

THE PATH-WAY TO HEALTH

LEVENS

1632

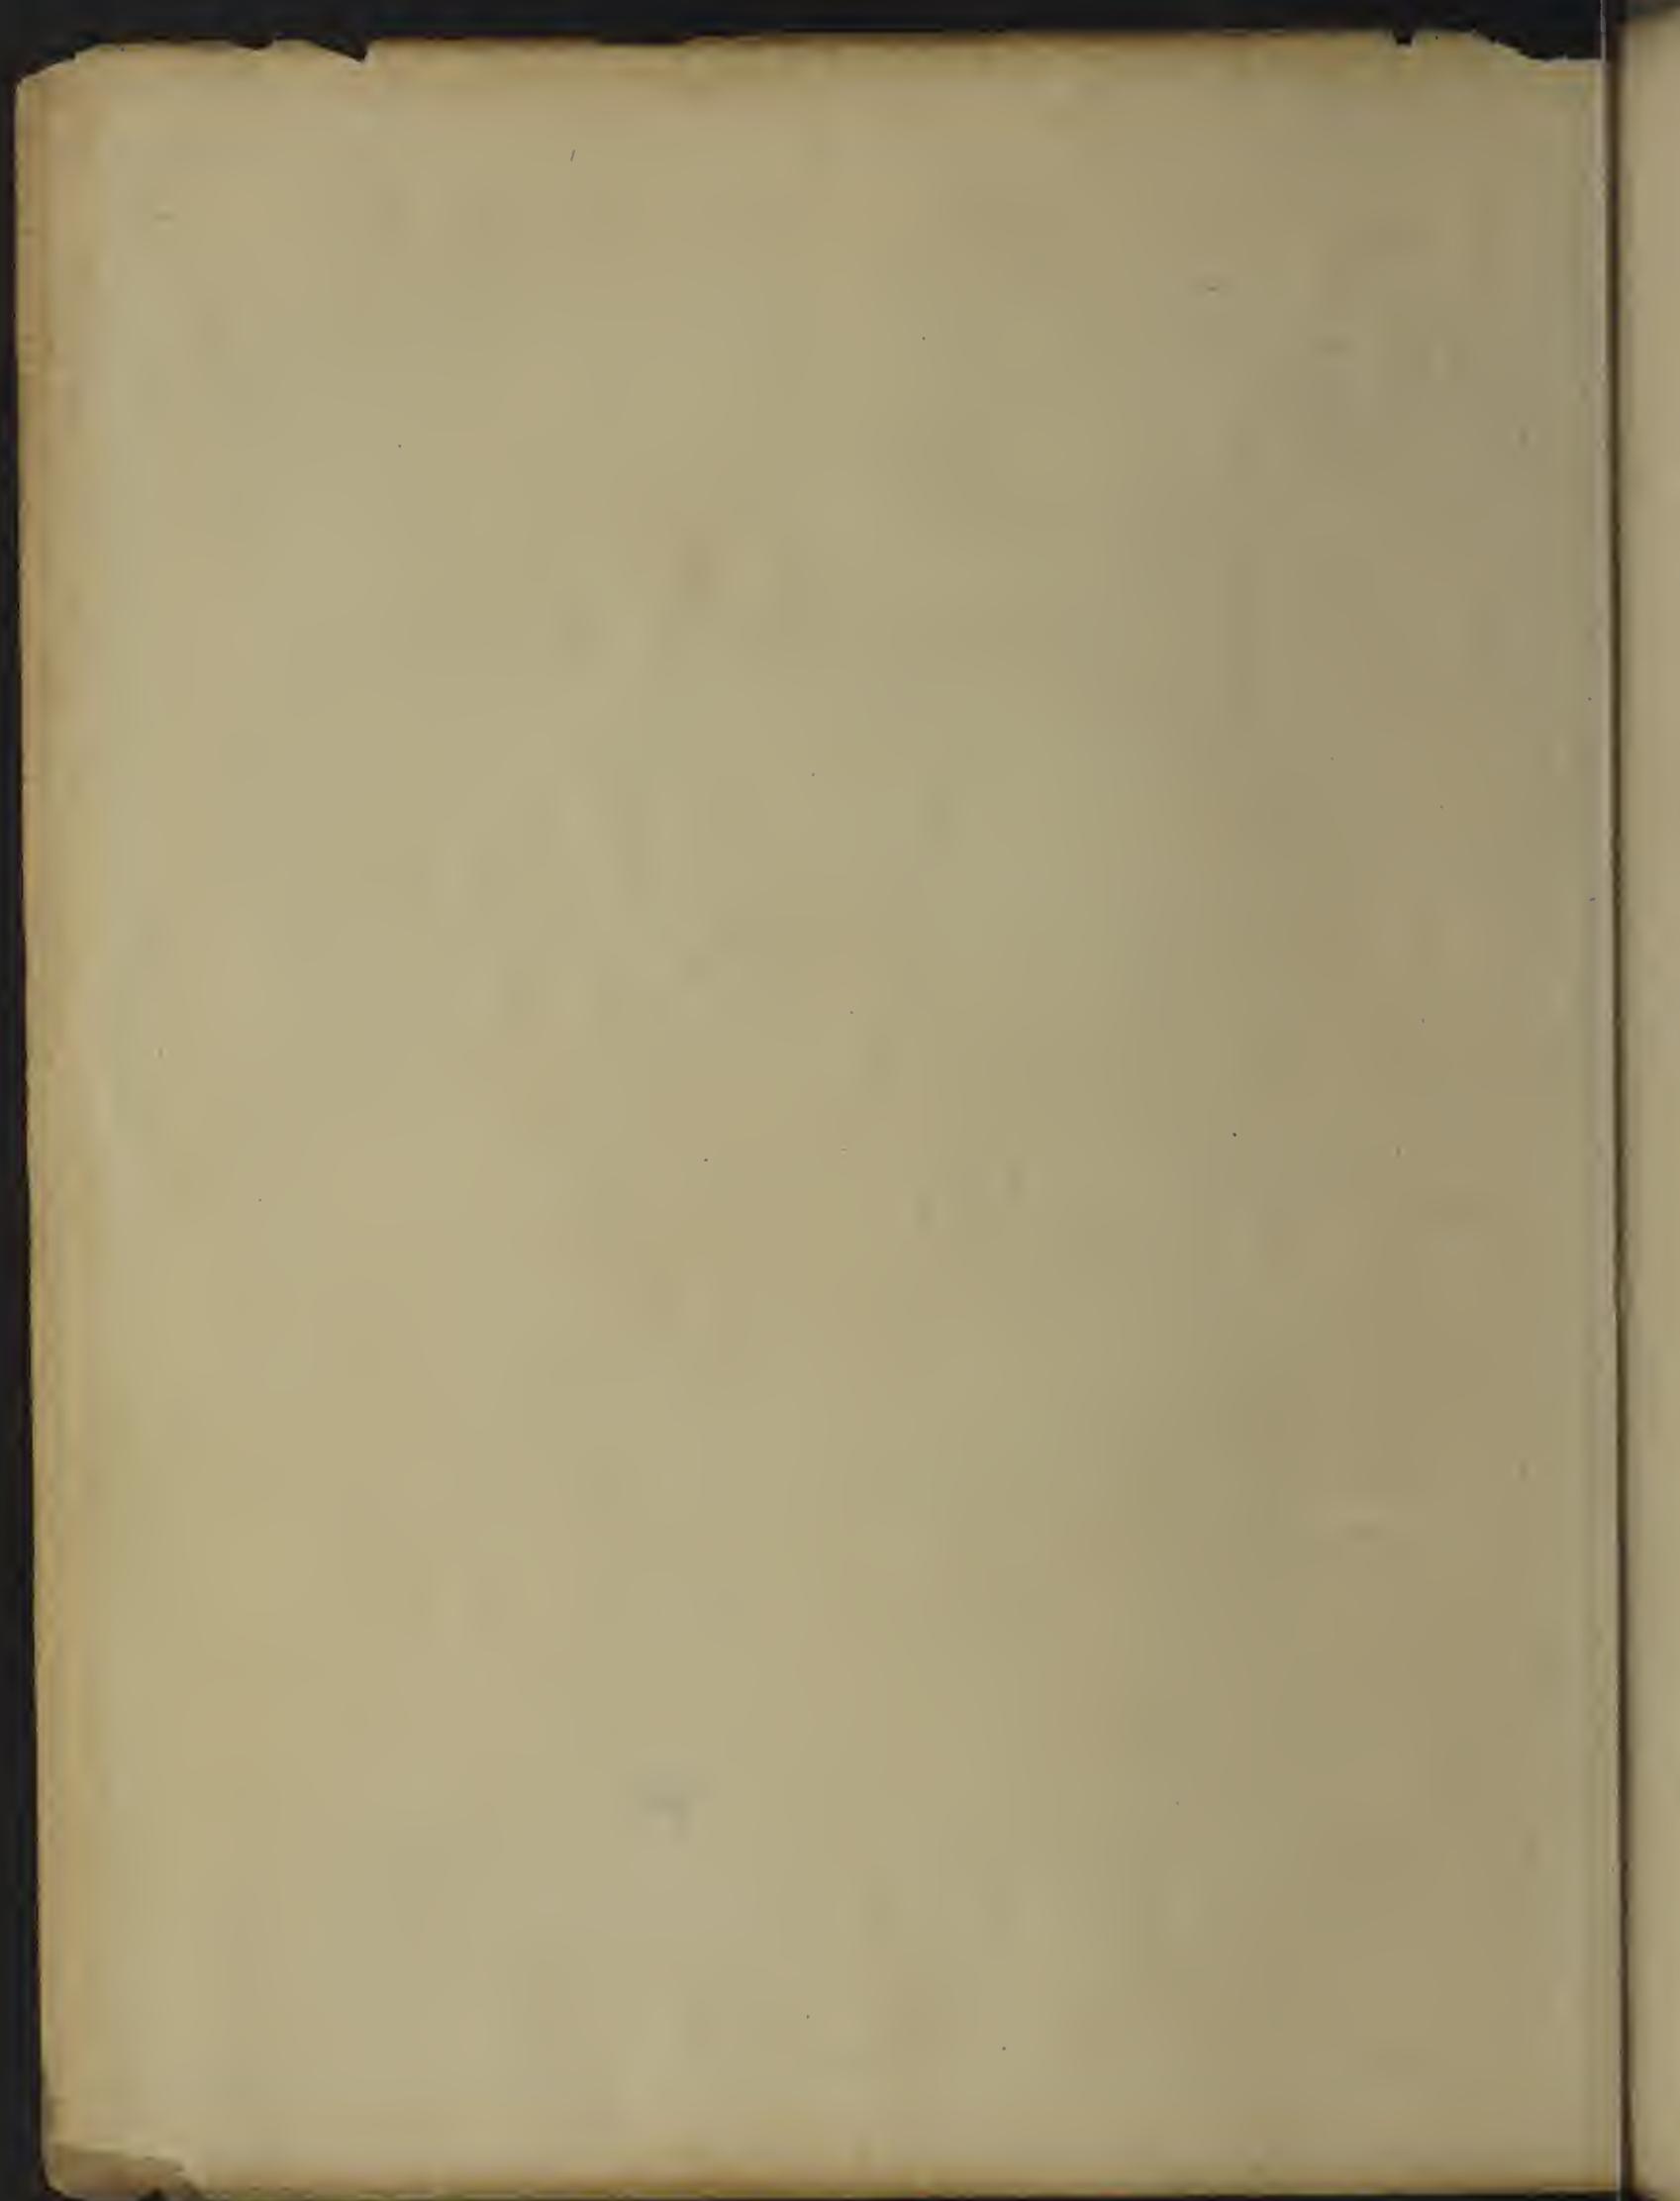

A. xxix dev

2764
B

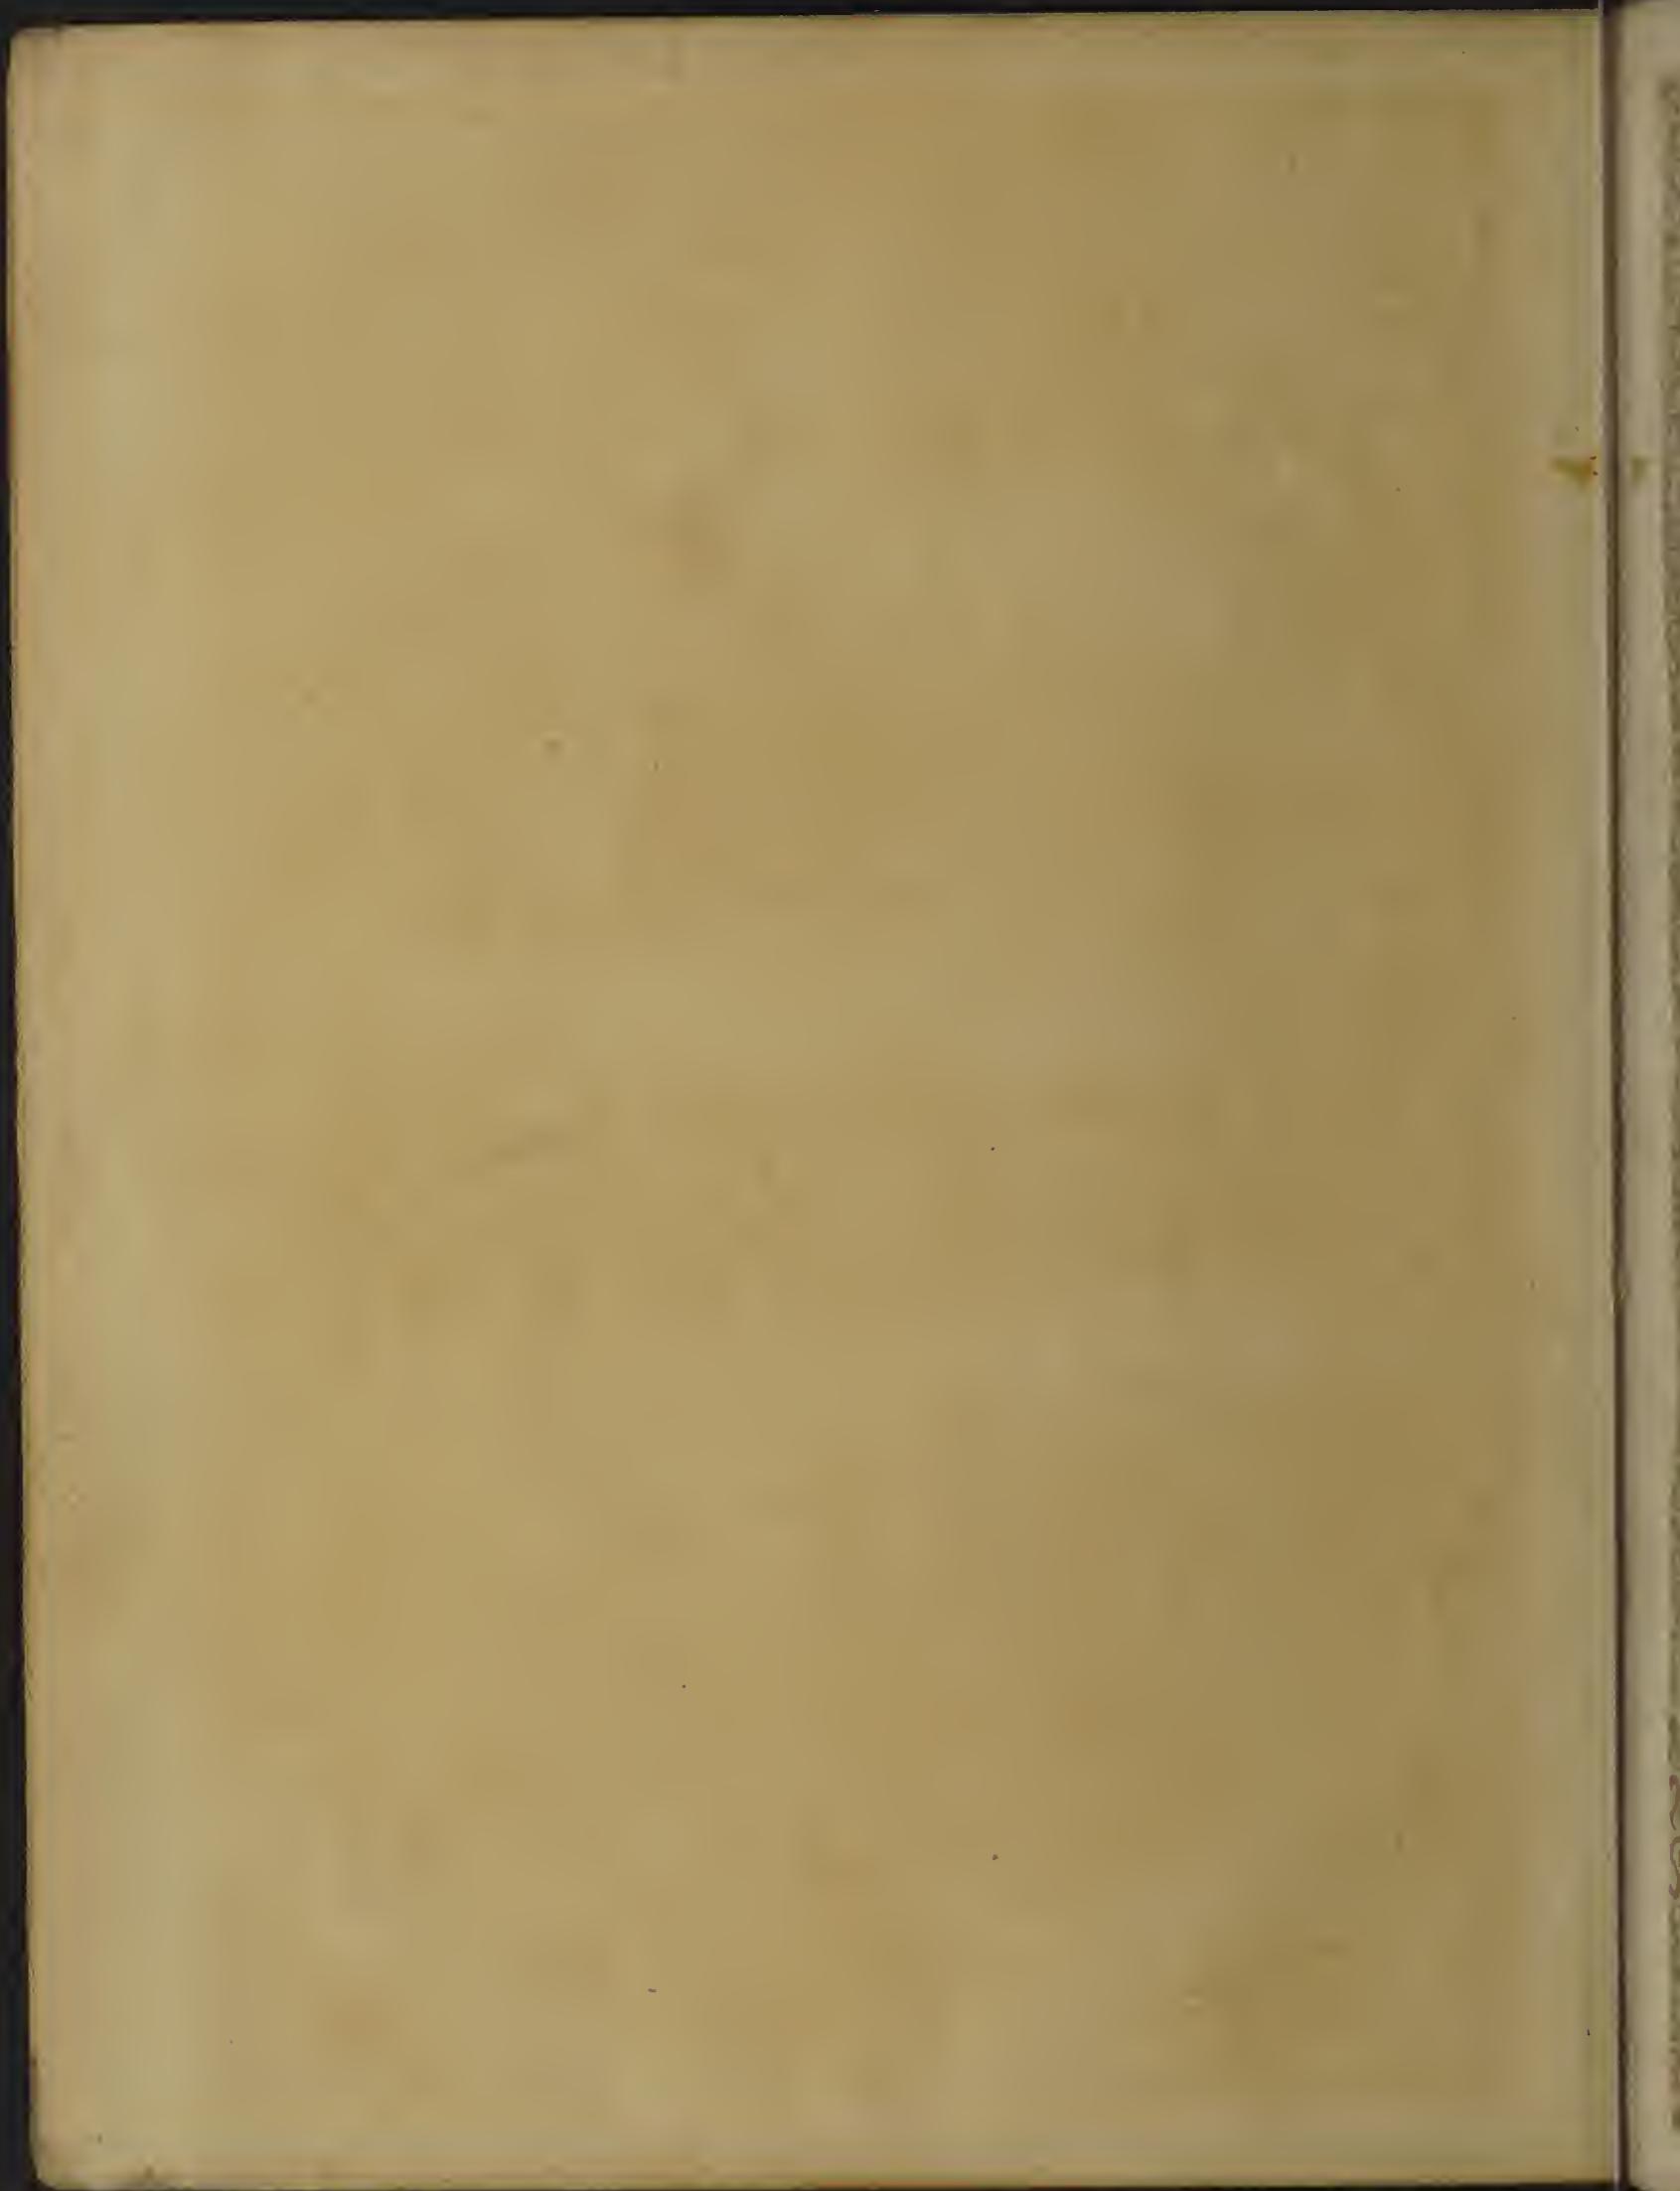

STC 15534

A Right profitable Booke for all Diseases,called, The Path-way to H E A L T H.

Wherein are to bee found most excellent and approued Medicines of great virtue: as also notable potions and drinks, and for the distilling of diuers precious waters, and making of Oyles, and other comfortable receits for the health of the body,neuer before imprinted

First gathered by Peter Leuens, Master of Art of Oxford, and Student in Phy-sicke and Surgery: and now newly corrected and augmented.

— E C C L E S . 38.
Give unto the Physician that unto him belongeth;

LONDON, Printed by John Beale for Robert Bird, and are to be sold at his house in S. Lawrence-lane, at the signe of the Bible, 1632.

Geot. Min. Log.

TO THE READER:

IN my opinion gentle Reader (which also is the saying & writing of al the Philosophers,) those things are most principal to bee taught and maintained, which in the common wealth are most profitable and necessary, then may I say without iust cause of reproote: it some thinke no shame to displeasure many, for the pleasuring of a few, then I neede not to blush, nor feare to profit many, by hurting of none, by the publishing of this my booke abroad: not pend without paine, nor drawne without diligence, nor ended with ease, wherein are such and so many notable, rare profitable, & precious things, as never were yet set forth in any volume in our English tongue, nay, diuers of them were never hetherto imprinted. Althongh I haue giuen the onset to publish in our owne natural tongue this most excellent worke for al diseases, for the which cause it shold not bee the lesse esteemed, although some, more curious then wise, esteeme of nothing but that whiche is most rare, or in hard or vnowne languages. Certainly, these kinde of people cannot abide that good and laudable Arts shold be common to many, fearing th[a]t their name & practise shold decay, or at the least shold diminish: the intention truly of such persons, seemeth much like them that gape for all and would al haue, leauing no hing to any body, [but] that which they must needs forgoe: considering that we are not borne for our selues onely, as Plato say ih, but for the profite of our Country. Surely, if I did not feare to be too long in this my Praeface, I would proue, how al Arts and Sciences may be published in that tongue which is best to be vnderstod: as foreexample; Gallen the Prince of this Art, being a Grecian, wrote in the Greeke. Also, King Auscen, he wrote in the Arabian speech. Al-

To the Reader.

So Plinie, Celsus, Serenus, and other of the Latinists, wrote to the people in the Latine tongue. Marcilius Ficinus, whom al writers assent to be singularly wel learned, disdained not to write in the Italian language, generally to al men. If then the intent of al that euer see forth any notable studie, haue bene to be read of as many as would, what reason is it that we shoud keepe secrete among a few, the thing that was made to be common to al? Christ sayth, no man lighteth a Candle to couer it with a bushel, but setteth it to serue every mans need: and these goe about not onely to couer it when it is lighted, but to quench it before it be kindled, if they might by malice: which as it is a detestable thing in any godly Science, to me thinks in this so necessary an Arte, it is exceeding damnable and devillish, to debar the fruition of so inestimable benefits, which our heauenly Father hath prepared for our comfort and innumerable vses, wherewith he hath armed our impotent nature, against the assaults of so many sicknesses whereby his infinite mercy and abundant goodnes, is in nothing else more aparantly confessed: by the which benefits, as it were with most sensible arguments spoken out of heauen, hee constraineth vs to thinke ypon our owne weakenes, and to acknowledge, that in al flesh is nothing found but misery, sicknes, sorrow, sinne, affliction, & death: no, not so much strength as by our own power to releue one member of our bodies diseased. As for the knowledge of medicines, comfort of hearbs, maintenaunce of health, prosperitie and life, they be his benefits & proceed of him, to the end that we should in common helpe one another; and so to liue together in his Lawes and commandements: desiring al those which shal find any faule herein, that they wil friendly amend that is amisse.

THE

THE PATHVVAY, to Health,

* For all the parts of the head.

For to make the hayre to grow.

Take a Mollwarpe, skinnes and al, and lay it in a cloute, & burne it to powder in an earthen pot, then take Does durt, and lay it in a clout, and burne it to powder, & mingle these two powders toghether with Honey, and annoynct the place where you would haue haire to grow. Also take sun grinded Red Onions very smal, and annoynct the place therewith, and the haire wil grow vp quickly.

For to make hayre to grow where none is.

CTake Hasel nuts, with haskes and al, and burne them to powder, then take Beech mast, and the leanes of Enula campana, and stampe the hearbe and the mast toghether, then seeth them together with Honey, and annoynct the place therewith, then strew the powder thereon, this wil make haire grow.

Another experiment to make haire grow.

CTake Mallowes, and seeth them roots and al, and wash the place where haire wanteth, and it wil grow in smal time. Take Honey and Beares greace, and mingle them toghether, and make an oyntment thereaf, and annoynct the head therewith. Also take a god quantite of Bees, and dry them in a sune by the fire, and make powder of them, and temper it with oyle Olise, and annoynct the place where the haire shold grow.

An experiment for to wash the head.

CTake an ounce of Turpentine, & an ounce of white wax, and a pottle of Burges wine, of Storax calamita, an ounce, and a little Ceras, and Mastick, and so make god strong lye, and put therein those gummies, and so wash the head therewithall. Also take the oyle of Tartar, and warme it, and annoynct any balde head therewith, and it wil restore the haire againe, and that in short space, this hath bene proved true.

The Path-way to health.

Another for to wash the head, and to make the hayre yellows.

C Take the best and the strongest lye that can be made, then take a good handful of red Fennell, of Margerum as much, of Sage a handful, Violets as much, of Damaske Roses a handful, of Red Roses as much, two Nutmegs, of Cloves & Mace one ounce of each, Enula campana, as much, Drice powder, as much, Licorice two or three sticks sliced, a handful of Lantender spike, and let the lye stand nine dayes, and then straine it, and seeth it one wane, and scum it, then put al the herbs and spices therin, and so occupie it when you thinke good, with a sponge wot your haire; and then let it dry in of it selfe: this wil keepe your head from aking, and make your haire as yellowe as golde.

Another to make the hayre yellow.

C Take the rinde or bark of Rubarbe, and take the scrapping therof, and keepe it in white wine, or cleere Lye, and after that you haue washed your head therewith, you shal wet your haire with a sponge, or some cloth kept for that purpose, then let your haire dry against the fire or same, and the oftner that you use it, the better it wil prove, as I haue often tryed.

For to stay hayre from falling.

C Take and make strong standing Lye, and take a great company of Isole bootes, and burne them to ashes, and mingle the ashes and the Lye together, and therewith wash your head, and it wil keepe the haire from falling off, and bset his often, it is welproven. Also if you take the ashes of little Frogs being burnt, it staith the falling of the haire; and the ashes of Goats dung, mingled with oyle, doth increase haire.

Another for the falling of hayre.

C Take the ashes of Chauer-dung in Ile and wash the heade therewith, Also Walling leaves beaten with Beares suet, reboresh the haire that it plucked away. Also the leaues and middle ring of an Oke sodden in water, and the head washed therewith, is very good for this purpose.

For

The Path-way to health.

2

For the kill Lyce in the head.

C Take Frankensence, and Barrowes greace, boyle them together in a pan of earth, and with this ayntment rub the head where the lyce is, and it wil kill them.

Another to kill Lyce in the head.

C Take Stauesaker, and beat it to powder, and mingle it with blake Sops, and annoynct the head therewith, and it wil be quicklie cleane.

For the Nits in the head.

C Take the gal of a Calfo, and smere the head therewith, and it wil kill the Nits.

For wormes in the hayre.

C Take and rub Calamint on the head, and it wil slay the wormes in the haire.

For to doe away hayre.

C Take the head of Pettles, and stamp them, and temper it with Eysel and annoynct the head therewith, but fir st haue or pul away the haire, for it is better. After this you must sweat and when that you are hote, then annoynct your head therewith, and doe this thre daies, and there wil groowe no moze haire in that place. Also take the gumme of Arabick, and annoynct the place where the haire groweth, and it shal quicklie fal awate.

For to take away hayre.

C Take the shels of two Egges, beate them small and stil them with a good fire, and with that water annoynct the place.
Dy els take hard Cats dunge, dry it, and beate it to woder, temper it with strong Vineger, then wash the place with the same, where you would haue no haire to grow.

An experiment for to take away haire.

C Take the blood of a Snail without a shel, and it hindereth greatly the growing vp of haire. Also take Labdanū, the gum of an Quic tree, Emmets Egges, Arsenick and Vinegar, and binde it to the place where you wil haue no hair to grow

An

The Path-way to health.

Another for to take away hayre.

C Take the iuyce of Fumitory, and mixe it with gum Arachick, then lay it on the place of the haire first plucked out by the rootes, and it wil never permit any more haire to grow in that place. Also if you annoynyt your heade with the iuyce of a Glowerme stamped, it hath the same vertue.

For the scurfe in the head.

C Take of the decoction of Mallow rootes, and wash your head often therewith, and it will cause the scurfe to fal away. Also the decoction of the middle rinde of an Elme, the head being washed therewith, doth mightily drue out the scurfe.

Another for the scurfe in the head.

C Take Vinegar, and boyle it in wine lees a little, and annoynyt al ouer the scurfe: but first cleanse it, and it wil mighty heale & dry it. Also take the branch of a greene Fig tree, with the leaves, and stamp them in water, & it wil heale the scurfe being washed therewith. If the scurfe be newe, bse this mede- cine daily with Vineger, and annoynyt the head therewith: this hath beeene proued.

For wheales or pushes in the head.

C Take and wash your head with Vineger, or with water wherein Camomell hath bene sodden. Also the leaves of Alo- lets stampit with honny, doth lightly heale the same. Also towne Cresses stampit with Goose greace, doth spedily heale the pushes in wheales that be in the head.

For a scald head.

C Take a penny-worth of Lampe oyle, and halfe a pynt of faire water, and boyle it wel toghether, and when it is cold, put thereto halfe a penny-worth of Quicksiluer, and temper it wel toghether, and annoynyt the head therewith.

For a scaldhead.

C Take the liver of a Thorne back, and seeth it by it selfe, then take six roots of Equula campana, & seeth the by the space of three

The Path way to health

Cheate howres in cleane water, of Housleke thre handfulls, drame them and mingle them altogether, and straine them through a lined cloth, and make an oyntment of them, and anoint the head therewith, and if the haire be gone: take a handfull of wooll and burne it to powder, and annoynct therewith the head that is pilde, and the haire shall grow as thicke as ever it was before.

Another for a scald head.

C Take Groundsell, and Wartowes greace, and choppe the Groundsell smal, and boile it with a soft fire with the Wartowes greace, and so clip off the haire, and therwithall annoynct the scald head.

For to heale a white scald in the head.

C Take Houndstung and Borage roots, of each a like quantite, wash them faire and cleane, then shred them, & chop them small in pieces, seeth them in vineger about half a pint & more, then put in a little sweet Butter never salted, & let them boile together till they be soft, then straine them through a cleane cloth, and it will be a pleasant salve, then take a feather and annoynct the patients head withall, but you must use to wash the scald head with Cow pisse, or else with faire water: and this will heale the white scald head.

Another for to heale the white scald.

C Take greene coperis, rosen, waxe, sheepe's suet, honny, and beat them small together, and boyle them well, and it will be a very faire salve, and this will heale any white scald: provyued.

For the brayne an experiment.

C Take the Syrope of red Roses, with the powder of Lygnum Aloes, and the bone in the Harts hart, cloues, & the leaues of red Roses, in the Cakes thereof, and seeth them all together with Sugur, and giue the patient thereof to drinke lasting, morning and euening.

For the brayne another

B

Take

The Path-way to health

C Take the smiske of Lignum Aloes, and it comforteth the cold braine, and all weake parts of the braine, and the head.

For to restore the braine.

C Take and make powder of Betony, and vse it in thy potage, and it will restore the braine. Also take and chew Mace in your mouth. Also put into thy nose the root or the iuice of Galungall, and it is good for braine or memory.

For the weaknes of the braine.

C Take and smell to muske, and for default of Coppings of the nose when it bringeth the hart and upper limmes, and causeth them in a manner to sound: take of the sume of the muske beneath. Also to comfort the braine, vse both Cloues and Mace in your broths, that they be sodden in, and also in your nosthils. If the Hattieut haue the rume or pose: put the powder of Cardomonum, and the oyle of Muske into an Egss-shell till it leef, and therewith annoynt the head.

For the stame in the braine.

C Take the iuyce of red Docks, with the iuyce of Rue, and put a little therof in the nosthils, and vse this in a Rue or very warme place.

For him that hath lost his mind.

C Take the iuyce of Marigolds, of Sage, of Wormwood, of each of them a spoonfull, and take as much white Wine and put it thereto, and let him drinck it at even, and as much in the mornynge cold: and vse it for three dayes.

Another for him that hath lost his mind.

C Take and sheare off the haire of the mold of his head, then take Archangell and stamp it, and bind it to his head where it is barren, and let him sleepe for a whiche, and when he awakes he shall be right wicke and sober enough.

The Path-way to health.

4

For to keepe a good memory.

C Take Mugwort, and lay it in white Wine, and then take it and distill it, and use to drinke of it fasting, and it shall preserue the memory. Also to take the juice of Zipulus and drinke it fasting: causeth a good memory.

Another for memory.

C Take and grinde Mustersede with Vineger, and rubbe it mightily on the plants of the feet: and it doth quicken the memory of such persons as haue been long time sick, and will stirre them vp from all kind of forgetfulness of memory; and maketh them mindfull of such busnes that they take in hand.

Against forgetfulness.

C Take Rue, red Mints, Oyle olive, and with very strong Vineger let thy nosthrls be holden over the smoke therof. Also burne thine owne haire, and mingle it with vineger and a littie pitch, and apply it to thy nosthrls, for it wonderfully stirreth and quickneth the persons diseased with forgetfulness. Also take the lytes of a Hogge layde unto thy head being shaven: is very good.

Another for forgetfulness.

C Take the gall of a Crane, being made warme in a leaden vessell, it doth thoroughly stirre vp the diseased body, if the nape of his necke be annoyned therewith. Also take the smoke of Galbanum, or of an Harts horne which is best of all for forgetfulness. Also the skin of an Hare burnt, and the ashes therof drinke with Calamint, healeth the disease of the Lytargy.

Another for the same.

C Take Sauery and beat it and seeth it in Vineger, and lay it in the form of a plaister to the hinder part of the head: it doth merrily awaken those that are ver y heavy with sleepe, nothing doth more and better quicken forgetfulness in men or women. Also the same of a Kyns skin doth quicken forgetfull persons, and those that be infected with the falling sicknesses.

For the frensie in the head.

The Path-way to health.

C Take oyle of Roses, oyle of Violets, of every of them xxij poyys, and as much of the water of a Cowturd, & put it in a new bessell of earth, and boyle it till all the water be boyled away:
then put out that, and put in other: into the same bessell, as much of that water, and boile it thus seven times, and then put thereto haife of the fourth part of the poyys of Camphiere, and meddle it well toghether, and use it on his head for the frensie.
When it is new shauen.

Another for the frensie of the head.

C Take the layce of Smallage, veriuyce or vneger, oyle of Violets or Roses: being put toghether in a bessell of glasse ouer the fire, all hot lay it to the Patients head, and so annoynct the head ali oner being shauen.

Another for the same.

C Take and annoynct the head with vneger, and with oyle of Roses put thereto, and it is very good against lykargy or fren-sie, and for boomyt of blood, the quantity of four drams taken with holme poystefly much.

For the frensie in the head.

C Take the hot lights of a Goat, and clap it to the head of the Patient that is bered with the frensie: and it taketh it away presently, and so doth a sponge dipt in warme wme, and put to the hot poy. Also the roote that is called Reproyal boyled and laid to the head, will draw for sy all madnes.

An experiment for the frensie in the head.

C Take a red stone that is found in a Swallow, and let the Patient carry it about himself tyed in a linnen cloþe, and put it under the left arme, and it doth heale all frensie & lunaticke persons. Also a rosted mouse eaten, is very good for frensie. Also seeth Henbane in sweet wme, and therewith wash the frensies earres, temples, and noſthills, and it prouoketh sleepz.

For the meigrim in the head.

C Take four handfulls of red rose Flowers fresh in Sommer tyme, and in Winter: þre handfulls of Camomell, and as much of veruen, and breake them small with your hand, and boyle them in a pottle of white wine or Gascoyne, if it may bee had, and if not: in Kochell wine, til it come to a quart, and put them in fyre bags, broched flatlike a playster, and lay it where as the paine is, as hot as the patient may suffer it, & change them still hot and hot, during a day and a night, and longer if need be.

The Pathway to health.

3

Another for the meigrim.

C Take halfe an vnce of Galingall, and an vnce of Ginger. Nutmegs halfe an vnce, Cloves a quarter of an vnce, Aniseed a peny weight, Enula Campana a quarter of an vnce. Licores halfe an vnce, Suger halfe an vnce, and beate all these together, and let the sick use of this powder first & last a spoonfull at ones and within fourre dayes God willing he shall be whole.

Another for the meigrim in the head.

C Take an vnce of Stavesaker, and beat it to powder fine. Then take the third part of the powder, and of the white of an Egge, and a Nutmeg, and a little Commin, a quantity of flax small hacked, beat them together, and lay it platsterwise on his forehead, when that he goeth to bed, if he bleed: he shall be quickly whole: if not: lay it on the other untill he bleed.

Another for the meigrim.

C Take commin, & beat it as small as ye can, that so done & sift it shrough a fine cloth, and take the finest therof, & put thereto the quantitiy of the gall of an Dre, and beats them together till that they be thicke, and then make a plastrer therof and lay it to the nape of the necke, and it shall helpe them.

For the same a medicine.

C Take Dalsie roots, leaves and all, and beat them, & wyring out the iuice, & put of the iuice into the nostrils of the person that is troubled with the meigrim in the forepart of the head, so that the Patient may lye, that they may vnde down the iuice that descendeth from him of them.

B 3.

For

The Path-way to health.

For to know if that the braine han be broke.

C If the flesh be whole aboue: take and shauē the head therē as the soze is, and double a linnen cloth, and spred on the white of an Egge, and bind it to one nighē, and on the morrow take it away, and looke if the cloth be moist or dry, for if it be moist the panne is broken, and in the same place earue the flesh, and let the bloud out, and annoynit it with an oyntment made therē soze, and thus shouē shalt save him, or else he is but dead.

For the Fistula in the head.

C Against the Fistula in the head, take and seeth bitter Lupines in salt-water: and put Vineger to them, and then straine it, and in the Straining therof: put of the powder of Germanander and wash the head therewith.

For the Fistula in the head.

C Against the Fistula in the head, take and gather the roos of Egremony, and dry them in the smoke, and after that it is dry: take and hang it about the neck of the Patient, and it will helpe him.

For the meigrim and for the impostume in the head.

C Take the fourre penny waight of the root of Pelliory of Spaine, a ob. waight of Spicknard, and boyle them in good Vineger, and when it is cold: put thereto a spoonfull of hony, and a saucer full of Musterd, and mingle them well togesher, & hold therof in thy mouth a spoonfull at once, and vse thys nine times, and vse so to spit it out continually.

For an Impostume in the head.

C Take Galingall halfe an vnce, Putmegs a quarter of an unce, Cloues a penny waight, the flowers of Canell, a penny waight of Spicknard, a ob. waight of Anised, a quarter of an unce of Enula Campana, half an vnce of Licoriz, of Suger half an vnce, and beat them wel togesher, and vse of thys pouder first and last: a spoonfull at once.

An

The Path-way to health.

6

Another for the impostume in the head.

C Take Betony, Sage, red Mints, red Fenell, of each three crops, and eate them eight dayes togesher, or fourteene dayes: and after take the greene rynde of the Elder Wick of one yeres growing, and put the suyce therof into thy nose thre dayes, three times a day lying vpright, the space that one may goe a myle.

For the head a. he.

C Take Rose Cakes, and stamp them very small in a morter with a little Ale, and let them be dryed by the fire on a Tilea shard, and lay it to the nape of the necke to bedward: proued.

Another for the head ache.

C Take Hemlocks, and scathe them till they bee as soft as pappe, lay it to the head where the paine is, & let it ly al night, and on the morning lay on another hot plaister of the same, and use this soote or five times, and by Gods grace the patient shall be eased.

Another for the head ache.

C Take a Posset and lay it hot vpon the head, and let it esse be laid to, for so cured a Physition diuers cares. And also take the oyle of Camomell, and annoynt the browes and the forehead, and labour it very well, and lay the Patient downe, and make him sweat, and it shall helpe him. Also mingle a spoonfull of the iuice of Betony, with as much wine, and as much honny, and put thereto nine Pepper cornes, and drinke it four dayes to gesher: proued.

For the head ache.

C Take iuice of black Iuy, & iuice of Rue, the oile of Roses, white wine, and Vineger, and mingle all togesher, and annoynt the temples therewith.

For the head ache.

C Take an handfull of red Sage, a handfull of redde Rose-leades sliced, a hanefull of Camomell flowers dryed, a handfull of Bay salt, a peice of leauened bread, two Nutmegs, beate them all togesher, and make as it were a quilt, and rub ouer the heards

The Path-way to health.

herbes, and then lay it over his head in the forme of a plaster,

For the head ache, prooued.

C Take white earth-bind, and make iuice therof, and put it into thy nose, and it shall purge thy head of rheume, and it doth away the headache. Also Leeks with leaues sodden in wine and emplaistred about the temples and the sorehead, it doth away all the headache. Also take Mustard seede, Haffron, Rose flow-ers, or the leaues, and mingle thei with Spope, and make a plaster therof, & bind it to the head. Also take Insence, Doves dung, Wheat meale, and temper them with the whites of Eggs, and bind it to the sorehead, and the temples, and it doth away all aches of the head. Also wash the head with lye madz of the powder of Colewoorts, of red nettles, and of white wine, and it doth away the ache without doubt, for this is a true experimen-t proued.

For aking of the head.

C Take and make Lye of Meruaine, or of Betony, or of wormewood, and therewith wash thy head syrice in the weeke, and it shall doe thee very much good.

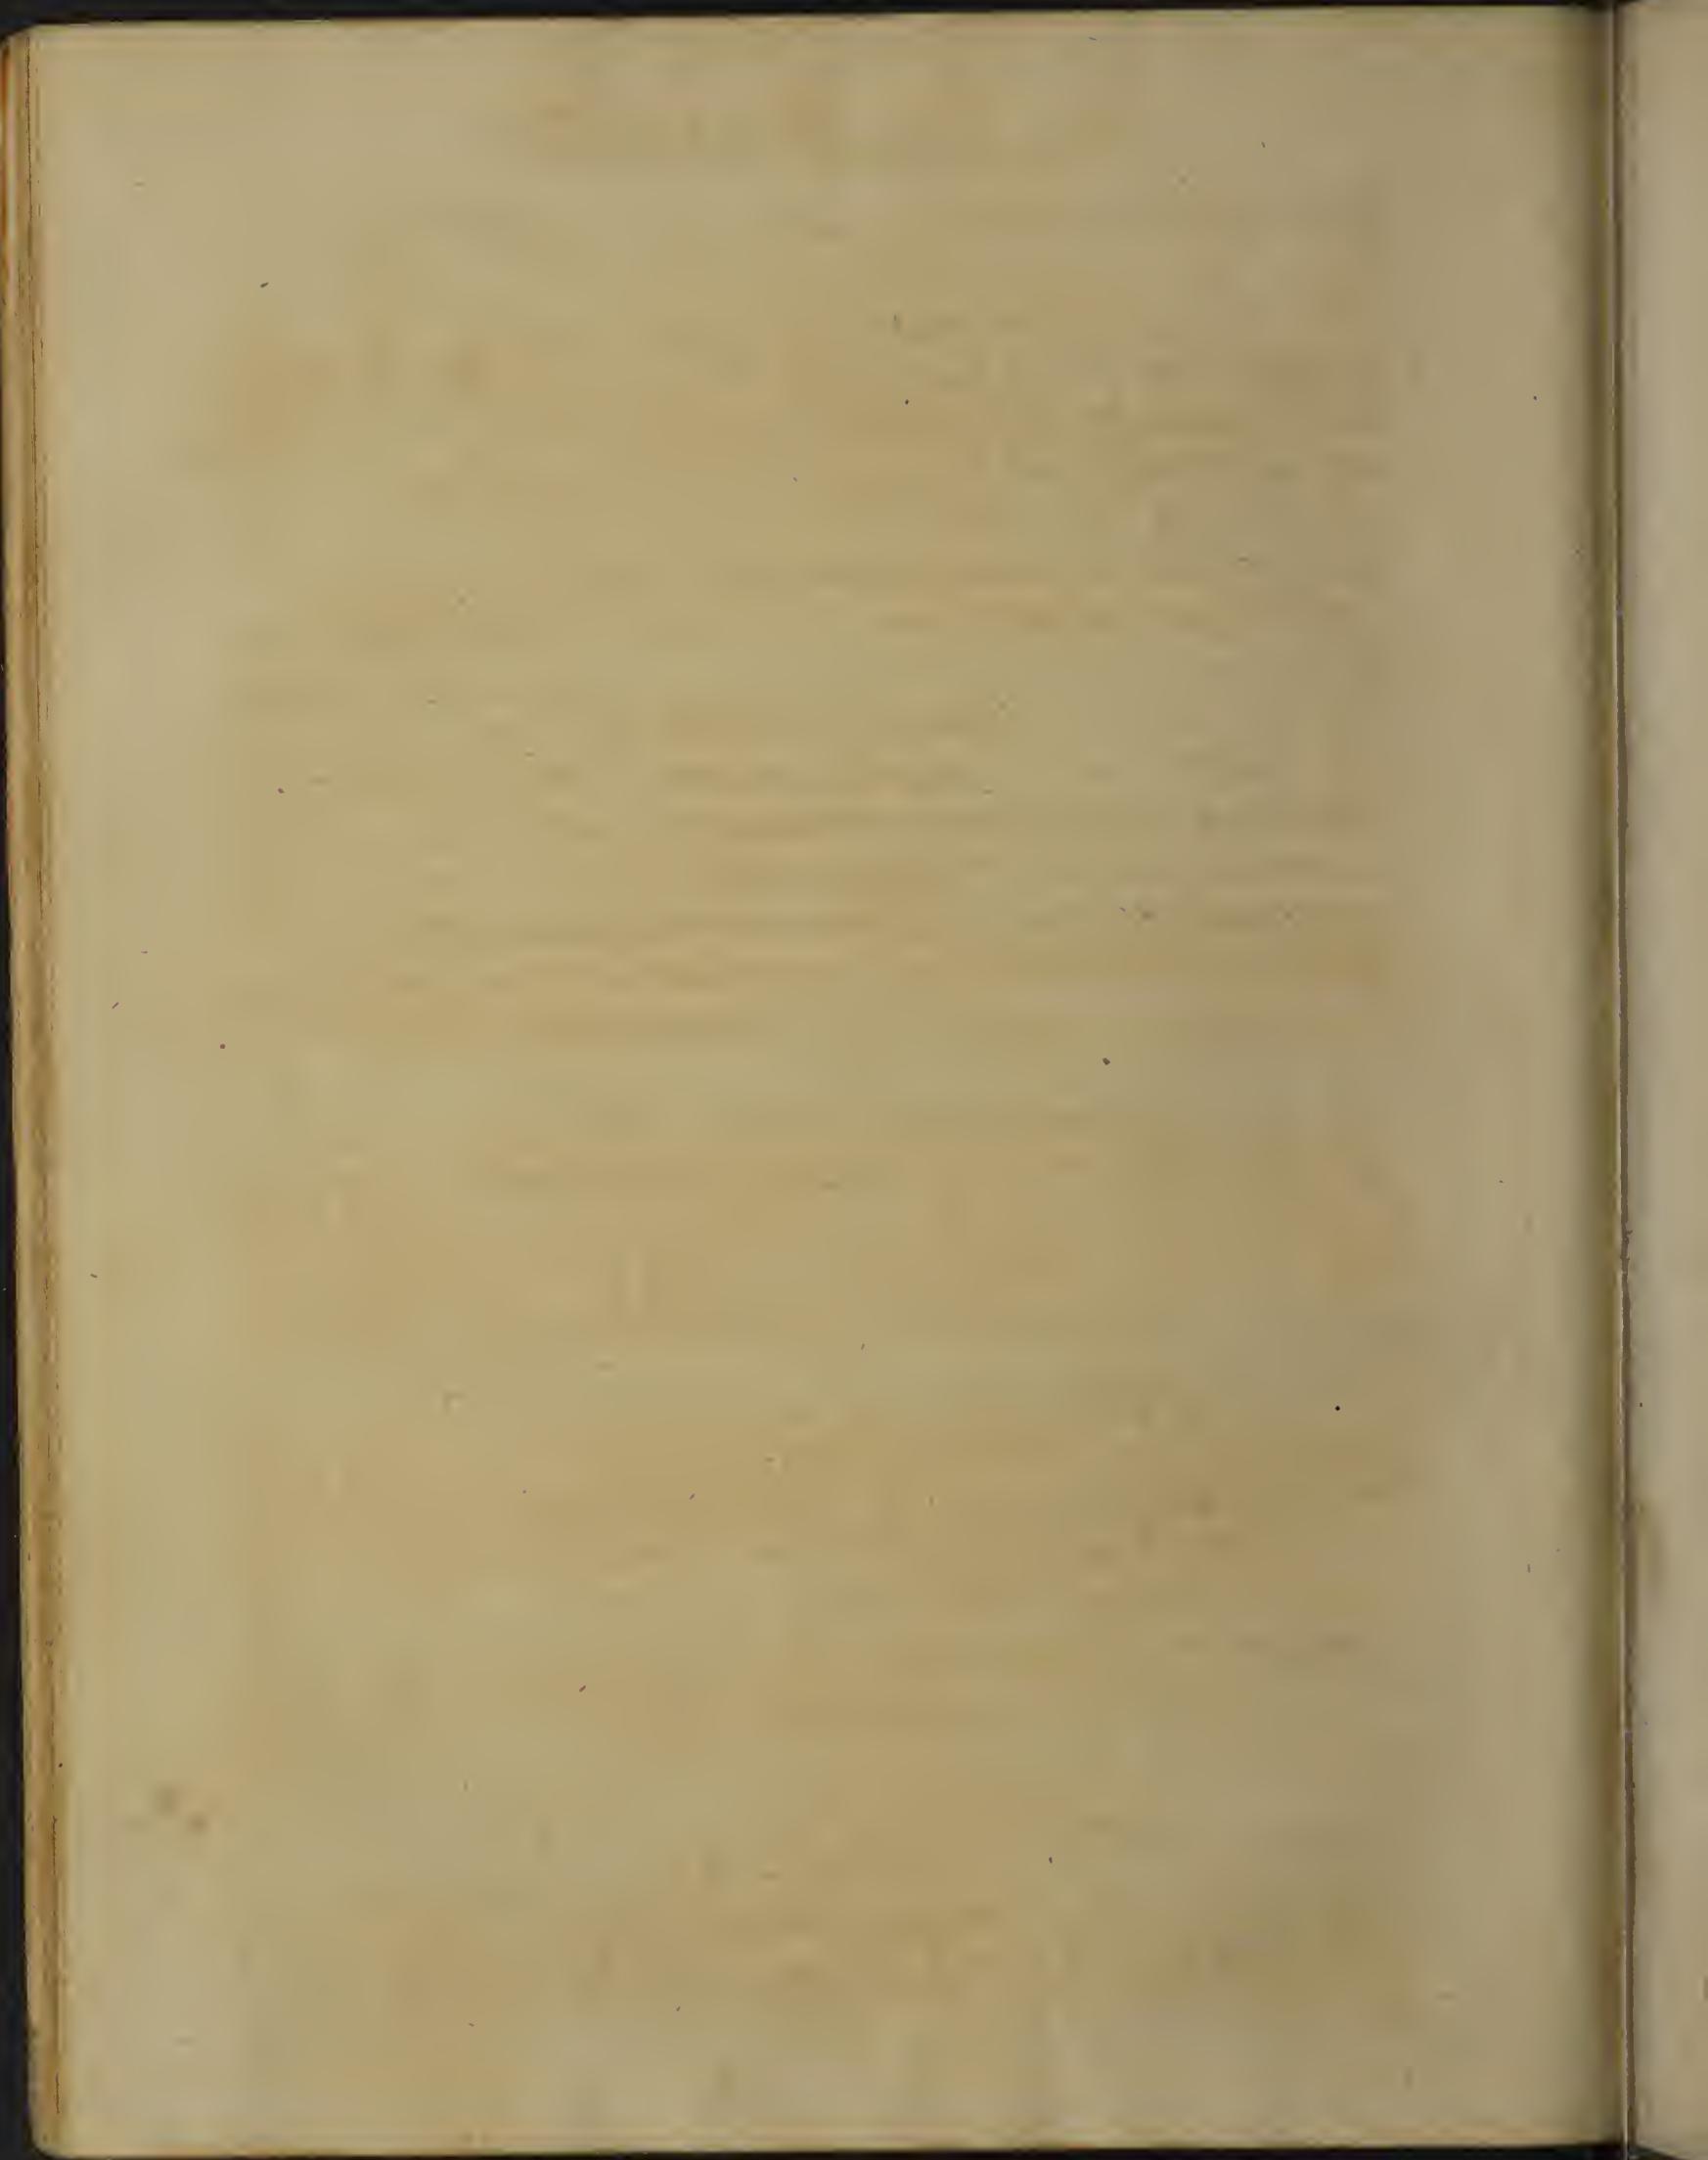

For the vanity of the head.

C Take the iuice of Wall-wort, Salt, honey, ware, & Insence, boyle all them together, and therewith annoint the temples.

For the vanity of the head, and to wash the head, and to comfort the braine and memory, and for a fair face.

C Take lye that is not so strong, and put two pyles of Oreg-ges, the pils of as many Citrons, the blossomes of Camomell, Wax leaues a handfull, of maidenhaire a handfull, of Egrimony theo in thre vnces, of barley straw choppred in pieces, a dish-full of Fenegrake, a pound of Wine lyes, two or thre dish-fulls of brome blossoms, put all these into the lye, and mingle them together, and so wash the head therewith, and put a little Myrr and Cynamon: this is proued.

The Path-way to health.

8

full, wash them, and shred them small, then seethe them with water in an earthen pot, and wash thy head with some of the water, then mingle the herbs with Wheat bran, and make a plaster thereof, and lay it on the mould of his head, as hot as may be suffered: then bind it to with a Kerchiefe, and within five times dressing of the Patient, he shall be whole.

Another experiment for all manner of head ache.

C Take Rue, Veruaine, Womewood, Sage, Malwort, Hephoue, red Fenel, Plantain, the greene of an Elder, betweene the bark and the tree, of each a handfull, wash them, and stampe them small, put them in a new earthen pot with a pottle of red Veruaine, & a pottle of stale Ale, seeth it to the halfe, put therunto a quarter of an vnce of Pepper beaten, and strain it through a cloſh, and drinke therof nine daies eight spoonfuls at oncs, at euening hot, and in the morning cold, and wash the patients head with the liquor, and it will cure all manner of head ache.

Against the turne or daseling in the head.

C Let thy head be washed with the water of the decoction of three leaned Grasse, and lay a plaster of the herbe to the Patients forehead. Also Mints laid to the head, taketh away the pains that come of a cold cause. Also Mistledwale to the head draweth out the corrupt humors: and the ioyce of Onions cast into the nostrills, cleanseth the head. Also see the Peniriall, and lay it to the temples, or poure Watlme into the eares thre or four times in the Sunne, and it will cure the Patient of daseling in the head.

Another for daseling or swimming in the head.

C Take and make a plaster of Culver dung and Wheat bran, temper them with the white of an Egge, and lay it to the contrary part of the head to that which is payned. Also the ioice of Iule mingled with old Lard, is good for the swimming in the head. Also the pith of bread which was baken with Coriander seed, laid to the head, is good.

The Path-way to health.

Against the rume in the head.

Take and make a Pomander of the powder of Cucubes, Spases, Labdanum and Greke Pitch: it doth remoue from she brayne all superfluous humors: Naces and Cucubes chelved in the mouth doe the same. A plaister made of Garlick and Cloves stoppeth that humor which causeth the rume. Also Isop boyled in the cibers and so laid to the head, stoppeth the rume, and a little bag full of Cardell, Salt and Anniseeds is very good.

A Gargell for the rume.

Take Vineger, Musterd, a god quantity of Pepper, and boyle them al together, then let the party so griseued put a spoonfull in their mouth and walke vp and downe, and when it war eth cold spit it out, and take an other: & vsit it for a time, and for every one spoonful, you shal hold fives: take it not in the stoll: this hath hauen proued.

For the rume another experiment.

Take iuice of Coleworts, and draw it into the mouthills, and it purgeth the head: Sorrell beaten with the oyle of Roses is good for the ache of the head. For the rume in the eyes, take Wine and eat it, and it drinkest away the rume.

For the rume in the head, another proued.

Against cold rume, and other passions and swimming of the head, and such other qualitites: take thre Pills of Cassia, of Labdanum, and Storax Confecta, mixt the iuice of Wombe wood wher the cause commeth of the head, this comforteth the brayne: also make a Fumigation of Cassia Ligna ouer hote coales, and receiuing the smoake therof at thy mouth.

A quilt for the rume, a speedy remedie, proued often.

Take of Olibanum, Bengeum, Storax Calamita, of each of theys halfe a dram, of Labdanum two drams, of Nutmegs, and Cloves

The Pathway to health.

9

Gloves, of each halfe a dram, of Camomilla a scruple, Mistletoe half a dram, of Maces halfe a scruple, of lugula Romana a dram, of Bay berries a scruple, of the flower of Roses, &f Camomell, of Violets, of each a dram : of the flowers of Betony a scruple beat all these into grasse poudres, & so let them be quilted with god red Scarlet flocks, in a piece of black Harsenet, and so be laid vpon the head to the nape of the necke, and let it lye there the space of twenty heures, and then turne it, and thus for the same it is most excellent.

An experiment for wounds in the head.

CFor to cease the ache and swelling wounds that be soze in the head, or in any other place, so that the bones be not broken. Take Mallowes, Wormwood, Betony, Egrimony, Hillwort, of each of these a handfull, wash them and stamp them, and putt thereto thre bnces of wheat flower, as much Honey, & as much Barrow greace, and stamp them toghether, and put thereto re Wine, and fry them, and lay them warme to the soze, but lay a red Cole lease between the plaisters & the wound, and it shall cease the ache, and take away the swelling therof.

For all manner of euill aches in the head.

CTake Betony, Veruaine, Wormwood, Maybread, Rue, Wallwort, Sage, the bark of the Elder tree, thre cornes of Pepper, and temper them toghether in wine, and drinke therof each day a draught, early and late, till that the Patient be well. Also take the gall of an Hare, and temper it with as much honey, and annoynct therewith the temples. Also Rue, and Eysell, and smere thy head therewith, ts wholsom. Also Camomell is good for the burning Feaver that holdesth a man or woman in the head. Also Fenell sodden in water, swageþ the ache in man or womans head, when that the head is washed therwith.

Another for all manner of euill aches in the head.

CTaks the greace of an Hart, and mingle it with Barly-meale and Sowrell, bind them and temper them all together.

The Path-way to health.

and playster it to thy temples: for this hath been proued a right good medicin. Also take the iuice of Pwturose, and the milke of a Cow, and with a pen draw it vp into thy nosthills, and it shall purge the head, and shall heale the party so grieved of the headache.

For to make a man to sleepe.

C Take the leaues of white Poppy and red Pettles, and stamp them togesher, and put to it a little Beane flower, and lay it on a clothy, and so bind it to the forehead, and he shall sleepe quietly.

To make one sleepe that slept not in a long time before.

C Take white Poppy seed, Aniseed, of each a like quantity, and beat them to fine powder: then take rose-water, the white of an Egge, and womans milke, and mingle all these togesher: but first beat the white of an Egge very much: and take away the froth, then take flockes as many as will lye ouer your forehead, and wet them in the liquor aforesaid: then sprinkle of the powder vpon it, and then lay it in a pewter platter vpon a chafingdish of coles to make it warme, and so lay it to the forehead, and the party shall take his rest and quiet sleepe.

For to make a man to sleepe.

C Take the leaues of Elder, and warme them betwene two tileys, and bind it to the nape of the necke, and it will make him to sleepe. Also take the leaues Scala coeli, put them in a pot, and seeth them well a good while, and at even wash wel thy feet and legs vp to the knes with that water, and no higher, then goe to bed, and thou shalt sleepe soundly.

For to make a man to sleepe.

C Take a quart of Almonds blened, and halfe a pound of Hempseade, thre times washed in cleane water, and sixteene Dates, stamp hem togesher, and put hem to good stale Ale, and take take an vnce of Poppy seed brused, and lay it in Ale three or four houres, and seeth hem togeher, and straine hem, & give the sick to eate of it, and it shal make hym sleepe.

The Path-way to health.

10

For to make a man sleepe, and for to come to quiet rest.

C Take red Roses, Violets, the water of Mellilot, Lettice, of each a like quantity a handfull: white Poppy, white Henbane, of each halfe a dram, a little Dill seed for to comfort the braine, bray all these together: then put them in a soft linnen cloth twelve inches long, & three inches broad, quilt it and tie it to his forehead. Also take oyle of water Lillies, Poppy, Nightshade, Rose-water, Vineger, and womans milk, dip flax therein, and bind it to his temples: this hath been often proued.

For paine in the eares.

G Take the iuice of wild Cowcumbers, and put it into the eares, and it asswageth the paine. Also put the wood of greene Ashe in the fire, and saue the liquor that comesth out at the end, and put it into the eares, it causeth the paine for to cease, and amendeth the hearing. Also beat the iuice of Wormwood, and drop it into thy eares: proued.

For the paine in the eares.

C Take and mingle the iuice of Betony with oile of roses, and put it warme in the eares with a tent, and stop them well.
Also take faire oyle Olive, and let it be blowne out of a mans mouth that is cleane and fasting into the eares of a sick man, let this be done three or four times, and let that side of the head be turned downward, that the odour of the head may run out.
Also take Almonds and the kernells of Peaches, & let them bee cleane pilled in hole water, and make oyle of them, and let the oyle be put into the eares of the Patient so grieved.

For the paine in the eares.

C Take oyle of Roses, and a little Vineger, and put it to the ear: then make a bag of Cammomell and Mellilot, and lay it thereon.

The Path-way to health.

þereunto. Also Goose greace being taken with a little honys, all wagensh the paine of the eares. Also oyle of Almonds is very good for the paine in the eares : Also if there bee water in the eares, take a little Goose greace, and the juice of Onions, commixed toghether, and so lay it to the eares : proued.

For deafnes in the eare.

C Take a peice of gréene Ash and put it in the fire, and take his droppings of that water, and take the droppings of a fresh water Cale, the oyle of bitter Almonds, of every one a equall portion, warme it by the fier, and let it drop two or thre drops in the eare so greeued, then take black Ewes wooll, and dip the wooll therin, and put into the same eare, and it wil helpe the Patient so greeued, by Gods grace. Also take Betony, & Horehound, stamp them in a morter, and wring out the juice, and let the Patient lye on that side, and so poure it into his eare, & let him take his rest : this hath beene proued.

For deafnes in the head.

C Take a Pedghog and rost it, and take the droppings thereof, and put it to the Patients eares so greeued, and stop it with black wooll, & fier, Sometyme there chanceth deafnes by wind, which is in the eare, the whiche causeth tynkling in the head, then take a little Aloes in hot water, or in white Wine, and distill it into the Patients eare, then put a little Eustorbiu[m] in powder into the parties nose so greeued, to make him so to snele, and to avoyd as much filthy humors as you may.

Another for the deafnes in the head.

C Take Decades, Bay berries, Betony, Bay leaves, of each of them a handfull, seeth them in white Wine to the halse, and for an old man in Masse, then put it in a vessel that hath a narrow mouth, and hold your eares ouer it being unstopped, as hote as you may suffer it, being not to hote nor too cold, also thre drops of the oyle of Almonds, doth the same.

The Path-way to health.

11

For wormes in the eares.

C Take the iuyce of Worm-wad, Rue, Sowthistle, & put it in the patients eare, and he shall b<sup>e</sup> whole: Take the iuyce of Elder, and drop it into the eare of the patient grieved. Or take the iuyce of Cockle, and mingle it with the iuyce of Arスマrt, and put it into the eares so grieved.

For ache and wormes in the eares.

C Take the iuyce of Henbane, and put it into thine eares, and it will take away the ach, and kill the wormes. Also take the powder of wild Gourds, and the iuyce of Arスマrt, and put it into thine eares: Also for the wormes in the eares, take Centry and Leekes, the iuice of the both, and put it into the eares, and stop it with black wolle of a Shaepe, that groweth between the legges, and it will help the patient.

For wormes in the eares.

C Take oyle of Roses, oyle Eline, oyle of Exeter, Aqua composita, of each of them a like quantity, and compound your Aqua vitæ with other oyles on the fire: then take Rue, and the egges of Ants, beat them small, and compound them altogether being well boyled, and then put it into the eares, dropping it in thre or four times, and he shall find ease.

To cause a man to heare well.

C Take and make a round loafe, and fill it full of Sage, and bake it, and when it is baked, then breake or cut the loafe in the midst, and binde it to the eares as hole as you may suffer it: let this be vised thre or four times, and it will cause the patient so grieved, to heare well.

For the running in the eares.

C Take the iuyce of Elder, & drop it in the eare of the partie grieved, and it cleaseth the matter and the filth thereof. Also the iuyce of Mistletoe vised, is very good for the running of the eares.

D

AIC<sub>2</sub>

The Path-way to health.

Also take the gall of a Weaver, and Honny, of boþ a like posseſſion: mingle them and put þys in into the eares.

For the running in the eares.

C Take the gall of a Goate and womans milk mingled with Honey and Myrrh, and it will help you. Also boyle the iuyce of Sengreene, and put it in a hollow Onion in the fire, then put of the same iuyce strained into thyne eare, and lay the Onion likewise over thyne eare in manner of a plaister. Also the brine of a man child being poured into the eare, dryesth thy humors, and taketh away the running of the eares.

For the impostume behind the head.

C Take Weanes and miny leþhem with meale, and the iuyce of Fenegreeke, and it helpeþ the patient so grieved with the impostume behind the eare, but it must be laid plaister wise.

Another for the same.

C Take Milke and Allom and make a posset, and when þis Allom hath turnd the milke, lay the posset curd to the impostume and it will b̄eake it. Also to destroy an impostume in what place soever, take the roote of Hollock and wash it cleane, then seeth it till it be tender, then put out the water, and put to the roote Unseeded and Fenegreeke, and Barly-meale, mingle them well togeþer, and seþ them with Boones greace, and lay it to the impostume plaister-wise, and it will cure þe same.

For all manner of sore eyes.

C Take Fennell, Rue, Meruaine, Endive, Betony, and red Roses, lay all these a day & a night in white wome, the second day stille them with a soft fire, then keep it in a glasse, this water is as good as Balme, for all manner of euill eyes.

Another for the same.

C Take Fennell, Rue, Meruaine, Endive, Betony, Cnicine, Sengreene, Hill-Wort, Penciall, redde Roses, Mauden haire, haire, of each a like much, also four ounces of oyle olive, stamp hem, and put them in a vessell of glasse, and stell them in a stillator, and as it stillett, part it in thre parts, the first water you must keepe by it selfe, for it is as pretious as siluer, the second as gold, the third as Babwe: all these waters must be kept in very cleane glasses, close stopped, and so vse any of them.

A precious water for the sight of the eyes, made by King Edward the sixt.

C Take Smallage, red Fennell, Rue, Verritine, Wetonie, Egremonie, Pimpernell, Enfrance, Sage, Selondine, of each a like quantity, first wash hem cleare, then stamp hem, and put hem in a faire brasen pan, with the powder of red Pepper cornes, fair serced into a pint of good white wine, then put hem into the hearbes, with thre spoonfulls of honey, and fve spoonfulls of the water of a man-child that is an innocent, mingle al togesher, and boile hem over the fire: and when it is sod, straine it through a fine linnen cloch, and put it into a glasse, and stoppe it well and close till you will vse it, and when you need, put a litte thereof into the sore eyes with a feather: but if it were dry, then temper it with white wine, and profiteth much all manner of sore eyes: this water was used by King Edward the sixt.

For the pin and the web, and the fellon in the eye.

C Take the gall of a Hare, and Honny, of each a like much, mingle hem togesher, and take a feather, and put a little into thine eyes, and it will heale them within two or thre dayes, and sane the sight on warrantise: this hath beene often proued.

For the pin and the web in the eye.

C Take a quart or a pnt of Strawberries when they be ripe, and put thereto as much white Wine as Strawberries, then put hem in a cleane vessell, and let hem stand nine dayes hote, stirre hem very well every day twice or thrice, and the tenth day put it in a bag of Canvas, and let it go through hote,

The Path-way to health.

you must not wryng it hote, let it go through of it self, then take she clere, and put it in a viall of glasse, then take Calamint, that is, a stome, and put it in the fire, til it be red hot, and then quench it in white Wine nine severall times, and when thou hast done thus, take she same stome and beat it to small powder in a brazen morter: if you haue a pinte of Water, then put therein one ounce of the said powder, and mingle them well togesyer, and keepe it well, for this is a precious water for the pinne and the webbe in the eye.

Another for the same.

C Take Enstreras a good quantity, and stamp it well, and wryng ouf the iuyce through a cloth, and use it. Or take Bones greace, Capons greace, Goose greace, and melt them togesyer in a pan, stir them well with a staffe till it be well boyled, then let it coole, and put in a boxe, and at night use to putt a little thereof in the eye when thou goest to bed, lying upright.

Another for the pin and web in the eye.

C Take an Egge and roste it hard, and in the white therewer putt as much Copo: as a pease, then being hote, wryng it shrow a cloth, and let it drop in the eye one good drop, this hath often been pronounced good both for old and young.

For to cleare the eye sight.

C Take and chase the greace of any manner of fresh fish water against the Sun, till that you haue the slime therewer, mingle it with Honny, and therewith annoiint thine eyes.

For to cleare the eye sight.

C Take and drinke the iuyce of Riw, and it will so cleer the eye sight, that if the Sun do shone, ye shall see the stars at noone day. Also take the gall of a Swine, or els the gall of a white Cock, and put it in a glasse, and annoynt thy eyes therwith nine daies, and thy sight shall be as cleere and perfect as ever it was, this hath bene pronounced.

For

For the pearle in the eye.

C Take white Ginger, and rub it on a whetstone of Rose way, into a pewter saucer, and doe thereto white Wine, and then take a feather and wash the eyes therewith: proued.

A precious water for the pearle in the eye, and for red bleered eyes; and for to keepe a man young.

C Take Laminell of Gold, of Siluer, of Laten, of Lead, of Iron, of Steele, of Litargie, of silver and gold, with a little Camomill, and as much Columbine, put these into the brine of a male chylde, and let it stand a day and a night, the second day, in warme white Wine, the third day in the iuyce of Fennell, the fourth day in the iuyce of Egges, the fifth day in womans milk, the sixe day in red Wine, the sevengh day in the white of Eggs, the eight day put them together and stille them, then put the wafer very close in glasses for your vse. This water destroyeth all euill in the eyes. Also if it be dranke, it keepeth a man young, and is of wonderfull greae vertue.

For bleered eyes.

C Take the iuyce of Cowslips, and the water thereof distilled being taken, and the eyes annoyncted therewith, helpe th all bleered eyes, and taketh away the rednesse.

For heate and swelling in the eyes.

C Take white bread, and Southernwood sodden in water, and therewith bathe the eyes, and it will draw away the heate and swelling of the eyes without any pain. Also for swelling or running of bloody eyes, take and seeth red Snailles, and gather the greace thereof, and annoynct thy eyes therewith, and they will be whole by Gods grace.

For smarting of the eyes.

C Take Womans milk, and the iuyce of Centory, & mingle them together, and wash well the eyes therewith. Also the iuyce of Betony is very good with white wine: proued.

The Path-way to health.

For a mans eye that is biew or blacke, with a blow or a bruse.

C Take the white of an Egge and Parsly, and beat them together, and make it as thick as an ointment, and lay it to the eye lids all cold. Also take the gall of a Hare, & temper it with Honny, and annoynct the eyes therewith. Also take red Snualls in water with Capons grease, and annoynct the eyes therewith.

For running or watery eyes.

C Take of Betony and Honny, a like quantity, fry them, and steame them through a clothe, and annoynct the eyes therewith. Take also Colombine and boyle out the juice and annoynct the eyes therewith. Also take a read Colwext leafe, and the white of an Egge, and annoynct therewith the watery eyes when thou goest to bed. Also to make the eyes cleare and bright, take the blood of small Birds and Honny, and annoynct the eyes therewith, and thou shalt cleerely see.

For blood-shotten eyes.

C Take the tops of white Wormewode, and the leanes of Gilladane, stamp them and mire them with the white of an Egge and Rose-water, and make thereof a plastron, then binde the same to your eyes at night when you goe to bed, and it will helpe you.

For to drive blood from the eyes.

C Take the powder of Comint, of Marmiste, and the white of an Egge, make a plaster hereof upon hard Flax, & lay it to the eyes. Also for to cleare the eyes, take Wall-wort, Rue, red Fennell, stamp them together, and temper them well with White waine, and straine it through a linnen cloth, and so droppe it at night into thine eyes, lying upright in thy bed.

For bloody or watery eyes.

C Take a quart of white Wine, and put thereto the fatte of ybi pieces of Bacon, the breadth and thicknes of a groat, and a god sawcer full of Honny, and put hem in a Latin bason clean scoured, and stir hem well together, and cover hem with another bason the space of nins dayes: then take of the bason, & ye shall find a creame, breake the creame a little, and poure out the water that is underneath softly into a glasse, and that water will helpe all manner of red eyes and watering, bse it dally and put one drop into thine eyes twice a day.

Another for bloody eyes.

C Take the ioyce of Rue, and powder of Commin, misage them together, then take Cotten and dip it well therin, and lay it to the eyes, and also annoynct the temples, the browes, and the lids of the eyes therwith. Take also the rots of red Fenel, Campe them and wring out the ioyce, then temper it with clarised Honny, and make therof an oyntment, and annoynct thy eyes therewith, and it will take away the rednes.

For the eyes that are blasted.

C Take Tuffe and Calamint, and wash them with white Wine nine times, then grinde them upon a stone with some of white Wine, and with Goose greace, and Capons greace, put hereof in the eyes early and late: this hath been proued.

A medicine for a mans eye that is broken with a staffe, or bruised with any stroke: this hath been often proued.

C Take a pint of white Wine, and a handfull of red Rose-leaves, and as much Commin as thou canst hold in thy hand, and cut all together, then seeth it well till most part be consumed, then take that licor and put it into a glasse, and put thereof into thine eyes, do thus five or sixe dayes, also wash the sore eyes therewith: and at night make a plaister of the same leauers that be sod, and lay them likewise vpon the sore eyes, and this will certainly heale the eye, though the ball thereof be cutte or hurt with a rod or staffe, or any other kind of bruse in the e-coming of what cause soever. Proued.

The Path-way to health.

For the itching of the eyc.

C Take the oyle of Cutly, and anoint the eyes therewith. Also Suncace is good for the itching of the eyes caused of hote humors, and wash them with that water before exprested.

A precious medicine proved, for man, woman, or child, that hath any sore eyes. And this medicine never sayleth, but restoreth the sight.

C Take a stone called Calamint, and make it red hote nine times, and quench it fourre times in Rose water, and five times in white Wine, then take this stome that is thus quenched, and make of it small powder in a brasen morter, then take Frankensence as much as of the powder of the stome, and make it also to powder, & looke that you haue of them two even portions, as much as you will, then take Rose water, and water of Rue, and water of Fennell, of each of these three two portions of the water of Strawberries, and the water of Veruaine, and the water of Enstrag, of each of these thre, thre portions, and put all these waters together in a cleane vessell, and then loske how many vnces thou hast of thy powder, to vnces of the aforesaid waters that be mingled. Grinde the powder of Calamint and of Frankensence on a Marble stome, as you would grinde Vermillion, bzt you must grinde each one by it selfe, then take flessh Swines greace of a Barrow-hog, & wring the same vrie well through a cleane cloth, and looke that you haue as much weight of cold greace, as of the mingled waters: take then the powder of Calament, and boyle it with the greace, and with the mingled waters, over a soft fire of Char-coles, without anie smoake. And when thou hast boyled these wel together, vut vpon the same the powder of Frankensence, and then boile them all together, till the smoake of the boylings cease, and then take from the fire and let it coole: but from the time that you set it to the fire so to seeth he alwaies stirring it very busily & cold and thick. Then take Camphire, & pare it in smal pieces, pieces, then take of thy oyntment evn as much, and grind hem togther by parcels on a Marbie Stone, and when they be well mingled togesher, then put it in a boxe, with one vnce of Calamint, and one vnce of Frankensence, Enfrance syre penny-worth, and syre penny worth of Camphire, and he that hath any grieuance or sicknes in his eyes, at night fittynge on his bed, let hym take of this oyntment with his finger, as much as a wheate corne, and hold it in his eye vntill it be relented, and then dip his finger with the oyntment softly betwix the lids of his eies and then let him lye downe and sleepe, and on the morrow when he riseth, wash the eye with Rose-water, or with Enfrance-water, or with Fennell water, or with Rue water: these waters be good therfore, but ere thou wash the eyes therewith, heate the water a little over the fire, but loke that you wash not with scalding hysttle, nor with no other syng, but with one of these waters before said, and thou shalt be whole: this hath bene surely proued.

For the Impostumes in the head.

C Against the Impostume of the eyes, and web of the same, put the juice of Hony-suckle often therin; or mingle it with pure hony and straine it, and ti wastefly the Impostume and the web maruaillously, and it was thus proued. One tooke a Cock and a whelp, and pricked their eyes with a crooked Iron or needle, so that they seemed that their eyes were out, and then hee brused this hearbe, and put it in their eyes, and they became faire and cleare as they were before, at the which he did maruaile: and proued it many times vpon diuers persons.

For wormes in the eye lids.

C Take Salt and burne it in a chalke, and temper it with hony, and with a feather annoignt the eye lids, when the party doeth to bed.

For wormes in the eye lids.

C Take Bay-salt and burne it in the fire, and then stampe it: and doe thereto clarified hony, and the water of Allom, and a little Copperas, and anoint the eye-lids when thou goest to bed, and this medicin shall kill the wormes that be in the eye-lids: proued.

The Path-way to health.

For stinking at the nose.

C Take Cloues, Ginger, and Calamint, of each a like much, and see the them in white Wine, and therewith wash thy nose. After that put in the powder Piritrum to prouoke one to nose, if there be repletion steame in head ona: first you must purge the head with Pylls of Colchie, or of Hieracica. Also if the stinking of the nose come from the Somacke: first purge the Somacke, & fiet.

For the polix of the nose.

C Against the polix of the nose, make a suppositore or tent of a plaster called Apostolicon, and put powder of Copperas theron, and put it into thy nose, or make that tent of cotton, and wet it in Salt-water, and lay of the said powder theron, and put it in thy nose. The said powder is also good to fret the proud flesh of superfluitie of blood of the nose, but first barne it, then put it in old parchment and make powder therof, and take Masticke, and then make a tent of Bursa pastoris, with part of a stone calleid Emachitas, and putt it in thy nose.

For the polix of the nose.

C To take and putt the ioice of Jay into thy nostrils, is very good. The gum of Jay made in an oynement called Hialthera, hath power to chase and to consume. Also against the polix makes a tent of Apostolicon, and the powder of burnt brasse, and lay it to the nose, et fiet.

For the posse in the head.

C Against the rume or posse, mingle the powder of Coriander, and Bay berries, and putt them all hote in a bag, and lay them so to the head for the posse.

For the nostrill a medicine.

C For the highnes of the nostrills, and rednes caused in flur of humors: take the broth that Olibanum is sodden in, but first in the morning Pils of Olibanum, and at night to bedward the said broth: these Pylls comforteth digestion, and purgeth the stomacke.

For bleeding at the nose.

C Take and mingle the powder of Metony, with as much salt, and put as much as you can take betwene two fingers and a thumb in the nostrills, and the blood will staunch: also take and wet cotten in the juice of Bursa pastoris, and cast powder of Antimonium vpon it, and the bleeding will stent.

For bleeding at the nose.

C Take a dram of Bolz armoniacke washed, and mire it in Rose-water, and Planten water, and drinke it, then bind the extreame parts as hard as you may, and after make a tent of grane Nettles, and put into his nose. Moreover if so be that the patient doe hold in his hand Egrimony the roote and all, and drinke the juice of Knotgrass, the blood will staunch.

For bleeding at the nose.

C Against the bleeding of the nose that commeth by ebullition or boilling of the blood in the lyuer and vaines: in Sommer make Beanes wet in the juice of Rose-water, and lay them to the sozehead, or temples: it hath been proued.

Another for the same.

C Take perwinicle and chewe it in the mouth, and it will staunch the blood.

Against the bleeding at the nose.

C Take and wet the pith of an Elder in the juice of Bursa pastoris, and cast powder of Sumach spereon, & put to it thy nose. Also take and wet cotten in the juice of Bloodwort, and put it into thy nose, and it stancheth blood. Also take the juice of nettles, and rub well thy sozehead therwith, and it will stanch it.

The Path-way to health.

Take the seede that hangeþ upon a Hasell bowe and burne it; make powder and blow it into thy nose, with a Goose quill, or drinke the juice of Plantain, and the blood will stanch presently.

An experiment for the tooth-ache.

C Take Betony and wild Gourds, and put them in wine, or in Vineger, and then put it into thy mouth as hot as thou maist suffer it, and hold it a good while in thy mouth, and it will take away the paine. Also take Henbane and bruse it, and hold it betwene thy teeth a good while, or lay it also upon the tooth that akeþ, and it will asswage the paine. Take thre or four rases of Ginger, and bruse them with halfe a pint of Ale, being sodden therin till it be wasted to a quarter, and put it into the parties mouth as hot as he may suffer it, and it will take away the tooth-ache,

For the tooth-ache.

C Take strong Ale, and Musterd of the best, and gumme Elder, and put it in a porrenger and set it ouer the fire, and stir it, and when it is thicke, take it and hold it on that side that the paine is. Also take Henbane seed, and seed of Leeks, and Franchensence, of each a like much, and lay these thre on a glowing hot tilestone, then take a pipe of Laten that is wide at the lower end, and small abone, then set the wide end to the stone, and the small upward, and let the smoke goe into thy mouth: for this will kill all the wormes: it hath beeþ proued.

For the tooth-ache.

C Take the root of Henbane, and leeth it in Vineger till the thrid part be sodden away, and with the same wash thy mouth, and hold it in thy mouth a good while, & it will kill the ach. Also take the root of Henbane, and hold it betwene thy aking teeth, and it will doe away the paine therof.

For hollow teeth.

C Take Assa ferida, and put it in the hollow tooth, and it shal helpe them. Also take Rue and lay it to the hollow teeth; and threw it in your mouth, and lay thereof into the hole, and it shal asswage the paine thereof.

For hollow teeth.

C Take Vineger and Musterd, pouder of Pepper, and Pellitory of Spalne, and the curnell of a Nutgall, and boile them all togesher, and put it in the hollow teeth, or els about the gums hot, and thou shalt be whole. Also take the seeds of Henbane, and beat it to small pouder, and mingle it with ware, and make a little pellet that it may be full of powder, and put it in the hole of the tooth that aketh, and it will kill the tooth-ache that is hollow: this hath beene proued.

For wormes in the teeth.

C Take Pepper and stamp it, and temper it with god wine, and sup thereof warme, and hold it in thy mouth till it be cold, and then spit it out, and thou shalt be deliuered of all anguish of the tooth-ache. Also take the seed of Henbane, and cast it on a chafingdish of coles of Charcole fire, and hold thy mouth over the fire that the smoke may enter into thy mouth over a bason of faire cleane water, and thou shalt see vpon the water as it were small wormes, that shall come forth at thy mouth. Also take Tansie, bray it, and stop the hollow tooth therewith, and it will kill the wormes, and take away the paines thereof.

Another for the same.

C Take the roote of Pellitory of Spalne, and wash it cleare, and stampe it, and make thereof threesmall balls in thy hand, every ball the greatness of a plum, and lay the first ball between the cheeke and the tooth that aketh, by the space that one may goe a mile, and ever as the water gathereth, spit it out, and when thou thinkest it hath beene there so long, put it out, and put in another, and so doe till thou haue spent all three, & then lay you vpon your bed, and euer you warme, and when you haue slept you will be whole: this hath beene oftentimes proued frue.

The Path-way to health.

To make teeth to fall out of themselues.

Take ground Wormes, and a red hote Tile-stone, and burne them to powder, and put the ashes, into the hollow tooth, and couer it with wax, and they will fall out themselues. Also take the root of Henbane, and make it in powder, and touch the tooth, and it will fall out, take heed that thou touch not any but that which is sore. Also burne to powder a Harts horne, and rub thy teeth therewith, and they will fall out. Also make dowe of Wheat flower, with the milke of spurge, and lay it about the tooth that is pained, and it shall fall out. Also take a waterfog, and a greene Frog, and seeth them together, and gather the greace, and smere therewith thy gums about the teeth, and they will fall out quickly.

For yellow stinking teeth.

Take Sage a quantity, and do as much Salt thereto, and then colfin it, as thou wouldest make a Pasty, and bake it in an Ouen all to coales, and therof make powder, and therewith rub thy teeth. Also take greene branches of broome, and burn them, and make powder therof, and doe thereto as much of the powder of Allom burnt, then mingle them together, and temper them with water, and therewith rub well thy teeth, and that will doe away the yellownes and blacknes, and the stinking of the teeth. Also take a handfull of Comin, and stamp it small, and saeth it in Wine, and giue the party so grieved to drinke twenty daies, & it shall help them. Also Mastick chewed with in a mans mouth, takes away the tooth ache.

To make teeth white that be yellow or blacke.

Take flower of Rye, and Salt, and Honey, and mingle them well together, and therewith rub well thy teeth every day two or thre times, and after wash thy mouth with water, this will doe away the yellownes, and make the teeth white. Also take white Marble, Cuttle bone, white Corall, Salgeme, Bay salt, Mastick, and the Pylls of Citeron, of each of these alike much, make them in very fine powder, & rub the teeth therewith every every morning, and afterward wash your mouth with white wine, wherein Dill or Camomell hath beene sodden. Also take Vneger of Squalls, and dip a little peece of cloth therin, & rub thy teeth and gums withal, the said vineger fastneth the gums, and comforteth the roots of the teeth. Also scurvy grasse doth the same. Also distill a water in a Limbeck of two part of sal-geme, and the third part of allom, and rub the teeth with a cloth dipped in the same, and it maketh the teeth white, and cleaseth the gums.

To make the teeth cleane.

C Take Rosemary, Sage, and a quarter of Allom and Honey, and boile them together in faire running water, and when it hath been well boyled, straine out the faire water, & keep it in a glasse, and vse it sometime to wash your mouth & the teeth therwith, and it wil make them clean. Also wash the teeth with the decoction of our Lady thistleroot, & thy teeth shall be fastened, and also kept cleane, and thy gums being sore about the teeth shal be made whole. Also the root of Horehound drunk or chewed of a man fasting, doth quickly heale the guumes, and maketh the teeth cleare. Also Strawbury leaves taketh and cleaseth the teeth and gums: a sore and tried experiment.

For the guumes.

C Against swelling of the gums, wash them first with Vineger and allom confect together, but first set Mentoles, or boxes, wth scarification on the necke or sholder, or set the Menthols in the hinder part of the head, and searisse it three dayes, then lay Horsteeches to the gums, and wash the gums with vineger wherein Allom, Potgalls and Roses hath beene sodden in, and with the same vineger wash thy mouth threes or fourre dayes twice or thrice a day, and it will easē thee. Also against the rotteness of the gums: take Cingule and rub the cheeke therewith, and it taketh away the roting of the gums.

For the guumes that bleed.

C Against the bleeding of the guums, take powder of Corall, and of Anthero that is in the middell of the Rose, and lay it upon

The Path-way to health.

Upon the gummes: or confeit it with Honey, and annoynct the gums therewith. The powder of Corall put to the gums, healeth them. Also for the gums that rotteþ: rub them with Myrrh, and it will helpe them. Also the fume of Myrrhe receyved at the mouth, comforteth and purgeth the same.

For the gummes that are gnawne.

T Take and seethe Cloues in water of Roses, and then dry them, and make thereof powder, then temper the powder with Rose-water, or with Roses, and that is best, and then dry it againe in the Sunne, and doe so three or four times, and then temper the powder againe with Rose-water, or with the iuste of Roses, and annoynct the gummes therewith, and lay the powder on them.

For blisters in the mouth, and swelling of the lips.

T Against the blisters in the mouth, and swelling of the lips: take and seeth the leaues of Masticke in vnguer, and with the same make a Gargarisme thereof. Also against steling or rawnesse of the mouth comming of seauer, and against small blisters and swelling: seeth yolkes of Egges in water, and then fry them till oyle come out of them, and with the oyle confeit the powder of Pinters, of Dragagant and Amidon, and annoynct the greefe: this powder Confeit with sirrop of roses or Violets, is also very good therfore.

For chapping of the lipps.

T For the chapping of the lippes: take Pennets and delay them in water of Dragagant, and annoynct the lips therewith. Also for lippes that bee broken with the wind, take the oyle of Almonds and Propolio, boyle them ouer the fire, and let it be somewhat hard, and therewith annoynct the lips so chapped with wind. Also for new clifts, or chapping of the lips: lay the powder of Camell in the clifts, and keepe well thy lippes together, and bind a cloth thereto.

For

For swelling of the cheeke that commeth of the tooth-ache.

C Take the iuyce of the seede of Nettles, and the white of an Egge, Frankensence, and Wheat flower, and make shereof a plaister, and lay it to the sore cheeke, and it will do away the swelling shereof.

For the great heat in the mouth.

C Take a pint of water, and as much as a Nut of white Allom, and as much of Sage, a spoonfull of honey, and boile all these togesher, and wash thy mouth with it.

For the Canker in the mouth.

C Take a pint of white wine, and as much running water, and the crop of Sage, two spoonfull of lise honey, and as much Allom as an Egge, boyle all these togesher, and skim it well, clarifie it till the Allom be consumed, and when it is somewhat cold, put it in a glasse, and vse it. Also take the root of Selendine and seeth it in white wine, and when it is well sod, take the pot downe, and let the sick hold ouer his mouth, and let the breath goe into the body, and it shall kill the canker.

For the Canker in the mouth.

C Take the iuyce of Wodbind, & the iuyce of red Worts, Honey, powder of Camomell, and powder of wild Sage burnt, also take red Waine a pint, a quarter of a pint of honey, and as much Allom as a Dous Egge, and seeth them till the third part shereof be wasted: proued.

Another for the same.

C Take Vineger, Allom, Musterd, Rue, Aunce, Isole, hearb Robert, and seeth and straine them through a cloth as hole as you may suffer it, and wash your mouth oftentimes therewith, and it will heale the canker.

The Path-way to health.

For the canker in the mouth, and for stinking breath.

C Take a handful of Woodbind, as much Plantain, and bray them small, then take a pint of Cysell, and another of water, and a quantity of hony, another of Allom, keep al these waters together in a glasse, and wash well thy mouth therewith, and hold it in thy mouth, and it shall destroy all cankers and stinking breath, and save thy teeth from rotting.

A very good medicine for a canker or sore mouth.

Take a handfull of Woodbind, as much Plantain, and halfe a handful of Lauender cotten, as much Sage, an vnce of white roch Allom, and thre spoonfull of hony, bray all these in Wineger, let these be moderately warmed, and put into a still with the herbes, and softly distilled, & after meales wash your mouth therewith thre or four times a day. Prooued.

Against clifts and sores in the mouth, steepe Dragagant in Rose-water, and wringing it in a cloth, & with a gleywy substance that commeth out, mingle the powder of Amidum, and with a feather wet therein, annoynt the sore mouth therewith, and it will heale quickly.

Also for a man that cannot well eate, take Ambrose, Penitall, Vnus, Ach, Organam, Rue, swill these together with water, and drinke the water morning and euening til thou bee whole. Prooued.

For euill in the mouth or throe.

C Take the leaues of the white Winc, and boyle them in faire water, and when it is well boyled, hold thy mouth ouer, that the ayre may goe into thy mouth, and then sop of the wa- ter, and hold it in thy mouth till it be cold, and then pat it out and take no more, and do so savenier eight times a day, and bis this two dayes together. Also doe in like manner with the fine leaved leaved Grasse, and use it seauen or eight times in a day, and three dates together, but it must be sodden somewhat more then the leafe of the Wine, in faire water, and it will heale the Patient: this hath been oftentimes proved.

For vnsaety mouthes.

C Take the juice of Endive with Sugur, and if the juice be thick or troubled, clarifie it, and so may all other juices in this wise. Sereb the juice of Endive a little, and let it stand, and that which is thick will goe to the bottom, then take the fyn liquor, and straine it often through a cloth, and wryng it, and with that juice in the bottom, make Syrop with Sugur: if you will make it shiner, put the white of an Egge thereto.

For the stinke in the mouth.

C Take and make Pils of Cassia lingua and eat of them, and they be good for the stinke of the mouth. Also for the stinke of the mouth caused of rotteness of the gums and teeth: take and wash the mouth with water that garden Mints be sodden in, and rub the teeth with the Mints, or else with the powder therof. Also chew Muske, and it will do away the stinke of the mouth. Also take the juice of Vervain, and brase it, and put it in thy mouth, and hold it a good while close in thy mouth, and it will take away the stinke. Proved.

To take away the stinking of the mouth.

C Take and wash thy mouth with water and Vineger, and chew Mastic a good while, and then wash thy mouth with the decoction of Aniseeds, Mints, Cloves, sodden in Wine. If the stinking of the mouth come of a rotten tooth, the best is to haue it drawn out. Also you must wash your mouth before meat and after with warme water.

For to cleane the mouth, and to purge the humors from the mouth, which descend out of the head, it is good every morning fasting to wash your mouth, and to rub your teeth with a Sage leafe, Pils of citron, or with powder made with Cloves or nutmegs,

The Path-way to health.

eggs. You must forbear all meats of euill digestion, and grave fruits.

For a stinking breath.

C Take oyle Doret, Turpentine, Honey, oyle Olive, Virgin wax, as much of the one as of the other, and boyle them all together, and make an oyntment therof, and bse it every day in the Patients nosthills, and let it be put into the nose every day with tents made of lynt scraped of fine linnen cloath; and he shall be whole.

For a stinking breath.

C Take the juice of Hilwort, or else take Butter, and the juice of Feathersay, and temper them with Honey, and everyday give the Patient a spoonfull.

Another for the same.

C Take two handfuls of Comita, and stamp it to powder, and boyle it in Wine, and drinke the Syrope therof morning and evening warme, the space of fifteene dayes, and thou shal amend: this hath been proued.

For a good breath.

C Take and wash thy mouth with the water that the shells of Ciceron haue bin sodden in, and thou shalt haue a good breath.
Also these confectiones make the breash sweet, the electuary of Aromatiks, and the pils of Cicerons. Against letting of the breash caused of cold humors: take and drinke the herb Dawk, or the liquor that dry Figs haue been sodden in, and it will make the breash sweet and wholsom. Also take red Mints and Rue, wryting the juice in the sick bodies nosthills when he goeth to bed.

For the tongue.

C Against the sharpnes and drynesse of the tongue, put this gum in water which is called gum Arabike, till the water bee zyme, and wryte that zyme moist the tongue, or bind the gum in a syth cloth, and put it in wafer till it begin to melt, and wryt
the

The same cloth rub thy tongue, and it will take away the paine thereof. Also for the roughnesse of the tongue, put the seedes of Quinces, or the cornells in a fine cloth, and wash thy tongue therewith: also Psillium or the seede thereof.

For drynesse of the tongue, and for thirst.

C Against drynes of the tongue of the Feauer Ague, put the seede of Fleawort, and bind it on a fine linnen cloath, and then put it in cold water, and therwith wash and rub thy tongue, and scraupe it with a knise. Also for thirst put the seede of Fleawort in a bag, and lay it on the tongue.

For thirst in the tongue.

C Against thirst in the tongue, giue Ptysan or Dragagant, and it will be dissolved in a night, or make syrope with water that Barly and Dragagant is sod in, and it is conueniable for Feauer Agues, or if Dragagant be holden vnder the tongue.

For the palsie in the tongue.

C Take and vse great strong ground Mustard, the powder of Pioncs well scalled, pouder of Sage, Nutmeggs, and Suger, doe these powders in the Mustard, and eate euery day at meales therof, and it will take away the palsie of the tongue. Also Mustard seede sodden in oyle or wine, is very good against the palsie. Also take the powder of Castorium, and hold it vnder the tongue till it be molten or dissolved.

For the palsie in the tongue.

C Against the palsie of the tongue, that is, when the tongue is full of holes, and the Patient cannot speake, because the sinewes of the tongue is full of humors; as it appeareth often in Feauer Agues, for the same, chew the seed of Cresses, and hold it vnder the tongue: proued.

For him that hath lost his speech.

C Take Sage, Pimpernel, stamp them well, & anoint his tong vnderneath with the iisce therof, els take the iisce of sage and Pimpernell, and doe it in his mouth. Also take Ach, Mints, red Betony, and lay them into Goats milke, drinke it morning and euening. Also take thre vnces of Betony, and sweet milke of a Goat, temper them together, and drinke it thre dayes together, this for the palsey is most precious.

The Path-way to health.

To restore speech that is lost suddenly.

C Take Penitriall, and temper it with Cysell, and give the sicke to drinke it: lay also a plaster of this to his nosthills so grieved.

For a man that sleepeth, and cannot speake.

C Take Galbanum and set it over the fire with a candle, & make it smoke, and put the smoke to his nose, and thou shalt cause hym for to speake. Also take the iuice of Sage and Primrose, and do it in his mouth, and he shall speake by Gods grace, Also take the iuice of green Morell berries, and clarifie it wel, and drinke therof, and thou shalt speake.

Another for the same.

C Take the iuice of Sothernwood, & temper it with wine, and drinke it when thou goest to bed.

Another for the same.

C Take the crops of Rue, and the crops of Merueine, of each a like much, and drinke the iuice therof when thou goest to bed.

For Sunne burning.

C Take the iuice of Lemons, with a little bay-salt, and wash your face therewith, and let it dry in, and doe so thre or four times, and it will helpe you. Also take halfe a pot ful of raine water, and fil it vp with beriuice, and steech it til it be consumed away, and in the time that it is a boylng, fill it with the iuyce of Lemons, and when it is sodden, take it off and let it coole, and then take eight new laid Egs the whites of the m, and beat the fine, and put fine Suger to it, and so occupy it for Sun burning

For

The Pathway to health.

22

E· paish·

For red pimples in the face.

C Take a little Koch Allom, and breake it in small pieces; then take the white of a new laid Egge, and put it in a pan that is leaded within, set it to the fire till you see it boile, and stir it all the while with a little stick till you see it war hard. Take this and wash your face therewith. Also take Rose-water, and water of wild Tansie, and mingle them togher, and therewith wash thy face, and thou shalt be whole.

For pimples in the face.

C Take and wash your face when you go to bed with warme water, and let it dry in: take the white of an Egge, and put it into a Saucer, and set it vpon a chafingdish of coles, and put into it a piece of Allom, beat it togher with a spone till it become thick, then make a round ball, and therewith annoyn the parties face where the pimples be.

For heate and blaines in the face.

C Take the whites of two Eggs, and beat them with an Allom stome till they come to curd, then take it, and set it vpon a few embers, and always stir it as it doth gather to a curd, then take it off, and put it vpon a Painters stome, and put thereon Vnguentum populeon halfe the portion, and of Allom as much as your thomb, so fine beaten as may be, and this grind with al the other ingredients a long while, and put it in a glasse or pot, and therewith annoyn thy face.

For a rich face.

C Take three yolks of Eggs rawe, as much in quantity of fresh butter, or Capons greace without salt, Camphire, two peny worth, red Rose-water halfe a pint, two grains of Suet, and boile al these together in a dish, & then strain them through a clean cloth, and so set it to keele, and take the uppermost and bor it. Also take Populeon, Wimstone, and fresh butter, and a handfull of red sage, and Camp and strain them, and then melt all

The Path-way to health.

all toghether, and put it in a box. Also take white Copperas one vnce, one pint of running water, and boile sye in al toghether to sye halfe, and skim it clean, and straine it, and put it in a glasse, and set it in sye Sunne, then wash thy face with a saasher, and anoint thy face therwith morning and euening till it be whole.

For a sauceflamed face.

To aunoynt it by day, take eight penny worth of Camphire, and as much of Bores greace as a costard Aple, and mingle them toghether finely til you can perceiue none of the Camphire, then put it into a box, and keepe it as close as yo<sup>r</sup> can from the ayre. Also to aunoynt the face by night, take a quantity of Deeres suet, and put thereto a little Bores greace, & a quantity of Wimstone, and boile them together with a quantity of copperas, and a pint of Vineger, or claret Wine, and after they haue been boyled, vse to aunoynt thy face therewith.

To make a good oyntment for a sauceflamed face.

Take an vnce of oyle of Bayes, and an vnce of Quicksiluer, and do them in a bladder together, with a spoonfull of fassing spittle, and then rub them well together, that nothing of the quicksilver be seene, and then take of this oyntment when that it is made, and aunoynt the sauceflame face therwith, and it will heale it well and faire, on warrantis, proued true.

Another oyntment for the sauceflamed face.

Take the roots of Louach, and of Dock roots, the tops of Pettles, and Tellendine alike much, the quantity of thre<sup>e</sup> vnces, halfe a pound of the beanes of Parsley, and bray them well in water, and do thereto two pound of Bores greace, and stamp them wel toghether, and let them stand stil foore daies, after set it ouer the fire till it saeth, then straine through a faire cleane cloth, and then put thereto fine Frankensence, Myrrh, and Masticke, of each an vnce, and let it boile fesoone with an easie fire, & stir it well with a syce, & then let it keele, and when it is cold, put thereon two vnces of quicksilver, and mingle them together,

ther, and therewith annoynat the saucefleame face, and this will heale the same, as it hath been often proved.

Another medicine for a saucefleame face.

C Take the petty Morell and will therof a quart of water, and take a quarter of a pound of Camphier, and heate the water a little, then put the Camphire therin and mingle them very well together, then put it in a glasse and stop it well, but you must bruse the Morell a little in a Morter before you stille it, afterward with this water use to annoynat the saucefleame face, and it wil heale the same. Also with this water you may heale any manner of saucefleame face whatsoever, as by experience hath often been proved.

For heate and swelling in the face.

C Take and boyle the leaues or the blossoms of Rosemary eyther in white wine or faire water, and use to wash thy face and hands therewith, and it will preserve thee from all inconveniences, and also make both thy hand and face very smoothe.

For wrinkles in the face.

C Take white Wine, and a little Wytony; and a dry Ffigge that is fatte, and annoynat your face therewith, then trauell upon the same till you sweat.

For a man that sweateth too much.

C Take Linseed and Lettice, and stampe them together, and lay it to the stomack of the party that blesch to sweat much, and it will helpe hym.

From to make the face faire.

C Take the flowers of Rosemary and seeth them in white Wine, with the which wash your face: also if you drinke hereof, it will make you haue a sweet breash. Also to make the face white, put the powder of Sepia in oynment Citerium, and annoynat the face: Or make powder of the roote of Serpentine,

The Path-way to health.

and of this bone, and mingle the same with Rose-water, and let it dry: & then put it to the same water againe, and let it likewise dry, doe this four or five times, and then vse to annoynt the face therewith.

For a child that is iaw-fallne, or moldfallne, or rooffalne.

C Take a handfull of Chickweede, and wrap it in a red Colworts lease, or els a linnen cloth, and rost it in the hote embers in the fire, and it will become a greene salte, then lay thereof to the bone of the necke as hote as may be suffered, & take sours leauen of white Bread, and crum it on the molde of the childe's head as a plaister, and it will raise vp the bone or molde, by the grace of God within nine howres.

For shortnes of breath.

C Take a gallon of Ale, & put thereto a penny worth of Licorice scraped, & a halfe penny-worth of Anniseed, a little Linseed, and a handfull of Rose, and as much Pennywal cleane wash'd: let them seeth to fine pinte, and drinke her of morning and evening till you haue ease.

For a hoarce voyce.

C Take the brokyn red Colworts haue been sodden in, and mingle it with seven or eight Pennydis, and one ounce of sirrop of Maiden-haire, and give it the patient when he goeth to bed. Take Dyairis simple, and a losing of the same at morning, and also at night.

Another remedy for a horce voice.

C Take great Raisons, Figges, Sugar, Cinnamon, and Cloves, of each a small quantitie, seeth them in good Wine, and give the patient to drinke thereof morning and evening, two ounces at a time, except hee haue a Feauer. It is also good to take morning and evening a spoonfull of the sirrop of Inubes, mixed with a roote of Licorice in maner of a Locionum, if wiche

The said boarcones shere discende abundance of water to the mouth. Also it is good for to make an electuary of halfe Dylaris and halfe Diadrigantum, and vse hereof first in the morning, and last at night.

A very good medicine for to open the pypes, and to make the voyce cleere.

C Take a Fig, and put it in the powder of Rose, and eate every morning one at a time till you be well. This will helpe you an warantise.

For a sore throat or mouth.

C Take Chickfoile a good quantitie & stampe it, and boyle it in faire water in a posnet, then hold thy mouth open ouer the same shere of as hote as possible thou canst suffer it, that it may enter into thy throat, and still as it cooleth in thy mouth spit it out, and so take fresh and fresh.

A sirrop for a sore throat.

C Take halfe a pinte of the iuyce of Mulberries, a pint of clarified Honny, & a quarter of a pinte of good Claret Waine, seeth them al togēther till the liquo: be consumed: take also sage, Huger, Woodbine and Rosess, of each a handfull, seeth them in faire water til the strenght of the hearbes be sodden, then take tenn or twelue spoonfuls of the fore-said sirrop of Mulberries, and put therethin, and with this vse to gargell your thzoat luke-warme oftentimes, and spit it out agayne: proued.

For a sore throat.

C Take oyle of Camomile & oyle of Violets, and the oyle of Almonds and the greace of a Hen as much as of all the others, first wash it well and picke it, then mingle all togēther, & annoynt the thzoat therewith. Take the dung of an Ale, and the dung of Swallowes, and make it in powder, and put the same in wme, and gargel it in your mouth and thzoat as hot as may be suffered. Take also the Swallowes in the nest, and a pound of the oyle of Camomile, and the oyle of almmonds ; as much of the one as of the other, and lay it to the place.

The Path-way to health

For the swelling in the throat.

C Take the greene bark of the Elder tree, and a little Bay-salt, beat them well together till they be somewhat small, then lay the same to the swelling of the throat.

For the Quinsie in the throat.

C Take Cincksfoile, and seeth the same in running Water, and put it in a pot with a narrow mouth, and let the party grē-ded hold his mouth ouer the mouth of the pot, so that the same may passe into his throat, and when the water wareth colde, wash the throat well with the same, both within and without,
and the disease will banish away: proued.

Another for the same.

C First let the party thus diseased, be let blood on the lefe arme, or in the liver bathe thre or four ounces, and let him gargase it with Wine-vinegar and water warmed together, of each a like quantity, gargase it oftentimes, and spit it out, and let him haue Methridatum in white Wine, and let him sweat vpon it an houre or two. And if the Quinsie be swolne already in his throat, then let him vs this remedy following. Take a Swallowes nest as you finde it, with Birds, or with Egges, or without either of them, and putt to the same eight handfulls of Mallows, with as much Water-cresses, boyle them all together in milke vntill they become soft, and till the milke be cleane consumed, then beate it in a bowle vntill it come to a plaister, then take as much as your fist of the same, and while it is warm spread it like a plaister, and binde it as hote as may be suffered about the place where the swelling is, and so change it often till the paine be gone,

Another for the same.

C Take hote Bread and putt it in Honey, and lay it to the place as hote as may be suffered, and it will drinke it vp, Take also

The Path-way to health.

25 also the iuyce of Planten, & gargell it vp and downe thy throat and it will ease the paine therof. Also take the berries of the Mulberry tree, and make iuice therof, then seeth them in a litle oyle and Wine, and put vnteger thereto, and so gargle it.

Also an electuary made of the iuice of the same Berries, with a quantity of scorched Honny, is good for the same: and it may be kept ten yeares in seades of Dianorum, for the Quinsie.

For the Cough.

C Take Rose, great Raisons, and Figges; of each a little handfull, and one ounce of Licoris: boyle them in faire water till the third part be consumed, then gine the partie grieved for to drinke therof twice a day, in the morning two houres before meate, and at night two houres before supper: also it is good for to eate a losynge of Diaris or Diapeaideon. If you will haue it stronger, put thereto the decoction of a little Coieworts, Anni-seades, and Fennell seades, with the seades of Pettle, of each two drams.

Another for the cough.

C Take Sage, Rue, red Fennel, Rose, Comin, and the powder of Pepper, of each like much by weight, and seeth them well together in Honny, and make therof an electuary, and use therof a spoonfull in the evening, and another in the morning till the cough be gone.

Another medicine against the cough.

C Take the roote of Enula campana, Horehound, Hollieock, of each of thē a like much, seeth them al together in white wine with a dozen of fasse Figges, and with a little Licoris, and use to drinke herof a draught at a time every day thrice.

For a dry Cough.

C Take Anniseades, Achesades, and Violets, and beate them to powder, and tampe them with even portion, then seeth them together in faire water till they ware thick, then put the

The Path-way to health.

Same into a box and as you neede, let the sick eat first and last of the same till he be well.

For the Cough, or stoppings.

C Take the powder of Isolepe, the powder of Anny-seed, the powder of Ginger, the powder of Licoris, and mingle the wch clarified Honny, and eate dayly hereof till thou be whole. Also for the cough take a little Brimstone, and make powder ther-of, & put a little of the same upon a boorde or trencher, and take a stick or coale of fire, and put it in the Brimstone, and let the partie greeued, hold his nose ouer the same of the Brimstone, and it shall breake the force of sye cough & stoppings. Also this is good for the pese and the rewme in the head, as hath oft been prooued.

To make a powder for the Cough.

C Take Sunger-candie, Enula Campana rootes dryed, but nothing so much Enula Campana as Sugar-candy, the take two or thre crops of dryed Isolepe, and one race of Ginger, and beat all these together, and afterward vse to eate of these powders till thou be whole.

To make a sirrop for the cough.

C Take a pint of Isolepe water, halfe a pint of clipped Rosemary, a quarter of a pound of Sugar-candie, thre spoonsuls of Annyseeds bruised, thre spoonsuls of Licoris sliced, stek al these together vpon a soft fire vntil it come to a sirrop, then straine it and take a spoonfull therof morning and euening, and let it goe softly downe by gowpes.

For the perillous cough.

C Take white Horehound and stamp it, and wring out the juices, and mingle the iuyce wth Honny and seeth it, and giue the sicke to drinck hereof. Take also a Garlike head and rost it then take away the pills and eate it. Also take a Celwort leaf and strike the inner side therof with May butter, and lay it to the sick mans stomacke or belly euery morning and euening, and

and giue him no Milke, Butter, nor Cheese, nor any kinde of salt meate, nor salt pottage, nor Puts, nor Apples, but make the party pottage with leaues, and rost him an Onyon, and let him eate it with a little Pepper and Honny pasterin, and bis it often, and it will helpe him.

Another for the same.

C Take the iuyce of Sage, & the iuyce of Rue, of each like much, and a quantity of Commyn, and as much of the powder of Pepper, and seeth them all very well in clarified Honny, and so make an electuary therof, and let the partie greeued, use of this medicine daily, threé spoonfuls at night, & shalbe in the morning vntill he be whole.

A good medicine to helpe the cough speedily.

C Take two or threé Garlick heads wel pilled, stamp them and put them into Hogsgreace or suet, and stamp hem wel together, and at night when thou goest to bedde warme well the soles of your feet, and annoiint them with the said confection as hot as may be suffered, and also the small of your legs, and put a warme cloth about your feet, and within threé nights he shall be holpen. Also take Wimstone and put it into powder, & put a little therof into a new layde Egge soft rosted, & mingle it wel together: then put thereto of Bengem in as much as a fitch pease lightly stamped, and drinke it in the morning at your breakfast, and at night.

A remedie for the dry cough.

C Take a pound of Licorice, and scrape it cleane then stamp it in a morter, and put it in an earthen pot, and put thereto threé quarts of the best wort that may be gotten & one vnce of Hugar, and a quarter of an vnce of Ginger in powder, & a pint of clarified Honny, and seeth them all together till they bee halfe wasted, then straine it through a cleane cloth into a faire bas-sell, and let the party greeued use thereof first & last, at night hot, and in the morning cold, till he be whole,

The Path-way to health.

Another for the Cough.

C Take Any scedes, Smallage-seedes, and Violet scedes, of each a like much, beate them all together in powder, & temper them with wine as the quantity giveth, then seeth them wet till they were thicke, and so vse it. Also if you take the seeds of Pettles, and seeth them in Oyle, and afterward annoynct your hands and your feet therewith, it will do away thee cough. Also take the sirrep of Violets and of Inubes, and drinke thereof. Also it is very good to take fift in the morning & last at night, a losung of Diadragant, and afterward to drinke a draught of good Prison, and this is a present remedy for the cough when it procedeth of a hote cause.

A dyet for them that haue the cold cough.

C Ye must abstaine from vineger, and all salt meates, from fruits and raw hearbes, from Fissh, Lemmens, and all kinde of grosse meats, and too much repletion: Also ye must drinke no wine betweene meales, nor sleepe in the day time, especially after mis-ale.

For the stopping of the pypes, and for fleame a medicine preued.

C Take a good boole full of Barley, and put to the same a gallon of cleane well-water, and boyle them togesher till the Barly be as soft as any Wheate or Formentie, then straine it through a cleane cloth, and take that water, and put ther unto as much good wort, with a penni-worth of Licorice brused, but not made into powder, and a handful of good Rose, another of Sage, and boyle them altogether till one halfe of the liquor be boyled in: then straine that liquor through a cloth, and that that comyneth through the cloth, put into a close pessell, and let it stand a day, and then let the patient drinke thereof a spoonfull or two every morning, and so much likewise every evening untyll he be well. This hath bee ne often proued.

For straitnes in the pypes.

C For straitnesse in the pypes or in the brest, take dry Rose, rootes of Enula campana, of each one handfull : sticks of Licoris scraped and soft brused soure vynes, and boyle altogether in a gallon of running water, till halfe be wasted, then straine it, and to all the aboue said liquor hote, put halfe a pint of clarified hony, and drinke therof milk warme, a good draught every day first and last.

A medicine for to stay a vomit.

C Take halfe a pint of running water, an vnce of Sugur, and a good race of Ginger, pick it and scrape it cleane, and shred it in god handsome pieces, and so put it to the water and the Sugur, and boile them togesher from halfe a pint to a quarter of a pint, and so give it to the party to drinke, for it will stay the vomit in a very little space.

For them that may not digest their meat.

C Take Horshoue and Hillwate, of each of these alike much, wash them cleane, and stamp them, and put thereto the powder of Pepper, and seeth them togesher in faire water, and let the Patient drinke thereof lukewarme, first and last.

For a vomit a remedy.

C For them that haue vomit, and for them that haue not their breath at will, and haue stopping in their breastes: take a dram and a halfe of the powder of Wefony, with a Goblet full of water, and drinke it fasting.

- Another for the same.

C Against the vomit caused of weaknesse, heate, or odore chollerick, mingle the powder of the threé leaved grasse, with the white of an Egg, and rost them on a tyle, and give it to the patient to eate. Also for the vomit caused of retentive weaknesse: take the powder of gum Arabick, and powder of Camell,

The Path-way to health.

For a man that vomitereth too much.

C Take Rosees and boyle them with strong Vineger, and make a plaister therof, and lay it to his Stomack all hot. Also vomiting commeth sometimes without great violence, and therby one getteth health, wherefore ye need not glie him any remedy, for it is a good action of the natural vertue of the Stomacke, sometime vomiting commeth by a great violent moving of the vertue expulsive of the Stomacke. For the euill things contained in the same, a remedy: one may well help a man to vomit, giuing him water warme with a little oyle to drinke, or else to put fyngier in his mouth very lowe, or a feather wet in oyle the better to vomit, & to ministrate the Stomack, if so be the person haue a wide shroat, and that vomiting doth not hurt him much, as they be that haue but small and strait shroats, and long neckes and leane, for all these are euill to vomit. Sometimes vomiting commeth by weaknes of the Stomacke, caused of a hot and euill complexion, ye shall cure it after this manner: take scripe of Rosees, Quinces, Mirtles, with water bodden and cold agastre, or else water of Purflan to quench the thirst. Also it is good to annoynct the Stomack before dinner and supper, with an oyntment of the oyle of Rosees, and Quinces, and the irice of Mintes, and a little wax, or els make a plaister of Mintes, Ross, wormwood, & oyle of Rosees, and lay to his Stomack as hot as ye may.

For to make a man cast and perbreake.

C Take two parts of the irice of Fenel, and one part of horny, and seeth it till it be thick, and drinke therof morning and evening, and it will cause a man so to cast or perbreake.

Another for the same.

C Take the irice of spurge, and use to drinke therof, and it wil cause you to cast. Also the juice ofstoncrop put into white wine causeth a man so to cast presently.

For to comfort the Patient after his vomiting.

C Take and glie the Patient in the morning an vnce of the Crop of Wormwood, or mintes, in stead of which it is convenient

To take a losynge of Aromaticum rosatum, or Diagalanga. Also take evening and morning threé houres before meat two cloues in powder, with a spoonful of the iuice of Mints, or half a spoonfull of Rue dyed with a little wtre. Also it is good to take powder of Cloues, and Lignum aloes the weight of a crown ; two houres before meat.

For one that abhorreth his meat.

C Sometyme therer chanceþ in the Stomack a disease called Fastidium, or abhorring of meat wherby the person against his will taketh in hate al maner of meats that is offred unto him, like as the whole man taketh pleasure and delight in the same. The cause of his disease is refection of chollerick humors, or Segmatick, gresse and viscouse which are in the Stomacke : and the Patient hath great thirst, a dry tongue, the mouth bitter, and sometime doþ vomit yellow choller. And if the batnes be full, let the Patient be let blood on the right arme, and giue him to eat and drinck such shings as are fit for a party so grieved, also you may giue him the iuice of Pomegranets.

For to prouoke an appetite.

C Take Sage, Parsly, Pepper, and Mints, and stampem them, and temper them with Vineger, as you dee make sauce for fishes, it will cause appetite : also flesh eaten with Vineger, comforteth and giueth appetite. If Vineger be vised with a ful Stomacke, it unbindeth the womb, with an emptie Stomacke bindeth it. It is good for them that be weake with sicknes, if it be taken in this manner: tost bread, and wet it in vineger, and with the tost rub the mouth and noſtrils, and bind it on the pulsable batnes, for it comforteth the Patient, and the appetite, but for the appetite onely, it were better wet in the iuice of Mints. Also to them that haue lost their appetite by sicknes, 22 drams of the powder of Betony, with foure Ciofe rootes to drinke, taketh away both sadness and euill tast of meats. Also take and conſect Cardomonum, with the iuice of Mints, and vſe for to wet your meat thererin, it prouoketh appetite.

The Path-way to health.

Against the letting of the breath.

C Take and lay Drpiment vpon hote embers, and let the patient stoope downe, and receive the smoke therof thorough a pipe or syrrnel. Also take thre drams of Drpiment, with reare Eggs, or with wine or womans milk, once or twice in the week.

Against paine of the brest called Asma, caused of cold, take the powder of Philixendula, with the powder of Gentiana, and use it in his meat and drinke.

Another for the same.

C Against the paine of the brest if it be of a long continuall: take the powder of Gentiana with Wine, and Barly water, or oyls with meats or with new bread. Also take two drams of Galbanum, with a rere Egge, or with Barly water. Also to take Figs and seeth them in wine, is good against the letting of the brest, and against cold rumpe or humors in the brest. Also Pancakes made of Docks with meat or Eggs, is very good for letting of the brest called Asma, if you eat thereof.

An oyntment for the shortnes of the breath.

C Take two vnces of the oyle of sweet Almonds, and one vnce of May butter basalked, a little Saffron, and new Ware, and make an oyntment therewith, and annoynct the brest mornynge and evening.

Also for him that lacketh wind.

C Take Mallowes, Mercury, and Borage, seeth them together in a piece of Pork, and make therof pottage, and eat and drinke of this broth with wine, or with Whey that is good.

For armes being consumed and fallen away.

C Take Deare lust, and shire owne water being dissolved in a hasen watre, therin therewith wash thy armes every day morning and evening.

For the mary being cold and numd in the armes.

C Take thre spoonfull of Space, thre spoonfull of Aqua vita, and thre spoonful of brine, and thre spoonful of Capons greace,

and

and put them all in a Pozzenger, and warme them on the fire, and wash your armes morning and evening. Also if that you be sore in any part of the armes, take Koch Allom, and Madder, and boyle them with Conduit water, from a pottell to a pint, and so wash your armes.

For aking of the hands and deafnes of the fingers.

C Take a handfull of red Sage, as much red Fennell, as much red Petles with a quantity of Bay leaues in pouder, and long Pepper, stamp all these together in a Morter, then straine the same thorough a Canuas cloth with A qua vitez, and with this lique, annoynt thy hands when you goe to bed.

For swelling of wounds in the hand.

C Take Wormwood, stamp it, and straine it, and boyle it with vineger, and put thereto Wheat bran, and make a plaister, and lay it to the soze hands.

For wormies or heat in the hands.

C Take Chickweed and bruse it a little, and seeth it in running water till the halfe be wasted, and wash your handes as hot as the party can忍受 it, for the space of sixe daies, and it will drive away the heat or wormes in the hands.

For to make your hands white.

C To make the hands white and soft, take Assodill in cleane water till it wax soft, and put thereto powder of Cantarium, & Stir them together, then put thereto rawe Eggs, and stir them well together, and with this ointment annoynt your hands, and within thre or fourte daies dung thereof, they will be white and cleane.

For itching of the wormes in the hands.

C Take and annoynt the place that itcheth with the juice of Mintes, or of Rue, and it shall put away the wormes. Or else take the berries of the lese Mortell, and therewith againt the wormes and the hands.

The Path-way to health.

For to make nailes to grow.

C Take Weltheate flower, and mingle the same with honney, and lay it to the nailes, and it will help them.

For nailes that doe fall off.

C Take powder of Egrimony, and lay it there as the nayle was, and it shall put away the aking, and it will make the nailes soz to grow.

For clouen nayles.

C Take Virgin Wax and Turpentine, and mingle them together, and lay it on the nayle, and as it waxeth or groweth, cut it away, and it will heale.

For nailes that are rent from the flesh.

C Take the lesser Violet, and stamp it, and cry it with Virgin ware, and Frankenseuce, and make a plaister, and lay it to the nasse all whole.

Also annoiat thy fingers with the powder of Brimstone, Arckick, and Vneger, and in short time you shall find great ease.

For stinch vnder the arme holes.

C First pluck away the haire of the arme holes, and wash them with white Wine, and Rose-water that Cassia ligna hath ben sodden in, and boile it three or four times.

For to destroy the heat of the stomacke.

C Take faire cleare water, and boile it well, and skimme it, and put therein shivers of brown Bread, and let them lie therin an houre, till the water be almost cold, and drinke ther of two or thre dayes, the other a day, the better, and eat greene Parsley, and Galingall, and it shall helpe thee.

For to auoid fleame out of the stomacke.

C Take the powder of Pelliſtory of Spain, and the powder of Comta, powder of long Pepper, powder of Ginger, mustard, vineger,

neger, and mingle them together, and chafe them on the fire till they ware thicke, and then as hot as you can suffer it, put part thereto in your mouth, gargling it in your throat up & downe but let none enter into your stomack, do this diuers times, spitting it out by the space of an houre, and this is a Gargarisme proved.

For the stomack that is hot and swolne.

C Take the roote of Smallage, stamp it, and put it in sweete Wine, or in other good wine all day and night, and straine it through a faire linnen clotg, and put it in a cleane beale, and use to drinke a little therof every day fasting, take this eight or nine dayes.

For rysing under the stomacke.

C Take long Pepper, Graines, Saffron, Ginger, Aniseed, Licoris, and Sugre, & seeth them all in good Ale till it be thick, and glue it to the party to drinke, and he shall be whole.

A plaister for rising vnder the stomacke.

C Take Parrow, Milpele, rad Fennell, red Mints, Rue, Borage, Fethersey, Closteler, Pellitory, Egrimoyn, of each of these a like much, and the greace of a barrow hog, that is a sow kind, and seeth them all together in good Ale, and make thereof a plaister, and lay it to the stomack as hot as may be suffered, two or three times, and he shall be whole God willing, the hotter the better so to be taken: this hath been proved.

For the gnawing of the stomacke.

C Take and seeth Betony in the iisce of Wormwood, and let the party drinke it with warme water, if his stomacke be not well. And drinke wine that Pep hath been sodden in next to the heart fasting early.

For the stomacke that aketh.

C Take an hearb that is called Poleo, and dry leaves, and a handfull of Honeysake, and as much of this Polco, and put it in a vessell with faire water, and let it boile on the fire till the third part of the water be sodden away, and put thereto stone suger, and a little honey, and let the patient drinke therof sixe dayes fasting, and he shall be whole.

The Path-way to health.

For to force the stomacke.

C Take threé parts of Cannell, and one part of Mastick, and one part of the parings of Pomegranets, and half a part of Galingall, and stamp all these together, and temper it with honny that hath been clarified in the fire, and well scummed, then vse as much of shys as a Nut, every day during ten dayes together:
shys hath been proued.

For the windchollick in the stomack.

C Take a handfull of Time and wash it cleane, and put it into a cup of Ale or Beere, and let it stand all night, then take threé sticks of Licoris brysed, and let the party so grieved drinke therof morning and euening.

Another for the same.

C Take Onions and put them into running water, and change them into fourte waters sechting, and when they are tender sod, take them and wring them betwenn two trenchers, and butter them, then put theron grosse Pepper, and se eat of them morning and euening, vntill you do find your selfe eased of your Stomacke.

For fleame in the stomacke.

C Take red Pettles a good quantity, a good quantity of clarified Butter, and seethe them in faire running water, till the herbes be tender, then take them vp, and eate the herbs, and drinke the liquor: proued.

For to make losings to comfort the stomack.

C Take a pint of Rose-water, a quantity of Rubarb, grate it vpon a Grater, twice as much Setwell, as much Calamus aromaticus

Aromaticus, as much Spiguard, a little Sinnamon, as much Enula campana, as much Ginger, and a little cleane water: put to these Spices one penny-worth of Sugar, and let all seeth on the fire till it ware very thicke, and be well sodden, then vse hereof boþ morning and euening.

For all manner of euill in the stomacke.

C Take Ashe seedes, Linseedes, Comyn, of every of them alike much, give these to the sick to drinx with hot Wort, or else with satre hot water.

For the Feauer in the stomacke.

C Conserue of Rose, is very good for the Feauer in the Stomack: also it is good for all evills in the stomack, that is ingendred of hot humors.

For the swelling in the stomacke.

C Take the rootes of Fennell, and the rootes of Smallage, of each of them a like quantity, then stampe them and straine out the iuyce, and temper the same with good Wine, and vle to drinke thereof first and last, in the euening warme, and in the morning cold.

For impostumes in the stomacke.

G Against the impostume in the stomacke and of the bowels, seeth Fenegreek very soft, with water that Mallowes haue beene sodden in, and lay it to the stomacke in manner of a plaster, and this will ripen and breake the impostumes that be in the stomack. Prooued.

For impostumes that be in the stomacke, or in the liver, or in the bowels.

C Take the iuyce of Morell with Patisome and Barly, and give it to the patient to drinx, and it wil boþ ripen and destroy the impostume in the stomack. Also take the oyle of Mandrake and anoint the grieved stomack therewith.

For

The Path-way to health

For an impostume in the stomacke.

C Take Barly, dryed Weanes, and Lycorts, and let them boyle all together, of each of these a like mach, drinke thereof with Sugar every day fasting, and at night when thou goest to bedde, let the patient vse this seuen or eight dayes togesher, and it will cast out the impostume in his stomache.

For to cleanse the filth in the stomacke.

C For the filth and dytt in the stomake, which resteth there by reason of the impostume that hath bene in the stomack or in the bowels, take the powder of Salnacry with warme water, or else with Honey.

For a stomack ouercharged with raw meat:

C Take Stonecrop that groweth on the wall, and it purgeth both upward and downward; it purgeth the stomacke of euill humors, and helpeth the Dropise, the Stone, and the Flix. Also for the Spleene, for the Tisick, and for the Feaver, it is a pretious medicina.

For the stomacke and head, and for a man that may not well speake.

C Take and gine the sick to eate nine daies in May, Scabias; Mngwart, Smallage, Mortis diaboli, Rue, Mylfoyle, Wimewood, and Fetherfoy, Rampe all these together, then seeth them, and when they be well sodden, take whites of Eggs, and purge the patient euening and morning.

For a man that cannot digest his meate in his stomacke.

C Take Centory, and seeth it in water, and drinke thereof warme every night when thou goest to bed. Also take Sage, Rue, Comyn, and Pepper, seeth them together with Honey, and eate every day a spoonful therof. Also drinke the wine that Pep hath been sodden in Driskeo Betony in the taste of wormwood, and drinke it with warme water.

For

For winde in the stomack and bowels.

C Take thre vnces of Sene, haife an vnce of Ginger in powder, Commyn, and Anniseedes, thre pound weight of boþ, mixtgle all these together, and eate þereto every day a sponefull. Also take Calamint, ginger an vnce made in powder, with a little Honny, and eate þereto first and last.

For vnkind heat in the stomacke.

C Take Lettice, and drinke it with Waine every day, or else eate þereto, and it wil take away the heat of the stomack, also to eate Rue every morning, is good for the Stomack.

For the weaknes of the stomacke.

C Take Mastick and Labdanum of each one vnce, take also a dramme of the powder of Wormewood, and Turpentine as much as needes to encooperate hem togesher, makst a plaster hereof and spread it vpon Leasher, then lay it to the stomacke. It is good to annoynþ the stomacke with the oyle of Spignard, and Mastick, or to lay vpon it hole bread steeped in god Wine, on þe which bread strew the powder of Cloues and Nutmegs. Also it is wholesome to eate afors your meats, Anniseedes, and Fennell-seedes: and when you begin to eate, take a tost dipped in sodden wine, or els in god Palmie, without drinking of the same Wine, except it be a very little draught after meat.

A medicine for the bulke.

C Against paine of the members in the bulke, as the lungs, and other that serue to the breasþ, and against apilation of the bluer and hilke of the bladder, and paine of the stomack, drinke the Wine that the root of Ireos hath beene sodden in.

Another for the same.

C Take and make a manner of pottage with Barly & water, and put the powder of Walnute-mint thereto, and giue it to the patient: and it wþll helpe him.

The Path-way to health.

For the bulke and the stomach.

C Use to drinke the wine that is sodden with Dragagant, it warmeth the parts of the bulke and cleaseth them. Also it warmeth the stomach and the bowels, and is very good against the Collick, and to open the milt, also it is very good against the hindrance of wome, be it either Strangarie or Dissury. There be two kinds of Scadours, that is to wit, Arabick and Cytrine, and both of them approued to the sinewes and braine.

For spetting of blood.

C For the party that blessh to spet blood, caused in the bulke, make pills of the powder of Dragons blood, and gumme Arabick, and Prysone that Dragagant hath been molten in, and let the patient hold it on his tongue, & when it is al reletoned, swallow it downe. Also for them that spet blood because of the disease in the bulke, take Pills made of the powder of Sumac, and gumme Arabick confect in Rose-water. Also for them that spet blood, take Honny and Vinegar, and it helpeth the same.

Another medicine for the spetting of blood.

C Take Pillis confect with the powder of Mumray, & with a little Masticke, and confect them in water that gum Arabicke hath bene molten or laid in, and hold these Pillis to thy mouth till they melt, and then swallow them downe. And if the blood come to thy mouth by reason of the nascitius members, as the Stomack, the liver and the milt, eate this powder with a rawe Eggge, and drinke it with the juice of Plantaine.

Another for the same.

C For them that ble to spet blood at the mouth, out of the belly and Stomack, and against the paine therof, take ane beate the roote of Sawthistle small to powder, & drinke it with wine. Oþers take two drams of the powder of Betony, with Ciats of old Wine for thre dayes, and it will helpe the patient that is grieved therewith.

For

For spetting of bloud.

C Take Ach, Mints, Rue, and Betony, of each a like quantity, and seeth them well in good Milke, then give the patient thereof to drinke, and it shall helpe him.

Another for the same.

C Take the iuyce of Betony, and temper the same wel with Goates milke, and let the party troubled drinke thereof thre dayes together. Also take Smallage, Mints, Rue, and Betony, and give thereof to the patient to drinke in Goats milk, and let him sup vp a good draught at a time, as hote as he may well suffer it.

For straightnes of the breast.

C Take a quart of good stale Ale, and a quart of fine wort, take a halfe penny-worth of Liver-wort, & halfe a peni-worth of Licoris sliced very fine, and scraped clean, then bruse it, take also a halfe penny-worth of Figges, and wash them clean, and half a handfull of Isole, a quantity of clarified honny, a quantity of Setwel, and three rootes of Parsly, and cut them smal with halfe a roote of Fennell cut likewise very small, boyle all these together till halfe be consumed, then vse to drinke hereof morning and evening reasonable hote.

For the party that is incombred in the breast with any kind of sleame or glart.

C Take she powder of Betonie, and drinke it with warme water, it boideþ and purgeth the sleame wonderously, and doþ away the glart or sleame.

For paine in the breast.

C Take and gather a good quantity of ripe Sloves, & grind them small in a morter, then put them in an earthen pot, and fill it full of new Ale, and so drinke thereof,

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take Rose, Parsly, and Sage, stamp them and lay them to the breast of the patient very hote. Take also the marrow of a Calfe, Fenegrake, Linsseeds, bray them small in a morter, and mingle the powder with the yolkes of Egges, then temper all these together with fresh greace or Oyle, and lay it to the same as hote as you may suffer it.

For the breast that is incombred.

C Take Rose, and seeth it in a pottle of Wine till it come to a quart, and let the patient vse thereof first in the morning cold, and last in the euening hot.

Another for the same.

C Take three pottles of running Water of a Well that springs, and boyle it to a pottle, then take halfe a pint of hony, and one pound of the powder of Anniseeds, a pound of the powder of Licoris, one penny-worth of Sugare, and cast all these into the liquor, and let them boyle well, then put it into a vessell and stop the mouth thereof close that the ayre goe not out, and let the patient drinke thereof in the morning, but not fasting at night, and he shall be whole.

For the breast and the lungs.

C Take a quantity of clarified Hony and boile it, and when it is boyled, put thereto an vnce of the powder of Enula campana, & one vnce of the powder of Licoris, and let them boyle till they be somewhat thick, then take it from the fire, and when it is cold, put thereto an vnce of the powder of Ginger, and stir it well togesher, and vse this first and last.

For a man that is stopped in his breast or pipes.

C Take Enula campana, Rose, and Licoris, dry them well, then beat them in a morter as fine as flower, then take Ginger Annisad, Cynamon and Galengall, beate them also, and when thou

Thou hast done, take a quantity of hony & boile it well, and sett it cleare, then take the Enula campana, the Isole and the Licozis, and boile them wel together in the hony, afterward, take the Ginger, Anniseedes, Galngall, and Sinaunon, put them all in Hony, and let them seeth together: then put it in a dish, then take Sugar and put vpon it while it is hot, and eate a quantity thereof morning and euening, but drinke not till two houres after, and it will helpe thee. Also if you take and seeth Rue in Vinegar and drinke thereof, it will likewise helpe you.

For swelling of the breasts.

C Take Wormwood, Sage, and Galamint, of each a like much, and stamps them well, put thereto a quantity of Vinegar, and temper them well together: then take white bread, and tosse it till it be browne: and grind it small: then boile them together, and stir it that it burne not so, and lay thereof to the patients brest as hote as may be suffered.

Another for the same.

C Also if a plaister be made of Chesnuts with Barly meale, and Vineger or Wine, and layd to the pappes, it will asswage both the swelling and the paine thereof.

For all manner of euills and paine in the brest or the ribbes.

C Take and bruse Mugwort with Vinegar, and lay it to the brest, and it will be whole in thre daies. Also take the wafer that gum Arabick and Mithch hath been sodden in, and wash the brest therewith. Also take the electuary called Diapenidien, made into pennets, it is very good for the same purpose, as hath oft been proued.

Also for drought in the brestes and the members faint, and for them that be Costiffe, so that the brest be not stopped, nor the brest shott, lay Psilium in water a certain space, and then poure out the water, and take the same seedes with other leave water that is cold, and vse it to the patient.

Also

The Path-way to health.

I also take and make a plaister of Knotgrass and Butter, and lay it to the sore breast, and it helpeth the same.

For vaines broken in the breast.

C Take the roote of Camphire and seeth it, and when it is sodden, slice it with a knife, then hang it in the Sunne to dry, this may be kept threé yeres in gardnes and vertue, and if a waine be broken in the breast or guttes, it will resound and knit it, and rejoyne it meruailously, if that the powder shereof be taken gréene with wine or water: or if you fry the roote gréene like a fritture stich Egges or Meale, and so eate shereof.

For impostumes in the breast.

C Take and fill a bagge with meale of Fenegréek, and seeth it in water that Lymachie and Hollihock hath beene sodden in, and lay it often to the impostume of the breast.

Another for the same,

C Take the water that Licoris hath bene sodden in, or the iuyce shereof, and it is very good being vsed, against the impostumes of the brestes or ribbes, called the Plurisse.

For blood of the breasts.

C Take two drammes of Leakes seede and Merv, it stancheth the blood that commeth out of the breast by spitting, althoough it be griefe to the teeth and thyroat,

For the Canker in a womans pappes.

C Take picked Garlick and Rye-meale, or Barly-meale, and bray them togesper with Wmecar, till they become as thick as a plaister, then lay it to the sore till it be white, then take Pimpernell and beate it small, and put thereto Lise, honny, and lay the plaister to the sore pappe, and it will heale it feire. Or else take the fenne of a white Goose, and the iuyce of Ellidony, and bray them well togeher, and lay it to the pappe, and it will kill the Canker, and heale it soundly.

Another

Another for the same.

C Take Wormwood, and the white of an Egge, and skinne it, then temper it with oyle of Violets, and let her bleed on the baines about she paps.

For the fester in the breast.

C Take the iuice of the roote of Fore gloues, and temper it with mans brime, and wring it through a cloth, and wash the same oftentimes therewith, and it will cure it.

To make a woman to haue soft breasts.

C Let the party that desreth to haue soft breasts drinke in Ale, Pettle seede, and Salt, and it shall quickly help her.

For a woman that hath her breasts rancled.

C Take Lint seede, and bray it with the white of an Egge, and lay it on her breasts, and then take the iuice of Ache, and of Rye meale, and lay it on her breasts, and let her drinke the iuice of Meruaine, Fenell seed, and Amber.

For to make a drinke for womens paps that are rancled, and be full ofache.

C Take Groundsell, and two times as much of Brouiswort, and wash them bothe, and stampe them, and temper them with Ale Ale, and straine it through e cloth, and glue to the patient therof first in the morning, and lase at night.

For the euill swelling in a womans breast.

C Take Dake apples, and stamp them in powder, and pue them in oyle of Roses, and lay it to the swelling: or else take the iuice of pety Morrel, and Dasses, and the dreggs of vineger, and a hard Egge sodden with the shell, and Barly flower, and so make shere of a plaister, and lay it on the sore.

For biles on a womans breasts.

C Take the iuice of Morrell, the oyle of an Egge, and Beane flower, make shere of a plaister, and lay it cold thereto.

The Path-way to health.

For a woman that desireth to haue great plenty of milke in her breasts.

C Let her take the juice of Veruaine or Fennell, and use to drinke oftentimes therof, and she shal haue great plenty of milke. Also if she drinke the broth that Whittings haue been sodden in, it is very good for the same purpose.

For paines in the breast with ouer too much milke.

C Take very clean water without any granell in the same, and mingle it with Vineger, and the yolle of an Egge, and a little Saffron, then lay it vpon a closh plaister-wise, and lay it to the breast, and when it is dry take it away, and lay another in the place.

Another for the same.

C Take Vineger and honey boyled together, and spread it vpon a closh, then lay vpon it a little powder of Comyn, it will asswage the milke.

For the milke that is curded in a womans breast.

C Take Wheate mingled with Rue, and sodden in water, and lay it to a womans hard breasts that be curded with milke, and it will soften them.

Another for the same.

C If the seeds of Lentiles be mingled with water of the sea, they be good for milk that is curded in womens breasts.

For the heart burning.

C Take a crop of Fennell, and chelwe it in thy mouth, and suck the juice thereof, then spit it out, and take another, use this very often, and it will helpe him that is heart burnt.

For

For the paine at the heart.

C Take Centuary & seeth it in stale Ale, and when it is well sodden, stampe it in a morter, and seeth it againe with the same liquor, then cleane it through a clothe with two spoonfulls of fys suice, and thre spoonfulls of Honey, and then boyle it well together agayne, and put it in a boxe, and give it to the Patient euery day thre spoonfulls fasting till he be whole, and this shall doe away the glut from him, and make hym have an appetite to his meat,

For weakenesse of the heart.

C Take Rose-water, and mosher of Pearle beaten smal to powder, and mingle it with Suger, and glue it to the Patient to drinke thre or four dayes, and he shall be whole.

For faintnes at the heart.

C Take the filings of Gold, and the powder of the bone of a Harts heart, and mingle them with the tincture of Womage, and Suger made in scrap, for it is very good for sorrowing.

For all sicknesses about the heart.

C Take Rosemary, Isole, Centuary, Betony, and Iris, and seeth them in faire water, and straine the water, and the iisce of the hearbs, and put thereto hony, and boile it againe, and scum it, and put thereto as much butter as hony in the seething, and mingle them together, and take it downe and couer it well, and drinke thereof at euen hot, and in the morning cold.

An Electuary for the heart.

C Diances: this Electuary is good for the heauines in the heart, and for feeblenes of complexion in a mans stomache, for the Cardiakle, and for the bad lungs, et alia causa.

For cuills at the heart.

C Take Hartwort, Galingall, Harts tongue, and Sainthe. Stampe them, and wryting out the iisce, and temper them with good Wine, a good quantity of Rosles, and give it to the party so grieved to drinke first in the morning, and last at night, and he shall be whole God willing.

The Path-way to healths

A srop for the paine of the heart,

C Take and stamp Betony, and herb Benet, Honehound, and Veruaine, seeth them in faire water, to the third part, then put thereto hony, and make thereof a srop.

For all diseases in a mans heart.

C Take Sage, & Mints, by euery portion, seeth them in white Wine, and make a plaister thereof, and lay it to his heart till he be whole: take also the Wine that it was sodden in, and give it to the patient to drinke euening and morning, and he shall haue good desire to his meat within sixe dayes after at the furthest.

For to comfort the heart.

C Take the powder of Setwall, and put in the sicke mans meat; it conforteth the heart, and is very good for hem that haue weake hearts, and be disposed to swooning.

Another for the same.

C Temper the Patients Wine with water that Spicknard is sodden in, and with the same water make a srop, and let the sick drinke therof, it is god against the disease of the heart, & for swooning. And for weakenes of the braine, smell it at thy nose. Also seeth the flowers of Rosemary leaues mingled with Rosewater, and give it to the Patient to drinke.

Another for the same.

C Take the juice of Rosemary leaues mingled with Rosewater, and a little of the juice of Panay, and make srop thereof: it will also be good if some of the bone in the heart of an Hart be put therunto, and given to the Patient.

For

For paines in the heart.

C Take the powder of Galtingall, with the iuice of Borage, and the seeds of Ireos with the milke of a Goate, and drinke it warme: it will allwage the paine of the heart.

Another for the same.

C Take the pouder of Cannel, with the pouder of the leaues of Yelliflowers, it is very good against the passion and sorrowing of the heart being given to the party.

Against the passions of the heart:

C Take and make srop with the iuice of Borage, and put thereto of the powder of the Harts bone in the hart of a Hart.

Also take Bugloss; and eate it often either raw or sodden, it driveth out the noysome humors.

Also against the passion of the heart and sorrowing: take srop made with Cassia ligna and roses, and the bone of a Harts hart, and give it the sicke to eate.

For feeblenes of the heart.

C For them thal are weake in the heart, and doe take their breaths in manner of sighes: take and give them the iuice of Bugloss with hony, and it shall help them.

Against the fainting of the heart.

C Take and make pills with a dram of Amber, and an iuice of Lignum Aloes, and two drams of the bone of a Harts hart beat to powder, & beat the pills in rose-water, and give two oz þz of the said pills to the Patient when he goeth to bed.

Also to take the quantity of four drams of Cucubes, with the iuice of the root or the leaves of Parsneys is very good.

Also for thē that be faint at the heart or be like to sorrow: giue them rose-water for to drinke, and also bedew their faces therewith. Also if the faintnes come from the braine or liner, or paine

The Path-way to health.

of the Stomack caused of cold: take two Wheate cornes of muske in wine, and it will help the same.

Against sowning.

Against sowning and faintnes of the heart: take rose-water, that this hearb Bassel is sodden in, and for the same: take wine that the hearb is laid in all night.

Also against sowning take the powder of Roses, and put it into a reare Egge,

Also take the powder of Ginger in your meats, and it is good against sowning.

Against sowning: make syrop with the irice of Borage, and Hager.

Also against sowning of the heart comming of cold: take and seeth this hearb Cardomomum in sweet smelling wine, with a little Rose-water, and vse it.

For sowning.

C For sowning and weaknes of the heart, be it in Feauers or sicknesses, or if it come of either cause, stampe Mints with Vineger, and a litle wine: if the Patient haue no Feauer, then cote a shiner till it be almost burnt, and put it thereto till it bee well steeped, then put of it in his nose, and rub his lips, his tong, gums, teeth, and the temples, and let him chewe it, and sucke the moistnes thereof, and swallow it.

For the paine of the lungs.

C Take Figs, and let them be sodden with Ilop: they cleane the lungs, and heale the old cough.

Also take the root of the wild Rape, and seeth it with Licoris, and the water that it is sodden in gauen to the patient to drinke, is very good to cleane the lungs.

Also take this hearb Southernwood, and mingle it with Ilop, and sodden in wine or water, make it sweet with suger, and so drunken, is very good for al diseases of the lungs, and the breast:
when sickness cometh of cold, annoynt the breast.

Another

Another for the same.

C If you take the broth of Creues, it is good for paine in the lungs, named Perpleumonia, or consuming of a man called Ptosis, because when a man hath a swelling about the lungs: then he commeth to dries, and consuming of the natural moisture till he dyeth.

For the luyer and lungs.

C For the luyer and the lungs wasting with over hukinde heats, take water made of Borage, and of red fenell roots, ach, Isop, Endive, Betony, Calamint, Lettice, nutmegs, Mace, flowers of Camomel, Cloues, aniseeds, by euē portions: one vunce of Licorice, and Aniseeds half a pound, make of all these hearbs and splices a water, and it shall restore you mervainously, and if you cannot get all these hearbs then take the more of Borage. Also to restore his kind, maka a cōfēction of the flowers of borage, and of red roses with the foresaid splices, and with Sager.

For the heat of the luyer.

C Take Spodium et eborii in rose, Cozall, Barly meale, Triacendaly threē peny worth, mingle all these with the myce of Endive, S. Mary berry, and Housake.

Another for the same.

C Take red Roses Sandalorum cum Iuery, and water of Lillies an vnce, stamp them small, and pat thereto Barly meale, and the ioice of Marigolds & Vineger, and the iacie of wormwood, and make a plaister thereof, and lay it to the luyer.

For chafing of the luyer, and of the spleene.

C Take yellow Kubarbe, Barly meale, and Vineger, and temper them together, and make therof a plaister, and lay that plaister to a mans right side, let him blood in the baine of the spleene, and gine him to drinke in Winter Sager posset, and in Sommer Scabious.

The Path-Way to health.

For the chafing of the liuer.

C For the chafing of the liuer and opilation of the witt caused of humor: take Rubarb with warme water, but it is better to mingle it with Tri sera sarazenico, and this you may vse with the iuyce of Endive, and giue it to the Patient.

Against chafing or heat of the liuer: take and wet a cloth many times double, and lay it to the lyuer.

Also take and annoynt the lyuer with the oyle of Roses, for the chafing of the lyuer.

Also the oyle of Violets is good against the chafing of the liuer. Prooued.

Against the chafing of the lyuer, scrape the uppermost of the Gourd, stamp the said scraping and wring out the iuice, and put Vineger thereto, wet a cloth therin, and lay it to the liuer outwardly.

Also take Endive, and lay it in water, and vse it in your hōsphes for the Patient so grieued.

For the heat of the lyuer.

C Take Fennell, Endive, Succory, Plantain, of each a like much, and stell them with red wine or milke, and vse it every morning nine spoonfuls at a time, with a draught of Wine and Suger, or else five spoonfuls thereof alone.

For the lyuer wasting, which cauleth a scabbed face.

C Take threé gallons of sweet Wort, and put thereto fourne handfull of Lyuerwoort, and fourne handfull of Violets, two handfull of Harts tongue, fourne handfuls of Marigolds, fourne handfuls of Matfelen, and stamp all these together, and boyle them a pretty while in the Wort, then take them vp, and when they are cold, strain them, and put thereto Barly meale: vse this fasting at night, the space of a moneth, then take an oyntment that is made for a dry scab, & therewith daily annoynt thy face, and vsing this drinke aforesaid: the party shall find help.

For

For the vnkinde heate of a mans liuer, which causeth his colour to waxe yellow.

C Take the water of Chiccozie, and the water of Lettice, and the water of the leaues & small branches of a Morrer tree, take the hearbs and stampe them all together, as much of the one as of the other, & take the tayce there of, and as much Sugare as will suffice, boyle all these togesher till they be as thicke as a sirrop, and put vnto the same a poys and a halfe of Rewbarbe, and vse a quantite of this sirrop in colde water euerie day sating, till he be whole.

For the liuer that is corrupted and wasted

C Take a quantite of Liverwoort, and bruse ff a little then seeth it in god strong wort with a quantite of Rewbarb, and vse this medicin till thou be whole.

A drincke for the Splene.

C Take Harts-tongue, wilde Hoppe leaues, and Borage, with the flower of Remitory, and Parslie rootes, seeth them in Milch and clarifie them with the white of an Egg, & strain it, drinke there of morning and euening, and so continue a sorte night, and it will helpe you many waies.

A playster for the Splene.

C Take thre or four Hollihocke rootes, two handfulls of Mallowes, and seeth them well togesher, then stampe the rootes by the mselues, and strain them with the same water wherin they were sodden, then stampe the Mallowes together with the tayce of the Hollihocke rootes, and put in eyght or nine Figgis, and two vnces of Sugare, a little leauened Breade, and halfe a dish of sweet Butter, then lay part of the same vpon a wollen cloth, and as hote as may bee suffered lay the same to the side, and rowle it vrie fast with a strong rowler, and euerie day once renew the same with a fresh plaster vrite hote, vntill such time as the partie be well.

The Path-Way to health.

Another plaister for the Spleene.

CTake Wormwood, Mallowes, Cammomile and Heliotrop, of each of these a good handfull, boyle them in faire water till the liquor be halfe consumed, then put unto the same halfe a handfull of Wheat branne or more, and boyle it to the thicknesse of a plaister, then quilt it, and as hote as you may suffer it, lay it to your left side.

An aluary for the Spleene.

CTake a pinte of Ale clarified, and put thereto a cruste of bread, then take the powder of Gentiana, Spignard, Galtingat, of each two penny-worth, let them have a boylng on a walme, then take it off the fire, and drinke thereof morning and evening, and it will cure the Spleene.

A restoritic for the liuer, lungs, and spleene.

CTake two parts of Fennell, and thre parts of Honney, seeth them together till they be as thicke as a lectuary, and let the sick use it morning and evening.

For the stopping of the spleene.

CTake the Elder roote, and seeth the same in white wine, untill the third part therof, and drinke of the same, and it will cure the spleene marvailously.

Another for the same.

CTake the lunges of a Foxe, and make it into powder, and use to drinke thereof, and it will certainly cure the Spleene.

For the spleene a good experiment.

CTake two pound of Bores greace, and þan a pound of ashē made of Ashen wood, and one gallon of faire running water, and seeth them all together, til half be consumed, then straine them through a cloſt, and let it stand all night, and in the morning ſcrape off the greace, and carry away the water, and ſtangle

The greace well togesher, and put it in a boare, and therewith annoynyt upon the Spleene. You must likewise gine the patient this drinke following: Take the rootes of young Ashen plants, and a good quantity of Wormwood, and seeth them well togeher in a gallon of Wine till the one halfe be wasted, and let the patient drinke therof in the evening hote, and in the morning cold: and let the patient vse sols ointment, and drinke of sols drinke the space of nine dayes, and it will helpe him:procued.

Another for the spleene proued.

C Take the inner rind of the Ashe tree, stamp it and seeth it in Wine, and it will doubtles helpe the spleene.

For the heat of the liuer.

C Take the ioyce of sowre apples, and sweet apples, of each a pint or more, and two pound of Sugar, and mingle these togesher, and let it boyle on a soft fire til it be as thick as a strop, and vse of this a little every day fassing, being first made lukewarme at the fire.

To purge the liuer of a choller and salt fleame.

C Take the waight of a gold Pable of Rubarbe, and cut it in small pieces, and a halfe penny-worth of Spignard, and the weight of two groats of Scene in the cods, lay all these in soke in nine spoonfuls of Whey, by the space of twelve houres, and so gine it to the patient.

For the liuer that is chafed.

C Take and vse Saunders in thy pottage or brosh, & drinke it, and wash thy right side with cold brine, but first boyle it and scum it, and put thereto vinegar, and lay it to thy right side, but not hote, for it will chafe the liuer.

For wasting of the liuer.

C Take Water-cresses, red Fennell, and Sorrell, with a Chicken in a pot nine dayes, and vse it.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the heate of the liuer.

C Take a quart of Barlis, and put thereto a gallon of well water, and boyl them togeþer till the Barly be as soft as any Wheate or Fomentie, then straine it through a cleane cloþ, and take the same water, and put thereto as much good wortes, with a penny-worth of Licoris beaten, but not to powder, and take a good handfull of Rose, and a good handfull of Sage, and boyle all these togeþher, till the one halfe thereof be wasted, then straine them againe through another cleane cloþ, and that which commeth forth, put it into a cleane vespell, and let it stand a day and a night, and drinke of the same first in the morning, and last at night when you gée to bed.

For stoppings in the liuer and the milt.

C Take and seeth Harts-tongue in water or Wine, and drinke it: or if the herbe be eaten, it is very good for the same. Also to bstop the pypes of the liuer and of the milt, take smallage and seeth the same with a like quantity of Elder leaues, then straine it, and drinke the broþ thereof.

Another for the same.

C If you use to drinke the iuyce of Chiccorie, it openeth the oppilation of the liuer and milt caused of heat. Or if you take the Wine that Silios hath bee[n] sodden in, and drinke thereof fasting, it is a very good medicin[e] against the stopping of the Liuer, Milt and Raines, and against the let of vrme.

Another for the same.

C Take and drinke the wine that wild Time hath bee[n] sodden in, and you shall finde it very good against the stopping of the Liuer, Milt and Raines, and the hinderance of vrme, as hath oft been proued.

C Also if you take the iuyce of the hearbe called Wifminte with Honny, and the Wine that it hath bee[n] sodden in, it is very good to bstop the conduit of the Milt, and the liuer & vrme.

Agath.

The Pathway to health.

41

Against the oppilation of the Liver, the Milt, the Vyne, and the bladder, use the decoction of Cassia Ligna, or the Sirrop that it is made with.

To use also the ioyce of Night-Shade made in Sirrop with a litle Sugar, is very good for the Liver and the milt.

Also if you make Sirrop of the ioyce of Fenell, and the de-coction of the hearbe called Dawke, it is good against the stopping of the Liver, and the Milt, and against the Dropse.

For the liver and the milt.

C Against the opilation of the Liver or of the milt, take Aloe-Epatick, with the ioyce of Smallage warme. Or make a de-coction of the rootes of Smallage, Parsley, Fenell, Wormwort, and Spurge, with two drammes of Mastick, and use this two or threē times in the weeke till you be well.

Another for the liver and the milt.

C Also who so vely often to eate the hearb Chernell, it causeth the stopping of the liver and the milt to cease. Or if the patient take the seedes therof and make them into powder, and afterward either eate or drinke of the same, it will help hym.

Also if the ioyce of Wolst-fyngle be drunken with Wine, it is very good for the liver.

Also to drinke the water that Louage hath been sodden in,
is likewise good for the liver and the milt.

Also against the stopping of the Liver and milt, take the powder of Barbaries, with the ioyce of Morell, and drinke often of the same.

For the liver, milt, raines, and bladder.

C Against the opilation of the Liver, milt, and raines, and the hinderance of Vyne, take and seeth the hearbe Germanander and Camphithis in oyle, and lay it to the place where the party is grieved. Also take an electuary confect with Honny, and two parts of these hearbes, and so use it.

The Path-way to health.

For the liuer, the milt, and the Iaudise.

C Against the opilation of the liuer, milt, and Iaudise, take the iuyce of Wormwood and Hetrill, or else make them in sirrop, and bse it with warme water: also against opilation of the milt, take the iuyce of wormwood, and the powder of Costy, it is also good for the same.

For all paines in the milt.

C Take of the drinke that Gold hath beene quenched in red hote, and it helpeþ the paine in the milt.

Also an oyntment made of Assarmonia, and ware, softnesh the hard milt, and it dissolueþ the milke curded in the paps.

Also make iuyce with Smallage, and put thereto Oyle and ware, and confect it into a sirrop.

Also for the milt: take Armoniacke and Galbane, of each of these a like much, soften them well in Vinegar and with ware, then put thereto powder of Castre and of wormwood, and make therof an oyntment, and bse therewith to annoynt the place against the milt, and it will helpe the same.

Also take Egrimony, and eate therof often-times, and it healeþ the paine of the milt.

Against the opilation of the milt or drospie, take the wine that Abrosiana hath beeene sodden in, for beeing often-times drunke, it healeþ the paine of the milt comming of cold.

Also against the ache of the milt, drinke the wine that Betony hath beeën sodden in, and it profiteth.

Also make an oyntment with the hearbe called Beares, soote beaten, and then lay it long in Oyle, and with ware make an oyntment: the legues ought to be bled while they be greene.

Also the hearbe Amios, with the roots of Cias: in wine hel-peþ much the paine of the milt.

Also for the milt and liner, take the iuyce of Fennell sodden in an apple, and take the powder thereof.

Also for the paine of the milt and the liner, take the wine that Caperis hath beeën sodden in.

Also.

The Path-way to health.

42

Also for the paine of the milt and the liuer, drinke the wine that Cassia ligna hath beene sodden in.

Also for the paine of the wylte and liver, take the electuary that Diocostum hath bin sodden in.

Also for the paine of the milt, vse a dramme of Cammomile in powder wth wine, forty dayes.

Also for the paine of the milte, vse to drinke the wine that Honny-suckles hath beene sodden in.

Also leevle Rose in Wine, and then straine out the iuyce, and drinke thereof, it helpeth greatly.

Also the water that the roote of Fearne hath beene sodden in,
is very good for the same.

Also you may vse the water or Wine that the rinde of Fennell rootes hath beene sodden in.

Alls the Water or wine that the bough of an Ashe hath bin sodden in, is good for this purpose.

For to soften the milt that is hard.

C Take the root of the wild Wine & stamp it with Porks greace, then melt it on the fire, and straine it, and take meale of Linsede, and oyle, and put thereto : and this oyntment is very good for the hardnesse of the milt and liver, and to ripen impostumes.

Another for the same.

C Take the rinde of the roote of Horehound, and steepe the same a fortnight in Wine and Oyle, and then let it be sodden and strained, and in the straining, put thereto water and oyle, and make therest an oyntment, and vse the same at your need, for this purpose.

For ache in the guttes and belly.

C Take the powder of Mugwort, and let it be drunk with Wine and Honny, it easeth greatly the ache in the bowels, and is good against divers other diseases. And for the pains in the guts, take a ciate of the iuyce of Clot Isaues, & it wil ease thee.

For

The Path-way to health.

For paines in the belly.

C Take and stampe Mugwort, and lay it to the belly; it helpeth the same meruaulously, take also an vnce and a halfe of Martwort, with as much wine, and it will likewise asswage the paine in the belly.

For the paine in the belly.

C Take and make an electuary of Horry, and seeth it with wafer to keepe it from cleaving to, then put to the same two vnces of Hermodes, and one vnce of Fennell seedes, and glue þereto to the party so grieved that hath the paine in his belly, and it will helpe him: proued.

For the paine in the belly.

C Take wilde Time, and seeth the same with Wine and Oyle, and it is very good against the paine in the belly. Also if you take the braine of a Hare rostred, eate thereof, and drinke some good wine afterward, it is good for the pain in the belly.

For the paine in the belly.

C Take three pynts of Malmesey, and a handfull oof Oris powder, and a handfull of Commyn, with a handfull of Red-role leaues dryed, a handfull of Camomile flowers, and one dishfull of Wheate bramine, seeth all these together, and put them in a bagge, and make it plaister-wise, then lay it to the belly of the patient some-what warme.

For the griping or pulling in the belly.

C Take halfe a pint of Malmesie, a big roote of Turmerelle, and grinde the root into powder with a little Treacle, and make it blood-warめ, and so give it to the party to drinke. Ðreels take a penne-pot of Malmesie, and a little Treacle, and two peny-worth of Myrrh, and grinde it to powder, and so put the Treacle and Myrrh into the Malmesie, and make it reasonable warme and giue it to the patient.

Another

The Pathway to health.

43

Another for the same.

C Take a little quantity of the earth that wormes cast vp out of the ground, (whiche most commonly you shal find in some soft foot-path-way, or els in some Garden-path,) and when you have gathered the same, mingle therewith a like quantity of Honey, and give the patient halfe a spoonfull in the morning, causing him to fast two houres after: this within foure mornings eating thereof, will certaintly helpe the same, as ha-beene by sundry persons proved.

To breake wind in the belly, and for wringing in the same.

C Take Comyn seedes, Fennell seedes, Anis seedes brused, and seeth all in waine, and drinke therof in the morning, at noone, and at night. Also take Pelliottory and boyle it in brosch, and give the sicke therof to drinke.

For women that haue very great bellies, being not with child.

C Take a handfull of Isole, a handfull of Hearbe-grace, a handfull of Arsmert, and seeth all these hearbes in a quart of Ale till it come to a pink, then preserue the same in a glasse, and give the woman so grieved, a quarter of a pynt at once, first in the morning, and last at night.

Another for the same.

C Take Sauery and stamp it, and put thereto good Ale, with a little Jet & white Ambar made into powder very small, and give the woman therof to drinke with the Sauery: also make a plastron of Sauery, of Isole, and of Leekes fryed with fresh Butter, and lay it to her belly, and to her raines, and shee shall be whole.

For a woman that her wombe is hard.

C Let the party grieved drinke the iuyce of Maybread with old Wine, and she shall be easèd.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take Chickfoyle, that is to say, fine leaved Grasse, and dampen it, and straine it with hote Milke, and giue the woman therof to drinke, and it will helpe her.

For a swolne or aking wombe.

C Take the ioyce of Rue, and let the patient drinke thereof with Wine or Ale, and it will help her on warantise. Proued. Also take Sothernwood, Tansie, Rew, and eat them with salt, and she shall be whole.

For to vnbinde the belly and the wombe.

C Take Honny and seeth it till it ware black, and put thereunto powder of salt, and mingle them boþy together, poure it vpon an even stone, or some other evan syng, & then being made an oyntment, put thereof into the parties fundament, and it will cause him to goe to stóle very well.

Sundry other medicines for to vnbind the belly.

C Seeth the roote of Mulberry in water, and drinke thereof, and it will losen the wombe and the belly, and drinke out the wormes that be rough and short.

Also you may use a Gargarisme of vñegar & water, wherein Assa feg'd a hath beene sodden, it abateth the swelling of the wombe or belly.

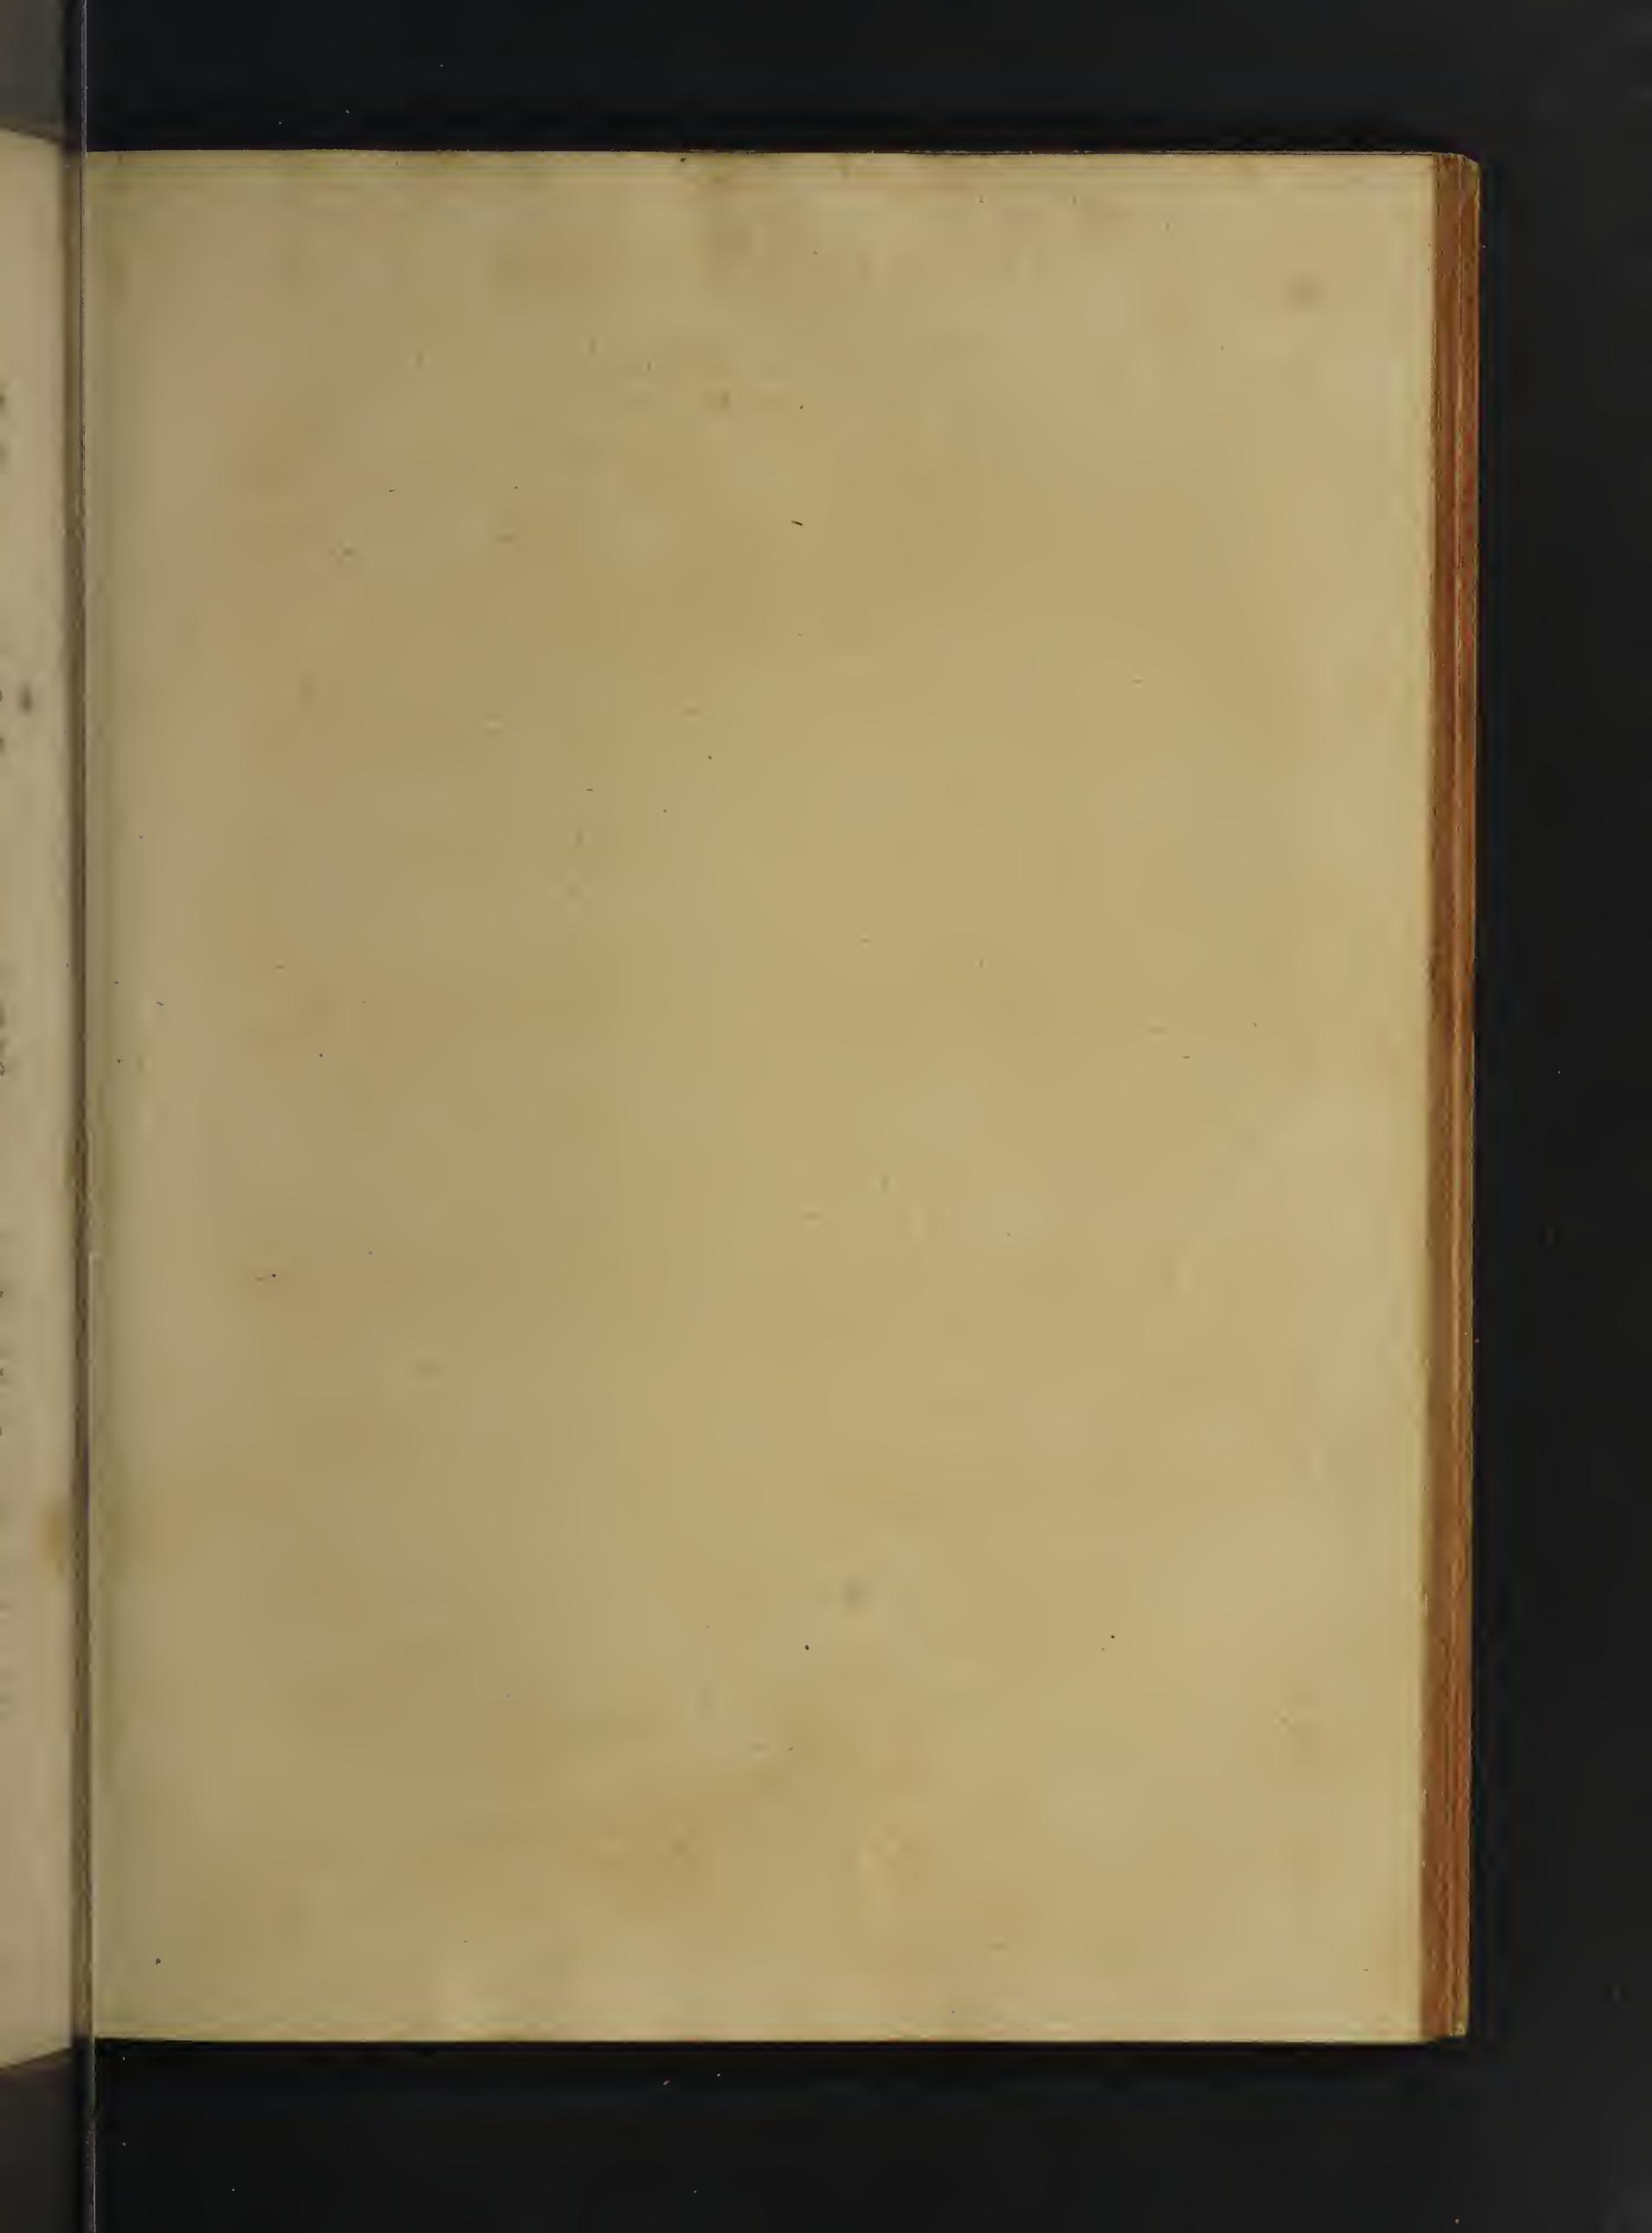

Also if you lay the leaves of Hollihocke very hote vpon the wombe, it helpeþ the same.

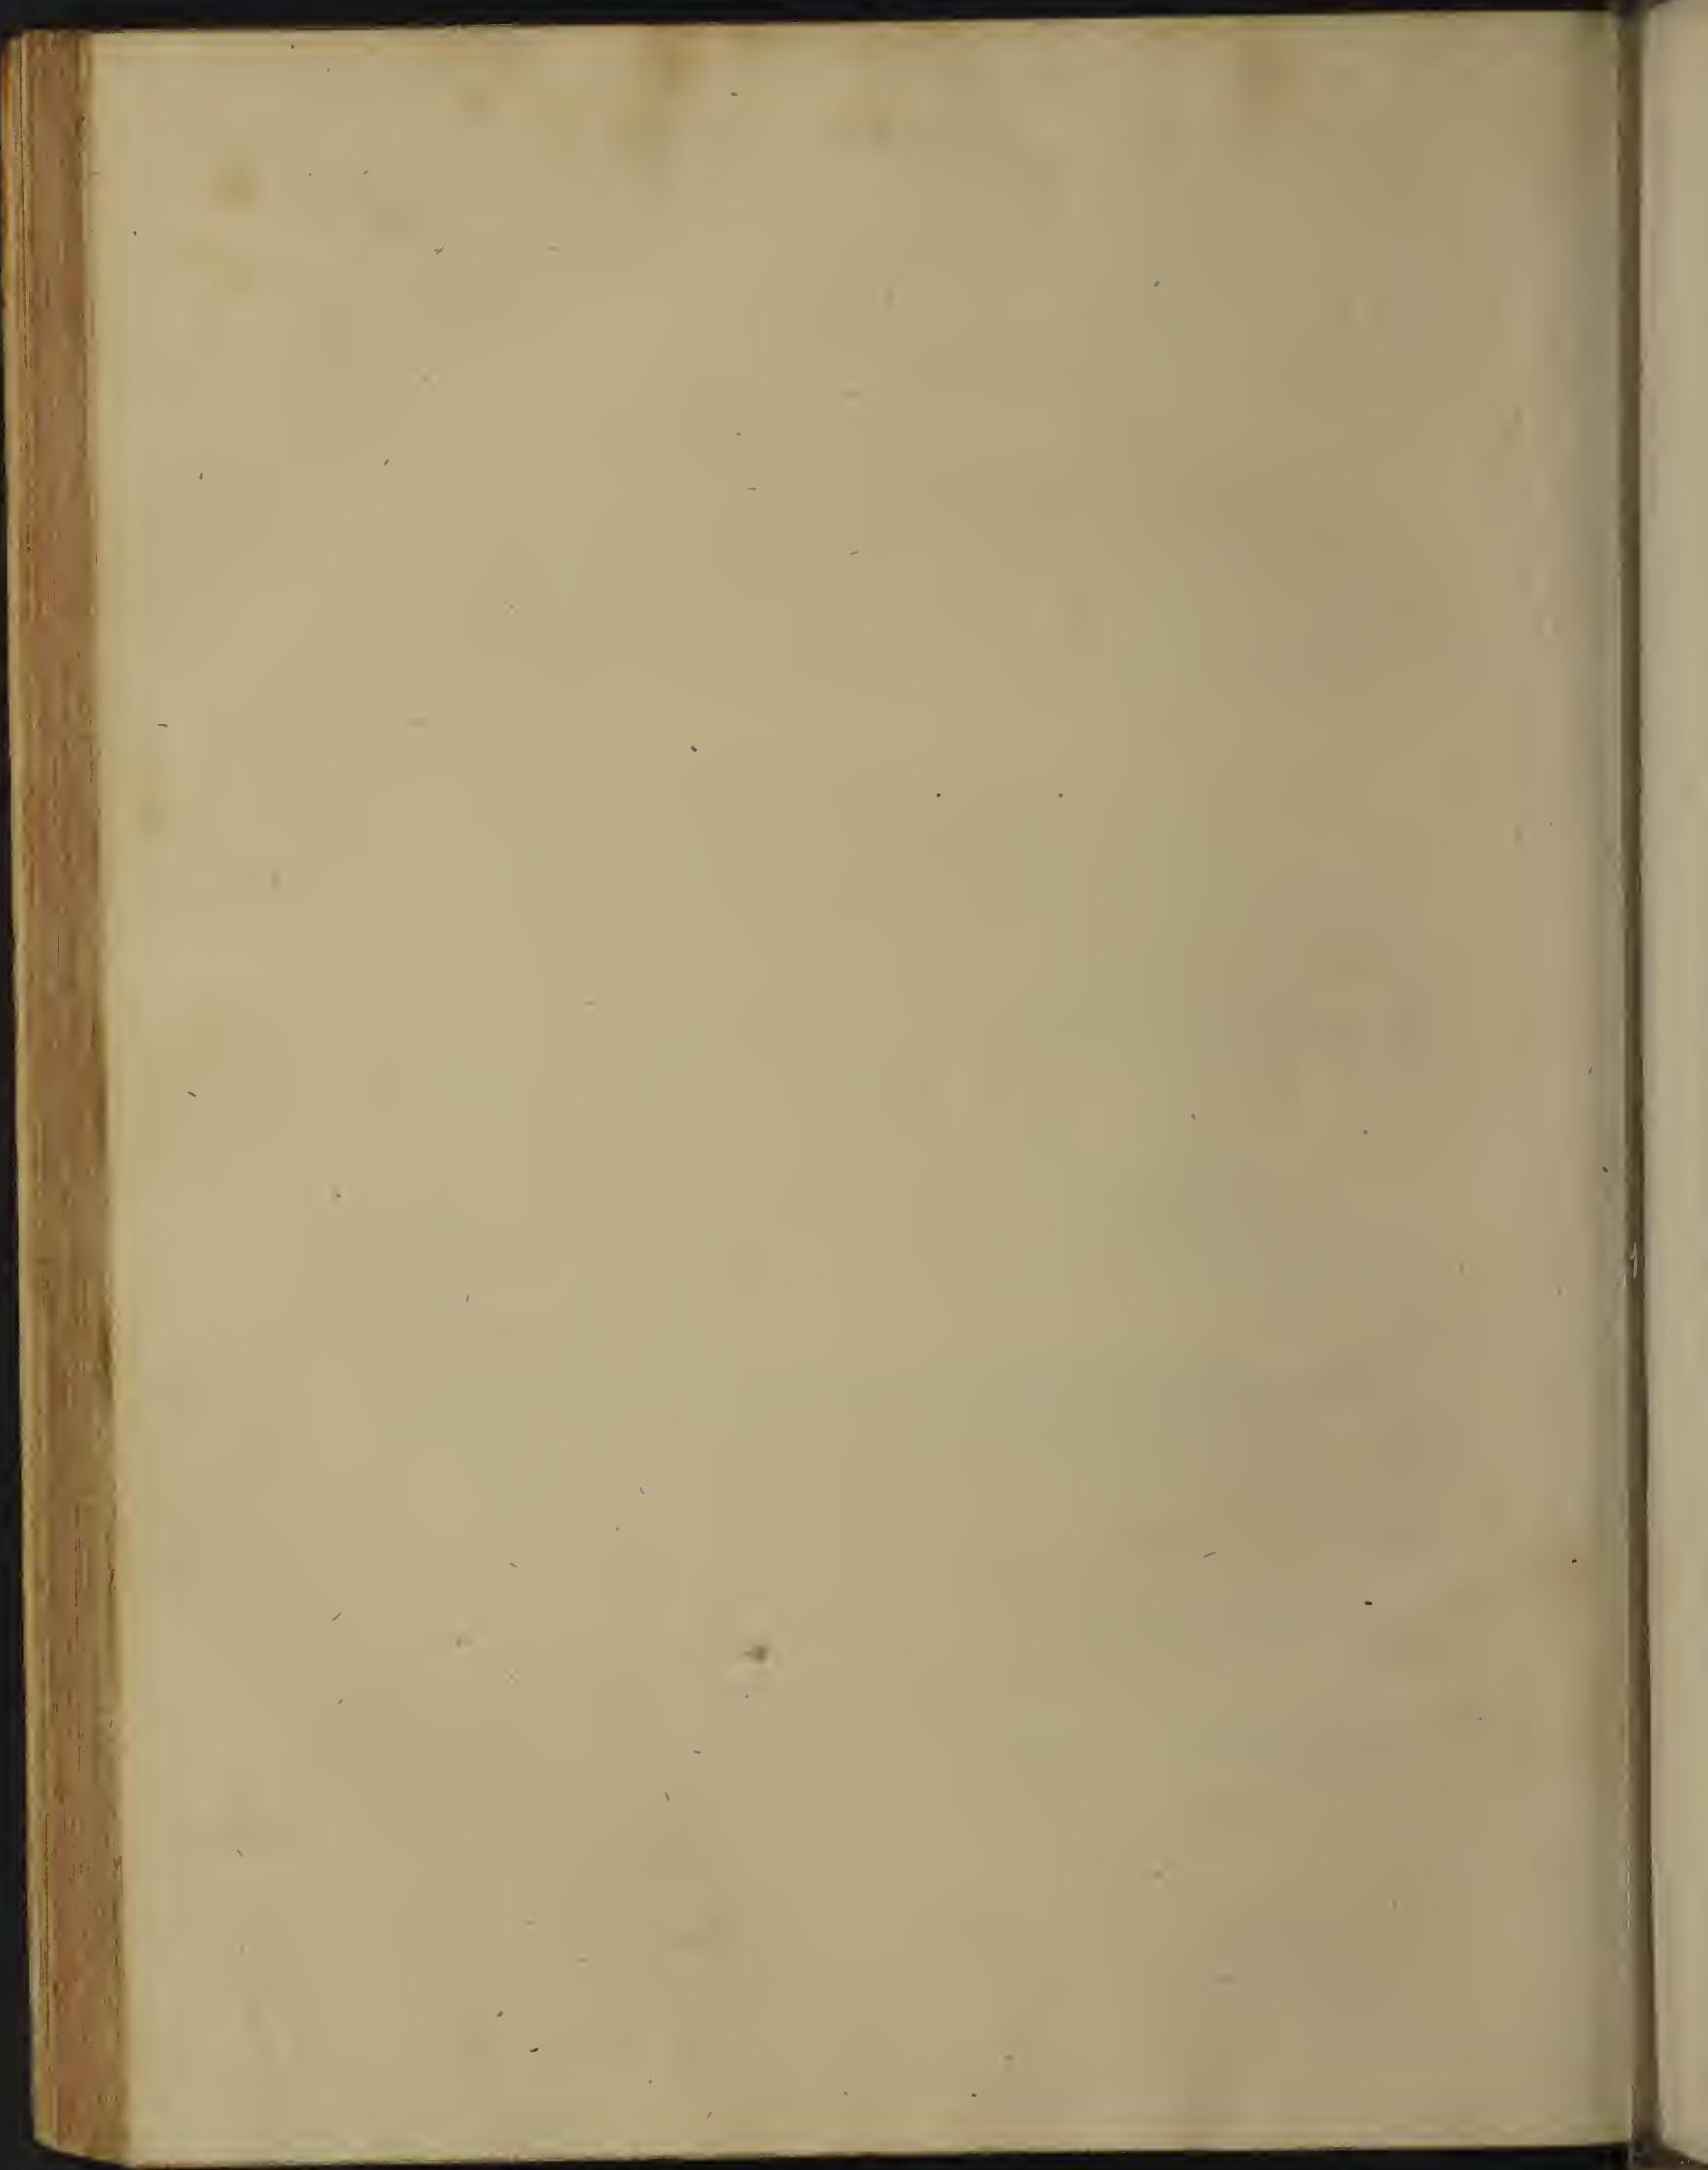

Also you may use the wine that Rosemary and Cominti hath beene sodden in, agaynst the ache of the wombe.

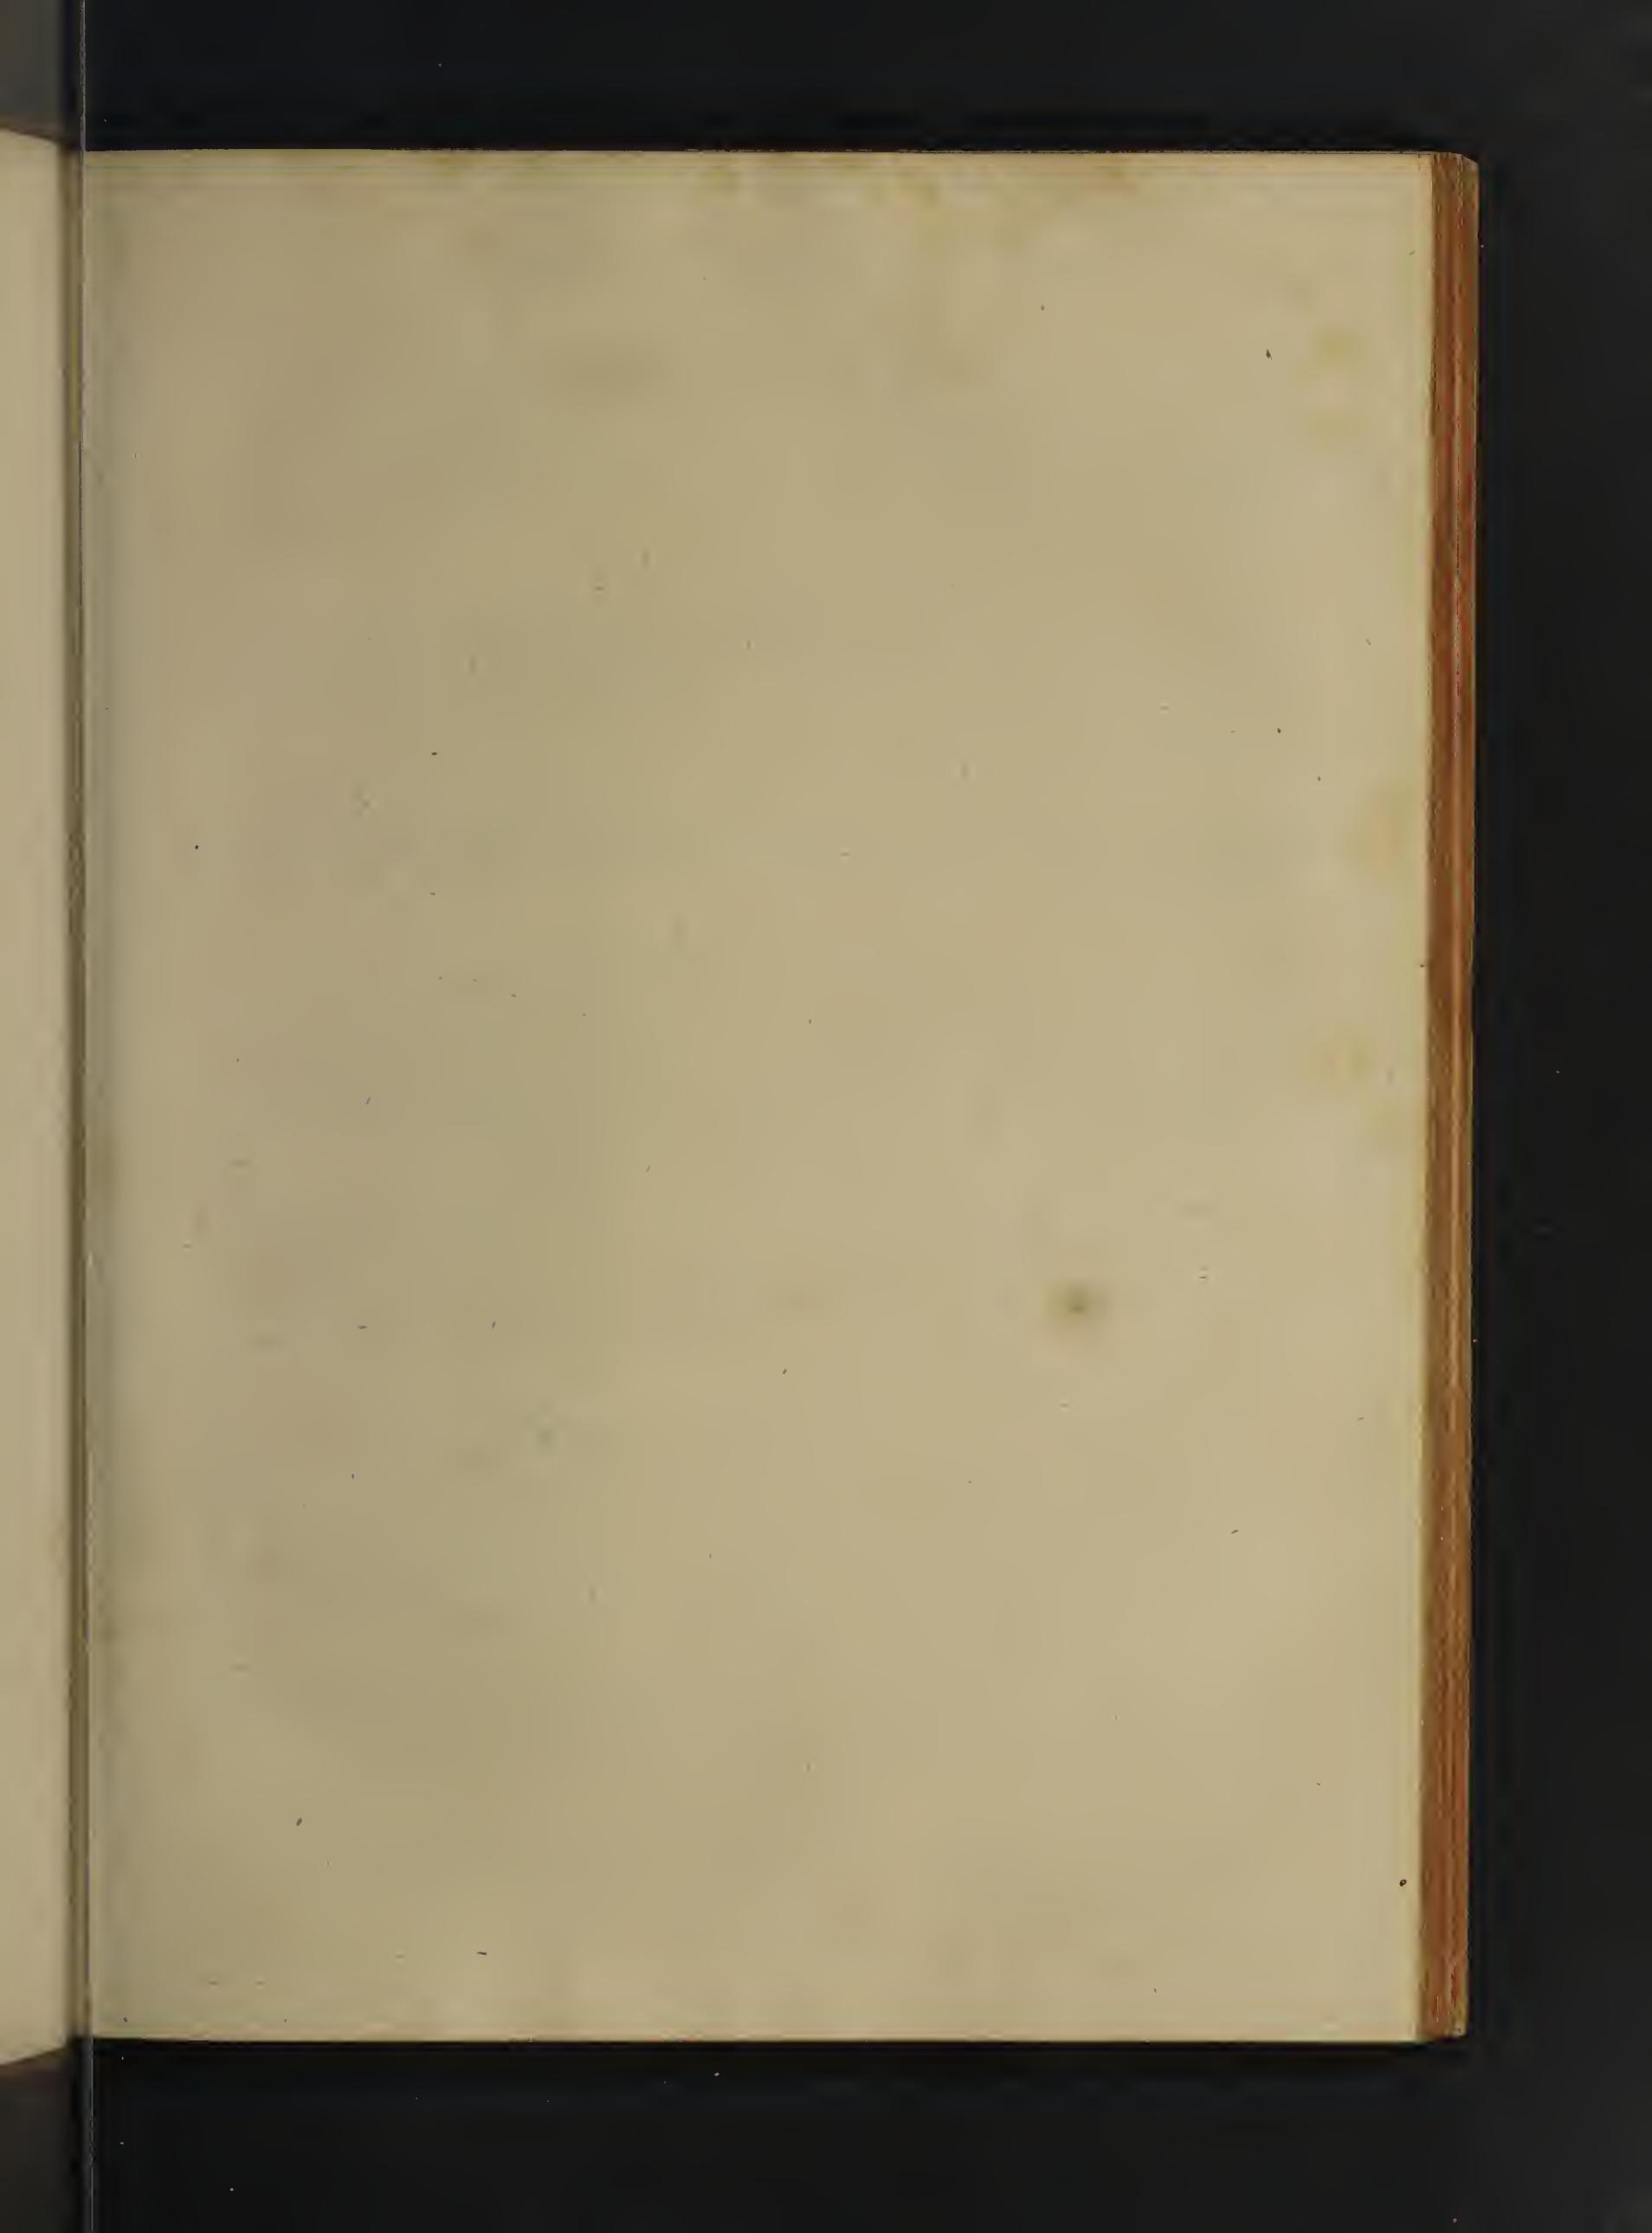

Also to take Peares and dresse them in your meate, comforteþ the wombe and vnbindeþ the same.

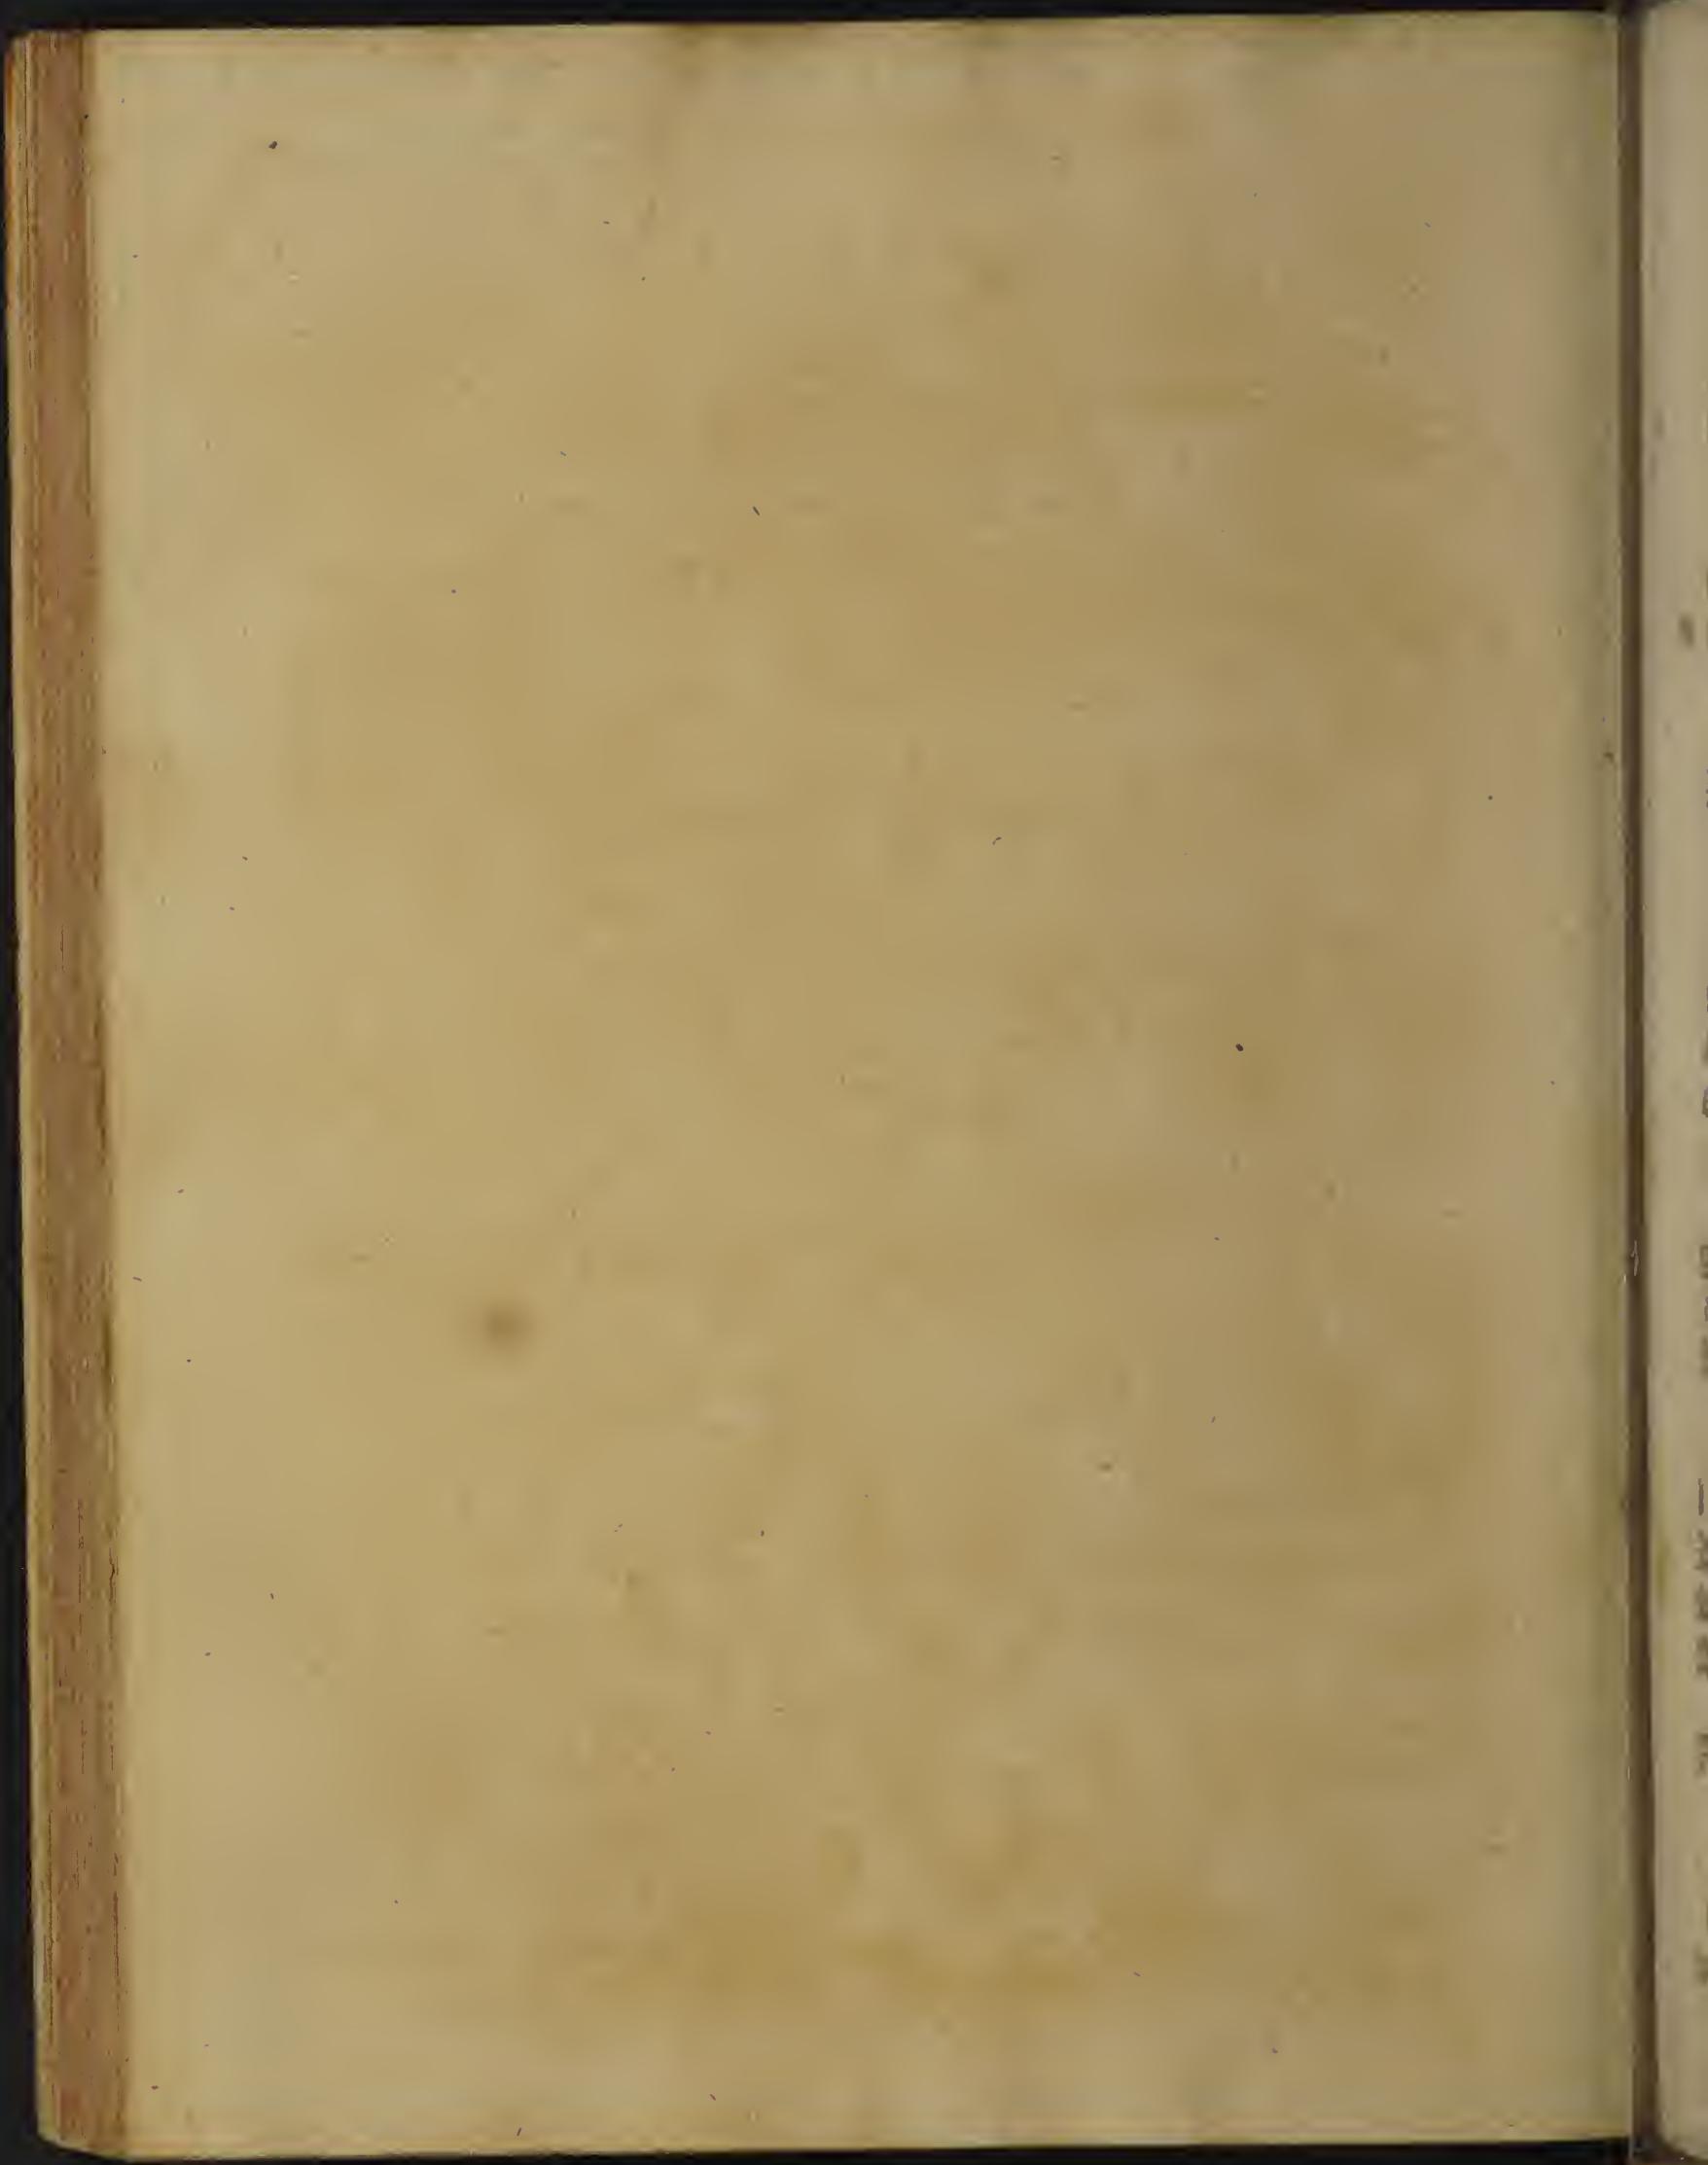

For to lose the belly and wombe.

C Take the ioyce of the heare called Britanica, as much therof as you thynke necessary for the strength of the patient, and it will

Another for the same.

C Take the iuyce of Scabious, and halfe a pound of the powder of Corall, and mingle them toge ther, and drinke ther of a god draught, and it shall breake the impostume of the side.

Another for the same.

C Take March Radish, Rue, Wormewod, Centory, Sauine, Champe all these toge ther, and drinke it fassing, and thou shalt breake the impostume inwardly, and coid it outwardly.

For ache in the side or ribbes.

C Take and annoynct the sides and ribbes with the iuyce of Knotgrasse, and with the oyle of Rose, and it will helpe them.

For ache vnder the side.

C Drinke Sage with Watre a little warmed, and it will ease the ache vnder the sides, and of the wombe, and it is good for the Dropse, or the Palse. Also Chervile drunk with wine, easeth greatly the paine in the sides.

For all diseases in the sides.

C Take Worts, and make balls shereof being sodden, then grinde them to powder, and brew them in a new earthen pot, and after that gasher them toge ther with Honey, and smere them well toge ther, and make a plastrer for the sore side.

For womens sides that be sore.

C Take Hyliate, Alisander, Marry, Louage, red Fennell, Radish, Enula campana, and seeth all these herbes together in white Wine, from a pottle to a quart, and let the patient drinke thereof morning and evening, till the paine be gone.

For the plurisie, and for such as are vsed to be let blood, to sauue them from letting of blood, and to dissoluē all ill blood.

C Take Rye-bread, and cut it in small bivers, & set it in the wind so to dry, and when ye shall be patned with the Spleene,

The Path-way to health.

put the Bread in the strongest Vinegar that you can get; & let it staine there in fourre houres, till it be well soaked, then set it on the fire and seeth it toghether, and make a plaister therof, and lay it on the side wheras the griefe is, as hote as the party may suffer it, and it shall dissolve ill blood, and take away the paine in their ordure: this hath gaine proued for the Plarisie.

A notable plaister for the plarisie.

C Take the rootes of wilde Mallowes, the greace of a hog, the greace of a Foxe, and of a Goose or a Dooke, of each a like much, but not aboue an vnce of either: of fresh butter, halfe an vnce, of Terrebanchiam halfe an vnce, of the fatte of Meale six drammes, of the oyle of Dill halfe an vnce, of the mary of a Deere, halfe an vnce, the powder of the seedes of Flare, Vinegar and Bay berries, of each thre drammes, and eight Ffigs, beate all in a morter, then put all in a pan, putting Flax thereto to binde it together, and stir it with a stick vpon the coales, then take the whole, or part thereof, and spread it vpon Leasher, and cover it with silke, and bast it with shread like a quilt, and so apply the plaister to the place so grieved, as close as may be: and by Gods grace you shall find great ease. Proued.

For the ache in a mans backe.

C Take Burre rootes, and make them cleane, and stamp them, and temper them with Ale, and boyle it well, and straine it, & drinke thereof in the morning cold, & at night hote.

For the paines of the backe of either man or woman.

C Take Walpeir and seeth it, and prestre out the Water, and dray it in a morter, then cry it with Sheepe's tallow, & put thereto cleane bran, and plaister it to the backe either of man or woman, and it shall helpe them by Gods grace.

For the raines of the backe.

C Take two new layd Egges, and put away the white, and fill the shell with the ioyce of Clarte, beate it well and straine it, it, and stir well the yolkes and the juice togesher, over a fewe coles for the time it is boylng, and then take one and cut it, and use this nine dayes fassing, and it shall strengh your ratis, and comfort nature, although the patient be right feble, it hath been proued.

For a sore backe.

C Take Mallowes and seeth them in faire water, and lay it upon a red clothy to the soze as hot as ye may suffer it.

Another for the same.

C Take kerneells of Hasell nuts, and the dung of the house Pidgeon, and May butter, stampe hem togesher, and it will drake any soze for to breake and to heale, and soz the great paine in the backe: often proued.

For the raines of the backe.

C Take two gallons of strong pisse, and stille it, and take a handfull of sappy Sage and Hemlocks, Mallowes, Rue, Egimony, Scabious, and stille all these togesher to a pint, and when it is stilled, put thereto fourre spoonfuls of oyle olive: this is made principally for the raines of the backe.

For the raynes a drinke.

C Take the juice of Betony, of Vvine an vnce, and of the Betony a spoonfull, and the powder of Pepper, mingle these togesher, and drinke it for syze dayes fassing.

For the wafting of the kidneyes, and for paines of the backe.

C Take a handfull of Plantain, a handfull of parly, a handfull of Betony, a handfull of water Betony, a handfull of Horrell, a dozen crops of Rosemary, seeth these in threé pintes of ale, till it be waked, and strain them, and put thereto a pint of sack, and a good peice of Sugar, and borne it well togesher, and so gheue it to the party all hot euening and monting: proued.

The Path-way to health.

For the whites or ranning in the raines.

C Take white washed Carpenterne, and make it vp in balls like Pyls, shen take Cynamon & Ginger, and rowle the balls in it, and take shem as you would do Pylls morning and evenyng, Powderd.

For the whites.

C For the whites or weaknes in the backe : take an earthen vessel, and put it in a quart pot of faire water wher in you must quench two or thre gads of Steele being red hot, shen boyle ther in an vnce of lettuce seeds fourte and twenty houres, shen strain the same, and leev it halfe away, and scum it very cleane, and keepe it in a covered cup, and drinke shys morning and euening with powder of Juoy.

Another for the same.

C Take Archangell and seeth it in drinke, and drinke it morning and euening, it is very god, shre red for the woman, and shre white for the man.

For all manner of aches in the backe.

C Take Egrimony, Mugwort, both the leynes and rootes, and stamp them with Solernes greace and Ameger, and see shem, and lay it to the backe.

Another for the same.

C Take a god quantity of Penitall, and pat shere to Vneger, and oyle Olive that is greene, and lay it to thy backe plater-wise.

For him that hath lost his complexion from the backe.

C Take Linseed and stamp it smal, and temper it with Goats milke, and straine it all warme, and drinke it thre or fourre times fastyng, and thy complexion will come againe.

For

For the paines in the backe.

C Take Voguentum rosarum, and chafe your backe mor-ning and evenynge, and lay to this plaister following: take Fe-therfoy, Tansie, Horsleek, of each a handfull shreded and Cam-ped fine; then fry them well together with a saucerfull of hony, and two bences of Doves dung, of the newest you can get, when it is thick like a plaister, put it in the end of a small staine, and so lay it to your backe all warme.

For all manner of ache in the backe

C Take Smallage, Egrimony, Mouscure, and stamp hem all togesher, but wash hem well first, and temper hem with Ginger, and fry hem well in Bores greace, and make a play-ster, and as hote as the sick may suffer, lay it on the ache, and he shall haue easse.

Another for the same.

C Take Lilly rootes, Camomell, Anniseedes, and stamp hem all togesher, and fry hem in Bores greace, and put a lit-tle Wine thereto, and in manner of a plaister lay it on a clothy, and bind it fast to the backe or raines all hot, and after threé or fourre dages remoue it, with renaturg of the plaister thereto, with moze fresh.

For the running of the raines.

C Take Bellitory of the wall and stamp it and scaine it, and drinke it with Malmsie or white Wine or Ale, and do this often till that shou be all whole. Also if the Patient make a Tansie of Clary, and eate therof, is very good for the same disease: as hath bee pronounced.

For womens termes.

C Take Selondyne, and let a woman put it in her hole vnder the sole of her feet, and it will helpe her.

The Path-way to health.

Also Mullet leaves, the red flowers of Hollibocks is very good for this purpse.

Also the great leaves of Burres being sodden in Strong Ale, and this same afterward drunke, is very good.

For wasting of nature.

C Take a platt of Malmisse, and put thereto a peny-worth of Sinnamon and another of cleane Pace, and boyle them ouer the fire with Wine, but first make powder of your spices, then take Treakle as much as a Damson, and put thereto, and stir altogether, and let the sick drinke therof hot at all times, and it shall accide all cleame and wind in the interior parts of man to restore his nature: proued.

For all Impostumes in the body.

C Take Centory, Rosemary, Wormwood, Horehound, & make it in syrop with white Wine, and let the sick take the syrop, and it shall cause the Impostume to goe downe, and when it is broken: let him vsse to drinke of the same syrop warme.

For to destroy all Impostumes either in man or woman.

C Take the root of Hollibocke, and wash it cleane, and sceth it till it be tender, and then put the water into a vessel, and then take Linsed and Fennelake, of each of them a like much, and see that thou haue as much of them two as the root that is sodden. Then sceth them in the same water till it rope as it were Birdlime, then stamp the root, and so sorte Barly meale, and mingle them well together, and fry them with Woxes greace, and lay it to the sore, plister wise, as hot as you may soffer it, and within nine daies ye shal be whole. Also take Tarrantile, and let the patient drinke often of the juice therof, and it shall cure him: proued.

An experiment to take away the mother.

C Take a great deale of Mugwort, and as you gather it, nine the leaves downeward, then wash them cleane, and boyle them ther in running water til they be soft, and when the party goeth to bed, let him or her wash themselves therewith, from the navell downward with flanks and members, and also the most sore soote as is possibly to be suffered, remember the parties that they wash not upward at any time, and within three dayes washing, the parties eyther he or she shall be whole, God willing. Prooved.

Another medicine for the mother.

C Take a handfull of Moseys tyme, a handfull of Moseys wort, a handfull of Isop, a handfull of Sage, sceth all these in a gallen of faire water untill it be halfe consumed, then mash it vpon half a peck of malt, so let it stand an houre, then take the wort of it as you do drinke, and put yeast to it, and being thus made, let the party drinke it morning and euening.

A drinke for the paine of the mother.

C Take a dram of Methridatum, and dissolve it in an vnce and a halfe of water of wormwood, and give it to the woman to drinke before that she goeth to meat soure houres, and let her not drinke a good whille afterward: prooved.

A most excellent medicine for the mother, the chollick and stone.

C Take Fenelkseed, Coriander seed, Cartoways seed, Parnip seed, Galingale seed, Cromwel seed, an vnce of each of these:
also an vnce of leaues and cods of Scene, a quarter of an vnce of Spignal, a quarter of an vnce of Tyme: take al these and make them into powder, and searce them through a searer, and drinke them in white wine or good Ale first and last, and in all manner of sauces that you eat with your meat: and this medicine shall cure the mother, the stone, and the chollick: prooved.

Another for the mother.

C Take Mugwort, and hearbe Simonde, Sundry and red Mints, and straine all these iuyces with red Wine, and give it to the woman that is pained with the mother to drinke.

The Path-way to health.

A good medicine for the mother comming of what cause soever.

C Take the rasing of Iuery, and the rassn gol an Hartes horne, with the haire of a Hare dryed, and made in powder, and as much of Goats clawes burnt, and powdered if they may be gotten, or in stead therof, Shéeps clawes: take all these and bse to eat of them in your pottage, or otherwile in your drynks.

For the genitories.

G For the paine and swelling of the genitories, seethe well the root of Bruse, and make a plaister thereto, and put selues to it and bind it fast thereto with a band, and it will ease the pain and swelling of the cōds.

For the swelling of the cōds.

C For them that haue swolne cōds with feame, so that they hine, stamp Dous-fote with small grēne Lettice, and lay it plaister-wise thereto.

Another for the same.

C Take Barly meale, and Honey, and fry them together, and make a plaister therof, and let the party so grieved lay it warmed to the griefe of the cōds,

For swelling of a mans cōds.

C Take Rue, and Wormwood, and stamp them together and put thereto hony, and make therof a cold plaister, and lay all about the cōd, and when you will take the plaister away, then wash the cōd with vineger, and he shall be whole.

For a man that is bruised, or that his cōds be sore.

C Take the wōll of a blacke Rams cōd, and put that wōll into oyle, and powder of Comin, and heate it hote, and therof make a plaister, and as hote as the party can suffer it, lay it to his cōds, and it will doe away the aking, and make it whole within thre or four times dressing therewith.

For

The Path-way to health.

50

For swelling of the cods.

C Take Rose leaues, Rose-water, red Wine, Camomell, and Camomell flowers, and Beane flower, let them boyle togerher, and make a plastrer of it, and lay it to the cods as hote as he may suffer it.

Another for the same.

C Take the ioice of Malwoort, Wintger, and Honey, put ther to Barly flower, and seeth hem till they be thick, and bind it to the soze all hot.

For a mans yard that is scalded.

C Take Bruse, Woort, Veruaine, hearb Robert, Pimpernell, of each of all these a good quantity, and most of all of Pimpennell, stamp hem all togesher as small as you may, then fry them wylsh Butter, and straine it through a cloth, and put it in a bore, and ther wylsh annoynct your yard cold, & of these hearbs make a plastrer, then lay it all about the yard cold, dressing it every day two or thre times a day.

For a mans yard that is burne.

C Take a linnen cloth and burne it to powder, and take oyle of Eggs, and annoynct the soze, and fill the greefe with the sayd powder. Also for a mans yard that is soze, & full of holes: take a good company of Dales, and stamp hem, and change hem often. Also take Linseed and burne it, and make powder ther of, and do it in a cloth, and lay it to the soze.

For a sore in a mans yard.

C Take Swinissode, Hocke leaues, Ambrose leaues, Veruaine, Peritory, Chervalle, & a sticke, brase these hearbs togerher in a morter, and mangle hem together with a sticke, and Swines greace, and oyle Oline, and boyle hem, and straine it through a cloth, and with this Unguent annoynct the soze yard so grased.

For

The Path-way to health.

For the swelling of a mans yard.

C Take Leeches and bryay them in a morter, and fry them in fresh greace of a Boare, and make a plaister, then lay it al about the yard, and it shall asswage and heale it: proued.

Another for the same.

C Take Clay and beate it to powder, and sift it, and take wine Vineger, and saeth them togesher, and make a plaister therof, and it will take away the swelling the rest.

For paine in the bladder.

C Take soure drams of Betony, and soure roots of Smal-laga sodden in water, but first seeth the rootstill the water be halfe waked, then seeth the Betony therin, and drinke therof.

A decoction for to drinck with wine, for them that make bloody water by fracture of any vaine within the body, as the liuer, rains, and bladder.

C Take of Knotgrasse, Bursa pastoris of each a handfull, the cups of Acornes, of Camphire one leafe, of Cynamon a dram waight, of Licoris cleane scraped and sliced, one dram waight of water a quart, of Sugar two vices, all this must boile to the consumption of the third part and then let it run through a faire cloth into a clean vessel, and when it is cold, put it into a glasse, and in your drinck use therof, eyther in Ale or Beere, and it shall ease the bladder of paine.

For him that pisseth blood.

C Take Ambrose, Bursa pastoris, Parkly seed, stamp them, and temper them with Goats milk, & gine the party to drinke, and it will quickly help him.

For a man that pisseth blood.

C Take of the earth that is on the Swallows neare, and put it into hot water, and gine the sick sooz to drinke, & the bleeding shall stanch within a whille.

For

For a man that may not hold his water.

C Take the clawes of a Goat, and burne them in the fire, and make therof powder, and let the sicke vse of this powder in pote, lase a spoonfull at once, and he shall be whole.

For a man that may not pisſe.

C Take Mallowes, a good quantitie of Cramell, and ſee the them in Vineger a good while, and then let the ſick drinke therof warme: and he ſhall pisſe ſone after.

Another for the ſame.

C Take Lanberd, and make powder therof, and then let the ſick drinke therof with white wine, and he ſhall quickly pisſe, for this medicine hath been proued.

For a hard womb, and for to pisſe.

C Take Parsly ſeede, Ache, and Spurge, of every of them ſoure ounces: Rampe them to powder, and put it either into wine or water, and drinke it morning and evening.

For to make to man to pisſe well.

C Take Veritory, Rampe it, and fry it, and lay it all hot ſo a mans yard. Also make a plaifter of the flower of Cockle, and water, and ſo lay it to the ſicks yard. Also Linard being ſoddent well in honey, and applyed to the place, cauſeth the man to pisſe well; proued.

For a woman that may not hold her water.

C For a woman that may not keepe her water, take Egerton, and Salt, and Rampe them together very ſmall, then ſetche it in old Wine, vntill the third part thereof be conuerted, and then giue her therof to drinke.

For a man or woman that may not well pisſe.

C Take Galbanum, and lay it to the end of a mans yard, and for a woman lay it to her navel, and being thus applied, it will helpe either man or woman.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take a few of the crops of red Nettles, Sheeps-tallow, Henson of a house top, and scy it wel togesher, and as hot as the man may suffer it, lay it to his yard, and for the woman lay it on her nauell all hot: proued.

For one that may not well pisso.

C Take a quart of white Wine, and a good piece of storne Pitch, Anniseeds, Parly seeds, and a piece of Seiger, let it seethe from a quart to a pint, and drinke it warme euening and morgning: and it shall help the party so grieved.

For straigtnes of pissing.

C Take and seethe Camomell in wine or water, and often times drinke thereof, it easeth and profiteth greatly for the stoppyng of the milt, and of the Liver, proued.

Another for the same.

C Take the leaves of Stamarach, or Alisander, and put them on a tyle-stone being warme, and lay it all hote to the private members, and it will raise the straigtnes of the pissing, and abate the paine therewhile: proued.

For Gomora passio.

G Gomora passion is flowing of a mans seed against his will, and commeth of divers causes, rather for scriblenes of the rains, or of plenty of blood, or of a palese in man: this passion is pernicious, for it maketh a man or woman vnlasty, and their iorts as sore as a man that is weary with travailing, and hafyd no will unto a woman.

Take the seed of Lettice, and make it in powder, and drinke it with water, for it stoppeth the flur of heat, that passeth forth in the Patients water against his will.

Also the powder of Spints dyed in an Ouen, best restreyned him, and restraynes the excessours of the flur.

Also

Also Castorium boyled in the iutice of Agnus castus that is called Tintson, and being drunke, is good for the passion.

Also Amber orientall is a precious stonyng, and Calde plaswed and layd on the ratnes of the backe.

Also temper the powder of Camphire with Musilage or Tier-juice, or the juice of Morell, and therewith annoynt cloþes, and lay to the yard.

For all euils in the bladder.

C Take Ach, Parsly, Fenell, and Pimperiell, all by even portions, bray them together, and temper it with warme water, and drinke it, for it will make the euils to passe, and so cast out the Stone that is in the bladder. proued.

Another for the same.

C Take Porets that nener was set, root and all, bray them, and temper them with Waine, or with stale Ale, and leſſe it from a pottel to a quart, and take of the powder of Philopendula an vnce, and vſe this vntie dayes till thou ſeele thy ſelle eafeſed, and this God willing will help you.

For a priuy malady that a man taketh of a woman.

C Take a dead mans bones, and burne them, and make powder of them, and lay the powder on the haire, and thou ſhalt be whole by Gods grace.

Also ſa man's flesh riſe too much, let him drinke often Tier-uaine, and his flesh ſhall not riſe, nor ſhall he haue any liking unto a woman. proued.

A water for a canker in the nature of a woman, or in the yard of a man.

C Take an vnce of roch Allom, and halfe an vnce of Herdi greace, and put thereto in Smithys water into a glasse, and them boyle for the ſpace of two houres, and wash the ſore place therewith.

The Path-way to health.

To prouoke flowers in women.

To prouoke the flowers in women, make a Fomentation of the decoction of the herb called Tutsan, and of the herbe called Gentrum Galli.

Also take a gum that is called Serapini, and mingle it with powder of Centory, and lay it to the nauell,

Also let the woman bath her selfe in the water that Camomell hath been sodden in, and it will help her.

Also take the juice of marigolds drunken or eaten with a rece Egge, and Meale made in fritters, doth the like.

Also to cause the flowers to flowe in women: take the juice of Nettles, and her bryne, and put it in the mafrice.

Also make a flame or smoake of Storax calamite upon coales, and let the woman receive the smoake with a Fonnell.

Also Wine mingled with the powder of Myrrh and Sosherne wood causeth the flowers to flowe in women.

For the excessive flowing of wemens flowers.

The woman that is troubled herewith, must bee bathed with the water that the herb called Wooddip is sodden in, and it will help her.

Another for the same.

Take and make a Suppository of the powder of Boile ammoniacke, and the powder of Sumac, of Mawick, and the iuice of Plantain, and put it into the condit.

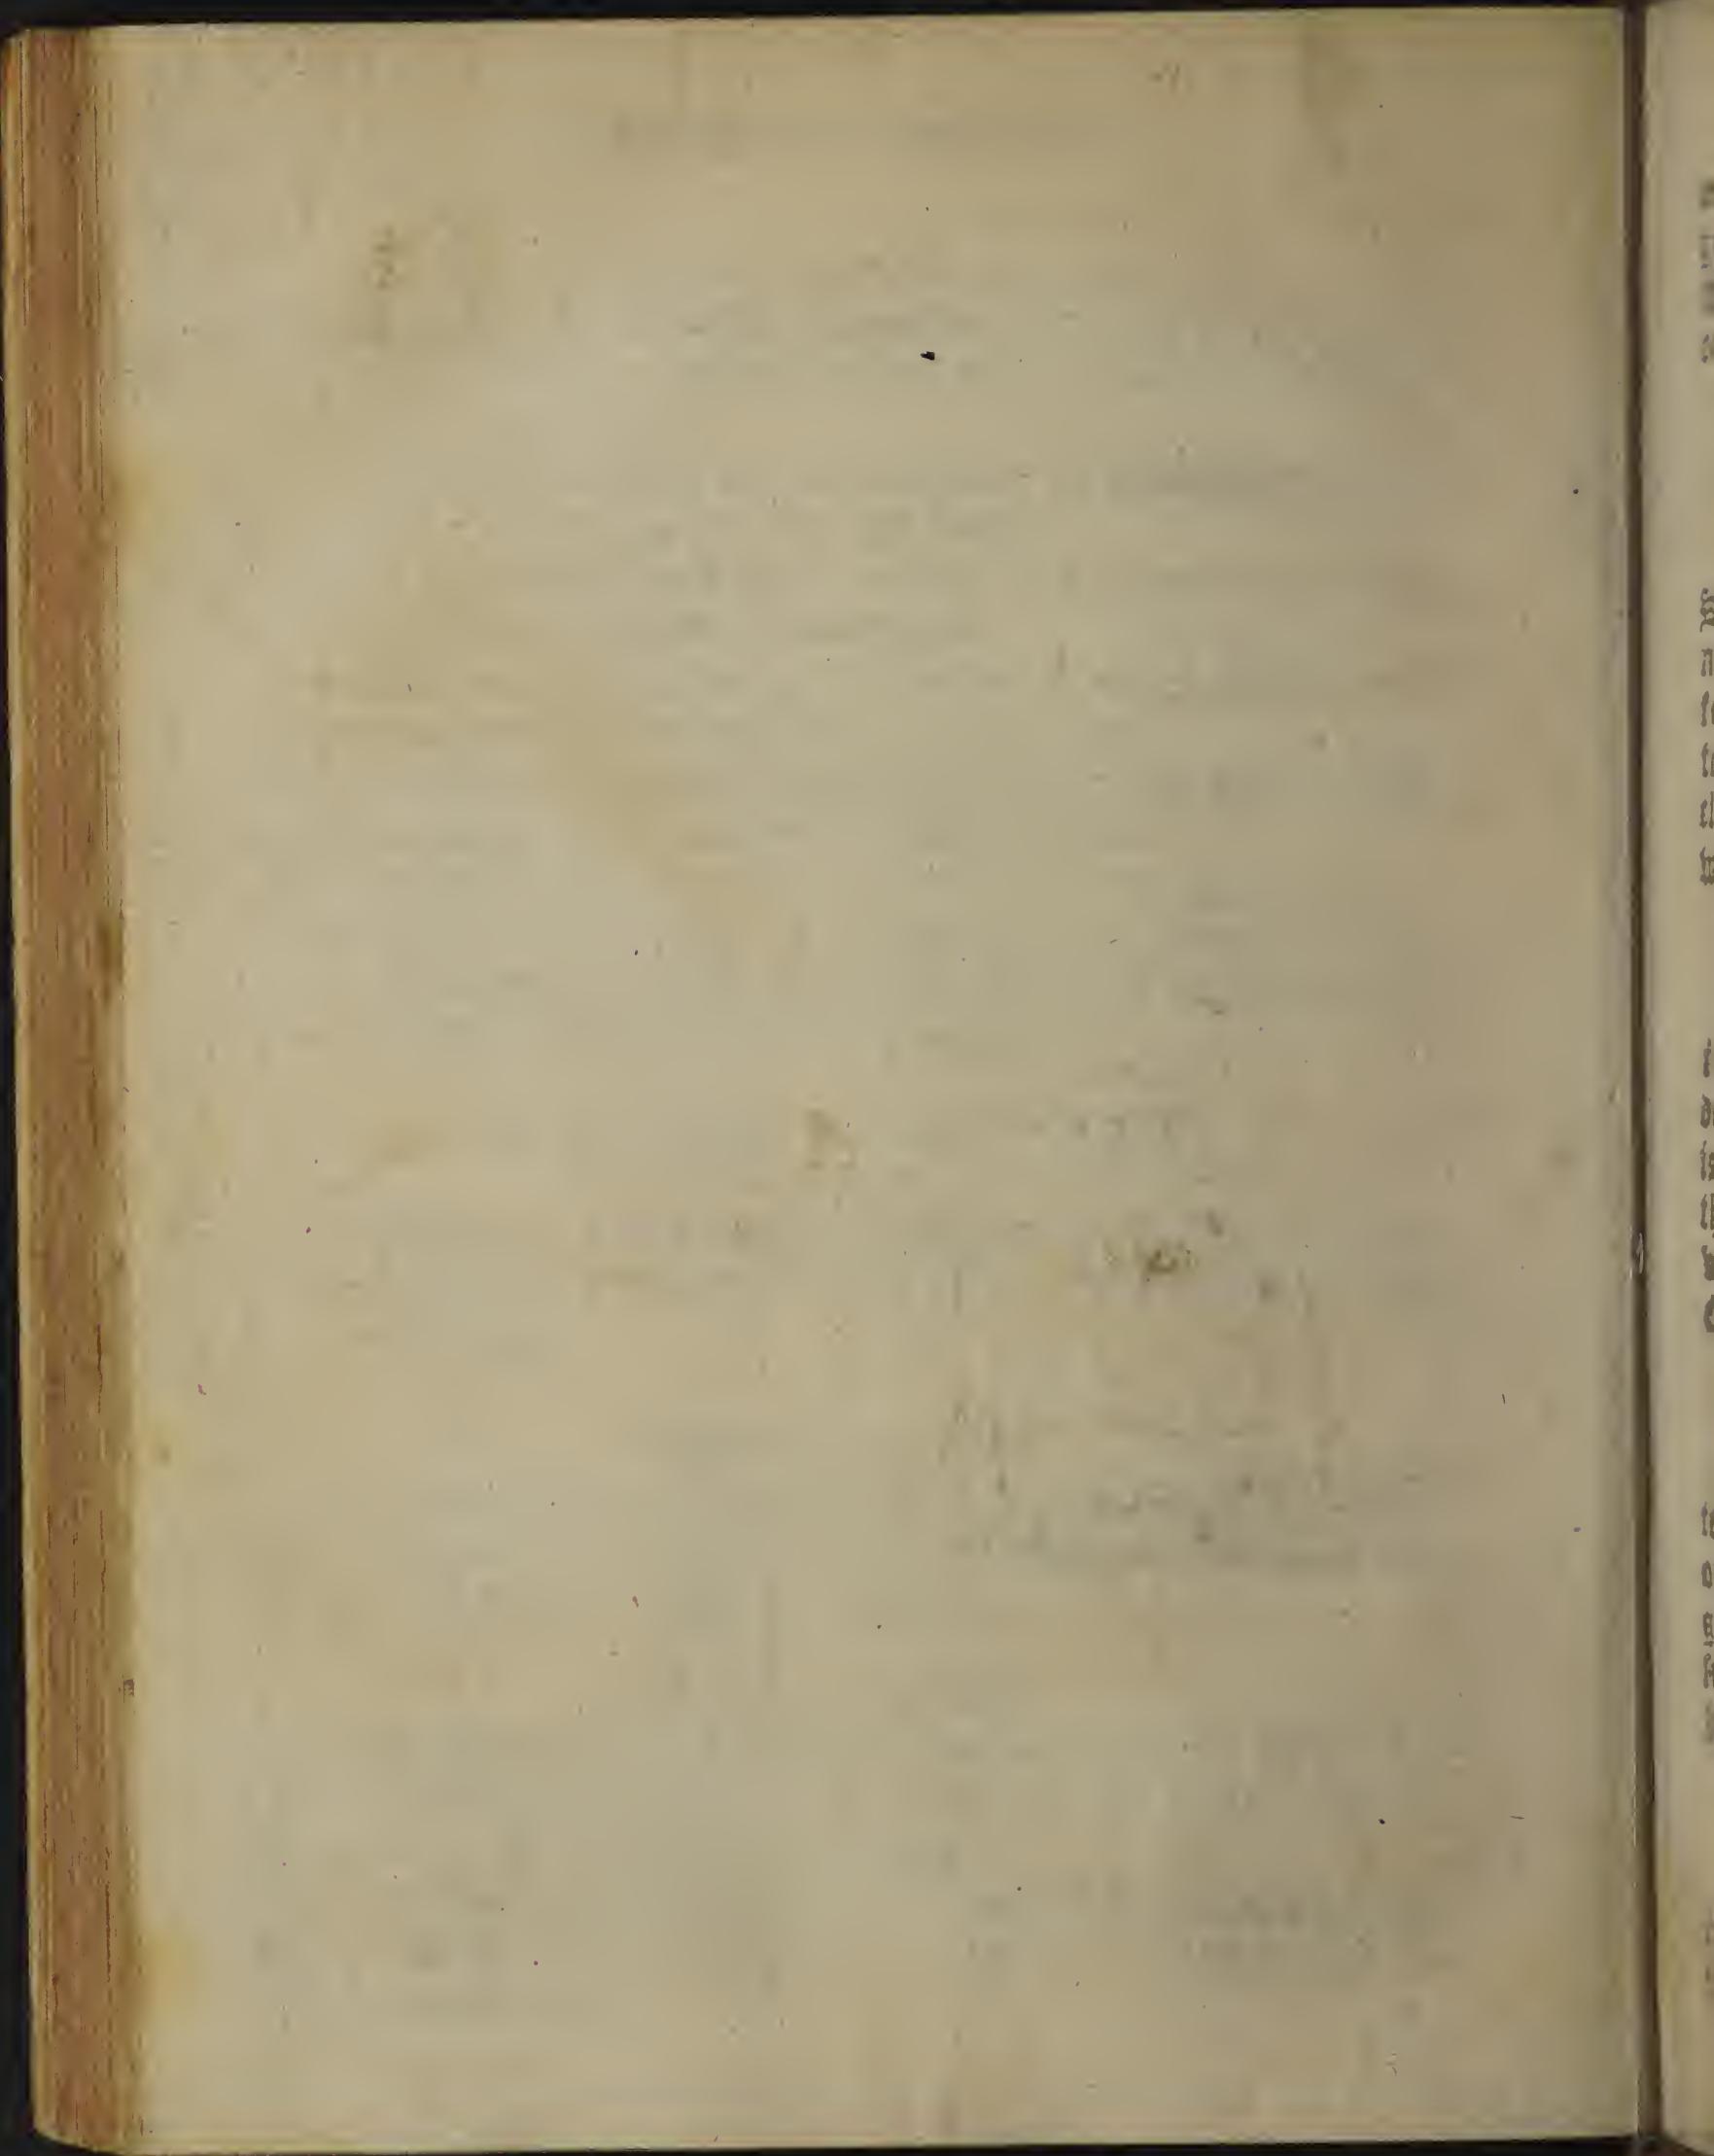

Another for the same.

Waken leaues eaten stoppeth the lungs, and excessive flur in women, and chiefly the water drunke that the middle rindis sodden in, so the party therewith bathed.

Also to stop the flowers that flow abundantly: take and seeth Rue leaued Grasse with raine water, and so let the party bathes selfe therewith.

For

may, and doe shere to Honey, and Vinegar, and mingle them together, and doe it in a bore, first lay a plaister of Garlick vpon the soze, so boyle it in Vineger thre or faire times, and it shal cease the running thereof.

For a woman that is troubled after her trauell with loose-nes of her priuy members.

C Take a quantity of Venice Turpentine, and roll it in Sugar, and give it to her, and cause her to swallow it downe, not chowing it at al. After that, cause an Aleberry to be made for her, and put into it powder of Camphire, and give it to her to eate, and the Turpentine shall cleane, and the Camphire shall close: your Camphire must be dyed in sge shadow, so that the wind and sunne doe not come to it.

For to deliuier a dead child forth of the Mother.

C To deliuier a dead child, seeth this rote of Aristologia longa in Wine and Oyle, and make therwith a fomentation. Also to deliuier a dead child out of the mothers womb, and the web that is in the woman, make an Infusion or Pessaire of the juice of this heath Dittany, and mingle the powder of the roote therewith. Also make a plaister of Hollibocks, with a little salt and Goose greace, and lay it to the matrice.

For a mans fundament that goeth out.

C Take the red Kettle crops, and bzar them smal in a mo-ter, and do them in an earthen pot, and do thereto a good portion of white Wine, and seeth them well together to the halfe, and glue therof to the sick to drinke first and last warme, and lay the substance of the heare to the fundament, as hot as he may suffer it, till he be whole.

Another for the same.

C Take March and drinke the iuste, and lay a plaister ther-to for that disease. Also against the pain of the fundament, or of the matrice, and of the bowels, seeth the leaves of Hollibock in water.

The Path-way to health.

water, and make a stew of that water, & wash ther oftentimes. Also make a plastrer of Scabious, and lay thereon, but the Patient must first receive the smoake thereof beneath.

For the fundament another.

C For the small cliftes that bleedeth in the fundament, lay thereto the powder of Anthera, and annoynct them with water that Dragagaut hath been chased in.

Another for the same.

C Take blacke Beanes, and grind them very small, and searce them well, and powder it on the fundament, and then put it in againe, then seeth the said meale in a panne, and mingle it with white Wlne, and let it see the till it be thicks, and then spread it on a clofy plastrer-wlse, and lay it as hot on the fundament as may be suffered, and remove it twice or thrice a day: and renue it alwayes with fresh meale, and you shall be whole God willing.

For the Pils and the Emerods, and for the euils of the fundament.

C Take Chespire, Tapsebarbe, and bath the Patient in the same to the nauell, or bind the hear be hot in a clofy, and let the Patient sit thereon.

Also take dry Bulbecks, and put into the fundament, and it shall be all whole.

Also heale the fundament close with a leafe of S. Mary Capper, and when one is dry, then take another, and it shall helpe you quickly by Gods grace.

For to helpe the piles.

C Take English hony, and the iatrice of Wormwood, or the small leaues, or the rootes of Daisies purid very small, and put them in a linnen clofy, and put to the soore place, and vse it thus till thou be whole.

For the Piles and Emerodes.

C Take Muskle shelles, and burne them in the fire, and then take the white of them and make it in fine powder, and put it in a little English Honny, and temper them together, then lay it upon a little linnen cloth, and so lay it upon the sore Piles.

To staunch the bleeding of the Pyles.

C Drinke the ioyce of Milsyle, and it will helpe you. Proued. D<sup>r</sup> the powder of burnt Garlick, and the Piles shall die. Also take blacke Wall & blacke Hone, and binde it to the pyles, and it will helpe you.

To destroy the Pyles.

C Take oyle of Roses, Frankensence & Honny, and make an oyntment of them, and put it in with thy finger into the fundament, and put Mirrh unto the same, and vse often to annoynt the fundament therewith, and let the same spere of goe sop into the fundament.

For pyles that doe greeue a man or woman.

C Take the reddest and the newest Tarre that you can get, and make it in a plaister vpon a new lockeram cloth, and make holsters of some other thing, and so put two tapes to every corner to tye about the patient, & once a day dresse the same with cleane clothes.

Another for the Pyles.

C Take a great Onyon, and cut out the core therof, and fill it full of Souger, and stoppe the hole againe, and wrappe it in a browne paper, and binde it fast with a pack-shred, and roste it as you would rost a warden: and when it is rosted, open it, and lay it to the sore place as hot as the party may suffer it.

Another for the pyles.

C Take the rootes of Merueline, and the rootes of the Bur, and stamp them and seeth them, & so lay them hote to the place

The Path-way to health.

but first take a little fire, and on the same put powder of Fratre Bensengne, and let the heat goe vp into the sore,

For the Pyles.

C Take Mollset leaves, and seeth them in faire water till they be soft, then take May butter, and make an oyntment of the same, then vse therof for the Pyles, for it is a medicme very well and often proued.

For the Emerods.

F Take Inde Sope, and make a plaister therof, and lay it to the pyles or emerods, or to the Fistula, till such time as they do fall away of themselves.

For the Emerods.

C Take newe Milke, and a little fine flower, and seeth them together, and make a plaister of the same, and burne an Oystere shell, and make it into powder, then strewe it thicke vpon the plaister, and as hote as ye may lay it to the place. Also let the party that hath them, blowe his nose vpon a cloth, and strewe Sone vpon the same, and as hote as he may suffer it, lay it vn to the place, and it will helpe the same,

For the emerods.

C The Emerods be five baines that come to the fundament, that boideþ melancholly blood, & may not be stoo ped too longe, it is good for this disease to bleede in the liuer baine on the arm, and vnder the ancle, and let him drinke morning & evening the joyce of Millioyle, mingled with warme wome, and plaister the hearie to the fundament: if the matter be v'lentious, then he must be purged before that vee close by all, for feare of a Drop-sile or a breaking out. Also take the roote of Flouny, and make powder of it, and take the volke of an Egge, and wheat meale, and mingle the powder and them together, then fry them well with greace or oyle, and vse the same nine or tenne times, and the party shall be whole.

For

For the Emerodes.

C Take the crops of Elders and stamp them, and lay them to the place. Also Leakes & salt is good, and if they rise again, lay them too againe. Also take the roote of wilde Pellitory, and grinde it, and put thereto the powder of Arsenick, and lay it to the place, proued. Also Vinegar, Allom, and Deeres suet, of each alike much being boyled together, is very good.

For the paine of the Emrodes.

C Take Housleake and Sheeps dung, and stamp them boþt together in a morter very small, then take of sheeps lewel and chop it very small, and put it in a ponne, and let it seþh vþe on the fire, then put in the Housleake, and the Sheeps dung, and boyle al together, and when it is well boyled, take it off, and straine it through a linnen cloth into a deeþe dish, and then annoynt the patient therewith, as hote as hee may well endure, this hath been proued.

For the Emerodes.

C Take a stóle with a séege, & let it be closed to the ground, and then take a panne with Charcole, and set it vnder the stóle and as hote as may be suffered sit theron, then take Frankenſence beaten into powder, and cast a good quantity thereto into the fire, and sit on the stóle as close as you can, and when the smoke is gone, cast in more powder in the fire, and sit theron in this order as long as ye may.

Another for the same.

C Take an Oynon, and cutte away the top, of a reasonable breadth, then pull out the heart therof, and take powder of pepper and put thereto a good quantity, and set on the top againe, and take a great linnen cloth, and wet it in water, and wring it well with your hand, and wrap the Oynon therin, and lay it in the fire till it be soft, and then take it out, and put in another cloth, and lay it as hot as may be suffered to your fundameþt and when it is cold, lay another on the place, and so haue alwayes ready fve or sixe to serue your turne, or as many as you thinke needfull.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take an Egge and roste it hard, and lay it to the fundement, and when it is cold, take another, as you did by the Onions: and if you put Verdigreace into your Onions, some thinks it better then Pepper, likewise, you may cut the Eggs in the midst, and take out the yolkes, and put in Verdigreace, and so lay them to the sore.

Another for the same.

C Take Peakes-sote Oyle, and a little Harts-suet, and annoynct the sore well therewith, & then take a tyle-stone, and heate it in the fire as hote as ye may well sit thereon, and if you haue no Tile-stones, then take a stoole and heate it very hote, and so sit thereon: and if the place bleede, take a quantity of Bole atmoniack, and as much of the Harts-suet, and so bise them boþ together.

Another for the same.

C Take the gummie that commeth of the Juniper tree, and annoynct the sore well therewith, and take a Tile-stone or a Coole as I said before, & sit vpon the same very hote: but if you bleed, take a good quantity of Mouscure, and a little Betony, & stamp them together, and drinke the iuyce therof with a little stale Ale, first, soþe or fourme mornings together, & last at night when you ges to bed.

Another for the emerods, proued.

C First take a good quantity of Shoomakers pieces, and burne them on a Tyle-stone very small, so that powder may be made therof, then take a little quantity of Allom, and burne it likewise, and make powder therof, then mix them together, and put therunto the liquor of a Swines gall, and if it happeneth that

that the Swines-gall be dyed uppe by reason of long keeping, then lay it in faire water al night, and it wil returne againe into a ruddy colour: if you can get no Swines-gall, then take a little of the Oyle that Corriours use, to dresse their Leather, and mixe it with your powder, so that it may be somwhat thick like a plister and if you thinke it soiart to much, take more liquor and lesse Almon, and if you thinke it bite not soze enough, then put more Almon thereto: and when this medicinie is thus made, annoynct the soze therewith: and if there bee any pappes comming out of the Tuell when the sore is annoyncted, take a peice of the skinne of the gall, and lay the inner side of the skin vpon the paps, and it shal ease them greatlie: but if the soze be within the Tuel, take and annoynct it within with your finger as farre as yoo can, and it wil helpe the same.

For to destroy the emerods.

C Take olde shoses and burne them to powder, then take a saucerful of Honnie, and then take as much oyle Olyue that is olde, and temper them til they be thicke, and lay this medicinie to the soze place, either for the Piles or Emerods.

For the emerods.

C Take redde Worts, and seeth them in a pot, then take the pot, and set the same vnder a close Chapze, and sitte ouer it, and wrap your clothes so close that no ayze come forth, and sit so still til it ware colde, then take of the same liquor and therewith annoynct the partie. Also take a plat e of Lead, and rub thereon a quantite of Bores greace for a man, & Swines greace for a woman, and wash it out with white Wine, and annoynct the Emerods, and it wil heale the same.

For all euill in the flankes.

C Take nine Bay leaves and dry them, and make them into powder, and mingle them with what liquor you wil, and drinke thereof euening and morning.

The Path-way to health.

Another remedy for to helpe the flanks.

C Take Capons gfeace, and make an oyntment therof, and annoynct the sore flanks therewith.

Also the roote of the Flower-deince being dryed, red roses dryed, Galngal and Mastick of each a like quantity, these being beaten to powder, and made into oyntment with a little oyle of Roses or oyle of Linsedes, easeth the patne.

Also the decoction of Plantaine, Bursa pastoris, Rosemary, and Knotgrasse, all these are exceeding good to helpe the chafing of the skinne and flanks.

For chafing of the Flanke.

C Take Beane flower, Barly flower, and the flower of Fitches, tempered with a little oyle of Roses, it maketh a pretious oyntment for the same.

Also if the chafing be very great, it is good to make a bath of Hollibocks, Dill, Violets, and Linsedes, with a little Bran, and then to wash the place often therewith.

For sore knees that doe swell and ache.

C Take Rue and Louage, and stampe them together, and put thereto Honay, and make therof a plaister, and lay it to the sore knees, and it shall put away the swelling and the ache within threé or fourre times bsing thereof.

For the swelling of the knees.

C Take the water of the party grieved, after that it hath stood threé or fourre dayes made, then scéeft it and scum it very cleane, and wash the place as hote as may be suffered therewith. Also Milfoyle fried either with Deers suet or Sheeps suet, and laid hote to, is very good for the same.

For the ache or swelling in the knees.

C Take two handfuls of Lavender leaues, or the flowers, or both together, stampe them in a morter very smal, and steept the

The Lauender two houres in a pint of Malmisse, then straine it through a cloth, and boyle it well, and then wisch a Spunge all to bathe the swelling of the knees, or the ache therof, and wisch in sixe or eight dayes vsing, it wil helpe you Gsd willmg.

For the ache or swelling of the kaces.

C Take Sorel, Vinegar, Smallage, and Shepes suet, and melt the suet, and put in these herbes, and make a plaister thereof, and lay it to the soze knee.

Also against the ache and swelling therof, bruse the Flowers of Plantaine with salt, and lay it thereto. Also the leavens of Plantaine stamped and laid thereto, helpeth.

Also the layce of an Drayon being mingled with the greace of a Henne, and made in manner of an oyntment, and so vbed, helpeth the same.

Also bathe your Knes in the water that Elder leaves haue been sodden in, and it wil helpe you.

For him or her that is diseased in their knees, or in their ioynts, that they may not goe.

C Take a blacke Shepes head, and smite it al to peces, wool and al, and put it into a posse with water, and seeth it till it be as soft as pappe, and then plucke out al the bones, and set it on the fire again, and then put vnto the same a good quantity Dattmeale, and let them seeth til they be thicke, and then lay it vpon a peece of Leather, and while it is very hot, lay it to the parties ioynts, and they shal find great ease of the swelling of their ioynts. Prooved.

For a sore knee.

C Take and stith Beanes and Honney, and rawe Eggs, and make a plaister, and lay it vpon the soze knee as hote as you may suffer the same.

For the swelling in a mans knee.

C Take a blwe wollen blanket of cloth, as much as wil lye about the knee, then take the white of two or three Herdes Eggges

The Path-way to health.

Egges, and beate them well in a dish, and spread it vpon the cloth, this done, put the yelkes of the Egges into a dish & beats them, and pat thereto as much or more of blacke Soppe, and beats them well together, and when they be well beaten, make ther of a faire salue, and spread it thick vpon the closh, and the white of the Egges thereon reasonable thicke: then lay this vpon the sore knee, and role it fast thereon for thre dayes, and it wil put away the swelling and the ach thereof. proued.

For ache and swelling of the knees.

C Take a quart of Malmesie and a handfull of Time, boile them very well together, and when it is halfe boiled, put therin a good pice of sweet Butter, & let them boile togesher from a quart till it come to a pint, and when you do go to bed, bathe your knees well therewith, and also wet a closh thre or four times double therein, and lay it also vpon them as hote as may be suffered, letting it lye on all night, and vse this fire or seven times, and it will helpe you by the grace of God.

For a great ache in the knees.

C Take Ground-juie, which hath leaues like Catmint, and hath a red flower, and the leaues of Penetral, and the leaues of Elde, and let them be sodden in Swines greace, and the marrow of a Mare, and annoynt the party so grieved therewith.

For the ache of the legges.

C Take the leaues of the Elder tree, and Penetral, and Cincloyle, and make therof a plaister with Barrows greace, and lay it to the ache of the legges, and it shall helpe them.

For ache of the legges.

C Take and drinke the iuyce of fine-leaued Grasse. Also you may vse How-thistle, Chickweed, Elder-leaues, Groundsel, and Cleavers, of each of these a handfull, dry all these between two Tiles, and lay them to the place that is pained, but let the herbes be first washed ere they be dryed, and it helpeþ.

For

Forache or swelling of the legges.

C Take Datniale and Gilke, and put thereto the tuyce of Boulliske, and Shepes tallowe, and let them bathe altogether till it be thick, and make a plastrer thereof, and lay it about thy sore, and that shall ease the aking, and take away the swelling of thy legges, proued.

For all manner of ache in the legges.

C Take Sage, Kew, Wormwood, Sorrell leauer, Hone-hound, Redde nettles, and Campe them all together, and minigre them with Gray butter, and let it stand so fermes dayes, and stir them often, and straine them cleane, and melt therewith Incense, and this serueþ for all manner of aches in thy legges, if you use theroft when you stand in need.

For blacke horrible swolne legges.

C Take Selondine, Hone-hound, Herbe bennet, and seeth these together in water till the halse be wasted, and therewith wash the sore legges every day thre or fourre times, and make as much at a time as will serue six or seauen times.

For a hot sore legge.

C Take pretty Marrell, Plantaine, Smalladze, Herbe bennet, Sengreene, Violet legges, and the leaves of Tutselme, Marigolds, and grinde all these together, and wryng out the tuyce, and put it in a little Wheate-flower and Honny, and the white of an Egge, and meddle all these together, and lay it vp on the sore all cold.

For swelling in the legges.

C Take thre spoonfulls of Rose-water, and thre spoonfulls of Fennell water, and thre spoonfulls of god Wheate vi-negar, and put them together cold, and skimme off the some of it, and then take a linnen cloth and dip it in, and lay it to the sore place.

The Path-way to health.

For a leg be it never so sore.

C Take the most part of a cow-turd, and lay it upon a cloth plaister-wise, and lay it to the sore place, and if there be a hole in the legge, make a tent of the same, and put it into the hole, and lay the plaister thereto, and let it lye till that it do come off it selfe, and you shall finde great ease.

For a sore legge.

C Take the flowers of Cammonell, a handfull of Sothern-wod, Mallowes, Groundsell, Sage, a handfull of each of these, beat them small in a morter, and boyle them in milke, and put in the seething thereof, the seede of Fenteréke in powder halfe an ounce, Anniséeses, Fennell seed in powder, of each an ounce, and a little May batter, boyle all these together, and when it is but warme, put into it four or five yolks of Eggs, and mingle them all together, and lay it to the sore legge, and in the boyling, put thereto a pint of good red Wine, and it will be the better.

Another for a sore legge, proued.

C Take Celondine, Sage, and Woodbind a handfull, see the she in in a gallon of running water, to a pottel, and then straine it, and scethe againe, and put thereto a vnt of honney, a handfull of the powder of Allom, a penny-worth of Graines beaten in fine powder, and skimme it till it bee very cleare, and then kepe it in a glasse, till such time as you shall have need to use it, then take a cloth and wet it thereto, and wash the sore therewith oftentimes.

For paine in the feet.

C Against the paine of the feete, if any hash beene vsed or crushed, take and eate the roote of the middle Mugwort with honey, and it will ease the paine thereof,

Also let the party annoynt his feete with the joyce of Clary very often, and it will helpe him.

For

For the swelling of the feet.

C Against swelling, and aches of the feet, bruse the flowers of Plantaine with Salt, and lay thereto.

Also stamp the leaves of Plantaine, and lay thereto.

Also take the ioyce of an Dragon, being mingled with the greace of a Hen in manner of an oyntment, and annoyst your feete often therewith.

Also bathe your feete in the water that Elder leaves was sodden in.

For cornes in the toes.

C Take of unslaked Lime a little, and quench it with strong Vinegar, and when you will occupie it, pare the corne, and mingle it with Rose-water, and lay it too.

Also take the gall of a Swine being dryed, but first wash it with hot wafer, and strew the powder thereto.

Also take and cut away the corne, and drop it into a drop or two of a black Snayle, and put thereto the powder of Sandfer, and it taketh away the corne.

Also take Marigolds stamped, and lay upon the soze euening and morning, and if profiteth, or else pare your corne, and lay thereto Turpentine, and red Mare boyled together, and make a plastrer therof, and it helpeth the corne of the toe.

Rules for blood-letting.

Alien, Ipocras, and Auncenna, and other Masters of Physicke, accord and say, that letting blood of the veine, and that is called Flebotomatum, or it is venting, caruing, or cutting, and letting blood of any of these wise, is good for mans healty of body, for blood mingled with other humors that is too much, or else corrupted by the cause of much sicknes: it is therefore good to know which veines in a man should be let blood, and for what sicknes.

The Path-way to health.

The veine in the forehead is good for the frensic, and aking of the head, and for the Meigrim, and for the Morpheus, and scab in the face, for the Pustules in the eyes both hot and cold.

The veine in the heart is good for a man's minde, and for the Rume that is within the forehead, and for the watring eyes.

The veines in the temple is good for the Meigrim, and for the headache of the eyes, and that hath long lasted, for the sicknesses of the eyes, for ache in the eyes, and for the great heate in the temples.

The veines behidn the eares is good for the blaines and pimples of the head, for meigrim and ache of the head, it helpeth man's minde, it is good for tooth-ache, and for the gums, and for all vices in the mouth, and it purgeth the rume of the head.

The veine in the corner of the eyes next the nose, is good for the Meigrim, and for al the sicknesses of the eyes, and for the eight Cephica tum prius apta.

The veine in the toppe of the nose, it purgeth the braine, it is good for ache, and flux of the eyss, and for the ache of the nose.

The veine in the cheekes is good for the Meigrim, and for spots or scabs in the head.

The veine in the mold is best for to bleed, and for to wash thy head with the same blood.

The veines of the ouer lippe, and the nesper, be good for hot blaines in the mouth, and for apossums, and for hot culs in the mouth or gums.

The veine vnder the tongue is good for apossums, and rumes of the head, the gums, and all maner of vice of the eyes, mouth, tongue, tooth-aking, & blaines of the nose, mouth, gums, and for the apostumes and swellings vnder the shroat.

The veines vnder the chinne is good for the Kings euill, and for Sauce sleane, for spots and blains in the face, and other ache of the eyes, the gums, and for ache in the nose.

The veins of the neck before, is good for the Squintey, and for all manner of apostumes and swellings that come from the head to the eares, or to the gums, that causeth the toothach, whē

the

þe b̄reast beginneth to be shorȝt.

The veine of the luer that is called Basilica, it is good for the Jaundise, and for chafing of the luer, and for all manner of droppis, and it is good for al cuills in the b̄reast, and aking of þe backe, shoulders, sides, and stomach, and for the Poultice that is called Pleusis.

The head veine that is called Cephanica, it is good for þe Migrin, and for head ache, and for madnes of the minde, for ache, and all other vices in þe eyes, flesh, tongue, þe Squintacie, and other eviles that come to þe throt.

The heart veine that is called Cardieca vt medium, it is gentle Purgations, for it draweth blood and humors of al þe body but namely it is good for sicknes, and purgations of the heart, b̄reast, stomach, luer, and lungs.

The veine aboue þe thumb is good againſt all Feauers, and most Feauer quartaine, and for all cuills of þe gall, and for straightnes of the b̄reast.

The veine betwene þe thumb and þe fore finger, let blood for þe hot headache, for frenzie, and madnes of wit, and for sicknes of the head, Cephanica, let þe blood of þe vein in þe forehead if it be need.

The same veine of the left hand is good for Litargy, and afterward blode in þe forehead.

The veine which is betwene þe little finger and þe next thereto is called Salua cella, you must let blood in the right hand for Possetes and sicknes in þe stomach, and for all euill humors about þe luer.

The same vein on the left hand is to let blood for Impostumis and gathering of euill humors about þe wist and spleene: it is good for the black Jaunders.

The ouer veine in the pard is good for the Crampes, and for Sciatica passio, for swelling of the womb, for the droppis, and for the stone.

The nether veine of the pard is good for the sides, for the ratus, bladder, for swelling of the stones, and for the enterods.

The veine beneath þe knæ helpeþ þe knæs: and it is good for aking of the shighes and the ioynts, that is called Sciatica passio.

The Path-way to health.

The veines beneath the knées both within and without, is good for the liver, sides, and shighes, and for the matter that is above, and for to draw downward.

The veine in the hammes is best for with-holding of Womens purgations, for it is the next matter, as saith Auicen, and also it cleaseth mans body.

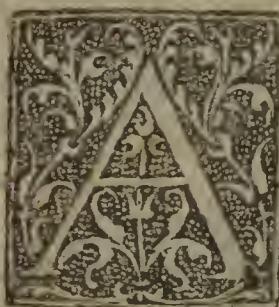

The veine that is vnder the knockle which is called Sophenia, it is good for postumes, swellings and akings, and other evills that come to mans body from the head to the foot, it asswageþ them, it is good for the stonet letting of bryne, it helpeþ the matrice and womens purgations, it is good for the scabbe that is called Malum mortum de basilica.

The veine that is vnder the knockell without, that is called Sianca, it is good for aking that is in the shighes, & goeth down to the legs and to the feet, and for the Podagar, and for the scab, it helpeþ most the aking of the shighes and iointes, that is called Sciatica passio.

The veine that commeth to the great toe on eyther foote, it is good for the gout in the eyes, for blaines and spottes in the face, and for postumes and evills of the stones, for the blood, for cankers, festeres, and sores in the shighes and legges, and for with-holding of Womens purgations.

As for the time of letting blood, to wit, that neither in hot weather, nor yet in great cold, nor in rainie weather, nor in mistie weather, nor in the weather of great tempest, nor in the old Moone, nor in the newe: that is to say, foare dayes before the change, neither fourte dayes after, but the shrewe first quarters be good, see that the Moon be in a good signe, and from St. Bartholomeus tide to Saint Peters tide: till Februarie let the blood on the left armes, and in January on the right, that is to say, Ver or Sommer, from the xxv. day of July to the first of September let no bloud, for then the canicular dayes be, after the teaching of Galien and Auicenna.

Rules concerning blood-letting, to bee obserued.

Also be ye alwates well adusled, and wary, what ye let no blood, nor open no vaine, except the Moone be either in Aries, Cancer, the first halfe of Libra, the last halfe of Scorpio, or in Sagittarius, Aquarius, or Pisces, remembryng also that you ought not to do it in the day of the changing, nor in the day next after the same, or when the signe is in the place where the incision shold be made: neither in the heat of Sommer, as from middle July vnto the middle of September, nor in the cold time of Winter, when therere is much frost and snow, except urgent necessity forcessh you thererante.
Also if you choose out these signes following, appointed vnto each complection, doubtlesse you shall do the better, so that time and occasion will suffer it, as thus.

Open a veine in the slegmatique person, when the Moone is in Aries, sauing in the head.

In a melancholick man, the Moone being in the first halfe or fiftene degrees of Libra, except in the hips, or when the Moone is in Aquary, sauing in the legs.

In a cholerick body, it is best to let blood what time the Moone is in Cancer, sauing in the brest, the last halfe of Scorpio, sauing in the priuy members, or in Pisces, sauing in the feet.

The sanguine man may bleed in any of the soze said Signes, so that he do it not what time the signe is in the member, or the season inconvenient thererofe. Beware also yee Chirurgians, that you make no notable incision, as to cut Ruptures, take out the Stone in the bladder, denoyde from the body any naturall Excrentes, Wennes, or Podes, to dipart, deplorate or rotten members, to root out the Cancer in the brest, let out the water collected in the belly through the disease Ascites: to be short, to make an incision or cauterization in any member, or to remoue the Calicicle from the eye, or to attempt any other like

The Path-way to health.

like stinging by manuall working upon the body of man, when the signe conuerting the same is in the member in the which such attempts are to be made for the remedy of any of these diseases aboue-said : or when the Lord of the ascendent or first house, is the same signe that gencineth part of the body at that time, or where there is any oppositions, conjunctions, or quartile aspects of Saturne and Mars, or when any Planet is evill aspected unto another, or when the Moon is in the signe of Leo, or in the day of the change, or full, except great necessity require it.

Moreover, I would wish no incision to bee made about the full of the Moone, wherafter any great flux of blood may be feared to ensue, though the signe be never so meet, but rather let it be done in the wane of the Moone.

As touching the stone ruptures, Dropesies, to be holpen by way of incision, I have rather mentioned them in this place, because that the rude and ignorant Chirurgian may be brought to the true practise and knowledge hereof. I doubt not but to make many partakers of the benefit thereof, whose good intent I would wish either to follow in shose attempts, and so to doe it in better refuge, when other means will take no place in that case: it being a most assured remedy for the true and due observations of letting blood, right well allowed, and practised at all times.

Rules for Purging.

Also it is good to take purgations when the Moone is in Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces, to give pills especially when the Moone is in Pisces. Purge by drynks, electuaries, boles, when the Moone is in Cancer or Scorpio, remember that you purge not in the change, nor in any unfortunate aspect of the Planets unto any other, neither in the extreme heat or cold of the yare.

Now if any man woulde know what commodity purging or bleeding bringeth, being rightly used, and done in such sort as it ought to be done, or what dyet and exercise should bee used after after bleeding, and order observed in purging with the inconveniencie and harme, which may and doth daily procede of the negligence and unskilfulness in the contempt of the same.

For all Diseases through the Body, and for all kind of Agues:

Take Purflaine, Gentill, Bursa pastoris, and Stampe them all togesher, and doe thereto Winegar, and bind it to the pulses, & it will greatly helpe you. Also take the powder of Cloues and Pepper, of each a like quantity, and eate falling at one time as much as will lie upon a Six pence, and drinke not to one houre after.

Also let the partie so grieved with the Ague, take halfe a pint of his owne wafer, and a penny-worth of Pepper brused, and put thereto: and let the party so grieved, drinke thereof all, in houre before that the fitte doth come vpon him, and let him lie downe and sweat as much as he may.

Another for the Ague.

C Take a posse of thinne ale, and put thereto a handfull of Parsley, as much redde Fennell, as much Centozte, as much Pimpernell, and let the Ale be halfe consumed away, and then take and drinke thereof.

Another for the Ague.

C Take thre Burre-rotes, and wash them, and straine them, scithe them with halfe a pinte of Ale, and so drinke thereof luke-warme before the fitte doth come.

Another for the same.

Take Endive, Bowfistle, Dandelion Lettice, Sarell, of each a like much, and stille them al togother, and giue it to the party so grieved, it is very good against the Ague.

The Path-way to healths.

Another experiment for the Ague.

Take four handfuls of Groundswellie, and stampe it small in a Morter, and put thereto thre spoonfuls of Vinegar, and thre spoonfuls of Bay-salt, grind them altogether, then put them in a pewter dish, and set them on a chafing-dish of coles and stirre them togesher til the liquor is almost dry: then lay it to the wrists as hote as the party can suffer it, every time as howre before the fitte doth come.

For the ague, another medicine.

Take a handful of redde Sage, and a handful of red nettles, and a handful of Hearbe-grace, and two spoonfulls of bay-salt, and a spoonful of strong Vinegar, and a piece of leauened bread, and let al these be wel beate togesher: and bind it to the pulces of your wrists before that the fit doth come, and it shall helpe you by the power of God: proued.

For the hot ague, a remedy.

Take the iuyce of Hengraine and the whites of 4. Eggs, and faire flower of Wheat, and meddle it wel togesher, and make therof a plaister, and lay it to the patients sides, then take the water of Betony, the water of Pimpernel, Scabious water, water of Turmentil, the water of Radish, of each of these alike much, and meddle al these together, and give the patient to drinke al hote, before that his fitte doth come.

Another for the same, proued.

Take a pynt of thy iuyce of Horzel, and put it into a pot of Milke, when it beginneth to leevy upon the fire, then take it off the fire, and let it stand, and it wil have a curde upon the same like unto a posset-curde: then take the curde off, and let the patient drinke þere of a god draught at a time, as hote as he can possible endure to drinke it, and by Gods grace it wil help him within two or thre tyme senerally drinking. This Medycine hath bene proued.

Another

Another for the same.

C Take a handful of Smallage, a handful of Bursa pastoris, and so much white Frankincense, as will cover two shillings at fyre, and as much Wax salt, and bray them in a Moister, and so lay them upon a thynne cloth to the wrist, and about the arme at night when you goe to bed, an houre or two before that your fit doth come vpon you.

For the burning ague.

C Take a handful of Smallage, a handful of Fetherfew, a handful of Redde sage, stamp them altogether, and take fyre or fourte spounfulls of the parties water, and as much Vinegar, & boile them altogether on the fire a little while, and take a quantity of the same Hearbes, and wringing the liquor out of them, lay them vpon a cloth, and bind it hot vpon your temples, and not vpon your soore head, then take the rest, and bind it to the parties mysses as hot as he may suffer it, before that the fitte commeth, and within thre or fourre times dressing, he shall finde great ease, and be helped of his Ague.

Another for the same.

C Take a pottle of Water, with halfe a pint of Vinegar, take also Endis, Suckozie, Violet leaves, slae-leaved grasse, and Strawberry leaves, of each of them a god quantitey, and seth them to a quart, and put thereto halfe a pound of Sugar, and drinke thereof morning and evening.

For the quartaine ague.

C Take Ribwort, Wax roots, and the leaves, to the quantity of fyre or fourre handfuls, wash the hearbes cleane, then stamp them in a wooden dish, with a wooden pestle, and strain the iuyce from the hearbes, and drinke it milke warme, and this taketh away the humors of the stomack, and from the hart, within five or sixre times using: it cureth and helpeth the sick party so grieved with the ague: proued.

The Path-way to health.

For the Ague comming with cold.

C Take five crops of Rosemary, and five cropps of Sage, and five crops of Marigolds, nine Bay-leaves, and a quart of Strong Ale, seeþe all these together well, and drinke it with Pepper being warme, and bse it.

For feauer Agues in children.

C Take the powder of Chrystal, and lay it in soke in Wine, and give it to þe Child to drinke, and the sucking Child shal be whole.

Also take Morsus diaboli þye roote and þye bearbe, and hang it about þe necke of the child.

For all manner of aches, a Seare-cloth.

C Take Ware, Turpentine, Rosin, hard Pitch, Boies greace, powder of Coriander, powder of Bayas, Frankensence, ayle de vte de popilion, & take all these thyngs saue the powder, and set it ouer the fire, and stir it fast till it be molten, and set it down and skim it not, nor straine it not at al, stir it fast til it be mye cold, and then brewe in þy powder with þy hand, as þou wouldest brewe flower into a Childs pappe, and when it is al in and welmy cold, spread it with a slice vpon a peice of leather, and when it is spread vpon the leather, take a new linnen cloþ, and lay it vpon, and couch it fast, and at your need vse it.

For a cold and ache of the limmes.

C Take a handfull of Suger, a handfull of Endiae, a handfull of the red flowers of Archangell, and a quantity of Dandilon, and seeþe the same in Mutton, and eate the Mutton, and drinke the Brash, and you shall finde ease.

Another for the same.

C Take a handfull of Balme, a handfull of Rosemary, a handfull of Mallowes, a handfull of Smallice, a handfull of Wale.

Walfloweres, and all manner of sweet herbes that ye can finde, and seeth them in a tankard of water, with halfe a pecke of wheaten branne: and when it is sodden, straine the herbes through a cloth as you would doe a bucke, and set it on the fire and with other water straine it: and so bath you and sweate, and you shall be whole God willing.

For aking of the ioynts.

C Take March Mallowes, and saete milke, Linsedes, powder of Comin, the whites of Egges, Saffron, and white greace, and fry all these toghether, and lay it to the aking of the ioynt: this hath been proved.

For ache in any place, an oyntment.

C Take and chese a Stere till he scummer: then take that dung and fry it with Shepes lebet, or else with Sallet oyle, and it will come to a fine oyntment, and then annoynt the place therewith: proved.

Also take the oyle of Rose and annoynt the ache withall, and it will helpe you.

For ache in the bone or ioynt.

C Take a picked Harts skinne, after or draw him, and cut it in small pieces, bones, flesh and all: take that and wash it cleane that no blood be therin, then take cleane water, and set it over the fire, and as it leefyes scum away the fat and sauie it, and let it leef till that no fat will come of him, and then cast away the flesh, and put it in a boare, and annoynt the greace where the ache is, and it shall be whole: and doe this thre or four times.

A medicine for all aches.

C Take halfe a pinte of Woll oyle, a quarter of a pinte of Peates-sole oyle, and halfe a pound of Barrowes greace, firste set the Barrowes greace upon the fire, and skum it cleane, put in your Peates sole oyle, and beat them al thre toghether being on the fire, then scum it cleane, and put it in your Wool-oyle, and beat hem altogether, then boyle hem toghether, and take them off the fire, and vse it at your need.

The Path-way to health.

A medicine for all aches in the bones.

C Take the gal of an Ore, and set it on the fire, and seeth it, and scumme it til it be very cleane, & put it into a glasse, and stoppe it close, then take Peates-foste oyle, and gather it very fine, and put it into a glasse also, and stop it close: then take Aqua vitæ in another glasse, and stop it close: then take of the oyle and waters aforesaid, of each even portioned, & two fimes so much portion of the Aqua vitæ, and put them toghether in one vessel, so warme it and amoynt your grise, and it shal helpe you God willing.

Anothrr medicine for the ache.

C Take Swans greace, Goose greace, Hens, or Capons greace, of each of these a quantity, but the more of Swans greace then of al the rest, and when they are mingled together, then take a pint of Malmesie, and a handfull of Lauender-spike, Rosemary as much, and let your Malmesie seethe til it be almost wassed, and then put altogether with a littis Boes greace, and so boyle them, and vse them for your ache, and it shal ease you.

For him that is fallen broken.

C Take a Truss and trasse the party so straight as he can, and it will very much helpe him.

Also take the ioyce of Madder, the ioyce of redde Pettles, the ioyce of Hemp, the ioyce of Bugle, the ioyce of Camphire, the ioyce of Caple, of each of these two Hawcerfuls, of Waine fourt Hawcerfuls, of Honey three Hawcerfuls, boyle them al together, and skimme them wel, and then take it downe, and drinke thereof daily, first and last, sixe spoonesfuls at once, the space of fourtene dayes.

A plaister for a man that is broken.

C Take of Bugle, of Cawle, of each a like much, stampē them smal with a little of the haire of a Hares skin, then take an vnce of War, and melt it with a spoonful of water, and pue to your Bugle, and Cawle, and the haire: and stampē it with a little Bole armoniack, and fry them altogether, and stir it, and make thereof a plaister, and lay it on a peice of leather, and lay it straight upon the place of youre soze, and so serue it threē or fourē dayes, and so gien the space of twelve dayes.

For a man or child that is welaiebroken, and to heale them.

C First make sixe pellets in this manner, take the root of Polipodii, and the roote of Betony, the trop and root of Datties, of every one an vnce, and make powder thereto, then take Bole armoniacke an vnce and a halfe, of Honney clarified an vnce, of these make a plaister, and if it be too thin, put more powder thereto, and if it be too thicke, put thereto more honny, and take and rowle it and make pellets thereto as many as ye may take thereof: then take more of the roote of Polipodit, and the root of Betony, and the crops and roots of Datties, of each two vnces, and punne them as you do Greene-sawce, and put that iuyce into a quart or more of Ale tht is stale, & boyle it to a pinte, and straine it through a cloth, then boile it againe with Sugger three penny-worth, and when the Sugger is molt, then put it in a glasse, and every day eake a pellet thereof moring and evening last, and drinke every time the quantity of threē spoonfull of your drinke in the glasse, then if your drinke be done, you must make more: but you must understand that the sick man must lye upright sixe dayes, and that he be bound wtsely and faire, and that hee eate laxative meates for straying of the humours, and it shall heale him mightily: and sorely prooued.

The Path-way to health.

If a man childe be newe broken, this will cure him.

C Take the roote of Camphire, and the leafe of Osmonde, and the young roote of Elme leanes, Aunce, and leaves of Padder, and the leanes of Cassire, of each of all these a like much, these must be sodde altogether in new ale, with a good quantity of clarified Honny, and skimme it, and put it into a pot, and every day drinke thereof fasting, and also at eueninge and binde it vp very straignt.

For broken bones, in what place soever they be.

C Take a new stye, and maile him in the fire, and make it all to powder, then stye it in the fire againe till it be redde, let it kelle, and take that powder, the tynce of Daisies, and the tynce of Camphire by even portions: and melt altogether, and make a plaister therof, and lay it to the bone that is broken, and eue-ry day renew it thereto. Item take Daisie and Camphier, and Egrimony, and temper hem with Vinegar, and lay hem ther-to, and it shall helpe hem so grieued.

For the bone ache, and to take it away.

C Take Sperewort, Olives, Crofoote, hearbe Christopher, Walwort, Henbane, Honay-suckle-flowers, Culrage, Rosemary, Mallowes, recde Wart-leanes, red Onions, and Ribwort, stell all them by themselves, and after meddle altogether, save onely the Sperewort, which must be meddled with halfe a part of the other Waters, meddle hem before the heat of the fire with your hands, and annoynt the place therewith oftentimes.

To knit a broken bone.

C Take Aunce, Camphire, Egrimony, and temper hem with Vinegar, and lay it to the bone. Also take Daisies, the crops

rops of Hempe and redde Coleworts, and redde Pettles, and Bramble-leaues, Sothern-wood, Tansie, Pimpernell, Betony, Buglosse, Mader, Wash them and beat them small, and drinke the iuice therof both in morning and evening.

For all maner of bones that aketh.

C Take a pinte of White-wine, and the gall of an Ore, boyle them well, and skinne them cleare, then take crummes of white bread, and put them thereto, and make thereof a plastrer, and lay the same to the griesse soure or fine times: and it shall helpe you.

For broken bones.

C Take Crey-land that is burnt, and grinde the same to powder, and put thereto the iuyce of Dasies, and the iuyce of Camphier, and strew on the powder till it be thicke, and lay it to the place plaister-wise, and the broken bone shall knyt againe very shottly, and become whole.

To make an oyntment for burning of Gunpowder, or for scalding with water.

C Take a quarte of Bores greace, and two handfulls of Groundswell, and two or three heads of Housteeke, and stamp the heastes together, and then put to it of new sheepes dunge two handfulls, and as much of Goose dunge, and stamp all together, and fry them, and being hose, straine them through a cloth into an earthen pot, and with the same liquor anoint the soze that is burnt with Gun-powder.

To take away a heatē or burning with Gun-powder.

C Take a good quantitie of Hoale-leeke, stampē it, and wryng out the iuyce: then take the white of sixe Egges, and beatē them in a dish till they be thin, and then take off the scur, and put the rest together, and wash the sores with a linnen cloth, and after, lay a wet cloth on the soze.

The Pathway to health.

A remedy for burning, or scalding, or any hure with an hand-gonne.

C Take shēepe's dunge of one night's making, and fresh Butter unsalted, or else clarified Shēepe's suet be & frise the same in a frying panne a good while, untill your suet, almost consumed, therin put them in a course linnen cloth, and straine them into a small bessell; then take a feather, and dip it in the liquoꝝ, and anoynt the place where the patient is so burned or scalded; and when you haue so done, wette a fine linnen cloth in the sayde liquour, and couer the sore wifhall, and vse to doe this twice or thrice a day.

For burniug or scalding.

C Take halfe a pound of Shēepe's suet, and as much of the crindels of Shēepe's dunge, and a quarter of a pound of the inner rindes of Elder·tre  s, and cry them altogether, and drawe it through a cloth into a pewter dish, and it will be fast, chafe it agaist the sore.

For burning, a medicine prov'd:

C Take the white of Hennies dunge, and of shēepe's dunge of ground Rose, of House·leke, shēepe's suet, and boyle them all together, and straine them, and so anoynt the burning sore, and take a Rose·campion leafe, and lay it aloft vpon the place, and a thin cloth vpon that, and it shall helpe it.

For burning, a remedie.

C Take a quantity of Bores greace, and pat the same into a frying panne, and bozing out the greace, reserving the suet, then take not full halfe so much Rape·oyle, and put it thereto, with two or thre   spoonfuls of cleere Vinegar and Water, labouring them all very well together: and so reserue it to your vse, but stoppe it very close till such tyme as you need, and syts shall helpe you.

For burning with fire.

C Take blacke Marnish, and all to annoynt the place with a leasyer, and it will both stay the heate and heale it as faire as ever it was; this you may vse till you be whole.

For burning or scalding.

C Take a good hardsfull of aunce, and as much of Schepes dung, and fry them well togesher in May butter, and straine it, and vse to annoynt the grieved place with the same colds twise a day, and annoynt it first with gray or blacke Sope, and it will helpe thee: this oyntment must bee spred upon a flaxen cloth if you can get it.

Another for burning or scalding.

C Take Oyle=olive, and beate the same with water till it were very white, and annoynt the soze place therewith.

For burning or scalding.

C Take Snowe-water, and that will asswage the heate, and then take the white of an Egge, and clipp the haires of a Cunnes skinne, and dip them in the white of an Egge, and lay it to the burnt place, and it will heale it, and it will cause the skinne to be more faire then all the other: proued.

For all bruzes a Medicine.

C Take Plantain, Drpin, Camphire, Hollie-hocke, and Gower, and make a plastrer, and lay it to the soze.

Also take the groundes of Ale or Beer, and Wheats-branne, and Chick-wede, and lay it to the griefe thre or four times a day, upon a redde cloth, not too thinne.

For a bruze.

C Take Pitch, Rozen, and wrought Ware, and Bores greace, or Swines greace, of each a like much: boile all these toge ther in a pan till it come to a salue, and then strike it upon a linnen cloth, and lay it to the bruse, and let it lie four or five dayes thereto, and you shall finde great ease.

The Pathway to health.

Another medicine for a bruse.

C Take halfe a pound of Sheeps lewt cleane tried, and as much unwrought wtar, two vnces of Rozen, and a spoonfull of Frankensence in fine powder, and well searced, then boyle them all togheter, and skim it cleane with a seafyer, and when it is boyled take it from the fire, and when it is halfe cold spren wet or dip a linnen cloth in the same, so that every part bee thorough wet, and lay it abroade till it be thorough cold, and role it vp, and it may be kept all the yeare, and blett as neede shall require, for this is a pretious Scarf cloth for all manner of ache or bruses: Prooved.

Another for the same.

C Take Mallowes, Smallage, bruse Wort, planter, the more of Smallage, and temper it with Sheeps lewt, & make this salve in May, and you may kepe it all the yeare after, and use it as your need doth require.

For all manner of botches.

C Against botches, mingle this hearbe Timbalaria with Sheeps dung, and lay it thereto plaister wise, and it shall ripen the botch quickly.

Another for the same.

C Also to ripe botches, confect five or sixe dramms of Elecammon with Barly meale, and the white of an Egge, and lay it to the botch, and it will ripen the same.

For to breake the botch.

C Take Bramble leaves, Elder leaves, and Musterd seed, and stamp them all together, and then take of it and mak a plaister thereof, and lay it to thy soote, and it will draw out all the benigne.

Another

Another for the same.

C Take one spoonfull of Honey, the iuyce of Spurge two spoonals and a halfe, of Wheaten flower a god quantity, and one spoonfull of Turpentine, temper all these toghether, and lay it to the batch, and it helpeth.

For biting of a Serpene.

C Against byting of a Serpent or venomous beast, take two drams of the powder of Cynamony, with two measures of Wheate that is called Ciates, and it will cast out the venonie.

Another for the same.

C Take Centory and stampe it with his owne water, and giue the sick to drinke, it is as good for Beast as men, for the biting of an Adder. Also beare Veruaine about thee, and the serpent as some report shall haue no power to hurt thee.

Another for the biting of a Serpent.

C Take and see the two or thre handfull of Veruaine, and wash the place therwith, and stamp the leaves, and lay thereto, and it will abate the swelling therof, and bray this heerb Veruaine with honey, and lay it often thereto, and it will resounde and heale it faire againe.

Also the iuyce of Cinkfeyle being drunk, putteth out all bosome, so doth the iuyce of Plantaine.

For the biting of a mad dogge.

C Take of the saede of Wox, and stampe it, and temper it with water, and giue it to the party so grieved, and it helpeth them God willing.

Also take Sauery and temper it with bread, and lay it thereto unto, and it hath the same vertue.

Also stampe leng Plantaine, and lay it to the greued place, and it will cure the soze: Provied.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

Take Walnuts, and scampe them with salt, and an D-anon, they be good for the biting of a mad dogge being layed thereto.

Also Betony that is greene being laide thereto, helpeth the biting of a mad dogge, in very shor space.

For biting of venomous beasts.

Take Garlick and bray it, and lay it to the place so bitten, and it will in shor time cure the same.

Also if Garlick be eaten, it putteth forth the venome in the body, and cleanseth the same.

Also take powder of Aristalogia rotunda, with the juice of Mints.

Also if the roote of Brusewort be bruised and laid thereto, it healeth the biting of venomous beasts.

For a man or woman that is in a consumption.

Take a brasse pot, and fill it with water, and set it on the fire, and put a great earthen pot within that pot, and then put in these parcels following.

Take a Cocke and pull him aline, then scraffe off his skin, then beate him in pieces: take Dates a pound, & slit out the stones, and lay a layer over them in the bottome of the pot, and then lay a piece of this Cocke, and upon synt some more of the Dates.
Then take Succory, Endive, and parly roots, and so every layer one vpon an other, and put in fine gold, and some pearle and cover the pot as close as may be with coarse tow, and so let him distill a god while, and so reserve it to your use, till such tyme as you haue need thereto.

For a weake person iu a consumption.

Take a quart of red Rose-water, and a pottel of the cra-kings of the milke of a Cowe, 2. d. of fine Manchets, the yolkes

The Path-way to health.

70

of fyfty Egs, halfe a pound of Raisons of the sunne, Cinamen one vnce, Nutmegs one vnce, Mace halfe an vnce, Cloves & quarter of an vnce, of long Pepper halfe an vnce, your bread must be fine grated, and your Raisons stoned, and your Dates scraped, and all your other spices beaten all togesher. then put in your Egges and milke so stirred togesher, and then last of all your Rose-water. and so dissil it in a Limbeck of glasse, and so reseve it to your vse, and as need requireth to vse it.

For to restore health in a consumption.

C Take a handfull of Yarrow and stamp it and straine it into a dish, and put thereto the yolk of an Egge, and a little Sugar fine beaten, and with this ioyce being heat luke warm, temper therwith as much of Wheat flower as will make Paste, then the Paste being well wrought, make thereof little cakes, as biggs and as thicke as an old fessorne, and bake them vpon a little shard, and being baked, let the Patient eate one of the cakes every day thre times, or as much as he or she can eate, and by the prouidence of God it shall make them strong and mighty, this hath been proued.

For a consumption in the raines.

C Take Clary leaues and prick them, and fry them with two or three yolks of Egs, and put thereto Saffron dried vpon a stone, and grinde it small, and put all togesher, and fry them with fresh butter, and eate it warme next your heart, and it will helpe you God willing.

For one that is in a consumption.

C Take a great number of young Pettles that springeth at the roote, and wash them cleane, and stamp them and straine them till you haue a pinte of the ioyce therof, then put them in a faire skillet, and set it over the fire, and let it seeth till it ware some.

The Path-way to health.

Some-what redde: then take it from the fire, and put thereto a quart of Halmesey, and brew them together a good space, then take the yolkes of six new layd Egges, and beate them together, then brewe it againe, and put thereto as much sugar as will make it sweet: then let the party so grieved, take euery night and morning a reasonable draught thereof blood-warme, and by the grace of G D D, it shall ease the party so grieved in very short space.

To helpe to restore him that is in a consumption.

T Take a Cocke which is neither fat nor lean, and swinge his neck, and hang him vp by the legges, and let him beat himselfe to death with his wings, and when hee is cold stea him, and take out the bowels, then cut off his necke and legges, and see that his body within be well dyed with a cloth, and quarter him, and at fourre stolls, stell the quarters being first well hacked and chopped, and the water that shall come out of the cocke being stilled, you must give the patient in his brothes or drincks being blood-warme, and within short time by Gods grace, it will restore him or her. But remember that the party grieved, doe neþer eate nor drinke in all the time, any meats or þroþys dressed with hot splices, or sharpe sauces.

A notable restoritie and electuarie for a man that is wasted or consumed, called the electuary of life, practi-zed by M. Baltazar.

T Take two pound of Dates, and wash them cleane in Ale or Beere, then cut them and take out the Stones, and the white skinnes, and cut them small, and bray them very small and fine till they be as tough as ware, then take a quart of clarified Honey, and cass the Dates thereto till they be dissolved, then take halfe an ounce of long Pepper, as much of Space and Cloves, and Nutmeggs beaten in fine powder, then seeth the Dates

The Path-way to health.

71

Dates and Honny ouer a soft fire, shen cast on the powder by little and little, and stirre it very fast, and let it seeth long, till it ware thicke, shen set it to coole, and put it in close Bores, and eate therfore first and last: and it shall restore a man bee he never so weake or lowe brought: vse this sometimes vpon a full stomacke, and you shall not surfeit, proued by M. Baltazer Chirurgion.

An Electuary most soueraine for all manner of diseases in the body: proued by

G. K.

C Take fourte poynid of Sugar, and boyle it in a pint and a halfe of Malmesey, and put thereto a pint of Rose-water, and a pint and a halfe of White-wine, halfe a pint of Aqua vita, and of running water a pint: boyle all these togeþher, and when it is well sodden, take of the powder of Enala campana an ounce and a halfe, of Calamus aromaticus and Licoris, of each half an ounce, pepper threé penny waight, one halfe-penny-worth of Aſſander ſeedes in powder, thre pence waight, of conſerue of Roſes and Violets, of each fourte ounces, boyle all theſe to a meaſurable thicknes, then put thereto of folliater golde, and all to cut it with a knife, and mingle it with the aforesaid Electuary, and vſe it as your need requireth, and by Gods grace it will helpe you.

A restoritie for the weake and feeble.

C Take a pint of running Water, and heate it ouer the fire, and put in it a handfull of Rosemary, let it boile to the halfe and then ſtraine it: then take a pint of White wine, or Claret wine, and a good part of Sugar, and powder of Ginger, and Ci-namom, a little Mace and Cloues, and put them al togither, then lay ſops in a dish, and pouare thereon the broþ, and giue it to the ſicke and feeble persons fasting in the morning, proued.

E

For

The Path-way to health.

For a consumption, prov'd.

CTake halfe an ounce of Manus Christi, one ouunce of white sugar Candy, and a penny-worth of Annisades, and halfe a pinte of Kedde-rose water, and a pint of muscadine, orare new layd Egges, a quarter of Nutmegges, halfe a quarter of Cap-Dates, and 6 ons your Dates, and wash them before that you doe put them in, and boyle them altsgeþer, and so vse them, for his halfe beene proued.

A Ielly proued for a consumption.

CTake a well flesched Capon and scald him, and draw his blode, and put into his belly a handfull of Barly, and as much Kepsons, Currans and Dates, and put him in an earthen pot with a gallon of Claret wine, then put thereto some Sianeson and Ginger: let it seeth till the flesh be fallen from the bones, then beate him in a Morter, and put him into an Iporcas bag, and let the Jelly runne into a faire vessell, and giue the patient of that jelly euening & morning: and within the spending of thre Capons, by the grace of God, the patient shall recover much his healthy: and to comfort his stomack, giue him Rorax aromaticum, made in losings at the Apothecaries.

A present remedy for the Sciaticke.

CTake a handfull of Violet leaves, and wash them in good Ale, then take an other pinte of good Ale, and set it on the fire in a skillet, and then beate the Violet leaves very small, and so boyle them in the Ale, and then when it is half boyled, take out the leaves, and straine the iuyce into the aforesaid Ale againe, and boyle it very well untill that it bee thicke, and then take a piece of Sheepe's leaþer, as broad as the place which is grieved, and prick it full of holes, and spread the same on the rough side of the leaþer, and lay it to the place xxit. houres, and then change it, and lay to it new, and so vse it thre dayes, and you shall be well: the oftner the better.

To

To make a water for the Sciatica.

C Take a þerçie of Porke of a male-Hogge which is leane, and þerboyle it in water until þe blod be cleyned out, then boile it in strong Ale a good while, and after þat take it away distil it with a soft fire, and then keþe þe water, and wash þe þicces so gretted two or þree times against þe fire.

For a Sciatica, another medicin.

C Take an Oxe gall, and red Allam, Rosemary-tops, bay Salt, Aqua vitæ, and Vinegar, bray hem well togesher, and set hem on þe fire, and alwayes stirre it, but let it not seethe, and so vse it as need requireth.

Another for the same.

C Take Quince, Comyn, and as much white salt, a handfull of Red nettles, and leefy them in pissle, and when þey bee well boyled, put thereto Aqua vitæ, and annoynct well þe sore shere with þree or four times.

A medicine for the Sciatica.

C Take Time, Lauender Cotten, the runnings or out-lases of Straw-berries, of each a like quantite, a nest or two of young Swallowes aline, with þe feathers and the guts, and stampem hem very small, and so fry hem in May-butter that is sweet and new, boyle hem on þe fire, then straine it through a cloþ, and put it into a pot, and so vse it at your pleasure.

For the Cramp.

C The Cramp commeth commonly of contractions of nerves, or els it commeth of too much fulnes of þe body, or too much leauenesse: and note well þat in þe Palsie þe members bee more longer þen þey should be by relaxation, and in þe cramp þe members are sharter þen þey should be by shrinking of þe nerves, but þe Cramp þat commeth of wanting, is seldom cured, if þe paine be great, & wil hal cease it with oile of roses

The Path-way to health.

o<sup>r</sup> of Camemile hot, and of yelks of Egges and Saffron together, and wet Bread in sweet hote Oylke, for this ceaseth the aking of the Nerves. Also make a garter of an Hares skin, but the luer is said to be full good for the Crampe, pronounced.

For the Crampe, a remedy.

C Take oyle of Camemile, and Fenegrēke, and annoyne the place where the Crampe is, and it helpeth.

Another for the same.

C Bath these herbes, Betony, Wormewood, Meriaunce, and time, these are exceeding good for to wash the party so troubled with the Crampe, if he make it in a bath.

Another for the same.

C If you say these words thre times when the Cramp comemeth upon you, Bero, baro bactora, it may hap helpe you.

To make one to haue a good colour.

C Take and drinke the iuyce of Isole fassing, warme it, and it will make you to haue a god cultour, it is good for the sight, it destroyeth wormes, it is good for the Stomacks, the liver, and the lunges.

For the Canker, a remedie.

C Take lentils of the Water which be called Frogs feete, or Emets meate. it is of great vertue if it be stamped, and the iuyce medled with Porkes greace, and lay it platter-wise on the Canker, it stayeth and healeth mightily.

Another remedy for the Canker.

C Take as much Allam as a Nut, halfe a glasse full of Honey, and a pnt of Red wine, and lase them together till it come to the third part, then straine it through a cloþe, and wash the Canes therewith.

Another.

[Another for the same.]

C Take a handfull of bunset Leekes, with the rootes, and a small quantity of Parrotin, ten or twenty branches syerof, and boile them in white-wine vntill they be all very soft, and then straine them and clarifie them: and let the patient drinke of it morning and euening, blood-warme.

For to kill the Ganker in a mans body.

C Take the roote of Dragons, and breake it in small pieces, and dry it, and make it in powder, and take nine penny waight of the powder, and put it in Wine, and leech it wel, and then let the sicke drinke thereof warme a god draught fasting in the morning for thre dayes togesher.

[Another for the same.]

C Take two handfulls of Sage, and as much Wood-vinde leaves, with the rootes of a wilde Wine, this being stamped and strained, take a little Honay with a piece of Allam being warmed, and so wash the soze place where the Canker is.

For the Canker, a remedy.

C Take Christall, and make it in fine powder, and the powder of Harts-horne burnt, with as much of the rind of a Poungranet, and the ioyce of Night-shade, and giue all these to the party, eyther man, woman, or child.

For the Chollick and the stone.

C Take a handfull of Sapistrage, a handfull of Pellitory of the Wall, a handfull of bunset Isole, a handfull of bunset Lime, and see þ all these hearbes well togesher with a quarte of god Halmesy to a pint, and the powder of the whole Egge-shells, and as much of the powder of Hasell-nut shells: when you haue put the licor from the hearbes, then put in the powder to the same, and let the patient drinke thereof warme in the morning fasting, and it will helpe him.

The Path-way to health.

For the collick a remedy.

C Take white Lime, Parsley, bruse them, and Crayne them with stale Ale, and set it to the fire, and make it warme, and put thereto a good quantite of Graines, and so drinke it. Also take Brome seede that is greene: and give it to the party to drinke being dried and made in powder, and when the paine is vpon him vse it.

Another for the collicke.

C Take a pinte of Sallet oyle, halfe a handfull of white salt, and scethe them: then dippe in two or threé handfuls of blacke Sheeps wooll, and bind the same from the nauell to the bottom of your belly as warme as you can suffer it.

For the collica passio.

C Take the roote of Nuttfoyle and long Pepper, & grinde them small in powder, and drinke it in good Ale. Also take Lime and Safron, stamp them togeher, and put thereto a little good Ale, and straine it through a cloþ, and then give it to the Patient to drinke, and it shall ease him forthwith. Also make a plaister of the hearbe Philopendula being sodden with the aforesaid hearbes.

For the collica passio.

C Take the crums of cleane wheaten bread, and white Vineger, and vses powder of Comin, & boyle all the m together, and make a plaister thereof: and as hot as the sick may suffer it, lay it neare to the belly, and he shall soone be eased of his paine. Also take Turmentile and Creakle de Bayes, and eat it, and drinke of the water of Elderne flowers stilled.

Another for the same.

C Take vnset Leakes, and cut way the faces and all, then take the white of the Leake, and bray it small with May butter, & fry it, & lay it very hot to the nauel being bound with a cloþ.

For

For the collick and the stone.

C Take the greene pith of an Elder Falke that is betwene the bark and the stalk, and stampe it small, and drinke it with good Ale, and it shall breake wind.

For a man that is costife.

C Take Mallowes, Mercury, and seethe them with Pouke, and make therof pottage, and let the party eat therof, and drinke Ulhay, and it shall make him solllible. Also take the iuyce of Walwoort, and mingle it with honey, and drinke it.

For the dropsie, prooued.

C Take two peard of sage, Ryall, and two pound of water Carsen, and two pound of Ilope, take these hearbes, and bray them in a morter, and bring out the iuyce therof, and then take Ulheats flower, and blend it with the iuyce, and make a Loafe therof, and bake it in an Ouen, and all hot breake him into two or three gallons of good stale Ale, and let ther be no dreggs therin, and so let it stand all night, and stop it close, and let the sick therof drinke at all times, and he shall be whole. Also take Boage, and Langdebeefe, and Parly, and Scabios, and of water Cresses as much of the other hearbes, a handfull of Somerwoort, and vse this pottage with that drinke, and he shall be whole.

Another for the dropsie, prooued.

C Take foure penny waight of Scamony, and two penny waight of Rubarb, & sixe penny waight of Scene, and a penny waight of Setwell, and a penny waight of Spignard, and a penny waight of the powder of Camomell, and an vnce of Sugar, and bray all these splices in a morter of brasie, and mingle therewith the Sugar, & then let the sick vse this medicin three dayes fasting, a good spoonfull at once, and it will make him ffor to haue a good stomack, and doe away all euils.

The Path-way to health.

For the Dropsie, if it be curable or no:

C Take Barly meale and the iuyce of Spinage and of Marigolds, and make thereof a plaister, and lay it thre times vnto a mans liuer, and if the plaister be dry soone, he is curable, and if it dry not, he is incurable.

For the Dropsie, another prooued:

C Take a handfull of the tender crops of Broome, and stampe them and straine them in a quart of stale Ale, and boyle it till it be halfe wasted: then put thereto some Synamon, and Ginger, and set the patient upright in a chaire, so that his feete touch not the ground by two foote and a halfe, then put vnder his feete a panne of coales, and lay overthwart the pan a payre of tonges, or two, and lay thereon greene Broome, and let him sette the soles of his feete thereon, and giae him of the drinke blood-warme, and so let him sweat well when he goeth to bed, and by Gods grace it will helpe him.

For a Dormitorie.

C Take a quarter of a pound of Almonds blened, and a halfe pound of Hempseed, thre times washed in cleane water, and sixe Dates, and stampe them altogether, and put thereto good stale Ale, and take an ounce and a halfe of Poppy seede brused, and let it lie in Ale thre or fourre houres, and then seeth them together and straine them, and give the sick to eate thereof warme: and it shall quickly make him sleep by Gods grace.

To draw a Bile from one place to another.

C Take Oculus Christi, and Meruaine, and make a plaister of them, and let the same be layd vpon the Bile, two fingers broad: and when it hath liue a good while, renew it, and so remoue it still from place to place, vnsell it be laide in the place where you would haue it breake.

To

To draw out arrowes out of a mans body.

C Take Polipodion and grinde it with fresh greace that is olde, and binde the same vpon the place, and it will soone drawe it out, be it arrow, or shrone, or any other euill thing.

To draw out an arrow head.

C For to draw an arrow head out of a mans flesh, take red Spere roote, temper the same and seeth it with Honey, and then lay it on a closh, and lay it to the wound, and it shall drawe it out by the grace of God quickly.

For a dart in a mans body.

C Take a Worme that is called Piacher, that is as great as a Beane, and is cleane blew or sender, & hath many small feete, and is white vnder the belly, and when a man toucheth it, it will be as round as a button: take this Worme, and rubbe it well against the Dart, till it be all broken; and do this every day thre or four times, and at every time take thre or fours Wormes.

For all manner of falling euills.

C Take the bloud of his little finger that is sick, and write these thre verses following, and hang it about his necke, Iaspe fert micram, thus melchior balthazar aurum, hec quicum secum portat tria nomina regum, soluitur a morbo domini pietate caduca, and it shall helpe the party so grieved.

For the falling euill.

C Take the powder of Dymond, and the root of yllyng, and take the powder of Mortegar, and drinke all these with Ale Ale, and let them say their prayers: and as soone as the party falleth downe, tak e the gall of a Dogge, and giue the liche to drinke with god ale that is stale, and by Gods grace he shall never haue the falling euill any more: prouer.

The Path-way to health

For to cure the falling euill in foure dayes.

C Take Swallowes, and beate hem, feathers, guts and all, Castorey Wineger, and some Iermander, distilled first in water, and some Carduus benedictus water, and then stille all, and give the sick to drinke therof. Also take the root of Piony and shake it in powder, and put it into pappe for a child, and let him or them lick it with a litte Sage, and they that be of age may eate the more quantity therof. Also the black seed of Piony is good therfore.

For the falling euill.

C The fylling of gold being taken in meat and drinke, is god against that euill, and if the Patients backe be annoyed with the oyle of Juniper in the very chine, and so is a dram of Castoreum very god therfore.

Also take the powder of Gentiana, with the iuyce of wilye Sage, is good for the falling euill.

The manner and vse to be obserued and kept in the time of curing of a fistula.

C First you must search the blcer with your tent, to know the depth and the length therof, that you may knowe of what use to make your tente, and annoynt the sore only with Populion, and your tent also, and dippe the ende therof in the powder following for two daies, once a day dresse it with your powder and other two daies with nothing but Populion to remoure the aker, and thus inlarge your tent till the worke be known unto you, so long as it casteth a blocky, malte gory, stinking, or bloody water, till vsse your powder untill it come grosse, thick, and white, and then apply wundisters or cleasers, and the blcer cleased, then vsse incarnatines, as the greene balme before written, & other that follow: alwaies rather shortening your tent, and making of it lesse till you be assured of the victory so signallation, sealing or sinking of the water that hereafter shall followe serued mosher and the congelour.

The

The powder for the Fistula:

C Take two ounces of græne Copperas, and burne it in a Goldsmiths potte, called a crucible, Mercurii sublimati an ounce, grinde them small on a Marble stone, till that it be very fine powder, and vse it when need requireth.

A skinning water for the Fistula:

C Take Strong Vinegar that is white, for that is best, a quart of litarge of gold finely beaten, & finely searced a pound, mingle them together, and let them infuse in a glasse thre or fourre dayes, stirring them together twice in a day, then let it settle a day, and take the cleared thereof, and put it into a viall or glasse: and so you haue the mother.

The congelour in a Fistula:

C Take faire water a pint, salt genne two ounrees, common salt a good spoonfull, boyle all till the salts bee dissolved, then putt the clearest shereof into a glasse, and this is the congelour.

The vse of the congelour.

C Take of the mother thre parts, of the congelour 2. parts and a little more, put them together, and it wil be an oyntment or a thick creame, lay it on the place that you would haueskinned, or the creeping tetter, and it shall doe wonderfully for the long blcers that lack nothing but skinning, and it will skin in very shorttyme.

For the Fistula:

C In what place soever it be, take the iuyce of Tormentil, and drop it into the hole, and it helveth, and so doth a tent dipped in the said iuyce, & layd to the Fistula. Also take græne Bentonie with salt, and make a tent, and putt to it a plaister of the same, and it will heale it.

The Pathway to health.

Another for the same.

C Take of the powder of Copperis with two parts of beane meale, and confect hem with french sope, and shape a tent therewith, then put it into the hole of the Fistula, it wil clese it in such manner, that if ther be any bones corrupt or broken, that they may be taken out, and it will consume the evill moystures.

To stop a very great fluxe.

C Take halfe a pound of Almonds and blanch them, and rampe them very small in a Morter, and then take twelue yolkes of newe layde Egges rosted harde, and put them into a Morter, and dray altogether, and then take a pint of strong red Vinegar, for that is best, and put it into the same stufte, then mingle the well together, and then put all into a faire pot of earth, and rampe it well, then take there of five oz. sixe spoonfulls at once, but first warme it, and then drinke thre or foare times upon a day, if need be.

Another for the same.

C Take the root of a great Docke that beares the Burre, and the leauss of Dake, and ground Juie, and make a bath of them, and put thy feete therin up to the ankles, but no higher, and let thy feete stand long therin, as hote as ye may suffer it, and then keepe them warme.

A medicin for to stop the fluxe or lax.

C Take thre Nutmegs and rost them, take of Cynamor thre ounces, thre new layd Egges, and rost them very hard till they be blew, then take the yolke from the white, as much of Bole armoniack as a Douss Egge, then beat the spices very fine, that done, take altogether and beat them: then put them in a quart of strong Ale, stirring all these together, then straine them, and leavy the same till it come to a pint, then gins the partes grinded, to drinke thereof first and last.

The Path-way to health.

77

Also take Alligant and chicken it with Rice-flower, as you would make pappe, then spread it upon a piece of redde leaþer as broad as your hand and for a child lay it beneath the navell somewhat warme, and it helpeth.

For the flix or lax.

C Take Redde-rose buddes, and cluppe off the whites from the leaues, and dry them, and make powder of them, and give it to the party so grieved in a caswel, and at thre times drinkeing it shall ease him. And if the party be weake, to make him a Tansie of Camphier, Plantain and Archangell, a little at a time, assauch as an Egge. You may gather these herbes in Sommer to serue in Winter.

To helpe the bloody flix.

C Take two handfull of Plantaine leaues, and seeth them in faire water, and let it seeth till it be sodden to the one halfe, then take the same water, and straine it through a cloth without any wringing thereof, then with the same water make rice pottage, and let the patient eate thereof a good meale, and it will stop the bloody flix.

Another for the same.

C Take Henne croſſen, and the crops of Wood-bine, and stamp them, and temper them with warme Redde-wine, and give the ſicketheſe to drinke, and let him eate for thre dayes together each day fine Leekes with bread that is hot, and drinke no drinke but Red-wine warme, and he shall be whole, and let the ſickethe have a ſtoole with a ſledge, and make thereunder a little Char-cole fire, and let it be closed round about with a cloþe that no ayre may enter: provued.

For to fret away dead flesh.

C Take Hennes bones and barne them, and the ſheller of Henne Egges, stamp them and make powder of them, and lay it to the dead fleſh, and it will fret it away.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take greene Copperis and burne it, and as much burne Allam, and as much Merdigreace, and grind hem altogether, and use shereof as you need, and it helpeth: proued.

To abate proud flesh.

C Take Honny and clarifie it, and skimme it wylly a feasfer, and take the white of, and take a quantity of Merdigreace till it be greene, and lay thereto.

To rayse vp flesh.

C Take red nettles and bray hem small, and put thereto þyze or fourre cornes of Salt, and mire it wylly butter, and lay it to the soore, and it will make the flesh to grow, and to be more faire shen euer it was before.

To take the fire out of any sore.

C Take a quantity of Rose-water, Sallet oyle, an Dre gall, Housleke, the iuyce of each a like quantity, and so beate þe altogether till that they be all one, and so ganoint the place, and it will take away the fire.

For the Gout, a most precious medeine.

C Take a god handfull of Rewe, as much of Plantafne, and as much of Redde Sage, and stampe hem as small as you can, shen take halfe a pound of blacke Sope, and a penny-worþy of the Treclae of Ians, and meddle all these together: then put hem in a close vessell, and when the paine beginnes to come, make shereof a plaister, and lay it thereto, and he or she shall be eased wyllyn an houre: proued.

For the red Gout.

C This experiment is proued best. Take Quicksilver, Brimstone þyze parts, and two of Quicksilver quenched wylly fresh greace, and the iuyce of Earþ-blid, and a littele of swines gall,

gall, and meddie altogether: and put it into boxes, and when need requireth, anoynt the place, and you shall be whole.

For the Gout that is bolning.

C Take Beane leaves sodden in water, then meddle it with Swines greace, and lay it to the soze place, and it doth away all the bolning.

Also for the same you may take a Foxe and make oyle sheres of, and therewith annoynct the patient.

For the Gout that is in the bones.

C Take the bowes of Rie-bread, and rost them well, and then lay on a dishfull of Garlick, and stampe them, and lay it on the Gout as hotte as may be suffered. Also Malwart sodden in Wine till it be well thicked, and the soze anointed with the same, is very good. Also Nettles wampyt and layd vpon the Gout, helpeth it.

An oyntment for the Goute.

C Take an old fat Cat and slay her, and draw forth her gutes, and bray the Cat, and put her altogether in a fat Cannibers belly, and put thereto halfe a pound of Pepper, Mustard-seede, and Parly seede, of each fourteyn cunces, Cloyme-Wood and Garlick a god quantity. Boile armoniack sixe penny waight, then rost it, and the grace that droppeth from the same, keeps it, and annoynct the Patient withall, and by the grace of God the ache will goe away, for being throughly annoyncted therewith, it preſently helpeth him.

For the Gout a remedy.

C Take a handfull of Rue, as much Canell, as much Turpentine, of red Sage, of each of these a like much, stamp them all as small as you can, then take halfe a pound of black Hope, and mingle all these together, and put them in a close vessell, and when the paine beginneth for to come, make a plaister thereof, and lay it thereto, and the party so grisened shall haue easse within one houre.

The Path-way to health.

For the Goute in the toes.

C Take the roote of Fragon, Matselon, and the roote of Lanceroy, stamp them and drinke them with White wine every day a pottle fasting.

For the Greene-sicknes.

C Take Betony, Harts-tongue, Liverwort of each a good handful, a Fennell roote, wash them and bruse them, and put them in a skillet with a quart of Ale, two spoonfuls of Alisander seedes, and fourt god sticks of Licoris, let al be brused and boyle all in the Ale, till it bee halfe wasted, then straine it, and make it sweet with Sugar, and put into it a little Maces, and Nutmegs, and vse to drinke therof warme, morning and evening, syre or fours spoonfulls, and likewise when your fit doth come upon you.

Another for the same.

C Take the keyes of an Ashen-tree being dryed and made into powder, & take of Red Fennel, Red-sage, and Marterum and Betony, and sethe them in running water from a pottle to a quart, then straine them, and drinke therof a god draught with Sugar, morning and evening luke-warne.

For gnawing and aking in ioynts.

C Take hearbe Bennet, Shepes sue, and Oyle Olive, try them toghether, then take it off the fire, and make therof a playster, and lay it to the soze, and it will ease you.

For a hardnes in the body.

C Against the hardnes of the body, take a good quantity of Holly rootes, with an hearbe called Brancha vrsina, and the root of Mallawes, and Holly-hocke, and temper them altogether in Wine, and a ple twelv dayes, and then straine it, and in straining, put thereto Ware and oyle, and make an oyntment therof, and therewith annoynct the hard-bound body.

Again

Against heate in the body.

C Take and eate ripe Berries, and drinke syne tyme therof, it is very good for them that haue ouer-much heat, for it cooleth the air and an electuary made of these Berries, is very good for them that is grieved with ouermuch heat in the body.

Also take the distilled water of Ore dangu, it is very good and profitable for the same.

A medicine for the blacke Jaundies.

C Take Gentiana, long Pepper, Calamus aromaticus, Auncie, Keysons, Currans, white Soppe of Spayne, of each of these one ounce, and two spoonesfulls of Musterd-seed, and boyle all them in a quart of Wine till the third part be wasted.

Another for the same.

C Take Angell towchis, and grinde hem small, but first wash hem as cleane as ye may, then put thereto a quantity of Peates-fote oyle, and a quantity of Wineger, drinke this medicaine cold thre times, and it will cause you to cast out all the sicknes in your body presently.

Another for the same.

C Take Fennell, Sage, Parsley, Cromwell, of each a like much, and make pottage therof with a peice of god Porke, and eate no other meate that day: provied.

For the yellow Jaundies and greene sicknes.

C Take of Juorie made into small powder, halfe an ounce, of Turmericke thre quarters of an ounce, as much of Hassfron as the weight of a groate, compound all these well together, and vse to drinke of this potion first in the morning, and last in the evening, with a draught of god stale Ale: but if you take it for the blacke Jaundies, you must first purge melancholy, and for the greene Jaundies without purging: and this medicaine will helpe hony, as hony beene provied.

The Path-way to health.

For the yellow iaudies.

C Take a great white Onion, and make a hole where the blade goeth out, to the bignes of a Chelant, and then take Treacle of Jane, as much as will fill the hole, then take halfe an ounce of English Honey being beaten, & so compound the Treacle and Saffron togidher, and put it into the Onion, and sette them against the fire, and rost it well that it doe not burne, and when it is rosted, straine it through a closh, and give the iuyce thereof to the sickle syre dayes togidher, and it shall helpe them.

Another for the same.

C Take a redde Docke root and scrape it, and lay it in a quart of Strong Ale all night.

Another for the same.

C If the patient drinke the Hope of Spatne, and the Hangings of Guoy, it is very good for the yellow Jaundies, being either old or young.

To expell the venim of the iaudies.

C Take of running water a pint, of Endive and Succory, of each halfe a handfull, let them boyle till the halfe bee wasted, then straine it: and put thereto of Rabarbe one dramme and a halfe, and of Spignard a halfe-penny weight fine beaten, of Sugar thre ounces, and let it boyle a little and then take it off, and let it stand close covered all night, and the next day earlie straine it, and give the sickle to drinke thereof fasting, and abstaine from meat two houres after.

For the iaudies in young children.

C Take of Rubarbe, of Turmericke the waight of tennie pence, of white sugar Candy as much, of Spignard the waight of thre pence, make all these in fine powder, and mire it togidher, and three dayes together take thereof in white Wine, or Rennish Wine.

Another.

Another for the same.

C Take Turmerick, Saffron a penny weight, the shauing of Iusyp foore peice weight, the shauing of Harts-horne as much, a sponefull of the irice of Capilly veneris, made into powder, and drinke it in walne, and put thereto a pretty quantity of Sugar, and it helpeth the same.

For an Impostume.

C An Impostume is a swelling or taking out of kind, and it is either of a corrupt humor that must be broken out, or else of superfluity of a humor that should nourish that humor.

First there must bee given a Purgation, after that repercussions are maturatue.

The Remedy.

C Take Holly-hock, Licoris, Lintlede dry Figgis, Lillyrootes, and Jniper berries, seeth them long in water, after doe away the licoris & the Jniper berries, and bray well the other then put thereto Barly meale, Lintseed, Fenegreek, and boill al these together well, and annoynct it st. with fresh Butter, and this ripeth postumes within & without, and it is good in hard and dry impostume though it ware as hard as a stone:repercussions to smite inward, the matter againe should not be vised in children nor in old men; neither where matter is woodish or seruent, nor where the water is much now and then in the burning of sicknes, in the nigrefor iis as greeneth, when the postume or botch commeth of nobler liue or member then it is on then that he be riped there, and not driven away st. deßinary dread of the better member, the which abreding of the postume, and of the venimous matter therof, repercussions must be taken in time ere that the matter be ful seged, and e-er it be corrupt and rotten, and that is good commonly with the irice of cold heatbs as pettymorell, puklaine of the wood, and umbelicus veneris with oyle of roses, and a little aysell, a little Bole arm' niack, a cold oyntment, as Popilion or vnguentum album, or the cold

The Path-way to health.

For the Kings cuill.

C Take the roote of Brionie, or of Aristologia longa, or Smyrewort a like much, and beate them with Honny, and ole greace, and lay it therunto.

Also take Besnes, and entangle them after they bee beaten, with the gleare of an Egge, or old Oyle, and it will dissolve the kernels in Kings cuill.

Also if Darnell be sodden in wome with the denge of an Asse and Ursedes, and being drunke, it helpeth mightily.

Take of the decoction of the barkes or pilles of Copperis, and Spurage, and annoynct it with this oyntment.

Take a gray Serpent and cut off his head and tayle, about four inches thereof, and afterward, with the greace of that serpent annoynct the said soore.

For a Laxe.

C Take Scene an ounce, Rubarbe two penny-worth, Spignard a penny weight, infuse the same with white Wine, or water of Englaſſe or Borage, of each halfe a pint, and warme them scalding hote, or boyle them a little, and so let it stand all night, then warme it in the morning and straine them, put in a little Ginger, and Sugar, and so drinke it all warme, till that you be well eased therof.

A powder laxative.

C Take halfe an ounce of Scene in powder, a quantity of Spignard brused, and an ounce of Ginger in powder, bruse all these very well, and put this into the soft pappe of an apple, and so vse to take a prety quantity of this to bedward.

A powder for a laxative person.

C Take in Sommer the white flowers of Elders, as much as yee will occupy all the yeare, and dry it two or thre daves in the Sunne, and then put the same into a bladder, and when yee will occupy it, dry it as you do Saffron, and put a little in an Ale-berry, or in a messe of pottage, and incontinent he shall haue shrewe or loure stoles,

For the Leaper, a medicinac.

C Take the iuyce of black Berries, and temper it with stry-rop made of wilde Sage, it is good for them that bee leproous, and they that feare the comming of it, should vse every morning to drinke halle an ounce therof.

Another medicine for the Leaper.

C Take and make a bath of strong Wine, that the leaves and flowers of Elder is sodden in, for it greatly profiteth them that be like to fall into lepry by reason of flearie.

Also a bath made in water that Scabious and Moleyne is sodden in, is good for them that haue the spise of the Leaporte, called Alopice, in spe which the harres fall.

To make a manleane.

C Take and fill a panne full of Filberds flowers, and lay them a night and a day, and put thereto Wine that they dry-not, then let the Wine be strained, and let the patient drinke it five dayes together in the moneth of February.

For the lunges:

C Take Sowthernewd, and meddle it with Licoris, and Slope, steech it in wme or water, make it swete with Sugar, and so drinke, is very good for all diseases of the lungs & brest, when the sicknes commeth of cold, the brest shall be annoynted with vnguentum dialthea, and it easeth.

Also the broch of a Creues is good for the paine in the lunges consuming, as when a man hath a swelling about the lunges, then he commeth to drynes and consuming of the naturall moysture till he dieth. Also the roote of wilde Rapes are good to cleanse the lunges, if it be sodden with Licoris, and drunk. Also, if Figges be sodden with Slope, & cleanseth the lunges and healeth the old cough.

The Path-way to health.

For the Morphew.

C Take water of Elder, and drinke therof thre spoonfulls in the morning, and when you haue drunke therof, walke vp and downe till you catch you a god heat, and then take a pint of white Vinegar, and nine Daie apples, and cut them auo lay them thre dayes and thre nights in the same Vinegar, and after take a faire linnen cloth, and put the Apples therin and then straine them, and with the lioure therof annoynct thy body thre dayes.

Also take the iuyce of Helidore, and mingle it with the powder of Brimstone, and doe it to the Morphew all cold.

Also for the Morphew whiste or blacke, take Mustard-seede and salt, and stampe them togesher: then temper them with Vinegar, and annoynct the Morphew therewith.

For the Morphew white or blacke.

C Take an ounce of fine Verdigreace, and one ounce of Brimstone, and make them boþy into small powder, then take two shepes heads that are fat, and cleaue them, and take out the braine and cast it away, then wash them clean and seeth them til they be tender, and then take them off the fire, and let them stand till the next day, and then gather off all the greace therof, and mingle the foresaid powder therewith, and then put it in a box, and let it come neare no fire after thou hast done them togesher, but walke them all cold: and it will heale the Morphew, be it white or blacke, if you annoynct the sicke therewith against the fire every night when he goes to bed, and in the morning wash it away with Vinegar.

Another for the Morphew.

C Take blacke Sope, and put it in a cleane Cloth, and put it in your owne brine, and therewith annoynct the Morphew.
Also let the party grieved drinke morning and evening, water of Fennel, and water of Borage, mingled togesher, in like portions, and within fourtene dayes it will helpe him cleane.

Also

The Path-way to health. 53

Also take greene Copperas, and put it in cleane water, and let it stand a day, and then cleane she water, and then annoynt she Morphe w with she water.

A medicine for the Marmole.

C Take Broome flowers and dry them and beate them to powder, and temper she powder with oyle made of Mints, and a little Vinegar therewith: and annoynt she sore therewith. Take great Wall nuts as they grow, huskes and all, and bray them in a Morter, and temper it with oyle Olive, and fry it in a pan, and put thereto a quantitie of pitch in she frying therof, and straine it through a linnen cloth, and therewith annoynt she sore, and lay Plantaine leaues about she back towards she sore, and every morning wash she sore with Madder water.

For to heale a Marmole.

C Take a pinte of clarified Honey, and a quart of running water, and a great quantity of Sage, and seeth them together as well as thou canst, and wash the wound with the licour, and lay a Sage lease on the wound.

Another for the same.

C Take oyle Olive, and annoynt she sore therewith, and lay thereon a plantaine lease, and every morning wash she sore with Madder water.

For to cure a Marmole.

C Take fresh Seame, and the kernels of ripe Nuts, and tampe them small as may be, and blende them together with Aqua vite, and Honey, and make them thick as a plaister, and lay it on a linnen cloth and put to the Marmole, and as often as ye shall change the plaister, ye shall find it full of red wormes, and therfore keepe this medicine thereto fresh and fresh, til such time as the wormes be cleare out, but looke that you draw not your legges to make them bleede.

The Path-way to health.

A maturative to ripen a botch or a bile.

C Take solver dole, and white of old Swines greace, and beate hem togher, and put thereto salte, and the powder of Comyn, and mingle hem well togher, and makst a plaister therof, this ryppeth and breakesth impossumes, but my Master did put thereto powder of Fenegrake, and the yolke of an Eg at one time, if spere be much, for failting of the heart.

How to make Neruiale for all akings.

C Take two pound of wild marsh, and a pound of Ambrosien, and a pound of Camemile, a pound of Betony, and a pound of Sage, a pound of Morts, and a pound of Hawhew, & a pound of Soughernewood, a pound of Mugwort, & a pound of wormwood, a pound of Mallowes, & a pound of Holly-hock, a pound of Rose-houud, and a pound of red Nettles, a pound of Lorrel leaves, and a pound of liverwort, then take all these herbes & stampe hem in a morter small, and doe thereto thre or four pound of May butter, and a quart of oyle Dine, & stampe hem togher, then doe hem in an earthen pot, and cover it well, and set the pot in a moist place, and let it stand nine dayes, and the tenth day take it out of the pot, and put it in a pan, and set it on the fire to seeth, and stirre it that it do not cleave to the pan, and when it hath well boyled, take it from the fire, and straine it through a cloth, a little and a little into a faire vessel, then take that licour, and put it in a cleane pan, and set it over the fire, and doe thereto a quarter of a pound of sheepe's tallow, melted, and as much Frankensence well broken in powder, and stirre hem well togher till it be molten, and then take it from the fire, and let it stand and coole, and make theron a hole, and let out the water therof: and turne it on the other side, and doe away the soulenes therof: then take it, and doe it in the pan againe: and set it over the fire till that it be molten, and then do thereto a pnt of the greace of a Gray, if you may haue it, then with a feasse scum it cleane, and put it in boxes, and this is spekndly making of Neruiale, and this oyntment is hot.

To

To make Neruaile to helpe all sinewes, and to put them in their strength.

C Take Ambrosen, Camomile, hearbe John, hearbe Water, hearbe Robert, Eglantine, sye leaues of Crosse wood, Pe-negreeke, Laurell leaues, as much shereof as of all the other, breake them and lay them in white Wine, and let them lye so fourteene dayes, then take a pottle of greace, & a quart of May butter, and oyle Olive, and boile them toghether, and strains them, and let them coale: and so vse it to the shunck sinewes.

Here followeth the making of diuers kindes of oyles, and it shewes which be hote, which be cold, according to the opinion of Ipocras and Gallen,

Oyle of Roses.

C Take and fill a glasse full of Rose leaues, and put thereto one pound of oyle Olive, and stop it well, and set it in the sun, stirring it every day once for the space of xv. dayes, then straine it through a cloth, and put it vpon cold water, and stirre it with Hasell wood, but take the barke off, and this is moist and cold.

Oyle of yolkes of Egges.

C Take yolkes of Egges, and put them in a pot ouer the fire, and let them stand ouer the heate of the fire till you perceiue they are become black, then put them in a presse, & presse out the oyle, and this oyle is good for all manner of burnings or scaldings whatsoever.

Oyle of Henbane.

C Take the seade of Henbane and fry it in oyle, and presse it through a cloth, and afterward put the same for your vse into some glasse, for this oyle is good for all manner of swellings, burnings in the toynts.

The Path-way to health.

Oyle of Mandrakes.

C Take and cut hem in diuers pieces, and seeth hem in a double vessell of glasse, and set them in the Sunne, and let it stand nine dayes, then set them on a small fire till they be shick, and keepe that oyle, for it is good for all fessures.

Oyle of Lorrell.

C Take Lorrell leaues and bray hem in a morter, and let it stand two or thre dayes, and then seeth hem, and straine hem through a cloth, and that whiche heaueth aboue, is the oyle.

Also take Lorrell Berries when they bee greene, and seeth them in oyle, and straine hem, and it is good oyle.

Also take Lorrell berries when they be ripe, and seeth them with Lorrell leaues, and the re of thou shalt haue the best Oyle, and this oyle is good for diuers cold causes.

Another sort of oyle, very necessary for diuers purposes.

C Take Almonds or Nuts blanched into a pot full of holes in the bottome, and set that pot vpon a seefing pot, that the breash of the seefing pot may enter into the other pot, and boare these kernells & receive that oyle, and keepe it in a glasse, and this is good for diuers purposes.

To make oyle of Mustard-seede.

C Take foure pound of Mustard-seede, and foure pounde of oyle, grinde hem togher, and let hem stand so nine daies, then stir it and keepe it in boxes: this oyle is good for the palsie, the goute, thewitch, and also for the Podagra.

To make oyle of Fennell.

C Take a quantity of Fennell betwene two Tile stones, or plates of yron make hem very hot, and presse out the liourt, and this oyle will keepe a great while, for it is good for Tisick, dry scab, and for burning or scalding.

To make Oyle of Rew.

C Take rewe leauers and cut the m small, then, put them in a pot wth common oyle, the space of nine or twelue dayes, ther seeth them till they be wasted to the third part, then straine it, and this oyle is very good for to restraine from all manner of priuie causes of pestilence, which are remaining wthyn a man, woman or child.

To make oyle of Iule.

C Take Iule leaues and bruse them, and put them in wth oyle in the same manner as you do Lorrell berries, and so make this oyle of Iule berries.

Another for the same.

C Take Iule berries wth the leaues, and seeth them after the same manner as you doe Lorrell berries, even so doe by the Iule berries.

To make Oyle of Cammemile.

C Take the flowers of Cammemile and stamp them in a Morter, and put thereto oyle Olive, and let it lye in the iuyce twelue dayes, and let it seeth ouer the fire, then let it boyle a little, and take it off and presse out the iuyce, and put it into small glasses, and put thereto the flowers of Camemile beeing stamped small, and let it stand 16. dayes, and so this oyle is made.

To make oyle of Roses.

C Take red Rose leaues a good quantity, and stamp the m in a Morter, and put thereto oyle Olive, and let it stand in the Sunne twelue dayes, and then put it in a glasse, and binde fast the glasse about with ropes of Hay, and set it in a panne full of water, and let it boyle softly two howres, and then let it keele then put it in small glasses, and put thereto the leaues of redde Roses all whole, and stop it fast, and let it in the sunne for sixteene dayes, and so vse it at your neede.

The Path-way to health.

To make oyle of Olibanum,

C Take Bawme flowers a bushell, and picke away the buds, and beate them, and put thereto fresh butter, and a quartre of swines greare, and a pottle of oyle Olive, & put it in an earthen pot or panne of three gallons, and stop the mouth fast with dowe, and set it in the ground, and take a tile and doe it upon syg mouth, that nothing doe come thereto, and let it stand certe dayes vnder the ground, and at the certe dayes end see that you be not fasting, then take a pan with a ladell and put it thereto, and set it ouer the fire, and giue it three warmes vpon the fire till it be greene, then take it from the fire, and straine it into a pewter Basin, and doe it in an earthen vessell where you will keepe it. This is the true making of oyle of Olibanum, and it is moist in working: it is good for all manner of sores, but especially for the morimall and Canker, and for Noli me tangere, or for any other sore, proued by many Masters of Chirurgery.

To make the oyle of Exeter.

C Take two pound of Cowslip flowers in May, and put them in oyle Olive, and then put them in an Earthen pot close vntill the moneth of June, then take these hearbes following, Lorrell, Ambrose, calamint, pellitory of Spaine, Sage, Peritorie, Scabious, Lauender, bearbe John, Lilly roots, Rosemary, of each a handfull: bray all these in a Morter, then take the Cowslips out of the oyle, and bray them as you doe the other hearbes, then put them in a pan and boyle them toghether softly, till all the water be cleane sodden away, for if the water be in the bottome, let it seeth till it be wasted, and then straine them through a cloth with cleane hands, and when your oyle is kindly wrought, then put it in pots or glasses, and stop it from the ayre. This oyle is good for all aches, except the Gout.

To make an oyle for many griefes.

C Take Mirche, Aloes exaticum, Spignard, Sandragon, Licorne, Saracens flesh, Bedilium, Walmyssede, gum Aromaticke, Sick, Giracell, Massick, Saffron, gum Arabick, Storax liquida, of each of these two ounces, Labdanum Castor, of each 2. oynces, Muske, and Turpentine, as much, make powder of all that will be powdered, and medele them with Turpentine, and stell them in a glasse as you doe Rosewater, and keepe it in a very strong glasse. This oyle keepesth the substance of mans lims and synewes, and keepesth dead folkes from rotting, beeinge medled with the oyle of Roses, and annoynt all thy backe from the heart of the fore-head to the raynes, and it maketh a lean body fat: and if the backe be annoynted before thy ars, it helpesth the Feauers, and for him that may not speake, it is good for the rising of the Mother, for the falling euill, for to be put in his eares, and in his nose.

Also it is good for them that be soray without a cause, and for them that be drunke with Wine: and it is comfortable for all diseases be they hote or cold: proued.

To make a greene oyntment.

C Take a pound of Swines greace, an ounce of Verdi greace, halfe an ounce of Salgume, and make shereof an oyntment, and it may be kept forty Winters: and this oyntment is good for the Canker and for running holes, and for to heale all wounds old and new: it fretteth away dead flesh, and bytgetteth new: and put of this into a wound & it shal not fester, and this oyntment is good for the rising of the yard or morial, and shere is no oyntment that worketh so especially as this doth.

To make a greene oyntment.

C Take one pound of Sage, of Bayes halfe a pound, of rewr halfe a pound of Cloomewood as much, and choppe them very small altogether: take threé pound of shepes swet, beate the herbes and the swet together till they be all one, then take threé pints of Sallet oyle, the herbs and the swet mingle them together, and let it stand two dapes, and then sett it on the fire and stir it together til the herbes be somewhat hard, then straine them, and preserue them to their use that haue need shereof.

The Path-way to health.

To make a precious oyntment, called Deweto.

C Take the rasing of Harts-horne 2.pound of Fenegreke, 1.pound of oyle Olive 4.pound, shepes tallow 1.pound, and 2.ounces of Gakanum, 2.ounces of the gum of Iute, and two ounces of Perrossen, and bray them togesher, and do thereto a portion of white Wine, or of water: and so let it stand 3.daisies and on the 4.day let it seeth ouer the fire till it ware thick, then take it off and straine it througha cloþe, and put thereto a little hot water for the thicknes, and straine it as harde as you may between your hands, and take the thid deale of that licour and put thereto two pound of oyle Olive, and let them boyle well, till they besome what was ded, & put thereto a portion of ware and of Turmentill, and doe it to the other licour, and let them seeth well till it ware thicke, then doe it off the fire, and let it keele, & than put it in boxes. This oyntment is good for great greuuances of the stome, and for the aking of the ribbes, and all hard greuuance: it maketh them nesch, but the partie must bee annoynted against the fire, for this hath been proued.

To make a good oyntment.

C Take of Smallage and Mallowes, and put thereto two pound of Bores greace, one pound of May butter, and oyle of Peates feet a good quantity: stamp them well togesher, then fry them, and straine them into an earthen vessell,

A medicine for the Palsie.

C Take ole Olive and the flowers of Cowslips, put them togesher, and stille them in a glasse in the sunne, and then take two spoonefuls of the oyle that shall come of it with a spooneful of Aqua vitæ, and warme it on the fire in a sancer, & so annoynt the place which is benumid or greued, and the patient shal find very great remedy: proued.

A medicine for the Palsie:

C Take a handful of Marigolds, beate them & wryng out the iuyce therof with a draught of Ale, & put to the same a spoonfull full of as god Mustard that may be gotten, warme this drinke thre times, and so giue it to the party so grieved.

Another medicine for the Palsie.

C Take Cowslips, wild Sage, Lauender, and stamp hem small, and worke hem with sweet Ale, and make hem vp in balls, and make holes in hem, and fill hem full of sweet oyle, and let hem stand infuse nine dayes, then take hem and temper hem agayne with sweet oyle, and then fry hem, and straine hem, and so annoynt the party so grieved with the palse.

An Electuary for the Palsie.

C Take Mints, Cinnamon, Comin, Rose leaves dryed, Masticke, Fernigræke, Valerian, Ameos dormici, Zedoarye, Cloues, Sanders, and Lignum aloes, of every one a dram, Muske halfe a dram, make an electuary with clarified honey, and let either man or child that hath the palse, take halfe as much as a nut. Also a bath made with these hearbs, Sauery, Marierua, Tyme, Sage, Pep, Smallage, and Mints, are very wholesome to the same.

A plaister for a man that is benummed in any member with cold or palse.

C Take Savine, Rue, Sage, Musterd-sæde, and temper it with white Wine, and make it as thick as it were a plaister, and so let it stand in a vespell day and night, and then lay it on a closh thick, and lay it to the member benummed.

For the pricking of a thorne or needle in a ioynt, and the hole stopped.

C Take fine bolted flower of Wheate, and temper it with white Wine, and boyle it togather till it be thicke with white Wine, and lay it to the soze as hot as you may suffer it, and it shall open the hole and draw out the veniu, and cease the aking, and heale it agayne, this medicin is god to heale a bille or any Whitlow or Vancoure.

For the pricking of a thorne:

C Take Mather rootes and grind hem small, and boyle it with oyle of Olive, and lay it ther unto, or els with the aforesaid oyle anoynt the sore place, and it will dothe good.

A preparation.

C Take of Endive, Succory, Harts tung, Borage, of each a handfull, of Persly roots, Fennell roots, Fumitory, and the tops of young Hops, of each a quarter of a handfull, of Time, Betony, Germaunder, of each fourre crops, great Katrons a handfull, of Licoris a little by sed, halse an vnce of Fenell seede eth al these in a pot of faire water to the halse, then put thereto thre spoonfuls of vineger, and after one boylng straine them without pressing, then take the clearest thereof, and if you will make a sirrop thereof, put to a pint of the broth, a pound of Suger, and in the boylng thereto put thereto a little Cynamon brased, the weight of eight pence, let him drinke of this fourre good spoonfulls, with thre spoonfulls of Borage water warmed fasting in his bed, and sweat after it.

To make an excellent Millilot plaister:

C Take of greene Millilot brused ten handfulls, boyle it in a potte of white Wine to the wastynge of the halse, and straine it, then put thereto of Rozen a pound, Ware as much, Shepes fallow fourre brices Turpentyn thre vnces, Masticke one vnce, boyle all sauve the Masticke, untill the wastynge of the iuice more then halfe, then bruse other sixe handfulls of Millilot, and put to it while it is a boylng, and stirre it well while it hath a play or two, then take it from the fire, and straine it while it is hot through a course canvas bag, and with wringynge and impynge betwene two round stanes, till by little and little the stiffe gummis, and iuyce be come all out as much as you can get, and when you may handle it, put thereto your vnces of Masticke finely powdered, and make it in rowles, mingle your Mastick in the hanwing therof.

To

The Path-way to health.

To make the powder of life.

CTake Spinage, Columbine, Cammomel, the seed of Violitory and Marigold, of every of these iuyces and seedes one handfull, and dry them out of the Sunne, and make theresopowder, and give it to drinke either hot or cold: for this hath beene proued a medicme full true.

The Philosophers stone so called for medicine to cure al diseases both within and without, Fistules, Canker, Poxe, Falling sicknes, Woolfes, S. Antonies fire, and all incurable diseases, proued.

CTake Celondine leaues fast by the roots in May or June, and seethe them in running water, vntill such time as they doe come to pap, and as pap take them forth, and grind them on a Stone very fine as Greene-sance, and let it be no dryer, then pak them in a glasse with a Limbeck head & a receauer, but it must be stilled, in Balneo likewise receave the first water by it selfe, and when it beginneth to drop somewhat slowly or to change, then take that receauer away, & put another to it, & then take that as long as it will stil, then take that glasse away, and keepe it closely and sure, for that is the fiery element, & the first is the water, then let your glasse cole, and then set it in ashes in a dry Furnace, and draw the last water by it selfe, for that is the aze, and that that remaineth in the bottom is the earth, which earth you must take out, and grind it on a Stone fine, and let it stand vpon the Stone for to dissolve into water, for so it will in time, so that the Stone stand in a moist place, but you must remember to cleare your Stone round about, that the water passe not by when it is in moistnes, set your Stone hanging a little aside, & make a little gutter for the water to run into the glasse in the which glasse it must be congealed vntill it come to ear-therfore to stop your glasse that nothing do goe out but that al may come to earth again, and thus with that earth grinde it and dissolue it, & congeale it two or thre times for it is better, and

The Path-way to health.

Upon this earth will doe great wonders, all diseases it will run through all wounds, and cause the same soz to heale surely, and being drunke with your Aurum potabile, and as much of that earth as a Hasell nut drunke, and this will expulse all wicked humors out of thee, that no ill can grow in the body, if you so use it but once a weke with the portion.

Also your first water must be stilled often, and that remaineth still in the glasse, must be put into the earth soz that is earth, if the Physician do well stille upon the triplicities, and who hath the great governance in man of the triplicities, as soz the earth Taurus, Capricorne, and Virgo, and soz the ayre Aquarius, Libra, and Gemini, and soz the fire Leo, Sagittarius, Aries, and soz the water Cancer, Scorpio, and Pisces: then who so can know the complexions in them, and minister accordingly, he shall doe great wonder with these medicines & Quintisangs, and as for the earth being so bled as aforesaid, it will dissolve silver of it selfe, and also gold: and also heale many incurabiles diseases in man or woman that have long raigned, and beene most incurable soz to be healed. Laus deo.

To make Aurum potabile et Quintescens.

C Take Tartar the best you can get, and fine calcenate it very white, then take a part about a pound, and let it drinke soare pound of Aqua vite, rectified by little and little, glue the Tartar so drinke of the Aqua vite, this must be done in a glasse or Limbeck set upon the ashes with a little fire, and ever keep it close, and so being congealed in manner somewhat liquid, then dissolute it with more Aqua vite rectified, and by and by it will dissolve, and looke as it were Azure right in colour, then take of this water ordained of God, soz to comfort his creatures, put it in a vessel of glasse againe faire being dissolved cleane, then take fine Duckat gold, but beware of the same gold, take an ounce fawne fained in a t. we, and then fine beaten in fine sheetes, then take pure fineliste honey fourre spoonfuls, & take a quarter of Gentiana fine searced to powder, the gold Gentiana and honey must be ground finely, and putt to the Quintescens, halfean vnce of fine mosher pearle, grind all strongly together vpon a Marble stome, and put all into your water or Quintescens, put all into your glasse, and set it in fylling with a gentle fire, and let it stille up and dwoue ten or twelue daies, and then keepe it close and safe, for it is good, let it stille in mes balnes in any case, and then it is done. How doe vse to make oyle of gold in this manner, they doe take vineger and put fylling of gold in it or leafe gold, so let it stand in the Sunne when it is hot twelue dayes, and there will arise vpon the vineger as a scum, the which you must gather with a feather, and as you gashet it you may put it into your Aurum potabile or els grind it with your honys, pearle and Gentian, for this gold is better, for this is one of ths Philosophers great secrets hidden, this is a vertuous Quintescens or water of life to heale all infirmities, as leprosies, and as many as be in man that is hard for to heale, and if a man bee a dying & haue but one dram of nature within him, give him but one spoonful of it, and if his time be not ordained of God it shal helpe him certainly, and will procure him for to liue longer, by Gods prouidence prouided for man.

Note this noble diuine plaister which hath a number of vertues in him, as hereafter followeth.

C Take Galbanum an vnce, Aromatici thre vnces, Apponaci an vnce, new Mar twenty vnces, oyle Olive a pound, Litarge of gold thirteene vnces, Olibane two vnces, myrrh an vnce, greene Copper ris an vnce, Aristologia longa an vnce, mastic an vnce, Bedely two vnces, Orimanda calamita fourt vnces, make all these into powder every one severally by himself, take a pot of earth and your Galbanum, Armoniaci, Appoponaci, and put it in white vineger very strong, and cover the pot til such time that all be molten in them, after straine it through a strainer, then put it in a cleane vessell, and set it on a gentle fire and temperate, and let them simper together vntill all your vineger be consumed, then take your oyle Olive, and put it in the same pot, and so stir them together on a gentle fire continually, and when al is molten then put in your lyngage of gold made in powder, and as you put it in you must be eneir stirring of it that it may consume in the substance: and thus you must use it vntill it come to blacknes, then put in your Wedely, Olibanum, Aristologia longa, Myrrh, Mastick, your Verdigreace, Copperis, and your Calamita, let it be all in very fine powder, and when it is sod and well boyled, it will be blacke and red, and put a little on a stone or cloth, and if it be hard, then it is sodden well, then let hym selfe vntill such time as he be hard, and so preserue it, then anoynt your hand with oyle Olive, & so take it forth, then make it in roles as Past, and put it in a piece of Goates skin well and cleane made, then put it in a vessell of Lead to keepe, made like a hore close, for this is the precious divine plastrer of all the world, none like it, it is a Kings iewel of health, for it is good for all diseases both old and new, and shall giue new flesh, and good that he had no better before, If a man bee broken let him make a plaister, and lay it to nine daies, it shall knit sure for euer againe by Gods grace.

The blacke plaister for all manner of grieses.

C Take a pot of oyle Olive, a part of red Lead, boyle these together, and stir them with a slice of wood continually vntill it be black and somewhat thick, then take it off the fire, and put it in a peny worth of red Mar, and a pound of Roseyn, and set it to the fire againe, but you may not blase it and stir it, then take it off and let it stand vntill it be cold, and make it in a lump, it is good for a new wound, or to staunch blood, poure a little of it in a dish, and if it stick fast unto the dishes side, then it is enough, and preserue it to your use as neare requireth.

The making of the flower of all plaisters and salues called Flos unguentorum per G.K.

C Take halfe a pound of Roseyn, halfe a pound of Perosseyn, a quarter of a pound of Frankensence, a quarter of a pound of virgin Mar, an ynce of Masticks, a quarter of a pound of Degrees

The Pathway to health.

Deare se wet, a quarter of a pound of Sheeps se wet, two drams of Camphyze, a quarter of a pound of Venice Turpentine, and melt that may be molten, and make powder of that which may be beaten to powder, and scarce your powder through a fine seacer, and so compound this treat; or plastrer with all:
your Ware, Shepes se wet, and Deares se wet, must be first molten on a soft fire, then your Olibanum, Pasticke, with your Kosen and Peresson, and your Frankensence and Myrh, and last of all your Turpentine of Venice, and as you put these gums in, you must ever be stirring it with a little sticke that it doe not grow to the kettle side with a soft fire: the gums being throughly molten, take the kettle from the fire, still stirring of it, let your Myrh and your Turpentine be put in the last, for that must not abide on the fire long after it is put in, then take a pottle of god white Wine, and let your strainer be of canvas, ready for to straine the said gums withall, and let there be no holes in the canvas strainer, then take a faire bason, or Peece, and put it in a quart or thre pints of your white Wine, and then let it runne thorow into the white Wine, and so let it cole for the space of two houres, and then worke it and make it vp in roles, and let the roles lie continually still in the white Wine, for it will be white as Allabaster, and yee may keepe it this seuen yeeres in full effect and goodnesse, and especially for all new wounds and aches being spread vpon new canvas, and apply it to the grieve, and these be the vertues of this Flores vnguentorum.

Also this noble Salve or plastrer amongst all other, is most clensing, and well sounding the flesh, that it healeth more in one week then in any other, it will suffer no corruption to be ingendied in man or woman, nor no evill flesh to grow, for all these diseases aboue named, it is the most strange medicine that ever was found: as in experiance it hath beene fall many times proued and tryed.

The Path-way to health.

The golden plaister that healeth all bruses of vaines or sinewes, proued.

23

C Take Colosony, Pitch, Rozen, and Oyle, thre vnces, of liquid Pitch an vnce, of Olibanum an vnce, of Auri vnguenti a like of each, of Wine as much as sufficeth, and make shere of a plaister, and lay it to; and kepe it to your vse.

24

To make Gratia Dei.

25

C Take halfe a pound of Rozen, and boile it in a pan vntill the sone or scum be come of it, then take a quarter of a pound of unwrought wax, & put it into the Rozen, and boyle them together as is aforesaid: then take an vnce of Sheepe's lewet, and as much Turpentine, and oyle Oline a spoonfull, and put them all togeher into the same pan amongst the Rozen and Wax aforesaid, and boyle them all together vntil the sone begin above, and when the same beginneth to ware blacke, then take it off the fire and cleanse it through a faire linnen cloth into a pan of water, then work it with your hands, and put it out as you doe Wredlime for the space of a quarter of an houre, & now and then wet your hands in the water when it cleaueth to the salue, and then make it into roles.

26

To make Gratia dei minor.

C Take Betony, Veruaine, Pimpernell that beares the white flower, of each thre handfulls, and bray them, seeth hem in white Wine til it be halfe sodden, then poure out the Wine through a cloth, and set it ouer the fire: put thereto Perrosin a pound, Mastick a pound, Virgin wax, and take womans milk that nourisbeth a man childe a quantity, mingle hem together boyling with a slice till it be well melt: then take it off the fire, put in halfe a pound of Turpentine, stir it well togeher til it be cold, then kepe it till ye neede: it is good for all new wounds ynd olde; for the Webbe in the eye, it suffereth no dead flesh
to

To remayne within the wound. Also for stinging of venimous beastes, and also for all maner of impostumes, and for all sores.

To make a plaister that will heale a wound.

TTake a pound of the iuyce of Betony, as much of Platynine, the iuyce of Smallage as much, Bursa pastoris as much, and fourteoun pound of Ware and Perristen, a quarter of a pound of Incense: boyle all these togidher with the iuyces of these 4. herbes, till they be almost shick, and then put therem a quarter of a pound of Turpentine, oyle Olive syre a pound, and so hse it as a plaister at need.

A methridate against poysons and pestilence, which for a truth was proued vpon fourc Irish Gentlemen poysoned with Rat-bane, cast into a pan of Milke in France, who were so swolne that they were ready to burst.

TTake of the rootes of Tamentile two drammes, of all the kinde of Haunders, of eury of them a dram, whtte Dittany, new gashered and dryed, a dramme of the top of a Harts bonne, or a Spistrack of precious stonis, the fragmentes of certeint pearle, Bole armoniack, Aristologia rotunda, of each a dram, Pentinal, Myrrh, and se wet, of each two dramis, Terra limnia, of the purest, two drammes: the seedes of Cytrons and Has-fron, of each a scrupule, Unicorns horne, and facints, of each halfe a dramme. The lsecour to make this Electuary is Rosewater, and the water of Bozage flowers distilled: boyle your Sugar and waters to a perfection, and in the cooling, putt in your painders searced, and so reserue it as a most precious treasure, that is, also a present remedy to drue out the Measels, Shingles, small pote, the plague pouches, and hath holpe them whose sores were gone in, and brought them out againe, and recovered the parties, and it defendeth all venim.

The Path-way to health.

To make pills against poysone, of a meruailous vertue, as hath been prooued.

C Take Imperatrice, Bistorta, Turmentilla, Valeriana, Dictamo, Bianco, Carlina, Gentiana, Aristologia rotunda, Agarico, Electo, Salgem, of each a like quantity, beate them in fine powder, then take the iuyce of Garlike, and of Onions, as much as will make it into passe. Also put into the iuyce one dramme of Haffon, then let the sayd passe be mixt dry in the shadow, and then beate it into powder agayne, and mixe it with the foresaid iuyce in good force, and keepe it in a vessell of lead vntill thou hast need, and when thou wilt use it, take thereof four drams, and make thereof pilles with Siropo acetoso, in good forme, the which thou shalt give vnto him that is poysoned, and in short time thou shalt see miracles of this medicin: for all the aforesaid simple is in maner alone sufficient to deliuer one that were poysoned: but beeing mixt toghether, it worketh greater effect, these pilles are of as good erperiment against poison as may be.

For a man that hath drunke poysone.

C Take Betony and stampe it, and mingle it with water, and the poysone that the party hath drunke, will presently come in shagayne.

Against the plague or pestilence.

C Take Matselea, Scentuary, Wormewood, Horehound, of each a good handfull, and steepe them all night in a pot of beere, and in the morning drinke a draught thereof fasting. Also to perfume your Chamber with Rosemary dryed, and Bayleaneys, or Jeneper or Rosewater, and Cloues and Olibanum, it is very good to giue children in time of infection, frawle with water of Dragons or Scabions, or let them chew Zedwall in their mouthes.

To drie out the plague if you thinke one be infected.

C Take the raze of Dragons, and the rootes of Polihopium, of the Dake, of each like quantity, and dry them in an oven, and beate them to powder: and if you thinke that you bee infected, take as much of she powder as will lye on a groat, and put it in a cup of Ale, and drinke it next your heart, and it will drie out the plague, and preserue the patient.

A powder to drinke to preserue one from the plague.

C Take Betony, Pimpernell, Snickfoile, Scabions, of each of all these a like quantity, and dry them all, and beat them into fine powder, and wheresoever infection of the plague is, drinke some of the powder in Ale warme next your heart, two mornings in a weeke, and if the infection be great, drinke it every morning, and by Gods grace it shall helpe you.

For them that are infected with the plague.

C Take a sponefull of running water, a sponefull of Winesgar, a good quantity of Treakle to the bignes of a Walnutt, temper all these together and heate it luke warme, and giue it him to drinke 24. howres.

For the plague a remedy.

C Take Scabions and stampe it with swines greace, and lay it to the sore, and let it lye 24. howres unremoued, and it will take it cleane away, or else breake it, and if the patient drinke she iuyce thereof, it is very good therfore.

For the plague a medicine.

C Take an Onion and cut out the core, and fill it full Treakle of Ime, and rest it in the fire: and then take six sponefulls of red Winesgar, and six sponefulls of iurce of Srell, and straine the Onion with the said iurce, and drinke warme, and it will helpe you.

The Path-way to health

Another for the same.

C Take Treakle of Jane, and stire it together with Ginger and Cloves, and a little Saffron, and take thereof in the morning next to your heart.

For to kill Ring-wormes, or Tetteres.

C Take unslacked lime and Sope, and mixe them together, and lay it vpon a parchment skinne, no bzoader then the Ringworme, and lay it thereto halfe an houre, vntill it take the barke or skinnes, and then take the iuyce of Drpine, and annoynt it till it be cold, and then heale it vp with salue.

Also, if ye take glasse, and make the same into fine powder, and afterward meddle it with blacke Sope, and annoynt the sores therewith, it will heale the same.

A very good oyntment for Ring-wormes or Tetteres.

C Take oyle of Roses two ounces, newe Ware 4. pennywaight, mingle your oyle and Ware togēher, then take Li-tage of Golde, and Seruse, of each halfe an ounce, make your Litage and Seruse into fine powder, and meddle them in a bra-zen Morter with your oyle and Ware: then take half an ounce of Quicksiluer mortified, and the white of an Egge raw layd, meddle them togēher, and put in your Quicksiluer flast, and use it euening and moring, and thus you shall mortifie your Quicksiluer, put it into a bottell of glasse, and put fasting spetle to it, beat it vp and downe till it change colour like ashes, then put in your flasse, and labur them well togēher, and afterward use thereof at your need.

For a Ring-worme or Tetter.

Take four ounces of Bores greace, and one ounce of Quicksiluer, and kill it with fasting spetle, one ounce of Mer-cure, a drame of Camphire, a quantity of blacke Sope,

The Path-way to health.

93

and of Mustard, the iuyce of Walnutt leaues, and grinde them altogether vpon a Painters stone, and put it into a boxe, and therewith annoynt all the places where the Ringworme or Tetter is, evening and morning, till it be whole.

To kill a Ringworme or Tetter in what place soever it be.

C Take blacke Hooke and Pepper, and mingle them together, and make a plaister thereof, and lay it to the gretes.

Also take the iuyce of Honny-suckle leaues, and annoynce the place with a feasper.

Also take the oyle of Scorpian, and annoynce the place where the griefe is, and it helpeth the same.

Also if you take the flower of Hopell and Vineger, and oyle of Puts, and annoynce the place with the same, it will perfectly cure the Tetter or Ring-worme.

A good restoritie to restore a mans nature, and to helpe them that are weake and decayed.

C Take and make Almond milke with the broth of Beke marke-bones: and of a Cocke fyat is well boyled, then temper therewith yolkes of Egges, and good Bassard, then put them in the Almond milke, and make a Cawdell thereof with your Bassard, and cast blaunch powder vpon it, and you may put a little Rosewater vpon it, for it will be the better.

A restorative of Rosa solis.

C Take Rosa solis, but touch not the leaves in gathering, nor wash it not, take thereof fourt handfulls, then take thre pints of good Aqua vita, and put them bothe into a glasse or pot of thre or fourt pints, and then stop it hard soz thre dayes and thre nights, and the fourth day straine it through a cleane clothe.

The Path-way to health.

clothe into a glasse or pewter pot, and put thereto halfe a pound of fine Sugare beaten very fine, take four ounces of fine Lico-ris beaten in powder, halfe a pound of sound Dates, the stones taken out, make them cleane, and mince them small, and put all these togesyher in a glasse or pewter pot, and stop it close that no ayre goe out, and drinke thereto at night halfe a spoonfull with Ale or Beere, but Ale is best, take as much in the morning fasting, for there is not the weakest body in the world that wanteth nature or strength, or that is in a consumption, but that will restore him againe, and make them to haue a good appetite to their meat.

For to restore the strength of a man that is brought low.

¶ Take two or thre Fennell rootes, and as many Parsley rootes, Rose, Time, Sauory, Violet leaves, of each halfe a handfull, and a Licorice sticke bruised small, a spoonfull of Anny-sodes, halfe a handfull of great Raisons, with a handfull of Barly: make your broth of all these, sodden in a pottle of water till it come to a quart or lesse, and when your meat is very well sodden, stampe it: your flesh must be either a Cock Chicken, or a knockell of Weale, and being so stamped ver y weltogether: straine it and keepe it, and giue the patient therof morning and euening often, and it will restore him althoough he bee never so lowe brought.

A salve to heale all manner of sores and especially for a fresh wound.

¶ Take of Oyle Olive and Turpentine a like much, a pretty quantity, of Rosemary-leaves pricked, boyle all these together, and in boyling put thereto a spoonfull of faire water, and let them boile togesyher vntill the water be consumed as an ointment, and when it is boyled, straine it hote and warme, and let it stand in a vessell of earsh, and when ye shall occupy it, heate

The Pathway to health.

97

it ouer the fire, and against the fire dresse the soze, so that the fire may dry the oyntment, and if need be, that there bee no dead flesh, lay lint in the salue, and lay it hote agaist the soze, and if it need to be tented, then tent it with a tent of the same oyntment hote, and lay vpon the tent a plaister of hot cleaving salue, and it will cure any wound or soze,

To make a salue to bring sores that rankle and ake into their owne kinde, and cease the burning and aking.

C Take the luyce of Smallage & of Plantaine, of each like much, of Honny and the white of an Egge a like much, and put thereto flower of boulted Wheate, and stirre them well together vntill it be thicke, and let it come neare no fire but all cold and raw lay it to the soze, and it shall cleane the wound and cease the aking, and bring it to his kinde and heale it faire: so this is a principall salue for sores.

A salue for a new cut that will not leaue bleeding.

C Take the blades of unset Leakes, stamp them, and putt thereto Honny and Wheate flower, and stirre them wel together vntill they be thicke, and let it come neare no fire, but all cold lay it to the wound, and it will staunch the bleeding, and it will drive out the bruised blood, and make it cleane and heale it.

A salue for all sores.

C Take oyle Oline a pint and a halfe, Turpentine asinuch, Roseyn a quarter of a pound, bwozought ware halfe a pound, of Shepes tallow 4. pound, then take two handfulls of Smallage, 2. handfulls of Bugle, 2. handfulls of Ragedwort, 2. handfulls of Plantaine, 2. handfulls of Drpine, and cut al these herbs small, and seeth them in the soresaid geare aboue written, & let it boile softly ouer the fire, alzates stirring it vntill it be well medled together, and when you thinkes it well, take it from the fire, and straine it through a strainer of Canvas, and so vse it.

A

The Path-way to health.

A salve for a new hurt.

C Take Mare and Shepes sewet, but not so much of shepes sewet as ware, and a little Rozen, and if you will heale it shortly, put in but a very little Rozen, and set it over the fire together, and as it riseth stirre it, and then put therin a dish of water, and when it is cold, make it in roules.

Another for the same.

C Take the white Virgin ware that ye can get, and melt it in a panne, then put in a quantity of Butter and Honny, and seeth them together, and take a dish with faire water and strain it into the water, and worke it with your hands, and then make it in a round ball, and so you may keepe it: and when you lay it to any sore, you must first work it in your hand, and then strike it on a cloth and lay it to: and this medicine will both heale and draw the same.

A salve for wounds and all old sores.

C Take halfe a pound of Haruese and somewhat more, of oyle Olie: which is Sallet oyle, two ounces, of Vineger a pretty quantity, and boyle it till it be blacke, and make it vp in soules, and so at your need you may vse it.

A very good salue called Incarnatue, to bring flesh.

C Take of the best Turpentine, and wash it in very fayre water vntill it be very white, and then put out the water from it, and compound it with the yolke of an Egge or two, and put in the dust of Frankensence and Hafron very fine beaten, and so worke them all togesher: and keepe it to your vse when you shall need it.

A notable healing salue.

C Take pure Mare, Rozen, Bolz armoniack, Shepes sewet, Deeres sewet, of each one pound, beate the Rozen and Armoniack

The Path-way to health.

5

wonke into fine powder, and searce it through a fine searce, then take Turpentine halfe a pound, boyle all these together vpon a soft fire, and stir them well all the while that they seethe, but put not in the turpentine vntill it be ready to take from the fire, for it must haue but one walme, and so imploy this salve to any sore wound, and it will heale it in shourt time.

To make a drawing salue.

C Take Deares selwt and melt it, and put in as much oyle Olieue, as much Rozen and Mare, boyle them together, then let it stand and put in some Turpentine, and so straine all thos vpon a linnen cloth, and keepe it to your use.

Another for the same.

C Take an vnce of Mare, two vnces of Shæpes selwt, halfe an vnce of Olibanum, halfe an vnce of Rozen, two spoonfulls of Honny, two handfuls of young Docke leaues, and take and put them into thre or fourre old dock leaues close wrapped togidher, and so roste the young Docks therin, and when the Docks be rosted, put in your gums thereto.

A salue for an old sore.

C Take as many Bramble leaues as when they are shred, come to a quarter of a pound, of Sage, and Valerian, of each of them a quarter of a pound, also as much of Mare, as much fresh butter, halfe a pound of Rozen, then put them into a skillet, and boyle them altogether a good space, and then straine it through a faire cloth, and so keepe the salue till that you haue need therof, and this helpeþ.

The making of a salue to cure wounds that be rankled and bruised, and to cease the swelling, and aking.

C Take the iuyce of Smallage, and the iuyce of pety Morell, and the iuyce of Plantaine leaues, of each a like much, then

B b

The Path-way to health.

Then take Honey and the white os an Egge alike of each of the same as of the iuyce, and meddle them all on the fire, and put thereto flower of bolted VVheat, and stir them well togesher til it be some deale thicke, and then let it come nye no fire, but lay it to the wound all cold, and it will clese the wound and cease the aking and brenning, and bring them in his kind, and heale him faire for euer, and this is a principall salve for sores or wounds: Prooued.

To make a salve that is a precious oyntment for wounds and for bruizing, but it must be drunken in white Wine or stale Ale.

Take of the hearbe Walter, Robart, wylde Thistles, Purlewort, Veruaine, Dassie, the little Knapwort, Egrettoe, ny, Harts tung, Horehound, Pimpernell, hearb Juie, Sancgell, Plantayne, Medewort, Southernwood, little Barnet, Mugwort, Tansie, the holly Thistle, Betony, Turmentile, House-eare, Velvet, Milsoyle, Robwort, black Thistle, wild Sage, crops of Hemp, crops of the red Bramble, crop of the red Worts, Mors diaboli, Groundswelly, Scabions, Sage, Violet of the garden, Osmond waches of the mede, Fumitory, Dawke, Spinage, Strawberries, and the more Daylie, Mede March, Glass crops, Peygell, Woodrone, Croset, German-ber, Tutsan, Weddind, Pedelion, flowers of Brome, Cunktoyle, Wormwort, Scabwort, then take of Auenice as much as him as of all the other hearbs, and then shred them, and do them for a morter, and stamp them small, and doe thereto thre or four pound of May butter clean clarifid and put togesher, and so let them stand seuen daies, and then doe it in a cleane pan, and set it ouer the fire, and let it seeth soft, then strain it through a can-nas cloþ, and do thereto the iuyce of Haffon, and stir them well togesher, & let it seeth forth til it be cold, then meat the sick take therof on this maner: take of this salve six peny weight, & doe it in warm Wine or stale Ale, and let it melt on the fire, and let the sick drinke it first and last, and this healeth wounds well.

For

For the salt humour.

C Take half a pound of Lignum vitæ, and barks fherof, and Annised, Licorice, and boyle all these together, and halfe a pint of clariffed Honey, and all kind of cold hearbs, with Liverwort, and Harts-tong, halfe a quarter of French Barly, and halfe a pound of Raylins of the sunne, pull out the stones of the Raylins, and boyle all these together very well, and straine them, and it will helpe that disease in the body.

For the salt humour another.

C Take white Lead, Ceruse, Litarge of gold, and Litarge of siluer, of each one vnce, Sulphur one vnce, mixe them together, and make them in powder very small, then take oyle of Rose one vnce and a halfe, Vineger, white Wine as much as needeth mixe in due proportion.

To heale any sore or cut.

C Take a little fine Flare, and a little Hogs greace, and chop them together, and make a plastrer of the same, and it will heale it very well and faire.

An oyntment for all maner of sores, and cuts, and swellings, and heat.

C Take Helliot, Egrimony, of each a like much, Willow Betony, Wormwood, and Smallage, a quantity of each of them, and gather them in May, and shred them, and bray them with as much butter waight for waight as the hearbs all together, and then lay it in a corner syre or seuen dayes untill it bee hoary, and then take it and cry it, then strain it into an earthen pot, and when it is cold, make an hole in the side or bottome of the pot that the drosse may runne out.

Another for the same.

C Take a god quantity of Smallage, and Mallowes, and put thereto two pound of Hogs greace, & a pound of butter, and

The Path-way to health.

Style of Peates ſette a quantity, and ſampe them well altogether, then fry them, and ſtraine it in an earthen pot, and keepe it to your uſe.

A water for to heale an old ſore.

C Take a gallon of running water, and ſet it on the fire, and let it ſeeþ: then take an ounce of greene Copperas, two bunces of Bolæ armoniake, white Copperas the quantity of half a Nut, and grind or beate them all to powder together into the ſaid water, and let them ſeeþ together a little while, then take it from the fire, and when it is cold, put it in an earthen bottell, and Stop it ſtill, and then occupy it at your need.

A ſoueraigne water for all manner of ſores.

C Take red Sage, Iſop, Rosemary, red Fennell, Dauies, English Haſtron, Pep, Allom, of each a quantity, but moſt of Dauies, ſeeþ them in running water, and wyring it thorough a cloth, and ſo make a water: and this is good for all ſores.

An oyntment to cleanse old ſtinking ſores.

Take the iuyce of Helidion, the iuyce of Plantayne, Honey, the yolke of an Egge, of each a like much, Barly flower, meddle them together, and put as much Barly flower as ſhal make it thick like a plaſter, and let it come neare nature, and ſo lay it upon the ſore.

A good oyntment to cleanse a ſore both olde or newe.

C Take halfe a pound of Turpentine, and wash it well in Barly water, the yolks of ſix Eggs new layed, honey of Roſes four bunces, and for lacke of honey of Roſes take other hony, Barly flower as much as ſhall be ſufficient to make it tyckie like a plaſter, and meddle them together, and let them not come neare any fire.

To skin the flesh that is raw.

C Take a quart of good Ale, and Allom, Honey, and Woodbind leaves, and stampe the leaves, and put the iuyce to them, and seeth them till they come to a pint, and when it is cold, wet a gray paper in it, and lay it to the soze.

For all manner of scabs.

C Take Enula campana, red Docke rotes, Nightshade, Woodbind leaves, and then cast in a piece of Allom, and put in Vitrioll romana rubrifid when it is cold, and wash the scabbe therewith.

Another for the same.

C Take white syntment, Brimstone, Dutch Silver, Veedigreace, and meddle them toghether, and therewith annoyst the soze scab.

For to doe away scabs.

C Take red Dock roots, Pimpernell, Scabions, Sorell de bayes, Celondine, Stampe them with May butter, and fry them well toghether, and straine them through a cloth into a cleane vessell, and cast thereto a good quantity of Brimstone in powder, and stir it well toghether till it be colde, and therewith annoyst the sick till that he be all whols.

Another for the same.

C Take the roote of Horsehelme and seeke it in water till it be nesh, and take old Shepes tallow and meddle them well toghether in a morter, and doe it in a linnen cloth, and annoyst the soze by the fire.

Another for to doe away scabs.

C Take Celondine, and powder of Brimstone, and meddle them well toghether, and it will doe awae the scabs.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take Onions and mince them, and seeth them in water or in vineger, and wash therewith the scabs or itching, and it shall doe it away, and heale it faire and smooth.

Another for to doe away scabs or itching.

C Take the roots of Enula campana, and wash them cleane in faire water, and seeth them as you seeth Persneps, and then make them cleane, and cut them in pieces, and stamp them small with Colts greace, and auoynt the soze therewith.

A good oyntment for the scabbes, and for itching of the body.

C Take fourre vnces of oyle de bay, and an vnce of Frans Kencense, and two vnces of white Ware, and thre vnces of Swines greace, and an vnce of Quicksiluer that must be slack-ed with fasting spittle, an vnce of great Salt, as much of the one as of the other, and of all these make an ointment, and if the scabs or itch be vpon ail the whole body as wet aboue the girdle as beneath, then when thou goest to bed wash both thy hands and thy feete with warme water, and supple them well therin by the fire, and after dry them with a cloth of linnen, then take vp with thy fingers of that oyntment, and doe it in the palmes of thy hands, and on the soles of thy feete, and rub it well together that it may drinke in well, and if it doe soke in well, thou must put gloves on thy hands, and socks on thy feete, and thus do every night when thou dost go to bed, and if the scab or itch be aboue the girdle and not beneath, then auoynt but thy hands, and if the scab be beneath the girdle, then leoke that thou auoynt the soles of your feete, and if the scab or itch be in al thy body as well above the girdle as beneath, then thou must auoynt both thy hands and thy feete as thou sittest by the fire, and thou shal be whole: this hath been proued.

Another

Another oyntment for a man that is scabbed.

C Take five or sixe handfuls of Horehound; and see the it in running wafer till it be halfe sodden away, and then wash the sicke therewith as hotte as he may suffer it, and then looke that you haue ready this oyntment made of these herbes: take the roote of the red Deckes, and the roote of Helidon, and then take Wormewood and Allelia, of each a like much, and bray them well together, and doe thereto a good portion of May butter, & stamp them well together, and so let them stand seuen dayes, and then fry it, and straine it as thou doest another oyntment, and therewith annoynct the sickle wher he is washed, and he shall be whole.

For the shingles a remedy.

C Take Doves durt that is mossy, and of Barley-meale heaped halfe a pound, and stamp them well together, and doe thereto halfe a pint of vineger and mingle them together, and so lay it to the soze cold, lay Calve leaves therupon, and so let it lyethe three dayes baremoned, and on the third day if need require, lay thereto a new plastrer of the same, and at the most he shall be whole within thre plastrers.

Another for the shingles.

C Take the blood of a Cats eare or of the taile, and therewith annoynct the shingles, and do nothing else thereto. Also take Doves dung, and Barly meale, and stamp them together with Aysell, and lay it to the shingles all cold.

For all manner of sinewes that are shrunken.

C Take the head of a blacks Sheeve, Camomell, Lovrell leaves, Sage, of each a handfull, and bray these herbes in a morter, then boyle them altogether in water till they be well sodden, and let them stand til they be cold, then draw it through a strainer and so ble. it.

The Path-way to health.

An oyntment for shrunken sinewes and aches soueraigne.

C Take eight Swallowes ready to fye out of the nest, drine away the bladders when you take the in out, and let them not touch the earth, stampe them vntill the feathers cannot bee perceived, put to it Lauender cotten, of the strings of Strawberries, the tops of mother tyme, the tops of Rosemary, of each a handfull, take all their waight of May butter, and a quart more, stampe all the feathers that nothing can bee perceived in a stone morter, then make it vp in balls, and put it into an earthen pot for eight dayes close stopped that no ayre take them, take it out, and on a lefft fire as may be seethe it, so that it do bue amper, then straine it, and so reserue it to your vse.

For sinewes that be broken in two.

C Take Wormes while they be knit, and loke that they depart not, and stamp them and lay them to the sore, and it will knit the sinewes that be broken in two.

For to knit sinewes that be broken.

C Take Archangell and cut it in small gobbes, and lay it to the sore, and take Milfoile and stamp it, and lay it aboue it hard bound, and let it ly so thre dayes, and at the thre daies end take it away, and wash it with Wine, and then make a new plaister of the same, and at thre dayes end put thereto another, and doe nothing else thereto.

Another for the same.

C Take Penicillall and bray it, and put salt enough to them, and temper it with Honey, and make a plaister thereof, and lay it vpon the sinewes that bee stiffe, and it will make them to stretch: Proued.

An oyle to stretch sinewes that be shrunke.

C Take a quart of Peates bole oyle, a pint of Peates gall, halfe a pint of Rose-water, as much Aquavitæ, then put all these

These together into a Brasse pann, then take a handfull of Lauender cotton, as much of Bay-leaves, a good quantity of rosemary, a good quantity of Lauender Spike, of Strawberry-leaves, the Strips and all, then take shred and binde them all in severall banches, and put them into the pani or pot, and set them ouer the fire vpon clere coles, with the oyles altogether, and so let them boyle a god while, & when it is boyled enough, it will boyle but softly: then take it off the fire, and let it see the till it be almost cold, then straine it out into a wide mouthed glasse, bottle or pewter pot, and stoppe it close, it will not contynue in a wooden syng: and where the sinewes be shrunk, take of this being warmed, and annoynt the place therewith, and chafe it well against the fire, and use this morning and evening, and keepe the place warme, and by the grace of God, you shall finde great ease.

For to staunch the blood.

C Take Bole armoniacke, and Turpentine, and make a plaister and lay it to, and it will helpe the same. Also if you take the melle of the Hasell tree, and cast it into the wound, and it will stanche the blood sorowly: and the longer that it is gathered, the better it is. Also take a good piece of Marfilmes heefe, out of the roote, and heale it on the coales, and as hote as may be suffered, lay it to the place.

Another for the same.

C Take a piece of leane salt beefe, and let it be of that bigness that it may fill the wound, and lay it in the fire in the hote ashes, till it be hote thorough, and being hote, thrase it into the wound, and binde it fast, and it shal quickly stanch the bleeding.

Another to stanch blood.

C Take Bursa pastoris, tampe it, and lay it to the vain, and it will quickly stanch bleeding.

The Path-way to health.

Another for the same.

C Take the mosse that growest about the root of the Ashe tree, and hold it to thy nose and smell it, and it will stanche the bleeding thereof.

To staunch blood when a Maister vaine is cut.

C Take rawe Bale that never had any salt cast thereon, and lay it on a gridiron over fresh coales well kindled, and lay the Bale thereon, still turning the same till it be well broiled, and then lay it to the soze, and it will stanach the blood: and so to the nose, if it be put into a closh and smelt to, it helpeth.

To staunch bloud.

C Take an hearbe that is called Lunaha, and stamp it, and lay it to the wound, or take the treene leaues theress, and lay them on the wound, and it shall stanach: and if a man may not haue this hearbe, let him burne the feathers of a Cocks necke, and take the ashes of them and lay on the wound, and the blood shall soone be stanched.

For swelling that commeth sudainly in a mans limmes.

C Take Harts-tongue, Chervyle, and cut them small, and then take drags of Ale, and wheate branne, and shépes tallow molte, and doe all to a pot, and seeth them till that they be thick, and then make a plaister and lay it to the swolling.

Another for the same.

C Take faire Water and salte, and stirre them well togeher, and theron wet a closh, and lay it to the swelling.

For to make one slender.

C Take Fennell and seeth it in water a very good quantity, and wortz out the ioyce there of when it is sod, and drinke it first and last, and it shall helpe the patient.

For to breake the stone, a medicine.

C Take halfe a handfull of Pelitory of the wall, halfe a dozen Parsly rotes, halfe a handfull of bnslette Time, a quarelity of Pennyjall, and seethe all shese in a pottle of Kennishe Wine or white wne, and let it seeth to a quart or a pint, whiche you will: then take a Nutmegge rosted and dryit by the fire, and diuide it in four parts, and drinke the same warme after it is straineid, as mych at a time as you thinke god.

Another for the same.

C Take the rotes of Parsly, Pelitory, and red Pekles, of each a like quantity, wash hem cleane and mince hem smal, and lay hem in White wine twenty fourre houres, and stille hem toghether, and drinke it with two pound of rotes put to a quart of White wine.

For the stone a remedy.

C Take Keysons, bnslet Leekes, Hapsfrage, Samplice, Aience, Beane-cods, stille each one by it selfe, and fine hem in the Sunne, and take of each a like much, and put thereto as much Malmesse as of the waters, and stille hem altogether againe, and fine it in the Sunne, and when the patient is grie-ued and at no tyme else let him drinke thereof thre sponefuls at a tyme, and that will be sufficient enough at once, and heate it luke-warne, and put in a little powder of Gines, and drinke it, and lay him downe to sweat. Also take Hapsfrage, and stille the same with water, and make thereof a sirrop, as though it were with Roses, and put thereto a quantity of Sugar, and eate it, and it will breake the Stone meruaillously.

Another medicine for the stone.

C Take a cake of Rye and bake it, then take Onions, and roule hem very soft, then take your cake out of the ouen, & slit it asunder in the middest, the upper side from the nether, then take your Onions, and pill them, and shread them vpon the cake, and lay the one peice to the bottome of your belly, and the other part to the raines of your back, and it will helpe you.

The Path-way to health.

A very good powder for the stone.

C Take Smallage seede, Louach seede, Fennel seede, Sa-ffrage seede, Caraway seede, Gromell seede, Broome seed, parley seede, Philopendula, the roote thereof dried, Meruaine, and the kernels of Cherristones, of every of these alike much by weight, then beate them in a brassyn Morter also powder, and then let the sick vse of this in White wine at euening and morning, and also let hym vse of this powder in his pottage, for it is very good for the Stone.

An excellent good Medicine for the stone, and to breake it.

C Take Alisander, Louage, Smallage, Water cresses, and Gromet, of each a like much, and boyle them in a Gallon of faire water, till the halfe thereof be wasted, and do thereto a good deale of Sugar, or of Licoris, and then straine it thorough a clothy, and doe it in a cleane vessel wel stopped, and let the sick drinke thereof morning and euening, and this will breake the Stone in the raines or bladder, and make him so to come soone Without faille.

A good medicine for the same.

C Take March seede, Anniseede, and Comin seede, Parley seede, and Fennell seede, and Water Cresses seed, or els the powder made of the hearbe, then take all these seedes and doe them in good Winegar, and so let them stand two dayes and a night, then dry these seedes in an Ouen, and then make them to powder in a brassyn Morter, and let the sick vse of this powder in his pottage, and in his drinke as is aforesaid, and this will make a man to make water well.

The Pathway to health.

101

A good plaister proued for the strangury.

T Take Hollie-hocks, Wiolets, and Mercurie, the leaves of these hearbes or the seedez of them, also the rind of the Elder tree, and leydwort, of each of these a handfull, and beate them small, and seeth them in water till halfe be consumed, then thereto a little syle Olive, and all hole make therof a plaister, and lay it to the soze and raines. And also in Sommer you must make him a drinke in this manner: take Sapisrage and the leaves of Elders, fine leaved grasse, and seeth them in a pottle of stale Ale till the one halfe thereof be consumed, then straine it and keepe it cleane, and let the sick drinke therof first in the morning, and last at night, and if you lacke these hearbes because of Winter, then take the rootes of fine leaved grasse, and dry them: and make thereof powder, and then take Dysser thels and burne them, and make powder of them, and mingle them toghether, and so let the sick vse therof in his pottage and drinke, and it shall helpe hym.

A very good medicine shewing how to make a powder for the stone and strangulion.

T Take blacke Bramble berries while they be red, Rose berries, the inner pith of the Ashe keyes, the stones of Eglatine berries cloven, rubbed from the hayre, Putte keyes, the rootes of Philopendula, of all these a like quantity, Acorn knalls, the stones of Sloes, of each a like quantity, dry all these in platters in an Ouen, till they may be well beaten to powder, then take Gromell seede, Sapisrage seede, Alisander seed, Coliander seed, Perely seed, Comminseed, Fennell seede, Anniseede, of each of these a like quantity, as much as is before written, and dried in like sort, then beate al these to fine powder, and take Licoriz of the best you can get faire scraped, as much in quantity as of all the other, and beate it fine, and mingle it with the same powder, and so keepe it close that no

The Path-way to health.

Winde come at it, vsing it first and last with posset drinke made with white Wine or strong Ale, and when you eate your possete or other broth, put some in it if you bee sore pained, and if you haue any stone, it will come away by shiners, and if it doth so, when you shink that your water beginnes to cleare againe, take this drinke following, and it will cleanse your bladder, and it will leau no corruption therein.

The drinke.

C Take Rosemary and wilde Lime, and scethe them in running water, with as much Sugar as will make it swete, from a quart to a pint, vse the quantity of your hearbes according to your discretion, so that it may sauour well of them, and so vse it nine mornings, sixe or seuen spoonfulls at a time.

For the Tissicke, well prooued.

C Take a handfull of Fennell rootes, as much Parsley rootes, as many Alisander rootes, halfe a handfull of Borage rootes, and pull out the pith of all the said rootes, then take halfe a handfull of Pennycall, as much of Violet leaues, and as much of Cinckfoyle, as much Succory, Endive, Hollisock-leaues, Mallow leaues, and red garden Mints, of all these a like quantity as of those next before, halfe a handful of Licoris Nickes scraped, brused and beaten to fine powder, a gallon of faire running water, boyle therein all these simples, and boyle these seedes following with them, that is, threé spoonfulls of Annysseedes, as much Fennel seede, as much Cellander seed and Comin seed, a good handful of Dandelion rootes, and so boyle altogether from a gallon to a pottle, and let the patient drinke thereof first and last, and it will quickly help him.

Another for the Tissicke.

C Take a quart of ranning wafer, with a handful of Isole, two ounces of Annysseedes, as much Licoris beaten boþt togeþher, halfe an ounce of Fennel seede, beate all these together very fine with a quarterne of white Sugar, and so boyle them altoþg-

The Path-way to health.

102

al togēs her bin to a pint, and then straine them, and so let the party drinke thereof fir st and last, and it will doe him good.

For a Tissicke or cold, another.

C Take two ounces of Licorū scraped and brused, of figs thre ounces, of Cgrimony, Horehounde, Enula campana, of each a handfull, and boyle them altogether in a gallon of Water bin till the halse be wassed, then straine the hearbs from the sypce, and drinke it early and late, for this hash bæne pwoed.

Also for the dry Tissick, take and stampe Fennel roots, and drinke the iuyce thereof with whtie wine.

For the Tissicke another experiment.

C Take Radish roosts, make them cleane, and cutte them shā, and cast them into an Ouen and bake them, then beate them into powder so small as you can, then drinke thereof euery morning fasting, and at night when you gse to bed, and wet your meate in the same powder as you would doe in salt, and it will dpe you very great easē shortly.

To make the mother of Treakle.

C Take A pint of Honey, put thereto the iuyce of red Fennell, seeth it on the fire bin till it come to a pinte, then take it off, and put thereto a penny-worth of Sīnamon in powder, two glasses of Ginger, a Nutmeg and a little Mace, and stirre them well together, and when it is cold put it into a boxe, and gather your Fennell in May.

Also to make Treakle for all manner of poulon, take one ounce of Betony in powder, 4. ounces of Centory in powder, and 2. ounces of the powder of Rew, meddle these together, and temper them with clarifid Honey, and keepe it in a glasse.

The golden treate that healeth all brasēs.

C Take Coleson y, pitch and Rozen, and two ounces of oile, three ounces of liquid pitch, ouance of Olibanū, Auri vnguenti.

Allam,

The Path-way to health.

Maint, of each two ounces of Wine as much as suffiseth, and boyle all these toghether and so receive them to your vse as you need, and it helpeth.

For to make a white create, called Apo-stolicom.

T. C. Take oyle Olie, litarge of Lead, Golde and Silver, Stampe it, and put it in the oyle through a cloth, and stirre it till it be hard, and this is a good create for to heale all manner of wounds, be they new or old: this kind of create hath often bin pronounced good.

To make a create called Emanuel.

C Take Veruaine, Bittany, Pimpernel, Centozie the more, Gratia dei, of each one handfull, hearbe John, Aunce, Celondine, Acus muscata alaluia, Plantain, Spurge, Egremone, of each one handfull, grind al in a morter, and put them in a gallon of Wine, and boyle them in a pan till the third part be wasted, then straine it through a Canadas cloth, and set it over the fire, and put thereto Ware four ounces, Pitch a smach, Rozen as much, Olibanum two ounces, Mastick two ounces, Mirrhe two ounces, Aloes two ounces, Turpentine two ounces, Whypese swet halfe a pound, beate them all into powder, and boyle them all toghether lase the Turpentine, the which must be put in last of all, then straine the same through a cloth, and keepe it till you haue neede therof: and this is a speciaill healer of all wounds and sores, bruses and broken bones, and Apostumes that be broken, also it hath a special vertue to draw clense, and re-engender god flesh, it healeth and doth away all kind of aches whatsoever, al Cankers and Festers, it healeth Mortals, it passeth al other oyntments: and if you wil haue it soft, put thereto a quantity of oyle of Roseys, so much as you thinke good. Proved.

The Path-way to health.

103

A good entreat called the greene treat of Jane.

C Take a pint of the juice of Smallage, a pint of the juice of Maybright, as much of Plantatre, put hem together in a vessell, and put to it a quarter of a Pound of Mar. and as much of Frankensence or Rozen made int o powder, make your Mar into smal pieces, and boile hem altogether, and euer stir hem, and to know when it is boyled enough, drop a drop vpon a Basin, and if there be any moisture in it when it is cold, then put to it a pound of Turpentine, then stir hem til they be well medled together, then straine it, and put into it a quart of white Wine, and let it stand while it be cold, and so vse it.

Another intreat called Gratia dei.

C Take Mar, May butter, or other butter, without salt, of each one vnce, then take of Frankensence two vnces, melt hem together, and straine hem, and this is the making of this entreat which is called Gratia dei.

A good intreat for wounds.

C Take Befony, Pimpernell, and Meruatne, of each a handfull, boile hem in a pottell of very good white Wine until it be halfe consumed, then straine it through a course canvas, then put the liquor ouer the fire agayne, and in the boyling put to it halfe a pound of Rozen, a pound of Frankensence in powder, and alwaies stir it that the powder go not to the bottome, and when it is taken from the fire, put to it halfe a pound of Turpentine, and a dram of oyle of Spike, and stirre it til it be colde. Prooued.

A greene treat for a greene wound which is especiall good.

C Take Rozen made in fine powder four vnces, of Sheeps selvet one vnce, halfe a pound of Turpentine, Mar, and Frankensence, of each one vnce, Verdigrace ten pence waight,

D d.

Dyle

The Path-way to health.

Oyle syre butes, beate your Frankensence and Verdigreace, & put to all your stiffe ouer the fire in a vessell, but your Tur-penfine and Verdigreace let them boyle evir stirring them til they be all relected, then take it from the fire and stir it well, & then put in your Terpentine evir stirring it til it be retented then put in your Verdigreace and mixe it well with the ether and strain it, and keep it to your use and it will help you.

The making of this treat which will endure an hundred yare, and it is good for all ache in the bones, and for the sinewes.

C Take a possele of neate oyle, and fry it with Haddockes as many as he may, for they bee dry and hard, then wortng out the oyle and doe them away, then do theron two pound of Sheeps tallow that is new and melt it, and halfe a pound of Ware, as much Rose and Frankensence and break them small, and doe them into the oyle so to be melted, then take syre handfuls of Hocks, and of Celondine fourte handfuls, and fourte handfuls of Enula campana and of Plantain eight handfuls, and of the roote of Enula campana cleane picked two pound, and so bray them smal as morser, then do to these herbes & rootes a possele of good white Ware, and so let it stand a day and a night, then straine out the liquor, and do it into the oyle before that they seeth hem and set it ouer the fire, and let it seeth the space of fourre houres, then take it off the fire, and do it in a clean bawle, and so let it stand till it be al cold, and then take it vp and do away the water and the slime, and if it be too hard doe in more oyle, and if it be to nesh, do thereto some Ware and Rose, and of Frankensence, and seethe it agayne, then do it in boxes and keep it well, for this is a pretious treat or oyntment for al manner of ache in the bones.

The making of a treat the which is called Oxicrochsie.

C Take a quarter of a poued of mede Ware as much of pure Rose, as much of black Pitch, as much of Saffron, an hyses.

Once and a halfe of Mastick, and halfe a quarter of a pound of Farkensence, as much Myrrh, and a quarter of a pound of Arptnake, halfe a quarter of a pound of Galbanum, as much of Turmentile, then take all the gums and make them to small powder, and breake thy Ware and Galbanum to small pieces, then set them in good vineger all a night, and on the morrow set it over the fire, and let it seeth till that the vineger bee wasted somewhat: also straine it well through a cleane cloth into a besell with white Ware or with water, and when it is cold take it vp, and then hold it against the fire, but looke that thou haue thy Saffron ground, then hold it as thou wouldest hold Ware, and a little and little temper the Saffron thereon, and meddle them wel against the fire til the Saffron be melted in the gumis but thou must anoynt thy hands with oyle of Laurell that it cleane not to thy hands, and doe it where thou wylt: and this treat is good for all sores and bruses in any limb of a man, it destroyeth hard apostumes, and it is good for broken bones & for the surgery of Salerne, who vsed this medicin for smal wounds that were euill healed, and syts will open a sore, and wil heale him wel and faire agayne: proued.

For to make Vnguentum albanum.

C Take a pint of oyle Olive, and put thereto halfe a quarte of Ware, and set it over the fire til the Ware be molten, but make it into smal pieces: then take half a pound of Ceruse and an vnce of Mastick, and one vnce of Olibanum, and a little Camphire: take and grind al these smal, and cast it into the oyle, and stir it well together till it be nigh cold, then take the white of four e Eggs made into glears, & put thereto a saucer ful of vineger, and stir all this well together and do it in boxes, & this oyntment is good for to anoint al sores without the wound but do it not in the wound, for this is a good cold oyntment.

To make vnguentum album another way.

C Take a pint of oyle Olive, and halfe a pound of Diaclome, Aniseede a presy quantity, and put them together, and put thereto a pound of Serule small grounded, and then boyle hem altogether a little, and stirre them alway till it bee cold: et fac vnguentum.

The Path-way to health:

For to make vnguentum popileon.

C Take thre or foure pound of Poppy seed, and two or thre pound of heareb Walter, one pound of Herbane, and one pound of pety Morell, and one pound of Orpine, & one pound of Singrens, and one pound of Endive, one pound of Plantain, and one pound of Violets, and one pound of Water Cresses, one pound of Mandrake, and one pound of Peperbort; take al these and stamp hem in a morter, and do thereto thre or foure pound of Barrowes greace molten, and bind hem well toghether, and then set hem in an earthen pot well closed in a moist place, and so let it stand nine daies, and on the tenth day set hem on the fire, and do thereto a quart of white Waine, and let hem seethe well toghether, and then wryng hem through a strainer a little and a little till it be cold, and when it is cold do it in boxes, and this ayntment is good for many sores.

For to make vnguentum gepriacum.

C Take a farthing worth of Honey, a spoonfull and a halfe of Vineger, of greene Copperas a small quantit y, a peice of aloham, and if you will make it easly, put therunto Ale, or els womans milk, and this ayntment is good for all sores and wounds both new and old.

For to make vnguentum ruptorum a corsie.

C Take Cantarides and make it into powder, and as much of unslaked lime, and of blacke Sope as of all the other, and make all these in maner of a plaister, and lay it to the sore as thred as thou wilt have it broken, and no boder.

For to make vnguentum versilinum.

C Take an vnce of Litarge, halfe a pound of Masseke, halfe a pound of Cerule, an vnce of Camphire, halfe an vnce of

The stome called Calamint, and make these to small powder, and do thereto halfe a pound of mede ther small broken, and thereto thereto a pint of the juice of Emrose, and put all this in a pan, and set it ouer the fire, and let them seeth till they bee molten, and alway stir it, and then take it from the fire, and let it stand till it be cold, this oyntment is good for a man that is scalded on his yard with fire, or on his body, or visage, or on any limb of a man, and for all scalding, and this is good for wounds and for many other priuy maladies: and this is a p<sup>r</sup>ecious oyntment.

For to make vnguentum delerosica.

C Take a pound and a halfe of purifid Honey, and a quarter of a pound of Werdigreace small made to powder, & a good saucerfull of Wineger, cast all this togesher into a panne, and boyle them well togesher till it become red, and alwa y stir it well, and then beware, for it will haue many colours, for it will be red, then doe it in boxes and it will be hard, and after it will relent agayne, and then doe therfore into the rotted wound, and amoynt the sore therwith, and it will doe away dead flesh and other corruption, and this is a good oyntment to cleane, and for to make the flesh grow.

For to make vnguentum Geneste.

C Take two pound of the flowers of Broome, a pound of the flowers of woodwre, and a pound of Cressips, and bay them in a morter, and doe thereto three pound of May butter, & mingle them well togesher, and so let them stand for three daies, and for three nights, and then doe it in a pan, and fry it well on the fire, and then wring it through a cloth, and doe it in a bore, this oyntment is good for all cold gowtes, and for other cold gowts.

For to make vnguentum Penetium.

C Take a gallon of fullie f black Snailes gathered in the dew, in the moneth of May, and doe them in a linnen bag, and

The Path-way to health.

When ye haue she Snailes, look that ye haue ready shē a pound of the pounder of Comin, and another pound of Dill, and meddle these powders amonge she Snailes, and hang shēm vp, and set vnder a cleane bessell, and keepe well she oyle that cometh of them, and shēn take she oyle, and seeth it on a lost fire, and do thereon a quarter of a pound of she marrow of a horse legg, and seeth it with she oyle, and then doe it in a glasse with that oyntment, and anoynt any man or woman that is so troubled with she Gowt, and he shall be whole by Gods grace.

A good oyntment sor to heale wounds.

C Take Aunce, Bugle, Pigle, and Savigle, Smallage, and hearb Robert, Veruein, and hearb Water, Weybred, and Ribwort, Daisies, and holihock, Ligni Serpentini, red Cable and the crops of Brier, of every one of these a pound, or at the least halfe a pound, shēn take shēse hearbs and stamp shēm small in a morter, shēn take May butter two pound, and two pound of Barrowes greace, and stampe shēm well together, and shēn do shēse in an earshēn pot, and let shēm so stand for nine daies, and on the tenth day do shēm in a pan, and seeth shēm on the fire and let it seeth easily a godd while, and shēn bring them a little and a little through a strainer, and shēn take shēm, and put it into the pan againe with a quart of white Wine, and halfe a pound of mede wax, and a pound of sheeps fallow, and a quarter of a pound of Frankensence, and a quarter of a pound of purfled honey, cast all shēse togeher into the pan, and shēn set shēm ouer the fire, and seeth shēm well together a godd while, and then set it downe, and let it keele, and shēn doe it in bores, and this is a speddy oyntment to heale all manner of sores and wounds, be they never so great: this hath beene proued.

If thou wilt heale wounds well and cleanc with the drinke of balls, then take of these hearbs to make thy balls.

C Take a pound of Pigell, and a quarter of a pound of Savigell, and halfe a pound of Bugle, a quarter of a pound of Turmentile,

Turmentiles, halfe a pound of Aunce, a quarter of a pound of Mouseare, a quarter of a pound of Centory, a quarter of a pound of Rue, a quarter of a pound of Tuy, a quarter of a pound of wild Sage, & halfe a pound of Dasie, a pound of hearb Robert a pound hearb Water, and a quarter of a pound of hearb John. a quarter of a pound of Egrimony, as much of Violets; as much of Strawberries, and halfe a pound of Ribwort, and halfe a pound of Weybred, and a quarter of a pound of great Daylie, and halfe a pound Spiguell, and halfe a pound of Betony, a quarter of a pound of hemp, and as much of red bryer crop, and as much of the blacke bryer crop, half a quarter of the red Pettle, and halfe a quarter of the red Cawle, and a quarterne of Verueine, as much of Burnet, and as much of Scabious; take all these hearbes and shred them small, and then doe them in a morter, and grind them all to flower as thou wouldest doe Verueine, then mingle of madder the weight of al these other hearbs, and grind it with these hearbs, and then let them rot togesyher, soz five daies, and five nights, and then make therof small balls as big as a Walnut, and dry them in thin platters, couered one ouer the other, and set them in the Sun, so that there come no ayre thereto by no way, and whoso hath a great wound, then take one of these balls, and crum it into a quart of white wine, or of Ale, and let him drinke thereof each day first a little quantity, and to wash his wound thre times on the day with white Wine, and if that you haue no white Wine: then take the juice of Aunce, and let come none other oyntment at the wound, but the juice of Aunce, and therewith wet well the wound all about, and thus thou maist heale and sauie every old wound, be it never so horriblie and festered: and if there be in the wound any dead flesh, thou must doe theron the powder of Sandeser, or else of burnt Allam, soz that will fret away dead flesh, and these balls will heale the wounds.

For to open a wound that is closed too soone.

C Take the leaves of the white Plum-tree, and the milke of a Goat, and stampe them togesyher, and make a plaister therof.

The Path-way to health.

shereof, and lay it to the soze, and it will open it well, and it will doe away the rankling.

Also take Centoz, and stampe it, and lay it thereto, and it will open any wound faire and well.

Also Galbanum is good for to cleane a wound, and for to keepe it open.

To heale a wound.

C Take Turpentine, as much as you shinke to serue your turne, and put it into a dish with cleare water, then take a stick and make it fit at one end, and with that beat, and turne your Turpentine in the water till it be very white, then put the water cleane from it, and put it to halfe as much yolks of Eggs as ts of the Turpentine, and mingle them well together, and missever it when yee neede, put not this in your treame boxe, for it will soke through: you may keepe it in a bladder.

For a wound in the head a good Mundicatiffe.

C Take hony of Roses, two vnces, oyle of Roses an vnce, meddle them toghether, and put it warme into the wound with Lint, and a plaister vpon it: it is good a Mundicatiffe.

For the ache in a wound.

C Take the rootes of Brany, and pare the bitter side, and beate them in a morter and in faire running water, and straine it, and warme it, and lay it hot to the wound or ache, as the party may suffer it: first wash the wound faire, and then lay it to the wound.

To make a water for a cut, or wound.

C Take a pottle of faire running water, and seeth it on the fire, and let it seeth a while, then take two peny worth of white Copperis, as much of Bole armoniack, and four penny worth of Camphyre, and beat them altogether in powder, and put them all toghether into the water, and let them seeth a little while, and then take it off the fire, and when it is cold put it into a

Glasse

Glaſſe, dyolle and all: and when it is occupied poure out a liſtle into a ſaueſer of the clereſt water, and none of the botome or dyolle: and ſet it vpon the coles, and waſh the wound as hote as he may ſuffer it, and then take a little linnen cloth, and doublē it threē or fourē times double: and wet it in the water, and lay it to the wound as hote as the patient may ſuffer the ſame, and binde it ſaſt.

For a cut or wound.

T Take a gallon of running waſter, and put thereto a pinte of Honey, and a quarter of a pound of Koch-alom beaten in very fine powder, and let them ſeech together and ſtrain them cleane, and put thereto a handfull of Wood-bine leaues, and a handfull of Sage leaues, a handfull of Helondine, & leaſh them altogether till the halfe be conſummed, then take it from the fire, and ſtraine it through a Canuas cloth into another cleane bellſell, and then put thereto a penny-worſh of graines, & let them ſeech a whiſt together: and then put it in a faire glaſſe when it is cold: this is a principall medicine.

For to heale wounds, and to knit and heale broken bones.

T Take beſony, Bugle, Sauigle, Pimpernell, Milfeile, Strawberry leaues, Dvln, Sage, Monſeare, Emeroſe, Tanſie, Hoſternwood, hearbe Robert, hearbe Water, Egationy, Plantaine, Solcirkle, Auence, Madder, Daisies, Camphire, Olpond, the crop of the red Colewort, the crop of the red bygger, the red Nettle crop, of the crops of Hempe, take of each a like much ſauue of the Madder by weight, then take theſe hearbes and ſtampe them ſmall, and take May butter made of rawe Creame, & we milke, with dew water of May, and if that you can get no Cowe milke, take the Butter of Cowe milke of the yellowest colour that can be found, for it is far better than the white, and take a quart of Butter, halfe a quarteine of Mede.

The Path-way to health:

ware and melt the Butter and the Ware to gether: and when they be molten, let the Butter and ware run throught a cloth, for then is the Butter clarified from the Ware, and shread the Butter and the Curds asunder, or else it wil never do so wel, and then let thy Butter keele, and when it is colde then take and put thereto thre pound of thy herbes, and halfe a pound of Butter, and cast them in a Morter, and stamp them smal, til you can see nothing of the Butter, and then do it in a newe earthen pot, and close it fast that no ayre come forth, and when al is in the pot, make it sure that no wormes may gette in, nor that no ayre (as I said before) gette out: then set it in a moist place, and so let it stand for nine dayes at the least, and then it wil be hoare aboue: then take it out of the pot, & do it in a faire panne, and set it on the fire and fry them wel together, and stirre it wel, and when it is hote enough, take it from the fire and wryng it throught a cloþ, and let it stand til it be cold, and then kerne it the let out the water, and then do it into the pan and melt it againe: then do it vp in boxes, and keeps the same to your vse.

Also to make an oyntment sanatiffe for wounds,

Take of the same herbes before expressed, and worke them as thou didst the salue: but whereas thou tookest Butter to thy salue, take faire Barrowes greace & melt it: and when it is cold, put it to thy oyntment, and whereas thou tookest to thy salue Hadder put thereto Cammemlie, and put thy herbes thereto: take to that oyntment of Aunce as much waight as of al the other herbes before named, and then shal this oyntment bee according to the salue, the one to worke within, and the other to worke without, for this salue & oyntment is cheſt accounted of among Phisitions for al woundes, both to cleanse and to heale very faire and perfectly, and to knit broken bones surely.

To

To heale all olde wounds.

C Take Plantaine wafer distilled, and put halfe a pinte thereof to an ounce of Mercurie sublimatum, and so stir them very wel togeather, until it be dissolved in the Plantaine wafer, and then wash the soze or wound wel therewith, and after wet a cloth in the same water, and couer it cleane over the soze or wound, and use this once every day vntil it bee whole, and doe so from day to day.

A red water for sores and wounds, either olde or newe.

C Take a pottle of running water, a pecke of ashes of Ash wood that is old, and a pottle of Tan-tuyce that leather never came into, and a pound of Mother, a pound of Allam, and beate them al in fine powder, and put it into your Tan-tuyce nine dayes, & then when you haue so done, take a pottle of the one and a pottle of the other, and put thereto ten ounces of greene Copperis, and one ounce of Ginger beaten al into fine powder, and put them al together, and so saeth them to a quarte, then take them off and straine them, and put them in a faire vessel, and poure out the thinnne from the thicke, and lay a wet cloth thereon, and lay it to the wounde or soze eyther olde or new, and wash them wel therewith.

A water imperiall for all wounds and Cankers.

C Take a handful of red Sage leaves, and a handful of Helondine, as much of Woodbine leaues, take a gallon of conduit water, and put the hearbes in it: and let them boyle to a pottle, and then straine the hearbs shrough a strainer, and take the licour & sette it ouer the fire againe, & take a pint of English honay, a good handful of Koch-allam, as much of white Copperis fine beaten, a penny-worth of graines brused, & then

The Path-way to health.

Let hem boyle allogether syre or foure walmes ouer the fire; and let the skinne as it riseth be wel taken off with a feather, and when it is colde, put the same into an earthen pot or botle so that it may be kept close from ayre: and for a greene wound, take of the fyntesse, and for an olde wounde of the shickesse, cover the soze rather with Meale or Mutton: skimme them with Docks leaves: when that you haue dressed them with this aforesaid water.

To make water imperiall another way.

C Take a handfull of Dragon, of Scabions, of Endise, a handfull of Pimpernel, a handful of Worme wood, of Rew a handful: a handfull of Tansie: as much Fetherfog: almuch of Daisie leaues, as much of Cowslipps: as much of Maydenhayre: as much Hincksoyle: as much Vandelyon: as much Time: as much Sawme: of each of these hearbes a handful, as I sayd before: then take of Treakle a pound: of Bole Armoniack four ounces: and when you haue al these hearbes to gether, you must take and shread them a little but not too smal, then take the Treakle & the Bole armoniack, and mingle them and the hearbes together: then put them in a stitory, and stir them, and it is made.

A very good remedy to take away Warts.

C For to take away Warts, take the seide of Brierie with the leaues, burne them and make Ashes of them: and meddle the ashes with the juice of the same heare like an oyntment, and annoynct your Warts often, and they wil fal awaie. The dunge of an Eagle if it be often rubbed upon the Warts, dooth the like to do away the same very quickly.

Another remedie for Warts.

C Take the ioyce of heare Wart-work, and annoynct a warty Wart or King-worme therewith, and it helpeth.

For

For to doe away Warts.

C Take Elder berries and stampē them, then wringe out the iuyce, and with the same use once or twice a day to annoynct thy Warts, and it will quickly doo them cleane away. Thys experiment hath beene proued,

For to doe away a Wenne.

C Take and binde fast the Wenne, then take Verdigrace, Sulphur, Sope, oyle of Eggēs, Allam and Honny, and temper them together, and lay thereto, and it shall doo away the Wen, and also so to heale it well and cleane within thre or fourre tyme dressing.

For to doe away a Wenne.

C Take a quantitie of vnslackt Lime, and mixe the same very well with as much blacke Sope, and annoynct any Wen therewith, and the Wen will fall away: and when the roote is come out, annoynct the place with oyle of Balme, and it will perfectly heale the same.

How to helpe one that is blasted.

C Take the white of a Hennes Egge, and put it in a byggen Morter, then put thereto a quarter of a ounce of Copperis, and grinde them well togē ther till it bee as small as an oyntment: with which annoynct the soze face, and it will ease the paine and take awāy the swelling: and when it is wel nye whole, annoynct the place with a little Popilium, and that will make the linnen satte and well a gaine.

An excellent remedy to helpe the rewme.

C Rub the leafe of a Marigold betweene your fingers, and pak the same into your nose, and let it stay there a little while, and it will bring forth abundance of humors out of the heade, it will helpe the Rewme within a little while, if you use it.
This hath beene proued,

The Path-way to health.

Another speciall remedie for the Rewme.

C Take a little sticke, and tye about the ende thereof olde Daken leaues, then cut them something rounde, and holde the same leaues in your mouth as deepe and as farre as you can suffer the same, holding the sticke betweene your teeth, in this manner hold your mouth ouer a dish or pozinger, and therewill great abundance of humors auoyde out of your mouth. But within a whille wash in faire water the leaues on the sticke, and then holde them in your mouth againe. Doe thus for the space of an houre, and bise it shreé or fourte times a day, shreé or foure dayes togeter, or vntil you haue auoyded so much watry humors as you thinke good. This is the best and presentest remedy for the rewme that ever was heard of. And hee that proues it shal finde it an excellent helpe.

A soueraigne water against melancholly, and drinke to comfort the stomacke.

C Take a pounde of Aqua vitæ and put thereto a quart of Redrose water, put thereto as much Licoris sliced and scraped as you may hold in both your hands, but if it be English Lico-ris you may take lesse, put thereto as much Anniseede as you thinke wil be sufficient to make it taste wel thereof: New al fyse with a soft fire wel covered with an earthen pot that the ayne doe not goe out to your iudgement, til that a pinte thereof be consumed: let it not boyle in any case but newe softly, this done, take it from the fire, and let it stand and cole: and when it is colde drawe it from the cole and Licoris, and put it into the wicker glasse or bottle, then bruse it, that your water may be as cleare as you can, & when neede requireth occupy it.

To make artificiall oyle of balme for woundes.

C Take Balme, Newe, Fetherfey, Sowthistle, Pettles, Briany leaues, Bramble leaues, Sage leaues, Cinckfoyle, et each zachof al shese a handful: take al shese simples and lay them in oyle Olive one whole night, and take shē water that commesh of a Wine Falke, and blacke Snailes, gum Arabick, gum Edere, of each of these one ounce: you must take shē seed of shē Ashē trē, and teate shē seedes and shē gummies very fine together, Afterward, you must put the oyle and the herbs into shē Stil, and thowē shē upon a quarter of a pound of shē oyle of Roses, and two ounces of Aqua vitæ, and so distill it with a soft fire: but you must stil it at the least twice or thrise: This oyle wil heale al wounds very soone.

A greene balme to incarnate wounds, and to dry vp filthy vlcers.

C Take of fine Aqua vitæ, Venice turpentine, oyle of Re-ses, of every of them a pint, boyle shem with a softfire of coles, and after a warme or two, put in of Merdigreace made in fine powder an ounce and a halfe, and boyle it to a good perfect substance, and so vse it to your sore wounds and filthy vlcers, and it shal helpe shem very shorly.

To make artificia: Balme.

C Take of gum Elapine sixe ounces, Aloes, Murrhe, Cakore, Apponace of each two ounces, Storax calamite Olibanū Mastic Cacabre, of each fourre ounces, Munge Bedelii, guiu of the Fig trē, of each two ounces and a halfe, make euery one of shem in powder by shemselfes that wil be powdered. The spices take of Lignum aloes, three ounces, Zilobalsami, Carpo-balsami, Spic nard, Cloues, Dianamen, Calamus aromatici, nut aromatici, Nutmeggs, Galingal, Setwell, graines, Cardomo-mus, both of the great and smal, Cucubes, rootes of Cipres, Mustac stalinc, which is shē coddes of the Muske, of each two ounces, Rewpenticon 2. dravis, flowers of rosemary 2. ounces, Juniper berries, Eaula campana, of each dried an ounce, Bay-berries halfe an ounce, beat al together in grosse powders, shē take of shē seed of fennel, persly, tansie, Carret, Coriander, and Caraway seed, of each one ounce: wormwood, sage dried, basil, Rosemary,

The Path-way to health.

Rosemary : Margerum : Pennifall : Mints : Secados : Cinnamonie: a like quantitie of each: shen take ffigges of Algarit, Dates the stones faken away: Keysons of the sunne: Almonds, of each four ounces: shen take oyle of Turpentine 2. pynts: oyle of Mastick, oyle Bennet, oyle of Castore, oyle of Tartoz, oyle of Dyll, oyle of Exeter, of each halfe a pint, oyles of Spiske, oyle of Ward, of each four ounces: pure Aqua composta shen waight of all the sovner stufte: and first boyle shen in the bodies of two Linbecks of glasse fast luted, with the crownes of their covers downward in Balneo maria, that is, a Caldron of water a day & a night: shen tak2 off shen caps and set them aright, and distill it with an easie fire in these two Linbecks, all your stufte being diuided into euill portions, as before: lute shen strongly, and distill shen with a sort fire, fire howres: shen in the rest increase your fire by little and little til the water be passed, shen shall you see white oyle, and last of all yellow oyle: keepe every of shen by themselues: the white is in the bottom, keepe that as an excellent remedy for all wounds it helpeth suddenly, without suffering the wound to ulcerate or cast matter, but confoundeth it and helpeth it straight.

The vertue of this Balme.

It is most excellent for Gowtes, Paltes, Cramps, wounds, aikings, sine wens ent, hurt or chynke, shen falling sicknesse, Apoplexia, shen turning of the braine, shen biting of dogs, or any other venimous things, for the Tumpany to annoynt the belly, and the first water is good for all wounds; and all rotten & filchy vices, as hath beene proued.

The receipt of the water of health, by G. K.

C Take red Rose flowers, Camomile flowers, Lauender flowers, Bugloss flowers, Rose flowers, Rosemary flowers sage flowers, secados flowers, balm flowers, timet wild time, penitall, Marger u, wintersauerr, pimpernell, &c. John wort Philopendula eyebright, heuchera, dittany, hittany, scabies, farmentill, plantain, auence, maidenhaire, mint, ue, sarsifrage harts,

The Path-way to health.

112

Harts-tong, Entras, Brasill, Coneythy, Piony, Juniper berries, Bay leaues or berries. take of all these flowers a maine handful if they be gottē, if not, then take threé gallons of mighty strong Ale, or threé gallons of Gascoigne wine: then take these spices, Anniseed two pound, Licoris two pound, Fennell seede two ounces, Cinamontwo vnces, Caraway seed two vnces, Galngall two vnces, Sotwell two vnces, Angelica two vnces, Cyprus two vnces, Ginger, Nutmegs, of each one vnce, Enula campana one vnce, Calamus aromaticus one vnce, Ireus one vnce, Lignum aloes two vnces, Cloves one vnce, Cucubes one ounce, Gratnes one vnce, long pepper one vnce, Spignard one vnce, Mace one vnce, Amis ammonium one vnce, Sugar half a pound, Alkenet two vnces, Olibanum, Mastick, Brasill seed, Marierum seed: of all these halfe an vnce, and doe by the drawning of this water of health in all respects as by your Aqua composita, your flowers and herbes must be dryed, and shred on a chopping boord a good handful of each at the least, and your Aniseede must be well beaten and dussed, and your Licoris must be scraped and sliced cleane, and then all the rest of your other spieces and seeds must be beaten fine in a brazen morter each to his quantity. Also you may putt thereto threé grains of chull Musk, for it will make it to drinck the more pleasant, and for divers infirmities this water is good, as to breake wnde in the belly, for them that cannot relish or digest their meats, & for divers other cold causes, this water will make a man to live long, and to keepe and preserve a man long in health, and to make a man so looke young againe.

For to make pety Bawme.

Take fine meat oyle n ptnt, and putt it in a cleane pan, and seeth it well ouer the fire, then doe thy hands in cold water and let it drap theron, and it wil creame, and when it leaveth crea-ning doe it to the fire againe, and let it see the well, and doe so threé or fourte times with your hands, then take halfe an vnce of Mastick, as much of Frankensence, as much of Rozen, a quarter of an vnce of Verdigrease: make all these into powder

The Path-way to health.

by themselves, then do them into the oyle, and let them seethe well together, and stir it well and skim it cleane, then let it cole, then do it in a pewter vessell, and this is a good balme.

For to make aquavitæ perfectissima, per G.K.

Take the roote of Hapistrage, Perly, Alisander, Fennell, Time, Rose, Penitriall, Rosemary, Lauender, Primrose, Mints, Rue, Betony, Honet, Sage, Aunice, Calamint, of each of these herbes halfe a quarterne: then take Galengall, Pepper, long Pepper, Claves, Nutmegs, of each of these one ounce, of Canell, Pace, Cucubes, of each of these two vntes, Setwell, Pelliory of Spaine, Lignum aloes, of each halfe an ounce, stampe thy herbes, and powder thy spices, and do them in a gallon of good red Wine, and mingle thy herbes and spices together in the Wine, and let them stand all a night in sleepe, and on the morrow distill them into a Limbecke: this water hath many faire vertues, and it comforteth man or woman, and helpeth them from all maladies that be cold.

Also it is hot at the first distilling, and at the third distilling, it helpeth man or woman in their kindly heates.

Also it comforteth a cold stomack, and destroyeth both scabbe and scall.

Also it healeth all olde sores if it be kindly vsed, it is good for the deafnes of sye eares by putting a little therof into thy eare: it drincketh away the stinking of thy breasy.

Also it is good for the falling cull, & for the palsey in the fynng, for that palsey maketh a man sodainly dumbe.

Also it healeth the palsey of other members that trembleth.

Also for biting or stinging of Scorpions or Adders, or other venomous beastes, for no venim can come neere unto it.

Also it is good for the toothache of cold rewme, and for a cold seauer being broake before the axis: it is good for toswash the emerods, and old sores called Noli me tangere, and for the Collicca passio, and who so drinkeþ it for the banity of the head; it also healeth the sayd esteeme in thy face.

Also it purgeth the stomack of all corruptions, and for stone and for all gowtes, it destroyeth the gnawing within the belly, and suffereth no wond to breed in mans boddy.

To make Aquavitæ for cold causes.

C Take good Gascoigne wine, and distill it in a glasse, or Serpentine, and that water that burneth doest by it selfe, and if it be moist, it will be of more vertue.

Also take of Ginger, Canell, Mace, Cucubes, Nutmegs, Graines, long Pepper, of each of these three ounces, and bray hem in a moyter, and searce hem: and put these powders into the water that burneth and fillit oft, and so reserve it to your use morning and evening first and last, and this is called the most soueraine water, and mighty against all manner of cold causes that engendred within man or woman, and this wil help you for divers infirmities that is within man: this hath beeene proposed often.

A souerain water vsed by Doctor Steaphens Phyfition, with the which he did many great cures, and a little before his death he declared the same to the Archbishop of Canterbury, and now to the benefit and commodity of all people that be well disposed,

C Take two gallons of good Gascoigne wine or Claret wine that is good, or else two gallons of mighty Strong Ale, & of every of these splices a dram: take of Ginger, Galingall, Cinamon, or Canel, Nutmegs, Graines, Cloves, Anniseedes, Fennellsede, Caraway seeds, Calamus aromaticus, Cucubes, Ireos, Maces, Spignard, Enula campana, Canepithis, of each of these a good handfull, Juniper berries one vnce, and of euery one of these hearbs following a handfull, Sage, red Roses, red Mints, garden Time, wild Thyme, Pellitory, Camomell, La-uender, Wormwood, Betony, Plantaine, Ribwort, Bapes, red Gilliflowers, wild Marierum, Rosemary, Organum, Rue,

The Path-way to health

The flowers of Decados, Petiriall, Hilwort, Auence, Cowslip leaves, Rose leaves, the flowers of sere bby grasse, Strawberrys leaves, Tutsor, beate all these splices, and stamp all these herbs, and put them in red liquor aforesaid, and put a little Maske therin, and let it stand twelue houres infused, and stir it often times, then still this water in a Limbeck close stoppt that no ayre come out of the pot, and with a small fire keepe about it that it come not too fast forth, & keep the first water by it selfe for that is best. Also the second pint by it selfe, for that is also good but not as the first is. Also you shall receive a third pint of that water of thise three gallons, but your vnce of Elkeneft must be for the two last waters to colour it red wifhall, which must be in the receiver with some Suger, and some Cinnamon, and you may keepe this water these seven yeres, and it will be in his full strenght and operation.

The receipt of the water called Aquaa mirabilis & pretiosa, made by Doctor Willowby Physition.

TTake of Galtingall, Cloves, Macees, Cucubes, Ginger, Cardomonum, Nutmegs, Myrrit, Saffron. Egrimony water fourre vnces, and beat al these into powder the quantity of a dram and somewhat more: then take of the juice of Helondine, and a pint of M. George Kebels water of the best and the first put of the same water being well mingled in a Villaceous of glasse, and let it be stopped well and close, and so let it stand for the space of fourre and twenty houres, and then distil them with a soft fire for the space of a naturall day.

The vertue of this water aforesaid.

This water is of secret nature, it is exceeding good for the stomacke, it dissobleth the lungs without any grievance, and the same lungs beeing wounded and putrified, it mightily helpeth them, and comforteth them, and it suffereth not the body to putrise.

Also

The Path-way to health.

III

Also he shall never neede to be let blood, and this water suffeth not the body to be brennt with cholter, nor yet with melan-cholly nor flemot to be lift vp and haue dominion abore water, and this water mightily expelleth the rumme, and profiteth much the Stomack, it ingenerazeth good colour, and keepesth and conser-ueth the vtage and memory.

Also it is good for the palse, if the said water be given to man or woman labouring towards death one spoonfull, if relentefly them: of all waters artificiall there is no better.

Also vse in Sommer once a week a spoonfull of this water sa-king, and in Winter tyme two spoonfulls: it is good for wemen that haue the greene sicknesse, and for diners other causes: per Doctorem Willowbie.

The receipt of Cinamon.

C Take remish wine a quart, or spannish watre a pint, Rosewater a pint and a halfe, Cinamon brased a pound and a halfe, let these stand infused the space of foure and twenty houres, then distill it, and being close stopped and lated, spen with a soft fire distill the same softly in a Limbecke of glasse, and receive the first water by it selfe.

Also if ye be so disposed to make the same water weaker, take threē pints of Rosewater, and a pint and a halfe of remish wine, and so distill the same, and you shall haue to the qualitie of the diffe the quantity of the water, which is threē pints: but the firſt is the beſt, and ſo reſerve it to your vſe morning and evening.

To make Cinamon water another way.

C Take threē quarts of Muskadine, and a paund of Cina-mon, and halfe a pint of good Rose-water, and ſo let them lie infused the space of foote and twenty houres, and diſtill it as a-foreſaid, and you ſhall receive to the quantity as to the qualitie, but the firſt pint is the beſt and the chiefeſt of all the other as is manifeſt practiſe.

The Path-way to health.

Aqua composito for a surfeit.

C Take Rosemary, Fennell, Ispes, Time, Sage, Horehound, of each of these a handful, Pennyroyal, Mints, Marjoram, of each sixe cropp, a roote of Emula campana, of Licozis, Aniseed brused, of each two vnces, put all these to three gallons of mighty strong Ale, and put it into a brasse pot ouer an easie fire: and set the Limbeck vpon it, and stop it close with dowe or past that no ayre doe go out, and so keepe it stilling with a soft fire, and so præserue it to your vse as need requireth.

To make water of life.

C Take Balme leaues and Walkes, Burnet leaues, and flowers a handful, of Rosemary, Turneysle leaues and roots, Rosa solis a handfull, red Roses a handful, Carnatons a handfull, Isole a handfull, a handfull of Time, red Strongs that grow vpon Savery a handfull, red Fennell leaues and roots a handfull, red Mints a handfull: put all these hearbs into a pot of earth glased, and put thereto as much white Wine as wil conuer shes hearbs, and let them soke therein eight or nine dayes: Then take an vnce of Cynamon, as much of Ginger, as much of Nutmegs, Cloves, and Saffron a like quantity, of Aniseeds a pound, great Raisons a pound, Suger a pound, halfe a pound of Dates, the hinder part of an old Coney, a good fleshy running Capon, the flesh and sinewes of a legge of Hutton, four young Pigeons, a dozen of Larks, the yolkes of twelve Eggs, a loafe of white bread cut in sippets, Muskadell or Bastard three gallons, or as much in quantity as sufficeth to distill all these things at once in a Limbecke, and put thereto of Methridatum two or three vnces, or els with as much perfect treacle, and distill it with a moderate fire, and keepe the first water by it selfe, and the second water alone also, and when shere comewch no more water with strongs, take away the Limbecke, and put into the pot more Wine vpon the same staffe, and stil it againe, and you shal have an other good water, and shall so remaine good. In the first ingredience of this water you must keepe

Kēpe a double glasse warily, for it is a restorative of al princiall members, and defendeth against all pestilentiall diseases, as against the Palsie, Dropstie, Spleene, yellow or black Jaundise, for wormes in the belly, and for all agues he they hote or cold, and all manner of swellings and pestilentiall sores in man or melancholy and slegmaticke, and it strengtheneth and comfoteth all the sprites and strings of the braine, as the heart, the milt, the luer, and the stomache; by taking therof two or thre spoonfuls at one time by it selfe, or with Ale, Waine, or Beere, and by putting a pretty quantity of suger therin: also it helpeth digestion, and doth breake winde, and stoppeth laske, and bindeth not, and it mightly helpeth and easeth man or woman of the paine of the heart burning, and for to quicken the memory of man: take of this water three spoonfuls a day in the morning, and an other after he goeth to dinner, and the third last at night.

The electuary of life.

¶ And if a man be sick at the stomacke or in the belly, or at the hart, or in the head, or were bitten with any venomous euill beast, or poysoned, and a man were by the way travalling, or in the house, and he had all these sicknesses, so that he had with him this Lectuary that is made of fine syngs to eate therof or drinke therof in water thre or fourre spoonfuls, he shoulde by Gods helpe be quickly whole, so that he vse it for fifteen dayes fasting: and when he goeth to bed least he shoulde not be whole of all his sicknesses in the body, and if he did drinke the oftner in a day the better: and these be the fine things to make this electuary with: Scorlogio, Morre, Gentiana, Grandorer, and Ialaour, as much of the one as of the other, and stamp them, and straine them, and mingle them with honey that hath beeoe wel boyled on the fire and scummed cleane: and this is the making of this Lectuary, and when as need requireth, you may vse it: Prooued.

The Path-way to healeh.

A good powder called the powder of life.

Take the seede of Smallage, and the bones of a Mouse, and the roote of Turmentile, the roote of quintfoile, and the roote of Philopendula, the seede of Cromwell, and the seede of Sapisrage, the seede of Alisanders, and the seed of Hoochistle, of each of these seedes a like much, and then take Licoriz and Galingall, Cannell, and Ginger, of each a like much: then bay them in a morter, and mingle them together and bse thereto, then doe thereto a quantity of Aunce, of Saffron, and a quantity of Macse, and this is the making of this powder for all manner of sicknesse in mans body or in the wombbe, or if a man be overcome by the way, it will destroy all manner of poison and venome, and the drospie, and palse, and also the walowing about a mans heart.

FINIS.

