PREFACE.

THE important collection of Manuscripts described in this volume has never been catalogued at all in detail. In Bernard's Catalogi Manuscriptorum Angliae et Hiberniae (Oxford, 1697: Vol. II. p. 46) will be found the only attempt at a Catalogue which has yet seen the light. The name of the person who made the list is not given. There were then 115 MSS. in the Library, and the contents of these are briefly noted under 126 heads, some of the volumes being catalogued twice or three times over. The order followed is roughly alphabetical, beginning with Adelard and ending with Xenophon. I should be the last to criticise Bernard's list in an unfriendly spirit: his work is a very great one. For the history of English Libraries now dispersed—nay, even for the ascertaining of the contents of many which now exist, his volumes are indispensable: yet it is certain that the Catalogues which they contain are of very diverse merits; and it is undeniable that his Eton Catalogue is among those that are inadequate. For one thing, whereas in his time the College possessed 115 MSS., it now has 193.

Since 1697, as I said, no attempt at a systematic Catalogue has been made; but it should be mentioned that the Rev. F. St J. Thackeray's interesting papers on Eton College Library (reprinted from Notes and Queries) contain a survey of the manuscript classes.

It may seem curious that Uffenbach, who explored so many English Libraries in the last century, has told us nothing of the Eton books. He was not fortunate in his visit to Eton. He was unable to get a better idea of the name than 'Cato's College'; and was only introduced, it would seem, to the Boys' Library, which then consisted of little more than fifty volumes.

Of the history of the collection, and of the building in which it is housed, I might write at some length; but a very short summary of the facts must suffice.

First, as to the books. The sources from which they came, so far as I have been able to ascertain them, are seen in the List of Donors and Owners. William Horman and Sir Henry Wotton stand out pre-eminent as the two great benefactors of the Library. The latter has contributed nearly all the most valuable MSS. The bulk of his bequest consists of Greek and Italian MSS.: and many of these—perhaps all of them—were once the property of Bernardo Bembo, the father of Pietro Bembo. These Wotton no doubt bought at Venice. Two volumes are known to me which once formed part of the same collection, but did not come to Eton: one is a Horace at King's College (No. 34), the other, which I have never seen, is a Terence at Brasenose (No. 18), of the eleventh century—"bought," says Coxe's Catalogue, "of the heirs of Pietro Bembo at Venice in 1632," which date is probably wrong. The Horace was given by Wotton to Samuel Collins in 1630, and the Terence to William Hacwell.

Next, as to the building. The Founder's will provided for a Library in the East 'pane,' or walk of the Cloister: it was to be 52 feet long by 24 wide. This, however, was never built. The books belonging to the College were kept first in the vestry of the Chapel, then in "Election Hall" (where the painted glass appropriate to the different classes of books still remains in part); then in a room under Long Chamber: after that (in 1688, when David Loggan drew his view of the College) in the south-east part of the Cloister: and, lastly, they were transferred to the present building, which was constructed between 1725 and 1729, after the designs of one Mr Rowland.

In 1719 the chains were removed from the books "excepting the Founder's Manuscripts¹."

Lastly, as to my own work. It has been a labour of love. The Eton Manuscripts were the first to which I had access. When I was an Eton boy, the College authorities generously allowed me to examine them. The kindness was a great one, and I hope it was not misplaced. The least I could have done in return was to put at their disposal such knowledge as they had helped me to gain; and this is what I have tried to do. That there are mistakes and omissions in this volume I have not the least doubt: yet I cannot but hope that there is also a good deal of information which will be helpful to scholars both in England and abroad.

My sincere thanks are due to the College for undertaking the printing of this Catalogue: and to the Provost, Dr Hornby, and the Vice-Provost and Librarian, Mr Warre-Cornish. The former has always been most kind in giving me access to the Library: while the latter has helped me and furthered my work in every possible way.

M. R. JAMES.

BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, 16½ × 11½, ff. 176 and 160; double columns of 58 lines each. Cent. xiii. Vol. i. in 17 gatherings of 10 leaves and one of 6. Vol. ii. in 16 gatherings of 10 leaves.

Contents:

Vol. i. Interpretationes nominum (Ard—Zuzim), f. 1 gone, followed by four blank leaves.

Jerome's Prologue, f. 10: Genesis to end of Ps. cl.

Vol. ii. Proverbs to Acts iii. 10 qui ad...

The Acts follow the Ep. to the Hebrews.

There are a few historiated initials, usually of good execution:

Vol. i. 1. Prologue. Initial, a nimbed man writing: on gold ground.

2. Genesis. Initial extending down the page, containing seven elliptical miniatures of the Days of Creation. In Nos. 1-4 Christ is holding the globe. In No. 5 he is standing, water on R. No. 6 Creation of Eve. No. 7 Christ seated.

In Leviticus the decorative initial retains its red silk guard.

Esdras I. is Ezra and Nehemiah in xviii. chapters.

Esdras II. is 1 Esdras of our Apocrypha, more commonly known now as 3 Esdras.

3. Psalter. Beatus uir. David playing the harp, gold ground. Quid gloriaris and Dixit insipiens both have decorative initials, as also Domine exaudi (ci.).

4. Psalter. Dixit dominus. Christ seated blessing: gold ground.

Vol. ii. 5. Matthew. Jesse asleep: from him springs a Tree with two figures in it, (1) of the Virgin, (2) of Christ seated blessing with book, beardless: gold ground.

The initials to 1 Thess. and 1 Tim. closely resemble each other: they contain dragons.

In Vol. i. f. 1*b* is the entry

Ex dono magistrī Spenser a^o dⁿⁱ 1496.

BIBLE HYSTORIAL.

Vellum, $17\frac{1}{8} \times 12\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 241, in double columns. Cent. xiv. (1380?). Six leaves are lost, at the beginning of Cant. Ecclus. Matt. Phil. and two in Micah. In gatherings of 12, 10, and 8 leaves.

This is the second volume of a Bible hystorial, in French: being a translation of the Historia Scholastica of Peter Comestor made by Guiart des Moulins in 1291-1295. This volume contains the books from Proverbs ('Paraboles') to the Apocalypse.

The miniatures are of good average execution: their form is that of a lozenge inscribed in a quatrefoil:

1. Paraboles (Proverbs). Four miniatures, together occupying half of f. 1 a.
 - (a) Solomon and Rehoboam.
 - (b) Solomon: before him three youths with a coffin. This is the first scene of a well known mediaeval story (told in the Gesta Romanorum). The sons each claim their father's property: the test imposed by Solomon is that each shall try to hit with an arrow the heart (or right eye) of their father's corpse.
 - (c) Two of the three sons about to shoot at their father's corpse, which hangs on a tree: the youngest refuses (and so gains the inheritance).
 - (d) The Biblical Judgment of Solomon.
2. Ecclesiastes. Solomon enthroned: a woman kneels to him.
Cantiques: first leaf gone.
3. Sapience. A man kneels to receive a sword from a throned figure.
Ecclesiasticus: first leaf gone.
4. Ysaie. The prophet seated cross-legged and bound: two men are sawing his head with a frame-saw.
5. Feremie. Jeremiah as a youth watching sheep: Christ appears to him above.
6. Lamentations. Jeremiah points to the gates of Jerusalem: other figures behind him.
7. Baruch. Addresses six men: he is represented as old.
8. Ezekiel. The prophet looks at the vision of the four cherubim who hold scrolls with the names of the Evangelists.
9. Daniel. He is pointing Nebuchadnezzar upward to Christ in the sky. This picture has a good diapered ground.
Osee: no miniature.
10. Joel. Watching sheep: Christ's head appears in the sky.
11. Amos. In bed: Christ's head seen above, covered with blood.
Obadiah, Jonah, Micah: the miniatures are gone.
12. Nahum. Walking in a river: three men watch him.
13. Habakkuk. The prophet caught up by the angel (see Bel and the Dragon): he holds a vessel in each hand. This scene is usually called the Rapture of Habakkuk.

14. Zephaniah. Writing at a desk.
 15. Haggai. Holds a scroll with Ave Maria upon it.
 16. Zechariah. Holds a blank scroll.
 17. Malachi. At a desk, reading the ten commandments.
 18. 1 Macc. A kneeling man beheaded: probably refers to 1 Macc. ii. 24.
 2 Macc.: no miniature.
S. Matthew: first leaf gone.
 19. S. Mark. Writing: the lion by him.
 20. S. Luke. A similar picture: the ox by him.
 21. S. John. „ „ : the eagle by him.
 22. Romans. S. Paul preaching to a crowd.
 23. 1 Cor. S. Paul enters a city (Corinth).
 24. 1 Tim. S. Paul before an Emperor (Nero).
 25. Gal. S. Paul preaching.
 26. Eph. S. Paul arriving at a city (Ephesus).
 The other Epistles have no pictures.
 27. Acts. S. Luke directs the attention of Theophilus (a crowned man) to Christ ascending.
 28. Apoer. The beast with seven heads and ten horns.
 The work degenerates towards the end of the volume.
 As a fly-leaf at the end is the motto Une sans Plus (cent. xvi.).

4. Bk. 1. 4.

A DICTIONARY, ETC.

Vellum, $10\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 126. Cent. xv.

1. An Index, beginning with the word celare and ending with vespertilio, f. 1: in 3 columns to a page.

It is in 12 leaves a⁸ (wants 1-3) b⁸ (wants 8).

2. Variae uerborum significaciones, f. 13.

A dictionary, imperfect in the middle and at the end, in double columns, from Abba to Vath, in quires of 12 leaves.

3. A work on Scripture History from the Creation, f. 86.

In several books: imperfect. In double columns: quires of 8 leaves.

At the beginning on f. 86a is 'pater et filius et spiritus sanctus' also the name 'west.'

The prologue begins: In precedentibus premissa descriptione originis et destruccionis artium et quorundam aliorum ortum et occasum omnium regnorum.

Lib. i. begins: Primus liber tractat de misteriis rerum gestarum ab inicio usque ad abraham, continens capitula 19.

5. Bk. 1. 5.

S. AMBROSIUS SUPER Beati Immaculati (Ps. cxviii. Lat. cxix. Heb.).

Vellum, 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ × 9 $\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 167, double columns. Cent. xi. In quires of 8 leaves (i–xviii numbered prima manu). Binding, boards and stamped leather with medallion of crowned heads, lettered HERCV-LIS and VENA (?). This binding, which must be of cent. xvi., occurs on many of the MSS.: it will be referred to henceforth as H.V.

The flyleaves are from a MS. concordance to the Vulgate (cent. xv.) which is often used in connexion with the H.V. binding.

An initial L at the beginning of the text seems rather Celtic in character. The hand is narrow and rather pointed at first; towards the end of the volume it becomes rounder, thicker, and more sloping.

On f. 1*a* is:

Liber collegii de Eton de dono magistri Roberti Elys a^o dⁱ 1501.

[C. M. A. 7.]

6. Bk. 1. 6.

S. AUGUSTINUS IN PSALMOS 1–50.

Vellum, 16 $\frac{7}{8}$ × 11 $\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 154, double columns. Cent. xv. (?). The hand seems English, rubricated initials. Binding H.V. In quires of 8 leaves. On the fly-leaf: ...Aug. in psalmos et incipit in 2^o fo. Quam montem. At the end a note of the price:

xi^s xi^d parue (?) tre (?) parmentrie et...pro ligatura xxxiiij^d.

BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, $13 \times 9\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 498, in double columns, in two hands. Cent. xiii.

The vellum and writing are Italian: the miniatures French.

The volume was presented by William Hetherington in 1773. The text is preceded by the 'Doctrina ad cognitionem correctionis biblie' and followed by the 'Interpretationes nominum' f. 458.

The order of the groups of books in the New Testament is Evv., Paul, Acts, Cath., Apoc.

The illustrated initials are an interesting series: they run as follows:

1. Proh. A monk writing.
2. Gen. Containing 8 quaterfoils with gold grounds: (a) Christ holding two globes, light and dark; (b) holding a globe with land and water shown; (c) creating trees; (d) sun and moon; (e) birds; (f) Eve, and also beasts; (g) blessing: (h) the Crucifixion. Down each side of the initial are seven half-quaterfoils with half-lengths of prophets.
3. Exod. L. Amram, C. Moses in the ark, on water, R. Jochebed.
4. Lev. L. a man in a doorway, R. Moses, horned.
5. Num. A man speaks to Moses.
6. Deut. Moses, horned, reads the Law to the people.
7. Jos. Above, a nimbed figure (Christ) speaks to an attendant (Joshua): below, a man in bed (the body of Moses).
8. Jud. Warriors, and a prophet (?).
9. Ruth. Elimelech and Naomi and the sons set off to Moab.
10. 1 Sam. Hannah praying, R. Eli at altar.
11. 2 Sam. David orders the Amalekite to be slain.
12. 1 K. David in bed: two figures (Abishag and a courtier) stand over him.
13. 2 K. Ahaziah in bed, sending two men.
14. 1 Chr. A crowd of figures. 2 Chr. Decorative.
15. Ezra. A building scene.

27. Isa. Sawn asunder by two men: he is bound to a pillar.
28. Jer. Christ touches his mouth.
29. Lam. Jeremiah seated at the gate of Jerusalem.
30. Ezek. In bed: five men before him: above, two censers, a wheel and a hand.
31. Dan. In the den.
32. Hosea. Embraces Gomer.
33. 1 Macc. Mattathias dying speaks to his sons.
34. Matt. Jesse in bed: the tree springs from him containing four half-figures in ellipses, on gold ground. The lowest is the Virgin, crowned: two are kings: the fourth is a prophet (?) in a cap: a very fine initial.

- 35. Mark. The Baptism: S. Mark, a lion below him.
- 36. Luke. Zacharias and the angel.
- 37. John. Christ seated: below, John: below him, the Eagle.
- 38. Rom. Paul with sword.
- 39. 2 Cor. „ „
- 40. Heb. Paul addresses a crowd of Jews on L.
- 41. Acts. The Apostles in a group.

26. Bk. 3. 2.

BIBLIA SACRA.

Vellum, 13 $\frac{3}{8}$ × 9, ff. 362, 3 columns: decorative initials. Cent. xii–xiii. In quires of 10 and 8 leaves.

This is by far the finest Vulgate in the collection. The writing and ornaments are very fine, and the contents and aspect of the book remarkable.

The number of 'versus' in each book is stated at the end, and the rest of the leaf left blank.

The order of the books is as follows :

- Prologue.
- Genesis to ii Paralipomenon.
- Isaiah.
- Jeremiah.
- Baruch. Incipit liber baruch notarii Ieremie prophete. De oratione et sacrificio pro vita nabuchodonosor.
- Epistle of Jeremiah.
- Lamentations: prefixed to which is an explanation of the Hebrew alphabet.
- Ezekiel.
- Daniel: divided into 'visiones'; and with the apocryphal additions obelized.
- The twelve prophets.
- Job.
- Ezra, Nehemiah, both called 'primus esdre.'
- Esther (with additions obelized).
- z Esdras (= 1 Esdras).
- A blank leaf is cut away here.
- Proverbs. Eccl. Cant. Wisdom. Ecclus.
- Oratio Salomonis ('Et inclinavit' . . . 1 Kings viii.).
- Tobit. Judith. 1, 2 Maccabees.
- Preliminary matter to the Psalter, occupying 15 leaves.

The Psalter in three versions. Gal., Rom., Hebr., with Ps. cli. in all three.
 Cantica: ezechie, anne, moysi, abachuc, moysi (Deut. xxxiii.).
 The beginnings of the Epistles and Gospels for the year.
 Jerome's Letter to Damascus, and memorial verses on the Eusebian Canons.
 The Eusebian Canons, called here 'Diatessaron,' in gold frames.
 Evv. Act. Cath. Epp. Apoc.
 Prologues to Romans, and 26 verses by Damasus on S. Paul.
 Paul. Epp. Hebr. Epistle to the Laodiceans.

On fol. 1, in red:

'hunc codicem dedit dominus mathias prior sancto albano quem qui ei abstulerit aut titulum deleuerit anathema sit. amen.'

In the xvth or xvith century it belonged to Johannes Sybley. On verso of fly-leaf, under the book-plate is: Edwarde Seymour, 27 August 1582.

There are a good many marginal notes.

78. Bk. 6. 5.

PSALTERIUM CUM CANTICIS ET HYMNIS.

Vellum, $10\frac{1}{4} \times 8$, ff. 161, 22 lines to a page. Cent. xiii.

I. Kalendar	f. 1
Psalterium cum canticis	3
II. Hymni. Inc. O lux beata Trinitas	128
Expl. Canticum de uirginibus. Non uocaberis ultra derelicta...desolata.

The Psalter is preceded by two leaves of a Kalendar in red, black, blue, green and gold. Two medallions have been cut out of the margin of each of these leaves: no doubt they represented the Zodiacal sign and the occupation of each month. The months which remain are March, April, November, December. Among English saints we find Elfege, Mellitus, Justus, Thomas (Becket), and Birinus. This points to Canterbury.

The first leaf of the Psalter, and the initials to Pss. xxvii, xl., liii, cii., cix. are gone: those to Pss. lxxxiii. Exultate, and xcvi. Cantate, are left and are of good character, though rather rough. In the Litany we find SS. Erasmus, Alphege, Salvius, Blasius, Pancras, Alban, Oswald, Aedmund, Martyrs: Augustine, Odo, Dunstane ii., Audoenus, Uulganus, Remigius, Cuthbert, Swithun, Furseus, Wilfrid, Paulinus, Romanus, Guthlac, Columban, Wandregisil, Edward (inserted later, Edmund of Canterbury, Yreheus, Wlfstan, Richard, Hugh, Bertinus, Anna, Julian, Ethilbert), Confessors: Baptildis, Aeldrida, Mildrida, Austroberta, Osýþa (inserted, Edburga), Virgins.

The Hymns have a good gold initial. The volume was given by Thos. Horne, Fellow, in 1713.

Vellum, $9 \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 138 (16 quires of 8 leaves, and one of 10), 23 lines to a page. Cent. xii., xiii. Binding H.V.

1. S. Hieronymus contra Iouinianum f. 1

2. The genealogy of Christ. Tres sorores, etc. 133^b

3. De notis litterarum: a cypher used by Brutus and Augustus: b is substituted for a, c for b, etc.

4. An anthem with music. Iohannes autem...Quo audito...Ite dicite Iohanni.

5. Some matter relating to music, with notes and memorial verses.

6. A hymn to S. Katherine, without music. Aue uirginum gemma Katerina.

The volume belonged to William Baret and then to Will. Horman, who gave it to the College.

Paper, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 13\frac{1}{2}$. Sec. xvi. (1541).

A work in four volumes, which must be described separately. The history of the whole set appears from the following notices in the binding :

“This, with the three following volumes, was given me by the Right Hon^{ble} the Lord Viscount Palmerston ‘Et vero et magno dignum est hoc munus amico’ [signed] R. Ellys.”

After his death they were returned to Lord Palmerston by the then Lady Ellys, relict of Sir Richard Ellys; and by him presented to the College in 1750 (Apr. 26), as we learn from a printed label pasted in each volume.

Hanc Insignium Gentilitiorum et Imaginum seriem admirandam, a primis usque temporibus deductam, Artis Graphicae coloribus pulcherrime illuminatam, et quatuor voluminibus descriptam, Antiquitatum Historicarum Monumentum pretiosum, Henricus Temple Vicecomes de Palmerston In Schola Etonensi aliquando Discipulus, et Coll. Vol. I. is Joannis Tirolli Antiquitates, ff. 220. The author was Respublice Augustane aedificiorum publicorum prefectus.

Contents of Vol. I.

1. Index.
2. Verso of last leaf of index. Sententia Heroaldi Joannes Tirollus, etc. He is represented standing on a pedestal, with gold mace and tabard, and laurel wreath; his arm raised; his scutcheon by him.
3. Next page, the Dedication to Henry VIII., with the arms of England supported by two griffins, two roses, crown, and garter. Verso. Dedication continued. The work was done at the expense of Jacobus Hörproth, Reipublicae Augustanae consul, etc., whose scutcheon is appended.
4. f. 1. In capitals. ‘Omnis caro corrumpit viam suam ideo Dei ira exarsit et disperdit omnem carnem diluvio, pium vero Noe cum animabus octo tantum servavit ut in Gene: viii. et ix. cap. scribitur...Ordine regna inde ab Noe ad Romanum usque invenies, ad Romulum et Remum, deinde ad senatum Romanum vsque, deinde a primo Imperatore Julio ad Carolum usque V. omnia hec ordine conscripta in gratiam invictissimi

31 b. A Herald.

32 b. In capitals. Introduction to the Roman Empire.

ff. 34–6 are gone. No doubt they contained the glory of Romulus and Remus.

ff. 37 sqq. have full-length portraits of the Roman kings, beginning with Numa. Each has some distinguishing mark by him on the pedestal on which he stands; e.g.

39 a. Ancus Martius has beside him : on L. a peasant with whip, hat, boots, etc., borrows money from a man seated at a table : on R. the same peasant, bareheaded and barelegged, sits in the stocks ; his hands and legs (below the knee) confined. The stocks are three beams with padlocks attached. This alludes to Ancus's Laws for Debt.

f. 40 is a folded sheet of vellum, and has a large painting of the Triumph of L. Tarquinius Priscus over the Etruscans. On a standard is the date 1541.

f. 42 is a similar sheet. On it is, on R. above, Lucretia attacked by Sextus. Below, her death, her funeral, and the people swearing to expel the kings. On L. is a battle—the battle of Lake Regillus.

f. 43. A Herald.

44 b, 45 a. Across the page. The Institution of Military Tribunes.

46 a. A Praetor, judging.

47 a. Senators.

DECRETA ROMANORUM PONTIFICUM, ETC.

Vellum, $17 \times 12\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 370, in double columns of 44 lines each. Cent. xii. The hand is very fine, possibly French.

Collation: in quires of 8 leaves, numbered i–xlvi, the xlviith is of 4 leaves, 1–3 blank, the 4th attached to the cover.

Contents:

Index (of cent. xv.)	f. i
Nomina xi Regionum	ii
Praefatio Isidori	I
Aurelii Carthaginensis Episcopi Epistola ad Damasum	2 b
Damasi rescriptum	2 b
Decreta Romanorum Pontificum (from Clement to Nicholas I.)	7 b
Concilia (from Nicaenum to Hispalense secundum)	234

The title, in capitals, is magnificent, and the initials, usually in red on green, very bold. There are marginal notes of cent. xv. The fly-leaves are from a Concordance of cent. xv.

On the first page is a title of cent. xv.:

Liber Decretorum Roman. Pontif. et incipit in 2^o fo. tes viij.

A chain-mark is visible on the top R. corner of the first leaves: there is also a rust-mark in the centre, shewing that the book had formerly the strap and pin fastening.

[C. M. A. 47.]

98. Bl. I. 7.

WILL. LYNDEWODE PROVINCIALE.

Vellum, $16 \times 11\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 314 + 34, in double columns of 56 lines each. Cent. xv. English writing. In quires of ten leaves.

The contents, preceded by a table, consist of Constitutions of the Archbishops of Canterbury from Stephen Langton to Henry Chichele. Then follow the Liber penitentialis and an Index: and lastly, some supplementary constitutions, ending with one of Abp Stratford in 1445.

At the beginning of the text is the inscription: Assit principio sancta maria meo.

The book was given by Will. Horman.

On the last fly-leaf are several scribbles, e.g.

Will^{mi} Linwode super prouintialibus,
and Willelmus Butler ys a knaue.

On the first fly-leaf:

Karulus Thornhyll
Willelmus Butler
Radulfus fferysig (?) decanus
Radulfus Goth archidiaconus;

and five lines from an English version of Mapes's Apocalypsis Goliae, beginning

Ther was ye deyn and ye offycyall

[C. M. A. 90.]

99. Bl. I. 8.SECUNDA PARS CATHALOGI SANCTORUM PETRI DE NATALIBUS.

Vellum, $15\frac{5}{8} \times 12\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 220 + Index, in double columns of 58 lines each. French writing (?). Cent. xiv.

In quires of 8 leaves. The binding is original, of stamped leather over boards. The title, '2^a pars Cathalogi Sanctorum,' is on the last cover, formerly protected by a slip of horn.

The donor's name has been erased. We can read :

ex dono magistri ...ags (?) socii istius collegii.

Below it is $\overline{\text{E C}}$ (or $\overline{\text{I C}}$), which is a mark characteristic of William Wey.

The contents extend from the Conversion of S. Paul (Jan. 25) to SS. Flora and Lucilla, VV. and MM. (July 29).

Fol. 1 has a good initial and border of small leaf-work : a note of cent. xvii. attributes the work to Jac. de Voragine, or Petrus de Natalibus.

S. JUSTINI MARTYRIS, ETC., QUÆDAM GRAECE.

Paper, $12\frac{5}{8} \times 9$, ff. 70, 31 lines to a page. Cent. xvi. (1534).

Collation: a⁸ bc¹⁰ d⁴ e⁶-g⁶ h¹⁰ i¹⁰.

Contents :

S. Justini Martyris Epistola ad Zenonem et Serenam	f. 1
Athenagoræ Legatio pro Christianis	8
Idem De Resurrectione	34
Tatiani Oratio ad Græcos	52

There are marginal notes in Greek and Latin.

The colophon at the end gives the scribe's name, Valeriano of Forli :

Ὁὐαλεριανὸς Φορολιβιεὺς ὁ Ἀλβίνου κανονικὸς τοῦ πολίτου τοῦ σωτήρος ταύτην ἔγραψε βίβλον 1534.

The MS. has been investigated by Gebhardt and Harnack. Their results may be seen in Texte u. Untersuchungen, I. pp. 4-6, 68, etc. All MSS. of the apologetic works of Justin, Athenagoras and Tatian go back to the Parisian MS. 451, written by Baanes for Arethas of Caesarea (A.D. 914).

This Eton MS. is a copy of one at Bologna (plut. xxii.). The scribe is not unknown. He is mentioned by Gardthausen (Griechische Paläographie, p. 341) and Graux (Essai sur les origines du fond grec de l'Escorial, pp. 189, 267).

This MS. was used by William Worth for his edition of Tatian, Oxford, 1700, and Dechair's Athenagoras, 1706: it was collated twice for Otto, the second time by Dr Gwynne.

It was no doubt given by Wotton.

The Sermon of S. Jerome is on two inserted leaves of cent. xv. of smaller size after f. ii.

On f. 1 a is :

Vnde supperbinus, quid ego, quid tu, nisi finus
primus homo limus, sortem mutare nequimus.

Before the life of S. Augustine :

Est labor est finis requies menti data binis
Indita mandatis capiatur sumite gratis.

At the end of quire viii, about one-third of a column is left blank, but the text has no gap.

The MS. is 'donum M. Johannis moyer': probably the Johannes Mocer of no. 105.

[C. M. A. 19.]

107. Bl. 2. 6.

S. AUGUSTINUS DE CIUITATE DEI.

Vellum, 15 $\frac{3}{4}$ × 10 $\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 227, in double columns of 46 lines each. Cent. xiii., in a good hand. The fly-leaves from a MS. of cent. xv. Binding, stamped leather, with four-fold diagonal lines intersecting: chain-mark at right lower corner in front.

2. Vita B. Wulurici anachorete Haselbergie († 1154) per ven. Joh. priorem de Forda ad dom. Barthol. Exoniensem Episcopum f. 81

In two books. There are two prologues, (a) to Bartholomew Bp of Exeter, (b) to Baldwin Abp of Canterbury.

There are other MSS. of this Life, for which see Sir T. Duffus Hardy's Catalogue of Materials, Vol. II. p. 267, who does not mention this MS.: a xiith century MS. recently acquired by the University Library at Cambridge (Add. 3037) should also be added to the list.

S. Wuluric lived at Haselbury in Herefordshire.

3. Robertus Miledunensis Episcopus Herfordensis Anglus de Sacramentis Veteris et Noui Testamenti, de incarnatione Christi et aliis f. 105

In another hand. The author died in 1166.

PROPOSITIONES EPISCOPORUM ANGLICANORUM GRAECE ET LATINE.

Paper, 13¼ × 9, pp. 93. Cent. xviii. Given by Edward Waddington, Bishop of Chichester, 1731.

Contents:

Προθέσεις τινες εἰς τὴν τῶν καθολικῶν καὶ ὀρθοδόξων τῆς ἐκκλησίας Βρεττανικῆς λειψάνων μετὰ τῆς Ἀνατολικῆς καθολικῆς καὶ Ἀποστολικῆς ἐκκλησίας συμφώνησιν.

Proposals for union addressed by the Nonjuring Bishops to the Greek Church: dated, London xv. Kal. Sept. 1716, and signed by

Jeremy Collier, Bishop,
Archibald Campbell, Bishop;

attested by:

John Sharp, D.D.,
Fra. Lee, M.R.C.S.

Followed by (2) the answer of the Orthodox Church, and (3) the reply of the Nonjuring Bishops, 29 May 1722: this last signed by the Scotch Bishops Archibald and James, and the English Bishops Jeremy and Thomas.

Followed by the account of the English Communion Office submitted by the Nonjurors to the Greek Church for approval.

In Greek and Latin: neatly transcribed.

THE DIVINA COMMEDIA OF DANTE.

Vellum, $15\frac{1}{2} \times 10\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 84, in double columns of 45 lines each. Cent. xv.

Collation: a¹⁰ b⁸ c¹⁰ || d¹⁰ e⁸ f¹⁰ || g¹⁰ h⁸ i¹⁰.

Fol. 1 a is bordered: it has suffered from use: in the lower margin is a shield, quarterly or and sable, a fess argent (the arms of Dante).

The initial to Canto i. of the Inferno has a picture: Dante, in light blue and white, is following Virgil, bearded, in red, with cap, who looks back at him, and stands by a green rock (?). The ground is red.

The Purgatorio begins on f. 29: the first initial shews Dante and Virgil in a boat, pointing upwards and talking; the ground is red, the water green. One side of this page is bordered.

The Paradiso begins on f. 57: the first initial shews, on a red ground, Dante in blue, his arms crossed: on R., higher up, Beatrice stands and points upward: part of a blue sphere is seen behind her: a border on one side of the page.

Each canto has a flourished initial.

On the last page has been a note in several lines, partially erased, beginning, 'Nota che questo Dante.....'

The MS. no doubt was given by Wotton.

It is denoted by the letter X in Moore's Textual Criticism of the Divina Commedia, where it is described (p. 549) and well spoken of. It is no. 484 in Colomb de Batines' list.

HERODOTI HALICARNASSENSIS HISTORIA GRAECE.

Vellum, $16 \times 10\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 270 + 8 blank, 35 lines to a page.
Cent. xv.

Collation: a² 1¹⁰-27¹⁰ b⁶.

There are good rubricated ornaments at the beginnings of the books: and marginal notes in Greek and Latin by both the original scribe and a later hand.

On the first vellum fly-leaf has been a dedication, or letter, occupying about 18 lines, now carefully erased. The words famulo tuo are legible at the end of line 1.

There has also been a line erased on the first page of the text, and probably also a name written in Greek.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

122. Bl. 3. 8.ARISTOTELIS ETHICA NICOMACHEA CUM COMMENTARIO EUSTATHII.

Vellum, 13¼ × 9, ff. 223, in double columns of 50 lines each. Cent. xiv. In a hand resembling an Italian hand: good initials.

The text of Aristotle is underlined in red. Binding H.V.: chain-mark at bottom R. front.

Collation: a¹²-f¹² g¹² (wants three leaves) h¹²-s¹² t¹⁰.

The volume is so tightly bound that I am unable to ascertain the exact structure of quire g.

At the bottom of f. 1 a is :

Contenta : Textus Eticorum Aristotelis cum commento Eustracii.

The text begins :

Eustracii metropolitani Nikee enarracio in primum Aristotelis moralium ad Nicomachum.

Philosophia in duas partes diuisa.

Quire h begins :

Enarracio Ephesii domini Michaelis in quintum Moraliu. In presenti v^{to} libro existente de negotio moralium.

The book was

Liber Will. Horman.

MATTHAEI WESTMONASTERIENSIS FLORES HISTORIARUM.

Vellum, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ × 7 $\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 277, in double columns of 37 lines each. Cent. xiii. and xiv. In a fine hand.

Collation : a¹² b¹⁴ c¹² d¹⁴ e¹² (misbound) f¹²–n¹² o¹⁰ (10 cancelled) p¹⁰ q¹² r¹² s¹² t¹² u¹² v¹² x¹² y¹⁰ z⁷ (1–4 remain).

For a full account of the importance of this MS. see Dr Luard's edition of the Flores Historiarum in the Rolls Series (Vol. I. p. xv).

It was written at the Priory of Merton, in Surrey. The hand changes after the year 1294.

The MS. is imperfect, ending in the year 1306, with the words:

Circa festum Cathedre S. petri venit quidam Cardi.....

There are a few pictures, viz.:

1. f. 27 b. The Nativity: the Virgin in bed (asleep): star above: over it, the Child, ox, and ass. Joseph on R.: gold ground.

2–10. Coronations of Kings from William I. (f. 158) to Edward I.: these are all very much alike, each representing a seated King between two Bishops (or Archbishops), who are crowning him.

On f. 1 a is the word Liber...: the rest being totally erased.

The book formerly belonged to Archbishop Parker.

[C. M. A. 58.]

124. Bl. 3. 10.

JOHANNIS DIACONI VITAE S. GREGORII LIBRI IV.

Vellum, $12\frac{3}{8} \times 8$, ff. 137, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xi. Written in Italy.

Collation: a⁸-f⁸ g⁶ h⁸-r⁸ s⁴ (4 cancelled): 3 fly-leaves.

There are fine interlaced initials and capitula to each book. On f. 122 a is a most interesting outline drawing of the Funeral of S. Gregory. The façade of the old Basilica of S. Peter's is very accurately represented, with the bronze peacocks on the outer corners, and the original mosaics, of the Lamb, the Four Beasts, and the Twenty-four Elders¹.

The text of the Life of S. Gregory is followed by:

2. Gregorius Leudelrade regi Langobardorum, on the last leaf, and
3. (in a later hand) Epistola Bernardi Clareuall. karissimo suo fratri et domino Ad. dei gratia F. (? Farfensi) abbati.

The fly-leaves, which are cut and mutilated, contain letters of Popes Anastasius, Eugenius, and the Emperor Frederic, relating to the monastery of Farfa, to which the MS. must have belonged.

One, at the end, from Eugenius, is dated from Florence in 1440.

On the margins of ff. 3 b, 4 a, are letters of cent. xiii. from Hugh, Bishop of Ostia and Velletri, to the Abbot of Farfa, and from a Provost and Prior of S. Salvator to Hugh.

The name Jo. Delphini is on the second fly-leaf at the beginning.

The MS. no doubt came from Wotton.

[C. M. A. 70.]

125. Bl. 3. 11.

HISTORIA SCHOLASTICA PETRI MANDUCATORIS.

Vellum, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 9$, ff. 171, in double columns of 50 lines each. Cent. xiii. (early). French hand, in quires of 8 leaves.

¹ I had this drawing photographed, and copies have been sent to Cav. De Rossi, Sig. Lanciani, and M. Rohault de Fleury. Professor Grisar is about to reproduce it in the Römische Quartalschrift für Archäologie.

The text is followed by the Epitaph of the author, as usual.

There is a fine initial at the beginning: also many marginal notes. Three leaves at the beginning, and seven pages at the end, are covered with miscellaneous notes and verses. Among them the Liber Methodii (often printed, e.g. in the Orthodoxographia of J. Grynaeus), a list of the Ten Plagues, a definition of history, the Hebrew alphabet, genealogies, and the Apostles' Creed.

MEDICA QUAEDAM.

Vellum, $13\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 275 + 6 fly-leaves. Text surrounded by comment. Cent. xiv. The hand resembles an Italian hand. The initials are good: there are many notes on the fly-leaves,

Contents :

1.	Isagoge Joannicii, preceded by a Table on f. 1	f. 4
2.	Philaretus de pulsibus	10 b
3.	Theophilus de urinis	12 b

LEONIS BAPTISTAE ALBERTI DE RE AEDIFICATORIA LIBRI X.

Paper, 13 × 8½, ff. 244, 30 lines to a page. Cent xv. Written in Italy, in a fine cursive hand. In quires of 10 leaves.

Binding of red leather, stamped with border of cable-pattern, probably Venetian.

On f. 1 a is a fine initial in gold and colours.

On the lower margin is a shield (that of B. Bembo, the owner), azure, a chevron or between three four-petalled flowers of the second: the shield is between branches of palm and bay.

Each of the ten books has a good initial. After f. 221 are six blank leaves of paper and one of parchment. These are followed by a tract on six leaves in another hand, beginning abruptly :

‘ Primus arius radix unitas diuinitati consecratus est.’

It relates to lines and architecture.

The MS. belonged to Bernardo Bembo. On f. 208 is a long marginal note by him, as follows (the text alludes to Nemi):

Vidimus Nemorensem locum et lacum et lucum amoenissimum atque pomiferum hortum omnibus deliciis refertissimum Aquis perfossum montem egredientibus ut perennes nihil redundant iisdem alligate limitibus Celum et agros elysios facile dixeris, illum ad omnes ueneres hylarem. 16. de complexionibus.

The initials to the books are of very good xiiiith cent. style.

Between nos. 11 and 12 are two pages of sortes, with accompanying diagrams, neatly written, probably of cent. xiii., xiv. They may be worth transcribing.

The diagrams are mainly wheels of 12 divisions, each headed with the name of a region. Below, the oracles appertaining to each are given. The names of countries seem derived from an oriental source: Babilonia, Elzeuge, Francia, Elmutecima, Elbulgor, Eltafiac, Farisei, Romania.

The last two pages of the book are covered with prayers composed of magical names, connected with the Ars notoria.

OROSII HISTORIA.

Vellum, 11 × 7 $\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 87, in double columns of 39 lines each. Cent. xiii. (early). In a fine hand with plain initials, generally red or green.

Binding original: white skin over boards: formerly clasped, strap and pin fastening: chain-mark apparently on lower edge of front cover. On the back is the name OROSIUS in Lombardic capitals of cent. xiii.–xiv. This is often found on MSS. belonging to Bury Abbey.

Provenance. On f. 1 is the name W. Bathon. The MS. must have belonged to Laud when Bishop of Bath and Wells.

On a paper fly-leaf is:

Dedit hunc librum Collegio Etonensi Thomas Richardson S. T. P. eiusdem Collegij Socius 1722.

Collation: a⁸–f⁸ g⁸ (wants 2) h⁸ (wants 8) i⁸ k⁸ (2 cancelled or replaced) l⁸ (wants 1) m⁸ (wants 3–8): quires numbered i–xi on last leaf: catchwords later: 87 leaves.

On ff. 15 b, 16, occurs some very odd spaced writing, in shorter lines than usual, and written dispersedly, as if too much space had been allowed for the matter, and another quire already begun.

Contents:

i. Orosii Historia f. 1 a

The initial to Book i. is cut out: the first leaves have suffered from damp.

2. Epistola Alexandri ad Aristotelem f. 85 a
Inc. Semper memor fui.

Ends imperfectly:

Detractisque cornibus et dentibus insigni onustus preda in castra.....

ROBERTI CRICELADENSIS PRIORIS OXONIENSIS EXCERPTA
 EX PLINII HISTORIA NATURALI.

Vellum, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 8$, ff. 164, in double columns of 29 lines each. Cent. xii., xiii. In a large English hand. There is a good initial to the first Book.

Inquires of 8 leaves, the last of 4; 3 blank fly-leaves.

The extracts extend from Book ii.–ix. of the History, and are headed by an extract from Tranquillus (= Suetonius), 'in catalogo uirorum illustrium de Plinio.'

Leland (p. 234) calls this writer Robertus Cornutus, and assigns his date to the reigns of Richard I. and John.

L. ANNAEI SENECAE EPISTOLAE.

Vellum, $11\frac{5}{8} \times 7\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 167, 26 lines to a page. Cent. xii. The writing is large, probably Italian.

Collation: a² (1 cancelled) i⁸–xx⁸ xxi⁸ (8 cancelled).

The title page (f. 1 b) is framed in black, with interesting ornaments: the title is written in red and green:

In hoc volumine continentur Epistole Seneca ad Lucilium numero octoginta novem.

Prefixed are:

- (a) A notice from Hieronymus in Catalogo virorum illustrium.
- (b) Epistolae Senecae et Pauli.
- (c) Epitaphium Senecae.

On the last leaf, in a smaller hand, are:

Versus de rerum mutabilitate.
 Nuper eram locuplex, etc.

On the fly-leaves are notes in an Italian hand of cent. xv., probably Bernardo Bembo's; one is dated 1488. xxii Octobris Ro(mae) opitulante altissimo. Another relates to Dante's arms, which are sketched, and the tinctures written on the shield: party per pale rosso and azzurro a fess biancho.

Wafered into the book is the following letter :

Marce, heri in uisitatione Reverendissimi domini Cardinalis Legati fui inuitatus ab eo ut hodie secum accedam ad sanctum Nicolaum de littore ubi est diem hunc acturus. accedam igitur. si forte necesse fuerit expedire litteras Imperatoris cape eas a dominico nostro Bellono et signa atque domino Alexandro da. L. ANNAEI SENECAE EPISTOLAE ITALICE.

Vellum, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 9$, ff. 124, in double columns of 45 lines each. Cent. xv.

Written in Italy. There are beautiful borders to the Table of Contents and to the first page of the text. In the initial of the former is a head.

Collation : a⁸-o⁸ p¹².

The Epistles are followed by :

- (a) Jerome's notice of Seneca.
- (b) The Letters of Paul and Seneca.

Colophon :

Scritto per me lorenzo di stefano sambarducci pplo (? preso) san filicie impiazza : deo gratia.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

VITRUVII DE ARCHITECTURA LIBRI X.

Vellum, $12\frac{1}{4} \times 8\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 64, 51 lines to a page. Cent. xiv., xv. Written in Italy.

The initial to Book i. has a half-length figure of Vitruvius, in cap, holding an adze and a hatchet.

That to Book ii. has a half-length of Hercules, bearded, holding club and lion's skin.

Collation: a¹⁰ b⁸ c¹⁰-f¹⁰ g⁸ (5, 6 cancelled, 7, 8 blank).

On the fly-leaves are the following notes:

(1) Ludouici Rigii Cornarii. Obiit dignus uir x^o Octobris 1492. N. 76. Vetruiuo de architettura.

IUVENALIS ET PERSII SATIRAE: CODEX IMPRESSUS.

Paper, $11 \times 7\frac{1}{4}$. Printed at Milan by Phil. Lauanius, 1476.

The initials are finely painted, and there are many marginal notes in a most exquisite small Italian hand.

The fly-leaves are from a Missal of cent. xiv. On one at the beginning is a note, in Bernardo Bembo's hand, as I think:

¹ ? cyclum in the sense of 'book-case.'

Inceptus die... Marcij 1481, incepti cum domino episcopo Bellunensi domino Bernardo Rubeo die 26 Decembris 1486, cuius magister domus eram.

Rev^{mus} In Christo pater Dominus Episcopus Belunensis Dominus Bernardus Rubeus assumpsit Rotum in Ciuitate Venetia in S. Georgio maiore die undecima mensis Septembris 1487 hora : 19 :

Another erased note follows.

On the last fly-leaf was a long note, now erased, which ends :

ex pleni corz supra scripto D. Ber. Rubeo Episc. Bellunensi die 16 Octobr. 1489.

The name Jo. Delphini is on the lower margin of f. 1.

The book was no doubt given by Wotton.

HOMERI ILIADIS LIBRI V. GRAECE.

Vellum, 12 × 8 $\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 76, text surrounded by scholia. Cent. xiii. (?) In a very fine hand: the title is in gold. The MS. is much stained in parts.

Collation: a⁸-θ⁸ ι⁸ (5-8 cancelled).

The text ends with v. 84 :

ὥς οἱ μὲν ποιέοντο κατὰ κρατερῆν ὑσμίνην.

No doubt from Wotton.

CL. PTOLEMAEI COSMOGRAPHIA LATINE.

Vellum, 11 $\frac{1}{8}$ × 8 $\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 138, 38 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Written in Italy, in a beautiful hand.

Collation: a¹⁰ b¹⁰ c⁸ d¹⁰-g¹⁰ h⁸ i¹⁰-n¹⁰ o¹⁰ (+ a sheet inserted between 9 and 10).

Fol. 1 has a miniature in a gold frame extending across the page. On the L. a crowned and turbaned king sits, facing R., on a throne of metal. He bends forward to receive a green book from Ptolemy, who, in purple, bearded and hooded, kneels, holding in his L. hand a circular planisphere on a stand: the face of it is divided into six equal parts by three diameters: two of these parts, on L., contain the numbers 7 and 14; the two opposite divisions inscribed 6 and 9: on R. are three men, turbaned, and a camel: a landscape behind. The page is bordered: in the lower margin two genii hold a bay wreath enclosing a wheel party per fess gules and argent, counterchanged.

Each of the eight books has a good initial and partial border.

The colophon is simply LAVS DEO.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

STRABONIS GEOGRAPHICORUM LIBRI X. GRAECE.

Paper, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 8$, ff. 300, 28 lines to a page. Cent. xv. (1430?). Binding, calf of cent. xviii. No doubt given by Sir Henry Wotton.

Collation: α^{10} (wants 1 blank) β^{10} – η^{10} θ^4 ι^{10} $\iota\alpha^{10}$ $\iota\beta^{10}$ $\iota\gamma^8$ $\iota\delta^{6(+6*)}$ $\iota\epsilon^{10}$ $\iota\zeta^{14}$ $\iota\eta^{10}$ $\iota\theta^{10}$ κ^{10} $\kappa\alpha^{12+2}$ ($\kappa\alpha$ has two leaves inserted between 10 and 12 [end of Book vii.]) $\kappa\beta^{10}$ – $\kappa\zeta^{10}$ ($\kappa\zeta$ cancelled) $\kappa\eta^3$ $\kappa\theta^{10}$ λ^{10} ($\lambda\alpha^{10}$ (2 cancelled)); 300 leaves.

The quires are marked on upper R. corner of first leaf, and lower margin of last leaf.

Contents:

Capitula, with a good ornament, and ΑΓΑΘΗ ΤΥΧΗ at the top of f. 1.

Book i. Headed in capitals, ΑΓΑΘΗ ΤΥΧΗ ΣΤΡΑΒΩΝΟΣ
ΓΕΩΓΡΑΦΙΚΩΝ · Α · f. 3

The first page in a larger hand, only 10 lines.

Book ii. 43 b
Book iii. ὑποκείσθω δὴ σφαιροειδῆς ἡ γῆ (II. v. p. 177 Tauchnitz). 72

The hand changes after f. 81 for two leaves, of which the first has 39 lines to the page, the second 29 and 22 lines, on the recto and verso.

The writing is by the original scribe, and the marginal notes do not differ from those elsewhere in the book.

f. 81 ends :

εἰσπλέουσι τοῖνον τὸν κατὰ στήλας πορθμὸν ἐν δεξιᾷ μὲν ἔστιν ἡ λιβύη (p. 201).

At the bottom, in red :

✱ ἔλιπεν ἀπὸ τοῦ πρωτοτύπου τέτραδιν· καὶ ὁ εὐρήσων ἀναπληρώσατω.

The two supply-leaves contain the beginning of Book iii. (without title), ἀποδεδωκόσι δ' ἡμῖν (p. 218, ed. Tauch.), to the words Ἀνάγκη δὲ διὰ πλείονων (p. 223).

Book iv. 108

On f. 109 b, 110 a, the hand enlarges, as on the supply-leaves above. So on 112 b, 113, 116, 117 a. On f. 112 b is the note ἔλιπεν ἐκ τοῦ πρωτοτύπου φύλλα δύο.

After 122 a leaf is cancelled.

Book v. 130

On 142 b is the note in red : ἐνταῦθα λείπει τέτραδον ἔν, which apparently refers to the words following, ᾧ'κουν καθ' αὐτοὺς (i. p. 372). However they, and the next 8 leaves, are supplied in the sloping hand, probably by the same scribe. The supply extends to ἤδη δὲ καὶ ὁ Σουρεντῖνος (p. 323).

Book vi. 156 b

Book vii. 179 b

ff. 202 b–205 a are in the larger sloping hand. At the top of 202 b is λείπει φύλλον ἔν. The passage supplied is Μετὰ δὲ Ὀρχησμὸν (ii. p. 119) to Κινέας δὲ μυθωδέστερον (the fragmentary end of the viiith book, p. 127).

Book viii. 205 b

On f. 225 a spaces are left, shewing a mutilation in four lines in the archetype. So on 227 a (two lines).

Book ix. 240

A mutilation in six (or seven) lines is indicated on 240 a, and in four lines on 246 a : also on 249 b, 250 b, 251 a, 253, 256, 258, 281 : after 263 a leaf is cancelled.

Book x. 273

After 293 a leaf is cancelled.

Ends on 300 a :

Red. τέλος τοῦ Ἰου καὶ τῆς Εὐρώπης περιοδείας.

Green. Ἐκτετράμην τήνδε τὴν βίβλον ἐκ Βυζαντίου γραφείσαν παρὰ Ἀγαλλιανοῦ διακόνου ἱερομνήμονος φίλου.

The verso is blank.

At the beginning is a parchment leaf, with a note of cent. xvii.:

Strabo. Continentur in hoc volumine x tantummodo libri.

There are many marginal notes in pink, blue, green, yellow, purple and black ink. Many of those in pink are by the original scribe Agallianos. Those in blue, green, purple and yellow are mostly by (or from) Cyriacus of Ancona: others in pink, green and black are in a later and more pointed hand.

The contents of these scholia are, as far as I have examined them, not important, save a few of those written by Cyriacus. Of these I append all that relate to inscriptions: some have been rather inaccurately printed in the Oxford Strabo (1807).

I. f. 149 b. (15: f. 10 b), on Book V. iv. p. 390, Tauch.

XENOPHONTIS CYROPAEDEIA ET ANABASIS GRAECE.

Paper, 12 × 8, ff. 178, 29 lines to a page. Cent. xiv. (?). In a fine hand. Each book has a title ornamented in red.

Collation : $\alpha^{10}-\epsilon^{10}$ || $\alpha^{10}-\zeta^{10}$ η^8 (8 blank).

Contents :

Xenophontis Cyropaedia	f. 1
στίχοι ιαμβικοί (xxx)	100 δ
Xenophontis Anabasis	101

The iambic verses are mediaeval, and of a moral tendency : they begin :

Inc. οὐδέν τι τερπνὸν ὡς πάλαιός τις λόγος
ἔχων τε λαμπρὰν τὴν ἀλήθειαν πᾶσαν.
Expl. ἔλθοις ἀνάσσων εὐτυχῶς αὐτοκράτωρ.

This MS. was used for the text of Hutchinson's edition of the Anabasis in 1735, and is frequently quoted (from Hutchinson) e.g. by J. G. Schneider in his edition of the Anabasis (Oxford, 1821). It was collated for Hutchinson by John Burton, Fellow of Eton.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

PHOTII LEXICON GRAECE.

Paper, 10 $\frac{5}{8}$ × 8 $\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 166, written. Cent. xviii.

Collation : A⁶ B⁸-T⁸ V⁸ X⁸, the rest blank.

This is a transcript from the Gale MS. now at Trinity College, Cambridge, together with an Index auctorum (ff. V 3 b-X 3 a).

There is a similar transcript among Richard Topham's books in this Library (marked Bf. 1. 1).

The present copy was given by Edw. Betham, Fellow, in 1773.

S. ATHANASII SYNOPSIS, ETC., GRAECE.

Paper, 11 $\frac{1}{4}$ × 8 $\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 256, varying numbers of lines to a page. Cent. xiv., xv. Bound in old patterned paper over paste-boards: two clasps. In quires of 8 leaves.

Contents:

1. Synopsis Sacrae Scripturae, attributed to S. Athanasius . . . f. 1
Σύνοψις ἐπίτομος τῆς θείας γραφῆς παλαιῆς καὶ νέας διαθήκης...
τοῦ ἁγίου καὶ μεγάλου Ἀθανασίου.

This tract was first printed at Heidelberg in 1600 among the works of Athanasius. Felckmann, the editor, says (Tom. ii. App. p. 84): Usae sunt operae textu huius Synopseos graece descripto ex vetusto et miris ductibus constante codice, quem ex bibliotheca viri clarissimi Petri Neveleti Doschii curavit vir ampliss. D. Bongarsius, etc.

Montfaucon, in his edition of Athanasius II. p. viii, says: Quorsum autem evaserit codex ille memoratus a Felckmanno, ignoratur. Codicem Synopseos aliquem nec vidi nec alicubi extare didici.

As the name F. N. Nevelet occurs on f. 1 of this MS. we may with great plausibility identify it with the copy used for the edition of 1600. It seems, therefore, to be the only known authority for the text of this interesting tract: on which see Zahn, Gesch. d. NTlich Kanons, II. 302 sqq. and Klostermann, Analecta zur Septuaginta. I hope soon to publish particulars of the text.

2. Dorothei Synopsis de Prophetis, de Apostolis, de lxxii Discipulis 99
3. Σύνοψις χρονική ἀπὸ Ἀδάμ ἕως Ἀλεξίου τοῦ Κομνηνοῦ . . . 129

It seems really to extend only as far as Cleopatra.

4. Synodicon 145

From the Apostolic Council to that of Nicaea.

5. Sophronii κατὰ πάσης αἰρέσεως liber 183
 6. Anastasii περὶ πίστεως liber 219
 7. Gelasii Cyziceni σύνταγμα τῶν ἐν Νικαίᾳ 241
 8. Πρακτικὰ τῆς ἐν Ἐφέσῳ συνόδου 337
 9. Nicephori Epistola ad Leonem 498

Ff. 1–120 are in one hand, with 35 lines to a page.

On f. 72 b (p. 144) is the note :

ἐγράφη γοῦν διὰ χειρὸς ἐμοῦ δουκᾶ νοταρίου, and a similar note is on f. 73 a.

Ff. 121–168 are in another hand, in double columns of 29 lines each.

From f. 169 to the end we have Doukas's hand again, in double columns.

The colophon at the end of the volume is :

Τέλος σὺν θεῷ τῆς βίβλου ταύτης τῶν πρακτικῶν τῆς οἰκουμενικῆς τρίτης συνόδου.

Ἐτελειώθη γοῦν διὰ χειρὸς ἐμοῦ τοῦ ταπεινοῦ νοταρίου τῆς ἀγιωτάτης τοῦ θεοῦ μεγάλης ἐκκλησίας διὰ συνδρομῆς καὶ ἐξόδου τοῦ ἀγιωτάτου καὶ καθολικοῦ τῆς συνόδου ἱερομοναχοῦ φρά. Ἰωάννου ἀπὸ τῆς βαγουζίας.

There was a John of Ragusa, who was Cardinal Abp of Argos, and died in 1418–19.

As to the owners of the MS. we have several indications. On f. 1, at the bottom, are these names :

- (1) Ioannis.....beneficio D. I. 1550.
- (2) F. N. Neueleti.
- (3) Ex libris Danielis Mauclerc doct. iur. Victoriacensis (of Vitry-le-François) 1665 (? 1685).
- (4) Ex libris Jac. Mauclerc, M.D., 1700.
- (5) Ex libris Joh. Hen. Mauclerc, M.D., 1748.

The last-named has left several letters and notes about the contents of the book : he presented it to the Librarian of the College, the Rev. R. Huggett.

S. AMBROSII QUAEDAM.

Vellum, $11\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 89, 33 lines to a page. Cent. xii. Perhaps written in England: there are plain initials.

Collation: i^s-x^s xi^s (+ 1).

On f. 89 b is:

sancti spiritus assit michi gratia amen.

Contents:

- S. Ambrosii liber de Isaac et anima.
- „ de fuga seculi.
- „ de Iacob et uita beata.
- „ de paradiso.
- Eiusdem apologia in regem Daud.

The MS. belonged to Will. Horman.

146. Bl. 6. 1.DIONYSII ORBIS PERIEGESIS CUM COMMENTARIO EUSTATHII GRAECE.

Paper, $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6$, ff. 232, 22 lines to a page. Cent. xv. In a clear hand.

Collation: a^s-δ^s || a^s-κ^s.

Contents:

Dionysii Periegesis f. 1
It ends on f. 28.

Eustathii commentarius 33

The leaves between the text and comment are blank. At the end is a monogram which I cannot decipher.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

L. APULEII MADAURENSIS METAMORPHOSEON LIBRI XI. ET FLORIDA.

Vellum, $8\frac{3}{4} \times 6$, ff. 123, 30 lines to a page: written in Italy. Cent. xv. (early).

Mended and rebound in 1894: it has suffered much both from damp and fire.

Collation: a¹⁰-d¹⁰ e⁸ f¹⁰-m¹⁰ n⁶ (wants 6).

On f. 122 b are the words:

Codex Bernardi Bembi patricii Veneti, and on f. 123 a are a few notes in the same hand. The MS. was no doubt given to the College by Sir Henry Wotton.

On f. 1 a is a very faint note, probably by Bembo, which seems to give the day of the month on which the book was bought. It reads:

..... aged p... a .. pua. pro pal...

Metamorphoses s. Asinus Aureus	f. 1
Florida	105

The interest of this book consists in a number of pen and ink drawings by an Italian artist, illustrative of the text, which occur, mostly on the bottom of the page, irregularly throughout the book. These drawings are of very high artistic value. They may be usefully compared with the drawings in a MS. in the Ambrosian Library at Milan, which has been reproduced in facsimile by Ceriani at the expense of Mr J. Gibson Craig, under the title of Canonical Histories and Apocryphal Legends. I append a description.

1. f. 1 a. Full-page drawing of a donkey, its head to R.: in black.
2. f. 1 b. Full-page drawing of Apuleius, seated, full-face: he is bearded, a fillet is round his head: he wears a cloak with embroidered border and morse, an under garment with a square patch of embroidery on the breast, and a band of embroidery running vertically down from the centre of it. In his lap is a book kept open by his L. hand: in his raised R. hand is a pen. He sits on a square seat without back or arms, raised on a step. A fine drawing.
3. f. 2 b. Two men in cloaks, with hoods and capes, ride side by side towards L. The nearer one turns and waves his L. hand to a horse (saddled) which follows from R. There are traces of a man in front of it.

Metam. I. 2. The narrator Lucius tending his horse : his two companions talking.

4. f. 3*a*. On L. a horse standing saddled, head to R. : a man (the nearer of the two riders in no. 3) stands before it with hands joined, looking at a large bearded man seated on R., with hands joined on his stomach.

I. 6. Ecce Socratem contubernalem meum aspicio.

5. f. 3*b*. (a) A house-wall. A woman, seen in profile, looks out of the door : Socrates (the bearded man of no. 4) stands in front. I. 7.

(b) The narrator (who appeared in no. 4) shakes hands with Socrates, who raises a garment before his face. I. 8.

6. f. 4*a*. (a) On L. the narrator and Socrates sit facing one another on couches : a table and candlestick between them. I. 7.

(b) An old woman, in hood and long cloak, faces R., with hands raised : a crescent moon in the sky, between two stars : on the ground a large-mouthed pitcher : on R. a coiled serpent. I. 9.

7. f. 4*b*. A room with two beds, foot to foot : between them a pitcher-like lamp hangs by three cords from the ceiling. The narrator is in the bed on L., leaning his head on his hands, with bent elbow. Socrates in bed on R., sleeping : neither is clothed. I. 11.

8. f. 5*a*. (a) Socrates in bed, head to L. : two old women on the further side, at his head. They catch the blood from a wound in his throat in a basin. A turret is seen on the roof on L. : a niche with a jug in it, at the foot of the bed. I. 13.

(b) In front of an empty bed the narrator prostrate : the two old women maltreat him : an overturned stool on R. I. 13.

9. f. 5*b*. Socrates in bed on L. On R. the narrator, with stick and bundle, walking, a porter in bed on the floor sits up and scolds, with raised hand : he has a night-cap : keys on a hook over his head. I. 14, 15.

10. f. 6*a*. (a) The room : Socrates in bed : the narrator has fallen on him, with a broken rope round his neck. The end of the rope hangs from a pulley in the ceiling. I. 16, 17.

(b) The narrator faces R., with stick and bundle, says good bye to the porter : Socrates, behind him, leans on a stick : the outside of the door is seen : it is arched, and has a lock. I. 17 sub fin.

11. f. 6*b*. (a) Narrator with stick and bundle : Socrates with stick, walking. I. 18.

(b) They sit, facing, on the ground : a tree between them, with a wallet hung on it : Socrates has a stick in his hand. Both eat. I. 19, init.

12. f. 7*a*. (a) The narrator (beardless) faces L., and holds Socrates by the L. leg. Socrates is prostrate, with his face in a stream. I. 19 (§ 63).

(b) The narrator (face R.) digs with his stick in the ground. Socrates lies on his back behind him. I. 19.

13. f. 7*b*. (a) Beardless man on horse faces L. : in front of a door, a woman with distaff meets him. I. 21.

(b) The same man on horse faces R., and talks to a man (it should be a maid) leaning out of window. Tower on roof. I. 22 (§ 68).

14. f. 8*a*. On L. Lucius dismounted, in front of his horse, before a door, hands in a letter. Inside, a man and woman sit opposite to each other at table with bottle, tumbler and dish on it. She eats, he turns round and takes the letter. A maid (Fotis) stands with folded arms on R. I. 22 (§§ 69, 70).

15. f. 8 b. (a) Lucius, uncloaked, shakes hands with bearded man, who has long curling (Phrygian) cap; facing R., he points back with short staff. He is Pytheas. I. 24 (§§ 74, 75).

(b) Slave, with shaven head and short tunic, spillsasket of fish on the ground: he stands in front of a table, on which are fish, square weights and scales. Behind it sits a man in round cap, with raised hands. I. 25 (§ 79).

16. f. 9 a. (a) Fotis, with long hair, faces R., and talks to Lucius, who is surprised: both his hands raised. I. 26 (§ 79).

(b) Lucius in bed, feet to R. Fotis enters from R., and puts on or pulls off the coverlet. I. 26 (§ 81).

17. f. 9 b. (a) Group of four: Lucius kneels on R., facing R., and is kissed by a stooping lady: two maids behind her converse. II. 2 (§§ 85 sqq.). The lady is Byrrhaena.

(b) Group of three: the first from L. is a man with beard and broad hat looking L.: his hand rests on the shoulder of (2), a man in curled cap, who looks R. at (3), a beardless youth in hat, facing L., his hand raised. II. 2 (§ 85).

18. f. 10 a. (a) Two maids walking.

(b) Lady leading Lucius.

(c) Man (no. 1 of 17 (b)) conducts them up steps: arched porch at top. Tower behind. II. 3, 4 (§§ 90, 91).

19. f. 10 b. (a) Lady (Byrrhaena) and Lucius sit on bench and talk.

(b) Outside, a man with hat and beard talks to a man with curled cap and man in high cap on R.: two maids, facing L., touch the latter. II. 5 (§§ 95, 96).

20. f. 11 a. Fotis stirs a pot on the fire, and beckons to Lucius, who enters on R. with one hand to mouth, and the other stretched out. II. 7 (§ 102).

21. f. 11 b. A room: on L. a man with beard and cap talks to his wife: a maid stands on R., face L.: a youth (Lucius) sits back to them on a stool by the fire (?), his head and hands raised. Outside, two curved objects on the wall (snakes or lizards) slightly converge towards the top. II. 11. (Lacertam was read for lucernam?)

22. f. 12 a. (a) Lucius and Fotis stand and kiss each other.

(b) Lucius, facing R., greets a slave (?) with stick, who points with his thumb over his shoulder at a man behind holding out three cocks.

23. f. 12 b. A man and wife sit talking on a bench: a maid stands behind them, facing R.: a square niche in the wall with a vessel in it: a dog looks R. at Lucius and a bearded man in cap, sitting and talking on an angle-bench. II. 11, 12.

24. f. 13 a. Lucius looks up to R., and addresses a bearded man with turban, open book in his R. hand, his L. hand pointing up: he sits on a high seat with a step in front: on R. a small square pedestal, on which a bearded man places money: on R. of it a crowd looking on and talking. II. 13 (§ 110) Milo's story of Diophanes, the weather-prophet, being cheated of his money.

25. f. 13 b. (a) Lucius in bed: at foot, on R., stands Fotis, wreathed with roses, and scattering roses on the coverlet from her lap.

(b) Lucius and Fotis in bed, feet to R.: in front, jug, bottle and tub. II. 16 (§ 127).

26. f. 14 a. Lucius (a youth) on L., faces R., and talks to a man with long robe, beard, and hat in hand, who approaches with bent knee, and takes his hand. Behind them a man with long curling cap, and hand raised, girt with a scymitar.

(b) Youth, with sword held point upward, faces R. Opposite to him a man stands talking. (§ 134.)

27. f. 14 b. A banquet scene. On L., a table with bottle, and jugs, and goblets: a large pitcher on the floor in front. Behind it, a man pours from a round-bellied bottle into a goblet. On R., an attendant in tight clothes, with hand raised, and jug in L. hand. In centre, the banquet table, with dishes, knives, etc. Three people: (1) the host, bearded, (2) Lucius, (3) the wife, sit full-face: 1 and 2 talk: 2 has knife and bread, 3 talks to the bearded attendant of 26 (a), who wears a high cap. II. 20 (§ 135 sqq.).

28. f. 15 a. A man, with long beard and robe, sits, face R.: a man stands talking to him, holding a knotted stick, and points to his breast: he wears a short tunic.

(b) Under a thatched booth, a woman sits full-face: by her are three plaited baskets containing crockery. A man on R. takes a jug and puts money into her hand: another, with basket on head, stands by.

(c) A man, facing R., sits under a shelter. Before him is a table, with a round object and money on it: a man with a cap, peaked in front, talks to him, and points to two dogs behind.

29. f. 15 b. (a) A woman with her hair down sits on the ground and rends her clothes. There enter from R. two men, (1) bearded, in long robe, (2) with short dress and staff.

(b) A woman stands at the foot of a bed, facing R. In the bed is a corpse, nude, with arms crossed on the coverlet, head to right. The woman is agitated. Behind the bed stands the man with staff, talking. At the head of the bed are the bearded man and a crowd of six people behind him. II. 23.

ff. 16-23 have no pictures.

30. f. 24 a. (a) Donkey, with human head, bearded, standing on its hind-quarters. Fotis, face R., holds his front legs.

(b) Donkey faces L., kicking out his hind legs: behind him Fotis weeps and rends her clothes. III. 24.

31. f. 24 b. (a) A horse feeds out of a manger, facing R. Opposite to it, two donkeys: one haltered feeds, the other (Lucius) comes up prancing. III. 26.

(b) Man with short clothes and stick beats Lucius, who, on his hind legs, tries to eat a wreath of roses at the top of a pillar. III. 27.

32. f. 25 a. (a) An armed man has cut a hole in the lid of a chest with an adze, or mattock, and takes out a bag. The chest is under a canopy; a turret above.

(b) Six armed men, with swords and shields and pointed helmets, march off with plunder. III. 28.

33. f. 25 b. The same armed men drive in front of them two donkeys and a horse, or mule, with packs across their backs. III. 28.

ff. 26-31 have no pictures.

34. f. 32 a. A maiden, full-faced, in the midst of an armed band of eight men, who seize her. Her hair is long, her head inclined to R. An old woman sits on a bank under a tree, facing L. IV. 23.

35. f. 36 b. Unfinished: a figure sits facing R., with hand raised as if talking. IV. 27 (?).

ff. 37-51 a have no pictures.

36. f. 51 b. (a) Donkey tethered, braying, throws up his heels.

(b) Maiden in front, mounted on donkey. VI. 27.

37. f. 52 a. Maiden on donkey: wooded slope in front, with a deer looking out from among trees. Four roads meet in the centre.

38. f. 53 b. The old woman sits under rock, facing R. Band of robbers, a youth among them, sit facing R. A countryman in cloak, and hat with peak on front, stands opposite talking.

39. f. 54 a. Donkey couching, tethered to a manger, looks up: head to L.

40. f. 54 b. Old woman hanging from tree. Robber, facing L., with mace, leads maiden on donkey: the band follow. vi. 30.

41. f. 59 b. Catchword of quire: a fish done in red, with four back fins, swallowing a smaller fish.

42. f. 69 b. A flagon, in red, with a chalice at its lip.

43. f. 79 b. Dog with collar: badly copied on the opposite page.

44. f. 89 b. Ostrich, in black and red: a horse-shoe in its beak.

45. f. 106 b. An eagle, in black: a crown on its head, something in its beak. Florida, I. 2.

46. f. 107 a. Half-length, a bearded man, full-face, helmeted, blowing two long trumpets. (Hyagnis, father of Marsyas.) I. 3.

47. f. 107 b. Marsyas lies on his back, bearded, staff or pipe in his R. hand. Four Muses—represented as hooded women—stand at his head: one holds his L. wrist and flays the arm with a knife. Five Muses at his feet: one flays his R. leg with a knife. I. 3.

48. f. 108 b. A king, bearded, on canopied throne, faces R. Five men are before him: three are bearded: one with long beard and robe talks to him. I. 7. Alexander, Polycletus, Apelles, Pyrgoteles, Apuleius (?), Clemens (?).

49. f. 109 b. Elephant, with trunk curling outwards: hairs on his body marked in red.

Colophon: f. 119 b:

Finito libro sit laus et gloria Christo.

On f. 122 b are Bembo's name, and the Greek alphabet and Gloria patri in Greek transliterated.

M. T. CICERONIS DE OFFICIIS LIBRI III.

Vellum, 6 × 4, ff. 127, 25 lines to a page. Cent xv. (1497).
Written at Rome ; in a beautiful hand.

Collation : A¹⁰-M¹⁰ N⁸ (7 cancelled, 8 blank).

Colophon : in capitals, red, blue and gold :

M. T. Ciceronis officiorum lib. finit. Romae die Martis xiv Februari MCCCCLXXXVII.
B. S.

F. 1 a is a beautiful piece of work. The text is written in alternate lines of blue and gold. The border is classical, with columns, on the bases of which are blank shields. At the bottom is a painting of four sages, seated, disputing. The initial has a picture of Cicero, bearded, seated, and talking to his son.

Doubtless given by Wotton. It much resembles a MS. of Horace, which also belonged to Wotton, and is now in the Library of King's College (no. 34).

1. Theoduli Ecloga f. 1

It is a dialogue in hexameters between Pseustis and Alethia, with Fronesis for umpire. The author lived in the xth century (at Athens), and his poem has been often printed, e.g. by J. Schwabe, Altenberg, 1773.

This copy is imperfect : it begins

Si uictus fueris non me uicisse fateris
Sed quia mutari nescit sententia cepti
En adaquare greges simul et releuare calorem
Nostra uenit fronesis • sedeat pro iudice nobis.

2. Maximiani Elegiae vi. 66

These are the Elegies formerly attributed to Cornelius Gallus.

See two papers by Professor Robinson Ellis: On the Elegies of Maximianus in the American Journal of Philology, 1884, pp. 1-15 and 145-163. Bährens has used the MS. for his text of Maximianus in the Poetae Latini Minores: it is apparently the earliest and best MS. extant.

There is a peculiar feature about this copy. F. 6*b* opens with the end of Theodulus' Eclogue, thus:

[320] Sol petit oceanum, frigus succedit opacum
Desine quod restat ne desperatio ledat

E

BAXLE .; DAMA .; IACN • USNANSA

Emula quid cessas finem properare senectus
Cur et in hoc fesso corpore tarda uenis.

The capital E belongs probably to the Eclogue; it may be a mistake for an F, the initial of Fronesis, for the initials of the interlocutors are placed at the end of the lines throughout the poem. The enigmatical line that follows, might, I have thought, be a corrupt form of the title of the Elegies that follow: and the name Maximianus may be concealed therein.

3. P. P. Statii Achilleis 29

Readings from this MS. are given by Dr Karl Schenkl.

4. P. Ouidii Nasonis liber de remedio amoris 38

IO. BAPTISTAE MANTUANI SECUNDA PARTHENICE.

Vellum, 8 $\frac{3}{8}$ × 5 $\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 48, 27 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Written in Italy: a beautiful MS.

Collation: a¹⁰ b⁸-e⁸ f⁶ (4-6 blank).

Contents :

1. Some verses and an extract from S. Hieronymus ad Demetriadem : in Bern. Bembo's hand (?) f. 1
2. De fratre Baptista Mantuano carmen Petri Bembi Bernardi filii 2 b

Ten lines in purple ink : two corrections seem to be in Bernardo Bembo's hand.

3. Letter from Jo. Bapt. Mantuanus to B. Bern. Bembo patricius
Venetus Iurisconsultus 3 a

The initial has in it the words IN DEO SALUTARI MEO, and branches of bay and palm. In the lower margin are Bembo's arms, with similar branches, and a motto, VIRTUS ET HONOR.

4. Argument of the Poem 4 a
5. The Poem Secunda Parthenice, on S. Katherine.

It is followed by a copy of Elegiacs by Franc. Caeretus of Parma, Juris Pontificii scholaris, addressed in Invidium Lectorem.

Colophon :

Secundae Parthenices opus diuinum Bononie impressum solerti animaduersione Franc. Cereti permensis communibus impensis Benedicti Hectoris Bibliopolae Platonisque eiusdem impressoris accuratissimi ciuium bononiensium anno natiuitatis dominicae M • CCCC • LXXIX • Quinto die Februarii.

Doubtless given by Wotton.

IUVENALIS SATIRAE.

Vellum, $8\frac{1}{8} \times 5\frac{1}{4}$, ff. 66, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Written in Italy.

Collation : i¹⁰-v¹⁰ vi⁸. Text ends on 64 a.

There are notes at the end in Bern. Bembo's writing, giving the subjects of the Satires, etc. Sat. i. has a very good initial.

The margins are cut. A running title extends as far as Sat. ix. After the text is $\overline{\text{YHS}}$ MARIA, and three blank pages.

Doubtless from Wotton.

[C. M. A. 85.]

153. Bl. 6. 8.

IUVENALIS ET PERSII SATIRAE.

Vellum, $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4$, ff. 92 + 4, 25 lines to a page. Cent. xv. Written in Italy, in a beautiful hand, resembling that of B. Bembo.

Collation: i¹⁰-ix¹⁰ x²; 4 fly-leaves.

The Satires of Persius begin on f. 79.

At the bottom of f. I, an angel holding the shield of Bembo. There are notes in B. Bembo's writing at the end.

The Satires of Juvenal are divided into five books, with arguments in hexameters, and titles in red.

No doubt given by Wotton.

PAULI MARSII PIERII PISCINATIS BEMBICE PEREGRINE.

Vellum, $8\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{4}$, ff. 40 + 2, 18 lines to a page. Cent. xv. In an Italian hand.

Collation: a² i¹⁰—iv¹⁰: text ends on f. 35 a.

On f. 1 b is Bembo's motto, VIRTUS ET HONOR, surrounded by bay and palm.

On f. 2 a are Bembo's arms in a red ribbon, and the title of the poem, and an address of the author to his book.

The contents are poems by "Paulus Marsius, ex Argolica Profectioe (here is inserted in green, by Bembo, uocatus ac demum) inuitatus ad Hispalicam" (added, ad B. Bembum in hispania legatum).

There are also Poems addressed to the Virgin—to the Senate and people of Syracuse, who feared the plague, and would not let the author land—to Cronicus; and verses written at Malta, on the sight of Carthage, at Hippo (dated 28 Aug. 1477).

At the end are five blank leaves: on the last is this note (of an election at Venice):

pro censor. Cos. et Triumviratu
Bembus	82..	417	} 13 Julii 1494.
Jo. Maurotus	798	444
Donatus	606	644

2. Naldi de Naldis Bucolica in Laurentium Mediceum Iuuenem clarissimum. Daphnis. Aegloga in Laurentium eundem
(in gold capitals) 4

This page is finely bordered : in the initial is Daphnis chasing a nymph. In the lower margin are the Medici arms, with the lilies in the centre.

There are xi. Eclogues.

Given doubtless by Wotton.

TRACTATUS DE PHYSICIS, ETC.

Vellum, $6\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 26 + 2, 29 lines to a page. Cent. xiv. (It is said to bear the date 1497, but I was unable to find this.)

It is a fragment, consisting of 2 quires of 10 leaves, numbered xxii and xxiii, and 1 of 6 leaves, numbered xxiii: the leaves are numbered 204–227.

Contents:

1. Inc. modo siccum ex uicinitate estatis modo eadem ratione
calidum modo frigidum f. 1

With diagrams of the changes of the Moon, and of eclipses.

2. De eis que agit relatus a firmamento 2 b
3. De eclipsi solis 3 b
4. Capitula tercie particule 5 b
1. De aere.
Quae v^{ue} zone sunt in aere non in ethere.

There are 26 chapters: the last is:

- Unde sit quod in lunacione modo crescunt humores, modo decrescunt.
5. Capitula quarte particule (38 in number) 12 b
1. De diversis qualitibus terre.
38. De iuuentute et senectute et senio.

The end is complete:

...non enim extincto naturali calore diu potest homo viuere.

At the end are two supplementary leaves, in paler ink, containing:

- (a) Twenty-two hexameter verses on the names of Christ . . . f. 1
Inc. Omnipotens dominus ihc xpc deus altus.
(b) The beginnings of the four Gospels 2
(c) A rhyming hymn 3

NATURALIUM.

Vellum, $6\frac{5}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 37, 30 lines to a page. Cent. xii.

Collation : a⁸-d⁸ e⁷⁸ (wants 6-8).

The last two leaves have suffered much from damp, before they were in their present binding (of cent. xviii.).

Contents :

Incipit liber Adelardi Batoniensis ad nepotem suum de solucione
questionum naturalium f. 1

The title is not in the original hand. The tract is imperfect, ending :

... Quidam autem altius uel intelligentes uel furentes ...

There are tags on the margins of the leaves, written by the original scribe. In the opinion of Mr Holmes, the Queen's Librarian, this is very probably Adelard's autograph MS. (Rev. H. St J. Thackeray, Eton College Library, p. 14.) Tanner in the Bibliotheca Britannica, s. v. Athelardus mentions this MS.

Adelard's date was 1130 (Bale, i. p. 183).

THE ANATOMIE OF SPAYNE BY HARVE BEDWOD, GENT., 1599.

Paper, $9\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{3}{4}$, pp. 348, 22 lines to a page. 1599.

The title-page has an ornamented border, with coats of arms, all very neatly blazoned. At the top are the arms of Spain, and at the sides, those of the six provinces: under them is written:

FEARE SVSPICION | BASTARDIE | MVRTHER | TIRANIE | VSVRPACION | HIPOCHRESIE / PERIVRIE.

The book contains folding tables of pedigrees. The last page has a good coloured drawing of a peacock standing on a pomegranate: the eyes in its tail are coats of arms, and a scroll in Spanish is in its mouth.

PETRI DE RIGA AURORA.

Vellum, $9 \times 5\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 179, 45 lines to a page. Cent. xii. or xiii. (early). In a good hand, probably English. Red and blue initials: one narrow column of text.

Collation: 1⁸–22⁸ 23⁴ (4 cancelled). Text ends on f. 177.

The Aurora is a paraphrase of the several books of the Bible in Latin verse.

Job follows Acts, and precedes Canticles.

Among other scribbles on the fly-leaf is :

“Eleyson Willelmus permissione diuina Caninarum Episcopus Aug.... apostolice sedis legatus Walterus.”

FIGURAE BIBLIORUM.
APOCALYPSIS CUM FIGURIS.

Vellum, $10\frac{7}{8} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 58, two volumes in one. Cent. xiii. Written in English: binding of cent. xvii., rebacked (1894).

Given to the College by George Henry Pitt, Esq., May 28th, 1817. On f. 8 b is:

The gift of S^r John Sherard of Lobthorp in Lincolnshire.
Stuart Bickerstaffe 1690.

Collation: a² b⁶ || c⁸-h⁸ i².

The first eight leaves contain a series of paintings arranged in medallions, five and two halves on each page, of Scripture subjects, principally types and antitypes. They recall very strongly the painted windows of the thirteenth century, and I am strongly inclined to believe that they were actual designs for stained glass windows. I append a full description:

I. f. 1 a. Blank.

f. 1 b. Ground of the page blue: of the medallions red. These two colours alternate in the succeeding pages.

1. Centre. Creation of the world: Christ in bluish-green robe over brown, blue-crossed nimbus, scales in L. hand, compasses in R., traces a sphere in the air, with three bands on it, in one is a snake (or a river), in the second trees, in the third fish. At the top of the picture are two demi-angels.

2. Bottom R. Creation of Beasts: Christ: on L., lions, horse, dogs (?): on R., a goat eats a tree.

3. Top R. Creation of Birds.

4. Top L. Creation of Adam: a line joins Christ's hand to Adam's mouth: tree on R.

5. Bottom L. Creation of Eve: a tree behind.

6. Half-circle on L. Man (prophet) in green, seated, in hood: hand raised: the end of a scroll, or garment, depends over his other hand: red folds are under his feet.

7. Half-circle on R. Beardless (?) man in green and pink: much damaged. He is seated, facing L.: one hand over his head: a scroll (?) on his knee.

II. f. 2 a.

1. Centre. The Prohibition (?). Christ, cross-nimbed, between two trees: on L., a man in red robe over green, bearded, seated, hand raised. Christ has both hands raised.

2. Top L. The Temptation. The Serpent has a human head. Eve holds two apples.

3. Top R. The Expulsion. The Angel has two wings only, and a flaming sword: Adam and Eve with fig-leaves.

4. Bottom L. Toil. Adam on L., in light-coloured robe, striped, digs: a goat eats the leaves of a tree in centre: two sheep feed on L. of it. On R., facing L., Eve seated, with distaff and spindle.

5. Bottom R. Death of Abel. Abel in brown, prostrate on green rock. Cain on R. in red, with black legs, strikes him on the head with a jaw-bone. Behind, in air, are two sheaves (?) (each has a band round it) flaming: that on L. flames upwards, that on R. downwards.

6, 7. L. and R. Two adoring angels, full-length.

f. 2 b is blank.

III. f. 3 a.

Here begins the series of types and prophecies, surrounding an antitype in the central medallion: the two half-circles, and the lower medallion on L., contain prophets, of whom only those in the whole medallion bear inscribed scrolls. The central medallion is supported by an atlas-figure, seated, of a Virtue, sometimes with name attached. On the lower margin is written one of the commandments. In some cases a green leaf-ornament connects the upper medallions with the central one.

Virtue, throned, in white and green, holds a white branch.
Caritas.

Commandment. Non facies tibi sculptile neque adorabis deos alienos.

1. Centre. The Nativity. The Virgin in bed in front, her head to L., points with L. hand, and leans her head on her R. hand. Above her are turrets. In the centre, Christ swaddled lies in the manger, cross-nimbed: behind are the ox and ass. On R. Joseph seated, head on R. hand, stick in L. hand, not nimbed. Above, the star: at top, two demi-angels, probably holding the star.

Inscription (on the circular frame):

Nascitur eternus, virgo parit, ordo supernus

Pangit, arabsque uehit: nuncia stella preit.

2, 3. Half-circles: two kneeling men with hands joined.

4. Top L. "Daniel's" vision of the stone cut without hands. Daniel asleep in a green bed, his head under a crocketed niche with a finial: head on hand, to L. In the centre, in air, a square block inscribed lapis angularis. On R. a rock, Regnum iudaicum.

Inscriptions: (a) in margin: Daniel: and Daniele ii cap°.

(b) in border:

Cernit per visum daniel de rupe recisum

Absque manu lapidem: deus est et non lapis idem.

5. Top R. The Burning Bush. Moses, horned, on L., stands with his R. foot raised, and takes off his shoe: his R. hand is raised. On R. a green bush with flames, Rubus. On it a disc, with the head of Christ cross-nimbed.

Inscriptions : (a) in margin : Moyses : and : Exodo iii cap°.

(b) in border :

Misticus ille rubus non sensit in igne calorem

Sic non amisit pariendo maria pudorem.

6. Bottom R. Aaron's rod. A turreted arch on L. : under it a green altar, behind which is a green leaved tree, virga aaron. On R. is Moses pointing : three Jews behind him, surprised.

Inscriptions : (a) in margin : Numeri xvij cap°.

(b) in border :

Virga nucem fert uirgo ducem natura superna (? stupescit)

In ierico fructu deico crucis uua rubescit.

7. Bottom L. Two prophets (Balaam and Daniel), one with scroll points up : the other points up and down, and looks back to L.

Inscriptions : (a) in margin : Numerorum xxiiii c°. Daniele ix cap°.

The book was evidently written for the College Chapel: the arms of the College are in the first initial. The initials throughout are remarkable: some contain shields, and a few, figures. There are two styles of initial, one being the ordinary style of the illumination of the period, with fluid gold and natural flowers, very carefully done, and of a foreign aspect; the other style is that of the ornamental penman.

I have noted the following initials:

1. f. 1 b. Arms of Eton College.
2. ff. 33 b, 34 a. Initials to a Salve Regina in nine parts: the initials shew nine choirs of angels with scrolls, on which the names of the nine orders are written: the angels do not differ in form or attributes from each other: they are thus distributed:

f. 33 b .	f. 34 a .
Seraphyn, Quatriplex.	Troni, Medius.
Cherubyn, Triplex.	Principatus, Secundus contratenor.
Dominationes, Primus contratenor.	Virtutes, Inferior contratenor.
Potestates, Tenor.	Archangeli, Secundus bassus.
Angeli, Primus bassus.

On the lower margin of f. 34 a are these lines, which explain how the music was to be sung:

Antiphona hec christi laudem sonat atque marie
Et decus angelicis concinit ordinibus
Qui sunt angeli erunt archangeli et ordo sequetur
Virtutum—que potestatum, tunc principat alter
Post domina-que-tiones adde tronos cheruhynque
Et seraphyn junges qui loca summa tenent.

- f. 36 b. In an initial are the words Robertus Wylkykson cuius anime propicietur deus.
- ff. 64 b, 65 a. Four shields in the initials to an anthem by Davy, O domine celi terrequē.
 - Arms of England.
 - Arms of the Confessor.
 - Arms of Magdalen College, Oxford.
 - Sable a fess or between three stags' heads coupéd argent, two and one.

At the end of the anthem is:

hanc antiphonam composuit Ricardus Davy uno die collegio Magdalene Oxoniis.

- f. 47 b. A large initial, gold ground, to an anthem by W. Lambe. S. John Baptist, with scroll ecce agnus dei: a lamb on a book by him.
- f. 50 a. Arms of Eton College.

The stave is of 5 lines.

There are two remarkable indices to the book, one at each end; the second is an incomplete replica of the first, which I here transcribe:

One of the anthems has the word regali written by it.

On the verso of the last leaf is the Creed set to music and divided among the Twelve Apostles, by Robertus Wylkynson. The following couplet is written below it:

huius distinctas muse tot sumite partes margine quot paruo nomina scripta uides.

The second index goes down to Virgo templum trinitatis.

I add the Christian names of the composers as they appear in various parts of the book, at the beginnings of the several compositions.

1. Willelmus Horwud.
2. Ricardus Davy.
3. Willelmus Cornysch.
4. Johannes Browne.
5. Walterus Lambe.
6. Johannes Sutton (p. 50 a: Eton arms in the initial).
7. Nicholaus Howchyn.
8. Robertus Feyrfax.
9. Ricardus Hygons.
10. Johannes Hampton.
11. Gilbertus Banester.
12. Edmundus Turges.
13. Hugo Kellyk.
14. Robertus } Wylkynson.
15. Johannes }

Of these names nos. 2, 3, 4, 8, 11, and probably others, are well known to musicians: they occur in a MS. once belonging to Ralph Thoresby of Leeds (Cat. MSS. Angl. ii. p. 229, no. 7573).

Similar MSS. exist at Caius College, Cambridge, and Lambeth Palace.

Compositions by some of these authors are printed in Stafford Smith's Musica Antiqua.

179.

BIBLIA SACRA.

Uterine vellum, 6 × 4, ff. 542, in double columns. Cent. xiii., xiv. In a minute hand, Anglo-Norman. In an English binding of cent. xvii.

Contents :

The following points in the order and contents of the volume are worth noting :

Esdras i = Ezra.

Neemias ii = Nehemiah.

Esdras iii = 4 (or 2) Esdras i, ii, often called 5 Esdras, part 1.

It is divided into chapters as follows :

c. i.	Liber esdre prophete,	i. 1	of our chapters.
ii.	Quid tibi faciam iacob,	i. 24	„
iii.	Hec dicit deus, Ego eduxi,	ii. 1	„
iiii.	Hec dicit deus ad esdram,	ii. 10	„
v.	Ego esdras accepi,	ii. 33	„

Esdras iiiii = 3 (or 1) Esdras.

Esdras v = 4 (or 2) Esdras ii.-xiv.

Esdras vi = 4 (or 2) Esdras xv., xvi., or 5 Esdras, part 2.

The MS. is not included in the late Professor Bensly's list of English MSS. containing 4 Esdras.

The Psalter is followed by two prologues, (a) Cum omnes prophetas, (b) David filius Iesse, and by orationes, secreta, commemorations and post-communions.

The running-titles of Wisdom and Ecclesiasticus are interchanged. In the New Testament the Acts follow the Catholic Epistles.

The Interpretationes Nominum begin on f. 518.

The following figured initials occur :

1. Genesis. An I divided into six trefoil-headed compartments with blue grounds.
 - (1) Christ holds a scroll inscribed fiat, and a globe marked Asia, Africa, Europa, and surrounded by CELVN.
 - (2) Christ with scroll, fiat firmamentum.
 - (3) „ „ germinet terra herb.
 - (4) „ „ fiant luminaria.
 - (5) „ „ producant aque reptil. : birds and fish on R.
 - (6) „ „ man, woman and beasts on R.
- 1 Regum. A good decorative initial.
2. Psalterium. Beatus uir. David sits cross-legged, playing his harp.
3. Parabola. Solomon holding a scroll.
Mattheus. A good decorative initial with dragon.
4. ad Romanos. Paul seated, writing.

On the fly-leaf at the end is a faint note of cent. xv.:

Ista biblia sunt (or sac...) magistri canapede doctore quem emebat apud hereford pro iii^{li} vi* iij^d.

E. MSS.

At the beginning :

Jo. Walter 1625 ; and an erased note.

Also :
