFORMER.

P. S.—There will be dozens of acts that will stand by what I have just stated.

CUT SALARIES OR CLOSE.

Decatur, Ill., Feb. 22, 1907. Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—Here is a chance for you. Have you been receiving any complaints about people opening in houses, and after the first show being asked to go, or they would be closed? If you are for justice to the performers you can do a good work for them now by exerting your influence towards stopping this thing. We just got a dose of it; first time for 31 years for me, and I am going to fight it to the last ditch. I have cancelled my time following this week. This is the joke; if you will not accept the salary they offer you in the booking office, they will give you a contract for your salary and then when you open the manager will inform you that your act is only worth so much to him and you can take it or quit. You can see the finish. If some one doesn't stop this thing there will be no vaudeville business in a short time, because the people who will stand for it are not good enough; they are falling to deliver the goods that the managers must have to keep the people coming.

Please don't throw this letter in the waste basket, but think it over and see if you cannot find it to your interest to take this matter up for the performers. They need you and Billy Boy now, and I think they will be grateful for anything you do for them. I know of many cases that have happened lately but can only speak for myself at present. It is not a question of whether your act pleases the people, but whether you will stand for the shake down. Yours hopefully, GEO. KINGSHURY, Of The Klubsbury.

M. C. Berg, the original straight man of the Cycling Zanows, and Harry Fisher, comedian, of Fisher and Johnson, have formed a partnership again after a separation of four years. They will be known as of old as Fisher and Berg, and will present an up-to-date comedy cycle act.

Joe Kelly, of Kelly and Kelsey, was a Billboard caller March 10. This team has signed with Capt. Ralph Emerson to produce their musical comedy, Hoogan's Troubles, with the Emerson Floating Palace this summer.

After April 7 Marie Snowden, the singing and dancing soubrette, will be at her home in Omaha, Neb., for a short and much needed vacation. For the past thirty-five weeks her act has been a hit over the circuits.

Seeker Wilkes & Co. have just returned to the United States, after ten weeks tour of the West Indian Islands with the Flying Jordan Circus and report a very prosperous engagement.

Charles and Josephine Summers will be in Chicago in a few weeks to have some new wardrobe prepared for their new act. They will have a new black velvet dress and will appear in pure white.

The fair and park department of William Morris is in the very able hands of F. J. Casey. He reports an excellent demand for acts and has the booking of some of the best.

Geo. B. Beckley, in advance of the Great Lafayette, was a Billboard caller last week. He's one of the "old-timers" and may be addressed in care of The Billboard.

Their new sketch, entitled The College Rubes, will be ready for production about April 30 and Chamberlain and Davonport expect to make a big hit with it.

The Tlanita Midgets are meeting with splendid success over the Ohas, E. Hopkins Lyric Circuit. They are booked solid until November.

Because of the illness of Miss Jullatt's father, Darrell and Jullatt have closed with the Wren Brothers Stock Co.

W. S. Cleveland, of 537 Kluckerbocker Building, New York, is securing many good fair and park dates for his circuits.

Fred Galett has cancelled all American dates for Galett's Monkeys and has sailed for France.

Allaire and Lind, club jugglers, return east in April.

John Crovo and Mattie B. Nelson have joined hands in Louisville, Ky.

Doing a One-Night Stand.

Capt. L. Sorcho and his company of deep sea divers recently closed an engagement at New London, Conn., and have gone to Jamestown, where Capt. Sorcho will give an exhibition on the War Path during the Jamestown Fair. The apparatus and members of the company went to Jamestown by rail but Capt. Sorcho, accompanied by Charles Parlate, left New York, Monday, March 18, for Jamestown in an automobile. The captain is an enthusiastic motorist and claims a record of over 100,000 miles.

The glamour of the "continuous" has attracted Chris Bruno and Mabel Russell and they are making a great hit in their clever comedy and singing act, The Insurance Agent. One of their biggest song hits is, If the Man in the Moon Were a Coon. Mr. Bruno is one of the cleverest grotesque dancers in the world, and his success in such musical comedies as The Sho Gun, Florida, May Irwin's Widow Jones, and many others, needs no mention here. Miss Russell possesses a sweet voice and her winning personality is felt at once by the audience.

Albert Sutherland, vaudeville agent of 1817 St. James Building, New York, has been commissioned by the United Booking Office of America to engage all park and fair acts to be booked by that office in the east. Mr. Sutherland's alliance with the United Booking Office will place him in a very advantageous position to facilitate the interests of his clients.

The Roberts Four have provided their act with a new set of scenery consisting of four drops. The act is just the same pleasing twenty-four minute comedy interpreted by four people of ability and in its new dress it won instant approval at the Olympic, Chicago, week of March 4, and is well booked up for the summer and coming season. Branen and Lloyd have written some new songs for the act, chief among which is a lullaby for Miss Pearl that bids fair to become a popular hit.

The Garden of Mixup, a comedy drama sketch with music, will be given its premiere shortly at the Orpheum Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., Jas. Hamilton, Ruby Queen, Beatrice Munroe and Jack Davonport appearing in the cast. The sketch is the conception of Jack Davonport, who has forsaken "burnt cork" for the "straight." The act will be billed as the Delberta Vaudevillians.

Among New York callers last week were Newton B. Gosard, Billboard representative at Allentown, Pa.; A. W. Cross, manager for Walker Whiteside; J. Aldrich Libbey and Thayer, musical comedy artists, and Miss Nellie Revell, monologist.

Virginia Hayden, the distinguished lady baritone, is touring the west in her repertoire of standard operas, making her second visit to the coast. She has an unusual number of expensive gowns and is creating quite a sensation.

BOSTON SEES PREMIERE ON BIG FUNNY SNOW MAN

Hattie Williams in Sixth Week to Capacity

Williams and Walker Welcomed in Abyssinia—Julius Steger Scores upon Initial Appearance in Hub City—Kapt Op ns Eden Musee—Wonderland Park Opens May 30th, Bigger and Better than ever—Notes from Posten Town.

A new musical play and a bright comedy are the novelties offered to Boston this week, the first being 'The Snow Man, given for the first time last Monday night at the Majestic, and the latter being Mr. Hopkinson, a snappy farce with Dallas Welford in the lead, at the Tremont.

The Snow Man is the joint work of Etanlaus Stange and Reginald DeKoven and is a sort of Peter Pan set to music. The orchestra at the Majestic has been greatly augmented and the company numbers 72 people, including Willie Edouin, Frank Deshon, Henry Vogel, Ida Hawley, Vera Michelena and Lesma Watson. Business has been excellent all the week and Boston has put her stamp of approval on this show.

Mr. Hopkinson, which was the laughing success of New York all last season, is proving to be a winner in Boston this week and the Tremont has been pretty well filled all week. Dallas Welford is a clever English comedian and has certainly made good in this piece.

William Gillette is here again with Clarice and he is packing the Hollis at every performance. Marie Doro who is still his leading lady is an accomplished little actress and her beauty is simply divine. She is making a hit equal to the star's. Two weeks only.

Hattie Williams is in her sixth week at the Park and is playing to more than capacity all the time. She has done record breaking business during this engagement and so has Frank Moulton, who is in his last week at the Colonial in 'The Grand Mogul'. Chauncey Olcott is pulling good crowds to the big Boston with Eileen Asthore and this, his last week, is proving to be his best.

A two weeks engagement at the Globe was begun by Williams and Walker, the biggest of all colored teams, and Abyssinia is the offering. It is almost impossible to get seats for this show and it would be good for two more.

That old standby, East Lynne, is being produced at the Castle Square this week with good results, and Kathleen Mcavourneer is the attraction at the Bowdoin Square. Business at these two stock houses is booming, and with John Craig's popular company out of the field for a time, the lovers of stogy are flocking to these houses.

There are plenty of novelties at the vaudiville houses this week and at the Orpheum Charles Mack and his company, with a sketch called Come Back to Erin, is the topper. This is an Irish comedy-drama that is all the go and it is making good. Others on the bill are Alf Ward and Ethel Hoak, in A Little of Everything; Hans Electric Cricket, the Four Melvins, Geo. W. Day, West and Van Stelen, Caron and Farming, MIT Wood, Adams and Mack, and others. Capacity.

The first appearance in Boston vaudiville of Julius Steger was registered this week at Keith's, where he is heading the bill in a musical-dramatic playlet, 'The Fifth Commandment', and the public has given him a hearty welcome. The sketch is very strong and Mr. Steger not only pleases with his singing but makes a fine impression with his acting. Another big act on the bill is 'The South Before the War', one of the largest "real com" acts ever presented. Others this week are the Moulter Sisters, acrobats; American Comedy Four; Ford and Swor, dancers; Hawley and Scott, conversationalists; Max Millan, violinist; Webb and Cannelly, musical comedians, and a host of others. Big business.

Burlesque has reached the top notch here this week and four of the best shows on the road are in town. At the Palace Sam Scribner's 'Shocking Stories' are filling the house, while Mack's World Burlesque are doing great stunts at the Lyceum. The Merry Melvins are getting the money at the Columbia and the Innocent Madmen are pecking the old Howard. The continuous vaudiville idea at the Howard and Palace is a most successful innovation and business is excellent.

A. T. Knapp opened his Eden Musee and Chamber of Horrors on Washington street last week and he reports excellent returns. Many of the figures in the lower hall are of local celebrities and most of the groups in the Chamber of Horrors depict crimes that have lately occurred in this section, all of which makes the exhibits most interesting. The Musee occupies four floors of a large building and is elaborately gotten up. An orchestra is always in evidence.

Boston's million dollar electrical city is undergoing a great transformation and when the Wonderland Park season opens on May 30 its patronage will receive many pleasant surprises. The new figure eight which the Coaster Construction Co., of Chicago, is building at a cost of over $15,000, is nearing completion and is said to be one of the finest and longest ever built.

It is rumored that M. H. Mark, who recently sold his very successful Theatre Comique and Theatre Frenche, is about to embark in an entirely new and novel amusement enterprise of the low priced variety.

Chauncey Olcott gave a professional matinee last Monday and it seemed as though all the actors and actresses in town were present. Such a magnificent display of new spring gowns the Globe will not play vaudiville next season, but will continue with combinations and that the Tremont will be the Klaw & Erlanger vaudiville house instead. As for the Orpheum it is not known by anyone who has the right to tell whether it will be used for stock, vaudiville or combinations.

"The lady of the panthers," a young woman whose identity is unknown, is doing an act with three wild mountain panthers at Austin & Stone's and she is making good in great shape. Another feature in the circus hall is Signor Carlo Balloni, the famous Italian sculptor, who is making his American debut at this house.

John Craig is having great success on his tour of the cities of New England and his company is enjoying the change to the road from the Bijou, where they have been so long. FRANK C. VOORHIES.

ENLARGING OHIO CIRCUIT.

Frank G. Nixon-Middinger, general manager of the Nixon & Zimmerman Enterprises, on March 19, closed a lease upon the Grand Opera House, Cantonville, Pa., for a period of years, commencing August 1. The house will be turned over to the Philadelphia firm, however, about the first of June, to undergo extensive alterations and repairs.

A monster benefit was given for Henry Clay Barnabee, the veteran comedian, at the Boston Theatre last Monday afternoon and a long list of talent appeared. Among the artists were The Apollo Club, Willie Edouin, Grammosy Gilcott and company, American Comedy Four, Electric Crickets, Mr. Hopkinson company, Leo Jundis, Hattie Williams and James Blackley, The Grand Mogul, Ford and Swor, The Snow Man, Frank Moulton, Williams and Walker, West and Van Stelen, Saffo in Black, Four Melvins, and Henry Clay Barnabee himself. The house was packed and a good round sum was realized.

The savants for the fifteenth performance of 'The Little Chorus' have arrived and are described as silver bodied dishes of a most elaborate design. March 25 is the date.

Last Saturday night the attendance at the Automobile Show numbered over 25,000, which is going some let me tell you. The gate receipts tallied over $100,000 while the estimated amount of sales for the week exceeds $1,250,000.

The vaudiville situation here in Boston is in a mix-up that no one seems able to straighten out satisfactorily and new rumors crop up each day. It is now just down as a fact that

THE BELLE

Of Mayfair Exhibits Fine Costumes

Other Shows of New York Reviewed Sartorially and Latest Fashions Described.

By CADY WHALEY.

THE English Impertinents in the way of musical comedy are becoming most attractive to New Yorkers, as The Belle of Mayfair, which has been crowding historic old Daly's since the first of December proves. The soft peal of the electric bell sign tells of the prettier bell of flowers within and a captivating prima donna bird as well. By this we mean fascinating little Christie Macdonald, and there is, too, a second flower like prima donna in the charming foot-light favorite, Irene Bentley. In fact, it is an all round clever cast that includes, besides these two stars, Van Houselder Wheeler, Jack Gardner, Hattie Clayton, Harry Hurcher, Ignacio Martindell, Jennie Tiple not forgetting beautiful Valaska Stratt and some of the handsomest girls and girls yet seen on "The Great White Way." This is the piece from which Edna May withdrew so precipitately when the London managers began exploiting Camille Clifford of the same company unduly as Miss May considered. The scenes are at Mayfair, London, and the story is a simple romance ending in a wedding at St. George's. The music, by Leslie Stewart, is unusually pretty, and the comedy is bright and refined. There is a dainty attractiveness about the whole production that is wholly new refreshing.

Christie Macdonald has greatly improved her singing voice by her study abroad under De-Roske, and she looks as sweet and dainty as a piece of Dresden china. She makes her entrance garbed in a dainty white chiffon over pink silk many tiny ruffles on the skirt and short sleeves, a square bertha effect of embroidered lace and an Empire grille of pink satin, pink satin slippers, pink stockings and a large white hat with one large pink rose under the front and long pink ribbon ties. In Act II, she appears in a bride's dress of white silver striped chiffon over white silk, lace ruffles on sleeves and skirt, a silver grille and long tulle veil falling over a very long lace court train; a wreath of white lilies crown the head and she carries a bridal bouquet of the valley lilies and white roses combined. Later the court train is discarded.

Hattie Clayton for her dancing specialties, was pretty in pale blue chiffon over blue silk, with white white lace insertion, inset on skirt and waist, blue slippers and stockings and a big blue bow in her hair, and in a slumber all pink dancing frock, Jennie Tiple, as Lady Chatterly, wore some dignified toilettes. The first was of light gray messaline, a Princess with deep panel front of white messaline, trimmings of silver passementerie, a small white toque with one long gray plume falling over the ear, held by a single white rose, long white gloves, a gray parasol, baguette and jeweled purse. In the second act she wore a striking costume of white chiffon with large hand painted design of pink roses built over black and white striped silk a panel of the white chiffon on the front, an Empire grille of white silk trimmed with rows of narrow black lace ending in the back with a velvet tow held by a large Rhinestone buckle, a black cigarette in the hair and she carried a large handsome natural ostrich feather fan. She fitted the costume with the requisite air of distinction.

None, however, made a better appearance than Irene Bentley, as the Princess. Her first costume was of lemon colored silk with trimmings of white chiffon lace and ball trimming, a big black picture hat with garniture of Paradise feathers, a silver band and one large pink rose. In Act II, she was gorgeous in silver spangled net over blue silk, a deep court train, bordered with pink roses, a long veil and blue cigarette.

There is a group of remarkably pretty show girls who wore some wonderful gowns. Those noted were a white chiffon over rose silk rows of satin on the skirt, a grille of the same a big hat in the rose color and a parasol in the same tone. Another was in black crepe de chine with black satin bands, a touch of red in the grille and a real picture hat with a trimming of red roses. This was a tan wide brimmed with brown satin, brown satin grille and cap effect a light tan hat with the crown encircled by a brown feather. Still another was in a black and white striped chiffon and worn with it was a large gray hat topped with gray plumes. Then there was a pretty blue gown with diaphanous mesh in the trimmings and a blue picture hat, and still another in a pretty lavender costume. Miss Stratt, who of noted beauty, wore a spangled net Princess in a russet shade with a Louis XV. coat effect of lace the same shade and Empire grille of black velvet with large gold buckle in front, a chiffon parasol and a black feather trimmed Heurandt hat.

But the Gibson girls are the pieces de resistance. For the Gibson song Miss Stratt wore a plain black velvet Princess, a V front and back, cape sleeves strapped with the velvet. She made nothing more than this exquisite fitted gown that reveals a perfect figure and shows off the beauty of feature and her wavy drawn Tiltan hair. The other eight debutantes who sing "Why Do They Call Me a Gibson Girl?" while they walk around the stage with the Gibson bend in their backs look the type of perfection. One wore a pink velvet Princess with touches of white lace, another, a gold spangled net, one a lavender and black costume, another white and silver, still another a blue silk with lace medallions, one a lemon satin Princess, one a white soft silk with pink and blue silk in the bodice, and lastly, a pretty effect was that of white chiffon built over green silk. These pretty costumes are by The John Wannamaker Company. The clever work of the men in the cast deserves the high praise, as do the songs, "In My Mayfair"

MARION GETTING EUROPEAN IDEAS.

George Marlin, general stage manager for Henry W. Savage, and who sailed from New York last week, will meet the impresario in Vienna on April 2 and witness a performance of 'Le Laidage White', the musical success that has been running nearly two years in that city and which he is to produce for Mr. Savage in this country next season. From Vienna Mr. Marlin goes to Munich, Brussels, Dresden and Berlin, to inspect the German opera productions and assimilate ideas for staging Mr. Savage's English Grand Opera repertoire next season.

COLUMBIA PEOPLE TO BUILD THEATRES.

The Columbia Amusement Co. has planned to build theatres in all the cities where they formerly had houses and were deserted. They have secured ample financial aid to construct burlesque houses in Montreal, Toronto, Jersey City, Troy, Albany and Paterson.

Their house in Paterson will be known as the Jersey, is centrally located and will seat, when completed, 1,150 people.

THE WHITE HEN AND THE DONKEY

About the week of The White Hen the new season attraction at the Casino, lacks is nearly unaccounted for to the excellent score and the success of Louis Mann, Louise Gunning, Robert Michaels, Lotta Faust and R. C. Hertz. The White Hen has in no way the significance of an act of which Hensch Blinder (Louis Mann) is the proprietor. The scenes are laid in the Austrian Tyrol. In his anxiety to get married Blinder visits the offices of a marriage broker and contracts for a wife. Then his troubles begin. Leaving there he gets into another legal entanglement by way of an automobile accident. In the meantime the wedding is consummated. The bride he has contracted for and the secretary of his lawyer with whom he has in reality fallen in love dress alike in bridal robes, and when he has married the last named he gets puzzled and is made to believe he is a legerist. His confusion, awkwardness and like-headedness, as in humorous German dialect, is extremely comical. The rickling of the whole matter is the sum total of the plot. Mr. Mann makes good without slinging a note though he has not as clever a character part as his talented wife, Clara Lipman, gave him in Julie Bon Bon. Robert Michaels, a newcomer to the opera field, is good looking, is the possessor of a fine stage presence and, best of all, he has a baritone voice of rich quality and he does what is rare in musical comedy, he sings musically. The song "Betwixt" was charmingly rendered.

Louise Gunning, since her last Broadway appearance, has vastly improved and shows the results of some good voice training. Printsomely a very difficult number with runs and trills of grand opera prima donna style, she conquers with easy grace and good tone quality. That's why the "Dante is Blue," in which she had the able assistance of a very competent donkey, quite caught the fancy of the house. The donkey has the self-poise of an old professional. Miss Gunning was neat and prettily costumed. Her first dress was a white wool bodied, at the bottom of the short skirt by black velvet ribbon set on in broken triple rows, the skirt was skirted to the waist portion, above was a stimulated tapers of the velvet ending in the back in tails while on the front were ties of pink silk and here and there limestone ornaments. The picture hat of white mullin had a wreath of pink roses and a bow at the back of the black velvet. She wore pink slippers and stockings, carried a parasol and long white gloves completed the dainty costume. Her second dress was a green velvet, a two-piece dress embroidered in white soutache and a lace veil worn with it was a green velvet hat with trimming of shaded green plumes, a gold band and gray netting underneath, a moif and collar of light blue tulle. And again, a cream colored chiffon with many narrow lace edged ruffles headed by loops of pink ribbon and a girde of pink with wash-like ends, and she wore her hair in two long trestled braids. As brides she and Lotta Faust were similar costumes of white satin with clusters of rather lilies heading the plait at the bottom of the skirt, long white very lacy veils and bouquets of the lilies and lilies roses.

Miss Faust's other costumes were first, as the secretary, a plain Princess of rose colored cloth buttoned up the back with black buttons, a turn over collar and black bow tie. Quite an original touch was the wearing of coral beads in the hair, which, with the dark hair carried out the color scheme perfectly. Other than the bride's costume she wore a clever get up, a Tyrol dress consisting of white wool short skirt headed with black velvet, a velvet bodice, a small light blue apron, a red cap with long black strings, black slippers and red stockings. This when she sang the "Smile Song" with Louis Mann, in which both do some clever dancing.

Carrie E. Perkins wore in Act II a plain black satin Princess with deep lace cuffs, the waist encircled by a gold chain bearing a gold pomme, and a white satin Princess elaborately embroidered in a grape pattern, a poke hat trimmed with cream roses and uncurled ostrich plumes, and she carried a white parasol. The show girls were elegantly costumed. In the first act half of them wore Empire gowns of gray velvet with a deep bertha of spangled blue and gray velvet. The picture hats were trimmed with a shower of shaded green and gold plumes falling from the crown. The other half wore gowns in the same Empire design in bright green velvet with a bertha of spangled net and a hat of green velvet with shaded plumes in the two tones. The chorus girls were in pink short dresses, silver girde, big pink muffs and picture hats. Others were in Dutch garb consisting of white silk skirts, blue underdress, red belt and red collar. Still others in burnt orange with black flowers, big white muffs and black velvet hats worn over white Dutch caps. These were quite the prettiest design seen in a long time. Some of the girls wore dresses in flowered silk over striped silk under-dresses, red waists and small shawls draped over the shoulders and Dutch caps of a slightly different pattern. Of course there were those Amsterdam boys to go with them. The fortunate donkey was quite content to wear a wreath of red blossoms around his neck and a bunch of the red flowers tied above his right ear. How would you like to be the donkey?

MISS SHANNON'S LATEST COSTUMES

We are having another Shaw epidemic, the latest being Wilder's Horses, which was produced by the Shuberts in the Herald Square Theatre the afternoon of March 7. It is the first drama that George Bernard Shaw wrote and established him as a playwright in London. This was in 1892 and, strangely enough, the title is "Sainted Money." Dr. French (Henry Kolker) is engaged to marry Blanche Sartorius (Miss Shannon), the daughter of the wealthiest of I slim tenement houses in London. He, learning of the hateful source of the Sartorius millions, refuses to accept her dowry; a quarrel ensues, in which Blanche shows a highly developed temper. Later French learns that his own income is derived from the interest on mortgages placed on property of a like character. The play closes with Blanche pretending to be angry with French; she cajoles him into a reconciliation and marriage in a Bernard Shaw theory. One of the cleverest bits of acting is that of Ferdinand Gottschalk as Lektorske. In make-up, speech and action is a great characterization. William Hawley, the Mr. Sartorius

CHAS. R. MATTHEWS.

Charles R. Matthews, manager of the Academy of Music, Charleston, S. C., is one of the most popular theatrical managers in the south. He is a Charlestonian and began his career in the theatrical business as program boy at the Academy of Music, became an usher, was promoted to the position of secretary and treasurer and finally to his present position as manager. He is of a genial disposition, a good mixer and readily makes and retains friends. He has a charming wife and two bright children.

plus, is always delightful. Indeed, it's a brilliant cast, including, besides those mentioned, Herbert Kellogg, Henry Kolker, Frank Davis, Harold Williams and Adelyn Wesley.

Miss Shannon dresses the part in her accustomed exquisite taste. The first dress was a white linen suit made with plaited skirt and tuxedo coat with plain linen cuffs and collar, a white linen blouse with ruffled front and lace jabot; her hat was a pink chip with pink veils on the front and side and ribbon and maline underneath, white shoes and a pink parasol. Her second dress was a dark dress with there were an elaborate dinner dress of rose pink chiffon cloth, a wide band of tulle lace encircling the skirt and running up the sides in squares. It was a two-piece dress with silk girde in the soft tone, ruffled lace sleeves and yoke of lace, the waist cut out under the arms and forming a cape effect on the shoulders. "Shaw" of silk were dotted here and there with gold ornaments. For the third and last act she wore a daintily elaborate house gown of all over lace built over white silk curtains with white chiffon. The fronts falling back, showed the fluffy chiffon; the sleeves were the becoming kimono shape. The only other woman in the cast is Adelyn Wesley, who plays a maid's part very well in the regulation French maid get-up—a short black dress, small white apron and white cap.

Shaw had not cultivated the art of playwriting to the heights that he afterward attained, as is evident in the construction and movement of the plot, but much of the apt repartee, wit, sarcasm and scolding is here to be found. And all the cleverness of which the drama is capable was brought to the surface by the excellent players in this charming company. If we had more of the mental vitality of this dramatic and actors of like caliber we should certainly all become less critical and be made happier by such good entertainment.

SEEN IN THE TATTOOED MAN.

The Tattooed Man, the musical comedy with which C. B. Dillingham has provided his star, Frank Daniels, this season, was reviewed in these columns at the time of its premiere in Baltimore, last month. While one would wish for a more interesting libretto, Frank Daniels' comedy always delights his audiences. To see and to have a good laugh at Daniels is what they go for, and he never fails to deliver to them an inimitable amount of humor in his own peculiar and individual manner. The curtain

EDDIE FOY SCORES HIT IN NEW PLAY IN PHILLY

Happenings of the Week in that City

New Policy Instituted at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre, where Reserved Seats will Now be Sold—Philadelphia Hattery Changes Hands—Lubin Makes Hit with Thaw-White Pictures—Premiere of New Coban Piece this Week

ETHER the people of Philadelphia are forgetting their Lenten promises or many more people than usual are getting "show hungry," for without doubt this is the best year for theatrical business that Philadelphia has ever had at this time of the season. Every theatre in town is doing an enormous business and there seems to be no let up. Our managers are not even dreading "dry week" for there is quite a sale at some of our houses for that week already. After Easter if the weather is not too warm, the theatres should be packed to the doors every night.

Starting off with His Honor the Mayor, which is now in its fourth week at the Walnut, there is much to be cheering reports from every house in favor. His Honor the Mayor has certainly captured our people for the house is sold out every night and turn-aways are frequent. When people want to see a show you can not keep them away and that is the case here. The chances are that it will linger at the Walnut until time to close the house.

Eddie Foy, in The Orphan opened at the Lyric on March 19 and the show pleased. There is an excellent company back of the star, the music is tuneful, the costumes pretty and the result is that business is big. It is to go on Broadway for a summer run. Grace George is in her second week with Clothes and she has had prosperity galore. The Hypocrites is closing a two weeks' engagement that has been a big winner. Lawrence P. O'Shea opened in a new comedy, Lord Doncaster and made a hit. Little Johnny Jones is in its second week at the Park and has made money, and The Vanderbilt Cup is packing them in at the Grand Opera House. The other regular price houses are all doing well and the burlesque houses are making money for their managers, and the combinations playing here.

Keith's Theatre still continues to pack them in at every performance and no wonder, for the bills offered are the best ever shown in van-ville. As yet no announcement has been made of the future policy of the Chestnut Street Theatre. Somebody, however, is paying an enormous weekly rental for the purpose of keeping a theatre closed that could be doing a world of business in this era of prosperity.

NETTIE BLACK.

The well-known comedienne who appeared opposite Eddie Foy in The Earl and the Girl.

Garrick Theatres is having plans prepared for the erection of a Convention Hall at 23rd and Chestnut streets. He has asked the moral support of the Trades League and other commercial bodies. He claims to have all the money necessary to carry on the work. Philadelphia has needed a large hall for years and it would prove a profitable investment. Mr. Howe is getting a lot of praise for his enterprise in starting this building after numerous others had tried it and failed.

J. Fred Zimmerman, Jr., and wife, have sailed for Europe. Mr. Zimmerman makes a hurried trip to secure the American rights to an English success which will tour this country next season.

When Robert Mantell plays his engagement here next month the repertoire for the week is to be elected by popular vote. Wm. A. Brady, his manager, is already sounding the public as to the plays they want to see.

W. D. Wegfarth, business manager of the Grand Opera House, has written a song, entitled "Love Like Ours Will Last Forever," and it is having a large sale.

Grace George put on a special matinee of Divorcés this week. She is going to put on high-class plays one day a week the rest of this season so as to have a repertoire for next year.

Willow Grove Park, one of the handsomest in the country, will open on May 25. From then until June 14 Hanses and the New York Symphony Orchestra will play. Following that Arthur Pryor's Band, Victor Herbert's Orchestra and Sousa and his Band will play at this resort the coming summer. This is one of the highest salaried line of bands ever employed for a park.

Walter G. Wroe, who runs a stage dancing school here, had fifteen of his most promising pupils on the bill at Keith's this week. They made a hit.

The Thaw-White motion pictures gotten up by S. Lubin, have made a great hit. The films can not be turned out fast enough to supply the demand and every manager who gets hold of them sees his business jump fifty per cent.

The Boston Symphony Concert on March 18, was a big success. One of Strauss' symphonies took fifty-four minutes and none were allowed to be ushered into their seats until this was over.

The new Coban oddity, Fifty Miles From Boston, is to be given a production at the Broad Street Theatre on Easter Monday. It has been named a day since the Broad had a musical comedy, but the closing of the Chestnut made a shift in the dates of all attractions.

It keeps the managers of our four burlesque houses scratching their heads devising novelties for amateur nights. Each house gives one of these events each week.

George Gill, the well-known showman, did a lot of very effective work in advance of The Vanderbilt Cup. George has a dozen offers to manage parks this summer, and will accept one of them in a few days.

Ed Melloy has purchased the well-known theatrical hostelry, Carter's Hotel, at the south-east corner of Ninth and Walnut streets and has renamed it Melloy's Hotel. He is making alterations and improvements and will cater especially to theatrical folk.

The first production of The Orphan was postponed from March 18 to Tuesday, March 19, to permit of a complete full dress rehearsal. The Shuberts have a hit in this place and it will undoubtedly remain in New York City all summer.

A radical change will be made at Keith's Chestnut Street Theatre beginning April 1, for on and after that date all seats with the exception of the gallery will be reserved and seats will be sold two weeks in advance. There will be no increase in prices. This house has always been conducted on the principle that early comers should get the choice seats, but so many people have been turned away every day that it was decided to sell reserved seats. The departure is looked upon with favor by the "regulars" at this house. Business has not fallen off a particle at this house because of Lent.

One of the most novel and attractive advertisements ever gotten up for any show was devised by the advertising agent of The Orphan, which is playing at the Lyric. He reared two store windows on our principal shopping thoroughfare and put in two handsome garden scenes. On trellis work beautiful orchids of every color and style were twined and the whole thing was so artistic that it attracted universal attention and brought admiration.

Billboard Ads

DAYTON, OHIO, March 9, 1907.

EDITOR THE BILLBOARD,

Dear Sir: I would have been glad to have an ad for our Parks and Resorts in the Spring Special, but the fact about the matter is this: We had a half page ad in the issue of March 2, and I won't be able to answer all the answers for a month. The ad we had gave us the desired results. This Company has more than twenty Summer Parks and Resorts.

Yours truly,

B. H. NYE,

General Excursion and Park Agent.

NOT A ripple has disturbed the peace and prosperity that reign over the theatrical situation in the big town. Everything that is offered seems to spell success. Even old guessers in the game are at a loss to account for these unusually favorable conditions.

In all probability the answer to the question is to be found in the fitness of "Little Old New York."

R. H. McCullough, press agent for Lohder & Co., has given the subject some thought and expressed the belief to the writer that the immense theatrical population of New York accounted for the present theatrical prosperity in this neck o' woods.

"We have in New York City proper, about sixty-five houses devoted to the various classes of theatrical attractions. These sixty-five houses supply entertainment to nearly 4,000,000 people."

"You may think that is a high estimate of our theatergoing population, but when you consider that people living one hundred miles from New York habitually attend our houses, not to mention the 100,000 to 150,000 transients, the estimate will not seem so high to you."

A glance at the map and a little figuring convinced us that Mr. McCullough's statement would get by, even with a fifty mile limit, which would take in the best part of Jersey, a good slice of the Nutmeg State, and then some.

"Now let us divide that 4,000,000 by sixty-five theatres."

"That figure," said Mr. McCullough, "represents an equal division of the population between the New York houses. I believe the estimate is conservative and fully explains why a fairly meritorious production can run a hundred nights in New York without much trouble."

Yet, with all this evidence to show that the amusement promoters have not equalled the demand, there seems to be more chances to lose than to make money in the theatrical business. There is still an element of chance and its lucky ones who pick winners.

WHY VAUDEVILLE IS FAVORED.

While not exactly a mystery it is still cause of comment that the firm of Klaw & Erlanger should suddenly throw their influence so strongly in favor of vaudeville. In numberless interviews, Mr. Erlanger, the vaudeville end of the firm, has said that he has long had the subject under consideration and was only waiting for a favorable opportunity. When that opportunity came he "grabbed it quick" and, from the plans now formulated, no room for doubt of his earnestness is left.

The question is frequently asked: Why should Klaw & Erlanger, so successful in the production of legitimate attractions, plunge so deeply into vaudeville?

Mr. Erlanger has said that he wanted some of the easy vaudeville money that was floating around, also, that he could put on vaudeville at a comparatively nominal expense and risk to that which he had to assume for a regular production, all of which is true.

Another reason, and one that producing managers are not talking a great deal about, is that there is a dearth of paying productions and consequently too much open time on the "one-night" and "rep." house circuits. There are not enough road shows to go around. House managers and owners are complaining and there is danger of the system collapsing if more business is not forthcoming.

How easy it will be to send a vaudeville combination over the circuit. And will it not be more satisfactory to patrons?

It will afford variety of entertainment, for many towns that do not support even third rate vaudeville now, can have a first-class vaudeville show every once in a while.

It is with this end in view that Klaw & Erlanger are securing a line of sketches, a little more pretentious than the average vaudeville act, and are planning to give, in other ways an entertainment that will be just different from commonplace vaudeville.

Watch their smoke.

A. K. & P. 56th STREET PROGRAM.

If the amusement lover imagines that only on Broadway can be found the good things in vaudeville a visit to Keith & Proctor's 56th street house will help some to destroy the illusion.

Especially good was the bill last week both in variety and character. It was Beniamin's Fables, a particularly interesting animal act; Fitzgerald and Quinn, hand-poking comedians of more than usual merit; George Felix and Lydia Barry with Emily Barry in a farce, The Boy Next Door. Felix was the whole show.

Gemmaro and his Venetian Gondolier Band were a real surprise. With a special setting the opening is made quite different from that usually employed by bands. A Venetian canal scene is shown and a party of musicians in a gondola pass. As the strains of their song die in the distance the scene brightens and the music of the band swells up from the wings. Then the band marches out in full swing, each musician to his respective place in a semi-circle around the stage. Their uniforms are green jackets and knee breeches, red sashes, black stockings and red, fur-trimmed "homes."

Entre Gemmaro: He is of medium height, stout, very curly, light brown hair, a little sparse; red face and snapping eyes; wears close fitting blue military coat, white flannel trousers, sprangly trimmed with gold braid. He is a into action. A wave of the fatten and the clarinet warble their melodious tones, a jab and the trombone puts on the loud pedal; another jab with a quick yank pulls a thundering note from the big tuba with a threatening rumble from the drums. Then follows a succession of jabs, yanks and flourishes, with eyes flashing and curly locks shaking as that band tears off the music in great chunks in a regular whirlwind of harmonious sound.

Before the band got well into the home stretch the applause began. It was a real triumph for Gemmaro and he had difficulty in closing his act.

John E. Luce and Company appeared in an original sketch by Theo. Luce that was beautifully applauded.

The Big City Quartette was a comedy musical act that was appreciated and the Five Salvagies, French dancers, were well received.

fidelity figures and leads to her being depressed as the "ruler of the roost" by the husband, who is obliged to denounce her to reestablish his authority.

Regarding the performance of Monday night, the Tribune observes: "No actor of experience could fail to give a respectable performance of Papa Lohmann. Signor Novelli showed himself to be an experienced and present actor—an actor who can lingers into, and, in so doing, can so far conceal his art as measurably—for in this he is by no means superlative—to cause the effect of nature in development of character and of the interplay of mind with feeling. He had been heralded as an actor of extraordinary powers and vast and varied accomplishments; he may possess these uncommon merits, and it is hoped he does; he did not reveal them on this occasion. . . . The performance, however, pleased a large audience, chiefly composed

VICTOR D. LEVITT.

The well and widely known park manager who will have the general directorship of Happyland, Staten Island, N. Y., this season. From all appearances, if preparations count for anything, this will be the most successful season that Happyland has ever enjoyed. Mr. Levitt will also be interested in other park propositions, such as airship excursions and similar attractions.

Keller and Paul presented in Morocco, introducing Princess Lalia, Moorish dance, a troupe of Moorish acrobats headed by F. L. Paul and a zowie drill with a well-sealing finale which Capt. Keller has made famous in almost every part of the world. This act is one that holds interest from the beginning. The acrobatic work was excellent and Princess Lalia's dancing, with costumes, was a decided novelty.

Another picture: Hand of An Artist, and The Trump Dog, closed the bill.

NOVELLI.

After delighting large audiences in Boston for a brief engagement, Emete Novelli moved over to New York and set up at the Lyric Monday March 18, for a two-weeks' stay. Last week's repertoire was: Monday, Papa Lohmann; Tuesday, King Lear; Wednesday, Shylock; Thursday, Louis XI; Friday, La Morte Civile; Saturday matinee, Shylock, evening, 11 Barbers Barberia.

The cast of Papa Lohmann was: Emete Novelli Sofia, his wife; O. Giannini, O. Giannini's daughter; L. Rossi, Robert, their child; A. Betrone, Doctor Andrea; F. Bernini, The Marquis; G. Dal-Corlevo, Blanche, his daughter; E. Sanfeli, Martin, an old servant; O. Galassi.

The play reveals a sort of household tragedy of a rather sordid kind in which a wife's in-

of the actor's countrymen, and he was repeatedly called before the curtain and loudly applauded.

The Herald ventures this: "Mr. Novelli's facial expression, with its rapid changes, his gestures, with their great and minute variety; his intonation corresponding with remarkable plasticity to the significance of every phrase, made almost everything he said clear even to those to whom the language was strange."

"There is one very curious departure in Mr. Novelli's method from what Italian actors of the naturalistic school have accustomed us to. He acts a great deal at his audience—takes his hearers across the footlights into his confidence, as it were, instead of facing the character in the play to whom the speech is supposed to be addressed."

This Sunburst of generosity is unusual: "As Novelli portrays the character it rises to the verge of pure and lofty art. No accent of uninterested roughness is spared, either in speech or in deportment. The stammering carriage, the lumbering walk, the stumbling trot in moments of excitement, are all there to the life."

"The strong face of the actor kindles with a warm and soft simplicity. His piercing black eye is satisfied to mellow tenderness. Crisp, genuine wisdom and fun suffuses the motions of his mind. Every third line is an argument to heartfelt laughter. This is a great old dear, as ripe and sage of heart as he is clear and strong of intellect. Wisdom, humor and love are the keystones of this rough man of the people."

The Evening Mail said: "Novelli has demonstrated to New Yorkers that he is an actor of the first caliber. He has the finesse of acting and also proficiency in laying on the broader effects of melodrama. Without apparently exhausting himself in the slightest degree, he can whip himself into a passion or sink into the quieter and tender expressions of feeling."

ETHEL BARRYMORE'S NEW PLAY

At the Empire Theatre Monday 18th, Ethel Barrymore appeared in a play by John Galsworthy, called The Silver Box. It deals with the problem of the unemployed and this was its first time in America. The cast was:

- John Barthwick . . . Mr. Eugene Jesson
- Mrs. Barthwick . . . Miss Hatlie Russell
- Jack Barthwick . . . Mr. Harry Redding
- Roper . . . Mr. William Sampson
- Mrs. Jones . . . Miss Ethel Barrymore
- Marlow . . . Mr. William Evans
- Whoelet . . . Miss Aulia Bothe
- John . . . Mr. Bruce McKean
- Mrs. Seldon . . . Miss Fanny L. Bart
- Shaw . . . Mr. James Kearney
- Jullian Holden . . . Mr. Forrest Robinson
- An Unknown Lady . . . Mrs. Mary Nash
- A Little Girl . . . Miss Dorothy Scherer
- Another Little Girl . . . Miss Helen Mooney
- Livens . . . Mr. Sullene Powell
- Clark of Court . . . Mr. Louis Egan
- Relieving Officer . . . Mr. M. H. Bell
- Swearing Clerk . . . Mr. John Mill
- Unstable . . . Mr. Harry Barker

The Herald thought that the star was out of place in her role and said that the audience would have preferred her in frocks and frills.

The Sun offers this tribute: "Miss Barrymore played the part of the unfortunate charwoman very easily, quietly and sympathetically. There were no heights or depths, her performance followed one neutral line, which was all that was required of it. One felt always the charm of the young actress' personality and deplored the necessity that forced her to sacrifice every grace of nature to a black calico dress and grimy apron that must surely have been plucked from active charing. The warmth of the welcome that greeted her must have been gratifying even to one who has long since become accustomed to enthusiastic audiences."

The Tribune commended the work of the star in this wise: "Miss Barrymore, presenting Mrs. Jones, stimulated want and was with a measure of shrewdly that was somewhat a surprise. With more maturity, and the depth of feeling that time and experience might develop in the actress, this performance would rise to excellence. It is exceedingly creditable."

THE HOLY CITY

Thomas W. Brown's play The Holy City, was presented for the first time in New York at Lincoln Square Theatre Monday 18th, with the cast:

- Barabbas . . . Mr. Theodore Frieles
- (By permission of Henry Miller)
- Peter . . . Mr. T. W. Hamilton
- John . . . Mr. John McMurtrie
- Judas . . . Mr. Richard Sherman
- Lazarus . . . Mr. A. W. Glass
- Zacharias . . . Mr. Clinton Lloyd
- Caiaphas . . . Mr. J. H. Greene
- Helakuk . . . Mr. Raphael Newman
- Melah . . . Mr. Graham Elliott
- Plato . . . Mr. William Morris
- Calphel . . . Mr. Frederick Wright
- Marcus . . . Mr. Carl Anthony
- Silens . . . Mr. Claude Brocke
- Mary Magdalen . . . Miss Jane Whentley
- Martin . . . Miss Miriam Hurdles
- Miriam . . . Miss Anna Wheaton
- Flora . . . Miss Irene Moore
- Selone . . . Miss Cecil Kern
- Rebecca . . . Miss Helen Hollis

The play is based on the biblical description of events at the time of the crucifixion. Mary Magdalen is one of the central figures of the production, the first scene being laid in her home, and indicating the depths to which she had fallen. This part was played well by Miss Jane Whentley. Another strong part was that of Mr. Richard Sherman, in the role of Judas, the betrayer.

The third scene, devoted to the judgment before Pilate, was the best. In it Mr. William Morris, as Pilate; Mr. J. H. Greene, as Caiaphas, the High Priest and Mr. Theodore Frieles, as Barabbas, as well as Judas and Mary, were the central figures. The theatre was well filled with an audience that applauded liberally.

MANSFIELD'S SCARLET LETTER

Richard Mansfield presented The Scarlet Letter at the New Amsterdam Theatre Monday, 18th, to a large audience, maintaining his high standard in the role of Arthur Dimmesdale. This was the cast:

- Governor Hellingham . . . Mr. Frank Kingdon
- Rex John Willson . . . Mr. Walter Howe
- Roger Chillingworth . . . Mr. Arthur Forrest
- Rev. Arthur Dimmesdale . . . Richard Mansfield
- Captain Hiram Weeks . . . Mr. Richard Mansfield
- Mrs. Prynne . . . Mrs. Marie Anderson
- Master Brickett, Jailer . . . Mr. Henry Wenman
- Doctor Prynne . . . Miss Adelaide Nowak
- Dame Bartley . . . Miss Sylvia Bernard
- Misses Barlow . . . Miss Anna Hathaway
- Mary Willis . . . Miss Irene Crahan
- Little Pearl . . . Miss Ory Diamond

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS

BY

WARREN A. PATRICK

Suite 61, Grand Opera House Bldg.
87 S. Clark St.

THERE is little new in the matter of productions in Chicago this week but an awful lot to talk about. In the loop district the one new play is Jimmy Powers in The Blue Moon at the Grand, the same having been seen at the Garrick earlier in the season, and caperings of the said Jimmy being funny to a degree. But the fact that there are two or three of the most popular plays of the year in Chicago theatres at the present time has caused a demand for seats which has again brought up the perennial question of ticket scalping. The managers tell the public that the scalpers (God dem their pesky hides) can only be done away with by the brokers refusing to patronize them, while the brokers with the best seats at the best theatres always on sale at a premium go on their way serenely, disposing of their holdings nightly at a profit which must help some. Thus the poor playing public is between the frying pan and the fire. It is told that it is to blame for the very conditions which force it to either cough up an extra four bits for every ticket to the big attractions or be content with a "see-ing only" seat. A curious instance of the vagaries of this practice cropped up a week or so ago during the first few days of the run of The Music Master at the Garrick. Although for three years this piece had been playing to sold out houses in the east, the first half dozen performances in Chicago saw from 100 to 200 empty seats in the theatre. The alleged reason for this state of affairs was that the public had been scared away by the talk about speculators and believed that all the good seats were either sold or being sold at exorbitant prices. The management of the Garrick claims that it lost several thousand dollars through this scare. Ticket scalping is a subject which will remain a mooted question as long as actors are paid to act and people will pay to be amused in the theatre. The scalpers and others interested will insist that the price of theatre tickets should be governed by the law of demand, while the public believes that when a play is in the box office announces that the best seats in the house can be purchased for $2 these seats should be sold for $2 and not for $2.50 or $3. As to the question of collusion between managers and scalpers the writer refuses to rush in and risk entanglement. There is much talk just at present, such as, "I will give $100 to any one who will prove so and so, etc." and it is safe to say that the only ones who do know the exact state of affairs are going to keep their mouths shut in either event. Thus the ticket scalping episode seems mainly of value to newspaper scribes and such like, in that it furnishes them with the means to fill their columns.

THE HOLDOVERS POPULAR

The fact that there is only one new production in Chicago this week does not mean that there is any lack of good entertainment at the theatres. On the contrary, the Chicago playhouses are sheltering a number of excellent productions. At the Colonial The Spring Chick is finishing out a three months' run which has been practically to capacity throughout. The Music Master, which is still at the Garrick, is proving a wonderful hit, and is rivaled by the attraction at the Illinois, Peter Pan, which never fails to be witnessed by big houses. May Irwin at the Powers is proving again to Chicago audiences that she is the original laugh genius, while Thomas Ross, of Cheekers fame, at the Studebaker, is scoring in the Thomas play, The Other Girl. Chas. Klein's play, The Daughters of Men, which is on view at McVicker's, is also doing well, as it is a strong and true piece of dramatic work presented in an artistic manner by a capable company of players. The Time, the Place and the Girl, at the LaSalle, runs merrily along in spite of the fact that it is nearing its fifth performance and has broken all records for Chicago runs.

D'ARVILLE WELCOMED BACK

Camille D'Arville, who has not been seen in Chicago for several years, was welcomed back last week when the sudden illness of Miss Mary Manning compelled the substitution of The Belle of London Town for Glorious Hetsy at the Grand. Miss D'Arville retains much of her art and was heartily received, as the following excerpts show:

Camille D'Arville is a very likeable entertainer, for her manner is hearty and she always is in evident good spirits. She more nearly matches Mme. Schumann-Heink than any other of the singing players. She is brave and athletic and healthy, and she has what the stage very greatly needs, personality.—O. L. Hall, in The Journal.

The value of an experienced and thoroughly capable actress, of pleasing personality, is being demonstrated at the Grand Opera House this week. There you may hear Camille D'Arville in a Stange Edwards comic opera, The Belle of London Town.—Forrest Arden, in The Examiner.

In The Belle of London Town, Miss D'Arville struck the vocal high spots with serenity and ease, and breezed along the histrionic elevations with similar tranquillity. The numerous audience, therefore, had no difficulty in being happy most of the time. —Percy Hammond, in The Post.

WIN SUNDAY FIGHT

The Chicago theatres have at last secured a decision in the Sunday closing controversy which seems to be sweeping enough to assure them for all time to come that they will be allowed to give Sunday performances. This decision was given a little over a week ago by Judge Clifford of the Circuit Court, and affirms that the Sunday closing law of Illinois does not apply to playhouses. The decision was given after the judge had listened to arguments by Attorneys Herman Frank and L. D. Condee, representing the Garrick and McVicker's Theatres. It is believed by the local managers that this decision will settle for all time the Sunday closing question in Chicago.

THE TROCADERO'S PLANS

There are few theatres in Chicago which have a more loyal following and do more to satisfy their patrons than the Trocadero, the little State Street burlesque house, which, under the management of I. M. Weingarden, is enjoying indisputable popularity this season. The house has just been redecorated on the inside and a color scheme of cream, red and green, with trimmings of gold has added greatly to the appearance of the theatre. Manager Weingarden is now busy planning for his summer season, and he has already engaged a stock company to present burlesque productions at the house during the summer months. At the head of this company will be Nat and Sol Fields, well known in Chicago, as they have been connected with several local burlesque

HARRY ASKIN AGAIN

Harry Askin allows but a small quantity of clover to sprout under his pedal extremities. Not satisfied with the phenomenal success he is having with The Empire, The Time, the Place and the Girl and Swell Elegant Jones, he has made arrangements for next season to star Joseph Howard and Mabel Harrison in a new musical comedy by Howard, entitled The Flower of the Lanch. This versatile duo recently gave up their road production of The District Leader to assume the leading roles in Land of Nod, now appearing at a Broadway house. Howard is one of the best writers of light and tuneful music in the country, while Miss Harrison is credited with being one of the most clever musical comedy juveniles in the business. The combination is good.

WAR CORRESPONDENT TO WRITE

The next musical comedy to be put on at the Whitney Opera House after A Knight which always reveals a true story on the stage. Gerald Griffin, as the old negro doortender, and E. J. Connelley, in the title role, reaped the greenest laurels, although the entire cast was heartily received.

THE IRREPRESSIBLE TANGUAY.

Eva Tanguay, who during her exciting career has been on various occasions announced as the electric kitten, the hoydenish beauty, the effervescent sprite, etc., was at the Majestic last week, and she was heralded as the darling of the troops, a term which is inevitably appropriate. The Tanguay was made for song and dance. It is her element and she positively revels in it. One can imagine the Tanguay heaven as a big open stage with plenty of room to dance and a wealth of the very latest thing in costumes. Eva still wears her hair in a tangled mop over her eyes and still dances herself into a state of breathlessness, responding to innumerable encores. That she is one of the most popular sopranos on the American stage was demonstrated last week by the fervor and enthusiasm with which all audiences cheered her to the echo.

The quartette were well received and sang pleasingly while Musical Kismet offered his musical novelty which he has been presenting with success for years. The Four Piccolo Midgits, a quartet of indigestible bits of humanity, sang, danced and did acrobatic stunts in a manner which would put many full sized performers to shame.

HOWISON HAS GOOD ACT

Chas. Howison, although first on the bill deserved a place farther down, as his bird warbling act is decidedly clever. He gets away from the common whistling act in a clever manner and his bird warbling is little short of remarkable. A good whistling act is a rare thing on the vaudeville stage, hence that of Mr. Howison deserves high praise. His rendition of Beanie is great.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Powers, in a comedy skit entitled The Players, furnished good comedy and general amusement. Miss Mabel McKhuley, author of Anona and other popular two-acts, sang a number of selections, including her own compositions. She has a good singing voice and was justly popular. Mlle. Daria and dancer presented their Russian dances in a pleasing manner. Mueller and Mueller, two young men with good voices, in a singing act; Barry and Wolford in a comedy act, and Elliott, Belair and Elliott in comedy acrobatics, completed the Majestic bill.

This week Anna Eva Fay is playing a farewell week. Sherman and De Forest, with their Jay Circus, Finney's Water Queens and Hallen and Fuller are the headliners at the Monroe street house.

ORPHEUM SHOW AT OLYMPIC

The Orpheum Show, with Ned Wayburn's Rain-Dears, as the feature, occupied the Olympic stage to good effect last week. The complete bill was as follows: The Rain-Dears, The Baggesons, Walter C. Kelley, Lester and Manning, Ed. F. Reynard, Work and Ower, Wilson's Monkey, Cole and Clemens, Harry Harvey, Brown Brothers, Ames and Feathers, Mabel Keane, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hinn and Reeve Sisters.

AT THE HAYMARKET

Anna Eva Fay completed her sensational engagement at the Haymarket last week ending one of the biggest runs for a single vaudeville act that has ever occurred in Chicago. The bill was as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Crane, Florenz Troupe, Royal Hawaiian Serenaders, Harry Howard's Ponies, Carroll and Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Allison The Goat Westin, The Two Daltons, Whitehead and the Grierson Sisters, St. Stebbins, Arcaris Trio Edna Harding and Robert Purcell and Co.

VAUDEVILLE AND THE ACTOR

That vaudeville is the salvation of the actor is the opinion of Edward J. Connelley, who has been appearing in the title role of George Ade's playlet, Marse Covington, at a local vaudeville house. "In vaudeville we do the things that appeal to us most, not being hampered by stage manager or producer," says Connelley. "That the actor should have more to say about a production is the evident inference, for after making the above statement Connelley goes on to say that he has received more attention and consideration from press and public during the ten weeks he has been appearing in Marse Covington than in all his previous stage career."

BITS HERE AND THERE

Richard Carle, who is concluding a long run in The Spring Chicken at the Colonial, announces that he will secure Mabelle Gilman, if possible, for The Hurdy-Gurdy Girl, his new musical piece, to be produced in Boston this summer.

Toby Lyons, who became famous from his singing of The Goo-Goo Man in Isle of Spice, is to be starred next season in The Yankee Regent, playing the role created by Cecil Lean at the LaSalle.

George Cohan has had the experience of being turned down hard. Miss Lulu Glaser refused the musical comedy, Fifty Miles from Boston, that he wrote especially for her. So the Yankee Doodle comedian has engaged Miss Gracey Scott for the leading role, and will produce the piece himself. "Nix on this writing plays for stars any more," is said to be George's comment on the incident.

Tim Murphy, according to rumor will present next year a certain raiser in which all the characters will be deaf and dumb.

Avery Hopwood, author of The Powers That Be, which had its premiere in Columbus a fortnight ago, and co-author with Channing Pollock of Clothes, in which Grace George is starring, spent a few days in Chicago last week.

houses. The supporting company will include Pete Curley, Carrie Selts and a number of others equally well known in the burlesque world. The stock season will start about June 1 and last through the heated term. In the mean time the best traveling burlesques are on view weekly at the Troc. Last week Fred Irwin's Majestics were quite a card. In two pieces, Down the Line and For Girls Only, the principals and chorus showed up with fine effect. The olio included the Eight Mechanisms, an acrobatic family, which has seldom been excelled in Chicago. Other good acts were presented by Larry McCall and Company, Harvey and Walker, Gus and Wm. Luis and Gerlie DeMitt and Fanny Watson. This week the Sam Serlmer Hay Masqueraders comprise the reigning attraction.

THE GRAND OPERA SEASON.

Manager Milward Adams, of the Auditorium, has returned from New York with the news of the grand opera season which Director Currier designs to confer upon Chicago for a seven-day period. The expected production of the sensational White opera, Salome, will not be given, and the only novelty will be Madame Butterfly in Italian. This will give opportunity for comparison between the Metropolitan organization and the Savage company, which presented the opera in English here at the Illinois a short time ago. The repertoire for the Chicago engagement is as follows: Monday, April 8, Meyerbeer's L'Africain; Tuesday, Tristan and Isolde; Wednesday afternoon, Aida; evening, Madame Butterfly; Thursday, Tannhauser; Friday, La Boheme; Saturday afternoon, Tosca; evening, Hansel and Gretel and Pagliacci. The singers will include Carmo, Piancon, Eames, Fremstedt, Schumann-Heink and Burgstaller.

for a Day will be written by Richard Henry Little, the famous war correspondent. Bert C. Whitney has contracted with Little to write a play for the house and it is probable that Raymond Hulbert will write the musical score. Richard Henry Little, although a young man, has had a wide range of experience which should be productive of libretto material. He covered the Spanish-American War both in Cuba and the Philippines, and was the Associated Press representative with the Russian Army during the Manchurian campaign of the Russo-Japanese War. He has a wide reputation as a gifted and versatile writer.

A BANNER BILL

For the second or third time this season the Majestic struck the high note of the high note of vaudeville entertainment last week when its program included half a dozen of the best artists in America to-day. As a matter of course the theatre was crowded at every performance. Fred Walton, the English pantomimist was probably the biggest drawing card on the bill, and his realistic work leads us to believe that were the art of speech lost to human kind our stage need not suffer, at least as long as there remained a Fred Walton. He has the same soldier pantomime with two figures that he used in Babes in the Wood, seen here two seasons ago at the Garrick. However, it has been decked out and broadened until the whole is made to appear the dream of a child. A number of people are included in the cast of the playlet, which is entitled 'Hissie's Dream, and it is laughable and as genuinely entertaining as anything that has been seen on the local stage.

George Ade's little play, Marse Covington remained over last week and was again received with the spirit of quiet and attentive interest.

NEW VAN NESS THEATRE OPENS BIG IN 'FRISCO

Faversham Creates Sensation in Baltimore

Theatres Temporarily Put Out of Business in Pittsburg, but are Ag'n in the Running - Coney Island is Making Elaborate Plans for the Summer Season—Big Cities Furnish Budget of News Theatrical.

THE big event of the week was the opening of the new Van Ness Theatre, and society turned out in all its richest apparel and greeted the Savage Opera Co. in Madame Butterfly. The big house was completely sold out and long lines of automobiles and carriages lined the streets. It was surely the most auspicious opening since the great disaster, and several of the best companies on the road follow, with the prospects of enjoying the best of business.

The Geeser, at the Davis, is a most elaborate affair and is destined for a long run. The costumes are most gorgeous, and Messrs. Kolb and Dill continue keeping the house in laughter.

Everybody is guessing at the outcome of the San Carlos Opera Co.'s engagement at the Chutes, and in every quarter the feeling is, "Don't see how they can make good." Firstly, the car service, the long distance and the fact that during the past few weeks 'Frisco has had plenty of grand opera, and whether the headliners, Nordica, Nielsen and Campanari, will get the money for the management remains to be seen. After the closing of this opera company it is the intention of the lessees to place a stock company in melodrama for a season.

Great preparations are being made for the presentation of Fantana at the American, to follow The Nightingale, which is the present offering. A special cast with new faces will be added and Manager Frank Healy will spare no pains or expense to make this a banner attraction.

The Colonial has taken off Salome, although playing to good business, for the fact that it has a regular weekly patronage, and with a desire to hold it, will follow its original policy of a change of bill each week. Scrambled Matrimony, their latest offering, had a good week.

The Central, with Walter Sanford's players in melodrama at popular prices, gives a good show for the admission, and the lovers of this kind of play get all the thrillers presented in a first-class manner, and good business is the result. Murray and Mack are booked for a return date at this house. They will also play the Macdonough Theatre, Oakland, May 3th.

The following measures were adopted by the St. Patrick's Day convention to drive the stage Irishman from San Francisco: The stand taken by those who protested vigorously against Mrs. McCluskey at the Davis Theatre was unanimously endorsed by all the Irish societies of San Francisco. A body composed of twelve men from every Irish society in the city was appointed to be ready at any time to make a similar protest at any theatre where the Irish are caricatured. A committee from the convention will demand of the Police Commissioners that charges be filed against the policemen who used their clubs during the demonstrations at the Davis Theatre. Suits will be instituted against Manager Sam Davis of that theatre by those who were denied admission to the theatre after buying their tickets. The convention will defray the expense.

The New Alcazar, which will be completed and ready fully forty-eight hours before the opening, Monday, March 18, opened Monday at 9 A. M. for the sale of tickets, and although the weather was not pleasant, the entire house for the first night was sold within two hours, with a big sale for the remainder of the week.

Arthur Stewart, a flyman at the Davis Theatre, fell from the scene left to the stage last night, preparatory to the performance, and sustained several injuries. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain and a fracture of the left shoulder.

Walter Furst, who for many years was proprietor of the Cinograph, the highest ten-cent theatre, is in harness again, having secured a lease of the Park Theatre, Alameda, which opens under his management April 1, after a thorough renovation. It will be run as a 10, 20 and 30 cent house, offering vaudeville, moving pictures and stock. Mr. Furst has a host of friends, both in and out of the profession, and all are wishing him success in his new undertaking.

Florence Roberts is to play a four weeks' engagement at the Novelty, following Raymond Hitchcock, and everything points to a most successful run.

Floyd Menzel, son of Wm. Menzel, the dramatic looking agent, is now press agent for the Davis Theatre.

The Theatrum, which opened in the Mission District directly opposite that theatre, with Messrs. Auburn and Leaby as the managers, is doing good business, far beyond the most sanguine expectations of its projectors.

For refusing to admit a negro into the Princess Rink, at San Jose, W. T. Nixon, the proprietor, was to-day found guilty in Justice F. B. Brown's court of violating Sections 51 and 53, Civil Code of State of California, and fined $100. His attorneys announce their attention of appealing the case.

IN OAKLAND

The Macdonough had a good week with the Lombardi Italian Opera Co. The Virginian, with three performances, was completely sold out, and Madame Butterfly finished the week by giving four performances to capacity. The Augustin Daly Opera Co., presenting The Cingalee and Te Country Girl, opened at this house March 18.

Manager Jas. Pillings, of Idora Park received a shipment of monkeys for his menagerie, and they are certain to attract a great deal of attention during the coming season.

Oakland is to have a series of permanent popular orchestral concerts, under the direction of Paul Steinhoff, and a number of prominent citizens are behind the proposition. The first concert was given Wednesday afternoon, March 13, at Ye Liberty Theatre for the benefit of Fabiola Hospital. REBE COHEN, San Francisco, Cal., 979 Ellis Street.

BALTIMORE, MD.

Wm. Faversham created quite a sensation at Ford's Opera House, Monday evening, at the close of the second act. In a speech before the curtain, he rebuked the audience, characterizing certain disorderly persons as "talking of their own composition. It is an arrangement of southern melodies, entitled My Maryland, which they dedicated to James L. Keenan.

The Young Men's Republican Club of this city bought out the house at Ford's for Marie Cahill March 19 and distributed the tickets to their friends. The house was handsomely decorated.

Louis J. Heck, business manager of Mundy's Zoo, was rendered a testimonial benefit last week.

The receivers of the Lyric Theatre filed a report on the affairs of the enterprise last week. They stated the total indebtedness of the company is $12,720.86; that certain improvements recommended by the Building Inspector will cost $15,000, and that their assets consist of $2,500 received as rentals. The stockholders are in favor of selling the property. The receivers were appointed in Feb., 1908.

John W. Albaugh, Jr., well known in local theatricals as manager of the well-known Albaugh Lyceum Stock Co., was made the defendant in a suit for absolute divorce here by Mrs. Marie Casner Albaugh. Mr. Albaugh is a Ital American and has been a resident of New York City for some years, and he is charged with desertion.

Mrs. Kate Patterson Sedon, of The Squaw Man Co., was indisposed Thursday night, and her part was taken by Mrs. Maggie Holloway Fisher, who was visiting friends in this city. Mrs. Fisher took the part on short notice and was better perfect.

A dispatch from St. Louis announced the marriage of Thos. Harding, of Baltimore, to Miss Anne Sutherland, leading lady in the Powers That Be Co., playing at the Garrick Theatre Miss Sutherland hails from Washington, D. C.

FRANCES ROCKEFELLER KING.

The subject of this sketch, Frances Rockefeller King, has developed a decidedly enterprising innovation in press work. She proposes to furnish vaudeville artists with an outfit and instructions whereby their press and advance work can be done as carefully and successfully as that of the big stars of the legitimate drama. Miss King was the publicity promoter of the Madison Square Roof Garden in New York City last summer, and possesses the qualifications necessary to conduct a thoroughly practical press bureau. She enjoys the acquaintance of and has the personal endorsement of the leading newspaper men and theatrical managers throughout the country.

"drunks." At the conclusion of his remarks he was greeted with a storm of applause, which indicated that some of the people were in sympathy with him. His speech was a topic of general discussion all over town.

The death of Fritz Scheel, conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, was a great shock to music lovers here. The orchestra has played several concerts here this season. The patronage was always large and representative.

The Travelers and Merchants' Association entertained several hundred visiting merchants at the Maryland Theatre, March 12. They taxed the capacity of the theatre.

Manager James L. Kernan has arranged with the Aborn Opera Co. for a season of summer opera at the Auditorium, May 6. Some well-known light opera will be presented and the company will alternate with Brooklyn, Providence and Washington.

Nomi's Ark, a new musical extravaganza, by Miss Claire Kummer, will be presented for the first time at the Academy of Music, April 22. Harry Bulger will have the principal role. The production will be very elaborate and the supporting company will be excellent.

The L. S. Marine Band will give two concerts at Ford's March 30. The Lipin Yiddish Company will give two performances at the Academy of Music March 30. Both houses will be closed the days previous.

The Musical Johnsons were at the Maryland last week. They introduced a new intermezzo and Mr. Harding is well known in Baltimore music circles.

S. Lubin, of Philadelphia, has acquired the property on East Baltimore street, known as the Colonnade, and after making extensive improvements, will open April 1. A great electrical spectacle, entitled Doom's-day, will be presented.

BROOKLYN, N. Y.

The Brooklyn theatres have all had a very successful season and in a few weeks they will close. Coney Island's large amusement parks, Dreamland and Luna Park, will open May 11, which is earlier than usual. Some of the smaller attractions will open much earlier.

It is rumored here that the Ringling Brothers' Circus will show Brooklyn a few weeks after the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show. The Ringling Brothers have never showed in New York in the season, before the Coney Island season is in full swing, they would, no doubt, do well.

Richard Hyde, of the Hyde & Robinson Amusement Company, has returned from Florida, where he spent the winter.

Fred R. McClellan, former manager of Luna Park, has recently assumed his old position and is now one of the busiest men at Coney Island. Mr. McClellan is one of the best known showmen on the Island.

H. Redaire, the famous illusionist and con-cession operator of Dreamland, has secured an ingenious device to be used as exit door for theatres. The device is in the form of a door that is readily opened by the slightest touch from the inside, but can not all the big theatres without. It will be used on the big theatres, and is of great interest to managers of theatres.

Henry Lee, Willy Zimmerman, John J. Sullivan, The Euphrate City Quartet, Hoey and Laura (Trilway) and several members of the Johnny Jones Company, will be seen at the benefit for the "Treasurers' Club," of Brooklyn, March 3, at the Bijou Theatre.

Several of the Brooklyn newspaper men, and The Billboard's representative here, attended the opening performance of Barnum & Bailey's Greatest Show on Earth, at Madison Square Garden, March 21. The Circus is larger and better than ever.

Channing Pollock's play, in the Bishop's Palace, is seen at the New Montauk this week. Rehearsals for The Round-up, a play of the Southwest, by the Brooklyn playwright, Edmund Day, commenced last week in Manhattan. The play will receive its premiere at McVicker's Theatre, in Chicago, April 18. Mosses, Klaw & Erlanger, who are capitalizing it, have engaged an unusually excellent cast with which to surround Maelyn Arisnick, who will have the leading role.

Charlie Vance was at Keeney's last week and made her usual hit.

The Aborn Opera Co. will start its usual early season at the Traphum Theatre in May.

Walter R. Brown, who has been in New Orleans during the winter season in the interest of Klaw & Erlanger, has been offered the position of press agent for Dreamland.

Roller skating is very popular here, and many rinks will be operated at the beaches near here this summer.

GEO. H. HAKES.

PITTSBURG PA.

The greatest show that ever visited Pittsburg, and at that a free one, was with us last week for nearly three days, and while enormously great in so far as sights were concerned it was more enormous when the damage done by the greatest flood that ever visited Pittsburg, is considered. The majority of our playhouses suffered. The Grand, Nixon, Academy and Euphrate were the ones which escaped the water, that is, above the few inches in the basements, yet each one mentioned suffered with lack of light to properly produce the plays on Thursday and Friday, while the Belasco, Alvin, Gayety and Bijou were each submerged in from two to five feet of water. The Belasco gave no performance after Wednesday night; in fact, it required heroic work to get the house in shape to open Monday night. The water was three feet on the stage and came up so suddenly that time was hardly given to remove the seats. The Alvin, Bijou and Gayety were more fortunate and were able to remove seats and make other preparations though each theatre had the water above the stage and in fact nearly the entire lower floor covered.

Owing to electric plants which furnish the city as well as the local playhouses and a "kiss" with electricity, being put out of commission, the houses that were in a position to resume business were severely handicapped, but with the determination to avoid the fate that befell the Belasco, Alvin, Gayety and Bijou (the lack of funding the money for tickets sold that could not be used) lanterns and gas foot lights were quickly gotten up and performances given. At the Grand, the failure of the electric plant did not cut much figure, as their old electric plant was pressed into service, but every Nickelodeon in the two cities was put out of business, for nearly two days. At none of the playhouses that were forced to close and were under water, is there any semblance of the damage done, and the damage fell heavy on the Belasco, Alvin, Gayety and Bijou, as none gave performances after Wednesday night with the exception of the Bijou and Gayety which managed to squeeze in a performance Saturday night.

The closing reluctantly of our leading theatres for nearly the bulk of a week seems to have had a decided effect in stimulating business at the respective playhouses this week, as almost capacity was the rule at each theatre Monday night, and since the offerings are all exceptionally good business will no doubt continue.

Ellen Terry at the Nixon, and Lew Fields and his all star company, at the Belasco, are the features of the week. At the Grand the headliners are E. M. Holland, Effie Fay, and the Missouri Maids. Checkers is playing a return engagement at the Alvin. The Euphrate has When the World Sleeps, and the Bijou, in New York Town. The burlesque houses, the Gayety and the Academy have the Rose Hill Folly Co. and The London Gaiety Girls, respectively.

The Ice Rink (Japanese Gardens) will shortly be closed and instead of ice skating, roller skating will prevail. The roller rinks are all doing big business and need no extra attractions to swell the attendance.

LOUIS L. KAUFMAN.

ST. JOSEPH, MO.

After the last performance of Brother Against Brother by the Fulton Stock Co., which held the house at the Lyric Theatre March 10 and week, a very pleasant house warming was given the company and their friends in the theatre by Messrs. Duggan and Brown, members of the company. Jess B. Fulton, a favorite with St. Joseph audiences, was presented with a very beautiful Elk charm.

Palmer L. Clark, who has been spending the winter months in Chicago, returned to this city the past week to again assume the management of Lake Contrary Park. Mr. Clark contemplates many changes and new attractions for the present year, assuring the writer that the present year will be the largest in the history of the park.

A. J. Rynesson, a former popular show man and at one time connected with the Todd Lyceum and Lyric Theatres, died at his home in this city, March 14. Don W. Stuart, representative of the Crawford Circuit, will leave for New York about April 15, where he will again assume the management of the Pryor Concert Band.

Mrs. Arthur Pryor, wife of the celebrated band leader, arrived in this city March 16 from Salt Lake City, en route to New York where she will join her husband.

FIVE ASTRAL ST. LEONS.

This troupe has just returned from a three years' tour of Central America and Mexico where they played all the leading theatres in the principal cities. For twelve months they managed their own show, consisting of forty-eight people. The act they appear to be far above the ordinary and is entirely original with them. In fact, they have two entirely different acts, straight and comedy, and they always make good on any part of the program. Their wardrobe is complete and handsome. This accomplished troupe also doubles in brass. At present they are playing the coast.

J. E. Jackson, manager of the People's Theatre, made a short business trip to Leavenworth and Kansas City the past week. The first annual show of the St. Joseph Ken-... held March 12-16, proved a great success.

Wm. Vance, treasurer of the Lyceum Theatre, has received several flattering offers from... but is not yet undecided whether he will accept either.

Mr. Harry Van Fossen, a St. Joseph boy, now with the Al B. Field Minstrels, was given an ovation upon his appearance in this city. More than twenty-five hundred people.

JESS WAGNER

CLEVELAND, OHIO.

At the Opera House this week, The Heir to the Throne repeated its former success. It is full of good comedy and pleased immensely.

The Wizard of Oz, seen heretofore at the better priced houses, made many new friends at the Lyceum. This popular Montgomery and Stone piece is as good as ever, and no expense has been spared its staging.

The new melodrama is at the Cleveland. It is The Phantom Detective and it is a corking good show. The attendance has been large and enthusiastic.

The Transatlantics put up a very good show at the Lyceum. Messrs. Friend and Mack are clever comedians and entertainers. The worst thing about this, Thursday evening, between Otto Sater and Chas. Wiselmann, was hotly contested.

The Lyceum at Keith's Prospect Theatre for next week is Vaughan Glaser & Co., in a bold version of popular plays. Mr. Glaser is a great Cleveland favorite and will be seen at the Keith House for three successive weeks.

Manager Max Paetkenhour, of Cleveland's New Hippodrome, has consummated a deal with Wm. Morris and Klaw & Erlanger, whereby "advanced vaudeville" will be produced at the Hipp.

F. W. BEACH.

Joe R. Waters, the Hebrew comedian, the Queen of the Nightingales, was a Billboard caller this week.

THE THREE FLOATING PALACES.

Miss F. Gross writes as follows from Boonville, Mo.

I read Brother Eisenbarth's very fine description of show boats and life thereon in the Spring Special and I brought me back to ye olden times on the Ohio and Mississippi with the "floating palaces." One thing I want to recall to Bro. Eisenbarth's mind and that is his neglect to mention the one important show boat of the decade, the Eugene Robinson's 3 Floating Palaces, the grandest boat show that ever plied the western streams. Strange he should overlook such a grand amusement enterprise, as it was the fashion plate of all boat shows. For the benefit of the old timers on the river I will try to describe this most elegant amusement enterprise.

Eugene Robinson, the proprietor of a museum at New Orleans, planned this grand outfit, and contracted with Howard Bros., of Jeffersonville, Ind., owners of the ship yards, to build him two grand palaces and a steamboat, one palace to be used for museum and hotel purposes, the second boat as a modern opera house, each to be 150x200 feet and large two-huller low boat, to be used in handling the aforesaid amusement palaces. Besides these he also purchased the steamer Rackett, to do the advance work, on which he carried ten men and two horses, for both town and country billing. Fifty-two people constituted the enrollment of the show boats, including brass band, calliops, performers and steamboat crew. For four years this elegant outfit traversed the rivers of the west in wonderful business. At the expiration of that time they were sold. The museum boat was purchased by a firm in New Orleans, to transport hay across the Gulf of Mexico, but on its first trip over a severe storm struck them and the boat was lost. The other was purchased by my old friend, A. B. French, who used it for many years, and is probably being used at the present time by John McNeil, as French's New Sensation.

The Towboat was sold to a firm at Vicksburg, who are now using it on the lower coast.

My friend, John Hennegan, of Cincinnati, or Donald Bros., of Newport, Ky., can give you a good description of the Three Floating Palaces, they having furnished all paper for this narration.

This little item will probably be of interest to some of the older show boat people, besides giving Bro. Eisenbarth a little reminder of his oversight.

NEW SAN JOSE THEATRE OPENS.

The new Unique Theatre, San Jose, Cal., opened its doors Monday, March 18. Upon the opening bill were the Four Manjeans, acrobats; Douglas and Ford, singers and dancers; Eddie Dehm, dialect comedian; Mills and Becher, travesty artists, and Bert White and Flora Sanford, music and mirth artists. They were well received by a packed house which bestowed much praise upon the new theatre. Cream and pale blue outlined with gold facings predominate as the inside tone. The stage equipment is complete, and the Columbia Scene Studio of San Francisco, has installed some appropriate scenery. The orchestra is under the direction of Prof. A. W. Kauffman.

The new Unique is being booked by Archie Levy in conjunction with the Sullivan and Cassidine Circuit.

DIXEY CLOSES WITH SHOW.

When The Man on the Box Company arrived in Keokuk, Iowa, from Ottumwa, where a performance was given Saturday night, March 9, it was discovered by Manager John Warren that Henry E. Dixey and Marie Nordstrom, star and leading lady, respectively of The Man on the Box were missing. Manager Walter N. Lawrence was apprized of the fact and he soon discovered that the two players had decided to quit and return to New York. Mr. Lawrence says he has a three years' contract with Mr. Dixey and that it has a year yet to run.

FRITZI SCHEFF CLOSES SEASON.

Because of the illness of Fritzi Scheff, Manager Chas. Birmingham has thought best to close her season. The well-known singer is at the Hotel St. Regis, New York City, and it is probable that she will not appear behind the footlights for several months. The illness of Miss Scheff dates back about a month ago when she completed a tour of one-night stands; she suffered ptomaine poisoning which developed into slight peritonitis and acute inflammation. As soon as possible an operation will be performed.

THOMPSON JOINS KLAW & ER-LANGER.

The Klaw & Erlanger Wm. Morris combination has a new and efficacious partner in Frederick Thompson, and with the announcement comes further information to the effect that the slogan is to be "advanced vaudeville." In outlining the plans of the new concern Mr. Thompson gives us to understand that "advanced vaudeville" means something big. Within the space of two hours and a half the new firm proposes to give patrons of their circuit—which will be composed of twenty-five theatres in the fall—something of vaudeville, musical comedy, drama and circus in a Thompson & Dundy. The New York Theatre is to be the fountain head of the circuit. There will be produced with all the elaborateness of Broadway productions all the novelties that will make the circuit.

In order to secure what is best in the way of players and musical comedies writers of sketches, playwrights and librettists will be offered prizes and other compensation that will attract their best endeavors.

THROUGH THE AGREEMENT.

The Barnum and Bailey Show does not play either Brooklyn or Philadelphia this season. It is rumored that the Ringling Show is favored with these big cities in the new territorial agreement. It is also rumored that the Ringling Show will play Boston ahead of the Buffalo Bill Wild West by the same agreement.

PAWNEE BILL'S NEW YORK OFFICE.

Edward Arlington, general agent of the Pawnee Bill Wild West, has leased for general offices of that organization one of the largest suites in the Knickerbocker Theatre Building at 1402 Broadway, New York City. General Press Representative W. C. Thompson and the entire department of publicity will make their headquarters in New York City.

Reldy and Currier were obliged by illness to leave the bill at Pol's Theatre, Hartford, Conn., after playing three days of their engagement. Zinell and Bantelle replaced them.

Spring Special Encomiums

Chicago, Ill., March 14, 1907.
Mr. Wm. H. Donaldson,
416 Elm St., Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—I beg to say that at the present time and for the past two months the writer has been undoubtedly the busiest man in the film renting business in Chicago, but nevertheless I take great pleasure in devoting a few moments' time in writing you and expressing our feelings of pleasure at the appearance of the Spring Special issue of The Billboard, which undoubtedly and unquestionably is the most elaborate gotten up paper at the small price, that has ever come under my observation and I desire to compliment you for the amount of talent and energy displayed in this make-up, also on the arrangement of our page ad.

I will say further that we feel that any phenomenal growth of our establishment from a mere rental film trade of a few customers to our over two hundred we have at the present time, is due in a great measure to the capable assistance we received through the medium of The Billboard, which has increased our business to such an extent that we really find it difficult in accommodating our numerous patrons though we unquestionably have the largest floor space of any concern in this city and we feel deeply grateful for the efforts extended us by your local representative, Mr. Warren Patrick. Wishing you all kinds of success, I am as ever,
Your friend,
Wm. H. SWANSON & CO.

Chicago, Ill., March 13, 1907.
Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—It is with most sincere pleasure and gratification that we extend our warmest congratulations upon the beauty and great advertising (financial) success of the big Spring Special Number. In our humble opinion that issue has never been equaled by any other similar theatrical or dramatic publication in this or any other country in completeness and typographical arrangement; also in the vast amount of invaluable information it contains. We are all proud of The Billboard, since it is distinctly a product of our "wild and woolly west," and a most marvelous example what can be accomplished in such a few years' time. Again congratulating you on behalf of myself and my associates of Luna Park's business staff, and with sincere best wishes for the continued success of The Billboard and its wide-awake, progressive publishers and staff, I remain,
Most sincerely yours,
L. R. LAUTERSTEIN,
President and General Manager,
Luna Park Co., Chicago.

Norfolk, Va., March 16, 1907.
Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—Allow me to send to you my earnest and honest compliments on the Special Spring number of The Billboard. It was a daisy in every respect, and more than came up to expectations; nay, passed them even, for all your promises were made good. I can not help but indulge in a bit of retrospection to-night, when I look back to The Billboard of a dozen years ago, and remembering its size, scope and character, compare it with the paper that lies before me now. When it started I was one of its steady subscribers and loyal supporters, for I knew it was destined to fill a place in the Amusement world that no other journal had ever thought of, and that place it has filled with credit to itself and honor to the men who conceived it and stood by it in its infant hours. To-day The Billboard is occupying a place all by itself, far and away above all others that seek to interest the amusement man. Here's to "Old Billyboy," and here's to the men who are directing its affairs. May per and paper live long and prosper, and that's the heartfelt hope of your loyal friend,
SAM C. HALLER.

"The Special Spring number of The Billboard is a gorgeous affair of 136 pages full of interesting matter pertaining to the stage."—The Argus, Rock Island, Ill.

PENN YAN LOSES THEATRE.

Penn Yan, N. Y., sustained a loss Monday night, March 18, in the total destruction of the Yates Lyceum Theatre. Just before the curtain went up on The Hottest Coon in Dixie, fire was discovered in a store-room under the gallery stairs, and soon the building was a seething mass of flames. Actors and audience escaped uninjured, though some of the players lost some of their personal property. The Yates Lyceum Theatre was erected in 1890 by a stock company, and was managed by Charles H. Slison. Recently the ownership changed to George H. Lowm, of Chicago, who rechristened it the Yates Lyceum and installed Herbert E. Bell as manager. The loss is about $10,000, with $7,000 insurance.

MISSOULA TO HAVE MODERN THEATRE.

Plans have been accepted for the new theatre which C. A. Harms proposes to build in Missoula, Mont. Mr. Harms is organizing a stock company and is meeting with success in his solicitation. As planned the house will be built of pressed cement brick at a cost of $40,000, and will seat 1,000 people. There will be eight theatre boxes and a large balcony. The stage will be 35 by 57.

TORONTO IN NEW CIRCUIT.

It is reported that Kilow & Erlanger have secured a site on Queen street in Toronto, Can., to build a new vaudeville theatre to be included in the circuit which they are organizing.

Ablene, Kan., March 15, 1907.
Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—I have a copy of the Spring Issue of The Billboard and wish to congratulate you on the tasty manner in which it is gotten up. I consider it one of the very best issues you have yet published, and the different topics, so far as I have found time to read them, struck me as being very clear and forcible.

I also wish to express my appreciation of your courtesy in devoting a portion of your valuable space to a likeness of the writer.

Wishing you a continuation of your success, I beg to remain,
Yours truly,
C. W. PARKER.

Waco, Tex., March 18, 1907.
Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—Pardon my intrusion on your time, but I can not refrain from telling you something about the grandest and best theatrical journal in the world. I have a file of another amusement paper, dating back to 1880. I used to think it the only (quite different now). I have been a reader of The Billboard quite a long time, and can truthfully say it is the best and most reliable of them all. I have just got through devouring the Spring Number, and it's a hummer. Several of my Eagle friends are reading it every week, and are much impressed with its columns.

Respectfully yours,
DR. JOHN A. STEWART.

It's not only a warm "Billy Boy," but it's with a big I. It combines the most intellectual brain workers of the craft, and the far-reaching elements of facts in the craft, added thereto the most fetching results, that to be without The Billboard in the amusement world would be like being without bread when you are hungry. I have a file of The Billboard from its infancy to date. I have been sick, broke and badly beaten, but never without my Billboard. The Billboard to me is what the Bible is to the pastor of his flock. Oh, well, get acquainted, and you will ever find the latch string on the outside. Now I'll hush.

L. M. BOYER, Pop Boyer, or Mill, just as you will have it.

"The Spring Number of The Billboard, that marvel of progress among professional journals, is now on the stands. Aside from the wealth of news and information regarding theatrical and circus folk, The Billboard's Spring Number contains page after page of interesting advertising matter, probably more than ever published by an amusement journal. This feature is so extensive that one wonders if there are any firms supplying the wants of these people who are not represented. Structurally and from a typographical viewpoint the journal is a splendid production. But it is in the information department, and its reports of theatrical that The Billboard excels. Correspondents not only in all the cities of this country, but in the amusement centers of the world give it the latest and best news obtainable. To the amusement editor it is invaluable, and to the performer it must be a never-ceasing delight."—Gazette, Elmira, N. Y.

"The Spring Number of The Billboard is a genuine hummer and well sustains the reputation this splendid publication has of being the largest, most complete, as well as the leading amusement weekly in the United States. The pictures, news of the entertainment world and the many amusement features in this particular number of The Billboard combine to make this publication a great credit to the publishers, editors and the public it serves so well."—Courier, Buffalo, N. Y., Mar. 17.

WALDMANN OPENS SEASON.

WELL RECEIVED IN SPAIN.

A communication from Fr. H. D. Rucker, who is well known to amusement people in America, imparts the information that he arrived in Odiz, Spain, Feb. 9 after a rough voyage from New York. He spent two days in Seville during the carnival. The party took in the Cafe Nationale one evening and witnessed a modest vaudeville bill, after which they visited the Dancing Girls of Seville, one of the world famous beauty, Fatima, and other Oriental dancers of exquisite art. Everywhere the party were received with great favor. Dr. Rucker goes to Geneva, Rome and Naples, thence to Egypt, Palestine, Turkey and Greece.

Clint Wilson has been re-engaged as manager of the Majestic Theatre, Kansas City, Mo., for another year by the Columbia Amusement Co.

Dear Sir:—Just got your Spring Special number, which makes the seventh special number of The Billboard I have on file, and this one is still better than the other ten which I have in my trunk. I will give the dates: March 21 and December 5, 1903; March 19 and Nov. 5, 1904 (10th anniversary); Dec. 3, 1904; March 18, April 23 and Dec. 2, 1905; March 17 and Dec. 15, 1906; March 16, 1907.

They are not for sale yet. Wishing The Billboard success for it's about the only paper (show) I read every week. I remain,
Very truly yours,
A. G. LIONNET.

"The Spring Special of The Billboard was received today. The publication contains 136 pages and will furnish reading enough for many weeks to come. Considerable space is devoted to the Jamestown Exposition. The issue is very commendable and well entitles the paper to the name it bears 'America's Leading Amusement Weekly.'"—Journal, Ithaca, N. Y., Mar. 16.

"The Billboard is enlarged this week to 136 pages, forming a special spring number of great worth to any one interested in theatrical matters. It is filled from cover to cover with splendid pictures of footlight and sawdust favorites, many of whom have visited Williamsport, and bright, newsy chat concerning stage affairs and stage people."—Sun, Williamsport, Pa., Mar. 18.

"The 136 page Spring Special edition of The Billboard, America's leading amusement weekly, is not only a work of art, but enjoys an advertising patronage which is seldom seen in a publication of this sort. The artistic cover pages and the excellent typography and press work add to the attractiveness of the edition. As usual, The Billboard is also chock full of good, up-to-date reading matter and information for show folks and others interested in amusements."—Journal, Quincy, Ill., Mar. 18.

"This week's issue of The Billboard, Waukegan's favorite theatrical paper, is a huster and smashes all records with its colored cover, its many illustrations and its double number of pages. The Billboard has taken the place of all other theatrical publications in the city and is widely sought for each week, for days before it comes, because of the amazing amount of theatrical news of a general nature that it contains."—Daily Sun, Waukegan, Ill.

"The Billboard the well-known theatrical weekly, has issued a Spring Special number of 136 pages, with an artistic colored cover. It is profusely illustrated with excellent half-tone cuts of actresses and actors, successful circus proprietors, scenes from many plays, press representatives, theatrical officials, summer amusement parks, etc. There is an abundance of amusement reading and information of general interest to all who follow the theatre."—Times, Hartford, Conn.

Editor The Billboard, Cincinnati, O.

Dear Sir:—Your admirable Spring Special edition, which in completeness and interest surpassed your best previous special numbers, is a mine of information for amusement purveyors, and the exclusive articles by successful managers should prove an incentive to other managers to favor your columns with their views on park and show management.

HERRMANN TO TOUR EUROPE.

At the close of a most successful season of not less than seventeen months, Herrmann the Great, will sail for Europe April 4 on the SS. La Lorraine. He will tour Europe with his own show, visiting France, Belgium, Holland, Spain and Italy.

Two American acts have been engaged to take part in the performance, which will be purely an American one and the only one of its kind traveling through the European continent. The company will return next fall and Herrmann will bring with him, from the other side, several new illusions which he will present during his next tour, beginning in September and covering the principal cities of the United States.

BILLPOSTERS' DOUBLE WEDDING.

Charles Prendergast and Bert Rickard, at taches of Greene's Opera House, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, participated in a double wedding last week, much to the surprise of their many friends. Mr. Prendergast's prettier for life is Miss Elizabeth Parkele, and Mrs. Bert Rickard was formerly Miss Nora Worthan. The young ladies have long been fast friends and are most highly esteemed by the young people of Cedar Rapids. The marriage ceremony was performed in the marriage parlors of Justice Sargent and when the news was spread, congratulations came in galore. Mr. and Mrs. Rickard have begun housekeeping at 602 South Third street, and Mr. and Mrs. Prendergast will follow suit in a short time.

"The Issue of March 16 of The Billboard, designated by the publishers as the Spring Special number, is out. Its very special and very interesting, and deals with theatres, circuses, street fairs and music. It contains 136 pages, with a handsome cover done in several colors, that is a work of art. Half-tones are found on every page and the entire number is a complete encyclopedia of information and news regarding the field which it covers. One feature especially worthy of note in the two pages of half-tone cuts of circus owners and managers, correspondence and gossip regarding celebrities of the dramatic and musical world form a large part of the contents of this number."—Evening Mirror, Warren, Pa.

The Spring Special just issued by The Billboard, is one of the largest and most attractive numbers ever sent out by that publication. It consists of 136 pages, crammed full of advertising and good reading matter, splendidly illustrated. The frontispiece of the Spring Special contains excellent half-tone photographs of H. St. George Tucker, President of the Jamestown Exposition; C. Brooks Johnstone, Chairman of the Board of Governors; Barton Myers, Governor of Exploitation; and A. L. Sutton, Chief of Exploitation.—Ledger-Dispatch, Norfolk, Va.

"The Spring Special number of The Billboard is a wonder. In theatrical journalism nothing like it has ever been attempted. Mechanically perfect, chock full of snappy reading and pictures, 136 pages, and none dry. Good Old Billy Boy is all to the good. One dime, New York (Cincinnati or Chicago). Not only the prof-sh but the rankest outsiders will be pleased with this number."—Franklin Repository, Cumlerlaud, Pa.

Chicago, Ill., March 16, 1907.

My Dear Mr. Phillips:—Quite a marvel in entertainment literature is the Spring Special of The Billboard, devoted as it is to the now most prominent portion of the amusement world—its out door section; and embodying in its pages a complete revolution from the bleak winter seasons to the seven, eight nine, or more, open months of the year, according to locality.

Very truly yours,
HUGH COYLE.

MEETING OF THE FRIARS.

At the meeting of The Friars held Friday evening, March 15, at the Cafe des Beaux Arts, considerable business of importance was transacted. Campbell H. Cassard was appointed Treasurer; J. Clarence Hyde, Fred Peck, William Hall, Philip Minih and James Hammond were named as the prominent house committee. A new class of membership was instituted to include all guests of honor entertained at the monthly meeting of the club. Clyde Fitch and Marc Klaw were duly elected as honorary members. St. Goodfriend, committee on badges, produced the new badge which is finished in old gold with a trunk in relief on which is inscribed the cabalistic letters A. D. F. Translated this means Agents Baggage Free. Mr. Goodfriend quickly disposed of his stock. Arrangements for the opening of the new rooms were completed. Rooms No. 1,120-1,121 in the Kuckelbecker Theatre Annex, having been secured and fitted up for the use of the club.

...the best costume and make-up worn by any singing comedienne lately was that which May Vokes chose for the second act, when she sings Nobody Loves Me, in that sad, and plaintive tone that's so side splitting. It consists of brown and white cross-banded bloomers, a brown checked tight fitting hip length coat with brown cuffs and collar, brown stockings, tan shoes, a large white sailor with three brown bands and long brown and white coupe feathers hanging from the left side, and her specialty is a very trim, neat bit of comedy that's quite irresistible.

CHICAGO AMUSEMENTS.

Checkers, with Hans Roberts in the title role, will be at McVicker's in a few weeks. A tabloid version of Richard Mansfield's production of Peer Gynt is being prepared for the vaudeville stage and will probably be seen at the Majestic in the near future.

James Durkin, a member of the New Theatre Stock Company up to the time of its dissolution, is to appear shortly in a vaudeville sketch en-theatrical, operatic or musical entertainment except at the regular ticket office or ticket offices located upon the premises where such entertainment is to be given or held; provided that nothing in this ordinance shall be held or construed to prohibit the sale of tickets to entertainments, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to charitable or benevolent purposes.

It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to sell or to engage in the business of selling at a premium or at a higher price than the price printed thereon, any ticket of admission to any place of amusement, whether such selling be his or its regular business, or be engaged in occasionally or incidentally in connection with other business.

No person or corporation conducting any place of amusement, nor any officer, agent, or employee thereof, shall, directly or indirectly offer to sell, consent to sell, or permit to be sold, any ticket of admission to any place of amusement to any broker, speculator, scalper, or other person, regularly, occasionally, or incidentally engaged in the business of selling any such tickets of admission for reselling at an increased price above that printed thereon.

The penalty for each violation of the ordinance is a fine of from $25 to $200.

Interest in roller skating has been at fever pitch in Chicago for the past fortnight and the Coliseum has been filled nightly with devotees of this sport. In addition to the popularity which roller skating has aroused, there has been held at the big Wabash Avenue Amphthat the famous Anti-Tight Bill, sponsored by Representative Hughes, who was sent from a hamlet of 500 people to the Wisconsin Legislature, and whose knowledge of the tight situation must therefore have necessarily been limited, has died a humble death. The Judiciary committee of the Wisconsin body of Senators sat on the tight destroying measure very hard. As these gentlemen were perhaps better acquainted with the proper use of the detested flashing, it seems probable that the Hughes measure got all that was coming to it. In the meantime Assemblyman Hughes has been busy press agended during the time the measure was up, which was perhaps all that he desired.

It is announced that Richard Carle is to take his Spring Chicken Company, now at the Colonial back to New York in April and that Christie McDonald, in The Belle of Mayfair, will be the next attraction at the Theatre laudatiff. The Spring Chicken has enjoyed a phenomenal run and celebrated its 75th performance the other evening by distributing Spring Chicken pensions to its lady patrons.

On Friday, March 22, a benefit for the Actors' Fund will be held at the Auditorium. Among those who will take part are David Warfield, Maude Adams, May Irvin and Richard Carle.

William Peters, who wrote the music for Richard Carle's The Mayor of Toledo, will wield the orchestral baton at the Whitney Opera House when it is opened.

Captain Carl Howelson, the sky jumper who was the sensation at the Chutes last summer, will be one of the headline thrillers with Barnum and Bailey's Circus the coming season.

FUND BENEFIT.

By HUGH COYLE.

As there is to come off in New York City shortly, a monster Actors' Fund Fair, and as such should prove not only successful, but enormously so, with everyone in the great profession of entertainment assisting by every means in their power, it can not fail (or ought not) to break the record in financially successful results.

Appropos of this event, a little historical matter pertaining to former Actors' Fund entertainments for benefit purposes may be in order.

In the winter of 1883 the late Harry Miner was president of the then board of trustees, invited J. Charles Davis and myself to promote a benefit. This was at their regular meeting at the Grand Opera House on 8th avenue on a Sunday morning. They were insistent that full salaries should be paid us for the work and we were just as insistent not to accept the same, but to contribute our services as freely as any of the volunteer professionals who made up the six-hour stage program. We were allowed, however, our expenses if our work took us out of the city, which it did, to Washington, D. C., to invite the President of the United States, the late Chester A. Arthur, who, by the way, declined to attend; and to Albany, to invite Governor Grover Cleveland, then president-elect, with Mr. Cleveland from eleven o'clock a. m. to one-thirty p. m. to invite him to attend the benefit which was to be held early in December at the Academy of Music, this just shortly after his election. My persistence, after he had given us five refusals, he finally agreed to come, but named conditions. We not only promised, but fulfilled, every stipulation that he proposed.

To be brief, Mr. Cleveland and his sister, with his private secretary and wife and eight other persons attended the benefit, which visit created a great sensation, as he had refused all invitations to attend a function of any character after he was elected.

Tremendous is the only adjective that would describe the financial success and in addition the status of the Actors' Fund was fixed for all time, by the entertainment profession, receiving such significant and prominent recognition, and which caused a world of astonishment everywhere at the time.

While managing the Egyptian Hall in Philadelphia, later, with Kellar, the Magician as an attraction, I received a personal note from Mr. Miner asking if I would assist in getting up another benefit in Philadelphia. I replied that nothing would give me more pleasure, and at once went to work on it. It was not until some four weeks after the benefit was over that the trustees had executed a small percentage contract to an outside party who was to bear all of the expenses, if any. I did everything that was to be done in securing the Academy of Music, printing, billposting, newspaper advertising, railroad arrangements, baggage, scenery, etc., in addition to procuring volunteers for the stage presentation. In fact, everything, with one exception; Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) turn.

Prior to the last Actors' Fund Fair, I wrote some suggestions to the late Mr. A. M. Palmer, about securing the America's Cup Trophy, the one that Lipton has been trying to lift, as a feature, and suggested how the ladies' auxiliary committee could secure substantial aid from the Barnum and Bailey Circus, then playing in Madison Square Garden, and incidentally called Mr. Palmer's attention to the fact that I had received no portion of the percentage arrangement of the Philadelphia benefit previously, and quote three extracts from the reply received from him, herewith.

Note—Prior to which, however, I may state that the percentage contract was perfectly proper and legitimate; and, further, such an arrangement is decidedly the best that the trustees can make for benefit purposes, in places away from New York City. See, I wanted to make clear then and since, that I was not a party to this Philadelphia contract; nor did I get any portion of whatever money resulted to the contractor; and to say, further, I was in the employ of the Barnum and Bailey Show when this letter was received.

R. King, Local No. 13 Omaha James Judge, W. Ferrault, of Local No. 2, New York J. Whalen and B. W. Foster, Local No. 5, St. Louis, have been engaged to go with the P. Beece Bill Wild West Show this season.

WHAT GREGORY DID

Whether or not it is a press yarn, the story they are telling of Gilbert Gregory, who is a member of the company which will present A Knight for a Day at the Whitney Opera House, is good. It is said that the comedian was out of work in New York a season or two ago and for awhile despaired of an engagement. Finally he had some big posters made bearing the line, "Gilbert Gregory—Starring in The Streets of New York." Needless to say, Gregory was not out of work long. Another player, Louis Wesley, secured a part through an equally ingenious scheme. He had the words "Louis Wesley at Liberty" placed on a moon star electric sign, which flashed them in full view of Broadway nightly.

COUNCIL PASSES SCALPER LAW

When Mayor Dunne puts his signature to the Harkin ordinance, which was adopted by the Chicago City Council Monday night, March 18, anti-scalping agitators will have secured their long desired result. Whether or not the ordinance will stand under the action that the lookers are said to be planning remains to be seen.

Upon its face the ordinance forbids ticket scalping altogether. It makes it unlawful to sell tickets at any place except the box office of the different theatres, for the theatre managers selling to speculators and makes the charging of an excessive price punishable with a heavy fine. Following are the provisions of the ordinance:

It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to sell or engage in the business of selling any tickets of admission to any theatre. On Monday evening, March 11, the Illinois championship for a mile on roller skates was won by Mackenzie, of Evanston, in a race with 11 starters. A big crowd was on hand to witness the contest and the race was over a course consisting of 11 laps around the Coliseum. A peculiar feature of the race was the fact that the contestants were compelled to skate 11 laps instead of 10 as the referee's pistol did not go off on the completion of the 10th lap. However, the time was only taken on the mile.

MORE VAUDEVILLE RUMORS.

The newspapers of Chicago have found the source of endless talk in the current vaudeville situation. The latest information from the dramatic columns to the effect that the Shuberts have made a deal with Kohl and Castle to repel the threatened invasion of the local field by the Klaw and Erlanger interests is unconfirmed by either side and on its face seems preposterous. One paper went so far as to state that the deal included the exchanging of the Garrick for the Majestic, the Shuberts to take over the big Monroe street house for their dramatic and musical attractions, while Kohl and Castle would utilize the Garrick for vaudeville. This transfer is evidently nothing but newspaper dope, as the one-sidedness of the arrangement is readily apparent. The Garrick while in many respects a fine house, can not compare with the Majestic, which has the best location in the city and is one of the finest equipped and most expensive playhouses in the country. Local theatrical people are awaiting with interest the next sensation to be dished up for them by the versatile scribes on the local papers.

It is interesting to note, in view of the pre-occupation of The Billboard a fortnight ago

If the representatives of the various races in all the cities of the country were to take the same action that the Irish of San Francisco have done, the comedy and burlesque stage in its present character would be seriously menaced. It is through the exaggeration of types that the play of the masses attains much of its success. To eliminate this feature, would be to remove a valuable and an innocent accessory.

A race type is seldom exploited for purposes other than comedy. There is nothing to be gained by critical delineation. Exceptions may be found in the classics—as Shakespeare's Jew—but they are not common even here. In the present-day drama race types are represented only in grotesque exaggerations which are meant to be taken simply for what they are worth as laugh-getters and nothing more.

The Irish societies of San Francisco have acted impulsively and without a proper understanding of the situation. The Jews, who make up a large percentage of our theatrical patronage, have equal excuse for protest, but though they have never been credited with the Celt's sense of humor, they accept the ludicrous Hebrew characterizations prevalent with a generous appreciation that shows them to be more liberal than their Irish brethren in America.

It is impossible to estimate what we should have lost if this uprising against the stage Irishman had taken place in the early days of the drama in this country, and, becoming general, had been followed by the representatives of all the other races in the United States. One artist we certainly should never have known—David Warfield. It was in his Yiddish personations in San Francisco's cheap show places that he got his first hearing, and his audience has grown to include the theatre-goers of the whole land.

The stage-Irishman is not more repugnant than the newspaper Irishman; and who could wish to suppress the Mr. Dooley disquisitions?

The final curtain will soon be lowered on the theatrical season of 1906-7. It has been a prosperous season. Responsive to the commercial prosperity of the country, it has returned larger profits than usual, and the managers are well pleased generally.

There have been some important developments, especially in the vaudeville field. First, the Keith & Proctor interests were united, with William Morris and Hammerstein as opposition in the East; then Williams and Hammerstein joined the alliance and Morris, refusing to enter the syndicate, was left alone. At this critical point Klaw & Erlanger entered into an agreement with Morris by which vaudeville will be booked into a part of the Klaw & Erlanger houses. Chicago, the stronghold of Kohl & Castle, will be invaded by the new firm next season, and some lively times are anticipated.

All this will serve to hold up the salaries of desirable artists, for competition will be keen.

In the dramatic field developments have been less of a revolutionary nature. Plays have won successes and plays have failed; new theatres have been opened and others have been destroyed; but in the chief essentials the situation has not altered. It is only individuals who have felt the reverses of bad investments and poor risks, who have been borne up on the flood tide of success or sucked down into the vortex of failure, that see revolutionary features to the dramatic season.

TWO DEATHS IN 'FRISCO.

The profession suffered a severe loss last week in the death of Juliet Crosby, known in private life as Mrs. Fred Belasco, and of Morris E. Mayer, brother-in-law and business partner of Mr. Belasco, Friday, March 22. Upon receiving the news of Mrs. Belasco's death Mr. Mayer fell into a swoon and died of heart trouble half an hour after the actress had breathed her last. Mrs. Belasco passed away suddenly following the burial of her one-day old child.

Juliet Crosby celebrated her thirtieth birthday Saturday, March 16. She had planned upon her recovery to take her old position as leading lady of the new Alcazar Theatre. She was well known on the coast. Her debut was made over ten years ago at the old Alcazar. Here she fell in love with and married Fred Belasco.

Morris E. Mayer was born in Germany, but came to 'Frisco when a boy. His first and last business partner was Fred Belasco, and the firm of Belasco & Mayer has long been held in the highest esteem. Their endeavors have been confined mainly to the coast.

Mr. Belasco, a brother of the playwright, is prostrated with grief. The Alcazar was closed pending interment of Mrs. Belasco and Mr. Mayer.

MAY HAVE FIVE NEW THEATRES.

The work on the handsome entrance to the Edwin Forest Theatre, Philadelphia, Pa., is practically completed, and the body of the house is fast nearing that stage of completion when it became possible to intelligently arrange for the opening. In all probability the new theatre will open Sept. 1.

Though a great delay has been occasioned by their failure to secure material for the New Wm. Penn Theatre, the builders are now confident that work may be pushed rapidly to completion. Proprietor G. A. Wegfarth plans to open the new playhouse early in the season with the same attractions which the Grand Opera House, also owned by Mr. Wegfarth, has been playing.

The Adelphi Theatre will also be ready to open in the fall. No definite announcement has been made as to the line of attractions to be presented at this house, but rumor has it that the Shuberts will present vaudeville there. Adolph Segal has had plans prepared for the building of two new theatres near Brook and Girard avenues, Philadelphia. One will be devoted to drama; the other to vaudeville.

WILL PLAY PARKS AND FAIRS.

Mlle. Luba de Sarama will be on the road again this summer with her Great Fair East Animal Exhibition, which made so great a hit at the parks and fairs last year. F. C. Rosakoff will continue in the management of the act.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosakoff recently met with a sad bereavement in the death, in New Orleans, of their daughter Alice, who assisted Mlle. Sarama in her act. Alice was fourteen years of age and a very interesting and precocious young lady.

MAKING A HIT IN LONDONTOWN.

The Mysterious Howards, the clever telepathists who appeared over the leading circuits, such as the Percy G. Williams, the Orpheum, Kohl & Castle and the Keith & Proctor Circuits, during the winter season of 1905-06, have returned to their home town, London, England, where they are creating a greater furor than ever. They made a complete tour of the world playing all the leading cities of every country, and were everywhere voted the premieres in their line. Last week they appeared before the Prince and Princess of Wales and a day later before King Edward and the Queen. They made many friends in America during their short visit here, and theatregoers in this country as well as their many friends would be glad to see them back in Uncle Sam's country.

BUILDING LAW INVALID.

The Supreme Court of Indiana on Friday, March 22, declared invalid an ordinance passed by the City Council of Indianapolis, requiring all entrances to theatres to front upon a public street and not upon an alley. The decision was given in a case appealed by the Valentine Theatre Co. of Toledo, and A. F. Miller, its representative, who is manager of the English Opera House in Indianapolis. The defendant's were fined ten dollars each in the lower court for alleged violation of the ordinance by selling tickets admitting persons to a gallery through a rear entrance.

BOOKED AT THE BIG PARKS.

Laura Davis, The Girl Who Sings, is in Chicago, preparing to open her summer season at the parks and summer vaudeville houses where they desire an especially fine singing turn. Miss Davis is having a number of new gowns made in Chicago, and her booking agent informs her that he will be able to keep her time all filled in the very best summer parks. Miss Davis is now filling a few dates about the Windy City.

BARNABEE'S BIG BENEFIT.

As a result of the benefit performance given in honor of Henry Clay Barnabee at the Boston Theatre, Boston, Mass., Friday afternoon, March 22, the erstwhile star of The Bostonians was handed checks for $13,000 that evening. The receipts from the performance were $4,000 and admiring friends subscribed $9,000.

The mother of Roy Cooksey would like to have any information as to the whereabouts of her son who, when last heard of, was traveling with a carnival company in the south. Address Hester Cooksey, R. R. No. 13, Greensburg, Ind.

Playhouses

Archie Miller, who has been connected with the Alhambra Theatre, Minneapolis, Minn., for six years, the past two years as treasurer, has become manager of the Star Theatre, St. Paul. Mr. Miller is one of the best known theatrical men in the northwest and is a nephew of the late Oscar Miller, who managed a number of theatrical enterprises in Milwaukee and the twin cities.

On March 1 the Howland Theatre, Pontiac, Michigan, passed into the management of Keyser and Coleman, local people. Mr. Coleman publishes the Pontiac Press Gazette and Mr. Keyser is the leading druggist of that city. The Howland was built two years ago at a cost of $40,000 and has been a success ever since it has been opened.

Manager J. S. Shanon of the Hathaway Theatre, Lowell, Mass., has been confined to his home since March 4 with a serious attack of the lagrippe. During his absence Fred Emerson, formerly treasurer of the Lowell Opera House, is transacting business for the Hathaway.

Harry Moore, the well-known showman, is arranging to open the Majestic Family Theatre, in the Taylor Block, on Phillips avenue, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Michael Breslane, billposting man and politician of Minneapolis, is associated with him in the venture.

W. E. Kerney, lessee of the Grand at Portsmouth, O., the Grand at Circleville, and the Auditorium at Circleville, is negotiating with Nixon & Zimmerman to place his theatres upon the Ohio Theatre Circuit.

The old Marquam Theatre at Portland, Ore., has been purchased by Emanuel May, the consideration being $20,000. Messrs. Cohn & Bernstein are interested with Mr. May in the purchase.

H. J. Hill is the manager of a new pavilion that has been opened in the heart of New Iberia, La. The building seats 1,000 people and is packed at every performance.

The St. Louis, Mo., Lodge T. M. A., will hold its regular annual benefit April 7 at the Olympic Theatre. President Lee Springer heads the entertainment committee.

The Jefferson Theatre at Goshen, Ind., burned some time ago, is to be rebuilt. A stock company is now being formed for that purpose.

Jack Root, who is managing a theatre at Burlington, Iowa, made a flying trip to Chicago and chatted with old friends last week.

The Board of Trustees of the Turner Grand Opera House, Liverpool, La., have decided to dispose of that playhouse by sale.

The Lyric Theatre at Worcester, Mass., was closed March 12 and will probably remain dark the balance of the season.

M. H. Harris has succeeded Milan J. Alkire, deceased, as manager of the Turman Opera House at Virginia, Ill.

Oliver Wilbur has succeeded Crossman in the management of the Bijou Theatre at Freeport, Ill.

Plans have been prepared for remodeling the City Opera House, Frederick, Md.

BURLESQUE.

MINSTREL.

It is announced that "Punch" Wheeler, who left the Docktader Minstrel at New Orleans last week to take up his duties as general press representative with the Selma Floto Shows, will on the termination of his circus season in October, go with the new organization, Billy Barry's Merry Minstrels, as general advance representative. He will carry two assistants, a lithographer and banner man. A better selection than the inimitable, popular "Punch" could have been made for this step of an attraction.

Contrary to report, H. D. Collins is still in advance of Voelckel & Nolan's Dandy Dixie Minstrels.

MUSICAL.

A. F. Rody closed with the Mitten Buhler Cleveland Orchestra and left March 20 for Somerset, Ky., to join C. R. Reno's Joshua Simpkins Co. Before his departure from Cleveland, O., the boys in the orchestra gave a banquet in honor of Mr. Rody and presented him with a fine gold watch fob.

Hanson and Harris are still making them laugh at the New York Hippodrome.

Leighton, manager; F. A. Pamshell, stage manager; Ed. H. Adams, advance; W. J. Wilson, Vic Stone, Babette Sheldon, Lou Shean, Jack Post, Grete Sisters, Hazel Floyd, Master Paul and Laura Lamont.

The DeDeyn Stock Co. closed its engagement at the Academy of Music, Lowell, Mass., March 9. Sadie Radcliffe, Mable Estell and Joe Gilroy join a stock company at Rochester, N. Y., and Miss DeDeyn is resting at her home in New York City.

The Metropolitan Entertainers will remain out until May 1, when Agent W. B. Alvord takes charge of the advance of the Reno and Alvord Show; Manager J. F. Leytem joins the same show.

The Barnum and Bailey Opening

Annual Event at Madison Square Garden Meets with Unusual Success Under Auspicious Conditions—Ski-sailing feature has the Novelty and Charm of a Real Crowd-getter—The Siegrist-Silbon troupe put on an Aerial Act that is a sensation—Review of the Features.

COME ON BOYS! The Circus is in Town! The elephants, the clowns, the dogs and ponies; the side-show with the fat lady and the lean man; and all the rest of the interesting and amusing things that make us feel like boys again.

And such a circus—The Greatest Show on Earth, in the greatest palace of the greatest city of America, and the day the first of Spring. A happy combination of events, surely, that attended the opening of the tent show season of 1907.

Yes, the bluebird warbled its glad, sweet song in the trees of the park nearby; and the small boy danced as the horses pranced and the merry clown cocked his eye.

It is enough, if you were not there it's up to The Billboard to tell you that the circus season was formally opened Thursday evening, March 21, at Madison Square Garden, by the Barnum & Bailey Shows, and that was one of the most complete and interesting performances of the kind ever given. The big auditorium was brilliantly decorated and illuminated; the vast array of seats were comfortably filled with as fashionable an audience as has ever assembled at any opening night.

The performance began promptly, and numbered after number of a most elaborate and carefully arranged program followed in rapid sequence with the regularity and precision of clock work. It has been the writer's good fortune to have witnessed nearly all the big circus openings in the Garden. Compared with former events, the opening of 1907 marks a climax of skill in the selection and grouping of the numerous acts.

A careful analysis of the program reveals seventy-five distinct acts, of which fifteen are pronounced features—Headliners. To group this mass of material in a way that permits it to be satisfactorily viewed requires genius of no mean order.

That there was a Genius on the Job the result amply proved. During the entire performance there was no time that even a careless observer could not follow each separate act without becoming confused. This condition was effected by the grouping of acts according to their class. It is especially distracting and irritating to be obliged to follow a program in which an aerial act and a ground act are given simultaneously. In order to follow one you must lose the other. The same observation applies to a simultaneous rendition of menage acts with acts of almost any other character. The power of human perception is not equal to the task put upon it by the indiscriminate mixing up of a performance. Hence the widespread objection to the three-ring show.

There is a nice question here—a problem in optics, if you will—for the circus man to labor with.

This year the Barnum & Bailey management have solved the problem—they have removed the cause of objection as nearly as may be, so that now you can go to the big show and come away satisfied that you have seen it all. By general consent, The Billboard is pleased to say that Harvey Watkins did it.

AN IMPOSING OPENING.

To the stirring notes of a grand march by the big band, a gorgeous and stately military pageant encircled the arena. The array was an impressive one, and a fitting prelude to the great performance that was to follow.

HERZOG'S STALLIONS.

Immediately after came the Royal Troupe of Thoroughbreds and Herzog's School of Stallions. The first was a riding act in which the riders performed many difficult evolutions, waving long wands covered with flowers. Herzog's six black stallions performed most daintily and were heartily applauded.

The troupe of leaping and high-vaulting acrobats and clowns was as interesting as ever, and as daring.

QUEEN JOSIE.

Among the bareback riders, the work of Josie DeMott stood out prominently. The charming personality of this dainty queen of the sawdust ring and her daring somersault on the bare back of a swiftly running horse brought a most liberal hand from the audience. Dottie Julian, the Meers Sisters and Carrie Rooney in a previous number, held close attention and were favored. There was also some good riding by Chas. Siegrist and William Melrose, Fred Derrick and John Rooney.

The cart riding and driving act that has become so popular of late years, was well represented by Dottie Julian and Fred Ledgett, and the Four Meers. The latter act was full of comedy business and appealed strongly to the audience which gave it full approval.

There was a big representation of Japanese juggling and balancing, with the thrilling backward slide down an inclined cable. The slide made a great hit with the audience.

WIRE BALANCING.

LaTroupe Carmen led the wire balancing act in a most clever performance. There are four members of this company, and their feats of wire-walking and balancing were away up in the class.

Loula Bolter gave a splendid exhibition of bicycle balancing on wire. George Cole's work on the bounding wire was very well received.

TUMBLERS AND ACROBATS.

The tumblers and acrobats were well represented by The Steves Troupe, The Waldlund-Tekla Trio, The Castrillions, Kennard Brothers, and Bell and Henry. The headline event in this class was The Sisters Grunath, a troupe of seven girls and one man, very beautifully costumed and they performed some unusual acrobatic work to the great satisfaction of the onlookers.

The Bolter Brothers gave an exhibition of novelty bicycle acrobatic work that was as new as it was daring. Not an act in this class was slow. Every one had the snap and go that holds attention.

TRAINED ANIMAL ACTORS.

The big animal act was the troupe of trained elephants in three herds presented by George Bates, Harry J. Johnson and George Denman. The precision and agility with which these great mountains of flesh went through the evolutions of their drill was wonderful to behold.

The combination of events in Display No. 9 was calculated to interest the little folks as well as the big. There were in this number Capt. Winston's wonderful seal-iron actors, whose tricks of balancing and juggling would be worthy of human beings. George Brown's leaping and trick dogs were very interesting. The finale of this act was a twelve foot jump by a big Russian wolfhound. Harry J. Mooney with his dogs and ponies and elephant had a very attractive act, and Louise Stickney got a real burst of enthusiasm out of the audience over in her corner by the work of her dog and pony. Charles Woodford's dog, pony and monkey act was an exhibition of animal comedy that is rarely seen.

RIDING SEAL.

The big sensation in the trained animal business was Display No. 10 in which the riding seal was introduced, by Capt. Winston. The audience got the full effect of this novel act because it was put on alone. The seal mounts the platform on the pony's back and rides around the ring with apparent indifference to its unusual position. It goes through all the juggling acts that any other trained seal does and closes the performance by patting the neck of its pony. Frequent bursts of applause punctuated this number, showing that the audience really knew a good thing when it saw it, and were given an opportunity to study it.

THE NOVELLOS.

Another clever novelty in the trained animal line was The Novellos. This is a large troupe when all the attendants are included. The performers numbered twelve including the animals. The most clever feature of this act is the posing of the elephant on its hind legs with a small terrier seated on its head and two others on its forearms, as it stands with legs outstretched.

The giant see-saw is introduced in this act. The elephant walks up one side and down the other. As the big plank goes down with the weight of the elephant, an acrobat standing on the other end is tossed high in the air. This is repeated several times with variations and received with favor.

SIEGRIST-SILBON AERIALISTS.

The first time in the history of circus events at Madison Square Garden, the audience got a chance to see and study the exhibitions of skill and daring involved in high aerial trapeze and casting acts. The event was Display No. 13, introducing the celebrated Siegrist-Silbon Troupe of aerial gymnasts. The trapeze and net were set lengthwise of the Garden, extending over at least a third of the distance, giving great sweep for the act. There are ten performers in the troupe, all experts. The arrangement of the apparatus gave every one in the Garden an opportunity to observe the technicalities of the work and the frequent applause that was given testified to the fact that the audience did see and appreciate what was being done. Acts of this character can not be adequately described. They must be seen to be appreciated.

HIGH-SCHOOL RIDING ACT.

The Rhoda Royal high-school riding and driving act, given under Display No. 12, was probably one of the best exhibitions of trained horsemanship and trained riding horses that has ever been given. Particularly interesting was the cart act of Minnie Taylor, working with pony and dogs. Manuel Herzog and Josephine Kombeck, Richard H. Dockrill, and Rose Heintzman, John Fuller, John Chambers and Carrie Norenberg with Rhoda Royal on "Bath House John," the Conches-Couche horse, gave many a varied exhibition, illustrating the intelligence of their respective steeds.

SKI-SAILING—THE NEW FEATURE.

The big novel act of the program was Capt. Carl Howelsen's exhibition of Ski-sailing. A long, steep incline similar to that used for the bicycle leap-the-gap act is used by Capt. Howelsen. A run-way is made for the skis, which lock like long narrow boards, and is lubricated with soft soap. At the word go the Captain slides down the incline with a rapidity of a flash and sails through the air as though he had wings, landing on a canvas slide about sixty feet from the end of the incline. The momentum is so great that the dry canvas fairly smokes with friction before the ski-sailor comes to a sudden stop up near the wall at the end of the arena. This act will certainly be a feature of circus business for 1907. It has them all beat. At least that is what the audience thought, and they did not conceal their admiration for the daring and skill of the doughty Captain.

HIPPODROME ACTS.

The Hippodrome acts, always interesting, seemed to be even more so this year, because there was no unexcitement on the part of the audience when that section of the program was reached. Everybody remained in their seats to see the chariot races. These events are enumerated in detail in the program published herewith.

DIP OF DEATH.

As a finale to the evening's performance "The Dip of Death," or L'Auto-Rolide was presented by Miss Isabelle Butler. This act is familiar to patrons of the Barnum & Bailey Show, having been one of the old features of the show. Miss Isabelle Butler is strapped in the "smoke wagon" and slides down the incline. It is certainly a daring feat, but it does not arouse the audience to any great degree of enthusiasm.

THE CLOWN SYNDICATE.

The clown syndicate and fun trust kept busy throughout the performance. Stockholders of this trust, headed by Silvers Oakley, are: Geo. Brown, Arthur Horella, Little Forrester, Sam Bennett, Harry Jerome, Dan Marvella, Jule Baker, Steve Mlaco, Dan Ryan, Ed. Kennard, Chad, Wertz, Pepe Jerome, Geo. Mlaco, Fred Jenkins, Peter Hill, Spader Johnson, Hughie Zorella, Frank Marvella, Chas. Kennard, Fred Roberts, Thos. Jerome, Ed. Marvella, George Cole.

They have four hundred different gags. Count them if you can. There is not a loafer in the gang. Most pretentious of these was a burlesque on the "Seeing New York Towns," labelled for this occasion "Seeing New York-Ers." The big automobile coach was filled with clowns dressed mostly as Indians. They go around the arena and get off at the No. 2 Stage, where they perform a War Dance and sing a song. The whole thing being a clever burlesque on the Indian act in Plovers' Plays at the Hippodrome. Another novel stunt is a prize fight and a subsequent raid by the police, who grab a dummy for one of the fighters and race off with it in a patrol wagon. These are the most spectacular of the clown events.

THE SIDE-SHOW.

The side-show attractions are well up to the standard of the Barnum & Bailey Show, and include the following artists and prodigies: Halle Willis and Halle, introducing their Grand Aluminum Chimes and various other musical instruments; the celebrated Gulliver Troupe of lilliputians, highly accomplished and versatile comedians, singers, gymnasts and dancers, and the human Colossus George Auger, known as the Welsh Giant, the tallest man alive to-day. Also Rosa Wedsted, the Finland Giantess, tallest woman alive to-day; Mlle. Ani, Snake Enchantress; Mlle. Bovero, Sword Swallower; Krao, the Missing Link; Marie, English Par-Girl; Norman Green, Human Skeleton; Vito Paselli, Vegetable Expert; Greenwood, Tattooed Man; McNulty's Punch and Judy; Major Page, Budget Comedian; Liberra, the Man with the Dual Body; Bayrooy Troupe, Arabian Gun-Spinners, Wildwind Dancers, Sword Combat; Len-til, Three-Legged Boy; Manly, Iron-Skull Man; Walters, the Thin Man.

THE MENAGERIE.

Of the menagerie nothing but praise can be said. Here is to be found the largest traveling zoo in the world. That the public is still interested in the animal end of the circus is proved by the thousands who have thronged the menagerie in the basement of the Garden every day since the opening.

THE VISITORS.

Prominent among the visiting showmen were Mr. John Hunsling, of Remling Brothers; Mr. Max Anderson, of The Hippodrome; Col. M. H. Welsh, of the former Welsh Circus; Al. Martin, of Uncle Tom's Cabin fame; Col. Gads, and the executive staff of the Buffalo Bill Show, including Major Burke, Walter K. Hill and others; Col. Saseley, G. Robinson, representative of the United States Lithographing Co., without whose presence no circus opening at the Garden can properly come off; Channing Pollock, Wells & Hawks, president of The Friars and Charles Frohman's press agent; Frank Willard, press agent for the Sibborts; Philip Min-dill, promoter of general publicity; and a large number of prominent newspaper and other press representatives.

On the reception committee at the entrance were Louis E. Cooke, general representative; Chester Fellows, Willard Coxy, James De-Wolf, Harvey Watkins, and others, of the Barnum & Bailey staff, who extended the glad hand of greeting to their many friends.

THE PROGRAM.

DISPLAY NO. 1. The Pageant of the Nations opened the elaborate program and consisted of uniformed and fully armed detachments representing the armies of the several great Nations of the World, accompanied by a retinue of picturesque Orientals. The glittering arms and trappings of men and horses, and the rich apparel of the Orientals, formed a delightful moving picture, which was followed by a ripple of applause on all sides.

Animal intelligence and dexterous horsemanship were at once illustrated in the second part of this number: the first by Manuel Herzog's School of Stallions—six well-trained beauties whose grace of action was as dainty as a premiere chorus; the last by a troupe of trained thoroughbreds, whose riders executed many difficult evolutions.

DISPLAY NO. 2. Tournament of famous champion leapers. High vaulters and long-distance jumpers, introducing Charles Burke, champion of the world, who does a double somersault leap over four elephants. Excellent work was done by each performer, including the PARK NOTES.

Aaron J. Jones has returned to Chicago after a pleasant visit with his family at Gulfport, Miss., and is now busily engaged in getting his various park enterprises in shape for the coming season. With Adolph Linick and Peter J. Schaeffer, Mr. Jones is spending fully one hundred thousand dollars in installing a new scenic railway and Hell Gate at River-view Park. This resort promises to be second to none in point of magnitude and magnificence in America. The park season in Chicago will be marked by considerable rivalry. There will be a number of new show stunts presented by White City and Sans Souci and the management of Luna Park will open a brand new resort for Chicago amusement lovers.

W. H. Dilger, the aviator, has been informed by the music publishing house in Cincinnati that they are getting out a catchy intermezzo two-step for band, orchestra and piano solo, entitled On the Wings of the Wind, which has been dedicated by the author, Henry Fillmore, to W. H. and Beatrice Dilger, the latter being Mr. Dilger's accomplished wife, who is also an aviator. The frontispiece shows the Dilgers steering their dirigible air-ship at a speedy clip among the clouds. Mr. Fillmore considers this his best work and the piece will be included in the repertoire of the leading bands and orchestras this season.

Ground has been broken for Chutes Park on Sea Wall Boulevard, Galveston, Tex., and work is being rushed so the resort may be formally opened May 4. Among the concessions will be the Katzenjammer Castle, Palace of Wonder, Mirror Maze, Fun Factory, Mill's Novelty Arcade, Theo, the Flying Lady; The Sea Wave, Around the World and the Mystic Hill.

John R. Gill, formerly of the White City staff, Chicago, has assumed the management of White City, Springfield, Ill., and will open it May 12. Some new attractions are being added and with improved car service a prosperous season is anticipated.

The Zoo at Springfield, Ill., has issued a set of very attractive souvenir postcards depicting scenes and buildings in the park. They are artistically finished in colors and have proven a splendid advertisement.

Dolling Park, one of the oldest and best known parks in Springfield, Mo., has been purchased by Charles Brooks of Ft. Scott, Kan., and two other gentlemen for $50,000. They will operate it this summer.

The Rosards, comedy acrobats, are playing an indefinite engagement at Chutes Park, Los Angeles, Cal. This act has been recognized as a feature at the Rosport, Mo., Fair again this season.

Capt. Saul Boynton, of Shoot the Chutes fame, has been engaged by Geo. C. Tilson to manage his Steeplechase Island at Arkport, Conn., for the coming season.

The Lemon Amusement Co. is putting out a park novelty this season and one that promises to be a money getter. The first one will be opened at Coney Island May 1.

Fred Buchanan, manager of Ingersoll Park, Des Moines, Ia., paid a business trip to Chicago last week.

The new piece which Charles Frohman produced at the Duke of York's Theatre Monday, March 4, was, as I have already informed you, entitled, "The Great Conspiracy." As everyone knows, the Miss Madeleine Lucette Hyley's version of M. Pierre Berton's La Belle Marsellaise. The following is the cast of the principal characters, and there are a large number of one-act plays and the stage is crowded with people.

- John Hare
- Miss Irene Vanbrugh
- Robertshaw
- Aid-de-Camp.....Henry Ainley
- E. Dagnall
- Audrey Smith
- Miss Madge MacLinth
- Miss Jane May

Among other good things in this production is the scenic setting of the wedding ceremony. Mr. Ainley a favorite of Napoleon and Miss Irene Vanbrugh (Jeanne), and judge of the vast amount of preparation and attention to minutest detail this production will stand out as one of the most gorgeous of the season.

Another Boarder produced, on March 4, Miss Unger's long-promised play, Mr. Sheridan's "In Four Acts." Miss Unger is a San Francisco girl with all the spirit of the West that came from the Land of the Free, and has great dramatic power which should have been used for Gerard Grant Allen, the enterprising Chicago manager, is later on getting to produce Miss Unger's other play, "A Knight of Hearts," the hero of which is a knight from the colonies.

Miss Hark of Holland, the bright new musical at the Prince of Wales Theatre, in London has become one of the biggest successes of the present day, and there is now a demand for more "Dutch cheese," but "Dutch evening."

Mr. Darling, which Mr. Hicks describes as a "black domino set to music," takes the audience to Paris, and the big thing of the evening will be the Vantage ball, which will introduce all the multi-colored effects of southern France. Mr. Hicks has secured M. Armand Kallos, the French Parkour, for this new play.

The New Aladdin is still spinning along on the high road of popularity at the Gaiety Theatre, and once more that genial and hearty comedian Edmund Payne, is back in the cast. There is quite a new feature in the program now which is rendered with great success by Miss Agnes Kelly, assisted by a Japanese dancer in the "Jin Jitsu" song and dance.

The week some time Messrs. Vedreone & Barker will put on Ibsen's Hedda Galdar at the Court Theatre. As I have already told you in my recent letters, Mrs. Patrick Campbell will take the name part.

TO STAR PAULINE CHASE

Miss Pauline Chase is to be starred by Charles Frohman in London next autumn, and the play in which she will have the heroine's part will be written for her by her godfather, J. M. Barrie. Miss Chase, besides being possessed of great personal charms, is a very clever young actress, and has been playing Peter Pan in London for months past to crowded houses. Mr. Barrie has great faith in her and he will make a big effort to provide her with a play that will be a success for her, for himself and for Mr. Frohman.

E. H. Southern and Miss Julia Marlowe have arranged a huge program, beginning April 22, at the Waldorf Theatre, the Shubert house. English audiences are looking forward with interest to such productions as Jeanne d'Arc and When Knighthood Was in Flower, which are two of the plays that will be produced, and I am sure I wish them every success in this gigantic effort to win a London approval.

SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM IN THE LIARS

Sir Charles Wyndham and Miss Mary Mosse will return to their old headquarters at the Criterion Theatre, to begin a season there on April 5, with a revival of The Liars. Later on they expect to produce a new play by Hubert Henry Davies.

Next Saturday evening Lewis Waller will produce a new four-act play by Horace Hodges and T. Wigney Percival, entitled The Little Admiral at St. James' Theatre, with the following cast:

- Admiral Sir Anthony Adenbrooke.....A. E. George
- Lieutenant Anthony Adenbrooke, R. N. (his grandson).....Lewia Waller
- Lieutenant Joseph Shafter, R. N.C. M. Lewis
- Captain Kent, R. N.Charles Groves
- Boatswain Von Loewe.....Herman de Lange
- John Speedwell.....Charles Fulton
- Commodore.....Herbert Jarman
- Mr. Walter.....Shiel Barry
- Miss Quirk.....Miss Carlotta Addison
- Miss Churchill.....Miss Evelyn Millard

The last week of the present season of French plays begins March 5, when M. Darcy, M. Paul M. Lefevre and Mlle. Feugot will appear in a famous farcical comedy, La Cognotte. The famous Feu Tonpinel will be given on the last evening, and at the Saturday matinee La Cognotte is billed for the Wednesday matinee.

A whole of clubland in London was astonished some days ago by an extraordinary rumour from whom originated nobody knows. It was that the heir to one of the most notable fortunes in the kingdom was about to ally himself with Miss Myrtila Dare, the young actress who has been so much talked about since a few days ago. The heir was none other than Lord Leighton, eldest son of the Earl of Roseberry. The rumour was immediately set on foot as to the truth of this report, and communicating with the father of the young man, namely Lord Leighton, the following statement was received and appeared in print: "Certainly not. He does not know her even to speak to." So what has been given cause for much excitement resulted in nothing after all.

THE LATEST OTHELLO

Dscar Asche was last week appearing with Miss Lily Brayton at one of the outlying London theatres, namely the Kennington Theatre, and made a splendid hit in his interpretation of the jealous Moor. His grand physical proportions, added to his fine acting, earned for him numerous well-deserved recalls.

Cyril Maude will produce for a series of matinees H. A. Vachell's play, Her Son, beginning March 12, with the following cast: Dick Gascoyne.....Cyril Maude; Mr. Augustus Helmingham, Alfred Bishop; Miss.....Master Bobbie Andrews; Crystal White.....Miss Nina Boucault; Suzanne.....Miss Emma Chambers; Lady Helmingham.....Miss Florence Hayden; Toyshopper.....Miss Kate Harwood; Dorothy Fairfax.....Miss Winifred Emery

The following arrangement has been made for the annual Shakespeare festival week at His Majesty's Theatre, The Troupes Monday, April 22; The Winter's Tale, Tuesday, April 23; Hamlet, Wednesday afternoon April 24; Twelfth Night, Wednesday evening, April 24; Julius Caesar, Thursday, April 25; The Merry Wives of Windsor, Friday, April 26; Julius Caesar, Saturday matinee, April 27; The Merry Wives of Windsor, Saturday evening April 27. Mr. Frederick Harrison will, by arrangement with Otto Stuart, put Peter's Mother into the bill instead of Lady Hwntworth's Experiment, at the Haymarket Theatre on Saturday.

The production of W. J. Locke's new play, The Palace of Puck, has had to be postponed, as the rehearsal is delayed a couple of weeks until Charles Hawtree has quite recovered from the effects of the slight operation he underwent last week.

FATHER OF COMIC OPERA DEAD

Following closely upon the death of Miss Rosina Brandram, the popular star of comic opera, comes the news of the death of Richard Mansfield, widely known as the Father of Comic Opera in this country. He was born in Ireland, of Scotch parentage, and in the late sixties he went to Khartoum in the employment of the Egyptian Cotton Company. Returning to London in 1876, he became (in association with his brother) lessee of the Lyceum Theatre, where he produced Hervé's comic opera, Chilperic, and introduced M. Marius to the English stage. He was at various times lessee and manager of the Gaiety and St. James' Theatres, London, the Queen's Theatre, Manchester, and the Alexandra Theatre, Liverpool. In late years he had been general manager for E. G. Sanders at the Coronet and Camden Theatres, London. His family name was Mathland, but he took the name of Mansfield for stage purposes.

Henry Arthur Jones' great American success, The Hypocrites, will be produced in London in the autumn, with Miss Marion Terry in a prominent part.

Herbison Tree, at the special matinee, Feb. 28, at His Majesty's Theatre, announced that as the performance of The Red Lamp had proved so popular, he would revive the play on Saturday, March 16, whilst arrangements are being completed to take Antony and Cleopatra to Berlin. On the same night he will produce The Vanhook, a new one-act play, in which he will appear with Weedon Grossmith.

THE LIVING PICTURE CRAZE

Still they come! Wherever you see a music hall bill now you will be sure to see among the list of acts a living picture turn. The craze is absolutely remarkable and music halls have for the moment become picture and stamper galleries for those who have no time or inclination, or shall I say, appreciation, of the original works of art.

"The public," said a London music hall manager the other day "have taken a great fancy to living pictures, and, naturally, we give them what they want. It is remarkable, however, that all these turns, with but few exceptions, come from abroad."

The lady who first started the craze was Venus La Milo. She is an Australian. Then to the Palace Theatre came Galatas, from America. Then the Pavilion Music Hall management, finding that Venus proved a draw, brought over a family called The Seldons, who seldom wore any clothes, but slight draperies in their act. This week there has been added a French company of sixteen people eight men and eight women, who are giving a show at the Oxford. The only theatre in London where English people are posing as living pictures is at the Empire Theatre, Leicester Square, and here for some of the groups genuine artist's models are employed. Every week there are fresh additions, and if the craze continues into the hot weather one section of musical performers will at least be able to keep cool.

Last Saturday night, at the Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Zanig gave their last performance of their entertainment, last Saturday night. A Miss, the chairman and managing director of the company, presented to Madam Zanig, and a scene of pure enthusiasm, a handsome diamond and emerald pendant, on behalf of the Alhambra Co. Ltd.

FAMOUS MAGICIAN DEAD.

Charles Fortram, the magician, died at his home here Feb. 27. He was a very popular performer and had a world-wide reputation. He was born in 1831, at Woodwich, where his father was a meat contractor. Fortram was educated for the ministry, but had to release his studies because of ill health. His father set him up in the wine and spirit business, but he followed this vocation only a short time, and in 1882 adopted the stage as a profession. He appeared many times before royalty and quite often in society events, his charm of manner making him a double favorite.

For a long time London has missed those clever artists, Max and Flora Bengtson, who as juvenile singers and dancers were immensely popular. They will now have a chance to renew their acquaintance with the ladies, for they have taken a special trip across from America in order to fulfill a short engagement at the Empire Music Hall, Leicester Square. On Monday next, Bransby Williams, fresh from his pantomime successes will open at the same house with an entirely new entertainment.

And Snyder, who has been named the "King of Trick Cyclists," is appearing in a daring new act at the Hippodrome, and earns well-deserved applause.

At the Titoll, once more the stars reign supreme, and amongst the most popular ones are Harry Lauder, the "Only Scotch Comedian," and Miss Winifred Hare.

Hale's Tours of the World, which combine amusement with educational advantages, are enjoying great popularity both at 165 Oxford Street and 64 High Street, Kensington.

VESTA TILLEY GIVEN OVATION

The business done last week at the Palace Theatre was a record one for the year. The house was crammed to its utmost capacity at each of the seven performances, and on Saturday evening Vesta Tilley was the recipient of a remarkably enthusiastic reception. The applause following her efforts was timed at 75 seconds. This week the Howard Brothers are once more in the bill at the same house, after the somewhat prolonged illness of James Howard. I am glad to say, however, that he is now thoroughly recovered.

Very soon I shall be able to welcome our old friend, Mrs. Whallen's Boy, Mike back to London, as he's returning covered with the laurels of fame from a successful tour in South Africa. More power to him.

Messrs. Maskelyne and Devant will this week present a revised program at St. George's Hall which have engaged Karl Genzette, a clever American conjurer, who gives an original entertainment, and they have retained the services of the premiere child impersonator and lighting sketch artist, Harry Hemsley, who got in good with the English artists from the jump.

Barton and Ashley, in their sketch Canal Boat, are getting in good with the people of Bradford, where they are appearing this week at the Palace Theatre.

Lazern, the Mystic, has returned covered with honors from a successful tour in the English provinces, and opened in London last week at the Hippodrome.

Terrier Fred Nelman has scored his usual success at the Leeds Palace in his smart ventriloquist act.

Will Evans sailed for America on Wednesday last and is looking forward to a pleasant trip amongst pleasant people.

May Moore Duprez is in the land of Erin, at the Empire, Dublin, and, as usual, has succeeded in winning great praise for her clever efforts to amuse.

Frank and Jen Latons are popular favorites at the Coliseum, Glasgow.

The three Sisters Macarte are this week making a big hit at the Grand Theatre, Bolton.

Mr. Zebra and Vora, in their Indian Pastimes are doing great at Liverpool this week.

The supreme comedy pair, Phil and Nettie Peters, are going merrily along on the big Moss-side tour, and are this week causing big waves of merriment at the Empire Theatre, Wolverhampton.

Imho Fox, the only original comic conjurer, walked to The Billboard office yesterday looking as gay and happy as a lark after his big success in provincial pantomime, where he took a part that was eminently suited to him, namely, Ebenezer, the magician, in Aladdin.

Clarence Dean, late of the Buffalo Bill and Barnum & Bailey Shows, was in yesterday, with the same old smile and hearty greeting as of yore.

NEW VAUDEVILLE MOVE.

Klaw & Erlanger made another very important move in their advanced vaudeville enterprise yesterday, when it was decided that instead of operating one theatre in Philadelphia they would devote two houses to their vaudeville plans. The Park Theatre, which has long been known as the best family house in the city of Philadelphia, situated on Broad Street in the midst of the most fashionable residential portion of the city, will next season be devoted exclusively to high-class vaudeville, giving two performances each day.

Klaw & Erlanger are also making arrangements for the erection of new theatres to be devoted to vaudeville in Pittsburg, Newark, Rochester, Buffalo, Toronto and Detroit. The new American Theatre in St. Louis, now being erected for William Morjis, will be incorporated into this circuit. Plans for all these houses are well under way and the locations will be made public shortly. The theatres in these cities will possess all the latest improvements and will be operated by managers who are experienced not only in vaudeville, but in the high-class theatrical management.

Frederick Thompson, who is associated with Klaw & Erlanger in their vaudeville enterprises, is to take a trip to these various cities next week to look over the locations that have been secured. The plans for the new houses are laid out on the lines of the New York Hippodrome with this exception—That the stages of all these theatres will be constructed in such a way as not to make great spectacles entirely necessary, but in each of them, however, the big features of the Thompson & Dundy Hippodrome and Luna Park Ideas will be embodied.

Klaw & Erlanger also started yesterday that they have in contemplation theatres in several other eastern points, the details of which will be announced shortly.

PROPOSED LAW DEFEATED.

The Bill before the Iowa Legislature aimed at Sunday theatres, was defeated after a hard fight. Had it passed there would have been no more Sunday theatres or parks.

The bill relative to amusements on Decoration Day was finally amended to allow sports and amusements to run after three p. m.

MANAGER DINKINS ILL.

Manager Thomas W. Dinkins of the Ron Ton Theatre, Jersey City, N. J., is seriously ill with pleuro-pneumonia at his home in New York City. The best medical aid has been enlisted in his behalf and a number of trained nurses are in constant attendance.

H. C. Harris, monologist and comedian, has joined hands with Chas. M. Lovejoy; they will be billed as Harris and Lovejoy.

TO QUASH INDICTMENTS.

Asking for the dismissal of the indictments for alleged conspiracy against Marc Klaw and Abraham L. Erlanger, members of the theatrical syndicate when he represents, Edward Lauterbach argued for two hours before Judge Rosalsky, in General Sessions Court March 18.

His grounds for the request were that the evidence before the Grand Jury was illegal and incompetent. His argument, he said, was based on the minutes of the Grand Jury which related to his two clients, as he had not been permitted to see the indictments against them. This is for the reason that the indictments also name Al. Hayman, Charles Frohman, Samuel F. Nirdlinger and J. Fred Zimmerman, Sr., and they have not been brought into court as yet, Mr. Hayman and Mr. Frohman being in Europe and the others in Philadelphia.

Mr. Lauterbach said that so certain was he that the indictments were faulty from a legal viewpoint he would be glad to see the District Attorney cause the arrest of Mr. Nirdlinger and Mr. Zimmerman that the whole matter might be returned in extradition proceedings before the Governor of Pennsylvania. He said the indictments did not allege that the public interests had been injured by the syndicate, whose object was to facilitate the theatrical business.

Chief of those who were heard by the Grand Jury, Mr. Lauterbach said, were David Belasco, who had fought the members of the syndicate in the civil courts, and Lee Shubert. He added that the District Attorney should not have left his bid to either side where there had been a personal grievance between individuals.

In reply Assistant District Attorney Kresel said there was proof that the business methods of the six men who, he said, control more than five hundred theatres in the country were in restraint of trade. He denied that Mr. Belasco was other than a witness in the case.

Judge Rosalsky took the briefs from both sides and reserved his decision.

Dramatic

The Sterling Dramatic Co., under the personal management of James Morrow House, will open its fifth regular summer season, under canvas, at Sparta, Ill., Monday, April 22, with a brand new outfit entirely different from anything of the kind ever heretofore used for dramatic productions. The roster of this company will comprise some of the very best known repertoire people and the plays produced will be exclusively those of the better class, which are the sole property of Mr. House.

House's Monte Cristo and Rip Van Winkle companies are playing the southwestern territory to well pleased audiences and to business that is wholly satisfactory to the management.

Eldredge and Meakin, the theatrical managers, are arranging to place two new stars of first magnitude in the theatrical firmament next season. They are Miss Lucille LeVerne and Miss Alice Johnson. Miss LeVerne is supporting William Gillette in Clarice, playing the part of the "nigger mammy," Clancy. Miss Johnson is supporting T. Daniel Frawley in Minneapolis and is making good in emotional parts.

Ernest Shipman's clever star, Anna Day, is winning great praise for her excellent portrayal of the character of Mary Tudor in When Knighthood was in Flower. Many requests for return engagements have already been received at the New York office, but it is Mr. Shipman's intention to play the route as originally booked. Miss Day will undoubtedly use this play as a vehicle for next season's tour.

The 500th performance of The Arrival of Kitty was given at Wheeling, March 21. And the event was one of note. The author, Norman Lee Swartout, journeyed from Rochester, N. Y., for the occasion. The season of this company does not close until late in May and will open early in August under the same management. Three companies will tour the United States.

Contracts have been signed with Miss Rose Ogban whereby she will open in the title role in Mrs. Warren's Profession at the Willis-Wood Theatre, Kansas City on Easter Monday night. A company of well-known players has been engaged for her support. Miss Ogban's tour will include all the cities of the middle west and will extend to the coast.

Miss Anna Day and Co. will close their regular season at New Orleans, April 13. The company will return immediately to New York, and after a brief lay off, a spring tour will be inaugurated including engagements in several nearby cities.

Arrangements are being perfected whereby Miss Eveleen Dunmore, who has created such favorable comment this season in the character of Kitty in the comedy, The Arrival of Kitty, will be seen in a musical production the coming season under the direction of a well-known manager.

Under Suspicion is the title decided for Ramsay Morris' new melodrama which is to be given an elaborate production by James D. Barton & Co. The piece is to have a spring production out of town, and will be seen in New York early next season.

Amy Ricard has been engaged for one of the principal characters in James K. Hackett's production of Ramsay Morris' play The Girl in White. Rehearsals of the piece are being held daily at the Hackett Theatre, New York.

Harry J. Austin closed with the Blunkall-Atwood Stock Co at Atlanta, Ga., and is now at the Dreamland Theatre, East St. Louis, Ill. His wife, Lottie Graham, is with the Barrie Stock Co., touring Kansas.

Hary Hall is winning praise everywhere for the good work she is doing as the Girl in Belasco's Girl of the Golden West territory not covered by Blanche Bates.

Donald Meek has replaced C. H. Rabston in the Jessie Shirley Co. Mr. Rabston closes to make a tour of England, France, Germany, Austria and Italy.

THE HAGENBECK-WALLACE HORSES.

The selection of horses is a mighty important business with a big circus. Showmen generally realize that because of the affect it has upon the average spectator along the line of parade, this feature is worthy of all the thought, trouble and money it costs.

When arrangements were perfected for the consolidation of the Carl Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows and the former aggregation was moved from temporary quarters at New Orleans to Peru, Ind., the home of the Great Wallace Shows, the first thing B. E. Wallace did after seeing to the comfort of the live stock, wild and tame, was to keenly scrutinize the horses. Horses, by the way, are one of Mr. Wallace's most pronounced hobbies and a more expert judge possibly does not exist. The work in hand was not as difficult for him as one might imagine, though he had to scour the adjacent country to get the desired kind—dappled gray—to mate with those already owned by him. The mating up of the many horses is an object lesson to the eye, and uniformity in size and color always predominating must be kept in mind. It has been the ambition of his life that all the draft horses should be of the dappled gray class. After keenly scrutinizing the ensemble of some 800 or 900 horses comprising the stables of the Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows, he started the work of disposing of the under sized, off-color stock, and began the task of mating and selecting 400 of one kind. Time, intelligence, patience and perseverance were necessary in making the selections. That he has accomplished the work goes without saying, as the word "fall" is not in the vocabulary of B. E. Wallace, and when the big series of tents spread out over acres of ground in Peru in April, the beginning of the season, and the signal is sounded for the initial parade and the Hagenbeck and Great Wallace Shows open, 400 dappled gray horses will proudly prance forth pulling the lengthy, newly painted and constructed chariots, cages, etc., comprising the parade and it will be the first time in the history of the circus that the entire stock of draft horses will be of one color and breeding.

BOSS CANVASMAN DEAD.

Tom Fay, a well-known boss canvasser, died at his mother's home at St. Charles, Minn., March 13, of heart failure. He had been ailing for the last two years and had to leave the Campbell Brothers' Show the middle of last season on account of ill health. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Howard, a mother, three brothers and two sisters; one of the brothers is Wm. H. Fay, for many years a circus train master, and at the present time superintendent of dining cars for Ringling Brothers.

Thomas E. Fay was born at Portland, Maine, March 27, 1852, so he was nearly 55 years of age at the time of his death. His parents moved to Minnesota in 1856 and he lived on the farm until 1871 when he went to Chicago after the big fire, remaining there until the next year, when he cast his lot in the show business, joining the Great Eastern Circus as canvasser. Byron Rose was the boss canvasser. In 1874 Jud Webb became boss canvasser and the management that year introduced the two ring circus, which, by the way, was the first of the kind. Tom Fay was selected to go ahead of the show and lay out the lot, hire men in the town and have the two rings built ready for the show on its arrival next morning. In 1876 he was with L. B. Lent's Circus. In '78 he was with the W. W. Cole's Circus; and in '79 with Forepaugh's Show, under Dan Taylor. In 1880 he became boss canvasser with Burr Robbins' Circus. Since that time he has been with all the leading shows in the country as a boss canvasser. Tom Fay had few equals in his day as a boss canvasser. He commanded a large acquaintance in the circus world and was well liked by all who knew him.

ROBINSON ENGAGES BIG FEATURES.

John G. Robinson is the busiest fellow in Cincinnati these warm spring days. He just recently returned from his trip to Europe and is devoting all his time to arranging for some big novelties for the Ten Big this season. He enjoyed his trip greatly, and saw all the latest in the circus line in London, Paris, Berlin and Hamburg.

A feature with the Robinson Show this year will be the Katzen Duo, a team of women who do miracles while suspended in mid air by their teeth; they are the originals. While abroad Mr. Robinson also engaged three equestrian acts entirely new to America. This season he is going to have the strongest ring show that the Robinson people have ever put up. Fred Fisher will be equestrian director again. Ed. Cullen will be back with his first love after being absent for two years. Wm. Curtis will again have charge of the canvas. The John Robinson Show opens in Cincinnati the latter part of April.

It would take Mr. Robinson, he says, from now until the circus season is over, to tell all he saw while abroad that would attract the eye of the showman. He was greatly impressed with the magnificent Zoo Park of Carl Hagenbeck and succeeded in getting most of them over.

CIRCUS WINS AGAINST NORFOLK.

John G. Robinson was, on March 12, awarded a writ of error and supersedeas by the supreme court of Virginia against the City of Norfolk.

Last September the Robinson Show gave a performance outside the corporate limits of Norfolk and did not parade, the city demanding $100 for that privilege. Nevertheless the authorities levied the tax and the court of Law and Chancery sustained the action of the city. Mr. Robinson appealed from the decision.

CIRCUS GOSSIP.

The Circo Columbia is doing well in Cuba. Dan DuCrow, the clown, writes that the following American, English and German acts, Arizona, Troupe of acrobats, Percival, clog dancer; the Bosinis Troupe of Acrobats, the Four Toledos, novelty contortionists; the Franz Troupe of comedy cyclists, and Jack Abacco, barrel jumper and tumbler, are doing splendidly in their respective acts. The first two acts join the Forepaugh-Sells Show. The Bosinis join the Ringling Show. The Four Toledos go to England to play the Moss & Stoll Tour; the Franz Troupe will play parks, and Dan DuCrow will come to the States as the representative of the Circo Columbia.

The Nave Western Shows open at winterquarters in Frederick, Okla., next week and will spend the summer in Texas and Mexico. They have among other improvements two new wagons and are putting two thirty foot middle pieces in the top. The roster is as follows: T. D. Naves, proprietor and manager; The Vernells, contortionists and equilibrist; Billy Adams, juggler; Jo. Simmons, trapeze and rings; Dan Mackay, high diver and aeronaut; Jack Stipes, balloon manager; F. H. Wilmarth, clown; Mrs. Jessie Wilmarth, equestrienne, and Naves animals.

There are almost enough show people of Bloomington, Ill., to organize a circus. Each performer is hard at work upon his act. The Flying Fishers, five in number, will be with the Forepaugh-Sells Show again this season, as will the Flying LaVans, three in number. The Flying Wards join the Van Amburg Show. Berre and Hicks go with the John Robinson Show, and Dave O'Neil, Bunny Felder and Jake Friedman go with the Van Amburg Show.

The roster of the McKune Show No. 1 is as follows: Holloway & McKune, proprietors; Dr. C. Kaiser, head physician, and Mrs. Lucy Holloway, secretary and treasurer. The No. 1 Show has played to splendid business all winter, and the same might be said of their three other shows. This summer the No 1 company will spend along the shores of Lake Michigan. Prof. McKune is a great favorite with the natives as a magician and hypnotist.

With three circus openings in California this spring, the "native sons" and coast defenders will have an opportunity of witnessing a war between hillposters and agents which will make the late unpleasantness between Japan and Russia look like child's play. It is generally conceded that every foot of territory will be contested between the Norris & Rowe Shows, the Sells-Floto Shows and the Great C. T. Burch Shows.

Bert I. Conn died suddenly at his home, 422 N. Cherry street, Van Wert, Ohio, March 14, of uremic poison and paralysis of the throat and tongue. Mr. Conn had been connected with the advertising departments of the Berrum & Bailey, Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill's Wild West Shows for the past twenty years. Deceased was 44 years old and is survived by wife, mother and two brothers.

The following people have signed with the Castello Railroad Show: the Four Howards, The Lees, The Frasers, The LaVernes, Maud Arnold, Millie St. Clair and Wm. Johnson, Prof. Wallace and band of twelve pieces, Vivian Dinmore, feature lady aerialist; Jim Woods to handle the canvas, and "Curly" Voss as master of transportation. The show opens early in May in Racine, Wis.

The Hargreaves Show opens in Chester, Pa., April 20 after a complete renovation and enlargement. All the goods destroyed in the fire at the Arcade Hotel have been replaced and improved upon. General Agent John Henry Rice has mapped out an excellent route for the summer, and it looks as if the show would get a barrel of money.

P. P. Craft, who was in advance of Bostock's Animals this past winter, is renting at his home in Washington, D. C. This season he will in all probability manage Electric Park at Montgomery, Ala. John Church is in New York and will probably be with the Bostock exhibit at the Jamestown Exposition this summer.

The Hippodrome Shows have adopted royal purple and gold as their colors and they are spreading them lavishly upon their wagons and other paraphernalia. Fredonia, Kansas, their winter quarters, is a right busy place just now. The show opens May 2.

Lewis D. Comstock, formerly on Gollmar Brothers Advance Car. No. 1, and who has been doing the billposting at the new theatre in Council Bluffs, Ia., will be in the advance force of the Ringling Brothers' Show this season.

Col. E. M. Burk, one of the best known circus men in America, is the general manager of The Great C. T. Burch Circus. Mr. Burk has engaged J. H. B. Fitzpatrick, formerly associated with the Norris & Rowe Shows, as his general agent.

Russell G. Knicely has cancelled with the Will H. Weiser Carnival Co. and has signed as moving picture operator with the Ringling Brothers' Show.

The Steemon Family are at their home in Sanford, Florida.

"Baker Built" Show Tents

TENT TALK No. 2.

Why a Baker Tent? May be a natural question if you have never used a Baker—perfectly natural if you don't know Baker quality and Baker methods.

Hundreds of showmen asked—Why Baker? before they bought Baker tents. They found the answer in tents, honestly made from honest materials; tents that stood the tests of service. They have no doubt now, and if you try a Baker built, you too will decide with them that the Baker is the "best" tent, for the makers don't expect to get the "best" out of a tent unless they put the "best" in—best in materials, best in work—and thirty-five years' successful experience, too.

Let us figure with you on anything made of canvas—will be glad to.

Just out—the large Baker Tent Book. It's interesting and free.

The Cancie Brothers' United Shows have signed the agreement with the Alliance. Their advance department will employ about fifteen billposters, divided in two brigades. Frank E. Tracy will be general agent, Mike Stone, press agent, and John E. Garvey, special agent. In the side show will be featured King Cole, the Great Hall, Gavlin, physical culturist; Margie, the transparent girl; Bragg, the singing monkey; Madam Cameron's den of reptiles, and other features. The latest capture for the big show is the Les Troupe Zaritski, eight lady and gentlemen acrobats, including Little Alexis, the thiest acrobatic expert on earth.

Fred W. Falkner will be associated with Andrew Mackay and the Mackay European Shows this coming season in the capacity of business manager. A number of trained animal acts will be featured including Ora, Cecil's troupe of leopards, panthers and cougars, Mackay's troupe of lions and DeForest's troupe of dogs, monkeys and ponies. Negotiations are now under way for a large European novelty that is new to this country. The show opens in Chicago May 6.

James W. Beattie will manage the side show and concert with the Great Fashion Plate Shows this season. W. C. Morgan will be assistant. Mr. Morgan is now at Geneva fransing up the annex.

FATHER OF CAMPBELL BROS. DEAD.

Col. J. C. O'Brien, special representative and manager of the side show of Campbell Bros. Circus, received a telegram in Chicago last Friday morning from A. J. Campbell, stating that Wm. Campbell, father of Campbell Brothers,

ANNIE REDLINE.

The above is a good likeness of Mrs. J. H. Larabee, known professionally as Annie Redline, authoritatively claimed to be the largest woman in the United States. Miss Redline is forty years of age and tips the scales at a bit over 600 pounds; she is four feet, eight inches in height, and confesses to a waist measure of seven feet, 11 inches. Her first professional appearance was made in 1902 when she was featured at Cantes Park in 'Frisco. She played a return date there in 1906, and all of last season was a feature with the Great Parker Amusement Co. She is a great drawing card, and is spending the winter at her home in Sabetha, Kan.

ers, had died at Fairbury, Neb., on the preceding day. The elder Campbell came to his death as the result of a severe fall he sustained some time ago, breaking his leg and suffering internal injuries. He was buried at Fairbury, Friday, March 22.

NATIONAL ALLIANCE NOTES

That there is genuine hustle and bustle among the members of the National Alliance, and a desire on every hand to be on the spot when duty is the watchword, was manifested when the first call went out of the Barnum and Bailey Circus. It is a pleasure to record the names of those who responded promptly: Richard Berlinger, Richard Armstrong, William Hayes, Wilbur Winn, Wilson Thrope and Fred Mauer, Local No. 3, Pittsburg; Charles Beeler, Samuel S. Canby, James Gregg, Thomas Comora and Harley White, Local No. 4, Philadelphia; James A. Lyons, William Jacobs, Local No. 18, Newark; George E. Frazier, Local No. 7, Indianapolis; Ed. Hanson, Local No. 2, New York; E. P. Tice, Local No. 17, Boston; Charles Parks and W. C. Fisher, Local No. 33, Brooklyn; William Coats, Local No. 11, Cincinnati; Bayley Eckman, Local No. 20; Patterson; I. A. Meyers, Local No. 23, Memphis; William Pfeiffer, Local No. 6, Denver, and members of the Alliance including John H. Campbell, Chas. McLean, A. G. Little, H. L. Rohrbach, E. Bucher, P. E. Bryan, William B. Corbett and Henry Nation. National Secretary William J. Murray and Secretary William McCarthy visited the bill room.

Never in the history of the passing show has there been such a demand for billposters and billers, and that harmony and good fellowship exist between the general managers of the circuses throughout the country, and the National Alliance of Billposters and Billers, is demonstrated by the fact that all the big shows have signed the elvins agreement of that organization. The latest signatures reported are W. E. Ferguson, general manager of the Great Fashion Plate Shows, who signed for the North Central Amusement Company, with headquarters at Geneva, O., and Harry Cancie, general manager of the Cancie Brothers' Union Shows, who have their winter headquarters at Providence, R. I. These complete the list, and the season for the billposters to prove their competence is at hand.

Geo. Levansaler, Alliance member, and R. Ashbrook, of Local No. 14, Kansas City, have signed with the Wallace & Hagenbeck Show.

All road members of Local No. 30, Jersey City, N. J., are requested to send their dues to William F. Moran, Academy of Music, Jersey City.

B. F. Miller, of Local No. 5, St. Louis, will go out with the John Robinson Circus.

Walter Gazzolo, of Local No. 5, was signed with the Cole Brothers' Show.

MRS. SMITHERS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

A New Biograph Comedy in which School Days were Happy Days for all but the Professor.

LENGTH, - - - 751 FEET.

MRS. SMITHERS' BOARDING SCHOOL

Is an institution of learning for young girls. With these girls the cranky old professor is anything but popular. The practical jokes they play on him, which are simply indescribable, make his life so miserable that he hails the closing of the session with undisguised delight, for by this time he is a nervous wreck.

Paris Letter

Chas. Heller,
Representative.

THE principal event in Paris, not only of the week, but of the theatrical season was the production, on Feb. 28, at the Theatre de l'Odéon, of the dramatization of Zola's well-known novel, La Faute de l'Abbe Mouret (The Fault of the Abbe Mouret). The play is in four acts and eleven tableaux; it is to say eleven wonders of stage scenery. The scene in the third act, which presents the village church where the Abbe Mouret is celebrating mass at an altar, is absolutely marvelous. The drama met with a phenomenal success. Mlle. Sylvie and M. Verzas in the principal roles, M. Alfred Bruneau, the author, late Zola's intimate friend, and M. Antonine, director, were called before the public and cheered by the enthusiastic audience. The latter, who staged the play, received many compliments. The play is accompanied throughout by an orchestra and choir of a hundred executives, under the leadership of the famed conductor, M. Eduard Colonne.

Mme. Rose Caron, the celebrated opera singer, was enthusiastically applauded Feb. 27 at her final appearance at the Opera Comique, in Orpheus. Austria's leading tragedian, from the Burg Theatre, Vienna, Herr Josef Lewinsky, is dead, at the age of 72.

Another premiere was produced at the Theatre Francaise, when La Malvoisine (The House of Clay) was given for the first time. The author of the play is M. Fabre. It deals with the family dissensions of a divorced and re-married Mme. Arminiera, of whose two children by her first husband, the daughter was brought up by the mother, the son with his father. The whole play revolves around a complicated money question among the mother and the children from the first and second husband, and ends in Mme. Arminiera's leaving the house, which she failed to establish on the firm foundation of duty. The play was an enormous success for the acting ability of the great actress, Mme. Segond Weber.

Mme. Rejane is busy rehearsing the new play, Paris in New York. In the meantime the successful play, La Course du Flambeau, still holds the boards and draws good audiences at each performance.

Les Bouffons (The Buffoons) proves to be a great hit for Sarah Bernhardt, also for her theatre. As stated, Sarah is playing Jacasse, the principal man's role in the piece, and is mighty good in it, too. The Bouffons is one of her great successes.

M. Tarride the leading actor from the Rejane Theatre, has been engaged by M. Alphonse Franck to create the principal role of a new play, to be produced at the Gymnase Theatre.

THEATRE IN HUNDRETH YEAR

The annual revue of the Variete Theatre was produced March 3. This year the authors, MM. Paul Gavault, P. L. Fiers and Eugene Heros style their production La Revue du Centenaire, owing to the fact that in 1907 the theatre completes the hundredth year of its existence.

The new revue is an ingenious production, in which the events of the year 1807—the period which marked the culminating point of Napoleon Bonaparte's career—are most amusingly mixed up with the topical events of 1907. M. Semaine, the manager, was most successful in mounting the revue, which met with a very great success. The cast consists of Paris' foremost artists, as Albert Brasseur, Max Dearly, Morley and Mmes. Germain Gallois, Derval, Polaire, Lise Berty and Laporte.

Rehearsals will shortly begin at the Opera Comique with a new opera, entitled Chandelier, the work of M. Andre Messager, the celebrated composer and director of the Grand Opera, Paris.

Mme Suzanne Desprez, the great French actress, is touring the principal cities on the continent. She meets everywhere with a triumphal success. At the Neues Theatre, in Berlin she was complimented in a most flattering manner by the Kaiser, who assisted her performances several times. Her repertoire consists of Nora, Solnes, La Robe Rouge, Therese Raquin, Denise and L'Alce.

M. Pierre Wolf, the well-known playwright, has finished a new comedy, entitled Le Ruisseau (The Stream), which will be produced shortly at the Vaudeville Theatre.

M. Edmond Rostand is reported to be working on a new version of La Princesse Lointaine for Sarah Bernhardt. The report has aroused a discussion on the question whether M. Rostand has a right to produce this play, seeing that he is under a contract with MM. Hertz and Cogniet to produce no new piece until he gives them Chanteclair.

BOSTOCK LEAVES FOR AMERICA

Frank Bostock, the Animal King sailed on the steamship New York for America to make the final arrangements for his vast animal exhibition at the Jamestown Exposition and other American centers. He follows the big consignment of animals that left on the Minneapolis on Feb. 23.

When questioned as to what were to be the special features of his shows this year he declined to discuss his plans, only remarking with a mysterious air: "I have one thing that will 'faire événement' as they say in Paris, 'tout New York' (that will draw all New York)." What this big feature is likely to be could not be gotten from him, but he did not hesitate to tell that it would cost him a small fortune.

Signorina Ronconi, an operatic star of great beauty, was shot on Feb. 28, in a Turin restaurant by a tenor named Signor Caselli, who immediately blew his brains out. Jealousy is said to have been the cause of the affair.

M. Peter Carin, manager of the Capucines has become partner to M. Porel, manager of the Vaudeville Theatre. The deed of association was signed March 1.

The Casino Musical Hall at Belfort, France, was completely destroyed by fire; scenery, property and everything else was lost, and only the four bare walls remain.

Among the new bill for March at Barrasford's Alhambra are: Voelker, the well-known violinist; Wild Willie and West, in a screaming funny pantomime; Bertisch, athlete; Francis and Alfred, comic jugglers; The Two Butterflies, acrobats; Mign-notte, Kokin, electric dances; Galetti, with his comic monkeys; Brothers Warsaw musical comedians; The Brothers

O'Brien, champions of the fixed bar; Satauma, the Japanese conjurer; Clara Pechard, vocalist; Les Almas, equilibrist and jumpers, and the Brothers Ward. Moving pictures concludes the performance; good business prevails.

I reported in my last letter that the non-appearance at the Scala of the Prince de Brogny was due to the manager wishing to make a change in the signed contract. The truth is, the Prince, having not fulfilled his military duties this year, was warned of being arrested by the military authorities if he landed in France.

The Prefect of Police has approved the program submitted to him by the committee of the carnival procession which will take place March 7. Each car will this year represent one of the wards of the capital in the shape of one of its historical monuments or a specialty of the locality, so the car of the opera district will present its two new directors, and the principal dramatic personages of Faust, Hamlet and Ariane. A grand illuminated procession of an entirely novel character in the streets of Paris will also take place on Saturday, March 9.

The Kursaal, under the new management of M. Aber, is doing good business to crowded houses. In addition to a numerous vocal program are: The Sisters Telag and Fredo, eccentric; Trio de Carmo, equilibrist and jugglers; Welsen, bar artist; The Max-Hollys, comedians; Mlle. Asta, with her tamed wolves, and the American kinetograph.

WILSON'S TEN COMMANDMENTS.

At the graduating exercise of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts held at the Empire Theatre, Tuesday, March 19, Francis Wilson, one of the speakers, promulgated what he was pleased to term the ten commandments for stage aspirants. They are:

- 1—Act on the stage, not off.
- 2—Be modest in bearing and speech.
- 3—Speak English, not "Tenderloin."
- 4—Be earnest in your acting.
- 5—Be prudent with your earnings. The period of the average actor's earning power is brief.

6—Know a great deal about your own profession and as much as you can about everything else.

7—Don't accept success as too personal. Hamlets and Julietts have come and gone, but the plays go on forever.

8—Don't ascribe failure to bad luck. "Luck," as Lowell says, "is the prerogative, the reward of valiant souls."

9—So be valiant—and lucky.

10—Be true to your art and, above all, be true to yourself.

In further explanation he said: "You will understand what I mean when I say I hope none of you, in private life, will sink his self-respect sufficiently to resort to long hair, cowboy hats, bolsterona manners, bleached locks, painted lips and penciled eyes, and that loud laugh that speaks the vacant mind."

"That sort of thing it not art; it is a cheap, unworthy effort to attract attention, to advertise, and as I meet it on Broadway, I never see it but I want to cry out, 'Me and the sandwich man!'"

Diplomas were awarded to the following graduates: Nancy Avril, New York; Paula Bachman, Easton, Pa.; Roberta Brannon, New York; Evelyn E. Ferguson, Willoughby, O.; Caroline Greenfield, Atlanta; Winifred Lowe, New York; Blanche Mall, Houston, Tex.; Ethel Malone, Brooklyn; Frances Maury, St. Louis; Isabel Grace Morse, Omaha; Christine Norman, Cincinnati; Beatrice Noyes, New York; Anne Page, Wilmington, N. C.; Alice L. Pollock, New York; Vera Frost Stowe, Newtonville, Mass.; Mabel F. Wright, Denver; Marion Williams, Indianapolis; Alfred W. Birdsell, San Diego; Roger N. Burham, Brookline, Mass.; Francis P. Conway, Newburyport; Hugh Dillman, Columbus, O.; Henry O. Falk, Brooklyn; Carl Ross Hermann, New York; Harry H. Melick, Lincoln, Neb.; Charles H. O'Donnell, Northampton, Mass.; Julian Richmond, Richmond, Va.; Eskine Sanford, New York; Ferretz R. Spiro, Brooklyn; George A. Stevenson, Brooklyn; Hugo Wallace, Cleveland, and Walter W. Young, Scranton.

To Miss Christine Norman, of Cincinnati, was awarded the highest honor, the David Belasco gold medal for general excellence. Miss Alice Leal Pollock, of New York, received the David Belasco silver medal for technical skill, and Miss Caroline Greenfield, of Atlanta, Ga., a gold medal founded by Mrs. Esther Hermann for earnestness and progress.

Other speakers were Dr. Moncure D. Conway, William Seymour, and Brandon Tyman.

FILM MEN—NOTICE.

The Billboard is in receipt of this communication from the American Mutoscope & Biograph Co.:

Editor, The Billboard.
Dear Sir:—Our attention has been called to an advertisement of the Edison Manufacturing Company relating to the recent decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the suit of the Edison Company against the American Mutoscope & Biograph Company. Season 1907 with Forepaugh & Sells Bros. Shows.

Permanent Address, THE BILLBOARD, CHICAGO.

Circus and Carnival Managers Attention.

Who is in need of a bright young man twenty-four years of age who is not afraid of work? I wish position as advance. Have had three years experience in theatre bill room. Know paper? well, I should say yes. Would also consider position as ticker seller or taker; write me any way what you have open. Am no "chippy chaser" or "booze grafter," but can furnish you with the very best of reference. Managers of circuses, carnivals or parks let me know what you have open; I can explain better than this Adv. does (yes sir, I can write a Remington Typewriter as fast as the next one), and you will receive a prompt answer by addressing,

My Woodworth Flickerless Attachment ADOPTED BY UNCLE SAM!

Read this Letter

The most remarkable testimonial it is possible for one to receive from the United States Government. Imagine how delighted I was when it was forwarded to me by Mr. Woodworth inventor of my Woodworth Flickerless Attachment. This attachment is good enough for Uncle Sam. It is good enough for you. It will cut the Flicker out of Your Pictures.

U. S. NAVY RECRUITING STATION,
Commercial Bank Building,
West Sixth Street and Superior Avenue.

Cleveland, O., March 18, 1907.

Mr. Dallas C. Woodworth,
Davenport, Iowa.

Dear Sir:—It gives me great pleasure to inform you that the Woodworth Improvement has been adopted by the United States Navy Department for use on the Power Cameragraph, new No. 5 model.

This machine is being used by the Navy Biograph Party in their exhibitions throughout the United States, showing life in the Navy afloat and ashore, and since adopting your improvement the results secured have been all that you have claimed for it.

Very truly yours,
D. ELLIS HAMBURGER,
U. S. Navy,
In charge of Navy Biograph Exhibit.

Read it Again!

I will now receive hundreds of orders for the Woodworth Flickerless Attachment and I will fill them in rotation. The quicker you let go of your ten dollars the sooner you'll get the Flickerless Attachment, and the sooner you get your Flickerless Attachment the sooner you can show absolutely perfect pictures with any make of machine.

I SELL THE WOODWORTH FLICKERLESS ATTACHMENT FOR $10
I alone control it, having made an iron clad agreement with the inventor, Mr. D. C. Woodworth, of Davenport, Iowa. I tell you it is the greatest invention since moving pictures were created. : : : : :

THE PASSION PLAY. Place your order this minute, by wire, for your own sake. I can let you have this glorious film quicker than any filmer in the country. It's a big money-maker for you and will bring an entirely new class of patrons to your theatre, as well as the "regulars." I don't like to hurry anyone into anything, but you've got to hurry to get in on this.	One of my customers wants to invest $1,500 in a good moving picture theatre. If you are interested, write for his name. Other customers want locations. I charge nothing for bringing you together.	MACHINES (All Makes), Always ready for immediate shipment. I believe I filled more orders on machines last month than any house in the country. Service, my boy, that's what is boosting my business. Service that is as close to perfection as human beings can make it. I also sell enormous quantities of condensers, carbons, tickets, and all other film accessories.

I'VE DOUBLED MY CAPACITY IN FILM RENTING
And once more offer the best, liveliest, newest films, and the surest, quickest, cleanest service in the land to any house that has gumption enough to climb out of its rut and write for facts. Every man in my employ does things the Laemmle way, and the result is that I've got the fastest growing film business in the country. Are you going to connect?

THE

Gypsy Queen Talking Fortune Teller

Is one of the greatest attractions and money getters for Arcades and Summer Resorts. With the gold outlined records the fortunes are spoken as clear and distinct as a person talking. This attractive Oriental beauty moves her head, expands her chest in a natural and graceful manner, while she moves her hands and works the cards as if reading your fortune. Place your orders at once.
