WATER LINE TO BE LAID FROM GOLDSTREAM

Esquimalt Company Will put in Pipes to Carry 15,000,000 Gallons to Esquimalt - Work to be Completed in a Year

By next July the Esquimalt Waterworks Company expects to be in a position to deliver 15,000,000 gallons of water at Esquimalt.

At the present time no water is obtained from Goldstream for Victoria West. The Esquimalt company depends upon Thetis lake for that purpose, using the Goldstream supply for power purposes only.

The purpose of providing for the bringing in of 15,000,000 gallons of water every 24 hours into the area contiguous to Esquimalt harbor will give rise to a good deal of conjecture.

T. Lubbe, manager of the Esquimalt company, says his corporation has in view first the object of supplying the water for industrial concerns which it is felt will be located on the harbor.

habed there on a very comprehensive scale. That the C. F. R. has this in view is recognized. Recent purchasers of waterfront from the E. & N. on this harbor have not failed to notice that the avenues to deep water are being carefully guarded by that company, creating the impression that the big corporation has definite propositions on hand which will mean industrial development at this important point.

Now comes the project on the part of the Esquimalt company to provide the means for delivering 15,000,000 gallons of water a day within reach of any industries that might be established there.

The bringing of a pipe line such as is proposed to Esquimalt will give an opportunity for the company to connect up the Victoria West supply with this. It will also afford an opportunity for the city to get its water supply from Esquimalt by the gallon if such a policy should be decided upon in compliance with the provisions of the act. Under the act, if such a course is decided upon, fifteen months' notice has to be given, and the company is obliged to deliver the water within that time.

The capacity of the pipe proposed to be laid to Esquimalt is a very large one, 15,000,000 gallons a day. When it is taken into account that the city's supply will not for some time exceed 3,000,000 gallons a day, a better idea of the supply can be understood.

PERPLEXITIES OF A CIVIC RULER.

RATES ON LUMBER TO ORIENT LOWERED

Reduction Announced by the Trans-Pacific Traffic Bureau.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., June 12.—Members of the Trans-Pacific tariff bureau, consisting of the principal steamship lines operating regularly from the north Pacific to the Orient, have agreed upon a new freight rate for lumber. The rate is lowered somewhat and it is expected to place large and small shipments upon an equal footing.

The previous schedule was $9 per thousand for lumber up to 400 feet in length for single shipments up to 400,000 feet. It is stated a rate as low as $7 was frequently granted for shipments larger than 400,000 feet. This was a handicap to the smaller shipper, and under the new rate it is believed all shippers will be able to compete on an equal footing.

PUGET SOUND DEFENCES.

United States Government Buys Land on Whidbey Island.

Tacoma, Wash., June 12.—Through a local firm, the United States government has acquired 200 acres of land on Whidbey Island, near Green Bank. The purchase price is $2,000.

The land is to be used for additional fortifications to the entrance to Puget Sound. It is said that work will be begun at once.

DENOUNCES TARIFF BILL.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Senator Overman, of North Carolina, today delivered a scathing denunciation of the tariff bill from the floor of the senate. He charged that the Republicans are violating the pledges contained in their national platform, and announced his intention of casting his vote against the bill.

BODY OF WOMAN FOUND BY FISHERMAN

May Have Been Victim of Foul Play—Police Renew Investigations.

(Times Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Cal., June 12.—The body of the woman found floating in the ocean off Fort Point by a fisherman yesterday, has been identified as that of Mrs. Caroline Steinman, wife of Edward Steinman, an employee of the United States Pacific Mail.

However, does not clear the mystery which surrounds her death, and the police detectives have renewed their investigations. A saw-light was thrown upon the case last night by the woman's husband, who stated that she carried in a chaste bag when she left her home the afternoon of May 19th, between $100 and $200 in coin. She started for the beach, near the Cliff House with a party of friends to spend the afternoon and was not seen again until her decomposed body was buffeted upon the rocks by waves yesterday.

Mrs. Steinman was 29 years old, and was a native of the West Indies. Her parents live in Toronto. "We were very happy in our home," he said, "and we had been married sixteen years. The fact that she carried the money with her when she disappeared, and failed to bid good-bye to our 11 year old son, convinces me that she had no intention of committing suicide."

Windfall for Convict. Man Serving Term for Murder Finds Heir to Estate in Germany.

Marysville, Cal., June 12.—Having fallen heir to a German estate, Mathias Blumer, who was serving a twenty-year term at San Quentin, after his conviction for murder, has been released, according to word received here today. Blumer was paroled. It is understood, so that he might be free to settle up the estate. Surprise was occasioned here by the announcement of Blumer's release, as it was reported a short time ago that the San Quentin authorities found him very troublesome.

TRAVELLERS' DAY AT EXPOSITION

Officers Elected at Business Session

Thousands of Members of the Organization Visit Seattle.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., June 12.—Seattle and the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition today are in the hands of the Knights of the Grip. Thousands of traveling men, members of the United Commercial Travellers' organization are in the city to take part in traveling men's day at the exposition.

The greater part of yesterday was devoted to business sessions, while today is being given over to sight-seeing at the exposition.

At the grand council meeting which concluded its work last evening, Tom W. Miles, of Seattle, was elected grand councillor of the northwestern jurisdiction, succeeding R. O. McWhitlock, of Spokane. Other officers elected were: Junior councillor, T. R. Carlyle, Tacoma; grand secretary, A. A. Klismolek, Seattle; grand treasurer, C. A. Whitmore, Portland; grand conductor, H. I. Somers, Spokane; grand page, R. L. Phelps, Vancouver; grand sentinel, W. W. Gordon, Portland; grand executive committee, Fred Beebe, Tacoma; E. B. McMaster, Vancouver; D. McKellar, Seattle; A. E. Kelly, Victoria; delegates to the supreme council at Columbus, Ohio, July 23rd to 25th, W. F. Lewis, Tacoma; J. H. Temple, Portland; O. C. Thornton, Portland. The date of the next year's grand council meeting was set for June 20th and 21st, a week later than this year. (Concluded on page 12.)

WILL INVESTIGATE RATES ON RAILWAYS

U. S. Interstate Commerce Commission Will Visit Coast.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Washington, L. C., June 12.—The entire interstate commerce commission will visit the cities of the Pacific slope in August or September to thresh out the difficulties that have arisen over the railroad rates between the east and coast and mountain points, according to an announcement made today. The suggestion that the commission hold sessions in the western cities was made by Commissioner Franklin K. Lane of California, and was received with immediate favor. The cities in which hearings will be held are Salt Lake, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane, Portland, Reno, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Phoenix. Other cities may be added to the list before the schedule is announced officially.

TWENTY MEN LOSE LIVES IN BLACK SEA

Disaster to Russian Torpedo Boat—Captain Among Those Drowned.

(Times Leased Wire.)

St. Petersburg, June 12.—Twenty members of the crew were drowned today when the Russian torpedo boat Kambala was struck by a storm in the Black Sea. The captain, first lieutenant and first engineer were among the drowned.

TREACHERY CAUSES WRECK OF TRANSPORT

Number of Turkish Soldiers Reported to Have Been Drowned.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Constantinople, June 12.—Advices received today show that a transport bearing 500 Turkish troops, is stranded off Dedeada and that many of the soldiers were drowned. No details of the wreck have been received, but it is understood that it was caused by the treachery of Arab tribesmen. The troops were being taken to a garrison in the vilayet of Temen in Asiatic Turkey.

DESOPDENT WOMAN'S ACT. Ends Lives of Two of Her Children and Herself.

Rochester, June 12.—Mrs. Zwerner, a widow 26 years of age, took two of her three children into a bedroom last evening, lay down after turning on the gas and was asphyxiated with them. A third, a boy nine years of age, was playing out doors and would not come when called by his mother, so presumably he escaped death. This woman, who was an Austrian, it is said, had been brooding over the death of her husband, and in poor circumstances for about a year, or since her husband's death by accident here.

WHEAT CROP.

Manitoba Government Report Says Prospects Are Better Than For Years.

Winnipeg, June 12.—The Manitoba government issued their June crop report yesterday, which is exceedingly optimistic in tone. The report says: "The prospects are better than for years, as the most perfect plant is obtainable through a continuous and rapid growth. Up to the present moisture has been plentiful. The total area under wheat this year is 2,422,011 acres, a decrease of 207,225, owing to the late spring, but oats show an increase in acreage of 137,821, and barley of 22,482."

CUNARD LINER RUNS ASHORE

ALL THE PASSENGERS AND CREW RESCUED

The Slavonia Aground Near Flores Island—May Be Total Loss.

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, June 12.—The Cunard steamer Slavonia, bound from New York for Naples, is ashore near Flores Island in the Azores, and it is feared she will be a total wreck. All of the passengers were taken off by the North German-Lloyd steamer Princess Irene, and the Batavia of the Hamburg-American line.

Crew Taken Off. Liverpool, June 12.—Officials of the Cunard line were advised today that a tug sent to the assistance of the steamer Slavonia, which is stranded on Flores Island, removed the crew safely. Passengers on the stranded vessel were removed yesterday by liners bound for Naples.

Messages received today indicate that there is no hope of saving the Slavonia, but the fact that no lives were lost gives the company officials great satisfaction, it having been the Cunard boast that the line never lost a passenger.

Cause of Grounding Unknown. New York, June 12.—The Cunard Steamship Company's offices here were stormed today by persons seeking information regarding the fate of the passengers on the stranded Slavonia.

Officials of the company issued a statement saying that every passenger had been removed from the ship in safety. No explanation of the cause of the grounding of the Slavonia has been received here.

FIVE MEN FINED FOR SMOKING CIGARETTES

First Convictions Under New Law in the State of Washington.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Aberdeen, Wash., June 12.—That the new anti-cigarette law is to be strictly enforced in Aberdeen is made apparent by the action of Chief of Police Dean in causing the arrest and fine of five men for pulling the prohibited "coffee nalls." The chief today said that he had issued orders to all patrolmen in the city to arrest every offender of the law.

Among the men arrested yesterday was W. R. MacFarlane, president of the Aberdeen Baseball Association. He, together with the others, were released on their own recognizance, and later appeared in police court, where each paid a fine of $5.

LOTS OF WATER THIS SUMMER

MAYOR RENEWS HIS PROMISE OF SUPPLY

Cold Winter Set Back Work on Reservoir—Complete in Ten Days

Mayor Hall, at the meeting of the streets committee last night, renewed his promise that there should be an abundant supply of water this summer, and explained the reason for delay in the fulfillment of the pledges he gave during the last election. He did so, said, to set at rest anxiety expressed by press and people in regard to the adequacy of the supply, and he assured the council that within ten days citizens will be using water from Smith's Hill reservoir.

His worship said that while citizens had a certain right to be anxious, and had been promised they would have plenty of water this summer, and while they always looked forward to there being no shortage of water this summer it was supposed by Engineer Adams that everything would be finished by June 1st, and he built on certain climatic conditions. They did know that last winter was an exceptional one, that the frost was more exceptional than in thirty years and that it detained the work. Had it not been for that everything would be fixed and running to-day.

He had made full inquiries that day from Mr. Raymur and Mr. Kempke, and unless something unforeseen took place there would be water in the reservoir and the people would be using it from there somewhere about the week after next, somewhere about ten days hence, as he had stated the night before. Had it not been for the frosty weather the people would be using water from the reservoir to-day.

Sometimes if citizens would help the council it would be better than criticizing and making certain statements, such as that if the work had been done by contract it would be much further ahead. If it had been done by contract he did not believe that the city would ever have it done for the money or anything like it. Years ago, when gas and water pipes were put down, no plan was made of their location and this had given much extra work to-day. In some cases the mains went off at an angle four or five feet from a straight line, making it necessary to dig one trench to lay the new main and another to take up the old main, which had given rise to a lot of talk among citizens about digging two trenches. Had the work been done by contract this would all have been an extra, and so would the necessary changes of grade in laying the salt water mains. (Concluded on page 11.)

SCORE PERISH BY EARTHQUAKE

HAMLETS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE ARE IN RUINS

In the Cities Panic-stricken People Flee to Places of Safety.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Marseilles, France, June 12.—Between 50 and 100 persons are known to be dead as the result of an earthquake which shook southern France last night, according to advices received here to-day, and it is believed that the death list will be much larger when more details of the tremor's destruction are available.

Seven hamlets in the vicinity of La Fare and Saint-Sannat were practically destroyed and it is certain that many of the inhabitants lost their lives. Workshops in the harbor of Toulon were broken loose from their moorings by the force of the shock, which appears to have reached its greatest violence in the vicinity of that city.

Eight persons are reported dead in the town of Lambesc, and it is believed that many other dead or injured will be found in the debris of houses that collapsed there. A search of the ruins is being made by troops which were hurried to the scene.

The people of Toulon were panic-stricken and fled from their homes and from the cafes, taking refuge in the public square.

Scores of large towns and cities also felt the shock and the property damage is expected to be heavy.

The earthquake was severe at Cannes and Nice, according to messages received from those cities. Many persons were injured in the larger cities through the populace becoming panic-stricken and stampeding for places of safety.

STEAMER TURNS TURTLE IN RIVER

One Hundred Passengers Thrown Into Water—One Woman Drowned.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Philadelphia, June 12.—An unidentified woman was drowned in the Delaware river here to-day when the steamer Shearwater turned turtle at the Chestnut street wharf, throwing 150 passengers into the water. That scores of lives were not lost is due to the prompt action of the police patrol boats and several passing tugs that rushed to the rescue. The crews of the police boats and the tugs worked valiantly and succeeded in bringing to the docks the hysterical passengers. Ambulances were summoned and several persons removed to hospitals.

The accident occurred when the Shearwater, which was a small passenger and freight river steamer, was making a landing at the wharf. The bow apparently split and the vessel parted near the deck line. The hull sank immediately, while the superstructure floated with the current. More than a hundred passengers clung to the superstructure and were taken ashore by the tugs.

CHURCH UNION.

Subject Discussed by Congregational Union of Canada.

Toronto, June 12.—The Congregational union of Canada, yesterday discussed the question of church union. Rev. Hugh Pedley, Montreal, presented the report of the committee recommending that the question be referred to individual churches, and that congregations be allowed a vote whether or they were in favor of union as set forth by the joint committee of the Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational churches, and if not what amendment they would suggest. The churches are asked to report by 1910.

CONTROL OF THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Synod of Rupert's Land to Vote On Question of Municipal Ownership.

(Special to the Times.)

Winnipeg, June 12.—At the approaching synod of the diocese of Rupert's Land, opening here Tuesday next, Canon Murray will move, seconded by E. D. Martin, president of the Winnipeg board of trade, that the house of commons be authorized to take the municipal ownership of the liquor traffic in the province of Manitoba along the lines of the Gothenburg system. The provincial legislature will be asked to deal with the matter and pass an act so that on a vote in that direction by a municipality it can then acquire all licenses within its jurisdiction by compulsory purchase. It is likely that the temperance interests will support the proposal.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

Track From Winnipeg to Fort William Will Be Laid By August 1st.

Winnipeg, June 12.—The announcement is made by McArthur & Co. that all rock work on their enormous contract on section "F" of the National Transcontinental railroad east of Winnipeg is completed, with the exception of a little trimming, and that a thorough track will be laid from Winnipeg to Fort William by August 1st.

AUTO FATALITY.

Man and Woman Lose Their Lives When Machine Falls Into Creek.

Bloomington, Ill., June 12.—The bodies of Oscar Wahl and Miss Abbey Leavitt, who were drowned when their automobile skidded on a bridge and threw them into a creek, were recovered to-day. Both were pinned under the machine when it fell into the water. The accident occurred near San Jose, Ill., last night.

LOVE OF FINERY CAUSES DOWNFALL

Bride of Few Months Held by Police on Charge of Theft.

(Times Leased Wire.) Berkeley, Cal., June 12.—Love of finery and pretty clothes which she was unable to purchase, is given by pretty Mrs. Jean Thurnher, a bride of a few months, as the reason for a series of petty thefts from homes in the fashionable residence section of this city, according to the police today.

Mrs. Thurnher is but 20 years of age and apparently is heart-broken by the realization of the crimes of which she is accused. She was arrested and charged with the theft of articles valued at $150 from the home of F. W. Girvin, and when questioned, the police say, she admitted taking articles of small value from a dozen homes in this city.

She also told Chief of Police Vollmer that she entered the apartments of Mrs. R. B. Hickey, with a skeleton key and stole a money order for a small sum. She signed the name that appeared on the face, and cashed it at the local post office.

GERMANS ARE AGGRESSIVE SUPPLANTING BRITISH IN CHINESE WORKS

Railway Work Has Been Stopped Owing to Complications.

The liners Empress of India and An-tiochia, which arrived this morning from the Orient, both brought news of the German movement in China. According to passengers on the Empress and English newspapers published in Japan, the Germans are supplanting the British on the new railways being built in Northern China, and, in one or two cases, the railway work has been stopped on that account. One member of a legation staff who is well posted on the events transpiring in that country, and who is now on his way to London to consult with the British government on the question, says that the Chinese, influenced by the Germans, have refused to carry out their agreements and are appointing Germans to all the chief positions. The British are not taking this action without protest, and in several cases have refused to advance further capital until the German officials have been dismissed and Englishmen appointed in their places.

Based on this, the Chinese are moving in the direction of providing themselves with the nucleus of a navy. This is not news, for it has been published before, but the interesting thing about it is that so far as can be gathered most of the new ships are to be constructed by Germans, and it is expected that the German officers will be in command when they are ready to commission. This is a wholly new phase of the German scare, and it true shows that no stone is being left unturned by the Teutons in advancing their interests in every part of the world.

SAYS CITY FACES GRAVE SITUATION

Heney Regards Failure of Calhoun to Testify as Admission of Guilt.

(Times Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., June 12.—That the people of San Francisco are face to face with a situation more grave than that which confronted them during the Schmitz administration, is the declaration of Francis J. Heney, who, in behalf of the city, has prosecuted Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, for the alleged bribery of a member of the supervisory board. Heney sees in Calhoun's failure himself to take the witness stand in the trial that is drawing to a close, and in the determination of the Calhoun defence not to call witnesses, an admission of guilt. He has summarised the present situation for the United Press as follows:

By Francis J. Heney.
Mr. Calhoun has time and again declared that the only reason which inspired him to refuse to testify before the grand jury is that he wanted to save his trolley franchise alleged bribery was the fact that he thought the grand jury was under the wrongful influence of the district attorney and his assistant (myself). He has declared time and again through his subsidized newspapers that all he wanted was an opportunity to disclose fully all the facts of the case before an impartial jury, under oath. True and again he has asserted, through his newspapers, that when the facts are given to the public his innocence will be ascertained.

Ever since October, 1907, after the disagreement of the jury in the first Ford trial, Mr. Calhoun has been clamoring for a trial. The evidence of John Helms, however, in the present case shows the reason for his desire to secure an immediate trial. At the time he secured the services of Platt, who was working for Wm. J. Burns, surreptitiously to give him all information which the prosecution had in relation to jurors and witnesses. Armed with the information, plus the ten pre-emptory challenges which the law gives to the defence, Mr. Calhoun thought he would be able to get a fair and impartial jury according to his own definition of those terms. Eventually he wanted to go to trial. The failure of Mr. Calhoun to take the witness stand upon the stand or to take the stand himself in the present trial, in view of the evidence which has been produced, is open to no other construction than the one that he is guilty and does not dare submit himself to a cross-examination.

After seeking the opportunity for two years to make known his story, Mr. Calhoun is afraid to talk. No honest-minded person can fail to draw any other conclusion from these circumstances than that he is guilty of the crime for which he is charged.

The people of San Francisco are facing a more serious situation than confronted them during Eugene E. Schmitz's last term of office. The question which is now being tried out is "can our present judicial system be relied upon to insure the enforcement of the laws against all classes of criminals, regardless of their wealth, political influence or social standing."
If the laws cannot be made to apply equally to rich and poor, high and low, we must change our form of government and secure one which will insure such result.

—On Monday evening Mayor Hall will move the reconsideration of the motion which was turned down on May 31st, instructing the city engineer to make a supplementary report on the additional cost of putting a top layer of tar macadam on Cook street. If the motion is carried a by-law will be put through so that when the lower courses of the work are finished a tar macadam can be put on. The council will be asked to pass the grading and macadamizing of Catherine street, from Esplanade road to the harbor.

ENDS LIFE WHILE ON HONEYMOON

Young Boston Lawyer Jumps From Steamer on Voyage to Naples.

(Special to the Times.) Naples, June 12.—After a thorough investigation of the mysterious disappearance from the North German Lloyd liner Berlin of Holland Bennett, a young Boston lawyer, who was travelling with his bride, the police declared today that there can be no doubt that the young man committed suicide. They believe that alleged recent financial reverses caused him to take his own life.
Bennett disappeared on Thursday evening from the Berlin, while she was running from Genoa to this port. He was married May 12th to Miss Lucetta Averv Upham, of Chicago, and was on his honeymoon. Bennett was 27 years of age.

GREENWICH WILL LOAD FOR NOME

Steamer Loaned Batteries to Dr. Bell of Aloha, Whose Yacht Was Helpless.

Steamer Greenwich arrived this morning from Acapulco after a fair voyage. On Thursday last when 15 days from Magdalena Bay the captain sighted a yacht apparently drifting helplessly. He hoisted a red flag and the yacht Aloha, with the owner Dr. Bell aboard. He reported that his batteries were disabled and that he was unable to proceed. Luckily the Greenwich had some batteries aboard and these were given to Dr. Bell and he proceeded.

The Greenwich which has been under charter to Henry Lund & Co., is here to be delivered to the owners, Watts & Watt, Captain Care formerly mate of the Willesden will now take charge of her and she will proceed to Nanaimo to load sack coal for Nome for the North West Commercial Co.

SHOT BY DEPUTY SHERIFF.

Alleged Horse Thief Killed in Revolver Duel With Two Officers.

Spokane, June 12.—In a revolver battle between Deputy Sheriffs J. T. Logan and George Sweet, seven miles west of Spokane, alleged cattle thief, 30 years old, who lived on a homestead near Cherry Douglas county, was shot and killed by one of the deputies. Wallace's companion, Tom Greenman, was on horseback and escaped.

About 18 shots were exchanged by the combatants before Greenman, seeing his companion fall, wheeled on his horse and rode away in a cloud of dust.

ASYLUM OFFICIALS

ARE CENSURED

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Which Investigated Death of Patient.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 11.—A coroner's inquest yesterday found that Henry Grassmee, an inmate of the Southern California hospital for the insane at Patton, died of injuries apparently inflicted by attendant Hans Berg at the hospital. The jury also censured Dr. Wilson, acting superintendent, and Supervisor Butler, of the guards at the asylum, "for not taking proper steps to insure Berg's detention by the authorities."
"Henry Grassmee came to a violent end," was the unqualified declaration of autopsy physician, George W. Campbell. The list of the dead man's injuries was appalling, says the doctor.
"Bone shivers had penetrated all the vital organs, including the lungs, heart and kidneys. All of these organs showed signs of hemorrhages and congestion."

Dr. Gustave Wilson, acting superintendent of the asylum, testified that he deemed "Grassmee's death due to pericarditis. This testimony was contradicted by Dr. Campbell, who said he found no evidence of softening of the man's brain."

DEPOSITORS BRING SUIT.

Seek to Recover Over $1,000,000 From Officers of Defunct Trust Company.

San Francisco, Cal., June 11.—Suits to recover more than $1,000,000 from the officers of the defunct California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, brought by 16,500 depositors, occupied the calendar of Judge Seawell's department of the Superior court yesterday. The depositors claim to be in possession of evidence that will show that the officers and directors of the company misused funds on deposit and expect to secure a favorable judgment.

RHEUMATISM.

A Very Bad Case That Was Cured by Persevering With an Old Time Remedy.

"Were it not that I had great patience and perseverance," writes Mr. Fritz Ketter, well known in London, "I would still be racked by chronic rheumatism, which was my unhappy lot for three years."

"I didn't have any rheumatic fever as so many have—It hit me the pain and stiffness came on gradually. When I kept quiet, as on Sunday, I was free from pain, as being a working man I had to move about and the pain was simply awful, though after an hour's resting it would subside."

"I got the idea into my head that although the pain was in my joints, my rheumatic poison was in my blood. My druggist said 'Ferrozone' was a wonderful blood tonic and I began to use it. At first it didn't help at all, only change was a better appetite and more strength. Not being a doctor I didn't know that Ferrozone was all the while working at the root of the disease. I kept right on with Ferrozone and in three months was cured. There is no more stiffness, no more pain, and I am as limber as forty years ago."

Every kind of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Nerve Pain and Blood Disorder is quickly cured by Ferrozone. Satisfaction guaranteed, 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers.

FACES CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Pennsylvania Timber Man Released on Bail of $10,000.

San Jose, Cal., June 12.—Deputed by the sheriff at Scranton, Pa., to come to the Pacific coast and arrest J. W. Morrill, on a charge of perpetrating a fraudulent mining deal, George W. Wieland, a wealthy timber man of Pennsylvania, is himself in the custody of the courts, after having spent part of Thursday night in jail before being able to raise $10,000 bail.

Wieland arrived here several days ago and had Morrill arrested on a charge of having defrauded John Ross, of Scranton, Pa., in connection with some mining property. Morrill secured his release on bail and Friday swore to a complaint charging Wieland with felony embezzlement.

In answer to a charge of embezzlement of stock in the Monjar Mining Company, valued at $41,500, Wieland entered a plea of not guilty, and after several hours in jail was released on bail. Morrill also filed civil action to recover the money he alleges Wieland embezzled, and both cases must be heard before it is determined which man shall be the prisoner and which shall be the jailer when the pair return to Pennsylvania.

James Y. Thomson, the Grenfell banker who has been lost since Sunday, was found Friday by Acoose, an Indian, in a semi-conscious state in a slough. He is in a critical condition, having been exposed to privation for three days and three nights. A bag containing his valuables was found in the bushes.

UNCLE SAM WILL PAY BOARD BILL

Japanese Caught by Immigration Agents Are Held in Hotel.

San Diego, Cal., June 12.—Eleven Japanese immigrants caught by United States immigration agents are housed at a local hotel because the law forbids their detention in jail. Uncle Sam will have to pay the bills.

The eleven Japanese were caught here after systematic work by secret service and immigration men. It is believed by local immigration inspectors that a plot for wholesale smuggling of immigrants exists, and extra deputies have been added to the force. Sixteen additional agents were sent out yesterday to the Mexican line.

All Japanese were carrying passports when arrested.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Aberdeen, Wash., June 12.—Jeff Holcomb, a roofer in the lodging house on the second floor of a ship chandlery, was burned to death and his body was destroyed by a fire yesterday.

It is believed that the missing men are in the ruins. The fire started in the ship chandlery. This and the Zelaska block were burned down. Two stores were also destroyed.

CONTRACTING FIRMS FAIL

New York, June 12.—John Pierce & Company and Wm. Bradley & Sons, two of the foremost contracting firms in the country, went into the hands of their creditors yesterday. Both companies had practically the same management. Officers of the companies say that inability to collect accounts was the cause of the failures.

LOGICAL ECZEMA CURE

ENDORSED BY PHYSICIANS

After treating eczema for years as a practically incurable blood disease, the medical world is greatly interested in the discovery that it is not a blood disease at all, but is due to a parasite in the skin itself. This parasite is easily destroyed by the external application of a compound of oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerin, etc. This will quickly kill all eczema germs, while soothing and refreshing the skin.

Mrs. Henry Harvey, of Black Lake, Que., tells how she was cured after ten years of suffering:
"I had been a sufferer from facial eczema for about ten years. I was treated unavailingly by several doctors and remedies. About two years ago I saw D.D.D. advertised. I at once decided to give it a trial and sent for a sample bottle, which cured me. In a couple of weeks, and I have not had it since. D.D.D. has been a god-send to me as well as many others."

No matter how terribly you suffer from eczema, salt rheum, ringworm, etc., you will feel instantly soothed and the itch allayed at once, when a few drops of this oil of wintergreen compound is applied. The cures all seem to be permanent.

For free sample bottle write to The D.D.D. Laboratory, Department V. T., 23 Jordan St., Toronto.
For sale by all druggists.

SEMI-READY $15. SUITS.

"The cloth in our $15. Suits is shipped from England," said the Semi-ready salesman. The values this season are particularly fine, as the Semi-ready company maintain an office in England, and their buyers were able to take full advantage of the depression in trade which is causing unrest in Britain. One of the directors of Semi-ready, Limited, is now in charge of the English depot, and he personally keeps in close touch with the leading worsted and tweed mills in the North and West of England.

The annual report of the Leigh Engineering and engineering states that the penny-in-the-slot meter continues to increase in popularity. During the past year nearly 2,000,000 pennies have been collected, having an aggregate weight of these world's most popular coins of over seven million tons. Laid side by side these would make a line of copper over thirty-five miles long.

CANADA'S NAVY—AN AMERICAN VIEW.

The New York Times has been misled by that report from Montreal that Canada has prepared a programme of naval construction which includes as a preliminary step laying down or procuring from Great Britain a fleet of twenty-eight vessels, eight of which will be cruisers of the first class. The fact has been announced authoritatively that Canada will not embark upon any scheme of naval defence until a consultation has been held during the present summer with the British authorities. There is no doubt that the result of that conference will be the inauguration of a policy of coast defence commensurate with the importance of the interests to be safeguarded in case of trouble and with the increasing wealth and resources of the country. Our New York contemporary is good enough, however, to point out that whatever action Canada may take it need not have the slightest influence upon the naval programme of the United States. Jingoism may argue that the presence of a fleet of warships of whatsoever dimensions in North American waters would diminish to that extent the strength of the United States fleet. "We do not know," the Times continues, "that Canada has an enemy in the world. We cannot imagine any source from which she need fear attack. We certainly hope that she does not believe that we have any evil designs against her. Contrariwise, we have not the least idea that Canada considers it to be within the range of possibility that her new fleet should be directed against our coast. At any rate, instead of building new warships and torpedo boats to counterbalance the force to be created in the North, we might easily come to a firm understanding with England, or we might add new provisions to our existing understanding, that would make it unnecessary for us to take any measures whatever of defence against Canada's navy or England's navy.

"England, Germany and Russia might come to such an understanding. It would be vastly cheaper than navy-building. But Germany rejected England's proposal for a limitation of naval construction, and Admiral Weber says that it is not possible to consider it. The exciting cause of this craze for great navies must be sought either in delusions or in false pretences. All the military nations insist that they are strengthening their fighting force as an assurance of peace or for self-defence. Nobody admits aggressive intention. We do not believe that the people who supply the funds for augmenting the armament of these great powers have any desire for war, or believe war to be at all necessary. If there is anywhere a warlike purpose, it must be in the ambitious minds of the heads of state."

SOWING THE BROOM.

Speaking of broom, now at the zenith of its splendor in the neighborhood of Victoria, has the fact occurred to anyone that the gorgeous growth might be made a crown of glory upon every hill and mountain of Vancouver Island? A few persons have already distributed the seeds in some of the waste places, with results very pleasing to the eye. The seed germinates readily and takes root in many unpromising places. There are thousands of acres upon this "Isle of Dreams" which can never produce anything of consequence for man's consumption. Why not dedicate this area to the production of beautiful, fragrant broom? Even if it did take possession for the time being of some good land, it is easily eradicated—very much more so than any of the native scrub trees and shrubs. Besides it affords splendid shelter for the wild things of the wilderness, such as pheasants, grouse and quail. It produces seeds which supply splendid food and give an agreeable wild flavor to all kinds of game. Sportsmen and lovers of the beautiful in nature might take this matter into their most serious consideration. Some of us have already distributed the seed in a small way, with results which have been eminently satisfactory as far as they have gone. If all sportsmen and other persons susceptible to the "lure of the wilds" and the glamor of the hills were to do likewise, in ten years Vancouver Island would be even more attractive to residents and tourists than it is at the present time. And in connection with this matter it is somewhat curious to note that neither the broom nor the holly will grow luxuriantly, if at all, upon any portion of the Pacific Coast save Vancouver Island. The same is true of the wild daisies—the "gowans," the modest crimson-tipped flowers—of which Scotland's immortal bard so sweetly sang.

BRITISH ENGINEERING TRIUMPH

The United States naval department, after long continued preparations, has just brought off a series of exhaustive tests designed to establish the relative merits of three sets of marine engines—reciprocating, Curtis turbines and Parsons turbines. For the benefit of readers who may not have followed the progress of engineering science, we may point out that the Curtis turbine is an American variation of the standard turbine, while the Parsons engine was invented and perfected in Great Britain. We are indebted to the Scientific American for a synopsis of the test, a most elaborate affair following the construction of three warships fitted with the three different types of the machines.

The result was a signal triumph for the ship fitted with the Parsons turbines. Naturally American commentators seek to minimize the success of the British engines by suggesting that the skill of the stokers may have had something to do with the result. Possibly so, but it is hardly conceivable that either the naval department or the engineers whose reputation was at stake would overlook, in selecting the stokers, any advantage likely to be gained in that direction. It is consequently quite probable that any advantage there may have been in the skill of the firemen lay with the ship in which the American engines were installed. Here is what the Scientific American says:

"We have delayed making reference to the endurance tests of the scout cruisers Chester, Salem and Birmingham, in the hope that the official figures would be made public. Recent developments, however, make it unlikely that these results will be available for some time to come. The unofficial reports of the trials show that the comparative efficiency of the turbine and reciprocating engine is about what would be expected. The Birmingham with her reciprocating engines showed superior coal economy at the lower speeds. At the higher speeds the Chester, equipped with Parsons turbines, gave the best results. Altogether, the honors of the trials lie with the Chester, the Salem with her Curtis turbines proving to be, for reasons which did not develop until after the trial, a great disappointment. In the 24-hour sea speed test at full power, the Chester steamed 691.92 nautical miles at an average of 25.08 knots, while the Salem covered 588.96 knots at an average speed of 24.54 knots. The coal consumption of the Chester was 415 tons and of the Salem 420 tons. The Birmingham broke down under the severe strain, and her failure illustrates once more the unreliability of the reciprocating naval engine when driven continually under maximum power at the highest speed. It is mainly the mechanical simplicity of the turbine, and its well-proved reliability when pushed to the limit of its power, that have made this type of engine so popular with naval men.

"Some months prior to these tests, the government carried out another series of tests under similar conditions, in which account was taken, not of the fuel but of the water-consumption. Water consumption tests are the true criterion of an engine's economy, since they eliminate the question of boiler room efficiency, which may easily vary from 10 or 15 to 20 per cent. because of the more intelligent firing on one ship than on the other. In these water tests at all speeds from 10 knots to 25, the two types of turbine, Parsons and Curtis, are reported to have shown about the same efficiency. On the recent endurance tests, however, the Salem exhibited at the lower speeds a far higher coal consumption, and a greater consumption, as stated above, at the highest speeds. Though here the difference was much less. In explanation of her comparative failure, it is stated by the engineers of the Salem that the method of measuring coal by painting white strips around the bunker walls, and estimating the amount of coal consumed by the height of the coal in the bunkers with reference to these strips, is a very rough-and-ready method, and may give inaccurate results; the amount of coal, as thus measured, depending upon the solidity or otherwise with which it is packed at the time it is taken aboard. Although this does not by any means prove that the Chester was favored, it certainly vitiates the value of the results. It is also urged that the skill of the firemen might easily make a big difference in the coal consumption, favoring one vessel or the other, as the case might be."

The June number of the Strand Magazine contains an "Overseas Empire Supplement," the leading feature of which is an article from the pen of Miss Agnes Deans Cameron dealing with the resources and attractions of the three prairie provinces of Canada. The article is written in the Victoria authors' most forcible style and is richly illustrated with photographs of scenes upon the prairies. The June numbers of the Strand and the Wide World Magazine, published by the great house of George Newnes & Co., also contain some very interesting fiction features written by some of the ablest writers of the day.

The Esquimalt Water Works Company is going to set the city council of Victoria an example in expeditious construction of water mains and dams. We shall wait with some curiosity to see what this strategic movement means. It may portend that ere long we shall be in such straits for lack of water that the people will be glad to purchase this necessity of life from the company by the single gallon, by the thousand gallons, by the million gallons, or in any old way and at any price so long as they can get it.

Another destructive earthquake has occurred within the zone where scientists agree the crust of the earth is thinnest. On this occasion the visitation fell upon the people of southern France. We suppose these calamities will continue to occur at uncertain intervals in certain places until the old earth is as cold and dead as her ancient satellite, the moon.

In the light of the amenities which have recently been passing between leading public men of Great Britain and Germany, just conceive of anything that might be published in Canada and the United States having the effect of provoking strained relations between the two powers.

GEN. OTTER PLEASD WITH REGIMENT

He Compliments Officers on Parade—Absentees Summoned to Court.

Brigadier-General W. D. Otter, C. B., C. V. O., chief of the general military staff of Ottawa, inspected the Fifth Regiment at the drill hall last night. Thursday he inspected the garrison at Work Point, and was yesterday morning at Esquimaux to inspect the forts. Last night at the conclusion of the inspection of the local militia the general made several complimentary remarks to the officers of the regiment, whom he called together and congratulated on the steadiness of the men on parade. The cleanliness of their accoutrements also called for mention, and the drill of the gun squads equally pleased the general. He left last night for the east.

The gun crews were put through the thirteen pounder and six-inch gun drills. The regiment presented a very smart appearance and were a credit to the city.

In most instances the men responded to the call for the parade, but there were some absentees without excuses. Some of these absentees are being served with summonses to appear in the police court on Monday where they will have to answer a charge of refusing duty.

To-morrow the regiment will march into camp at Macaulay Point.

FOURTEEN PERSONS KILLED BY CYCLONE

Widespread Havoc Wrought in Western Texas—Many Homeless.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Dallas, Tex., June 12.—Fourteen persons were killed and thirty seriously injured by the cyclone that swept western Texas yesterday, according to the latest reports that have reached this city.

The twister was followed by a cloudburst that added to the immense property damage done. Hundreds of cattle and horses are believed to have been killed, while the damage to early crops cannot be estimated.

In the section within a radius of fifty miles of Leuders, hundreds of houses were demolished and thousands are homeless. Relief has been sent and every effort is being made for the comfort of those who are injured and without shelter.

No reports have been received from sections where lines of telegraph and telephone communication has not been restored, and it is feared that the death toll will be increased within the next three days.

ASYLUM SCANDAL

Secretary of Lunacy Commission Will Investigate Death of Patient.

Sacramento, Cal., June 12.—Dr. F. W. Hatch, secretary of the state lunacy commission, leaves for the south tonight to attend a meeting of the Patton asylum directors, which will investigate the scandal growing out of the recent death of a patient through the alleged brutality of an attendant. The directors will then report to the state lunacy commission which, if the facts warrant, will conduct a further investigation, headed by Governor Gillett. The governor stated to-day that he would take no steps in the matter until he had received an official report.

DEVELOPMENT LEAGUE DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Constant Inquiries Are Being Received as Result of Advertising.

Secretary McGaffey, of the Vancouver Island Development League, has gone over to Seattle to make arrangements for the distribution of literature advertising the island, its resources and possibilities both from a commercial and tourist standpoint, at the A. Y. P. fair. The engagement of a suitable person to look after this work was left in the hands of the secretary by the executive when it met yesterday.

There were several resolutions from branches of the league, covering matters of general and local interest, which were—some before the executive, but these were left over for consideration at a meeting to be held next week.

An offer from Miss Agnes Deane, Cameron to deliver her lecture on "Vancouver's ideal of dreams" before the 1,200 or so teachers who will assemble at the State University of Minnesota next month, for the sum of $50, was accepted. Miss Cameron has got over one hundred new stereoscopic views of the island which she shows in connection with this lecture, presenting a vivid picture of the capabilities of the island commercially and as a tourist resort.

A new guide to Victoria and a map of Vancouver Island are to be prepared and published by the league, the latter showing the automobile route north of Campbell river and west to Alberni.

The secretary stated that as a result of the advertising of the island by the league he was receiving from 25 to 40 letters a day inquiring about the island from various viewpoints.

There has been $5,512 of the amount subscribed by citizens towards the expense of the league already collected.

The McGill University matriculation examinations will commence in the High school on Monday at 9 a. m.

The Capital Gun Club will hold a shoot at the Willow traps to-morrow. Some of the most important events of the season will be brought off. The Dupont trophy will be shot for, under a system of handicapping which will give the novice in the art an equal chance against the most expert. The Nobel prize will also be put up for competition, as well as some other valuable trophies.

A meeting of the Young People's class of the Metropolitan Methodist Sunday school, was held last evening in the Epworth League room of the church. It was held to make arrangements for the annual Sunday school picnic which will be held on July 1st, at Bazan Bay, near Sidney. All arrangements concerning the picnic have been left in the hands of the Young people. W. C. Staneland, superintendent of the Sunday school, has been negotiating with P. Van Sant, manager of the Victoria and Sidney railway, regarding the transportation. Trains will be run from this city to the grounds at 8 o'clock, 10:30 o'clock and 1 o'clock and returning will leave Bazan Bay at 4 o'clock, 6 o'clock and 8 o'clock. It was also decided to set up a booth in which could be sold lunches, ice cream, candies, etc. A committee was chosen to look into the necessities needed and make all arrangements. The other committees chosen were sports committee, prizes committee and advertising committee. A good programme of sports has been arranged and a good time is expected all those in attendance.

WHY NOT OWN AN AUTOMOBILE?

If automobiles are needed anywhere at all they are in the country. One of the speakers of the Women's Institute, at Guelph, recently predicted that the time was near at hand when farmer's wives would run their own automobiles. Nor is the prediction a visionary one. Like the telephone and the trolley, the automobile seems destined to add to the comfort of country life, and the cost will not interfere with your buying. We can sell.

Willows Track Drew Good Attendance—Books Have Not Prospered.

Yesterday was favorite and short odds day, the highest bet on a winning horse being 3 to 1, the opening and closing odds on Dave Weber, second favorite to Josie S., in the mile, Weber carried top weight and made the race to suit himself after the first three furlongs. The time was 2 1-5 longer than the record.

The books, seven of them, it was estimated yesterday have lost already on the meeting about $3,000. They are eager to get rid of the pickers who pick bits out of them for no risk. The betting on top prices has all along been poor, the crowd preferring a place and show bet on a better price. Consequently when the favorite wins there is not much to pay out, and yesterday was one of the days when the books got something back that has slipped out during the week.

Yesterday's racing was uneventful, there was not a surprise except Margaret Randolph's stop at the barrier. W. D. Millard was in the money twice with a first Ed. Ball and a second Merrill. King rode four mounts, winning first and second on the Millard horses, and doing the rocking horse act on two tail enders. Brooks also rode a first and a second.

Electrowan was the only thing in it in the first race, and ran a procession from the fly to the finish. Metropolitan went around second, but lost the place to Fay Muir by a neck at the wire. The race looked good for Fay Muir, but she was almost knocked down at the start. Race two was a procession also for Sophomore, which took the rails and stayed first for the distance after getting away to the moment. Colbert held second after the first furlong, taking the place from Sonalto and finishing in that order. Redondo was the third, leaving five lengths between first and second. May Sutton was just a length behind Shirley Rossmore for the third position.

F. E. Shaw was much the best horse in the fourth event, jumping into fourth position at the first time past and gradually working up till the straight, where the horse took the lead and had three-quarters of a length too much for Merrill. Irish Mail was third, Adams well backed, fourth, but the mare has not the speed.

Dave Weber was slow getting off in the mile, and at the quarter lay fifth. Powell carried him up a horse a furlong, and coming into the straight took the lead and forced him along, getting one and a half lengths the best of Miss Officious. Josie S. was third. There was nothing to the last race but Ed. Ball, Joe Coyne was left at the post, Emma G. and Marwood hadn't the speed, and Day Star, not yet in top condition, surprised both with taking second money. Mill Song slipped into third money.

J. A. Virtue was in the judge's stand yesterday for the second time of the meeting. Beyond telling Riley to take Redondo along and not make mistakes the judges had nothing out of the ordinary duties.

R. H. Cosgrove, manager of the Spokane interstate fair, was a visitor yesterday. Dr. McPhillips, a veteran turfite of Vancouver, was there also, and J. A. Russell, of Vancouver, took the meeting in.

Next Thursday is lady's day, when all the ladies will pass the gates without a ticket if they wish to do so. The first harness race of the meeting is being run this afternoon, with J. A. Fullerton, of Vancouver, as judge. The meeting is a success. The local attendance is good, and the club has done considerably better for the first week than it really expected. They anticipate no difficulty whatever in carrying through the full sixty days. Redondo cut 2-5th off his five furlong record of Saturday last, when running in the third event of yesterday's card. The new time is 1:02, the other times were all slow.

VICTORIA WINS IN EASY GAME

OPENING BALL MATCH WITH SEATTLE CUBS

Local Palyers Showed Themselves Far Superior to Visitors.

The Victoria baseball team showed their superiority over the Seattle Cubs last evening at the Royal Athletic Park by defeating them by a score of 10 runs to 2 in a seven-inning game. Had the game gone the other two innings the score would in all probability have shown a still longer lead for the local players.

The game was played before a fair-sized audience, and was fast throughout. The local team was not as strong as on other occasions, Moore played third base in Mathew's place; Feden in Klipp's place at short stop, and Woodside replaced Moore at right field. Surplice, who was to have pitched last evening, complained of a bad arm and so Dutchy Schafer occupied the box. Schafer pitched high class ball, and certainly a good find for the Victoria team. He fanned seven men and was very effective in the pinches. In the sixth-innings Jocke got a two-bagger with no man out, and later stole third. Dutchy settled down to business and fanned two out in succession, and Wattalet made a pretty catch of a pop fly, retiring the side.

Bernie Schwengers, one of the old-time veterans, was again seen in uniform last evening. He held down first base, his old position, to a nicety. But it was noticed that his batting was not what it used to be. The Cubs started things humming in the first innings, securing one run and in the third another man crossed the plate for them. This ended their scoring for the game, a big duck egg being chalked up for them in the succeeding innings.

With the score 2 to nil in the third, Victoria commenced a batting rally and simply hammered Kuff all over the lot for four runs. They secured one more in the fourth, one in the fifth, two in the sixth and two in the seventh, totalling 10 runs. The only double play during the game was in the fifth innings, when a grounder was knocked to Schatter, who threw to Schwengers at first, who in turn shot it home to Robertson, who nailed a man at the plate. This is how the score board looked at the close.

Why Chestnut Motor Canoes Cannot Sink—Cannot Upset

Chestnut Motor Canoes have Patent Air Chambers in both sides, like Life Boats. They won't up, even if you sit on the edge—must float, regardless of weight carried—they cannot sink, even if filled with water.

Chestnut Motor Canoes are staunchly built with strong, rigid, perfect New Brunswick Cedar wide ribs and Cedar lining. Ribs are close together; the canoe is double-built, insuring enormous strength.

Entire framework covered with one seamless sheet of specially-woven Canvas. Canvas is coated with special Water-proof preparation, which fills up Canvas-Pores and dries as hard as flint, insuring dryness and tightness under any conditions. Will not cake or dry out. No fear of rotting sides against rough objects—they are entirely protected by hardwood "Rubbing Strips. Chestnut Motor Canoes are double-built, are light, yet very strong and speedy. Comfortable, roomy, clean, safe and handsomely finished—an ideal family Motor Canoe. The pleasure derived the first season easily overcomes the thought of small cost of famous Chestnut Motor Canoes.

FREE Write to-day for descriptive Booklet, showing many styles of Chestnut Canoes—very interesting.

"EAST IS EAST" BY GUY RAWLENCE.

In the salon of the Villa des Roses, behind the green rush blinds, Lady Main and her guests chatted and drank their tea...

Lady Main, her tea finished, lay back comfortably in her chair. "I hope they are having good sport," she said, referring to Captain Welsh and Gerald Clayton...

"It must be so hot for them," murmured Mrs. Clayton, as she rose and moved towards the door. "I am going to write letters and tell everyone the hundred times how lovely it is here..."

"I shall go to the Villa Benevent," she announced. "It will be delicious there." Lady Main looked up from her book. "I'm afraid I am too lazy to come with you, and I don't quite like your going alone," she said.

"What nonsense!" the girl protested. "You know the scores of times I have been there alone; I've half lived there lately, and the mumping beggar does not cause even a slight tremor of fear any more..."

"Oh, it isn't the mumping beggar I fear," said Lady Main slowly, "but our friend, the cold." "The cold!" exclaimed Sybil, in surprise. "Not our paragon?"

Cecil Welsh, ruler of a district east of Biskra, at the foot of the blue mountains. He spends much of his time at the capital of the Zibans; but he was also well acquainted with the gables of Algiers, and more than once had visited Paris. Handsome, clever, and moderately wealthy, many of the Europeans at Biskra had received him quite freely in their houses...

"My dear Sybil, the cold is violent in love," declared the elder lady. "Well, and what has that to do with me?" "But it is with you that he is in love," protested the other. "How utterly absurd!" exclaimed the girl, blushing.

"It is true, none the less. The adoration of this Arab chief may seem absurd to you, but it is not so to him. He is wild with love of you; I have seen it in his eyes—deeper, you know, until now he has restrained himself, so we must be very careful. We leave Biskra in a week, but in seven days much may happen; so I repeat, we must be careful. You know an Arab's courage and determination is never questioned..."

A momentary look of fear stood in the girl's eyes, then she laughed gaily. "My dearest friend," she said, "you are too romantic. Your thoughts have run wild; you dream of kidnapping, imagining the cold will capture and carry me away on a snow-white steed to some haven in the desert..."

Cecil Welsh was, for she felt sure he would be accepted when he declared himself. Sybil still lingered, holding the portiere, when the elder lady continued:

"If you are so disgracefully wilful, my dear, and Monsieur Mustapha has gone to his own district, I suppose you will be quite safe, so you may go," she ended smilingly.

"Thank you," said Sybil. "I shall be all right, I assure you." In five minutes, armed with a shady hat, a tussore parasol, and a book, she left the Villa des Roses. At the foot of its little garden stretched the road that leads to Timbuctoo—like a band of brass between the palms. For a few steps Sybil followed it towards the heart of Biskra, then she turned abruptly to the right into the negro village. A few children, and a crone, a woman clad in a blue and white, a group of camels followed by a woman was grinding the kous-kous; another bathed an amber-skirted baby in the fountain. Close beyond rose the walls of the Villa Benevent—candid as snow in their setting of emerald.

The guardian at the gate knew her well and smiled languorously as he swung back a panel of the great door, allowing her to enter. Sybil, passing through the ornate eastern-chamber with its matchless garden—a paradise tree to all who cared to enter. Here, in its green recesses, she loved to wander or linger in one of the little pavilions that stand among the whispering trees, reading some strange eastern tale.

With a half-breathed sigh of pleasure she left the slim youth at the gate and walked across the courtyard; passing the villa shutters and blank, she disappeared through the trim hedges. Before her the sandaled alleys ran hither and thither like arabesques amidst the green. On either hand little streams hurried the dull waters between their banks, laving the roots of palms on their way. Geraniums, like spots of blood, leant forward on their stalks; roses hung in a tangle, peering over the hedges, and the bubbling water which here and there caught the sunlight so that a thousand tiny mirrors seemed to awake in their depths, glittering back the majesty of the sun. The air was filled with the laughter of the rills, the whirr of crickets, and the sounds of birds. Through an avenue of mimosa she came to a little square-domed house. At one corner spread an enormous palm, covered, like the blanched plaster, by a cascade of bougainvillee. All around her the trees swayed softly. Sybil entered, and seating herself on the cushioned divan that encircled the interior, she sat dreaming.

Biskra and the desert had entered into her very being; more and more this eastern life had entwined itself around her. Suddenly happy as she had been, the thought that she would leave this land of the sun so soon now emotion more powerful, taken possession of her. For, as she sat dreaming, her thoughts were of Cecil Welsh. As yet no word of affection had passed between them, but her mind dwelt on the happiness she knew was approaching her.

A step fell softly on the beaten sand of the path. A thrill ran through her, for had not Cecil promised to meet her in the garden that evening. Someone spoke softly. "Mademoiselle!" She turned quickly; in the doorway stood the magnificent figure of Cecil Mustapha-ben-Khalifa. He was tall and straight, with a powerful breadth of shoulder, and muscles taut and strong. He wore a white gongora with burnous of chocolate-colored cloth, half concealing a silver worked waistcoat. On his head was the strange dome-shaped cap of felt worn by the Arabs of the Plain; it was covered with a spotless hawk and bound with string made of camel's hair. He had been riding, and wore high boots of scarlet leather.

Sybil rose quickly; Lady Main's words came back to her in a rush. "You are soon returned," she said, speaking in French. Mustapha smiled, showing his immaculate teeth. He was strangely fascinating, with statuesque features and dark, intense eyes.

"Yes, mademoiselle; I found it useless to go as far as my own district. At Chetma I met a messenger, and returned. I wished to discover mademoiselle in the garden—you love it, is it not so?" "I adore the garden," assented Sybil enthusiastically. "But I love the desert and the mountains even more." They stood facing each other at the entrance of the pavilion. The cold was, as she had always seen him, graceful and courteous, and Sybil felt no fear.

"I, too, love the garden," he said, slowly, "but this is not my favorite spot; that is beyond. Shall I show it you, mademoiselle?" For a moment Sybil hesitated. The garden undoubtedly would be deserted. No tourist would be near, for the season at Biskra was over; the Arab gardeners were far away. There was only herself and the cold—but Cecil would be coming—her hesitation vanished at the thought; she would see this cherished spot of Mustapha.

"Follow me," she murmured. Together they moved from the stucco pavilion, the cold leading the way along one of the sandaled alleys. They did not speak and the silence grew oppressive; once Sybil glanced at the face of the man who walked beside her. His features were set, and he gazed fixedly before him. Slowly they wandered into the innermost recesses of the garden. They had left the rustling stream; palms grew everywhere—giants of the desert, holding aloft their sheaves of clove-spiced blossom; lowly palms waving their fronds across the path. The shadows grew denser; like golden tears the sunlight spashed through the leaves. The world was a world of greenery with all the gamut of color played over and over.

Again Sybil hesitated. She knew this part of the garden; it was the whitest, most enclosed portion, where the mud wall which enclosed it abuts on palm-groves remote from any dwelling. The cold's silence terrified her, and dread began to drag heavily at her heart. Suddenly he paused. They stood in a circle of smooth sand with the trees sweeping all around and over them. It was gloomy, with the green obscurity of a sea-cave; one listened for the lap of waves.

"It is here," said Mustapha softly, turning to-wards Sybil. She faltered before his gaze; his eyes seemed to burn her.

"It is here, mademoiselle," he repeated. "I often come to this part of the garden. Three months since, I sat behind that golden mimosa, dreaming as I sometimes do dream. As I sat, I heard a voice singing—it was as the soft cooing of doves. I peered between the hanging branches, and there, in the twilight cry the trees, I saw you, mademoiselle, white clad, singing! I did not know; I watched, I listened—I could have listened till now."

Sybil gave a little laugh; it was nervous and ran false.

"Monsieur!" she exclaimed, expostulating. For a moment she looked away, then back again at his eyes; they fascinated her. Swiftly he came towards her, and throwing out his hands, he seized her wrists.

"Mademoiselle Sybil, from then to now all my thoughts have been of you; waking, sleeping, your image has been before my eyes—more beautiful than the stars and more tender than the first flush of dawn; more to be desired than all the wealth of the world. I love you!"

With a little cry she tried to wrench herself free, but was powerless in the grasp of his brown hands. His words came in a torrent of passion. "I cannot lose you so soon; you must come with me into the desert. Near by I have a horse ready saddled. Together we will ride far—far into the south. There we shall live in the sunlight—man and wife. We shall be lost to the world, but happiness awaits us in the desert."

He was bending closer, his breath was hot on her cheek. A cry broke from her—a cry of despair. She shut her eyes that she might not see the face that leant over her. His grasp tightened; instinctively she felt his lips were near her own.

"Hold!" A voice broke the stillness, sharp as a shot.

The cold sprang back. In an opening of the trees stood Capt. Welsh, pale with anger. For a moment the two men gazed fixedly at each other; then Mustapha's hand leapt to his belt, and a revolver covered the other. With a moan Sybil sank to the sand.

"Monsieur has arrived at a time unfortunate for him," said the cold. "There are one or two things Monsieur must do; he must wait yonder in the palm-groves many hours and swear not to betray me, or to-night he must face Allah. Swear, Monsieur! Move and you die!"

Sybil, as she knelt on the ground, held the tumult in Cecil's mind. His lips seemed to frame words, but he held them back just as he restrained himself from dashing forward at the cold, unarmed as he was.

"You have doubtless weighed the risk? The abduction of an English girl and the murder of an Englishman are not light offences."

His voice—sounded strained, and Sybil's heart sank at the helplessness of the situation. From this remote corner of the garden no cries could pierce the jungle of trees, which was far from any road or path. "I have weighed all things, monsieur, and I have no fear. True, your coming was unexpected, but it is of small account. A shot from this place would scarce be heard, and even if heard, it would not be heeded. For mademoiselle and myself here is the wide desert, where I am aware of many safe refuges. And now, monsieur, your answer?"

The words sounded pitiless to Sybil, and their horror possessed her.

"Swear, Cecil!" she cried; "swear, and save me!"

The name fell sweetly on his ears, and the delicious thought, "She loves me," overwhelmed him. Yet, were they to be parted by ghastly fate, and he powerless to avert it, he looked at Sybil, with a glance that touched her soul, and in her extremity she turned to the cold.

"Monsieur," she said quietly, "for many weeks and months you have been our friend and our guest at the Villa des Roses, and we thought you what we in England call a gentleman. To-day you have shown us we are mistaken. You say you love me, prove it! I beseech you—spare—my lover!"

The cold started. "Your lover!" he said in bewilderment. Sybil was flushing crimson in the green twilight.

"My lover," she repeated softly. They faced each other, a meeting of east and west, a strange picture in the dreamy shadows; the dainty figure of the girl and the towering form of the cold, embodiment of the inscrutable east—impalpable, unfathomable, savage. As he stood there, a new emotion stirred his heart, an emotion strange to many of the desert—pity. For the first time the knowledge of their mutual love had entered his mind, and, strangely enough, there came on jealousy to battle with the flickering of compassion. He saw the delusion that his own passion would cause, and a wave of higher feeling swept over him.

His hand fell to his side, his glance sank to the ground; then he turned abruptly and began to pace to and fro. He seemed to be resisting the impulse of generosity, fighting like a lion at the bars of his cage; tutored by Islam and the desert he was yet alive to the honor of the west; but it troubled him. The desert was beyond; the lion's strength was waning.

Suddenly he paused, and came towards Sybil; his face was grey and beaded with perspiration. The girl rose from her knees wondering; she took his outstretched hand.

"Adieu, mademoiselle," he said. "I thank you; you have caused me to do what I know is right. I shall not see you again. To-morrow I set out on a pilgrimage to Kairwan. Try and forgive, although you cannot understand—the east."

His grasp relaxed, and he turned away quickly, disappearing amongst the trees. Captain Welsh carried Sybil, half fainting, from the scene of this strange drama. He placed her on a narrow seat built out from the stone wall of the garden. Below lay the arid breath of the river bed; afar, a streak of blue told where the stream ran woolly over the pebbles. On the further bank rose the line of a near oasis, while beyond, the desert stretched its infinity of gilded sand.

The sun was setting behind the palms, and a few frail clouds caught a fiery glimmer and sailed through the blue like burning arabesques. The mountains, flushed with orange and carnation, held rifts of deep blue shadows.

A caravan went splashing across the shadows, the camels walking daintily through the water; near by two men were praying, little white forms genuflecting as they followed the sacred commands of the Prophet. A flock of goats browsed on the edge of the track that wound beneath the wall, whose guardian held a red fute to his lips, and the faint trills, like elfin laughter, came waveringly from the little instrument.

Amidst this quiet scene it was difficult to believe in the tumult and stress of emotion through which they had passed, although their hearts had not yet returned to their even way of beating. The girl leant against the wall. "Sybil—dearest!" Cecil whispered softly.

The sun fell lower. The heat-colored desert faded out like a cooling furnace; a delicious breeze sprang up from the wastes. The wail of the fute grew fainter, mingling with the clamour of the frogs down in the sandy pools.

Hand in hand they sat, silent in their new-found happiness. Suddenly the stillness was broken by the clangour of a bell. They rose and turned down the path that led to the courtyard. At the gate a white figure awaited them.

"Allah islemeck," the figure murmured as they passed out. The sky darkened to a sapphire over the ash-grey desert, and a pale light told of the coming moon. The eyes of the lovers turned to the riverbed, across which a rider was spurring, his floating burnous like a dark cloud behind him.

Silently they watched him as he mounted the rise beyond, finally vanishing into the blue distance.

"It is he," said Sybil, in an awed whisper. Cecil took her in his arms. From beyond the river, where Nomads were lighting their fires, came the crisp bark of the Kabyle dogs; the goat-herd with his fute had wandered far into the oasis. It was night.

NEGLECTED COLDS LEAD TO CONSUMPTION

Unless a complete cure is effected, the inflammation passes rapidly to the throat, bronchial tubes, and then to the lungs. You can't make new lungs any more than you can make new fingers of a new nose—hence consumption is practically incurable. But Catarrh can be cured, except in its final and always fatal stage. Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling "Catarrhazone."

In using Catarrhazone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing, steamy vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. GUARANTEED TO CURE. The purest balsam and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance, and cure comes quickly.

To-day's News To-day!

ON APRIL 1st the Times installed its own leased wire connecting with the mainland wire of the United Press Association and taking the full report of that famous news gathering association. While involving very heavy expense, it has already been more than justified by the excellence of the service provided.

THE TIMES operator begins receiving messages at 7:30 each morning and from that hour until 3:30 daily a steady stream of dispatches are delivered in the Times editorial rooms. The comprehensiveness of the service enables the telegraph editor to make a judicious selection, rejecting that which is unimportant or uninteresting in this part of the world.

OLD TIMER'S DEATH

Had Been Dead for Several Weeks Before Body Was Found. Vernon June 11.—An inquest was held at the Court house, by Coroner Dr. O. Morris on the death of Wm. Bradley...

The deceased was an old resident of this district having been here for over 15 years. As it is known that he was not in very good health last winter, it is altogether likely that his death was due to natural causes.

After hearing the evidence, the jury brought in a verdict that no evidence had been produced to enable the jury to give any opinion as to the cause of death.

SUICIDES AT SEATTLE

Bodies of Two Men Found — Third is Missing.

Seattle, Wash., June 12.—Two men committed suicide yesterday and the body of a third is believed to be secreted somewhere about the city. A note indicating that he has taken his life was left by him.

Yesterday a body was found under the bridge at Sixth avenue south and Lander street. The man had slashed his throat with a razor and had almost severed his head from his body.

The only mark of identification was found in the name piece inside of his gray, striped coat. The name written there as the name of the owner of the garment was H. H. Bean.

Every mother should be able to recognize and cure the minor ailments that attack her little ones. Prompt action may prevent serious illness—perhaps save a little life. A simple, safe remedy in the home is therefore a necessity, and for this purpose there is nothing else so good as Baby's Own Tablets. They promptly cure all ailments; destroy worms; break up colds, make teething easy and keep children healthy and cheerful.

Mrs. Jos. Levesque, Casselman, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have always found them satisfactory. My child has grown splendidly and is always good natured since I began using this medicine." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DECLARES WOMAN'S PLACE IS THE HOME

Baroness Uruji Speaks on the Question of Suffrage.

New York, June 12.—That America to-day may be ready for the ballot for woman is a question upon which Baroness Uruji, wife of the Japanese vice-admiral, declined to express opinion; that the women of Japan are not ready is her emphatic declaration.

"I will not put myself down as saying that I do not believe in suffrage for American women, as their problems and those of the women of Japan are wide apart," said the baroness. "I do not believe in the ballot personality, but I believe in the highest mental development for women. Co-education does not appeal to me, but colleges, such as Vassar, Smith, Wellesley and Bryn Mawr are a credit to your nation."

She continued: "I think women's and men's spheres are entirely different. A woman's brain is complementary to that of her husband. Her usefulness in the world is of a different but as important variety as that of man, but her place is the home."

"A woman may know politics, state-manship, diplomacy and business if she chooses, and not to her detriment, but to a higher usefulness in the home and not outside of it."

WOMEN'S CONGRESS TO MEET IN TORONTO

Some of the Subjects to Be Discussed at Gathering.

The Quinquennial Congress of the International Council of Women, which will be held in the Toronto University buildings from June 15th to 20th is the third meeting of its kind to take place. The first was held in Berlin, Germany, in 1889, when ten countries were represented, and the second in London, England, in 1904, when eighteen were represented. At the Toronto congress delegates from twenty-three countries will be present.

The first week of the congress will be devoted to business—the election of officers, and the formulating of plans for the ensuing five years. The addresses and papers will be given during the week following. Six evening meetings will be held, including the reception on June 15th, when Sir James Whitney, and Mayor Oliver will formally extend greetings to the visitors, followed by speeches from Lady Aberdeen and the presidents of the various National Councils represented.

The significance of such a congress may be realized in part when it is considered that in Norway and Sweden so much importance is attached to the assembly that the respective governments have undertaken to defray all expenses incurred by the delegates coming from these countries. Methods of grappling with problems of social and moral reform, ways and means for the development of intellectual and artistic appreciation, systems for mental and physical culture, schemes for the varied exercise of philanthropy—all will come under discussion.

There will be papers on the ideal training of the teacher, the ideal training of the child, organized play grounds, the town child's holiday in the country—and many other educational matters.

A plea will be presented by the National Council of Denmark for the establishment of a universal language for business and commercial purposes.

The question of juvenile literature will be dwelt on at length. Papers will be read treating of the systems under which trained librarians in the United States and Denmark visit the schools and address the pupils on the subject of books, directing their attention to profitable and entertaining works, and under which traveling librarians visit the poorer districts, and accompany a distribution of reading matter with short talks relative to the same.

In this same connection the Council of Switzerland will present suggestions for the furtherance of the cause in the compiling of text and reading books which will dispargue the glory of war and promote the beauty of international amity.

Mrs. Martindale, a prominent factory inspector of Belfast, will speak on what will probably be one of the liveliest topics of the conference, namely, the safeguarding and elevating of the child.

The Rev. Anna Shaw, of the United States, and Finken Krog, of Norway, will speak on Woman's Suffrage, and Mrs. May Wright Sewall, of the United States, an organizer of over fifty women's clubs, will speak along lines connected with that work.

Greece, Austria and England are sending representative women journalists, and Finken Marie Christianson, head of a school for the training of domestic servants, will be an interesting member of the Danish delegation.

The British and foreign delegates were due to arrive in Quebec on the morning of June 11th. There they were to be met by the members of the Australian delegation who passed through Victoria and Vancouver recently, and were accompanied eastward by Mrs. R. S. Day, provincial vice-president for British Columbia.

This evening a reception will be given them in the Royal Victoria College, Montreal, by the governors, principal and fellows of McGill University. Tomorrow they will attend a special service in Christ Church cathedral, Montreal, and on Monday a luncheon will be given by Principal and Mrs. Robertson at Macdonald College, and in the evening they will attend a reception by the Canadian Handicraft's guild.

IMMIGRATION FROM THE UNITED STATES

"Discovery" by Americans is Followed by Influx of Settlers.

On a recent visit to this city Arthur Hawkes of Toronto, who is associated with two of the great empire builders of the Dominion of Canada, McKenzie and Mann, declared that the American had become ubiquitous in newer Canada, says the Boston Transcript, and added that his presence and his prosperity testified of three things—of the wisdom of Providence, of the impotence of politics, and of the growing sense of human brotherhood. Hon. Thomas Hetherington, the Dominion government's land and immigration agent for New England, says that last year 55,000 Americans crossed the border into the Canadian Northwest, taking with them in cash, stock and materials over $50,000,000, while Canadian immigration Commissioner Walker declared the other day at Ottawa that 70,000 American immigrants would come to Canada this year and settle on 21,000 homesteads.

"The American in Canada," said Mr. Hawkes, "is much like the Scot in London—he has a knack of finding the best things that are going and keeps fast hold on them. He is a missionary in ginger and 10 per cent, and at the same time a convert to many admirable Canadian ideas."

"Even the American," continued Mr. Hawkes, somewhat facetiously, "has come to recognize that God moves in a mysterious way in permitting for so long the delusion that everything below parallel forty-nine was front garden, and everything above was only back yard. The American who travels and the American who reads have ceased to regard Canada as their poor relation, to whom cold water and a few kind words were the true meat and drink of international consanguinity. He has ceased to regard the sound of 'reciprocity' with a disdainful smile. The sound has changed so much that it is more like an echo from his own soul than the supplication of a man in conekin, hardup for friends."

"The American finds that Canada offers him abundance of other things than cold snaps. Twenty years ago Canada scarcely appreciated her own potentialities. While it is hardly true that the American taught Canadians how good the Lord had been, his genius for catching on had a good deal to do with the transformations of the last decade.

"The lapse of the treaty of the early fifties, which American and Canadian politicians alike thought would be permanently ruinous to Canadian prosperity, has worked out an exceeding advantage for Canada. It may have sent thousands of Canadians into the United States, but it had cleared the way for a national policy in Canada, of which the spoke of many factory chimneys is the effective income, and it presaged, as a secondary sequel, the great immigration from the United States to Western Canada, that is an extraordinary to stay-at-home Americans as the Ananias Club is to unopprobriated Canadians."

"As far as I can make out, the sons and daughters of the Maritime Provinces have taken most of the things they cared to reach out for in New England—probably because most of them are of Scotch descent. In the Northwestern States, whenever you scratch a particularly shrewd, unassuming, successful business man, the chances are you will find a native-born Canadian or the husband of a Canadian wife."

"Scarcely half a million of the far-seeing agricultural population of the United States has, so far, crossed into Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The procession will continue until a prophecy of the first United States consul at Winnipeg—Saskatchewan Taylor, is fulfilled, and the valley of the Saskatchewan becomes the vastest bread-producing territory on the globe."

"There is this general likeness in the manufacturing and ploughing Americans who have come to Canada—they represent the best of their respective classes. The great manufacturers who have established themselves in Canada—not because the Canadian is a difficult proposition to handle, but because conditions are changing in the Dominion, and they must see the best men to meet them. The farmer who sold his dear land in Ohio and Illinois, bought more and cheaper land in Saskatchewan, and went into a new country prepared to master and accustom himself and his progeny to a new environment. He made money from the beginning. One who settled at Davidson, arriving at the station with a steam ploughing outfit at one o'clock, and at half-past two was turning over the sod, six furrows at a time."

"But there is more in the American 'invasion' of Canada than thousand-acre fields of wheat. There is a readjustment of civic outlook and conduct. The strenuous devotion of Americans to their flag is one of the glories of the republic. It is curious to observe, sometimes, the passionate surprise with which patriotic men of the nation which has taken millions of citizens from other nations, receive the statement that thousands of American-born citizens who migrated to Canada, have taken the oath of allegiance to their adopted country. Sometimes they think that this kind of reciprocity is going too far, and talk as though they feared Canada would annex the United States. This is not likely to happen, for Canada has troubles of her own.

"But there is no ground for regret, much less alarm in this reconstruction of allegiance, for George III. is dead, and Canada governs herself entirely as she pleases and sends no dollar of taxation outside her own geographical limits. I have always held the view that a country that is good enough to prosper in is good enough to tie up to. The man who, independent of the police, emigrated from his native heath, discovers that civic affection is like filial, conjugal and paternal love. No Scotsman objects to Andrew Carnegie for thinking of America first, and the land of his birth second. No American begrudges Carnegie his devotion to Scotland."

"It is the same with the American in Canada. He celebrates the Fourth of July. Nobody complains that he is slow to understand that the First of July is an equally fine day. That blessed realization will come in good time. The admirable things in Canadian life are making their impression on Americans."

When asked what was to be the outcome of all this exchange of men, this intermarrying of ideas, Mr. Hawkes said the answer was obvious. "The peoples of the republic and the Dominion have a common origin, a common literature, a common tongue. The English-speaking races are toiled in the republic and in the Empire, and the least penetrating mind can see that, spite of fleeting irritations between themselves, the Empire and the republic are bound to exert similar and beneficial influence in world politics. The Dominion is singularly happy in its relation to both. It could be singularly powerful, if its leaders in school, journalism and in politics, measured half up to their opportunity. In the attainment of that end, the case of the American in Canada is enviable indeed. Its only danger is suggested by the venerable warning to those of whom all men speak well—"

WHAT A GREAT MAN SAID TO THE GREAT AMERICAN PEOPLE.

Parisian Sage is a discovery of a celebrated scientist, who spent the best years of his life in perfecting this great hair tonic.

In giving this recipe to the American people he said, "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world, but it is more than a hair dressing. It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots. Dr. E. Campbell sells Parisian Sage at 50 cents a large bottle and guarantees it to do all that is claimed for it, or your money is refunded. If you do not reside near a druggist who sells Parisian Sage, send 50 cents to Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., and a bottle will be sent you all charges prepaid."

HOW THE LIGHTNING HURTS TELEPHONES

Costs Manitoba $50,000 a Year to Repair the Damage Done.

The revenue of the Manitoba government telephones is depleted every year by a large amount of money through the ravages of lightning in this province. This is despite the fact that the initial cost of the various protectors and arresters on the lines has been over $50,000. Lightning is the greatest menace to the business and no system of protection has yet been devised which will afford perfect protection to the telephone property, says the Manitoba Free Press. Last week the lightning ran into one of the big aerial cables west of Happyland, where 100 pairs of wires were contained and put it entirely out of commission. The lightning went in through a protected terminal, although there was a protector on every wire in the cable. This protector was burned out and 150 feet of the big cable was destroyed. As a result there were 70 telephones out of commission in the western part of the city for several hours before the repairs could be made. The damage cost the government $100. This is but one of the many cases where the system is put out of order. There is never an electrical storm in the province that does not put some telephones out.

Great strides have been made in the protection of telephones and subscribers from lightning, but it must progress a great deal yet. Twenty years ago when a thunder storm came on the telephones were all cut off at the central exchange and the operators all left their stools. It was considered dangerous and it was dangerous; indeed, there are cases on record where people have been killed. Now, however, there is no change in the central office, the girls continuing at their work as usual.

The telephone exchange is regarded as the safest place in the community when a thunder storm is on. This seems remarkable when it is considered that telephone wires are splendid conductors of lightning, but the safety is in the fact that wires not only carry the lightning, but they take care of it and put it into the ground where no harm is done. As more telephone wires have been strung in a city the danger of lightning damage has been lessened. They perform the operation which lightning rods were supposed to perform in days ago; and casualties from lightning in cities have become rare. It is mostly in the country where the accidents occur.

There is not a case on record in the history of the telephone business of Manitoba where any subscriber or telephone employee has been injured by lightning through a telephone in a storm. Despite this every telephone directory contains an injunction to the subscriber not to use his instrument during a thunder storm. This is partly due to the habit of putting it in the

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST LAND REGULATIONS.

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section (160 acres, more or less) of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the homesteader. DUTIES.—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least six acres, owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Fee $10 per acre. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to clear homestead pasture) and cultivate fifty acres extra. A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot pre-empt a quarter section may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $100 per acre. Purchased homesteads may be acquired on any available lands on either odd- or even-numbered sections south of Township 48, east of the Calgary and Edmonton Railway and the west line of Range 26, and west of the Third Meridian and the Bault Railway line. Duties.—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $500.

DARTING PAINS AROUND SHOULDERS AND SPINE

Brocton—Merchant's Hospital for Weeks Cured of Rheumatic Pains by "NERVILLE." "It would be impossible for me to tell how much I suffered with a sort of travelling rheumatism. It wasn't confined to any particular spot, but wandered over all that area from the neck to the small of the back, sharp, shooting twinges and dull, gnawing aches finally stiffened out my muscles and left me so helpless I had to give up work and go into the hospital. I stayed there three weeks and felt better. Still I wasn't cured, and as soon as I started back to work again the pain was as bad as ever. "I fortunately read of the strange, powerful effect Nerville's NERVILINE pain and at once I CURED not five bottles. Four ALL PAIN, times each day Nerville's was rubbed over the seat of the pain and I could feel it sinking deep into the muscles and sinews that were stiffened and sore. In a short time I was limber, active, free from pain and perfectly cured. "No other liniment could have cured me but Nerville's, and I strongly urge its use for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, strains and swellings and all other muscular affections." (Signed) A. M. McLelland. Remember this: Nerville's is five times stronger, far more penetrating, possesses more pain-relieving power than any other known remedy. For fifty years its use has been universal. Beware of the substitute—ask for and get Nerville's only. Large 25c. bottles at all dealers.

As to giving more water, that was at present impossible. Citizens should bear with the department until the system was connected up. The council had pushed the waterworks scheme as fast as could be done, when it was remembered that $69,000 had been spent in little over a year. The Hillside avenue pipe was not down, due to delays on the part of the contractors for the pipe, but it was not necessary for it to be down in order to use the reservoir. A portion of the James Bay district was to-day better off than ever before. Aid, Fullerton asked if the high level tank was in service. The mayor replied that it could not be used until the reservoir was completed, as it was filled from the Yates street pumps and these were busy serving a section which would be served by the reservoir. "Does it leak any more?" Aid. Ross asked. "No, I do not think so," his worship replied. Aid. Raymond asked, to satisfy inquiries made about Elk lake, what the water commissioner said about the supply later on. Mayor Hall replied that there was no question about that. There was always lots of water in Elk lake and even if it was to go down to a foot lower than last year this would not mean any shortage of water. The trouble last year was that with the old pipe there could be only three and a half million gallons brought in in twenty-four hours, whereas at certain times of the day there was a consumption at the rate of six million feet. "Elk lake is ninety feet deep in places and there are six hundred acres of it," remarked Aid. Ross.

NEVER PURGE YOUR SYSTEM!

As you value life itself, never use medicine that racks the system. Costiveness is bad enough, but violent cathartics are the limit. When the bowels are constipated and you have stomach trouble and headache, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire secretory apparatus is stimulated to healthy action. They tone the liver and kidneys. They renew the blood. Digestion is assisted. Headaches disappear. Stomach rumblings cease. Bilious turns are prevented. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more than a bowel medicine, for they act as a system cleaner and general tonic. For those who feel dull, heavy and morose, for those who suffer frequently from colds, biliousness and stomach disorders, there is no better medicine. You risk nothing in using Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they are guaranteed to cure. Made according to the formula of one of the greatest physicians that ever lived, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are bound to give your system just the aid it requires, sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five for $1.00.

HURRY WORK ON PAVING STREETS

WILL AVOID DELAY AS FAR AS POSSIBLE

Streets Committee Discusses Work on Store and Belleville—Search for Rock.

More haste with paving works on important thoroughfares was agreed to by the streets committee last night as being a necessity, and double or triple shifts will be put on. There must be some little inconvenience to the public, which the aldermen hope will be borne without grumbling so long as work is hastened.

The E. & N. Railway Company asked the council to so arrange the work of paving Store street that the delivery of merchandise to and from the freight shed at the station will not be hindered. It is probable that the end of Cormorant street and the northern-most gate will be kept clear until the work from Johnson street to the other gate is finished, when teams can use that route.

Two gangs will probably be put on the work of laying the concrete between the rails, so as to tie up traffic as little as possible. Until the concrete sets of course trains cannot run. The company has heavy rails ready to lay.

It was suggested by some of the aldermen that in relaying the track it would be advisable to have it run in a straight line along the street, if the curves at the station and at the Chatham street entrance to the yards will permit. At present it runs first to one side and then the other, and teams have to drive across the track three times between Cormorant and Discoy streets. The engineer was asked to take the matter up with the company's engineer. It was stated by Mr. Marpole one time that the company's ultimate plan is to run a bridge straight across from the reserve into the yards.

In the case of Belleville street, along the front of the buildings, it was decided that the best plan will be to close the whole street and have it repaved. That there will be some kicking the aldermen recognized, but it was pointed out that in Seattle streets had been closed for two years while necessary works were in progress.

The Indian department advised the city that it could not give consent for the sale of rock unless there was a surrender of the land, and the department did not consider it expedient to ask the Indians to surrender the land at the present time. "We do not want their land," remarked the mayor.

Chairman Turner entered a vigorous protest against the action of the department in this matter, saying that the Indians were perfectly willing to have the rock sold. The mayor was instructed to take the matter up with Hon. Wm. Templeman when he comes out to the coast. Several offers of rock were up for consideration and left in the hands of the chairman and city engineer for investigation.

The city engineer reported that he had had several requests for permission to put in anchor wires and poles. Ald. Henderson objected to anchor wires as dangerous to pedestrians, and the engineer was instructed to see that the anchors were put up in such a manner as neither to be a disfigurement nor a danger.

On motion of Ald. Henderson it was decided that hereafter the short connection between permanent walks and front gates, heretofore paid for by the owners, shall go in with the general work. It was considered that citizens were entitled to access to the walk without being specially taxed for it.

The engineer was instructed to make a survey of Rockland avenue and also of Fairfield road, so as to file plans in the registry office after the widening of streets. The Rockland avenue matter came up on a letter from the city solicitor. The statement that there was a letter from the solicitor led one of the aldermen to remark that the solicitor would be holding up everything attempted this year.

FROM AWAY ON THE PRAIRIES COMES PROOF OF ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mark Southern Tells How They Roused Him From a Bed of Sickness, Cured His Kidney Disease and Made Him a Well Man.

Shiloh, Duck Lake, Sask., June 11.—(Special).—After thirteen years' suffering from Kidney Disease brought on by an accident, Mark Southern, of Shiloh Farm near here, is a well man and he is not slow to state that he owes his cure to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"It began with pains in my back," Mr. Southern says, "and across my loins, and of late years I became very weak and for days I had to keep to my bed. I had all kinds of advice and tried a great many medicines, but all to no purpose.

"Reading an advertisement induced me to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial, and I wrote for six boxes. After taking the first box I began to feel relief, and after using five boxes I felt quite well again. I am now able to get about my work and feel no effects whatever from the old complaint."

Dodd's Kidney Pills clean all Kidney Diseases and all diseases resulting from disordered Kidneys right out of the system. That's how they cure Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism and Backache. They do it by putting the Kidneys in good working order and they always do it.

While making the turn at the corner of Fort and Government streets this morning with his horse and rig, C. H. Tite had a narrow escape from serious injury. His horse which was going at a good pace slipped and fell, stopping the cart. The sudden jar pitched him out of his rig and he landed on the black pavement. He sustained a slight injury to his knee.

THE RING (Times Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Cal., June 11.—That Stanley Ketchel will refuse the offer of $10,000 win, loss or draw, to fight Sam Langford before the Mission club of this city is a foregone conclusion, unless Ketchel has undergone a wonderful change of mind within the past few weeks. The Michigan boy's one ambition is to meet and defeat Johnson and then he may give Langford a chance, but as for fighting the Boston negro before he meets Johnson is out of the question. Ketchel figures that if he were to meet Langford and be defeated before he goes against Johnson, he would not be the drawing card that he would be, undefeated, in the championship mill.

The middleweight champion has given Coffroth his positive promise that he will fight Langford, if the public demands the match, whether or not he is defeated by Johnson.

"This talk of Ketchel being afraid of Langford is all rot," says Coffroth. "He isn't afraid of any man living, and so confident is he of his fighting ability that he is willing to make a big side bet, no matter who his opponent may be. In proof of this he is betting Johnson $5,000 even when, as everybody expects and believes, the negro will be a decided favorite."

Coffroth isn't saying so, but it is very evident that his one present worry is that Papke may slip one over on Ketchel and spoil the receipts of the Johnson-Ketchel fight.

It is not generally known, but it is a fact that soon after Ketchel arrived in New York he wanted to post a forfeit to bind a match with Jeffries. Ketchel was discussing Jeffries' attitude in the matter of challenging Johnson, when he started his hears by suddenly declaring: "Why, if Jeffries wants to fight and can't get Johnson, I will take him on myself. I've got $28,000 and I'm willing to bet the entire chunk at even money that I can whip Jeffries. I'd put up $5,000 in a minute to bind a match, but you know what a laugh that would raise. People would say that I was looking for advertising, just as they said when I declared my willingness to fight Johnson. I am convinced that I can whip Jeffries and am willing to risk my money on the proposition."

At Montreal on Thursday night, Jeffries told his audience that he would not refuse a match with Ketchel, if the middleweight champion won from Johnson.

RECORD MADE IN BAKING OF BREAD

Japanese Navy Was Supplied With a Large Order on Short Notice.

The home of what the proprietors claim is Victoria's finest bread and cakes is situated on William street, Victoria West, in a three-story, brick building comprising all the latest and most sanitary conveniences for the manufacture of bread. This building cost the company $12,000 before a loaf was turned out. On the top floor is a store room where all flour, etc., is kept. Installed on this floor is a blender, through which all flour passes, into the mixer, which is located on the second floor. This blender cleans and frees it from all impurities. After passing into the mixer which is run by electricity, the flour is treated with a natural yeast process "alcoholic fermentation," which is absolutely necessary for healthy bread. On this floor also is situated the laboratory where all flour is tested and graded by the famous Child-Process of Chicago before using. The dough passes from the mixer to the dough tempering tank where all ingredients are tested and temperatures taken. The dough is always under time and temperature observations. From these tanks it passes through a galvanizing iron sheet to the dough divider, where the loaves are cut off the exact weight. It then passes into the moulding machines, and thence into the last stages, the ovens, after which the bread is ready for delivery. The ovens, situated on the ground floor, are of the latest and best English patent, being the steam draw plate heated with a chemical fluid which is run through iron tubes top and bottom of the ovens, and are the production of Werner, Pfendler & Perkins, London, England.

Throughout the process of bread and cake making by the Bakeries, Ltd., only the very finest ingredients are used, including the use of creamery butter exclusively in the manufacture of fruit and Madeira cakes. The firm's specialty is a sultana slab cake.

Already a record has been made by the firm, who were called upon by the Japanese navy to turn out 4,500 in twelve hours. The Bakeries took the order and in the given time the whole lot was delivered on board ship. This is the largest bread bake ever held in the city for one day's work, as it must be remembered this was over and above their regular output. One thing that speaks well for the new mixer which is a Canadian product, being manufactured by C. Wilson & Co., Toronto, is that with this machine it only took one man to mix the dough for the record order.

NEW SOURCE FOR SUPPLY OF ROCK

The B. C. Sand & Gravel Company are installing a rock crusher at their works near the entrance to Esquimalt harbor. From it they will have a supply of crushed rock to deliver in connection with their other lines. The company found that there were a large number of boulders encountered that were too large to be used in the gravel supply. These were wasted, by putting in a crusher these are capable of being used.

When in full working order from 50 to 75 yards a day will be obtained. This is valuable for concrete work and being harder than the general rock crushed from a quarry is valuable for all kinds of street work.

The company is willing, it is said, to enter into a contract to supply the city with this commodity.

B. C. Sand and Gravel Company is Crushing at Works.

The B. C. Sand & Gravel Company are installing a rock crusher at their works near the entrance to Esquimalt harbor. From it they will have a supply of crushed rock to deliver in connection with their other lines. The company found that there were a large number of boulders encountered that were too large to be used in the gravel supply. These were wasted, by putting in a crusher these are capable of being used.

FOUNTAIN TO BE PUT IN COMMISSION AGAIN

The fountain at the intersection of Government and Douglas streets, the gift of residents in that vicinity to the city, is likely to return to its original use instead of giving to the corner where it stands the appearance of an old-junk yard. The scheme of beautification outlined by the park superintendent is not to be carried out in its entirety, however, as the council thinks $485 is too much to expend on the work. The large fountain and the drinking fountain will be enclosed in a small space of greenward, with a curb around. The horse-trough, alongside the sidewalk, may be moved so as to be where it will not be damaged by wagons, as in its present place, if the water connections will permit of this being done without much cost.

The city engineer has been instructed to do the work, at as low an outlay as is possible.

PERSONAL

Rev. Omar White Folsom, pastor of Winter street Congregational church, Bath, Maine, will preach to-morrow morning at First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Wm. Gordon left last night for Vancouver to meet her sister, Mrs. Caldwell, who is accompanied by her daughter, wife of the Rev. Beverley Smith, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, Toronto.

While returning from a theatre in Berlin Mills, Anna Pawlowa, prima ballerina of the Imperial Russian Ballet, left diamonds valued at $25,000 in the cab. The driver appeared at the police last property officer with the missing valuables, and Miss Pawlowa gave him $200 as a reward.

TRAVELERS' DAY AT EXPOSITION

The drummers began the day's festivities at 10 o'clock this morning with a parade which started from Pioneer place and took in the principal streets of the business district. Tom W. Miles of Seattle acted as grand marshal and more than 2,000 traveling men were in line. The parade was one of the largest and best ever seen in Seattle.

The reason for having the parade down town instead of at the exposition as explained by Mr. Miles, was to give the people some idea of the large number of men that will come to the northwest. He believes that people generally have no idea of the number of traveling men in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia and the part they play in the development of the northwest.

At the head of the parade was Wagner's Exposition band, and following it came Mayor Miller of Seattle, Mayor Douglas of Vancouver and George B. Dunn, chairman of the general committee. In an automobile. Several other automobiles containing officers of the U. C. T. and their guests were in line.

Shortly after noon the traveling men began to arrive at the exposition grounds, where luncheon was served, and at 2:30 o'clock they assembled at the auditorium to hear the welcoming address of President Chibberg and the response by A. A. Winkler. Many of the travelers accepted the invitation of Supt. Smith to attend a reception at the Oregon building, which was open to visitors from 2 o'clock until 5. Luncheon was served during the afternoon.

Mayor Douglas of Vancouver, A. A. Cox and Wm. Dalton, architects of the welcome arch to be erected in Seattle, and the aldermen from the Canadian city were the guests of the exposition officials at a luncheon in the New York state building to-day.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1909.

"The Merry Widow."
Of the "Merry Widow" which comes to the Victoria theatre on Monday evening, a critic writes: "The Merry Widow is a beautiful, pleasant girl of the mythical comic opera country of Marsovia, who upon the death of an aged husband, finds herself possessed of an immense fortune and in consequence her hand is much sought."

"Popoff, the Marsoviaan ambassador in Paris, seeing the fortune of his beloved fatherland dwindling and his own comfortable job in danger of being extinguished, because of his nation's financial stringency, plans a marriage between his nephew, Prince Danilo, and the widow."

"The Prince is a likable, care-free individual, fond of the cafes and absinthe fizzes. He discovers in the widow a sweetheart of his youth and scorns the idea of marrying her merely for her money, but promises his tottering old uncle to at least manage to put Sonia (the widow's) other suitors out of the running."

"As a matter of fact, the Prince finds that he really loves the widow, and there is no mistake about her affection for him. By one ruse and another, mostly by showing up the other suitors as money-grabbing cad, not excluding the Marsoviaan ambassador, who was ready to divorce his wife to marry her, the Prince gets rid of all the widow's admirers. When she makes the statement that if she marries again, she loses all her money, most of them hustle away, but the Prince declares his love, to prove that his affection was not the mercenary brand. And they lived happily ever afterwards."

"Too Much Johnson."
The play to be presented next week by the Edmund Gardner Company is "Too Much Johnson," a side-splitting farce comedy which is quite as funny as "A Night Off," though of rather a different character. There is every possible kind of conspiracy and mix-up, as will be seen from the following outline of the play. As a laughter producer, it is certainly one of the best yet.

It appears that Augustus Billings has a somewhat strenuous mother-in-law, and to escape her tongue he pretends, from time to time, to visit his plantation in Cuba. As a matter of fact, he has no plantation in Cuba, and does not go there. One day the ladies insist on accompanying him, much to his disgust, but fortunately he befriends him of a friend who has a ranch in Cuba, and they start for the place.

On the steamer Billings speaks of his friend as the overseer in charge, and refers to him as Johnson, but when they get there he finds that his friend has sold the plantation to a man whose name really is Johnson.

But this is getting a little ahead of the story, for many things happen on the steamer. For one thing, the real Johnson has arranged to marry the daughter of a Mr. Faddish, although he has never seen her, and Faddish and his daughter are on the steamer. Then Monsieur Leon d'Athis is also a passenger. He is an excitable Frenchman, with whose wife Billings was once caught flirting. He has a part of a photograph of Billings and hears he is on the steamer. Billings finds this out and crops his hair to alter his appearance, while d'Athis goes about hitting every man's hat to see if he is the man. This naturally makes trouble. It should be explained that d'Athis got there will next week be introduced here the noted character comedian, Frank Bacon, who will appear in "An Easy Lie." Bacon is noted for his breadth of breadth of the continent as one of the best vaudeville attractions. He will be supported by Bessie Stuart Bacon and Jane Jeffery in the attractive playlet, "The Playlet is brimful of laughter, and is irresistibly funny. At Omaha he went for a one-week engagement and the management, to satisfy public demand, had to extend the engagement an extra week."

the photograph from his wife after a struggle in which it was torn, the piece which he got showing only the top part of Billings' head and face.

Finally they all get to the plantation where Johnson gets it into his head that Mrs. Billings is the girl he is to marry. Bewildered by the extraordinary stories told him, he comes to the conclusion that they are all crazy, and sets them to work at different tasks. Finally things work out all right, but Miss Faddish does not marry Johnson.

The part of Johnson is taken by Bennett Southard, and it is just such a role as will show his powers to the best advantage. The part of Billings will be taken by H. R. Houston. This will be Mr. Houston's first appearance on the local stage, and he is certain soon to become a prime favorite. A clever actor, and an especially clever comedian, he will make a hit as Billings.

"Athis," the Frenchman, will be played by Charles Vernon and Faddish by Charles Moffatt.
Miss Van Buren takes a much needed rest next week, and will not be in the bill. Miss Brook plays the part of Mrs. Billings, and, judging from the rehearsals, a very charming young matron she will be. Miss Gilbert plays Miss Faddish, the young lady whose hand her father rashly undertakes to dispose of without her knowing whom she is going to marry. Miss Girard will take the part of Mrs. Upton Batterson, the mother-in-law whose performances start all the trouble.

New Grand.
Supplanting the present clever and varied bill at the New Grand theatre end of it is reported as being very good and a big drawing act. One of the sisters is tall and the other extremely short, and is seen in the part of a musical messenger girl. Their selections on chimes and bells have been a big hit for them.

The Kinnery in a musical novelty act promise a turn of laughter, and the real ragtimers, Gilligan and Murray, are offering one of the up-to-date black face acts. The Kennores in "The Swede and the Mechanical Doll," offer another strong feature.

Thomas J. Price will sing "When the Nightingale Aye Nestled, Sweet Marie," with pictures to illustrate, and the new moving pictures and the Grand orchestra are the other numbers.

The present big bill will be played to-night for the last time, including Margaret Neville, Slater Brockman, Leo Cooper and Company, Seymour and Hill, and the "Tingling" comedy by Miss Laska and Louis J. Minto. The new bill will begin at the Monday matinee.

Empress Theatre.
For the first two days of next week, Monday and Tuesday, a fine show of moving pictures will be on view at the Empress theatre. The management is putting on some good shows now, and as a result are drawing full houses.

The management has also secured the services of a good singer which add greatly to the entertainment. The song for next week will be "You'll Have to Sing an Irish Song," which will be sung by Miss Kneeshaw.

The feature of the pictures is "Queen of the Arena." It is a good drama and of high class. The other pictures, "The Two Rivals," "World of Magic and "The Daughter's Lover in Difficulty," all of which are good ones.

FOOTBALL IN JERUSALEM.

Difficulties in Teaching Good Sportsmanship—Cricket is Popular.

The Turkish revolution has made England and everything English very popular, says the Jerusalem correspondent of the London Daily Mail. Cricket and football share this popularity to the full.

Ottomans have no national outdoor games. They prefer spending their spare time in the public cafes drinking sherbet, smoking narghilets and playing cards. A few years ago, however, the British schools in Jerusalem introduced their national games, and the native schoolboys took to them as ducks take to water.

A great many lessons had to be learnt before a good game could be played, and the idea of a captain had to be inculcated. Boys in the East do not easily submit to the authority of fellow-boys. I remember one Saturday seeing a captain order a player to take up a certain position on the football field. The boy simply refused to go, saying that another position of his own choice was more suitable to him. The captain stood helpless.

Charging at football was always taken as an act of spite and malice, and always resulted in a fight. Cases of loss of temper by boys for failing to catch a ball, or for being outwitted by their opponents, were of daily occurrence. A victory usually occasioned a quarrel, and a loss utter dejection and discouragement. Boys would withdraw from a game because their captain bantered them about a bad catch or a miss at goal. A spirit of malice existed between rival teams. All these defects have more or less disappeared. There are three boys' schools in Jerusalem which play football and cricket matches against each other. From October to April football is practiced, then cricket is played till July, when the boys go on their summer vacation.

One of the most interesting things one observes is the use of English words, such as "goal," "boundary," "not out," "well caught," and "well played," by boys who are total strangers to the English language.

The Times Nature Club

Not very many pheasants' nests are found within half a mile of the city. A few days ago I was told of a nest which was supposed to contain nine eggs. A little lad volunteered to lead me to the spot. He was a little naturalist for he seemed to know all about them. Carefully we crept up to the nest in the hope of getting a good look at the old bird on the nest and perhaps of photographing her before she fled off.

The little fellow was just ahead walking very quietly when he suddenly exclaimed "Gone," and darted forward. There was the nest, sure enough, but the young birds had been hatched and gone away. In the nest was one egg and about half a dozen empty shells.

The eggs were somewhat the shape of guinea hen's eggs but much darker. Most of the shells had parted in the centre and been left in the middle of the nest. With most birds the shells would have been thrown from the nest, but the young pheasants leave the nest as soon as hatched so they do not need the shells out of the way.

The nest was hardly worthy of the name. There was a slight depression in the ground beneath a bunch of grass and fern with a few grasses laid in it. It was only partially covered but the leaves and dead ferns were much the same color as the pheasant and she would scarcely be noticed when sitting on the nest.

Warbler's Nests.

While there are a number of different varieties of warblers that nest in this vicinity the commonest are the lutescent warbler, which nests on the ground beneath a bush, and the Alaska yellow warbler which builds its nest farther from the ground. Two of the latter I found a day or two ago were each about a yard from the ground in small bushes and quite exposed. The old bird is yellowish green or greenish yellow and is sometimes wrongly called a canary. Usually she is very tame and remains on the nest until you approach quite close.

A few evenings ago I wished to photograph one of these on her nest. I crept up very carefully, camera in hand until within about two yards. Then I made an exposure and advanced even nearer, and once more touched the spring. Seeing that the bird still remained on the nest I thought it would be worth while trying to set up the camera on the tripod and focus. This I did and within a yard and a half focused the nest and gave a time exposure. The difficulty was, however, that the little bird crouched so low in the nest that it was almost impossible to see more than the top of the head and the tail. I did not drive the bird off, but I surmised that the five tiny eggs were about hatching or she would not have sat so close.

Caterpillars.

The tent caterpillars have been unusually numerous this year and no steps were taken to get rid of them. Just now most of them have left their nest and are seeking a place to hide while they undergo the change which will result in their emergence into a moth. The little yellowish cocoons may be seen in the crannies around the house, or in fact in any place where they think they will not be interfered with. The time for destroying them is past for this year. Another season it would be well to see that they are buried down or otherwise destroyed before they leave the tents.

The Iris Family.

The Spanish iris, as its name implies, is of Iberian origin, commonly known as the poor man's orchid, a most beautiful group of plants that are indispensable to every garden lover. The Spanish iris differs very widely from the German type in its leaves which are grass-like, and its root tuberos. The flowers are of very easy culture preferring a rich, sandy soil and a sunny situation. Good drainage is very important and if any manure is needed, bone meal thinly strewn on the soil and scratched in will be found serviceable. If the soil lacks lime (and most Victorian soil does), a little air slacked lime can be soaked into the soil. Do not, however, mix lime and bone meal or apply them less than a month apart. The plants should be planted three or four inches deep in September or October and left to themselves until they are too thick, when the bulbs can be dug in July and dried for planting again.

The full list of Spanish iris would run in several hundreds of varieties, each of which has a beauty all of its own. The following will give a good selection: British Green, white; Louise, peasey blue; Capanus, tall yellow; Chrysolora, clear canary yellow; Medley, blue and white; Thunderbolt, bronze and blue, a magnificent flower; Wonderful, blue and gold; Darling and Blanchard. New varieties are added each year and it is well to get the best named sorts, as it adds interest both to the grower and to his guest. The little pride of knowing what is grown and something about it has no doubt been felt by every enthusiastic gardener. The Spanish iris may be very slowly forced in pots but on no account expose the plants to heat before the flower buds show in the stump and beware of excess even then.

New Scale Williams Piano

"Music Is Well Said To Be The Speech Of Angels"

The Heart of a Piano

is the reproducer of its tone.

The heart of the New Scale Williams Piano is the Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge.

This new and exclusive invention isolates the tone from the plate—and insures both treble and bass being of the same quality and carrying power.

The "New Scale Williams" is made in musical atmosphere. The men who create and design and improve, and even build, the "New Scale Williams" are musicians in the truest sense of the word.

They have the artistic soul—the science of tone production—and the mechanical skill—to give to the musical world, that masterpiece of harmony—the New Scale Williams Piano.

H. Watkins Mills, One of England's Greatest Bartlett's, Praised the New Scale Williams Piano.

Gentlemen—I have heard your New Scale Williams Piano and consider it a very fine instrument. It plays in most satisfying and beautiful quality. Both for solo work and general use it holds its own with the very best pianos made on this continent. Faithfully yours, H. WATKINS MILLS.

The Secretary, Mr. W. T. Alexander, acted as Chairman, and the Secretary, Mr. F. H. Alexander, was requested to act as Secretary of the Meeting.

The Secretary, at the request of the Chairman, then read the minutes of the last meeting, as held May 5th, 1909. These minutes were approved by the Shareholders, and signed by the Chairman.

The Secretary then read the Directors' Report to the Shareholders, as well as the Financial and Auditors' Statements, for the year 1908, as follows:

SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE GREAT WEST PERMANENT LOAN AND SAVINGS COMPANY FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1908.

To the Shareholders: Your Directors have much pleasure in submitting the Sixth Annual Report of the Great West Permanent Loan and Savings Company, accompanied by the Profit and Loss Account, and general financial statements for the year ending December 31st, 1908, and which have been duly certified by the Company's Auditors.

In reviewing the business of the Company from a general point of view, during the year just closed, it is most gratifying to note that substantial progress was made in all departments.

The subscribed capital now amounts to over $2,350,000, and the amount paid thereon is over one million dollars, while the assets have increased nearly $600,000 over the previous year, and now reach the handsome total of $1,785,355.43.

During the period extending over the past two years, when the world at large was suffering through the widespread depression, our Western Provinces continued to make steady progress, and while the volume of business along certain lines, showing possibly a decrease when compared with former years, still there has been a marked improvement in the character of the business transacted. The speculative business has largely been superseded by sound, practical and safer business methods.

The splendid crops in our Northwest during 1908 have already been the means of attracting large numbers of very desirable settlers, and it is quite natural to expect during the coming year that the West will experience the greatest rush of immigrants in the history of the country. Although this year has just nicely commenced, we find indications on every side of returning prosperity. Railroad companies are making very large appropriations for extending and equipping their lines not only in the East, but to a great degree in the four Western Provinces. It

AUDITOR'S STATEMENT

We, the undersigned, beg to report that we have made a full examination of the books, accounts and vouchers of The Great West Permanent Loan and Savings Company to the 31st of December, 1908, and find the same to be correct and properly set forth in the above statement.

A detailed audit of the cash receipts and disbursements with vouchers has been made and found correct. The securities for loans, as above shown, in the hands of the Company, have been carefully scrutinized and compared with the detailed list of Mortgages and found correct.

(Signed) D. A. PENDEL, C.A., W. RAMAGE, C.A., Auditors.

Winnipeg, April 23rd, 1909.

ADOPTION OF THE REPORT.

Mr. W. T. Alexander, the President, on rising to move the adoption of the report, said:

It is with a feeling of much pleasure and satisfaction that I desire to call your attention to the fact that this Company has just experienced the most successful year in its history, and from the statements submitted to you, it must be evident to every shareholder that all departments of the business have made substantial progress.

Our assets have been steadily increasing until at the close of last year they amounted to nearly $1,800,000, or about $600,000 increase over 1907, and the subscribed capital, which now totals over $2,350,000, shows a gain of $250,000 over the previous year.

It must be very gratifying to the shareholders to learn that the Company was able to pay during the year two half yearly dividends, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, in addition to the interest accruing at 5 per cent on the "B" Permanent Stock that had become fully paid during the year.

The usual 5 per cent interest was credited to the balance of the Accumulative Permanent Stock, and provision was also made for the interest that had accrued during the year on the deposits and deposit certificates.

It is satisfactory to note that after paying out the various items of interest, and crediting the different classes of stock with the required amounts, we had a balance of $8,628.12 of interest earnings to credit to the Profit and Loss Account.

This amount has been transferred to the Reserve Fund, as well as the very creditable sum of $122,316.90, which stood at the credit of the Premium Account.

It should be very satisfactory to the shareholders to learn that the Reserve now amounts to $500,481.23, being an increase of $130,947.07 over the previous year.

This last year there has been ample evidence that the shareholders have realized that in order to build up a successful institution they must do their part in assisting the Directors and management. Accordingly your Directors beg to tender their heartfelt appreciation of the loyal support thus given, and at the same time wish to call the shareholders' attention to the fact that we expect a very busy year, and would ask for their co-operation in promoting the Company's welfare in every possible manner.

It affords your Directors much pleasure to state that the officers and staff have executed their work in a capable and satisfactory manner.

W. T. ALEXANDER, President.
E. S. POPHAM, Vice-President.

CHARACTER OF SECURITY

The funds of the Company are loaned only upon first mortgages on improved city and town property in small average amounts, and upon ample margin of value, and under a system whereby a portion of the principal is repayable monthly. Each year, consequently, sees the borrower's debt less and the Company's security greater.

THERE IS NO KNOWN SECURITY BETTER THAN FIRST MORTGAGES, UNDER THESE CIRCUMSTANCES JUDICIOUSLY SELECTED.

It is believed, from the nature of the business done, that the system above outlined furnishes one of the safest and most profitable before the public.

The Great West Permanent Loan Company presents a safer and better investment than the speculative stocks and bonds of many overcapitalized corporations, which sell at a high premium.

ALLOWED ON SAVINGS DEPOSITS OF ONE DOLLAR AND UPWARDS, SUBJECT TO WITHDRAWAL BY CHEQUE, WE WILL BE PLEASED TO HAVE YOU OPEN AN ACCOUNT WITH US, YOU WILL BE TREATED MOST COURTEOUSLY. CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

I predict that this year should be a record one, not only for our Company, but for this great Western country.

I feel that we are living in an age of wonderful opportunities, and in a country where tremendous development will take place, bringing this great tract of fertile, though as yet sparsely settled country, into world-wide prominence. Before many years will have elapsed, we will surely find our country filling up in the districts that, at the present time, are practically unknown; and new towns will be springing up all over the country, and the cities and towns of to-day will continue to grow until they become, in many cases, populous and wealthy centres.

With this unprecedented growth that will most assuredly come, what can we predict for our Company, but a great and hopeful future.

The demand for money will so continue that a good rate of interest will be maintained for many years to come.

What a young country like ours needs essentially is capital to develop it in its many spheres of business.

This Company is fully aware of this fact, and your Directors feel that the time is now most opportune to seek capital abroad, and bring it into this Western country where it is so much needed, and accordingly they are asking the shareholders to-day for their sanction in the matter of issuing several million dollars of debentures.

With the acquisition of this borrowed capital our earning power will be materially increased, and our company will advance as it has never done before, and I feel it is a critical time in the history of our Company, and will be the means of placing this growing Company in the foremost ranks of Canadian financial institutions.

It is with pleasure that I assure you that our Deposit Branch continues to make steady increases, and I have every confidence that, in course of time, this department will become a valuable acquisition to our business.

Our branches and agencies throughout the West had a very successful year, and are a source of great strength to the Company. Every year sees the Company open up new agencies which means the extension of our business in districts that have of recent years sprung into prominence, and that offer good business to the Company.

I have every assurance that, with the co-operation of the shareholders, your Directors will be able to report a splendid year's business for 1909.

I now beg to move the adoption of the very satisfactory report which has been submitted to you to-day.

Mr. E. D. Martin, on rising to second the adoption of the Report, spoke as follows:

I would like to refer briefly to a few incidents that have occurred in connection with the Company during the past year.

As you are all, no doubt, aware, our Company has been operating under The Building Societies Act of Manitoba.

For many reasons, the Directors have considered it advisable to apply for a Charter, that would be more comprehensive and suitable for this growing Company. Incorporation by the Dominion Parliament might have been readily obtained by way of "Letters Patent," but for many reasons it was decided by the Directors to apply for a Special Act of the Parliament of Canada.

The advantages of incorporation under a Special Act are many. In view of the fact that the Directors have under consideration the disposal of a large amount of the Company's Debentures in the Old Country this year, it was thought that the time was now most opportune for the Company to secure an Act that would give it more extensive powers, and be generally more suitable and satisfactory in conducting the affairs of the Company.

As already referred to in the President's Address, you will be asked to-day to sanction the issue of certain debentures.

In respect to deposits, I may say, while the Company has made practically no effort so far to build up this Department, yet I am pleased to inform you that we have now on deposit about $130,000, and when you consider that this money costs the Company only four per cent, it is readily seen that there is a handsome profit in this Branch of the business.

Referring to the Reserve Fund, I desire to call your attention to the fact that the Company carried to the Reserve, during 1908, the handsome sum of $130,947.07, and while speaking on the subject of Reserve, I thought it would be interesting to the Shareholders to have a comparison of the amount at the credit of the Reserve Fund at the end of each year since the incorporation of the Company, therefore will give you the following figures:

Reserve at the end of the first year	$ 27,767.21
Reserve at the end of the second year	33,191.26
Reserve at the end of the third year	100,689.25
Reserve at the end of the fourth year	155,941.41
Reserve at the end of the fifth year	269,834.16
Reserve at the end of the sixth year	400,781.23

I am sure that this is a wonderful record for any Company, and I do not think there is another Loan Company in Canada that can claim such a splendid record.

Owing to the fact that the Company has disposed of practically all of its Capital Stock, it is hardly reasonable to expect in the future large increases in the Reserve from this source, but the Directors have every assurance that the general power of the Company will be materially increased by the investing of the cheap money that they will obtain through the sale of the Company's debentures, and from the large increases in deposits.

Through the increased earning power of the Company, the Reserve should receive substantial additions each year, unless the Shareholders consider it more advisable to increase the dividend rather than carry a large surplus to the Reserve.

Another point worthy of mention is that, as our business expands, the cost of management, not only in respect to Head Office but the Branches also, will not increase in the same ratio.

We are all aware that Branches involve more or less expense, but I am confident that, in respect to most of our Branches, the cost of management in the future will show, for some years at least, but very little, if any increase, in spite of the fact that there will be, no doubt, a greatly increased volume of business done, and I may state, further, that the same should apply to the general management expenses.

I have before me a letter from the auditors of the Company, received a few days ago, and which refers to the manner in which our books have been kept, and the present system of our business, as well as the satisfactory results attained by the Company during the past year.

The letter is as follows:

Winnipeg, April 24, 1909.

To the President, The Great West Permanent Loan & Savings Co.

Sir,—In signing the balance sheet of your Company for the year ending 31st December, 1908, we take this opportunity of congratulating you on the results obtained during the past year.

At the same time, we would like to comment favourably on the manner in which your books have been kept, and on the system which has been evolved, and which, in our opinion, now meets all requirements.

We beg to thank you and your staff for your co-operation and for the courtesy shown to us at all times.

We have the honor to remain, your obedient servants.

(Signed) D. A. PENDEL, W. RAMAGE.

The President in his address has just told you, and no doubt you were previously aware of the fact, that in respect to loaning the Company's funds, the only kind of security we accept is first mortgages on improved, productive real estate.

I will further state, and I think it is well for the Shareholders to know, that while we have such excellent security in the nature of first mortgages, yet every precaution is taken in the selection of our loans, and I am quite safe in saying that during the past year no loan has exceeded more than fifty per cent. of the value of the property.

This Company has indeed made wonderful progress, and is now one of the largest companies in Western Canada.

The Subscribed Permanent Capital is larger than that of any other financial institution in Western Canada, and the Paid Up Capital is the largest, with but one exception—the Northern Crown Bank.

Commenting on the future of this country, I do not think that there is any other country that has brighter prospects than has Western Canada at the present time.

A Company doing business in this Western country has little to fear in the way of decreased values. Even if we loaned a higher percentage than we are accustomed to do, I am sure we

MISSIONARY AND NOVELIST OF WEST

Through All Ralph Connor's Books Runs One Steady Purpose.

Nothing stands out more strongly in "Ralph Connor's" books than the missionary spirit.

This missionary spirit was the basis of "Ralph Connor's" literary career.

The story of the finding dates back to October, 1888. The Westminster magazine was in its infancy.

When the first sketches were ready for publication it became necessary to consider the signature over which they were to appear.

None of his later works has quite come up to the standard of "Black Rock" or "The Sky Pilot" in consistency of characterization and unity of the total effect.

To the people to-day it seems really wonderful with what narrow vision the same people formerly viewed this Western country, and especially so was it the case with the people in the early days of settlement in this country.

Mr. Bawlf, in connection with the report I may say that the last speaker has discussed at great length, but there are a few features of the report to which I wish to draw your attention.

I am happy to say that during a recent trip throughout the Western Province I had the pleasure of visiting the Company's offices in such cities as Vancouver, Victoria and elsewhere.

Such courteous treatment necessarily makes one feel very kindly towards the Company, and for my own part, I sincerely wish that I had larger holdings in the Company.

We, who are living in Winnipeg, and have travelled extensively through the country, have only a slight knowledge of the progress being made in this great growing country.

I have visited a great many countries during the past few years, but I am confident there is no other country offering such inducements as our great fertile Western Canada.

There is no country in the world where so much money is required.

WHY NOT FILL YOUR BODY WITH NEW ENERGY?

And Avoid the Weakness and Tired Feelings of Spring—You Can Do This by Using DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

You need not be a victim of circumstances and suffer all the weakening and depressing effects of spring. Tired feelings, headaches, indigestion and nervous troubles all fly away when the system is flooded with rich, red blood.

Energy and vigor only come after all the ordinary wants of the system are supplied. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is so wonderfully successful as a blood builder that you soon begin to feel strong and healthy by its use.

By means of this great restorative treatment you can rebuild the body when it has been weakened by worry, overwork, lingering colds or the depressing and debilitating effects of spring.

There is no reaction after the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food because it is not a stimulant. On the contrary it is a blood-forming, system-building medicine which by working hand in hand with Nature proves of lasting benefit to the system and thoroughly drives out weakness and disease by filling the system with new energy and vigor.

Mrs. H. A. Loyne, nurse, Philippines, Que., writes—"I was all run down and could not do my own work. Everything I ate made me sick. In re-nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and resolved to try it. As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, entirely different person."

GOOD SHOWING AT SHEEP CREEK

N. J. Cavanaugh is ON VISIT TO CITY

Some of the Rich Properties That Are Producing There.

N. J. Cavanaugh, from the celebrated Sheep Creek free milling gold district, in the neighborhood of Nelson, is in the city, and he has with him some samples of gold ore from the Summit and Ore Hill claims, which are very rich and are attracting much attention in Cross & Co.'s window. Speaking of the district, Mr. Cavanaugh says that he expects to have 1,000 prospectors in the district this year. A large number are already waiting for the snow to disappear in order to go in. In the mines now working there are no less than 75 stamps working, and the ore in every one of the mines is very rich. A feature is the great depth to which they are able to work. Some of the mines are over 200 feet deep, and the ore becomes richer with depth.

Speaking more in detail, Mr. Cavanaugh says that the gold bearing area is four miles south of Nelson and extends to the international boundary line. In the district of Ymir the Yankee Girl claim is now being developed by a New York syndicate. Sheep Creek proper is four miles from Salmo, where the Sheep Creek flows into the Salmon River. Here the gold ore concentrates more than at any other point. Extraordinary development has taken place at this point. The Queen claim has been sold recently to a Wisconsin syndicate for $175,000. The Nugget started work in September, 1908, and they now have over half a million dollars' worth of ore in sight, and have reached a depth of 250 feet. At that depth there is five feet thickness of $150 ore.

On the same hill as the Nugget is the Mother Lode, which produced some sixty odd thousand dollars' worth of ore, and has just been bonded to a Colibat syndicate for $250,000. Adjoining it is the Bonanza and Golden Belle and Golden Fawn, all of

BALFOUR DECLARES TARIFF REFORM SURE

Speaks to the Women Tariff
Reformers in London.

That tariff reform is a certainty was stated by the Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour at a recent meeting in London, which is reported by the London Standard as follows:

Mr. Balfour was the principal speaker yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Women's Unionist and Tariff Reform Association, held at St. James's Theatre. The Countess of Rochester presided. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain sent the following message:

"Congratulations upon your extraordinary progress made by your policy. A common sense government election will show that the majority of the people have made up their minds; and nothing has been more useful than the educational work done by your society."

The following are leading points from Mr. Balfour's speech:

There is now a universal impression among all classes, and in all parts of the country, that tariff reform has got to come, and is coming.

We should not have had the same measure of success had we not had an ally on our side, the value of whose services cannot possibly be overrated—His Majesty's government.

Mr. Gladstone would certainly have shrunk from throwing this enormous weight of taxation on one or two single commodities, which, financially speaking, are very ill-fitted to bear them.

I do not think that anybody can contemplate the whirl of forces which are slowly shaping themselves in one or another portion of the world without recognizing the necessity for this Empire to organize itself.

I think that in the lifetime of many here we may be face to face with great national difficulties, in which it will be of absolutely vital importance that every fraction and every portion of this Empire should work together with unity towards preserving everything that we hold dear in common.

Are we going to refuse the preference which is within our reach? I think it would be national madness to pursue such a policy.

Mr. Balfour, who was very warmly received, said, in part:

"There used to be something extremely humorous at one time in the extraordinary air of intellectual insolence with which our opponents claimed to be the true and only holders of some kind of scientific orthodoxy in matters economical, an arrogance which I have often noticed was almost always in direct proportion to the ignorance of economic science and rather insolent pretensions. But all that is happily over."

There is now a universal impression among all classes and in all parts of the country that tariff reform has got to come, and is coming, and it is remarkable what a sobering effect upon criticism that consciousness has had, even among the most hot-headed of the true and most ardent opponents to any change whatever in the traditional fiscal system of the country.

I do not, indeed, quite know what the government are attempting to fix a black cap over the head of Refugio Jaurerius, who was hanged at Florisville yesterday, the prisoner stabbed him, probably fatally, with a spoon handle which he had sharpened to a point.

The condemned man then attempted to make his escape, but was captured by a deputy and led back to the scaffold, where he was hanged without a cap.

He was sentenced to death for attacking a 15 year old girl.

It is of vital necessity for this Empire to organize itself, to do its fiscal system better closer together, to make it conscious of common needs, common destinies, and our common perils.

If I am no pessimist, but I say quite distinctly that I think that in the lifetime of many whom I am addressing now we may be face to face with great national difficulties in which it would be of absolutely vital importance that every fraction and every portion of this Empire should work together with unity towards preserving everything that we hold dear in common.

The colonies have shown their desire to organize by speech, but by action; not merely by the votes of their electorates and the utterances of their statesmen, but by the very manner in which they have framed their own budgets and arranged their own systems of taxation. What more is it possible for any community to do than they have done and are doing?

And are we now—when manifestly we shall be driven to adopt a fiscal system which lends itself to preference—are we going to refuse the preference which is within our reach? I think it would be national madness to pursue such a policy, and I don't believe this country will pursue it. (Cheers.)

WILL TEST RIGHT OF MILITIA OVER CARS

Winnipeg Electric Railway Co.
Will Appeal From Police Court Fine.

The right of the militia to precedence over traffic on public streets will be tested by the Winnipeg Electric Railway Company in an appeal from the decision of Magistrate Daly, fining the motorman of a car which held up a parade of the Nineteenth Regiment, 45.

In giving judgment the magistrate said:

"The question raised in this instance is of more importance in that it is a question of whether the militia of Canada have the right-of-way. To my mind there is not the slightest doubt but that they have. This is despite the fact that the company has secured a charter from the city which has been passed upon by the legislature of the province. I am of the opinion that they have the right-of-way under any circumstances. A military corps proceeding to drill in an order of march are lawfully pursuing their course as prescribed in the act.

"In my opinion it is not necessary that the interference should be wilful to come within the act. The fact of Motorman McIntosh having seen the troops approaching should have dictated to him that he should have stopped what was his rights, and that he did not know what his duties were under the circumstances and he was going through anyway. I find from the evidence given that there was an obstruction as charged. If it were only a question of whether the obstruction were wilful I would find in his favor. But it is probably best to find what were his rights."

"In this case the rights of the militia are paramount, first, because they were His Majesty's troops, and second, because the militia act covers that very point."

INDIGESTION CURED, EVIDENCE IN PLENTY

Your Neighbors Can Tell You of Cures by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Every case of indigestion, no matter how bad, can be cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Not only cured, but cured for good. That's a sweeping statement and you are quite right in demanding evidence to back it. And it is backed by evidence in plenty—living evidence among your own neighbors, no matter in what part of Canada you live. Ask your neighbors and they will tell you of people in your own district who have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills of dizziness, palpitation, sour stomach, sick headaches, and the internal pains of indigestion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure because they strike straight at the root of all stomach troubles. They make new, rich blood, and new blood is just what the stomach needs to set it right and give it strength for its work. Mr. George E. Whitehead, Hatfield Point, N. B., says: "I am glad to have an opportunity to speak in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they deserve all the praise that can be given them. I was a great sufferer from indigestion, which was often accompanied by nausea, sick headache and backache. As a result my complexion was very bad and I had black rings under the eyes. I took a great deal of doctor's medicine, but it never did more than give me the most temporary relief. About a year ago I was advised to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. Before I had taken a couple of boxes I found relief, and by the time I had used a half dozen boxes I found myself feeling like a new man, with a good appetite, good digestion, and a clear complexion. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for this trouble and advise similar sufferers to lose no time in taking them.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all the troubles which have their origin in bad blood. That is why they cure anemia, indigestion, rheumatism, eczema, St. Vitus dance, neural paralysis and the many ailments of childhood and womanhood. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or two boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TWO MEN SCALDED.

Hot Water Tank Explodes and Victims Are Terribly Burned.

San Francisco, Cal., June 12.—Two workmen were terribly burned yesterday when a hot water tank in the factory of the L. E. Boyle Company exploded, filling the room in which they were working with scalding vapor and steam. The injured men, who were rushed to the Harbor Emergency Hospital, are Frank Jones and Hector McQuade.

The men were at work on the floor above the tank. The explosion blew a hole in the floor, through which the hot vapor poured. Their escape was difficult, but they were slowly roasting to death when help arrived. Several other workmen received minor burns.

ONE OF THE HAPPY HOMES IN CANADA WHERE PE-RU-NA IS USED IN THE FAMILY.

A Great Many Mothers Have Discovered That a Few Doses of Peruna Given at The Right Time Prevent Much Sickness.

The fatality of acute diseases during hot weather among children, is well-known to the medical profession. From year to year the average practicing physician changes his tactics and his remedies. One year the physician uses certain remedies with confidence and enthusiasm. The next year he is liable to adopt new remedies. But through all the changing vicissitudes of the medical profession in their treatment of infantile ailments, Dr. Hartman has clung with unwavering confidence to Peruna. Thus it is that Peruna has become a household word in many thousand families. In catarrhal derangements of the bowels resulting in summer complaint, diarrhoea and sometimes cholera infantum, a few doses of Peruna given in the early stages check the disease before it has reached a threatening severity. Many mothers, from Canada to Mexico, give cheerful testimony to the benefit of Peruna in the many catarrhal ailments to which the family is liable, both summer and winter.

When she began to improve in strength and appetite.
"Now she has a good appetite and is a picture of health."
Baby With Indigestion.
Mrs. J. M. Brown, Dunnegan, Mo., writes:
"My little daughter, three years old, was troubled with a very bad cough, which remained after an attack of catarrhal fever, which was a great deal worse at night. She would wake up out of her sleep and cough until I feared she could not stand it. Nothing that we gave her seemed to do her any good."
"I then concluded to send for Dr. Hartman's book, entitled 'The Ills of Life,' which I promptly received. I at the same time commenced giving her Peruna. She has taken one bottle in all, through which she has obtained a complete cure."
"She also since her birth was troubled with indigestion, but since she has taken Peruna she can eat almost any kind of food without any bad results."
"She is now as well and happy as any little girl can be. When our friends say how well she looks, I tell them Peruna did it. I shall always be a friend of Peruna, as I consider it the best medicine for coughs and indigestion we have ever tried, and will recommend it to any one similarly afflicted."

Child Benefited by Pe-ru-na.
Mrs. Frits Roethe, Pinckneyville, Ill., writes:
"I feel real well, and am glad I am able to say this. One of my children had a fever for five months, nothing would help him. The doctor said it was malarial fever, but his medicine did not help him at all."
"I then gave him Peruna, and it helped him immediately, and so far he has not had another attack of it."
"When I wrote to Dr. Hartman I was unable to do my housework, now I am entirely relieved."

Child Now Healthy.
Mrs. G. W. Heard, of Howth, Texas, writes to Dr. Hartman in regard to her baby girl, Ruby:
"My little girl was two years old this January. She had some derangement of the bowels. She was a mere skeleton, and we did not think she would ever get well."
"She had been sick three or four months, and after giving her less than one bottle of Peruna she was sound and well."
"I found the Peruna splendid for wind colic, with which she was troubled right. I would not have any other medicine."
"Peruna cured my baby boy of a very bad spell of cold and fever. He is a big, healthy boy fifteen months old. I have given him Peruna off and on since he was born. I think that is why he is so well."
"I cannot praise Peruna enough. We have not had a doctor since we began to use Peruna—all praise to it."

MY DOLLY IS WELL TOO.
MRS. ETNA BOOKER AND DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Etta Booker, Dundurn, Sask., N. W. T., Can., writes: "I suffered with internal catarrh until I wrote to Dr. Hartman, and after taking treatment as he advised I can say I am now cured of this most trying affliction, for which I am truly thankful. I think Peruna the best medicine for catarrh. I never felt better in my life than I do at present."

In a later letter Mrs. Booker says: "I can truthfully say from experience Peruna is a most wonderful medicine, and in the case of my little daughter, Etta Booker, it did all I could wish for, and I am entirely willing that you may publish a testimonial in regard to her cure."

Ailing Children.
Mrs. Schopfer, 5880 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:
"In the early part of last year I wrote to you for advice for my daughter Alice, four years of age. She was a puny, sickly, ailing child since she was born. She had convulsions and catarrhal fevers."
"I was always doctoring until we commenced to use Peruna. She grew strong and well."
"Peruna is a wonderful tonic; the best medicine I have ever used."
"I was in a very wretched condition when I commenced to take Peruna. I had catarrh all through my whole body, but thank God, your medicine set me all right."

BANK TELLER WOUNDED BY COMPANION

Saskatoon, Sask., June 11.—A bad accident happened last night at a camp on the south river as a result of which Walter A. Sherwood, teller in the Bank of Nova Scotia here, lies in the hospital with a bullet hole through his body and an even chance for life. Half an hour after midnight Sherwood with some camp companions went across the river to visit some companions camping there, being five bank clerks from the city, but all were asleep. The visitors started fooling with the tent ropes and one of the other party ordered them off and after some argument a revolver shot was fired from the tent, the bullet entering Sherwood's abdomen and passing out through his back. The shot was fired by R. G. Lane, a clerk in the Bank of Hamilton, aged 17, son of a storekeeper at Carman. Being a great friend of Sherwood's, Lane is grief stricken. The wounded man was taken immediately to the hospital in an ambulance. Sherwood came here from Sussex three years ago.

ing a fact, we must reckon with airships at least as powerful as this.

"Objection has been raised that my airships are too expensive to allow of their frequent use. Certainly only a few very rich men could use them for pleasure, but the number will be greater than you who can purchase ocean-going steam yachts. But an airship cannot be too costly which in all weathers by day or by night can inform the general or admiral of hostile movements, which can pass to the extreme borders of the enemy's domain, and thus materially assist towards final victory. The fact is the costliness of airships is much exaggerated; the smallest warship, every squadron of cavalry, every battery, costs considerably more."

Ten per cent on the capital is the count's estimate of the commercial profit on running an airship passenger service between, for instance, Berlin and Copenhagen. The capital (allowing one airship and two stations) would be $50,000. A hundred flights each way (occupying half the time of the present land trip) would realize $12,500 a year, with an average of 23 travellers paying $2.50; and insurance, depreciation, and cost of running would represent $7,500.
