FRONTAL FIGHTING FATAL TO GERMANY IN FRENCH BATTLE

London, Oct. 21.-A striking fact about the general position in France is that the Germans are conducting their campaign on lines considered by such authorities as considered by such authorities as Baron von der Goltz, at present governor of Brussels, to be fatal for German armies. They are wag-ing a defensive battle, and in doing so are engaged in that bete noire of German strategy, a parallel battle, that is a frontal fight against a line that cannot be turned.

In such a battle the opposing armies may hold each other for an indefinite length of time, and to be held for an indefinite length of time is not agreeable to the Ger-man general staff.

The character of the present campaign is, however, of interest in view of the impression firmly in view of the impression firmly held in many quarters that if the German prearranged plan of cam-paign miscarried, if the invaders were no longer able to fight by the book and had to adjust themselves to unexpected developments, they would be routed.

ANXIETY IN GERMANY ADMISSION IS MADE BY BERLIN JOURNAL

Copenhagen, Oct. 21, via London.— The military correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt hints that there is certain amount of anxiety about the ituation manifesting itself in Ger-

He explains, though, that a decision is likely to come like a thief in the night and that it will more probably be on the east front rather than

BUILDING AEROPLANES TO FLY OVER CHANNEL

German Aviator Says Forty-Six Will Be Ready to Cross in February

New York, Oct. 21.—The New York Times correspondent in Berlin wires that he yesterday received certain information from an authoritative source regarding aerial plans which throw a new light on the action of the London authorities in doing away with all brilliant illuminations and sweeping the skies at night with many searchlights. These precautions are thoroughly jus-tified, though a bit premature.

While occasional minor raids may be made on London sooner, if Germany gets a foothold on the Channel, the grand aerial armada will not be launch-ed against England until February at the earliest, for Germany will not be eady until then. "We are building two hundred aero-planes especially for the attack on London. These are of a new and extra large type, capable of carrying thousand pounds weight and the pilot and bombs," one of the best known of the younger German aviators said. In conversation with the correspondent. "These new aeroplanes will not be in training the flyers now in special avia-tion camps. The government would not let me go to the front at the outbreak of the war, saying I was of more use here as flying instructor. Yes, I have been often in London. I was fly-ing in England as recently as last Defeat in Northwest Has Been Greatest Surprise of the War for Germans Who Are in Confusion in Vicinity of Ostend.

London, Oct. 21.—The correspondents of the London newspapers in the field have succeeded to-day in getting through some details of the fighting along the channel coast in Belgium. The reports agree that the Germans have met with a reverse and it is said the Germans are retreating.

The Belgian correspondent of the Telegraph, in his account of the fighting, reports that British warships bombarded villages which Germans had occupied, and also the country to the south of these

"The strength of the attack was then increased, and soon the whole line resting on the coast was in full retreat."

In a dispatch from Flushing, sent at 1 o'clock this morning, the correspondent of the Daily Mail declares that the Germans appear to have been driven back in an engagement at Middlekerke, six miles southwest of Ostend. He says that cannon have now been placed near Ostend and adds that most of the German wounded had been removed from Bruges.

Met Unexpected Body of Troops.

The Daily Mail's Rotterdam correspondent under date of Tuesday night says that according to a German message a fierce battle is still raging between Furness and Dunkirk. He continues: "On the march on Dunkirk the Germans met a large and unexpected body of troops which attacked them horse, foot and artillery, while the British warships co-operated with the land forces. The Germans are reported as falling back in confusion on Ostend and troops from all over the west of Belgium have been hurried to Nieuport. The Germans have received the greatest surprise of the war.'

A dispatch from Ghent says that the result of this fight has caused anxiety among the German officers, one of whom, a general, committed suicide. Festivities announced to celebrate German successes were suddenly cancelled yesterday.

No Weak Spot on Allies' Front.

The Bordeaux correspondent of the Star sends the following: On Tuesday the Germans made another great effort to burst the narrowing circle of steel that is hemming them in. They tried vainly at no fewer than six points to discover a weak spot on the allied ant, the main effort being made at Labassee."

Paris, Oct. 21 .- The French official communication given out this afteroon says that the attacks yesterday of the enemy on Nieuport, Dixmunde and Labassee all were repulsed by the allies. The text of the communication

"During the day of yesterday the attacks of the enemy were particularly violent at Nieuport, Dixmunde and Labassee. They all were repulsed by the allied armies with great energy.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN MONTREAL KILLS TWO

Stores in Foreign Quarter of City Blown Up

Montreal, Oct. 21.—Two men are dead, five persons are in the hospital, three of whom are so seriously injured that they will probably die, and a block of nine tenements and three stores are wrecked as the result of an explosion early last evening in a building on Frontenac street, in the tenement section of the East End. About twenty others were slightly injured. The district is occupied largely by Germans, Austrians, Poles and Russians, and the police are inclined to believe a story of two eyewitnesses that the destruction was caused by a bomb carried into the building by the two dead men.

Paul Belanger and Joseph La Freniere, who claim to have been passing up Frantenac street at the time of the explosion, told the police they had seen two men, who looked like foreigners, carrying a round black parcel into one of the doorways of the block of tenements in which the explosion occurred.

Both, Belanger and La Freniere were detained as witnesses for the coroner's inquest.

The explosion occurred while the majority of the nine families who occupied the premises, mostly Russians, were at supper. The interior of the building was wrecked from the cellar to the attic, and how anyone who was in the inside escaped is a mystery. The explosion not only shattered the block is that she indulged in too optimistic views of the future and failed to prexplosion not only shattered the block but smashed the windows in houses on both sides of the street for some dis-tance. Much of the Fruit Given Away as Export Market is Injured Through War.

The war in Europe has deprived Washington apple growers of a great part of their market, and the disposal of the big crop has been a serious problem. The fruit cannot be stored away like cotton, and the growers, in co-operation with the governor of the state, newspapers and commercial bodies, entered upon a campaign of publicity to increase the demand for their product. The movement has been successful. Seattle has promised to buy 50,000 boxes.

SUBJECT:

"Floors, Their Finishings and Care" "The Home Beautiful"

The last lecture of the series given by Mrs. Blair to a Victoria audience is of vital importance for it would be difficult to find a city where the home occupies such an important place as in Victoria, with its thousands of well-kept, tastefully furnished residences. An enthusiastic audience is assured for Thursday's lecture.

Mrs. Blair will explain to you how to take care of your floors, how to furnish your home to the best advantage. She will demonstrate to you the relationship between carpets, draperies and the permanent room decorations, together with the choosing and disposition of pictures and flowers.

If you love your home and are interested in its improvement, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity of hearing one of the leading authorities on the subject on the continent. Come and bring your friends. Everyone welcome.

E. H. Cotterell Indicates Intention to Ask for Quashing of Saanich By-laws

That the validity of the by-laws for paving and waterworks, passed by he electors of Saanich on September 19. will be attacked in the suprem court by E. H. Cotterell, C. E., candidate for reeve at the next election was information conveyed to the council of the municipality last even ing. The councilors contented them selves with receiving and filing the communications from Mr. Cotterell. The letters stated that after the expiry of ten days, the supreme cour would be asked to deal with the matter. Mr. Cotterell also notified the council that the inspector of municipalities would be served with copies of the information.

Objection was taken by Mr. Cotter-ell to the waterworks measure on the grounds that the by-law was not in accordance with the law and that th method of raising the interest and sinking fund is not just, and will work a distinct hardship upon many property-owners, especially those engaged in agriculture. Unless the counci amended the by-law in such a ner as to make it conform with the law of British Columbia and altered the paragraph relating to the assess-

AT THE THEATRES

VARIETY THEATRE.

There is an exceptionally strong There is an exceptionally strong bill of motion pictures at the Variety theatre to-night. "The Treasure of Abdar Rahman," a four-reel masterpiece production by Pathe heads the list. Other features are "The Secret Nest," a biograph comedy-drama and "The Blue Coyotte Cherry Crop," a drama by Edison. Miss Berriman, the popular soprano soloist, is appearing every afternoon and evening in the very latest songs. There are quite very latest songs. There are quite a number of amateurs booked for this evening's performance. These con-tests always draw large crowds to this theatre and the management is ooking forward to a bumper house to night on account of the extra large cash prizes being offered.

GERTRUDE HOFFMAN.

Gertrude Hoffman with her new Revue will be seen at the Royal Vic-oria theatre this evening and to-norrow afternoon and evening. Miss Hoffman carries a company of ifty odd people and a production which rivals anything in the spectac-ular line seen in this vicinity for many a season. One big feature of the pro-gramme is a fantastic conceit pro-grammed "Zoblede's Dream," which depicts Oriental scenes and dances with rare fidelity. Another special feature is Miss Hoffman's own dance version of the famous Strauss Blue Danube Waltz. Miss. Hoffman has ome into the west this season fresh from flattering triumphs in every large eastern city and her perform-ances of the new Revue have gained her many new admirers who take great delight in her classic work.

Accompanying Miss Hoffman are several headline vaudeville features. Among these big acts are such features as Billy "Swede" Hall; Hunting and Francis, Martin Van Bergen and libby and Barton

Saanich Councilors Consider Mt. Tolmie a Public Reserve: Shelbourne Street Extension

The Saanich council decided last evening to stand by its claim to public access to Mount Tolmie park. It con-tends that the 16.4 acres of unsubdivided land around the summit is public property, though the Anglican Sy-nod of Columbia diocese submits that it holds a certificate of indefeasible

The municipal solicitors, Barnard, Robertson, Heisterman & Tait, ad-lased that even in face of this certi-ficate of title the council should main-tain its claim that the municipality had an easement which entitled it to use the lands as a park, that the counuse the lands as a park, that the council would be entitled to a fee in the land notwithstanding the issuance of the certificate, and that under the circumstances the taxes on the property paid by the agents of the synod, Pemberton & Son, should be returned.

The gouncil decided to refuse to ac-got the taxes for 1914 but would not direct the assessor, who asked for in-structions, with regard to previous years in which the synod has paid the

Owing to the fact that some land re owing to the fact that some land required for Shelbourne street extension has not yet been donated to the municipality and as the undertaking is to be carried out as a work of local improvement, the engineer submitted a lengthy report on the system he proposed in the preparation of the necessary assessment roll. He advised assessing the properties which abut on the improvement at one-half their cost to pay half the cost of the improvement, the non-abutting properties to contribute $15,000, the other half of the expenditure. He estimated the cost of acquiring land at $26,000, the engineering expenses at a sun equal to 10 per cent. of that total and discount on debentures at $1,400. It may be explained that the munici-

The solicitors submitted reports on the various cases to which the municipality is a party, all of which have been fully reported in these columns. They also drew attention to the desirability of considering any private legislation which the municipal council might desire to bring up at the next session of the legislature, as necessary notice should be published. cessary notice should be published in the Gazette at once to avoid double-fees. The matter was left over till the return of the delegates from Kam-loops, when it will be known what amendments to the municipal and local improvement acts have been urged by the executive of the Union of Brit-ish Columbia Municipalities.

It is the intention to proceed at once with Lake road, and the new road which owners are building on their own initiative north from Douglas street. The cost of the necessary culvert. $600 will be temporarily charged to local improvement. The council gave an assurance to the deputation which attended that when the taxes came in to a greater amount than at present the council's contribution to the work would be reconsidered.

Although about $100 has been subscribed for the drainage of the Miller swamp, Mount Tolmie, the council did not see its way clear to respond to the wishes of a delegation that it should contribute $200. If the work is carried out it will have to be done by the owners themselves.

MOTOR-CAR SUIT

Vendor Gets Judgment for the Amour for Which He Disposed of His Car to a Purchaser.

A suit resulting from the sale of a motor-car was heard by Judge Lamp-man in county court yesterday, in which William A. Stephens sued E. F. Geiger for $450 on a note given on June 16 at thirty days and payable at the Royal bank. The note was given in payment for a Ford motor car sold by Stephens to Geiger. H. E. A. Courtney was for the plaintiff and J. S. Brandon for the defendant.

The plaintiff told the court that he had purchased the car in May and a month later had sold it to defendant. It was in good order when he sold it.

For the defendant it was claimed or $450 on a note given on June 16 at

It was in good order when he sold it.

For the defendant it was claimed that the car was not in good running order and that he had to spend considerable upon it to put it in order. He had made an offer to return the car if he was allowed the note he had given as a set-off against the amount he had so spent. There was a counter-claim by defendant against plaintiff for $155 on account of the repairs made.

SHRAPNEL.

To the Editor: In your article of resterday's date re Shrapnel Shell, alow me to correct an essential particular connected with your explan ation in detail.

The article states that the inventor conceived the idea of filling the shell with metallic odds and ends and prowith metaline odds and chost and providing it with an explosive charge which when exploded scattered in all directions. Now this is not correct, as the invention was intended to produce the destructive effect of musketry to the utmost range of artillery. The original spherical shell was filled with market bullets with a small with musket bullets with a small bursting charge of powder which was ignited by a time fuse cut to suit the range required. It was intended to burst a short distance in front or in the centre of an advancing column or but to bring to the fore a point that seems to me, and others, to be of the seems to me, and others, to be of the most vital importance. It is of such importance that all the newspapers in Canada should take it up and insist on the Dominion government taking action. I refer to the position of the woman left a widow, as many must be, through the war. through the war.

Surely this is a matter that should, I wish I could say must, be given the consideration it deserves. If the people would really take up this I am sure the right action would be taken by the proper authorities. We hear a great deal of the patriotic fund. In fact, next to war news it is the most heard of to war news, it is the most heard of subject. But when all is said and done by hat does it amount to? Absolutely heading, after the excitement of the war has died down. Who will stop to think of it when the tumult and the shouting are all over? It will be the same old story that almost any old soldier can tell you. Also there is a soldier can tell you. Also there is a strong element of charity about it that ougnant to the feelings of many people.

A case in point to illustrate my contention. I am physically fit for anything: My profession as a land surveyor keeps me tough, I am still well in the thirties. Went through two years of the Boer war and am a good horseman. For sheer lore of the game I have been a member of a mounted regiment in B. C. for some time past. Just the type of man who should go and take part in this war that is calling for strong men and strong men and take part in this war that is catiling for strong men and strong men

But if I am killed my wife is left with—what? The pension granted to the widow of a private soldier is, I believe, about $150 per year! About $12,50 a month! How far will that go towards bringing up and educating three small children? Where does the patriotic fund come in? Those in charge of the administration of the fund would no doubt do their best, and I understand that something would be granted to the wife in a case such as ranted to the wife in a case I have quoted. War Reveals Waste of Food Apprehensive over food shortage, the London press is advising the English people to save and utilize every article of food value, including the bran coating of grain.

Why? The outer coat of grain holds the precious mineral elements which means so much in vital building and up-keep of body, brain and nerves. And vet the modern miller throws out about four-fifths of these priceless food elements just to make the flour look white and pretty!

Isn't it Astounding That it Took War to Wake People up to Such a Fearful Waste!

Nearly twenty years ago the crying need of a food which would fill the lack caused by demineralized white flour products led to the making of

of England, France, Germany and Russia are not permitted to use a pound of alum baking powder. The efficiency of the soldiers depends too much upon their health and endurance to risk the use of food which the authorities believe would be detrimental. Therefore the manufacture and sale of the alum powder is prohibited.

Royal Baking Powder is extensively used privately and by the military forces throughout the world. Its absolute wholesomeness, imparting as it does, healthful as well as appetizing qualities to the food, and its perfect keeping qualities in every climate and under different conditions, make it particularly desirable for all conditions of use.

FEDERALS LIKELY TO ENTER ORGANIZED BASEBALL THIS YEAR

Herrman Denies Pact

Important developments in the baseball world may be tooked for in the next few weeks. The story has been sent out from New York that the Federals and National commission have about reached an agreement as to the admission of the outlaw circuit into organized baseball, and it will not be surprising if a definite announcement as to this truce will be issued in fortnight or so. The Federals have been particularly active since the close of the major league season in rounding up additional players, and the veteran clubs are about ready for a cessation of hostilities. One of the real reasons for this is said to be the threat of the Southern associations, to hop over to the Feds, and the smaller circuits are also "hollering for a change."

Owners of the New York American league club deny the story that the Ward brothers, owners of the Brooklyn Federals, have made an offer for the Yankee franchise, and the Federal league magnates themselves deny the reported deal. Frank J. Farrell, president of the local American league club, denied the story Robert B. Ward, of the Brooklyn Federals, said he had been approached by a man in no way connected with baseball, who stated that the New York Americans were on the market, and who had asked him if he would consider the purchase of the club. Mr. Ward said that he answerd that he would if the price was right and the other Federal league club owners were protected and recognized by the major leagues. That was as far as negotiations had gone.

Rugby Clubs Are Forcing Hand of A. A. U.

Whether or not the Amateur Athletic union is to remain in control of rugby throughout Canada will be demonstrated in the action that they take in the case of Dutch Becker, the Hamilton boy, who played professional baseball with the Caigary baseball club this season. He is now playing with the Hamilton Rowing club in the Ontario Rugby union and a week ago Saturday took part in an exhibition game against the Toronto Argonauts. The eastern rugby unions have for several years been rather independent of the Amateur union, but surely the latter cannot overlook a glaring case such as that of Becker. The eastern sport writers, in commenting on the case, state that a break between the A. A. U. and the rugby leagues is imminent and the pigskin followers will run their game to suit themselves. As rugby has an Immense hold upon the eastern and middle western athletes, the outcome of this sense hold upon the eastern and middle western athletes, the outcome of this

FORMER INVASIONS OF OLD ENGLAND

A Stirring Page in History of Britain; Raising War Taxes

Every schoolboy knows all about the Spanish Armada, how it came, how it saw, and how it did not conquer, write Sir Henry Lucy in the London Chronicle. There is an earlier, not less stir ring page of English history which does not occupy equal prominence in the schoolroom. This oversight is perhaps partly due to our popular historians. Green's "Short History of the English People," for example, is not long enough to contain a paragraph security to the second and last invasion of with our vote of credit for 100,000,000, suppliered by a blank cheque placed with our vote of credit for 100,000,000, suppliered by a blank cheque placed. England. The story is told in pictursque detail in the many-volumed but little-read "Letters and Papers of the Reign of Henry VIII." Mr. James Willamson, making close and sympathetic study of this priceless compilation. skilfully condenses the narrative in the pages of the new number of "Blackwood." At a time when the invasion of England is the desire nearest the heart of the monarch who, through a long course of years, was frequently its honored, trusted guest, the episode is interesting, and for those on the Conlamson, making close and sympathetic bear upon rich abeys and monasteries, wood." At a time when the invasion of England is the desire nearest the heart of the monarch who, through a long course of years, was frequently its interesting, and for those on the Coninteresting, and for those on the Continent whom it may concern is not enterounging. These "Letters and Papers," penned 370 years ago, throw a flood of vivid light on the kind of place this little island is, regarded as a suitable landing for the invader, and what recention he may expect if he towned. reception he may expect if he temporarily obtains a footing on its shores. A Former Invasion.

In the closing year of Henry VIII.'s reign there was no standing army in England nor anything nearly approaching the form of an organized navy. On ing the form of an organized navy. On land and sea the defence of the country was committed to the charge of the people. Such ships as the king could muster to beat off the larger, better-organized fleet the French king had manned, armed, and victualled for the invasion of an ancient enemy, who still desecrated French soil by holding Calais and Boulogne, were manned by the impressment of merchant seamen and fishermen, guiltless of naval training. Wherein they were quite a pampered crew compared with the lot of the land forces. These not only did not receive any money payment, but were required to find their own weapons and keep themselves in food and drink. In those good old days the principle of universal military service, hankered after to-day by certain high authorities, was in vogue as it origin ated under the Heptarchy. Every man was liable to serve without reward in defence of his country. One relic of this historic time exists in Camber Castle, which guards the entrance to Rye Haven, an undertaking much more effectually accomplished under the direction of friendly Neptune who, withdrawing the sea. plished under the direction of friendly Neptune who, withdrawing the sea, long ago left Rye high and dry and safe. The country was divided into four military districts. The nine northern counties were thought not too many to keep an eye on Scotland. East Midlands and East Anglia formed a second district under the command of the Duke of Norfolk, whose counties raised an army exceeding 30,000 men. The Duke of Suffolk, Warden of Kent, Sussex and Hants, marshalled 32,000. The Southwestern counties provided a force of 27,476. The armed manhood of the country mustered for its defence slightly exceeded 117,000, considerably less than that which a few weeks ago was secretly, at dead of night, ferries the channel to Belgian battle fields.

Three times on the run they came up to within 100 yards of our lines, when a determined charge, with their superior numbers, must have wiped us out; but, no, as soon as they spotted us preparing with steel to meet ther about-turn they went helter-skelter for their very lives. No wonder our in-fantry hold them in contempt. Their cavalry are very daring "until spot ours"; then the same things har

Except in cases of necessity, which are rare, leave your friend to learn unpleasant truths from his enemies; they are ready enough to tell them.—O. W. Holmes

SUBURBAN COLLEGE OF MUSIC. 1489
Fort street. Telephone 1898. I teach all, or almost all, instruments in ordinary use, but for many years past I have made a special study of the art of teaching the plano and violin. The 1914 gold medal, value $30 (annually awarded by me for close application, careful practice and steady progress), has been already presented to Miss Ellen H Fletcher. 2004 Byron street. Oak Bay (a ten months' student only). Entries and enrolments for the 1915 gold medal (value $50) will extend from the 18t of September to the 31st of October next, thus giving an unbroken period of eight months during which the week-ly progress of each pupil will be carefully talled as well as impartially noted. As far as the winning of these valuable and beautiful medals is concerned, the "new beginner" and the advanced student stand on an absolutely equal footing. My present terms for tuition on any instrument are $5 a month for two half-hour lessons a week. No entrance fee, enrolment guaranty or other charges are made, and no notice of intention to discontinue is required. Copy charges are made and no notice of in-tention to discontinue is required. Victoria Share List Marked Bearish Attitude of Yesterday To-day by More Healthy Tone in Bidding Healthier feeling prevailed throughout the range of prices this morning. Portlined Canal sold at 24c. Final quotations in the issue were bids unchanged from yesterday and offers one-eighth off.

Glacier regained its level, but for some reason or other this stock continued subject to speculative indifference almost, in favor of Portland movements.

Oils improved noticeably, several bids making an appearance on the list. Quotations are again being received from Calgary, and while various prices have declined considerably from their high levels, the buying capacity is more of a factor now than for some time past.

ANARCHY AT ALVONA WHERE FAMINE RAGES

Rome, Oct. 21.—Anarchy reigns at Avlona, Albania, according to the newspaper Giornale d'Italia, woing to the struugle between the Christians and the Mussulmans. A famine also adds to the difficulties of the situation. The Glornale d'Italia says that so-called "Epirote battalions," which it declares are Greek troops disguised as irregulars, are gradually nibbling at the territory around Avlona, totally ignoring the decisions of the conference of London concerning the Albanian frontier. Italy, it is stated, will maintain the inviolability of Albania Romer, the first dose should begin to relieve the formale d'Italia, has notified Vienna, Berlin, Paris and Petrograd hat it cannot further tolerate a systematic violation of the independence and integrity of Albania. None of these governments has made any objection to this protest.
