TO Chief, EE DOCUMENTATION SERVICE DATE 6 June 1958
FROM Chief [] INFO: COS, SR, []
SUBJECT { GENERAL [] SPECIFIC []

Reference: []-34326, 22 May 1958

ACTION REQUIRED: Traces on [] (see separate cover attachment for identity).

1. INTRODUCTION: When [] was in Munich on 7 May, he mentioned to [] that he was familiar with only two or three Soviet cases involving [] but assumed that there must be more. [] indicated that this was so and mentioned as an example their Fall [] (Addressees please note that we will hereafter use the KUBARK [] (see Identity one).) [], quite understandably, expressed his ignorance of this case. [], in front of [], said there was no reason why this could not be discussed between a member of [] and [], the [] Headquarters' desk officer who is handling the case. Not long before this meeting with [], [] was considering how best to re-open conversations on the case, which, as a matter of fact, was known to us in very general form as early as August 1956. However, for reasons not explicitly known to us but probably as outlined in paragraph 3 below, we had heard nothing more about it after 1956. Our problem as to how to re-open the matter was now easily resolved.

2. At a meeting with [] on 16 May, the undersigned referred to the above remarks and said he would appreciate a briefing on the case. After the [] recovered from momentary shock he said he would comply with our request but unfortunately he had few details in mind and would have to check his files at his office before giving us an account (our meeting was at the []). Apparently, [] had not told [] to expect KUBARK queries about the case. After assuring the latter that we understood [] offer to discuss the case had been made in the light of broader cooperation.

between our two organizations, the undersigned was given a fairly comprehensive presentation, studded with not a few specific details.

3. BACKGROUND []

[] held two conversations with [] on the subject of [] in August 1956. These are reported in Memoranda for the Record dated 14 August and 21 August 1956. Copies of these memoranda were forwarded to Headquarters. Although, as previously said, we do not know exactly why there were no further discussions on the subject between [] and [], it is probable that [] was told not to discuss the case with a KUBARKer. As a matter of direct concern to [] only, it probably fell into that category of cases [] specifically wished to keep from us. It will be remembered that [] had been [] only for a few months at this juncture; so there was little or no ground on which [] could have "required" additional briefings, least of all from [] who was soon to be removed almost entirely from contact with KUBARKers. Apparently as a result of new assignments given [], the handling of the case was transferred to [], according to []. This came as something of a surprise to us for we did not know that [] had had any responsibilities other than the preparation and general processing of []. [] went on to other duties (unknown) approximately September 1957. [] was then put in charge. This is an interesting development to note since as far as we know, he never before dealt with Soviet CE matters. [] handles several Hungarian cases, Czech cases, one [] case, and now at least one RIS case.

4. So that all addressees will know what had earlier been learned about [] there are cited below the [] memoranda of his conversations with []. All of this information was also given to the undersigned by [] with the additional details cited in paragraph 5.

A. MEMORANDUM OF 14 AUGUST 1956:

I then mentioned []. [] stated that this was a different matter, that [] had an RIS mission against [], had been developed by them, and they were now trying to place him in touch with a []. [] explained that the difficulty existed in the fact that [] knew so many people and was at present in the Munich area. I agreed and said I hoped they would be able to tie him into a [] away from Munich. In the middle of our discussion about [] suddenly interrupted himself since he realized that he had never discussed [] with me before. He asked, "Have we discussed [] before?" I said "no". Then he asked, "Well, how do you know about him?". I said I did not know of his RIS/or that he had been turned by [], but knew of his return and had even seen some Eastern press stories regarding him and had naturally wondered whether he, like many returnees of this type, would have an RIS mission. [] was again somewhat uneasy and wondered whether under the new agreement []

[] it was really proper for him to brief me on cases of this type. I said that I should hope so and thought that the significant data of [] would be something that we might profitably exchange, since we had noted on several cases (such as [], for instance) that both [] might profit by such exchanges, etc., etc. [] nodded and said "Yes, yes;" in his superficial and rather phoney manner, and the conversation ended.

B. MEMORANDUM OF 21 AUGUST 1956:

[] then talked about the [] case. This case has the [] (i.e., the agent himself) has the [] This case, [] explained, [] had received from the Bavarian [] president, [] In the early days before 1933, [] had been the superior of [] in the police service. [] had struck [] as an intelligent, energetic and ambitious young man. At [] suggestion, [] had studied, passed his "Abitur" and the required law examinations to qualify for bigger things within the police. After the Nazis took over, [] feat of being able to bone up on all this learning on his own had come to the attention of the new powers-to-be and they called this promising young man to Berlin. After [] returned from Soviet captivity, he looked up his old friend, [] confessed his RIS mission to him, and [] then turned [] and the entire case over to [].

[] now has the problem of being involved in some war crimes action which he had carried out or approved on the orders of Reinhard HEYDRICH, for which he is afraid he may now have to face trial. This is something in which [] feels they can help him little, except possibly that he gets a good lawyer. My comment was that in many such cases, no action whatever has taken place since there was no one to push the prosecution. [] is considered an interesting and promising RIS agent by []. He is being met periodically by a courier from East Berlin; [] voiced the vague suspicion that this courier might be none other than the famous Max KLAUSEN of the SORGE case. Actually, I think [] bases this hypothesis simply on the fact that this man is about the same age as KLAUSEN. [] gave me a photograph and asked me to check discreetly if this man could be identical with KLAUSEN. On the back of the photograph there is a notation that it was taken on 28 May 1956 on the Isartor Platz.

5. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION [] [] states that [] has a very good impression of the agent. He is far above average in intelligence and works industriously and imaginatively. As indicated in the above quoted memorandum, there is the threat of court action against him in connection with war crimes. The agent discussed this with his RIS case officer last year and was told, interestingly enough, not to worry about the matter because the RIS knew that the charges definitely would not be pressed. Just how the RIS could be so sure leads to suggestive speculation. At any rate, the RIS is correct: [] says that the charges are not going to be pressed.

6. TARGETS: The agent was recruited by the RIS during his imprisonment in the Soviet Union and released early in 1956 on condition that he carry out an RIS mission. This is, as we understood it, primarily the penetration of [] plus reporting on political events in the Federal Republic. He was given the names of two persons described by the RIS as members of [] with whom he should make contact to cultivate and develop, either with a view towards recruitment or with a view towards leading the agent to other [] ^{could be} _{filed}. The names given him were (fnu) [] and [] (dob [] March 1900, pob Munich), both of Dienststelle 12. The former was no longer employed by [], the latter is still in his job. As indicated in [] memoranda, the agent contacted his old friend and patron, [] shortly after his return from the Soviet Union. The case was then turned over to []. [] did not confirm to the agent that [] is a member of the organization, and the latter, who through normal social contact did see him from time to time was told to limit the frequency of the contact and gradually to break it off. Meanwhile, the agent became reacquainted with V-2982 (Identity 2). known to him before and during the war, though only casually. [] reports that at the time of the re-contact between the two, V-2982 was a member of Dienststelle 24 in Frankfurt. The agent, however, was not aware of this fact. In one of his first reports to the RIS, he was allowed to state that among his acquaintances was V-2982. The RIS responded immediately with the warning that V-2982 was indeed an [] and that the agent should proceed very cautiously in developing his relationship with him. The RIS could feel satisfied that a direct contact had thus been made with [], and from their instructions to the agent it became clear that they wanted him to use this relationship as an avenue for the penetration of []. In answer to the question as to how the RIS could be so sure that V-2982 is an [], [] believes that since V-2982 was known to V-2600 ([]), this automatically signalled him to the RIS.

7. Since V-2982 is the agent's primary target, and since he is also the agent's [] case officer, [] reports that V-2982 has been detached from Dienststelle 24 and has been established in a Zweigstelle for the sole purpose of running this operation. (This might seem to contradict, at least in part, some of our information on V-2982, which reveals that he was employed in Zweigstelle e of Dienststelle 161(24) as of April 1955. This could have been a matter of slotting, however.)

8. The agent writes so-called political reports on a fairly frequent basis for the RIS. Although [] was not able to remember the name of the particular organization on which several reports have been submitted, he states that the agent attends meetings devoted to discussions of "Eastern questions" and has become acquainted with many of the leading figures of the organization. Personality reports on these persons have been written and passed to the RIS. [] was able to remember that at least one of the people reported on is [] (born [] May 1901, Joslowitz, CSR).

Personality report written on this person & passed to RIS
9. Few details are presently available as to what [] exact intentions are with regard to []. For the moment they are content to play the operation very slowly and to build it up as a major deception effort against the RIS. In this respect, they are developing their plans for creating the Scheinnetz referred to in the [] memoranda. Although exactly what is intended is by no means clear at this moment, [] said that a possibility is to dispatch V-2982 to various port cities such as Hamburg, Antwerp and Rotterdam for the ostensible purpose of making clandestine meetings. V-2982 will be instructed to report this to the RIS in the expectation that some response from the RIS will be evoked.

10. RIS CASE OFFICER: The agent has met his case officer only once in the more than two years since the [] began. [] has agreed to give us as much information as [] has on the man, and this will be forthcoming in the near future. Meanwhile, we know only that his name is Heinz MAISKY (pob and dob unknown), that he almost certainly is a member of the KGB, that he spoke with the agent in a Karlshorst Compound building which apparently is identical with the one V-18268 of [] has been in on various occasions. (There are no identifiable traces on [] in [] files; as soon as we receive more data from [], we will request KUBARK traces.)

The courier appears at the appointed time and takes the reports from the agent. [] says that the courier has been dispatched about 8 times during the course of the operation. Meetings between agent and courier always take place at the arch entrance to the old Botanical Gardens, corner of Elisënstrasse and Sophienstrasse, Munich. One of the last RIS communications instructed the agent to come to East Berlin on 13 June for a meeting with [] This was later cancelled, however, because the RIS indicated it was highly satisfied with the agent's progress in cultivating V-2982 and the need for a meeting in East Berlin was not considered urgent at this time. The last time the agent requested that "Max", the courier, be dispatched to him, he was informed that the courier was in poor health due to a bad heart condition and could not come to Munich at the desired time. The agent was told to [] until a new courier system could be arranged, or until "Max" regains his health.

12. [] still is playing with the suspicion that "Max" may be identical with Max KLAUSEN. The photograph (attached for SR, COS and BOB) of the courier has been compared with the photograph of KLAUSEN appearing in General Willoughby's book, but it seems doubtful that the two persons are identical. As further details on "Max" become available, they will be reported.

13. We have asked [] for a description of the agent's RIS case officer, the [] Karlshorst telephone number given the agent; a description, and if possible, [] When we receive answers to our request, they will be forwarded to addressees as appropriate.

SUBJ is Friedrich PANZINGER former SS Col and Chief RSHA Amt IV-A in charge overall Rote Kapelle investigation. He also did other interesting things like perpetrating war crimes.

Arrested by the Sovs in Austria Oct 1946, taken to the USSR and recruited. Returned to Germany 1956 with the mission to penetrate [] and to write reports on the political situation in West Germany. He was to begin his effort against [] by contacting [] staffer [] (NOTE: [] is member [] who undoubtedly tipped to RIS by [] .)

Immediately upon his return to Germany Subj went to his old friend [] of [] Bavaria and confessed all. R. turned him over to [] where is case officer is BUSCH and his desk officer []

Subj has [] courier. Thus far the courier has met Subj 8 or 9 times in Munich. Subj has met his RIS C/O twice ~~only once~~ in a Karlshorst S/H. [] has a vague idea the courier might be Max KLAUSEN of the Sorge Case. This is doubtful.

The case ran in low gear until Nov 58 when [] decided to become aggressive. Subj wrote to his RIS case officer stating that [] had requested Subj to act as a letter drop. Subj also told the RIS he had determined BUSCH was chief of a special Dst which is in contact with various sources who come to Germany on ships touching at various ports.

Subj received a reply to his letter in December 58. He was told not to refuse [] request to act as a letter drop, but precise instructions were given about not tampering with or opening any mail designated for []. The KGB C/O wrote that he feared an [] trap but that Subj should advise the KGB about the extent of the mail and its place or origin. Otherwise he was to continue his association with [] No mention was made about a meeting with the KGB C/O in East Brln or elsewhere.

In Jan 1959 [] instructed Subj to write the KGB asking for a meeting in connection with legal action pending against him on a war crimes charge. Meeting was arranged and Subj was in East Brln XXX on 22-23 Feb. The KGB said that all possible assistance would be rendered at such time as his file is actually transferred to Sov authorities by the German Govt. At this meeting [] arrangements were changed, Subj was [], and told that all future KGB instructions and guidance will be forwarded in this manner. No change in targets made.

Heard nothing more from [] on this case until [] (5502) which stated the [] said Subj recd KGB instructions via [] to learn if [] had been [] or [] agent prior to his defection. This is a wierd one. Perhaps this is [] and not Subj talking. In view [] angle this worth carefully calculated response on our part.

Begründung und Stellungnahme des Zwischenvorgesetzten:

4-Oberführer P a n z i n g e r ist Leiter der Gruppe IV A im RSHA. Er war während der kritischen Stunden des 20.7. im RSHA. anwesend und von Beginn an bei Einleitung und Durchführung der Gegenmassnahmen in entscheidender Weise tätig. Seine ausserordentliche Umsicht und Entschlußkraft, seine klaren und sicheren Entscheidungen bei dem Einsatz der Exekutivkräfte sind mit wesentliche Voraussetzungen für die schnelle Niederschlagung der Revolte gewesen.

In der Folgezeit hat 4-Oberführer P a n z i n g e r in hervorragender Weise bei der (staatspolizeilichen) Aufrollung des Gesamtkomplexes " 20. Juli " mitgewirkt.

Seine Verdienste als Gruppenleiter IV A (Gegnerbekämpfung im Reich), die sich auf allen von ihm geleiteten 6 Abteilungen und 18 Referaten abzeichnen, hätten an sich bereits zu einem Antrag auf Verleihung des Deutschen Kreuzes in Silber ausgereicht (siehe z.B. Antrag für eine Auszeichnung des ihm unterstellten Leiters der Abteilung IV A 2, 4-Stubaf. Kopkow).

Während seines Einsatzes als Befehlshaber der Sicherheitspolizei und des SD im Ostland hat sich Panzinger bei Bekämpfung von Banditen ausgezeichnet; er erhielt hierfür das EK II. Kl.

Lieber Kamerad von Herff!

*der Reichsführer hat die Beförderung

Herff*

Zu Deiner Anfrage an meinen Amtschef I, betreffend die Beförderung des #-Standartenführers P a n z i n g e r zum #-Oberführer, kann ich Dir folgendes mitteilen: Der Reichsführer hat Panzinger anlässlich seiner Reise durch das Ostland am 24.9.43 zum #-Oberführer befördert und mir diese Tatsache auch telefonisch einige Tage später mitgeteilt. Eine schriftliche Verfügung des Reichsführers liegt nicht vor. Ich kann Dir jedoch nur nochmals bestätigen, dass der Reichsführer die Beförderung Panzingers formlos wirklich durchgeführt hat. Der äusserer Anlass zur Beförderung war die gute sicherheitspolizeiliche Arbeit, die Panzinger im Ostland geleistet hat, und die Tatsache, dass ihm als Standartenführer ein #-Oberführer (der Kommandeur der Sipo und des SD K a u e n - E u c h s) unterstellt war.

Eine Benachrichtigung des #-Personalhauptamtes von der erfolgten Beförderung ist seinerzeit vermutlich deshalb nicht erfolgt, weil hier angenommen wurde, die Benachrichtigung des Personalhauptamtes werde von der Adjutantur des Reichsführers besorgt. Es tut mir sehr leid, dass diese Beförderungsangelegenheit Dir so viel wenn Lanzinger baldmöglichst sein Oberführer-Patent bekommen würde.

Betr.: Untersuchung von Verfehlungen von 4- und Polizeigehörigen durch besondere Beamte des RSiHA.

Bezug: Ihr Schreiben vom 11.5.1944 - Tgb.Nr. II-797/44.

Der Chef der Sipo und des SD hat bei meinem mündlichen Vortrag am 9.6.1944 von der Anordnung des Reichsführers-4, daß im Reichssicherheitshauptamt besonders ausgesuchte Beamte zur Untersuchung von Verfehlungen von 4- bzw. Polizeigehörigen einzusetzen sind, die unter allen Umständen eine einwandfreie und zuverlässige Untersuchung gewährleisten, Kenntnis genommen.

Als solche Beamte des Reichssicherheitshauptamtes hat der Chef der Sicherheitspolizei und des SD benannt:

- 1.) 4-Oberführer Panzinger - RSiHA - IV A -
- 2.) 4-Standartenführer Dr. Werner - RSiHA - I -
- 3.) 4-Sturmbannführer Sanders - RSiHA - IV A 5 -

Wegen der knappen Personallage erwartet der CöSudSD, daß die genannten 4-Führer nur in besonders gelagerten und schwierigen Einzelfällen gegen höhere 4- und Polizeiführer eingesetzt werden.

Begründung

Aufgrund des Erlaßes des Chefs der Sicherheitspolizei und des SD vom 1.7.1941 - I A 1 a Nr. 79/41 - kann der #-Obersturmbannführer Friedrich P a n z i n g e r zum #-Standartenführer befördert werden. P. wurde mit Wirkung vom 25.1.1943 zum Regierun gs-Direktor ernannt.

Bewertung

#-Obersturmbannführer P a n z i n g e r ist seit seiner Abkommandierung zum Reichssicherheitshauptamt Leiter der Gruppe IV A und hat damit die wichtigsten Bewegungsreferate zu steuern.

Auf allen Gebieten, wie Kommunismus, Sabotage, Opposition, Schutzdienst hat er bisher Aussergewöhnliches geleistet. In Fleiss, Ausdauer, Beharrlichkeit und Verantwortungsfreudigkeit ist er allen seinen Mitarbeitern ein Vorbild. Ausgeprägtes politisches Fingerspitzengefühl, richtige Einschätzung der Situationen, klare Anlage seiner Maßnahmen, sichere Befehlsgebung und charakterliche Stärke sind seine hervorragendsten Führerqualitäten.

Der Begriff der Kameradschaft ist ihm eine innere Selbstverständlichkeit, die nationalsozialistische Weltanschauung ein inneres Bedürfnis.

Obwohl #-Obersturmbannführer Panzinger keine Kinder besitzt (hierüber habe ich Panzinger zu einer dienstlichen Erklärung aufgefordert, die als Anlage beigefügt ist) befürworte ich seine Beförderung zum #-Staf., da er ihrer würdig ist und sie auch verdient hat und darüber hinaus als mein Vertreter fungiert.

Was "Befehlshaber der Sipo und des SD fuer das Ostland" with official residence in Riga from Sept 4, 1943 to May 20, 1944. Promoted personally by the Reichsfuehrer SS to SS-Oberfuehrer/Colonel in recognition of his services for fighting partisans. Became chief of the "Gruppe IV A" in the Reichssicherheitshauptamt pertaining to the section: enemy/sabotage/defence as of May 20, 1944. Promoted to Oberst/Colonel of the police on Oct 14, 1944. Was awarded the "Deutsches Kreuz" in silver for his services in squashing the plot against Hitler of July 20, 1944. Personal history statements, executed by him in 1938, and photo are on file.

Occupation: Official/ Polizei-Direktor.

According to a photostat of a letter of the "Reichsarzt SS und Polizei", dated Nov 22, 1944, Panzinger approved experiments with a substance called "N-Stoff" and had no scruples having persons in preventive custody put at disposal for this purpose.

Photostatic copies of documents are attached. 47 (47).

14. A new development in the [] case was reported to us in November. [] has written a letter to his RIS case officer stating that V-2982 had recently requested [] to act as a letter drop for him. [] also included in his letter to the RIS the fact that V-2982 has now admitted to [] that he is chief of a special Dienststelle which is in contact with various sources who come to Germany on ships touching at various ports. Although [] cannot of course predict exactly how the RIS will respond to this letter, there is the hope that the RIS' interest in [] will be increased by this latest development. The sending of this information constitutes the first instance of [] intention to play the operation somewhat aggressively. Up to this time it will be recalled [] has been permitted to report to the RIS only the fact that he has been able to establish contact with V-2982. That he had been able to cultivate him quite well, and that although [] was not positive, it seems quite clear that V-2982 is in the intelligence business. (The fact would hardly have been news to the RIS which first alerted [] to the fact that V-2982 is indeed engaged in intelligence activities). [] indicated that the RIS will react to []'s latest information in such a way that the [] Schmitt will be possible so that the RIS will respond in such a way that a [] can be arranged.

[] was in East Berlin on 22-23 February. His KGB case officer said that all possible assistance would be rendered the agent at such time as his file is actually transferred to Soviet authorities by the German Government (note: apparently the war crime was committed against a Soviet, not a French officer as had been originally believed). It is interesting to note that at this meeting, the first since the agent has been resident in the Federal Republic, a change was made in the communication system of the operation. The agent was [] and is to receive all KGB instructions and guidance in this regard. A separate dispatch to [] was made, reporting this recent data. 1. We found alias [] statement that the KGB had instructed [] via OWVL to determine whether prior to his defection [] had been an [] or [] agent to be very interesting. The following thoughts occurred to us. 2. Unless [] has grossly overstated his [] connections to the KGB, it is strange the KGB seems to think [] might have access to the requested information. If the KGB actually asked the question, this could be an indication the KGB knows [] has been turned by [], and calculates [] will supply a true answer as build-up material. 3. On the other hand, in the context of [] we should consider the possibility that the KGB asked not [] but alias [] to determine which German agency, or more likely, which American agency ran [] prior to defection. Whether this is the case or not, it occurs to us that one seldom gets such a built-in opportunity to feed a reply to a prime suspect on the chance it may echo. You might, for instance, wonder aloud to alias [] why the KGB did not also ask whether the Americans had run [] since the fact the Americans are returning him to Berlin for interrogation probably has not escaped KGB notice. The KGB might well have assumed, you could point out, that largely by chance [] got into the wrong (West German) channels and was left there temporarily by the Americans out of embarrassment that [] though not previously surfaced to the West Germans was largely knowledgeable on matters of West German interest. If, as might be anticipated, alias [] then inquires whether this was indeed the case, you could somewhat anxiously assure him you were merely wondering why the KGB missed the theoretical possibility, -- which speculation you would of course not want to be suggested in any way in [] answer. A return of any part of this little exchange in identifiable form from hostile sources would be most interesting. 4. The possibility also occurs to us that alias [] offering may have quite another significance. Apparently [] and [] have not coordinated too well on [], as is indicated in [] 8815 and similar traffic. It is somewhat more than probable that [] does not know all the details concerning the basis for [] turnover to the Americans of a source whose information is mainly of German interest. Though the logic and indeed necessity of such a turnover and return to Berlin may be entirely evident to us, the basis of this position might well appear in German eyes to be at best undue reliance upon legal niceties, unless some other cogent factors were involved. Being imperfectly informed, or not crediting the reasons, [] may think the Americans are so insistent because they ran [] and are unlikely to admit it except possibly in reply to a provocative approach, which has now been tried through [] statement. On reflection, we think this reasoning is scarcely strained from the German point of view, and is in fact perhaps supported by alias [] careful request for traces on [] operational leads (M [] 5533). We know alias [] is a congenial guy, but still his stated anxiety in this case to "avoid interservice quibbling re which service entitled exploit leads" is scarcely consistent with his known impatience to get on with ops against the MfS. 5. Incidentally, bearing on the general matter of the genuineness of the statement [] has volunteered, is the question of why the KGB rather than the MfS is making the inquiry. 6. Finally, we believe [] recent reference to [] is a perfectly good basis for a direct request that [] provide information on the []

[] 6319, 15 September 1959 INTRODUCTION: 1. Except for references B and D, there has been no reporting on a regular basis on the [] case since reference A. The monthly summaries of [] have touched on certain aspects of the case as appropriate, however. But since these are not sent to [] or SR Division, there follows a brief summary of events as they have occurred since September 1958. Communication between the KGB and [] from late 1956 or early 1957 until February 1959 was []. (The courier Max never reappeared in Munich). The agent's targets remained the same until his demise: penetration of [] and reporting on the activities of the "Arbeitskreis fuer Osten". The latter was, as we understand it, pretty much "busy work". There was never any doubt that [] chief job for the KGB was to penetrate []. Since this was to be accomplished through cultivation and eventual recruitment of V-2982, [] [] case officer, the operation proceeded at a slow pace despite some vague plans that [] had been developing in mid 1958 to build up a [] around V-2982 in an effort to create a deception-type operation. With the death in September 1958 of the agent's wife and his resulting low morale, the operation slowed down to a snail's pace. The KGB, like [], was sympathetic and did not press him for reports or results for several weeks. Early in November 1958 [] was made responsible for the Headquarters aspect of the operation. This was the signal for a more aggressive type of [] handling, and late in that month [] was instructed to write to his KGB case officer that V-2982 had asked the agent to act as a letter drop for him. At the same time, the KGB was informed that V-2982 had told [] that he was chief of a special [] Dienststelle which ran operations in the Baltic and North Sea areas using a large number of ship personnel as sources. The KGB response to this information showed that they were very much interested but expressed concern that [] might be laying a trap for [] to determine if he really might be in touch with the Soviets. He was told not to tamper in any way with the letters but to report regularly on the volume of the mail, place of origin, any names given as senders, etc. 2. In February 1959, [] instructed [] to write to his cover address saying that he strongly wished a meeting with his case officer. The KGB replied by saying that he should come to East Berlin on 22 February. The reason for his wanting a meeting was stated to be his concern over new indications that the old war crimes charge against him showed signs of coming to life again. Also, [] complained that he was still having great difficulty in reading the [] the KGB sent him (this was true and had been the subject of earlier correspondence to the KGB). On the first score, the case officer, Heinz MAISKY, said he could not do much more than commiserate with [] but would check to see if anything could be done in Moscow to get at least the Soviet charge dropped ([] had vehemently denied that he was in any way responsible for the shooting of several Red Army officers during the war). On the second score, [] replied by saying that the KGB had decided the case had come to the point where a more secure communications arrangement should be introduced and that in the

future OWL would be the means. [] was instructed in this during his brief stay in East Berlin, and since that time until his suicide, [] was used by the KGB instead of []

3. No unusual developments occurred during the Spring months of 1959 except that in April the agent was told by the KGB to write a letter to [] indicating his desire to get a job with []. Since [] did actually know [] slightly ([] said that they had met one or two times during the war) a personal letter would not seem particularly unusual. After an appropriate interval, [] drafted a letter signed, theoretically, by a front office type and had it given to [] who was told to relay the message to the KGB. It was, in effect, a statement that although someone with [] high qualifications would make a useful contribution to []'s effort, [] regretted that until the war crimes charge matter was settled, employment with [] was not possible. (COMMENT: The KGB should not have been in the least surprised at this sort of a response. Considering the fact that the charge was a very painful thing to [] - as time proved - it seems somewhat unusual and a bit grotesque that [] should have written a letter to [] on such a literal basis. [], a fellow alumnus of the RSHA along with [] and V-2982, could have prepared a less cold-blooded reply to the effect that there were no vacancies at the moment for a person with the rank that [] would have to be given, but the matter would be kept under consideration, etc. As a matter of fact, this was the line that the undersigned and [] had discussed when the KGB instruction was first learned about. We can only speculate as to the reason for the change. At any rate, it would seem that this other approach would have served to keep the KGB more hopeful or interested and at the same time would not have rubbed salt in old [] wounds). Also during the Spring [] served notice that we would probably get less information on this case than we had in the past due to its increasing sensitivity. (COMMENT: The fact that [] meant this is rather well borne out by the story he was willing to tell after the agent's death - see below).

[] SUICIDE:

4. With the exception of the information noted in reference B, nothing else of significance took place in the operation until we were informed by reference C that [] had committed suicide. The reason why this fact was not first reported by [] was that [] was on leave at the time, as was the undersigned. Since the case has not been discussed among any other persons, there was an inevitable delay before we got the story. [] gave us the following account: In order to provide some form of protection for [] against legal proceedings connected with the war crimes charge, [] obtained the agreement of [] of the [] to front for [] in briefing a high official of the Bavarian Justice Ministry so that no action would be taken against [] at least without the prior knowledge of intelligence authorities. Because of the sensitivity of the case, only one person, apparently, was cut in at the Justice ministry. It was unfortunate that he, too, was on leave at the time a Federal order was issued for [] arrest which, when it reached the ministry in Munich, was acted upon promptly and did not receive the special treatment that had been arranged for by the [] at the request of []. Accordingly, the arrest warrant was served on [] on 6 August. He immediately dispatched himself with a dose of poison. When [] learned about this, there resulted, of course, a large furor and a quick investigation which revealed, simply, that the one man who could have delayed the arrest was out of town at the time and had taken no prior action to forestall an arrest should he not be there personally to attend to the matter.

5. When asked by the undersigned why he thought [] had been so quick to take poison, [] said that the agent had been in a very depressed mood for some time and had shown signs of emotional instability. He had been particularly worried by the war crimes charge which had hung over his head for a long time, at times seeming to be very threatening and at others seeming to be only a technicality which would probably never materialize. Apparently, [] had alternated between hope and despair for many months. This coupled with the long strain of his wife's painful disease and her ultimate death plus the effects of many years in a Soviet prison, not to mention the tensions inevitably caused by double agent activity, all served to make him crack at that moment when he must have felt that there was little left for him in life but probably further imprisonment. In a discussion at a later time with [] when we said that despite the above, one would think that [] might at least have been expected to yell for [] help, the reply was that perhaps the agent felt that such would be futile if he had indeed not been on the level with [] - in other words, he may have felt the whole show was over in any event. This was the first time that the undersigned had ever heard any doubt expressed about [] loyalties vis a vis [] . Actually, [] admitted that this idea of his was merely conjecture and that he had no evidence to show that [] had not been on the level with [] .

FUTURE OF THE OPERATION:

6. [] said that despite the death of [] there is a possibility that the operation is not finished. He explained that the agent's brother, Josef (No. [] trace; current Munich telephone book lists him as a (Regierungs-Oberinspektor) Hoelderlinstrasse 10, Munich 25 Telephone Number 76 10 88) a Bavarian government official, was talked to by [] immediately after [] suicide and was told in general terms that his brother had been [] -connected, etc. Josef readily agreed to [] proposal to write to [] KGB letter drop in Berlin, announcing the fact of the death, that the cover address had been found in the deceased's effects and, as is customary in such circumstances, all friends and acquaintances are informed of the family's bereavement, etc. Approximately ten days after sending the letter, Josef received a reply signed "Ingrid Mueller" ([] cover addressee). She expressed her regrets and her fondness for the departed. She added that she planned to make a trip to the Federal Republic sometime in the near future (it would be a trip of fairly long duration) and would like to call upon Josef. [] was asked if he thought this indicated a KGB interest in the brother. He replied that he thought, no, Josef held no particular interest for the opposition but that they might simply want to check to see how knowledgeable he is about [] late activities, additional details about the death, etc. - in short, an attempt to ascertain if, with [] expiration, his connections with the KGB had in any way become exposed.

7. In this regard, [] was asked what the relationship had been between the two brothers, and if Josef was the inheritor of [] estate. [] said the relationship had not been close - albeit not unfriendly - due largely to the feelings of Josef's wife who disliked [] . [] left his entire estate to a lady friend who had been close to Mrs. [] . [] it seems, became very close to this woman after the death of his wife in 1958. When asked by Josef for a memento of his brother - the request was for a chair - the heiress (legal sense) turned him down flat. Discrete [] inquiries about some of [] possessions (a microscope type of device, for instance [] got the reply from the lady friend that she knew perfectly well what was meant, that she knew a good deal about [] true status, that she could read him like a book, but that [] need have no fear, she had said nothing to anyone about this and would not ([] made her sign a secrecy agreement to this effect). She also said she knew that V-2982 was not just a friend but was his Western intelligence contact (she was not infrequently in the company of both men). Regarding the microscope, this simply got lost; other materials were readily turned over to [] (COMMENT: What the KGB will think, or wonder, about these items and the possibility that somebody could have found them in [] belongings can only be guessed at).

8. In talking further about the future, if any, of this operation against [] said he thinks the KGB might see an advantage in the demise of [] Since the latter's target and means of penetration of [] was V-2982, his case officer, the KGB might feel a direct approach is now, or in the future, in order. The reasoning is this: [] reported considerable cleared material on V-2982 to the KGB; however, he could logically state he could not push his relationship too far or V-2982 would become suspicious of [] purposes. Thus, while the agent was the avenue to the target, he necessarily and by definition stood between the target and the KGB. The KGB, [] thinks, might reason that they already have enough information about V-2982 and his apparent indiscretions to make a direct pitch possible. [] said that he could conceive of the KGB contacting V-2982 and making reference to the many items of information they have been able to collect on him which would be highly damaging should [] be informed. The KGB would be able to state in detail all V-2982 had said about [] knowledge of [] activities at the Geneva conference, what was learned about V-2982's own operational activities, and in general, what had been picked up through [] to show that V-2982 seriously violated many basic rules of the intelligence business.

9. [] said he thought that depending upon the forcefulness of the KGB pitch and the response V-2982 could logically be expected to make under the circumstances, the KGB might go so far as to reveal their knowledge that V-2982 is a Kriegsverbrecher as far as the Austrians - sic - are concerned who do not know his present whereabouts but would like to . (COMMENT: This was the first we had heard about such an aspect of V-2982's background. The fact that [] allowed [] to pass the information to the KGB [which we understand they did] indicates the rather surprising extent to which [] has gone in rendering V-2982 an attractive target to the KGB. We were never given many details about how much build-up material was passed, but we can only infer from the Kriegsverbrecher item that a good deal of information must have been sent to the KGB). [] said that in his planning for the eventuality of a KGB approach, the latter might possibly indicate they knew (fact or assumption) that [] had not been on the level with the KGB. If this line should be pursued, [] thinks the KGB would say, in effect, "So what if he was not completely on the level with us, so what if some of the information we got from him was only [] build-up material? [] could not protect him from legal action and therefore there is no reason to suppose they could protect you if we tip off the Austrians". As will be seen from paragraph 4 above, the KGB, in this vein, would arrive at the right conclusion but by the wrong means. (COMMENT: Although this reasoning is attractive in some respects, it does not allow for a V-2982 reply to the effect that if [] was indeed a double under KGB control, why did not the KGB protect his status? In other words, the KGB really did not do much better than [] as far as the agent's status was concerned - and presumably could have in 1956 by gaining an amnesty grant for him which was not, in fact, obtained. As a "dispatched" agent, this failure on the part of the KGB has always seemed odd since they must have known that he would have had great difficulty in accomplishing his penetration mission if for no other reason than that he could not be rehabilitated so long as war crimes charges, Soviet originated, hung over his head).

10. Be this as it may, the case and its future hang largely, if not entirely, on the KGB's view of V-2982. [] agrees that further independent efforts might be made by the KGB to get damaging information on V-2982 before a pitch would be made. [] also thinks it an equally good possibility that the KGB will drop the whole matter. It is interesting to note, however, that if the KGB does try to recruit V-2982, [] has obtained the necessary permission to have him accept the pitch. Although V-2982 is not a staffer in the sense of the term as such is used in KUBARK and does not have access to classified information held at [] headquarters (except as would be possible under circumstances noted in paragraph 11), this example of their intention to engage in more aggressive operations is a reasonably good one. It is safe to say we probably will not get a look at many better ones - if they exist - and there is some reason to doubt that we will see much of this one if it takes the turn [] still thinks is within the realm of possibility.

11. Returning to the subject of V-2982's "indiscretions", [] said that [] was allowed to pass a fair amount about [] and other defector's revelations. It was in this context that the KGB told [] to find out what contacts with the West [] might have had before his defection. (COMMENT: The undersigned's wonderings out loud about why the Americans were not suspected by the KGB in this case brought out [] response that the KGB must have assumed through the surfacing technique that a [] had, or could have, been involved. So, since V-2982 himself had raised the subject of [] with [] and thus got the information to the KGB, it seems logical that the KGB would ask the question they did, if for no other reason than to check the degree of V-2982's knowledgeability. Incidentally, he replied, via [] that he did not know if [] had been an [] or [] agent prior to defection. He said, under [] instruction, that he could probably find out from a friend of his in [] headquarters. This info was forwarded to the KGB, but [] death occurred before anything else took place. On this score, [] said that clearance has indeed been obtained to name a headquarters source for V-2982's information. This person is real and is clued in that he may figure in a high level deception operation. [] would not identify him except to say that he is in an evaluations non-CE sort of job).

8 Sept 60

TO: C/EE []

SUBJECT: Brief on []

1. The original principal of [] was PANZINGER, former Amt 5 RSHA deputy, a late returnee recruited by the RIS to penetrate [] run as [] double since 1956. At one point [] who first ran the case was amazed when the RIS reassured the worried [] he would never be tried for war crimes, and [] ~~XXXXXX~~ checked and found this absolutely so. Later the case was turned over to alias []. Contrary to previous info, PANZINGER was arrested on war crimes charges in Bavaria and immediately committed suicide. [] had arranged with a Justice Ministry official to notify them if anything ever came up on the case, and to intervene, --but the official was off on leave when [] was arrested!

2. [] had attempted to run [] by allowing him to report as a good friend, an [] case officer named [] (V-2982). The objective was then to create an imaginary [] unit run by V-2982 which the RIS would be allowed progressively to penetrate. There is no indication [] duly considered that V-2982 was thoroughly blown to the RIS through a previous case in which V-2982 obviously practiced deception with respect to the facts, --and through []

3. Under [] this case didn't go far. Under alias [] it picked right up. [] got significant build-up material passed for passage by V-2982 through [] Even passed a good bit of [] LETHAL material. Also set up an [] headquarters staffer for the RIS ("not in a sensitive job, IN evaluation"). Of course [] was arrested after all, and [] had the clever theory the RIS actually wanted to get rid of [] in order to get him out of the way and eliminate one middle man. It is now clear he was quite right, as V-2982 is the bird having the meeting in Rome.

4. In brief, [] is running V-2982 against the RIS, who has targetted V-2982 again []. Although nobody wants to run a CE case requiring true build-up material against their own headquarters, [] ~~XXXX~~ is obviously considered just the man to pull it off, and has the [] connections to get the necessary material cleared.

5. [] PANZINGER, [], --and [] were all in the same old outfit, as were a number of other worthies who have since turned out to be RIS connected.

PANZINGER has been in Russian custody for a couple of years. He has been a prisoner-of-war in your country.

M He has been condemned to death and in other words this prisoner has been 25 years imprisonment and then in '55 he has been sent back without amnesty. He was taken out of prison and then given back.

F Just given back to Germany - not without being recruited by KGB ?

A When he was arrested ?

F In '45, I think - PANZINGER - yes, in '45.

M In connection with this Adenauer visit in Moscow.

A Yes, I know. But my idea is that we can't exclude for example that when PANZINGER was arrested in '45 and was in custody there practically - they worked with these people very actively since their imprisonment in view of their opportunities in Germany and in view of choosing their friends for recruitment. In that way maybe - It's I don't recall but there were such cases. I mean it's not just my idea but there were some cases in which they made new recruitments in Western Germany on the basis of spotting which they received from persons who have been in their prisons. In that way, for example, old friends of RISCHKE and RUDLOFF who we found out had been in prison in the Soviet Union and in that way it's possible that namely they established that RISCHKE was an intelligence officer through such people.

M: PANZINGER has been recruited by the RIS, by the KGB, during his stay in the Soviet Union and when he came back he revealed this fact to Western authorities. He was given from the Police, from the Verfassungschutz, to us because he had been put out of prison to penetrate the [] organization and he was taken over by [] and he was run as a case up to the very last day when FELFE went to prison.

A PANZINGER ?

F PANZINGER, yes. It was a big operation - intended to be a big operation.

M: It was the basic operation of the last three years. That operation which gave to [] and [] the opportunity to go to Berlin, to Vienna - to Geneva ?

F Travel to Berlin, travel to Vienna.

M And to meet there [] from Karlshorst. And it was an operation against the security of our Service because it feigned that all the things which had been written in that book "Die Graue Hand" and revelation story published in the Soviet Zone of Germany against the [] Service - quite a ridiculous book

GER-5 cont'd

R The book by MADER. The book by MADER that we looked at much earlier called "Die Graue Hand".

F "The Grey Hand" - A German publication of information blackmailing against -

R It was the book after he wrote the book on Allen Dulles "Allen's Gangsters in Action". Then he wrote "Die Graue Hand". Both of these books you've seen but perhaps you've forgotten.

M Quite a ridiculous fabrication because it doesn't reveal -

R It was what he was referring to as the attack against the GEHLEN Service.

F Yes, it is.

M Chiefly destined to the population of German Democratic Republic because they are forced to believe things of that kind. It was not revealing the real status of knowledge of the RLS or the KGB concerning our organization but by this operation the KGB tried or was successful in making us believe that all these tiny and ridiculous things were all they had at their disposal. It was a big operation, a big op -

F Disinformation or misinformation or as you call it -

A It has political character and misinformation of course.

F A very cunning thing.

M And it was the rule of PANZINGER. PANZINGER first has been run by different men but as it revealed and came out very clearly that it was Soviet Intelligence who stood behind that.

Zum Dortmunder Atomprotest

"Frau und Frieden" vom August veröffentlicht den Wortlaut des britischen Flugblattes, das in Dortmund vor seiner Verteilung durch den Australier Herbert Compton beschlagnahmt worden war.

General v. Manteuffel vor Gericht

Die Düsseldorfer Staatsanwaltschaft hat gegen General a.D. Hasso v. Manteuffel aus Neuß Anklage wegen Totschlags erhoben. Wie die Staatsanwaltschaft am Dienstag mitteilte, wird Manteuffel beschuldigt, er habe im Januar 1944 einen Soldaten auf Grund des "Führerbefehls Nr. 7" erschießen lassen, obwohl der Soldat von einem ordentlichen Kriegsgericht nur zu 2 Jahren Gefängnis verurteilt worden sei. (Frankfurter Allgemeine)

In einem Interview, das Manteuffel in seiner Neußer Wohnung gab, erklärte er am Dienstag: "Ich fühle mich durch den Führerbefehl als Soldat 100%ig gedeckt." Er habe das Urteil gegen den später erschossenen Soldaten nicht bestätigt, weil es ihm nicht hart genug erschienen sei. Er habe befürchten müssen, daß das milde Gefängnisurteil des Kriegsgerichts weitere Posten zur Nachlässigkeit und zur kampflosen Flucht verleitete. Weiter versicherte er, daß er nichts zu verbergen und bei den 2 1/2-jährigen Ermittlungen den Justizbehörden sogar geholfen habe. Der entscheidende "Führerbefehl Nr. 7" sei z.B. von ihm beschafft und dem Bundesvert. Ministerium in Fotokopie übergeben worden. (Westdt. Allgemeine)

Nicht Herzschlag - sondern Selbstmord

Der ehemalige General der Polizei und stellv. Chef des Amtes V im Reichssicherheitshauptamt, Friedrich Panzinger, der, wie berichtet, bei seiner Verhaftung am Samstag in München tot zusammengebrochen war, hatte, wie die Münchener Polizei gestern mitteilte, sich selbst gerichtet. Panzinger nahm bei seiner Verhaftung Gift ein. Dies ergab die Obduktion seiner Leiche. Die Vorwürfe gegen Panzinger waren bei Ermittlungen der Zentralstelle zur Verfolgung von Kriegsverbrechen in Ludwigsburg aufgetaucht. (Kölner Stadtanzeiger, dpa)

Keine Tagebücher Himmlers im Toplitzsee

Bei den Funden im Toplitzsee handelt es sich nicht um Geheimakten, Tagebücher oder Aufzeichnungen Himmlers, sondern vor allem um Aufzeichnungen aus dem ehemaligen KZ Sachsenhausen, um Listen mit Namen von KZ-Häftlingen, die mit den Geldfälschungen beschäftigt wurden, um Verteilerzettel, ein Blockbuch und Empfangsbestätigungen über Falschgeldpapier und um eine Lagerordnung. (Köln. Rundschau)

Außerdem wurden in den gehobenen Kisten Sabotageinstruktionen der SS in holländischer, norwegischer, englischer und deutscher Sprache sowie Sonderausweisformulare der Obersten SS-Führung aufgefunden. (Frankfurter Rundschau)

Bayern will künftig keine Spielbanken mehr zulassen

Der bayrische Ministerrat hat am Dienstag den Spielbankenprozeß nach seiner staatspolitischen Seite gewürdigt. Das Kabinett ist zu dem Ergebnis gekommen, daß neue Spielbanken in Bayern nicht mehr zugelassen und die 1955 erteilten Genehmigungen nicht mehr verlängert werden dürfen. Die Staatsregierung überlegt darüber hinaus, ob nicht schon vorher die damals erteilten Konzessionen widerrufen werden können. (Kölnische Rundschau)

Gewerkschaft will Zeitung

In Gemeinschaft mit den Industriegewerkschaften soll der DGB-Bundesvorstand prüfen "ob die Herausgabe oder der Ankauf einer Tageszeitung von Nutzen sein kann". Diesen Vorschlag unterbreitete die Gewerkschaft der Eisenbahner in einem Antrag zum Bundeskongreß des DGB, der im September in Stuttgart tagt. (Ruhr-Nachrichten dpa)

Journalist schloß sich in Genf der Zonendelegation an

Der bisher in Bonn ansässig gewesene Journalist Weil ist, wie in Bonn verlautet, von der Genfer-Außenministerkonferenz nicht nach Bonn zurückgekehrt. Er soll sich zusammen mit Mitgliedern der Sowjetzonendelegation nach Ostberlin begeben und sich von dort bereits brieflich gemeldet haben. Weil war vor einigen Jahren aus Ostberlin gekommen, hatte hier aber beruflich keinen festen Fuß fassen können. (Westdeutsche Allgem.)

Bisher 950 Teilnehmer aus der Zone am Kirchentag

In München wird heute der IX. Deutsche Evangelische Kirchentag eröffnet. Mit den Nachzüglern, die erst heute als Einzelreisende in Interzonenzügen ankommen, werden kaum mehr als 1200 Gläubige aus Mitteldeutschland am Kirchentag teilnehmen. Am Dienstag waren erst 950 Namen gemeldet. (Westd. Allgemeine)

Liberaler Studentenbund rechtfertigt sich

Gegen eine Kritik des Ringes Christlich-Demokratischer-Studenten an der Teilnahme des Liberalen Studentenbundes an den Jugend Festspielen in Wien wandte sich gestern der Bundesvorstand des LSD in einer Presseerklärung. Es heißt darin: "Der persönliche Einsatz und der Erfolg der Delegation des LSD bei den Weltfestspielen ist von unabhängigen Beobachtern, darunter fast sämtlichen in Wien anwesenden westdeutschen Journalisten bestätigt worden." Der LSD könne sich deshalb auf die Feststellung beschränken, daß es den liberalen Studenten als der einzigen demokratischen Gruppe aus der BR gelungen sei, mit einer großen Anzahl von jungen Menschen aus den Entwicklungsländern und an den Lebensverhältnissen in der freien Welt wirklich interessierten Vertretern aus dem Ostblock in Verbindung zu kommen. (Bonner Generalanzeiger)

Von Knoeringen zur Auseinandersetzung mit dem Kommunismus

Der stellvertr. SPD-Vorsitzende schreibt am Dienstag im Pressedienst seiner Partei, die Auseinandersetzung mit dem Kommunismus bleibe den Deutschen nicht erspart, wenn sie ernsthaft eine Einheit Deutschlands wollten. Die Reise Nixons nach Moskau und Warschau und die geplanten Reisen Eisenhowers und Chrustschows in die bisher als "Feindländer" betrachteten USA und UdSSR zeigten anschaulich, daß es zu solchen Gesprächen kommen müsse, wenn man überhaupt noch eine Lösung der politischen Probleme auf friedlichem Wege errreichen wolle. Was sich hier im Weltmaßstab vollziehe, werde eines Tages dazu führen, daß sich beide Teile Deutschlands im Rahmen einer Vereinbarung der Großmächte stufenweise annähern müssten, so wie es der Deutschlandplan der SPD vorsehe. (Stuttgarter Nachrichten dpa)

Zehn KP-Mitglieder in Untersuchungshaft

Zehn Mitglieder einer KP-Untergrundorganisation, die Ende Juni in Fürth und in Nürnberg ausgehoben worden ist, befinden sich gegenwärtig in Untersuchungshaft. Wie die Nürnberger Staatsanwaltschaft am Dienstag mitteilte war die Zentrale mit den Hauptfunktionären der Gruppe in Nürnberg. In Fürth war eine komplette Verteilerstelle aufgefunden worden. Über sie kam die Polizei dem ganzen Netz der Untergrundorgani-
