Murdoch Charges Refuted By Judge Robson in Detail

Object To Control Prices To Be Fair to Consumer and Trader Alike; Claims Allegations Inspired by Personal Malice.

Winnipeg, June 26.—Declaring that the letter he sent to Judge Robson was neither invited nor expected, J. B. Hugg, K.C., to-day issued a statement regarding the factum of the Crescent Creamery.

Judge Robson reiterated his denial of Mr. Murdoch's charges in a public statement to-day and declared that he had absolutely no connection with any big business. He refutes the declaration that he was one-sided in his judgments and defends his handling of the business brought before the Board of Commerce.

Statement. Judge Robson's statement follows: "Were it not for that there is such gross perversion of facts in Mr. Murdoch's letter to the Premier I would utterly ignore his statement."

"The first three of his charges do not concern me, but they are at variance with any knowledge I have of the facts. In the fourth charge he says that I was 'in full sympathy with high prices and against low prices,' and that I so stated in my letter of the 23rd of February to Sir George Foster. Look at this instance of Mr. Murdoch's treatment of the facts. What I really said was this: 'The economic policy of the country should be toward high prices and against low prices. Numerous government agents at the expense of the people of Canada, are doing their best to get the highest world prices for Canadian products. In view of this machinery it is simply abortive.'

"Obviously I was dealing with Canadian producers, farmers and growers of all kinds, raisers of livestock. I was not dealing with manufacturers. The suggestion that I was in sympathy in some way with the manufacturing business is new to me. I have never been able to see any evidence of it."

"As to ground five in which complaint is made of my absence from Ottawa (this was ground six in my resignation I know) I am simply saying that owing to the uncertainties of jurisdiction and economic policy I stated about moving to Ottawa. I informed the Government thereof so that they could act as they choose with me in the matter. No business ever suffered. Mr. O'Connor was qualified as chief commissioner in my absence—in fact I was engaged on Board business in Winnipeg in all most every day here. This ground shows what sort of spirit was growing in the Board."

"Ground six sets forth an incident which shows that spirit in another form. This relates to Mr. Hugg's letter containing the factum of the Crescent Creamery Company in the case regarding jurisdiction. The letter of Mr. Hugg to me was lying exposed on my desk. I had not seen it. How it got there I do not know except that it was told that a clerk opened it and so placed it. Mr. Murdoch found the letter, abstracted a copy and has freely published it. The circumstances are being deliberately distorted for the purpose of doing me harm. Such use of the incident in itself evidence of malice. The facts are that Mr. Hugg, as solicitor for the Crescent Creamery Company, had asked me to hear. I said I thought it was hopeless; that he could only take proceedings set out in our act, and that outside of technical objections the constitutional question was the only one. We discussed the question as lawyers do. I, at no time, invited or suggested that a draft of the factum be submitted to me. Mr. Hugg had been a student in my office. We are producers of legal works which take us incidentally into the constitutional field. To see the factum as a matter of legal interest is different to revising it."

WOMAN MURDERED AT CALGARY TO-DAY

Calgary, June 26.—Anna Gordon was shot and instantly killed by an unknown person at 538 Ninth Avenue West, early this morning, and the murderer tried to conceal the crime by destroying the body by fire. He failed because the flames were noticed and a fire alarm sent in. The firemen quickly extinguished the blaze and the body, partially burned with a bullet hole at the base of the neck, cutting the spinal cord, was found on the bed.

The motive for the crime is not known. The police think it may have been jealousy or robbery, and while they have held a man who was known to have been her associate, James Boyce, he is being detained as a witness rather than as a suspect.

SAYS ALLIES ARE MASTERS IN NEAR EAST, MARSHAL FOCH

ALLIES MASTERS OF SITUATION IN EAST

Position That of Limited Liability Company, Says Marshal Foch

Paris, June 26.—Allied nations are masters over the situation in the Near East and can employ all of the forces at their disposal to carry out their policies which are "soberly proportioned to their interests," said Marshal Foch in an interview to-day. The Allied position in the Near East, the Marshal declared, "is that of a limited liability company, in which no shareholder may say it was his capital which made the company's operations successful. The Greek army is one of our assets and we are using it in the corporate interest."

Discussing German disarmament, he asserted this matter was not the destruction of 1,000 cannons, but the overcoming of the "hostile and militaristic spirit of the German people." "If such a spirit," he continued, "should again be translated into action, the arm it would use would be the most terrible and swiftest on earth—the airplane. The way to guard against renewed aggression is to increase the distance that separates us from the enemy. When we leave the Rhine, Germany is within marching distance of Ostend, from which the arm that London waste in one night between dark and dawn. Until that evil spirit dies out it is our duty to the next generation to see that our precautions are never abandoned."

Germany Files Claim For Work Done by Prisoners in France

Paris, June 26.—Germany has filed with the reparations commission a claim for the work done by prisoners in France. The reparations commission should be deducted from the seven billion gold marks due France as her share of the indemnity fixed by the Versailles Treaty, says The Petit Parisien. "This sum," it is asserted, is the value of improvements made on French roads by German prisoners of war. Berlin notices report great uneasiness in labor centres, especially in the Ruhr region.

Supplementary Estimates Tabled To-day in House

Ottawa, June 26.—In the supplementary estimates tabled in the House this morning among the smaller votes are included a number of interesting items. A vote of $73,431 for the office of the chief electoral officers brings to mind the new election procedure to be adopted under the franchise bill now before the House. There is a vote of $940,625 to provide for the purchase of a number of small railway lines and one of $75,000 to provide for raising, repairing and maintaining the Canadian Government steamer Arammore. The Labor Department is asking for an additional $40,000. Of this amount $15,000 is to provide for the organization and development of joint industrial councils, and the remainder, $25,000, is a further amount required for administration of the employment offices.

Aerial Survey. Of the Air Board vote, $50,000 is required for survey of air routes; $200,000 for flying operations for other Government departments, and $500,000 for acquisition and equipment of civil air stations; $450,000 for upkeep, maintenance and replacement of aircraft and equipment and $200,000 for flying in training. The total air board vote of $1,650,000 is divided generally into $550,000 for civil aviation and $500,000 for military appointments.

Victoria Shipowners. Among the miscellaneous items was a vote of $100,000 required in connection with the contract with the Dominion Iron and Steel Company for delivery of steel plates; $702,000 to provide by way of advances to Victoria, B.C., Shipowners, Ltd., for the construction of four vessels, $200,000 for Canada's contribution to the League of Nations, $250,000 for battlefield memorials; $150,000 for re-organization of the departments at Ottawa, $200,000 for contribution toward fighting typhus in Europe and $100,000 to provide for stamps, salaries, etc., in connection with the new excise taxes. There is also a vote of $20,224 to provide for the reimbursement of persons or firms put to loss by the closing of grain exchanges in the Summer of 1919.

PRISONERS, GUNS AND ROLLING STOCK TAKEN BY WRANGLER'S ARMY

Constantinople, June 26.—The offensive which is being carried on by General Wrangel, successor to General Denikin, against the Bolsheviks in the Crimea is developing rapidly. Wrangel's troops have occupied the line of Makalawika, Bolohotchmak and Wakiawa. They have taken 10,000 prisoners and captured 45 guns, 250 machine guns, 3 armored trains, 9 armored automobiles, several million pounds of wheat and much rolling stock.

SYSTEMATIC LEVY TO BE INSTITUTED IN CITY OF CORK

Cork, June 25.—Announcement was made by the Lord Mayor at a meeting of the corporation yesterday that a systematic levy would be made on the city to support the railwaymen. The Lord Mayor said the corporation was one of the bodies of the Irish Republican Government, and that its decrees had to be obeyed. If this was not realized, he added, it might be necessary to make clear to the people that they were subject to the corporation, which he stated was not recognized as British.

Ministers, Judges, Get Higher Salary; Members Indemnity

Ottawa, June 26.—Cabinet Ministers and judges are to get increased salaries and members of Parliament to get the $4,000 indemnity which they have been advocating. The Government intentions in the matter were revealed in a statement issued last night by the Prime Minister. The salary of members of the Cabinet is to be increased from $7,000 to $10,000 per annum; that of the Prime Minister from $12,000 to $15,000. The salary of the Solicitor-General (who does not usually hold Cabinet rank) is increased from $5,000 to $7,000; that of the Leader of the Opposition from $7,000 to $10,000; of the Speakers of the Senate and the House of Commons from $4,000 to $6,000, and of the Deputy Speaker of the House from $2,000 to $4,000.

The seasonal indemnity of members is increased from $2,500 to $4,000. The salaries of judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, of judges of the superior courts of the provinces and of county court judges are similarly increased. An announcement of an increase in the seasonal indemnity was accompanied by the further intimation that the Government is proposing to amend existing legislation in regard to members' attendance. The following are the increases in judicial salaries recommended: Supreme Court of Canada—Chief Justice from $10,000 to $15,000; puisne judges from $9,000 to $12,000; Superior Courts of the Provinces—Chief Justices from $8,000 to $10,000; puisne judges from $7,000 to $9,000; County Courts—Judges of County Courts in counties in which there is a city with a population of 40,000 or more, an increase of $1,000, that is, from $4,000 to $5,000 per annum. Notwithstanding these increases, judicial salaries in Canada are still substantially below those now being paid to the judges holding corresponding positions in other Dominions of the Empire, the statement says.

GERMANY WARNED OF MILITARY TERMS
Three Notes Sent By the Allies on Disarmament Question

Berlin, June 25.—Three notes, dealing principally with the question of German disarmament have been received by the president of the German peace delegation. The first outlines many infringements of the military clauses of the Peace Treaty, saying the Allies have determined to reduce the German army to 100,000 men. The security police, the note adds, must be disbanded within three months, but it gives permission for the disciplinary force to be increased to 150,000. Demand is made that the German constitution be made to conform with those military stipulations, so that conscription may be abolished by law. The note asks that legal measures be taken against the export of war materials.

Details of the substitution of 150,000 disciplinary police for the second note. In view of the incomplete delivery of aeronautical material, the third note says the construction of such material, which was to be resumed in Germany on July 10, may not be resumed until three months after the surrender to the Allies of the aeronautical material called for is carried out.

Aerial Clauses.—Washington, June 25.—Determination of the German government to carry out the aerial disarmament clauses of the peace treaty "with the utmost speed in order to eliminate all grounds for distrust," is expressed in a note dispatched by the chairman of the German air commission to the inter-Allied aeronautical commission of control.

The German note, which has been received here, ascribes responsibility for delays in the execution of the air disarmament clauses to measures inaugurated by the inter-Allied commission, and protests against accusations that the Germans were intentionally attempting to delay delivery of air materials. Discussing proposals for delivery of aerial supplies to the Allies, the note says: "The only proper method of removal would be that the material lying in North Germany be shipped to England and Japan, that in West Germany to France and Belgium, and that in the south to Italy, rather than have material on every individual flying field subdivided among the five nations."

ROTARY CONVENTION.—Atlantic City, N. J., June 25.—At the final session of the convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs here yesterday afternoon, Dr. Crawford McCullough, of Fort William, Ont., was elected a vice-president; Fred H. Sexton, Halifax; H. G. Stanton, of Toronto, and John E. Davies, of Medicine Hat, Alta., were among those confirmed by the convention as district governors.

FOOD RIOTS CONTINUE IN GERMAN TOWNS

Mayence, Germany, June 25.—Food riots, similar to those which have been in progress in Wurttemberg and Westphalia, occurred here yesterday. Rioters seized foodstuffs as they were brought to the market and distributed supplies of them to all comers.

A wagon load of policemen were forced to get out of their conveyance and the policemen were thrown into the Rhine. Later rioters and the police clashed and two persons were wounded. One was a French officer.

Berlin, June 25.—Demonstrations against food prices appear to be spreading throughout Germany, leading in some places to serious disorder. At Bremen, where scores of shops were plundered, fifty arrests were made. Huge crowds paraded the streets at Oldenburg demanding reduction in prices of one-third, and threatening to strike if their demands were not complied with by Saturday.

ASK REPEAL OF PROHIBITION ACT

Moderationists Declare in Favor of Government Control

Vancouver, June 25.—With less than twenty-five dissentients, a meeting of Moderationists last night declared for the repeal of the Provincial Prohibition Act and in favor of Government sale of malt and spirituous liquors.

J. H. Hawthornthwaite, Socialist, Newcastle, was the chief speaker. He said prohibition was not a home-made thing. It came from the United States, where they thought they did all sorts of clever things, such as winning the war. Latterly they were interfering with the pound sterling, while Lloyd George had been laughing up his sleeve at the trouble they were thereby making for themselves.

There were not enough Prohibitionists in the Province to enforce the law. It would take an army of police and spies to make this Province as bad as Ireland was to-day. Churches were losing their power over the people, and now they were seeking in this way to obtain temporal power to force their decrees on the people. Prohibition appealed to force, brute force to the limit—it threatened intimidation by using the courts, the lawyers, the police and the jails.

"Eliminate production for profit," he remarked, "and substitute production for use. Educate the children in the evils of excess and of intemperance and you will do more than all the parsons and the Prohibitionists put together."

Joe Martin.
"Fighting Joe" Martin rather took the wind out of his audience when he announced that he had voted for prohibition in 1916, and would do so again under similar conditions. He went on to explain that in 1916, voting prohibition was the only way to wipe out the sale and lift the liquor traffic out of the realm of private profit.
"Outside of that, I see no good in the present law," he added.
"It has brought the law into disrepute, because when a man goes to jail for selling a bottle of whisky, the sentiment of the community is against the law. Some people say there is more liquor sold to-day than formerly, and what kind is it?"
"Rank poison," answered a voice from the door.

NATIONAL LINES ARE ROUNDLY CRITICIZED

Much Opposition to Railway Estimates From Liberal Benches

Ottawa, June 25.—Consideration of Railway Department estimates took place yesterday, and the sitting of the House was interrupted by the strenuous objection. The introduction of the first item prompted F. S. Cahill, Pontiac, to declare once again that the Government was wrong in continuing the operation of the national railways "under management of the Mackenzie and Mann crowd." He charged that a bottle of whisky, which he should have been given, but had been handed "a lot of old junk."
Hon. J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, defended the management of the Canadian National Railway system, declaring it was made up of experienced railway men. The Government had placed valuers on the Canadian Northern at the time it took over the road, and "old junk" was handed over to the Government, doubtless these valuers had placed the proper price on it. He emphasized the fact that there was no policy in the management of the Canadian National, and expressed his belief that it would ultimately prove a great asset to the Dominion.
R. Richardson, Springfield, was of the opinion that to let the National Transcontinental Railway fall into disuse would work a great hardship on settlers in the section through which it passed.
Formal report on the sittings of the public accounts committee of the Commons will be made to the House Monday, it was learned last night, following the closing session of that body in the afternoon. Approximately $79,000,000 of public expenditures were under review, but many of the individual items involved were dropped without a probe, opposition members being content with general investigation of the items in question.

Supplementary Estimates.
Ottawa, June 25.—Supplementary estimates totalling $62,002,482.93 were tabled at adjournment in the House this morning. The principal item is one of a vote of $25,000,000 for a loan to the Grand Trunk.
After the Grand Trunk loan, the next largest vote is one of $9,550,000 to meet the additional pension charges as provided in the revised scale of pensions which passed the House a few days ago.

Lower Prices Prevail at Mallek's

In making this statement it is not with any assumption of philanthropic motives. It is a plain statement of fact.
We insist that, by taking advantage of our low prices, that the high cost of living can be circumvented to a remarkable degree. No single garment or line has been selected—for the reductions are general throughout the establishment.
Lower prices are quoted on every suit, coat, dress, sweater and skirt in stock. And those who have shopped with us before know that our qualities and styles are second to none in this city.
An important convenience we offer to shoppers is the acceptance of Victory Bonds as cash. We look upon them as "real money." Your investigation invited.

CASE DISMISSED.
Winnipeg, June 25.—In a judgment issued yesterday by Justice J. P. Curran, the case of the City of Winnipeg vs. the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company, was dismissed with costs. The dismissal was on the ground that the court of King's Bench is without jurisdiction to question the validity of the order made by the Public Utilities Commissioner. Judge Curran ruled that the Public Utilities Act is constitutional and wholly within the legislative authority of the Province to enact.

The legal right of the Public Utilities Commissioner to raise the rate from five to six cents was challenged by the city.

Ontario Fuel Controller Declares Canada's Supply Not Yet Tapped

Ottawa, June 26.—Canada need not look to the United States for its supply of fuel and that the present shortage serves as a good lesson for the Dominion to develop its own resources, was the gist of an interview given by H. A. Harrington, fuel controller for the Province of Ontario. "I would like to say that as far as possible the States are supplying Canada, even at the expense of overseas customers, but when the demand is so great at home that the supply cannot be met, naturally Canada is going to suffer."

DR. YOUNG SPEAKS OF HOSPITAL NEEDS

Vancouver, B. C., June 26.—Two words, economy and efficiency, were used by Dr. H. E. Young at the B. C. Hospitals Association convention yesterday morning to characterize the needs of hospital work. Speaking on hospital planning, Mr. Sutton, of Nanaimo, said: "Modern requirements, modern conditions and modern thoughts call for the very best in hospital construction. However, it is a striking thing that while almost any municipality makes land provision beforehand for a cemetery, a site for a suitable hospital is usually overlooked, or areas for this purpose set aside."

FIRE VICTIMS' BURIAL

Vancouver, June 26.—The funerals of three of the Balmoral Apartment House fire victims took place yesterday afternoon. They were those of Charles Denney, J. R. Jackson and S. A. Spencer. The body of the late Miss Lena McLennan was forwarded to Kincardine, Ont., for burial.

SMUTS DEALS WITH LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Policy of States Militated Against Success, Says South African Premier

Capetown, South Africa, June 26.—"In the first days of its operation, the League of Nations has not responded to the great hopes entertained for it," declared Jan Christian Smuts, Premier of the Union of South Africa, in the course of an assembly debate on the League. "But," he continued, "rather than rejoice over its failure, everyone should bend their energies to make it an instrument of reality and power in the affairs of the world."

Several things militated against the League, the Premier added, notably the refusal of the United States to become a member. "For, it is beyond doubt that the League depended largely on America for its initial strength and success. America could have brought to the League the influences and resources absolutely needed to-day, but she has not chosen to play the part of moral leader of the world. I hope the time will come when the United States will appreciate the position it occupies. But, pending this, it is better to suspend judgment."

MAY BE DEPORTED

New York, June 26.—Arthur Erecment, a former member of the Canadian Parliament, who was arrested in Chicago May 8, in connection with the "Rickey" Armstrong bond plot case, was called before the immigration officials at Ellis Island yesterday to show cause why he should not be deported to Canada.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF RHEUMATISM

Entirely Well After Six Weeks' Treatment With "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. AMEDEO GARCEAU
32 Hickory St., Ottawa, Ont.
"I was for many years a victim of that terrible disease, Rheumatism. In 1913, I was laid up for four months with Rheumatism in the joints of the knees, hips and shoulders and was prevented from following my work, that of Electrician. I tried many remedies and was under the care of a physician; but nothing did me any good. Then I began to take 'Fruit-a-tives' and in a week I was easier, and in six weeks I was so well I went to work again. I look upon this fruit medicine, 'Fruit-a-tives,' as simply marvellous in the cure of Rheumatism, and strongly advise everyone suffering with Rheumatism to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial."

WHEAT SITUATION IN ARGENTINE SERIOUS

Buenos Ayres, June 26.—The Argentine Government having procured the enactment of a law imposing four pesos super-tax on wheat exports in order to secure funds with which to purchase wheat to manufacture bread and reduce the price to the public, is now confronted with difficulty in obtaining wheat owing to the fact that most of the available supply appears to have been contracted for by England, France, Italy and other foreign governments.

The Argentine Government is negotiating with these Governments through their Ministers here for the release of 600,000 tons, but thus far has been unsuccessful, owing to inability to reach an agreement on the price. It has been learned that the price proposed by the Government was considerably less than the price at which they contracted for the wheat. The Ministers objected to assuming this loss in addition to paying the heavy super-tax on the balance of their contracts. The negotiations are continuing, but Government officials intimated that President Irigoyen may place complete prohibition on exportation of wheat in the event that a price agreement satisfactory to Argentina is not reached.

APARTMENT OWNER ALLOWED HIS WIFE BUT $20 A MONTH

Chicago, June 26.—Mrs. Anna Slavicek, married twenty-six years, and the mother of twenty-five children, was awarded $12 weekly by Judge Trude to-day for the support of herself and three children who still live at home. She told the court her husband allowed her but $20 a month from the income of his apartment building.

Hair Kept Beautifully Wavy, Indoors or Out!

If you will apply a little liquid shimmer before going up your hair it will have a prettier wave and curl than probably it has ever had. The waviness will look perfectly natural, and the hair will be sleek and glossy like plush. It will remain in curl the longest time, regardless of heat, wind or moisture, and you won't have to be continually fussing with loose strands or flying ends. Liquid shimmer is, of course, entirely harmless. It gives no sticky, greasy or sticky trace. It is also an excellent dressing for the hair, keeping it delightfully soft and silky. A few ounces from your drugist will last for weeks. It is best applied with a clean tooth brush, drawing this down the full length of the hair.

WRANGLER CARRYING ON OFFENSIVE IN CRIMEA

Constantinople, June 26.—The offensive which is being carried on by General Wrangel, successor to General Denikine, against the Bolsheviks in the Crimea is developing rapidly. Wrangel's troops have occupied the line of Makalawka, Bolohitchmak and Wakirwa. They have taken ten thousand prisoners and captured forty-eight guns, 250 machine guns, three armored trains, nine armored automobiles, several million pounds of wheat and much rolling stock.

ACTOR SHOT

Chicago, June 26.—Joseph A. Hack, of Milwaukee, a vaudeville actor, appearing at a Chicago theatre, was accidentally shot late yesterday by Miss Kitty Gordon, headliner on the bill. The shooting occurred during the next to the last act in the matinee performance while Hack was standing "off stage" awaiting his turn in the final act. The .38-calibre revolver used by Miss Gordon in the scene in which she takes part with Jack Wilson, supposedly only contained blank cartridges.

CZECH TROOP PASS THROUGH WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 26.—E. B. Thomas, United States vice-consul at Vladivostok, and Carl von Hoffman, of New York, arrived here last night with the second trainload of Czechoslovak troops.

"Bolshevism is bound to fail," Hoffman said. "We can see it crumbling every day, but the Japanese, by their force of arms have made more headway."

He was very severe on the methods of the Japanese, and says they assaulted British and American officers when they swept through Vladivostok. He thinks they should not be allowed to stay there and that their object in taking the city was to get control and gain concessions, not to overthrow Bolshevism.

PICKING A MAN TO BEAT HARDING

"Bryan might swallow McAdoo, but he won't swallow Cox or Edgards. Cox is both able and popular; he would probably poll a larger vote than McAdoo, who has aroused opposition among the business interests of the country. If there is a deadlock at San Francisco a 'dark horse' may be nominated. John W. Davis has been mentioned as a possibility. Senator Underwood, of Alabama, although he comes from the 'Solid South,' would make an ideal president"—thus the Birmingham Age Herald presents a bird's-eye view of the situation at San Francisco. And these are not the only men who have a chance, according to the American press.

Should there be a strong provision in the platform endorsing the League of Nations, with or without reservations? Should the platform contain a "wet" or a "dry" plank? Should there be an appeal to the labor vote?

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, June 26th, the Democratic platform and the various planks that it should contain, as proposed by Democratic editors, is discussed, as well as a summary of the chances for nomination of various men who have been put forward.

CHANGED ITS MIND.

If the Wilson Administration forces control the Democratic nomination convention, as observers judging by present indications think they will, the successful candidate clearly will have to bear the stamp of White House approval.

MORE BOLSHEVIK HUMOR.

There is something refreshing after all in the unconscious humor of the Bolsheviki. It has found a new outlet through the Soviet's head of the Eastern Department who has just informed an audience of Chinese workers in Moscow that Russia stands prepared to lend her moral support to all nations struggling for freedom.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

To the Editor.—If our daylight saving fiasco has done nothing else, it has at least enlightened us of the fact that we still have amongst us a certain number of those who would force their views on the community no matter how much inconvenience it may put others to, or what it may cost them in health or wealth.

During the war the Dominion Government decided that daylight saving was necessary to help speed up production, and those of us who are opposed to it had to abide by it because it was general throughout the Dominion and we believed it was necessary to help with the war.

PREPARE PLAN TO COMBINE FORCES

Prohibitionists to Have Backing of National Service Council

Addressing the annual convention of the Baptist Churches of B. C., Dr. Shearer, general secretary of the Dominion National Service Council said yesterday afternoon that he had come to the coast to confer with the Provincial Social Service executive, and hoped to be able to announce shortly that the Provincial branch would be in a position to co-operate with the Provincial Prohibition Association by appointing someone whose services would be at the disposal of the Prohibition Association with a view to concentrating the efforts of both organizations in the coming campaign for the plebiscite to be taken on the liquor question.

The secretary of the Dominion Social Service Council stated that he was in conference with the Provincial branch on various issues in connection with their work, and made a commendation of the legislation passed by the Provincial Government relative to the feebleminded. What the Government had already accomplished would go a long way toward the adequate care of the mentally deficient, Dr. Shearer said, and he stated that British Columbia was second to Manitoba, which led the way in legislation providing for the supervision of mental defectives.

The psychological time has arrived, for the Dominion to complete its progressive policy in regard to this question, Dr. Shearer declared, asserting that when this is thoroughly accomplished the result would be a decrease in crime of one half, and other social evils of more than one-half.

Returning to the prohibition question Dr. Shearer reviewed the prospective temperance legislation in the different provinces, and pointed out that 1920 would be a very important year in the history of temperance reform.

Accompanying Dr. Shearer as a delegate to the British Columbia were Harold Beckwith, president of the Prohibition Association, Dr. Leslie Clay, vice-president, and Rev. E. M. Thompson, secretary. Dr. Clay and Mr. Thompson spoke in favor of the continuance of the Prohibition Act as against Government control of liquor sales.

The ministers both declared that no one could say what Government control of sales would involve. Mr. Thompson declared that Premier Oliver never spoke a truer word than when he said at the recent meeting at the Fortanges. Theatre that the plebiscite would be one of the most important questions yet come before the people of this Province.

BUSINESS GIRLS' HOME.

A home for business girls will shortly be opened under the auspices of the New Era League in Vancouver, according to the statement of Mrs. Hugh Wilson, president of the society. The high cost of living has given rise to an urgent need of a residential club where business women can live on moderate earnings. The new project will not in any way clash with the Y. W. C. A., which has more applicants now than it can accommodate.

MEDALS AND HONORS AWARDED AT ST. ANN'S

Governor's Medals Presented For Good Conduct and Proficiency

A large and interested gathering assembled at St. Ann's Academy last night when commencement exercises were held and the awards of medals, premiums, and testimonials of honor made. A delightful musical programme was rendered by the pupils.

Right Rev. Monsignor Leterme presided, and the programme opened with the singing of the National Anthem. "Blow Soft Winds," with the salutatory by Miss E. Wilkinson was very pleasing. A piano duet by the Misses Violet Horn and Roma DeLong Prelude in C Sharp Minor, by Nachmanoff, was a very creditable number and displayed the talents of the youthful musicians.

Miss Q. C. Jones, L. A. B., Gold Medalist, led a pretty rendition entitled "The Maid of Orleans—St. Joan of Arc," in which took part the Misses J. Drysdale, M. Mellor, M. Thompson, M. McKenna, A. Bayfield, and A. Steele.

A piano quartette, "Duo Dramatique, Vibia, Op. 18, was well played by Miss Jones and Miss P. Wilkinson at the first piano, and Miss M. Gladwin and Miss E. Spencer, second piano; Valodictory, Miss M. V. Gibbs. After an address by Hon. J. D. MacLean the programme closed with the chorus, "God's in His Heaven."

The stage was beautifully decorated, the class colors of blue and gold predominating, and the spotless white in which the students appeared combined to make a charming scene.

Hon. J. D. MacLean, in his address expressed his great pleasure at being present, and referred in an appropriate manner to the future of the young people to whom he spoke. The advantages of modern education placed all the more responsibility upon those who enjoyed present-day facilities for education, he said.

Mr. Frank Sehl made a capable chairman. There was a very large gathering of relatives and friends of the pupils and in many respects the event was a memorable one.

EDUCATION IS WATCHWORD OF THE RED CROSS

This co-operation of the Red Cross is generally taking the form of handsome cash subsidies to societies actually conducting the work, and Dr. Fitzgerald stated that one of the first post-war acts of the Dominion executive was to credit $5,000 apiece to the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, the Canadian National Council for the eradication of Venereal Diseases, and the Welfare Section of the Canadian Public Health Association.

Dr. Fitzgerald explained that the Red Cross had taken particular care to see that its activities should in no case interfere with that of other health organizations. Co-operation was the watchword, and as far as the Public Health Departments of the various Provinces are concerned, arrangements had been concluded which had the effect of making the Red Cross an auxiliary to them.

Preventable Diseases. Dr. Fitzgerald pointed out that nearly one-half of all deaths were due to preventable causes, and two-thirds of all sickness was preventable. He maintained that the great need of the country was widespread education in hygiene and preventive medicine, citing the hundreds of deaths yearly occurring from diphtheria as an example of utterly needless loss of life caused through ignorance by the people of the progress of medical knowledge, which he said far outstripped the public's appreciation of its uses.

University Courses. Dr. Fitzgerald announced that the Red Cross executive had already taken an important step in the education of the people in the establishment of public health departments at the provincial universities, where public health nurses would be trained and sent out to such health centres as are now being established in British Columbia under the direction of Dr. Young. Three of these training departments had already been founded and more were under consideration, this being the second great objective which the Canadian Red Cross was carrying through.

Mrs. Harold Fleming presided at yesterday's gathering and Mr. P. W. Jones introduced Dr. Fitzgerald to the meeting, saying that as professor of hygiene at Toronto University the

STUDENTS' RECITAL AT FLETCHER'S STORE

A splendid entertainment was given last evening to the large audience who assembled to hear the recital given by the pupils of Mrs. T. MacGovera in the auditorium of Fletcher Bros. music store.

The programme was well chosen and splendidly selected for each pupil, and great credit is due to Mrs. MacGovera for the capable manner in which each little artist performed. As advanced pupils special mention should be made of the work of Margaret Fawcett, Eveline Smith, Thelma Walker, Dorothy Lowe, Clara French and Harvey Bailey. These pupils made a fine interpretation of the selection chosen for them, and then seven years of age, charmed her audience with a piano forte selection, followed by a song to her own accompaniment.

The assisting artists were Miss Eleanor Dinwiddie and Miss Catherine Albany, who danced very gracefully an Irish jig. Also Mrs. Wheaton, of Regina, who is the possessor of a very rich Mezzo Contralto voice and a charming personality. Her songs were rendered in a very artistic manner with much charm and sweetness, and particularly pleasing to the children was "Mammy's Lullaby," given as an encore.

NEW IMPERIAL PENSIONS

Thirty to Fifty Per Cent. Advances in Effect From April 1.

The decision of the British Government with regard to the granting of increases of pension to those pre-war pensioners whose means are too small to meet the increased cost of living was recently announced in the House of Commons. The relief granted will apply to pensioners aged 60 years or over, or those retired for disability, whose total income does not exceed £200 a year in the case of a married couple, or £150 in the case of a single pensioner. Widows in receipt of pensions granted in respect of services rendered by deceased husbands will be granted the increase at the age of 40.

Following is the scale of increases effective from April 1, 1920:

Pension of £50 (married or single) 50 per cent. increase.
 Pension of £51 to £100 (single) 40 per cent. increase.
 Pension of £101 to £150 (married) 40 per cent. increase.
 Pension of £151 to £200 (single) 30 per cent. increase.
 Pension of £201 to £250 (married) 30 per cent. increase.

Similar relief is to be given to such officers and men pensioners of the navy and army as have in the past been disabled by peace-time injuries. Persons who will benefit under these regulations can get full information from the secretary of the Imperial Veterans in Canada, P. O. Box 317, Victoria.

Some of the new hats of satin and silk are embroidered in colored straw. There are also scarves to match them, for the scarf is still enjoying a decided vogue.

Prize-Drawing Stopped Pending Court Action

As a result of police action the bi-weekly drawings for prizes, which have for some years been conducted by E. A. Morris, Ltd., the well-known tobacconists of Government Street, will be discontinued.

The firm was this morning arraigned before Magistrate Jay in the City Police Court on a charge of "conducting a scheme for the purpose of determining who, or the holder of what tickets, were the winners of property proposed to be given by a mode of chance, contrary to the Criminal Code."

Manager J. Mellis appeared to answer the charge, and the firm was represented by Frank Higgins, K.C. Admitting the holding of the drawings, Mr. Higgins claimed that "everything we have been doing is quite within the law. The plan of operation has been tested out in England, and found flawless."

He asked that, as Mr. Morris is at present in England, the charge should be deferred from week to week until his return, and suggested that, if agreeable to City Prosecutor Harrison, the firm would in the meantime discontinue the issuance of tickets and post no more drawings, after clearing up the present one for which tickets have already been distributed.

ALBERT HEAD PUPILS HOLD CLOSING SPORTS

On the sandy shores of Witty's Lagoon, the pupils of the Albert Head School, with their parents and teachers, celebrated the closing of school by a most enjoyable picnic. Following the bathing were some races and contests, the results of which were as follows: Log tunneling, first prize, Ian Waddell; second prize, Nelson Green; third prize, Charles Trotter. Running races, first prize, Ian Waddell; second prize, Wilfred Trotter; third prize, Norman Trotter. Obstacle race, Nelson Green; first and Charles Trotter second.

After tea, which was served in delightful picnic style on the beach, the happy company congregated around a monster bonfire to enjoy the evening.

The more formal part of the school closing took place Friday, morning, when the promotions were announced and the rolls of honor distributed. Josephine Frances Hart achieved the distinction of winning the roll of honor for department with Charles and Henry Crocker as close seconds. Leslie Francis McWain received the roll of honor for proficiency, while Charles Alfred Trotter was awarded the roll of honor for regularity and punctuality. In addition to the honor rolls, various prizes were given for efficiency in the different subjects.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN WILL COMMENCE ON MONDAY MORNING

With the holding of the first organization meeting to-night, the drive for $25,000 for the Jewish Relief Committee, set for next week, will get off to a strong start.

To-night's meeting will take place at 8 o'clock at the headquarters, 1317 Government Street, when Chairman George Buxby and General Clark, will conclude the arrangements for the coming week.

There is every prospect that Victoria will contribute handsomely towards the amelioration of conditions in Eastern Europe, there being a very general opinion in the city that the Jewish Relief Association is not only doing a great humanitarian work but is also acting as a very valuable means for preventing the spreading of plague, typhus, and innumerable other diseases to this country.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR B. C. FIRMS TO GET ANY OF BOX ORDER

There is little possibility of British Columbia or Island lumber manufacturers being able to compete with American concerns in supplying the huge order of box shooks desired by E. S. Burrows, of Laredo, Texas, D. O. Cameron, of the Cameron Lumber Company, declared to-day.

"B. C. lumbermen doubtless will quote figures on the boxes Mr. Burrows wants, and which he mentions in a letter to the Board of Trade," Mr. Cameron stated, "but there is practically no possibility that we can compete with American manufacturers on account of the duty which must be paid on lumber imported from the border into the United States. I do not think that B. C. lumbermen could come within thirty per cent. of the quotations that the American firms could make. There is little hope of getting any of the order here, because of the duty."

BUY WHISKY SWAMP

Whisky Swamp, on the old Nanaimo Road at the head of Sooke Lake, consisting of 4.25 acres, lot 6 of the Maitland, and made famous by the stories of moonshiners there in the early days, has been bought by the city from two elderly women living in Tacoma. The city is presenting the property to the Canadian National Railways for a right-of-way. It was agreed when the line was started that the city should provide this right-of-way for the railway company. Only part of the property purchased is being given to the railway company. The rest is being held for the city's watershed. The by-law is to be put through Monday night.

City Hall officials explained that the name was given to the swamp years before the advent of prohibition. They say a man cached some whiskey there, and when he went back he could not find it. It has not been found yet.

DAYLIGHT SAVING AGAIN

Aldermen to Investigate Ovar Scheme of Those Who Killed Patrick Measure Last Monday.

City officials fear another outbreak in the Council Chamber over daylight saving Monday night. This will be over the new scheme of Alderman Patrick, which was beaten by a majority of one last Monday night—preparing an attack on the Todd scheme. The city if the Todd supporters would not have their scheme they will not have the Todd scheme. The council is now split into two factions over the alternative daylight saving schemes.

BABY GOLDBERG.

Thought she would not live.

The New Commercial Hotel, Hamilton, Canada.

July 27th, 1916.

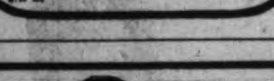

I am enclosing you a photograph of my little girl Helen. Her life was undoubtedly saved by Virol. She weighed eight pounds at birth, but she did not thrive and when five months old her weight was seven pounds. She was in Grant Avenue Hospital in this city, suffering from a complication of meningitis and pneumonia and we had simply given up hope that she would live. The doctor then put her on Virol and the immediate improvement was so remarkable that the Virol feeding was continued and I am perfectly satisfied that she owes her present condition of splendid health to your wonderful food.

Yours very truly, GEORGE GOLDBERG.

Virol increases the power of resistance to the germs of disease, and replaces wasted tissue, it is therefore a valuable food in Measles, Whooping-cough, Infantile Diarrhoea, Influenza, etc.

"The Little Nurse for Little Ills"

THE GREAT BRITISH RHEUMATIC REMEDY

Addressing the Ward 7 Ratepayers of Saanich at a meeting held this week in the Tillamook School, Mr. Newton, of the department of Agriculture, delivered one of the best addresses that have been heard here on the subject of "Paper Farming".

Paper Farming, explained Mr. Newton, was concerned with the study of the profit and loss sheet of any farm business, and from a study of that phase of the situation alone could agriculture, in any of its many branches, be made to pay.

It was the old theory, that was so often and scornfully repeated, "That if a man arrived to commence farming with a cartload of books, he was very lucky to leave with a shirt to his name"—that has set the farmer against going into the business and

Shriners' Excursion Was Welcomed Here By Local Officials

Premier Oliver and Mayor Porter Met Party En Route North—Story of Shrine and Sketch of Local Temple's Growth

Premier Oliver and Mayor Porter this afternoon welcomed Ellis L. Garretson, Imperial Potentate of the Mystic Shrine, accompanied by his Imperial Divan, representatives and their ladies, who reached here during the day on their way to Alaska. The steamers Spokane and Jefferson had been chartered for the occasion, which is an exclusive Shriners' excursion. They were met by the nobles of the Gizeh Temple. After the usual Arabic greetings were exchanged they were given an opportunity of viewing this city. Automobiles had been provided for the entire party. During their absence the steamers of both the committee with "Victoria roses" which have been praised so much by the visitors during the past week on their way to England. Suitable souvenirs of the city will be presented to every one of the nobles and their ladies. There were about three hundred and fifty in the party.

Local Shriners were assisted by the public generally, the executive of the Victoria and Island Development Association having also agreed to assist. It is looked upon as an especially promising opportunity for the city to leave a good impression on prominent representatives of every large centre on the North American continent. The Victoria and Island Development Association presented every member of the party with a handsome album of views of the city and island printed in five colors.

No noble is a stranger wherever he goes throughout the civilized world.

The Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine traces its origin to a Mohammedan, Kalfir by the name of Alu, who was the son-in-law of the prophet Mohammed and lived in the City of Mecca, in Arabia, in A.D. 644. He instituted the order as an inquisition or vigilance committee to dispense justice and execute punishment upon criminals who escaped the law's grasp through the tardiness of the Courts, and also to promote religious tolerance among cultured men of all beliefs.

The order was started in America in 1871 by William J. Florence. Dr. W. M. Fleming was the first candidate and first Potentate of the order. These two decided to invite a select company of eligibles to meet with them for the purpose of founding a temple, having first obtained constitutional authority therefor, and on the night of June 18, 1871, thirteen Masons assembled at 114 East Thirtieth Street, New York, to discuss the question.

The outcome of this meeting was the formal establishment of Mecca Temple, the first in the United States, on September 24, 1872.

The order is regarded throughout the continent as men commended by high authority, and the annual conventions convey a distinction for which Cities are proud to contest.

The Shrine is not Masonry, although in North America no one can become a Shriner unless he is a Mason or a Knight Templar. Membership in one of these high branches of Masonry is simply a prerequisite to the Shrine.

Good fellowship alone is not the aim or purpose of the Order, for its interests lie in every direction, dictated by the best motives. To help the living, to cheer the sick, to pay respect to the dead, are essentials of the Order, but the aim is even higher. To benefit mankind; to better civic conditions; and in so doing, to eschew politics; to not only preach, but live as many men, doing this alike to their homes, City and Country is their high and noble ambition.

Historical Sketch.

Es. Selamu Aleikum (Peace be with you) is the salutation of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

Some time—somewhere in the dim, misty, uncertain past—the Shrine was evolved from the association of good men, banded together, to eradicate certain evils and to promote political and religious liberty.

Some attribute to the Shrine a definite beginning, and Noble George L. Root, of Mecca, is greatly indebted, and the same applies to Noble Harry G. Henly, Recorder of Ararat Temple, in his new history of the Shrine, says that "The Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine was instituted by the Mohammedan Kalfir Aber, the cousin-general and son-in-law of the Prophet Mohammed, in the year of the Higras 25 (A.D. 644), at Mecca, in Arabia."

No matter when or how the Shrine "ald" into being, it is here and Allah be praised. It has been called the "Play House of Masonry," but is founded upon the broader grounds of benevolence and charity, which is dispensed in the Biblical way: "Let not thy right hand know what thy left hand doeth."

Its social side is pronounced and its members are irresistibly drawn closer and made better by contact of men who have passed through the sublime degrees of Masonry. Some of earth's most illustrious sons have crossed "the hot sands." The Khedive of Egypt was a patron, the Earl of Eustace, Goethe, Lord Bacon, and thousands of other celebrities have been enrolled as members.

Gizeh Temple greets the new chieftain as follows: "Imperial Sir, we greet thee, and thy stay in our Oasis shall be as time spent beneath the dome of your own AFIRI, thy entertainment shall be like unto that of a long lost son. May your journey to the mighty North, and that of your wife, the Nobles and all who accompany thee, be a safe one, and the memory thereof be a lasting pleasure."

Mr. Garretson has been a resident of Tacoma thirty-three years and is a practicing attorney. He gained his Masonic connections at an early age and served in most of the important positions throughout the various bodies in which he holds membership. In 1907 Mr. Garretson was elected, illustrious potentate of Afili Temple and held that office five years. In 1911 he was chosen captain of the guard of the imperial divan at the annual convolve in Rochester, N. Y.

Legendary History.

The legendary history of the Orihad ever attempted to do formerly.

Anyone could go on a farm and produce to a certain extent, the average yield of the farmer—but not every tenth man could go on that farm, and be in a position to say if the production was going to yield him a safe interest on his investment.

Business Management.

Many things came under the head of business management, continued the speaker, market control, balance of trade, economics and the law of diminishing returns, rotation of crops with rotation of enterprises, specializing versus generalizing, irrigation projects, credits, and any number of subjects that would not appear at first to come within the scope of the farmer at all, but were, virtually, the life or failure of his enterprise.

The study of land culture, allied to business methods, and a fair mixture of common sense were admirable components for the "business" of farming, and in conclusion he would ask that they, as farmers, at least investigate the possibilities that lie between the covers of "paper farming."

GANGES FAIR ON SEPT. 15.

The Annual Fair on the Islands Agricultural and Fruit Growers Association will be held at Ganges on Sept. 15, 1920. Features in the catalogue this year are district exhibits (all Gulf Islands eligible), special prizes for returned soldiers in the field and garden produce, and a photographer's section. The prizes covered. All other garments were laid aside. Any cloth of color could be worn, but plain pure white was preferable. The law also provided that on reaching the city the Temple should first be visited before any pleasures were had.

There certain formal ceremonies were required, among which were solemn circuits about the building, salutations and kissing the black stone. Such are the traditions and abbreviated history of the Oriental Shrine.

The first Temple in North America was instituted September 25, 1872, in New York, and named "Mecca" by the founders, Drs. Fleming and Wm. Florence, the popular comedian, who was initiated into the mysteries at an Egyptian Temple in Cairo, and other prominent Scottish and York-Rite Masons.

The Imperial Council for North America was organized June 5, 1876, "for the exercise of charity and the improvement of the mind, untrammelled by dogma," and meets annually in various portions of North America. These are the official gatherings of the Imperial Officers, illustrious Potentates, Representatives and Nobles. Their seats of honor are the Imperial Council, at which laws are passed and edicts promulgated.

Gizeh Temple.

Gizeh Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., was founded June 11, 1902. Instituted under Dispensation, August 16, 1902, by illustrious Noble John G. Campbell, Potentate of Afili Temple, Tacoma, Wash., and constituted under Charter granted to Nobles Robert E. Brett, Edward E. Leason, George M. Perdue, Andrew F. Forbes, Charles G. Mills, Harry M. Graham, Fred Davidge, and George R. Moore, by illustrious Noble G. W. Hazen, of Al Kader Temple, on August 15, 1903.

The instant Gizeh Temple was not secured without some efforts on the part of the above-named Nobles. Many times bitter agitations for the organization of the Temple were made, but nothing definite was accomplished until the early part of 1902, when a meeting was called for the purpose of organizing the Temple, and the ability of establishing a Temple of the Order in the city, at which the following Nobles were present: Robert E. Brett, Chas. G. Mills and George R. Moore, all of Tacoma Temple; and Geo. M. Perdue, A. F. Forbes, H. M. Gahame, W. L. Challoner and E. E. Leason, of Afili Temple.

The instant Gizeh Temple was constituted, consisting of Nobles Brett and Leason, he was authorized to prepare and submit a petition to the Imperial Potentate for a Dispensation to form a Temple in this city, and that the name of Noble R. E. Brett be submitted as Potentate and that of E. E. Leason as Recorder. The Code of the Imperial Council provides that "Every Temple shall select an Arabic or Egyptian name," and to Noble Leason fell the honor of naming the Temple in this edict. He chose the name of "Gizeh," from one of the most ancient and remarkable of all the pyramids of Egypt; also the fact of the absence of any Temple having a name beginning with the letter "G," which letter has a peculiar significance in the Arabic language, and is still the only Temple under that letter.

Application for the Dispensation was made, and it was granted by illustrious Imperial Potentate Henry C. Akin, and Noble John G. Campbell, Potentate of Afili Temple, of Tacoma, Wash., appointed Special Deputy to the City of Pea. There the college students wore red caps, which were adopted by the pilgrims and, after the city, called Pea.

The Jewel is the Crescent formed of any substance, but preferably mounted upon camel and a foot, made annual pilgrimages across the desert and sands to Mecca, called Om el Kora (Mother of Towns). The law provided that all pilgrims travelling towards the city should wear the "Ibrahims." It consisted of two pieces of cloth, strips, one wrapped around the loins and the other thrown over the shoulders and the neck so as to leave the right arm uncovered. All other garments were laid aside. Any cloth of color could be worn, but plain pure white was preferable. The law also provided that on reaching the city the Temple should first be visited before any pleasures were had.

covered. All other garments were laid aside. Any cloth of color could be worn, but plain pure white was preferable. The law also provided that on reaching the city the Temple should first be visited before any pleasures were had.

There certain formal ceremonies were required, among which were solemn circuits about the building, salutations and kissing the black stone. Such are the traditions and abbreviated history of the Oriental Shrine.

The first Temple in North America was instituted September 25, 1872, in New York, and named "Mecca" by the founders, Drs. Fleming and Wm. Florence, the popular comedian, who was initiated into the mysteries at an Egyptian Temple in Cairo, and other prominent Scottish and York-Rite Masons.

The Imperial Council for North America was organized June 5, 1876, "for the exercise of charity and the improvement of the mind, untrammelled by dogma," and meets annually in various portions of North America. These are the official gatherings of the Imperial Officers, illustrious Potentates, Representatives and Nobles. Their seats of honor are the Imperial Council, at which laws are passed and edicts promulgated.

Gizeh Temple.

Gizeh Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., was founded June 11, 1902. Instituted under Dispensation, August 16, 1902, by illustrious Noble John G. Campbell, Potentate of Afili Temple, Tacoma, Wash., and constituted under Charter granted to Nobles Robert E. Brett, Edward E. Leason, George M. Perdue, Andrew F. Forbes, Charles G. Mills, Harry M. Graham, Fred Davidge, and George R. Moore, by illustrious Noble G. W. Hazen, of Al Kader Temple, on August 15, 1903.

The instant Gizeh Temple was not secured without some efforts on the part of the above-named Nobles. Many times bitter agitations for the organization of the Temple were made, but nothing definite was accomplished until the early part of 1902, when a meeting was called for the purpose of organizing the Temple, and the ability of establishing a Temple of the Order in the city, at which the following Nobles were present: Robert E. Brett, Chas. G. Mills and George R. Moore, all of Tacoma Temple; and Geo. M. Perdue, A. F. Forbes, H. M. Gahame, W. L. Challoner and E. E. Leason, of Afili Temple.

The instant Gizeh Temple was constituted, consisting of Nobles Brett and Leason, he was authorized to prepare and submit a petition to the Imperial Potentate for a Dispensation to form a Temple in this city, and that the name of Noble R. E. Brett be submitted as Potentate and that of E. E. Leason as Recorder. The Code of the Imperial Council provides that "Every Temple shall select an Arabic or Egyptian name," and to Noble Leason fell the honor of naming the Temple in this edict. He chose the name of "Gizeh," from one of the most ancient and remarkable of all the pyramids

NEW TAX HITS CITY AND B. C. ELECTRIC

Ottawa Assesses Corporations 2 Per Cent. on Purchases of Manufactures

Sales tax of two per cent. announced to-day by Ottawa on the sale of manufactures to railways, power companies, municipalities, public utilities and steamship lines, will considerably increase the burden of operating street car service here, officials of the B. C. Electric said to-day. Materials already cost the local company about the maximum, as freight from the Eastern manufacturing centres comes high.

This new tax will not seriously affect the Corporation of the City of Victoria this year, City Comptroller Raymur explained to-day. Most of the material the city will require has been contracted for up until the end of 1920. Next year, however, the city will be directly hit by this tax.

DRIVE FOR STARVING CHILDREN LIKE THIS ONE TO BEGIN ON MONDAY

The Victoria Branch of the Canadian Jewish Relief Association will conduct a week's campaign for funds—June 28 to July 3—to raise $25,000 for papers of Eastern Europe.

BRIEF LOCALS

Change in Schedule.—The Canadian National Railway schedule of trains to Patricia Bay has been changed with the following additions: Leaving Point Ellice depot on Sundays at 10.55 a. m. and on week-days at 1.40 p. m., trains will run to Patricia Bay.

Cadet Camp.—Cadets who plan to proceed to camp next week are requested to parade at the Boys' Central, George Jay, and North Ward school grounds at 9.15 a. m. on Monday. They should bring the equipment set out in Camp Orders, already published, and also overcoats and running shoes.

Breaks Leg in Fall.—Frank Shapland, of 523 Broughton Street, a line-man employed by the B. C. Electric Railway Company, sustained a fracture of the left leg above the knee when he fell from a pole on the Gorge Road near the Centennial Church at 5 o'clock last night. He was rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the police patrol, where Dr. Fraser set the broken limb. He is progressing well and passed an easy night.

Shingle Mill Closes.—Pending the settlement of the smoke nuisance question, the McCarter Shingle Co. has ceased operation of its mill on Rock Bay. Mr. McCarter reports that apparently the low point in the slump in shingle prices has passed, there having been a recovery of 50 cents in the last day or so. Should the price of shingles continue to recover the mill will be in operation again in about two weeks, provided the method of operation of the plant will not bring it under penalization.

Picnic at Mt. Douglas.—To-day was a great day at Mount Douglas Park for the members of St. Mary's (Oak Bay), Sunday School. Cameron and Calwell's eight-seater cars were engaged to convey the party to and from the Park. The picnic will be by two journeys, the first at six and the latter at half-past seven. As has been the custom in past years, the Sunday school will provide refreshments for the children, for which generous contributions have been received from members of the congregation. For adults it will be a basket picnic. Sports commenced at 1.30, to be followed by a baseball game between the Young Men's Bible Class and the rest of the school.

COL. COLLISHAW, R.A.F. HERE ON LEAVE FROM BOLSHEVIKI FRONT

Famous Canadian Ace to Take Permanent Post in Indian Air Service

Col. Raymond Collishaw, D.S.O., D.F.C., A.F.C., Legion d'Honneur and some ten other decorations won in the late war, paid his first visit to Victoria to-day on return from service in Russia. He was wearing the blue uniform of the Royal Air Force, and is out on the coast for a brief three weeks' rest before returning to England, where he will rejoin his unit in the Indian Frontier, having taken a permanent commission in the Royal Air Force.

Col. Collishaw told The Times that there were 110 Canadians serving with him in Russia, but refused to tell of the rigors of that campaign. He was obviously pleased with the work of the Canadian authorities on the question of aerial development, but very tired of being interviewed.

Every aeronautical association in the Dominion, on his route west, feted Vancouver. Islanders dining with him in Russia, and returned in force to welcome his return. He was impressed with the work of the civilian flying associations throughout the Dominion, he stated, and thought that they were productive of no little good. In his official capacity as a permanent officer in the Royal Air Force he was unable to discuss political matters affecting the work in India, or the present policy of the Canadian authorities on the question of aerial development.

He mentioned, however, that Great Britain has gone after the question of aerial development in a way thoroughly British and complete, having voted forty million pounds for the advancement of civil aviation, besides a very large standing force.

Col. Collishaw intends to remain in Victoria for the next two days, staying at the Empress Hotel, and will leave on a three weeks' holiday up the island, on Monday next. In an effort to gain a little rest, he carefully kept his destination secret.

Of the Canadians in Russia Col. Collishaw spoke most highly, and stated in that connection that nearly three-quarters of the British Air Force pilots had been composed of Canadians. The types of machines used against the Bolsheviki were Sopwith Camels and Bristols for the scouts, De Havillands, Struts and others for the artillery and bombing raids.

Col. Collishaw, with his many decorations, presented a striking figure, and was the centre of a large circle of friends who gathered to greet him.

The manual of School Law and the general practice is not to have such contracts.

"The association received an official communication from the secretary of the School Board, stating that the published reports of the meeting were inaccurate and misleading, and that no such statement as 'Sign or Register' had been made. As there has been no friction between the Board and the teachers, the Association regretted that any newspaper report should suggest that anything of such a nature had existed."

Will you assist as a volunteer and help the Jewish Relief Committee? If so, be at the meeting of the committee Saturday night at 8:30. Meetings will be held in Government Street.

"A committee was therefore appointed personally to interview the members of the Board, and fully explain the situation, asking that the salaries as proposed by the Board should be paid until Christmas and that the new Board and the teachers should discuss the question of making some amendments in January."

"The reasons for not signing may be summed up as follows:

1. Recognition that present Board has done all possible for this year in view of limitations of this year's estimates.
2. Teachers perfectly satisfied until Christmas.
3. New Board, having power to make new estimates, could make further increases if they so desired.
4. Teachers should have right to negotiate without being hampered by any signed agreement at this time.
5. Present form of contract is open to objection, because not properly drawn up and not signed on behalf of Board.
6. No agreement should be signed until it contains definite statement of what its terms will mean for the whole period of such agreement.
7. As the only time when teachers' requests can be met by the Board is prior to February 15, when the estimates are made up, this is therefore the only time when negotiations are of any value. Negotiations for salary to commence in September, would be too late to be incorporated in the estimates.
8. Teachers should not be asked to sign an agreement extending over the term of office of two successive School Boards.

Kelly Blows Up and Yakima Takes Third From Victoria Team

Fatal Sixth, In Which Yakima Gets Six Runs, Seals Fate of Capitals, Who Are Unable to Hit Their Stride With the Bat.

Victoria, 5; Yakima, 9. VICTORIA lost the third game of the present series to Yakima at Yakima yesterday, when Wee Kelly blew up sky-high in the sixth and allowed six runs before he was yanked. Up until that time things looked bright, and Bill Leard figured that he would even up on Yakima's two previous victories this week.

However, Yakima had the utmost difficulty in finding Kelly's delivery too during the first five frames. Kelly didn't allow many hits during the early encounters, but, on the other hand, he only fanned one lone batter.

YARROWS DRIVES TOWARD THE TOP

Brown Hurls Shipbuilders to Second Victory in Three Days

RIVING onward, bound for the league leadership, Yarrows baseball nine last night won a closely-contested, ninth-inning victory from the Elks, with whom they are now tied for second place.

The Elks team got two other runners in the fifth. Whyte fanned. Painter singled. Green walked. Townsley doubled, bringing home McMilloy. Newman singled, sending Theo to third. Finally, Irvine fanned to the relief of the Yards bunc.

The Elks team got two other runners in the fifth. Whyte fanned. Painter singled. Green walked. Townsley doubled, bringing home McMilloy. Newman singled, sending Theo to third. Finally, Irvine fanned to the relief of the Yards bunc.

Yarrows Goes Ahead. In the fourth, too, Yarrows boosted his score. Fitzsimmons out. Ross to Green. Bob Milne singled and Yummy, apparently forgetting that there was only one out, attempted to come home when E. Brown filed to Irvine, and before he could get back to the third sack he was put out.

Yarrows chalked up two more in the fifth. Gandy grounded to Ross, who missed the ball, Gandy going to second; H. Brown and Potts singled. Brown scoring Gandy, and himself crossing the pan on Potts's drive.

With two out, the winning run was registered in the last frame. McGregor hit safely. E. Brown filed to Irvine. Gandy filed to Townsley. Williams singled. H. Brown singled to deep centre and McGregor scored. The game was won.

No discredit is coming to Percy Ross, on the slab for the Elks, who was in fine fettle. It was his two fatal errors, however, both resulting in runs, but outside of that he was in first-class form. He made no wild pitches, gave no bases on balls, fanned five and allowed twelve hits. Ebert Brown, of course, chalked up his second victory in three days. He walked but one man, made no wild pitches, got four assists and whiffed ten batters. Yummy McGregor was a sower of strength to Yarrows. Indeed, with him and the brothers Brown lined up Yarrows are not worrying a great deal about the outcome of the League.

Circus Catches. The game was marked by two fresh catches by Robinson. First of all he had to run back ten feet and jump to spear what looked like a safe hit, and in the second he also had to use clever judgment in running back a considerable distance to catch a hot one.

SUN PUTS NEW LIFE INTO BIG TENNIS TOURNEY

Victoria Club Stars Go Down to Unexpected Defeat

The president and committee of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, especially the secretary, wore broad smiles yesterday afternoon to greet the warm smiles of Old Sol in his first appearance during the tournament. Good tennis always comes when the weather is good. Surprises were the order of the day. J. H. Matson eliminated F. J. Marsall, perhaps the best singles player in the club at present next to Schwengers. Robertson did the same to young John Proctor, one of the coming players, and Miss Taylor, after a hard battle, eliminated Mrs. Fairbairn, one of the best of the lady-players. Boucher just managed to scrape through his match with Gill, Miss Lawson remaining in the tournament by a comfortable win. The Matson-Marshall match drew a large gallery, and both players played a base line game, the rallies were long. Proctor, in his anxiety to make ace, frequently made out when his less severe shot would have counted. Mrs. Fairbairn made the same error in her game with Miss Taylor. Matson, Robinson and Miss Taylor are all coming in, and they thoroughly deserve their victories, and their progress in the tournament will be watched with interest. The match between Mrs. Mogg and Miss McNeill was a fine one to watch. Miss McNeill with a little more accuracy and strength in her returns would be a stiff opponent to meet.

Yesterday's Results. Mrs. Mogg beat Miss McNeill, 7-5, 2-6. Miss Lawson beat Miss McCintock, 6-0, 5-2. Gordon beat Dunniston, 6-0, 6-2. Prillard beat Berrill, 6-4, 6-1. Matson beat Marshall, 6-1, 6-2. Boucher beat Gill, 6-4, 6-5, 6-4. Miss Taylor beat Mrs. Fairbairn, 6-4, 7-5. Robertson beat Proctor, 6-2, 6-2.

Late Matches To-Day. At 4:30 p. m.—On No. 1 court, Gordon and Miss Leeming play Grant and Miss Leader. On No. 2 court, Kennedy and Mrs. Leeming play Mr. and Mrs. Boucher, Foulkes and Mrs. Burgo play Brown and Miss Taylor, Matson and Robertson play Whittaker and Ciceri, Misses Long and Leader play Misses Scott and Erington, Morris and Mrs. Morton play Meakin and Mrs. Meakin, Knight and Miss Milligan play Mackenzie and Miss Lawson, Berrill and Mrs. Saunders play Gaudion and Mrs. Clarke.

MAINLAND EXPECTS TRIP TO ANTWERP

Vancouver Boys Hope to Get On Olympic Team This Year

Vancouver, June 25.—That Vancouver will have representatives on the 1920 Olympic track and field team that takes part in the big games in Antwerp this year is a foregone conclusion, judging from the form shown by several local tracks at Brockton Point during the past week or two.

The final trials were held at Brockton Point this afternoon under the auspices of the Greater Vancouver Amateur Athletic Association, and the best men will be weeded out. Leading athletes of the Mainland, including John Cameron, John Murdoch, White, Archie McDiarmid, Lee Cowan, Farr, Wallie Crawford and Garrett Livingstone, will take part in the big meet, and it is expected that several thousands of lovers of amateur athletics will be on hand to see Vancouver's best in action.

The mark of 25 feet 6 inches for the 56-lb. weight set by Archie McDiarmid the other day, stamps the local freeman as a strong contender for honors. The old mark, 24 feet 6 inches, has stood for years as an Olympic record and McDiarmid's performance in eclipsing it stamps him as one of the fighting spirit.

Detective John Cameron, B. C. all-round champion, is being considered strongly as a contender for the Canadian team. Taken the country over there are not many men who should worry Cameron very much in his quest of the all-round title. Edmonson has a man, Blades by name, who is considered a top-notch, but those who have seen both men in action claim that Cameron is the better.

For one of the Great War Veterans' Association stars, is expected to make a good showing in the 15-mile marathon to-morrow. Although 15 miles are expected in the distance run.

SWIMMERS ALL READY FOR OLYMPIC TRIALS

San Francisco, June 25.—More than seventy Pacific Coast and Hawaiian Island swimmers are in the San Francisco Bay district tonight for the tryouts for the Olympic Games swimming team, which will take place at Neptune Bench at Alameda Saturday and Sunday.

Will you assist as a volunteer and help the Jewish Relief Committee? If so, be at the meeting of the committee Saturday night at Dixi Ross's old store, on Government Street.

DOMINION

Fair and Warmer" a sprightly comedy farce that is a thing of joy in this week keeping Dominion audiences throughout its entire length in continuous laughter. In the production May Allison has a captivating role of novel situations and happy comedy. A husband who is so perfect that he is a bore is an unusual theme for a picture, but Avery Hopwood has produced from this theme a comedy farce that provides great entertainment, being one of the brightest, funniest farces ever conceived. The balance of the programme consisting of a new Harold Lloyd comedy and a Holmes travel picture is also excellent.

VARIETY

Another of those elaborate cabaret scenes that Thomas H. Ince knows how to "put on" so well, is a feature of Enid Bennett's latest picture, "The Woman in the Suitcase," which will be the attraction at the Variety Theatre to-day for the last time. The interior of one of New York's liveliest restaurants before the "Sahara days" descended upon the metropolis is pictured during one of its busiest hours. For everyone a picture of masculine professional performers were hired for the occasion. Everything was prepared on a luxurious scale, and with the attention to detail which is one of Mr. Ince's characteristics. Enid Bennett is cast as a young boarding school miss who unexpectedly gets wind of an affair which her husband is carrying on with an unscrupulous siren. By a clever trick she routes the schemer and makes her father see the error of his course. Thomas H. Ince produced the picture for Paramount-Artcraft and it was directed by Fred Niblo.

COLUMBIA

What sort of a woman makes the better wife? If you are a man, what sort of a woman would you want for a wife? Would you rather have the kind that smiles and looks pretty, but is as cold as ice as well as for yourself—or would you be happier with the true-blue kind, even though she might be a bit of a dowd? This isn't a serious question that the picture "The Better Wife" which is at the Columbia Theatre.

PANTAGES

Although the big spectacle feature of the bill of Pantages vaudeville this week is found in the offering of the Chinese greatest magician, Long Tack Sam, and his troupe of Oriental wonder workers, there is an added number on the programme that will greatly interest the younger generation present in the audience. It is presented by two little French girls, Corry and Althoff, who last toured this continent as child prodigies and were enthusiastically received for their remarkable renditions of difficult piano compositions. The two girls are really sisters and in their present act one plays the piano and the other sings. They were born in Holland and are the grandchildren of Pierre Corneille, a member of the Conservatory of Music, and the first in the world to introduce a children's orchestra. Their father is a noted violin and concert soloist, but their mother, who travels with them, is not in any way musically inclined. Four other acts, headlined by the famous Long Tack Sam troupe, and featuring complete the week's bill.

PANTAGES

Along with the announcement last week by Manager Robert Jackson, of the Pantages vaudeville troupe, would be put on the Summer four days a week schedule, come the further announcement that Monday and Tuesday at the popular playhouse will be devoted to the exhibition of high class motion picture productions. The first of these will be the Edgar Lewis production, "Other Men's Shoes," which will be shown on the Pantages screen next Monday and Tuesday. This is a brand new production of the genius who put out such screen offerings as "The Great Divide," "The Barrier," "The Bondman" and other verve offerings. The question is whether a man who has served a year in prison can step into the shoes of his minister brother. When the strong brother steps into the shoes of the weak brother interesting complications arise, for no one but his sister and brother know of the masquerade. Blackmailers threaten to besmirch his name in the eyes of the townpeople whose attitude of tolerant respect changed to whole-hearted admiration when their minister suddenly displayed a courage, two-fisted fighting spirit.

Clean, wholesome, vigorous, human and dramatic, "Other Men's Shoes" has been called one of the finest productions of the new year. Crawford Kent heads a splendid cast in which are Irene Boyle, Harold Porshay, John P. Wade, Jean Armour, Phil Sanford and Bobby Connolly.

Big Leaguers Use Absorbine Jr.

Many of the stars in the big leagues use Absorbine Jr. for the rub down after the game. They know that "ABSORBINE JR." keeps their salary wings strong and properly toned and prevents stiffness in joints and muscles. "ABSORBINE JR." is the ideal rub-down and liniment for athletes. It relieves muscle and inflammation; always pulls, breaks cuts and bruises; reduces sprains, wrenches. Every amateur should make it a habit to use Absorbine Jr. before and after the game. $1.25 a bottle—at most drug stores or direct from W. F. YOUNG, Inc., Bryan Building, Montreal.

ORPHEUM PRESENTS MANY BRIGHT PLACES

Bill Replete With Entertaining Numbers and Many Novel Effects

That the portrayal of "character" parts can be one of the most engaging and convulsive of entertainments was proved to first nighters at the Orpheum last night by Miss Irene Franklin, the well known American comedienne. Miss Franklin, besides exceptional histrionic abilities, brought to her act a charm of manner that rendered the audience unanimous in its approval, after the first few minutes of the period. Equipped with more than usual talents in the difficult role of character comedienne, Miss Franklin, assisted by Mr. Burton Green, who plays accompaniments, and fills in the waiting spaces with selections that carry a charm of their own.

As a lunch-counter waitress, a cash girl in a department store, a Broadway chorus girl from the Siegfried Follies, and a Parisienne, this talented artist renders an act that is thoroughly enjoyable, and filled with a joie de vivre that is rarely written on local boards. Her "Dirty Face" Miss Franklin wins all hearts, with the trials and tribulations of the very young over the ending succession of "swash-bucklers" administered with some love loving touch. In this screamingly comical sketch the artist puts a very effective cap on her charming entertainment.

second time without disappointing anybody. The three Danoise Sisters, in an act of peculiar setting, present a novel exhibition of agility and strength that is all unusual in the supposedly "weaker" half of humanity, while not a common type of presentation their efforts win entire approval and well merited applause. Billie Burke, the mas of the ice-wagon, gives ample evidence of his fitness for the "calling" and sings with much strength and thoroughness. The Creole Fashion Plate is a type of act that has been seen here before, but is amply justified by the extremely beautiful setting, and the conclusion is surprising when the audience is relieved of many of its doubts. The setting is unusual and unique in design, and the "artist" is in keeping with the staging. Altogether the Orpheum this week is a thoroughly entertaining bill, with many bright places, and much that is novel and worth seeing. The Canadian pictorial and orchestra contribute the usual quota to the entertainment.

Your Private Business—What if it Were Regulated Like the Street Railway

Your butcher baker, grocer, milkman, tailor, laundry man, raised their rates some time ago—and they continued to raise them from day to day whenever costs to them were advanced. No business can endure when expenses exceed income.

A street railway is limited and restricted by what other people say it must do. We are restricted to a fare fixed in a franchise made more than thirty years ago.

Unlike any private business, we couldn't close up shop, move to another town or retire when coal, oil, machinery, equipment, wages, etc., began to go up and cut into our earnings. The public had to have street car service.

Increasing our rates is the only way to ensure the continuance of good street car service in Victoria. It costs more—much more—to supply service to-day than it cost thirty years ago. It is not unreasonable to ask more for street car service.

Continued Street Car Service Necessitates More Street Car Revenue

Government Estimates Include $703,000 For Victoria Project

From advices received to-day, $703,000 has been voted in the Federal Supplementary Estimates for the Victoria Shipowners, Ltd., in connection with the construction programme in the hands of the Cholberg yards. This is the final confirmation of the intention of the Government to stand behind the local shipping concern that made their individual drive for the remainder some time ago. At the time of the campaign for funds there was considerable speculation as to whether the company would be able to collect the necessary $300,000 in time to realize on the loan of the other three-quarters of a million from the Government.

The money, a million all told, is to be devoted equally to the four wooden ships under construction at the local Cholberg yards, and work has been continuing for some time on the preliminary construction. Lack of material has been a drawback, it is stated, but now the timbers are safely on the way, and the work is progressing with all dispatch.

The employment situation, satisfactorily settled by the co-operation of the S. C. R., the Government Employment Bureau and the returned soldier organizations, has succeeded in the smooth working of the employment of labor. With the advent of the timbers required additional help will be taken. By the time the four keels are under way there will be a distinct improvement in the local labor situation, and employment will be found for many that have been laid off since the cessation of the Foundation yard contracts with the French Government.

SAYS AMALGAMATION WILL BE BENEFICIAL

General Manager of G. T. P. Speaks of the Situation

W. P. Hinton, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway who was in Victoria yesterday, states that the co-ordination of the former Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railways is proceeding with the utmost smoothness and that the combined organization, known as the Canadian National Railways, will be thoroughly effective in operation. Administration is to be worked, it is stated, by the amalgamation of the two executive staffs, thus combining the force of the personnel, and saving the expense. As to conditions and further plans for the B.C. section, Mr. Hinton was unable to make any official announcement, but intimated that it was likely an official statement would be forthcoming in due course. Settlement throughout the entire Dominion is progressing very favorably and encouragingly active, he stated in conclusion. Mr. Hinton returned to Vancouver last night, and will make his way East by the Canadian National Railway.

"Which power raises man the higher? Love or music? It is a great question. It seems to me that love alone cannot give an idea of music, but music can give an idea of love—why separate them? They are the twin wings of the soul." So once declared Hector Berlioz, and his life, all permeated with love and music, was certainly a demonstration of that sentence.

FAMOUS PAULIST CHOIR WILL COME
Organization of Men and Boys Will Be Here July 15

The famous Paulist Choir now on its 1920 transcontinental tour will again visit this city. This choir is not only a great liturgical choir for the services of the church in a Great Basilica in New York, but it is a most wonderful body of men and boys—a virtuous concert organization—in America, and perhaps in the world.

There are seventy choristers in the group, forty of these are boys who have been recruited from all parts of the United States, and who live together in the Choir School at the Libby Castle in New York.

The choir has sung about two thousand concerts in this country and Europe since its foundation in 1904.

The programme is divided into three parts, the first including the works of Palestrina, the earliest of schools; the second, some of the greatest works of Bach and the modern Russian school; and the third of folk-songs and madrigals.

In the third part, four boy soloists will be introduced as well as the well-known tenor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, John Finnegan, who is touring with the choir.

The choir is personally managed and conducted by Father Finn, its founder, who obtains marvellous results from his beautifully trained organization.

The choir makes its reappearance here having visited this city about two years ago, at the "Arena," on Thursday, July 15, under the local management of the Arena Company, Lester Patrick, and concert director of George J. Dyke.

The programme is divided into three parts, the first including the works of Palestrina, the earliest of schools; the second, some of the greatest works of Bach and the modern Russian school; and the third of folk-songs and madrigals.

In the third part, four boy soloists will be introduced as well as the well-known tenor of St. Patrick's Cathedral, John Finnegan, who is touring with the choir.

The choir is personally managed and conducted by Father Finn, its founder, who obtains marvellous results from his beautifully trained organization.

CLOSING RECITAL OF CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH TO BE HELD

A very full programme has been arranged for the monthly recital to be given at the First Congregational Church to-morrow evening. Owing to the appreciation of many who had the privilege of hearing this choir in some of the earlier recitals most of the numbers to be given are included by special request. As this is the closing recital of this series for the season a large attendance is expected. The programme:

"I Waited For the Lord"
..... Mendelssohn
Mrs. Spence, Miss Hob and Chorus.
Carnet solo—
(a) The Rosary Nevins
(b) Intermasses (Cavalleria Rusticana) Mascagni
Mr. Sidney Rogers.
The Lost Chord Sullivan
Chorus.
Abide With Me Liddle
Mr. W. Dunn.
"Gallia" Gounod
Mrs. E. F. Gould and Chorus.

JOHN FINNEGAN
famous tenor with the Great Paulist Choir, of New York, Mr. Finnegan is tenor soloist at the St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, and will give a beautiful silvery voice that is equalled by few living tenors. The Paulist Choir will make their reappearance here on Thursday, July 15, in the Arena.

THE DRUMMER'S PART.
Did you ever stop to think of all the equipment that the drummer in a band or concert party consists of? The ordinary set of drums for general business, such as a snare drum, tenor and bass drum, snare drum, stand, bass drum, Turkish sticks, pedal music stand, a set of orchestra bells, triangle, tambourine, castanets, small crash cymbal and wood block. He often has to have a few extra traps to use. Most drummers carry in addition to the above, a snare whistle, a set of clog mallets, small cow bell, set of sleigh bells, choo-choo whistle, combination trap, rattle and a number of other things. The business man who has a complete list of traps is necessary when the drummer is "playing the pictures." By this is meant when the drummer is imitating the noises represented in the pictures.

For the moving-picture business, where the drummer is being featured, a complete set of traps is advised. The most essential ones being: Combination machine (producing wind effects, water effects and crash effects), a set of clog mallets, a set of small traps like money-chink, dog bark, railroad imitation, shot-cushion, automobile horn, etc., and possibly a set of small chimes.

SINGING FOR LIVING.
One of the latest bits of news about the Romanoff family is that no less a personage than the Princess Catherine Yorievski, the daughter of Alexander II, by a romantic marriage, is now earning her living by singing in London.

The princess was brought up in the lap of luxury, but when the Romanoff fortune was seized by the Soviets and she was left practically penniless. With no hope of ever getting any money who happens to be stranded, she accepted her new lot with courage.

Possessing a fine voice she determined to make use of it in order to earn her living. At first the people she knew laughed at her, but soon their laughter was turned to respect and admiration, for they saw that she was succeeding.

This noble descendant of the Romanoffs began her career by singing in a few French parish churches. Then she tried private concerts, and finally she appeared on a public platform in London. There she is supporting herself and family, living modestly and helping her compatriots who happen to be stranded in England. She has no costly mementoes of the past, her only relic being the picture of her father, Alexander II. She is contented in her new abode despite hardships, and is reconciled to the idea of living modestly to the end of her days.

BOY CHORISTERS.
Because a boy happens to be a chorister does not in the least change his nature as a boy. He has the average mischievous and love for fun that other boys have. In common with other boys he is confiding and grateful for what is done for him. The secret of success in dealing with the choir boy is to understand him. If choirmasters fail, if discipline is ragged, if attentions are poor, the trouble is not with the boy but with the choir master. The average choir boy is desirous to please and to co-operate with the one that really understands him. The judicious choirmaster will aim to get this co-operation on the part of the boys, for this secured spells success. He must have their affections and they will respect him. He must rule kindly, quietly and firmly. Boys are very keen to discover any weakness of a choirmaster either as a disciplinarian or as a director. Nothing will militate so much against a choirmaster as mistrust on the part of the boys.

It is in the school that we must expect to find the proper material for the upbuilding and continuance of the institution known as the boy choir. Naturally then, the training along musical lines received there should have much to do with the success of such a choir. Now in many schools no attempt is made to teach the children note or sight reading, but as music is considered more of a recreation than an educational asset, songs are taught the children by rote.

MUSICAL NOTES
(By George J. Dyke).

Numerous violin sonatas were written by British composers in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and certain facts are already clear regarding the events which led up to the remarkable group of modern British violin sonatas. In the latter half of the eighteenth century, violin music in England and indeed all British music, passed through a desultory phase surrounded and submerged by foreign influence. Then came the re-awakening of British music, and in the latter part of the nineteenth century, which may be called the "renaissance," the movement having such leaders as Sir Alexander Mackenzie, Sir Charles Stanford and Sir Frederick Cowan. By the beginning of the twentieth century many of the gifted young composers had joined them, and during the last few years there have been a steady accession to their ranks. The names of the composers are three generations of thought represented and their works cover practically every type of music. During the early years of this national movement, the violinists who wrote violin sonatas were written, but as interest increased, so there came a time when a whole sonata literature has been written in the violin sonata. The modern duo type, and nearly all have been played by the fine British violinists now before the public. The violinists who wrote violin sonatas, Sullivan wrote none at all, Mackenzie, though he has written a lot of other violin music, Cowan's sonata in G minor is still in manuscript. Parry preferred suite form. Stanford, however, has composed many violin sonatas, as may be expected from such an alert and many-sided musician. His first sonata belonged to the Leipzig period, and was written in Cambridge. Stanford has written four and his third and fourth are quite new. Sir Edward Elgar came into the field later, and his sonata in E op. 82 is the recent work which has been much played at London concerts. That modern of moderns, Frederick Delius, whose genius runs in terms of composition, has written on sonata in one movement, a "wind among pines" or "a quiet sea at night." Dr. Walford Davies has written two sonatas and Dr. Charles Wood, of Cambridge, Dr. Ernest Walker, of Oxford, and Prof. Donald Tovey, of Oxford, and Edinburgh have all written violin sonatas. R. McEwen and Arthur Hinton, both connected with the Royal Academy of Music, have written delightful sonatas. Another Academician, Arnold Bax, a Celt of marked qualities, and Joseph Holbrooke a very gifted individual, have several sonatas in manuscript, as have Richard Walthew, whose chamber music is charming, A. Carse, Sidney Rosenbloom, and Walde Warner.

During the latter 90's a very interesting group of composers were fellow students at the Royal College of Music, and most of them have contributed to the literature of British violin sonatas. William Hurlstone, Nicholas Galt, Coleridge Taylor, John Ireland, Thomas Dunhill and Arthur Benjamin. The latter served all through the Sonnets and Ypres, and is a composer from Australia, whose violin sonata was written when in captivity in Germany.

Herbert Howell has written two sonatas in B.E. which are remarkable. Cyril Scott and Eugene Goossens stand for the ultra-modern in music; the latter's forthcoming sonata, being awaited with great interest.

York Bowen, Friskin, Algermon

Ashton, Arnold Trowell, Dr. William J. Harris, Dr. Harold Warka, Geoffrey O'Connor-Morris, Ivor Gurney and Eric Glitten have all composed violin sonatas. The few British women composers who have written in this form are Ethel Barnes (four), Dr. Ethel Smyth and Susan Spain-Dunk, still in M.SS.

New York will erect a great memorial to the soldier and sailor dead of U. S. A. through the Victory Hall Association. The sum to be raised will be $20,000,000, and by popular subscription from the masses. The memorial will include a large music hall. San Francisco has subscribed for its memorial hall, and in two weeks not together two and a half million dollars. Kansas City raised over two millions in a few days for the same purpose.

The concertina was patented in 1829, and the saxophone, by one called Sax, in 1846.

In a well-known musical weekly we note a fair violinist, who played here in concert a few weeks ago, sitting on the steps of Parliament Building. The weekly says "Parliament Building at Vancouver, B.C. Vancouver now has the Parliament Buildings; by and by our sister city will have the lovely Empress Hotel if we are not very careful.

Bisset's opera, "The Pearl Fishers," has been revived in London under Sir Thomas Beecham, who is a Bisset enthusiast.

Moose Jaw had a three days' musical festival last month. Choirs, orchestras and singers from the principal centers of the Province took part in the various contests. The event was an outstanding success.

Calgary is to have a music festival next year in the Spring. The Alberta Musical Festival this year was held in Edmonton. The adjudicator was Dr. Henry Coward, conductor of the famous Sheffield choir, and Henry Fricker, conductor of the Mendelssohn choir of Toronto.

The London String Quartette will visit the "New World" in the Autumn.

We recommend to "cello students an excellent collection of little teaching pieces, developed along the line of the folk-tune, by Edith Otis.

Dr. Blow's (1648-1708) old ballad, "The Grove," is like all John's songs, "smooth and natural," and is as well over two hundred years ago.

A new musical comedy entitled "Oh, Julie," composed by Hermann Darewski and Sullivan, is to appear shortly at the Shaftesbury, London.

Dennis Wyndham is an actor with a rare avowed career. Born in South Africa, he has been in turn a miner, sailor, cow-puncher, soldier and actor. He stands over six feet three inches tall, and is a fine boxer. He married the daughter of Lord Incheupe, and their wedding was one of the romances of the war, for Dennis met his wife, then the Miss Mackay, when he was in hospital. The young couple fell in love, but could not receive their parents' consent to their marriage, and were eloped and were married in Glasgow.

Grand opera at the Lyceum is attracting enormous audiences and a notable performance of the "Jewels of the Madonna" was a recent feature.

Arthur Collins, the clever scenic painter—hundreds of thousands of theatregoers have witnessed his stage art—has completed the sketches he recently made on the Gulliver, having around the Sahara, for the Summer play, "The Garden of Allah," to be in the Drury Lane Theatre this month.

Miss Haides de Rance is surely a gifted and versatile young girl. She plays the violin delightfully, and sings twice a night in the Gulliver, having around the Sahara, for the Summer play, "The Garden of Allah," to be in the Drury Lane Theatre this month.

Remembered best for his "Fantomme Rehearsal" the play so famous and popular for twenty years, Cecil Clay has died at his residence in Smith Square, Westminster, aged seventy-three. Mr. Clay gave the late Wendon Grossmith his first chance on the professional stage. His "Fantomme Rehearsal" was formed professionally in June, 1891, at Terry's Theatre. Cecil Clay was the youngest son of James Clay, for many years member for Hull, an intimate friend of Benjamin Disraeli, who won the odd event in that classic contest of games with "Squire" Cabaldin, and was the author of the celebrated treatise on whist. The eldest son, Ernest, was the clever diplomatist, so popular in racing circles, who, on his marriage with the daughter of Stanford, took the name of Ker-Seymer. The second, Fred Clay, who was private secretary to two Prime Ministers, wrote the music of "The Singing Songs of Araby" and "She Wandered Down the Mountain Side," and the comic opera "Princess Toto," for which the late W. S. Gilbert furnished the libretto. Cecil Clay was not only a great athlete, the flag-raquet player of his day, a good cricketer, and a fine lawn tennis player, but also an accomplished scholar. His Latin verses are still remembered at Harrow and Oxford. One of the wisest of men, he was never known to say an unkind thing or make a coarse jest. A member at one time or another of many of the best London clubs, his wonderful personal charm gained him a host of friends rarely equalled in club life. His bright optimism is well shown in a remark made not long before his death. Someone on the St. James's Club complained of the matches. "Well," he said, "it is a comfort in these times to find something which doesn't strike." His courage during the war, his devotion to his friends who had the privilege of seeing him, and the last words he breathed to his devoted wife were whispered messages of affection to those friends who had tried to cheer him up in his last moments.

You Can Own a Heintzman & Co. Piano

THE worth of a piano lies in the music which can be extracted from it, and it is the voice of the HEINTZMAN & CO. that has first claim upon the maker's labors. Hence the lowest priced HEINTZMAN & CO. model has the true, distinctive HEINTZMAN & CO. tone. The moment a chord is struck you can tell from its full, rich quality, by the long, true "singing note," that it is an instrument of no common grade. Its touch is no less delightful, while, like the good violin, its tones become mellower with age.

ganist of a local church, and his life, like that of the great Beethoven, can be divided into three marked periods of productivity, the first covering his early years to about 1850, the second to about 1870, and the third, the greatest period, terminating with his death in 1901, at the age of eighty-eight. Verdi is almost exclusively an operatic composer. He wrote only a few church works, one a masterpiece, "Manson Requiem," and one strong quartette (unimportant). He wrote thirty operas, six of which belong to the first period (1850), Otello, Nabucco, L'ombardi Ernani, Macbeth, and Louisa. Miller, his Rigoletto, which met with instant success, was produced in 1851; then followed Il Trovatore, La Traviata, Les Vespers Siciliennes, Simon Boccanegra, and Don Carlos, and others. Nearly seventy years after Il Trovatore was written it is to-day the most popular of all grand operas. The third period commenced with the production of Ilda (1871) at Cairo, Egypt, and includes Otello (1887) and Falstaff (1893).

It is in this final stage that the master reached the heights of his art. Verdi's amazing fund of melodic invention has probably never been equaled by other composers and remarkable and surprising as the beautiful and effective passages contained in his many and popular operas.

Verdi's life was one of generosity and giving. He endowed the House of Rest for Musicians in Milan, giving a fine building and a fund of $500,000 for its support.

In 1893 the King of Italy conferred upon him the title of Marquis of Busset. He died in Milan.

Many of the Mystic Shriners visited this city on Sunday last, and were taken here, there and everywhere out and around the beauties we all know so well. Of course the beautiful Beacon Hill Park was visited by all,

FIFTY YEARS OF SERVICE FOR THE METHODIST CAUSE
Rev. C. M. Tate Arrived in Victoria on July 12, 1870
LONG RECORD AMONG THE INDIAN TRIBES

A leak was discovered which necessitated both passengers and crew working the hand pumps to keep the vessel from sinking," he stated.
Mr. Tate referred to the large Indian population he found in Victoria in 1870, and to his arrival at Nanaimo, which was to be his headquarters, by the steamer Emma, a few days later.
"The arrival of the steamer found everybody at the wharf," he said "and the newcomers and to get their mail. The postmaster stood at an open window and read the name on the envelopes, while the people on the street answered to their names, and the letter was handed over."
At that time there were 400 Indians there, with only three stations on the Gulf Islands, and in Cowichan Valley. "I opened a night school for the Indians, and later took charge of the day school," he explained, "at the request of Dr. Crosby."
Early Associations
"After four years at Nanaimo, I was transferred to Fort Simpson, where I organized the Methodist Mission and in July 1874 exchanged with the late Rev. T. Crosby, whose mission was among the Ankenamun Indians in the Chilliwack Valley, from which point I made periodical visits to Vancouver Island, and Washington Territory." Mr. Tate proceeded, "I also reached all the Indian tribes between the mouth of the Fraser and Yale, including what is now the city of Vancouver, where the Squamish Indian Church was under my care."
"This was the first church of any denomination and stood on the edge of Burrard Inlet, at the Western end of Granville village, which was composed of a store, a saloon, and half a dozen shacks occupied by men who worked at the Hastings saw mill. The whole village site is now incorporated in what is now known as Water Street. Gassy Jack was the nickname of the saloon keeper, and in his honor the embryonic city was nicknamed Gastown. Burrard Inlet was reached by steamer from New Westminster, which, in turn was reached from Victoria by the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer "Enterprise" twice.

AMERICAN PRESBYTERIANS UNITE.
The union of the Presbyterian Churches in the United States seems now to be an assured fact. The General Assembly of the Northern Presbyterian Church and the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church have both adopted unanimously the plan of union which has been under consideration, and this union will probably embrace the Dutch Reformed Church, the Scotch Covenanters and the German Reformed Church, and it is expected to include also the United Presbyterians, this giving a membership enrollment of more than two million members.
The new scheme, the Continent declares, "extends at vital points to actual organic consolidation," and it will no doubt be the first great step to real organic union. The scheme as adopted will now be sent to the Presbyteries for their approval, and if the General Assembly reflects at all the feeling of the Presbyteries, that approval should be most emphatic and complete. But meanwhile the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church did not agree to consummate the union with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. This union will assuredly come to pass, but it has been postponed for a while. And in Canada also the much more significant union between Presbyterians, Congregationalists, and Methodists still hangs fire, with the possibility of the Presbyterian General Assembly of 1921 definitely dealing with it. Some of our Canadian brethren are getting very impatient over the lengthy delay, but when we consider the prejudices we have had to overcome the marvel is that we are so far on the road towards a real union.—Christian Guardian.

REV. C. M. TATE
Tate has himself given half a century of service.
Far from feeling that his literary work is done, Mr. Tate has another book in preparation. His Chinook dictionary has gone through three editions, and the Gospel of St. Mark in Chinook is another tribute to his industry. He has prepared several translations into the Ankenamun, Bella Bella and Tsimpshean languages, so that his long missionary endeavors will be appreciated in years to come when the spoken appeal can no longer be made.
An Overland Journey
Mr. Tate came to Victoria from the North of England by way of Liverpool and New York, taking just two months from the day of departure to reach here, landing from a San Francisco steamer on July 12, 1870. Crossing the Atlantic on the Cunard liner China he has this to say with regard to the railway journey to San Francisco by way of the Central and Union Pacific railroads, which occupied fifteen days. "The line had just been completed, and but few station restaurants, so many a day the passengers fasted as we had not provided for so lengthy an overland trip."
There he had to wait some time for the monthly sailing to Victoria. "The good ship Pelican made the trip seven days, and in the midst of it all

"The only direct communication between Nanaimo and the mainland was by Indian canoe; the only alternative being to take the weekly boat to Victoria, and wait for the next trip of the "Enterprise." The missionary usually travelled by the canoe route as it took less time and money than by steamer."
"In the fifty years of my missionary life I have travelled nearly the whole coast from Washington to Alaska by Indian canoe; and have lived very much as the Indians lived in order to reach the scattered tribes. There may have been danger from the savage nature of the Indians, but only when they had been supplied with liquor by unscrupulous white men, did I realize it."
Whiskey Peddlars
"When stationed at Fort Simpson I was sandwiched between two Anglican Missionaries, Mr. William Duncan, at Metlakatla, and Rev. Robert Tomlinson, at Kinloch. Too much honor cannot be heaped upon the memories of those men of God, not only for their faithful administration of the Gospel, which has done more to change the savage nature of the Indians than all other forces combined; but also for their fearless and persistent attacks on the many whiskey traders who frequented the northern waters. As the result of past years of missionary toil, we have throughout British Columbia, a peaceful, law-abiding Indian population, who, when their full rights are accorded to them by our Government, will prove themselves to be intelligent, industrious and in every other way, worthy of Canada's highest consideration."
A very interesting incident occurred at the Annual Conference at Vancouver, when the following resolution was submitted and enthusiastically carried: Moved by Rev. P. W. Hardy and seconded by Rev. P. Kelly: "Whereas this conference has learned that this year of 1920 is the fiftieth anniversary of the missionary service of Brother Rev. Chas. Tate, we tender him our heartfelt congratulations on his attainment of his jubilee year. We take pride in his record, our faith is strengthened by his unflinching fidelity, we are inspired by the example of his zeal in good works, we honor the respect in which his name is held by all classes, and especially by our native races, to whom he has been guide, counsellor and friend through many years of devoted service; we thank God for the preservation of his health, and in the benediction of his continued presence with us, we encourage us to go forward with the tasks of the future, knowing well that his labor is not in vain in the Lord."

Shortcake!
The Wild Rose Way
HOW tempting to the appetite is the reasonable dessert—a whole meal in itself with luscious fresh strawberries and heaps of rich whipped cream! But the real virtue of shortcake is, after all, in the cake itself. And that is where the genuine goodness of Wild Rose "Delicious Pastry Flour"
makes itself apparent. No mistaking that rich, crispy, smoothness and delightful toothsome! There are a dozen good recipes for shortcake—one is given below—but any and all of them are doubly good when made with Wild Rose—a special product of soft-kernelled wheat—quite different from ordinary hard-wheat flour. And Wild Rose saves you 25 per cent. in shortening, too. Try a 50-lb. sack and notice how "popular" your pastry will be. Your grocer will gladly send it.

WONDERFUL FALLS IN JASPER PARK

Of the many wonder mountain features to be seen in the Canadian Rockies, the Maligne Gorge, Jasper Park, is one of the most interesting, surpassing any gentler views in the force with which it takes hold of the mind and the influence it brings to bear on the imagination.

Before the Leap

The Maligne River issues from Medicine Lake, and works its groping way underground for many a long reach, but when it arrives at the first bridge and the cabin above the gorge it is clear pleasant open mountain stream seemingly as unconscious of the terrible experiences before it, as a boy might be of the coming tragedy of manhood.

Shades of the Prison Walls

But a little below the bridge the rocks begin to contract and the shades of the prison walls fall on the bright waters, the stream deepens and flows faster, the sides of the canyon draw closer together and rise higher until sweeping forward as though forced through a funnel, the stream takes that wild leap into the air, over the precipice, booming with a seaklike roar as it strikes the rocks. From this point it can best be seen from a slender foot-bridge stretched across the gorge where one can linger and gaze into the depth below, and see and hear nature in her most tragic mood.

In Awful Completeness

Gazing first at the mad plunge of the waters, then at the worn and twisted and savage rocks that form the sides of the canyon, all that is visible to the eye to twist and writhe and worm in a horrible effort to achieve some evil effect. The old savage idea of a malicious force in nature, a force hostile to man, a force that defeats his aspirations and tortures his affections is here expressed in awful completeness.

Along Canyon's Rampart

The gorge is so narrow as to appear an ugly gash in the earth's surface; in some places rocks are suspended between the worn and irregular sides. The waters below can only be seen faintly in the gloom, gleaming and still living in that dreadful implication. Leaving the bridge and following the path along the rampart of the canyon we stop from time to time and holding firmly by the arm of a friendly tree we look shudderingly down on those cruel imprisoning walls and the lovely tortured stream. Here and there it throws up white arms of foam in its wild effort to escape away to light and life, another measure of how terrible than the first, and a miniature glacier, a patch of unmelted ice lodges among the rocks and still the river lives and cries aloud for deliverance, until slowly the rock recedes, the shadows retreat, and the stream emerges strong and deep and true and the most beautiful of mountain rivers. The sunshine plays on its bright surface, the fragrance of wild woods breathes over it as it runs and ripples over its clean fair bed of stones, stirring the sedges that grow on its banks and the willows that bend over it, until it sweeps under the last bridge and spurs its open, straightforward, triumphant course to its home in the bosom of the Athabasca.

MORE PERSONS ARE NOW EMPLOYED

Substantial Gains Reported in British Columbia Placements

Reports from over five thousand employers to the Dominion Headquarters of the Employment Service of Canada, Department of Labor, indicated that disregard of loss of time due to strikes, there was an increase in the volume of employment during the week ending May 1, as compared with returns from identical firms for the preceding week. An increase had been anticipated, but the actual additions were substantially larger than had been estimated. For the week ending May 8, moreover, a further large increase was anticipated. In comparison with their returns for January 17, the reports show that since then these firms had made very considerable additions to their staffs.

Increases were recorded in all provinces, that registered in British Columbia being especially substantial. This province, however, anticipated having a reduction during the succeeding week. Firms in all other provinces expected to further enlarge their staffs, the estimated additions in Ontario being the largest. In comparison with the figures for January 17, Alberta, as during the preceding week, registered a decrease, all other provinces showing greatly increased staffs since that date.

Reports for the week ending May 1 were tabulated from 5,095 firms with 715,000 employees on their payrolls as compared with 194,741 persons on their payrolls during the preceding week, and with 683,508 employees on their staffs in the January. Firms in 22 industrial groups reported that they had made additions to their staffs amounting to 8,504 persons, since the week ending April 24. On the other hand, 9 groups reported decreases aggregating 1195 persons. The net increase, therefore, during the week of May 1, as compared with the returns for April 24, was 8,309 persons or one and two tenths per cent., this increase being the largest net gain yet registered. For the following week, 21 groups anticipated making additions in staffs amounting to 4,908 persons and 4 industries anticipated showing an aggregate decline of 646 persons, an increase on the whole of 3,769 persons or five tenths of one per cent., being anticipated. In comparison with the returns for January 17, those 5,095 establishments reported a net increase of 31,542 persons or four and six tenths per cent. In this comparison 24 groups may be classified as plus industries, their total gains amounting to 41,308 persons. On the other hand, 7 industrial groups showed minus tendencies, chiefly seasonal in character, the net losses registered by firms in these groups since the middle of January aggregating 10,166 persons.

Some Increases.

In comparison with the figures for January 17, which it should be noted, marks the close of the annual inventory period, very considerable increases were reported in railway construction, and iron and steel products, where the staffs were enlarged by respectively 10,227 and 9,381 persons. Increases of between 1,000 and 2,000 were registered in building construction, lumber and its products, clay glass and stone products, pulp and paper, rubber goods, textiles miscellaneous manufacturing industries (chiefly tobacco and chemicals) railway and water transportation. Large increases were also registered in edible animal products, mineral products, n.e.s., non-metallic minerals other than coal, hotels and restaurants, personal services, telegraph and telephone operation, retail and wholesale trade and local transportation. On the other hand, since the middle of January, logging and coal mining registered the substantial decreases of 7,327 and 1,841 persons, the reduction being seasonal in character. Edible plant products, leather and leather goods, non-ferrous metal products and metallic ores recorded decreases of between 100 and 400 persons. A minor decline was reported in fur and fur products, the reductions in this group and in leather and leather goods also being of a seasonal nature.

Don't brag. Somebody some day will be doing your work better than you ever dreamed it could be done.

It is far easier to look prosperous than to feel that way.

CORRESPONDENCE IS TABLED IN COMMONS

Sir Robert Borden's Reply to Now-Famous Murdock Letter of Resignation

Ottawa, June 26.—Sir Robert Borden in the House this afternoon tabled his correspondence with James Murdock, leading to the latter's resignation as the last remaining member of the Board of Commerce, and also the text of the Robinson correspondence. Sir Robert's letter in reply to the now-famous one in which Mr. Murdock tendered his resignation, reads as follows:

Ottawa, Ont., June 25, 1920.

"My Dear Sir:—

"I beg to acknowledge your letter of the 24th inst., which reached me this morning after it had made its appearance in the press.

"The necessary recommendation will be made to His Excellency the Governor-General to give effect to your resignation.

"Any further reply to the statements set forth in your letter will be made in the public discussion which will shortly take place in the House of Commons.

"Yours faithfully,

Conference.

The conference between Sir Robert and Mr. Murdock opened on June 1, 1920. In a letter to Sir Robert on that date Mr. Murdock asks whether it is the intention of the Government to fill the vacancies on the board.

He adds that "I would be unwilling to draw salary from the treasury of the Dominion, unless it was made possible for the Board of Commerce to carry on effectively and as by law intended."

On the next day, Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir Robert again, in which he refers to a conference with the Prime Minister on the previous evening, at which, according to Mr. Murdock's letter, Sir Robert suggested that "it would be inadvisable to complete the Board of Commerce by appointment, until such time as the Privy Council had determined the status of the Board."

Mr. Murdock added that he could only continue "as a commissioner of the Board of Commerce of Canada on the understanding that the personnel of the Board of Commerce be completed by appointment in order to proceed with the many important duties to the Canadian people awaiting its action, and that the Board be freed by statute from the control of the Civil Service Commission in the appointment of expert assistants or advisers necessary and properly incidental to the carrying on of the functions of the Board. This would also, of course, include the submission of necessary estimates to Parliament, such estimates having to be placed in the hands of the Government for its consideration."

"Under any other arrangements than above, I would feel that I was not giving to the people of Canada the service for compensation received and, therefore, could not continue to accept salary."

President's Letter.

On the same day, June 18, Sir Robert wrote Mr. Murdock the following letter:

"Dear Mr. Murdock: I have your letter of the 17th inst., and also then I have made a statement in Parliament and further, I have the advantage of an interview with you at which the whole question was frankly and fully, but not finally discussed. It is my hope that during the coming week I may be enabled to take up the matter further with you.

Your observations, as to the seriousness of the public duty which you have undertaken command both my concurrence and my deep appreciation. I am grateful to you for the service that you have rendered. The task has been burdensome and difficult, but I know that you have given thereto the full measure of your undoubted ability and great earnestness.

Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) "R. L. BORDEN."

Three days later Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir Robert, forwarding a memorandum in which are outlined the sections of the Board of Commerce Act, "which were changed in effect by the revision of the Civil Service Act, which was made effective November 10, 1919."

In his letter, Mr. Murdock calls attention to changes proposed in the annual report of the Board of Commerce "to insure prompt and satisfactory measures in connection with the delay of going to the factory employment office, but leave part assistants that the Board may need for a short time occasionally without the delay of going to the Civil Service Commission."

Then comes Mr. Murdock's letter of June 24, in which he resigns his appointment, and Sir Robert's reply cited above.

Correspondence over the resignation of Judge Robson as chairman of the Board of Commerce opens with a letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster on February 24, 1920, and closes with a letter from J. R. Hogg, K.C., to Sir George on March 1, 1920. The first letter has already been published. In it Judge Robson tenders his resignation and expresses the view that he "is out of sympathy with the act (the combine and fair prices act) and it is my duty to inform you thereof."

"We restrain and discourage the citizen who supplies food and clothing," Judge Robson adds, "but leave free to profiteer as he pleases the man who deals in non-essentials or luxuries."

A letter from Sir George Foster follows in which Judge Robson is informed that his resignation has been accepted and promising that suggestions made will have Government consideration.

Reply to Accusations.

Then comes a long letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster in which Judge Robson replies to the accusations made against him in reference to the Crescent-Cresmery Company. The letter was written from Winnipeg on March 1, 1920, and is as follows:

The Jane Bride

JUNE is Hymen's favorite month because "Then, if ever, come perfect days." May the sun shine brightly upon every bride and bridegroom who may choose this month in which to register their vows.

"Honor, riches, marriage blessing,
Long-continued and increasing,
Hourly joys be still upon you!"

But marriage has its practical side and never more so than in this year of inflated prices and burdensome taxation. No wise man with a genuine regard for his young wife will fail to protect her with as large an amount of life insurance as it is possible for him to carry. "When death shall come," he should plan to protect his wife—"not as long as he lives," but as long as she lives.

This can be done most conveniently by means of an income policy payable to the beneficiary in monthly installments throughout life.

—The ages of both bride and groom are necessary in order to quote rates on this policy.

Info service against me. I did not sit in that case because, and then stated, my family live here and I was substantially interested in the case. This is a matter I felt to be of a serious nature. When I was on the public utilities commission I had an amenity ment passed declaring that I should not be disqualified because of the fact that I was a consumer.

"This merely shows that the point really weighed with me. In my judicial position here in the past where the element of interest was not present, I had administered the law fearlessly and regardless of friend or foe. The law reports show that.

"Much was made of the fact that there was found by Commissioner Murdock on my desk in my private office, a letter sent to me by the solicitor of the Crescent Creamery Company, enclosing a copy of his draft factum in the stated case pending before the Supreme Court. The sending of the letter was mere thoughtless impertinence. My receipt was as much a surprise to me as to any one else.

"I had never suggested such a thing and, in fact, had previously expressly forbidden that the factum be shown to me. I deny emphatically the imputation that I advised in the case.

"In 1920 point let me say that my experience has been that until tribunals of this nature have been supported in their jurisdiction by judgments of our supreme courts, they are not apt to receive the desired respect from the classes affected. It was particularly so in the case of radical enactment, such as that administered

FASHION'S WHIMSIES.

Long cords, ending in tassels, are decorative features of some of the new frocks. Some of them hang from the shoulders. They are graceful, and give length to the figure.

One type of the revived box coat has a collar standing up high in the back.

A smart suit of dark blue gabardine has a hem and collar of gray angora.

Paris makes up for the simplicity of the blouse by the very much trimmed skirt.

Tunics are frequently made with a long point in front and cut short in the back.

The smartest street costume is composed of a short coat and accordion plaited skirt.

Every sort of checked material, especially black and white, will be popular this Spring.

A charming evening wrap of green tulle, fringed with delicate fringed ostrich feathers.

Although there are some wide girdles, the narrow is such seems to be the most popular belt.

For the sub-deb are dainty evening frocks of net and lace, trimmed with tiny, colored roses.

When the evening gown has not a sign of a sleeve, a pair of tulle is often worn over the shoulders.

Comfort and Service

THE man who is on his feet all day long must have a work boot that is comfortable as well as one that will give long wear. An uncomfortable, ill-fitting boot decreases his efficiency and lessens his earning power.

By careful selection of materials and exacting manufacturing methods the Leckie Work Boot gives "foot ease" that is a source of lasting satisfaction to the wearer. The Name behind the Plug dependability is based on thousands of experiments and tests, resulting in our famous "3450" insulator, which, because of its indestructible quality, gives exceptionally efficient service in all types of gasoline motors and engines.

For years we have been building a reputation for the dependability of Champion Spark Plugs. To-day "Champion" on the insulator of a spark plug is the world's synonym for dependability.

No matter what makes of motor you own, there is a "Champion" that will give efficient service under any condition the motor itself will stand.

Look for "Champion" on the insulator as well as on the box.

PALE AND WEAK WIVES AND MOTHERS

Can Regain Health and Strength Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Many women who had a good color in their girlhood grow pale and colorless when they become wives and mothers. When the fading color, the cheeks and lips is accompanied by a loss of brightness in the eyes and an increasing heaviness in the step, the cause will be found in the state of the blood.

Many causes contribute to the condition of the blood known as anemia. Overwork in the home, a lack of outdoor exercise, insufficient rest and sleep, improper diet—these are a few of them. The important thing is to restore the blood to normal, to build it up so that the color will return to cheeks and lips, brightness to the eyes and lightness to the step. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the great blood-builder and nerve-strengtheners. They begin with the very first dose, and through a fair use make new blood that carries strength and health to every part of the body. The appetite increases, digestion becomes more perfect and energy and ambition return. The case of Mrs. Wm. McNish, Abbott Street, Brockville, proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mrs. McNish says: "I was quite young when I married, and in raising my family I became all run down and a nervous wreck. I became so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without sitting down to get my breath. I slept poorly and at times my nerves would twitch so that I could not keep still, and I was in constant misery. I had tried many medicines but they did not help me; indeed my condition was growing worse, until one day a friend told me that she had been in a somewhat similar condition and been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so I decided to try this medicine. After the use of a couple of boxes I felt they were helping me. My appetite was better and I slept better. By the time I had used half a dozen boxes I felt like a new woman, my health had fully returned and I could do my housework with ease. In view of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me I cannot recommend them too highly."

The best time to begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the moment you feel the least bit out of sorts. The sooner you do the sooner you will regain your old time energy. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. From The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Anaemic Paleness Quickly Changed To Rosy Cheeks

Chlorosis or anaemia is simply thinness of blood. If confined too much indoors, anaemic develops, because the lungs are insufficiently supplied with oxygen and the blood is consequently ill-nourished and half-starved.

But there is a cure! Dr. Hamilton has solved the problem in his famous pills of Mandrake and Butternut; as a blood enricher their equal is not known.

All the functions upon which life depends are helped by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Richness and purity are instilled with wonderful promptness into the vital fluid.

Heavy color supplants the pallid, ashen face. Better appetite, strong digestion and dreamless sleep, are sure to follow, because of the increased blood promptly furnished by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Think it over. Will it pay you to look and feel half-dead to lack of color and spirit, when you can be changed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

Better act at once. Your case is more curable now than later on.

Hamilton personally guarantees his pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Their merit is unquestioned. Thousands of anaemics they have cured and kept well.

They will do just the same for you. Try Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box.

Women as Brave As the Men

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A REMARKABLE SPIRIT.

Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you and a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health, and who will not give up. One woman in every three is struggling against sickness. Some of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable!

The burden and misery of it all has its foundations in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very strength of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every ailing or weak woman can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrozone renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrozone working through your blood. It puts color into faded cheeks, brightens the eyes, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferrozone does is to make you eat lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrozone won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrozone and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine, or by mail from The Cataractose Co., Kingston, Ont.

CONSTIPATION or COSTIVENESS

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver. There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C. writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. I had been suffering from constipation for two years, and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses. I have now got Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return of mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

STAMPING POWDER WILL CONTINUE TO BE EXPENSIVE

Major Trelawny, Explosive
Expert, With Distinguished
War Record, Is Here

"The price of powder for blasting purposes will be high for at least twelve months. For a year after the Armistice the Governments had large stocks on hand which they were anxious to dispose of. Now that those stocks are exhausted it will take twelve months for production to catch up with demand. There is a great waste of powder in this country owing to too large a quantity being used in the hands of inexperienced people, and the land clearers of British Columbia should be taught to use just enough powder to achieve their object, and not to make so large a hole that unnecessary labor is entailed to fill up the gap occasioned by the explosion."

This is the view of Major J. E. Trelawny, M.C., of London, England, an expert in explosives, and director of several explosive companies in different parts of the world, who is in the city to discuss business matters with the Ministers.

War Experiences.

Major Trelawny had some exciting experiences during the war, and was entrusted with the carrying out of the first "smoke screen" ever used by the British in the West—al Loo in the Summer of 1915. After several periods in England, he happened to be in France with 2nd Army headquarters, when he was needed to proceed to Russia with Lord Kitchener. He reached England too late to travel on the ill-fated Hampshire, but within a short time found himself attached to the staffs of General Alekoff or General Isvaloff with the Russian armies in the field. He remained in this part of Russia until shortly before the revolution in March, 1917. Major Trelawny has the distinction of being the last British officer to have an audience with the late Czar. He received the decoration of the Order of St. Anne in February, 1917, at Petrograd. He was associated with the General Russian Staff for a considerable period and was engaged with Sir John Norton Griffiths in important work in Roumania in December, 1918. To prevent the country's oil resources from falling into the hands of the Germans, they blew up the containers and refineries, wrecked the wells, and set fire to several million bushels of grain which were on order for the British authorities, but which it was impossible to get out of the country before the German advance. The task was done only two hours before the arrival of the Germans.

In Russia Again.

The Major returned to England on that occasion by way of Scandinavia. Since that time he has been South of Russia again until four months ago, where he had been attached to the headquarters of the British Military Staff, General Benetie. During the war he was in turn, as a staff officer, adviser to every one of the Allied powers, holding positions of responsibility, and while he modestly declined to tell the whole story, the fact that he has four British decorations must be proof that his services were of a very exceptional kind.

The Major, long before the war, was interested in the production of an efficient explosive for the purpose of land clearing in British Columbia. His experience in the Antilles and in Europe led him to demonstrate personally the use of an explosive which would be economical before the Agricultural Commission of British Columbia in 1913. He is confident it would have been widely used if the war had not interfered. He is interested with General Victor Odium in the use of an explosive, which can be used in this country for clearing land in the soldier settlement areas of the Province without waste, and at a minimum of cost.

JURY AWARD $329 TO INJURED BOATMAN

Termination of Case of Worrell Versus Captain Jacobson

Capt. Jacobson, former sealing schooner master, who was sued for beating up and breaking the leg of his tenant, William Worrell, because he wanted to quit his house, told the jury in Judge Lammpan's court yesterday afternoon that he "had only got in the best blow that was all." The jury gave a verdict against the captain for $329.75, instead of $150 asked for.

Capt. Jacobson went in the box and swore that Worrell was running around the house on Paradise Street like a wild lion, and he had been provoked to fight to tame this wild lion. The captain swore that he had handed the worst kind of man for forty years on sealing schooners and that when he went up against Worrell afterwards had travelled 1,400 feet on this leg.

Dr. Ernest Hall swore he had given a man in Victoria who had walked around on a broken fluted bone, such as Worrell had, for twenty years.

Worrell, who is a boatman, earning $8 a day, after swearing as to how Capt. Jacobson had beaten him over the face with a rope in a sea-dog manner when he was down on the floor, denied on cross-examination by Frank Higgins, K.C., that he had obtained the rope "for tying the captain up when he came around." He admitted that he had just before this had another fight with a person in Esquimalt, but this was only a friendly fight with another sailor and lasted only five minutes. After both were well beaten up they were "as good friends as ever again."

Other witnesses were M. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler and Mr. Fowler's aged mother, and Capt. Bebbington. Douglas Banks, thirteen-year-old newsboy, went into the box and told how he happened to drop into the Paradise Street home when the captain had the boatman on the floor.

DR. MARTIN WILL SPEAK ON MONDAY

Distinguished Medical Man
Will Be Guest of Canadian Club

At the annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association in Vancouver many important matters were discussed, and many eminent medical men were present. One of the most distinguished was Dr. Chas. F. Martin, Professor of Chemical Medicine, at McGill University, who will speak on "Medical Problems of National Concern," to the local Canadian Club at luncheon on Monday at noon at the Empress Hotel.

On Thursday Dr. Martin gave a most interesting address before the medical convention on the possibilities of controlling sciatica, rheumatism, diabetes and kindred diseases and prolonging the life of the patient by rigid regulation of the diet. Dr. Martin has made an exhaustive investigation of this subject.

A Fortunate Occasion.

The executive of the Canadian Club considers that the members are extremely fortunate to have an opportunity of hearing such a distinguished medical practitioner and educationalist as Dr. Martin to treat of the medical problems facing Canada at the present time, with reference to the Ministry of Health, to securing the best type of man-power, questions of immigration, of mental hygiene and of social service.

Advice-cards for the Canadian Club luncheon on Monday were issued yesterday, and the members are urged to secure their tickets without delay. The luncheon will be held at 12 o'clock noon, Monday, in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel, and the members of the Women's Canadian Club are cordially invited to be present to hear the address at 12:30 p. m.

Invitation to Mr. Payne.

In view of the pending visit of Hon. J. B. Payne, Secretary for the Interior in succession to Hon. Franklin K. Lane, to Seattle, Mr. Cochrane, President of the Club, wired to Mr. Payne inviting him to speak here while on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Payne has replied from Washington, B. C.: "Many thanks for your kind message. Am much afraid time will not permit visit to your city. Would be delighted if it were possible."

HEALTHY CHILDREN ARE HAPPY CHILDREN

The well child is always a happy child—it is a baby's nature to be happy and contented. Mothers, if your little ones are cross and peevish and cry a great deal they are not well—they are in need of medicine—something that will set their bowels and stomachs in order; for nine-tenths of all childhood ailments arise from a disordered state of the bowels and stomach. Such a medicine is Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, soothe the stomach, and thus drive out constipation, colic, indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the baby healthy and happy. Concerning them, Mrs. Albert Hamel, Pierreville, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. They relieved my little girl from constipation when nothing else would, and I can strongly recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brackville, Ont.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN AND THE HOME

CONCEIT—AN OBSESSION

Sooner or Later People Find Out What Is Real and What Is False in Our Self-Valuation.

In a certain pottery where beautiful wares are made a group of people were gathered discussing the propriety of the design on a particular vase. The shape was most graceful, the coloring and design of the lovely "velum," so admired now, and the design (so far as the writer saw at the moment) a picturesque French chateau that lent itself admirably to the decoration.

Poor Taste

Upon examining it alone later the writer saw at once what had caused the disapproval and chuckles from the group of visitors. Standing under a tree near the chateau was the likeness, a full length portrait, of an American soldier in the uniform of a private. Needless to say the effect was grotesque, bizarre, entirely out of keeping with the spirit of the vase.

Upon inquiry from the caretaker it was learned that the owner had paid $200 for this unique and surprising combination portrait and vase. Posterity would know that he had fought in France. Yes, he can imagine, however, the original of the portrait "hating" himself later when he begins to realize the enormity of his poor taste. He will discard it—have it painted out—probably as we—yes, you and I—have put away from us the staring crayon portraits and tidies of a past day.

"Conceit" was the word the group bawled about in examining the vase. "Colossal conceit."

We do like to see ourselves in print and picture, don't we? Confess. We pose in many many ways. People laugh at us, too. Fools write their names in public places. Cleverer fools exhibit their phrases of egotism less publicly, but sooner or later people find out just how much conceit, how much the inflation of conceit in life poses.

Is there anything or anybody more conceited than the person who withdraws from life as being too delicate, highbrow, sensitive to mingle with folk? Sensitiveness is often conceit, self-consciousness also. In reality you are inconspicuously putting yourself in the wrong place on the vase of life when you either pose as a stronger, mightier champion than you are in reality (and prove that you are by act and deed), and equally so when you exclude yourself from the contamination with the workaday world on the plea of imagined illness—unfitness that can be remedied if desired.

Is it necessary for you to have your likeness exposed in order to show that you were in France? Figuratively, this may mean here, now—the world at our door to-day is a battlefield that needs workers, champions. Why waste time and money to satisfy conceit, instead of getting down to constructive effort? There is too much talking, posing; we're so afraid people won't know what we're doing. Why can't we realize that it's not us but what we do that will impress posterity?

France is a big term to you, little housewife. But adapt it this way: Your home is your battleground, your children soldiers to be trained, your mind the general who must keep calm, wise, intelligent, in order to hold the fort of home secure so that no enemy aliens can come in and destroy a larger France—your village.

Perhaps you don't think you are conceited at all. You are.

Choir singer, are you thinking as much of the spiritual message of your song to the audience as of the impression upon people of the deep or high notes you take so well?

Clergyman, club woman, speaker, is it your message that thrills for utterance or your memorizing effect on your listeners that attracts you? It is an actual fact that one young layman made the remark that the recital of the clergyman would be becoming to him—the man on the street you see! Conceit crops out in most unexpected places.

At the beginning of every season there is always some one thing (and sometimes several) that comes as a possibility and remains a success, a triumph in a pretty room nowadays. This is a taffeta frock every one must admit that, and the wardrobe that makes any pretensions whatever to being modish is sure to include a smart bit of apparel developed in this justly popular material.

Like May dandelions that seem to bloom everywhere at once all over, one sees taffeta frocks. They are worn informally at night and in the afternoon they are paraded on the avenue; they are on display in the shop windows, and always they are attractive to look upon.

The taffeta wrap is familiar, but a little less frequently seen. Typical of the things taffeta does when it is requisitioned for such a purpose is the scarf that is illustrated to-day. Cut shawl shape in the back, the folds are voluminous enough to be wrapped about its fair owner if the breeze prove chilly. If not, the deep collar that crosses at the front affords all the protection that she could possibly require upon a warm afternoon. And the effect is decidedly interesting. A small hat with a trim crown of the taffeta and a brim of lisse straw forms the other half of this interesting set. Both the wrap and the hat are profusely tasseled.

It is said that the mode originated in Paris. Perhaps it did, but our own couturiers have been so swift and sure in their launching of silken costumes of this type that we are almost led to believe that they, with their French contemporaries, conceived the idea simultaneously although it may be, of course, that the proverbial little bird told them what was going to happen. At any rate these costumes appeared upon Fifth avenue almost at the same hour that they made their debut in the Champs Elysees.

In the frock or wrap of taffeta three colors seem to vie with each other for favor—black, navy blue and brown. But perhaps the black wins, although either of the other tones is quite correct.

Some new designs. A new design in a table mirror has a wreath of flowers around it made of china in all the natural looking colors.

Many up-to-date chiffonier designs in Colonial period effects have a removable mirror standing on a pedestal. The mirror is handy to move about for any necessity of the toilet.

A pretty and different rug rug recently seen in a Colonial bedroom was one of gray rags, with a black and henna-colored border.

Beautiful hand-wrought embroidery in wool done on canvas and called petit point or gros point, according to the size of the stitch. This is an art of the Renaissance that is being revived to-day by clever needlewomen, as to buy pieces of period furniture covered this way costs a small fortune.

For the dinner table a pretty style for decoration is a bud vase for each cover. Sometimes a centre vase is connected with silver chains to each individual cover vase.

CARE OF LINEN. An ideal place for linen is a well ventilated cupboard, in a warm, dry place and in a good light. The shelves should be made of strips of wood, instead of one solid piece, so that the air can circulate freely.

Linen will wear longer and more brightly if it is stored in a dry place. The clean linen in the bottom of the pile and use from the top. In this way each piece is used in turn.

It is no economy to store linen for long periods without using it. This applies particularly to starched linen, for the starch rots and discolors it. It is the "best" linen which is most likely to suffer in this way. It should have its turn for family use and go through the wash occasionally.

Linen should be carefully mended and all stains removed before being sent to be laundered. A good way to protect the corners of tablecloths, which sometimes always suffer in the laundry, is to sew a piece of tape on each side of the corner, and the tape is seven feet to meet exactly the edge of the cloth.

Taffeta Frocks Are Supreme Mode This Summer

At the beginning of every season there is always some one thing (and sometimes several) that comes as a possibility and remains a success, a triumph in a pretty room nowadays. This is a taffeta frock every one must admit that, and the wardrobe that makes any pretensions whatever to being modish is sure to include a smart bit of apparel developed in this justly popular material.

Like May dandelions that seem to bloom everywhere at once all over, one sees taffeta frocks. They are worn informally at night and in the afternoon they are paraded on the avenue; they are on display in the shop windows, and always they are attractive to look upon.

The taffeta wrap is familiar, but a little less frequently seen. Typical of the things taffeta does when it is requisitioned for such a purpose is the scarf that is illustrated to-day. Cut shawl shape in the back, the folds are voluminous enough to be wrapped about its fair owner if the breeze prove chilly. If not, the deep collar that crosses at the front affords all the protection that she could possibly require upon a warm afternoon. And the effect is decidedly interesting. A small hat with a trim crown of the taffeta and a brim of lisse straw forms the other half of this interesting set. Both the wrap and the hat are profusely tasseled.

It is said that the mode originated in Paris. Perhaps it did, but our own couturiers have been so swift and sure in their launching of silken costumes of this type that we are almost led to believe that they, with their French contemporaries, conceived the idea simultaneously although it may be, of course, that the proverbial little bird told them what was going to happen. At any rate these costumes appeared upon Fifth avenue almost at the same hour that they made their debut in the Champs Elysees.

In the frock or wrap of taffeta three colors seem to vie with each other for favor—black, navy blue and brown. But perhaps the black wins, although either of the other tones is quite correct.

SOME NEW DESIGNS. A new design in a table mirror has a wreath of flowers around it made of china in all the natural looking colors.

Many up-to-date chiffonier designs in Colonial period effects have a removable mirror standing on a pedestal. The mirror is handy to move about for any necessity of the toilet.

A pretty and different rug rug recently seen in a Colonial bedroom was one of gray rags, with a black and henna-colored border.

Beautiful hand-wrought embroidery in wool done on canvas and called petit point or gros point, according to the size of the stitch. This is an art of the Renaissance that is being revived to-day by clever needlewomen, as to buy pieces of period furniture covered this way costs a small fortune.

For the dinner table a pretty style for decoration is a bud vase for each cover. Sometimes a centre vase is connected with silver chains to each individual cover vase.

CARE OF LINEN. An ideal place for linen is a well ventilated cupboard, in a warm, dry place and in a good light. The shelves should be made of strips of wood, instead of one solid piece, so that the air can circulate freely.

Linen will wear longer and more brightly if it is stored in a dry place. The clean linen in the bottom of the pile and use from the top. In this way each piece is used in turn.

It is no economy to store linen for long periods without using it. This applies particularly to starched linen, for the starch rots and discolors it. It is the "best" linen which is most likely to suffer in this way. It should have its turn for family use and go through the wash occasionally.

Linen should be carefully mended and all stains removed before being sent to be laundered. A good way to protect the corners of tablecloths, which sometimes always suffer in the laundry, is to sew a piece of tape on each side of the corner, and the tape is seven feet to meet exactly the edge of the cloth.

Old tablecloths can be made into smaller ones, to be used for breakfast cloths or for tray-cloths for the smaller.

HELPFUL HINTS. Canned pineapples combine well with canned pears for a salad.

Pastry requires a hotter oven than any other food.

Silk, not cotton, should be used when basing velvet.

Tea water is a good cleanser for varnished woodwork.

Keep your eyes on the ice box and the paragon path.

MADE-OVER FROCKS

With a Little Ingenuity Out of Date Apparel May Be Made Modish.

The apron effect used on so many of the new season's frocks makes it easy to make over last year's dress, for worn or faded places can be taken out and replaced with new, or contrasting material and the seam concealed by outlining with a ruffle which will give the popular apron effect.

Where it is necessary to put a new length or gore in a dress to make it over, the side seam can also be concealed by a ruffle sewed in up and down the length of the seams. This sort of trimming is very smart just now with all sorts of materials. One blue serge dress had a ruffle on each side of the blue taffeta that was faced with red taffeta.

Colored laces are so much in vogue at present that many a silk frock can be freshened up or made over with a new lace vestee, gumpie, bertha or sleeves made of white or cream lace dyed a tint to match the dress.

As vestees promise to be just as popular as ever this Spring, many an old suit can be turned into a new piece dress with a new vest. Silk, net, jersey and wash materials from the scrap bag will make attractive ones, and a different effect with the same costume can be secured by using vest of different colors and materials.

Colorful Cuffs and Collar

Ruffs in natural color or brighter hues can be turned into a new dress for sports hats and can be used very nicely to embroider old, faded straws and conceal defects

Just as wool embroidery was used last year, Raffia, too, can be home-dyed very effectively with hat dye.

Fresh collars and cuffs of wool angora will transform last year's frock, coat or sweater of Jersey and similar materials. Fluffy turquoise blue collars and cuffs set off tan or gray Jersey admirably, and even gorette and crepe de Chine of other days take on a most up-to-date look with angora trimmings. Black and white checked angora is quite the thing on white gorette or serge.

But any of these materials, if used in a most up-to-date look with angora trimmings, and if last year's ones are cloth ones, the least bit worn, it pays to change them. In any case the new ones of each season are of different materials and shapes and make a decided difference in the looks of a frock. Contrasting buttons to replace those that used to match, will give a new and different look.

Many a mother's skirt of silk, too worn for personal use, will make a charming frock for daughter. A dark blue one, embroidered with a few coarse stitches in gold silk, will not only be smart, but a saving in the laundering of middie and wash frocks.

Pongee again promises to be very popular, as a dress of many seasons past should be remodelled. Sometimes there is enough material in an old full-skirt to make two of the new slim silhouetted affairs, and then there has always been the possibility of pongee to wear with brown plaids, jerseys and heather cloths.

CARE OF MILK

The statement was made not long ago by a food expert that many diseases would be wiped out "the moment people study the milk which is delivered to them with half the care with which men scrutinize the cigars they buy and women the chocolates they consume."

And later this same authority adds: "We pay dearly for our indifference concerning the source of the milk which we buy."

Of course, there is room for much improvement in the way of milk inspection. The woman of the home, if she has any leisure for outside work, could spend it to no better advantage than to see to it that in her own neighborhood the laws enforcing proper milk production and distribution are carried out.

In the meantime there is a great deal that the housewife can do right in her home to protect herself and her family against the ills that come in the wake of impure milk. For don't imagine that all the harm is done in the dairy or the factory where the milk is bottled. The bacteria count may be greatly increased right in your own kitchen or in your pantry.

Many persons attempted to do without ice in winter, and this is, of course, commendable. Still there is greater safety in letting nature spell when it is kept indoors than when it is kept always in the reduced temperature of a refrigerator or ice box. In a winter kitchen pantry in an ice box that contains no ice, the temperature during the daytime frequently becomes far warmer than it should be for the food in the milk.

And always there is need for the greatest care of the dishes in which you keep milk. Of course, it would be possible by using milk only when cooked, practically to eliminate the would be unwholesome, even though boiled, but the usual sort of milk would be rendered perfectly harmless by using it cooked.

However, experts now tell us that boiling milk or even pasteurizing it eliminates some of the ingredients in the milk that are most desirable for food. By no means should milk that is to form the main article in your baby's or children's diet be boiled unless there is no other way of making sure that it is uncontaminated.

work which can usefully be undertaken in time of peace by the Order of St. John and the British Red Cross Society, such as:

The care of those suffering from tuberculosis, having regard in the first place to soldiers and sailors, whether they have contracted the disease on active service or not.

Assistance, financial and otherwise, to the voluntary civil hospitals in view of the strain put upon these hospitals by the war.

Work parties to provide the necessary garments, etc., for hospitals and homes for the aged.

Child welfare work.

Assistance where required in all branches of nursing, health and welfare work auxiliary to the Ministry of Health.

Governing Body.

The two corporations were anxious that these various branches of work should be carried on, and felt that for this purpose a governing body should be set up in place of the Joint War Committee, which had been created only for work in time of war. They have therefore, by a formal agreement, established a Joint Council, in which both bodies have equal representation. This Council possesses, under the old charter of the Order of St. John and the newly enacted charter of the British Red Cross Society, full power to act in all matters connected with "the improvement of health, the prevention of disease and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world."

(Extract from Article XXV. of the Covenant of the League of Nations.)

Appeal For Funds.

The Joint Council has now begun its work, and has issued an earnest appeal to the public for a continuance of that great and munificent support which carried the Joint War Committee through the years of war. During these years the sick and wounded men of His Majesty's Forces learnt to look upon the Red Cross as an emblem, not only of help and comfort, but also of the devotion of the British people for the men who were fighting in Britain's cause. It is our earnest hope that those who, in peace time, are in suffering or distress will learn in the same way to look to the White Cross of St. John and the Red Cross for comfort and relief, and will feel when helped by the Order of St. John and the British Red Cross Society, that they are not receiving anything in the nature of charity, but only the help which is their right, and which they are entitled to expect from those who are enjoying health and strength to their fellow men and women who are less fortunate than themselves.

For some branches of the work mentioned above—those in the first category—the Joint War Committee will continue to provide the necessary funds, either by subscription for some time to come, but for all the other work of the Joint Council money is needed at once.

The greatest support that we receive from the public the better the work that we can do, and the more promptly we receive that support the sooner we can get on with our mission of healing and comfort. It is why we put forward this appeal, confident in the strength of our cause and in the generosity of the public that has now rallied to us.

Ideas—Your Own or Others

"I determined long ago not to be a parasite," said a clever woman who knows how to get on through life in a way that keeps her for the most part from being a parasite, even though her loved and respected by those who know her.

"It is amusing what brought me to my decision. It was a frock that fastened in the back in such an intricate way that she is anxious that I should get into it with my own hands. I was to go to a party and she was to go to a party with me. I could not put on that costume without asking some member of my family to stop when she was doing to play lady's maid."

"A sister's irritated remark that she wished I'd have my clothes made so that I could get into them by myself made me very cross, but it set me thinking, and to good purpose, for I never since have had any clothes that I have not been able to do by myself. We haven't the right to sap at the kindness and patience of other people in asking them to do things for us that we can do for ourselves, and effort on our own part can obviate."

"If you go to a restaurant with a friend and she asks you what you would like to have for luncheon, showing plainly that she is anxious that you should have something you really want, don't answer with a 'Oh, anything that you like' and leave the burden of choice for you to her."

"Where shall we go for our walk?" asks a friend enthusiastically. "Oh, anywhere that you want to go comes your response, which may be prompted by generosity, but just be very sure that the parasite spirit that wants to hang on somebody else's spirit. Have an idea of where you would like to go."

"Your choice may appeal to your friend more than any plan she herself may have in mind. If you see that your friend is anxious to go to a place, can give it up with a fine grace that will be in no way make her feel that your heart was set upon it. But have an idea—that is the point. Be constructive. Don't be the slinking parasite spirit that hangs on to others to provide you with pleasure and recreation, and hope and be hurt when they do not do this for you. 'Ask, I tell you, and it shall be given you.' It will be 'I'll be glad to go.'"

"Good," answer any normal-minded husband, glad of a wife who is not constantly expecting to be looked up out of depression by him, which is the attitude of the parasite spirit. The parasite spirit is the family dependent of other people's help and you will find that when you really do need help from them it will be given you most generously. It is the parasite spirit that hangs on to others and will get the secrets of your heart, and the generous assistance people will give you, but you will be paid by the parasite spirit.

HOW BRITISH RED CROSS PLANS FUTURE

The following letter, signed by Queen Alexandra, President of the British Red Cross, and the Duke of Connaught, Grand Prior of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England, has been issued to the British press:

Immediately after the outbreak of war in 1914 there were two corporations engaged in relief work among the sick and wounded men of His Majesty's Forces—viz., the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. These two bodies worked independently, but quickly came to the conclusion that everything must be done to co-ordinate their activities and to avoid waste and overlapping, and that to this end it was expedient to "pool" their funds and their efforts. A Joint War Committee was formed, together with a Joint Finance Committee, and it is under these two committees that the voluntary work of relieving the sufferings of the sick and wounded men of His Majesty's Forces has been carried out during the past six years.

During that period a vast number of workers, both men and women, throughout the whole Empire, gave unwearingly and devoted service to the cause, and it was natural that, when peace came, there should be a general feeling that an organization such as this, founded on the voluntary efforts of those whose object was the relief of suffering and distress, should not be disbanded or allowed to disappear.

Moreover, there is still the aftermath of war to be dealt with. The Joint War Committee has been engaged since the armistice in carrying on certain of its war departments which deal with work that must continue for some time yet to come, such as:

The care of the sick and wounded men of His Majesty's Forces, whether still on the active list or demobilized.

Such care as may still be necessary for those who have been prisoners of war.

Assistance to orthopaedic clinics and curative posts for the treatment of penicilliosis.

Home service ambulance organization.

IMPORTING TROUBLE

"Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you"—the woman who wants to get on well should give this motto a bright place in her consciousness! Women are the greatest ones for apprehending trouble. They will waste no end of time and strength worrying over what "may happen."

The life that a man has to lead to make any headway at all in the world of competition in which he has to make a living knocks this tendency out of him. The home life that women in general lead fosters it. Such women are by themselves a large part of the time. Being alone breeds the habit of overworry, unless a fine strong will is at the helm of one's imagination.

"This has happened, which is so hard to bear. Why shouldn't this or that worse development come from it? It would be natural enough for it to come. What should I do if it did come?" So the feminine mind travels on and on into troubles and worries that likely as not will never make their appearance. They may, you say. And they may not, you admit.

Let this, "And they may not," be a bright shovel to dig them right out of your mind, and keep the shovel ever ready to spade out of your thoughts any trouble that your common sense tells you if you but ask its opinion, are ones concocted by your morbid imaginations.

Imaginary troubles, however logical they may seem the necessary development of the real troubles you have to cope with, are a foolish waste of the strength and time you should be devoting to straightening out the troubles at hand.

Worry at best is a bad practice. The very word implies a confused and harried mind—a forlorn droop of spirit, but worry over what may not, after all, happen at all is sheerest folly.

It is hard enough without importing into it from the imagination hardships that may never become a part of it.

Keep your mind busy with all that goes to make up a fine strong courage towards life. You cannot have a weak mind. You cannot have a weak will. You cannot have a weak power for dealing well with difficulties by dissipating it with apprehension and fear of what "may happen."

Fear of it not infrequently actually brings to one a calamity that would never have existed if it had not been apprehended.

How the spirits arise—how one's brain clears when one shakes oneself free of bogie worries. Just don't give them a chance to roost. They are impostors. Keep a close watch on the door of your mind against them.

PRESERVATIVE SPICE

Some of the spices that are often employed in flavoring preserves, both of fruits and meats, have a value that is more important than the mere tickling of the palate. An investigation recently made in France shows that vinegar is not only an excellent preservative but a powerful means of killing bacteria.

GINGER, black, white and red pepper have little bacterial effect, but the action of mustard is most marked. However, the best of all are cloves and cinnamon, which act through their essential oils (called eugenol and cinnamic aldehyde).

A Nature remarks that these researches are highly important, for they show that even in the small quantities in which they are used these spices may be employed in preserving far better than chemical antiseptics, such as boric and salicylic acids, which are often added, though the French law prohibits their use.

CHIC IDEAS

All over beaded gowns are in great favor. The semi-fitted bodice is frequently seen. Puerto Rican blouses are much favored.

Fraits are oftentimes marked by buttons. The coin-spot is much featured as trimming. Shadow checks and stripes appear in jackets. Frills and drawn work appear on the white blouse.

ISLAND MOTOR PAVEMENT OPEN

Main Highway From Craigflower Is at Last Being Used

The Island Highway between between Craigflower Bridge and Parson's Bridge, closed for a year for permanent paving, has now been thrown open to traffic.

The part between Helmcken Road and Parson's Bridge was thrown open early in the year. Motorists have been using the new road from the Four-Mile Hill during the last couple of weeks, but the last few hundred yards and the Craigflower Bridge itself have been closed.

The main road for motorists going up the island now lies by Douglas Street to the Gorge Road, past the Gorge Park to the Craigflower Bridge, across the Craigflower Bridge and then to the right on to the new pavement.

There is permanent paving now as far as the Colwood Golf Club. Bad grades on the road have been cut down for the paving.

Heavy trucks are still prohibited from using the Craigflower Bridge.

START BIG GARAGE

Tenders Called For Motor Structure To Run From Fort to View Streets.

Tenders are now being called for the construction of the largest automobile garage in Victoria. It will run from Fort Street through to View Street, just below Blanshard. It will cover an area 230 by 60 feet. It is being constructed by the Auto Service Co. of B.C., Ltd., incorporated this week.

Six weeks after the contract is let the building will be ready for business, it is expected. Part of the preliminary work has been done already. C. D. G. MacKinnon has been selected as manager of the service department. He is at present lecturing in the theory of motor mechanics in the S.C.R. school. For three years he was on the technical staff of the C.A.S.C. overseas. Government experts say he is recognized as one of the foremost practical motor mechanics in the West. He will devote all his time to the new business.

BREAD PRICES TO BE RAISED IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, June 25.—The price of bread will be raised in Vancouver, according to a decision reached by manufacturers, one cent being added to the cost of an eighteen-ounce loaf, effective Monday next. This raise in price is necessary, state the bakers, owing to the recent further advance in the cost of flour, the Wheat Board of Canada having raised the price $1.65 per barrel a month ago.

The new price is 12 cents per 18-ounce loaf retail.

SHORT SESSION SHOWS SLIGHT CHANGES

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

New York, June 25.—Amid from a slight display of strength in the rail group, dealings to-day were insignificant both in character and volume. The buying in the rail shares and some of the equipments character for 1920 is based on the growing belief that the difficulties in the railroad situation may be solved in the very near future as a result of an I. C. decision on freight rate increases and a decision on the rail labor problem. It is also expected that the bank statement of to-day will record an improvement in the credit ease.

CHICAGO GRAINS ACTIVE AND HIGHER

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

Chicago, June 25.—Corn—Some selling took place early on the improved railroad situation and the larger indicated receipts. Pressure was not pronounced, however, and the market was quiet. The new crop started a shade lower, but a good ship demand developed later and at the close spot corn was bringing slightly higher prices. Another strengthening influence was the fact that crop reports were a little less optimistic than they have been recently which emphasized the idea that conditions have been so uniformly favorable that any change must necessarily be for the worse. Should the coming week bring forth further damage reports, it is to be expected that buying power in the future will broaden.

Cash—Independent strength apparent from the top of the bell this morning and the market was quite active throughout the session. The indication on the buying side was an increase in damage reports, but a steady flow of receipts was believed to be in an excellent condition. Additional offerings of new oats for July shipment had a depressing influence on the cash article and the premiums were reduced 1 cent to 2 cents. The new crop delivery will be influenced mainly by crop reports from the surplus States. Additional moisture and continued cool weather seemed to prevent losses in parts of Iowa and Illinois.

PAPUAN SAVAGES WIN MANHOOD BY MAN KILLING

Among many of the native tribes of Papua man killing is still regarded as a virtue, and in fact no male is regarded as having reached the status of true manhood until he has slain a man. Mr. W. Beaver, a former resident Magistrate of Papua, devoted considerable time to the study of the man-killing customs of these tribes, and in his report to the Lieutenant-Governor, Judge Murray, in these notes it is stated that when a man kills he wears, on returning to his village, a species of red amaranthus in his armlets. On his arrival, his fellow-villagers gather round him, if away, they may be summoned by the wooden or shell trumpet, which has its distinct call for such occasions. If the corpse of the slain person has been carried home, it is hung up for a day, and in the meantime the slayer has strips of cloth threaded through his armlets, which are worn for a month after the return of an actual war party, the corpses are insulted in various manners, both in song and action. During the period while waiting to perform the ceremony, which may take place after an interval of from two days to a week, the homicide must not sit on the ground, but only on sticks; he must not eat any food, except roasted taro and bananas, and must only drink muddied water and hot cocoanut milk. After the ceremony, a new sporan is worn, and the homicide is relieved, so far as is known, of all prohibitions. The various laws which a killer has to go through are believed to be for the purpose of throwing off the power of the ghost of the slain man. There is a specific point in the ceremony at which the ghosts are cast off. It is a very common custom for a native who has slain a man to assume the name of the individual whom he has killed. In instances are known where the first assumed name became distasteful, and on a subsequent killing it was relinquished, and the name of the second person killed was adopted. It is also a rigid custom that no man should eat of the body of the person he has himself killed.

LATE SHIPPING PLAN COMPLETE FOR LAUNCHING TUESDAY

At the launching on Tuesday next of the Canadian Winner, at which Mrs. S. F. Tolmie will send the Harbor Marine Company's first build downy, 400 guests have been invited, representative of the public and official bodies in the city.

All the employees of the yard will be on hand, and are to bring their relatives, and in this connection Major Bullock Webster asks that all employees bring their brass tags, which will be used by them as a pass to the yard. The tower of S. E. gate, will be the only one opening into the Harbor Marine yard on Tuesday, and all entrants will have to pass in that way. The Veterans will call with the accord with a specially selected programme of music, while refreshments are to be served in the plate shop to the north of the ways.

Precautions are being taken to prevent any of the guests being placed in danger, and a committee of thirty members will be at work on that point alone.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION WARMLY COMMENDED

Baptist Convention Approves Action of Government; Supports Prohibition

Endorsement of the social legislation passed by the Provincial Government was made in a resolution adopted at yesterday afternoon's session of the Baptist Churches convention. High appreciation of legislation in the interests of women and children, including amendments to the marriage laws, mothers pensions dower, guardianship of infant's was expressed in the resolution which further included approval of the Government's action in appointing a Public Health Insurance, and Maternity Benefit committee, and in making a survey of conditions in the province in connection with mentally deficient persons.

The Plebiscite.
A resolution covering in full the issues in the forthcoming plebiscite on prohibition was unanimously endorsed in favor of the continuance of a prohibition act as against Government liquor control, and everybody was urged to register on the voters' list. The convention went on record as being pledged to support the People's Prohibition Association. The thanks of the convention for the services of the convention secretary, Rev. F. W. Capital and Labor.
A resolution relative to capital and labor placed the convention on record as approving all methods of honorable arbitration through properly constituted tribunals. The convention endorsed the principles of the League of Nations if kept in good faith by the adhesive nations. A resolution recommending an increase in pastors' salaries to $1,500, with further increase for travelling expenses was approved. At the evening session eloquent addresses were delivered by Rev. L. The song service was led by the Emmanuel Baptist Church Choir.

WANTS STEEL PLANT
Prince Rupert is after the steel plant that Henry S. Fleming, president of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Ltd., is planning to establish on this coast. Members of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade have invited him to their district to show him the coal and iron deposits they have there all ready for a steel plant. "Thus far the matter of the steel plant is in abeyance pending further investigation of a market for steel products, and after that has been satisfactorily concluded there will then be a full and detailed investigation of the ore and coal resources before the location of a plant is determined upon." Mr. Fleming has replied to the Prince Rupert people. "I am already slightly familiar with the mineral resources of the Prince Rupert district, and beg to assure you they will not be overlooked in the investigation which is in progress."
