

THE EIGHT HOUR LAW

FARMERS' UNION OF OREGON CLAIMS LAW WORKS A HARDSHIP

The Farmers' Union of Eastern Oregon, in resolutions unanimously passed regarding the proposed eight-hour initiative bill, says:

"Initiative measure No. 13 makes it unlawful for any employer to require or permit any employee, male or female, to labor more than eight hours during any day of 24 hours or more than 48 hours of any week of seven days, except that agricultural laborers may be permitted to work ten hours a day where such work is necessarily incidental to farm management; provided, however, that in cases of extraordinary emergency endangering life or property, laborers may be permitted to work overtime, but shall receive therefor one and one-half times the rate of wage ordinarily allowed for all time employed in excess of eight hours for each calendar day. This law applies to every person employed in the state. The penalty for violation is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100 for every day that such violation continues.

"In this state (Oregon) harvest wages are based upon long hours of labor and the wages paid are far above that which could be obtained by men of similar skill and ability in any other line of work.

"This is done because the harvest season is one of great risk to the farmer and unless the harvest is gathered at the proper time, and as quickly as possible, the farmer risks the loss of his crop, in whole or in part, through exposure to the destructive action of the elements.

"A single storm may wipe out his income for the entire year and involve his labor for two years. On account of the short season, it would be an impossibility to conduct harvest operations with a crew laboring only eight hours per day, without sustaining a great loss before the last of the crop is secured. It is a difficult matter to secure proper help at the best, and it would be an impossibility, owing to a lack of laborers, to work two shifts of men eight hours each, even if the farmers were able to pay for the additional expense.

"If this measure becomes a law, it will add to the cost of farming to an extent that may wipe out the slender margin of profit which now exists between the cost of production and the selling price of the farmers' crops and so put the farmer out of business."

The Farmers' Union of Oregon seems to be awake to the danger that confronts the farming industry. Many Californians are awakening and we believe this California eight-hour measure will go down to defeat under an overwhelming adverse vote. However, the few months intervening between this and election time calls for a general campaign of education for, as was shown in last week's Cultivator, there are some even amongst the farmers who are so kindly disposed toward labor that they have not stopped to consider the real effect of this bill upon labor and upon the employer of labor. We believe the prevailing opinion is that labor must be fairly dealt with, but to encourage such a drastic measure as this will only cause contention between employer and employee.

We call attention especially to one word in this proposed law. "Any employer who shall require or permit or who shall suffer or permit." In other words, a vicious employee who sees fit to injure his employer, and it seems there are such, if not prevented, may work overtime, which may lead to the arrest and fining of his employer, while under the terms of this bill no punishment whatever can be meted out to the one employed. He may work as many hours as he pleases and for as many hours as he pleases during the twenty-four hours.

WESTON'S PRIZE EXHIBIT HERE

"Flowers and Sunshine," Edward H. Weston's prize picture, which was awarded first prize in the National Photographers' Association exhibit at Atlanta, Ga., recently, is on exhibit this week at Nathan Bentz & Co.'s, exclusive Oriental art store, Los Angeles, Fourth street, between Broadway and Spring—for this week only. Roberts & Echols' Drug Store will have this same picture on exhibit next week.

BIG MASS MEETING

A big water ownership mass meeting will be held at the high school auditorium Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited. This meeting will be followed by a still larger mass meeting at the same place Monday evening.

OWNERSHIP LEAGUE

MEN AND WOMEN ORGANIZE TO WORK FOR SUCCESS OF WATER BOND ISSUE

Water Ownership League
The above is the name given to an association of voters of Glendale who believe that it is a good plan for Glendale to own her own water system.

A meeting was called at the intermediate school Tuesday evening in an informal way by a few business men, who wished to have some questions answered on the water ownership question.

To the surprise of the few information seekers, men and women continued to congregate in the school auditorium until all portions of the city were represented.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor O. A. Lane. On motion, A. B. Heacock was elected temporary chairman and R. M. Jackson was elected temporary secretary. A motion was supported that the chair appoint a nominating committee of four persons, one being from each of the four polling precincts. The chair appointed the following committee:

Precinct No. 1, E. U. Emery; precinct No. 2, A. T. Cowan; precinct No. 3, Frank L. Muhleman; precinct No. 4, R. M. McGee. The committee retired and soon brought the following report: For president, Franklin P. Wilson; vice-president, E. U. Emery; secretary, R. M. Jackson; treasurer, Dr. Jessie Russell. Precinct committeemen: No. 1, J. F. Lilly and Thomas Ogg; No. 2, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and M. L. Watson; No. 3, Ezra F. Parker and J. W. Uslinton; No. 4, Mrs. P. A. C. Moore and A. B. Heacock.

Just as the report of the committee was about to be adopted, Mr. Wilson, who had been nominated for president, said he was going out of the city the following day and would not return until next Monday, and therefore could not serve as president.

The nominating committee again retired and brought in a report with Mrs. M. B. Jones' name for president and A. T. Cowan to take her place as committeeman in precinct No. 2. Mrs. Jones refused to accept the position, whereupon on motion, the report of the committee was adopted with the amendment that E. U. Emery serve as president and Mrs. Jones as vice-president.

Attorney W. E. Evans, by the use of a blackboard, explained very important questions about the number of inches of water included in the proposed water purchase, a comprehensive statement of which will appear in print tomorrow.

Mr. Evans for an hour answered questions to the satisfaction of an inquiring audience. Enthusiasm ran high. When the question of financing the campaign came up, hands were raised from all sections of the room and voices called out clear and loud, "I will give $1.00." Others called out, "I will give $5.00," saying "We want this water question settled—we want cheaper water and better service—we want to cut out this expense of continually hiring expert engineers to report as to the worth of the systems, and then turn the whole thing down only to be brought up again by the very ones who turned it down."

J. C. Beldin, who delivered a stirring address on municipal ownership, reached the climax when he said that municipal ownership and intelligence keep step in a community. He said the bonds failed to carry two years ago because the people then were not sufficiently educated as to the worth of municipal ownership, and if the bonds fail to carry this time, it will be because the people are not sufficiently educated as to the benefits that will be derived by the city owning and controlling her own water.

G. B. Woodberry, who is very conversant with the water supply, assured those present that there is sufficient water in the canyon for everybody in Glendale.

The meeting adjourned to reassemble at the call of the executive committee.

AUTO TOURISTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. C. Moore and sons, Ralph, Harry and Walter, returned Sunday evening from a four days' motor outing to San Diego. The party stopped at San Bernardino, Elsinore, Fallbrook and Tia Juana in old Mexico. Of course, the party had a jolly time on the overland cruise, the entire trip being over five hundred miles in distance.

TROPICO NEWS NOTES

PHOTOGRAPHER WESTON IS RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS—OTHER TROPICO ITEMS

A number of prominent artists and photographers in Southern California have visited the studio of Edward H. Weston on Brand boulevard to extend congratulations to this noted photographer, who but recently received added honors, and to view the study, or picture, that has rendered Mr. Weston famous. Among some of the noted artists who visited the Weston studio Tuesday were B. E. Murdock and Arthur Gray, who motored from Los Angeles, and brought as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mojonier.

Miss Emily Elias very pleasantly as well as uniquely celebrated her anniversary Sunday by a "hiking" trip to Griffith park. Miss Elias' family accompanied her on this delightful outing. Upon the return trip in the evening the pedestrians stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Weston, uncle and aunt of Miss Elias, and there enjoyed a surprise dinner party, which Mrs. Weston had carefully arranged as a compliment to her charming young niece, Miss Elias.

The Tropico Thursday Afternoon club will entertain with a garden and card party at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Barker, club president, on Thursday afternoon, July 23. The cool, shady grounds surrounding Mrs. Barker's residence are well adapted for the charming social function, which will be one of the many delightful diversions that have been planned by the ways and means committee of the club to be given this year.

Charles H. Cushing reports an increase in the number of card holders at the Tropico public library. Nine hundred and nineteen card holders are now registered; 1455 books and magazines were circulated in June. Total number of volumes in the library, 1824. New books are being added each month and the present location is inadequate for the growing demands of this much-needed institution, so that the new quarters in the proposed new city hall will be appreciated by all.

It was truly a most happy gathering of sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler on Cypress street Monday, when a score and more of their immediate family assembled and tendered Mr. Chandler a complete surprise as a reminder of his seventy-seventh anniversary.

Mrs. Charles Dutton and daughter, Miss Mildred Dutton, arrived from New York City on Monday and will spend the summer as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dutton on Virginia place. Mr. Dutton will arrive from New York the latter part of the week to join his wife and daughter in their visit to his parents.

Mrs. Frank I. Marsh entertains with a luncheon tomorrow complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Leathers and Miss Alice Leathers of Los Angeles, former residents of Tropico.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Weston and sons were the guests of Mr. E. Murdock and Mr. Arthur Gray on a motoring trip, which also included dinner in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowman and daughter, Katherine Bowman, leave Saturday for Catalina, where they will remain until the first of September.

RETURNS FROM PHILADELPHIA

James Wilson, foreman of MacMullin's dairy, returned Monday after a two months' visit at the home of his mother at Philadelphia. Mr. Wilson says that it was unusually hot in the East and that he finds it much cooler in Southern California.

INJURED BY FALL

While boarding a Los Angeles bound P. E. car about 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, Miss Blanche Hodes of Hollywood, well known as an extra in Manager George H. Melford's company of Kalem motion picture players, fell and sprained her ankle besides receiving other bruises and injuries, the most serious of which was a gash in the knee upon which she fell.

The young lady was carried into Munson's drug store, where her wounds were properly dressed and from which place she was taken to her Hollywood home to recuperate.

Today found the invalid greatly improved and unless complications develop, Miss Hodes will be able to resume her picture work in a very few days.

A TRIP TO JAPAN

NOVEL MEANS OF INCREASING BANK ACCOUNT ADOPTED BY YOUNG LADIES

A goodly number of local residents joined the ranks of "tourists" and followed the leaders in a sightseeing excursion and "Trip to Japan," as was given Tuesday evening by the young ladies of the Philathea class of the First M. E. church under the personal guidance of Messrs. Paul Butterfield, Henry Webb, Dana Burkett and George Hastings.

The corner of Broadway and Belmont street was so rigged up as to represent San Pedro, as the port of sail, and boasted of waiting-rooms, ticket offices, etc.

From here the tourists started at intervals of twenty minutes and journeyed to 216 Belmont street, where great quantities of foliage, boughs and greenery furnished a tropical setting characteristic of Hawaii, the island supposedly visited. Here the travelers were served to sandwiches, significant of the fact that Hawaii is commonly known as the Sandwich Isles, and also saw the manner in which the natives (Margaret Mcomber and Blanche Shea, in costume) eat. "The Seaside Orange" was illustrated by Raymond Lusby. Miss Janet McClellan rendered typical native music on the Eukulele, and after a trip through the improvised aquarium, the journey continued to Japan, in reality the Shropshire residence, 445 Everett street.

Here 'midst the glorious tints of cherry blossoms and countless Japanese lanterns that illuminated the place, the weary travelers were refreshed with tea and rice cakes that were served in the arbor by Waunita Emery, Helena Schwartz, Hazel Royce and Grace Shropshire. A pretty little tableau featuring Helen Reynolds and Jenny Lacey in a "Japanese Woman's Life," was also enjoyed, as were the pretty and dainty little costumes worn by the girls.

From Japan to China the course of the voyage led to the home of J. P. Lampert, 306 West Fifth street, where Miss Helen Wright, disguised in a gorgeous Oriental costume greeted those who entered and pleased them with a Chinese song. Little Warren Brockman spoke a Chinese piece as tiny as himself, after which the Misses Gertrude Wilson and Gladys Anderson, both beautifully arrayed as little almond-eyed goddesses, served bowls of rice, giving chopsticks as souvenirs. The entire house was aglow with Chinese lettered lamps and bright red satin and gold relics from the distant lands. The customary burning of incense also played an important part in the truly Oriental atmosphere.

The First M. E. church, corner of Third street and Dayton court, was the last goal, and represented San Francisco, introducing as it did the Golden Gate and customs house, where each individual ticket was rated and the holder of the same taxed. Wilbur Lee, Vern Wilson and Robert Blackburn represented the ice cream midgets and sold cornucopias filled with delicious cream.

The court, with its lavish decorations of greenery and flags, was then entered and the following program enjoyed:

Violin solo, Cecil Crandall.
Reading, Helen Wright.
Whistling, Henry Webb.
Vocal solo, Mrs. Cammack.

A sketch humorously divulging the secrets of a summer vacation, by the Philathea class, namely, the Misses Helen Wright, Ruth Pierce, Gertrude Wilson, Blanche Thede, Jenny Lacey, Helena Schwartz, Dorothy Lee, Marie Schwartz and Hazel Rice, all of whom took off the characters they represented most splendidly, was also enjoyed.

The entire evening was one of exceptional amusement and unusual pleasure and proved successful in more ways than one, especially financially, as over $60 was taken in, the clear profits being $40, every penny of which will be used for church purposes.

SURPRISE ANNOUNCEMENT

News of the marriage of Miss Anna Megilligan of Eagle Rock to Charles Wallace Tupper of Glendale comes as a great surprise to all.

This little secret was revealed by a message from the young couple, who quietly stole away to San Diego where the ceremony was solemnized last Monday.

Conclusive of a honeymoon, none but those concerned know where, the young couple will make their home in Glendale, where Mr. Tupper is proprietor of the Glendale Automobile and Machine Company and where the bride has many friends, all of whom extend their heartiest congratulations to these recent victims of Dan Cupid.

HARRY M. MILLER

GLENDALE POLICE OFFICER IS CANDIDATE FOR JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Harry M. Miller, for the past six years connected with the police department in Glendale, has been urged by his friends to make the race for justice of the peace of Burbank township. Mr. Miller's past experience peculiarly fits him for the position he seeks.

He was born in Philadelphia 36 years ago of German parents, and is a carpenter by trade. He first viewed Sunny California sixteen years ago when he sailed from San Francisco with the 15th cavalry for the Philippines, where he saw three years' and four months' service and visited the prominent ports of China and Japan on his return, landing at Victoria, B. C., and visiting Vancouver and Seattle. He was in the employ of the United States government for a time at Fort Warden, Port Townsend, Wash. Later he returned to San Francisco, where he was engaged by the Spreckles company to do carpenter work. Later he was employed by the Southern Pacific as station agent at Ventura and came to Glendale eight years ago to work for Contractor Wm. Anderson. He served three terms as city marshal of Glendale and at present is assistant to the chief of police. Mr. Miller was married July 9, 1908, and resides at 315 Howard street.

Mr. Miller has proven a faithful officer and his devotion to duty and his pride in performing the duties of his office to the best of his ability have been marked. His experiences as police officer go far toward qualifying him for the position he seeks. He will be found to have received a large support when the final returns come in.

TO THE PEOPLE OF GLENDALE

I consider that the present pending bond issue by the city of Glendale for the purpose of acquiring a municipal water system is by far the most important matter with which the city has been confronted in its history.

The question of municipal ownership of water has been agitated by our people for more than three years. A great deal of effort and a considerable amount of money have been expended in solving this important question.

I have for some time been giving the entire matter quite a lot of thought and consideration, and my mind was undecided on what was best for our people until at a meeting held in the intermediate school on last Friday evening the valuations as placed by the railroad commission were analyzed and explained to the people.

The railroad commission of the state should have no other purpose than to deal fairly with the people of the city of Glendale and with the water companies whose properties are to be taken over. This legally constituted body has passed on the question of valuations and after the same have been explained to the extent that the average layman can understand the theory on which these valuations were arrived at, I am thoroughly of the opinion that it is the best thing for our city to acquire these water systems at the valuations fixed by the railroad commission.

We have endured the unsatisfactory water conditions in Glendale long enough, and I am glad to have an opportunity to give this public expression as being in favor of the bond issue, and I trust that the people may come to realize the importance of settling once for all this most important question. Let us at once rally to the cause of municipal ownership, public progress and harmony among ourselves.

Very truly,
MRS. FRANK GROSVENOR.

BARACAS ENTERTAIN

Eagle Rock park was the scene of merriment Tuesday evening when the Presbyterian Baracas entertained the Philatheas and girls of Mrs. Campbell's class.

The committee deserves praise for the splendid beefsteak supper, which was served in genuine camp style. After satisfying themselves with the "eats," the jolly crowd sat 'round the fire and sang some of the old familiar songs. At intervals they were much delighted at the humorous antics of one (I don't wish to mention his name), who however, is generally known to be a descendant of the merry Touchstone. After this they wended their way homeward, all the young ladies declaring that the Baracas were pretty good hosts.

SUMMER QUIETUDE

BEACHES, MOUNTAINS AND VACATIONS LEAVING DAME SOCIETY STRANDED

Although it is really unfair to complain, yet the lull that comes with every summer makes it hard for we who feast our eyes on the news columns and still harder for we who must produce such evidence of life, social or otherwise.

The social world has been somewhat deserted, at least in Glendale, and it is only occasionally we hear about some lovely affair that has been given. Of course, there will be Mrs. H. E. Bartlett's reception in honor of Mrs. J. M. Border, Miss Bartlett and Dr. Margaret Lewis tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon, and the Foothill Club afternoon affair in the home of Mrs. George Pickereil on Friday. Both of these will be delights of the day.

Tuesday afternoon the Triple K's met informally at the home of Mrs. I. E. Gould, 611 South Central avenue, where a most enjoyable afternoon of needlework terminated in dainty refreshments and a delightful automobile ride.

Triple K members present were Mrs. Plummer Van Sant, Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. Goodman Phillips, Mrs. Andrew Wightman, Mrs. Purse Curtis, Mrs. W. Purser, Mrs. I. E. Gould, Miss Eva Daniels, Mrs. Frank Buchanan, Mrs. C. E. Sessions, Mrs. H. R. Gould and Miss Meserve.

A picnic at Griffith park will be enjoyed by members of the Triple K next Thursday, July 23.

Another informal affair of recent occurrence was the two-table card party and midnight supper which took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ringquest, 322 North Louise street. Pink Cochet roses adorned the home and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Phoenix, Mrs. Helen F. Campbell and Miss Annie L. McIntyre were the guests.

MRS. MCKENNEY HOSTESS

Another one of those delightful auction bridge luncheons was enjoyed Monday when Mrs. Frank B. McKenney was hostess to the Monday club of that name in her attractive home, 131 Eulalia street, in Tropico.

Variegated nasturtiums in shades of yellow trailed about the room given over to the affair and furnished a pleasing contrast to the freshness of the bright green foliage used.

Scores were kept on dainty conceits that were also used in marking places for the guests seated at the small tables, where an elaborate yellow luncheon preceded the usual game of auction bridge.

As a reward for highest scores, Mrs. W. A. Austin was given the special guest prize and Mrs. O. E. Clemens awarded the club prize. Others present were Mrs. Everitte K. Barnes, Mrs. Roy Hinchcliff and Mrs. R. Burnhart at the guests' table, and Mrs. J. W. Nethery, Mrs. C. O. Pullivan, Mrs. Charles E. Shattuck, Mrs. C. M. Goode, Mrs. Willis M. Kimball, Mrs. C. H. Woolsey, Mrs. D. H. Smith, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Herman Paine and Mrs. R. E. Hewes of Los Angeles as representatives of the club.

Mrs. J. W. Nethery will entertain the club in her Maple avenue home Monday, July 27th.

BIRTHDAY DINNER AND CARDS

In celebration of the birthday anniversary of her son-in-law, Mr. Leon H. Davis of Los Angeles, Mrs. H. L. Legrand entertained Tuesday evening with a prettily planned dinner party in her home, 1442 West Third street.

Shasta daisies nodded their golden centered heads from baskets and vases arranged in the living-room, while the dining-room, wherein the delicious meal was served, boasted of the fragrance and beauty of Cecil Brunner roses and fern. A huge mound centered the table, where dainty little favors and cards marked places for Mr. and Mrs. Legrand, Mr. and Mrs. Leon H. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kinsler, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dusenbury, Mrs. M. Miller and Mr. Conrad Davis.

The evening was spent at cards and a most delightful time was enjoyed.

A pretty dancing party has been planned for Saturday evening of this week, the affair to take place in the attractive Masonic temple and given as a courtesy to Miss Margaret Hancock, who is visiting here from Chicago. Patronesses for the evening will be Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., and Mrs. J. L. Hancock, aunt and mother, respectively, of the charming honoree.

The smallest convention to meet in San Francisco in 1915 among the 235 already listed, will be the Baronial Order of Runnymede. This order is composed of the direct descendants of the twenty-five barons who wrested the Magna Charta from King John in 1215.

CELERITY IN JUDICIAL PROCESS

The United States supreme court during the sitting opening last autumn and just closed rendered judgment in 591 cases, many of them being of epoch-making rank. It adjourned with only fourteen argued cases unadjudicated. Credit for this is due to the driving power of the chief justice, whose purpose is noticeably vigorous, and also to the reinforced court with a maximum membership and working capacity.

The exemplary effect of this high court's efficiency record upon lesser judicial tribunals should be and doubtless will be wholesome. A part of the unusually critical attitude of the public toward the courts at this stage of their history is due to dissatisfaction with the delays of the process of getting justice done.

To the credit of national and state bar associations and many of the judges be it said that the past decade has seen an awakening to the need of more simplicity of judicial process, swifter rendering of judgment, and consequently reduction of the costs of getting justice done by lawful methods that experience has shown are best for humanity.

In dealing with Southern California climate, writers and speakers have used many examples to show why this is the best the earth affords. It remained for an exchange to bring up the babies as proof of the value of the Sunny Southland climate.

Over four thousand automobiles were purchased in California during the month of June. Yes, California is enjoying prosperity, here and now.

HIGH HONORS FOR EDUCATORS

Does the ordinary community do all that it might or should do to pay adequately or honor duly the persons who teach its youth? Mary Antin, in her autobiography, indicates what Jewish parents think of teachers, and how they and their pioneering children value the women and men who take the immigrant boy or girl and open wide to him or to her the treasures of knowledge hidden in an unknown tongue.

Henry Ferd, the automobile manufacturer, in a conference with President Wilson, is reported to have declared that there is no financial depression psychological or otherwise, and that business is getting better all the time.

A LIFE OF WONDERS

Reading the account of an Illinois farmer who recently celebrated his arrival at the century mark, brings to mind something of the wonderful changes he has seen during that span of life. In his own particular calling he has used every implement of the wheat field from the reaping hook and cradle to the modern traction-drawn harvester. The progress made in agricultural implements is typical of that in all the other lines of human activity.

This aged farmer has seen the nation grow from a bordering strip along the Atlantic to an empire banding the continent and reaching far out into the Orient. He has seen the railroads grow into world commanding empires, the development of the telegraph and telephone into the miracle working devices of the present day. He has seen electricity ravished from the elements and made the wonder working tool of man, and the dream of Icarus materialized in the aeroplane. If he lives but another short year he may see that flight across the ocean in twenty hours which scientists are promising with so much assurance.

These are but a few of the marvels which have marked his course through life and must make him feel to rejoice that fate accorded him the most wonderful century in the history of the world. We are told that a child of today, entering upon a similar life tenure, is destined to pass through changes much more marvelous, but whatever the future may hold for others, this man can have no regrets for the time appointed him.

A Rhode Island man predicts the hottest summer in the East for a half century. Brace up, folks, the trains are running to Sunny Salubrious Southern California.

The American General Baggage Agents' Association will meet in Los Angeles next year, and the delegates will all appear in suits of neat checked crash.

A Seattle man claims to have discovered "mice with wings," but after imbibing the third-rail stuff they sell in that town, he is likely to see pink polar bears.

California is preparing thoroughly for the expositions and exposition visitors next year. But it is not exposition mad. It is doing the day's work as usual.

Some students are glad because the vacation season is on; others are attending summer school. It takes all kinds of children to make up the world.

Where are our boasted liberties? What has become of free speech when it costs eighteen dollars a minute to talk between San Francisco and New York?

It must be admitted that for a man who has not been recognized, Huerta has managed to enlist a large amount of the attention of the public.

Nobody in this country can explain why the members of congress do not go home.

SEE CALIFORNIA FIRST

Quite a number of persons who reside in California have not seen much of the beauties and grandeur of California scenery. There are persons who travel clear across the continent, from California, and then cross the Atlantic and travel through Europe to find picturesqueness and majesty in mountains and valleys and woodlands and ocean views. These persons never have explored thoroughly the one county in which they live, for scenic beauty and sublimity, much less have they seen the whole of California's scenic offerings. Of course, it would be rankly impertinent to attempt to dictate or to insist upon what each person should do about these matters. But it is never out of place to press the suggestion that Californians see California and see it thoroughly—particularly that they see their own county thoroughly—before going abroad for scenic attractions.

LET'S LAUGH

"M'friend, I can't s'hay; I'm a stranger in town."

The term, "fly cops," will not be so much out of place in the future. Comes now the aeroplane policeman! Los Angeles will have the distinction of having the first winged cops. Flying squadron will no longer be a figurative phrase, but a literal description of the Angel City corps of police aviators.

So long as human nature remains as it is, worry cannot be completely eliminated. But it may be minimized, so that its hurtful influence may be made negligible.

HE BARQUED

Willie was struggling through the story in his reading lesson. "No, said the captain," he read, "it was not a sloop; it was a larger vessel. By the rig I judged her to be a-a-a—" The word was new to him. "Barque," supplied the teacher. Still Willie hesitated. "Barque!" repeated the teacher, this time sharply. Willie looked as though he had not heard aright. Then, with an apprehensive glance around the class, he shouted: "Bow-wow!"

FIRST OVER-OCEAN FLIGHT IS SCHEDULED FOR NEXT MONTH

Popular trust in possibilities has grown amazingly in recent years. It has not in the slightest degree taken on the form of credulity; on the contrary, it amounts to an educated and established faith in the resourcefulness of the human intellect. It is the natural result of the wonderful discoveries and inventions of the last century, especially of the last few years. Few doubt today the achievement of an over-Atlantic voyage; the many are willing to believe that its accomplishment is within measurable distance; it would take many failures to destroy their confidence in the final outcome. And it was only yesterday, as time goes, that this nation and the whole world were laughing at Professor Langley's "folly."

We seem to be on the eve of an attempt at over-ocean flying the result of which is likely to influence the whole future of humanity. It is possible to conceive what navigation of the air will do toward revolutionizing present economic systems only by looking back and considering what steam navigation has done. The air roads are even wider and longer and apparently will be more easily traveled than those of the sea and the rail. Means of communication promise to multiply under the new system and without crowding the avenues of communication. The imagination might go to almost any length without going too far in dealing with the opportunities for intercommunication which the aeroplane is likely to open up.

For the next three weeks or so, attention will center upon the airship America and its projected flight. The channels and the smaller seas, the plains and the mountains, have been crossed by the aeroplane; it now remains for it only to make the flight across one of the great oceans in order to remove the last lingering doubt as to its future as a factor in human progress. The preliminary trials of the machine appear to have been entirely satisfactory so far; it is a hope common, we believe, to the whole world that success shall attend its every trial and crown its supreme adventure.

MONTESSORI CHILDREN

Pretty Sally Pettigrew Had a playful impulse to Brain the baby with a brick; Papa whaled her with a stick; Mama rose in wild alarm To stay the sire's avenging arm: "Do not whip the little elf!— Let her educate herself! Let no parent dare prevent A little child's development!" Little Mable Miblemunch Hid a snake in Papa's lunch; Papa bit the snake and died; Little Mable sobbed and cried; Patient Mama only smiled, Saying, "Do not weep, my child! You did nothing but obey The playful whim that came your way— And how should little children learn Were they thwarted at each turn?" —New York Evening Sun.

GOVERNMENT EXHIBIT

The United States government exhibit at the Panama-Pacific international exposition in San Francisco has been divided into sixteen grand divisions or sections, representing all of the executive departments, except one, and seven independent offices and commissions. The departments to be represented by exhibits are state, treasury, war, postoffice, navy, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor, and the other divisions comprise the civil service commission, the Isthmian canal commission, the library of congress, the Smithsonian institute, the commission of fine arts, the government printing office and the American National Red Cross.

Army wagons, tents and equipment used in the Civil war are expected to form a section of the exhibit being prepared by the war department. Side by side with the modern paraphernalia of war, will be shown models and in many cases originals of the equipment of by-gone days. A complete field hospital in operation throughout the period of the exposition will be another feature of the exhibit of Uncle Sam's fighting force.

The American National Red Cross will occupy a large space in the palace of liberal arts, and the exhibit will include a panorama of Messina, Italy, showing in a vivid fashion the relief work of the Red Cross during the disaster which overtook the Sicilian city. The background will show mountains and the ruined city, and the foreground the American town which was built for the refugees out of the funds contributed to the Red Cross. The equipment for relief on battlefields will be shown in all of its details, and there will be various exhibits showing the work done during the Ohio floods of 1913, and numerous other object lessons in the splendid work of which the Red Cross is capable and is ready to undertake at short notice.

The department of the interior, with its many bureaus, will be compelled, within the limits of its allotted space, to exhibit a vast number of important activities. These comprise the general land office, the bureau of Indian affairs, the bureau of education, the patent office, the pension office, the geological survey, the reclamation service, the bureau of mines and the national parks and reservations. The bureau of education of the interior department will undertake the preparation and installation of a general educational exhibit in the palace of education and social economy. The reclamation of arid lands, the storing of water and its distribution for irrigation purposes, and the great engineering projects under its direction, will be featured by the reclamation service.

Every possible advantage in the location of the exposition grounds will be taken by the government to add to the interest of the federal exhibit. Permission may be secured to visit the many forts around the bay, and the battleship fleet which will be anchored off the exposition site. An exhibition drill by the U. S. life saving crew will be given daily at the station on the exposition grounds.

INDIANS KEEN POLITICIANS

The great question of whether the American Indian will ever take his place in politics and become an active factor in local and state government is being answered satisfactorily in several parts of South Dakota. The poor, whiskey-sotted Rain-in-the-Face of earlier days is rapidly changing into a keen and crafty politician. Reports received in the past week from Bennett and Mellette counties indicate that the craftiness of the Indian has been pitted successfully against all of the whites and a score or more of important county offices are now held by Indians. These office holders are Indians of intelligence and education. As a further indication of the trend of the times, the secretary of state recently chartered the "Indian Political Association" of White River Mellette county, to conduct political affairs in that region on a solid basis. The organization is incorporated by Isaac Bear Looks Behind, Edward Castaway in the Forest, Benjamin Hungry, James Bear Thunder and Henry Swift Eagle.

It is very unjust on the part of some people to attribute every little misfortune to providence. Much of the misery and ills of today are man-made. It is up to man, then, to eliminate them as far as in his power lies.
