INTRODUCTION.

THE late Archbishop Whately is credited with the saying, that if he had to write a daily record of his life, he would soon wish his life at an end. Many a person begins a Diary, but few persevere with it for any length of time. The fidelity of Mr. Nicholas Blundell* to this self-imposed task is very remarkable. His Diary extends over a quarter of a century and no single day has been left unnoticed. It is very legibly written, entirely by his own hand, and is contained in three long narrow Volumes numbering altogether nearly nine hundred pages. The spelling is eccentric but no attempt has been made to correct even very obvious blunders. In so lengthy a record, there is, as may be imagined, much that would be of no interest to the general reader. On the other hand, many entries are of value, more especially in the absence of other local records of which that particular period is singularly barren.

The Diarist had neither the ability nor the learning of his grandfather, the "Cavalier," but he filled very worthily his position as a resident landlord. A lover of country life, his interests were centred in the pursuits and pleasures of his neighbours and tenants. It is manifest that much more social enjoyment was got out of life in those days than is the case at present. Railways and the spread of education, have made a striking change in the condition of the rural population—a change not altogether to its advantage. Material comforts have been brought within its reach, but the close bond of companionship which formerly held society together has been rent asunder. Certainly the numerous festivities and amusements which he records as shared by friends and neighbours have totally disappeared.

*For a full account of the ancient family of Blundell of Crosby, see the Introduction to "A Cavalier's Note Book," Also, "Crosby Records," Chetham Society No. 12 new series.

In religion, Mr. Blundell adhered to the faith of his Ancestors. For this privilege he paid double taxes and felt in various ways the pressure of the severe penal laws then in force. Still, the great heat of persecution which some of his race endured* had, in his time, sensibly abated. Happily, he was not drawn into the rebellion of 1715, which wrecked the fortunes of so many of his co-religionists but his house was frequently visited and searched at that eventful period. On one occasion, he says “I set in a streat place for a fat man” which shows that he must have had recourse to the family hiding-place, contrived, no doubt, on a scale more befitting the dimensions of a lean curate. As soon as he could get away, he withdrew to the Continent till the trouble blew over.

*Richard Blundell, of Crosby, died in Laucaster Castle, 1591-2, a prisoner for the faith, having been committed there for harbouring a priest. William Blundell, his son, suffered many imprisonments and much loss of goods. Two-thirds of his lands were seized upon for recusancy and given to Court favourites, two of the number being Queen Elizabeth's cooks. He was fined £2000 for making a burial ground for his Catholic tenants and neighbours, who were denied burial at Sefton Church. His wife, though in a delicate state of health, was dragged to prison by the Bishop of Chester when her husband could not be found. She suckled her infant in Chester Castle and was only set free after a long imprisonment, through the friendly remonstrance of two powerful Protestant neighbours.

Such a record as the one before us comes like a revelation from the tomb. It brings to light events hitherto shrouded in oblivion. It re-peoples the land with its old inhabitants and introduces us to their homes, their occupations, their amusements and social life. We follow them in their daily path until the final summons, when the squire's Coach-carriage which was at the service of rich and poor alike, conveys them to their last resting-place.

Mr. Blundell's Diary covers the period when the Commerce of Liverpool was beginning to expand and its borders to need enlargement. He witnessed the opening of the first dock, and in his frequent neighbourly visits meets those who were then in a modest way laying the foundation of its future greatness. The Houghtons, Tyrers, Claytons, Clevelands, Johnsons, Pooles, Earles, Gildarts, Williamsons, and many others—names long associated with its fortunes—occasionally cross his path.

The last few pages of the Diary show indications of a failure of eyesight and this growing infirmity no doubt, led Mr. Blundell to abandon his task nine years previous to his death, which occurred on the 21st April, 1737, at the age of 68*.

*There are two inscriptions to the Diarist in the Blundell Chapel, Sefton Church. In one, he is said to have died "on 21st April, 1736, aged 66;" in the other "on 21st April, 1737, aged 68." His daughter Mary Coppinger is also twice commemorated and, in one place, her age is incorrectly given. The uncertainty of monumental inscriptions has been frequently remarked upon.

For whatever pleasure or information he may derive from a perusal of these pages, the reader is indebted to Colonel Nicholas Blundell, of Crosby Hall, who has kindly permitted the publication of these transcripts of the Diary of his Ancestor.

BIRKDALE.

THE above introduction was written by the Rev. T. E. Gibson, shortly before his death, which occurred on January 26, 1891. Some time afterwards, I was asked to see the Diary through the Press, and I have done so. Colonel Blundell died on July 12, 1894, and was thus deprived of the pleasure of seeing in print a diary in which he was much interested.

Coll: Edm: Butler came to Crosby from Durham in his Aug. 1st.
Way to Ireland, he sent to Wigan for Doctor Tho: Wor: who came late that night. I sent Tho: Howard to Whit-Church for Doctor Bostock but he came not.

Valentine Farrington, M.D., a younger brother of Wm. Farrington, of Worden, Esq., resided at Preston. Dr. Thos. Worthington is mentioned in A Cavalier's Note Book, p. 247. He died November 27, 1702. He was still practising at Wigan in conjunction with his son Francis. Dr. Bostock of Whitchurch had a considerable local reputation.

1702.
Aug. 2nd.

I sent to Dungen-hall to acquaint Coz: John Gelibrond of my Fathers danger. About half an Hour after Tenn in y^e morning being Sunday, many People in the Roome hearing Mass, and Mass just almost finished, My Dearest Father departed this life being much lamented by all; as his Life was virtuous and edifying so was his Death. Sweet Jesus Receive his Sole.

Aug. 5th.

My Father Wm. Blu: Esq. was layed in his Mothers Grave at Sephton it being her Weding Day. Wm. Arnold who had been a Faithfull good Servant and brought up from a Child at this hous departed this Life, he was Groome Coachman and Butcher.

Aug. 12th.

M^{rs} Blundell of Ince came to see my Mother, so did Mrs. Walmsley of Moss-halk and her Son.

Aug. 13th.

Coz: Rich: Butler went towards Mr. Fleetwoods of y^e Bank.

Aug. 15th.

I went to Leverp: with Coz: Edm: Butler, we halled y^e Mary with a Hand-Karchaf but she answered not, he went on Bord y^e Harington for Dublin.

Aug. 18th.

Mr. Mullins came in y^e Morning to pray and stayed till next day, Mr. Tasburgh and Little Man came hither in y^e Afternoone.

Mr. Mullins was priest at Mossock Hall, in Bickerstaffe, a secluded spot a few hundred yards behind St. Mary's Chapel, Aughton. It had fallen to the Walmsley's by the marriage of the heiress, Elizabeth Mossock, with Thomas, third son of Richd. Walmsley, of Showley, Esq. The estate has since been sold by that family, and the old Hall having disappeared, a farm-house now occupies the site.

The Rev. Henry Tasburgh, S.J., lived at the New House, at Ince Blundell, built shortly before with the view of its being used as a school. It was never so used, but became the home of aged and infirm priests of the Society. It was given up after the death of Rev. W. Clifton, S.J., 1749.

By "Little Man" is meant his cousin, Rev. Wm. Gelibrond or Gillibrand, S.J., who was throughout his life a confidential friend and adviser. He was then doing duty as Chaplain at Crosby, but soon after went to Liverpool, and seems to have been the first priest settled there since the Reformation. He was of the family of Gillibrands, of Chorley, and died April 1, 1722, aged 60.

I delt Almes at 3d. p̄. Person myself to y^e Poore of this Parish. Aug. 24th.

Wat Thelwall sayes he found Caterer of Formby on y^e Sands and carryed him to Bank-hall. Sept. 12th.

Coz: Scarisbrick y^e Widow came to lodg here, her Coach was brocken here by y^e Horses running away when y^e Coachman had left them. Sept. 17th.

I sold Codlings at 6^d. p. cent and other Apples at 2^s. p. Buss. Sept. 22nd.

I came to Prescot where I bought Fine Muggs of Mr. Cubben, thence I came to Leverpoole where I discoursed Mr. Houghton Merchant and so came home. Sept. 24th.

1702.

Sept. 30th.

I went to Mosburgh to wish Coz: Molineux Joy and to welcom her into y^e Country. I met S^r James Poole &c as they were going to y^e Wood.

William Molineux of Mosborough Hall, near St. Helens, born September 4, 1669, had just married Anne, daughter of Sir James Poole, of Poole, Co. Chester. He was buried at Melling, 24th January, 1727-8, but his wife survived till 1751. Their son William married Frances, daughter of James Gorsuch, of Gorsuch, Esq., and died March 11, 1744, leaving an only daughter and heiress, Frances, wife of Sir Edward Blount, of Sodington, Co. Worcester, Bart. The estate was afterwards purchased by the Earl of Derby. A modern house occupies the site of the ancient Hall, but the moat may still be traced.

The Wood, in Melling, was then the property of this branch of the Molyneux family. They had left it for Mosborough, but a priest was kept there. Rev. Simon Bordley was the last Chaplain, and went to Moor Hall, August 28, 1746. The estate was sold about 1785. Thornton was originally the family seat, and the removal to Melling took place tempore Edward 3rd.

Oct. 12th.

I went to Ormskirk and discoursed Mr. Howet concerning Nov. 12th.
Mr. Risley his Hunter.

Mr. Rich: Molineux of y^e Grang and I set a Meer-Stone Nov. 18th.
to be y^e bondery between his Cunny Warand and mine, it was set about half-way between a great Sandhill and Blansherds lain end upon a Hill called Tenn-penny Hill and linable with y^e two Meer-Stons at each end of Blansherds Lain, in presence of Pat: Gelibrond and Walter Thelwall and my two Waranders Thom: Kerfoot and Wm. Wignold.
S^r James Pool and his son James came to lodg here. I sent my Grehound Hector to be kept at Lidiat by Mr.
Draper.

The Grange, a well-known farm near the Altcar Shooting Ranges, was long the residence of a branch of the Molyneux family. It had been originally given by the Blundells of Ince to the monks of Stanlawe (afterwards Whalley), and was purchased at the dissolution by an ancestor of Lord Sefton. A priest resided here during the last century and in the early part of the present. Mass was occasionally said in the house. Rev. Joseph Draper, S.J., was priest at Lydiate Hall, and his tombstone may be seen in the ruined Chapel of St. Katharine.

Coz: James Poole went in y^e Morning to y^e New Nov. 20th.
Stand to meet Mr. Molineux of Croxtath a Shooting. S^r
James Poole and I went to y^e Stand towards Noone. Mr.
Molineux treated us there with Wine and Aile.

Rev. George Lovell, S.J., was Chaplain at Dunkeahalg [Dun-gen-hall], where Mr. John Gelibrond then resided. He was skilful in mathematics, but losing his memory became a child before his death. He retired to New House, and dying there December 12, 1720, was buried at the Harkirke December 14. 1702.

I went with Pat: Gelib: in y^e after Noone to Mr. Wairings. I ordered Walt: Thelw: to see Running Horses

Jan. 3rd

I was at Great Crosby Race where Mr. Massys Gelding
Limber hamm wone a Plate from Pedler, &c. Jan. 4th.

Pedler belonged to Sir James Poole, Bart. Wm. Massey, of Puddington, Co. Chester, the owner of Limberhamm, died 1716, and left his estates to his Godson, Thomas Stanley, who died 1740, having taken the name of Massey. He bequeathed his property to his elder brother John, who, succeeding to the baronetcy 1792, retook the name of Stanley, and died 1794. From him Puddington descended to Sir John Stanley Massey Errington, who died 1893, and was the last male representative of the Stanleys of Hooton, and chief of the great house of Stanley.

I met Mr. Blund: acoursing, and saw two Hairs Runn that were found set, he went to Andertons, and Pat:
Gelib: and I went home to writ a Letter to Mr. Philmot
'twas not well taken by Bl: Mr. Cataway a Missioner for Mary-Land and Mr. Draper came to lodg here. Jan. 15th.

I went to Dine at Mosholk with Coz: Tho: Gelib: Jan. 18th.

I Dined at y^e Grang wth Lord Molineux &c. S^r Will:
Gerard &c. Jan. 20th.

1703.
Jan. 22nd.

Mr. Gower Pitched y^e Crow and threw y^e Hammer at James Farers.

Jan. 24th.

I writ to my Brother Richard into Virginia.

His brother, Richard Blundell, had gone out to Virginia to establish himself as a merchant. He had business connections with Mr. Houghton, a very prominent Liverpool merchant, whose factor he was to be. He married a widow and died shortly after, leaving a posthumous son, who did not long survive.

Jan. 26th.

I sent my Brothers Goods to Mr. Houghton at Leverp: in order to have them Shiped on Bord y^e Loyalty for Virginia.

Jan. 27th.

Pat: Rich: Lathom had his weding Dinner at this Hous.

Rev. Richard Lathom, alias Kirkham, S.J., was made a Spiritual Coadjutor February 2, 1703, which would be the occasion of his Wedding Dinner. He was about to sail for the Maryland Mission, then in the hands of the Jesuits. He died on the return voyage in 1708, aged 37.—See Foley's Collectanea, part I.

Jan. 29th.

I went to Leverp: with Pat: Rich: Lathom and helped him to buy goods, we discoursed Mr. Sharples at Swarb:

Feb. 3rd.

Mr. Smith, Mr. Ric: Lathom and I went to Carr-Hall we eat Eggs and Collops &c.

This would be Shrove or Collop Monday. Mr. Smith was the Jesuit Chaplain at Scarisbrick Hall.

Feb. 11th.

Mr. Worthington Jun^r of Blanscow desired to see me at my Mill, he would not come to Crosby Hall, he discoursed me concerning sending Joseph Wadsworth to Sea.

Feb. 12th.

I went to Leverp: to assist Mr. Worthington in Binding Jos: Wads: to Sea. I discoursed Mr. Houghton, Mr. Sharples &c., about it.

I discoursed Mr. Blackburn at Moor Hall concerning Betty Blund: 1703.
Feb. 14th

The Rev. John Blackburne was a secular priest, then serving Moor Hall, the residence of Mr. Wolfall. He died 1728, aged 74, and is buried in the ruined Chapel of St. Katharine at Lydiate, where the stone may still be seen, but the name has disappeared.

I went with Pat: Gelib: to Croxtath to wish my Lord a good Journey to London, thence I went to Low-hill where Mr. Harington, Mr. Hind &c. were come to meet my Lord, they had a Feast of Sturgeon; we drank Fountineack &c. Feb. 20th.

Mr. Liborn fetched a Boat from hence w^{ch} I had taken up as a Wreck it was by Orders of my Lord Molin: but not delivered to him by me or my Steward Walt: Thelw: Feb. 23rd.

This and other entries shew that Lord Molyneux was very tenacious of his right of wreck, ceded to his father by the Crown in a previous reign. Mr. Blundell, of Ince, had in 1683 procured from Caryll Viscount Molyneux a grant of title to wreck at Formby, Ainsdale, and Birkdale, for the yearly consideration of 12d.

I sealed a Bond of £60 to Coz: Wm. Houghton of Park-hall. Feb. 26th.

William Houghton of Park Hall married Elizabeth, daughter and heiress of Robert Dalton of Thurnham, in 1683. His son John assumed in 1710 the name of Dalton, and joined the rebels in 1715. His estates were forfeited, but purchased for himself by friends at a cost of £7,298 1s. 6½d. He himself was with Sir Francis Anderton and others taken to London, tried, convicted, and pardoned.

I went to Leverp: shewed two Horses to the Post to sell him one of them. I Payed 7^s to Ri: Woods for making a Duple brested coat. Mar. 5th.

I went to Chorley and discoursed James Nicolson concerning a Mourning Saddle and houlters. Mar. 8th.

1703.
Mar. 15th.

I gave 2^s. 6^d. to Brother Christopher towards y^e Repaire of y^e Cover over Holly-well. He came hither to begg for y^e Repaire of it. Dr. Lathom came hither to shew y^e Petission w^{ch} was presented to y^e Queen by Mr. Bannerd Howerd in behalf of y^e said Dr. Lathom, Mr. Haggerston &c.

St. Winifred's Well was then, as now, under the care of the Jesuit Fathers. Dr. Lathom had practised Surgery in Liverpool, and his wife Judith had kept a School, but the penal laws being against them as Catholics, they were persecuted by the Town Officials. In 1686 a Royal mandate was issued in their favor, which may be seen in Picton's Memorials, vol. 1, p. 132. It does not appear what was the nature of the present petition. Dr. Lathom retired to Aintree, and his death is noticed later.

Mar. 21st.

The Churchwarden Henry Williamson Acquainted me that Parson Richmond wished that he had pulled down more of the Parsonidg of Sephton.

Mar. 22nd.

I opened a Barrell of Apples w^{ch} had layn in very dry Sea-Sand since they were gathered, they were very firm and sound, thô many had a little Speck of faided, and a very few were Rotten.

Mar. 28th.

I writ to Lord Langdale, inclosed it to Coz: Eyre y^e Lawyer and sent it to the Post by Pat: Gelib:

April 6th.

Aunt Frances had Account from Mrs. Bloore by orders of Lady Webb that I might wate of Mrs. Fr: Langdall as soone as I pleased.

April 7th.

Pat: Gelib: went to Lev: to buy Cloth for a Black Coat.

April 8th.

Tho: Howerd brought me Mr. Wingats Pistolls w^{ch} he had borrowed of him for my Journey to Hathrop, they are Rather too Larg and so extraordinary fine I will not take them along with me.

1703.
April 11th.

Mr. Edw: Molineux came to wish me a good Journey to Hathrop. I sent Ri: Jump to Burdikin at Wigan for my Black Coat, but not being made he brought y^e Cloth back.

I went to Leverp: to have a Black Coat made by Edw: Porter for my Journey to Hath :

I began my Journey towards Hathrop, dined at Warington, and lodged at Hoomes Chapell.

I went from Hoomes Chapell dined at Stone and Lodged at Aldridg.

I went from Woster dined at Winshcomb and lodged at North Leech.

I came from North Leech to Hathrop found y^e Family all there, and also my Lord Langdale.

Heythrop Park, near Chipping Norton, Oxfordshire, then the residence of Sir John Webb, belonged to the Earl of Shrewsbury, who in 1695 had entertained there King William the Third. Charles, 15th Earl, built a Catholic Church, completed in 1826, but the estate having fallen into Protestant hands, it was closed after the death, on February 8, 1858, of the first and only priest, Rev. Patrick Hefferman. It has since been pulled down by the present owner, Albert Brassey, Esq., and the materials used in the construction of a Protestant Church. The altar was purchased from the builder by Rev. S. Sole of Chipping Norton, who in 1882 transferred to that Church the bodies of Charles, Earl of Shrewsbury, and of the above priest, previously interred at Heythrop.

I went in y^e Coach with Lord Langdale and S^r John Webb to wate of Collo: Ireton but he was not at home.

I discoursed Lord Langdale in his Chamber and Lady Webb in y^e Dining Roome. I made my first adress to Mrs. Fr: Langdale.

1703.

- April 23rd. Mr. Trynder y^e Lawyer came to Hathrop for Instructions to draw Artickleys of Marriage.
- April 28th. I presented my Dimond Ring to Mrs. Fr: Langdale.
- April 29th. S^r John Waters and his Lady, Mr. Sheldon of Weston and his Son &c dined at Hathrop.
- May 4th. I sent George Howerd, S^r John Cursons Servant to Oxford to take a place in y^e Coach for me to London.
- May 5th. I writ at Water-Perry to Mrs. Fr: Langd: and sent it by Oxford Post.
- Sir John Curzon, of Waterperry, Co. Oxon, registered his estate in 1718 as a non-juror for £203 10s. 2d. He died 1727, and his son Francis died without issue 1750, when the title became extinct.
- May 7th. I dined wth Coz: Henry Eyre, Mr. Lewson &c in Fullers Rant. I saw the Silent Woman acted.
- May 8th. I met Mr. Rich: Norris in y^e Mall.
- May 9th. I made my first visit to Mrs. Norris my Cozen, she is I think Sister to Coz H. Eyre.
- May 11th. I walked to Westminster and saw y^e Tombs. Went at Night to Wills Coffy-Hous where I heard Mr. Lawson talk of Calculating Nativitys.
- May 12th. I dined at y^e Blew posts in Deverax Court.

I came from London towards Water-Perry with a disputing Parson. 1703.

I went with my Wife to meet Coz: Scaresb: Mrs. Hesketh of Rufford &c at Lathom Spaw, we danded with Young Mr. Hesketh of Oughton Mrs. Entwistley, Mrs. Ann Bold &c. Aug. 5th.

Lathom Spaw, which was destroyed by the sinking of coal shafts early in the present century, was situate opposite the entrance of what is now called Spaw Farm in Lathom. This the Editor ventures to say on the authority of one of the Wilbraham family. It was in good repute during the last two centuries, but the accommodation seems always to have been deficient. Dr. Borlase of Chester wrote two treatises in its praise, which are now scarce books. He sent copies of both to Mr. Blundell the "Cavalier," who in acknowledging the later one, published 1672, remarks—"To these waters next under God I do certainly owe my life. 'Tis now above four or five weeks since I gave them another visit by reason of our old acquaintance. I was pretty well when I went; I drank them eleven or twelve days and returned perfectly well home. Yet I find them somewhat costly, for my stomach is so good that I eat all before me."

Rev. Edward Molyneux resided with his brother, Richard Molyneux, Esq., at the Grange, and was an admirable missionary priest. A village tradition, given in the preface to Crosby Records (Chetham Society, No. 12) makes his death the result of foul play, but Mr. Blundell's entries give no countenance to this story. In the Harkirke register (Crosby Records, p. 81), the following entry is in the Diarist's handwriting—"Mr. Edw : Molineux bourn at Alt-Grang was unfortunately killed by a faule off his horse April y^e 28th, 1704, being in y^e 65th year of his age. Richard, afterward 5th Viscount, Molyneux had just married Mary, daughter of Francis, Lord Brudenell. She brought him a portion of £11,000, and there was a settlement made in her favour of £1,200 per annum. She was 25 years of age at the time of her marriage, and lived till 1766. They had no surviving male issue, and he was succeeded at his death in 1738 by his brother Caryll, of whom the diarist frequently makes mention.

Mar. 19th.

I went with my Wife in y^e Coach to Ormsk: to welcome my Lord Mountg: and his Grand-Son Richard into this Country.

This was Richard, 5th Viscount Mountgarret, who had married for his first wife Emilia, eldest daughter of the "Cavalier," grandfather to the Diarist. Edmund, the "Colonel," was their eldest son, and he was then living with his wife at Ormskirk, where now his son Richard, afterwards 7th Viscount, joined them. Lord Mountgarret had been outlawed and his estates forfeited for his adherence to James II., but his successor was restored in blood and honors 1721. The latter had three sons who successively held the title, and the youngest, Edmund, conformed to the Established Church November 7, 1736. In 1749 he took his seat in the House of Peers, and was ancestor to the present Henry Edmund, 13th Viscount Mountgarret. This house stands next in rank to the Ormond family as head of the Butlers.

I sent Henr: Bilsb: to Croston wth Bess and got her covered with Dogg-Lad. May 5th.

An inscription at Myerscough Lodge, "Old Dog Lad 1714," has puzzled antiquaries. It is supposed to have been a nick-name of Thomas Tyldesley who lived there, and who in his curious diary calls Mr. Winder "my brother Dog-Lad." Here we find it to be the name of a stallion which belonged to old Isaac Lightbourne of Formby.

Lord Mountg: had a Letter from my Ant Fr: Bl: to Mar. 4th.
advise him to keep in private.

Francis Blundell, sister of the "Cavalier," a woman of rare courage and ability, had devoted herself to the fortunes of Lord 1706.

Mountgarret and his family from the day of his marriage with her niece, and had rendered them invaluable service. Now, in her extreme old age, we find her still watchful for his security. In the time of the Civil Wars, when her brother had to seek refuge elsewhere, she kept his house at Crosby, and had to endure the frequent visits of rude troopers, whose plundering propensities obliged her to bury her bread from meal to meal.

- Mar. 6th. Cap: Rob: Faz: brought us good News about the Bill against Papists.
- Mar. 12th. Collo: Butlers Servant Thomas came from Dublin and told us of the Death of y^e Collonells Lady.
- Mar. 20th. I was wth Mr. Molin: of y^e Grange and Ralph Low my Lord Molineux his Steward in y^e Sand-hills, we order'd Stakes to be set to divide y^e Grange Warand from some of my Tenants Land.
- Mar. 23rd. Mr. Wairing introduced me to see Mr. Coopers Flower Garden at Leverpoole.
- April 1st. Mr. Babthrop dined here. I discoursed him concerning an Exchange for Mr. E. S.

Rev. Albert Babthorpe, S.J., fifth son of Sir Ralph Babthorpe, of Babthorpe, Co. York, was the last survivor of an eminent knightly family that had existed for twenty generations. Its staunch adherence to the ancient faith had exposed its members to the severest persecutions, in which all its once ample possessions melted away. (See Foley's Records, vol. 3, p. 192). Father Babthorpe was then Chaplain at Croxteth and Provincial S.J. He died April 13, 1720, aged 74. He is frequently mentioned in the diary of Bishop Cartwright, with whom he was on intimate terms while Chaplain to Sir James Poole, of Poole, near Chester. The priest designated by the initials E.S. was probably Rev. Edward Scaresbrick, S.J., uncle to the Squire of Scaresbrick, who had been Chaplain and Preacher to James II. His prominent position at Court rendered him obnoxious to the new Government, and he was now in his old age living very quietly at Crosby. He died February 19, 1709. Some of his Court sermons were published, notably one, Catholic Loyalty, which was printed by order of King James. He wrote also the Life of Lady Warner, printed 1692, and several unpublished letters of the "Cavalier" are addressed to him. He probably retired to Scarisbrick Hall, as we find him later on bringing Father Aldred to Crosby.

My Mother and her Maid Mar: Wins: &c. took Coach at Waring: for London. My Wife and I Dined and Lodged at Southward. April 22nd.

Mrs. Blundell went to the Benedictine Convent at Ghent, where she had two daughters nuns. Here she ended her days piously on December 2, 1707, having made the vows of religion on her death-bed.

Southward is Southworth Hall, then tenanted by Mr. Golding, a Catholic lawyer. It was long owned by the Jesuit Fathers, who sold it in 1828. Some years ago the writer saw within it the room formerly used as a Chapel, with decorated panels, &c. The Hall itself has been re-fronted and modernised. All tradition of "Dobs Font" seems to have died out in the neighbourhood.

I bought a Little very fine Muslin for Ruffles at Mr. Morecrofts, he drank wth me at y^e Wool-Pack. April 30th.

July 29th.

I Wated of y^e Duke and Dutches of Norfolk &c out of Wigan part of their way towards Preston.

Thomas, 8th Duke of Norfolk, had just married Mary, only daughter and heiress of Sir Nicholas Sherburne, Bart., of Stonyhurst, Lancashire. The Duke died without issue, December 23, 1732, but the Duchess survived him till September 24, 1754. She spent her widowhood at Stonyhurst, but took a second husband in the person of the Hon. Peregrine Widdrington, belonging to a noble Northumbrian family, whose fortunes were shipwrecked in the disasters of 1715. The monument to him in Mitton Church is one of three erected by his lady, all sufficiently prolix, and yet the fact of their marriage is not recorded. Dr. Whittaker says that she had no mercy on the stonecutter.

This house, which Mr. Plumbe had then recently built, was afterwards called Plumbe's Hall; and here resided, at one time, Sir Joshua Walmsley, Kt., Mayor of Liverpool, 1839-40. The Corporation bought it in 1843, and pulled it down with the view of utilising the site for a borough gaol. The site being pronounced unsuitable, after the lapse of a few years it was converted into ornamental grounds, called Victoria Park. (See Picton's Memorials.) Mr. Plumbe was an intimate friend of Mr. Blundell, and kept his Court Baron at Crosby, where he was a frequent visitor. He was fond of both coursing and fishing, and had many opportunities of enjoying these amusements in company with the squire. Mr. Plumbe was successful in his profession, and purchased, in 1718, Alexander Hesketh's estate, viz., Uplitherland and one-third share of Aughton, which is still in possession of the family. At the beginning of this century the Plumbees acquired, in marriage, the estate of Sir George Tempest, of Tong Hall, Yorkshire, and took the name of Tempest. I also made some Shrub; the proportion was Brandy 2 Qts, Crab Vargious 1½ pt, Leomonds 6, Dubble Refined Sugar 1 lb. The proportion of Mixture for my last Brue of Aqua Cœlestis was Brandy 2 Qts, Crab Vargeus 1 Pt and 1/5th of a Quart, Lime Juce 1/5th of a Qt, Lisbon Sugar 1 lb, Leomonds 3, and being the Brandy was very good I put to it 4 Qts and 1 pt of Water, the water was first bouled, the outward Rine of the Leomonds was infused into it, so they were also in the Shrub, but the Brandy and Leomond Juce had not any Rine infused in it. This Night I had a Cargo of 16 Larg ones brought to Whit Hall. Feb. 3rd.

Out of many entries relating to such compounds this is retained, on account of the precise particulars it gives. From the last note it appears that the Diarist followed the example of his Liverpool neighbours, some of whom had doubtless arranged this contraband affair. As James Williamson, the wine cooper of Liverpool, had spoken for two casks of claret on behalf of Charles Howerd, he must have been well aware of the expected consignment.

My Wife and I called at the Signe of S^r William Gerards Crest in Ashton, thence to Gravock where we Lodged.

Grave Oak Farm may still be found close to Hopcar, near Leigh, formerly the seat of the ancient Catholic family of Sale.

William, son of Gilbert Sale, of Hopcar, Esq., deceased, lived here, having married Jane, daughter of Edmund Tristram, of Ince Blundell, yeoman. His mother was then residing at Hopcar, which was finally sold by her son, Gilbert Sale, of Liverpool, in 1770.

1721.

My Wife and I went to Hopker, Mr. Colcheth and Mr. Tompson made us a Viset.

July 3rd.

I went to Mr. Bayrons Marlors and made them to shout. Pat: Rivers came from Ince and Lodged here.

The Rt. Rev. George Witham, Bishop of Mareopolis and V.A. of Northern District, died April 16, 1725, aged 70, at the family seat, Cliffe Hall, in Yorkshire, and was buried at Mansfield Church. The Rev. John Savage had been, since 1712, 5th and last Earl Rivers. He was living at Liege in 1733, and held a canonry. As he was at Douay in 1735, he could not have died as early as 1728, the date assigned by Sir Harris Nicolas. Soon after his accession to the peerage, in a law contest with a relative, to give himself a locus standi, he made a temporary act of conformity. The Duke of Shrewsbury urged him to take the oaths and enter the House of Lords, where justice would be done to his claims. He replied, "My lord, I have already gone too far." "Then," rejoined the Duke, "I will not press a tender conscience."

July 5th.

Parson Wairing and I bowled at Ince Green against Mr. Heys Junior and Tho: Kennion.

July 6th.

Mr. Bayron had his Finishing day for his Marling, I went to his Hous w^r I met severall of my Neighbours viz, Parson Acton, Parson Wairing, two Robert Bootles, Mr. Syer, Yeomon of y^e Gorehouses, &c.

July 8th.

My Wife and I began our Journey towards Holy-well but no Ferry Bote being on this Side, I hiered the Sower-Milk Gallay she carried us and our three Horses over at twice and Landed us at y^e Wood-Side, thence we went to Shotwick, at Holly-Well we Lodged at the Starr.

July 9th.

My Wife and I went into y^e Well, I was much out of Order after I came out and Continewed so for some Hours. I went with my Wife to Mrs. Crews.

We came from Holliwell to Flit, thence to Shotwick ^{1721.} July 10th. where I Rode over without a Guide and came back agin with one to fetch my Wife over, then to Eastom where I left my Servant and Horses, My Wife and I went over in the Sower-Milk Galley and Landed about eleaven of y^e Clock at Night at Leverp: we lodged at the Wool-pack.

Mrs. Lettonby dined with my Wife and me at the ^{July 11th.} Wool-pack. Being the Dock was let drye I went to see it as also did severall Hundreds of People.

I sent a How-do-you to Cozen Tho: Gelibronds six ^{July 23rd.} Children who were ill of y^e Small Pox.

I was at Ormskerk Race, there was Mr. Molin: of ^{July 24th.} Mosbough, Old Mr. Walmesley of Showley, Mr. John Gorsuch, Mr. Plumb: Mr. Maior of Lever: Wm. Atherton &c: there were three Horses ran for the Plate, a Hors Called Mr. Listers wan it.

I was at Crosby Race; Crop, Whit-Stockings and a ^{Aug. 8th.} Gray Mare Ran; Whit-Stockings got y^e Plate, viz, £20. I should have desided a Dispute between Pat: Turvill and Mr. Cottom but could not doe it.

I made a Viset to Mr. Taylor the Maior of Lever: ^{Aug. 15th.} he gave me a Bottle of Wine. I drank at y^e Wool-pack with Mr. Rob: Fazak: and Mr. Whittle.

Aug. 24th.

My Wife, Mrs. Wilding and I went to Lidiat to Prayers, Mr. Blund: was there.

This was no doubt on occasion of the funeral of Rev. John Mostyn, S.J., priest of Lydiate, who was buried within the Abbey walls, where part of the tombstone was formerly visible, as mentioned in the first edition of Baines' Lancashire. It is somewhat curious that the Diarist makes no allusion to his death.

Aug. 28th.

My Wife and I went to Lodg at Astley, we called at Fran: Farers he shewed me a Place in his Ground where 'tis supposed there formerly stood a small Castle and in taking up the Foundation (for that was all as was left of it) he found a Large Mugg-Bottle which I suppose held about three Gallons, the Mouth was large enough for a Girle to put her Hand into it, it had two large Bows as came from the Mouth of it, to the Belly to carry it by; it was of Cource brown Clay and seemed not to be nicely made nor well burned, 'twas so broke in Digging it up that I could onely Judge at the size of it; he also shewed me a peece of a Mug w^{ch} seemed to be y^e Bottom of a Quart Jugg and had Staped upon it in y^e inside of y^e Bottom these Words in this Caracture OF BASSI.

Francis Farrer seems to have lived at Downholland. Close to the high road leading through Halsall and Scarisbrick to Southport is a very appropriate site for a castle or fort, commanding as it does all the adjacent country. Although the Editor lived in the neighbourhood for many years, he never heard of any discovery of Roman remains at Downholland. (See Watkin's Roman Lancashire, p. 214).

Aug. 29th.

This being my Coz: Gelibro: Weding day his son Thom: came to Astley and Coz: Tho: his Wife dined at Astley.

Francis Farrer has been spoken of before as living at Downholland. His daughter, Alice, died a few months later, and was buried December 9, 1722, on the north side of Halsall Church. Her tombstone was seen by the Editor a few years ago, but has been removed by the present rector to make room for improvements. The inscription describes her as the daughter of Francis Farrer, yeoman, and Elizabeth his wife, of Downholland.

June 20th.

Parson Acton, Mr. Syer and Mr. Byron the Church-Wardens &c. were here abeging upon Account of the Great Losses sustained in Lacashire in Dec: An: Do: 1720/ by the violent overflowing of y^e Sea; the Sea had overflowed 6600 Aikers of Land, had washed down 157 Houses, and damnified 200 more, the whole loss was computed to be more than £10,227.

The Diarist says in his Anecdote Book that this flood did very great damage in the Fylde, in Meols, and at Alt-Grange. In the Fylde a man got up a tree to save his life, and a hare swam to the same tree for refuge while he was in it. In the Meols a swine of 40s. value got up to the top of a turf stack, where he lay till he was fetched down.
