

NEWS & EVENTS

Rochester Institute of Technology

Vol. 10, No. 13 – December 7, 1978

'Conservative Advocate' Here for Institute Forum

William Rusher, publisher of National Review, will discuss "Economic Goals - Laissez Faire vs Government Regulation" at the next Institute Forum on Monday, December 11, at 7 p.m. in Ingle Auditorium.

Rusher believes that government planning and government regulation are two different things. He considers both harmful.

"The first trouble with government planning," Rusher contends, "is that it blithely assumes government knows best—knows, for example, just how many cigarettes and cigars America will "need" in five years. The second trouble is that, in order to make reliable plans in one sector of the economy, government quickly finds itself compelled to lay down rigid rules for every other sector. There is no such thing as a 'partial dictatorship.'"

Rusher believes that government regulation, on the other hand, is not necessarily incompatible with a free economy, and is, to a certain low point, even conducive to it. But, in America today, "government regulations have gone far beyond their original legitimate purposes. . . . and are now the chief obstacle to the efficient and prosperous function of the American economy."

"It's not surprising," he concludes, "because many of those who invent and enforce these regulations are affirmatively hostile to the American economy."

Recognized as one of the principal spokesmen of American conservatism, Rusher has been publisher of National Review, the country's leading journal of conservative opinion, since 1957.

His syndicated column, "The Conservative Advocate," appears three times a week in some 70 newspapers. He is a regular guest on ABC's "Good Morning America" show, and served for four years as the regular conservative spokesman on "The Advocates," the Emmy-winning program on the Public Broadcasting System.

Also a prolific author, Rusher's most recent book, The Making of the New Majority Party, proposed a dynamic replacement for the Republican Party.

Rusher's lecture, co-sponsored by RIT's Student Association and College Activities Board, is open to the public. Admission is $1.

Holiday Party

A "star-studded" floor show, replete with a belly-dancer no less, will be featured at the Institute-wide Holiday Party Dec. 15 in the College-Alumni Union.

Gail Rothman of NTID is the dancer, and other acts will include student Scott Weinstein, a song-and-dance man, and guitarist Tim Waters, also a student. Dr. Michael J. Vernarelli, professor of economics in the College of General Studies and "RIT's answer to Howard Cosell," will perform as master of ceremonies.

The show(s) will take place during band breaks in the music of Carl J. Dengler and his orchestra, in the CA cafeteria.

Increased bar facilities have been arranged for this year's gala, and a buffet meal will be served starting at 10:30 p.m.

The Holiday Party, co-sponsored by the Women's Council and Board of Trustees, presents an opportunity for the entire Institute community to interact in an atmosphere of good fellowship.

Persons planning on attending are being asked to make reservations with the President's Office, on forms provided in pay envelopes last week, no later than tomorrow, December 8.

The party is scheduled from 8:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. As in past years, a number of departments have scheduled pre-party events, culminating with participation in the Institute-wide festivities.

GRANTS DEADLINES

Please note: GUIDELINES FOR ALL PROGRAMS ARE ON HAND OR HAVE BEEN REQUESTED. Please call the Grants Office for additional information, 50 West Main Street, 475-2388.

DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
December 18 — Research and Professional Training in Urban Transportation Analysis, Planning, Engineering and Operations.

Project Grants up to $70,000
Program Grants up to $290,000 for three (3) year study. ($150,000/first year, $90,000/second year, and $50,000/third year).

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

January 5 — Institutional Proposals for Health-Careers Opportunity Grant for Veterans and Disadvantaged Students (Either Educationally or Economically Disadvantaged).

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE ARTS

December 20 — Craftsmen's Fellowships.
January 2 — Visual Arts in the Performing Arts.
January 15 — Photography Exhibition Aid.
January 15 — Photography Publications.
January 15 — Photography Surveys.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

January 1 — Institutional Challenge Grants.
January 2 — Institutional Higher Education Project Grants.
January 2 — Institutional Faculty Development and Curriculum Design for Summer 1981.
January 10 — Fellowships at the National Humanities Center for Academic 1979-80.
February 1 — Youth Project Grants for programs involving large numbers of children and teenagers in the Humanities.

NATIONAL SCIENCE FOUNDATION

January 1 — Research in Biological Oceanography, Marine Chemistry, etc.
January 10 — Information Dissemination in Science Education.
January 20 — Applied Physical, Mathematical and Biological sciences.
February 1 — Biochemistry.
February 1 — Biophysics.
February 1 — Biology - Cell, Developmental, Genetic, Human Cell, Metabolic and Regulatory.
February 1 — Engineering Special Equipment.
February 1 — Geology, Geochemistry and Geophysics.
February 1 — US - Australia Long Term Visits.
February 2 — Analysis of Science Resources: Personnel, Funding, Impacts and Outputs.
February 5 — Ecology.
February 5 — Ecosystem Studies.
February 5 — Population Biology and Physiological Ecology.
February 5 — Systematic Biology.
February 15 — Economics, Geology and Regional Science, History and Philosophy of Science, Law and Social science, Political science, Sociology.
February 16 — Science for Citizens/Forums, Conferences, Workshops.
January 20 — Applied Social and Behavioral Sciences.

US OFFICE OF EDUCATION
December 15 — Consumer's Education Program. The purpose of this program is to increase the capacity of organizations and institutions which educate consumers to prepare people for intelligent participation in the marketplace and in the economic system. Priority is given to applications which are designed to serve as models or which build an organization's long range capacity to provide consumer's education. 55 or 60 awards are anticipated at an average total of $45,000 per year.

December 22 — Public Service Education Program. This program issues awards to institutions of higher education to develop training programs by providing fellowship, and in some instances, institutional grants, for graduate or professional study for persons who plan to pursue a career in public service. Forty institutional grants at an average award of $25,000 are anticipated. Three hundred new fellowships are available for individual students to apply for.

January 5 — Community Education Program. To develop, establish, or expand programs which will train persons to plan and operate community education programs. $425,000/Higher Educational Institutions. 8 awards at $50,000 anticipated.

January 8 — Foreign Language and Area Studies Research Program. To conduct studies and surveys:

- To determine need for increased or improved instruction in modern foreign languages and related fields.
- To conduct research in training methods for use in such languages and fields.
- To develop specialized materials for use in training students and language teachers.

Approximately 30 projects at $28,500 each
January 8 — Program for the gifted and talented leadership personnel training.

To provide assistance for graduate programs for leadership personnel, for internships, and for training institutes. 3 new projects at $60,000 to $200,000 ($450,000 total available).

January 12 — Education for the use of the metric system of measurement. 66 to 76 new projects. Grants of $20,000 — $30,000 for preservice and inservice teacher development.
January 15 — Cooperative Education Program. Average awards of $50,000 to nearly 250 universities.

January 31 — National Reading Improvement Program — Reading Academy Program.

Applicants with current literacy training program acquire highest priority. 60 new projects averaging $75,000.

LONG LUNCH LINES

"To All Patrons of the College Alumni Main Cafeteria." On Thursday, December 14, approximately 300 persons will be on campus as guests of RIT. Part of their program will include luncheon from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the College Alumni Union Main Cafeteria. In order to avoid any difficulties with the long lines that will no doubt be created, may we suggest that you either plan to lunch prior to 11:15 a.m. or after 12:30 p.m.? If this is inconvenient, we remind you that the RITskeller, Grace Watson Hall, and the Dining Commons will be open for lunch on this date.

A PHOTOGRAPHIC EXHIBITION

"A Visit to China," which features more than 60 black and white and color photographs taken by Lothar and Gudrun Engelmann opens Friday, December 8, in the NTID Gallery. The Engelmanns shot the photos during a RIT Delegation's visit to the People's Republic of China last January. Artifacts from China will also be included in the exhibit, which will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily through January 6.

NEWS & NEWSMAKERS

Dr. Willard Arnold, manager of Product Management with Allied Chemical in Houston, Texas, will be honored Tuesday, December 19 and will be presented the Distinguished Alumnus Award from the College of Science. He will also deliver a seminar.

Robert Blaich, vice president of corporate design and communications for Herman Miller, Inc. will be a guest of the Department of Environmental Design on December 12.

He will give an illustrated presentation on "The Design Process at Herman Miller" at 2:00 p.m. in Room 1428 of the CCE building.

Gary Bonvillian, assistant registrar, recently attended the 48th Annual Meeting of the Middle States Association of Collegiate Registrars and Officers of Admission (MSACROA) held at Host Farm, Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The meeting focused on important issues in higher education, such as "Law and Regulations—Can We Comply?" and "Retention or Retrenchment—An Institutional Choice."

Warren E. Crichlow has been promoted from counselor to assistant director for the Higher Education Opportunity Program.

Dr. Andrew J. DuBrin, psychologist and professor of behavioral sciences, College of Business, was a guest on the Joey Adams Show (WEVD radio) in New York City November 30th as well as completed telephone interviews on three recent radio shows. He was also interviewed by station KPAC in Port Arthur, Texas and by a Miami, Florida station.

Eugene H. Fram, professor of Marketing and director of the Center for Management study, College of Business, recently made a presentation on Nursing Center Marketing to a group of Nursing Home Administrators. On December 15, he will talk on Social Marketing to graduate students in Public Administration at SUNY - Brockport.

Dr. John H. Hickman, chairman of Management Studies, College of Continuing Education, has been elected to the Board of Directors of GeVa Theatre, Rochester's professional repertory theatre.

He also was a member of the Conference Planning Committee for the 79th Annual Conference of the New York State Association of Human Services, Inc. held in association with the State Communities Aid Association in New York City on November 20-21. The theme of the Conference was "Accountability in the Human Services. To Whom? For What?"

Ronald J. Hilton, executive director, Advising, Staff Development and Evaluation, College of Continuing Education, has been named to the Board of Visitors Advisory Committee for New York State Psychiatric Centers. Hilton's appointment, made by Governor Hugh L. Carey, will run concurrently with his term as a member of the Board of Visitors of Rochester Psychiatric Center. Hilton holds the distinction of being the first former psychiatric center patient to be named to its Board of Visitors.

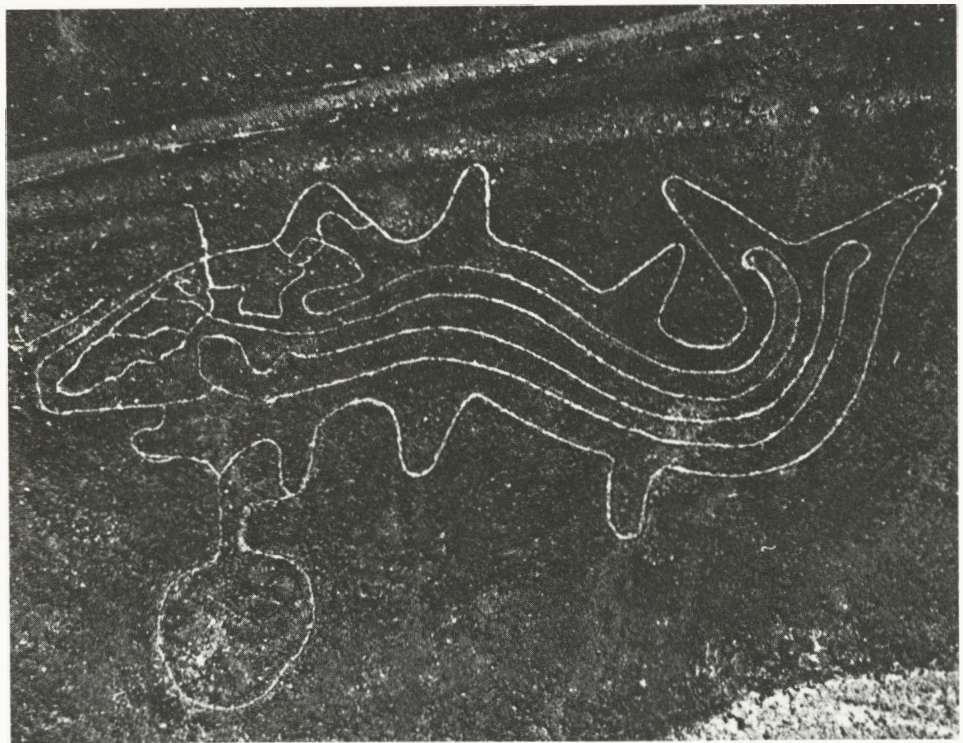

Dr. Lo, president of Chun-Sing University in Tiawan and former minister of education is on a grand tour of the United States and is visiting the better known universities. He visited the School of Computer Science and Technology at RIT on November 17. Dr. Lo met President Miller, Dr. Cheng and Dr. Humphries in the morning and also toured the RIT campus.

President Paul Miller received an Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters Degree from Michigan State University December 2. This is Dr. Miller's fourth degree in that he has received Honorary Doctor of Law Degrees from Bethany College (1961), Marshall University (1962), and Waynesburg College (1963).

Dr. John A White gave talks entitled "Values and Scientists" at the New York State Conference of Teachers of Introductory College Science at Vassar College on October 21, and at the meeting of the Rochester Academy of Science at S.U.C. at Geneseo on November 11.

NOTICE

Effective immediately all claims and/or questions concerning Workmen's Compensation should be directed to the RIT Personnel Office (Ext. 2424) rather than Campus Services.

OUT OF THE PAST

'The Killer Whale' and 30 other photos of the NAZCA Earthworks in Peru by third year photo student Marilyn Bridges will be on display in the MFA Gallery through December 14. Visible from the air, the markings depict huge triangles, rectangles, spirals and sketches of animals and have intrigued scientists for years. One theory has it they served as signals to or from astronauts who visited earth before the birth of Christ. Draw your own conclusions and visit the show, which is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily.

DATEBOOK

to Dec. 18—Bevier Gallery. Mary Frank: "Works on Paper" and "Mental Picture III, Portraits as Illustration." Open 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Mon. - Thurs.; 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Fri; 1 - 5 p.m. Sat.; 2 - 5 p.m., Sun.

Dec. 7—Photo Product Demonstration. Presentation of Bell & Howell & Mamiya. Special big negative slide show and demo. 2 - 4 p.m., 07-1541.

Dec. 11 - 31—"Dickens & Others. An exhibit of Books for and About Christmas." Cary Library. Books are from the personal library of Prof. Dane Gordon.

Dec. 12—Gannett Fellowship Reception Awards. 11 a.m. - 3 p.m., M-1, Contact Dr. Hacker at x2633.

Dec. 14—Tax Practitioners Workshop. 8 a.m. 4:30 p.m., Ingle Aud., Contact Karen Hart at 846-5423.

Dec 15—RIT Annual Holiday Party. 8:30 p.m., College-Alumni Union.

Talisman Film Festival (I) = Ingle Aud. (W) = Webb Aud.

A Streetcar Named Desire - Dec. 7, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (I)

Looking for Mr. Goodbar - Dec. 8, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (I)

The Runaway Railroad - Dec. 9, 2 p.m. $.50 (I)

A Night Full of Rain - Dec. 9, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (I)

A Lesson In Love & All These Women - Dec. 10, 7:30 p.m. $1.50 (I)

On the Waterfront - Dec. 13, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (I)

The Serpent's Egg - Dec. 15, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (W)

The Monster of Highgate Ponds - Dec 16, 2 p.m. $.50 (I)

Coming Home - Dec. 16, 7:30 & 10 p.m. $1.50 (I)

Millhouse: A White House Comedy & Hearts and Mind - Dec. 17, 7:30 $1.50 (I)

Filmmaker Here December 14,15

Award winning filmmaker Judith Crawley, who wrote the script for "The Man Who Skied Down Everest" will be on campus December 14 and 15 to meet with film and TV students in the School of Graphic Arts and Photography. Crawley's film, which won an Oscar in 1977, will be shown to the public at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 14, in Ingle Auditorium and will be followed by an open forum.

A multi-talented editor, writer, director and producer, Crawley has won approximately 100 national and international awards including the Golden Reel (for educational films) and the Golden Eagle (for industrial films). She and her husband are the founders of Crawley Films, Ltd., Ottawa, Canada.

Arrangements for her RIT visit grew out of the efforts of Martin Rennalls, professor in the College of Graphic Arts and Photography.

PROMOTIONS

The following promotions in the Campus Services Department have been announced:

Richard Smith, from engineering technician to superintendent of construction.

George Bale, from shift supervisor to chief engineer.

Phillip Goldberg, new staff engineer.

News & Events wants to know about promotions within your colleges, departments and offices. Please send such information to Norm Wright, Communications, administration building, 4th floor, or call 475-2750.

Holiday Schedule

The Personnel Department has released the following holiday schedule for the balance of 1978 and 1979.

1978 - Remaining Holidays

Dec. 25 Monday Christmas
Dec. 29 Friday Extra 1978 Holiday

1979

Jan. 1 Monday New Years
Mar. 9 Friday Floating Holiday
May 30 Wednesday Memorial Day
Jul. 4 Wednesday Independence Day
Sept. 3 Monday Labor Day
Nov. 22 Thursday Thanksgiving
Nov. 23 Friday Friday after Thanksgiving
Dec. 24 Monday Floating Holiday
Dec. 25 Tuesday Christmas
Dec. 31 Monday Extra Holiday (1979 only)

RIT has altered its holiday schedule for 1979 by adding an additional floating holiday in place of Good Friday. This represents a permanent change in holiday provisions that will continue in years to follow as well. This change is made due to the conflict between the observance of Good Friday and the necessity of that day to fulfill quarterly class requirements. For this reason the change to a flexible floating holiday is felt to be more appropriate.

NEWS & EVENTS

Published weekly on Thursday during the academic year by the Communications Office at Rochester Institute of Technology and distributed free of charge to the Institute community. For information call Norm Wright at 475-2750.