A similar meeting had been held in Philadelphia son the constitutional right of slave property, and the consequent duties respectively enforced on all citizens of the union to they distinctly disslaim any and all right to interfere directly or indirectly with the subject of slavery in the southern states, and that any action upon it by them would be a bold violation of the constitution and a presumptuous infraction of the rights of the south'-but they courteously aver that cheerfully leave the right of legislating or acting on the subject to those more immediately concerned in the south; that the abolition societies and publications are calculated to stlect the peace and permanence of the union; that should any revolt occur at any time among the slaves, the young men of the north are ready to join the southern citizens shoulder to shoulder, and prove by the ready sacrifice of their blood their devotion to the peace and rights of all parts of our beloved union; and they recommended legal measures to be adopted by Pennsylvania and the other nonslavehold. ing states against any antislavery movements within their borders. A committee of correspondence was then appointed to communicate these resolutions in the southern states,

We are glad to see on this committee the names of most of the young gentlemen who act as editors of the Philadelthis papers-Robert T Conrad, Robert Morrie, Louis A Codev, John H Frick, Joseph C Nea!, and Robert T Bick-I, Esqs,-all intelligent and respectable citizens.

The Louisiana Advertiser has again appeared; and it i ear 1 'ly to be hoped that all attacks against the press, and amo gleditors on any topies calculated to excite illfeeling among any portion of our population, will be prompt'y discountenanced in future. None are lessidesirous of giving offence than we are, to any class or set of men; none more pained to find the liberty of the press degenerate into licentiousness, or perceive its freedom tortured into the subser_ vency of unjust, ungenerous or unworthy purposes.

Let us earnestly trust that all parts and residents of the city shall hereafter be united for the peace and prosperity $\sigma_{\underline{a}}^{\dagger}$ all. In union and frarmony, courtery and conciliation rea our strength and our safety. Let the faubourgs act in conjunction with the city proper—those speaking the American language with those using the French—and native Americans act cordisally, and confidently with naturalized citizens, as joint heirs of the same privileges and rights; and the happiness of all citizens in general, and the prosperity of the happiness of all citizens in general, and the prosperity of the city will be mutually promoted. This union must be presented. We have no other desire—no other object.
