The Wikiproject

Wikiproject Singapore is open to all Singaporean editors or editors who are interested in Singapore related topics

2 Singapore related Wikiprojects were created. One on 10 March 2005 and the other on 25 August 2006. While both projects were used together in parallel, it was merged into a single wikiproject on 6 August 2020, 3 days shy of the Singapore National Day on 9 August.

As of 6 August, we have

- 213 listed Wikiproject Singapore editors
  - 28 active members (who made 50 active edits in the past 365 days)
- 2 administrators
  - 1 active administrator
  - 1 de-sysopped administrator due to inactivity

The first articles and the number now

The first few Singapore related articles:

- Cocos \(Keeling\) Islands on 23 April 2001 by Koyaanisqatsi
- History of Singapore on 27 May 2001 by Koyaanisqatsi
- Telecommunications of Singapore on 27 May 2001 by Koyaanisqatsi

Number of articles

- 12,825 (Based on index of Singapore-related articles)
- 12,952 (Based on article assessment)

robertsky is semi-actively maintaining the Index of Singapore-related articles with a script. The index is based on a curated list of categories and respective sub-categories which we felt is a better indicator of Singapore related articles.

(for those interested in the indexing script, there is a demonstration session by robertsky at room 325 (same room) on 17 August (tomorrow) room 325 at 3.45pm (1545))

Exit C of Esplanade MRT station

Esplanade MRT station is an underground Mass Rapid Transit (MRT) station on the Circle line \(CCL\) in Singapore. The station serves the Esplanade performing arts centre, alongside various developments such as War Memorial Park, Suntec City Mall and the Suntec Singapore Convention and Exhibition Centre. Esplanade station is linked to the nearby City Hall station via CityLink Mall, an underground retail development. The station was initially announced as Convention Centre station in 1999 as part of the Marina MRT line, which was later incorporated into Stage 1 of the CCL. The station was renamed Esplanade in 2005 through a public poll. The station opened on 17 April 2010, with provisions to interchange with a future MRT line. Esplanade station features the Art-in-Transit artwork A Piece of Ice

Clear Heart by Lim Mu Hue, a collage of woodblock prints featuring scenes of shadow puppetry and other traditional performances. (Full article...)
