

Leicester, Oct. 10/74

Dear Frank G.

I am very glad to find that the sorrowful thing in M<sup>r</sup>. Fiske's letter does not relate to himself personally. I had feared that he was more ill, & perhaps about to be laid up again. He had already named to me the fate of Dr. Whitcomb's "Liberator"! I think it must have been the result of accident, & not intention. For the Dr. is not a fool by any means, & his wife was a woman of uncommon sense. They were both early, firm, & uncompromising Abolitionists; & I shall be very slow to believe that they deliberately parted with the Lib.<sup>r</sup> as "waste paper". In either <sup>or any</sup> case, the loss is the ~~same~~ <sup>same</sup>, - & to the last degree vexatious. I am glad he got 30 new works from Brooklyn. -

I am extremely glad to hear of Gerrit Smith's contribution of his own Anti-Slavery Collection! That is a fine addition, indeed; & Mr. Fiske is a real book-enthusiast, & a model librarian.

Some time (not very long) ago I was talking with E. Q. about Cornell, & its Antisl. library. I remember he spoke doubtfully about its permanency,
but he, evidently to me, had only very general impressions about it; & he appeared not to have known of some facts
wh. I gave him of Mr. Cornell's management of the Cornell fund, and of its really "great expectations" in that regard, & solid ones too. Still, after what you tell me, I should not urge applying to him.
I was not quite clear, before, that it was best to do so.

I thank you for Mr. F.'s letters,
& return them herewith.

Truly Yrs. S. May Jr.