Many windows and roofs are in need of repair in all sections of town as the result of last Sunday's short but vigorous wind storm. At the Highlands, too, damage is reported.

The result of the civil service examination for Postmaster here will not be known for a month. Only two—Miss Stella Vincent and Herbert Heron— took the four-hour test at the Pacific Grove City H. I. last Wednesday.

Thomas S. Parkhurst, well-known artist of Toledo, Ohio, is a guest at Carmel Highlands, where he contemplates building a studio.

Ninety-four votes were cast at last Monday's Sanitary District election, with the following elected: Assessor, J. E. Nichols; Members of Board, R. W. Ball and W. M. Basham.

"You certainly missed it," was the greeting by those to those who did not attend the Carmel Valley dance on Saturday evening. A large contingent went from here.

A recent guest of Mrs. L. Brake was Miss Jessie Wood of Berkeley.

Mrs. William Ede and her two sons will be down from Piedmont on Monday for a brief visit.

The statement as to the proposed street work in Carmel, published in this issue, should be read from beginning to end by every property owner.

George Seideneck, a Chicago artist of note, will reside here for several months. He has rented the Bauer cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neal of Quebec, Canada, are guests of the Reapers. They are delighted with Carmel and will remain some time.

Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, at Arts and Crafts Hall, Mrs. John Galen Howard will resume her reading of the letters of Mrs. W. P. Lucas concerning the work of the Children's Bureau of the American Red Cross in France. A silver offering will be taken for the Belgian Relief Fund.

Persons operating stage and bus routes between or through communities are required by the State Railroad Commission to obtain permission to do so from the cities traversed. The rule affects the two Carmel-Monterey routes and also the Highlands route.

If you read it in the Pine Cone you may safely repeat it.

All Americans Can Serve

Every man, woman and child in this country, who wants to serve the country, can serve it and serve it in a very simple and effective way, says Secretary McAdoo.

That service is to lend your money to the government. Every 25 cents loaned to the government is a help at this time and practically every man, woman and child, by making some trifling sacrifice, some denial of a pleasure, or giving up some indulgence, can render the government that support.

Facts Concerning Street Work Presented by Chairman of Board of Trustees

To the People of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea:

In view of misunderstanding that seems to exist, the Board of Trustees deems it advisable to make a statement of its position in regard to contemplated street work in our city.

The intended work is all to be done under the Street Improvement Act of 1911 and the Act of 1915, both of which prescribe methods that must be followed.

The first and absolutely necessary step is to establish an official grade, without which no work can be done. The survey for this grade is now being made, and it will not change in any way the existing contours of our streets. No property will be damaged to the slightest degree through the establishment of this grade.

The Trustees intend to build streets of a permanent character, such as will last for a long period of years without the necessity for frequent and costly repairs. The property owners have to pay for the building of the streets in front of their lots, and they also have to pay for their maintenance, so the Board feels that the first construction should be of such character as to endure for a long time, thus avoiding frequent expense. We aim to make the first cost the only cost.

The question as to the nature of the roadway has been given careful thought. The heavy rains to which we are subject would wash out and destroy any roadway that was not of a substantial character with proper curbs and culverts. Investigation in and reports from other places show the absolute necessity for substantial, well-built roadways and suitable curbs and culverts. To fill these conditions, we contemplate the construction of an asphalt macadam roadway with curbing and culverts to take care of the storm waters that are such a nuisance to our streets. We do not, as has been stated by some of our citizens, intend to build any streets of concrete, this being too costly.

Ocean Avenue, from Mission to Monte Verde, will be parked in the center for about thirty feet, with roadways on either side; and from Monte Verde to San Antonio the roadway will run as at present—down the center of the street. The other streets of the city will have a roadway in the middle, wide enough only for two vehicles to pass in safety.

Every tree and shrub that can be saved, will be kept, and only such trees as actually interfere with the streets will be removed. The Trustees are a unit in desiring to maintain the beauty of our town, and will do all they can to save the trees and to preserve such conditions of natural beauty as have brought others as well as the Trustees to our town as residents.

Lateral sewers, to connect with our present trunk sewer, are contemplated in the thickly populated sections only. This work can be done more cheaply before the streets are down, and, by laying sewers before improving the streets, future damage and expense to the roadway is avoided.

To clear up a misapprehension as to facts in regard to the payment for this street and sewer work, we wish to state that the laws of California, under which we are acting, provide for payments extending over a period of fifteen years, if such is the desire of the property owner. The total cost of the work, with interest at seven per cent, is divided into fifteen installments, one such installment payable each year to the tax collector of the city, at the same time that city taxes are paid. Such installments could not be large enough to work a hardship on anyone. If desired, full payment can be made upon the completion of the work.

The Board of Trustees in this, as in all matters, is trying to act for what is deemed the best interest of our city. If a majority of the property owners do not wish their streets improved, their remedy lies in a protest to be made according to law within a certain time after the work has been ordered. If our idea of city government do not meet with the approval of a majority of the people, we are content to abide by the will of the majority at the coming election.

President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea,
March 9, 1918.

Street Gossip

Why is it, that when matters of municipal interest agitate the public mind, a crowd of men will stand around the street corners, and give voice to all sorts of misinformation, and malign those who have been elected to enforce the laws and to inaugurate new policies?

Why is it? we ask, when by going directly to the officials or by attending public meetings when proposed improvements and questions of policy are presented and discussed, whereby reliable information may be obtained, people will pass out "bunk."

During the past sixteen months our city trustees have held no less than twenty-five five public meetings, and dur-

The Man in the White House

During the two administrations of President Wilson more unofficial precedents, customs, conventions—call them what you will—have been ignored, passed over, broken or abandoned than during the entire period of the government.

It becomes continually more evident, that, should the war be prolonged, the most sacred, the most hallowed, the most firmly established custom in our American political life, may be abrogated.

That which Washington refused, that which Grant's friends fought for, that for which Roosevelt labored—a third term as President—is what looms up before the American people. Woodrow Wilson is likely to be a third-term President.

Lincoln's admonition that a bad place to swap horses is the middle of a stream, is quoted often in justification of a third term for the man now in the White House.

ing that period not an average of one citizen a meeting has been in attendance to hear or express an opinion.

Constructive criticism is invited. Criticism based upon hearsay, self-interest and prejudice cannot be too strongly condemned.

ALBANIAN PRINCE AT WORK

William zu Wied Asks Aid of German Federal Powers to Keep Country Independent.

Rotterdam, Netherlands. — Prince William zu Wied, the former prince of Albania, has by no means given up hopes of regaining the realm which he ruled over for so short and troubled a period immediately prior to the great European conflagration. His latest step has been to send a memorial to the German federal princes, wherein he deals at length with the development of Albanian affairs and protests against the protectorate of Albania proclaimed by Italy. He argues that an independent Albania offers the surest basis for a lasting peace in the Balkans, and that it is therefore in the interests of Germany and Austria. Further, Prince William asserts his own rights to the throne of Albania.

WHEATLESS BISCUITS.

Parched cornmeal is the feature of these excellent wheatless biscuits. First, the cornmeal—one-half a cup—is put in a shallow pan placed in the oven and stirred frequently until it is a delicate brown. The other ingredients are a teaspoon of salt, a cup of peanut butter and one and a half cups of water. Mix the peanut butter, water and salt and heat. While this mixture is hot stir in the meal which should also be hot. Beat thoroughly. The dough should be of such consistency that it can be dropped from a spoon. Bake in small cakes in an ungreased pan. This makes 16 biscuits, each of which contains one-sixth of an ounce of protein.

La Playa News Notes

Mr. C. Irving Wright will return today with Mrs. Wright. Miss Katherine and her governess are here. Unfortunately, the pest of Carmel, poison oak, has found two new victims.

Much to my chagrin, I arrived at our town hall too late to register for next month's municipal election.

Mrs. L. H. Farrington is still delayed in Santa Barbara by the illness of her son, Samuel P.

Reservations coming in for rooms with private bath are far beyond our present capacity.

Many of my present guests are reserving for the early fall, not intending to return East under present conditions.

Sunday's terrific wind not only put our phones out of service, but carried off two of our windows, sash and all. No leaks or other damage.

Replying to inquiries, I joyfully state that there are no poisonous snakes, no mosquitos here. We should get together to exterminate the poison oak, which, like the Kaiser, lives on and on, benefitting no one.

To the Cantonment at Ayer WAR

By Emeline Harrington
 O, the foolishness and wastefulness and wickedness of War!
 If flame or power or plunder be what the fighting's for:
 But since it is for justice and the welfare of mankind,
 We must accept the challenge we have so long declined.
 When Liberty is threatened by land or sea or air,
 We owe to her protection, wherever she may fare.
 Peace at price of freedom is far too dearly bought:
 Rather death than bondage have heroes always sought.
 By brigandage and piracy, by treachery and lies,
 The War is forced upon us; we must in 'might arise,
 And help to win the triumph for all that freemen prize:
 Once more we earn the blessing and share the sacrifice.
 Think out, yet faltering Pacifists, to keep unstained with blood
 The gold that weights our balances with ever deepening flood:
 It is already tarnished if wrung from human need,
 And forfeit if unguarded it tempts a robber's greed.
 E'en the cleanest treasure may in its use be curst.
 For race-destroying vices, in all times, wealth has nursed.
 Unless its utmost farthing shall love and virtue spend,
 It will bring to them that hoard it only evil at the end;
 Since it brings to waste and weakness the nation that was strong,
 And final death and ruin are the sure reward of wrong.
 Some precious drops of kindness from the neutral's swollen breast
 To the starving mouth of Europe have been in mercy pressed;
 But slight in deed the measure of the gift, we surely know,
 Compared to our compassion and the gratitude we owe:
 Then fill thy hands Columbia, and reach across the sea,
 Yes, arm thy ships and man thy guns and keep the oceans free;
 For, first of all, remember, mid the nations of the earth,
 It is thy right and duty to defend all human worth,
 And thou canst accomplish nothing, but betray thy sacred cause,
 If thy naked hands thou venture 'twixt a mad-dog's snapping jaws.
 Now, for Liberty and Justice and the final boon of Peace,
 Go forth and fight undaunted, till this Crime-of-crimes shall cease.
