Red Troops in Ruhr Area Resist German Forces Only Weakly

News Via Dutch Channels Says General Advance of Berlin Government Troops Successful; Red Soldiers Not Heeding Their Leaders.

The Hague, April 3.—The general advance of the German Government troops along the entire front against the insurgent forces in the Ruhr and neighboring industrial regions which began Friday morning has been successful, according to well-informed Dutch sources. The right wing of the advancing troops forced the Reds to retreat across the Testerberg and the Government forces already have penetrated Hamberg; the advices state.

At the centre of the front the Government troops have taken Recklinghausen, thirteen miles northwest of Essen, driving the Reds before them, while the left wing is advancing from Hamm westward.

The resistance of the Red army, which is reported not under the control of its leaders, is said to have been generally weak. The leaders, the Dutch accounts state, are Germans for the most part, but only a few of them are professional officers. The number of Russians is declared to be insignificant.

Companies of the Red army have been named after prominent Russians and other extremists, bearing such names as "Company Lenin," "Company Trotsky" and "Company Karl Liebknecht."

Strike Called Off. Copenhagen, April 3.—Decision to call off the general strike in the entire Ruhr industrial region was reached at a plenary session of the executive council of the district yesterday, according to a dispatch from Essen.

It will be renewed, however, if the Berlin Government fails to fulfill obligations entered into with the workers.

San Diego Will Welcome Prince. British Heir Apparent Will Deliver Address There Next Wednesday

San Diego, Cal., April 3.—Announcement that the Prince of Wales, who is expected to arrive here next Wednesday en route to Australia, will deliver a public address here, was contained in wireless advices received to-day from the commander of the battleship Kenona, on which the Prince is proceeding up the Pacific coast from the Panama Canal.

The Prince will be met on the Renown here by a committee including Robert Wood Bliss, representing President Wilson; Governor M. D. Stephens, of California, and Mayor Louis J. Wilde, of San Diego. The party will go to the United States dreadnought New Mexico, flagship of Admiral Hugh Rodman, for luncheon.

After a short sightseeing trip the Prince will go to the Stadium. The evening programme includes an informal dinner to be given by Mayor Wilde, and a ball at the Hotel de Coronado.

For Thursday no set programme has been arranged. According to the announced plan the Renown will steam from the harbor late that day.

Liquor Houses to Close April 30. Fourteen Export Houses in Ontario Are Given Month's Grace

Toronto, April 3.—The fourteen export liquor houses in Ontario whose licenses expired on March 31 and which, according to a Government statement will not be renewed, will stay open until April 30. On the long distance telephone at his home in Lindsay, J. D. Flavell, chairman of the Ontario Liquor License Board, in confirming the report, said that the reason for the action of the Government in allowing the liquor houses another month was to enable them to get rid of the stock they have at present on hand and which the liquor men claimed they took in good faith. The Government has no intention of going any further than this, Mr. Flavell stated, or helping in any other way.

The houses to be closed include eight in Kenora, one in Rainy River, one in Fort Frances, one in Brighouse, one in Ottawa and two in Toronto.

The first big lot of delegates arrived this afternoon from Seattle. All boats arriving to-morrow will be taken chiefly by Rotarians. Electrical decorations of the Parliament Buildings and the Empress Hotel were completed to-day. Workmen have been busy all day lining the main streets of the city with colored streamers, stretching from light standard to light standard.

Practically every store has special Rotary window decorations. Capt. T. J. Goodlake, opened the last of a batch of telegrams this afternoon to-day, in his office as secretary of the Victoria Rotary Club, leaned back in his chair and lit a cigarette.

"It's just like an armistice after the war, with the peace conference towards which we've all been working for the last two months, beginning on Monday," said the captain. "We are now beginning to see the results of our labors. All machinery is in perfect order and everything arranged for the opening and running of the greatest of Northwest Rotary gatherings."

Rotary headquarters were moved at noon from the Winch Building to the grill room of the Empress Hotel, where Capt. Goodlake and his staff will be installed night and day from now on. All delegates will report to this office where they will register, receive their badges and be taken to their hotels.

Many Arrived To-day. A few delegates have been drifting in during the last couple of days. A large number arrived from Seattle shortly after noon to-day. Among these were: Clayton M. Williams, of Everett, Rotary District Governor of the Pacific Northwest, and Mrs. Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, all of Tacoma; Mrs. and Mrs. W. M. Burns and M. G. Ramage, of Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moody, Mr. and Mrs. William Howard, of Everett. All of these arrivals are at the Empress Hotel.

Albert S. Adams of Atlanta, International Rotary President, accompanied by Mrs. Adams and their daughter, will arrive to-morrow from Seattle. Rotary Church Service. There is nothing on the Rotary programme for to-night. A number of private dinner and theatre parties have been planned, however.

D'ANNUNZIO STILL WOULD HAVE FIUME ANNEXED TO ITALY. Trieste, April 3.—Establishment of Fiume as an independent state would not mean the renunciation of annexation to Italy, according to a declaration made by the chief of Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio's Cabinet.

Warsaw, April 3.—(Associated Press)—Uneasiness in Finland over the Bolsheviki successes in the Far North is reported by the press. (This probably refers to the recent reported Russian Bolsheviki advance in the Murmansk region, between the White Sea and the Arctic.) The newspapers declare Finland is already considering military action against the Reds to prevent a Bolsheviki invasion.

Warsaw, April 3.—(Associated Press)—The Bolsheviki launched attacks yesterday on both sides of the river Dwina, apparently the beginning of their threatened drive on the northern front designed to carry them in the direction of Vilna. Fighting at various points on that front is reported in a Lithuanian communication to-day. One of the Lithuanian statements announces the repulse of a Bolsheviki attack in the region of Lake Ovela.

The fighting is reported particularly severe in the vicinity of De Dina, along the northern bank of the Dwina. Between Polock and Borisov, on the Beressina, a Polish communication announces a heavy attack by Red troops. The Poles counter-attacked, driving the Reds eastward. The newspapers also report a Polish success on the southern front in Podolia, announcing the capture of Bar, northeast of Kamonetz-Podolski, by the Poles.

Bolsheviki forces attacked the Polish line in the region of Lepel, east of Vilna and north of Borisov, on Thursday, but were repulsed, according to an official statement issued at army headquarters.

Great Throngs in Copenhagen March to the King's Palace. Copenhagen, April 3.—5 p. m.—(Associated Press)—Enormous crowds are gathering outside the Town Hall and forming into columns to march to the royal palace, Amalienborg Castle, carrying a resolution asking the King's help to prevent the calamity of a general strike.

ANHUI PROVINCE IN CHINA NOW IS SCENE OF FIGHTING. Amoy, China, April 3.—Two hundred soldiers were killed and many wounded in a meeting of the great oil centre of Amoy, according to a dispatch received here to-day. The fighting is continuing and the inhabitants are fleeing in terror, the dispatch adds.

BOLSHEVIK TRADE GROUP IN DENMARK. Commission Now There to Go to London; Perhaps to States. Copenhagen, April 3.—A Russian trade commission headed by Nognin, Minister of Commerce in the Lenin Cabinet, and Rosovsky, accompanied by twenty-four experts in trade and engineering, arrived here from Moscow yesterday. Nognin said that after a short stay in Denmark it was the intention of the commission to proceed to London, and perhaps later to the United States. It was the desire of the commission, he said, to get in touch with merchants and manufacturers in Allied countries and start trade between them and Russia as soon as possible.

"Ships already are loading at Petrograd with flax and other commodities," Nognin said, "and will sail as soon as the ice breaks. But our main raw materials, including grain, cannot be exported until we have an improved transport system. Locomotives Needed. "We propose to buy locomotives and rolling stock, paying for them to some extent in gold."

Nogen said there were many millions of pounds of grain in Russia, but that the peasants demanded in return for it goods and agricultural implements. He declared that the delegation contemplates offering concessions to foreigners for the establishment of manufactures in the mining regions of the Ural and Altai districts, and also to offer timber concessions, particularly in North Russia.

FROM 2,500 TO 3,200 ARMENIANS MISSING IN GERMANY. New York, April 3.—The International Commission in Constantinople has been informed of the disappearance of from 1,000 to 1,200 Armenian children and college students sent to Germany during the war to work in mines and factories, and 1,500 to 2,000 sent by the Turkish Ministry of Public Instruction to study can not be found, according to advices received here to-day by the Near East Relief Fund from its representatives in Constantinople.

WILSON'S ATTITUDE SHOCK TO TURKS. His Declaration They Should Leave Europe Surprise to Them. Constantinople, April 3.—Via London, April 3.—(Associated Press)—President Wilson's note to the Allies intimating that the Turks must get out of Europe came as a shock to all Turkish parties.

Mr. Wilson's note appeared in a slightly censored form which made the position of the United States seem harsher than it appeared in the full text of the communication. Greeks Displeased. The note was equally displeasing to the Greeks, who were much offended by the American President's apparent unwillingness to grant their claims to a large district about Smyrna and his insistence that Adrianople be given to the Bulgarians.

American business men here are apprehensive over the effect of the President's stand and there is considerable unbusiness as to the effect it will have in Asiatic Turkey, where 500 American-born teachers and other workers are considered to be in considerable danger if the protection of Turkish forces should be withdrawn.

VLADIKAVKAZ IN BOLSHEVIK HANDS. Reds Say They Hold Important Centre North of Tiflis. Constantinople, April 3.—Via London, April 3.—Vladikavkaz, an important military station and trading centre in Ciscaucasia, has been captured by the Russian Bolsheviki, according to advices received here.

Vladikavkaz is situated on the Terek River about ninety-five miles north of Tiflis. Its capture, to the west shore of the Caspian Sea, was reported this week, shows an advance of Bolsheviki troops toward the frontier of the Georgian Republic.

GARMANIA AT HALIFAX. Halifax, April 3.—The Cunard liner Garmania, which has a shipment of $10,000,000 in gold for New York, is expected to call here to-morrow evening from Liverpool.

MEAN TO PREVENT COAL PROFITTEERING. American Officials Are Moving Following Granting of Wage Increase. Washington, April 3.—Federal district attorneys were instructed to-day by Attorney-General Palmer to receive and consider complaints of profiteering in bituminous coal, which may arise in your district under the Lever Act.

Mr. Palmer's telegram was prepared after some bituminous coal operators had stated publicly that the new wage scale agreed on under the terms of the award by the Coal Strike Settlement Commission would result in an increase of from sixty cents to $1.25 a ton on coal. Pointing out that the total increase in wages had been estimated at approximately $200,000,000 a year, Mr. Palmer said that if this entire amount were added by the operators to the price, it would make an increase of only forty cents a ton.

Twenty cents. If, however, the operators should absorb the fourteen per cent increase which became effective in December, the Attorney-General, there would be left only $96,000,000 to be passed on to the consumer. In this event the increase in the price of coal at the mine should amount to twenty cents per ton.

Mr. Palmer said he understood operators had estimated the demand for export coal would be 100,000,000 tons, but that port facilities were only adequate for the export of 30,000,000 tons per annum. This, he said, should not be made an excuse for raising the price.

DELEGATION TO RUSSIA. Rome, April 3.—A Socialist delegation of twelve members will leave for Russia on April 20, it was announced here yesterday.

Many Houses in Limerick Searched; all Roads About Londonderry Patrolled; Disorders in Jail; Patrols Active in Vicinity of Dundalk.

Belfast, April 3.—In addition to pronounced military activity in the vicinity of Londonderry to-day all the roads about the town are being patrolled. The passengers who arrived by the Scotch boat at Londonderry were searched by the police. Meanwhile violent scenes were reported taking place among the Sinn Fein prisoners confined in Londonderry jail.

Unusual activity also was displayed by the authorities in Dundalk, midway between Belfast and Dublin, special patrols being posted at all approaches to the town. The drivers of motor cars, which vehicles were numerous on the roads because of the Easter activities, were required to produce their permits.

Automobiles Searched. London, April 3.—Armed troops were on duty along all roads leading to Londonderry last night, motor cars were minutely searched and drivers had to produce permits and declare their business, says Central News dispatch from Dublin. It is believed this military activity had something to do with rumors of an Easter uprising at Dublin.

SIR H. GREENWOOD CALLED COURAGEOUS. London Papers Comment on His Appointment as Irish Secretary. London, April 3.—(Canadian Press)—Sir Hamar Greenwood's appointment as Irish Chief Secretary meets with approval, newspaper comment being that he shows characteristic courage.

The Times says that he can have had little experience in Irish affairs as he was not even a member of the large Cabinet committee which drafted the Home Rule Bill. It continues: "If he takes to Ireland no other message of hope than the text of the present Home Rule Bill, he may find himself at bay. If, on the other hand, the Government is willing to profit by the constructive suggestions of Parliament during the committee stage and to amplify and improve its measure, then, and then only, will its representative in Ireland be enabled to present adequate credentials to the Irish people."

A Canadian. The Daily Telegraph reviews Sir Hamar Greenwood's Parliamentary record as being favorable for his assumption of his new office, and remarks further that he is a Canadian by birth, and in sympathy with Canadian principles of self-government.

The Morning Post declares that only Balfour and Walter Long emerged unbroken from the Chief Secretaryship, "both of whom succeeded because they refused to tolerate sedition or permit crime, and, so refusing, were supported by the Government."

VANCOUVER SUICIDE. Vancouver, April 3.—With a splash in the three and a half-foot razor by its side, the body of Mrs. W. J. Bruce was found in her home here to-day. She had been in poor health for some time. An inquest will be held.

Ohio City Hampered As Result of Deadlock Over Wages

Toledo, Ohio, April 3.—This city is again without street car service for the fourth time in less than four years. Following refusal of the City Council to ratify an agreement reached between Mayor Schreiber and officials of the Toledo Railway & Light Company providing for an increase in fares to take care of the wage demands calling for a maximum of sixty cents an hour, the men voted to strike.

All transportation ceased at 4 o'clock this morning, the cars being sent to the barns. There will be no attempt to operate them with a non-union men, officials of the company said.

More than 1,200 men are involved in the strike, which is being participated in also by street electrical workers and shopmen.

MONTEVIDEO IS

EXCITED BY DUEL

Beltran, Newspaper Editor, Killed by Former President Batlle

Montevideo, April 3.—Political excitement prevails in this city tonight as a result of the death of Washington Beltran, editor of the newspaper El País, in a duel with former President Jose Batlle y Ordaz this morning. After the last elections in Uruguay the Nationalists accused the Batllistas, the party headed by the former President, of fraud. Beltran's newspaper called Batlle "the champion of fraud." It was this utterance that led to the fatal duel.

The opponents met in the midst of a pouring rainstorm. Standing five paces apart, the duelists were given the word to fire, both missing on the first exchange. Before Beltran could fire a second shot he was struck by a bullet from Batlle's pistol and sank to the ground mortally wounded.

Apponyi, of Hungary, Thinks Allied Treaties Are Too Severe

Budapest, April 3.—Count Albert Apponyi, returning here from Paris for a conference with Admiral Horthy, Hungarian Regent, and party leaders, declared that the peace treaties between the Allies and the central empires were only temporary in nature. "My impression is," he said, "that no Allied statesman sincerely believes the present peace treaties can hold for long. I have not lost hope and believe the position of Hungary to be better than it was a month ago."

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years. Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E. I., writes: "Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GREENWOOD NEW IRISH SECRETARY

British Home Under-Secretary Appointed to Succeed Ian Macpherson

SIR HAMAR GREENWOOD

London, April 2.—The appointment of Sir Hamar Greenwood, Under-Secretary for Home Affairs, as Chief Secretary for Ireland was announced yesterday afternoon. Sir Hamar succeeds Rt. Hon. Ian Macpherson, who resigned Thursday. Frederick Kellaway, Secretary to the Minister of Munitions, will succeed Sir Hamar in the Overseas Trade Department. Macpherson has been appointed Minister of Pensions. Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, was born in Whitby, Ontario, Canada, in 1879, and received his education in Canada. He served in the war from 1914 to 1916, in the latter year becoming attached to the staff of Lord Derby, at that time the War Minister. Sir Hamar has represented the Sunderland constituency in the House of Commons since 1910. In January, 1919, he was appointed Under-Secretary for Home Affairs in Premier Lloyd George's Cabinet. He was created a baronet in 1915.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, is acquainted with this City. In 1911 he made a trip to this coast with his bride, and once since then he visited the coast on a health tour. Sir Hamar is one of the very few men who are barristers in three different parts of the Empire—Canada, Australia and the United Kingdom. He was called to the bar in all three countries. A brother, William Greenwood, is a resident of Vancouver.

New Viceroy?

London, April 3.—The Freeman's Journal, of Dublin, yesterday advanced the belief that Field-Marshal Viscount French would resign his post as Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland and that he would be succeeded by Lord Decies. The newspaper said Viscount French probably would go to Canada as Governor-General.

No Disorders.

A Dublin dispatch last evening said the situation in that city during the day had been normal. There was not the slightest sign of any Easter rising, rumors concerning the possibility of which recently became so general as to provoke questions on the subject in Parliament.

The resignation of Rt. Hon. James Ian Macpherson as Chief Secretary for Ireland did not cause a ripple of excitement in Dublin. Irishmen there regard Viscount French, the Viceroy, as solely responsible for the direction of affairs, and seem not to be interested in Mr. Macpherson's successor.

Some fears are entertained that there may be trouble in Cork when the result of the inquest into the death of the late Lord Mayor Mac Curtain is announced.

Letter From Premier.

The Lord Mayor of Dublin has received a letter from Premier Lloyd George, dated March 31, alluding to the impossibility of obtaining evidence in the ordinary way calculated to lead to the arrest of murderers, in the formidable campaign of terrorism menacing Ireland.

The letter says this fact places the executive under a great handicap because they do not desire to arrest guiltless persons.

The Prime Minister expresses the belief that the terrorist campaign is prompted largely by a desire to prevent a settlement of the Irish question by reason and goodwill, which he believes the only means for attaining unity and conciliation. He declares that the Government will not be deflected from what it believes the only course consistent with reason and common sense by "a ruthless and cruel campaign of assassination," but says he is "anxious to make as easy as possible the task of those endeavoring to carry on the administration of the country on reasonable lines, and if there are any means by which moderate men can be helped or encouraged to withstand or oppose the present campaign of intimidation so as to bring nearer a settlement of the Irish question, I will gladly cooperate in bringing them into effect."

Train Robbed.

London, April 3.—A dispatch from Dublin last evening said: Fifty armed men held up a train at Killybegs, near Limerick yesterday and escaped with £3,000. The money was to have been used to pay off workmen.

LADY SHAUGHNESSY GOES TO ENGLAND

St. John, N. B., April 3.—The Canadian Pacific Ocean Services liner Melita will sail for Liverpool this evening. It is expected she will have a large and distinguished passenger list. Among those sailing on her will be Lady Shaughnessy and the Hon. Marguerite Shaughnessy. A delegation to the world convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, London, also will sail on the vessel.

CONSTIPATION or COSTIVENESS

Constipation although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St., E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses." Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Miss Fletcher Is Old Fashioned

Miss S. Fletcher says she keeps house for her brother in a little town up the Coast. "I am quite old-fashioned in my ways, and many say they like the old ways of cooking. Perhaps they're only flattering an old woman." At any rate she says that all her cooking is done with Pacific Milk and that so far as her experience goes she prefers it to fresh milk. "Though I was raised on a farm," she adds

BRUTAL FATHER CRUEL TO DAUGHTER

New York, April 3.—Charged with cruel and inhuman treatment of his seventeen-year-old daughter, Minnie, John Gallagher, known on the stage as Galland, a clay sculptor, was arraigned in a Brooklyn court yesterday and held in $2,500 to appear later. Nearly 100 scars were found on the girl's body. Affidavits filed with the court alleged she had been branded with hot irons, scalded, struck with ice picks, tapins and darning needles, and that some of her teeth had been broken and then pulled out with pliers.

FIGHT IT OUT!

At the instance of a big corporation the Dominion Government has twice nullified provincial law regarding the rights of settlers in the Island railway belt and, as the legislation has been enacted in the local House, we may look for a further application of the Federal veto under the same corporation pressure.

Now, according to a dispatch from Ottawa, the Dominion Government is about to disallow the measure passed by the Provincial Legislature relative to the Dolly Varden case. Its course will be dictated by the same kind of pressure which "persuaded" it to disallow the settlers' rights legislation, although coming from a different quarter.

Some time ago it was reported that the interests adversely affected by the statute passed by the Legislature regarding this matter contemplated conducting a strong lobby at Ottawa for the disallowance of the bill. When that report arose we did not imagine that the Dominion Government would have the effrontery to comply with this request, although, like the Canadian public generally, we were quite conscious of the influence any corporation that looked sufficiently affluent and impressive could exercise at the national capital.

We trust British Columbia's representatives in Parliament will champion the rights of their Province in this matter to the very limit; that they will make themselves heard—and felt—in organized protest on the floor of Parliament, instead of meekly succumbing to the frown of the Government Whip. If they allow this raw deal to be administered to British Columbia they should be cast into outer political darkness as soon as the electorate can get hold of them.

HONORING BISMARCK.

Pan-Germanism celebrated the 105th anniversary of the birth of Bismarck on Thursday and the various journals who find it difficult to get rid of the old atmosphere indulged themselves in lengthy editorial worship of the "Iron Chancellor." Die Post longs for another Bismarck and prays that his spirit will descend upon "this sick nation." The Kreuz Zeitung deprecates democracy's contempt for the glorious past when Germans feared God and nothing else. God cannot have given our people such statesmen, says this journal, to leave them to perish in democratic misery.

These are the sentiments of the true Prussian who understands nothing but force. Until the crack of doom he will remain the same. The mental processes by which democratic peoples reason are foreign to him. He is incapable of sharing their sentiment. Individual thought and action save that fashioned upon the policy of blood and iron are sacrilegious to the mind of a Bismarckian disciple. After all, these people are to be pitied. Their invocation of the Deity as their ally in murder, rape and ruin is no more grotesque than the hope of national rescue by the "descent" of Bismarck's spirit.

HARDLY THE SAME.

Our morning contemporary thinks it sees in taxation developments in this Province a condition of affairs similar to those of mediaeval times when "the ruling classes, who set themselves over the populace, exacted from them tribute in money and service, leaving just enough for subsistence." The ruling classes "we have set over us," it goes on to say, "are proceeding upon precisely the same principle, probably with a wider latitude for its application."

That is what Trotzky or Eugene Debs might say, but it is, we fear, a profound exaggeration. The vassals and serfs of bygone days had no hand in shaping their own destinies; they had no opportunities of setting up their own rulers or of turning them down—at the ballot box. If they did not pay or fight they were strung up by the thumbs, or stretched on the rack, or hanged, drawn and quartered, or subjected to other experiences they did not care to talk about if they survived them.

The present-day populace is largely responsible for the kind of political economy it has, apart, of course, from the emergent conditions which have arisen from the war. In the days of the boom the inspiration to spend money extravagantly and thus heap up staggering obligations to be met at reckoning time did not come from the stars; it came from the public, which would have given short shrift to any government which permitted its expenditures to be limited absolutely to revenue, and our contemporary, we fear, would have been among its strongest critics. The truth was, of course, that we had boom governments because we had boom constituents and the former were merely the reflections of the latter in the mass. Undoubtedly, there are many ways in which our system of taxation can be and should be reformed. There are many injustices to be righted, but the best corrective, after all, is for the public to realize that the keeping of expenditures within revenue is just as desirable in boom times as it is in hard times. In this measure of responsibility for our own economic salvation, we, the present-day public, differ very radically from the vassals and serfs of olden times, not to speak of a few other details of difference to which it is unnecessary to refer here.

HOW ABOUT THIS AMENDMENT?

The Dominion Minister of Justice announced that he was in consultation with the Attorneys-General of the Provinces in regard to the amendment of the B. N. A. Act in such a way as to make it unnecessary to go to the British Parliament for changes in the Canadian constitution affecting matters of purely domestic concern. In that case the Dominion and the Provinces could make these amendments in their own Parliament and Legislatures.

We suggest to our Attorney-General that if a conference be held to discuss this question, he urge also that the Dominion Government's power of disallowance of Provincial legislation be overhauled. Surely when interested private corporations are influential enough to persuade or force the Ottawa Government to disallow provincial legislation, whose constitutionality is beyond doubt, merely on the ground of their own selfish expediency, it is time to limit that power to a very definite minimum, if not abolish it altogether. It would be in order, we think, for our Attorney-General to get in touch with the Attorneys-General of the other Provinces, with a view to united action on this important point.

MR. FLUMERFELT'S RESIGNATION.

It is not an easy matter to criticize the quality or volume of service voluntarily rendered. But when that service is incidental to the administration of a Government Department, whether national or provincial in its application, its relinquishment, in the public interest if for no other reason, should be a subject for explanation. We would not dream of suggesting that the voluntary assistance given to the Advisory Council of the Provincial Department of Industries by Mr. Flumerfelt was anything but the result of a genuine desire to do something for the benefit of the Province and more particularly for those of its returned citizen population who might find it desirable to rehabilitate themselves in its civilian life under the aegis of this newly-created Department. Up to the present time, however, there appears to have been no clear explanation of the circumstances which presumably led Mr. Flumerfelt to withdraw his assistance from the body in question. We are reminded of this by a statement made to the House the other day by the soldier member for Alberni—also a member of the Council—who described the letter of resignation as "above the heads of people dealing with sane things." This may not be a fair presentation of the case, and for that reason Mr. Flumerfelt may feel disposed to remove any doubt about the matter by an explanation on his own behalf. The public at least would like to be fair in its judgment.

Philip Gibbs, the brilliant war correspondent of The London Daily Chronicle, has received a knighthood. Percival Phillips, of The London Express, and H. P. Robinson, of The London Times, have received similar distinctions. Of the three Gibbs is the most famous, his name being a household term owing to his articles and books on the war.

IMPRESSION OF CLEMENCEAU.

I first met Clemenceau in the great days when he and Jaures, Pressensac, Zola, Reinach and Briand were all more or less associated in the Dreyfus campaign. Since then I occasionally called on him at the Rue Franklin, and saw him amid his books and the classical busts and objects d'art in which the cultivated Frenchman delights. There was some wonderful journalism done in those days in L'Humanite and L'Aurore. But Clemenceau's incessant articles were the finest of all. One could read them day by day and never see a point either slurred or repeated. They were compact of irony, eloquence, personal invective, and the precise logical statement which is the great gift of the writing Frenchman. Each was a masterpiece; it was indeed marvelous that a single writer could use such an armory and keep every weapon in it bright. Yet in those days no one saw Clemenceau a possible master of France. Jaures was the great coming politician and Clemenceau seemed insulated in a little group of personal admirers of the old Radical school. He was then, as always, anti-Socialist; but, though no great Frenchman ever admires another, he did not in speech depreciate Jaures. A little later the great Dreyfus bloc had broken up.

WOMEN MINISTERS.

The refusal of the Lower House of Convocation to allow women to pray and speak in churches ignores a good deal of history. Even in the days of the Pharaohs some of the most sacred religious offices were held by women. In the early days of the Christian Church women shared both in the ministry and the administration, playing an important part in the progress made by the Primitive Church. For the first 800 years of the Christian era women were even ordained as priests, and for 1,000 years they served at the altar and administered communion. It is strange that to-day, when the claims of women, and where women do almost all the church and parish work should deny them admission to the pulpit.

ARRESTS IN LIMERICK AND TROOPS ACTIVE ELSEWHERE IN IRELAND

Automobiles Searched.
 London, April 3.—Armed troops were on duty along all roads leading to Londonderry last night, motor cars were minutely searched and drivers had to produce permits and declare their business, says a Central News dispatch from Dublin. It is believed this military activity had something to do with rumors of an Easter uprising.

No Chances.
 London, April 3.—Reports from many parts of the island indicate that the Government is taking no chances of a possible materialization of the rumored Sinn Fein plot for an Easter revolution. Londonderry, Dublin and other places of the reports show were the centre of extreme military activity, a vigilant watch being maintained and all travelers searched and identified.

Elaborate preparations are being made to handle any possible untoward situation. Thus far, however, all newspaper reports from Ireland declare that without formal agreement with France and Great Britain and also "definite approval" of Germany and Russia. The inhabitants, the Commission stated, desire the United States to take the mandate, with Great Britain their second choice.

tained extensive arguments for and against such action. No mandate should be taken, the Commission said, without formal agreement with France and Great Britain and also "definite approval" of Germany and Russia. The inhabitants, the Commission stated, desire the United States to take the mandate, with Great Britain their second choice.

In Favor.
 The principal arguments advanced in favor of the United States accepting a mandate were that the influence of the United States would tend to avert war, that the inhabitants wanted American protection and that this would give the United States an opportunity to do a great humanitarian work.

Against.
 Reasons advanced against a mandate were "that it would weaken our position relative to the Monroe Doctrine," that "humanitarianism begins at home," and that the first year's cost would be $275,000,000, including $88,500,000 for the army and navy.

CHICAGO STRIKE HOLDS UP FREIGHT

Chicago, April 3.—Freight traffic on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad here was at a standstill today and operation of the Chicago Junction Railroad crippled as the result of a strike of 1,000 switchmen and yard employees affiliated with the Chicago Yardmen's Union. An embargo on acceptance of all freight shipments was in effect on the former road.

Efforts yesterday of A. F. Whitney, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, to induce the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul strikers to return to work failed. Whitney declared the strike was unauthorized.

Employment Report For Week Ended March 13 Issued at Ottawa

Ottawa, April 3.—(Canadian Press).—A slight decrease in placements during the week ended March 13 as compared with the previous week, and a fairly large increase in the number of casual workers located are the main items in the weekly report from the Federal Department of Labor. The offices report having referred 7,096 persons to regular positions and that 5,763 were placed, a decrease of 136 from the preceding week. Ontario had the largest number of placements, 1,986, British Columbia coming next with 1,148. Manitoba was third with 721. Prince Edward Island, always the lowest, had a round dozen.

During the week 9,314 applications were registered, of whom 734 were women and 8,430 men. The number of applications in the preceding week was 8,496. Of the placements in regular employment, 474 were women, and 5,222 men. The number of ex-service men placed was 2,682.

Gillen, of Toronto, nominated by the railway, and Fred Bancroft, of Toronto, nominated by the employees.

Fourteen hundred employees are affected, and all are members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees. SAANICH CULTIVATORS
PREPARE FOR SEASON

Creage Under Food Production Act Much Greater Than in 1919

While officials for land under the greater Food Production Act are not representative of the actual extent of vacant lot cultivation in a municipality, as the cultivator has his opportunity to make voluntary arrangements with the owner, yet they are a good index of the extent of interest in production of vegetable produce.

In Saanich this year there has been a substantial increase in acreage under cultivation of this character, the best bottom lands in close proximity to the city being favored for this purpose. The practice at the municipal level is not to force occupancy if the owners are reluctant, though as a rule they are only too glad to receive the annual rental paid for the use of the land. Where any conflict of opinion arises, on account of the extensive amount of land available in the municipality, it has been found possible in every case to provide land in the vicinity of the prospective cultivator, so that the compulsory clause of the act has not been resorted to in order to straighten out the situation.

The municipality does not go beyond the point of placing the cultivator in touch with the land, leaving the individual to make all arrangements for cultivating and securing of seed personally. The problem of scattered municipalities with varying physical conditions has made it impossible to extend public service in this regard to the cultivators which has been possible in the city. However, the increased cultivated acreage, in spite of the trouble under the Trespass Act from rock and poultry, throughout the municipality, is proof that many forgotten people are preparing against an increased food shortage next Fall. The production is being stimulated by Cottage Garden Societies in most of the wards.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take Tablespoonful of Salts If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative issues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have lingering pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in the joints, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act normally. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys lean and active.

"If those photographs are done, I'll take them."
"Yes, sir. You understand, of course, that we do not deliver pictures until they are paid for."
"What! Why, when I sat for them you told me I might pay for them whenever I chose!"
"Yes, but that was merely to make you look pleasant."—Boston Transcript.

WOMAN LAWYER ON LAWS AFFECTING WOMEN

A group of deeply interested girls, members of the Tea Table Club, Vancouver, listened to Miss Edith Paterson, barrister, when she out-lined briefly the Minimum Wage Act, and other legislation concerning women, on Thursday evening in the club rooms in the Y. W. C. A. Hostel, Pender Street.

The girls evinced a deep interest in the subject of the Minimum Wage Act and also the eight-hour day leg-islation, and had a great many ques-tions to ask Miss Paterson. Thus the meeting ended in a general chat on the subject. The opinion of the meet-ing was that the Minimum Wage Act would tend to raise the standard of efficiency.

In her talk Miss Paterson touched upon the Married Women's Property Act, the Equal Guardian Act and the dower law, which secured to the wife one-third of her husband's property, and which is in force in Great Brit-ain and Eastern Canadian provinces, but which does not apply in British Columbia. The girls voiced their ap-preciation of Miss Paterson's talk by extending a vote of thanks to her and by asking her to speak at another of their meetings.

GIVES PRACTICAL AID TO SETTLERS' WIVES

Soldiers' Settlement Board Inaugurate Domestic Science and Home Nursing

Through a series of short courses in Domestic Science and Home Nursing, the Home Branch of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada have been able during the past few weeks to get closely in touch with the wives of many of the soldier settlers in the West.

This Branch has had the hearty co-operation of the Red Cross, Local Council of Women and the University of Saskatchewan in perfecting and carrying out the arrangements for these Conferences, and testimony has been given by prominent education-ists of the West as to the value of the assistance rendered in the de-velopment of soldier settlement opera-tions.

75 Per Cent. British Born
In a report on the success of these conferences and of the work gener-ally of the Home Directors of the Board, Jean Muldrew, Chief of this Branch, remarks that 75 per cent of the women attending the confer-ences were British born and had come to Canada recently. Most of them were of an excellent type.

When invitations were sent to them with the offer of free transportation to the point of meeting, many re-fused to accept this assistance, say-ing that they had had a good crop and did not need it.

The Home Branch of Saskat-chewan arranged for a three months' course in Home Management, but it was not possible for a great majority of the wives of settlers to attend for such a long period. A series of short courses was, therefore, arranged be-ginning with one at Swift Current. The Red Cross paid the transporta-tion expenses and the Local Council of Women was responsible for the billeting. Fifty wives attended the course, nine of whom brought their babies. Saskatchewan University bore the entire cost of the instruc-tion, sending the best experts they had.

The course was so successful that Mrs. Cunningham, on whom de-veloped the local arrangement, pro-moted similar courses at Moose Jaw, Regina and Yorkton, the Red Cross and Local Women co-operating as before. At Moose Jaw seventy-two women attended, twenty-two of whom brought their babies, and at Regina forty-seven women attended, nine of whom brought their babies. The Conferences were exceedingly helpful to all concerned, and many questions on home management of particular interest to the British born wives were freely discussed.

Practical Instruction
In Manitoba the assistance of the Extension Department, Women's In-stitutes, Red Cross and Canadian Patriotic Society was enlisted. Through these organizations, maga-zines and literature, particularly bulletins on cooking, dressmaking, dairy butter, poultry and kindred topics, will be distributed regularly among settlers' wives in the West.

The Home Branch not only advises and guides where such advice and guidance are welcome, but through its organization is able to carry as-sistance of a very practical nature to settlers who through unfortunate circumstances need help. For in-stance, a woman had valiantly car-ried on the work of the farm during the brief absence of her husband, and through exposure and hard work had contracted tuberculosis. It was arranged that one of the Patriotic Societies should take charge of her and give her the proper nursing. Another case in the Prince Albert District was that of a settler's child who had deformed feet. Through the offices of the Home Branch, in co-operation with the Regina Patri-otic Society, the child has been oper-ated on and will be quite normal in a couple of months. Referring to a visit to an Alberta home, one of the Home Directors' assistants observes: "Received a very cordial welcome. Mrs. — said they have thought of every point hav'n't they. She has had a very hard time and is not able to do any work. They cannot say enough good for the Settlement Board."

No doubt the women will agree with Bishop Burch of New York, that they are angels. But then, he adds, they are always up in the air, always harping on something, and always in need of clothes. That's different.

An increase in salary— But are you better off?

"The more I make the more I spend," says a young man's cry for generations.

When many a man's salary is $15 a week he lives up to every cent of it, putting off the time to start a savings account until his wages are increased to $20.

But when the $5 a week increase comes, does it go into the bank? Not very often.

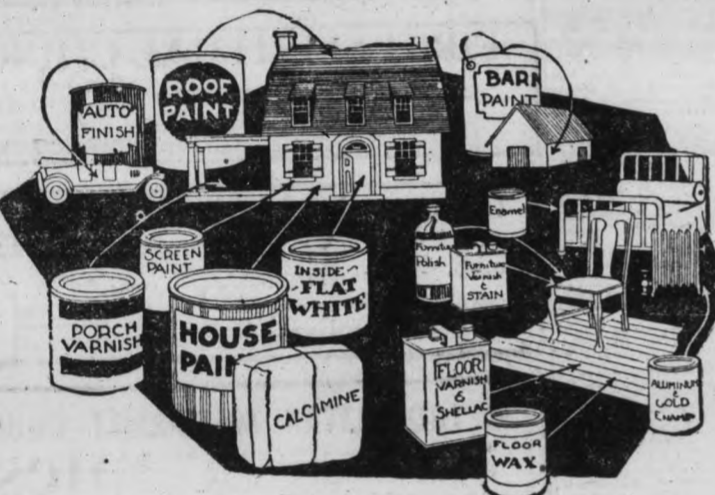

Make that salary increase do something for you if it is to be of any benefit. Deposit it in The Bank of Toronto each week.

Would Impose Taxation on Improvement Renters; Poll Impost on Employees

Alderman Sargent Outlines Proposals Which Disorganize Council Meeting; Public Service Tax Would be Collected from Small Freeholders When in Arrears.

Radical taxation proposals, including a tax on all people who rent improvements within the city, a half-yearly poll tax of one per cent. on all employees in the city receiving a salary in excess of $75 a month were laid before the City Council this morning. They raised such a storm of protest that the meeting was discontinued and could not proceed.

These new sources of revenue were described to the Council by Alderman W. J. Sargent, chairman of the Finance Committee, which, it was stated, had discussed them at a private session last Monday. Alderman Todd and Alderman Fullerton, who are not members of that committee, strenuously opposed the plan advanced, and protested vigorously against "railroading" it through at the eleventh hour. As they had had no opportunity to consider it beforehand they withdrew from the meeting, leaving insufficient aldermen to continue the business in hand.

The proposals partially outlined by Alderman Sargent before the meeting broke up—proposals which the intended should be laid before the Provincial Government at a conference next Tuesday as modifications of the Government's fiscal policy in

Speaks Right Out And to the Point

MISS LADERONT SAYS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS HELPED HER KIDNEY DISEASE.

Bigwood Lady Points the Way to Health to the Weak, Weary, Nervous, Run-down Women of Canada.

Bigwood, Ont., April 2.—(Special.) "Dodd's Kidney Pills relieved me of kidney disease."

That is the statement of Miss Laurance Laderont, a highly esteemed lady living here. It is short and to the point. There can be no misunderstanding of its meaning. It is a clear and ringing message to women all over Canada. It tells them where they, too, may find relief.

For ninety per cent. of the ills from which women suffer come from weak or diseased kidneys. They are the organs that strain all the impurities, all the seeds of disease out of the blood. If they fail in this work the impurities remain in the blood and are deposited all over the body. The results show themselves in weakness, nervousness, headaches, backache, drowsy and rheumatism.

Ask your neighbor if all these diseases cannot be avoided by using Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen the kidneys.

Must Furnish Statement.
"Every employer of help shall, on June and December in each year, furnish to the corporation a detailed statement of the names and addresses of, and salaries paid to, all persons that were in his employ during the preceding six months."

"3. In case of default by any such owner, renter or employer in the payment of any sum or sums required by this section to be paid, or in the observance of any other requirement of this section, any part of, or all of such sum or sums may be recovered by the corporation by summary seizure and sale of goods and chattels of such owner, renter or employer so in default."

Where Did They Come From?
As soon as the proposals outlined in the foregoing were printed Alderman Fullerton demanded from what source they had emanated.

"We have been discussing municipal finances many times this year and last year," Mayor Porter explained, "and we have applied continually to the Government for relief. The relief which the Government has promised is in our opinion not sufficient and does not meet the case at all. The proposals are simply suggestions of a plan of relief which would be more acceptable to the city. They have practically emanated from some members of the Finance Committee."

"Any man who knows anything about the financial condition of the city appreciates the fact that the Government relief proposals are absolutely inadequate to meet the situation," added Alderman Sargent. "The acute condition in which the city finds itself is due to the arrears of taxes which have been piling up for two months to hold tax sales the fact will be that the city will own a great portion of the land which is carrying arrears at this time. It is easy to see how disastrous that will be to the city and to the people holding the rest of the land who will have to bear the added burden. We should impress upon the Government again the impossibility of carrying on under the present conditions. We put the whole thing before the Government at the Municipal Taxation Commission last Fall and advanced suggestions for relief. The Government, however, absolutely refused our request, and we thought it would be advisable to put other suggestions before them with the hope that they might prove more acceptable."

Many Do Not Pay.
Discussing the first proposal for taxation relief—the tax on all persons renting improvements in the municipality—Alderman Sargent pointed out that there was a large class of people in the city who lived in rented houses and who, while enjoying the privilege of paved streets, police and fire protection and other advantages, paid nothing toward the upkeep of civic services. "This is a perfectly legitimate charge and it is a source from which the city should derive revenue."

At this juncture Alderman Todd interrupted to warn the Council that if Alderman Sargent continued to read his proposals without giving the other aldermen a chance to discuss them, he would be obliged to withdraw from the room and leave the Council without a quorum and therefore unable to conduct any business. "You can stop reading, or I shall leave," he declared. "Take your choice."

"I am annoyed to have to answer questions in the middle of reading this document," complained Alderman Sargent. "I don't like to have to pay a man to stay in the room. I am merely reading this for the convenience of the Council."

"You've said sufficient now to raise the income tax either to the Provincial or Dominion Government during the current year, shall not be in excess of the sum of $15; provided also that where a municipal service rate of $20 has been paid in respect of the salary of any male employee, and of the sum of $85 in respect of

These suggestions are revolutionary," protested Alderman Todd, breaking into the discussion again. "Alderman Sargent says the Council has agreed to these proposals. I don't think that is a meeting for which he is liable to the municipality. Why wasn't the whole Council notified about it? The first I heard of it was when he was leaving my house a few minutes ago. The proposals are so new and revolutionary that I for one don't propose to make an eleven-hour decision on the matter. I don't think this is good business to deal with the city's affairs in that way. To be frank, my first impression of these proposals is that they are most undesirable. Therefore, to deal with them in a hurried way at the eleventh hour is not advisable," Alderman Sargent himself whose disposition it is to hold over all reports and have them laid on the table, and is more eager than anyone about taking eleven-hour action which he wants the Council to take now. Only six members are present, and I don't think it is right under the circumstances to put through any radical departures of this nature. Most emphatically object to this meeting continuing at this time. All members should have plenty of time to consider the matter before we attempt to persuade the Government to do something it has not done before. It would not have come to this meeting but for the fact that one of the members rang up—I don't blame him for it—and told me that it was the purpose of preventing the Provincial Government from putting something over on us, and not for the purpose of us doing something for the city. Therefore I vote that we adjourn."

Try For Adjournment.

Alderman Fullerton seconded this motion, claiming that he had not had notice of the meeting. His further remarks were cut short by Alderman Patrick who, rising on a question of privilege, pointed out that the motion to adjourn could not be discussed.

Mayor Porter agreed with this and observed that an appointment had been made with the Provincial Government for Tuesday morning. The Legislature, he thought, would be in session only next week and quite out of the question to adjourn could not be discussed.

"Let us stick to our guns and demand what we already have asked for," suggested Alderman Todd. "There's not much chance of getting that," the Mayor answered. "When the motion to adjourn was put Alderman Todd and Alderman

WILL NOT CHANGE DATE OF MEETING ON TAX PROBLEM

Though the City Council failed this morning to arrive at any decision on the taxation problem, Mayor Porter has thought it expedient to alter the date on which representatives of Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster will meet the Provincial Government to ask for increased financial assistance. The conference will take place on Tuesday. Acting-Mayor Ramsay of Vancouver wired Mayor Porter yesterday asking for a postponement of the conference, but His Worship rejected the proposal on the ground that immediate action was imperative.

Fullerton supported it, so that the meeting continues on Tuesday.

Threatens to Leave.
It had not proceeded far, however, when Alderman Todd announced that he had an important appointment in five minutes and therefore must leave.

Alderman Cameron thought it was useless to expect any further relief than that already foreshadowed until the next session of the Legislature. "We have done what we could but the powers that be don't seem inclined to assist," he said.

"This is no scheme to try and ram anything down the Council's throat," protested Alderman Patrick, who explained that the fact that there was no mail delivery on Good Friday had accounted for the delay in the arrival of the notices of the meeting. "These are simply suggestions as a basis for a discussion—proposals made with the idea of pulling the city out of the hole. If the aldermen who object to them can produce anything better, let them do it and I will vote for it with two hands. Let us try the Government again. Are we going to be ment again. Are we going to be ment again. In this Council," he complained with some bitterness, "it has been done over and over again. When anyone else brings anything forward, something that has not been evolved by their subtle brains, why it's no good. I am going to vote for anything on its merits and to come here on Monday and consider this matter for hours and hours."

Back Up Bell.

Alderman Todd suggested that the Council back up George Bell, M. P. for Victoria, in his stand that the cities of the Province should get all the amusement tax collected within their limits.

"Yes, but that doesn't mean you will get it," answered Alderman Patrick. "As a matter of fact, if you add ten per cent. to the present amusement tax you won't get any more. I don't think that the Government's plan to let us have half the amusement tax is worth that, he exclaimed, snapping his fingers. "We asked, also, for the motor tax, and we are not going to get it. We need the money to keep ourselves going."

"And propose to get it by taxing the people more," suggested Alderman Todd.

"If Alderman Todd can produce revenue without taxation let him do it," answered Alderman Patrick.

Knocking a Fellow Down.
"The ideas that have been advanced here to-day," complained Alderman Sargent, "amount to knocking a fellow down."

"That statement's not justified!" exclaimed Alderman Todd. Alderman Sargent went on to deny that there was any intention on the part of anyone to try to "put over anything" on the Council. It was simply the cessation of the mail delivery on Good Friday which had caused delay in the delivery of notices of the meeting to the aldermen.

The aldermen denied also that it was proposed to tax people who already were paying taxes. As a matter of fact, the proposals were just contrary to this. "Are they not paying rent?" demanded Alderman Todd. "That's not a tax—that's not helping to keep up the community," answered Alderman Sargent. "I hoped that we would get somewhere this morning, but we have approached the matter in the wrong spirit. To go right in at the start without hearing the whole scheme and condemn it is certainly not right."

Condemns Scheme.
"I condemn your very first paragraph," replied Alderman Todd. "As I said before I have an appointment at 12 o'clock, and as for coming here Monday—I think I shall go fishing. It will take hours to discuss this." "You won't have any luck," declared the Mayor. "We must do something by Monday."

"Well then take the hint of George Bell and stand out for the amusement and motor tax," proposed Alderman Todd.

refuse this tax," agreed Alderman Fullerton.

At this juncture Alderman Todd and Fullerton left the room, and, by breaking up the quorum, made it impossible to transact further business.

Without the Car.
"Shall we talk the matter over among ourselves?" asked Alderman Cameron.
"What's the use of talking it over without the Car here?" demanded Alderman Patrick.

"When anything I was not in sympathy with was being discussed I generally made it a point to stay and see it through," said the Mayor. "If I was out-voted I was out-voted. If we are going to get anywhere we shall have to approach the matter in a different spirit. The majority must rule."

"If a man has got to sit down to keep another member of the Council present, well then I say that things have got into a pretty extreme position," complained Alderman Sargent as the remaining aldermen reluctantly left the Chamber.

Calls Plan Iniquitous.
E. S. Woodward, President of the Trades and Labor Council, attended the meeting, and declared in a fitting

HISTORICAL MEANING OF EASTER SEASON

How Greatest Christian Festival Came to Embrace Pagan Observances

To-morrow, Easter Sunday, the larger part of the Christian and Pagan world will unite in observing the greatest religious festival of the year—a festival which is fraught with the deepest significance and which recalls to the Christian mind the closing and triumphant hours of the greatest career the world has ever known, and which to the pagan is symbolical of the re-appearance of sunshine and summer.

An Old Usage There is no indication of the observance of the Easter festival in the New Testament, or in the writings of the apostolic fathers. The sanctity of special times was an idea absent from the minds of the first Christians. The ecclesiastical historian Socrates states, with perfect truth, that neither the Lord nor his apostles enjoined the keeping of this or any other festive days, but of "promoting a life of blamelessness and piety," and he attributes the observance of Easter by the church to perpetuation of an old usage, "just as many other customs have been established."

The first Christians, indeed, continued to observe the Jewish festivals, though in a new spirit, as commemorations of events which those festivals had overshadowed. Generally speaking, the Jewish conception added to it of Christ as the true Paschal Lamb, and the first fruits from the dead, continued to be observed, and became the Christian Easter.

Difference in Date. Although the observance of Easter was at a very early period the practice of the Christian church, a serious difference as to the day of its observance soon arose between the Christians of Jewish and those of Gentile descent, which led to a long and bitter controversy. Generally speaking, the Western churches kept Easter on the first day of the week, while the Eastern churches followed the Jewish rule, and kept Easter on the fourteenth day. After a long dispute on the matter, the Asiatic churches retained their usage unmolested and the Jewish usage continued to be kept on Sunday and on the same Sunday throughout the world.

The manner in which the date of Easter was reckoned involved great difficulty. Briefly it may be explained that Easter day was the first Sunday after the full moon following the vernal equinox. As a result, there continued for many years much confusion and a good deal of doubt about the date. In England this was particularly so, and it was not until 1752 that the Gregorian reformation of the calendar fixing the date was adopted in Great Britain and Ireland.

The Seasonal Preparation. Four different periods may be mentioned as connected with the observance of Easter, viz. (1) the preparatory fast of the forty days of Lent; (2) the fifteen days, beginning with the Sunday before and ending with the Sunday after Easter day, during which the ceremonies of Holy Week and the services of Octave of Easter were observed; (3) the Octave of Easter, during which the newly-baptized wore their white garments, which they laid aside on the Sunday after Easter; (4) Easterday proper, Easter and lasting till Whit Sunday, during the whole of which time the special character of the Easter season was maintained in the services of the church.

BIBLICAL PICTURES WILL BE FILMED Stories Like "The Prodigal Son" and "The Reward of Jacob" Will Be Depicted.

The glorious pageantry of Oriental life, as reflected in the pictures of the Bible story, is to be made the theme of portrayal by the Historical Film Corporation of America. The Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood, particularly Sir E. Burne Jones and W. Holman Hunt, the latter in his wonderful biblical pictures painted in Palestine, has given a new turn to pictorialization of Bible scenes. If the same richness in color is given in the films as in the work of the artists, the film world will see in the realm of sacred art something of the wonderful realism which has made the D. W. Griffiths pictures famous in all filmdom.

In everyone there will be a modern story supplementing the story from the Bible text—a story up to date, dealing with the men and women, thoughts and things, conditions, manners and customs of 1920, and the producers plan to crowd as much action into the two reels as may be found in the average five-reel feature. The photography will be unique if it can be brought to the state of perfection desired. This contemplates the combination of the familiar black and white with natural colors. The Bible filmers understand the effectiveness of color, especially when dealing with Oriental subjects, and, if possible, the Bible story of each spectacle will be photographed in natural colors, while the modern story will be in black.

The warmth and glow of the East with its colorful atmosphere is to be preserved in the Bible pictures as nearly as present-day developments in color photography will permit. Not only the new combination is thoroughly tested but it is adopted as a permanent feature of the Bible programme, and the first three pictures, "The Prodigal Son," "The Letter to Philemon" and "The Reward of Jacob," will be done in black and white photography, with some special effects in tinting and projection. These pictures are intended to constitute a living, breathing, acting Bible that will remain for a thousand years the ethical-religious classics of the screen.

BISHOP'S "MOVIE" SHOW. Here is a picture of the Bishop of Bath and Wells, a fine sportsman and athlete and one of the most broad-minded of Churchmen. He now runs a fine motor car and tours the rural districts. This same scheme is now being largely developed by the Church Pictorial Movement.

The Bishop's favorite story concerns an Archdeacon who was having an argument with a friend, who said to him: "My dear Archdeacon, one cannot argue with you. I don't believe that you would admit without argument that two and two make four." "Certainly not," said the Archdeacon. "For instance, they might make twenty-two," "Tit-Bits."

ROTARIANS START TO POUR INTO VICTORIA KEEN FOR GREAT CONFERENCE

The first public function in connection with the conference will be the Rotary service at St. John's Church at 7.30 o'clock to-morrow evening. The Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, one of the prominent Rotarians of Victoria, will conduct the service. Bishop Schofield will take part. President Adams will attend.

To Greet Visitors.

Victoria Rotarians under their president, John F. Scott, will meet the main party as they arrive from Seattle at noon to-morrow, and assist them in getting settled.

The Vancouver delegation will not come over until Sunday night on the Princess Charlotte. The Charlotte has been taken over by the Mainland party, about 200 strong, and moored to the docks for the next three days will be used as a floating hotel. A special boat is being run from Seattle at midnight Sunday to bring over the last of the American party.

Golfers Keen For Action.

There will be great clouting of the turf with mashies, niblicks and brassies and laboring of the English language at Colwood, Oak Bay and Esquimalt all day to-morrow, and especially after the morning boats according to Wallace S. Terry, in charge of Rotarians who come under the sub-head of "Golf and Golfers."

The big Rotarian eighteen-hole tournament does not commence until Wednesday, but no one is to lose a chance between now and then to see how close he can come to bogey in Victoria. Besides this, there are many Rotarians who have for some time longed to get started in the game, but have never had the nerve to try to hit their first ball in front of their friends in the home town. A number of these retiring souls intend to stage their initial performance on the Victoria links in the hopes that they will not be recognized.

YOUNG GIRLS FOUND IN HOTEL PENNILESS

Arrested by Police Under Peculiar Circumstances; Two Men Caught

Absolutely penniless two 19-year-old Vancouver girls, Mary Kusha and Gladys Baldwin, were taken from a room in the King Edward Hotel early yesterday morning under rather peculiar circumstances by Detectives Heather and Macdonald. This morning they were arraigned in the Police Court on charges of vagrancy and pleaded guilty. Justice of the Peace, W. W. Northcutt, remanded the girls until Tuesday morning in order to see what could be done in the way of securing assistance for them.

The police office visited the hotel at 2 o'clock yesterday morning and after knocking at room 69 they heard considerable shuffling within and on repeating the knock a voice told them to try the adjoining room. On entering the officers found two men,

William Blackwood and John Brooks. The door to the next room was unlocked and on opening it the detectives located the two girls. In conducting a search of the rooms the police found a bottle of Scotch whiskey. They took the two men and two girls into custody, arraigning the former on charges of having liquor in their possession and the later on charges of vagrancy.

Worked on James Island.

In reply to questions from the bench the girls, one of whom looked extremely youthful, stated that they had come from Vancouver five weeks ago and for one month had worked on James Island. They came here a week ago and were dead broke. One of the girls intimated that her brother was prepared to assist them to return to Vancouver.

In the liquor charges Brooks pleaded guilty, and was fined $50. Blackwood entered a plea of not guilty, and in order that the police might conduct an investigation the case was remanded until Wednesday.

Elks Form Swimming Club; Take Over Foundation Site

Plan Big Times at Gorge This Summer; Will Have Dancing Pavilion and Chute-the-Chutes; A. T. Weight President.

Less than a month ago A. T. Weight, a member of the Elks, conceived the idea of forming a swimming club as another branch of the many sporting activities of the club. After a lengthy discussion the members became so enthusiastic with the idea that they appointed the following committee, with power to act and to locate a suitable site for a summer home: Chairman, A. T. Weight, Dal Spence and Leo Sweeney.

The activities of this committee may be realized by a rough summary of their report, handed in on Thursday night.

A Fine Site.

Your Swimming Committee beg to report that they have been fortunate enough to obtain a club house and have completed the necessary arrangements as to the lease. The site obtained is the old Foundation Club House at the Gorge. We feel that in obtaining this site we have been most fortunate and it assures well for far as this club house is concerned it is the finest equipped place on the Pacific Coast, there being both ladies and gents individual dressing lockers, shower baths, spring boards, sixty feet diving tower and seating accommodation for about one thousand people.

We also wish to announce that the officers and committee of the Swimming Club will be as follows: Chairman, A. T. Weight; secretary, A. Hinson; treasurer, J. Rivers; committee, M. Graham, O. H. McDonald, W. D. Spence, L. Sweeney, F. Dilworth, Gus Brown and H. N. Howard.

Dancing Pavilion.

"At a meeting held this week by the above committee it was decided to make several improvements at the club house as follows: An open air dance pavilion, a chute the chute, a tennis court and a basketball pitch. The club has already made application for affiliation to the C.A.S.A. The delegates to the annual meeting have been instructed to apply for several of the championships to be competed for this year seeing that we have such splendid accommodation for holding galas.

The opening of the club will take the form of either a large Garden Party or an Open Air Banquet. Already there is a membership of over fifty of the Elks Organization. At first it was thought to keep the club exclusive to Elks and their families but during the last week we have had several of Victoria's best swimmers, two prominent polo players and two of the finest Pacific Coast divers express their desire to join the club so that the committee decided to take in outside members, to be limited to one hundred.

Fel Sure of Success.

The committee are feeling quite jubilant over the remarkable success in so short a time and they have no doubt as to the future of the Swimming Club. As everyone knows, who has attended any of the various entertainments put on by the Elks, that they have had such a splendid time as to assure the success of this club, both from a social and a sporting point of view. A list of members is now being prepared and will be published in the course of a few days. Should any further information be needed please call A. J. Weight, 1116 Collinson Street, phone 3259L. Applications forms may be had from any of the above committee and as the membership is limited those desirous of joining should do so without delay.

BOXING TOURNAMENT

Announcement was made this morning by W. H. Davies that the Victoria Amateur Boxing Club tournament, set for next Wednesday, will proceed. A postponement had been feared, but arrangements are now assured to enable the tournament to go ahead as planned.

WELLINGTON AND VICTORIA BATTLE TO SCORELESS TIE

Fine Soccer Game Played at Royal Athletic Park Yesterday Afternoon

Staging a fast rally in the concluding moments of the game the Victoria "rep" soccer team tried hard to hand a knock-out to the South Wellington eleven at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon, but they found the miners' defence sufficiently strong to ward off disaster. As a result the game finished a scoreless draw. The 500 fans who faced the keen kinds and snow flurry by a very close, clean and fast game.

Wellington is to be congratulated on fielding such a strong team. There is no doubt that the miners' defence was well prepared and they were hard, but they had nothing on the miners. At times it looked as though the locals might assume the command, but each time they were beaten back and the Wellington players fought their way over into Victoria's territory and came near scoring.

Two Close Shaves.

The second half provided the real features of the players. Green, who formerly played for the Thistles, was at centre-half for the visitors, and he cracked in a shot that bounded off the bar, if it had been inches lower it no doubt would have bulged the net. This seemed to stir the Victoria team to a great effort, and Archie Muir, Tucker James and Johnny Peden launched a combined attack on the visitors' goal. They were, however, intercepted by the Wellington backs. On regaining the ball in the centre field Victoria carried it back to the miners' goal-mouth. Bridges took the shot and the ball struck the post and ricocheted off behind it.

It was a narrow shave for the visitors, for had the ball glanced inwards instead of outwards then Martin would not have had a chance to save. The teams lined up as follows: South Wellington—Martin; Hamilton and McFagan; Stobart, Green and Lynn; Robson, Brown, Stobart, Emerson and Clark. Victoria—Shandley; Chester and Elliott; McKinnon, Allan and Munro; Bridges, Muir, James, Peden and Mulcahy. Referee, Lock; linesmen, Briggs and Enter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASKETBALL TO-NIGHT

Owing to so many players being out of town for the Easter holiday the regular schedule for to-night at the Y. M. C. A. will not be played. One game only will be played to-night at 7.45 o'clock in the senior schedule, namely, Crusaders vs. Congo-Centennial. The regular schedule will be continued on Wednesday evening.

EIGHTY THOUSAND SEE CHELSEA BEAT ASTON

April 3.—(By Canadian Associated Press)—Eighty thousand spectators attended at Stamford Bridge on Good Friday, when Chelsea defeated Aston. Aston, although without Wallace and Barson, gave a supreme exhibition. Edgeley, their clever outside left, broke his leg early. Chelsea, who were without Hines and Chroni, made powerful attacks in the second half, and secured the winning goal in nine minutes. Thousands of spectators witnessed Tottenham's fine display in defeating Wolverhampton. Ellis scored three goals and Richards one. Peers, an international, played a great game for Wolverhampton. Paddock scored four goals for Westham against Notts Forest.

SHAMROCK III. WILL SAIL ACROSS OCEAN

Famous Racer Launched at Southampton; Leaving For America April 7

Southampton, April 3.—Sir Thomas Lipton's 23-metre Shamrock III, which will be used in the tuning up races with Shamrock IV, the America's Cup challenger, off Sandy Hook this Spring, has launched here to-day. The Shamrock III will sail for America on April 7 without escort. The trial boat has been jury-rigged as a ketch for the voyage. Before being put in the water the Shamrock III had her keel deepened, and was otherwise improved with the idea of making her faster in windward work. Captain Alfred Draper, of Southampton, is in command of the yacht, and among the members of the crew which will sail the Shamrock III will be seven members of his family.

FEW MEN WISH TO LABOR ON PRAIRIES

Local Bureau Reports Increasing Demand For Employees

S. Harvey Creech, manager of the Employment Service Office of Canada, Provincial Government Office, Langley and Broughton Streets, reports for the week ending April 3, that the demand for employees is greater than the week ending March 27, that report being the greatest in the preceding week. The demand for prairie workers is meeting with little results here, very few men are registering for this class of work, due no doubt to the greatly increased demand for employees within the Province. There are a number of men, of course, who are married, some with large families, and it is impossible to leave their homes, and as yet there is not sufficient work in the city to take care of these men. But it is hoped the work shortly to be undertaken by the Victoria Shipowners, Ltd., will take care of a great number of them.

Business is exceptionally good in the recently reorganized Professional and Business Branch. The department is part of the Employment Service, and is established in the same building as the Employment Office, Langley and Broughton Streets, Capt. Tennent, who is supervising the particular branch is very enthusiastic in connection with this work. And Mr. Creech reports as a result of his effort in this department, the showing has been very gratifying.

RE CHILDREN STARVING.

To the Editor.—In justice to the people living on Albina Street I must ask you to please insert the following:

The story of starving children is incorrect. The plight of those children was well known to the authorities, as for months I have seen the Chief of Police and nurses visiting them. The children have near blood relations in Victoria West who constantly visited them.

The people on Albina Street are not such heathens as to stand by and see children starve, and any discontent they may have suffered is due to the neglect of the authorities, whose duty it is to see that no such thing exists, and who should have placed them in a home immediately by the way the children are not small, I believe the eldest is 14 and the next 11 or 12.

RAILWAY COMPETITION.

To the Editor.—In your issue of March 15 the president of the C. P. R. is reported in a speech dealing with our national railways in relationship to the C. P. R., as having said: "There has always been competition and there always will be competition." He further speaks about the two systems, "involving keen competition and competition which is both keen and honest cannot help but redound to the advantage of the competitors." The president might have added, until the other a knock-out blow, in which case the competitor who goes down and under does not feel it "redounds to his advantage" in the least bit.

Those who gave us our National system of railways did not do so because they believed in nationalization, but simply because these systems, which were the outcome of private enterprise and along competitive lines, had become insolvent. And anything that is insolvent can be nationalized. If the C. P. R. had been involved in that same insolvency, the common people always have to take the rotten end of all these deals, but it does not "redound to their advantage."

During the war our best leading men kept telling us that co-operation was the keynote. But in as far as

All Troops and Packs are busy getting ready for their Easter excursions, weather permitting, and also for the grand rally and demonstration April 10 at Beacon Hill. It is hoped there will be a fine demonstration. Review by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor at 3.15 p. m. at Beacon Hill, assisted by Brigadier-General Ross, C. M. G., G. O. C., and Captain Martin, R. N. C. M. G.

It is hoped a large number of the citizens will make it a point to see the review and demonstration on Saturday next. A number of visiting Scouts are expected from neighboring points. A large number of Scouts are taking advantage of the bathing facilities at the new drill hall on Tuesdays, but owing to the Rotary Club being here during the week, there will be no swimming on Tuesday next. It is hoped a large number will take advantage of this opportunity to learn to swim. The following are the Troops and Packs so far formed:

Third Troop—Scoutmaster W. H. Brown, M. C. meets Willows.

Victoria Preparatory School—Scoutmaster P. Hughes; meets at school, Oak Bay.

MacLean Troop—Victoria West—Scoutmaster, P. A. Trowsdale; meets 601 Esquimalt Road.

Collegiate School—Scoutmaster, G. H. Scarratt; meets at school.

Fairfield (Christ Church Cathedral)—Scoutmaster, G. Frampton; meets Cathedral Schoolroom.

Oak Bay Troop and Granite Street Wolf Cub Pack—Scoutmaster, Seymour de P. Greene; meets corner Mitchell and Granite streets, Oak Bay.

The troop is growing fast and has four patrols. The pack is now practically as large as can be properly handled by the cubmaster and assistants. Any more boys wanting to join must go on waiting list after next Friday. One more patrol can be formed in connection with the formed five patrols; now four patrols formed. Five members of new troop have qualified as second class Scouts.

James Bay Troop—Headquarters, cor. of Simcoe and Douglas streets; meeting every Thursday, 7.30 p. m. The troop is making good progress, there are quite a number of second class Scouts, and good work is being done towards the first class proficiency badges are also being gained. The troop are spending the week-end in camp. There are only a few vacancies left in the four patrols of the troop, as the advantages offered in swimming, boxing and football, as well as the camping and other Scout activities are attracting recruits.

James Bay Troop—Headquarters, cor. of Simcoe and Douglas streets; meeting every Friday, 7.00 p. m. The pack are nearly all in uniform and look quite smart. It is hoped to have a football team in shape to play some of the other packs shortly. An assistant cubmaster is urgently required. Any one willing to give these services please notify the Scoutmaster, 5544R.

LEVERING FLOUR PRICES UP.

To the Editor.—Are the millers of Canada attempting to make "April fools" of Canadians by proposing to the Dominion Government that they be allowed to increase the price of flour because they have not got foreign orders enough to keep the mills running full time?

They tell us, what we obviously know, that it costs more per sack when mills are running short time. But emphatically that should not be accepted as a reason to force prices up. Their remedy should be to lower the price and thereby get more orders, both in Canada and abroad, at once.

They were unfairly allowed to make excessive profits and pile up unwarrantable "reserve funds" during the war, on the plea that they would have to maintain reasonable dividends during the expected fall in after-war prices when they foretold losses. They should be required to shoulder their responsibilities from now on.

If they now fail in that clear duty, then citizens generally, especially the returned soldiers and housewives, should promptly bring the pressure of their opinions upon the Dominion members and Government, to operate the mills in the public interest. If

TABLET FOR OLD BOYS

University School to Commemorate Names of Students Who Served in the War.

Old boys of the University School who gave their lives in the war are to have their names set down for all time on a tablet of bronze. Subscriptions to pay for a $2,000 tablet are now being received by the Rev. W. W. Bolton, warden of the school and treasurer of the memorial fund. On the sides of the lists of those who were killed will be columns of the names of those who fought but survived.

"There will be no rank given," said J. C. Barnacle, headmaster, "nor honours won, for to us they are one and all alike—old boys."

Was All Run-Down

When you say you are "run-down," you are likening yourself to a clock which, from lack of winding, is losing power and grows weaker and weaker in action until it stops. The nervous system is the power plant of the human body. Once the blood gets thin and the nerves do not obtain proper nourishment, you find the machinery of the body running down. The digestive system fails, the vital organs weaken in their functions, and you suffer from weakness, headaches, sleeplessness and pain.

Petrolia

Mrs. John Smith, Box 235, Petrolia, Ont.

"It is 27 years since I first made use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. At that time I was all run down and went away from home to rest. While away, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was recommended to me so in an effort to recover, I tried it. I took six boxes, and in a few weeks I was completely well again. Since then I have had occasion to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food several times. Once after an operation I used this treatment as a whole for extreme weakness, and it quickly restored me to health. I used it again when suffering from nervous prostration, and it brought back my health and strength. I have recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to a great many people, who have taken it with good results, and I would advise anyone suffering from run-down system or nervousness of any description, to give this treatment a faithful trial.

"I might say, also, that we have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Liver Cure in our household with splendid results, while we always keep his treatment on hand as a never-failing remedy."

Meaford

Mrs. Chas. Lyons, Margaret St., Meaford, Ont. writes:—

"About three years ago I suffered from nervous indigestion, my system became run down, and I could not sleep. I tried almost every patent medicine I knew of, and doctored with doctors both here and in Toronto, but could not obtain relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so my husband got me some, and I commenced using them. Before I had finished the second box, I saw I was getting better, so I continued the treatment until I was cured. I can eat and sleep well now, and have not been bothered with the old symptoms since. I can cheerfully recommend the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to all suffering from nervousness of any kind."

Perth

Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Grocer, Perth, Ont. writes:—

"In fitting up this building for a grocery business, I worked very hard, and after putting in my stock I continued plugging away good and hard too. I commenced to feel myself going down—my weight went from 180 pounds down to 154 pounds. My appetite began to fall, and of course upon retiring I could not get a good night's rest. Sometimes after going to sleep, my nerves would twitch and I would wake up with a start, and then lie awake for hours. I remembered having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food before, so I started in again, and took a good treatment, using about half a dozen boxes. I soon felt my appetite returning, I could sleep well, and commenced gaining in weight, until I felt like a new man. From the benefits I have received from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I cannot speak too highly of them."

Trenton

Mrs. Chas. Lafferty, King St., Trenton, Ont. writes:—

"For some time I was troubled with nervousness, could not sleep well, and was in a generally run down condition. I used to take dizzy spells and sometimes was so bad that I was afraid to walk on the street. A friend of mine had been using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with such good results that I commenced using them, too. I think I used about five boxes in all, and can say that I am now in much better health, can eat and sleep fine, and do not feel that dizziness I used to. I am stronger and better in every way, and even my friends remark how much better I look. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me much good that I cannot so praise this wonderful medicine too highly."

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN AND THE HOME

Talks That Are Helpful

It is a curious fact that with the signing of the armistice all feeling of self-obsession seemed to drop suddenly away from many of those who see about us. Only a short time ago we were up to the point of the greatest self-sacrifice, they have seemingly become alert and relaxed now that pressure is removed, and regard the slightest infringement of their comfort and convenience as almost an outrage.

The Aftermath

Every day we are tempted to feel that in more ways than one it is pity that the war did not last long enough for the everlasting crushing of the Hun. There is something in all of us these days that needs crushing too—that ruthless god of selfishness that holds sway in so many hearts. While we sympathize with those whom the war's great tragedies have touched, perhaps we should rather envy them the wonderfully chastening effects of sorrow nobly borne.

It is a shame to have to confess it, but as a nation we are not reacting creditably to prosperity. We may have stood our late hardships well, but the present ways of luxury and extravagance spreading throughout this country is a detriment and an evil to the national character.

Women's Share

What can we women do to offset these pernicious influences? Much, and in many ways, for are we not the strength of the nation, morally? In the bearing of children, in the rearing of them, we are the important factors. It is our example, our influence that guide their destinies. In gentle and persuasive ways can we lead men to right thinking and right living. Unacknowledged and unappreciated as it may be, we are the power behind the throne. Therefore it is to our everlasting discredit, when, as a family, or a nation, we fall into evil ways.

There never has been greater need than at the present moment for patriotism, the protection that not only speaks love of our country, but love of our countrymen, the true brotherhood of the human race, the spirit that returns good for evil, that seeks no reward save the consciousness of its own integrity.

Kept up by the enthusiasm of wartime scenes thrilled with the glare and excitement of military music and marching troops, it was a poor spirit indeed that did not respond to the calls the country made upon it, but it is time to bear a true spirit of patriotism in the duties of every day life. What is our outlook on the problems that confront us as a nation?

We have fought bitterly for the franchise, how many of us are making use of it? Now that we have the vote do we bother to fight for clean politics? We know well enough what women can do for the schools, for child welfare, for better housing and factory conditions, for every modern problem of law and morality, yet comparatively few enter into the work and life of the community in which they live. A wretched merit holds them back from public life, a narrowness of vision, an ingrained selfishness, a lack of true, deep-rooted patriotism.

The seriousness of present conditions cannot be exaggerated. With strikes threatening on all sides we seem to be living on a volcano. Until conditions are re-adjusted we cannot tell what tomorrow will bring. At the least we can do is to walk wisely and circumspectly in the present and do what we can to stem the tide of luxury and extravagance.

STOCKINGS APPROACH VANISHING POINT

Silk Hosiery Getting More Cobwebby; Golf Hose of Startling Designs

Many, many yards of fashionable intelligence have been measured off this Spring against the important question of shoes, with only here and there a casual note as to the almost equally important question of stockings. In the matter of shoes it appears to be fairly well settled, that if your personality demands keen, incisive eager toes, they are permitted by Fashion. If on the other hand you have that sort of person-silly which is more at home in round, suave, comfortable toes, they may be worn with equal propriety and modishness.

Whether you step off in elaborate high-heeled or bejeweled sandals or in trim pumps with severe chain-cut buckles is entirely a matter of individual preference.

Thinness of Hosiery

As to hosiery, short of doing without stockings completely, which appears to be within the range of possibility, ankle coverings could not have more nearly approached the vanishing point.

One of the last answers which the Sphinx will give up when her cherished mysteries have been pried from her one by one by a flippancy and insatiable generation is how women are able to trip about icy streets, with the thermometer near the zero mark, in an openwork shoe and more thin silk stockings and still have feet left to stand on the next day.

It has been done; they are even doing it this season in spite of the fact that the shivers customarily frozen upon by the smartest women, who wear heavy ribbed silk or wool stockings for walking.

Woolen stockings can be had in all the lovely heather mixtures or in white. The white cashmere hose, sometimes plain, but usually cloaked with black or a bright color, have been very much worn at the Southern resorts with white homespun or serge suits, or with sport skirts in which white predominates.

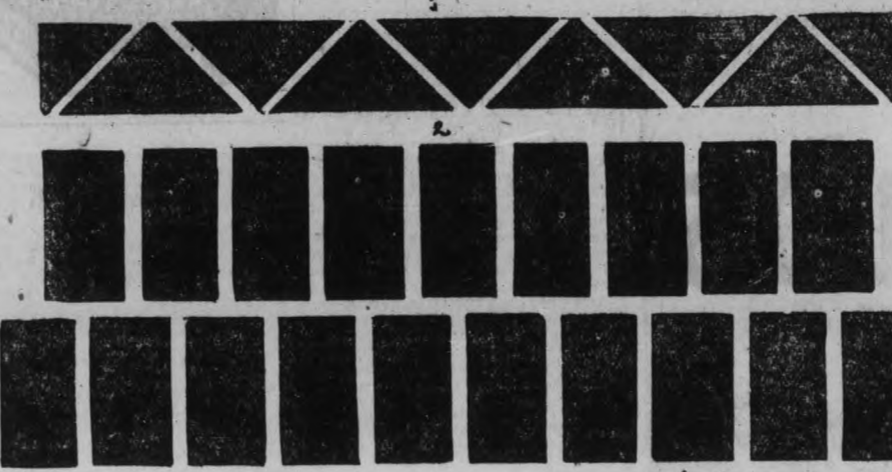

The English heather cashmere hose in purple or green are also much in demand for sports wear, but for the street gray or brown is the color most observed, and these may be ribbed or have a woven up and down stripe of another color. A gray stocking may be striped in dull blue or a brown with beige. Also cashmere stockings are woven with small squares and spots, either round or diamond shaped.

Woolen Sports Stockings

A fearsome style of woolen sports stockings is proudly displayed which has a zigzag stripe in mottled colors, the design of which is all too obviously copied from a rattlesnake skin. Some of these are even quite carelessly patterned in blue and yellow and it is safe to say that the wearer of them will always be the most conspicuous feature of any golf course.

The heavy all-silk ribbed stockings for sport and street wear are shown in navy blue, green, purple, red, brown, white black and heather colors, and an exceedingly trim and handsome stocking they are. There are also some new and desirable English lisle stockings which come in dark color, or if two, the triangles of alternating colors. After it is stencilled, using oil paint for the purpose and allowing it to dry thoroughly, embroider around each triangle with heavy rope silk in self or a contrasting color, or else gold or woollen thread.

The design marked No. 2 may be used for any of the above articles, and the design is so arranged that it may be divided, using one of the narrow bands alone.

The design marked No. 3 may be done in dull brown with brilliant yellow centres embroidered in the discs, coming to within an eighth-inch of the edge, or the horizontal line may be in brown, the leaves green. This design is for the bottom of curtains and portieres.

The bird design, marked No. 4, should be stencilled in one dark color, simulating a block print.

broidered on their surface. Beige, gray or elephant color are more worn than black.

Drawn work and embroidery is not confined to cloaking, but often decorates the instep in lines or patterns. The beauty of diamond shaped inserts of real lace in either white or black is a fond delusion of the designers of hosiery which persists from year to year. No stocking, so distorts the ankle as this one, but the mistaken idea is even carried to the point where beaded and jewelled net takes the place of lace.

Dark Stockings Cloaked

Dark stockings are cloaked in white and light stockings in darker silks. Neutral toned stockings have rather large spots, round or diamond shaped, in gray black or white, em-

MAKING THE HOME LOOK ATTRACTIVE

Plants and Flowers That Cost You Nothing and Look Well

Every housekeeper loves to see plants and cut flowers, or any bit of greenery in her home throughout the Winter and early Spring months. They help to make the simplest room look so attractive and cosy.

But with the present prohibitive prices of these luxuries—for that is what they are—she is apt to become discouraged and give up the artistic touches.

She mustn't do this, but instead make up her mind to have them in spite of everything. And she can by using a little ingenuity.

Few seem to know that the tops of common vegetables such as carrots, turnips, and parsnips can be induced to send up an attractive growth. They should be collected from the kitchen and placed in shallow dishes. Pour in a little water and always keep moisture in the plates. Put the dishes in a light window and the tops of the vegetable roots will soon begin to grow out vigorously.

The carrot growth is just like some delicate fern, while the turnips and parsnips are almost as attractive. Where color is desired the tops of a few beetroots should be secured.

The carrot growth is just like some delicate fern, while the turnips and parsnips are almost as attractive. Where color is desired the tops of a few beetroots should be secured.

These will send up foliage which is most exquisitely tinted in varying shades of yellow and bright pink. These vegetable roots will provide a lovely table decoration.

A beautiful bouquet, guaranteed to last many months, is shown in the sketch, which has been taken from the Canadian Home Journal. They look like dry grasses, thistles, weeds, and cat-tails, but they are much more. They are a combination of lovely colors.

To the cat-tails has been applied a coat of oil paint of old blue, rose and violet tints. The thistles have been dipped for a moment into boiling fast dyes of royal purple and brick red. The lavender and green grasses and weeds have been treated in the same way, the whole blending together in a fascinating color scheme.

Pussy willows, little Chinese heads, from the country during the early Spring are also well worth keeping all the year in a simple vase. The little painted wooden birds seen resting on the branches in the sketch, also a copy from the Canadian Home Journal, are the tops of garden sticks which can easily be procured and add greatly to the attractiveness of the bouquet.

Branches of cedar trees can also be kept in vases a good part of the Winter with a plentiful supply of water as well as branches of pine. If they fade, more can be secured from the country during the Winter months, but for those who live there all the year round it is so much the better, and there should be no excuse for them not having always a good supply of greenery in their houses.

INCENSE BURNING AGAIN IN FASHION

From Studio Fan It Is Now Used in Home of Dainty Women

Burning incense in some quaint, colorful bit of Oriental art used to be a fad of the studio. But nowadays its use in the home has assumed ever increasing proportions. And the artistic manner in which incense and incense burners are sold, adds immensely to their attractiveness in the home. In any room incense is pleasant and imparts an agreeable fragrance as suggestive of comfort, luxury and well being, to most women, as does the aroma of a Havana cigar to a man, while in a sick room, where a weary depressed convalescent finds it very boreome, it is a most welcome and stimulating change.

Among the many designs of incense burners are conventional Oriental figures squat with outstretched bowls in hand, little Chinese heads, crescented turks or Chinese in gorgeous costumes of bright yellows, greens and reds.

For those who prefer them, metal bowls, urns and similar receptacles in bronze or copper, or gleaming brass may be had for the living room. And the same urn, let it be suggested, is a novel but convenient ash tray for the man of the house.

As for incense powders to burn in these holders, one may choose from almost as many varieties as perfume. One called "Turkish Scented Room" and spiced wood odors. Wouldn't this be appropriate for use during the holidays?

Orange wood blossom, a stick incense, would be suitable for a bride! It might be burned at any of the delightful little affairs that pay her honor.

The enchantingly sweet odor of Golden Sandal of Persia is poetical as the Rubaiyat, and the Garden of Eden and Breath of Heaven also suggest Persian romance. Rosary pastilles are, of course, pleasantly fragrant and their leaves, heads, roses, violets, bouquette and ambrette, all delightful to burn.

HOW TO CONSERVE.

To conserve sugar.—Mix one cupful of sugar with one-quarter cupful of corn-starch. Will do for all uses except tea and coffee.

To conserve meat.—Take eight pounds of shank for a soup. Now cut off the thickest meat, put through the meat chopper; makes a nice tender steak. Then remove the marrow from the bones and remove all the outside skin. The meat with the fibres in it place on the stove and boil very slowly until well cooked. The bones and small pieces put over and boil. When partly cooked add one-quarter pound of butter. Then put in two onions, two potatoes, one turnip, a little cabbage, celery and parsley. Put through a strainer. This makes a delicious soup. If you have more than you like can it. The fibre meat makes a meat pie. Add a little rice and put a crust over the top.

The marrow is very nice. Heat and eliminate the oil from the marrow; strain when nearly cool, heat until light and add one-quarter teaspoonful of oil of zinc.

You can make soup out of water that your corned beef is boiled in and it is delicious.

TIMELY TIPS.

If your bodkin has been misplaced just fasten a small safety pin in the end of the ribbon and it will serve just as well.

A very rusty stove may be polished to look like new before attempting to polish it, the surface is gone over with a soft rag dipped in vinegar. A second application is often advisable.

PROVINCIAL ARCHIVES ARE RICH IN HISTORICAL LORE

By J. Forsyth, Provincial Librarian.

One of the duties which is undertaken by the Provincial Archives Department is the preservation of early manuscript letters, diaries and journals, without which no true history of the Province can ever be written.

Too many histories are, written without reference to these original sources, historians, being content in many instances to take the printed book as gospel—with the result that errors creep in which through repetition in course of time will furnish such distorted accounts that we won't recognize our history.

We have collected vast amount of this manuscript material which has been carefully indexed but there are still many broken links in the chain of events, episodes about which there is only the most vague information.

Much of the information we have concerning Sir James Douglas was obtained through the courtesy of Mrs. Dennis Harris who presented the Archives Department with a very fine collection of letters written in colonial days, by her illustrious father. Similarly we are indebted to many other old-time residents including Mrs. R. B. McMicking.

Another field of activity in which a good deal has been accomplished is the gathering together of the old department records of the Colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia. These documents throw considerable light on public affairs and the administration of the Colonial Governors. In addition to the documents a great many engravings and photographs of early scenes and pioneers have been added to the collection.

Departmental Bulletins.

An effort has also been made to photograph the historic landmarks of the Province, particularly the sites and remains of the old Hudson's Bay and Puget Sound Agricultural Companies' farms and establishments and standing memorials of the

When making cookies if a tea towel is placed over the bread board and floured slightly the cookie dough can be rolled out in half the time and will not stick.

The best way to keep lemons fresh is to pack them in moist sand.

Salad dressing should not be mixed with salad until just before serving.

The oftener soup is strained the clearer it becomes. An old table napkin serves well for a strainer.

Rub the bottom crust of pie with the white of an egg and it will prevent the juice from soaking into it.

If you add a few thin pieces of white or any mild soap to the water before putting flowers into it, they will keep fresh for a week or two.

A few clothes strewn around on pantry shelves will keep ants away.

A little cornstarch put on cranberry stain and left for an hour or so will make stain disappear.

A little milk put in water while boiling onions will make onions taste much better. They will not have that rank taste in them.

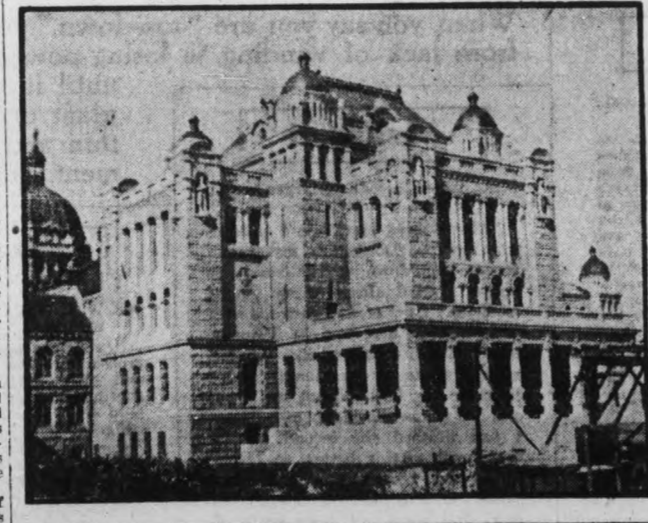

Geranium plants watered once or twice a week with ammonia water will blossom much better. One-half teaspoon to a gallon of water.

Cook cabbage without cover and it will not be any odor from cooking it.

PALESTINE LAND OF BEAUTIFUL BLOSSOMS

Commonest Are Lilies of the Field—in All Colors

A recent visitor to Palestine has declared that owing to its treeless condition the country can be viewed from three high points. Like a huge relief map, the whole land spreads itself before the gaze from Olivet, Ebat and Tabor. It is a striking statement, emphasizing the ruin wrought by the destruction of the trees which the Zionists hope in a short space of time to amend by a process of scientific afforestation. Nevertheless, it must not be assumed that Palestine is a barren land. Far from it, according to a statement by the organ of the British Palestine committee.

Apart from what has already been achieved in recent years by the Jewish colonists, Palestine bears abundant evidence of the power of nature to beautify its still fertile soil. Palestine is essentially a land of wild flowers, flowers, too, of great variety and brilliant hues. For a brief spell, indeed, and especially in the Spring, they completely give the lie to the notion that the land is bare and desolate. When the "latter rain" is over, the flowers make their appearance and bloom in profusion and perfection for about a month. This season usually begins about the middle of March, or later, when the rain is delayed. The Summer has its flowers, and even in the Winter months of December and January color is to be found.

The most common flower grown every part of the country in gay profusion are those which have been generally identified as the "lilies of the field," mentioned in the New Testament. This is the Anemone, conoraria, which is generally red, on Tristram, considers the white broom, which is referred to as juniper in the Old Testament, as one of the most beautiful plants of the country. He considers the gauzy, delicate pink and white of the hillsides covered with blossom as he has seen it in Gilead as unsurpassed even in the apple blossom of an English orchard.

The dainty rose-pink flowers of a small flax plant haunt the limestone hills of Galilee, together with the red and blue pimpernel. The dark blue and white flowers are found in masses in the Jordan and Nablus Valleys. In the Jordan Valley, too, and by the sea of Galilee, oleanders with bright pink blossoms amid the dark green leaves stand in fragrant beauty. Miss Augusta Temple, who has written a valuable book on the trees and flowers of Palestine, points out that the oleander is declared by some people to have been the willows of the brook used for constructing booths for the festival of tabernacles.

The roses of Israh and the song of Solomon is now generally identified with a yellow and white narcissus which grows abundantly in the plain of Sharon. It has a strong scent, and the natives of the country decorate their houses with its blossoms, and carry the flower with them in the streets. Roses have been grown for centuries in Palestine, but the exact identification of this flower mentioned in the Bible is not certain. Miss Temple considers the oleander as the most likely bloom.

The railroad line near Jerusalem, she says, passes through the Wadi-el-Ward, or Valley of Roses, so named from the roses cultivated there for centuries in Palestine, the favorite Eastern perfume, attar of roses. The cistus has also been claimed to be the rose of Sharon, although it is found only in the hills. This flower gives ladanum, which has been translated "myrrh," the balsam once held in high favor in pharmacy. The well-known rose of Jericho, which expands when war, and is, therefore, known as the resurrection flower, has no fixed habitation but it is blown about on the sandy plains by the Dead Sea.

Water lilies, yellow and white grow in still water, especially on Lake Huleh. Tulips, brilliant in color, are abundant in great variety all over the country, and the saffron crocus is also found everywhere. The mandarin, which has poisonous qualities and was used as a medicine in ancient times, is the subject of much superstition.

BIG PERFORMANCE OF "ELIJAH" MONDAY

Mendelssohn's Beautiful Oratorio to Be Given at First Presbyterian Church

Mendelssohn's oratorio masterpiece, "Elijah" is, in accordance with Eastern custom of many years past, to be rendered at the First Presbyterian Church, on Monday evening, by a choir of one hundred voices. The soloists will be Miss Eva Hart, soprano; Mrs. Jesse Longfield and Miss Olive Dettler, contraltos; Edmund Petch, tenor; Frederick Taggart, of Vancouver, basso. Jackson Hanby, the choir-master of the church, will conduct: H. Charlesworth will preside at the piano and A. Gurnley, at the organ.

For the benefit of those who do not know the story of the oratorio, it is given briefly herewith: The introduction to the oratorio is prefaced by a brief but very impressive recitative, Elijah's prophecy of the drought, and the overture pictures the distress which is to follow as the curse settles on the hills and valleys. This suffering is voiced in the opening chorus and appeal after appeal is followed by an outburst of lamentation by the people. Then comes the summoning of Elijah to the brook of Cherith and the dramatic scene of the raising of the widow's son at Zarephath. The second scene deals with the appearance of Elijah before Ahab and the challenge of the priests of Baal to the sacrifice on Mount Carmel, set forth in vigorous recitative accompanied by short dramatic choruses. This is succeeded by the calm dignified prayer of the Prophet, the moment of calm before the storm of

MISS OLIVE DETTOR

Elijah's vigorous condemnation of the priests. The storm scene, with its deluge of rain ends with a chorus of gratitude from a grateful people. The second part of the oratorio opens with a note of warning, which develops into a grand announcement, then Obadiah's advising Elijah fly to the wilderness. In the next scene Elijah is alone and in tender, plaint resigns himself and prays for death. Visited by a trio of angels, who sing the lovely, "Lift Thine Eyes to the Mountains," Elijah no longer prays for death but longs for the Divine presence. A tempest arises and the hills are shaken by the storm, after which the Lord appears to Elijah, and the oratorio closes with a burst of jubilation.

It is stated that Caruso has paid in income taxes $100,000, Galli-Curci from $75,000 to $80,000, Tetrazzini $100,000 and John McCormack $140,000.

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, will never be able to sing again, says a Central News message from New York. An operation on the throat has robbed her of a voice which is now familiar to thousands who served in the American forces at home and in France, with whom she was extremely popular.

TO FEATURE WORKS OF GENA BRANSCOMBE

Unique Programme to Be Given by Ladies' Musical Club in April

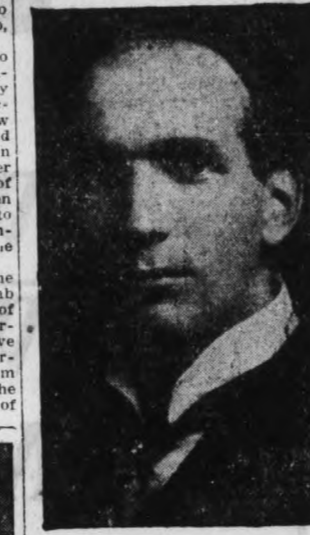

The next concert to be given under the auspices of the Victoria Ladies' Musical Club is scheduled for Thursday, April 15. This will be somewhat out of the ordinary and will comprise a number of the very beautiful compositions of Gena Branscombe, a Canadian composer whose works are known to many musicians on the Pacific Coast as well as throughout Canada generally and the United States.

Gena Branscombe, known also to her friends as Mrs. John Ferguson Tenney, was born at Picton, Ontario, but for a number of years has been a resident of New York city. Her creative gift was first discovered by Felix Borowski, of Chicago, with whom she studied composition for seven years. During this period she also studied piano with Dr. Ziegfeld, Arthur Friedheim and Rodolph Ganz, and twice won the gold medal for composition given by the Chicago Musical College.

After continuing her studies for one year under the guidance of Alexander von Flietz, she accepted a position as head of the piano department at the Whitman College, Conant, Wash. In 1908 she traveled in Europe, finally resuming her studies with Rodolph Ganz in Berlin, where also she studied with Professor Humperdinck.

The Art of Music says: "Gena Branscombe is one of the very few women composers of this continent who have established for themselves a genuine creative musical individuality. Inexhaustible buoyancy—a superlative emotional wealth, and a wholly singular gift of musical intuition, are the qualities which have shaped this composer's musical personality. Her work is the outpouring of moods—moods of intensity and richness."

The content of the programme is Miss Louise A. de W. Moore, who has been assisted by Mrs. Horace Hamlet. Among the assisting artists are Mrs. S. M. Morton, contralto; Ernest Butterworth, baritone; and

FREDERICK TAGGART

Thomas Kelway, tenor. Suites for violin and piano will be played by Irene Bick and Dorothy Dean respectively, thus introducing the younger element to what has for the most part been considered hitherto as the professional field. Several duos and quartettes will round out a very interesting programme.

FINE RENDERING OF "OLIVET TO CALVARY"

First Congregational Church Choir Interprets Sacred Cantata

There was not an empty seat in the First Congregational Church last evening when the choir, assisted by George Guy, tenor, and J. Mitchell, baritone, gave a very fine interpretation of "Olivet to Calvary." The choral singing was accompanied by both organ and orchestra, a combination which was very pleasing. The performance throughout was delightful and a fine tribute to the work of the conductor, Frederick King.

From the opening chorus, "When O'er the Steep of Olivet," to the closing soprano solo and chorus, by Mrs. W. D. Spence and the choir, tone qualities were well sustained; every attack was with precision and so sympathetic in spirit manifested that the audience was carried from event to event as if living over again these momentous hours; passion and pleading, scorn and love, decision and faith, were alike presented with faithfulness.

The solo work was exceptionally well done, the voices of both Mr. Guy and Mr. Mitchell being eminently suitable to their respective parts. Special mention might be made of the chorus work in the two most exacting numbers, "And While He Yet Spake," and "Crucify Him," in the swift passages of which every word was heard distinctly. Miss Louise A. de W. Moore presided at the organ with marked success and played during the offering Faure's Crucifix.

GODOWSKY WILL PLAY HERE SOON

Local Piano Firm Has Secured Famous Pianist For Recital

It will be of great interest in musical circles, not only in this City but elsewhere, to know that Leopold Godowsky, one of the greatest pianists of the day, will give his only recital in this Province at the end of the present month in Victoria. Definite arrangements have been completed and the long-looked-for visit of this composer-pianist is sure to create much enthusiasm amongst lovers of music, particularly with pianists. The master's visit here has been brought about through the efforts of the Willis Pianos, Ltd., together with Concert Manager George J. Dyke, and it is safe to say that nothing will be left undone in order that the recital here will prove a big success. Special efforts will be put forth and inducements offered to all musical students throughout the City, in order that every student will have the opportunity of hearing to advantage this splendid artist, and with this in view the management is securing a building with ample and large seating capacity.

TO PRODUCE PIRATES OF PENZANCE AT THE PRINCESS

Leading Local Artistes to Appear in Popular Gilbert and Sullivan Opera

Lovers of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas—and their name must be legion—will be delighted to learn that after a long lapse of years, Victorians are to be regaled with the production of one of these old, but ever new, gems of light opera. On Saturday week, April 10, the Princess Players will stage the opening performance of "The Pirates of Penzance" and there is little doubt but that the box office receipts will prove anew the popularity of this evergreen folk-like story of the sea.

Reginald N. Hincks is in charge of the production and with his genius for allotting the right parts to the right people, has chosen a particularly strong cast representative of Victoria's best musical and dramatic talent. Miss Eva Hart will have the role of Mabel, Mrs. Jesse Longfield, that of Ruth, Miss Mona Misener as Edith; the part of Frederick will be taken by R. Mackenzie, while to James Hunter is allotted the bewitching role of the Pirate King. Lieut. R. R. Webb is to find ample opportunity for his talents as the aggressive and officious Sergeant of Police; John Petch will make a welcome re-appearance on the local stage as Sam, and in the part of the Major-General, Mr. Hincks will find full scope for his versatility.

A well-balanced chorus, representative of some of the best singers in the city, has been chosen, and the rehearsals which are now steadily in progress suggest that this most important feature—for the choruses of Gilbert and Sullivan operas are an outgrowth—will be in trustworthy hands.

The training of the chorus and the arduous and important role of conductor is being undertaken by Herbert Kent, the popular and efficient leader of the Arion Club. Mrs. A. J. Gibson, the gifted pianist, will preside at the piano; Mark G. Taylor, the important work of costuming the production has been left to Mrs. Taylor.

MUSICAL NOTES

(By George J. Dyke.)

Mendelssohn's great oratorio "Elijah," which is to be given on Easter Monday, by the amalgamated choir in the First Presbyterian Church under Jackson Hanby's baton, will be given by the New York Oratorio Society in the same week with Frieda Hempel, Merle Alcock, Edward Johnson and Louis Graveure as soloists. The New York choir will number a thousand voices, and with an orchestra of 150 pieces, will be directed by that "doyen" of conductors, Walter Damrosch. New York will hold a Music Festival from April 6 to 11, inclusive.

Incidental music means, generally speaking, an overture, a song or two, a dance or two, and entr'actes.

Norman O'Neill has written music to "Julius Caesar," and Cyril Scott to "Othello." Such well-known stage plays set to music should be interesting alike to actor and musician.

Jean Gerardy, the brilliant prodigy cellist of a generation ago is still amongst us. He enlisted in the Belgian army soon after the outbreak of hostilities. He is now resuming his artistic career, and will be in England for a concert or two this Spring. Gerardy was a little chap of about twelve had a wonderfully limpid and gorgeous tone.

The "Tales From Hoffman" had its first New York production in 1882.

It is good hearing that our own Gilbert and Sullivan are so well appreciated the "other side" of the line. The New York critics have spoken in most glowing terms of the recent huge success of the opera, "Ruddigore." By the way was not this score at first spelt "Ruddygore?"

George Eastman, of Rochester, U. S. A., is another big philanthropist. Altogether in the construction, the site and equipment of the Eastman School of Music and the National Academy of Motion Pictures, Mr. Eastman's gift to Rochester covers $3,500,000. This school of music is planned for the accommodation of about 2,500 pupils, and in the building will be two halls, a small hall for chamber concerts, and a large auditorium to be used for both music and motion pictures. What an opportunity for the people of Rochester, who through George Eastman's generosity will have in their midst such an institution of education. And what an opportunity alike for the student and teacher! It is estimated that each year fully 1,500,000 persons will hear the best in music, and see the best that film art can produce.

Louis Graveure, at the last series of six concerts given by the Grenadier Guards Band in Montreal last month, got a big reception. The "Gondollers" was also given there with great success by the St. Lambert Amateur Operatic Society.

The Toronto Male Chorus, an organization 200 strong, gave their fourth annual concert on March 4 in the Massey Hall. We hear this

The earliest folk songs were expressed by one theme or melody being contrasted with another after which the first melody is repeated. This is the simplest elementary form in music, and is the most popular pattern to be noted in folk songs; almost all familiar songs follow this model. From these simple folk songs and dances were developed all the more complicated forms evolved during the development of music.

ALONG VICTORIA'S AUTO WAY

Rotary week and Easter week is to be marked by Victoria's first open air display of new cars—a new model and a make new to Victoria.

The man who conceived the idea of the open air display of new cars with the possibilities of its popular appeal is P. E. Graves. The scene of the display is to be the C. & C. taxi parking space, Government Street, near the Post Office. The car that is to make its debut is the new Mitchell.

Mr. Graves is the president of the Mitchell Motor Agency, Ltd., 824 Johnson Street. During the whole of next week he will introduce to Victoria three five-passenger and one roadster Mitchell.

"I've been looking for a good car for a long time," said Mr. Graves yesterday in breaking the news of his motor feature. "I noticed the good points of the Mitchell, especially in its Victory model. Last October I wired to get the Mitchell, contract and have now been successful in being chosen distributor for the whole of Vancouver Island.

"From Seattle I traveled through all Northwest towns, keeping in touch with all cars. I interviewed the owners of Mitchells in the various cities and found that they were absolutely pleased with the Mitchell product. In nearly every instance they told me they would be in line for the new Mitchells as they came along.

"At present I have not started to push this car as I merely wish to demonstrate and let people know the sterling qualities and honest construction of the last and greatest effort of the Mitchell people.

"I am informed by the factory that they are booked for all the cars they can turn out and I know that we will fall far short of being able to supply the local demand.

"Already I have enough orders on hand to take care of the three carloads before I have yet received one car. The first carload arrived in Ladysmith on Thursday, the same day as the second carload left the factory. Both these carloads are spoken for as is the carload which leaves the factory for Victoria on April 10.

"The beautiful appearance of the new Mitchell deviates somewhat from the usual lines of most cars. The Mitchell has adopted the sloping radiator which gives the effect of a racing schooner. The painting is of the highest order, coat after coat being applied and rubbed on by hand. Ample time is given each coat to season and set. This gives a lustre that will stay bright through seasons' use. It is the old-fashioned way of finishing a motor car and experience proves it the only way for permanent satisfaction.

Some of the new points that appealed to me in the new Mitchell are: "The sturdy enduring construction of such parts as the rear axle where the severe strain comes in all automobiles. The Mitchell people are using the full floating spiral bevel type of axle. They are also using a three-plate dry disc clutch.

The rear springs are fifty-inch cantilevers. Out of every 50,000 already turned out not one broken one has yet been reported to the factory!

"As for economy, I fully believe that the 1920 Mitchell will make a wonderful showing, as it is built to give years of service.

"The Rayfield carburetor with its thermostat control of the water circulation, makes it so that the water in the engine jacket alone has to be heated for the assistance of vaporization in the carburetor. The result is almost immediate complete vaporization when the engine starts. This makes for additional economy.

"The Mitchell in all its parts is made in its own Mitchell factory, so that the profits of parts manufacturers are eliminated.

"Rock maple and white ash, the finest and most expensive of modern woods, are used for the body building.

"Rattles and squeaks have been eliminated in the 1920 model to harmonize with the smooth running motor. The motor is forty horsepower with a piston displacement of 248.9 cubic inches. This is considerably greater than the displacement of other motors in its class. The cylinders are cast in block of the L type and with removable heads. Remy electric starting, lighting and ignition are standardized with the 100-hour Willard storage battery.

"I believe you will have to look far and wide to find so near perfect a car. The only approach is in the custom-built models which are very costly.

These new motor taxes have been puzzling Jack Cartier.

"Unless I can find a system of figuring out the taxes, I may have to get in an accountant," said Mr. Cartier. "In the course of a year we handle every standard make of car, of every recent year and of varying values. The taxes on each of the used cars will have to be figured out separately. On the Scripps-Booth it's

TRAFFIC EXPERTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Industrial Development Prospects Are Exceptionally Bright

That the prospects were particularly bright this year for industrial development throughout the west was the opinion expressed by C. E. McPherson, Assistant Traffic Passenger Manager of the C. P. R., Winnipeg, in speaking of the Alberta-British Columbia Industrial Congress, which is being held this year from June 2 to 10. Mr. McPherson was one of a large party of Canadian Pacific officials who passed through this city recently on their way to the coast, completing their trip over the company's lines. He said that the outlook was very good this year and he expected to see a great stimulus of development throughout the western provinces. He expressed the opinion that the Congress was being held at a very opportune time and in bringing in a large body of representative men would prove the way to still further development of the natural resources of the country.

George Ham, another member of the C. P. R. party, expressed himself along the same lines. He drew attention to the large number of important places in Canada which were taking place in Canada this year and quoted the example of the Alabama and Georgia Manufacturers' Association, which body was holding its annual meeting this year in Quebec.

Mr. McPherson spoke optimistically of the formation of the Western Canada Colonization Association, the preliminary organization of which has been carried out under the wings of the Alberta Industrial Development Association. He stated that he was glad to see so much emphasis was being laid on the importance of taking care of the settlers when they reached this country. This, in his mind, was a paramount feature and he thought that much would be accomplished along these lines.

He dwelt on the great importance of making the new settlers feel that some one was taking a real interest in his affairs and that an organization stood ready to advice and help him in every possible way.

What The Experts Say

The wise car owner obeys his instruction book explicitly and does nothing unless he finds a good suggestion in an automotive magazine or in that same book.

He fills the base of his engine with lubricant when oil is necessary, as indicated by the gauge, but the instruction book does not always advise him further regarding the oiling system.

At the present high cost of lubricant more instructions are necessary.

You may have liquid in the base of your engine, but is it a lubricant?

Many times this liquid is a combination of cylinder oil and gasoline.

Its lubricating properties are poor and should the bearings burn out through lack of oil the owner is apt to blame the oil for the trouble.

Then he immediately buys oil of another grade, without knowing the real reason for his trouble.

The best way to make sure of having the right grade of oil is to use religiously the oil recommended by the manufacturers of the particular car you drive.

Depending upon the type of engine, crank-case oil should be changed regularly.

Old lubricating oil should be drawn out and new oil put in for at least every 1,000 miles of driving.

In special cases it is advisable to renew the oil much oftener, but this is the usual length of time it may be left in the engine.

If the engine doesn't get a sufficient amount of oil it will run hot.

If the driver does not notice that his oil gauge is failing to indicate,

When the engine is not getting enough oil it is usually because the oil supply has been allowed to run low or there is something wrong with the circulating system—either the pump is not forcing the oil to the bearings properly or the pipes are plugged or the connections are loose or the strainer is obstructed with foreign matter.

Whenever the gauge does not function properly the trouble should be investigated at once.

Make sure first of all, that there is enough oil in the crank case.

Then take a careful look at the oil pipe connections to make sure that they are not leaking.

If these are tight take out the oil strainer and clean it and if the trouble is still in evidence disconnect all the oil pipes and stick wires through them or blow them out with the tire pump.

Finally, a better adjustment of the oil pump may be made to cause it to pump more oil, provided indications prove it to be improperly adjusted.

Most every one knows the noise of a squeaky spring.

Run your car over a smooth road which has a few small holes in it now and then.

Drive over these holes at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour.

If your car squeaks only when you go over the holes, and rides silent while on the smooth parts, you may be sure that your springs need oiling.

It has long been customary to clean gasoline engine cylinders with long-handled scraping tools, the cutting edges of which are hardened.

In scraping a cylinder in this manner it is important to have the piston in the uppermost position of its sweep, since otherwise the scraping tool is likely to slip into the bore of the cylinder and injure the smooth surface of the cylinder wall.

In dressing up your old car for the coming summer's touring the cellular part of the radiator should be painted—not with the often-used aluminum paint, but with lamp black, which radiates heat more readily and does not assume the dead look which aluminum paint takes on after it has been heated for a number of times.

A very good radiator paint is made up by stirring about four ounces of lamp black in a mixture of three ounces of boiled linseed oil and one ounce of turpentine.

A sprayer, such as often used for spraying body polish on the car, makes an excellent device for applying the radiator paint to the insides of the cells which cannot very well be reached by means of a brush.

SEEK MORE BEAUTY IN LATEST MODELS

Producers of New Cars Aim to Eliminate Awkward Line Combinations

(By C. W. Churchill)

In time past when a motor car maker occasionally eliminated from his body lines an awkward angle or a fussy curve his car was judged to be more beautiful than before. And, of course, it did become, by this cleansing process, more agreeable to the eye, and therefore more beautiful.

But there is a positive in beauty as well as a negative, and the mere eliminating of jarring lines never accomplishes as much toward producing artistically beautiful cars as can be accomplished when the maker gets the right point of view.

That point of view must recognize that the motor car is not a horse-drawn buggy or a marine vessel or an aeroplane, but is an entity of itself, with peculiar necessities and possibilities. Until a car builder gets that idea and pursues it, he will continue to build cars having a makeshift look.

Early Cars Makeshifts

All early cars were makeshifts emphatically. The first cars were necessarily "horseless vehicles," differing from other vehicles, at the time in appearance only because no horses drew them along. Motor car inventors were so busy getting their engines to run and to keep running that they had no time to invent complete vehicles.

Nor was that even desirable. A carriage running along the streets without horses was strange enough in itself. So the early motor car men took carriage construction much as they found it, "neatly concealed" their engines under the carriage body and let it go at that. The makeshift served for a time.

But gradually, when horses scared less on motor vehicles, it began to dawn on car makers that the engine did not belong under the body, because thus placed it was inaccessible.

The first big change, therefore, was that of putting the engine in front of the driver's seat. This gave the desired accessibility, and also it gave the car a new balance that made driving safer by reducing the danger of skidding.

Then when engines began to develop real power and speed, cars needed something that slow-moving horse vehicles had not acquired—the glass front, or windshield, which ranks as the first real invention in the progress of body making.

But in addition to that distinction, and besides protecting the faces of driver and passengers from wind and weather, the glass front did something else. It was a distinct line of demarcation between that part of the vehicle devoted to the power plant and that part provided for passengers.

Effect Not Beautiful

The motor car was then more than ever before a two-piece construction, with an engine under a low bonnet out in front and a section with high-backed seats for passengers behind. Between these two sections stood the glass front, pointing skyward at right angles to the inevitable horizontal lines of bonnet and body. And that was decidedly a not beautiful effect.

To get away from this awkward combination of lines car makers inserted at the junction of bonnet and glass front various makeshifts—bumps, humps and whatnot, curves, convex and concave, but without accomplishing much that could be called beautiful.

Along about the same time bodies were lowered and seats ceased to be observation towers. Passengers sat in, not on, their cars. Then came cars of "stream lines," and some bold spirits even built bodies resembling small craft picked out of the water and set on four wheels.

It was plain to be seen that makers were reaching out for some sort of effect. But just what effect they themselves seemed not to know—except that it should be beautiful.

More liberal financial co-operation by the Federal Government in road building in Western States where large areas of public lands are located was advocated recently by Secretary Meredith of the Department of Agriculture. The appropriation of $100,000,000 annually for four years was suggested.

Based upon rates per 100 pounds, the cost of motor truck transportation between New York and Philadelphia is eighty cents; by rail the cost is $1.02, with an added fifteen cents per 100 pounds for teaming charges.

First to Give Peace-Time Value

$1365 GRAY-DORT

F.O.B. CHATHAM WAR TAX EXTRA

Immediately the armistice was signed, Gray-Dort executives began working toward a readjustment of motor car values.

Last fall we were able to put in production the present Gray-Dort—the first car to offer you heaping, peace-time value.

Overshadowing Other Light Cars

Ordinary light car standards did not satisfy us in building the Gray-Dort.

So we built a bigger and better motor—with 3 1/2-inch bore and 5-inch stroke; with a heavy crankshaft—weighs 40 pounds, as against about 25 pounds in other light cars. Specially-designed, quiet valves; extra-large wrist-pins; extra-light, three-ringed pistons.

As in the motor, so it is throughout the chassis. A cellular-type radiator and extra big water jackets for cooling. *A heavy, safe steering gear which is unusually easy on the driver. Frame heavier and sturdier than the light car standard. Rear axle specially strong and fine—and built right under our supervision here in Chatham. The long springs are built here, too. *The gas tank is big and is placed in the rear for convenience and appearance. *The emergency brake is on a lever, as in big cars—and the brake lining is Thermoid.

Convenience has not been sacrificed to sturdiness in the Gray-Dort. *The side-curtains open with the doors as in cars costing $2000 and up, and they fit smoothly. *The tonneau has very much more leg-room. *A shorter, smarter cowl does the same for the driving compartment. The gears can be shifted with the pressure of two fingers. The brakes are positive in action. To drive a Gray-Dort is real pleasure.

Clothed in Beauty

Completing this high-grade chassis is a body wonderfully good-looking. The smooth lines do not force themselves upon your attention. They are not extreme. But always you are aware of their supreme good-looks. And Gray-Dort design is the type which remains in favor for many years.

And then the wonderful Gray-Dort finish! We have spent 60 years developing this finish for vehicles. It is applied as only master craftsmen can finish a job. It is lasting and lustrous. It is one of the outstanding features of the Gray-Dort.

*You will notice, too, the rather high hood with its many long, narrow, louvers. *The smart top, hand-tailored in our own shops. The French pleated upholstery. The full sweep of the heavy gauge fenders.

At $1365 the Gray-Dort will be the fastest selling car of the year. The output has been doubled. Yet there is every sign of a shortage. We advise you to see the Gray-Dort dealer now.

*Features marked with this asterisk are some of the improvements new to this Gray-Dort.

TRACTORS WILL REVOLUTIONIZE LOGGING INDUSTRY

Caterpillar Types Effective in Logs, Both in Winter and Summer

Malone, N. Y., April 3.—Motor tractors, introduced for the first time in logging operations in the Adirondack forests near here, promise to entirely revolutionize the logging industry, because of the difficulty in hauling felled trees to streams or mills, logging will become an all-year-round activity as the tractor has successfully solved the hauling problem.

Neither snow nor lack of snow, neither Summer nor Winter matters to the tractor; the heavy and rough roads of the mountains are nothing to its creeping, crawling feet.

The lumberman was quick to learn the lesson of the war and to-day there are machines in the various lumber camps, drawing lines of sleds laden with great trees, the hoarse bark of their motors resounding through the woods as they make their way to the skidways.

Haul Over Snow
The danger to the mountain from this new development in lumbering may be calculated when one compares the few cords which teams are able to draw with the thirty cords at a trip when one forty-horse-power tractor is drawing daily in the sphere of operations of the Sherman Lumber Company in the Kildare region. Similar motors are at work on other jobs in this country.

If the tractor continues satisfactory, it will not be long before the chug of the motor will be heard wherever lumbering is now done with teams.

The machine has caterpillar traction and steers with a front sled. It is hauling about thirty cords to a trip, using three sets of sleds. The first sled is loaded partly on the rear to weigh down the machine and secure traction. The log road over which the hauls are made is an ordinary Adirondack logging road.

WHAT TO DO IF SELF-STARTER FALLS DOWN ON ITS JOB

Automatic Cranking Device Has Delicate Attachments

For the benefit of the motor novice and the man who expects to own his first car this Spring, The Times is publishing a series of articles on the construction and operation of motor cars. The seventh, herewith, tells about the self-starter, its care and up-keep. Another article will appear next Saturday.

Possibly there may be something more useless about an auto than a self-starter which will not start—either the car or itself—but I do not happen to recall what it is. It does balk at times and it follows, therefore, that it is necessary to learn how to start a self-starter when pushing the pedal has no effect. However, merely because pushing the pedal does not do the trick, it were well to remember, first of all, that does not mean that the whole works is out of kilter.

It is on record that one fellow, who found the pedal did not start things and concluded the whole thing was bad, was amazed when a mechanic next day pulled up the pedal, which had become stuck so that it did not close the switch, and then pushed it down with regulation effect. Rule, not guessing, or intuition, or hunch, should govern your hunt for starter troubles.

Learn Current Course.
Taking it for granted that you have followed previous advice and have patiently read the instruction book on the starter and have sought out the wiring on the car so that you know the layout and just how the motor starts and how attached to the engine crank shaft, we may safely proceed. The connection may be through a gear on the flywheel or by silent chain with overrunning clutch on the forward end of the crank shaft, usually arranged to release the motor as soon as the engine starts. If the system is a single unit the chain drive is probable.

Where the generator for replenishing the battery is a separate unit it may be driven by chain, gear or otherwise, sometimes with a coupling where the ignition device is built into the generator. Inspection of your car has revealed to you its peculiarities. Be sure to get it through your head just how the current travels back and forth from battery to starter and from generator to battery, through regulator, cut-out, switch and charge and discharge indicator.

Regulator and Cut-Out.
The regulator is to prevent a too high charging rate by introducing a resistance which operates when the rate is too high. The regulator is sealed so that you cannot get at it. If anything is wrong with it an expert must be called. The cut-out is to make connection with the battery when the generator produces a higher voltage than that of the battery, and to break the connection when the generator voltage falls below that of the battery.

The chief troubles in starting systems come from:

Loose, short-circuited or broken wires.

Brushes stuck or worn so that they do not make good contact with the commutators of motor and generator.

Dirty or worn commutators.

Battery run down because of great use of current than charging capacity of generator.

Mechanical disorder in starting switch, cut-out or regulator, or in the connection between starting motor and engine, or between generator and engine.

What to Do in Trouble.

If the starting motor will not turn when the pedal is pressed, first see if there is current in the battery; if the terminals are tightly fastened; if the switch works properly; if the wires are tight on motor terminals and if brushes make good contact. With the pedal pressed test for current at motor terminals with a voltmeter. If a good voltage shows the trouble is somewhere in the motor. If the brushes are clean and make a good contact and no wires are loose or broken, the trouble must be in the winding and requires the services of an expert.

If the motor rotates but does not start the engine, examine the gear or chain drive to see if it is working properly. Determine if the overrunning clutch slips. If the motor cranks the engine but the latter does not start, the trouble is in the engine, not the starting system. The next article will deal with such troubles.

Test Current.

If, when the engine is running, the indicator does not show "charge," first examine the cut-out to see if it is closed and then the wiring between generator and battery. Although you cannot look inside the regulator, you can test for current at the generator terminals with a voltmeter, and where the wires are attached to the regulator and where they leave that device; also at the switch and at the ammeter or charge indicator, to determine if current is flowing. Thus you can locate the points between which the break in circuit occurs. If all lights are burning they may consume more current than the generator is producing. If the indicator shows "discharge" when the engine is running at ordinary road speed, either the generator or the regulator needs attention by an expert.

If an inspection you do not find the cut-out closed, close it by hand for a moment while the engine is running and see if it remains closed. It may have been stuck, or the generator may have needed a slight current from the battery to renew what is called residual magnetism, especially if the car has been laid up a long time. Remember this after the long idle spell because of this Winter's road conditions.

Care For Wires.
The chief thing to remember in looking for troubles is that by eliminating one part of the system after another soon the search will narrow down to a small bit of wiring or a single device, where it is comparatively easy to locate the trouble. Always work with the wiring diagram of the car handy for reference, at least until you have learned the system quite thoroughly, and always carry the diagram in the car for reference by the repair man, if you call one in for major troubles.

Make an occasional inspection of the wiring, looking for loose wires and worn places where they vibrate against the frame or other parts. (The wires about the Ford timer are especially subject to such wear.) Keep the wires free from oil or grease; keep the terminals clean, the switch points clean, and if the battery runs down, particularly in Winter, have it charged at the service station. With these precautions your road troubles with the electric system should be slight.

75 PER CENT. OF WORLD'S RUBBER GOES INTO TIRES

The manufacture of rubber products, which in 1919 became a billion-dollar industry in the United States alone, is consuming rubber at the annual rate of 350,000 tons.

To meet a tremendously cumulative demand there has been a great increase in the production of plantation rubber, as indicated by the following figures:

Year	Plantation	Other sources	Total
1909	3,600	62,000	65,600
1910	5,200	63,200	68,400
1911	14,433	60,728	75,161

States is the nation manufacturing and consuming most of the world's supply of rubber to-day. More than 75 per cent. of the rubber produced goes into tire equipment for motor vehicles.

Up to about eight years ago, as is seen by this table, there was little stability to the source of supply, because the world was largely dependent on the gatherings of wild rubber from the jungle trees of Brazil, Mexico and the Congo. Then, thanks to the foresight of an English traveler who brought rubber tree seeds from South America and interested his Government in experimenting with plantations in India, rubber production began to multiply rapidly and manufacturers could rely on a sure, stable supply.

Although the source of supply is largely British, the centre of the cultivated rubber supply being in Singapore, Straits Settlements, the United

CAR OF FUTURE STILL SUBJECT OF EXPERT DISCUSSION

Varied Opinions Prevalent About Multi-Cylinder Motor

Every automobile owner would like to know the progress that is being made in automobile engine construction and what the future holds for the different types both on this continent and in Europe.

The result of a complete analysis of the engine situation brings out the fact that the overhead valve is fast becoming the American standard, and though the six-cylinder is the leader, with the four second, the eight third and the twelve last, there will be in a few days a sudden turn to multi-cylinders.

European critics seem to believe that also abroad will the multi-cylinder engine gradually creep into first position. It may be difficult for many to see how the six cylinder can be displaced, but the same view was held of the four not so many years ago. The ideas that the eight and the twelve present mechanical complications are that the more cylinders the more trouble have been shattered. There are two outstanding features of the multi-cylinder engine which will make it appeal all the stronger. One is its performance and the other its quietness.

Pulling Ability
Smoothness of torque—great pulling ability on a low gear—quick pickup, reduction of vibration, are the results of multi-cylinder construction. Speed and power, while the eight had the four of six, cannot be had with the same smoothness of operation as in the eight or twelve.

It was believed that the use of eight or twelve cylinders entailed the use of a long or wide hood because the engine took up more room than a four or six. As a matter of fact we now have eights, with cylinders in a row, that are shorter than any six producing the same power and speed. In Europe the Lancia Company is building a twelve-cylinder which is no larger than a six and looks exactly like one, owing to the casting of all cylinders in one block. The twenty-two degrees apart and only one carburetor is used. As time goes on, the all in a row idea will take hold and we will see many such models in production.

In Europe the average car has four cylinders and a four-speed transmission, while in this country the American average is a six with a three-speed transmission. Europeans do not object in the least to shifting gears and they are not so particular about obtaining the high gear performance demanded by American buyers, hence the four cylinder engine with the four-speed transmission.

Adopting American Ideas
Gradually though the Europeans are coming to American ideas, for the Paris and London shows, recently held, indicate the following ideas that are being taken up practically by all European builders: Vacuum fuel feed, block casting of cylinders, removable cylinder heads, battery ignition, electric starting and lighting.

During the war American builders had a wonderful opportunity to work out details of design for the post-war engines, using some of the knowledge gained in the design of airplane engines. These builders have not worked out their designs as quickly as the foreigners, who already have more than a dozen overhead valve engines with overhead camshafts. We shall see these designs on our cars a year or two.

Valve Location
It has been thought by the average automobile owner that a valve in head engine is necessarily more powerful than an L head or T head. The valve location is not the determining factor in power, output, so it is possible to have an L head of given size even more powerful and speedier than an overhead valve engine. However, the overhead valve engine on the average is a more efficient type. The one objection to it, namely, noise, has been almost entirely eliminated by improvements in design detail of the valve gear.

The automobile owner or buyer should consider that just because a car has an overhead valve engine it doesn't make that car faster or better than one with another type of engine. As a matter of fact, the engine may have many times the power and speed of another, and the car in which it is mounted give poor performance. The work of the engine has to be considered. An engine of a big truck may produce seventy-five horse-power, yet the truck can only travel a maximum of twenty-five miles per hour. One of the best cars made in this country and abroad have L head engines, as for example the Rollins, Rover of England, the Packard and Cadillac.

Of the 200,000 applications for chauffeurs' licenses in New York State last year, 1,600 persons were rejected because of some mental defect.

In certain parts of Siberia butter is so plentiful that it is being used to lubricate motor vehicles.

Harold Lloyd, the inimitable young comedian who has given the public a new laugh every week for over five years, is going to be a director some day.

"Without a doubt directing is the most interesting phase of motion pictures," he declares. "I'm studying directing all the time and never miss an opportunity to watch the big directors and see how they blend their hand and eye and to write musical comedy and a girl who wanted to go on the stage. The girl is Bebe Daniels.

Whenever a photoplay production bears the imprint of Thomas H. Ince's direction, then the screen fans look for something extraordinary. That Ince presented such screen triumphs as "Civilization," "The Guilty Man" and "False Faces." That Mr. Ince is making huge strides forward was amply evidenced at the Variety Theatre yesterday, when his latest production, "Behind the Door," starring that virile player, Hobart Bosworth, was displayed with unusual manifestations of approval by a record audience. The story of "Behind the Door," written by Gouverneur Morris, afforded Mr. Ince ample scope for the employment of his genius as director of gigantic spectacles. It is a story the logical development of which holds one spellbound from start to finish. It is a thrilling narrative of tremendous dramatic strength at times, and the finale, which is disclosed by shadows "behind the door," and which breathes tragedy born of relentless vengeance of a man who has been deeply wronged, is one of the strongest seen by motion picture audiences here in many a day.

VARIETY

Lucie Bruch is a pretty gypsy violinist, who has taken her place among the distinguished artists of vaudeville. She mingles the purely classical and the popular in an effective and appealing programme. Ted McGrath and Jack Deeds are two singing comedians with a line of breezy chatter. Their songs are new and they have called their comedy "I'm Your Wife, Ain't I?" Fred Allen, programmed as "Just a Young Fellow Trying to Get Along," is said to be remarkably versatile. He does everything, from juggling and dancing to ventriloquism and burlesque magic.

COLUMBIA

Can an innocent girl serve a term in prison, return to the outside world and win back success and happiness? How this can be done is revealed in the Vitaphone picture, "Shadows of the Past," which will be shown at the Columbia Theatre today. Anita Stewart, one of the most beautiful women of the screen is the star. Ralph Ince was director. The picture teems with heart interest and thrills. There is a particularly gripping revelation of politics given in the story.

ROMANO

Take some finely acted and well devised thrills, add a generous portion of crooks, real and imaginary, stir in some complicated situations, sweeten with comedy, garnish with a beautiful leading woman and a good looking leading man and you have the ingredients which Director William C. JAZZY DITTIES SURPASS SONGS OF YESTERDAY

Syncopation Vies With Old-Time Tunes in Splendid Orpheum Bill

The songs our mothers used to hum in the old days before the war and the high cost of living were all very well in their way, but, after all, they were prosaic and dull—they lacked that element of unrestrained "pep" so delightfully evident in the snappy, jazzy ditties which set the present generation's shoulders a-shaking. At least that is the impression one gets from "Ye Song Shop," which is the most charming and altogether extraordinary creation that has featured the Orpheum bill for weeks and which helps to make the current holiday offering one of the best of the season.

"Ye Song Shop" is no ordinary music store. Instead of shelves and counters it is equipped with two huge song books, one devoted to "old" and the other to "new" ditties. And in order that the audience may judge for itself the relative merits of the two, the enormous volumes produce the most alluring maidens imaginable, each symbolizing a song of today or yesterday. Thus the "Merry Widow" considered quite a "wild, wild woman" in her own day, vies with the syncopated vamp, of the present hour, the modest lass one might expect to find in "Old Virginia." Has her hands full competing with the ultra-modern "Dardanelles" and the girl with whom one used to stroll down the shady lanes in the "Good Old Summer Time," is far too proper to hold her own with the shoulder-shaking little lady who dances to the tune of "Chong."

In fact, after hearing a few more comparisons of this sort one is forced to admit that syncopation is a pretty necessary evil in these days of feverish living.

Another novel creation is the dancing act offered by Ernesting Myers and Paisley Noon, who have something entirely new to offer. Miss Myers' "Hell Fire Kate" dance—a reckless, unrestrained extravaganza—was, perhaps, the most original bit on the whole programme.

"My Home Town," a clever little playlet set behind the scenes in a country theatre, gives Miss Mary Marble, the talented star, an opportunity to take her audience from laughter to tears and back again a hundred times during the act.

One may have seen a million bicycle races and lived in a bicycle store all one's life, but one doesn't know a thing about bicycles until one has seen Frank Wilson, who can handle a bicycle with the same agility and ease with which most people handle a fork.

Frank deVoe offers some snappy songs and a killing funny vamp imitation which brought down the house.

"Gimme the Ring" is the title of a clever skit in which Cooper and Ricardo say some funny things and do some still funnier. The girl's odd comedy made a big hit with the audience.

Valente Brothers, talented accordionists, and an interesting roll of all-Canadian films round out a bill of more than usual merit.

ENGLAND ENDS TRUCK TESTS

Experiments Meet With the Greatest Success in Liverpool

Liverpool, Eng., April 3.—The British Minister of Transportation has given instructions to bring to an end the motor-transport experiment, only Liverpool and Manchester being exempted from this order. The experiment has proved justified in view of the exceptional circumstances after the railway strike.

In Liverpool, while it is recognized that the lorry scheme has not been a complete success, it is felt that it has been a very considerable contribution to the transport work of the port and has helped to ease the congestion in some degree. During one month, for example, 24,000 tons of merchandise were moved by these lorries; the average number used was 179, of which thirty-six are stated to have been unserviceable. The amount of freight carried per lorry per day, measured over a period of four weeks, was nine and one-half tons.

Want Clearing House.
Liverpool has proven favorably situated for motor transport, the neighboring towns and railway centres being neither too near nor too far from the port for the purpose. The maximum delivery radius for gas-line lorries has been placed at 25 miles. In this way vehicles are not long away from the quayside, and in the event of a breakdown a spare lorry can transfer the load in a short time.

A considerable amount of success has continued to attend the scheme of establishing a motor-haulage clearing house in Liverpool, the object of which was to eliminate the light running of motor lorries and secure back loading facilities. From the commencement of its operation in November to the end of the year several thousand tons of goods were transported through it to all parts of the country, and, following the Liverpool example, similar clearing houses were established in many other towns, thus securing co-operation for return loads for vehicles. It is stated by the Liverpool management that every lorry applying at the clearing house has been given a return load to its own town or to a town en route, and that during December return loads were arranged for every lorry taking an outward load from Liverpool.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

SUGAR FROM FIR TREES

Just How the Last Secret of the Red Man Was Solved

THE last secret of the original Americans—the red men—hidden in the gloomy depths of the forests of British Columbia, has just been brought to light by the science of the white man. It is sugar—real sugar—that is formed in glistening masses on the leaves of fir trees. This fir sugar at present is valued at $65 a pound, owing to the laborious process of collecting it.

The Douglas fir tree is the new and strange source of sugar. Upon the foliage of this fir is formed a sugar which scientists say produce the rare trisaccharide, melezitose, in greater abundance than any other plant known to-day. This sugar was formerly obtained from a shrub growing in Turkestan and Persia. Analysis shows the sugar obtained from the foliage of the Douglas fir to be almost 50 per cent of the trisaccharide.

Dr. F. T. Shutt, Dominion Chemist at Ottawa, and two chemists at the Carbohydrate Laboratory of Chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, at which latter place is a laboratory specially equipped for the examination of saccharine substances, both have investigated the fir manna, as it is called. A summary of the complete analysis makes it plain that the sample of the Douglas fir manna examined yielded about 50 per cent of pure crystalline melezitose. The figures are: Melezitose, 75.83 per cent; sucrose, 2.9 per cent; reducing sugar, 11.5 per cent.

"But there are more than mere dry figures to the story of the Douglas fir sugar," says a writer in the Scientific American. "Though it has just recently been learned of by the white men and investigated by one of the leading botanists of British Columbia, Prof. John Davidson, it now becomes known that long before the first white man ever set foot in the wilderness regions of North America the Indians of certain districts of British Columbia knew of this sugar, and gathered it for their own use. That they have been doing this since he came makes the fact more remarkable. To the average man it seems strange that so unusual a thing as sugar on a coniferous tree would not have attracted the attention of at least one of the many men who pioneered and traveled through the regions where it is found in the last hundred years. Yet so far as the writer can ascertain none of the early missionaries, surveyors and others made mention of it.

"The sugar fir is confined to the dry belt of British Columbia, and is chiefly found in the hottest parts of the interior of the Province. These areas take in the Thompson River valley west of the mouth of the Nicola River; the district near the junction of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers at Lytton, and a part of the Fraser Valley above Lillooet. In the Kamloops district, the Nicola Valley, the Similkameen Valley and in the eastern portion of the State of Washington it is also reported to occur."

"Prof. Davidson covered a great deal of ground in the dry belt investigating particularly the Botani Valley, near the junction of the Fraser and Thompson Rivers. Upon first hearing of the sugar and before seeing it, he was inclined to believe the phenomenon was caused by the plant being attacked by insects, as the white masses of sugar were scattered over the foliage and branchlets, while drops of small size appeared upon the leaves at the tips; sometimes two or three tips would be imbedded in a very large drop. He was at first the more inclined to think this formation was the efforts of the plant to repel attack from insects, by reason that when attacked by the coccus insect, it yields a mucilaginous sugar—the manna of Mt. Sinai. This was at once dispelled, however, when Prof. Davidson took up the actual investigation, for he found that the sugar appeared only upon those trees which were perfectly healthy and almost entirely free from insects.

"A careful survey of the ground showed that upon trees standing on gentle slopes facing north and east in the dry belt and which were fairly wide spaced, such as is common in the dry belt where the fir is encroaching on other dry belt flora, the greatest abundance of sugar was found. Trees on fully exposed southern and western slopes, exposed to the full heat of the sun, did not generally show any sugar. Similarly, trees in the dense forests of the coastal region were not affected. This pointed to the fact that moisture and sunlight and freely circulating air in certain ratio played a part in producing the sugar.

"The deposits are from a quarter of an inch to two inches in diameter and occur in considerable abundance. The Indians of the regions where it occurs have known of it for a long time, and gathered it whenever available, but it was an addition to their food stores that was not reliable, owing to reasons of climate. For the coming of a few cool days in the height of Summer would be sufficient to diminish both the activities of the sugar-forming cells and the root pressure and exudation of water, while a wet day, with its cooling of atmosphere and soil, would be still more disastrous to the sugar harvest. But while not a harvest which can be absolutely depended upon, quite a little of it is and was gathered. The sugar has the exceedingly sweet taste of a high quality sugar. For a moment in the mouth it takes on a pasty consistency, but quickly dissolves entirely when acted upon by the saliva.

"While the rare sugar from the fir will never take its place in the market as has the cane and sugar beet production, there seems every possibility that further investigation may show it to be highly valuable in chemistry and medicine on account of its rare nature. However that may be, the discovery is of striking interest because of the strangeness of sugar appearing upon a coniferous tree. And in the dry belt when the seasons are good the Indians will probably continue to gather it as their forefathers did before the white man came."

Why Fever Makes Hair Fall

DR. R. SABOURAUD, a Paris physician, remarks that it has been his experience that a diffuse, general and sudden falling of the hair can be traced to some febrile state from 60 to 85 days before, in which the temperature passed 39.5 Cent. (103 Fahr.). The falling of the hair seems to be proportional to the height and duration of the fever. The hairs keep dropping out for four to six weeks, but they do not all fall, and they grow again in a few weeks. The longer hairs drop out first. These rules apply without exception, he says, to all cases.

The physician can confidently reassure the woman that she will not become entirely bald, and that her hair will grow again, and this very soon, says Dr. Sabouraud. She can have a switch made of the hairs that have dropped out, but there is no necessity for a wig, as the hair will soon grow again.

Dr. Sabouraud protests against the practice of cutting the hair to aid in its regeneration. There is no logical basis for this, as he explains; grass grows better when it is cut, but this cuts the head of the grass, while the head of the hair is in its follicle. If frequent cutting made hair grow better, men would have better hair than women. He reiterates that women never grow bald like men and that the difference between the mentality of men and women, as it has developed through the centuries, is shown, more strikingly than anywhere else in the way they regard the falling of their hair.

The hair will grow again as before if the scalp is healthy. Friction massage (preferably with a tooth brush) and tonic lotions with a gentle revulsive action, giving 10 minutes daily to this for a woman, four minutes for a man, are all that is necessary. If the scalp is not healthy, it should be treated according to indications.

How Idle Gossip Spreads Disease

GOSSIP, says a family physician, "gossip among thoughtless women spreads more disease germs in my opinion than any known agency."

The doctor had just left an apartment house after an early morning call and was talking to a man into whose family he had been summoned to treat a case of influenza.

"Did you see those half-opened doors we passed on our way to the elevator?" he asked. "Every one of those doors had a woman, just waiting until we left to call on your wife to find out what I said. Inside of five minutes they will have absorbed more influenza germs than you ever will on a crowded street car, and they will wonder where they got it."

Later observation in this and other apartment houses where there was illness—and there is illness in practically every one in the city to-day—showed that knots of women gravitated to the neighborhood of the afflicted flat, even if they did not enter it—some of them with babies in their arms—and discussed symptoms, death, operations but principally contagion. The point of view of the physician quoted seemed to be farthest from their minds.

One man reports a case of scarlet fever isolated in his home with an antiseptic soaked sheet over the bedroom door—a room which he was not allowed to enter himself—and a neighbor with a family of children who could not be kept out of it.

"If her children had contracted scarlet fever," he said, "we would have been shot at sunrise. They did not, but it was no fault of the woman, whose curiosity and love of giving advice was greater than any idea of caution."

Making Suspenders Serve as a Belt

THE comfort of suspenders and the beauty of a belt—how can these two be combined so that a man in the office may take off his coat in hot weather? How a Canadian manufacturer has solved the problem by making suspenders that may be quickly and easily turned into a kind of double belt is told in Popular Science Monthly.

The three sets of fasteners that are attached to the suspenders are unbuckled when the suspenders are to be transformed. The fasteners are carefully put in the pocket, so they won't get lost, and the remainder is placed around the waist. The buckles that once held the fasteners are now brought together, buckled—and the suspenders have become a belt. The most satisfactory material is rubber webbing, though leather is also used.

The Many Remarkable Beliefs About the Rabbit and the Easter Egg

HOW did the rabbit get into the nest of Easter eggs? Of all the curious legends the centuries have gathered about the Easter season none are more widely circulated than those having to do with the rabbit and the Easter eggs. Easter eggs are seen all over the Christian world on Easter Sunday, and wherever the eggs are there is the rabbit also.

Just where and how such a total abstainer from eggs, such a clearly non-producer of eggs as a rabbit, got mixed up in a nest of the biographers of neither the hen nor the rabbit are able to say. But there he is, and there he persists in staying, however inconsequent, irrelevant and immaterial his presence may be.

Myths of the Easter egg are more easily accounted for. The ancient Egyptians, Persians, Gauls, Greeks and Romans saw in the egg an emblem of immortality. In it life lay dormant. An insensate thing, a mere object, it had the power to become a living being.

To the early Christians the egg symbolized the resurrection. Because of this, and also because eggs were looked upon as meat, Roman Catholics of Italy, Spain and France were formerly forbidden to eat eggs during Lent. After the fasting was over, eggs were the first meat to be eaten. Every Easter table held eggs dyed red, to represent the blood of Christ, and piled in pyramids at various points of vantage along the table. Before the eggs were broken they were blessed by the priest.

A special blessing for these Easter eggs was given out by Pope Paul V, who sat in the papal chair from 1605 to 1621. This blessing, which is still used by many Roman Catholics, is: "Bless, O Lord, we beseech thee, this thy gift of eggs, that it may become a wholesome sustenance of thy faithful servants, eating it in thankfulness to thee on the morn of the resurrection of our Lord."

Greek Catholics believe that eggs laid on Good Friday have within them their own blessing, and he who eats them as his first food on Easter Sunday will be blessed throughout the year. They, too, hold that the egg is symbolical of the resurrection.

But all these eggs are the fruit of the hen, she that cackles over her product, when every child believes that the rabbit is responsible for the Easter eggs.

Germany for a long time claimed that she was the mother of the Easter rabbit. She said that it happened, one time, that the children of a very poor peasant had been told that they could have no eggs at Easter time because their parents had no home and were too poor to buy a hen.

The children grieved over this at first, and then decided they would stop grieving and pray. They prayed for Easter eggs, prayed earnestly and fervently. On the night before Easter they made a nest for the eggs they so confidently believed the morning would bring. When they awoke the next morning they ran to the nest, and there, sure enough, lay three lovely eggs, and sitting back of them, very proud of himself, was a big white rabbit, the very rabbit that had laid the eggs.

But the Easter rabbit is far, far older than this tale, and the myths about the rabbit, many of them associating the rabbit in one way or another with eggs, are centuries upon centuries older than the Easter festival.

The Moon festival in China comes in the Springtime and corresponds with Easter. It's a great holiday. Nobody works. Everybody puts on his best clothes and goes out for a general jollification. The culmination of events comes on what is our Easter, which, as old-fashioned people will tell you, comes "on the first Sunday after the first moon after the 22nd of March."

It is on this night that "the rabbit in the moon" is best seen. The Chinese, in their Moon festival, pay homage to this rabbit. Their ancient religion, Taoism, taught them that this rabbit was the slave of genii who kept him everlastingly busy pounding herbs and drugs to make the elixir of life. He squats in a cressia tree to do the pounding, and if you will look at the moon any Easter Sunday evening when the sky is clear there you'll see Br'er Rabbit pounding away. And when you see it, you will see a mixture of Taoist belief, East African mythology, southern negro folklore and early Christian legend.

The Japanese have a legend, doubtless passed over to them from East India, that the gospel of the resurrection was first sent to the earth by the moon god, who used a rabbit as his messenger. The message given to the rabbit was this: "Like as I die and rise to life again, so shall you die and rise to life again."

The rabbit, however, thinking it would be a good joke on the people of the earth, reversed this gospel. What he said to the people was: "Like as I die, and live no more, so shall ye die and be no more alive." The people took this gospel very sorrowfully, which amused the rabbit, and he went back to the moon god and boasted of what he had done. The god was so infuriated with his messenger that he threw a hatchet at him and split his lip wide open, and that, if you would like to know, is why the rabbit's lip is split.

In certain parts of England, particularly at Hallatton, there was an old custom of celebrating Easter Monday with a "hare pie scramble" and "bottle kicking." This celebration began with a procession leading to the house of the rector of the parish and consisting of two men abreast, carrying sacks with cut-up pies inside; three men abreast, two carrying wooden bottles filled with beer, and the third a large dummy bottle that was to be kicked about; one man, carrying a pole on which was fastened a hare in a sitting posture, and, last of all, a band of music. The band was followed by all the people of the parish who could walk. The dummy bottle was kicked into the neighboring parish, where it was burned, or "drowned," after which bits of it were taken home as trophies by the people.

This custom fell into disuse about 1767. But other customs in which the hare figured were continued to a much later date, one having to do with the hunting of a hare on Good Friday, to be eaten on Easter Day, the alternative being that "he who does not eat a hare must eat a red herring."

At least one mythologist has tried to account for the Easter rabbit in England by making him the creature of the Anglican Goddess Eostre, whose name, according to Bede, was given to the month of April, which was called Eostermoth. Grimm calls this goddess Ostara, "divinity of the radiant dawn, of upspringing light."

Are SCIENCE and RELIGION Related?

THE changes during the last 50 years in the attitude of religious faith toward science is discussed by Canon James M. Wilson, D.D., of Worcester, England, in Nature Magazine.

"The following points," writes Canon Wilson, "strike me as the most obvious:

"First, the clergy and the educated laity have lost their fear that the prediction of the science of 50 years ago would be verified, and that we should find ourselves in a world of determinism and materialism.

Secondly, the younger generation of both clergy and laity take it as a matter of course that science has helped faith to extricate itself from many crude mythological forms in which its exponents in pre-scientific days expressed their beliefs. Science has shattered some of our idols, and we are grateful, and shall be more grateful as the years pass.

"Thirdly, all Christians value highly the enormous extension of knowledge of the works of God due to scientific labor and genius. Moreover, not a few would like to say emphatically that the disinterested search after truth, which is the very soul of science, is in itself a worship of the God of truth. It is faith. It is a religion. It is a consecration.

"Lastly, the ordered reason and method which have won such conquests in the physical world, and revealed fresh sources of power, have helped religious thinkers to see an inexhaustible source of spiritual power in that conception of the divine indwelling life which leads, not to the quietism and the static passivity of Pantheism, or to a selfish individualism, but to ever-hopeful and ever-fruitful activities for the common good of men."

Victoria and Colonial Government in Province

By J. Forsyth, Provincial Librarian.

To the Lady Douglas Chapter, I. O. O. E., March 15, 1920, at Anniversary of Founding Fort Victoria.

In tracing the early development of this country one naturally follows the movements of the fur trading companies, to whom was entrusted the duty of conserving for the British Empire her splendid possessions in Western America. We find that nearly all the traders and proprietors of these companies were of Scottish birth or descent, thus accounting for the title of New Caledonia being given not only to the coast line but the entire region of the mainland and the Peace River through which the fur trade followed. The names borne by three great rivers will perpetuate for all time the memory of those daring and adventurous explorers—Alexander Mackenzie, David Thompson and Simon Fraser. Their discoveries led to the establishment in 1806 of the first trading post in B. C. which was erected by Simon Fraser a short dis-

when the land north of the Columbia to the 49th Parallel passed to the United States. In his successor James Douglas we had a man who was mentally vigorous, tactful, and resourceful, commanding respect and in every way a great officer. He first came out from Scotland at the age of 12 years, in the service of the North West Company, and later joined the Hudson Bay Company when the two companies were amalgamated. The rival companies were united in 1821 and a charter granted guaranteeing exclusive trade, they remained in possession until the establishment of Colonial Government.

In 1822 Sir James Douglas was placed in charge of Fort Vancouver, discharging the arduous duties of chief factor until Fort Vancouver was abandoned by the Hudson Bay Company when he was appointed to establish the post on Vancouver Island. With a view to finding a suitable site for the new fort he was dispatched in 1842 to Nisqually where he embarked on the steamer "Cadboro" and explored the shores of the island. In his own words he states "I have made a choice of 'Camosack' which appears to me to be the most advantageous for this location within the Straits of Juan de Fuca."

First Landing. His first was at Clover Point, after having explored Sooke Harbor, Penber Bay, Metchosin Roadstead and the Port of Esquimalt, but he was so forcibly impressed with the advantages of the surroundings, as well as the beauty of the scenery, that he decided to locate the fort on the east side of this harbor, what is now known as Bastion Square. No opposition was met with from the Indians to whom Sir James Douglas made full payment for the lands appropriated. The wisdom of this policy is apparent but we know that Governor Douglas treated the Indians with the affection of a father. This coupled with his justice and firmness gave him unbounded influence with them and when the settlers arrived they found a native race subdued to the methods of the white man.

He returned to Fort Vancouver to superintend the removal of the post, returning to Vancouver on March 14, 1843, and thus founded Fort Victoria.

The First Administration. In 1851 James Douglas was appointed Governor of the Colony of Vancouver Island. Before Blanshard left Vancouver Island he appointed a council consisting of James Douglas, John Tod and James Cooper. Douglas subsequently appointed John Work and Roderick Finlayson to the council.

The council of 1856 agreed to the constitution and convening of a general assembly. The proper qualification was limited to the ownership of £200 of freehold estate or upwards. The Governor in his address on the opening of the first general assembly at Victoria in 1856 says "the event is remarkable as the first instance of representative institutions being granted in the infancy of a

J. FORSYTH

British Colony." The history and actual position of this colony are marked by many other remarkable circumstances. Called into existence by an Act of the Supreme Government immediately after the discovery of gold in California, it has maintained an arduous and incessant struggle with the disorganizing effect of labor of that discovery. Reports from every other British Settlement, with its commerce trampled, and met by restrictive duties on every side its trade and resources remain undeveloped. Self-supporting and defraying all the expenses of its own Government, it presents a striking contrast to every other colony in the British Empire, and like the native pipes of its storm-beaten promontories, it has acquired a slow but hardy growth. The mainland generally under the control of the Hudson Bay Company until 1858 when it became the Crown Colony of B. C. The discovery of gold having rendered it necessary to establish Colonial Government.

The Gold Discovery. Sir James had directed the affairs of the company up to this time when he was appointed Governor. The laws of Great Britain, as far as they were applicable to B. C. were declared to be in force. By the discovery of gold in quantities on the mainland the circumstances of the colony were completely altered owing to the sudden influx of miners and others. As Victoria was the nearest settlement and the centre of supply, its growth at once received a tremendous impetus.

The excitement reached its climax in 1858 when fully 20,000 people landed at Victoria on their way to the diggings. House accommodation and supplies were quickly exhausted. Prices rose to almost incredible figures—flour $30 per barrel and lumber $100 per 1,000. Over 200 houses were erected in the course of a month. Those who reached the scene early got large quantities of gold but many arrived too late in the season and found the richest lands submerged.

Many returned disappointed to Victoria. Miners and speculators returned to California and a period of depression followed. The city population fell as low as 1,500. A few persevered in spite of all obstacles and some realized their hopes.

Cariboo Mines. In 1862 the discovery of the Cariboo mines gave a renewed impetus to the rush of immigration and the scenes of 1857 were repeated. Again the majority the result was disappointing.

When the Government was organized on the mainland in 1858 Sir James Douglas was appointed Governor of two colonies he found himself amid circumstances which called for the most delicate tact, the firmest resolution and the clearest judgment.

The great influx of mining population of California made it necessary to use every precaution to prevent lawlessness from gaining the ascendancy. Many taxes were imposed at this time which created much discontent, but there was no alternative as revenue must be obtained if the laws were to be enforced.

One of the greatest needs of this time was the construction of a wagon road to the mines at Cariboo so that supplies might be obtained at cheaper rates. The taxes being insufficient to meet the cost of construction a loan of £100,000 was obtained in England. The work was completed in 1863 and this road became known as the Yale and Cariboo Wagon Road.

The construction of roads which has done so much for B. C. was the crowning achievement of Governor Douglas. The existence of many of the beautiful roads around Victoria are due to him and in addition to the Cariboo Wagon Road he also conceived the idea of the Dewdney Trail traversing the Province to the eastern boundary with the aim of connecting with a great trunk road to reach across Canada.

Not the least memorable feature of the last few years of his term of office was the part he took in 1859 in the peaceful settlement of the San Juan dispute. In 1858 James Douglas received the honor of Knighthood as a recognition by the Imperial Government of his inestimable services. Retiring from public life in 1864 Sir James made a tour of Europe and returned to spend the remainder of his life in the land whose best interests he had always advanced.

In 1877 there passed away the man of strong character and remarkable courage who had exercised so powerful an influence upon the fortunes of this Province. It is to be regretted that the house in which Governor Douglas first lived has been taken down but it is to the credit of the Lady Douglas Chapter that they have had the spot marked with a stone bearing a suitable inscription.

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions. The sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines on the face is attributed by scientists to the "actinic ray," which is unusually active during the spring months. Where the skin is so affected by this influence, it will procure an ounce of common macerated wax at any drug store, apply a little before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. The wax is washed off next morning, minute flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or two, with all its defects.

OCEAN INCREASE PORTENDS ADVANCE IN LUMBER PRICES. Ottawa, April 3.—Lumber firms here have received notice from ocean steamship companies that in future lumber transportation rates to Europe will be based on weight instead of the measurement system which has prevailed for many years. In fact, ever since before Confederation the historic "St. Petersburg shipping standard" has been in force. The standard was commonly accepted by the lumber trade to mean about 2,000 feet board measurement. The rate, which is $1 a hundred pounds, will mean an advance in freight rates of about 20 per cent. over those of recent date. This applies in the case of Ottawa shippers to transportation from Boston to Liverpool. The officials of the lumber industries here state that no action will be taken to oppose the increase.

Many friends attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Ivy Rose Evans, which took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 2 o'clock and proceeded to St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, where a very impressive service was conducted by Rev. Robert Connell. Two hymns "Lead Kindly Light" and "Days and Moments are Quickly Flying," were sung. The casket was covered with beautiful floral offerings. The following acted as pallbearers: A. E. Wade, H. Garde, Carey Pope, W. Gower, J. Woodcock and John Crocker. Interment was made in Ross Bay cemetery.

The death took place yesterday at the Jubilee Hospital of Mrs. Emily Nash, of Oakmount Road, Saanich. She was 41 years of age, a native of Bedfordshire, England, and had been a resident of Saanich for nine years. She is survived by three sons and one daughter. The funeral will take place on Monday from the Sands Funeral Chapel at two o'clock to Ross Bay Cemetery, Commander Jaynes officiating.

DEWEY SAYS SOUTH AFRICA PLEADS FOR INDEPENDENCE

Pretoria, Union of South Africa, April 2.—General Christian Dewet, who commanded the Orange Free State's forces in the Boer war, declared in a speech here today that South Africa would persist in pleading with England for independence until it was refused. He said that although he had been called a rebel, he knew his heart was right. General Dewet asserted that Paul Kruger, former President of the Transvaal, and Marthinus Steyn, former President of the Orange Free State, had sown a seed which it was impossible to eradicate. "We must be steadfast in our determination to attain that which is not far off, namely, our freedom," he continued.

JOY AND GLASSNESS FOR THE CHILDREN

Every child—whether it be poor or rich is entitled to joy and gladness. Health is the birthright of all and there is absolutely no doubt that the healthy baby is a happy baby. It is the baby's nature to be happy—not cross. Only the sickly baby is cross. The well child is a joy to the home—it is a laughing, gurgling, happy little piece of humanity which drives all care from the household. The sickly baby is the opposite—he is cross and peevish; cries a great deal and is a source of constant worry to the mother. The mothers there is no number of your little ones being sickly. Regulate the baby's bowels and sweeten his stomach with a gentle but thorough laxative and baby will soon be well and happy again. Thousands of mothers have proved this through their use of Baby's Own Tablets—there is a smile in every dose of the Tablets. Give them to your baby and make him happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from "The Dr. William Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LABORITES DEBATE MOTHERS' PENSIONS

London, Ont., April 3.—Mothers' pensions and increased sessional indemnities for members of the Ontario Legislative Assembly were subjects of discussion which occupied the morning session of the Independent Labor Party convention today. The convention voted in favor of increasing the sessional indemnity of members of the Legislature by one-half a resolution affecting mothers' pensions back to the committee to be drafted.

Most of the speakers wanted to include all mothers under the operation of the pensions bill, but did not want to embarrass the Labor members of the Legislature by opposition to the present bill now under consideration at Toronto. One or two delegates raised the question whether the mothers' pensions bill ought to be so broad as to include mothers who were, for instance, widows of millionaires. Should the rich mother fare the same as the pauper? "Sure, we do not care who else gets it so long as the poor mother does get it," said a chorus of delegates.

Neither Dempsey nor Kearns appeared in court.

SESSION IN DANISH HOUSE IS URGED

London, April 3.—Two Vice-Presidents of the lower House of the Danish Parliament today demanded that the President summon the lower House, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. The request was refused. The Vice-Presidents thereupon disclaimed all responsibility for any consequences that might ensue if the House was not convened in the present critical situation.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

To Develop Plant. The Princeton Mining and Development Company, four miles east of Princeton, has completed the erection of boarding and bunk houses, an office and other buildings, and will install an eight-horse power boiler and four-drum compressor as soon as the conditions of the road permit of hauling on Copper Mountain. The company consists of residents of Spokane and Everett, in addition to British Columbia mining men. The mine has been opened by three tunnels and several crosscuts.

More than 2,000 feet of work has been done on concentrating ore disclosed. Returns of fifteen per cent copper and two ounces of silver to the ton were obtained on a shipment of twenty-eight per cent copper and twelve ounces of silver to the ton. The company intends to build a concentrator of fifty tons capacity, and to increase its capacity as to the development of ore produced.

HOLD LINEN PRICE KEY

Stocks of Flax in Russia Wanted by Manufacturers; Production Encouragement Urged. Recent news has led to hopes that some outlet will soon be made for the flax crops in Russia and which are very much wanted by the linen mills of the world. Until this relief comes in some form, linen will continue to be an abnormally high priced and the new economies being organized in linen production will be held back. The English Government has taken the step of offering a possible encouragement shall be given for the continued intensive growth of flax in Ireland. An English company has also been spurred on to increase the planting of flax in East Africa, where a modest beginning gives promise of developing into one of the most interesting agricultural improvements in that territory.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, April 3.—The undertone to the future market today was very strong and prices advanced. The volume of the market was not large. There was noticeable activity in cash flax market. Flax is in good steady demand, but offerings practically nil. Oats closed 1 1/2 cents higher for May and 1 1/2 cents up for July; barley higher for May and 3/4 cents higher for July; flax 7 cents up for May and July.

NEW POTATOES START

Seattle, April 3.—Western Avenue jobbers will have the unprecedented spectacle of sales of old local potatoes at the price of the first California new novelty stock, according to opening quotations. California tubers as yet are scarce, but local potatoes for the old stock of the curb jobbers, however, are convinced that before first new Garnets can be marketed, the local market will have advanced to a par with the selling price of the new stock.

JOY AND GLASSNESS FOR THE CHILDREN

Every child—whether it be poor or rich is entitled to joy and gladness. Health is the birthright of all and there is absolutely no doubt that the healthy baby is a happy baby. It is the baby's nature to be happy—not cross. Only the sickly baby is cross. The well child is a joy to the home—it is a laughing, gurgling, happy little piece of humanity which drives all care from the household.
