SENATE PASSES DUNCAN BILL—
CHANGES IN COMPENSATION
LAW

SACRAMENTO, March 27.—Chairman V. S. McClatchy of the state reclamation board is in receipt of communications to-day to aid the board in its fight against the opposing forces. The letters are from Major L. H. Rand, executive officer of the California debris commission, and State Engineer McClure.

"Proponents of the Chandler, Purkitt and Duncan bills," says McClatchy, "designed to secure the dissolution of the Sacramento and San Joaquin drainage district, have claimed that this district can be dissolved without interfering with the work of the United States at the Sacramento river's mouth and the weirs in the interests of navigation, and without inducing a cessation of congressional appropriations for such purposes. The letters from Major Rand and State Engineer McClure make it very plain that such is not the case."

The senate has passed the Duncan bill which is intended to prevent the repetition of a mix-up such as occurred last fall when Secretary of State Jordan declined to officially announce the California vote for President because in several precincts complete returns were not forwarded to his office. This bill provides a legal method of securing such missing returns and, it is expected, will readily be given an affirmative vote by the assembly, and the governor's signature.

A senate vote on proposed changes in the workmen's compensation law to the further benefit of workers will be taken to-day. Senator Luce, author of the bill, has arranged to make the measure a special order for 11 o'clock a. m. on the floor of the senate.

Eddie I. Wolfe, former state senator, is diligently buzzing around the corridors and the committee rooms of the capitol. As a member of the board of supervisors of San Francisco he appeared in opposition to the Prendergast vivisection bill. As a paid representative of the canners of the state he appeared in opposition to the bill designed to strengthen the market commission act. In explaining his affiliation with the canners Wolfe denied that the canners had combined to fight the bill, but said it so happened that each canning company had employed him.

With the passage of the Marks bill regulating the carrying and sale of revolvers and prohibiting altogether the possession, carrying or manufacturing of black-jacks, sandbags and other "tools" commonly used by burglars, several other bills along the same line in the assembly have been permanently sidetracked.

Reports from assessors in 48 counties of the state, in connection with the "food shortage" probe ordered by the senate, disclose that accounts of the shortage have been considerably exaggerated. The most extensive report came from County Assessor E. W. Hopkins of Los Angeles, who sent in an itemized statement of everything from potatoes to sauerkraut.

Senator Lyon has withdrawn his bill which proposes to authorize counties to employ public health visitors.

EASTER CONCERT AT OWENSMOUTH

A sunrise Easter concert will be held in the Greek theatre of the Owensmouth high school on the morning of April 8 under the auspices of the Owensmouth Woman's club. There will be ample parking space for automobiles and the public is cordially invited to attend the services, the program for which will be as follows: Cornet solo, Frank M. Keffer; whistling solo, Margaret McKee; congregational singing; professional, Hollywood high school glee club; scripture, Rev. Geo. R. Graf; address, Dr. Chas. Edward Locke; vocal solo, Constance Balfour; reading, Prof. Head; congregational singing, Clifford Lott.

GLENDALE CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE

The Glendale Chautauqua Circle will meet with Mrs. L. E. Brockman, 452 East Second street, Wednesday, March 28, at 2:30 p. m. The circle at present is studying "Belgium, the Land of Art." The chapters for Wednesday's consideration are: Brussels; The Great Abduction; The Belgic Confession and Leader; Flight of Walloons and Flemings. Other items of interest on the program will be a Sketch of Charles; The Short Story; Philip II of Spain and America. Anyone interested in Chautauqua work is welcome.

CHAMBER COMMERCE

TANGIBLE EVIDENCES OF APPRECIATION ENCOURAGE SECRETARY CHURCH

Yesterday Mr. C. A. Redmond called at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, introduced himself as a resident of Glendale, and said he had a present for the Secretary. It proved to be an annual pass over the Salt Lake Route, of which railroad Mr. Redmond is District Agent, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

He said that the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad was interested in the work of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and willing to further its efforts in any and every way.

As more than one meeting of the Commercial Secretaries will probably be held along the line of that well-wishing railroad company, its kindly donated pass can be used for Glendale's benefit. Furthermore, some profitable advertisement for Glendale may be done along that line to induce tourists and others not to return east without seeing the loveliest city of the Pacific coast. (No other coast has a look in.)

Yesterday the Chamber of Commerce was visited by Mr. W. C. Cutler of 1327 Louise street, North Glendale. He came to get a few of the Aloha leaflets to send to friends back East, as he had heard that this literature gives a fair idea of Glendale, the Beautiful. After asking a few questions he also left a number of addresses, saying he thought the people would be interested in knowing more about Glendale, and he asked that the Aloha leaflets be sent to them. Then he said: "The Chamber of Commerce is doing good work for Glendale. I want to help support it. Put me down for five dollars, and when you need more, call on me." Many other good citizens, men and women, would do likewise if they only could think about it.

PROSPERITY WAVE

The signs of the times are that Glendale is about to be visited by a wave of prosperity.

In last Friday's issue of the Evening News an account was given of the large investment made by Anthony Ambrosini along Broadway adjoining Glendale avenue. At that time it was said that he had purchased the Watson block from Howard street to Glendale avenue, and the Shropshire block at the northeast corner of the street intersection of Broadway and Glendale avenue. Since that time we have been informed that Mr. Ambrosini has purchased the store building property on the northwest corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue. Now there are other purchases Mr. Ambrosini will likely make if the money considerations are made sufficiently attractive.

The masons and carpenters are busy on Brand boulevard at the corner of Colorado street and Brand, putting up large brick structures, and over on Third street, between Kenwood and Jackson, the $40,000 Methodist church edifice is nearing completion. In addition to these investments and improvements many new dwelling houses are in process of erection in all parts of Glendale.

BIRTH OF RED CROSS

The Red Cross had its birth in the heart of a young Swiss, Henri Dunant, in 1859, when the Sardinian forces under Victor Emanuel, with the allied forces of France under Napoleon III, and those of Northern Italy, attempted to throw off the yoke of Austrian supremacy. He saw the wicked, unnecessary suffering of forty thousand killed and wounded at the battle of Solferino, and wrote the graphic description of this awful horror, entitled Souvenir de Solferino which shocked the world into that action which resulted in the Treaty of Geneva.

Dunant asked: "Why have we thought it well to recall these scenes of grief and desolation, to recount such lamentable and gruesome details, and to draw such vivid pictures of despair?" And he answered: "Would it not be possible to found and organize in all civilized countries permanent Societies of Volunteers which, in time of war, would render succor to the wounded without distinction of nationality?"

The Treaty of Geneva resulted in the organization of Red Cross Societies in practically all civilized countries. Its emblem is the reverse of the Swiss flag—the cross, instead of being white on a red field, is red on a white field. The treaty provides for protection for hospital formations and their personnel in time of war. The Treaty of The Hague extends to naval warfare the provisions of the Treaty of Geneva.

APPEAL FOR SUFFERERS

STARVING THOUSANDS ARE DE-SERVING OF OUR CHARITY

Editor News:

Surrounded by an atmosphere of peace and a landscape that has not been marred by the rude machinery of war, it is impossible for us in this pleasant land of California to realize that over one half of the world today hang the heavy clouds of a titanic struggle such as the world has never seen, in which all the fiends of evil seem to be employed in revising and devising tortures old and new with which to rack the minds and bodies of human beings of both sexes and all ages. Armenia, Belgium, Poland, Serbia, Turkey and portions of Russia are in a state of starvation and fit objects for the practical charity of the world, while in the other nations at war conditions exist which even if starvation does not immediately threaten, are still such as to deserve the sympathy of all people who have, through no merit or wisdom of their own, escaped being caught within the radius of this great catastrophe.

At the present time the United States is the most favored in wealth and general prosperity of all the nations of the world, and it would naturally be expected that this country would lead all others in its contributions to the needy of the starving nations. Here are a few statistics that tell a story of which we have no reason to be proud; they are given out by Mr. Honnold, director in America of the Commission for Relief in Belgium. The United States, according to Mr. Honnold's report, has contributed only eight cents per capita to Belgian relief, Great Britain 18, Canada 18, Australia $1.23, New Zealand $1.98, and Tasmania $6.53 per capita. The French are also giving to the stricken Belgians, through the Commission, over two million a month, and in addition they are giving approximately six million five hundred thousand to the destitute in French territory occupied by the Germans in northern France.

Being the most prosperous, it follows more or less naturally that we are the most extravagant and wasteful of the peoples of the earth. We are boastful of possessing the "best" and too often the supposed proof of such possession is the fact that we pay the "most" money. (I resist the temptation, which is strong, to diverge here.) But at the same time it is permissible to say of ourselves that we are a generous people, giving largely of our means, when we think of it, more or less promiscuously.

But the call has never been so loud and urgent as just now, nor the opportunity of service so pressing and universal—none of us can escape it. It comes home to the hearts and consciences of us all that we have no right to the selfish enjoyment of the blessings of Heaven without sharing with our suffering fellows across the sea—to each of those in need a little means so much. Glendale is not a community of wealthy people, but the people of this small city are spending thousands of dollars every day for passing pleasure which leaves no good behind, nothing equal to the sense of having contributed of our means to the dire need of those who suffer the pangs of starvation, are exposed to the bitter teeth of the winter wind and the casual cruelty of their fellows. The duty of doing something according to our ability to alleviate the pangs of the hungry sufferers who to-day reach out to us hands of supplication from across the sea, must come directly home to the conscience of every man, woman and child in our community. It does not matter much to which of the suffering countries our contributions are sent, they cannot go altogether amiss. The Red Cross is doing excellent work, but this is not an appeal for that splendid organization; it is an appeal for assistance for the needy in any of the countries mentioned in this article or in any other country where the pressing need exists, and there are innumerable ways and mediums by which contributions may be forwarded. The schools are doing a most commendable work in urging pupils to contribute regular sums, however small, out of their own earnings, for the relief of the needy, and parents should encourage them in the effort, remembering that of such gifts it has been said by the greatest poet of our race, "It is twice blessed, it blesseth him that gives and him that takes."

The writer of this does not admit that there is any other object of our giving, whatever its claims, that at the present time is half as deserving of our gifts as are these starving and heart-wrung people across the sea. Let us give to the Red Cross society

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

BOYS WANT LUNCH COUNTER—TENNIS TEAM MAKES SPLENDID SHOWING

Yesterday at 12:45 o'clock a boys' assembly was called for the purpose of discussing plans for the erection of a new lunch counter in connection with the school cafeteria. The function of this proposed improvement will be to serve certain delicacies to those boys who are too impatient to wait their turn in the main cafeteria. Mr. Moyses said that the project would not be put through unless approved by the boys themselves, but judging from the enthusiasm shown yesterday it is assured that the boys will patronize the new enterprise.

Among other propositions brought before the meeting were those concerning another stag party to take place in the near future and also concerning means of recreation for the boys of the school at noon. Mr. Joy and Mr. Wight each gave short talks on the necessity of such activities.

This year our tennis team has made the best showing ever made by such a team representing G. U. H. S. In the Central League, in which we are entered, our boys ended the season last week in first place, being tied for that position with South Pasadena and Harvard M. A. In the semi-finals yesterday with Harvard they again came out on top, defeating the cadets by the score of 9-8. The match was one of the closest fought of the season, the result not being decided until "Bill" Balthis finally won from Harvard's first man, Bianco. All the boys played excellent tennis, and deserve much credit for their showing this year. The members of the team are Wm. Balthis, Carlton West, Lehman Crandall and Roscoe Puffer. The finals will be played off Thursday with South Pasadena on Harvard's courts.

Among other pleasant happenings around school yesterday were the quarterly examinations in Spanish given out in Miss Fenton's second year classes. Every one concerned felt that they were being imposed upon by having to take the test so early, but now that it's all over they are all glad that it came when it did.

A practice game of baseball will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Burbank on our own grounds. The team is going fine now, and the game to-day should be quite interesting. The probable battery for Glendale will be Eckles and Sharpe.

NEW SHOW ROOM FOR CLAYTON

After some months spent in Glendale as agent for the Maxwell car and the Hupmobile, George E. Clayton has decided to take the agency for the Velie in addition to the other two, and as his rapidly growing business demands better facilities and larger accommodations than he has at present, he has arranged for a new building which he expects to be able to occupy for a show room by June 1.

C. W. Kent & Son have designed and have the contract to erect a building on the northwest corner of Brand and Fifth street for Mr. Clayton. The plans call for a building of the latest design for the purpose for which it will be used and Mr. Clayton will find his work greatly facilitated by the increased space and accommodations.

The Velie car for which Mr. Clayton has recently taken the agency is a medium-priced, high-grade car and he is very enthusiastic as to its merits. The Maxwell is one of the best low-priced cars on the market and its general use is evidence of its value. The Hupmobile has excellent points that are attested by the large number of Hup owners and with the addition of a high-grade car such as the Velie to the list, Mr. Clayton feels he has a trio that cannot be excelled.

Mr. Clayton is a cautious business man and a judicious salesman and with his increased facilities for doing business the coming season is very sure to be a very successful one for him. He will continue to keep his demonstration cars at 1312 West Broadway, after the completion of his new display rooms.

CHIEF HERALD BUSY

Chief of Police G. H. Herald is busy getting additional evidence as to who the boys were that committed so many thefts in this city. He has a long list of names and is adding new names to the list every day.

or to any other worthy organization that will see to it that our contributions get to the object of our loving and duty bound charity.

CALIFORNIA REAPING PROSPERITY

California is getting the benefit of wise action by the people in voting down all kinds of freak legislation.

As a result of stability and steadiness on the part of the electorate business is improving and real estate values are advancing all over the state and investments are being made.

There must be a certain amount of security and stability to a great commonwealth if all kinds of people are to come here and invest their money, large sums and small, long and short time investments.

This is a big world and there is a wealth of undeveloped resources in the great Golden State that it takes faith and courage to bring into potential values and it cannot be done by fads and fancies.

The vision of capital is sometimes as romantic and as poetic and creative for human interests as the vision of the dreamer and a great deal more encouraging to those who live by labor.

There is room in California for the dreamer and the poet but it is a mistake to substitute his visionary propositions for common sense and good hard business experience.

When it comes to enacting laws and building industries this state cannot get far in advance of the experience of mankind nor lift humanity by artificial means.

MILLIONS OF POWER RUNNING TO WASTE

Millions of dollars are being expended in France in developing the water powers of the Alps, in order to secure cheaper power than that had from coal, which is short in amount and growing higher in price.

In the valley of Durance new plants aggregating 74,000-horse power are being erected for the electro-chemical industry, while above Modane one of the biggest chemical plants in France has acquired rights to about 120,000-horse power. This project alone, when completed, will reduce coal consumption by 1,300,000 tons annually.

The Seattle Post Intelligencer says: In the United States, particularly in the far Western states, water power development has been automatically suspended for years by the action of the government in withdrawing all sites on public lands from entry and by the neglect of congress to pass laws which would permit the development of the water power on the sites so withdrawn.

In appealing to congress for action on this matter, Secretary Lane pointed out that these powers could not be developed under existing laws for three reasons: because of the uncertain tenure involved by revocable permits; because capitalists will not loan money on such security, and because the consumers can have no assurance that they will be supplied for a fixed and definite period. He states that numerous responsible persons who have taken permits under existing law have been unable to develop power plants because of these facts.

Yet congress neglects to act, and in the name of conservation millions of tons of coal are burned up each year in communities which might readily be served in full by power developed from water.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF THE STATE

The greatest need of the state is more producers to go upon the unused lands and make them productive.

To bring down the high cost of living, to produce more of the necessities of life, we must encourage families to make homes on the land.

To accomplish this result and develop the state industrially speculative prices of land must be eliminated.

To get colonies of five or ten or twenty families to locate on land near towns, the land must be productive and the price must not be prohibitive and terms easy.

Real estate speculations in lands at two hundred to five hundred dollars an acre with big commissions and high rate of interest and taxes make this impossible.

Land is only worth, from the standpoint of production, what a family can produce out of the soil by labor, deducting taxes, interest and cost of upkeep on land and improvements.

There should be land open to colonization on these terms in the vicinity, or in marketing distance from every city and town on the Pacific coast.

Commercial clubs should try to find openings for colonization of lands in tracts of from 50 to 1,000 acres and let them be filled with families of laboring people.

In these days of social discontent, of foreign wars, of bread riots and revolutions, it is just as important to keep alive the idea that real producers are needed and industrial development must continue.

Many communities are land-poor and production-poor. The problem is to bring over-valued, over-taxed and under-productive lands within reach of landless families who need homes and employment.

REPRESENTING THINGS AS THEY ARE

"Honesty is the best policy" is a saying as old as it is true. The man who is honest may not always close a deal that a dishonest person would close, but in the course of time the man who pursues honest methods in the transaction of his business will succeed. Honesty is an asset that can not be valued in dollars and cents. The man who is absolutely honest has a decided advantage in life over the man who is dishonest. The professional man, the merchant, the farmer and the day laborer will all prosper more in their respective lines of work if they are truly honest.

If the milk of human kindness sold by the quart we'd buy a lot for some folks.—Old Man Sage.

"CHRIST THE DYNAMO OF GOD"

At the Sabbath morning service at the West Glendale Methodist Episcopal church, Mr. Merle Davis rendered a flute solo, "The Perfect Day." Miss Grist sang "Face to Face" in her usual sweet manner. These renditions were highly appreciated by the crowded house.

The pastor, Rev. Norcross, in a message full of eloquence and magnetism spoke to his people from a text found in the first chapter of Paul's letter to the Corinthians.

He began his discourse by telling of a forsaken mine that he had seen in his earlier life. How it had once been very rich and then played out and was finally deserted. He then told of a mine that has never been exhausted—the Word of God. "Let us sink a shaft this morning into this mine. We will bring forth nuggets of gold. We will be the richer for it. Are you ready to make the trip? Then we will go."

The words, Christ the Power of God, were selected by the minister upon which to center attention. He then spoke of the personality of Christ. The wonderful Power of the Redeemer came next. Lastly of God and his might. Then came the question, "What is Christ to you?" He then told us of the similarity of Christ to a great dynamo. How powerful He was in His own personality, then in Himself. He said, "I and my Father am One." He became the incarnate One for you and me. "Does your heart leap with joy and say that Christ is the power in your every day life?" He is a power that keeps.

A story full of vitality was told. Joseph Barry, because of liquor habit, was so wretched that his own brother would not recognize him, he had fallen so low. Even in this condition he had thoughts that told him he should be a better man. By and by Christ met him in a poor mission church one night. He had taken a seat in the rear of the room. A man was speaking of a Christ that straightened out things and he soon found himself prostrate upon the floor looking up into the face of God asking for this power.

His brother was an infidel and when he saw what a change it made in his brother he said, "If this is what Christ can do He is the Power of God for sure." He was converted within a year and devoted his life to the uplift of the fallen.

Christ is the secret of it all. Can you say that Christ is the Power of God?

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.

Carl Countryman, lecturer, impersonator and author, was a visitor in Glendale Monday.

O. S. Richardson took his departure this morning for Chicago, on a few weeks' business trip.

Miss Loraine Mitchell entertained Miss Eulalia Richardson at her home 2001 Kenneth road, North Glendale, Sunday.

Miss Barbara Mitchell of 2001 Kenneth road, North Glendale, spent the week-end in Hollywood as the guest of her friend, Miss Winifred Montgomery.

The Glendale W. C. T. U. meets with Mrs. Hattie Gaylord, 143 East First street on Friday, March 30, when the topic will be "National Constitutional Prohibition."

The tract on which is located the city reservoir at the head of Campbell street has been cleared off and trees have been planted. Residents of North Glendale are wondering if that is Glendale's new city park.

The Ladies Aid Society of the West Glendale M. E. church will meet next Thursday afternoon at the church at 2:30, to hold their regular business meeting. All the ladies and friends of the church, welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Guy Goodsell arrived here from Platteville, Wis., Monday and are visiting at the home of Rev. Goodsell's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Goodsell of Palmer avenue, Tropic. They expect to be here about a month.

J. C. McQuiston who was quite ill at his home, 1446 Pioneer drive, for nearly three weeks, is able to be back at his office again. Mr. McQuiston has just been made assistant purchasing agent for the Santa Fe with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Rev. Don S. Ford, pastor of the Tropic M. E. church, is expecting his little five-year old daughter to arrive here with her aunt, with whom she has been living in Montana, the latter part of the week. They are at present visiting in San Diego.

Mrs. Gilbert McCann and son Donald, who have been in Santa Barbara county for some months, are visiting Mrs. McCann's mother, Mrs. M. Z. Valentine on Kenneth road. Mrs. McCann came down to Glendale with her brother, John Valentine, in his machine.

James H. McClelland calls our attention to the fact that the season for trout fishing does not open until May 1. A good many of our local young Izaak Waltons seem to have an impression that the season opens on April 1, and it is well for them to make note of the date, as they might otherwise get into trouble.

The Tuesday Afternoon club will give its annual reception to the husbands of the club members at Masonic Temple this evening. A. Rae Condit, dramatic reader, whistler and impersonator, will be the entertainer of the evening and Mrs. Calvin Whiting will be the soloist. The mock senate, given a short time ago with such success, will be repeated.

Rev. Ada Choate Bowles, who is the house guest of Mrs. Harry S. Duffield of 1222 Lomita avenue, will give a lecture on "Joan the Woman" at the Universalist church, 1373 Alvarado street, Los Angeles, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. She will be assisted by her son, Donald Bowles, who is well known in theatrical circles, having been juvenile man with the Morosco and Burbank companies for several years.

Mrs. Eva Cunningham gave a party for her music pupils at her studio, 124 Orange street, on Monday afternoon, when the hours from 3 to 5 were very delightfully spent in games and music and dainty refreshments were served. Each student contributed to a program of music. Those present were Margaret Frazee, Millcent Alvord, Margaret Brown, Waldo Yard, Clinton Burrows, Louise Coates, Shirley Hitchcock, Maisie Driscoll, Gwenith Driscoll, George Blanchard, Alice Petty, Robert Reynolds, Glenn Cunningham, Ralph Cunningham, Elizabeth Walker, Lillian Jennings, Gene Lynch, Margaret Harden and Helen Harsh of Eagle Rock, and Lucile Dayton and Harriett Rice of Los Angeles.

LIBERAL PARTY

The ladies of the Tropic Thursday Afternoon club and the Playground association of Tropic, gladly announce to the friends and co-workers who so generously patronized the play at the Palace Grand theatre Friday, which was for the benefit of the Tropic Playground, that they received $45.20 for the playground. Miss May Cornwell, principal of Acacia street school, had banner room of sales, and among the prize winners were Marjorie Prialux, Tommy Wilson, Mable Melrose, Katherine Care, Frederick Ramsey, Norma Wallace, Harriet Wood. We thank you.

ELLA W. RICHARDSON, Curator of Civics, Thursday Afternoon Club.

In the matter of making mistakes most of us are willing to concede the superior industry of the other fellow.

LOWINSKY TO PLAY

At the First Congregational church this evening, Mr. A. Lowinsky, Glendale's well-known and talented violinist, will play several selections. Mrs. A. R. Chappell and Mrs. Haines will sing.

Last evening Rev. E. Ellsworth Smith preached another strong and thoughtful sermon to the company of men who had assembled.

The evening discourse was based upon the suggestive title of a recent book, "He Took It Upon Himself." The author, a young woman employed in the office of a Sunday School concern in Boston, chanced to see this phrase used in connection with an advertisement which told how a man decided to "take it upon himself" to produce a better automobile tire than had ever been made. The man made good.

A wealth of illustrations were used to show how men have taken it upon themselves to accomplish some worthy work.

Horace Mann saw the great need of a free public education and he took it upon himself to secure that for the youth of the country.

Jacob Riis saw the deplorable condition of the boys and girls of Mulberry Bend in New York city and took it upon himself to secure for those unfortunate children more safe and sanitary surroundings. Dr. Barnardo in London did a similar work. Dr. Grenfell took it upon himself to give religious and medical aid and comfort to the suffering and destitute fishermen of the coast of Labrador.

Morse, Bell, Edison and a score of others have taken it upon themselves to give mankind most needed and useful inventions.

Abraham Lincoln took it upon himself to destroy human slavery in this country and to make the union one and inseparable forever. Jesus Christ took it upon himself to make provision for the salvation of all mankind.

The world's work will only be done by every one taking it upon himself to do his share. The speaker showed out of his wide experience as a church worker how often the success of a piece of Christian work depended upon one man in a community.

The men present were earnestly urged to consecrate themselves to do the work of the kingdom of God. The speaker closed with this motto, "Do all you can, with what you have, where you are."

Mr. Smith will speak this evening at 7:45 o'clock. A cordial welcome awaits all. Church located at Third and Central.

ART AND TRAVEL SECTION

The Art and Travel Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of the curator, Mrs. Chas. Turk, 521 North Glendale avenue, Monday afternoon. A most interesting afternoon was spent in visiting the churches and cathedrals of Florence, Italy. Miss Viola Sayre gave a graphic description of Santa Croce church, vividly describing the wonderful tombs of Michaelangelo and Alfieri, and the tomb built by the Florentines for Dante. This tomb, however, is tenanted, as the body of this celebrated poet lies in Ravenna, because of the fact that the Ravennese refused to give up after death the one for whom they had provided a refuge during life, after the Florentines had banished him.

The window over the entrance to this church was described and the talk was made doubly interesting by the splendid photographs shown. Mrs. Turk gave splendid descriptions of the baptistry, the cathedral and the Campanile by Giotto. She described her visit and showed colored photographs which gave an excellent idea of these old and interesting buildings.

The meeting was well attended and will meet again April 9, when the study of Florence will be continued.

SHORT CUTS DEPLORED

There is a man in our town who cares not for expense; He cuts across a "patch" or fence, unless there be a fence. He says: "I always cut through here when it was set in weeds; Why should I change my habit now when set in costly seeds? And then this man in our town just looks so wondrous wise, The guy whose plants he trampled down could scratch out both his eyes.

Self love is the only kind that never gets cold feet.

NEW THOUGHT

In the Sunday morning service, held at Masonic Temple, Mr. Jerome spoke on "Hope."

"A bright, expectant attitude is not a religious matter but just common sense. Hope is that power which keeps you going—which 'springs eternal from the human breast.'"

"Those who lack in the hopeful attitude are lacking in imagination. It is important to cultivate imagination, expectancy, hope.

"The wise man never allows hope to die out. Never lose your faith for the good for yourself."

This was Mr. Jerome's last service with us as he will hereafter conduct services in Los Angeles in the morning.

During the summer months, the morning class over which Mr. Jerome has presided will be discontinued.

The evening service was conducted by Mrs. Adeline Becker of Los Angeles. Her topic was "Spiritual Weather."

"Just as the physical world has atmosphere so we have much the same kind of weather. There are the rainy times which correspond to our tearful, slushy states and the uncertain, fitful kind of weather corresponding to our bursts of temper. Then the physical world has long spells of heat, of cold, and of indifferent weather. Again come those long sunny days when we are glad we are alive. But the foggy weather is the most disastrous to the traveler for he cannot see which way he is going.

"When you cannot see clearly the road ahead, when you are in a mental fog and do not think clearly, you have lost the vision. Get out of the fog. See clearly because you think clearly. People need to be taught to think. Many people are constantly in a foggy condition of mind. They do not know where they are going or what they want. They are lost in the fog.

"Let the brisk breezes of righteousness clear the fog away. Grasp hold of some truth that you know is yours and pull yourself out.

"Truth is always a truth whether you believe it or not. But a truth is never a truth to you until you find it and use it a while. Then it is yours.

"You must mentally see and know your way. You must visualize clearly what you wish. You must not see continually what you do not wish. The vision you hold constantly you will demonstrate in your life. What vision are you holding?"

"We all have had the vision of completeness in God for a time but then some one affronts our dignity or we are criticized and our feelings of resentment fog the vision. It isn't always the thought we hold, for we can reason out how we should think but our feelings make us lose our way.

"Hold to the vision of perfection. If you just once could have a vision of what you may be, you would never forget it. We must learn to control the feelings for they are the weather of the soul."

TROPICO M. E. CHURCH NOTES

The playground being put in by the Epworth League is about completed. Last Saturday the young folks stayed after choir practice and put in the basket ball practice and the grounds being well lighted. The girls went into the social hall and prepared a supper for the workers, which was served about 10:30.

The Tropic Epworth League had the largest delegation, next to West Glendale, present at the Epworth League sub-district rally held at the West Glendale M. E. church last Friday evening, 26 being out.

To-night Prof. Head, the well-known dramatic reader, will give a reading of "Pilgrim's Progress" at the church.

Thursday evening the Epworth League Bible study class resumed its lessons at the parsonage, which were discontinued on account of the illness of the teacher, Rev. Ford. The books for the study course, "The Life of Christ," have arrived so the class will begin its regular course of study.

Invitations have been issued by Edna and Clyde Phillips for a birthday party to be given at their home on Moore avenue, Tropic, Friday evening in honor of Clyde's birthday.

On Tuesday, April 3, an April Fool cafeteria supper will be served at the home of Mrs. Francis Moore, 507 Virginia place, from 6 to 9, for the benefit of the Spanish work in Los Angeles, where a big Spanish church is to be built. The League will meet in a body at the church at 7 o'clock and go from there.

The League is planning a hayride for April 6. The girls will furnish the lunch and the boys the transportation.

A very interesting address was given by a missionary from Chile last Sunday evening at the League meeting, who showed many curios.

There is a good live bunch in the Tropic League and any one not attending some other place is invited to come and join this crowd of young people.

REBUKED

Many stories are told of a former Canadian bishop who had passed his youth in Scotland, but flattered himself that not a hint of his origin could be gained from his speech or manner. One day he met a Scotchman, to whom he said at last, abruptly, "Hoo lang hae ye been here?"

"About sax years," was the reply. "Hoot, mon!" said the bishop sharply, "why hae ye na lost your accent, like mysel'?"—Christian Register.

"When popular education has developed a correct opinion upon the economic effects of taxation, we shall hear more of the benefits than we do of the burdens of taxation; then the work of tax assessors will be regarded with kindly interest."—Allen Ripley Foote, Address, 1912.

"I think there is some apprehension about the freedom of the press," declared the editor of the Plunksville Palladium.

"In what way?" "A lot of people seem to think they are not expected to pay for the paper."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

VEGETABLE-RICE LOAF

Cook three potatoes, three carrots, and three onions until tender. Drain off water. Cut vegetables in small pieces. Cook a cup of whole grain rice in salted water till light and tender. Drain. Mix all together, add cup of bread crumbs, spoon of melted butter, more salt (if desired) and pepper. Mold into loaf. Grease bottom of roasting pan, place loaf in it with piece of butter on top. Add two cups water, cover and bake one hour till nice and brown. Garnish with parsley.

BREAST OF LAMB STUFFED

Have the butcher remove all the bones from a forequarter of lamb, or do it yourself, using a good sharp-pointed knife and cutting along the bone under the meat until you can pull it out. Wipe carefully and stuff with dressing of well seasoned bread crumbs. Roll and secure with a string. Put a generous piece of butter or a couple of tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a frying pan, and when hot lay the lamb in it and turn until browned all over. Then transfer to a dripping pan with a half cupful of boiling water. Dredge with flour and season well with salt and pepper, cover closely and bake slowly. Or, if you prefer, you can steam the rolled breast until partially done, then put into the oven to finish cooking and browning.

STUFFED EGGS FOR LUNCH

Hard boil six eggs, remove the shells and cut them in half. Take out the yolks and make a paste of them, adding a teaspoonful of melted butter, three sardines washed, half a teaspoonful of salt and a little paprika. Mix and form into balls and fill in each half of the white. Have ready some hot boiled rice on a dish and sink the twelve halves into it symmetricaly to form an attractive design. Place the dish over hot water while you rub together two teaspoonfuls of butter and two teaspoonfuls of flour, a cupful of milk, a cupful of stock and seasoning. When this has boiled pour over all and garnish with parsley. Serve very hot.

MARSHMALLOW SWEET POTATOES

Peel eight medium-sized sweet potatoes, cook until well done. Drain and mash. Spread them in a pie tin and cover as thickly as possible with marshmallows. Put in a medium hot oven and toast the mallows. Serve immediately.

CEREAL LOAF (NO MEAT OR POTATOES)

Two cups Lima beans, one cup cooked oatmeal, one-half cup peanut butter, one-half cup water, two table-spoons minced onion, one table-spoon poultry seasoning, salt to taste, one beaten egg. Soak Lima beans in cold water over night, next morning drain, add more water and boil until soft, then put through food chopper; add other ingredients and shape into loaf. Place this in pan in which one table-spoon drippings have been melted and bake in moderate oven until browned (about thirty minutes); baste while baking. If too soft to shape, add some bread crumbs.

REVIVE WILTED VEGETABLES

Freshen vegetables before preparing them. If they are too wilted to revive after an hour in clean cold water, they are hardly worth time, fire and seasoning, especially greens. If they revive partially, in picking over be sure to cut away the withered tips. But do not let things stand too long in water. If they are to be kept over night, remove the water, shake lightly and lay in a cool place. Vegetable fiber, particularly after it has begun to wilt a little, begins to ferment and decay after one hour in water. Wash vegetables very clean before beginning to pare or shell or snap them. A pared surface holds dirt and taints imperceptible to either eyes or nose.

SCOTCH POTATO SCONES

One cup of fresh mashed potatoes, 1 1/2 cups of flour, 2 table-spoons of butter, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, 2 table-spoons of baking powder, 1 egg. Sift together the flour, salt and baking powder, add the potato, rub in the butter lightly with a fork, add the well-beaten egg and, if necessary, a little milk. Divide into two parts, roll each 1 inch thick, pie shape, cut through twice to make four parts, and bake in a quick oven. When done, split, butter well, and serve piping hot. These may be baked on a griddle.

WELSH RAREBIT

One-half pound cheese, two table-spoonsful butter, one-fourth cup milk, two egg yolks, salt, cayenne, toast or crackers. Break the cheese in small pieces or run it through a good chopper. Put it with the butter in the chafing dish pan over the boiling water. Work them together with a spoon until the cheese is hot and melted. Add egg yolks and milk, a pinch of salt and cayenne to taste. Stir until creamy and pour over slices of toast or crackers.—Mother's Magazine.

DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES REPORT

Excerpts from the first annual report of the Department of Charities of the County of Los Angeles for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, just come to hand, shows a substantial decrease in operating expense of the county hospital and farm as compared with the preceding years. The total net cost of operation at the hospital was $384,604.84 for 1915-16, as compared with $397,857.30 for 1914-15, being a decrease of $13,252.46. The total net cost of operation at the farm was $85,040.03 for 1915-16 as compared with $103,567.40 for 1914-15, being a decrease of $18,527.37. The cost per day per patient at the County hospital for 1914-15 was $1.11; for 1915-16 it was $1.012, a saving of 9.8 cents per day per patient. At the county farm for the same period, the cost per inmate per day was reduced from 59.9 cents to 38.1 cents, a saving of 21.8 cents.

The farm dairy produced 167,000 gallons of milk during 1915-1916, and supplies all the milk used by the department. Two years ago the county hospital bill for milk from private dealers averaged $1,100 per month in addition to the milk received from the farm. The dairy now represents a net profit to the taxpayers of over $50 per day. This has been accomplished with an additional capital outlay of about $5,000.

Our Los Angeles county hospital is operated at a less per capita expense than any similar institution in the United States. Twenty-one hospitals are compared. The per capita cost runs from Los Angeles at $1.012; City hospital of New York, $1.30 (does not take insane or contagious cases; we do); San Francisco City and County hospital, $1.40; Bellevue, New York, $1.72; Cincinnati general, $1.95; Boston City hospital, $2.06; Massachusetts general, $3.31; and so on up to others as high as $4.48.

A system has been inaugurated whereby all junk of every description in each division is saved and sold. During the past year this has netted the county upwards of $1200.

A large saving has been made in time and efficiency through the consolidation under one directing head of the city and county outdoor relief work on July 1, 1915, and a decided improvement in constructive work with families and in the adequacy of material relief given.

Probably few activities and certainly no other county departments have problems so varied or complex as has the department of charities. Relief and assistance are furnished covering every step of life from the cradle to the grave. The hospital and the farm present problems in practically every phase of community life. Sixty-nine separate and distinct functions of employment are found here, involving one hundred sixty-three separate grades and compensations.

It must be realized that the hospital averages over 1,000 patients daily, the farm 650 and the outdoor relief 2,000 families, including 700 children. Miscellaneous activities bring the total to approximately 3,500 family units each day. Add to this 500 employees and you have a small city. The needs of so large and humanitarian a department are numerous and the needs of each division are briefly noted. Among those mentioned are:

After the completion of the service building, tuberculosis sanitarium and power plant, now under contract or definitely arranged for, the most acute hospital need at this time is that of a new and adequate nurses' home, in order to provide more living accommodations, better teaching facilities, more recreation possibilities for those performing such confining duties and more centralized supervision of the nurses' training school. Next in order of urgency, it is stated, is an adequate out-patient department. It is suggested that it might be conducted as a branch of the hospital and should be a great saving to the hospital activities, at the same time satisfying an insistent demand for more adequate consideration of those temporarily in distress yet not really needing hospital care. A convalescent branch or home is named as one of the urgent necessities, and next in order the need of a new and modern children's ward building. Rearrangements of the psychopathic ward building, additional quarters for internes and other employees are other needs.

At the farm the most necessary needs are an adequate bath and ward building. Other needs are a large assembly hall for entertainments, religious services and reading rooms, etc.

For the outdoor relief provision should be made for incipient cases of tuberculosis, particularly children, and for cases where the bread-winner who has a good chance of recovering could be cared for under conditions conducive to recovery, and other means of larger service are suggested.

YEAR'S GIFTS TO UNIVERSITY

President Benjamin Ide Wheeler announced at the annual charter day exercises that gifts or bequests of more than half a million dollars have come to the University of California during the year ending March 23, 1917. A group of friends of the university have provided funds for the continuance another five years of the D. O. Mills expedition to the southern hemisphere, from the Lick Observatory, for study of the stars of the southern skies. Mrs. Timothy Guy Phelps has bequeathed a fund of $35,000, the income to be used for the purchase of scientific books for the Lick Observatory.

Other gifts include: By the late George Holmes Howison and Mrs. Howison, $70,000 to endow the Howison foundation, for a graduate fellowship in philosophy, and the Anne Sampson scholarships in English for women, the Lois Caswell fund, for aid to deserving women students, and aid to the infirmary and to the department of philosophy; by the late Mrs. Elizabeth Josselyn Boalt, approximately $200,000 to endow instruction in the school of jurisprudence, in memory of Judge John H. Boalt; by various friends of the university, a fund for the equipment of the new University Hospital in San Francisco, which was built through gifts of $586,000 from a number of benefactors; an additional $8000 for the Edith Claypole Memorial Research fund for pathology; $1500 for an ophthalmological library for the Medical school; $3000 for the clinical professorship of homeopathic materia medica in the University Medical school; $80,000 for a thousand-foot concrete pier, a new library and museum building and other improvements at the Scripps Institution for Biological Research, and $10,000 yearly for maintenance; $12,750 for the maintenance for 1917 of the museum of vertebrate zoology; $3000 for fellowship in Pacific Coast history; $5000 for a scholarship endowment; $3500 for the Levi Strauss scholarships; $2400 for the Hearst scholarships for women students and additions to the equipment of the Hearst memorial mining building, bringing Mrs. Hearst's gifts for its equipment to $55,000, besides numerous gifts to the anthropological museum, the architectural work of the university, etc.; approximately $6000 toward the development of the equipment of the college of mining; $10,000 as a library endowment; nearly 2000 volumes of Spanish books; some 10,000 Chinese books; $3000 to be used as regents deem best; gifts to aid in the research work of the department of biochemistry, and a large number of other gifts.

AN ORIENTAL GARDEN

"Here the rippling waves of the Ganges gently kissed the green banks in front of the garden, and, within, a serpentine ornamental lake covered with lotus and other water-lilies wound its way," writes Srimiti Svarna Kumari Devi (Mrs. Ghosal). "Here and there in the garden fountains played, throwing jets of water in silvery sprays. Flowers of all kinds filled the beds, and statues of gods and goddesses, heroes and heroines of Hindu legend, gave to the place charm and significance. Here the graceful Radhica stood close by Krishna, who was playing on his flute. There, under the shade of a champak tree, was Sarasvati, the goddess of learning, vina in hand. Lakshmi, the goddess of beauty and wealth sat on a lotus seat in the center of a lonely island."

"On a marble balustrade a peacock strutted with proud head erect, the shining feathers of its sweeping tail touching the bow of Cupid. And in the silver lake two snow-white swans glided dreamily among the lotus, their arched backs and gracefully curved necks looking like carved marble. Gold-fish disported in silver basins, fitted here and there like glittering sunbeams. Snow-white doves preened their feathers in the grass. Above, the tall palms rustled with mysterious sounds that seemed like whispers from an unseen world. Parrots, with brilliant plumage, bound by golden chains, sat talking in the branches of trees. Wood-doves, caged, as it were, in the thick foliage of bushes, cooed softly at times, entering into a musical contest. . . . And from the wood close by came the clear farewell notes of a stray papi—the last bird of the spring—filling the air with a sense of joyous freedom."

"Evening came and the pale moon rose slowly in the vault of heaven. The wind whispered through the branches, and the silver ripples of the lake murmured. . . . The flowers called the 'fragrance of the night' filled the air with their haunting sweetness."—(Originally written in Bengali.)

REDUCING THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

The Congressman had received ten applications for pea-seed from one constituent, and when the eleventh came he wrote:

"I am sending you the seeds, but what in Heaven's name are you doing with so much pea-seed? Are you planting the whole State with peas?"
"No," came back the answer, "we are not planting them at all. We are using them for soup."—Harper's Magazine.

INDIAN'S COMMENT ON CIVILIZATION

From the time I first accepted the Christ ideal it has grown upon me steadily, but I also see more and more plainly our modern divergence from that ideal. I confess I have wondered much that Christianity is not practiced by the very people who vouch for that wonderful conception of exemplary living. It appears that they are anxious to pass on their religion to all races of men, but keep very little of it themselves. I have not yet seen the meek inherit the earth, nor the peacemakers receive high honor. . . . I stand before my own people still as an advocate of civilization. Why? First, because there is no chance for our former simple life any more; and, second, because I realize that the white man's religion is not responsible for his mistakes. There is every evidence that God has given him all the light necessary by which to live in peace and good will with his brother; and we also know that many brilliant civilizations have collapsed in moral and physical decadence. It is for us to avoid their fate if we can.

I am an Indian; and while I have learned much from civilization, for which I am grateful, I have never lost my Indian sense of right and justice. I am for development and progress along social and spiritual lines, rather than those of commerce, nationalism, or material efficiency. Nevertheless, so long as I live, I am an American.—Dr. Charles A. Eastman (Ohiyesa).

THE WINNERS, SINGING

By Hugh J. Hughes
Our women have been loyal, so we men have trod the margs
Of many a distant shoreland by many a chiming sea,
Where the foeman broke before us, left his spear-dent on our targes,
And behind him lands and waters and the wealth of soil and tree.

Because that they were loyal we set aside our fearsings,
And through the demon-guarded deep we came to fairer lands;
And there we made for them a place within the feeble clearings,
And prayed to half-remembered gods by lifting up of hands.

Our women have been loyal, so for them we threw our arches
Across the evil rivers and chained them fast and still;
And built the city wall and gate and ceased our endless marches
And found the pleasant valleys that our servant oxen till.

Our women have been loyal beyond all praise or telling,
So, bit by bit; so, man by man, we struggled lest we fail;
And found at last a country and a city and a dwelling;
And, best of all, a woman's hands to turn the dipping scale.

Our women have been loyal, and, because that they were loyal,
We built the Law that shelters us, the Creed that scourges wrong;
Both the pleasant little cottage and the towered halls and royal,
And because such were our women came the deathless gift of song.

Our women have been loyal! So the fruitful land and pleasant,
The songs of seed and harvest-time, and peace-envisaged years;
The love of little children and the toil of king and peasant,
And laughter of such happiness that sometimes it is tears.

A KENTUCKY INCIDENT

Ting-a-ling-a-ling!
The Rev. George C. Abbutt took down the receiver and placed it to his ear.
"Is that the Dickel Liquor Company?" a woman asked.
Mr. Abbutt recognized the voice as that of one of his parishioners.
"No," he replied in stern reproof; "it is your rector."
Was there a dull thud?
No.
"Indeed," said the lady, quick as a flash, "and pray what are you doing there?"—Hopkinsville New Era.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

"Host (at afternoon tea)—'May I introduce my friend, Mr. Cameron?'" Debutante from the Wilds—"Of course. What d'yer suppose I come for?"—Life.

POSITIVE PROOF

"Bad luck that for poor old Bill," said Jinks the chauffeur. "He got fined for taking out his employer's car without permission."
"But how did the boss know he took it?"
"Bill ran over him."—New York Times.

SHOWED 'EM UP

"My word!" exclaimed the Briton, indignantly. "You Americans are always calling us slow. Just cite an example, will you?"
"Certainly," chuckled the New Yorker. "An Englishman can 'stand for' parliament and be elected. An American who wants a congressional seat has to 'run' for it."

Facts and Comment
A large acreage of sweet potatoes is being planted in the Coachella valley. About 350 acres are planted to tomatoes in the valley this year.
The Imperial valley has about 40 per cent. greater cantaloupe acreage this year than last. It is expected that shipping of melons from the valley will start about May 15.
Palo Alto has invested $250 in seed potatoes, which are to be planted in the ten-acre tract of land near the Palo Alto municipal hotel. The land is already plowed and it is hoped will yield a harvest of 1,000 sacks. Three hundred and fifty men have found accommodations at the hotel in the three years of its existence, and 4,000 meals have been served, 1,000 sacks of kindling split, and 100 cords of wood chopped.
PORK'S LAUREATE
Mr. Nicholas Longworth, who usually takes off the lid only in private from his comic gift, let that gift soar and bubble in the House the other day, notes the New York Times, which quotes his parody on "Punch, Brothers, Punch," as follows: Dig, brothers, dig with glee; Dig to the bottom of the treasure. Shovel out the shekels for the Kissimsee; Millions for nitrates on the Tennessee; The South is in the saddle, you bet, by gee! Dig to the bottom of the treasure. Dig, brothers, dig with glee; Why leave a nickel in the treasure? Leave the accounting to William G. He can fake up a balance to a T. The voters are plunged in lethargy; Dig to the bottom of the treasure.
FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE
There is a story that after the return to England of the troops from the Crimea Lord Stratford at a dinner suggested that those present should write on a piece of paper the name of the person whose Crimean reputation would endure longest. When the votes came to be examined it was found that not a single soldier had received a vote. Every paper bore the same two words—Florence Nightingale.
