REMARKS.

The Selectmen herewith present their annual report, of the expenditures of the town, pursuant to the requirements of the By-Laws, for which orders have been drawn on the Town Treasurer, for the year ending January 31st, 1887.

We have endeavored to keep the payments within the appropriations, and have done so with a few exceptions. On the highways there are several bills unpaid for work done by Johnson and Nugent in cleaning up the trenches over the water pipes, which were in bad shape. This work we were expecting would be done by the Water Commissioners, but their money failed them, and if it was not done the town was liable for damage, so we ordered it done, but did not pay for it from the highway money, for we needed it all, and more if we had it, for the streets are in a worse condition than they were ten years ago under the old surveyor system. Therefore, we have asked for five hundred dollars more the present year, which will be a small allowance.

Mr. Atwood has one month's salary remaining unpaid. This, together with Johnson and Nugent's bills, will be laid before the voters at the annual town meeting, and can be paid from money remaining in the treasury.

We hope citizens will be better pleased with our doings this year than last. We certainly are in thinking that we have done the best we could with the money entrusted to us. You will see by the Treasurer's report, financially, we are in better condition than last year.

We congratulate the town on having a solid watering trough—called by some, “solid folly”—but we call it solid comfort for man and beast.

The amount in the hands of the Treasurer, which, if our debts were paid, would be reduced to about $2,500, comes from the following sources :

Amount in treasury, June 31, 1886 ; balance of appropriations unexpended ; Bank and Corporation tax ; overlays ; school fund ; non-resident poor, etc.

ILLEGAL SELLING OF LIQUORS.

At the last annual meeting, on recommendation of this Board, the sum of $500 was appropriated, and it was voted that the Selectmen appoint an agent to attend to the same, and prevent, if possible, the violation of the law. The two prominent temperance societies were notified that if they would select a man who would be satisfactory to them, he would be chosen by this Board. They made choice of Mr. W. E. Rhoads for this position, and he was appointed with full power to take such action as he saw fit. The Selectmen recommend that the sum of $500 be appropriated from the treasury, and that the same vote be passed in regard to the agent.

The Fire Department, which a few years ago was said to be our most expensive luxury, is now in good condition, as will be seen by the report of the Board of Engineers. The appropriation asked for the whole Department for the current year by the Engineers being the same in amount as two of the Board of Water Commissioners received as their salary the past year.

The taxes were high, but it will be very easy to make them higher. Please bear this in mind when raising money at our next annual meeting.

Norwood, February 17, 1887.

REPORT OF THE ENGINEERS OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

TO THE HONORABLE, THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF NORWOOD—

GENTLEMEN:—During the year ending February 1st, 1887, the Department has been called out to fires five times, as follows :

April 17, woods near house of Edwin Talbot ; loss $50. Cause unknown.

May 8, house of John Cavanaugh ; loss slight. Cause, overheated chimney.

October 24, woods near house of Mrs. M. Clay, Winter street. loss $20. Cause unknown.

November 10, unoccupied house of F. W. Bird on Pleasant street ; loss $50. Cause unknown.

December 7, Geo. H. Morrill & Co., printing ink manufacturers ; loss $400, no insurance. Cause unknown.

The Reservoirs.

The reservoirs are in good condition, except those that have been damaged by frost, and those are about half full, and probably will never be used, as they are all in the water district.

Hydrants.

There are 81 hydrants in town, including 11 private ones. The private ones are owned by the following parties, and located as follows :

5 at Winslow Bros' tannery.

5 at N. Y. & N. E. car shops.

1 at Lyman Smith's Sons' tannery.

All hydrants belonging to the town are in good condition, except a few which are located in low ground where water remains and prevents their dripping. We would recommend that these be taken up and plugged, then they can be pumped out to prevent their freezing.

Hose.

The Department now has 2,850 feet of good reliable hose, and 500 feet of unreliable.

Hook and Ladder Truck, No. 1.

This truck is in first class condition.

Hose Carriages.

Hose carriage No. 1 is in good condition.

Hose carriage No. 2 is in first class condition.

Engines.

These engines are in good serviceable condition, and are kept in reserve for service outside of the water district.

Re-organization.

The Department was reorganized August 1st. It now consists of forty-five men, divided as follows :

Hook and Ladder Truck, 15 men.

Washington Hose Company No. 1, 15 men.

America Hose Company No. 2, 15 men.

Doing away with the services of 50 men.

Remarks.

We think that the citizens of Norwood are to be congratulated on the small number of fires and losses for the past year.

The department is now in a prosperous condition, and, with the water system, we feel competent to cope with any fire that is likely to occur.

We would recommend that a sufficient amount of money be raised and appropriated to build a house large enough to keep the Hook and Ladder truck, hose carriage and hose wagon in, with a tower fifty feet high to dry hose ; also, to repair engine houses.

We would recommend that the sum of $1,500 be raised and appropriated for the Fire Department the coming year.

Report of Cemetery Commissioners.

The Commissioners of Highland Cemetery, in submitting their annual report, only call attention once more to the ordinary results of another year of service.

While there have been no extensive improvements, yet considerable wild land has been dug over, new paths constructed, trees planted, and the whole grounds kept in good repair. It is believed that the Cemetery never presented a more attractive appearance. It is gratifying to mention the increasing interest manifested by lot owners in the maintenance and adornment of these sacred burial places. While the graves are newly made, and memories of the departed are fresh and tender in the minds and hearts of relatives and friends, this is to be expected. But when the years have gone by, and our friends, in their turn, have each been laid away to sleep until the morning, and the former dead are forgotten, then who will care for our graves—to clip the sods, to remove the weeds, and plant flowers above them?

It is expected that the town will continue to provide for the general support of the grounds; that the avenues will be gravelled, the lawns mown, and the garden plots kept in bloom. But who will maintain the individual lots? It is certainly wise and proper that opportunity should be given to any person who may desire to contribute funds to secure this perpetual care for their burial lots. The Commissioners, therefore, earnestly recommend that the town be authorized to receive and to hold in trust such funds as may be donated for the perpetual maintenance of such lots in the Highland Cemetery as may be designated by the donors.

It is reckoned that the sum of one hundred dollars will yield a sufficient income to secure this object.

Already some have certified their desire to thus provide, and it is hoped that the town will act promptly in this matter.

The Commissioners have conferred with a special committee concerning setting off a part of Highland Cemetery for the use of the Catholic population of the town, and having duly considered the matter, have submitted plans which show the proposed lot, and a sketch for laying out the same, which will be presented to the town for action. If accepted, a small appropriation will be needed to open up a few burial lots for early use.

Accompanying this is a statement of receipts and payments of the year.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Trustees regret that, in preparing the Catalogue, they found it necessary to close the library for so long a time; but, with the means at their disposal, they were forced to do a large share of the labor themselves. The Rev. Messrs. Mendell, Keirn and Barrows spent a large amount of time in its preparation; and Mr. Atwood, in reading, comparing, and correcting proof. Messrs. T. O. Metcalf & Co., printers, were much the lowest bidders, and are to be congratulated for the workmanlike manner in which their part was performed. Fifteen hundred copies were printed; seven hundred and fifty copies were bound in paper covers, and seven hundred and fifty are folded and remain in sheets, so that additions can be made at any time.

From the Financial Statement it will be seen that but few books have been added to the library by purchase during the year. J. C. Lane, Esq., made a very handsome donation to the library of eighteen volumes of new and very choice reading, and it would be pleasing to the patrons of the library if others would do likewise. The number of persons who have availed themselves of the use of the library since it was re-opened is 639, showing in what estimation it is held by our citizens.

Remembering that books are our chief instructors, we would ask that your appropriation for the coming year might be as liberal as in the past.

Respectfully submitted by

FRANCIS TINKER,

SCHOOL ❁ COMMITTEE'S

❁ REPORT. ❁

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

School Committee for 1886-7.

The actual expenses of the schools for the year ending January 31st came within the appropriation, $,8600. There have been no extraordinary expenditures, with the exception of the introduction of water to the East School House, amounting to less than $75,00. The question has been asked why we did not put the town water into the Balch and North houses. Our reply is, that so long as the good filtered cistern water supplied to each of these buildings seemed to satisfy every need, we have not felt justified in making any expensive change.

An apparent overrunning of our appropriation is explained by the use of a small portion of our funds in the exigency caused by the damage done to the highways at the time of the great freshet.

Near the close of the year, Mr. Atwood and two of the lady teachers were prevented from drawing their salaries by a "mesne process," supposed to be legal, but which proved to be a mistake on the part of a certain book agent, who undertook to compel them to pay for what they had not received. A portion of the money thus withheld, and lying in the treasury, was spent to pay flood damages, and the released teachers had to be paid from this year's appropriation.

For the ensuing year we desire $300.00 additional for incidentals, hoping to be able, out of that sum, to paint one or more of the school houses, which may appear most to need it. We know of nothing else which may necessitate any extra draft upon the funds granted for school purposes. For the purchase of school books we have asked for the same sum as last year, $500.00. If we do not need the whole amount, the balance will remain in the treasury and will be available for other purposes.

The present methods of teaching reading and language, and some other branches, require a good many supplementary books. Teachers demand them in order to do their work as well and thoroughly as it is done in other towns. The School Committee, when their judgment recognizes any need of this kind, feel that they ought to furnish such books. Authors and publishers are flooding the State with a great multiplicity of such promised helps; and they have such an eye to their business, that they put as little matter as possible in the books issued, and spread out through three, four, or five editions, what ought to be contained in one or two. The free school book law encourages that way of business, and while it works favorably for the benefit of the schools, it puts a much greater responsibility upon committees, and a heavier tax upon the citizen.

Changes of Teachers.

During the year Miss Helen Chandler resigned to take a school in Quincy, a situation nearer her home and yielding a larger salary. Miss Helen E. Manley, from Brockton, a graduate of the Bridgewater State Normal School, who had had some years' experience in teaching, was engaged for the Third Department. At the close of the summer term, Miss Fannie R. Waterman, assistant in the First Department, resigned, and the vacancy was filled by the engagement of Miss Sarah D. Noyes, a graduate of the four years' course at Bridgewater, and whose services have been very satisfactory to the Committee, and also to the Principal.

Condition of the Schools.

In judging the quality of a term, or a year's work, two factors are to be taken into account: The quality of the teacher, and the quality and disposition of the scholars. The good teacher always does good work; but it shows less upon the indolent, irregular and mischievous than upon the attentive and obedient ones. Personal qualities of character are the first element of successful teaching. But, in every school, there is a certain per cent. who antagonize these qualities, and break up the unity of the teacher's work. They exhaust her patience and weary her body. Needing education above all others, they repel it the most effectually. The success of a school, even with the best teacher, is what can be accomplished in spite of its ten or twenty per cent. of bad pupils. The teacher who cannot control and mold this adverse element, suffers in reputation, although gifted with every requisite accomplishment. All men may be created equal; but all school children are not equal in their love of school, nor in mental and moral receptivity. And so long as such is the fact, our schools will suffer from them more or less—as will the School Committee from the complaints and harsh criticisms of their parents. Such children need the benefits of our schools more than any other class; and teachers and committees must bear with them, and seek to do them all the good in their power. But the friends of the public schools should take this element into consideration, when disposed to deprecate the little that seems to be accomplished by them.

A fair estimate of the condition and work of our twelve schools shows that good progress has been made, and the result of the year, as apparent in every pupil desirous and capable of improvement, is encouraging and commendable. Our teachers are intellectually and morally qualified. They attend teachers' conventions, visit the best schools in the vicinity, read the Journal of Education, and are up with the times, feeling a proper pride in their success and reputation. In the five first primaries, they take children of five and six years of age, and in a short time teach them to write, to read words and sentences at sight, to give the elementary sounds of the letters, to count, to connect members with things, and names with the objects they represent, to spell all the words they use in school, to read music and to sing by note. This is a good deal to do, and do systematically, in the short time allotted for it; but it is done. This good beginning is followed, in the second primaries, on the same system, by a higher grade of work, geography and primary arithmetic being added—the reading of stories, the spelling and meaning of words, and every idea explained by objects corresponding, so that if a child reads about the growing plant, the unfolding leaf or the falling rain, these processes are shown, and he knows the truth of the statement in the book before him. The teachers are able and glad to do this. As the pupils go into the higher grades, the same process and general system are continued. Geography is taught by map drawing; arithmetic by black-board analysis, every rule and method being fully explained; language lessons are given in the most practical way; reading is taught in all grades, after the conversational method, and spelling by use of slate or copy-book. The old school house tone has gone for good, and choice pieces are read with ability and correct taste. All our scholars have this same system constantly before them, and drilled into them, in every room, for ten consecutive years, repeating it over and over until they are supposed to be qualified to enter the highest department, where they are ready to take up Latin, French, Algebra, Natural Philosophy, History, Geometry and English Literature, spending, if they will, four years more under teachers only too glad to help them. With all this at their command, it must be largely their own fault if pupils graduate with a feeble and defective education. If they were hungry for knowledge, and desired to help themselves, or if their parents sufficiently prized the great boon of such a course of training, and realized how much it is worth to the working man, we should have only thanks, instead of complaints.

School Accommodations.

The schools, many of them, have been overcrowded during portions of the year, and are likely to be for the year to come. When the town is able, and gets ready, we should like a high school building, large enough to accommodate sixty pupils of that grade. That would complete our school system, stimulate education, and add much to the character and stability of the town. We shall not urge this any further in this report, as a committee was chosen last Spring to consider the need of more school room, and whose report and recommendations will be read at the coming March meeting. The School Committee, according to law, have power to exclude children from the schools until they are much above five years of age, which would be a temporary relief. They never yet have exercised this power, but may be obliged to do so while the town is getting ready to give us more room. In fact, it would be better for children not to attend school at so early an age. Health suffers, and they gain nothing over those who enter at seven or eight years of age.

Music in the Schools.

In this branch we have made steady improvement since it was introduced about seven or eight years ago. Mrs. E. T. Mitchell resigned her position as music teacher at the end of the summer term. She had done much to render the experiment a success, and the schools and Committee were sorry to lose her services.

But they were fortunate in being able to secure the services of Mr. F. N. Cottle, a gentleman who had thoroughly prepared himself for teaching the art of music. He has succeeded in adapting himself to the various ages and capacities in the several grades, and in awakening a new and deeper interest in this delightful and important branch of education. His labors are well received by the teachers, and they co-operated with him to the extent of their time and ability.

Government in the Schools.

We meet with some, but not with a great deal, of trouble in the matter of school discipline. Corporal punishment is used slightly, but not to any great extent. None have been expelled during the past year for misconduct. We may say of our schools, what is said in the Report of the Supervisors of the Boston schools on this topic. Their remarks are worthy the consideration of every teacher and parent in Massachusetts.

“No change in the schools during the last ten years is more evident than the change in the method of governing them. A principal, if he is strong in moral forces and has good judgment, is the most potent factor in the government of his school. His assistants, influenced more or less by his personal power and his authority, will, if strong and sensible, execute his plans in the spirit in which they were formed, and, if weak, will do at least in a mechanical way what seems to be wanted. The interests of principal and assistants become the same. With such a principal and corps of teachers a school does its work with the least waste and friction. Most of its instructors govern while teaching, and, greatly interested in accomplishing the objects of the school, unconsciously carry along their pupils with them. Now they make a suggestion, or bestow a word of praise, or kindly administer a censure; but, whatever they do, they keep in mind the good of their pupils and the ends to be reached. The pupils learn to value excellence, and to strive for it, at first because their teachers value it, and, later, for its own sake. This is no ideal sketch. The form of school government just described is the best, and, therefore, must prevail, and other forms radically wrong must give way to it. If, in consequence of some false notion, or unpropitious circumstances, or weakness in the administration and in the teaching force of a school, the principle of fear is made to take so prominent a place that the pupils aim to avoid punishment rather than to seek for excellence, the government of the school becomes hard and severe, and though efficient in the present, does not give promise of good conduct in the future. If, instead of fear, emulation be appealed to in unnatural ways, and to the partial or entire exclusion of the higher principles of human nature, the government of the school may appear to be excellent, but this result is secured at the risk of discouraging or rendering indifferent a part of the pupils, and of leading all to form the narrow and selfish habit of working for rank instead of excellence. The fear of punishment as a motive in the class room is used far less than formerly; and emulation is now largely left to its natural and healthful action."

The teachers need physical strength and moral power to govern without seeming to govern. They need, also, the considerate help and co-operation of the parents. They never punish because they love to, but only from dire necessity.

Conclusion.

The above comprehends all the facts and considerations your Committee deem it necessary to lay before you in this report. We know you have the best interests of our public schools at heart, and that you are willing to co-operate with us in rendering them as efficient as possible. Hoping that you will caudidly read and weigh what we have submitted, we subscribe ourselves

✧ NORWOOD WATER WORKS, ✧

SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF WATER COMMISSIONERS

1887.

NORWOOD :

ADVERTISER AND REVIEW JOB PRINT.

1887.

REPORT.

The Water Commissioners submit the following account and statement of work done, and the condition of the Water Works during the year 1886. The town, at a meeting held May 26, 1886, accepted the supplementary act, authorising the further issue of bonds to the amount of $25,000, and voted to issue the same, and to authorize the Water Commissioners to apply the same to extending the main pipes wherever a guarantee of income equalled six per cent. of the cost of doing so was given. Acting under this authority, the Board have laid, under contract with J. T. Langford, 227 feet of eight inch, 17,275 1-2 feet of six inch, 5,766 feet of four inch, and a few sections of smaller pipe on cross streets. The total length of street mains laid, including these smaller sections and the forcemain line, now amounts to 12 2-10 miles. Total number of fire hydrants set and in condition for use by the Fire Department is 81.

Settlements for land taken from Clay estate, and for rights of way across the property of Nathaniel Noyes, in West Dedham, have been made, and the proper deeds and papers are in possession of the Board. For the former, the sum of $800 was paid, that amount being the award made by three referees to whom the matter was left out. For the latter, the sum of $500 was paid in full for all claims, and perpetual right of way to lay and maintain such lines of water pipes as may be necessary for the uses of the town of Norwood.

The number of applications for water entered on the books of the Board is 263, of which 255 have been connected with the street mains and are using water.

The receipts from the sale of water to the consumers supplied up to the present time, will be for the year 1887 very nearly $4,000, and should there be many additional takers the coming season, the gross receipts will exceed that sum. It is certainly a matter of satisfaction that the income from the direct sale of water should be, the second year after its introduction, sufficient to meet the entire interest charge on the loan of $100,000.

The cost of maintenance the past year has been—

Salary of Engineer,	$1,000 00
Fuel, oil and repairs,	720 47
Taxes, Town of Dedham,	136 46
Which includes six months fuel on hand,	$1,856 93

There is due the town and uncollected—

For water rates,	$ 13 50
“ service pipes,	102 56
	$116 06

The balance sheet, statement of cost, and estimate of property on hand in the service pipe department, will furnish other interesting information.

A further test of the pumping machinery was made under Engineer Blake's direction, April 2 and 3, 1886, with the result of obtaining a duty of 64 63-100 millions foot pounds, or 17 1-2 per cent. excess over the original guarantee of 55,000,000. The detailed records of this test, certified by Mr. Blake, are in the office of the Board, and all balances due the contractors have been paid to them.

Our source of supply, Buckmaster Pond, has shown the effects of pumping to a comparatively limited extent, the lowest water recorded being but 14 3-4 inches below its former summer level. The greatest average daily consumption was during August, when 137,725 gallons were required to supply the consumers.

Total amount of water pumped during 1886 was 24,306,724 gallons, requiring 40 tons of coal, which included starting and banking fires.

The Board believes that the works are in good condition throughout, and that due credit should be given to Mr. Langford for his substantial work in the street mains; to Mr. Bucknam, for his careful management of the pumping plant and other portions of the works. We further believe that the entire project will become wholly self-sustaining in a short time, and in all probability a source of net income to the town within the next five years.

Respectfully submitted,

The foregoing statement will show what money has been received, and how it has been expended. At the end of the year, February 1st, there remained a surplus of uncollected bills amounting to $116.06 ; nearly all of this has since been collected. This, with the first half-yearly collection of water rates, about $1,500.00, is the amount that will be at the disposal of the Water Commissioners, it will be ample to pay all maintainance expenses, and put in service pipe that is liable to be needed. As the season advances, there will probably be applications for extension of mains, and the Commissioners, not having funds at their disposal, will be unable to make such extensions without the action of the town, and appropriations for the same.

One word in regard to the fire service with the engines and hose already provided. The town is well protected within the limits of the water service, which will extend 1,500 feet in all directions from the outside hydrants.

The Commissioners wish to draw your attention to the fact that the hydrant, or fire service, is the largest single item of expense connected with the laying of the water service, and should be accredited to the same. In other towns it is usual to allow so much per hydrant, showing an income from the service. If we were allowed the same privilege, our financial report would be greatly improved, and the future would show the works self-supporting. This is but justice.
