

TWO HUNDRED MILES AN HOUR

DR. BELL ON PROGRESS OF AERIAL NAVIGATION

Airships Will be Built to Cross the Atlantic in Less than Twenty Hours

(Associated Press.)
New York, April 28.—A London dispatch to the Times quotes Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, as saying last night that it was only a question of a brief period when the progress of aerial navigation will make it possible to have dinner in America and breakfast next morning in Europe, covering the distance across the Atlantic in considerably less than twenty hours.

"My expectations," said Dr. Bell, "are that an airship will be perfected capable of making 100 to 200 miles an hour. My opinion, however, is that the next step in aerial flight will take the form of such improvements as will make possible the creation of aerial battleships."

"The actual problem of the navigation of the air has already been solved by the Wright brothers. Now all that there will be accomplished by doing commercial lines is a feature of which will be a great increase in speed, but the most attention will be paid to adapting airships to the purposes of war. My belief is that America will be the first country to perfect aerial battleships. This belief is based on inside information, and from the same source I get reliable statements on which I base my prediction of the early production of an airship of enormous speed.

"I hope to be able to add much to what is known of aerial flight by experiments at Cape Breton island this summer. My problem this year will be to propel my kites with a specially constructed engine of fifteen horsepower, weighing 120 pounds. I hope to get a machine of the heavier than air variety that will support a man and the necessary equipment to operate it at low rather than high velocity.

"Last December I constructed a vehicle that supported itself and a man in a ten-mile breeze. I now want to fly a machine carrying an engine at ten or fifteen miles an hour. If I can accomplish this there is hope that the aviators, or the men who are trying to solve flight on the wing, will be able to avoid the accidents long enough to learn how to fly. Even a bird has to learn to fly and as with the bird one of the first considerations is safety, so man must learn to go slow before he goes fast.

"The developments of the next few months will be unprecedented, but the most interesting point is that only very few know how near America is right now to solving a question which will revolutionize warfare throughout the world. I mean the construction of a practical aerial battleship."

Dr. Bell is in London to receive his degree of Doctor of Science at Oxford on May 2nd.

IN THE COUNTY COURT.

Hearing of Charges Postponed—Judgment in Bale vs. Levy.

The hearing of the charges against J. T. Wilson, which were to have been proceeded with in the county court this morning, has been adjourned until Wednesday. The accused is charged with committing acts of gross indecency in three separate instances. This morning he elected to take speedy trial and will conduct his own defence. H. D. Helmecken, K. C., is representing the crown and asked for an adjournment until Wednesday in order to consult the depositions which have been taken and heard in. Another difficulty also confronts the crown in the case. This was the fact that in one instance in which it would have been possible to have gone on the boy, who was the principal witness, is laid up with an attack of measles.

Hollis, charged with shooting a cow on Salt Spring Island belonging to the Mr. Smith, elected for speedy trial. The date for the hearing will be fixed later.

Judgment in the case of Bale vs. Levy has been handed down in the county court. The action arose out of a real estate transaction in which the plaintiff purchased from the defendant two lots on Bodwell street in 1906. Mr. Bale paid down $50 and gave his note for the sum of $25 for the remainder. The note was due on January 1st. Payment was not made at the time the note fell due, but some negotiations followed very shortly after that. The defendant notified the plaintiff that he would return the $50 and call the deal off. The action was taken by the plaintiff to enforce the sale.

The judgment of Judge Lammiman is against the plaintiff, who allowed the contract to pass by his neglect of the obligation within the time specified.

GROWING WORSE.

Disease Spreading in the Famine Districts at Russia.—Further Aid Needed at Once.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—Prince Lovoff, head of the Zemstvo famine relief organization, reports that acute famine is spreading in the famine districts and that further aid is needed at once.

Condition Desperate.
Moscow, April 28.—According to information received by the standing committee of the United Zemstvos, the condition of the emigrants who have gone from Russia to Siberia during the past year is absolutely desperate. Prince Orbyanski to investigate the conditions on the spot.

During the past three months no fewer than 120,000 emigrants have reached Siberia from the famine-stricken provinces of Russia. They are now promised land upon which to settle, but there is no free land available.

CLEANING THE BED OF ELK LAKE

Moss Grown Logs Have Been Removed and the Lake Fenced About.

Mr. Raymur states that he hopes in the very near future, to see the work of cleaning the twelve-inch main completed. The machinery which consists of a revolving brush, will shortly be purchased, and then the work will be commenced. This, since the cleaning of Elk lake has been finished, will ensure a fresh supply of water. He states that the whole border of the lake has been cleaned off. This has been a rather difficult operation as the shores are more or less boggy. Up to the last few days a force of about forty men have been employed about the lake, hauling out the old logs, cutting down the brush surrounding the lake and otherwise clearing away the debris which had fallen into it in the course of time. The men state that these were in many cases covered with moss, weeds and slime. Those which were fit were cut up for firewood and sold. The others have been drawn out of the lake and where possible, burned. It is expected that this will have the effect of rendering the water more pure in the coming summer than in the past. The fence, will also assist in preventing the purity of the water as the cattle of the surrounding farmers can no longer cool themselves in its polluted depths.

Although the lake has up to the present remained full, it is expected that from this time forward it will gradually sink to a lower level. No trouble is anticipated on this score, however, as the new pumps which are to be installed, will suffice to keep the filter beds full and therefore the pressure up to the proper standard.

CROP OF BOMBS.

Odessa, April 28.—Sixteen bombs were dropped yesterday in a villa which Governor Kaubars had rented for a summer residence.

COMPLETING PLANT OF SILICA COMPANY

Considerable Activity at Colwood and Metchosin—Crops Doing Well.

The main building of the Silica brick works is nearly completed inside and out. This week one of the seven carloads of machinery ordered has arrived. It consisted of the engine, and it is now being put in position as rapidly as possible. As soon as the boilers, which are now in transit, arrive, they will be set up, and the contractor for building, Mr. Shepard, of Victoria, will proceed to erect the buildings over them. Altogether the buildings are immense, and the plant when installed will be not only a novelty for the west, but one of the most costly.

Wm. Charters passed through here last week with the engine and machinery requisite for a portable sawmill, which he proposes to erect near Metchosin.

There is good timber to be had down there, and there is no reason why it should not be able to do a good business in the line.

Mr. Grubb, of Galiano Island, who lately bought a tract of land at Metchosin from Mr. Fisher, has just moved with his family into the house which Mr. W. H. Hayward, M. P. P., used to occupy, until he can get a house built on his own land. It is reported that since purchasing the land from Mr. Fisher he has disposed of a large portion of it to a gentleman who intends to cut it up into ten-acre lots.

Among the many improvements going on in the neighborhood may be mentioned the new house which will be built on the site of the former one. In addition to building a house, Mr. Taylor has planted over 100 fruit trees.

Mr. Murray, on the place between Colwood and Metchosin, is also building a house on his farm. He intends to go in strongly for fruit growing.

Owing to the warm weather the country is looking lovely. Cultivated fields are showing a beautiful green, while here and there the sombre hue of the forest is relieved by the masses of white blossoms on the fruit trees, which year by year are becoming more numerous and of better quality. Soon this district will be one of the largest fruit growing districts of British Columbia.

CLOUD BURST IN OKLAHOMA

SEVEN LIVES BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN LOST

People Had No Time to Escape—Town in Texas Destroyed by a Tornado

(Associated Press.)
Oklahoma City, Okla., April 29.—A cloudburst over Capitol Hill, a suburb of this city, just south of the Canadian river, flooded that place.

Seven persons are missing, and believed to be drowned. Seven persons encamped on the lowlands near the river were caught unawares and had but little time to make their escape.

MEXICO WILL BUILD FORTS TO PROTECT TERMINALS OF TEHUANTEPEC ROAD

Work to Begin Shortly—Guns Will Be of the Latest Pattern

(Associated Press.)
San Antonio, Texas, April 28.—A special order from the Mexican government has been received that the Mexican government has determined to fortify this port and Salina Cruz, the two terminals of the Tehuantepec National railway. For this purpose General Manuel Manuella has been ordered to Mexico City. With him are high officials of the military engineering force. He will draw up plans and specifications, and the actual work of fortifying the port will begin at a distant date.

The exact significance of this move is not known, but it is believed to have simply grown out of the national policy, possibly spurred on by the Central American troubles and in response to the acts which are not agreeable to him. It is stated that the works will be of the most modern character, and the forts will include the latest pattern and highest power.

THE CONSTITUTION WAS NOT VIOLATED

His Honor the Lieut-Governor Has Nothing to do With Amending Bills.

(According to the Colonist news columns, the Lieut-Governor of the province has clothed himself with wonderful powers. Before assenting to the bills passed by the House he proceeds, according to that paper, to play havoc with them by striking out all the sections of the acts which are not agreeable to him. If this were true, His Honor would be exercising powers which no representative parliament in the British dominions would stand for. But the Hon. James Dunsmuir has not been usurping powers as have been attributed to him, and there is no immediate danger that the constitution is in peril.

The misconception arises in connection with the proposed amendment to the Municipal Clauses Act, relating to trader licenses. When the city's bill was submitted to the municipal committee of the House, the section allowing the city to impose a trade license for every distinctive line of goods sold was quickly disposed of. It was struck out of the bill, and the amendment was not carried. Ered Davey put on the order papers a number of amendments to the Municipal Clauses Act, among them being the proposal to add the following new section:

"(34a.) From every person carrying on in a city municipality a retail business in a departmental store, for every distinctive line of goods, not exceeding five dollars for every six months; Provided always, that the municipal council shall, before imposing the above tax, by-law, determine what lines of goods may be sold in one retail store under one licence, and such council shall have regard to well-established local custom."

It was not until near the close of the session, however, that the bill was brought into committee. When the amendment came up, John Oliver speaking for the municipal committee said that this was never agreeable to that body, and should not be put in here. The Attorney-General also took some objection to the amendment.

But by mistake the amendment found its way into the bill and when it was printed for third reading this section appeared in the bill.

On the closing day of the session, the Attorney-General having noticed this mistake, had the bill recommitted and the section taken out.

When His Honor assented to the bill, therefore it was in form, having lost the section which got in by mistake. The Lieut-Governor personally could have nothing to do with striking out sections.

CRITICISED THE HON. MR. FULTON

PRINCIPAL SIPPRELL
APPLAUDED IN CHURCH

Referred to Action of the Attorney-General With Regard to Lord's Day Act.

"The nationalism of Germany, the medievalism and dilapidation of France, and the broken bonds of family and marriage ties in the United States are due to the secularization of the universities of the land, and when I see in our land the emphasis put on the secular and commercial and a disregard shown to the sacred, when I see men like the attorney-general, the province opening the door to the destruction of our Christian Sabbath I say such men are driving the sword of a gross materialism into the heart of our national life and stifling the convictions that are among the grandest and noblest man can know."

REDUCING THE GRADE.

Work on C. P. R. East of Field Will Involve Expenditure of Half a Million.

It is the intention of the C. P. R. during the coming summer to commence work which will do away with the "big hill" grade, which runs steeply down between the mountains east of Field. The work is one of great engineering difficulty and will involve a cost of approximately $500,000. The change will necessitate the swinging of the main line on a bridge across the Kicking Horse river near the foot of the big grade. When the river is crossed the train will enter a tunnel, running through the mountains like the letter S for about 3,500 feet. Emerging from this it will recross the river on another bridge, and then will issue again on the main line near the top of the big grade. The present grade averages over four and a half per cent, and extra heavy engines have to be used on it, but the change proposed will reduce it to about two and a quarter.

The death occurred this morning at St. Joseph's hospital, Mrs. Agnes McNeil, aged 82 years, who had been suffering from pneumonia for some time. She was the wife of the late John McNeil, a native of the Isle of Colonsay, Argyshire, Scotland. She was an old timer here, having been in the city for the last 25 years.

She leaves three sons, J. C. and Aleck McNeil, of this city, and Mrs. C. A. Davidson, of Vancouver. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

DEPUTIES DISAPPOINTED.

Conservative Peasant Members of Russian House Received Scant Courtesy.

St. Petersburg, April 27.—The deputations of Conservative peasant members of the lower house of parliament which went to Tsarskoe Selo, to-day, returned in a disappointed mood at the scant ceremony with which they were received by the Emperor.

They were not accorded a special audience, but were admitted to the imperial presence with a big delegation of military men and Constitutional Democrats, and were greeted with the usual perfunctory expressions of his majesty's pleasure at meeting his subjects.

The Emperor did not give the spokesman of the delegation an opportunity to deliver the loyal speech which he had prepared.

SKEENA RIVER HATCHERY.

Many Sockeye Fry Released—River Nearly Clear of Ice.

Thos. Whitwell, S. Whitwell, J. Williams and A. W. Pretty arrived from the North on the steamer Amur on Saturday from the Skeena river hatchery.

Mr. Whitwell reports having had a very successful season, having liberated a little over 4,100,000 young sockeye fry in splendid condition before leaving the hatchery, the loss the past season not reaching 4 per cent.

The party left with four Indians in a large canoe on the 18th inst., and were the first canoe to come down the Skeena river this spring without having to make any portages over the ice.

The past winter was a very severe one, and the ice was so thick that many of the lakes will not be free of ice until the first week in May. For 39 days the thermometer registered from zero to 20 below. The coldest day was on February 1st. There was about two feet of ice on Lakes lake when they left.

MINERS DECIDE NOT TO WORK DURING SITTING OF CONCILIATION BOARD

All the Local Unions of Crow's Nest Pass Are Against Continuing Mining.

Advices from Fernie indicate that the miners have decided to quit work until the matters in dispute are disposed of. It was expected last week that arrangements would be made whereby the mines would be kept going while the board of conciliation carried out its investigations.

Apparently objections were raised by some of the men to the settlement until the basis of settlement was arranged. A ballot was taken at the different mines to decide whether work should be proceeded with or the mining of coal suspended until after the conciliation board was set.

The latest advices are that on Saturday a majority of the miners at all the centres of the Crow's Nest Coal Company decided to discontinue until after the board reached a conclusion.

This course by the men is believed to be contrary to the act. The statute is for the purpose of preventing strikes and lockouts, and aims at having the differences decided without the operations of the industry being affected, and thus working hardships upon other industries not directly connected.

It is therefore possible that upon reconsideration the work may go on.

TO BUILD SMELTER IN THIS CITY

Public Meeting Will be Held Tomorrow Afternoon to Consider Steps

To-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, there will be a meeting of business men at the Tourist Association room to consider steps to be taken to obtain a smelter, and iron and steel works here. The meeting has been called by the Mayor as president of the Tourist Association, and has the backing of the city council, the attention of which was directed to the matter by the letter recently received from the Tourist Association.

All business men are invited to attend and it is hoped that a number of practical suggestions will be made. The necessity of establishing a smelter here before other enterprises, such as car shops, etc., can be successfully operated is apparent.

As one gentleman remarked this morning: "The iron and steel industry is the backbone of all manufacturing. It is essential to obtain a smelter and other industries can spring up here."

D. R. YOUNG RETURNS.

Tells Vernon of Glowing Prospects of the Capital City.

D. R. Young, came in from Victoria on Saturday, and expects to return to the coast with his family to-morrow. He is now well established in the real estate business in the Capital City, and speaks in glowing terms of the prospect for Victoria's early and continuous progress, says the Vernon News. Mr. Young is an experienced real estate man, and it was largely owing to his efforts that the movement commenced here, some three years ago, toward dividing the large estates up into small holdings. It was he who induced C. O'Keefe to first put lots on the market in this way, and the plan which he inaugurated has since been successfully followed out by many successors in the same line of business. We wish him a large measure of success and prosperity in his new home.

DISCOVERY NOTES.

(Special Correspondence of the Times.)
Discovery, April 21.—On Friday evening last, under the combined auspices of the A. O. U. W. lodge of Atlin and the Artie Brotherhood, a dance was given in the club rooms overlooking Atlin lake. A most enjoyable evening was spent.

New arrivals continue to come in by the stage on every return trip. Anticipation in regard to the working of quartz mining keeps all eyes fixed on Discovery's mountains, and it is expected ere long that work will be done on this long-talked-of enterprise.

Mr. Harris, manager of the steam shovel, leaves for the port about the last of April, expecting to begin work early in May.

ON WAY WEST.

(Special to the Times.)
Winnipeg, April 28.—Senator Riley and Ralph Smith, M. P., passed through the city last night on their way to Victoria.

Joseph Charley and Daniel Dick, the two Indians who turned King's evidence in connection with the Alex. Marphy murder case, have been liberated from the provincial jail, New Westminster, and allowed to go home. They will be the chief witnesses for the crown in the prosecution of George and William H. Billy at the assize court next month, for the murder of Murphy.

In good time many who do not now purchase goods here will do so. They will learn that it is much better to pay a fair price and get fresh and reliable.

CHINESE GO OUT OF BUSINESS

VEGETABLES WILL BE SCARCE THIS FALL

Subdivision of Lands and Scarcity of Labor is the Cause.

In consequence of the present activity in real estate which commenced early last fall about 90 per cent of the Chinese market gardens in Victoria and immediate vicinity have been sold. In some cases the occupants have moved out immediately, but the majority have held to the right of 12 months notice. Most of these Chinese farmers have for various reasons decided to leave the business. First and foremost there is a great scarcity of Chinese labor and as the hours are long and work is very hard in the gardens, the Chinese farmers find it very hard to secure help, especially as there is so much work of an easier nature to be obtained in the city at the present time.

This means that by next January or February at the outside the supply of vegetables coming into Victoria from these sources will be decreased by about 80 per cent.

The Chinese ranchers are consequently planting only summer crops, that is crops which will reach maturity in the early fall so that the present year's supply will be somewhat deficient, perhaps that in any former years. They are giving no, or at least very little attention to late cabbages or celery and all the root crops will also be of an early variety. Broccoli, or spring cauliflower, staple on the Victoria market and only grown to advantage in Victoria and the immediate vicinity, has also been almost totally neglected. This broccoli starts to come in about January and continues to come in until about the end of April and although some is imported from California, it is not nearly so good as the local product. Broccoli is a crop subject to chances on account of severe weather and it is safe to count on only about three full crops in five years or one total loss in every ten years.

The natural result of all this will be that in a few years trucking or market gardening will be a very profitable occupation for small farmers around Victoria or even possibly, for the holder of two or three town lots. Accordingly, although it may result in a shortage of home grown vegetables for a year or two, it will ultimately be an advantage to the city by settling, as it is, a new white industry in the city.

NORTHWESTERN FLOATED.

Vessel is Moored at Valdez and Will Be Brought to Esquimalt.

The steamer Northwestern, which was wrecked some time ago on a reef near La Touch, Alaska, has been floated. The salvaging was done by the wrecking steamer Salvor which has been at the scene of the wreck for some time past. This morning the vessel reached the city and had been floated and is now tied up at the wharf at Valdez. In the course of a few days she will be brought to Esquimalt where she will be repaired. Great credit is due to the wrecking steamer of the B. C. Salvage Company for the expedition with which the work was carried out. The agents of the vessel did not anticipate that the salvaging would be carried out for many weeks to come.

FISHERMAN'S FIND.

Bodies of Three Infants Taken From River.

(Associated Press).

Chicago, April 22.—A dispatch from Elgin, Ill., says while fishing in Fox river yesterday Stephen Borass hooked a basket of clothing which he pulled ashore and found to contain the bodies of three infants—two boys and a girl. Coroner Horton is of the opinion that the bodies may have been thrown from a passing train. The clothing found with them was of fine quality, but had no marks.

IS STILL ALIVE.

Report of Death of W. Chillum at Port Townsend Was Untrue.

Port Townsend, April 22.—William Chillum, widely known throughout this section of the state, while visiting here a few days ago fell from a window of a hotel second-story. The accident occurred while the victim was presumed to have been temporarily aberrated. The accident was subsequently reported in the local press, but in one instance enterprise was injected into the report by adding the circumstance that death had occurred.

Before Chillum had an opportunity of asserting of any account of his demise had been grossly exaggerated, a friend, with no other information than the published report, telegraphed friends and relatives and otherwise widely spread the misinformation. Among those who were reached by the telegraph were Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Phillips of Everett. Mrs. Phillips is a daughter of the victim of this occurrence. Promptly upon the arrival of news from this city, Dr. and Mrs. Phillips arranged to come here for the burial and other funeral arrangements. Upon arrival here they bore generous floral offerings to adorn the burial casket of a man not yet dead. The truth of the matter was received with conceivable delight.

CREW TAKEN FROM SINKING STEAMER

The Lucifer Drifted Helplessly For Week Before Distress Signals Were Sighted

Falmouth, Eng., April 22.—The British steamer Sagami, from New York, April 12th, for Rotterdam, has arrived here and landed the crew of the steamer Lucifer, bound from New York for Dublin, which was abandoned in latitude 48.19 north, longitude 60 west. Members of the Lucifer's crew said it was discovered April 8th that the vessel's stove hole was filling with water. The pumps were manned but the water gained until it extinguished the fires. The steamer drifted helplessly.

The captain ordered all the boats filled with provisions for twelve days, and manned for instant use. A keen lookout was kept, and three days later the crew was relieved to see the lights of two passing vessels. Their distress signals, however, were not seen, and a part of the cargo was jettisoned to lighten the vessel and keep her afloat, though it was evident she could not survive much longer. Finally, after a week, the Sagami was sighted, and the crew transferred. Shortly after this the Lucifer foundered. The suffering of the crew of the Lucifer and the danger of the situation were increased by the boisterous weather. During the week of waiting heavy seas constantly washed the vessel's decks. Signals of distress were hoisted in the daytime and rockets and flares were burnt at night. The oil pumped out of the Lucifer somewhat moderated the fury of the seas; but even after the Sagami was sighted the gale continued. The rescue was effected with much difficulty, and danger and occupied five hours.

LOCAL SUPERIOR DEAD.

Sister Mary Loretta Died This Morning After Operation.

Sister Mary Loretta, of the convent of St. Anne, died at two o'clock this morning in St. Joseph's hospital. She had been recently operated on for ulcers in the stomach. For a time she seemed to be doing as well as could be expected, but later she succumbed. Born at Lacolle, Que., in 1862, she became a sister in 1887, and immediately thereafter started for the West. She joined the convent at Victoria where she remained until her death. For a number of years she had been the teacher of the graduating class. Six years ago she became provincial assistant, and for the last three years was with superior of the Humboldt street convent. The departed sister was remarkable for her sweet disposition, affability and capacity as a teacher.

Three sisters survive her, two in Montreal and one in Sherbrook. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning in the convent chapel.

En route for Victoria the steamer Rionun Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, sailed from Yokohama on the 27th inst. She has 31 passengers and 167 tons of general merchandise for this port.

A rally of the Young People's Mission will be held in the Centennial Methodist church this evening, at 8 o'clock. A good programme will be given. Some of its features are: A paper by Rev. W. E. Dunham on "World-wide Aspect of Christian Endeavor," also one by Miss Thomson, secretary of Y. W. C. A., on "Opportunities for Federated Work for Young People in the City," and an address by Rev. E. Le Roy Dakin. Everybody is cordially invited.

MINISTER'S HOLIDAY.

(Special to the Times).

Ottawa, April 22.—Hon. W. S. Fielding will not attend the colonial conference, but will go to Europe later.

The "Giant Atlas" of China is the biggest known moth, its wings measure 3 in. to 9 in. across, and sometimes as much as 11 in.

TO REDUCE TIME TO THE FAR EAST

(Special to the Times).

London, April 22.—The Canadian Associated Press has undoubted authority for the statement that the new steamship service, so long in contemplation, will in the near future be accomplished. It is to be a 24-knot Atlantic service and fast service across the Pacific, cutting down the time to the Far East to such an extent that the route will practically command all the business. It is regarded as the greatest Imperial project approached in many years.

With reference to an interview which appeared in the Times of Friday with the ten joiners who state that they were brought to Victoria under false pretences by the Salvation Army, Capt. Travis of that body wishes a correction made to the effect that Commissioner Nicoll has not been in Victoria during the past few months.

The Japanese of the city, in the dress of their adopted land, will assemble at the corner of Johnston and Government streets on the arrival of General Kuroki in time to welcome him at the outer wharf. The procession will be headed by the Fifth Regiment band. The Japanese consul from the Mainland as well as the Seattle consul will step ashore to the strains of the Japanese national song, the "Kimigayo Ya Ya." As soon as the welcome of his countrymen is concluded he will be driven by them around the beach drive.

Mrs. Russell left for Vancouver last evening en route to the east with the remains of the late E. G. Russell, Col. Gregory and Mrs. W. S. Robertson accompanied her. Mrs. Russell desires to express through the columns of the Times, her gratitude for the many expressions of sympathy she has received in her bereavement. In the sheet of telegrams of condolence there were messages from the Indians at Prince Rupert among whom the late Mr. Russell worked.

Mrs. Thos. Kiddle left the city last evening for Hazy, Prince of Wales Island, to join her husband, who assumed the management of the Brown-Alaska smelter at that point a few weeks ago. It was the intention of Mr. Kiddle to return to the city before taking up the actual management, but it has been necessary for him to remain. Mrs. Kiddle therefore has left to take up her residence there.

ALLIANCE AND LORD'S DAY ACT

STATEMENT BY THE WESTERN SECRETARY

Rev. W. M. Rochester Says Attorney-General Has Exceeded His Power

Winnipeg, April 27.—Rev. W. M. Rochester, western secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who has just returned from a two and a half month campaign in British Columbia, referred to the situation under the Dominion Lord's Day Act as follows:

"In British Columbia an announcement has recently been made by the provincial government through the attorney-general, that consent would not be given to prosecutions in that province under this Sunday law. This is the issue for the present in that part of the Dominion.

"In the first place," Mr. Rochester said, "the idea that any responsibility in this matter rests with the executives of the province is a mistaken one. Whatever responsibility rests upon any representative of the province in respect to the administration of this law, rests with the attorney-general, and with him alone, and no action of the government of the province can afford him release from this responsibility.

"The attorney-general, therefore, for consent to prosecutions under the Dominion Lord's Day Act, assumes all the responsibility for such attitude. We believe that in thus doing he exceeded his power, which is not to veto the Act in his province, but to consider each case as it is laid before him, and to refuse or to consent to prosecution as in his judgment seems right."

What action the Lord's Day Alliance would take in response to this announcement by the British Columbia government, Mr. Rochester would not predict, but he said the matter was under consideration.

In Winnipeg, at a meeting of the board of police commissioners a resolution was carried unanimously in reference to the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act, and the chief of police was instructed as follows:

"The police are instructed to enforce the Dominion Lord's Day Act in following respects and particulars: All dealers in any kind of merchandise, except druggists and restaurant keepers (hereinafter provided for) and except as to be prohibited from selling goods, wares and merchandise on the Lord's day. Boarding-house and restaurant keepers are to restrict their business to the preparation and serving of meals and refreshments on their premises. They are not to sell fruit, canned goods or other merchandise. Newspapers and other periodicals are not to be sold in the streets. Boot-blacks are not to carry on their work in the streets or in the public view."

Clause 7 of the Lord's Day Act is to be strictly enforced. The clause is as follows: "It shall not be lawful for any person on the Lord's day, except as provided in any provincial law now or hereinafter in force, to engage in any public game or contest for gain or for any prize or reward, or to be present thereat, or to provide, engage in, or be present at any performance or public meeting elsewhere than in a church at which any fee is charged, directly or indirectly, either for admission to such performance or meeting, or to any place within which the same is provided, or for any service or privilege thereat. When any performance at which an admission fee or any other fee is so charged in any building or place to which persons are admitted for hire by the proprietors or managers of such performance, or by any one acting as their agent or under their control, the charge for such conveyance shall be deemed an indirect payment of such fee within the meaning of this section."

The clause of the Lord's Day Act which runs as follows will also be enforced: "It shall not be lawful for any person to advertise in any manner whatsoever any performance or other thing prohibited by this act. It shall not be lawful for any person to advertise in Canada in any manner whatsoever any performance or other thing which if given or done in Canada would be a violation of this act."

At present every clause in the act is being violated here.

MINING IN KOOTENAY.

Trouble Among Coal Miners Responsible for Decreased Output of Ore.

Roseland, April 27.—The mines and smelters of this section keep in operation, but there output is not as large as it would be were the coal miners of eastern British Columbia and western Alberta at work. The situation is still uncertain, and tends to check to a certain extent the increasing of tonnage taken out of the mines and put through the smelters. Some of the coal miners' unions have voted to go to work, and others have cast their ballots against resumption of work, complicating the situation. It is sincerely hoped here that the Dominion conciliation committee appointed under the Lemieux bill will in the end be able to reconcile the differences that have arisen between the mine managers and the mine employees. The general impression here is that they will be able to do this. If the strike continues for any great length of time it is feared that it will result in completely shutting down the mines and smelters of this section, and hence a strong effort will be made to bring it to an end.

Shipments for the past week ending tonight were: Centre Star, 1,025 tons; Le Roi 1, 785 tons; Le Roi 2, 295 tons; White Boat, 79 tons; total, 2,175 tons, and for year to date, 73,900 tons.

Smelter Receipts.

Nelson, April 27.—Following are the ore shipments in southeastern British Columbia, shipped for the past week and year to date in tons: Shipments—East of Columbia river, week, 2,300; year, 88,211. Roseland, week, 4,070; year, 81,211. Boundary, week, 2,679; year, 28,221. Total, week, 9,049; year, 137,643.

EAT NEMO AND LIVE

Smelter receipts: Grand Forks, week, 1,440; year, 192,830. Greenwood, week, 1,250; year, 80,371. Boundary Falls, week, 381; year, 4,147. Trail, week, 286; year, 7,578. Nelson, week, 121; year, 4,569. Northport, week, 2,092; year, 24,528. Marysville, week, 609; year, 16,202.

MINE FLOODED.

Seven Men Imprisoned and Are Believed to Have Perished.

Johnstown, Pa., April 27.—Seven miners have been imprisoned in Mine No. 38 of the Berkland White Coal Co. at Fountwell, near this city, since yesterday afternoon, by a flood of water caused by an overflow from an abandoned working.

It was supposed the entire party had perished, but late this afternoon steps were exchanged between the entombed men and the rescuers by means of rapping on a water pipe.

To-night, however, the rapping from within the mine has ceased, and it is feared the men are dead from drowning or suffocation.

Some of the optimistic rescuers believe the men have crawled to the air shaft, which is situated near the roof, and that this accounts for the failure to signal further.

There are acres of water in the mine, however, and the work of rescue is necessarily slow. It is believed tonight that it will be at least several days before the water is pumped out, and hopes for the entombed men have almost been abandoned.

Through some mistake, it is said, the accident was caused by a blast being fired in the thin wall which divided mine No. 38 from an old working which was filled with water.

The accident happened some time yesterday, but it did not become known until this afternoon. No official advice were then received, and that an accident occurred was discovered only when the families of the entombed miners congregated about the shaft.

All the men are foreigners, with large families. The scene about the mine is pathetic.

THE LATE DR. OROHYTEKHA.

Remains Have Been Laid to Rest in Sealed Grave.

Toronto, Ont., April 27.—Fortified against the work of supposed grave robbers who for nights lingered about the little mortuary in Deseronto cemetery, the body of the late Dr. OrohYTEKHA, supreme chief ranger of the I. O. F., were laid to rest in a sealed grave by the order of the executive council of the I. O. F., reports having reached them from the student.

The head of the late supreme chief for examination. Three young men were actually seen frequently at midnight in the Deseronto cemetery. Arrangements were at once commenced for the interment of the remains in the Mohawk burial ground on the reserve, where the widow and sons were buried. Extraordinary precautions were taken to make the grave as secure as possible by use of cement and steel.

DENTIST NOT ALWAYS NEEDED FOR ACHING TEETH.

Toothache is usually due to neuralgia in the gums or to the congestion and swelling of the nerve pulp. As "Nerviline" relieves congestion, you can easily see why it cures toothache so quickly. Nerviline does more—cures any ache or pain—in any part of the body, and let it be earache, neuralgia, lumbago or rheumatism—so long as there is pain, "Nerviline" will cure. It's the marvel of all doctors why Nerviline is so penetrating and powerful. Hundreds of thousands of 25c. bottles used every year—and that is true proof of its merit.

CUBAN HOME RULE.

United States Will Withdraw From Temporary Control in 1908.

Cincinnati, April 27.—That the United States government will withdraw from temporary control of Cuba in September, 1908, was manifested in an interview by Secretary of War Taft, today. Briefly referring to that country and his recent visit there, the secretary said that the Cuban settlement had proved so unexpectedly satisfactory, and Governor Magoon had so completely succeeded in winning the confidence of all parties there, that he felt that the United States could withdraw from Cuba, and give its people another opportunity for self-government, not later than September, 1908.

WATCHMAN FOUND DEAD.

Atlanta City, N. J., April 27.—Frank Ireland, aged 24 years, of Sutch's Landing, N. J., was found dead at a hotel here today, where he was employed as a watchman, with a bullet wound in the head. Mrs. Clara Robinson, of Philadelphia, was found beside the body weeping bitterly. She was arrested, but police believe Ireland committed suicide. The woman told the police she heard the report of the revolver, entered Ireland's room and found him dying, with the revolver lying at his side.

WILL CLOSE FACTORIES.

Havana, April 27.—The independent cigar manufacturers have decided to close their factories on April 29th in sympathy with the fight of the tobacco strikers. The strikers have been on strike for the past two months to enforce their demands to be paid in American money instead of Spanish. This will mean that on no Sunday 3,000 cigar makers will be unemployed in this city.

In Narburgh church, in Norfolk, was buried in 1629 a man whose body was enclosed in a pillar in an upright position.

LIMITATION OF ARMAMENTS.

Question Will Probably Be Discussed at The Hague Peace Conference.

Rome, April 27.—The discussion that has been going on concerning the Italian proposition for limitation of armaments has served in a measure to elucidate the attitude of the various powers on the subject. Great Britain, which is the only country to send a minister of Foreign Affairs to the conference, is in favor of the discussion, and is thoroughly supported by Spain, Russia, while insisting on the discussion of its own programme of 1906-1917, 1906, agrees with Germany and Austria on the question of armament to the point of referring to it in official documents as an "entente" but Russia is favorable to any step that is likely to result in a correct and reasonable solution of the matter.

Germany and Austria do not favor the limitation of armament, they will, however, permit the presentation of the proposal, although they are not willing to participate in its discussion.

France, there is reason to believe, is of the opinion that there exists international as well as internal reasons against limitation, but she will allow the presentation of the question. She has not yet decided whether to participate in the discussion or not.

JUDGMENT HANDED DOWN.

Full Court Sustains Judge Lampman's Decision in Sailor's Case.

News received from Vancouver gives the information that judgment in the appeal in Cairns vs. the B. C. Salvage Company has been handed down, and that the court decided to dismiss the appeal with costs. The judgment of Judge Lampman is therefore upheld.

This case was first heard by the County court judge here, and it will be remembered was taken by one of the crew which saved the Marston in Alaska to recover wages while at Ketchikan on the way home. The plaintiff signed for a sailing voyage not to exceed three months, and as that had expired before Ketchikan was reached, he wanted to be paid off there. The defendant company insisted that he proceed to Victoria before being paid off and claimed that he deserted at Ketchikan. In answer to this latter contention, it was put forward that the man was within his rights in landing there for the purpose of consulting as to what course to pursue. Mr. Morsey represented the plaintiff and W. J. Taylor, K. C., the defendant company. Judge Lampman decided in favor of the plaintiff. An application was later made before Mr. Justice Irving, who dismissed it, and an appeal was then taken by the defendant to the Full court, with the result stated.

If all the rain that falls on London in a year could be gathered and collected, the supply would amount to 40 tons of water for each person.

In the course of the meeting it was decided to wind up the number of social evenings spent throughout the winter by a grand social dance. The Navy League has arranged that the annual meeting of the Victoria-Esquamalt branch will be held on Wednesday evening, 15th May, when Capt. Clive Phillips-Wolley will deliver an address bearing upon matters most important to British Columbia and the British Empire at large. A specially high class programme will be prepared by Mrs. (Dr.) Robertson, assisted by Mr. Phillips. In such capable hands the public may expect a rare treat with admission free and no collection.

On the arrival of General Kuroki in this city the Fifth Regiment will in all probability be called upon to form his guard of honor. Lieut.-Colonel Hall, the officer commanding the regiment, received orders yesterday evening from the minister of militia and defence at Ottawa instructing him to hold the Fifth in readiness in case they should be called upon, and arrangements are now being made. The steamer Aki Maru carries Gen. Kuroki and his staff, and is expected to arrive in Victoria on the coming Wednesday.

The remains of the late Joseph Rowe were laid at rest yesterday afternoon. There was a large gathering of friends and the Royal tributes were many and very beautiful, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held. Rev. G. K. B. Adams, who conducted the funeral services, spoke very touchingly of the deceased, and gave words of comfort to the bereaved family. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which deceased was a member, had charge of the cortege which proceeded to Ross Bay cemetery, where they performed the last rites of their order. The pallbearers were: W. Irving, Jos. Pope, R. Drake, E. Anderson, T. E. Phillips and W. Huxtable.

AT THE THEATRES.

"A Stranger in Town" To-Morrow Night—"A Yankee Tourist."

"A Stranger in Town," that comes to the Victoria theatre to-morrow night, is under the personal direction of H. B. Linton, who is among the foremost of the younger theatrical managers of America. Frank Beamish, a comedian of exceptional ability, is featured in this sparkling comedy with music and high class vaudeville specialties, and is surrounded by a clever company of well known artists, including Edward Ailor, Arthur Fitzgerald, Herbert Hier, Albert Homburg, Rita Knight, Jessie Barrington, Louise Frazier, Edna Ward, Annet Peters, Mable Gordon and many others.

"A Yankee Tourist," Raymond Hitchcock, than whom there is no more clever comedian, returns to the R. B. C. theatre to-morrow night, which has been arranged in a new and original comic opera in three acts, "A Yankee Tourist," and he will be Henry W. Savage's attraction at the Victoria theatre on Wednesday next, surrounded by a cast of unusual excellence, and unquestionably the event will be one of the most interesting of the season. The book of this new vehicle for Mr. Hitchcock is by Richard Harding Davis, while the lyrics are from the very facile pen of Wallace Irwin. Alfred G. Robyn has provided a score of originality and merit.

Westwood Farm Sub-Division

It has been sub-divided into parcels of 7, 10, 20 and 40 acre blocks. There are some 400 acres to select from. The land is beautifully situated in a fine, sunny location. It is convenient to the Victoria & Esquimalt Railway, and is about 1/2 mile from town, church and school close to. There is a large area of cleared, cultivated land; living streams run through the property. Owing to the large area of the sub-division it gives a varied selection. There is some as demonstrated by the splendid orchard on the farm. The fruit from this orchard forms part of the collection exhibited in the United Kingdom, and which was so successful in the matter of awards. There is also some very rich bottom land, cultivated, for those wishing to engage in MARKET GARDENING, and a number of parcels suitable for POULTRY.

The officer commanding regrets to have notified in the recent inspection of companies, the lack of proper section organization as laid down in infantry training, 1905, sections 59-60. O. C. Companies will explain these provisions to their men on the next parade, as they must in future be rigidly adhered to.

It is probable that at an early date an emergency parade will be called, orders for which will be issued in the usual way.

HUGE DEFENCE FUND.

Labor Unions of the World Will Be Asked to Contribute.

New York, April 27.—According to the American this morning a big fund is to be raised by the Moyer-Haywood protest conference of the United States, Leaders of the movement aim to raise the money in the endeavor to save the lives of the defendants.

U. Solomon, a leader in the executive of the conference, issued the following statement today:

"Up to April 1st, $101,587 was raised in behalf of Moyer and Haywood, and $32,000 of this money has already been spent by the Western Federation of Miners. In the next ten days the sum of $25,000 will be raised. The work of raising a gigantic defence fund will be left, for not only will the labor unions of the United States be appealed to, but the labor unions of Canada, Europe and Australia as well.

GRANTED DIVORCE.

Madame Emma Eames Story Successful in Suit Against Husband.

New York, April 27.—Judge Tompkins at a special term of the Supreme court at White Plains has granted an interlocutory decree of divorce dissolving the marriage between Madame Emma Eames Story, the artist. This was done after a full hearing and upon the report of Frank M. Buck, referee. The action and decree were based upon statutory grounds, and the testimony was conclusive. No correspondent of social prominence was involved. The language of the court order is that the parties be divorced, the marriage dissolved and each be freed from the obligations thereof, and that it should be lawful for Madame Emma Eames to resume her maiden name, if she desires, and she may marry again in the same manner as if the defendant Julius Story were actually dead. It is not to be lawful for the defendant Story to marry any other person until the plaintiff be actually dead. Under the practice of New York, at the end of three months, unless otherwise ordered by the court, the decree is to be made final.

VICTORIA WEST WINS EASILY

PROLIFIC SCORING AT ASSOCIATION

New Westminster Makes Poor Showing in First Game for Intermediate Championship

By defeating the New Westminster intermediates by a score of 10 goals to 3 at Oak Bay on Saturday, Victoria West has won the first of the two games for the intermediate association championship of the province. The features of the game were the prolific scoring and the fact that the local team seldom, within striking distance, without its efforts being crowned with success.

Throughout the match play was of a straggling order. The victors had but a poor notion of the game. They knew little of fitness and showed their faith in brute force, which deplorably failed them. Notwithstanding the large score which was registered against them, their goal-keeper was the best player they had, and at times effected some really good saves.

It can hardly be wondered that against such a team the Wests should shine conspicuously. And yet the very bad play of their opponents seemed to disorganize the home team. Certain it is that, taken all-round, with the exception of its goal shooting, the team was not nearly as good as it has been in previous matches this season. To their credit, be it said, some of the players on the Victoria West side played an exceptionally good game. Toi was always in evidence, and his swinging centres were a feature of the match. Campbell was also a tower of strength to his side. Sedger and Dakin fully lived up to their reputation, and O'Kell played a very knowing game. But while individual brilliancy was not lacking, the team as a whole showed a certain exuberance of spirit, doubtless induced by the fact of having matters all its own way, and this exuberance considerably detracted from the merit of the game from a spectacular standpoint.

The opening ten minutes of the game saw play of an equal character, and at the end of that time the score stood level at 2 goals all. Then the home-sters commenced to assert themselves. From this time to the final whistle they had nine-tenths of the play. Goal after goal was piled up, and some of these were obtained in first class fashion. Not throughout the entire season has a team in Victoria been seen to show such an advantage in goal scoring capacity. As soon as a prospect of scoring came in sight the players backed one another up in splendid fashion, and to this the large score is due. The visitors succeeded in recording one goal from a penalty, which was somewhat rounded, leaving Victoria West winners by the handsome margin of 10 goals to 3.

THE LAST GAME.

All roads will lead to Oak Bay next Saturday. On that day the last Association football match of the season will be played in this city between the team that has been chosen to represent the Island in the match against the Mainland at Vancouver on the 11th prox, and a team selected from the rest of the players in the city. It has been decided that the proceeds of this match shall go to augment the funds which are being accumulated for the construction of a stadium by the Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

The Vancouver Island Football Association held its annual meeting on Saturday night. J. G. Brown presided and the following delegates were present: E. M. Whyte, representing the Y. M. C. A.; R. J. Fell, Victoria United; S. O'Kell, Victoria West. Mr. Brown acted as the representative for H. M. Esoria. The report of the secretary, which gave a brief resume of the season which is now drawing to a close, was read and ordered filed. Some amendments to the constitution and by-laws of the association were considered and accepted. The election of officers and other matters were postponed to an adjourned meeting, which will be held next Saturday night.

THE GUN. HIGH SCHOOL SHOOT.

Some good scores were recorded at the recent annual high school shooting. The high school cadets, which took place at the drill hall on Saturday afternoon. Out of a possible 25, the following scores were recorded: Richard, 22; Lee, 22; Walters, 22; Corp. Kent, 22; Cadet Elworthy, 22; Cadet Chessman, 22; Cadet Dunn, 22; Cadet Hehl, 21; Cadet Gray, 21; Cadet Taylor, 21.

LACROSSE. CENTRAL'S ACTIVE.

The Central lacrosse team held another practice yesterday morning at the Oak Bay grounds. There was a good attendance and the boys had a fine practice. There is plenty of good material this year and the prospects are bright for a championship team. The boys practice regularly three nights a week at the high school grounds, and have been kindly allowed the use of the fire hall, just across the road, as a dressing room.

THE RING. HE IS A FIGHTER.

"He is a fighter, or the best counter-fighter I ever saw," said those who were with Bill Squires, the Australian heavyweight, who recently arrived in San Francisco, has gone into training at quarters near the head of Levee Bay. Commencing at a post planted at the southeast corner of Lot 22, Levee Bay, he will chain westerly, thence 30 chains north-easterly, thence 50 chains easterly, thence 20 chains southerly to point of commencement, containing 60 acres more or less.

the critics say that he should commence with the smaller fry, but up to the present Squires has turned a deaf ear to their advice. In his opinion, the champion of Australia is as good as any man in the world, and he is not going to serve an apprenticeship on this side of the water.

Squires strips big in the language of the ring. He weighs 184 pounds and carries a magnificent physique. From the waist down he is the image of a well-regulated sprinter, and he depends much upon his speed to overcome an opponent. His movements are easy and graceful. His punches perform their duty like well-regulated machinery.

It is generally acknowledged that he will be a hard man to beat. His meeting with Jeffries would give a much needed impetus to pugilism, but it is a long cry to the redoubtable "Jim."

LAWN TENNIS. JAY GOULD VICTORIOUS.

Jay Gould won in three straight sets over E. T. Easton in the second round of the International amateur lawn tennis tournament in London on Saturday. Score, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

BASKETBALL. GAMES AT DRILL HALL.

At the drill hall on Saturday evening the J. B. A. intermediate basketball team went down to defeat before the high school representatives. The play was fast and furious throughout, and the score, 2 to 3, is a greatly misleading as to the evenness of the teams.

In the second game of the evening the high school junior team was beaten by the M. C. Junior Five. At the finish of a very exciting game the score stood at 15 to 12.

BILLIARDS. THE LIMITLESS BREAK.

It would appear that the anchor cannon epidemic has not yet reached its apex. The record has once more been beaten. Once again Dawson, after securing the cradle bias position, has shown that, bar accidents, the scoring may be limitless. Playing against Loveley, the "father of the stroke," in Liverpool recently, he made a break of 234, showing a previous record of 245. This new record was brought to a conclusion by a miscue.

CRICKET. A SCHEDULE FOR SEASON.

About Female Ailments

NOT HARD TO CURE IF PROPERLY AND PROMPTLY TREATED.

Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female diseases, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better off the system is without the poisonous accumulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good?

Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes to-day; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Gravesend, Port Au Port, Newfoundland: "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was 'female trouble' and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so.

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as to-day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

The Kentish fat boy, Charles Law, of Woodchurch, has celebrated his 100th birthday. During the last year he has increased in size, and now weighs 375 pounds.

THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP WITH THERAPION No. 3

It is a condition (or disease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—a broken-down, run-down, worn-out, exhausted, and debilitated condition of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its cause (for they are all-potent) its symptoms are much the same: more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of general weariness, depression of spirits, loss of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—energy.

VITAL STRENGTH & ENERGY to throw off these morbid feelings, and experience proves that an eight weeks' course of this may be more certainly secured by a course of the celebrated life-restoring tonic.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in the Northwest Territories, Provinces, accepting Section 20, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less. Application for homestead entry or inspection must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent.

An application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-Agent's office may be wired to the local Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by the local Agent.

An applicant for inspection must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if he desires, to use also, or being declared of abandonment.

When an entry is summarily cancelled or voluntarily abandoned subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant's name will be entitled to priority right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any priority right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, or if entry has been granted it may be annulled by the Department.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

REFUSED PERMISSION

Will Not Permit Sewer to Be Run Through Property.

The streets, bridges and sewers committee are in a quandary as to the proper course to pursue in laying the sewer pipe to the water front in Victoria West. It had been intended to run this across the property of Mr. Boggs. His one hundred yards east of the firehall. The pipe has been laid to this point and right up to Mr. Boggs's place where it stops.

Mr. Boggs, considering that it will be detrimental to his property, refuses to allow the workmen to proceed. The city have offered compensation, but this in the owner's opinion is insufficient. And so with this refusal before them the streets' committee reasoned of the course to pursue. For a considerable length of time last Friday night, some of them were desirous of expropriating the needed property. Others objected to this as being too drastic a proceeding. They were of the opinion that Mr. Boggs could be persuaded to allow the drain to be laid. Meantime—nothing definite is being done.

LIFE SAVED BY FROST.

How frost saved a man's life was told at Morpeth, Northumberland, when a carrier was charged with attempting to commit suicide, by cutting his throat, was shown that the frost which prevailed at the time congealed the blood in the wound, thus saving the man's life.

DROWNED IN OKANAGAN LAKE.

Thursday's Vernon News says: "Just as we were going to press, news reached us by telephone from the Rainbow ranch that John McCallum had been drowned in Okanagan lake." From the meagre details at our disposal we gather that he had gone down to the wharf at Rainbow Landing to flag the boat. He was shortly after discovered lying on the bottom near the end of the wharf, in several feet of water. The deceased had been for many years in the employ of Price Ellison, M. O., one of the most expert and successful cattlemen in the country. He was over 70 years of age and had no relatives in this country, having come west many years ago from Zorra, Ontario. His death will be very sincerely regretted by many friends among the old-timers in this district."

ORIGIN OF NURSERY RHYMES.

Some Very Familiar Lines Are Centuries Old.

Slang phrases in course of time, become absorbed into the vernacular, just in the same way that nonsense rhymes and nursery verses become institutions. Take the following examples. The famous lines:

"Mother, may I go out to swim?
Yes, my darling daughter;
Hang your clothes on a hickory limb,
And don't go near the water!"

are at least 1,200 years old, being found in a book of jests of the sixth century, compiled by Hierocles.

"Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, etc."

ROOM WITHOUT COLUMNS.

Connected with the Mohammedan mosque at Lucknow, India, is one of the largest rooms in the world without columns, being 162 feet long, 54 feet wide and 53 feet high. It was built during the great famine in 1784 to supply work for a starving people. It is a solid mass of concrete of simple form and still simpler construction. In its erection a mould or framework of timber and brick served first in thickness was first made, which was then filled with concrete. The concrete was allowed about a year to set and dry, when the mould was removed. Although the building has been standing 122 years, it is said to show no signs of decay or deterioration.

The ivory market of Antwerp is now the largest one in the world—larger than the two other great markets, those of London and Liverpool.

has come down to us from the days of King John.

"The Babes in the Wood" dates from the fifteenth century; being founded upon facts, an old house near Weymouth, Dorset, having the whole story in carving on the walls. "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pinner" and "Old Mother Hubbard" "Mother Goose" and "Goosey, Goosey, Gander" are each traceable to the sixteenth century.

"Pussy Cat, Pussy Cat, where have you been?" belongs to the reign of Queen Elizabeth. These nursery rhymes appeared in a music book dated 1809. "A Froggie Would a-Wooing Go" was licensed to be sung as far back as 1650. "Boys and Girls, Come Out to Play" and "Lucy Locket Lost Her Pinner" both date from the period of Charles II. and last of all, "Cinderella," "Jack, the Giant Killer," "Bluebeard" and "The Fishwife" were published by their author, Charles Perrault, in the year 1697.—London Chronicle.

BURIED IN TOMB OF GOLD.

Recently Discovered Mummy Demonstrates Gorgeous Methods of Early Egyptian Customs.

Theodore M. Davis has discovered at Thebes the tomb of Queen Tefk, one of the greatest names in the history of Ancient Egypt.

She was, says the London Times, the mother and inspirer of the famous Amenhotep IV., the "heretic king," of the eighteenth dynasty, who broke with the religious traditions of Egypt and endeavored to introduce a pantheistic monotheism, the visible symbol of which was the solar disc. The worship of Amon, the god of his fathers, was proscribed, and for the first time in history there was a persecution for religion's sake.

The old religion of Egypt triumphed in the end, and the tomb of Tefk bears witness to the blind rage of the victorious priesthood of Thebes and the intensity of their hatred towards the "heretic king."

The doorway of the piled stones, which was sealed with the royal seal, was partially broken through, the wooden doors were wrenched from their hinges, the great catafalque which stood before the coffin was torn to pieces, and the mummy itself turned over in order to erase the name of the "heretic king" incised on the sheet of gold which lay beneath it.

Wherever the name of the heretic was found, it was carefully destroyed, and the figure of the king adorning the solar disc, which had been engraved on one of the gold plates of the catafalque, was chiseled out.

The men, however, who thus violated the tomb, were no common robbers. The heaves they wrought was the result of the religious zeal, and save for these desecrations, the tomb remains as it was left by the priest amid the throes of a religious revolution which had spent its force before Moses was born.

Wherever the excoiators walked they trod upon fragments of gold plate and gold leaf.

The coffin, when it was discovered, lay on a tier encrusted with gold, and supported on four lion's claws, also of gold.

The woodwork of the bier has been converted into touchwood by the action of the air. The coffin, however, is intact, and a superb example of the jeweler's work.

The wood of which it was composed is entirely covered with a frame of gold inlaid with lapis lazuli, cornelian and green glass. The inlay represents for the most part a pattern of scales, but down the middle runs an inscription, from which we learn that the coffin was "made for Tefk" by her son.

The mummy itself was wrapped from head to foot in sheets of gold. There were bracelets on the arms, and a necklace of gold beads and ornaments of gold inlaid with precious stones around the neck, while the head was still encircled by a priceless object—the Imperial Crown of the Queens of ancient Egypt.

The crown is at once simple and exorbitantly fashioned, and represents the royal vulture, holding a brazen ring in either talon, while its wings surround the head and are fastened at the tips behind by a pin. The whole is of solid gold, without inlay or other adventitious ornament.

An idea of the personal appearance of Queen Tefk is gained from the four portrait heads which replace the heads of the genii of the dead Egyptian orthodox as the covers of the four canonic jars.

These heads are done in Egyptian alabaster, with the eyebrows and eyes of brown represented by inlay of lazuli and obsidian. The face is that of a woman at once masterful and engaging; but apart from the lips, there is little that is Egyptian about it, and the delicate sub-anguine curve of the nose is European rather than African.

Many articles of artistic interest were found in the tomb.

In the world of music are found many instances of boys giving an early indication of a remarkable career. Handel and Mozart each showed a liking for music when young in years, and soon made their mark. Handel began composing a church service for voices and instruments when only nine years old, and before he was fifteen he had composed three operas. Mozart began the piano at three, and at seven he taught himself the violin. At nine years of age he visited England, and on his departure he gave a farewell concert, of which all the symphonies were composed by himself.

DRESS.

DRESS, the representative of all that is best and correct in the fashion world, has just come forth in a May number of exceptional beauty and interest.

From the exquisite cover page to the last advertisement, this magazine is a tribute to the artistic, but more than that it is not admissible to at least a half-dozen variations to suit all demands.

In an opening article, the Promenade, we are given a delightful review of the month in New York's world of fashion and society.

For the early summer outfit, illustrated by fourteen photographs and sketches, interestingly solves a much-needed question, as also does the succeeding article on "What to Take to Europe," which is comprehensive yet directly to the point.

The Trend of Fashion, as its subject implies, forecasts fashion points for the coming season, and gives many a helpful hint bound to be appreciated by those who have to prepare their trousseau ahead of time.

The Bouffant authoritatively tells of the newest and most reliable toilet articles, creams, lotions and other requisites rightfully belonging to that "holly-holly" a woman's boudoir.

"Stance and Dress" is carefully reviewed, and their are several pages devoted to "Gleanings"—items of importance concerning the designs shown in the magazine, little economies and tidbits in general that go to make dressing easier, suggestions, which not only suggest, but explain briefly and in detail, and lastly, Shop Notes, which, reinforced by able little cuts, are not by any means the least interesting matter in the book.

DRESS is unique in its field, and fills a long-felt need. Every woman finds it to be smart in her sewing, and there is no better medium she can bring to her aid.

Simple Gowns of Pongee and Silk Materials.

This season the manufacturers have put forth a great many designs in silk materials that are especially planned for unpretentious little frocks or for street wear. Taffeta, surah, pongee, foulard, etc., will be all extensively worn, and when the warm spring days appear will be seen made up into street frocks in charming designs. These fabrics come in stripes, checks and plaids in various combinations and colorings, and it must be admitted that the majority of designs seen are very tasteful and smart looking.

Probably the most attractive patterns are in the rather large checks in black, brown, blue or other colorings combined with white, or in the plain brown silks showing a rather large dot spaced over the surface. The plaids are not as generally recommended, as they are usually rather loud when shown in the ordinary color combinations. However, when they are cleverly selected, they are exceedingly smart.

The best of these plaid patterns show only two colors, and especially good are those in black and white or in rather dark shades of blue and green.

The plain taffetas, pongees and surahs, the silk showing no figure, are preferred by many expert gownmakers, for street frocks for general wear, and are really very good style when effectively trimmed and cleverly made.

Figured one-tone pongees and embroidered one-tone pongees are new and most attractive and other novelties are shown in the rajahs and other fabrics of like character.

The new foulards woven in dress patterns, with a deep border, running along one edge of the double-width goods, are more expensive, but possess the charm of novelty, and are more exclusive than the usual patterns. Most of these come in dot effects, the deep border being in very large water dots, with smaller dots at three-inch intervals over the silk.

As to trimmings for these gowns, the guimpe idea is most in evidence, and, although a guimpe and undersleeves of lace, embroidery, etc., is certainly not new, chic and exclusive effects are given by the use of clever touches in hand embroidery, fine applique or cord braiding or strap and button effects about the gown.

The illustration, which was sketched from a model in pale blue pongee, is a case in point of the value of a little hand-

Wall Treatment For Dining Room.

The little sketch shows a most attractive wall treatment for a dining room. The wood-trim of the room was of black or Flemish oak, the furniture being in early mission style. The wall space was paneled with wood, which supported a plate shelf six inches broad. On this shelf were placed a few choice bits of brass or pottery. The wall spaces between these panels were done in roughened plaster, finished in soft, yellowish-brown.

Above the plate shelf a picture frieze was placed, the coloring in the frieze being principally in soft browns, greens and soft yellows, the figures being brought out in vague reds, grays, violet, mauve and purple.

Many of these friezes come in sets of three figures, so that the same figure need not be repeated, the frieze being so made that it is possible to fill out additional space with more landscape design. For instance, the frieze picture represented a knight and lady engaged in the old-time sport of falcon flying. Each section of frieze was 18 feet long by 30 inches wide, the first strip showing the two figures on horseback, with a background of sky, trees and woods. The second panel portrayed the lady galloping off alone, and the third, the knight holding the hounds in leash. With this frieze came additional extensions, carrying out the design of the background.

BEATRICE CAREY.

Recipes for Many Kinds of Salads.

Lettuce Hearts.—Divest a head of Boston cabbage lettuce of the outer leaves down to the hard head. With a sharp knife cut the head into quarters and arrange them on a dish, with the stalk ends toward the center. Sprinkle over them, if desired, a little celery-cut into small dice. If celery is used place a little in the center of the dish and between the quarters. At the moment of serving pour French dressing, using a spoon, into the lettuce hearts, moistening them well. The outside leaves taken from the heads may be broken into small pieces or cut into ribbons.

Boquet Salad.—Break crisp lettuce leaves into pieces, arrange them on a flat dish, and place in the center a bunch of watercress, or of nasturtium blossoms. Just before serving moisten the lettuce with French dressing, and the watercress also if it is used.

Salad of Artichoke Bottoms.—Take artichoke bottoms as they come from the can. Rinse them, off with cold water. Spread each one with mayonnaise and pile on it as many vegetables as it will hold. Use green peas, string beans, flowers of cauliflower or any mixture of vegetables that may be convenient. Place a little mayonnaise on top of the vegetables, and place the artichoke cups on leaves of ouinaise. Or a glass or cup filled with mayonnaise may be placed in the center of the dish and the individual portions arranged around it.

Macedoine of Vegetables.—Boil small portions of as many different kinds of vegetables as convenient, and keep them in separate dishes. When they are cold, and shortly before serving mix them together, adding some mayonnaise. Peas, string beans, lima beans, fagelets, carrots, cut into dice, make a good combination.

Chicken Salad.—Cut cold chicken into half-inch dice, using both white and dark meat. Moisten it with French dressing. Cut tender celery into small dice and mix it with the chicken, using two-thirds as much celery as there is of chicken. Mix the whole with mayonnaise. Form it into a mound and cover it with mayonnaise. Decorate the mound as follows: Begin at the top and form four lines of pickled beets, dividing the form into four sections. Follow the lines of beet with lines of chopped white of hard-boiled egg. This will leave triangular spaces. Make another line of beets and fill the space left with the crumbled yolks of hard-boiled eggs. Outline the small triangular spaces with capers and finish the top with an olive and sprigs of parsley. Place lettuce leaves and slices of hard-boiled egg around the dish. Veal instead of chicken may be used in the same way. Lobster salad should be mixed with lettuce instead of celery.

Fruit Salads.—Sometimes fruits are mixed with mayonnaise and served as salad. The following mixtures may be used: Pineapple, oranges, and apples; grape fruit, oranges and canned peaches; pineapple and banana; apple and grapefruit. Garnish with lettuce leaves.

Stuffed Tomato Salad.—Peel small tomatoes and cut out the hard pieces around the stem ends to make tomato cups. Sprinkle inside lightly with salt and pepper, and fill with equal portions of celery and walnut, cut in pieces and mixed with lettuce leaves and garnish with curled celery. Serve mayonnaise on a separate dish.

Cucumber Salad for Fish Course.—With a handy slicer remove the outside rind from the cucumbers, cut in thin slices and let stand in ice water to chill, retaining the slices in the order in which they were cut. Wipe dry and arrange the slices in the salad bowl in the form of a Greek cross. Make a French dressing in the proportion of three tablespoonfuls of cider vinegar to six tablespoonfuls of oil, half a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of paprika. Rub the inside of the salad bowl with the outside of the onion before the salad is disposed in it.

Shrimp and Cucumber Salad.—Break the shrimps into pieces and marinate with French dressing. At serving time add an equal quantity of chilled cucumber, cut into cubes; mix with mayonnaise. Shape into a mound and cover lightly with whole shrimps and the heart-leaves of lettuce. Surround with sliced cucumbers, dressed with French dressing flavored with onion juice.

Pineapple, Sweetbread and Pimento Salad.—Mix cubes of sweetbread, pineapple, beets, dividing the form into four sections. Follow the lines of beet with lines of chopped white of hard-boiled egg. This will leave triangular spaces. Make another line of beets and fill the space left with the crumbled yolks of hard-boiled eggs. Outline the small triangular spaces with capers and finish the top with an olive and sprigs of parsley. Place lettuce leaves and slices of hard-boiled egg around the dish. Veal instead of chicken may be used in the same way. Lobster salad should be mixed with lettuce instead of celery.

Minor Fashion Point

Low shoes in brown leather, with hose-to-match, will be much worn with street costumes during the spring and summer. The smartest shoes set out to a four-inch band of cream-colored net or mousseline, which was covered by inch-wide lace ruffles, run up into a point at the outer arm.

DOROTHY DALE.

At the Dress-Accessory Counter where those exquisite lace and embroidery bordered pony jackets and half and full length coats of fabulous price are shown, are to be found beautiful examples of the neck and shoulder scarf which the summer will see much use of. The very newest of these are in broche pattern, with white and delicately tinted centers, and the edges are finished with a border of soft white swansdown, an old-time trimming favorite revived, such as are other modes of days past and gone.

Burglar—"Don't make such a row, old man. I want to see if my deposit is all right. Nobody can trust his bankers now."

HE SAYS THAT ALL HE HAS TO OWE TO HIS WIFE.

"He says that all he has to owe to his wife."

"Then if the color of his nose is any indication she must have driven him to drink."

Novelties in Leather Belts.

The new leather belts differ from that worn a season or so ago, in that the narrow, stiff band belts are quite superseded by those of flexible leather, the new designs being shown in a great many delightful colorings and original effects. One of the best models seen was made of soft leather cut very wide, but made to adjust itself closely to the figure with the wrinkled snugness of a mousquetaire glove. At the back and in the front are large buckles in gilt or silver. This model comes in almost every coloring, and should be matched in shade with the coat and skirt gown which it is to accompany.

As brown is so popular this season, delightful belts are to be had in soft suede leather in a beautiful wood brown, and those in gray are also charming. A great many of the fancy belts seen show designs in steel and steel beads, and artistic buckles in silver studded with semi-precious stones add to the fascinations of these more elaborate belts.

The belts sketched show some of the most desirable models suitable for street costumes. One design which is becoming to almost any figure shows a straight, rather wide, crush belt of soft leather, fastening with two gold hooks passing through gold eyes.

Another design shows a threaded effect, narrow straps of leather being threaded through round eyelets as a decoration. The three other belts sketched show desirable designs in the wider belts.

THE JOKE ON TEDDY.

(Washington Dispatch to New York World.)

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, son-in-law of Senator Lodge, and a friend, were traveling along Pennsylvania avenue to the White House today, when there were two short, sharp claps of thunder.

"What's that?" inquired the friend.

"Oh! nothing," said Mr. Gardner. "The president has just taken another railroad president out in the White Lot and shot him."

When Mr. Gardner reached the White House he told the story to the president, who laughed uproariously and seemed to enjoy the joke.

Most of our New Year's resolutions had flaws in them anyhow.

Doubloons

By EDEN PHILLPOTTS and ARNOLD BENNETT.

"The Goblons was in-verity a treasure ship, and, briefly, we had high one hundred thousand pieces of eight by her. We had tolled like demons, and by midnight we had sunk the last box in the Grand Etang."

"This is the guide to the hiding place of the boxes beside the Grand Etang. Start from the gray stone that thrusts a yard above the water on the west shore. Take paces two hundred to the east. Face the sun at evening as it sets in mid November behind the Hill of Palms. Then take fourteen paces forth right into the lake, which there hath a depth of five feet."

Pollexfen ceased, and looked over the paper at Philip, his eyes glistening. "You perceive?" he said.

"Then it's sunk treasure after all!" Philip exclaimed.

"It is sunk treasure after all," Pollexfen responded. "You ought not to have been deceived by my ingenious references to Russian secret societies at the inquest."

"I was not," Philip returned. "But I find the sunk treasure theme equally surprising."

"Nevertheless," said Pollexfen, and Philip could not but remark the aversive glitter in his eyes, "the thing is perfectly serious. What I have read to you is a translation from the Spanish of the log of the El Legato. My brother was in possession of the whole history of that log. I need not read the rest to you. It relates how Master Gabriel and his crew were called suddenly away by circumstances over which they had no control, leaving their treasure where they had sunk it. Two days later the El Legato was captured and gutted and then sunk, only the crew being left in her. And there exists a highly curious circumstantial proof that the treasure has never been disturbed to this day and hour."

"In a word," Philip commented, "you are after doubloons."

"Doubloons is precisely the term," said Pollexfen. He then put the papers back in his pocket, and consulted his watch. "Ah! he ejaculated, as if in relief, "you turn me round, your little finger, young man. I give you absolutely all the information you ask for. My trust in you is such as to prove, that throughout a career crowded with misfortune I have preserved at any rate some of my illusions."

"For the second time the ship trembled to the beat of her engines."

"We are off," Pollexfen stated with a casual air. "I shall have to leave you here for a while, until we get out of the Thames. You might, after all, jump overboard and swim ashore, and der my own eye. Your incarceration will only be for a few hours. All my excuses!"

He departed, fastening the door on the outside.

"Well," Philip muttered to himself, "I'm in for it. And he began to calculate by what date he might hope to get back to England, and also to consider what explanation of his conduct he should give to Mary Pollexfen. He decided, however, with a remarkable complacency of consciousness, that she would be overjoyed that he had saved his life on no matter what terms.

"To think," he reflected, "that a man so extraordinary as this Pollexfen person should be hoodwinked by a silly yarn about secret treasure. If this pretence translated for isn't a fraud I'll eat my hat, but to get it he has not stopped at murder. However, all actors have something bizarre in their composition, and he's no exception."

He could now feel the motion of the yacht. He was hungry.

CHAPTER XXIV.
A New World.

Sir Anthony Diding was looking at a map that followed over his knees. "We've only got to turn just a shade to the left, instead of swinging clean round to the right, and we go straight there," he said. "Upon my soul, it's no distance at all."

Mary Pollexfen leaned from her seat, and glancing at the map, gave a polite assent to Tony's statement. Mrs. Appleby, without stirring, remarked that she never could understand maps, but that no doubt Tony was correct.

They were not approaching Piccadilly Circus in a broughie, and the question was not whether they should follow low Shaftesbury avenue or turn down sharp toward Waterloo Place. They were on the promenade deck of the steam yacht Wanderer, thirteen days out from London, and the question was whether they should proceed direct to Grenade or call at Bridgetown, Barbadoes, which is about half-a-day's sail nearer Charing Cross than any other island of the West Indies. Sir Anthony's chronology in discussing the matter might have been held to prove that the maritime instinct is not born in all Englishmen, but it not been for the fact that in every minute detail of his dress Sir Anthony showed sublime evidence of a taste and deep feeling for the sea. As an amateur yachtsman he satisfied the eye if not the ear.

The Wanderer was going twelve out of her advertised thirteen knots through an ocean as flat as the Saepentine. Dusk drew on, and the glittering blue sky had become a shimmering blue. The hush and melancholy of evening invaded gently the white vessel as she drove her funnel and her two masts across that immense, mysterious floor, dragging after her the sadder scarf of her smokes, like a shroud, in the endless universe. To Mary Pollexfen it was as if the voyage had begun far back in the mists of time, and as if the unceasing beat of those engines would continue forever into eternity.

"Sir Anthony, came a cold, polite voice from the bridge above."

"Well, Captain?"

"We shall make Bridgetown about 6 o'clock to-morrow morning."

"It appears to me such a waste of time to call there," said Tony.

"Indeed!" answered the Captain. "And supposing, Sir Anthony, there's no coal to be got at St. George's? Where are we then?"

The tone was merciful, and yet irreproachably courteous. Sir Anthony's had in truth made a surprising discovery in regard to ocean travel. He had found that nothing is easier than to hire a yacht. You go into an office, sign some papers, write out a check, and the yacht is yours for three months. But the surprising discovery was that a yacht can be yours and not yours at the same moment. Now at the commencement of the voyage Sir Anthony had committed the indiscretion of mistaking the captain for a chauffeur. Even Atchegray, the chief engineer, was much more than a chauffeur, and Captain Chetwode was much more than Atchegray. Captain Chetwode's history was simple and tragic. The Wanderer, under another name (which we do not care to divulge), had once been the private yacht of a famous secretary of state for foreign affairs, who happened to be an earl; and in those days Captain Chetwode reckoned to have some good blood in his own body; was a personage at Cowes and Oban. Then the earl had sold the yacht in order to devote himself exclusively to motor cars and motor boats. Worse, he had sold her to a firm of brokers, and he had the habit of hiring her out at fancy prices to rich fools ignorant of the sea. Captain Chetwode, not obtaining instantly another employer equally distinguished with the earl, had accepted, pro tempore, an offer from the brokers, and to his own terrible disgust he had remained in command of the Wanderer ever since. He had slipped into a rut, and he felt that he could never get out of it. He who once had the right to command of any owner who was not a member of the R. Y. C., he had guided emperors and princes through the difficult tides of the Solent, he who once had been round the world with an earl, a grand duke and a grand duchess on board, was now in command of a floating thing that he regarded as a mere excursion steamer. "Atchegray," he had said one night after five whiskies, "it's no better than the blooming Midnight Sun."

That he now had charge of a leading London dandy, with an historic title and one of the most celebrated and beautiful women in England, was apparently nothing to Captain Chetwode. They were not of the select. They had not moved in yachting circles. Yachts were not their sole occupation. They wereippers for Captain Chetwode, though the Wanderer was waiting Tony over fifteen hundred a month. Consequently Captain Chetwode treated them with the polite disdain. He would not be wooed, and he would not suffer his crew to be wooed and seduced alone, and his principal instrument of small talk was the word "indeed!" It is conceivable that Mary Pollexfen might have done something with him, had not Sir Anthony been indiscreet on the first day. Chetwode, however, was scarcely the man to argue from even an unintentional slight in less than about ten years. He was captain of the Wanderer, and long before the thirteenth day Tony had learnt that a captain is always a captain, and not less so because you are paying his wages. He had also learnt that a ship is its captain's.

Hence was it that Tony was being compelled to take his passengers to Barbadoes instead of going direct to Grenade, and that during the night the yacht did not "turn just a shade to the left." The coal argument was, of course, unanswerable. Tony did not attempt to answer it, but he strongly objected to it. He wanted to get to Grenade and the Grand Etang. He experienced the sensation of a person who is driving in a cab to any destination for which he fears to be late; he had an absurd desire to push with his arms. The near approach of the adventure was affecting his nerves, as he could afford to wait for the island of the Grand Etang. The master brain, the brain of Oxwich, had gradually been simplified into one overmastering instinct—the instinct to disembark, whose force is well known to most travelers who have spent more than consecutive days on the main. The voyage had been an exceptionally calm one, but not exceptionally calm enough for Oxwich.

After dinner, rain having come on, Tony and Mary were sitting together in the drawing-room, and were discussing Mrs. Appleby had come of to shipwrecked the disposal of her sailing in his bunk. Neither the baronet nor the diva could have explained why they were self-conscious. The explanation was too subtle for words. But it centered in the image of Philip Masters that both had in their hearts. As for Tony, he had meant to make love to Mary Pollexfen, but her attitude had forced him to give up that enterprise in despair. Moreover, Josephine Rice remained obstinately in his mind. "I wonder if it's still raining!" he said.

"I wonder!" answered Mary. "With a simultaneous movement they

And he walked away into the darkness, saluting again.

He had throughout steadily pretended to have no curiosity as to the object of the voyage. According to him, the purpose of the voyage was his affair. He kept his place, and he managed to convey his resolution that baronets should be forced to keep theirs. His present gratuitous remark was therefore rather astonishing. The sudden thought that Philip might be close to some strange and dangerous captivity, thrilled them both.

"Good-night," said Mary, after a curious pause.

"Going to bed?" Tony questioned.

"I am, too. Good-night. To-morrow."

She shook hands simply and left him. He whistled and lit a cigarette.

An hour later Mary, enveloped in an ulster, returned cautiously to the upper deck. There was no sign of Tony, who had retired to the dreamless slumber which he always enjoyed. She could not sleep. She could not think of sleep. She found a chair about the chart room and gave herself up to contemplation.

GOOD PLAIN ENGLISH

Is the best kind to use in advertising. I believe if it were possible to write an advertisement composed wholly of words of one syllable that that advertisement would be the strongest possible to write. Do not go beyond your depth in writing. Do not try to give the public the benefit of your superior wisdom and education, but rather appeal to them in good, plain English.

This kind of advertising in the Times invariably brings the advertiser the most gratifying return in dollars and cents—net profit.
